IT'S THE DAY OF THE IRISH

2 Midland bars planning St. Patrick's Day bashes

By Ed Todd
Staff Writer

May your blessings outnumber the shamrocks that grow. And may troubles not find you wherever you go.
— Irish toast

In many a pub, tavern, bar or den today, beer drinkers who consider themselves somewhat Irish on St. Patrick's Day may be wishing that very toast or, in Gaelic, "Slainte!" for "To your health."

"It is a good-time day," said Midlander Scott Gunn, The Bar's owner who supposed he is 51 percent Scottish and 49 percent Irish. "But it's four days of hard work" in preparing for an outdoor, under-the-tent par-

Origin of St. Patrick's Day

Saint Patrick, the patron saint of Ireland and Apostle to the Irish, was credited with converting the Irish people to Christianity in the 400s. He is beheld as "Father and Founder of the Church of Ireland."

He was born in Wales, then part of the Roman Empire, in 385 or 389 of Roman stock, captured by pirates in a raid, sold into slavery as a shepherd in Ireland, escaped, returned to Britain, studied religion in Gaul (France), dedicated his life to converting the Irish people to Christianity.

Patrick founded 300 churches, baptized 120,000 people, wrote Confession about his spirituality.

Legends: Patrick used the three-leaf shamrock in explaining the Holy Trinity, charmed the snakes of Ireland, and lured them into the sea.

United States first celebrated Saint Patrick's Day in 1737 in Boston.

Despite festive mood, don't drink and drive

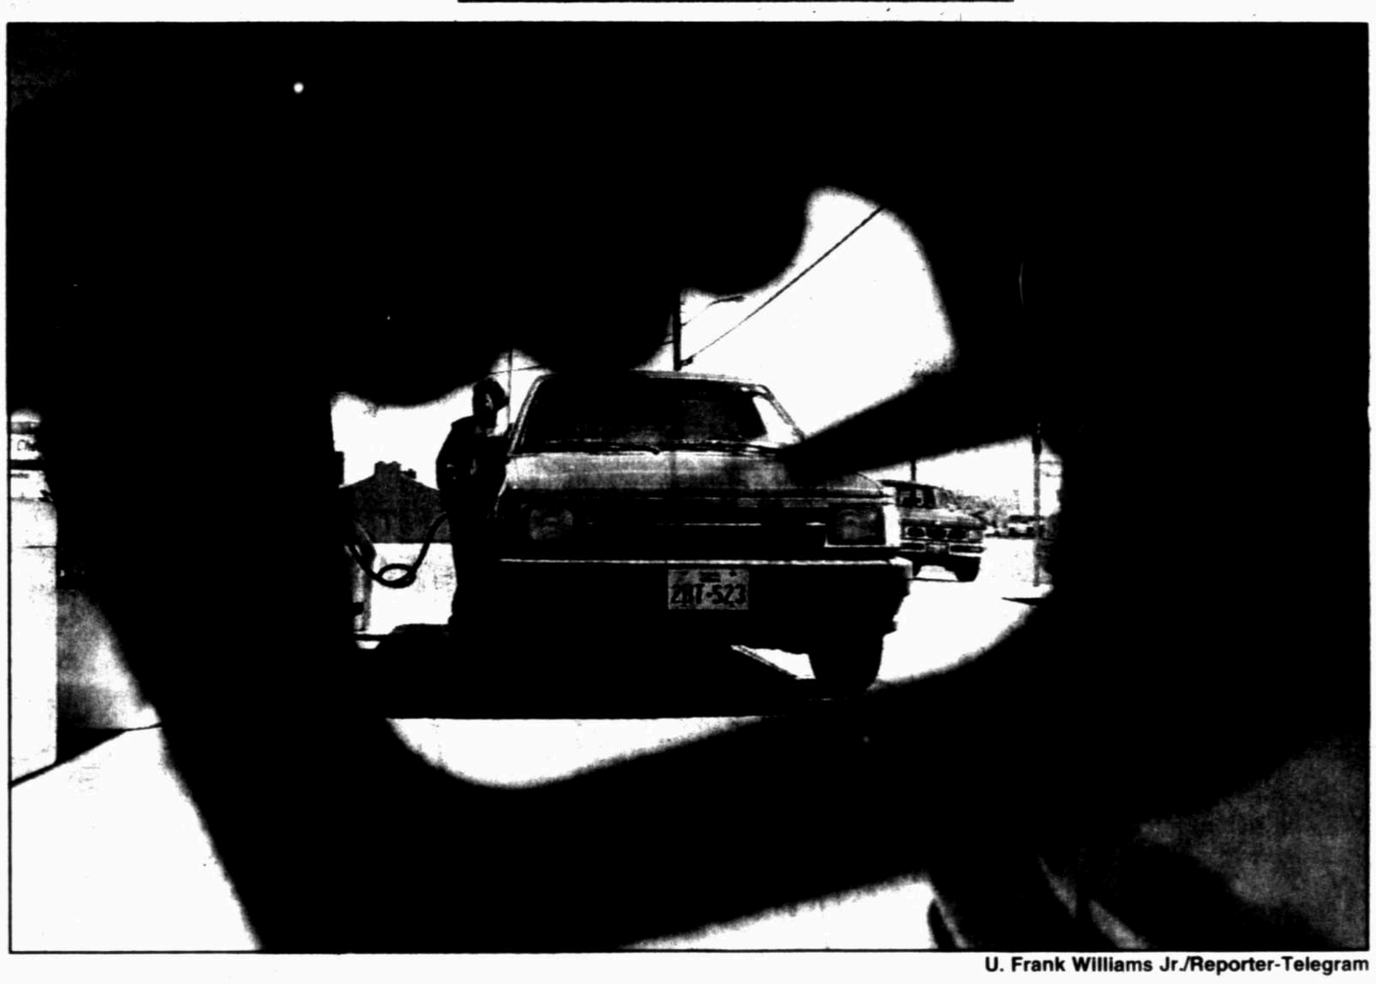

By Michele J. Kennerly

The word has gone out: Even though this is St. Patrick's Day, don't drink and drive.

Also, get to know the law when it comes to alcohol consumption.

Local law enforcement officials, along with The Century Council, a national non-profit organization funded by America's leading distillers and committed to combating drunk driving and underage drinking, showcased a national public education and awareness campaign Friday in Midland. The bilingual campaign began as a result of respons-

3 vying for board seat in District 7

■ John Miller enters the school board race to make it three seeking the seat held by Becky Oekerman, who is not running for re-election.

Andrews

Miller

Smith

It's now a three-man race, as Midlander John Miller steps in the ring to run for the Midland Independent School District's District 7 board of trustees seat.

Miller was actually the second person to file this week. Charles "Rocky" Smith also filed for the position on Thursday. Now the race is even tighter with Miller, Smith and Midland Bank One CEO Joe Andrews all running for the same board seat.

"It's split the vote up a little bit," Miller said. "It gives the public a much better choice. Voters want to know what candidates are intending to do."

Miller, a former Marine and local businessman, said he is waiting to learn more about his opponent Andrews. In an earlier interview, Andrews described himself as a candidate without an agenda. Miller predicted as the race becomes more crowded, clarifying candidates' positions on school issues may become more important.

"A three-man race will have some interesting agendas," Miller said. "The district will be better for it."

Both Miller and Smith predicted because of their similar views, this would likely be an election that will lead to lots of discussion and some consensus.

"Rather than arguing, spouting and posturing, it's nice to see a consensus from time to time," Smith said. "No name calling and finger pointing."

Miller announced his candidacy last fall during an MISD school board meeting. He announced he would be the candidate for fiscal responsibility.

Gasoline prices inch downward

By Luis Garcia
Staff Writer

For Midlanders paying more than $1.40 for regular unleaded gasoline at the pump for the past few months, some modest relief appears to be on the way.

In recent days, the price has been inching downward, reaching as low as $1.35 at a couple of locations, although the more common price has been between $1.37 and $1.41.

The weekly U.S. Department of Energy survey of 800 filling stations nationwide put the average cost of unleaded gasoline at 1.412 a gallon.

The retail price for gasoline fell for the fourth consecutive week. In fact, the price of gasoline slowly has moved downward seven out of the past eight weeks.

Still, prices are a little too high for many Midlanders' tastes.

"What do I do about the gas prices?" asked Fernando Ruiz, who was filling up on Tuesday afternoon. "I get used to it," he responded, chuck-

Austin couple, both 30, claim winning jackpot

By Natalie Gott
Associated Press

AUSTIN — The winners of the $85 million Lotto Texas jackpot — the state's largest ever — came forward Friday to reveal their names, but everything else about the couple remains a mystery.

Robert and Beverly Chody of Austin would not say whether they have children who would benefit from their windfall; where they were from originally; or what the initials of the company they formed to claim their prize stood for.

They also gave limited insight on what they planned to do with their money, saying they perhaps might take a trip to Hawaii.

"This is a lot of money and we are going to take our time with it," Robert Chody said.

Beverly Chody said she was unsure if she would continue to work as a customer care representative at AT&T Wireless. Robert Chody said he plans to continue working as a senior patrol officer for the Austin Police Department "but that is something we need to discuss."

SAFE: Many are not aware of legal blood alcohol limit

es to a national survey commissioned by the The Century Council that gauged the public's understanding of drinking and driving laws in their state.

The survey revealed 73 percent of Americans are not aware of the legal blood alcohol concentration (BAC) limit for driving in their state.

Shannon Adams, a representative of The Century Council, believes these results indicate a need "for educational tools to help better educate all Americans on this potentially life-saving issue."

Captain Ed Krevit of the Midland County Sheriff's Office believes "the residents of Texas take this issue seriously and do not want to be a part of the uninformed." He cited a 1999 statistic from the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration that 349 of the 1,734 alcohol-related traffic fatalities in Texas involved youth under 21.

One educational tool is the Blood Alcohol Educator (BAE) truck, which was originally launched in Texas as a pilot project in October 1999 when Texas changed its BAC limit from .10 to .08, and has to date traveled 45,000 miles and through 22 states.

This vibrant truck, decorated with program logos in both English and Spanish, converts to an interactive cyber-cafe that allows visitors to use the new BAE CD-ROM to estimate their BAC level based on sex, weight and the type and number of drinks consumed at the virtual bar.

Amanda Morphis, 15, and Jesse Buys, 16, volunteered to use the Blood Alcohol Educator CD-ROM.

"There is a lot of underage drinking in Midland, even at the freshman (in high school) level," Miss Morphis said. Miss Buys added, "many teen-agers drink as much as they can, as fast as they can" and are not aware of the imminent dangers.

"If this program were available in schools I think students would use it, even if just to see how much they can drink before alcohol poisoning sets in," Miss Morphis said.

The Century Council has launched a new Web site at www.b4udrink.org where people can download the BAE CD-ROM and apply the information as it relates to their individual statistics.

"We hope this grassroots educational and awareness campaign will maximize its impact and reduce the distinct awareness gap among Americans of what BAC laws are and how the law affects individuals differently," Ms. Adams said. As for anyone planning to drink this St. Patrick's Day, the campaign advises to drink responsibly and to make driver designations before the celebrations.

Ramp agents happy with Southwest, but want equal treatment

By Hillary S. Condon
MRT Correspondent

It was unseasonably cold and very windy at the Midland International Airport Friday when several dozen Southwest Airlines passengers filed through the doors to wait in line at the ticket counters. As they admired a brochure with the serene face of a "real" worker with the words "My goal as a ramp supervisor is to make sure our customers depart and arrive on time," few had any idea that local ramp workers were protesting outside.

Six members of the Transport Workers Union Local 555 were the first to brandish their picket signs and start a slow circular march at 10 a.m., protesting what they say is unfair treatment of their contract by Southwest.

Well, sort of.

"Southwest is a great airline," said union member Mike Shoemaker. "It's a great company, and a great company to work for.

"We've been treated fairly," he continued. "And we're the best in the industry. We just want to be treated as well as they are."

Shoemaker was quick to emphasize that the workers and the union are not on strike, and the activity was characterized by the group as an "informational picketing." The workers have been without a contract for 15 months, and they want a pay raise and the same benefits as counter workers and pilots before the new, disputed contract is finalized.

"Right now, we top out at $20.50 (an hour)," said union member Lance Wolfe, bearing a sign that read "I need the freedom to buy groceries." "And that's OK for some of us ... I've only been here for three and a half years, but there are some guys who have worked here for 10 and 20 years."

Wolfe agrees the airline treats the ramp agents well, with good profit-sharing and benefits, and said the union wants equal treatment for the ramp agents when it comes to retirement plans as well.

Last month alone, Southwest accommodated about 14,000 more travelers out of Midland International Airport than all of the other airlines combined. Both Shoemaker and Wolfe are proud of their company's record, and say they have no problem with Southwest — only their contract.

"We're the No. 1 airline right now," Wolfe said. "We just want to get what everyone else gets."

Right now, the 401(k) retirement plan offers workers 50 cents on the dollar. After the employee has worked for three years, the benefits increase to a dollar-for-dollar match.

But this isn't good enough for the union — they want equal retirement benefits, as well as better pay, to begin the day a ramp agent is hired.

The ramp agent's job is defined as a ground operator for the airlines, loading luggage and directing the aircraft on the ramp area. Southwest recruiting literature defines the employment requirements for a ramp agent as a high school diploma or equivalent, an excellent driving record and the ability to lift up to 70 pounds repeatedly.

Southwest officials in Midland had no comment about the protest or the union negotiations.

WIN: Couple isn't sure if they'll quit jobs

(From 1A)

"I love working with these people," said Chody, who has been an officer for five years.

The Chodys claimed their winnings, a check for $51.2 million, privately on Thursday. The couple, both 30, chose the cash-option payment so they received a smaller share of the winnings in a lump sum.

On Friday, their family accompanied them to the Texas Lottery Headquarters as they introduced themselves to the public. Members of the Austin Police Department, including Chief Stan Knee, also were present.

"I'd just like to announce that I'm promoting this fine officer to assistant police chief," Knee joked.

Beverly Chody purchased the winning ticket at Shopper's Mart in north Austin for the March 7 lottery drawing. On the advice of their attorney, the couple stayed out of the public eye until they claimed their prize. They even left town to stay with some friends and kept in contact with only a few people on the police force.

There's really not any fears of everybody knowing. We just wanted to make sure that our stability was taken care of first," Beverly Chody said.

Robert Chody said even though they were in "hiding," they have "been celebrating for a week now."

"We were in hiding from you guys for a while, but now we can do it in public," Robert Chody told reporters. "We're going to get with some friends. We've had to ignore our friends for a while."

The retailer that sold the ticket is eligible to receive a 1 percent bonus up to $500,000.

The winning numbers were 10-31-36-37-45-51. The winning ticket was a Quick Pick selection.

MISD: Miller joins race for District 7

(From 1A)

"When it comes to the five dollars that need to be spent, we need to spend it on the classroom before anything else," Miller said. "That's communities we're investing in, not in buildings."

Also because of Miller's filing, potential candidate Wayne "Woody" Woodside may not be entering the race. Woodside, who admitted he wanted to run, has publicly said before he would not run if Miller did because they share similar views.

"I'm still thinking," Woodside said. "The new guy (Smith) may put a new light on things."

Woodside said he likes Miller and he is also interested in what Smith has had to say on some issues, but he thinks they both need to address the academic needs of the school district more.

"I really like what John has to say and he's (Smith) talking right but neither of them have looked at it (MISD) as a very poor district educationally," Woodside said.

Woodside admitted for this race "we've got some good candidates," and he was interested in watching the race progress. Woodside said he will make a final decision whether to run this weekend.

Andrews, Miller and Smith all are running for what currently is Rebecca Oekerman's board seat. Ms. Oekerman elected not to run for re-election in order to focus on her career as a college professor.

Economic reports point to bold Fed move to cut interest rates

By Jeannine Aversa
Associated Press

WASHINGTON — The latest snapshots of economic activity Friday gave Federal Reserve policy-makers more reasons to cut interest rates aggressively at their meeting next Tuesday to revive a slumbering economy. Wholesale prices were almost flat in February, and factory production remained in free-fall.

With inflation posing little current risk to the economy, analysts said, the Fed has plenty of room to lower interest rates again. Not only should that give a boost to the overall economy, which is mired in a slowdown, it also should help manufacturing, they said. That sector is bearing the brunt of the economy's weakness, so much so that many believe it is in recession.

"The rot is spreading in manufacturing," said David Wyss, chief economist at Standard and Poor's DRI. "The economy just doesn't seem to be moving."

On Wall Street, stocks tumbled as the anemic industrial production report and profit warnings from major tech companies stoked investors' anxiety over the weak economy. The Dow Jones industrial average lost 207.87 points to close at 9,823.41. That left the index with its worst-ever weekly point drop of 821.21.

Wyss and some other economists said they are betting that the Fed will cut interest rates by a bold three-quarters of a percentage point next week, given the latest reading on inflation and industrial activity as well as the stock market's problems.

"I'd say there is a 60 percent probability of a three-quarter point reduction on Tuesday primarily because of the low rate of underlying inflation, the weakness in the factory sector and the negative feedback that could come from a continued slide in the stock market," said Lynn Reaser, chief economist at Banc of America Capital Management.

The tame inflation news came in a Labor Department report that showed the department's Producer Price Index, which measures inflation pressures before they reach store shelves, edged up a tiny 0.1 percent in February, despite higher prices for natural gas and other energy products.

Excluding volatile energy and food prices, which can swing widely from month to month, wholesale prices fell by 0.3 percent last month, the best showing since August 1993.

But in further evidence of the faltering economy, production at the nation's factories, mines and utilities plunged a bigger-than-expected 0.6 percent, the fifth straight monthly decline, the Federal Reserve said. The weakness was broad-based.

"The bad news for the industrial side of the economy got even worse," said David Orr, First Union's chief economist.

Output at gas and electric utilities decreased by 2.3 percent, which economists attributed to mild weather and conservation efforts by homeowners and others who have been shocked by huge bills. Manufacturing production declined by 0.4 percent and mining output by 0.5 percent.

Operating capacity, meanwhile, fell to 79.4 percent in February as companies cut back production and shed workers due to sagging demand. It was the lowest reading since February 1992.

Industrial production also was weaker in January than the Fed previously thought. Output fell 0.6 percent, according to revised figures, double the 0.3 percent drop originally reported.

The Federal Reserve slashed interest rates twice in January, totaling a full percentage point, trying to stave off recession. One reason cited by Fed policymakers for being able to act so aggressively was that inflation — outside the burst in energy prices — had remained in check.

Wholesale prices were much more subdued in February after skyrocketing energy prices shot them 1.1 percent higher in January, the biggest jump in a decade.

'I'd say there is a 60 percent probability of a three-quarter point reduction on Tuesday primarily because of the low rate of underlying inflation, the weakness in the factory sector and the negative feedback that could come from a continued slide in the stock market.'

