ORIENTAL TOUCH IN FALL STYLES

AA smart black day frock worn by Mrs. Paul Abbott

Grace Vanderbilt, right, and Winifred Loew, both wearing straightline sport coats with fur collars

By BETSY SCHUYLER NEA Service Writers

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Fashion is bringing the East and West together, sartorially, at least, and the most fascinating outfit of the season one finds in the women of China and Japan for their inspiration.

To the Chinese woman, so I'm told, dressing is just a matter of adding or subtracting a coat. By the end of the day you may be wearing four or five more or less than when you started.

Today, costumes may have two or three coats, to be worn singly or severally according to the whim of the owner.

Evening gowns and dinner frocks have two coats, one of sheer diaphanous stuff such as chiffon, metal, cloth or lace, and one of velvet or broadcloth that actually defines the whirly blasts when one steps from limousine to carpet.

The light one is retained, and very subtly draped or manipulated to form a part of the costume when at the theater or opera, but it may be discarded when dancing.

This same idea is carried out in a combination evening and business outfit that is being introduced. The woman who lives in the suburbs and pursues her career in the city may go directly from office to soiree without a hitch.

She merely provides herself with a sleeveless dinner gown, preferably of black satin or velvet, and over this for day she wears a long tunic or jumper of the same in some contrasting material, so the décolleté out of her gown is quite hidden and she is faultlessly attired for day.

Coats Frocks
Coats in colors as well as in black have been popular all summer. This season there is a new coolie frock, which combines a black coat, filled with gorgeous green or flame color, and a simple black crepe slip instead of the usual pajamas and forms a lovely straightline frock with flowing sleeves and graceful lines—a highly appropriate affair for afternoon tea wear.

As the crispness of fall becomes more insistent, the coat is more important. Those of formal occasions seem to have changed their shoulder line a bit, and some have a tendency to blouse, but the sport coat remains a straightline affair with a fur collar.

Grace Vanderbilt was wearing one of those hardy perennials at the Westbury polo matches last week, a tan coat furled with what seemed to be bolder or some similar light long-haired pet. Of almost identical cut was the one on her companion, Winifred Loew, of brown with a brown heaver collar.

At Meadowbrook, I saw a charming outfit on Mrs. W. Deering, Hines, who incidentally, knows all these in to know about gown chic.

Diagonal Lines
Her two-piece jacket suit was of red velvet, with a short skirt and a box coat. The blouse was a rose Jersey jumper, with a wide red belt, and her hat was a close felt model of red with a jeweled pin. The color was that very deep red, and the shade of the jumper was exactly in tone, shade lighter, of course.

In the same occasion, Mrs. James G. Hill was most attractive in a coat of black with a close felt model of red with a jeweled pin. The color was that very deep red, and the shade of the jumper was exactly in tone, shade lighter, of course.

When it comes to being picturesque and stately, no one can fill the bill more perfectly than Mrs. Oliver Harmon. She was a lovely figure at luncheon in a gray crepe de chine frock, with a real lace collar of that deep, creamy tint, a black velvet hat on the picture idea, and her inevitable string of pearls.

And, before I call it a day, I must tell you about Gertrude Lawrence's frock. That lovely, slender English girl was dancing about in the Ritz in a white crepe de chine affair with knotted white silk fringe and tiny, little tassels. Afternoon circlets of jade, diamonds and pearls covered her wrist—she wore a necklace of pearls and jade, and on her tiny feet were slippers of jade green satin—absolutely perfect.

buckle. Her hat was a large black felt.

Diagonal lines are very smart, I observe. At Tuxedo I saw Mrs. Henry Tilford, in a very smart wrap of tan and green tweed with diagonal seams and a diagonal line at the closing, as well as reverses of diagonal quilting.

Since black is staging such a comeback, one sees the smart black day frock on every hand. For luncheon it is the choice of four out of five, well dressed women. Double pleatings of hand hemstitched white chiffon edged the sleeves and rippled down the front of the one worn by Mrs. Paul Abbott as she hurried along Park avenue one warm day, evidently late for an engagement.

Jade and Diamonds
I had not realized how smart navy blue taffeta could be until I saw Mrs. Joseph Widener wearing it with a vest of ecrú net edged with lace.

PRESS CLUB TO CONSIDER INTERCOLLEGIATE PRESS TONIGHT

Membership in the Intercollegiate Press Association of Texas will be taken up at the meeting of the Press Club tonight at 7:30 in room 211. The association is composed of the various college publications of the state and the officials of the club think the Tech should enter.

A & M MAN PRAISES TECH

D. M. Williams, head of the department of animal husbandry of the Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College, paid the Tech a visit the first of the week, and visited especially the former professors of the college.

Stangel, Leight, Mahoney, Dahlberg, Mowery and others are former A & M men who will be with Stangel, the head of the animal husbandry department here, is a former professor of Williams' department at A & M.

QUARTET STARTS YEAR'S WORK

The Tech male quartet, one of the most popular organization units on its campus late year, is again organized and ready for work.

The original quartet, which has only two old members back will be joined by another group, the second male quartet. They will sing at times together in double numbers.

Included in the work of the year will be the Spring Tour which was started by the boys last year. A larger scope of territory will be covered this year according to the plans laid by the group.

SOCIETY OF ARCHITECTURE TO MEET TONIGHT

Meeting for their first time this year the students of architecture and architectural engineering will re-organize the society of Architecture at 7:30 in room 214 of the administration building.

One of the features of the club this year will be the addition of co-ed members, seven girls being enrolled in architecture.

SCHUBERT MALE QUARTET TO LEAD OFF ARTIST'S COURSE

The Schubert Male Quartet is the first number on the program of the Artist's course of the Tech Monday night, October 18, and arrangements are being made by the officials for a large crowd.

The Artist's course tickets are on sale at the business office and all students are urged to purchase them before the program Monday night.

A WOMAN'S DAY ABROAD

Lovely Marie, Antonette simply had at milk butter and cheese to keep from being bored by living in the gold and jeweled palace of Versailles.

Just by the way of explaining why a rich and pampered lady of Chicago seeks a divorce, so that I can live in a little house, work, and be happy.

Most of our modern fiction, says Mrs. L. A. Miller, chairman of the Literature department of the General Federation of Women's clubs, tells us that for multitudes of human beings life is a sort of blind alley.

She is right, but she forgets the many stories of gigantic achievement wrought by dash surroundings from which the achiever battles a way through. "Rabbit" is a story of a man's life.

Thousands like Susan fight their way out with with cakes of cabbage.

