Answerline

Q. Why didn't the Loraine Police Department receive any of the drug money?

A. District Attorney Mark Edwards of Sweetwater said he was not involved in the West Central Texas Crime Task Force's decision on how to divide the money, but he assumes it was because the LPD did not participate in the seizure in any way. The Mitchell County Sheriff's Office was involved from the first, he noted, and the Colorado City Police Department helped to guard the money here before it was picked up.

New hospital topic of petition

Mitchell County Hospital Board members Tuesday night received a petition signed by more than a dozen members of the hospital auxiliary and over 20 letters asking them to reconsider their late June decision not to consider building a new hospital.

The auxiliary members, or "Pink Ladies," asked the board to let the gifts and volunteer hours they have contributed to the hospital add more weight to their request.

Board President Kent Boyd, who has stated his support of a new hospital, also gave copies of the letters to the six other members.

Boyd said after the 6 p.m. meeting ended at 9:02 that while most of the letters were from hospital district employees, some were from people outside the district.

Director of Nursing Linda Mize added her voice to those pursuing the new hospital issue in her annual compliance report, saying the 1920's-vintage hospital is non-compliant with the American Disabilities Act in several areas.

Ms. Mize said there are only two ADA-compliant restrooms in the building, those in the physical therapy room where the board meets and in the lobby.

She said a sewage line runs over the operating room, plumbing and wiring are bad, firewalls are inadequate, doors and hallways are too narrow and any major construction inside the building would unlease "the asbestos problem.

"We cannot say we are ignorant of these problems" she said.

After the board went into an executive session at 7:10, she commented outside the meeting room, "Nobody wants to be disrespectful. We would really just like them to rethink this."

Hospital Administrator Rick Rickard said in his monthly report after the board reconvened at 8:45 that he will develop an informational packet for the board concerning the district's facilities and future needs.

The board last month voted 3-2 not to consider a San Antonio company's proposals to issue $7 million to $10 million in revenue bonds to finance the construction of either a new hospital and doctors' offices or a full slate of buildings including a new nursing home, wellness clinic and other facilities.

Board members Kenneth Beasley, Corky Houston and Schools plan openings, start of football seasons

The excitement and outright pleasure of the fall season have made their long-awaited return.

Colorado City, Westbrook and Loraine schools are re-opening, and with the spiffed-up students, Friday night football and a fresh outlook, a return of optimism and relishment of the season's advent are palpable.

Westbrook schools will open on Monday, Aug. 9, Colorado City's on Wednesday, Aug. 11, and Loraine's on Monday, Aug. 16.

This is the CCR's annual Back to School Edition, and individual schools' starting times, suggested supplies, new teachers, immunization requirements and other information are found throughout the newspaper.

Admittedly, not everyone is a football fan, but for those who are, the coaches are

District Attorney announces allocation of drug money

Mitchell County commissioners Tuesday gave District Attorney Mark Edwards of Sweetwater permission to use some of his drug profits seizure money to give his employees a raise.

Edwards said he will give each of the four employees an extra $2,000 annually.

"What happens when that money runs out?" asked Pct. 2 County Commissioner Carl Guelker.

"Fortunately, when that money plays out, I won't be practicing law anymore," Edwards said. "But if it runs out, the raises will disappear."

Edwards' office was awarded $500,000 of the $9.9 million seized by an agent of the West Central Texas Crime Task Force in Abilene just east of Colorado City on April 13.

The Mitchell County Sheriff's Office received $500,000 and the Colorado City Police Department $100,000.

Edwards is also buying new cell phones, hand-held radios, bulletproof vests, pagers and office equipment for the 11 Department of Public Safety troopers who work in Mitchell, Fisher and Nolan Counties.

He told the commissioners that he expects the money to last his office for 20 to 30 years.

Officers have said Edwards will also use some of the money for drug buys by undercover agents, but of course that would be expected to be retrieved.

Other business in the 9 a.m. called meeting included approval for Justices of the Peace Kay Richmond and Glenda Haltom to begin using the new statewide Omnibase System to link the suspension of drivers'

"Sales tax holiday" scheduled for first weekend in August

It's nearly time for back to school again, but this year it will be a little bit different. The Texas comptroller's Office has begun to outline the details of the "sales tax holiday", as mandated by the 1999 Texas Legislature.

The "holiday", scheduled for the first weekend in August, is designed to help consumers cut the cost of providing school clothes during the back to school season and is expected to save Texas consumers $69.2 million in state sales taxes over then next three years.

Starting this year, the tax holiday will be held every year on the first Friday, Saturday and Sunday of August. This year, both state and local sales taxes will be waived. In future years, however, the local taxing entities will have the choice of participating in the holiday or continuing to impose their share of tax.

"Cities will be able to look at this first year's experience, see how much money they lose, and then decide if they can afford to continue it," Sheila Clancy, spokeswoman for the comptroller's office, said.

Radioactive waste to pass through C-City on I-20

Citizens and public officials in Lamesa and Seminole are protesting a tentative plan to route up to 250 truckloads of low-grade radioactive waste a year through the Dawson and Gaines county seats.

As the topic of numerous political radio advertisements during the Charles Stenholm-Rudy Izzard congressional race last year, the shipments are already a familiar subject to residents of the 17th Congressional District.

The federal Department of Energy's plan is to send trucks carrying reinforced barrels of gloves, clothing and other materials used by the Defense Department west down Interstate 20 past Colorado City to the DOE's Waste Isolation Pilot Plant outside Carlsbad, N. M.

A route has already been approved to Pecos, then north on Hwy. 285 to Carlsbad.

Ralph Smith, DOE manager of institutional programs at Carlsbad, confirmed that he had recently requested consideration of a shorter route to turn north at Big Spring on Hwy. 87 to Lamesa and west on Hwy. 180 through Seminole and Hobbs, N. M., to Carlsbad.

Smith said the current route would "impact" 274,000 people in Midland-Odessa and only 29,000 in Lamesa and Seminole.

It would also save the federal government from $10 million to $30 million over the 35-year life of the project by cutting 216 miles off each round trip, he said.

The proposal has been formally protested by Lamesa's city manager and chief of police, Paul Feazelle and Richard Garcia, and Dawson County Chief Deputy Sheriff Ray Mojica.

In Seminole, the city government and police department had sent official letters of protest prior to a Tuesday, July 20, called meeting of the Gaines County Commissioner Court at which about three dozen citizens also voiced their opposition.

Officials and citizens in both cities pointed out the hazards of sending the trucks down two-lane streets past schools, churches, businesses and city and county governmental offices.

Chief Garcia said Lamesa does not have an alternative route to avoid sending trucks through the center of town, and Chief Deputy Mojica said emergency personnel have not been trained or equipped to cope with accidental spills.

The cities were notified of the situation by the Texas Department of Public Safety.

A route change would have to be approved by Texas and New Mexico state officials, including the Texas Bureau of Radiation Control in Austin.

DOE officials are scheduled to meet next week with representatives of the Radiation Control Bureau, an agency of the Texas Department of Health, to discuss the idea.

"If things go favorably next week, we will then put in a request," Smith said.

An altered route would run counter to federal rules that require such shipments to stick to interstate highways as far as possible and then take the most direct route to the disposal site, according to a state radiation control official.

A spokesman for the Westinghouse Corp., which manages the Carlsbad waste site for the DOE, said the route was designated years ago and the idea of changing it was only broached last month as a cost-saving measure.

"The DOE was just looking at a map, trying to save some money," said Lynn Eaton.

"Just about a month ago, the idea was floated, why don't we ask Texas and see if we can get off the interstate there at Big Spring and save lots of miles?"

Radioactive waste is already being delivered to Carlsbad by tractor-trailer rigs from the West Coast in stainless steel containers protected by polyurethane foam and ceramic fiber insulation.

The East Coast shipments will be from Defense Department facilities in South Carolina, Tennessee, Ohio and Illi-

Street dance to benefit liver transplant patient

Laid low by a rare liver disease and needing a transplant, former Colorado High School tennis star Kevin Lamb of Abilene will benefit from a street dance, auction and three raffles at 7 p.m. Friday in the 100 block of Walnut Street.

The block will be closed off at 5 p.m., and local musician Doyle "Shady" Mitchell will perform with his band and other area musicians at 7.

BILLIE FORBES, left, and Shady Mitchell are excited about Friday night's benefit street dance and raffles to help pay the medical expenses of Ms. Forbes' grandson, Abilene liver patient Kevin Lamb. Tickets are $1 each for the raffle of the Teddy bear.

A case of Winchester shotgun shells, a huge Teddy bear and a pair of Southwest Airlines tickets will be raffled at 8.

"Any musician that would like to sing or play is welcome and to come and sit in," said Mitchell. "It won't be rehearsed, though. We'll just shoot from the hip."

Tickets will be sold for 50 cents for the shotgun shells -- you choose the gauge -- that were donated by Dandy's Diner owner Curtis Rogers.

