OBJECTS TO MOTHER'S CUSTODY—Mrs. Lorraine Van Buren of San Pablo, Calif., right, has been searching for her sons nine years since they were taken away by her former husband, James Schultz. She finally found Schultz teaching school in Broward county in Florida, under an assumed name. Circuit Judge Ted Cabot in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., ruled Mrs. Van Buren custody of Brent, now age 12, shown with his father at left. Brent said to his mother, after the judge's decision, "I'm not going anywhere with you, you witch." (AP Wirephoto)

49 Plane Crash Victims Rescued; More Sighted

Stewardesses Nearly Missed Hectic Trip

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Ruth Mudd, a stewardess aboard the Flying Tiger Line plane which ditched in the Atlantic Sunday night, was fired a few days ago and had decided to quit flying, one of her San Francisco roommates said today.

It was not known whether Miss Mudd, 24, was among the survivors plucked out of the Atlantic. The roommate said she thought the dismissal was for economy reasons.

LYNDHURST, N.J. (AP) — It was stewardess Carol Ann Gould's day off.

But the Flying Tiger Line need ed another flight attendant to accompany the 68 servicemen and their families to Frankfurt, Germany.

Officials of the line called Miss Gould's mother, Mrs. Edward Ziegler of Lyndhurst Sunday.

"I told them where she could be reached—at her girl friend's house where she stayed for the night," Mrs. Ziegler said today. "If only I hadn't given the number to the person who called."

Miss Gould, 22, was one of the two New Jersey stewardesses aboard the Super Constellation ditched in the Atlantic Sunday night.

AN UNUSUAL RISK of doing business as a service station operator was discovered by Rex Fields this morning when this car, then on the service rack, was discovered to have a skunk under the hood. O. C. Brown cautiously approaches to take a look. Eventually, the hood was again closed to make the skunk think night had come, but at noon he was still believed to be under there. Employes did not want to disturb him for fear the odor would remain in the car for a long time.

Two Bodies Recovered

By ANTHONY WHITE

LONDON AP)—An international rescue fleet hauled at least 49 plane crash victims from the gale-whipped Atlantic today and then sighted still more terrified survivors clinging to a raft.

Planes and ships scoured the disaster area 500 miles west of Ireland where a chartered Super Constellation carrying American servicemen and their families ditched in darkness Sunday night after three of its engines failed—one by one.

There were at least 76 persons, 68 servicemen and their families and crew of 8, aboard the stricken Flying Tiger airliner.

Two bodies were recovered in addition to people saved. One account put the number rescued at 50.

Two dramatic races were in progress.

In one the rescue ships and planes were desperately trying to locate the missing survivors before 10-foot waves, cold and the darkness of another night could snuff out their lives.

In the other efforts were being pushed to get medical attention to those already picked up, many of whom were injured and suffering from shock and exposure.

The 7,004-ton Cunard freighter Andania radioed that she had sighted a raft from the ditched airliner with people aboard.

The terse message from the Ahdania did not say how many people were aboard the raft or whether the Andania had succeeded yet in snatching them from the sea.

But the freighter's message spurred on the many other ships and planes in the area.

The 9,041-ton Swiss ship Celerina took 48 survivors aboard after being directed to the scene by Lt. Joseph K. Lewis, 25, of Tuscaloosa, Ala., the pilot of a U.S. Air Force C118.

Lewis arrived at the scene just as the Super Constellation was ditching. He made an accurate fix and circled the area—serving as a beacon for the planes and ships rushing to help.

Bound for Germany, the Super Constellation went down after three of the big plane's four engines conked out.

Officials said rain swept the area as two rescue ships hove to and began an almost incredible rescue operation in the darkness and tossing seas. Lights from the plane's life rafts guided them to the scene.

The British Admiralty said many of the survivors were injured and neither of the first two ships to reach the scene had a doctor aboard.

A U.S. Air Force spokesman said a report from the freighter Celerina at the scene indicated that the pilot of the ditched plane, Capt. John D. Murray, 44, of Oyster Bay, N.Y., had been picked up alive.

At 10 a.m., the Air Force reported the weather in the area closing in rapidly with visibility extremely poor and gales whipping up huge waves.

Start Of Estes Trial Delayed By Motions

By FINIS MOTHERSHEAD

TYLER (AP) — Court action started today in the case of Billie Sol Estes, whose extensive agricultural empire collapsed in bankruptcy and indictments. But at a late hour there remained some question of whether he would go on trial.

Estes' attorney was expected to make a lengthy series of motions before selection of a jury could begin. A motion for delay was expected.

Estes did not appear in the small courtroom in this East Texas city at the start, delaying his entrance while attorneys argued motions.

John D. Cofer, noted attorney specializing in crime cases, is chief of the defense.

Cofer's first motion was to ban cameras of all types from the courtroom. But Judge Otis T. Dunagan turned down this plea, although he ruled against use of cameras outside the courtroom on the same floor.

The hearing also was televised. Judge Dunagan said he believes it better for persons wishing to attend the trial to stay home and view it on their screens rather than to try to crowd into the 125-seat courtroom.

He added, "There will be no circus."

His appearance in District Court here comes only two days after the remains of his empire were sold in Bankruptcy Court at El Paso for $5.8 million plus $1.2 in interest to Morris D. Jaffee, San Antonio financier.

At one time friends estimated Estes was worth $150 million and he testified his operations were worth $40 million "as a going business."

The 101 witnesses summoned for the trial include three of Estes' former business associates, Coleman D. McSpadden of Lubbock and Harold E. Orr and Ruel W. Alexander of Amarillo. All three pleaded guilty last week in U.S. District Court to five of 29 counts of an indictment charging mail fraud and conspiracy. Orr and McSpadden received 10-year prison terms and Alexander a six-year term.

Estes, who also awaits a federal court trial, has pleaded innocent to all 29 counts.

Estes will be tried here on four indictments involving his operations in obtaining loans on anhydrous ammonia fertilizer tanks, widely used on irrigated farms in West Texas.

Estes has been accused of bilking finance companies out of more than $20 million through loans on fertilizer tanks which the state contends never existed.

It was Estes' fertilizer tanks operations that landed him in jail March 29 and set off an investigation by federal and state agencies and legislative committees into his liquid fertilizer business, storage of government grain, cotton grown under transferred acreage allotments and a number of other ventures.

Congressional probers sought to question Estes, who has been free on bonds totaling 140,000, but acceded to a request by Texas authorities to await the outcome of his trial.

House Debating Reserve Call-Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House debates today President Kennedy's request for standby authority to call up as many as 4 million reservists if developments make it advisable.

Prompt passage of the authorizing measure was expected. The Senate unanimously approved it Sept. 13.

Debate on the international stance of the United States will continue during the week.

On Wednesday the House takes up a Senate-passed resolution warning Moscow and Havana that this country will not tolerate a military buildup in Cuba to the point of endangering U.S. security nor the use of force or threats to spread Cuban-style communism in the hemisphere.

The resolution is unlike attack by some members who think Congress should go beyond warnings and, for example, authorize a blockade of the Communist-ruled island.

A full-fledged foreign policy debate apparently is in the making, although amendments to the bill will be barred if the House accepts the ground rules laid down by its Rules Committee.

The Senate has no major legislation of international impact scheduled unless, late in the week, it gets to the foreign aid appropriation. Administration strategists are trying to restore major parts of the $1,124,400,000 the House cut from the Presidents requested $4,754,800,000.

On Tuesday the Senate is scheduled to vote on the compromise farm bill that would provide some but not all the tools Kennedy said are needed to control grain surpluses.

New Mexico Boy Drowns

Larry Keith Farnsworth, 9, of Hobbs, N. M. was drowned Sunday afternoon at Lake Thomas at about 3:15.

According to reports, the boy's father and another Hobbs man and the youth had been fishing. They came to a dock on the north side of the lake near the Bull Creek channel and had gone up on the bank to clean the fish they had caught.

Larry is said to have taken off the life jacket which he had been wearing all day, and run out on the pier. He tripped, fell in the water, and did not come up.

Witness said it was about 10 minutes before searchers found the body. All attempts at artificial respiration failed.

Justice of the Peace W. C. Davidson was called to the scene, and ruled that death was caused by accidental drowning. The body was taken to Bell Funeral Home by Bell Ambulance Service, and was transferred to Hobbs late Sunday night.

The father of the victim had gone immediately back to Hobbs to be with the boy's mother who was said to be in poor health.

Exhibit Of Wildlife Is Urged Here

The Scurry County commissioners' court heard a report from the long-range planning committee of the Chamber of Commerce at their regular Monday meeting this morning.

Max West, chairman of the committee, and Rev. Harry Vanderpool, chairman of the wildlife exhibit committee, reported that they felt such an exhibit would be an asset to the community.

Presently about eight animals are to be shown. Such animals as buffalo, longhorn steers, antelope, and others which are connected with the history of Scurry County. An initial outlay of about $3,000 was seen for the pens, with a yearly maintenance cost of about $2,000.

Commissioner Bill Herring stated that he felt such an exhibit should be a city-county project. The Chamber group said that they would meet with the city council to see what if any participation they would consider in the project.

In other business the court heard a report from a representative of the Esco Elevator Co. of Ft. Worth on the possibility of installation of an elevator in the courthouse. No action had been taken on this project at noon.

3 Soldiers Die In Highway Crash

RELTON, Tex. (AP)—Three Ft. Hood soldiers died and another was injured critically when their car hit a concrete pier on Interstate 35 today.

Those killed were identified only as Oscar V. Wertha, Juan Gonzales and Jose Cruz Rozato.

Slant-Well Probe To Resume In Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — The Texas House General Investigating Committee will continue its probe of slant-hole 'oil well drilling Tuesday in Houston.

