WITH SOIL STORAGE SATURATED FROM around eight inches of rain in a week, the five to six inches of torrential rains that hit Saturday created major flooding in parts of Sonora. Residents owe much to the foresightedness of men such as the late E. B. Keng, Soil Conservation Technician and others who engineered flood prevention dams in this area after the disastrous flood in Crockett County. The thirteen flood prevention dams on Dry Devil's River and Lowrey Draw afforded protection from major flood damage, although considerable damage to city streets occurred along with water damage to many homes. For the first time in the history of the county, water flooded into homes with basements, as well as many other places. Saunders Flower Shop, in the basement of the Saunders home, at one time had 30 inches of water. Water was in the courthouse basement, the Edwin Sawyer home, Norman Rousselot, Warren Hemphill, Jack Sharp, Mrs. J. F. Howell, the Methodist Church and many others.

Mrs. Joe Hull Plans Resignation From Cancer Unit

Mrs. Joe R. Hull, volunteer worker for the American Cancer Society, Sutton County Unit for the past 18 years, is resigning effective August 31. Mrs. Hull worked with Mrs. Alvis Johnson the first eight years as secretary of the local organization.

As duties in the organization grew, the memorials secretary and secretarial positions were separated, so at that time Mrs. Hull was named Memorials Chairman. She has served in this capacity for the past ten years. In announcing her resignation, Mrs. Hull cited health reasons and family responsibilities.

She said, "I wish to express my thanks to all the people of Sutton County for giving to this great cause. Be a good volunteer. We need you. Give a little of yourself to this local unit".

Sutton County To Have Special Turkey Season

The County Commission in their Monday meeting approved and adopted the proclamation for Texas Parks and Wildlife for this year hunting season with no change.

Of particular interest to persons in this county, the department proclamation in regards to turkey kill states "... there shall be a special open season on turkey, gobblers or bearded hens October 1 through October 31, during which only longbows and arrows may be used. Additionally, there shall be an open Spring season on turkey gobblers from April 21 through April 29 in the Possum Kingdom Regulatory".

In adopting the proclamation in regards to turkey kill, the commission noted that ranchmen will continue to control whether turkey kill at these dates will be allowed.

4-H Center Aid O.K.'ed

At the Monday meeting of the County Commission, County Agent D. C. Langford, Gene Wallace and George Wallace, representing the Parents 4-H Club, requested monetary assistance from the county in meeting fixed expenses at the 4-H Center.

Langford reported that utilities and insurance have averaged around $921 annually at the Center, and it is anticipated these expenses will accelerate since remodeling and the addition of appliances. The group reported that the building is used by a number of civic organizations, as well as individuals who rent it for private parties.

Langford said the local 4-H Club is the only one in this area with this type building that is available for community use. Cost of the building and fixtures is approximately $50,000. After discussing maintenance, etc., the commission agreed to pay $900 annually to the 4-H Club to help defray some of the current expenses.

COUNTY AGENT OFFICE County Agricultural Agent Langford announced that he will be moving his office from the courthouse to the First National Bank building in the near future. The commission agreed to pay $80 per month as payment for partial secretarial services for his office. This amount will help defray the expense of answering and record keeping services for Langford.

BUDGET HEARING The county budget hearing will be held in early September said County Judge J. W. Elliott, with the date to be announced later. It is anticipated that the current rate of $1.15 per $100 valuation will be continued. The budget is to be based on the $11,000,000 evaluation within the county. Judge Elliott said the county is presently free of indebtedness, and the tax rate has gradually been reduced to the present $1.15 from a one time high of $1.40.

AMBULANCE SERVICE The ambulance situation continues to be a source of dissension here along with many small villages across Texas.

In meeting with Mar Adams, Justice of the Peace, who has operated the ambulance for the past two months, Adams indicated he would continue operation of the ambulance for a salary of $200 per month. The commission was agreeable and has requested the city to pay half the sum. City commission plans to meet later to discuss participation in the plan.

This fee would be payable to Adams for his service of being on call only, and would not interfere with collection of fees for transporting persons to the local hospital, or out-of-town. Plans are for Adams to maintain minor repairs to the ambulance along with gasoline purchases. Adams plans to take the necessary first aid course for ambulance personnel.

