MILLION BUSHELS MOVED OUT OF PERRYTON; SHIPMENTS IN COUNTY NEAR TWO AND ONE-HALF MILLION BUSHEL MARK

One hundred and eighty-two cars of wheat have shipped out of Perryton since harvest started in June, a careful check made by the Herald Thursday morning revealed. Total wheat shipments in the county were estimated at 1,600 cars, amounting approximately 2,400,000 bushels of grain with 1,173,000 originated at this point.

The wheat is of the new hard red winter variety which would indicate that Ochiltree can again claim the title of "Banner Wheat County." While no positive check has been made because it is impossible to measure the amount of wheat on all farms, yet the facts would indicate that in all possibility the county has exceeded the one-half bushel average per acre.

4-H BOX SUPPER AT FARNSWORTH

OUTDOOR ENTERTAINMENT; BOX SUPPER AT CONNER HOME BY 4-H CLUB FRIDAY NIGHT

The Farnsworth 4-H Club is going to be host to hundreds of people tomorrow, Friday, night at their outdoor box supper, program and candidate "pop-wow." The entertainment is to be held on the lawn of the beautiful L. R. Conner country home, which adjoins Farnsworth on the northeast. Plenty of seats will be provided for the large crowd which is expected to attend. The lawn will be well lighted with electric lights.

One of the features of the evening will be the opportunity given to candidates for county and district offices to make campaign speeches. One of the surprises of this campaign is the brand of oratory that has been put out by some of our local candidates. The proceeds from the box supper sale will go to a very worthy cause, that of helping defray the expenses of the members of the Farnsworth 4-H Club to the Short Course at the A. & M. College. They deserve every assistance possible, and it is the duty of every citizen to attend and make this affair one of the most successful ever held in the country. The program follows:

- Orchestra
- "Pale Moon" vocal.....Truax Trio
- Special Music.....Orchestra
- Vocal Solo.....Mrs. O. E. Blank
- Music.....Orchestra
- Instrumental Music.....Orchestra
- Bob Rogers, Clayton Bacon, Gus and Alrein Koehn
- Vocal Selection.....Truax Trio

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Morgan and daughter, Juanita, returned Tuesday from a visit with relatives at various points in Oklahoma. They were guests of Mrs. Morgan's nephew, Norman Ault, at the State Sanatorium at Talihina. In Tulsa, they visited in the home of Mrs. Morgan's brother, G. C. Ault, and at Oklahoma City, they visited Mr. Morgan's brother, Joe Morgan.

Gives Band Concert

Perryton Band Will Play Concert At Bob-O-Link Golf Course Next Tuesday

The Perryton Band, under the leadership of L. O. Byerly, will play another of their regular Tuesday concerts at the Bob-O-Link Miniature Golf Course next Tuesday evening.

The band has been giving regular concerts during the summer months and is an organization to be greatly appreciated by the people of Perryton. They played in front of the C. E. Stone Company's store this week.

H. S. Judy, Woodward, Okla. was a business visitor in Perryton the early part of the week.

Mrs. W. C. Scott and son, Boyd, of Miami, were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hood.

STATE DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE ADOPTS PLEDGE

According to the resolution adopted by the State Democratic Committee in their meeting held at Austin, June 3, 1930, only those who are willing to subscribe to the following are eligible to vote in the Democratic primary.

BE IT RESOLVED all eligible and legally qualified white electors to the Democratic party, and who are in sympathy with the success of the Democratic party, in the next succeeding election, may become members of the Democratic party and shall be eligible to participate in the conventions, primaries, and other activities of the party, until otherwise provided; and BE IT RESOLVED that all voters who participate in the primaries must take the statutory pledge: "I am a Democrat and pledge myself to support the nominees of this primary."

SMALL SPEAKS PAMPA FRIDAY

GOVERNOR CANDIDATE WILL MAKE ONLY SPEECH IN PAMPA FRIDAY NIGHT

Pampa, Texas, July 14.—Complimenting his many friends of the North Plains, Senator Clint C. Small, candidate for governor, will fly from Lubbock to Pampa Friday afternoon to make his only campaign speech in the Panhandle at a huge roundup of Small supporters on the courthouse lawn here at 8 o'clock.

Though he can ill-afford to spare the time to campaign in a section that is obviously for him almost 100 per cent, Senator Small is coming to Pampa to express his gratitude for the loyal support Panhandle citizens have given him. Judge Newton P. Willis, chairman of the Pampa Small-for-Governor club said, Lee Satterwhite, state campaign manager for Small, in a telephone conversation with Judge Willis yesterday morning said that the senator had arranged to spend a few hours in Pampa after the Lubbock speaking engagement.

Arrangements are now being made to care for all visitors who expect to spend the night here. When the hotels are full, visitors will be conducted to private homes, and officials of the Small club request all citizens who will provide rooms for the guests to notify Miss Aurelia Miller at Small headquarters in the lobby of the Schneider hotel.

Get Check Forger

Deputy Sheriff Potteriff Brings Alleged Forger Back From Home at Arnett, Okla.

W. J. Potteriff and R. P. Hurn went to Arnett, Oklahoma, Wednesday to get Albert Holliday, charged with forging and cashing two checks in this city. The checks were for $18.00 and $19.00, one being cashed at the Hurn store, the other at the C. E. Stone Co.

We understand that Holliday has confessed to the crime, also that he passed forged checks at Springfield, Colo., and Pampa, Texas. He is about twenty-one years of age and his parents live on a farm near Arnett. He is now lodged in the county jail.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Studer and daughter, Lola, and R. Russell, Canadian, and Mrs. Lee Newman, children, Miami, visited Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bowen. Mr. Russell, the father of Bowen, Mrs. Bowen and Mrs. Newman, remained for a few days visit, the others returned Sunday evening.

CANDIDATES HITTING HIGH PLACES ONLY

Much Interest in Primary; Should be Largest Vote in History of Ochiltree County

Big List of Candidates

Election Supplies Will Be Taken Out Next Week; Will Have Returns at Herald

Saturday, July 26 is Democratic primary day in Texas, and candidates for state, district and county offices, are hitting the high places in their quest for votes. Ochiltree is no exception to this rule, as we have the largest number of candidates seeking offices in the history of the county. There is no question but what there is more interest being taken this year than ever before and the vote should be much larger than usual. The vote in the primary this year will run around one thousand in the county. The top vote in the 1928 primary was 776.

There is a contest in practically every county office. The official ticket and order of names of the ballot is as follows:

- County Judge:
Oscar C. Flowers
J. M. Grigsby (Re-election)
Sheriff
J. W. Buckley
J. S. Talley (Re-election)
County Clerk:
Spencer P. Whippo
Irvin R. Buchanan
Dave Shanks (Re-election)
Tax Assessor:
M. M. Cudd
J. T. Carlson
Abe Green
E. R. Kutch
County Treasurer:
Mrs. O. E. Blank
J. N. Conley
W. P. Ballew
Mrs. J. M. Willey
County Attorney:
J. M. Bull (Re-election)
Max W. Boyer
County Surveyor:
Rupert C. Allen (Re-election)
Commissioner, Precinct No. 1:
H. C. Brillhart (Re-election)
Justice of Peace, Precinct No. 1:
Dewey R. Allen (Re-election)

Commissioner, Precinct No. 3:
Fred Tarbox
R. A. Fuller (Re-election)
Commissioner, Precinct No. 4:
W. R. Norris
Sam J. Handy (Re-election)
A change has been made in the presiding judges for two of the voting precincts. Walter Keim has been appointed to hold the primary election in the Crowe box, precinct No. 7, in the place of J. F. Wilkinson. Geo. Van Arsdale will hold the primary at Waka, precinct No. 10, substituting for C. B. Barber. Election supplies will be delivered to the primary officials next week. Returns will be received at the Herald office on election night.

Fire At Barbour's

Blaze Saturday Morning Thought to Have Started From Hot Water Heater

A fire call was turned in last Saturday morning at 8:40 o'clock when the Jas. E. Barbour residence when a blaze was discovered in the kitchen. Prompt work on the part of the fire department prevented serious damage, the loss estimated at $250.00 damage to the house, furniture and clothing, all of which was covered by insurance.

The blaze was first discovered in the kitchen and is thought to have started from a gas hot water heater. Of the loss, $150.00 is thought to be required to repair the building while the remaining $100.00 is for furniture and clothing. The blaze was confined to the kitchen and the back bedroom. No other parts of the house were damaged.

FIRE MARSHAL GAMEL SAYS WEEDS MUST GO

Fire Marshal R. H. Gamel should have the full cooperation of every citizen in his campaign to rid the city of weeds. People should have enough pride in their place of business, their home, and the vacant property that they own, to cut weeds without being reminded in an official way by the Fire Marshal. Weeds are a very serious fire hazard as well as being unhealthful and unsanitary. Cut the weeds around your place, in the alley or on that vacant lot, without being forced. Perryton will be having a big birthday celebration soon. Let's clean up and have our best foot forward for the big party.

AIR CIRCUS BY LEGION JULY 27

"UP-SIDE DOWN" VAUGHT AND HIS DAREDEVIL AVIATORS ARE SIGNED FOR BIG LEGION AIR SHOW

Roy Hoghland, vice-commander of the Pierce Johnson Post of the American Legion states that all arrangements have been completed for the American Legion Air Circus which will be held at the Brillhart Ranch on Sunday, July 27, starting promptly at two o'clock in the afternoon. Mr. Hoghland and a committee consisting of Rupert C. Allen, J. R. Thomas, C. C. Crockett and Van W. Stewart, made a trip to various points in Southwestern Kansas the latter part of last week signing up some of the leading aviators of the Southwest for the Perryton show.

Mr. Hoghland, who is a licensed pilot himself, reports that they were successful in securing the services of Orval Vaught, better known as "Up-Side Down" Vaught, and his troupe of stunt fliers to put on the thrills of the show. Mr. Vaught, who is recognized as the foremost stunt flier of Kansas, lives near Plains, Kansas, and is one of the big wheat farmers of that section. Flying is a hobby with him and at the present time, he has over $30,000 invested in airplanes. In addition to managing his large farming interests, he is also superintendent of the municipal airport at Garden City, Kansas, which by the way, is a model for the air port that Perryton should have.

Vaught, who is well known to many Perryton people, having been here a number of times, will head the "thrills plenty" program, with his startling exhibition of consecutive loops, Immelman turns, barrel rolls, up-side down flying, two thousand feet fall spin, falling leaf, and all the other stunts known only to the most expert bird men.

One of the features of the afternoon's program will be the wing walking and five thousand feet parachute jump by "Connie" Durant. This stunt alone will be worth more than the small admission fee to be charged. Dead stick landings, never before seen in this county, will be made. In a dead stick landing, the aviator kills his engine, a half mile or more up in the air and lands without the use of the motor. Another high spot of the show will be the "Spot Landing" contest. In this the winner is the aviator who can bring his ship to a dead stop the closest to a certain designated spot.

One of the numbers of the afternoon's program which is certain to prove very popular with the people of this section is the "Pony Express" Race. In this contest, the flier is required to fly around the course a certain number of times, landing at the judges stand each time, getting out of their planes, shaking the

NEW CHEVROLET CAR TO BE GIVEN FREE BY COCA-COLA PEOPLE

PERRYTON COCA-COLA CO., MERCHANTS AND CHAMBER OF COMMERCE COOPERATING IN FREE CAR DAY AND BARGAIN JUBILEE JULY 19TH

Saturday, July 19, is going to be a big day in Perryton for on that day, hundreds of people from over the entire territory served by the Perryton Coca-Cola Bottling Co. will assemble in Perryton to participate in the wind-up of the free Chevrolet Coach campaign and the Merchants Jubilee offer. This campaign has been running for the past six weeks

BIG WOOL CLIP AT FARNSWORTH

OVER ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND POUNDS SHIPPED FROM WOOL CENTER MONDAY, JULY 14

The wool clip of the Farnsworth community, the wool center of the North Plains, amounting to over 10,000 pounds, was loaded at Farnsworth last Monday. The wool was shipped through the Southwestern Wool Marketing Association, which is a member of the National Wool Marketing Corporation, established under the guidance of the Federal Farm Board.

This shipment comprises ten per cent of the wool brought by M. L. Norris, representative of the Association in Northeastern New Mexico and Northwestern Texas. The Association advanced ninety per cent of the appraised value of the wool, averaging about 16c per pound. This advance is more net money to the local sheep men than was realized from the outright sale of last years clip.

Wheat pastures of last fall and winter kept the sheep in this section in such good condition, that an unusually heavy clip was made this year. It averaged about twelve and one-half pounds per head. D. B. Stump averaged 16 pounds from 275 head; F. P. & E. W. Rogers Ranch, 13 1/2 pounds from 1400 head; John Rogers, 12 1/2 pounds from 2400 head. The wool crop, which averaged $2.00 per head, more than pays all expenses, leaving the lamb crop, which due to the good condition of the ewes, is approximately one hundred per cent and valued at $5.00 per head, as a net profit on the entire investment.

Six Hurt In Wreck

Truck and Car Collide At Corner Seven Miles South of Perryton

Six people were injured as the result of a head on collision between a Ford sport roadster and a truck on Highway No. 4, at the corner seven miles south of Perryton, at about 8:30 Monday night. The injured parties were brought to town and taken to the Plaza hospital for treatment.

The accident occurred when a truck driven by Oliver Houston headed south on the highway met the roadster at the corner, headed north. All the occupants of the roadster were injured as well as Mr. Houston. They were Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Carter and little daughter, Betty Joe, and son Elmer Carter and his wife, all of Carter, Okla. Betty Joe received a broken arm and Mrs. Elmer Carter a fractured knee. Elmer received cuts and bruises. Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Carter were badly bruised.

The Carter family live two and one-half miles east of Carter, Oklahoma. They had some wheat near Gray, Okla., this year and were coming back to get their land ready for another crop. Mr. Houston received a badly cut hand and bruises. He lives on the old Russell place at Old Ochiltree. Both the car and truck were badly wrecked.

under the auspices of the Perryton Chamber of Commerce.

The following counties are served by the local Coca-Cola bottling plant, so states Jack Lusher, owner and manager: Ochiltree, Lipscomb and Hansford counties in Texas; and Beaver and Texas counties in Oklahoma. The brand new Chevrolet Coach, purchased from the Perryton Motor Co. of this city, will be given away on Main street at two-thirty next Saturday afternoon.

As an added attraction for the hundreds of visitors who will throng the streets of Perryton on that day, the business houses of the city are cooperating with Mr. Lusher, by joining in and making a Merchant's Jubilee Bargain Day. This means that exceptional bargains will be offered for sale at wonderfully low prices, in most cases the prices quoted will be below the regular wholesale cost. If you are looking for bargains and want to meet and visit with your neighbor, don't fail to come to Perryton on next Saturday, July 19.