Alicia Orosco of Abilene, who heads Project Hugs to provide bears for ill and traumatized children, contributed the giant Teddy bear. Tickets for that drawing are $1 apiece.

Southwest Airlines of Abilene gave the round trip tickets, which are good for any destination the company flies to in the United States.

Mitchell has already been selling household goods and other items that have been provided for Lamb's cause at his weekly 7 p.m. Tuesday auction at 877 E. Second St.

Donated goods will also be auctioned during the dance.

Anyone who wants to buy raffle tickets or otherwise take part in the fundraising effort may call Mitchell at 728-5044.

All proceeds will go to the Lamb family.

Lamb's grandmother, Billie Forbes of Colorado City, said Friday that his medical problems began in late 1997, when he came down with the first of a long succession of pneumonia cases.

"He would get over it and then get it again," she said. "He seems to be getting a little stronger.

"He has been working with two research doctors in Dallas, and the new medicine is helping him a lot. They have discovered what was wrong with his blood. He is having day surgery for the bone marrow.

"The blood disease causes the liver problem, the Budd-Chiari Syndrome. There are only two known cases in the nation."

Ms. Forbes, who was Mitchell County Pct. 3 justice of the peace for two terms in the early 1980's, said Lamb became a licensed plumber after winning three district doubles tennis titles and graduating from CHS in '92.

He has also gained recognition for his culinary talents, winning chili and brisket cook-offs in Buffalo Gap, Merkel, San Angelo and Sweetwater.

Although seriously weakened, he got out of his hospital bed last Labor Day to compete in the annual Buffalo Gap contest.

Assisted by Ms. Forbes and her husband Don, he placed in the top 10 for his chili and chicken.

"Kevin can cook," she said. "He can cook chili with any of them."

Lamb worked on a number of construction projects before gaining his plumber's license, including the Wallace Unit prison here.

"Now he's going to have to find something else," his grandmother said. "The doctors have warned him to be very careful and not get cut or bruised because of the blood thinner they're giving him.

"He does seem to be getting better, and we're thanking God for that. I've been saying all along that God is going to take care of it, and I think He is."

His parents are Darlene Stewart of Alamogordo, N. M., and Bennie Lamb of Buffalo Gap. His paternal grandmother is Frances Lamb of C-City.

Good turnout for Calderon benefit

A turnout of about 220 people at a Saturday night benefit dance for Loraine traffic accident victim Annette Calderon raised $1,800 to help pay her medical expenses.

"It went really good," she said on Monday. "Everybody kept saying they had a good time, and the band was good."

A Loraine conjunto band, Elias y Los Chuys, played for the Colorado City Civic Center event.

One of the Mitchell County Hospital nurses who treated Mrs. Calderon following her April 4 pickup truck accident on a farm to market road south of Loraine attended the dance.

It turned out that nurse Laura Munoz is originally from Loraine and her husband Robert is a friend of Mrs. Calderon's husband Oscar.

"She said, 'God must really love you because He really wanted you to stay,'" Mrs. Calderon said. "She said she had never given anybody so much blood before.

"She said they didn't really think I would make it, and they were real worried."

Mrs. Calderon was unconscious for 10 days in the surgical intensive care unit at Covenant Medical Center in Lubbock, where she underwent abdominal and brain surgery.

She incurred $180,000 in medical bills, and an account has been established in her name at the First Bank of West Texas in Loraine.

County opens bridge

They took the most fragile bridge in Mitchell County and replaced it with one of the sturdiest.

Officials of the county government, the Texas Department of Transportation and Knight Construction Co. of Big Spring opened the County Road 125 bridge at 9:30 a.m. Friday east of Hwy. 208 and south of FM 2319, near Lake Champion.

Pct. 1 County Commissioner Ed Roach drove across it in his pickup truck while County Judge Ray Mayo, TxDOT engineering specialist David Elmore of Big Spring and construction foreman Juan Rivera of Colorado City stood at the south end of the structure.

The $279,000 project was finished ahead of schedule, having used 56 of the allowed 83 working days.

"The rain didn't bother us at all," said Rivera, referring to the mid-June deluge that raised South Champion Creek to near the bottom of the bridge. "We didn't lose no time."

Elmore said TxDOT is now considering similar bridge replacement projects north of the new bridge on County Road 125 over Lone Wolf Creek and west of Hwy. 163 in the southwestern part of the county over Wild Horse Creek.

The bridge replaced a historic 1920's-vintage one-lane steel bridge that trucks and tractors had been having to avoid for decades because it was a little scary just to drive a pickup or car over the creaky, slightly swaying structure.

It was moved south to the western roadside on top of a hill prior to being permanently moved to the nearby property of rancher Bob Girvin, who has assumed ownership of it.

Commissioner Roach had offered to give the old bridge to the City of Colorado City to serve as a footbridge over Lone Wolf Creek in Ruddick Park.

Citing the expensive current water pipeline project from the city's new east water wellfield near Loraine, city councilmen declined to accept the bridge because of the cost that installing pilings on each side of the creek would have entailed.

Twenty-four feet wide and 150 feet long, the new bridge has four underground concrete columns that go 20 to 25 feet into the ground to the creekbed on each end.

It has a rough concrete surface to retard potential slickness caused by rain or ice.

Elmore said it has no weight limit.

"Every time we work with Knight Construction, we know we're going to get a good quality job," he said.

TxDOT Area Engineer Art Barrow of Big Spring arrived just after Roach's inaugural crossing to give the bridge its official acceptance.

Rivera's crew included Manuel Lopez, Adon Madrid, Edward Garza and Bobby Sanchez, all of Loraine, D. J. Rivera of Colorado City and Mike Herrera of San Angelo.

licenses to the payment of fines and the issuance and cancellation of arrest warrants for failure to appear in court.

DPS Sgt. Donald Graham of Sweetwater joined the JP's in reviewing the program, which was approved earlier this year in the biennial state legislative session in Austin.

Judge Richmond said state troopers who find an unpaid fine and license suspension on a motorist's computerized record will issue a warning the first time and then arrest the offender for driving with his or her license suspended the second time.

Sgt. Graham said 73 counties and 259 cities are already using the Omnibase System in Houston.

With all members present, the court decided to participate in the system, which will be financed with a $30 fee from each offender, $20 of that to go to the state comptroller's office, $6 to Omnibase and $4 to the county.

The county's Year 2000 effective tax rate was scheduled to be adopted Tuesday, but County Tax Assessor-Collector Faye Lee said it will probably be available late next week.

Chief Appraiser Kaye Nell Cornutt of the County Appraisal District, who did not attend the meeting, said afterwards that the county's total taxable valuation has decreased from $400,934,987 last year to $327,463,282 this year, mostly because of oil and gas property devaluations.

"The real estate pretty well held its own," she said.

Dee Blackwell of Stephens Office Supply in Snyder won approval to replace a worn-out copying machine in the county annex building with a new Xerox machine leased for 60 months at $148 a month.

She was also asked to replace the out-moded InkJet FAX machine in the sheriff's office with a new Xerox for $61 a month for 36 months.

Court members said the sheriff's old FAX machine will be offered to the DPS office here.

County Clerk Debby Carlock gained the court's okay to join the statewide Remote Birth Access system in the Texas Bureau of Vital Statistics in Austin.

Ms. Carlock said her office makes $3,000 a year for providing copies of birth certificates and other documents but said she often has to send people to neighboring counties because she cannot easily get copies of records outside Mitchell County.

The program will entail expenditures of $240 a year to join the Internet system and $360 for a new computer, she said.

Rita Lawlis of the Ted L. Parker Insurance Agency in Lubbock met with the court during its 90-minute meeting and was told to maintain county employees' health insurance with the United Pacific Co.

Commissioners voted to add $1,000 each to budgets of the senior citizens' programs at the Wallace Center here and at the Loraine Senior Citizens Center, along with $250 to the Golden Age Club in Westbrook.

Pct. 4 Commissioner Bill Preston of Loraine said the centers have been running low on funds.

Oldest companies still going strong

The 19th and early 20th centuries saw the beginnings of many Texas companies that are still a vital part of the Texas economy, and have become household names throughout the country.

Dr Pepper was created by Charles Alderton, a Waco pharmacist, in 1885. It was a hit with the customers in Morrison's Old Corner Drug in Waco, so in 1891, the Artesian Manufacturing and Bottling Works was begun. The company became Dr Pepper Company in 1902, and the corporate headquarters remains in Dallas.

The Imperial Sugar Company is one of the oldest businesses in Texas operating continuously on the same site. The company has operated at the same location and has manufactured the same refined sugar and blackstrap molasses since 1843. The facility in Sugar Land is one of the most modern in the industry, with refining capacity exceeding four million pounds of sugar each day.

Humble Oil and Refining Company began in 1911 when Texas businessman Ross Sterling obtained two producing oil wells in the Humble field. By 1912, the company's official headquarters was in Houston. In 1959, Jersey Standard bought out all of Humble's stock and in 1972, all Standard Oil companies became known as Exxon. In 1990, Exxon Corporation moved its corporate headquarters to Irving.

