County fair's vacant stalls will soon fill

By SPENCER SANDOW
Staff Writer

The yellow and white curtains were all up and the fan rustled shimmering gold streamers, but stalls were empty at the Howard County fairgrounds Saturday afternoon. A red-wigged and striped-shirted clown slumped comfortably on a vinyl lounge in an office teeming with fair organizers.

People will set up their booths Monday, and the animals will come and go all week, said general superintendent Neal Fryar.

More about the fair
Section C

"Everything's falling into place," he said. "It'll take until about noon Sunday to set everything up. We've been working on it about two weeks. We've got a lot of entries this year."

Although misty gray clouds threatened rain for the fair, Fryar said wet weather wouldn't be a problem.

"We've had rain before and it didn't hurt us," he said. "One year it rained all week, but we still took in as much money as ever."

Chairman Arnold Marshall said the fair "was in better shape at this point" than it had been any other year. But he said he was unhappy children wouldn't be allowed time out of school to see the fair. House Bill 72 now prohibits such practices.

"It's an educational experience. Some of them have never seen a cow or a chicken, although here we are in West Texas," he said.

Marshall said the Howard County Fair was one of the state's better fairs because of its location and the residents' interest in it, although other fairs have more attending.

Howard County Fair had an average of 6,000 a day attend last year, he said.

Reagan threatens farm veto

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan warned Congress on Saturday he would not hesitate to veto any farm bill "which repeats the mistakes of the past" instead of encouraging farmers to rely less on the government and more on the market for their income.

In his weekly radio address, delivered from the presidential retreat at Camp David, Md., Reagan said, "We must meet our responsibilities to America's farmers and pass a farm bill that provides hope, not measured doses of despair.

"I am asking Congress to unite with me for intelligent policies that provide farmers needed help without doing harm to the budget limitations adopted by Congress, and greater freedom for them to grow and sell their crops in the marketplaces of the world," he said.

"By working in this spirit, we can avoid budget-busting legislation which repeats the mistakes of the past, legislation I would not hesitate to veto."

The Democratic-led House Agriculture Committee has approved a bill carrying a price tag of $42.8 billion for programs to support farm income and commodity prices and provide farmers with credit. Administration officials

OPEC warns of chaos from price cuts

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — The Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries said Saturday that overproduction and price cuts would backfire on non-member nations that sell their oil too cheaply and could lead to market chaos.

"Those who adopt an uncooperative attitute to OPEC in favor of short-term price cutting will discover, perhaps too late, that the economics of the short term are also the economics of the short-sighted," said a statement issued by the organization's secretariat to note OPEC's 25th anniversary.

The unsigned statement accused OPEC's adversaries in consuming and producing nations of "refusing to learn from the lessons of history." The current soft market conditions "cannot continue indefinitely," it said.

Oil production by Britain, Norway, Mexico, and other non-member countries has helped drive prices down and reduced OPEC's share of the world market. Conservation has also played a large role.

OPEC supplied 60 percent of world oil needs six years ago, but now has a share of about 30 percent of the market. Prices have dropped from a base of $34 a barrel in 1983 to $28 now, with even lower prices on the spot, or non-contract, market.

Oil ministers plan to meet in Vienna Oct. 3 to discuss the situation, and the meeting is likely to focus on the production quotas that have caused dissension in the past.

The organization sets price rates for various grades of oil and production ceilings for its members in an attempt give each member a fair share of the profits and keep demand steady, but has no way of enforcing its decisions.

Independent analysts say some members, especially the poorer ones, have overproduced and discounted prices, undermining the organization's efforts.

Saudi Arabia, the cartel's largest producer, is the key to stabilizing prices and demand, but Ahmed Zaki Yamani, the Saudi oil minister, on Saturday spoke of the possibility of a price war next year.

Yamani, in a separate statement released by the OPEC News Agency, said prices should firm up this winter due to the seasonal demand.

However, he said if non-member producers do not cooperate with OPEC and if the 13 OPEC nations do not stick to the guidelines, "Then I expect there will be a price war.

"Under the assumption of a price war, and under that assumption alone, I would expect the price

Soviet media criticizes weapon test

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet media on Saturday sharply criticized the U.S. test of an anti-satellite weapon and said it interfered with preparations for November's superpower summit conference.

Radio Moscow called the test a "dangerous step" toward deploying other space weapons, and the official Tass news agency accused the United States of worsening the strained relations between Moscow and Washington.

On Friday, a U.S. F-15 fighter plane launched a rocket that soared into space and demolished an old satellite in orbit about 345 miles above the Pacific Ocean.

President Reagan and Soviet leader Mikhail S. Gorbachev are scheduled to meet in Geneva in November, and the Soviets have said the testing of the U.S. ASAT system would complicate their discussions.

That concern also was expressed in London by Britain's opposition Labor Party.

Denzil Davies, the party's spokesman on defense matters, said that "in common with many people in America and Europe, I am concerned at this latest development."

Friday's test "looks like the preliminary step towards an arms race in space," he said, but added: "It could still be stopped with goodwill on all sides at Geneva."

Miss Mississippi takes the crown

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Miss Mississippi Susan Akin was crowned Miss America 1986 on Saturday, fulfilling a computer prediction that she would win the title.

The first runner-up was Miss South Carolina, Shery Annette Thrift, 23, of Westminster. The second runner-up was Miss Texas Jonna Fitzgerald, 21, of Greenville. The third runner-up was Miss Washington, Honey Castro, 19, of Moses Lake. The fourth runner-up was Miss Alabama, Angela Tower, 25, of Birmingham.

Wearing a lace gown accented with rhinestones and crystal drops and topped with white fox, the 21-year-old Miss Akin, from Meridian, cried and blew kisses to the crowd after her name was announced before a national television audience and a crowd of 21,300 at Convention Hall.

Miss Akin was crowned by Miss America Sharlene Wells, 21, of Salt Lake City. She took her victory stroll down the runway as host Gary Collins sang "There She Is," a pageant hallmark missing for the past three years because of a dispute with its composer over money.

The other finalists were: Miss Indiana Laurie Jean Broderick, 21, of Elkhart; Miss Kentucky Laurie Janine Keller, 21, of Nippa; Miss Michigan Alecia Rae Masalkoski, 23, of Muskegon; Miss New Mexico Valerie Joy Faber, 26, of Hobbs; and Miss Ohio Suellen Cochran, 21, of Heath.

George Miller, a retired business professor now living in Bellevue, Wash., said earlier this month that based on his computer analysis, Miss Akin had the best chance of becoming the fourth woman from Mississippi to become Miss America.

Miller assigned odds to all 51 contestants by feeding into his computer their personal statistics and then comparing them to a composite of the winners from the past 20 years.

SUSAN AIKEN of Meridian, Miss., waves at the crowd Saturday night after being named Miss America

Miss Akin, a senior at the University of Mississippi, has said that word of Miller's selection thrilled her because she has wanted to be Miss America since childhood. But one of the judges said she told them in her interview that she thought the 7-1 odds assigned her by Miller also put her at a disadvantage.

The winner, who has had voice training for 10 years, sang an Italian love song, "You're My World," in the talent competition. She wore a lilac one-shouldered gown with a flowing skirt that was covered with glitter.

She said she used to perform magic tricks in talent competition for local and state pageants, but decided the small portion of time allotted contestants did not permit her to wow the audience or the would drop to a level between $15 and $18 dollars per barrel after the winter if non-OPEC producers do not cooperate with the organization and we in OPEC do not discipline ourselves."

The statement from the secretariat said OPEC had contributed "a quarter-century of useful service to mankind" by helping poorer countries and by bringing oil prices into line with the value of the resource.

Low prices will stifle the search for alternative sources of energy, the statement said.

Without the cartel's efforts, "the price structure would have collapsed and real chaos would have prevailed on the oil market," it said.

OPEC warned of damage to Western economies and banks and of serious problems for the Third World if prices collapse.

"Non-OPEC countries, in maximizing production at the expense of OPEC, are depleting their limited oil reserves so fast that they will soon have to invest huge and exorbitant capital in order to prevent a drastic fall in their production," the statement said.

In the swimsuit competition, the 5-foot-9, 114-pound Miss Akin wore a white outfit. Earlier in the week, she captured a preliminary swimsuit competition.

Miss Akin, whose family has kept lions and a monkey for pets, said she eventually wants to work in public relations.

Miss Ohio Sue Ellen Cochran appeared to be the favorite going into the finals after capturing preliminary victories earlier in the week in both the talent and swimsuit competitioins. But Miss Cochran was not even among the runners-up.

The finalists were selected from among representatives of 50 states and the District of Columbia on the basis of their scores in a week of preliminary talent, swimsuit and evening gown competitions and interviews with the seven judges.

After the announcement of the finalists, the 10 women were to compete anew in the swimsuit, talent and evening gown divisions.

Miss Cochran was the only contestant to win two preliminaries, the swimsuit competition and the talent category for her piano performance of "Variations On Chopsticks."

Miss Tower and Miss Akin won preliminary swimsuit awards while Miss Broderick and Miss Fitzgerald, who took up the fiddle four years ago, won talent preliminaries.

Miss Masalkoski broke new ground in Miss America talent competition with her demonstration of kata karate. Her "martial ballet" came between an entrance in which she stomped barefoot through 100 pounds of broken soda bottles and a finale in which she pushed her foot through four inch-thick pieces of cement.

Miss Akin, a retired statistics professor's favorite to win the crown, sang an Italian love song. Miss Castro, a Filipino who became an America citizen at age 6, sang a Broadway show tune.

By The Assciated Press

A minor upper-air trough triggered a large complex of thunderstorms that moved slowly southward through North and Central Texas early Saturday, prompting some localized flooding and contributing to a traffic pileup in Dallas.

The National Weather Service said the storm system dumped between 2 and 5 inches of rain from the parched low rolling plains and blacklands into the northern Hill Country under mostly cloudy skies.

Thick fog and drizzle lowered visibilities in the Panhandle as a mass of cool polar air passed through and entered the Red River Valley. The weather service said visibility at Lubbock was 1½ miles.

A thunderstorm reduced visibility at Fort Worth to less than one mile, while a rain-slickened freeway in Dallas was blamed for injuries to at least 31 people in a series of chain-reaction collisions.

Low temperatures were generally in the 60s and 70s with a few 80s along the immediate coast. Extremes were 66 degrees at Amarillo and a balmy 85 at Corpus Christi's Naval Air Station.

Winds were variable across the state, ranging from the southeast at 10 miles an hour or less.

A large cluster of thunderstorms was located between Abilene, Dallas and Temple.

Bankruptcy hearing set

An Oct. 29 bankruptcy hearing has been set for Grady Cunningham, owner of Cunningham Development Corp. and Cunningham Oil Co.

The hearing will take place at 10 a.m. in Room 206 of the U.S. Courthouse in Fort Worth.

Cunningham filed a proposed plan of reorganization Sept. 6 under Chapter 11 of bankruptcy law, which provides protection from debts.

He and his wife, the former Iris Anne Tollett, had filed for bankruptcy under separate petitions in September 1984.

Several Howard County banks are among the 20 largest creditors of the Big Spring businessman, Fort Worth attorney Joe Colvin said in a 1984 article in the Herald.

have said some provisions of the bill move away from the more "market-oriented" policy that the administration seeks. They said they will seek changes on the floor.

The Republican-controlled Senate Agriculture Committee is nearing completion of its own version of the bill. The legislation would replace a law that expires in less than three weeks.

In addition to his remarks on the farm bill, Reagan urged Congress to reject approximately 300 protectionist trade bills awaiting action, saying they would "invite certain retaliation against our farm exports, heightening the risk of a farm catastrophe which would send shock waves throughout our economy."

"Believe me, protectionism is farmers' enemy No. 1, and that enemy is stalking our gate," the president said. "Let us work aggressively for freer and fairer markets."

Search for elderly woman ends with sucess Saturday

The Howard County Sheriff's department mounted a massive hunt Friday night for a missing 80-year-old woman, who was found well Saturday afternoon, said sheriff's deputy George Quintero.

Myrtle Prather wandered away on foot from the Robinson Ranch Friday at 7:30 p.m., he said.

Ruth Robinson told sheriff's deputies Friday night she had seen the elderly woman walking along Midway Road Friday afternoon and picked her up, intending to take her home later that evening. Prather wandered away from the house, and Robinson and her son spent half an hour looking for her before calling the sheriff, according to reports.

Sheriff's deputies and others "looked up and down the roads and everywhere a car could go," then walked the roads where she might have deviated from the path, but had no success finding the elderly woman, the reports stated.

The search then escalated to include Department of Public Safety units, the game warden, border patrol officers and Howard College Rodeo Club volunteers, who searched on horseback, Quintero said. The hunt continued until 2:15 a.m. Saturday and resumed at 8 a.m., he said.

The Midland DPS helicopter was called in to search at 10 p.m. Friday, according to the report.

Prather was found about 3:50 p.m. Saturday southwest of the ranch, Quintero said. "She was apparently all right," he said.

Reagan supports 3 terms

WASHINGTON — President Reagan told a group of state legislators he believes the Constitution should be changed to permit presidents to serve more than two terms, White House spokesman Larry Speakes said Saturday.

Speakes said the question was raised by a long-time Reagan supporter at a private meeting with legislators on Thursday in Tampa, Fla., where the president had just given a speech.

Buckley leaves hospital

DETROIT — Columnist William F. Buckley Jr. was released from a Detroit hospital Saturday, one day after he was admitted to its coronary care unit with chest and stomach pains, a hospital spokesman said.

Buckley, 59, canceled an appearance before the State Bar of Michigan's annual convention Friday after being rushed to Detroit Receiving Hospital, said his secretary, Francis Bronson. He was later transferred to Harper Hospital's coronary unit.

Dr. Joshua Wynne, chief of cardiology at Harper, said there was no indication Buckley had suffered a heart attack or that there was any heart damage.

FAMILY MEMBERS of former Lafayette County, Wis., Judge Daniel P. McDonald fend off members of the television media after the judge was pronounced guilty of first-degree murder Saturday morning.

Former judge convicted

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A former judge accused of beating and stabbing to death the law partner of the man who ousted him from office in an election was convicted of first-degree murder, it was announced Saturday.

A jury had reached its verdict in the two-week trial of Lafayette County Circuit Judge Daniel P. McDonald at 8:55 p.m. Friday, but Judge Ralph Adam Fine, who presided over the trial, sealed the verdict until this morning.

McDonald, 43, who pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of mental defect or disease, now faces a second phase of the trial, to evaluate his mental state.

That portion begins Tuesday, since the judge said earlier he would hold no court sessions Monday because of the Jewish holiday of Rosh Hashana.

McDonald sat quietly and shook his head as the verdict was read.

The jury began deliberations at 5 p.m. Friday, following closing arguments in which prosecutor Michael Zaleski attacked McDonald's testimony Thursday that he hit and stabbed James C. Klein, 31, of rural Cuba City in self-defense.

