

Food Committee To Urge Proper Canning Methods

Organization of the county War Food Committee, composed of those men and women in the county who represent some phase of food conservation or preservation work, was completed in a meeting Wednesday, April 19.

Miss Rose Erisman, county home demonstration agent, is president of the committee and Mrs. Irene Harris, homemaking teacher in the Wellington school, is secretary. Members are Miss Mary Hanvey, homemaking teacher at Quail; J. B. Patterson, vocational agriculture teacher at Quail; Truman Jones, Farm Security supervisor; J. W. Thomas, county agent; Miss Lillie Mae Armstrong, homemaking teacher at Samnorwood; Lee Carter, agriculture teacher at Samnorwood; Mrs. Abbie Burch, homemaking teacher at Wellington; and Tom Henry, agriculture teacher at Wellington.

Similar committees are being formed in each county in the state.

This committee will recommend to the women of the county proved methods of preserving their summer vegetables and fruits, and all these representatives will teach the same method, Miss Erisman explained. As an example, she said, homemaking teachers will teach the agreed method in their classwork; vocational agriculture teachers, who have charge of the community canning centers, will recommend the same method; and home demonstration club women will also be shown this method.

These committees are undertaking this work in the state due to the importance of the work and because certain methods in food preservation have proved most effective. Most methods will be those tested and approved at the experiment stations of the extension service.

Recommendations of the state War Food committee were discussed and adopted by the local committees. These include:

1. Uniformity of home canning procedure.
2. The adoption of a manual on food preservation prepared by the Extension Service of A. and M. College.
3. Work to bring about a discontinuance of the use of the oven method of canning.
4. Approval of the open kettle method of canning, which has proved satisfactory for certain types of canning.
5. Pre-treatment of food—either in a pressure cooker or water bath; raw pack and steam pack recommended as preserving more nutritive value than the pre-cook.
6. Urging that the boiling-water

Rev. A. A. Daly To Hold Revival At Colorado City

Rev. A. A. Daly, pastor of the Assembly of God, will conduct revival services at that church in Colorado City beginning Monday night, May 1.

The services will continue for two weeks and possibly longer, Rev. Daly said. His family will accompany him there.

A visiting minister will likely be secured to preach at the local church during the pastors absence.

FFA Hears State Supervisor

Future Farmers were told to get all they can out of the educational opportunities offered them in their school work and in the vocational agricultural program by W. E. Williams, vocational agriculture supervisor, when he spoke at the annual FFA Father-Son banquet of the Wellington Chapter Tuesday evening, April 25.

Mr. Williams, who is from Alpine, warned them not to neglect these opportunities because they know they will enter military service as soon as they leave high school, for when they return, they must then become the community and farm leaders.

Oliver J. Abel, a former Cordell, Oklahoma, teacher who is now farming west of Wellington, spoke briefly and told of Wayne Booth of Cordell, a former student who last year was the Star American Farmer. This is the highest award that a FFA boy can receive. Mr. Abel is the father of one of the

Minerals Of Area Listed In Geological Survey

Collingsworth County has mineral deposits that include building stone, evaporites, gas, gypsum, sand and gravel and volcanic ash, the complete survey of minerals and mineral substances in Texas, announced recently by the University of Texas bureau of economic geology.

While brick clay is not listed by the University, old timers recall that the bricks for the first brick courthouse were made from clay dug on Buck Creek.

The survey covers all counties of the state, but does not attempt to determine if the minerals are in paying quantities. It merely lists the deposits.

Of the minerals named for the county, the only ones that have been produced commercially are building stone, sand and gravel and gas.

Other counties in this area are reported by the bureau of economic geology to have:

Briscoe—Bleaching clay, caliche, evaporites and volcanic ash.

Cottle—Dolomite, gypsum and sand and gravel.

Childress—Dolomite, evaporites, gypsite, gypsum, miscellaneous stone, sand and gravel.

Foard—Copper, domonite, gypsum, oil and gas, sand and gravel.

Hall—Burning clay, evaporites, sand and gravel.

Hardeman—Copper, dolomite, gypsum, sand and gravel.

King—Copper, dolomite, fossil wood, gypsum, miscellaneous stone.

Motley—Caliche, evaporites, sand and gravel land spring.

Wheeler—Caliche, evaporites, oil and gas.

Wilbarger—Oil and gas, sand and gravel and volcanic ash.

Mrs. Bengé To Review Book

Mrs. Lester Bengé, talented Wellington book reviewer, will review "Winter Wheat" by Mildred Walker at the high school auditorium Friday afternoon, April 28, at 2:30 o'clock.

This is the first book review open to the public given here recently.

"Winter Wheat", published only recently, was a Literary Guild selection, and it is taking its place as one of the outstanding novels of the year. It tells the story of a young woman of American and Russian parentage who grew up on a Montana wheat ranch. It follows her through her college years and her love for a young man whose background is wholly different from her own.

The time of the book is just before the present war.

"This is a book that people of this section will especially enjoy," Mrs. Bengé said. The crop failure and the farm life will be familiar to those who hear the review, and the story is one that will fascinate the listener, regardless of her age.

The review is sponsored by the student council of the high school and a small admission charge will be made.

Mrs. Mary Thomas Dies Suddenly Thursday Evening

Mrs. Mary L. Thomas, 75, a resident of Wellington for 36 years, died suddenly Thursday night, April 20, at 8:15 o'clock. She had made her home with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Harper, for several years, except for short periods when she visited with other children.

Her death occurred as she was listening to the radio, and, as her health was thought to be improving, came as a shock to her family and many friends.

Funeral services were conducted from the First Baptist Church Saturday afternoon, with Rev. H. H. Kinkeade, pastor, and Rev. Hubert Thomson of the Methodist Church in charge.

Pallbearers were L. A. Moore, Lee Fortenberry, W. M. Willis, Luther Sullivan, Heber Brantley and Orval Couch. Flower bearers were Tommie Ann Campbell, Sue Anderson, Lennie Lou Coleman, Bettie Jean Robertson, Amy Sue Way, Peggy Riggs and Ardis Kern. Hymns included "My Jesus, As Thou Wilt," and "Abide With Me." Burial was in the Wellington cemetery with the Kelso Funeral Home in charge.

Mrs. Thomas, who before her marriage was Miss Mary Lou Major, was born in Mississippi October 14, 1868, and at the time of her death she was 75 years, 6 months and 6 days of age.

She grew up in that state, then came to Texas to teach her first school. This was in Wise County.

She taught for several years until her marriage to A. W. Thomas in 1895 at Sulphur Springs. After living in Texas for a number of years, they moved to Oklahoma and lived at Eldorado before moving to Wellington. Mr. Thomas preceded her in death in 1922.

Upon coming here, Mrs. Thomas took her place in the community and church life of the town, and worked diligently for their improvement. She gathered about her a host of friends who loved and admired her and who found in her a true neighbor and friend.

After coming here, Mrs. Thomas was a hardware merchant and for seven years was associated with the late Henry Wells in this business. Mrs. Thomas helped in the store and in this way came to know the men and women from all parts of the county. Hundreds remember her for her thoughtfulness and for the many things she (Continued on Page Twelve)

Fun night, when the finals of the intramural basketball tournament will be played and the intramural basketball queen will be crowned, is scheduled at Quail for Thursday night, April 27.

These intramural games, which have been under way for the last two weeks, have proved of unusual interest both to the student body and the school patrons. All games have been close with no more than two points difference in the games.

