Chiang Warns Reds He Will Fight To End

By HAROLD K. MILKS
Associated Press Staff Writer

NANKING, Dec. 30.— Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek tonight definitely offered the Chinese Communists peace on his own terms or war to the bitter end.

(The Communists immediately broadcast an indirect but effective rejection. They scorned "permitting the wounded beast to nurse his wounds and then spring up again one day to throttle the revolution."

(Instead, the Communists boasted, after three years of civil war they dominate China north of the Yangtze river and soon intend to cross that stream and "liberate all China.")

Willing To Step Aside

Chiang's highly-hedged offer of negotiation was made in a three-page written statement, his annual New Year's message to the Chinese people. It came during a battlefield lull, but with the Communists in a commanding position.

Confronting the direst crisis in his 27 years as leader of China, Chiang suggested that he himself was willing to step aside if necessary for peace, but fixed these conditions:

"If negotiated peace is not detrimental to national independence and sovereignty, but will contribute to the welfare of the people, and if the constitution is not violated, constitutionalism is preserved, a democratic form of government maintained, the entity of the armed forces safeguarded, and if the people's free mode of living and minimum living standard are protected, then I shall be satisfied.

Believes In Victory

"If the Communists are not sincerely desirous of peace and will insist on continuing the armed rebellion, the government shall have no alternative, but will fight them to a finish.

"As the political nerve center of the country, the Nanking-Shanghai area will be held at all costs; and the government is determined to throw in all available forces for a decisive battle.

"I firmly believe the government will win out in the end, and it will also mark the turning point in the war."

Thus, Chiang said "the key to the problem of peace or war and to the happiness or suffering of the people is not in the hands of the government. The problem can be decided by the Communists."

Compromise Rejected

Of himself, he said: "I am not concerned with my own position. In this I will follow only the consensus of the people."

(The Communists fired their answer back to Chiang like a rocket, even though they evidently

City Ushers In New Year

LUBBOCK, after writing finis to 1948 last night, ushered in the New Year in a manner that was for the most part quiet.

One traffic mishap marred last night's general serenity. Henry Wyatt Brown, 72, was hit by a southbound automobile in 1300-block Ave. E about 6:38 p.m. Friday. He was taken by McDonald Funeral home ambulance to West Texas hospital for treatment.

Brown, who was reported "in pretty good condition" by a hospital attendant last Friday night, suffered a lacerated scalp and broken right ankle.

Cold Front Predicted

Warmer weather with partly cloudy skies was predicted to continue through today, and a cold front will come in from the northwest sometime between midnight tonight and Sunday morning, U. S. Weather station at Municipal airport said Friday night. The cold front was not expected to be too severe, but similar to other drops in temperature which Lubbock has experienced recently.

General closing of offices and businesses today will be the principal observance of the holiday.

Installation of incoming county officers at a public ceremony on the second floor of the courthouse at 10 o'clock this morning will be one special event, according to County Judge Walter Davies.

Union Service Held

Following the public ceremony, the new commissioners court will "go into a huddle" for a general get-acquainted discussion of an hour or so in duration.

Churches services and parties last night were the principal means of celebrating the passing of the old year and the arrival of the new in Lubbock.

A traditional union communion service was held beginning at 11 o'clock last night in First Presbyterian church, with many of the churches in the city taking part and led by First Christian, First Presbyterian, and First Methodist churches. The program included a number of the city's pastors.

Special Masses Planned

First Baptist church last night held departmental socials, followed by a general service in the auditorium at 10:30 p. m.

Congregation Shaareth Israel held Chanukah service at 8 p.m.

New Year Greeted With Hope For Peace

World Bids Troubled 1948 Glad Farewell

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—An uneasy world bade farewell to troubled 1948 tonight and welcomed 1949 with the fervent hope it would be the postwar year to bring true peace.

In America, where 1948 has been a bustling, prosperous year, the celebrations were largely gay and joyous. Even so, there were some signs the bloom was fading on the postwar boom.

In Europe and elsewhere, there was less revelry. The east-west cold war and actual shooting wars worked against a riotous greeting to the New Year.

Year Brought Progress

Most countries abroad can look back on 12 months of progress in recovering from the awful devastation of the second world war.

But most of them also still have a long way to go to regain even their prewar standard of living.

In the United States, it was a brave man who set out with his girl for a night club without $50 in his billfold, and it will be a rare night clubber who counts anything but small change from the $50 tomorrow morning, if he feels like counting.

Most of the nation's largest cities reported prices for a traditional night on the town ranging from $7.50 to $25 per person. And that didn't include the drinks.

Baby Sitters Short

Still, several night spots said their tariffs were lower than last year. In New York, many had reservations going begging as the climactic hour neared.

Broadway theaters, which look to New Year's Eve as the biggest night of the year, were not all jammed to capacity as they have been in recent years.

Next to money, New York couples seemed most worried about a shortage of baby sitters for their celebrations.

For those who don't like or can't afford the steaming, elbow-in-your-back atmosphere of night clubs and hotel dining rooms, there were less expensive ways to greet 1949.

Thousands over the country gathered in churches for traditional New Year's Eve services.

In New York, hundreds of thousands streamed to Times Square,

Canadian's Post Hole Yarn Beats Best U. S. Fibbers

(By International News Service)

BURLINGTON, Wis., Dec. 31.—The Burlington Liar's club named the champion liar of 1948 today—and for the first time in the club's unique history, the winner is from outside the U. S.

L. W. Tupper of Patricia, Alberta, Canada, won the championship with this yarn:

"Up here in Alberta we really have some wind storms. Last summer a rancher had just finished digging 2,000 post holes, when along came a northwestern and blew every last one of these post holes out of the ground and out of the country.

"The rancher finally located them 125 miles away, but they were a total loss. After bouncing 125 miles across country, over the cactus, they were so full of holes that they wouldn't hold the dirt out any more!"

Hotels Named In Injunction Suit

Two more swings at alleged bawdy house operations here—the second and third in recent weeks—were taken by the district attorney's department late Friday with the filing of injunctive proceedings seeking to enjoin operation of two downtown hotels as places "where persons resort for the purpose of prostitution."

Named in petitions addressed by District Attorney Lloyd Croslin to 99th District Judge G. V. Pardue were persons "who have been for a period of more than one year next preceding the filing of this petition for injunction, keeping, interested in keeping and aiding and abetting the keeping of a bawdy house . . . " which was identified in one petition as the Texas hotel, at 810½ Main, the other the Logan hotel, at 1007½ Ave. G.

Other Cases Hinted

Croslin, at the same time, indicated other similar cases will be filed, after completion of investigation.

The petition charged that defendants so charged are "each and all guilty of maintaining a nuisance."

It asked that each be temporarily enjoined from "maintaining and keeping the places as bawdy houses;" that they be cited to an-

Chicagoan, Run Over By Train, Files Suit

CHICAGO, Dec. 31 (INS)—A 37-year-old Chicagoan who was run over by 27 freight cars filed a $500,000 damage suit in superior court today against the Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific railway.

The petitioner, Lloyd E. Hannum, charged he lost his right arm and right leg and suffered several broken vetrebrae in the accident near Rockford, Ill., last Aug. 31.

He was employed by the railroad as a brakeman.

High Civil Courts Close Out Terms

AUSTIN, Dec. 31 (AP) — The state's highest civil courts formally closed their 1948 terms today.

In Austin, they were the State Supreme court and the third court of civil appeals. The ten other civil appeals courts over the state likewise closed their books on the old year. The court of criminal appeals terms run from October to October of each year.

Chief Justice Retires

Retiring from the third court of civil appeals here was Chief Justice James W. McClendon who closed out 25 years of distinguished service as an appellate judge.

Known over Texas as a jurist who has worked overtime seeking to modernize the state's courts and for other judicial reforms, Judge McClendon decided last summer not to stand for re-election. He has been a member of the state civil judicial council.

Judge McClendon will be succeeded by Judge Roy C. Archer, who will take the oath of office tomorrow. Judge Archer was promoted from a Travis county judgeship to the intermediate bench. Judge Robert G. Hughes will swear in Judge Archer. Then Archer will administer the oath of office to Judge Raymond Gray, who was elected to fill the un-

Car Makers Failed To Do Best To Halt Gouging, Solon Says

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31. (AP)—The chief of a House probe into retail automobile sales said today auto manufacturers have not done all they could to prevent the gouging of car buyers.

"The manufacturers have not been sufficiently diligent in policing their industry," said Rep. Macy (R-NY). He headed a special House subcommittee which heard testimony that retail sellers of autos received "tips," played favorites, etc.

The subcommittee studied practices of a group of dealers in the Washington area. Macy issued the group's report today.

JEWS CROSS PARTITION LINES

Israel Reports New Gains As New Year Comes To Holy Land

TEL AVIV, Israel, Dec. 31.—(AP) The new year came to Palestine with fighting continuing in the Negev and the possibility one more military campaign will have to be fought before the Holy Land gets peace.

An Israeli military spokesman, for the first time, disclosed today that the Jews' second offensive in the southern desert crossed the partition lines set by the United Nations.

The spokesman said the Israeli army also captured Bier Asluj, half way on the 50-mile desert road between Beersheba and the Egyptian border post of Auja. But this did not involve crossing the partition lines.

The partition lines were crossed southwest of Beersheba and southeast of Rafa, big Egyptian frontier base near the coast, but the spokesman declined to comment on reports that the Jews actually had fought into Egypt itself and captured an airfield intact.

It was the first time any official information had been given here on specific locations of the fighting going on in the southern desert since three days before Christmas.

The fighting areas have been

GOP Congress Is Adjourned

By J. W. DAVIS
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31 — The 80th Congress — Republican-run and Truman-blasted — went out of business today. The 81st will set up Monday under its new Democratic management.

The House adjourned at 12:20 p. m. CST, and the Senate folowed suit eight minutes later. Most of today's formal closing was given over to oratorical tributes, but there were these positive developments:

1. Both branches voted a 60-day extension of life for the government reorganization commission headed by former President Herbert Hoover. Otherwise, the commission would have had to make its report to Congress Jan. 16.

McKellar Gains Post

2. The Senate voted a 30-day extension beyond today for its special small business committee to wind up reports.

3 Senate Democrats chose Senator McKellar of Tennessee to be president pro tempore of the Senate, a job carrying with it the use of a government limousine. The veteran McKellar barely beat out Senator Tydings of Maryland, 27 to 25. (The president pro tempore presides over the Senate in the absence of the vice president of the U. S.).