"After doing this to Jim Klein, he forced Jim Klein to defend himself from the grave. ... He'll stop at nothing to get off," said Zaleski, one of two state assistant attorneys general prosecuting the case.

Klein, found bludgeoned and stabbed to death at his Darlington law office June 22, was a law associate of William Johnston, 44, who beat McDonald in the judicial election April 2 and succeeded him as judge last month.

Johnston testified he watched, stunned, through a window of a locked office door as McDonald assaulted Klein on the Saturday morning when the slaying occurred.

Another witness testified that, responding to Johnston's call for help, he also saw the fatal assault through the same window.

McDonald, arrested at his home later the same morning, told the jury he and Klein were talking in the office when Klein became enraged about his criticism of Johnston. He claimed that Klein charged at him and produced a knife, and that he hit Klein with a metal bar and stabbed him only to protect himself from what he thought was sure death.

Zaleski contended that McDonald had become angry at losing the election to Johnston and ending a judicial career that dated back to 1971.

"He had held the judgeship for 14 years; it was his little fiefdom, his little kingdom," he said.

Britons angered by Soviet ouster

LONDON (AP) — British officials and leading news organizations expressed outrage Saturday at the Soviet Union's expulsion of 25 Britons in reprisal for the British ouster of an equal number of alleged Soviet spies.

In a stern statement hinting at British retaliation, Foreign Secretary Sir Geoffrey Howe said, "We are now giving urgent and careful consideration to the implications" of the Soviet move.

He called the Soviet action a setback to improved diplomatic relations.

"We utterly condemn this totally unjustified Soviet action directed against British businessmen and journalists, as well as embassy staff," he said in the statement.

Botha critical of meeting

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa — President P.W. Botha on Saturday accused business leaders who met with exiled guerrilla chiefs of showing "weakness to the enemies of South Africa" — quashing speculation that Botha himself might negotiate with men he regards as terrorists.

Newspapers reported under banner headlines Friday's meeting in Zambia between executives who control much of South Africa's vast mineral wealth and Oliver Tambo, president of the outlawed African National Congress.

Both sides said afterward it could mark the start of peace for South Africa, and that they planned to meet again.

Wine tainted with acid

MUNICH, West Germany — Bavarian authorities have issued a public warning after hazardous amounts of sulphuric acid were found in two bottles of Chianti wine from Italy.

Bavaria's Interior Ministry said Friday the acid was found in two bottles labeled "Mondial Chianti D.O.C. confezionato da GFA-SNC-Borgo San Lorenzo."

A customer had brought a bottle to the official laboratory for testing, complaining about the wine's strange taste.

The laboratory checked another randomly chosen bottle and again found the acid, a highly corrosive chemical also used in automobile batteries.

Chinese heir resurfaces

PEKING — Former Communist Party Chairman Hua Guofeng, chosen heir of Mao Tse-tung but ousted from power in 1981 by China's current leader, Deng Xiaoping, resurfaced Saturday in apparent good health.

Hua, 64, was last seen in April 1982 when he was shown on Chinese television in pajamas, reportedly recovering from an illness in a Peking hospital. Hong Kong press reports said he had cancer or heart disease, but Chinese authorities declined comment.

Japan's former foreign minister, Masayoshi Ito, told Japanese reporters here that he met Hua for 40 minutes in a luxurious, guarded house in north-central Peking that he believed was Hua's residence.

U.N. assembly to open

UNITED NATIONS — A record number of heads of state and government leaders, including President Reagan, will attend the 40th anniversary session of the General Assembly opening Tuesday.

Close to 150 items are on the agenda for debate, but the session's overriding issue most likely will be South Africa, which has been barred from the General Assembly since 1974.

Opinion

Legal loophole hurts the public

One of the problems of legislating common sense is that the law becomes a self-limiting end in itself. Such was the case when the attorney general ruled last week television cameras may be excluded from public meetings.

He did so on the basis that the open meetings act provides access for "sonic reproduction" but not specifically for videotape cameras.

It's ludicrous to think that legislation designed to support public access to government could be turned around and used as a basis to exclude the press. Yet that's precisely what happened. It happened because county commissioners in an East Texas town decided they didn't want to be on TV, and found a loophole in the 12-year-old law.

The attorney general who ruled against television camera access, Jim Mattox, is the same man who helped write the Texas Open Meetings Act as a legislator. At the time, he says, television video recorders weren't in as common use as now.

Public officials should welcome the glare of the TV camera, just like a reporter's notebook or tape recorder, because the public is best served when it government is bathed in the public light. Unfortunately, there are always some who battle against doing the public's business in public. The ruling against television cameras should have no effect in Texas; we're afraid it will.

The Legislature should remedy the situation when it convenes in 1987. But it's a long way till then. We hope public officials are smart enough to realize television has its place in a meeting right beside radio and newspapers.

Around The Rim

The city has a lot to like

By ROBIN WARD

My first look at Big Spring about eight weeks ago surprised me. This can't be West Texas, I thought. It's not flat enough.

I had come to interview for a job as city editor, and I must admit I was skeptical about what I would find.

But after a day of meeting the newspaper staff, sampling the city's renowned Mexican food, and going on an extensive tour of Crossroad Country sights, I knew this was a town I could easily like.

I haven't been disappointed.

The attractions are many — rolling hills, the view from Scenic Mountain, breathtaking sunsets, a museum or two, Moss Creek Lake, Comanche Trail Park and the "big spring" for which the town was named, a junior college and college for the deaf, hospitals and shopping centers.

In the days before I left Abilene, friends and co-workers took it upon themselves to tell me everything they knew about my home-to-be. Stories ranged from how easy-going and friendly the community is to how terrible the water tastes and how awful the dust storms can be.

Most of the stories, I've found, had at least a grain of truth. Especially stories about the water. How many places could a business survive doing nothing but purifying and selling water? And stories about the people — many of whom called me in those first few days or stopped by the paper to welcome me to town.

What I wasn't told before I moved here is that for a city the size of Big Spring, there's an awful lot going on. The closing of Webb Air Force Base and resulting population drop may have been a setback, but it hasn't left the community stagnant.

In the short time I've been here, we've had the Crossroads Stampede; an Old Settler's Reunion; a City Council budget hearing that attracted 250 people; the opening of a new retirement center and several new businesses; discussion of plans to restore historical buildings; and, coming up this week, the Howard County Fair.

People here seem to be a vocal bunch, who aren't always united in their opinions, but who exhibit typical West Texas pride and willingness to get involved. They seem to care about their community.

Yes, this is an easy town to like.

Opinions expressed in this column are those of the staff writer and do not necessarily reflect the views of the newspaper's management.

Second glances

By JOHN RICE
Managing Editor

It's too quiet on this page

If you're like most readers, when you turn to the editorial page your attention goes immediately to letters to the editor. That's because, first of all, the letters are short and attractive, not imposing like those long-winded columnists tend to be. Second, you realize that the letter is written by a contemporary, a fellow reader, possibly a neighbor.

Third, letters are great fun because they are usually quite blunt and to the point.

Letter writers aren't out to impress people with their consummate grammatical skills and worldly knowledge. They just want to make their point. They succeed.

I like to get letters. The best ones are those that drive home a point of view on a current issue. They are the meat and potatoes of public opinion.

Sometimes they may make people uncomfortable. I know I've published a few letters that ripped the Herald for perceived — or real — shortcomings. And I've heard cries of "foul" from public officials who claim the letter writer just "doesn't understand" the whole situation. Could be, but mostly we're dealing with perceptions when we deal with public opinion anyhow.

Even if a letter isn't accurate in every detail, it usually is valuable in shedding light on an issue.

I save "editor's notes," or answers, for those situations when facts are so awry that they require a clarification. But even then, the letter gets printed.

Letters, to be effective, should be short and stick to one issue, although they often make several points on that issue. The length guideline I use on letters is 350 words. There's nothing magical about 350 words, any more than there's anything magical about a 22-to-1 pupil-teacher ratio for our schools. But we're stuck with both.

In newspaper parlance, length is considered in column inches. That is, the number of inches a story takes when presented in a one-column width (about two inches); 350 words translates into about 10 column inches. Often the best letters are 50 to 100 words — two to three column inches. They are "best" because brevity guarantees a better audience than wordiness. A good rule of thumb is "the shorter the better."

But because some issues are particularly complex, or because a writer may want to be extraordinarily careful to consider all sides of an argument, letters can range as long as 350 words. "Think" pieces of greater length are right for another of the newspaper's reader-access forums, Insight.

Insight is a frequent feature of the editorial page. Many times it is a news analysis offered by the Associated Press or other news bureau, or it may be a special interest presentation on an issue.

A lot of times it's a column on an issue offered by a reader.

The guidelines for insight are: broad interest in the issue being discussed, quality of presentation, and length.

Both the insight and letters columns are subject to editing, just as is everything published in the news space of the newspaper. The editing isn't meant as censorship — just the opposite. Editing is for length and good taste.

I won't allow a letter-writer to call a public official a dirty rat. I will allow him or her to question the official's decision-making abilities. A subtle difference, perhaps, to some readers. But an important one.

Beyond that, nearly anything goes in the letters columns.

Let's hear from you. It's too quiet on this page.

Negativists are happy at heart

(Stephen Chapman is on vacation. Donald Kaul substitutes.)

By DONALD KAUL

There is a plague sweeping across our land, more virulent than AIDs, more debilitating than television. It is infecting the young as well as the old, the rich and the working poor; everybody, pretty much, except farmers. It is called positive thinking.

You see it everywhere, on Wall Street, in the halls of Congress and the shops of Main Street; people are bullish on America. Despite the evidence.

Let's face it, we're riding for a fall. We're running huge budget deficits and not doing anything about them. We're falling daily deeper into debt and not doing anything about it. We're locked in a mad arms race with the Soviet Union and not doing anything about it. Yet people go about their business, cheerful. It's positive thinking, I tell you, the curse of the American experiment.

A lot of people think Norman Vincent Peale invented positive thinking. No, he merely named it. Positive thinking is as old as America itself. Some believe the Pilgrims brought it over on the Mayflower, but it predates even that. Native Americans, Indians as we used to call them before our consciousness was raised, were positive thinkers. That's why they thought the white man would let them keep some of the vast continent they inhabited. The Indian gave the white man positive thinking in return for venereal disease and, at the moment, it's hard to know who got the worst of the trade.

I myself, as a youth, was a positive thinker. I'd go around, as chipper as George Bush, thinking positive thoughts. When I'd hear about a hurricane in Florida, I'd think of what a good thing it was for roofers. Did the Mississippi flood? Well, imagine how grateful the people in the Sahara would be for all that water. I was open to all things positive.

Pretty soon I owned two vacuum cleaners, three sets of encyclopedia and an Edsel. I was just about to have aluminum siding put on my brick house when I happened upon a book that was to change my life: "The Power of Negative Thinking," by Gerhardt Downer, the Swiss psychologist. Downer was an early disciple of Sigmund Freud, but split with the master when he decided that psychoanalysis, while a brilliant concept, was more trouble than being crazy. He moved back to his Alpine village and wrote his masterwork on negative thinking. Its lack of success did not surprise him. His dying words were, "I always knew I'd be a failure."

It was Downer's monumental discovery that, contrary to popular beief, pessimists are happier than optimists. He wrote:

"A pessimist is a person who expects the worst out of any given situation. Ten percent of the time he is wrong and, thus, pleasantly surprised. The other 90 percent of the time he has the satisfaction of saying 'I told you so.'

"An optimist, on the other hand, lives a life of failed expectations. He moves from one disappointment to another, never learning from experience. Also, he owns many sets of encyclopedia."

The philosophy of Negative Thinking struck me with the force of religious conversion. At last I had found my path through life. I read extensively in Downer's other works, "How to Win Friends Without Keeping Them," "The Pursuit of Mediocrity" and "If You Can't Say Something Nice About Someone, Become a Newspaperman."

It was that last book that was to give form to the rest of my life. It opened the possibility of thinking negatively for a living. I entered the profession of journalism and, after a series of lightning-like failures, was made a columnist. I've hardly had a positive thought since.

It's not as easy as it sounds, actually. Almost anyone can have a negative thought now and then, or even for a week at a time. But to consistently think negatively at a high level requires the discipline of a professional.

Over the years I have developed a number of negative-thinking techniques to help me over the smooth spots. Mornings are particularly important. Get off on the right foot in the morning and the next thing you know you're halfway to work, whistling a John Denver tune, unarmed against the day.

Today

By The Associated Press

Today is Sunday, Sept. 15, the 258th day of 1985. There are 107 days left in the year. The Jewish New Year, Rosh Hashanah, begins at sunset.

Today's highlight in history:

On Sept. 15, 1776, British forces occupied New York City during the American Revolution.

On this date:

In 1789, the U.S. Department of Foreign Affairs was renamed the Department of State.

In 1821, independence was proclaimed for Costa Rica, Guatemala, Honduras, Nicaragua and El Salvador.

In 1857, William Howard Taft — who would serve as president of the United States and as chief justice of the Supreme Court — was born in Cincinnati.

In 1935, the Nuremberg Laws deprived German Jews of their citizenship and made the swastika the official symbol of Nazi Germany.

In 1940, during the Battle of Britain in World War II, the tide turned as Royal Air Force planes inflicted heavy losses on the Luftwaffe.

In 1959, Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev arrived in the United States to begin a 13-day visit.

In 1963, four children died when a bomb went off in a black Baptist church in Birmingham, Ala.

Ten years ago: Four Palestinian guerrillas flew to Algiers, Algeria, with three hostages from the Egyptian Embassy in Madrid after a day in which they had forced their way into the embassy and threatened to blow it up.

Five years ago: In a Washington news conference, Secretary of State Edmund Muskie cautioned against hopes of a quick resolution to the Iranian hostage crisis.

One year ago: United Auto Workers went on strike at 13 General Motors plants after a midnight deadline for a new national contract expired.

Today's birthdays: Country music star Roy Acuff is 82. Actor-director Jackie Cooper is 63. Comedian Norm Crosby is 58.

Billy Graham

Perfection vs. salvation

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: Do you have to be perfect before you can go to Heaven? If so, I guess I don't have a chance, because I know I will never be perfect. — Mrs. B.T.J.

DEAR MRS. B.T.J.: The answer to your question is both "yes" and "no." But before you think I'm contradicting myself, let me explain what I mean.

In one sense, we must be perfect before we can go to Heaven, because God is holy and perfect. "Nothing impure will ever enter it, nor will anyone who does what is shameful or deceitful" (Revelation 21:27). The Bible says concerning God, "Your eyes are too pure to look on evil; you cannot tolerate wrong" (Habakkuk 1:13).

But the other side of the coin is that no one is perfect, and none of us, therefore, is worthy enough or pure enough to go to Heaven on our own merit. The Bible says, "There is no one righteous, not even one" (Romans 3:10). No matter how hard we try, we still are tainted by sin. Even one sin would be enough to keep us out of Heaven.

We have hope of Heaven because Christ has taken our sins away. Are you trusting him for your salvation?