Attorney Frank Ginzel to curtail practice

Army Private Frank Ginzel thought at first that somebody was warning him about incoming artillery, shouting, "Heads up, heads up!"

It was Sept. 13, 1943, a week after the Texas 36th Division had stormed onshore at Salerno, Italy, and been met by Nazi Germany's 16th Herman Goering Armored Division with its scores of Tiger Tanks.

Each day can be an eternity in combat, and Private Ginzel had already experienced a lot.

He was over-acquainted with artillery, having just passed a crater with a dozen dead American soldiers in it -- and one still alive and calling for help.

In an episode that still troubles him, he continued on his mission to deliver a message to an Army commander.

When he came back by, the soldier had died, leaving him to wonder even until today if he could have saved the man's life.

Now his unit had found that 72 enemy tanks had moved in behind it, and the man calling to him was a German soldier pointing a rifle at his back and commanding, "Hands up, hands up!"

Suddenly, he had become a German prisoner of war, beginning an ordeal in which he would see thousands of men die of disease, despair, exhaustion and coups de grace delivered by bullets from the Nazi SS.

Asked if the SS men were more executioners than soldiers and were not the best soldiers in the German Army, Ginzel said, "I don't know how good a soldiers they were, but they sure did like to kill somebody."

For decades after the war, he carried a grudge against a particular SS man and swore to himself that if he ever saw the man again, he would kill him on the spot, "even in church."

Ginzel, a Burleson County native from East Texas who became a lawyer and settled in Colorado City in 1950, was moved with his fellow POW's to a camp at Musberg and the Stalag 2-B camp near Hammerstein, which was the worst POW camp in Germany.

Then they were taken to Pomerania at Koslin, next to the Treblinka concentration camp, where hundreds of thousands of Jews were gassed to death and then incinerated.

Toward the end of the war, the ground in the POW camp often shook from the encroaching Russian bombardments.

Around Christmastime in 1944, the SS began moving almost 1,200 Allied POW's south.

By the time they were freed on Jan. 26, 1945, there were fewer than 200 left.

As he is today after nearly freezing to death during an elk hunting trip to Colorado three years ago and recently having brain surgery, Ginzel was still standing.

"We'd think, come on, Ruskie, come on, Ruskie!" he recalled.

He was tough enough and lucky enough to survive when so many had not, but he found that his mental toughness had limits when he and his wife Adele visited Treblinka about eight years ago.

"She wanted to go in and look, and I just couldn't do it," he said.

"They were butchered by the SS."

He was on a work detail with some other prisoners once when he fell off a wagon and a pitchfork went through his arm and stuck in his chest.

He was told to ignore the injury and go back to work, and fortunately it healed by itself.

Ginzel, 77, was district attorney of the 32nd Judicial District for 10 years.

He left the DA's office in 1980 and pursued an active private practice until October 1995, when he and some other elk hunters went into the high mountains north of Alamosa, Colo., and were stranded by an early snowfall.

He spent 36 hours in a sleeping bag in sub-zero weather before the group was rescued by the United States Forest Service.

He sued the outfitter and settled for $35,000.

Then last March, he moved his southbound pickup truck over to meet another vehicle on a dirt road southwest of Westbrook and the pickup went into the ditch and rolled.

His treatment at a Lubbock hospital revealed a tumor in the back of his skull just above his neck.

Early April surgery to remove the tumor was successful, and he has been recuperating at his and Adele's home here.

He married Adele after his first two wives, Betty and Doris, died in 1969 and '83.

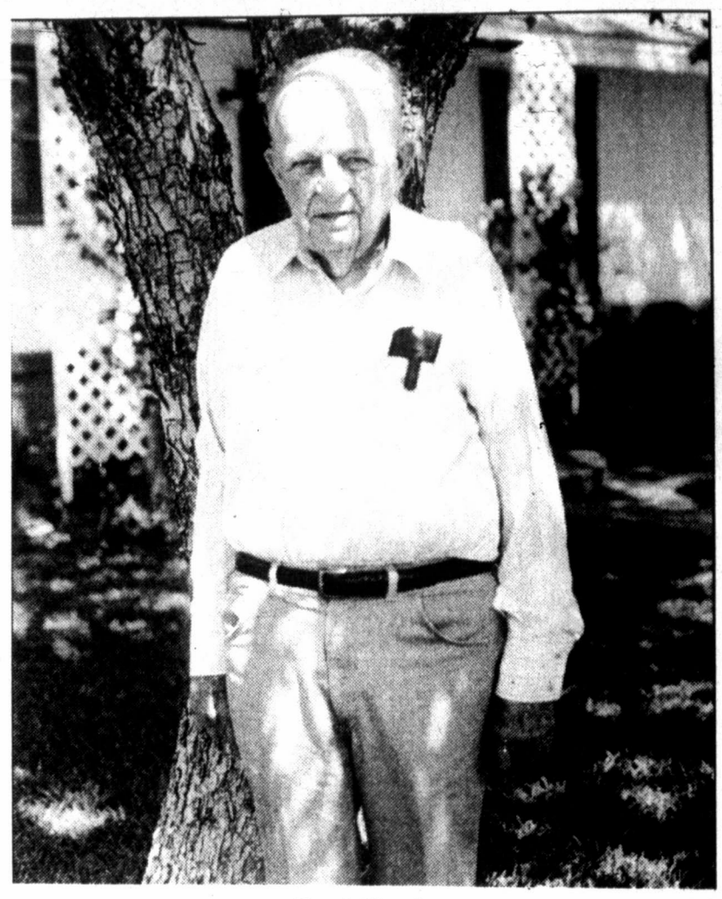

Indomitably, he still goes to his law office at 117 W. Second St. on most mornings, but he has curtailed his activities a good deal since the calamitous elk hunting trip.

"I always wanted to be out here in West Texas," he said.

"Being a lawyer in a rural county, you have to know something about all the law."

His fortes at the University of Texas School of Law were constitutional and criminal law.

He is a member of the First Presbyterian Church.

HOLIDAY

The Colorado City City Council has not yet discussed whether or not they'll offer the tax holiday in future years.

Most clothing and footwear priced at less than $100 will be exempt from sales taxes. Customers will receive the break on individual items, regardless of the amount they buy.

For example, sales tax is not due if a customer buys six shirts, each priced under $100, but if a single shirt is sold for $110, the entire $110 will be taxed in full.

Items that are sold in pairs can not be separated and sold individually. If a pair of shoes costs $150, each shoe cannot be sold for $75 in order to qualify for the sales tax exemption. However, components that are normally priced as separate articles may continue to be sold as separate and qualify for the exemption if the price of an article is less than $100.

Clothing and footwear that are used primarily for athletic activities or for protective wear are not eligible for the exemption. Customers buying golf cleat and football pads, for instance, must pay sales taxes.

The tax will be waived on athletic wear that is commonly worn other then while participating in athletic activitiy, such as tennis shoes, baseball caps and jogging suits.

Also not included in the tax holiday are accessories such as jewelry and watches; items that are carried rather than worn, including handbags, briefcases, and wallets; and clothing that is rented, such as formal wear and costumes.

The Comptroller's Office has estimated that the holiday will account for 0.2 percent of annual tax collections. The cost to the state will be $10.5 million in 1999, $28.7 in 2000, and $30 million in 2001.

Letter to the Editor:

The Mitchell County Hospital Auxiliary would like to take this opportunity to thank the good citizens of Mitchell County for their dedicated support at the gift shop.

The sales of the Mitchell County Afghans and the Wolf pillows has enabled them to purchase several items for the hospital and health care of Mitchell County.

Items purchased include a band saw for the shop, five video tapes on safety in the work place, a copy machine for the Community Health Clinic, a copy machine for the ambulance service, a copy machine and three-hole punch for the admittance office, an oximeter for home health, a special treadmill for the Rehab and a cell count machine for the lab in the past year.

The value of these items total between $28,000 to $30,000. Without the support of the community, the Pink Ladies would not be able to accomplish this.

So we, the Hospital Auxiliary, say thank you for your support and please continue your support of the Pink Ladies.

Lee Roy Miller Jr. opposed Kenneth Rogers and Larry DeBusk on the issue.

Boyd was not allowed to vote because there was not a tie.

Board member Dale Geiger, who was absent last month but attended Tuesday, said in a subsequent public statement that he would have voted with the majority.

Beasley confided with the CCR after last month's meeting that bonds totaling that much would require a monthly payment of about $75,000 and the revenues "just aren't there."

He said the payments would be a stringent requirement and the hospital district would face dire consequences if it could not make them.

Other business included Valley Fair Lodge Administrator Marsha Rickard's report that the nursing home's air conditioning system, a source of trouble last summer, went out on a hot day recently and had to be repaired.

Rick Rickard said there is enough money in her budget to buy a new system, and Beasley said she should investigate doing so.

"If that money is there, let's just use it," he said.

In his report as chairman of the board's Y2K compliance committee, DeBusk said every aspect of the district's operations has been considered and dealt with.

