Bull Town Bulletins

BY BILL ELLIS

FOR THE SECOND TIME in as many months, an important election faces Bovina voters on Saturday, when the runoff elections will be held.

The last time around, when the first primaries were held, a number of potential voters were out of town, as they journeyed to Austin to watch the Fillies win the state track championship.

We know that a number of these track fans voted absentee, before they went to Austin. But if you were one of the many voters who did not vote at all in the first primary, you still can vote in Saturday's runoffs.

If you did not vote at all on May 6, you may vote on Saturday, and in either of the runoff elections, Democratic or Republican. If you voted in the Democratic primary on May 6, then you are required to vote in the Democratic runoff. If you voted in the Republican primary, then you cannot "cross over" this time.

This is a confusing system for some voters, but the thing to remember is that if you are a qualified voter, then you should make an effort to vote on Saturday. No one is disqualified from voting because of where they voted, or did not vote the first time around.

+ + + +

ONE OF THE CANDIDATES thinks there should be an answer to the separate primary confusion. Jim Reese says there should be a way for voters to "cross over" on their primary ballots, just like they do in the general election.

If this could be done, it would save thousands of dollars in election expenses, as well as allow voters to vote for the candidate they really preferred, all the way down the ballot.

Perhaps some day this will come to pass, but until then, we'll have to put up with our small, separate primary elections.

+ + + +

ENDORSEMENTS: In the commissioner's race, we figure most of the Precinct 2 voters know as much, if not more about the two Democratic candidates than we do, so we're making no endorsement as such.

Both Jack Patterson and Glenden Sudderth are longtime residents of the precinct, and either would make a good nominee for the party on the November ballot, and either would represent the precinct well if elected.

However, if you need a suggestion on the Railroad Commissioner's race, we're glad to give you one. Many voters in the May 6 primary had forgotten the farce that ex-Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler made of his office back in 1969.

Sadler is running against John Poerner in the runoff, and to our way of thinking, Poerner has to be a superior choice. At 70, Sadler surely has skimmed enough cream off the surface to think about retiring.

We can't imagine him trying again for public office, after his run-in with the state legislature, which censured him in 1969 for failure to cooperate with an investigation the legislature was conducting.

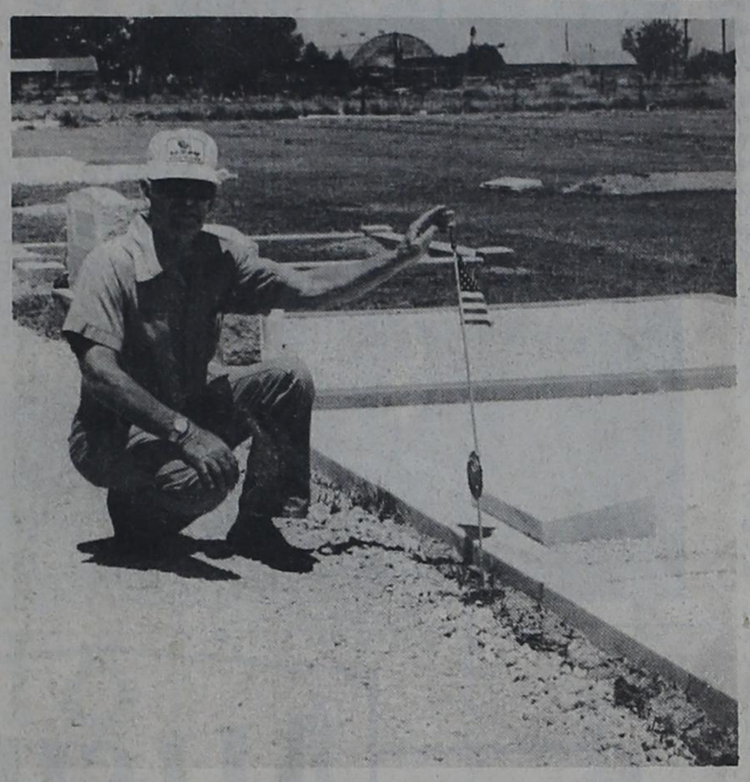

And we really can't imagine him leading the ticket in the May 6 voting--but that's what he did. In these lesser state races, it just isn't possible for the average voter to inform themselves on all the candidates, and this is how bad public officials often are elected.