Zany actor is product of TV

NEW YORK (AP) — As a child, Tom Hanks spent most of his spare time sitting in front of a TV set. Today, the zany actor and comedian has little time for the tube: He's too busy pumping out a string of movies.

"It came to a point where I could tell what time of day it was from what was on television. I am almost totally a product of that medium," he said.

For Hanks, who is now 30, there wasn't much for him to do as a child growing up in Oakland, Calif., with his restaurateur father except watching television. "My parents were divorced and my father was away a lot on business," he said. "I became interested in acting through devouring so much television."

Tom Hanks — making movies now

It was indeed a pastime that's paid off for the hot, Hollywood actor who starred in the hit movie, "Splash," and who's now appearing in "Volunteers" with John Candy and "The Man With One Red Shoe," a Victor Drai remake of the classic French farce, "The Tall Blonde Man With One Black Shoe."

Though "Splash" grossed $80 million, "The Man With One Red Shoe" has been a summer flop. "Volunteers" is doing better, though.

"I like the movies because it's the big time," Hanks said in an interview at his art deco Eastside Manahattan apartment. "The only reason I do movies now is because I can. ... I did 'Splash' which made me a star, and now I can make other movies. After all, how many people are asked to make movies?"

Since "Splash" Hanks has been churning out films for a solid year.

"Though it is emotionally draining and physically exhausting, I couldn't afford to pass up the opportunities that have come my way in the past year," he said. "Moviemaking is the kind of work that is particular unto itself. But the rewards are great. Overall, it's the best gig I've had and a great way to make a buck."

He currently is in New York completing Steven Spielberg's "The Money Pit," in which he and Alexander Gudonov vie for the affections of Shelley Long. When he's finished, he'll begin his sixth movie, "Nothing in Common," with Jackie Gleason. The comedy-drama will be a departure for Hanks from his usual boy-meets-girl movie.

PUC staff says Bell needs no rate hike

AUSTIN (AP) — Southwestern Bell is not entitled to any more money from basic service customers in Texas, the Public Utility Commission staff says in a revised recommendation.

The staff initially recommended a 4.2 percent hike in local exchange rates. That recommendation was cut to zero Friday. Bell, as part of a $277 million rate hike package, wants a local price increase of 18 percent.

Commission hearing examiners have been hearing the Bell request since July. The staff initially recommended a $93.4 million rate hike, including the 4.2 percent local exchange increase. For example, the cost of basic service in Dallas would have risen to $10.85 a month, a 45-cent hike.

But the staff's recommendation later was lowered to $65.7 million.

FarmAid train tour derailed late Friday by money shortage

BAKERSFIELD, Calif (AP) — Country singer Merle Haggard's whistle-stop train tour from California to Illinois to benefit farmers was derailed by money problems but should roll in several weeks, a spokesman said Saturday.

"There's been such an incredible interest on the part of America, that we're going to try to make it work," said Dwight Haldeman of Luckenbach Productions, Haggard's agency in San Marcos, Calif.

The train carrying country music stars was to leave here Monday at noon on a 39-stop tour to Chicago for the separately organized Sept. 22 FarmAid concert at the University of Illinois in Champaign.

Scheduled in the tour was a 10-minute stop in Big Spring Wednesday afternoon.

Those planning to ride the train included Michael Martin Murphey, Haggard, Willie Nelson, Earl Thomas Conley, Janie Fricke, John Schneider, Lacy J. Dalton, Arlo Guthrie, Catherine Bach and the Nitty Gritty Dirt Band.

The tour was called off late Friday after hours of negotiations with Amtrak officials.

By an 8 p.m. Friday deadline, Haggard was $180,000 short of the $606,000 required by Amtrak to release the train. Haggard had set the deadline to assure the performers enough advance notice that the train would roll.

Amtrak's deadline for the money was Monday, but organizers decided not to try to raise during the weekend, said Rod Hunter of Luckenbach Productions.

"They found somebody who was willing to contribute, but they couldn't get the money guaranteed," Haldeman said. "That's what got us in trouble in the first place." He did not identify the would-be contributor.

Haggard, in a statement released through a publicist, said, "I have always considered my country as my soul. I am deeply regretful that my train, The American, will not roll on its freedom trip across our land."

"I am appealing to all Americans to look inwards and solve our problems at home. We need to set an example for the world and help each other maintain our integrity as a caring and devoted people," said Haggard.

Hunter said the money problem arose Friday morning when the Philip Morris company, which had pledged $500,000 to the FarmAid project, cut its donation in half.

AIDS: virus of fear

Nation struggles to cope with mystery killer

By Associated Press

An hour after doctors told Terry Dangelo there was a chance he had AIDS, the 34-year-old patient crawled through a bathroom window at St. Luke's Hospital in New York and plunged seven stories to his death.

His suicide dramatizes more than one man's private sickness and despair. It also reflects the struggle of an entire nation to cope — physically, emotionally, financially or morally — with a mysterious killer.

The panic has become far more contagious than AIDS itself.

Since the first case of acquired immune deficiency syndrome came to light four years ago, the fear, often unfounded, has infect hospitals, funeral homes, schools, prisons, military barracks and even churches across the country.

"In lives lost, in tears shed, the toll is uncountable," summed up Paul G. Popham, president of the Gay Men's Health Crisis in New York.

They are the tale of a Massachusetts mother who brought her dead son's clothes to the hospital so she could dress his corpse herself after funeral homes refused to handle the body of an AIDS victim.

They are the tears of a stricken 5-year-old in San Diego whose playmates are forbidden by their parents to come near him.

And they are the lives of hundreds of AIDS victims suddenly evicted from their homes, fired from their jobs and shunned by society in their neediest hour for the same sad reason:

They are dying of something we are powerless to control.

"In our lifetime, fortunately, we have grown up in the era of antibodies and our generations have come to expect a cure or a vaccine for everything," said Ron Sanders, a national Centers for Disease Control epidemiologist who directs Los Angeles County's AIDS program.

"AIDS is one of those exceptions," he said.

An affliction in which the body's immune system becomes unable to resist disease, AIDS is believed to be caused by an unusual virus discovered in France and the United States.

It is most likely to strike homosexuals, intravenous drug users and hemophiliacs. AIDS appears to be spread by sexual contact, contaminated needles and blood transfusions, but not by casual contact. It can take as long as five years for an infected person to show symptoms of the disease, and the victims are predominantly men in their 30s.

The CDC estimates that 500,000 to 1 million Americans have been exposed to the virus but that 90 percent of them will not develop AIDS. The big question is how contagious those million people are.

Five years ago, the word was not even in our vocabulary. Today, AIDS appears in supermarket tabloids as well as medical journals, on talk shows and in everyday conversation. It evokes feelings of fear, despair, hopelessness, anger, loneliness, helplessness, hysteria.

Hundreds of anxious callers jam AIDS hot lines across the United States every hour. At the Gay Men's Health Crisis Center, the calls sometimes even come from Europe.

AIDS support groups also try to educate the public about the disease and how to avoid it by issuing "safe sex" guidelines and setting up information tables at gay bars and bath houses.

But many regard the mandatory screening of all new Army recruits, the barring of AIDS children from schools and other precautionary steps taken by local, state and federal governments as violations of civil rights.

In Stamford, Conn., 15 prospective jurors were excused from a murder trial because the defendant, brought to court by deputies wearing rubber gloves, has AIDS and the jurors felt they could not judge him fairly.

"There is a real fine line between educating people and panicking them," said Lori Behrman, a GMHC spokeswoman. "Already, we're crossing that line."

With some 814 unexplained cases of AIDS among the 12,932 cases nationwide, there is growing public concern that the virus has jumped the boundaries of the high-risk groups — homosexual and bisexual males, intravenous drug users and hemophiliacs and other recipients of blood and blood products. The CDC believes the percentage of cases with unknown origins is high because Haitians were recently dropped from the high-risk category and put into this group.

"Many people have misperceptions about how it's spread," said CDC spokesman Charles Fallis. "There's a lot of fear out there."

AIDS is considered an epidemic in the gay community but not the general population, Fallis stressed.

"Our researchers do not ever expect AIDS to become epidemic among the heterosexual population," Fallis told The Associated Press in a telephone interview.

A total of 15,131 cases of AIDS have been reported in 43 countries around the world. In this country, the disease has spread to almost every state over the past three years, with the majority concentrated in New York City, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Miami and Newark, N.J.

In those five cities combined, an average of about 14 new AIDS cases and five deaths are reported daily.

Although the number of cases is increasing rapidly, AIDS is not the plague that alarmist headlines in supermarket tabloids would suggest. By comparison, pneumonia and influenza claim the lives of nearly 50,000 Americans each year.

More than 95 percent of the country's AIDS cases involve patients who fall into one of the risk groups.

But that small fraction of cases with origins still unknown, that lack of certainty surrounding the disease, is making people from all segments of society uneasy.

Therapists and counselors call them the "worried well" — healthy but distraught people filled with dread over AIDS.

"The people who are at the lowest risk are the ones most obsessed," observed Barry Davidson, director of community information at the Gay Men's Health Crisis, which was the nation's first non-profit foundation to deal with the AIDS crisis.

News that Rock Hudson was fighting AIDS unleashed a new flood of calls to AIDS hotlines. Again and again, the volunteers answering the calls tell people the same things: No, you cannot get AIDS from a public toilet. No, you cannot get it through casual contact, such as touching an AIDS patient. No, it is not transmitted by mosquitoes.

"You're going to create more problems for yourself by worrying," Davidson counsels an anxious caller on the GMHC hotline one recent evening. "You're obsessed. You have none of the symptoms. You'd better get yourself to a psychiatrist."

The impact ot the disease and its atmosphere of fear on human sexuality in general has not been fully assessed, but many single, young heterosexuals and homosexuals alike report changes in their sexual habits. Fear of exposure to AIDS has even pushed some people into celibacy.

"I abstained from sex for two years, I was so scared," said Marc Dover, a healthy 36-year-old New York hairdresser and hotline volunteer. "Now, I've gathered enough information about AIDS that I don't do things that would put me in jeopardy. I know I won't get AIDS from a hug. Now I trust my own instinct."

Dr. Helen Singer Kaplan, a clinical professor of psychiatry at New York Hospital-Cornell Medical Center and head of its human sexuality department, believes the public's fear is healthy, not neurotic.

"It's like being afraid of the plague," she said.

Kaplan also welcomed what she perceives as a shift in attitude toward casual sex.

"Instead of jumping into bed with someone, people are getting to know their lovers first," she said, "and that's wonderful."

SWAT team mistaken

PORT ORANGE, Fla. (AP) — James Appleby shouted for his wife to call the police when a man smashed a rifle butt through a bathroom window, but the intruder who interrupted the 48-year-old plumber's shower turned out to be a SWAT team member.

The Volusia County sheriff's special weapons and tactics squad had staked out the wrong home during a drug raid on the house next door.

"We thought the place was being burglarized," said Linda Appelby, who was in her living room watching football while her husband was stepping into the shower.

"We're in shock," she said.

The Applebys had lived in their Port Orange home only about two months before the Thursday night incident. Deputies told them afterward that 17 members of the team were closing in on the house next door to search for illegal drugs.

Sheriff's Capt. Ed Carroll said Sgt. Buddy Klepper broke the window to distract who he believed was a drug suspect trying to flush narcotics down the toilet.

As for the suspected drug house, the nine deputies and eight investigators searched it but made no arrests.

Tax & financial planning

TAX REFORM AND 1985 PLANNING

If you are wondering what tax strategies make sense as Congress debates tax reform, here are some suggestions:

1. Manage your cash so that, if necessary, you can prepay state and local taxes (including property taxes) before December 31st. Reagan's tax proposal, if it becomes law in 1986, will make these non-deductible. Also, if you are planning to buy some big ticket items, such as a car, boat, airplane, etc., make the purchase in 1985 to get the sales tax deduction.

2. If you are planning to install energy saving devices in your home, do it before the December 31st expiration of the residential energy credit. The credit is 15% of the first $2,000 spent, with a maximum credit of $300. Qualifying expenditures include insulation, storm and thermal windows and doors, caulking and weather stripping, and automatic setback thermostats. Wood burning stoves do not qualify. There is also a "renewable energy source" credit of 40% of the first $10,000 spent, with a maximum $4,000 credit. Qualifying for this credit are solar, wind, and geothermal energy equipment installed in your residence.

3. If you are planning to buy business equipment, do it in 1985 rather than after the new year. Depreciation writeoffs are likely to be smaller after any new tax legislation, and the investment credit seems almost certain to be phased out.

4. Be wary of investing in tax shelters. Credits and deductions you were counting on could be eliminated by new legislation.

5. Miscellaneous deductions on personal returns will probably be limited by 1986. These include employees' business expenses for travel, education, professional and union dues and subscriptions, as well as fees for tax preparation and tax investment advice. Pay them before December 31st.

FBI reports fewer bombings

WASHINGTON (AP) — The number of bombings in the United States during the first six months of this year decreased by 6 percent, compared to the same period a year ago, the FBI said Saturday.

The bureau said explosive bombings were down 3 percent, while incendiary bombings declined 20 percent.

Of the 362 incidents reported this year, actual detonation or ignition happened 306 times, the bureau said in a report.

It said that of the total bombings, one was attributed by the FBI to a terrorist group, although it did not identify the group involved. The bureau said five such incidents had been attributed to terrorist groups during the first six months of 1984.

This year's bombings have included 299 explosive and 63 incendiary, or fire, incidents, the report said, adding that they resulted in 10 deaths, 44 injuries and property damage estimated at over $3.6 million.

STOP FALLING FOR "SPECIALS."

IF YOUR FAVORITE SUPERMARKET OR VARIETY STORE CAN "LOWER THEIR PRICES", THEN YOU'VE BEEN PAYING FAR TOO MUCH FOR YOUR FAMILY'S NEEDS ALL ALONG!

You can bet the folks from the big chains don't mind, either. They're enjoying the leisure of being the only ones around – of not really having to compete for lower prices, because they're equally high in price structure and apparently there's enough of 'the green' to go around.

IT'S TIME FOR A CHANGE!

Introducing: THE BOX. Nothing but as low as WHOLESALE PRICES, from wall to wall. We can't lower our prices because they're as low as they can be already – EVERYDAY! The only specials we'll have come straight from the manufacturers. Pretty easy idea. We often wonder why the other stores never thought of it. Maybe it's just too simple. But sometimes the simplest ideas are way ahead of their time.

Cub Scout rally set for Tuesday

Boys 8 to 10 years old can join a Cub Scout troop at the fall Cub Rally Tuesday at 7 p.m.

Meetings will take place at Marcy, Kentwood, College Heights, Washington, Bauer and Moss elementary schools.

Scout representatives will be on hand at each school to talk with boys and parents.

Carl Bradley, chairman of the Lone Star District, said each boy should bring a parent or guardian. Boys can sign up on the spot for some of the local packs or to be assigned to another unit, he said.

Bradley said a unit for the Tiger Cubs program for 7-year-olds will be organized if enough boys register.

