

Bodies Removed From Ferry Wrecked In Japanese Storm

HAOKODATE, Japan (AP)—Japanese divers today began removing the first of hundreds of bodies in the sunken hull of the ferry Toya Maru which capsized Sunday in a typhoon with the loss of 1,172 lives.

Three divers recovered the bodies of 20 Japanese from the wreckage on the floor of Hakodate harbor. They located the bodies of about 40 of the 60 Americans who perished.

National rural police estimated the overall typhoon death toll at 1,508, most of whom died in northern Japan.

Divers reported 43 rail cars tore loose from their moorings on the boats' deck when it capsized, crushing bulkheads, equipment and human beings in Japan's worst maritime disaster.

Only 352 bodies have been recovered. The Japan National Railways listed 173 survivors out of 1,341 passengers and crew.

The tides still were washing in bodies.

As a chill drizzle soaked the scene, a U.S. Air Force helicopter dipped low over the wreckage and dropped white flowers into the oily, debris-strewn bay in a salute to the dead.

Hundreds more died in widespread marine accidents, landslides and other mishaps from the typhoon, which veered across northern Japan with winds of 100 miles an hour. Four other ferries also went down with the loss of more than 200 lives.

The Americans who died on the Toya Maru were mainly servicemen, most from the 99th Field Artillery Battalion—and their dependents. Several missionaries also were aboard, including one who survived.

The ferry had anchored in the harbor when a sudden strong gust of wind and mountainous waves flipped it over 150 yards from shore.

Second mate Kyoji Abe, highest ranking surviving officer of the Toya Maru, said the captain and other officers "underestimated the typhoon," which reached 110 miles an hour outside the harbor.

Allege Doctors Are Selling 'Goofballs' To Teen-Agers

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A juvenile officer says some California doctors are making huge profits from the sale of benzadrine pills—sometimes called "goof balls"—to teen-agers.

The testimony was given yesterday before the U.S. Senate subcommittee on juvenile delinquency.

Police Sgt. Joe Hampton, a supervisor of the Los Angeles police juvenile division and president of the Southern California Juvenile Officers Assn.

"The California dangerous drug act allows doctors to sell drugs to juveniles without restrictions," said Sgt. Hampton. "Some doctors buy benzadrine pills in 10,000 lots at $1.75 per thousand and sell them to youngsters at the rate of 50 for $5."

Hampton told Sen. Robert Hendrickson (R-N.J.), who conducted the one-day hearing into Southern California juvenile delinquency, that in one instance a doctor sold 1,300 benzadrine tablets to a girl for $10. The officer added:

"She told him she needed them for her diet and was going away on a trip. Instead, she staged a violent sex orgy involving many other teen-agers, as a result of which two girls became pregnant."

The juvenile officer said a new type of inhalant, selling on the open market for $1 in five times stronger than the benzadrine dosage usually prescribed by physicians.

"The kids," he added, "break the tubes open, then pour some of the contents into a highball or cocktail. Only a little is needed to make them go higher than kites and to stimulate their fancies into the commission of crimes."

Ike Meets Top Army Officers

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower arranged a conference today with Secretary of the Army Stevens and General Matthew B. Ridgway, Army chief of staff.

Murray Snyder, assistant presidential press secretary, told newsmen there was no emergency bringing the two top Army officials to Eisenhower's vacation headquarters but declined to give any reason for the conference.

Stevens saw the President briefly in Oregon last Thursday when the Chief Executive spoke at McNary Dam dedication ceremonies. Ridgway and Eisenhower have not consulted since the Chief Executive started his Colorado vacation Aug. 21.

Another caller on the President's list today was Dr. Arthur F. Burns, chairman of his Council of Economic Advisors in Washington. Burns customarily reports to Eisenhower every Monday morning. But they have not met in more than five weeks.

There were reports here, meanwhile, that the President plans to get away this weekend for another four or five-day stay at a Rocky Mountain trout fishing camp he has visited twice since his vacation began.

Seek 4-Lane Road At Wichita Falls

WICHITA FALLS (AP)—The mayor and the Wichita County judge went to Austin today with a request for state approval of a four lane, limited access highway from Wichita Falls to the Red River.

The proposed road and a bridge to be built jointly by Texas and Oklahoma would connect Wichita Falls with a 120-mile turnpike southwest from Oklahoma City.

The county commissioners voted yesterday to buy right-of-way for the Texas portion of the highway, a distance of 8.2 miles, provided the rest of the program is approved.

Israeli Ship Fires On Egyptian Post

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Guidance Minister Maj. Salah Salem said today an Israeli transport ship fired on an Egyptian coastal post south of Suez and a number of Egyptians were injured.

The incident was "the most serious Israeli aggression" since the end of the 1948 Palestine war, Salem said.

Salem said an armed Egyptian ship captured the Israeli transport and towed it to Suez, where officials are conducting an investigation. He said the ship, flying the Israeli flag, was called the Abaghall. It was sailing to Musasa, in Eritrea.

DETROIT (AP)—Mrs. Anna Zemanek got a suspended sentence Monday on her explanation she got "flustered" before her car—on her first try alone at the wheel—ran into one driven by Allan F. Flank. Asked how so, she said that Flank was the driving instructor who, after giving her 12 lessons, declared her a "perfect driver."

Makes A Repeat Call And Takes Money Again

DALLAS (AP)—A hefty man wearing sunglasses walked into a Dallas loan office yesterday to renew acquaintances—and to rob the establishment for the second time in 12 days.

He took $200 from the two women and one man in the Southwestern Loan Co. in a daring noon-time robbery.

Mrs. Callie McNeely, manager of the office, said it was the same man who took $350 in a Sept. 15 holdup.

"I recognized him the minute he came in," she said. He greeted the trio with, "Hello, folks...give me the money."

Mrs. McNeely said the man brandished a silver-plated revolver and told the employees to remain calm or he would "blow off your heads."

There were no customers present.

Texas Ranks 7th In Taxes

DALLAS (AP)—Texans paid more than 2 billion dollars in federal taxes for the fiscal year of 1954, the seventh largest collection from any state, the Internal Revenue Service said today.

The Texas tax total was $2,199,724,847. The Texas corporation and income and profits tax total was $200 million dollars. Withheld income taxes and old age insurance accounted for 700 million dollars. The state recorded a high 588 million dollars in the individual income tax not withheld category.

The first six states in collections were New York, Michigan, Illinois, California, Pennsylvania and Ohio.

Oklahoma and Louisiana recorded fiscal year collections of more than a half billion dollars. Arkansas and New Mexico collections were less than a half billion.

No Election Set Yet For Senate Place

AUSTIN (AP)—J.T. Rutherford of Odessa has not yet formally resigned as state senator from the 29th District, the governor's office said today.

Rutherford has unofficially notified aides of Gov. Shivers he will send in his resignation soon. Rutherford apparently won a race for Congress in West Texas.

A special election must be called by the governor to fill the vacancy in the state Senate when Rutherford resigns.

Shivers is out of town on vacation, but an aide said he probably would call the special session for Nov. 2 to coincide with the general election.

Spurned Suitor Kills Two, Self

MINERAL POINT, Wis. (AP)—A spurned suitor shot and killed two men last night at the home of a widow who had rejected him several hours earlier. He also wounded another woman before putting the barrel of a .22 caliber semi-automatic rifle in his mouth and pulling the trigger. He was in critical condition. Iowa County Sheriff Ray Rees said Roy Antoine, 35, a laborer, stood outside a window at the home of Mrs. Ruth Hughes and fatally shot Elmer Thomas, 42, Chicago. Another bullet struck and killed Reuben Benson, 53, of Mineral Point as he ran outside. The sheriff said Antoine then fired two more shots which struck Mrs. Patsy Walton, 48-year-old widow of nearby Linden, in the head as she tried to stop him. Mrs. Hughes was not hit. Mrs. Walton was reported in critical condition at St. Joseph's Hospital at Dodgeville. The sheriff said Antoine, who had been courting Mrs. Hughes for several months, had warned Thomas to "stay away" from her. Mrs. Hughes said she told Antoine yesterday afternoon that she did not want to marry him. The Library of Congress catalog card system was set up in 1901.

AFL Ends Its Convention After Roundly Rapping Administration

By NORMAN WALKER
LOS ANGELES (AP)—The AFL says economic conditions are worse than the Eisenhower administration admits but good enough to "warrant substantial wage boosts for workers."

The annual AFL convention ended on that note yesterday after 10 days of sessions. Delegates approved a series of new blasts against the Republican administration and voted a political statement saying the outlook for electing "labor-endorsed candidates to Congress appeared better than in any election since 1948."

Saying that few unions are negotiating new contracts without wage boosts despite the economic situation, the convention cautioned AFL unions "against being deceived by employers in a basically sound financial position who attempt to maneuver unions into abandoning wage increase efforts on grounds of the general economic downturn."

"Even in a depressed and uncertain economic atmosphere and with a relatively stable cost of living," the convention said, "wage increases are warranted to improve worker living standards and to keep pace with the economy's constantly rising level of productivity."

Another convention resolution quarreled with Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell for a speech during the convention saying that the nation is experiencing "the mildest contraction we have ever had in any postwar period."

The convention said that the present "recession" is worse in many respects than the 1949 economic downturn. Mitchell's Labor Department was condemned for "not having a single trade unionist" among its top officials and for "progressive deterioration and ineffectiveness."

Another resolution condemned

53 Die In Indian Railroad Disaster

BOMBAY, India (AP)—An express passenger train plunged into the icy waters of a flooded river 50 miles east of Hyderabad early today and at least 53 persons were killed or given up for lost. Officials said it was one of the worst disasters in the history of India's railroads.

Eighteen bodies were recovered by this morning. Hope was abandoned for 8 railwaymen and 27 Indian troops listed as missing. Thirty passengers were hospitalized with injuries.

About 600 passengers were asleep or dozing aboard the eight-car Hyderabad-Karpet express just after midnight when a bridge near the little station of Aler, weakened by a flood, collapsed beneath the weight of the train.

Tree Honoring Ike Slashed, May Die

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—A tree planted on the Gettysburg battlefield last month in honor of President Eisenhower has been vandalized and probably will not survive.

Superintendent J. Walter Coleman of the Gettysburg National Park said the 22-foot northern pine had been chopped with an axe or hatchet.

The incident, Coleman said, was one of several acts of vandalism that occurred over the last weekend. The tree was dedicated by Tank Corps veterans of World War I and II in honor of the President, who was commander of the tankers training grounds at nearby Camp Colt in 1917-1918.

U. S., French Envoys Talk Financial Help

WASHINGTON (AP)—United States and French diplomats get down to fine points today as they resume their discussions on American financial aid for French forces still in Indochina.

The U.S. and French officials met for nearly two hours yesterday, then issued a joint communiqué saying they had found a considerable "area of agreement."

Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) as "unworthy of the American tradition" and for "reckless disregard for democratic procedures."

Kenneth J. Kelly, secretary-treasurer of the Massachusetts Federation of Labor, who proposed the McCarthy resolution, told delegates the senator is the Republican party's "No. 1 problem child" and said he is "more interested in headlines than in eliminating breadlines" that cultivate Communists.