Speaking of Queen Marie of Romania having difficulty in engaging a royal suite on any trans-Atlantic liner for her trip to America, you may recall Lorelei Lee, heroine of "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes," and her girl friend, Dorothy, are ensconced in a royal suite when they set sail for historic places like Paris, France.

The ensemble idea of matching dress and coat is still dame fashion's first choice. But the ensemble touch, she says, can be given by a shoulder flower harmonizing with both frock and coat.

That day prophesied by some when women will refuse to have babies, will never come," says Mrs. Walter Ferguson, woman's editorial writer. "No matter how far from the domesticated routine they may go, there will always be in the feminine heart this poignant ache for children.

I do not agree at all. I think that Dame Nature, with an eye weathered in her own interests produces a fair number of women for some purpose of her own other than child-bearing. Dame Nature needs most of them for that, but not all! Hundreds of thousands of women would regard a child as a fearful calamity, rather than "a great supreme treasure" and rightly so.

If some of you girls who are chairmen of club program committees are stewing about for some "meaty" books worth reviewing, and also entertaining enough to keep the sisterhood awake, assign some fair member to review Dr. Horace Cagrecross' "Escape From the Primitive" and R. F. Dibble's "Mohammed".

WHY BAR WANTS MORE COURTS HERE

TOO MANY CASES FILED FOR ONE JUDGE TO HANDLE

One reason why members of the Lubbock County Bar insist that a re-arrangement be made of the district courts in this part of the state to allow Lubbock county a full time district court is the fact that a total of 2234 cases, both civil and criminal, have been filed in this county during the past ten years, and that considerably half of these have been filed during the past four years, with the business facing the court steadily on the increase.

A total of 115 civil cases were filed in the county for trial at the district court during 1925, and in the first eight months of this year 271 cases have been filed, with the probability that the mark reached in 1925 will be far exceeded. This is almost a case a day, not including criminal matters, and court attaches point out that this would tax even a full time court to handle.

WEAK, RESTLESS

Tennessee Lady Had So Little Strength She "Couldn't Get Around." Took Cardui With Benefit.

Gassaway, Tenn.—"I wasn't able to do any of my work, and it seemed like I had so little strength I just couldn't get around," says Mrs. Frank Murphy, who lives near here. "My mother knew of the good Cardui could do, so she told me to take it. I sent up the past week and seemed like all the time I grew stronger."

"I had been suffering with pains in my sides all the time, and Cardui helped this wonderfully. I needed a tonic for female troubles, and Cardui just fitted the need. I was awfully restless and could not sleep at night, but after taking two bottles of Cardui I could sleep like a top. I got along all right, and I know it was due to Cardui. I can certainly recommend it to women suffering from women's troubles."

"My present health is just fine." Thousands of women have written to tell how Cardui relieved them of pain and suffering, and helped them to improve in health and strength. Cardui is perfectly harmless, being an extract of mild-acting herbs, and contains no dangerous drugs or harmful ingredients.

BALANCED RATION

In this day and time we hear a great deal about balanced rations in the livestock department. There are thousands of articles written each year, and hours of speech-making endorsing the scheme for the good of the baby chicks, the baby beef, the hogs and the sheep, but there is possibly not enough of it done in the home.

However there are a few of the women, who are taking enough time from the social side of life to take some interest in their family, and are adopting the rules of balanced rations in the family. In this way no doubt there will be marked results favorable to the scheme, and it will be a good thing for the nation when more of the mothers and the housekeepers will take matters serious, and will give some study to the foods that they set before their families from day to day.

The schools of the nation are taking an active part in teaching the proper things in regard to the health of the children and we believe with a program of health and food adequately conceived in the home and carried out in a co-operative way it will bring about a very definite improvement on the practices of the children in the homes and also in the home practices of the adult members—parents and other relatives of the children.

Teaching the children is a great training to others associated with them. A recent test has been made in New York on a combination program put on by the public schools and one of the colleges of East New York in the work of improving the conditions among the poor, and it is found that the scheme of balanced rations is one of importance, should be more definitely put into practice through the nation.

The report concerning the experiment, just issued, shows that the children's hours of sleep were increased from less than nine to ten hours a night, and that the average retiring hour was put forward, from 10 o'clock to 9 o'clock. Improvement in the luncheon diet was accomplished in the case of half the families involved and in the supper diet in the case of two-thirds. Considerably less improvement was accomplished in the breakfast diet because of the unwillingness of the children, practically all of whom are Italian, to give up coffee as part of the breakfast diet.

According to the measurement scale by which the results of the experiment were gauged through actual home-visiting, it was necessary to classify as "unsatisfactory" breakfasts which included coffee for children. Increased use of cereals and eggs were reported, however, for a large percentage of the families.

Special importance is attached to the experiment by school experts because of the enormous extent of such health teaching activities in all parts of the country, especially during the last two or three years, with no sure means of knowing what was being accomplished. The present report proves conclusively the value of the work.

For many years now the health features have been given more attention in the schools, and we believe that this is a great thing. We believe that a great improvement will be the result in the health of the rising generation, especially if the home life is taken seriously and the teachers get the co-operation from this source that they should.

SELLING AIR SERVICE

If you want to know the name of a real aviator, meet Alan J. Cobham, of England. He leads the aviators of the world in long distance journeys and seems to be never satisfied unless trying to make a hop of thousands of miles.

He recently landed in Melbourne, Australia, on his cruise from London to that city and back, a jump of 26,000 miles. Last year he took the British Air Minister from London to Rangoon and home, some 17,000 miles. In 1925 he also flew from London to Cape Town, and returned, in his plane. In 1924 he made a flight to the Near East and back, over North Africa, Spain and France.

He has flown around the base of Mt. Everest, and threatens to fly over the top. His flight over the crater of Vesuvius almost cost him his life when the plane was tossed out of control by the swirling fumes. His mechanic was shot and fatally wounded by an Arab rifleman as the pair went over Mesopotamia. His flight over the Dutch East Indies enabled him to see, and report, the giant lizards, which were this year captured and brought to New York.

Cobham is not a stunt flyer. He is doing what he can to sell aviation to the British people. In one plane he has flown more than 100,000 miles. His success is not due to luck, but rather to skill, experience, persistence and undaunted courage.

Flying is a medium of transportation that is being offered the world. It is being offered to nations, and it is being offered to corporations and to individuals. Finally the medium will be sold all of these. Some day the flying-machine will be a common means of freight and passenger traffic. That day, we predict is not far in the future. Mail service has already been in effect, and we presume successfully used for some months. Passenger service is also growing in popularity, and will be made a practical thing soon. Freighters are possibly the last thing that will be brought into practical use, on account of the weights. But even this will be made an actually some time in the future, and with the possible traveling of these machines on schedule time, which is being done with almost as great success as the railroads, the airplane is going to come into its own as a medium of fast transportation that will excel everything that has yet been put into use.