BUYS JITNEY-JUNGLE STORE

A. U. HANKS, BORGER, PICKS PERRYTON AS BEST CITY IN NORTH PANHANDLE

Announcement is being made this week of the purchase of the Jitney-Jungle by Mr. and Mrs. A. U. Hanks from the former owner, J. M. Fleming. Mr. and Mrs. Hanks are experienced grocery store operators having owned a store at Borger, known as the Maple Road Grocery, before moving to Perryton.

Mr. Hanks states that he picked Perryton as his choice of all the cities on the North Plains. He states that he has been checking the various communities during the past year and decided that Perryton has the most promising outlook of them all. In making his decision to move to Perryton Mr. Hanks states that he was greatly influenced by the splendid schools here and the progressive spirit among the people of the community.

Mr. and Mrs. Hanks have been in Perryton for some time and are already fairly well acquainted but they are inviting the people of this community to come in and meet them and visit their store.

SPECIAL SUMMER SUBSCRIPTION OFFER TO START ON SATURDAY

The Herald is making a special subscription offer for bargain jubilee day, Saturday, July 19, and for all next week, of $1.00 per year for new and renewal subscriptions in Ochiltree and adjoining counties. Possibly you are one of the several hundred families who are receiving the Herald this week, marked "sample copy". If you are, consider this as an invitation to join the Herald's family of readers during the bargain period.

Early Panhandle Days Recalled By Ex-Cowboy

A letter of unusual interest to West Texans interested in the early days of the Panhandle appeared in the News-Globe offices last week. It was written by a man who knew the cowboys of 1886, and who knew Tascosa as the city of the Panhandle. In it he tells of incidents peculiar to almost forgotten ranch days.

Guymon, Okla.

June 30, 1930.
I do not know the owners of the Amarillo Daily Globe-News, but I am strong for them because they do not neglect the early-day cattle business as a whole.

I came to "No Man's Land," and North Hansford county, Texas, in March, 1886, from East Tennessee. I left the railroad at Garden City, Kans., which was about the nearest railroad station to this country at that time.

From Garden City I came to Fargo Springs, a little inland town just north of the Cimarron river, between 20 and 25 miles north of where Liberal, Kans., is now located. It was a distance of some 60 miles from Garden City to Fargo Springs, and we came in an old fashioned stage coach drawn by four long-haired Texas ponies. I remember how thin they were. We walked through the sand hills south of Garden City to favor those ponies, and arrived at Fargo about 10 o'clock that night.

Garden City at that time was the home of C. J. Jones, known as Buffalo Jones, who with the assistance of Lee Howard, who lived on the head waters of the Beaver river, and one or two other men from Garden City, cleaned up the last buffalo which ranged between Company M, on the Beaver, and Buffalo Springs, Texas. I think there were about 500 of them.

I do not believe Amarillo was on the map in 1886, though I am not sure. I was just a kid, and not posted, however, about all the towns you could hear about in those days were Mobeetie, Tascosa, Dodge City and Beaver City. I worked on the Canadian, I believe in 1887 or 1888, for the Dudley, E-D brand ranch, located on the head waters of the Beaver. About 20 miles below the Dudley ranch was the OX outfit, owned by Towans and Gugel of Kansas City, with a fellow by the name of Hooker as manager.

Southeast some 25 miles on Chete creek was the Jack Hardesty ranch with the S brand. Hardesty lived in Dodge City and a man by the name of Hungate was foreman of the ranch.

Northwest on the Cimarron was the J-B and J-O outfits, also the X-H ranch, with Bob Murray as manager. Other ranches were located along the Cimarron and Arkansas rivers.

South on the head of the Palo Duro was the Bob Cator ranch, using the C brand. Below his was S. C. Tyler who used the Z brand. Farther down was the old post office of Zulu, operated by Clate McCray. Other ranches in this region were those of the Jones brothers, Dave and Joe, and Paddy O'Neal.

Several miles below old Hansford and close to where J. I. Steele has a ranch now valued at $30,000, were the places of Harry McGee and John DeLong. These were the only ranches on the Palo Duro in 1886.

Southwest on the Canadian, just a mile or so below old Tascosa, was the LIT outfit, with Frank Mitchell as manager, and Louie Trumble, wagon boss. I cannot keep from praising Louie Trumble. I think it was in November, 1890, that Trumble and his men held a herd of LIT beef cows on the north fork of the Palo Duro above Tyler's ranch through a 24 to 36-hour blizzard. It was just about as bad I have ever seen. Trumble was on his way to the shipping point, and he cared for them in such a manner that he loaded just about every one he started with. None got away. That's the way the early day cattlemen handled their cattle.

Below the LIT ranch was the X brand, with Hollycott as manager. Farther down was the DBL ranch, an English company, who closed out in 1887. The 22 outfit took charge of this range. Ace Henson, father of Jim Henson of Guymon, was owner and manager.

Below this point and on Wolf creek was the CC ranch, located near the K and the T ranges. The XIT outfit was new in 1886. I worked with several of their men, among them Bob Roebuck from Buffalo Springs.

I remember several of the River ranch boys whom I think are still living, and I hope I may have the pleasure of visiting with them sometime. They are Mack Sanford and Cal Merchant, fine in every way. Clem Johnson, a fine roper, worked for the X layout. In '86 we drove cattle to Dodge City for shipment. My first cow work was in the fall of that year.

Above all I do not want to miss my good friend, John Landers, who has a backbone as big as a telegraph pole. He too, like Louis Trumble, would hold a herd of cattle through snow, sleet and rain after all the others had quit. I remember one fall, about 1890, Landers was with Snyder's O. B. outfit, and we had two beef herds close together north of Beaver. It rained all night and was very cold. Of course, both outfits had a lot of trouble. The next morning it was still raining and cold. Snyder was driving in the lead. We had an early breakfast and started on for Tyroon.

When we got up opposite the OB herd their cattle were grazing, with only one man in charge. They had a big herd. I loped over to the cattle and discovered the man was John Landers. That was about 9 or 10 o'clock and raining like h—l. I asked John how long he had been on, and I believe he said since midnight. I then asked him what was the matter with the other boys and he said "they have all got rheumatism or something the matter with them."

There are only a few of the early day boys left up in this country. They are J. C. Williamson, Jim Henson, Boss Neff, Bill Ewing, John George, and Charlie Bradshaw. These are all I can think of at this time.

"Oh, give me a home where the buffalo roam. Where the deer and antelopes play. Where seldom is heard a discouraging word. And the skies are not clouded all day."

FARM HINTS

Cattle should not be fed within 24 hours before slaughter, though they may have access to fresh water.

Many brick masons say that all flues leak, but agricultural engineers of the U. S. Department of Agriculture assert that flue can be made tight and that it should be subjected to a smoke test before a heater is connected to it. Build a paper, straw, or wood fire at the base of the flue and when the smoke makes a dense column, tightly block the outlet at the top by laying a wet blanket over it. The blanket must be kept wet as long as it is in place. Flues tested in this way often reveal serious leaks into adjoining flues, directly through the walls, or between the linings and the walls.

"Farming is not only a business but a mode of living," says a recent U. S. Department of Agriculture publication, "Rural Buildings for Business and Social Uses," "and in recognition of this idea modern farm business organizations are erecting rural buildings to relate the economic and social factors of agriculture." This publication, which can be obtained by sending to the Department of Agriculture for Farmers' Bulletin 1622-F, contains descriptions, plans, and photographs of rural community buildings in different parts of the country.

Treatment with borax or hellebore will destroy many of the stable fly and house fly larvae that breed in manure. Use the powdered form of borax at the rate of 1 pound to each 16 cubic feet of manure, scattering it over the pile and then sprinkling it with water. Hellebore costs more than borax. If it is used, soak one-half pound of the material in 10 gallons of water for 24 hours and use this quantity to treat about eight bushels of manure. Neither borax nor hellebore will injure the fertilizing value of manure if applied in these quantities and if not more than 16 tons of the treated manure is applied per acre.

HINTS FOR THE COLD

MEAT PLATTER

Perhaps there is no more attractive main dish for the summer dinner than a tastefully garnished platter of cold cuts. The department of home economics, National Live Stock and Meat Board, offers these ideas for using cold cuts as a means of easy meal preparation.

A boned shoulder of lamb, roasted, is ideal for slicing. To give it a certain piquancy, the lamb may be rubbed with a bruised clove of garlic before putting in the pan.

Cut the lamb in thin slices and serve it on a bed of cool, crisp watercress. Garnish with slices of cucumber, stuffed olives, and radish roses. Cubes of mint jelly will add to the coolness of this attractive platter.

Arrange slices of corned beef—you will find the canned very good for this purpose—between rows of sliced beets which have been dipped in finely minced parsley. At each end of the platter put a lettuce leaf, filled with sauce.

Slices of cold tongue garnished with slices of ripe tomatoes and slices of green peppers with creamed cheese.

Place a mound of potato in the center of a round serving platter. Mark off sections of the mound with thin strips of the white of the cooked eggs, cut lengthwise. Sprinkle alternate sections of the eggs, put through a sieve, with finely chopped beets. Place slices of cold roast pork around base of the mound.

To give added flavor and savor to sliced cold roast beef, serve lettuce cups filled with finely spiced beets.

Mrs. Mary Nelson, 46 years old and a great-grandmother, of the Ia., was awarded the highest honor of the state, a gold medal, for her breach of promise suit against her son, R. C. Nelson.

Rev. Charles Graham of the Methodist church of the city of St. Louis, Mo., requested women of the nation to refrain from powdering their noses while he was preaching.

Rev. Arthur Cook, an English missionary, will broadcast throughout Iceland by radio.

AWAIT OPENING OF WESTERN HIT

BERT WHEELER, ROBT WOOLSEY AND DOROTHY LEE OF "RIO RITA" FEATURED

Filled with delicious fun and hilarious nonsense, "The Cuckoos," Radio Pictures' wild riot of waggery, opens tomorrow, Friday, at the Ellis Theatre. The show brings the talking screen something entirely new in entertainment. "The Cuckoos" is not a revue. It's not a musical comedy although comedy and music hold full sway through the production. The show is a distinct departure from the conventional, offering a well-knit story which serves as a background for the antics of the maddest pair of comies ever to grace the screen—Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey, who won picture fame in "Rio Rita." Romance has not been neglected, and a tender love strain is carried by June Clyde and Hugh Trevor. Wheeler and Woolsey are capably aided in their lunacy by Dorothy Lee and Jobyna Howland. Ivan Lebedeff and Mitchell Lewis are the "bad men" and Marguerite Padula lends her glorious voice to a number of song hits. Filmed partly in Technicolor, offering ten liting hit songs, numbering ten liting hit songs, number-cast and containing the liveliest set

'CHEER UP AND SMILE' COMING

DIXIE LEE, ARTHUR LAKE AND OTHERS STAR IN MOVIE-TONE PICTURE

The campus of a little upstate New York college and the luxurious surroundings of a fashionable New York night club form the background for "Cheer Up and Smile," Fox Movietone youth-romance directed by Sidney Lanfield and featuring Dixie Lee, Arthur Lake and Olga Baclanova. "Whispering" Jack Smith, Charles Judels and Johnny Arthur contribute laughs and melody to the night club sequences, while such well-known "collegians" as Summer Getchell and John Darrow are to be found in the university scenes, together with a score of undergraduates from the University of Southern California, many of them varsity football squad members whose services were secured in order that the college atmosphere might be absolutely authentic.

Olga Baclanova, well known Russian actress, appears in the role of Judels' flirtatious wife and her determined efforts to entice the unwilling Lake furnish some hilarious comedy in this feature slated to open at the Ellis Theatre Wednesday and Thursday.

"Cheer Up and Smile" deals with the pften scrambled romance of Arthur Lake and Dixie Lee as college boys and co-ed in "Jones College." Lake quarrels with Dixie and is suspended from school for kicking the botany professor as part of his initiation into a fraternity.

He goes to New York where his of chorus presentations ever brought to the screen. "The Cuckoos" is said to have everything that makes for perfect screen entertainment.

Judging by its record-breaking reception in other cities, "The Cuckoos" is expected to attract capacity audiences during its showing here.

friend. "Whispering" Jack Smith gets him a job as drummer in the orchestra of Charles Judels' nightclub. The club is raided by gunmen who come through the broadcasting room on their way to the safe in the private office. They knock out "Whispering" Jack and force Lake to sing at the point of a pistol. Lake's frightened, quavering voice makes an instantaneous hit.

Dixie comes to town to share his triumph and Judels' frantic efforts to prevent a marriage which he fears would injure Lake's popularity furnish a screaming funny series of complications in which the vamping Olga is involved. Lake loses his voice in a rainstorm, however, and returns happily to Jones College with Dixie. The song numbers in this Movietone were written by Jesse Greer and Ray Kleages.

WESTERN FILM STARS HAINES

COMPLETE SOUND STUDIO IS MOUNTED ON RAILROAD TRUCKS; FILMED AT GALLUP

The world's first complete sound studio on railroad trucks moved out of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios a few months ago, en route for Gallup, New Mexico, to film Western drama in the ancient pueblo country.

A special train, equipped with Pullmans was traveling hotel for William Haines and his party and a special car was fitted up as camera shop and laboratory, carrying a complete sound recording apparatus, was assembled for the trip. Dynamos operated by steam from the locomotive charged the storage batteries of the sound plant, and cables from the tops of the pueblos were dropped down three hundred feet to the recording car to carry the voices of the players from "location" to the microphones.

The strange location train was made necessary because of the primitive region into which the company penetrated. No hotels are available near the pueblo country, and no electricity, hence the traveling hotel and the studio on wheels.

"Way Out West," Haines' new comedy romance of the modern West, is the picture that required this elaborate detail. The location used was the top of a pueblo, and was reached only by ladders up which the players had to climb three hundred feet. Cameras were hauled up by cables from the roof of the train, which ran into the pueblo lands on a special siding.

In addition to cameras, equipment, and cast, the train also carried horses for the cowboys and portable stable equipment.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, in pioneering the use of a railroad car as a portable sound recording laboratory, is paralleling a feat accomplished in "The Ship from Shanghai" in which an ocean going ship was wired and turned into a certifiable floating sound stage. The studio sound department was the first, too, to broadcast songs from a Zeppelin, in the "Voice from the Sky" experiment that broadcast the songs of Lawrence Tibbett from records to herald the world premiere of "The Rogue Song."

WHEELER-WOOLSEY RELEASE ADAGE

"All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy."

Some philosopher made that remark but two comedians, Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey are responsible for reversing it to read, "all play makes wrecks out of Bert and Bob."

That proved to be literally true several years ago according to Wheeler and Woolsey, who are the featured comedy team in Radio Pictures' musical laugh riot, "The Cuckoos," coming to the Ellis Theatre.

When the pair first teamed together they were ambitious to become the leading funmakers of the stage. They played being funny so much that they were both on the verge of nervous breakdowns within a short time.

Society

Phi Kappa Chi Bridge Club

Warm days merging into mid-summer are finding a diversity of entertainments, though bridge parties indoors still hold their own. Among the lovely events to close the week was a bridge party held at the home of Mrs. C. R. Nelson Thursday afternoon.

