$400 in Awards Go To FFA, FHT and Four-H Members

The date of the annual Youth Project Show has been reset on Saturday, April 9, Cameron Beam, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce committee in charge, announced Tuesday morning, March 15. The date originally set was April 16, but since this comes the day before Easter, and many people will be making plans for that day, the committee felt.

This year's show will follow the same general pattern as those in former years. Future Homemakers of the Dodson, Quail, Sammorwood and Wellington schools, and members of all girls 4-H Clubs will take part in the girls division.

Future Farmers of Wellington, Quail, and Sammorwood, and Boys 4-H Club members will participate in the livestock division.

Approximately $400 in premiums will be paid in the two divisions. Livestock will again be shown at the Cicero Smith Lumber Company, while the homemaking projects will be shown in the display windows of stores around the square. Homemaking teachers and 4-H Club sponsors will direct the work.

For the first time, rabbits will be exhibited in the show, and were added after interest in rabbits among local people in general had (Continued on Page Twelve)

Committee to Work Out Plans for Street Paving

Sixteen Candidates Certified For School Trustee Election

The Wellington School Board, in a meeting Wednesday night, March 9, certified the names of 16 candidates for the 7 places on the school board to be elected Saturday, April 2, and appointed a committee to work with the city council on a plan for paving streets passing the schools.

The board voted to pave all streets around the school that it possibly can with the money available. A committee composed of Austin O'Neil, Tom Campbell and Ansel McDowell was named to work with the city council on this. Action on the paving problem has not been taken, since the City Council has held no meeting since that date, Mr. O'Neil, secretary of the school board, said.

Morris Wells was named election judge in the coming election. Clerks will be Mrs. Tom Stall, Mrs. Joe Terry, Mrs. Neeta Brantley and Miss Lucille Bennett.

There will be only one voting box, and that will be in the county court room of the court house.

Names certified on the ballot were Cameron Beam, Austin O'Neil, Tom Campbell, Fred Cox, Ansel McDowell, Drury Lacy, Jim Wood, Silas Crawford, Emil Kersten, Sam Gholson, Homer Ingram, Bill Hughes, Elmer Hiatt, Wallace O'Rear, Floyd Nipper and Orval Couch.

Two men whose names had been filed, J. W. Wells and Henry Sullivan, told the board that they were not candidates and requested that their names not be placed on the ballot.

An Art Exhibit featuring reproductions of many of the world's masterpieces will be held at the new elementary school from April 4 through 8, Miss Bonnie Willis, principal, announced this week.

These pictures are secured through the Colonial Art Company of Oklahoma City, and the school will be given the opportunity to buy as many of the pictures as they wish.

Tickets for the exhibit are now on sale and will be pushed until the time exhibit opens.

All proceeds will go to the school and will be used in the purchase of pictures.

"We are taking this means of getting pictures of high quality for our new building," Miss Willis said. "We plan to make this exhibit an annual event, and to use the proceeds each year to buy more pictures."

There are 150 large colored reproductions of the Old and Modern Masters. Among the most famous artists represented are: Gainsborough, Titian Da Vinci, Terboch, Murillo, Van Dyck, Raphael, and (Continued on Page Twelve)

Honors Men Who Died in War, Peace

Norwoods Give Land For Memorial Park

Plans have been drawn and work started on a memorial park at Sammorwood honoring the veterans of World War II who died in service.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Norwood, pioneer residents of that area for whom the town was named, have given the land adjoining the school ground for the purpose of honoring the war dead and the people who have died while working for or in connection with the school, Orville Cunningham, superintendent of the Sammorwood school, has announced.

"This will be one of the beauty spots of the town. The plot of ground is to be surrounded with Amor River privet hedge on three sides and on the fourth with Arizona Cypress. At the foot of each cypress will be a marker with the name of the person who died while working in the employ of the school," Mr. Cunningham explained. "A 42-inch walk will divide the plot in half, crossing the length of park. This walk will lead from the entrance of the park to the memorial monument where the names of our honored servicemen can be read.

"Diamond shaped curbed beds for roses will be placed along the side of the walk and grass will cover

Present plans are to hold a community pie supper in the near future to raise funds for improving the park, in order to make it one that all will be proud of.

"Look for the announcement of the date of the pie supper. It will be put in the papers when the date is set," Mr. Cunningham said.

J. G. Finley Car Found in Amarillo

A 1948 Ford car belonging to J. G. Finley of Wellington, and taken from his home Sunday night, was recovered by Amarillo officers shortly after midnight Tuesday morning in Amarillo.

Seven men and three women were in the car at the time, but charges were filed against only one, Doyle W. Tompkins, 22.

Sheriff Claude McKinney went to Amarillo Tuesday afternoon to return Tompkins to Wellington.

The car belonging to Dr. D. V. Watkins was also taken Sunday night, but was found by City Marshal Elmer Jones parked near the Wellington Hotel.

Interest Keen At Quail Well

A new string of casing has been run in the R. E. Farmer et al No. 1 L. A. Helms test well five miles northwest of Quail. Drillers are slushing out the hole to resume drilling, and the next two or three days should tell the story on this well, reports from Quail shortly before Wednesday, March 16, stated.

"The well looks as good as it can, not knowing what the result will be," Tom Crabtree, Quail merchant, said. "They think they are sitting right on top of what they are looking for."

The well is now at a depth of approximately 2,935 feet.

Some difficulty was experienced finding casing of the type needed to run in the well, and work was closed down for several days to secure this, then set the casing.

Interest, particularly from outside the county, has been active since the first announcement that the well would be drilled, but within the last ten days this interest has mounted, and it is believed it will be even greater when work starts after the well is slushed out, Mr. Crabtree said.

Rockets Meet Lefors Friday

Wellington High School's undefeated and untied boxing team will meet the supreme test in the Wellington ring Friday night, March 18, when the boys tangle with the Lefors Pirates at 8 o'clock.

Lefors also has an undefeated boxing team, but that team has been tied once during the season. This is the first meeting of the year for these two teams, however, on the following Friday night, Lefors will be host to the Skyrocket boxing team.

"We fully expect that these fights Friday night will be the hardest fought of the season," Coach John Lee announced. Fifteen bouts will be fought during the evening.

Florida Visitor Has Heart Attack

Mr. Willoughby is now in the Veterans Hospital at Amarillo, and his parents report that he seems to be doing well. They were in Amarillo during the week end to be with him, and his wife is staying there at the present.

This Farm Proves Collingsworth Land Can Be Rebuilt Quickly

John Brim Represents Salt Fork Conservation District in Annual "Save the Soil and Save Texas" Awards Program

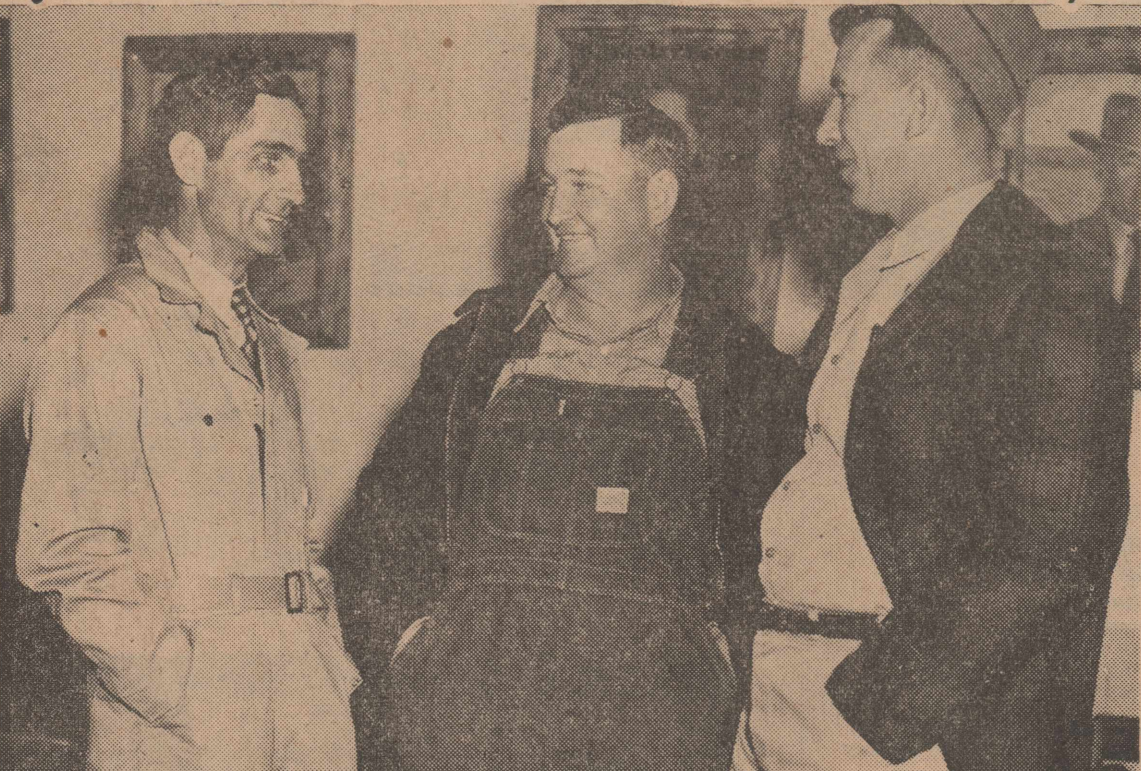

John Brim, who turned a badly eroded Collingsworth County farm into one that is a model of soil conservation and soil building, is representing the Salt Fork Soil Conservation District in this year's "Save the Soil and Save Texas" awards program. This is the first time this district has had an entry.