Four games are scheduled for Thursday, beginning at 8:30 p. m. Good competition is assured and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Following the games, votes for queen will be counted and the successful candidate crowned. Contestants are Wauline Spier for the senior class; Alma Powell, junior class; Mildred Clay, sophomore class; Faye Neely, freshman class; and Evelyn Joy Aaron, eighth grade.

Handley Is Chairman Of Planning Committee

Bura Handley, city manager, was named chairman of the City-County Post War Planning Committee at a recent organization meeting.

Lee C. O'Neil, secretary of the Wellington NFLA, was named secretary of the committee. Other members are B. A. Vandiver, commissioner from Precinct 1, Ernest Lewis, Wellington grocery merchant, and Dr. E. W. Jones.

Members of the committee now have several plans before them, but announcement of these is not being made until the board feels that it has something concrete to set before the people, or until the plans are in a more complete stage than at present.

Mother Of Mrs. Cochran Dies

Mrs. A. L. Cochran's mother, Mrs. J. L. Hemphill of Madill, Oklahoma died early Tuesday evening from a heart attack. Mrs. Hemphill, who apparently was in good health, died suddenly and Mrs. Cochran learned of her death at 9:30 o'clock when she received a phone call from Madill.

Mrs. Cochran left for Madill immediately. Funeral arrangements had not been announced here at the time of the publication of the Leader, but will probably be Thursday or Friday.

Word was sent to A-C Jimmie Cochran who is stationed in Alabama but it was not known here Wednesday whether he would be able to attend the funeral.

Mrs. Hemphill has visited in Wellington many times and has a large number of friends here.

In appreciation of the work of the Rodeo Association in providing splendid high-type entertainment for the people of this section last summer, the City Council has issued the following letter of thanks to the association:

We the City Council, wish to thank the Wellington Rodeo Club for their effort in furnishing entertainment in the past. We realize it is necessary to

J. H. White For Precinct 2 Place

J. H. (Jim) White, who has lived in Collingsworth County since 1892, has authorized The Leader to announce his candidacy for the office of Commissioner of Precinct 2 subject to the action of the Democratic primary.

In making his announcement, Mr. White said that he thought that this was the time that every single person should try to do his best, and that if the war were not on and the county had plenty of able-bodied young men he would not even be a candidate. But that with the manpower shortage what it is he felt that he could do the job in a workmanlike manner.

Mr. White has been engaged in road work on roads in this county at various times for the past 30 years. His first was helping Charlie McCleskey build the first road to Shamrock and his most recent was in 1940.

Regarding the business affairs of the county as a whole, Mr. White was frank in saying that this would be new to him but that he was confident he could take care of it the same as any new man—and he added, the next coming. (Continued on Page Twelve)

Lay Service At Fresno Church Sunday, April 30

All-day Layman's services are scheduled at the Fresno Methodist Church Sunday, April 30, the pastor, Rev. W. B. Gilliam of Dodson, announced this week.

S. R. Pinkston of Wellington will be the lay speaker at the morning services, while R. F. Curry will speak in the afternoon. Short talks will also be made by members of the Fresno congregation.

Lunch will be served at the noon hour, and a sing-song is scheduled for the afternoon.

"We urge all members of the Fresno church to be present, and at the same time we extend a cordial invitation to all friends to attend either service or both," the pastor said.

This year you won't have to tell how much fruit you canned last year and neither will you have to answer a lot of questions on the amount of sugar you use for jams, jellies, etc. You will receive five pounds of sugar on stamp number 40 and 20 pounds by filling a form at the office of the War Price and Rationing Board. But when this sugar is used, there will be no method of receiving more sugar.

These facts came to light this week when the local office released basic rules governing rationing of sugar up to February 28, 1945. The statement follows:

These are the regulations for home canning sugar for the 1944 program:

Sugar stamp No. 40 in War Ration Book No. 4 has been validated for five (5) pounds of sugar and good through February 28, 1945.

For any sugar over and above this stamp application must be made to the board on form R-323 and Spare Stamp No. 37 out of War Ration Book No. 4 must be attached for each individual covered by the application.

Application must be made for five (5) pounds of sugar or multiples thereof up to the maximum allowance of twenty (20) pounds per person over and above stamp No. 40.

No restrictions are on the amount of sugar that may be used for jams, jellies, preserves and fruit butters.

Applications can be made from March 1, 1944, to February 28, 1945.

No questions are asked regarding the amount of fruit canned last year, or of your 1944 program.

Washington office has suggested that the consumer use care in withdrawing their allotment that they may have sugar available for the canning season.

This district office has suggested that sugar be drawn not to exceed ten (10) pounds before the peak of the canning season so that the consumer will have sugar available for that season.

The local Board suggests that our consumers plan their canning and preserving carefully and draw their sugar as needed. The allotment can be no more than twenty (20) pounds for each person. If the sugar is drawn and dissipated before the peak of the canning season there is no method of receiving more sugar.

The coupons issued for each five (5) pounds of sugar do not go out of date until February 28, 1945. If coupons are drawn and lost nothing can be done to replace them.

Rotary Sponsors Singing Sunday

The Wellington Rotary Club is sponsoring a county-wide singing Sunday afternoon, April 30, at the Methodist Church here.

Singing will begin at 3:00 o'clock. S. R. Pinkston is in charge of the arrangements.

"We would like to have every singer and everyone who enjoys singing present at this time," Mr. Pinkston said.

Rotary-sponsored singings held here in the past have proved unusually popular, and members are expecting an unusually large crowd at this time.

"The singing will be good, and this is one kind of entertainment that will give your spirit a lift and relax those tired nerves," Mr. Pinkston said.

W. T. Welch Retires After Forty Years With Western Union

W. T. Welch, Western Union operator here for five years, has retired after about 40 years service with that company. Mr. Welch left Friday for Houston where he will visit with relatives for the present. He did not say what his future plans are.

Mrs. Lois Donoho, vacation relief manager for Western Union, will be in charge of the office for several weeks, until a permanent operator is sent here.

A new teleprinter is to be installed here sometime within the next few weeks, to take the place of the morse system now used in the office, Mrs. Donoho said. Machinery has already arrived but has not been installed.

This is the latest type of receiving equipment used by Western Union and messages coming in are automatically printed on the telegram blank, she explained.

LETTERS FROM MEN IN SERVICE

(The following letter is from Thomas Hunter Rainer, F. C. 2-c of the U. S. Navy, and was written to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Rainer of Loco, his daughter, Gaye, and his sisters, Mrs. Dick Richards and Miss Bessie Rainer of Wellington.)

March 15, 1944
Dearest Gaye, Moms, Pops & All:
The mailman has been good to me this time. I've had letters, and cake, and candy, too. I received your Valentine via V mail, a letter (V mail) dated Feb. 27th, an earlier letter with "congratulations" dated January, a letter dated Jan. 29th from Bill, and Gladys's fruit cake and date doaf. All in fine condition.

I am so depressed that all of you have been sick with flu. I know it has been tough, much rougher than you would have me know. I am looking forward to the letter that will tell me all of you are well and enjoying fine spring weather. I like to think of all of you happily digging around in Pop's rich garden soil planting Kentucky Wonders and English Peas and everything nice.

Gladys, I received the cake March 10th. So you see I had Xmas cake for Pop's birthday. It was very good. The date loaf was as fresh as if you had wrapped it and carried it down to Loco. The cake had dried a little around the edges, but was good—very, as the gang will tell you. I told them I could appreciate a three month-old cake, after being at sea more than two months, better than I could a fresh one in the States.

Moms, the Wellington Leader caught up with me. I received from Nov. 25th to Feb. 3rd and I received one today. Didn't notice the date. I read them all—even the want-ads. I get a kick out of Deck's pride in the hot-spots and out-of-the-way corners his paper goes to. It has surely been a dual blessing for a number of the boys.

