C. A. McNABB OF STATE COLLEGE CHOSEN AS HEAD OF POTATO ASSOCIATION

At a meeting of the Portales Valley Sweet Potato Growers Association last week, C. C. McNabb of State College was employed as manager of the association.

Mr. McNabb has had forty years experience in marketing, and has been with the Federal Bureau of Markets for a number of years, and the securing of his service by the Portales Valley Sweet Potato Association is indeed fortunate.

The sweet potato industry is one of the outstanding industries of the Portales Valley, and with an expert at the head of the marketing of their products, the Portales Valley yam will increase in favor and add profits to the bank accounts of the growers.

Mr. McNabb is now looking for a house in which to live and will soon move here with his family.

ROSWELL NEWS AND RECORD CONSOLIDATE

On Tuesday June 30th, the Roswell News was consolidated with the Roswell Record and will be published from that office. For years two daily papers have struggled for existence in Roswell and since the increased cost of production since the time of the war, it has been nip and tuck for an existence. Roswell is a good town, but it is not large enough for two daily newspapers, and with the consolidation the business interests of the town should be much better served. Will Robinson, an old land mark in the newspaper profession, will be missed by the many who have followed his writings for the past twenty years.

LAST FRIDAYS BALL GAME

On last Friday Portales and Rogers played another game of base ball on the Portales grounds. This game was a good one from start to finish. Trout throwing for Portales and Clark pitching for Rogers, both pitching excellent ball from start to finish. The Portales line up was as follows:

Crow, receiving; Trout throwing; Billenger, 1st. base; Phillip Johnson, 2nd. base; Siger, 3rd. base; Stephenson, short stop; Lee Johnson, left field; Livingston, center field; and Greaves, right field. With this line-up Portales has a strong team, and with the line-up of fielders in the Fridays game the ball has a hard time trying to get anywhere by taking to the out field. Rogers got their runs from safe hits where it was almost impossible for the in-field to handle. The score stood 2 to 4 in favor of Rogers until the ninth when Siger first up singled, Johnson following with a single advancing Siger to second and going to first himself, Greaves next up batted to pitcher, throwing Siger out at third. Billenger followed with a double, with Johnson on second and Greaves on first, both crossed home plate ahead of the ball tying the score. Trout came up with a three base hit scoring Billenger and ending the game 5 to 4 in Portales favor.

Portales will play Clovis July 4, in the Clovis park, and practically this same line-up will go on the field.

George Arthur Lipp passed away at his home, 108 W. Kentucky last night, Thursday, June 25th, at 8 o'clock. Dr. Lipp was born at Petersburg, Ohio, January 23, 1880. He spent his boyhood at this place, later he entered the Ohio State University and graduated from that institution. After his graduation he entered the Government service in the Department of Agriculture Bureau of Animal Industry, in which department he was an inspector.—Roswell News.

CHANGE TO BE MADE IN DRY ENFORCEMENT

Washington, D. C., June 23.—Reorganization of the prohibition enforcement system, involving obliteration of state lines, decentralization of authority and the creation of new supervisory districts concurring with the federal judicial districts, was announced today by the treasury.

The sweeping changes are to become operative August 1. They are designed to build up a district federal enforcement system, without sacrificing co-operation between federal and enforcement agencies.

A prohibition administrator will be named for each of 22 new prohibition districts. These appointees, the treasury announcement said, will be chosen "for personal fitness and executive and business ability."

Each will have two assistants and in addition a chemist and a consul.

Indications are that an important shake-up will take place among the enforcement personnel, but Assistant Secretary Andrews who laid out the plan, declined today to discuss that phase of the re-organization.

The new program has the approval of the president and in making it public Secretary Mellon expressed also his own wholehearted support.

ANTELOPE KILLED BY PASSENGER TRAIN ON SANTA FE, NEAR BOAZ

Clovis, June 25.—One of the largest buck antelope ever seen in this part of the state was killed by the passenger train on the Santa Fe near Boaz Station. The animal sprang in front of the engine so quickly that the engineer did not know what it was and expected to find sheep after the train was stopped. The antelope's back was broken by the impact and the train crew was obliged to shoot it to put it out of its misery. The carcass was brought to this city and turned over to the game warden who notified the state headquarters of the game department of the accident. It is believed that this is the first time in the history of the state that an antelope has been killed in this way.

METHODIST CHURCH

The daily meetings of the revival have closed but the meeting goes on. Next Sunday will witness the reception of members at 11:00 a. m. The pastor will preach at that hour on the subject, "After Conversion What?" and at 8:00 p. m., on "Some Practical Rules for Christian Living."

A great open door stands before us. Men are hungry for help. "Let's Go!"

MAY LOCATE HERE

F. E. Alvord of Portales is in the city visiting at the C. E. Strain home and looking for a new location. He and Mr. Strain were old friends at Baird. He is highly well pleased with Canyon and will likely move here on account of the College.—Randall County News.

Prentis Swan and wife of New York City are here on a visit to Dr. J. S. Pearce and children. Mr. Swan is a brother of Claude Swan.

REMOVED BODY

Wednesday of this week Henry George removed the body of Mrs. James A. Matheson, and re-interred it in the Inez cemetery by the side of her husband, who was buried there last week.