In the Reese-Bush runoff on the Republican ballot, we feel that Reese would be the superior candidate for our area. A Reese-Hance race in November would be a good one, we think, and far superior to Bush-Hance.

The fact that Bush's father is a member of the Trilateral Commission disturbs a number of people, including this writer, the more we learn of the Trilateral organization. He's really not rooted in the district, either, as Reese is.

For Republican county chairman, the way we understand it, Frank Hinkson would be happy to relinquish the job to J.W. Gammon, who has won a lot of county friends

Bush Discusses Campaign Issues

George Bush, Jr. spoke to a group of questioning farmers in Bovina last Friday on his campaign swing through Parmer County.

Discussion centered on topics concerning agriculture.

Bush told the group he believes the answer to improving the farmer's economic condition is increasing the overseas market of agriculture products. He is also in favor of the reduction of the importation of foreign beef when large domestic supplies are available and the labeling of foreign beef.

"Deficit spending is the reason for inflation and the citizens are tired of it," Bush said.

Bush also spoke in favor of deregulation of gas.

"Just like the farmers, energy producers need incentives," he said. "And just like the farmer, energy producers' costs are not regulated, but the price they can charge is."

Several farmers asked Bush what he thought of the American Agriculture's Five Point Plan. He told the group he was not too fond of the plan because he felt the market place should determine the price and farmers risk pricing themselves out of the world market.

Bush supported the flexible market plan because the market place would determine the price. He said that his first choice for the farmers would be to stop government regulation and manipulation of the farmer.

Bush was then questioned about his father's role on the Trilateral Commission.

"I have nothing to do with the Trilateral Commission," he said. "I don't know anything about the Trilateral Commission."

"My father has been accused of being unAmerican. I know how strong he is for America, he has proven himself. I will continue to defend my father," Bush said.

Bush said he is totally against a one-world government and that the sovereignty of the U.S. is vital.

"If I'm not shooting straight with you, tell me," he said. "My job, first and foremost, is to represent you. If I don't, throw me out."

The farmers told Bush that politicians were now telling the farmers what is best for them.

"They've thrown us out," the farmers said.

Bush also said he is in favor of a fairer way to tax than income tax, such as a national sales tax. He said the more a person buys, the richer he is and the more tax that person would pay.

"There is no way the government can continue to tax the middle class as it is now," he said.

Bush said he was also opposed to the Panama Canal Treaty and continues to be opposed to gun control.

SATURDAY VOTING

Commissioner's Runoff Featured

The Democratic and Republican second primaries, or runoff elections will be held on Saturday, June 3, and a better than average turnout of voters should be evident in Bovina and Rhea, where Democrats will nominate a man for the county commissioner's post.

And in the Republican party runoff, an important congressional nomination is to be settled between Jim Reese and George Bush, Jr.

Candidates in the commissioner's runoff are Jack Patterson and Glenden Sudderth. Patterson led the five-man field in the May 6 primary with 156 votes, and Sudderth was second with 89 votes.

The winner of the runoff will face Republican nominee Vernon Estes in the November general election.

There will be two races on both the Democratic and Republican ballots in the Bovina and Rhea precincts. Democrats also will nominate a man for the position of Railroad Commissioner, unexpired term.

Candidates for the Railroad Commissioner job are John Poerner and Jerry Sadler. Sadler, 70, is the former land commissioner who drew the censure of the Texas Legislature in 1969 for refusing to cooperate in an investigation of a sunken treasure operation that he had supervised.

When voters saw he ran his office like he owned it, they turned him out of office the next time he ran. However, his name was more familiar in May than Poerner's, and he led the balloting in a four-man race.

Poerner, 41, has received the endorsements of a number of his peers, as well as those of several leading newspapers, and is trying to overcome this name identification handicap for the runoff.

In the GOP camp, the Reese-Bush race is the top fight, with the winner to face Kent Hance in November. Speaking in Friona last week, Reese said he realized that he did a poor job of getting his supporters to the polls in May.

In spite of winning 16 of the 17 counties in the district, Reese finished second in the total vote to Bush.