The "Save the Soil and Save Texas" program is known nationally for its part in making the state soil conservation conscious. It was originated by Walter Humphrey, editor of The Fort Worth Press, and is sponsored by the three Scripps-Howard newspapers in Texas, The Fort Worth Press, the Houston Press and the El Paso Post Herald. Weldon Owens of the Fort Worth paper is State Director.

A handsome plaque will be awarded Mr. Brim for his participation as this district's representative in the program.

He will be judged first to see who gets the $200 award for being the best farmer in the region, then for the $500 for the outstanding conservation farmer in Texas.

Mr. Brim, who with his family lives a mile east and six south of Wellington, on Highway 83, has not only shown that the soil of Collingsworth can be rebuilt, but that it can be rebuilt quickly. He first began conservation work on this farm in 1945, when he offered his place as a Demonstration Farm to stimulate interest in a Soil Conservation District. He worked out with J. W. Thomas, county agent, representing the Extension Service, and George Taylor of the Soil Conservation Service a plan designed to demonstrate all phases of Soil Conservation needed in the locality.

J. W. THOMAS

His quarter section, most of which is in cultivation, received the runoff from approximately 600 acres of adjoining land. This runoff had cut gullies through his place that could no longer be crossed by a tractor.

Mr. Brim first constructed a large diversion terrace across the north side of his farm. It discharged at the west end most of the water from his neighbor's farms. He then constructed another large diversion immediately below, which takes the same water back across his farm to the east, discharging it into his farm pond. The overflow from his pond runs through a complete sycamore terrace system, finally leaving the farm at the southwest corner after being spread over a field of alfalfa.

The Brim family milks 10 to 12 cows, raises hogs and poultry. Mr. Brim has fenced two pieces of land on the contour, which are sown to summer pasture crops and grazed in rotation. He strips the remainder of his farm in alfalfa, oats, wheat, sorghums and cotton.

Recently he joined the Artificial Dairy Cattle Breeders Association of Hollis, Oklahoma, to improve the quality of his dairy herd.

He produces alfalfa seed and in 1948 secured some bees to properly pollinate the crop. He produced 330 pounds of alfalfa seed per acre in a dry year when the county average was about 150 pounds.

With his own equipment, he constructed his dam, his terraces, and all but two feet on his diversions. He hired the top two feet put on these ridges which were built four feet above the old ground level.

Mr. Brim bought the farm just before he began treating it four (Continued on Page Twelve)

Meeting of C of C Membership Group Called Monday Night

Matt Johnson, Chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Membership Committee, has called a meeting of the committee in the Community Building for Monday, March 21st, starting at 8:00 p.m.

The purpose of this meeting is to make plans for a membership drive for the Chamber of Commerce.

"No membership drive has been undertaken for the Chamber since its organization last year," Mr. Johnson stated. "There are several new businesses who have opened in Wellington since then and we surely want to give every businessman and citizen of Wellington and Collingsworth, who is interested in the community's growth, an opportunity to affiliate with the Chamber of Commerce."

Mrs. Larison to Leave Dodson

Mrs. J. M. Larison of Dodson has announced that she will hold a public sale of her household furniture at her home one block west of the school Saturday, March 26, at 1:00 p.m.

Her husband, the late Mr. Larison, was deputy sheriff at Dodson at the time of his death five years ago, and had served in that capacity two years. He had formerly served as a United States Marshall.

Mrs. Larison plans to move to New Braunfels and buy a home.

Production Under Way

Native of County Invents Tire Pressure Device

Norman Dysart of Amarillo, now has in production a tire gauge apparatus he invented which may bring acclaim and recognition to this young man who was born in Collingsworth County.

Norman Dysart. You've done the impossible. The rewards you will reap are richly earned and deserved.

Announcement of this was made by Gene Howe in his column, "The Tackless Texan" appearing in Saturday's Amarillo News.

Mr. Dysart is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Dysart, and a grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Dysart, who came here in 1889, and in whose home the first sermon in Collingsworth County was preached. He is a nephew of Mrs. R. Martin Williams and Mrs. J. W. Loter of Wellington.

With his family, Mr. Dysart moved to Mobeetie when a small child and grew up there. He is married and has two children.

Mr. Howe's story of the invention follows: More power to a plugging, persistent old boy who has put something over.

It's Norman Dysart! A company up in Davenport, Iowa, now is manufacturing his invention. General Electric engineers helped him on it for several years. And it's in production and Mr. Dysart has a 25 per cent interest. And there's a great chance that it will make him a millionaire. Maybe several times over.

It's a story of inventive genius and hard work and plugging away. His invention is a tire gauge apparatus. It's a rubber saver. The autoist by watching the dash board can determine the air pressure in each of his tires. Danger signals are flashed whenever there's danger from either high or low pressure. And the invention shows which tire is involved.

Mr. Dysart hawked his invention all over Amarillo. Hundreds could have had an interest with him. Most persons agreed his invention was needed but doubted whether it was practical. But Norman knew it was and he kept boring ahead. And he finally put it over.

Congratulations, felicitations,

Kiwanis NOTES

Patsy, we missed you Friday and hope that you liked the flowers that Jack Gibson sent you. He had them charged to the Kiwanis club's account, if the club fails to pay the bill, Bobo and James agreed to take care of same.

Thanks, Mrs. Jim Terry for pinch hitting for the Club Sweetheart, Patsy Smith, you did a wonderful job.

Did you fellows see the lady at the north end of the head table? She is Mrs. Leggett, the Club Mother.

J. C. Ward renewed his membership and L. B. had a new supply of emblems so J. C. got a new one along with a short lecture on what he should do. He also got on the Investigation Committee along with Claude McKinney and Bob Barnett. Just who or what they are to investigate is a mystery, so be on the alert.

Zook Thomas, the Mayor of Lillie, was at the head table Friday as a guest. Other guests: Mr. Woodrow, Mr. Powell, and Mr. Duke. Burl Brim and Glenn Moore were perched up there with president Jack and let us know that the boys certainly appreciate the assistance from the Kiwanis Club.

It is gratifying to know that Pink Sullivan is out of the hospital so that James may be in position to take care of his outside duties.

Bill Lewis needs an assistant. The club is just too big for one Sergeant at Arms to take care of.

Just got a letter from one of my favorite girl friends in Albuquerque, but don't tell Jimmie.

A pioneer of Collingsworth county, Mrs. Tom Maples, died at Dimmitt Wednesday, March 9, at the age of 87 years.

She had been in ill health for a good many years, but being a Christian the larger part of her life enabled her to bear her suffering patiently.

The Maples family came here around 1902 and lived in this county twenty years or longer before moving to the plains.

Mrs. Maples is survived by her husband, Tom Maples, and two sons, Hubert Maples and Clem Maples.

SALT FORK

At 11:30 last Tuesday morning another pioneer quietly slipped away. J. W. Turner had been sick a long time, but took worse two or three days before his death. His passing came as a shock to many of his friends and neighbors, though not many realized he was so near gone. He had planned and talked of his home going for some time.

He looked forward to meeting his Savior and wife. The time seemed to drag for him. When our health is gone and our bodies worn out, it makes us anxious to cross over into home.

Nine of his children came. One son and a daughter couldn't come since there was sickness in their homes. They lived in California. Mr. Turner had 38 grandchildren, and 27 great grandchildren, and a host of other relatives to mourn his passing. He was buried at Quail by the side of his wife and mother. The Turners have lived here for years.

George Isbell, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Wright spent the week-end in Mangum, Okla.

Mr. Wright has a brother, R. P. Wright, living there. George Isbell visited with a number of friends and relatives.

There were several attending the singing at the J. P. Cummings home last Tuesday night in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Hallmark and baby son.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Isbell spent part of last week at the J. W. Turner home. The Isbells were close friends of the Turner family.

Mrs. Lillian Clifton visited her husband's mother, Mrs. Hattie Clifton, last Wednesday night.

Rev. C. A. Wells filled his regular appointment here Sunday morning, but could not be here Sunday night. Mrs. Wells is ill and their son, Wayne has the measles.

Don Isbell brought a pal of his out to Sunday School Sunday morning. We're always glad to have visitors, hope more of our pupils will bring their friends with them.

Jimmy Rogers was a very happy boy Sunday. They were to bring his mother, Mrs. Allie Rogers, Monday. She has been taking treatments in a Sanitarium in Wichita Falls. We are all very glad she will be back home with us again.

Sunday dinner guest in the J. P. Cummings home were Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Wright and family, Mrs. Edna Maxwell, and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Morris and Darrell.

Jimmy Cummings of Wellington spent the week-end with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Cummings.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Hallmark left for their home in Gorman Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gollighugh and family and Jimmy Rogers visited the Albert Gollighugh Sunday.

W. V. Huffman, 79, Dies Here Late Wednesday Night

W. V. Huffman, 79, a resident of Collingsworth County for 23 years, died at 11:30 p.m. Wednesday, March 9, in St. Joseph's Hospital. He became ill in November, suffering from pneumonia and later gangrene, with other complications, and his condition had been serious most of the time since.

