Nazi Airfields Hit By Planes

By HENRY B. JAMESON
LONDON, April 11 (AP)—Approximately 2,150 U.S. heavy bombers and fighters in a massive sweep across southern Germany attacked a string of Nazi airfields, railroad yards and oil and ammunition depots in the Nuernberg-Regensburg-Munich area today.

Fighters were high and low seeking German planes—almost 800 of which have been destroyed the last four days. Among the targets of the bombers were large airfields at Ingolstadt north of Munich and Obertraubling near Regensburg, the Kraiburg explosives plant near Muhlendorf, oil storage depots at Freimham and Regensburg, the Landshut ordnance depot and freight yards northeast of Munich and at Neumarkt, Ingolstadt, Donauworth and Amburg.

During the past four days a total of 63 German airmen have been beaten up and 798 Nazi planes have been destroyed in the air or on the ground. Germany's once-feared Luftwaffe appeared well on the road to obliteration.

Hopelessly outnumbered for months by the Allies and now virtually grounded for lack of oil, the enemy air force was given its worst blow of the war yesterday when American fliers destroyed 403 of its planes and damaged countless others.

Setting up several new records, the Americans yesterday knocked out 336 German aircraft on the ground and shot down 61 in attacks or 26 or more enemy fields. The cost to the U. S. Eighth and Ninth air forces was 25 heavy bombers and 15 fighters.

The air assault raged on late yesterday and last night with undiminished fury. British heavy bombers attacked railway yards at Leipzig and at Plauen, some 90 miles to the south. Mosquito bombers again hit Berlin.

British losses were 12 bombers and two fighters.

Thirty-five of the German planes downed in yesterday's aerial combat were jet-propelled fighters.

HUNGARIAN SAYS 5,000,000 JEWS GASSED BY NAZIS

By THOBURN WIAIT
NEAR ERFURT, Germany, April 11 (AP)—Dr. Bela Fabian, president of the dissolved Hungarian Independent democratic party, said in an interview today that 5,000,000 Jews had been gassed and cremated at a murder factory at Auschwitz, in upper Silesia.

Fabian said he was taken to Auschwitz 10 months ago with 500,000 other Hungarian Jews and that 400,000 were gassed and cremated in the first two months and that only 1,000 remained alive.

With Lt. Theodore Gutman of Los Angeles, and Sgt. Siegmund Fuld, New York City, acting as translators, Fabian told a story so horrible as to be almost unbelievable.

Fabian said he could speak English but that he was unnerved by the ordeal of his detention that he preferred to give the interview in German.

Ninth Reaches Elbe Mark On Road To Berlin

British Take Lugo In Senio Crossing

ROME, April 11 (AP)—British Eighth army troops, paced by flamethrowing tanks, have captured Lugo, Fusignano and Cotignola in the opening phase of their offensive across the Senio river on the eastern flank of the Italian front, Allied headquarters announced today.

Fall of these towns represented advances on a front of at least seven miles in the eastern Po valley astride the highway running from Ravenna to Bologna. Lugo lies a mile west of the Senio on the highway. Bologna is some 30 air-line miles ahead.

In western Italy, American troops of the Fifth army cleared the enemy from the road hub of Massa and pushed on in the direction of La Spezia, major Italian naval base a dozen miles away.

"Our troops have breached enemy defenses on the River Senio on a broad front," an Allied communique said.

In the early hours of the new attack, Eighth army infantry, moving up behind a heavy air bombardment, captured more than 1,200 Germans. Veteran New Zealanders took a prominent role in the assault.

The Eighth army also was on the move south of Highway 9, the major communication thoroughfare up the Po valley from Rimini, on the coast, through Forlì, Faenza, and Imola to Bologna. A bridgehead was secured across the upper Senio near Cuffiano, four miles from the highway southwest of Faenza.

In the major attack in the north the initial crossings were made between Fusignano and San Severo. South of that sector extensive minefields and tough resistance slowed the attack, but a bridgehead was formed and during Monday night the crossings were linked up and bridges thrown across the stream. Tanks and artillery poured across.

In the extreme north, Italian troops huddled the stream and advanced steadily west of Alfonsine.

Tanks gave close support yesterday as infantry shoved on into Lugo, Fusignano and Cotignola, reaching the Lugo canal. More than 750 heavy bombers swooped over the region again yesterday, dropping more than 1,700 tons of fragmentation bombs on enemy lines and gun posts west of Lugo.

Difficult terrain lies ahead. It is cut every few thousand yards by a river or a canal virtually the entire distance to Bologna.

British troops close on Hlaingdet

CALCUTTA, April 11 (AP)—Sweeping beyond captured Thazi, British 14th army troops were reported closing in today from the north and west against Hlaingdet, eight miles from the main highway to the Shan states of eastern Burma.

