Keeping tab on our neighbors:

Business picks up during the hunting season over much of Texas, especially the southwestern region. In fact, hunting has become big business and is responsible for a comensurate upsurge in traffic, as the San Angelo Standard-Times reported the other day.

"Fred Campbell, West Texas ranchman and manager of the Sonora Wool and Mohair Co., told a group of warehousemen and producers....'the road between Eldorado and Sonora looks like the freeway between Fort Worth and Dallas. Hunters are converging upon this area by the hundreds. And when I passed by the Sonora Airport this morning there were so many hunters landing there and getting out of planes with guns, Eldorado and Sonora look like Da Nang Airfield.' "

A bunch of truck drivers took things into their own hands the other night near Sweetwater when a couple of their colleagues were trapped beneath the cab of an overturned vehicle.

"Two men, Thomas J. Garland of Memphis, Tenn., and Marvin Ray Johnson of Grand Rivers, Ky., were trapped underneath the cab of the overturned vehicle, but due to the efforts of approximately 15 other truck dirvers who barehandedly lifted the cab of the truck, they were reported in fair condition by their attending physican in Simmons Memorail Hospital," The Sweetwater Reporter reported.

It was estimated that the 15 men may have lifted some seven thousand to eight thousand pounds a few inches so that the two victims could be freed.

It apparently was another instance where men were able to muster unusual physical strength to meet an emergency.

In her comments on Thanksgiving, Ruth Coffey in the Colorado City Record recalled an incident involving a daughter who was noted for long and rambling prayers when it came her turn to say the blessing at the dinner table. On a particular date, there was a lot of company for Thanksgiving and they were having sentence prayers. The mother announced, "And now Doris will open with a brief prayer."

The child got the message and said, "Father make us thankful for this food, teach us to be kind and loving and good," and in the next breath, "Mother was that brief enough?"

It reminded us of a service club meeting several years ago when the Rev. John Reaves was minister of the First Christian Church here. Someone came up with a very brief invocation and Rev. Reaves expressed his approval.

"I'm sure hungry," he said, "And I'm glad they didn't call on me for the invocation because it takes me longer than that to get the Lord's attention."

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Friday, Nov. 24, the 329th day of 1972. There are 37 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1963, the accused assassin of President John F. Kennedy, Lee Harvey Oswald, was shot to death by Jack Ruby in Dallas, Tex.

On this date:

In 1638, the Dutch philsopher, Benedict Spinoza, was born in Amsterdam.

In 1784, the 12th American president, Zachary Taylor, was born in Orange County, Va.

In 1867, barbed wire was patented by Joseph F. Glidden of De Kalb, Ill.

In 1942, in World War II, the Germans were suffering heavy losses in the Battle of Stalingrad in the Soviet Union.

In 1944, U.S. Superforts based on Saipan attacked Tokyo. The raid was the first against the Japanese capital by land-based planes.

In 1963, the body of President John F. Kennedy was taken from the White House to the Capitol to lie in state.

Ten years ago: The new government of Algeria pledged to follow a neutral policy in international affairs.

Five years ago: Many foreigners on Cyprus moved inland on the island, fearing an invasion by Turkey.

One year ago: Thousands of South Vietnamese troops were making a push into neighboring Cambodia.

Newsmen Track Kissinger, Tho To Rendezvous

PARIS (AP) — Henry A. Kissinger and Hanoi's Le Duc Tho met for an hour today at a suburban rendezvous after putting out word that the meeting had been called off.

A television crew of the Columbia Broadcasting System tracked Kissinger to the secret meeting place in Chousy-le-Roi, not far from the North Vietnamese delegation headquarters.

Kissinger told a CBS reporter on the spot that he planned to meet Tho again Saturday.

In Washington, the White House confirmed that the two men would meet Saturday in Paris. A spokesman gave no details.

Press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler also said Kissinger paid a call in Paris after his meeting with Tho to fill in French Foreign Minister Maurice Schumann on the talks so far. Ziegler described it as a courtesy call to thank the French government for courtesies extended to the Vietnam peace negotiators during their meetings there.

The North Vietnamese delegation earlier announced that there were would be no meeting today, and American sources tacitly confirmed the announcement.

It appeared that the two delegations were trying to throw newsmen and photographers off the track after the earlier meeting place at Gif-sur-Yvette was discovered — also by a CBS television crew.

The one-hour meeting was the shortest since Kissinger and Tho began their current session Monday in an effort to complete the peace agreement they drafted last month.

President Nixon's security adviser and the Hanoi politburo member conferred for six hours at Gif-sur-Yvette Thursday.

Choisy is 10 miles south of Paris. Gif-sur-Yvette is 15 miles southwest of Paris.

The French news agency Agence France Presse quoted reliable sources as saying Kissinger and Tho had run into serious difficulties.

On Monday they met for 5½ hours, Tuesday for 4½ hours and Wednesday for 3½ hours. The Thursday session continued the relaxed mood of the secret talks.

The two delegations lunched together, and Kissinger and Tho emerged several times into the walled garden, walking up and down in animated and apparently friendly conversation.

They punctuated their remarks with sweeping gestures and at one point Tho grasped Kissinger's arm in a friendly manner.

The two came to the garden gate after lunch and allowed themselves to be photographed together. Photographers shouted for them to pose shaking hands, but they ignored the request.

US B52s Blast Supply Targets

SAIGON (AP) — American B52s blasted supply targets for a third straight day in their heaviest raids of the war in North Vietnam, the U.S. Command said today. Meanwhile, a Navy fighter-bomber disabled in a landing mishap became the 9th U.S. aircraft lost in Southeast Asia in the last five days.

The Command said 14 missions by the Air Force stratofortresses, each with three planes, struck at military supply concentrations near the coastal cities of Vinh and Dong Hoi in the 24 hours ending at noon today.

The big bombers have flown 41 missions in the area below the 20th parallel in the last three days in efforts to knock out supplies being marshaled for shipment into Laos and southward into South Vietnam. Hanoi and Haiphong are above the 20th parallel and are currently off limits to U.S. warplanes.

While bad weather continued to curtail tactical air strikes north of the demilitarized zone, Air Force and Navy fighter-bombers were active in support of government forces in South Vietnam.

A Navy A7 Corsair, attempting a hazardous night landing aboard the carrier USS Saratoga, misjudged the approach and smashed into the deck. Despite major structural damage, the pilot, Lt. Cmdr. David Edwards, managed to get the crippled jet back into the air. He headed for Da Nang but was forced to abandon the aircraft when his controls failed.

Edwards ejected from the plane and was plucked from the water by a rescue helicopter, the Command said.

His hometown was not immediately available.

In ground action, South Vietnamese forces battled Communist troops near Quang Tri, in the central highlands, and near the Cambodian border northwest of Saigon. They claimed 38 enemy killed, mostly by air and artillery strikes, in the latter engagement near the district town of Go Dau Ha, 45 miles west of the capital.

At Da Nang, military sources reported a South Vietnamese helicopter crashed, apparently from enemy fire, south of the city, killing the four crewmen.

Another report said coastal fishermen recovered 280 bags of rice, bearing Chinese Communist markings, from the waters offshore. The rice was presumably being floated ashore for use by Communist troops, sources said.

Strikers Barricade Selves In Bolivian Factories

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — Striking textile workers barricaded themselves inside their factories and vowed to remain "until the ultimate consequences" after the Bolivian government declared a nationwide state of emergency to counter what it called an "overt plot" against the regime.

The workers began a 24-hour walkout early Thursday. Shortly afterward the government announced the state of siege, ordered troops, tanks and police to surround the textile factory district in northern La Paz, arrested an undetermined number of workers and positioned army assault cars in working class neighborhoods.

Strike leaders met with President Hugo Banzer Suarez, but announced later there could be no solution as long as the troops remained outside the factories and the arrested workers remained in custody.

Among those detained were the news director of a local radio station and the head of the National Confederation of Professionals. The news director later was released.

Bank employes also joined the strike, but reportedly planned to return to work today.

Meanwhile, some wives of striking textile workers threatened a hunger strike as long as men remained under arrest. They also appealed for intervention by the Roman Catholic Church.

The strikers are protesting recent government austerity measures, including the 66.6 per cent devaluation of the peso. They demanded wage hikes to compensate for the devaluation, and challenged government charges that extreme leftists have infiltrated the labor unions.

Interior Minister Mario Adet said there was "an overt plot against the government." He charged Tuesday that unions were being infiltrated by "extreme leftist elements," and this helped spark the textile workers walkout.

The state of siege — similar to martial law — limits constitutional guarantees, gives police power to the army and grants the government more control than usual.

The decision to impose the order was taken by the Council of Ministers and was accompanied by an order prohibiting demonstrations and political gatherings in Bolivian cities and towns. The decree also regulates nighttime movement of the population and operation of public establishments.

Nixon Talks To Volpe, Romney

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon conferred today with two Cabinet officers who will reportedly soon leave the administration, but a White House spokesman said no announcements would be made on the shape of the new Cabinet immediately.

Secretary of Transportation John Volpe and Secretary of Housing and Urban Development George Romney each spent about an hour with Nixon, said presidential press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler.

Ziegler said it was part of Nixon's continuing discussion and work on reorganization of the government and the shape of his Cabinet for the second term.

He announced that Nixon would take a break from the discussions and spend a "family weekend" in New York, returning to the Washington area Sunday afternoon. The talks with Cabinet officers are to wind up Monday with Atty. Gen. Richard Kleindienst on the schedule, Ziegler said. But meetings with other officials will be held at Camp David, Md., next week.

Nixon shifted his operations back to the White House after 10 days at the Camp David retreat, including a Thanksgiving Day with his family.

Nixon and his family returned to the White House Thursday night. No special reason was given for Nixon's sudden change in plans.

Deputy Press Secretary Gerald L. Warren said only that Nixon decided to meet with the two Cabinet officials at the White House.