"I think we're ready to deal with anything that's thrown at us," he said. "I expect it to be a non-event."

Rickard said the Pink Ladies are buying a $21,000 cell counting machine for the laboratory and a $6,000 treadmill for the PT room, and he asked the board members to thank them individually when they see them.

The panel approved financing a licensed vocational nurse's scholarship for hospital nurse's aide Stephanie DeLaCruz.

Rickard said Ms. DeLaCruz has not decided where to take her training.

nois, Eaton said.

Called "transuranic waste" because they are radioactive, man-made and have an atomic number greater than uranium, the materials include rags, clothing, tools, debris and residue contaminated mostly by plutonium.

Eaton said 96 percent of the materials will be safe enough for workers to handle the barrels without gloves or protective clothing.

Writing for all the readers

By Bob Campbell

Having passed my 30th anniversary in the newspaper business on April 8, I've been reflecting on different aspects of it.

A newspaper is somewhat mysterious to most people who don't work at one.

You probably know we're taught to be objective, and you may have picked up a few things from watching the old "Lou Grant" TV show in the 1980's or movies like "Absence of Malice" or "The Paper."

We are taught to maintain objectivity, but the main thing we learn is to determine the truth as best we can and then tell it in an easily understandable, possibly entertaining way.

If you ever start deliberately lying in print, then you have besmirched yourself and will probably be drummed out of the corps.

We occasionally get requests to print things that ask "What if?" something-or-other or "What about this?" and to leave the question unanswered.

That's a big no-no because you're not supposed to raise a question that you don't answer in the same story. Doing otherwise would be unfair to the readers.

I think what makes a reporter good is the same thing that makes people good in police work, the military, politics and a lot of other jobs in which good information is crucial -- the ability to know things that you can't actually see.

The big step I made while at the Amarillo Globe-News in 1969-71 was to stop writing for anyone I knew and start writing for the general reader.

There is a tendency starting out to want to please the people you're writing about or someone else you know, but that's missing the mark. You have to write for everyone who reads the paper, not just a privileged few.

I enjoy it when the people I write about like my work, but the reason I do it is to give the paper a good story.

That's the key, and you have to master it to make the transition from amateur to professional: your loyalty is to the readers you don't know.

A lot of newspapermen pride themselves on their cynicism, and it is the wise course in some instances, like a few weeks ago when we got a letter from a woman calling herself "Sharon Black."

It dealt in great detail with the change in class schedules at the high school, and she called me a few days later, she said, from a telephone booth in Huntsville.

She said she had been teaching at Huntsville High School and her husband Joe was going to work as a correctional officer at the Wallace Unit.

It was an attempted hoax, and you have to be mindful that sometimes people will try put things over on you.

Another one I have seen is people impersonating funeral directors and calling in false obituaries.

But I think cynicism can be carried too far, affecting your mental agility and causing you to miss things.

From Amarillo to Grand Junction, Colo., Abilene, Lubbock, Snyder, Lamesa and now C-City, it has been exciting, enlightening, humorous and profound.

The Trash Ladies of Midland

By Tumbleweed Smith

It's just amazing what can happen. Some young women in Midland made up a concoction of cereal, nuts and pretzels, covered it with white chocolate, called it "White Trash" and took it to a Christmas bazaar, thinking they would sell maybe a few boxes of it.

It went like hotcakes, as the saying goes, and has been going strong ever since. It is now in the leading stores in the United States and is going great guns at Sony Plaza in Japan. Founded just five years ago, the company will do more than a million dollars' worth of business this year.

The company is called All American Snacks, Ltd. Lexie Kauffman, Sheri Brockett and Lettie Dutton own and manage the business. Using an old family recipe, Lexie made her first commercial batch of white trash in her kitchen. She called on her friend, Sheri Brockett, to help.

They first offered it for sale at the Merry Marketplace in Odessa, an annual gift event held just before Christmas. "We had to come home after the first day of the show because we were out of product," says Lexie. "We stayed up till five or six the next morning making more white trash. We though we might have something here."

They sell their product in miniature trash cans made of plastic. The manufacturer of the cans laughed when they wanted to buy just a dozen cans. He did agree to sell them 24, an amount much less than he usually sells. He's glad he was accommodating because he has sold hundreds of thousands to the women since then.

Lexie and Sheri borrowed ten thousand dollars and went to a food show in New York City. They put on formal dresses and had a butler serving "White Trash" to everyone. "We got so much media attention because of the name," says Lexie. "Our first big account was Henri Bendel, an upscale department store on Fifth Avenue. Thank to them, we're in solid with Sony and Bloomingdale's, Dillard's, Nordstrom and everywhere else in the world. It's been great. And it's because of that first show."

They go to markets in San Francisco, Chicago, Atlanta, Dallas, New York and Kansas City. They've gone to the Food and Wine Festival in Aspen, Colorado the last two years.

Sheri came aboard right after her oldest daughter had gone off to college. "I was just sort of twiddling my thumbs and Lexie called and asked for help."

All American Snacks has a dozen employees during most of the year. Around Christmas time, up to 40 people work there.

Last year their product line expanded to include chocolate rocks, small pebble-looking chocolates with a candy coating. They sell it in martini glasses and call it 'On the Rocks."

Lettie Dutton, the third owner of the company, says creativity and perseverance play large parts in their business. "We never say 'we can't'. We say 'How can we?'"

RESERVE DEPUTY SCOTT MORTON was helping the Department of Public Safety at a wreck scene Saturday morning west of Colorado City on Interstate 20. Driving this pickup truck, a Loraine man was slightly injured.

I-20 wreck injures Loraine man

A pickup truck rear-ended a van alongside a Department of Public Safety trooper and a car he had stopped at 11 a.m. Saturday 4.7 miles west of here on Interstate 20.

Trooper Carlos Diaz of Colorado City had stopped a motorist for not wearing a seatbelt but then sent him on his way to attend to the accident, he said.

A 1991 Plymouth Grand Voyager driven by 30-year-old Gerald Don Richter of Coahoma slowed in recognition of the parked cars and was hit by a 1997 Nissan extended cab pickup driven by 84-year-old August George Armstrong of Loraine, Trooper Diaz said.

Armstrong sustained minor injuries and was taken by Mitchell County EMS to the county hospital, where he was treated and released.

There were no injuries to Richter, his 30-year-old wife Korina or children, Joshua, 14, Casey, 11, and Ashlie, 8.

The collision occured just past where the DPS car and the other car were stopped, narrowly averting a more serious incident, Diaz said.

The van came to rest on the shoulder and the pickup on an off-ramp.

Diaz said DPS troopers wish more motorists would move to the left-hand lane when they approach a traffic stop.

"A lot of people are courteous and pull over, but many drive by in the same lane," he said.

"A lot of troopers are killed that way, and a lot struck, because people don't give them the simple, common courtesy to pull over to the left."

He said drivers should do the same thing when they see somebody changing a flat tire on the roadside because of the possibility that they might drift too far to the right or someone might step in front of them at the last second.

Annual Spade Reunion to be this Saturday

You don't have to be a Spade Community pioneer to attend the 33rd Annual Spade Reunion at 10 a.m. Saturday in the First Baptist Church's Activity Building at Third and Chestnut Streets.

Their friends are welcome, too.

Reunion Chairman Doris McClellan said Monday that the deadline for making reservations had been extended to Thursday.

She is taking them at 728-2910.

Last year's reunion drew the largest number of participants ever, 73, but only 45 of the more than 120 who were invited this year had returned their acceptances.

Served by the women of the First Assembly of God Church, the meal is $6.50 per person.

"We would like for the friends of people who lived at the Spade Community to feel free to come and visit," Ms. McClellan said.

"You don't have to have lived there."

Ms. McClellan and her husband Bill, Harry and Doris Dockrey of the Spade Community, Wallace Unit trustees and workers from the First Assembly of God Church last week finished a year-long project to mark every known grave in the Spade Community Cemetery 13 miles south of C-City and just east of Hwy. 163.

More than 50 graves were already marked, and using an old cemetery map and pioneers' recollections, the workers found and permanently marked another 26.

Led by Field Boss Bill Stinson, the inmates dug postholes, poured cement and installed markers.

Ms. McClellan said three members of a Mexican-American family are the only remaining people buried there who have yet to be precisely located.

She said that according to her own girlhood memories, they are somewhere in the cemetery's northeastern corner, where a long since vanished picket fence encircled their graves.

While business concerning the cemetery markers highlighted last year's reunion, she said, the more entertaining occupation of viewing old Spade Community related photographs and newspaper clippings will be undertaken this year.

Former residents Tom and Minnie Lee Moore of Midland have a large collection that they will bring, Ms. McClellan said.

The visiting phase of the reunion will start at 10 a.m., and the noontime luncheon will be followed by a short business meeting and more conversation before the event breaks up Saturday afternoon.

