MISSES SECOND CHANCE

Boy's Path of Crime Turns to Gatesville

He's a kid who will be 16 this month. And because he can't stay out of trouble, he probably will mark his birthday in the reformatory. It will be his second trip to State Training School for Boys in Gatesville. "I don't like to send a boy back to Gatesville," said County Judge Martin, "but this is the last step." The boy has been on strict probation since he burglarized Thomas Bros. Service Station downtown here at Walnut and E. Third. Now, he has admitted theft of almost $100 from a Sweetwater service station. He is being checked, too, in connection with a string of burglaries recently in the same city. The 15-year-old's trouble with police dates back several years. He admitted in 1957 a dozen burglaries in Colorado City and Sweetwater. For this lawlessness, he was sent to the Gatesville state school after a juvenile hearing. His record at the school was all right and he returned home less than a year ago. For several months he seemed to pull himself up from his past escapades and went to school. But his studies didn't last. He quit school in early May. Then, the same month he committed the break-in at Thomas Bros. Police picked him up 90 minutes after the burglary was reported and his loot—a $9.95 battery, $21.95 and $26.95 radios—was returned to the firm. At the same time he admitted another burglary at the same station unsolved from two years before. "I gave him another chance," the judge said, "and placed him in custody of his parents instead of returning him to Gatesville." He remained in check, though, only two months. Then came the cash theft in Sweetwater. Although the judge has decided already the boy must be returned to Gatesville where he can receive psychiatric study, he will remain in custody of his parents through next week. County Attorney Frank Ginzel wants him here as a witness next week in the County Court trial of Alberto Lujan, who is charged with contributing to the youth's delinquency.

5,000 Crowd Expected For 3-Day Fair Program

Band in Concert Friday Evening

Mitchell County Fair opened Thursday evening in downtown Colorado City and more than 5,000 spectators were expected to crowd the show areas during the three-day run. Judging entries, exhibits and concessions almost overflowed the available space in Civic House, National Guard Armory and T&P parking lot. Highlight of the opening night's program was the selection and coronation of Miss 1959 Mitchell County Fair, who was to be selected Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in outdoor pageantry at Civic House corner. Colorado High Wolf Band will present a free concert Friday evening at 7:30 outside Civic House as a special attraction. Saturday at 9 p. m. closing night of the fair will be the public drawing for the Shetland pony which will be given away free to a lucky registrant. Registration is free at any participating Chamber of Commerce firm in Colorado City until 5 p. m. Saturday.

Funeral services for Mrs. Van King, 82, long-time Mitchell County resident, were conducted Thursday afternoon at 4:30 in First Methodist Church with the pastor, Rev. Clarence Collins, officiating. Burial was in Colorado City Cemetery. Mrs. King died Wednesday morning in a local rest home following a lengthy illness. She was born in Tennessee, Jan. 21, 1877. She and Van W. King were married in West, McLennan County, in 1894. The couple moved to Colorado City in 1903. King died Oct. 10, 1934. Mrs. King, a member of the First Methodist Church, was a long time member of the Daughters of the King Sunday School Class of that church. She is survived by three sons, C. A. King of Dallas, Gordon King of Sweetwater and Van W. King Jr., of Concord, Calif.; five daughters, Mrs. R. C. Curly of Lewiston, Calif., Mrs. H. C. Watson and Mrs. W. S. Hill of Midland, Mrs. E. B. Williams of Gallup, N. M., and Mrs. F. L. Maxwell of Odessa. Also a sister, Mrs. Sam Lydia of Waco; 11 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren. Pallbearers were G. D. Foster, J. W. Randle, R. B. Baker, J. W. Hill, Ford Merritt and Mayberry Wilbanks.

Luncheon Conference

Discussing Colorado City's oil industry luncheon Tuesday in Civic House are Mayor Trevor Crawford, chairman of the luncheon's sponsoring committees; A. C. (Cullen) Aiken of Odessa, principal speaker; W. J. (Dub) Turner, Sun Oil Company and sponsoring committee member; and Dan Warren of Snyder.

CIVIC HOUSE LUNCHEON

175 Persons Hear Oil Anniversary's Speaker

A leader in West Texas' oil industry told 175 persons in Civic House Tuesday that petroleum is the big factor in America's unprecedented standard of living. And despite problems in production allowances, steel strikes and oil imports, the industry faces a great new potential in petrochemicals. The speaker was A. C. (Cullen) Akins of Odessa, retail department manager for William Cameron & Company. His audience was businessmen and women attending the community's century of progress luncheon commemorating 100th birthday of the oil industry in United States. The observance was sponsored jointly by Chamber of Commerce oil development committee. Cooperating with the program were Kiwanis, Lions and Jaycees. Akins, who prefixed his oil talk with humor, was introduced by Mayor Trevor Crawford.

FREE FROM MERCHANTS

2 Days Remaining To Try For Pony

Two more days remain for you to register for the Shetland pony Colorado City Chamber of Commerce merchants will give away at Mitchell County Fair. And children, too, can register for the free pony if they are accompanied by adults. The pony, a black and white Shetland just six months old, is on display in the Pony Corral along with fair outdoor exhibits on the T&P parking lot. It will be given away in a drawing Saturday night at 9 o'clock at the Civic House corner of Elm and E. Main, according to Jeff Taylor, chairman of the chamber's pony committee.