David Witts of Dallas, counsel for the committee, said a hearing similar to the previous two in Dallas will be held.

He said the Houston hearing would last "one or two days."

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson refused comment about the hearing.

Wilson and his assistants have been working with the Texas Railroad Commission, Department of Public Safety and the House committee in an investigation which has turned up more than 100 wells that bottom beneath adjacent leases.

Dist. Atty. Frank Briscoe began an investigation in Houston earlier this month of possible thefts of oil through slanted drilling in Harris County's Friendswood field.

The House committee met late in August after the attorney general and the railroad commission finished a preliminary investigation into reports of deviated drilling.

Many prominent officials and oilmen have been subpoenaed in the probe, which has been directed mainly at drilling practices in the East Texas, Hawkins and Quitman fields.

The House committee is seeking to determine what legislation can be passed to prevent illegal drilling.

Roughly $25 million in penalty suits for alleged violations of railroad commission rules have been filed since the investigation began.

Wilson has said any criminal prosecution would have to be done by the various counties involved.

At Longview, Rangers began serving subpoenaes today.

Longview sources also said the hearing will be moved to Austin for sessions Thursday, Friday and possibly Saturday.

Witts said it will mark the first time the companies which service wells in the field have been mentioned in the probes of deviated wells.

The committee counsel also announced that the members of the Federal Petroleum Board have been subpoenaed to appear in Houston and that he personally planned to invite the Harris County district attorney to testify.

The Houston district attorney has been investigating slanted wells in the Friendswood or Webster field in Harris County and has taken his findings before the Harris County grand jury.

The committee has complied with requirements of the U.S. solicitor general regarding testimony by federal employes and by informing Washington of the nature of the testimony in calling members of the Federal Petroleum Board.

Patterson Rites Set

Funeral services will be held at 3 p.m. Tuesday for Mr. James Merton Patterson, 70, of Fluvanna.

Mr. Patterson, who had been in poor health for some time, died at Cogdell Hospital at 8:30 Sunday. He was born Sept. 27, 1891 in Mason County.

A 64-year resident of Scurry County, Mr. Patterson married the former Miss Ellen Smith in Fluvanna in 1913. She survives.

Also surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Marionette Baze of Snyder; a son, J. D. Patterson of Fluvanna, and a brother, V. L. Patterson, also of Fluvanna.

The funeral services will be held at the Fluvanna Church of Christ with Roy Phemister, minister of the Stanton Church of Christ and a former minister of the Fluvanna church, officiating. He will be assisted by Oscar Batten, present minister of the church. Burial will be in the Fluvanna Cemetery under the direction of Bolger Funeral Home.

MONOTONOUS 86° GREETS AUTUMN

Eighty-six has become a monotonous number at the city water-plant where official weather records are kept.

The thermometer went on an "86" binge last week, and the first day of autumn yesterday didn't change the pattern. Sunday's maximum reading was 86 degrees, the fifth day in a row the thermometer topped out at that figure.

However, state reports this morning indicated that some progress is being made on the high temperature situation. Presidio's high reading Sunday was below the 100-degree mark.

Russian Seeking Three-Man Board

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko was reported seeking support today for a three-man board to supplant the United Nations acting Secretary-General U Thant.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk met briefly Sunday with Thant, strongly backed by the United States for re-election as the sole executive of the United Nations. Rusk will talk with Gromyko Tuesday.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev first told the General Assembly in 1960 that the U.N. executive should consist of three men, each with a veto, representing Western, Communist and neutralist countries.

The Russians shelved that so-called troika plan to permit Thant's election last Nov. 3 to the remainder of the five-year term of the late Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold expiring next April 10.

Over the weekend, an informed diplomatic source said, Gromyko told another assembly delegate the Russians still want the troika, and the principle should be applied from top to bottom of the U.N. structure.

If Thant is to continue in office he must be re-elected by the assembly after first being recommended by the Security Council, where the Soviet Union could veto him.

The United States came out for Thant's re-election months ago. Gromyko, talking with a reporter Friday night, declined to express an opinion about Thant.

That was after Gromyko, speaking in the assembly's general debate, said the United Nations would deal more effectively with the tasks it is faced with "if the three existing main groups of states — the Socialist countries, members of the Western bloc and the neutralist countries—were represented in its leading bodies."

Delegates noted that this was only a vague approximation of the troika idea, that the secretary-generalship was not referred to and that Gromyko gave the subject only one short paragraph out of a 10,000-word speech.

African, Asian and American sources have said that no matter how hard the Russians push the troika idea they can never get majority support for it.

Some have remarked that the Soviet Union is bound to agree to Thant's re-election because he has strong support in the Asian-African group, which comprises 53 of the 104 U.N. members.

Unity Project Launched By Guido

By FRANK N. MANITZAS

BUENOS AIRES AP)—Backed by triumphant army rebels, President Jose Maria Guido set out today to bind the nation's wounds with a hint of amnesty for all and a promise of free elections.

Guido went on the radio Sunday night hours after the last resistance crumbled in north Argentina, ending five days of armed forces conflict that shook the country.

Guido himself was thrust into the presidency last March by the military high command that took a beating from rebel forces led by Brig. Gen. Juan Carlos Ongania.

Ongania accused the high command of making Guido a virtual prisoner with the aim of leading Argentina into military dictatorship. He and his backers said they wanted to free Guido from military dictate and restore democratic institutions.

Guido switched to the rebel side in the midst of the conflict. While he told the nation he alone would exercise the powers of chief executive, he laid down a policy advocated by the rebels.

"There will be elections of new authorities within the briefest possible time in free polls," Guido declared. "This is the firm purpose of the government."

This echoed a statement by Ongania's forces at Campo de Mayo, the nation's largest garrison, where the army rebellion began last week.

Guido had promised elections by October 1963, with new officials taking office the following May.

In an apparent reference to followers of ex-dictator Juan D. Peron, Guido said all sectors of the population will be free to take part in politics provided they adhere to democratic principles.

While proclaiming themselves anti-Peronists, a rebel communique said the problem of the Peronist masses can be solved only by winning them over to democratic processes.

When the Peronists won victories in provincial and congressional elections last March, the military high command overthrew President Arturo Frondizi, blaming him for permitting Peronists to resume political activity. They installed Guido and he nullified the election results.

"The country has received a terrible lesson," Guido told the nation. "A chapter of history has been written in blood."

In the five days of fighting involving tanks, artillery and jet fighters, 11 civilian bystanders were killed and 43 wounded. Military losses were put at 3 dead and 12 wounded.

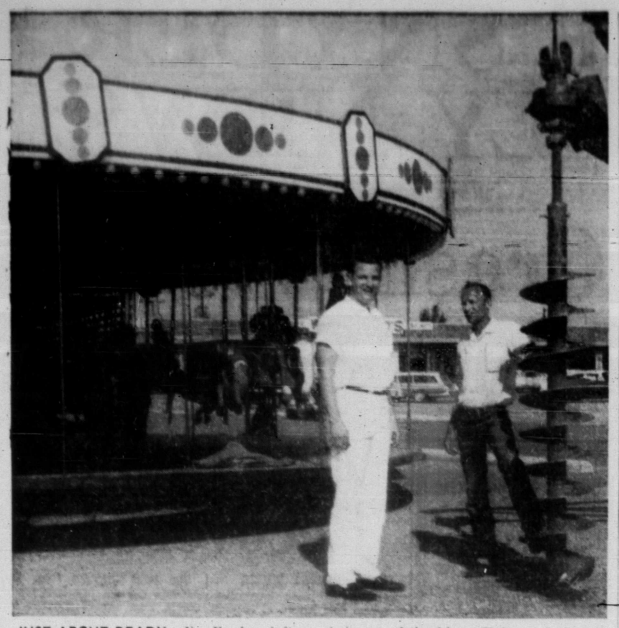

Two military leaders are under arrest—Gen. Juan Carlos Loriogn, former commander in chief, and Gen. Bernardino Labayru, former chief of staff.

Ongania, named by Guido as acting commander-in-chief, told his troops in Campo de Mayo: "I pray to God that this will be the last time the army clashes for reasons of dignity, justice and legality."

Last to surrender were the forces of Gen. Federito Tornanzn Montero in the province of Salta, 770 miles northwest of Buenos Aires.

Setting out to form a new cabinet, Guido called back Alvaro Alsogaray, the strong man of his government who submitted his resignation along with all other ministers last week to give the president a free hand.

In addition to the economics ministry, Alsogaray was made acting interior minister. This gives him control over the nation's security forces.

A feature of the carnival will be free entertainment every night. Leading the entertainment tonight will be a four-piece combo headed by guitarists William Robinson and James Hamblen.

Hearing Starts In Meredith Case

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—James H. Meredith arrived at federal court today where a nine-judge U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals began hearing contempt charges in his University of Mississippi desegregation case.

The appeals court ordered the State College Board and three Ole Miss administrators to show cause why they should not be held in civil contempt for failing to enforce Meredith's court-ordered admission.

Meredith, a 29-year-old Negro, was ready to testify.

An hour before the hearing started the corridor outside the court was crowded with spectators.

Gov. Ross Barnett of Mississippi, empowered by the State College Board to act as university registrar in the Meredith case, went to the Oxford campus Thursday and denied him admission.

The Department of Justice said Barnett's action was meaningless and asked contempt citations against the 13-member board and three top administration officers of the university—Chancellor John Davis Williams; Dr. Arthur B. Lewis, dean of the College of Liberal Arts; and Robert B. Ellis, the registrar.

U.S. Dist. Judge Sidney Mize, in a hearing at Meridian, Miss., Friday, ruled that the three school officials had no power in the case because the board had delegated power to Barnett. The judge held that the board alone had power to enforce a federal court order to admit Meredith to the university.