Hlaingdet lies a dozen miles miles south-east of Thazi, important road hub 14 miles east of the British base at Meiktila.

R. L. Cook Named Mayor By Board In Tuesday Meet

R. L. (Bob) Cook, member of the city commission since his election in 1940, and mayor pro tempore most of that time, was elected mayor by fellow board members as the new commission was organized Tuesday evening.

At the meeting, George W. Dabney and J. L. LeBlau, elected in balloting on April 3, were sworn in. Dabney is serving his first term, while LeBlau entered upon his first elective term.

The commission unanimously voted to accord the Veterans of Foreign Wars post the privilege of building a memorial in the city cemetery and ordered the plot donated for it. It was estimated that something like 3,040 square feet of space would be required.

Permanent site for a municipal warehouse was purchased by the city for a consideration of $2,000. The property, about a block and a half, runs between Young and Donley streets between the T. and P. tracks and E. second street. The site was formerly used by a gin company.

Reports from the state board of water engineers and the railroad commission were received, telling that orders had been passed to require oil producers in the Howard Glasscock area to cement at least 300 feet of surface string from top to bottom to prevent any possibility of pollution of the city's new water supply.

Dabney made a report on a meeting in which he, Chief of Police A. G. Mitchell and City Manager B. J. McDaniels were the guests of the Big Spring Civic association, an organization composed of citizens in the northern part of the city.

Jap Attacks Are Beaten By Yanks

By LEONARD MILLIMAN
Associated Press War Editor

American troops have beaten off a series of Japanese counterattacks on southern Okinawa, invaded three more islands, and seized two former Nipponese naval stations.

Two of the invaded islands—Jolo and Busuanga—were in the Philippines, where Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced "all organized enemy resistance in southern Luzon has collapsed."

The third island, Tsugen, is ten miles off the coast of Okinawa, 325 miles south of Japan. Twenty-fourth corps troops killed the garrison of 150 enemy soldiers as they overran the islet, controlling the entrance to Nakagusuku Bay, a former anchorage for the imperial fleet.

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced that in the first eight days of fighting on Okinawa 5,009 Japanese were killed, 222 taken prisoner, and 43,378 civilians interned. Press dispatches indicated American casualties during the same period were roughly 2,500, only a small percentage of whom were killed.

Presumably most Yank losses were in the 24th corps, units of which yesterday broke up recurrent Nipponese counterattacks on the southern end of the island. Duels between the largest mass of artillery batteries Japan has put into action and the combined might of U. S. Army, Marine, Naval and air artillery accompanied each charge. Neither side gained yesterday.

The Yanks have broken through the outer barrier of elaborate cave and pillbox defenses lying between them and Naha, capital and major objective on Okinawa. This fortified line is four miles deep and about four and a half miles wide.

In the north, Marines of the Third amphibious corps advanced about a mile and a half—their smallest gain in ten days—to seize Unten Bay and its submarine pens and torpedo boat base.

A naval anchorage used by the Japanese fleet during early stages of the Philippines invasion was seized by amphibious units which occupied Coron Bay on Busuanga to bring the first medical and food supplies in three years to the Culion leper colony.

Near the southern extremity of the Philippines the 41st division made a two-pronged invasion of Jolo, seized the capital city, an island and punched eight miles inland. MacArthur said the operation gave his forces "complete control" of the Sulu archipelago, home of rebellious Moro tribesmen and potential jumping off place for an invasion of Borneo.

The 11th airborne division swept 20 miles across Luzon to the east coast, closing a trap on Japanese on the southern arm of that major island in the Philippines.

W. I. (Bill) Marshall, district No. 6 Texas A. & M. extension service agent, was here Wednesday for a district farm program meeting. Heavy rains fell in the San Angelo area Tuesday, he said, and at Sterling City more than an inch fell. The North Concho was on a five foot rise at Water Valley, indicating heavy rains on the upper shed in Glasscock county. Showers did not extend with any intention into Howard county.

Essen Is Taken; Germans Retreat From Brunswick

By JAMES M. LONG
PARIS, April 11 (AP)—

The U.S. Ninth army reached the Elbe river at Magdeburg, 84 miles from Berlin today, after capturing the Ruhr munitions capital of Essen and fighting into Brunswick.

The Hell on Wheels (2nd) armored division whipped across the north German plain to within 25 miles of the Elbe river and the large city of Magdeburg, 65 miles from the German capital.

The tanks were expected to reach the Elbe, last water barrier before the capital, tonight, A. F. Correspondent Robert Emsun said.

At last reports, the Second armored was beyond the Schoeningha area, 27 miles from Magdeburg. The swift moving First army sped across the Thuringian plain south of the Harz mountains to an unspecified point 120 miles from the Russian lines in a supreme effort to cut Germany in two and bar access to the Alpine redoubts from the north.