— Lynn Reaser,
chief economist at Banc of America Capital Management

Energy prices didn't go up so much last month, rising 1.4 percent compared with a 3.8 percent January increase. The trend of rising energy costs reflects production limits and strong demand.

Natural gas used in homes rose 3.5 percent in February, but that was an improvement over the record 11.3 percent increase in January. After peaking in December, natural gas prices have eased, and economists expect prices will continue to moderate or fall in coming months.

Falling prices for gasoline and heating oil helped temper rising prices for liquefied petroleum gas, such as propane, and residential electric power.

Food prices also moderated in February, rising 0.6 percent, down from a 0.8 percent increase. Higher prices for pork, chicken, fish and vegetables swamped falling prices for dairy products and fruits.

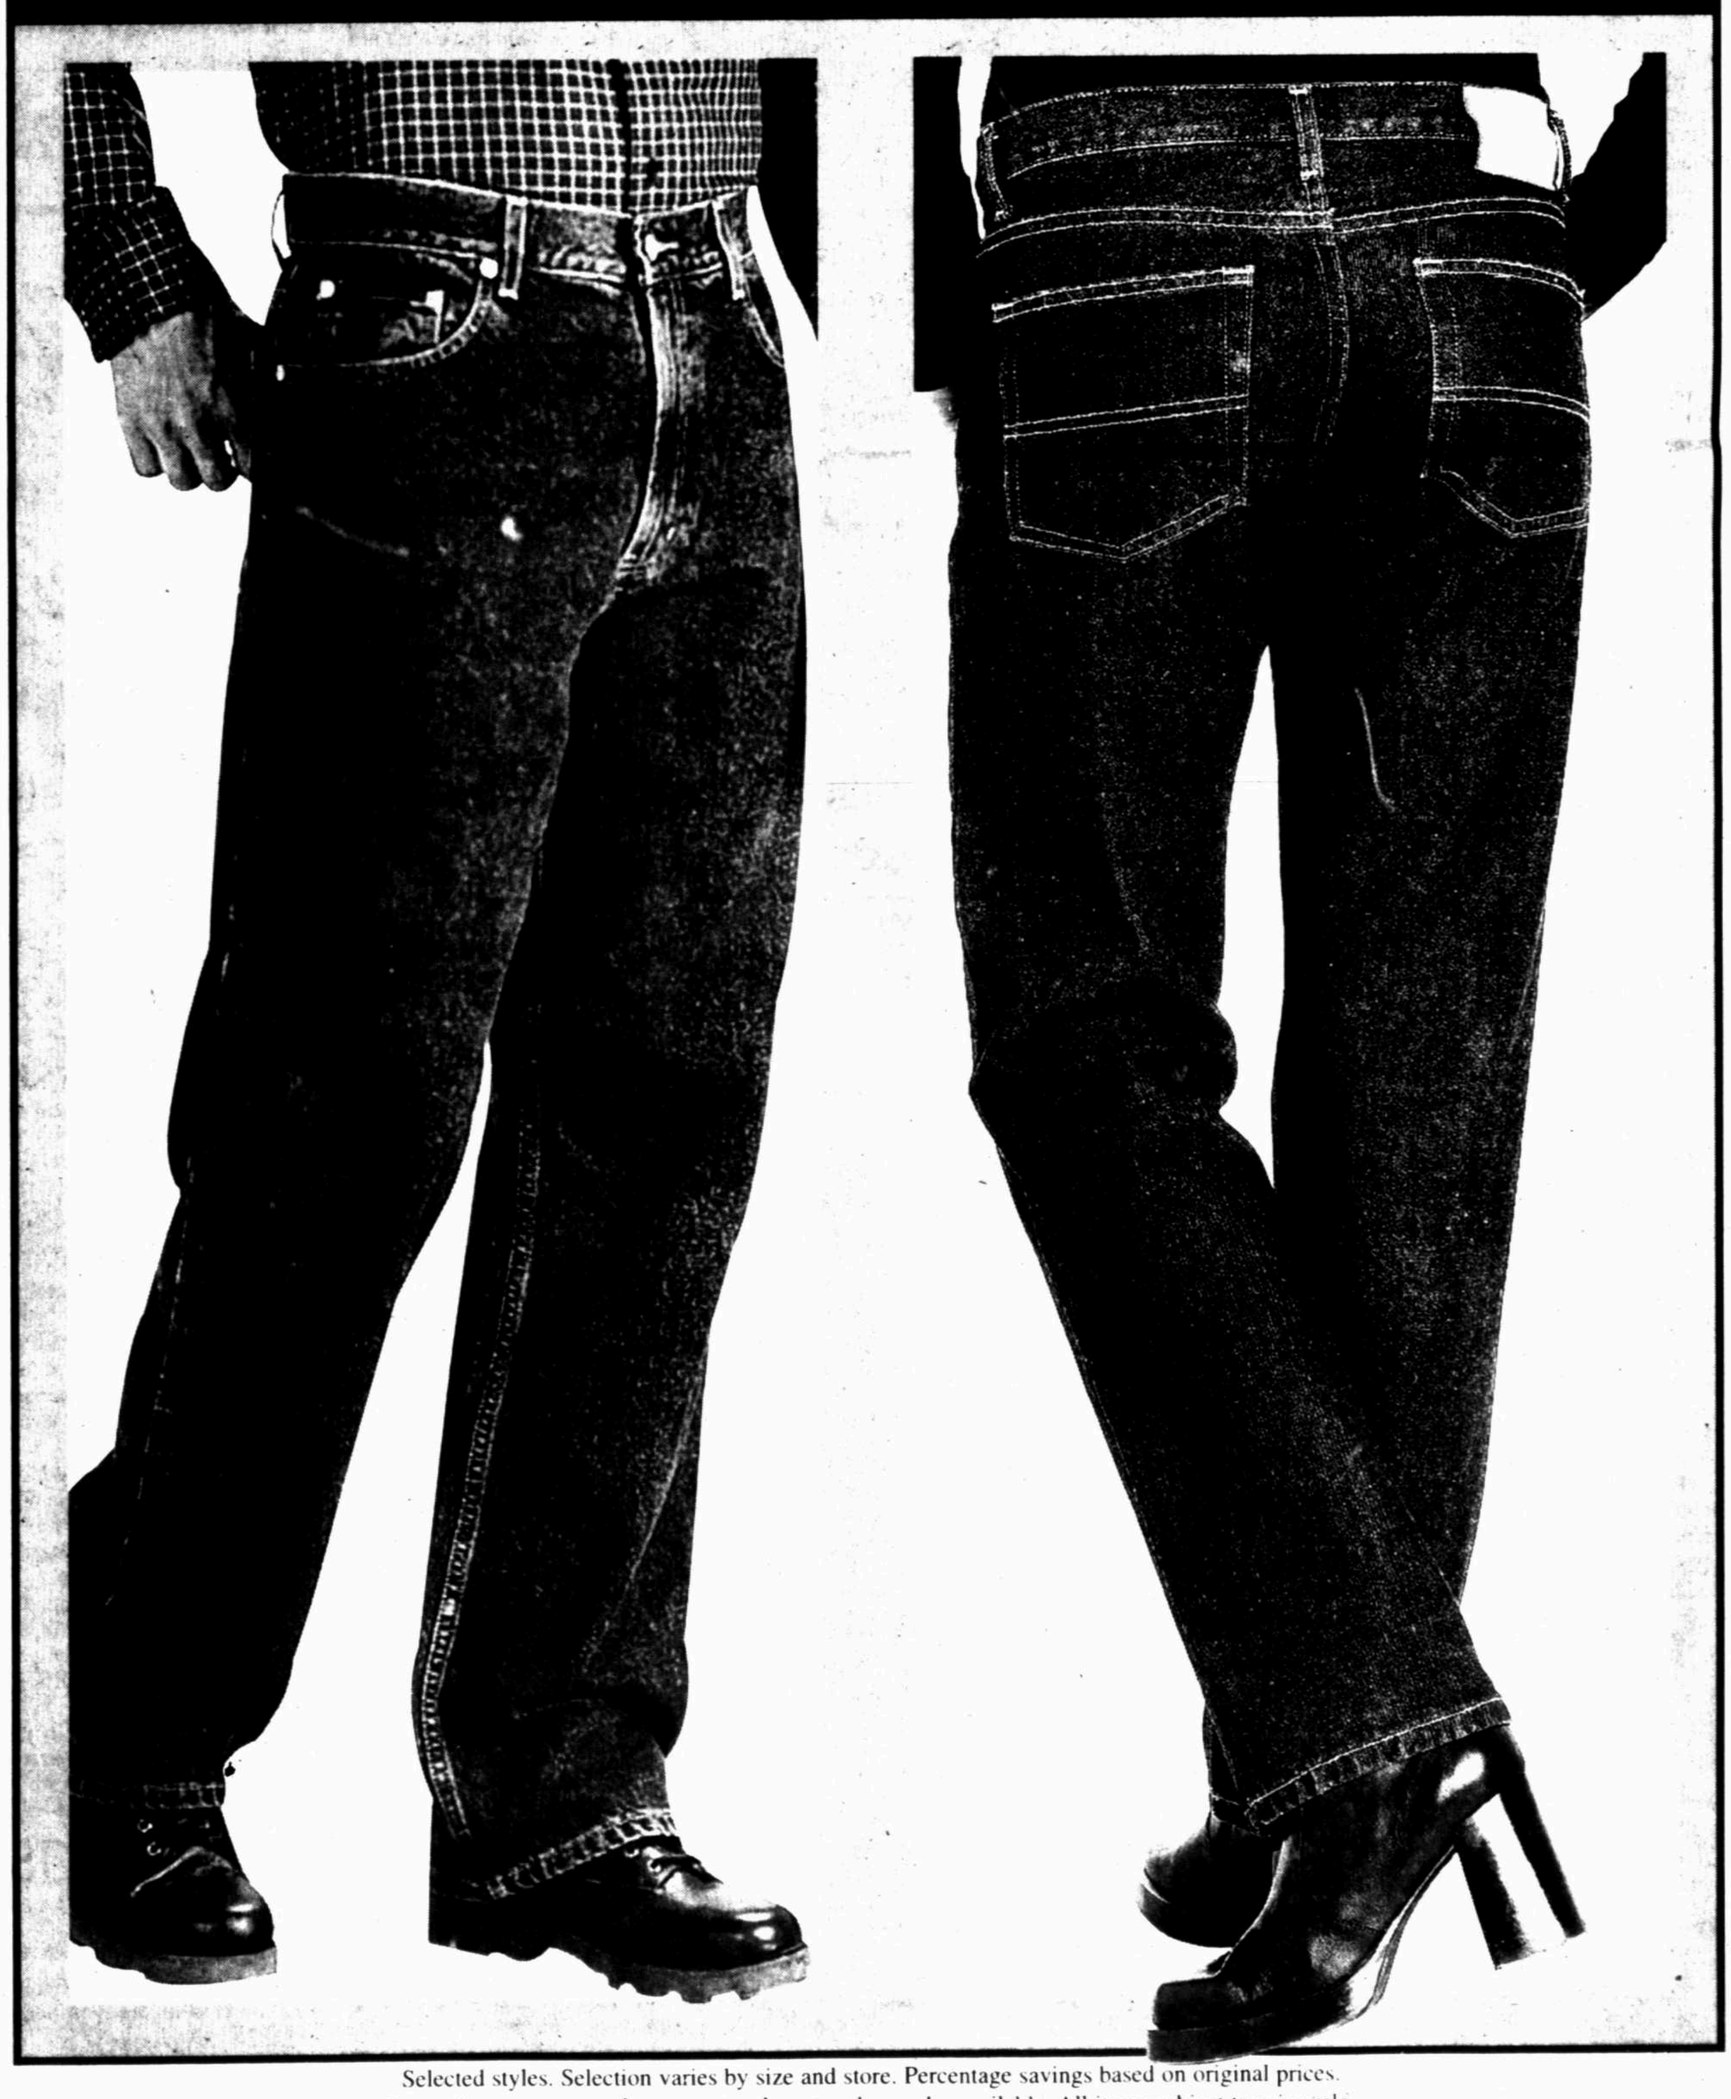

Car prices, meanwhile, fell 1.5 percent, the biggest decrease since July 1997, and truck prices declined 3.6 percent, the largest drop since October 1982. Economists said the lower prices reflected discounting and other incentives by manufacturers and dealers.

One area of the economy that has held up well during the slowdown has been housing. In another report, housing construction, after rising 4.8 percent in January, dipped by a smaller-than-expected 0.4 percent in February to an annual rate of 1.65 million units. Even with the decrease, the level of activity remained healthy.

"The reality of the economy is not that bad outside manufacturing. But the perception is the sky is falling in part because of the stock market," said Wells Fargo's chief economist Sung Won Sohn, who expects a three-quarter-point cut. "The stock market is the canary in the coal mine, and the canary is gasping for air."

BARS: Bennigan's blast being held indoors

(From 1A)

ty that is budgeted at $20,500.

"If you are American, there's a good chance you've got some Irish blood in you," Gunn said. The holiday in honor of the patron saint of Ireland is a "traditional day" in America that is "so popular" and bodes no negative connotation, he said. "There really isn't (any)."

Meanwhile, the American Irish-rooted tavern and grill, Bennigan's in Midland, by oversight sort of winged its own tradition: And that is throwing an outdoor "Blarney Blast" just as it has in Midland for about the last 20 years.

Instead of an outdoor celebration, the Bennigan's blast is being held inside the tavern-restaurant on this St. Patrick's Day in which green-tinted American tap beer and standard Irish beers such as Guinness drought, Harp lager and Killian's Irish Red will be flowing.

"We didn't get the permit in time (from the Midland City Council to throw an outdoor party)," said Bennigan's manager, Zack Harris. The request was turned in too late, he noted, for the City Council to take action on a temporary land-use permit.

But The Bar's request, noted city of Midland planning official Cameron Walker, was turned in with plenty of time to the get the permit.

"We're going to have another one (St. Patrick's Day-like bash) in August ... with a tent," Harris said. "We have a celebration every year at this time three days straight."

But the bash, featuring live rock music, is "indoor this year. It's hospitality, like a big family, a big celebration," Harris said of the event. "Everybody is going to have some green on" while many party-goers will be wearing shamrock-green hats and top hats and, perhaps, "Kiss Me. I'm Irish" wishes.

Bobby Nelson, 30, was savoring an American beer at Bennigan's on the eve of St. Patrick's Day

"Sure, why not (be Irish on St. Patrick's Day)," he said. "It's a good excuse to have a drink."

His friend, Stephen Holmes, 27, was drinking German beer. "I had a Guinness (earlier)," he said. "I like German beer best even on St. Patrick's Day."

At The Bar's fling tonight and past midnight, Gunn expects to draw about 1,200 customers.

"It will look like I'm making money hand-over-fist, which I don't dispute with my customers," Gunn said. "It's a high-risk deal."

The tent alone is $3,000 for the night's rent, the portable toilets rent for $1,000, and there is other overhead, such as the help, including servers and cooks, the food, the beer and all, the souvenirs, and the live bands that won't be playing Irish or Celtic music, Gunn said. It will be more like rock 'n' roll.

While Americans celebrate their kinship with the Irish people by wearing green and watching and marching in parades, the Irish people on this their saintly holiday won't be having the traditional St. Patrick's Day Parade in Dublin or any major sporting events all due to the threat of the hoof-and-mouth (foot-and-mouth) viral disease infesting cattle and sheep in England and France and other parts of the world, but not yet in North America.

"They (Irish officials) actually have canceled all St. Patrick's Day Parades and all sporting events, too, that were to be held today as well as the All-Ireland Clubs (Soccer) Finals, Marie Leonard of the Ireland consulate in Chicago told the Reporter-Telegram.

While the disease is "not in the Republic of Ireland," it has been identified in Northern Ireland, she said.

"But they don't want to get all those crowds together. They just want to prevent it (in Ireland)," she said, since the virus can be carried by people.

"So, they (officials) are hopeful that it is not going to come" to Ireland. "A lot of different events are canceled, and a lot of the tourist attractions are closed" today. "They don't want to have mass quantities of people in one area because people can carry it."

But the day's celebrations go on but not in all places.

Kathy Hargreaves, daytime barkeeper at Riley's Bar & Grill in Midland, said, "We can green it (the beer) up" with food coloring. "We are not having a (St. Patrick's Day) bash."

At the Wall Street Bar & Grill, manager Lisa Johnson said the bar-restaurant is not throwing a St. Patrick's Day celebration.

"Not really," she said. "We really should. But we just don't have a bunch of people partying here anymore. There is no beer tap there for green beer, said Ms. Johnson, who has a touch of Irish.

"I look it. I've got the freckles — lots of angel kisses," Ms. Johnson said. "But I'll be wearing green (today). I don't want to be punched."

Norma Rowland, who is more English than Irish, is coordinating a St. Patrick's Day Social at the Midland County Democratic Party headquarters tonight. The social will feature green punch and corned beef-and-cabbage but "no party politics," she said.

"In fact, some of my best friends are Republicans, and I've even invited them," Mrs. Rowland said.

OBITUARIES

Richard J. Reed Jr.

Richard "Dick" Reed died on March 6, 2001 at Baylor Medical in Dallas, Texas after fighting a lengthy battle with cancer. He is survived by his wife, Barbara, his sister Nancy Bradley, his brother Scheeren, and a daughter Heather.

Dick was born January 1, 1945 to Mable and Richard Reed in Huntington, West Virginia and raised in Wheeling, West Virginia. He served two tours in Viet Nam with the Air Force. He later attended West Liberty State University and received a Bachelor of Science degree in Management. He moved to Midland, Texas in the late 70s and worked for several oil companies. He started his own manufacturing business, R. J. Reed & Associates, in 1990. Dick's many passions were reading, flying airplanes, camping, cooking and music.

A memorial service to celebrate his life will be held on March 17, 2001 at 11:00 a.m. at the Unitarian Universalist Church of Midland. In lieu of flowers please make a donation to the Allison Cancer Center 301 North "N" Street, Midland, Texas 79701.

Leon Snelson

Services for Leon Thurman Snelson have been scheduled for 2:00 p.m., Saturday, March 17, 2001, at Second Baptist Church with the Reverend Robert Kepple of Ranchland Heights Baptist Church officiating and the Reverend H. W. Erwin Jr., of Second Baptist Church, assisting. Burial will follow at Resthaven Memorial Park. Arrangements are under he direction of Pipkin Funeral Home and Chapel.

"Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord from now on." "Yes," says the Spirit, "that they may rest from their labors, and their works follow them." (Rev. 14:13)

Leon Snelson was born June 22, 1927 in Newcastle, Oklahoma to James W. and Lois Snelson. He moved with his family to Texas at an early age. Growing up on the farm and later working in the oil patch of West Texas, he learned the meaning of hard work and dedication to work done well. He later passed this on to his own family.