LEAGUE URGES PEOPLE TO PATRONIZE LITTLE NEIGHBORHOOD STORE

Chicago, June 24.—Believing that national prosperity depends upon local prosperity and that every town's progress rests on the development of its civic and commercial interests, the Local Loyalty League of America, with headquarters here has inaugurated a movement to stimulate a hearty trade-at-home community spirit throughout the country.

Twenty nationally known manufacturers, constituting some of the largest newspaper advertisers, have pledged their cooperation.

Material for the program includes newspaper editorials and newspaper advertising, a motion picture production entitled "My Home Town," featuring a popular juvenile movie star, essay contests, billboard posters and radio-casting.

"A community is only as good as its citizens make it, and business is the cornerstone on which the community structure stands," said a statement. "Business depression brought about by buying from mail order catalogues and peddlers and frequent shopping visits to big city stores by the people of any town, make 'dead' towns. We desire to combat that and develop a trade-at-home spirit."

GRAPES A COMING INDUSTRY IN THE PORTALES VALLEY

The vineyards in and around Portales will make a heavy yield this year. A California citizen touring the valley, was shown a cluster of grapes from a vineyard in the edge of town, and remarked that they were equal to those of California.

The marketing conditions are improving for the products of the Portales Valley and with the growth of Amarillo, Lubbock and other Panhandle towns, the demand will increase, providing a profitable market for these products right at our door.

WOMEN NOW PAY FOR NECK SHAVE

It's 15 cents now or let their neck go unshaved. Women were greeted with signs bearing this information in local barber shops yesterday. It all came about at a meeting of the local barbers' union night before last.

Heretofore the price for a member of the fair sex to have the clippers, or razor run over the back of her neck was the mere climbing into the chair. Now it takes 15 cents of the real coin of the realm.

Husbands fathers and brothers are hiding their safety razors.—Amarillo News.

DR. BACON SAUNDERS' CONDITION GRAVE

The condition of Dr. Bacon Saunders, chief surgeon of the Fort Worth and Denver railroad, is very grave according to advices from Colorado Springs where he had gone to recuperate.

He passed through here some time ago on his way to Colorado and was accompanied as far as Channing by friends.—Amarillo Daily News.

Has No Labor Saving Device

The little honey bee certainly works hard for what he gets. The average hive contains forty thousand workers. How much honey do you suppose each bee collects?

The answer is twenty-five dollars for the summer's work of the entire hive. Divide twenty-five dollars by forty thousand and you will get exactly one-sixteenth of a cent—the earnings of the individual bee.

When we eat honey how seldom do we think of the labor involved in collecting it.—The Electric Maid.

Inman Freeman of Portales was in Clovis Tuesday. He has been attending Simmons College at Abilene, Texas, the past year. Inman is a son of A. W. Freeman, who was for several years with the Farmers State Bank here.—Clovis News.

J. G. GILLILAND DIES WHILE VISITING SON IN ALBUQUERQUE

J. G. Gilliland, 322 Reed Street died last Wednesday afternoon while visiting his son, O. S. Gilliland, in Albuquerque. Acute indigestion was the cause of his death. He was 66 years of age, has been for a long time a resident of Clovis and was well and favorably known here, with many friends who will be grieved to learn of his death. Three sons and three daughters survive him, O. S. Gilliland of Albuquerque, George Gilliland of Mt. Signal, Calif., Ira Gilliland of Clovis, Mrs. Mary Sherwood of Portales, Mrs. W. A. Armstrong of Hedley, Tex., and Mrs. J. G. Sherwood of Clovis. The remains will come to Clovis tomorrow and the funeral will probably be held in the afternoon.—Clovis News.

WATER PASSES FT. SUMNER ON WAY TO CARLSBAD

The weather man has been shooting wild in trying to deliver a rain on Carlsbad project and has hit all about without delivering any of the precious moisture on the project farms. It seemed impossible for the clouds to withhold their blessing the past few days, but trifling sprinkles only reached us.

However, there is some slight relief promised in a telegram to the local Reclamation office this morning that a three thousand acre feet run off of water at Fort Sumner was headed this way, the peak being at midnight last night. This is a possible forerunner of floods in that section but this is not known.

The local project reservoirs were entirely emptied on April 18, more than two months ago and our water problem has been acute for some days. Not a great deal of water will be lost in reservoirs when it reaches them, as it will be carried right through as fast as possible, limited only by the canal capacity of 500 second feet.—Carlsbad Current.

REVIVAL CLOSED SUNDAY NIGHT

The Methodist revival meeting closed last Sunday night after a very successful two weeks service. Rev. Nelson won many friends while here and as a revivalist he delivered a series of straight gospel sermons which resulted in much good in the community and strengthened the church.

Rev. Bell and wife, who had charge of the singing and music, also won many warm friends in Portales, and these good people were very favorably impressed with the town and the Portales Valley.

MANY INVESTORS IN TEXAS AFFECTED BY HIGH COURT RULING

Austin, June 24.—Thousands of Texas investors are affected by the ruling today by the state supreme court that holders of certificates of shares in concerns operating in Texas under declaration of trust and common law agreements are responsible for the debts of the concern.