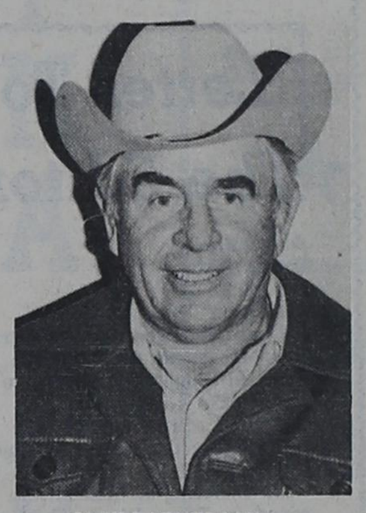

He says he will have a better chance of winning against Hance in the fall than would Bush. "If he wins the nomination, he is likely to win just the one county again in November, and Hance will win the election," Reese says.

Bush's family connections with the Trilateral Commission has concerned some voters, particularly the farmers.

Also on the Republican ballot will be a runoff for county chairman between Frank Hinkson and J.W. Gammon. Gammon led in write-in votes on May 6. He has been active in the American Agriculture

Services Thursday For C. Hawkins

Funeral services for Charles Hawkins, 52, will be held Thursday, June 1, at 2 p.m. in the First Baptist Church of Bovina.

Hawkins, an employee of White's Warehouse in Shallowater, had lived in Bovina all of his life until moving to Littlefield in 1974. Born June 28, 1925, he died Monday, May 29 at his home in Littlefield of a heart attack.

Officiating will be Rev. Gene Hawkins, Topeka, Kansas and Rev. Jerry Rockwell, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Bovina. Burial will be in the Bovina Cemetery under the direction of Parsons-Ellis Funeral Home.

He was married to Bobbie Yohner on July 19, 1974 at Littlefield, Texas. A member of First Baptist Church of Bovina, and a veteran of World War II, serving in the Navy.

Survivors are his wife Bobbie of Littlefield, two daughters, Miss Janie Hawkins of Denton, and Mrs. Darla Peace of Friona; one sister, Mrs. Herman Keel of Amarillo, and three brothers, Erith of Bovina, Gene of Topeka, Kansas and Harold of Mineral Wells. Three grandchildren also survive.

Pallbearers will be Charles Owen, Pierceson Adams, Alvin Glasscock, J.T. Swim, Dean Hastings and Don Murphy.

Violent Weather Reported In Area

Even with all the hail, severe thunderstorm watches and tornado warnings, Bovina has only received seven-tenths of an inch of rain since May 25, according to Gregg Hromas, official weather recorder.

Areas to the south and east have received up to two inches while areas toward the north and west have received close to no measureable amount.

Hail has been reported all around the area.

A tornado destroyed two barns in the Rhea Community last Friday night about 8 p.m.

The roof was blown off a horse barn on the Norman Taylor farm, and a pig barn, containing stacks of hay, was completely destroyed on the Walter Schueler place. Material from both barns was scattered for quite a distance.

Closer to Bovina, some type of wind destroyed a horse barn belonging to Norvel Strawn, just west of town, in the same Friday evening "blow."

Strawn has been out of town, and unavailable for comment as to the extent of damage on his place.

Read To Attend Boys State

Mike Read will represent Bovina at Boys State this year beginning June 7. The Jaycees are sponsoring Read, who was selected from among six candidates. Pat Ware is the alternate.

Read is among more than 900 high school juniors who will assemble on the University of Texas at Austin campus.

The program is sponsored by the American Legion, State of Texas and is an annual event in which the organization teaches boys the responsibilities of citizenship in an actual "doing" program.

The program's motto is "Learn by Doing."

The approximate 920 boys will be housed in 21 Boys State cities with each city further divided into two precincts, one for the Federalist and one for the Nationalist political party. Each city is named for a Past State Commander of the Legion who is now deceased.

F.C. McConnell of Austin Post No. 76 is chairman of this year's program and Dr. Firman Haynie, also of Austin is director.

The American Legion is stressing its belief that youth should be offered a better perspective on the practical operation of government; that the individual is an integral part of and responsible for the character and success of his government.

REST STOP....The Triangle CB Club sponsored a rest stop during the Memorial Day weekend at the roadside park west of Bovina. Inside the booth is Donald Prather, of Muleshoe, with Patsy Webb outside the booth. The club had from 700 to 1,000 people stop during the period from Friday to Monday.

Music Fete To Return

"Texas--Cradle of Giants," will be in Bovina July 1.

The country music road show is produced by South Plains College.

Receptions for all current and ex-students of SPC are being held about one hour before showtime at each stop, according to Eddie Trice, dean of college relations at SPC who is handling the show bookings.