First army armor continued driving eastward and may be expected to reach the Russian lines within the next weeks A. P. Correspondent Don Whitehead reported.

The Third army fought into Erfurt (pop. 166,661), 53 miles from Leipzig, and liquidated resistance in the Stegar woods.

Essen, a blackened ruin in which 659,174 persons lived before Hitler loosed his armies, is the home of the sprawling Krupp munitions and iron works. It is the birthplace of Reichsmarschal Hermann Goering and was the sixth largest city in Germany.

Albion troops captured Essen. The 79th (Cross of Lorraine) division had fought into its debris-plattered streets two days ago. Essen was built atop one of the earth's largest coal deposits.

In the north, the British Second army broadened and strengthened a 20-mile front of armor south of besieged Bremen.

Other British troops rolled up steadily gains along the western end of a wide front in northern Germany, beating down the last 50 miles toward Hamburg and the 30 toward the Helgoland Bight. The Canadians were within ten miles of the North sea.

Canadian troops fought across the IJssel river in Holland in the area of captured Deventer (40,300) toward Appeldorn (71,158) in an attack that may soon bring the great Dutch ports of Amsterdam and Rotterdam under Canadian guns, A. P. Correspondent Robert Wilson reported from Field Marshal Montgomery's headquarters.

The Ninth army in the area beyond Brunswick fought to within 38 miles of the Elbe river. Emsun declared that "engineers can throw a bridge across the Elbe if needed. Germans in Essen welcomed the American hilariously.

Resistance in Dortmund (337,000) began breaking during the afternoon of this fourth day of street fighting. Dortmund is the 11th largest city of Germany.

Attacking toward the southwest, the Eighth armored (Show Horse) division burrowed two to four miles into the Ruhr pocket, reaching the Ruhr river at Frondenberg and the Mohne river at Neheim.

One Hundred Thirty-nine Delegates Register At P-TA Convention Here

One hundred - and - thirty nine delegates, representative of the 10,000 members of the Parent-Teacher Association in District Six, had registered at noon for an all-day inspirational convention which is being held at the First Baptist church today with local P-T-A officers as hostesses.

Mrs. D. R. Carter, of Midland, district president, called the meeting to order, and in giving the purpose of the parley, stressed the importance of promoting the welfare of American youth today.

pointed out that there are 10,000 active members in District Six, 192,000 members in the state of Texas and over three and one-half million members in the United States. She used the organization's objectives as a basis for her talk, and explained that with as many members as there are in this district, state and nation, those working for the betterment of youth, can have political influence in seeing their purposes supported.

District board members were introduced during the initial session, music was led by Miss Vera Cook, district music chairman, and the Mother Singers from San Angelo presented a musical program.

State Parent-Teacher Officers Here Participating In District Conference

Mrs. F. E. Holman of Taylor, state vice-president, is here as a state representative at the Sixth District Parent-Teacher Association's "Inspirational Day" meeting in session today at the First Baptist Church.

A district board meeting was held on the mezzanine of the Settles Hotel at 7 o'clock Tuesday night. A barbecue dinner was served during the noon hour today by the Big Spring P-TA units with Mrs. J. E. Brigham, Big Spring City Council president, presiding.

At the board meeting, a nominating committee was named, plans were made for county meetings, and invitations for next year's meetings were brought before the group.

Following the meeting today, one-day inspirational meetings will be held in the various counties.

The meeting today set a pattern for counties to follow in their one-day inspirational meetings.

Among other program features was a report on junior canteens by Mrs. S. J. Jones of Midland; Mrs. Tyson Midkiff of Rankin, and Mrs. John Reese of Colorado City; a discussion of services rendered by congress was given by Frank Monroe of Midland, state recreation chairman; recognition of all school principals; and pledges to life membership and endowment by Mrs. L. The first in a series of pre-school children health clinics was held Tuesday afternoon at the North Ward Parent-Teacher meeting. Dr. J. A. Olean, director of the county health unit, spoke on "Correct Diet for Healthy School Children." Dr. M. H. Bennett and Mrs. Ann Fisher, county health nurse, assisted Dr. Olean in conducting the clinic.

"We were disappointed," said Dr. Olean, "that out of a possible nineteen pre-school children, only six were examined." Mrs. B. E. Winterrowd expressed her opinion that the reason for the small number might be that the health clinic is a new project in this vicinity but children must be examined before they are eligible to enter school.

Mrs. Walter Davis, president, presided at the business session and the room count prize went to Mrs. Walter Rueckart's fourth and fifth grade class who presented a short skit "In the Doctor's Office" as the program. Mary Lou Lepard played a piano selection and James Hollis sang a song.