Nixon has been at Camp David since Nov. 13, with the only break a one-day return to the White House last Saturday.

He observed the Thanksgiving holiday at Camp David with his family. The only absent member was Lt. (j.g.) David Eisenhower, on Navy duty in the Mediterranean. The Nixons, accompanied by three pet dogs, enjoyed a long walk on the crisp cold fall day along the snow-dusted mountaintop. The holiday dinner included a 14-pound roast turkey and all the trimmings.

The President also watched holiday football games on television and worked for a time in his study.

Maddox To Demonstrate Bike

TEL AVIV (AP) — Lt. Gov. Lester Maddox of Georgia, known for his ability to ride a bicycle backwards, says he will demonstrate his prowess by performing for the people of Israel.

Maddox arrived in Tel Aviv on Tuesday with a 200-member group of tourists. He told newsmen that the bicycle he had with him was to be given to a Baptist school in a Tel Aviv suburb. Maddox said, however, that he would not make the presentation until he had given a demonstration on how to ride it.

Holiday Traffic Toll At 210

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The nation's Thanksgiving Day weekend traffic death toll reached 210 today.

Rain and snow slowed motorists in parts of the Southwest and the Pacific Northwest and fog shrouded sections of interior California during the early morning. Mostly dry and cool weather prevailed elsewhere.

The count of traffic deaths began at 6 p.m. local time Wednesday and will end at midnight Sunday.

Mrs. Barnes Dies Today

Mrs. Alvenia Ragan Barnes, 76, of Snyder, died at 5 a.m. today in Cogdell Memorial Hospital. She was born in Wood County, Tex., Oct. 4, 1896. She formerly had lived in Fisher County and had lived in Snyder the past year and half. She was a Baptist.

Services are set for 2 p.m. Sunday in Longworth Baptist Church in Longworth. Rev. Virgil Mott and Rev. P.T. Stewart will officiate. Burial will follow in Longworth Cemetery, under direction of Bell-Seale Funeral Home.

She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. E.M. Stewart, of Snyder, Mrs. Herschel Dunlap of Garland and Mrs. Calvin Gibson of Abilene; three sisters, Mrs. Eunice Martin of Snyder, Mrs. Phelan Porter of Midland and Mrs. E.B. Sanders of Hobbs, N.M.; a brother, B.E. Ray of Houston; 22 grandchildren and 20 great-children.

Israel, Lebanon Clash

TEL AVIV (AP) — The Israeli military command reported a clash with Palestinian guerrillas inside Lebanon today, but refused to confirm Lebanese reports of an assault by helicopter-borne commando forces.

Military spokesmen said only that an Isreali unit patrolling inside Lebanon clashed with a band of Palestinian guerrillas Thursday night and early today near the cease-fire line where air and tank battles with Syria raged three days ago.

Reports from Lebanon said Israeli troops landed in helicopters, blew up houses and burned tents at a guerrilla base at Khreibeh on the foothills of Mt. Hermon, and withdrew two hours later.

"One Israeli soldier was wounded and a number of terrorists were hit," a Tel Aviv spokesman said.

In Beirut, the Lebanese army command issued a statement saying that an Israeli patrol had infiltrated into an area east of the Hasbani River and clashed with Palestinian guerrillas.

The Palestinian news agency WAFA said only four guerrillas were wounded.

Service For Mrs. Browning

Funeral service has been set for 3 p.m. Saturday at the Fluvanna Baptist Church for Mrs. Vernon Essie Browning, 85, who died at 8:45 p.m. Thursday in Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

A native of May, Tex., she was married in 1904 in Scurry County to Bob Browning. He preceded her in death in 1958.

The Rev. Thomas Hall and the Rev. E.L. Teague will officiate at the funeral service. Burial will be in the Fluvanna Cemetery, under direction of Bell-Seale Funeral Home.

Surviving are two sons, Alfred Browning of Hico and E.C. Browning of Honey Grove; five grandchildren, nine great-children and three great-great-children.

Pallbearers will be Billy Ray Browning, Don Wills, Jack Gotcher, Danny Gotcher, Bradly Browning and Buford Browning.

Mrs. Greenfield Dies At Abilene

Mrs. Alton Greenfield of Dermott died this morning in Hendrick Memorial Hospital in Abilene.

Funeral arrangements were pending at Be–Seale Funeral Home.

Meany Hospitalized

TARRYTOWN, N.Y. (AP) — AFL-CIO President George Meany has been admitted to Phelps Memorial Hospital as a precautionary move after suffering slight chest pains.

"We have no definite evidence of a coronary attack," Dr. Raymond Phillips, a local physician, said after Meany was admitted Thursday.

The wedding bells 'ring'; she gets wrong number

By Abigail Van Buren

(c 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: Wow, this is a problem like I'll bet you've never had before! My fiance, who I haven't known very long but I know well enough to marry, "surprised" me with a set of rings which he and his mother picked out.

I'm crazy about the guy, but I don't like those rings. They are absolutely nothing like I would have picked out if I had been along. They are so ornate and gaudy. All I wanted was a simple solitaire diamond and a wide golden band. I guess the problem is that when he gave them to me I was so thrilled [not with the rings, but at being officially engaged] I said I "loved" the rings.

Now what am I going to do? Am I stuck with these rings? Or should I wait until he's in a good mood and ask him if he can exchange them for another set? He must have spent a fortune on them.

ENGAGED AND DISAPPOINTED

DEAR ENGAGED: Tell him the truth. But don't wait too long.

DEAR ABBY: I am a grown woman, married for 20 years, and I have had this problem ever since I can remember.

Nobody wants to listen to me! They just want ME to listen to THEM! It seems that whenever I am talking, somebody interrupts me. I make it a point never to interrupt people when they are talking, but I am interrupted all the time. In fact, I'm a very good listener. Abby, I can be right in the middle of a very interesting story and the person to whom I am talking will suddenly turn to someone else and start up a conversation. It is simply infuriating. I am not dull or stupid. I read a lot and have much to contribute to a conversation.

What on earth is the matter with people? Nobody, but absolutely nobody, wants to listen to me. All they want to do is talk themselves. This happens to me even on the telephone.

NOT LISTENED TO

DEAR NOT: If absolutely nobody listens to you, there must be a reason for it. Do you speak distinctly, clearly and in an audible voice? How much do you talk? And do you go into a lot of extraneous detail? Some people can listen to a point—then they become weary. You claim to be a very good listener. Listen to yourself sometimes. If you are interesting, and pause occasionally to give others a chance to talk, you should have no problem.

DEAR ABBY: Will you please check with your protocol experts and advise me if it would be in good taste to enclose a card with the wedding invitations indicating that the bride-to-be is registered in a certain jewelry store? I thank you.

ANONYMOUS

DEAR ANONYMOUS: Unless one is asked, to suggest by card or any other way where a gift may be purchased is in extremely poor taste.

CONFIDENTIAL TO HAD IT UP TO HERE: I don't recommend "locking a husband out of the house"—why provide him with a perfect excuse for sleeping elsewhere?

Problems? Trust Abby. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, BOX 69700, L. A., CALIF. 90069 and enclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

Rancher Admits Killing 5

LAREDO, Tex. (AP) — Kenneth Adami, 60, rancher and admitted killer of five men, remained silent in his Webb County jail cell Thursday night under bond of $100,000.

Adami surrendered to U.S. Border Patrol agents Thursday and told them he killed the men in a house in remote ranch country near the town of Freer, about 65 miles northeast of this Texas-Mexico border city.

Police and county officials who went to the house described by Adami found the five bodies. One of the men had been shot in the head. The other four received fatal body wounds.

A sheriff's officer told newsmen that the killer used a .257 caliber Roberts rifle "with some kind of very explosive" ammunition.

Justice of the Peace Ernesto Salinas, before whom Adami was arraigned on five counts of murder, said the rancher refused to talk about the killings. He set the $100,000 bond.

He said Adami served a term for murder in the slaying of another rancher several years ago. Adami was released on parole after serving about two years in a Texas penitentiary.

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) – A total of 3,072 persons have died in Texas this year in traffic accidents, an increase of 34 from this time a year ago, the Department of Public Safety said Saturday.

Snow Falls In Texas Areas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Snow fell from the West Texas mountains areas east of El Paso toward the northeast over much of the Panhandle-Plains sector today, and motorists were warned to drive with care.

Rain mixed with lighter snow or sleet fell farther east, and showers or light rain were widespread over the rest of the stat.

The National Weather Service, in a special advisory to travelers, said snow depths up to two inches could be expected west of a north-south line linking Amarillo, Littlefield and Plains, and smaller amounts were likely the opposite direction.

Although forecasters said most main highways probably would escape a general snow cover, they warned that icy spots were apt to develop.

Fog accompanied the snow in early morning around Amarillo and Lubbock, and there was a mixture of drizzle and fog in the San Angelo, Laredo, McAllen and Houston areas. Moisture amounts were generally light.

For most parts of Texas, it was a continuation of the dreary, wet and cold weather that marred Thanksgiving Day. Official observers blamed an upper level disturbance over the Southwestern states and moisture-laden air flowing inland from the Gulf of Mexico.

Snow or rain extended into neighboring sections of New Mexico, Oklahoma and Louisiana.

Forecasts promised little change.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 24 at Dalhart and 31 at Amarillo to 45 at Brownsville and Corpus Christi.

Readings went no higher Thursday than 50 at Victoria, and the top marks was only 38 at Alpine.

Mussolini's Son Likes Politics

NEW YORK (AP) — Romano Mussolini, the youngest son of the late Benito Mussolini, Italy's fascist ruler of World War II, says Italy today is returning to much of his father's political philosophy.

Mussolini, 45, a jazz pianist, said in an interview that he has "no political ambitions" but likes politics very much and thinks "there are many who like to return to some part of fascism."

He is in New York for his first concert in this country at Town Hall on Saturday night.