Tables with yellow covers and rainbow bouquets of sweet peas were attractively arranged in the spacious living room. Mrs. J. G. Budd was awarded high score after which a most refreshing and delicious two course plate lunch was served.

Those present were Meses. Charles Garrett, Carroll Dodd, Ray Christopher, Lee Harlan, Sturgis Hurley, J. G. Budd, Miss Mildred Baumann and Miss Faerie Thomas. —Club Reporter.

Ice Cream Social

The Busy Ladies class of the Methodist church will hold an ice cream social on the church lawn Thursday evening, July 17. The proceeds will be applied on the fund for the new church building. Everyone is invited to be present.

Hi-Lo Bridge Club

The Hi-Lo bridge club met on last Friday morning at the lovely home of Mrs. C. E. Whippo for their regular meeting. Score favors went to Mrs. J. G. Budd for guest high and to Mrs. T. D. Moss, first, and Mrs. Dewey Allen, second, among the club members.

Enjoying the games were Meses. Jas. E. Barbour, T. C. Shaw, Van W. Stewart, Jack Lusher, C. E. Woods, J. C. Hickernell, Ray B. Carr, Stanly Key, E. L. Lawson, R. B. Orrill, Spencer Whippo, J. H. Woodward, C. H. Jenkins, Jack Allen, C. B. Rogers, Nathan Bryan, Thos. Thompson, Anna O'Buch, Miles Edwards, S. S. Chappell, A. H. Nichols, J. G. Budd, J. R. Thomas, H. C. Sanford, H. C. Brillhart, Frank Dodson, T. D. Moss, Dewey Allen, T. A. Roper, Gladys R. Bray, Cleo Ferguson, J. C. May, R. T. Correll, Fred W. Hood, Paul Bowen and Miss Mary Hall.

After the games the hostess served a delicious plate lunch.

Honoring Mrs. Thomas

Mrs. P. H. Sebastian was the gracious hostess on Friday afternoon, July 11 at a delightful bridge party, honoring Mrs. K. K. Thomas, who leaves Saturday for New York City, where she will sail for France a host of other Gold Star Mothers who will visit the graves of their sons.

A colored note of yellow and white prevailed in the table appointments, the ship tallies and in the delicious refreshments. High score prize was won by Mrs. Fred Bendt of Malco, Okla. A lovely friendship motto was presented to the honoree.

Letters were also given her to be read at different stages of the journey. The party was a surprise to Mrs. Thomas.

Guests for the afternoon were Meses. W. B. LaMaster, Fred Hood, C. E. Woods, J. H. Sims, Fred Bendt, J. R. Thomas, J. W. Brewer, M. M. Collier, C. B. Rogers, Thos. Thompson, Miss Nellie Perry, and Mrs. Thomas. Mrs. J. C. Hickernell assisted her mother in serving the guests.

W. M. S. Social

Mrs. C. E. Pike, Mrs. H. W. Ragan, Mrs. C. E. Forbes, Mrs. J. M. Willey and Miss Neida Westbrook were hostesses to the members of the Womens Missionary society, their husbands and several friends to a social held on the church lawn, Thursday evening, July 10. Following the interesting program, ice cream and cake was served to about sixty guests. The hostesses were assisted in the serving by Miss Elonia Sanders, Paris, and Misses Kathryn and Mary Elizabeth McCluney, Kerens, visiting members of Mrs. Pike's Sunday School class.

Birthday Party

Sibyl Ranson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Ranson, entertained a few of her little friends with a party Saturday afternoon, in honor of her birthday which was on the following day, Sunday, July 13.

Dainty refreshments were served to the following little guests: Camille and Sammy J. Black, Velma Res and Jean Brooks, Betty Joe Perry, Margaret Coffee, Virginia Holland and Claudella Lambert.

Auxiliary Entertained For Mrs. K. K. Thomas

On Wednesday afternoon a number of the members of the Perryton Legion Auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. Van W. Stewart to honor Mrs. K. K. Thomas, who will sail from New York City on Wednesday, July 23, to visit the grave of her son in France.

Tables were arranged for bridge and forty-two. After the games, the honoree was presented with a

Carson County Sheriff Says John Holmes Thought Very Highly of Attorney Candidate

I wish to say to the voters of the Eighty-fourth District that Mr. W. L. McConnell, who is now a candidate for the office of District Attorney, formerly served Carson county as its County Attorney during my tenure of office. Being acquainted with Mr. McConnell and the character of work which he performed for Carson County as County Attorney, I desire to state that I consider him well equipped and thoroughly competent to fill the duties of the office of District Attorney of this District.

In view of certain newspaper statements that have been made in behalf of his opponent, I feel that it is only fair to the people to inform them concerning a conversation which I had with the late John Holmes during the month of August last year when he was District Attorney. On that occasion, Mr.

Holmes remarked to me that he aspired to the office of District Judge of this District and that he contemplated making the race for that office in the coming July primary election, and that he considered Mr. W. L. McConnell of Panhandle, Texas, a well qualified man to succeed him as District Attorney; and that he would be highly pleased if Mr. McConnell would serve as District Attorney in the event that he was elected to the office of District Judge. Mr. Holmes stated that he was highly pleased with Mr. McConnell's work as County Attorney of Carson County while he was District Attorney and that he had been of much assistance to him in the preparation and trial of cases in the District Court of the county in which Mr. McConnell was serving as a public official.

I make this statement in fairness to all so that the people may know the true facts.

Sincerely yours,
O. L. THORP,
Sheriff and Tax Collector of Carson County, Texas.

VOTE FOR Dave Shanks Candidate for [re-election] County and District Clerk

A public official and a private citizen, I have stood for things that I believed was right whether I was alone or with the throng. I have not sacrificed every thing to be re-elected and am not going to if returned to office.

My record as a public official or a private citizen is not being attacked.

The selection of a county and district clerk is just a business matter to be considered in a business way. It is said that I have held the office for some time. That is true and nothing to be considered against me and yet I am now in the very prime of life and am many years the youngest person holding any of the major county offices. A private institution does not kick a person out of a position on account of long and efficient service and because some other person or persons would like to have the job. Is the clerk's office something to be peddled among politicians or a position to be filled in a business like manner? I ask my friends to say nothing against my opponents. I do not wish to say anything against them myself. If elected, I want to be elected on merit—not mud.

My friends are not paying for this ad. I am doing it myself. If re-elected I'll be free to conduct the office (as I have always been without obligation to anybody, except the obligation that all public officials owe the public.

If you'll remember me with your support before and at election, I'll remember you after election. I have already been thoroughly tried and I leave it to you to say whether or not I have treated you right or wrong.

Solemn Pledge to the Voters of Ochiltree County!

MAX W. BOYER

If elected to the office of County Attorney pledges that he to the best of his ability see that all laws on the Statute Books of Texas are enforced and observed.

THAT, he believes that co-operation among the county officials is the keynote of a successful administration of all affairs of any county and will work to the end of relieving the friction which has existed in this county for many years.

THAT, he is anxious to see that the prohibition law is strictly enforced and will if elected diligently, earnestly and sincerely work for the strict enforcement of this law by an absolute prosecution of all offenders.

THAT, there are cases which have lain dormant on the docket of Ochiltree County for years without any disposition being made of them and he pledges to see that these cases are tried and disposed of in a manner befitting the subservient ends of justice.

TIME EXTENDED ON RAIL DEAL

SANTA FE AND ROCK ISLAND
NEGOTIATING ON JOINT
TRACK FROM MORSE TO SANTA FE

Washington, July 12.—The interstate commerce commission today extended from June 28 to September 26 the time required for the consummation of negotiations between the Panhandle & Santa Fe Railway company and the Chicago, Rock Island & Gulf for operation by the Santa Fe over the tracks which the Rock Island proposes to lay from Morse to a connection on the Santa Fe's Amarillo-Las Animas line.

The commission on April 28 withheld authority of the Santa Fe to build a proposed line from Dumas to Spearman for 60 days pending the outcome of negotiations between that road with the Rock Island for operation on the former over the line of the latter between Morse and the Santa Fe connection.

It was announced the roads had agreed upon the terms of a joint arrangement for such operations, but desire additional time for the preparation and execution of a formal written agreement embodying such terms.

M. E. Church Sunday

Dr. G. S. Slover, Former President of Clarendon College Will Deliver Sermon

Dr. G. S. Slover, one of the outstanding Methodists of the entire state, and ex-president of Clarendon College, will occupy the pulpit at the Methodist Church on Sunday morning. Dr. Slover has for years been recognized as a leader in Methodist circles in the state. He is a preacher of the word of the gospel of more than the usual ability. Don't fail to hear his message.

The work of moving the old Methodist church to its temporary location in the rear of the parsonage is expected to be finished by Sunday. Work on the new church building will start at once, so those in charge state. When finished, the Perryton Methodist church will be one of the best in the entire Panhandle.

Mrs. R. H. Gamel and sons, Oscar and R. H. Jr., and daughter, Minnie Catherine, drove to Guyton, Okla., Sunday for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gamel.

Dr. Powell, eye, ear, nose and throat specialist, will be at Dr. Brewer's office, Tuesday, July 22. Glasses fitted, tonsils and adenoids removed. 25-11-c.

S. J. Black, Farmington, New Mexico, came in Wednesday for a short stay in Perryton, attending to business matters and visiting in the homes of his sons, John A. Tyson, Jim and Harvey.

Mrs. K. K. Thomas, Perryton's Only
Gold Star Mother to Leave For France

Mrs. K. K. Thomas, Perryton's only Gold Star Mother to visit France, will leave Saturday for New York City, where she will sail on July 23 for France on the George Washington with a Texas delegation of Gold Star Mothers and widows, who are going to Europe as guests of the United States government to visit the graves of their sons and husbands, who lost their lives and were buried overseas during the World War.

Arless E. Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. K. K. Thomas, and a brother of J. R. Thomas of this city, was a Corporal in one of the crack machine gun companies of the 11th Infantry. He was killed in action in the Argonne forest on October 15, 1918, after many days on the front in the Meuse-Argonne, at St. Michel and Chateau Thierry. Arless was a member of a regular army outfit and his company was known as one of the best in the army. His Lieutenant stated that the company was in the front lines for twenty-seven days during the last thirty-two days of fighting, and that Arless was one of the thirteen out of the entire company who had successfully passed all marksmanship tests.

Arless is buried in the Meuse-Argonne cemetery at Romagne, Soumontfaucou, Meuse, France. This is the largest of all American cemeteries in Europe, over 14,000 Americans being buried at this one place, most of them being killed in the Meuse-Argonne offensive. Arless was cited for bravery in action and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas have received memorial citations from both the French and American governments. Mrs. Thomas will go from Perryton to New York and all expenses of every nature will be paid by the government from the time she leaves Perryton until she returns home. At Shattuck, Mrs. Thomas will join Mrs. A. W. Poteet, Amarillo. Mrs. Poteet formerly lived at Glazier and is well known to many of the old timers of this county. Her son, Clifford Russell, was killed in action, overseas.

IS IN CHARGE OF SHOE DEPARTMENT AT BRYAN'S

H. A. Pallock, Amarillo, arrived in Perryton the first of the week to take charge of the shoe department at the W. C. Bryan & Son store. Mr. Pallock is an experienced shoe man and comes highly recommended.

Mr. Pallock is very familiar with the famous Star brand shoes carried in the Bryan store, having been on the road selling this line of shoes.

Mrs. A. R. Holland who has been suffering the past week with throat trouble, was taken Tuesday to the home of her sister in Canadian.

Mrs. Wm. Hamker underwent an operation at the Shattuck hospital Monday. She is getting along nicely.

AMERICAN LEGION AND AUXILIARY MEETS MON.

Next Monday night is regular meeting time for the Pierce Johnson Post of the American Legion and the Auxiliary. All members of both organizations are urged to attend. Roy Hogland, vice-commander in charge of the Legion Air Circus to be held July 27, is very anxious that all Legionnaires be present as committees for handing the show will be appointed at this meeting.

hand of the judge, and then taking off again. This is a thrilling and interesting race. It is something very new in aviation circles.

Passengers will be taken up for pleasure rides in the many planes which will be here for the show. All planes will be licensed and the aviators will be United States licensed transport pilots. One of the fun provoking novelty contests to be offered is the "Guinea Catching Contest" in which live guineas will be dropped from the planes flying at a low altitude. Free rides will be given to those who catch the guineas.

And last, but not least, is the "Balloon Bursting" contest. This is a real stunt and we don't mean "perhaps." An admission fee of fifty cents for adults and twenty-five cents for all children will be made by the Legion. All profits of the show will be used by the Legion toward paying off the indebtedness now outstanding against the Legion hall, the old courthouse, which was purchased by the ex-service men and women of Ochiltree county and is now used by them as a meeting place. Don't forget the date and the place, Sunday, July 27, 2:00 p. m., at the Brillhart Ranch, three and one-half miles east and three miles south of Perryton.

To The Voters Of Ochiltree County

Due to the fact that I have been unable to see all the voters of Ochiltree county and will not be able to see all of you before the Primary election, July 26th, I am taking this means of assuring you that I will appreciate your support and influence.

I am an "Old Timer" of this county and believe I understand the problems confronting the tax payer. I feel that I am competent to perform the duties of the office of Tax Assessor and if elected my policy will be a "Square Deal" to all tax payers.

Yours respectfully,

Milam M. Cudd

VOTE FOR H. M. HOOD FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY

His Record Deserves Your Support

County Judge H. M. Hood of Stinnett, Texas, is now serving his fourth year as an official in Hutchinson County. During this time, Hood has seen all the officials in this district, in Hutchinson County and the city of Borger come and go, connected with the law enforcement machinery either by defeat or resignation. He has been investigated by every agency of the county, state and federal governments and his record stands today as clear as the day he took office in 1927, free from "ACCUSATION OR SUSPICION". Every inducement of official corruption has at all times been before him, but, he consistently obeyed the law himself as a private citizen and as a public official, and stood firm for a vigorous law enforcement program. He has taken an active part and has been thrown into the midst of every political fight in Hutchinson County during the past four years, always pursuing and fighting for what he thought morally and legally right. He has been characterized as the driest official of this county and district and has fought continuously and vigorously, the "DRIPPING WET" element of this county.

Since he has been an official here he has tried and heard hundreds of hundreds of criminal cases involving practically every criminal state of Texas, and has worked with all Grand Juries for the past three and a half years in reporting to them the many felony cases he heard as a magistrate, and further at all times he has been interested in and has had occasion to observe the workings of the District Courts of this county. This alone would give him sufficient practical experience to acquaint him with the duties of the office he is now seeking. "HE HAS BEEN TESTED AND TESTED UNDER THE MOST UNUSUAL CIRCUMSTANCES AND CONDITIONS THAT A COUNTY OFFICIAL HAS EVER KNOWN AND PROVEN HIMSELF AT ALL TIMES WORTHY OF THE RESPECT, CONFIDENCE AND SUPPORT OF THOSE WHO BELIEVE IN LAW AND ORDER AND THE ENFORCEMENT OF OUR LAWS."