Lisenbee Believes He Can Help Cincinnati In Race

By CHIP ROYAL
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor
BLOOMINGTON, Ind.—Deacon Bill McKechnie, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, isn't moaning, but he's pretty low. He admits he's got the worst team he ever started in the National league pennant race.

"You fellows have been calling me an expert handler of men for the 23 years I've been managing baseball teams," sighs the Deacon. "I'll be a genius if I can do anything with the bunch I have this year."

"Well, you can depend on me to do all I can," interrupts 43-year-old Hod Lisenbee. "I never felt better in my life."

"I'm glad to hear that," assures McKechnie.

Lisenbee is the oldest of three ancient pitchers the Reds have assembled to take the place of no-hitter Clyde Shoun, Harry Gumbert and Thomas de la Cruz. The other two old-timers are Walter (Boom Boom) Beck, 39, and Guy Bush, 42.

Hod is the one who will probably help the Deacon most. A former Sunday school teacher who never drank or smoked, the big Tennessean has been in organized ball for 22 years.

Ls always has kept in top form, never had any trouble with his rubber right arm and is as crafty and cunning as they come out there on the mound.

Hod won 15 games for Syracuse last year and thought it would bring him another big league opportunity. His record included a no-hit, no-run, no-walks game.

"All I hope is that I can repeat that performance this year," he exclaims, "and I don't see why I can't."

Besides the three ancient newcomers to the Reds pitching corps, McKechnie also has a 24-year-old youngster from Oregon, one Howard Fox, who may help him a little.

Fox, a 6 feet 3 right hander, will be playing his third season of pro ball. He won 19 and lost 10 for Birmingham last season with a 2.71 earned run average. He's got a terrific fast ball which should bother a lot of hitters.

Then the Deacon hopes to have Bucky Walters and Ed Heusser around for awhile. They're plenty tough against certain clubs.

Arnold Carter will be back for his second season and the big lefty should improve his 11 and 7 record of 1944. But, after that, it's going to be tough picking for McKechnie.

And with his ironman catcher, Ray Mueller, gone, the picture looks even worse—a second division spot for the team.

Just a reminder that Joe Miller, ex-world's champion match bowler, is putting in an appearance at the West Texas Bowling Center tonight at 8:00. Miller holds many records, and has 23 perfect games on his record books.

He will give instructions as to technique in straight bowling. And just in case your ball doesn't roll true every time, naturally due to the pin boy's attitude or the alleys, Miller will demonstrate the perfect form in picking off those spare pins that refuse to fall.

It might be worth an hour or so of watching and listening to drop in about the above-given time for some valuable pointers.

Some weeks ago it was announced that the Big Spring Athletic Association would sponsor a field day for the girls of Howard county.

This paper carried the various divisions of the meet and with them, instructions to mail entries here. As yet none have been received. The events will come off April 27, on Friday, beginning at 2 p. m. All entries will be excused from school that afternoon. Any girl in Howard county is eligible to enter.

County Superintendent Walker Bailey is at present touring the county schools and announcing the meet. A great many contestants are expected from the out-lying districts.

Two divisions have been marked off by Miss Arah Phillips, director of the meet, with prizes to the winners. Girls 10 years of age and under will make up one group, while the second division will consist of young ladies 11 years old to 14 years, inclusive.

The events for the girls' field day will be (1) the baseball distance throw; (2) basketball free toss, five throws with one trial; (3) volleyball serve, five with one trial; (4) three minute rope jump singles; (5) tin can bowling, five rolls with one trial; and (6) the 40-yard dash.

Teachers will assist in the meet. Their names will be given at a later date.

Local girls expressed great disappointment recently when they were barred from the kite contest, held March 24 for boys only. This is a good chance for the fairer sex to participate in some athletics. This corner thinks it about time for some contestants.

Big Spring high school meets the Lubbock Westerners next football season in Lubbock. Some bad news may be in store for the Steers.

George Brewer, the swivel-hipped back who dealt the locals so much trouble last fall when the South Plains eleven rolled up a 25-0 victory on the local field, has decided to return to school another year.

Along with four other starting Westerners, and three extra lettermen thrown in for good measure Brewer and the Westerners look a shade rough come fall.

Big Spring, as well as all District Three teams have been battling a jinx for the past few years when meeting the Lubbock boys. This year looks like another tough one for local teams. The eleven from the "hub of the plains" may prove, once again, a stumbling block for powerhouse eleven from this district. Remember the vaunted Bobcats last year? ... 7-6 favoring Lubbock.

Think it over. . . .

"Bullet Billy" Said "Unusual"

NORMAN, Okla., April 11 (AP)—Lieut. Joseph W. Patterson (Billy Patterson to football fans of the Southwest) is the unusual combination of lawyer, professional gridder and naval officer who survived the sinking of the Gambier Bay in the battle of the Philippines last October.