TXU ELECTRIC/WEST TEXAS UTILITIES
PUBLIC PARTICIPATION SESSIONS
FOR PROPOSED MORGAN CREEK-TWIN BUTTES-RED CREEK-COMANCHE TRANSMISSION LINE

TXU Electric and West Texas Utilities Company (WTU) are proposing to construct new 345-kilovolt(kV) electric transmission facilities in west-central Texas. The proposed line will be 200-225 miles long and constructed within an approximately 160-foot wide right-of-way. The study area and existing project facilities are shown on the map below.

TXU Electric and WTU are committed to routing the proposed transmission line in a manner consistent with the values of the local communities and the need to provide reliable electric service to their customers. In order to accomplish this, TXU Electric and WTU want to solicit input for use in determining the preferred route for the proposed transmission line and share information about line routing alternatives. Individuals attending the "come and go" open house meetings will have an opportunity to ask questions and make comments to representatives and technical experts from TXU Electric and WTU regarding the routing of the proposed transmission line. PBS&J, a consulting firm retained for the project, has identified preliminary alternative transmission line routes for consideration which are shown as dashed lines on the map below. These preliminary alternative routes are subject to modification based on further study and the results of these public meetings

"Cowjazz" becoming popular western swing band

Both Snyder and Roscoe claim the popular western swing band Cowjazz as their own, but it belongs more to Colorado City.

Roscoe has two members in the group to Snyder and C-City's one each, but C-City's Steve Myers was one of the founding members and the six-piece -- and often bigger -- band rehearses here at Myers' 245 Hickory St. home.

Cowjazz began in 1994 as a typical Top 40 country band and switched to western swing two years later.

"We were concerned that we would lose all the young people if we stopped playing the stuff you hear on the radio," Myers said. "Just the opposite happened."

The past three years have been an ever quickening swirl of success as the band graduated to major nightclubs including the Broken Spoke in Austin and Billy Bob's Texas in Fort Worth and then played for 20,000 people at Willie Nelson's recent Fourth of July Picnic in Luckenbach, near Fredericksburg.

"Willie's daughter Lana heard us at the Broken Spoke, and she came back the next time and heard us again," Myers said. "Willie takes a lot of stock in her opinion."

When Nelson called singer and fiddle and mandolin player J. D. Barham of Snyder in late June to invite Cowjazz to perform, Barharm thought one of the band members was joking with him before he realized it was Nelson.

Lana Nelson persuaded her father and Merle Haggard to record "Pancho and Lefty" after hearing it on a Townes van Zandt album.

In addition to Myers, who sings and plays guitar and harmonica, the founding members are drummer Ray Carnathan and upright bassist Doug Richburg, both of Roscoe.

Others are Hawaiian steel guitarist and fiddler Bobby Baker of Claremore, Okla., and soundman-road manager Russell Davis of Abilene.

Myers and Barham are the lead singers.

The group also often uses a horn section from Abilene and trumpeter Richard Cartwright, whose "day job" is playing "The Call to the Post" at the Lone Star Park horseracing track at Grand Prairie, west of Dallas.

Myers, 42, is one of the original technicians at the Lorber Industries textile mill at Snyder, having come to C-City in the late 1970's as an employee of Chevron Oil Co. He is a native of McLean, near Pampa in the Panhandle.

The band uses his house to practice in because it is a converted tractor dealership building and it has a ultra large living room.

He raised four boys as a single parent, performing as a solo musician and developing a repertoire of more than 700 songs, before marrying his wife Christy, becoming a stepfather to her two children and then having another child who is now 1 year old.

Carnathan is a senior patrol officer with the Sweetwater Police Department, Richburg a State Mental Health-Mental Retardation official in Sweetwater, Barham a criminology-sociology professor at Western Texas College in Snyder, Baker a crop insurance appraiser and Davis an employee of Bunkley Sound Systems in Abilene.

The band bought a 1958 GMC tour bus from a Michigan polka band in January and recorded a compact disc album, "Playing with a Stacked Deck," in May at an Austin studio owned by swing band Asleep at the Wheel.

Noted pianist Floyd Domino produced it, and the band was named "Western Swing Band of the Year" on July 16 at the Will Rogers Cowboy Awards in Fort Worth.

In keeping with the lighthearted tradition of western swing, Myers is also known as "Buttermilk," Davis as "Cat Daddy" and Baker as "The Man of Steel."

Like Bob Wills and the Texas Playboys, Spade Cooley's California band and others in the genre's tradition, Cowjazz keeps up a banter on stage and off, once introducing a Playboy who was sitting in with them as "proof that a monkey can learn to play the piano."

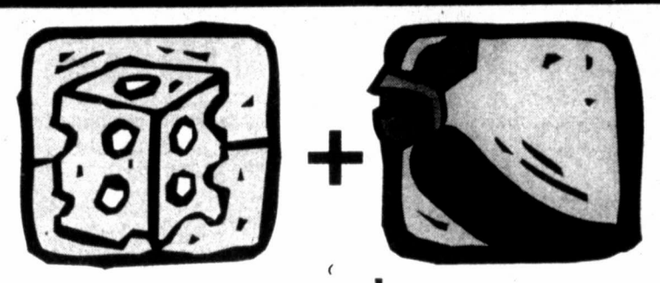

Band members had been attending the annual Bob Wills Day in Turkey, in the Panhandle, each May for a number of years, but this year they were invited to perform.

"J. D. had not missed a year since the late '70's, so to get to actually perform up there was quite a treat," Myers said.

Noting that western swing is based on jazz and is the most complex type of country-western music, he said, "Very few people play it anymore, but it's what I grew up listening to.

"It's just got unbelievable chords in it."

Smith-Detamore united in Las Vegas ceremony

Miss Aimee Nicole Smith was married Saturday, July 17, to Mr. Rex Brent Detamore in Las Vegas, Nevada at the chapel in Treasure Island hotel.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen A. Smith of Colorado City. She was given away by her father.

Her paternal grandparents are Mrs. Julius O. Smith and the late Julius O. Smith of Colorado City. Her maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Alton Showalter of Washington, Indiana, also deceased.

Mr. Detamore is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Detamore of Stamford, Texas.

His maternal grandparents are Mrs. Roy Medford of Haskell and the late Roy Medford. His paternal grandparents are Mrs. Joe Detamore and the late Mr. Joe Detamore of Shawnee, Oklahoma.

Miss Smith wore a gown designed by Mon Cherie of Italian silky satin. The full skirt was accented with a modified natural waist covered with re-embroidered Alencon lace with hundreds of hand sewn tiny seed pearls.

A wide border of the same lace and pearls complimented the hemline. The skirt fell gently into a semi-cathedral train. Her veil of silk illusion was bordered in ribbon and was held in place by a band of silk rosebuds.

The bride carried a bouquet of bridal white roses, bouvarding stephanotis and casa blanca lillies which cascaded with english ivy, plumosa fern, lepto and Italian ruscus.

Miss Amber Elise Mayfield of Arlington, Texas, served as her maid of honor. She was attired in a short navy dress and carried a nosegay of spring flowers.

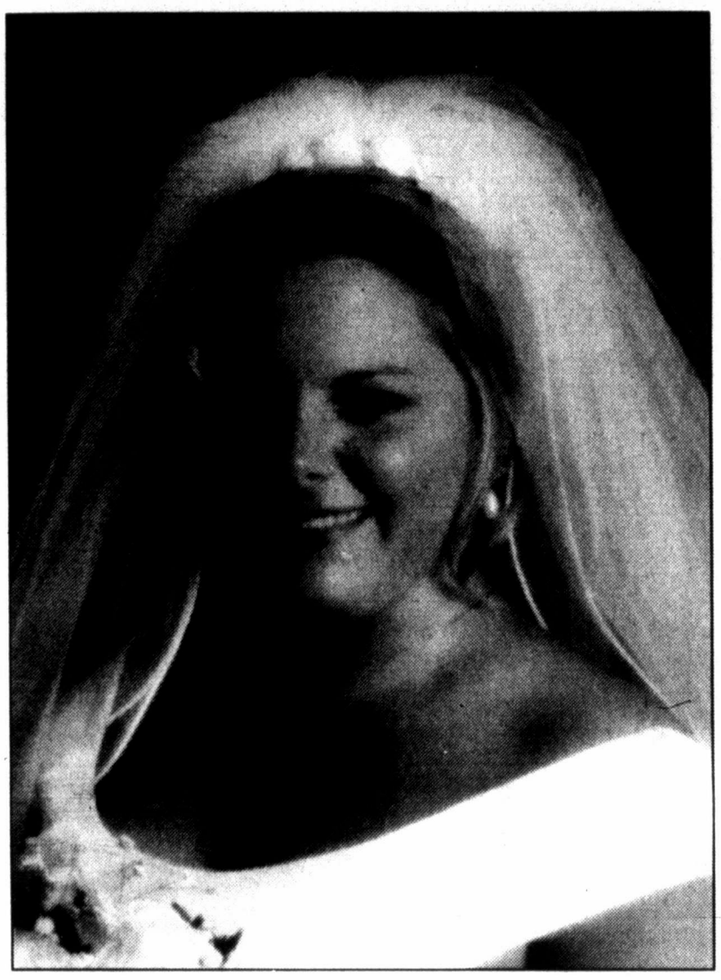

Mr. Detamore's best man was Mark Davis of San Antonio, Texas.

