B-29s Batter Tokyo Again

More Than 150 Air Giants Lash Nip Capital In Daylight For 11th Blow

By VERN HAUGLAND
Associated Press Staff Writer

TWENTYFIRST BOMBER COMMAND HEADQUARTERS, Guam, Sunday, March 4—Superfortresses from Marianas bases bombed Tokyo this morning in their first early morning raid on the Japanese capital and their second consecutive Sunday strike there.

In ten previous raids, with the exception of a night strike last November 29, the Superfortresses from the Marianas bases have struck Tokyo in midafternoon. Sunday's bombing was through an overcast which prevented observation of results. Targets were the city's industrial area.

Last Devastating Blow

In the previous Sunday raid, made while a snowstorm raged over Tokyo, 240 blocks of the congested business and industrial section were hard hit.

Today's raid, third consecutive attack of the B-29s flying from both Tinian and Saipan, was made by a very large force—presumably nearly 200 planes—which took off in the early morning darkness and returned and landed in daylight.

Several Fires Started

Enemy broadcasts, recorded by the Federal Communications commission, said the raid lasted an hour and started several fires which "are being brought under control."

The Tokyo radio, placing the force at "approximately 150 Marianas-based B-29s," said the bombardiers dropped their loads from "above the clouds" in attacks which took in Tokyo, Yokohama, Nagoya and Shizuoka.

The announcement did not indicate the exact size of the attacking group which it described as very large.

Operational reports were awaited before release of additional information.

The tenth B-29 raid on Tokyo was staged by more than 200 Superforts.

Air Battering Of Reich Continues

By WILLIAM FRYE
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, March 3—RAF Mosquitos smashed Berlin tonight in the 12th successive night attack on the battered Nazi capital. This raid followed up massive day attacks on Germany in which U. S. Eight Air force heavy bombers in a 200-mile column struck at scattered oil refineries and bombed industrial and rail targets.

Joining the Eighth's heavies in the assault were hundreds of the U. S. Ninth Air force's swift fighters and medium bombers which raked the Nazis along the Rhine.

19th Consecutive Day

More than 2,600 American bombers and fighters kept the war's most sustained aerial offensive going full blast through its nineteenth day. The Eighth dispatched 1,100 Flying Fortresses and Liberators with an escort of more than 700 Mustangs and Thunderbolts, while the continent based Ninth flew more than 850 sorties before noon.

The great striking force of heavies split over the Reich and attacked a dozen or more different targets, half of them refineries and synthetic oil plants still supplying a trickle of fuel to the enemy forces.

The RAF fighter command joined the day's operations with intensive attacks on V-bomb sites in the Netherlands and German radio warnings early tonight indicated the RAF bomber command had sent Mosquito bombers out after dark.

Support For Red Army

In support of the Red Army on the Silesian front, the Eighth's heavies hit the battered railyards at Chemnitz for the second successive day, as well as factories turning out tanks, trucks and oil refinery equipment.

Air force officials estimated that German oil plants before attacks yesterday and today were producing less than 25 per cent of the oil and 15 per cent of the gasoline they had delivered before the Allied strategic offensive began last spring.

Coffee Stablization Plan Given Approval

MEXICO CITY, March 3 (AP)—Delegations from coffee producing countries were jubilant today because of committee approval of an inter-American conference resolution to establish control of prices of basic American products.

The resolution, which must be submitted to plenary session for final approval, is one of four reported on favorably by a subcommittee of dealing with the economic problems of war and the transition period.

Delegates from Brazil, Colombia, Venezuela and Costa Rica, who favored the resolution, expressed confidence that it would stand up at the plenary session. It combines suggestions forwarded by those four countries and Uruguay, and was approved by the United States member of the committee, representating a coffee consuming country.

Rationing Violations Charged to 18 Texans

BEAUMONT, March 3. (AP) — Twelve adult residents of Orange Texas, and six youths under 18, also of that city, are charged with "accepting the sale, transfer, assignment and delivery" of gasoline ration coupons in informations and complaints filed in federal district clerk's office here today by U. S. District Attorney Steve M. King.

The law violations allegedly occurred between January 6 and February 9.

All but one of the 18 defendants was charged with "accepting the sale" of gasoline mileage coupons from Eugene Scott, 16, a former janitor at a bank. Scott, now at liberty under bond, was charged in a previous complaint filed before a United States commissioner with stealing government property.

Penicillin Soon To Be Released To Civilians

NEW YORK, March 3 (AP)—E. J. Squibb & Sons reported today that War Production board release of penicillin for general civilian use was "imminent."

The drug firm announced that 5,300 pounds of penicillin would be flown from here tomorrow to its Chicago and Los Angeles distribution points "so that when imminent WPB permission for general civilian use is granted, on-the-spot supply will be available in all sections of the nation."

Tomorrow's shipment will fill an air freighter with enough penicillin to save 5,000 lives, the company said. The drug was manufactured at the company's New Brunswick, N. J., laboratories.

Needed: $74,500 To "Keep Red Cross At His Side!"

Stage Set, Teams Named -- War Fund Drive To Swing Into High Here Tuesday Morning

By JAMIE HYATT
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

WITH $15,000 already in the bank and approximately another $15,000 in the process of being audited, the Red Cross' "workers army" will swing into action here Tuesday with somewhere near 40 per cent of the county's $74,500 quota already "in the kitty."

J. D. Hassell, jr., co-chairman of the Red Cross' 1945 financial campaign, said yesterday that campaigning in the Big Gifts division, which started last Tuesday, had resulted in the 000 through Friday; that other larger gifts, plus partial contributions from Idalou and Cooper, would total about the same amount. These later donations, while in hand Saturday, will not be completely checked and tabulated until tomorrow.

Give To The Red Cross

With preliminary meetings over, the stage is set for the Red Cross War Fund campaign to get underway here at 8:30 Tuesday morning when downtown solicitors will be served coffee and doughnuts at the Lubbock hotel to start the over-all, door-to-door drive.

Co-chairmen of the general committee for the War Fund are George P. Kuykendall, W. C. O'Mara and J. D. Hassell, jr. Mrs. Hub Jones is chairman of the women's division, which will canvass the residential district.

Tuesday has been designated as Red Cross day in Lubbock High school and students will be given an opportunity to make donations to the War Fund which this year more than any other war year, is to continue world-wide operation with battle front troops, in hospitals and on the home front.

Each evening from Monday through Friday there will be a rally at some community in the county in the interest of the Red Cross War Fund. The meetings will all begin at 8:30 p. m., with the first one scheduled Monday night at Roosevelt school gymnasium. Tuesday night, Idalou clubhouse will be the scene of a meeting. Wednesday night there will be rallies at Cooper and New Deal schools; Thursday Frenship school will have a meeting and Friday night the last rally will be held at the Shallowater clubhouse. All members of each community are invited to the meetings.

AMARILLO GOES OVER

AMARILLO, March 3 (AP)—Amarillo raised its entire Red Cross quota of $134,100 in one day without personal solicitation, it was announced tonight.

Red Cross officials in St. Louis said this is the first time any city as large as Amarillo had attempted to raise such a large quota in one day, and the first time any city, regardless of size, had raised its quota without personal solicitation in business and residential districts.

Instead of taking a Texas Independence day holiday, the city's three banks remained open for Red Cross business only. Contributors flocked to banks by hundreds, and many others mailed in contributions as soon as they learned of the campaign.

Aubrey Williams Defiantly Yells 'Hell, No' To Withdrawal Appeal

(Copyright, 1945, By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 3—Aubrey Williams flung a defiant "Hell no," today to those who have been suggesting that he ask President Roosevelt to withdraw his nomination to be Rural Electrification administrator.

His emphatic refusal to pull out came in the face of a Senate poll indicating rejection of the appointment.

To Carry It Through

"I intend to carry this fight through, win or lose," Williams said in an interview. "Besides there is quite a list of senators who haven't been heard from."

The 54-year-old Williams, whose nomination was given a 12-8 adverse vote in the Senate Agriculture committee, said Vice President Truman had told him:

"I admire your stand very much and I agree with you. When you get into a fight, stay in it. I think you are far from beaten."

An Associated Press canvass of senators showed that, among those willing to state their position, there are 42 opposition votes to 31 favoring the former head of the National Youth administration.

In the Senate head-counting, 22 senators, including 11 Democrats and as many Republicans, either declined to say how they would vote or could not be reached. Williams lost a potential supporting vote when Senator Moses (D-ND) died today.

Included in the 28 Democrats signifying their support of Williams were Hatch and Chevez of New Mexico.

Both Connally and O'Daniel of Texas were listed as against the appointment.

Sailor, Home For Mother's Funeral Finds Her Well

LOCKPORT, N. Y., March 3 (AP) Seaman First Class John D. McDonough, 19, of Lockport, was notified aboard ship in the Pacific his mother had died, and that he was to be given a leave home.

But, when he alighted from the train at Buffalo central terminal, he was met by his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Linus J. McDonough.

"Why, mother, I thought you were dead," the sailor, pale and trembling, said.

His father explained he had received a wire from his son Tuesday, saying he was enroute home. The mystified parents had no chance to communicate with him, so they met the train in Buffalo.

Seaman McDonough, believing the message he received was intended for another John McDonough, has notified Seattle naval authorities.

Once-Proud Germans Fleeing In Disorder

Broken Remnants Of Three Armies Dash For Rhine And Escape Routes With Yanks Closing In To Save Bridges

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
Associated Press Staff Writer

PARIS, Sunday, March 4—The broken remnants of three German armies were fleeing across the Rhine last night strongly pursued by the newly-linked American Ninth and Canadian First armies.

It was announced at Allied headquarters that the enemy First Parachute Army and 15th Army had been destroyed as organized fighting forces.

Chaos was declared to exist along the approaches to the Wesel bridges where the battered survivors of these once-powerful armies were converging on the river and dragging with them the still-more bedraggled odds and ends of the wrecked Fifth Panzer army

Reds Tighten On Entrapped Nazis

By RICHARD KASISCHKE
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, March 3.—Red Army forces smashed through the Pomeranian strongholds of Pollnow and Rummelsburg today and by German account broke through to the Baltic sea near Koeslin, chopping the province in two and tightening a trap on thousands of enemy troops in the Stolp-Gdynia-Danzig area to the northeast.

Simultaneously, Berlin said, four other Soviet armies opened a full-scale offensive toward the Pomeranian capital of Stettin in the west, driving one spearhead within 22 miles of Berlin's main port city, and outflanking that bastion by cutting the Danzig trunk railway at a new point, near Labes, 45 miles northeast of Stettin and 42 miles southwest of Koeslin.

Security Blackout

Moscow officially clamped a security blackout on the Pomeranian front, announcing only the capture of Pollnow and Rummelsburg and 80 other localities, most of them unidentified. One of those named was Dargen, 14 miles southeast of Koeslin, which Moscow dispatches said was being bombarded.

German communications apparently was so confused that the Soviet high command was taking no chances of disclosing information valuable to the enemy.

It was estimated that elements of 20 Nazi divisions were sealed off in the great encirclement operation in middle Pomerania, in addition to the remnants of 20 German divisions already pocketed in East Prussia and 30 more in western Latvia.

Berlin's Account

Berlin said the Russians broke through to the sea northeast of Koeslin and were overrunning the highway and railway leading 23 miles northeast to Schlawe, which is 78 miles west of Danzig. At the same time other Soviet units were engaged in a great wheeling movement around Stettin, the Germans said, gaining up to 26 miles from their previous positions.

Although the Soviet high command had not officially confirmed the breakthrough to the Baltic, Moscow dispatches said Lt. Gen. N. S. Oslikovsky's Cavalry had rolled within sight of the Baltic at three points as long ago as Thursday.

Tank columns under Col. Gen. Vasily T. Volsky and Lt. Gen. T. T. Cherniavsky followed through and ahead of these mobile units. Stormovik planes under Col. Gen. K. A. Vershinin pounded the reeling enemy, a large number of which were inferior Volkssturm units.

Trunk Line Traffic Halted

Traffic on the punctured Stettin-Danzig trunk railway and highway was halted also on Thursday, Moscow dispatches said, and there was no reason to doubt Nazi reports that the Russians now are in the outskirts of Koeslin, communications bottleneck town mid-way between Stettin and Danzig.

The Soviet military authority, Col. Nikolai Akimov, said Rokossovsky's powerful spearheads now were fanning out to the west and east to widen this corridor to the sea and called the situation "extremely acute" for the Germans.

Moscow dispatches said Koeslin was being bombarded by Russian artillery as the Red Army sought to smash that stronghold barring the westward coastal route to Kolberg, site of a large American prisoner of war camp 24 miles away.

Other Major Breaches

Enemy broadcasts told of other major Soviet breaches at three other points along the 275-mile northern front between the lower Oder river and the Vistula in the east. Forty-seven miles southwest of Koeslin the Germans said Red Army troops had cut the Stettin-Schlawe superhighway northwest of Dramburg, 50 miles east of Stettin.

Farther west the right wing of Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov's Berlin-bound First White Russian Army was fighting "inside Pyritz," only 22 miles southeast of Stettin, the German capital's main Baltic port at the mouth of the Oder river. Other units were fighting on the eastern approaches to Stargard, outer bastion of Stettin 19 miles east of the port.

NAZI BOMBS LONDON

LONDON, Sunday, March 4 (AP) A single German plane flew over the London area early today. An air raid alert sounded and an explosion was heard. Later the all-clear was given. It was the first attack by an enemy plane on London in nearly a year.

The Germans were blowing up all except their mined [illegible] bridges and were yielding nearly all territory west of the great river barrier.

For the Allies it was a dramatic race to try to seize intact at least one of the five remaining bridges—three at Duisburg and two at Wesel.

The enemy, penned in a 23-mile stretch along the left bank, was believed ready to blow these bridges as quickly as he dared in an effort to gain time to reorganize his shattered defenses on the other side.

Sweep For Cologne

Simultaneously, two armored task forces broke from the U. S. First Army's 20-mile wide Erft river bridgehead in a six-mile surge on the north that swept within four miles of Germany's fourth greatest city of Cologne, where the enemy was dug in for a last-ditch stand.

To the south, two First Army columns fought to within less than 12 miles of the Rhine's road and railway city of Bonn, 13 miles southeast of Cologne, bent on cutting off all retreat.

SEVENTH ATTACKS

WITH THE U. S. SEVENTH ARMY, Western Front, March 3 (AP)—Seventh Army troops returned to the attack today after a week's lull, taking high ground along the Saar river southeast of Saarbrucken and clearing several more blocks in Forbach.

Gen. Eisenhower's spokesman warned the German people by radio that "there is no security east of the Rhine," where the next phase in the final struggle to crush Germany will be fought.

Shells Rip Ruhr Plants

With the Ninth Army in control of 13 miles of the Rhine's west bank northwestward from Duesseldorf, American shells were ripping into the factories of the Ruhr on the east bank and the question was whether the great offensive had enough momentum to cross the river.

A front dispatch said there was no confirmation of repeated broadcasts that patrols already had crossed the Rhine.

Certainly the Germans intended to make no stand west of the river and rearguards fought savagely only to hold back the Allied tide of troops and tanks while the bulk of the forces fled by bicycles, carts and every other kind of transport across the bridges and by boat.

On the southern end of the active Western front, the U. S. Third Army advanced as much as three miles, moving its 45-mile assault line relentlessly eastward toward Eifel country.

Three Bridges Blown

In the Rhine battle the Germans foiled one river crossing attempt by blowing all three bridges at Duesseldorf, but 10 miles to the northwest the Second Armored division battled for possession of another inside Uerdingen.

Northward along the disintegrating front, the Germans had only five bridges intact, and these now were in artillery range.

The junction of tanks and troops of the Canadian First and Lt. Gen. William H. Simpson's Ninth Army came after a six-mile push northward by the Americans from Geldern.

West of them, the once-powerful Maas river lines was deserted by the Germans and the mop-up was expected to yield few prisoners.

The drive eastward to crush in the sides of the box was impeded by blown bridges and demolitions, and the Germans pulled out so quickly that the pursuers often lost contact.

YANKS NEAR COLOGNE

LONDON, Sunday, March 4 (AP) — The Paris radio said early today the Americans were now only 2.8 miles from Cologne. It said it was quoting a last-minute dispatch from the front.

Number West of Rhine

There was no accurate estimate of the number of Germans west of the Rhine on this front. One front dispatch, asserting that the Germans had executed a successful withdrawal, said the enemy might have remnants of six divisions there, or less than 20,000 men.

Now that the Germans had been virtually written off on the northern end of the front, Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' First Army was driving for another kill in the Cologne sector.

The frontal attack on the city was rising in tempo, with the Americans capturing a number of villages including Grefraith, four and a half miles west of Cologne.

Reconnaissance pilots said there was a general movement of German troops toward Cologne, indicating they were withdrawing from the perimeter into the shell-torn city proper.

Defenses Coming Apart

The enemy defenses before Bonn seemed to be coming apart, for tanks and infantry speared more than five miles southeast and captured Kreisheim and Lommersum, both less than 12 miles from the city.

Gen. H. D. G. Crerar's Canadian First Army, trying to put the crusher on the German armies from the north, ran into a furious counterattack that drove it back a mile in the area of the

"Dieting" Nazi POWs Now Ready For Work

CAMP PEARRY, O., March 3. (AP) — The 2,200 German prisoners of war on a bread and water diet since Thursday noon notified Lt. Col. E. C. McCormick, jr., today that they were ready to go back to work.

The prisoners reached their decision after Col. McCormick threatened further disciplinary action unless the men "changed their minds."

The former Wehrmacht members will receive regular meals beginning Sunday Col. McCormick said.

The Germans refused to work last Wednesday and Thursday when they protested that Army discipline was "too rigid." They were placed on the bread and water diet until they agreed to return to their assigned work, the post commander said.

Fighting Flares Up In Italian Campaign

ROME, March 3. (AP) — Sharp fighting has flared up along the Senio river on the Eighth Army front at the eastern end of the Italian battle line, where opposing forces are almost within conversational distance of each other on opposite sides of a high dike, the Allied command announced today.

But on the remainder of the Italian front only routine patrol activity distrubed the calm.

The close fighting along the Senio was costly to both sides. In the daytime anyone lifting his head above the dike on either side becomes a target. Often German voices can be heard from the other side.

Inter-American Conference Forms Western Hemisphere Security Bloc

MEXICO CITY, March 3. (AP)—The Inter-American conference here today guaranteed the territorial integrity and the independence of each American republic backed by the armed power of the hemisphere.

The Act of Chapultepec, modified by the United States from the original document combining proposals from Colombia, Uruguay and Brazil, was approved by the commission on inter-American affairs.

Passage by the conference in plenary session is now a formality, as the 20 nations participating are all represented on the commission.

The pledge will take effect immediately when the act is signed, probably at the last meeting of the conference on Wednesday.

Assurance Against Invasion

Senator Tom Connally, (D-Texas), chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee, described the act as an assurance that no "ambitious power in this hemisphere" or abroad could invade any American nation.

Speaking before the committee after passage, Connally pointed out that it widens the Monroe doctrine and that the duty of keeping the peace of this hemisphere no longer belongs to two or three countries.

"We are united," he said, "that no aggressor from other shores is going to invade the wetsern hemisphere."

The act, he continued, goes beyond that and assures all that "no ambitious power in this hemisphere can ever contemplate the subjgation and the conquest of any country in this hemisphere."

Connally, however, pointed out that this act does not ignore the organization of an over-all international organization to maintain peace which will be set up at the San Francisco conference.

He described it as a "forerunner to what we hope for at San Francisco."

Delegates considered it historic in two ways. The Act of Chapultepec is the most far-reaching pact ever reached in this hemisphere to enforce peace and it sets a precedent for the United Nations conference in San Francisco of combining security agreements with boundary assurances.

Joint Action Provided

The act obliges each American state to contribute to a joint action against any aggression in his hemisphere or invasion from beyond the seas.

The main change from the original declaration was to base the obligation on the United Nations' war effort at present and to provide for a permanent treaty later.

This was done primarily to fit constitutional needs of the United States, since a permanent commitment would require Senate ratification. The President, under the special war powers act, has the authority to direct U. S. armed might during the emergency.

Settle Own Disputes

The declaration also states the right of American nations to settle their own disputes without interference from overseas, within the Dumbarton Oaks blueprint.

The Dumbarton Oaks plan provides that sanctions can only be taken upon approval of the world security council.

It is understood that the United States is contemplating a request to Britain and Russia that this clause be modified to allow the western hemisphere to proceed on its own, except when an American quarrel threatens world peace.

The Chapultepec document is to take effect as soon as it is signed. It thus would become the first definite multilateral pledge to keep the peace since this war began.

Might Ease Tension

Many delegates expressed belief that it might ease tension in connection with the Argentine problem.

One clause introduced late, made a special point of guaranteeing boundaries established by treaty.

It provided that "in any case, invasion by armed forces of one state into the territory of another trespassing boundaries established by treaty and marked in accordance therewith shall constitute an act of aggression."

Thus defining the final act of aggression, the declaration binds each American nation to consider

Goal Is 14 Billions In Seventh War Loan

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—Secretary Morgenthau announced today a $14,000,000,000 goal for the Seventh War Loan, divided evenly between individuals and corporations.

The $7,000,000,000 quota for individuals is the highest ever assigned them. The series E quota of $4,000,000,000 is also more than Mr. and Mrs. America have been asked to dig up for that class of securities heretofore.

The total quota is the same as that of the Sixth War Loan.

In order to sell the unprecedented amounts of bonds to non-corporate investors the treasury set the longest sales period yet.

The formal drive with its customary great promotional campaign will extend from May 14 to June 30—seven weeks as compared with four weeks in the Sixth War Loan from November 20 to December 1.

In addition to this seven week drive, an "intensification of activities" in the sale of series E bonds will begin April 9, when millions of persons in payroll savings plans throughout the country will be asked to enlarge their participation as a part of the Seventh War Loan.

GI's To Face Combat Instead Of Sentences

PARIS, March 3 (AP)—A special combat unit composed of 115 railway battalion men convicted in the train looting - black market trials is being organized to give these men a chance to redeem themselves as soldiers of the United States.

An official announcement of clemency for the majority of the convicted offenders said they would serve under suspended sentences in a special combat company scheduled to begin training March 7.

Twenty-seven other railway battalion soldiers who were convicted have been denied clemency and 14 others "have elected to serve their sentences" rather than join the fighting unit.

The clemency order was issued by Gen. Eisenhower. At the same time Brig. Gen. Pleas B. Rogers, commander of the Seine section, in a letter addressed to each man given clemency stressed that it's up to him to demonstrate that the action was justified.

Tech Students To See Pictures Of Combat

Actual combat pictures filmed by the Army Signal corps in the European and Pacific theaters will be shown to Texas Tech students and faculty members at 8 p. m. Thursday in the auditorium of the Agriculture building, Dr. H. L. Kent, administrative assistant announced.

Sponsored by the Tech War Veterans association, the films are being shown under the auspices of the Eighth Service command of Dallas. Lt. Henry G. Ball, veteran of the South Pacific and now on tour for the Eighth Service command, will describe his experiences and observations while overseas.

Give To The Red Cross!

a threat to any one a threat to itself.

A long series of sanctions are provided, from the withdrawal of ambassadors through severance of diplomatic, economic and communcations ties down to military action.

Following committee action on the act, the measure still must go before a plenary session of the conference some time next week, but no opposition then seemed likely.

Trier, Oldest City In Germany, "Dead" When Captured

TRIER, March 3 (AP)—Trier, Germany's oldest community, was a dead city, abandoned by most of its 88,000 peacetime inhabitants, when it fell to the U. S. Third army.

Trier is badly scarred from aerial bombardment, but the famous Porta Nigra structure, built by the Romans in the third century, hardly was touched, and the cathedral, dating back to the fourth century, was damaged only to a reparable extent at one end.

American troops entered the narrow, crooked streets in the ancient quarter of the city early Friday. The first were members of a task force led by Lt. Col. Jack Richardson of Athens, Tex., and they seized intact the south bridge over the Moselle. This enabled tanks to roll across and establish a bridgehead on the western bank.

Bridge Taken Intact

"We acted with such speed the Germans did not have a chance to blow up the south bridge, although it was prepared for demolition," Richardson said. "The engineers said there was enough dynamite planted in the bridge to blow up the whole city."

Richardson's tanks drove to the eastern approaches of the bridge, firing at the Germans on the western side, while other tanks, followed by infantry, sped across the span.

Besides the turreted Porta Nigra, Trier has a large amphitheater, the picturesque ruins of a Roman palace and remains of ancient Roman baths.

Trier was founded in 14 B. C., by the emperor Augustus. Under the Romans it was known as Augusta Trevcirorum. Under the French empire it was called Treves.

In modern times the city became an industrial center, noted for tanning, dyeing and iron foundries.

So many prisoners were taken they could not be counted immediately. They numbered in the hundreds. Column after column of bedraggled captives marched through the streets in the afternoon.

Investigation Of Prison Farm Planned

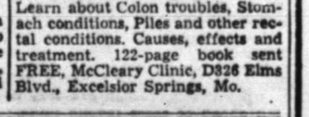

HOUSTON, March 3 (AP)—Maj. D. W. Stakes, general manager of the Texas prison system, intends to pursue an investigation of conditions at Retrieve state prison farm until he learns why T. N. (Pete) Norris was in a position to escape from the farm last Tuesday, local authorties indicated today.