Despite convention addresses from Eisenhower and several of his administration leaders, one of the final resolutions summed up the AFL stand this way: "The AFL has specifically expressed its disappointment in administration opposition to raising the minimum wage, in granting special tax concessions to business interests, in the tragic bungling of our foreign affairs, in the reckless contraction of our armed forces, in the strangling of public housing, in failure to take any positive steps to meet the nation's health needs, in refusal to eliminate any of the unfair provisions of the Taft-Hartley law, and in the apparent satisfaction with stabilization of the economy at present low levels."

Heir Bought Drugs Is Court Testimony

LOS ANGELES (AP)—One of the Hornel's trio has testified that the young millionaire musician paid $20 for marijuana cigarettes the night he was arrested.

Robert Shevak, string bass player, said that Hornel gave him $20 to buy the cigarettes from a night club parking attendant. Shevak gave the testimony yesterday at a preliminary hearing for the attendant, Mark Lamb, 41, who was held for Superior Court action on a charge of selling narcotics. Hornel is free on $1,500 bond pending a hearing Oct. 8 on a charge of possessing marijuana. Shevak awaits trial the same day on a previous charge of possessing heroin.

What's Good For Daughter, Should Have Helped Papa

WASHINGTON (AP) — When Vice President Nixon returned several days ago from a political speaking tour, he found that his elder daughter had begun to take piano lessons.

"If you had gone on practicing like you tell me, you might have gone to Hollywood. Then when you die you'd be buried in an important place."

Church Calls For End To Segregation

NEW YORK (AP) — The Episcopal Church News says "segregation in the churches must go."

The current issue of the church publication says segregation in the churches must be ended — not because of any Supreme Court decision — but because it is "a glaring denial of Christianity."

"Segregation has the effect of saying that Jesus Christ died primarily for some and only incidentally for others," says the paper, released yesterday.

"Every effort to put segregation in Christian dress must come to grief on the hard facts of Christian doctrine. . . ."

Prosecution Witness Heard In Batchelor Court-Martial

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Cross-examination of Col. Henry Segal, a prosecution witness in the court-martial of Cpl. Claude Batchelor, continued today.

Segal interviewed Batchelor, on trial on charges of collaborating with the enemy, while the Kermit youth was in Tokyo.

Segal testified that Batchelor while a prisoner of the Chinese Communists in North Korea was able to distinguish right from wrong.

Batchelor was one of two American GI's who first refused repatriation but later changed their minds and sought United Nations sanctuary. About a score of the U.S. soldiers who first decided to stay with the Reds are still behind the Bamboo Curtain.

Segal was one of two psychiatrists the U.S. Army countered with yesterday after a deposition from a Baltimore psychiatrist, a defense witness, was read into the court-martial record.

Dr. Leon Freedom testified in his deposition that Batchelor, 28 when captured, was living in a "deluded world of his own" when he allegedly performed the actions from which grew his general court-martial.

He said Batchelor was a victim of "induced" political psychosis, and in the legal sense of the word could not tell right from wrong. "This lad was deluded into believing he was the political savior of humanity," the Baltimorean said. He added that a letter written to the Winkler County News in Kermit in which Batchelor accused the United States of participation in germ warfare was a product "of illustrious thinking."

Spook Light Nothing But Flashlight

SAND SPRINGS, Okla. (AP) — The mystery of the midnight "spook light" that has drawn free admission crowds numbering as much as 600 persons has been solved.

Last night as expensive radio and television equipment was made ready to capture the strange sequence, patrolmen found two boys perched halfway up the cliff with flashlights and towels. Some 500 persons were present at the scene two miles west of here.

The boys, identified by officers as Eugene Anderson, 19, and Jimmy Rose, 17, both of Tulsa, freely admitted the light was their invention. They said they first tried it last Wednesday and repeated it nightly.

Hundreds of persons had visited the area the last five days, some arriving as early as 4 p.m. in order to get a good seat.

Stories came from all sections of the area as residents told of seeing the strange blue-green ball of light for a half century. The mystery was further clouded with an Indian legend that "a young Indian girl had been killed by beheading on the cliff and each year she returned with her dog and lantern to go to the Arkansas River for water."

The Youth Center is organizing a "Circus Daddy" Club and is in hopes of getting enough tickets sponsored to make it possible for every child in the vicinity to see the show.

The feature attraction of the big show will be "Mr. Circus," Clyde Beatty who will appear with his group of man-eating lions and tigers in the big steel arena.

An array of features have been gathered together from all parts of the world for this season's great show, with a full two-hour program filled to the brim with wonderful acts including the George Hanford family of bareback riders; The Great Joannes, juggling wizard of the slack wire; The Kenton Troupe of aerial marvels; Richard Shipley with 40 tons of performing elephants; John Cline with three troupes of performing horses; The Sky Wings, high wire bicycle dare devils.

Net proceeds will be used to repair the Youth Center which was damaged by a recent storm.

Big Spring ROA To Meet Wednesday

The Big Spring Reserve Officers Association will hear Lt. Col. Larry Milch of the School of Aviation Medicine at Randolph Air Force Base present an illustrated lecture Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the Officers' Club at Webb AFB.

All members of the association are urged to come and may bring others interested in this phase of Air Force activity.

More Study Asked For MoPac Setup

WASHINGTON (AP) — A group of Missouri Pacific Railroad Co. security holders and two directors want the Interstate Commerce Commission to give more study to a reorganization plan.

The company has been in bankruptcy-reorganization for 20 years.

A committee representing holders of present MoPac common stock filed a statement saying that the present common stock is entitled to more liberal recognition.

Two independent directors, Bolton Sullivan and Stewart Huston, said the commission was without legal power to force a merger of MoPac subsidiaries into the parent company in order to set up a single operating corporation without a vote by stockholders of the companies concerned. The commission in July adopted a proposal calling for capitalization of the proposed new company of about $10 million dollars as compared to the $13 million proposed in a plan sanctioned by the ICC in 1949.

Is Your Home PROPERLY LIGHTED to Prevent Eyestrain?

Proper lighting in your home to provide maximum eye comfort requires two kinds of light... specific light for close-seeing activities, and general lighting for the entire room. Specific light arrangements usually are most beneficial when lamps with bulbs of 150-watt size or larger are used. This is particularly important so that you will have the proper light, and eyestrain will be avoided when members of the family are reading, studying, sewing, preparing food, doing hobby work, or any of the many activities found in well-rounded family life. Television, too, is more enjoyable when the room is properly lighted to eliminate harsh contrasts that cause eyestrain. For suggestions as to how you can improve the lighting in your home, consult the booklet, "See Your Home in a New Light," which includes recipes for solving lighting problems in any room of the house.

Negro Solon Named In FHA Investigation

NEW YORK (AP)—The Senate Banking Committee has turned up evidence that Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-NY) got a $3,000 loan two years ago from the builder of a government-backed housing project.

Builder David Kent of Brooklyn told the committee at a hearing yesterday that the money has not been repaid but he expects Powell to do so "probably very soon." He said Powell used the money to buy a fancy sports car.

Kent also said that two secretaries on Powell's congressional staff have received $8,800 a year as managers of the development in addition to their federal pay. He identified them as Acy Lennon and William J. Hampton, and said they used Powell's Manhattan offices to push sales in the project.

Kent's testimony concerned the 300-unit interracial Doris Miller apartment project in Corona, Queens. A nonprofit, cooperative development, it was financed with mortgages guaranteed by the Federal Housing Administration.

Following Kent's testimony, Powell issued a statement confirming that he had received the loan. However, he added, it is "a personal matter and has absolutely nothing to do with anything in connection with FHA."

The Negro congressman continued: "David Kent built the first interracial cooperative housing project in New York and I applauded him for it and helped to secure tenants for it."

About 80 per cent of the project's tenants are Negroes. Powell is seeking re-election to a sixth term in Congress. The first Negro to be sent there from New York when he was elected 10 years ago, he represents a district covering most of Harlem.

Powell, who also is pastor of Harlem's big Abyssinian Baptist Church, confirmed Kent's story about the loan going to pay for an expensive English sports car.

Kent had told the committee that Powell drove out to see him at the Corona apartment project in an imported Jaguar sports car. When he complimented the congressman on it, Kent said, Powell said he would like to get a still better model, but lacked the money.

With that, Kent offered to lend Powell the $3,000 that he said he needed to get the other sports car.

Powell criticized the committee's inquiry into his loan and said it would be better if the group spent more time probing segregation in housing. Sen Homer Capehart (R-Ind) is chairman of the banking committee now holding its second series of hearings on housing operations in New York. The sessions have been adjourned until Thursday.

Other witnesses yesterday included builders who told of windfall profits resulting from various FHA projects. These quick profits are made when housing construction costs are lower than the mortgage guaranteed for the project by the FHA.

One such profit amounting to $1,744,654 was testified to by Norman Tishman of New York. He said the money came from a Queens project built by two companies which were formed with an original investment of $1,000 each.

Benjamin Neifless, another Queens builder, told of a windfall of $526,618 on a Somerville, N.J., project for which the original capital was $30.

Samuel J. Roth of Forest Hills, Queens, testified that his firm made a windfall profit of $561,342 on two projects, one in Queens and one in East Paterson, N.J. Roth said he and his associates also made $2,276,044 in profits and premiums on three projects in Astoria, Queens.

SMU Students In Scrap With Aggies

DALLAS (AP)—The Dallas News said today it had learned that a number of SMU students including "some athletes" were involved in a fight last Saturday night with several Texas A&M cadets.

This lamp is burning the "DIRTY-BURNING TAIL-END" of gasoline which GULF refines out

This lamp is burning NEW SUPER-REFINED GULF NO-NOX, the cleaner-burning super-fuel

Instead of trying to fight trouble-making deposits with so-called "miracle-additives"—inside your engine—Gulf believes in preventing them from forming in the first place. That's why Gulf, in making new Super-Refined NO-NOX, refines out the carbon-forming, "dirty-burning tail-end"—more than a cupful in every gallon. Just look at the plates in the photo above and see what a difference Gulf super refining makes!

New super-refined gasoline solves today's No.1 engine problem!

Now—Gulf refines out the "dirty-burning tail-end" of gasoline—the No. 1 troublemaker in high-compression engines. Result: a cleaner-burning super-fuel that gives you thousands of extra miles of full engine power... free from knock or pre-ignition.

- Starting with your first tankful this new super-refined, super-powered fuel will give you these immediate and lasting benefits:
- ▶ More complete engine protection than the so-called "miracle-additive" gasolines. Why? Because Gulf refines out the No. 1 troublemaker in gasoline (the "dirty-burning tail-end") and then treats this new Super-Refined NO-NOX to give it a complete range of protective properties. It protects every part it touches against harmful deposits—carbon, rust, gum.
 - ▶ Extra gas mileage. Why? Because new NO-NOX is specially blended for the short-trip, stop-and-go driving motorists do most.
 - ▶ No knock, no pre-ignition—even in today's super-compression engines. Why? Because the anti-knock power of new NO-NOX has been stepped up to an all-time high.
 - ▶ Stall-proof smoothness—no more worries about carburetor icing in chilly weather, or vapor lock on warm days. Instant starts, too—and fast, fuel-saving warm-up.
- That's why new Super-Refined Gulf NO-NOX gives you more power-with-protection than you've ever known.