W. SHEPPARD IS CLEARED FULLY

Chicago, June 30.—William D. Sheppard is completely exonerated of charges of murder. The county grand jury Tuesday heard two witnesses testify concerning the death and the post mortem examination of Mrs. Emma McClintock, mother of Billy, of whose death Sheppard was not held responsible.

The jury voted "No bills" which completely exonerates Sheppard of any blame in her death.

LIGHTING COSTS LESS THAN CANDY OR TOBACCO

The average bill for electric lights and appliance operation is $30 a year in the American home, while the household spends $95 a year on tobacco, $68 a year on gasoline, $50 a year on ice cream and $25 on candy.

SANTA BARBARA, CALIF., SUFFERS HEAVY LOSS FROM AN EARTHQUAKE

PREPARING FOR ENCAMPMENT

Service Troop of the 111th Cavalry N. M. N. G. is busy this week preparing for the annual encampment to be held at Fort Bliss, El Paso, Texas, July 8th to 23rd, inclusive. All equipment is being packed this week so as every thing will be ready to entrain July 8th. The advance detail will leave Sunday July 5th, and upon arriving at Fort Bliss will draw rations, and have every thing ready to feed the Troop when they arrive in camp at noon on July 9th.

The Troop will eat supper in Carlsbad and breakfast in El Paso.

Service Troop has an outstanding distinction from the other Troops of the N. M. N. G. as it carries the Regimental Band, Regimental Master Sergeant, Regimental Supply Section and also furnishes a part of the personnel Section in Regimental Headquarters.

SEWER EXTENSION

Elsewhere in this issue will be found the protest notice for the sewer extension in Portales. The town has grown far beyond the present sewer system and an effort will be made to make the much needed extension, which will make Portales one of the healthiest towns in the state.

It is also desired to extend the water mains so that the town can have a proper water supply.

And while this improving is going along it would be well for those living on Liberty street, desiring to pave this street to present the town council with a petition asking that a paving program be started.

Nothing has helped Portales as much as the few blocks of paving put in last summer, and with the paving of Liberty street, it would have a real paving system.

Mr. Wells of the Develin Engineering Co. has charge of the engineering work on the sewer extension, and could also be secured to take charge of the engineering work should a paving program look favorable at this time.

HEREFORD MERCHANTS TO NOT PATRONIZE TRUCKS

The Chamber of Commerce of Hereford, backed by all of the leading merchants, have gone on record to refuse to patronize truck lines, and are giving all their business to the Santa Fe.

President E. B. Black of the Hereford Chamber of Commerce started the fight against trucking from Amarillo to Hereford. He stated "the merchants of Hereford are not playing square with the Santa Fe. The company pays over $6,000 taxes in Deaf Smith County and the employees in the county are paid over $90,000 annually." He urged the citizens to back the Santa Fe.—Randall County News.

3,000,000 HOMES COULD BE LIGHTED BY THIS PLANT

The largest electric generating station in the world is now under construction in New York City to be completed next spring. It will have a capacity of 700,000 kilowatts or 100,000 kilowatts greater than the proposed Muscle Shoals development.

That capacity would be sufficient to light 3,000,000 six room houses enough to take care of all the demands of any state, except New York, according to Geological Survey data.

The Sanders test well north of Clovis has reached a depth of about 260 feet. A shallow strata of water was reached at about 20 feet and another strata of salt water struck at a greater depth.—Clovis News.

Santa Barbara, Calif., June 29.

All the brick buildings in Santa Barbara were demolished this morning, including the Arlington hotel, by the earthquake which swept the state, and it seems to have centered its ferocity on this city. Water mains and river reservoirs were broken and the city was partly flooded.

One report received by the Southern Pacific company here said that 65 lives had been lost at Santa Barbara. Another message to the same company said that 27 were killed. The roof of the company's round house at Santa Barbara fell in and crushed several locomotives. Many slides were reported along the highway.

Los Angeles, Calif., June 29.—A severe earthquake rocked Los Angeles at 6:43 this morning.

Downtown buildings swayed considerably but the movement was slow and even, and there were no indications of damage, although the motion continued for more than a minute.

The earthquake continued at intervals but all were the slow, steady, yet extremely severe movements.

The tremors were felt as far north as New Hall, some 31 miles from here, according to telephone company reports. The tremors were continuing at 6:56 o'clock.

The earthquakes were felt in an unusual degree of severity at Majave and Lancaster, Antelope Valley, a hundred miles north from here, according to operators of the Los Angeles bureau of power and light system.

Bakersfield, Oxnard and Santa Barbara, to the north, and Colton to the east, all reported to the Southern Pacific train dispatcher here that they felt the tremors.

Santa Barbara, June 30.—Another distinct earth tremor, the third sharp jolt since midnight, rocked Santa Barbara at 5:55 this morning, almost completing the havoc caused by the earlier quakes.

The telephone building adjoining the United Press headquarters here shook on its foundations, sending frightened employes scurrying from the partially ruined building. Several narrowly escaped with their lives when missed by a shower of bricks.

The Hotel Garillo, on the opposite side of the street and one of the few large structures which remained standing, shook violently, sending its cornices and stones from the upper walls to the pavement. Other partly wrecked buildings along State street collapsed completely.