Having such an "infamous but respected" name "has not hurt my career," Mussolini said. "People naturally associated me with my father but they know me for myself."

NJ Selling Daily Lottery Tickets

New Jersey began selling daily lottery tickets today, becoming the first of six Northeastern states with lotteries to take on their major competition, organized crime, in dollar-to-dollar combat.

For the first time since the modern public lottery began in New Hampshire in 1964, lottery officials hope to make their system competitive with the illegal numbers racket.

The first of New Jersey's daily drawings will be on Wednesday and daily lotteries should be in operation in the other five states by next spring. The main objective for the states is to raise revenues, but the motive is even more basic.

Gov. William T. Cahill of New Jersey said his state — in addition to continuing its weekly lottery which eventually culminates in a $1 million drawing — will offer a 26-to-1 chance of winning on the daily tickets.

"We know of no other lottery — legal or illegal — now in existence that can match those odds," he said. "Even if you lose, your money is going for a good purpose, rather than an evil purpose."

There is yet another reason for the daily drawings: the hopes of state officials to sustain the public's interest in lotteries.

New Hampshire began with a schedule of several drawings a year and sold $3 tickets. The initial response was good, but Sweepstakes officials soon found that the system needed constant revision and special drawings to spark a renewed public interest.

New York climbed on the lottery bandwagon in 1967. Within the past two years, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Connecticut and Massachusetts joined the ranks.

As the competition between states grew stiffer, new twists and exotic prizes were added.

Semiannual drawings became monthly, biweekly and weekly drawings. Ticket prices were cut to 50 cents and top prizes varied from $1 million cash to $50,000 a year for life.

Officials say the weekly lottery has proven the most popular because lower ticket prices and weekly payoffs are more attractive to the bettor. Still, state lotteries failed to make an appreciable dent in the take of the numbers game.

"It would appear to me that, for the lottery to have any substantial impact on the illegal numbers business, you would need a drawing every day," said Edward F. Harrington, head of the Justice Department's Organized Crime Strike Force in New England.

"A drawing only once a week stimulates the bettor to deal with his bookmaker the other six days a week."

In general, law enforcement authorities who commented agreed that the original lotteries could not hurt organized crime because they did not offer the simplicity, action and aura of illegal numbers.

Regardless of whether the lotteries become an effective tool in the fight against illegal gambling, budget officials in six states are pleased with the results to date.

While the lotteries roll on in the Northeast, Michigan holds the first drawing of its new state lottery today and several other states are investigating the possibility of getting into the field.

Texas Violence Takes Big Toll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Texas' toll of violent deaths during the holiday weekend climbed steadily through Thanksgiving Day and promised to rise still more today.

A late count showed that at least 41 persons had been killed, including 19 in traffic accidents. Shootings accounted for 14 deaths, including the five shot to death in an incident on a remote ranch on the border.

The five men, believed to have been Mexican nationals in this country to do ranch work but not otherwise identified, were found dead in a rural area near Freer, 65 miles northeast of Laredo. Border Patrol agents said rancher Kenneth Adami, 60, surrendered to them Thursday and told of the killings. He was jailed at Laredo on murder charges.

These were among the other victims:

Ricky Crawford, 3, and Jackie Crawford, 1, perished as fire started from a gas heater raged through their frame home Thursday at Laporte. Their father, Willie Crawford, said he was watching television when he saw smoke coming from the children's bedroom but he was unable to reach them

Tommy Wayne Wiseley, 27, of Abilene was killed there Thursday when his car hit a traffic signal pole at an intersection.

Two Houston youths died early Thursday when a pickup truck ran off a street at a curve and hit a tree. They were Michael E. Murphy, 16, and Kerry M. Burkhardt, 18.

Ophelia Gamble, 36, was shot and killed during a fight at an Oak Cliff residence Thursday in Dallas. Police said a man, also 36, surrendered after the slaying. He was held without immediate charge.

A one-car crash near Dalhart in the Panhandle killed Theodore M. Nix, 26, of Texline, Tex.

Darrell V. Greenhouse of Fritch, Tex., was killed Thursday while hunting deer near Wheeler, in the Panhandle. Officers said his rifle apparently discharged by accident as Greenhouse was climbing a fence.

Thomas Clint Blackburn, 18, of Milano died in a two-car collision Thursday near Cameron in Central Texas.

Three persons were killed before dawn Thursday when a policeman, chasing a car, was in collision with another vehicle between Austin and Bastrop. The victims, all from Houston, were Albert P. Chang, 24; Donald Kue, 18; and Kue's sister, Lilly K. Kue. The officer suffered injuries. The Chang-Kue automobile was not the one being pursued.

Claude A. Pollard of Irving was killed on Interstate 35 north of Waco when he was struck by a car just as he stepped from his own vehicle Wednesday night.

James W. Terral, 55, of Alamogordo, N.M., suffered fatal injuries Wednesday night when his car struck the rear of a truck halted because of a wreck ahead. The collision occurred near Lamesa.

Howard K. Nelson, 48, was killed Wednesday night when hit by a car as he stepped off a bus in Sherman. He was returning home from his job in Garland.

Jerome Antone, 36, of Dallas was killed Wednesday night by a car as he and his wife stood in front of their home. She suffered injuries. The car driver, 38, was found and arrested some time later.

One car hit the rear of another halted near Brenham Wednesday night and two men died in the crash and resulting fire. The dead were Joseph Perez, 21, a Ft. Hood soldier from Houston, and Dan J. Marquez, not otherwise identified.

A head-on collision of a car and truck near Kerrville Wednesday night took the life of Robert Recondo, 33, of San Antonio.

Lloyd E. McCullum, 45, of Arlington was killed in a traffic accident at Hurst, between Fort Worth and Dallas, about 3 a.m. Friday.

A collision involving three cars in Dallas early Friday morning took the life of Jerry White, 25, of Dallas. Four other persons suffered injuries.

D. Victor Urband, 22, of Austin was killed in a car-truck collision about 10 miles north of LaGrange early Friday.

Mrs. Alma Flowers Davis, 46, of Houston was killed early Friday when her car and a tractor-trailer collided at an intersection near Saratoga in East Texas. Three passengers in the car were injured—Pam Davis, 14; Chris Barkley, 14; and Pete Mendoza, 13, all from Houston. The truck driver was unhurt.

Break For Part Time Students

CANYON, Tex. (AP) — Part-time students at West Texas State University will get a financial break starting with the spring semester.

The regents have decided to abolish the $13 per semester student service fee charged persons enrolled for six hours or less.

The regents also reduced the building use fee for those same students by $10 to $20 a semester.

Virgil Henson, financial vice president, said that under the new fee schedule for part-time students, the building use charge will range from $5 for three hours to $15 for six hours.

Book Discusses New Testament

By ROBERT E. FORD
Associated Press Writer

A LITERARY APPROACH TO THE NEW TESTAMENT. By John Paul Pritchard. University of Oklahoma Press, Norman. $8.95.

Generations have praised the literary phrasing of the Holy Bible in its various translations. The King James version particularly in America has provided authors and orators with models of rolling, brilliant phrases.

But this is not what Dr. John Paul Pritchard of the University of Oklahoma means in this new book about literary approaches to the New Testament.

He seeks to answer these questions about each book: who wrote it, when, to whom, in whose interest did he write, and his motive.

New Testament writings have a lengthy and sometimes obscure history until they reached their present form. Those believing in their divine inspiration must also believe that God protected the books through centuries, preserving their essence despite translation from one language to another and frequent poor transcriptions.

Dr. Pritchard makes two important points. One is that the authors always were evangelizing, and by selection of material and construction they aimed at a particular audience. For instance, references which Jews would understand would be meaningless to gentiles. This has been obvious in some New Testament books, and Dr. Pritchard pinpoints this.

Another point is that the writing techniques are far beyond the capabilities of some of the authors as their background is known. This means they had help in writing their books, which would not be incondistent with divine inspiration.

It is a remarkable book and will be absorbing to all those who want to know more about the Bible.—The AP (REF).

Clinic Gives Lift To Women's Faces

By IVA DRAPALOVA

PRAGUE (AP) — A number of Western women — above all Americans — are not getting red-faced about obtaining a face-lift in Communist Czechoslovakia, trusting this can be done there more discreetly than at home.

Newspaper articles and word-of-mouth have made the Prague Cosmetic Institute a much sought-out face-lifting clinic for women from the non-Communist world.

The waiting period at the Institute is six months or longer.

"They are really brave when you come to think of it," Dr. Karel Fahoun, 44, head of the Institute, said about the women who come to see him. "They are traveling to a foreign country, and a Communist one at that, with a strange language knowing they will face a difficult operation."

The handsome, boyish-looking Dr. Fahoun has become a favorite with the ladies.

He himself is not quite enthusiastic about "the American invasion." The institute had to double the number of post-operative care beds, and it is booked out until after the end of the year.

Dr. Fahoun has been operating on at least one American a day, mostly women.

"We cannot expand any more," he sighed.

Before his new fame, Dr. Fahoun had been operating on a limited number of foreigners for years. They were diplomats or their friends and relatives, Americans, West Germans and Austrians, mainly. They were well acquainted with Czechoslovakia and in most cases did not have far to go.

The new customers usually had no previous contacts with Czechoslovakia.

The main attraction of face-lift in Czechoslovakia for a Westerner is the price and the anonymity of the operation.

A face-lift costs $400, an operation of upper and lower eyelids, $200 or $220, and a new nose is $300. Prices for similar operations in the United States reportedly are much higher.

The prices in Czechoslovakia may not be so cheap in the end, considering the travel costs and the expense of staying here.

In a number of cases, more than one operation is necessary.

Dr. Fahoun cautioned that would-be patients should take seriously the information in leaflets about the institute. It insists on intervals between operations.

"When a face is swollen after the first operation, I cannot estimate how long it will take until I can proceed with the next one," he said.