PROHIBITION AND PROSPERITY

Prof. Irving Fisher of Yale, whose pithy comments on public issues are always breaking into print, is credited with saying that prohibition, as it stands today, is worth a billion dollars a year to the country. Well, why not? There is far less liquor consumed than in the days of the licensed saloon, despite a surprising amount of comment to the contrary. If over-enthusiastic wets would take a sober turn through the extensive dry regions of the country, and the dry parts of their own egions, they would see things in better perspective. Granted, the liquor is worse and costs more. But there is far less drunk. How much less would probably seem incredible to any honest yet if the precise figures were presented, whether by a statistical gentleman like Prof. Fisher or by an ordinarily intelligent citizen rambling around without bias and recording his general impressions. So important is this widely ignored fact that we venture to make a suggestion which may be boot- ed at by deluded wet partisans, but will not necessarily be invalidated by the hooting: The extensive prosperity prevailing in this country, evident t all the world, may be due more to prohibition than to any other factor, resulting from the immense saving of money formerly spent for liquor, and from the increased efficiency of sober citizens. It is time that, along with discussions of the moral effects of prohibition, there were more attention paid to its economic effects.

SWORD AND PLOWSHARE

On the battlefield of Lundy's Lane, where once American and British soldiers fought desperately, the sound of their cannon and musketry mingling with the roar of Niagara Falls, another international contest was scheduled for October 12. This contest was to be in marked contrast with the bloody struggle of the War of 1812, with plowshares taking the place of swords and guns. Farmers of Ontario province and New York state were to meet in a plowing match, proposed by the Ontario Plowmen's Association, which last year drew 70,000 persons to witness a similar contest among Canadian tillers of the soil. This year's event was planned to last four days and an even greater number of spectators were expected, on account of its international character of the contest.

Commenting on the match, the Sydney (Ont.) Star said: "We have celebrated the century of peace between Canada and the United States, and we have lately had good-will parties of each country visiting and being welcomed by the other. The contestants at Lundy's Lane on October 12 will play under and bury more securely than ever the memory of the old struggle and its antipathies. The result may be a strengthening of the mutual respect and friendship between the two countries." There has not been in all history a finer example of cordial relationship between two great nations than that which has existed and still exists between the United States and Canada. That it will continue for centuries to come can hardly be doubted.

CHILD DELINQUENCY CUT

There has been no recent increase in delinquency in children under 16 years of age, in spite of an increase in youthful bandits and other criminals, according to the annual report of the President of the Children's Court of New York City, just made public.

The Children's Court found that the ranks of juvenile delinquents are not recruited from juvenile delinquents, at least not those appearing before the court. This will be of small comfort to the opponents of prohibition who have been trying to create the impression the dry law is ruining the children. The experience of the New York Children's Court coincides with the statement of the U. S. Children's Bureau that juvenile delinquency is decreasing. Figures taken from official sources show that the number of delinquent persons in the age group of 10 to 17, admitted to institutions of all types decreased from 172 per 100,000 population in 1910 to 161 per 100,000 population in 1923.

Thomas A. Edison, who sleeps little, admits that if his age were figured by the hours he has worked he would be about 125 years old. He says he has worked two shifts a day most of his life, and adds: "Lots of other men work two shifts, too, but devote one to playing poker."

OUT OUR WAY

THE SNAIL AND HIS SHELL.

SO THINK WE

We think about the time a person who thinks that he is the only one to be found that is as proficient as he, in his line must remember that there always bubbles up one who is just a little bit better than he. Just look at Tunney.

We think if you will keep smiling long enough you will finally have something worth working for.

We think that seven days hand running is too long to use all of them without using at least one of them for rest.

We think it might be alright to cut the working week down to five days provided they make the days full and provide further that they keep one day—observe the Sabbath day. We think two whole days would be too many for them to use in riotous living.

We think the reason some of the girls run around so much is because the supply hardly ever equals the demand.

We think that if some people were to get everything they wanted they would want just one thing more at least.

We think from the way some of the old bachelors talk about never having been caught is possibly because nobody likes to catch minnows anyway.

We think some folks will not even be satisfied with a fifty-fifty deal even in the matter of conversation. They want to do it all.

We think after all illiteracy is possibly not disappearing as rapidly as one might think. We heard a fellow say a few days ago that the only difference between the thin dime novel of twenty five years ago and now is about $1.90.

We think there is much need for many more street lights.

We think there is a lot of folks who are not willing to tell the truth on people, but they must tell a bunch of lies in order to give good measure.

We think there are a lot of people who do not even know that Sunday school is held every Sunday in eight or ten churches in this city.

We think possibly the northern of last night is the forerunner of Mr. Frost.

We think a lot of people can save a lot of money by buying their Christmas presents now.

We think the way people handle their temper many times, they do not seem to have any fear of never getting it back, for they do not seem to mind losing it frequently.

We think you had better pay your taxes now, before you spend all of your money on a good time. Christmas, and then possibly have to move out in the street to live later on.

IT IS REPORTED

It is reported that Lubbock has two fine school buildings that are very difficult to get to when we have as much rain as we have been having.

It is reported that even many rich people are often condemned to capital punishment.

It is reported that Japan has more bicycles than any other nation in the world.

It is reported that the United States makes and uses more paints and varnishes than any other nation in the world, and still is as many houses in other cities need painting as badly as some of them in Lubbock, she does not make or use enough yet.

No, No, Mr. Hughes Was Not Named to the World Court

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—The old "world court," the court established at The Hague in 1899, and called the Permanent Court of International Arbitration, has been lost sight of since the World War. It took the appointment of Charles Evans Hughes to this body by President Coolidge the other day to recall it.

Then the correspondents had to hurry for their histories to make out what it was all about. Hughes' appointment, for six years was announced by the president, Hughes succeeding the late Charles Gray, who died last year.

It is reported that one man who is an enthusiastic booster for the Tech says she is liable to have three thousand pupils enrolled before the end of the present school term. He does not live in Lubbock either. He does not own a piece of property in Lubbock and has no land around near here. He is just a Tech enthusiast.