One or two more tremors like the one at 5:55 this morning will level the standing ruins and will make the entire city a desert of concrete and mortar.

The damage is estimated at 30 million dollars.

Thirteen known dead and 24 injured was the estimate of casualties late on Tuesday. The fact that residents of the city spent the night in the open is believed to have kept the dead and injured list at a minimum.

Santa Barbara, June 30.—Another tremendous earth shock hit this city at 1:20 a. m. Tuesday, equalling in violence the first shock felt at 6:15 a. m. Monday.

The sleeping city was brot to its feet again, terror stricken in an instant. The new shock was a single violent tremor accompanied by a terrific crashing as the ruins crumpled further and more walls fell in.

The earth continued to shake slightly for several minutes after the crash.

DEMOCRATIC IN POLITICS

In his visit to his old home in Valley View and Collinsville, Texas, the editor of the News found few left of the old friends, as it had been twenty-odd years since leaving these places. However, there were a few and it was indeed a pleasure to visit with these. At Collinsville the greater number of old friends were found in the cemetery, and a short while was spent with visiting there with those who had been very close in other days. The old towns had changed, but the country around had changed more. Every available acre of land is now in cultivation and pasturage is very scarce, a sure evidence that population must find new fields in the west. The trip was both pleasant and sad.

IS IT FAIR COMPETITION?

In his recent trip to East Texas the editor of this paper was surprised at the net work of motor trucks and motor bus lines all over the country. In fact, one can leave Portales by motor bus and go all the way to Dallas or San Antonio without any layovers. These bus lines are using the state highways, and in some instances almost monopolizing them. These highways are largely paid for by the railroads and the trucks and busses are reducing the earning power of the railroads.

Every community in the west is urging railroad extension to their section. As it looks today the railroads will soon have to operate at a loss or greatly increase their rates. This is a serious situation which is facing the west and will have a large effect upon its development.

At Hereford, Texas, the Chamber of Commerce has taken action and all have pledged to use no truck for freighting. Whether this is a wise move, the News is not prepared to say.

PORTALES AND PORTALES VALLEY ADVERTISED

In the trip to Tyler to attend the meeting of the Texas Press Association, the editor of the Portales Valley News carried a large number of folders advertising Portales and the Portales Valley. This folder was printed on a good quality of book paper and bore a handsome cover. They were placed in every town between Dallas and Jacksonville, Texas, also distributed to the passengers on the trains and interurban cars traveled. Each delegate to the Texas Press Association was given one of the folders. To say the least it put them thinking about Portales and the Portales Valley.

The expense of these folders were born by the following progressive business firms of Portales: Portales Lumber Co., Carr Lumber Co., Spiers & Stratton, First National Bank, Priddy & Poochee Co., Universal Motor Co., Coe Howard, W. B. Oldham, C. & T. Service Stations and the Portales Valley News.

Both the wise man and the fool like to be praised. The difference is that the wise man knows when he is being flattered and the fool does not.—Exchange.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

(By National Editorial Asso.)

Washington, July 1.—It seems that the President means to make his visit at Swampscott a real vacation insofar as his official duties will permit. The reaction has already been felt in the quality of news dispatches emanating from the summer capital. Some correspondents have been withdrawn from the Massachusetts assignment and either returned to Washington or sent to Dayton, Tenn., for the sensational features of the forthcoming evolution trial. It is apparent from these switches that public opinion will be turned toward the question of evolution and the Bible rather than politics.

In Washington there is little of political interest to warrant newspaper space. The absence of the Chief Executive and Congress accounts for the dearth of real live political information. Seasoned observers refuse to become excited over talks of abolishing certain government agencies when Congress convenes next December. From the standpoint of government officials and employees, today is the beginning of the fiscal year of 1926. Usually new laws become effective on July 1 and old laws expire on June 30, although there are some exceptions to the rule. The most important feature of the day is the fact that appropriations are made available today and this means renewed interest in governmental programs, especially economic activities.

The various internal scraps in the governmental department provoke all sorts of proposals for legislative cure-alls. There are some senators and congressmen who are now advocating the abolishing of the Federal Trade Commission and the Tariff Commission because of quarrels within the organization as to policies.

There is a similar agitation in several bureaus of the Department of Agriculture where those who have been entrenched for years resent intrusion of new ideas by incoming executives. The talk of abolishing government bureaus is just talk and nothing more. For years certain groups have advocated the abolition of this and that federal division or bureau, contending that it was overlapping, unnecessary, etc. A survey shows that only one or two minor bureaus were abolished by legislation. There have been instances where divisions have been merged and the personnel transferred, few having been completely wiped out. Bureaucrats and others having a place in the sun do not know political parties. Each administration has its share of internal squabbles. These affairs may be compared to family quarrels where individuals abuse each other but unite against criticism of the group.

While the public announcement of the retirement of Miss Laura Harlan as social secretary to Mrs. Coolidge is merely an item of passing interest to the public at large, it has aroused the attention of official Washington. There is some speculation as to whether Miss Harlan retired by request or of her own volition. Her resignation does not take effect until the fall when Mrs. Coolidge returns to the White House.