Cubs have weekly or biweekly den meetings with a den mother and den chief and monthly pack meetings for all the dens. Also special events are planned, such as the Pinewood Derby, Bike Road-eo, Cub Olympics and a Dad-Lad campout.

Boys ages 11-14 can also get information about district Scout troops at the rally.

Decker remains unbeaten

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Victories by Carl Lewis and Mary Decker Slaney highlighted the Seoul International Track and Field Meet Saturday at Olympic Stadium, as United States athletes dominated the competition.

Slaney, unbeaten this summer, won her 14th race, easily capturing the women's 800 meters. Her time was 1 minute, 58.09 seconds, slower than her American record of 1:56.90. Slaney had said before the meet that she wanted to break the mark.

Lewis, the quadruple Olympic gold medalist who arrived unannounced only 11 hours before his race, ran the men's 100-meter dash, winning his heat in 10.29 seconds. The other heat winners were American Darwin Cook in 10.28 and Finland's Kimmo Saaristo in 10.50.

Organizers announced that there would be no final in the 100 meters but did not explain the reason for the cancellation.

An official who asked not to be identified said the organizers cancelled the final because Lewis refused to run more than one race, a condition he had set before entering the meet.

In the men's triple jump, Olympic gold medalist Al Joyner was beaten by West Germany's Wolfgang Zinser, who leaped 53 feet, 11 inches to the American's 53-8¼.

Australia's Glynis Nunn, the heptathlon gold medalist in the 1984 Olympics, won the women's 100-meter high hurdles in 13.25, over Pam Page of the United States, second in 13.50.

Americans swept the first five places in the men's 110-meter hurdles, with Henry Andrade winning in 13.50, while Kenyans finished 1-2-3 in the men's 5,000 meters, won by E. Kipkoech in 13:17.64.

Australia's Gary Honey, the Olympic silver medalist in the men's long jump, and Korea's Kim Jong-il each leaped 25-10¾, but Kim was the winner because of a better second jump.

Other American winners were 1976 Olympian Dwayne Evans in the men's 200 in 20.50 and Kathy Hayes in the women's 3,000 in 9:04.53.

The meet was inaugurated last year to dedicate the 100,000-seat Olympic Stadium, site of the track and field events, as well as the opening and closing ceremonies, for the 1988 Olympic Games.

About 190 athletes from 28 foreign countries participated in the track and field meet, and 45 foreign runners are expected to compete in Sunday's marathon, starting from the main stadium.

Among the marathoners will be defending champion Kjell-Erik Stahl of Sweden and promising Japanese youngster Takeyuki Nakayama, whose best time is 2:08:15.

American runner MARY DECKER SLANEY heads toward the finish line Saturday winning the women's 800 meter run at the Seoul Athletics Meet with a time of 1:58:09. DECKER SLANEY remains undefeated in races from 800 meters to 5,000 in 1985.

Cowboys, Lions showcase veteran QB's

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — Danny White and Eric Hipple, two veteran quarterbacks who won jobs in training camp, will be trying to keep their teams undefeated when White leads the rejuvenated Dallas Cowboys against Hipple's Detroit Lions Sunday in the Silverdome.

White, who beat out rival Gary Hogeboom — the Grand Rapids native who starred at Central Michigan University — completed 14 of 33 pass attempts for 219 yards and a touchdown in the Cowboys' 44-14 romp over the Washington Redskins in last Monday night's opener.

Hipple, who won the Lions job after an exhibition season duel with Joe Ferguson, wasn't nearly as impressive last week as White, but the results were the same.

Hipple hit on only nine of 23 for 188 yards with two interceptions. But three of Hipple's nine completions were for touchdowns as the Lions edged the Atlanta Falcons 28-27.

"I thought Eric was erratic early," Detroit Coach Darryl Rogers said. "But, I think a guy who only completes nine passes but three of them are TDs is proficient.

"He can score points and that's what's important. He won't be a 39 percent passer."

Dallas Coach Tom Landry, who settled on White early in training camp in order to bring some unity to the Cowboys.

British lead U.S. in Ryder Cup play

SUTTON COLDFIELD, England (AP) - The British-European team, given the break they needed when Craig Stadler missed a two-foot putt, took a two-point lead over the stunned Americans going into Sunday's final 12 singles matches of the Ryder Cup golf matches.

"I knows a two-shot swing — even with 12 matches out and one point on each match — two points is a lot of points," said Lee Trevino, who faces the possibility of serving as captain of the first losing American Ryder Cup team since 1957.

"That's why I put my strongest players off first (in Sunday's matches), to try to get my two points back as soon as I can.

"If I don't get some points from those first four matches, we're in trouble," Trevino said after the British-European forces had taken 5½ of a possible eight points in Saturday's play and moved into a 9-7 lead.

The matches are sponsored by Bell's Scotch.

It was the first time since 1949 that the Europeans had taken a lead into the last day's play in these biennial matches that started in 1927. The United States holds a 21-3-1 lead in the series.

The prospect of an end to that long American domination prompted the gallery of 24,532 to abandon their usual courteous reserve, to laugh at poor American shots, to applaud the splash of a ball in the water and to hiss at the wives of American players who walked the Belfry Golf Club course with their grim-faced husbands.

"There was a lot of hissing. There's no place for that in the game of golf," Trevino said. "We're all friends. And we'll be friends when it's over, no matter who wins."

His bid to make it another American triumph, centered on the opening matches, which send Lanny Wadkins against Manuel Pinero of Spain, Ray Floyd against Paul Way of England, Tom Kite against Spanish ace Seve Ballesteros and Stadler against Ian Woosnam of Wales.

And it was Stadler, red-faced in anger, who provided the swing in momentum from the Americans to the Europeans.

He missed a two-foot putt on the 18th green in the final match of the fourball play Saturday morning. It deprived the Americans of what appeared to be a sure point, enabled the Europeans to gain a tie and "had my team buzzing," British-European Captain Tony Jacklin said.

Trevino attempted to shrug it off.

"As long as the game of golf is played, short putts will be missed," he said.

"I'd already given him the putt in my mind," Jacklin said. "It changed everything.

"It couldn't have had anything but an adverse effect of the American team's morale. It's tough and I feel sorry for him. But that's golf. These things are going to happen.

"We felt that the American team would be shattered by that. It's sad that one guy has to do it, but you have to just be glad it wasn't you," Jacklin said.

America's LANNY WADKINS reacts after hitting a birdie putt in the third round of the Ryder Cup play in Sutton Coldfield, England. Britain leads the U.S. by one stroke going into the final round of play.

Instead of a 6½-5½ American lead, which seemed secure, the little missed putt lifted the Europeans into a 6-6 tie, and they romped to a 3-1 decision in the afternoon foursomes play, in which each two-man team played alternate shots on the same ball.

And a couple of their victories were by embarrassing margins. The Spanish World Cup titleholders, Jose Rivero and Jose-Maria Canizares crushed Tom Kite and Calvin Peete 7 and 5. And the distraught Stadler, unable to collect himself after the morning lapse, hit into the water, hit out of bounds and partnered Hal Sutton in a 5 and 4 defeat at the hands of Ballesteros and Pinero.

Bernhard Langer, the Masters champion from West Germany, and Ken Brown of Scotland beat Floyd and Wadkins 3 and 2.

Thorpe fires record round in Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Jim Thorpe, calling it his best round in 10 years on the professional tour, fired a tournament record 62 to take a one-stroke lead after Saturday's third round of the $300,000 Greater Milwaukee Open.

Thorpe totaled 12-under-par 204 going into Sunday's final round, one stroke better than Jeff Sanders and two strokes ahead of Larry Rinker, Gregg Twiggs and Jack Nicklaus.

"I guess the round today was a combination of good solid shots and excellent putting," said Thorpe, who birdied 10 holes on the par-72, 7,010-yard Tuckaway Country Club course in suburban Franklin.

"My best rounds have always been in pro-ams or just playing with my brothers," he said, but "this is probably the best I've hit the golf ball" in tour competition.

Nicklaus started the day at 5-under but eagled two holes on the front nine and cut his score to 12-under before getting a double bogey on the 220-yard, par-3 17th hole.

Nicklaus, appearing in the GMO for the first time as a professional, tried to play the hole from right to left, but the ball landed in the bunker, buried in the sand.

"I fluffed it out of there," he said of his next shot. The ball never left the bunker, and he needed another wedge, a chip and a putt for his 5.

"I shouldn't have needed that second one," he said of the bunker shots. "Rule No. 1 in a bunker is get it out."

Rinker, who started out 6-under-par and was 8-under much of the day, went 11-under with an eagle on the 550-yard 16th hole, then slipped to 10-under by bogeying the 18th.

Rinker, a five-year tour veteran, said he used a "baffler," or a combination 4-5 wood, to hit the ball out of the rough to within three feet of the pin.

Thorpe, 36, a Buffalo, N.Y., resident seeking his first tour title, got five of his birdies in a string at the end of his course-record 29 on the front nine.

His 62 tied the record set by club pro Terry Beardsley in 1981.

Thorpe, who ranks 38th on this year's earnings list with $150,371, won the first-place prize of $90,000 at the Western Open this year when he tied for first but lost a playoff to Scott Verplank, an amateur.

Sanders, a six-year pro trying for his first tour victory, went into Saturday's round tied for the lead at 9-under with 44-year-old tour veteran Jim Colbert.

Sanders moved 12-under before bogeying the 437-yard fourth hole.

Colbert, who won the event at a different course in 1972, ran into immediate trouble Saturday, hitting two bunkers and getting a double bogey on the first hole.

He finished the round with a 75 for a total of 210.

The defending champion, Mark O'Meara, was not in the GMO field. He was among the golfers on the U.S. team in the Ryder Cup competition this weekend in England.

Texas Tech upsets Tulsa on last second touchdown pass

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Texas Tech quarterback Aaron Keesee hit split end Tyrone Thurman with a 20-yard touchdown pass with 11 seconds left, giving the Red Raiders a 21-17 victory over Tulsa in nonconference college football Saturday night.

Tulsa, which fell to 1-1, had taken a 17-14 lead with 4:52 left when quarterback Steve Gage's 61-yard sideline gallop to the 17 set up his own touchdown on a 2-yard keeper.

Texas Tech scored two quick touchdowns in the third quarter after Jason Staurovsky's 32-yard field goal staked Tulsa to a 3-0 halftime lead.

Halfback Timmy Smith scored from three yards out to cap a 78-yard Red Raider drive with the second-half kickoff. Four minutes later, Keesee scored on a 1-yard plunge after Tulsa fumbled the ball on its own 16.

Tech, which improved to 2-0, set up Staurovsky's field goal when Keesee fumbled at his own 13 on the Raiders' first possession. A second-quarter Tech drive ended at the Tulsa 17 when Keesee was intercepted.

Tulsa quarterback Richie Stephenson shared duties with Gage, scoring the Hurricane's first touchdown with 1:46 left in the third period.

For Tech it was their second straight tight ball game, after having to come from behind to defeat New Mexico State 31-30 last week in Lubbock.

Defensively for the Red Raiders, middle linebacker Brad Hasting's and the vaunted Tech secondary kept the dangerous Hurricane offensvie attack in check for most of the ball game.

The victory puts Tech's record at 2-0, while Tulsa fell to 1-1 after last week's upset victory over the Houston Cougars.

The Red Raiders host North Texas State next Saturday in an intrastate rivalry that is liable to be a shootout this year.

Georgia nips Baylor, 17-14

ATHENS, Ga. (AP) — Fred Lane scored on a 33-yard reverse and freshman Tim Worley on a 1-yard plunge following a turnover as Georgia snapped a five-game winless streak with a 17-14 victory over Baylor in an intersectional college football game Saturday.

Lane's scamper broke a scoreless deadlock in the first quarter and Worley put Georgia ahead to stay at 14-7 early in the third quarter after Kenny Sims had pounced on a Baylor fumble at the Bears 24.

Georgia survived a pair of Baylor threats later in the game when Miles Smith picked off a Cody Carlson pass at the Bulldog 1 on the second play of the fourth quarter and again when Bill Mitchell stopped Ralph Stockemer for no gain on a fourth-and-two at the Georgia 11 with seven minutes left in the game.

The Bears cut the margin to three points with only 3:40 remaining when Tom Muecke fired a 25-yard touchdown pass to Glenn Pruitt, capping a 51-yard drive.

The outcome left both teams with 1-1 records. The Bulldogs had lost their last four regular season games and also had a 17-17 tie with Florida State in the Florida Citrus Bowl.

Georgia had not lost five regular season games in a row since 1953. It also snapped a two-game losing streak on their Sanford Stadium home field where the Dogs now have a 30-3 record in the 1980s.

Georgia's other score came on a 42-yard field goal by freshman Steve Crumley.

The Bears gained a 7-7 tie with 3:26 left in the first half on a 1-yard plunge by Stockemer to cap a 41-yard drive kept alive by a 15-yard roughing the kicker penalty on Georgia's Will Jones.

The Bears got their late touchdown on the first play after Muecke had been called for intentionally grounding the ball, setting the Bears back from the Bulldog 7 to the 25, but Muecke found Pruitt down the middle for the score.

Georgia took over at its 20 and ran out the clock, helped by Lane's 35-yard run on a reverse to open the possession and a 7-yard run by David McCluskey on a fourth-and-four at the Baylor 23 in the final minute.

The Bulldogs wasted two long kickoff returns — a 44-yarder by freshman Keith Henderson to midfield as the game got under way and a 64-yarder to the Baylor 36 by Tron Jackson after Baylor had knotted the game at 7 late in the second quarter.

After Jackson's long return, the drive stalled at the 19 and Crumley was wide left on a 36-yard field goal try.

Leading 17-7 with just over 12 minutes remaining, Georgia had an opportunity to put the game on ice.

Baylor's Cody Carlson attempted a shovel pass behind the line of scrimmage that Henry Williams picked off the returned 10 yards to the Bears 18.

Georgia hammered away on the ground only to see Worley fumble at the goalline after a 6-yard run. Baylor's Ray Berry recovered the loose ball in the end zone, giving the Bears possession on their 20.

Georgia's FRED LANE takes off for a 31 yard touchdown run as teammate JEFF SMITH leads th way in a game against the Baylor Bears in Athens, Georgia. The Bulldogs went on to defeat the Bears in a intersectional battle.

Miami downs Rice

HOUSTON (AP) — Miami running back Melvin Bratton scored three touchdowns, including a one on a 69-yard touchdown bomb from quarterback Vinnie Testaverde, to lead the Hurricanes to a 48-20 college football victory over the Rice Owls Saturday.

Bratton scored on runs of 24 and three yards to help the Hurricanes to a 27-17 lead in the fourth quarter.

Then with 6:19 remaining, Bratton hauled in a pass from Testaverde and eluded five would-be tacklers en route to the game-breaker.

Miami's backup quarterback, Geoff Torretta, continued the late surge with an 80-yard touchdown pass to David Kintingh with 2:59 left in the game and scored on a 2-yard quarterback keeper with one second remaining.

Miami, 1-1, took a 14-10 halftime lead over the Owls, who have posted a 2-32 record over the past three seasons, but pulled away in the third quarter on Bratton's second touchdown run, a three-yard dive.

