Storm Debbie Stalls Off Plush Gulf Coast

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Tropical storm Debbie stalled just short of slamming into the plush Gulf Coast of Florida and Alabama today and forecasters said the storm appeared to be losing power.

In a morning advisory, the Weather Bureau said the storm probably would remain stationary about 115 miles south-southwest of Mobile, Ala., for the next 6 to 12 hours while weakening slowly.

"Most warnings will probably be lowered later today," the advisory said.

However, squalls, winds and rains generated by the storm raked hundreds of miles of Florida Panhandle coastline. Wind whipped tides and pounding surf ate into the beaches.

RUSH INLAND

From the mouth of the Mississippi River to Panama City, Fla., hundreds of people on low-lying islands and beaches sandbagged disappearing foundations or else gave up and went inland.

Many of them were still suffering from the pounding of Hurricane Betsy just two weeks ago. In Louisiana's St. Bernard Parish, people who had returned to their wrecked homesites only a day or so ago had to flee to high ground.

But thousands of others — particularly in the Florida Panhandle which has plenty of squally weather — were contemptuous of Debbie's top winds of 35 to 50 miles an hour. They elected to ride it out at the edge of the Gulf of Mexico despite predictions of tides up to six feet.

"Debbie is a fink," said a young man at a "hurricane party" just 30 feet from the beach at Panama City.

WATER OFF

Mrs. Ilbert Brayshaw calmly ironed her family wash while Debbie's misty winds whistled through holes left in her living room wall by Hurricane Betsy.

Fresh water to those who decided to remain on Santa Rosa Island, just across the bay from Pensacola, was cut when a 65-foot fishing boat was smashed against the water pipe.

However, about 900 persons had already left for the mainland, and two emergency towers contained plenty of water for those who stayed.

The Weather Bureau said the biggest problem may come Thursday or the day after when Debbie has sloshed inland and dumped up to 10 inches of rain on the flat farm and woodland of Florida, Georgia and Alabama.

Small, narrow-bedded streams were expected to overrun their banks.

RED CROSS

The Red Cross activated emergency offices in Mobile, Ala.; Pensacola, Panama City, Tallahasee, Tampa, and Perry, Fla.

Food Price Dip Trims Living Cost

WASHINGTON (AP) — A drop in food prices cut living costs two-tenths of one per cent in August — the biggest decline in nearly three years, the Labor Department said today.

Housing and transportation costs also showed slight declines, but clothing and medical care went up.

The two-tenths of one per cent drop in the government's consumer price index brought it down to 110.0 per cent of its 1957-59 average.

CONSUMER ITEMS

This means that typical family consumer items that cost $10 in 1957-59 cost $11 last August.

The drop in living costs was the first downward move since August of last year.

In August of 1964 the index was 108.2. Thus the index rise for the 12 months was 1.8 points.

The last decline in the index as large as two-tenths of one per cent was in December of 1962.

Arnold Chase, assistant commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, said the approximately one per cent drop in food prices last month was a decline from unusually high prices over the summer.

FOOD PRICES

He said food prices had averaged an increase of one per cent a year over the previous five years, but jumped 3 per cent from May through July of this year.

Chase repeated frequent Labor Department denials that a new policy barring most foreign farm laborers from this country for temporary harvest work had anything to do with the food price increase over the summer.

In addition to food, used car prices showed a decline unusual for August.

AUTO PICTURE

This drop and a decline for gasoline contributed to a decline of five-tenths of one per cent in transportation costs. Housing costs edged down one-tenth of one per cent largely because of rebates in telephone bills in some states.

Medical care costs, the highest and fastest rising item in the index, continued up, but the increase of one-tenth of one per cent was one of the smallest monthly increases on record.

Despite the drop in August prices, some 60,000 workers with labor contracts pegged to the index will receive wage increases based on the quarterly increase in the index.

Screen Actor Zachary Scott Gravely Sick

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Zachary Scott, handsome star of stage and screen, is gravely ill with a brain tumor at the Austin home of his widowed mother.

This was disclosed Tuesday by a family spokesman, who said doctors diagnosed the tumor as maligant and the 51-year-old actor has received radiation treatment.

WIFE THERE

His wife, actress Ruth Ford, is here with him.

Scott went to a New York City hospital for two months after complaining he did not feel well last spring, the spokesman said. He spent two weeks more at an Austin hospital.

The actor has been staying at the home of his mother since Aug. 9. An ambulance has taken him to a doctor's office several times recently for radiation treatments. The spokesman said no surgery is planned.

AUSTIN NATIVE

Scott is a native of Austin and studied drama here at the University of Texas. His father, Dr. Zachary Scott Sr., died in 1964.

The actor was married previously to the former Elaine Anderson of Fort Worth. They were divorced several years ago. He has two daughters, Shelley Scott of New York City and Mrs. William Crawford of Brooklyn Heights, N.Y.

India-Pakistan Cease-Fire Outlook Bleak

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — The outlook for the India-Pakistan cease-fire remained bleak today as both sides made new demands and neither showed any sign of withdrawing from positions seized during their undeclared war.

A spokesman for the Indian Foreign Office said the withdrawal of armed personnel should include an estimated 3,000 guerrillas the Indians claim Pakistan trained, equipped and sent into the Indian sector of Kashmir for subversion and sabotage.

DENIES CLAIM

Pakistan has denied the Indian claim, contending that the guerrillas whose operations touched off the war are Kashmiri nationalists fighting for freedom from Indian control.

Indian Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri told newsmen the most urgent task facing the U.N. Security Council "is to ask Pakistan to desist from its declared path of aggression."

Shastri said Pakistan had been threatening in the Security Council to unleash a wide conflagration if its desires were not met. He said India had accepted the cease-fire voted by the council "in complete good faith, unconditionally but not unilaterally."

UNDER ORDERS

Shastri said Indian forces were under strict orders not to violate the cease-fire, but he added: "Indian forces are under instructions to defend themselves wherever and whenever attacked by Pakistan."

Pakistani Foreign Minister Z. A. Bhutto, speaking to the U.N. General Assembly in New York, proposed that both Indian and Pakistani forces in Kashmir be replaced by a U.N. peace force as the prelude to a plebiscite to determine the future of the disputed Himalayan state.

MAY QUIT U.N.

Bhutto repeated that Pakistan would consider withdrawing from the United Nations — if the Security Council did not work out a permanent solution of the 18-year-old Kashmir dispute within a reasonable time.

Shastri already has said that India would not agree to a U.N. peace force, and that India is adamantly opposed to a plebiscite in Kashmir. Most of the state's people are Moslems and the Indians assume they would vote for independence from Hindu-dominated India or union with Moslem Pakistan.

U.N. Secretary-General U Thant reported that almost 200 U.N. military observers had arrived or were on their way to serve with the U.N. observer corps charged with enforcing the cease-fire.

Soviets Adopt Kosygin Plan

MOSCOW (AP)—The Central Committee of the Soviet Communist party ended a three-day meeting today after unanimously adopting Premier Alexei N. Kosygin's plan for economic reforms, Moscow Radio reported.

The Communist party first secretary, Leonid I. Brezhnev, spoke on the coming party congress and his report was also unanimously approved. The radio gave no date for the congress, but it is expected to be held next March.

Feodor D. Kulakov was elevated to one of the nine party secretary posts under Brezhnev. He succeeds Vitaly N. Titov, who was the secretary in charge of organizational matters.

Titov's removal from the secretaryship had been forecast for months. It was announced in April that he had been demoted to a second-level job in Russia's farm belt. He was then named a party secretary in Kazakhstan.

Toll Mounts On Isle Hit By Volcano

TAGAYTAY, Philippines (AP) — The first rescue workers reached the blackened shores of the Taal volcano today and reported "a wide expanse of death and destruction."

There was no immediate casualty estimate from the first to land on the 12-square-mile island in Lake Taal where the volcano erupted at 2:30 a.m. Tuesday. Officials feared a heavy toll among the island's 2,000 inhabitants and in villages along the lakeshore 5 to 10 miles from the island.

The party on the island reported the 984-foot volcano had subsided to occasional rumbles and belches of smoke. The local military commander ordered the evacuation of all persons from low areas around Lake Taal as a precaution against another eruption and an accompanying tidal wave.

184 BODIES

The Red Cross reported 184 bodies recovered on the mainland, 104 of them in the lakeside town of Agoncillo. Many were killed by the great chunks of rock the volcano hurled through the air. Some were enveloped in hot ash and mud and died of burns. The Red Cross said many appeared to have died from fear and shock.

The rescue group on the island reported thigh-deep volcanic mud, with two villages completely submerged in debris. The party said half the island appeared covered with the volcanic mud that rained for eight hours or more after the first eruption.

FLEE TERROR

Survivors who escaped across the lake during the eruption told of a rain of boulders that capsized frail fishing boats in which the island's farm families fled.

Frogmen began a search for bodies in the lake, parts of it 600 feet deep. The once clear waters were murky with volcanic ash.

The Red Cross reported 55,000 persons huddled in evacuation camps or along the roadsides. Most had fled from homes around the lake.

Before the eruption, the volcanic island 40 miles south of Manila was a garden spot of meadows, grain fields, thriving farm villages and neat schoolhouses. Officials could give no estimate of the number of islanders who escaped.

Cong Plan To Execute Yanks

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—North Viet Nam says U.S. and Vietnamese pilots captured in North Viet Nam will be tried as war criminals.

The International Red Cross Committee in Geneva disclosed today North Viet Nam informed it of that policy in a letter dated Aug. 31.

EXECUTIONS EYED

The word from Geneva came as Hanoi, in an official Communist publication, hinted that Americans captured in fighting in the future may be executed summarily by the Viet Cong.

On the war front, a U.S. spokesman announced that South Vietnamese forces and U.S. planes beat off an attack Tuesday by one of the largest Viet Cong concentrations in several months, possibly 2,000 guerrillas.

The spokesman reported no further fighting today in the area 45 miles northwest of Qui Nhon and 295 miles northeast of Saigon.

REGIMENTS MASS

But American advisors in Qui Nhon reported three Viet Cong regiments — normally about 3,000 men—were massing along a 40-miles stretch of strategic Highway 1 north of the coastal city.

The Viet Cong have cut off at least three district towns in the area — Phu Cat, Phu My and Bon Song — blown several bridges and set up roadblocks along the highway, U.S. sources said.

A U.S. source said the Communists "are camped along the roadside" despite heavy U.S. air strikes against them Tuesday.

Rusk, Gromyko Talk Tonight

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk will sample Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko's diplomatic portfolio tonight to see whether it contains any proposals worth following up for a U.S.-Soviet agreement.

Prospects of a major breakthrough seem poor — and one reason is Red China, uninvited to the dinner meeting in Rusk's Waldorf Astoria suite but looming large behind relations between Washington and Moscow.

Learning To Smile

Eleven-year-old Gian Thi Yen was photographed by Pulitzer Prize winner Horst Faas shortly after shelling had destroyed her Dong Xoai home last June. Today, Yen is learning to smile again, right, after the Foster Parents Plan, Inc., enrolled her and her family. A spokesman for the voluntary agency said it received "many applications from generous people" to help take care of Yen. The Foster Parents located her in a hospital in Saigon, South Viet Nam capital. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Military Draft Chief Has 'Universal Service' Plan

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The director of the Selective Service System says he is considering a plan that would be "something almost approaching universal service."

Under the plan, said Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, men now being rejected by their draft boards would be given special training to prepare them for an emergency, in which they would be expected to serve.

He spoke to the National Guard Association of the United States, which will consider endorsing his proposal Thursday.

30,000 REJECTED

Hershey said his plan initially calls for a two-year, full-time training period for between 25,000 and 30,000 men rejected for regular military service.

He called the plan "Pilot Tests For 1-Ys." Men considered fit to serve only in time of emergency are classified 1-Y.

Hershey said the the 1-Ys would be trained away from home to escape old environments and they would be given educational opportunities.

He said more than half of America's youths are unable to meet draft standards.

MORAL REASONS

"During the last fiscal year, we rejected 130,000 before even taking them from the local boards," said Hershey. "Of those, 54,000 were turned down for moral reasons — that usually means being convicted of something that is antimoral."

In addition to these rejections, Hershey said, 50.5 per cent of the men who took pre-induction tests were rejected, mostly for physical or mental reasons.

The white-haired general said that marriages by young men about to be drafted presented no serious problems.

"At the rate we are moving," he said, "we'll get to them early next year anyway. They'll get a reprieve rather than a pardon."

1966 Chrysler Is 'All New'

The Chrysler cars for 1966—to be unveiled at Big Spring Chrysler-Plymouth Thursday—are new from front to rear with more powerful engine options, new interior seating arrangements and equipment options. There is a stronger separate styling identity for the four series—the luxury New Yorkers, the sporty 300's, the economical Newports and the new Town and Country series of station wagons.

ON DISPLAY THURSDAY

New From Front To Rear Is Chrysler Line For '66

Chrysler passenger cars, new from front to rear for 1966, make their debut Thursday, and will be on display here at Big Spring Chrysler-Plymouth, 600 E. 3rd.

They have more powerful engine options, new interior seating arrangements, new equipment options and a stronger separate styling identity for the four series which make up the 1966 line—the luxury New Yorkers, the sporty 300s, the economical Newports and the new Town and Country series of wagons.

The most changed in appearance of 1966 Chryslers is the distinctive 300 series. The 300 two-door hardtop has a new roof with a restyled rear window. A new hood, new front bumper, wrap - around taillights and bumper-installed front park and turn lights visible from the side are exclusive features of the 300 series, Chrysler's entry in the sports-type car market.

New equipment options include power front wheel disc brakes, an adjustable tilting and telescoping steering wheel and a rear seat air and heat system.

Bucket seats of a completely new design with pull-down center arm rests are standard in some models and optional in others. They are wider, have higher seat backs and provide easier rear seat entry and exit room for two-door models than the bucket seats in 1965 cars. Integral head rests of a new more attractive design are optional.