This change at the Executive Mansion indicates that Mr. Charles Cook, of the State Department, will have charge of White House entertainments. Mr. Cook is a very debonair gentleman who is recognized as the final authority on "what's what" in Washington society. The meeting of diplomatic and high American government officials at various social functions is more than a mere social affair. It is an event of international importance in many cases. History records serious developments and international misunderstandings aroused from social blunders at various world capitals.

In order to promote better international understanding by personal contact, the State Department finds it worth while to have a special office devoted to this activity. The various American citizens reading of a diplomatic reception or dinner given by a cabinet officer do not always realize its significance in world affairs.

Mr. Cook has occupied his present position as arbitrator of social matters for a number of years and has become perhaps the most useful man in Washington Society. He is often the tutor of the new-rich and the newcomers in official life. He knows the social niceties and is regarded as a life-saver at all functions of this character. The international social code prevails in Washington and is considerably different from the social usages which are accepted in other American cities. Here the formalities must be observed to the letter. It is necessary to know the precedents, etc. Especially at social functions where high officials are present, it is essential that somebody should know the relative rank of distinguished guests in order that no visitors be slighted. It is an easy matter to blunder in society.

Mr. Cook is a walking encyclopedia and catalogue and through his good offices Washington hostesses entertain without fear of creating international discord. The Department of State regards him as the last word in formalities and he occupies a most unusual position in this country.

The recent changes in the prohibition enforcement under the direction of Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Andrews has created wide-spread interest in the states. The fact that state lines have been wiped out in the enforcement problem and twenty-two districts created, brings out the question of states' rights and the extent of state cooperation with federal authorities. The aggressive attitude taken by Andrews has completely blocked out Prohibition Commissioner Haines, who has hitherto led the government "dry forces."

"I TOLD YOU SO"

The News cannot refrain from repeating the above to the many who joshed us about the weather before the rains began. The News has contended all along that there would be rainfall sufficient to grow good crops in Roosevelt county. Now it appears that there was considerable acreage of cotton up before the rains of last week, and a very fair acreage will be gathered this fall. Many more acres were planted in the past week, in the hopes that it will mature. If the fall is favorable it will be possible to gather picked cotton, if not it should produce as good a crop as last year, as practically all the cotton came up after the rain of the 10th of July.

NERVES ALL UNSTRUNG?

Portales Folks Should Find the Cause and Correct it. Are you all worn out? Feel tired, nervous, half-sick? Do you have a constant headache; sharp twinges of pain, too, with dizzy spells and annoying urinary disorders? Then there cause for worry and more cause to give your weakened kidneys prompt help. Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Portales folks recommend Doan's for just such troubles.

Mrs. J. E. Morrison, Portales says: "I had trouble with my back and kidneys and I always felt miserable and run down. My kidneys caused annoyance and many times I had nervous, dizzy spells. My hands and feet often swelled, too. Doan's Pills from Pearce's Pharmacy soon removed the trouble."

The above statement was given January 19, 1917 and on June 6, 1922, Mrs. Morrison said: "I was cured of kidney trouble by Doans and I'm sure this remedy is reliable."

Amos Doolittle, the celebrated engraver, became a Mason in Hiram Lodge No. 1, New Haven, Conn., later serving as Master of that lodge. The date of his raising was July 20, 1792.

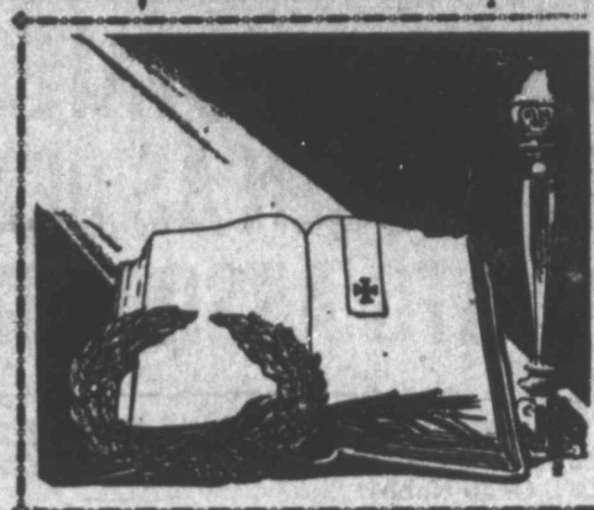

General John A. Rawlins, a distinguished Civil War officer, and later Secretary of War under President Grant, was made a Master Mason in Miners Lodge No. 273, Galena, Ill. (July 26, 1865).

Roger Sherman, a signer of the Declaration of Independence, and who received Masonic light just prior to the outbreak of the Revolutionary War, died July 23, 1793.

This month also marks the anniversary of the destruction of the Spanish fleet under command of Admiral Cervera at Santiago, July

3, 1898, by the United States naval forces under joint command of Admirals Sampson and Schley. Admiral Schley was a distinguished Mason of the 33rd Degree. On July 4, 1848, the cornerstone of the Washington Monument, that magnificent memorial whose height well gauges the character of the man whose name it bears, was laid with Masonic ceremonies.