Reception hosts will be the cast of the show.

CLASS THEME SONG....Girls in the Bovina Class of '78 sing the class theme song, "Young and Restless," at commencement ceremonies last Friday night.

Letter To The Editor

Bovina Blade
Bovina, Texas

Dear Sir:

I have followed the girls track team for some time through the Blade, although the paper gets to my house about a week late.

May I take this time to congratulate the team and Bovina High School.

I'm enclosing an article from my paper in Toms River, N.J. with results of our local track teams and the district meet. These are very large high schools. (I'm sure equal to your 4A schools in Tex.)

My daughter, Becky is graduating from Toms River High School North this year with a class of 735 and plans on attending Wayland Baptist College in the fall.

I am a graduate of the class of 1952 Bovina High School.

FACTS By John Ricci

One of the ideas we thought had been forgotten recently came up again. Basically the suggestion was that farmers should give up such things as tractors, irrigation, pesticides and fertilizers and really go back to nature. Create jobs . . . save fuel . . . decrease polution . . . all given as sure results of such a move. Couple of bad problems here. First, according to the experts, we would have to wait until 1994 to have enough horses and mules to go to work for the spring plowing. It takes that long because you need over 60 million draft animals to get things started. You also need 180 million acres of new land to grow enough food to feed the extra 60 million animals. But you will have solved unemployment because it will take 27 million people just to take care of the extra 180 million acres and 60 million animals. And as close as anybody can guess food prices would just about triple. Some things are best forgotten.

Fresh asparagus is as much a part of spring as green grass and warmer temperatures.

Harvested just once a year, asparagus is available for market only in the spring. Although found in home gardens throughout the country, California, New Jersey, Washington and Michigan lead the nation in the commercial production of asparagus. Fresh asparagus appears on the market in February and gradually disappears in late June. The peak of the harvesting season is in April.

Asparagus is a nutritional treat which is low in calories. The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) reports that one cup of asparagus contains only 35 calories and offers 2-3 of the daily recommended allowance (DRA) of vitamin C, 1-3 of the DRA of vitamin A, and 1-10 DRA of iron.

USDA reminds you that fresh asparagus deteriorates rapidly. Therefore, when buying, watch for smooth, round and fresh-looking spears that have closed, compact tips. Most of the stalk should be green and tender. Avoid stalks which have open tips and show signs of decay. Although not graded for the retail market, asparagus receives a USDA grade on the wholesale market to provide buyers with a basis for purchasing quality asparagus.

Once you have your asparagus home, the secret to keeping it fresh is temperature. Store your asparagus at temperatures below 40 degrees and wrap the bases of the stalks with a damp cloth. This will keep the vegetable crispy and fresh until it is ready for use.

When fresh asparagus is not available, canned and frozen supplies of the vegetable can satisfy your craving for this mouth-watering delicacy throughout the year.

Preparing asparagus is easy. Just wash the spears and place them in boiling water. Cover and cook for 10 minutes. It's that simple.

The TAES intends no endorsement of products, nor is criticism of similar products implied which is not shown or used in Extension Educational Programs.

With springtime here, travel seems to be a very inviting idea. Don't let the thoughts of packing put a damper on your plans. You can't take everything, so a little pre-trip planning will help you get the most use from the items you do take along.

Plan wardrobe and accessories for a trip according to climate, activities and length of stay. Mix and match coordinates and colors to keep needs to a minimum. Pack clothes that are washable and resist wrinkles.

Unbreakable bottles and jars for spillables are lighter and should hold enough supplies to last the entire trip. Pack a plastic case. Be sure to include detergent or soap for hand washing. Shoes in shoe mitts or plastic bags protect other articles from dust and polish. Extra waterproof bags for soiled laundry or for repacking wet items are handy.

Place heavy articles at the bottom of the suitcase near hinges. Take advantage of every bit of space by stashing small items inside handbags, into corners and spaces left by bulky accessories, e.g. shoes. Weight should be evenly distributed in the luggage.

Be sure zippers and buttons are fastened for ease in folding. Fold pants with the crease line. Smooth collars and sleeves and fold garments with sleeves turned in. Jewelry should be placed in a jewelry case or with other valuables in hand luggage.

Though not a closet full, an organized suitcase gets you going with the essentials.