"appreciation gift." It is a goodwill gesture by local businesses in appreciation for the past patronage and it signals a special invitation for the public to visit Colorado City's fine stores and attend the second annual fair which opened Thursday evening and will continue through Saturday night.

Texas' place in the oil industry was spotlighted by his report that the Lone Star state produces 28 per cent of all U.S. energy, produces 3 out of every 10 U. S. petroleum gallons, has 6,500 oil producing companies, 6,420 oil fields and 1,719 active rotary drilling rigs. "There's a great new field in petrochemicals that has opened," Akins said, "here in Texas." See OIL Pg. 7

United Fund Goal $27,875

Mitchell County United Fund has set a goal of $27,875 for its 1960 finance campaign this fall. The amount is the same as the United Fund sought last fall for the current year. Fund trustees approved the goal in a Civic House meeting this week. It was the largest board of trustees meeting for United Fund in the last couple of years, according to Roy Bates, president. Although the goal is the campaign and administering the fund has been $4,400 — and spent locally. This expense includes $2,000 for campaign administration, $1,600 for campaign expenses, $800 for administration expenses throughout the year. A couple of $100 expense items have been shifted in the $27,875 budget. Administration cost will be reduced $100, but an additional $100 will be allowed for "shrinkage." Financial report for United Fund's 1959 operation revealed $25,069.79 in total pledges with $21,501.16 already paid to date. Balance due on the pledges is $3,568.63. However, participating agencies in the 1959 United Fund are due $3,848.84 during the remainder of the current year. That means, even with 100 per cent collection, the fund will be about $280 short this year. And past records indicate that the fund can expect around $1.00 "shrinkage" in pledges — those pledges that are never collected. Therefore, the 1959 fund is likely to be about $1,500 short of its budget needs for participating agencies. And the shortage, if it develops as expected, will have to be prorated among the agencies. The financial report showed that total cost of conducting the 1959 United Fund Cam-

1.05-INCH RAIN AT SPADE

Showers Cool Heat Wave, but Crop Moisture Mostly Light

Thundershowers before dawn Thursday kayoed, at least temporarily, a heat wave which caused extensive damage to Mitchell County's 1959 cotton crop. The rain was reported over most all parts of Mitchell County. However, amounts of rain varied from a sprinkle to more than 1.50 inches. Here in Colorado City the official rain gauge on Court-house lawn registered only .10. But the moisture reports were higher in numerous rural communities. One of the wettest areas within the county was Rendon Brook Ranch in the county's southwest corner where 1.05 inches of rain fell. Just the opposite was the China Grove community in the county's northeast corner where J. D. Hill reported only a sprinkle on his farm. A sprinkle was the only rain reported also at Westbrook by George Dawson. Sprinkles were reported by Louis Small and Raymond Watlington in the Buford community. Mrs. Lon A. Strain in the Fairview community reported .05 inches of rain. But at Fairview, the Alexander Grocery rain gauge measured .40 of moisture. In Payne community Mrs. Charles Williams said the rain gauge there measured 1.03 inches. Four miles southeast of Colorado City and one mile west of Looney, .75 of rain was reported by A. M. Holman. K. L. Taylor, Loraine State Bank president, reported half an inch of rain and one bug in the bank's gauge.

Approximately 1.50 inches of rain was reported at Tommy Fuller, place. Just south of the Mitchell County line in Coke County, Sun Oil Company at Silver reported .80 moisture. Temperature here Wednesday before the night rain—accompanied with thunder and lightning between 2 and 3 a. m.—was 96 degrees. In the heat wave that really began to sizzle Aug. 29 with 104 degrees and 110 temperature Aug. 30, followed by five days the thermometer went above 100 and five days it was 93 or higher, some fields of dry land cotton were damaged severely. Production estimates for the county have been cut by some estimates as much as 5,000 bales since the heat.

"THE PATIENT MUST COMBAT THE DISEASE ALONG WITH THE PHYSICIAN"

Quotation by Hippocrates (460-377 B. C.)

Physicians have to be good detectives. Their only clues are the various symptoms that accompany sickness. Many different diseases have similiary symptoms. By a thorough physical examination, asking pertinent questions and the process of elimination, physicians find out the exact causes of the trouble.

You can help them to be more effective if you follow these simple rules. Visit your physician at the very beginning of any illness. Sometimes a cure takes time. Don't be impatient. Most important, take any medicine your physician prescribes according to his exact directions.

Pharmacists always follow a physician's instructions exactly when compounding a prescription. You do the same and you will get well much quicker.

AT PRESBYTERIAN MEETING

Speaker Emphasizes Need for Christians' World Concern

Mrs. A. C. Allen presented the program, "Communicating Our World Concern at Home" in the monthly meeting Wednesday of the women of the First Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. A. L. Maddin and Mrs. Frank Ginzel assisted her in the morning program.