WHAT TO DO WHEN THE RATTLE SNAKE STRIKES

It is extremely unlikely that you will ever be bitten by a snake. It is improbable that you will even see a snake during your vacation tour. Yet venomous snakes do exist, even in regions long settled, to say nothing of the out-of-the-way resorts open to the tourist; and if you should have the misfortune to be bitten the peril is so great that your medical kit should provide the simple means of treatment; and you should be prepared by knowing how to make an intelligent application of the treatment. So argues C. P. Fordyce, writing in Motor Life, and he goes on to give a clear succinct account of the treatment in question. Similar rules have been published a great many times, but the directions are worth repeating at least once each season and the essential should be memorized by every one who goes touring or camping. Says Mr. Fordyce:

"In treating snake bite, the rules are simple and few, only one portion of the method being necessarily drastic (remember it is a case of saving life, and no measure should be disregarded). The victim must keep calm. Don't hurry or run, for this heats the blood and speeds up circulation, which rapidly disseminates the poison. If you are going into a snake country have one of the little 'snakits' in your outfit and familiarize yourself with its use. The steps in treating a snake bite are:

"1. Restrict the circulation of the limb. Keep the venom where it was introduced through the fangs. Apply a constricting band (called a tourniquet) around the limb above the wound and between the wound and the heart; tie this band (consisting of a bandage, necktie, rope or rubber tube) into a loose loop, insert a stick, place a pebble or any object with some thickness under the band and over the artery and twist the loop tightly to stop the flow of blood. This is to remain so for twenty minutes.

"2. Produce bleeding of the wound. The bite is 1/4 to 1/2 inch deep. Now, although drastic, it is absolutely necessary to incise or cut into the flesh deeper than the fangs puncture, making a cross incision (X) with a razor blade, a lance or sharp knife over the fang punctures. Some authorities advise inserting a hot iron or burning brand when in extremis, and we have record of complete amputation of a finger or toe with a knife, axe or bullet to get rid of the member loaded with poison and to keep it from entering the general circulation.

"Remove the poison. It does no good to try to extract the poison by way of the fang punctures for they are needle-like and swell shut. Soak the wound in hot water, milk it out, squeeze it—any way to promote the exit of venom-laden blood. If you or another person have no open canker sores in your mouth, you can safely suck the snake-bite wound which has been opened with the lance and then spit out the fluid. It will do no harm if you accidentally swallow some of the fluid.

"4. Neutralize the poison which remains after efforts have been made to bleed it out by introducing some potassium permanganate in the crystal form which can be carried in a small corked vial. Sprinkle the crystals on the wound and rub it well. Stejneger in 'Poison Snakes of North America' advises the injection with a hypodermic syringe in and around the wound of potassium permanganate solution in the strength of one part to one hundred parts of water which has been boiled. This is about one grain to six ounces of water and the one-grain tablets are procurable for the purpose. With the average person however, who has neither the syringe nor the ability to use it, the use of the crystals directly on the wound is suggested.

"5. Loosen the tourniquet for a few seconds at the end of 20 minutes and then again tighten. The purpose of loosening it is to restore temporarily the circulation in the limb, otherwise mortification of the limb will result. If upon the second release of the tourniquet no depressing symptoms appear, take it off entirely, but if the symptoms appear later, re-apply the constriction. The system can handle much poison if introduced slowly into the circulation.

"6. Stimulate the patient. A large amount of stimulant is needed by a person bitten by a venomous snake to offset the effect of the poison. The best stimulant is aromatic spirits of ammonia. It is rapid in effect, perfectly safe, and used by the Red Cross and most of the armies of the world. Give a half teaspoonful in a half glass of water every half hour.

7—Importance of the Putt.

So far as the score is concerned, putting is the most important stroke in golf. It comes very near being as important as all the rest put together. Par on different courses averages about 72. In computing the par strokes at 72, putting is allowed just half, 36. For the average player, and many are coming to believe for all players, the overspin putt is the one to use. Properly made, this putt makes the ball roll straight over toward the hole, hugging the turf all the way. The convincing argument in favor of it is that it is the simplest possible way of getting the ball into the hole. Walter Hagen, Bobby Jones, Cyril Walker, Chick Evans, Bobby Cruikshank, Jesse Guilford, Al Espinosa, Bob Gardner, George Duncan, Harrison "Jim" Johnston, Billy Mehlhorn and nearly every golf star uses the overspin putt.

There will be other articles descriptive of the best ways of making the overspin putt, but emphasis must be put on the fact that all methods must provide for the club face going back at exactly right angles to the line of putt and going through the ball and finishing at right angles. If the club does not finish at right angles, it is a sign that the club was turning when the ball was hit, giving the ball side-spin that is certain to make it roll off the line just before it stops. On a level surface, the ball with overspin only will keep on rolling straight ahead until it stops. Allowing for undulations of the green, the overspin ball stays on the line all the time. If there is a roll-off on a properly hit ball with overspin only, the ball itself is off center and should be abandoned for accurate play.

Get out your putter at home or anywhere and see how nearly you can come to swinging it straight back and straight forward over a straight line in the rug or floor. Take your stance so your eyes will be exactly over the ball and use the wrists only. The forearms must move a trifle to let the club remain low on the back swing. Otherwise do not move a muscle. You may be able to work out methods that will be as good as those that will be suggested.