Norris, notorious Fort Worth killer-convict, and three other Retrieve inmates gained freedom by overpowering two unarmed guards and fleeing in a meat truck. Norris and John F. Box, jr., Dallas-sentenced convict, are still at large.

Houston inspector of detectives C. V. Kern said after a conference with Ma). Stakes that the prison head is attempting to learn why Norris was allowed to work near a potential means of escape, such as the truck.

The CHIROPRACTOR-and You

BACKACHE AND CONSTIPATION

Case History No. 379. Lady, age 59, who had trouble in the small of her back, severe constipation, had to diet, hemrrhoids, nervousness, dizzyness from stooping, cramps in legs, loss of appetite, and was losing weight rapidly. As a last resort she came to a chiropractor. In a few months time after the first adjustment all symptoms had improved and she felt like a different person. She was so pleased and relieved with the adjustment, and so determined to keep the bones from pressing on any nerves, that she comes regularly for her check-ups.

NERVOUSNESS AND INDIGESTION

Case History No. 1144. Lady age, 28, who had nervous spasms, indigestion drawing and pulling muscles. After her first adjustment she became so much better that she has been coming regularly for fear that the bones would again get displaced and she might have the same sickness.

WHAT DOES A CHRIOPRACTOR DO?

Locating the cause of the trouble is the first step your chiropractor will take, but after the cause is located he must study to see what adjustment is necessary. The adjustment must fit your particular case. In other words, every patient must have a "tailor made" adjustment. When examining for the cause o fthe trouble, nerve or nerves which have pressure on them must be located. Then we have to see what vertebra is causing the pressure. If the correct adjustment is given and the pressure is removed, health is the natural result.

Special Legislative Session May Be Called To Effect Redistricting

By GORDON K. SHEARER AND TED READ
United Press Staff Writers

AUTSIN, March 3.—Though the 49th Texas legislature hasn't reached the half-way mark of its 120-day regular session, already there are rumors that a special session is in the offing.

Reports circulating in the capitol are the session will be called if the legislature fails to pass a bill rearranging the state representative and senatorial districts. The extra session, it is said, will follow immediately end of the present session.

Gov. Coke R. Stevenson in a message to the legislature requested that the long-delayed redistricting be effected.

Constitution Provides Method

Texas' Constitution provides that following the federal census every 10 years, the state's legislatve districts shall be rearranged on basis of population. This is to insure equitable representation in lawmaking.

Had framers of the constitution anticipated what a hard nut they were ordering cracked, it might be they would have provided other means for effecting redistricting.

Not since the 37th legislature in 1921 have the districts been revamped. Then two special sessions had to be called before the job was completed.

At the first extra session, senatorial districts were rearranged, and representative areas were shifted at the second called meeting.

Population Near 7,000,000

Population of Texas in 1920 was 4,663,228, according to the federal census. In 1940 the U. S. report was 6,414,824. Some persons believe that the figure today is near 7,000,000.

Difficulties in reestablishing the district boundaries arise from two sources:

The lawmakers do not want to forfeit any of their territory and there is friction on the issue between the "big city" members and the "small town" boys.

Few Members Want Change

Few of the members actually want to have their districts changed—unless to take in more territory. With each having the same feeling it is next to impossible to get a lawmaker to vote that a county or so be moved to another district, or to vote himself out of a job.

Then the "small town" or "country" boys feel those from the big cities are too powerful already and don't like the idea of increasing it in any way.

Though membership of the legislature changes every two years, there still exists the feeling of self-protection. Some even say it is a "selfish" motive which has caused legislators to consistently neglect the constitutional provision.

Now, however, the argument is that none of the districts should be disturbed until men and women in uniform return to civilian life. That is a type of opposition which is difficult to overcome for many members have relatives and ones from their families in the service.

Yugoslav King Names Regency Council

LONDON, March 3 (AP) — King Peter of Yugoslavia named a regency council today to represent him in his homeland, choosing three names from six submitted by Premier Ivan Subasic under an agreement with Marshal Tito.

A statement issued at the legation in London said the king had appointed Dr. Srdjan Budisavljevic (Serb), Dr. Ante Mandic (Croat) and Dushan Sernec (Slovene).

Living Room Chairs Rented As 'Beds' In San Diego

SAN DIEGO, Calif., March 3 (AP)—Housing conditions in San Diego have become so serious that householders are renting the easy chairs in their living room to persons who sleep there overnight. This was disclosed today when a woman called the OPA rent office to know whether she was required to register such a rental. She told the OPA she charged $15 a month, explaining that the easy-chair tenant couldn't find any place else to stay.

Harold V. Shipley, OPA official, advised her to register the rental, and OPA would determine its reasonableness.

Deferments Available For Food Workers

Authority to recommend deferment of certain workers in the food industry has been granted to Dan L. Boyd, district representative of the War Food administration in Amarillo, it was announced here Saturday.

Deferment recommendations will be confined to workers under 30 years who are considered indispensable to the food industry listed as essential by the War Manpower commission, Boyd explained.

District representatives may recommend deferment of workers in fruit and vegetable processing plants, meat industry, poultry dressing and products, fats and oils, grain and dairy products, sugar processing, wholesale and retail distribution, fertilizer plants, ice manufacture and harvest, cotton, fiber and tobacco industry.

Special forms for requesting deferment can be obtained from local selective service boards, he said, adding, further information can be obtained from his office, 208 Southwestern Investment building, Tenth and Taylor, Amarillo.

Recruitment Extended For Service Forces

Because of the urgent need for workers in the Army Service forces of the War department in Washington, D. C., the recruitment program in Lubbock has been extended to March 17, according to Miss Mary Louise Booe, civil service recruiting representative.

Both men and women 17½ years of age and over, including handicapped people, are wanted. On application at the U. S. Employment Service office, 1207 Thirteenth, Civil Service examinations will be given in clerical work, typing and stenography. For those who qualify, free transportation will be furnished to Washington and housing will be guaranteed.

Texas Brothers Are Reunited In Pacific

EN ROUTE TO IWO JIMA — (Delayed)—(U.P.)—The two sons of Mr. and Mrs. Dominic Albanese of Vidor, Tex., had not seen each other in more than two and a half years.

Then one day, Marine Pvt. Sam S. Albanese of Beaumont was crossing 5,500 miles of the Pacific to attack Iwo Jima. He stopped off at a port to limber his legs. Riding the tailboard of a Seabee truck on the dock was MM 1/C Peter D. Albanese.

The brothers' reunion was cut short when Sam's boat continued on its way.

AT FIRST SIGN OF A COLD USE 666
Cold Preparations as directed

THIS 38th ANNUAL REPORT summarizes another successful year in Jefferson Standard history. It tells the story of good substantial progress. It shows the strong financial position of the Company. . . . ¶ Behind the facts and figures are countless human interest stories of life insurance at work—of widows and orphans made financially secure, of children educated because of foresighted fathers and mothers, of men and women made comfortable in retirement, of mortgages cancelled upon premature death of homeowners, of cash funds provided for emergencies. . . . ¶ Jefferson Standard, and its representatives from coast to coast, proudly present the 38th Annual Report with appreciation to the many friends and policyholders who have contributed to the Company's excellent progress.

INTEREST EARNING AND INTEREST PAYMENT MAINTAINED

★Again in 1944, as in every year since 1907, Jefferson Standard maintained its national leadership in interest earned on invested assets. During the year 5% interest was paid on funds held in trust for policyholders and beneficiaries.

INCREASE IN ASSETS

★Total assets are now $142,939,569 which represents an increase of $14,693,244 for 1944. For every $100 of liabilities there are $110.17 of assets.

SURPLUS FUNDS INCREASED

★Surplus, capital, and contingency reserves total $13,200,000. This represents a high ratio of additional funds for policyholders' protection.

SUBSTANTIAL GAIN IN INSURANCE IN FORCE

BENEFITS PAID

★The Company paid policyholders and beneficiaries $6,377,351 in benefits in 1944. Total benefits since organization in 1907—$144,149,126.

WAR BOND PURCHASES

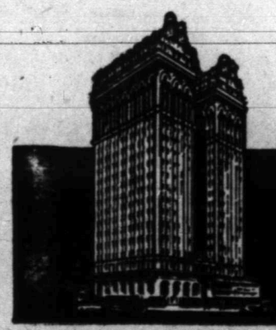

★During 1944 the Jefferson Standard invested $9,640,000 in War Bonds, thus making a substantial contribution to the anti-inflation battle and toward final victory. Total U. S. Government Bond holdings—$25,237,015.

Area WPB Allowed Very Limited Number Of Deferment Approvals

EL PASO, March 3. (Special).—Under the new selective service order to dig far deeper into the nation's supply of manpower under 30 years old, the El Paso district office of the War Production board has been authorized to certify a "very limited number of deferment requests."

The announcement came from John I. Hallett, WPB district manager, here. The WPB is one of the 15 designated government agencies which may endorse requests for deferments up 15 per cent of the men in the age group in the WPB district.

Warning To Employers

The new program applies only to men who are between the ages of 18 and 30 and who were classified by local draft boards in 2A or 2B as of Jan. 1, 1945. In view of the fact that each employer faces the immediate loss of most of his workmen who were under 30, and who were in 2A or 2B draft classifications of Jan. 1, 1945, Hallett suggested that immediate steps be taken by the employer to request deferment of the most indispensible and irreplaceable men.

"Because the new plan immediately washes out all previous deferments of men under 30 who were in 2A or 2B, and sets up a new percentage system, lists of all affected men in the age group must be submitted when individual requests are made. Certifications are to be decided on the basis of the entire list of each employer. The local draft board still retains its discretionary powers." Hallett said, but added that "it should be fully understood by each employer that under the new selective service plan the boards will require deferment requests to be endorsed by one of the designated certifying agencies on new 42-A (specials revised) which employers can obtain from local draft boards.

"The certification as to essentiality of the workmen by WPB or one of the other war agencies is deemed to assist local draft boards to make decisions which will have the most favorable effect on the war effort," he said.

Agencies which have sponsored deferment requests for those under 26 years old "will continue to be authorized sponsors under the new system. In acting as sponsors where workmen are deemed highly essential the WPB or other certifying agencies will require names of all men under 30 in each plant listed at one time in the order of their importance to the plant. The sponsoring agency is directed to certify the plant's entire list at one time in addition to the acceptable individual requests considered simultaneously," Hallett said.

Employers who need assistance or information are invited to consult with the WPB, 411 Caples building, El Paso, immediately, Hallett said.

Goebbels Says Nazis Anxious For Peace

LONDON, March 3. (AP)—Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels said today that the Germans "love and long for peace."

"Why should we be ashamed of admitting it?" he asked in an article in the weekly Das Reich, broadcast by the German radio.

"What matters is only the way peace is to be achieved and what its contents are to be. It is here that opinions differ."

News Briefs

James Edward Todd, 11-year-old son of Mrs. Naomi Todd of 1921 Twenty-first, suffered a fractured arm late Friday when he fell out of a tree. He was admitted to Lubbock General hospital Friday night.

Two former government in-structors at Texas Tech, Capt. J. W. Jackson, now with the Army Air forces stationed at Rapid City, S. D., and Dr. B. R. Abernathy, who is associated with the National War Labor board in Dallas, visited on the campus this week. Capt. Jackson, who was graduated from Tech, was a staff member at Tech from 1929 until 1942 when he entered the AAF. Dr. Abernathy was at Tech from 1941-1943.

Elmer (Red) Grinstead, jr., sea-man 2/c, will leave Wednesday for Great Lakes for re-assignment after visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Grinstead, sr., of 1306 Twenty-eighth. Grinstead recently completed boot camp training at Great Lakes Naval Training station.

Organization meeting for a Tex-as Tech extension course, Spanish 131, will be held at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening in room 214 of the administration building, J. H. Millikin, extension director, announced. The course will be instructed by Dr. T. Earle Hamilton of the department of foreign languages and emphasis will be placed on conversational Spanish. Enrollment fee is $15.

James Rankin, petty officer first class, is spending a 30-day leave visiting his wife and 5-year-old daughter, Sharon, at Lamesa. He has been in the Southwest Pacific two years with the Seabees and saw service on Guadalcanal, New Guinea and the Admiralty islands. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Rankin of Brownwood, formerly of Lamesa.

Students of Lubbock Senior High school, who are interested in national and international problems, are invited to attend the first meeting of the International Relations club Thursday at noon in room 256, Miss Kathleen Ingram, social studies coordinator, announced. The club, which is sponsored by the history department, will meet at noon on the second and fourth Thursday of each month.

Dean Pierce, a member of the senior class of Lubbock High school, has been selected as the Junior Rotarian for the month of March, Floyd Honey, principal, announced. Dean was chosen because of his activity in distributive education classes.

Busy Session Is Due For 99th Grand Jury

A grand jury panel will report at 10 o'clock Monday morning to Judge G. V. Pardue of 99th district court.

District Attorney Burton S. Burks said there would be approximately 20 felony charges referred to it for investigation.

They include rape and incest, assault to murder, forgery, burglary, desertion and "run of the mill" cases.

Judge Pardue Saturday had filed a judgment in habeas corpus proceedings initiated two days earlier in the case ex parte Raymond Jean Maynard, a minor son of Leonard W. Maynard and his former wife Jimmie Lee Barnes.

Mrs. Barnes obtained custody of the child in 1932, in a modification of judgment which had awarded custody to the father. She came into court last week and charged the child was being held by the father contrary to orders of the 1932 decision of then Judge Clark M. Mullican. Maynard answered that petition by claiming the child's mother had released custody to him voluntarily in 1939.

Judge Pardue, imposing restric-tions demanding that the child be placed in Burnett, Texas, public school and Sunday school, awarded the child to the mother and adjudged costs against the father.

Matthews Condition Assumed Satisfactory

The condition of R. W. Matthews, superintendent of Lubbock schools, who was injured in a car accident near Taos, N. M., Thursday, was assumed to be satisfactory here Saturday since friends had not been informed otherwise.

When Mrs. Matthews called friends Thursday night about the accident, she promised to call again the next day if there was any change in his condition.

Mr. Matthews suffered a fractured pelvis when the car in which the Matthews were traveling overturned two or three times on the highway between Tres Ritas and Taos. Mrs. Matthews suffered only multiple bruises.

Physicians at the Taos hospital said the school man will be in the hospital for several more days. Any movement of his legs results in much pain, and he will be confined until the bone begins to knit together again.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Burford of 3020 Twenty-second were to accompany the Matthews' daughter, Olive Pearl, to Taos Saturday.

Approval Asked For Rockland Dam Project

BEAUMONT, March 3 (U.P.) — A recommendation for approval of the Rockland dam project of the Lower Neches River Valley authority has been made by the War Production board's production urgency committee, John D. Howard, area director of the War Manpower commission, disclosed today.

With Washington approval, construction of the $2,692,310 dam would get underway this month, Howard said.

Gen. 'Ike' Visits Advance Lines

PARIS, March 3 (U.P.)—Supreme Commander Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was back at his headquarters safe and sound today after two narrow escapes from enemy gunfire during a tour of advance lines on the western front.

The five-star general made the seven-hour inspection trip yesterday by jeep over smashed German roads. At one point he was within five miles of the great city of Duesseldorf.

Eisenhower had hoped to see action closer to that Ninth army target, but his schedule did not permit. The enemy, however, provided several bits of entirely uncalled-for action during the tour.

Enemy Plane Came Over

His first close call with German fire came shortly after he crossed the turbulent Roer river. Just a few minutes before he reached a division command post, a jet-propelled plane swept over the general's four-jeep convoy and strafed the post.

The enemy plane was quickly routed by squadrons of Thunderbolts which later raked a group of enemy tanks along the nearby Erft canal.

Eisenhower's second narrow escape was at the end of his inspection trip. Enemy shells landed on an airfield only a few seconds after the general and his British military assistant, Col. James F. Gault, took off for their headquarters.

The general seemed pleased with the results of the week-old offensive as he visited the 29th and 83rd infantry and second armored divisions, and the 19th corps.

Soldier's Death Laid To Carbon Monoxide

BROWNWOOD, March 3 (U.P.)—A preliminary autopsy at Camp Bowie established today that Tech. Sgt. William H. Bragg, 25, whose body was found with that of a 25 year old woman in a locked two-room cabin in Brownwood yesterday, died of carbon monoxide poisoning.

Police said the body of Mrs. Lulu Mason, 25, who was found dead on a blood-stained bed in the cabin, would be sent to Walton, N. Y., for burial. Bragg was the son of Mrs. Lucille Bragg, Talcott, W. Va.

Justice of the Peace F. A. Loudermilk withheld the verdict of his inquest into the two deaths.

Massacre Of 150 U. S. War Captives By Japs Disclosed

GENERAL MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Luzon, March 3 (AP)—The massacre of 150 American war prisoners by the Japanese constabulary at Puerto Princessa, Palawan island, was officially announced tonight by Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

In a special press release the general said "additional evidence" had been uncovered by the Yank 41st infantry division at the Puerto Princessa prison camp substantiating stories that the Japanese threw gasoline in on the helpless Americans, ignited it and then machinegunned or bayoneted any who tried to flee.

At least five of the Americans escaped and reached Yank lines.

The press release said "human bones and bits of charred clothing covered by a layer of dirt and rubble were found in one of the airraid shelters near the barracks, mute testimony of the wholesale slaughter."

Cpl. Elmo D. Deal, of Yuba City, Calif., who was captured on Bataan in 1942 and taken to the Palawan prison camp, told this story:

"There were about 150 soldiers, sailors and marines at Palawan. In December the Japs got word that there was a big convoy at sea. They thought the convoy, which was going to Mindoro island, was headed their way and became crazy with fear.

"They herded us into a string of underground shelters in a compound near the barracks. I don't know which Jap officer gave the word but they threw gasoline in on us and ignited it. We tried to get out the other end of the dugout but they mowed us down with machineguns."

STRIKE SLOWS SUPPLIES

LONDON, March 3. (AP)—British troops were sent into the port of London today to restore the flow of war supplies to the western front as a strike of 7,000 dock workers and stevedores continued to paralyze virtually the whole waterfront.

Bill Proposed In Georgia To Place Tax On Bachelors

ATLANTA, March 3 (AP) — A bill to tax Georgia's bachelors, with the proceeds divided among the state's spinsters on Valentine's day, was introduced in the House today.

Every Georgia male who reached 30 without being married would be subject to a $100 tax, and the levy would increase $10 a year every year he continued a bachelor.

The measure, however, offered one loophole for the bachelors. If they could present an affidavit each year showing they had proposed to at least three spinsters during the preceding three years, they would be exempted from the tax.

There was only one hitch to the bill. Its fun-loving sponsors, most of them married men themselves, introduced the measure too late for it to receive consideration.

Johnson Grass Fight Supervisor Named

H. P. Read, 47, former Lamar county school teacher, Saturday was employed as an assistant county agent who will devote his work principally to Johnson grass eradication.

The announcement was made after a called meeting of the county commissioners court.

Read taught nine years, farming the while, then came to the Seminole section where he owned property. The last three years he has lived in this section and worked in a gin.

He commences his new work Monday and will receive $175 a month and $75 for a car or travel expenses.

Negro Is Given Life For Drawing Bayonet

ALEXANDRIA, La., March 3 (AP)—A negro private has been sentenced to life imprisonment for drawing a bayonet on an officer and other military offenses, Camp Livingston public relations office announced today.

The soldier, Pvt. Arthur P. Beard, 19, Baltimore, Md., was convicted by a court martial for violating the 64th article of war, the announcement said. He was training with the CA Livingston IARTC.

The specific charges were that Beard drew a bayonet on an officer, struck an officer and failed to obey a direct order from an officer. The sentence will not be final until reviewed by the judge advocate general at Washington.

Reports From All Parts Of State Show Crop Prospects Excellent

(By The Associated Press)

A refrain "crop prospects excellent" ran through most reports Saturday by points scattered from the wheat lands of Texas to the rice fields on its gulf coast.

There were some areas, like that about Austin, where excessive rainfall had delayed ploughing. The Dallas county agricultural agent said continued rains had narrowed the crops which farmers there had time to plant.

Except for broken limbs of fruit and pecan trees in the North Texas ice storm section the cold spell early last week apparently hurt crops little. A report from Denison, hard hit by the ice, which coated trees and wires, said the ground did not freeze.

Excessive Near Austin

Near Austin, spinach and oats were yellowing because of excessive moisture, but the heavy rainfall had been beneficial to fruit crop prospects and had furnished an abundance of stock water.

From the Panhandle city of Amarillo came word that if weather continued favorable last year's record wheat crop could be surpassed; Lubbock reported crop prospects in the South Plains generally good. In Hale county agricultural agent C. B. Martin said crop conditions were 100 per cent of normal.

In the San Angelo section the cold spell caused some shrinkage of livestock and killed lambs and kids born during the snow. It also was fatal to some freshly shorn goats.

The spring season at Laredo, on the Rio Grande, "appeared the most auspicious in years."

By sections, the reports:

Amarillo — Recent freezing sleet and snow welcome. Soil in good condition for spring planting. Recent weather favorable to barley, much of which has been sown. Pasturage still heavy on most small grain fields. Feed crops, half of which still shocked in fields, depreciating badly.

Plainview.—Hale county's 200,000 acres of wheat in fine condition with underground moisture better than normal. Moisture sufficient to hold wheat 60 days.

Lubbock — Light snow and sleet helped contribute to adequate moisture for wheat crop and spring plowing. Wheat condition good. Less livestock than last year, but buying shown by spirited bidding at auctions. Livestock in good flesh.

Wichita Falls And Angelo

Wichita Falls — Small grains crop prospects excellent, but more rains will be needed later before harvesting.

San Angelo — Livestock in good flesh, and some ranchmen were marking up as big has a 135 per cent lamb crop.

Laredo — Bermuda onion fields were making a wholesome growth with harvesting and shipping to begin the early part of April. A large acreage in canteloupes and some watermelons have been planted. Stock farmers were planting corn, cane, hegira, milo maize. Cotton farmers were planting cotton.

Sherman — Ice storm devastated many old fruit orchards and pecan trees, but younger trees came through with slight damage. Pecan trees suffered heaviest loss.

Central West Area

Brownwood — Carl Petross, Brown county AAA range inspector, said the moisture condition was best since 1920. Hail which ushered in spring weather yesterday in Brownwood, caused no damage in farming areas.

Abilene — County Agricultural Agent Elmo Cook says Taylor county 1945 crop prospects considered good; wheat and oats received no recent weather damage, but are probably being slightly damaged by rust and insects.

Corpus Christi — Vegetables, flax, and clover all in good condition in Nueces county, although land is a little too dry because of lack of rain.

Houston — Southeast Texas crops and crop prospects normal, except for a two to three weeks delay on corn and early spring vegetables, because of excessive moisture.

Waco And Corsicana

Waco — County Agent J. C. Patterson says fruit normal for time of year; small grain in good condition with weather perfect for it.

Corsicana — Oats, considerably increased in acreage over last year, in fine shape. Rains have caused no damage but have delayed farm work.

Pampa — Rain last week made for "best wheat prospects in Gray county of recent years," said G. T. Hackney, county agent. Crop conditions in the county generally were good.

Floyd County Over In Red Cross Drive

FLOYDADA, March 3 (Special) Floyd county has exceeded its Red Cross War Fund campaign of $7,700, it was announced at 6 p. m. today by R. E. Fry, county chairman, after a whirlwind three-day campaign which left approximately a third of the county still unreported.

Homer Steen, editor of the Floydada Hesperian; estimated that the county might run its contribution to $10,000 or $12,000.

The community of Dougherty, in the eastern part of the county, turned in more than $1,100 in a 24-hour period.

The county's Red Cross record for last year shows donations totalling $10,000 as compared with a quota of $6,600.

Blair Names Grand Jury Commission

LEVELLAND, Mar. 3 (Special) —Judge Dan Blair of 72nd district court named a five-member grand jury commission to select a 16-member grand jury panel, and had the names of six petit jury panels drawn here last week.

They will be summoned to appear for the March term of court opening here March 12.

Judge Blair also disposed of several non-contested cases.

Plans Furthered For Labor Device Show

The exhibits committee for the Lubbock County Labor Saving Device show, to be held on the campus of Texas Technological college March 17, held its first meeting Friday night, at which arrangements for the checking in and out of exhibits were made.

Information to be on exhibit tags was discussed and the group ordered the committee secretary, H. P. Clay, to have tags printed.

The three classes of exhibits will be home made, shop made and factory made devices.

Those attending were G. D. Taylor, representing vocational agriculture, chairman; Mrs. Kenneth Hicks, representing homemaking teachers; Miss Clara Pratt, extension service, W. O. Perkins, rural electrification, H. P. Clay, Tech department of plant industry; and Mrs. France Urban, assistant professor of home management at Tech.

Margin Trades Barred In Low Priced Stocks

NEW YORK, March 3. (AP)—The New York stock exchange today prohibited, effective March 5, margin trading in stocks selling for less than $1 a share.