POWER INCREASED

A 440-cubic inch V-8 engine with a four-barrel carburetor is standard in the New Yorker, replacing the 413-cubic inch engine of 1965. It has the same compression, 10.1 to 1, and valve timing as the 413. With its larger displacement it provides improved stop-and-go performance resulting from greater torque at low engine speeds.

A high performance version of the 440 engine with twin exhausts and a silenced twin snorkel low restriction air cleaner is optional on all models.

The standard engine for Newport and Town and Country cars is a 383-cubic inch V-8 using regular grade fuel. A high performance version of the 383 engine is standard in the 300 and optional in Newport and Town and Country models.

13 MODELS

The model line-up for 1966 is the same as for 1965 except that two-seat and three-seat wagons, formerly available in both the New Yorker and Newport series, are now set apart in a separate Town and Country series.

Each of the two-door hardtops, Newport, 300 and New Yorker, has a separate and distinctive roof style, and all series have their own distinctive grilles, taillight arrangements and side trims.

New Yorker and Newport models also have new, more attractive hoods and all hardtops, sedans and convertibles have new rear quarter panels which contribute to a lower, sleeker look as the cars are seen from the side.

Boy Acquitted In Stab Trial

DUNCAN, Okla. (AP) — Bert Lana was found innocent early today of knifing Tama Hallmark, 19-year-old former Duncan High School beauty queen.

The verdict, delivered by foreman Rex Watson to Dist. Judge Arthur Marmaduke, was read to a hushed courtroom. It stated that Lana, 17, was acquitted "by reason of insufficient evidence."

Lana smiled at the verdict, got to his feet, waved his arms and told the jurors as they filed out: "Thank you all."

His mother, Mrs. Bert Lana, cried and hugged her son, who was smothered by well wishers.

GIRL ABSENT

The Hallmark girl and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Hallmark, were not in the courtroom when the jury returned at 12:21 a.m.

The case went to the jury shortly after 8 p.m. after nearly eight hours of impassioned arguments by the three prosecutors and a trio of defense lawyers. Jurors took time out only to eat sandwiches and drink coffee in the jury room.

Lana was cleared of a charge of assault with intent to kill. Miss Hallmark was stabbed about 50 times and left beside a Stephens County road after school was dismissed Jan. 6, 1964.

Defense counsel pounded at the theme that Miss Hallmark, who wears a brace on her right leg and has difficulty speaking because of the knifing and beating, was an incompetent witness. She had named Lana as her attacker.

Prosecutors reminded the jury that a witness, Mrs. J. A. Warren, testified she saw Lana in Miss Hallmark's car the evening of the attack.

Jack Swidensky, arguing for the state, charged the defense tried to "crucify Carter Hallmark (Tama's 17-year-old brother) with rumors so they could set up reasonable doubt."

"They jumped on Tama pretty good," Swidensky said. "She is multi-damaged but not incompetent."

Miss Hallmark cried quietly at his remark.

Jerome Sullivan Sr. said for the defense that Mrs. Warren, a former secretary to R. E. Hallmark, and Miss Hallmark's parents implanted the identification of Lana in the girl's mind.

Several officers accompanied the Lana family to their car near the courthouse. There was no demonstration at the end of the eight-day trial.

"I'm happy," Lana told newsmen. "My heart was in my throat."

Earlier he said he planned to return to high school and go to college to study for the ministry. The Lanas are members of the Church of Christ.

Lana is a junior high school football coach and his wife teaches in a grade school.

Mrs. Lana told a swarm of people around her in the courtroom: "I just want to thank all you nice people for your prayers."

YOUR MONEY'S WORTH MORE AT WOOLWORTH'S

To America with love... The 1966 Chrysler

Could be we're getting too emotional. But it isn't very often you get a chance to follow an all-time sales record year with a new Chrysler like this one.

Sure, our '65 was great. But the '66 is even better.

It looks better. Moves quicker. It's got a beautiful new front end and a very dramatic new rear.

It's got a bigger and more zesty group of V-8 engines. From a 383 cubic incher to a 440 TNT with twin exhausts and twin snorkels. (A "snorkel" is an air intake horn for the carburetor — does great things for performance.)

The interiors, all up and down the line, are more luxurious and comforting. Take our new shell bucket seats, for example. It's almost as if they had been custom-fitted for you.

One thing we didn't even think about changing. It has to do with money. Five of our Newport models (real Chryslers — not junior editions) are priced just a few dollars a month more than the most popular smaller cars with the same equipment. This includes features like power steering, power brakes, a 383 cubic inch V-8, automatic transmission, radio and many standard items like safety door handles and seat belts.

Move up to Chrysler . . . it's getting easier by the minute.

Atheist Mother Fights Extradition

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Atheist Madalyn Murray and retired American painter Richard O'Hare, although separated by the Texas-Mexico border she has been warned not to cross, still want to marry.

Mrs. Murray, whose lawsuit brought an end to compulsory prayers in U.S. public schools, had planned to become O'Hare's wife in October and settle in the small Mexican village of Valle de Bravo.

Mexico deported her Saturday, warning that if she came back she might face a prison sentence. Minutes after she arrived aboard a commercial jet in San Antonio, police jailed her at the request of Baltimore authorities.

FREE ON BOND

Now free on $500 bond, the 46-year-old mother has started a fight against extradition to Maryland, where she is charged with assaulting a policeman.

O'Hare, left in Mexico City and surprised by the sudden deportation of his future bride, said Saturday the marriage was off.

Mrs. Murray said here Sunday: "I don't believe that."

Then O'Hare told a newsman in Valle de Bravo Tuesday: "I love Madalyn Murray very much, and still hope to marry her."

"She is more Christian than you think," he said regarding Mrs. Murray's atheism. "She is the most truthful, honest, one of the finest women I have ever known."

FLED HAWAII

The couple met earlier this year when Mrs. Murray fled Hawaii to Mexico to avoid extradition to Baltimore. She taught sociology for a while in a small college at Valle de Bravo, 120 miles southwest of Mexico City.

O'Hare has lived in Mexico for the past five years.

After discovering Mrs. Murray entered Mexico under the alias "Mary Ann O'Conner," authorities deported her in September but allowed her to return under her real name after five days.

"They had told me I would get political asylum," she said. "Then eight days later, just like that (snapping her finger) they arrested me and ran me out of the country."

Police kept her in jail from Saturday night until Sunday afternoon. Maury Maverick Jr., a lawyer retained by the American Civil Liberties Union, posted her $500 bond.

She and her son Garth, 10, stayed at the home of Unitarian minister William de Wolfe until Tuesday, when she said she was moving to an undisclosed place in the city.

FEEL SAFER

"I'll feel safer if nobody knows where I am," she said.

Maryland Gov. Millard Tawes has asked Texas Gov. John Connally to allow Mrs. Murray's extradition to Baltimore to face the assault charges. Connally has not acted on the request.

Mrs. Murray wrote Connally Tuesday that Baltimore authorities were trying to involve him "in an act of brutal religious persecution."

"I ask mercy of you, for myself and my minor son Garth, age 10, who is now with me. Please do not let them take me back to Maryland," she said in the letter. "I do not want to be murdered."

Off-Premises Request Gets Approval Without Hearing

City Commissioners Tuesday night waived the required three readings for a license for off-premises consumption at the Ponderosa Package Store, at the request of Harvey Hooser, attorney for the applicant, C. C. Lockaby.

Declaring an emergency, the commission unanimously approved the licensing after Jay Banks, police chief, expressed no objections, and John Burgess, city attorney, explained that Hooser had permission from all property owners near the 2605 S. Gregg store to waive public hearing.

Hooser said the package store had been in existence for some time and that upon expiration of the previous license Aug. 31, Lockaby had not applied for a license for 17 days rather than the required 10-day limitation that would have made the license transfer a routine matter. "If he had applied seven days sooner, the matter would not have come before the commission," Hooser said.

Banks removed his previous objections to the licensing of Mrs. Ann Scarbro at Scarbro's Cafe, 3508 NW 4th, and the commission granted licensing on first reading.

"This is not the most desirable location," Banks said "and we've had trouble in the area in the past. Now we are having trouble with prostitutes in the vicinity. But Mrs. Scarbro has agreed to observe the same closing hours as the taverns in the vicinity, and has said she will keep out undesirables. I will not object to licensing."

"I have no intention of breaking the law," Mrs. Scarbro told the commissioners."

Commissioners appointed Paul Kasch to the board of adjustments and appeals, effective Oct. 1. Kasch is a former city commissioner.

A public hearing was called for Oct. 12 on nine structures deemed "hazardous" by the city building inspector and fire marshal. The owners were notified of the buildings' conditions between May and June this year, but little action has been taken to alleviate their condition, commissioners said. Six owners of seven other structures were given extensions of time for improving or removing the objectionable buildings.

Finally, second reading approval was given to K. H. McGibbon's request to change zoning on his property at State 176 and IS 20 from "one family" to "retail;" and final approval was read on T-P Development Co.'s zoning change request for property near the new Baptist Church on FM 700 from "neighborhood service" to "multifamily."

A T-P representative present at the reading told commissioners a building permit will be requested today, and that the company plans to start building an apartment center immediately.

Second Lieutenant Need Spurs New Army Offer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army, in need of a lot more second lieutenants, is inviting applications from college graduates without any previous military service.

They would have to sign up for a special training program with some risk that if they failed to complete the officer candidate course, they might have to serve time as enlisted men.

NEED TRIPLED

With a heavy buildup of Army strength under way, the service is more than tripling its annual total of commission candidates from 3,400 to 11,700 starting next month.

College graduates who enlist in the special program will be guaranteed assignment to one of nine schools after completing basic and advanced in individual training.

The schools lead to commissions as second lieutenants.

There are openings in all branches of the Army—infantry, artillery, armor and technical and specialist services.

SPECIAL PROGRAM

College men who want to try for commissions under this special program must be U.S. citizens between 18½ and 27.

Successful graduates of these courses will be commissioned and must serve at least two years in the Army afterward.

Those who are outstanding and rank in the upper tenth of their class will become eligible for a regular Army commission.

Men who flunk the course will have to fill out their two-year enlistment in the ranks.

Dallasite Dragged From Pool Dies

IRVING, Tex. (AP)—Vincent Barron, 45, a Dallas construction company official, died Tuesday after Irving apartment house tenants pulled him from a swimming pool.

Police said he was found fully clothed in the water shortly after 4 p.m. Barron had been checking pool pumps and working in the area.

Man Killed In Crash Near Sterling City

STERLING CITY—Owen Nelson Andrews, 51, Fort Worth, identified as a salesman, was almost instantly killed and three other persons in the car with him were injured, but not seriously, at 5:45 p.m. Tuesday 14 miles west of here on SH 158.

The injured are Marshall M. Simmons, 21, Menard; Dorothy Lee Mullins, 44, Abilene; and Wonda Sue Foley, 22, San Angelo. They were admitted to the Sterling City Hospital where their injuries were described as abrasions and bruises. Their condition is said to be good.

Andrews died at the scene of the crash, the State Highway Patrol reported. Officers said the car in which he was riding flipped over two times and came to rest about 100 yards past a bridge on the highway. It appeared to have sideswiped the bridge.

Body of the Fort Worth man was taken to Johnson's Funeral Home in San Angelo, where arrangements are pending.

Conferees Get HemisFair Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)— A bill permitting the government to participate in San Antonio's 1968 Hemisfair now has passed both houses of Congress and goes to a conference committee.

The Senate reduced from $250,000 to $125,000 Tuesday the money authorized to plan the federal exhibit.

Troopers Halt Racial Battle

CRAWFORDVILLE, Ga. (AP) — An attempt by Negroes to board school buses erupted into violence today when a white youth slugged a Negro photographer with his fists.

State troopers converged on the struggling pair quickly and saparated them. The white youth was arrested. The unidentified Negro photographer was led away.

Some 20 state troopers at the scene prevented the Negroes from getting on the buses carrying white children to school in neighboring counties. The Negroes then left in cars for Greensboro and Warrenton where the school buses were taking the Taliaferro County pupils.

This was the second day that Negroes had attempted to board school buses in Taliaferro County. The county recently closed its white school when its pupils transferred to other counties.

A crowd of about 75 persons gathered at the scene. When several whites made threatening gestures toward Negroes and newsmen, a state police captain told them, "We will have law and order here for everybody."

Opening lead: Ten of ♠

North's hand was not quite strong enough to warrant a jump shift response when South opened the bidding with one heart. In order to flash the immediate slam signal, a player should have 19 points in support or the equivalent thereof.

North decided to temporize by responding with two clubs—intending to come out in his true colors on a later round. When South freely rebid three hearts after East overcalled with two spades, North was convinced that the partnership had the assets to undertake a slam and he decided to check back for controls. South showed two aces in response to the Blackwood inquiry and North bid six hearts.

West opened the ten of spades and the dummy's lone ace won the trick. The king and queen of hearts were cashed and, when East showed out on the second round, South deferred drawing the last trump until he had trumped out his losing spade.

The closed hand was entered with the ace of diamonds and the declarer led the four of spades which he ruffed with North's six of hearts. There were no trumps left in dummy, so South exited with a small club. East put up the ace and then led back a spade which West ruffed with the jack of hearts for the setting trick.

Declarer was victimized by his own blind spot, in concentrating his attention on the spade ruff which is not actually essential to his success. Inasmuch as a club loser is more or less inevitable, the fate of the contract hinges on picking up the queen of diamonds for, if the diamond finesse fails, the opposition will be able to cash the setting trick in clubs.

It is suggested that South draw three rounds of trumps, inasmuch as the king of spades provides him with a second stopper in that suit. The ace of diamonds may be cashed next and the jack led for the finesse. Whether or not West covers with the queen, South not only eliminates the diamond loser, but he also obtains a discard on the fourth diamond for his small spade.

In all, the declarer takes six heart tricks, four diamonds, and two spades.