+ + + +

Chances are the car hasn't been washed during winter months. Snow, ice, freezing rain, road salt and chemicals, dirt and grime give a car a winter weary appearance--especially if left outside.

Begin a spring spruce-up by inspecting car for damage. Note where special attention is needed. Then start an overall washing with detergent or soap suds applied with a clean sponge or cloth. Specialty car products can be purchased in auto accessory or department stores. Follow directions on these products and those included in the car owner's manual. Here are general suggestions for auto upkeep.

Car metal should be cool before cleaning. Avoid washing the vehicle in direct sunlight, since this can cause streaking. Start sudsing at the top and work down to wheels. Hose rinse. Dry entire surface with a clean, soft cloth. A second washing may be necessary. If imbedded dirt and discolorations remain, try using an auto wax with built-in cleaner. Some stains, once set, are difficult to remove. A stiff brush helps coax grime from tires.

A vinyl top needs extra care. Apply warm suds with a soft bristled brush. Remove softened soil with a clean cloth or sponge; wash again. Rinse thoroughly. If dirt persists, apply a mild foaming cleanser, according to directions.

Stainless steel or chrome trim needs only washing and waxing unless dull or corroded. If so, a special chrome cleaner designed to remove rust and stains also adds luster. Do not use on aluminum. Treat aluminum bumpers and trim to simple suds care or employ a pre-softened wax.

Consider professional steam cleaning, particularly of wheel-housings, bumpers, mufflers, tailpipes and brackets, if damaging incrustrations appear on the underbody.

Give windows the once over inside and out with suds or a special window cleaner.

After washing and drying the car, touch up chips, nicks and scratches with paint, available for particular auto makes in various colors.

Finally, apply car wax or polish for a long lasting sheen. Of course, all mechanical parts should be checked and serviced as part of the overhauling!

+ + + +

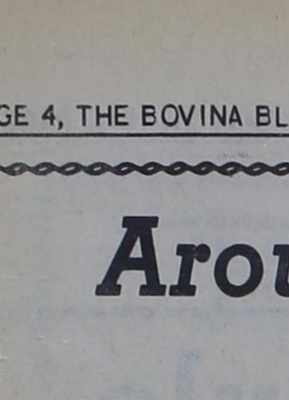

If the freezer or refrigerator is located next to the range, under a heating duct or exposed to direct sunlight, consider moving the appliance to a cooler location. The more heat that a freezer or refrigerator is exposed to, the more it must run. Avoid locating a freezer or refrigerator on the porch or patio or in the garage.

+ + + +

To save cooking energy, use the oven instead of surface units when possible. Ovens save, because less heat is lost in confined areas.

+ + + +

Refrigerate canned hams and picnics unless directions on label specify that refrigeration is not necessary.

Jack Adams recently completed his first year of study at the Lyndon B. Johnson School of Public Affairs. The school, a graduate program at the University of Texas at Austin, prepares students for future occupations in various local, state and federal government agencies.

This summer Adams plans to work as an intern in the Assistant Post Master General's office in Washington, D.C. in charge of Governmental Relations.

In September he will return to Austin to complete his Master's degree.

Adams is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Pierceson Adams of Bovina.

5th Graders Complete Experiment

Fifth grade students of Mrs. Shirley Garrison recently completed a science experiment on incubating eggs.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Dale and Mr. and Mrs. Don Bandy donated the incubators for the experiment.

The students were taught many important things about caring for incubators, turning the eggs, the development of the chicks and care of chickens. The students observed the chickens as they hatched and then cared for them.

While the students were incubating the eggs, they also experimented with germinating seeds without soil.

Wedding Date Set June 4

Friends are reminded of the wedding date this week for Loy Christian and Joe McLellan, who will be married on Sunday, June 4 at 3 p.m. at the Oklahoma Lane Methodist Church.