Mr. Huffman was a retired farmer. He farmed in the Rolla community for a number of years, and at Fresno two years, before he retired from active work. He and Mrs. Huffman then moved to Wellington to make their home.

Active in community and church life throughout all his active years, Mr. Huffman had devoted much of his time to these activities. He was particularly interested in schools, and served on the school board at Whitesboro a number of years, and later on the Rolla school board. He was a member of the First Baptist Church.

William V. Huffman was born in Cairo, Ill., March 1, 1870. He grew up and received his education there. At the age of 18, he came to Texas and settled at Whitesboro, where he lived for many years.

Following the death of his first wife, he was married to Mrs. Nancy Shumate at Sherman, about 30 years ago.

Mr. Huffman had a keen appreciation of his friends, and especially during his later years, he enjoyed particularly visiting with friends, for whom he always had a jolly greeting and some pleasant words. Of a happy disposition himself, it was part of his nature to try to make others happy, too.

Funeral services for Mr. Huffman were held at the First Baptist Church Friday afternoon at 3:30 p.m. with the Rev. A. L. Eubanks of Tull and the Rev. E. C. Derr of Shamrock in charge.

Pall bearers were Clyde Drake, Paul Brewer, Ed Crawford, Howard Rankin, Eugene Martin and Elbert Watts. Honorary pall bearers were Wallace O'Rear, John Trew, Earl Tollison, C. E. Caldwell and Robert Brewer. Flower bearers were Mrs. A. D. Holliman, Mrs. Clyde Drake, Mrs. Paul Brewer, Mrs. Jack Hurst, Mrs. Howard Rankin, Miss Nell Trew, and Miss Bobby Brewer.

Burial was in the Wellington cemetery under the direction of the Ellis Funeral Home.

Surviving Mr. Huffman are his wife, Mrs. W. V. Huffman of Wellington; three sons, Ben Huffman of Sherman, Elby Huffman of Serra Cruz, N. M., and Henry Huffman of Quincy, Calif.; two step daughters and three step sons, Mrs. Alton Wilkins of Wellington, Mrs. Lee Harris of Vernon, Lee Shumate of Amarillo, Raymon Shumate of Melrose, N. M., and Roy Shumate of Gainesville. Thirty grandchildren and 24 great grandchildren also survive.

Eight Hundred at Goodyear Party

More than 800 people forming the entire western part of the county attended the fifth annual Goodyear Family Party, sponsored by the Lion Auto Store of Wellington at Quail Tuesday night, March 15.

This was the largest crowd ever to attend one of these family parties in this district, which includes part of New Mexico, the Texas and Oklahoma Panhandles and the South Plains, Graham Stinson, district tractor tire representative for Goodyear at Amarillo told Morris Reed, manager of the Lion Auto Store.

During the entertainment portion of the program, the Quail Grade Rhythm Band presented several numbers, followed by a folk dance, presented by members of the seventh grade.

Three films were shown by the Goodyear representatives, Mr. Stinson, and A. N. Abram, district salesman. "My Country" is one of the outstanding films now being shown devoted to soil conservation. The second showed tractor tires in use, and the third was a comedy, given especially for the children attending.

Approximately twenty-five prizes were awarded during the evening.

The entertainment was closed with ice cream served to all those attending.

Mrs. Fannie Brown Dies at Home of Daughter Tuesday

Mrs. Fannie Jane Brown, 90, one of Wellington's oldest residents, died at the home of a daughter, Mrs. W. B. Sanders shortly before 3 o'clock Tuesday morning, March 15. She had lived here for a little more than a year.

Funeral services will be held at Sweetwater, and the tentative time has been set at 3:00 p.m. Thursday at the Baptist Church there. Burial will be at Sweetwater.

Mrs. Brown was born in Mississippi October 23, 1858.

She is survived by two sons and three daughters, Mrs. Sanders; Mrs. Inez Gary of Fort Worth; Mrs. B. F. Hollis of Sweetwater; M. H. Brown of Oakland, Calif.; and John Brown of San Benito.

The Kelso Funeral Home is in charge of local arrangements.

Pastors Meeting Draws 225

Approximately 225 pastors of Nazarene Churches in the Abilene District and districts in Oklahoma and New Mexico attended the preachers convention held in Wellington from Tuesday to Thursday of last week, the Rev. Austin Moore, pastor, reported.

Outstanding speaker at the conference was Dr. Hardy C. Powers, Dallas, general superintendent of the Church of the Nazarene. He recently returned from a tour of Africa, and gave the preachers a clear insight of the work the church is doing there and the needs of the African people.

Dr. Powers will leave in June for a tour of Europe in the interest of the work of the church.

The business sessions were presided over by Rev. W. B. Wallace, district superintendent. Dr. Roy Contrell of Bethany Peniel College, Bethany, Okla., reported on the progress of the college and plans for the coming year.

Mrs. Anthony Wolkow of Dallas was here last week visiting her mother, Mrs. Lillie Hopper, and her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Goat Hopper. Mrs. Wolkow will be remembered here as Miss Ruby Hopper.

Some merchants report an increase in business last week end over those of the past eight weeks. However, dry goods stores say that Easter buying has not started to any appreciable extent.

People are 80 per cent "eyeminded," Grover Kennedy, head of a Denver advertising firm stated in a recent talk. A survey shows that 80 per cent of the impressions we receive daily are received visually and only 30 per cent audibly. Therefore, people remember what they see in newspapers, books, magazines four times as well as what they hear. He said: "In other words, as far as your readers are concerned, your newspaper is four times as effective as the radio.

Lois Sherwood Watson writes for a copy of the anniversary edition of The Wellington Leader published in 1934. Her son Lynn is making a history of Texas notebook and she wants something in it about the history of Collingsworth County.

E. M. (Ted) Dealey, publisher of the Dallas Morning News, has sent me two tickets to the Southwest Sports and Cation Show which will be in the recreation building at the Fair Park in Dallas April 30 through May 8.

R. E. Dickson writes from the Spur Experiment Station to say: "The general makeup of your paper and the many items make it a weekly publication that has untold value to the readers—I really like it."

Mr. Dickson recalls a joke I told at a Chamber of Commerce banquet in Hereford years ago. The rattlesnakes were having an awful hard time in Collingsworth County during one of the dry years in the thirties. One day the mamma rattlesnake turned to the pappa rattlesnake and said:

"Pappa, I just can't stand this dry weather any more, let's pull out and move to New Mexico."

"No Mamma, we sure are not going to move to New Mexico. Why those snakes over there don't even have a pit to hiss in."

Mr. Dickson is doing great work at the Spur station and many farmers from this county go there each year to observe the results of his experiments. It would be profitable if even more would go.

There was a cute story in the daily papers about a three year old boy vaccinating himself. His five year old sister was complaining about her recent vaccination and full of sympathy he leaned over and kissed her on the shoulder. Doctors say that there must have been a scratch on his face; for now he has a perfect vaccination on his cheek. They are working to keep the scar as small as possible.

This ought to be a good year for gardens. It is too late for English peas and a little late for Irish potatoes; but plenty of time for everything else. Personally I think that gardens in town cost more money than they make if you have to water them; but they are worth the try because the fresh vegetables taste so much better—meaning that they have lost none of their vitamin content.

Dr. E. W. Jones handed me the following clipping:

RECIPE OF THE MONTH
His wife asked him to copy a radio recipe. He did his best, but got two stations at once. And this is what he wrote down:

"Hands on hips, place one cup of flour on your shoulders, raise knees and depress toes; mix thoroughly in one-half cup of milk, repeat six times. Inhale quickly one-half teaspoon of baking powder, lower the legs and mash two hard-boiled eggs in a sieve; exhale breath naturally and sift in a bowl. Attention! Lie flat on the floor and roll in the whites of two eggs backward and forward until it comes to a boil. In ten minutes remove from fire and rub smartly with a rough towel. Breathe naturally, dress in warm flannels and serve with tomato soup."

W. E. Risinger and Dalton Vaughn are coaches.

Long-Time Loco Resident

Mrs. Lizzie Baker Still Active, Alert at 94

Mrs. Lizzie Baker, for many years a resident of the Loco area, who has almost reached her 95th birthday, was paid tribute in an article in her church paper a short time ago. A member of the Primitive Baptist Church since 1883, Mrs. Baker is a member of the church here, of which Rev. E. J. Norman is pastor.

MRS. LIZZIE BAKER

About two months ago, she left this area to make her home with a son, J. D. Belew, at Panhandle. Relatives living here are Herman Belew, Weldon Belew and Robert Belew and their families.

A portion of the article concerning Mrs. Baker, which was written by Letta Potter Morgan of Manitou, Okla., follows:

Born in MacNara County, Tenn., on April 27, 1854, she was married when 30 years old to N. B. Belew, who died in 1905. In 1910 she married G. W. Baker, who died in 1918, on the day peace was signed after World War I. Sister Baker was a private teacher of organ and piano music over a period of twenty years, and still recalls her musical career with much enthusiasm. She speaks with pride of the success of some of her long-ago pupils, and shows their recent pictures. These late gifts of pictures prove how far-reaching is the influence of her firm, but kind and affectionate, personality.

Also, Sister Baker had 20 years of experience in practical nursing. She has also traveled extensively, and told me about the time she rode over the city of Milwaukee in a trolley. I hardly think she would be afraid to repeat that tallyho

Spray Peaches For Leaf Curl

It's already time to spray fruit trees for peach leaf curl and aphids, County Agent J. W. Thomas said this week.