He served in the U.S. Army during World War II. Shortly after being discharged he was "doodlebugging" in Big Lake, Texas where he met Bonnie Pace, who waited on him at the local bank. They were married in Big Lake on May 29, 1948. Their marriage has been a model of fidelity and devotion, not only to each other, but to the purpose, which God designed for their lives as partners in ministry in and through the church. God blessed them with six sons.

On the basis of God's amazing grace and prayers of godly mother, Leon's life was marvelously changed in 1951. He was working as a roughneck on a drilling rig outside of Crane, Texas and one evening he walked off the rig floor into the doghouse. There he knelt on his knees and met his Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. This started the beginning of a life dedicated to Jesus for which he remained faithful until March 13, 2001, when the Lord saw fit to call Leon home to live eternally with Him.

Believing God had called him to preach, Leon surrendered to that ministry in 1956. He served with pioneer Southern Baptist Missions in New Mexico, Colorado, and California. He also had several pastorates in Texas. He had a burning passion to see people born again into the Kingdom of God. He owned and operated Snelson's Pumping Unit Service from 1980-1986.

One son, Terry, his mother and father, a brother, Paul, and five sisters, Elsie, Evie, Effie, Emily and Marie preceded him in death.

He is survived by his wife, Bonnie of Midland; five sons, Mike and his wife, Beverly, of Odessa, Denny and his wife, Mona, Tim and his wife, Sherry, and Steve, all of Midland, and Mark and his wife, Treva, of Lorena. He is also survived by thirteen grandchildren; three great-grandchildren; one sister, Billie Faglie and her husband, Raymond of Snohamish, Washington, and one brother, Leo Snelson and his wife, Mary Jim, of Junction.

Leon touched many lives and he will be missed greatly by everyone.

In lieu of flowers, the family request that memorials be sent to Faith, Hope and Love International, 102 E. Lyon Street, Laredo, Texas, 78040 and/or Jubilee Ministry, P.O. Box 1280, Rapid City, S.D. 57709.

Shirley Jane Ratz

Shirley Jane Ratz passed away on Wednesday, March 14, 2001 after a courageous and lengthy battle with cancer.

Funeral services were scheduled for 2:00 p.m., Friday, March 16, 2001, at St. Stephen's Catholic Church with Father James Bridges officiating. Arrangements are under the direction of Ellis Funeral Home.

She was born Shirley Jane Ruble on December 9, 1919, in Kansas City, Missouri to Dr. Mirl C. and Gretchen B. Ruble. She was raised in Parsons, Kansas and graduated from Parsons High School in 1937. She graduated from Kansas University in 1941 with a BA Degree in drama and went on to attend Columbia School of Drama and Radio. She later sang with a U.S.O. band during WWII.

She married Joseph H. Wythe on February 21, 1942, in Dayton, Ohio. Together they had 6 children which they raised in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma and Kansas City, Kansas. She was active in numerous civic organizations, including Daughters of the American Revolution, Gamma Phi Beta, Poets Society and Jazz Club. In 1982, she moved to Sarasota, Florida, where she resided for 11 years before moving to Midland in 1993.

Shirley was preceded in death by her son, Richard Anthony Wythe and her second husband, William R. Ratz.

She is survived by her sons, Joseph W. Wythe and his wife, Alicia of Rio, Brazil; Mirl W. Wythe and his wife, Diana of Grand Junction, Colorado; her daughters, Cree Ann Henderson and her husband, Chuck, of Longview, Washington, Shirlee W. Locker of Midland, Texas, and Sue Locker and her husband, Gus, of Coppell, Texas; her sister, Roseann Rogers of Racine, Wisconsin; and ten grandchildren.

She traveled extensively, embracing life with enthusiasm and a selfless spirit of giving. Her optimism and her smile will always be remembered by all who knew and loved her.

Memorial contributions may be directed to Hospice of Midland, P.O. Box 2621, Midland, Tx. 79702 or St. Joseph School for Indians, Chamberlain, SD 57326.

DEATH NOTICES

Clayton Smith

Clayton Arvle Smith, 84, died Wednesday, March 14, in Midland.

Graveside services will be 1 p.m., today, March 17, at Highland Cemetery in Durant, Okla., with the Rev. Darel Bunch officiating.

He was born March 13, 1917 in Lane, Okla., and he had attended both Atoka and Lane, Oklahoma schools. He retired in 1984 from Southeastern State College after working for 22 years in the Maintenance department. He married Monta Nora Claborn November 29, 1968 in Durant, Oklahoma.

He was preceded in death by his wife, Monta Nora Smith in 1997; his parents, Fred and Mary Goodson Smith; a son, Jerry Wayne Smith; three brothers; and two sisters.

Survivors include a son, Clayton Lynn Smith of Midland; step-daughters, Helen Emmert of Joshua and Billie Ruth Clegg of Fort Worth; and numerous grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Gas bills declining, but many still seeking help

By Luis Garcia
Staff Writer

Gas prices are coming down and the weather is getting warmer, but some Midland families, remembering the shock of this winter's costly bills, still dread the arrival of the Energas envelopes in their mailbox.

For many families hit hard by the natural gas prices, financial difficulties add up quickly. When the gas bill goes up, the electricity and grocery bills get harder to pay, too.

"When I got that gas bill, I cried," said Juanita McGee, a single mother with three young children. A mix of backlogged payments, colder weather and higher gas costs catapulted her gas bill from $176.07 one month to $842.39 the next.

"For people that skipped a payment, or only made partial payments, the situation steamrolled, and it really got out of hand," said Bryan Pinson, First Baptist Church's associate minister of missions.

"I didn't know what to do. I just wanted some help paying part of the bill," Ms. McGee said.

Getting help to make ends meet can be an ordeal. Staff and volunteers at the local aid agencies continue to assist those in need to meet their financial burdens. However, the people working at the aid agencies have not seen a dramatic slowdown in people looking for help.

At the aid agencies, lower gas prices do not mean fewer people in need.

"We expect things to stay like this (very busy) though March and April," said Syndi Daughtrey, Helping Hands director. She said there has been little change in the number of people she is seeing, despite the declining prices.

There are still lines of people, albeit shorter than a few months ago, waiting to be helped. Some agencies are booked for appointments anywhere from one to five weeks ahead. Some agencies have even run out of money.

West Texas Opportunities, one the few agencies that can pay entire gas bills, was out of money for three weeks after spending all of its allocation for Midland County.

"We've helped 181 clients with $55,000 since Jan. 29," said the group's local supervisor Patrick Street.

It was not until Tuesday that the WTO received a new $60,000 allocation for the energy assistance program. "Hopefully, we can start making appointments again," Street added.

Overall, people seem to have accepted the gas situation, and are just working to move on, according to community volunteers.

"People are less panicked," said Maria Rodriguez, a caseworker at the Salvation Army.

"They know that there is a support system to help them," added Ms. Daughtrey.

In order to meet the needs of the community, the local aid agencies have pulled together and cooperated to help individuals in need.

"We're all going toward the same goal: to help the people who need the help," said Pilar Revilla, St. Andrews Presbyterian Mission executive director.

With things warming up, the local aid agencies are bracing for their next challenge. As temperatures soar, so will electricity bills.

"People need help all the time," one St. Andrews volunteer said. "not just when it's cold."

GAS: Midlanders may get relief this summer at pumps

(From 1A)

ling.

The decreases are only gradual. The bottom is not dropping out of the gasoline market, and the gasoline bill still takes a bite out of a person's budget.

Ruiz, who drives constantly between cities in the Permian Basin in an F150 Ford truck, fills up often. "It's a V10, and it has air conditioning, so it guzzles up the gas.

"If they (the gas prices) get to 1.29 a gallon, that will be OK," he added.

The current national average of 1.412 a gallon is about 11 cents less than a year ago. Multiplied by the thousands of gallons of gasoline some drivers use during the course of a year, the savings can add up.

The price, while still high for some people's taste, is much less than last year. In June, the average price of regular unleaded reached 1.681 a gallon.

At least for Midlanders, there is a silver lining to the gasoline price cloud. In Midland, gasoline prices are a little lower than the national average. A casual survey of the city's gas stations put the price of standard unleaded gasoline at a little under $1.40 per gallon.

"Gas prices aren't bad. They're OK, but I don't want to see them get any higher," Stacy Powers said, who was filling up her Honda on Friday afternoon.

"They get better gas mileage."

The vast majority of stations, especially large national chains, are selling gas at $1.399. Occasionally, a gallon will sell for 1.379. There was one gas station, which, oddly enough, refused to comment, that was selling unleaded gas at 1.359.

"I wouldn't mind the higher gas prices if the some of the oilmen around here got a cut of it, but they really don't." said Michelle Chappell, who was filling up her Chevy Silverado on Friday.

"The gas prices are better than what they were last summer. And since this summer is coming up, the lower gas prices make it more affordable to go on trips and all," she said.

Even with lower prices, the commuters in the Permian Basin find living in one city and working in an other is an expensive affair.

"I live here in Midland, but work in Odessa," Tom Hudgins said, while filling up at the pump Tuesday afternoon.

"And 20 dollars just doesn't fill my gas tank anymore."

Instead of filling up the tank of his eight cylinder Chevy El Camino, Hudgins just "puts in $20 every 3 or 4 days, so it adds up, and it eats up that paycheck.

"I just want the price to go down to 1.17 again," Hudgins added.

U.S. Army will stick to beret switch, may postpone start

By Robert Burns
Associated Press

WASHINGTON — No retreat. The Army says it will not back off from its decision to make black berets the standard headgear for soldiers, though it might postpone the June target date.

The timing concerns a fuss over buying berets from China.

When he announced last October that all soldiers except paratroopers and Special Forces soldiers would wear black berets — traditionally the exclusive headgear of the elite Rangers — Army chief of staff Gen. Eric Shinseki said the change would take effect on the Army's birthday, June 14.

That set a deadline, however, for acquiring 2.6 million berets that the Defense Logistics Agency said it could meet only by contracting with foreign manufacturers. When word got out that China was among those suppliers it created a problem on Capitol Hill.

At a joint Pentagon news conference on Friday, Shinseki and Deputy Defense Secretary Paul Wolfowitz left open the possibility that the date could be moved if deemed appropriate to give the business to U.S. hat makers. They did not say how much delay might be necessary.

Wolfowitz said the entire matter is under review.

In a letter sent Friday to President Bush, 75 House members said the June 14 deadline does not give American manufacturers enough time to fill the Army's order.

"This seemingly arbitrary deadline for the new berets will cause U.S. firms to lose millions of dollars," the letter said, noting that a federal law known as the Berry Amendment requires the Pentagon to buy only American-made clothing. The Pentagon got a waiver of that requirement for the beret order.

In the meantime, the Army settled one source of controversy — the fact that Rangers objected to Shinseki taking away their exclusive right to wear the black beret. The Rangers see it as a badge of honor that would be cheapened by making it a standard for the entire Army.

Shinseki said he had accepted a Ranger offer to switch from black to tan berets — enabling them to keep an exclusive color. In any event, he said his original decision to put the rest of the Army in black berets will not be changed.

"The Army is going to change," he said. "Change, as all of us know, is difficult."

Col. P.K. Keen, commander of the 75th Ranger Regiment at Fort Benning, Ga., announced Thursday that the Rangers support Shinseki's decision as "another step forward" in transforming the Army.

"The Ranger tan beret will represent for the Ranger of the 21st century what the black beret represented — a unit that leads the way in our conventional and special operations forces," Keen said.

The change doesn't sit well with some veterans, however. David Nielsen, a former Ranger who walked 700 miles from Fort Benning to Washington to protest the beret issue, said in an interview Friday that he is deeply disappointed that the Rangers will no longer have their exclusive black berets.

"It's a shame," he said, adding that he believed Keen "did what he thought was the right thing."

"Fifty years of Ranger tradition is gone," Nielsen said.

For years, the black beret has been the exclusive headgear of the Rangers, a small force with a glory-covered history. Currently, only three Army units are authorized to wear berets: Airborne units wear maroon berets, Special Forces wear green (and are known famously as the Green Berets) and Rangers wear black. The airborne units and the Green Berets will keep their exclusive colors.

The Rangers were the first soldiers to scale the cliffs at Normandy's Omaha Beach on D-Day. They parachuted into Panama in 1989 and went to Somalia in 1992-93. During that mission, 18 Americans — including six Rangers — were killed in a failed attempt to capture a Somali warlord.

Under Shinseki's order, all soldiers — other than those authorized to wear green, maroon or tan berets — will wear the black berets with dress or casual uniforms, or with combat fatigues while on base. In the field, they will continue to wear the baseball-style cap or Kevlar helmet.

The beret will replace the current fold-up "overseas" cap, the saucer-like "service" cap and the baseball-style cap.

Millions of gallons of sewage spills into Miami's Biscayne Bay

MIAMI (AP) — Raw sewage spewed 4 feet into the air and swimming was banned after a tugboat ruptured a pipe and unleashed millions of gallons of waste into Biscayne Bay.

The 72-inch sewage pipe buried beneath the bay was hit Thursday evening by a tug pushing a barge from the Intracoastal Waterway to the Port of Miami, the Coast Guard said.

Eleven to 12 million gallons of untreated sewage spilled out over the next four hours, at times spewing 4 feet high out of the bay, officials said.

The pipe, which carried sewage and storm runoff from central Miami-Dade County to a waste treatment plant on the bay island of Virginia Key, was shut off late Thursday and diverted to a backup pipe, said Miami-Dade sewer department spokeswoman Adriana Lamar.

She said divers planned Friday to assess the damage and begin repairing the leak.

Bathing was banned from the Julia Tuttle Causeway, which links Miami Beach to the mainland, south through Biscayne Bay because of possible contamination.

Further north, Miami Beach remained open, although the smell carried as far as South Beach.

Health officials hoped to have all beaches open by Sunday.

Last year, a sewage pipe was crushed as a pier was being installed on South Beach, spewing 25 million gallons of waste into the ocean.

Fighting rocks outskirts of Macedonia's second-largest city

By Brian Murphy
Associated Press

SHIPKOVICA, Macedonia — The army mounted a heavy artillery attack Friday to push ethnic Albanian rebels northward, but the scene in this hill town above Macedonia's second-largest city reflected a rebel force ready to stay put and step up their fight.

The sound of detonations from government artillery pieces were ignored by armed lookouts lurking in the woods. Weapons were loaded and ready in nearly every home. Ethnic Albanian insurgents, with pistols peeking out from camouflage uniforms, confidently strode along the only paved road.

Police late Friday claimed a "successful offensive" pushed the rebels back from Tetovo. But the hills southwest of Tetovo remained in rebel control. The message to the Slav-led government is clear; the uprising has deep local roots and the support of many who say they are ready to expand the fight for greater rights.

The rebels, whose insurgency started a month ago in a village on the border with Kosovo, appeared determined to expand their struggle from that sparsely inhabited area to Macedonia's principal cities.

Ethnic Albanians account for at least a quarter of Macedonia's 2 million people, dominating western regions of the country and a large section of the capital.

The unrest is linked both to Kosovo, a province in southern Serbia administered by the United Nations and NATO-led peacekeepers, and a buffer zone adjoining it, where Yugoslav troops deployed Wednesday. Rebels and arms have been moving relatively freely from one area to the other, and the militants share aspirations for ethnic Albanian self-determination — if not outright independence.

But fighters in Shipkovica and nearby villages contradicted the claim by Macedonian authorities that the rebellion is being directed by ethnic Albanians in Kosovo. The scene in those communities also showed some level of rebel organization developing in areas that have slipped from government hands.

AP Photo

Ethnic Albanians pray in a mosque during the traditional Friday prayers, in Tetovo, Macedonia Friday. Friday marked the third day of fighting between Macedonian forces and Albanian extremists on the outskirts of Tetovo.

The government asserts that Macedonia is a model for ethnic coexistence and minority rights in the Balkans, and many urban ethnic Albanians say that — while changes are needed — they must be accomplished peacefully.

But villagers expressed unqualified support for challenging a system they say places ethnic Albanians on a second-class level.

"If we have to fight for our rights, it's a just cause," said teacher Fatmir Seremi, who monitors a checkpoint for the rebels outside Shipkovica. "There's no other way. The government and police are forcing us to fight."

Some rebels say they took part in the Kosovo Liberation Army's battle with Yugoslav forces in Kosovo. But they insist their latest struggle is homegrown, and that they only inherited some weapons and other equipment from the KLA.

They claim ethnic Albanians face discrimination on many levels, from police harassment to problems getting bank loans and building permits. They also express deep disappointment with the Democratic Albanian Party, a partner in the government of Prime Minister Ljubco Georgievski.

The discontent could be a prelude for a power struggle between the militia forces and party leader Arben Xhafari, who has appealed for an end to the armed resistance.

"We have been humiliated too long," said 46-year-old villager Jakup Halili. "If the only way to change the situation is through violence, then that's what we must do."

To the northeast of Shipkovica, mortar rounds stuck the center of Tetovo for the first time Friday. At least two shells hit close to the nearly deserted main square of the country's second-largest city. It was unclear who fired the rounds.

No one was injured from those blasts. But hospital officials said five civilians were wounded in the overall fighting, one seriously.

Trying to get at the rebels, Macedonian forces pounded strategic slopes on the northern and western outskirts of Tetovo. Trees and brush ignited by the bombardment sent clouds of smoke that obscured large stretches of the hillside and the Ottoman fort, known as Kalaga, where authorities believe rebels have used underground passages for protection.

Ethnic Albanian insurgents using handguns shot at a German army barracks in Macedonia on Friday. The Germans did not return fire, and a German soldier was slightly injured by flying glass. It was unclear why the rebels fired at the barracks. The Germans are in Macedonia as part of the NATO peace force for Kosovo.

The bombardment in hills continued through the afternoon, drowning out the calls of Tetovo mosques for Friday prayers. Macedonian special forces set up positions fortified with sandbags and protected by armored personnel carriers. Militiamen responded with automatic gunfire.

People fled the area — and the country. Albania's interior ministry said more than 250 ethnic Albanians from the Tetovo region crossed into Albania on Friday.

"We have to leave," cried Ibrahim Mirtzan, who had loaded his two children onto a tractor heading to Tetovo from the village of Gajre. "We are caught in the cross fire."

Irish, foreign guests face a parade-free St. Patrick's Day

By Shawn Pogatcnik
Associated Press

AP Photo
A biker coming from France passes the disinfecting barrier on the border road, in Iffezheim, southwestern Germany, Friday. In order to prevent the spreading of the foot-and-mouth disease, every car or truck is being disinfected.

DUBLIN, Ireland — To the disbelief of Dubliners and their foreign guests, fears of foot-and-mouth disease have driven St. Patrick's Day out of Ireland.

"We're in disaster-recovery mode," said John Cox, a tour operator coordinating visits this week by marching bands from Colorado to Delaware.