Top Of The 1966 Plymouth Line

A new luxury type four-door hardtop called the V I P is introduced by Plymouth in its line of cars for 1966. It is designed for those who ask the finest in equipment and interior appointments in a standard size automobile.

The new Plymouth offerings, shown at Big Spring Chrysler-Plymouth, 600 E. 3rd, include also the Fury, Belvedere, Valiant and Barracuda.

On DISPLAY LOCALLY

Four Lines In Plymouth Presentation For 1966

Plymouth is introducing four separate series of cars for 1966, including completely new Belvedere models in the intermediate size and a luxury edition four-door hardtop in the stardard size series — called the Plymouth V I P.

The new models may be seen at Big Spring Chrysler - Plymouth, 600 E. 3rd.

The offering gives Plymouth an even broader coverage of the low price market than in the 1965 model year when Plymouth made major gains in sales and market penetration.

There are two new production high performance engines for Plymouth cars in 1966. A 426-cubic inch hemispherical head V-8 will be available in Belvedere cars in mid-November and a 440-cubic inch V-8 with dual exhausts with a twin - snorkel air cleaner is optional in Fury and V I P cars.

SAFETY HANDLES

Other outstanding features include a new safety inside remote door latch release in Belvedere, Fury and V I P cars and new shell type bucket seats with new center consoles for premium two-door hardtops and convertibles.

All 1966 Plymouth cars have substantial appearance changes. The Belvederes have wholly new unitized bodies with curved glass windows and completely changed body lines which make them look longer and lower than 1965 Belvedere cars.

The product line-up for 1966 is made up of Plymouth Fury wagons on a 121-inch wheelbase, the Plymouth V I P and Plymouth Fury hardtops, sedans and convertibles on a 119-inch wheelbase, Plymouth Belvedere wagons on a 117-inch wheelbase, Plymouth Belvedere series hardtops, sedans and convertibles on a 116-inch wheelbase, all Plymouth Valiant models including wagons on a 106-inch wheelbase, and the sporty Plymouth Barracuda two-door hardtop fastback on a 106-inch wheelbase.

There are 57 models in all, including 23 six-cylinder cars and 34 V-8 models.

LUXURY FEATURES

The Plymouth V I P is a four-door hardtop designed for those who ask for the finest in equipment and trim in a standard size automobile with distinctive identification.

Plymouth offers a wide range of high performance engine options in 1966 models including for the first time a 426-cubic inch hemispherical head V-8, engineered for highway use in Belvedere series cars and a 440-cubic inch V-8 for Fury and V I P models.

FURY — BELVEDERE

New features and refinements in Plymouth Fury and Plymouth Belvedere cars include:

New shell-type design bucket seats.

A new center floor console for the Plymouth Sport Fury and Plymouth Satellite.

A new improved gear selector lever for automatic transmissions on consoles.

A reverse lockout feature in the four-speed manual transmission shift mechanism.

An improved six-way power seat adjusters for Plymouth Fury cars.

A new type of adjustable steering wheel with both tilting and telescoping features for Plymouth Fury cars.

Plymouth Valiant and Plymouth Barracuda cars share many improvements with the longer wheelbase Plymouths, including the new shell - type bucket seat design and transmission improvements.

The Plymouth Barracuda has a new instrument panel with distinctive controls, instruments and gauges. Plymouth Barracudas are equipped with the four-barrel, high performance V-8 engines. An instrument panel mounted tachometer is optional for Plymouth Barracudas with V-8 engines.

Ecumenical In Showdown On Document

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican Ecumenical Council begins final voting today on a document giving national bishops' conferences an unprecedented degreé of authority and relaxation of Vatican control.

The document, on the pastoral office of bishops, puts into action the concept of collegial sharing of power by the bishops and the Pope. That concept was expressed in a document on the nature of the Church approved and promulgated by the council fathers and Pope Paul VI last year.

SHARE POWER

The earlier document states that the bishops and the Pope share power in the government of the Church.

The document on specific powers of the bishop, when finally approved and promulgated, will make it possible for national bishops' conferences to act as deliberative bodies with juridical powers of their own.

This means, for example, that for the first time the bishops of the United States will be able to take action on Church issues in their country without first asking permission from Rome. Decisions of the conference could be made binding on all bishops in the country.

DISTURBS SOME

That aspect of the document disturbs some bishops who are reluctant to surrender any of the independence they now enjoy in their dioceses. There seemed no doubt, however, that the majority of the 2,200 bishops at the council would approve the document.

The document also contains a section proposing a synod of bishops to work with the Pope. Pope Paul anticipated final approval of the proposal by announcing at the start of this fourth and final council session on Sept. 14 that he was setting up such a synod.

National and regional conferences of bishops began about a century ago.

AUSTIN (AP) — President Johnson has selected a site east of the University of Texas campus for a library to house his personal papers, the Austin Statesman reports.

The Statesman quoted an unnamed source "closely involved in plans for the library" as saying Johnson chose a location on Red River Street northeast of the university's football stadium. It is on a hill overlooking the campus.

The area is being purchased by the university in a program authorized by the 1965 Legislature.

Congress has passed enabling legislation to permit construction of the library.

Opinions Differ On Route For Street To Lakeview

Improved access from the Kate Morrison School area to Lakeview school has been agreed upon by both school trustees and city commissioners, but the route is still in doubt.

Tuesday night, the commission favored extending Northwest Seventh Street, which would also serve the Northwest swimming pool; also it is the street on which Lakeview School is located. City officials also said they were concerned with the overall traffic pattern of that section of the city, and not solely with access to the school.

FAVORS SIXTH

After hearing this decision, trustees decided to continue pressing for routing a new street along Northwest Sixth Street.

City commissioners Tuesday night told Gil Jones, attorney representing the school board, if trustees acquire the right of way for extending Northwest Seventh Street the city will construct a street direct to Lakeview.

Jones told the commissioners that Northside residents have "a legitimate complaint in certain areas, some of which are the responsibility of the school board," and he asked commissioners to consider opening up Northwest Sixth Street to the Lakeview area to alleviate one of the complaints of parents whose children have been ordered by the board to attend Lakeview school.

TO ENFORCE

"The school board has ordered children to go to the Lakeview School," Jones said, "and intends to enforce its ruling about closing Kate Morrison School. Nobody on the school board had any idea that the Kate Morrison closing would cause the problems it has—there are 45 kids out of school in that area. But to the extent that the Northside people have legitimate complaints, we should solve the problem before outsiders do it for us."

"The school board built Lakeview School when they thought the Banks Addition was a decent place, and it was about the only area for the school," he said. Whether the board was right or wrong in putting the school there is beside the point, Jones said. "It's there, and there are problems. I don't know of any other school that has only one paved access route. We have put the kids there (Lakeview), and there is a traffic problem.

"The mesquite thicket south of the school is another problem," Jones added. This isn't the city's fault, but from a law enforcement view, since hoboes and others use the place, it would be a good idea to clean it out."

He later said, "Let's face it, gentlemen, if it were our children who were being forced to go to Lakeview, you would see a lot of fuss raised about it."

FENCE PLANNED

"The school board is committed to putting a fence on the south and west of the school to try to keep the kids out of that tangled area," Larry Crow, city manager, said. "And the city today (Tuesday) began clearing out the area south of the school—except for big, desirable trees—in our program to put in a joint park-playground area near the school."

The commissioners and Jones discussed with Ernest Lillard, director of public works, the various merits and objections to the opening of either Northwest Sixth or Northwest Seventh for through traffic.

Lillard said that opening Sixth would require the moving of up to 15,000 cubic yards of earth at 35 cents per cubic yard, and that cutting through a 22-foot cliff near the railroad spur east of the paved street leading to Northwest Seventh would pose traffic visibility problems and possibly add to the amount of right-of-way that would have to be acquired by the school board.

Of Northwest Seventh, Lillard said the purchase of only one house plus right-of-way would enable the street to be cut through from North San Antonio with no grading problems, but the street would be offset from where it comes into North San Antonio from the east, to where it would continue from the west. He said, however, that the grade from the railroad to the paved portion of Northwest Seventh in front of Lakeview would be humped over the railroad tracks, causing a minor visibility problem. The Seventh Street proposition is the better one of the two, Lillard said.

THROUGH STREET

Jones pointed out that Northwest Sixth, if extended, would be a through street all the way to the Snyder Highway, and Northwest Seventh would not. The commissioners then told him he could tell trustees if they required quick action, the Northwest Seventh proposition could be completed faster than the other one.

"Our problem is the immediate one of providing another access route to Lakeview School," Jones had told the commissioners. "We need a road now."

He was told if the school board decided it preferred Northwest Sixth, that the project would have to be deliberated by the city and the board before any action could be taken. But if the board would acquire right-of-way on Seventh, the city would begin construction of a street, "stabilized" not paved as requested by the board, quickly.

Right-of-way on either street would have to be purchased primarily from the Denton Estate, the trustees of which have told the school board they would sell the right-of-way only if paving is not allowed for five years. They said they would agreed to "stabilized" streets, however.

Jones reported the discussion to the school board meeting, which was being held at the same time as the commission meeting.

PRICE SET

Because of the high railroad crossing, the school board decided to discuss with the city, the Northwest Sixth street opening. Property owners have agreed to a price to the school board for Sixth Street right-of-way but the route will require a deep cut through one area. The board believed that route to be safer, even though it had to share in the cost of dirt moving.

Railroad crossing would not be a problem on days when possible ice coating occurs, and the view of Northwest Fourth (north-south segment) would not be obstructed as well be the case on Northwest Seventh. Land owners have agreed to sell 35-feet along Northwest Seventh for right-of-way, according to Jimmy Felts, board member negotiating. This would not be enough for the street desired.

Trustees Reaffirm Lakeview Transfers

Kate Morrison Elementary school will not be re-opened for any grades in that former attendance area. The Big Spring school board voted Tuesday night to keep the school closed for regular use, and to be prepared for the "Head Start" program which could begin before mid-term. It also agreed to continue working with the city to open one or more streets from the Kate Morrison area to Lakeview.

Board President Harold Talbot reported on a list of grievances presented at a committee meeting of the board and of Northside United, all of which had been listed in former talks with the board.

Among these were: Lakeview school is not centrally located; access to the school is poor; a railroad track listed as a natural barrier because of danger; Lakeview is located in a dangerous, unhealthy, brush-surrounded area where insects, snakes and concealed persons might lurk; a normally stagnant lake to the south and west; little or no police protection; no fences to separate the school grounds from the lake and brush area; no drainage ditches in the area; sanitary situation in the school area bad; sale of beer for off-premises consumption across the street north of the school; and no street lights.

In reviewing grievances the board pointed out that school and city officials are working as fast as possible on a street from the Kate Morrison area to Lakeview; that much of the brush area will be cleaned off by city crews as the playground area is built, and that a chain-link type fence would be built on the south and west sides of the campus as soon as city crews completed cleaning, grading and leveling the new area recently purchased by the city for playgrounds. A fence finally will be built around the entire campus.

In reference to the proposed Head Start program, Supt. Sam Anderson said it may be possible to open the pre-school program before mid-term since the federally-financed training had already been approved. If the Head Start school is opened, all space in the Kate Morrison school will be required.

Dr. Len Ainsworth, director of educational services, told the board that approximately 35 former Kate Morrison students were still not enrolled at Lakeview or any other school. He said five more enrolled Tuesday morning and that from four to six had indicated enrollment this morning.

In the meantime, he said, Tom Henry, the school's visiting teacher, continued to investigate absences and prepare charges against parents. He said several families had moved out of the Kate Morrison area, some had enrolled their children in a parochial school, and that some had sent children to live with relatives in other school areas.

Youth Caught On Car Lot Trying To Take Parts

A would-be car parts thief was apprehended by Jackie and Jimmy Hopper, of Hopper Auto Sales, 911 W. 4th, Tuesday, city police said.

The Hoppers said they caught a 17-year-old Ackerly youth with ratchet in hand, attempting to remove an air-cleaner from one of the cars parked on their lot. Another youth, also 17, from Tarzan, who was with the apprehended boy, ran off, but was identified by police. The youth caught is being questioned today by city detectives, who said there have been no charges filed.

Pedro Carrillo, 1507 W. 2nd, told officers his wife had put $52 in cash in a dresser drawer Monday, but when she went to get the money Tuesday to pay a bill it was gone. He said keys to the house are hidden on the front porch to allow him and his wife a way in when one is gone. Police said they found no evidence of forced entry to the house.

Hearing the sound of "sawing," Jack Smith, attendant at the Gage Fina Service Station, 2005 Gregg, ran around to one of the station's restrooms at about 2 p.m. yesterday and saw a man with a saw run away. He said the man left in a car parked nearby, and told officers he could identify both the man and the car. Officers said the metal bar holding a machine to the restroom wall had been sawed, but the machines were not disturbed. No arrest had been made this morning.

A .22-caliber rifle was stolen from T. Willard Neel's pickup while it was parked in his warehouse at 101 Runnels and East Second Monday, he told police.

O. B. Williams, 906 Birdwell Lane, said a spare tire and rim were taken from his pickup, but he did not know when. He said at first he had thought the tire and rim had been borrowed, and delayed reporting the theft to police for that reason.

McKinney Is Out

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP) — Colorful Horace (Bones) McKinney, tall, lanky head basketball coach at Wake Forest College for the last eight years, is resigning because of ill health.

Rupert Named Lake Manager

Ikie Rupert, Sand Springs, has been hired as the new Moss Creek Lake manager, according to Ernest Lillard, director of public works. Rupert is scheduled to begin work today, Lillard said, and is in the process of taking over the job with help from the outgoing manager, R. L. Millaway, who has resigned the position.

More Parking Space Due Soon In High School Area

Purchase of lots to the south of Big Spring High School, for student parking, is nearing a reality, Harold Talbot, board president said Tuesday. Title examination is under way on two lots, purchase contract pending title clearing has been signed on two more, agreement reached with owners on two other lots, and negotiations under way on still another tract.

Talbot said practically all of the property could be used for parking within a 30 to 40-day period. The area would include space larger than a city block.