4. Rep. McCormack (D-Mass) opened the way for the House to have a negro for a committee chairman for the first time in modern history. McCormack, who is to be the House Democratic leader, said he would stand aside from the chairmanship of the House committee on executive expenditures in favor of Rep. Dawson (D-Ill), negro member who is next in line for the post.

Cabinet Session Held

Meanwhile, Mr. Truman held his last cabinet meeting of 1948 and also called in Democratic congressional leaders to talk over what lies ahead. Vice President elect Barkley, abed with a cold, could not attend and Senator Lucas of Illinois was designated to represent him.

Afterward, it was announced Mr. Truman will meet with the Texas Solons In House Organize

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31. (AP)—Rep. W. R. (Bob) Poage of Waco was elected chairman of the 21-member Texas House delegation at a private meeting today shortly before adjournment of the 80th Congress.

Poage will serve only one year under a compromise. His twin in seniority, Rep. Albert Thomas of Houston, will be chairman in 1950. Poage and Thomas both entered Congress Jan. 3, 1937. The chairmanship goes to the member with most seniority who has not already served. Rep. George Mahon of Colorado City was chairman in the 80th Congress.

Combs Endorsed

In another compromise, Rep. J. M. Combs of Beaumont was endorsed for a seat on the House Ways and Means committee to succeed the late Rep. Milton West of Brownsville, and Rep. Clark Fisher of San Angelo was endorsed for a place on the Armed Services committee. Fisher has seniority over Combs and had bid for the Ways and Means assignment, but Combs had the endorsement of Rep. Sam Rayburn of Bonham, slated to become speaker of the House again. Senator-elect Lyndon B. Johnson is vacating the Armed Services committee assignment for which Fisher is endorsed.

Rep. Lloyd Bentsen, jr., of McAllen, elected to succeed Rep. West and to fill out his unexpired term, gained a seniority edge over more than 100 other new members by being sworn in

Studebaker Announces Price Increase On Cars, Trucks

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Dec. 31. (INS)—The Studebaker corporation announced today increases ranging from $25 to $60 in the list prices of its passenger car and truck models.

The new passengar car prices, ranging from 1.3 to 3.5 per cent higher, apply to 1949 models to be introduced later this month. The new truck prices become effective January 3.

H. S. Vance, chairman and president of the company, said these increases are being made to partly offset increases in manufacturing costs which have occurred since last June when present prices were established.

AIR FORCE GETS B-36's

FORT WORTH, Dec. 31 (AP)—Consolidated-Vultee Aircraft corporation said today its Fort Worth division had delivered 12 new B-36 bombers to the Air Force in December.

It said the last of the 12 was delivered late today; that the number was double the output of any previous month, and broke the record of six deliveries set in November.

ICC Okays Santa Fe Railway Merger Plan

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31. —(AP)— Authority to merge 16 Santa railroad subsidiary lines in the southwest into two operating companies was granted today by the Interstate Commerce commission.

The two operating companies are at Amarillo and Lubbock. Together, they represent 3,143 miles of trackage in the southwest.

The Panhandle and Santa Fe Railway company of Amarillo will become a 1,914-mile line. It will absorb the Clinton - Oklahoma - Western railroad of Pampa; North Plains and Santa Fe railway of Spearman; the Pecos River railroad of Pecos; Pecos and Northern Texas railway of Amarillo and South Plains and Santa Fe railway of Lubbock.

The Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe Railway company of Galveston will become a 1,229-mile line. It will absorb the Cane Belt railroad of Miles; Fort Worth and Rio Grande railway of Fort Worth; Gulf, Beaumont and Great Northern railway of Beaumont; the Healdton and Santa Fe railway of Oklahoma City; Jasper and Eastern railway of Kirbyville and the Texas and Gulf railway of Longview.

OFFICER ENDS COUNTY SERVICE

Last Eve Of Sheriff's Ten-Year Tenure Is Marred By Jail Break

SHERIFF A. M. (Buck) Bennett ended 10 years of service as Dawson county sheriff at midnight last night—on the run, reminiscent of how he assumed those duties five terms ago.

A bit of bad luck in the form of a jail break dogged the sheriff's footsteps on the last eve of his term in office.

Bennett and the Lubbock county sheriff's department had cooperated the day before Christmas to "break" a burglary committed Dec. 22 in Dawson county, and Raymond Speck, about 30, who was described as "on parole from Nebraska," was arrested and charged in the case.

Speck's escape from the Dawson county jail was "nothing spectacular," Bennett said. He was helping other prisoners to clean the jail and failed to return after carring a box of trash outside. He had not been apprehended late last night, but was believed to be still in the vicinity of Lamesa, the sheriff said.

A .22 caliber automatic rifle and an expensive radio-phonograph combination that had been taken in the burglary were recovered for their own-

House Demos Drop Plan To Abolish Un-American Group

By FELIX COTTEN
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31—A high administration source disclosed today that House Democrats have abandoned a plan to abolish the House Un-American Activities committee.

That was learned after top Democratic leaders of both houses of Congress conferred with President Truman at the White House on his legislative program for the 81st congress convening Monday.

Close cooperation between the executive and congressional branches was indicated by the announcement that Mr. Truman would meet his legislative leaders every Monday morning during the forthcoming session.

The Un-American Activities committee, target of sharp criticism by the President as a result of its espionage investigation, will be undisturbed, for the present at least. Mr. Truman twice scored the group's spy probe as a "red herring" designed to cover up the shortcomings of the Republican 80th Congress.

Later on, it was learned today, a move may be made to set up rules to govern the procedural activities of all congressional committees, the Un-American group included. Such rules may restrict the subpoena powers of the committees.

Procedures Scored

The procedure of the un-American activities unit has been the main target of critics. They have urged that witnesses have the right of counsel and cross-examination and rapped release of information about individuals before they have had hearings.

The President is believed to have been informed of House leadership intentions at today's conference. Rep. Rayburn (D-Tex), slated to be speaker of the House, said the Un-American Activities committee was "named" at the White House conference.

Message Believed Ready

Rayburn said he understood the President had completed his state of the union message, which will be delivered before a joint session of the House and Senate Wednesday.

He added that the leaders talked over the contents of the message with the President. He declined to reveal what Mr. Truman would say.

Rayburn said he did not know whether the President would recommend an increase in taxes. He declared repeal of the Taft-Hartley labor act was not discussed at the conference.

The President is expected to recommend repeal of this law, however, in the state of the union message.

HIGHWAY HEAD RESIGNS

AUSTIN, Dec. 31. —(AP)— Resignation of John S. Redditt of Lufkin as chairman of the State Highway commission was announced today by Gov. Beauford H. Jester. He named A. F. Mitchell of Corsicana to the vacancy, and said he would designate the chairman at a later date.

'Good Luck' Black Eyed Peas To Come Into Favor Today

(By The Associated Press)

ATHENS, Dec. 31.—An old East Texas superstition will be served up on thousands of tables tomorrow. "Eat black eyed peas on New Year's day if you want good luck all through the year."

Used to, they said, seeing a White Horse or a red-headed woman would bring you luck. You don't hear that much any more, maybe because it hasn't met the test.

And there's always the left hind foot of a graveyard rabbit for a charm; a four-leaf clover (some folks can find them in season), or a nicely polished buck-eye.

But for sure enough, down right peace and prosperity—the saying goes— you can't beat black eyed peas cooked with hog jowl on New Year's day.

That's one version. Most folks maintain just black eyed peas are enough. Some mix them with rice to make "hoppin' John." You can get them dried or in a can.

Superstition has become a legend and tradition. In early days black eyed peas were raised for home use. Now they are a money crop and a payroll for cannery workers. Now they pop up as a delicacy on some of the best menus. Now they are shipped to distant markets.

AFRICAN PLANE CRASHES

ROME, Saturday, Jan. 1.—(AP) A South African transport plane with 13 passengers aboard was reported to have crashed in flames at Orbetello, near Florence, tonight. According to reports to responsible aviation circles in Rome, the plane was en route nonstop from Athens to Nice, France. The number in the crew was not known.

CONGRESSIONAL GROUP RAPPED

Labor Urged To Form 'Global Defense Chain' Against Reds

By FREDERIC TUTTLE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—American Federation of Labor President William Green urged the nation's workers today to form "a global chain of defense" against Russia's "declared war" on free unions and society.

Green joined with CIO President Philip Murray and other top labor leaders in hailing President Truman's election as a victory for the unions and predicting Taft-Hartley law repeal by the new 81st Congress.

Labor Secretary Tobin said that the future welfare of the nation and labor "depends on a free, democratic union movement that can bargain wisely and well with free management for a just balance between productivity, wages and prices."

Other New Year's eve developments on the labor front, where leaders are weighing demands for a new fourth-round wage increase, included:

1. A charge by the CIO that congressional labor "watchdog committee," headed by defeated Sen. Ball (R-Minn) is "whitewashing" the discredited Taft-Hartley law." The charge was made by

Two Dead On East Coast

(By The Associated Press)

TORRENTIAL rains turned streams and rivers into raging currents that leaped their banks in six northeastern states Friday bringing death, property destruction, disrupted communications and wholesale evacuation of families.

Property damage ran into the hundreds of thousands of dollars in New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Vermont and Maine. Railroad lines and highways were inundated.

Two deaths were reported, one in Massachusetts and one in New York.

Village Threatened

The village of Risingdale, Mass., population 500, feared for a time total evacuation would be needed when turbulent waters churned near the brink of a power dam on the Housatonic river. However, only a few families had to be taken out as crews threw up sandbag barricades around factories and homes.

Flood conditions around Albany, N. Y., forced the New York Central railroad to reroute its Chicago-to-Boston trains through New York City to reach Massachussetts.

When the trains reached Albany they went to New York City and then transferred to New Haven railroad tracks to get to Boston.

Many Plants Close

Tens of thousands of telephones in the vast area were put out of commission by the rain storm and flood conditions.

Most of the major chemical and textile factories and foundaries in the North Adams and Adams, Mass., area were closed.

Small streams and creeks were turned into raging, marauding currents by a two-day rain. Some sections of New England were drenched under more than six inches of rain.

In Newark, N. J., where 3.10 inches of rain were measured from Wednesday through yesterday morning, the weather bureau said if there had been snow the fall would have been between 30 and 40 inches.