SOUTH PLAINS PRESS

CLUB BOYS

Mainview Herald.—Club work as seen at county, state and interstate fairs and expositions is the only opportunity which many people have of seeing the products and results of the work of the boys and girls of the agricultural section. At most of the fairs the results are very impressive when viewed by the city dweller or the ruralist. The products are especially fine and compare favorably, often exceeding those displayed by adults. Few adults will put the care and attention on raising one pig or a flock of chickens that a boy or girl gives. The field crops are on small acreages and great care is exercised in them. Club boys and girls are learning to do by doing. After feeding his own pig and keeping a careful record of the cost and what he sells the animal for the boy is interested in livestock. He learns a little of the ins and outs of feeding. He carefully considers gain—and the cost of making it. The club girl who learns to sew by making a dress of her own has gained practical knowledge which will be of benefit to her through life. She learns the better ways of doing the domestic work of the home. What others have gained by experience is hers for the asking. She has at her command the knowledge gained by many which has been brought to her by a specialist, who acts not only as an instructor, but in fact is a clearing house for general information on the subjects studied. Practical knowledge is gained by the club work. Boys and girls are interested in things immensely worthwhile.

Learn to do by doing. It is one of the finest things in the world. The club work of the rural districts, we think, is one of the finest things that has ever been given the boys and the girls of the rural sections. It not only gives the boys and girls advantages by learning to do the practical things of life, but it also shows that intensive work is the best thing for livestock, poultry, dairying or agriculture. The club boy very often beats dad, because he plants out ya certain amount of stuff, but he gives it all the attention that it needs, which proves that fewer acres and bigger yields is possible and practical and sensible. The same applies to the dairy and the poultry business and the raising of hogs. Where these animals and fowls are given proper care and attention they produce more and the results of a balanced ration and a sensible diet proves that it pays to take time to give the livestock and the chickens and the turkeys the best of attention. The same work among the boys and girls should be stressed in every county where there is a chance to improve them.

No, No, Mr. Hughes Was Not Named to the World Court

Candidates for membership are nominated by the various national groups in the Permanent Court of Arbitration of which Hughes is now a member.

The two courts intersect in this respect: a majority of the judges of the justice court also are members of the arbitration court.

Not a Permanent Court. The court, which Hughes is a member in not a court, in the ordinary sense, but a panel or tribunal, but from which, if a controversy is submitted, a tribunal of three to five persons is appointed for the purpose of trying the issues and rendering a decision.

The Permanent Court of Arbitration, this is, neither permanent nor a court. It is a panel, now consisting of the names of about 125 persons. The Permanent Court of International Justice is the new world court, the Harding-Hughes court, which held its first session in 1922.

No a lot of correspondents had a lot of explaining to do.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

FATHER AND SON

My boy, I pray, although at times you doubt me. Think this one thought unto the end about me: I, as your father, serve no selfish pleasure.

You and your interests are my dearest treasure. 'Tis not to kill your happiness I check you, I know how swiftly storms may come to break you. I hold you back, not merely to enslave you. I cause you grief from greater grief to save you.

You'll live to walk with skillful men and shrewd. Men who can do the things which I could never. But, oh, my son, know this though others chide you: I am the one friend who will never harm you. I will not hurt you, wrong you, or deceive you. I will not take all you can give and leave you. I may seem stern far than people do, but no on earth who loves you more than I do.

My boy, I ask but this whenever you doubt me: Always remember this one fact about me. When all my trials fade and vanish you'll note: I am your friend, unselfishly devoted,

SHARKEY WINS BY FOUL FROM HARRY WILLS

HORNED FROGS AND BEARS BATTLE TO TIE AT DALLAS

BLACK THREAT OF SQUARED CIRCLE IS ELIMINATED IN THIRTEENTH ROUND BY BIG BOY FROM BOSTON, MASS.

By FRANK GETTY (United News Staff Correspondent) EBHETS FIELD, BROOKLYN, N. Y., Oct. 12.—Jack Sharkey, of Boston, knocked all the championship aspirations out of big Harry Wills of Harlem, in their scheduled 15-round bout before a capacity crowd at Ebhets field Tuesday night, but the fight ended in the thirteenth, when the negro, who had bragged so much of what he would do to certain heavy-weight champions, was thrown out of the ring for continuous foul fighting.

Strolling Down Sport Lane With James R. Dow

The Avalanche-Journal special train to T. C. U. is attracting the attention of the fans of the entire South Plains as every day inquiries arrive at the office of the publications relative to the rates, and other matters of the train. It is expected that full 500 will accompany the club to Fort Worth on October 30th.

The student body of the college are behind the promotion as well as the citizens of Lubbock. The board of city development, in a recent meeting, voted its approval for the train and is lending it full support for the eventful occasion.

Coch Fredland is of the opinion that the game, this week-end will be one of the biggest of the Matador schedule and states that more stress towards the support of the game should be shown.

The greater portion of the Matadors would arrive from Simmons University than from T. C. U. There is a reason for this—the two schools are fighting for supremacy in West Texas—and are fighting for the athletic supremacy of the West Texas.

Several hundred Tech followers will no doubt accompany the Matadors to Abilene this week-end. The "bull-fighters" are battling with the Simmons Cowboys on their own range.

Former coach "Shorty" Galbraith, mentor of the 1917 high school Westerners, is here visiting with friends and says that all of his former players of the High School club be present at the game here Friday with Clovis.

Galbraith made a short talk to the student body of the high school shortly after noon and encouraged the members of the high school club to fight in all of their contests.

The Matadors will be in Abilene on Friday afternoon with the Cowboys of Simmons University and the high school Westerners will be in Lubbock battling the tough Clovis New Mexico club.

How about that blanket for the Westerners. Only lack a few more have the required number. Let's kick in for the youngsters who are battling for the old traditions of Lubbock high school.

Two of the Saint Louis Cards hit 400 hundred in the world series, Southworth and Theonow. While there was no one on the Yanks' side that reached that mark—Babe Ruth might have—but he was walked too often.

The Cards hit 778 for the club and Yanks hit 541. The leading percentage batter of the Yanks, Cobb, getting 850 and the Yanks got 952.

MATADORS LEVELLING DOWN FOR COWBOYS OF SIMMONS U. THIS WEEK-END; GAME TO BE PLAYED AT ABILENE FRI.

Getting down to real work, getting they work-outs daily and brushing up on the rough spots shown in the contest last Friday with St. Edwards the Matadors are centering their aspirations for the victory this week-end with the Simmons Cowboys of Abilene. The game will be played at Abilene on the Cowboys' range. It is the sole desire of every "bull-fighter" on the Matador aggregation to take the same with the Cowboys. Coach Fredland and Higginbotham are very anxious that the fans of Lubbock and the South Plains forget for a while about the T. C. U. game and lend their support to the Matadors in their clash with the "Cowboys." It is a game that will be hard for us and we want to win it. Fredland stated yesterday, "Let's take the Simmons one at a time and win them. This week's training will be dwelt on the offense of the club, as that is the weaker part of the Matador's playing. A defense has been built up in the Matador ranks that is hard for any club to battle. They are no justified in stopping the fight long before he did, for the black's favorite tactics of holding and pounding his opponent on the back, and of springing back hand punches coming out of clinches, began before the first bell's echo had died away.