In other business the board heard an annual report on the guidance program in elementary schools by Mary Foreman; approved the preliminary application for State Foundation Funds for the current school year; heard a proposal from owners of the Permian Building to lease the fourth floor for administrative offices at $1,250 per month plus utilities, and heard a report on certain disciplinary problems.

In the guidance report Miss Foreman showed charts of results of achievement tests given to all grades, and explained the purpose of the tests. She said the tests showed the value of counseling with parents and teachers regarding certain students, and showed teachers some ways in which their students could be helped. She said she hoped to see the day when at least four counselors were available for elementary schools to handle more than 4,000 students.

The application for Foundation Funds was a routine matter which comes up each year, based on last year's average daily attendance.

The Real Estate Service Co., owners of the Permian Building, offered the fourth floor of the structure for school use by lease on a two-year basis, with 10 parking spaces and a "reasonable" amount of partition changes, including an option to release on the same terms. The board authorized a letter of thanks to the company for the proposal.

Supt. Sam Anderson reported some serious disciplinary problems at the Runnels Junior High School, following which the board voted 100 per cent backing of the administration in handling the problems.

H. J. Dorton Rites Slated

Services for Harold Jack Dorton, 21, killed in a fall from a power pole Tuesday morning, will be at 3 p.m. Thursday in the River-Welch Funeral Home Chapel. Bob Kizer, pastor of the Sand Springs Church of Christ, will officiate, and burial will be in the City Cemetery. River-Welch will be in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Dorton was born June 5, 1945 in Big Spring. He has lived here for a major part of his life, but attended school in Phoenix, Ariz.

He was marred to Tammeye Buchanan, June 5, 1965 in Big Spring. They lived in Sand Springs. He had been employed by Delta Electric Co. for only a short time.

Survivors, in addition to his widow, are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dignon; three brothers, Louis Ray, Johnnie Leo and Alvin Carl Dorton, all of Sand Springs.

Pallbearers named were Joe D. Herbert, R. L. Underwood, Mike Craddock, Arthur Lee Smith, Wayne Johnson, Frank Watson.

Young Dorton, with two fellow workers, was engaged in stringing a power line in the Forsan oil fields about 14 miles south of Big Spring. He was atop a 25 foot pole. As he sought to shift his position on the poll, his climbers broke loose and he fell to the ground.

He was brought to Cowper Hospital and Clinic by a Halliburton Oil Well Cementing Co. employe, who was working on a well nearby.

Doctors worked for two hours in an unsuccessful effort to revive the victim. He was pronounced dead at noon.

Bids Asked For Equipment, Moss School Plans Ordered

Bids for cafeteria equipment for the high school and Kentwood Elementary school will be opened at 2 p.m. Oct. 12, following action of the school board Tuesday night. Bids will also be taken for chalk board.

The bids will be examined and tabulated for consideration at the regular 7:30 p.m. meeting of the board that day.

Cafeteria equipment was not included in the general contract for the building, since the school board felt it could have a choice on what was purchased, and the regular sales tax would not be a problem.

Atmar Atkinson, architect, told the board that the greatest portion of the foundation for the vocational section and the physical education building had been poured at the high school site, and that excavation on the enlarged cafeteria site is under way.

Preliminary plans for the new Moss Elementary School, and enlargement of Airport and Boydstun schools were authorized at the meeting. The architect said these could be ready by the last of 1965 and that work on final plans could begin immediately after board approval of preliminaries.

Before any work could be started on the remodeling and addition job in the Master Plan bond program—Runnels Junior High — the special education classes, administrative offices, and the ninth grade must be moved out. One section of the Moss Elementary School is to house the special education section. The addition to the high school will absorb the ninth grades from both Runnels and Goliad junior high schools.

A spur to begin preliminary plans on the new school, was the report that the Webo Air Force Base housing officer may, under agreement with FHA, take over a large area of the Monticello Addition to provide low-cost housing for base personnel. Such influx would pose a major problem for Washington Place Elementary which already has four sixth grades at the old South Ward School. A large part of the present Washington attendance area would be shifted to the Moss area, when that school is completed to enable the sixth grades to be in the same building with the other five grades.

In the overall plan, the Boydstun school campus will become a part of the total campus and park, and make the land between Eleventh Place and Sixth Street into one school area. The proposed future extension of Benton Street to connect with Owens and into State Street—with East Eighth Street closed between the south entrance to Boydstun campus and State Street will allow the continuing campus. A cafeteria and other improvements are scheduled for the Boydstun school.

At Airport, one more classroom and library section are scheduled. That school is already at its capacity.

These early - day law makers will be special guests at the "Kick-Off" for the celebration which will feature the Texas Tech-Texas A&M football game Saturday night (Oct. 2). The Tech School of Engineering will also hold open house.

C. W. Ratliff, a member of the first graduating class, and chairman of the Saturday event, reports that 18 of the former state officials have been located and the search is still under way for 11 more.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce executive committee and its board of directors will transact a heavy load of business and will also help Tech celebrate its anniversary when the two groups meet at the KoKo Inn in Lubbock.

Speaker for the board luncheon will be George Dupree, who is a member of the law firm Crenshaw, Dupree and Milam. The luncheon will also serve as an anniversary for the West Texas Chamber since the WTCC was instrumental in getting Tech authorized by the legislature.

AT JONES MOTOR CO.

Dodge Line, With Many Features, Shown Thursday

The new Dodge cars for 1966—a complete line—go on display Thursday, and will be shown locally at Jones Motor Co., First and Gregg Streets.

There are four lines, the Monaco, the Polara, the Coronet and the Dart.

A feature of the offering is the all-new Coronet, introduced for the first time last year and which has accounted for more than 40 per cent of Dodge retail sales. The new model is of contemporary design, free of cluttered trimmings and with new safety and mechanical features.

In the economical Coronet series, there are a 2-door and a 4-door sedan. In the Coronet Deluxe series, 2- and 4-door sedans and a 6-passenger station wagon are offered.

2-DOOR HARDTOP

The Coronet 440 series has a 2-door hardtop, convertible, 4-door sedan, 6-passenger station wagon and 9-passenger wagon.

The top-of-the-line Coronet 500 series features a 2-door hardtop and a convertible. A 4-door sedan will be introduced about November 1.

Recognizing the broad range of performance preferences among car buyers, Dodge has given the Coronet buyer a wide choice of engines. The standard power plants are the economical 225-cubic-inch Slant Six and the 273-cubic-inch V-8.

Coronet interiors are new and more luxurious. The Coronet 500 features elegant shell-design bucket seats, all - vinyl upholstery in hardtops and convertibles and a stylish console between the front seats.

POLARA

The Polara line has seven models ranging from an economical 4-door sedan to a sporty bucket-seat hardtop and convertible. Emphasis has been placed on dependability, safety, comfort and convenience. A 440-cubic inch V8 is a new high performance option for 1966.

There are many mechanical improvements in the 1966 Polaras. A new type of engine mount dampens the vibrations encountered on rough roads at higher car speeds. Modifications in the automatic transmission increase its efficiency, quietness and durability. Similar improvements have been made in the 4-speed manual transmission.

Twenty exterior colors and 38 two - tone combinations are available on the 1966 Polara models. Vinyl roofs, a popular feature, are offered on Polara 4-door hardtops as well as 2-door hardtops.

MONACO

Most de luxe in the Dodge line is the Monaco, which spotlights its Monaco 500, a 2-door sports hardtop offering comfort and convenience as well as high style.

The Monacos are easily distinguished from the rear by almost trunk-wide taillights. Between them, in the center of the trunk lid, is the "Monaco" nameplate. A deep-dish wheel-cover with die-cast spinner is standard on the Monaco 500.

The 500 features front bucket seats and console. The seats are luxuriously pleated and deep in comfort. The rear seats are styled to resemble the bucket seats, but provide room for three.

Seat backs are covered with a durable and unique wicker material, which is also used in the door panels.

Available in the Monaco 500 are seven distinctive colors of all-vinyl upholstery. A cloth-and-vinyl upholstery is also offered in black. All-vinyl interior trim is used in all other Monaco models except the four-door sedan.

The Monaco 500 may be purchased with either automatic or four - speed manual transmissions, and both have the gear-selector levers mounted in the console.

A 383-cubic-inch V-8 with four-barrel carburetion is standard in the Monaco 500 and optional in other Monaco models. The standard Monaco engine is a two-barrel version of the 383 which uses regular grades of gasoline.

An extra-performance option for all Monacos is a new 440-cubic-inch V-8 with four-barrel carburetion. The engine is rated at 350 horsepower.

DART

New styling on the outside and elegance on the inside mark the Dodge Dart for 1966.

The Dart again features a choice of 20 V-8 and six-cylinder models. Five safety accessories, formerly optional, have been made standard.

All-vinyl upholstery is standard in Dart 270 and GT convertibles and 2-door hardtops and in Dart 270 station wagons.

Interiors of the top-of-the-line Dart GT feature new front bucket seats and an optional between-seats console which houses the gear selector for the automatic or four-speed manual transmissions. The seats have an ultra-modern "shell" design and look far more expensive than one would expect in a compact.

Standard safety equipment in the 1966 Dart includes front and rear seat belts, padded instrument panel, windshield washer, multi-speed windshield wipers, back-up lights and left outside rear-view mirror.

Dodge Coronet Hardtop

The 1966 Dodge Coronet is a completely new car with fresh, clean styling and many new safety, comfort and convenience features. It is one of the broad line of Dodge offerings for the new year which go on display Thursday at Jones Motor Co., First and Gregg Sts.

Free Exit For Cuba Refugees

HAVANA (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro says any Cubans with relatives in the United States can leave the island after Oct. 10. He also promised to clear up the mystery of Maj. Ernesto Guevara in a few days.

Castro said in a speech Tuesday night he would provide boats to take would-be refugees out of the country and promised: "They will undergo no risk (from us)."

BLAMES U.S.

He blamed "the imperialists," his term for the United States, for blocking normal routes for Cubans wishing to leave the country since the October 1962 missile crisis.

"Now they are leaving in small boats, many of them drowning," Castro said, "and they (the Americans) use this as propaganda."

He added: "Now those who want to leave can leave because there are many here remaining who struggle for the people."

Castro repeated that it was not his government that has been preventing the exit of Cubans. "Now we shall see what the imperialists will do or say," he said.

"DON'T SLIP OUT"

The prime minister said that beginning Oct. 10 any Cuban with relatives in the United States who wanted to leave Cuba for that country could apply to the Interior Ministry.

The 4th Army said Tuesday the court-martial will be held at Ft. Sam Houston's post courtroom.

ABILENE, Tex. (AP)—Alumni of Hardin-Simmons University pledged $362,000 toward the school's $2 million endowment fund Tuesday as they met to honor Carr P. Collins of Dallas, the man who sparked the drive.

Collins gave $500,000 to Hardin-Simmons in June on condition that alumni raise $1.5 million more.

Collins, prominent Baptist layman, was given a special certificate and medal of honor by President James H. Landers.

Fight Crime, Editor Urges Newspapers

BUFFALO, N.Y., (AP) — George Beebe, the president of the Associated Press Managing Editors Association, urged the nation's newspapers today to become crime fighters and root out corruption in law enforcement.

Beebe, managing editor of the Miami Herald, also blamed "lenient judges and clever criminal lawyers" for the rising crime rate and expressed hope that President Johnson would "put the federal fist into the face" of racketeers.

HITS HARD

Beebe hit hard at the criminal menace in a speech prepared for delivery as he convened the annual meeting of AP-member editors.

Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson is to appear before the convention on Friday to press her beautify-America campaign.

The five-day meeting began Tuesday with more than 500 editors and their wives on hand.

Business sessions, conducted from Wednesday morning to noon Saturday, are devoted to previewing AP performance during the last year and discussing mutual problems of daily newspapers.

ACCESS TO NEWS

Beebe observed that the APME had been active in resisting attempts by bar associations and judges to restrict access to news of crime and criminal trials.

Meanwhile, Beebe said, crime has been flourishing in major cities across the nation and "thieves and racketeers continue to practice their nefarious trades while lenient judges and clever criminal lawyers keep them free on appeal after appeal after appeal."

Officer Resigned, Cases Crumble

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Patrolman Jerome Welsh had 21 traffic cases in court one day recently but he didn't appear and testify. Welsh had quit the force to become a plumber. The result: 15 absent, five acquitted, one fined $25—for driving without a license.

Economy Rush To New Highs Tempered Bit

NEW YORK (AP) — Enthusiastic stock traders are ignoring several brakes that are currently moderating the rush of the U.S. economy to new highs.

Among the laggards are the steel industry, housing construction and new orders for durable goods. Even the auto industry's confident predictions that a nine-million car sales year will dawn in a few days now are being tempered a bit by the current tussle of dealers to reduce their large stocks of 1965 models.

But the stock market is betting that these problems are short-term. Many traders are convinced that the economy can't be stalled for long, if at all, by current readjustments. And many apparently don't take too seriously the reassurances that inflation can't happen again.

IDLE CAPACITY

Government officials and many corporate economists stress that there is enough idle production capacity to take care of presently indicated demands of the Viet Nam war and of American consumer intentions to buy goods and still leave enough competition to keep prices from soaring. Some bankers aren't that confident that overheating of the economy is unlikely. But they are in a minority and command little attention.

As the economy heads into the fourth quarter—when it is confidently expected to rise to new heights—there are some troubled spots, however temporary they may be.

One is the steel industry. Output is the lowest since early in February 1964. Protracted labor negotiations this year gave customers lots of time to build up stocks while strike deadlines were twice postponed. Many mills doubt if they'll see much of a pickup in activity for several months.

CONSTRUCTION DIP

Construction starts on new houses dropped in August from July and are lagging 7 per cent below the year ago level. The industry talks of better days ahead—but mostly translates "ahead" to mean in a year or two.