Bratton's three-yard touchdown run and field goals of 31 and 48 yards by Greg Cox in the fourth quarter, followed Rice turnovers.

The Hurricanes, who lost to Florida 35-23 last week, took a 14-3 lead early in the second quarter on a zig-zagging 24-yard run by Bratton and a 39-yard touchdown pass from Testaverde to Mike Irvin.

Rice got its first points on a 49-yard field goal by James Hamrick in the first quarter following an interception by linebacker Joe Heikkinen and a 32-yard pass from Comalander to tight end Kenny Major.

Miami's second half surge was aided by a fumble recovery by Miami's Rod Carter and interceptions by George Mira Jr. and Benny Blades.

After falling behind 27-10, the Owls rallied on quarterback Mark Comalander's two-yard touchdown pass to Marc Scott with 7:33 left and a 42-yard field goal by Hamrick.

It was Rice's season opener.

Testaverde, starting his second game at Miami after the departure of Bernie Kosar, directed the Hurricanes 91 yards for Miami's first touchdown run by Bratton.

Bratton broke through the left side of the Rice line, cut back to his right and romped into the end zone.

Irvin made a quick reverse move to elude his defender and ran down the sidelines for his 39-yard TD reception.

Comalander passed the Owls to a first down at the Miami 14 late in the second quarter and had two passes dropped by Elliston Stinson and Scott before calling time out and coming back with a quarterback sneak for the touchdown.

Alabama rolls Aggies

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Place-kicker Van Tiffin kicked three field goals, two in the fourth quarter, to lead No. 20 Alabama to a 23-10 college football victory over Texas A&M Saturday night.

Early in the fourth quarter, Tiffin broke a 10-10 deadlock with a 40-yard field goal and six minutes later added a 51-yarder, lifting undefeated Alabama to its second victory of the season.

With just over a minute left in the game, Alabama scored on a 32-yard touchdown run by Craig Turner and Tiffin added the extra point.

Tiffin's first field goal came in the first quarter with Alabama leading 7-3. His 57-yarder broke the school record of 53 yards he set last year against Penn State.

Alabama opened the scoring with a 64-yard drive in the first quarter, capped by a two-yard run by Chester Braggs. Tiffin added the extra point and Alabama led 7-0. Texas A&M, in its season-opener, narrowed Alabama's lead to 7-3 with a 45-yard field goal by Eric Franklin in the first quarter. But Tiffin's record-setting field goal late in the second quarter gave Alabama a 10-3 halftime lead.

Texas A&M tied the score in the third quarter when running back Anthony Toney went in from the 1-yard line and Franklin added the extra point.

Texas A&M's third-quarter scoring drive covered 50 yards after the Aggies recovered an Alabama fumble at midfield.

TCU crushes Tulane

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — Texas Christian sophomore quarterback Scott Ankrom celebrated his first start with two touchdown runs and a scoring pass while All-American Kenneth Davis rushed for 152 yards Saturday night in a 30-13 intersectional victory over the Tulane Green Wave.

The speedy Ankrom scored on runs of 19 and 1 yards and winged a 20-yard scoring pass to Ricky Stone as late-starting TCU pleased a crowd of 31,572 fans, largest gathering for a nonconference opener in the school's history.

Tulane led 13-10 at halftime with the Horned Frogs scoring in the final minute on quarterback Ankrom's 19-yard scamper.

The 12-point underdog Green Wave, which lost 38-12 to Florida State in their opener, built a 10-0 first-quarter lead on Wayne Clements' 32-yard field goal and Ken Karcher's 2-yard scoring run.

Ken Ozee kicked a 42-yard field goal for TCU, which Clements matched with a 41-yarder.

Hogs down Ole Miss

JACKSON, Miss (AP) — Carl Miller ran five yards for the go-ahead touchdown with 8:47 to play Saturday night as No. 14 Arkansas held off stubborn Mississippi 24-19 in a non-conference football game.

In its season-opener, Arkansas, its flexbone offense sputtering at times, came from behind twice and capitalized on two late turnovers before stopping Mississippi, 0-1-1.

Cornerback Kevin Wyatt's recovery of a fumble at the Mississippi 30-yard line with 11:04 remaining set up the decisive Arkansas touchdown. The Razorbacks then scored on six plays — all on the ground.

Cards 1st in NL East; Royals streak in AL West

CHICAGO (AP) — Ozzie Smith's tie-breaking double capped a two-run sixth inning Saturday, carrying St. Louis to an uphill 5-4 victory over the Chicago Cubs as the Cardinals took sole possesion of first place in the National League East.

The Cardinals lead the New York Mets, who lost to Montreal 5-1 Saturday, by one-half game in the race for the division pennant.

Cesar Cedeno walked to open the St. Louis sixth, took second on a balk by Lary Sorensen, 3-7, and scored the tying run on a single by Terry Pendleton. Smith then followed with the double to left, scoring Pendleton.

Reliever Bill Campbell, 5-3, was the winner and Jeff Lahti, the fifth St. Louis pitcher, went the final two innings for his 17th save.

Kurt Kepshire started for the Cardinals and departed after walking the first three batters he faced. Matt Keough relieved and walked Keith Moreland to force in Shawon Dunston before Leon Durham grounded into a double play as Gary Matthews scored to give the Cubs a 2-0 lead.

St. Louis scored a run in the third when Smith singled, stole second and scored on Vince Coleman's two-out single.

Ryne Sandberg offset that run with his 23rd homer of the season in the bottom of the third.

The Cardinals loaded the bases on singles by Tommy Herr, Cedeno and Tito Landrum in the fourth but managed only one run when Pendleton grounded into a double play.

Dunston got that back in the Cubs fourth with his second homer of the season but St. Louis scored again in the fifth on a pinch-hit single by Ivan DeJesus, an infield out and a single by Willie McGee.

Expos 5, Mets 1

MONTREAL (AP) — Tim Raines had two hits and scored two runs to lead the Montral Expos to a 5-1 victory over New York Saturday as the Mets dropped into a tie for first place in the National League East with the St. Louis Cardinals.

David Palmer, making his first start in seven weeks, went five innings to raise his record to 7-9. The Montreal right-hander, who spent most of that time on the disabled list with a sore shoulder, allowed five hits and walkeed three. Jeff Reardon worked the final two innings to register his league-leading 36th save.

Raines led off the first inning with a double to left field off Mets starter Sid Fernandez, 6-9. He went to third on a groundout and scored on Hubie Brooks' slow roller to shortstop.

The Mets tied the game in the third inning on a double by Mookie Wilson and an RBI single by Keith Hernandez.

The Expos took the lead for good in their half of the third as Raines hit a drive off Fernandez' leg and went all the way to third when third baseman Howard Johnson picked up the ball and threw wildly past first. Vance Law followed with a sacrifice fly.

The Expos scored in the fifth on Jim Wohlford's RBI single, in the sixth on Mike Fitzgerald's sacrifice fly with the bases loaded and in the eighth when Tim Wallach, who doubled, stole third and continued around on catcher Gary Carter's second throwing error of the game.

Royals 2, Athltics 1

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Bret Saberhagen pitched a three-hitter and Hal McRae hit a two-run home run to carry the streaking Kansas City Royals to a 2-1 victory over the Oakland Athletics Saturday.

The victory was the Royals' fourth straight and 12th in 13 games as Kansas City increased their lead in the American League West to 2½ games over California, which played Texas Saturday night.

Saberhagen, 18-6 and a winner in 16 of his last 19 decisions, struck out a career-high 12, walked two and retired the final 11 batters he faced in outdueling Oakland starter Tommy John, who gave up five hits, no walks and struck out one in eight innings.

After George Brett reached on second baseman Mike Gallego's one-out sixth-inning fielding error, McRae hit a 3-2 pitch from John, 4-8, over the left-field wall for his 14th homer of the season.

The Athletics came back against Saberhagen in the bottom of the sixth as Tony Phillips doubled to score Alfredo Griffin who had singled and stolen second base.

CLEVELAND (AP) — Rookie Mark Funderburk snapped ninth-inning tie with a sacrifice fly, helping the Minnesota Twins beat the Cleveland Indians 5-3 in the second game for a split of their Saturday double-header.

In the opener, Joe Carter drove in three runs with a home run, double and single to lead the Indians to an 11-9 victory.

Kirby Puckett led off the Minnesota ninth with a walk from reliever Rich Thompson, 3-8. Puckett moved to second on a groundout by Dave Meier and Kent Hrbek was intentionally walked.

The runners moved up on a balk by Thompson before Funderburk's fly ball to left field scored Puckett and moved Hrbek to third. Hrbek then scored when Thompson threw a wild pitch.

Dennis Burtt, 1-1, gained the victory in second major-league appearance and first start. Burtt went the first eight innings, yielding all three Clevealnd runs on eight hits before Ron Davis retired the final three hitters to gain his 21st save.

Run-scoring singles by Meier and Funderburk in third made it 2-0, but Cleveland scored three times in its half of the third on a run-scoring single by Julio Franco, Jim Wilson's RBI groundout and a wild pitch.

Minnesota tied it in the sixth on Tim Teufel's RBI forceout.

In the opener, Mike Hargrove also drove in three runs and Jerry Willard homered for Cleveland.

Tom Waddell raised his record to 8-6 despite allowing seven Minnesota runs in 6 1-3 innings. John Butcher, 10-13, gave up eight runs in the first 3 1-3 innings. The Twins committed five errors to aid Cleveland's 13-hit attack.

Willard singled for a first-inning run, Alvaro Espinoza hit a two-run double for Minnesota in the top of the third and Carter's 11th homer of the year, a two-run shot in the bottom of the third, gave the Indians a 3-2 lead.

Cleveland struck for five more runs in the fourth, the first one on Carter's double, two on Wilson's bases-loaded single and two more on Hargrove's double. Willard's fourth homer widened the Indians' lead to 9-3 in the fifth but Hrbek countered with his 20th homer in the sixth, also with the bases empty.

Hargrove singled home a run in the bottom of the sixth and Brook Jacoby followed with a run-scoring double. The Twins made it close with a four-run seventh, two scoring on Tim Teufel's double.

Chief's Crown wins Cup

NEW YORK (AP) — Chief's Crown charged back into the battle fo the 3-year-old championship Saturday when he circled horses on the final turn and won the $500,000 Marlboro Cup by a neck over Gate Dancer at Belmont Park.

Chief's Crown was the only 3-year-old in the nine-horse field, and his victory in 2:01 1-5 for the 1¼ miles is the highlight of what has been a disappointing year for the colt, who was the beaten favorite in all three Triple Crown races.

Chief's Crown's victory, his second in his last three starts, which was worth $23, 11.20 and $6, came on the same day that owner Dennis Diaz announced the retirement of Spend a Buck, the Kentucky Derby winner who was generally considered the 3-year-old division leader.

Spend a Buck also beat older horses in his last start, the Monmouth Handicap, but his opposition was not of the high caliber Chief's Crown faced Saturday.

Chief's Crown, ridden again by Don MaBeth who lost the mount on the colt after his second-place finish in the Preakness, only had two horses beat with a half-mile to go. Then, on the final turn, MacBeth moved Chief's Crown to the outside and at the quarter pole, the son of Danzig collared pacesetting Vanlandingham and then held off Gate Dancer, the erratic 4-year-old who wears ear muffs to block the crowd noise.

With a crowd of 30,118 roaring on this cool, sunny day, Chief's Crown, carrying 119 pounds, got to the end of the 1¼ miles miles just ahead of Gate Dancer, 125. Vandlandingham, 122, was three quarters of length in back of Gate Dancer and a head in front of English-bred and California-based Greinton.

Favored Track Barron, was third entering the final turn but then faded out of contention. Track Barron, ridden by Angel Cordero, had won the 1⅛ mile Woodward Aug. 31 and could have taken another step toward a $1 million bonus if he had won the Marlboro. The New York Racing Association offers $1 million to any horse who can sweep the Woodward, Marlboro and 1½-mile Jockey Club Gold Cup Oct. 5.

Cordero rode Slew o' Gold to a sweep of the fall championshship series last year and, beginning with his victory in the Gold Cup on Slew o' Gold in 1983, had won five straight fall championship races.

Completing the order of finish after Greinton were Carr De naskra, Al Mamoon, Badwagon Harry, Track Barron and Bounding Basque.

Track Barron, the 2-1 favorite who was carrying high weight of 126 pounds, has never won at 1¼ miles.

Gate Dancer, the 1984 Preakness winner owned by Kenneth Opstein and ridden by Chris McCarron, returned $9.80 and $7. Vanlandingham, owned by Loblolly Stable and ridden by Pat Day, was $6.60 to show.

The victory for Chief's Crown was his fifth in 10 starts this year and was worth $300,000, which boosted his 1985 bankroll for Star Crown Stable to $1,036,272 and his career earnings to $1,976,168. It was worth a lot more in prestige to the 1984 juvenile chanmpion, who had followed his victory in the Travers Aug. 17 with a unspectacular third against older horses in the Woodward.

CBS, which showed the Marlboro Cup live, also broadcast two Belmont stakes races for juveniles Saturday.

Guadery, $10.20, looked impressive in winning the $85,500 Astarita for juvenile fillies by five lengths, while Ogygian, $3, looked spectacular winning the seven-furlong Futurity for 2-year-old colts by 9½ lengths.

Guadery won the Astarita in 1:17 for the 6½ furlongs, while Ogygian blazed through the seven furlongs of the $151,000 Futurity in 1:22 2-5.

Not everything improves with age.

At some hamburger places they leave their premade, prepackaged hamburgers sitting under heatlamps waiting around for you. And while they're waiting, they grow older. And older.

But, at Wendy's, your hamburger is always served immediately. Fresh. Hot off the grill. And made with your choice of fresh toppings. So why would anyone want a hamburger that's past its prime, when they can have one that's fresh?

Top—ranked schoolboy teams stay undefeated

By the Associated Press

When in doubt, DON'T punt.

Not if you're playing the Electra Tigers, Texas' No. 1-ranked Class 2A schoolboy football team.

The Tigers threatened to open a new statistical category Friday night. Electra blocked three Haskell punts and turned them all into touchdowns that helped carry the Tigers to a crushing 39-2 victory.

Electra also took advantage of two fumble recoveries near the Haskell goal, turning them into touchdowns. The Tigers had all 39 of their points by halftime, then turned the game over to substitutes.

Hempstead, the top-ranked team in Class 3A, was idle Friday night, but the three other No. 1 clubs in The AP's Top Ten followed Electra's lead in marking up victories by lopsided margins.

Odessa Permian, the 5A kingpin, routed El Paso Hanks 62-0; Tomball, No. 1 in 4A, thrashed New Caney 41-0; and Munday, the top-ranked 1A team, disposed of Hawley 45-7.

Electra quarterback Rodney Bell scored on a 57-yard bootleg and tossed a TD pass. Charlie Lott scored on runs of 2, 7 and 2 yards. Haskell's only points came on a safety in the third quarter after Bell fumbled in the end zone.