Keep baking powder tightly covered so the moisture from the air will not get in and make the baking powder lose some of its leavening power. You can tell this has happened if the powder is lumpy or has a crust on top.

Getting Her To Church On Time Big Business

By DAVID VIDAL
Associated Press Writer

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP) — Getting the bride to the church on time, well fed, dressed and rested has become a business in Latin America's largest city.

"If the bride does everything by herself, she's going to wind up pretty tired. But that doesn't happen with our brides. They're always very calm when they get married," says Benedita de Godoy Novaes, 52, owner of the "Catherine Cabeleleiros" beauty parlor.

The services she offers go beyond simple manicures and hair styling to encompass everyting a bride-to-be would need, thus providing a unique "bride-preparing service."

She started with a beauty parlor.

"However I found this was not the best system. I lost lots of time and I wasn't charging my old clients who were getting married," she said, tracing the idea of the bride service.

The beauty parlor expanded in the downtown Santa Cecilia neighborhood to include clothes designing and eating facilities. A makeup specialist was hired.

Now in full swing, the service handles an average of three brides a month who get their nails cut, hair done, stomachs fed and body rested, all in the same building for just over $300.

The bridal gown and shoes also come in the package.

On the wedding day the brides, who must show up six hours before ceremony times, select a favorite dish well in advance and rest on a love seat to calm nerves before going to the church.

Other requirements? Just be at the hairdresser's 20 days before the wedding day to get your size taken for the gown and your shoes fitted.

Walter Brennan Is Improved

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Actor Walter Brennan is recovering satisfactorily at Cottage Hospital here after surgery to correct an intestinal ailment, officials say.

Meanwhile, officials at Walt Disney Productions said Wednesday that Brennan will be replaced in the film "The Love Bug Rides Again" by John McIntire, former star of "The Virginian" television series.

Stamps In The News

AP Newsfeatures
By SYD KRONISH

Pre-Columbian art is recognized worldwide for its beauty as well as a view of another culture at another time. Such artifacts appear on a new stamp issue from Nicaragua — much to the delight of topical and Latin America collectors.

Each stamp features a different work of art superimposed on a background map of Nicaragua. All the artifacts are from the period 700 A.D. to 1200 A.D.

The 10 c shows a monster effigy of a seated figurine. The 15 c depicts a ring base vase. The 20 c has a mythological effigy vessel. The 25 c illustrates a human head vessel. The 30 c has a Nicoya plate. The 35 c pictures a seated effigy. The 40 c features a tripod plate with serpentine supports. The 50 c is a tripod effigy bowl. The 60 c is similar in design but with serpentine supports. The 80 c features a religious burial. The two highest values depict Costa Rican plates.

Beautiful stamps like the ones in this set are not only pleasing to the eye but educational for those who like to delve into the background and history of their stamps.

As Christmas nears and many nations, including the United States, are issuing stamps for the occasion, it is interesting to note a new such stamp from Christmas Island.

The adhesive depicts a twin angel design entitled "Peace and Joy." The colors are serene — green, blue and purple against a black background.

Looking ahead to the bicentennial in 1976, Minkus Publications will issue a new album, "The American Revolution Stamp Album." The new album contains spaces for 120 stamps, set up by subject rather than year.

Beginning with the founding of the first colonies on the American mainland, the album covers the entire Revolutionary struggle and ends with the inauguration of President George Washington in 1789.

Each stamp or series is accompanied by a well-written essay giving the background of the patriot or the event honored on the stamp.

The loose-leaf album is available for $7.50 at your local dealer.

The United Nations Postal Administration will issue three new items of postal stationery on Jan. 12 to meet the revised postage rates.

There will be a 6-cent postal card, an 8-cent envelope and an 11-cent airmail envelope.

The final stamp of 1972 for the U.N. displayed the first work of art at the Geneva office — the Sert mural on the ceiling of the Council Hall at the Palais des Nations.

Volume III of the Scott Standard Postage Stamp Catalog for 1973 is now available with 27,397 price changes. Nearly all of the 124 stamp-issuing entities (Japan through Zambezia) covered by this volume show changes.

Japan, for example, has 2,059 price changes, but only the following countries have the same quotations as 1972: Laos, Middle Congo, North Ingermanland, Portuguese Africa, Shanghai, Tete and Vietnam.

Man Hustled Out Of Church

LONDON (AP) — Princess Anne was attending a memorial service at a London church when a young man claiming to be "from God" slipped through tight security and knelt down beside her.

The man, wearing sneakers and a white sweater, made two attempts to enter the Church of St. Martin's-in-the-Fields at Trafalgar Square on Tuesday before he finally got inside.

The intruder took his place in the pew alongside Anne, who was sitting with Prince Philip, her father, and Prince Charles, her brother. The young man, who was not identified, was quietly hustled out of the church. Police said that since he had done nothing wrong he would not be charged.

CHICKEN AND BACON SANDWICHES

Sliced roast turkey, if on hand, may be used instead of the chicken.

2 chicken legs, from a roasted broiler-fryer
4 slices whole wheat bread
Mayonnaise
Sweet pickle relish
2 slices bacon, crisply cooked

Slice the meat from the chicken legs, leaving skin intact. Spread one side of each slice of bread generously with mayonnaise; now spread with a little relish. Arrange chicken over 2 of the slices; crumble bacon coarsely and place over chicken; top with remaining bread slices. Cut each sandwich into 2 triangles. Makes 2 servings.

'Yearend Rally' Said Pushing Market Up

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Is this the "yearend, rally" that is pushing the stock market into record high ground? It depends upon how you define the term, but by at least one definition this seems to be the case.

The broadest perimeters of the yearend rally are October and January, the narrowest are the four final days of December into the first two of January.

If you prefer to use the broad definition, this is indeed the yearend rally. Since 1949, the final quarter of the year, from Oct. 1 to January, the stock market has failed to advance in only two years.

What causes the rally? For one thing, a lot of portfolio-shifting by institutions as they discard poor performers and buy others — and more. In addition, a lot of pension fund money descends upon the market at this time.

Evidence of the yearend rally is even more pronounced by restricting the boundaries to only November and December.

In each month, the records show, the average gain has been 1.7 per cent, compared with the next best months of April and July, each with gains of 1.5 per cent.

By the narrowest definition, the yearend rally this year will occur from the day after Christmas to the day after New Year's. Only three times in the past 20 years has it failed to develop.

That is why Yale Hirsch, who compiles the Stock Trader's Almanac, which supplied these figures, calls it the Santa Claus rally.

You might think it has something to do with the Christmas spirit — and to an extent it does — but the most widely accepted reason is that it has a lot to do with tax switching. In addition, it is the time for bonuses, for resolutions, for a new commitment to goals.

Whatever the reason, the odds are that the yearend rally will show itself this year if you keep the definition broad enough. In any mass activity such as the market you can find patterns if you look hard enough.

This year, however, one of those analysts who remains confident about yearend expectations is becoming a bit suspicious that the Federal Reserve Board is going to endanger the market in months to follow.

John Wright, the head of Wright Investors' Service, which has as customers hundreds of bank trusts, notes that the Fed has been restricting the money supply at a time when he claims the expanding economy demands more.

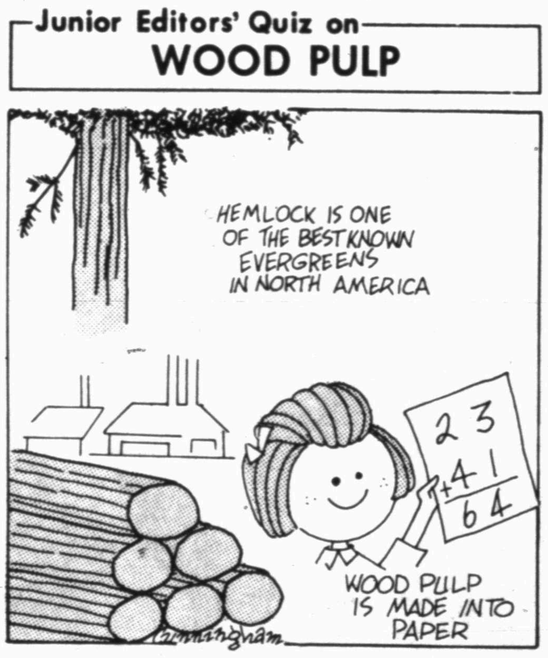

"The history of the U.S. economy is replete with booms and busts which were caused — not cured — by the mismanagement of the nation's money supply by the Open Market Committee of the Federal Reserve Board," says Wright.

While respecting bankers for expertise in their profession, and while happy to do business with them, Wright comments:

"Just as war is too important to the nation's survival to be entrusted exclusively to the generals, so monetary policy is much too critical to the nation's economy to be entrusted to the bankers."

More money, he says, will mean higher stock prices. But if monetary growth continues at less than a 5 per cent annual rate, as it has, then the economy cannot realize its potential, he maintains, and neither can stock prices.

Junior Editors' Quiz on WOOD PULP

QUESTION: What is wood pulp?

ANSWER: Wood pulp is real wood, ground to a pulp or mash. It is the raw material for the making of paper. The use of wood pulp for making paper originated in China about 105 A.D. The Chinese pounded the inner bark of the mulberry tree into a soft mixture. Then this mixture was strained and let dry out into a mat or sheet, which was used as a writing material.

Today, logs are brought to the pulp mill, usually in 5-foot lengths. Most of the logs cut from spruce, fir, hemlock, poplar and pine come from the forests of Canada, the northern United States, Norway and Sweden. Wood pulp is made by two processes, the mechanical process and the chemical process. The mechanical process involves the grinding of the wood. The logs are held against grindstones to pulverize the wood. The chemical methods in making pulp are the sulfite, the sulfate and the soda processes. The wood is passed through a chipping machine before it is treated with the various chemicals. After treatment with any of the three chemical methods, the wood is broken down or digested into a pulp. Then it is washed to eliminate the chemicals and then drained of most of the water. The wood pulp goes through a beater and into a pressing machine, which reduces the moisture and rolls out sheets of paper.