New orders for durable goods also were declining in August, and a drop in shipments was reported general throughout most durable goods groups. Here, a pickup is expected this fall. Manufacturers are confident that consumer intentions to buy and business plans to expand will revive new orders and shipments shortly.

Business optimism, as well as that of stock traders, is based on belief that the Viet Nam war will demand enough new hardware to keep factories operating at a faster pace, but not enough more to put a strain on production capacity and thus trigger a round of rising prices.

AEC Considers Reactor Speedup

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission is considering a proposal to permit increased power operations of the research reactor at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The Cambridge school now holds a license for operation at power levels up to two thermal megawatts. It has asked for authority to boost this to five.

A Devotional For The Day

They said to the woman, "It is no longer because of your words that we believe, for we have heard for ourselves, and we know that this is indeed the Savior of the world." (John 4:42, RSV)
PRAYER: O God, our heavenly Father, hear us as we pray for Thy kingdom and for those in all parts of the world who work to reach lost souls. Bring peace to their souls. We ask this in the name of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. Amen.

Showdown Around Corner

The showdown is not far in the offing on the controversial repealer for Section 14-B of the Taft-Hartley Act. This would do away with states' authority to have right-to-work laws.

Powerful forces are arrayed on either side, and while those favoring repeal contend they have a majority, they concede they do not have enough votes for a two-thirds majority necessary to override a filibuster.

Anti-repeal forces, being led at this stage by Sen. Everett Dirksen, are banking on a filibuster. Sen. Dirksen reportedly has half a dozen teams lined up and committed to participate in a filibuster.

Labor forces, acknowledging they cannot bring the measure to a vote immediately, are seeking to settle for the next best thing — pledges from some senators that while they will not vote for repeal, neither will they take part in a filibuster. Leaders of the repeal effort are banking on two things, namely that President Johnson will bear down to try to make good on a pledge for the repeal, and that the threat of a filibuster is not real. Right now it appears that the filibuster will come off and that it will have ample manpower to sustain it for a long time. This, then, would set the stage for one of two courses, either a prolonged session with threat of a called one to follow, or a compromise in which some of the teeth of the repeal would be pulled.

Switch In Pattern

The modus operandi of past years has been for the administration to request funds, frequently in excess of what it hopes to get, then settle for what Congress whittles it down to.

The current Congress, however, is altering the pattern. For instance in the anti-poverty program administration requests amounted to $1,465,000,000 but Congress upped it to $1,785,000,000. The administration asked little less than half a billion in military pay raises; Congress made it a billion. The administration requested $260,000,000 for aid to higher education; the Senate authorized $650,000,000 for the current fiscal year and made committments for a total of $4.7 over a five-year period. The administration asked for an annual authorization of $400,000,000 for the area redevelopment, but Congress, in an expansive mood, made it $665,000,000 and laid out a total of $3,300,000,000 for five years.

This is a switch, and it is one which will show up in the next budget which is almost certain to sail right by the traditional water mark of 100 billion dollars a year.

Everybody In Discrimination Act

WASHINGTON — President Johnson has just approved a plan to put into effect a system whereby each department in the federal government is, in effect, to judge for itself how to punish racial discrimination. In the award of federal contracts, the authority to be vested in the operating departments of the government in dealing with problems of discrimination is so broad that there are virtually no guidelines except individual discretion.

IT WOULD BE possible, for instance, to use this power to demand of private businesses and their subcontractors that, before being awarded a government contract, an "equal rights" doctrine should be applied so as to require employment of 50 per cent whites and 50 per cent nonwhites.

While the objective in attempting to remove racial discrimination is a worthy one, the method to be used can do more harm than good. To abolish the interdepartmental agencies, as the President plans to do, is a step in the wrong direction. Instead of concentrating responsibility, it tends to diffuse responsibility. Vice President Humphrey's memorandum, as approved and issued by the White House, reads in part as follows:

"EVERY EMPLOYE responsible for the administration of our vast education programs must recognize that he is also responsible for enforcement of equal opportunity and nondiscrimination.

"Every individual responsible for the administration of our labor programs must recognize that he is also responsible for compliance with our civil rights laws as they affect his programs.

"Every person who contracts on behalf of the government with private parties must recognize that he is responsible for nondiscrimination in government contracts.

"EVERY INDIVIDUAL who hires any federal employe must recognize that he is responsible for equal opportunity for all Americans to serve in the federal government.

"In short, I believe the time has now come when operating functions can and should be performed by departments and agencies with clearly defined responsibility for the basic program, and that interagency committees and other interagency arrangements would now only diffuse responsibility."

FEDERAL OFFICIALS hitherto have had leeway in awarding contracts when strictly economic or business factors were involved that were related to the kind of service or products the government could expect for its money. But now for the first time a sociological or political factor has been introduced. What, for instance, are the "standards," if any, which will be prescribed for the guidance of individual officials in the operating departments, and what happens if they use bad judgment?

The Supreme Court of the United States in an 8 to 1 decision has ruled that Congress cannot delegate broad legislative power to executive agencies or departments or commissions but that if any delegation is authorized, the legislative standards must be spelled out explicitly in the law itself.

IN THE PRESENT instance, who is to determine whether the company that employs a small percentage of nonwhite employes has made a conscientious effort to find qualified workers in that category? Will the businessman be allowed to go to court to prove his case? Will he be permitted to have counsel to cross-examine government officials who accuse him of discrimination? Will there be, in other words, "due process of law" applied to checkmate any arbitrary action?

ALL THIS POINTS up the problem before Congress which at its next session will receive the President's new plan or reorganization. There is nothing in the Constitution or in Supreme Court rulings which permits any executive department or agency or commission to disregard specifications of a business nature and withhold government contracts at will for reasons not in any way related to the quality of the goods or services to be purchased by the government. To do so without specific authorization written into law by Congress means that political favoritism in the award of government contracts will, in effect, have been sanctioned.

Billy Graham

I am a sixteen-year-old girl, and have been immoral with my sister's husband. It is just a physical attraction, and I have made promises to God that I would never again step over the line, but I have broken the promise. Will this keep me from going to heaven? B. T.

You have committed a terrible sin! It will not only keep you from going to heaven, for the Bible says, "No unclean person . . . hath inheritance in the kingdom of Christ" (Eph. 5:5), but more important, such an unholy relationship will keep heaven from coming to you.

You say further, "I'm about to go out of my mind." Wrong-doing always brings a foretaste of hell to the mind and to the heart. Just as Christians who do the will of God experience a foretaste of heaven, those who break God's law experience a little of what awaits them beyond the line of worlds.

You, like a lot of other people, entertain a great misconception about what Christianity is all about. You think it is just to get you into heaven, and save you from hell. It is much more than that. Christ strengthens the will; cleanses the conscience; clears the mind; and changes the heart. He makes life bearable; puts a spring in your step, and peace in your heart. He came, not just to get men into heaven, but to help them live above evil in this world.

Dullest Session Of Congress Most Productive

WASHINGTON (AP) — This session of Congress, heading toward a close now, has been the dullest in memory and at the same time the most productive in more than 30 years.

Next year will probably be equally dull, if not as productive. For 1966 is a congressional election year and President Johnson, instead of loading the members down as he did this year, may let them go home early to campaign.

No other Congress in this century, outside of wartime, could match this year's performance unless perhaps it was the one President Franklin D. Roosevelt dealt with in his first few months after taking office in 1933.

THEN, WITH the country in depression chaos, Congress let the president write his own ticket and railroaded through what he wanted to get the nation moving.

But much of what it did was subsequently knocked out by one of the most reactionary Supreme Courts in history, which led to Roosevelt's fight with the court. Then the court changed its tune.

It began approving the far-reaching legislation — like the Social Security and Labor Relations acts — which Congress at a much slower pace began passing in 1935.

It's different now, due to a change in American thinking, the needs of the times and the personnel of the court. There's no reason to think this court won't uphold all the legislation passed this year if any is tested.

What made this year dull was that, while tremendous pieces of legislation were rammed through, there was little real conflict. There were two main reasons for this: Johnson's skill in dealing with Congress and the huge Democratic majorities in the House and Senate.

BESIDES, MUCH that Johnson proposed and Congress approved had been long debated before he took office. In short, the country had been heading toward it.

Some people don't like Johnson personally, and many are indifferent to him personally, But it's a rare one who won't admit he is an extraordinary politician and perhaps the hardest-working president in history.

And no other president was better prepared for understanding Congress — which means knowing the individual members' strengths, weaknesses and interests — than Johnson. He had served in Congress 33 years.

Since in both houses Democrats outnumbered Republicans by more than two to one, this gave Johnson a steamroller to start with and left the Republicans more or less impotent.

Besides, even in the public relations job of getting its views across, the Republican leadership in the House has been pretty inept. Its views are hackneyed, a true hangover from the past.

Fat Man Has Compensations

NEW YORK (AP) — Everybody is knocking fat today.

You are advised to keep it off your person and cut it off the meat you eat.

Fat is blamed for everything from early acne to early death. It seems to be public enemy No. 1

Politicians probably would even blame the worldwide Communist conspiracy on fat except for one inescapable fact: Most Communists aren't fat, unless it is between the ears where it doesn't show. They generally tend to the lean and hungry look.

BUT IN a diet-mad world, the critics of fat overlook one truth: It may have its perils, but it has its pleasures too. Yes, blubber hath its charms for the man or woman who owns it.

To paraphrase Abraham Lincoln, "The Lord must have loved fat people—he made so many of them."

Here are a few compensations for being overweight:

You never have to give the shirt off your back to help a buddy. It is too big to fit your buddy.

It isn't necessary to push your way through revolving doors. You merely lean against them—and they spin like crazy.

When a fat man sits down in a bus seat, he doesn't have to share it with anyone else. There simply isn't room for anyone else.

YOU DON'T have to learn new dances such as the Frug, the Monkey or the Jerk. No gal in her right mind would want to be seen going through such strenuous motions in public with a fat man.

Yet there are few sights more heartwarming than seeing a graceful fat man and a fat lady waltzing together. It is like watching two battleships sail through heavy seas while smaller craft scurry for safety.

As a matter of policy, life insurance agents rarely try to sell a really fat man a big new policy he can't afford.

Strange dogs bark less often at pudgy folk, realizing instinctively that they are more noble by nature than stringbean-shaped humans.

Shingles A Virus Infection Striking Nerves

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Repeated inquiries from readers concern shingles — a trivial sort of name for a disease which can cause so much pain. Herpes zoster is the technical name. It is from Greek words, herpes meaning to creep, and zoster meaning to girdle.

Shingles is a virus infection which attacks a special type of nerve substance called ganglion located on the nerve root. With the nerve thus attacked, the pain is severe, and can "feel like a burn."

The virus is markedly similar to that of chicken pox, and a person exposed to chicken pox may get shingles. It is rare but possible for the reverse to occur — for someone to develop chicken pox from exposure to shingles.

Contrary to common notion, shingles is not only a disease of old age. It can occur at any time beyond the first few months of infancy when a baby's natural immunity projects). It is most frequent between the ages of 40 and 60, and tapers off after that. But people over 60 can have it, often with greater discomfort.

As the virus first attacks the nerve, there is pain localized in the area served by the nerve, variable but often quite severe. From 24 hours to four or five days later, vesicles (blisters) appear in the area. These form a crust, usually in about 10 days, and by the end of two or three weeks (this varies a good deal) the crusts fall off, leaving a brownish discoloration of the skin, which fades slowly.

The "girdle" part of the name arises from the fact that the lower chest or trunk is the area most often affected, but limited to one portion of it, not going all the way around. However, it can strike elsewhere: Arm, thigh, scalp, neck, and even in the eyeball, that being the most dangerous.

It is, however, a self-limited disease, running its course in time — but it takes such a long time in many cases. At least, the patient usually is then immune to further attacks.

The harm is primarily confined to the pain which can be so severe as to prevent adequate rest. Therefore essential medical care is to control the pain with anything from aspirin, when that will suffice, to short-term use of narcotics, when nothing else will take effect.

One study of treatments, ranging from X-ray through injections of various types, steroid drugs and antibiotics, disclosed that at least 13 methods have been extensively tried, and that duration of the disease averaged out to the same time for any method, or none. The conclusion is that no successful treatment (other than pain control) yet exists.

Attempts are being made to find a cure but nothing so far has passed through the experimental stage, much less is available for use.

Around The Rim

Sentimental Journey

It was a sentimental journey, I suppose, but a rewarding one. My father had longed to return to his native community, to see once more the scenes of his childhood and to renew the bonds of friendship of the few remaining whom he knew in the distant days more than four score years ago.

THIS WAS HIS TRIP, for my roots are all in Texas. Yet I felt a strange fascination in the visits and deep warmth in seeing some of my own kin. In the end, I think perhaps I experienced something of the glow which comes to the native upon his return home.

My father was born on a hilly farm several miles east of Fulton, Ky., and about a mile south of the state line in Weakley County, Tenn. As we neared Fulton, he began recalling this landmark and that, yet things had changed so that when we crossed the tracks from Lake Street, he lost his bearings. It is different, and yet there is enough of a century ago remaining to stir memories like the rail crossing where "our country mules always ran away."

WITHOUT TOO much difficulty, we found Aunt Florence's home, a stately white brick house with huge rooms, thick walls, a hallway nearly as wide as most modern rooms. The oaks and maples planted when it was built now nestle around and tower far, far above it. Its sturdiness reflects something of the people, and the hospitality within the love and affection of our very own.

WE DROVE down the state line road to where a lane turns south, and within a mile or so a great oak marked the beginning of a clearing which had been dedicated long ago from a field and woods. This was Mount Mariah Cemetery where lie his father and mother, and two sisters who faded in their 25th year from the scourge of tuberculosis. A few steps away is the marker for Aunt Ina's grave. Oddly, my father remembered "a sort of tall marker" for a young man who, under the influence of drink, had been thrown from his horse and killed. We found this, too, and others which led him and Aunt Florence to call the roll of many of the old families.