Purpose of the program was to permeate the members with a concern for Christians and non-Christians in the world and to teach the strong command of the Bible in making a worldwide witness for Christ.

Mrs. Allen said "Christian education is not true to its name if it fails to present the whole gospel for the whole world."

"It is most important to teach that the church is a fellowship of believers around the world—a community which overcomes all barriers of race, class or condition of life," she emphasized.

Mrs. Allen added that the church reaches back into history and looks forward to eternity.

"It has a divine commission," she said "and a God-given message. No one is entirely without friend, refuge, or fellowship, who has found his place in the Christian church no matter where he may be."

Rev. John Brand opened the meeting with prayer followed by a group singing of "He Led Me."

President, Mrs. E. M. Owen conducted the business meeting.

New officers heading the group for the 1960-61 programs were Mrs. R. P. Bates, vice president; Mrs. Robert Furse, secretary; Mrs. Frank Ginzel, treasurer; Mrs. John Brown, chairman of the church extension; Mrs. Joe Richards, chairman of Annuitants and Relief and Mrs. Roy Davis, chairman of stewardship.

AGENT TELLS CLUB

Pattern Cut Key For Best Sewing

"Sewing covers a lot of territory, but we can always learn something new or a technique we can improve upon" said Mrs. Cricket B. Taylor in a talk Friday to the Carr Home Demonstration Club, when she discussed methods for improving a seamstress.

The club met in the home of Mrs. J. L. Rees at 2 p. m. Mrs. Louis Rees, president, led the group in a game called "Slogans for Advertising."

She then welcomed Mrs. Taylor, county home demonstration agent, who presented the program.

Mrs. Taylor discussed sewing problems and gave several demonstrations on how sewing can be improved.

The more we sew, the more we develop a skilled, professional look and fit and thereby, we take away the home-made look, Mrs. Taylor said.

In demonstrating the "cutting of various materials, the speaker emphasized following the grain of the material and staying in line stitching. She also showed the correct use of the tracing tool, tracing paper and dressmaker chalk or pencil.

Various types of darts were demonstrated, such as pointed, two pointed and invisible. Other examples were shown the group on how to keep neck facings from slipping up, how to reinforce underarm seams and belt facings.

In conclusion, Mrs. Taylor stressed the most important part of sewing. This, she said, is in thoroughly checking your pattern before cutting, then cutting the garment correctly.

Each member attending was urged to help in making the Mitchell County Fair a success. Examples of things to enter in the fair exhibits this week were needlecraft, sewing, crafts of all kinds and home canned foods.

Mrs. J. L. Rees led the group in prayer. Mrs. Tom Jackson, secretary, read a letter from Mrs. Taylor asking each member to bring a pie to the Fair concession stand Friday.

Family night for the Carr home demonstration club will be at 7:30 p. m. in the community center. Cookies and punch will be served. Games and forty-two will be planned for entertainment.

Refreshments of cake and soft drinks were served to: Mrs. O. J. Bohannon, Mrs. Gerald Rollins, Mrs. Bill Rees, Mrs. John Latty, Mrs. Tom Jackson, Mrs. T. A. Rees, Mrs. Louis Rees, Mrs. F. A. Langley and the speaker, Mrs. Taylor.

Next meeting of the club will meet in the home of Mrs. Gerald Rollins Sept. 18 at 2 p. m.

Teeners' Bed-Living Room Is a Family Boon

Combination bedroom-living room give the teenager room to entertain in the smaller home. New color scheme, bed-couch, small dining table and TV helps to effect the transformation.

Having your living room draped constantly with teenagers is not conducive to a restful feeling. Yet, your teen-agers need a place to entertain their friends. It's their home, too.

Most families can't afford an extra room these days. It means more rent or a more expensive house.

But they can make one room serve the purpose of two. Your new and expensive furniture. Secondhand pieces, refinished, can serve nicely. The bed can be transformed into a couch, TV set can be inset in a desk and a small dining table added for snacks.

Give the walls a coat of latex paint as the first step. Pick a color scheme that isn't bedroomly. Cost will be low and the whole family will get a break.

BY EDNA MILES

teen-age daughter's bedroom can be converted to a bed-sitting-room, or what the Victorians used to refer to as an "apartment". Here she can, with her friends, listen to those awful records, watch TV and talk endlessly. The room need not be furnished from start to finish with Born in Freedom... Working for Progress...

That's the story of OIL'S FIRST CENTURY

Both America and the oil industry have come a long way since that August day in 1859 when Edwin L. Drake drilled the first oil well at Titusville, Pennsylvania.

The development of the oil industry has closely paralleled the development of America for the last hundred years. A free climate nourished them both, provided the atmosphere in which they grew best. And, though each has moved forward magnificently, the world's people expect that, for both, the best still lies ahead.

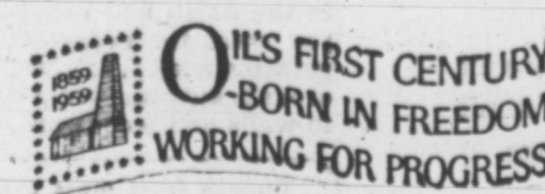

We in the oil industry are proud of our contribution to America's ever-rising standard of living. Nothing in this land of ours moves, but that oil helps to move it. Nothing is fabricated, but that oil or oil research helps make it possible or helps make it better. But oil's men and women consider this merely a step along the way. During oil's next century look for even greater things from oil. We're proud of the progress made in oil's first century—but it's our job to see that the best is yet to come.