Ram Progeny, Performance Tests To Begin In Sept. At Sonora Station

Joe R. Stewart, Research Associate, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station has released plans for the annual ram progeny and performance tests at the Sonora Station to begin September 27.

The initial shearing of the rams will be sometime between September 20 and September 26, and all entries should be brought in on or before September 20. Since there will not be much of a warm-up period, it is advisable that the rams have a little time to become accustomed to feed before going on test, Stewart said.

This year the test will again be a 140-day feeding period, with weights taken every 28 days as in the past. The ration will be the same as that used last year. It is a pelleted ration commercially prepared on which the rams perform very well. The cost of the feed will be approximately $67 per ton.

Sire pens will be used as far as possible and will be assigned on a first-come, first-served basis, with a limit of two pens to the breeder, or one pen to the breeder if the number of cooperators entering rams should exceed the number of pens available. Animals in excess of available pens will be fed in open lots.

The test will be on a self-sustaining basis as it was last year, with cooperators paying the cost of feed, shearing, medical expense and actual labor on a per-ram basis. Fred Campbell, manager of Sonora Wool & Mohair, will assume responsibility for feed purchasing, and will use the funds as necessary for operation of the test, Stewart said. The fee this year will be $50 per ram.

Stewart reminds breeders that entries should be signed with the Sonora Station as soon as possible, along with the $50 per head deposit.

Jr. High Football Physicals Planned For Next Week

Junior High football practice is scheduled to begin at 3 p. m. Monday, according to an announcement by Coach Oliver Wuest. All boys who plan to participate should bring shoes, socks and towels to school Monday morning, he added.

Eighth grade boys will undergo a physical examination in the office of Dr. C. F. Browne at 5:30 p. m. Tuesday, and seventh-graders will have physicals at 5:30 Wednesday.

Wuest will be coaching the 8th-grade, while Coaches David Porter and Travis Harkins will coach seventh-grade boys.

School Board Stresses Immunization Program

Meeting with members of Sonora Independent School Board of Trustees and three members of the Advisory Committee at the Monday night meeting was Dr. Charles F. Browne, who explained the immunization program requirements to the committee.

Dr. Browne said every effort was made to concentrate on the immunization program in February, and parents were asked to bring students previous immunization records to the school nurse, Mrs. Oliver Wuest. Mrs. Wuest also sent out requests and notes were given to children to take home to their parents, advising of the necessity of meeting immunization requirements.

Dr. Browne said he made arrangements with the State Board of Health sometime ago

H. C. Kiser, Sr. Dies Of Apparent Heart Attack

Mr. H. C. ("Dutch") Kiser, Sr., died here about 8 a. m. Wednesday, August 9, 1972, apparently after suffering a heart attack.

Services were held at 5 p. m. Thursday in First Baptist Church with the Rev. Clifton Hancock officiating. Burial was in Sonora Cemetery, directed by Ratliff-Kerbow Funeral Home.

He was born October 24, 1897 in Mason County and was married to Maggie Jones at Pear Valley, January 7, 1917. He moved to Sutton County in 1918 and was manager of the Roy Hudspeth ranches for 26 years. After Mr. Hudspeth's death, he operated ranches in Del Rio and Van Horn. He purchased the Eden Locker Plant in 1964 and returned here in 1968, after his retirement. He spent a great deal of time at the Powers Livestock Sales continuing to be occupied until his death.

Mr. Kiser was a member of the Baptist Church.

Survivors include his wife; two daughters, Mrs. Carl Harris of Fort Stockton and Mrs. Louis Powers; a son, H. C. Kiser, Jr. of Houston; his mother, Mrs. J. L. Kiser; two sisters, Mrs. Ruth Cox of Odessa and Mrs. Emma Bradshaw of Eldorado; three brothers, Hugh Kiser of Arkansas City, Kansas, Charlie Kiser of Big Spring and Ernest Kiser of Ozona; 16 grandchildren and several great-grandchildren.

Serving as pallbearers were grandsons Bobby Harris, James Harris and Clifton Harris of Fort Stockton, and Zane Powers, Jimmy Powers and Mickey Powers.

to give free immunizations to those who were not financially able to pay for the service for their children.