The Justice Department earlier had asked the appellate court in New Orleans to cite the State College Board for contempt. After Mize found the school officials innocent, the Justice Department obtained an order from the appellate court to make them parties to the same action involving the school board.

Barnett, who has declared that he would go to jail if necessary to defend segregation and keep Meredith out of school, has not been named in any federal court order.

The first full week of classes starts today at the Oxford campus. Registration was held Wednesday and Thursday but students could register as late as 5 p.m. today by paying an additional $10 fee.

Stock Market Down-Trend Continuing

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was jolted by a sharp sell-off in heavy trading early this afternoon.

When trading opened, the market resumed a steep decline which hit it Friday. After holding temporarily just before noon, prices started to slip lower again.

Investors on the New York Stock Exchange unloaded big blocks of stocks. In the first two hours, 1.99 million shares changed hands, compared with 1.32 million in the like period Friday.

A good many blue chips were down from fractions to $1 a share and more. Losses were larger for for some of the more volatile "growth" and aerospace stocks.

At noon the Associated Press 60-stock average had fallen 2.2 to 217.7 and Standard & Poor's index was off .69 at 57.00. The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials sagged 6.53 to 583.25.

Wall Street brokers said investors were influenced by last Friday's skid in this closely watched market barometer below the 600 level, which had been regarded as a technical barrier to a continuing downdrift.

IN TRAINING — Airman Basic Jerry W. Weaver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jewell W. Weaver, 1704 Twenty-eighth Street, is being reassigned to Chanute AFB, Ill., for technical training as a USAF aircraft accessory systems specialist. A 1962 graduate of Snyder High School, he was selected for the specialized course on the basis of his interests and aptitudes.

Snyderite Aids Quake Area Victims

Army PFC John M. Roberson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Roberson, 1500 Twenty-seventh Street, recently arrived in Iran with the 8th Evacuation Hospital to help care for victims of the disastrous earthquakes which struck Iran earlier this month.

Roberson was airlifted from Germany, to Ghazvin, Iran, where complete medical facilities were set up to handle the large number of casualties from the earthquake. The unit, supported by Army helicopters, is not only meeting medical needs of the victims, but also is helping to prevent the outbreak of epidemics of disease.

The hospital is also aiding in the comfort of those left homeless by the disaster by providing food, clothing, sanitary drinking water and temporary shelter.

Roberson is a medical corpsman with the 8th, which is regularly assigned at Landstuhl, Germany. The former Snyder High School student entered the Army in March, 1961 and completed basic training at Fort Hood before arriving overseas the following Sep-

Kennedy Says Aid Vital To Defeat Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy says Americans must not tire of foreign aid spending because it's the "way we can defeat communism."

Underdeveloped countries now receiving assistance from the United States and Western Europe are on the front line, Kennedy said, "if we can keep these countries free then we can keep the peace and keep our own freedom."

"That's what this aid fight is all about," the President added.

Kennedy's recorded remarks, broadcast Sunday on a CBS television program "Washington Report," amounted to another appeal for support of his foreign aid program, now embattled in Congress.

He made no direct mention of the $1,124,400,000 cut last week by the House from his request of $4,754,800,000 in foreign aid funds. The bill has gone on to the Senate.

Rep. Otto Passman, D-La., whose Appropriations subcommittee suggested the slash, appeared on the same program and said foreign aid is a bottomless pit.

"We are substituting a check book for a foreign policy," Passman said. "I believe we are spending this nation into destruction."

Beauty May Welcome JFK

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)— One of the new Miss USA's first duties may be to welcome President Kennedy to West Virginia.

The President campaigns at Wheeling Thursday night, and officials of the beauty pageant that ended here Saturday night hoped to have Miss USA, Amedee Chabot of Northridge, Calif., there to meet him.

Amedee, 17, a high school student, was adjudged the fairest of 44 at the conclusion of a full week of festivities.

Schirra To Study Fuel, Water Use

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —Spacecraft fuel and water consumption will be major items under study when astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr., makes his intended six-orbit flight around the world, now set for Oct. 3.

Proper supplies of fuel to control the spacecraft's attitude and water to maintain comfortable cabin and suit temperature are necessary if the next goal in Project Mercury—an 18-orbit, one-day flight—is to be met while using essentially the same spacecraft.

Project officials made several disclosures about the flight today as engineers worked to correct a valve problem which cropped up in the capsule last Friday. The trouble necessitated removal of the 4,200-pound craft from atop its Atlas booster rocket and caused a five-day delay in the planned Sept. 28 launch date.

A leak was detected in the valve and subsequent investigation revealed it was sticking. The valve is to be replaced and the present timetable calls for the spacecraft to be rejoined with the Atlas on Wednesday. Six to eight days of checkout then are required before firing.

John F. Yardley, Cape Canaveral base manager for McDonnell Aircraft Corp., which makes the capsule, said the most important thing he'll be looking for on Schirra's flight will be water consumption.

"There is ample water aboard for a six-orbit mission," Yardley reported. "We're redesigning the capsule for an 18-orbit flight but we don't know how much water we'll need."

Yardley, who was responsible for preliminary design of the Mercury capsule, said the three-orbit journeys of astronauts John H. Glenn Jr. and Malcolm Scott Carpenter gave engineers no indication of the amount of water needed for one-day missions.

Yardley explained this was because Carpenter and Glenn tried to squeeze many things into their relatively short five hours in space. The activity generated body heat which resulted in extensive use of the water coolant system to maintain a comfortable temperature inside the space suit. Glenn and Carpenter ran danGerously low on hydrogen peroxide fuel and both had empty tanks when they landed. This was caused primarily by the astronauts' mismanagement of their fuel supply. Carpenter at one point inadvertently had two fuel-consuming control systems operating simultaneously.

Robert L. Foster, McDonnell's engineering systems manager, reported the spacecraft carries 55 to 57 pounds of hydrogen peroxide—which is used to fire attitude-controlling jets spotted about the capsule surface. He said eight to 10 pounds is about all that is required to perform the basic six-orbit mission if everything goes right.

To conserve fuel, the control system in Schirra's craft has been modified to prevent inadvertent firing of the 6-and 24-pound thrust jets when a burst from the small one pound-thrust jets would suffice, and steps have been taken to prevent two control modes from functioning at one time.

Clark Favors Home Prayer

LARCHMONT, N.Y. (AP)—U.S. Supreme Court Justice Tom C. Clark told fellow Presbyterian laymen Sunday that he preferred children to pray privately in their homes.

The prayers, he said, would be much more effective than prayers recited by children in public.

Clark voted with the majority of the Supreme Court last June 25 when it outlawed a short nondenominational prayer composed by the New York State Board of Regents and voluntarily adopted by the New Hyde Park, N.Y., board.

The justice made his comments in a speech on "God, Prayer, and the Rights of Man" at the annual men's breakfast of the Larchmont Avenue Presbyterian church.

"There has been quite a crusade of late for prayers by our children. But I have not heard one word said in support of prayers by them at home," he said.

"I submit that private prayer in the home would be much more effective. It would, I believe, have great weight with children—and for that matter with adults as well—if begun at an early age and honored as a daily task."

"We have turned over the rearing of our children to the schools, the streets and the juvenile courts," Clark said.

4 Mishaps Are Logged

The Snyder city police reported a two-vehicle accident at 10 a.m. today at the corner at Thirty-second Street and Avenue L.

Involved were a 1957 Ford panel truck driven by Carl Foree and a 1961 Chevrolet driven by Thomas Robert Davis. Damage to the delivery truck was estimated at $275 and to the Davis car at $300.

A Bell ambulance was called to the scene, but there were no injuries.

Also over the weekend the Snyder police investigated a mishap at 9:24 p.m. Saturday in which a 1962 Chevrolet driven by Karen Ann Carpenter and a 1956 Ford pickup driven by Manda Minor of Ira were involved. The pickup damage was estimated at $150 and the car damage at $350. There were no injuries.

Sunday at 8:10 p.m. an accident was investigated at the corner of Twenty-fourth and Avenue N. Involved was a car driven by Federico Hubando of Ira. Two gas meters were damaged.

A minor accident Sunday at 5:21 p.m. was also reported. Involved were a 1962 Thunderbird driven by Mary Jo Harrell and a 1955 Buick driven by Cicino Tesina. Damage to the Harrell car was estimated at $15. There was no damage to the Tesina car, and no injuries.

Mail Robbery Reward Hiked

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—The reward offered for solution of the $1.5-million mail truck robbery Aug. 14 near Plymouth, Mass., was raised from $50,000 to $200,000 today.

Postal officials said they believe the $200,000 is a record reward offered in the history of American law enforcement.

Postmaster Gen. J. Edward Day announced the increased amount in a statement prepared for a news conference here.

On Stage Star Shines

By ROBERT TUCKMAN

LONDON (AP)—A tiny new ballerina is flitting across the British stage in a big way.

Critics are hailing her as a successor to Dame Margot Fonteyn.

She is Lucette Aldous, 23, and so small (only five feet) that when she attended one ballet school they couldn't find a place for her in the chorus.

She has been a member of the Ballet Rambert company since May.

She leaped to fame only recently for her dancing in "Don Quixote."

Of this performance, critic Richard Buckle wrote:

"As Kitri, the innkeeper's dancing daughter (in Don Quixote) Lucette Aldous bursts like a new comet into the select heaven of brightest stars...she was clearly born to excel in the swift, the witty the mischievous and the exhilarating."

Dancing, says Lucette, was almost an accident for her. Her mother, also a dancer, wanted her to take it up but didn't start her at it until the relatively late age of 9.