Boyle Recalls Yesterdays

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Memories don't dwell in chains.

They arrive unbidden and remain unhidden. They are rarely the prisoners of a burdened mind. They are more often the welcome guests of a feeling heart.

You cannot program what you'll remember any more than you can harness the wind. Memories have a will of their own and select the order of their presentment.

You probably have an entertaining store of memories yourself if you can look back and remember when —

Life didn't have so many sudden and unexpected changes. Now and then it would go along the same for two or three days in a row.

When you didn't quite know what to do in an evening, you could always go out to the kitchen and pop some corn.

The neighbors really began to worry when they saw the parish priest follow the family doctor into a home.

A nickel cup of coffee still tasted so good it was worth a dime.

The first thing you saw when the movie screen lit up was a message asking the ladies in the audience to please remove their hats. During the Depression years you not only got to see two films for the price of one — on some nights the management gave you a free piece of chinaware, too.

During the Prohibition Era, physicians wrote more prescriptions for good whisky than for bad pills.

Everybody feared the worst was yet to come when the price of bread or milk at the corner grocery store went up a penny.

There was a respectful silence when anyone got so annoyed about anything that he would say, "I think it's high time that I put my two cents' worth in." Today he could throw $5 worth in and nobody would listen.

It took a lot longer to get anywhere you were going to than it does now, but when you did get there you seemed to have more fun.

Sometimes you could keep a umbrella for several years without having it stolen, and it was an historic event in the neighborhood if a house was robbed.

When the face of little Miss Shirley Temple puckered up in a new film, the nation cried too.

You could always gladden any woman's heart by the surprise gift of a lace handkerchief.

White curtains in the window guaranteed the respectability of the average home.

People wondered about more things — but feared fewer — than they do today.

The primrose path was still a lane, not a freeway.

Those were the days — remember?

Ann-Margret Is Rehearsing

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress-singer Ann-Margret is rehearsing for an opening next Tuesday in Las Vegas which will be her first appearance after recovering from injuries from a fall during a performance.

The Swedish-born beauty recently had the wires removed from her jaw and a plaster cast taken from her left arm.

She suffered facial bone fractures, including a broken jaw, a broken arm and a broken knee cap in the 30-foot fall before the curtain went up on her night-club act nine weeks ago at Lake Tahoe, Nev.

Yvette Mimieux, Director Wed

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — Movie actress Yvette Mimieux and director-producer Stanley Donen have been married at the home of his sister.

Mrs. Lawrence G. Goldstein, the sister, had reported Wednesday that the couple had changed their minds about being married in Columbia, where Donen grew up, and had flown to the Virgin Islands.

Mrs. Goldstein said Thursday, however, that the two were married at her house before leaving the city.

Ira Falls To O'Brien

KNOX CITY--O'Brien's Bulldogs proved to be a tougher breed than the Ira Bulldogs as they took a 76-30 victory in a class B Six-Man Bi-District football clash here Thursday night.

Ira took a 6-0 lead, but O'Brien went ahead 32-6 at the end of the opening quarter and boosted the margin to 54-30 at halftime. O'Brien scored 22 points in the second half while holding Ira scoreless.

Louis Conn, a 148-pound junior running back, and Danny Del Hiero, senior quarterback, sparked the O'Brien attack. Conn ran for four touchdowns and passed for another one while Del Hierro scored four touchdowns himself and threw for another six-pointer.

Ricahrd Daves socred on the first play from scrimmage for Ira, going 42 yards for a touchdown. The conversion pass missed target as Ira went ahead 6-0.

Later in the initial period, Conn scored on a one yard run and Del Hiero tallied on runs of 20 and 10 yards. Rayland Hayes kicked for all three-two point conversions. Conn turned in a 25 yard TD gallop, but the extra point failed as the period ended.

Ira's second quarter scores resulted from a 10 yard pass from Richard Daves to Donald Sellars, a 4 yard plunge by Tom Daves following a blocked punt, and a 30 yard pass and lateral from Sellars to Perry Kruse to Richard Daves. Kirby Sterling kicked for two extra points after two of the touchdowns.

Also in the second quarter Conn scored on runs of 29 and 25 yards and Arly Watson returned an on-sides kickoff 36 yards for another touchdown.

In the second half, Del Hierro turned in a 47 yard TD run and Mague Rocha took a 45 yard touchdown pass from Conn. The game was called on the first play of the fourth quarter under the 45-point rule.

Ira ended the season with a 9-2 record while O'Brien now is 10-0.

Blinn Smashes Mesabi 38-21

ROSWELL, N.M. (AP) — The deadly passing combination of Steve Gilmore to David Henson accounted for two Blinn College touchdowns and a two-point conversion as the Buccaneers overpowered Mesabi State Junior College 38-21 to win the nation's oldest junior college football bowl Thanksgiving Day.

Quarterback Gilmore, working out of a crushing wishbone offense generaled his Brenham, Tex., squad to an impressive 399 yards total offense as Blinn dominated the statistics in the seventh annual Wool Bowl game.

The third-ranked Buccaneers also got a 12-point effort from Ronny Melencon, who opened the scoring with a one-yard plunge and added another TD from the two-yard line in the second period.

The Mesabi Norsemen from Virginia, Minn., ranked fifth in the nation, tried to counter with scrambling Don Michaelson, who dashed 13 yards for six points in the third quarter and scored on an 85-yard swing-pass play in the fourth.

Paul Walczak, chosen the game's top offensive player, quarterbacked the Norsemen to a game effort that capitalized on Buccaneer mistakes.

Walczak hit Don Triebwasser with a 17-yard scoring aerial after a fumble recovery in the first quarter. In the third period he sent Michaelson to paydirt on the ground after the Norsemen snagged a muffed Blinn punt on the 15-yard line.

And it was Walczak's bomb Michaelson carried for the final Norseman TD on a pass play that began at the Mesabi 15.

For all that, the Norsemen could muster only 230 forward in total gains, 14 of them in the air. Walczak connected six of the 19 times he took to the air and lost one pass to the bowl's No. 1 defensive player, Donnie Reddic of Blinn.

Melencon scored his second touchdown seven plays and 33 yards after that interception.

The Buccaneers, who took a 17-7 lead into the second half, collected 24 first downs to only eight for the Mesabi.

Blinn took the second-half kickoff and marched 68 yards in 10 plays for six points as Henson scored on a 33-yard pass play. The Buccaneers repeated the act with the kick following Mesabi's final TD, carrying it 64 yards in three plays with Steve Baird scampering 46 yards for the score.

Placekicker Donnie Bockhorn booted three of four conversion attempts for Blinn and picked up three points on a 35-yard field goal in the second period.

Norseman Pat Haley converted after all three Mesabi touchdowns.

Tigers Host San Angelo Tonight

Snyder's Tigers will try to improve on a 1-1 record when they host the San Angelo Bobcats at 8 o'clock tonight in the Scurry County Coliseum in a basketball match.

The program begins at 6:15 p.m. with the junior varsity teams of both schools tangling.

Coach Bob Moore of the Tigers said he would start the same boys who opened the first two games for the Tigers. That means the Tigers will be going with a double post attack with Kevin Jones, 6-4 senior, and Moell Blalock, 6-3 senior, at post, Jerry Brooks, 6-3 senior, and Gary Brooks, 6-3 senior at wing, and Fred Liner, 6-2 senior, at guard.

The Tigers lost at Odessa High in the opener and they beat Sweetwater. Coach Moore said the Bobcats are big. They beat Killeen the other night, 72-48.

Other Tigers who will be ready for action tonight are Mike Hinton, 5-10 senior wingman; Charles Anderson, 5-7 senior guard; Derryl Morgan, 6-0 senior guard; Richard Gorman, Tim Jones, V. T. Roberson Larry Mosier, Max Underwood, Sam Byrum, Welton Cobb and Larry Johns.

The Tigers also will be at home Monday night when Odessa Permian comes to town. The sophomores will be in Andrews Monday for a 6:30 p.m. test.

Gail, Goree Vie Saturday

The Borden County Coyotes clash with Goree at 7 p.m. Saturday in Aspermont in an Eight-Man Bi-District football playoff game.

Borden County, champions of District 1-B, has a perfect 10-0 record. Goree, champions of District 2-B, is 9-1 for the season. Their only loss was in an 11-man game at Rochester.

Coach Bob Dyess' Coyotes will use a multiple offense. They employ the I, T, Winged T and a "broken wishbone" set. Goree will rely mainly on the Split T.

Gail has been averaging 43.8 points per game this season while Goree posted 322 points during the year. Both teams have outstanding quarterbacks. Randy Crittenden will be calling the signals for Gail while Steve Skelton will be in the hot spot for Goree.

Lubbock Cooper, Hamlin Tangle In Bi-District

Hamlin's Pied Pipers will clash with Lubbock Cooper's Pirates at 7:30 tonight in Tiger Stadium in a Class AA bi-district football playoff game.

The contest rates as a tossup. Lubbock Cooper has the better record, having won nine out of ten, but Hamlin has played the tougher schedule. One of the Pied Pipers' losses is to Class AAA Colorado City and another one is to AA power Coahoma.

Hamlin is champion of District 6-AA, and Lubbock Cooper is champion of District 5-AA. The Pied Pipers are 5-4-1 for the season and 5-0 in district play. They've scored 181 points this season while yielding 171. In district play, they've tallied 121 and gave up only 18 points. Cooper has scored 203 points this season against 41 for the opposition. In district play, they've scored 73 points and yielded 41.

The contest pits Hamlin's multiple set offense against Lubbock Cooper's Winged-T attack. Defensively, Hamlin uses a split 4 while Cooper employs a 5-2

Guiding the Pied Piper attack will be quarterback Milton Jones, a 185-pound senior, who has completed over 70 passes to split receiver Bill Cork for over 300 yards. Johnny Jones, 165-pound sophomore fullback, has scored 108 points and gained over 1100 yards this season. Fullback Albert McAfee, a 185-pound junior, has gained over 600 yards rushing.