Lieut. Patterson now is in the physical training department at the naval air technical training center here.

He is a soft-spoken Texan from Hillsboro and established quite a reputation for himself in football as a member of the Baylor University team in 1937 and 1938 when he was selected all-Southwest conference halfback.

Following graduation in 1939 he entered law school and continued his football fortunes with the Chicago Bears in the National professional league. The next year he played with the Pittsburgh Steelers.

In 1942 Patterson received his law degree and joined the Navy, where he again donned his football helmet after a year lay off to play for the Georgia pre-flight team. After a short tour of duty at the naval air station at St. Louis he shipped out on the Gambier Bay and right into the middle of the Pacific war.

The story can be picked up again last October off the Philip-ines where the Gambier Bay was part of an American naval force. A potent Japanese force of battleships, cruisers and destroyers had been engaged and apparently driven off but during the night they returned unexpectedly and attacked. The Gambier Bay was damaged by shell-fire and forced to drop behind the other American naval units, where it was encircled by ships of the Jap fleet and literally blasted out of the water.

With the order to abandon ship, Lieut. Patterson jumped off the flight deck into the sea. There were a number of rafts about, but they were mostly occupied by wounded men while the uninjured stayed in the water hanging onto the sides. After 40 to 50 hours, the survivors were pulled out of the water by rescue ships and taken ashore to Leyte.

For his part in this engagement, Lieut. Patterson wears the newly authorized Philippine liberation ribbon with one star. On his Pacific theater ribbon Patterson has three stars for the Marshalls, Marianas, and Palau engagements.

Right now, Lieut. Patterson is happy to be at Norman, where he can resume family life, become acquainted with his three-month-old daughter and do his swimming in a pool.

Golf Stands Out During Shortage

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO, April 11 (AP)—The war has whittled almost every branch of athletics down to "duffer" size — except golf — which boasts the incredible Byron Nelson, who finished the P.G.A. winter tour with a hatful of dough and the awed respect of his talented colleagues.

Nelson won eight times and only twice finished worse than fourth in 17 open events, plus a shared championship with Harold (Jug) McSpaden in the Miami four-ball tournament.

Lord Byron pocketed more than $21,000, mostly in war bonds. His total of 263 strokes for 72 holes in the tour finale at Atlanta, Ga., last weekend was acclaimed the greatest performance in golf history, but it merely was a fitting climax to perhaps the most blistering tee odyssey the game has known.

P.G.A. figures show Nelson averaged 3.83 strokes per hole for 4,968 holes in the 17 open meets. That's an average round of 68.94 over a five-month period against the most rugged competition in the business.

He bettered 270 four times during the tour, whistling a 264 as he won the Corpus Christi, Texas Open, a 269 as he placed second to Sammy Byrd in the Texas Open at San Antonio.

Telephone high lights of 1944

Our annual report, issued in March, showed 1944 was a busy year. There were more long distance calls than ever before, including thousands of war calls to rush through each day for the army, the navy, and the scores of war industries in our territory.

The demand for telephones was heavy. Service qualifying as essential under government requirements was installed promptly. Other new telephones were installed where instruments, lines, and central office equipment were available.

But still we had a big waiting list. It grew throughout the year because almost all new telephone equipment went to the armed services. At the year's end 187,000 persons were on our waiting list for telephones.

For those who had telephones we did virtually a prewar job of supplying service. Three out of every four long distance calls went through while the calling parties "held the line." Local service stood up well. The public helped by keeping calls brief and making only necessary calls.

In the eight army general hospitals in the five states served by this company, special equipment was installed to help the wounded and sick soldiers with their telephoning. Attendants were on hand in most army camps and naval stations to help service men and women call home.

On the money side, we didn't do so well. Of course, revenues were up—10 per cent over 1943. But operating costs and taxes climbed even faster—they rose 11 per cent. The return on the company's investment in telephone property was 4.34 per cent—lower than in 1933, the worst depression year.

As long as the fighting goes on, war demands will be met first. But telephone users here at home can depend on the fact that, even in wartime, this company will bend every effort to give them the best service possible.

Suggestions Received Here For More Business

Scores of suggestions for additional enterprises, institutions and facilities have been received by the chamber of commerce in response to its survey of local businesses.

The suggestion idea was incorporated in the questionnaire, which concerned itself chiefly with present stocks, anticipated post-war increases in merchandise, staffs, and buildings.

Most numerous were ideas for new industries, and a good part of them would utilize raw materials in the area. For instance, here are some industrial suggestions for agricultural materials: Shoe factory, brewery, cotton mill, plastics, meat packing plant, grain elevator, feed mill, egg-drying plant, cheese and butter factory, larger hatcheries, large nursery, wood warehouse, big poultry processing plant, canning factory, bigger compress, large poultry farms and breeders, larger dairies, produce markets, cotton burr utilization plant, hide processing unit.