Sharkey won 12 rounds and one might have been classed as even. The Bostonian's work was over-shadowed by the negro's fouls, however, and the crowd of $5,000 which apparently was entirely for Sharkey, kept constantly crying to the referee to throw Wills out of the ring.

After the Bostonian's snappy left jab and severe body punches had reduced Wills to grogginess, the negro became more and more deliberate in his fouling, and after 43 seconds of the 13th round, Haley stepped between the men and ordered Harry to his corner.

The negro was glad to go. He had all the fight punched out of him. He made no protest.

Seated at the ringside was Colonel John J. Phelan, of the license commission, whose championship of Wills had won New York City the Dempsey-Tunney fight. He had refused the then heavy-weight champion a license because Jack would not box Wills.

At the end of the fight, Phelan admitted his mistake.

"Haley did just right. Wills fought foul," he said, as he hurried away.

Dempsey of Tunney would have made minor news of the Wills who showed up in the ring at Ebhets field Tuesday night.

OLD HOME TOWN WILL FETE GROVER ALEXANDER

By United News ST. PAUL, Neb., Oct. 12.—A fund of $1,000 was raised in less than an hour here today to pay the expenses of the elaborate celebration being planned for welcoming Grover Cleveland Alexander, veteran St. Louis slugging pitcher, to his home town next Wednesday.

Word was received here this afternoon that Jess Higgins, whom Alexander relieved in the seventh inning of the last game of the world series, and Arthur Reinhart, card pitcher, will accompany the veteran Alexander.

Six horses are being prepared for the barbecue in honor of St. Paul's most famous native son and all the paved streets in the business district will be swept off for a huge street dance.

Alexander will pitch for the Horned county "All Star" team in a game against the Grd. Nebraska town team. When a youth living on a farm near here Alexander played with the local ball club.

DEMPEY WILL FIGHT WINNER OF WILLS-SHARKEY BOUT

By United News NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—Jack Dempsey will meet the winner of the Harry Wills-Jack Sharkey fight "if the boxing public thinks this is necessary so established my right to a 'veteran' match with Gene Tunney," the former heavy-weight champion said.

Dempsey and Estelle Taylor are going to retire from the ringlight as much as possible and seek what conclusion they can find in Hollywood for a while, before the ex-champion begins training for a drive to regain his title.

DOUBLE LIGHTING CAPACITY AT LEVELLAND PLANT SOON

LEVELLAND, Oct. 12.—The Texas Utilities of this city has announced that the company will soon double their capacity for lighting the city. Leveling has grown so fast that it is almost impossible for the company to keep machinery sufficient to keep up with the growth.

Students, Fans, Band to T. C. C. U. Badger Brilliant

"Sure we all want to go" stated one of the most ardent followers of the Matadors, "but what will we use for money?" One of the lads when asked about going to the T. C. U.-Tech game to be played in Fort Worth on October 30th stated that if the Santa Fe would put a box car on the special train at $3 a head they would greatly profit from the action.

It is apparent that some 200 will accompany the club on the Avalanche-Journal's special train. Preparations are being made by the student body to put on a big show in Fort Worth. The Tech band, eighty in number, is holding night practices throughout the week for the occasion. The band is being invited by the Star Telegram to broadcast over their sending station WRAP on the night of the game.

Ball Clubs, Like Individual Kings, See Titles Pass

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—Tragedies that befell individual champions on the tennis courts, the golf links and in the prize ring did not confine their work to those three sports for, collectively, championship baseball clubs of 1925 fell woefully by the wayside and were compelled to step down and out while newer teams climbed up from the depths of oblivion to occupy the spotlight this year.

While Bill Tilden, Bobby Jones, Paul Berensbach, Harry Greb and Jack Dempsey were being humiliated in such startling manner, dark horses in six of the eight leading leagues of organized baseball were pushing aside the 1925 champions and battering their way to 1926 titles.

A review of 1925 and 1926 records will inform the baseball fan that only two clubs repeated in the eight leading leagues of the country to retain their championships they captured a year ago.

In the National League Pittsburgh stepped out to let the St. Louis Cardinals march boldly to the front.

The American League race saw the two-year reign of the Washington Senators shattered, while the New York Yankees, after a two-year slump, stepped back into the big money.

In the American Association, the Louisville Colonels, despite the loss of Manager McCarthy, who took over the Cubs, fought through to throw back Milwaukee and retain its championship for another year.

The International League race found the Baltimore monopoly being fractured, Toronto grabbing off the pennant and all the glory that goes with it.

In the Texas League, the Fort Worth Panthers were forced to meet a natural death, the Dallas Steers taking 1926 honors.

In the Southern Association, the Atlanta Crackers failed to repeat their 1925 achievement. Larry Gilbert's Pelicans of New Orleans took the flag this year.

In the Pacific Coast League the San Francisco Seals watched, as the Los Angeles Angels take the pennant this season while in the Western, the second club out of eight leagues to repeat, is Des Moines.

MENJOUS MAY COMPROMISE

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 11.—A compromise probably will be effected between Adolph Menjou, divorcé lover of the screen and his wife, Katherine Menjou, who filed counter action to the actor's divorce suit; and asked $10 a week alimony.

A hearing on the alimony question was adjourned until Thursday to permit attorneys for the two principals to draft a property settlement.

Mrs. Menjou claims her husband receives $2,000 a week for his efforts on the screen.

DOUBLE LIGHTING CAPACITY AT LEVELLAND PLANT SOON

LEVELLAND, Oct. 12.—The Texas Utilities of this city has announced that the company will soon double their capacity for lighting the city. Leveling has grown so fast that it is almost impossible for the company to keep machinery sufficient to keep up with the growth.

No doubt Levelland has put on more substantial growth during 1926 than any town in Texas, and the building program is increasing daily. There are several fine residences under construction at this time and many more being planned.

Former Coach Visits Lubbock

Coch "Shorty" Galbraith, former mentor of the high school Westerners in 1917, who coached the club through that year without a defeat and was acclaimed the champs of the Panhandle is visiting among friends here. Galbraith made a short talk before the high school student body yesterday at noon.