The bride graduated from Colorado High and Texas Tech University with a BS in Financial Planning in 1996.

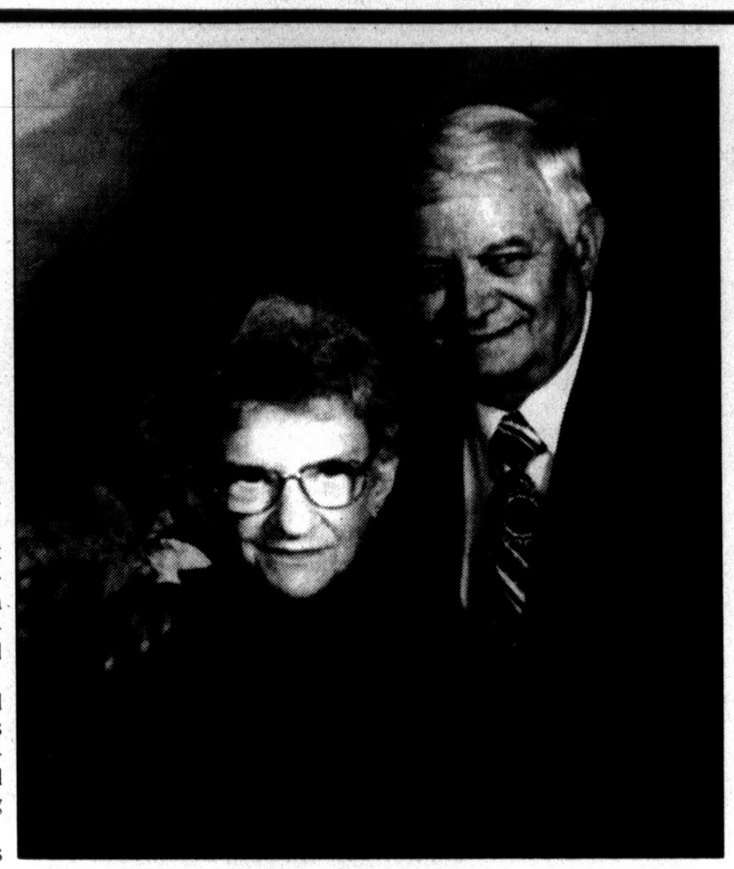

The groom graduated from Stamford High and Tarleton State University in 1993 with a BS in Agri-Business.

The couple will reside in Stamford, Texas.

Out of state guests were from Illinois, Indiana and Louisiana.

Maines celebrate 50 years

Mr. and Mrs. L.D. Maines were honored Saturday, July 24, 1999 in Lubbock on their 50th wedding anniversary.

The anniversary celebration began on Friday, with friends and family gathering in Lubbock for the weekend long event.

On Saturday, L.D. and Mary Lou were the guests of honor at a dinner at the Lubbock Inn hosted by their children, Mike and Pat Maines of Lubbock, Skip and grandson, Cody Maines of Austin, Jane and Matt McVay and grandsons, Blase and Andrew of Carrollton. More than 60 family members and friends from as far away Virginia and Colorado attended the party.

L.D. and Mary Lou were married July 24, 1949 at Oak Street Baptist Church in Colorado City where they have been members since 1945. L.D. still serves as deacon and Mary Lou retired in 1995 after working as church secretary for 17 years. L.D. retired from Costin Implement in 1989 after 36 years with the company.

In the early years of their marriage, the couple were active members of the Colorado City Flying Eagles Motorcycle Club. Members of the group often enjoyed vacations together traveling around the country on their motorcycles.

The Maine's remain active in their church and enjoy spending time with friends and family and take special pride in time spent with their three grandsons, ages 5,8, and 9.

First Christian in Snyder to host anniversary

As part of their 100th anniversary celebration, First Christian Church of Snyder will have a homecoming event on Sunday, August 1. All former members in West Texas are urged to be present.

The information on the application may be checked by the school or other officials at any time during the school year. If your child is approved for meal benefits, you must notify the school when your income increases by $50.00 or when your household size decreases.

In certain cases foster children are eligible for these benefits. If you have foster children living with you and wish to apply for free or reduced benefits, please tell the school and they will help you in getting an application completed.

You may apply for benefits at any time during the school year. If you are not eligible now, but have a decrease in household income, become unemployed, or have an increase in family size, fill out an application at that time.

In the process of serving children, there will be no physical segregation of or other discrimination against any child because of race, color, handicap, age, religion, national origin or political belief.

loraine news

By Bessie Ann Vaughn

Greetings. I hope you had a good week and found a way to stay cool.

I feel like the secret is to turn the thermostat toward "colder" and stay indoors.

The dogs are getting so hot, they won't even run and fetch.

Dogs that usually chase cars, just turn their heads real quick, pretending not to notice a car go by. They can't bear to lose face when they are known to the other canines as "top dog". They are now reduced to "top hot dogs."

Rev. and Mrs. Dan Marshall, Treston and Peyton were here Friday and Saturday on business and were dinner guests of Allie Ruth Wiggins last Saturday.

Jan Brown's daughter, Toni Jan, and baby Christina, came to Loraine where they will stay a week visiting with Jan and also with great-grandmother, Bertha Fay Snyder.

Shirley Kendall hosted a "pampered chefs" party last week in her home.

Vonda Warren of Wink, Tx. was demonstrator for the event. A nice crowd attended the party and everyone had fun!

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Mearse, Mrs. Ida Baird, Allie Ruth Wiggins and Willa Dean Forbus attended the retirement reception for Rev. and Mrs. Jimmy Turner at Haskell First Baptist Church Sunday, July 25.

Rev. Turner was pastor here 1962-65.

Blondie Hamilton called me Saturday to let friends and neighbors know (she had previously called her sister, Biddie Jones) that while in Alamosa, Colorado Friday Ham collapsed and was rushed to a hospital. He underwent emergency abdominal surgery and at the time she called, he was still in ICU.

The Hamiltons are still residents of Loraine, spending winters here, then staying at their home in Creede, Colorado in summer.

The couple has many friends here who will want their address in Creede: Box 334, Creede, Colorado 81130. Their home phone number (719)658-2746.

Our concern list has grown this week. We have concerns not only for Ham, but for Joe Martin, Janie Wright, Ray Eiden, Alfred and Elaine McMichael, Aurora Muñoz and Sarah Gohery and I'm sure there are others I'm not aware of.

Loraine Manor

Minnie reports that none of the residents are ill at this time and things are fairly quiet.

Monday, the schedule is Bingo and a resident council meeting.

Tuesday is craft day and Wednesday is Bible study and Bingo.

Thursday we will have Beauty Shop and a taste of Mexico. Also, the Old Sorehead Band from Stanton will play.

Friday, a movie and popcorn is scheduled.

There are no new residents at this time.

Center News

We had a good time tapping toes listening to "old time" country music performed by Aubrey Wilson and his Snyder country band featuring Jack Denman, Billie Jack Wilson and Aubrey himself.

The band features several Bob Wills songs like "Faded Love" and "San Antonio Rose."

Mr. Denman works a crowd well with humorous quips via microphone. On a serious note, he let us know that Cecil Mearse of Snyder, says hello to Lorainians. We say "hi" back to him.

It was good to have Don and Francis Richburg at the Center Friday and also Jessie Marth, all of Roscoe.

We are looking forward to birthday party day Wednesday.

Visiting in the home of Leona Linam and family over the weekend were Mrs. Jack Cherry, Bobby and Vanessa Cherry, Bonnie and Jesslyn of Lake Jackson, Texas. Saturday night, the group celebrated Leona's birthday with a fish fry at the home of Brenda and Tommy Linam.

"New Baby"

On July 27, 1930, 69 years ago, my mother informed her family that before nightfall they should have a new baby in the house.

She gave instructions to everyone, telling them what they could do to help.

She sent my oldest sister to a neighbor's house to say that it was time for her to come and assist.

It was always good to have another woman's help in those days when birthing was done at home.

My sister was only 11 and too embarrassed to talk about the matter.

When she was asked how her mother was, she replied,"Just fine."

My sister went home alone. My mother was upset.

A bad storm cloud was building and looking meaner every minute.

My dad was rushed into town for the doctor. Well, it seemed as if the doctor had ingested a potent painkiller, giving himself a dose of a four finger measurement on a "special bottle".

After four cups of black coffee and plenty of fresh air, the doctor still could not have birthed a jackrabbit.

My dad went home alone. My mother began to cry.

The thunder, lightening and wind was terrible and she feared broken glass might blow in on her new baby. Her bed was moved away from the window.

The moment of truth arrived and I'm told a great calm appeared in her manner and she presided over the birthing like a ship's captain at sea. All the while, telling her ship mates what to do.

The water had boiled away. I was born on that day. What a pitiful start. I'm pleased they helped me start it.