Coach Pete Hurst of Cooper said the Pirates' big problem would be containing the Hamlin backs. They have a lot of speed.

Guiding the Cooper Winged T will be Bobby Caudle, a 155-pound senior, who has scored 12 touchdowns this season. Fullback Kevin Jones, a 170-pound senior, is the leading rusher with over 600 yards rushing. Other Pirate backfield men include tailback Martin Aleman, a 140-pound senior, and wingman Todd Hammond, a 155-pound junior.

Cooper has more of a running attack and seldom relies on the forward pass. Hamlin appears to have a little better balance with Jones pitching to Cork.

Coach David Bonds of Hamlin said Cooper's record speaks for its ability to win.

"The team that gets some good breaks and doesn't make too many mistakes will win," he said. He added that he thinks the Pied Pipers will play a good game of football, win lose or draw.

One of Cooper's best games this season was a 6-3 victory over always strong Denver City. The Pirates also put down a good Slaton team 17-0. Hamlin, on the other hand, really got to rolling in district play and has three straight shutouts to its credit. The Pied Pipers blanked Stamford 45-0, skunked Ballinger 21-0, and held Anson scoreless, 28-0.

Look for a close, hard fought contest with the margin of an extra point separating the two teams.

Western Wins 1st Round 96-86

DENISON--Western Texas College boosted its record to 3-2 and won the first round of the Grayson County College Basketball Tournament, putting down Mountain View of Dallas, 96-86.

Coach Sid Simpson said the Westerners "played a sloppy ball game," but were able to win despite a below average performance.

Five Westerners hit in double figures, led by Walter Hanibal and Harold Ward, each of whom netted 20 points. Danny McDaniel meshed 16 points, Fred Allen roped 15 and Steve Sparks put in 13 points.

Five of Mountain View's players hit in double figures, led by Crawford with 24 points. Ellis canned 19, Edmond collected 17 and Carswell and Shopher each posted 10 points.

Western led 50-42 at halftime. Steve Sparks looked good for WTC in the second half.

WTC will meet Cook County College at 7 p.m. tonight in the second round. The tournament will conclude Saturday.

Longhorns Hit Aggies, 38-3

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas quarterbacks in recent years have always run first and passed second—if at all. But Alan Lowry was carrying that philosophy to ridiculous extremes.

The senior signal caller had not hit a touchdown pass all year until Thursday night, when he fired a 10-yard scoring strike to Julius Whittier in Texas' 38-3 victory over Texas A&M.

It climaxed a 9-1 season for the seventh-ranked Texas Longhorns, who will meet No. 2 Alabama in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas on Jan. 1.

Texas' lone loss was 27-0 to No. 4 Oklahoma, a Sugar Bowl team, at midseason.

The Longhorns already had clinched their fifth consecutive Southwest Conference title and the host spot in the Cotton Bowl by beating Texas Christian last Saturday.

They have lost the bowl game the last two years—to Notre Dame, breaking a 30-game Texas winning streak, and to Penn State.

But Royal warned that Alabama will be different.

The Cincinnati Reds failed to score a run in 13 innings during which their leadoff man reached base.

San Francisco Routs Cowboys

DALLAS (AP) — George Allen and his Washington Redskins, sitting all comfy in their living rooms, were the big recipients of a Thanksgiving Day present from San Francisco, which shattered jinx-after-jinx in a 31-10 rout of defending Super Bowl champion Dallas.

Of course, the 49ers had purely selfish motives as they surged a half game ahead of Los Angeles in the National Conference West with the sweet victory on a 6-4-1 record.

However, the Redskins can clinch the host spot in the NFC East with victories in two out of their last four games, leaving the Cowboys to scramble for the "wild card" berth.

Dallas is 8-3 and 1½ games behind the Redskins. The "wild card" spot in the National Football League playoffs is given to the division runnerup with the best record. Right now, that's Dallas in the NFC.

"We have a playoff shot now if we want it," said Cowboy coach Tom Landry. "It will be tough to make it as a wild card entry but Kansas City did it. I'm sure Washington is happy. They'll have to really fumble now to lose the East. We haven't lost it but it looks tough ahead."

Linebacker Skip Vanderbundt ran 73 yards with a recovered fumble and 21 yards with an intercepted pass for touchdowns and quarterback Steve Spurrier turned in a poised performance as the 49ers blasted the Cowboys.

It was the first victory for 49er Coach Dick Nolan over Landry, his former boss and old teammate, and marked the first time in 15 games Dallas had lost in Texas Stadium, its plush $21 million football palace.

Nolan said "It's a big win for us...and probably our best game. They (Dallas) have beaten us before in two conference championship games. This shows we can beat them."

With Dallas leading 7-0 and driving, Dave Wilcox and Vanderbundt teamed for a spectacular play that turned the nationally televised game around in the second quarter.

Wilcox clobbered Cowboy quarterback Craig Morton.

Vanderbundt said, "The ball took one bounce and there it was. I just scooped it up and ran. It may have looked as if I was trottin', but I was running for my life."

Dallas dominated the first half, allowing only five first downs but the 49ers turned it around, giving the Cowboys only four first downs in the second half.

Spurrier, playing in place of the injured John Brodie, hit 16 of 24 passes for 177 yards, including a 12-yard touchdown pass to tight end Ted Kwalick. Spurrier took the 49ers on a 94-yard touchdown drive to open the third quarter and hit eight consecutive passes in one stretch.

Spurrier said, "It was sort of a funny game. I thought we were on the short end of the stick and Skip got that fumble. It could have been a 10 or 14-point play. I really didn't think I was throwing too well until I saw on the scoreboard that it was 64 per cent completions."

Besides the fumble, Morton suffered two interceptions before he was roundly booed and replaced by Roger Staubach.

Oklahoma Sooners Nip Cornhuskers, 17-14

By ALEX SACHARE
Associated Press Sports Writer

Even before the dust has a chance to settle in Lincoln, Neb. following Thursday's Big Eight triumph by Oklahoma's Sooners over the defending national champion Nebraska Cornhuskers, a couple of Big Ten teams are expected to raise some dust of their own Saturday in Columbus, Ohio.

That's where third-ranked Michigan, 10-0, will square off against ninth-rated Ohio State, 8-1, in a game which will decide the Big Ten championship and also the league's representative for the Jan. 1 Rose Bowl against No. 1 Southern Cal.

"The team that makes the least mistakes has the best chance of winning," declared Michigan Coach Bo Schembechler, logically enough. "We've got to play our best game, and we expect Ohio State to play its best."

The Wolverines have already clinched a share of the Big Ten title, with a 7-0 mark, but need either a win or a tie Saturday to gain the Rose Bowl berth. If Ohio State wins the nationally televised contest, the Buckeyes will tie Michigan for the Big Ten crown and earn the trip to Pasadena.

Oklahoma, meanwhile, gained a measure of revenge by coming from a 14-0 deficit to defeat Nebraska 17-14.

In last year's Turkey Day classic, No. 1 Nebraska outscored No. 2 Oklahoma 35-31 at Norman, Okla. and went on to the national championship. The visiting team won again this year, as the fourth-ranked Sooners toppled the fifth-ranked Cornhuskers, who had been favored by about a touchdown.

Defenses dominated the first half, with the only score coming as a result of a fumble. Oklahoma's Kenneth Pope couldn't handle a Nebraska punt, the Cornhuskers recovered, and went on to score on a 14-yard run by Bill Olds.

Another fumbled punt set up Nebraska's other touchdown. In the third period, Jerry List of Nebraska took the ball away from Oklahoma's Joe Wylie on the Sooner 24, and Dave Goeller scored from the one.

Then Oklahoma quarterback Dave Robertson went to a weapon the Sooners did not have to use very much in their first nine games—the forward pass.

With the Cornhuskers keeping Oklahoma's nationally top-ranked rushing attack in check, Robertson took to the air to spark a 76-yard scoring drive that took 11 plays. He then connected with freshman Tinker Owens—brother of former Heisman Trophy winner Steve Owens—on a 22-yard scoring pass to tie the score 14-14.

A fumble by Nebraska QB Dave Humm set up Rick Fulcher's game-winning field goal in the final period. Oklahoma's Derland Moore recovered on the Nebraska 27, and four plays later Fulcher split the uprights from 41 yards out to give Oklahoma the victory.

In the other big Turkey Day battle, Cotton Bowl-bound Texas overpowered traditional rival Texas A&M 38-3 as quarterback Alan Lowry threw his first touchdown pass of the season and ran for two more scores to lead the Longhorns to victory in the Southwest Conference game.

With Texas trailing 3-0, Lowry connected with Jimmy Moore on passes of 39 and 29 yards to set up touchdowns. The first score came on a three-yard run by Lowry, the second on a 10-yard pass to tight end Julius Whittier.

Harvard Offers Cram Courses On Congress

By HOWARD WHITE
Associated Press Writer

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — "May I object to being called 'gentlelady,'" asked Barbara C. Jordan, a 36-year-old U.S. representative-elect from Texas.

"How would you want to be addressed," asked Alan W. Steelman, another Texan heading for the political maze called Congress.

"I don't know, but I don't like 'gentlelady,'" said Miss Jordan.

The question was one of hundreds being raised by four newly elected congressmen in an experimental month-long "cram course" at Harvard University's John F. Kennedy Institute of Politics.

"It's kind of a Congressional Head Start program," explained the man providing many of the answers, Mark E. Talisman, 31-year-old administrative assistant to Rep. Charles A. Vanik of Ohio.

During a period when most of their newly elected colleagues are arranging to move, writing thank you notes or vacationing, the four participants started school this week. Their curriculum ranges from informal lectures on how to choose an office and file a bill to briefings on issues ranging from the economy to the environment.