Minimum margin of $10 a share will be required for issues selling above $10 a share, the order said, adding that it was to apply equally to bonds.

The exchange also prohibited new margin accounts unless the equity will be at least $1,000, and restricted use of small existing accounts.

Plant Constructions Authorized By DPC

WASHINGTON, March 3. (AP)—The Defense Plant corporation (DPC) authorized today $4,000,000 in facilities for a plant at Kansas City, Kans., to be operated for the government by Lee Rubber & Tire company, of Conshohocken, Pa.

Additional plant facilities at Waco, at a cost of approximately $1,500,000, also were authorized. Total cost of the DPC plant, to be operated by General Tire & Rubber company, of Akron, will approximate $3,00,000.

Seedmen Stress Sorghum Grains

The war has brought on many new uses for grain sorghums, such as in the manufacture of alcohol, syrup, high protein feed, and many others, said Frank J. Tripplett of the Producers Grain cooperative in Amarillo Saturday at the annual spring meeting of Texas Certified Seed Growers association in the agricultural auditorium of Texas Tech.

He predicted a reduction in wheat acreage after the war and that grain sorghum producers would find other markets outside of the usual feeding channels.

Marketing Of Seed

In speaking of cooperative marketing of seed, he said that farmers are becoming conscious of the value of good seed, and told the group how they could save money for farmers if they would organize a cooperative.

Emphasis was placed on the production of more grain sorghums by most of the speakers on the program.

R. V. Miller, chief of field seed certification, State Department of Agriculture, Austin, spoke on "What We Need in Sorghum Seed Production in 1945." A round table discussion by R. E. Karper, Roy Quimby and Don L. Jones of the Texas agricultural experiment station, brought out facts about what is new in sorghums.

Fertilizers Discussed

The place of fertilizers in West Texas agriculture was discussed by W. L. Jones, agronomist of the Texas experiment substation here. Jason O. Gordon, Lubbock county agricultural agent, told of the certified seed program as a county agent sees it.

Experiences in the mechanical harvesting of cotton was discussed by Lem Weaver, Lamb county agricultural agent. A moving picture showing defoliation of West Texas cotton was shown and explained by W. Ralph Smith of Dallas, representing the American Cyanamid company.

Willie Pearl Dockray To Teach In Hawaii

Miss Willie Pearl Dockray, who was graduated from Texas Tech in 1930, was recently placed as a teacher of speech and English in the American school at Lihue, Hawaii, by the Tech Techer Placement bureau, Dr. Doyle D. Jackson, director, announced.

Other placements made by the bureau since Jan. 1 are:

O. E. Lumsben of Muleshoe to serve as grade school principal and teach mathematics and history in the Muleshoe schools.

Mrs. O. E. Lumsben of Muleshoe to teach primary work at Muleshoe.

Miss Barbara Cox of Post, June 1942 Tech graduate, to teach English and social science at Lovington, N. M.

Miss Betty Floyd of Lubbock, May 1945 Tech graduate, to teach public school music at Perryton Tex.

Miss Mary Ruth Blake of Lubbock to teach music and art in the grade schools at Abilene.

Mrs. Mary Gentry of Lubbock to teach seventh grade in Amherst Public schools.

Daily Oil Allowable For State Increases

AUSTIN, March 3 (AP) — Total average daily allowable of 101,060 Texas oil wells was 2,303,496 barrels daily during the week, an increase of 25,972 barrels daily more than the preceding week, the state Railroad commisson announced today.

There was an increase of 55 oil wells. Three highest allowables were assigned commission districts three, Gulf coast, 557,734 barrels daily; district eight, West Texas, 491,914, and East Texas field, 387,184.

Poll Tax Ban For Soldiers, School Aid High On Legislature's Agenda

AUSTIN, March 3 (U.P.)—Repeal of poll tax for soldiers and removal of the ceiling on state aid to school districts were scheduled topics to open the ninth week of the Texas Legislature Monday.

Though their authors today had not asked consideration Monday, there was possibility that the so-called "right-to-work" bill by Rep. Marshall O. Bell, San Antonio, and the legislative redistricting measure by Rep. Harley Sadler, Sweetwater, might come up. Both bills have received favorable committee reports.

The proposed soldier poll tax relief is in bill form drawn by Sen. Jesse Martin, Fort Worth, having been taken up at the close of sessions last week in preference to various constitutional amendments on the topic.

Change Due By Statute

The change likely will be ordered by statute, and then be bolstered by submission of a constitutional amendment for popular vote. Whether a statute or a constitutional amendment can do the trick was a widely debated topic last year and played a part in the state's political campaign.

At present there is a $25 per scholastic limit on the aid the state board of education can order paid to school districts. The measure to be taken up in the House Monday removes the ceiling and provides for computation by a formula which is expected to call for about $30 per capita apportionment next year, and may rise to $36.

It would not remove the constitutional limit of 35 cents on $100 valuation as the maximum state school tax.

Limit Proved Fictional

The $25 limit proved fictional last year. When a surplus was found in the available school fund, it was ruled it might be used to supplement the $25 grant. School districts then received a total of $29 for each child of school age on the district census roll.

More salary raise bills were in prospect for the week. These apply to precinct, county and district employes. Last week raises for state employes were ordered.

Senate Finance Chairman R. C. Lanning, Jacksboro, admitted the present Legislature will spend more money than its predecessor. However, he predicted the extra expenditure would not be great enough to require new taxation, nor to require extra votes under the state's pay-as-you-go constitutional amendment. That permits violation of the cash rule, if four-fifths of the House and Senate vote approval.

Hearings Reach Top Stage

As the 60-day deadline on filing bills was approached, committee hearings reached top stage, with afternoon and night committee sessions called for nearly every day.

Senate bill No. 1, by which Sen. Franklin Spears, San Antonio, hopes to prohibit discrimination against Latin Americans in public places like hotels, restaurants, theaters and parks, is down for a public hearing Monday night.

The House bill for majority home ownership of Utility companies is due for House committee hearing Tuesday. On Wednesday a Senate committee hearing is to be held on proposed removal of the University of Texas medical school from Galveston.

Hearing on the "fair trade" price regulating act, defeated two sessions ago, is to be held March 12 in the Senate.

Other hearings include: Raising truck load limit from 38,000 to 48,000 pounds, by Fred Mauritz of Ganado, R. C. Lanning of Jacksboro and H. L. Winfield of Fort Stockton 7:30 p. m. Tuesday; creating a state board of public accountants, by G. C. Morris of Greenville, 2:30 p. m. Wednesday; budgeting systems for counties, by Jack Love of Fort Worth, 2:30 p. m. Wednesday; appropriations for University of Texas, 2:30 p. m. Wednesday; labelling livestock medicines, by Penrose Metcalfe of San Angelo and Pat Bullock of Colorado City, 2:30 p. m. Wednesday; appropriations for Texas A. and M. college, 2:30 p. m. Thursday.

Woman's Zeal In Spring Cleaning Almost Costs $1,080

KANSAS CITY, Kan., March 3 (U.P.)—Mrs. Chan Gurney's industry as a housekeeper very nearly cost her mother $1,080, police revealed today.

The wife of South Dakota's senior Senator offered to clean up the basement of her mother's home here as the visitor's share of spring housecleaning. In a burst of zeal she loaded cans, discarded bottles and empty boxes in a heap and summoned a trash hauler, who carted the debris to the city dump.

One of the boxes, it developed, was not empty. Cached inside was $1,080 in bills deposited there in disgust by her ardently Republican father—the late W. T. Bordeno—immediately after the Roosevelt bank holiday of 1933.

A three-way conference with the dump-keeper and police revealed several loads of trash from other homes had been heaped on the Bordeno haul before the loss was discovered.

Finally, however, the hauler's helper turned up with the money. He explained the box was so neatly tied he wondered what might be inside and took it home with him.

Mrs. Bordeno hurried to the nearest bank.

ARMY INVESTIGATES FIRE

EL PASO, March 3. (U.P.)—Army authorities today were investigating a fire of undetermined origin at Biggs field, near here, which destroyed a large warehouse and caused damage estimated at several thousands of dollars. A similar warehouse was destroyed by fire about a week ago at the field, it was revealed.

"APPLE BOX" INCUBATOR—Two premature babies of the Pep community spent the first few weeks of their lives in an incubator made from an apple box, shown in the picture above. The babies are shown with their parents, left to right: Mrs. A. H. Jungman and son Billy, Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Myers and son, James. The picture on the incubator is of Seaman 2/c Jungman, serving overseas.

Incubator Made From Apple Box Saves Lives Of Babies

On Dec. 6, 1943, a premature baby boy was born to Seaman 2/c and Mrs. A. H. Jungman of Pep, the baby weighing four pounds. The parents were told that the baby would have to be kept in an incubator for a month or six weeks.

Due to the fact that the parents of the baby lived 20 miles from the hospitals, and that the hospitals were as crowded as they are now, the paternal grandfather of the infant, A. C. Jungman, having an inventive nature, decided he could make an incubator in which to keep the little fellow.

Put Glass In Top

Jungman took an apple box with the bottom removed and cut an opening 8½ inches wide and 4½ inches deep in one end of the box. In the other end he put a lamp socket and cord. Then he removed the top of the box and put in an 8-inch by 12-inch window pane. He inserted a light bulb in the socket and placed a brooder thermometer in the box. If the temperature was too high he would change to a smaller bulb, and if too low he would insert a larger bulb.

The total cost of the incubator was 12 cents for the window glass. The cord and socket were extra ones they already possessed.

Both Strong And Healthy

On April 20, 1944, a son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Myers, also of Pep. He was also a premature baby and only weighed 3½ pounds. They decided to use the incubator constructed by Jungman. Baby Myers stayed in the incubator for two months and weighed seven pounds when removed.

Both babies are strong and healthy now, as the accompanying picture shows.

The incubator and the two babies will be exhibited from 2 to 3 o'clock on the afternoon of March 17 at the Lubbock County Labor Saving Device show on the Texas Tech campus.

Committee To Study Proposed Highway

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—The House military affairs committee next Tuesday will take under consideration a bill which ultimately may give Galveston a direct highway with New Orleans.

The committee will study the bill granting easements across the San Jacinto Military reservation for approaches to a proposed tunnel between Galveston Island and Bolivar Point on the mainland.

Army engineers advised the committee they approved the measure, Rep. Mansfield (D-Tex) author of the measure said yesterday.

In recent months, France experienced its worst floods in 50 years.

New School At Slaton Planned

SLATON, March 3 (Special) — Plans for a 14-room Central Ward school building, which will be constructed after the war, are expected to be approved by the Slaton School board at a meeting Monday night, M. S. Kayanaugh, superintendent, said today.

Preliminary plans were presented to the board by a Lubbock architect several weeks ago. The architect was asked to make several changes in the floor plan before the board would give its final approval.

To Raze Old Structures

The post-war building program, Kavanaugh said, includes the tearing down of the city's two ward buildings and junior high building. The new structure is to serve all three schools and will accommodate approximately 600 students and teachers.

Possibility of a bond election to be held soon will also be discussed at the Monday meeting. It is hoped, Kavanaugh pointed out, that building preliminaries can be worked out in the next few months so actual construction can begin as soon as the war is over and materials are available.

The proposed building is to include 14 class rooms, a large study hall and modern cafeteria.

WLB Denies Appeals Of Montgomery Ward

WASHINGTON, March 3. (U.P.) — Appeals by Montgomery Ward Co., from decisions of the regional WLB at Kansas City, on 16 nonwage issues were denied today by the National War Labor board.

The disputes involve Montgomery Ward stores in Kansas City, Kan., and Kansas City, Mo. The issues include maintenance of membership, check-off of union dues and arbitration of disputes involving interpretation of the contract terms.

At the same time, the national board sent a wage issue back to the regional board for reconsideration on the appeal of the union. This concerns the worker's contention that time and a half overtime pay should be retroactive to April 6, 1944, rather than Aug. 31, 1944.

Germans Stepping Up Flying Bomb Attacks

LONDON, March 3. (AP) — The Germans renewed the flying bomb attack on southern England today in what appeared to be the first move of a stepped-up campaign to make London pay the final bitter price for Allied victory.

Flying bombs crashed into southern England in the first daylight activity since last autumn.

Nazi propagandists have been threatening one last wild fling of vengeance with a revolutionary weapon far beyond the V-1 and the V-2 in destructive power. It may come true.

Allied leaders are not taking the threats as mere bragging. They feel it is likely the Germans are experimenting with a new device which might be ready before this war is over.

The Nazis threatened to unleash the V-1 and London got flying bombs. They threatened to follow with the V-2 and stratosphere rockets hit southern England, killing hundreds. There is reason to believe they once again have a basis for their threats.

DESTROYER LAUNCHED

ORANGE, March 3. (AP)—The U. S. S. Bordelon, a destroyer named in honor of the late Staff Sgt. William James Bordelon, a Texas Marine, went down the ways of the Consolidated Steel Corp. here today.

South Plains Oil Development Activities

Lower Permian Test Located In Northwest Lubbock County; Terry Well Slated; Spotlight On Gaines

Locations have been reported for a lower Permian wildcat in extreme northwest Lubbock county, and for an exploration in northwest Terry county to test for a pay recently discovered in that area.

Gaines county furnished the features, from the standpoint of shows of production for all the South Plains oil areas in the last seven days. A northwest Gaines well tested for good production from a middle Permian section, and a well in the south side of the Wasson field in north-central Gaines made the best oil yield so far reported by any completion in the Wasson "72" pay formation.

George P. Livermore, Inc., No. 1 Rollins estate, 1,980 feet from north and west lines of section 5, block P, EL&RR survey, about seven miles north of Shallowater, is scheduled to start drilling shortly to around 6,200 feet.

Between Two Discoveries

This prospector is oh a line between two recent discoveries—Humble Oil & Refining company No. 1 Jackson, in southeast Lamb county, and Seaboard Oil company of Delaware and Stanolind Oil & Gas company No. 1 Cravens, about three miles northwest of Monroe, in north-central Lubbock county.

The proposed 6,200-foot objective for No. 1 Rollins should test it through the lower Permian section which is productive in the two recent discoveries to the east and west of it.

Honolulu Oil corporation No. 1-14 N. M. Williams, 660 feet from south and east lines of section 14, block K, psl survey, in northwest Terry county, is contracted to 5,500 feet, and is to drill with rotary starting at once.

Northwest Of Producer

This exploration is one location northwest of Fikes Murchison No. 1, Alexander, in section 18, same survey, which found production several weeks ago at 5,808-5,157 feet.

That discovery has not reported official completion, but it is reported by responsible operators that the well has been pumping around 150 barrels of oil per day, with a shakeout of from three to six per cent water. It has been acidized.

Shell Oil company No. 1 Pierson, section 452, block C, CCSD&RGNG survey, on the northeast side of the Russell field, in northwest Gaines county—where the current production is from the lower Clear Fork-Permian between 7,600-8,000 feet, had tested the upper Clear Fork for a yield that would make an oil well in that section.

Drillstem Test Taken

At 5,995-6,134 feet, operator took a 90-minute drillstem test. Gas came to the surface in 17 minutes, and flowed for three minutes at the rate of 50,000 cubic feet per day, then decreased.

Recovery, when drill pipe was broken down was 55.6 barrels of 32 gravity oil and 1.5 barrels of highly oil and gas cut drilling mud, with a slight trace of water.

Engineers estimated there is 49 feet of pay in the 139 feet of section which was checked in the test. The hole is drilling ahead below 6,345 feet, in lime, and will go on and test for the regular Russell pay, about 1,500 feet deeper.

This well tested for about ten barrels of oil per hour in a section in the San Angelo-Glorietta, at around 5,625 feet. These tests definitely show there are at least three possible pay sections capable of making oil in commercial quantities in some sections of the Russell area.

Wasson Well Sets Record

Among Carter and Phillips Petroleum company No. 6-B Wasson, 880 feet from the south and east lines of section 49, block AX, psl survey, in north Gaines county, and in the regular Wasson field, flowed 507.8 barrels of oil in 24 hour natural for the highest potential of any well so far completed from the Wasson "72" pay section, in that territory.

The pay section was in the lower Permian from 7,145 feet to the total depth at 7,520 feet. The well has also shown for good production in the Wasson "66" zone, and in the regular Wasson pay. The Wasson "66" pay will be produced along with the oil from the "72" horizon, for a dual completion.

The Texas company No. 2 Robertson, section 21, block A-34, psl survey, three-quarters of a mile west of the lone producer in the Robertson pool, in south Gaines county, is shutin, waiting for storage, after having tested for around 12 barrels per hour, swabbing.

The oil came from two sections in the hole. Total depth is at 6,455 feet, in the middle Permian. Some of the crude is from a saturated section above that level. The remainder is from the Glorietta horizon about 5,986 feet, where the well swabbed for about three barrels of oil per hour, after acid, and before the hole was drilled ahead to the new bottom.

Humble and Shell No. 1 Fee, section 10, block A-24, psl survey, one mile east and one-quarter of a mile north of the discovery well for lower Clear Fork pay in the Doss-Eubank district of south Gaines, was preparing to re-treat with acid at 7,115-75 feet.

No production test from that section has been reported. However the horizon at 7,065-7,105 feet had averaged about six barrels per hour, with some acid sludge, after being treated with 1,000 gallons of acid.

Oiler Indicated

Interested operators report that the project is an oil well. Full production will be determined by final completion.

Sinclair Prairie Oil company No. 1 Johnson, section 16, block A-28, psl survey, in southwest Gaines had progressed under 7,157 feet, in lime, and was drilling ahead.

Amerada Petroleum corporation No. 1-A Jones, section 3, block A-6, psl survey, in northwest Gaines, had reached 6,969 feet, in lime.

Seaboard and Stanolind No. 1 Nairn, North-Central Lubbock county discovery, in section 16, block D, L. and S. V. survey, reported an official Railroad commission potential test of 169 barrels of fluid, in 24 hours, pumping.

Recovery 80 Per Cent Oil

The recovery was 80 per cent or 135.2 barrels of oil and 34.8 barrels of water. The total depth is on a plug-back at 6,170 feet.

Seaboard and Texas Pacific Coal & Oil company No. 2 Nairn, in section 25, block A, about four miles northeast of Lubbock, reached 6,390 feet, in lime. Last report from operators was that the drilling rig was being torn down. No official information is available, but the fact that no shows of oil have been encountered, and that the rig is being moved, indicates that the project is due for abandonment, as a dry hole.

The Norwalk company No. 1 Nislar, section 12, block D-2, also in central-north Lubbock county was making hole below 5,482 feet, in the Clear Fork lime. This test is slated to drill to between 6,200 feet and 6,300 feet, to look for the Seaboard and Stanolind No. 1 Cravens.

Outpost Making Hole

Humble No. 1 Tucker, section 119, block A, Thompson survey, outpost to the same owner's No. 1 Jackson, southeast Lamb county discovery, was making hole below 5,162 feet in lime. It is due to drill to around 7,000 feet, unless it finds commercial oil above that level.

Hunt Oil Company No. 1 Foust, wildcat in section 43, block 1, Thompson survey, about six miles north of the Humble discovery, in the Southeast Lamb county region was drilling ahead under 1,269 feet, in red shale.

A string of 9⅝-inch casing had been cemented at 1,111 feet, as an intermediate pipe protector for the hole.

El Paso Natural Gas company No. 1 West Texas Land & Mortgage Company in section 55, MB-&B survey, in northwest Bailey county, had penetrated past 5,310 feet, and was continuing in dry lime.

To Drill 11,000 Feet

Stanolind No. 1 Slaughter, labor 49, league 101, Jeff Davis county School Land survey, in central Cochran county, had reached 10,057 feet, in black shale and lime, and was headed for 11,000 feet, or oil or gas above that level.

Helmerich & Payne, Inc., No. 1 A. Wright, labor 14, league 98, Brewster County School land, another Cochran exploration, had penetrated under 5,688 feet, in lime.

To Drill 11,000 Feet

Stanolind No. 1 Slaughter, labor 49, league 101, Jeff Davis county School Land survey, in central Cochran county, had reached 10,057 feet, in black shale and lime, and was headed for 11,000 feet, or oil or gas above that level.

Helmerich & Payne, Inc., No. 1-A Wright, labor 14, league 98, Brewster County School Land, another Cochran exploration, had penetrated under 5,688 feet, in lime.

Stanolind No. 1 Yellowhouse, northwest Hockley county development, in labor 2, league 718, State Capital lands, about two miles east of the initial producers in the Yellowhouse field, was waiting for a pump, after the pay section at 4,453-82 feet, had tested for 43 barrels of oil and eight barrels of basic sediment and water, in an eight hour swabbing test, after treating with acid.

Woodley Petroleum company No. 1 Ellwood, section 26, block A, Thompson survey, one mile west and one-quarter of a mile north of the closest production in the Smyer field in east-central Hockley county, had reached 5,833 feet, in lime, and was drilling ahead.

Glorietta Pay Expected

This project is due to encounter pay in the Glorietta section of the Permian at any time from the current level on down.

Honolulu No. 1 Hanna, section 80, Block D, John H. Gibson survey, in northeast Yoakum county, is due to drill out plug on 5½-inch casing cemented at 5,106 feet, with 250 sacks of cement, and drill ahead with cable tools.

Honolulu No. 2-B-75 Hudson, section 75, block D, Gibson survey, spudded to 125 feet, and then started rigging up a rotary to drill ahead. The hole should be going down in a few days.

Stanolind No. 1-B Texas Land & Mortgage Company Southeast Terry County prospector, in section 17, block C-37, psl survey, was making hole below 5,515 feet, in dry lime, and is slated to drill ahead to around 7,000 feet.

Lynn Test Abandoned

The Texas company No. 1 Edwards, section 158, GT survey, in northwest Lynn county, has been abandoned and plugged, as dry, on a total depth of 7,238 feet, in lime and shale. A Schlumberger survey to the bottom failed to show any indications of production.

Texaco No. 1 Higginbotham, labor 16, league 479, Hutchinson county School Land survey, in west Dawson county, had progressed below 6,241 feet, in lime.

Magnolia Petroleum company No. 1 Cole, northwest Dawson, wildcat to 6,000 feet, had reached 2,912 feet, in anhydrite and gyp, and was continuing.

Richfield Oil Corporation No. 1 Cribbs, Northwest Scurry County, exploration in section 577, block 97, H & TC survey, had penetrated under 3,569 feet, in dolomite, and was drilling ahead.

Livermore, Inc., No. 1 Rollins, section 160, block 197, H&TC survey, in southwest Scurry was making hole below 1,900 feet, after setting casing at around 1,200 feet.

A Vital Message To Men Who Feel Old

Why not regain the vim and vitality you once enjoyed?

If life apparently has lost its zest, you again may be able to enjoy life as you did in your youth. If added years have slowed down your vim, vitality and youthful pleasures, here is a simple method that may change your whole outlook on life. Just ask your druggist for CASELLA stimulating tablets. Take as directed on label. Don't feel old and worn out at 40, 60 or more. Take these tablets regularly until you feel that you have regained the pleasure of living you once enjoyed. Why be discouraged? Why not try CASELLA tablets and regain the verve and zest of a much younger man? There is nothing harmful in these tablets. They contain Celery seed, Thiamin Chloride, Passion Flower, Iron. Ask your doctor or druggist about this formula.

The Sports Eye

By Mack Turner

JUNIOR baseball will soon be getting ready to start a new season in Lubbock. The second season is due to be a bigger and better season than the first season, and hopes are already high that the third season will be just that much better.

But the third season is a long way off, and the second season is close at hand. So let's look at the prospects for the second season.

But we can't help but wonder if the league fathers are not trying to get a little too fast for the infant sport. Or maybe what we hear is the fellows saying the old Sports Eye is getting "old fashioned." But the fact remains, we still can't see the wisdom of talking "lights" and "night baseball" in connection with the junior baseball program.

It is true that there are only two ways to face any question, and that is "for it" or "agin it." Night baseball for junior baseball in Lubbock is one of the things that we are, personally, "agin."

* * *

JUNIOR baseball is the one brand of baseball that is primarily for the kids who play the game. It also furnishes a lot of real entertainment for the "old fogies" like the Sports Eye, who get out along the sidelines and wishes he was young enough to be out there in the ball game.

Any time the lights are turned on at Chapman field's baseball diamond, the game has got to carry the load at the box office, and the sport has been commericialized.

Night baseball was the only salvation for the small minor leagues over the country, where the dollar meant success or failure. But we feel like it will take a long time to make junior baseball in Lubbock need night baseball.

* * *

WE are for anything that will make junior baseball grow, and the more teams that can be provided for the kids to play on, the better we will like it. We would like to see the kids have a park, enclosed with a fence, and with suitable grandstands.

Such a field would be a great thing. It would provide a place for the kids to play out of town teams that might be brought in later on, and it could be used to help pay the expenses of out of town teams brought into Lubbock to play.

The only need that could be had for lights would be to stage a big tournament, like the state American Legion tournament, in Lubbock, and need to play day and night to get enough games played in an allotted time. But right now, there is no such tournament assured to Lubbock, and until one is assured, why gamble on night baseball?

We have seen hundreds of day baseball games, both professional and semi-pro, and have seen some of the best teams in the country play. We have seen dozens of night baseball games, and personally we will take the day game for thrills and color. And that goes for football as well as for baseball.