Elsewhere in the nation, light snow fell in parts of Pennsylvan-

Officers Keeping Fingers Crossed

The New Year's eve "rush" that law enforcement agencies expected had failed to materialize early this morning, but officers continued to keep their fingers crossed as the area moved further into New Year's day.

One man had been injured in a traffic mishap, and several minor infractions of the law were under investigation.

Henry Wyatt Brown, 72, who gave his address as the Stockyard cafe, was injured seriously when struck by a car about 6:00 p. m. Friday in 1300 block Ave. E.

Ankle Is Broken

He was rushed to West Texas hospital by McDonald Funeral home ambulance, where attendants said he suffered a fractured right ankle and multiple lacerations and abrasions on the back of the head.

Brown, according to police reports, was walking south on Ave. E near the center of the street. A car, driven by Arthur Lee Burnett, 18, of 713 Ave. L, was proceeding in the same direction.

Burnett told an investigating police patrolman that headlights of approaching cars blinded him momentarily just prior to striking the pedestrian. No charges were filed in the case, the patrolman said.

Several infractions of the law were under investigation of local night.

Higher Rate Of Oil Flow Is Reported In Scurry Wildcat

Oil was flowing at a higher rate at Lion Oil company No. 2 E. C. McLaughlin, Pennsylvanian discovery in Southwest Scurry county.

After a 1,000-gallon acid treatment through perforations at 6,592-6,614 feet, the new field opener kicked off and flowed to pits until cleaned out.

Operator then turned the flow to tanks for two hours. Through a one-half-inch choke, the venture produced at the rate of 55 barrels of oil per hour. No water developed.

Gravity of the petroleum was 43 degrees. Gas-oil ratio was 1,000-1. Casing pressure was 600 pounds.

Opener Still Flowing

On last report, the pay opener was still flowing. Operator plans to perforate a section covering about 20 feet slightly above 6,585 feet.

That zone is to be tested along with the current perforated section.

Total depth is 6,617 feet. The pay is in the Canyon lime formation of the Pennsylvanian.

Location is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 197, block 97, H&TC survey.

It is about four miles west of the Schattell field. Production in that pool is also from a Pennsylvanian lime.

Two Wildcats Planned

Two more wildcat tests into the North-Central Scurry county Ellenburger are to be drilled by Placid Oil company.

That concern staked location for its No. 1 Mrs. W. W. Early as 467 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of survey 1, Ervin, Addison and Walker original grantee, about five miles north and a little east of the town of Snyder.

It is a farmout from Cities Service Oil company. Contractor is Ralph Lowe. The other venture is to be Placid No. 1 Odom, exact location not yet reported. It is to be in the J. K. Smith survey, just to the east of the Early tract.

Expected To Come In

The Ellenburger is expected to come in on these prospectors above 8,000 feet.

Both locations are a little more than a mile southeast of Placid No. 1 Davis, possible discovery from the Canyon and Strawn limes of the Pennsylvanian.

The No. 1 Davis was bottomed on 7,905 feet in the Ellenburger after running a string of 5½-inch casing. Operator is to perforate and test in an attempt to develop production from shows encountered in the deep zone. The Pennsylvanian sections will be tested later.

Location is 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 387, block 97, H&TC survey.

Prepare To Acidize

Sun Oil company and the Ohio Oil company were preparing to acidize their No. 1 Helms, Ellenburger prospect in Northeast Scurry county, 660 feet from south and west lines of section 636, block 97, H&TC survey, about 20 miles northeast of Snyder.

The acid treatment was to be at 7,208-32 feet in the deep zone with 5,000 gallons.

Total depth is 7,237 feet. Top of the Ellenburger was called on 7,185 feet.

A drillstem test was taken at 7,210-37 feet, with the tool open one and one-half hours. A light blow of air held at the surface throughout the test.

Recovery was 120 feet of oil and gas cut mud. There were no pressures.

After the treatment, production tests are to be undertaken.

Wildcat Abandoned

Coline Oil company plugged and abandonedl its No. 1x-A-56 oi development, wildcat failure in the San Andres lime of the upper Permian in southwest Terry county.

The venture drilled to 5,715 feet, developed no commercial production and was left on that bottom

The dry hole is 450 feet from east and 330 feet from south lines of section 56, J. H. Gibson survey.

This project was originally Coline No. 1-A-56 oil development, located 330 feet east of the current failure. Coline lost the Hole at 3,490 feet on the primary test and skidded the rig to start the No. 1x-A-56 oil development.

Judge-Elect Freed Of Contempt Order

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 31. (U.P.) — Judge C. K. Quin of 37th District court today remitted the contempt sentence, three days in jail, which one of his colleagues slapped on a judge-elect who mounted the bench prematurely.

"The best interest of the bench and the bar will be served by remitting the contempt order" against P. C. Sanders, judge-elect of 37th district court.

The sentence was revoked on the eve of Sanders' formal ascension to the bench. He will replace William C. Davis, acting judge since the death of Robert W. B. Terrell.

It was Davis who ordered Sanders to jail on Nov. 9, as the result of a courtroom squabble in which both claimed the right to sit as judge of 37th district court.

Lubbock Westerners Win 49-36 Victory Over Midland

Hub City Five Gains Semi-Finals In Brownwood Invitational Meet

BROWNWOOD, Dec. 31 (Special)—Guard Charles Galey's 23-point shooting and sparkling backboard work by Jim Wilson, towering center, gave the Lubbock High Westerners a brilliant 49-36 victory over the Midland Bulldogs of District 3-AA here this afternoon in the second round of Howard Payne college's sixth annual high school basketball tournament.

The triumph, which was more decisive than the score indicated, boosted the Lubbock quintet into a semi-final tilt with the Burkett Bluehawks, who defeated the Temple Wildcats by a narrow 36-35 margin in another quarter-final setto this afternoon. The Lubbock-Burkett clash is scheduled at 9 o'clock Saturday morning.

Two other semi-finalists were named when the powerful Pampa Harvesters staged a late rally to nose out a battling Laredo five, 48-39, in an exciting second round contest. Earlier today Pampa had chalked up an initial triumph over Gatesville, 47-21.

Brownwood copped the fourth semi-final spot in the championship bracket by drubbing the Odessa Bronchos of District 3-AA, 39-28. The tall and speedy Brownwood cagers rolled to a 15-point margin in the first half, then coasted to the win.

Five consolation bracket tilts were unreeled today, with Eula advancing to the semi-finals with a 34-17 victory over Cisco and a 37-34 triumph over Olney. Big Spring gained a quarter-final berth by besting Throckmorton, 37-24, and Goldthwaite topped Gatesville, 27-22.

The schedule for Saturday includes three games in the championship bracket, with Lubbock and Burkett leading off at 9 o'clock. Pampa takes on Brownwood at 10 o'clock, then the winners of the two semi-final settos will clash at 8 o'clock Saturday night for the tourney championship.

Score Easy Victory

In the consolation bracket, Eula meets the winner of the Big Spring-Goldthwaite tussle for first place honors at 7 o'clock Saturday night.

The Westerners had an easy time with Midland's Bulldogs in their quarter-final clash this afternoon. The Lubbock cagers grabbed an early lead on the spectacular shooting of Galey, Wilson and Forward Jimmy Sexton, and moved into a 14-8 lead at the end of the first quarter.

Steady buckets by Galey put Lubbock into a 25-17 halftime lead, and at the end of three quarters of play the Westerners held a 35-29 edge. Midland pulled up to within five points of the Westerners at one time in the third quarter, but Coach Roy Morris' youngsters launched another torrid scoring attack to clinch the triumph.

The Westerners' tight zone defense, which has developed into one of the most interesting phases of the tournament, continued to be very effective when the Lubbock regulars were in the game, but the reserves were unable to hold the Midland offense with the same effectiveness. Larry Messersmith, Midland ace who scored 22 points Thursday night, garnered only eight points against Lubbock this afternoon.

Sun Bowl Game May Be Close

EL PASO, Dec. 31 (INS) — Texas Mines, a speedy eleven that clicks like a time bomb—and explodes just as forcibly—bangs into burly West Virginia in the 14th annual Sun Bowl encounter tomorrow.

Although the Mountaineers are slight favorites, the Miners might surprise the expected 16,000 fans. The turf is expected to be dry and fast—perfect for coach Jack Curtice's fast-breaking backs.

Speedsters Pug Gabriel, Danny Fraser and fireman Fred Wendt, who have provided the Miners with most of their scoring spark in an 8-1-1 season, again are tabbed to carry the offensive burden.

Coach Bud DeGroot, the former pro who has been with the mountain boys a year, has a big and powerful one-two punch to toss at his Border Conference foes. He has a potent aerial crew in Jimmy Walthall and Bill Allen with rugged Bob Fought and Jimmy Devonshire for ground assaults.

New Mexico achieved a 10-point lead at one stage in the first half only to wind up tied 23 all at the intermission, but regained margin of 11 points in the second stanza.

Both times sensational ball handling and shooting by Dee Nutt, All-Texas Conference guard, whittled away the lead.

Nutt counted 19 for Abilene Christian; Wallace, 14 for New Mexico.

Hardin college took a lead and coasted in to its victory over Highlands.

All-Out Slugfest Seen In Sugar Bowl; Orange Bowl Players Relax Before Game

Tarheels, Sooners Offense Minded

By PAT J. McDONNELL
INS Sports Writer

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 31—North Carolina and Oklahoma will have at it tomorrow in the 15th annual renewal of the Sugar Bowl football classic—a game rated potentially as the finest attraction in all Bowl land.

A throng of 82,000 will assemble to watch the all-out offensive slugfest between unbeaten North Carolina, champion of the south, and Oklahoma's Big Seven Conference titleholders, with the former favored by two points.

Good Weather Forecast

But if betting men were playing the game cautiously, so were the weather men. The forecast was for slightly cloudy weather—but no rain. Temperatures were promised in the 60's, which would be ideal for spectators and players alike in the normally semi-tropical New Orleans clime.

The game should provide almost every type of football thrill. Both the Carolina and Oklahoma squads pack offensive power to the 'Nth degree. The contest—second Sugar Bowl visit for the Tarheels, the first trip south for the Sooners—also should point up the relative merits of the T-formation, amplified by Oklahoma's Coach Bud Wilkinson, and the older single-wing attack propounded by Carolina's veteran mentor Carl Snavely.