THEN WE DROVE down to the community nearest the home place. When we came upon the sign, "Dukedom," it was like spotting an old friend. Dukedom is a crossroads on the state line with half a dozen business places. In its day it had been a lively place with a reputation for fighting and sometime shooting. My father had witnessed one shooting and recalled how the assailant had merely stepped across to the Kentucky side and took umbrage there until things cooled off.

NOT FAR AWAY was the Pleasant View Church where his father had served faithfully for years as a deacon. On the way back, we swung south again, made two bends in a dirt road, and came to a rise. Here was a small house where once their log cabin had stood. To the north was a field where they tilled the soil, and to the west a rolling field they cleared and fought for a living. To the south, across a sometime little branch and in a sparse wood, were two of the old barns where they hung the tobacco to cure when he was a lad.

ALTHOUGH HE IS nearing his 90th birthday, he found several people with whom he had attended school, and some who had been his pupils in the old Roberts School. One afternoon we pulled off the road. To a man tinkering with a car, I said, "I'm looking for King Rose." Straightening, and with a twinkle in his eye, he replied: "This is what's left of him." This was the way it was as we found one after another, and for an all-too-fleeting moment, they were back in the days when Tom Callahan was master of the Ridgeway School. Somehow they were like the oaks they had left standing around the fields.

Take Their Guns Away From Them

WASHINGTON — Nothing promotes a cease-fire quite as effectively as a shortage of ammunition.

The John Foster Dulles Memorial War between Pakistan and India sputtered to an inglorious end simply because the United States became lax in the matter of keeping both sides supplied with sufficient man-killing material.

THIS IS AN unforgivable act of peace-mongering that couldn't possibly have happened in the straight-thinking epoch during which the United States was busy arming every raghead militiaman who might one day find himself within rifle shot of a Chinaman.

Blame for the failure of the India-Pakistan affray to blossom into full scale conflict must be laid at the door of President Johnson.

WITH CAREFUL management he could have insured a flow of munitions adequate to keep the war going indefinitely. Instead, he concluded that any Pakistani given a surplus .30-06 will scrag the nearest Indian with it, and he actually ended arms shipments before the shooting started.

It is a pity that Big Daddy dabbled in a matter that had once commanded the best minds in the U. S. foreign policy apparatus. Given sufficient aid and encouragement, the two miserable fly-blown nations might even have helped relieve the cruel problem of overpopulation that assails them. As it is, their war fizzled in the manner of a comic opera.

MR. DULLES was hypnotized by the utilitarian aspects of proxy war. The hopeless quagmire in Viet Nam is a legacy of his let's-you-and-him-fight policy. Nations chronically unable to feed themselves were shamelessly goaded into raising armies, ostensibly as a shield against the vile conspiracy of international communism.

We have seen (as witness Cuba) that no amount of military aid can maintain a dictator who is roundly despised by his people. For all his American weapons and American training officers, Batista never once fought a major battle against Castro.

BUT IT REMAINED for the cow-worshippers to ruin our brisk trade in weapons that has grown up in the wake of Mr. Dulles' policies. Forever hereafter, the question must be asked — Against whom will these weapons really be turned? Can they be justified any longer with the witless assumption that a nation such as Pakistan could stave off an enemy the size of China?

With Big Daddy apparently outgrowing his image as the Fastest Gun in the West, it is possible to hope that new elements of sanity and morality may be entering U. S. military aid policies.

Gunplay At The Extremist Saloon

WASHINGTON — "I see where the boys are still whooping it up down at the Extremist Saloon," remarked Vernon J. Veritas, the old truth-teller. "Some shoot from the right hip, and some shoot from the left hip — and maybe that's what makes the political world go round."

MR. VERITAS must be mistaken. It's public knowledge that only right-wingers shoot from the hip, call their opponents Reds and all that uncouth sort of thing. Whoever heard of a Liberal behaving the way some of our far-out Conservatives do?

"There's Senator Tom Kuchel (R., Calif.)," said Veritas, who was born to tell the truth. "He's a hot-blooded, high-spirited Republican Liberal, and a fine fellow in every way. But there's no denying that Tom got loaded on ideological firewater the other day and went for his gun against Ronald Reagan, who's as decent a fellow as Tom is."

THE RECORD would show that Kuchel decided not to run in the California Republican primary against Reagan, but he used a Washington press conference to let fly by indirection against the man who seems likely to win the GOP nomination. Kuchel unloaded against the California conservatives, as follows: "A fanatical neo-Fascist, political cult, overcome by a strange mixture of corrosive hatred and sickening fear . . ."

"You'd have to call that shooting from the left hip," insisted Veritas, who cannot tell a lie."

THE RECORD would show that Kuchel had a lot of personal provocation for hating the California right wing. He said at his press conference: "Its members label anybody who even mildly disagrees with any of their extraordinary views a socialist or a Communist or even worse. Character assassination is part of their stock in trade, as I think I particularly have a right to state."

MR. VERITAS must know that it's practically unheard of to accuse an anti-Extremist like Kuchel of practicing Extremism. It is entirely unconventional to say that an accredited Liberal like Kuchel in denouncing "corrosive hatred" was practicing "hatred" on his own part. It is wholly out of fashion to suggest that a Liberal who's denouncing "sickening fear" can seem pretty sick with fear himself over the chances of a conservative victory.

"ILL FARES the land where truth-telling becomes unheard of, unconventional and out of fashion," declared Veritas. "If it's wrong to call a political opponent a Communist without any proof, it's equally wrong to call him a Fascist. Ugly words don't break any bones, and I wouldn't give a chaw of tobacco for a Senator who didn't get his blood up now and then. But let's not pretend that all the shooting comes from the right hip. It comes from the left hip, too."

Mrs. William T. McRee explained the program of vocational rehabilitation conducted by the special education school when she was guest speaker Tuesday evening for Spoudazio Fora Study Club. She was introduced by Mrs. H. D. Stewart Jr.

Mrs. McRee said that the on-the-job training is made possible by local business establishments that have cooperated with school authorities by employing students on a part-time basis. The students receive school credits for the time they work and receive graduation diplomas.

Mrs. J. W. Dickens conducted the business session where Mrs. Bill C. Coleman reported that the club's quota of advertising had been sold for the Western District issue of the Texas Clubwomen.

The club will sell Christmas cards to help finance work with students in the exceptional class at Lakeview Elementary School.

Mrs. Hulan Harris, 2608 Cindy Lane, was hostess and assisted Mrs. Coleman in serving refreshments to 12 members and two guests, Mrs. McRee and Mrs. C. T. Domer. A red and gold theme was used on the white-linen-covered table where the centerpiece was an arrangement of red flowers. Red and gold napkins were used with crystal appointments.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Jim Lemons, 2612 Carol, where Mrs. Coleman will present a program on current fashions.

GUEST SPEAKER

'Citizenship Awareness' Stressed By B&PW

"Citizenship Awareness" was the program topic at the Tuesday evening meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club. Twenty-five members met at the Wagon Wheel Restaurant with Mrs. Cass Hill presiding.

Mrs. Ruth Beasley introduced Joe Pickle, Big Spring Herald managing editor, as guest speaker. Pickle stressed the responsibility of the individual in conducting civic affairs. He urged that club members "communicate with their community" by taking an active interest in programs planned by city and county agencies.

Pickle suggested that field trips be made to study the problems of such things as library expansion, safety education, child welfare programs and scholarships for the Howard County Junior College. He reminded that the success of civic programs depended on their interest and help.

Mrs. Hill welcomed as guests Mrs. Weldon Nuckolls, Mrs. Sherman Whitaker and Mrs. Joe Pickle. Assisting with the program were Mrs. Ruby Billings and Mrs. B. N. Ralph.

School Dropouts Problem Explored

The program of school dropout was discussed during the Tuesday morning meeting of the Lalla Baird Circle of the Wesley Methodist Church.

The group met at the home of Mrs. D. L. Milner, 2207 Main, where Mrs. Howard Berry gave the opening prayer. Mrs. S. L. Thurman presented the program assisted by Mrs. Homer Thorp, Mrs. W. C. Talafuse and Miss Helen Ewing. The devotion was by Mrs. Joe Jacobs.

Refreshments were served to 10 members, and they were requested to attend a business meeting next Tuesday at the church.

Opti-Mrs. Hear Book Review

A book review, "The Italians," was presented at the Tuesday luncheon meeting of the Opti-Mrs. Club. Ten members met at Cokers Restaurant with Mrs. J. W. Dickens presiding. Mrs. Jimmy Montgomery conducted the review of the Luigi Barzini book, and plans were made for a covered dish luncheon Oct. 26 at the home of Mrs. Dickens.

Breakfast Is Annual Affair

Two breakfast table arrangements were shown as part of the program Tuesday morning when the Rosebud Garden Club held its annual breakfast in the home of Mrs. Walter Ross, Country Club Road. Mrs. Toots Mansfield and Mrs. Dwain Leonard were cohostesses.

Mrs. Joe Myers showed a dried arrangement called "Memories Are Made of This," in which she had used pine cones, mimosa beans, acorns and sweetgum leaves. Mrs. Myers explained how she had formed the arrangement and the process of antiquing it.

The second arrangement was one created by Mrs. Travis Carlton which was a mass line with yellow chrysanthemums and orange pyracantha berries. She called the arrangement "Over the Coffee Cup" and used a demitasse cup as an accessory.

Mrs. W. L. Wilson Jr., president, conducted the business session as reports from the garden club council were given by the representative, Mrs. Odell Womack.

The club will assist in the Big Spring State Hospital Christmas party by being in charge of Ward 8. Mrs. Clyde E. Thomas Jr. is the chairman of this project. Also, the club went on record as being in favor of a Christmas Pilgrimage of Homes which has been proposed by the council.

The women were requested to furnish two flower arrangements which will be used in teaching judging at the flower show school Oct. 6-8 at the YMCA. The arrangements will be made by Mrs. J. T. Anderson and Mrs. Carlton.

In reviewing the club yearbook, it was noted that now is the time to disbud and feed chrysanthemums, wash off aphids, and plant lawns if need be. Fumicide should be used on roses for possible mildew, and early feeding should be done, as too late feeding will produce soft growth. Also, it is a good time to collect materials for dried arrangements.

The next meeting will be Oct. 26 with Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Jack Cook as cohostesses.

Dodgers Take Game Lead In Hot Race

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Lou Johnson has been battered with baseballs from in front and from behind. Once in a while, though, he does some battering of his own.

One of those times of retaliation was Tuesday night when Johnson lined a 12th-inning home run that gave the Los Angeles Dodgers their 11th straight victory, a 2-1 decision over Cincinnati, and a one-game lead in the furious National League pennant race.

REDS OUT OF IT

The Dodgers had been tied with San Francisco, but St. Louis trounced the Giants 9-1, sending them one game back with their fifth loss in seven games. Third-place Cincinnati fell five back and virtually out of the race. The three teams each have five games remaining.

The Dodgers grabbed the top spot all by themselves for the first time in three weeks when Johnson connected off Joey Jay with one out in the 12th. The homer was his 12th of the season but still left that total three behind his record for being hit by pitches.

That's happened a league-leading 15 times this year, which is just about normal for the 32-year-old outfielder who spent 12 years with 15 minor league teams and three major league teams before he got a break with the Dodgers this season.

He got the break because of a break in Tommy Davis' ankle early in May. But no sooner had he been called up from Spokane than Johnson found himself hit in the head by a pitch from Houston's Bob Bruce. That pitch punctured Johnson's batting helmet and put him in the hospital for three days.

HIT ON THUMB

Then, in June, New York's Al Jackson put him out of action for 13 days by hitting him on the thumb.

In other NL games, New York edged Pittsburgh 1-0 in 12 innings, Milwaukee whipped Houston 7-1 and Chicago nipped Philadelphia 2-1.

Los Angeles broke a scoreless deadlock in the seventh when Jeff Torborg singled, and pinch runner Nate Oliver stole second and came home as Maury Wills singled. But the Reds tied it in the eighth on a walk to Tommy Harper, a sacrifice and Vada Pinson's double.

St. Louis' Larry Jaster scattered 10 hits in only his second major league start, shutting out the Giants until Willie Mays hit his 51st homer in the eighth. Jaster also singled across two runs while Bill White lashed four hits, driving in three runs.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Big Spring's Charley Johnson, who reaped sports headlines around the nation last week for the hatchet job he did against the Cleveland Browns, modestly credits his success to his offensive line. Says he:

"They're giving me the finest protection I've ever had."

Johnson and his line work together with a rhythm that is envied throughout the NFL. In two games, Charley has thrown for 693 total yards and in both the Cards' opening day loss to the Philadelphia Eagles and the 49-13 victory over Cleveland, he topped 300.

This gives him a total of ten 300-yard plus passing days in his career and ties him for fourth place in the all-time list with Bobby Layne and Billy Wade.

The leaders are Johnny Unitas (15), Y. A. Tittle (13) and Sonny Jurgensen (12).

Off his six-touchdown day against the Browns, Johnson joins a list of only six other players who have thrown six or more TD's in NFL history. The Browns, who have always had trouble defensing Johnson's passes, saw him through only three quarters of play, too.

• • • •

Charley is now the No. Two passer in the NFL, immediately behind the San Francisco's 49ers' John Brodie, who has completed 38 of 49 attempts.

Johnson has thrown for four more touchdowns than Brodie and has picked up 188 yards more in aerial gains than the leader.

• • • •

Johnson wasn't the only Big Spring ex who dazzled the opposition in last Sunday's pro football.

Danny Birdwell, who went from here to the Oakland Raiders by way of the University of Houston, was one of the Raiders who stayed in the hair of the Houston Oilers all afternoon on that nationally-televised AFL game in Oakland.

Birdwell, on one occasion, broke up a Houston pass and almost intercepted it with a clear field in front of him. Had he scored, it would have put the contest out of reach. As it was, Oakland won in the last few minutes.

• • • •

After Houston's Don Trull fumbled the ball that opened the door for Oakland in the final moments of the game, he was consoled in the clubhouse by the old Rotan rancher, Sammy Baugh.