* * *

THE first signs of spring has brought out the baseball fever among the kids, and the piles of dirt placed at Chapman field to be used for filling in the holes, and getting the diamond in shape to play, has been the starter.

Another great need of last year was a place to get a drink of water at the field. This will be taken care of this year with a fountain being erected back of third base to supply water for players, and maybe fans.

We only hope that the fountain is supervised well enough this summer to keep from making third base a small lake bottom with wasted water.

The "Ol' Sarge" Sam West, the former major leaguer, tells us that he would be more than happy to step into the same role of last year, and conduct the kids pre-season baseball school, if the arrangements can be made with Sam's new boss—Uncle Sam.

Sam and his helpers did a great job last year, and there couldn't be a better man picked for the job, so we sincerely hope that Junior baseball can secure the "loan" of Sam West.

I'll be seeing you.

Bechtol Reports To Longhorn Grid Camp

AUSTIN, March 3. (AP) — Coach Dana X. Bible of the University of Texas Longhorns got his first idea of what sort of football material he will have next season, with the start of spring practice today.

In a workout cut short because of wet grounds, Bible sent a makeshift first team on the field composed of Hubert Bechtol and Bass, ends; Plyer and Ring, tackles; Felfe and Shapiro, guards; MacDonald, center; Buxkemper, Bell, Essary and Ming, backs.

Bible said that "the boys looked fairly well."

Bechtol, 1944 All-American end, was recently transferred into the Navy R.O.T.C. at the university.

ROBBINS TO BRECKENRIDGE

BRECKENRIDGE, March 3. (AP) —Cooper Robbins, coach of North Side High school (Fort Worth) has signed a three-year contract to succeed Eck Curtis as coach of Breckenridge High. Curtis goes to Highland Park (Dallas) as coach.

State Cage Teams Named For Finals

Two of three state champions—Nocona in Class A and Prairie Lea in Class B—will return to the Texas Interscholastic League basketball tournament at Austin next week-end.

Nocona and Prairie Lea won their regional titles, each joining seven other teams to journey to Austin Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The Class AA champion, Sunset (Dallas), will not be back. The Bisons stumbled in the bi-district play-offs, losing to Paschal of Fort Worth.

Eight teams will play in each division at Austin.

MEET OFFICIALS NAMED

AUSTIN, March 3 (AP)—Outstanding athletic officials of Texas will serve as referees for the state basketball meet of the University of Texas Interscholastic League here March 8-10, R. J. Kidd, athletic director of the league, said today.

They include Ziggy Sears of Fort Worth, Dusty Burgess of Dallas, Ally Curtis of Fort Worth, Mike Williamson of San Antonio, John Morrow of Waco, and J. T. Looney of Houston.

Timekeeper will be V. C. Overall of the University of Texas, while Weldon Hart, Austin sports editor, will be scorekeeper.

Ceremonies of presentations of awards following each of the three conference championship games will be broadcast over Texas State network, as well the games themselves.

CLASS B CHAMPION TO RETURN TO MEET

SAN MARCOS, Tex., March 3 (AP)—Prairie Lea, defending Class B champion, won its way back to the state schoolboy basketball tournament tonight by crushing Hutto 72-29 in the finals of the Region 6 tournament. In the first round Lea beat Burnet 36-18 and in the semi-finals took out Edgewood 67-29.

Hutto advanced to the finals with a 28-14 decision over Edgewood (San Antonio) and a 31-15 win over Round Top.

SUGAR LAND FIVE TAKES CAGE CROWN

HOUSTON, March 3 (AP) — The Sugar Land Alligators won the Region 5-B basketball championship here tonight by walloping the favored Hardin Hornets, 35-21, in the finals of an eight team tourney. Thus Sugar Land, runner up in the Region meet in 1943 and 1944, qualifies for the Texas Interscholastic League tournament at Austin, starting Thursday.

To gain the finals, Sugar Land defeated Big Sunday and Deer Park, and didn't use a sub in the entire meet until the final period of the title game when a player was injured.

Canadian Beats Levelland Lobos

PLAINVIEW, March 3. (Special)—The high scoring Canadian High school cagers were crowned Region One, Class A champions here tonight by beating the Levelland Lobos, 48 to 44, in a torrid battle that was in doubt until the closing minutes.

It was the third time in as many years that the Levelland club has been beaten in the finals of the regional meet. The first two losses were by single points, and tonight it was by a scant four points.

Canadian bounced into the lead, and held it most of the way, but the Lobos continued to strike threateningly on the heels of the winners. The Canadian five led 15-12 at the end of the first quarter, 26-23 at the half, and 36-32 at the end of the third quarter.

Once during the fourth period, and late in the game, Levelland staged a rally that came within one point of the leaders, but a final spurt at the finish sewed up the game.

It was a brilliant scoring duel between Tom Hopkins of Canadian and Jess Clairdy of Levelland two fine schoolboy stars. Hopkins nosed out over Clairdy by finding the range for eight field goals for 16 points, while the Lobo star tied together five field goals and five free pitches for 15 points.

With Clairdy pouring in 18 points for scoring honors, Levelland eliminated Lockney's Longhorns, 38-27, in an afternoon game to go into the finals. James Carroll paced Lockney with ten points.

Six stars were honored on the All-Regional team selected at the end of the meet. The Canadian stars placed two men on the honor team, as did the Levelland five. Lockney and Friona placed one each.

Tom Hopkins and Bill Fonti were the Canadian stars honored, while Jess Clairdy and Billy Pearcy were from Levelland. James Carroll of Lockney and Wayne Stark of Friona were named.

Floydada Fighters At Tahoka Tuesday

TAHOKA, March 3. (Special).—The hard punching Floydada Whirlwinds will blow into this little city Tuesday night, and plenty of leather is due to be slung when they tackle the Tahoka Bulldogs in the high school ring.

About fifteen fights are due to be on the card, the first held here since the pre-Golden Glove tournament early in January. Most of the fights will be in the 112 to 150 pound class, battles that make for speed and plenty of action.

The Tahoka battlers have been in intense training for the past two weeks, and have been finding a number of newcomers who are pushing the regulars for starting places on the card.

Headlining the Tahoka team will be Jackie Driver, who went to the finals in the state Golden Gloves tournament at Fort Worth before being beaten. He was chosen captain of the boxing team during his trip to the state Gloves meet. Driver is perhaps the most polished boxer to ever wear the colors of Tahoka High school.

Dwayne Vaughn, another fighter to go to the state tournament in the Golden Gloves, will also be on the card. Another popular lad on the cards here will be H. L. McMillan, the little pepper-pot battler who has had a hard time getting started this year.

J. A. Dodson, who has been on the basketball squad, and only recently came out for the boxing team, is another good scrapper slated for a place on the Tuesday card. Bill Grider, a rough welterweight, is another popular lad with the fans, and will be seen against the Whirlwinds.

Glen Newton, a steady bantamweight, is another due for a place on the card. Van Brookshire, 110 pounder, will be back. Brookshire was beaten in the district Golden Gloves finals by his team mate, Jackie Driver, but is a lad capable of giving Driver a good fight any time. Buddy Bragg, a good lightweight with lots of experience, is another on the card.

Among the more promising new faces will be Charles Stevens, Billy Joe Stevens, Bobby McMillan, Boyd, Kenneth Hanes and Randal Hinkie.

Pirate Skipper Feels Confident Of Leader

PITTSBURGH, March 3. (AP)—If enough key ball players from the Pittsburgh Pirates' present roster show up this season, Manager Frankie Frisch looks to have as good a chance as anybody of winning the 1945 National League pennant.

The club roster, released today, lists several promising recruits who, with a few important veterans, might easily show the way in the loop, especially considering that the champion St. Louis Cardinals lost such formidable stars as Stan Musial, Walker Cooper and others.

Among the youngsters looming big are Outfielders Al Gionfriddi and Bill Rodgers, Infielder Vic Barnhart and Pitcher Leonard Gilmore. Gionfriddi, Rodgers and Barnhart all batted better than .300 in Class A baseball last season, while Gilmore, a righthander, won 21 games against six losses for Albany.

McKeever Takes Over At School Where Cinderella Coaches Got Their Big Break

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK, March 3—Ed McKeever switches to Cornell, there to write another chapter in the exciting story of the Cinderella coaches.

I like to relate the story of Knute Rockne having 32 teams on the field the last time the little Dane conducted spring practice at old Notre Dame. It was cold and snowing that afternoon in 1931, and Pete Cawthon, in the light duds they wear in the cow country, was there to see what he could see.

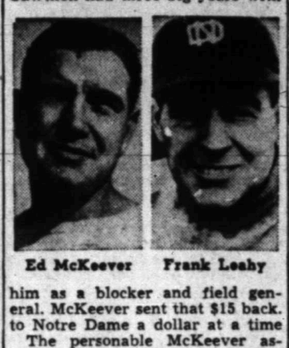

Capt. Marchmont Schwartz handed Ol' Pete a windbreaker, and that, oddly enough, is how young McKeever got to Texas Tech, Coach Cawthon telling Schwartz to let him know if he could ever do anything for him.

Before the month was out the plane carrying Rock to the coast plummeted to the Kansas plain. Hunk Anderson became head coach at Notre Dame. Numerous scholarships were cancelled. With no more financial assistance, some boys had to leave. One was Sophomore McKeever, then on the third team.

Cawthon's telephone rang at Lubbock. It was Marchy Schwartz calling from South Bend. Could the coach use a pretty good halfback? He was a Texan, and the players would chip in to give him his railroad fare.

They collected $15 in quarters and halves, and McKeever was on his way. He rode a bus to St. Louis, where he hopped a freight, arrived at Lubbock with nothing more than the clothes on his back, and they were dirty and on the shoddy side.

McKeever had to lay out a year because of the transfer rule, but Cawthon had three big years with him as a blocker and field general. McKeever sent that $15 back to Notre Dame a dollar at a time.

Ed McKeever

Frank Leahy

The personable McKeever aspired to be a sports writer, sportscaster and football official, but turned down a job on the Sherman, Tex., Democrat at $12 a week because he had to do the court reporting, too, and didn't know about that.

So he remained as Cawthon's backfield coach for five years, and might still be at Texas Tech had not Frank Leahy come along selling rubber-soled shoes. Leahy, then attached to Fordham and for some years an obscure line coach, offered his services to coaching schools throughout the country as a means of entree in connection with his merchandise.

McKeever demonstrated backfield stuff at Cawthon's school, and Leahy knew a coach when he saw one. The pair hit it off well from the start, attended mass together.

"If I ever get a head job, I'd like to have McKeever," Leahy told Cawthon.

Salesman Leahy subsequently stopped at Carl Snavely's school at Cornell, and, when the president of Boston College, seeking to replace Gil Dobie, called the highly successful Snavely for a recommendation, he got this one:

"The best young coach I have seen in some years is Frank Leahy. He should be right down your alley, too, for he's a Notre Dame man who was coached by Rockne."

So Leahy went to Boston College and took McKeever with him. You know the rest.

And now Ed McKeever is at Cornell, where salesman Frank Leahy stumbled into the Cinderella coaches' first big opportunity.

Stratford Cagers Repeat As Region One, Class B Champs

CANYON, March 3, (Special).—Sparked by tiny Roy Lee Malone, Stratford again won its way to the state Class B tournament at Austin March 8, 9 and 10, capturing the Region One cage crown here today.

Stratford won two games today to win the title, beating Spring Lake in the semi-finals, 36-31, and romping over Claude in the finals by a 28-22 count.

Lost To Champs

In last season's state tournament at Austin, the Stratford boys were beaten by Prairie Lea by only two points, and that team went on to win the Class B crown.

In the final game, Stratford gained a five point lead early in the ball game, and Claude was never able to whittle the lead below this level for the rest of the ball game.

Scoring honors for the game went to Powell of Claude, who flipped in ten points, while the winners were paced by Malone and Jackson, each with eight points.

Semi-Final Feature

But the semi-final victory for Stratford was a far different story, and the powerful Stratford five was hard pressed to beat back a fine Spring Lake team to reach the finals.

The score was tied many times in the ball game, and usually no more than one or two points separated the two teams. Roaring down the home stretch, the teams reached the three minutes to go mark at the end of the game with Stratford leading only 32-31. But the spurt that made them champions pulled Stratford into a comfortable lead before the final whistle.

The game was also a great individual duel between two fine stars, with Malone of Stratford and Barton of Spring Lake staging a scoring duel that found them knotted for scoring honors with 17 points each at the end of the torrid battle.

In the other semi-final game, Claude rolled over the Meadow club, 29-18, to reach the finals. Averyt was high point man for the game with nine points, while Barnes paced Meadow with six.

Stratford placed two men on the All-Regional team with Malone making a forward post, and Jackson named at guard. Barton of Spring Lake was named at the other forward post, and H. Lutrick of Abernathy was named as the other guard. Averyt of Claude was named as center.

Whitharral Cagers Set For State Meet

WHITHARRAL, March 3. (Special)—The Whitharral girls basketball team will leave here Wednesday for the state tournament in Hillsboro, where they will represent District 18 against one of the most colorful fields ever assembled in the history of this meet.

The team will carry a record of 25 wins and two losses to the state tournament. In piling up this great record, the team has scored 750 points this season, while holding the opposition to 431 points.

The club has played this season without much ballyhoo about the team's strength and record, and won the right to enter the state tournament with a victory over its greatest rival, Anton.

Whitharral has played Anton seven times this season, winning five of these meetings. The two defeats suffered by Whitharral have been at the hands of Anton. In the second game of the season, Anton won 20-17. Whitharral then moved into an 11-game winning streak that was broken by Anton with a 17-15 win. Since this last defeat, Whitharral has won 13 in a row, with the finishing touches being the 17-16 win over Anton in the district tournament finals at Abernathy, and a 21-14 win over Anton for the top honors in the conference race.

A girls conference was arranged in District 6-B, to play along with the boys, and Anton and Whitharral ended the south half race in a tie. This was playedoff last Tuesday at Amherst. Whitharral will play Lazbuddy on some neutral court March 13 for the conference championship.

Tournament wins, other than the District meet, were at Amherst and Abernathy. The defeats handed to such favored teams as Cooper and Meadow were no surprise to Hockley county fans, while Anton's win over a favored New Deal, only brought true the predictions of the fans here that Anton and Whitharral would meet in the district finals.

Past Cage Champions In Texas Are Listed

In case your memory has slipped, and you are still wondering who was the state schoolboy cage champions in some past year, perhaps the following list of champions will settle your argument.

This will be the fourth year for basketball to be conducted in three divisions. From 1921 until 1942 it was all in one class, and the smaller schools won about as often as the cities.

Here are the champions for the 24 years the basketball race has been conducted by the Interscholastic League:

1921—El Paso high.
1922—Lindale disqualified; runnerup, El Paso High.
1923—Oak Cliff (Dallas).
1924—Oak Cliff.
1925—Beaumont.
1926—Brackenridge (San Antonio).
1927—Athens.
1928 — Austin disqualified; runner-up Temple.
1929—Athens.
1930—Denton.
1931—Athens.
1932—Tempi.
1933—Athens.
1934—Athens.
1935—Denton.
1936—Cushing.
1937—Carey.
1938—Woodrow Wilson (Dallas).
1939—Livingston.
1940—San Marcos.
1941—El Paso High.
1942—Class AA—Jeff Davis (Houston), Class A—Van, Class B—Slidell.
1943 — Class AA—Jeff Davis (Houston), Class A — Sidney Lanier (San Antonio), Class B—Slidell.

CONNIE SIGNS KID

PHILADELPHIA, March 3 (AP)—Connie Mack, vacationing in California, has signed Jack Gourman, 17-year-old outfielder from Seattle, Wash., for the Philadelphia Athletics.

McGowan Is Veteran Among Major's Ump's

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP) — Billy McGowan, baseball's successor to Lou Gehrig as "The Iron-man," is getting ready to start his 31st season and his 21st in the majors.

McGowan, dean of major league umpires, broke into the big time in 1925, and worked more than 16 consecutive seasons without missing a game until arthritis laid him up for two days in 1942.

Billy has no actual count of the games he officiated without skipping one, but it figures out about 2,600. Gehrig's playing record was 2,130.

In the umpires' dressing room during the last World Series, the question came up as to what arbiter has the longest service record.

McGowan, George Pipgras and Ernie Stewart of the American League and Ziggy Sears, Tom Dunn and Lou Jorda, National League, were in the huddle that day.

Someone remarked that "Beans" Reardon, veteran National leaguer, was probably the "pop" of them all. Reardon happened to be visiting his fellow officials at the time, and volunteered:

"I'm the senior umpire in the National League, but McGowan has the longest service record in the majors, topping me by one year."

Umpiring hasn't been one long, serene cruise for McGowan. He recalled what probably was the most exciting incident of his career—a fight with a young catcher, Harold McCurdy, in the International League in 1922.

That scrap cost Billy a ride in the patrol wagon, a $26.45 police court fine, a 10-day suspension without pay, topped by "being canned for the last month of the season," all adding up to about $1,000.

Westerners Set Track Schedule

An ambitious track schedule has been worked out for the Lubbock Westerners, Cowhands and Cowboys for March and most of April, it was announced Saturday afternoon by E. J. "Pinkey" Lowrey, athletic director of Lubbock schools.

Only two big meets were listed by Lowrey for entries to be sent to, and these included the Amarillo Invitation on either March 23 or 24, and the Odessa Invitation on April 7.

The area meet, between Class AA schools of this area will be run off April 14 and the regional meet on April 21 for the two meets that will narrow the field down for the state tournament in Austin.

Lowrey again reminded teams of this area of the invitation handed out earlier for a "get together" on Friday afternoon at Chapman field. No bids have been received yet, but a number of teams over the South Plains area are expected to show up that afternoon for a practice meet with the Westerners. It is a blanket invitation to any schools, in any class.

The first of two duels between the junior high Cowboys and the high school Cowhands will be staged Thursday afternoon, listed as the battle between the Freshmen and Sophomores. The second meeting between these two squads will be held March 15.

On March 16, the Sophomores will be available at Chapman field for a practice meet with anybody wanting to compete against them on that date. This date also involves a blanket invitation.

Another practice meet, open to any schools wishing to get in a good "under fire" workout for its track team will be held at Chapman field on March 30.

Haegg Runs Last In Mile Run At Garden

NEW YORK, March 3. (AP) — Gunder Haegg, Sweden's swiftie, finished last in a special mile won by Jim Rafferty of the New York A.C. at the IC-4A indoor games in Madison Square Garden tonight after countryman Haakan Lidman had won the exhibition 60-yard high hurdles.

Rafferty, unbeaten in six starts this season, triumphed by less than an inch over Forest Efaw of Oklahoma while Gunder, who started the gruelling race after only 50 hours on shore following a 23-day stormy voyage across the Atlantic, finished 80 yards in the ruck. Rafferty's time was 4:16.4.

Haegg bounced into the lead at the second lap and still was a stride in front as they swung into the eighth trip around the Garden's 11-lap track.

After the eighth lap it was evident to every one of the 13,472 spectators that the Smorgasbord Scooter couldn't last and he gradually dropped back. He was clocked in 4:31. Haegg was setting the pace at the quarter, reached in :63.3 and again at the half, time in 2:10. Don Burnham of Cornell was third and Rudy Simms of New York fourth.

"I felt tired all the way," Haegg said afterward. He complained that the boards hurt his feet and that he would practice out of doors whenever possible.

Meanwhile, Army and Navy turned the 24th annual indoor carnival into a dual meet, the Cadets retaining the championship they won a year ago by piling up 73½ points to the evident satisfaction of Gen. Joseph Stilwell, who had a box on the finish line. Navy was second with 55½ and both wiped out the previous top aggregate of 48 established by New York university in 1943.

Arturo Godoy Slated For Bouts In Texas

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP) — Al Weill, manager of Arturo Godoy, announced tonight that the South American heavyweight will fight in Texas and Florida this spring.

Godoy will meet one of three Texans, Jack Marshall, Johnny Benson or J. D. Turner, in San Antonio, March 13, and also box in Houston, Dallas and El Paso, Weill said.

An open-air match with either Lee Oma or Tami Mauriello, under Mike Jacobs' promotion, is in the making for Tampa, Fla.

Baseball Prepares For Spring Camps

NEW YORK, March 3 (AP)—Manpower problems kept baseball on the anxious seat today as the first vanguard of major league clubs prepared to open spring training for a fourth wartime season.

Unsigned players far outnumbered those in the fold and most of the 16 teams refused to announce names of men under contract, hoping for the best when the deadline arrives.

While the managers will try to get their men into condition with a series of exhibition games and camp workouts, all eyes will be turned toward Washington where the course of the 1945 season will be determined.

Another Talk Due

Pending "work or else" legislation can alter the picture drastically but the real story will come from War Mobilizer James Byrnes. Presidents Ford Frick of the National and Will Harridge of the American Leagues are expected to have another conference with Byrnes after Congress acts on the manpower bill.

Washington also will be the first team to start spring training as a Manager Ossie Bleuge of the Senatros has issued a call to his batterymen to report at suburban College Park, Md., Wednesday, Mar. 7. The rest of the squad will start a week later.

The New York Yankees have received 14 signed contracts but club officials refused to give the players' names. The Yankees go to camp at Atlantic City Sunday, March 11 and the New York Giants report at Lakewood, N. J., the same day.

Next team into action after Washington will be the Chicago Cubs at French Lick, Ind., Thursday March 8. General Manager James Gallagher has not made an announcement on signed players but the Bruins had a 39-player roster at the latest report.

Others Start Soon

Five teams go to camp March 12, the Boston Braves to Washington; Cleveland to Lafayette, Ind., the Chicago White Sox to Terre Haute, Ind.; The St. Louis Browns to Cape Giradeau, Mo.; and the Philadelphia Athletics to Frederick, Md. Only the Browns, with four men on the dotted line, have let out any contract news.

The Phillies report at Wilmington, Del., March 14. On March 15 the Brooklyn Dodgers report at Bear Mountain, N. Y.; Boston Red Sox at Pleasantville, N. J., and Detroit at Evansville, Ind. Pittsburgh opens training at Muncie, Ind., March 16 and Cincinnati at Bloomington, Ind., and the St. Louis Cardinals at Cairo, Ill., March 19.

Exhibition games will start approximately March 25 and the regular season is due to get underway Apr. 16 in the American and the following day in the National.

Members of the Pacific Coast League are in training camps now. The International and American Association will follow soon after the majors, and the Southern Association will start work about Easter Sunday.

McSpaden And Snead In Lead

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 3. (AP)—Turning on the power, Slammin' Sammy Snead and Harold (Jug) McSpaden fired six-under-par 66's today to go into a first-place tie in the third round of the $5,000 Jacksonville Open golf tournament.

Their 200 total for the 54 holes placed them two strokes ahead of Ky Lafoon of Chicago, whose 66 today put him in second position with 202.

Big Bob Hamilton of Chicago, National PGA champion, who lead during the first two rounds, carded a 71 for a 203 total and third place.

The final 18 holes will be played tomorrow with Snead ranking a slight favorite to beat out McSpaden for first money. The Hot Springs, Va., slammer belted out prodigious drives today and his play around the greens was consistently accurate.

LAAF Squadron Loop Playoff This Week

Finance and Squadron C Line put the finishing touches on the successful Squadron Basketball league at Lubbock Army Air field Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights when they square off for the loop championship.

Title of the first half was not decided until Friday, when Finance took a 30-to-24 decision over Squadron C Hangar. Those two teams and Squadron I had been tied for the championship, but Finance eliminated both Hangar and Squadron I.

Line took a clean-cut title in the second half by winning seven games in a row.

Playoff for the league flag will be over the three-game series route, with the winner of two games being declared titlist. All games will be played in the post gymnasium.

The series will bring together the league's two top scorers, Edward McNelly of Finance and Guida Colla of Line. The former scored 172 points during 14 games of the regular season, while Colla counted 20 points fewer in 13 games.

Finance won only two games during the second half while Line was playing its best ball. But Finance has indicated by victories over both Squadron I and Hangar that it will be ready.

Five Teams Get Set For Southwest Race

(By The Associated Press)

Five Southwest Conference baseball teams—the largest number to participate in this sport in years—will be at it hard and heavy this week training for the opening of the championship race a month hence.

Each team will play a 12-game schedule, meaning it will meet every other team of the conference three times.

Texas, the defending champion, will be the favorite, as usual, but the Longhorns are not up to their usual standard in the pitching department—that is, they do not appear so at this time due to loss of Bobby Layne and Bob Dalzell to the service. However, the Longhorns will have Dave Philley, who has recovered from a sore arm that dulled his effectiveness last season, and Lefty Culp, who has considerable semi-pro experience.

Rice comes up with five lettermen, including Charley Bailey, pitcher. Texas A. and M. has only two lettermen back along with four squadmen but none are hurlers.

Southern Methodist and Texas Christian, returning to baseball after an absence of several years, know little about their prospects but S.M.U. will start off with a couple of promising pitchers. One is Skelton Napier of Wilmer-Hutchins; another is Harry Teal, the basketball star.