Another century of oil progress for you...

This year marks oil's 100th birthday and the oil industry is starting right now to search and drill for the oil America needs in its second great century of oil progress!

Today America uses more oil than any other nation on earth. We use oil for heat, transportation, industrial power, plastics, farming, medicines, clothing and shelter. In these, and in many other ways, all of us reap the benefits of the progress made in oil's first century.

When we start exploring for new sources of oil, we never know when we'll find oil, where we'll find it or how much we'll find. But we do know this—we'll keep on searching to make sure there's another great century of oil progress for you—coming right up!

this state where one out of every eight persons is employed by oil.

"And oil will be the main source for energy for many years to come. At least until 1980 the bulk of our energy will be from oil."

Although citing allowable, strike and important programs, Akins declared there was no reason for the oil industry to talk "bad business."

"Here in West Texas we've had 15 years of boom oil business," he said.

"We have had it plush and lush... and when we got our first cutback in production allowable, we squealed like a stuck pig."

"But that is simple arithmetic in business economics... and it never is good business to talk bad business."

MCKAY TO TAILBACK

Wolves Shift Players To Strengthen Attack

An open date keeps Colorado City High Wolves out of football competition this weekend. But that doesn't mean there is any rest for the grid squad. In fact, Coach Otis Holladay

Pastor Back To Seminary For Studies

WESTBROOK — Rev. Gene Henson left Monday morning to resume studies at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth. The Westbrook Baptist pastor will continue in his church duties here in addition to attending the seminary. Remaining in Westbrook during the school year will be Mrs. Henson and the couple's daughters.

Mrs. Grace Johnson of Midland and son, Wade, who is in the Navy, were here from Corpus Christi for a visit last week with Mrs. Johnson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Plummer.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charley Parrish recently were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ray Parrish and children of Coahoma, and Pfc. Tommy Parrish of Fort Sill, Okla.

and his staff are pushing the Wolves through some of their most strenuous workouts of the season this week. The pace likely is to continue, too, as Colorado City prepares for its first home game of the season — the night of Sept. 18 against Ballinger Bearcats.

Holladay, who makes no bones of the fact that he is seeking to sharpen the Wolves' competitive spirit and taste for hard-nosed football, is also using this week to shift four players in their assignments.

The head mentor wasn't discouraged with C-City's 21 to 14 loss last Friday to Brownfield, but he is seeking to make better use of available talent with the player shift.

Phillip Bates, who turned in a creditable job at tackle against Brownfield, has been working at guard in the stiff practice sessions this week.

And Doug Hodges, the sturdy little competitor, has been shifted back to center to provide the Wolves with more depth at that key position. In the No. 1 center spot is Rusty Whitaker, the junior, who showed potential in the Brownfield opener.

In a backfield shift that seeks to provide more power to Colorado City's attack, Jerry McKay has moved to tailback. The 160-pound junior, who has been at the quarterback slot, is a talented runner and passer.

Last week against Brownfield, McKay was on the bench when Shimer was leading the Wolves at the quarterback position.

"We believe Jerry is one of our most talented boys," said Holladay, "and we are trying to get him in the line-up."

"We don't want him on the bench during our offense,"

With both McKay and Shimer in the backfield at the same time, the Wolves will have a double-barreled passing threat in addition to a stronger running game.

Holladay believes Tuesday and Wednesday were two of the best workouts of the season for his team.

"We are trying to polish up the rough edges and make the boys just a little more vicious... get 'em to hit just a bit harder," the coach said.

"And we probably saw more real football Wednesday afternoon than all the days so far this season."

Friday, the day their next-week-opponent Ballinger tackles Stamford, the Wolves will be working in practice on pass patterns and throwing the ball in another effort to strengthen their game.

Holladay reports all of the team in good shape. Red Lemons, the letterman lineman who was out of action last week, was reported in better shape than anytime since he pulled a knee muscle in the opening week of practice.

Indication that Holladay's toughening, sharpening attempt is taking hold all through the Wolf squad is seen in Wednesday's scrimmage between C-City's B team and Loraine High in Loraine.

The B team was impressive with a touchdown advantage over Loraine. In fact, the B team held their opponents scoreless as they scored once.

Assistant Coach Caddo Matthews skippered the B team in the Loraine scrimmage and was pleased with the overall hustle of his players.

Midland Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Martin and son, Stanley, of Loraine were in Midland Sunday for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Don Martin.

Mr. and Mrs. Weldon McCollum and daughter, Susan, of Big Spring visited Friday and Saturday at Loraine with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. McCollum.

Mr. and Mrs. John Plummer

IN BALLINGER FRIDAY

Wolves' Next Foe To Test Stamford

Colorado City High's next football foe has its hands full again this week.