(© 1925, Western Newspaper Union.)

Begin using it when the patient becomes dizzy or pale, and continue until the pulse is normal. Strong black coffee is also effective, a half cupful every hour. If a hypodermic syringe is in your kit use it instead of the ammonia, a thirtieth of a grain of strychnine sulfate every half hour. Whiskey is ineffective on venom action and as a stimulant is surpassed by the ammonia. Loading the patient with whiskey is a time-honored recommendation but incorrect; the patient is lucky to get well in spite of its use. More-over good whiskey is scarce. It might have been used at times as a preventative of snake bites. It is a good plan to give the patient much milk to drink for it neutralizes the poison in the stomach and causes vomiting.

"An antidote against snake venom has been produced by Calmette of Paris. It is called 'antivenine' but is rarely obtainable when most needed. The Moqui Indians of the Southwest evidently have a real antidote against the venom, for during the dances many members of the tribe are bitten but recover. No one has been able to find out what it is.

"7. Dress the wound antiseptically, with gauze or cotton soaked in a strong solution of permanganate of potassium and repeat frequently until healed."

AN OBITUARY

Mrs. Jennie Marcie Maxwell was born August 24, 1881, in Fayette County, Texas, and died May 21, 1925. Her maiden name was Jennie Marcie Ligon; was married to Solomon Maxwell on December 27, 1906. Mrs. Maxwell was the mother of four children, two of whom are living, leaving behind the two children and her husband to mourn her departure. Mrs. Maxwell with her husband moved from Llano County, Texas, to Portales May 21, 1913, exactly 12 years to the day she died.

Mrs. Maxwell became a Christian early in life and was a member of the Church of Christ for 27 years at the time of her death. Of all the good things that might be said of anyone who quits the walks of this life, nothing more consoling could be said to the loved ones left behind than to say, "Do not grieve as for one who had no hope in Christ." This I would say to the husband and children. While it is heart-breaking to stand helplessly by and see old grim monster death come into our homes and take away our loved ones, yet right in the very midst of our heartaches and tears we can rejoice when we know our dear one has died in the Faith and was a Christian.

Dr. D. S. Ligon, minister of the Church of Christ at Clovis was requested by Mrs. Maxwell herself to preach the funeral, which he did, speaking along the line very appropriate for the occasion, pointing all to the Lamb of God who taketh away the sin of the world and doeth all things well. "We could not, and would not if we could bring our loved ones back into this old world of sorrow sickness and death," said Dr. Ligon, "but we can live the Christian life and go to our dear ones over the river of death, and there ever be with them in the rest that remains for the people of God."

THE TEN COMMANDMENTS OF THE MAIL ORDER HOUSE

1. You shall sell your farm produce for cash, where you can, for we buy nothing from you.

2. You shall believe in us, and best because we do not know you personally.

3. You shall send your money to us in advance, so we can buy the goods from the factory with your money; you may have to wait a few weeks, but that is our business method.

4. You shall get help from your nearest city or village to build good roads, so you may easily haul our goods from the depot, but do not ask help from us—we don't help to build good roads.

5. You may buy church bells and altar utensils from us, and send the money in advance—that's our rule.

6. You shall get all the help you can from the business men in your neighborhood; although we may have more profit from you than they have, it is against our rules to give to your churches.

7. You shall convert your neighbors also to your faith in us, for we have room for more money.

8. You shall look at the pretty pictures in our catalog as often as you can, so as to strengthen your desire for things you do not need, but which you may order with other goods to save freight. Send us all your ready cash so that you may not have any left to buy necessities from your home dealers.

9. You shall believe us rather than your home business men, for we want your trade. We get to be millionaires on your support. Don't be bluffed.

10. You shall call on the business people of your own vicinity for help and credit if you meet with hard luck or sickness. It's your money we want; we don't know you unless your orders are accompanied by cash.

ROEBUCK REPORTS

This neighborhood got the best rain last Tuesday since July 9, last year. So the farmers are all busy killing weeds.

Misses Ruby and Velma Gates took dinner with Miss Lizzie Mae Swoope last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bass of Burley, Idaho are visiting Mrs. Bass' parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Robinson.

There was a good attendance at Sunday school Sunday and there was to have been preaching but the preacher failed to show up.

The Ladies Club will meet next Thursday for the purpose of cleaning off the Roebuck cemetery everybody invited to come and bring a hoe or chopping ax.

OPPORTUNITY FOR DEVELOPMENT

There are many opportunities for real development in Roosevelt county, in which the element of risk is very small. One such opportunity is for some one or some company of men to take on the development of a commercial vineyard of a large acreage. A company strong enough financially to put out and cultivate say from 100 to 500 acres of grapes, would become a paying proposition in about four or five years.

The grape grows and produces well here. Under irrigation in the Portales Valley, in five years such a vineyard would be equal to an oil gusher to the owners.

Or in the Blackwater Draw, it could be handled by sub-irrigation. This is a proposition too big to be handled by a man of limited means, as the pioneering difficulties would discourage him. But by a developing company sufficiently capitalized to carry it through to a finish, it would be a paying investment. In the grape culture the Italian has, so far, proven the best, as these people seem to be especially adapted to the culture of the grape.