He has made Hutchinson county a good official and will make the 8th Judicial District a good District Attorney. He has had the experience, he has the ability and he has the courage of his convictions to make the fight for right at all times.

He possesses those inherent qualities that make men of strong moral character. He was one of the first men of Borger in 1926 to join the church, which was the First Methodist Church of Borger and is now president of the Board of Trustees of that church. He is a man of good judgment, reasonable, tactful and nearer the geographical center of the district and particularly near where the greatest business of a District Attorney's office must be handled. We recommend him to you without reservation for your support as District Attorney of the 8th Judicial District and ask of you not to pay any attention to the "ELEVENTH HOUR POLITICAL PROPAGANDA" which often is used in this county and we ask that you go to the polls on the 26th and vote for H. M. Hood for District Attorney.

Bobbitt in Perryton

Attorney General of State Made Talk to Voters in Perryton Last Friday Afternoon

Robert Lee Bobbitt, attorney general of Texas, was in Perryton for a short time last Friday afternoon. He made a very interesting short talk to a large crowd at the Ellis Theatre. Bobbitt is a candidate for the Democratic nomination to this very important office, which he is now filling with much credit to himself and the state, as an appointee of Governor Dan Moody, to fill the unexpired term of Claud Pollard, resigned. Bobbitt was due in Perryton at one-thirty in the afternoon, but on account of unavoidable delays, did not arrive until about three o'clock. In the meantime, Attorney Walter Allen, serving as chairman of the meeting, introduced Irvin R. Buchanan and Spencer P. Whippo, candidates for County and District Clerk, and J. T. Carlson, candidate for Tax Assessor, who made talks in the interests of their candidacy. Judge R. T. Correll made a short address supporting Clint Small for Governor. A number of other candidates for county offices present declined to make public talks.

Attorney General Bobbitt, the highest ranking officer of Texas ever to visit Ochiltree county, while serving in his office, was introduced by Jimmy Guleke, prominent Amarillo attorney, who was introduced by Chairman Allen. General Bobbitt, Mr. Guleke and Mr. Allen were all classmates in the Law Department of the University of Texas. General Bobbitt, who is only forty-two years of age, has had a very busy life.

He was born on a Hill county farm in 1888, and lived there for twenty-four continuous years. His father still lives on this farm. After attending country schools, Carlisle Military Academy at Arlington and the North Texas Teachers College at Denton, he was graduated from Texas University in 1915. After graduation he entered the active practice of law, putting in all the time since finishing school with the exception of eighteen months spent in the army during the World War.

He served as Speaker of the House of Representatives, Fortieth Legislature, District Attorney of the 49th District, and was appointed as Attorney General by Governor Dan Moody on September 25, 1929. For a number of years, General Bobbitt has lived at Laredo, where he is a leader in all community and civic affairs. He made many friends, admirers and supporters during his short visit to the North Plains.

VOTE FOR Spencer P. Whippo

For

County Clerk

Understanding--Service--Reliability

We wish to call to the attention of the voters of Ochiltree county the fact that a vote should be cast for a man of understanding—a man who can serve and one who is absolutely reliable. In voting for Spencer P. Whippo, you are voting for such a man. He is qualified and capable and will make Ochiltree county a good county.

Spencer P. Whippo has been a resident of Ochiltree county all his life, has been a "son of the soil" and understands the needs and the life of the people of this country, and with such understanding, could serve them well. As a teacher and worker with young people, he has added to his knowledge of the peoples' needs. He has watched the country develop from the stage of swaddling clothes to the stage of full grown young man and with this knowledge can serve as county clerk.

Spencer is a worker, and as a worker has learned to serve. Service is one of the things needed to handle the office of county clerk. His service in public life so far has been without fault. As a leader in community and educational life, he has rendered service that has helped much to develop the country.

Perhaps his best qualifications for office of clerk is that he is absolutely reliable, coming from a family that for generations has been reliable. He was reared in the school of "The West". He knows the plains of Ochiltree county when one could ride for a hundred miles and never pass a graded road, a school house or a church.

Spencer P. Whippo is interested in Ochiltree county and its development. He has written a history of the county, has collected a museum of curios, and has shown in many ways his great interest in making Ochiltree county "Queen of the Panhandle".

Spencer stands for the physical, educational and moral development of the people of Ochiltree county. His record as a teacher and community worker ably demonstrates that.

Spencer P. Whippo as candidate for county clerk is asking the voters of Ochiltree county to vote for him. He is not indulging in underhanded methods and will appreciate your support. He asks for him is a vote for a "home grown man" and a vote for a man with understanding who will serve and one who is absolutely reliable.

NEW SANTA FE ROAD STARTED

GRADING CREWS AT WORK AT DOZEN PLACES BETWEEN AMARILLO AND COLORADO

The first actual construction work on the Amarillo to Boise City section of the new Santa Fe line was granted by the Interstate Commerce Commission started the first of the work at both ends of the line. About a dozen contracting outfits along the right-of-way are already throwing dirt and the engineering and surveying departments in other camps are steadily laying out a line of stake along the entire route. Pile drivers, concrete machinery and a great amount of other equipment is being moved to the Canadian River for the building of the big bridge which it is estimated will cost in the neighborhood of three-quarters of a million dollars.

The right-of-way situation is coming along nicely as sufficient right-of-way has been secured to keep the contractors who are already moved in on the line busy for some time.

The deed on the right-of-way through Moore county have just about all been turned in with the exception of one or two where settlement has been delayed and two where condemnation proceedings will have to be instituted.

We understand that Saturday of this week will complete the sixty day period at the end of which the Interstate Commerce Commission was to complete their hearing on the Dumas-Spearman Santa Fe line and render their decision.

Everything seems to be coming along in first class shape all along this new line which is to be completed within 10 months.—Moore County News.

KNOW TEXAS

The first "leacherage" in Texas was built in Gaudalup County, and Texas now leads all the states in their number and value with 1,293 for white and 37 for negro teachers. The one at McAllen, costing $40,000, is the costliest, but the average cost is $1,160 for whites and $1,560 for negroes.

Texas ports in 1929 handled 9-954,922 tons of exports and 1,421,699 tons of imports, valued respectively at $699,384,268 and $32,903,268. Petroleum products supplied 56.3 per cent of the exports and cotton 13.7 per cent.

Texas University has 2,100,000 acres of land in its endowment, a million acres being set aside by the Constitutional Convention of 1875 and a second million by legislative enactment in 1883.

MORSE-DALHART RAILROAD OPEN

REGULAR TRAIN SERVICE NOW MAINTAINED ON THE NEW ROCK ISLAND BRANCH LINE

First regular train service over the Morse-Dalhart branch of the Rock Island was inaugurated Tuesday when the construction company turned the road to the operating division of the Rock Island.

The first trains were mixed freight and passenger trains and were heavily loaded with wheat coming in over the new line to be hauled on to Amarillo over the Amarillo-Liberal branch.

Up to yesterday there had been 80 cars hauled in over the line which has helped to swell the tonnage of the main line to Amarillo. The trains Tuesday were thirty and forty car trains; which was made possible by the ballast the ballast work being kept right up with the laying of rails.

Additional service to the Rock Island shippers has been given with the establishment of two local freights, one north and one south each day. Also a special crew is headquartered here now and pull only wheat cars to Sanford south of the Canadian.

W. E. Danver, trainmaster for this division, and C. C. Furtig, assistant trainmaster of Oklahoma City, were in Morse Tuesday arranging a portable fueling station with which to fuel up the engines used here on the branch.

Agent Mariatt reports that the business over the Rock Island for the month of June will exceed $60,000.—Morse Monitor.

Allred for Attorney

Jimmie Allred, Wichita Falls, Is Making a Strong Race For Attorney General

Pecan Gap, Texas, July 10.—James V. Allred, former district attorney of Wichita Falls, who was barely nosed out four years ago by Claude Pollard of Houston for the attorney-generalship of Texas, spoke to a large crowd at the picnic here today.

Mr. Allred spoke in part as follows:

"Most of you will recall that in the campaign for attorney general four years ago, I was defeated by Claude Pollard of Houston by the small majority of 4,000 votes. I refused to listen to my friends who thought I ought to demand a recount, but congratulated Mr. Pollard upon his election, and announced that I would be a candidate again in 1930. Again, two years ago when it was rumored that Mr. Pollard was going to resign, and my friends in Young county placed my name upon the ticket, I refused to oppose Mr. Pollard for a second term upon his statement that he did not intend to resign. I do not challenge his good faith in making that statement, but eight months after his second term began, Mr. Pollard did resign and entered the service of certain railroad interests at Austin.

"Governor Moody at that time saw fit to appoint the present attorney general, the gentleman from Laredo; and I do not criticize him for giving that political plum to his political friend; but I do resent a statement from Austin which appeared simultaneously in daily newspapers throughout the state that the present attorney general has the 'inside track' in this race, because of being Dan Moody's appointee.

"But I ask you, Why should the choice of one man—the choice of Dan Moody, have the 'inside track' over myself, the choice of 356,000 voters in Texas, for the place which Moody gave to the present attorney general by appointment? As for myself, you can say for Jimmie Allred, that he does not want any inside track. If I can't win this race on a straightaway, and in a fair field, I certainly am not entitled to win it; but I do want to thank the attorney general and his press agent for reminding the people that I am the 'under dog' in this race."

ANOTHER VICTORY

FOR THIS REGULAR STOCK MOTOR OIL

CLOSE ON THE HEELS OF ITS ACCOMPLISHMENT AT INDIANAPOLIS MAY 30, CONOCO WINS 3RD, 4TH, AND 5TH AT ALTOONA AT BETTER THAN ONE HUNDRED MILES PER HOUR

Frank Farmer, in a Miller Special, "placed" third with an average speed of 102.2 miles per hour. "Shorty" Cantlow, in a Miller-Schofield Special, was fourth with 101.5 miles per hour. "Speed" Gardner was fifth in a Miller Front Drive Special. All three used CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil in this convincing demonstration of the qualities of this regular "stock" motor oil. At Altoona, as at Indianapolis, this was the first time that a stock oil had placed so high in the finish of the race.

The story of the Altoona race cannot be told without reference to the accomplishment of CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil at Indianapolis. For it was in that 300-mile classic that the stamina of this new oil was impressed on the racing fraternity. After observers had seen the oil at the close of the Indianapolis race; after they had observed its full body and good color as it came from Dave Evans' motor, the word went out that CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil had displayed the qualities necessary to solve the lubrication problems of racing motors. CONOCO had earned the respect of this most skeptical group—and earned it fairly.

In view of the Indianapolis results, it was only natural for a majority of the drivers at Altoona to choose CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil for America's latest competitive race.

And as these cars whizzed around the boards at Altoona on June 14, CONOCO again proved its worth in a field previously dominated by castor blends—a field which other stock oils have repeatedly tried to enter without success!

So chalk up another victory for CONOCO!

VOTE FOR CLINT C. SMALL for GOVERNOR

"Let's Adjourn Politics and Develop Texas"

Voters of Ochiltree County

Let's give Senator Clint C. Small a large vote in this county and assist him to be in the second primary which will make his election as the Governor of Texas almost certain.

He has a splendid record as a public official, having served his people as County Attorney, County Judge, Mayor of Wellington, President of the Chamber of Commerce, Judge of the 100th Judicial District and an outstanding record in the State Senate.

Senator Small was the author of the now famous Small Land Bill which validated titles for West Texas farmers and ranchmen and for all of Texas.

He advocates and will endeavor to secure enforcement of the law, including a rigid enforcement of the prohibition law, an equalized and just tax system, he is for a good road system but believes in a policy of "Pay As We Build" and not an excessive statewide bond issue, for development of our natural resources, for relief to the farmers through proper co-operation and marketing system, for proper aid to rural schools and believes that Texas people should patronize Texas institutions.

This is the opportunity for a man from the Panhandle to be elected Governor and Ochiltree County should give him an overwhelming majority.

FATHER DIED TUESDAY

Mrs. J. W. Wright returned Monday from Fluvanna, Texas, where she was called several weeks ago to be at the bedside of her father, B. J. Dargitz, who passed away July 8. Mr. Dargitz was seventy-seven years of age and for the past two years had been in declining health. Two other daughters, Mrs. Jim Mears and Mrs. Carrie Ainsworth, both of Fluvanna, and two sons survive their father.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon, July 9, from the Christian church in Fluvanna and the remains were laid to rest by the side of his wife in the family lot in the Fluvanna cemetery.

ARM INJURED IN ELECTRIC WRINGER

Earline, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Ragan, caught her hand in the electric wringer while her mother was washing on Tuesday of last week, suffering a very painful injury. The arm up to the shoulder, went through the machine causing a severe bruise. It was necessary to take several stitches. At present the wound is healing nicely. Mrs. Ragan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Smith, Canyon, and her sister, Mrs. Earl Smith, Pampa, came up Tuesday evening, returning Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Christopher and daughter, Willeen, visited over the week-end with his brother, W. C. Christopher, and family of Brustle, Colo.

Recommends McConnell

Newton P. Willis, Ex-District Judge, is for W. L. McConnell for Attorney

I wish to say to the voters of Hemphill County that they have a splendid opportunity to elect to the office of District Attorney, a sane, sensible, conscientious prosecutor who will not persecute the people, neither will he defend criminals in his position. He comes to us with about nine years experience, most of which has been spent in representing the interest of the State in prosecutions.

Frequently he appeared before me when I was District Judge and represented the State when he was County Attorney of Carson County and he was able, capable and efficient in his manner of presenting cases. He is right on all public questions, a thorough democrat, and a patriot who has served his country, a graduate of our State University of Texas, a man who stands foursquare to every wind that blows.

On several occasions the late John Holmes, District Attorney, when he was compelled to be absent from court, left Mr. W. L. McConnell in charge of the State's business to handle the prosecutions as Acting District Attorney, a duty which Mr. McConnell performed with satisfaction and dispatch. I remember that Mr. Holmes remarked to me on several occasions that Mr. McConnell was the ablest County Attorney that he had seen and that he felt perfectly safe with McConnell in charge of his duties and that he was of great assistance to him in handling the State's business, working up his evidence and having it ready to present in logical and symmetrical form.

Respectfully submitted,
NEWTON P. WILLIS,

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Sanders and Miss Elonia Sanders were Sunday guests of Mrs. Sanders' grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Landers, Higgins.

To The Voters of Ochiltree County

I am a candidate for the office of county clerk, and the purpose of this letter is to solicit your vote. If elected, I will personally apply myself to the duties of the office and make, in so far as is possible, an attentive and efficient officer.

The present clerk, when a young man, came to Ochiltree county as a school teacher, stepped from the schoolroom to his present position as county and district clerk. He has held this position for twelve years. I want to give him credit for making a very capable and efficient officer. I am not asking for the office on his demerits, but on my own merit.

I have spent all my life in Ochiltree county, and am also a young man and also a school teacher, and believe, if elected, I could fill the office as capably as Mr. Shanks or my other opponent. I am simply asking the voters of Ochiltree county to extend to me the same courtesy and the same considerations in the present election that they did to Mr. Shanks at the time he was elected to this office some twelve years ago.