CHRISTIAN YOUTH IN ACTION

By Paul Johnson, 22nd & Austin Sts. Church of Christ

When summer comes, it seems like everyone scatters in different directions and life gets almost busier then when school is in session.

June is a busy month with camp at Lake Cisco Christian Camp, a junior session and senior session. One of our young men served as a jr. counselor in one of the cabins during the junior session.

Vacation Bible School also makes for a busy June. There were classes for all ages. Several of our youth group got out and did a lot of door knocking, inviting kids and parents to come. Also, several of them helped teach classes during Bible school.

Two of our youth attended a singing school at the Haskell Church of Christ, July 11-17. Also during July, the group attended the Tuesday night summer youth series. Sites for the youth rallies include Hawley, Haskell, Roscoe and Sweetwater.

We are going to have our annual campout at Abilene State Park, August 6-8, before school starts again.

Currently, our regular activities include Wednesday night congregational devotionals. One Wednesday night of the month, our young men lead the devotional, including speaking and song leading.

We have regular Bible class and worship, beginning at 9:45 a.m. each Sunday and also evening worship at 6:30 p.m. On Wednesday nights, worship services begin at 7:30 p.m. Everyone is invited to attend.

Businesses wanting to employ students need to apply now

With changing technology, the school-to-work initiative has taken many new avenues in recent years, but old fashioned experience is still the best trainer.

Job shadowing, interships and entry level employment provides students with the skills necessary for the workforce. The early experience of work can help a students establish a career choice.

Exploring the world of work helps one to know what he wants from a career and therefore increases the probability of success. The maturity gained through work can help a student develop healthy work relationships, build networking skills, earn tuition, develop good work habits and propel him into lifelong learning.

The Diversified Career Preparations class is designed to help implements these objectives. By mixing vocational and academic education students can expand their skill base and make an easier transition from school to work.

If you have employment opportunities or would like to provide work-based training for high school students through job-shadowing, Mrs. Fambro at Colorado High, would like to help connect you with a student who is searching for work-based training. You may call the high school at 728-1078 or 728-3424 to discuss the program or to schedule a meeting.

Exchange student hosts needed

Hosting a high school exchange student in August 99 is bringing the world to your doorstep.

Families of all types, retired couples to single parent families, are needed. Not only two parent families have enjoyed hosting an international son or daughter.

Students are arriving from various countries, such as Brazil, Germany, Spain, Russia, Finland and many others.

Students arrive sometime in late August with their own spending money for clothes, entertainment and other expenses. The international students will be attending local high school for either 5 or 10 months (first semester or academic year). They have their own medical insurance as well.

Host families agree to room and board and to include them as a family member. All students speak English.

For more infomration, call Joyce, toll free, at Cultural Academic Student Exchange, 877-846-5848.

New band directors eager to start

NEW BAND DIRECTORS Jincy and Jeremy Ross have joined the Colorado Middle School and High School faculties, Ms. Ross to guide the sixth grade band and her husband to direct the high school Fightin' Wolves Band.

Facing a bandhall full of young musicians with nothing but your goals, your voice and a baton, a band director seeks a delicate balance between order and motivation.

You can't be their friend because one day soon you may have to enforce your authority and they will feel betrayed.

You can't be too critical because they will become discouraged and too many will quit.

Newly appointed Colorado High School Band Director Jeremy Ross's approach is to keep them busy and treat them like adults until they force him to treat them like children.

"From the time they come into the room until they leave, they are busy playing or marching," he said. "They don't have a whole lot of opportunity for laziness or goofing off or any of that kind of stuff.

"We have 50 minutes every day, and we're going to make the most of that 50 minutes.

"We maintain a sense of discipline and keep our standards very high and our expectations very high."

Ross and his wife Jincy were co-directors of the junior high and high school bands the past two years at Class 2-A Coahoma, winning consecutive sweepstakes awards and the "Outstanding Junior High Band" title at the Winter Park Band Festival last spring northwest of Denver, Colo.

Ms. Ross will be Middle School Band Director Joe Wayne Harper's assistant and director of the sixth grade band.

"We really strive to make music fun," she said. "The neat thing about an elective is that they choose to be involved in it, and you should try to make it fun or rewarding, something they will want to do for a lifetime.

"We try to respect the kids as long as they respect us."

They said the Coahoma bands increased in number by five to 10 students a year when they were there.

Ms. Ross, 25, is a native of Fort Stockton, and her 26-year-old husband is from Littlefield.

They both graduated from high school in 1992 and met at McMurry University in Abilene, where they earned bachelor's degrees in '96.

They lived for eight months in Tampa, Fla., where she did her student teaching and he was a youth minister at a United Methodist Church -- a job he held part-time at the First UMC in C-City as a McMurry student.

Kelley Elementary School Principal Kitten Arthur is his aunt.

The Rosses had their first experience with local teenagers in leading high school drum majors, twirlers and flag corps members to a camp July 11-17 at Angelo State University in San Angelo.

Flag corps members Johnny Morales, Megan Merrell, Ashley Hill, Candi Garrett and Shawna Wilking bested groups from 20 other schools to make it into the finals with seven other teams and eventually finished fourth overall.

Bryson Johnson and Becky Luera will continue as drum majors this year.

Band practice will start at 9 a.m. Monday, Aug. 2, in the CHS Bandhall and continue every weekday through Monday the ninth.

Ross said that students who dropped out last year or in previous years may simply attend the first day's practice and rejoin.

The director said marching practice is particularly important for freshmen because, although they have been well-schooled as musicians by Harper, their marching experience is limited.

Loraine ISD registration dates set

According to Loraine Superintendent David Lewein, classes will begin at Loraine School on Monday, August 16. All students and teachers will meet at 8 a.m. in the new P.E. Facility for a general assembly.

Registration for the upcoming school year will be from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday during the remaining summer vacation. Parents are reminded to immunize their children at the proper times. The district remains at 100% compliance level thanks to the help of all our parents.

As a convenience to parents and students, Loraine School will furnish all school supplies for students.

The school will offer free and reduced breakfasts and lunches for the student whose families meet the federal guidelines. Regular prices are breakfast, 50¢; lunch for K-6, $1.10; grades 7-12, $1.25.

Superintendent Lewein also stated that there will be no pre-kindergarten classes for the upcoming school year and that he is working on a pre-school and post-school child care program for latch key children. This program would be part of the district's outreach to the community effort.

School dismissal for all Loraine students will be at 3:30 p.m. this year.

COLORADO INDEPENDENT SCHOOL DISTRICT

Colorado City, Texas 79512

28 July 1999

Dear Parents:

As we approach the beginning of a new school year, I would like to take this opportunity to welcome all of you. For many, it is a greeting extended to old friends; to others, it is an introduction and an invitation. To all, it constitutes a pledge of continued efforts to provide the best possible education for our young men and women.

Our district's reputation and success rest, in large measure, on parental concern and involvement. We seek to afford each student an education commensurate with his or her abilities, relevant to this country's needs, and challenging to a degree that will prompt a love of learning. This is no easy task. We need your cooperation and understanding if this year is to provide a profitable and satisfying experience for your child. Our district, from its foundation, has stressed academic excellence...in this there is no compromise or change.

Colorado Independent School District takes pride in its highly qualified and dedicated faculties. These educators welcome your concern, and they view education as a partnership between home and school. Over the years, the spirit and tradition of CISD have played a key role in shaping the educational experience our students receive. Each campus and or class profits from the example of those who have gone before them. Ours has been a tradition of students committed to the proposition that the privilege of attending the schools in CISD carries with it the obligation to do the best they can. These are important years, and it is reassuring to work with young people who see a challenge in their potential—to become the best they can. If there is anything we can do to help your child, please do not hesitate to call or come by our schools. The unvoiced problem cannot be resolved, as the missed opportunity rarely offers itself again. Our goal remains to provide the best possible opportunity for each student to receive a quality education.

We trust that your experience with our district will enhance your faith in public education and that you will find in our schools an education for your children that is worthy of your love and concern for them.

I look forward to working with each of you throughout the coming school year.

Sincerely

Clinton E. Compton

Clinton E. Compton, Superintendent
Colorado Independent School District

Can Your Child See Well Enough To Learn?

When your children enter school this fall, about 80% of what they learn will come through sight. Yet 4 out of 10 children have vision problems that can inhibit school achievement. Most vision problems cannot be detected by the familiar eye chart test for 20/20 vision. Help make your child's future crystal clear.

DOES YOUR CHILD...

- Avoid close work?
- Hold reading material too close?
- Show excessive head movement while reading?
- Lose his place while reading?
- Rub eyes frequently?
- Make reversals while reading?
- Often have headaches?
- Uses a finger to maintain his place while reading?

If so, we recommend having your child's vision tested.

Lady Wolves volleyball team to start two-a-days

This year's Lady Wolves' volleyball players have been playing in Snyder's summer league in preparation for the upcoming season, their second in district 4-3A.