All had hoped to march Saturday before an audience exceeding 1 million, but now must make do with private performances for traveling friends and family — just one casualty in Ireland's wider war to bar the livestock disease.

Although the government announced Friday that some small-scale sports events could resume next weekend after a more than three-week ban, the efforts to minimize large gatherings of people — particularly those traveling from Britain or rural areas — means Dublin and other Irish towns will have no official St. Patrick's Day festivities.

"At the moment I've got 18 tons of fireworks under my bed," said Dominic Campbell, artistic director for Dublin's planned four-day St. Patrick's Festival, whose frustrated organizers and sponsors hope may be staged later this year.

"I don't know if we'll still be able to call it St. Patrick's Day. But at least the weather will be better then," he said.

Event organizers said their records were incomplete and didn't know for sure when the festivities were last canceled, saying they believe it was called off or postponed in 1926 or 1927 because of bad weather.

So far, the Republic of Ireland hasn't had a confirmed case of foot-and-mouth disease, which doesn't harm humans but could devastate the country's livestock industry. Restrictions began after one case was confirmed March 1 in neighboring Northern Ireland — long after visiting U.S. bands had booked nonrefundable flights.

"The chance to march in St. Patrick's Day in Dublin was the main billing for the trip, but this is still a wonderful opportunity and the kids' morale is staying high," said Joey Lucita, assistant band director for the Rebels of Jack C. Hays High School in Buda, Texas.

More than 200 Rebels and their sponsors had to raise $1,700 each, an effort that for some students began in the sixth grade.

They toured a gray, wet Dublin on Friday after swinging through Ireland's southwest, where highlights included a medieval-style feast at a castle and wandering along the breathtaking Cliffs of Moher. Later Friday, the Hays concert band was playing with other U.S. high school musicians inside Dublin's St. Patrick's Cathedral to a small audience.

"Our schedule hasn't had to change too much," Lucita said. "We've had to make some concessions, like the tower at the cliffs was closed because of the foot-and-mouth precautions."

Cox, who has coordinated visits to Ireland by U.S. bands for 11 years, has been scrambling to organize activities for Saturday — a reception at the mayor's residence and a disco involving several schools.

But he couldn't disguise his frustration with the foot-and-mouth restrictions and their impact on the visitors, who include members of the Georgia Tech marching band, the firefighters of Citizens Hose Company in Smyrna, Del., and band members from Greeley High School in Greeley, Colo., and Chaparral High School outside Denver.

He can gather his 1,200 visiting Americans at Dublin's main horse track — which has been shut down all month — for a joint performance Saturday that they're calling Bandfest. But local residents won't be allowed to attend.

"It is a bit mad, really," he said. "You're free to walk day and night on the (sidewalks) of O'Connell Street, but you can't march up the middle of it for a parade."

Other bands are staging a closed-door concert Sunday at a rural southwest Irish castle hotel run by an American, Tom O'Kane. He offered the venue after the area's parade in Limerick was canceled, and nearly had to reverse his hospitable act after local farmers protested.

Other rural luxury hotels used to strong business around St. Patrick's Day have struggled to entice tourists to areas where, officially, they aren't advised to go.

"Sinful or saintly, drown the shamrock in four-star deluxe style," reads an ad for the Ormonde Hotel in Kilkenny, where Saturday's parade has been canceled.

But hotel director Patrick Curran says the Irish will have no trouble making their own fun Saturday.

"The Irish have a way of generating a good feeling even when things are down," he said, adding: "That's what the pubs are for anyway."

Mexico strives to deal with first presidential veto since 1923

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexico's congress struggled Friday to come to grips with the first presidential veto of legislation since 1923, with more anger and betrayal than any real campaigning to override President Vicente Fox.

Thursday's veto of a rural development bill marked the latest stage of the struggle to create a real division of powers in Mexico, where the three branches of government were largely subordinated to the presidency during the former ruling party's seven decades in power.

"We are finally experiencing a real division of powers, and for the first time we will get to see how the Constitution works in these cases," said congressman Felipe Calderon, a member of Fox's conservative National Action Party.

Fidel Herrera, a senator for the former ruling party, one of the bill's sponsors, told local media that one option would be to try for a two-thirds majority to override the veto.

Amalia Garcia, national leader of the leftist Democratic Revolution Party — which also supported the bill — said "I am confident the law will be put to a vote again, will gain the support of a broad section of congress, and will be made law."

However, most observers say National Action's strength in congress would make it almost impossible to get the majority needed to override the veto.

The bill — passed in a December congressional vote — would have sought funds to support the nation's farms, and designated rural regions for special help.

Saudi commandos storm hijacked aircraft, killing three

By Adnan Malik
Associated Press

MEDINA, Saudi Arabia — Saudi commandos rushed up ladders and broke through the windows and doors of a Russian plane Friday, freeing more than 100 hostages and ending a hijacking by Chechen rebels. Three people — a flight attendant, a hijacker and a passenger — were killed.

The commandos pushed two other hijackers face down onto the tarmac and handcuffed them as the hostages streamed past them to safety after 22 hours in captivity. Witnesses said there were three hijackers in all and that they brandished knives and claimed to have a bomb.

Necati Ates, a Turkish passenger, told Turkey's NTV television he watched the Saudi forces put a ladder against the plane, adding: "I saw them through the window and they signaled to me to keep quiet."

Several people were injured in the rescue, which came after the hijackers threatened to blow up the plane, the Saudi Interior Ministry said.

The Chechens seized the Moscow-bound aircraft on Thursday after it took off from Istanbul, Turkey, and diverted it to the holy Saudi city of Medina.

Paramedics said the hijackers stabbed and shot to death the female flight attendant during the commando raid and that the hijacker and passenger — both men — were killed by gunfire. The Russian Interfax news agency identified the flight attendant as Yulia Fomina, 27. Turkey's Anatolia news agency said the dead passenger was a 27-year-old Turk, Gursel Kambal.

A Chechen representative in Jordan told The Associated Press that two brothers hijacked the plane, one of whom was a former Chechen security minister. She said their demands included a halt to the Russian "genocide" in the breakaway Russian republic.

Chechen separatists' violent campaign often has spilled over the republic's borders in hijackings and raids, with Turkey a frequent site. In November, a Chechen gunman seized a Russian airliner with 58 people aboard and diverted it to Israel, where he surrendered.

Footage of Friday's rescue operation showed more than a dozen commandos surrounding the plane as others ran up the ladders, breaking through the windows and doors. Passengers ran down the staircase as gun-wielding commandos in bullet-proof vests shouted for them to hurry.

'It (the hijacking) is a humanitarian issue. Their demands include halting the genocide in Chechnya and sitting at the negotiating table with (Chechen) President (Aslan) Maskhadov to find a peaceful solution to the conflict.'

— Aftayeva Fariza, Chechen representative in Jordan

The former hostages were taken to a hotel. Saudi intelligence agents prevented journalists from approaching them but some were contacted by telephone.

Hours before the raid, as many as 46 people were freed or escaped from the Vnukova Airlines plane. When it left Turkey, the flight carried 162 passengers and 12 crew members.

"They said they had a bomb, but no one saw it. No one knew what they wanted," hostage Monika Turkan told Russia's ORT government television.

Other freed hostages recalled suffocation, thirst and fear as conditions on the plane grew increasingly oppressive.

"There wasn't enough oxygen, there wasn't enough water, women and children were crying," co-pilot Sergei Vorobyov said by phone in an interview with Russia's ORT government television.

The Saudis said they decided to storm the plane, in consultation with the Russian government, after reaching "a dead end" in negotiations.

"The goal of the storming operation was to save the lives of the passengers and the crew with the least number of casualties possible, and it concluded in record time after the hijackers threatened to blow up the plane," the Saudi Interior Ministry statement said.

Saudi Interior Minister Prince Nayef said the hijackers were given a deadline to surrender but they insisted on refueling and taking off. Saudi officials said the hijackers had asked to fly to Afghanistan.

The hijackers were trying to call attention to what they considered atrocities committed by Russia in Chechnya, according to Aftayeva Fariza, the Chechen representative in Jordan.

"It is a humanitarian issue. Their demands include halting the genocide in Chechnya and sitting at the negotiating table with (Chechen) President (Aslan) Maskhadov to find a peaceful solution to the conflict," Fariza said.

She identified the hijackers as Aslambek Arsayev, the former Chechen security minister, and his brother, Sufian. She said the information came from a third brother, who was not among the hijackers.

On television news late Friday, government spokesman Sergei Yastrzhembsky referred to three hijackers, tentatively identifying two of them as Sufian Arsayev and Eriskhan Arsayev.

Russian President Vladimir Putin expressed condolences to the families of the dead passenger and flight attendant. He said the tragedy "reminded all of us, both Russian and foreign public opinion, with whom the Russian army is dealing in its counter-terrorist operation" in Chechnya.

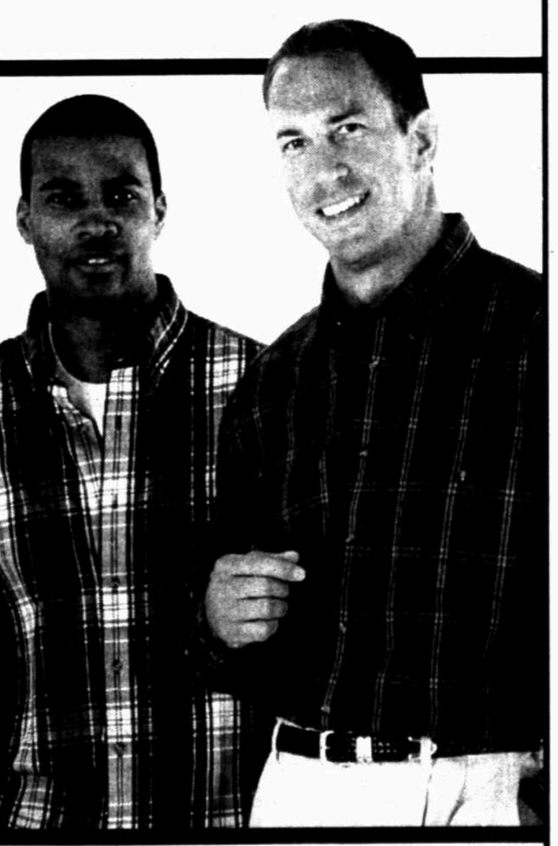

Vladimir Pronichev, first deputy director of Russia's Federal Security Service, told Russian television that negotiations to extradite the hijackers were under way.

Breaking even: Chap baseball splits with tough El Paso team

By Lee Passmore
Sports Writer

The day was about as break-even a proposition as possible for the Midland College baseball team Friday afternoon at Christensen Stadium.

Midland College gave up exactly as many runs as it scored against El Paso Community College in splitting a Western Junior College Athletic Conference doubleheader in which both teams scored 10 runs. The Chaps won a pitching duel in the first game, a 4-0 victory which was completed in under 90 minutes. It was a different story in the second game, which El Paso won 10-6, pecking the Chaps to death with 19 singles and no extra base hits.

If nothing else, the split serves as a statement that despite a 2-8 mark in the WJCAC, the Chaps (15-12 overall) might not be that far away from achieving equal footing with El Paso, which is 7-3 in the WJCAC and a game out of first.

"Realistically with how our season schedule was made up for conference we had one of the toughest draws," said MC coach Steve Ramharter. "I look across the field and see El Paso and see we're very similar teams."

It certainly appeared that way in the opener, in which offense was at a premium. Fortunately for the Chaps, righthander Matt Overman gave up next to nothing.

Overman was almost untouchable to El Paso, giving up only four hits and striking out 10 while walking none. The closest El Paso came to threatening Overman was in the top of the fifth when Joshua Simpson lined a two-out double to right field.

"All day I was working ahead and feeling good," said Overman, who struck out the side to end the game. "All my pitches were working today. That's my No. 1 goal, to work ahead in the count."

Overman needed to be at his best because El Paso's Javier Lopez was almost as stingy. Lopez gave up only one earned run, that coming in the first inning after Chad Christy and Josh Haney got back-to-back singles. Braden Conner drove in a run on a ground ball and Tyler Ward drove in a run with a single to left to make it 2-

Chaney's Owls eliminate Texas

By Mary Foster
AP Sports Writer

NEW ORLEANS — John Chaney is tough to please.

Temple upset Texas 79-65 in the first round of the NCAA South Regional on Friday, playing short-handed and holding the Longhorns to 39 percent shooting.

The Temple coach, however, wants more.

"To me, this isn't as good of a defensive team as we've had in the past," Chaney said. "At one point, we began to play an attack-like type of defense, but we couldn't stay with it very long because they started to penetrate against us. But when we shoot the ball well, like we did today, it cures a lot of ills."

Quincy Wadley got hot early and the Temple's defense played well enough to send the Owls into the second round for the second straight year.

Wadley scored 23 points — 20 in the first half, when he made 4-for-5 from 3-point range — to carry the 11th-seeded Owls.

"We established the way the game was going to be played early," Wadley said. "We forced our style of play on them."

The sixth-seeded Longhorns, who won their final six regular-season games, made only 6 of 21 3-pointers and 7 of 12 free throws.

"They played well, they played hard and they limited us to one shot," Texas' Chris Owens said. "Basically, they were good and we weren't aggressive enough."

The victory came after one of Chaney's toughest seasons. He kicked two players off the team, watched injuries shrink his roster to eight scholarship players and had the longest losing streak in his career — seven.

Until Temple rebounded from its midseason problems and won the Atlantic 10 tournament, it appeared the Owls would miss the NCAA tournament for the first time in 12 years, only the second time in 19.

Temple used only seven players to 10 for Texas.

When Texas shut down Wadley in the second half, Lynn Greer stepped up, scoring 17 of his 19 points. Greer made 10 of 10 from the foul line and had six assists. David Hawkins added 15 points and nine rebounds for the Owls and Alex Wesby had 12 points.

Tech, Knight get down to business

By Michelle Koidin
Associated Press Writer

LUBBOCK — Formal discussions began Friday to make Bob Knight the new coach at Texas Tech.

The longtime Indiana coach, fired six months ago for violating behavior policy, met with Tech's president, chancellor and four regents.

Taking a break from the talks, Tech president David Schmidly said he planned to meet next week with faculty members who have signed a petition against Knight. The petition cited several highly publicized outbursts during Knight's 29 years with the Hoosiers.

"They have a right to do it. Freedom of speech is a fundamental right at any university," Schmidly said. "I don't have a problem with it."

Knight did not speak to reporters Friday, but he said Thursday that the job appealed to him "tremendously."

On Friday night, he was among the thunderous crowd in Tech's 1 1/2-year-old $68 million arena as the No. 13 Lady Raiders played Penn in the NCAA tournament. Knight sat beside his old friend, Tech athletic director Gerald Myers, in a box overlooking the court.

A biology professor who is a member of Tech's Athletic Council said the 71 faculty members who endorsed the anti-Knight petition are not representative of the more than 900 faculty members at the school.

"I think any university has a number of people that meet almost any action with a negative attitude," said Robert J. Baker, one of 11 members of the Athletic Council that met with Knight and will make a recommendation to the president. The council is made up of six facul-

Lady Raiders drub Pennsylvania

■ With Bobby Knight in attendance, Tech's women blow out Pennsylvania in the first round of the Mideast region.

LUBBOCK — Plenette Pierson scored 19 points, and two reserve freshmen added 14 each as Texas Tech beat Pennsylvania 100-57 Friday night in the first round of the Mideast Regional.

Bob Knight, in town for meetings with Tech officials about its men's coaching vacancy, watched from the athletic director's box.

The Lady Raiders held all Penn scorers but two below six points to spoil the Quakers' first NCAA appearance and snap their NCAA-best 21-game winning streak.

Texas Tech (23-6) scored 100 points for the first time this year and earned its seventh straight first-round win. The Lady Raiders will play Virginia Tech, which beat Denver 77-57, in the second round Sunday.

Freshmen reserves Natalie Ritchie and Jolee Ayers each had 14 points for the Raiders.

Tech held Penn (22-5) to 37.5 percent shooting from the field and limited Diana Caramanico — one of the nation's top shooters — to 15 points, down from her 21.5 average.

Jennifer Jones led the Ivy League champions with 19 points.

Sorenstam fires LPGA record 59

By Mel Reisner
AP Sports Writer

PHOENIX — The final putt was 6 inches, only it looked a lot longer to Annika Sorenstam because of what was at stake — golf's magic number and a major breakthrough for women's golf.

Sorenstam tapped it in for a 59 and rushed into the arms of her caddie as several LPGA Tour players gathered around the ninth green at Moon Valley Country Club to celebrate history Friday in the Arizona desert.

With birdies on 12 of her first 13 holes and a routine par at the end, Sorenstam became the first woman to break 60 in official competition.

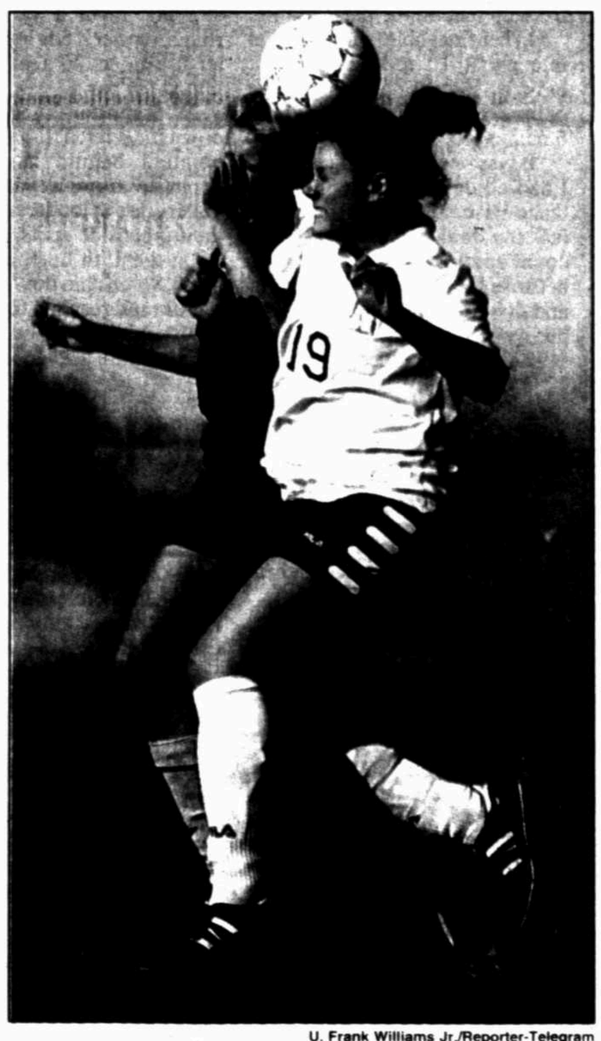

"I'm overwhelmed," Sorenstam said. "I can't believe what I just did."