"If my shorthand speed had been better," recalls Lucette, "perhaps I would have taken a secure office job."

Lucette was born in New Zealand and as an infant was taken to Australia, where she grew up.

Black-haired and with black eyes, the diminutive dancer has a startlingly small head but well in proportion with her lithe figure.

Lucette was married last year while her husband, Maurice, was still an undergradutate at Cambridge University. He plans to become a concert pianist soon.

"When that time comes," says Lucette, "We won't permit conflicting professional engagements to interrupt our marriage. I shall be with him, and I think that having a husband and children is more important than any career."

Lucette refused to be overwhelmed by the acclaim after "Don Quixote."

The next night can only be better or worse than the last one," she says. "Both are a strain and one can't help that. I'm happy at the moment—setting toward maturity as a dancer before it begins to exhaust my body.

"Really, it's at the rehearsals that the most exciting things happen for a dancer. Ballet Rambert is the oldest British Ballet company, and it is very family-like. Opening night wouldn't have been such a night had it not been for the warmth of contact with every familiar face on stage."

BACK STAGE . . . Ballerina makes up.

ON STAGE . . . Lucette Aldous wows critics.

A TREACHEROUS WAKE

A Few Inhibitions Unlikely To Do Our Society Any Harm

By INEZ ROBB

It was Mrs. Patrick Campbell, in the horse-and-buggy era, who explained that she didn't care what people did as long as they didn't do it in the streets and frighten the horses.

This redoubtable woman and actress (who created the role of Elize Doolittle, by the way) went to her reward about the time that horses completely disappeared from our streets and it became humanly impossible to do anything on or off the streets that would frighten an internal combustion engine.

These long, long thoughts more or less came to a head the other day when I was importuned, via mail, to subscribe to the latest newsletter to be offered the public.

Now anyone who can read or whose name is on a mailing list is fully aware of the fact that the multiplication of newsletters in recent years would bring a blush to the cheek of a robust rabbit. Such letters have proliferated until every facet of modern life has a little newsletter all its own. Each is filled with the latest scuttlebutt, true or false, in its special field.

So I suppose I shouldn't have been surprised when I received a handsomely embossed invitation, printed on the best bond, to subscribe to a biweekly dope sheet on sex. Come to think of it, this "Biweekly Newsletter on Love" will close the gap in the only field untouched so far in the weekly tip-sheet survey of human and inhuman relations.

The brochure gives its titillating promise to bridge the yawning gulf or vacuum created by newspapers shortsightedly pledged to purvey only the news that's fit to print.

For example, the newsletter will give "colorful extracts from court testimoney in divorce and adultery cases." It promises other exotic news, too.

"Dear Friend," the brochure begins, "Are you a member of the sexual elite?" Three purple pages later you are entitled, if the answer is "yes," to subscribe to the latest newsletter "at a special introductory price of only $14.95." This is a saving of $10.05 from the regular subscription price of $25 per annum.

Is there, you may be mentally asking, any promise that the dope sheet on sex will be mailed in a plain wrapper? How really old-fashioned, even purient, is such a question! A prospective subscriber who would frame such a query certainly doesn't belong to the "elite" at which this newsletter aims.

Any kindergarten graduate knows the danger lurking in inhibitions. It is the height of folly today to adjust one's mental or emotional dress before leaving the room. The plain wrappers have long since been peeled off life and literature.

Undoubtedly a man arrested in this country for selling dirty post cards on the street would go scot-free if he pleaded in court that his merchandise is art and that censorship is the only obscenity. In the end, it would be the individual who brought the charge against the post-card merchant who would find himself in the dcok accused of hamstringing art and possessing a narrow, perverted mind.

Indeed, "censorship" is the dirtiest word in the language since the mantle of art has been wrapped around anything, no matter how scatological. Four-letter words are now art. Nor do I want the above interpreted as a plea for censorship, but rather a suggestion that a few inhibitions are in order and won't do us any harm. Dobbin may be retired, but what about a little horse sense to replace him?

Slant Well Probe Resumes Tuesday

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The Texas House General Investigating Committee will resume its hearing into slant oil well drilling in Texas at Houston Tuesday.

Committee counsel David Witts said it will be a continuation of those held in Dallas.

More than 100 wells angled to steal oil from adjacent leases have been found in East Texas, Hawkins and Quitman fields, according to the Texas Railroad Commission, which regulates oil well drilling.

Columnist's Mail Report Here Again

Driverless Ferry Goes Across Harbor

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—More than 100 astonished ferry passengers stepped ashore into the garden of an apartment after crossing the harbor Sunday with nobody at the heel.

The ferry Lady Ferguson sped across the harbor at its maximum 10 knots and crashed into the sea wall.

Two crewmen were aboard—but the ferry master was still on the wharf on the other side of the harbor. An inquiry was ordered.

Junior Editors Quiz on FOSSILS

QUESTION: Were trilobites insects?

ANSWER: The mysterious "bug" which one of the young fossil hunters in our picture is holding up to show his friend is a print of a trilobite in a fragment of rock. But it wasn't really an insect. It's true that scientists say the trilobites belonged to the large body of small animals with jointed legs called "arthropods," which include insects, crustaceans such as lobsters and crabs, and arachnids such as spiders. But the trilobites belonged to a class all by themselves, a class now extinct. We only know about them from the prints they left in the rocks of long ago. Scientists say these prints come from marine animals which lived between 500 million and 200 million years ago and that these were the most highly developed animals of their time, the kings of the ancient sea. Before them, there were only worms and lowly animal life like sponges and coral. Fish and other vertebrate animals came later. So, even if he looks like a bug to us today, the trilobite was, according to the scientists, the Mr. Big of 5 hundred million years ago!

FOR YOU TO DO: Many young people find fossil collecting a fascinating hobby. Ask your science teacher if there are any fossils to be found in your area. Also fossils can be bought quite cheaply and you can trade with other collectors.

SPORTS

Cubs, Chiefs, Tors Among The Unbeaten

Members of the District 3-AAA family batted only .400 during Friday's games, winning two of five encounters, but the district is still hitting at a healthy .667 clip against outside foes with eight victories as stacked up against four losses.

A trio of 3-AAA members possess unbersmirched 2-0 records at this stage of the season. Brownfield gained stature with Friday's 26-12 clouting of highly respected Hobbs, New Mexico, to remain in the elite circle, while Lamesa barely escaped with its 8-7 nudging of Andrews to up its record to 2-0. Defending champ Lake View rested on its laurels, having already won out in its two early battles.

Snyder was dropped to 1-1 as a result of its 14-6 loss to Levelland, as was Sweetwater, a 24-0 victim of Abilene.

Colorado City ranks as the only 3-AAA team not yet sporting a victory. The Wolves were defeated 14-7 by Monahans Friday to plummet them to 0-2.

Games of this Friday involving 3-AAA elevens include Snyder at Big Spring, Kermit at Lamesa, Brownfield at Andrews, Odessa Ector at Lake View, Sweetwater at San Angelo, and Colorado City at Stamford.

Liston Rated 3-2 Favorite

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — It was the quiet tension before the storm today in the camps of heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson and challenger Sonny Liston—and also in the counting room for their heralded $5 million title fight Tuesday night in Comiskey Park.

This was the day for Liston, now a dwindling 3 to 2 favorite, to end the comedy of gloves prelude to the big scrap. It also was countdown day for the sponsoring Championship Sports, Inc., to get into orbit on the fantastic closed circuit TV financial flight plotted for this bout.

The Illinois State Athletic Commission was to march into Liston's camp around noon with, presumably, the biggest boxing gloves that Everlast has ever made for a final fitting of Liston's huge hands.

The 11th hour activity of the two principals, the grim Patterson, the glowering Liston, called for a final limbering up, and then disappearance from their Fox River Valley, Ill., suburban camps into pre-fight seclusion in Chicago.

At Liston's Aurora Downs harness track site, some wrangling was expected as the big-fisted challenger tries on, for the third time in eight days, the Everlast-make glove which Patterson will wear.

Liston prefers a glove already fitted to his bulging fist, by a Chicago mitt-making specialist, Sammy Frager. Patterson and his handlers feel the Frager glove padding is too thin and may lead to cut the champion.

For all the talk of a $4 million closed circuit TV gross, the bout sponsors were short of achieving a predicted 75 to 80 per cent filling of some one million seats available at 264 outlets throughout the country.

The long distance electronic viewers, paying perhaps a $5-16 average for seats, must really buy tickets today and Tuesday to pour into the till the predicted $4 million figure.

While betting odds favored Liston, a horde of veteran writers, including a large foreign contingent, gave the edge to Patterson by a 60 per cent margin.

Surprising conclusion of the Patterson-backers was that the champion, easily decked himself in most of his fights, would stop or knock out Liston—never floored in his career.

Tide Gives Notice Of Usual Strength

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The man in the long black coat, the undertaker, isn't quite ready to start work on the University of Alabam, defending national college football champion.

Stripped of the services of All-America Pat Trammell by graduation and bone-crushing Mike Fracchia through a leg injury, the Crimson Tide was supposed to be a bunch of ghosts.

Bear Bryant's club started operations last Saturday with a convincing 35-0 victory over Georgia, a Southeastern Conference rival. The shutout was not quite unexpected because Alabama always is stingy with points.

The offensive onslaught indicated that Trammell and Fracchia might not be missed as much as expected. Sophomore quarterback Joe Namath filled Trammell's shoes, directing the attack with the pose of a veteran and tossing three touchdown passes by boot.

Alabama was rated No. 3 in The Associated Press pre-season poll behind Ohio State, wich is supposed to step up on the throne, and Texas.