Do you ever get any word of Son? Wish you would drop by and tell Grandma Strong I think of them often and wish them health and happiness. Wish I could really get to work on my correspondence. Tonight the ink flows freely, but tomorrow, I expect another good day of work and I must rest. So, goodnight!

Golly! How time flies! Today is the 20th. Bess, I have not received the watch, as it was mailed airmail I have no idea where it might be. Probably pigeon-holed in some dark corner. Might be a good idea to see if Mr. Curry can have it traced. I'm sure S.F.P. P.O. keeps track of all insured mail. They wouldn't tell where it was sent, but a letter with insured number might trace it's route.

Gaye, Daddy does not know what to think about you out-growing your tricycle. You must be growing very fast. Do you find many things to tempt your appetite now? Perhaps by next winter you will be so big and strong I will not have to worry about flu and such things. What about this new calf? Is she pretty? Guess those chicks will be ready to fry by the time this gets there.

Pops, do you think you could find a larger tricycle for Gaye's birthday? Or, are such things impossible to get? My birthday shopping may be a little late this year.

I must close or this will be too heavy. All of you keep well and happy.

Love,

Tom

P. S. Mae will like Denver. I must write to them.

April 13, 1944

Dear Deck:
I have been trying to think of something to write, but being as I can't I'll just start writing. I received five Wellington Leaders yesterday and I am really glad I got them. Hope this finds Collingsworth County still as ever.

Well, it is about farming time there again. I know all the farmers will be busy. I hope by this time in '45 most of the boys (including myself) will be home.

I enjoy reading about the boys in Service. Lonnie Neeley really hit the nail on the head in his letter. I am proud to see those Army pictures in your paper. Most people think there isn't any Army in the Pacific Theatre.

All the publicity goes to the (Sea Going Bell Hopps) or Marines. I have been around quite a bit since I left the States and so far I haven't seen a thing they have done without the Army helping. Therefore, I can't see where the "Sea going Bell Hopps" can

My address has been changed a little.

Thanks again for the paper. I enjoy it very much.

Sgt. Edwin L. Sanders.

(The following letter was received from Pvt. Robert J. Trimble to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Trimble. Pvt. Trimble is now stationed in India after recently being sent from North Africa.)

Dearest Mother and Dad:

I will answer your sweet letter, sure was glad to hear from you. Mother I got your pictures and sure was glad to get them.

Especially the one of the baby setting in his high chair. Gee, mother he sure is cute isn't he? Be sure and take good care of him for me.

Mother you said you would like to know what I am doing, well I can't tell you so please don't worry for I will be all right. Tell Nellie not to worry for I have been writing her just about everyday.

No, Mother I haven't got the Christmas package yet, don't guess I will get it, hope you didn't have much in it. Yes, mother I would like to be home for my sons first birthday, but don't guess I can, so tell him daddy said, "hello, and for him to be good." Tell Daddy I got his little poem and sure was glad to get it. It helped me out a lot to know he still thinks about his son. Tell Daddy to take good care of his grandson for me.

Well, mother I guess that is about all I know to write for now. I will try to write more next time, so please be real sweet and take care of yourself, and tell Nellie and Mike I still love them with all my heart.

Lots of love,

Your Son, J. W.

April 7, 1944

Dear Deck:

I had been receiving the Leader pretty regularly until my address was changed again. I thought I would drop you a line telling you my new address because I certainly enjoy reading the Leader.

I see where W. D. Aldridge is in a picture called, "A Salute to the Marines." I sure would like to run across him or anyone from home, for that matter. Maybe I will because that is what I am doing, taking the Marines in to do the dirty work.

Some people have the idea that all the Coast Guard does is guard the Coast. The only Coast I've seen since I left, is lands where I never would have believed you if you said I would go there someday. Not that I have anything against the Marines because they are doing a swell job but for every 10 men we take ashore, 9 are fighters (and I mean fighters) and the other is a reporter. Ha.

I'm waiting for the day when I can see the coast of the good old U. S. A. I know there are a few million others that join me in saying, I hope it is soon.

A friend,

D. W. Maddox, Jr.

BUT... OIL-PLATING YOUR ENGINE is like outdoing the future—today

One thing won't be any different in any new cars. Whatever else is changed, as long as there's engine combustion it must produce dreaded corrosive acids.

The acid-fighter you'll want then is fortunately here even now!—for the engine that must still see you through. Right today it can have anti-corrosive OIL-PLATING!

OIL-PLATING is easy to do. In making your much-needed oil change this Spring simply make sure to get Conoco Nth motor oil—popular-priced. Here's oil that OIL-PLATES, because it includes the advanced synthetic whose action suggests strong "magnetism." This makes inner surfaces attract and hold OIL-PLATING, refusing to let it all promptly drain down to the crankcase.

Then instead of hoping to fight acid with the thorough engine heat made possible only by steady driving, you can fight acid right along!—because the protection of OIL-PLATING continues during cool starts and all your short cool runs. That's when acid can gnaw worst, except for corrosion-resistant OIL-PLATING—the big advance your engine can have today, as you change to Conoco Nth for Spring, at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. J. D. Farrar, another Collingsworth County Navy man, has just been promoted from Fireman first class to Motor Machinist Mate third class. This is a petty officer's rating.

He took his boot training in San Diego, Calif., then completed a course for Deisel curriculum at Chicago. He was in the Solomons M. D. for his landing craft training.

Farrar is now in New York City awaiting orders. His wife, who is making her home in Borger, where she is employed with the Phillips Plains Plant, is now visiting him in New York.

A son and two grandsons of Mrs. Andy Fennell are now in service. Joe B. Fennell, her son, is a storekeeper in the Navy. He lived in Los Angeles, Calif., before entering service last October. He reports that he likes his work.

The two grandsons are Warren G. Brewer, F-2c of the Navy, and Willard Brewer, who is in the Army. They are the sons of Mrs. H. M. Sheppard of Boise, Idaho. They were born here.

Warren Brewer is stationed on a battleship with the Pacific fleet. Willard Brewer, served a year in the Navy, then received a discharge and was at home for a number of months before re-entering service.

Bobby Willoughby of the Sam-norwood area has volunteered for service with the Marines. He reported for active duty April 10.

Norman Crossland, S-1-c, who has been in the Navy for the last nine months, recently received a medical discharge.

Crossland entered the Navy July 16, 1943, and received his basic training in San Diego, Cal. He entered a Radar school at Point Loma, where he trained for three months. He was then transferred to New York for advanced. Again transferred, this time to Norfolk, Va., he was there several weeks before entering the Norfolk Naval Hospital to be treated for after effects of pneumonia, which he had before entering service.

Capt. John Deaver of the Marine Corps, former district attorney, has been transferred from Camp Elliott to Camp Pendleton, Calif.

M. D. Gunstream, Y-1-c, formerly of this county, is now on sea duty out of San Francisco, his sister, Mrs. A. V. Lowrie of Dodson, said last week.

He has been in service since September 1943, and reports that the work he is doing now is not very different from that he did in the First National Bank in Memphis, before entering service. "I'd like for you to tell my friends hello," he wrote his sister.

His wife, who is making her home in Memphis for the duration, is now visiting him in California. They have a five weeks old son. Yeoman Gunstream left here in 1938.

Joe E. Lowrie, H-1-c his brother, has been in service since June 16, 1943 and has been overseas since January 1944. He is in the Southwest Pacific.