She broke the LPGA scoring record of 61 by two strokes, and broke into territory previously held only by the men.

Meet Mrs. 59.

"I think it shows we can play," Sorenstam said. "There's some good scoring out there and I wish people can see that. They might say we're not playing at 7,000 yards, but you

Lady Bulldogs earn 2nd seed

By Jay Peden
Sports Writer

In the big scheme of things, Friday's District 4-5A soccer playoff game between Midland High and Abilene High didn't mean all that much. Both teams were already in the state playoffs, and the game between the teams which tied for second wasn't technically for second place, just for seeding purposes.

But the girls from Midland High didn't treat it that way. The Lady Bulldogs protected their home turf with a 2-0 win, earning the district's No. 2 spot in the state playoffs, which begin next week.

"We always want to win," MHS senior Catherine Wade said. "These girls will go out and play hard whether they have nothing to lose or everything in the world to lose."

To start the state playoffs, MHS (15-6) will play Lubbock High (12-4), which ended up with the third spot in District 3-5A. Coincidentally, Lubbock High beat MHS in bi-district the last time MHS made the playoffs, in 1998. The 2001 meeting will be played Monday or Tuesday — probably Tuesday — but the time, day and site won't be set until as late as Sunday.

Abilene High (15-7) will play Amarillo High (16-5), 3-5A's No. 2 team, in the first round.

The game was a reverse of both teams fortunes over the final week of the regular season. AHS finished district play

Annika Sorenstam stands next to a scoreboard displaying her record round at the second round of the LPGA Standard Register Ping tournament Friday. Sorenstam became the first woman to shoot a 59 in an LPGA tournament, breaking the previous record by two strokes.

still have to get the ball in the hole. And I think the girls out here, we do a good job of that."

No one on the LPGA Tour has ever done it better.

The previous mark was a 61 held by Sorenstam, Karrie Webb and Se Ri Pak.

The 30-year-old Swede also set an LPGA Tour record for 36 holes with a 20-under 124, breaking by three strokes the record set by Webb last year in East Lansing, Mich.

"It was an incredible day. I had a lot of thoughts in my head. I was trying to stay calm and hit good shots, trying to hit it straight every time."

Sorenstam started her round on the back nine with birdies on the first eight holes, second-best in LPGA history behind the nine in a row by Beth Daniel two years ago.

She finished with a 28 on the front nine, then birdied the next four holes to get to 12 under for the round and allow herself to think about a 59. She got the last birdie she needed with a two-putt from 25 feet on the par-5 eighth.

On her final hole, she hit 9-iron into about 10 feet and needed only two putts for par and a piece of history. The final putt was only 6 inches.

"It was one of the longest putts I had all day — maybe not distance-wise, but it really felt like it," she said. "I was trying to count quickly if I counted right, because I didn't want to jump up and down when I thought it was 59, when it really was 60."

The round included 13 birdies, no bogeys and 25 putts on the 6,459-yard Moon Valley course. She reached every green in regulation and her longest par putt was 3 1/2 feet.

"You can use all the words you want — impressive, simple," playing partner Meg Mallon said. "She had two tap-ins and one putt from about 6 feet. The rest were 10 to 25 feet. She put on a putting display, especially on the front side. She hit the right shots. It was the kind of round everyone dreams of playing."

Tiger Woods has never had a 59 on tour, but he hit golf's magic number during a casual round with Mark O'Meara a week before Woods' record-setting victory in the 1997 Masters.

"It's an incredible feeling when you get on a roll like that," he said. "She's playing beautiful golf. She's a great player and she's fun to watch."

On her ninth hole, where she made her first par of the day, Sorenstam dropped an 8-iron shot from 158 yards to 30 feet, then left her first putt 3 1/2 feet short.

She missed only one fairway, straying about a yard into the rough on her 15th hole. She hit an 8-iron to 20 feet and two-putted for par.

As Sorenstam made her way down the stretch, the golf course emptied behind her and the applause from a Sunday-sized gallery grew louder as fans left their greenside spots.

On the 17th hole, a 476-yard par 5, Sorenstam drove down the middle and reached the green on the fly with a 7-wood.

Faced with a 25-foot eagle putt that would have to roll through a swale, she paced off the distance, fidgeted and stood over the ball. She took one step back then ran the putt within 8 inches for birdie as the crowd roared.

Sorenstam's approach shot on the last hole landed and dug in about 10 feet above the hole.

She two-putted, turned and leaped into the arms of caddie Terry McNamara — the first of a series of celebrations.

Sorenstam, who earned $1.4 million and won five titles last year to Webb's $1.88 million and seven championships, has made no secret of her intention to overtake Webb as No. 1 on the LPGA Tour.

Sorenstam began a rigorous offseason training program, and it has paid off — she was second in her first two events and won last week in Tucson, setting a tournament record there of 23 under for 72 holes and moving to No. 1 on the money list.

"She's playing better than ever, because she's practicing more and she's in the best shape of her life," said her father, Tom Sorenstam. "She's motivated, not just by Karrie. By the rest of the tour. She wants to be the best."

First-round leader Kris Tschetter was second, eight strokes back. Pak, Pat Hurst and Laura Diaz were nine shots behind. Webb shot a 69 for a 142 total.

Seventy-five players made the cut at 143. But Laura Davies, who won four straight Phoenix titles from 1993-97, shot a 144, and defending champion Charlotta Sorenstam, Annika's sister, finished at 145.

Goydos takes one stroke lead at Bay Hill

Associated Press

ORLANDO, Fla. — Paul Goydos shot his second straight 4-under 68 Friday afternoon to take a one-stroke lead after the second round of the Bay Hill Invitational.

Goydos, who won the 1996 tournament for his lone PGA Tour title, was at 136, the highest 36-hole score to lead a tour event this year.

Tiger Woods flinched in pain because of an awkward swing on his opening tee shot, but recovered quickly for a bogey-free 67 and was among 17 players within three strokes of the lead.

Sergio Garcia (66), Chris Perry (66), Fulton Allem (67), Scott McCarron (70) and Grant Waite (71) were second at 137. Woods, Phil Mickelson and Mark Calcavecchia were among a half-dozen players at 138.

Baylor knocks off Oklahoma

Associated Press

WACO — Mike Huggins had four RBIs for Baylor, which beat Oklahoma 5-3 on Friday night.

Steven White (5-0) got the win, pitching 7.1 innings and giving up three runs on six hits while striking out seven. Zane Carlson earned his third save.

Evan Greusel (1-2) gave up five runs on five hits over seven innings to get the loss for the Sooners.

Baylor took a 5-0 lead in the game, thanks in part to a bases-clearing double by Huggins in the fifth that brought three runners home.

Texas 2, Oklahoma St. 1, 10 innings

STILLWATER, Okla. — Ryan Hubele's RBI-single in the 10th inning lifted Texas over Oklahoma State 2-1 in a Big 12 Conference game on Friday.

The Cowboys (18-4, 5-2 Big 12) took a 1-0 lead on Nebasett Brown's home run in the third inning.

College Baseball

Texas (15-11, 5-2 Big 12) remained scoreless until the fifth inning, when a throwing error by the shortstop allowed Ryan Brooks to score an unearned run.

Neither team scored in the sixth, seventh, eight and ninth innings, forcing an extra frame.

Oklahoma State had a chance to tie the game, but the first two batters popped up to the shortstop and the third grounded out to second base.

Texas Tech 7, Kansas St. 0

MANHATTAN, Kan. — Brandon Roberson pitched a nine-inning shutout for Texas Tech, which beat Kansas State 7-0 on Friday.

Roberson (4-3) notched nine strikeouts, gave up only seven hits and helped Texas Tech escape a bases-loaded situation with no outs in the bottom of the ninth inning.

Texas Tech started the scoring with two runs in the third inning, but was shut out over the next four innings.

Bryon Smith got the Red Raiders back on the scoreboard with a three-run homer in the fifth inning to give Texas Tech a 5-0 lead. The Red Raiders tacked on two more runs in the inning to increase the lead to 7-0.

Texas Tech has now won 11 of 12 games against the Wildcats, including five straight.

Texas A&M 2, Iowa St. 1

COLLEGE STATION — Chris Russ scored the winning run and recorded his fifth win of the season for Texas A&M, which defeat Iowa State 2-1.

With the score tied at 1 in the bottom of the ninth, Russ reached on an infield single and advanced to third on a double by David Evans. After Tim Petru was intentionally walked to load the bases, Iowa State reliever Joe Bell threw a pitch that sailed by Cyclones' catcher Ryan Wickham, allowing Russ to score.

Russ (5-1) started the game at third before entering the game to pitch with one out in the seventh.

with tough road wins at San Angelo Central and Odessa Permian, the district champion, just to get into the playoffs. Meanwhile, MHS finished district play on March 10 with a loss to Permian in the game that decided the district champion, then had an open date.

Considering that, the Lady Bulldogs look primed for the playoffs.

"We really needed this win going into the playoffs," said MHS' Amanda Lozano, who scored the Lady Bulldogs first goal. "We didn't want to go in with a loss."

"I thought we looked good," MHS coach Scott Hodkinson said. "After a week's layoff, I was a little concerned about how we'd look. And Abilene High was coming off some big wins, so they had momentum."

The Lady Eagles didn't bring that momentum to the Boneyard on Friday. They arrived late, and the game started nearly 30 minutes after the announced starting time of 4 p.m. Then the Lady Eagles only got off four shots on goal in the entire game.

Lozano scored the only goal MHS would need in the 26th minute. She caught up to a long forward pass from Megan Dozier, then juked to the inside to get past a defender. As she did that, AHS keeper Jennifer Zabloudil was coming out to challenge her, and when Lozano went to the inside, she had a close shot at a wide open goal.

"It was good to see Amanda get a goal," Hodkinson said. "She's been working hard all year."

It was the second goal of the season for Lozano, and certainly the biggest.

In the second half, Amy Brammer scored her 11th goal of the season. She worked the ball around a few defenders about 15 yards out in front of the goal, then put a shot just under the arm of keeper Kendra Kastner, who played in goal in the second half (Zabloudil and Kastner usually play one half each in goal for AHS).

It could have been a 3-0 game, but Zabloudil saved Adrienne Monroe's penalty kick just before halftime.

Modano helps Stars tie Coyotes

Associated Press

DALLAS — Mike Modano's goal midway through the second period lifted the Dallas Stars into a 1-1 tie with the Phoenix Coyotes on Friday night.

Dallas had a two minute power play in the overtime and outshot Phoenix in the extra period. Coyotes goalie Sean Burke made six saves in overtime and preserved the tie.

Phoenix took a 1-0 lead at 2:56 of the second period on Travis Green's goal that struck two players on the way into the net.

Todd Simpson's shot from the point hit Dallas' Brenden Morrow. The shot then deflected off the stick of Green and past Stars goalie Ed Belfour. The goal as Green's 10th of the season.

Lady Chaps win two of three

Staff Report

TUCSON, Ariz. — The Midland College softball team recovered from three straight losses with a pair of wins Friday to close out the second day of the Pima Invitational.

After opening the day with an 8-0 loss to Western Arizona, the Lady Chaps defeated Eastern Arizona 4-3 then beat Garden City (Kan.) Community College 11-9. That salvaged something from a tournament which opened Thursday with MC losing a pair of games to Eastern Arizona.

Katyia Eronia, who absorbed the loss to Western Arizona, was the winning pitcher against Eastern Arizona Friday. Dora Pichardo went 2-for-3 with a triple for the Lady Chaps.

The game against Garden City was mostly an offensive affair. Michelle Hoffman led MC's prolific attack by going 3-for-5 with a home run and drove in four runs. Audrey Burrell and Tiala Tagaloa were also 3-for-5 as Burrell drove in two runs and Tagaloa tripled.

Melissa Rodriguez and Savanna Adams each had two hits for Midland College and Morgan Webster was the winning pitcher.

"We played well all day," said Midland College coach Tommy Ramos. "We hit the ball right at people in the first game. We continued the hitting into the second and third games.

"It's good competition here and we played a lot better today."

The tournament concludes today under a single elimination format. Midland College faces Central Arizona at 11 a.m., and will play at least one more game if it wins.

LOCAL BASEBALL TODAY

Midland High vs. Odessa High

When: 2 p.m.
Where: Zachery Field.
Records: Midland High is 14-3 overall and 1-0 in District 4-5A. Odessa High is 7-8 and 0-1.
4-5A Significance: Midland High would stay unbeaten in the district race and at worst stay tied atop 4-5A with a win. Odessa High could use a win to avoid having to rally from too deep a hole to enter the playoff picture.
Notes: The Bulldogs are living up to some of the hype which accompanies their No. 4 state ranking. For the first time in many years, they beat crosstown rival Midland Lee in a district opener, claiming a wild 17-12 win Tuesday afternoon at Ernie Johnson Field. Midland High's hitting especially rose to the occasion, pounding out 14 hits as James Gripp and Tony Esslinger each hit home runs in the fifth inning and drove in four runs apiece... Sophomore righthander Daniel Stovall pitched the final three innings to earn the save, and MHS coach Barry Russell says it's likely Stovall will start today... Odessa High lost to crosstown rival Odessa Permian 8-4 to open district Tuesday. MHS swept the Bronchos in district last season.
Next: Midland High faces a key early season district game when it goes on the road Tuesday to face Abilene Cooper at 4 p.m.

Midland Lee vs. Odessa Permian

When: 2 p.m.
Where: Permian High.
Records: Lee is 11-4 overall and 0-1 in District 4-5A. Permian is 10-2 and 1-0.
4-5A Significance: Lee needs a victory to earn its first notch in the district win column and confirm its status as a contender. Permian could use a win over a team like Lee to show that it will be a major factor in this year's district playoff race.
Notes: The Rebels are in an unusual position of coming off their first district game having suffered a loss. They suffered a sloppy 17-12 loss to crosstown rival Midland High at home, falling victim to a 10-run MHS fifth inning. Lee abetted Midland High's cause by committing a staggeri[illegible] eight errors... While lefthander Josh Ramos absorbed the loss, the most troubling aspect of the defeat was the performance of senior righthander T.J. Mansell in relief. Mansell, expected to be at least Lee's No. 2 starter, didn't retire any of the five batters he faced. Lee coach Jesse Benavidez said he was undecided on whom he would throw today... Permian got off to a solid start by beating Odessa High 8-4 to open district Tuesday.
Next: Lee returns home to host Abilene High Tuesday at 4 p.m. in a district game.

LOCAL SOFTBALL TODAY

San Angelo Central vs. Midland High

Where: Gill Sports Complex off Loop 250...
When: Game time is 2 p.m. today...
Records: Midland High is 15-7 for the season and 1-2 in District 4-5A play while San Angelo Centeral is 13-7 overall and 2-0 in league play...
4-5A Significance: San Angelo Central has jumped to a surprisingly strong 2-0 start, but those wins have been against 0-3 Odessa High and 1-2 Abilene Cooper. MHS is off to a rugged 1-2 start and needs to charge now to stay in the playoff hunt...
Notes: Central is coming off a 5-1 win over Odessa High on Tuesday to take a share of the District 4-5A lead with Midland Lee... Midland High is comig off a very tough 1-0 loss to Abilene Cooper in eight innings. That was the second extra inning loss by the Lady Bulldogs in 4-5A play this year in only three district outings... MHS got only two hits against Cooper on Tuesday, so, obviously, the Lady Bulldogs need more offensive punch... Rachel Cherry, a sophomore, took her second 4-5A loss, but has pitched well for MHS...
Next: What will make today's game even more important for MHS is the fact that the Lady Bulldogs will host powerful Abilene High at 4 p.m. on Tuesday at the Gill Sports Complex.

Duncan leads Spurs to another win

Associated Press

SAN ANTONIO — Tim Duncan scored 29 points and grabbed 16 rebounds to lead the San Antonio Spurs to a 95-86 win over New Jersey on Friday night.

After a sluggish first half ended with the Spurs leading 45-39, San Antonio used a 16-4 run at the end of the third quarter to build a big lead and then hung on late for the win.

Derek Anderson started the third-quarter spurt with a drive to the basket for a layup, then lobbed an alley-oop pass to Samaki Walker for a dunk to give the Spurs a 68-50 lead.

After two free throws by Anderson, Duncan finished off the impressive run by taking a pass from Avery Johnson for an easy layup, hitting an 18-footer from the top of the key and then burying a 3-pointer at the third-quarter buzzer to give San Antonio a 77-54 lead.

Duncan scored 12 points in the third quarter and played only three minutes in the fourth.

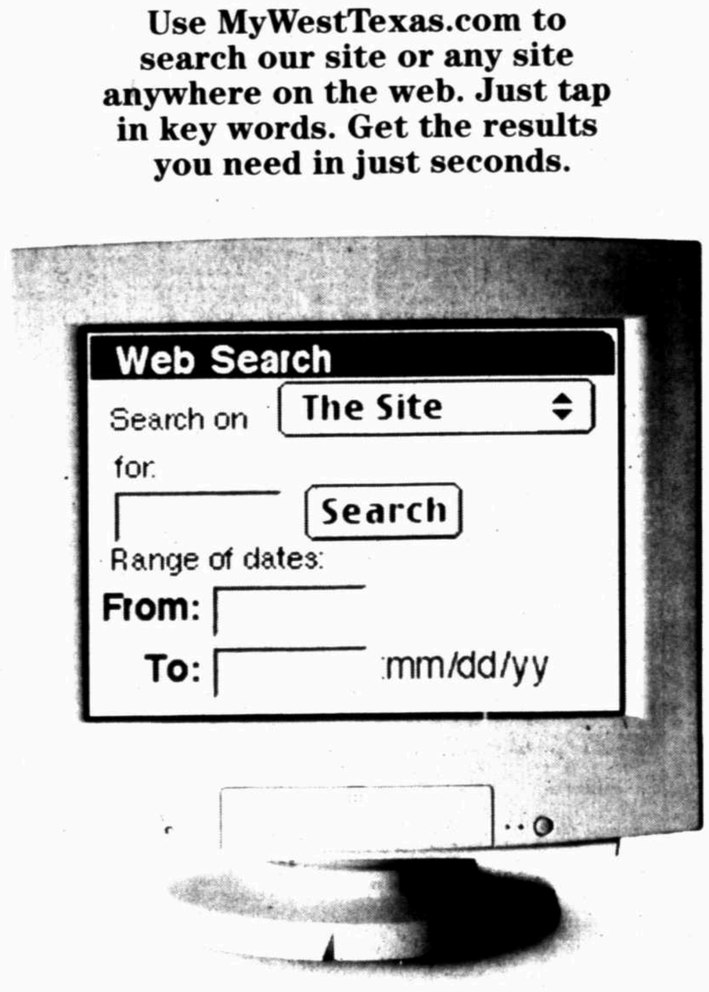

New Jersey rallied in the fourth and closed to 90-84 on three free throws by Keith Van Horn with 46.7 seconds remaining, but the Spurs made six of eight free throws down the stretch to seal the win.