The Crimson Tide takes on Tulane in a night game in New Orleans Saturday. This should be no problem. But last year's game against the Green Wave was supposed to be easy pickin's, too. Instead, 'Bama eked out a skinny 9-0 victory. It was the only game of the season in which Bryant's bruisers failed to score in double figures.

Ohio State opens its season in Columbus against North Carolina. The Tar Heels, 7-6 losers to North Carolina State in their opener, don't figure to be any problem for the loaded Buckeyes.

Texas, the unanimous choice for the Southwest Conference crown, however, showed some holes in its 25-13 decision over Oregon. The Longhorns trailed 13-3 at one point. They play Texas Tech in a night game Saturday and an emphatic victory is a must.

The only other member of the top ten that didn't play last week, Michigan State, No. 4, also swings into action against Stanford at Palo Alto.

One member of the top ten was beaten and another tied in the biggest surprise of the first shake-down Saturday. Duke, ranked No. 8 fell before Southern California, 14-7, in the television game of the week, and Purdue, No. 7, could do no better than a 7-7 tie with Washington.

Louisiana State, No. 5, downed Texas A & M, 21-0, while Mississippi, No. 6, took care of Memphis State, 21-7. Penn State clobbered Navy, 41-7.

Besides the strength of Alabama and the chinks in Texas' armor, other points were underscored in Saturday's games.

JUNIOR RIFLE CLUB members pay close attention as Darvin Baze, left, instructs them in the proper care of the weapon. Shown with Baze are Danny Lee, president of the club, Becky Austin, vice president, Willie Everett and Preston Lane. Meetings are held on Thursdays at 5:30 p.m. at the armory and membership is open to those below the age of 21. The group is sponsored by the Home Demonstration Agent.

WITH CANNON-TOLAR ONE-TWO PUNCH

Oilers Back To Old Haunts

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Houston Oilers are back in stride in the American Football League today, and it's mainly because of the ground work done by Charlie Tolar and Billy Cannon.

And ground work they did—the hard way against a defensive line reputed to be the league's best.

This blockbusting pair rolled for 212 yards Sunday as the champion Oilers blitzed the San Diego Chargers 42-17.

This club record-making performance came after the Oilers had been held to only 69 yards rushing in a 34-21 lacing a week ago by Boston, which had fans wondering if perhaps the two-time champions weren't running out of gas.

Houston's triumph put it in a three-way tie for first place in the Eastern Division with Boston, which won Friday night, and New York, which handed Buffalo its third straight loss, 17-6 Saturday night. All are 2-1.

Dallas' 26-16 victory over Oakland put the Texans atop the Western Division with a 2-0 mark. San Diego is 1-2, Denver 2-1 and Oakland 0-2.

In the National Football League, Washington upset Cleveland 17-16, Green Bay won over St. Louis 17-0, New York defeated Philadelphia 29-13, Detroit whomped San Francisco 45-24, Pittsburgh beat Dallas' Cowboys 30-28, Baltimore conquered Minnesota 34-7 and Chicago took Los Angeles 27-23.

Tolar has been the Oilers' big gun on the ground so far this season, and added 142 yards in 18 carries to the 144 he had gained in the first two games. Cannon, last year's ground-gaining champ got 70 in 12 tries for a three-game total of 214.

After George Blanda hit Charlie Hennigan with a 25-yard pass for Houston's first score, Cannon scored the next two on runs, got a third on a 13-yard pass from Blanda. Tolar got the fifth.

Len Dawson, entrenched as the Texans' new quarterback, hit end Chris Burford three times for touchdowns, and Durwood Pennington added the other points on a pair of field goals and three conversions. Oakland scored on ex-Texans' quarterback Cotton Davidson's 10-yard run and a 2-yard burst by Clen Daniel.

The Titans new quarterback Lee Grosscup threw one scoring pass to Thurlow Cooper, and got running support from Dick Christy. Christy scored the Titans' first touchdown, which the Grosscup-Cooper combo set up. Warren Rabb's pass to El Dubenion got Buffalo's score.

Redskins Surprise Cleveland, 17-16

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

That was the sound the Cleveland Browns heard late Sunday afternoon when ex-teammate Bobby Mitchell took off on a touchdown run in their game against the surprising Washington Redskins.

Fizzle!

That was the sound two minutes later of the Browns' threatened quick getaway in the National Football League's Eastern Conference race after Mitchell's touchdown run over a pass from quarterback Norman Snead helped the now-amazing Redskins ring up a 17-16 victory over a team rated at least a two-touchdown favorite.

Ho-ho!

That was Mitchell having the last laugh on his old boss, Paul Brown, who deemed him expendable by trading him to the 'Skins for top draft choice Ernie Davis.

Mitchell, the halfback the Browns didn't want and the one the Redskins so desperately needed, has helped turn the Eastern race into the expected dog fight, and—hold on—put Washington into first place.

The Redskins, who tied Dallas a week ago, lead the Browns, New York Giants, St. Louis Cardinals and Pittsburgh Steelers, all 1-1, by a half game today. The Giants, losers a week ago to the Browns, evened their record with a 29-13 victory over Philadelphia, now 0-2. St. Louis fell before the Green Bay Packers 17-0, while the Steelers edged Dallas 30-28 as Bobby Layne set a pair of NFL career passing records.

The Packers, Detroit Lions, Chicago Bears and Baltimore Colts are all 2-0 in the Western Conference. The Lions continued their rampage behind new quarterback Milt Plum, whipping the San Francisco 49ers 31-10, the Bears belted the Los Angeles Rams 27-23 and the Colts defeated the Minnesota Vikings 34-7.

In the American Football League, champion Houston walloped San Diego's Chargers 42-17 and Dallas won over Oakland 26-16 in Sunday games while the New York Titans defeated Buffalo 17-6 Saturday night.

Mitchell lost favor in Cleveland with his sometimes erratic play, and when he became a Sundays-only player last year because of Army duty, his effectiveness was cut even more. So Brown bundled him and rookie LeRoy Jackson of Southern Illinois off to the Redskins for Davis, the Syracuse All-America and Heisman Trophy winner.

The deal has worked in the Redskins' favor. Davis has not been able to play because of a blood disorder, while Mitchell and Jackson, the first Negroes ever to play for the 'Skins, have helped put teeth into Washington's attack. Mitchell scored three times against Dallas last week, and then tormented his old buddies no end Sunday.

After fullback Jimmy Brown fumbled near midfield and Ed Khayat recovered for the 'Skins, Snead hit Mitchell with a pass over the middle, and he jolted free from a converging group of Browns' defenders and streaked down the sideline to complete a 50-yard touchdown play. Bob Khayat kicked the winning punt.

The 'Skins then blocked two field goal tries by Lou Groza in the final minute to nail down the victory, which matched their season totals in each of the last two years. Groza field goals of 32 and 37 yards and Tom Wilson's touchdown had given Cleveland a 16-10 lead.

QBC MEETING HERE TONIGHT

The weekly meeting of the Snyder Quarterback Club is set for tonight at 7:30 in the high school cafeteria, having been shuffled up from Tuesday due to a conflict in accomodations.

Reports from local coaches will be heard, along with a scouting report on Friday's opponent, the Big Spring Steers. The past week's Snyder-Levelland game film is also scheduled to be shown for the benefit of club members.

Wills Sets Stolen Base Mark, But...

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's like this, Mr. Commissioner. We have a problem. It involves Maury Wills, a bunch of stolen bases, Ty Cobb, the record book and an asterisk or so.

Yessir, that's right, he stole two more Sunday, in his team's 156th game. That makes 97. Which, of course, is one more stolen base than Cobb got with Detroit in 156 games in 1915. Yessir, of course you're aware of it.

But the question is this, Mr. Commissioner, how does it go in the book? With an asterisk because of the longer schedule this year? Or without an asterisk? Or just how?

Oh, you never said anything about an asterisk? Just something the writers thought up. Yessir. But how about a ruling on the Wills record?

How's that again? "I'm not making an immediate ruling because I don't think one is necessary. I'm using the same script as last year in the Maris situation. It doesn't involve 154 games or 156 games or 162 games. It involves the two different schedules."

Yessir, got it. But you may make a ruling later? Oh. Well, thanks, Mr. Commissioner.

Wills, the Dodger flash, swiped his 96th and 97th in Los Angeles' 12-2 loss to St. Louis Sunday, thereby attaining the highest total of any baserunner in a single season in modern history.

So he's got a record, but from an interpretation of Commissioner Ford Frick's ruling of a year ago, it will go in the books with the notation that it was made in 162 games, while Cobb's record of 96 will stand for 154 games. (The Tigers played two ties the year Cobb set the mark.) Wills had 95 through 154 games.

Frick made his ruling in connection with Roger Maris' quest of Babe Ruth's home run record. Ruth had 60 in a 154-game schedule, while Maris got 61 in 162 games for the Yankees.

Wills' base stealing wasn't enough for the Dodgers, however, who ran into a 15-hit Cardinal attack and saw their National League lead trimmed to three games when San Francisco routed Houston, 10-3. The Dodgers and Giants each have six games left, all at home. Any combination of four Los Angeles victories and Giant defeats will secure the flag for the Dodgers.

Cincinnati beat Philadelphia, 4-2, in 10 innings; New York edged Chicago, 2-1, and Milwaukee crushed Pittsburgh, 10-3, in the others.

In the American League, the New York Yankees clinched at least a tie for the pennant on the strength of a 5-1, 10-inning triumph over Chicago while Minnesota whipped Baltimore, 9-2. Kansas City won from Detroit, 3-1, and Cleveland whipped Los Angeles, 11-5, in the others. Washington at Boston was rained out.

Stan Musial and Bill White led the Cardinal assault on Dodger starter-loser Don Drysdale (25-8) and four successors, including Sandy Koufax. Musial and White each drove in three runs with a double and single.