FOREST THE SAND HILLS

The sand hills of Roosevelt County planted to locust trees, would soon bring in a good revenue, as it could supply a vast territory with posts. The locust tree is of a rapid growth, and if set out in a rainy season, they can be started with very little water, and will become large enough for post in three to four years. After cutting the tree for posts, the stump will grow posts rapidly. There are hundreds of acres in the sandhills between Portales and Clovis, where the water is shallow and where these trees could be grown by sub-irrigation. A forest of this sort would be of untold value and would be very profitable. A row of locust and a row of pecan trees would be a good venture, for either the individual or for a company.

PLUMS DO WELL IN PORTALES

On display in the window of Doughton & Tipton is a limb from a plum tree grown on the property of S. B. Boone in Portales, which gives a small idea of what can be done in this line in the Portales Valley. The limb was literally covered with plums, leaving very little room for leaves. The only trouble in growing plums here is the late frosts, which can be overcome by smudging. A few acres of plums would be a profitable crop.

ROOSEVELT COUNTY CLUB WORK

Splendid progress has been made in the Girls Club Work thruout the county during the month of June. Several clubs have made plans to have their achievement day next month.

The Sewing Club Girls at Rogers have fixed up one of the rooms of the old school building for a club room. All of their meetings are held there. Mrs. John Clem is the local leader.

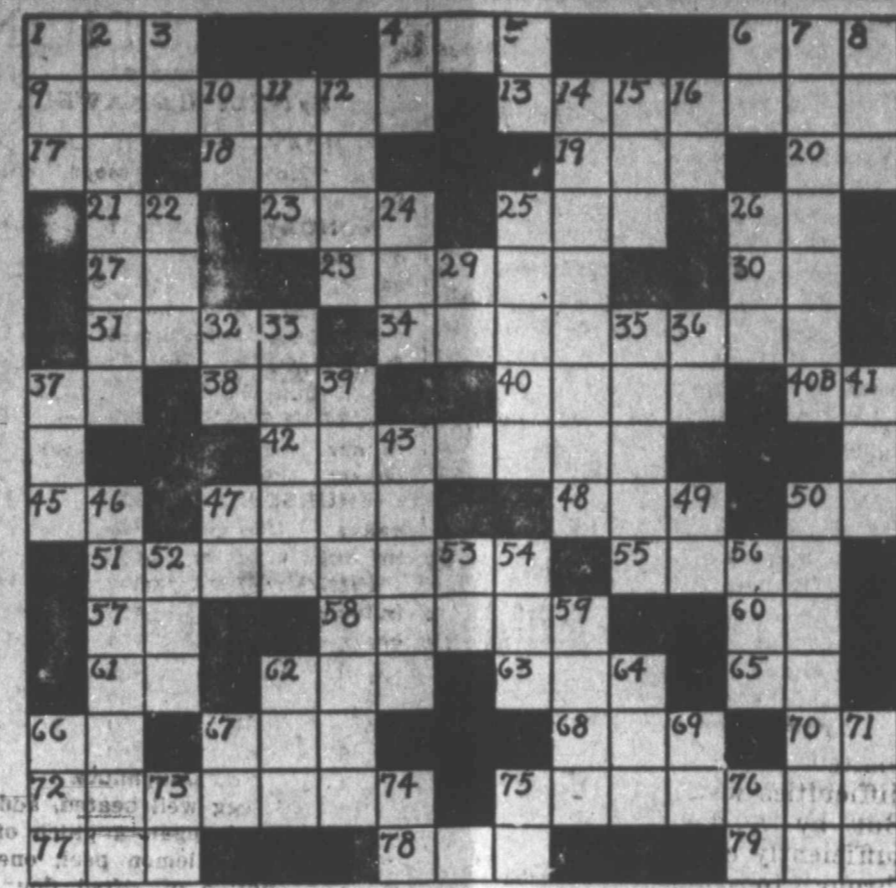

The Canning Club at Floyd under the leadership of Mrs. J. T. Jones had a picnic on June 8 at the J. A. Parish home near Floyd. The second canning club under the leadership of Mrs. G. L. Hatcher have canned cherries and made cherry jelly.

The Elida Sewing Club had a picnic at the home of their local leader, Mrs. W. E. Wall, on June 5.

The Portales Girls Club is divided into two groups under the leadership of Nora Belle Grizzle and Cornelia Hunter. Each side is attempting to complete their work before the other side does. On Monday June 29 these girls met with the Girls Sewing Club at the Baptist Orphanage and darned stockings for the Home.

Roosevelt County has the largest club enrollment in the state and it is hoped that every girl who has enrolled will put forth an effort to have Roosevelt County also have the largest number of club members completing their work.

NEW BUICK HOME TO BE COMPLETED IN A FEW DAYS

The new building on South Main street, erected for the sales and service departments of The Clovis Motor Company, Buick dealers, is nearing completion, and is to be one of the most modern buildings, specifically erected for motor cars in the state.

The entire front of the building with the exception of a driveway on the south side, is arranged in a big show windows which give a splendid street view of the show room of the sales department. The parts room and other departments are arranged behind the show floor, with mechanical and storage departments in the rear and behind partitions which shut them off from view.—Clovis Journal.