Mitchell Faces Justice

Oklahoma has built a tremendous attack, keyed by Quarterback Jack Mitchell, which saw the Sooners average 35.4 points per game in conquering nine straight foes this season after they lost their first game to Santa Clara.

The Carolina powerhouse, however, may have the answer in the south's nearest approach to the human dynamo — Charlie "Choo Choo' Justice. This All-American triple-threat was the major contributor to the Tarheels' undefeated 1948 campaign, a season marred only by a 7-7 tie at the hands of William & Mary.

Both teams were reported in top physical condition tonight. Oklahoma moved today from Biloxi, Miss., to Algiers, across the river from New Orleans. North Carolina was spending New Year's Eve in Hammond, La.

Baylor, Wake Forest Clash In Dixie Bowl

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Dec. 31 (INS) — Even the weather was looking up in Birmingham tonight for tomorrow's Dixie Bowl football scuffle between Baylor and Wake Forest before an expected 25,000 fans.

The weatherman said that tomorrow afternoon's outlook was "fair to just a few clouds. Temperature at the beginning of the game should be about 48 degrees, and at the end, 52 degrees."

Coaches Peahead Walker of Wake Forest and Bob Woodruff of Baylor had their boys out on Legion Field this afternoon for the last workouts before tomorrow's clash. The Wake Forest Deacons limited themselves to a very light scrimmage while the Bears worked a little bit harder.

Baylor is a six-point favorite over Wake Forest, but Bear boss Woodruff cringes every time he hears it.

OPTIMIST CLUB SPONSORS TILT

Plainview, Childress All-Star Teams Meet In Irrigation Bowl

PLAINVIEW, Dec. 31. (Special)—All-star football teams representing Plainview and Childress will clash here at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the first annual "Irrigation bowl" at the High school stadium. The New Year's grid event is sponsored by the Plainview Optimist club.

A capacity crowd of approximately 6,000 fans is expected to jam Bulldog field for the tilt, which will feature approximately 40 former high school and college stars of West Texas. Most of the players on the two squads performed with either the Plainview or Childress high schools in recent years, and many of the gridders have played under the colors of West Texas State Teachers college, Hard-Simmons, Texas Tech, Abilene Christian, Hardin college, Texas A. and M. and even the U. S. Naval Academy.

Horne Is Standout

One of the standout players of the Plainview squad, coached by Henry Loter, will be Bob Horne of the Naval Academy. Horne, a former Plainview gridder, divided time with Reaves Baysinger at the quarterback slot on the Navy team this season, and is ranked as a stellar ball-handler and passer.

Other Plainview stalwarts will be Bob Bogle of the 1947 Bulldog eleven; Jim Graham, Jack Weldon, Frank Standifer, J. T. McDaniel, Claude May, Clark Norris, Bob Cartwright, Jack Bickley, Arvin Thomason, Vernon Ranesower, Frank Zellermayer, Harold Vernon and Bill Prather.

The Childress squad, coached by former T.C.U. star Don Ezell, will boast an impressive array of big, experienced linemen and a speedy backfield. The Childress forward wall will be sparked by Charles Kitchens, former WTSTC standout at an end position, and Weldon Trice, a center from the Buffs. In the backfield will be Jay Barry of Hardin college, Bill Cagle of Hardin-Simmons and Vic Bates of WTSTC.

Other Childress squadmen will be Billy Gravely of Hardin, Bob Flippen of WTSTC, Charles Jones, Doc Bates of WTSTC, Clyde Ivey, Alton Goodwin, M. Goodson, B. Hood, and C. Smoot of Abilene Christian.

Both teams have impressive records this season, although Plainview has won five tilts this season, while losing one setto, and Childress has won two games in as many starts.

91,000 May See Rose Bowl Tilt

PASADENA, Cal., Dec. 31 (INS)—While the rest of the world ushered in a brand new year, 93 Wildcats and Bears hibernated in quiet hotels tonight in anxious anticipation of the grandpappy of all Bowl gridiron games.

Rose Bowl fever gripped this football-goofy city, where in the betting booths oddsmakers insisted that Northwestern's Wildcats would paste an even six-point defeat tomorrow on the yet untarnished Golden Bears of California.

Scalpers still hawked tickets to the 35th annual Pasadena pigskin titanic at 30-bucks a cardboard.

91,000 Fans Expected

And starting shortly after the first dawning of 1949, some 91,000 fans will leave a Tournament of Roses mob of 2,000,000 persons to cram their way into the storied Arroyo Seco stadium for the intersectional football classic.

It was Northwestern, carrying the prestige of the Big Ten Conference, against California, the unbeaten and untied pride of the Pacific slope.

And there will be a dramatic sidelight to the memorable meeting. Coach Bob Voigts of the Wildcats will be pitting his football cunning against his former teacher, Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf, the old master who has taken California through 20 games in two years with but a single loss.

Both bosses claimed their teams were "high" for the contest.

Pre-game ballyhoo about injuries of key players proved to be so much malarky. Northwestern's pass-throwing quarterback Don Burson's flinging arm is okay and there's nothing wrong with Jackie Jensen, Cal's All-America fullback, that a kickoff whistle won't cure.

Self-styled experts, and the guys who earn livelihoods by wagering upon things athletic, proferred these reasons why Northwestern has been established favorite:

The Bear forward wall is bigger than the Wildcat's but it is slower. Northwestern has much greater team speed. The Wildcat schedule has been tougher than the collection, for the most part, of weak sisters the Bears have conquered. Cal doesn't have a passer to compare with Burson's record.

The Big-Tenners also have a better punting average. The Coasters have allowed opponents to average 106 yards by passes this semester while NU held enemy aerial attacks to a 54.1 yard average per game.

Scientific and medical interest in hynotism was first aroused in the late 18th century, by the work of a Viennese physician named Mesmer.

Arizona, Drake In Salad Bowl

PHOENIX, Ariz., Dec. 31 (INS)—The University of Arizona Wildcats trained into the state capital from Tucson today to mix it up with Drake in the second annual Salad Bowl football game at Montgomery Field tomorrow.

Observers tabbed the Wildcats seven to ten-point favorites, but Coach Mike Casteel said he didn't see how "anybody in his right mind could utter such silly remarks."

Casteel figured that Arizona has been crippled badly by the loss of its two first-string ends—Bob Larsen, who dropped out of school, and Johnny Smith, who is nursing an injured shoulder.

Drake mentor Al Kawal feels that his Bulldogs have more than a fair chance to come out of the battle the top dogs.

Drake is counting heavily on Dick Steere, its place-kicking expert, to provide some points.

Arizona also is well-stacked in the place-kicking department with a consistent booter named Winfred Tackett, and the game could well develop into a field goal duel.

Stephen F. Austin Gains 47-41 Victory Over Texas Christian

NACOGDOCHES, Dec. 31.—(AP) Three quick field goals in the last three minutes of play gave Stephen F. Austin a 47-41 victory over Texas Christian's basketball team here tonight before an overflow crowd of 2,000.

Ted Asimos, Lanky Williams and James Johnston sank the field goals that brought the Lumberjacks in front for the first time after the first 15 minutes of play.

Williams and J. J. Dolnics of Texas Christian led individual scoring—each with 12 points. Nine of Williams' points came in a last half spurt.

Texas Christian led at the half, 21-15.

SCHROEDER WINS TITLE

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 31 (AP) — Davis Cupper Ted Schroeder of Los Angeles won the Sugar Bowl tennis championship for the second time in eight years today when he defeated Earl Cochell of San Francisco, 6-2, 6-3, 6-3, in the tournament finals.

Campbell, Rauch Duel Is Forecast

By STERLING SLAPPEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 31.—About the only people in Miami today who aren't talking football and the Orange Bowl are the 95 men who play for Texas and Georgia.

On Orange Bowl eve the teams have finished all work and received all the counsel they can expect from Coaches Blair Cherry of Texas and Wally Butts of Georgia.

The players were to go for a swim this afternoon and forget as best they can the fact that only 20-odd hours separate them from one of the nation's four major bowl games.

—Teams Are Ready

Coaches Butts and Cherry, particularly Butts, have worked their squads hard the past three weeks. Butts wrapped his sentiments up by saying, "They're as ready as I can get 'em."

Cherry, who isn't a complaining coach, feels better about Texas' meeting with Georgia. Last week and for several days after Christmas the Longhorns were short several of their best players.

A flu epidemic brought down six players and threatened a dozen others. All are cured except one reserve end — Jimmy Watson — and he may be ready if needed.

Butts made his only optimistic statement eight years ago before Georgia met a minor opponent. At the time he said, "I think we may score today." Georgia won that day, 81-0.

Here in Miami he's said nothing of the kind. Whether he thinks Georgia can live up to its seven-point preference is guesswork, but he's told players in practice, "I don't see how you can hope to beat Texas."

Campbell Faces Rauch

Cherry connects his passing-quarterback Paul Campbell closely with the game's outcome. "He (Campbell) may be as hot as a firecracker and if he is we have a good chance of winning."

Campbell and Georgia's counterweight, Jahnny Rauch, are expected to throw about a third of offensive time.

In the event of rain New Year's afternoon which would partially immobilize Campbell's and Rauch's passes, both Texas and Georgia can fall back on good running games as the principal of attack.

Ray Borneman, the Longhorn's big fullback, fell just shy of averaging six and a half yards per run on 110 tries this fall. Georgia's stocky Joe Geri of Phoenixville, Pa., was the Southeastern Conference's third highest scorer in history last season.

Geri's total was 90 points. His per-run average was nearly five yards on 118 bucks and dashes.

Indians Favored In Delta Bowl Classic

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Dec. 31 (INS) — Oklahoma A. & M. and William & Mary footballers went through final drills in Memphis today in preparation for their clash in the Delta Bowl tomorrow.

Some 30,000 fans are expected to turn out for the New Year's Day contest, despite the fact the weatherman says the thermometer will be in the mid-thirties. Kickoff is at 1:30 p.m. CST.

Coach Rube McCray and his 38-man Indian squad arrived by special plane from Richmond this afternoon, and immediately underwent a brief limbering-up drill. The Aggies, who arrived yesterday, worked out earlier in the day.

William & Mary continued a slight favorite in pre-game betting, although the Oklahomans have gained considerable support since their arrival. The Indians were originally a one-touchdown favorite.

Nevada's Aerial-Minded Squad Plays Villanova In Harbor Bowl

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Dec. 31 (INS) — The University of Nevada sends its flashy aerial-minded football squad against solid, hard-driving Villanova in the third annual Harbor Bowl clash at Balboa stadium tomorrow.