San Francisco closed up a bit, using a seven-run sixth inning to break open a tight game at Houston, Matty Alou's two-run double, his fourth hit of the game, and a three-run homer by Willie McCovey, his 19th, were the big blows. Billy O'Dell scattered seven hits in winning his 19th.

Vada Pinson's 23rd homer, a two-run job with one out in the 10th, provided Cincinnati with its victory over Philadelphia. Hank Aaron drove in four runs with his 42nd and 43rd homers, while Eddie Mathews contributed his 28th homer, two triples and a single in Milwaukee's easy triumph over Pittsburgh.

Frank Thomas drove in both New York runs with his 33rd homer and a single in the Mets' last home game against Chicago.

Snyder Polo Team Tripped

LUBBOCK—Snyder, in its initial test of the year, was thumped 10-1 by the Lubbock Polo Team here Sunday.

Composing the Snyder team were Cecil Lankford, Willis Cumble, Dwaine Davis, L. J. Mueller, Robbie Robinson, Rudy Minor and Gail Pettitt.

Davis accounted for Snyder's lone goal during the game.

Raider-Steer Fray Opening SWC Season

Not too happy with the opening showing when the teams won only three games out of seven, the Southwest Conference starts the race for the championship this week.

It will come in only one game, however, with Texas meeting Texas Tech at Lubbock Saturday night. Five of the teams will be playing inter-sectional football, something the league did very well at last week, while the other—Texas, A&M—meets University of Houston in a home area game.

The conference felt good about its intersectional record in the opening games, winning three out of five. It was when they played the home folks—Baylor against Houston and Texas Tech against West Texas State—that the trouble arose.

Texas splluttered around and finally beat Oregon 25-13 in the headline game. But the Longhorns certainly couldn't point to an impressive performance.

Texas Christian beat Kansas 6-0 but had little to brag about. Kansas lost because of costly penalties.

Only Arkansas was impressive. The Razorbacks rode high, wide and handsome over Oklahoma State 34-7 with a blistering passing attack featuring sophomore Billy Gray, who threw for three touchdowns.

Texas A&M was strapped by Louisiana State 21-0 and Southern Methodist fell to Maryland 7-0 after a rugged fight.

Baylor took a disappointing 19-0 upset from Houston and Texas Tech couldn't handle the Pete Pedro menace, and fell to West Texas State 30-27.

Rice, the only team that didn't open the season last week, starts Saturday night and it's against mighty Louisiana State at Baton Rouge. Texas Christian will be at Miami, Southern Methodist hosts Southern California and Baylor entertains Pittsburgh.

Tiger-Steer Pasteboards Put On Sale

Reserved seat tabs for Friday night's Snyder-Big Spring football clash in Big Spring are on sale today and Tuesday at the School Administration Office to all Tiger season ticket holders.

Beginning Wednesday morning and through Friday at 11 a.m., the sale will be opened to the general public. Price of the reserved seat ducats are $1.50, and all are between the 40-yard lines.

Student tickets, going for 30 cents each, are also on sale now. Those tickets at the gate the night of the game will be 60 cents.

Looking Back

10 Years Ago
From The Snyder Daily News
Sept. 24, 1952

A wire from Snyder's district attorney Bob Davie apparently got results from the House Crime Committee this morning.

The Associated Press reported today that committee wanted to study a 71 page transcript of testimony given to a Scurry County grand jury here last October. Rep. Waggoner Carr of Lubbock, committee member, will study this testimony before the committee gets todether again.

Carr said yesterday that the committee had turned up evidence of bootlegging in West Texas but not to the extent indicated by a recent Potter County grand jury report.

Over 120,000 Take Vaccine

By The Associated Press

More than 120,000 persons took Sabin oral polio vaccine in Galveston County on the Gulf Coast and in Smith County in East Texas Sunday in Texas' continuing fight against the dread disease.

About 63,000 persons took Type II vaccine in Galveston County at 26 clinics.

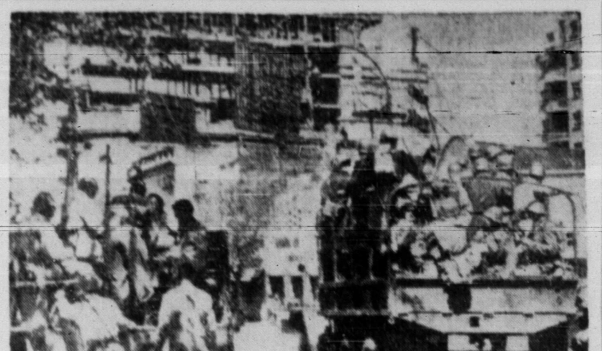

Doctors said this was the first time Type II vaccine had been used on the Texas Gulf Coast. They added they were well pleased with the reception. Make-up clinics will be held next Sunday.

Between 80 or 90 per cent of the population of Smith County appeared at clinics to make a total of about 60,000 persons.

Type I vaccine was used there. Doctors there also indicated they were pleased with the turnout.

Fear Of Nuclear War Causes Man To Use Restraint Today

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The inescapable conclusion from history is that man throughout most of it has acted like a bird-brain.

He used reason to philosophize but fulfilled his ambitions by invasion and settled his dilemmas with weapons.

The Egyptians, the Hyksos, the Babylonians, the Sumerians, the Dorians, the Achaeans, the Carthaginians, the Romans, the Goths and Visigoths and Ostrogoths, the Huns, the Vandals, the Moslems, the Christians, the Jews—they sought solutions in battle.

Now at last, with weapons so powerful they can wipe one another out at long range, men are beginning to show some restraint, although it may not last, and in the restraint have a sense of bafflement.

The Red Chinese ache to take over Southeast Asia but hesitate because it's this country, not theirs, which has nuclear bombs, a discretion they may discard when they have bombs, too.

In the 1940s, when this country had a monopoly on the atom bomb, Russia was discouraged from pushing its luck in Greece and Turkey.

Since Russian communism is a crusading philosophy there is only one explanation for its reticence about gobbling up Europe: not reason but fear that invasion means war and in a nuclear war there may be only the dead and no winner.

Fear of that same kind of war is the only explanation for the self-control the West exhibited when the Russians threw up the Berlin wall, a risk the Russians took and one the West was unwilling to take by smashing the wall, now that the Russian have nuclear force.

Now communism is encamped in Cuba, Russia pumps in men and supplies, outraged Americans in Congress, forgeting American outrage in this country when India invaded tiny Goa last year, called for invading Cuba.

Try it, the Russians said, and it means war.

President Kennedy did his best to chill such martial ardor and the overwhelming majority in the Senate contented themselves with a resolution warning communism not to push beyond the shores of Cuba, or else.

The resolution cited the Monroe Doctrine with its warning to European powers to stay out of the Western Hemisphere while overlooking another promise in the doctrine laid down by President Monroe. That the United States would stay out of Europe's affairs.

It hasn't, either in two world wars or since. The United States has been very deeply involved in Europe's affairs, first with arms and then with men, since President Truman with his doctrine revised the Monroe Doctrine by assuming American responsibility for stopping communism in Europe.

If tomorrow the United States went back to the Monroe Doctrine by pulling out of Europe, which it won't, and in return expected Europe, meaning Russia, to stay out of this hemisphere, there's no reason to think Russia would—and it would probably be fatal to think so.

So the two great antagonists, relaying like their ancestors on force to discouge each other from impetuous programs, are both showing a sense of bafflement. Russia with Europe and the United States with Cuba.

The nuclear age is so young and so new the two giants are just barely getting used to it. Neither is adjusted to it, which is no surprise when it is remembered that for the first time in history enemies can destroy each other without crossing a frontier.

Out of this the United States and Russia may have to work out new arrangements for living on the earth together. Their time so far has been concentrated pretty much on accumulating power.

So far they've had time to live with it. But, since an accident in judgment could precipitate a war, time is not an endless commodity that either side can enjoy with an untroubled sense of well-being.

Therefore, some new arrangements, based on reason, are necessary. Whether modern man has learned enough from the disasters of his ancestors to begin to be reasonable at last, is yet to be demonstrated.

If the answer is no, the answer may be so sudden that mankind won't even have time for dismay.

TOP TV TONIGHT

By BUD EVANS

7:30 NBC "Saints and Sinners". Red Buttons is guest star in the role of a man who endangers his brother's life in an attempt to capitalize on the latter's involvement in a news story. Everett Sloane and Frank Sutton are also guests and Nick Adams has the continuing role of reporter Nick Alexander.

OTHER HIGHLIGHTS

6:30 ABC "Cheyenne" moves into its eighth season with "The Burango Brothers", the story in which Cheyenne exposes himself to the threat of danger by refusing to marry the sister of three unruly mountain men. Sally Kellerman has the role of the spurned bride.

6:30 NBC "It's a Man's World". Impulsive Tom-Tom Dewitt and practical Wes McCauley clash head on over whether to let homeless Vern Hodges move in with them on their houseboat. Ted Bessell, Glen Corbett, Randy Boone and Michael Bruns are seen in "Stir Crazy."

7:00 CBS "Opening Night" is an hour-long special with guest stars Lucille Ball, Jack Benny, Andy Griffith, Garry Moore and Danny Thomas. This unprecedented blending of comedy talent serves as a kick-off for the new television season.

7:30 ABC "Lax of the Plains man". A worthless drunken bully attracts Marshal Buckhart's attention when he shows up in the local saloon one evening announcing he is looking for a husband for his daughter and will sell her to the highest bidder. Joen Anderson is featured.

8:00 CBS "The Road to Button Bay" is a special filmed report of the 1962 Senior Roundup of the Girl Scouts with Garry Moore as narrator. The program centers on members of a special patrol from Kansas, which participated in the roundup held in Vermont.