COACH: No offer may be made until the 23rd ty members, three community members, a student and an alum.

"To me, it's just a poor attitude they have," Baker said. "People are entitled to a second chance, and Tech is entitled to build a quality program."

He said Knight also could get more Tech athletes to graduate, noting the 98 percent graduation rate among basketball players during his time at Indiana.

Another member of the council was more ambivalent, however.

While impressed by Knight's record, which includes three national championships and 11 Big Ten titles, Ginny Felstehausen, a professor of family and consumer sciences education, said she also has concerns.

Among them is a comment Knight made in a 1988 interview with NBC, Felstehausen said. When asked how he handled stress, Knight replied: "I think that if rape is inevitable, relax and enjoy it."

Knight explained he was talking about something beyond one's control, not the act of rape. The remark triggered protests and a march of about 300 people on the Indiana campus.

Felstehausen said Tech officials need to examine their priorities.

"For him as a coach, for him as a man who really values education, which is obvious, those are issues that I think are really important for Texas Tech," she said. "But I think when you look at the big picture, you have to ask, 'Where are we?'

"I'm supportive of athletics and aware that we need to draw crowds, but at what price?"

No offer may be made to Knight until March 23 at 5 p.m. because of a university policy that the job remain vacant for 10 business days. It opened March 9 when James Dickey was fired after his fourth straight losing season.

In recent years, the Red Raiders have lost nine scholarships because of NCAA sanctions related to recruiting and unethical conduct. Knight's program at Indiana was free of any major NCAA violations.

But last May, Knight was placed under a zero-tolerance behavior policy after the discovery of a videotape that showed him putting his hand around a former player's neck. He later was fired after grabbing a student by the arm to lecture him on manners.

Jacks fall to El Paso, move into first place

Staff Report

EL PASO — The Odessa Jackalopes lost a game, 3-1, Friday night in El Paso, but they still made up ground on the first-place New Mexico Scorpions.

A lot of ground.

On Friday, the Western Professional Hockey League announced New Mexico's penalty for salary cap violations involving player Brad Englehart, who is not even with the Scorpions any more. The league stripped New Mexico of 34 points, knocking the Scorpions from first place to last place in the WPHL's Western Division.

The Jacks moved into first place, thanks to the penalty to New Mexico, and they stayed there thanks to Lubbock's shootout loss to Tupelo on Friday. Odessa leads Lubbock by one point, 81-80.

El Paso's Van Burgess got the game-winning goal against the Jacks, plus he assisted on his team's other two goals. His goal came at 16:21 of the first period and broke a 1-1 tie.

El Paso's Mike Rees scored exactly one minute into the game to give the Buzzards a 1-0 lead. Odessa tied it up at 11:42 with a goal by Chris Peach.

In the third period, Mikhail Nemirovsky added a goal on a breakaway that gave the Buzzards a 3-1 lead.

Indiana State shocks Oklahoma

Associated Press

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — Kelyn Block's reward for leading Indiana State to another of this year's first-round upsets in the NCAA tournament was an emergency trip to the dentist.

The sophomore had three teeth either knocked out or chipped late in regulation, then found a way to help the 13th-seeded Sycamores beat No. 4 Oklahoma 70-68 in overtime Friday in the South Regional.

Block scored five of his 17 points in overtime after he dramatically returned from the locker room just before the tipoff of the extra period.

"He's on his way to the oral surgeon," coach Royce Waltman said. "I had said yesterday about how tough I thought Oklahoma was. We said our only opportunity to win was to display some toughness of our own and we did that today."

The Sycamores (22-11) became the latest double-digit seed to advance in this year's tournament. They will face 12th-seeded Gonzaga on Sunday in the second round. The Bulldogs beat fifth-seeded Virginia 86-85 in the first round.

Gonzaga 86, Virginia 85

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — Casey Calvary put back a blocked shot with 9.2 seconds left Friday to give Gonzaga an 86-85 victory over Virginia in the opening round of the South Regional and add to the Zags' list of upsets.

■ South-Memphis

Gonzaga, seeded No. 12, was ahead by as many as 13 and looked in control heading down the stretch, but fifth-seeded Virginia (20-9) cut it to 82-80 on Roger Mason Jr.'s 3-pointer with 3:25 left.

Mason hit another 3 two minutes later to give Virginia it's first lead, 85-84, with 1:28 left. J.C. Mathis, who shot less than 50 percent from the foul line on the season, was fouled with 21.4 seconds left but missed the free throw, and the Bulldogs had a chance.

Gonzaga (25-6), which seemed to score easily throughout the games, couldn't find the basket in the last three minutes until the final possession. And even then it took a second effort by Calvary.

Fresno St. 82, California 70

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — Demetrius Porter scored a career-high 27 points and helped stem three second-half comebacks by California as ninth-seeded Fresno State beat the Bears 82-70 on Friday night in the first round of the South Regional.

The victory gave coach Jerry Tarkanian a 17-1 record in the first round of the NCAA tournament and set up a second-round matchup with top-seeded Michigan State on Sunday. The defending national champions beat Alabama State 69-35.

It was Tarkanian's first NCAA win at Fresno State (26-6) and the second in school history. He won four first-round games at Long Beach State and 12 at UNLV, including the championship season of 1990.

Porter, a senior guard whose previous best was 26 points against Rice as a junior, hit a 3-pointer to start an 8-0 run when the eighth-seeded Bears (20-11) closed to 46-43 with 13:54 to play. He ended the run with a nice high-arching shot on a long drive.

Michigan St. 69, Alabama St. 35

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — Michigan State's Jason Richardson and Andre Hutson made sure 16th-seeded Alabama State didn't make NCAA tournament history with a victory.

After a poor first half, Richardson and Hutson got the defending national champions rolling in a 69-35 victory Friday night in the first round of the South Regional.

The Hornets made their own history by matching Wake Forest's record-setting first-half production on Friday against Butler.

Alabama State scored just 10 points in the second half, and Wake Forest fell behind 43-10 at halftime in the Midwest Regional. It is the lowest-scoring half in any NCAA tournament game since the introduction of the shot clock in 1985-86.

Richardson scored 14 points and Hutson added 15 points and 11 rebounds for Michigan State (25-4), which is trying to be the sixth team to win consecutive titles and the first since Duke in 1991 and '92.

Tar Heels dominate Princeton scholars

Associated Press

NEW ORLEANS — Brendan Haywood, Joseph Forte and North Carolina made themselves right at home in the Superdome.

The Tar Heels, returning to the site of their last two NCAA championship victories, quickly ended any thought of another Princeton upset with a 70-48 win Friday night in the opening round of the South Regional.

It was no contest from the very start. Princeton center Nate Walton — son of former star Bill Walton — did not even jump for the opening tipoff, instead dropping into a defensive position against the 7-foot Haywood.

With Matt Doherty coaching his first game in the NCAA tournament and shouting "Back Screen!" to warn his team against Princeton's favorite back-door layups, the second-seeded Tar Heels took an 8-0 lead and made it 36-16 at halftime.

Florida 69, Western Kentucky 56

NEW ORLEANS — Once Udonis Haslem and Brett Nelson found their favorite spots, Florida was OK.

■ South-New Orleans

The Gators, who reached the NCAA championship game last season, settled down after a shaky start against Western Kentucky to win 69-56 Friday in the first round of the South Regional.

With Nelson bombing away from outside and Haslem taking over inside, third-seeded Florida assumed command with a 14-0 run early in the second half and pulled away.

Penn St. 69, Providence 59

NEW ORLEANS — The Crispin brothers sure know how to play nice together.

Joe Crispin scored 13 points, brother Jon Crispin added 11, to lead seventh-seed Penn State to a 69-59 victory over Providence on Friday night in the NCAA South Regional.

The Crispin brothers also had nine rebounds and five assists and were 6-for-7 from the free-throw line.

Gyasi Cline-Heard had 16 points and 10 rebounds, and Titus Ivory added 13 points.

Charlotte knocks off Tennessee

Associated Press

DAYTON, Ohio — Once ranked fourth in the nation, Tennessee faltered from midseason right through a first-round exit from the NCAA tournament.

Jobey Thomas scored Charlotte's last six points, including four free throws in the final 25 seconds, as the 49ers beat Tennessee 70-63 Friday in the first round of the Midwest Regional.

The game might have been the last at Tennessee for coach Jerry Green, whose job reportedly is in jeopardy despite 20-win seasons and trips to the NCAA tournament in each of his four seasons.

The loss was a continuation of the swoon that has hit the Volunteers. They won 16 of their first 17 games — rising to No. 4 in the polls — before losing eight of the next 10. They lost in the quarterfinals of last week's SEC tournament.

Foul trouble and foul shooting were the deciding factors. The Vols (22-11) had three starters finish with four fouls each. At the line, they hit just seven of 18 shots

■ Midwest-Dayton

— including only one of seven in the second half.

Ninth-seeded Charlotte (22-10) will make its fourth trip to the second round in the five years when it plays top-seeded Illinois, a 96-54 victor over Northwestern State in an earlier game.

Syracuse 79, Hawaii 69

DAYTON, Ohio — Career win No. 600 couldn't have come at a better time for Syracuse coach Jim Boeheim.

Damone Brown had 20 points and 10 rebounds and Preston Shumpert added 18 points as Boeheim reached another coaching milestone with a 79-69 victory over Hawaii on Friday night in the first round of the Midwest Regional.

The fifth-seeded Orangemen (25-8) will face fourth-seeded Kansas in the second round. The Jayhawks beat Cal State Northridge 99-75.

Boeheim, in his 25th year as the head coach at his alma mater, is 600-207. Syracuse fans held up placards reading "600" and chanted "6-0-0! 6-0-0!" in the final minute.

Kansas 99, Cal State Northridge 75

DAYTON, Ohio — Pesky Cal State Northridge came up short — by inches and points — in an attempt to win its NCAA tournament debut against Kansas.

The Jayhawks' towering front line dug in and dominated Friday night, muscling their way to a 99-75 victory that marked Kansas' 18th straight first-round win in the NCAA tournament.

Nick Collison had 23 points and 11 rebounds, and Kenny Gregory added 18 points and 11 rebounds for fourth-seeded Kansas (25-6), which will face a bigger obstacle in the next round at the Midwest Regional.

The Jayhawks have lost in the second round in each of the last three tournaments.

Unable to get the ball inside, Northridge (22-10) had to fire away from the perimeter. Enough 3-pointers fell to keep the Matadors close — they made 13-of-30 overall and cut an 18-point deficit to eight midway through the second half. As soon as the shots stopped dropping, the Matadors started fading.

Illinois 96, Northwestern State 54

DAYTON, Ohio — All Illinois needed was 100 seconds to demonstrate the difference between a play-in team and a premier team.

The Midwest Region's top seed swatted away the NCAA tournament's lowest seed Friday, using its size and savvy to beat Northwestern State 96-54 in a first-round game.

Illinois (25-7) ran off to a 10-0 lead in the games' first 1:40, a blitz that dazzled the Demons (19-13).

Midway through the first half, Illinois was up by 22 points and substituting so freely that it had only one starter on the floor at times.

Broncos reportedly reach deal with Cowboys' Lett

Associated Press

DENVER — The Denver Broncos have reached an agreement to sign free agent defensive tackle Leon Lett, a television station reported Friday.

Lett, who has played for the Dallas Cowboys for 11 seasons would replace Keith Traylor, cut by the Broncos on Wednesday, KMGH-TV reported.

Lett's agent, Jim Steiner, did not immediately return a phone message late Friday. Steiner said on Thursday the Broncos and Lett had agreed on the number of years in the contract.

Bengals sign kicker Cunningham

CINCINNATI — Free-agent kicker Richie Cunningham signed a two-year contract with the Cincinnati Bengals on Friday.

Cunningham spent the first four games of last season with Carolina, going 5-for-7 on field goals. He played for Dallas from 1997-99.

Cash-strapped Redskins turn again to Conway

ASHBURN, Va. — With little money to spend, the Washington Redskins solved their kicking problems with a familiar face Thursday, signing free agent Brett Conway to a three-year deal worth about $2 million.

The Redskins considered bigger names such as John Carney, Doug Brien, Steve Christie and Morten Andersen.

Tenth-seed Butler beats Wake Forest

Associated Press

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — The arithmetic was clear: Wake Forest scored just 10 points in the first half and could never recover.

Tenth-seeded Butler held seventh-seeded Wake Forest to a shocking 3-of-25 shooting while taking a 43-10 halftime lead en route to a 79-63 victory Friday in the Midwest Regional.

Brandon Miller had 18 points for Butler, which recorded its first NCAA tournament victory since 1962.

The Demon Deacons, who won their first 12 games this season and looked as if they might contend for national honors, shot 59 percent in the second half and outscored the Bulldogs 53-36. But it was not enough.

Wake's 3-of-25 misery included layups that rolled off the rim, medium-range jumpers that seemed to dip into the basket and pop out and a laughable 3-point attempt by A.W. Hamilton that missed everything by about a foot and a half.

■ Midwest-Kansas City

Arizona 101, Eastern Illinois 76

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — The No. 15 seed didn't pull an upset this time. Not even close.

Gilbert Arenas scored 21 points and second-seeded Arizona used its power and speed to coast past Eastern Illinois 101-76 Friday in the opening round of the Midwest Regional.

Michael Wright and Loren Woods added 17 points each for the Wildcats (24-7).

Iowa State was ousted Thursday night by Hampton in the West Regional, making the Cyclones the fourth No. 2 team since 1991 to lose to a No. 15 in the first round. That included Arizona's loss to Santa Clara in 1993.

Notre Dame 83, Xavier 71

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — Matt Carroll scored 21 points and David Graves was 7-of-7 from the field as Notre Dame won its first NCAA tournament game since 1990.

Graves scored 20 points and Troy Murphy added 19 despite a cold shooting night as the Irish beat Xavier 83-71 on Friday night in the Midwest Regional.

Notre Dame (20-9) moves on to Sunday's second round against Ole Miss, which beat Iona 72-70.

Mississippi 72, Iona 70

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — In everything but their seeding, Mississippi and Iona were oh, so close.

With 1.8 seconds to go, Jason Holmes stripped Iona's Courtney Fields of the ball in the lane and then hit a free throw, lifting third-seeded Ole Miss to a 72-70 victory over the No. 14 Gaels on Friday night in the first round of the Midwest Regional.

Mississippi (26-7) shot 44 percent while the Gaels (22-11), looking for their first NCAA win since 1980, shot 41 percent. Iona had 40 rebounds, Ole Miss 36. The Rebels sank 14 free throws, the Gaels 13.

TEXAS: Temple drills 10-of-26 3-point goals

(From 1B)

Temple made 10 of 26 3-point baskets, the most allowed this season by Texas.

"People talk about their defense, but that's what they do," Texas coach Rick Barnes said. "They are a 3-point shooting team and they made some tough shots. We were so bad in the first half on the offensive end that we didn't have an answer for it."

Darren Kelly and Owens each scored 15 points for Texas. Kelly also had 10 rebounds, closing his career with his first double-double.

Marice Evans, averaging 15.8 points a game for Texas, was held to 10 on 4-for-16 shooting, including 1 of 9 from 3-point range.

Temple took the lead a minute into the game on Wadley's first 3-pointer and was ahead 41-22 at the half. Texas shot 28 percent in the first half, making only one of seven 3-point shots.

BASEBALL ROUNDUP

Mateo slugs Rangers past Toronto

Associated Press

DUNEDIN, Fla. — Ruben Mateo doubled and homered off Chris Carpenter and also singled Friday as the Texas Rangers beat the Toronto Blue Jays 3-2.

Mateo hit .291 with seven home runs and 19 RBIs in 52 games. His impressive rookie season ended when he broke his right leg June 2, but now he's at full strength and manager Johnny Oates plans to make him a starter in right field.

"It's just a matter of time," Rangers manager Johnny Oates said. "He's been getting better each ballgame. We've been saying for years, that all it takes is for him to get on the field."

Texas starter Ryan Glynn allowed three hits in four scoreless innings.

"I felt good, but at some points in the game I lost command," said Glynn, likely the Rangers' No. 5 starter. "I was able to refocus and take command."

Astros 9, Marlins 3

MELBOURNE, Fla. — Jesus Sanchez was hit hard for the third time this spring, allowing eight runs in 3 1-3 innings as the Florida Marlins lost to the Houston Astros 9-3 Friday night.

Sanchez gave up six hits and five walks. Six of the runs off him were earned.

Sanchez has been pounded for 18 runs, 20 hits and 11 walks in 11 innings this spring.

In his previous outing, he pitched four shutout innings against Atlanta.

Winner Wade Miller gave up three runs and six hits in five innings with five strikeouts and three walks.

Jeff Bagwell was 2-for-2 was a home run and three RBIs.

Sosa agrees to $72 million deal

Associated Press

CHICAGO — After putting up some pretty incredible numbers the past three years, Sammy Sosa has the contract extension to match.

Sosa signed a deal with the Chicago Cubs on Friday that extends his contract for up to four years and is worth $72 million.

"I'm very happy. I always said I wanted to finish my career here and Chicago has been great to me," Sosa said, surrounded by his family at a news conference at the Cubs' spring training camp in Mesa, Ariz.

"When I retire, I'm going to retire with a Chicago Cubs hat to the Hall of Fame."

If Sosa puts up big numbers, he would get $32.75 million over two years and have the chance to negotiate a new contract again.

His deal includes a $6 million signing bonus, $12 million in 2002 and $13 million in 2003. He can either terminate the contract after that season and become a free agent, or exercise player options for $16 million in 2004 and $17 million in 2005.

Sosa also gets a $3.5 million severance payment when the contract ends, but that figure is cut in half if he leaves after the 2003 season. If he exercises the player options, the Cubs get an $18 million team option for 2005 with a $4.5 million buyout.

With an average salary of $18 million a year, Sosa will have the fourth-highest average salary in baseball, trailing only Alex Rodriguez ($25.2 million), Manny Ramirez ($20 million) and Derek Jeter ($18.9 million).

Over the past three years, he's hit 179 homers, batted .305 and averaged 146 RBIs. His 50 homers last season led the majors, and he joined McGwire and Babe Ruth as the only players with more than two 50-homer seasons.

BASE: Chaps' Overman hurls 10 Ks, shutout

a run with a single to left to make it 2-0.

After the first inning, the Chaps got only two hits off Lopez, who gave up only five. But Overman was more than up to the challenge, and after Simpson's double he didn't allow a single ball to be hit out of the infield.

"The way the wind today was blowing in I knew this wasn't going to be a great hitting day," said Overman. "I just wanted to finish it off while we had a lead."

El Paso's Ryan Miller came the closest to solving Miller with a pair of singles. Haney had two hits for Midland College, including a double.