"Don't let that bother you," Sammy told the ex-Baylor great. "I once fumbled six times in six plays in an all-star game."

• • • •

That should be a titanic struggle Saturday night in El Paso between Texas Western and New Mexico State.

The clubs go into the game unbeaten. Texas Western has toppled North Texas, 61-15, and New Mexico University, 35-14. New Mexico State has humbled Arlington State, 27-10, and Lamar Tech, 21-20.

Two local boys, Charley West and Buster Barnes, play for Texas Western while another Big Spring ex, Jerry Dunlap, performs for New Mexico State.

The Miners and New Mexico, incidentally, attracted the largest crowd ever to see a football game in the state of New Mexico, 29,952.

The previous week, Texas Western and North Texas had played before 22,515 in El Paso.

• • • •

The Rice University stadium boasts 36,000 seats between the goal posts. Not many stadiums anywhere can boast such an arrangement.

Houston's Domed Stadium has only 19,000 seats between the goal posts and seats only 47,500 all told for football. Its seating capacity had been advertised as 55,000.

The six public school football teams here, from the eighth grade units on up through the varsity level, won nine of their first 15 starts.

The Goliad and Runnels Junior Highs have seventh grade teams but they play each other every week.

Doctor Accompanies U.S. Links Team To Madrid

MADRID (AP) — Jack Nicklaus and Tony Lema, United States representatives in the Canada Cup golf matches starting Thursday, have their own doctor with them in Madrid.

He is Dr. Everett Gaillard of White Plains, N.Y., and he will be on hand to deal with any illness in the American camp.

"It's the first time we've brought a doctor along," said Fred Corcoran, the tournament director.

"Already he's treated Tony for a slight stomach upset."

Lema, of Oakland, Calif., went out in practice Tuesday with only his caddy and an interpreter for company. He fired as many as five or six balls on some holes, exploring and investigating every hole.

Nicklaus, of Columbus, Ohio, who has won more money from golf in the year than anybody else in the game's history, was due to arrive in Madrid today.

That means the 24-year-old big hitter, favorite over 73 rivals for the individual title, will have only today for practice.

Reserves Are Praised By Big Spring Coach

Praise for some of the boys 'back in the ranks' and a discussion of some of the shortcomings of the new $50,000 field house being discussed at Memorial Stadium were among the things heard at the Tuesday night meeting of the Quarterback Club.

This is an "off week" for the Big Spring football team, which does not return to competition until a week from Friday night, at which time it opens its 2-AAAA season with Lee in Midland.

One of the better crowds of the season was on hand for the Tuesday conclave, however, held in the High School Cafeteria.

Harrell Newton, James Carver, Henry Dirks, Terry Smith and Wayne Kennedy were among the reserves who came in for prominent mention in a review of the Steers' winning effort against Snyder last week.

Actually, Newton is swapping off with Wayne Nail at the left linebacker's position for Big Spring and both did splendid jobs against the Tigers.

The play of such regulars as Freddie Stiehl, Wesley Ballou, Eddie Crittenden, Terry Fields, Rey Navarette, Van Tom Whatley, Bobby Griffin, Gary Earhart, Joe Jaure and Jerry Wilson also earned the accolades of the Steer coaching staff.

Robbins said that Snyder's inability to make its passing game work kept the game from being any closer. The Steer coach expressed the belief that the Tigers had a much better team than they showed against Big Spring.

"Time and again, their receivers would be open but would either drop the ball or else the passer would overshoot them," Robbins said.

The Big Spring coach added that the local club wanted desperately to keep Snyder from scoring a touchdown and carry such a record into district competition but Snyder scored on a fourth-down-and-11 situation with a pass.

Robbins expressed some concern over the Steers' coverage on kickoff returns, mentioning that on several occasions the Tigers almost broke free on runs back up field.

Robbins was questioned at length about the new fieldhouse. He said that as far as he knew the facility was not being equipped with such vital things as benches and lockers.

Scramble Continues In American League

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Three things are sure in the American League — Minnesota will finish first, Washington will finish eighth, and there is a scramble for the eight other places.

After Wednesday's action, and with five days left in the season, the pennant-winning Twins and also-ran Senators have their spots clinched.

O's SECOND

Otherwise — Baltimore's streaking Orioles are in second, just 1½ games ahead of the Chicago White Sox; two games separate the Detroit Tigers and Cleveland Indians in the fight for fourth; New York's sixth-place Yankees have only a one-game edge on the California Angels; and the Boston Red Sox are just 1½ games ahead of Kansas City's last-place Athletics.

The Orioles made it nine victories in a row Wednesday night, getting two runs in the fifth inning without a hit and trimming Minnesota 4-2.

Danny Cater's 11th-inning homer gave the White Sox a first-game victory over Detroit, 4-3, but the Tigers won the second by the same score with a four-run rally in the eighth capped by Jim Northrup's two-run triple.

Rocky Colavito's three-run homer helped the Indians deal the Yankees their sixth straight loss, 6-3.

Joe Coleman Jr., 18-year-old son of a former big league pitcher, made his debut in the majors and pitched Washington to a 6-1 victory over Kansas City. The A's won the second game of the doubleheader, 8-6.

And the Angels pushed across two runs in the eighth inning on an error and a bases-filled walk, edging the Red Sox 4-3.

Baltimore netted the two runs in the fifth that proved decisive against Al Worthington, Minnesota relief ace who had been sidelined for three weeks with a sore right arm. He loaded the bases on two walks and a hit batter, then walked Brooks Robinson and Curt Blefary on eight straight pitches.

Harmon Killebrew, recently returned to the Twins line-up after seven weeks absence due to a dislocated elbow, homered with a man on for Minnesota's two runs — his first homer since July 28.

Johnson Named Player Of Week

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — This will come as no surprise to the Cleveland Browns. Charley Johnson, the blond bomber of the St. Louis Cardinals, is The Associated Press' Offensive Player of the Week in the National Football League. Johnson is a native of Big Spring.

Johnson threw six touchdown passes Sunday against the Browns in the 49-13 rout and was only one short of the record held by Sid Luckman, Adrian Burke and Y. A. Tittle.

Given plenty of time to throw, Johnson picked his spots carefully and hit with 11 of 19 passes for 310 yards. He sat out the last quarter while Buddy Humphrey took over. The Browns smeared Johnson behind the line only once for a loss of nine yards. Sonny Randle, who caught seven passes and scored three touchdowns, beat Walt Beach consistently.

CHARLEY JOHNSON

If Johnson had not had such a spectular afternoon, the honors might have gone to Bob Hayes, the former Olympic sprint champion who plays for the Dallas Cowboys. Hayes caught a pass from Don Meredith and ran 45 yards for one touchdown and sped 11 yards on an end-around play for another. He also took a 23-yard pass from Meredith in the end zone but the score was wiped out by a holding penalty.

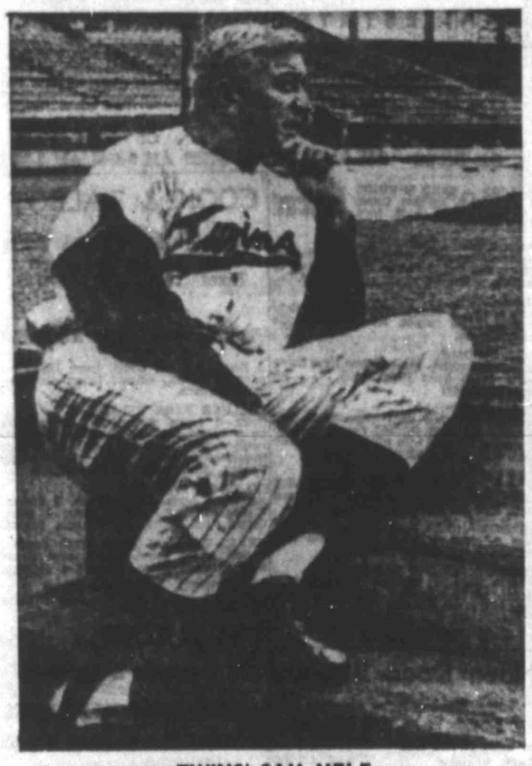

"He's bound to be the Rookie of the Year if he keeps up this pace," said Coach Tom Landry.

Zeke Bratkowski should win something special from Vince Lombardi for coming off the bench and leading Green Bay to a 20-17 victory over Baltimore. Zeke, 33, replaced the injured Bart Starr and threw the winning 37-yard pass to Max McGee in the final minutes.

49ers Leading NFL In Offense

NEW YORK (AP) — If the Cleveland Browns are still wondering what hit them last Sunday, a glance at National Football League team statistics will bring them up to date.

The St. Louis Cardinals, winners by a 49-13 score, lead the league in passing with 645 yards and nine touchdown passes and are tied with Philadelphia with 25 first downs passing. The Cards gained 320 yards passing against the Browns.

TWINS' SAM MELE
Needs to keep team 'up'
(AP WIREPHOTO)

Minnesota Boss Works On His Biggest Dare

By LEW FERGUSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

MINNEAPOLIS—St. PAUL (AP)—Sam Mele is working on the biggest parlay of his life, and it looks like he's going to bring everything home at once.

The Minnesota Twins' manager has guided his baseball team into the World Series, his wife Connie is due to give birth to their fifth child about the same time the Series opens, and the Mele family is moving into a new home in Quincy, Mass.

"Bringing the Twins home first may have been the easiest of the three," Mele quipped.

For a manager who just a year ago had a very uncertain future, Mele is rolling in clover.

A near cinch to be named American League Manager of the Year, Mele can't resist jabbing lightly at former critics with a little "I told you so."

Actually, Mele minimizes his own role in the Twins' surge to their first pennant since moving from Washington to the Twin Cities.

He won't admit that he became a more aggressive manager and thus instilled a heretofore missing aggressiveness in his club.

"I decided on a more aggressive team," he said. "But I don't think I'm more aggressive. I decided last winter that we would have to do more stealing, more hitting and running and lots and lots of more work on fundamentals to eliminate these mistakes we made last year."

Mele admits his admiration for Chicago's Al Lopez has greatly influenced his style of managing.

"I've always considered Al the greatest manager ever," Mele said.

"It isn't so much that I wanted to copy him; it's more that I wanted to compare what I would do in a given situation to what he would do. I've talked with him by the hour. Most generally, our opinions coincided, which made me feel very happy . . . that I was on the right track.

"And, my uncle, Tony Cucciniello (White Sox coach), has helped me a lot."

Mele is the type of manager who wants the players to feel he is on their side, and not a "commander" the players must stand in awe of.

"I still go around the clubhouse and talk and joke with the players," he said. "I want them to think I'm close to them. I don't believe in chewing them out. I prefer to talk to them quietly and explain what is wrong and see if they don't agree."

Big Field Honors Green

Golfers turned out in near record numbers Sunday at the Big Spring Country Club for Jerry Green Day.

The tournament, honoring the genial club pro, drew 143 entries.

In other partnership scratch play, Bobby Wright and Frank Powell emerged as winners, while Ed Harris and Marvin Wright were runners up.

Rick Terry and Jackie Thomas won the partnership Calloway plan, while J. R. Farmer and Bill McClendon were runners up.

For the low individual woman in scratch play, Mog Schwarzenbach took honors, and Jodie Sabbato was low in Calloway play.

Rick Terry was low individual man in scratch play while Harold Hall was low man on the Calloway.

Grid Attendance Ahead Of 1964

NEW YORK (AP) — College football attendance this season continues to run ahead of the record pace set last year.

Last week's top 10 games in attendance drew 593,963 fans—an increase of 59,309 over the previous week. It brought the two-week total to 1,128,617.

Official attendance figures released today by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau showed that the biggest college crowd in the country last Saturday was the 81,417 for California's game at Michigan.

Hoosiers Get Major Test

By HAROLD CLASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Here's hoping the maid has polished up the crystal ball. Last week it was so covered with cobwebs that the only thing which came through clearly was Purdue's triumph over Notre Dame.

Here are this week's winners:

Texas over Indiana: Coach Darrel Royal of the Texans says it is too early in the season to name his team as the country's No. 1. For the Hoosiers it already is too late.

Purdue over Southern Methodist: Despite the Mustangs' 7-3 victory over Miami of Florida, they play in a different league. Purdue has too much too soon.

Nebraska over Iowa State: The Huskers have everything including Frank Solich, a tiny fullback who goes and goes and goes.

Arkansas over Texas Christian: This is a night game but so many sparks will fly in this one they could play it without lights.

Florida over Louisiana State: Florida quarterback Steve Spurrier will find a way even if he has to carry the ball over the goal line himself.

Michigan over Georgia: The Dixie club prides itself on its defense but the object of the game still is to score more points than your foe.

Kentucky over Auburn: Roger Bird's ankle doesn't hurt anymore and he will be at his peak against Auburn.

Notre Dame over Northwestern: Those two fine Irish lads, Bill Wolski and Pete Andreotti, start Notre Dame on to victory.

Michigan State over Illinois: Nine of the 22 men listed as regulars on the two Illinois teams are sophomores and none is named Butkus.

Bob Griese Named AP Back Of Week

By The Associated Press

Notre Dame Coach Ara Parseghian called Bob Griese's passing show against the Irish last Saturday "the finest performance I have ever seen."

That's the kind of praise that earned Griese, Purdue's fine signal caller, The Associated Press Back of the Week Award today.

Griese completed 19 of 22 passes, three good for touchdowns, and gaining 282 yards through the air as the Boilermakers upset the top-ranked Irish 25-21.

Parseghian was quick to pay homage to the Purdue passer.

"You figure even a great passer will miss some and his receivers will drop some," the Notre Dame coach said. "But Griese and his receivers were unbelievable."

Griese set a school record, gaining 322 yards passing and running. His favorite target was Bob Hadrick, whose eight catches also set a Purdue record.

A 6-foot-1 185-pound junior, Griese was hailed by Purdue Coach Jack Mollenkopf as the greatest quarterback competitor in Boilermaker history.