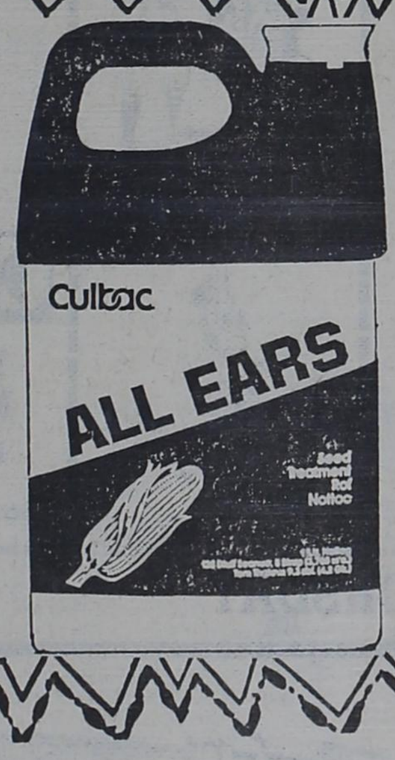

Invitations are not being mailed locally, but all friends and relatives are invited to attend.

Income Tax Payment Due June 15

Taxpayers making estimated tax payments on their 1978 income must pay the second installment by Thursday, June 15. The tax installment should be paid using declaration-voucher 2 from the Form 1040-ES package, the Internal Revenue Service said.

Taxpayers whose anticipated income during 1978 has changed may have to file an amended declaration. Space appears in the estimated tax package to compute an amended estimate, the IRS said.

For more detailed information, taxpayers can obtain IRS Publication 505, "Tax Withholding and Declaration of Estimated Tax," available free from local IRS offices. Supplies of the Form 1040-ES package are also available from these offices.

Reese Hits Carter, Inflation, Welfare

Jim Reese, candidate for congress in the Republican runoff election on June 3, said here Tuesday he felt he could do a better job as a Republican in congress from this district than could a Democrat.

Reese pointed out to a nice crowd at Friona State Bank that he had carried 16 of the 17 counties of the 19th Congressional District in the first primary May 6. His opponent, George Bush, carried only one county, his home town of Midland.

"And if we don't win the primary, Bush will win just the one county again in November, because Kent Hance will take the rest, if Bush is the Republican candidate," Reese said.

Reese hit at the inflationary programs instigated by Democrats, who he pointed out have been the "majority party" for 42 of the past 46 years.

He attacked the entrenched bureaucracies, saying that if elected, he would fight for the "sunset" legislation, which calls for an end date for every existing federal agency. He would also call for zero-based budgeting, where every agency starts over each year, saying this concept worked in Odessa, where he served as mayor for six years.

Reese also spoke in favor of limiting terms of congressmen to eight years, senators to 12 years and one six-year term for the president.

"That would make a congressman more responsive to the needs of his people, and he would worry less about how he was going to get elected," he said.

The candidate attacked the recent give-away of the Panama Canal, saying that the president and the senate clearly were not acting within the wishes of the people on this issue.

On agriculture, Reese said we need to "expand the markets and negotiate the prices higher."

"I am not a specialist in the field of agriculture, but I'm more than willing to listen to your problems, and suggestions as to how to correct them," Reese said.

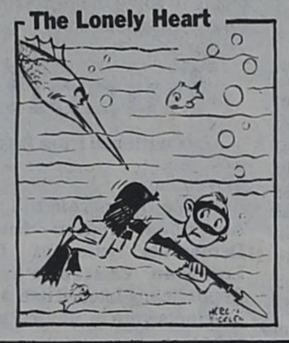

The candidate reminded his audience that two years ago he advocated a mobile type office, which would visit towns within the district on a regular basis.

"I would like to de-federalize the welfare program and let the state and local governments take care of the welfare problem," Reese said.

He decried the "God complex" which prevails in Washington, where elected officials tend to feel that they know more how to deal with local problems than do the local people.

He urged the people to vote on June 3, stressing that if they had not voted at all on May 6, they could still cast a ballot in the second primary.

Services Held For Odus Moore

Services were held for Odus Moore, 85, of Bovina at 10 a.m. Monday at the Bovina Methodist Church.

Rev. James Putnam and Rev. Wesley Putnam officiated. Burial followed in the Amherst Cemetery.

Moore died Saturday in the Parmer County Community Hospital after a short illness.

He had lived near Bovina for 14 months, moving here from Amherst. He was a retired farmer and a World War I veteran. Moore served in Company D 124 Infantry and Company G 102 Infantry of the 26th Division in France.

His wife preceded him in death. Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Myrtle Cain of Arlington, Texas; and two brothers, Hylton Moore of Bovina and Casey Moore of Kansas City, Kansas. He is also survived by two nephews and four nieces.

Southwestern Public Service Company, in accordance with the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas and the Public Utility Regulatory Act of Texas, hereby gives public notice of its intent to change its general retail rates in the counties served by it in Texas effective on June 16, 1978.