Parents are again being reminded that these immunizations must be started within the next two weeks in order for students to remain in school. Ranchmen are being particularly urged to call this to the attention of ranch workers who have children in school. This is a state requirement for all school children, and is necessary if a student is to remain in school.

NEW TEACHERS School trustees approved the employment of three additional teachers at the Monday meeting. Approved were Mrs. Willard (Mary Ann) Roper, Miss Jane Baker and Tom Barclay.

Mrs. Roper, a local resident, is a graduate of Angelo State University, and Miss Baker moves here from Quannah, and is a former Home Economics teacher. She holds a Master Degree in Library Science, and will replace Mrs. Ruby Dameron as Librarian.

Barclay will teach math in high school. He is a graduate of Howard Payne at Brownwood and has seven years experience in Cuero schools and four years at Bangs. He comes here from the Bangs schools.

Also approved by the board was the employment of Mrs. Kyle (Elaine) Donaldson, who will make the afternoon bus run out the Bond Road. Mrs. Bob Snodgrass will continue to make the morning drive.

RESIGNATIONS The resignation of Jerry Horn was accepted. Horn resigned to accept a position in the Big Spring schools, where he will continue as a coach and math teacher.

OTHER SCHOOL BUSINESS A contract with the Education Center in obtaining audio-visual aids was approved. Also approved was data processing for payroll and tax statements purposes.

Bills payable in the amount of $2,983.07 were approved for payment. The Budget was approved and a more detailed report on the budget will be submitted next week.

The $780,647 budget is $46,000 over last year, due to salary increases, according to superintendent Ken McAllister.

Web Elliott, representing the various insurance companies, met briefly with the board to answer questions in regards to the school insurance. Elliott said values on the school property for insurance purposes were raised last year. He added that agencies do not anticipate any increase in insurance premiums this year.

Facts And Opinions

Notes "Private Practice" magazine: "Doctors are considered the most trustworthy of citizens by the American people according to a team of psychologists from the University of Connecticut who conducted a comprehensive study of public attitudes toward 20 occupations. Most people think politicians are more honest than used car salesmen, but not by much. When it comes to telling the truth they would sooner believe a plumber.

According to the study, only used car salesmen, who finished 20th in the ratings, ranked lower than politicians in terms of public trust, while plumbers were listed 12th ahead of business executives, Army generals, television repairmen, newspaper columnists, auto repairmen and labor union officials. On the basis of competence and altruism, the politician and used car salesman also finished at the bottom of the ratings, the team said.

Heading the list were medical doctors, followed by clergymen, dentists, judges, psychologists, college professors, psychiatrists, high school teachers, lawyers and law enforcement officials.

The Pacific Gas and Electric Company managers are cautioning political candidates to advise their volunteer helpers: "Keep the posters off of power poles, please." Linemen climbing with leg irons risk falls that could cause serious injury if the pole is studded with nails, staples, tacks, and other foreign objects which cause spikes to slip, PG&E says.

According to the publication "Span", "It is the conviction of the management of (Standard Oil Company, Indiana) that our major responsibility to society is to take the assets entrusted to us and, through their creative use, to employ them so as to give back to society more than we started with. If we are successful, we create jobs, supply better products to our customers, provide tax revenues to support government, yield a profit, and pay a fair return to our shareholders on their investment."

"Railroads are definitely not a dying industry. They carry 40 percent of all the nation's freight tonnage. If they didn't exist, we would have to invent them. Otherwise, we could not exist." -Mr. Henry A. Correa, president of ACF Industries, Inc., of New York.

Mr. Carl E. Baggee, president of the National Coal Association comments: "I am sure all reasonable men recognize there are real problems involved in producing and consuming energy fuels without damaging the natural environment—but all too often they bear little relation to the unrealistic solutions insisted upon—and imposed upon us—by the professional environmentalists."

A Bishop Looks at Life

THE LIGHT TOUCH

By Everett H. Jones, Retired Bishop of the Episcopal Church

Today hostility and anger are "in". The light touch is "out". Where has our sense of humor gone?

Sigmund Freud once said, "Only relatively civilized people have a sense of humor." Kahill, the poet-philosopher, said, "A sense of humor is a sense of proportion."

We need humor to lubricate our human relationships. Not the scathing sarcasm of a Don Rickles but the gentle touch of the late Will Rogers, who could make us laugh at ourselves.