Before going overseas he was stationed at San Diego. Although he has a Navy rating, Mrs. Lowrie says he is serving with the Marine Corps.

These young men are sons of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Gunstream of Memphis. Friends wishing to get in touch with them can get their addresses from Mrs. Lawrie.

Sgt. John M. Lowrie, formerly of Dodson, has been in Italy for the last five months. He enlisted in service a year ago. In a letter to relatives recently he told them to give his best regards to his friends.

S-Sgt. Alvin Allen, who formerly lived in this county, has been stationed in the Aleutian Islands since August, 1943. He is in the supply department of the Air Force.

Sgt. Allen studied animal husbandry at the Arizona A & M College at Tempe for two years, and recently he wrote his sister, Mrs. Otis Melton of Wellington, asking her to send him extension service bulletins and material relating to his studies, so that he could use his spare time to keep up with this work.

Sgt. George Windell Terry of Camp Claburn, La., recently spent a 15 day furlough with his wife in Shomrock and mother, Mrs. Nettie Terry, of Wellington. He returned to his post of duty on the 16th day of April.

Another son of Mrs. Nettie Terry is Pfc. Charlie Terry of Camp Caeson, Colo. Pfc. Terry also spent his 10 day furlough with his mother and sister at the same time of his brother, Sgt. Terry. These brothers were together for the first time since last September. Pfc. Terry returned to his post on the 17th day of April.

Mrs. Clyde W. Hall received word that her husband, S-Sgt. Clyde W. Hall has landed safely in England. Before going to England S-Sgt. Hall was stationed in Africa.

Lieut. Charles V. Griffin, formerly with the AAA office, is now stationed with the Army in North Africa, after having been in Mississippi for a number of months. Mrs. Griffin is making her home for the duration with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D'Arcy McDowell, near Shamrock.

Pvt. Morris W. Brown of the Marine Corps has been transferred from the Naval Hospital at Oakland, Calif., to that at Seattle, Washington. He has been hospitalized since February 9. Pvt. Brown received his boot training at San Diego, then served in the Southwest Pacific.

He recently wrote his wife that he is getting along fine. Mrs. Brown and little daughter, Rosetta, are making their home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Lockhart.

While Pvt. Brown was in Oakland, two brothers who are also in service, S/Sgt. Travis V. Brown of Daly City, and Clinton Stanley Brown, S2/c, of Treasure Island, visited him.

Sgt. Monroe Owens of Amarillo Army Air Field spent the week end with his wife, Mrs. Owens, and family.

Pvt. Loyd H. Colson is spending a 14 day furlough with his father, W. A. Colson, and sisters and brothers. Pvt. Colson is being sent from Camp Blanding, Florida, to Ft. Meade, Maryland, where he will receive advanced training. He will leave the 4th of next month for his post in Maryland.

Much interest is being shown in the gospel meeting now being conducted by Elder C. A. Magness of Coalgate, Okla., at the Swearingen Church.

Elder Magness, a minister of the Church of Christ since 1918, reported that this was the third meeting he has held this year.

During the time he has been in this work, he estimates that he has conducted around 100 gospel meetings, has married at least 1,000 couples, and performed more than 1,000 baptisms and conducted several hundred funerals.

In addition to his evangelistic work, Elder Magness operates a barber shop in his home town.

The public has been cordially invited to attend the services now under way at Swearingen.

MOOS OF THE MOMENT

BY UNCLE BOB

of the Kraft Dairy Farm Service

If I could get as many important people to vote for me as vote for Sudan Grass, I think I could be President. This grass was brought to America from North Central Africa and, as might be expected, it resists both heat and drought. It makes fine grazing when other pastures are dry and unproductive. If seeded in May the crop will be ready for grazing in about six weeks.

In Circular B-69, the Extension Service of Texas says that Sudan Grass is the best temporary pasture for summer and early fall. It does not do well on soils that are low in fertility. For best results, it should be planted in rows, the bulletin says, using 30 pounds of seed to the acre. To eliminate danger of prussic acid poisoning, it is suggested you do not permit grazing until Sudan is 18 inches high or better—nor after frost. The bulletin adds that if you do not have enough cows to prevent the grass heading, it can be mowed and placed in a trench silo. To get Circular B-69, write the Extension Service, Texas A&M College, College Station, Texas.

Indiana is another ardent supporter of Sudan Grass. Their experience shows that an acre of Sudan will carry from one to three head of cattle, depending upon the fertility of the soil. As hay, Sudan will ordinarily yield from 2½ to 3 tons per acre, and it may run as high as 4 tons. Indiana also tells you how to get a mixed crop of soybeans and Sudan Grass for roughage. The soybean seed should be drilled with the ordinary grain drill set for from four to six pecks on the oats scale and thoroughly recleaned Sudan Grass seed may be applied through the grass seed attachment or broadcast separately at 10 to 16 pounds per acre and covered with a harrow. Send for Leaflet No. 188, Department of Agricultural Extension, Purdue University, Lafayette, Indiana.* This is a valuable leaflet for you to have if you decide to grow Sudan.

Climb in, folks, there's lots of room in this Sudan.

Have you ever tried to figure out the difference in cost between the food value cattle obtain from good pasture and the food value they get from harvested crops? Well, Minnesota has and it's mighty interesting. Averaging up four different kinds of pasture and four different harvested crops, they found the cost of the harvested crop was more than double the cost of pasture. On top of that, the pasture crop is harvested by the cattle instead of by you, thus saving you hours of work. Be sure to get the bulletin that tells all about this cost-finding study. Write for Bulletin 241, Extension Service, University of Minnesota, St. Paul, Minnesota.*

While you're about it, I also suggest that you ask Minnesota for Extension Folder 106. This reports another fact-finding study, this time, on the methods of cooling milk. They found that when it was cooled in air at 100°F. below zero, it took an hour for the temperature of the milk to drop from 90° to 77°. When milk was cooled in circulating water at 47° above zero, the temperature of the milk dropped from 90° to 54° in an hour's time. The moral of that is that milk just can't be cooled properly in the air.

Along about next August, do you suppose it would be proper to say that the milk shortage had been hit by a green Sudan?

To get back to the subject of cooling milk, I recommend that you invest a postage stamp for a free copy of Farmers' Bulletin No. 976, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. The ideas contained in this booklet will help you to size up your cooling tank and see if it is set up to do the right kind of job. There's no sense in losing money on sour or off-flavored milk when a little rearranging may fix things up.

The milk you save from souring means a little extra milk for the Nation. And a little extra milk from thousands of dairy farmers can play a mighty important part in our country's battle.

Home, James . . . in the green Sudan.

Norwood School Plans Canning Center For Area

By LEE B. CARTER

Recognizing the continued necessity for placing emphasis on food preservation, Samnorwood Public School officials are completing arrangements for setting up a canning instruction center with sufficient facilities to process the major portion of the garden products and meats of those citizens who do not have adequate equipment or knowledge to do the job correctly.

Each individual using the canning facilities will furnish his own cans and produce. The equipment, heat, water, and other essential items free to patrons of the canning instruction center.

Funds for this service are made available through the State Board for Vocational Education. W. A. King, District Supervisor of the Food Production War Training from the Lubbock office was a visitor at the Samnorwood School last Thursday to assist in making arrangements for the canning center. He personally delivered more than $100 worth of equipment and promises that much more will soon be available to be used in the community canning center.

The actual processing of the foods will be under the supervision of Mrs. Edna Bradley. Meetings to discuss plans for setting up a production and canning program will be held in the near future under the direction of Miss Lillie Mae Armstrong, home making teacher, and Lee B. Carter, vocational agriculture teacher. All men and women of the Samnorwood area are urged to take note of the time and places of these meetings which will be announced locally within the next few days.