Dickens Wins Junior Tourney At Wilson

WILSON, March 3 (Special)—The high scoring Dickens Juniors were crowned winners of the Wilson High school invitation junior basketball tournament here tonight, beating Ropes in the finals, 23-11.

Dickens reached the finals with a 24-6 win over Wilson High school, while Ropes eliminated O'Donnell, 20-14, in the semi-finals.

Post won the consolation bracket, beating New Deal 20-10 in the finals.

In the consolation bracket, New Deal had beaten Wilson Grade school, 19-8, and beat Slaton, 17-6, to reach the finals. Post beat Southland, 33-20, in another consolation game early in the day.

The only other championship bracket game of the day was O'Donnell's 34-14 win over Wilson Grade school.

The Wilson girls defeated the Dickens girls 17-14, in an exhibition game tonight.

An all-tournament team was named, listing six men on the honor roll. They were Brownlow of O'Donnell, Bird of Post, Thompson of Dickens, Kahlich of Wilson, Moore of Ropes and Jordan of New Deal.

BILL ARLEN WINS

KANSAS CITY, March 3. (AP)—Bill Arlen, Iowa State, won the second leg on Glen Cunningham mile run trophy at the Big Six indoor track meet in Municipal Auditorium here tonight, easily beating Dale Dean, Missouri, in second place by 30 yards. His time was 4.27.9.

Auld Reekie is the Scottish name for Edinburgh.

Border Olympics To Have Colorful Entry

LAREDO, March 3. (AP)—Four colleges and seven service teams have already entered the thirteenth annual Border Olympics, the nation's first outdoor track and field meet, which is scheduled for next Friday night at Shirley field here.

The University of Texas, defending champion; the Oklahoma Aggies, Texas A. and M. and Southwest Texas State are the colleges lined up for the program while service teams filing entries are Laredo Army Air field, Randolph Field, Moore field, Kingsville Naval Air Station, Hondo Air field, Fort Sam Houston Reception Center and the San Antonio Aviation Cadet Center.

The universities and service teams will complete in one division.

Around 30 high schools are due to have teams here with at least five of them from San Antonio.

Sgt. Ted Haese of the Fort Sam Houston Reception Center, who was high point man of the military division last year, is returning. He is a sprinter and jumper. Franklin Crow, University of Texas Southwest Conference low hurdles champion, and Coy Porter, his teammate who took the broad jump, are top stars from the Longhorn team.

Coach Ralph Higgins of Oklahoma A. and M. is bringing a strong team headed by Bob Fenimore, All-America football player who is a star sprinter.

No team outside of Texas ever has managed to win the Olympics but the Oklahoma Aggies are accorded a good chance of doing it this time.

August Erfurth, the Brackenridge (San Antonio) state champion high hurdler, and Perry Samuels, Jefferson (San Antonio) speedster, are top schoolboy stars to compete.

St. Louis Nines Get Ready For Season

ST. LOUIS, March 3. (AP)—Sam Breadon, president of the St. Louis Cardinals, announced today the World Champions will begin spring training at Cairo, Ill., March 19.

Breadon declined to reveal the number of Cardinals who have returned signed contracts but said negotiations were proceeding about "the same as last year" and that he was satisfied he would be able to field a team.

Meanwhile, Vice-President Bill Dewitt of the St. Louis Browns, American League champions, announced the signing of four more players—shortstop Vernon Stephens, catcher Tom Turner and pitchers Sig Juakucki and Sam Zoldak. All are classified 4-F.

The Browns now have announced eight players contract for spring training which starts March 12 at Cape Girardeau, Mo.

Closed Shop Flayed By Smith At Snyder

SNYDER, March 3 (Special) — Lt. Gov. John Lee Smith assailed the closed shop as the greatest handicap returning servicemen will face, in an address before 450 people gathered for the annual banquet of the Scurry County Chamber of Commerce.

"It has come to a pretty pass," Smith said, "when returning vets have to pay union dues for the right to work—the right they are dying for this very day. We are trying, in the legislature, to give returning vets the chance to work without having to pay any kind of dues. The closed shop should have no place in Texas."

Smith was introduced by Clifton Rogers, master of ceremonies. Delegations were present from Roby, Gail, Colorado City, Sweetwater, Big Spring and Stamford.

FDR Combined Diversified Support To Win Fourth Term; Gallup "Breaks Vote Down"

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J.—President Franklin D. Roosevelt was reelected to the Presidency last November for a fourth term principally because he was able to draw support from extremely diverse groups in the civilian voting population.

From an analyst's point of view, civilian voting behavior in the 1944 election was in many cases far from "normal." Voting patterns were interrupted and well established trends disappeared.

GALLUP

It was a combination of renewed support among business, professional, as well as white collar people on the one hand, and despite some defection, the continued heavy support among labor (especially union labor) on the other that brought about a Roosevelt victory.

In other words, for the first time since 1932, the sharp economic cleavage marking political behavior tended to diminish. Other issues' principally the war, became dictating factors.

For example, the steady defection from Roosevelt among business, professional, and white collar people was not only brought to a halt, but the President actually registered gains in all three groups.

Gains With Roosevelt

His greatest gain came from voters in the business group, where his vote was seven points above that of 1940. He made a four point gain among professional people, and a three point gain among white collar workers.

In spite of the Roosevelt gains, however, Governor Dewey carried a comfortable majority among both business and professional people; but white collar workers, who in 1940 gave Wilkie's a majority of their votes, this time gave the President a slight edge in their group.

Farmers, continuing their movement away from Roosevelt, which started in 1936, gave Governor Dewey more than half of their vote in November.

These facts are shown by the following percentages of Roosevelt civilian vote among the various occupational groups, according to the 1940 and 1944 preferences of those interviewed:

Meanwhile the vast majority among the labor vote again backed President Roosevelt in November, but at the same time defection from Roosevelt in the ranks of labor continued in 1944. The President's support among labor was off four per cent from 1940.

However, as the following table shows, this defection occurred among non-union labor:

LABOR VOTE

	% for F.D.R. 1944	1940
All Labor	62%	66%
Unions (A. F. L., C. I. O., Others Combined)	72	72
Non-Union Labor	54	64

A comparison of the civilian vote in the great urban centers—cities with populations of more than 500,000 — with the vote of voters from the nation's farms and small towns emphasizes a fact apparent in 1936 and again this year. This is the tendency toward centralization of Democratic power in the big cities as contrasted to the growing Republican strength in the rural and farm areas.

Here is a table illustrating this fact:

VOTE FOR F. D. R.
By Size of Town

	% for 1944	F.D.R. 1940
Cities over 500,000	61%	61%
Cities 10,000 to 500,000	54	54
Towns under 10,000	49	53

Culbertson Protests Export Of Texas Gas

AUSTIN, March 3. (AP)—Railroad Commission Chairman Olin Culberson today protested "further depletion" of Texas natural gas reserves.

He was commenting on the filing with the Federal Power commission in Washington of an application by the Metropolitan Eastern corporation to construct an 18-inch line from East Texas to Ohio. The 825-mile line would carry 140,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily.

Culberson said the backers of such lines would "deprive posterity of their rightful heritage."

Two other members of the commission have not expressed their views. Culberson said if they would not join him in a protest, he would voice it individually.

Interstate pipelines now carry natural gas from fields in the Texas Panhandle and from the vicinity of Corpus Christi to other states.

Oil Drilling Activities Well Ahead Of 1944

TULSA, Okla., March 3 (AP) — Drilling activities throughout the nation are running well ahead of 1944, although severe wintry storms this week halted or reduced operations in many fields of the southwestern states.

Well completions last week totaled 460 bringing to 3,678 the total from Jan. 1 to Feb. 24. During the corresponding period last year, 2,833 had been finished.

The completions last week were six below the preceding week but 54 above the like week a year ago. Because of snow, sleet and ice storms, this week's reports were expected to show a drop, particularly for Oklahoma, Kansas and northern Texas.

Despite the critical manpower and materials shortages, crude oil production again set a new all-time record last week for the second straight week. The daily average output rose to 4,777,250 barrels—but still below the five million plus quota set by the petroleum administration for war.

Civilian grade gasoline increased 1,688,000 barrels during the week to 30,953,000, while military gasoline stores were fast dwindling. Refiners reported the civilian gasoline increase was mostly seasonal and predicted the inventories would begin decreasing with the start of the heavy spring agriculture demand in March.

The shortage of kerosene and heavy burning oils continued critical, with no sign of relief until spring weather arrives.

Zeal For Education Saves Yank's Life

A U. S. EIGHTH AIRFORCE BOMBER STATION, England, March 3. (AP)—A zeal for a college education probably saved an Air Corps sergeant's life.

Yesterday it was announced Lt. Emmett Turner, jr., of Stratford, Tex., pumped life by artificial respiration into Sgt. Donald Houck, of Appleton City, Mo.

Houck had tripped, fallen partly into the ball turret. His oxygen mask was ripped off and he was pinned down. He had been unconscious an hour and one-half when Turner, 22-year-old co-pilot, went to work.

Before entering the Army, Turner worked as an orderly at a veterans hospital at Amarillo, Tex., to make money to continue his schooling.

20 NAZI SHIPS SUNK

LONDON, March 3. (AP) — The Moscow radio reported tonight that in the past fortnight Russian naval and air forces have sunk more than 20 German warships and transports attempting to relieve Nazi forces isolated on the Baltic coast.

Almost $65,000,000 was spent for perfumes and toilet waters in the United States in 1943.

Chiefs To Order Work Resumed

WASHINGTON, March 3. (AP) — Union leaders agreed today to order resumption of work Monday by Detroit strikers whose week-long walkout has stopped some war production and imperiled more.

The pledge came on an agreement with officials of the Chrysler corporation, whose plants are principally affected, to this effect:

1. The men go back to their benches on the Monday morning shift.

2. There will be no company reprisals against the strikers.

3. The eight men whose discharge for allegedly failing to meet production rate requirements set off the strike, will go through grievance machinery to see if they shall have their jobs back.

4. The production rate requirements themselves will be submitted to arbitration.

Over 24,000 Involved

A total of more than 24,000 are affected by the Chrysler strikes—18,743 strikers and 5,750 laid off for lack of parts — plus 10,750 idle at Briggs Manufacturing company.

The War Labor board, during the day, heard company testimony that the Chrysler strikes have "completely stopped production" of such vital war items as tanks, trucks and B-29 assemblies.

And unless the strikes are stopped — which international union officers of the CIO-UAW said they already had been trying their hardest to do—still other war necessities will be hit, the board was told.

Richard T. Frankensteen, UAW vice president, told the board that the international union intends "to live up to the no-strike pledge to the best of our ability."

Management Blamed

But while saying the union heads are "unalterably opposed" to the strike, Frankensteen laid much of the blame on the Chrysler management.

The board held hearings, as Chairman William H. Davis put it, "to find out why this production of vital war materials was interrupted and get that production started again." The WLB, failing this, could fall back on the White House for an order for government seizure.

Western Front

northern anchor of Xanten on the Rhine.

The Canadians fell back into the eastern fringe of the Hochwald, two and a half miles from the strategic city, and dug in to wait for reinforcements. They were shelling the Xanten ferry, however.

Farther west, they had everything their own way as the fleeing Germans departed without even the usual rearguards.

Patton's Moselle Front

Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's Third Army welded a solid front along the Moselle route to the Rhine when the 76th Infantry division linked up with the Tenth Armored division conquerors of Trier near that fallen fortress.

The Tenth Armored in a one-mile gain reached a junction of the Kyll and Moselle rivers, three miles northeast of Trier.

Into prison cages in the last 24 hours went 4,000 German soldiers, some weary troops surrendering in groups as large as 100 men.

North of Trier, the Third Army was battling through the Eifel hills, straightening a line running 35 miles up to the fallen enemy base of Pruem.

Soldiers Rate Over Big Three Conferees

AUSTIN, March 3 (U.P.)—Under instruction from General George C. Marshall, a planeload of fresh beef that arriyed at Teheran was served to soldiers instead of the Big Three conferees, Capt. James L. Cooper reported on his return to Camp Swift, near here today.

Cooper, a New Orleans restauranter in civilian life, supervised meals for the conferees.

"The day the conference opened a planeload of fresh beef arrived," he related. "Now we could have served it to the conferees, but when General Marshall found out that the soldiers had not had any fresh meat for a long time he ordered that the troops get the beef. So, for a few meals, the conferees ate a canned variety.

"Food at the conference was army issue supplemented by fresh gazelle and fish, mostly trout. President Roosevelt, Stalin and Churchill were served at the Russian embassy, while their staffs ate at the officers' club."

War Supply Upset By London Dock Strikes

LONDON, March 3 (AP)—With the flow of war supplies to the western front threatened by a strike of 7,000 dock workers and stevedores, the war office sent British soldiers to the port of London today to load continent-bound vessels.

Simultaneously, the strike spread to cold storage depots at Smithfield and Blackfriars and on the riverside, a development which may affect the nation's meat supply.

The strike, which was not sanctioned by the union, began three days ago as a protest against suspension of some workers accused of absenteeism.

Liberated Yanks Arrive In Odessa

MOSCOW, March 3, (AP) — More than 1,500 American, British and Canadian soldiers liberated from German prison camps by the Russian Army have arrived at a repatriation camp in Odessa, it was announced here tonight.

British and American military missions in Moscow expressed appreciation over Russian cooperation in moving the officers and soldiers to a base for transfer home.

Hendryx Says Jap Atrocities Have No Equal In All History

"If the people in the United States could see what the Japs have done to Manila and innocent people living here, I don't believe there would be a live Jap left in the United States. The mass murder and wanton destruction perpetrated by them has no comparison in the annals of history," James Leroy Hendryx, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hendryx of 2212 Twenty-second, wrote his parents from the Philippines Feb. 15 after being freed from the Santo Tomas interment camp at Manila.

Hendryx, a graduate of Lubbock High school in 1936, and an employe of a contracting firm in Manila before the war, also wrote that "When I was interned on Jan. 2, 1942, I weighed 205 pounds, needless to say somewhat overweight. The last time I weighed, on or about Jan. 18, 1945, I tipped the scales at 127 pounds, needless to say somewhat underweight. But that is over now and we are beginning to get a little food.

"We were brought into Santo Tomas Jan. 6, 1942, and for the first six months suffered considerable hardship and privation. The Japs wouldn't give us any food, so all we got to eat was that which the Filipinos gave us."

Hendryx' wife and child, he wrote, were not interned and lived in Manila during the Japanese occupation. After the liberation by MacArthur's troops, the family was reunited.

B-29s Lash Tokyo

for the first time in weeks. Four Nippon bombers caused some damage and casualties near Lingayen city. One Japanese plane was shot down.

150 Ruthlessly Slain

In a special press release General MacArthur disclosed that 150 helpless American war prisoners —soldiers, sailors and Marines— were ruthlessly slaughtered with flaming gasoline and gunfire at Puerto Princesa, Palawan island, last December. Only five escaped.

Yank bombers from Philippines bases raided widely throughout the archipelago and unloaded 170 tons of bombs on Formosan war plants. Three airdromes in Borneo felt the weight of 197 tons of explosives.

Heavy fighting marked the slow advance of the three Marine divisions on the Japanese-held northern third of Iwo, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz reported in his Sunday communique.

Maj. Gen. Graves B. Erskine's Third division forged ahead 200 to 400 yards, deepening a wedge which is threatening to cut the interlocked Japanese defense line in two.

Fourth Division Stalled

Only mortar and small arms fire from the defenders was reported but the Fourth division on the right flank was held to a virtual stalemate as the Fifth progressed slightly beyond a promontory on the left.

The southern Iwo airfield, already in use by artillery spotting planes, has been enlarged to accomodate heavier transports used in evacuating wounded.

As the furious Iwo fighting approached a climax Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nibitz disclosed a double strike against the southern approaches to the Japanese homeland. Carrier planes blasted a half dozen islands in the Ryukyu chain, some 900 miles west of Iwo, while warships, in their closest approach of the war to Japan's main islands, bombarded Okino Daito, 350 miles south of the Nippon homeland. Okino is 700 miles west of Iwo.

On Iwo the Leathernecks were inching over 600 yards of rough terrain covered with partly buried defense positions. Their objective was a cliff where the Japanese probably will make a desperate stand. Beyond the cliff was open ground sloping down to the nearby sea. The Japanese lacked artillery support and drinking water.

Admiral Nimitz reported that warships of the mighty Pacific fleet moved in Thursday night to bombard Okino Daito. During daylight the same day carrier planes lashed the Ryukyus. The naval pilots destroyed or damaged 55 ships and 91 planes. Their targets included airfields, barracks, warehouses, mills and lumber yards and radio stations. Admiral Nimitz said the carrier planes operated without enemy air opposition." Thirteen American planes and eight fliers were lost.

Radio Tokyo reported two raids by single American Superfortresses on Japan's home islands. One bombed the region of Matsumoto, Honshu, while the other attacked Tosa bay area of Shikoku islands.

Jobs For 56,000,000 Seen By Manufacturer

NEW YORK, March 3 (AP) — American industry will provide 3,400,000 to 4,400,000 more jobs after reconversion than existed in 1939, and with comparable increases in other lines there will be work for 56,000,000 individuals, Ira Mosher, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, said today.

The NAM forecast was only slightly under the goal of 60,000,000 set by Commerce Secretary Henry Wallace and other administration leaders.

Mosher based his estimate of manufacturing employment gains on an NAM survey of specific plans of 1,755 individual manufacturers. Inquiry was made in every section of the country, and into every type of production.

'SHE'S' A HE!—For two years Jacques F. (full name withheld for security reasons), 17-year-old Jewish boy, eluded Nazis in his French village by posing as a girl (top), after Germans had closed his father's tailor shop, sent his family to Germany. When Yanks liberated the town, Jacques resumed his true personality, as seen below.

Vast Search On For Gen. Harmon

By REMBERT JAMES
Associated Press Staff Writer

U. S. ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Pacific Ocean Areas, Honolulu, March 3.—The Pacific's greatest aerial and surface ships search was on today for Lt. Gen. Millard F. Harmon, commander of Army Air forces in the Pacific, and nine other officers and men reported missing on an transocean flight.

The announcement that Harmon's plane was overdue and that the search had been ordered was made here by Lt. Gen. Robert C. Richardson, jr., Army commander of the Pacific Ocean areas.

Details Not Given

No information was given as to time or places, but it was disclosed that the last heard from the converted bomber used by Harmon was a radio report saying the plane had plenty of fuel and was traveling in good weather over calm seas.

The others aboard included:

Brig. Gen. James B. Andersen, Washington, D. C., Harmon's chief of staff.

Col. William Ball, Washington, D. C., executive officer for the deputy commander of operations, Army Air forces, Pacific Ocean areas.

Maj. Frances E. Savage, Tioga, Tex., pilot; Maj. Archibald D. Anderson, Brookings, N. D., navigator; 1st Lt. Jack M. West, Chicago, co-pilot; M/Sgt. Douglas O. Anderson, La Center, Wash., engineer; T/Sgt. Steve Geist, Brooklyn, N. Y., radio operator; Pfc. Arthur Ofner, Kansas City, assistant engineer; a technical sergeant named McInerney (full name not available).

Harmon, 57, a native of San Francisco, also is a deputy commander of the 20th Air force, operating the B-29 raids against Japan.

He has been in the Pacific since the early days of the war and was commander of the Army air and ground forces in the South Pacific during the Solomons campaign. A West Pointer, he won the Distinguished Service Medal as a fighter pilot in the last war.

WLB Members Urge General Wage Hike

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—AFL members of the War Labor board, sharply differing with the public members appealed directly to President Roosevelt today to boost wages generally by 11 per cent.

Challenging the finding of the public members, who reported to President Roosevelt 10 days ago that a break in the Little Steel wage formula was not advisable at this time, the American Federation of Labor members used the report's figures to bolster their own argument.

"Wage rates have increased by 19 per cent," the AFL members said, picking this figure from the public members' report. "The cost of living has increased — based upon official figures—by 30 per cent.

"To correct the maladjustment between wages and the cost of living—when measured by the same standard that was used when the Little Steel formula was adopted —an adjustment of approximately 11 per cent is justifiable."

There are 461,000,000 acres of commercial forest lands in the United States.

Two Slightly Injured In Traffic Mishaps

Two persons were injured slightly in traffic mishaps here Saturday.

C. R. Allbright, 17, of 1101 Thirty-second, was in Lubbock General hosptal last night for observation of a head injury. Police said he was the driver of the automobile which struck separately two cars on Texas Ave. They expressed belief that the wound was not serious.

Police said Allbright's car first hit a car driven by Mrs. J. W. Harrison, of 1507 Twenty-seventh, in 1100-block Texas Ave., then crashed into a vehicle driven by Harold Long, 30, of 212 Eighteenth, apartment C, in 1000-block Texas Ave.

Allbright was detained by motorcycle Patrolman Charles Lackey in 500-block Ave. H. Neither Mrs. Harrison nor Long was reported hurt.

U. S. To Get 100,000 More Nazi Prisoners

WASHINGTON, March 3. (AP) — The War department said today an additional 100,000 German prisoners will be transferred to the United States. This will bring the total of Nazis now in camps in this country to more than 400,000.

The purpose is two-fold, the Army said: to ease the burden of guarding the prisoners in Europe and to help the acute labor shortage in the United States.

A previous announcement had placed the total of German prisoners in the United States on February 1 at 305,867.

In a recent labor use survey by the nine Army Service commands and other agencies, farmers indicated that it would be difficult to plant and harvest their crops this season without additional prisoner of war help. Prisoners are being used in increasing numbers by the Army and Navy in work not directly connected with the war effort.

The prisoners, in accordance with War department policy, will be employed only on essential work for which no civilian labor is available based on certificates issued by the War Manpower commission, or the War Food administration.

Heavy Bomber Missing From Idaho Air Base

MOUNTAIN HOME, Idaho, March 3. (AP) — A B-24 Liberator bomber from Mountain Home Army Air field with nine men aboard is overdue.

Idaho Civil Air Patrol fliers headed for southeastern Oregon in the vicinity of the border town of MsDermitt, Nev.

Those aboard the missing plane included:

Corp. Jack E. Carter, son of Mrs. Nannie B. Carter, route 1, Shelbyville, Tex.

Couple Gives Three Million To Hospitals

HOUSTON, March 3 (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Cullen today increased their gifts to Houston hospitals to $3,000,000. The money will be used for expanding the facilities of three institutions.

Announcement was made Friday afternoon of the gift of $1,000,000 each to Memorial and Hermann hospitals. This morning, announcement was made that the Methodist hospital also would be given $1,000,000.

After the Germans smashed into Poland in 1939, they took Lodz, and renamed it Litzmannstadt in honor of their war hero, Gen. Karl Litzmann.

News Briefs

Four white men paid fines of $15 each on charges of gambling with dice after their arrest Saturday afternoon by Capt. Lewis Kittrell and Bill Lamb of the police.

A grass fire which threatened a shed of Builders Supply Co., 1515 Ave. H, was extinguished about 6 o'clock Saturday night by firemen.

Debbs Crawford, charged in a federal complaint with possession of stolen gasoline rationing coupons, posted bond of $5,000 Saturday afternoon, the sheriff's department announced. Crawford previously had posted bonds in two car theft cases here and in a burglary case in Floyd county.

Miss Clarice Nedbalek, daughter of Mrs. J. J. Nedbalek of Caldwell, Texas, and Staff Sgt. Harlon W. Redwine, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Redwine of Portales, N. M. and now stationed at Lubbock Army Air field, were married in the Post Chapel at LAAF Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Capt. Arlyn E. Conard, Protestant chaplain, performed the ceremony. Pfc. Minnie Aycock of the WAC detachment played for the occasion.

Japs Streamline Government Due To 'Decisive War'

(By The Associated Press)

The Imperial Japanese cabinet has adopted a program of streamlining Japan's departmental system of government "in line with the decisive war," radio Tokyo announced today.

The broadcast, recorded by the Federal Communications commission, reported the departmental plans will be "materialized speedily and resolutely after conferring with the cabinet."

Radio Tokyo also said Premier Kuniaki Koiso presided over a "heated" meeting of the new wartime commodity price council and that "basic problems of the price policy, as well as its execution, were threshed out."

Cyclonic Wind Sweeps Central Texas Town

KOSSE, March 3 (AP)—A cyclonic wind swept this central Texas community early today, destroying several farm buildings, uprooting trees and tangling communications lines.

At Blue Ridge in Falls county, eighty miles west of here, wind destroyed the Harlan gin sheds and scattered numerous farm buildings. Three inches of rain fell during the storm.

Manuel McElroy and his wife, negroes, were injured when their home here collapsed in the wind. He was taken to a hospital for treatment.

No other injuries were reported.

Godfrey Jennings, Kosse merchant, said the funnel-shaped cloud approached the town from the west but made a hairpin turn southwest of the city avoiding the populated area.

Operators Recoil From Lewis Plan

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP) — Soft coal operators recoiled from John L. Lewis' contract demands today with the cry that they would cost at least $400,000,000 a year.

"This means a daily increase to each mine worker of $3.30 per day," said Charles O'Neill, spokesman for the operators who are negotiating with Lewis' United Mine Workers.

"Some items are impossible of calculation and would further increase the cost of production," O'Neill's statement said.