Road tests show: new No-Nox actually makes cars perform better than new... even after 15,000 miles! TRUE! After 15,000 miles per car—covering all conditions—Gulf test cars showed: Higher-than-new horsepower! Better-than-new on gasoline mileage! And not a single trace of carbon knock or pre-ignition at any time—even on the steepest mountain grades!

Conservation Board To Meet On Small Upper Stream Dams

TEMPLE (AP)—A meeting of the State Soil Conservation Board on small upstream dams was expected to draw delegations from all over Texas today.

Gov. Shivers named the Soil Conservation Board as the state agency to act on applications from local districts.

The flood prevention law passed last summer by Congress calls for small dams to impound rainfall far upstream, controlling and conserving water at its source and preventing or lessening flood danger downstream.

If local agencies, such as the soil districts, initiate the program and put up part of the money, the federal government will provide technical help and match local funds in dam building.

About 60 to 75 applications were expected to be submitted today, V. C. Marshall, executive director of the conservation board, said.

Tampico Blockade Protests Gas Price

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Informed sources said today the government plans to use force within 36 hours to end the unique Tampico traffic blockade protesting increased gasoline prices.

The situation hourly was becoming more acute. Shortly before midnight last night the Tampico Federation of Workers, consisting of 60 unions with a membership of 30,000, voted an eight-hour sympathy strike starting at noon today.

The federation offered aid and money to the protesting strikers. The blockade started in Tampico six days ago when prices were boosted from 40 to 56 centavos per liter (13 to 16 cents U.S. per gallon) but since then has spread to at least six other cities.

It Is Vital To A Community To Keep New Leadership Coming On

What effort, if any, is your community making to see that promising young men and women are afforded opportunities for employment and advancement in their home town?

In this month's election in Maine, a rock-ribbed Republican state, one reason advanced for the defeat of the Republican gubernatorial incumbent by a young Democrat was that the state's administration had not been diligent in trying to improve Maine's deteriorating economic condition, so a great many of the Pine Tree State's most promising young men and women had been forced to seek their fortunes elsewhere.

That is something to think about, for a state or community that exports its young talent is slitting its own throat. Its loss is some other community's gain.

Every community that expects to grow and prosper must have a backlog of youngsters coming along to take over as the old civic wheelhorses are put out to pasture, or die off.

In another town there was compiled a list of 18 men who had been chosen officers and directors of an important community institution, 25 years ago. Of the 18, only six are still in the land of the living; the others have been gathered to their fathers.

We have no doubt the same rate of mortality, 66.66 per cent, would apply to all the major civic and business groups in existence 25 years ago in most towns. That is a pretty heavy rate of turnover in civic leadership, when you come to think of it.

In the main, our community and area has been fortunate in growing up replacements, or inducing them to come in from outside. If we ever cease to bring them up from local youth, or to induce them to come here from somewhere else, we can definitely expect a deterioration in the quality of our various civic enterprises, public and private, and consequent loss of energy and enthusiasm.

Hadn't we better take a little time out to contemplate this matter?

When Statistics Analyzed, Final Outcome Stacks Up Plenty Close

Of the 36 senatorial seats to be filled in November 14 are now held by Republicans and 22 by Democrats. Because they have more necks stuck out, and the opportunity for mischance is greater on a percentage basis, the Democrats would normally be expected to suffer greater casualties, and there is some disposition among GOP wisecracks to count heavily on that.

One of the Republican seats to be filled is the one vacated by Richard Nixon in California after his election to the vice presidency in 1952, now held by a Republican appointee.

So, disregarding the 36 seats at stake, the present Senate would be made up of 34 Republicans, 25 Democrats and 1 Independent. The latter, of course, is Wayne Morse of Oregon, who has already announced he will vote with the Democrats when the new Senate is organized next January.

But suppose the ballot in November finds the new Senate evenly divided as it is now, and Morse's single vote could determine which side organized the Senate? Would the Democrats want to take control? Not necessarily; they might figure their chances in the 1956 presidential year would be enhanced by letting the Republicans continue to carry the responsibility. In that case, one or more Democrats could "defect" for tactical reasons and vote with the Republicans.

Exactly half of the 36 seats at stake are considered "safe," or at least as safe as anything can be in politics. Of these seats, six are held by Republicans and 12 by Democrats. Eleven of these latter are in the South and one is in the border state of West Virginia, where old Matthew Neely considers himself a shoo-in.

So, actually, eliminating the safe seats, the Democrats are only sticking out ten necks, while the Republicans are sticking out eight. Looked at from this angle, GOP dopesters don't have too much to feel optimistic over.

The only certainty is that the balloting in November will settle all arguments and speculations for another two years at least.

Breaking Relations With Reds Not The Solution To Problem

Sarah O'Connell, in charge of membership promotion of "The Committee to Combat Communism, Inc." writes me suggesting that I support the idea of cutting off all relations with Soviet Russia. In her letter she says:

"You point out that it is the policy of the Soviet Union to isolate us and limit our political influence in Europe and Asia. Why is it not our policy to isolate the Soviet and limit its influence by cutting off all relations with it, so that Communism must turn back upon itself, wither and die? We find it unaccountable that this 'anti-Communist' administration we elected now refuses to take this step, and continues to expand Red prestige and provide more opportunities for Communism to feed upon the free world, spread out and isolate us."

I fear that Miss O'Connell has not recently looked at a map. Precisely how can the United States isolate the Soviet Union? A land mass that runs from the Elbe River in Central Europe to the Pacific Ocean, from the North Pole to the 17th parallel in Indochina! This land mass includes about 800,000,000 human beings and an enormous reservoir of untapped natural resources. While the Soviet Union State prefers to make purchases of machinery and machine tools and similar heavy imports from western countries, it is not dependent upon such imports. It is close to self-sufficiency as to raw material and food products.

If ever its vast areas are connected by an adequate means of communications, there ought to be no area with an inadequate food supply. Unless the Soviet Union State is destroyed by war or internal revolution, it is likely that in half a century, such a means of communication can be produced.

Precisely how does one isolate such an area? Isolate it from what? The United States, which needs to import raw materials and to export manufactured and agricultural goods, requires open lanes on the oceans to move its goods. The Soviet Union State is not dependent on ocean lanes. The geography of the Soviet Union State, rather than its politics, determines its position. Czarist Russia failed to take full advantage of the potentialities of the territory. Soviet Russia is conscious of geographic factors.

Let us take another idea from Miss O'Connell's letter: How would the United States limit the influence of Soviet Russia by cutting off relations with it? Would we lessen the Russian influence in any satellite country? In Red China, for instance? Would it make any difference to India, to France or Italy? What actually would be accomplished except perhaps the moral satisfaction of refusing associations with an unpleasant country?

Breaking off relations with a country could mean one of two things: Either the ambassadors, ministers and consuls of both countries are withdrawn and nothing more happens, or the two countries go to war. Is that the program proposed?

The advantage of Miss O'Connell's program is not clear to me. In 1945, we might have turned against our then ally, Soviet Russia, as that ally turned on us. We might have done dozens of things because the United States was strong and Soviet Russia was weak. Today that is not the position. The United States is not ready to make war on Soviet Russia; all indications are that Soviet Russia is not ready to make war on the United States, but our strength and weakness seems to be about evenly balanced. That is the reason for all the nervousness, the political activities, the conferences, the press interviews, and all sorts of activities which keeps our Secretary of State hopping. Nobody really knows what to do, but the world wants peace.

Communism can only be fought by knowledge, by understanding and by a realistic view of the problems that face us. Communism cannot be fought successfully merely by loud articulation anti-Communism. Enough misery has appeared in the world because of errors in judgment as to how to fight Communism. The Korean War was obviously not the way because we lost that one. Communism can be fought in the United States as a domestic matter, and even as to that, few judgments are based on a sufficient knowledge of the Communist movement. In each country the battle takes on different characteristics. Cutting off diplomatic relations with Soviet Russia at this moment will solve no problem.

Senate Committee Most Roundly Raps McCarthy For His Attack On Zwicker

By ED CREAON (For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON (AP)—For dressing down a one-star general, Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) gets roundly chided by a "grand jury" of fellow senators.

The Watkins committee says his handling of Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker was "reprehensible" and "inexcusable." The committee says the whole Senate should censure McCarthy on this and other grounds.

And yet for assailing a much better known military figure—a five-star general, in fact—McCarthy goes scot-free so far as the Watkins group is concerned. Its official report calls for no censure of the 1951 speech in which McCarthy said Gen. George C. Marshall made "common cause" with the Russians after World War II.

What's the difference? Both the Zwicker and the Marshall incidents were cited among the 46 original accusations against McCarthy. Why did the Watkins committee throw out the Marshall case, yet use its strongest language in condemning McCarthy for the Zwicker affair?

The basic reason, the committee says, is that McCarthy made his speech against Marshall on the Senate floor. And the committee says that while it "may disagree" with statements made in the Senate about public figures, to do anything about them "would tend to place unwarranted limitations on the freedom of speech in the Senate."

McCarthy had his set-to with Zwicker, on the other hand, far from the Senate floor—at a New York hearing of McCarthy's own permanent investigations subcommittee. And there, says the Watkins committee, McCarthy's conduct "was not proper under the circumstances."

What was McCarthy's conduct? Telling Zwicker, among other things, he questioned either the general's honesty or his intelligence. And saying Zwicker, a much decorated World War II veteran, wasn't fit to wear the uniform of a general. This wasn't abuse, McCarthy argued—it was just vigorous cross-examination to get the truth from what he called an evasive, arrogant witness.

The Watkins committee slapped McCarthy down on that point. It held Zwicker behaved very well under a barrage of questions McCarthy had no business asking him. And McCarthy's behavior, it said, would have been out of bounds "in the case of any witness, whether a general or a private citizen."

This wasn't the only "indictment" brought by the Watkins committee. The group also recommended the Senate, when it comes back to town six days after election, censure McCarthy for (1) refusing to appear for questioning before an earlier committee which investigated him in 1951-52, and (2) using harsh language about members of that committee.

In addition the Watkins committee found fault with McCarthy's conduct in a few other fields—his accepting secret FBI data, for instance—though it stopped short of recommending formal censure in these cases.

But the toughest language in the whole 68-page report, buttressed by 267 pages of testimony and exhibits, was reserved for the Zwicker affair, which pitted a senator from Appleton, Wis., against a general from the town of Stoughton in the same state.

That was a fateful encounter for both men. It plunged the general into a political controversy which he makes no secret of detesting. And, in a sense, it was the start of most of McCarthy's recent troubles—for it led straight to his full-scale row with the Army's top officials, and to various conflicts with President Eisenhower and other Republican leaders.

Life would have been brighter for both men if one or the other had stayed back in Wisconsin.

Cops Don't Need Pistols, Says British Detective

NEW YORK (AP)—Robert Fabian, Britain's most celebrated detective since Sherlock Holmes, feels it might be a good idea if American cops quit carrying guns.

"The display of firearms is to be deprecated," mildly observed the ex-detective superintendent of Scotland Yard. "It incites the criminal to carry one, too."

"A firearm is not an equalizer—it is an antagonizer."