The canning center will be set up in the Samnorwood High School cafeteria at any time after school closes for the summer when demand justifies. The number of days that the center will be open each week will be determined by the demand also.

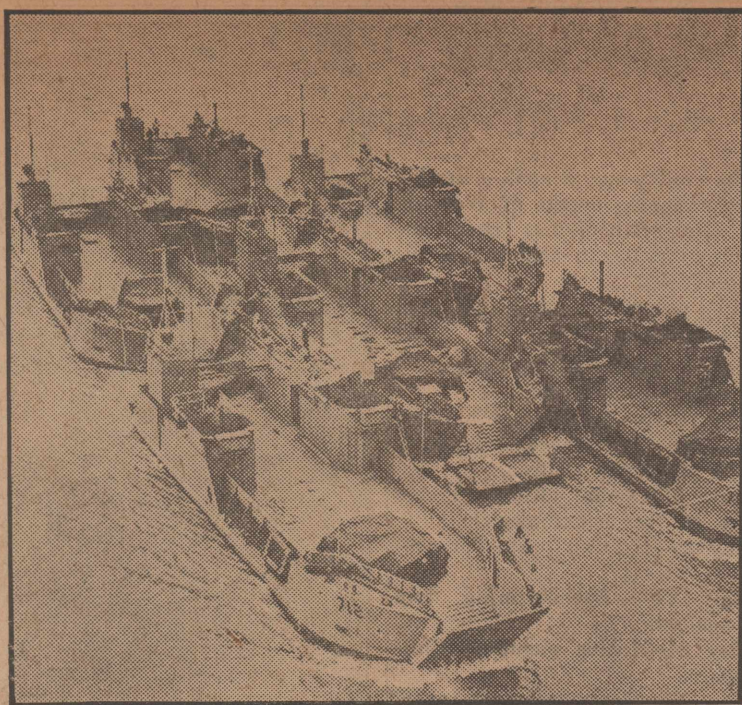

At the present time farmers in the Samnorwood area are making good use of the Farm Machinery Repair course being held at Conway's Shop five afternoons each week. Farmers are asked to take note of an announcement to be made soon that will likely make a division of the time and place of the course, which will give a portion of the class periods to the Dozier area at the Dozier School.

Poison Effective Fur Cut Worms

An effective poison bait for killing cut worms in the garden was given this week by J. W. Thomas, county agent. Ingredients include: 8 tablespoonsful Paris Green or London Purple, 5 lbs. bran, shorts or dog feed, 2 tablespoonsful of cheap syrup per pint of water used (use enough water to dampen the mixture); make a thin broadcast over the garden in the late afternoon, since the cutworms work at night.

Put this bait out soon after seeds are planted or before plants are set out for best results.

The chief language of Haiti is French.

Mr. Deskins Wells,
Wellington, Texas
Dear Mr. Wells:

Just a line to say "Hello" to all the good people in Wellington, also to ask you to please change Jerry's APO number again.

He hasn't mentioned the paper in several weeks, but feel if he gets one ever so often it will be well worth the price of the paper.

We had a letter yesterday stating he was being sent to rest camp and we wouldn't hear until he returns to camp. Noting serious, he says.

We have no idea where he is since his change, believe it is not far. His address is still in care of the postmaster, New York City.

Please change our street number to 2236 Victoria. We can hardly wait from one week to another for the paper.

Thanks for making the changes.
Very truly yours,

Purr-r-r-s just like Daddy's Car

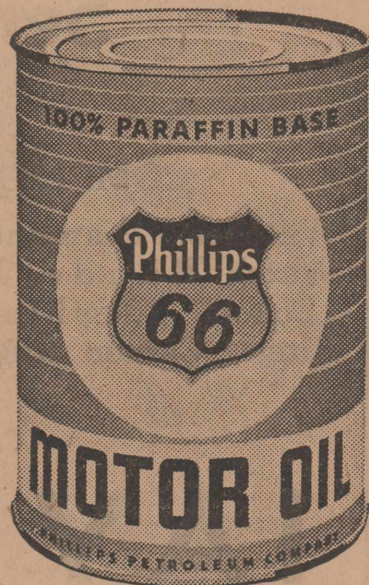

A sweet-running motor doesn't just happen, especially in a car that is three or more years old. It is the result of the owner's good driving habits, of regular service, and the use of a quality lubricant.

These facts are so clear, so well understood by most motorists, that it is practically a proverb that "good oil is cheaper than repairs." Today, with both practical and patriotic reasons for prolonging the life of every automobile, no sane car owner will risk using anything but high quality motor oil.

That is why his most frequent question is: How can I judge quality? How can I be sure? The answer is easy: Phillips tells you simply and frankly that if you want our best oil, we specify that Phillips 66 Motor Oil is our finest quality . . . the highest grade and greatest value . . . among all the oils we offer to average motorists!

These are days when cars must last. Hence experts now recommend changing oil every two months. Do the wise thing, do the safe thing, by asking for Phillips 66 Motor Oil when draining winter-worn lubricant or making regular changes.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

Mary Lou Thomas, the wife of Adam Thomas, died last Thursday night while sitting in her chair listening to the radio. If I had to die, I think that is the way I would like for it to happen quickly, quietly and peacefully. Mrs. Thomas' husband was my father's partner in the furniture and undertaking business. The business was first located north of the Wellington State Bank. When J. C. Wells bought The Leader from L. L. Ladd, the furniture business was moved to the building that was later occupied by the Pioneer Hardware for so many years and which is now rented to the Leader Store.

Mr. Thomas was in charge of the business in both locations; but I used to help out at Christmas and sometimes on other occasions when there was a rush. During these periods, Mrs. Thomas also worked at the store. When it came to waiting on the people she was much better than her husband. Her cheerfulness and her interest in the business impressed me then, and I remember them still. All this modern stuff along the Dale Carnegie line is not entirely new even if every new generation does need to be reminded about it. I saw it practiced in a furniture store when I was a boy.

This year there will not be so many questions asked about sugar. You can get 5 pounds on stamp number 40 in book 5. If you need more you can get another 20 pounds by filling out a simple form. This business of asking how much fruit you have on hand or what you did with your jam is out. In short you can get 25 pounds of sugar without undue delay by taking the proper steps. But when you have used that 25 pounds of canning sugar, it will be all you will get until Feb. 28, 1945.

In short you will have to exercise your own judgment about when you will use the sugar; but it will be turned over to you when you request it. If you make a mistake in judgment, there will be none of this stuff of going to another county. This year all your sugar will come from the county in which you live. That is the straight goods.

Hate to be badgered about buying free drinks for quoting him; but truth compels me to state that this is substantially what Bess Owen contended should be done all last summer. I will buy drinks for quoting Bess on April 31 and on this day only.

This week I hit Mickey Kendrick up for an advertisement expecting one of a modest size. But he was so excited over receiving a bunch of parts and an invoice for some new farm equipment that he ordered a full page before I had a fair chance to talk him out of it.

One drygoods merchant does not think very much of the non-rationed shoes. He is figuring on having a sale to lay all other sales in the shade the first minute he can see daylight on any change in production for domestic consumption.

Modest Horace Clark says he wants me to see the picture which will show Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. His story is that the producers started out to film what they expected to be just an ordinary movie. The picture is not one of these that costs a million dollars to produce. But something happened along the way and a memorable drama has been created. People who have not been to a theatre since the last Will Rogers picture are turning up again in every town and city where it has been shown. The heroine of the show is a collie dog. The name of the picture is: "Lassie Come Home."