Mr. Thomas recommends a spray of sulphur at the rate of four pounds to 50 gallons of water for peach leaf curl. This disease causes the leaves to become thick, curly and turn yellow.

A 50 per cent DDT spray for aphids is recommended also.

"Be sure to spray before the buds on these trees burst. In other words, right now is the time," Mr. Thomas said.

years ago. It was badly eroded with frequent gullies and low yields. He has stopped all soil loss from the farm, in fact, it has gained soil from neighboring farms. By feeding most of his crop to livestock, except the cotton and wheat, on the land, crop rotations, legumes and careful management of his crop residues, he had doubled the yields and far more than doubled the net income from this farm.

In 1948, Mr. Brim had about 7 inches of rainfall up to October 15. He made 18 bushels of wheat per acre, 300 pounds of lint cotton per acre, 300 pounds of alfalfa seed per acre and two cuttings of hay. He sold $1,400 worth of cream and $1,500 worth of hogs raised on feed grown on the farm.

The first two years he was on the farm, Mr. Brim produced 22 bales of cotton on 80 acres. The last two years, with less rainfall, he made 26 bales on 45 acres.

The greatest change can be seen in the soil. Organic matter from old crop residues and barnyard manures have greatly improved the tilth of the soil, controlled erosion and increased fertility. The old gullies are gone, a young orchard is growing on some of the thinner land and a new home is going up this year.

Mr. Brim attended several meetings of groups of farmers in an adjoining Soil Conservation District before the Salt Fork District was organized. After learning something about these districts, he helped organize the Salt Fork. While the district was writing its program and plan of operations, Mr. Brim served on two committees.

On November 18, 1948, Mr. Brim's farm was used as part of the tour held in connection with the Wellington program furnished by the Fort Worth and Denver City Railway and Second National Bank of Houston. He was proud to show what he had accomplished.

Mr. Brim never misses an opportunity to help his neighbors in a conservation program.

To sum up, here is what John Brim has done on a quarter section of land in four years:

He has built 1 mile of diversion terraces.

Built 9 miles of terraces.

Built one farm pond.

Added water facilities.

Contour planted 119 acres.

Planted 58 acres of cover crop.

Practiced crop residue management on 152 acres.

Strip cropped 119 acres.

Seeded to permanent pasture 18 acres.

Seeded to temporary pasture 26 acres.

Improved 6 acres of native pasture.

Relocated 1,500 feet of farm road on the contour.

Ran 3,000 feet of fence on the contour.

Uses planned pollination of legumes.

Considerable plowing is going on. Last few days, we've had the very great pleasure of serving these and many more good customers who came in after lister and plow shares and various repair parts for their International plows: Fred Bourland, Olan Farris, G. When the tractors start rolling, they start using up parts. The last few days Buck Breeding, Arthur Robinson, A. F. Sturgill, Elmer Carter, Jr., Fred Covey, Elvis Crawley, D. W. We still have a couple of those Hudson Automatic 4-row Markers in stock. No ropes or pulleys; it changes sides automatically when you turn at the end of a row.

Steve Owens had us to put a brand new engine in his KB-7 International truck Saturday.

I would like to pick up a little cash on the side betting somebody that electric refrigerators will be just a little hard to find by June. Too many of us dealers, and lots of our customers, have been so accustomed of late years to having stuff taken away from us before we got it uncrated that now we get to thinking we've got a big surplus when we get two of something on hand. Just mark what I say, and remember, too, that I'm telling you RIGHT NOW is the best time to buy your refrigerator. You can get a better deal than you can after the weather gets warmer.

S. K. Parsons, Sr. brought his Farmall M to the shop the last of the week to have some work done on the steering gear.

Jake Tarter's Farmall H was in the shop a few days ago for steam cleaning, and to get a few parts put on.

Loal King brought his F14 Farmall to the shop for some minor repairs and tune-up last week.

Loyd Clark had his tractor in the shop the other day for a little work.

Show New Plymouth Auto At Dealers On March 18

The new line of Plymouth automobiles, with outstanding mechanical improvements and up-to-the-minute styling, make their appearance in dealer showrooms here and throughout the United States Friday.

Completely redesigned and streamlined, the new Plymouth contains a 97-horsepower engine which is smoother, livelier, and more economical. Other changes make notable contributions to beauty, safety, and passenger comfort.

Wheelbase has been increased for a better ride and more road stability but at the same time the over-all length has been reduced for ease of handling. Although lower and narrower, the new bodies provide greater interior room for passengers. The car's appearance reflects a complete change from last year's models. The Plymouths may be seen at Stinson Motor Co., Morton Motor Co. and Castleberry Motor Co.

Designers have achieved a "common sense" streamlining in which ease of handling, safety and comfort have received strong consideration. Fenders which blend perfectly into body lines are nevertheless separate and detachable, thus avoiding sheet metal masses so costly to repair or replace.

Increased visibility is provided in the windshield which is 37 percent larger and the rear window which is 35.4 percent larger. Windshield wipers clear 61.5 percent greater area.

Sedan seats are wider and deeper, both in front and rear. The width of both cushions has been increased (5 inches in front, 6 inches in rear — front seat width 56 inches, rear seat width 57 inches) with panels and arm rests so located as to take maximum advantage of the interior space. Rear seat room in the Club Coupe has been increased to the equivalent of the Sedan. There is more head and leg room in the Sedan rear seat. The new Plymouth line includes nine distinct automobiles. There are four special deluxe and two deluxe types on a 118-inch wheelbase, one inch longer than last year's. In addition, Plymouth will build three deluxe models on a brand new 111-inch wheelbase. This wheelbase group consists of a two-door sedan, a three-passenger coupe, and a new body type, the Suburban.

Available on the 118-inch wheelbase will be a club coupe and a four-door sedan in the deluxe series, while the special deluxe group will include both the club coupe and four-door sedan in addition to the convertible club coupe and the station wagon.

Engine performance and efficiency has been improved with a new design cylinder head which increases compression ratio to 7 to 1. A new chrome plated compression piston ring reduces cylinder wear and provides greater protection during the break-in period. There are improved oil rings for greater oil economy, while a newly-designed intake manifold induces quicker, smoother, engine warm-up and produces faster response to throttle opening.

The longer wheelbase allows a "cradled ride," as passengers are more nearly centered between the axles. Another contribution toward smooth riding qualities is the addition of diagonally-mounted shock absorbers at the rear of the car, greater rebound control in the front shock absorbers, and the newly designed rubber limit bumpers. The new shock absorbers also allow greater road clearance and reduce sidesway.

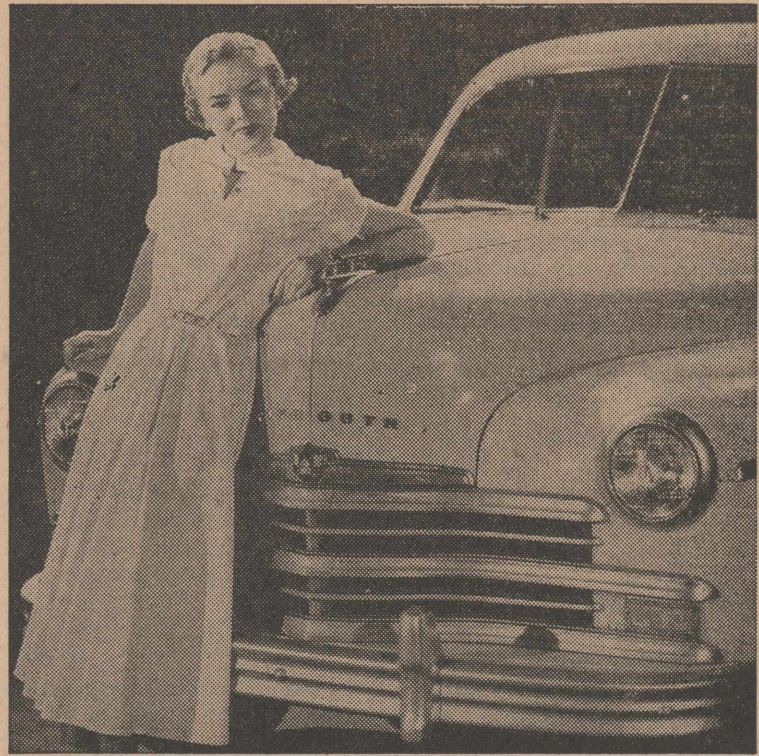

Interior design of the Plymouth provides many driver and passenger comforts and conveniences. Sedans have the rear door hinged from the center post for easy entrance and exit. The seats, front and rear, have a three-pillow cushion while seat backs have a full pillow on each side and three vertical pipes in the center. Imitation leather kick pads are carried around the seat bases and on the door base. New, more rugged window regulators close or open windows with half the number of turns formerly required. Instrument panels with a new grain finish have been redesigned and relocated for ease in reading gauges. The glove box latch has been improved for more easy opening. A new, easily operated vent window lock has been designed to reduce theft of articles from parked cars, and the ignition cable has been heavily armored from the ignition switch through to the engine compartment as a safeguard against car theft.

A new automatic electric choke, of the same type used on other Chrysler Corporation cars, has been added. Among the outstanding innovations is the combination ignition and starter switch which completely eliminates the starter button. The car starts by turning the ignition key slightly beyond the "ignition on" position. When released, the key automatically returns to "ignition on" position. The device is not only a driver convenience, but makes it impossible for children to move cars which are parked and left in gear by automatically pushing the starter button.