While the Chaps never trailed in the first game, they never led in the second. Julio Guerrero and Ernie Ortiz led off the game with consecutive singles off MC starter Tim Wallis, and they scored on a two-run single to left by Justin Galvan which gave El Paso a 2-0 lead it never relinquished.

El Paso scored four unearned runs off Wallis in the sixth to make it 6-0 and eventually chase the righthander. While Wallis left after surrendering an unsightly 12 hits in four innings, most of them weren't hit especially hard.

"Early on I started counting and there were a lot of instances where (El Paso) got hits when we were ahead in the count and we threw it right over the middle," said Ramharter.

Lefthander Joseph Llanas relieved for MC and pitched the final five innings, giving up four runs, only two of which were earned.

El Paso lefty Phillip Martinez kept the Chaps at bay, giving up only five hits over seven innings. MC scored three runs in the seventh after Overman and Wade Hansford sandwiched doubles around a single by Jim Henderson. Haney blasted a mammoth two-run home run to left off reliever Cody King in the eighth, but that ended the scoring.

"We were able to keep it relatively close thanks to some double plays (the Chaps turned four) and competed the whole way," said Ramharter. "We just didn't hit today."

Hansford had a pair of doubles in the second game. Every El Paso hitter had at least one hit in that game, led by Galvan with four.

The two teams play another doubleheader today at noon at Christensen. Jared Birely will pitch the first game for MC while Henderson will throw the second game.

Church expects at least 6,000 visitors for spiritual weekend

By Johnnye Montgomery
Religion Writer

The sixth annual Stream spiritual weekend, March 30 to April 1 at Chaparral Center, is expected to draw more than 6,000 visitors, according to Kyle McGraw, head of the Golf Course Road Church of Christ committee, which sponsors the annual event.

This year's event will feature Lynn Anderson, director of Hope Network Ministries, a para-church ministry dedicated to coaching, mentoring and equipping church leaders. Anderson's theme will be worship, with topics including "Why We Worship," "The Reason We Worship: Because of Who We Are," "The Reason We Worship: What Language Shall I Borrow?" and "The Reason We Worship: Listen to Our Hearts."

A children's program for 4-year-olds through fourth grade will be held on the campus of Midland Christian School.

Christian comedian Dennis Swanberg will speak at a teen session on March 31 and at 8 p.m. March 31 after Communion.

The church's music director and the Hallal Music group will lead praise and worship.

The name of the event has been shortened from previous years' "Stream in the Desert" to "Stream," referring to Jeremiah 17:7: "Blessed is the man who trusts in the Lord, whose confidence is in him. He will be like a tree planted by the water that sends its roots by the stream." The concept is similar in many respects to Walk to Emmaus or to Cursillo, Christian retreats where participants are given a 2 1/2 day loving immersion in the principles of Christianity.

McGraw said his own Walk to Emmaus caused him to approach the Golf Course Road congregation six years ago with the idea of a spiritual weekend.

"When I went on my Walk to Emmaus, I came home just walking on air," he remembers. "Here, I'd had this wonderful experience, while my wife had stayed home taking care of the kids."

With Stream, entire families attend, and there is much more flexibility in scheduling than in the Walk to Emmaus, where all activities are integrated and participants are fully involved for the entire weekend.

BIBLEMAN

Spiritual super hero to appear live at Ector County Coliseum

"Bibleman Live 2001: Breaking the Bonds of Disobedience," which combines pyrotechnics, a huge two-story set and 3-D laser lights, will be onstage March 24 at Ector County Coliseum. The show stars Willie Aames, above, as Bibleman.

ODESSA — Bibleman is on the road again, fighting against villainy and injustice with the full force of technology at its vivid best, and he'll be in Odessa in person Saturday at the Ector County Coliseum with a live performance based on the ever-popular children's Bibleman Adventure video series.

This will mark the fifth year the series writer, director and star has toured the country.

"Bibleman Live 2001: Breaking the Bonds of Disobedience," combines pyrotechnics, a huge two-story set and 3-D laser lights to enhance the villainy of the villains and the heroism of the heroes, especially that of Bibleman, who makes some terrible mistakes and falls victim to human pitfalls as he ventures forth against the forces of such evils as gossip, lies, discouragement, fear, pride and wrath, yet triumphs in the end by the grace of God.

Played by Willie Aames, who once starred in the TV series "Charles in Charge" and "Eight is Enough," Bibleman goes abroad dressed in purple spandex and banana-yellow body armor, quoting Scripture and acting to encourage believers and to lead them to "the only true superhero," Jesus Christ.

"In fact, I always take off the helmet at the end of the show," Aames said, "and say, 'Hey, follow Jesus.'

"Bibleman has always been geared to presenting real-life dilemmas and real-life scenarios that kids can relate to," said Aames, who not only stars as Bibleman, but also writes, directs and produces both the videos and the road show. "We then offer real answers by presenting God's word, supported with chapter and verse."

Aames said the concept of Bibleman was not his, but the brainchild of his friend, Tony Salerno.

"When he asked me if I'd be Bibleman, I thought it was the worst idea I'd ever heard of," said Aames. "I said, 'Well, what does he do? He can't fly, because real people can't fly. So what will he do?' And Tony said 'He encourages kids to read their Bibles.' So a few videos later we had created this character who is just a man, and that's how it all started."

Aames admits they made a couple of false starts.

"The first two videos we made were just terrible," he said. "And we actually released them, and the kids were quick to confirm our initial feeling about how bad they were.

"We listen carefully to kids, because our job is to try to figure out how to remain responsible, not water down the Word, and to give the message that is timeless and keep it fun at the same time.

"It's a big challenge to maintain relevancy while maintaining an edge with technology."

God simply expects us to be obedient — pray until something happens

Williams

In going through my "goodie drawer," I found these bumper stickers. "Jesus is coming. Look busy" and "The more you complain, the longer God lets you live." I also found a copy of the following story, which I'd like to share this week.

A man was sleeping at night in his cabin, when suddenly his room filled with light, and the Savior appeared. The Lord told the man He had work for him to do, and showed him a large rock in front of his cabin. The Lord explained that the man was to push against the rock with all his might. This the man did, day after day. For many years he toiled from sun up to sun down, his shoulders set squarely against the cold, massive surface of the unmoving rock, pushing with all his might. Each night the man returned to his cabin sore, and worn out, feeling that his whole day had been spent in vain.

Because the man was showing signs of discouragement, the Adversary decided to enter the picture by placing thoughts into the man's weary mind: "You have been pushing against that rock for a long time, and it hasn't budged. Why kill yourself over this? You are never going to move it," thus giving the man the impression that the task was impossible and that he was a failure.

These thoughts discouraged and disheartened the man until he decided to make it a matter of prayer and take his troubled thoughts to the Lord. "Lord," he said, "I have labored long and hard in your service, putting all my strength to do that which you have asked. Yet, after all this time, I have not even budged that rock by half a millimeter. What is wrong? Why am I failing?"

The Lord responded compassionately, "My friend, when I asked you to serve me and you accepted, I told you that your task was to push against the rock with all your strength, which you have done. Never once did I mention to you that I expected you to move it. Your task was to push. And now you come to me with your strength spent, thinking that you have failed. But is that really so? Look at yourself. Your arms are strong and muscled, your back is sinewy and brown, your hands are callused from constant pressure, and your legs have become massive and hard. Through opposition you have grown much, and your abilities now surpass that which you used to have. Yet you haven't moved the rock. But your calling was to be obedient and to push and to exercise your faith and trust in my wisdom. This you have done. I, my friend, will now move the rock."

This story brings me back to a T-shirt I've seen, which, like a good bumper sticker, captured a flicker of wisdom: "P.U.S.H.—Pray Until Something Happens."

BIBLEMAN: Actor says program changes lives

(From 1C)

Bibleman episodes to date, his favorite is "Conquering the Wrath of Rage, because it's the most responsible video we've ever done.

"We've been to Columbine, we've been to Oklahoma City, and I really wanted to do a show that gave kids a handle, to understand what rage is about," he said. "I think we should never be surprised that we live in a violent, angry world, because look at human history, but the real question is how do we respond to it.

"In the video, we had this stuff called 'gold fury dust', and I wanted kids to relate to that and to say, 'Mommy, my fury dust is acting up.' I just wanted to give them some way to handle it."

Aames said one of his highest moments came when he received an e-mail from a woman who told him that she had a grandson in a crisis situation who was in counseling, and that the counselor had given him the "Wrath of Rage" video to help him deal with the situation.

Filled with campy humor that Aames claims "gets more irreverent with every video," the Bibleman Adventure is now said to be the most popular live-action stage show on the children's ministry circuit, and four video episodes have received gold awards from the International Recording Media Association.

"In the beginning, I thought we'd be doing great if we did 10 or 15 shows," he said. "Now as we head into 2001, we will do 100 shows in two languages."

Most gratifying of all, Aames said, is seeing how the program works to change lives. "We're seeing how the videos translate to the live shows and how the technology is really reaching kids."

On last year's Bibleman Live tour, more than 16,000 children responded to altar calls, and Aames has received thousands of letters and e-mails from grateful parents who write that their children have embraced Bibleman's message.

"It's good that kids know the Scripture, and it's best that they know the Scripture and get the concept (of how to apply it)."

"Bibleman Live 2001: Breaking the Bonds of Disobedience" will be 7 p.m. Saturday at the Ector County Coliseum. Tickets are $5 and are available at both Chick-fil-a locations.

Bibleman and the cast will be available to sign autographs following the show.

For information on ticket availability, call Molla Maytubby at 580-5672.

STREAM: Event began as retreat for members

(From 1C)

The event, which started out as a retreat for Church of Christ members locally or within the Permian Basin, has evolved into a once-a-year pilgrimage for church groups from 21 states and more than 150 Texas cities, McGraw said.

"We want to stress that this is not something just for Church of Christ congregations," he said.

McGraw said he was told by a spokesman from the Chamber of Commerce that Stream in the Desert is second only to the Confederate Air Force's air show as an annual attraction.

"We do know that most of the hotels in town are full, and they are branching out into surrounding towns," he said. "We're trying to learn just what hotels have rooms available, and we'll continue to post the information so that people can log onto the www.gcrcc.org Web site to learn updates to the room situation."

The event consists of a worship and praise segment, a teaching segment and breakout segments with small groups. McGraw said holding it at Chaparral Center will make preparations for the huge worship and praise and teaching components much easier to arrange.

"Last year, we held it at Builder's Square, and we had to construct walls, bring in chairs, bring in everything, because it was just an empty warehouse," he explained. "In Chap Center, everything will be set up.

"But we do have one part of the weekend that will be a challenge, and that is the small group component. In Builder's Square, it was easy to set up for small groups, but there's no place at Chap Center for that."

What the Golf Course Road committee has done is to rent circus tents, which will be set up at Chap Center's south parking lot.

"We're still going to be renting a load of chairs," McGraw said. "But we've found that a lot of people are pretty intimidated by small groups. About 50 percent of the people who come to the praise and worship and teaching segments will not go to the small group sessions.

"Those who do participate in them are really blessed. We get response cards back from the weekend, and the worship assembly is always rated the highest. To be in that large a corporate worship is always wonderful and rare. And a lot will mention the teaching, but the small group experience is always rated near the top, even though only about half the people attend."

There will also be a special leadership conference offered on March 30.

Registration for the weekend is $15 per adult, with a $12 per child charge for the children's program. Children fifth grade through high school may attend free of charge. Meals and lodging are extra. For more information or to register, call 694-8836

✔ Ministry

Four members of First United Methodist Church, Midland, were among 459 pastors and congregation leaders at a Stephen Series Leader's Training Course held in February in San Antonio.

The Rev. Jan Reed; Liz Robblee, director of youth ministries; Vicki Jay and Rickie Tyler attended the seven-day training event hosted by the St. Louis-based Stephen Ministries organization. Participants came from across the United States and Canada to learn how to implement and direct Stephen Ministry, a system of Christian caregiving, in their congregations.

After being trained at the event, the FUMC members' next steps will be to recruit, select and train other members to be Stephen Ministers, the ones who will provide one-on-one care. They will then match each Stephen Minister with an individual in need of care and provide the Stephen Ministries with ongoing supervision and continuing education.

The Stephen Ministries organization annually hosts six Leaders' Training Courses across the nation.

For more information about First United Methodist church's Stephen Ministry, contact Ms. Reed at 682-3701.

Stephen Ministries can be contacted at 2045 Innerbelt Business Center Drive, St. Louis, Mo., 63114; 314-428-2600; or www.stephenministries.org.

✔ Kids ministries

Enrollment has begun for Children First Weekday Ministries program of First United Methodist Church. Children's Day Out classes will be offered for children between 3 months and 3 and preschool classes for children 3 and 4. All classes meet Tuesdays and Thursdays from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Brochures are available through the Children's Ministries Office, or by calling Brenda Hoisager at 682-3701.

✔ Transportation

First United Methodist Church offers transportation to service or Sunday School to older persons who need assistance. There is a handicapped-accessible van available. For more information call 682-3701.

✔ Sunday School

First United Methodist Church offers two sessions of Sunday School, according to the worship service that is attended. The first hour is from 9:30 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. and offers 10 classes for children age 2 through sixth grade, four classes for youth grades seven through 12 and 16 classes for adults. The second Sunday School hour is from 10:45 a.m. to 11:45 a.m. and offers three classes for children, two for youth and two for adults. For more information call 682-3701.

Music festival offers something for almost every musical taste

By Eric Fidler
Associated Press

AUSTIN — I smile broadly at the woman in black, not because I want to talk with her — that would not be possible — but because she has just handed me a pair of earplugs.

I want to bless this dark angel, for she has saved me from the horror that is Genitallica. The punk-ska band is going over well with the crowd at Metro, which pogoes enthusiastically as the singer puts a bullhorn to his mouth and a microphone to the bullhorn, but to me it's like being in hell.

But that's part of the beauty of Austin's South by Southwest Music festival, which is now in its 15th year. There's something for almost every musical taste, whether it's jazz, punk, bluegrass, pop or country.

We had set out Wednesday afternoon to see as many bands in one night as we could, but we weren't in the club to see Genitallica. Deborah the photographer and I wanted to see Drive-by Truckers, a Southern rock band with a big buzz at this annual orgy of music, schmoozing and parties in the "live music capital of the world."

We're early for the Truckers, and Deborah is waiting in an interminable line at the women's room while I endure Genitallica.

With so many bands — 1,000? 800? no one seems to know anymore — playing in five nights, you have to make choices, and you have to make sacrifices. Genitallica was ours.

Deborah comes back and we run out the door, onto 6th Street with its bearded transvestite, its barkers for bars (Two dollar well drinks, no cover!), fetish supply stores, street musicians playing steel guitars and washtub basses, and endless supply of hair colors not found in nature.

We had started the day at a record-store appearance by Austin rocker Jimmy LaFave. It had seemed like a good way to kick off South by Southwest, and LaFave's brief set of songs from his excellent new album, "Texoma," confirmed our decision.

After enchiladas and tacos in South Austin, possibly across the aisle from one of the Dixie Chicks and possibly not, we headed to the Austin Music Awards to catch the opening set by local singer-songwriter Slaid Cleaves. He first accepted awards for best single and song of the year for "Broke Down," then played several songs that showed why he is a rising force in the contemporary folk scene.

Sane people would have stayed to see Lucinda Williams and James Cotton, but the lure of the clubs was too strong and off we went, weaving through Austin's maze of construction zones and one-way streets until we found ourselves enjoying a Mississippi band called Buffalo Nickel from an outdoors balcony while sipping Fat Tire beer.

Steve Deaton, left, and Emily Graham, of the band Buffalo Nickel, from Hattiesburg, Miss., perform at Opal Divine's during the South by Southwest music festival in Austin, Wednesday. The festival runs through Sunday.

Across the street, we caught part of a set by Adam Carroll, whose mix of Texas-style songwriting with a healthy dash of John Prine proved engaging, but not engaging enough to keep us from our rendezvous with the Drive-by Truckers.

But we hadn't counted on Genitallica's effect on us. It had been a tough choice between the Holmes Brothers and Drive-by Truckers, and suddenly we decided to skip the Truckers and head to Antones for the deep soul and gospel of the Holmes Brothers. We needed redemption.

From the first notes, we knew we'd made the right decision. Wendell Holmes' bluesy guitar attack was brilliant, Sherman Holmes' thumping bass made my spinal cord vibrate with joy, and together with drummer Popsy Dixon they made a joyful noise. By the time they closed with a raucous "Jesus on the Mainline," the jaded crowd of journalists and industry types was shouting "Testify!"

It was midnight and we'd seen six acts. Deathray Davies were up next, partly on the basis of buzz and partly because we loved the name. But the buzz proved too strong — the line at the club went down the block several minutes after the band's set had started. They don't sound that good anyhow, we told ourselves as we headed to a bar across the street to regroup.

We nursed our wounds and checked the condition of our ears while the bartender discussed the finer points of wasting away on 6th Street and his plans for graduate school in the Czech Republic.

The last shows start at 1 a.m., so we had one more chance. Intrigued by the name, we crossed the street again to see Standing Wave Phenomenon, an unsigned Santa Fe, N.M., band. They introduced themselves simply as Standing Wave, and we were vaguely disappointed at the lack of Phenomenon, but that dissipated with the band's first notes.

What a great band. Somebody sign these guys, you'll make your company a zillion dollars.

The rhythm section churns out rock and funk beneath an acoustic guitar, mandolin and violin, and the vocals are excellent, the songcraft accomplished.

By the time we walk out of the club, we're convinced that Standing Wave ought to be stars. Like the Dave Matthews Band, only good, someone says as we spill out onto the street for gyros and the trip back to the hotel.

We're buzzing with the last notes of Standing Wave, the feeling that we've stumbled onto something great and the certainty that this is what the festival is all about.

Flower Mound has big growth in past decade

FLOWER MOUND (AP) — Since this wooded, lakeside community was founded 40 years ago, people have been flocking here to escape the traffic jams, crowded neighborhoods and views of skyscrapers.

By the 1990s, city services were strained due to the influx of folks wanting to live in the country yet commute to nearby Dallas and Fort Worth.

Flower Mound officials discussed a building moratorium in 1994. But in the meantime, developers applied for three years' worth of permits in a few months.

The town grew 226.54 percent — from 15,527 residents in 1990 to 50,702 residents, according to recently released Census 2000 figures. Flower Mound is now the 48th largest city in Texas, up from 122nd a decade ago.

But local officials say new initiatives approved last year will help them plan growth from now on

"We're trying to keep this from becoming another concrete-covered suburb of Dallas," said Town Councilman Jim Cook.

Texas A&M geography professor Daniel Sui said one way to address the problem is a regional committee of several governments that performs long-range planning for an area, such as the Houston-Galveston Area Council.

Urban sprawl has hit a nerve with environmental groups.