There is a new vogue that is taking hold in Wellington. Since I do not know of a better name, we will call it table tapping. I first learned of this last week when I went home and found my wife and Mrs. Mickey Kendrick, Betty Ruth Thomson and Diane sitting around a table. They gave me the hush hush and I sat and watched.

They would ask the table a question—then say knock once if true and twice if false. And the table would do one or the other. So I became interested.

I found out that the way to start is to have at least four people place their hands on the table. The north end must be left vacant. Six people can sit at the table at a time; but the north end must be bare. After sitting and waiting for ten or fifteen minutes the table will tilt up from the north end. Then you ask if it is ready to talk—knock once for yes—twice for no. After that you start asking questions.

Well, it does work—sometimes good and sometimes differently. I do not understand any part of this. Perhaps it is some sort of mental telepathy and the answers represent the accumulated thought of those around the table.

My wife had Mrs. Elmer Knox Jones, Mrs. Kelly Pigg, and others over for a session. I do not know what answers they received; but I do know about the one over at my mother's house.

According to the table, the invasion of Europe will start early in May. Roosevelt will not run for a fourth term. The table would not discuss Dewey—it just plain wouldn't answer. James Sullivan will return from the war sound in body. Marian and I will continue to live in Wellington until we die. Hattie D. will live in Wellington six more years, etc.

There were many more questions, but this gives you an idea. I do not have the least idea about whether the answers are true or not; but it is an interesting game.

T. D. Hudspeth Dies April 11

T. D. Hudspeth, former Wellington teacher, died in a San Antonio hospital Tuesday, April 11, after having become critically ill on the preceding Saturday.

Mr. Hudspeth was part owner of two filling stations in San Antonio.

During the time he lived here, Mr. Hudspeth taught in the local school for two years, then worked two years for the Chevrolet Motor Company. He and his family left here approximately ten years ago. Mr. Hudspeth was about 48 years of age.

Surviving are his widow and three children, Doris, age 11, and twin sons, Tom and Dan, age 8. A sister Mrs. Fred Smyers, who formerly lived here, now lives at Arlington.

New Weapons Being Developed

WASHINGTON.—Rear Admiral George S. Hussey, chief of the navy's bureau of ordnance, said today that some new types of weapons "are in process" for use against the enemy.

He declined to amplify the statement made in response to inquiries at a news conference held by Secretary of the Navy Knox.

Hussey said the development of rocket guns is progressing very rapidly and disclosed that a "large testing station" now is being devoted almost exclusively to rocket developments. He predicted that accuracy of the rocket weapon would be improved.

Hussey said improvements in types of projectiles, aiming devices and training of gun crews has brought the navy in the Pacific to the point where the fleet now is expending "only one-third as many rounds of ammunition per plane brought down as at the time of Pearl Harbor."

The first attempt made by Americans to find the North Pole was in 1753.

Goethe described architecture as "frozen music."

The biggest bronze statue in the world is the Statue of Liberty.

Home Front Still Greatest Killer

CHICAGO. — Accidents since Pearl Harbor have put the war in second place as a killer, the national safety council said Monday, releasing figures showing that twice as many persons have died or been permanently disabled in home front mishaps as in battle.

Accidents have reduced 350,000 wartime workers to industrial 4-F's with permanent disabilities, the council said. In addition, 102,000 workers have been killed and 9,500,000 injured compared with war casualties of 42,081 deaths and 66,221 wounded, and 37,415 missing.

The all-accident toll since Pearl Harbor now is 220,000 killed and 22,000,000 injured, the council said. Traffic accidents have killed 61,000 and injured 2,100,000, while accidents in the home have killed 75,000 and injured 11,000,000.

Young Turkeys And Chicks Thrive On Green Feed

COLLEGE STATION.—A green pasture for poults and growing turkeys during the summer months will materially cut the cost of finishing a flock for market.

According to S. A. Moore, poultryman for the A. and M. College Extension Service, turkeys consume large quantities of green feed. If it can be made available the amount of mash and grain a turkey eats can be reduced by as much as 10 to 12 pounds during the growing period. This is equivalent to an estimated saving of 20 per cent in the normal consumption of storebought feed. Furthermore, by supplementing regular feed with good pasture producers can expect the greatest average weight on the birds at market time.

Turkey growers are interested most in economical production, and providing plenty of green feed now and for the summer is one of the most useful aids at hand to achieve this, Moore says. Plenty of green feed also will increase the vitamin A intake of the turkeys, which means that the birds will be more resistant to disease. The specialist reminds, however, that feeding hard granite grits is necessary practice, especially if the turkey poults are turned out when they are eating grass. If they do not have a sufficient amount of granite grits before they start feeding on grass, they sometimes are unable to handle fibrous grass. This will sometimes cause impaction of the crop.

Not only young turkeys, but chicks, too, need green feed, and growers can reduce cost of operation by seeing that they get it, Moore adds. The way to provide it is to plant enough to give the turkeys and chickens all they will eat for the next few months.

Over in Matador one Clarence Kifer owns and operates a small filling station. He has operated the business for quite some time. He is known to his neighbors and customers as a law-abiding, honest man, a patriotic and good citizen.

Some two weeks ago an investigator from the Lubbock district office of the OPA paid Mr. Kifer an official visit. He checked his ration accounts, promptly announced that he was "over" 2,000 gallons in gasoline stamps, and compelled him to refund stamps in that sum to the Lubbock district office and as punishment ordered his place of business closed for 30 days.

The investigator didn't go to the bank where the ration accounts are kept, but the day after he padlocked the little filling station the bank notified Mr. Kifer that ration stamp checks totaling 2,000 gallons had not been charged to his account through an oversight—and thus the "crime" which the OPA had penned on Mr. Kifer had been solved. Mr. Kifer's books were in perfect order; he wasn't running a black market; he was not doctoring his books or making false reports. His neighbors and friends, incensed at the high-handed attitude of the OPA investigator, immediately got busy and informed the Lubbock office of the facts in the case.

But absurd as it seems, the district administrator said his hands were tied; nothing could be done for Mr. Kifer until the investigator who passed sentence on Mr. Kifer could be located—he was some place else in the district. He, and he alone, could authorize Mr. Kifer to reopen his business. The district chief, however, did issue one order of his own, and that was that under no condition should Mr. Kifer make any move to reopen his business without a formal notice from the investigator, despite the fact that the district office has on file sworn proof of the falsity of the charges against the Matador merchant.

The case at Matador is not an indictment of the OPA as a whole, nor is it a reflection upon the integrity or good intentions of OPA employees in general. They make mistakes; business men make mistakes, too. There is some chiseling among business men; there are OPA officials who have been indicted for participation in black market operations. But, most American people are patriotic. They have accepted rationing and price control in good spirit; they know that prices generally have been kept down and wild speculation pre-

• Post War Stockpile

R. A. Young, resident manager of the Dumas Smelter made a strong plea for accumulation of a heavy national stockpile of zinc, before a meeting of the American Zinc Institute, held in St. Louis Tuesday.

Young said plans should be made now to avoid the chance of ever having a national emergency catch us so critically low on zinc as did World War II.—W. R. Ruthford in The Moore County News.

• Foreigners In Germany

Returning soldiers from the European front tell many strange tales of men who have been shot down and landed in Germany.

There are stories of American boys who wandered for weeks over Germany without once being accosted. All try to make their way to Luxembourg and into the hands of the underground movements.

It appears strange that an enemy could wander about in Germany. Yet the soldiers contend that there are so many nationalities now doing forced labor within the borders of Germany that an American is just another worker to the public until he identifies himself by too much talk.—Anton Koch in The Quanah Tribune-Chief.