A new fresh air car heater, which steps up defrosting and more readily removes window fog, is available in three models. Located under the hood, the new heater operates quietly and is easily installed. It may be used in warm weather as a fresh air circulator.

New seat cushion construction allows the addition of extra spring coils to reduce the softness of the cushion and to provide greater support, if needed. There are numerous improvements in the new Plymouth's electrical and lighting system. Headlights equipped with a bulls-eye lens in the center of the sealed-beam lens provide substantially increased light output. Plastic lenses have been installed in the stop, tail, and parking lights. The lenses are more resistant to breakage, and provide better sealing at points where dust and dirt might enter. A new enclosed circuit breaker, interchangeable with those used on other Chrysler Corporation cars, eliminates the need for replacing lighting system fuses.

NEW PLYMOUTH ON DISPLAY

Plymouth's new special deluxe is featured above. Brilliant new styling is combined with outstanding riding comfort, increased roominess and sweeping mechanical improvements in the new line of Plymouth automobiles. Completely redesigned, Plymouth has a longer wheelbase, but less front and rear overhang; a lowered silhouette and decrease in width, but more head and leg room and wider seats.

The addition of a 10,000 ohm suppressor permits the use of a larger initial spark plug gap, resulting in improved idling and low-speed, light load performance. The push-pull type of switch for headlights, panel lights and heater has been replaced with rotary-action, dust-proof switches, and a new magnetic-type fuel gauge gives immediate reading when the ignition switch is turned on.

John Anderson left last week with his son, J. L. Anderson of Craig, Colorado, who has been visiting here. They will visit for a short time in El Paso before going to Craig where Mr. Anderson will make an extended visit with J. L. and another son and daughter who live in Craig.

Mmes. D. D. McDowell, Buster Sims and Jack Gibson were Shamrock visitors Thursday.

February Month Of Activity for Kiwanis Club

The Kiwanis Club has been more than a luncheon club, furloughing fellowship among its members. A review of the activities of the month of February alone shows its work is varied, and much of it is carried on beyond the eye of the general public.

The Wellington Club has an enrollment of 61, and its attendance record for February stood at 97 per cent.

Speakers for the four meetings were John Lee, who discussed exhibition boxing; John Bray, the football team; Charles Briley, the dramatic Club; and the Red Cross officials, who told of the work of the Red Cross.

Plans were laid to carry a program to some other club at once a month. Plans were made, too, for a school of instruction for the chairmen and members of the committees in late March. Members of the Key Club will also attend this.

Arrangements got under way for the show by Birch the Magician on March 24, with proceeds to go to purchase playground equipment for the new elementary school.

In the matter of underprivileged children, the club arrangements with Dr. McCain to have the eyes of three school children tested and fitted for glasses.

The Agriculture and Conservation held a quiz program for the Dodson 4-H Club on hog raising and feeding. This program proved to be of great interest to the club boys and at the same time opened a challenge to the committee to broaden their relations with all of the 4-H Club boys of the county.

The committee proposed to assist the district supervisors of the Salt Fork Soil Conservation District in carrying the educational phase of the work to all farmers in the district. Representatives of this committee meet each month with the board of supervisors and assist with demonstration meetings

Khiva Shrine Plans Orthopedic Clinic

Plans have been completed for Khiva's second annual orthopedic diagnostic clinic, according to announcement by Cliff Campbell Potentate's Aide for Wellington from Khiva Temple.

The clinic will begin at 9 o'clock in the morning, Saturday, April 30, in Khiva Temple, Fifth and Fillmore, Amarillo, Texas, and continue through the day with orthopedic specialists conducting the examinations. Mr. Paul M. Clauser is clinic chairman, a position in which he served for the 1948 clinic. At that time 77 children were examined.

"Anyone interested in having their children attend the clinic is asked to contact me at once," Mr. Campbell stated. "Children under 15 years of age are eligible for the clinic, regardless of race, creed or color."

Application forms must be filled out for eligible children. There is no charge for the application or the examinations. Lunch will be served at the Temple at noon for the children their parents or guardians, and all those assisting with the clinic," said Mr. Campbell.

throughout the county.

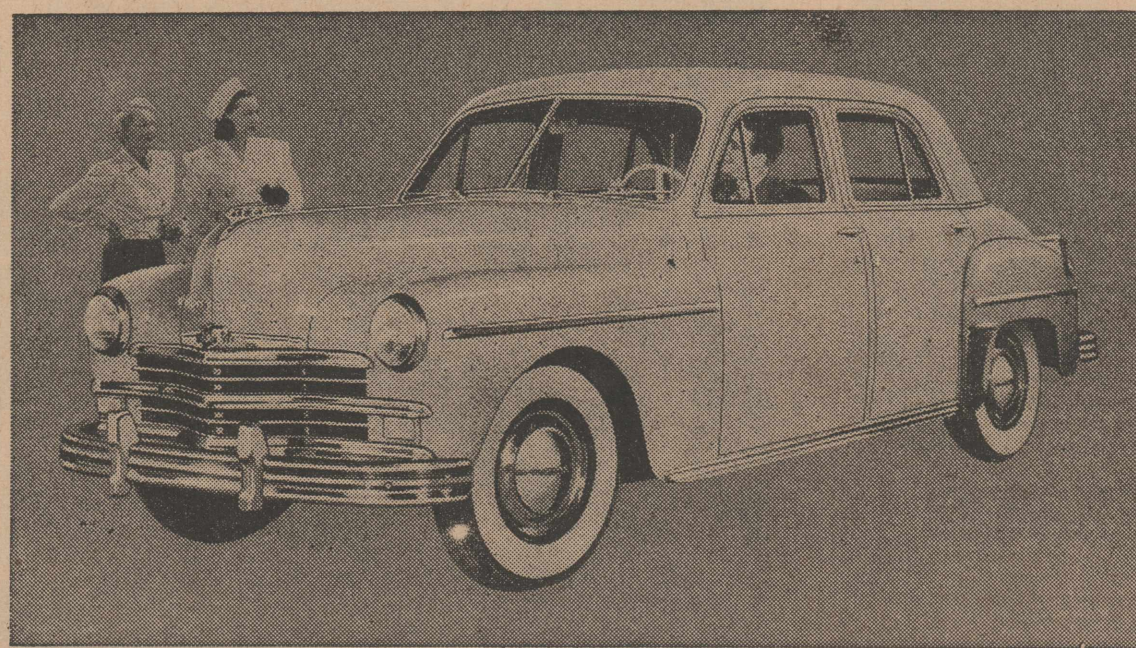

The public and business affairs committee made arrangements for the publishing of the Kiwanis Notes in The Wellington Leader.

The committee support of churches and their spiritual aims voted to have 500 cards printed to advertise a campaign to get more people into church. This campaign is to start April 10.

High point of the month was the organization of the Key Club for high school boys. This began with a meeting called February 2 in which L. B. Bratten explained to about 30 boys what the club was. Later meetings led to the organization of the club later in the month. The first meeting was held March 2, with 35 members of the club attending as visitors. Buttons were presented the boys by Judge Howard Riggs.

Opportunity and Profit From Dairy Cattle in County

Some Collingsworth County farmers are missing a good bet for making money by not going into the dairy business. This is the conclusion to be drawn when E. R. Eudaly, dairy specialist for Universal Mills, Fort Worth, finished speaking at the farm clinic Thursday.

Acknowledging that he was talking mainly to "one-cow dairymen", he proved that plenty of good solid information can be laid on with a sense of humor.

There is no danger of over-doing the dairy business in Texas, he emphasized. "Milking Cows isn't hard but it's a little too regular," he explained.

"There is plenty of opportunity in dairying. There always has been and there always will be," Mr. Eudaly said, and recalled that dairy cattle even made some money in the bad years of the depression.

The dairy cow population in Collingsworth County has dropped drastically from these depression days, when the weekly cream check did much to keep a lot of farm families going. Lack of help during the war was an understandable cause for selling out dairy cow herds, but the fact that money has been easier to come by on the farm in the last few years is another.

The trend is not in the Wellington trade area alone. It is extensive. Hollis recently lost its Kraft Cheese plant for the simple reason that there wasn't enough milk in the area—and that includes this county,—to keep it going.

Collingsworth county has always been beef-cow minded, but there are certain sections that are considerably better adapted to milk cows than beef cows. There is no reason why a county can't raise both. Past performance is only a sample of what could be developed here in the way of a profitable dairying business.

And as Mr. Eudaly said, there is plenty of opportunity in dairy cattle business for the man who is willing to work at the job.

Buck Creek Philosopher

Editor's note: The Buck Creek Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Buck Creek has heard about the political changes in Russia, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor:

Every once in a while we all do a lot of jokin about politicians and it's true they frequently get their feet crossed and are serious when they ought to be funny and funny when they ought to be serious, which is only natural, it's even true out here, and the very time I'm in a hurry to milk is the time my cow elects to hit me in the face with her tail, kick the bucket over, walk off from her feed, but when she's dry you can't drive her out of the barn, and even sometimes my wife . . . but there ain't no use goin into that, she don't read your paper much but she lines the pantry shelf with it and might stumble onto this, anyway, what I started out to say is that we poke a lot of fun at our politicians and the methods they use to get elected and stay in office, but there is a much worse system than ours in use.