Ballinger, with whom the Wolves collide here Sept. 18 in Colorado City's first home game under Coach Otis Holladay, is host Friday night to Stamford in AA tussle.

And Stamford has the mythical No. 1 spot among all Class AA clubs in this area of West Texas. The reputation was enhanced last Friday night when Stamford drubbed Quanaha 46-6.

On the same night Ballinger was opening its '59 season with a 38 to 6 loss to strong Brady Bulldogs in Brady, Colorado City, by the way, the same night dropped its opener to Brownfield, 21 to 14.

So, while Colorado City has an open date this weekend, Ballinger will take on its second potent foe. Just whether this will help or hinder the Bearcats in their Sept. 18 contest with C-City, will remain to be seen.

Although the Bearcats were losing 38 to 6 in Brady last week, they still were potent enough offensively to register nine first downs and gain almost 200 yards. On the ground, they moved for 129 yards. And they completed 2 of 7 passes for 67 more.

But Brady rolled up 235 yards on the ground and 52 yards passing as its registered its victory. In the march were 15 first downs.

The Ballinger grid crew gave up one touchdown in the first quarter, three in the second and one more in the third. It was not until the fourth quarter — when they held Brady scoreless — that they retaliated with their lone touchdown.

One of the second quarter touchdowns, however, resulted when Ballinger fumbled and Brady tackle Don Williams recovered behind the Bearcat goal.

Home for Weekend

Gordon Mahon of Midland visited with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Mahon, in Loraine over the weekend.

Weekend in Mexico

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Claxton of Colorado City, Mr. and Mrs. Troy Lankford and daughter, Darlene, and Carol Ann Bell of Westbrook were in Villa Acuna, Mexico, for the Labor Day weekend and the bull fights.

Mitchell Has Hand In Oil's Progress

It has been estimated that the gross assets of the U. S. petroleum industry are more than $58,000,000,000.

Our standard of living, industrial growth, and national security are all related to the amount of energy we consume.

Naturally, here in Mitchell County we are a working force in this tremendous industry. For this is where oil was first discovered for the huge and prolific Permian Basin.

Efficient Job

Working quietly but continuously, the Chamber of Commerce membership committee this year has added 30 new members to the business organization's roll.

This expanding membership and growing budget support reflects an increasing respect for the work and progress of the chamber for the community's economic and cultural interests.

However, a major reason for the fine membership development has been the splendid work of the membership committee under the chairmanship of G. D. Foster.

a stabilizing blend of home community petroleum industry.

By 1975, it is estimated that our total energy consumption will increase about 94 per cent. We will look to oil and gas to double its output of energy.

It all began 100 years ago, on an investment of about $5,000 by a group of Connecticut businessmen who sent Edwin L. Drake to Titusville, Pa., to seek a way to produce "rock oil" in commercial quantities.

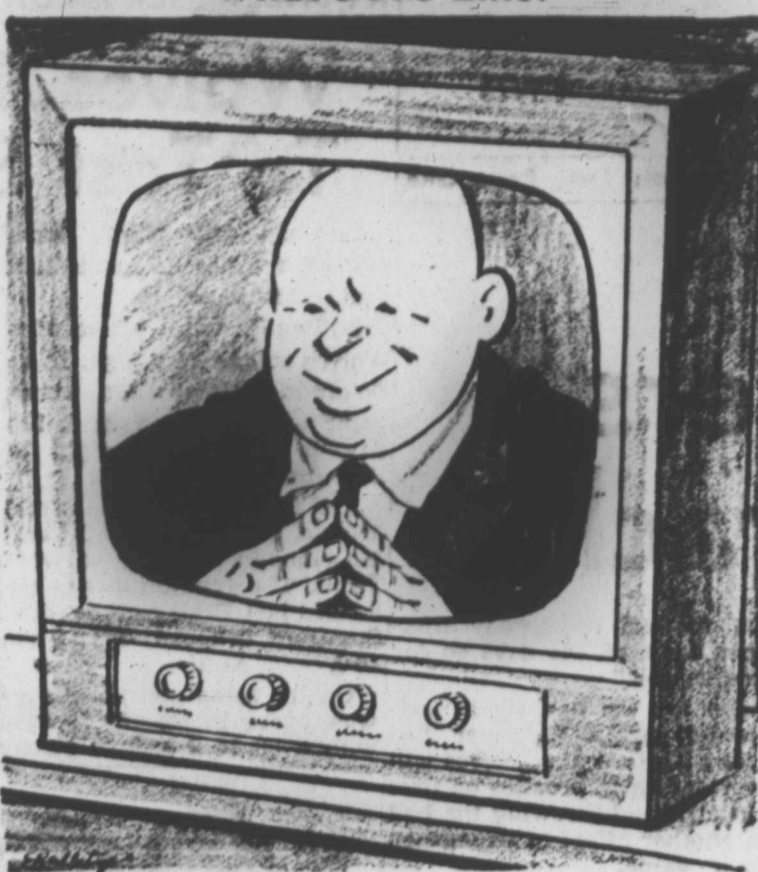

The first half of the oil industry's first hundred years is known as the "age of illumination," for its principal product was kerosene for lamps.