Among other industrial suggestions were garment factory, building materials plant, steel supply and fabricating point, large machine shop, candy factory, large laundries, plants to make oil field and ranch supplies, sash and door planing mill, aircraft assembly factory, sterilizing plant, more lumber yards, super boot and leather goods shop, and a home maintenance company for repairs, etc.

Surprisingly, water was mentioned only a few times, one suggesting that plenty of water would attract manufacturing; another saying "we need a dam on the Concho to obtain plenty of cheap water."

Transportation was mentioned, one person suggesting big bus and air terminals; others suggesting adequate airport facilities, and some good roads. More truck lines were suggested.

Recreation battled high on almost all lists. One person said a timid sports and entertainment program meant a dead town; another suggested a pool hall and recreation center; some wanted a place for teen age youngsters; a recreational park and a recreational lake was mentioned.

A de luxe cafeteria, an outstanding restaurant for Latin-American and Anglo-American trade, a large modern eatery were suggested.

Various businesses were mentioned including an exclusive sporting goods store, confectionary, wholesale plumbing and electric works, marked increase in all classes of wholesalers, large awning company, more department stores.

Institutional ideas included the frequently mentioned veterans hospital, which Big Spring and a number of West Texas cities are seeking; a clinic with psychiatrist on staff of specialists; enlarged health unit with full time director, laboratory and more health nurses, county physician, etc. Cropping out in many lists was the junior college.

Miscellaneous suggestions included more parking facilities, more oil company headquarters, radio and airplane factory, more skilled painters, paperhangers, carpenters, etc., welders wholesale supply, strong local markets, more oil wells; cotton picker tourist camp with lights, gas, toilets, hot and cold showers, aircraft agency.

Big Spring WAC Speaks To Senate

By PAUL BOLTON

AUSTIN, April 11 (Sp.)—Odessa Crenshaw, daughter of Jim Crenshaw of 1910 Scurry, told the Texas Senate today of her experiences in North Africa and Italy as a WAC.

Sergeant Crenshaw was escorted to the bar of the senate by Lt. Col. James E. Taylor, senator on leave from the army and by Senators R. C. Lanning and Sterling Parish of Lubbock, who introduced the resolution inviting the ex-WAC to talk.

The Big Spring veteran was with a WAC unit attached to the 12th Air Force which followed closely behind ground troops.

"They were trying us out to see how we would work under pressure," she said. "It was a lot of fun and a lot of excitement."

The daughter of a pioneer Howard county family, Miss Crenshaw was an inspector for the State Board of Cosmetology before she became a WAC. Just now she is visiting in Austin, and will return to Big Spring to continue to "rest and drink milk."

Arkansas Accelerates Her Athletic Program To "Keep The Boys At Home"

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

Associated Press Sports Editor
DALLAS, April 10 (AP)—Behind the accelerated drive in Arkansas to keep its athletes at home is an impromptu radio talk by Will Rogers.

It was just a few minutes before the 1935 Rose Bowl game and the announcer had finished reading the roster of the University of Alabama squad.

Lions Match Wits; Champ Disputed

Lions Wednesday matched wits with each other in a quiz test—and it was hard to tell which side cheated the most.

J. H. Greene, who propounded the questions, properly was the winner although both sides made extravagant claims of victory.

Maj. L. W. Canning, chairman of the United Clothing drive, urged Lions to take a lead in promoting the collection of old garments for refugee relief. The post-office container has been filled five times with old clothing and firemen are now making their second packing of garments, he said.

Dan Conley, president, urged members to attend a charter night affair for the newly organized Stanton club after B. F. White, Martin county judge, invited the Big Spring club to be sponsors for the new unit.

Rev. Roy Curtis, Brownwood, evangelist for the First Christian meeting, invited Lions to attend services each evening.

Cotton Insurance Goes Over 'Hump'

Cotton crop insurance made it over the minimum hump of 50 applications by deadline Tuesday, a check at the AAA office showed Wednesday.

There were 56 applications covering 66 farms in the county, according to reports, and some of the number included their seed in the insurance program. The latter could be done by adding a fifth to the premium, which increased liability by one-fifth also.

Cotton crop insurance has been inoperative since 1943 and the new program in general has lower premiums. On the other hand, some of the loopholes in indemnities have been plugged.

Brooklyn Tigers Are Merged With Boston

NEW YORK, April 11 (AP)—Although the National Football league has abandoned Brooklyn, it has turned to the traditional Brooklyn slogan, wait till next year, as its answer to the threat of competition from new leagues. The Tigers were merged with the Boston Yanks for the 1945 season, retaining their own identity only to the extent of playing a single game against the New York Giants in Yankee Stadium.

