WEST AND WEST CENTRAL TEXAS ARE INCLUDED

AUSTIN, July 29 (AP)—Allowable oil production in Texas, beginning August 1 will be 1,157,941 barrels daily, under an order issued today by the state railroad commission.
The total is a reduction of 15,956 barrels under allowable production on July 27 and 3,241 barrels a day higher than the U. S. Bureau of Mines' estimate of market demand for Texas oil in August.
The factor for computing production in the east Texas field is continued at 232 per cent of the hourly potential as one day's quota. This is estimated to produce 434,000 barrels daily in that field.
Panhandle and north Texas production was unchanged. The order included:
West Central Texas: 54,393 compared with 53,294 in the former order.
West Texas: 153,562 compared with 150,179.
The new order was signed by all members of the commission including Commissioner Lon A. Smith who had refused to sign a previous order on the ground that it discriminated between fields.

Wins Life and Romance

Grueled months that he spent in the courtrooms and in the shadow of the gallows brought consolation to David Lamson, former press executive at Stanford University, when they led indirectly to his romance with Ruth Rankin, with whom he is shown above after they had filed notice of intention to wed. Lamson met the comely screen and magazine writer after he had gone to Hollywood to collaborate on a scenario he had written in the death house. He was freed after facing juries four times on a charge that he had killed his wife, Allene.

GARRETT NOT TO DEBATE IN RUN-OFF RACE

Judge Clyde Garrett, when asked today regarding the challenge of Mr. Blanton for a joint discussion concerning the accusation of Fred O. Jaye of DeLeon, Townsend candidate, who made the statement that he had been offered $2,500 some three weeks ago to withdraw from the race, said:
"About all I can say is that I am preparing an answer to Mr. Blanton's challenge and will be ready for a statement to the press in a day or two, but my purpose now is not to accept the challenge."
"I am well satisfied with my present manager, and the way my campaign has been handled. I want to continue to manage it myself. I don't want Mr. Blanton doing it."
Regarding Mr. Jaye, Judge Garrett said:
"I have no statement to make as yet regarding Mr. Jaye, who says I did not offer that $2,500, but one of my friends did. I didn't know I had one who had over $150. I can't find that friend, but am looking for him. If and when I find him, I may have a statement to make regarding that."

HICKOK TESTS SUSPENDED BY WALL CAVE-IN

A cave-in on the 250-foot open hole in the Hickok well just north of the city temporarily suspended testing of the oil production by the railroad commission which started yesterday at 9 a. m., showing a flow of 63 barrels for the first fifteen minutes but which slowed to 17 barrels during the second hour, when the well was found to have bridged and filled some 25 feet of mud.
A showing of salt water caused some uneasiness, but the amount is small. Frank Bond, assistant superintendent and field expert for the company, who has been away on a vacation trip to Pikes Peak, Yellowstone Park and Salt Lake City, arrived home this morning. He does not seem especially worried and will probably assume direction of further operations of the well, together with Mr. Ponsler, superintendent for the company. Mr. Bond and Mr. Ponsler stated that they did not know just what further steps would be taken except that they would try to keep the well cleaned out from further cavings and might run a liner from the bottom of the well. Pipe will be placed on the ground at once to await further development.
Further drilling into the sand which has only been touched for a few feet, may be done at a later date, if it should be deemed expedient after caving has been stopped and flow of oil further tested.
Meanwhile it is a case of "watchful waiting." It is a good well.

TRENCH SILO IS FILLED FRIDAY STOCK PROGRAM AT EASTLAND

A program of general interest to all dairymen, livestock raisers, and farmers will be held in Eastland beginning at 2 p. m. Friday, July 31st. The main feature of the program will be the filling of a small trench silo on a vacant lot in Eastland after which talks on trench silos, dairying, and livestock raising will be made by E. R. Eudaly, Extension Dairymen, D. R. Simons, Extension Dairymen, D. R. Simons, secretary Texas Jersey Cattle Club, Joe Shelton, Brownwood Dairymen, and others.
The trench silo is recommended as an ideal method of storing any kind of feed for livestock, particularly bulky feeds of feed as it preserves all the food values of the feed in definitely, saves labor and insures feed against damage by fire, weevils, rats, and weather, which usually destroy more than half of usually stored feed stuff in a year's time.
A ton of silage made from hedges, alfalfa, clover, timothy, or similar feed stuff has 1 1/2 as much feed value as the same amount of feed

WEST TEXAS CITIES WILL HAVE SPECIAL DAYS AT EXHIBIT BOOTH

A letter from D. A. Bandeen, Manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce has this to say regarding special days for West Texas cities:
"We all should be pleased with the reception so far accorded our All-West Texas Resource and Community exhibit. Our daily visitors are ranging from 5,000 to 8,000 persons. Visitors from 25 different states were registered at our information booth on the third day after the opening. #### FIFTEEN LOST AS BOAT SINKS IN LAKE MICH.