In his 28-year service with "the Yard" Fabian solved a dozen murders, helped send 9 men to the gallows, more than 800 to prison. "I never carried a gun in my life," he said, "although twice I had to take guns away from men who seemed to want to use them on me. The only weapon I ever needed was my hands."

An expert in jujitsu, Fabian began his career as an ordinary constable. He still feels the best way to cut down crime is to put more cops out on beats, swinging a nightstick.

"But I don't go along with this gun carrying," he said. "And it's not because I'm soft either."

"I'm not vicious, but I do think the pendulum has swung too far the wrong way in our treatment of criminals."

"We pamper both young delinquents and hardened criminals too much."

Fabian believes Britain made a mistake in doing away with the cat o' nine tails in 1948. He is convinced that 10 lashes on a criminal's back with "the cat" or 20 strokes with birch switches on his bare bottom teaches him an unforgettable lesson.

"The physical punishment is not as bad as the degradation," he said. "When you birch a criminal, you treat him like a naughty schoolboy. He never lives down the shame of it—not even with his own class."

Since retiring from Scotland Yard in 1949, Fabian has turned out two best-selling books on his experiences, "F. B. I. of the Yard" and "London After Dark." He also writes a weekly column on crime for a British newspaper chain and recently completed 39 half-hour TV films, based on his own cases.

Known as "an unorthodox detective," Fabian, now in his 50's rarely employed a disguise himself. He knew thousands of British criminals by sight—and wasted them to know him by sight, too. Some he helped reform. Many became—after business hours—his friends.

"If they wanted a helping hand, I'd give it to them," he said. In 1949 after Fabian risked his life to disarm a bomb planted by Irish extremists, 50 of London's leading crooks struck off a medal in his honor, and threw him a surprise party. Later he was summoned to Buckingham Palace and presented with the King's medal for gallantry—for the same feat.

Comic Books A 'Phase' Children Will Drop For Other Interests

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald.—Editor's Note.

For one, I'm not going to worry about what most of these comic books are going to do to the characters of our children. Comic books, in my book, are just another chapter in civilization's book of scientific progress. The most fantastic in today's comic books may be the common place realities tomorrow. Men must dream before they can build. Comic books will have their day and they'll be gone and something else will come along to take their place to give that certain segment of our population something else to worry about.

I've been through that comic book stage at home. Suzanne was as interested in them, at one time, as any kid could be. She had a regular swapping library of them. Then she got interested in a Stanton football player and substituted him for the whole lot of those comic book characters, and the situation has maybe been improved. Time improves almost everything.

Comic books develop the child's imagination. Try to imagine a great philosopher without imagination. On the chance of being challenged by some ecclesiastic I'll even say that no man without imagination can be deeply and truly religious. The stolid man without imagination cannot conceive of a future state of rewards and punishments. The development of the imagination develops the sensibilities of a person.

I've observed, too, that there is always a certain percentage of the population that's against a lot of harmless things like bubble gum and football and cap pistols and bicycles and bathing suits and cigarettes and almost anything. Whatever it is, somewhere you'll find somebody against it. It has always been that way. It probably always will be that way. Right now the heat's on the comic books. Years ago when every cigarette smoker was known as a cigarette fiend, quite capable of the most horrible and revolting crimes, and not fit to drive a garbage wagon, people said they would never amount to anything good. I've seen some of them grow up to be fine physicians and lawyers and preachers and business executives.

I can remember the crusade that was made against the Buffalo Bill and Nick Carter, nickel and dime magazines of 40 years ago, just such a crusade as is being made against the comic books today. I can remember the fight that was waged against the western and detective and science fiction "pulp" of a few years ago, a type of magazine that was driven from the stands by the comic books which are the modern targets of those folks I'll describe as suffering from "antilla" meaning they're against most everything.

This old world is moving forward, at jet speed, toward something new. Comic books is just one of the steps. Things are changing. What would people have said, and thought, and what wolf tunes would have been whistled, if a woman had appeared on the streets in shorts no further back than 35 years ago? Or if a man had appeared in his front yard in nothing but shorts?

Times are changing, but there's still a lot of human nature in a lot of folks. The world always has had its share of those who know what's good, and what isn't, for the children. Those who love children the least usually know the most about this. That's just another peculiarity of human nature.

Don't worry about your child reading comic books any more than you'd worry about them cutting teeth or starting to school. They'll grow up and get interested in football players or Rainbow Girls, and this old world will keep rolling right along.

Kids In College Have It Rough, So Observes Another Generation

The more I think about it — and I have been mulling it over extensively in the past few days — the more I am amazed that I and my generation ever managed to struggle through college in the years just after World War I.

We lead a sort of aboriginal life without benefit of radio, teevee, Bermuda shorts or air-conditioning units, without which Joe College is scarce able to matriculate today in any first-rate institution of higher education.

Collegiate life in my day was primitive at best with hardly a creature or material comfort beyond an electric plate. Even this was verboten and had to be used surreptitiously to make the occasional batches of fudge that helped us endure our bleak existence.

(By the way, it may interest cooks in the audience to learn that if we were unable to flick butter from the collegiate commissary, a lump of cold cream did just as well and gave the fudge an interesting flavor.)

Under these harsh conditions, college life was largely a hand-to-hand struggle with books. The monotony was pierced only by dances, proms, wienie roasts, picnics, football games, pre-game rallies, the movies, dates in the library and a soupcon of smooching when the Dean of Women wasn't looking.

Everything considered, one of my godsons who just rocketed out to college is even more amazed than I that I surmounted such hardships and wrested a diploma in the face of such deprivations.

The fact that I not only walked to and from classes but to and from my place of residence throughout my college years appalls the young man.

He feels that his whole college career is definitely jeopardized because he is matriculating in a domestic convertible instead of a Jaguar.

However, he is gallantly depending on one or two aces in the hole to offset this initial disappointment, traceable to his parents' stubborn refusal to invest in the Jaguar.

His hi-fi record player and his extensive collection of jazz hot ought to establish his social status, he believes, plus the TV set he carefully stashed in the back of the convertible at the last minute.

"Of course, it's only a 17-inch screen," he said, and then bravely added, "but it's better than nothing. And I sure earned it. I had an awful time persuading the folks to get a new 21-inch job and a worse time arguing them out of turning this old one in on the new one."

His roommate, he said, was doing his share. He is bringing to the nest a hi-fi radio set and an air-conditioning unit to insure comfort, as he crams for finals.

The young man and his roommate seemed astounded when I asked if this wasn't a plush amount of equipment. They pronounced it fairly S. O. P. In fact, they feel they are rather aboriginal since they are determined to rough it without a refrigerator.

"Most of the guys have refrigerators," my godson explained. "The guy in the room next to ours has a big one and is going to let us use it, too. So we'll get along somehow."

I had planned to give my godson a splendid new dictionary as a going-away present. But at the last minute I made a sensible switch to three dozen fuses and a tank full of gas. Sis, boom, BAH!

Austin Recollections—Raymond Brooks Political Playback

This "It might not have happened" sidelight on a tragic event in 1932 is written here for the first time.

Henry Ansley was the High Plains newspaperman who became famous as author of the book, "I Like the Depression."

In the 1932 governor's campaign, a newspaper publisher who was taking an active personal interest in one of the candidates, called Ansley from Dallas: "Henry, I hope you will cover this campaign speech at Amarillo tonight."

"I'm sorry," Ansley replied. "Just a few minutes ago, they asked me to go to a little town out here and make a speech for him myself. I promised to do it."

Ansley started. He had a car wreck that took his life.

If that phone call had gone through a few minutes earlier, Henry Ansley still might be writing books and, like his early years, helping build a finer Texas.

In memory, I would like to add a postscript. A joint legislative committee had recommended reorganization of state government and the higher education system. One of its members told me, before the report was issued, that the report called for making all the state colleges junior branches of the University of Texas. The colleges got busy and killed the plan. Somebody at Texas Tech, out at Lubbock, lambasted me thoroughly for "promoting" the idea. But the Teachers College at Canyon and the Canyon Chamber of Commerce took a different view. They said disclosure of the plan gave the colleges time to organize and defeat their subordination to the University.

One of my most prized possessions is an autographed copy of Henry Ansley's "I Like the Depression." In appreciation for services rendered Texas State Colleges, from the college and the people of Canyon.

I never look at it without thinking that if that phone call had been a few minutes earlier, one of the typically Texan and really fine newspapermen of the state might still be among us.

Jet Squadron Slated For Texas Air Base

By TEX EASLEY
WASHINGTON (AP)—Barring unforeseen changes in plans, the Air Force will move an F86-D fighter plane squadron to Perrin Field, between Denton and Sherman, about January.

Pentagon officials said the Perrin unit, operating under the Air Defense Command, would be the latest of a series of perimeter defense installations being set up around the nation.

The 24-plane 400-man squadron will not be assigned to the defense of any specific city or cities, but will be constantly ready to soar up and intercept any enemy or mysterious aircraft approaching from any direction. The planes have an active combat radius of 500 miles; however, since they could expect to find friendly landing fields in most directions and not have to return to home base for refueling they might fan out as much as a thousand miles.

So, not only Texas cities, but such important urban areas as St. Louis, Kansas City, Oklahoma City, Shreveport and New Orleans would be within the range of the Perrin unit's operations.

The F86-D is an all weather version of the Sabrejet plane, but has a different silhouette because the nose has been closed in to house radar equipment, with air intakes underneath. The electronic equipment not only is for use in navigating the plane but in tracking down and firing upon the enemy object. The top speed of the F86-D is in excess of 650 miles an hour, and the ceiling 45,000 feet plus. It carries 24 "mighty mouse" rockets measuring 2.75 inches in diameter.

Operating under Air Defense Command headquarters at Colorado Springs, Colo., the squadron will have its own hangars, parking aprons and other facilities on one side of the regular Air Force training base at Perrin. It will be operated entirely independent of the training command unit, but will use the same runways.

Testifying before congressional committees, Air Force officials pointed out that by establishing defense command units at existing training bases millions of dollars could be saved and without interfering with the training program. At Perrin, as at many other installations, only small additional adjacent tracts of land needed to be acquired and some new hangars and other buildings erected.

Construction planned at Perrin includes a four-stall hangar faced toward runways so four planes can be manded and in the air in a matter of seconds. This is known as an "alert" hangar. Other craft and crews could be aloft within minutes. The planes reach extreme altitudes rapidly.

Where Japanese Ferry Capsized

This is a general scene at Nanshama Beach, Japan, where countless bodies washed ashore with the incoming tide after the big ocean ferry Toya Maru, carrying 1,252 passengers and crewmen smashed into rocks and turned turtle during a howling typhoon which struck northern Japan. In the foreground is the beached Shinsel Maru. On the beach can be seen rescue workers. The black blotch, center, is the Toya Maru where more than five hundred bodies still are believed trapped. Two GI Typhoon Casualties Had Grown Up As Neighbors

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (AP)—Johnny Zerby and Harry Boob grew up together here in Centre County, Pa.

Sunday they died together thousands of miles away in a ferryboat capsized by a savage typhoon in northern Japan.

In a terse report from the Army yesterday listing American service men known to have died when the ferryboat overturned were: Pvt. John W. Zerby, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Zerby, Spring Mills, Pa.
Pvt. Harry E. Boob, 22, son of

Mr. and Mrs. Clair E. Boob, Aaronsburg, R. D. 1, Pa.
Their homes are only seven miles apart.