In conclusion, I wish to say again that I am running because I want the office, and because I believe I can fill it to the satisfaction of the citizenship of this county.

I believe that I am as much entitled to this office as either of my opponents. It appears to me that Mr. Shanks has been wonderfully favored by our citizenship through the past twelve years. I am sure no one will appreciate your vote more than I will. If you see fit to support me and I am successful, I pledge you my personal attention and the most efficient services of which I am capable, in handling the affairs of the office.

Thanking you, I am

Spencer P. Whippo

J. T. Carlson

Candidate For

TAX ASSESSOR

J. T. Carlson pledges to the people of Ochiltree county, that he will, if elected to this important office, assess the real and personal property of the county, in a fair and impartial manner, striving at all times, to treat each and every one alike. Mr. Carlson's many years of business experience is a strong recommendation for your support.

For twelve years, he was actively connected with the banking business in this county. This experience brought to him a very thorough insight into the true values of property. For ten years prior to entering the banking business, Mr. Carlson was engaged in clerical and stenographic work and the knowledge gained from this line of work would be of great assistance in running the tax assessors office.

Mr. Carlson can make up the assessment rolls of Ochiltree county from both the town and farm angle. He was born and raised on a farm and lived there until manhood. For many years he has been a business man and lived in town. At the present time, he is a Perryton property owner, but he also owns farm land, which is in cultivation.

He will appreciate your support and consideration at the polls, and if elected, will make you an efficient, honest and worthy official.

Local Unit Sends $50.00 To Help Build Child Welfare Home at Kerrville, Texas
 At the regular meeting of the Perryton American Legion Auxil- iary on last Monday evening it was voted to give $50.00 toward the fund which will be used for the building of a Child Welfare home at Kerr- ville, Texas. The new building will be erected on land purchased from the government and adjoining the Veteran's Bureau hospital. The state chairman on Child Welfare, estimates that the structure will cost $4,000.00.
 At the present time there are ap- proximately 300 children who are compelled to live at Kerrville, in order to be near their fathers, a disabled veterans, who are patients in the Veteran's Hospital. The child welfare program at Kerrville is an attempt to educate the moth- er and child as to the best means of healthy livelihood and to add to their happiness and interest in life. FARM BOARD IS NOT SELLING ANY WHEAT
 The following statement was issued in Chicago today by Mr. George S. Milnor, President and General Manager of The Grain Stabilization Corporation:
 "The Grain Stabilization Cor- poration discontinued the sale of wheat when the new crop began moving with the exception of a few small lots to millers who were unable to take care of their immediate needs from any other source.
 "While the visible supply of wheat in this country is some- what in excess of that of a year ago—a fact grain traders are emphasizing—the amount of 1929 wheat withdrawn from the mar- ket by The Grain Stabilization Corporation is approximately three times the amount of that increase, leaving the amount of wheat on the market substan- tially below last year's figure.
 "The grain trade need have no apprehension of competition from the wheat held by The Grain Stabilization Corporation during the coming months when farmers will be moving the 1930 crop to market unless in the meantime prices rise to the level at which purchases were made. In no event will this 1929 stabilization wheat be thrown on the market in a way to depress prices."

VOTE FOR AN HONEST MAN!
The Office of County Treasurer Is A Position of Trust and Here Is A Man You Can Trust!

The office of County Treasurer is a position of trust. He is responsible for keeping the public funds. For this position you want a man whose honesty is irreproachable, whom you can trust with implicit confidence, whose whole life marks him as an honest man and an honorable citizen. Such a man is J. N. Conley.

He has lived for nearly twenty-five years among you, here in Ochiltree County. The old timers and friends who know Mr. Conley personally can assure you that he is a Christian gentleman, a law-abiding citizen, and a trustworthy man.

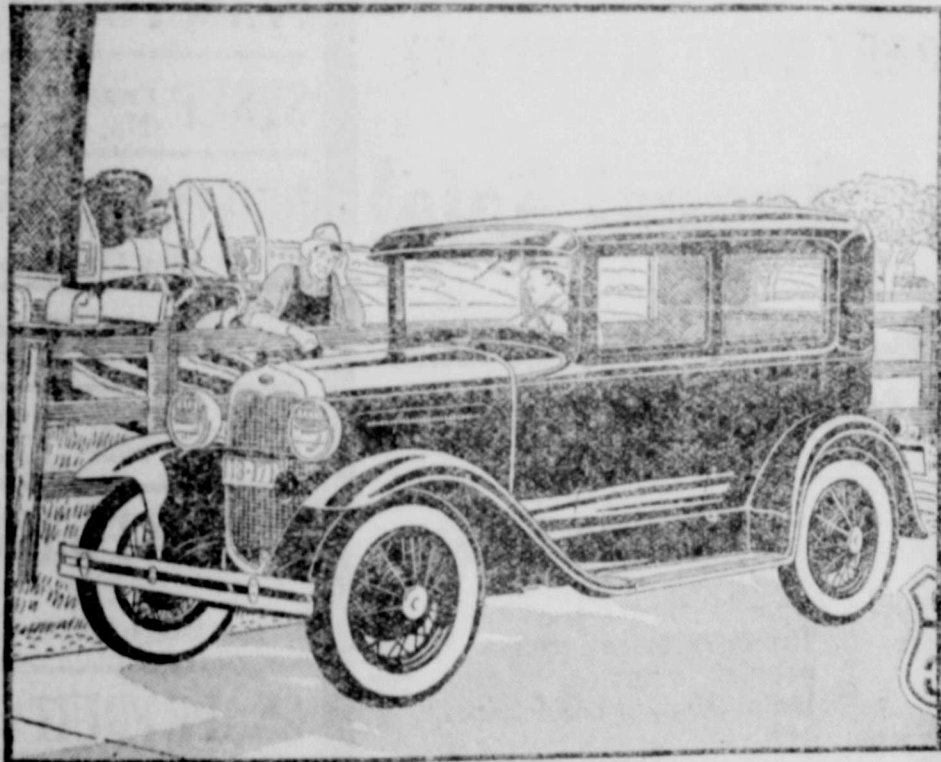

The office of County Treasurer has certain definite require- ments that must be met. By law, you as a tax-payer have a right to know what becomes of the County funds. The treasurer is required among other things to prepare and have published quarterly statement of all expenditures. This has not been done in the past, but Mr. Conley states that if elected, he will perform ALL THE DUTIES OF HIS OFFICE FAITHFULLY.

In casting your ballot for Mr. Conley, you are voting for a cap- able, conservative and conscientious official. Your vote at the polls for J. N. Conley for County Treasurer will be your endorse- ment of all that he stands for.

THE NEW FORD TUDOR SEDAN

YOU are buying proved performance when you buy a Ford. You know it has been built for many thousands of miles of satisfactory, economical service.

Letters from users in every part of the world show the value of the sound design of the car, good materials and accuracy in manu- facturing. You sense a feeling of sincere pride in the oft-repeated phrase—"Let me tell you what my new Ford did."

Further tribute to the sturdiness, reliability and general all-round per- formance of the new Ford is shown in the repeated and growing pur- chases by government bureaus, by police departments, and by large industrial companies which keep careful day-by-day cost records. In most cases, the new Ford has been chosen only after exhaustive tests covering speed and power, safety, comfort, ease of control, oil and gas consumption, low yearly deprecia- tion, and low cost of up-keep.

They have found, as you will find, that the Ford embodies every feature you want or need in a motor car at an unusually low price.

Legge And Hyde Say Wheat Must Be Cut Down

THE FARMERS TO BECOME PEONS UNLESS THEY CURTAIL

FEDERAL OFFICIALS SAY THEIR MESSAGE IS NOT WANTED, BUT COMES IN GOOD FAITH; THEY DO NOT ORDER, ONLY GIVE TRUE FACTS

(Amarillo News, Saturday, July, 12)

Farmers of the great southwestern hard winter red belt are producing more wheat than there is a demand for.

The present price of wheat should be 75 cents per bushel, based on the law of averages over a period of years, the present low price being caused by foreign depressions and high tariffs, and a timidity, or pessimism, without sound basis.

On the part of the American people to invest in securing a risk financial venture, following the stock crash of last fall, the message brought to the wheat growers and other farmers by Secretary of Agriculture Arthur M. Hyde and Alexander Legge, chairman of the Federal Farm Board.

The answer was: "Conduct your own business; control your own markets; run your own battles."

Why raise blades of grass where one grew unless you can get more for those two blades than you get for one? Successful industries cut down production when the demand slacks up.

Lack of organization, through intelligent and orderly production and marketing could be the trouble.

Two Thousand at Meeting More than 2,000 people from every part of life, probably 50 per cent of whom were from out of town, filled the Municipal auditorium at both morning and afternoon sessions to hear "the Paul Reveres" present by agriculture bring problems of the Federal Farm Board to the men it is trying to help. They brought the same message, couched in individual language. They were earnestly patient as endeavor to "get over" the message they sincerely believe to be for the best interests of the wheat farmer. Both minimized the value of exports, compared present foreign conditions, and counseled a production maximum based as nearly as possible on domestic consumption.

Secretary Hyde, in an address with humor and deadly earnestness, asked his hearers if they had themselves and their families placed on a competitive living by Mayor E. O. Thompson, who referred to the speaker as "the Paul Revere of agriculture." "I imagine about the last thing Paul Revere said when he finished his ride was 'Whoa!' And that seems to be the message these gentlemen bring up."

Responding, Secretary Hyde retorted: "Paul got his message across; if you doubt it, ask England! And it may take a 50-cent wheat to get this message across—but the result is inevitable."

"We have been travelling over this wheat belt for days," said Mr. Hyde, "and we have yet to find an audience that wanted to hear what we have to say, and we know you do not. Farmers don't like to talk about acreage curtailment. And we have been piled with every kind of question under the sun, some of which no man can answer. Which reminds me of the country boy taking an examination who faced the question: 'How many Hessians did England send to this country during the War of Independence?' The boy did not know the answer, any more than I do, and he simply wrote across the bottom this reply: 'A darn sight more than ever got back!'"

"I belong to the Commercial Club and the Rotary Club back home. Main street in America is a boasting gang everywhere. It sounds nice to be able to say that a community produced more one year than in the year before. But, my friends, it's profits, not volume, that pays debts on the farm."

Checks Up On Henry Ford "I saw a statement from Henry Ford last year, urging farmers plant more acres and to speed up production. I have no quarrel with Mr. Ford for whom I have every respect as an industrial leader, but I took the occasion to investigate and see what Mr. Ford was doing in his manufacturing plants. And I found that he was holding down his own production to 70 per cent. Like big business in other lines, farmers cannot afford to go on producing when the market is unable to absorb the surplus.

"I will confess that I have little interest in foreign markets. I believe that if the American farmer will conform his production program to domestic lines we will avoid a comparison in standards of living with cheap foreign labor. My platform is: plan production on what the market will take and pay a profit on it."

Legge Talks Deep as had been their interest in the remarks of the secretary of agriculture, the audience shifted and settled down expectantly as Judge Ray C. Johnson introduced Alexander Legge, chairman of the federal farm board, in a brief introductory talk. Mr. Legge, former head of the International Harvester company, has borne the brunt of the first line shocks in the fight for and against the policies of the board, and his hearers seemed particularly interested in what he would have to say.

"We come to the farmers of the wheat belt with the suggestion that they apply sound, practical business principles in the conduct of their industry," said Mr. Legge. "Every other modern form of business enterprise is organized. When a manufacturer finds he is producing more than the public will consume he simply cuts down production to meet the demand. Otherwise he would not stay in business long. In our opinion, if the wheat farmer does not organize and apply sound business principles in the conduct of his everyday affairs he must pay the price in financial loss and consequent lowering of his standard of living."

"Before the war there was little tariff restriction in foreign countries against American wheat. During the war the American wheat raiser was urged to put in every available acre to feed the soldiers. Following the war, foreign countries began the work of reconstruction and faced farming problems of their own. Since that time tariff restrictions in nearly every foreign country against American wheat have climbed enormously. In addition, Argentina, Australia and Canada have increased their production of wheat in rapid strides. Italy, France, Germany and other countries have been steadily building up their wheat production from year to year.

Nation's Diet Changes "Meanwhile, consumption of wheat and wheat products has declined appreciably. Changes in the national diet, a slowing up of the population increase as compared with the increase in production, and other causes have been felt."

"According to all statistical records based on 25 years experience and backed by the wisest and most experienced wheat men in the country, the price today should be 75 cents per bushel. The cause of the present low price, in our opinion, is this foreign situation and over-production in the hard winter red wheat belt of this country."

"We do not come to you empty-handed. We have been doing things. Over-production had gradually built up a surplus and the board purchased approximately 60,000,000 bushels and still has it. It will not be sold until conditions are stabilized unless the price goes up to the purchase figure in which case you would be so happy with us that you would not notice it. We simply took up the slack and this surplus we hold will not be released until it can be done without injury to the industry."

Chairman Legge, who conducted the question box, faced a barrage of puzzling and, at times, unreasonable questions calmly and considerately. His answer, in practically every case, was "Organize; run your own business; don't depend upon some one else to do it for you. The Farm Board has some power to help you financially and otherwise. But we are not allowed to deal with individuals. Organize, and we can help. It is squarely up to YOU."

Afternoon Session O. E. Martin, Director of Extension for Texas, Secretary Hyde and Mr. Legge were the speakers following an informal luncheon at the Herring hotel at noon. Mr. Martin delivered a humorous address, welcoming the visitors to the state and at times convulsing his audience with his wit. He stated that "Our guests did not start the war. Nor did they have official responsibility for the reconstruction which followed. These gentlemen are two of nine, each one of whom, in a way, is a Secretary of Agriculture, and one of them is the real thing. The other is the main Legge upon which the farm board stands."

"The A. & M. college does not come here to broadcast advice on acreage reduction or acreage adjustment. We do not believe much in campaigns and propaganda. We think that when wheat is selling below a dollar in Chicago that it constitutes a message more powerful than one from Moses and the prophets. What at one cent a pound on the farm is all the warning a way-faring man needs."

Secretary Hyde was introduced to the speaker as "the Paul Revere of agriculture."

Responding, Secretary Hyde retorted: "Paul got his message across; if you doubt it, ask England! And it may take a 50-cent wheat to get this message across—but the result is inevitable."

"We have been travelling over this wheat belt for days," said Mr. Hyde, "and we have yet to find an audience that wanted to hear what we have to say, and we know you do not. TO THE VOTERS

I am a candidate for County Treasurer of Ochiltree county. I am thirty-three years of age, having been born at Wolfe City in Hunt county, Texas on May 2, 1897. I came to Perryton, Texas on March 10, 1922 from Fort Bayard, New Mexico, having spent a year there and a year in Houston, Texas in the Government Hospital for treatment of broken health incurred by reason of overseas service in the World War, having served six months in France.