It was Haskell's second game against a No. 1-ranked team in as many weeks. The Indians were beaten by Munday in their season opener.

Munday scored 25 points in the second quarter Friday night against Hawley. Tim Collier scored three times for the Moguls on runs of 30 and 4 yards and on a 10-yard pass from Anthony Stinnett.

Quarterback Lance Pavlas and senior running back Bubba Greely — both of whom were on the 1984 all-state team, were the star of Tomball's runaway win over New Caney before 5,000 fans.

Greely ran for 149 yards and Pavlas threw for four touchdowns.

New Caney held the Tomball offense to only eight yards in the first quarter. But Tomball defensive lineman Scott Stevenson blocked a punt with 43 seconds left in the quarter and linebacker Jeff Scales returned it 27 yards for a score that ignited the Cougars.

In one of two games pairing ranked teams, No. 3 Houston Yates stunned No. 8 Beaumont West Brook, 6-0 in 5A, 46-16. Two field goals by Layne Talbot gave West Brook a 6-0 lead, but halfback Johnny Bailey returned a kickoff 95 yards for a touchdown that got Yates rolling.

Midland Lee, 5A's No. 10 team, also lost, falling to Temple, 19-7.

In 4A, No. 2 Sweetwater was beaten 18-0 by Abilene, a 5A opponent.

Two of 3A's Top 10 were defeated. Bandera (No. 4) lost to San Antonio Alamo Heights 14-0, and Port Isabel (No. 7) was upset by Edcouch-Elsa, 10-6.

In 2A, three ranked teams lost. Fourth-ranked East Bernard fell to Needville 7-6, seventh-ranked Abernathy lost to Lubbock Roosevelt 14-7, and 10th-ranked Grand Saline fell to ninth-ranked Crandall 26-22.

None of the ranked 1A teams was beaten, but No. 7 Flatonia had to settle for a 7-7 tie with Weimar.

Needville held East Bernard at the one-foot line at the end of the first half, then escaped with its one-point upset victory when East Bernard missed a 32-yard field goal try with seven seconds left in the game.

"We had several shots at it. We just couldn't get it in," East Bernard coach Dale Lechler said of Needville's second-quarter goal line heroics.

While Tomball's closest rival in 4A was falling, other No. 2 clubs rolled on. Conroe, second in 5A, scored in the fourth quarter on a 17-yard pass and Tyke Tolbert's two-point conversion to beat Lufkin 15-14.

Navasota, No. 2 in 3A, shut out A&M Consolidated 35-0. Hamlin, No. 2 in 2A, blanked Clyde 38-0, and Union Hill, No. 2 in 1A, blasted Harmony 51-14.

Hamlin's Mike Howerton threw touchdown passes of 30 and 33 yards and ran for two other touchdowns, including one 85-yard scoring jaunt.

Union Hill's John Clemens threw for three touchdown passes.

PART ONE

This is the first of a series of 5 articles aimed at answering my most frequently asked questions about contact lenses. Much has been written about the popularity and appeal of contacts, but I find that most people are still confused about the pros and cons of the various types of lenses. The next four articles will discuss the pros and cons of the four types of contact lenses currently available — hard, soft, gas permeable and extended wear. Today, let me give you a mini-speech on how contact lenses work.

Contact lenses are held in place on the eye by surface tension as they float on a layer of tears that covers the cornea. To stay healthy, the cornea needs a steady supply of oxygen which it gets from the air and from tears. Contact lenses form a barrier between the air and the cornea and interrupt the cornea's direct oxygen supply. This problem is partially overcome by blinking which causes the lenses to move slightly. With each blink, a fresh supply of oxygen — laden tears washes behind the lens to bathe and nourish the cornea. And, that is basically how contact lenses work.

Next week: Pros and cons of hard lenses.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING-STREET ASSESSMENTS

Notice is hereby given to the real and true owners of property abutting upon the streets described in the attached Exhibit A, within the limits therein defined, in the City of Big Spring, Texas, and all persons owning or claiming any of said abutting property, or any interest therein, and to all others claiming or interested in any of said property, or in any of the proceedings, contracts and matters herein mentioned.

The City Council of the City of Big Spring, Texas, by duly enacted resolutions has determined the necessity for, and ordered the permanent improvement of, said streets.

By said Resolution, said City Council has ordered said streets to be improved by raising, grading, filling, widening, repairing, paving and repaving the same and by the construction, reconstruction and realignment of concrete curbs and gutters or valley gutters and where the City Engineer determines that adequate curbs and gutters do not exist upon proper grade and line, by the construction or reconstruction of drains and other necessary incidentals and appurtenances, said paving consisting of one and one/half (1-½") inches hot mix asphalt and concrete surface course upon a six (6") inch subbase, and doing other work incidental thereto, all, as provided for in, and in accordance with the Plans and Specifications for said improvements. Said improvement shall be of the materials, type, and width as provided in the plans and specifications prepared by the City Engineer and heretofore approved and adopted by said City Council and in the contracts covering the construction of said improvements, which plans and specifications and contracts are hereby expressly referred to for a more detailed description of said improvements, and are on file in the office of the City Secretary.

Said City Council has caused the City engineer to prepare and file estimates of the cost of said improvements and has duly enacted resolutions determining the necessity of levying assessments for 100% of the cost of the constructing, reconstructing, repairing, and realigning said curbs and gutters and 90% of the costs of said improvements other than curb and gutter against the property abutting upon the above-described streets, and the real and true owners thereof, and did adopt and determine that the cost proposed to be assessed against said abutting property, and the real and true owners thereof, will be in accordance with the front-foot rule or plan and at the rate of $18.05 ($20.05 x 90%) per front foot for paving and $7.75 per front foot for curb and gutter. The estimated total cost of said improvements on said streets is $168,922.09 and the estimated total assessment is $112,641.64.

A hearing will be held by and before said City Council on the 8th day of October, 1985, at 6:30 p.m. o'clock in the City Council Chamber on the second floor of the City Hall of said City to discuss said assessments. At said time and place all owning any of said abutting property, or any interest therein, shall have the right to appear and to be heard and offer testimony as to said assessments, and to the amount thereof, proposed to be assessed against said abutting property, and the real and true owners thereof, the lien and charge of personal liability to secure payment of said assessments, the special benefits to accrue to each abutting property and the owner or owners thereof by virtue of said improvements, and all other matters provided by law.

PROGRAM
Are You "Wendy's Kind Of People"?
At Wendy's Old Fashioned Hamburger Restaurants we believe in a total commitment to satisfying every customer. We are dedicated to quality — not just talking about it. Our beef is pattied fresh daily at our restaurants. Each sandwich is made to order with the customer's choice of condiments. Our sandwiches never sit under heat lamps like the other hamburger restaurants you know. If you share our dedication to quality, you're "Wendy's Kind Of People" and we want to talk to you!
We are a growing Wendy's operation in the West Texas area committed to hiring only quality individuals who want to be a part of the Wendy's Management Team. As a Wendy's Manager, you'll learn that people are your most valuable resource and will be able to lead them to meet our tough standards. You'll relish the opportunity to be closely involved with the daily operation of our restaurants. Two years college or previous management experience is required. If you're "Wendy's Kind Of People" and want to receive the kind of salary and company benefits you deserve. Please apply in person Tuesday thru Friday at 208 Gregg. College Football Roundup

Colo. St. 41, UTEP 24

FORT COLLINS, Colo. (AP) — Fullback Steve Bartalo racked up 174 yards and three touchdowns and quarterback Kelly Stouffer tossed a pair of TD passes as Colorado State rolled to a 41-24 victory over Texas-El Paso in Western Athletic Conference football action Saturday.

With the victory, Colorado State boosted its record to 1-1 overall and 1-0 in the WAC, while Texas-El Paso fell to 0-3 and 0-2, despite getting 232 yards and three touchdowns from freshman tailback John Harvey.

After moving out to a 3-0 first-quarter lead on a 21-yard Steve DeLine field goal, Colorado State pounded the Miners with three second-quarter touchdowns to take control of the game.

Bartalo scored from 15 yards out for the Rams' first touchdown and Stouffer mangled the Texas-El Paso defense with big pass plays, including a 47-yard scoring strike to flanker Sanjay Beach.

Stouffer and Bartalo sparked the Rams' last scoring drive of the half with Stouffer hitting Bartalo for a 12-yard gain for a first down at the Texas-El Paso 48. Bartalo picked up four yards on the next play and then Stouffer hit split-end J.D. Brookhart with a 30-yard pass to move the Rams into scoring position.

Stouffer capped the 68-yard drive by hitting Brookhart in the corner of the end zone to put the Rams on top 24-10 and the Miners never threatened after that.

UCLA 26, Tennessee 26

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Senior quarterback David Norrie came off the bench to rally 10th-ranked UCLA to two fourth-quarter touchdowns and two-point conversions as the Bruins salvaged a 26-26 tie against Tennessee Saturday in an intersectional college football game.

Norrie replaced Matt Stevens with 11:51 remaining and capped a 97-yard Bruin drive with an eight-yard scoring pass to Al Wilson. Jeff Nowinski caught Norrie's pass on the conversion attempt to draw UCLA within 26-18 with 4:46 left in the final quarter.

With 37 seconds remaining in the game, Norrie hit Willie Anderson with a 25-yard scoring pass and Gaston Green ran around right end for the conversion that tied the score.

The nationally televised game left UCLA, a member of the Pacific 10 Conference, with a 1-0-1 record while Tennessee, a member of the Southeastern Conference, was playing its season opener.

Tennessee erased a 10-0 first-quarter deficit by reeling off 26 points on touchdown passes of four and 68 yards by Tony Robinson and field goals of 31, 33, 40 and 49-yards by Carlos Reveiz.

Robinson set a school single-game passing record with 387 yards, including 142 yards to receiver Tim McGee.

The Bruins shocked Tennessee early on a third-and-2 situation when Green, who led all rushers with 194 yards, burst over right tackle for a 72-yard touchdown.

John Lee added the extra point and gave UCLA a 10-0 lead with his 39-yard field goal.

The Volunteers tied the game on a 49-yard field goal by Reveiz and a 67-yard, 12-yard drive capped by Robinson's four-yard touchdown pass to Tim Hendrix. Reveiz added the extra point and a 33-yard field goal with 16 seconds in the half to give Tennessee its first lead at 13-10.

Okla. St. 10, NTSU 9

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) — Tailback Thurman Thomas rushed for 191 yards and a touchdown and No. 8 Oklahoma State used outstanding defense to hold off North Texas State 10-9 in college football Saturday night.

Thomas, a 5-foot-11, 186-pound sophomore, carried 40 times for the second week in a row. He had 237 yards against Washington last week.

He needed plenty of help from the Oklahoma State defense, which time after time took over in poor field position due to second-half turnovers but wound up limiting the Eagles to just three field goals by Todd Smith.

The defense set up Oklahoma State's only touchdown which came early in the third quarter with the score tied 3-3.

Defensive end Harry Roberts caused a North Texas State fumble on the opening kickoff of the second half and kicker Joey O'Donnell recovered at the Eagle 29.

Three players later, Thomas leaped in from the 1-yard line and O'Donnell's conversion made it 10-3.

On its next possession, North Texas moved from its own 22 to the Oklahoma State 23 in 16 plays to set up Smith's second field goal of the night, a 40-yarder.

Oklahoma State quarterback Rusty Rankin then fumbled on the next possession and North Texas recovered at the Cowboys' 24.

But the Oklahoma State defense took over and North Texas lost three yards in three plays and Smith missed a 44-yard field goal try.

Rankin, starting for the first time in place of injured Ronnie Williams, fumbled again on the next Cowboy drive and North Texas recovered at the Oklahoma State 18 with 2:54 to play in the third quarter.

The Eagles were stopped again, however, and had to settle for a 35-yard field goal by Smith.

North Texas was stymied twice more in the fourth quarter after grabbing two Cowboy turnovers in Oklahoma State territory.

BYU 31, Washington 3

PROVO, Utah (AP) — Lakei Heimuli and Vai Sikahema rushed for two touchdowns each as No. 16 Brigham Young traded their vaunted passing game for the run in crushing mistake-prone Washington 31-3 in the first football meeting between the two schools Saturday afternoon.

Athough BYU quarterback Robbie Bosco threw for 279 yards, the Cougars boosted their record to 2-1 by running the football effectively against a Pacific 10 opponent which finished as the runnersup to national champion Brigham Young last season.

Washington, which suffered its second consecutive loss, turned the ball over five times, failed to convert three straight fourth-down plays in the third quarter and fumbled on the BYU 1 in the final period.

Sikahema scored on runs of 29 and five yards and Gary Webster kicked a 34-yard field goal to give BYU a 17-0 lead with about six minutes left in the first half.

Washington's only score came on a 48-yard field goal by Jeff Yaeger with 1:31 remaining in the first half that followed an 80-yard drive.

Bosco, the nation's total offense leader, completed 23 of 37 passes and suffered two interceptions. BYU had set an NCAA record last week for throwing touchdown passes in 37 consecutive games, but the Cougars' aerial attack was kept out of the end zone by the Huskies.

Heimuli, who rushed for 112 yards in 18 carries, scored on an 11-yard run early in the second half to make it 24-3 for BYU. His one-yard run midway through the final quarter followed a 42-yard interception return by Rodney Thomas to the Washington 22.

Brigham Young, a member of the Western Athletic Conference, held Washington on downs three straight times in the third quarter, on the BYU 5, the 14 and the 17. Aaron Jenkins' fumble on the 1 late in the game kept the Huskies out of the end zone for good.

Maryland 31, BC 13

FOXBORO, Mass. (AP) — Maryland needed a victory to live up to its preseason billing, and Coach Bobby Ross wasn't particular about how his team got it.

"It wasn't a fancy win but it was a win," he said after the 17th-ranked Terrapins overcame early mistakes and used a punishing ground attack to spearhead a 31-13 football victory over Boston College Saturday.

Maryland, 1-1, was included in most preseason polls but lost its opener to Penn State. The problems continued Saturday with eight first-half penalties.

"Early in the game, our squad was tentative," Ross said. "I think they were feeling the pressure of what was being said about us. We were playing not to lose as opposed to (playing to) win, and I wanted to get that out of our system.

"I know a win will do that."

For the second straight game, Maryland rushed for 205 yards.

Short runs by Rick Badanjek, Tommy Neal and Alvin Blount produced three of the Terrapins' four touchdowns.

SKIN CANCER

Skin cancer is common among people over the age of 40. Skin cancer usually does not spread to other systems of the body if diagnosed and treated early. Exposure to the sun is a prime factor that promotes skin cancer. It is very important for one to use sun block agents preferably number 15 to screen out the sun's harmful rays and reduce the risk of skin cancer. Prolonged exposure to the sun also causes rough dry scaly areas that are pre-cancerous, if these areas are left untreated they may develop into cancer. Any spot that scabs over, scales, bleeds, grows larger, or does not heal within a few weeks may signal a problem. If an existing mole enlarges suddenly, changes color, breeds or has irregular border can be a sign of transformation to skin cancer. If you have any of these warning signals see your dermatologist at once.