Some years ago while I was a minister in Waco, Will Rogers came to town to speak at Baylor University. The President of Baylor at that time was a distinguished Baptist layman, Pat M. Neff, who had previously served as Governor of Texas. Will spoke in the large auditorium of the newly-constructed Waco Hall.

After his introduction by President Neff, Will ambled forward, looked around, scratched his head, and said, "Well, Mrs. President, you certainly must have nicked a lot of Baptists for this building. But be careful, Mr. President, if you educate these young people too much they'll quit being Baptists."

One of the remarkable facts about a wise use of humor is that people are drawn together when they laugh together. It is a solvent that keeps us from taking ourselves too seriously. A good public speaker knows that the best way to unify his audience is by an amusing story or incident.

Moreover, in the atmosphere of humor we often get a new and deeper insight into the meaning of another religious or racial group. Perhaps Lee Trevino is more important as a lovable ambassador for the Mexican people than as a world-famous golfer. How much we can learn from the play "Fiddler on the Roof" about Jewish life and faith, and from the play "Green Pastures" about Negro life and faith!

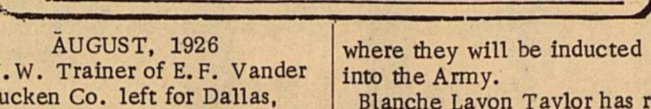

As we begin to get tense and touchy during this year of political controversy, we shall be saved from a lot of "wear and tear" if we keep a sense of humor. When we hear a politician extol his party and excoriate the opposition, it will help our perspective to remember there is one bunch of sinners running against another.

He Poses A Problem For Airlines That Are Already Sick Over Hijacking

Editor's note: The Dry Devil's Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on Dry Devil's River foresees a problem that's going to be hard to handle.

Dear editor:
There's one problem coming up in connection with airplane hijacking that the airlines and the government apparently are overlooking.

Here's the situation: the first hijacker several years ago, as I recall, demanded something like $50,000 and got it. Then a little later another demanded $100,000 and that too was produced.

Getting bolder, on account of inflation I guess, the next one demanded $250,000 and got it. Recognizing a trend when he saw one, the next hijacker demanded $500,000 and collected. And just last week a group of hijackers asked for a cool million dollars, and that too was handed over.

Now here's the problem that's looming up: suppose the next hijacker demands 5 million dollars, the next one 10, and then finally somebody gets on board a plane loaded with say 300 passengers and demands One Billion Dollars.

What is the airline going to do? It can't say, go ahead, blow up the plane. And yet how is it going to round up a billion dollars?

It might try borrowing it from Washington, but Washington is so far behind on its installment payments now it's in no shape to take on anything else. One more item added to its monthly payments and everything it's got might be repossessed.

The only solution I can figure out is for the airlines to post signs at airports in big letters saying: "Attention, Hijackers, Positively No Ransom Exceeding 1 Million Dollars Can Be Paid. Limit One To A Customer."

I don't think this will do any good, but then nothing else is working either.
Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Screwworm Eradication Program Told

Screwworms are being reported from all areas of Texas, as well as two-thirds of the state of Oklahoma. Only the far eastern and northeastern portions of Oklahoma remain free of the livestock pest. In addition, screwworms are being reported from the southern one-third of the state of New Mexico, the southern half of Arizona, and from Imperial and Riverside Counties in California. Although screwworms have been reported near the Louisiana border in far east Texas, there have not as yet been any cases confirmed this year from Louisiana or Arkansas.

The National Screwworm Production facility at Mission, has been at maximum production since the first of May this year. The average sterile fly release since that time has been nearly 200 million per week, whereas prior to the first of May, the average weekly production was about 120 million per week.

It was apparent by the end of 1971 that additional funds would be necessary in order to prevent a spring buildup of screwworms in the United States and particularly in Texas, as screwworms migrate north from Mexico naturally in the spring.

It was also apparent that any delay in receiving additional funds after the spring buildup began, coupled with favorable weather conditions, could very likely result in the spread of screwworms throughout most of the southwestern United States.

The spring buildup began about a month earlier than usual this year due to an exceptionally mild winter in northeastern Mexico and in south Texas. By the time additional funds became available to allow the plant at Mission to increase production of sterile flies to the maximum, screwworms had migrated north from Mexico and invaded more than half of Texas—as well as southern Arizona.