Nevada coach Joe Sheeketski, unlike most Bowl mentors, gave out with optimism instead of gloom. He expressed confidence that his Wolf Pack would be able to cage the Wildcats from Philadelphia.

With dry weather almost certain, Sheeketski promised a "wide-open game, with plenty of passing and a lot of fast backfield running."

A feature of the contest will be a display of the phenomenal passing of Nevada's All-American Stan Heath and his able understudy, Alva Tabor.

LONE STAR MEET SLATED

DALLAS, Dec. 31 (AP) — J. Walter Morris, president of the Lone Star league, announced tonight that the league would hold a meeting Sunday at the Kilgore Hotel in Kilgore to discuss disposal of the Lufkin franchise.

To insure daily repetition of prayers, twelfth-century Persians decorated their dwelling walls with clay tiles in which prayers were inscribed.

Webfoots To Present Van Brocklin Against Ponies' Walker, Johnson

DALLAS, Dec. 31. (AP)—Oregon and Southern Methodist, two high powered football teams that like to toss the ball around, meet tomorrow before 69,000 in the thirteenth annual Cotton Bowl game.

Sharp clear weather is in prospect. The athletic associations of each school will receive between $105,000 and $115,000 and the players will get the glory.

Oregon, co-champions of the Pacific Coast Conference with a record of nine victories and only one defeat, presents Norman Van Brocklin, one of the finest of collegiate passers, and Southern Methodist, the Southwestern champions, counters with Doak Walker, twice an All-America—and in addition throws in Gil Johnson, considered by some as Van Brocklin's equal as a passer.

SMU Is Favorite

S.M.U. is rated a 6½ point favorite. Both teams are in fine physical condition. Only Fred Goodwin, S.M.U. center, is out of action. He has a torn knee cartilege. A free scoring game appears likely.

Oregon is rated the stronger in the line, and Southern Methodist better in the backfield.

The Oregon line is big and rangy. Dan Garza, senior end, stands six feet two inches and weighs 198. Brad Ecklund, 214-pound 6 foot three inch center, is a workhorse. In 10 years of football he has never failed to start a game, but behind the Oregon line there is only Van Brocklin who is considered up to S.M.U.'s best, although George Bell is a driving back and Johnny McKay is a breakway runner.

S.M.U. is said to win football games with only a backfield. Walker, an inspiring field general, leads it. Johnson is the passer, and Kyle Rote and Paul Page are both dangerous runners.

Oregon under Coach Jim Aiken uses the "T" formation, but does not substitute a complete team at a time. Aiken usually sends in about six or seven men on the change from offense to defense.

Southern Methodist under Coach Matty Bell uses the single wing, and likewise substitues in smaller groups.

No Comparison Basis

Neither team played a common opponent so there is no direct basis for comparison. In winning nine games and making 194 points to 82 for the opposition Oregon set down Santa Barbara college, Stanford, Idaho, Southern California, Washington State, St. Mary's, Washington, U.C.L.A., and Oregon State. Michigan, rated the nation's best team in the Associated Press annual poll, gave Oregon its only defeat, 14-0.

Southern Methodist knocked over Pittsburgh, Texas Tech, Rice, Santa Clara, Texas, Texas A. & M., Arkansas and Baylor. It was beaten by Missouri 20-14, and tied by Texas Christian 7-7. S.M.U. made 229 points to its opponents' 92.

Of the four major bowl games, the Cotton Bowl succeeded in coming up with a surprising, dark horse entry—Oregon. The Rose Bowl in Pasadena is committed to the Pacific Coast and Big Nine Conferences, leaving the Cotton, Sugar, and Orange Bowls to maneuver for the rest of the nation's best teams. California was chosen for the Rose Bowl, and Oregon, which had tied California for the Conference title, was overlooked in the general speculation because it was believed the Big Nine contract banned consideration.

But just as North Carolina (which wound up with Oklahoma in the Sugar Bowl) was playing coy with bowl chairman Dan Rodgers, a hint was dropped that Oregon would be willing. It developed that since all the proceeds of the Cotton Bowl go to the competing teams there was no ban in the Big Nine's Rose Bowl contract, and the Pacific Conference quickly gave permission to Oregon to come here.

BELL, AIKEN SPEAK AT DALLAS QUARTERBACK CLUB

DALLAS, Dec. 31 (AP) — Wisecracks were a dime a dozen today as some of the nation's top football coaches appeared on the program of the Dallas Quarterbacks Club.

It was an occasion honoring Coaches Matty Bell of Southern Methodist and Jim Aiken of Oregon on the eve of their Cotton Bowl game.

Bell drew a roar from the crowd when he said SMU didn't "play an Arkansas schedule" (referring to the fact that Arkansas played such teams as East Texas State, Northwest Louisiana State and Abilene Christian college) and that "there are some teams not far from here that blew a fuse when they were plastered in the magazines." Undoubtedly he referred to the University of Texas of 1941 which was played on the magazine covers as the top team of the nation and was tied and defeated inside the Southwest Conference.

Bell was defending Southern Methodist from the frequent charge of "being lucky" in winning its games the past two seasons while twice taking the Conference title.

Aiken also got a big hand when he said "We're champions of the northwest and we're playing the champions of the southwest" but added that "I don't know whether the Pacific Coast Conference wants us to uphold the honor of the Pacific Coast or not." Aiken was referring to the fact that Oregon was undefeated in the Pacific Coast Conference the same as California but the latter got the Rose Bowl bid.

Rain Is Forecast For Shrine Tilt

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 31 (INS) —The 60,000 people who expect to attend the 24th annual Shrine East-West All-Star game in Kezar Stadium tomorrow weren't too happy tonight over the prospects of sitting in the rain.

But the rain brought no unhappiness to the West coaches. Rain might be just the thing that would enable the West to come through with a victory despite the 2½ to 1 odds favoring the Easterners.

It seems the West attack is built around a single wing formation, while the East plans to base its offensive on variations of the "T"—and a wet ball isn't too easy to handle in the tricky "T."

Faunce Injures Leg

And the East was known to be working on a strong aerial offensive, while the West was forced to play down its passing attack when its star hurler, Jim Finks of Tulsa, lost several days practice due to illness.

Meanwhile the East squad suffered its first injuries. Everett Faunce of Minnesota hurt his leg during practice but is expected to play. Gene Derricotte, Michigan halfback, will require a major taping job on his leg before he can go in the game.

The West hoped that its star pass-catching end, Jack Kirby of USC, would be able to play with a cast on his chipped wrist.

Murray, Sul Ross Lobos Clash In Annual Tangerine Bowl Today

ORLANDO, Fla., Dec. 31 (AP)—The thoroughbreds form Kentucky's Murray State college were regarded as a slight favorite over the Sul Ross State Lobos from Alpine, Texas, for their Tangerine Bowl encounter tomorrow night.

From the weight angle, the two elevens will be on just about even terms.

The Murray State lineup will average 190 pounds in the forward wall and 175 pounds in the backfield, Sul Ross' starting choices show a line of 195 pounds and a backfield that balances out at 173 pounds.

Missouri Favored In Gator Bowl

'Little Bowl' Roundup

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Dec. 31. (AP)—The fourth annual battle for the gator skin tomorrow afternoon matches Southern Conference football champion Clemson and Big Seven runner-up Missouri.

The Gator Bowl crowd of about 36,000 will see favored Missouri try to live up to the role and batter a fighting Clemson tiger that swept by 10 opponents in 1948 for a perfect season.

They'll expect to see an offensive battle between Bus Entsminger, quarterback in Missouri's split-T formation, and Bobby Gage, Clemson's single wing formation tailback.

WILBERFORCE FAVORED IN PRAIRIE VIEW BOWL

HOUSTON, Dec. 31. — (AP) — Wilberforce State college of Xenia, Ohio, was a two touchdown favorite today for tomorrow's twenty-first annual Prairie View Bowl game with Prairie View college of Texas.

The Ohio champions of the Midwest Colored Conference moved into town today from nearby Prairie View and took a final workout at Buffalo stadium.

A clear sky today caused bowl game officials to boost attendance predictions to between 12,000 and 15,000 as compared with the previously estimated 10,000.

KENTUCKY STATE BATTLES NORTH CAROLINA A&T TODAY

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Dec. 31.—(INS)—Kentucky State and North Carolina A. & T. arrived in Birmingham today for their clash tomorrow in the eighth annual Vulcan Bowl.

Each team boasts two All-Americans. Coach Randy Taylor's Kentucky squad is sparked by Captain and Fullback Fred Howard, while A. & T.'s attack is led by Fullback Stonewall Jackson.

COLORADO AGGIES FAVORED IN RAISIN BOWL CLASSIC

FRESNO, Calif., Dec. 31.—(AP) The Colorado Aggies ruled as slight favorites over Occidental's Tigers today for their New Year's Day clash in the Raisin Bowl.

But on neither side were the odds taken seriously.

AS 1949 DAWNS:

A Year Of Promise

THERE'S no doubt or question about it. Things could be a great deal better in many ways for nearly all of us as individuals, and for mankind in general, on this New Year's Day than they actually are.

And many, many terrible things could happen to us individually and collectively, before 1949 ends. Certainly no one can guarantee that tragedies more horrifying than can be imagined won't befall us.

But there's one fact on this day which can't be denied, even by those who take the most despairing view of the past, present and future. That fact simply is this:

Everything for nearly all people could be so much worse than they are that all might look back upon this day as a date of an Utopian era. Those who prefer to look upon the bright side of the present, and of future prospects, will not look in vain. Most of us have so much to be thankful for, and so much reason to look toward the future with hope, that we are guilty of ingratitude when we refuse to recognize and acknowledge them.

Suppose things do fall short of what we want and would like. Has there ever been any other kind of New Year's Day, or can there be reasonable hope that there ever will be? What of it that we face an uncertain future? Has there ever been, or can there ever be, any other kind?

Indeed, nearly all of us should feel pretty darn lucky, as well as reverently thankful, as we extend and receive with all sincerity the traditional greeting of "Happy New Year!"

Save for a tragic few, this is a day of predominately happy memory, happy now and happy promise.

A Marvelous Record

AN ATTRACTIVE and informative pamphlet titled, "100 Million Motor Vehicles," published by the Automobile Manufacturers association, Detroit, has just reached the Editor's desk. The occasion for the publication was the manufacture, during 1948, of the 100,000,000th automobile in the United States since the first was produced in 1893.