CHICAGO, July 29 (AP)—Fifteen seamen lost their lives today and seven were saved when a heavily loaded sand barge foundered in rough weather less than a mile from the shore of Lake Michigan.
"There was only a minute's warning and the victims apparently were carried to the bottom in their bunks. Coast guard vessels found no bodies after searching more than six hours.
First mate, John Johnson, Chicago, and others floated to the south Chicago lighthouse on timbers from the sunken barge. The other survivors were picked up by coast guard boats.
Captain Charles Brown, Fort Huron, Michigan, was among the drowned.
The boat left Lockport, Ill., yesterday, carrying 22 men. First assistant John Palmercoff, of Lockport, missed the boat. He was believed drowned until he telephoned to friends.
The twin engine's 246-foot barge was plunging along the shore when a heavy blow began to toss up the lake. The barge carried 2,000 tons of sand.
"I was on duty," related first mate Johnson. "Suddenly I felt the boat swerve."
"Suddenly it straightened out with a jerk and flopped. I run along the deck. All hell was breaking loose."
Johnson was thrown down as he attempted to reach the alarm bunk which would have tumbled the sleeping sailors from their bunks.

Trench Silo—

CONTINUED FROM PAGE ONE the grain hardens, as moisture in the stalk or moisture added is necessary to make silage. Water should be added while a silo is being filled, as it is impossible to get the feed too wet. After putting feed into a silo and adding plenty of water, the trench should be covered with at least 12 inches of dirt, which should be wetted down. Any kind of feed stuff that begins to burn on account of dry weather can be saved by putting it into a trench silo. The large amount of corn and other crops that dry up in Eastland county fields each year would afford long-time insurance against feed shortage if put into trench silos. The small silo being filled in Eastland Friday during the meeting is provided by the Eastland Chamber of Commerce. The silo will be opened during the Eastland County Fair, September 16-19th. Those who attend the demonstration and others interested may secure the Texas Extension Service Bulletin on trench silos from the County Agent's office, Eastland.

Jaye Charges—

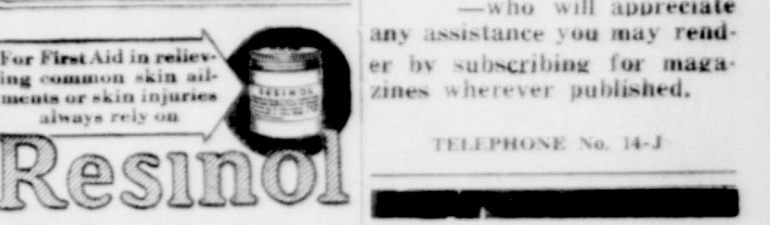

CONTINUED FROM PAGE ONE my pathway. I began to suspect it early in the campaign, discovered it was true several weeks before the close, and since the close it has been confirmed by all of my managers. This money was sent into the district by special interests and special privileges who were completely organized and did their work in every precinct so quietly that it never came to the surface. It caught us all unaware, even such a seasoned political campaigner as Judge Blanton. The object of this campaign was not to defeat me, but to elect some one else, and he is not the man you are here today working for. These methods, so familiar in the past, have been unknown to us here in a quiet rural community like the 17th congressional district. We would not have thought such a thing possible, but we know that it threatens the people's interests. When the special interests decide to move in the people must move out—the house can't hold both at the same time. Shall we let this sort of thing control our elections down here? $2,500 Bribe Last Friday night, three weeks ago, I ran squarely into this dastardly campaign to control the people's votes with money. A man came to my office in DeLeon, waved $2,500 in front of my face and said I could have it if I would withdraw from the race. He must have thought I was awfully cheap, or a betrayer of my friends and supporters. Voice from the crowd: "Was it a check or hard money?" "It was in greenbacks," Jaye answered. "I told that man I was in the race for principles dear to me and my supporters and that I was not for sale, that I was going to stay in the race to the end if I got only two votes—my own and my wife's. Gentlemen, I know then something was wrong, and I have learned some things since then that I am going to make public to the people of the district just as soon as I finish my investigation. The facts are being learned and will be forthcoming before this campaign is over. In conclusion I want to say that if we are to bring the country out of the depression it will have to be by working against the special interests and by preserving the country in honor, honesty and hard work. When a candidate submits himself, the people have a right to know who he is and what he is. We have never been in doubt about Judge Blanton and the position he occupies. He is the same man that has always said we can piece him now and two years from now after he has gone back to congress. He should be, can be, and must be renominated."

IN YOUR KITCHEN

... it gives the instant, Controlled Heat so necessary in Semi-Waterless Cooking

Let us demonstrate to you, in our show-room, the features of a modern gas range. Then you'll know there's much more to them than mere good looks. You'll know that it has the new simmer burners. You'll know that these burners, and only these, give a heat controllable to the exact simmering heat required for the new method of semi-waterless cooking. You'll know that modern gas cooking is clean, economical and sure.

While this feature of accuracy in heat control makes possible the retention of vitamins and minerals in fresh vegetables—oven heat control, oven insulation, self-lighting burners, storage drawers, easy-to-clean porcelain surfaces—are conveniences which make for kitchen comfort and efficiency.

Because terms are so low anyone can afford to make the picture of this modern gas range in their kitchen a pleasurable reality.