The second half should be known as the "age of abundant energy" — for the combination of the internal combustion engine and an abundant, economical fuel to run it has meant more progress for mankind in the past fifty years than in the previous 6,000 years of recorded history.

Keeping pace with America's growing energy needs has meant tremendous investments in research, development, expansion, and modernization. In the few years since World War II, the oil industry has plowed back $56 billion — a sum equal to its current gross assets.

The oil industry's centennial slogan, "Born in Freedom — Working for Progress," prompts the observation that America has been indeed fortunate to have been blessed with abundant sources of energy — and an economic system and climate of freedom makes possible their development and wise use.

PHILOSOPHER SAYS

City Handicap in Reds' Agriculture

Editor's note: The Shiny Flats Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Bone Hollow Creek writes about Chinese farming this week.

Dear editor:

Everybody is supposed to be polite to Mr. Krushchev on his visit to the United States, even if he is a Russian Communist dictator.

As I understand it, a few years ago the Communist bosses over there decided they were going to show the Chinese farmers how to farm, so they reorganized the whole business.

What the Chinese bureaucrats failed to realize is that you can't throw people together in close quarters with any success. Any big city proves that.

Also, they must have been working on the theory that a farmer lives in the country because he can't afford to live in town.

I don't know about those Chinese farmers, other than that the news has leaked out they aren't happy about being herded up in barracks and agricultural production is far short of the goals the bosses set up.

The Chinese Communists have another think coming if they believe they can improve agriculture by putting farmers in towns.

I've seen lots of farmers move to town, but it didn't help their farming ability. Most of them wound up becoming barbers or bankers or grocery clerks or merchants or bookkeepers or they ran for office.

Of course I know some city people own farms, but generally speaking they're not causing the agricultural surpluses.

Yours faithfully, J. A.

FOR UNDERSTANDING

Agriculture Needs Public Relations

By JOHN C. WHITE, Agriculture Commissioner. Agriculture's greatest need today is understanding.

This means understanding among those directly engaged in farming and ranching; understanding by those who provide services and materials to the farms and ranches; understanding by those who transport, process and distribute the plant and animal products coming from farms and ranches.

And above all, understanding among the great majority of our people who live in towns and cities and who are the principal consumers of the products of our agricultural industries.

Those of us engaged in agricultural endeavors have tended to take for granted that people generally and naturally understand their basic dependence on agriculture for food, feed and fiber.

American agriculture is thus being forced to become public relations conscious. We now must seek consumer acceptance not only of our products, but of our services, of our policies and of our true place in the total economy of the nation and the world.

Here are several avenues of attack on public relations for agriculture:

1. Corrections of the misconceptions the average urbanite has about us; especially let them understand their foods, feeds and fibers are not expensive, and producers, processors and distributors are not and will not be "rolling in wealth" at the expense of food consumers.

2. Seek to reverse the rising trend of "going to Washington" for funds or legislation on state and local agricultural problems, in the belief that it costs us less. We positively must accept more responsibility at state and local levels.

3. Clearing up the confusion between politically designed and directed policies relating to the "farm problem" on the one hand and the necessity for even stronger programs of research and education in agriculture.

4. Modern and future agriculture may merit a new tag — one that may overcome the popular concept that agriculture and farming are synonymous.

We must tell the great story of modern agriculture again and again to the general public. It's dynamic and it's basic. Everybody benefits.

LOCAL BUSINESS

Best Customer Is Ready to Purchase

By ROY V. FOX, Record Co-Publisher

A "ready-to-buy" prospect is the kind of customer most welcome in any retail store.

When a shopper knows what she wants and where she can get it, everyone involved benefits. This situation is created by pre-shopping.

Pre-shopping, which is done almost exclusively in the local newspaper, is an often overlooked but an important benefit of advertising.

additional clerks who would spend their time explaining and selling if our advertising had not done the major part of this work.

"When the customer knows what we have, what it will do, and what the price is, a clerk is able to handle twice as much business as he could with an uninformed prospect."

The informed prospect nearly always buys, whereas the uninformed customer is likely to wander into a half-dozen stores before he makes a buying decision.

Reaction to Tax Raises May Slow Teachers' Pay Proposal

By VEEN SANFORD, Texas Press Association

People who have been writing Gov. Price Daniel in the past few weeks say "no more taxes, please."

In mid-August the governor announced he would call a special session to raise money for higher teacher pay only if the people demanded it.

In the weeks that have transpired, there has been a heavy volume of mail running strongly against the special session idea.

Whether this means that prospects for a teacher pay session are out remains to be seen. It could mean only that the teachers, their families, friends and other school-minded people have been too busy with "back to school" work to get their letters off to the governor.

On the other hand, it could mean that the people are getting tired of taxes, and spiraling wage scales.

PINCH ALREADY — Perhaps the reason many Texans weren't eager to have another tax session was that they were beginning to feel the bite of new taxes already passed this year.

State Treasurer Jesse James' report shows that many stocks up on cigarettes and liquor during August, before higher taxes on these items became effective in September.