The record truly is one of miraculous magnitude. Everyone appreciates that fact. Everyone also has a fairly comprehensive conception of the revolutionary changes in every phase of living which are due directly, or indirectly, to the automobile.

But one of the most striking bits of information in the pamphlet is the statement that Europe knew the principle of the powered vehicle more than 100 years before the first "horseless carriage" was produced in this country. Europeans, for some reason, just would not be interested in developing the possibilities of motorized transportation. The supposition is reasonable that they would not be developed yet if that lusty young giant, Uncle Sam, hadn't taken over. And now he is starting on his second 100 million, as compared with fewer than 24,000 000 produced thus far in all the other nations of earth combined.

Perhaps it is egotistical, but it still is a fact for justified pride that our nation took itself, and the world, out of the dark ages of individual transportation. Our record of more than 100 million motor vehicles proves it.

Waltz Into Darkness

XXXVIII

IT was the following night that his illness really began. She discovered it first.

He found her looking at him intently as he closed his book at their retiring-time.

"What is it?" he said cheerfully.

"Louis." She hesitated. "Are you sure you have been feeling well lately? I do not like the way you—"

"I?" he exclaimed in astonishment. "Why, I never felt better in my life!"

She silenced him with tilt of hand. "That may well be, but your appearance belies it. More and more lately I have found you looking worn and haggard at times. I have not mentioned it before, because I didn't want to alarm you, but it has been on my mind for some time now to do so. It's very evident; I can see it quite plainly."

"Nonsense," he said, half laughing.

"I have an excellent remedy, if you will but let me give it to you. And I will join you in it myself, as an inducement."

"What?" he asked, amused.

She jumped up. "Starting tonight, we are to take an eggnog, the two of us, each night before retiring. It is an excellent tonic, they assure me, for fortifying the system."

"I am not an inval—" he tried to protest.

"Now, not another word, sir!" she ordered gaily. "I intend to prepare them right now, and you shall not hinder me. I have all the necessary ingredients right at hand, in there. Fresh-laid eggs, and the very best obtainable, at 12 cents a dozen, mind you! And the brandy we have in the house as well."

He couldn't help but smile indulgently at her, but he let her have her way. This was a new role for her; nursemaid to a nonexistent ailment. If it made her happy, why what was the harm?

Her mood was amiable, sanguine, all gentleness and contrition now. She even bent to kiss him atop the head in passing.

"Was I cross to you before? Forgive me, Lou dear. You know I wouldn't want to be. A fright like that can make one into a harridan—" She went toward the kitchen, smiling back at him.

He could hear her cracking the eggs, somewhere beyond the open doorway, and crinkled his eyes appreciatively to himself.

Presently she had even begun to hum lightly as she moved about in there, she was enjoying her self-imposed task so much.

SHE came in, holding one glass in each hand. Their contents pale gold in color, creamy in substance.

"Here. One for you, one for me." She offered them both. "Take whichever one you want." Then when he had, she tasted tentatively at the one that remained in her hand. "I hope I didn't put in too much sugar. Too much would sicken. May I try yours?"

She took it back from him, tasted at it in turn. It left a little white trace on her upper lip.

While she stood thus, holding both together, she turned her head toward the kitchen door.

"What was that?"

"What? I didn't hear anything."

She went back in again for a moment. She was gone a moment only. Then she returned to him.

"I thought I heard a sound in there. I wanted to make sure I fastened the door."

She gave him back the one he had had in the first place, and which she had sampled.

"Since it has brandy in it,' she said, "I suppose we should precede it with a toast." She nudged her glass to his. "To your better health."

She drained hers to the bottom.

HE took a deep draught of his. He found it quite velvety and pleasurable. The liquor in it, with which she had been unsparing, gave a mellow warming effect to the stomach after it had lain there some moments.

"I wish all tonics were this palatable, don't you?" she remarked.

"It's quite satisfactory," he admitted, more to please her than because he saw any great virtue in it. It was after all, to his way of thinking, neither honest liquor nor wholly medicine.

"You must drink it down to the bottom, that is the only way it will do you any good, she urged gently. "See, as I did mine."

To spare her feelings, after the trouble of having prepared it, he did so.

He tasted of his tongue, dubiously, after he had. "It is a little chalky, don't you find. A little—astringent. It puckers."

"That is because you are not used to milk." She took the glass from him. "I'll just rinse out the glasses," she said, "and then we can go up."

He slept soundly at first, feeling at the last the grateful glow the tonic had deposited in his stomach. But then after an hour or two he awakened into torment. The glow was no longer benign, it had a flaming bite to it. Sleep, once driven off, couldn't come near him again, held back by a fiery sword turning and turning in his vitals.

The rest of that night was an agony, a Calvary. He called out to her, more than once, but she was not near enough to hear him. Helpless and cut off from her, he sank his teeth into his own lip at last, and kept silent after that. In the morning there was dried blood all down his chin.

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

THE only ground for divorce in the State of New York is unfaithfulness.

For years some seven or eight millions of people living in New York City have known that anybody who wanted to get a divorce could go to a shyster lawyer, of which New York has pretty nearly as many as it has delicatessen stores, and hire himself or herself a "corespondent."

BRANDIES

Apparently the only people who didn't know about this racket were the judges, the district attorney's office and most of the children under ten years of age.

But along came one of those "corespondents," who had suddenly discovered that she was getting only ten dollars per case from her lawyer-boss, when other members of the same profession got anywhere from twenty to a hundred dollars.

So the lady went to the district attorney's office and to the newspapers and denounced the racket in righteous indignation, professing, at the same time, that she had never been anything but a very decorous person, and that all her "co-responding" had been only make-believe.

The whole thing was ridiculous, but it was darn good melodrama. Russia was quiet for the moment. Palestine and the Arabs were at temporary truce. The election was over. So naturally this "expose" made darn good news, with pictures, eight-column headlines and what not.

But, like most ridiculous things, many people and many organizations started to take the divorce racket seriously.

Pending divorces were dropped. Shyster lawyers went away on winter vacations in the South and in rat holes.

Judges, who had granted divorces, now maintained that they never had any idea that such a vile practice existed.

THEN began a movement to liberalize the divorce laws of New York State and another one to eliminate divorce entirely from the State's statute books.

So far, so good.

But suddenly I started to get letters from New York State readers.

What did I think?

Did I believe in divorce? Did I think divorce should be made easier? And so forth and so on.

So now I am sitting on both horns of dilemma.

First I shall answer my inquirers with a question:

"If you are sick, do you believe in curing the illness, or do you believe in letting it linger on?"

Second, I shall say again what I have said several times before: It isn't divorce that is causing the trouble. It is marriage.

The way to avoid a cold is to dress properly when you go out.

The way to avoid divorce is first to be fitted for marriage.

You don't buy a pair of shoes without making sure that they fit.

But I wager you that nine out of every ten people who are divorced were misfits when they married.

REBUILDING PLANNED

GOP's Task Painful

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Reorganization of the Republican leadership of Congress and the National Committee threatens to be such a painful process that GOP bigwigs prefer to defer any action until the recriminations and reverberations of the November 2 upset have died away.

Their tentative decision, which will come up for formal consideration at a committee meeting late in January, has been hastened by the attitude of the two men involved in any change of policy and personality—National Chairman Hugh D. Scott Jr. of Pennsylvania and Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, chairman of the party's Policy committee in the upper chamber.

Neither the Pennsylvanian nor the Ohioan is willing to step down and out gracefully. Moreover, there appears to be no demand for their scalps within the committee itself, which is still a conservative body of men.

Agitation for revision of principles and personalities along more liberal lines has been voiced principally by members of the Senate, who possess no real influence in partisan councils.

POSTS: The chief objection to retention of Mr. Scott is that his membership in Congress may not permit him sufficient time to engage in the kind of "grass roots" organization on which future victories can be built, especially in the Middle and Far West. His critics maintain that he cannot fill both posts satisfactorily. He has said that he does not plan to resign from the House.

In view of the need for a full-time incumbent who can plug the holes torn in the party front in normally Republican areas last election day, it has been proposed that the committee give Chairman Scott a well-paid assistant. In this connection, Victor Johnston of Wisconsin has been mentioned because of his successful work of rebuilding the organization in that state.

He took over in Wisconsin after years in which La Follette Progressives had dominated politics there. Besides driving both of the famous brothers into private life—"Young Bob" and "Phil"—he was largely responsible for the election of a Republican Governor, two Republican members of the Senate and a solid Republican delegation in the House.

ORGANIZATION: Mr. Johnston became a national political figure as Harold E. Stassen's campaign manager in the Wisconsin presidential primary last spring. Although the Minnesotan had Governor Thomas E. Dewey and General Douglas A. MacArthur as his opponents, Mr. Stassen picked up nineteen delegates to eight for the hero of Bataan and none for the New Yorker.

Governor Dewey recognized his abilities by drafting him for work at Albany after the Philadelphia convention. An easy-going, good-natured individual who holds no grudges, "Vic" made friends with most of the party higher-ups.

His talent for organization along practical, precinct lines is regarded as the party's prime need because of the GOP's unbelievably poor showing against a Democratic machine torn by internal strife and the Wallace and Thurmond-Wright rebellions.

LIBERAL: Senator Taft's friends decry attacks upon him on the ground that he is the symbol and spokesman of the reactionary principles which contributed to November defeat. In his own opinion, he is far more liberal and broad-minded than many of his detractors on Capitol Hill.

The basis for the argument against him is his authorship with Representative Fred A. Hartley, Jr. of New Jersey of the labor management bill which bears their names.

Mr. Taft, however, contends that labor disputes in key industries necessitated this legislation, and he still regards it as a constructive piece of work. He notes that the original House version was far more stringent than the statute which emerged from the Senate.

The Ohioan's admirers also point out that he favored and introduced measures for federal assistance to housing, health and education, and that it was in the House that they were stymied. In fact, Mr. Taft's enemies—some at least—think him too receptive to this sort of legislative remedies, while his cronies ask with an injured tone:

"What does a man have to do to get a reputation as a liberal?"

FORCES: The so-called liberalization of the GOP will not result from any formal decision by a group of men inside or outside Congress. The very adoption of a hastily drawn set of principles to meet present-day demands and needs, the leaders recognize, would be a confession that President Truman's "do nothing" and "tory" accusations were well grounded.