Lewis' demands, including one new to coal negotiations for a 10-cent royalty to the miners' union on every ton of coal mined, are so constructed that the UMW chief contends they would not disturb the Little Steel wage formula at all.

Six Escape Serious Injury In Collision

Six persons escaped serious injury, although suffering bruises and mild shock, in a collision of two automobiles about 8:30 o'clock Saturday night three miles northeast of Lubbock on the Idalou highway.

According to Sgt. John Hollyfield of the highway patrol, occupants of the Lubbock-bound car were Ben Estes Bearden, 16, driver, and Charles Neff, 16, both of near Idalou; of the Idalou-bound car, Stacey Hugh Starrett, Mrs. Starrett and their two small children, of Crosbyton star route, and Starrett's sister-in-law, Mrs. T. H. Webb, of near Crosbyton.

Sgt. Hollyfield said the cars came together off the pavement after Bearden had passed on Starrett's side of the road a third car. Both drivers swerved their cars toward the bar ditch in an attempt to avoid a collision.

Sinatra Disqualified For Military Duty

JERSEY CITY, N. J., March 3 (AP)—Crooner Frank Sinatra has been disqualified again for military duty, and classified as engaged in work "necessary to the national health, safety and interest," draft officials announced today.

Ira W. Caldwell, chairman of Sinatra's local draft board, said that if the board had not considered the crooner's work so important it would have marked him "non essential" and thus forced him into some branch of the armed forces or a war job.

A punctured ear drum, basis of the physical disqualification by military examiners, was the only thing found wrong with the crooner, Caldwell said.

The local board will ask for a report from Sinatra's employers on whether they claim he is "essential," and then will decide whether it agrees.

Caldwell said Sinatra had been classified 2-A-F until September by Hudson county local board 19.

Farwell Man Struck By Car And Killed

FARWELL, Tex., March 3. (AP)—J. D. Thomas, 40, an attorney, was fatally injured when struck by a car here Friday.

Thomas, a former county attorney of Parmer county, had just left the postoffice and was crossing main street when hit. The driver of the car said he was blinded by the sun. Thomas was taken to a hospital in Clovis, where he died Friday afternoon.

Thomas was born in Springtown, Tex., where he graduated from high school. He came to Farwell in 1925 and has practiced law here since.

FINNS DECLARE WAR

HELSINKI, March 3 (AP)— The Finnish government declared formally tonight that a state of war exists between Finland and Germany.

Congratulations To:

Pvt. and Mrs. Joe Mauldin of Ropesville on birth of a son weighing 10 pounds 8 ounces at 11:30 o'clock Saturday night at St. Mary's hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver J. Aycock, 1916 Sixteenth, on birth of a daughter weighing 7 pounds 14 ounces at 6:40 a. m. Saturday in St. Mary's hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Robinson of Post on the birth of a son weighing 7 pounds 12 ounces at 5 a. m. Saturday in Lubbock General hospital.

Gen. Romulo Reunited With Wife, Two Sons

MANILA, March 3. (AP)—Brig. Gen. Carlos Romulo, Philippine resident commissioner in the United States and now with Gen. Douglas MacArthur in the Philippines, was reunited with his wife, two sons and brother-in-law last night after four 14th Corps Artillery planes landed behind Japanese lines and picked up Romulo's family.

Two other sons are with the Philippine forces.

First Lt. Lloyd Sheetz of Topeka, Kans., flew the plane that brought Mrs. Romulo from her refuge in Laguna province of Luzon island where she had eluded the Nipponese for three years.

First Lt. William Dorn, London, Ohio, flew one son out and First Lt. John Norcross, Beverly Hills, Calif., brought out the other. First Lt. Howard Linn, Denison, Tex., brought out Mrs. Romulo's brother.

The pilots learned of the whereabouts of the Romulos from guerrillas. Then they flew into the area and landed on a roadway.

Nothing New In FDR Report, Japs Claim

(By The Associated Press)

Sasao Iguchi, spokesman for the Japanese board of information, told a press conference there was "nothing new" in President Roosevelt's report to the United States Congress on the Yalta conference, Tokyo radio said today.

Aguchi said the president's address was "merely a repetition of the Crimea communique" issued during the Big Three conference. The enemy broadcast was monitored by the FCC.

PIANO CHEERS AIRMEN

A 7th AAF FIGHTER BASE IN THE MARIANAS, Mar. 3. (U.P.)—A battered piano which arrived at this AAF forward base piecemeal, is affording relaxation for fliers busy in pounding the enemy. The instrument was bought at a Honolulu auction and was carried into the Marianas in sections, some of the pieces in pilots' pockets, and now it is the pride of the "ready shack." It's the only piano in the Marianas and despite a few missing keys and a few warped parts, it is dear to the hearts of the boys whose job is to destroy Japanese.

FINISH MILDLY IRREGULAR

NEW YORK, March 3 (AP)—The stock market still had to contend with profit cashing today and, after a fairly good week, finished with a display of mild irregularity.

Prices were spotty from the start. Initial losses running to a point or so were reduced in the final quarter hour. Active dealings in a new low-quoted issues put the two-hour volume at 680,000 shares compared with 820,000 in the preceding short session. A few rails, utilities and gold mines ended on the upside.

The Associated Press 60-stock average was unchanged at 62 but for the week showed a net advance of 1 a point. Of 790 issues appearing, 306 were down, 263 up and 221 unchanged.

Safeway Stores added 1⅝ to its Friday's jump in further reflection of the 3-for-1 split-up proposal. Standard gas $6 preferred was up 1⅞, in response to court disapproval of the company's reorganization plan.

Bonds and commodities were uneven.

Among curb gainers were Creole Petroleum, American Cynamid and United Cigar. Turnover here was 250,000 shares versus 240,000 last Saturday.

Cotton..

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, March 3 (AP) — The cotton futures market opened in a narrow range today with traders cautious because of war and price control uncertainties. Light liquidation and hedging depressed the near months while scattered trade and outside buying encountered a scarcity of offerings in the new crop deliveries. Spot cotton markets were quiet.

Futures closed 10 cents a bale lower to 35 cents higher.

LIFELINE FROM HOME: YOUR RED CROSS

All the love and wishing in the world can't get through the barbed wire of an enemy prison camp. No authority, from our President through our top-ranking generals, can crash its gates. Our American prisoners-of-war are alone . . . except FOR THE RED CROSS

The Red Cross gets through . . . with letters, with food, with hope from home. If this were all the Red Cross did, it would be enough. But it is only a small part. The Red Cross follows our fighting men into the front lines, into their fox holes, into the very fire of the enemy. It cares for them as you would, if you could.

You can't. BUT YOU CAN HELP THE RED CROSS HELP THEM. Don't measure, don't count. Give as generously as THEY are giving

Spring Thaws Due Soon May Delay Final German Military Collapse

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

Impending spring weather in western Europe might delay a final German military collapse.

It is hardly more than days before spring thaws must be reckoned with by both the Russians and the Allies. Spring floods, particularly in Poland across which run for hundreds of miles vital Russian supply lines, offer great transportation problems to be overcome if that two front victory drive is to go through without pause.

SIMPSON

There are intimations from Moscow that the pause in the main Russian drive on Berlin at the Oder-Neisse line has been due in part to bringing up supplies and equipment across Poland on a scale to meet that spring danger.

Worse On Russians

Spring thaws at the end of an unusually hard winter will trouble General Eisenhower's supply forces but not to the same extent as it will the Russians. Allied communication lines run over hard surfaced French, Belgian, Dutch and German highways. The deeper into Germany the troops get the better the road systems.

In addition to bringing up additional forces and massing supplies near the front on the final drive on Berlin and Dresden or both, however, the Russians have very obviously withheld that attack on the Oder to accomplish other essential purposes. They were to widen the Warthe corridor to the Oder, and to secure its flanks against any possibility of a Nazi counter attack of major scope.

Ukrainian troops on the south of the White Russian Army along the middle Oder pushed up the Neisse and bolstered their own left flank against the Sudenten mountains. On the north a Russian break-through in Pomerania has closely approached the Baltic shore line east of Stettin if it has not actually reached the sea.

Manpower Bill Is Stalemated

WASHINGTON, March 3. (U.P.)—The first week of Senate debate on work or fight legislation was ended today with no sign of a decision in sight. The picture as the Senate took its week-end recess was more complex than it was at the start of debate last Monday.

Senate Democratic Leader Alben W. Barkley acknowledged the situation in closing the first week of debate last night.

"We have made no headway," he observed. "We have three measures before us — the house bill, the committee bill and the proposed substitute. I urge the Senators to return Monday prepared to make some speed. I hope we will limit discussion on most of the pending amendments."

Final Vote Nears

Barkley told reporters he hoped to reach a final vote by Wednesday or Thursday of next week. Even then, there still will be work to be done before any new manpower rules can become law.

Administration leaders reportedly were swinging behind the compromise bill offered by Sen. Chapman Revercomb, (R-W. Va.), as the best means of salvaging some trace of the house-passed May-Bailey bill.

The Revercomb bill requires any man between 18 and 45 not engaged in "substantial work in some lawful occupation" to report for induction. If he is not accepted by the armed forces the local draft board would certify his name to the War Manpower commission for assignment to a war job.

Administration forces are believed anxious to amend the provision to read "any lawful occupation in support of the war effort."

Regardless of what the Senate does the final form of any new law will have to be worked out in conference between representatives of the two Houses of Congress.

Major provisions of the three principal proposals to which Barkley referred are as follows:

House bill—aimed at 4-F's in non-essential jobs, it would authorize drafting of all men from 18 to 45 for essential war work under penalty of $10,000 fine and five years imprisonment.

Aims At Labor Hoarding

Committee bill—aimed at labor hoarding, it would give the War Manpower commission legal authority to investigate labor requirements of any industry, impose ceilings on the number of workers that could be retained and regulate hiring of new workers. The penalty for violation would be $10,000 fine and one year in jail.

Revercomb substitute — aimed at "loafers," it would permit a labor draft of men 18 to 45 not already engaged in a lawful occupation. It would retain the manpower ceiling theory but prevent WMC from cutting personnel below one half the number already employed.

Rollie C. Burns Rites Set Today

Final homage will be paid to Rollie C. Burns, 87, pioneer cowboy and rancher of West Texas and one of the founders of the city of Lubbock, when funeral services are held at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon in First Christian church.

Services will be conducted by Rev. H. G. Gantz, pastor, and Dr. J. M. Lewis, pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

Pall bearers will be Dr. Ewell L. Hunt, Bob Crump, Walter Davies, Eric Shipp, Will McCrummen, Barrett Penney, J. O. Jones and Henry Mahoney.

Burial will be in Lubbock cemetery under direction of Rix Funeral home.

Died Friday Night

Mr. Burns, whose life spanned many phases of West Texas history, died Friday night in West Texas hospital after an extended period of failing health.

In 1932, Dr. W. C. Holden, head of the department of history and anthropology at Texas Tech, published a book, "Rollie Burns," in which the early-day history of West Texas cowpokes and ranchers is recorded as told to him by Mr. Burns.

In the introduction to the book, Dr. Holden said, "I found Mr. Burns to be a splendid source for historical information. He was on the Plains before the Indians were forced onto the reservations; he saw the great buffalo herds a year before the first commercial hide hunters entered the Panhandle; he witnessed the development of the cattle industry through the free range phase and them the enclosed ranching period; he saw the big ranch give way before the onslaught of nesters; he helped found a city and stood by while agriculture slowly became supreme on the South Plains."

Many Other Stories

Many other stories of the colorful life of the pioneer have been written in the last few years. He was always ready to recount the old days but as he said once, "I live in the present; the past is something to enjoy only in memories."

He served in the early days of Lubbock county as county commissioner for eight years and as tax assessor - collector for 14 years. "No one would believe in those days that Lubbock would grow into a thriving city," he said many times.

Survivors are a daughter, Mrs. R. H. McCrummen of 3204 Ave. T, with whom he lived, two sons, Garza Burns of Lubbock, George Burns of Los Angeles and nine grandchildren.

Native Of Missouri

Born in Missouri, he came to Texas with his parents at the age of 4. They settled at Denison which was also the home of the girl who became his wife, Miss Mary Emma Boles. She died in 1934. Mrs. Burns was a sister of the late George Boles, another noted Lubbock county pioneer.

His first association with ranching business was in 1881 when he became a hand for the "22" ranch near Crosbyton. In 1883, he left the "22" ranch to work for the Currycomb, owned by the Llano Cattle company which lay south of the "22." He was first a cowhand but later became manager.

He became manager of the Square and Campass ranch, which spread south of the Currycomb property, in 1884. After four years at this job, he was made manager of the OIA ranch, which covered what is now the south half of Lubbock county. In 1896, he obtained a ranch of his own and by 1898, he had 4,448 acres of his own and leased another 3,250 acres. With this tract of 7,730 acres he started the Idlewild ranch and began raising registered Herefords. The ranch was in the eastern part of Lubbock county.

Bus And Mail Line

In 1907 he sold the ranch for $25,000 and moved to Lubbock where he started a bus and mail line from Plainview to Lubbock. This he operated with "chain-driven" Buicks until 1909 when the railroad reached Lubbock.

"As long as I stayed in the cattle business I prospered," he said, "but when I left the only vocation I knew, every venture that I made was for the worse."

No one ever disputed Burns' claim that he was the first man to experiment with cotton on the South Plains, now one of the nation's most productive cotton areas. In 1912, he planted three or four acres southeast of the city to "see if it would grow." It did grow—to the extent of a half bale to the acre.

Turned Cows On It

There was no means for processing the cotton and he let his cows eat it.

He was associated with Frank Wheelock, John T. Lofton, James Harrison and W. E. Rayner in starting the townsite of Lubbock in 1890. He gave a section of land adjoining the original town of Lubbock to W. M. Lay, who then resided in Crosby county, to entice him to move to Lubbock and run for sheriff. The land now comprises the Overton addition in Lubbock.

House Due To Pass Nurses Draft Bill

WASHINGTON, March 3 (U.P.)—The House today appeared to be certain of passing some form of bill to draft women nurses for the armed forces.

Both Democratic and Republican leaders agreed that the needs of the sick and wounded servicemen made nurse conscription legislation a must.

"We must care for our fighting men" Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin, jr., Mass., said late yesterday after a Republican conference on the administration-requested nurse draft bill which comes before the House Monday. "Some Republicans believe the Army bungled when it lowered its nurse enlistment quotas, but we all agree we must provide for the men who are fighting for us."

Martin emphasized that the Republicans will not oppose the measure, but he predicted heated debate and many amendments which will probably delay a vote until Wednesday.

Democratic Leader John W. McCormack, Mass., also forecast victory for the legislation.

Actress Back On Job After Hectic Wedding

HOLLYWOOD, March 3 (U.P.)—Jo Carroll Dennison, Miss America of 1942 and former Miss Tyler, today began life as Mrs. Phil Silvers by reporting to work at her motion picture studio.

She and the movie comedian were married yesterday in a ceremony three hours behind schedule and with a substitute best man. No honeymoon was planned because of the starlet's movie schedule.

Silvers and Miss Dennison were delayed for the wedding ceremony obtaining necessary papers. By the time they arrived Judge Edward R. Brand had gone to lunch and film actor "Rags" Ragland, the best man, was due to work.

News Briefs

Reverdie R. Ater, former Texas Tech student from Ropesville, has been promoted to sergeant in the Army in the Hawaiian islands area, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Verdie Ater of Ropesville, have been informed. Sgt. Ater's promotion came after his recent transfer to headquarters in the Hawaiian area. He is a head clerk in a division. A filing system Sgt. Ater worked out for his division has been adopted for the entire area.

Transfer of Capt. Leo J. Schafer, Catrolic chaplain for the two Army Air fields here since Oct. 1, and chaplain at LAAF since SPAAF closed, to Washington, D. C., preparatory to going overseas, was announced Saturday. Until a successor is named, Capt. Richard G. Moore, Protestant chaplain, who aided in Catholic services in the two years he served overseas in the Southwest Pacific, will conduct services for Catholics at the field.

Part Of Inheritance Tax Law Is Voided

SAN ANTONIO, March 3. (U.P.)—A section of the federal inheritance tax law applying to community property was declared unconstitutional today by Federal Judge Allen Hannay.

The judge, in a formal opinion, ruled that section 302 (B), of the federal revenue act of 1942 is unconstitutional and void because it ignores the due process of law guarantee contained in the Fifth amendment to the Constitution.

The opinion said the act also is illegal because it does not conform with the uniformity of excise tax provisions of the Constitution.

The ruling was issued in the case of Henry Rompel, jr., administrator for the estate of Ernest Herbst of New Braunfels.

1,069 Germans Routed From Trenches In Daring Attack

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEUSS, Germany, March 3.—There across the flatlands a thousand yards away 1,069 Germans were waiting—ominously.

Three hundred Americans were getting ready to attack them.

The Germans were picked men—picked to prevent the Americans from breaking through to the railway and highway bridges which lead across the Rhine to Duesseldorf. They were crouched in serried trenches. Behind them, three 20 millimeter ack-ack guns pointed across the field.

Battle favors the defense. You should have three to one odds before attacking. That was the old theory.

But these Americans faced facts, not theory. Somebody just told them to get those trenches cleared so the fight could go on to fresher obstacles.

"Marching fire" was the answer. It looks like suicide. It feels like it will be suicide. But if it works—if it works, you win.

You locate your enemy's positions, open fire on them to pin him down and then work toward him firing all the time to keep him pinned until you can reach him and destroy him.

There were two American companies. Twenty-four-year-old Lt. William C. Shaw, jr., of Hutchinson, Kan., led his men off first.

They opened up with every rifle, machinegun and tommygun they had as they stepped out in a long line into the wide flat field.

Every Man Firing

They pulled up even with a company commanded by Lt. William G. Marks, Muskogee, Okla., and the second outfit stepped out and joined them, every man firing.

No bullets came back from the trenches.

"It was the damnest thing I ever saw," said Lt. Col. John C. Speedie, of San Antonio, the battalion commander, who saw the engagement from a nearby observation post.

"It was an amazing dash—a beautiful example of marching fire," he said.

"There wasn't a Heinie who stuck his nose up, and we didn't have a casualty," said Col. Edwin B. Brabill, regimental commander, from Galax, Va.

"Yes, there they were. Out came 1,069 Germans with their hands up."

Wichita Falls Woman Killed In Explosion

WICHITA FALLS, March 3. (AP)—Mrs. Hubert Ray Morris died today and her husband was burned when their home was destroyed by an explosion.

The explosion occurred when Morris, a 45-year-old oil field worker, returned home from work at 8:30 a. m. today and struck a match to light a stove.

No verdict has been announced in Mrs. Morris' death.

CYCLE—There's the tale of a Hartford, Conn., mother, eager to do her share in the mighty war work of that city, who hired a young maid to look after her own youngsters while she herself signed up to care for a group of young folks at a children's center.

One of her early assignments was to "mother" a small boy. He, a so-called "problem child," turned out to be her new maid's offspring.

SCATTERINGS

A DOUBLE-BREASTED suit doesn't flatter a man who is beginning to get a middle-aged spread. . . . Perhaps John B. Hughes learned the entrancing use of his hands in speaking when he toured with a theatrical troupe acting, writing and directing for the stage, several years ago. . . . Plans are being made to interest and educate men to such an appreciation of cologne they won't want to be caught dead without it. . . . Wonder what became of that "mairzy doats and lambsie divey" song? . . . Mary Mannes, in an article, "Who Is Doing Your Part in the War?" in a current magazine says there are approximately six million women from 18 to 50 with no children who are doing absolutely nothing for the war. Perhaps they spend their day in shopping (not for essentials mind you, but in taking inventories of the stores), hours at bridge, hours at the movies, listening to the radio, at their hairdressers or in front of their dressing tables. There's a sixty-four dollar question here: Just how does that win the war?

Personable James Young looked a little like Jimmy Allred, talked a little bit like James Melton. . . . And wouldn't you like to sit in a class on the history of jade or an interpretation of Chinese philosophy directed by John Goette? . . . This movie "Duel in the Sun," which is said to be a "story of the wild Texas Panhandle, full of violent happenings and not a few killings," turned out to be a duel between producer David O. Selznick and Gene Howe, publisher of the Amarillo News-Globe. It came about because Selznick decided to use Arizona for the locale, instead of coming to Texas to make the picture. Blame is laid to the 24-hour bus-drive from Hollywood limit set by OPA on motion picture locations. The characters will talk Texas style (the way the movie directors think we talk), make love Texas style and ride Texas style, according to their publicity. Perhaps Hughes was correct in his talk the other night when he said you have to speak of "other regions" of the United States, rather than other states, in comparison with Texas.

"Don't Fence Me In," which the Andrews sisters made with Bing Crosby is the best selling retail record on the basis of reports from leading retail record stores in key cities. . . . Who would ever tire of "When Day Is Done" as played by a hot trumpeteer? Not long ago a battalion of American soldiers, including a number of Lubbock men, sent an officer to a perfume center in southern France with $5000 and he brought back that much perfume.

FROM the number of Lubbockites who have interviewed Mrs. H. L. Cantelou, formerly of this city and now of Anchorage, Alaska, about the northern territory, there is going to be an exodus of our townsmen to Alaska after the war ends. We suppose it's that old pioneering spirit that calls for new frontiers to conquer! . . . Iwo Jima means "sulphur island." . . . The war has proved a good many things, but foremost among these is the value set upon the simple, modest and homely qualities of American life by our men on the fighting fronts. America to them isn't night clubs, race tracks, pin up girls. It is country towns, hot dogs, week end dances, movies, the Sunday funnypapers and going to church. . . . Turner Kimmel, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Kimmel, an infantry man who is convalescing in an English hospital from wounds received at the front, wrote recently of a communion service he attended early one morning in France in a thick grove of trees in the Vosges mountains. "We were in our battle clothes, in need of shaves and there were no chairs so we either squatted on the hillside or sat on our helmets," he described it, "but it was one of the most impressive services I have ever attended. It gave you a sense of the nearness of God. Immediately afterward we made an attack."

SAVING TIN CANS—A concerted drive is on to salvage used tin cans and every housewife is being urged to take her cans to the grocery store. But do you know why tin is so important in war use? It's because it is the most perfect protective covering.

It's tin that is used to make the little syrettes that contain morphine used to soothe pain of the war wounded before hospital aid is possible; that goes around the

Volunteer Workers To Ask Red Cross War Fund Contributions Tuesday

TUESDAY morning marks the beginning of the residential canvassing for the Red Cross War fund campaign with volunteer women workers pledged to attain a goal of $12,000 for this year. An attempt will be made to contact every residence in Lubbock on Tuesday, with Wednesday designated as the day for calling on housewives who were missed.

"A Red Cross in every window" is the slogan of the campaign this year, and Mrs. Hub Jones, chairman of the women's central committee, is asking that all housewives answer their door on Tuesday and Wednesday and be prepared to make a donation, even if the husbands have already contributed in the downtown campaign. All contributors will be given Red Cross stickers which the Red Cross particularly wants displayed this year.

In addition to residences, the women volunteers will also contact small business establishments in the residtnaial section. All contributions of a dollar or more will entitle the contributor to a membership card in the National Red Cross, although an appeal is made this year for more than the peacetime contribution of a dollar.

Hello Folks:

The world turned upside down last week at the Decorators Studio—well, practically. China that had been ordered two years finally arrived at the Studio. One of the patterns is "Josephine", a bone china by Wedgewood of England. The background is lemon yellow with center of white and ivy design in grey on the yellow which is outlined in gold. There is a complete service of twelve and for the woman with excellent and individual taste nothing could be smarter than this color combination.

Another pattern for which the girls have waited two years to replenish their former stock is the "Del Monte" by franciscan. This is a conservative pattern with ivory background edged in gold. A rope design decorates the plates in the center just below the shoulder. It is most unusual for a gold band design. This came as a surprise to the Studio and in large numbers and besides there are odd pieces which are almost impossible to find—salt and pepper, gravy boat with fast stand, chop, creamer, sugar, tea and coffee pot.

Some more good news from Fredda who is in New York—the Studio will have some carpeting for near future delivery. This is a shaggy Chenille, 15' width in a green color, a little on the blue side. They still have a Chartruese rug 12' 3" x 13' for immediate delivery. Fredda is buying more carpeting but Alma wasn't certain of the color. She has bought many pieces of furniture, some of which will be shipped immediately and others that can be sold and your own selection of fabric put on at the factory. Might be worth your investigation just in case there is something you want and haven't been able to find. Just for instance, host chairs, love seats, lounge chairs. First come, first served—on the carpets and furniture orders will be taken from samples of carpets and photographs of furniture.

Unfortunate fellow—one who is at the looking around Age, puts his glasses on the floor, steps on them and then can't get them fixed for a week. I saw two men in just that situation last week.

Goodbye,
Grandpa Nosey,
1302 Ave. N.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcel Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

Insurance Company Issues Statement

J. E. (Jake) Maisen, representative here for Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Co., of Greensboro, N. C., yesterday made public his company's 1944 statement showing total insurance now in force at $542,565,115—a gain for last year of $40,032,074.