Weather conditions in northern Mexico and over most of the southwestern United States have remained exceptionally favorable for screwworm propagation on into the summer. Screwworms have continued to spread into previously free areas and the southwest United States is now experiencing the worst outbreak since 1961, which was one year prior to the inception of the screwworm eradication program.

The theory of eradication of screwworms with the sterile male technique is to release a large enough number of sterile male screwworms flies over a vast area to outnumber or overwhelm the native male population in that area.

Enough of the female screwworm flies, which only breed once in their lifetime, may then mate with sterile males, resulting in a significant reduction in the native fly population. As heavy as the screwworm infestation is in Texas at the present time, eradication of screwworms would take at least four to six months of weekly releases of

Exotic Animals Increasing Rapidly

Exotic animals on Texas ranches are experiencing a population boom, according to Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials.

Between 1963 and 1971 the number of exotic animals has increased by 254 percent. Department biologists say 35 species are represented by 46,611 animals.

The majority of the animals are found behind deepproof fences in the Edwards Plateau region.

The animals, according to a 1971 census, include mouflon sheep (17,069), axis deer (11,171), blackbuck antelope (5,491), nilgai antelope (4,120), aoudad sheep (3,217), fallow deer (2,617), sika deer (2,036), red deer (307) and four-horn sheep (150).

Other species make up .9 percent of the state's total exotic population. They are sambar deer, eland, barasingha, oryx, impala, llama, greater kudu, sitatunga, pygmy deer, gazelle, blebok, giraffe, waterbuck, sable antelope, ibex, pygmy goat, springbuck,gnu, Thompson gazelle, topi, suni antelope, addax, argali, zebra and nyala.

The only introduction sponsored by the Parks and Wildlife Department was the stocking of aoudad sheep in the Palo Duro Canyon. With the exception of aoudads in that area and axis deer in Kendall County, exotics are not subject to regulation, even if not confined to the owner's ranch.

Biologists have been studying these animals' life histories, food habits and habitat preferences for several years. Presently, studies are underway to determine the degree of competition between the exotics and native white-tailed deer.

Even wine and brewer's yeast cannot stand more than a certain amount of alcohol, so straight fermented drinks do not have more than 14 percent alcohol.

sterile screwworm flies in sufficient numbers.

Cooperation from the livestock industry is needed more now than in many years:

- 1) The submission of samples of suspected screwworm cases to our laboratory for identification is the only way we have of knowing where screwworms are and in what numbers they exist. These samples are important whether sterile flies are released over the area or not.
- 2) The creating of wounds on animals, such as castrating, dehorning or branding should be avoided until cold weather.
- 3) Animals should be inspected daily or as often as possible and all wounds, regardless of how large or small, should be treated with a larvacide and insect repellent.
- 4) Animals should be sprayed or dipped in one of the recommended organo-phosphate systemic insecticides when animals are gathered for whatever purpose.

Although the battle against screwworms is apparently lost this year, we need to begin thinking now about next year. A United States - Mexico Screwworm Eradication Program is at least two years away. It is thus necessary to push screwworms as far south as possible this fall and winter in order to minimize another spring buildup next year in the southwestern United States.

The fly production facility at Mission will remain at maximum production at least until this fall in the light of the present outbreak, even though our annual budget does not allow for this continued high level of spending.

Young People Recount Perception Of Europe

RUSSIA
by David Wallace

This is the third in a series of articles by local young people who spent a 43-day People-to-People visit in Europe this summer. This article on Russia is submitted by David Wallace, son of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Wallace.

There was one country that left an impression on us more than any other—Russia. We realized how great it is to have civil rights and freedom to do what we want. Russia gave us a vision of a country that is very interested in improving their military, but not interested in its people as individuals.

In Russia we had the feeling that the people couldn't do or say many things freely. The schedule that we had was very flexible in many places we went to, but in Russia we had to stay on a very rigid schedule. There were many restrictions that were put on us that made us appreciate our freedom.

No matter how a country showed us its bad side, it seemed always to have a good one, too. We saw an opera in Russia that showed its culture and its past.

It seemed that the Russian people never smiled and they walked alone, showing that they didn't have many friends. They never gathered on the streets, indicating that they didn't have many friends, and that they were afraid to speak their piece. Almost everywhere we went in Russia, there was a guard in sight.