I am aware that patriotic men and women served our country in various capacities at home. If elected to this office I will be true to your faith in me, and will strive at all times to render you the service you are entitled to.

I cherish the hope that I may have your support and influence in the coming election and if the voters of Ochiltree County feel that I am entitled to the office, I will be elected. Being in need of the office and believing that I am capable of discharging its duties, I hope you will again demonstrate the good old Democratic Doctrine of voting early and often for,

OPENING ADDRESS CAMPAIGN FOR GOVERNOR AT HUNTSVILLE, FRIDAY, JUNE TWENTIETH

In all this great state I know of no more inspiring place to discuss matters of Texas government than amid the tree-clad hills of old Huntsville. It is inspiring to know that the immortal Sam Houston, who gave Texas government its working start, spent his last years here, and is buried here. There is inspiration in the thought that education in Texas receives one of its greatest impulses here, in the establishment of the first teachers' college, up on the hill. It is stimulating to recall that the cultural and hospitable atmosphere of Huntsville has nurtured such characters as the venerable Colonel McKinstry, the eminent Tom Ball, Dr. John T. Moore, and others whose names stand out brightly on the pages of Texas affairs. I am mindful that your splendid institution numbers among its graduates Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker, one of Texas' greatest women, a leader in all that pertains to education, culture and refinement of our citizenship.

There is another state institution here, two or three blocks down the street, which is not exactly inspiring, but which is a challenge to the best thought and energy of the state government. I shall speak more of that later.

I love Huntsville for its historical distinction, for its old South character, and for its modern progress and the wide-awake spirit of its warm-hearted people. It was chiefly through this spirit, manifested in an eagerness for good roads, that I have had the opportunity to improve my acquaintance with Huntsville in the last few years. It always gives me sincere pleasure to come here.

To avoid disappointing any of you who may be expecting a grand oration of me, I shall state at the outset that I am no orator. Many a man has been elected to public office on the strength of his ability to make fine phrases and soar to lofty heights of eloquence; but if I am elected governor, it must be on other qualifications.

You students, enjoying the priceless privilege of education in this great college of Dr. Eastill's, have my admiration and envy. The keenest regret of my life is that I was compelled to quit school at the age of 13, to work on the farm in old Chambers county. During the 42 years since then, I have studied hard in the well-known "university of hard knocks," and I hope I have not been a backward student. But neither my talents nor my training in the school of life runs to elocution.

The Measure of Service
Fortunately for the poor speaker, the people of this country are coming to realize that something more than the gift of flowery language is necessary to the successful administration of government. They are looking deeper beneath the candidate's words to his life record of service and accomplishments, as a measure of his equipment for the office he seeks. And that is the only logical and reliable way to gauge a man's ability to do things—by considering what he has already done. You cannot endow a candidate with magic new qualities simply by giving him the title of governor, or senator, or president.

In the formal announcement of my candidacy I said: "Only one thought should guide the citizens in choosing a governor, and that is, what candidate is best equipped to serve the interests of the public. I am willing to be judged by this standard."

You all know what these "interests of the public" are, despite the efforts of self-seeking politicians to obscure them with "isms" and so-called issues of their own creation, which concern the citizens but little.

Texas' Problems
There are two things which the voters of Texas should keep foremost in mind in selecting the next governor. One is the demand now pressing upon the state government to meet the amazing growth Texas is experiencing, and the changing and complex conditions produced by that growth. The other is the challenge to the state government to look and go beyond the present, encouraging and planning for and securing an even greater development.

The greater development of Texas has even now begun, and its forward march hinges largely upon the encouragement and facilities afforded the citizens and the incoming settlers, capital and industry. In this situation there are problems calling for the highest type of executive genius and experience. On the other hand, executive blunders could so muddle matters as to check the state's progress materially.

As the state's population and activities grow, we must have more schools, more roads, more state hospitals and institutions for the blind, the deaf, those who suffer from mental afflictions, and the delinquent; more prison facilities, and more governmental machinery to protect and if necessary regulate all the other expanded endeavors of Texas. These things require more expense.

Equalization of Texas
You hear the politicians talk of reducing the cost of government, but you cannot escape the fact that as the state grows, the expense must grow too. Where the need of real business ability comes in is in the economical and efficient spending of the money.

This being my first candidacy for public office, I have never before asked anyone to vote for me, nor advertised my virtues to the public. However, in employing help, I have always required applicants for positions to state their qualifications and experience, and the electorate should require the same of its public servants.

Childhood Struggles
I was born on a farm near Anahuac, in South Texas, one of 12 children of Christian and patriotic parents impoverished by the Civil war. My maternal forebears came to South Texas with Stephen F. Austin's colonists and one of them, Luke Bryan, fought with Sam Houston at San Jacinto. My father, Captain Benjamin Franklin Sterling, organized the first Liberty county company of volunteers to cross the Sabine in the war between the states. He fought in Wall's Texas Legion.

As a boy I knew only the toil and trials and the few joys that make up the life of any poor farmer lad. While my work is now in the city, I have my home in the country, because I prefer rural life to city life, and surrounding my home I now have 100 acres in diversified cultivation near La Porte. There I "live at home" and spend much of my time looking after the crops and the stock. With a ranch in Southwest Texas, I also have the problems and viewpoint of the cattleman.

While still a youth I hearkened to the call of the sea, freighting truck across the bay to Galveston in a schooner, and bringing cargoes of merchandise back to my community. At the age of 20 I left that work to sell general merchandise in a little backwoods store on the bay.

At the age of 22, when most of the battles of life were still before me, I was married to Miss Maude Abbie Gage. She has stood at my side through all the struggles, bearing her full share of the hardships, counseling and encouraging me, and at the same time rearing our five children. But for her help and inspiration my progress would have been small indeed.

Success Is Attained
I expanded my business, establishing feed and produce stores in the oil field regions of Humble and Sour Lake. Prospering moderately, I entered the country banking business, and in time organized a small oil company. It was my privilege to pilot the concern through its early struggles to success, developing it into the great industry known as the Humble Oil & Refining Company.

In 1925 I retired as head of the company to devote my time to other affairs, private and public. I disposed of all my stock in it, retaining only the interest of pride and pleasant memories.

I was a member of the Houston Port commission from its inception, and have been chairman of the commission during most of the past decade. Since 1920 the port of Houston has grown from little more than a fond dream into one of the major ports of the country. It has been one of the agencies enabling Houston to double her population and become the largest city of Texas, during that period. I am proud of the part I have been privileged to take in the development of the port, and proud of its phenomenal growth.

Appointed By Moody
Early in 1927 Governor Moody appointed me chairman of the state highway commission. It has proved to be one of the hardest jobs I ever tackled, but the associations and contacts it brought and the satisfaction of service performed, have made it a very pleasant and worthwhile labor.

I have traveled over nearly all the 20,000 miles of state designated highways. I have met nearly every one of the 252 county judges and most of the commissioners, in their own counties, and had dealings with them at Austin. And I am pleased to say I am still on speaking terms with all of them, and have received splendid cooperation from them.

The lion's share of credit for the road building progress made in Texas during the last three and a half years should go to Governor Moody and the legislature; and to my associates on the highway commission—Cone Johnson, that grand old man of East Texas, and Judge W. R. Ely, a stalwart son of West Texas; and to the highway department engineers and employees.

Chaos Confronts Commission
The present highway commission, when it took over the department in February of 1927, was confronted with the task of restoring order out of chaos. It inherited from its predecessors, Governor Ferguson's high-million dollars of indebtedness, with only a small sum in the treasury to meet it.

Federal aid had been withdrawn from Texas on two grounds. First, that maintenance of federal aid projects in Texas had fallen so far below the government standard that the federal investment in these projects was being lost; second, that contractors on projects involving federal aid were not being paid as the work progressed.

Reorganization Achieved
The work of the present highway commission in these respects speaks for itself. I think I may say without boasting that the commission has as fine a working organization as can be found anywhere in the country. It meets all of its obligations promptly and keeps a working balance of cash on hand at all times, so that the credit and good name of Texas cannot be called in question.

From time to time it has replaced the wornout and inadequate equipment which it inherited from its predecessors, installing modern machinery adapted to the work in Texas. It has launched and carried on an unprecedented program of highway improvement and construction.

By a system of real competitive bidding, which has been open and above-board and never behind closed doors, the present highway commission has obtained and still obtains lower bids and better construction than Texas ever before enjoyed.

Future Task Looms Great

But it is with the future of highway building in Texas that we are particularly concerned in the present contest for the governorship of our state. Texas cannot afford to relax its road building efforts. On the contrary, the work must be carried on with renewed vigor. The people will not tolerate any haphazard policy for the expenditure of their funds. They are entitled to a sound and persevering policy by which the present generation may enjoy not only the comforts and convenience of good roads but the necessity of improved modern means of transportation.

I have distinct ideas with reference to this matter—and I think the people are more concerned with their road building problems than with the ordinary and mackneyed plans of individuals for political preferment.

Past Policy Inadequate
I am strongly of the belief that the policy employed in the past to raise money for state highway work was unwise. I am convinced that this policy which is still in effect, has worked poorly and hindered proper highway construction. Our method of financing state highway construction dates back to a time when an imperfect idea was held regarding a statewide highway system and what it should embrace.

If elected governor I shall go direct to the legislature for cooperation in mapping out a highway policy fair and just to every section of the state, and to the people of the various counties and road districts. This new policy should have as its object a correlated and completed system of state highways, financed and paid for with state funds and federal aid only. It should leave to the counties and road districts their taxing power and their funds for the improvement of a system of lateral roads, so that they could have access in all weather to their schoolhouses, churches, stores and gins, and to the state highways running through the counties.

If a state highway ever was a local undertaking, it no longer is—every citizen views it nowadays as a state undertaking. A state highway vitally concerns all the people. And I would like, if possible, to carry this matter directly to the people. It is a matter affecting the entire citizenship, and not merely a few.

Change Needed
I feel that we have come to the parting of the ways and that something definite, if not drastic, must be done if a complete and correlated system of state highways and a good system of lateral or county roads is ever to be realized in our day and time.

Some of the rural counties of Texas have issued bonds up to the very limit of their bonding capacity to build state highways. In a number of instances they have been compelled to set their property valuations so high that the land can not today be sold for the prices at which it is assessed. Road bonds of some of the counties are being sold at prices far below par, and at high interest rates.

Certain of the counties traversed by state highway are able and willing and fortunate enough to furnish their quota of the construction costs of these major routes. Other counties are unable or unwilling, or unfortunately can not, meet the state's requirements in the way of funds. As a result, it is almost impossible to build a connected or continuously improved highway. We are confronted already with a hundred or more situations where unpaved gaps lessen the usefulness of important thoroughfares.

$700,000.00 Bond Issue in Ochiltree

Ochiltree County has voted for the hard surfacing of State Highways to the extent of $700,000. Under the present law, it will cost approximately $15.00 a year for each quarter section in the county, to pay the interest and retire these bonds in a thirty year period.

Under The Sterling Tax Reduction Plan

the State will assume this obligation and pay for it out of the gasoline tax.

THE STERLING TAX REDUCTION PLAN will place the burden of paying for the State roads on the traffic, where it belongs.

THE STERLING PLAN will provide the State with adequate funds to build a connected State system of hard surfaced, all-weather highways and for paving the gaps over the State without county aid and without increasing the gasoline tax one penny.

The Sterling Tax Reduction Plan provides that no property tax shall ever be levied to carry out its purposes.

Revise Tax System

It would be my purpose as governor to study earnestly our state taxing system and the best means of remedying the inequalities which exist. I am confident that an adjustment helpful to the people of Texas can be brought about.

Prison Reform

It is almost universally agreed that the state's penal institutions need to be put on a sounder and better basis. There are differences of opinion as to the best methods of bringing this about.

possible the stream of delinquents flowing into our reform schools, jails and state prisons.

We should make better provisions to protect orphans and dependent children. We should devise methods to save families from breakup when death, illness or other misfortunes occur.

I favor legislative and administrative changes to bring Texas into the ranks of progressive states in this field of endeavor. Some of our sister states, such as Alabama, North Carolina and New Mexico, have made notable progress in dealing with these conditions.

The state should lend generous support to its hospitals for those suffering from mental afflictions, and to other eleemosynary institutions. I favor a policy toward the unfortunate wards of the state which will take every insane person out of the jails of the state and place them in modern hospitals.

There are about 80,000 persons in this state suffering from tuberculosis in its active stages, and our state has facilities for treating only approximately 1000 a year. Each patient is allowed to remain in the state sanitarium only six months, on the theory that in that period of time he learns how to take care of himself. Other states are spending millions of dollars, waging a war against tuberculosis.

To Help Labor

It will be my policy to support measures designed for the better protection of the working man, and to secure him in his right to a just wage, fair working hours and better working conditions.

At present there is much unemployment, nationwide in scope. Part of it is due to temporary conditions, and part to displacement of human workers by machines. I believe that our business and industrial interests should give serious thought to the relief of unemployment.

To Assist Women Workers

My remarks in this connection apply to women workers as well as men. I have made it a point of humanity and pride to safeguard their welfare in private business, and shall continue to do so in the state's business, enforcing the female labor laws to the utmost, and striving to better their condition in every way possible.

Educational Support

Having missed its advantages, I believe, I appreciate the value of education as deeply as any man. The schooling of our children is the state's most important function.

Other Issues

As governor I shall strive, through legislation or in any other feasible way, to improve the condition of the farmer and the stockman, including the support of measures designed to put better business methods into agricultural production and marketing.

Help Unfortunates

In considering its prison problem, Texas has paid far too little heed to the kindred problem of delinquent youth. We need to stop as far as possible the stream of delinquents flowing into our reform schools, jails and state prisons.

Law Enforcement

No people can live in security without law enforcement, and no governor is true to his duty and his trust who does not fully support all laws on the statute books. At my mother's knee I was taught the precepts of the Christian religion, including brotherly love and obedience to the laws of God and of man.

End Factional Strife

Also, I shall move in every proper way I can to end the factional strife that has torn the Democracy of our state, and to bring the party back into harmony. There are those who seek to tear open the old wounds, to fan the embers of discord back into flames; but such efforts can result only in evil.

HEIGHT

In flying to a height of 43,166 feet, more than eight miles up in the air, Lieut. Apollo Soucek of the U. S. Navy has set a record which will take some beating.

Only by the use of compressed oxygen in a tank, inhaled through a tube, and an oxygen super-charger to insure combustion in the engine, was Lieut. Soucek able to do the stunt at all. Capt. Hawthorne Gray of the U. S. Army, who rose to 42,470 feet in a balloon three years ago, died from lack of oxygen in the rarefied atmosphere of that great height.

All of the talk about voyaging to the moon, whether by airplane, rocket or other device, is so much moonshine, in view of the impossibility of carrying enough oxygen along, to say nothing of the intense cold of interstellar space, somewhere around 460 degrees below zero!