You take Russia. A big change in officials has taken place over there, but right now there ain't twenty-five Russians out of 200 million who knows whether Molotov has gone up or down, don't know whether hes' headed for the dictator's seat or a jail cell, don't know whether to shake hands with him if they see him or run from him he like he had the small pox.

It's about like if we woke up and was informed through the newspapers that Vice President Barkley has been removed from office. I don't know about the Russians, but as for me and most Americans I know, we'd be sorta interested in what happened to him.

Or gettin closer to home, suppose there was an announcement in your paper that Mayor Lewis has been discontinued. If them Russians can keep on plowin or barberin or clerkin under such circumstances, without even wonderin out loud what happened to the mayor, then they must be entitled to be treated like they are, although I got a idea they must be as interested in what happened to Molotov as we'd be, and there's bound to be a few women who have to talk about it or bust. Don't they have beauty parlors over there? It just ain't human and normal not to be interested, I don't care wheather a man lives in Rossia or Wellington or London or Paris or out here on Buck Creek.

At any rate, even considerin what our system sometimes produces, I'll still take it. I like to know who's gonna run the government, don't make no difference wheather he runs it in the ground or not,

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Letters From The PEOPLE

Japan,
March 1, 1949

Dear Deck:

I received my paper today. It is the first one in a couple of weeks, but I was proud to read it.

Well, Deck, I bet you're wonderin if I ever will stay in one place and quit changing my address. I think I'm settled down now, but you never know when the Army will move.

Our outfit, the 97th Anti-Aircraft Artillery, left Hawaii the 22nd of January on an Army Transport called General R. L. Howze.

We done fine until the 24th which came on a Monday, and the next day we woke up and it was Wednesday the 26th. We had crossed the 180th meridian. It's the place called the International Date Line.

On that Wednesday at 1:30 p.m., or 1330 in Salt Language, King Neptune came aboard and called all of us together on deck. He wore a raincoat and a sloppy rubber hat, and used a mop for hair. An ugly fellow he appeared, and the only thing I'll remember him by is that he had an awful red nose. But he made the small children aboard happy and the rest appeared fairly jolly.

Some of the boys played music for a while, and then we got our certificates meaning we now belong to the Region of the Golden Dragon.

And what I mean the ocean sure was rough after crossing the line. On the 28th we ran into a bad storm, and the front of the ship would raise way up out of the water and then down it would go, and waves would come way up over the deck, and that is when everyone got sea sick, and we ran into another storm the 30th, but it wasn't quite as bad.

On Tuesday the 1st at 7:30 a.m. we could see a guide on light, but we were still twenty miles away, and we got off about a mile from the harbor. We stayed for a while, till about 2:30 p.m., and then went in.

The people were proud to see us. After unloading we were brought out from Yokohama and stationed with the 8th Army Ordnance school, but they're moving and we are taking over. We are now about half way between Yokohama and Tokyo, which is around 35 miles each way.

There are a few Japanese working on the post and they sure respect a soldier, and it is the same way with the ones at town. But these people don't have much. There are rice fields just over the fence from our camp.

The closest town is Fuchinobe, Honshu, Japan.

Well, it is cold here and snowed a little today. It made me feel good to see some snow.

I'm sending a money order for another year's subscription to The Leader.

Yours truly,

Farm and Ranch Chatter

With Layne Beaty, WBAP, Fort Worth

Our phone rang (two longs and a short) one night recently. It was D. T. Simons who, after getting control of his excitement, relayed the news that the 1950 All-American Jersey Cattle Show and Junior Exposition would be held in Texas. The board of the American Jersey Cattle Club had met in Columbus, Ohio, that day decided.

It will be held in connection with the State Fair at Dallas. Last year more than six hundred purebred Jerseys were in competition at the show. The 1949 show will be held in Memphis, Tennessee.

There are less showy aspects to dairying now, though. As milk distributors in the cities announce there will be a surplus of milk this spring necessitating a further cut in price to producers, the cow milkers are asking questions about what disposition the distributors make of the "surplus" milk, and about the milk that is shipped into Texas from Wisconsin and other northern states.

It seems that Wisconsin has a surplus, too, and so has found a way to market its milk, cheese and butter in other states, Texas among them. Also, Wisconsin sells a lot of powdered milk in Mexico.

Meanwhile, there is not enough milk in Texas during most of the year to fill the needs of the adequate human diet for our seven million citizens.

Oscar Gray, who runs a nursery at Arlington and is famous for his work fifth pecans, says 1949 won't be a bumper pecan crop year in Texas, though it may be good in Oklahoma. Last year saw a good crop produced in Texas, and two good pecan years seldom come together, Mr. Gray advises. Producing a big crop seems to take a lot out of the trees.

Windbreaks Need To Protect Homes

COLLEGE-STATION—A windbreak to protect the flowers and shrubs about the homesteads is needed in every county in the state.

That's the advice from Sadie Hatfield, extension landscape gardening specialist of Texas A. & M. College, who explains that the destructive mechanical action of the wind often mars the beauty of shrubs by spoiling their shapes and destroying the blooms.

Besides this, tender plants are hindered in growth or may be killed by the wind. Unless there's a natural windbreak to protect the farm homestead, planting one is the logical first step in landscaping a home, says Miss Hatfield. It will pay special dividends by breaking the force of the wind and modifying the temperature.

There is a combination of trees and shrubs that are well adapted for use in windbreaks, says Miss Hatfield. Among those which have been successfully planted for this purpose are desert willow, tamarix or salt cedars, native pine, western willow pine, red cedar and Arizona cypress. The landscape gardening specialist points out that the plants native to the locality are good ones to use for windbreaks.

In areas free of root rot, the Chinese elm is a strong favorite because of its rapid growth. All plantings should include several varieties of trees, because it's not a good idea to depend on just one variety.

Where root rot is found black walnut, cedar elm, red cedar and Chinese pistacia are often grown for windbreaks because of their resistance to this disease, says Miss Hatfield.

It's time now to start planning to "kill 'em before they get started." Cotton insects, we mean, of course.

We're old enough to have some gray hairs but we can't recall any year when farmers were so jubilant over crop prospects generally as they have been since the rains of last week, etc. Aside from the freeze damage to some of the oats, and to the south Texas crops, things look good. Storage will be a sore spot as usual this spring and summer, we'll bet.

The Texas Chemurgic council had its annual meeting last week, in Houston, and the National Chemurgic council meets next month in Memphis. What these men report about wonderful future uses and markets for farm products is vastly important but should be told the public in less scientific terms than it is so we could realize this importance.

Want to Buy Some Goldfish?

AUSTIN — In the course of 113 years the public domain of Texas has been sought for all kinds of purposes, but Land Commissioner Bascom Giles believes a modern-day potential customer must be reckoned as the most unique.

Giles was visited recently by E. C. Shireman of Martinsville, Indiana, who was wondering if any of the public school land would be suitable for building goldfish ponds.

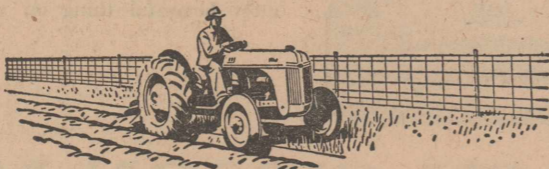

Or for several goldfish ponds. When Mr. Shireman builds goldfish ponds, he builds them. At his present hatchery in Martinsville, Indiana, Shireman has some 400 acres of goldfish breeding grounds. His present stock of goldfish is about 25 million, of nine different varieties, including the Calico Telescope.

Shireman has no intention of removing his headquarters to Texas, not at present, though he is considering testing the Texas weather and climatic conditions. Goldfish, explains the man who sells about 15 million per year, start laying eggs when the temperature rises to 60 degrees. In Texas that would mean they lay most of the time, though it remains to be seen what effect the "blue" northerners would have upon their schedule.

It's true . . . a Norge Vertical Freezer can do wonders for your food budget! You can "stock up" during harvest seasons, when prices are lowest. You can take better advantage of shopping bargains. In addition, you can save through quantity buying; a freezer makes it practical to buy by the bushel, instead of by the pound.

Yes, you save with a Norge Vertical Freezer, but not at the expense of your palate. Meat, fish, fowl, fruits, vegetables . . . even pastries . . . reach your table as flavor-fresh and nutritious as the day they went into the freezer. You enjoy better food . . . greater variety in your meals . . . better balanced menus. And you can have "seasonal" delicacies any time of the year . . . pheasant in June, cantaloupe in January, choice bits from the Christmas turkey in March.

Let us show you how the Norge Vertical Freezer can bring better and less expensive meals to your household!

More Milk Per Cow, More Eggs Per Hen, More Sorghum Per Acre

Produce More Per Unit or Get Out of The Business Theme of Farm Meeting

Farmers interested in making money, as well as those who want to know what the future holds for grain sorghum growers, got specific facts and figures at the second farm clinic sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce Thursday, March 10.

Down to earth suggestions on raising chickens were made by George McCarthy, director of feeds research for Universal Mills, Fort Worth; and on making dairy cattle pay from E. R. Eudaly, dairy specialist for the same mill.

J. Roy Quinby, superintendent of the Chillicothe Experiment Station, and one of the country's leading authorities on grain sorghum, told what the future holds for that crop, as he sees it, while George Taylor district conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service, Childress, discussed the land as a source of wealth.