In Japan they were stationed almost as close for many months yet neither knew the other was there.

Relatives and friends of both soldiers never knew the proximity of the two friends in their overseas assignments — not until the casualty list came through.

John was a Gregg Twp. Vocational School graduate. He repaired farm equipment for a hometown company. He entered the service in March 1953 and went overseas in November 1953.

Harry worked on farms near his home. He entered the service in December 1952. Soon after he was sent to Japan.

John had a brother and a sister. Harry had four brothers and four sisters.

In a letter received from Harry last Saturday, the boy told his father he would be home within 40 days. He said he didn't want to miss hunting season.

John also wrote his parents recently saying he would be home very soon.

In their many letters, neither soldier mentioned the other as being stationed nearby.

"To think that they didn't even know they were that close and we had no idea either," said Mrs. Zerby.

GOP Plans Drive In Dallas County

DALLAS (AP)—Each of the 2,900 persons who voted in the Republican primary July 24 has been asked to help with a door-to-door campaign to get more GOP votes in the November general election.

Republicans say they expect some 2,000 to respond to the party call on behalf of two Dallas candidates. Each will be asked to enlist the support of 12 friends.

Republican Bruce Alger opposes former Mayor Wallace Savage in the race for Congress for the seat now occupied by Rep. J. Frank Wilson. The other Republican candidate, Grover Hart, seeks a county judgeship.

Dallas County cast about 90,000 votes in the Democratic primary.

Girl Stabbed Kinder Than Judge To Man

LAWRENCE, Mass. (AP)—The girl he was accused of stabbing 10 times was kinder to Joseph Persechino, 24, of Methuen, than was Judge Charles Fairhurst yesterday.

The judge was told that Constance De Marco, 17, of Lawrence had forgiven Persechino.

Judge Fairhurst remarked that was the girl's "own private business."

He then sentenced Persechino to five months in the House of Correction after his plea of guilty to a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon in wounding Miss De Marco after she broke off their romance last June 25.

Like Opposes Price Support For Cattle

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower believes direct price supports for cattle would "impose both immediate and long-run disadvantages, which would be disadvantageous to cattlemen."

This statement was in a letter to James Patton, president of the National Farmers Union, written in reply to a communication from Patton.

Turning to the Farmers Union proposal that the government institute 90 per cent of parity support for cattle, Eisenhower stated: "Objections to a price support operation remain as the secretary of agriculture enumerated them a year ago. Compulsory grading and many other regulations would be imposed upon the livestock industry, and cattlemen have opposed such controls. They traditionally desire to operate without government intervention and have so informed the secretary through their organizations."

The law sets forth certain criteria to be considered before price supports can be offered for a non-basic non-mandatory commodity like cattle. Among these are the perishability of the product, the willingness of producers to keep supply in line with demand. There is grave doubt whether, in view of these criteria, the secretary could launch a price support operation for cattle at 90 per cent of parity.

"The cattle industry is receiving substantial and continuing help from the Department of Agriculture. A direct price support operation such as you recommend would impose both immediate and long-run disadvantages, which would be disadvantageous to cattlemen."

Patton commented: "It's apparent that livestock producers can expect no effective aid from this administration. . . I would strongly recommend that the President secure new agricultural advisers."

Completion And New Location Reported For Sterling County

A Parochial Bode completion and a wildcat location were reported today in Sterling County. Railroad Commission filings show new wildcats in two other West Texas counties and a corrected potential on an Oceanic field producer.

Boykin Brothers and Roche et al No. 5 Bode is the Parochial Bode completion. It made 58.58 barrels of oil in 24 hours. The Sterling wildcat is Continental No. 1 F. H. French, located 19 miles southeast of Sterling City.

Warren and Moss No. 2 Ellis Bode is the Oceanic producer which has corrected potential report. The well has a 24-hour capacity of 371.62 barrels of oil. Wildcats were spotted in Coke and Crockett counties.

Harper and Huffman No. 1 Eureka, wildcat, has been plugged and abandoned after a drillstem test in the Ellenburger. Location is 600 from north and east lines, 1-A-H&T survey. The two-hour test was from 6,050 to 6,120 feet, and recovery was 550 feet of gas-cut mud and 90 feet of slightly oil and gas-cut mud plus 3,070 feet of salt water. Total depth was 6,151 feet.

Mosquito-Breeding Spots Pointed Out

Mosquitoes are again widespread in the Big Spring area, it was reported today by Lige Fox, sanitarian with the City-County Health Unit.

Fox said that the area around the salt lake in Northwest Big Spring has a number of mosquito-breeding spots. Another mosquito-populated area is the draw just east of the city.

An inspection was made of the salt lake Monday. Fox said that while the lake itself does not have too many mosquitoes, underground water areas and sink holes near by have plenty of the pests. Marine life in the lake prohibits mosquito breeding, he said.

The stagnant water just east of town has a number of mosquitoes breeding, however, and the area has been covered as near as possible with a film of oil.

"We are spreading oil wherever we can get to the area that mosquitoes are," Fox said. "Of course we are not authorized to go on private property for that purpose. All we can do is warn the landowner."

A number of cess pools in North Big Spring contain breeding mosquitoes, eggs, and wiggle tails, Fox said. Other stagnant pools about the city also contain the wigglers.

Texas Pacific Coal and Oil No. 1 Graham, C SE SE, 15-32-2n, T&P survey, reached 9,750 feet in lime and shale.

Texas Pacific Coal and Oil No. 1 Dean Self, 895 from north and 560 from west lines, northeast quarter, 39-32-3n, T&P survey, 3,350 feet in lime.

Sun No. 1 Edward Simpson, C SE SE, 46-32-3n, T&P survey, bored to 6,220 feet in lime and shale.

Warren and Moss No. 2 Ellis Iden, 1,320 from south and 330 from east lines, 26-33-T&P survey, made flowing potential of 371.62 barrels of oil instead of the figure previously reported. Flow was through a 32-64th inch choke and there was no water. Gravity was 40.8 degrees, and gas-oil ratio was 375-1. Tubing pressure measured 250 pounds. Total depth is 8,201 feet, the 5 1/2-inch goes to 8,190 and the pay top is 8,152.

Lions Continue Broom Sales

Lions Club members continue their conquest of the city with brooms this evening.

Good results were reported by Larson Lloyd, vice president and who is directing the broom sales as a project to raise funds for blind work. Initial reports indicated that an even better percentage of households were buying brooms than a year ago.

The brooms are made by blind people and all net proceeds from the sale here go to the club's sight conservation and blind work, or for other charitable enterprises, prices.

"We've just hit another high point on the mosquito cycle and have to do our best to get rid of them again," he stated. "We have had several cycles this summer."

The sanitarian pointed out that marine life has been present in the salt lake in Northwest Big Spring this summer. Fish have been eating mosquito eggs and wiggle tails, he said.

Fox was to have inspected the overflow from the T&P lake today. The water there has quit seeping through the dam and is no longer flowing, he said, and is ideal for mosquito breeding.

Martin

Stanford No. 1 Brown, C NE SE, 15-34-3n, T&P survey, has completed perforations opposite the Wolfcamp. They are from 7,580 to 7,610, from 7,620 to 7,635, from 7,734 to 7,744 and from 7,850 to 7,860 feet. These perforations will be fractured with 20,000 gallons of sand oil and then swabbing operation will begin for tests. An attempt will be made to complete the well for the third time. Prior completions have been in the Pennsylvanian and in the Dean sand. It has depleted. This project is in the northeast corner of Martin County.

A's Troubles To Be Aired

NEW YORK (AP)—American League club owners will learn officially today of the Philadelphia Athletics' dire financial straits but they are not expected to approve any definite relief.

League president Will Harridge called today's session a "clarifying" one and indicated there would be no effort to force a showdown on the A's situation, which has been steadily going from bad to worse.

Roy Mack, executive vice president of the Athletics, is expected to present two alternatives to his fellow club owners.

One is the sale of the club to Arnold Johnson, Chicago businessman, who wants to transfer the franchise to Kansas City. The other calls for the league to help raise the money necessary to carry on the operation in Philadelphia.

Awaits Execution, Declines To Talk

HUNTSVILLE (AP)—Maurice Sampson, convicted Houston murderer awaiting execution tonight, didn't want to talk to anybody today.

"Talking to newspapermen got me here, so talking won't help," the Negro said.

Sampson said Harris County deputies tied him to a tree and beat him into signing a confession and added "but I don't want to say any more about it."

He was convicted in the Jan. 8, 1953, slaying of Mrs. Ruth McCasland in a Houston flower shop.

For his last meal, Sampson ordered fried chicken, French fried potatoes, hot rolls, lemonade, chocolate cake and ice cream.

Shivers said his first movie pay check would be donated to charity.

The scene was a flashy Paris dress salon for Paramount's "Lucy Gallant." He sat beside Miss Wyman and watched models walk in gorging gowns. Then he rose and congratulated Miss Wyman on the success of her enterprise—just like a Texas governor.

Polish Official Given Asylum In The U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A security official of Poland's Communist government has fled his country and been granted asylum in the United States.

This was disclosed today by Atty. Gen. Brownell who announced that, at the request of the State Department, he has granted temporary entry into the United States of Josef Swiatlo, 38.

Swiatlo is former deputy chief of department 10 of the Polish Ministry of Public Security in Warsaw. The Justice Department said that No. 10 is responsible for the protection of the Polish Communist party and regime against internal political subversives.

Brownell's announcement said Swiatlo took refuge in the American sector of Berlin 10 months ago.

The Justice Department said that last Dec. 1 Swiatlo and his security chief were en route to East Berlin for conferences with the chief of the East German intelligence service when Swiatlo slipped away.

He turned up on Dec. 5 in the French sector of Berlin, made his way to the American zone and turned himself over to U.S. military police.

Anti-Monopoly Group Now Studying Power Contract

WASHINGTON (AP)—The controversial Dixon-Yates power contract came under new scrutiny in Congress today—this time before the Senate Antimonopoly subcommittee.

The subcommittee headed by Sen. Langer (R-ND) scheduled a hearing on the plan for a private plant to supply power in the area now served by the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Called to testify was J. D. Stienroth, former secretary-treasurer of Mississippi Power & Light Co., a subsidiary of one of the companies in the Dixon-Yates group.

Stienroth asserted at Jackson, Miss. last week that Mississippi Power and its parent company, Middle South Utilities, Inc., are "completely dominated by Wall Street."

The Dixon-Yates group includes Middle South and the Southern Company and takes its name from two officials of those companies.

The companies have jointly

Martin Sheriff Selects Deputy

STANTON, (SC)—Albert Johnson of Stanton has been appointed deputy by Sheriff Dan Saunders.

The sheriff, who is also Martin County Tax assessor, collector, and the Oriole and Senators playing at home at the same time. The two cities are only 30 miles apart. Six affirmative votes are necessary to move a club.

The fact that all is not love and kisses in the Mack family itself makes the problem an even more difficult one to solve.

Whatever happens to the club, it will take several million dollars to rehabilitate it.

The little girl lives with her grandfather, C. R. Turner, and she first complained of feeling bad last Tuesday. However, she continued going to school all last week and did not take to bed until the week-end.