Q.: With interest rates finally dropping, I imagine more buyers will be entering the real estate market. Do you think this will make it easier for a home owner to sell his property without a real estate agent?

A.: We agree interest rates are, at last, coming down. Things, however, are not nearly as simple as they used to be in terms of selling a house. An example is the maze of complicated financing options like seller-assisted financing, alternative mortgages, etc. Unless you are aware of each option open to the potential buyer, you'll probably run into problems handling it alone. The prospective owner-seller will need to know the difference between a graduated payment mortgage, a shared appreciation mortgage and an interest rate buydown, just for starters.

Oil patch setting for new comic adventure

By KIM KIRKHAM
Lifestyle Writer

With the oil patch of Texas as its setting and the concept of sleep as its storyline, Independent Comics of Midland has introduced a new adventure to an old industry.

The Epsilon Wave is a comic created by Carl Knappe and Tom Floyd that rolled off the Big Spring Herald press Aug. 20 and will hit the bookshelves this week.

The Epsilon Wave is unlike the old style of comics where super heroes live in cities and save the world.

"You don't have to take over the world from New York," said Carl Knappe of Midland, president of the company. He also is editor of The Epsilon Wave and creator and writer of Sea Dragon, the comics secondary story.

Instead, the characters are normal people who by freak accidents gain extraordinary powers and undergo trials and tribulations because of the powers.

The story originates in Jacksboro, northwest of Dallas, and by the seventh issue will move to West Texas.

In The Epsilon Wave, the character Bombardier is the villain with the character Nightmare, Arthur Williams alter ego that appears from his sleep, as the main hero.

It's Nightmare's duty to stop Bombardier from starting fires in the oil patch and causing oilfield deaths.

Carl Knappe, left, and Tom Floyd, originators of the Epsilon Wave, a new comic book, look over the cover for the third issue of the comic book.

Due to an accident while serving on the underwater demolition team in the Navy, the character Walter Koch becomes Sea Dragon. "He is a normal person that has normal emotions and reacts in a normal way," Knappe said about the aquatic human.

Both Knappe and Floyd are Vietnam vets and the characters of Arthur Williams and Walter Koch were in Vietnam.

Floyd and Knappe began planning the comic book in February.

Floyd of Odessa is vice president of the company, artist of Sea Dragon, and artist and creator of The Epsilon Wave.

Jonni Parker of Midland is colorist.

Floyd quit his job Aug. 1 to go to work full time at the company. Parker also works full-time.

"Hopefully by the end of this month, I can go full-time," said Knappe.

The second issue will be on sale the first week in November. The third issue will be released in January and will introduce Twilight, the third member of the Epsilon group.

They hope to start the comic monthly in June of next year.

The comic book is being advertised through 8 of the 14 major distributors in Canada, England and the United States. The company has not contacted three of the distributors, and three other distributors said they would not advertise the comic at this time.

The authors and creators will be at Comics and Beyond, 624 Ridgeroad Dr., Sept. 21 to sign copies of their first issue.

"What we're shooting for is to be a viable comics company," Knappe said. Their goal is to add two titles a year.

"If you don't entertain the audience, you're not doing the job," Floyd said. "If we don't please the reader, we're not going to stay in business very long," said Knappe.

"My first comic I ever bought was 10 cents," he said. Knappe was six or seven years old when he began reading comics. In high school, he quit reading them but started again last September.

"Hopefully one of our characters will catch on and carry on even after the creator is dead," said Knappe.

Writing the storyline in comics is "just like getting up on a soap box and saying 'This is what I believe,'" Knappe said. But "it's not written to insult or say 'Hey, your ideas are wrong,'" he said.

"Whether we believe the way they (comic characters) do or not, the way they believe is what we've created and we have to follow through with it," said Floyd, who has always wanted to be a comic artist. He majored in commercial art at North Texas State University.

"We have characters that are all types," said Floyd. "It's just like writing a screen play for television. The characters have to be real."

"We just want to show the sides of life," Knappe said. "We show in our characters true feelings. We try to make our characters as true to life as possible."

In their comics, good always triumphs and law and justice will always prevail, they said.

Reading comics is escapism, a form of entertainment, Knappe said.

"Comics are starting to come back into the entertainment field like they were a long time ago," said Floyd. Comics have "come down not to a hero worship but to a form of literature."

Maintaining dental health is object of special week

Although most people may not want to think about it, maintaining good dental health is an everyday battle.

National Dental Hygiene Week, which begins today and continues through Saturday, is an opportunity for dental health care professionals to remind everyone of preventative measures which may help folks avoid the woes of gum disease and related problems.

To give the week special recognition in Big Spring, Mayor Clyde Angel will proclaim National Dental Hygiene Week in a ceremony at 9:45 a.m. Monday in the Dental Hygiene Clinic at Howard College.

Students from the Dental Hygiene Clinic will be at the Big Spring Mall today from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. to give oral hygiene instructions and literature on dental health.

Dr. Alice Haynes is director and instructor for the program. Anne Waite-Foster is clinical coordinator and instructor. Dr. David Rickey is radiography instructor, and Dee Davis is clinic instructor.

Each year, four additional instructors meet with local students to lecture on diseases of the gum.

The program is housed in the Horace Garrett Applied Science Building on the grounds of Howard College.

Carmen Cisneros, program secretary, said nine students have graduated from the program since its inception three years ago. At present, 12 students are enrolled as freshmen in the program, and four are enrolled as sophomores.

Cisneros said that students must complete the program and successfully complete their national and state Dental Hygiene board exams before gaining their licenses as dental hygienists.

The Howard College program operates a clinic which is open to the community. Appointments may be made September through December on Mondays and Wednesdays from 10 a.m. to noon and from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m., and on Tuesdays from 8:30 a.m. to noon.

Cisneros said dental hygiene students work on patients under the supervision of licensed dental hygienists and dentists.

The clinic will do X-rays, teeth cleaning, topical application of flourides, pit and fissure sealants, restoration polish and nutritional and preventative control counseling.

Because this week is National Dental Hygiene Week, the students and instructors at the Howard College program prepared some tips for dental care.

Signs of gum disease include bleeding gums when brushing teeth; red, swollen, tender gums; loose or separating permanent teeth; change in the way dentures and partials fits; bad breath; and a change in the way teeth fit together when biting.

To prevent gum disease, brush and floss at least once a day. Eat well balanced meals and avoid snacks. Visit your dentist regularly and check for signs of gum disease.

All types of sugar can affect dental health. These include sucrose, fructose (fruit sugar), glucose, lactose (milk sugar), and maltose (grain sugar.)

Students and instructors from the Dental Hygiene Lab at Howard College work with patients recently. This week is National Dental Hygiene Week.

Anne Waite-Foster, clinical coordinator, said, "The sugar in foods mixes with plaque. This combination creates an acid that attacks tooth enamel and causes decay. The object is to eat less retentive, or sticky, sugars less frequently and not throughout the day."

Other tips. Replace a worn-out toothbrush every three to four months. A worn-out brush will not clean your teeth properly.

For most people, a brush with soft, rounded-end or polished bristles should be used. Hard bristles can injure gums. Children need smaller brushes than those designed for adults.

Use flouride toothpaste. The fluoride unites with the tooth enamel, making it resistant to decay.

Rinse your mouth with plain water after brushing and flossing or use a fluoride rinse. Rinsing is not a substitute for brushing and flossing.

Painting on black velvet loses its luster for artist

By JAMES H. MAISH
The Arizona Daily Star

NOGALES, Mexico (AP) — For more than 20 years, Daniel Guerrero has used the absence of light — blackness — to define brilliant, detailed faces of Mexican and American Indians, "campesinos," cowboys and conquistadores.

He paints on "black velvet," a craft or an art depending on your point of view. Some visitors call the glistening paintings of Elvis or Jesus walking on water downright tacky; other tourists cannot buy enough of them.

But Guerrero, widely regarded here as this city's foremost black-velvet painter, says he intends to give up the medium soon.

Black-velvet paintings, reproduced here "on an industrial basis," have lost their luster for him, he said. Overall quality has decayed in the rush for a fast buck.

About 50 individuals in Nogales, Sonora, now paint thousands of pictures of teary-eyed children, Bambi and other subjects.

Depending upon the business, black-velvet painters along the border use one of two main production methods. They quickly paint the works themselves. Or sometimes division of labor is used on one work. One painter completes the main part. Someone just paints eyes. Another painter specializes in hands.

"It's been commercialized," Guerrero said.

Guerrero, a shy, mild-mannered man of 45 who has exhibited his black-velvet work throughout the United States, said he had decided to move to other artistic endeavors only after much pondering.

After all, one of his nudes, which he estimates that he has painted about 1,500 times over the years, has put a lot of food on his family's table, he said. He has a wife and four children.

He says he has painted the picture of a Navajo medicine man, among other Indian portraits, about 35 times. He used a black-and-white newspaper photo as inspiration.

Because of the often repetitive nature of his work, Guerrero considers himself a craftsman rather than an artist, though some here disagree, singling his work out for praise.

For more than a year now, Guerrero has taught painting at his own art school in Nogales, Ariz. He divides his time between teaching at the Estudio Guerrero in Arizona each day and painting during the morning in his Sonora studio.

His back-street studio, which catches a soft northern light, is cluttered with texts on everything from child nutrition to 19th-century French news illustrations. An impressionistic rendition of an Indian woman from Xochimilco stares pensively from a canvas in the middle of the room.

Guerrero says he tries to help his young students avoid obstacles that he encountered while learning to paint. He tries to preserve their style and spontaneity.

As a child in Tijuana, Baja California Norte, Guerrero said, he had an inexplicable passion for painting, an interest that he cultivated day in, day out, even though his family was poor.

Guerrero impulsively painted pictures of flowers that were kept everywhere in his grandmother's house, where he lived. For lack of money, he sometimes made his own paintbrushes from locks of his grandmother's hair, he said.

Later, his mother and grandmother, looking to a more practical future, enrolled him in an accounting school.

But most of the time in class, he spent sketching occupants of a barely visible pool hall nearby, he said. Eventually, he dropped out of accounting, preferring colors to numbers.

To make money, he then hand-painted skirts and golf shirts sold at Las Vegas hotels. He later was apprenticed in Mexico with a professional artist who taught him more about technique.

It was in Tijuana, too, more than 20 years ago, that Guerrero began painting on black velvet (actually a synthetics-cotton combination) before it reached its commercial popularity, he said.

The dark background exalted colors, which appeared to glow, he said. At the same time, it enhanced shadows. The velvet's absorbency made it a tricky medium, too.

After he moved to Nogales in 1963, several American art distributors soon noticed his work, he said. One gallery owner hired him to work in St. Paul, Minn., which he did for a while.

Later, he displayed his black-velvet work as part of a furniture-sales promotion in New Mexico. The store owner liked his work so much, Guerrero said, that he kept 20 oil paintings for himself.

He said he had done commissioned black-velvet portraits for people throughout the United States and Canada. But he mainly paints portraits of North American Indians — Tarahumaras, Seris, Sioux and Navajo, among other tribes.

Guerrero said his artistic interests had gravitated away from his dark medium. He would like to paint strictly on white canvas and also learn how to sculpt.

ART EXHIBITION PHOTO CONTEST

Businesses challenged to donate to fund

By SCOTT FITZGERALD
Staff Writer

Big Spring businesses are being asked to rise to the challenge of donating funds to the Johnnie Johansen Scholarship Fund.

In a Thursday afternoon press conference held in Avery & Associates Office at the Permian Building, Ralph Kelley of Settles Hotel announced that the company asked Manager David Cibell of KWKI-FM and KKIK-AM radio stations to match the hotel's donation of $250 to the scholarship fund.

The fund was established four years ago by the Big Spring Garden Club Council in honor of Johnnie Johansen who served as Big Springs' park superintendent from the mid-1940s to the mid-1970s.

The monies are used to provide scholarships to prospective Howard College horticulture students.

"We're happy to accept the challenge," Cibell replied to Kelley's announcement. Each company will donate $250 to the drive.

Kelley said the $250 challenge would be extended to other businesses in Big Spring to help increase the fund.

"The sky's the limit," Kelley said about a projected financial goal.

Howard College President Bob Riley suggested to fund trustees attending the press conference that the contributed monies should be deposited into a "perpetual scholarship fund" that could raise more money by drawing interest.

"We have to look at how many students could benefit years from now," Riley said. He said the federal government will be contributing "less and less" in the future for student financial aid.

"We have to establish a base here which would be marvelous for our students in the future," Riley said.

The trustees who include, Annie Matt Angel, Erma Balch, Edna Womack and Doris Guy, did not make an immediate decision to Riley's request, but they did express a favorable opinion.

This year's fund drive will conclude on Oct. 12 at the annual garden club's fall luncheon that will be held at the Garrett Hall of the First United Methodist Church, Angel said.

Trustees said the luncheon menu will consist of turkey and various salads. Other items scheduled for the luncheon include a book review, a style show and an art display.

The total fund drive amount will be announced then along with persons who will be awarded scholarships, Angel said.

Dr. Wallace C. Hunter gives seminar on sleep disorders

Volutneer Services at the Big Spring State Hospital had two special events last week.

Dr. Wallace C. Hunter, director of psychiatric services, conducted a seminar for the volunteers Sept. 10. The subject was sleep disorders.

Hunter said that because the average person spends one-third of his life asleep, the subject is of vital importance and interest. He stressed the need to establish a healthy "sleep hygiene," which is to go to bed and get up at approximately the same time, thus establishing a good sleep pattern.

This was the first in a series of seminars planned for volunteer education and enrichment. The next in the series will be conducted by Dr. Harry Davis, chief clinical psychologist, on human behavior and motivation, followed the next month by C.J. Alsup, director of the alcohol and drug abuse program, on "Substance Abuse: A Universal Program."

On Sept. 11, Ray E. Tatum, Th.D., director of quality and standards at the hospital, conducted a tour of the Big Spring State Hospital grounds and units for the new executive commitee members of the volunteer council. They are Dorothy Hall, Jim Weaver and Cindy Wright. Kathy Viccinelli is the volunteer coordinator, and Evelyn Anderson is the assistant coordinator.

Tatum pointed out that Big Spring State Hospital was the fifth hospital to be built in the mental health system in Texas and is the smallest.

It also has 12 outreach clinics.

The mental health workers on each unit are trained by the hospital in a two-week school which is supplemented periodically by seminars and indroductions to up-to-date methods.

Tatum also discussed the recent legislation concerning Mental Health and Mental Retardation Hospitals in Texas.

Lifestyle guidelines

We will be pleased to announce the news of your engagement, wedding, silver or golden anniversary in the Lifestyle section of the Big Spring Herald. We try to use the story on the date you request, but sometimes space does not permit this.

The information must be submitted to us on a form available at the Herald no later than Wednesday noon before the Sunday it is to be published. The form must include a name and telephone number of a person whom we can reach during the day for more information.