Approximately 275 farmers attended.

Grain Sorghum

Mr. Quinby opened the program with his discussion of grain sorghums. Speaking frankly of the combine sorghums, he said that in his opinion they had almost ruined the sorghums in this area. Repeating what many farmers are already familiar with, he mentioned spoilage due to the high moisture content, the need for tight bins to keep the grain in, and its tendency to fall down before it is harvested.

"We need to get some varieties that will stand up better and are dryer," he said.

He predicted that in the future, farmers would begin using windrow machines for harvesting grain sorghums, a machine working on the principal of the header barge with the feed threshed out of the windrow.

Mr. Quinby told of the breeding experiments at the Chillicothe station in an attempt to get a sorghum that can be planted broadcast. Currently, weed control is one of the big problems.

An effort is also being made to develop hybrid sorghums, which Mr. Quinby predicted could mean a 30 per cent increase in yield for the grower.

"We're working seriously and we're kinda hopeful," he said. Mr. Quinby predicted an increase in sorghums production, particularly if it is necessary to cut wheat production within the next few years.

6,000,000 bushels of grain sorghums in the making of starch. The plant is built so that two similar units can be added.

This plant alone, he said, can use one-fifth of the Texas annual crop, which, considering what is utilized on the farm, is a good part of it.

There may be many other uses, the experimenter said.

If and when the high grade iron ores of the country play out, Mr. Quinby said by way of example, it will be necessary to turn to the lower grades, and starch is an important ingredient used in separating the ore from the dross. It is possible that this will take enough starch to take the entire sorghum crop of the nation, he declared.

Mr. Quinby also predicted a return to the high production of forage-type sorghums, now in disuse among row crop farmers. This will come with increased stock production.

Mr. Quinby closed by extending an invitation to those present to visit the Chillicothe Station and see for themselves the work that is being done there.

Feeding for Egg Production

Mr. McCarthy pointed to the importance of egg production in Texas by reminding his listeners that income from poultry ranks third among agricultural products in the state.

"Your poultry should be on a paying basis or you should get out of the business," he declared.

"Cheap chicks don't pay off," he continued, stressing additional outlay in the purchase of good chicks as a sure method to beginning a successful flock. The cost of good chicks more than pays off in later production.

Poultry growing isn't hard, but the birds must be kept comfortable. There must be a good feeding program, with laying mash to stimulate production and feed to maintain body weight. He recommended oats, or a combination of oats and sorghum for the latter. He recommended that mash be kept before the chickens at all times, and this is even more important if the hens run out and pick up grain around the feed-lots at will.

He warned against letting hens get too fat and said that when "it looks like all my fattest hens are dying this hot weather," it means that nothing is wrong with the hen except that she is too fat.

He also warned against putting pullets and old hens in the same laying house, since this generally means a higher loss from disease among the younger fowl. If there is only one laying house, Mr. Mc-Carthy recommended that once the pullets come into laying, the old flock be sold off and only the young ones kept.

He urged that roosters be sold off and only infertile eggs sold.

"I have canceled eggs right here in Wellington in the summer when in case run lots a high as 20 per cent would be inedible, and in one instance this ran as high as 70 per cent," he declared.

Dairy Management

Mr. Eudaly, one of Texas' agriculture's most colorful speakers, emphasized to his listeners that "It's not what you think a cow wants, it's what she wants that counts in production."

Acknowledging that he was talking to a lot of one-cow dairymen, Mr. Eudaly said:

"Milking cows isn't hard, but it is a little too regular. There is plenty of opportunity in dairying in Texas. There always has been and there always will be. Dairy cows will always make a little money. They did even in the depression.

"Dairying has pulled plenty of countries out of the hole. Take Wisconsin. They went broke trying to raise wheat, then they turned to dairying and now they're one of the richest states in the union.

"But sorry cows won't make you any money. Forget numbers and think in terms of production per cow."

"Touching on the Texas tendency to brag, he continued:

"In Texas you say 'How many cows are you milking?' but up in Wisconsin they say 'How much milk are your cows producing?' We've got to start bragging about how much money our cows are making."

Mr. Eudaly told of visiting two dairies at Stamford. In one, properly managed, the owner was clearing $250 per month on 10 cows, and at the other the owner was clearing only $200 on 50 cows. Turning to the recent drop in the price paid for dairy products, he added:

"You're not going to get the price of dairy products up but you've got to get the cost of production down. The biggest trouble with the Texas dairies is that they have too many cows. We should cull out 20 per cent of the cows. You'll have less cows to milk and less cows to feed."

Most often it is not the fault of the cow if she isn't producing her best.

"Don't try to start your dairy with Holsteins. You haven't learned how to feed Jerseys yet," he grinned.

Lack of proper feeding is one of the chief causes for a cow not producing to capacity, he pointed out. In their order, feeding faults are: lack of roughage, lack of protein, lack of water, lack of mineral and lack of vitamins.

"Neglect of any of these will (Continued on Page Five)

"Mother Is A Freshman" in 'Class' of '49

With a delightfully novel twist on an unusual theme, "Mother Is A Freshman," the hilarious new Technicolor comedy at the Ritz Theatre, Wednesday and Thursday, March 23 and 24, is motion picture entertainment at its sparkling best.

In addition to humorous situations, breezy dialogue and romantic mix-ups, the Twentieth Century-Fox hit shows a completely credible college where students act like students should. This dash of realism adds flavor to the intriguing story and aids its blend of amusing ingredients immeasurably.

The "Alma mother" in "Mother Is A Freshman" is Loretta Young who, as a financially embarrassed young widow, seizes the opportunity to show her problems by following her sophomore daughter (Betty Lynn) to the campus. The romance departments is in the capable hands of Van Johnson, the college's most attractive bachelor professor and the object of affections of both the mother and the daughter.

Loretta, who won the '48 Oscar for her grand work in "The Farmer's Daughter," is at her appealing best in the role of the winsome mother who carries out her amusing masquerade. In gorgeous Technicolor, the charming, accomplished actress scores repeatedly throughout the intriguing film.

Van Johnson turns in an engaging performance as the romantic interest for not only the mother and her daughter, but all the staff members of his class-room.

Heading up the stand-out cast are Rudy Vallee and Barbara Lawrence, while Robert Arthur, Griff Barnett and Kathleen Hughes are cast in important roles.

The smart, briskly paced action in the film adds another feather to the cap of distinguished director Lloyd Bacon, while to Walter Morosco goes the credit for one of Hollywood's most smartly produced productions. The clever screen play is the work of Mary Loos and Richard Sale, based on a story by Raphael Blau.

"Mother Is A Freshman" is indeed the "class" of '49!

knock off your profit," he declared. The average dairyman doesn't give his cow enough roughage, he pointed out, "A Jersey cow needs 20 pounds of roughage a day. Most of us put out feed like you were milking a herd of goats."

Even on good green pasture, a cow still needs roughage, he pointed out.

Protein, Mr. Eudaly continued, stimulates milk production, but he warned against feeding too much.

Failure to provide sufficient water is another failure of many dairymen, although milk is 85 per cent water.

"You can give a cow enough feed to produce 5 gallons of milk, but if you give her just enough water for two gallons, two is all you're going to get," he declared.

Green grass will provide a cow with part of the water she needs, and silage will help get water down a cow.

Mr. Eudaly closed by stressing the importance of minerals, in order that a cow does not have to draw on the minerals in her own bone structure to produce milk.

Soil Conservation
"You can't entice capital to invest in an area of poor land," Mr. Taylor, district conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service at Childress, reminded the group at the beginning of his short talk which urged a rebuilding of the soil.

"We've got lots of acres, but we sure aren't getting the greatest production out of them," he declared, following the trend of the other speakers in urging increased production from fewer chickens, from fewer cows, and from more sorghums per acre.

"The future of this community is going to depend on the production per acre. On it are going to depend what kind of roads you have, what kind of schools you have, and whether people can stay here and make a living," he said.

Mr. Taylor explained that the government had been trying to help the farmers for years. The Extension Service of the A&M Colleges was set up with this in mind. The creation of the Soil Conservation Service provided technicians to help the farmers, and now it all depends on the will of the farmer to make the most of this help.

Farm Cash Income Shows Drop Over One Year Ago

AUSTIN — Texas farm cash income totaled $60,406,000 in January 1949, falling 86 per cent from December and 30 per cent from a year earlier, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported.

Cattle was the greatest source of income in January 1949, bringing Texas farmers $14,667,000. Income from milk products totaled $10,464,000; and sales of fruits and vegetables amounted to $5,784,000.

Gains over December 1948 were turned in by two crop-reporting districts. Farm income in the Lower Rio Grande Valley stepped up 39 per cent, and is was up 9 per cent in the Northern High Plains District. On the other hand, monthly declines ranging from 25 per cent in the Southern Texas Prairies to 60 per cent in the Southern High Plains were turned in by other districts.

Farm income was below January 1948 levels in all crop-reporting districts. Declines varied from 13 per cent in the Southern Texas Prairies to 65 per cent in the Southern High Plains.

The highest dollar income for January was recorded by farmers in the Northern High Plains, $8,848,000. For second place, Black and Grand Prairies' income from sales of farm products reached $8,118,000; and Southern High Plains turned in $6,574,000.

After adjustment for seasonal variation, the Bureau's index of farm cash income fell to 211 per cent of the prewar (1935-39) base period from 337 in December and 310 in January 1948.