The statement shows net interest earned on invested assets in 1944 was 4.53 per cent, as compared with a national average of 3.3 per cent in 1943. The company, Maisen said, has paid 5 per cent on dividend accumulations and policy proceeds to beneficiaries since Jefferson Standard was organized in 1907. The statement claims this record is unmatched.

The company has total U. S. government bond holdings of $25,237,015 and during 1944 added to its War bond holdings by $10,000,000. Assets were increased during the year by $14,693,244 to a total of $142,939,569. Investments total $63,000,000.

At The USO

THE USO front will be quiet this week after the big Texas Independence Day dance given Thursday night by the Aerodonnas and the regular Saturday night dance. However regular activities will be continued.

This morning the center will open at 10:30 with a breakfast call. Ko Shari social club members will entertain at the USO this afternoon from 2 until 6 o'clock.

An interesting letter was received by the staff this week from Sgt. Edmund R. DeMers, stationed in India. He says it's pleasing to think of West Texas but not of the duties he had at LAAF. Sgt. DeMers wrote of the trip he took through the western part of the United States just before going overseas. His home is in Maine.

* * *

The newest USO romance is that of S/Sgt. Jimmy Gillighan, stationed at LAAF, and Miss Florine Jones.

S/Sgt. George Hannaford stopped by the USO this week on his way to Childress. He was in the photographic division at SPAAF. Another visitor was S/Sgt. L. W. Snelleman who was on his way to Midland. He is a former Tech student from Kansas. He expects to go to O. C. S. in New Orleans soon.

At 1 o'clock Monday any group of soldiers' wives may bowl by request. On the Monday night program is a dance which begins at 8 o'clock. Cracker-Jills will be hostesses.

There is also dancing Tuesday night at 8 o'clock and Wednesday night at 8 o'clock. Serviceaires will be at the USO to dance and serve refreshments.

* * *

So many soldiers who were formerly stationed in Lubbock are writing the USO staff, that an address file had to be made this week.

Some of the names that appear in this file are as follows:

S/Sgt. Sol Avner of San Antonio; Sgt. Hank Colburn who is at the regional hospital in Amarillo; Pfc. Harold Fees of Pampa; Sgt. Harry Fragola, Waco; Sgt. Joseph W. "Bill" Judd, Scott field, Ill.; Pvt. Phil Passalaqua, Enid, Okla.; S/Sgt. David Silverman, San Antonio; Pvt. James Silvestri, Camp Howze; Cpl. Leo Smith, Waco; Sgt. Bill Peckham, Del Rio; Sgt. William Sunter, Midland; Pfc. Daniel C. Wolaver, Rochester, N. Y.

LAAF Graduate Shot Down Over Jap-Held Area Returns Safely

A native Texan with one of the most unusual stories of the war—being shot down over Jap-held territory and though severely wounded making a 1,300-mile trip back to his home base—arrived at Lubbock Army Air field this past week, completing a round trip he started at the field back in 1942 when he received his wings as a pilot at LAAF.

He is Capt. David W. Holder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert A. Holder of San Antonio who graduated at LAAF in Class 42J, and who has returned for duty as an instrument instructor after serving several months in the China-Burma-India theater.

HOLDER

Capt. Holder was on his second mission against the enemy when the B-24 he was piloting was knocked out with two motors hit. With the plane in flames and some of the crew dead, Capt. Holder ordered the others to jump. The first man out was strafed and killed by the Jap airmen after his parachute had opened.

His co-pilot, Lt. George Mosall of Albany, N. Y., who had been wounded, accidentally fell out of the bomb bay, but made a safe parachute landing.

Surrounded By Chinese

Capt. Holder also reached the ground safely but in landing in a small valley wrenched his knee and was knocked out. Upon coming to he was surrounded by a group of Chinese farmers. The farmers took his rations, his jacket and his gun although he attempted to explain that he was friendly.

"I didn't know whether I was a prisoner or not, but I was sure they were not friendly and that I was going to be sold to the Japanese," he said.

Later they carried him to a little hut in the mountains where shortly afterwards a group of guerrillas arrived. They started bowing and he knew then that he was in friendly hands.

Gave Belongings Back

"They gave me back all my belongings and later I saw one of the farmers who had taken my things tied up with his hands behind him," he related.

The guerrillas then started carrying Capt. Holder back on the long trip to his home base that night, and the next day the group learned that the co-pilot, Lt. Mosall, was with another guerrilla band "several mountains away." The two groups met three days later and Capt. Holder learned that Lt. Mosall's experiences had been similar to his.

"Those guerrillas treated us like gods," Capt. Holder has said. The two fliers were carried on bamboo chairs and were brought articles salvaged from the plane. After several days travelling they reached Chinese headquarters and were the guests of a Chinese general, later going back to their home base and then back to the States.

Capt. Holder is a graduate of Harlandale High school and was a student at the University of Texas.

P-38 Crashes Between Two Homes At Dallas

DALLAS, March 3 (AP)—During a heavy rainstorm here yesterday, a P-38 fighter plane crashed between two residences, setting a garage and trees afire.

The pilot of the plane, C. C. Madison, Lockheed test pilot, parachuted to safety.

Two Overseas Vets Of Area Arrive At LAAF

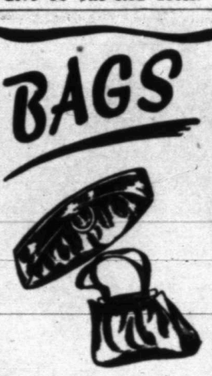

Several more combat returnees, including two South Plains men, arrived at Lubbock Army Air field the past week as the parade of overseas veterans continued at the field, with most of the veterans wearing decorations awarded for participation in the aerial war in the European theater.

The two South Plains men are Tech Sgt. Kenneth E. Griffith, son of Mrs. E. Lugdett of Fort Worth, and a graduate of Littlefield High school and a resident of that town for several years, and Pvt. Gordon H. Flowers of Ropesville, who was on duty in the Caribbean area in the British West Indies and Trinidad in assembly depot of the AAF. Tech Sgt. Griffith was a mechanic with the AAF in the Southwest Pacific for more than two years and helped keep the AAF's B-25s in condition to bomb the Japs for which he was awarded the Unit Citation and the theater ribbon with three battle stars.

Cobalt is used as an ingredient in alloys for the making of high-speed cutting tools to increase war production.

Sunday School Meeting Set

"Climaxing a Century for Christ" will be the theme of the Lubbock Baptist association Sunday school meeting which will be conducted here at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday night in the Calvary Baptist church.

The program, part of an activity being carried out simultaneously by Baptist churches throughout the South, will be directed by Rev. L. L. Richardson, Sunday school superintendent of the Lubbock association.

Purposes of the program are enlargement campaigns, vacation Bible schools, branch Sunday schools and training schools.

Schedule Announced

The following schedule has been announced:

"Our Centennial Year" by Rev. Henry West of Lorenzo; "Enlargement Campaigns," by Rev. W. F. Ferguson of Slaton; "Vacation Bible Schools," Rev. H. H. Henkel, East Side Baptist church of Lubbock; "Branch Sunday Schools," Rev. C. J. McCarty, Calvary Baptist church of Lubbock; and "Training Schools," by Rev. W. T. North, Acuff Baptist church.

Participating in the departmental conferences will be Mrs. F. B. Malone of Lubbock, Miss Morrine George of Lubbock, Mrs. W. O. Reiger of Slide, Mrs. W. L. Pattillo of Lubbock, Mrs. Lattimore Ewing of Lubbock, Mrs. A. R. Pendley of Lubbock and Miss Hallie Hunter of Lubbock.

An inspirational address, "On to Victory," will be given by Rev. C. E. Hereford of Lubbock.

Durant Cites Values Of Life's Conflicts

DALLAS, March 3 (AP)—An optimist can enjoy life without hoping for progress in human relationships, Will Durant, author, said here last night.

"It takes a good stomach and good luck, and I've had both," he said. "The man on the street who's had knocks and can knock back, who drinks and swears and helps his fellow man is best equipped to face this life. He's basically good, books and newspapers notwithstanding."

Durant said peace following World War II may last 50 years. He said a peace conference is not to insure permanent peace, but to get a respite of security for a reasonable time; that as far as history indicates the present war will not be the last one.

Church Notes

"We Also Receive," a sound motion picture, will be shown at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the First Presbyterian church, it was announced. The picture has been described as one of the greatest of the short features, and the public is invited to attend the showing.

Memorial Services Scheduled Today For Sgt. A. H. Woodward

Memorial services for Sgt. A. H. (Tony) Woodward, 30, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Woodward of Shallowater, will be held at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon at the Broadway Church of Christ with M. Norvel Young, minister, officiating.

Sgt. Woodward, who was serving with Patton's Third army, was killed Nov. 15, 1944, in France. Although no details have been received, Woodward is believed to have been killed during the siege of Metz.

A graduate of Shallowater High school, Sgt. Woodward attended Texas Technological college and was employed by the Lubbock National bank prior to entering service in June, 1942. He was a member of the Broadway Church of Christ.

Survivors include his parents; two sisters, Miss Elleine Woodward and Miss Dana Woodward, both of Shallowater; and one brother, Horace E. Woodward of Lubbock.

Negro Soldiers Cause Disturbance On Train

SHREVEPORT, La., March 3 (AP)—The Barksdale public relations office last night said military police had arrested 34 negro soldiers after a disturbance aboard a passenger train 18 miles south of here.

The public relations office said all the troops were placed in the post guardhouse and that an investigation was under way.

Women Due To Take Over Transportation

DALLAS, March 3 (U.P.) — The responsibility of keeping transportation moving in the southwest was dropped into the lap of women today by the Office of Defense transportation.

E. P. McCallum, jr., regional highway director of the ODT, said new draft regulations are likely to transfer up to 70 per cent of draft-deferred men under 30 years of age into the armed services from their jobs as bus, taxicab and highway truck and bus operators.

It is likely, he said, that women will receive extended appeals to enter the transportation industry "which already is too low on manpower."

Jules Romains, French novelist, poet, and dramatist was born Louis Farigoule.

There were only 32,920 automobiles registered in the United States in 1903.

Knife And Fork Club Meeting Postponed; Speaker Substituted

V. Stefanson, scheduled to appear in Lubbock Thursday night as a speaker for the Knife and Fork club dinner, has been recalled by the Army and the meeting has been postponed, Dr. J. O. Ellsworth, club secretary, announced Saturday.

Hawthorne Daniel, the author, has been substituted as a speaker for the March Knife and Fork dinner and the date has been changed to March 27 at the Hilton hotel.

Daniel will speak on "World Empires of the Next 100 Years" in his talk to the Lubbock group.

Theft Ring Uncovered In Missouri Prison

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 3 (U.P.)—A ring of prison guards and convicts, who have stolen checks amounting to "several thousand dollars" from the prison auditor's office, was revealed today to have been intercepted by Gov. Phil M. Donnelly, working with the warden's office and the FBI.

Donnelly said his investigation, which has not yet been completed, was begun last Monday.

He said definite proof had been uncovered involving five checks, totaling $2,954.15.

It was believed the practice of stealing the checks and forging endorsements had been going on since last September.

Donnelly said a convict named Thomas Fleming, whom he called the "mastermind of the ring," had confessed to the plot which involved so far at least six convicts and three employes of the Missouri state penitentiary.

Donnelly said the convict's store and the auditor's office at the penitentiary had been closed and that guards had been posted at the doors. At least one prison employe had been dismissed, and the convict employes of the office locked in their cells.

Continental Purchases Navarro Oil Company

PONCA CITY, Okla., March 3 (AP)—The general offices of the Continental Oil company here today released confirmation of the deal by which Continental Oil purchased approximately 80 per cent of the stock of the Navarro Oil company of Houston.

The purchase price was roundly $13,000,000, based on $46.50 a share for at least 80 per cent of the 348,919 shares (no par value) of Navarro Oil company. By the terms of the same the stock was to be assigned and delivered to the Union National bank in Houston at the close of business March 1. That, it was said, has been done.

Navarro's producing properties are located principally in the Gulf coast area and in East Texas, comprising 65 leases on which 207 producing wells are located.

In addition, Navarro holds royalty interests on 22,336 acres and has a total of 55,725 acres of undeveloped leases in Texas, Louisiana, Illinois, Kansas, Arkansas, Mississippi and Oklahoma.

The current daily net production is roundly 6,000 barrels of which 1160 barrels is represented by royalty interest oil.

TOUGH FOE—Yanks battling the Germans now on the western front are battling a type of Nazi fighter far more rugged than the members of the "People's Army" who formerly faced them. North Dakota's Sen. Moses Dies

ROCHESTER, Minn., March 3 (AP) — United States Senator John Moses, 59, (D-ND) three-time governor of North Dakota who won his national office by defeating Gerald P. Nye last fall, died early today.

Sen. Moses had been undergoing post-operative treatment at the Mayo clinic for an abdominal ailment when an attack of pleurisy complicated his recovery. He was operated on last September before the general election and returned here Jan. 18 for further treatment. Pleurisy set in a little more than a week ago.

His wife and a son, Lt. James Moses, who came here yesterday, were at his bedside. Another son, John, an Army lieutenant, is recovering from a wound received in France. A daughter, Mary Jen, is in the U. S. Nurses Cadet Corps. A third son, Robert, also survives.

First Democrat Elected

Moses was the first Democrat ever elected to represent North Dakota in either house of Congress and was one of two men to serve three terms as governor of the state.

Reliable sources in Washington said there was "no chance" that Republican Governor Fred Aandahl of North Dakota would appoint Nye to the vacancy left by Moses' death although they campaigned on the same ticket.

Aandahl's appointee will serve until the next general election in 1946. Thus, North Dakota will elect two senators next year as the state's other Republican senator, William Langer, will be up for reelection.

Moses was born in Strand, Norway, June 12, 1885.

Prior to his election as governor in 1938, he served five terms as states attorney for Mercer county.

Farm Home Set Afire While Family Asleep

FORT WORTH, March 3 (U.P.) — Tarrant county officers and a state fire marshal searched for a group of boys for questioning in connection with the setting afire of a farm home near Fort Worth while the occupants slept.

Mrs. Lucy B. Whitehead reported knowing of no one who would have a motive for such an act, but investigators said they found evidence that the arsonist or arsonists had piled prairie hay under the house then set fire to it after emptying a water container near the house.

Mrs. Whitehead said she was awakened by the crackling of fire and, with the aid of her two sons, extinguished the blaze which had eaten through the floor and into a closet. The sons had to dip water from rain-filled holes in the ground after discovering the water barrel had been emptied.

Sheriff's deputies said they had discovered what appeared to be a trail made by boys to a spot on a nearby road where bits of hay were found scattered around where an automobile apparently had stopped.

From Lou To Louella

DEAR Louella: Maxey "Sheep-Herder" Pinson has finally broken over — he's stepping out with cute Rosemary Jones almost every night . . . Tunny Whitaker is also making the rounds with about "ten pretty girls" . . . Lometa Hodge is a well liked girl on the campus . . . Service men who have been here this week are Sailors Buster Melton, Jerry Longley, Tom Hodges, Robert McCarroll, Weldon Cobb, Raymond Swofford, Marion Bowers, Charlie Brown and Buck Melcher. Soldiers Tom Pirtle and Bedford Raley have also been here . . . Tom Hodges has been out with Wanda Barker a lot. And more about Barker is that she and Max Gray aren't getting along so well. Raymond Swofford went with Sarah Scroggins, the girl who is wearing his ring, and Robert McCarroll went with Betty Cope — Cope has turned business-minded and is running the Silver Grill. Charlie Brown came to Lubbock from Southwestern in Georgetown, but is being transferred to Washington. . . Helen Pemberton is continually getting calls from Seagraves.

First Lt. Jack Tippett left Friday for Santa Ana, Calif., but not before he got to be first man in the heart of Christina Eller — they are engaged now . . . Lt. John Roy Creighton of Mineral Wells recently moved to LAAF from Del Rio Army Air field. He sings and he drives a blue convertible and he's just back from England . . . Charline Pinkston has a letter from Ell McComb, seaman first class, saying that he recently crossed the equator. His head is now shaved . . . Jean Roco will be here for the Vivi presentation dance next Saturday night. She comes from Houston. Another visitor for the dance will be Tommy Fowlks of Fort Worth. He will take Sara Anderson. . . . A. D. Brown who has just been discharged from the Army really makes a hit at bull sessions in the boys' dorm . . . Frequently seen is Lt. Fred Walker who comes from Midland to see Jane Burns . . . Also seen strolling about the campus holding hands are pretty Jerry Shaw and V. A. Hartman.

Here And There

A bunch of girls gathered in Sue Hamilton's room every night last week to draw names to form a hat! The seventh and last name a girl drew is supposedly the one the girl will marry. . . . Viola Burton and R. H. Greene married Friday . . . Officers from Big Spring at the Wrangler dance were Lt. Murry Stahl and Capt. Lee Franks. The lieutenant raved about the good looking Tech girls. Capt. Franks was Earlyne Reid's date. . . . Pfc. James Jay, USMC, is on his way to San Diego after visiting Lucy Bear here. . . . Likeable Carolyn Harriss is fun to be around. . . . Frank Herring leaves Tuesday for El Paso. . . . Betty Wilkins, Tech student, and Luther McKelva are now on the "steady list." They just returned from visiting his parents in Bonham. Luther, who is awaiting call into the service, attended Tech last semester. . . . Techsans are lamenting the fact that the bookstore lunch counter will be closed after next Friday. . . . "Together" are Bill Guinn and Alice Birdwell. . . . Ditto Doris Lovelace and Lt. Ben Cowling.

WYNELL ESKRIDGE is expecting Dixon Wagnon to be in Lubbock early this month. He's in the Naval Air corps at Memphis. . . . Sailor Howard "Buck" Shaw who spent last week-end and part of this week here went with Jean Knight, Norma Lee Thornton and Shirley Dick. He's stationed at LaFayette, La. . . . Tim Miller arrived in Amarillo Sunday from Cambridge, Mass., where he is attending Harvard. He is to be back there tomorrow to begin his third semester. He is also working on his B.M. in piano at the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston. Tim spent part of his vacation in Lubbock, his former home. . . . Jean Newman has been visiting here between semesters at SMU. . . . Jean McGregor and Ava Stangel, roommates, are enjoyable people. . . . Lt. Norman Wiley, USMAC, is now stationed in Fort Worth after spending a leave here. . . . Reverdie Ater writes Socii brothers from Hawaii that orchids are 50 cents a piece there.

Caught On The Fly

A budding romance is that of Mary Frances Barnard and James Johnson. . . . Dan Young has his troubles — he says that he can't get a date. Now that Teddy Waldrip is back on furlough from the Army, friends are wondering what the score is between him and Billie Grace Webb. . . . Dorothy Brown has quite a collection of I. D. bracelets. . . . Mack Saied is learning "Wolf" Hanley's technique. . . . Ed Boaz enjoyed the Vivi coke party since Chuck Fisher was there. . . . Jane O'Neall is one of 102 Redbud Princesses to preside over TSCW's annual Charm Week and Redbud Festival which begins March 12. All princesses are nominees for Redbud Queen who will be crowned March 17. Following the coronation ceremony the queen and her court will be entertained with a special program and a ball. Jane is a sophomore majoring in costume design and fashion illustration. . . . Pfc. Murray Fairbairn who is with the transport command in China is sending his sister, Nina Jewell Fairbairn, Tech student, enough parachute silk to make a blouse. He is also sending nylon thread to sew it with. . . . Patsy Hanks is to marry F/O Richards in two weeks.

This week's wedding congrats go to Mr. and Mrs. James H. Kimmel, jr., and Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Burchett, jr.

Love,
Lou.

New Butter Shortage Facing Southwest

DALLAS, March 3 (U.P.) — The southwest was faced today with a new and serious butter shortage, according to the War Food administration.

Creameries have been ordered to set aside 25 per cent of all March production for government purchases, WFA officials announced, while stored supplies were expected to be depleted by April 1.

Meanwhile, operational difficulties have cut production at most creameries by 30 per cent, with demand on the increase.

Houston Couple Gives Away $2,000,000

HOUSTON, March 3 (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Cullen gave away $2,000,000 today, half to Memorial hospital and the other half to Hermann hospital.

Mr. Cullen is reputedly one of the wealthiest independent oil operators in the nation.

The hospitals will use the money for their building programs.

Smiling broadly, Cullen said he felt no pain.

"It's just as easy to give away $2,000,000 as two bits," he said.

TRAFFIC TOLL RAISED

FORT WORTH, March 3 (U.P.)—Traffic fatalities for the year in Tarrant county mounted to 11 today with the death of 13 year old Marion Jesse Ford, injured fatally when a motorcycle crashed into a parked truck during a driving rainstorm. A second occupant of the motorcycle was injured.

Americas' Efforts For Solidarity Echoes Spirit Of Yalta Parley

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

The avidity with which the inter-American conference at Mexico City is seeking to establish solidarity for the western hemisphere in the interests of peace is a bright rainbow for the United Nations which will meet to create a global security organization in San Francisco.

The "Act of Chapultepec" would provide for the use of joint force to stifle aggression within the hemisphere, echoes the spirit of the Crimean conference of the big three who pledged themselves to peace at all costs. There are many in this hemisphere who hope that the Americas may even bind themselves to stand as a bloc against any aggression from outside.

No Obligations Seen

Observers generally see no reason why the world security organization shouldn't accommodate itself to a western hemisphere peace bloc.

As a matter of fact, if this terrible war has taught the Americas anything, it is that from now on they must stand together — one for all and all for one. This doesn't mean isolation or non-cooperation with the rest of the world. It means that if another Hitler or Tojo ever raises his head, we shall be on the alert to halt any schemes he may have for aggression. It means we recognize that if a would-be aggressor obtains a foothold in a single western hemisphere country, he has a base from which he can strike at the rest.

One of the happiest aspects of the Mexico City conference, from the viewpoint of a Yankee, is that the "Act of Chapultepec" originates among our good neighbors and not in the United States. This means, as I see it, that there probably is a lot less suspicion of Uncle Sam's motives than there has been in some quarters heretofore. Maybe his attitude in this war has made it clear that he really has no designs against anybody, but is honestly interested in the welfare of his fellows.

Trinidad Base Is Key

In considering Pan American machinery for enforcing peace, from both internal and external aggression, my thoughts turned to the possibilities of the great United States air-naval base which Washington acquired in the British colony of Trinidad in 1940 on a 99-year lease. It should be said immediately that this is purely my own idea. I haven't even heard it mentioned.

Experts told me that the huge and well-protected Gulf would house an unlimited Navy, and Trinidad has ample facilities for air fields.

The main point, however, is that this big island and its vast harbor are so centrally situated that naval and air forces can strike in any direction easily. They could quickly reach the Panama canal, all South America, all North America, and the West Indies.

It would make an admirable police station—if all the American nations agreed to employ its facilities.

As a post-script it may be said that it would be great if England would make it possible for the United States to acquire Trinidad for keeps.

Increase In Texas U. Permanent Fund Seen

DALLAS, March 3. (AP) — A prediction that the permanent fund of the University of Texas will amount to $120,000,000 in 25 years was voiced last night by Dr. Hal Bybee, geology professor of the University.

Bybee, who has charge of University land management, said "with the $60,000,000 in the permanent fund and $10,000,000 in the available fund, derived from University lands, I predict the permanent fund will amount to $120,000,000 in 25 years."

Underground Storage Of Helium Planned

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP) — Deep down in the earth under the plains of the Texas Panhandle the government plans to store surplus helium.

Plans for establishing the world's largest storage reservoir for the non-inflammable gas were disclosed today by Interior Secretary Ickes. It will be in the 50,000-acre government-owned Cliffside natural gas field near Amarillo.

A new 32-mile helium pipeline has just been completed between the Amarillo and Exell helium plants operated by the Interior department's Bureau of Mines and it will connect with a line running to the Cliffside field.

In using this vast natural underground caverns, the helium will be injected under pressure into one of the 11 producing wells at Cliffside. Although the helium must be repurified later when it is withdrawn, the gas from the cache will be richer in helium content and cut down the time and cost of producing it when needed.

The helium is extracted from natural gas before the gas moves on through pipelines to various points of consumption. Without such an enormous storage capacity as is available at Cliffside, the natural gas would go on to market still containing billions of cubic feet of helium, which would be lost forever, the bureau said in announcing the project.

DDT To Be Used On Texas Mosquitoes

EDINBURG, March 3 (AP)—The new insecticide, DDT, will be used by the U. S. Public Health service in a new mosquito eradication program in rural areas of Hidalgo county, the county commissioners were told by Capt. H. K. Dickert, who will direct the campaign.

A limited amount of the fluid that kills insects on contact is available, he said. All buildings in the rural area of the county, plus those in towns of less than 2,500 population, will be sprayed with DDT once each 90 days.

Plane Drops Plasma, Gun Barrels On Iwo

SEVENTH AAF BASE, Marianas, March 3 (U.P.) — (Via Navy Radio)—Lt. Ernest M. Hunt of Waco, Tex., today described the dangerous experience of three slow, unarmed C-47 transports dropping blood plasma and gun barrels on Iwo Jima Wednesday, while the air was filled with enemy fire.

He was co-pilot on one of the transports that made six runs within range of Japanese guns.