Galbraith is anxious to see all of his former 1917 lads—wants to see them at the high school game Friday when the Westerners meet with the Clovis high school. Among those of the 1917 team that are residents in Lubbock who are wanted at the game Friday are: "Pinky" Lowery, "Dude" Ferris, Johnny Spikes, Ross McWhorter, "Red" Graves, Bill Honey, Kenneth Kimbro, Roger Stubbs, Hugh Eivens, Earl and Claburne Bullock.

Jennings and White Show Improvement

Considerable improvement is being shown in the injuries of both Al Jennings and "Dope" White according to Coach Fredland. It is very likely that both of the lads will be ready for action by the time of the T. C. U. game, but we will need them badly for the Simmons contest, stated Fredland.

Jennings and White received injuries in the St. Edwards game. At the time both were hurt it was thought that neither would be ready for any of the games this season. Jennings for the cartilage in his knee loos, while White's was of the same nature only it being in the shoulder.

GETS $1 DAMAGES FOR SLATON HIGHWAY WIDENING

J. D. Harkay, Lubbock county farmer, who recently filed suit for damages at the rate of $450 per acre for land needed by the county for widening of the Lubbock-Slaton highway, was awarded damages of $1 by a jury in county court here Tuesday, when his case was called to trial.

A little less than half an acre was needed for the highway.

WHICKER WELL BLOWING 22 INCH COLUMN OF WATER

LITTLEFIELD, Tex., Oct. 12.—Telephone messages from Bledsoe state that gas in Whicker No. 1 well being drilled about three miles southeast of Bledsoe is blowing a twenty-two inch column of water out of the hole periodically from a depth of three hundred feet. The gas is so strong that the drillers can hardly work around the well. It is confidently expected that an oil well will be developed at a very shallow depth at this location.

FIRST NATIONAL TO NEW HOME AT LEVELLAND

LEVELLAND, Oct. 12.—The First National Bank of this city has moved into their fine two story building on the southwest corner of the court house square. This building is one of the finest in the West, and is commendable to the officers of the institution.

The second floor is being used for the Masonic order that is moving along by leaps and bounds in membership.

"AT this point in the proceedings the chairman interrupted and asked Mr. Coolidge if he would please hurry to get his point as he was already ten minutes beyond his allotted speaking time."

THE report that Percy Joyce, has married a poor but honest switchman on the L. & N. railroad was confirmed here today.

"TAKE this trash back," demanded the bearded looking young man. "I did not order these books of Shelly, Keats, Bacon and Eggs. I ordered all the back copies of Saucy Stories and Naughty Narratives on the shelves." It was Mr. Tunney talking.

BOB KREITZ Wisconsin expects much from this big fellow on the football field this fall. He's a brother of Al Kreutz, former star at Pennsylvania. Bob no doubt will carry much of the offensive burden of the team from a backfield position. He also starred in track, the javelin throw being his specialty.

ANCIENT ENEMIES MAKE ONE TOUCHDOWN A PIECE IN ANNUAL CLASH BEFORE BIG CROWD AT TEXAS STATE FAIR GROUNDS

DALLAS, Texas, Oct. 13.—The Golden Bears of Baylor and the Horned Frogs of T. C. U., battling on a wet field before a great crowd at the Fair Park stadium, today knotted the score seven to seven, in the season's out-grooping of that football feud which has existed since the two colleges were in the same town, back in Waco, years ago.

Fighting against great odds, having twice been repulsed in the shadow of their opponents' goal, the game Baylor University eleven came back in a last quarter rally and tied the score.

A beautiful twenty-five yard pass early in the first quarter, Williams to Acker, settled the Horned Frogs their only score. A perfect place kick by Williams added the extra point. A few minutes after this play the elements poured forth their wrath and the gridiron was turned into a mud hole.

QUEEN MARIE OF RUMANIA SAILING FOR UNITED STATES GETS HER FIRST TASTE OF NEWSPAPER REPORTING

By RALPH HEINSEN
United News Staff Correspondent
CHERBOURG, France, Oct. 12.—America's bow to Queen Marie, of Rumania, began tonight when the Levathan, flag ship of the United States lines, carry in the queen and a distinguished company sailed from Cherbourg, to salute from the U. S. S. Memphis and American destroyers in the harbor.

Queen Marie was forced to spend 3 hours in a drizzling rain aboard the tender which carried her ashore, while awaiting the arrival of the Levathan from Southampton, England.

Meantime, Rumania's queen had her first taste of American reporting methods when she was surrounded by writers and photographers aboard the tender. One American photographer gently pushed Prince Nicholas, the second royal son, Princess Beata and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson—the latter in the queen's party by "Queen's command"—into ideal position for a picture. The queen received hundreds of floral tributes and as each was handed to her she exclaimed, "What, more flowers."

The royal children and Mrs. Wilson were driven from the deck of the tender by the rain, but the queen refused to go inside and stood alone in the misty drizzle, looking for the lights of the ship which was to carry her to the United States.

Whether she was sorry over the reported separation, interruption of her sleep or just sorry for newspapermen in general she did not say.

And the reporters stayed no longer to settle the question.

HEREFORD HIGH BAND WILL BID FOR HONORS

HEREFORD, Oct. 12.—The Hereford high school band and orchestra, under the direction of Ralph Smith, will bid for honors during the coming year. Each organization is one year old, and during the initial year these two organizations made folks of the Panhandle sit up and take notice.

There are thirty members in the orchestra and twenty-one members in the band. This is a fair increase over last year's membership, considering the fact that a number of members were lost by graduation last spring.

There have been added to the orchestra eight violins, one viola, one cello, two flutes, two cornets and one euphone. Last year the local high school orchestra was handicapped by the lack of stringed instruments, but came within twelve points of winning the contest at the Panhandle Music Festival at Amarillo last spring.

40-BARREL WELL NOT ENOUGH; DRILL DEEPER

ABILENE, Oct. 12.—Not content with the 40-barrel-a-day production of its new well on the Godwin ranch, 14 miles northeast of Abilene, which was brought in yesterday, the Mid-Kansas Company is drilling deeper. It was stated yesterday, a lower sand is expected to bring about much larger production. Sunday more than 200 cars from Abilene went out to the well, which is located near Hamby, this county.

GRAFT RETRIAL DOUBTFUL

Daugherty-Miller Scandal Case May Be Over With

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—Although United States Attorney Emory R. Buckner, general prosecutor in the Daugherty-Miller $441,000 graft conspiracy trial, stood firm Tuesday on his decision to wait thirty days before determining whether to ask a retrial of the former high government officials, there is considerable doubt about another trial.