"Maybe Dale Samuels, Len Dawson and Bernie Allen were consistently better passers, but Griese is the toughest when the chips are down."

The chips were down with five minutes remaining against Notre Dame and Purdue trailing 21-18.

"I told Griese to do nothing but pass," Mollenkopf said.

The Purdue quarterback did just that, completing three straight of 32, 13 and 19 yards and getting the Boilermakers down to Notre Dame's three. Then Griese sent Gordon Ter smashing across for the winning touchdown.

"Just shows you what good coaching will do," Mollenkopf laughed.

Jackson To Have Cage Homecoming

DALLAS (AP)—The exhibition tour of the Philadelphia 76ers and St. Louis Hawks of the National Basketball Association rolled on to Edinburg tonight where Lucious Jackson has a homecoming.

Wilt Chamberlain looped in 24 points and Jackson 17 Tuesday night when the 76ers beat the Hawks 110-91 in an exhibition here.

Jackson was all-America at Pan American College of Edinburg.

A crowd of 2,500 saw the teams play in Memorial Auditorium here as Chamberlain concentrated on rebounds and feeding the ball to teammates, but still led all the scorers.

Zelmo Beaty of Prairie View, playing with St. Louis, shot 11 points.

The tour goes to Houston Thursday night and then on to Lubbock Saturday for an afternoon game.

Crowd Of 40,000 Due At Lubbock

LUBBOCK — About 6,000 reserved tickets for the Texas Tech-Texas A&M football game here Saturday night are still available here.

Sales of general admission tickets to the slope overlooking the field from behind the north end zone began Monday for $2.50 and $1 (public schools students and younger). The south end zone is expected to be filled by Texas Tech students, whose sections begin at midfield on the east side. More than 16,300 students have enrolled this fall.

Currently, the Tech ticket office has reserved seats on both sides beginning at the 5-yard line. These cost $5.

A crowd of 40,000 is expected. Turnout at the opener with University of Kansas two weeks ago was 35,300.

Tickets are being sold from 8 a.m. until 6 p.m. each day at the Jones Stadium ticket office. Mail orders are accepted, accompanied by a 50-cent mailing fee.

Scout Council To Meet Here

Big Spring will be the site for the annual meeting of the Buffalo Trail Boy Scout Council.

L. E. Patterson Jr., Midland, announced Wednesday that the invitation of Big Spring had been accepted for the session which will attract approximately 300 persons.

Carl Campbell, vice president, will serve as chairman of the committee on program and arrangements. Patterson named Dr. W. A. Hunt, Joe Moss, Joe Pickle and the Rev. James A. Puckett as members of the committee.

The annual meeting is the occasion for installation of the officers and for the presentation of awards for outstanding service by adults to boys.

This marks the first time in several years that the affair has been held here.

Infantry Division Target Of Soviets

WASHINGTON (AP) —Russian soldiers are being told that the U.S. Army's 25th Infantry Division is a pack of "obedient mercenaries" with a history of killing civilians and running away in battle.

The "Tropic Lightning" Division catches a full load of Soviet invective in a kind of "know your enemy" treatment in the Soviet army publication Red Star.

It isn't clear why the Russians chose the 25th Division for this treatment at this time, since the unit which is based in Hawaii has not faced Soviet troops in Europe or elsewhere and has been only marginally involved in the Viet Nam war.

IN SIBERIA

There may be a clue, however, in the Red Star's recitation of the history of the division whose 27th Infantry Regiment was part of an expedition which landed in Siberia after the Russian revolution.

"Terrible atrocities were committed by the American interventionists in our land," the Red Star said.

The article, whose translation became available at the Pentagon, was billed as the start of a series on American divisions which Red Star said "are destined for realizing the aggressive plans against Socialist countries."

"The 25th Infantry Division occupies a special place in the role of building the American Army," Red Star said.

QUICK MOVEMENT

"The Pentagon does not hide that fact that it is destined for quick movement to those regions where expansion of the dollar dashes against the resistance of the people."

Children Admit Store Robbery

Two girls and a boy admitted Tuesday to city detectives the breaking and entering of the Lewis Variety Store last week, and the theft of 14 tubes of model glue from the store. Detectives said the girls were both nine years of age, and the boy only five.

The parents of the youngsters have promised to pay the store for a broken window and the stolen glue. The children, all too young to come under juvenile law, have been released to their parents.

In another of the burgeoning glue-sniffing cases piling up on city officers, three little girls, ages between five and six years, were apprehended early this week by a patrolman near the railroad tracks in the act of "sniffing" glue. They were also turned over to their parents, according to city detective Sherrill Farmer, who is acting as juvenile officer since the resignation of Bob Darland.

Elks Officials Visit Lodge

The grand district deputy of Texas West and the vice president of Texas Elks State Association paid an official visit to Big Spring Lodge 1386 of BPO Elks Tuesday night. Initiation of four new members was accomplished and the lodge received two gifts from the BPO Does.

Warren Klinger, district deputy, and Charles Elliott, vice president of TESA, both of Midland, watched as Jack Thorpe, Lamar Green, Asa D. Woodfin and Marvin F. Japel received the initiation into the lodge.

Gifts received from the Does included stainless steel service for 48 people to be used in the new lodge home when completed, and a $100 check to go toward construction of the building. This was the second $100 check presented by the Does. The Does served refreshments.

Klinger and Elliott praised the work of the lodge members in the monthly entertainment of patients at the local VA Hospital. This project has been carried on many years. The local committee has also been instrumental in getting other Elks Lodges in West Texas to take an active part in the project and at the present time, the Midland Elks come to Big Spring with a program for the VA patients once a quarter.

Exalted Ruler Dudley Jenkins reminded Elks of the special Western Show which features Rose Maddox, tonight at the city auditorium. It is sponsored by the Elks.

Minor Accident

Only one minor accident was reported to police Tuesday, officers said. Sheila Ann Powell, 1510 Eleventh Place, and Lereine Dunn Walker, 1807 Mittel, escaped injury when their cars collided just south of Eighteenth Street on Mittel.

Petition Requests Receiver Take Over Grain Firm

A petition asking that a receiver be named to take over the assets and operations of the Big Spring Grain and Commission Co. Inc. has been filed in 118th District Court. The plaintiffs are Delmer Batlo and Roy Swafford.

Their petition alleges that they have sold the grain company $20,428.48 worth of grain for which they have not been paid. This sale, they relate, was a partnership deal. In addition, the petition says that the defendant owes Swafford $9,465 individually.

The petitioners claim they have reason to believe that the corporation has debts totalling $250,000. They estimate the assets of the corporation at $75,000.

The petition asks the court to appoint a receiver to handle the assets and operations of the corporation.

Firms Charged With Price-Fix

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A federal grand jury Tuesday indicted 12 firms operating in California, Texas and Oklahoma for allegedly fixing prices on oil underground pumps and pump parts.

The indictments allege violations of the Sherman Anti-trust Act.

A Justice Department spokesman said underground pumps were used to surface 80 per cent of the crude oil recovered in the country in 1963. Selling and maintaining the pumps was a $37 million business during the same year.

CRIMINAL INDICTMENTS

Two criminal indictments were returned and companion civil cases seeking injunctions were filed.

If convicted, each company faces a maximum penalty of a $50,000 fine on each count, the spokesman said. The first indictment named 11 companies and contained two counts.

Companies and their oil well pump headquarters named in the first count of one indictment—for allegedly fixing pump sales and service prices in California since April, 1960—are:

Armco Steel Corp., Los Nietos, Calif.; Dresser Industries, Inc., Huntington Park, Calif.; United States Steel Corp., Garland, Tex.; U.S. Industries, Inc., Longview, Tex., and Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co., Garland, Tex.

SECOND COUNT

The same companies were also named in the second count of the indictment—for allegedly conspiring to boost the price of underground pumps by 10 per cent beginning in November of 1963. Also named in the second count were:

Bradford Motor Works, Walter O'Bannon Co. and Dover Corp., all of Tulsa, Okla.; Harbison-Fisher Mfg. Co., Fort Worth, Tex.

The second indictment named only Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co. and Bethlehem Steel Co., which has its oil well pump headquarters in Tulsa. It alleges that Bethlehem sold oil well pumps and parts made by Youngstown at a price set by Youngstown.

Cross-Country On Horseback

DENVER (AP) — Eddie Snell of Gardena, Calif. says he's enjoying his horseback ride from Los Angeles to New York, but his horse Pegasus doesn't show equal enthusiasm.

Pegasus has lost 150 pounds and since moving into the Rocky Mountain country has cut back mileage by a half to about 15 miles a day.

Even so, Snell said, he hopes to ride into New York City sometime in February—after making a long southerly detour by way of the LBJ Ranch near Johnson City, Tex.

Snell, 44, said the purpose of his ride is to publicize the need for money for heart disease research. He doesn't accept contributions but urges donations to research foundations.

His 17-month-old daughter died five years ago of a congenital heart condition.

His wife Yvonne drives a pickup truck with a camper along the highway beside the plodding horse. With her are their children Gary, 8, Mark, 4, and Ronnine, 8 months.

Snell stops occasionally along the way for brief jobs playing his guitar and singing.

Angelo Paper Award Among Top Winners

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — The Associated Press Managing Editors Association announced today the award of citations to 43 Associated Press members for outstanding participation in the AP news and newsphoto report.

Thirty-nine newspapers and four broadcast members of the news cooperative were honored at the annual five-day APME convention which began Tuesday. Each of the recipients made an important contribution in the coverage of a fast-breaking news event in behalf of all AP members during the past year.

STORIES, PHOTOS

In many cases the members singled out for the awards provided stories or newsphotos, or both, for other AP members before they could make use of the material themselves.

Five of the awards stemmed from coverage of the disastrous tornadoes and floods that hit the Midwest in April 1965. Other awards were related to coverage of the Los Angeles racial riots, the Dominican Republic conflict, the Air Force jet tanker crash that killed 30 in Kansas and the natural gasoline explosion in Indiana.

Among recipents was the San Angelo Standard-Times of San Angelo, Texas for coverage of the Sanderson flash flood disaster.

State Areas Again Balmy

By The Associated Press

Clouds were hard to find and it was downright balmy the length and breadth of Texas again today.

An early morning thundershower dampened the Dalhart area in the north part of the Panhandle and a few patches of clouds developed in southern areas of the state. Skies were clear elsewhere.

Tropical storm Debbie, stalled in the Gulf of Mexico more than 100 miles southwest of Mobile, Ala., appeared to be weakening and promised to have no effect on Texas.

A cool front approaching from the west was expected to lower temperatures in the Panhandle by evening and to spread over the north half of the state by Thursday.

Widely scattered showers were predicted in every section except Southeast Texas tonight or Thursday.

Skeletons From 6th Century BC

NAPLES, Italy (AP) — The skeletonized remains of a man about 40 and a boy of about 6 have been found, virtually intact, in two tombs dating from the early 6th Century BC.

Prof. Bernardo Yohannowski, acting superintendent of antiquities, announced the latest find at the newly discovered necropolis at Vico Equense, near ancient Pompeii. He estimated the dates of the tombs.

DEAR ABBY

Harsh Penalty

DEAR ABBY: I rent a room in the home of a very nice couple who have three children between the ages of 9 and 14. They treat me like a member of the family.

A couple of months ago, I started to notice that a few things were beginning to disappear from my room. Nothing of value, just a few candy bars. Last week I noticed that some packages of cigarettes were missing from the carton I kept in my dresser drawer, so I mentioned it to the parents. They got the children together and found that the nine-year-old boy was the guilty one. The father spanked him very hard, took away his television privileges for two weeks and made him sit on the front porch with a sign around his neck which read, "I STEAL."

Abby, I am sick to have been the cause of all this. Now I wonder if I did the right thing in telling the parents. The things the boy took were of so little value. Had I known the lad would be punished so severely I would have kept quiet. Help me sleep nights. ROOMER

DEAR ROOMER: Yes, you did the right thing in telling the parents. You may have thwarted a tendency toward dishonesty before it grew to more serious proportions, which actually was a kindness to the child. The parents were cruel to have made humiliation a part of the punishment. But don't feel responsible for their actions.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a boy who calls a girl up and asks her if she wants to go out and park with him?

INVITED TO PARK

DEAR INVITED: He sounds like an efficiency expert with a character deficiency.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: You recently published a letter signed "DEPRESSED." The woman had called a recent bride's mother, asking if the bride had ever received the wedding gift she'd sent. (The bride hadn't thanked her for it.) The bride wrote this woman a rude letter telling her the gift HAD been received but she was a little late in writing her thank-you notes, and that she didn't appreciate being "reported" to her mother for her tardiness.

For nearly 21 years I have wondered WHO sent me a pair of beautiful milk glass vases. If only the sender would have called MY mother and asked if I had ever received them, I would have been only too happy to thank her profusely. The gift came from Barker Brothers in Long Beach, Calif., with no card enclosed. I wrote to the store trying to find out who sent it. They replied (I still have their letter), stating they had no record of the sender. I have enjoyed the vases all these years and haven't the faintest idea who sent them. I had many friends in Long Beach at the time, but I'm sure I have one less now, through no fault of my own.

The course, provided by the University of Texas extension service, is being sponsored locally by Walker Auto Parts, 409 E. 3rd. The classes, however, will be held in the Charlie Staggs building, 417 E. 3rd.

All journeymen mechanics are invited to participate if interested in the latest development in carburetion. This advanced course is designed to changes and service information on Autolite, Carter, Holley and Rochester carburetors.

A fee of $7.50 will be charged each enrollee, which covers tuition and all printed materials. The university furnishes the services of Donald L. Childs, instructor. Those interested should contact Walker Auto Parts.

Computer Will Hunt Criminals

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Beginning next March 1, a computer will go to work for the state police to aid in the capture of criminals and the recovery of stolen cars.

Supt. Arthur Cornelius Jr. says it will speed messages between state police stations and to make this information available to troopers on patrol.