LAND

A young woman of my acquaintance was surprised recently on getting home from her daily work as a stenographer to find a young man waiting to ask her who her grandfather was. When she told him, he informed her that the title company which he represented was prepared to pay her and each of her living sisters, aunts and uncles $200 each to sign a quit claim deed to a strip of land one inch wide and eighteen feet long.

That price was a "nuisance value", but there are several pieces of Manhattan real estate which have sold for as much or more per square foot, for office buildings. It no longer pays to build under 30 stories high in old New York. And the reason for the high land value is the growth of population. Every new comer to the city adds an appreciable amount to the value of every foot of land.

COMMERCE

I went into a grocery store in a little Massachusetts town the other day to buy some matches. The salesman handed me a package which was marked "Made in Russia." In the same shop window I saw some canned corned beef, cooked and packed in Uruguay. In a store in New York recently my daughter bought a raincoat made of silk which had first been woven in Japan and then sent to Scotland to be waterproofed. Wearing that, she drove to a country house on Long Island where the refreshments served included tea from India and biscuits from England.

For every dollar's worth of goods the United States sells abroad we must eventually buy a dollar's worth from the country which we buy from. That is the long and short of all the talk about tariffs and imports and the export trade.

SHIPS

The Germans now hold the record for speed of trans-Atlantic ships but both the United States and England are preparing to take it away from them. The Cunard Line, which is the oldest of all ocean stamship lines, announces that it will build a craft 1,000 feet long, carrying 4,000 passengers, which will make a speed of 30 knots an hour and will cost between 20 and 25 million dollars. A knot, by the way, is a nautical mile, which is 800 feet longer than the land mile; so a speed of 30 knots means 34 1/2 miles an hour.

The U. S. Shipping Board in conjunction with the Post Office Department is arranging with American steamship companies to build two ships even bigger and faster than the new Cunarder. It will take three or four years to build them. They will be good advertising for the United States but probably will not earn their keep. The deficit will be made up in what the Government pays the company operating them for carrying the mails. The mail subsidy of the British government to Samuel Cunard is what put the British flag ahead of ours on the Atlantic, 75 years ago.

HOMES

Saving bank heads say that right now is a more favorable time to build a home than we have had since the war. Building materials are down, labor is plentiful, mortgage money is cheap. Those who are secure in their employment can probably build homes now on more favorable terms than they will be able to a year from now.

The same authorities say that the measure of how much a man can afford to invest in a home is his average income. He is justified in tying up the equivalent of two year's salary if that is under $10,000 a year, or of three year's income, if he earns more than $15,000 a year. Thus, a man who earns $50 a week can afford a $5,000 home. And from ten to twelve years is a proper length of time over which to spread the mortgage payments.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Wade and children and Miss Viola Gaspar were Sunday dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Furnish.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. George and daughters, Edna and Bertie Louise, and his nephews, Clayton and Marion George, all of Jet, Okla., visited from Friday until Monday in the home of Mr. George's brother, S. R. George, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Littleton left Wednesday for Capulin, New Mexico, to look after business matters and visit in the home of their son, Mr. and Mrs. Onas Littleton.

Miss Audene Peery, Hardesty, Okla., is visiting with Miss Inez Packard.

Successful After Ten Years Of Search

Plainview Farmer Had Almost Given up Hope When He Tried Argotane; Troubles Now Gone

"Honestly, I've been trying for ten years to get the relief two bottles of this Argotane has given me," declares E. F. Welty, a well known farmer residing on Route 1, Plainview, Texas.

"Yes, ten years ago," he continued, "I started having trouble with indigestion and from that time on I have certainly had my share of it. I kept taking medicine, thinking I would get over the trouble, but I just kept on suffering. My appetite was no good and I had an awful burning and pains in and about my stomach. I got to where I was disgusted with medicine because nothing helped me. I was blue and despondent, had no ambition and was just getting clean down and out as far as health was concerned."

"I was so miserable I just felt like I must get some relief, somehow, when I saw so much in the papers about Argotane, I decided to see if it would do me any good, and upon the recommendation of the friends who had used it, I bought my first bottle. My appetite is good now, I eat hearty, and sleep like a log. I may have gained some in that, but I do not know that I feel like a new man, and Argotane is the cause of it. If anyone will inquire I certainly will tell them what this medicine will do. I'm satisfied there's nothing to equal it."

Genuine Argotane may be bought in Perryton at the Shindler Drug Store. 25-11-c.

A Personal Message To The Voters!

Having lived in this county for sixteen years, getting my earlier education here and after finishing my college course, teaching here in the county, and later for the past four years having been in the lumber business here, I am no stranger to the people of this town and county.

In casting your vote for your choice of the candidates for the position of County and District Clerk, please consider my qualifications, that I am—

- "A SELF EDUCATED COLLEGE MAN"
- "PRACTICAL SCHOOL TEACHING EXPERIENCE"

farmer no matter whether he is a large or small wheat grower.

"I raise an average of 175 acres of wheat which yields an average of 12 bushels per acre. At an average price of $1 per bushel my gross income from wheat is $2100. It costs me $7.50 per acre to produce this wheat, which leaves me $787.50 net profit.

"Now, if I reduce my acreage by 20 per cent, I will plant 140 acres. I will still get 12 bushels per acre or 1,680 bushels. The price will automatically rise to $1.42 per bushel would then become effective. I am assuming, of course, that other wheat farmers will also reduce their acreage 20 per cent. At $1.42 per bushel 1,680 bushels of wheat will bring $2,385.60 instead of $2,100, a gain of $285.60.

"The cost of raising 140 acres of wheat at $7.50 an acre will be $1,050 which deducted from the gross amount received for the wheat will leave a net income of $1,335.60 on 140 acres instead of $787.50 or a gain of $548.10 for raising 140 acres of wheat instead of 175 acres.

"In addition I would have 35 acres of ground for spring crops which will add still more to the profits.

"I have no fight with the English consumer for I think he is paying all he can afford to pay for his wheat. I think we should settle this question right here in the United States. The consumer in the United States with his present income can certainly afford to pay more for his wheat than any foreign consumer. The plan of acreage reduction is therefore economically sound, will not inconvenience anyone and will surely get results. It is just good business.

"I will reduce my wheat acreage 20 per cent this year and would like to see every wheat farmer do the same."

SEA SCOUT SIPLE

One of the most attractive personalities in the Byrd expedition, which recently received a royal welcome upon its return from the Antarctic, is Sea Scout Paul A. Siple of Erie, Pa., who was selected from all the Boy Scouts in the country to accompany the explorer to the far South.

From reports on Siple's conduct during the long absence from civilization it appears that his selection for this honor was well merited. Shortly before the expedition set sail for home, Admiral Byrd gave a radio talk in which the young Scout's activities were featured. The admiral said:

"Sea Scout Paul A. Siple took up his work in the expedition as a man among men. He stood regular deck watches on shipboard and turned himself into an able seaman on a full-rigged sailing vessel. At the base he was given a dog team to drive and soon learned to handle the dogs like a soubadough. Paul was given the young pups to train and turned out a most useful team. As zoologist he got many specimens of Antarctic bird and animal life. He also did good work in taking depth soundings in the Bay of Whales. Along with the rest, he has taken his turn at menial tasks, such as shoveling snow, house duties, kitchen police and standing night watches."

Every Boy Scout should be proud of the accomplishments of a representative in this great adventure in which an American boy has ever participated.

UNEMPLOYMENT PLAN

Widespread unemployment, caused partly by generally unsatisfactory economic conditions throughout the world and partly by the replacement of hard labor by machines, is giving industrialists as well as the unemployed grave concern.

Some manufacturers already have adopted forms of unemployment insurance, whereby workers temporarily laid off receive stated amounts during the period of enforced idleness.

A plan which is attracting much attention just now is that offered by the General Electric Company to its employees, whereby they would contribute one per cent of their wages to the insurance fund, the company to contribute an equal amount.

Employees would contribute so long as they were earning 50 per cent or more of average full time wages. When laid off they would receive 50 per cent of the wage earned when working. The company would hold five per cent interest on the money so held.

New rules for the better regulation of employment have been established by the company, the idea being to distribute the work among the employees under various conditions in such manner as to avoid lay-offs as much as possible. And a good idea it is.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Baker left Monday for Canyon to enter summer school. Mrs. Baker is a sister of Mrs. I. R. Buchanan and they have been staying in the Buchanan home the past month.

Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Chappell and children left Wednesday for a ten day trip at Denver and other scenic points in Colorado.

Rev. and Mrs. C. Lex Shelby and children left Monday for Claude, where Mrs. Shelby and children will spend the week visiting with relatives. Mr. Shelby will attend the International Lions Convention at Denver, Colo.

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Cogdill, Hobart, Okla., and M. F. Taylor, Litan, are visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Smith. Mrs. Smith is a sister of Mrs. Cogdill and Mr. Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hergert and children, Orene, Joy and Vernon Dale, left Tuesday morning for Rottan, New Mexico, where Mrs. Hergert and the children will remain for several weeks.

Mrs. Anna Budock who has been visiting some time with her daughter at Canton, Okla., returned recently to the home of her son, John Budock of the New Hope community.

 The blazing sun is harder on painted machinery than rain or snow—a fact little appreciated by too many farmers. A machine shed will make a binder last anywhere from one-fifth to half again longer than another binder that has been left to stand out-of-doors. Putting money into a machine shed is the best investment you can make.

We sell McCormick-Deering Tractors because they need so little service supervision. Then we go further and protect our customers by providing adequate service facilities right here in our store. Come in and let us show you our tractor service department next time you're in town.

Attach a wheel to the outer end of your gate and you will not only support the gate, thereby making it last longer, but make it easier to open and close.

26-inch press wheels on the McCormick-Deering Press Drill follow each furrow and press down the soil over the seed. It helps to withstand strong winds.

Light draft and good work are two essential features that have been built into McCormick-Deering Grain Drills by the men who designed them. Step in and look over the line.

Minister: "Aren't you ashamed to strike a boy small than yourself?"
 William, puffing: "Oh, I'd rather be ashamed for hitting a small boy than be sorry for hitting a big boy."

The coming crop drops through the boots of your grain drill. A good deal depends on the way it is dropped. You eliminate all possible risk of uneven sprouting and ripening if you will use McCormick-Deering Prompt Seed Delivery Drills.

"Father," said the beautiful girl, "I want you to help me do something about George."

MOSES—A COURAGEOUS LEADER
 Exodus 3:1-12

Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D.
 Many regard Moses as the greatest character in the Old Testament, even as they accord that distinction to Paul in the new Testament.

Selected portions to introduce us to the life of Moses are: Exodus 1:8-14; 2:1-22; 3:1-14; 11:1-10; 12:30-35; Deuteronomy 34:1-8; and Hebrews 11:23-29. Those who will do more intensive study should read, or at least scan, all of Exodus, Leviticus, Numbers and Deuteronomy. The life of Moses covers one hundred and twenty years, divided into three periods of forty years each. The date is about as far B. C. (1498) as the discovery of America by Columbus is A. D. (1492). Those who visit Rome are fascinated by the great statue of Moses, carved by Michelangelo, which is found in the Church of St. Peter in Chains.

The charm of an innocent baby has appealed to many a kindly heart. It was just that way when the Egyptians sought to perpetrate their own form of race suicide on the new born babes of the rapidly growing Hebrews, who at that time were abject slaves in the land to which they had been invited in the time of Joseph, the prime minister. A family council in the home of Amram and Jochebed resulted in making a floating basket in which baby Moses was placed on the river Nile. A servant of the princess discovered the wee one and baby nature did the rest. It remained for sister Miriam to suggest that one of the Hebrew women would make a good nurse and the mother was called to this high office. During forty years Moses was trained as a Hebrew by the mother and in all worldly wisdom by the wise men of the realm.

Sense of fair play was developed in this young man and challenge was offered when wrong was done to both an Egyptian and a Hebrew. Then Moses had to flee and was trained in the University of Experience, while a shepherd in Arabia for another period of forty years. While there, one day he was attracted by the sight of a bush that was burning but which was not consumed in flames. This student of life turned aside to see what it might be, and was then ready to respond with attention when Jehovah thrice called him by name. With unsanded feet the student stood reverently while the Almighty called him into service as a deliverer of his enslaved people in Egypt. Mighty certification was made in a threefold encouragement. "Surely, I will be with thee," was the promise from God. Then the greatest statement of divine personality that is recorded in Scripture was added: "I AM." Further, there was a pledge that would shortly be fulfilled: the people should "serve God upon this mountain." The sign of that burning bush is the insignia of the Church of Scotland, and the motto is "Nec tamen consumebatur."

Those forty years in the wilderness, after the signal deliverance from Egyptian bondage, mark the third period. During that time Moses was engaged in seeking to change the thinking of the people from that of slave consciousness to national consciousness. Many vicissitudes were met under divine guidance. Possibly the greatest problem was faced when God said he would destroy the people after they turned back to licentious forms of worship before the golden calf at Mount Sinai. Look at Exodus 32:32 with special attention to the pun-

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause." But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose. Stop suffering from constipation. uation. Moses broke down at the thought of a destroyed Israel and so identified himself with his people that he also asked to be "blotted out" rather than to be the father of a still greater people. The Golden Text tells how Moses won out during all those years of leadership: "for he endured as seeing him who is invisible." Hebrews 11:27.

KONGOLA PUT KANSAS MAN BACK TO WORK

"Proved To Be a Wonderful Medicine In My Case," Says Former Sufferer

H. C. SHERMAN

Any medicine that can win more than a million friends in seven years must have merit, and that is exactly what Kongola has done. You wonder why Kongola has become a household word? Well, read what Mr. H. C. Sherman, painting contractor, of Goddard, Kansas, says: "Kongola proved to be a wonderful medicine in my case. Last July I was hurt in an automobile accident, and was in the hospital many weeks. When I got out, I was in a badly run down condition; had rheumatism in the shoulder, arm and hand, and my stomach was out of order. I suffered terrible pains, and medicines did me no good. The many endorsements of Kongola led me to try it, and six bottles of this wonderful medicine made me able to resume my work. I am feeling better in every way than for a long time."

Kongola's 32 ingredients work together, battling at their very source, the causes of stomach, liver, kidney and bowel troubles, and of rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness.
 Kongola is sold in Perryton, Texas, at the Perryton Drug Company drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

ABOUT WOMEN

Miss Elizabeth Evans, only a few years out of college, is a successful architect in Kansas City, Mo.

Senorita Alida Wildenrath, a young Spanish sculptress, has met success in New York, where her work adorns numerous new buildings.

Three women of Piqua, O., control manufacturing concerns with 2,000 employees and valued at $12,000,000.

Mrs. Moses Smith received the honorary degree of Master of Arts from Holyoke College at the age of 90 in recognition of her work as a missionary.

Miss Inga Larusdottir edits the only women's newspaper in Iceland, which is oddly named The Nineteenth of June, because it was first published on that date in 1915.

For a moment she could not speak. He waited patiently. "When did that appear?" she asked at last. "About a week after you left." "Did you?" she seemed almost unable to bring out the words—"do anything about it?" "Nothing you would disapprove of," he told her, and added hurriedly. "That is, nothing that would give you away if you didn't want to be found."