The whole trip made me glad I am an American. It also revealed to me how the Europeans dislike Russia. Most of the Europeans fear Russia, probably one reason they like American troops in their countries.

All of the people on our tour were pleased to see Russia, and they were also pleased to leave. Russia was like a two-way mirror—only the people that find their way in can find their way out.

WORMS ARE HIDDEN PROFIT ROBBERS

Worms are virtually everywhere livestock are raised. No animals are believed to be completely worm-free.

Worms in the stomach, intestines and lungs of cattle, sheep & goats cost America's cattlemen an estimated $250 million annually. The majority of these losses result from the slow, steady drain on weight gain and feed efficiency and lowered resistance to secondary infections.

In most cases losses resulting from worm damage are so gradual that they can easily go unnoticed—even though they cost from $3 to $10 a head.

A sound worming program is a necessary part of any cattle management system.

Texas Animal Health Commissioner's latest reports confirmed 3,000 screwworm cases a week; only one out of ten were reported. Spray now—prevent further outbreak.

Maybe you like smiling babies? Sorry to disappoint you, but I've got a lot on my mind.

There's something wrong in America . . . and I'm the chap who is getting hurt!

Our Constitution says that no one can be denied the right to worship God. I'm an American! According to the Constitution I have the right to learn about God, to hear the Bible Stories, to be taught the Christian Way of Life.

But here's the hitch. While the Government can't deny me the right to attend church school and church—MY PARENTS CAN. They can rob me of my most sacred right just by neglecting my spiritual needs.

Did you know that about half the children in America are growing up without religious training? And yet there's a church in every village!

Yes sir, I'm serious! Instead of talking about it, we ought to do something! And we ought to start Sunday!

find the FREEZER that's right for you

Large families can easily pay for a freezer through food bill savings. But not every family can justify the purchase of a large food freezer.

• For instance, a small family may find all the freezing space needed in a combination refrigerator-freezer without the additional investment in a separate appliance. Other small families disagree, finding the convenience of a food freezer well worth its cost.

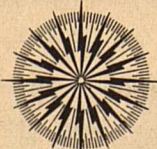

• Since the life expectancy of a freezer or refrigerator-freezer is 14 to 16 years, smart consumers will shop carefully. You may want to plan ahead to the time when family size may increase.

• A major consideration in your freezer selection should be your anticipated source for large quantities of food, either grown or produced yourself, or purchased by nearby wholesalers. Another important consideration is the frequency of your family's shopping.

• The frozen food compartment in a refrigerator-freezer should be large enough to hold at least one week's supply of meats and groceries, with additional room for convenience items, party foods, beverages and storage of leftovers.

• Select the special features carefully. For instance, automatic ice makers and special compartments for meat are popular and desirable. But, depending on your family's needs, these features may occupy space needed for frozen food storage. Automatic defrosting is extremely important, providing better ice storage and easier reading of frozen food labels. It will prevent packages from freezing together and put an end to messy defrosting chores.

• Your best bet is to look at many brands, models and features. You may prefer an upright or a chest type or maybe a refrigerator-freezer. But whatever your taste and needs, shop carefully. It will be worth the effort.

THE FIVE TO SIX-INCH RAIN that fell Saturday in about three hours dumped water into Lowrey Draw so rapidly that homeowners in the vicinity were concerned that the surging waters might overflow. Herbert Fields reported that he has measured 13.02 inches of rainfall during the month of August. Most ranchmen in this area reported 5½ to 6 inches Saturday, with Jim Bob Altizer, whose ranch borders Val Verde, Edwards and Sutton Counties, reporting 13 inches. Several Sonorans were marooned in the Juno area on Devil's River on a fishing trip, and it was reported that the Jack Neill station wagon was swept away by flood waters. Neill was rescued from the top of his car before the waters carried his car on down the river.

BIDS REJECTED

Two bids were received for the purchase of a new car for use in the sheriff's department. Both bids were rejected by the commission as they voted to advertise at a later date for a 1973 automobile, as the '73 models will be on the market in the near future.

COUNTY ATTORNEY

County Attorney Waymon G. DuBose requested a parttime secretarial allowance, and the commission proposed to allow him $1800 annually on the salary of a secretary. They also voted the sum of $900 to be paid to the County Judge for parttime secretarial help in his office.