It is expected that the increase in rates for residential, commercial and industrial customers will result in an increase of 8.8 per cent in the company's gross revenue in Texas as compared to that furnished by the existing rate schedule.

Complete copies of the new rate schedules have been mailed or delivered to the appropriate officer of each affected municipality at least 35 days prior to the effective date of the proposed change and copies of the new rate schedules have been furnished to the Public Utility Commission of Texas. 44-4tc

U.S. Food Supply Is Jeopardized

The American consumer has never had to worry about adequate supplies of food. However, with the producers of this food being forced out of business because of high production costs and low market prices, America's food supply could be in jeopardy, according to officials of Grain Sorghum Producers Association, which represents thousands of U.S. sorghum farmers.

American agriculture cannot continue to produce under the present cost-price squeeze. Last year it cost the average farmer $2.52 to produce a bushel of corn. That same bushel of corn sold for $2.23--29 cents less than the cost of production. Over the U.S. that meant a total loss of $1.8 billion for corn farmers.

American housewives are concerned about rapidly rising costs, especially food costs, but partly because of increased agricultural efficiency (brought about partially because of better and bigger equipment), and partly because consumer income has increased faster than food prices, the family income buys considerably more food today than 25 years ago. Note the following chart provided by the Agriculture Council of America.

AMOUNT OF FOOD THE AVERAGE U.S. FACTORY WORKER COULD BUY WITH 1 HOUR'S WAGES

| FOOD ITEM | 1950 | 1976 |
|---|---|---|
| White Bread | 10.1 lbs. | 14.7 lbs. |
| Frying Chicken | 2.4 lbs. | 8.7 lbs. |
| Milk | 7.5 qts. | 12.5 qts. |
| Eggs | 2.4 doz. | 6.3 doz. |
| Pork Chops | 1.9 lbs. | 2.8 lbs. |

Opponent of higher prices for farmers argue that food prices will rise dramatically if farmers get more money for their products. Congressional studies show, though, that if commodity prices were to increase even to the levels stated in recent farm bills, the increase to the average family of four would only amount to about one cent per meal per person.

These same people also say that costlier agricultural products would cause a substantial decrease in U.S. agricultural exports.

U.S. Department of Agriculture economic studies have shown that though there would be a definite decrease in the volume of U.S. agricultural exports, the higher prices (at full parity) would result in an overall increase in agricultural export value of between $6 and $10 billion annually--which would cut the national balance of trade deficit in half!

Bankrupt farmers don't produce. And agriculture affects everybody. The American consumer has the highest standard of living at the lowest cost, thanks to American agriculture. This can continue if the farmer is given a fair shake--reasonable, above cost-of-production prices.

Grain Sorghum Producers Association is a national organization of farmers dedicated to aggressively trying to solve the problems of grain sorghum producers.

Survey Shows Market Growth

According to Sam Thomas, manager of agriculture development for Southwestern Public Service Company, 4,373,850 fat cattle were produced in the SPS service area for 1977. This production, revealed in a recent survey conducted by SPS, is the third highest in the history of the industry.

The survey which has been conducted since 1963 is quoted throughout the United States as the most authoritive source as to production of fat cattle in the southern great plains area.

"During the 1977 period, the feedlot capacity came to 2,734,740 head and is barely 10,000 head under the peak year of 1974 when 2,742,250 capacity was in use. This dropped to a low of 2.6 million in 1976 and present indications are that the 1978 year will see a new peak in feedlot capacity use," stated Thomas.

The survey also revealed that the 1978 feedyards doing custom feeding was one less than the preceding year but that this represented the consolidation of reporting yards. The total number of yards surveyed continued to fall with a reduction of six from last year. This too, reflects a consolidation but is the eleventh year it has occured. There were 274 yards counted in 1967 as compared to 153 in 1978.

"The total impact of the feedyard industry on the business community reached 8 billion dollars in 1977," Thomas stated, "and the farm sale value exceeded 2 billion dollars.

The survey also showed that the packing plant annual slaughter capacity jumped from 4,990,680 to 5.4 million head

Savings Is Great--Invest in Real Estate
"Sales And Loans Are Our Service"

Just plain better.