9:00 CBS "Loretta Young" returns to television with a new show in which she portrays Christine Massey, a magazine writer and widowed mother of seven children. James Philbrook is seen as the editor and Celia Kay, Beverly Washburn, Sandy Descher, Carol Sydes, Tracy Stratford and Dack Rambeau are seen as the children. In tonight's premiere, an unrehearsed television visit with the Masseys develops into an unexpected controversy.

9:00 NBC "Telephone Hour" returns with a series of eight full-hour color specials. Tonight Janet Blair, Robert Merrill, Roberta Peters, Byron Janis, The Brothers Four, Lupe Serrano and Rudolphe Nureyev will be starred. Donald Voorhees, who must be as old as Alexander Graham Bell, conducts the Telephone orchestra. COLOR.

Bomb Scare Closes Door Of Church

By BENNET BOLTON

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Worried Vatican authorities closed the great central doors of St. Peter's today to shield the mother church of Roman Catholicism against an unknown bomber.

Vatican gendarmes stood reinforced guard as Italian police and explosive experts sought clues to the origin of two incendiary bombs found in the church Saturday night. Had they exploded, the devices could have ruined the church and destroyed its art treasures.

A high Vatican source said there was little doubt the intended bombing was directed against the Ecumenical or World-wide Council opening in the basilica Oct. 11.

The usual throngs of visitors were admitted today through a smaller door, under close scrutiny of Italian plainclothes police.

The security moves were described as the tighest in Vatican history.

The time bombs were found at the base of the tiers of upholstered wooden seats installed for the 3,000 prelates who will attend the council.

Eight workmen who had been engaged last Saturday in the area where the explosives were found were under intense questioning.

Investigators sought to establish whether the two bombs were placed by the same person who set off an explosive in St. Peter's July 14 that chipped a marble statue. They also examined the timing mechanism attached to one of the bombs to learn when it was set to go off.

A workman found one of the bombs just after the church closed Saturday night.

Tariff Walls Not Easy To Tumble

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The world's tariff walls won't come tumbling down overnight. As Congress puts the finishing touches on a sweeping grant of powers to the President to work toward freer trade, the key word today still is bargaining.

The President will have power to bargain with the Common Market and England and Japan. The goal is to lower, perhaps abolish in time, their tariffs or quotas or other restrictions on the admission of American goods. In return the bargain would include similar lowering of barriers or penalties in this country on the admission of foreign goods.

Such bargaining is usually a long, slow process. It can go on, industry by industry, item by item, for many months or even for years.

Tariffs are only one of the walls that nations raise against others' goods. After the war, most European nations put strict quotas on the amount of American goods, item by item, that could enter. They also imposed currency restrictions that made it hard or impossible for an American manufacturer to get his money back in dollars or other currencies.

Quotas and currency barriers have been falling steadily in recent years. But some still remain.

The United States in turn has many trade barriers still. These range from strict quotas and allotments on importation of sugar, to tariffs that can be raised when domestic manufacturers show they are being hurt by foreign imports. This provision, though modified, is still in the bill.

Also, we have trade agreements with some countries whereby they send here only a certain volume of particular products, to have a major percentage of the market to American industry.

Both the United States and the Common Market have plenty on which to bargain.

What Congress is giving the President is the power to do this bargaining, more power than his predecessors ever had. The expectation is that the Common Market and others will see enough advantages to themselves in freer trade to reach agreement with the United States along these lines. If all sides are the gainers, the resulting greater economic health of the non-Communist nations will weigh heavily in any future conflict with the Reds.

The very fact that the President will have power to make such deals will make the Common Market more willing to enter into bargaining sessions.

But in every case the special interest of various American industries and agriculture will remain. Many trade barriers, therefore, may be slow in coming down, or may be lowered only gradually.

The President's triumph in getting these powers is unquestioned. But the final bargains may be some distance away and far from being a sure bet—either on our side or the Common market side.

Archbishop Raps Program For Braceros

HOUSTON (AP)— The Most Rev. Robert E. Lucey, the Roman Catholic archbishop of San Antonio, labeled the U.S.-Mexican bracero program "an international racket" Sunday night and said the lot of migrant workers is worse than 20 years ago.

Archbishop Lucey was here to receive the first annual Max H. Nathan Memorial Award in Human Rights from the Houston chapter of the American Jewish Committee.

The group said Archbishop Lucey was chosen to receive the award because of his work in behalf of migrants in Texas.

The archbishop called the federal bracero program an international racket and said many farmers in Texas and California prefer braceros Mexican nationals) to citizen migrant workers because the bracero is more easily exploited.

The program provides for the recruiting and temporary employment of Mexican farm workers in the United States.

Archbishop Lucey said the native migrant worker is treated worse now than he was 20 years ago and the only way he can better himself is to organize in his own interest or get public legislation.

"He now has neither and is defenseless and alone," the archbishop said. "Poverty has a terrific impact on a human being's conduct. If you hold a man in the gutter all his life, his vision is destroyed."

Vietnamese Kill 16 Guerrillas

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Vietnamese troops airlifted into the heart of the Mekong Delta killed 16 Communist Viet Cong guerrillas Sunday, U.S. sources reported today.

The operation took place 70 miles south of Saigon in swampy terrain bounded by the lower reaches of the Mekong River. Nine U.S. Army helicopters lifted elements of the vietnamese army's 21st Division into the area.

Six Persons Die In Washington Crash

RITZVILLE, Wash. (AP)—Six persons, four of them teenagers, died Sunday when two cars collided and one burst into flames.

Kenney Anderson, Bobby Evans, Sherrie Kautz and Connie Niederkleine, all 17 and all of Ritzville, were in the automobile which burned. Two other teenagers were injured.

In the other car were Maurice Apple, 58, and his wife, Sydelle, 53, of Spokane.

Navy Patrol Plane With 10 Missing

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—A Navy patrol plane with 10 men aboard was missing today in the Montague Island area of Prince William Sound on the southern coast of Alaska.

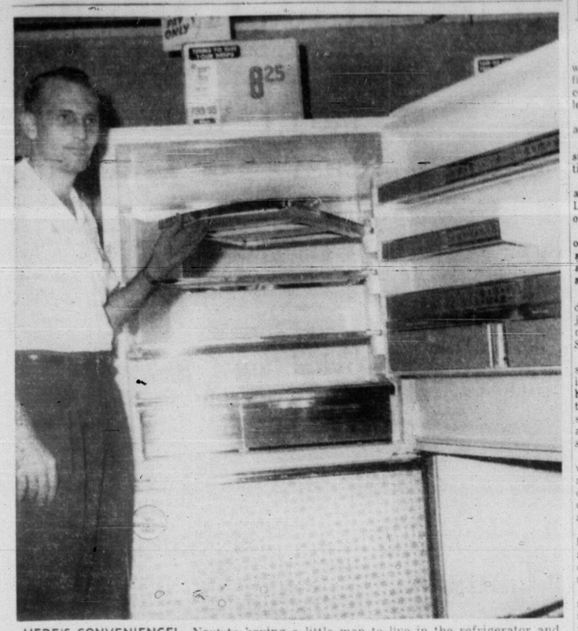

The two-engined P5M from San Diego, Calif., was last contacted by radio near Montague Island Saturday. It was on a routine patrol over the Gulf of Alaska, the Coast Guard said.

Planes, ships and shore parties searching for the plane were hindered by heavy seas and overcast skies.

CAR CRASHES INTO RESTAURANT — Bodies of two victims lie on the floor of Rosoff's restaurant in New York's Times Square district after an out-of-control car killed three persons as it crashed through a window of the restaurant. Driver of the car was Paul Bonadio of Fort Lee, N. J. (AP Wirephoto)

SNYDER BUSINESS NEWS

HERE'S CONVENIENCE!—Next to having a little man to live in the refrigerator and hand out things as they're needed, the three swing out shelves in the new General Electric Spacemaker refrigerator-freezer are the best things yet. Burl Loving, manager of the Goodyear Store, demonstrates the convenient feature. The full line of GE appliances is stocked by the store.

GE Appliances Featured At Goodyear Store In Snyder

The people who yearn for "The good old days" never include in their happy memories the unsanitary, inefficient ice boxes of years gone by. The modern refrigerator is one thing in today's living that they admit has made life a lot more pleasant.

The most modern refrigerator today is featured at the Goodyear Store right here in Snyder. It's part of the complete line of General Electric appliances featured at the store.

How does a manufacturer go about modernizing a refrigerator? The most obvious way of course is the outside design. This General Electric has done with their "Straight-line Design."

And along with this modern design, GE offers the homemaker her choice of white or mix-or-match colors. The aluminum decorative panel on the roll-out freezer has a beautiful snow flake pattern that will be a conversation piece. Or, that panel can be removed and replaced with an accessory decorator panel, just as can the refrigerator door. The decorator panels may be chosen from five popular wood grain finishes as well as coppertone and stainless steel.

But perhaps more important in the modernizing of a refrigerator is what goes inside. GE engineers have developed the "Frost Guard" that ends defrosting forever. Especially designed to banish frost forever, "Frost Guard" is faster and more economical than defrosting systems that rely on electric heaters. More reliable than single tube systems, basically designed for refrigerating, not defrosting.

Another major engineering breakthrough from General Electric is its "Freon" filled ployurethane insulation. Twice as efficient as ordinary insulation, it requires only one half the usual thickness and conserves valuable space for you. It is resistant to moisture, the deadly enemy of insulating efficiency.

Of course the engineers love it, but what does this new thin-wall insulation do for you? Just this. The new General Electric 18.8 cubic foot Spacemaker fits in the same space as the old 10 cubic foot model. In other words, there is 88 per cent more capacity in the same overall space.