In addition to Steelman and Miss Jordan, the other participants are 32-year-old William S. Cohen of Maine and Yvonne Brathwaite Burke, 40, of California. Miss Jordan and Mrs. Burke are Democrats, Steelman and Cohen are Republicans.

Mrs. Burke's arrival has been delayed because the California Assembly of which she is a member is still in session, Institute officials say.

Miss Jordan's expression of concern about the prospects of being addressed formally as "the gentlelady from Texas" brought a suggested solution from Talisman — a brief speech early in the session to make her wishes known.

The school this week held the first in a series of briefings on congressional procedures and matters of a housekeeping nature. Some major themes: new congressmen should learn fast what questions to ask, should assert their rights and be aware of the political consequences, and should learn the rules of the House soon.

"Is it possible to master the rules in your first term?" asked Steelman, whose Washington experience had been in White House staff jobs.

"No," responded Talisman, "but you can be familiar enough with them to ask the right questions, which will put you ahead of 90 per cent of your colleagues."

Such practical matters are to be covered for the four congressmen-elect, who will get briefings on such subjects as how to set up their offices and pick staffs, deal with lobbyists, and write "dear colleague" letters seeking cosponsorship and support.

But they're balanced with a rich collection of briefings on substantive issues.

San Francisco Has Lady Cops

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A fight had broken out in a tavern in the city's tough Tenderloin district but the 10 men at the bar became surprisingly obedient when the police sauntered through the door.

One of the cops was a lady.

Her partner, patrolman Frank Shannon, recalled some of the comments her appearance provoked:

"She don't look mean enough to be a cop," growled one of the men. "Hell, she don't look old enough to be a cop," said another.

They were talking about 24-year-old Berit Hovde, one of the first two women to be assigned patrol car duty in the city.

Miss Hovde and Sandra Daly, 29, cruise the streets of the Tenderloin, Chinatown and the North Beach nightclub district, taking their chances with the rest of the guys.

"Most of the time, after they get over the initial surprise, they seem to accept the fact I am a police officer," Miss Hovde said.

The women were among nine out of 300 female applicants who passed the department's regular written, oral and physical examinations when they were first offered to women in 1969.

The two were selected for duty, but if the experiment succeeds, Miss Hovde says San Francisco soon may have more lady cops assigned to patrol duty.

"If we blow it, then we are blowing it not just for ourselves but for policewomen who will be hired in years to come ... They'll be assigned to routine office duties, not the streets," said Miss Daly, who has taken into custody an unruly juvenile and investigated an armed robbery.

They still have to undergo further intensive training. "It'll be training in riot control and sniper firing," said policewoman Hovde. "I can hardly wait."

One problem facing lady officers is acceptance by male officers. When fellow patrolman Frank Shannon wondered how Miss Hovde would react when "something rough comes along," the lady cop replied:

"I wonder about that too ... but I think I can handle it. Wouldn't you wonder the same thing if I were a man — and a rookie?"

Mom Missing At Holiday Dinner

MIAMI (AP) — When Inora Wright's 10 children sat down to Thanksgiving dinner, their mother wasn't with them. The woman who worked three jobs as the sole support of her family was shot to death four days before.

Police said Mrs. Wright, 48, and a friend, Isiah Woodside, 24, got in an argument at her home Monday evening. Both reached for a pistol, the gun went off, and Mrs. Wright died on the operating table at Jackson Memorial Hospital a few hours later with a bullet wound in her neck.

Police said they have not yet determined if charges will be filed.

Last July, Mrs. Wright received a $1,500 reward for helping police track down two youths who killed a security guard during a robbery at the Eagle Army-Navy surplus store where she worked.

She used the money to move her children to a better home.

"Inora tried raising those children under the most extremely trying circumstances," said Miami Beach Police Chief Rocky Pomerance, who employed Mrs. Wright as a weekend maid. "She wanted a decent home for her kids.

"She was a fine woman who got involved and did the right thing."

Police said that Mrs. Wright received threatening and malicious telephone calls for months after she helped police find the slayers.

Her youngest child, daughter Jackie, 10, also witnessed the guard's killing and was attacked and beaten with a pipe.

"I don't remember much of that," Jackie said. "Mamma said we should do the right thing, so we told police. Mamma said we should always do the right thing, no matter what."

Abraham Rahming, manager of the store where Mrs. Wright worked as a cashier for four years, said she was a "back-breakingly hard worker."

In addition to her job at the store and her weekend work as a maid, Mrs. Wright also worked as a babysitter to make ends meet, Rahming said.

The children, eight girls and two boys, had Thanksgiving dinner at a friend's house.

"And his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, the mighty God, the everlasting Father, the Prince of Peace." Isaiah 9:6.

The sawdust caesars of each age
always inflict a war;
Their every move invariably somehow creates a scar.
Like weeds they are among us—
their number ever vast—
History all will verify by glances in the past.
Oh God, who has been kind enough to let our tribe increase,
Allow us in our strivings to find the Prince of Peace!

Trial Set For French Actor

ROME (AP) — A prominent French movie actor has spent 16 months in prison since police arrested him in a friend's house where drugs were found. Seven months of that time elapsed before he even came to trial.

Pierre Clementi filed an appeal nine months ago but his case was not heard despite pleas from a committee of international movie and stage personalities. A date has finally been set for Dec. 6.

The Frenchman's case illustrates the plight of scores of Italians and foreigners arrested on drug charges.

Italy, a stopover on the hard drug trial from the Middle East to America, is punishing possession of narcotics as severely as their sale. Freedom on bail does not exist.

Recently, there has been pressure to revise the 18-year old narcotics law and to consider only drug peddlers as criminals.

Clementi was sentenced last February to two years in jail for possession of drugs. Police found 20 grams of cocaine, several capsules of LSD and pipes containing marijuana in the house of Annamaria Lauricella where the actor was staying. Miss Lauricella also received a two-year sentence.

Clementi denied any knowledge of the drugs. However, the prosecutor described the actor as a known drug user.

Reports circulated that Clementi's health and morale seriously deteriorated during his imprisonment. His lawyer, Paolo Appella, said the actor refused to leave his cell and had rejected all visits, including his lawyer's.

Clementi, 30, was considered one of the most promising young actors in Europe at the time of his arrest. Among his recent film credits was a starring role in "Belle de Jour."

Witnesses Set Seminar

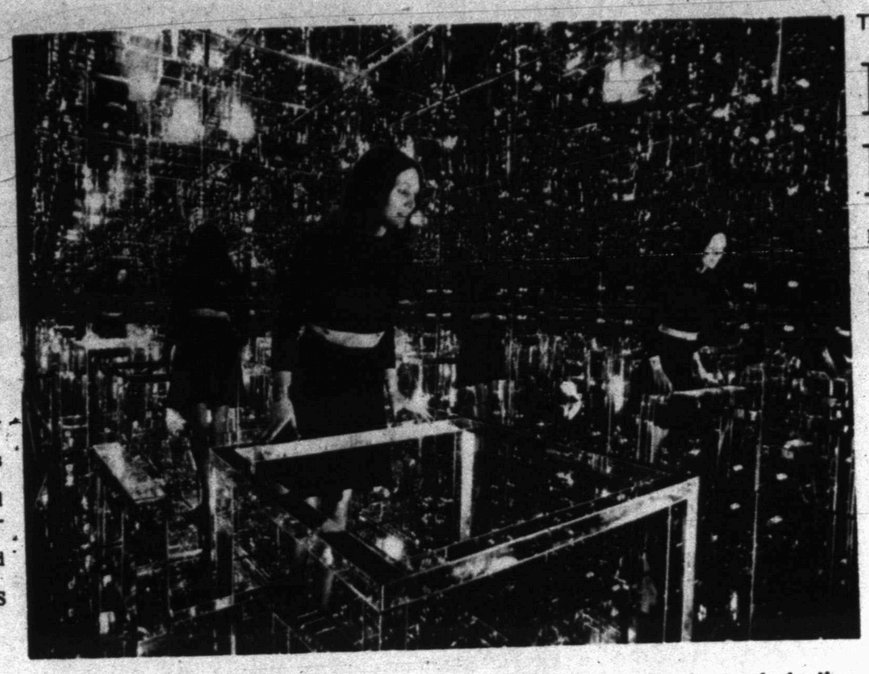

Members of the local congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses are leaving this weekend to attend the three-day Bible seminar of the group at the High School Auditorium in Sweetwater, according to Jack Wright local presiding minister.

Delegates are expected from points as distant as Alpine, and Brownwood. Peak attendance at the assembly is expected to swell to 1,500 by Sunday afternnon when John P. Sutherland, District Supervisor for the Witnesses in the area, discourses on the topic, "Is This Life All There Is?"

According to Wright the four meetings regularly conducted at the Kingdon Hall over the weekend will be cancelled in favor of the Sweetwater engagement.

All of the sessions at the Sweetwater assembly are free of charge. There will be no collection plate passed. The public is invited.

The last two World Series have gone the limit of seven games. Last year Pittsburgh beat Baltimore and this year Oakland beat Cincinnati.

Holiday If Stuffed Memory

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The parades are over, the turkey is gone and the clock has run out on the day's last football game. Thanksgiving 1972 is a slightly stuffed memory and Christmas is around the corner.

Thousands of spectators turned out in nippy weather in New York, Philadelphia and Detroit for traditional parades Thursday. Millions more across the country watched the marchers on television.

One notable casualty occured in the New York march — the huge balloon Donald Duck punctured his wrist on a tree limb and suffered a deflated hand. Officials said the balloon was due for retirement anyway.

Following the parades there was a procession of football games across the television screen. President Nixon tuned in to at least two of the contests at his Camp David retreat in Maryland.

The First Family spent a generally quiet day, enjoying a long walk with three pet dogs on the wooded mountaintop area to work up an appetite for the 14-pound turkey and trimmings served up by Navy stewards.