Dairy Producers Qualify For Subsidy

Howard county dairy producers have qualified for $6,838.80 in subsidy payments for the first quarter of the year, it was reported at the AAA office Wednesday. Not all applications are yet in, and the figures is due to increase. The payments were made on the basis of 7,698 cwt. of whole milk and 14,502 pounds of butterfat.

Maverick Says South Needs Low Rate

DALLAS, April 10 (AP)—Speaking of the opportunity Texas and the south have to share in a tremendous postwar world trade, Maury Maverick, chairman of the Smaller War Plants corporation, said yesterday that "the first thing the south must have is low freight rates."

Maverick, enroute to San Antonio for a conference with district SWPC officials on postwar plans for smaller industry, said also the south must continue the industrialization that has been started in this war and named the third necessity for postwar prosperity as the breaking of monopolies.

From 1820 to the beginning of the Civil War, about 5,000,000 persons from England, Ireland and Germany migrated to the United States.

Plans were outlined for the drive, which technically is in operation now. The principal dates are May 14 to June 16. All bonds bought from April 1 to June 30 count toward the drive, however.

Attending the Wednesday meeting, which devoted considerable time to talk about strengthening the payroll deduction campaign, were Shelton, B. T. Piner, Ira Thurman, Pat Kenney, C. J. Staples, Capt. Thomas Abellera, Lt. William C. Marquadt Jr., and Ted O. Groehl, drive chairman.

Sentiment Mounts In Senate Group

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP)—Sentiment apparently mounted in the senate agriculture committee today for a formal rebuke to OPA on its handling of the whole meat situation.

At the same time, some members talked of the advisability of recommending a "house-cleaning" in the agency.

Senator Wheeler (D-Mont) told reporters that unless OPA changes its policies "they ought to start at the top and go down to the bottom with a clean-up." Similarly, chairman Thomas (D-Okla) said he thought the best way to "correct the meat situation would be to get some new men" in OPA.

Senator Lucas (D-Ill), who has been one of the administration's firmest supporters, said he would favor amendment of the price control law "if they don't give packers relief."

Lucas said testimony received by the committee made it evident the packers were entitled to aid by subsidies or other means.

Packers and slaughterers have contended that their margins between ceiling prices for livestock and for wholesale meat are bankrupting them and turning meat into black market channels.

Phillips has played a major part in "achieving the almost impossible"

THE DEADLY STING of the new Douglas A-26 Invader, already felt in Germany, will soon hit Japan. On all of the world's flying fronts, United Nations planes fight with Phillips high-octane fuels.

AVIATION GASOLINE

one of the indispensable munitions of war, was an item with very small production at the beginning of World War II.

The recent situation, however, is best described in the official words of the Special Subcommittee on Petroleum Investigation, of the House of Representatives:

"The United States has achieved the almost impossible by stepping up its daily production (of 100-octane fuel) from 45,000 barrels in December 1941 to more than 500,000 barrels. In the meantime, a remarkable improvement has been accomplished in the quality of the 100-octane product."

Of those who have contributed to this triumph of production, Phillips is especially proud of its record in having maintained its leading position with the handful of petroleum organizations which are the nation's largest producers of high-octane aviation fuel.

Everything that Phillips has learned, in research and experience, both before and during the war, will be lavishly poured into our wonderfully improved postwar motor fuels for car owners. With complete confidence, we say to you: Expect greater postwar gasolines from Phillips!

In the meantime, every time you see the Orange and Black Phillips 66 Shield, let it remind you that Phillips refineries... in addition to producing gasolines, lubricants, and fuel oils...are also gigantic chemical plants pouring out weapons for victory.

Industry Leaders

To Study Threat

Of Gas Control

AUSTIN, April 11 (AP) — Gas conservation remained in the spotlight here today with decision of a group of industry leaders to meet again about May 1 to study what was described at a session here yesterday as a threat of federal control.

This threat has been mentioned frequently by proponents of several gas conservation bills pending in the legislature. One of these bills had been scheduled for a vote today in the senate oil and gas committee, but the committee decided to defer action until tomorrow.

The house committee on oil and gas tomorrow will continue its public hearing on four pending proposals to tighten gas conservation laws, and also will receive a sub-committee report.

Stricter state control has been urged as one means of blocking federal control. The sub-committee had been instructed to prepare a substitute bill for the four pending measures.

The industry committee which met here yesterday was appointed by Gov. Coke Stevenson to decide whether or not Texas should make an appearance before a Federal Power Commission hearing in that agency's investigation of natural gas wastage.

Police Search For
Person Mailing Baby

DALLAS, April 11 (AP)—Postal inspectors have been unable to find the sender of a package containing a dead baby boy which was mailed from here to Palo Alto, Calif., April 3.