Any reorientation will be the product of the operation of natural forces, and the voters' condemnation last month constitutes the most effective kind of pressure on politicians and legislators.

Veteran and new members will be more inclined to social and economic proposals if only because they want to retain their seats.

It is the people's votes, not resolutions or whereases drawn by a few men and women in a "stuffy, smoke-filled room," which force men in office to change their tune.

After all, maybe the Chinese have the best system. Instead of ceasing to fight and trying to establish peace and pay war debts, they keep right on fighting.

An old codger came right out the other day and admitted he wished he were young enough to be a juvenile delinquent.

Hell and destruction are never full; so the eyes of man are never satisfied. Proverbs 27:20.

A few men are intuitive, too. The other day a Massachusetts man fainted while applying for a marriage license.

A judge rules that wearing a strapless evening gown violates no law. Perhaps not, but it seems to us it's playing rather loose with the law of gravity.

This country's pioneers got along quite well, everything considered, with a simple economic policy, to wit: "Root hog or die."

"We are on the dawn of a new and beautiful era," asserts a columnist. If so, it must be one of those Kiplinguesque dawns that come up like thunder.

In contradistinction to the woman who is offering to marry any man who will give her $10,000, there are many thousands of women entirely willing to take a man for whatever he's got.

"Detroit is boasting of its low suicide rate." Maybe it's the kind of city in which few persons would want to be found dead.

A considerable number of people spend a great deal of their time trying to get something on their enemies and off their friends.

AIRLINES SEEK NEW RULINGS

Merger Plan Puts CAB On Spot

By PETER EDSON
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON —(NEA)— The old rule of "When you can't lick 'em, join 'em" seems to have guided Pan American Airways' proposal to buy out the European business of American Overseas Airlines. But it put some very tough questions before CAB — Civil Aeronautics Board — which must approve the deal before it can become effective.

For years Pan-Am's founder and president, Juan Trippe, has been advocating that a single U. S. flag airline should have a monopoly on America's international civil air traffic. Trippe's main argument has been that it is the only way this country would be able to compete with the government - subsidized airlines of the British, French, Dutch, Belgians, Swedes and Latin-Americans.

EDSON

Democratic Senator Pat McCarren of Nevada and Republican Owen Brewster of Maine backed the Trippe proposal. But their American flag airline bills to set up one "chosen instrument" international airline never got past committee, in spite of weeks of testimony.

Others Sought Business

Since this decision was handed down in July, 1945, Pan-Am, AOA, TWA, Braniff, Eastern, Northwest, United and other have been fighting it out among themselves and with foreign carriers for whatever business has been available. It has not been smooth flying.

The iron curtain has made it impossible to do business in Eastern Europe. Dollar shortages in foreign countries have held back travel. Tourist business has been limited by lack of accommodations.

In three months, ending March 31, American Overseas airlines lost over $1,000,000. The Russian blockade of Berlin and the building up of the airlift provided a lot of feeder business for the U. S. international airlines, however. This turned AOA losses into $1,659,000 profits for the quarter ending Sept. 30.

In Washington, the proposed deal whereby Pan-Am is to take over AOA has met with mixed reactions. One of the first conclusions was that Juan Trippe had at last given up his fight to get a law passed creating the single chosen instrument airline. With a Republican administration in Washington, he might have had a chance. With the Democratic administration staying in control, little prospect is seen for a change in aviation policy.

In trying to buy up his competition, however, Trippe might be working towards the same end, with only a slight difference. Pan-Am can now contend it is not seeking a monopoly. By Pan-Am's own figures, its aviation business on all routes in Europe, Africa, Asia, the Southwest Pacific and around the world amounts to 56 per cent of all the foreign air traffic carried by U. S. airlines. The American Overseas Airlines' share is estimated at 2 per cent. If the merger were approved, Pan-American would have 58 per cent of the total. The question is whether that's a monopoly.

Board Reaches Decisions

CAB'S position is not clear. CAB Chairman J. J. O'Connell, jr., has said that the law gives the board no alternative to promoting and maintaining regulated competition. But he has also urged U. S. airlines to consider mergers that would strengthen them.

So far, there have been only two mergers approved by CAB. Under one, United took over a single route from Western Air. In the other Northwest bought out the defunct Mayflower airline.

Another case now before CAB concerns a possible break-up of National Airlines. The proposal is that Eastern or Delta take over National's Miami-Havana route.

This last would make Pan-Am a domestic carrier—a right which Pan-Am has claimed ever since CAB started giving foreign routes to the U. S. domestic airlines. Whether approval of Pan-Am's application to buy out AOA would prejudice its application for domestic routes to link up its foreign routes is another puzzler.

In the Northeast - Mayflower merger, CAB looked dimly on the idea of selling for profit a route certificate granted by the U. S. government without cost as a matter of public convenience and necessity.

Lawyers are still arguing about whether the White House will have to give final approval on whatever finding CAB makes in the Pan-Am and AOA merger proposal. But it is probable that the President will have the final word.

POLICE TO DOLL UP

DES MOINES, Ia. (U.P.)— The city council has ordered three dozen pairs of white, suede cloth gloves for downtown police to "add a little class to the force." Safety Commissioner Myron Bennett said the gloves will be "neater, nattier and easier to see."

Severe Floods Hit East Coast

ia, West Virginia and New York. Driving conditions were hazardous.

Colder weather hit the south yesterday. The mercury dipped to below freezing to the gulf, touching 30 at Mobile, Ala. It was 36 at Tallahassee, Fla., and was 50 at Miami.

There was no extreme cold anywhere in the country. The lowest reading was five below at Pellston, Mich. Generally, fair weather prevailed over most of the Midwest, the Rocky mountain and Pacific coast states.

In New England, 100 families were ordered moved out of North Adams, Adams and scattered towns near Pittsfield in the Hoosic river area in western Massachusetts. Other evacuations were carried out in Bennington, Vt., and Farmington, Conn. Some 50 families were moved out of four small communities in upstate New York when the Little Hoosick river went on a rampage.

Towns Nearly Isolated

North Adams and Williamstown, Mass., were described as "practically isolated" by flood waters.

The Hudson river burst its banks and flooded parts of Albany and Troy, N. Y. The Mohawk river spilled into some waterfront streets in Schenectady, N. Y.

Rain, wind and high tides lashed Maine. Several small streams overflowed and a few Portland wharves were flooded.

In New Jersey, some 500 persons were evacuated from their homes. Three communities—Manville, South Brook, and Bradley Gardens in Bridgewater in central Jersey—were completely cut off by flood waters. Two major dams were threatened.

Officials in the Manville area described flood conditions there as the worst in 30 years. At New Brunswick, the Raritan river flooded a section of the city.

where anyone can get in on the biggest party of all for a dime in the subway turnstile (five cents last year).

Severe floods in the Northeastern United States put a crimp in the party plans of many persons. Snow followed two days of relentless rain in some sections there.

Some Customs Observed

Traditional family celebrations were held in Europe. The customary New Year's Eve fireworks were banned in Italy and Denmark but Londoners were given their first chance since 1939 of reverting to the old custom of gathering around the statue of Eros, god of love, in Piccadilly Circus. Eros was restored to his pedestal this year.

Fairs, balls and parties were planned in towns throughout Soviet Russia.

Throughout the world, the welcome to the new year, whether merry or subdued, carried with it the hope that 1949 would be the year to fulfill the high promises of the Allied world war two victory in 1945.

had not heard of his statement at the time.

(A Communist broadcast heard in San Francisco by the Associated Press was devoted to an editorial by the Communist New China news agency, entitled "carry the revolution to the very end."

(Lashing out against compromise, it said there was no "middle road" and declared:

("If the revolution should be abandoned in midstream, that would be going against the will of the Chinese people, giving it to the will of foreign aggressors and Chinese reactionaries, enabling the Kuomintang (government party) to gain a respite, permitting the wounded beast to nurse his wounds and then spring up again one day to throttle the revolution so that the entire country would return to the world of darkness."

Courts End Terms

expired term of the late Judge J. H. Baugh.

Four To Take Office

In the Supreme court, four reelected justices will take office Monday. They are chief Justice J. E. Hickman and associate Justices W. St. John Garwood, James P. Hart and Few Brewster.

The Supreme court begins its 1949 term tomorrow with 27 cases before it for action, and 64 applications for writs of error on which no action has been taken. Of the 27, all but seven have been submitted on oral arguments.

During the 1948 term, the court disposed of 98 cases with written opinions, compared with 84 in 1947. The third court of civil appeals disposed of 75 cases during the past year.

Dutch Report Hostilities In Java Area Have Ceased

THE HAGUE, The Netherlands, Dec. 31 (AP)—Dutch hostilities in Java can be considered to have ceased automatically today at midnight Java time (10 a. m. CST) without the issuance of a formal cease-fire order, a Netherlands goverment spokesman said.

The spokesman explained that a cease-fire order had not been announced and would not be announced since Holland had informed the United Nations Security Council on Dec. 29 that hostilities in Java would cease at midnight Dec. 31, at the latest.

The government spokesman said no additional announcement was necessary.

GOP Congress Quits

"big four" congressional leaders every Monday morning. The four are the two top Democrats of each branch of Congress. President Roosevelt used to hold such conferences and Mr. Truman did so fairly regularly, too, until the Republicans took control of Congress in 1947.

Messages Announced

The White House outlined this schedule of important presidential messages to Congress: State of the union, next Wednesday, Jan. 5, an economic report, Jan. 7, and the budget message, Jan. 10.

In all those messages, Congress and the taxpayers will learn in detail what to expect from a Democratic president—with a Democratic Congress—in the new year. Great issues of foreign and domestic import are at stake: Repeal or revision of the Taft-Hartley labor law, housing, social security, taxation, civil rights, defense steps including military spending and possible alliances, and the whole great question of how to preserve world peace.

In other actions at the meeting of the Democratic senators today, they:

Named Senator Barkley of Kentucky to serve as majority leader until he becomes vice president Jan. 20. He will then be succeeded by Senator Lucas (D-Ill). Senator Myers (D-Pa) will become assistant majority leader.

Elected Leslie Biffle secretary of the Senate by acclamation. He held this post before when the Democrats were in power; he is a close friend of Mr. Truman.

House Democrats will organize tomorrow, with Rep. Rayburn of Texas due to be chosen House speaker and Rep. McCormack of Massachusetts to be majority leader. House Republicans plan to choose Rep. Martin of Massachusetts as majority leader and Rep. Arends of Illinois as his assistant. No fight is expected over these posts.