The preparation of the case against Harry M. Daugherty, former attorney general and Colonel Thomas W. Miller, former alien property custodian, took twenty months and cost the government thousands of dollars. It is pointed out that this factor militates strongly against the likelihood of a retrial.

Buckner and his six assistants built up a strong case but should another jury be impeached, there would be no stronger evidence than that presented at the original trial.

AUSTIN GREETS HORNSBY

Victorious Manager Gets Last Look At Mother's Face

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 12.—Rogers Hornsby came back Tuesday from the clamor and excitement of victory, to his old home town for one last look on the face of his mother.

Rushing home from New York where he led his St. Louis Cardinals to victory in the seventh and deciding game of the world's series with the New York Yankees, Hornsby laid aside the laurels of an admiring sport world to pay homage to the little woman who gave him life, Mrs. M. D. Hornsby, who passed away on September 29, with the dying wish that her son remain with his ball club and lead them to victory in the world's series.

This old town, its students, its university students and its college flappers, turned out en masse to welcome their idol home.

ANTELOPES HARM CROPS

GREELEY, Colo.—Appeals have been made to the Commissioner of State Fish and Game, for protection against the herds of antelope which are destroying their crops. The antelope are protected by state laws and are multiplying rapidly, the farmers claim.

How Bad Is Bread and Water?

When a Nebraska judge sentenced two bootleggers to bread and water diets, he set the whole nation talking. Cruel punishment, cried some; not at all, replied officers of the U. S. Navy, where bread and water on punishment long has been the rule. Those two department of justice attorneys, at Washington decided to live on bread and water for a few days and see for themselves. At the left is Howard T. Jones, chief assistant to Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, who handles all liquor cases; at the right is Arthur W. Henderson.

CHINESE DOCTORS POPULAR IN WEST

ANCIENT HERBALISTS GET LOTS OF CLIENTS ALONG PACIFIC COAST

By H. O. THOMPSON
United News Staff Correspondent
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12.—While American agencies are spending millions of dollars to give the Orient the benefit of modern medical science, ancient Chinese methods of combating disease are becoming highly popular in the Pacific coast cities.

Although the finest types of medical service are available here, men and women are flocking with their ailments to Chicago "Herbalists" who admit their lore comes, not from 20th century research, but from the "writings of the ancient Chinese sages."

At the enthusiasm of those who follow new religious beliefs is manifest among those who seek the forms of cures which China herself is supposed to be discarding. Within the last two months seven structures have been erected here to care for Americans who pay hundreds of thousands of dollars for medicines steeped in the mysteries and strange ways of the East.

The "herbalist" meets his patient with a brief comment about the five principal organs, lungs, liver, kidneys, heart and stomach. He tells the sufferer these organs are, not in harmonious agreement but can be synchronized if the patient will drink herb teas brewed in the manner known to Chinese physicians for centuries.

The patient drinks, and pays. In many cases he is cured. He writes a testimonial.

These testimonials are used prominently in "herbalist" advertising. One of these displays flaunts a "guarantee to relieve all ailments, whether of the stomach, liver, lungs, kidneys or heart, also indigestion, asthma, catarrh, blood poisoning, appendicitis, or high or low blood pressure, rheumatism," and then follows the inevitable—"prices reasonable."

THREE BOYS AND GIRL RUN AWAY

LOCAL STUDENTS WERE DODGING REPRIMAND AT SCHOOL SAYS MOTHER

Three young Lubbock boys and one girl are missing and distracted parents are at a loss as to what prompted the run-away.

Tuesday afternoon one mother called the sheriff's department for assistance. Deputy Sheriff Vernice Ford, in company with an Avialanche reporter called at the mother's home, and she said that the girl and one or more boys had been having trouble at school and were to have been seriously reprimanded. The boys decided there was no good reason why they should be whipped, so they framed the run-away.

The mother told the officers the girl would likely be dressed as a boy when found, and a close watch will be kept until they are located. Officers in other South Plains towns will be notified.

It is not thought they will go very far as their finances are limited.

CIRCUS CHILDREN LEARN THREE R'S

LITTLE RED SCHOOL HOUSE ON WHEELS GOES WITH BARNES SHOW

The little red schoolhouse—on wheels.

That's where the children of Al G. Barnes' Big 4 Ring Circus, coming to Lubbock on Friday, October 22, are taught "reading, writing and arithmetic" the same as other youngsters.

The little sons and daughters of the big show receive all the care and schooling and the influences that mark the youngsters of the great "outside" and are as well bred. Their education is directed with painstaking care, while the health of the youngsters is carefully looked after by a school physician and trained nurse.

The "rolling schoolhouse" has an able principal and a strong faculty of experienced college graduates who provide the children with thorough courses in language, science, history, mathematics, and practical subjects.

When the circus returns to its winter quarters at Calver City, the children are transferred to a little "red school house"—only it's painted green and white—on the big eighty-acre park just outside of Los Angeles. Here the children of the staff are given splendid instruction by graduates of several famous educational institutions of France, England and America.

Singing, drawing, modern writing and physical training are stressed in all grades. Manual training, domestic science and commercial courses are provided for students of higher grade. These volunteer instructors are employees of the show, traveling with it, and so the school bell rings on the road.

You'll see how happy these youngsters are when the big "show" opens here with the sensational feature, "Focahemas at the Court of Queen Anne," the gorgeous extravaganza that opens the big program. The cast includes a bevy of beautiful maidens, all former motion picture actresses.

MEDICOS TALK CANCER

Patients Won't Tell About Trouble Early Enough

By United News. KANSAS CITY, Oct. 12.—The psychology of cancer is one of the chief obstacles to successful treatment of the disease, according to Dr. Percy Brown, chief of the x-ray department of St. Luke's hospital, New York City.

Dr. Brown, who is attending the annual meeting of the Kansas City Clinical society in session here, explained this psychology as the reluctance of persons afflicted with cancer to admit their case to physicians.

"In our present state of knowledge our only hope in the treatment of cancer, lies in getting at it in its early stages," Dr. Brown said. "But that is exactly where we get no cooperation from the patient."

"The psychology of cancer is peculiar. For some unknown reason, persons never will admit they have it. Above all, they do not want anyone else to know they are so afflicted. That, I suppose, is a survival of the queer notion that cancer somehow is a foul and disgraceful disease. It certainly is no more so than any other disease."

Ultimately, Dr. Brown believes, a cure for cancer will be effected.

QUEEN MARIE PACKS HER TRUNKS IN PARIS

By United News. PARIS, Oct. 11.—Queen Marie of Rumania, who is characterized by the style masters of Paris as the best dressed woman in the world, pressed her royal children into service Monday night to complete the packing of 50 trunks which she will carry with her when she sails Tuesday for the United States.