Postal Inspector R. R. Raines said that the box bore the return address "James Dyer, 4019 Euclid St., Dallas, Tex." There is no such address, Raines said, and a James Dyer has not been located in Dallas.

In Palo Alto, postal inspectors said they were unable to find Miss

Betty O'Donald to whom the box was addressed and also that there was no such street as that on the package.

Dr. Bert Davis, Palo Alto, reported after an autopsy that the boy was born alive and died of suffocation, possibly after being placed in the small box in which he was mailed.

Rural Roads To Be Built After Victory

COLLEGE STATION, April 11 (AP)—The allocation of rural roads to be built in Texas after the war is greater than for any other state, according to John Redditt, newly appointed chairman of the Texas highway commission.

Redditt spoke at the 19th annual short course for highway engineers yesterday. Approximately 250 officials attending pledged their cooperation in obtaining the fullest benefit from the federal highway act of 1944, under which the government plans to funnel half a billion dollars annually for the three first postwar years into construction of state and urban road developments.

STATIONED AT MAXEY—Pvt. Preston Denton was inducted into the infantry at Camp Maxey on Feb. 26. He is the son of Mrs. Mabel Cloud of Big Spring. Before entering the army he was the pastor of the Airport Baptist church.

Forsan 4-H Boy
Wins Mexico Trip

Frank Thieme, 19, Forsan 4-H club boy with a record of seven years of club work, has been selected as one of the 24 outstanding Texas club boys who will make an 11-day good will tour of Mexico.

The tour to the neighborhood republic will start on May 28 and will be concluded on June 7, according to an announcement by L. L. Johnson, state boys club agent for the extension service.

Purpose of the tour is to carry the farm demonstration work of 4-H clubs to Mexico in hopes that may influence starting of similar demonstration work in that country.

Starting in 1939, Frank has fed out 51 lambs and one calf in his demonstration projects, has entered eight demonstration contests, five judging contests, three health activities, and 13 livestock showmanship contests. He has participated widely in club activities, both locally and in the district and state events. Within his own club he has held several offices, including that of president. In addition, he has been president of a Sunday school class and active in his high school class.

In his seven years of lamb feeding he received $430 income from sale of his lambs, plus lambs valued at $270 used at home, and prize money totaling $165.

On his 4-H experience, Frank once observed that "it has taught me to be dependent upon myself, to use my own idea and to work and follow the advice given me."

Farm Homes Will Get Electricity

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP)—You can be sure there'll be federal funds after the war to bring electricity to farm homes.

The administration and practically everyone in congress believes it's a good idea.

Electrification of the farm country has been getting on since 1936 when congress created the Rural Electrification Administration (REA), which has spent $410,000,000.

There's a bill in congress to give REA $585,000,000 to spend on the same kind of program between now and 1948.

There are three general ways in which the program works:

1. A group of farm people, wanting electricity, get together, form a cooperative, and borrow the money from REA.

2. A city borrows money for REA to extend electric power lines into farm areas.

3. A private company, a utility, borrows money from REA for the same thing.

Some of the borrowers may have up to 35 years to pay back the loan.

When the loan is paid back the farmers in the cooperative need only pay some nearby power company for the electricity actually used.

Since 1936, there have been 904 borrowers from the REA. Of that total 831 were cooperatives.

That represents electricity brought to 1,233,000 rural establishments and serving about 5 million people.

REA estimates that an additional 3,600,000 rural establishments—representing perhaps 12 million people—can be electrified.

But all this doesn't mean there won't be a fight over REA.

Senator Shipstead (R-Minn) wants REA taken out of the department of agriculture and made an independent agency.

The administration wants the REA to stay right where it is.

After one of the bitterest fights in recent congressional history, the senate refused to permit Aubrey Williams to take over REA.

Rainey Says Regents
Threatened TU Profs

DALLAS, April 11 (AP)—Dr. Homer Price Rainey, ousted president of the University of Texas, said last night that regents curtailed freedom of thought at the university by threats of dismissal against faculty members.

Speaking at the North Dallas High school auditorium before an audience which almost filled the 1,400 seats, Dr. Rainey said a generation will be required to repair the damage done to the university by what he claimed was suppression of academic freedom by the board of regents.

In the questioning period following his address, he was asked "if the regents would repent and ask you to take your job back, would you?"

He replied he would not be president of the university under the present regime.

He Checked On Them

SEATTLE, April 11 (AP)—Marine Sergeant Stanley E. Bronk of Seattle wasn't just wasting time when he hid his Marine Corps service record book 12 times just before Jap inspections during his 33 months in Jap prison camps.

Following the sergeant's liberation, the book which showed he was last paid Nov. 30, 1941, enabled him to receive $6,345 in back pay.