• Blame For Delinquency

Responsibility for the current wave of juvenile delinquency was passed back to parents and teachers by speakers at the Dallas convention of the Junior League of Texas. Parental lethargy is especially to blame for the present laxity. Much as has been said about the need of better provision of public recreational facilities, the fact remains that children who have proper training at home seldom get into trouble.

The school system will share some of this blame until teachers and school administrators show more interest in their students' welfare than some of them do and until the truancy problem is handled more successfully. Enforcement of school attendance is notoriously lax in Texas, and this is responsible for some of the delinquency that has developed.

Better park and playground programs and the opening of youth centers where high school couples can have most of the entertainment of commercial night clubs without their hazards can do much toward solving the current delinquency problem, but the basic responsibility remains with the parents. If they are not interested enough to give their children the guidance and supervision they need, they cannot justly blame others when things go wrong.—The Dallas Morning News.

vented by price control legislations.

The case at Matador, however, is a serious indictment of the manner in which federal bureaus, and individuals, usurp the powers of the courts and generally disregard the rights of the people. Here, we have an investigator in the role of prosecutor, jury and judge and the victim without recourse until it suits the convenience of a self-styled investigator. The whole incident smacks too much of Gestapo tactics to suit the American people.

It is incidents such as these, multiplied a thousand times over throughout the country, which have grown into a veritable millstone around the neck of our administration in Washington. Worst of all they have created confusion, bitterness and inefficiency on the home front at the most crucial time in our history—a time when the American people should be united as one and exerting every effort to bring the war to a conclusion at the earliest possible date.—The Memphis Democrat.

I Saw

—By VIRGINIA ROBEY

Not only did you see it, but you felt it and were blown about by it—the big sand storm of the year last Saturday. And any number of people remarked how it reminded them of "old times."

... During it, I SAW
Henry Wischkaemper ducking his head and holding on to his hat to keep from losing it. . . Mrs. Shorty Bradford saying she worked all Friday cleaning house until she was so tired she almost dropped, then Saturday afternoon she could write her name in the dust on everything.

Steve Roberson and Jack Gibson sticking their heads under the hood of a car to try to find some trouble. . . Sue Anderson trying to comb her hair, but finally giving up till she got inside. . . Mrs. J. A. Lowe saying she was dressed up to come to town when the sand blew up, so she just stayed dressed up and came anyway.

Mrs. Wallace O'Rear, who left home before it got here, wishing she'd known the sand was coming so she could have stayed home out of it. . . And after the blow was over, C. C. Bell with just as much to say about having to clean it out as any of the women—he helped Mrs. Bell get their house sandless.

And when the sand was bad again Sunday, the new-type shingles on the Dewey Ellis garage fluttering violently, but they didn't blow off. . . Ervin Brewer wishing the wind would higher—higher off the ground.

Not concerned with SAND, I SAW:

Mrs. Maurice Dickson who visited here a short time back with her young son, a most grown-up appearing little boy.

... Mrs. Pink Sullivan wearing a coat ornament made from ordinary cotton burs that had been colored. . . Percy Wells talking about the eggs his hen lays. Mr. Wells got into the business quite by accident—he found a stray hen that nobody claimed. He took her home and fed her on vitamin feeds, and now she doing better than the average hen with her laying.

Mack Saied, stopping to look at the found shoes in The Leader Office lost and found window, inquiring how much we'd charge to put rubber heels on his shoes. . . Mr. and Mrs. Hayden Williams, who attend church at Fresno, coming to visit the Methodist Church in Wellington Sunday night.

Tons Of Grain And Hay Wasted Daily In U. S.

Tons of grains, hays and other feeds are wasted daily because of lack of sufficient protein for efficient livestock rations, says A. L. Ward, Educational Director, National Cottonseed Products Association, calling on all livestock producers who can do so to grow more cotton to supply cotton seed meal needed for balanced rations.

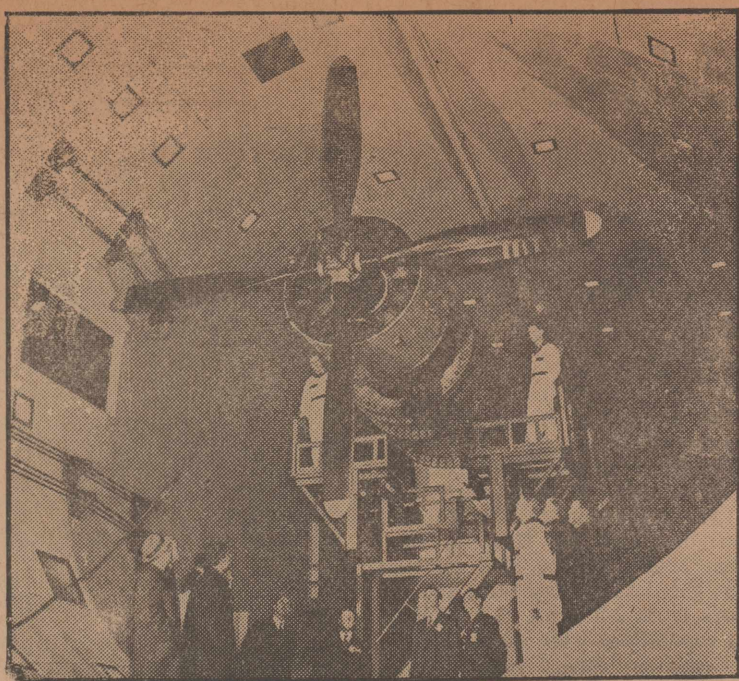

In feeding hogs, Experiment Station tests have proved that 40 pounds of protein supplement, such as cottonseed meal combined with tankage or fish meal, will save four to five bushels of corn in producing 100 pounds of gain.

Dairymen, many of whom can grow cotton as one of their feed crops, recognize the value of protein, which E. R. Eudaly, Texas Extension Service, has called "the one and only element in feed that stimulates milk production," in saving other feeds and insuring adequate milk production.

Beef cattle tests over a 5 year period show that cows fed cottonseed cake during winter months weighed 150 pounds more than cows not fed cake, while their calves averaged 54 pounds heavier weight at weaning than the calves from cows that did not receive the protein concentrate. Other wintering trials showed a winter gain of only 25 pounds for calves fed hay alone, while calves fed hay and one pound of cottonseed cake, daily per head, made 184 pounds gain. Other tests show one pound of cottonseed cake equal to 3 to 4 pounds of legume hay or 2 to 3 pounds of grain for wintering beef cattle, and feedlot results show that 100 pounds of cottonseed meal replace 250 to 300 pounds of grain when no more protein concentrate is fed than is needed to balance the ration.

Popular Books To Library

Among the books received during recent weeks at the County Library are several that have proved outstanding, Miss Katherine Boverie, librarian, reports.

"The Speakers Notebook" by William G. Hoffman is a practical handbook on the methods of effective speaking.

Another new book is George Sessions Perry's "Texas, A World in Itself," a book that will be enjoyed by most Texans.

"Battle of Britain" is the accurate account of the dark days when the Battle of Britain was being fought in the skies over England. It is taken from the British Air Ministry Records.

Chick Time Poultry Tips

—By J. W. Thomas

While many farms already have their supply of baby chickens, hundreds of others will be raising and buying them through the remainder of the spring. J. W. Thomas, county agricultural agent, this week gave the following tips on raising chickens with the least amount of loss.