We will use a picture of the couple in the announcement. Or in the case of engagement announcements where a picture of the couple is not available, we will use one of the bride-elect. The picture must be a professional quality studio photograph. We prefer a 5 x 7 glossy black and white print. We ask for this kind of photograph so that it will reproduce well in the newspaper. Following the picture's publication, it may be picked up at the Lifestyle department.

The information for the story may be brought to the Lifestyle department of the Herald, which is located at 710 Scurry. Or it may be mailed to Lifestyle Department, Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 1431, Big Spring, Texas 79720. Call us at (915) 263-7331 if we can help with more information or clarification of our policies.

ENGAGEMENTS

Information of engagement announcements must be submitted to the Lifestyle department of the Herald anytime after the engagement is a reality until at least three weeks prior to the wedding. Anything closer than three weeks will not be published. The engagement form must be submitted no later than Wednesday noon prior to the Sunday it is to be published.

If the bride-elect, prospective bridegroom or their parents do not now or have never lived in our area, we need to know why you are submitting your engagement to the Herald. If only grandparents live in our area, please give their names and addresses.

WEDDINGS

If a wedding writeup is submitted to the Herald after the wedding has occurred, the space allotted to it will diminish according to the length of time that has passed since the wedding.

BIRTHS

Local hospitals supply information for Storkclub. If a child is born elsewhere in the newspaper's circulation area, or is born to out-of-town parents with local or area grandparents, please contact the Herald Lifestyle Department with Storkclub information.

Information needed for Storkclub is: newborn's name, sex, time and date of birth, weight, place of birth, parents' name and address. If the baby is born outside the circulation area but has local grandparents, please include their name and address. The local grandparents serve as the area connection for the information.

Howard College sponsoring 2nd annual pageant Oct. 24

Howard College will sponsor the second annual Miss Howard County/Miss SWCID pageant Oct. 24 at 7 p.m. in the Dorothy Garrett Coliseum.

Applications for contestants are available in the student life offices at Howard College and SWCID. To qualify, a young woman must be between the ages of 17 and 26 on the Labor Day Holiday, 1986; must be a high school graduate by Labor Day, 1986; and must never have been married.

Winner of the Miss Howard County Pageant will enter the Miss Texas Pageant held to select the state queen, who will compete for the crown of Miss America in the national competition at Atlantic City, N.J., next September.

The event this year will be the second Miss Howard County/Miss SWCID pageant sponsored by Howard College.

"We are serving as sponsors of the pageant because we believe it provides a valuable contribution to the community and to the young ladies who will enter the competition," Cheri Sparks of Howard College said.

"We believe it serves the community well because it focuses attention on the high calibre of young ladies who are residents of our community and we believe it serves youth well because it provides the opportunity for the young ladies who compete to gain added poise through public appearance and to gain added maturity through participation in a community program such as the Miss Howard County/Miss SWCID Pageant," Sparks said.

"The winners of the local pageants will receive scholarships to attend Howard College and SWCID. Additionally, it will provide the opportunity for the girls who are winners to continue to seek scholarship awards at the Miss Texas/Miss Deaf Texas pageants, which will aid them in obtaining an education at the college of their choice as they continue their education," said Sparks.

Miss Howard County entrants must be a resident of the county, an employee in the county six months prior to the pageant, or a student at a college in the county. Miss SWCID entrants must be enrolled at SWCID.

Talent will be considered in the juding and each contestant should possess some quality of talent, either trained or potential. Sparks said the talent range is varied and no young woman must be trained in any specific field.

Judging of the candidates will be based on the same values as considered at the Miss Texas pageant.

Personality, poise, beauty and talent are major requirements. Each contestant will be judged in private interview, evening gown, swimsuit and in talent.

Derek Horton on year's run at Abby Theater

Derek Horton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Horton, now is on a year's run at the Abby Theater in Houston. Following graduation as a drama major at Cornell in June, he spent three months with the New York Shakespearean Festival, appearing in four plays.

Larry Wheat, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wheat, a graduate of Texas Christian University, is now a second year graduate student at the University of Texas at Austin School of Architecture. The September-October issue of Texas Architect Magazine devotes its entire issue to the state colleges of architecture. Quoting from the magazine...

"The six architecture schools in Texas present their strengths along with a portfolio of the best students' design work."

Larry was chosen as the outstanding student from UT and featured three pictures of his drawings for quarter horse ranch stables, offices and house. Larry is a special events coordinator for the School of Architecture.

Mrs. Flynn (Grace) Long has agreed to serve as organizational chairperson for the League of Women Voters. We were contacted recently and asked to organize a chapter in Big Spring since Big Spring is one of the largest cities in Texas without a League of Women Voters affiliate. Since first mentioning this possibility of forming such an organization, there have been many responses. Mrs. Long, the wife of the minister at First Presbyterian Church, will host a meeting at the church parlor, 8th and Runnels, at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Sept. 23. Those interested may come to the meeting or call Grace at 263-3771 for more information.

Most people think of the League of Women Voters as a group working for voter education and voter registration. These are crucial items but only a small part of the program which includes these: It probes and monitors local government entities from city council to school board; it informs (famous for presidential and candidate debates nationally); it lobbies and takes public stands and works for these issues; it initiates legislation; it litigates when necessary; it supports good government, justice and equality.

One misconception is that membership is open only to women. Men are welcomed, too.

Waters visiting relatives

By CAROL BALDWIN
Lifestyle Editor

TIM AND KAREN WATERS and their sons, CORY, 3, and LANCE, 1, are visiting Tim's parents, JIM AND BONNIE WATERS, in Holland.

Jim Waters works for Amoco in off-shore drilling.

While in Europe, the Waters family will also visit Paris, West Germany and the Netherlands.

TOMMY AND LISA HUBBARD were visited recently by Tommy's son, MIKE, his wife PAULA and Tommy's grandsons. Mike, a Big Spring High School graduate, now works in Dallas and was driving home on the freeway to the couple's home when he saw smoke coming from the Dallas-Fort Worth Airport. He learned later that the smoke was the result of the Delta plane crash which claimed dozens of lives. It was frightening, according to Mike.

The Class of 1975 from Big Spring High School is still seeking the addresses of about 100 classmates and hopes to contact everybody in time for the class reunion Oct. 25-27, according to LEANN BRAZEL MATTHEWS, one of the organizers.

LeAnn and her husband, JOE, another 1975 graduate, are currently moving from Tulsa, Okla., to Midland, and LeAnn is working on the reunion at the moment out of her parent's home at 2617 Crestline.

KITCHEN

Two base cabinets of equal depth can abut each other in a corner. One would then be what is termed a "blind" base cabinet. This is one whose access is partially blocked by the abutting cabinet. It allows storage but does not offer access, limiting corner storage possibilities. Three possible solutions to the wasted space in base cabinet corners are available in stock and custom cabinets. The first calls for identical, quarter-round shelves, one mounted on the cabinet door, the other on the stile. The second practical solution calls for several pie-cut circle shelves to be attached to the cabinet door. A third solution is the Lazy Susan.

For the prettiest, most efficient kitchen in town, call on BOB'S CUSTOM WOODWORK. We can design, build, and install your new kitchen, from floor tile to custom cabinets. We also do all types of home renovations. Our 8000 sq. ft. workshop and skilled craftsmen can handle any job. Come to Bldg. 613 in the Industrial Park, or phone 267-5811. Open M-F, 8-12, 1-5 by appt.

Art club begins 1985-86 season

The Big Spring Art Association will begin its 1985-86 season this year with a program presented by artist George Maxwell of San Angelo.

Maxwell was born in Altus, Okla. in 1915 and later grew up in Dallas and San Angelo. His father was an architect and builder and was interested in art. He influenced three of his six children to develop their artistic talents.

Maxwell served five years in the Army Air Corps during World War II. After the war and a one year assignment as a civilian instructor in the B-29 flight engineering school, he returned to San Angelo and began a career in the United States Post Office. He retired in 1972 and began pursuing his art career.

The Art Association will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the art department of Howard College. Plans for the membership show to be held this fall will be discussed.

Doyle honored with retirement reception

Myrle Doyle, director of the Dawson County Mental Health Center, was honored recently with a reception at the Big Spring State Hospital.

Doyle, who will retire later this month, has been director of the center in Lamesa since its inception in 1968. This center was the second to be opened in the state, and Doyle was the first employee to be hired by the State of Texas as a center director.

She has the distinction of serving in that position for the longest period of time in the state, 17 years.

Fellow employees at the hospital and 12 clinics presented the honoree with an engraved plaque citing her as being an outstanding people person. Jack Stovall, director of community services, made the presentation.

Hospital Superintendent A.K. Smith awarded Doyle with a certificate of appreciation signed by himself and Dr. Gary Miller, commissioner of Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation.

Seventy-five people attended the reception held in the conference room of Outreach Services at Big Spring State Hospital. Lamesa residents will honor Doyle with a reception later this month.

Dear Abby

Teen pulled between parents tired of stretching truth

DEAR ABBY: I am 16 and my problem is my parents. I love them both and hope they aren't staying married because of me, because I think they both would be happier if they were divorced.

They lie to each other and they both ask me to lie for them. My mother has several boyfriends, and my father has one ladyfriend that I know about for sure. Neither of my parents knows what the other is doing, but I do. They are not being fair to each other, they are not being fair to me and they are not being fair to the friends they are lying to. I don't know how to handle it.

I need some advice, but please don't say where this is from. Sign me...

TIRED OF LYING

DEAR TIRED: Talk to both parents privately. Tell them that you are tired of lying, and urge them to get counseling so that they can quit lying to each other and asking you to lie for them.

This is a heavy load for you to bear alone, so for the good of all, I strongly recommend family counseling. You are a very intelligent 16-year-old, and I admire you for trying to find a solution to this family problem.

DEAR ABBY: The letter from the man who worries whether the staples used in his vasectomy might trip an airport's security alarm reminds me of my problem.

I've been single-breasted since my 1964 mastectomy. Though I've tried various prostheses, the one I'm most comfortable with — don't laugh — is a plastic bag filled with birdseed, tightly closed and encased in a little cotton pouch. (I buy parakeet seed from the supermarket.) The birdseed shifts with my movements, as my natural breast does. But since I'm an A-cup, it isn't heavy enough to keep from riding up, so I accepted my husband's suggestion and added about a teaspoon of birdshot for added weight.

Query: If I wear this gadget when I fly, will the birdshot trip the security alarm? It would be most embarrassing if it did, so I leave it home, and wear a silicone prosthesis when I travel — which is not as comfortable, especially in hot weather.

Please let me know.

MASSACHUSETTS BIRDSEED LADY

DEAR LADY: The next time you fly, carry your birdseed-birdshot mixture in your purse. If it trips the alarm, you could show it to the inspectors without embarrassment.

★★★

DEAR ABBY: "Cliff" and I have been married for 23 years, and we've had what I consider a good marriage, but something bothers me. Before we met, Cliff was engaged to "Ellen," but he caught her with another man and broke off with her. Soon after, we met, fell in love and were married. Ellen is also married and lives in another state, and Cliff has kept in touch with her all these years. He's especially close to Ellen's son, who is being married next month.

Cliff plans to go to the wedding and says I am welcome to go with him, but I don't really want to go.

This has me so upset I can't think straight. I've always wondered why Cliff has taken such an interest in that boy. I've even wondered if the boy was his.

I don't know what to do. Should I go with him or not? Or should I try to stop him from going?

AFRAID TO DIG DEEPER

DEAR AFRAID: Your signature shows you to be a very perceptive woman. Not knowing is worse than knowing. I think you should share your innermost feelings and nagging doubts with Cliff. You need to clear the air and put your mind at ease. Don't ask him not to go. Go with him.

★★★

(Do you hate to write letters because you don't know what to say? Thank-you notes, sympathy letters, congratulations, how to decline and accept invitations and how to write an interesting letter are included in Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions." Send your name and address clearly printed with a check or money order for $2.50 and a long, stamped (39 cents) self-addressed envelope to: Dear Abby, Letter Booklet, P.O. Box 38923, Hollywood, Calif. 90038.)

Dr. Donohue

Situp need not be stressful

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I'm a 59-year-old female with cervical osteoarthritis. I find that the bent-knee situp puts a strain on my neck. I do these to prevent back problems and, of course, to flatten my stomach. Can you suggest something for me to do? — H.S.R.

I've got the picture. I think you may be overdoing the situps. I know many people feel the objective of the situp is reach the ultimate position, that is to touch the head to the knees. Not so. All that accomplishes is neck strain.

Really, most of the benefit of the situp is achieved in the every first part of the lift from the floor, to the point where the shoulder blades leave the surface. Maybe that idea will help you. And you don't have to lock your hands behind your head. Lay them on your chest. That will pretty much get the neck out of the exercise.

Don't neglect the side abdominal muscles. You train them by bending at the waist from side to side. Strengthening muscles to counter the effects of osteoarthritis is a good idea, but I hope you are getting a green light from your doctor for your specific exercises.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: Have you ever heard of a jogger being harassed by birds? I experienced this scary business a month ago. I was beset by some large black birds and a few seemed intent on beheading me. One took several swoops, then squawked off. It was chilling. It hasn't happened since. I changed my route. Just a curiosity item for your column. — O.P.

I've read reports of this happening. I don't think the birds have a grudge against joggers. One jogger reported being attacked by a red-winged blackbird. Apparently, his red jogging suit triggered the bird's ire. He changed colors and wasn't bothered for the rest of the season. It's theorized that in such a case, the suit color may represent the bird's territorial marker and he reacts to it as a challenge to his own mating area. I'm sure other joggers have had similar experiences.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I have just begun exercising with an exercise bike. I am a female in my early 30s and do about five miles a day. Could you explain to me what benefits I receive from this type of exercise? Which muscles does it tone up? — T.G.F.

The muscles of the thighs and lower legs get the workout, of course. They get stronger.

But this isn't the real point in using a bike for exercise. There are lots of better exercises, ones more specific for building leg strength per se. The chief benefit from biking lies in its aerobic aspects. You get the heart beating stronger, lower blood pressure, and raise the levels of the good kind of cholesterol, the kind that prevents heart attacks and strokes.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: What actually does the "popping" when a person gets a bad knee injury? — E.V.

It's usually the rupture of the anterior cruciate ligament.

Where the upper leg (femur) joins the lower leg (tibia) lies the patella, the kneecap. Various structures maintain this precarious balancing act. They are called ligaments — tough, fibrous bands that hold the upper and lower legs in position while permitting flexibility. When you exert abnormal force on this structure, as when a football player's foot is dug in at the moment he is struck from the side, something has to give. If the knee is bent at a grotesque angle, one of those supporting ligaments can be ruptured.

The most likely candidate is the ligament that crosses from the front of the lower leg to the rear of the upper one. That's the anterior cruciate. Its pop is one of the most frightening sounds an athlete will ever hear.

In response to reader requests, Dr. Donohue's publisher now has a complete listing of all the booklets on various medical problems. Readers wishing this list can write him, P.O. Box 11210, Chicago, IL 60611, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope for return mailing.