As Prince Nicholas and Princess Ileana worked until 2 o'clock Tuesday morning to rush completion of the packing, a procession of delivery men from Paris dress makers filed through the queen's apartment.

An envoy of former crown prince Carol, arriving during the height of the packing and repeating Carol's request for an audience with his mother, was refused. Despite reports to the contrary the queen has not retreated and is now expected to leave Paris for Chertozurg, where she sails on the Leviathan from New York, without seeing her eldest son.

Queen Marie continued the last day of her stay in Paris, to live up to her reputation of being the most democratic queen. She dodged all formalities and was seen entering her hotel from a taxicab which she had called while out shopping.

STREETS PAVED WITH CONCRETE HELP TO BRING GREATER PROSPERITY

Navasota Strides Ahead on Concrete Streets

Those who remember the Navasota of a few years ago will recall the unpaved, bumpy, muddy, dusty thoroughfares called streets. These were always subject to the whims of the weather man, and ever a source of expense and dissatisfaction.

But in 1923 a city council of wide awake business men started a campaign for municipal improvements. A concrete pipe sewer system was installed. Then they started a street paving program. Contract was awarded for portland cement concrete pavement in the business district. As a result property owners soon demanded the same clean, easy riding pavement on residential streets. Today Navasota boasts 100,000 square yards of permanent concrete streets.

Yes, you are right, the whole town has changed. Lawns have been beautified. Homes have been painted; new ones have been built. Store fronts are dressed up and kept that way. Progress all along the line has been the result.

Navasota tasted the tonic of concrete and liked it. Wherever concrete pavements are built, they create civic pride and act as a town tonic.

People can get the kind of pavement they want if they insist upon it.

All of the facts are in our free booklet on "Concrete Streets." Ask for your copy.

THINKS HIS DREAMS ARE COMING TRUE AT LAST

BUTTE, Mont., Oct. 12.—George Campbell Carson, picturesque "desert rat" and veteran prospector believes that his dreams are near realization.

"They must dig up now," he said, when informed by United News that the United States supreme court had denied a review of the patent infringing judgment which Carson holds against the American Smelting and Refining Co.

"I'll put experts on their heels," he went on, declaring that he expected to collect from forty cents to $1.50 per ton on a million tons of ore. He said this was the amount of ore handled through blast furnaces of his invention, used without authorization.

Carson has spent years in his fight against big copper companies. He is now here in connection with another phase of this battle, a suit against the Anaconda Copper Mining Company which he also charges that his patent furnace was used with permission.

In all, Carson expects to collect nearly $20,000,000.

For you can use less of M.J.B. to each spoonful and still have a rich, satisfying cup of coffee. Now multiply this saving 40 times each week—it counts up, doesn't it?

It is true you buy coffee by the pound but you drink it by the cup. So it's really the cost-per-cup that counts! And measured by this scale, M.J.B. is the most economical coffee you can buy.

Put it to a week's test and see!

TO STOP HOME DEMONSTRATION

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS VOTE TO DO AWAY WITH AGENT

After three or four years of what has been termed very profitable experience with a Home Demonstration Agent in Lubbock county, the county soon will be without this department as a result of action of the Commissioners Court here Tuesday in voting to not renew the contract that the county holds with the Agent.

Such a step was taken, it was explained following the session, not from the fact that leadership in this department has been unsatisfactory, but that the Court feels that new administration that comes in January should have the final decision in the matter.

The County Farm Agent, however, will be continued, it was agreed, at least until the next Court convenes, when a final decision will be made.

WOLL EXPLAINS FIVE-DAY WEEK

By MATTHEW WOLL Vice-President of the American Federation of Labor

(Written for the United News) DETROIT, Oct. 12—It is time to agitate actively for the shorter week because that is one of the measures necessary to well being of our industrial organizations—without we shall inevitably find ourselves building a Frankenstein that will topple of its own weight, crushing not alone labor, but the whole mechanism of our industrial structure.

Manifestly, we are not going to reveal the entire plans of campaign, nor is the entire plan in readiness. But the basis fact is that the shorter week is necessary as a measure of industrial and economic safety that, I think will be our main argument.

It is also true that modern, high speed industry strains human minds and bodies to a point where the biblical one day's rest in seven no longer suffices.

If one day's rest in seven was needed in the infinitely less straining days of hand work, it is surely sound physiological doctrine that recuperation today requires at least double that period. I invite those who doubt this to observe the workers in such a plant as the Ford plant.

Naturally the first-trade to gain the five day week will be those upon whom the strain of a six or a five and a half day week bears to heavily—the trades where machinery sets a pace to which the men must keep up. That would mean, I assume, the trades that are found in factories and shops. But I invite attention to the painters who now have for nearly one third of their union membership a five day week.

The super abundance of modern production, together with the welfare of the human machine tenders and operators, make imperative a shortening of the work week. If employers were far sighted they would join us in grasping this remedy for what has been so foolishly called over production. There need never be such a thing if we allow time and means for proper consumption of commodities produced.

That is our "ammunition" in this struggle. I should like to be able to say what centers will be the points of first attack. That I cannot do, but I think I may say this, Detroit will not be overlooked. Nor will New York or Chicago. Frankly the condition of the local movements will have much to do with this. As to the agencies which we shall use, it must be obvious that the spoke hand printed word is all we have. Ours is, now and always, a task of convincing. Speakers, literature, the news reporter in the daily press, and the co-operation of non labor writers and speakers who understand our purpose—these are our principal agencies.

It must be borne in mind that our coming attack is not only for the winning of the shorter work week, it is equally an attack against the deception of the so-called company union and against the misnamed open shop.

Many London dogs have been found to be suffering from pyorrhea.

ENGINEER STUDENTS LOCATE A STILL TESTING SAND THEY FIND BOOZE MATERIAL TO BE IN IT AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 12.—That there are more ways than one to solve a puzzle is proved true recently for members of a class in highway material inspection, under John A. Fecht, professor of highway engineering at the University of Texas. Ordinarily the testing of highway materials is not used as a means of locating stills, but it proved successful in one instance. Recently a quantity of sand which had been received for inspection was tested by the class and found to contain sugar. Further investigation revealed the fact that the sand bar from which the samples were taken was located very close to a "moonshine" still.

The three members of the class in highway material testing, P. A. Mulligan, of Pittsburg, C. A. Young, of Cameron, and W. H. Wood, of Waco, are kept busy testing and studying the samples which come to the engineering experiment station of the University.