First Step

1. Give one-half square foot of floor space per chick. Increase with growth.
2. Have temperature 95 degrees two inches from floor.
3. Keep clean litter (sand, straw, etc.) on floors.
4. Reduce temperature about 5 degrees each week. Do not reduce temperature below 75 degrees as long as heat is needed.

5. Allow one inch feeders space per chick.
6. Have four to six quart water fountains per 100 chicks.
7. Keep your brooder house dry and clean.
8. Watch for coccidiosis in your chicks.

9. Coccidiosis breaks out in damp, warm houses.
10. The fourth week is the beginning of the common critical period for coccidiosis—watch for bloody droppings.

11. Whip coccidiosis by cleaning your brooder house twice a week.
12. Vaccinate for fowl pox and worm at 12 weeks.

Second Step

1. Give pullets two inches of feeder space until they are twelve weeks old, then three inches per bird thereafter.
2. See that your chicks get plenty of sunlight and green feed.
3. Supply six to eight gallon water fountains per 100 chicks.
4. Don't let your pullets come down from internal worms.

The unhinged gate...

... "UNBALANCED" ... swings wrong both ways!

COTTON is the crop that "hinges" farm grains, grasses and roughage to livestock and dairy farming; providing a secure, balanced, livestock program.

Under the "one crop" system, the cotton farmer was hurt by lack of diversification. Then, more emphasis was laid on other crops; curtailing cotton acreage drastically.

But cutting cotton production too much swung the gate too far the other way.

The present lack of protein feed, cottonseed meal and cake, proves the need to get back in balance. This can be done in 1944 by growing more cotton.

Let's hinge the gate right, this time!

Zona Wolf

Old Man Stork left Zona on the doorsteps of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Wolf's residence of Arlie Route, Childress, in the wee hours of dawn on October 26, 1926. Since that time she has acquired many friends, and has cultivated her own personal charm and wit.

Zona attended the Loco schools for six years, and has been a student of the Wellington schools for the past five years. While in Loco Zona participated in both volleyball and baseball.

Since she has been in our schools Zona has been a member of the F.H.T. three years, and was treasurer for the Senior class. Her favorite subject is home nursing. For her hobby she collects photographs.

Zona is as yet undecided about her future, but we know she will have a happy and successful one. With her personality, how could she fail?

Good luck, Zona!

On October 13, 1926, at Olton, Texas, Mr. Stork added another in number to the G. T. Austin family. Yes, it was on that glorious day that Dan Austin made his entry into this world. Today, Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Austin and family live on Route three.

Dan attended the Rolla school for three years; the Wellington schools for the past eight years.

During his attendance to high school, Dan has come to regard plane geometry and vocational agriculture as his favorite subjects.

Final Rites For Mrs. W. W. White At Quail Wed.

Funeral services for Mrs. W. W. White, pioneer Quail resident, were conducted from the Church of Christ at Quail Wednesday afternoon, April 19.

Mrs. White died Tuesday morning, April 18, while visiting a daughter, Mrs. Vonna Mae Godwin of Turkey.

In charge of services were Min. Will M. Thompson of the Wellington Church of Christ and Rev. Hubert Thomson of the Wellington Methodist Church.

Gathering to pay final tribute were a host of friends, both those who had known her from the time she came to this section, and those who had come to know her only in recent years.

A resident of the Quail community for 42 years, Mrs. White had made her home on the same farm for that entire period.

Pallbearers for the funeral service were Jerry DePauw, Earl Hunter, Joe Terry, Tom Crabtree, J. B. Castleberry and Ralph Bourland. Honorary pallbearers were John D. Glenn, P. E. Starr, Dr. E. W. Moss, R. D. Wiley, Carol Blefins, George Stephens, Mack Bourland, Walter Starr, V. B. Allred, Benton Shields, A. Y. Bell, Dr. E. W. Jones, Dr. C. B. Jones, Ira Self, Zeb Neeley, Olie Dodson, John Dollar, Clarence Dollar, Bert Weaver, Paul Bell, Mr. Neeley, Alex Shields, J. E. Blevins, Harley Kern, Fred Brown, T. L. Newman, Charlie DePauw, J. D. Thomas, Noah Cunningham and T. W. Devenport.

Flower bearers were Mary Bell DePauw, Ella Mae DePauw, Joe Helen Norman, Pauline Cherry, Virginia Blevins, Billie Owens, Bennie Brisbin, Beverly Borland, Anna Beth Dodson, Betty Jean White, and Dorothy Jean Morgan. Burial was in the Quail cemetery with the Ellis Funeral Home in charge.

Mrs. White, who before her marriage was Rose Gibson, was born at Danville, Ky., on November 10, 1875, and at the time of her death she was 68 years, 5 months and 8 days of age. At an early age her parents died and she was reared in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John DePauw, the parents of Charlie DePauw of Quail.

She came with them to Texas when she was about 18 years of age, settling in Wilbarger County.

She was married to W. W. White at Tolbert on October 29, 1900. In 1902, Mr. and Mrs. White came to Collingsworth County to make their home. At that time the Quail section was thinly settled and for the first few years hers was the life of a pioneer farm woman.

Friends recall the many things she did to help her neighbors during those years, and how she often walked as far as Quail, two miles away, to sit up all night with someone who was sick.

Active in church life, the White home was a stopping place not only for preachers of their own church, but for those of all denominations.

Mrs. White took pride in her home, in improving it and making it a place where all were welcome.

Her health began to fail a number of years ago, and she had been forced to take a less active part in community and church life as the years passed. She became ill last August and her condition grew steadily worse. A few days before her death she went to the home of her daughter to visit.

Mrs. White is survived by her husband, W. W. White of Quail, her daughter, Mrs. Godwin of Turkey; two granddaughters, Mrs. Lemuel Scott of Lubbock and Alice Rose Godwin of Turkey; a great granddaughter, Rose LaRue Scott of Lubbock; a brother and two sisters, Mrs. Clark Cook, Mrs. Lettie Tarpin and Fred Gibson of Louisville, Ky.

ARMY'S MEDAL MAKER

Gripping Picture Of Boy And Dog At Ritz Theatre

A great drama of the great love of a small boy and his dog provides heart throbs, smiles and suspense in "Lassie Come Home," story of a gorgeous collie's thousand-mile journey to find and join her young master, starting Sunday at the Ritz Theatre.

The tale deals with Lassie, a golden brown and white collie owned by Sam Carracough (Donald Crisp) in Yorkshire, and idolized by his young son Joe (Roddy McDowall). Poverty forces Carracough to sell the animal to a wealthy Duke (Nigel Bruce), who moves her to Scotland. Lassie escapes and makes her way a thousand miles, amid various dangerous adventures, and returns, almost dead, to her Yorkshire home.

Seeing this devotion, the Duke solves the problems of Lassie and the Carracough family.

The collie, Lassie, is certain of dog stardom after this picture. Crisp and young McDowall are reunited in this M-G-M picture after their roles in "How Green Was My Valley." Elsa Lanchester plays the boy's sympathetic mother with affecting sincerity. Dame May Whitty and Ben Webster, as an old Scotch couple who befriend the dog when it reaches their home starving, play their roles with gripping effect. Edmund Gwenn, as a kindly peddler who also befriends the dog, has an engaging character role. Elizabeth Taylor, as the Duke's granddaughter; J. Patrick O'Malley, as the brutal dog trainer; Bruce as the Duke, gruff but kindly at heart, are among other principals delivering capital performances.

Fred M. Wilcox directed with skill and sympathy. Leonard Smith's photography in Technicolor, including the filming of an actual rainbow in nature hues, does much to enhance the beauty of the Eric Knight story.