Sale of liquor and cigarette tax stamps soared to $5,227,642 in August. This is $1,098,496 higher than sales for August, 1958.

No statistics are available for the pre-tax selling of items which got hit for the first time. But heavy advertising campaigns indicated that merchants hoped buyers would clear their stores during August of such items as air conditioners in order to avoid the 3 per cent sales tax.

DEFENDS VETO — Governor Daniel's office has suggested that the State Hospital Board tap its $1,200,000 emergency fund to eliminate any fire hazard to the 800 oldsters housed in the Confederate Home in Austin.

Governor Daniel vetoed a legislative appropriation to build new quarters for these patients. His action brought some reactions of surprise and criticism. State Hospital system's safety officer was quoted as labeling the 50-year-old frame buildings as "definite fire hazards."

A spokesman for the governor retorted that the appropriation the governor scratched would not have emptied the Confederate Home. He said it would have provided quarters for only about 300.

He suggested the State Hospital Board use its emergency funds to re-double safety precautions for the old folks.

In its last special session the Legislature approved a $330,000 fund transfer for these between-session expenses by voice vote. But all bills not passed by a two-thirds record vote cannot take effect until 90 days after the session ends. Hence, the November date for this action.

Legislature also appropriated $1,000,000 for legislature expenses, but this was vetoed by the governor. He said he felt they could get along on the $330,000.

Arrangements were being made for some 20 House and Senate employees, who've missed two pay days now, to get low interest loans from loan companies.

BOAT OWNERS — State Highway Department has announced that registration and licensing of boats under the new water safety act will begin next month.

Boat owners will have until March 1, 1960, to get their certificates and identification numbers.

Forms now are being printed and will be distributed to boat dealers, county offices, Highway Department Offices and other public offices.

Cost of the licenses will vary with the size of the craft. Here is the scale: Boats under 16 feet in length, $1; 16 to 26 feet, $5; 26 to 40 feet, $10; 40 feet or more, $12.50.

Boats, regardless of length, if equipped with a 10 hp motor or less, will be exempt from the tax as well as the numbering provision of the law.

The Highway Department will deal only with the registration phase of the new law and not with safety enforcement.

INVESTIGATORS — Sen. Wardlaw Lane of Center has been appointed chairman of the Senate General Investigating Committee.

Others named to the committee by Lt. Gov. Ben Hays are Sens. A. M. Aldrich, Jr. of Paris (reappointed), Dorsey B. Brudeman of San Angelo, Bruce Reagan of Corpus Christi and R.A. Weibert of Seguin.

This committee succeeds a panel headed by Sen. Charles Herring of Austin which collected reams of material on the ICT Insurance Company, the state insurance liquidation division and tax collecting procedures in the state comptroller's office.

WASHINGTON REPORT

Farm Labor Plan Has Basic Issue

By CLINTON DAVIDSON, Special Correspondent

The basic philosophy underlying our democratic system of a division of responsibility between the legislative, judicial and administrative branches of government is being tested in Washington this week.

The public has been invited to hear and participate in debate over whether an administrative agency should issue an order having the effect of law without the specifically stated consent of Congress.

Secretary of Labor James Mitchell, will decide, on the basis of the arguments, whether to make permanent a tentative order that would delegate to his subordinates the power to establish minimum wages and working conditions for more than one million hired farm workers.

The question, however, is much deeper and broader than that of applying minimum wages to farm workers. It involves the whole concept of the function of an administrative agency, of which there are literally hundreds in Washington.

Is a law just what Congress says, or is it what the lawyers in an administrative agency interpret it to be?

Some interpretation frequently is necessary, but that interpretation should not go beyond the clear intent of Congress. No agency should ever assume it has any authority simply because Congress has not said it doesn't have it.

It is conceded that Congress never has specifically granted the Secretary of Labor authority to set minimum wages for farm workers. But, it is argued by those backing the order, neither has it ever been said that he cannot issue such an order. So, it is contended, issuance of the order would not be a violation of any law.

This, we think, is not valid reasoning. The order, if put into effect and not reversed, could become a precedent that would open the way for other agencies to, in effect, make laws by interpretation.

Months ago Secretary Mitchell, an able and conscientious administrator, asked Attorney General William P. Rogers for an official ruling on whether he had the authority to issue the proposed order.

After long study Mr. Rogers ruled (1) that the authority was "implied" in the 30-year old Wagner - Peyer Act which established the U. S. Employment Service in the Labor Department, and (2) that there is nothing in any law specifically prohibiting him from issuing such an order.

The order, if made effective, would delegate to the U. S. Employment Service authority to require that farm employers who obtain out-of-state workers through USES pay at least the prevailing wage in their area.

The farm employer also would have to agree to meet housing standards acceptable to the USES, and to pay transportation of the workers from their home and return when the USES determines that to be a "common practice."

The question isn't whether these regulations are fair and reasonable, but rather the fundamental issue of the authority of an administrative agency to make rules and regulations not clearly authorized by Congress. This seems to us to be a serious threat to our constitutional division of authority between the legislative and administrative branches of government.