When the economic survival of farmers and ranchers is constantly threatened, so is the economy of our entire district. West Texas producers are being squeezed between the inflation of retail farm prices and the demand to sell wholesale at the marketplace. Government surplus policies discourage incentives for growth, while foreign markets remain undeveloped.

There is one candidate in the Congressional Run-Off who is very knowledgeable in the economics of energy and agriculture that keep West Texas alive . . . George Bush. He is keenly intelligent and deeply committed to the future of our district.

His appeal as a leader transcends political parties and special interest groups. George has integrity, talks straight-from-the-shoulder, and his grasp of the issues show that he 'just plain' has more substance than anyone else who's running. And he can get results.

He will work in Congress to decrease government controls over domestic markets, insure fair profit incentives, and adopt realistic policies in developing new, international markets. George stands for support for ranchers by formulating a beef import policy and labeling all imported beef. An overhaul of the inheritance tax structure is in order . . . one which gives relief to the productive land holder.

The Midland Reporter-Telegram endorsed his candidacy while saying; ". . . Bush seems to have the ability—the best of any of the candidates—to understand and relate to the problems of farmers and ranchers."

George Bush is the frontrunner.

His campaign is swelling as evidenced by his near primary victory. Go with a proven winner when you vote in the June 3rd Run-Off. Go with the one man who can achieve victory in November. For the future of our district: George Bush . . . the one Republican for all West Texans.

Vote in the Republican Primary Run-Off on Saturday, June 3rd.

Rosters Announced For League

The summer Little League schedule began on Monday in Bovina, with a pair of games being played.

Bovina Super Market-Agri-Sprayers downed Big Nick-Horn Insurance, 6-1 in Major League action, and Sherrill-Bonds toppled Chuck's Spraying Service, 6-2 in the Minor League game.

In the Major League contest, the winners scored runs in every inning except the sixth. Big Nick-Horn scored their run in the fifth inning when Charles Johnson led off with a single and eventually scored.

Mike Shepherd had a home run for Bovina Super Market-Agri-Sprayers.

Scott Riley had a pair of hits and Kendell Webb hit a home run for Sherrill-Bonds. Hippy Gomez struck out eight batters for the winners.

A full slate of games is on tap this week. (See schedule elsewhere in this issue.)

Local Nine Wins Award In Meet

Big Nick Machinery of Bovina and Colonial West of Clovis tied for fifth place in the Seventh Annual Guy Leeder Memorial Day Softball Tournament at Clovis this past weekend.

Forty-four teams competed, with Albuquerque teams taking three of the top four places and an El Paso team placing second.

Big Nick Machinery won over Milwaukee of Lubbock, Waughn's Cleaner of Abilene, Mr. Burger of Amarillo, Gardenswarty of Albuquerque and MBPXL of Clovis.

The team's losses were to the Albuquerque Merchants and Albuquerque Rockets, who took first and fourth place respectively.

Teams from Dumas, Plainview, Santa Fe, Roswell, Carlsbad, and Espanola also competed.

The locally sponsored team is a member of the Clovis Softball Association and defending District IV champion. They will compete next in the Long John Silver's Southeastern New Mexico Muscular Dystrophy Benefit Tournament at Roswell June 9-11.

Shot Clinic Is Scheduled

A clinic offering vaccines to give protection against several childhood diseases will be held in Dimmitt June 9.

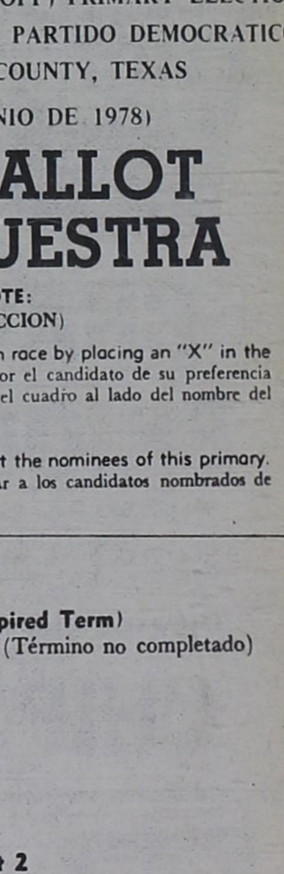

The free shots for protection against polio, diphtheria, lock jaw, whooping cough, measles, rubella and mumps will be available from 9 a.m. to noon at the City Hall Assembly Room.

The vaccines are given by the Texas Department of Health.