Canned, boned turkey was on the menu for 28,000 U.S. troops still in Vietnam. The 620th Tactical Communications Squadron shared its dinner with 386 children from the China Beach Protestant Oprhanage.

Family get-togethers are a tradition for the day and one of the larger such gatherings was in Chicago Heights, Ill., where 95 of Agnes Joyce's relatives turned out to help her celebrate her 73rd birthday.

The group that sat down to eight turkeys in a rented church hall included 9 of her 11 children, 40 grandchildren, 28 great-grandchildren plus assorted cousins, nephews and nieces.

There was a protest in Plymouth, Mass., where the American Thanksgiving originated, according to some historians. Representatives of 12 New England Indian tribes held a "day of mourning."

The demonstrators gathered around the statue of Massasoit, the Wampanoag chief who welcomed the Pilgrims in 1621 and signed a treaty with them that lasted 50 years.

In an earlier statement the group explained: "These Indians are fasting to mourn the loss of Indian life and culture which for them began with the arrival of the Pilgrims."

Two Children Die In Fire

LAPORTE, Tex. (AP) — Two children have died from a fire that swept through their frame home here.

Killed were Ricky Crawford, 3, and Jackie Crawford, 1.

Police said the fire started Thursday in a natural gas heater in the back bedroom of the home where the children were sleeping.

Willie Crawford, father of the two children, told officers he was watching television in another room when he saw smoke coming from the bedroom. Crawford said he was unable to push through the flames to get the children.

Marie Wilson Dies Thursday

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Marie Wilson liked to tell a classic story about a bygone movie era. It was the time she faked running out of gas in front of a director's home.

"You look like a good picture type to me," she quoted him as telling her as he gallantly fetched some gas. "Maybe I might be able to find work for you. I'm a director. Where can you be reached?"

Miss Wilson, a blonde buxom beauty, made the nation laugh for a decade as the comedienne star of the long-running "My Friend Irma Show" of early network television and coast-to-coast radio programs.

When she died of cancer Thanksgiving Day at the age of 56, she had been out of a once-glittering limelight for two decades, except for brief moments.

She signed her first contract with Warner Brothers in the 1930s at the age of 15. She was still a teen-ager when she thought her career was sputtering and pulled the empty tank ruse — and won a part.

Life seemed eternally baffling for "Irma," the high-voiced, feather-brained but well-meaning secretary who faced her predicaments in the stumbling style of a Lucille Ball.

"Irma had to be a virgin for the network," Miss Wilson said in a recent interview. "I guess if I noted any change in television today it's the fact that a girl can work as a secretary in a series and not be cast as virgin. That's progress."

In her movie and television roles, the well-endowed actress engaged in well-publicized battles with censors over her low-cut pink gowns.

As late as 1951 she was still battling with a movie censor who wanted her to wear lace over her plunging neckline. In distinctly pre-Women's Lib language, she had defended the showy gowns:

"They're a little drafty, but I like them. And I think the men do, too. They're the ones we dress to please."

Miss Wilson ran through a score of light movie comedies, such as "Boy Meets Girl" with James Cagney and Pat O'Brien; "Girl in Every Port," "My Friend Irma Goes West," and "Never Wave at a WAC."

She died at her home, where she lived with her second husband, television producer Robert Fallon, and 14-year-old adopted son Greg.

Funeral services were pending.

Cops Turn In Take Home Cars

St. Paul, Minn. (AP) — St. Paul policemen will turn in their take home squad cars Monday, ending a $480,000 experiment which Chief Richard Rowan said "produced no appreciable difference" in the crime rate.

Under the program which began 19 months ago, 105 cars were designated for officers' personal use during off-duty hours to see whether more squad cars on city streets would reduce crime.

"The difficulty," said Rowan, "was in measuring what didn't happen. It was extremely hard to determine the deterrent effect of the take-home cars." He added, however, that there were "several instances" where off-duty policemen made arrests while using the cars.

The federal Law Enforcement Assistance Administration provided $147,000 of the cost, with the city providing the remaining $333,000.

Debbie Reynolds Files Suit

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Debbie Reynolds has filed suit against former business manager Irving Briskin, contending he defrauded her of $335,000 by undervaluing stock she sold him and that he failed to make full payment on debts owed her.

She filed the suit earlier this week in Superior Court.

Slim Wins Crazy Bet

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — Amarillo Slim, the Texas gambler, has come back from the River of No Return.

"I've seen them over a deck of cards, and they'd rather see frost on their peach tree," Slim said of those who bet him $31,000 he couldn't run the wild, 29-mile stretch of the middle fork of the Salmon River.

Slim—his real name is T.A. Preston Jr.—has never identified those with whom he made the bet, but said it came up during a recent card game in Las Vegas, Nev.

Slim and his guide, Jere Charman of Boise, emerged from the river, often called the River of No Return, on Wednesday. At the end of the run Slim climbed from his ice-covered raft and flew into Boise by helicopter for a shave. On Thursday he headed home for Texas.

Slim won the world poker championship last June in Las Vegas.

But reflecting on his trip, he said, "I've made crazy bets, but never anything like this."

Rain, Snow Hurt Midwest Crops

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Weeks of rain and snow in the Midwest have bogged down what otherwise would have been a good year for cash crops.

The United States Department of Agriculture had estimated that November's corn crop would be 5.4 billion bushels, a 3 per cent increase over 1971 production. The estimate for soybean yield was 1.35 billion bushels, a 15 per cent increase.

Then the rains came. Precipitation in the Chicago area, typical of the Midwest, has been 6.42 inches since Oct. 1, compared to a norm of 4.04 inches, according to the National Weather Service.

The storms have left fields too wet to harvest and unable to bear the weight of heavy farm equipment.

Last year, Warren Langdon's grain elevator in Wabash, Indm, processed 100,000 bushels of soybeans and 150,000 bushels of corn in November. This year, Langdon said, his Richvalley Cooperative Elevator handled 30,000 bushels of corn and just 100 bushels of soybeans through mid-November.

Farm officials in Indiana say corn and soybean farmers lose an estimated $1 million for each day those cash crops go unharvested.

In Minnesota, 18 counties have been declared disaster areas, and the Farm Home Administration has received nearly 2,000 applications for emergency loans from farmers.

The Minnesota Crop and Livestock Reporting Service still estimates the corn crop at 3 per cent above last year and the soybean yield at a whopping 41 per cent above 1971 — if the farmers can get them out of the fields.

In Nebraska, excellent fall harvest weather led to predictions of record corn, soybean, grain sorghum and sugar beet crops. But early last week, a snowstorm dumped up to nine inches on the mature crops, driving sorghum heads to the ground and making them more difficult to harvest.

Some farmers say a freeze would enable them to get their heavy equipment onto the rain-softened fields. Others say that if the sun shines and the wind blows, the fields may dry enough for a break-even year in all but the most severely damaged areas.

"All we need is some sunshine, three weeks of it," said Milo Thurston, a soybean farmer whose home Pulaski County in southern Illinois has had only nine days of full or partial sunshine in the last six weeks.

Pair Pulled From Plane Wreckage

MOUNT VERNON, Tex. (AP) — The bodies of a Sulphur Springs man and his wife, killed when their small airplane crashed into Cypress Springs Lake near here, were recovered Thursday.

They were Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Sanders, both about 35 years old. He was a Post Office employe in Sulphur Springs where his wife worked for a manufacturing plant.

The pair died Wednesday when their Piper Cherokee exploded in flight and fell into the lake. They had taken off earlier from the Sulphur Springs airport where they left their automobile.

A highway patrolman at Sulphur Springs who knew the pair said they "were just flying around" on a pleasure jaunt when the crash occurred.

Witnesses to the crash said the plane made several low passes over the lake, about seven miles south of Mount Vernon before it apparently struck a power line and exploded.

Wreckage of the Cherokee 180 was scattered over two acres with the main part of the debris in about 15 feet of water on the lake's north side.

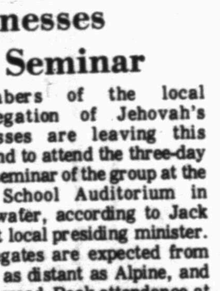

The crash scene was near the King's Country resort area.

The seven-game 1972 World Series found no pitcher tossing a complete game.

Grace Lutheran Church invites you to worship with us.
OUR SCHEDULE
Church services ..... 10:30 A.M.
Sunday School and Bible Classes ..... 9:30 A.M.
WHAT THE LUTHERAN CHURCH STAND FOR
GOD is the Triune God of the Bible; Father, Son and Holy Ghost who has made of one blood all the nations of men to serve him.
THE BIBLE is the Word of God. It not only contains, but actually is God's Word and the only source of revealed truth concerning Christ, Faith and Salavation by which the Church is governed.
THE CHURCH is the body of all believers in Christ who are reborn by the Holy Spirit and brought to Faith in Jesus Christ through the gospel.
FAITH in Jesus Christ is the gift of God to man through which he is declared righteous before God and forgiven all his sins.
MAN, though created holy and innocent by his own choice fell into sin, thus separating himself from God.
SIN is every transgression of God's Law and leads man to death and eternal damnation unless he is redeemed.
REDEMPTION is the act of God revealed in the Bible and proclaimed by the Church whereby Jesus Christ the Son of God born of the Virgin Mary, died for the sins of the world and rose again from the dead to prove our redemption.

GOOD MUSIC

. . . the common language of all people. It takes skilled musicians to blend an orchestra into the perfect ensemble . . . to make good music. Just as surely as it requires more discords than concords to make good music, so does it take more disappointment, sorrow and trouble to sweeten up a life . . . to make a good Christian. The orchestra spends a lot of time just tuning up. And so does a life if it is to count for God. One must go to Sunday School, attend church and learn of Him, if his music, his life is to be worthy to be used by God to warm the hearts of men. They learn well and play true.