As yet it is too early to determine how badly Mary Lynn will be affected by the disease, according to the physician.

All the children who attend Center Point School are now being inoculated with gamma globulin, it was reported by Jewel Barton, health nurse for the county. Some inoculations are being given by private physicians and others by the Big Spring-Howard County Health Unit.

Camera Crew In City

Photographers from the Ford Foundation shot footage Monday of Big Spring for inclusion in a story of a highway.

The road is the Henry Ford Memorial Highway, in reality the International 87 route coursing through Canada, the United States and Mexico. The occasion was the development of a picture narrative of attractions along the principal north-south highway.

Developing the sequences here were Wilson Davis and Pat Powers. They were almost on the homesteads of their mission which originated July 21 in Canada.

Within 15 days their shooting will be finished with their travel. When it is done, they will have traveled something like 13,000 miles, counting the trips over the route getting the lay of the land and developing sequence ideas.

The film will be done in color and will be available for general release possibly by Jan. 1, 1955. Schools, clubs and others may secure it through the local Ford dealers, and prospects are that it will be used on TV educational programs.

Sunrise found Powers and Wilson up for pictures of Big Spring from Scenic Drive. Soon they were getting shots of some 6th graders at Central Ward with H. H. Haynes, an old timer, spinning some yarns. Then the group went to the museum in the City Park and here Mr. Haynes again told some stories.

Two other pioneer residents, Raley Lovelace and Riley Burns set the stage for a sequence which saw Jan Burns, grand-niece of Mr. Burns walk by in cowgirl attire to the distraction of the elderly checker players.

During the afternoon the two photographers were to take shots at Webb AFB, including jets in formation. On the way to San Angelo, they were to stop on the rise at Continental's lease and take pictures of that section of the Howard-Glassecock oil fields.

At the park, in the accompanying picture, the grouping showed Benny Dale Parker, extreme left, listening to Mr. Haynes tell a story of early days. Others listening are Billy Wayne Spears, Tommy Rutledge and Mike Knight. Holding the reflector is Wilson Davis, while Powers operates the camera. In the background, watching proceedings are Mr. Burns and Mr. Lovelace.

Local Group Will Attend Cancer Meet

Eleven Big Spring residents plan to attend a district meeting of the American Cancer Society to be held in Brownfield tomorrow.

The occasion is the fifth annual meeting of district two of the Cancer Society's Texas Division. This district takes in the surrounding 21 counties.

Highlight of the volunteer workers meeting will be the showing of a new film featuring some of the latest developments in cancer research.

A team of physicians from the University of Texas Medical Branch at Galveston will conduct the teaching conference for practicing physicians.

Big Springers who are planning to attend the meeting include Mrs. W. N. Norred, Mrs. Alton Underwood, Mrs. Clyde Angel, Mrs. Lorin McDowell, Miss Jewell Barton, Truman Jones, Dr. Cowper, Simpson, Dr. Edward V. Swift, Dr. George Peacock, and Dr. C. B. Marvum.

Know These Things About Lamb

Lamb is available in our markets the year around, a great advantage to the homemaker seeking menu variety.

Lamb may be served either hot or cold, but never lukewarm.

A leg of lamb will cook more quickly and keep its shape better if the fat, that thin paper-like covering, is not removed before cooking.

Lamb chops are at their best when cooked just short of well done, so that they are slightly pink throughout. Lamb roasts, too, are a treat when medium done.

Allow ten to fifteen minutes longer per pound for roasting boned cuts than those with the bones in.

Sour cream gives a zestful flavor to lamb gravy.

A clove of garlic tucked into the joint of a leg of lamb adds a delightfully different flavor. This should be removed before serving.

Mint leaves make an attractive garnish and a pleasant flavor accompaniment for lamb. They may be chopped and added to the stuffing.

Lamb makes a tasty stew because its flavor blends well with all vegetables.

Lamb and new peas are considered a perfect combination, but try serving lamb with green beans, spinach, cauliflower, brussels sprouts, or broccoli.

Fruits such as pears, pineapple and peaches are a treat when browned in the pan with roast lamb.

Offers Good Advice

Lovely Mary Brian, seen as "Mrs. Archer" in Ziv Television Program's new TV series "Meet Corliss Archer," recommends simplifying your beauty habits and stretching your cosmetic dollars with honey recipes.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Mary Brian Tells How To Simplify Cosmetics

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD — Though Mary Brian has been absent from pictures a long time her fans have not forgotten her. On the "Meet Corliss Archer" TV set where Mary plays the mother, her dressing room was filled with fan letters.

Mary was just finishing for the day and as I waited for her to get into street clothes I watched every step of her complexion routine.

First Mary took off her make-up with a liquid cream. She wiped her face several times with tissues and then held a hot cloth over her face to open the pores. Then she worked a lather of soap into her skin, washing it off with lukewarm water.

"If you allow any cosmetics to be left behind in your pores," Mary remarked, "you will find that they will become blemishes."

After Mary dried her face she spread a few drops of the liquid cream over her face, using it as a powder base.

"I have a very simple beauty routine," she confided. "I learned this during the war."

Mary made three trips to the battle fronts, in Africa, the South Pacific and Europe. "We were on the go so constantly that I learned how to streamline my grooming routine. Of course the soldiers expected us to look our best but we had very little to work with."

"I remember one place I ran out of hand cream. It was very cold and my hands were so raw that I had to wear gloves to put my nylons on otherwise my rough fingers would have snagged them. Try glycerin and lemon juice, a doctor told me and this worked so successfully. I've kept a bottle of it in my bathroom every since."

"Once I lost my tooth paste," Mary continued, "so I used salt and baking soda."

"Most dentists have high praise for this mixture," I remarked.

"Yes," Mary agreed, "but my dentist advised including a tooth-decay powder. He thinks it's better to change because you are inclined to build up an immunity when you use the same formula all the time."

"Any more short cuts to beauty?" I asked.

"Let me see," Mary said as she powdered her mouth before applying her lipstick. "When my lips get dry I like to put odorless castor oil on them. I sweeten the oil with a drop of bath oil."

All of Mary's favorite cosmetic aids can be bought in a drug store for very little. They may not have fancy bottles but they do a good job. They also help out greatly if you have to watch your cosmetic budget.

Choice Steaks Feature Menu At Douglass

Charcoal broiled steaks are a specialty at the Douglass Coffee Shop, 802 Rannels.

The largest broiler of its type in West Texas is in service at the coffee shop to charcoal steaks, said Ray Parker, manager. Any type and size steak desired can be prepared.

Parker explained that prices of the charcoal steaks are from $1.35 to $2.00, somewhat lower than most places. Lower costs result from Parker's butchering ability.

"I do all my own butchering and buy only choice beef," he said. "This way we always have good meat selections and don't have the 'occasional' bad cuts some people get in the markets."

Practically all types of sea food selections are served at the Douglass, as are Mexican foods and special orders. The menu is one of the most exclusive in West Texas.

A 75-cent lunch is served during weekdays, and a special Sunday dinner is always prepared.

The Douglass Coffee Shop is open from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily, including Sunday. Approximately 80 people can be accommodated — in booths, at tables and at the counter. Special parties are booked for the Maverick Room.

Mr. and Mrs. Parker — she assists her husband in the management — expressed appreciation to their many friends and customers for their patronage. Since the couple took over management of the Douglass, business has more than doubled.

Both have been in the restaurant business for more than 12 years, having operated several establishments in Big Spring.

"I don't know of a place in town that is equipped as well, is so clean and has such a good atmosphere while still keeping such cheap prices on their food," Parker pointed out.

How To Make Sweet Music

Mrs. Champ Rainwater, who is local representative for The Shield Company, Inc., demonstrates how to make sweet music on the celebrated Hammond organ. Not only does Mrs. Rainwater demonstrate the versatility and delightful tonal qualities of the instrument, but she offers free lessons to those who become the proud owners of a Hammond. She is reached at 1708 Main (Phone 4-5732).

Wagon Wheel Restaurant
Enlarges Parking Space

The parking area at the Wagon Wheel Restaurant, 803 East 3rd, was enlarged to accommodate the ever-growing list of customers.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Rainbolt, restaurant owners, moved their home to allow more parking space. The area set aside for cars is now twice as big as it was previously.

Actually the parking lot was not big enough in the past to take care of all the customers' vehicles. But manager Herbert Vinson feels that plenty of room is now available.

Enlarging parking facilities will allow the Wagon Wheel Restaurant to more easily take care of private parties and service club meetings. Members of the parties and regular customers will have room to park their automobiles.

The parking lot was deceiving in the past, Vinson points out. It would be filled when a club meeting was being held in the Western or Candlelight Rooms, and regular customers would believe the dining room was also full.

The Wagon Wheel can accommodate some 200 people at one time, and adequate facilities are now available for the cars in which these people arrive.

A number of private groups and clubs are now holding meetings at the Wagon Wheel. Reservations can be obtained for parties numbering from six to 100, and the phone number is 4-8332.

Any type food desired can be ordered at the restaurant, and efficient waitresses insure prompt service. Specialties of the house include steaks, Mexican selections, and seafoods.

Shield Company Observes 19th Year With Hammond

The Shield Company, Inc., of Fort Worth, is celebrating its nineteenth year as a dealer for the Hammond organ. "During that time, we have installed and serviced the popular Hammond organ in hundreds of homes and churches throughout Central and West Texas," said Mrs. C. H. Rainwater, local representative and staff organizer for The Shield Company, Inc. The company employs a large staff of people who devote their time exclusively to the Hammond organ, and with its convenient time-payment plans, it was indicated by Mrs. Rainwater that it was the company's aim to make it possible for every church and home in West Texas to enjoy the glorious music of the Hammond organ.

For special concerts and personal demonstrations of the Hammond organ, The Shield Company, Inc. has eight outstanding organists serving its customers. They are Gene James, Frances Kay, Mrs. Alma Woodham, Mrs. Mary Carter, Mrs. Edna Kent, Osnai Vaudell, Mrs. Louise Slaughter, and Mrs. Rainwater. They play special concerts in homes, churches, schools and auditoriums in the course of their demonstrations of the Hammond organ. The Shield Company also maintains a complete installation and service organization to assure every organ being properly installed for a lifetime of enjoyment.

Many thousands of Hammond organs have been installed in churches throughout the world. Mrs. Rainwater attributes such wide acceptance to the "versatility of the Hammond organ and to the fact that its tones are produced electrically, making it possible for the musician to create an unlimited variety of registrations, including the conventional organ voices and orchestral qualities not available on any other organ. In addition, there are literally hundreds of tonal colors which the Hammond organist has at his immediate disposal ... the tones of the Baroque 15th and 16th Century organs, the dignified tones of the Cathedral organ and the warm solo stops of the modern organ."

The latest development in the Hammond organ is the new Selective Vibrato, and it is now standard equipment on all instruments. The exclusive reverbation control which provides the resonance so necessary to fine organ music is also an integral part of all installations. The Hammond organ occupies less space than a grand piano and is offered in a variety of console and tone cabinet designs.

Mrs. Rainwater is well-known in the Big Spring area for her musical talent and activities she has carried on for many years. Her Hammond sales and teaching studios are located at 1708 Main St.