Commissioners R. L. Hardgrave, Collier Shurley and Preston Love, along with Judge Elliott were at the meeting.

City Tax Rate Remains Same

In a special meeting of the City Commission Thursday, August 10, the budget hearing was held and the budget adopted.

The tax rate was set at $1 on each $100 evaluation, which is the same as last year. In the absence of commissioner Walter L. Pope and with Mayor Norman Rousselot and commissioner Mrs. T.K. Nevill attending, other matters were tabled until the commission meets in September.

The September meeting will be held Thursday, September 7, since the first Monday is Labor Day.

Coffee Break

By Shirley Hill

If this week starts off like last week I will never finish this column, because I will probably tear up my typewriter long before I finish. Wouldn't surprise me one bit to see it lying in the middle of the floor broken in ever how many pieces a large IBM typewriter can break in after falling two feet onto a concrete floor.

My week started off last week when I was driving my car across town. A few blocks from home the motor started making some large clattering noises that even I knew was not right. Joe Hull, local garage owner and Ford dealer where we had purchased the car, made me feel better by telling me I had only thrown, busted or what ever you do to a rod??

Next day trying to get a little washing done, guess what? You guessed it, my washing machine made almost the same noise as my car. Didn't really give much thought to being bewitched until the vacuum cleaner quit running later that evening.

While most of the summer at our house has been spent in some repairing and remodeling, we purchased a new kitchen sink. Somewhere in the process of preparing a hurried meal, I scooped up the strainer to the sink and I suppose threw it in the garbage, thus allowing a knife to fall into the drain.

The first time in 11 years she has had all her children home at one time.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Cockrell, Jeff and Patti, left Wednesday for Eunice, New Mexico, where they will make their home. Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Fisher have purchased the Cockrell home located on the Bond Road.

Visiting Mrs. D. Q. Adams is her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Summers of Redondo Beach, California. Also visiting Mrs. Adams are her grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Summers and Mr. and Mrs. David Summers of Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Tom Nevill are their granddaughters, Heather of Arlington and April of Eastland. Heather is also visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Lois Young.

IDLE HOUR BRIDGE CLUB
The Idle Hour Bridge Club met with Mrs. R. C. Vicars last Tuesday afternoon at her home. Homemade ice cream, cake, coffee and tea were served to those attending.

Club members were Mmes. Sterling Baker, Ben Cusenbary, W. R. Cusenbary, Frankie Gibson, R. A. Halbert, George Wynn, J. F. Howell and Belle Steen.

Mrs. Steen was high club winner; Mrs. Ben Cusenbary, second high; Mrs. Gibson, low and Mrs. Halbert, bingo.

42 FUN CLUB

The 42 Fun Club met at the S. M. Loeffler home Thursday night. The color scheme of yellow and white was carried out in the decorations and food served. Guests were served Angel's Delight and a fruit plate, coffee and tea.

Attending the party were Messrs and Mmes. Ervin Willman, Tom Nevill, J. B. Wright, A. W. Awalt, Freeman Mears and Mrs. Lano Thompson.

High score was held by Willman; the Nevills won men and ladies bingo prizes, and Mrs. Awalt was high guest.

Hosting his parents were Robert and Edna Gutierrez. Robert is employed by a construction company as an engineer and his wife, Edna, is a registered nurse at the Methodist Hospital in Houston.

Voters Select Public Officials, Consider 14 Proposed Amendments In November

When voters go to the polls November 7, the selection of public officials at all levels will be determined. From the U.S. President to the county commissioner, candidates will face the ultimate jury—the American electorate.

In Texas, almost every state post will be on the ballot come November including the governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general, comptroller, all 170 representatives, all 31 senators, and all 24 positions on the State Board of Education.

Also on the ballot this November will be 14 proposed constitutional amendments. The 14 proposed amendments are:

AMENDMENT NO. 1
Amending Article III, Section 24, of the Texas Constitution to provide annual salaries of $8,400 for members of the senate and the house of representatives.

AMENDMENT NO. 2
Amending Article IX, Section 6, of the Texas Constitution to abolish the Lamar County Hospital District.

AMENDMENT NO. 3