It was clear that she breathed more freely, and even as he observed this she commented on it with the insight into her own situation which had surprised him from the first. "God knows I need to be found and taken care of by my own people if I have any," she confessed with a sigh. "Yet, as I've just told you, I'm as much afraid now of being found as of not being found. What I'd really like," she desperately added, "is to come back to myself, and to know who I am, without any one knowing it till I decide what to do. What I couldn't endure would be to be in any one else's power in my present condition."

He understood. "It's a subconscious fear," he agreed. "The chances are that your large friend of last night is back of it in some way."

"Tell me exactly what you did, and all about it."

"I wrote an unsigned letter to X Fifty, saying that you were safe and that some new friends you had made would like to know all the circumstances before putting X Fifty in touch with you. I signed the note with fake initials and gave the newspaper office as the address. I got a reply the same night, but it was mightily noncommittal. X Fifty wasn't showing his hand any more than we were. He wanted to know all I could tell him (I'm assuming that it was a man, you see), and he was rather high-handed about it. That, of course, didn't make any hit with Carrick and me. We decided that a family circle wouldn't be so cautious. In fact the whole situation looked extremely suspicious to us."

"I can't see a family circle, either," she murmured. "But then—God help me!" she broke out with sudden passion. "I can't see anything. What have I done... what could I have done... to deserve this!"

"Sit tight," he urged, and the familiar injunction steadied her. She straightened with a quick breath. "I beg your pardon," she said in a different tone. "I'm making it harder for you, instead of listening and helping to think things out. Please go on, and I'll try to do better."

"Half a dozen notes were exchanged in the next few days," he told her, "each of us trying to draw out the other. Meantime the advertisement kept appearing. It was in regularly for a week. Since then I haven't seen it, or heard from X Fifty. It looks as if he had given up. So I decided to leave town myself, and had made all my preparations; but for some reason I hung on and—Jove!—how glad I am that I did!"

"He hasn't given up," Eve said.

form the depths of a black abstraction. "He's just going at it in some other way." She had not observed his emotion, but now she noticed his silence and checked herself to meet his sympathetic eyes. "I wonder why I said that," she mused. "It sounds as if, under it all, I had some definite knowledge..." She broke off. "It's lucky I've left the green dress and the green hat behind me forever," she continued in a lighter tone. "Is there any way they can trace me through those things?" "I don't think so. If your janitor—Smith, did you say?—reads the newspapers, he may have seen the advertisement. But, as I've said, hosts of newspaper-readers never dream of looking at the personal columns. Take the men in this hotel for example. Even if you had been right here, wearing the green hat and dress, they probably would not have noticed what you had on. Your disappearing so suddenly and leaving those clothes may mean, of course, that everything you left in the apartment will have a sharp inspection; but even that wouldn't carry the investigation very far. You're very well disguised now."

"Yes," she admitted, "in my borrowed clothes. Margaret's wardrobe has given me an idea. I've got to buy new clothes, of course. What I'll get will be the plain black dress and plain black hat and plain black pumps of a nice little waitress with quiet tastes. They will be cheap, which is my first reason, and they will be a disguise, which is my second. But I don't know what I'll do about my hair," she added thoughtfully. "I suppose I'll end by dyeing it dark brown."

"Oh, don't!"

"I'll have to do something," she reminded him. "My hair is rather unusual, you know."

"It is," he fervently agreed, watching her with eyes so eloquent that she refused to meet them. "It's the most beautiful hair I've ever seen. The light in it—"

"That one detail might give me away," she went on, ignoring the compliment, but she made up for this in her next words. "You see, though I say I'm a trifle afraid of you, I'm trusting you with all my plans, as far as I know them, myself."

"I know you are, and I can't tell you how much I appreciate your confidence. That reminds me of something more."

He took a package of papers from an inside pocket and handed them to her. "These credentials I wanted for Carrick got here a few days after you left. I showed them to him, and I want you look them over, too. Please!" he urged as she hesitated.

"I trusted you without these," Eve murmured as she handed them back. "I know you did... up to a certain point. Now I'm going to ask you to trust me all the way. I want you to promise to keep me posted from now on," he rushed along. "I haven't any right to ask, but somehow, I don't think I could stand another two days and nights like those I went through before I got your note. It wasn't alone the sense that I had lost you."

"I promised myself I wouldn't speak till you were normal again. But your leaving that way, and how this new danger and your fear of it changes the look of things. I want you to know that it isn't just the interest and help of a friendly stranger I'm offering you. It's the interest and help of a man who loves you."

"When you're well, Eve," he continued steadily. "I'm going to ask you to marry me. I want to devote my life to making you happy, if you will take me. But in any case let me begin to look after you right now."

He stopped an instant, then added: "I've said it all. I won't mention it again till you're well, or till you tell me I may speak of it."

"I don't know what to say to you," she murmured. "I oughtn't to let you speak of such things. You're simply following a shadow. Why don't you keep out in the sunshine where you belong, and forget about me?"

"I like the shadows better, when you're among them," he said quietly. He pressed the hand she impulsively held out and went on in a new tone, quietly matter-of-fact. "That's that, and I won't speak of it again. I just wanted to make it clear to you that some one to whom you're first in the world is standing by."

Eve left the hotel through the servant's entrance, as befitted her appearance, and walked across to Fourth Avenue. There she picked up a taxicab and ordered herself taken to the nearest large department store.

Eve keeping close to her new role, selected a simple black one-piece dress of good quality, a severe black coat and a small black cloth hat.

TO STORE OR NOT TO STORE

By John Manley, General Manager, Oklahoma Wheat Pool

For nine years we have been a close observer of the wheat market. It might be we have not learned much about markets in that time, but there are two things that we think we are sure of, beyond a doubt and they are: First, the market is never the same two years in succession; and second, that farmers are governed very largely in their marketing program one year by their experience with the market of the previous seasons, believing, of course, that the previous year's market is a good criterion as a guide to their actions in marketing their crop the following year. It may be that you can do just as you did last year and win out, and it might be by doing just the opposite you would win out, but my experience is that just because the market did certain things one year is absolutely no guide for our actions the following year.

For the past two years it has not paid members of the Oklahoma Wheat Growers Association to store wheat in the daily pool for a long period of time, and there is a question in the minds of many whether the storing of wheat in the daily pool ever did pay. Don't forget, though, that it may pay this year. If there was any fixed rule that we might use as a guide about the whole proposition it should be along these lines: In Oklahoma and Texas we produce the first wheat that goes on the market in the world each year. If wheat is an average price and there is much of a carry-over and a good prospect for spring wheat in the spring wheat belt of the United States and a fair prospect for wheat in Canada, then our gamble in storing wheat in the daily pool and holding it for the entire year would be very poor indeed. If we are going to store it at all we had better put it in the granary on the farm; however, if wheat is low in price, such as it has been this year, and the prospect for spring wheat in this country and in Canada only fair or below normal, then storing in the daily pool, it seems to me, would be a good gamble.

The trouble with many of us last year was we put our wheat in the daily pool when the price was near the average price then obligated ourselves to pay carrying charges and interest on advances for from eight to ten months, when about eight chances to two the market would go down below the price at the time we stored and we would also be stuck for the carrying charges as well. We hardly believe that Oklahoma and Texas wheat farmers can afford to store their wheat for a long-time period because the carrying charges certainly do pile up. This, together with the advance in amounts to a considerable sum. If it is carried for as long as six months or longer wheat would have to make a much greater advance than it does during the average season for us to break even or make money on the transaction. Under such conditions as we have we can not afford to gamble on world conditions since we are the first farmers to come on the markets of the world each year.

Delivering your wheat from your combine directly into the elevator, no doubt, is saving handling the wheat twice; then there is saving the shrinkage and limiting the chance of deterioration and an opportunity to get money at a cheap rate of interest to pay harvesting expense. We figure the saving of the farmer in actual cost of operation, shrinkage, and the chance of deterioration by delivering to us wheat directly from the combine to our storage will save from five to six cents per bushel and that carries wheat for four or five months with the association does not cost the producer anything, but after that time the carrying charges become a dead weight and we are wholly depending upon the advance in market to win.

It is not our idea to dictate or to tell our growers what is best to do. It is merely our idea in this article to give to you our experience and what the averages have been for the past nine years, thus giving you the advantage of it.

FAIRVIEW, OKLA.

Harvest is almost over and everyone is busy working the row crops.

Paul Pribble and brother, Guy, are stacking their wheat.

Miss Orpah Mae Cambies and sister, Grace, visited Friday with their grandmother, Mrs. Rankin.

Mrs. John Leaman and children visited over the week-end with relatives and friends in Woodward.

Mrs. Ruby Bowles and Mrs. Bill McCarter were Perryton shoppers Saturday.

B. T. Manning, who has been suffering with rheumatism, is improving at this writing.

Lloyd Collins spent Saturday visiting with Alvin and Lyn Hamilton. Miss Bonnie Burgess came in a few days ago from California to spend the summer vacation visiting with her mother, Mrs. Henry Wilhelm, and family.

Mrs. Artie Collins and Mrs. W. L. Collins and daughters called on Mrs. Arthur Townsend Saturday evening.

Miss Alice Roberson is visiting with her sister and family, Mrs. Ray Bowles.

Almond Key, Greensburg, Kans., was a dinner guest Sunday in the W. L. Collins home.

Dick Dunn, Delta, Colo., is in the community visiting with friends and old neighbors.

Mrs. Russell Ragsdale and Mrs. Ray Bowles were Perryton shoppers Monday.

HARDESTY, OKLA.

Farmers are busy with their row crops since the harvest.

Cecil Snodgrass, manager of the Star Lumber Co., has just returned from a business trip to Kansas City.

Miss Aline Godley, who is attending P. A. M. C. Goodwell, spent the week-end with home folks.

Miss Mary Etter and Jim Randals were among the many who enjoyed the cool shade in the Range valley Sunday.

Jim Shrader, "Red" Cox and J. W. Turner, three of our ball players, are in Amarillo this week playing with Tyrone in the tournament there.

Mrs. Rada Smith and son, Alvin, were business visitors in Hardesty Saturday.

Our town is growing rapidly. Joe Thompson has just completed his modern tourist camp. The De Hardy brothers are progressing nicely with the brick garage they are building on North Broadway.

James C. Ryan, Hooker, favored our city with a call Friday.

The Three Way oil well is making progress. A new 6,000 foot cable has just been installed and is working perfectly. This test is located in the southeastern part of the county.

Rev. L. S. Hill, Hooker, filled his regular appointment at the Baptist church Sunday.

Miss Vera Phillips, Guymon, visited last week with her aunt, Mrs. W. E. Phillips.

W. A. Turner and Paul Brown were in Guymon one day last week looking after business.

Frank Ray has been hauling alfalfa for Ern Gum the past week.

Miss Virginia Brannin, Walter Nies and Irvin Hergert drove to Shamrock Saturday evening to take Miss Bessie Littleton and Miss Evelyn Fulton, who took the train to Oklahoma City. Miss Bessie will spend her two weeks vacation visiting with relatives in Sulphur and other points in Oklahoma. Miss Evelyn is returning to her home at Nicoma Park, Okla., after a three weeks visit with her sister, Mrs. Dean Conner, Farnsworth.

Mrs. J. T. Guthrie and Mrs. Clara North and daughter, Arlo Sue, returned Sunday from Pueblo, Colo., where they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Mayor Olsen. Mrs. Olsen accompanied them home for a two week's visit.

Henry Richardson and Mansel Coffee were Amarillo visitors Saturday and Sunday.

CUT ACREAGE

The governor two states north of you suggests that the board buy more wheat. What we went to know is what we are going to do with what we have! Five hundred million dollars sounds big, but when it is to be prorated among the innumerable agricultural industries that have a claim on it the amount is insignificant. The wheat section of the board's activities has already been given more than its prorate.

Stop, See Where We're At
"Let's stop, look, listen and slow down awhile and see where we are at." You fellows have done it. You have been too efficient and produced too much wheat. It's just simply sound business policy to stop producing something that you cannot sell and slow down to meet the demand. The board can take care of a seasonal overproduction, such as is produced in an exceptionally good year, but that is about as far as the board can go and you will need a Santa Claus otherwise.

Our advice is to stand of work away from the export market idea and study domestic consumption.

"Before the war Russia exported an enormous amount of wheat. Since the war this has entirely stopped. But Russian government is working at the problem and the possibility of severe world competition in wheat exports from this source is eminent."

"Wheat and cotton are the Twin Babies that demand the most attention from the Board at present, but I believe the cotton situation is not nearly so acute as is the wheat. We do not have so much foreign competition against cotton. It has a better established marketing system, is more easily handled, and I believe that the cotton situation can be worked out."

"What is the answer to the wheat growers problem. Simply yourselves. It is up to you. To organize, to study your business, to apply business principles to it. The government can help and will help, but in the final analysis—it is up to you."

For a half hour or more after his address Mr. Legge was under fire from every direction with questions of every description. He was asked why farm organizations have so many failures. He replied that history is strewn with the wreck of industrial failures, with many more developing every day, and that the percentage of risk in farm organizations was no greater than that in any other business enterprise.

Judge L. Gough asked several questions as to why the Board did not stop the operations of the cotton futures market. Mr. Legge admitted that there were some inequalities in this business, some injustices, but stated that he hardly believed it wise to completely wipe out the future market until something to replace it had been developed. Organize, Judge Gough.

apply business principles to the organization, and the futures market will disappear," said the speaker.

The question of freight rates was also raised. The speaker said in reply that 80 per cent of the price of commodities today went into labor and that the producer and carriers received a comparatively small portion of total. "I am not advocating reduction of wages," remarked Mr. Legge. "I simply suggest to you that you raise your standard of wages to the level prevailing."

"Why is the government spending so much money on reclamation of swamp lands when the wheat growers are so badly in need of help," was another question.

"You can't get me into any argument on that question," smiled Mr. Legge. "It's just a habit the government has—you quit growing so much wheat!"

A question as to the reason for the cost of bread was met with the assertion that 61 per cent of the cost of a loaf of bread went for baking and delivery charges. "You go home, forget to buy a loaf of bread,

VOTE FOR J. M. Grigsby

Candidate for Re-election for County Judge

In serving you as County Judge in the past, I have tried to be fair and impartial, honest in all my dealings and faithful to the voters who placed me in this position of trust. I have devoted all of my time to this office, have stayed at my office looking after the business of the county and trying to serve the people as best I can. If re-elected to this office I will continue in the future, using the same courteous treatment to all the people, as I have in the past.

I have conducted the affairs of the county honorably and uprightly and will continue to do so if re-elected.

One of the most important duties of this office is the supervision of the County Schools. I have taken a great deal of interest in this work. I have visited the schools and assisted in every way possible to bring them up to their present high standard.

I have been on the frontier all of my life. I have gone through the hardships with you. The vast experience and knowledge that I have gained during this time and while serving you as County Judge will be at your service if I am re-elected to the office.