It is safe to say that the ladies are in a "re-building" season, after having lost seven senior starters to graduation, with only two starters returning from last year's group.

"We're going to be a young team," said volleyball Head Coach Karen Trent.

"They've got a lot of enthusiasm, they work hard. They gave up their own time to do summer league this summer," she added.

The Lady Wolves start two-a-days August 4, at 6:30 in the morning. Actually, they will be going through three-a-days, as Trent has arranged for a rigorous six-hour per day schedule going from 6:30-7:30, 9-11 and 1-4 p.m at the gym.

The young team will start the season off against a strong San Angelo Lakeview squad on August 13, which should put together another talented group this year.

The Lady Wolves' schedule doesn't get any easier either, which should give the youthful squad some valuable experience going into District 4-3A play September 25 against Seminole's Lady Maidens at the Pit.

Though everyone in the district lost starters to graduation, Colorado City was the hardest hit.

District champion Lamesa lost three starters, Seminole lost one.

Lubbock Cooper will have Holly Beard return as a senior at middle hitter, and an outside hitter who will be a sophomore after being honored as the district's newcomer of the year last season.

Brownfield's Lady Cubs lost Kylie Caswell, last season's "big girl", who matched up against Kendra Anderson.

Denver City, as with every team in the district, lost their big girl to graduation, prompting Trent to concede that the whole district will be a bit smaller this season.

Understandably, all the coaches in district 4-3A are a little hesitant to predict the outcome at season's end.

"Whoever wins on the road is going to the playoffs," said Trent.

Setter Margaret Ann Jamison will return to the starting lineup this season, as will Leiza Rivera. The other three starters, as well as the remainder of the varsity squad is, at this time, up in the air.

The squads, from freshmen to varsity, will be determined by performances in pre-season practices and scrimmages.

Referring to last year's nail-biting finish at season's end, Coach Trent concluded with this thought.

"Its probably going to be the same this year as far as the playoffs are concerned. You won't know who is going to the playoffs until you get up the morning of October 26 and read the newspaper."

Leverton turns down job...

looking forward to rebuilding Lady Wolves

CHS Lady Wolves' Head Basketball Coach Darrin Leverton has had a great career at Colorado High, and though he has had offers to coach elsewhere this summer, the savvy girls' athletic coordinator for CHS has opted to keep his family here.

Many things helped the five-year CHS coach and his family make the decision to stay in C-City.

"I had a good job offer right at the end of school with Muleshoe," said Leverton.

"I went up up there about three times and watched them work out and I decided not to take it."

"It would have been a good job, with a little less pay, but we've been real happy here," he added.

The successful coach sees a bright future at CHS, though he knows this year may be tough.

"We're probably going to have a re-building year this year, but hopefully we will drop down to 2A (with next year's re-alignment).

"We've got some really good kids, they're just young," said Leverton.

The coach's vision of dropping to 2A may be crystal clear, as the big schools just keep getting bigger and the small schools stay at their current enrollment, or are getting smaller.

The possibility of a favorable re-alignment for C-City helped Leverton with his decision to stay at CHS.

"That's part of the reason I decided not to leave," said Leverton, "not only do we like the town and the people real well, but I see some hope there.

"We got some good young kids coming up and we've got some good older kids, but there's just not very many of them. We just don't have many seniors or juniors, but we have a lot of sophomores and freshmen."

"You know, if we can compete in this strong district another year and then move down, we ought to go like gang-busters the year after that."

Leverton's coaching expertise may some day force him to make a move, but for now, he is still making history at CHS.

Wolves to begin two-a-days next week

The Colorado City Wolves head back to the practice field next week to begin defense of their 1998 District 3-3A football Championship and are once again picked to finish third in district, just behind Lamesa and Seminole.

The CHS coaching staff spent this week in Ft. Worth at coaching school in preparation for two-a-day workouts, which begin August 4.

Dave Campbell's Texas Football magazine has once again used their only tools available to make pre-season picks.

The editors at Texas Football send out questionnaires to high school coaches, for information such as returning lettermen, top prospects and coaching changes.

From this compilation of information, they then make their pre-season picks. Last year, they were worse than "Jimmy the Greek" on his worst day, which was pretty bad.

So don't put a lot of a stock in what Texas' self-proclaimed football bible has predicted.

They have picked Lamesa to win district 3-3A, and after looking at all the teams in our district, this may not appear to be a bad choice.

But the games must be played, and when the two 1998 district 3-3A coaches of the year face off, their teams will be hungry.

CHS Coach Gerald James and Lamesa Head Coach Tim James shared the honor of Coach of the Year in district 3-3A last season, and that district match-up should be a barn-burner at Wolf Stadium October 22.

Lamesa returns 17 lettermen, with seven starters returning on both offense and defense. Colorado City returns nine lettermen, with two starters returning on both offense and defense.

Second-place pick Seminole will regroup on the gridiron with 11 lettermen, four starters on both offense and defense.

Fourth-place pick Denver City returns with 11 lettermen and four starters on offense and three starters on defense.

Slaton and Brownfield are picked to finish fifth and sixth, respectively, in district 3-3A.

The Tigers return 12 lettermen, with six starters returning to the offense and four returning to the defense.

The Cubs bring back 10 starters from their 0-10 team of a year ago, four starters return to the offensive lineup and six return to defense.

Lamesa's Golden Tornadoes finished 5-6 last year after making the Division I playoffs.

Colorado City won the district and went on to finish 10-3 after making it to Regional against the Childress Bobcats.

The Indians finished 6-4 after losing in the first round of the Division II playoffs.

Colorado City begins the season with Sonora at Wolf Stadium August 27 at 8 p.m. Last year, the Wolves beat the Broncos 18-12 with one minute left in the game as Terry Green ran it in from 12 yards out.

Game two for the Pack will be against Ballinger, a team which Colorado City beat for the first time in 10 years in last season's meeting.

The Wolves catch the Bearcats in Wolf Stadium this season as the Bearcats return 16 lettermen and are picked to finish second in district 6-3A behind Abilene Wylie.

Wildcats return six seniors - start workouts Aug. 4

Westbrook Wildcats' Head Football Coach Jim Hill always has offers to coach at other schools, but would like to retire a Wildcat.

In his seventeenth season at WHS, Coach Hill grudgingly sees this year as a re-building year.

"We are kind of rebuilding this season," said Hill.

The coach hesitates to use the term, saying that it implies that you have no hope for the current season, but Westbrook is coming off a 5-5 season last year in which they narrowly missed making the playoffs.

The Wildcats lost five players to graduation, but will field six seniors on this years' team.

This season, the veteran coach hopes to have someone step up and take the quarterback position to new heights.

Potential QB's for the team include Joe Rich, Trey Roemisch and Chris Matlock.

Matlock did a great job at backup QB last season for Sam Harless, and could prove to be a valid candidate for the starting role this year.

Hill would like to run the spread offense because of a lack of team speed, but that requires a strong passer and solid pass blocking.

If the team can't pass, then they will have to run the tight offense.

Either way, the team begins its 1999 season Wednesday, August 4 at WHS field house at 6 a.m.

Coach Hill's forecast for his seventeenth group of young men on the WHS gridiron depends on "how hard the kids work, having no injuries and how hard they want to hit somebody".

"Our kids are going to have a good year, they are going to play hard," said Hill.

Westbrook has a scrimmage set up with Loraine August 20 in Loraine, but has yet to settle plans for the next week.

Coach Hill would like to see WHS, LHS, Highland and Grady have a round-robin scrimmage August 27 in Westbrook, but nothing has been agreed to as yet.

The Wildcats start the season on the road against Blackwell at 7:30 p.m. September 3.

Bulldogs start workouts Wednesday, August 4th

Loraine High School has been blessed with a new Head Football Coach. His name is Victor Garcia and he is a familiar face at LHS, having been coaching kids there for the past three years.

Coach Garcia has a great resume, with several years of experience.

He was at Trent High School about 10 years ago, spending time as an assistant before grudgingly taking the Head Coaching position of the football team.

The humble mentor possibly did not feel he was ready to take the reigns at that time, but he does now.

Upon the recent resignation of Jerry Miller, Garcia felt the kids had gone through too much change at the head position and needed some stability, someone they were familiar with.

Coach Garcia qualifies, and then some. His kids already love him and respect his abilities.

The coach wisely spent time in Lubbock this past summer at the Four Points Sheridan for a coaching clinic. He and his new assistant coach, Steven Comppa, reportedly took home all the good stuff for the Bulldogs.

The veteran teacher is excited about the prospects for this year, and the next few years at LHS.

"The boys I've coached have a good understanding of what it takes to win," said Garcia.

"No matter what the score, or what their record is, they keep going. Last year's season finale against Veribest was like a playoff game and both teams gave it everything they had."

Garcia has scheduled two-a-day workouts to begin Wednesday, August 4 at 7 a.m. The workouts will be held from 7 until about noon, with a break around 9:30 a.m., to avoid the heat of the day in the afternoon.

The Bulldogs' first season under Garcia begins on the road against Klondike at 7:30.