Other refinements too are in the new GE refrigerators from Goodyear. Roll-out freezer compartments taking out shelves—circulating air—freeze and store ice service — all are conveniences for today's homemaker. And they can all be seen at the Goodyear store on the east side of the Snyder square.

Liberal terms and generous trade-ins are always to be found at Goodyear. Those are some of the reasons that Goodyear has become the appliance headquarters of so-many satisfied Snyder customers.

New Philharmonic Hall Has Debut

By HENRIETTA LEITH

NEW YORK (AP)—At approximately 9:01½ p.m. Jacqueline Kennedy walked into the box and bowed slightly.

At approximately 9:02 p.m. Leonard Bernstein wormed his way through the gentlemen of the Philharmonic Orchestra and poised his baton.

At approximately 9:02½ — one and a half minutes behind schedule — the orchestra played "The Star-Spangled Banner" and a brave but unfinished new world of culture was launched.

The new Philharmonic Hall—perhaps the most impressive marble temple of our generation—was beautiful. Beside it — concealed from the richly garbed crowd in the lobby by a hastily constructed plywood fence—were the rubble and construction tools of what will someday be the complex of buildings to be known as the Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts.

The First Lady was also beautiful—in peach-pink satin with an ankle-length bell-shaped skirt, a black velvet sleeveless bolero covered with black sequins, long black gloves and her new Gibson girl hairdo.

Bernstein was Bernstein — superb and irrepressible.

After the grueling performance in the new hall, which was carefully built and furnished to provide the perfect home for a symphony, Bernstein was asked what he thought of the acoustics.

"From where I stand," he said, "they're marvelous."

Earlier, when he and composer Aaron Copland went into an anteroom to receive Mrs. Kennedy's congratulations, the exuberant conductor kissed Mrs. Bernstein's cheek before he kissed Mrs. Kennedy's.

The First Lady, who had to wave in the middle of the opening concert to fly back to Newport, R. I., before the fog closed in, whispered to John D. Rockefeller III that she had never seen anything like the new building.

Neither had any of the other opening night patrons, who included almost everybody who is anybody in state and local government, the music and art worlds and society.

Philharmonic Hall—except for the marble pillars—is almost all glass on the outside. On the inside it is marble and gold, acres of cafe au lait carpeting, tiers of gold-and-brown upholstered seats, all set off by what will someday be an abstract sculpture of Orpheus and Apollo by Richard Lippold, but on opening night consisting of Orpheus and only a bit of Apollo—all suspended and mobile pieces of rectangular gold metal.

Musically, the feature of the evening was the world premiere of "Connotations for Orchestra," which the Philharmonic had commissioned from Copland, the noted American composer.

It was written in the 12-tone system, which does away with traditional harmonies and melodies, and is the first time Copland has used this technique for full orchestra.

Contest Won By Orphan

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP)—Gretchen House, a 20-year-old orphan from Niagara Falls, was chosen Maid of the Mist Sunday in a beauty contest that concluded the annual three-day festival at the American Falls.

The blonde, gray-eyed secretary was chosen over four other finalists before an estimated crowd of 7,500 on Goat Island. Miss House is 5 feet 4, weighs 115 pounds and measures 35-22-35.

The festival, in its seventh year, commemorates the legend of an Indian maiden who went over the falls to appease a god and save her people from destruction.

The new Maid of the Mist works at Bell Aerosystems Co., and supports a sister, 16, and a brother, 14. She is studying industrial relations in evening classes at the University of Buffalo.

Bus Hit By Train

GUADALAJARA, Mex. (AP)—A Pacific railroad train smashed into a passenger bus 22 miles north of Guadalajara Sunday killing six passengers and critically injuring 12, police reported.

The bus stalled on the tracks just as the speeding train approached.

17 Persons Dead In Texas Violence

By The Associated Press

Violence in Texas during the weekend claimed 17 lives but traffic mishaps, which generally account for a majority of the violent deaths, killed only six.

Shootings, drownings and fires added to the total.

The Associated Press count started at 6 p.m. Friday and continued through Sunday midnight.

Two youngsters drowned in separate accidents Sunday, one near Laredo in South Texas and the other near Snyder in West Texas.

Larry T. Farnsworth, a 9-year-old Hobbs, N.M., boy fell from a boat dock into Lake J. B. Thomas, 30 miles southwest of Snyder, and drowned.

Earlier Anna Maria Santos, 10, drowned in Lake Casa Blanca, just east of Laredo. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesus Santos of Laredo.

Rico Young, 30, of Dallas was shot to death early Sunday morning at the apartment house where he lived. The apartment manager told officers and newsmen that he shot Young during an argument and after Young reached in his shirt as if to draw a gun.

Arthur Lewis, 74, of Houston was fatally stabbed early Sunday after an argument with his next door neighbor. Police said murder charges were being prepared against the neighbor.

James Lloyd Parker, 33, of Houston, died early Sunday when a motorcycle and a police car collided at Bellaire, Houston suburb.

Oscar Lopez, 32, died Saturday night in a shooting at a Falfurrias tavern. Three other men were wounded. Officers continued an investigation Sunday.

A burst of gunfire erupted on a farm near the West Texas town of Silverton late Saturday killing one woman and injuring two others. Dead was Mrs. Blackie Ortega. A suspect was arrested.

Thomas H. Staggs, 31, of Dallas, was found lying across his bed Saturday night, dead. He was shot through the chest. There was no immediate ruling.

A retired Air Force officer, Gene Best, about 45, was found dead in his backyard at Amarillo late Saturday. A shotgun lay nearby.

A 9-year-old Big Spring boy died Saturday of injuries he received four hours earlier when struck by a car. He was John Locano, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Locano.

Mrs. Aurora Lemus, 28, of Reynosa, Mex., died in an Edinburg hospital Saturday of injuries she received Friday night when struck by a car.

Emil Walle, 70, was dead on arrival at a San Antonio hospital Saturday of a shotgun wound. A verdict of suicide was returned.

James Davis, 47, of New Braunfels, was burned to death Saturday when his house caught fire.

Lubin Loper, 27, of Sherman, died Saturday when a car left U.S. Highway 82 about 8 miles west of Sherman and rolled over several times.

A 7-month-old baby, Sherry Lynn Stuebgen, died Saturday a few hours after she was severely burned in her home at Borger.

Clarence Todd, 43, of Houston died Sunday of injuries when his car struck the rear of a parked automobile in Houston Saturday night.

A three-car collision 2 miles west of Sherman Sunday night took the life of Mrs. James David Loyd. Five other persons were injured.

Weird Scene Unfolds In Penthouse

NEW YORK (AP)—The scene was a West Side penthouse apartment. The characters were the apartment's occupant and a drug-crazed invader. The weapons were an 18th-century Chinese dagger and an Austrian cavalry Saber.

It wasn't a movie scenario. It happened Sunday in the fashionable apartment of Hugo Winston, 55, a sweater manufacturer.

Police said Lorenzo Hernandez, 29, an admitted drug addict, broke into the penthouse apartment while Winston and his wife were taking an afternoon nap. The intruder took the antique dagger from the living room and went on to ransack the bedroom.

Awakening, Winston jumped up and began grappling with Hernandez while the intruder jabbed at him with the ornate, 14-inch dagger.

The men fought each other until Hernandez' dagger handle broke off. He seized a hammer lying on the floor and struck Winston on the head, ending the duel.

Winston suffered cuts of the hands and head.

Hernandez was picked up by police a few minutes later hiding in a basement.

Oral Vaccine Plans Pushed

AUSTIN (AP) — Every Texas city was urged Sunday to conduct community wide oral polio vaccine programs.

The recommendation was made by the Texas Medical Association's Executive Board.

The board, in issuing its recommendation, said it was in complete agreement with the stand taken by the State Department of Health.

The department had stated that Types I and II Sabin oral vaccines are fully licensed and effective. It also recommended Type III for infants and children and for the entire population if there is a polio epidemic threat to a community.

The board also urged continued emphasis on an educational program urging doctors to perform tests on new-born babies to detect phenylketonuria (PKU), a disease that can cause mental retardation.

Adm. Packer Dies

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP)—Adm. Sir Herbert Annesley Packer, 67, commander in chief of the British navy's South Atlantic Command from 1956 to 1958, died at his home here Sunday.

Most Areas Have Clouds

By The Associated Press

Skies were cloudy over much of the nation today and fog, drizzle and rain dampened wide areas from California to Maine.

Temperatures generally were on the mild side for an early autumn day.

Warm air pushing north from the Gulf as far as the Dakotas touched off showers in the Mississippi and Ohio valleys. Rainfall in most cases was light and scattered.

Albuquerque measured .19 of an inch Sunday in a brief shower. The New Mexico city's first measurable rain since July 30. Showers also were reported in Southern California's desert area.

The coolest spot during the night was the Northeast where temperatures dropped to a chilly 35 at Old Town and Millinocket, Maine. Readings in the 30s and 40s also were prevalent in the Great Lakes region.

The Maryland State House in Annapolis has been listed as a registered national historical monument, making it the only state capitol to have that distinction.

Surveyor's Model Shown

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A full-scale model of the Surveyor an unmanned spacecraft, designed to precede American astronauts to the moon and send data back to earth, had its first public showing Sunday.

The Surveyor was on display at the Houston International Trade and Travel Fair. More than 20,000 persons viewed the spider-like model.

Plans of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration call for seven Surveyors to be positioned on the moon. Each will contain television cameras which will send pictures and data back to earth.

Drills will be electronically actuated to probe 18 to 60 inches into the moon's crust. Fragments picked up by the drills will be distributed to various instruments inside the unit for analysis.

Seattle was founded in 1851.