LEPRECHAUNS ALL AROUND

'Little People' Due Sunday at Palace

You can read about Leprechauns and talk about Leprechauns, but you have to see Ireland's famed Little People to believe in them, as the Irish fervently do, in Walt Disney's entertaining new feature motion picture, "Darby O'Gill and the Little People," starting Sunday at the Palace Theatre.

In live-action and color by Technicolor, this is another brilliant Disney first. It has the happy magic touch for which the ingenious producer is so well known — humor, pace, colorful characterization, plus a most unusual cast.

ing self in the production and to him, as well as to his participating subjects, Walt officially gives thanks in the screen credits.

The cast stars Albert Sharpe, Janet Munro, Sean Connery, and Jimmy O'Dea, with Kieron Moore, Estelle Winwood and Walter Fitzgerald. Denis O'Dea, J. G. Devlin, Jack McGowan, Farrell Pelly and Nora O'Mahony are featured in the Buena Vista release.

Sharpe, famed Irish actor and creator of Broadway's Finian McLonergan character, performs like the veteran he is in the comic and often sympathetic title role of Darby.

For the first time in the history of the motion picture industry, live Leprechauns play the parts of Leprechauns. Disney went to Ireland personally to coax the wee folk — few are over 21 inches tall — into appearing in the flesh.

One hundred and fifty of them cavort through some of the bigger scenes in a series of fabulous sequences. The eluding the lively Leprechauns, turn in superb performances.

Pretty Miss Munro and handsome Connery have the romantic leads, as daughter Katie O'Gill and the young man she loves, Michael McBride. Everyone in the cast, including the lively Leprechauns, turn in superb performances.

Traveling Checks buy LESS

Do you habitually take a 25 or 30 per cent discount on the personal checks that you write?

Many people do . . . without realizing it. It's the hidden penalty they pay for the privilege of spending their money in somebody else's town or city.

Take a moment to consider facts: Only about 70 cents of each dollar we spend goes to pay for the actual goods or service that we get. About 30 cents of that dollar has to cover the necessary expenses of the community where the sale is made . . . to pay the people who work there . . . to return something on the capital invested . . . to help support civic facilities such as churches, schools, fire and police protection, road and street maintenance, etc.

Of course, when we spend our money away from home we get no personal benefit whatever from the 30 per cent of it which goes for community business and social improvement.

Doesn't it follow, then, that when we give checks or money for out of town purchases, nearly one-third of the amount goes for something we don't get? Isn't that just the same as discounting our checks or money? Is it sound economics?

Science Teacher Goes About in Wheel Chair

By MRS. C. C. HAMILTON
Record Correspondent
LORRAINE — Miss Carolyn Jones, who teaches from a wheel chair, is a new faculty member at Loraine High. She is teaching science and the seventh grade despite her physical handicap.

She was hired by the Loraine school board as school opened last week after David McBride, appointed science teacher a week before the school term, accepted a position in Borger public schools.

Miss Jones has been confined to her wheel chair since being stricken with polio in 1950 while a 13-year-old Junior High student in Sweetwater. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam L. Jones of Sweetwater.

Soon after becoming paralyzed with polio, Miss Jones was moved to Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation, a recuperative treatment center in South Texas for persons struck with crippling diseases. But she took her school work with her and kept busy with it during her eight months stay at the center.

And when she returned to Sweetwater, she kept her studies on schedule, too. The result was she returned to school in a wheel chair, graduating from Sweetwater High with a bachelor of science degree at McMurry College. This is the polio victim's first year of actual teaching. However, she had six months of practice teaching last year in the sixth grade at Abilene's Bowie Elementary School while completing her studies at McMurry.

While in college she was president of her senior class, member of the Wahwahysee pep organization, T. I. P. social club, yearbook staff and National Education Association.

Miss Jones travels to Loraine each morning from her home in Sweetwater to her new teaching assignment in a car driven by her parents.

Hiring of Miss Jones completes the Loraine school staff except for one vacancy — a first grade teacher. Miss Norma Gardner, teacher last year, resigned the second day of school to accept a position in a larger town.

BUT HUNT CONTINUES

$3 Million Loss In Deep Oil Test

Sober reflections on a century of progress:

Earlier this year, an oil company abandoned hope of finding oil in a hole that had drilled to a depth of 25,340 feet—the deepest (at the time) that man ever had probed.

The company plugged the hole, which had been drilled in oil-prone Texas, calculated its loss at three million dollars, then started anew.

This was not a particularly fitting way to celebrate the 100th anniversary of oil, but it emphasized, in its own way, the risks and hazards involved in oil exploration.

It also underscored the good luck that accompanied Colonel Edwin E. Drake's 1859 Well at Titusville, Pa.

Drake hit oil at 69½ feet, an exceptionally shallow well. Drake had a prospecting oil seep to guide him, and the most priceless ingredient of all, good luck. The modern oil company had geology, geophysics, every device of technology—but to no avail.

The odds weigh heavily against the wildcatter—one in nine for a dry every well, about one in 41 for a well that holds hope of being an economic producer.

Despite odds like these, and immense financial commitments, American oilmen press forward constantly in their search for oil and gas, well aware that the future as a whole is closely tied to this low-cost energy.