Today I'm going to give the Big Spring Daily Herald a little free advertising, while at the same time letting all the folks who live within 100 miles of Big Spring in on a mighty good thing.

The Herald is opening its annual fall bargain offer of the newspaper for $8 for a year to subscribers who get this newspaper by mail within 100 miles of Big Spring. If your mail box is 101 miles from here we'll try to squeeze you in anyway, if you'll just send in your check for $8 and your address.

To make this offer appear even better to you, look at it this way. That's just $4 a year for the "Grub Line" and $4 a year for Tommy Hart's "Looking 'Em Over" with all the rest of a mighty good daily newspaper thrown in for nothing.

And, starting Jan. 2, The Herald will have a regular Sunday magazine section in four colors. It's "The Family Weekly" a rotogravure supplement, illustrated and packed with special features that will be of interest to every member of the family.

Gov. Allan Shivers has proclaimed the week of Oct. 4-9 as "Texas Farm Bureau Organization Week."

During this week thousands of volunteer workers will conduct an intensive statewide campaign for members for this independent farm and ranch organization. The goal this year is 63,750 members. Last year 53,195 families were enrolled.

In his proclamation, Gov. Shivers paid tribute to agriculture, which is the state's largest industry. He said:

"Farming and ranching activities afford a major source of income for the inhabitants of the State of Texas. The farmers and ranchers of Texas, through their organizations, have worked for recognition, representation and economic equality by democratic procedures."

The Garden City Chapter of the Future Ranchers of America (FFA), has been awarded the gold emblem rating by the State Association of FFA.

Each year the chapters throughout the state are rated by the association. There are four degrees, with the gold emblem being the highest. The others are silver, bronze and honorable mention.

To attain a gold emblem rating the chapter must attain a score of 90 points or better. For the silver emblem from 83 to 90 points; for the bronze from 76 to 83 points and for honorable mention 76

Farm Bureau Week

Governor Allan Shivers has officially designated Oct. 4-9 as Farm Bureau Organization Week in Texas. Looking on as he signed the proclamation were (left) J. Walter Hammond, president of the Texas Farm Bureau, and S. W. McClaren of Cameron, director of TFB District 8. During this week volunteer workers will seek to bring the membership of the TFB up to 63,750 farm and ranch families, which is the 1954 goal.

points or above. The scores are determined by the chapter's program of work during the year, including participation in judging contests, leadership contests, and participation in district, area and state meetings.

Marion A. Barber, instructor in Vocational Agriculture in the Garden City High School, has been presented with the meritorious service certificate by the Association of Vocational Agriculture Teachers of Texas. The award is for "distinguished service in supervised farming" for the improvement of the vocational agriculture program in the Garden City community.

Marion O'Bannon, Eugene Daves, John Daniels and Jim Nelson of the Garden City FFA are getting eight lambs ready for the Texas State Fair.

Animals being fed out for the big annual spring show, in February, in Garden City, by FFA members include 13 capons, three steers and 40 lambs.

Other projects of the chapter members this year are three brood sows; two registered Rambouillet bucks; five commercial type barrows; 15 acres of cotton; 10 acres of small grain; eight breeding heifers and six rabbits.

The boys expect to be able to feed their animals a little cheaper this year than last since they bought a large quantity of feed on

Resuscitator Is Added At Lake

Another piece of safety equipment has been added by the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

It is a portable resuscitator which may be operated doubly to revive two persons at the same time if necessary. The equipment will be kept at the concessions house at Lake J. B. Thomas in charge of Ned Sanders.

The apparatus was demonstrated in Big Spring Monday by R. A. Haster, district manager for the National Cylinder Gas Company. O. H. Ivie, production superintendent for the district, Walter Ross, district auditor, and Otto Peters Sr., veteran Red Cross safety instructor, were schooled in operation of the equipment.

A second demonstration was given at the lake with Ivie, Jack Dunn, pumper, and Sanders, who

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

London's Famed Tower Bridge.

LONDON — Through this city flows the famous Thames (pronounced TEMS) River. Rising in the Cotswold Hills of southwestern England, this stream is 200 miles long. It flows eastward through London, then on to the North Sea.

Measuring along its curves, the Thames has a length of 47 miles between Tower Bridge and the point at which it enters the North Sea. This section of the river is deep enough for many large ocean vessels. Thousands of boats use the river. Some carry passengers, but most are freight steamers.

Geography books of 50 years ago always spoke of London as "the largest city in the world." In the past quarter of a century, there has been a question as to whether this honor (if it is an honor) should belong to London or New York.

In the 1950 census, New York City (also called Greater New York) had a population of 7,892,000. A year later, Greater London had 8,346,000 people.

In view of the difference in census time, we may ask whether one year was long enough for New York City to overtake London. The fact is that several years would be needed by New York (at the recent rate of increase) to catch up with London, even if London "stood still." Present-day geographers list London as the world's largest city, with New York second. Only by adding the population of one or two New Jersey cities to New York City could a change be made in the ranking.

London has docks and wharves which stretch for many miles alongside the Thames. Bridges across the river rise to let large vessels go past. One of these is the famed Tower Bridge, which is near the Tower of London.

Tower Bridge was built with an upper level which permitted foot passengers to cross it at the same time that a big vessel was passing. This plan was given up years ago.

Pat McCormick Due To Fly Here

Patricia McCormick, who was almost fatally gored in a bullfight in Villa Acuna on Sept. 5, is making steady recovery.

Unless there are complications, she will be flown back here Thursday to convalesce at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. McCormick, 709 W. 17th.

Her father, returning here Monday from Del Rio where Pat has been hospitalized since she was impaled on the horns of a big Mexican bull, said her recovery during the past week was little short of remarkable. She is now able to walk short distances from her bed.

The private plane of Cosden Petroleum Corporation, for which McCormick is the chief engineer, is to be dispatched Thursday morning to Del Rio for the transfer. The plane has seats which make down into a bed. Pat will be accompanied home by her mother, who has been at her bedside since the Big Spring girl was gored while attempting to take her second bull off the horse in the arena.

Lippy Probably Will Have To Go With Sal Maglie

Cleveland Due To Use Lemon

By JOE REICHLER
 NEW YORK (AP)—Barring a surprise selection, the 1934 World Series will open at the Polo Grounds tomorrow with Sal Maglie (14-6) on the mound for the New York Giants opposing the Cleveland Indians' Bob Lemon (23-7).

Both managers, Leo Durocher of the Giants and Al Lopez of the Indians, promised to make their selections known today.

Despite Durocher's known willingness to gamble, it was felt that Leo realizes he must go with his front man in all of the Giants' clutch series down the stretch. Maglie will be fully rested, having pitched only two warmup innings last Saturday.

Lemon also will be fresh. He has not pitched since Friday when he went the distance against the Detroit Tigers. Early Wynn, who had been coupled with Lemon by Lopez as a possible first starter, pitched a "pressure" game against Detroit Saturday, working on a no-hitter until the ninth inning.

The Indians, already a prohibitive 17 to 10 favorite, were made an even more solid 9 to 5 choice today. The odds-makers undoubtedly count on Cleveland's deeper pitching staff to bring ultimate victory. The Indians are 6 to 5 favorites to capture the opener, regardless of the pitchers.

The weather man promises nice weather. He says it'll be slightly cloudy with the temperatures between 65 and 70 degrees when the umpires yell "play ball" at 1 p.m. EST.

Reserve tickets for the opener and all other games here and in Cleveland long have been sold. A crowd of close to 55,000 is expected for the opener. The second game also will be played at the Polo Grounds Thursday before the scene shifts to Cleveland.

Despite the announced odds, the writer believes the Indians will have their hands full in a series going the full seven games. It figures to be a keenly fought series, dominated by standout pitching on both sides, with a clutch hit in the late innings deciding each game.

The Giants can't match the Indians' superlative mound staff headed by Lemon, Wynn (23-11), Mike Garcia (19-8), Bob Feller (13-3), Art Houtteman (15-7) and Don Mossi (6-1).

But they have three outstanding hurlers in Maglie, left-handed Johnny Antonelli (21-7) and Euben Cooney (17-9) and their own two of the best relief pitchers in the business in knuckleballer Hoyt Wilhelm (12-4) and screwballer Marv Grissom (10-7).

The Giants may come up with a surprise starter, probably for the fourth game, in Don Liddle, their diminutive southpaw with a 9-4 record.

Figures show that Cleveland's record against left-handers at this season was .84 (38-21) as compared to .708 percentage (.73-22) against right-handers. The shrewd Giant manager also must have noticed that three of Cleveland's last four losses, all in the final week, were inflicted by southpaws.

Aside from pitching, the Giants appear to field the stronger club. The infield of Whitey Lockman, Davey Williams, Al Dark and Hank Thompson has a definite defensive edge over the Indians' inner line of Art Fertz, Bobby Avila, George Strickland and Al Rosen.

There is little to choose in power. Each club boasts the league leading batter but Willie Mays' .245 is more impressive than Avila's .241 because it includes 41 homers and 67 RBIs. The Indians' Larry Doby, however, tops all with his 126 RBIs and is second only to Mays with his 32 homers.

Each club has a standout catcher, not particularly renowned for his hitting. Cleveland's Jim Hegan and New York's Wes Westrum are masters with the mitt but usually draw blanks with the bat.

He's Now A Cowboy

Kenny Ford, who used to pitch strikes against Big Spring and other District I-AAA teams while playing for Breckenridge, will be in the backfield of the HSU Cowboys when they meet Oklahoma A&M in Odessa the night of Oct. 23. Tickets for the contest can be ordered through the Odessa Chamber of Commerce.

ARZOLA IS BACK

Ysleta Poses Much Tougher Problem, Coach Cautions

Coach Carl Coleman has been trying to impress upon his Big Spring High School football charges the fact that the Longhorns will not be meeting the same Ysleta team they faced a year ago when they take the field here Friday night.

So far it hasn't made too much of an impression. The boys remember all too well the remarkable ease with which they bowled over the hapless Indians last year.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

SPORTS DIAMOND:
WAYNE BONNER, assistant football mentor at Big Spring High School, prior to last week's game with Stephenville:
 "I'd gladly settle for a one-point win now. The hardest kind of game to play is the one where everyone thinks you're going to take it without any trouble."

J. HAMPTON POOL, coach of the Los Angeles Rams:
 "Les Richter is going to be a truly great player. Already he has done something no other rookie ever did in pro football, at least not to my knowledge. He has learned four positions and is playing all four equally well. These are the two offensive guard positions and right and left linebacking spots."

DUDLEY DeGROOT, former big-time football coach, in a speech concerning football and boys:
 "What a boy says and what a boy does shapes his destiny and the results are eternal. The way you practice tells the way you will play, on a football field or anywhere else."

J. D. CAUBLE, ex-Big Spring griddle, after watching Waco and Odessa play recently in Odessa:
 "I'm not at all sure Odessa would win again, if they played. Waco looked plenty good to me."

The late POP WARNER, a coaching immortal, in taking a stand against the T formation:
 "The quarterback gets less protection from the T. He has to run back with the ball and turn before he can line up his receivers. He would be able to spot his targets quicker from the single-wing because the ball would come straight to him."

DICKIE MILAM, Big Spring lineeman, after emerging from a pile-up in a recent Steer scrimmage to take a short rest:
 "Love that defense."