Ken Kramer, Sierra Club director for the state said wildlife also is threatened, including two endangered songbirds north of Austin. Cedar Park, northwest of Austin, sprouted from 5,161 to 26,049 residents in the 1990s, a four-fold increase.

Flower Mound officials last year approved a plan requiring developers to get permits before cutting down certain trees. The town also provides incentives to developers who turn some land into conservation development districts. The plan also includes road, sewer and water projects.

The new program came at the end of a one-year moratorium on residential building permits.

Combs isn't letting weapons, bribery trial spoil his good time

NEW YORK — Sean "Puffy" Combs isn't letting jury deliberations in his weapons and bribery trial stop him from having a good time.

The rap mogul and his entourage were at Radio City Music Hall Thursday night, enjoying a concert by Grammy nominee Jill Scott and Carl Thomas, who is signed to Combs' Bad Boy record label.

At one point, Thomas sang the gospel song "Trouble Don't Last Always," then said, "Puffy, trouble don't last always."

The audience cheered Combs as he moved about the aisles later, and some snapped pictures. Combs stayed until the end of both performances.

Combs, 31, faces up to 15 years in prison if convicted of weapons and bribery charges stemming from a December 1999 shooting that left three people injured. Jamaal "Shyne" Barrow, another Combs' protege, is on trial for attempted murder in the shooting.

The jury has been deliberating the case since Wednesday.

NEW YORK — The crowd at this year's Irish America Top 100 Gala got an unexpected double dose of the Clintons.

New York Sen. Hillary Rodham Clinton was scheduled to present two top awards at the Thursday-night event but was delayed by a vote in the Senate.

Her husband was among those being honored, but was not expected to attend. Former President Clinton said he was in Copenhagen when his wife called, asking him to fill in for her.

As it turned out, she arrived as the awards ceremony was ending, just in time to take the stage.

Both Clintons spoke briefly about the peace process in Ireland and strongly recommended that the United States continue to lend its support.

"We need to stay committed to ensuring that peace remains the goal and that the rewards of peace are present," the senator said.

The gala at the Plaza Hotel, sponsored by Irish America magazine, honored the achievements of 100 Irish-Americans, including Dr. Jerri Nielsen, who struggled with her own breast cancer while working at the South Pole.

LAS VEGAS — Steve Martin? Fine art? Las Vegas?

As Martin might say, "Well, excuuuuuuuse me!"

The comedian, actor, author, banjo player, singer — who'll add Academy Awards host to his resume on March 25 — is going to show the public yet another facet when he displays his collection of modern and contemporary art April 7 at the Bellagio hotel-casino on the Las Vegas Strip.

Why a Las Vegas casino?

"The real reason," Martin says in a catalog to be sold at his first-ever show, is "it sounds like fun."

Martin's show of 28 pieces will include works by Georges Seurat, Roy Lichtenstein, Pablo Picasso, David Hockney, Edward Hopper and others. Two works by David Park and Neil Jenney that Martin previously donated to the Los Angeles County Museum of Art will also be shown.

"The juxtaposition of great art in Las Vegas seems almost like an oxymoron," acknowledged Alan Feldman, spokesman for MGM Mirage resorts, which owns Bellagio.

The upscale resort and The Venetian Resort-Hotel-Casino are among those trying to change the city's neon-lit, velvet painting, home-of-boxing image by promoting museum-quality art galleries.

UNIVERSAL CITY, Calif. — When Dyan Cannon was approached to play the mother of the disparate Bernstein-Flynn siblings on the NBC sitcom "Three Sisters," she was hesitant about doing a weekly show.

Cannon wasn't available when the pilot was shot. She was tied up on Fox's "Ally McBeal" with her recurring role as the sexy, smart Judge Jennifer "Whipper" Cone.

When the series was ordered, Cannon was again approached.

"I was available and I said, 'I don't know,'" Cannon told The Associated Press. It took several meetings and phone calls before she agreed to take the part of Honey Bernstein-Flynn, mom to married Bess, divorced Nora and single Annie.

Is she the same sort of mother in real life — her daughter is actress Jennifer Grant — as vivacious Honey, a yoga and meditation enthusiast and a die-hard Los Angeles Lakers fan?

"Very similar" she said.

NEW YORK — "Dark Angel" star Jessica Alba has "broken ribs doing harness jumps" and "messed up my ribs doing kicks," but the 19-year-old actress says it's been worth it.

"I'm less scared," Alba told Entertainment Weekly in its March 16 issue. "When I walk around I know that if someone attacked me, at least I'd be able to defend myself. I could probably take out an eyeball."

She plays Max, a genetically engineered, smart-mouthed superbabe who has escaped her military handlers and is on the lam in 21st century America.

JACQUELINE BIGAR'S STARS

The Stars Show the Kind of Day You'll Have: 5-Dynamic; 4-Positive; 3-

HAPPY BIRTHDAY for Saturday, March 17, 2001:

Take your time to think and reflect this year. You gain by seeking out information carefully and verifying it with your own inner sense. You will take strong steps, whether they are professional or personal. You will want to change your image and/or profession. If you are single, you are likely to meet someone special soon. This person could change how you feel about relationships. If attached, you two revive your bond this year. CAPRICORN will always be your friend.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) ★★★★ Confusion clears. You feel more at peace with someone than you have for a while. Take your time when considering changes. Start talking with another about travel plans. You might want to do something different this year. Tonight: A force to be dealt with.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) ★★★★★ Make phone calls and reach out for others. You have a way of bringing others together. News from a friend that is overdue appears shortly. Review recent spending, with an eye to a long-term goal. Discuss this with a partner or loved one. Tonight: Go to a music spot.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) ★★★★ Someone makes overtures that make you smile. Not everything is as it seems. Refuse to be cornered by another's thinking. Your understanding makes a big difference in the outcome of events. Listen to a parent or someone you respect. Get going with your taxes. Tonight: Party with a loved one.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) ★★★★ If you aren't going to a St. Patrick's Day party, consider orchestrating your own celebration at home. News from a friend or loved one at a distance does make a big difference in how you feel. Bring others together. Celebrate the moment and the day. Tonight: Where the action is.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) ★★★★ Dig into a project with a partner or friend, and you'll bond deeply. You could misread a child or loved one. Express your happiness and positive feelings. Others respond to your high energy and caring. You even make work fun. Tonight: Put up your feet.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) ★★★★★ Your wild imagination knows no limits. Feedback from others gives you important direction. A relationship could be changing. As a result, you might want to arrange a domestic situation. Take your time and think about what you are doing. Tonight: Do only what you think is fun.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) ★★★★ You might want to stay close to home. Invite others over to join you. A project you have been putting off can no longer be put on hold. Understand what another is really saying. Clarity in communication remains key. Tonight: Order in.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) ★★★★★ Discussions take you down new avenues. What might seem like an emotional or financial bonanza could prove to be most tempting. Establish limits with a clear eye. You understand a lot more than you reveal. Recheck a financial agreement. Tonight: Out and about.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) ★★★★ Discussions within the home or your immediate family complete a circle. You might not understand where another is coming from. A change you have been pondering could be taking far too long. Don't hesitate to start acting on it. Tonight: Your treat.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) ★★★★★ You're in the mood for celebration and enjoying yourself. You might feel as if you could paint the town green, whether you are Irish or not. Invite some friends to celebrate. News confirms something you heard in early February. Tonight: It is your call.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) ★★★ You might want to establish limits within a relationship. Though you're not exactly sure where you are going, changes are afoot. A relationship could be developing into more of a friendship, or a friendship into a love relationship. Understand the possibilities. Tonight: You don't have to spill the beans.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) ★★★★ Recognize what you have been avoiding for the past month and a half. Don't hold back any longer; instead, express your feelings meaningfully. Understand what it is that you want from your work and life. Tonight: In the limelight.

Have Your Large Unwanted Items Removed Year Round

For seventeen years, the City of Midland and Keep Midland Beautiful have sponsored the annual Large Item Pickup in the spring. Now you may take advantage of this wonderful service year round.

By calling 685-7278 to make a reservation, you can have your unwanted furniture and appliances removed free of charge. What a deal!

Some restrictions do apply:

I) No construction debris, bricks, concrete, rock, gravel, plaster or oil will be picked up
2) No tires, car batteries or liquid wastes
3) If tree branches or shrubs are to be included, they must be cut into 3 feet lengths or less, bundled and tied.
4) No tree stumps
5) House number prominently displayed in alley on fence would be helpful.
6) Place items in alley at your property. Items on private property will not be removed.

Items that are recyclable will be recycled. For more information please call the City of Midland at 685-7278.

"Classified is like a good novel, every page has something new and interesting!"

GENERAL INFORMATION:

To ensure the integrity of our newspaper, for the benefit of our readers and advertisers, the Midland Reporter-Telegram reserves the right the revise, reclassify, edit or refuse any advertising. We also reserve the right to convert all advertising into digital and/or audiotext formats within our other products and services.

Please check your ad the first day it appears, and, if you find a mistake, please call our office at 682-6222 so we can correct the error immediately. This will ensure that your ad is exactly what you want readers to see. If an error does occur, you can choose to rerun your ad once for free, or we'll gladly refund the cost of the portion of the ad affected by the error. If an ad is inadvertently omitted, we will assume liability up to the cost of the ad itself – consequently, we will publish your ad in our next available edition or refund the price you have paid.

Rate charges are determined at the time of placement. All ads accepted are subject to credit approval. Some classifications require payment in advance. Credit applications are required for business accounts.

We welcome your suggestions or comments. Please call, Brandi Alexander, Telephone Sales Supervisor, 687-8813.

HOUSEHOLD ITEMS:

Do you have furniture, appliances, or other unwanted household items? If so, don't let these items take up precious storage space. We've got 3 economical ways for you to turn clutter into cash!

❶ Super Seller I - We'll advertise your household item (priced under $350) for… 7 DAYS 15 WORDS $10.50

❷ Super Seller II - We'll advertise your household item (priced under $150) for… 7 DAYS 15 WORDS $5.50

Write an ad with 15 words to describe your household furniture or appliance and call today!

❸ Free Bee - …That's right, we'll advertise your household item (priced under $50) for 4 days absolutely FREE! 4 DAYS 15 WORDS FREE

(Mon. - Thur.) Submit your 15 word ad in writing (please fax it, mail it, or bring it in).

All of our specials are for private non-commercial individuals only and some specials require pre-payment some do not. One item per ad please. One FREE BEE per family per week. Call 682-6222 for complete details.

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE:

❶ Sure Sell - Advertise anything on wheels, until it sells. That's right, everyday, as long as it takes! 20 WORDS $29.95 UNTIL IT SELLS

Think of 20 words to describe your vehicle (including the price) and call us today!

You'll get 24 words to describe your vehicle. You can bring a photo to us or we'll take one for you! Call us today for details.

❸ Sell It In 10 - Advertise anything on wheels for 10 days. In the unlikely event that it doesn't sell, we'll run it for 10 more days FREE! If it still doesn't sell, we'll run it 10 more days FREE if you drop the price 10%. 4 LINES 10 DAYS FREE $20.50

You'll get 4 lines to describe your vehicle (that's about 18 words, including the price). If you would like more information in your ad, each additional line is only $5.

All of our specials are for private non-commercial individuals only and some specials require pre-payment some do not. One item per ad please. Call 682-6222 for complete details.

PLACING AN AD:

Call 682-6222, Monday through Friday, from 8a.m. – 6p.m.

A friendly Advertising Consultant will help you word and schedule your ad for best results.

HOW TO WRITE A CLASSIFIED AD THAT WORKS!

❶ Promote Your Merchandise - The more descriptive you are the more likely your merchandise will appeal to someone.

❷ Check The Market Value - The most common mistake that occurs is over or under pricing your goods.

❸ Always Include The Price - People are more likely to respond when they know the price range.

❹ Keyword Your Ad - Begin each ad with the name of the item such as 'Stove' or 'Guitar' rather than 'Kenmore' or 'Gibson.' 'Ford 1997' instead of '1997 Ford', or by its key reference point, such as location or area in real estate ads.

AutomotiveTODAY

Well-built excitement: 2001 Pontiac Grand Am coupe/sedan

RoadWorthy!

By Ken Chester, Jr.

Fresh from its 1999 model year redesign, Pontiac's volume leader continues to evolve, cementing its leadership position in the compact segment of the market. Consistently ranked as one of the top 10 selling automobiles, Grand Am's combination of bold athletic design, spirited driving performance, confident stance, aero-sleek roofline and solid execution radiates well-built excitement to the American driving public.

Available in two-door coupe and four-door sedan body styles, the Pontiac Grand Am is offered in SE base, SE1, GT and GT1 trim levels. The vehicle lineup has been simplified with the elimination of the SE2 model in order to give customers a choice of models with the most popular features just right for them.

Built in General Motors in Lansing, Mich., the Grand Am is propelled by a selection of two powerplants: the base (LD9) 2.4L Twin Cam 16-valve four-cylinder (SE) or the upscale (LA1) 3.4L 3400 Ram Air Induction V-6 motor (GT).

Consumers that choose the SE1 trim level can opt for the more powerful engine for $665 additional. A Getrag-sourced five speed manual gearbox is the base transmission with GM's 4T45-E automatic transaxle the standard torque box for the six-cylinder.

For 2001, upgraded Delco sound systems are standard, with the Monsoon premium audio system standard on GT, optional on SE. New features include interior cloth trim, 15 inch aluminum twin five-spoke wheels and lower child safety-seat anchors for the rear seat. Three new exterior colors: Galaxy Silver Metallic, Champaign Beige Metallic and Dark Bronzemist Metallic have been added to the color palate.

On the road, the Grand Am is nimble and responsive. The unitized body structure was designed to optimize chassis stiffness while minimizing weight. An independent suspension is built on this rigid foundation – the front consists of MacPherson struts with lower control arms, coil springs and a 24-mm hollow stabilizer bar. The rear is equipped with a Tri-link suspension, coil springs, shocks and a 15.3-mm solid stabilizer bar.

P215/60R15 blackwall touring tires for SE and P225/50R16 touring rubber for GT work with the suspension hardware to keep the Grand Am firmly on the pavement.

Interior design is focused on the driver with features like large, circular instruments backlit with warm, red illumination. The instrument panel is a seamless design of low gloss and soft touch. Large, round knobs make the climate control system easy to use.

The center console accommodates large beverage cups – up to three in the front and two in the rear – while providing storage, a coin holder and armrest. Rear seat occupants have not been neglected, with a comfortable environment for two adults. A split folding rear seat back is standard in SE1 and GT models, adding versatility to the 14.6 cu. ft. cargo capacity of the trunk.

Ratings & Specifications

Engine performance numbers are as follow: 2.4L Twin Cam four-cylinder – 150 hp at 5,600 rpm and 155 lb/ft of torque at 4,400 rpm (SE); 3.4L 3400 six-cylinder – 175 hp at 4,000 rpm and 205 lb/ft of torque at 4,000 rpm (GT). Performance figures for SE1 models equipped with the optional 3.4L engine are 170 hp at 4,800 rpm and 195 lb/ft of torque at 4,000 rpm.

EPA fuel economy figures range from 21 city/32 highway for the six-cylinder to 21 city/29 highway for the four-cylinder. Both engines use regular unleaded gasoline. Underhood fluids are easily accessible but not consistently marked.

Standard safety/security features include daytime running lights with automatic light control, dual front airbags, automatic power door locks, fog lamps, battery rundown protection, four-wheel anti-lock brakes, enhanced traction control system and PASSLock II theft-deterrent system. SE1 adds remote keyless entry. GT adds tire inflation monitor and four-wheel disc brakes with anti-lock.

The base Manufacturer's Suggested Retail Price (MSRP) for the 2001 Pontiac Grand Am starts at $16,140 for the SE base coupe to $21,805 for the GT1 sedan. Destination charge adds $585. Pontiac is offering $1,000 in customer cash that ends April 2. Dealers report ample supplies of the Grand Am in stock.

Budget sophistication: 2001 HYUNDAI XG300 SEDAN

RoadWorthy!

By Ken Chester, Jr.

Hyundai has come a long way in 15 years. Starting with the boxy, inexpensive Excel subcompact, the company has survived the rough and tumble nature of the American automotive marketplace, fielding several home runs this year. Starting with the Santa Fe SUV and now with the company's new flagship sedan, the XG300, the scrappy Korean automaker is rewriting the definition of vehicle quality and value.

The XG300 is larger than the midsize Sonata and takes its rightful place as the largest, most luxurious and expensive model offered by Hyundai in the United States. The dimensions of the new sedan are larger than the Sonata in every way.

Designed to compete in the upper middle, near luxury sedan segment, the front-drive sedan is equipped with a full complement of luxury features. Available in base and L trim levels, the Hyundai flagship is powered by a sophisticated 3.0L DOHC 24-valve six-cylinder engine joined to a five-speed Shiftronic automatic transmission with manual overdrive.

On the road, the XG300 is nimble, responsive and willing to run. The drivetrain, complete with a variable intake system, anti-vibration balance shaft and fully-adaptive gearbox accelerates like a larger engine.

The front suspension is independent, double wishbone with coil springs, gas-filled special low-velocity control valving hydraulic shocks with an anti-roll bar. The rear suspension is also independent, multi-link with dynamic toe control with coil springs, hydraulic shocks with an anti-roll bar. Michelin Energy MXV4 Plus P205/65R15 tires assist the suspension hardware to keep the XG300 glued to the pavement.

Inside, the cabin is well equipped with tasteful leather appointments throughout – steering wheel, seating surfaces, door inserts and center armrest. Displays and controls are easy to read and use. Outward visibility is good with plenty of places to stow items. The center armrest doubles as two storage areas, with the deep one containing a power point in addition to the dash mounted one for portable electronic appliances.

Back seat passengers receive the same royal treatment in the XG300, starting with plenty of leg room and comfort for two adults – full fold-down armrest with storage area and cupholders. The 60/40 rear seat back folds down to add flexibility to the 14.5 cu. ft. of trunk space.

Hundai's factory warranty is so good it is worth mention. Called the Hyundai Advantage, it easily offers the most comprehensive coverage in its class. In short it consists of 10 year/100,000 mile powertrain, five year/60,000 mile bumper-to-bumper coverage and (get this,) five year/unlimited-mile roadside assistance.

Ratings & Specifications

Engine performance numbers are 192 hp at 6,000 rpm and 178 lb/ft of torque. EPA fuel economy figures are 19 city/27 highway using regular unleaded gasoline. Underhood fluids are very accessible but not consistently marked.

Standard safety/security equipment includes dual front airbags with passenger detection system, front seat mounted side impact airbags, remote keyless entry, four-wheel disc brakes with anti-lock, fog lamps and electronic traction control.

The base Manufacturer's Suggested Retail Price (MSRP) for the Hyundai XG300 sedan starts at $23,499 for the base sedan and $24,999 for the upscale L model. Destination charge adds $435. Dealers report ample supplies of the new flagship, so choosing one should not be a problem.