Slonekirk and son Gordon, Denver, Colorado; Captain and Mrs. Dave Molson, Santa Cruz, California; Mrs. Leola Gwathmey and daughter, Nancy, of San Benito; Mrs. Eulala Garretts of Amarillo and Mrs. Dick Finley, Wellington.

The last two named has been with their mother the past five weeks while the other ladies just arrived, and the son Aud Ross of this place has been here.

HE'S TAKING THE Chill OFF A THOUSAND HOMES

It's 6:00 A.M. ... temperature 48 degrees ... and far out in a gas field, a United Gas well attendant opens a flow valve to move an additional million cubic feet of natural gas through our pipe lines. Its destination is a big electric power plant ... a paper mill ... a great city where home heating equipment is going into action to take off the morning chill. United Gas dispatchers are constantly instructing well attendants to increase or decrease the volume of gas moving into our vast, integrated pipe line system. Dispatching is a 24-hour-a-day job, but is only one of many functions of the United Gas organization ... all of which have the ultimate purpose of assuring a continued dependable supply of natural gas to our customers.

Dispatching offices located at key points over the United Gas system receive reports of gas pressures in all major lines of the area every hour of the day and night.

Analysis of the various reports may indicate the need for increasing or decreasing the flow of gas from particular wells, or for speeding or slowing compressors.

United's short wave radio hookup and its own 3,000 miles of telephone lines enable dispatchers to maintain close control over gas pressures in pipe lines all over the system.

HITS DISCORD

Accordianist Dick Contino, 18-year-old winner of Horace Heidt's $5000 nationwide talent contest, is shown in Hollywood after he announced that he wants to be released from his contract with Heidt on the grounds that it turned him into a "slave laborer." Singley at Purina Dealers Meeting

Jones Singley of Wellington has just returned from Fort Worth, where he attended a conference of several hundred Purina feed dealers. Feed dealers from Texas and Oklahoma were present at the conference where they were told of the newest developments and trends in the feed industry and new ideas in scientific farm management.

L. C. Stevenson, of St. Louis, Missouri, Ralston Purina sales manager for the southern region, sounded an optimistic note for farmers as he reviewed the prospects for 1949. He pointed out that feed prices should be lower during the year while the demand and prices for meat, milk and eggs are expected to remain good. Citing opportunities for feed dealers to serve farmers, he said that a record number of chicks will be hatched and started this year and an increase in the number of pigs farrowed on the nation's farms is expected. To help feed this increased poultry and livestock population and add to the world food supply is the job the feed dealers have ahead of them for 1949.

This feed dealer conference was the first to be held since 1941. Since that time the commercial feed industry is reported to have increased its output from 13 million tons to 30 million tons a year, proof that farmers in this area and throughout the country are giving more attention to a scientific program of feeding, management and sanitation to produce more meat, milk and eggs.

W. Savage Names WT "Mystery Man"

Wayne Savage, a high school student at Quail, Texas, was the first to identify a Myster Man described in the March issue of West Texas Wings, a folder published each month by West Texas State College. Thirteen clues to the identification of Thomas Jefferson were given and Wayne reported that he knew the person by clue number one. To date, he is the only high school pupil making identification through the first clue.

AUSTIN — If you want to do special research or write a club paper and have no public library in your home town, write to the University of Texas Package Loan Library Bureau.

Established in 1914 as part of the Extension Division, the Loan Library furnishes information on subjects ranging from Pulitzer prize winners to "Bluebonnets in Texas Poetry."

Women's clubs and schools call on the bureau most often, Miss LeNoir Dimmitt, director, says. Literature, the most popular pre-war discussion topic, has shown renewed interest recently, but national and international problems are topics of a large number of programs.

In addition to furnishing "packages" of clippings, pamphlets and other material, Miss Dimmitt and her staff aid clubs in outlining courses of study built round central themes.

HIGH AND LOW BLOOD PRESSURE SUCCESSFULLY TREATED

E. H. Boaz, M. D. Box 627 Childress, Texas

Doctor Boaz:

I decided to take your tablets as I had high blood pressure for several years. Had been operated on for fibroid tumor 15 years ago. Never felt well since my operation, as I had phlebitis in one leg and have had it treated all along but doctors said no cure for it but I'm better now with my leg, but had to take something all the time for high blood pressure. Being so discouraged because I had to take medicine every day with nothing but temporary relief I decided to try your tablets so I sent to the Palace Drug Store here and have taken 50 tablets and feel better and am sending back for 50 more. I want to take enough to do my blood pressure real good.

Yours truly, Mrs. H. B. Martindale Route 2 Box 101 Wellington, Texas

Work of War Prisoners Decorates Plains Church

(Editor's note: This story, first printed in The Canyon News, tells of the decoration of St. Mary's Catholic Church at Umbarger by Italian prisoners of war who were interned at the Hereford P. O. W. camp.

Directing this work was the parish priest, the late Rev. John Krukkert, who several years ago served as priest of Our Lady Mercy Church in Wellington.)

Somewhere in Italy are nine men, former prisoners of war interned by the United States government, who hold a special place of affection in the hearts of the parishioners of St. Mary's Catholic Church in Umbarger.

Artists all, the Italians created decorations for the structure which transformed it into one of the most attractive churches in the Tri-State region.

Their names, along with a Latin tribute to them, are inscribed on a metal plate affixed to the wall of the small entryway to the building. Some residents of Umbarger still receive occasional letters from members of the group of prisoners who worked on the church, proof enough that the relationship between the workers and the church members for whom they toiled was mellowed by the fact that a common religion and mutual purpose united them in their effort.

Dominating the interior is a beautiful painting of the Immaculate Conception on the wall back of the altar, unusual because it was started by one Italian officer and completed by another when the original artist was transferred to another camp.

Exquisite in detail is a wood carving of The Last Supper, which is affixed to the front of the altar. Equally impressive, once the symbolism is realized is a series of medallion-like paintings around the body of the church, done in pastel colors and employing ancient devices used by Christians during the Roman persecutions.

The Italians installed the striking stained glass windows which are one of the church's most impressive features, re-tinted the Stations of the Cross, and painted pastel borders around the arch of the sanctuary.

The church actually never had been properly decorated since it was built in 1929 under the leadership of Father John J. Doljic, who died in 1944 at the age of 83 years, a few months after having realized his ambition to pay for the church before his demise.

Work of the Italian prisoners was directed by Father John Krukkert, who died Nov. 11, 1947. Father Marthaler, who succeeded Father Krukkert, was in Dalhart from 1937 to 1944, and between 1944 and 1947 was in the office of Bishop Laurence Fitzsimon in Amarillo.

The Italian artisans, interned at the Hereford prisoner of war camp, worked feverishly during the entire time they were in Umbarger because the work was started during the period when Italian prisoners were being repatriated rapidly, and they were afraid they would have to leave before the church was finished.

Brought under guard from Hereford to Umbarger each day, the prisoners were repaid for their personal interest in the project by enjoying home-cooked meals, prepared by women of St. Mary's parish.

New pews, ordered more than two years ago by Father Krukkert, recently were received and set up in the church.

Now in the process of being installed is a Wicks electric organ, which has 224 pipes and a range of 1,080 notes. There was $1,700 in the church treasury last year, and a church bazaar given August 15, added another $1,800 to the fund from which the organ was purchased.

The lovely church is the religious home of 63 families in the Umbarger area.

Mrs. Graham in Denver Hospital

Mr. and Mrs. Cleve Graham of Wellington have received word that their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Paul Wendell Graham, of Corpus Christi, a victim of tuberculosis of the spine, was flown to the National Jewish Hospital in Denver, Colo., and is receiving treatment.

In the National Jewish Hospital she is receiving treatment available in only a few institutions. No institution in Texas was able to treat her case, her mother-in-law said.

Mrs. Graham was flown to Denver on a special flight arranged by the Navy. She had been in a full-length body cast for 37 days and could not be moved by commercial airline. Her physician had vetoed an ambulance trip.

The Denver hospital accepts only persons who must have the necessary treatment. It refuses pay and always has a long waiting list. Its only requirement of those receiving treatment post a certified check as a guarantee that the patient will have transportation back home.

Mrs. Graham's admittance was arranged by Paul Caplan, past president of the Texas B'Nai B'rith.

Mrs. Graham grew up in Corpus Christi and was a bookkeeper and checked all cash registers for the Perkins Brothers Department Store there. She became ill about three months ago, but it was not until late January that it was discovered she was suffering from tuberculosis of the spine.

She and Mr. Graham were married December 1, 1947, and he is ticket agent for the Greyhound Lines at Corpus Christi. She has been a visitor in Wellington in the homes of relatives.

Hospital authorities have told Mrs. Graham that during the time she is receiving treatment, she will be permitted to take any courses she wishes at the University of Denver. She plans to study art.

Clare Dennis is "Miss Photo Flash of 1949." She was picked at the annual Chicago press photographers' ball. Along with her title, the 18-year-old blond got a trip to Hollywood and a free vacation.

Mr. Graham visited his parents here late last week en route back to Corpus Christi. He had come by way of Kansas City, where he visited his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Verbyl Gausnell.

"We feel that Wendell's friends will be interested in knowing of her illness, but we also are interested that people can know that there is such a place where treatment for a condition such as hers can be had." Mrs. Graham said.