Texans Organize

today. Other newly elected congressmen will be inducted Monday. Bentsen is slated for a place on the House Public Lands committee if Texas gets two members. The delegation endorsed Rep. Ken Reagan of Midland for the committee today.

Anson Man Okayed

Rep. John E. Lyle of Corpus Christi was endorsed for a place on the House Rules committee. The last Texan on that important committee was former Rep. Martin Dies.

Rep. Omar Burleson of Anson was recommended for the Foreign Affairs committee.

Rep. Frank Wilson of Dallas won endorsement for the House Judiciary committee as first choice and for the Interstate Commerce committee as second choice. Rep.-elect Homer Thornberry of Austin, who succeeds Lyndon Johnson in the House, had expressed a desire for the Interstate Commerce committee.

Mahon Named Whip

All other Texas members of the House are expected to retain their present committee assignments.

Mahon was named to serve as whip for Texas in the House Democratic organization. That is a post responsible for recruiting party strength when votes are needed on closely contested legislation.

Rep. Wright Patman of Texarkana was named to represent the Texas zone on the House Steering committee.

The Texas delegation re-endorsed its policy of previous years, to refrain from binding its members as a unit to endorse or oppose any pending legislation. Under the plan, each member is left free to take an independent position.

Both Democratic and Republican members of the House stood in tribute today to Rep. West, who died several months ago. He succeeded John Nance Garner in Congress when Garner became vice president in 1933.

Hotels Named In Suit

swer the petition and that upon final hearing the injunction be made perpetual. Also, the court was asked upon final hearing to close the hotels for one year from date of judgment unless defendants, "including owner, tenant or leasee, make bond payable to the State of Texas in the penal sum of $5,000."

Judge Pardue set hearing date of 9 a. m. Jan. 15 in granting the restraining order.

Several weeks ago, the court upon final hearing required $5,000 bond as an alternative to padlocking the New Tourist hotel, at 1004½ Ave. H.

The court, prior to that action, had especially charged a grand jury to investigate rumors of operation of bawdy houses here.

STOCKS SHOW LOSSES

NEW YORK, Dec. 31. (AP)—The stock market coasted out of 1948 on the downgrade.

Closing prices today showed losses of fractions to more than a point and were at or near the bottom levels of the session.

The market started off on a fairly stable footing, mainly because of buying interest in railroad issues which was touched off by authorization for temporary freight rate increase.

From then on quotations were slowly but persistently marked down. In the final hour selling pressure became a little more acute.

Wall Street's year-end rally blew up before it ever got under way.

Superior Oil of California dropped 3 to 167 and Skelly oil at 125 was off 1½. In the lower price bracket, Montgomery Ward lost 1⅝ at 52½.

Others lower included Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Chesapeake and Ohio, Southern Pacific, U. S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet and Tube, Chrysler, Studebaker, Caterpillar Tractor, Lockheed, Schenley, Consolidated Edison, Kennecott Copper, General Electric, Johns-Manville, American Woolen, United Air Lines, and Paramount Pictures.

A little higher were Republic Steel, American Telephone, Goodyear, United Aircraft, Consolidated Natural Gas, Union Carbide, Great Northern Preferred, and Eastern Air Lines.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined .2 of one point to 64.5, which compared with 64.8 a week ago. At the end of 1947 the average stood at 65.7, a loss for the year of just 1.2 points.

Grain

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Dec. 31 (AP) — The grain market developed an easier trend in the last session of the year today. With trading expanding over the low volume of other days this week, losses which ran to nearly 2 cents in wheat were recorded.

Some selling in wheat came from the southwest, and apparently was caused by offerings of fairly large quantities of cash wheat. There also was selling by traders who did not want to hold grains over the long holiday. The market will be closed tomorrow.

The Commodity Credit corporation again was buying corn, with its premium bid unchanged from yesterday, when it took 1,575,900 bushels at Chicago and 360,000 bushels at Kansas City.

Wheat closed 1⅜ to 2 cents lower, May $2.26⅛-¼, corn was ⅛-1⅛ lower, May $1.48⅛-¼, oats were ⅝ lower to ⅛ higher, May 77⅛-⅛, rye was 1½ lower, May $1.69, soybeans were ⅛-1⅛ lower, March $2.58⅝-$2.59, and lard was 8 to 30 cents a hundred pounds lower, January $16.30.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Dec. 31 (AP) — Wheat No. 1 hard 2.42⅛-47⅛.

Oats No. 2 white 99⅛-1.00⅛.

Corn No. 2 white 1.73⅛-77⅛.

Sorghums No. 2 yellow milo per 100 lbs. 2.74-79.

Holiday Saturday.

About 175,000 motor scooters are now registered in the United States, compared to less than 10,000 before the war.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Dec. 31 (AP) — Cotton futures were steady today on short covering in slow pre-holiday trading. Gains extending to 40 cents a bale were registered in early dealings on buying by 4 leading spot firms, but rallying tendencies were later reversed on New Orleans and local selling. Some replacement demand was attracted by the continued heavy loan entries amounting to 201,976 bales for the week ended December 23, against 197,530 in the previous week. Loan entries so far this season totaled 3,789,296 bales to December 23, according to the C.C.C.

Futures closed 5 to 35 cents a bale higher than the previous close.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 31 (AP) — Year end operations dominated trading in cotton futures here today. Closing prices were steady 35 cents a bale lower to five cents higher.

Early in the short session prices advanced on year end short covering and buying to fix prices against recent foreign sales of spot.

Realizing of profits and hedge selling caused the late sell-off.

The Commodity Credit corporation announced that loans on 1948 cotton through Dec. 23 amounted to 3,789,296 bales, an increase of 201,976 bales during the week, against an increase of 197,530 the previous week.

Spot cotton remained unchanged with middling 15/16 inch quoted at 32.00 cents a pound. Local sales totaled 645 bales.

er, Ray Burnett of 12 miles from Lamesa.

The rifle was recovered in Lubbock, and the radio was found by Artesia, N. M., police. Both had been sold here, and the radio had been resold.

Sheriff Bennett didn't have to wait long after his election to get right in the middle of things. He had just completed taking his oath of office when someone informed him a forger had "got to me."

The sheriff lit out, got in his car and raced away toward Lubbock. Just this side of Tahoka a man standing beside the road "thumbed" a ride.

"Hop right in," the sheriff said, stopping.

The fellow obliged, then:

"Hey, what're you turning around for?"

"Jail's back this other way," Bennett said, and took his man to Lamesa.

Procedural Battle

The bantam-sized officer created quite a news "play" several years ago on the west coast when a fugitive who had been arrested there on his warrant became the object of a procedural tug-of-war between the Texas officer and the federals. Both wanted to try him. After a lively controversy which the newspapers splashed on their front pages and which ended before a federal judge, the Lamesa officer won out. He brought his man home.

Good Recovery Record

Bennett was accredited with having "broken" approximately a dozen burglary cases last week with six arrests and recovery of some of the missing property. Four of those arrested were juveniles. One suspect was 18, one 20.

His recovery of property for Burnett is the second instance of its kind within the last four years. It took a truck to haul away the recovered properties the other time, other officials said they recalled.

Bennett and his son, Buck Bennett, jr., will enter the contracting business, with emphasis on oil field construction work. He was in the grain business before becoming sheriff.

was held in city jail on request of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, reportedly charged with Dyer act violation. He was said to be wanted also as a fugitive from Dayton, Ohio.

Store Burglarized

Hammick Thomas, described by police as a negro, said his store at 2605 East Ave. F had been burglarized. Only four bottles of bay rum had been "missed," Pete Hubbard and George Hall, police patrolmen, and Detective LeRoy Boling, jr., were informed.

Jose N. Anaya, a Lorenzo Mexican, told police he preferred that no charges be filed in connection with a gunshot wound he suffered in the leg early Thursday night. He was treated at West Texas hospital.

Police sought to establish identity of a man who allegedly made insulting remarks toward two young women in 2900-block Walnut, and exhibited himself lewdly.

Corporation court officials fined a San Jose, Calif., man $25 for disturbance after he allegedly sought to gain admittance to an Ave. K residence where his former wife lives. He tore a screen off a door, the police were told.

A bike valued at $15 was reported stolen from a youth living in 700-block Thirteenth.

North Carolina's death rate is the lowest of all the states east of the Mississippi (7.9 per thousand).

Johnson City Struck By Destructive Fire

JOHNSON CITY, Dec. 31. (AP)—Fire destroyed two business buildings and threatened an entire block on the west side of town here last night.

The fire raged out of control for about an hour before midnight. The city's volunteer firemen and fire-fighters and equipment from three other towns pumped water from a nearby creek until the creek ran dry then switched to a stock tank.

Three Firms Razed

Destroyed by the blaze were three firms, the Bauerle-Hanes hardware store, Fawcett's drug store and the upstairs dental offices of Dr. James Bauerle. Also destroyed were the furnishings of the Johnson City Masonic lodge which shared the second floor space with the dental office.

The blaze apparently started in the dental office where all equipment was destroyed. It was partially covered by insurance.

No estimate of total damage was available. The drug store reported a stock loss between $8,000 and $10,000. Some $20,000 to $25,000 worth of stock from the hardware store was moved into the street in time to save it.

Heat from the fire broke show windows across the street in the Jaycee theater and Cox Brothers Motor company.

Assistance was sent from Fredericksburg, Marble Falls and Blanco.

The spokesman said Gaza, Egyptian-held port, was almost but not quite cut off.

He said Egyptian losses in captured, killed and wounded had been heavy, much artillery, armored equipment and other material captured in over-run depots, and whole garrisons captured at some points.

A camel caravan attempting to supply the besieged Egyptian garrison at Faluja, 30 miles southeast of Tel Aviv, was captured last night, it was announced.

Annexation Advances Houston's Claim Of 'South's Largest City'

HOUSTON, Dec. 31. (AP)—Houston today staked claim to being the south's largest city as the city council initiated annexation of 113½ square miles within the metropolitan area.

Mayor Oscar Holcombe said the area, plus another one and one-half square miles formally annexed today, includes 125.000 residents and boosts the city's population to 618,000 and its area to 189 square miles.

In a surprise New Year's eve session, the council approved first reading of an ordinance annexing a two-mile belt surrounding the city. Third and final reading approval was given to annexation of the one and one-half square mile area.