MARTY MARION, new Chicago White Sox manager, after being wished well by a friend:
 "The idea in baseball is to win. If I don't, I won't be around very long."

SPOT COLLINS, coach of the Vernon High School Lions:
 "The present top of players is the best I've had since I arrived here in 1922. Spirits are high, everybody is cooperative and we've got some fine football players out. We'll need some great players, about 11, to make an impression on the tough teams in our district. Though, this I-AAA is the roughest in the state. With a little luck and some good hard work, we ought to do all right."

JACK MABLEY, Chicago sports writer:
 "In my opinion, more fans think Paul Richards is a lousy manager than think he is a good one."

BOBBY WRIGHT, Big Spring's stellar golfer:
 "I enjoyed playing in the Odessa Pro-Am Tournament, and would like to go back next year. They treat you swell over there. As for winning anything, well, you have to just about cut ten strokes off par every day or you're just one of the also-rans."

BOB CARROLL, Plainview sports writer:
 "Although Plainview High School didn't come through its first (football) test in flying colors, they did give local fans hope for the remainder of the season and the idea that we have a club that must be reckoned with by any team with title aspirations in District I-AAA. . . . In this writer's opinion, the Plainview line outplayed the Lubbock line throughout the game, and this came with five offensive and one defensive starters having to sit out the game due to injuries."

A SCOUT at Ole Miss, commenting on what fans can expect of the Rebels this year:
 "Once in a while, we can slip up on a blind hog and steal an acorn, but it won't happen often."

ARCH WARD, Chicago writer:
 "Drizzling rains which twice forced postponement of the Marciano-Charles fight in Yankee Stadium caused the IBC considerable anguish, but Charles had only one complaint. . . . It didn't rain long enough."

FRANK HONEYCUTT, Forsan coach, following his team's loss to Weibert:
 "How would I compare Weibert with Lohn (which beat Forsan in bi-district play last year)? I might go with Weibert. They had a very smooth ball club. There wasn't that much difference (50-15) between our clubs, however. The defensive play of their centers had more to do with ruining us than anything."

ALI BEY, the wrestler:
 "Some folks say I'm not a Turk because I wouldn't talk to some guys who jabbered at me the other night. I wasn't talking to no one then. No one. But I'll talk to them in Turkish, Spanish or English any time but when I'm about to go into the ring. I talk several languages, you know."

Chapman Leads Grid Scoring In Conference

Doyle Chapman, Lamesa quarterback, is pacing District I-AAA in individual scoring with five touchdowns and an extra point, good for 31 points.

Clyde Harris of Breckenridge, who has played one less game than Chapman, is second with 27 points while Big Spring's Frosty Robison and Jake Sandifer of Breckenridge are tied for third with 24 each.

Chapman's lead will be challenged this week, since he will be idle while Harris, Robison and Sandifer will all be playing.

SERIES NOTES

Garcia Yields Few HR Balls

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Giants showed more power than did Cleveland during the regular season. The Giants produced 2,216 total bases including 186 homers—the most in the majors. The Indians had 2,098 total bases with 158 home runs.

The Giants may find it a tough job hitting home runs off Mike Garcia. The big righthander permitted only six homers during the regular campaign, the fewest in either circuit.

Cleveland's Stadium was the scene of the largest World Series crowd—88,228—at the Indians-Boston Braves game Oct. 10, 1948. Cleveland drew the season's high of 1964—84,557—in the twin-bill against the Yankees on Sept. 12.

The largest share for a winning World Series player was the $8,290 each New York Yankee received last year. The losing Dodgers picked up $6,178 apiece, also a record.

Cleveland pitchers probably will settle for a few one-base hits off the bat of Willie Mays. He broke the Giants' club mark for extra bases, pounding out 87 with 23 doubles, 13 triples and 41 homers.

Don Mueller of the Giants, was the only major leaguer to hit for the cycle with a single, double, triple and homer this year. He did it in the July 11 game against Pittsburgh. He was the first to turn the trick since Cleveland's Larry Doby did it June 4, 1922.

The Giants hit seven grand slams during the year and the Indians four. Whitey Lockman (twice), Al Dark, Mueller, Hank Thompson, Wes Westrum and Bobby Hofman connected with the bases-filled for New York. Dave Philley, Billy Glynn, Bobby Avila and George Strickland did it for Al Lopez's men.

Foreign Fighters Taking Over In Boxing Circles

NEW YORK (AP)—The steady forward march of foreign fighters and the decline in American boxers is reflected today in the latest ratings which show half of the 90 contenders are from out of the United States.

For the first time in 25 years, four foreigners are listed among the top ten heavyweights in Ring Magazine's monthly ratings. With the ascension of France's Robert Cohen to the bantamweight throne, foreigners hold three world titles. Cuba's Kid Gavilan is the welterweight king and Japan's Yoshio Shirai holds the flyweight crown.

In the most important division—the heavyweights—Cuba's Nino Valdes moved into the No. 1 contender spot and England's Don Cockell took over the No. 2 post following champion Rocky Marciano's eight-round knockout of Exard Charles. Charles was dropped to third. Germany's Heinz Neuhaus is rated seventh and Canada's Earl Walls, ninth, in the latest reshuffling of the division.

The foreign influence is felt heavily, as usual, among the smaller classes. Foreigners occupy all 10 contender spots in the flyweight division, eight in the bantamweight list, and six in the featherweight roster.

But Americans are feeling the competition, too, in the heavier divisions. Foreigners also occupy four berths in the light heavy division and four among the middleweights.

The latest rankings:

Heavyweights (Champion Rocky Marciano, Brockton, Mass.): 1. Nino Valdes, Cuba; 2. Don Cockell, England; 3. Exard Charles, Cincinnati; 4. Jimmy Slade, New York; 5. Roland La Starza, New York; 6. Tommy Jackson, New York; 7. Heino Neuhaus, Germany; 8. Bob Baker, Pittsburgh; 9. Earl Walls, Toronto; 10. Dan Bucceroni, Philadelphia.

Light heavyweights (175 pounds) (Champion Archie Moore, Miami): 1. Harold Johnson, Philadelphia; 2. Joey Maxim, Cleveland; 3. Paul Andrew, Buffalo, N.Y.; 4. Floyd Patterson, Brooklyn; 5. Billy Smith, Atlantic City, N.J.; 6. Gerhardt Hecht, Germany; 7. Bob Satterfield, Chicago; 8. Yolande Pompey, Trinidad; 9. Willie Hoepner, Germany; 10. Jacques Hairsbedian, France.

SOONERS SECOND

Irish Assume Top Spot In AP Poll

By ED WILKS
 NEW YORK (AP)—Notre Dame, the pre-season choice, took over the No. 1 spot today as the nation's sports writers and sportscasters made a quick overhaul of the rankings in The Associated Press' weekly college football poll.

The Irish, second a week ago in the first poll of the season, vaulted into the top position with solid support after their impressive 21-0 victory under new coach Terry Brennan in their season opener against Texas last weekend. Notre Dame claimed almost two-thirds of the first place votes on the 154 ballots.

Oklahoma's Sooners, given first place honors last week settled in the No. 2 position. The Sooners, pressed by TCU for their second victory, had a clear edge over the rest of the field.

The Irish collected 94 first place votes and a total of 1,438 points (based on 10 points for first, 9 for second, etc.) while Oklahoma collected just 24 first and 1,224 points.

The experts newly reverted to their pre-season selections in naming the two top teams, but they fitted most of their other first week choices with puppy-love abandon. Five of last week's top 10 stumbled and two—Georgia Tech and Illinois, fifth and sixth a week ago—dropped clear out of the top 20.

Iowa, with its 14-19 surprise against Michigan State, jumped into the No. 3 spot from the No. 12 berth, displacing Maryland, the 1933 mythical national champion. The Terps, kids last weekend, dropped to sixth, while UCLA advanced from eighth to fourth and Wisconsin moved in at No. 5 from

Ill-Tempered Bey Causes Near Riot At Matches

All Bey, for the third time in his last three appearances in a local wrestling arena, was the ringleader of a near riot at the Monday night at Steer Park.

Bey, who with his partner, Bill (Ace) Abbott of Abilene, had already had his hand raised in victory in an Australian Tag match with Tommy Martindale and Pepper Gomez when Referee Torres Perez had a change of heart and informed the onlookers that, after thinking it over, Bey's demeanor was too unbecoming to deserve victory.

Perez's verdict almost resulted in a riot. Bey did everything short of telephoning the National Labor Relations Board in an effort to change the decision. Abbott, on the other hand, never seemed too concerned about the whole thing.

Bey, who earlier in the evening had been disqualified in a match with Martindale for excessive use of fouling tactics, took his wrath out on Perez inside and outside the squared circle, then was challenged to a good portion of the customers.

The Terrible Turk apparently had ended the Tag Match by boring his head into Martindale's middle while holding him fast in his vise-like grip, a move calculated to force the breath from an opponent.

Once Bey entered onto the scene, he was reluctant to leave it, even between matches. He strutted about the ring and, at times, for want of something better to do—stood on his hands in the corner of the ring.

The first match of the evening, a struggle between Gomez and Abbott, went 15 minutes without a decision, although Abbott was on the verge of asking for mercy. Gomez had him wrapped up like a pretzel.

In the feature event, the Gomez-Martindale combine prevailed in the first fall when Gomez forced Abbott to give up with a Boston Crab in 13 minutes.

Abbott came right back to even matters in four minutes with an Arm Back Stretch.

FREDDY NOT SIGNED
 NEW YORK (AP)—Detroit Free Press sports editor Lyall Smith said today Fred Hutchinson had demanded a two-year contract renewal to stay on as manager of the Detroit Tigers.

Humphrey Warns Nations Investment Isn't Charity

WASHINGTON (U)—Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey told free world nations today they must inspire confidence and be ready to pay an "attractive return" if they want to attract private investment dollars.

Humphrey spoke bluntly in a panel discussion of private international investment opportunities. Other participants were R. A. Butler, Britain's chancellor of the exchequer; Eugenio Gudis, Brazil's finance minister; India's Chintaman D. Deshmukh, and Holland's finance minister, Johann Van de Kieft.

The panel discussion came during the annual meeting of the 57-nation World Bank and International Monetary Fund. The meeting ends tomorrow.

Humphrey said in prepared remarks that the problem of how to meet the investment needs of countries with low standards of living must be kept "to the forefront."

But, he said: "Private investment is not made for philanthropic reasons. Nationalistic trends resulting in laws that discriminate against investors from other lands and restrictions jeopardizing either prin-

Engineers Strike At L.A. Breweries

LOS ANGELES (U) A strike of 16 engineers has halted production at two Los Angeles breweries. Officials at the Schlitz and Pabst plants said about 1,100 workers were idled by the walkout yesterday. Only two or three pickets appeared at the Schlitz plant in suburban Van Nuys and the Pabst plant in Los Angeles, but most of the other workers refused to cross the picket lines.

The AFL International Union of Operating Engineers is asking an increase of 27½ cents an hour for 16 members of Local 501. The companies have offered 13 cents. The present base pay for the engineers is $2,724.

The union allowed one man at each plant to keep refrigeration equipment going to prevent spoilage of beer already made.