"I could see a lot of Japanese mortar fire, but I'm not sure whether any ack-ack was directed at us," he recalled.

"Our plane bucked at one point when a shell let go under our tail. The plane nearly stood on its nose for a moment, and that isn't safe—not at 100 feet."

Hunt described the fighting on Iwo as "a lot of plain hell." He said Japanese artillery shells were dropping on the same area as the parachutes with blood plasma and gun barrels.

"There were bulldozers and trucks and other heavy equipment working to make the Japs' number one airstrip ready for our planes. Shells were bursting near them, but the men kept on the job.

"It seemed there were fires all over the island," he said.

Vets Offered Advice On U. S. Employment

Veterans in Lubbock and vicinity interested in employment by the Federal government, and their preference rights in such employment, are asked to discuss their problems with Thomas W. Saling, regional veterans' federal employment representative of the 10th Region, U. S. Civil Service commission, according to an announcement of A. J. Leach, regional director in Dallas. Saling will be at the Hilton hotel for conference Tuesday and Wednesday.

Officers of veteran organizations of both World War I and World War II, including the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Disabled American veterans, as well as veterans not hitherto affiliated with such organizations, are invited to present their problem and wishes to Saling.

Saling will also confer with federal appointing officers upon whom rests the responsibility of employing for the government. Provisions of the veterans' preference, recently provided by Congress, will be explained with particular attention to the employment of veterans suffering from loss of limbs or other disabilities. Unofficially it is hoped that the intelligent use of handicapped persons in government employ will tend to lessen if not end the often unconscious reluctance of private industry to employ handicapped persons.

Argentina May Attend Pan-American Meets

MEXICO CITY, March 3 (AP) — Approval of plans to set up a new Pan-American union governing board on May 1 opened the way today for Argentina to attend union meetings again whether or not the other American republics recognize the government in Buenos Aires.

The new board will consist of special delegates instead of ambassadors to Washington and the secretary of state, as at present.

Argentina has always been a member of the Pan-American union but Buenos Aires announced several months ago that her delegates would not participate in meetings of the governing board. The Buenos Aires move came after the Argentine request for a special inter-American meeting on Argentina's case was turned down.

Although Argentina did not vote on the reorganization of the Pan-American union, because she was not invited to the Inter-American conference here, the Buenos Aires government may decide to appoint a delegate to the new board along with the rest of the republics.

News From The Men Serving In The Armed Forces Of Uncle Sam

Lt. Walter D. Houpt, Jr., Of Abernathy, Is Awarded Purple Heart For Guam Wounds

* * *

SOMEWHERE IN THE PACIFIC, (Delayed)—Marine First Lieutenant Walter D. Houpt, jr., of Abernathy, Tex., former All-Southwest conference basketball center at University of Texas, recently was awarded the Purple Heart for a wound received during the battle for Guam.

Houpt, commander of a light artillery unit, landed on the island with assault troops. During D-Day, his 37mm. cannon blasted enemy positions on the ridge overlooking the Marine beachhead. Early the second day, when a Marine company suffered heavy casualties as it tried to storm the ridge, Houpt's platoon was ordered in as reinforcements.

The Abernathy officer was proceeding up the ridge when an enemy machine gun opened fire from a nearby coconut tree. Houpt was wounded in the back by a bullet. He covered his wound with battle gauze and continued to advance with his men.

The lieutenant remained on the front lines until his platoon was relieved. Never evacuated, Houpt accompanied his men through the entire campaign.

A graduate of Texas university, Houpt was commissioned a second lieutenant in 1942, and has been overseas 23 months.

LT. WALTER HOUPT

A U. S. TROOP CARRIER BASE In The European Theatre Of Operations — An adopted Texan, Flight Officer Charles R. Ehring of Lubbock, has been awarded the Air Medal at an official ceremony on a landing strip in the European Theatre of Operations. Orders have recently come through awarding an Oak Leaf Cluster to his Air Medal. He wears the gold-bordered blue Presidential Unit Citation awarded the 442d Troop Carrier Group for its outstanding "D" Day performance. In terse, plain phrases, Major Gen. Paul L. Williams, commanding general of the U. S. Troop Carrier Forces in the European Theatre of Operations, reviewed the splendid performance of glider pilots and C-47 crew members who participated in the initial troop carrier phases of the invasion of Europe. In the face of natural and man-made landing hazards and against vigorous enemy ground fire, Ehring with other "GPs" of the 442d Troop Carrier group landed airborne infantry on designated battle areas as his part in the Southern France invasion, one of the greatest of airborne operations. The flight officer, who enlisted on October 4, 1941, married the former Laura Ann Woods immediately after completing advanced glider training at Lubbock. Mrs. Ehring resides at 2216 Tenth, Lubbock.

EHRING

1st. Lt. Claude B. Boren, son of Capt. and Mrs. L. E. Boren, 1922 Twenty-fourth, has written his parents from Paris, France, where he recently spent a short leave. While there he wrote: "It has been most pleasant here—a good bed and hot water for a bath. I have seen shows, done shopping, and spent the rest of my time seeing the town. Sunday night I saw the "Follies Bergere." While outside the place I ran into Jimmy Murdough from Lubbock, and two other Tech men. And last night, in a cafe, I met another Lubbock boy—Bud Kennedy." Lt. Boren is in a Field Artillery battalion. Another son of the Borens, Lt. Lemuel Boren, was a member of the now famed "Lost Battalion" on Java and is prisoner of war of the Japs.

The bronze star medal has been awarded to Pfc. Charles D. Johnson "for meritorious service in connection with military operations against an enemy of the U. S. in eastern France and Luxembourg." He is a member of an infantry company. He, 31, was an employe of Bell service station, at Nineteenth and Ave. Q, before induction April 3, and he trained at Camp Robinson, Ark. His wife and child, Billie Earl, 4, live at 1219 Nineteenth, where the family formerly lived.

JOHNSON

Edgar M. Perkins, son of Mrs. Guy A. Robinson of Dallas, has been promoted from first lieutenant to captain at Rosecrans Field, a base of the Ferrying Division, Air Transport command, near St. Joseph, Mo., where he is assigned as budget and fiscal officer. A graduate of the University of Texas with a degree in Business administration, Capt. Perkins was assistant cashier of the Citizens National Bank at Crosbyton, before entering the service in June, 1942. He was commissioned at the Army Finance school at Duke university, Durham, N. C., in July, 1943. He has been at Rosecrans Field since last June. The captain's wife lives at 2010 Seventeenth.

Pvt. Nelson Gay Terry of 1901 Thirtieth has been selected to attend the Field Artillery officer candidate school according to a recent announcement by the officer candidate board of the Field Artillery Replacement Training Center at Ft. Bragg, N. C. Inducted July 10, 1944, Pvt. Terry completed basic training at Battery A, 12th Battalion, 4th Training regiment, at the FARTC. His civilian education includes a year of study at Purdue university, two years at the University of New Mexico, and one and one-half years at Texas Tech. Prior to his induction, he was employed as an accountant with the Southwestern Associated Telephone company.

A SEVENTH AAF BOMBER BASE, MARIANAS — Two men from Lubbock, Tex., Lt. Joseph W. Stephens, jr., and S/Sgt. Melford R. Alfred, have been commended by the commander of the Seventh AAF for their part in campaigns that have taken a large section of the Pacific from the enemy's hands. The commander issued his commendation along with a personal message of congratulations as the group rounded out its fifth year as one of the most traveled heavy bomber outfits in the Pacific. The boys are members of the famed 11th heavy bombardment group of the 7th AAF which has participated in almost every major move of the great offensive that has rolled the Japs back more than 3,000 miles. Sgt. Alfred, son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Alfred of 2121 Thirty-fourth, was graduated from Lubbock Senior High school in 1934 and was a sign painter before entering the Army Aug. 17, 1937. He joined the present group in May of 1944 and is a nose gunner on the B-24 Liberator, "Murder, Inc." Lt. Stephens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Stephens, sr., of 2906 Ave. P, was graduated from Post High school in 1939 and entered the Army in October of 1942. He has been with the present group as pilot of the Liberator, "Miss Nadine," since June, 1944.

HEADQUARTERS, ARMY AIR FORCES CENTRAL FLYING TRAINING COMMAND, Randolph Field—1st Lt. Moses L. Penn, whose wife and two children live at 1910 Sixteenth, Lubbock, has been assigned to AAF Central Flying Training Command headquarters, Randolph Field, as a statistical officer. Lt. Penn, a graduate of Daniel Baker college, Brownwood, with an A.B. degree in Spanish and Education in 1927, was principal of Post High school, Post, and a youth counsellor for the National Youth administration before entering military service. He served as statistical officer at South Plains Army Air field, Lubbock, from August, 1943, until coming to CFTC headquarters. Mr. and Mrs. William Penn, his parents, reside in Mercury, Texas.

CAMP BLANDING, Fla. — An artilleryman woffed his hat to the infantry recently while being presented the Bronze Star for heroism at Salerno, ending the tradition of discord between doughboys and "redlegs." Capt. Julian Williamson, S/2 of the 519th Field Artillery Battalion now on duty here furnishing overhead fire in the training of infantrymen at the Infantry Replacement Training Center, termed the doughboy "the real soldier in this war" as he received the medal at a battalion parade, from Maj. Ottis Schweiter, 519th Commander. Capt. Williamson, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Williamson of 2221—25th street, Lubbock, Texas, won the award for service as liaison officer with an infantry unit in Italy, coordinating his battalion's fare with the doughboys' advance and keeping his guns in action despite hostile counterfire.

WILLIAMSON

OKLAHOMA CITY AIR TECHNICAL SERVICE COMMAND, Tinker Field, Okla.—Promotion of Pfc. Marvin T. Hill, formerly of Lubbock, Texas, to the grade of corporal has been announced by headquarters of the Oklahoma City Air Technical Service command. He is an M.P. at this model establishment of the Air Technical Service command for the maintenance and repair of aircraft and the training of air depot groups. Cpl. Hill is a graduate of Ralls High school, Ralls, Texas. Prior to military induction in January 1943, he was employed as a farmer. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Hill, 1513 Ave. D, Lubbock, Tex. His wife resides with his parents. Before transfer to this field, he was stationed at Kelly Field, Tex.

Pvt. A. J. Strawn, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Strawn, route 1, Lubbock, was home recently on a ten-day furlough to visit his wife and three children, who reside at 2403 Third. He returned to Fort Ord, Calif., to await overseas assignment. He is in the Infantry. Mr. and Mrs. Strawn also have another son, Marion W. Strawn, seaman, second class, in the Navy, stationed at San Diego, Calif.

A. J.

AN VIII AIR FORCE SERVICE COMMAND STATION, England—Technical Sergeant Ruben Draper, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Draper, Spur, Texas, is stationed at this strategic air depot where B-17 Flying Fortresses of the Eighth Air Force are maintained and repaired. He is a hanger chief in the supply division. His wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Draper, is now living at Kemp, Texas. Sgt. Draper was graduated from Spur High school in 1934 and prior to his entry into the army January 19, 1942 he was budget manager of the B. F. Goodrich Company Stores, Inc. 114 East Hickory, Denton, Texas. He has been stationed in the European Theater of Operations since October, 1943.

AT A 12TH AAF B-25 BASE, Mediterranean Theater—Cpl. Roy L. Dolle of Littlefield, a bomb handler in the "most efficient" medium bombardment group in this theater, has earned the right to wear three gold overseas stripes on the left sleeve of his uniform. He has been awarded another battle star for his European-African-Middle East theatre ribbon, signifying that he has played an active part in the Rome-Arno campaign since January, 1944. Prior to leaving for overseas duty in April of 1943, Cpl. Dolle was stationed at Key Field, Miss.

SIXTH ARMY GROUP, France—Lt. Peyton T. McKinley of Lubbock, Tex., platoon commander, is a member of one of the oldest separate medical battalions in continuous action in the war, the 56th. It is also only one of the few that can claim four beachhead operations. Operating in the snow and cold over treacherous mountain terrain, these combat medics give wounded Yanks their first medical treatment and rush them to hospitals where detailed care can be administered.

JAMES H. PAUL

Cpl. Paul Cox and his brother, Pfc. James Cox, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Jarrell Cox of Tahoka, are serving in the Army Air Corps. Cpl. Cox, 23, is a radio operator, serving in Belgium and has been overseas 18 months. He received his training at the National School, Los Angeles, and at Hammer field, Calif. His wife is a teacher in the Brownfield primary schools. Pfc. Cox, 21, who is stationed at Drew field, Fla., recently was queried by the Tampa "Tribune Talkie" on when the war is over and men are released from the service, whether married men should be discharged before single men. His answer and picture were printed in the paper. His opinion was that no partiality should be shown; that single men fight as hard for their country as do married men and would like to get home early as much as married men. The interesting point was that Cox is a married man.

DICK GREEN

Three pharmacist's mates, who used to "listen in" on drug store gossip as they worked in Lubbock are together on Guadalcanal and joining in the "old home week" celebration is Darwin Prince, chief in the Seabees, who formerly worked for the Texas Compress company. The Navy men are Dick Green, Ph. M. 1/c, 2914 Twenty-first, and Gene Green, Ph. M. 3/c, the latter a Brownfield resident, who worked at Jarret-West and C. L. Davidson, Ph. M. 1/c, former pharmacist at Wylie's. They are with an evacuation hospital and have written friends and relatives they have seen many evidences of the "misfortunes of war." Dick Green has been overseas since October. He is with the Fleet Marines and trained at Camp Pendleton after serving at Corpus Christi and Beeville. He entered the service in 1942.

PERRIN FIELD, Sherman — Captain Thomas L. Morgan, whose wife and two children reside at 1809 Ave. O in Lubbock, has arrived at this AAF Training command pilot school for assignment to duty at the station hospital. He had been stationed at South Plains Army Air field as flight surgeon and chief of eye, ear, nose and throat service since July of 1942. Capt. Morgan's mother, Mrs. T. L. Morgan, also resides in Lubbock at 1520 Tenth.

Coast Guardsman Clarence H. Rhodes, pharmacist's mate, second class, of Wilson, is a member of the crew aboard a Coast Guard-manned LST operating somewhere in the Pacific area. Rhodes enlisted in the Coast Guard in December, 1941. He has a brother, Weldon Rhodes, serving in the U. S. Army.

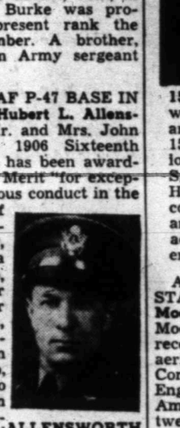

CLARENCE H.

SIXTH ARMY GROUP, France—Two South Plains soldiers of Texas, Pfc. Henry A. Hardy of 1702 Tenth, Lubbock, and Pvt. William C. Pruitt of Guitar ranch, Spur, are members of a battalion which transports supplies to frontline units by pack-mule. Arriving in Italy in March of 1944, the battalion received mules and re-formed into a pack unit. They have been delivering artillery pieces, ammunition and supplies over treacherous mountain trails and snow-swept passes along the Franco-Italian border in the French Alps. The battalion's present position in the French Alps is the climax of long and specialized training in mountain warfare.

LEXINGTON, Va.—Sgt. Richard C. Matheny of 1103 Main, Lubbock, Tex., was recently graduated from the Athletics and Recreation course at the school of personnel service here. Graduates of the school will aid the War Department in bringing the special service program to American troops at home and abroad.

MARINE CORPS AIR DEPOT, Miramar, Calif.—Marine 1st Lt. William D. Burke, 24, a fighter-bomber pilot, and son of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Burke, Floydada, Tex., has returned here from the Pacific, where he participated in 90 strafing and bombing raids against the enemy. Operating from bases in the Solomon Islands, his squadron, attached to the First Marine Air Wing, strafed and bombed Jap installations in the Bismarck Archipelago area. Lt. Burke scored several direct bomb hits on enemy targets. Despite numerous flights through enemy anti-aircraft fire, his plane never was damaged seriously and he escaped injury. A graduate of Floydada High school, he entered flight training in June, 1942, and was commissioned at Corpus Christi, Tex., in June, 1943. Lt. Burke was promoted to his present rank the following December. A brother, James, 22, is an Army sergeant in France.

AT A 12TH AAF P-47 BASE IN ITALY—Major Hubert L. Allensworth, son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Allensworth, 1906 Sixteenth Lubbock, Texas, has been awarded the Legion of Merit "for exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding services in Sicily, Italy and Corsica from January 15, 1943, to October 1, 1944." Major Allensworth, senior staff officer with a veteran Fighter Group, transferred into the Air Forces in 1941 after holding a reserved officer's rank of first lieutenant in the Infantry for five years. Overseas since July 16, 1942, Major Allensworth has just rounded out 31 months of foreign service. In addition to the Legion of Merit and numerous campaign ribbons, Major Allensworth is authorized to wear the War Department Unit Citation Badge with two Oak Leaf Clusters as evidence of his outfit's achievements since El Alamein. In civilian life, Major Allensworth was an attorney with the Department of Justice in Washington, D. C.

ALLENSWORTH

Pfc. Thomas H. Kemp, 28, was killed in action Jan. 18 in France after being reported missing in action the day before. The War department has notified his mother, Mrs. C. G. Williams, route 2, Lubbock that her son has been reported killed. Pfc. Kemp was a bombardier aboard a bomber. He had been overseas since last November. He entered service in October, 1944, and trained at Tacoma, Wash., Camp Barkeley and then went overseas. He attended school in Breckenridge and prior to going into the Army was a truck driver for an Amarillo concern. His widow resides in Amarillo.

KEMP

SIXTH ARMY GROUP, France—Playing a leading role in the organization of a vast network of defense in the French Alps along the Franco-Italian frontier, an engineer combat battalion of the 44th anti-aircraft artillery brigade, of which Pvt. Clifford O. Whitley, route 5, Lubbock, Tex., is a member, is gaining a reputation as "the doughboys' right hand." Through some of the most difficult fighting terrain, these combat engineers have cleared minefields, constructed by-passes, repaired roads and constructed bridges.

WITH THE FIFTH ARMY, Italy—Second Lt. Alan D. King, son of Thomas J. King of Hale Center, is a platoon leader of the 804th Tank Destroyer battalion that has proved itself extremely versatile in action on the Italian front. The unit, an outgrowth of the New Mexico National Guard, was formerly the 104th Anti-Tank battalion and stationed at Fort Sam Houston, Texas, then later at the tank destroyer center, Camp Hood, Texas.

Cpl. Nathan E. Whitley, brother of Elmer Whitley of 603 Ave. B, Lubbock, Tex., is a member of the engineer aviation battalion which was awarded the Meritorious Service Unit plaque this week, the public relations office at APO 100, % Postmaster, New York, where he is stationed, announced.

Pfc. Olin C. Tune, husband of Mrs. Lucille W. Tune of 1522 Arnett, Lubbock, was recently awarded the Good Conduct ribbon as an ammunition handler in artillery, the Army Public Relations office of the 102nd Infantry division in Europe has announced.

WITH THE FIFTH ARMY, Italy—Private First Class Mack A. Hill, son of Mr. Claude A. Hill, who lives in Sundown, Texas, has been promoted to sergeant. He is an assistant squad leader with the 91st "Powder River" Division of the Fifth Army in Italy.

15TH AAF IN ITALY—Staff Sergeant Allen L. Brooks, whose wife, Mrs. Billie Brooks and two children, live at Tahoka, Texas, an engineer gunner aboard an AAF B-17 Flying Fortress of the 15th AAF, was recently awarded the Air Medal for ". . . meritorious achievement in aerial flight." The award was presented to Sgt. Brooks, who has flown more than seven combat missions over Hitler's Europe, by Colonel Paul L. Barton, (left above), group commander. Sgt. Brooks is a graduate of the Tahoka High school and later owned his own trucking concern. He won his wings as an aerial gunner at Kingman, Ariz., in May of 1944. Sgt. Brooks' father, L. R. Brooks, also lives at Tahoka.

AIR SERVICE COMMAND STATION, England—T/Sgt. Linus Moeller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Moeller of route 1, Slaton, Tex., recently enjoyed a "recess" from aerial warfare at an Air Service Command Rest center. . . . an English seaside resort hotel where America's airmen may relax between missions. After seven days he went back to his combat station ready to play his part again in the air battle supporting the Allied march against Germany. Sgt. Moeller has completed 32 missions over Nazi-occupied Europe. Before entering the Army he was engaged in farming.

Pfc. Raphael C. Munis of Lubbock is a staff member of the 36th General Hospital of the Sixth Army Group in France which was recently commended by their commanding officer for their work under trying conditions in Italy.

15TH AAF IN ITALY—S/Sgt. Boyd Roam Driver, 20, Tahoka, a radio-operator and gunner with a B-24 Liberator group, now wears the Distinguished Unit Badge with one Bronze Cluster as a member of a combat organization that has been twice cited by the War department for outstanding performance while engaged in armed conflict against the enemy. Sgt. Driver, son of Boyd Driver, was graduated from the Tahoka High school in 1943 and entered the AAF in April of 1943.

NEW CASTLE ARMY AIR BASE, Wilmington, Del.—Promotion of Jorn R. Davis of Levelland from private to private 1/c has been announced by the commanding officer of the 2nd Ferry group of the Air Transport Command at this field. Pfc. Davis is attached to the group's aircraft maintenance squadron.

79TH GENERAL HOSPITAL, England—Pfc. Jason H. Allen, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Allen of Cotton Center, is recovering from shrapnel wounds received in the left shoulder while he and hit unit were resisting a strong German patrol on the first day of their counter-offensive near Monschau, Germany. Pfc. Allen, a rifleman, was given emergency treatment by an aid man within a few minutes and after additional treatment at an aid station and field hospital, he was evacuated to England by a hospital ship. Prior to entering the service in February of 1943, Pfc. Allen attended Texas Tech where he was a member of Centaur club. His brother, Lt. James E. Allen, is serving with the Navy in the South Pacific area.

JASON H.

EIGHTH AIR FORCE LIBERATOR STATION, England—Capt. Charles E. Taylor, husband of Mrs. Billie Taylor of 3218 Twentieth, Lubbock, Tex., and his brother, Cpl. Harold T. Taylor, both of Ponca City, Okla., who hadn't seen each other in over two years, met recently at this Liberator base. Capt. Taylor is the engineering officer of a B-24 Liberator squadron in the 467th Bombardment group. Cpl. Taylor is a mechanic in a troop carrier unit. Capt. Taylor was employed by the War department before entering the Army Dec. 12, 1942. He was stationed at Alamogordo Air Base in New Mexico before going overseas Aug. 1, 1943. One of the planes in his squadron, the "Witchcraft," recently completed its 100th bombing mission without turning back once due to mechanical failure.

WITH THE FIFTH ARMY, Italy—Sgt. Desmond Pierce, son of Mrs. Rosa Pierce of route 2, Anton, Tex., is a member of the 701st tank destroyer battalion, Fifth Army unit, which has been in combat almost 500 days as it fights on in the Apennine mountains of Italy. In a 10-day period, from May 25 to June 4, the battalion destroyed 29 tanks, a battery of 210 millimeter howitzers, 30 vehicles and two self-propelled guns between the Anzio beachhead and Rome.

News From The Men Serving In The Armed Forces Of Uncle Sam

WITH THE 12TH AIR FORCE, Italy—Glider Pilot Dennis L. Minden, whose wife, Lois and daughter, Carolyn Ruth, live on Rt. 5, Lubbock, Tex., has been commissioned a second lieutenant. His previous rank was flight officer. Overseas since April, 1944, Lt. Minden wears battle stars on his theater ribbon for the campaigns of Italy and southern France. He was awarded the Air Medal for participating in the airborne invasion of southern France. For a citation which his group has won he wears the Distinguished Unit badge. At present his group, which is part of a troop carrier wing with the 12th air force, flies air evacuation and supply missions. Lt. Minden entered the Army Dec. 2, 1941, and was stationed at SPAAF in Lubbock, Tex., for several months.

MINDEN

LEXINGTON, Va.—Among the graduates of the Information and Education course at the school of personnel service, this week were Lt. William C. Gruben of Spur, Tex. In the Army information and education activities, Lt. Gruben will aid in bringing the War Department's information program to American troops all over the world. The objective of this program is to aid the individual soldier in becoming better adjusted to Army life, and to equip him mentally as well as physically to be a more efficient fighting man.

Filmtown Facts And Fancies

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, March 3. — Adolphe Menjou is such a fancy dresser, we've always claimed, that he dons a hunting outfit whenever he sets a mousetrap.

MENJOU

Well, after all these years dapper Adolphe confessed to us today that glorification as one of the world's best - dressed gents is strictly mercenary.

"I've never tried to be a best-dressed man," he said, "but for a lousy $60,000 a year I'd wear anything! It's fantastic — FANTASTIC!"

Until the war came along, that's what dapper Adolphe was collecting annually from men's apparel manufacturers to start fashion trends for the vain male, he said.

"They paid me to wear silk hats and not to wear silk hats. They paid me to wear coats with oversize lapels and when they ran out of coats with oversize lapels they paid me to wear coats without lapels. I was dizzy. Sometimes I made a mistake and wore the wrong thing and they bawled me out. They gave me so many hats I still have 400 of 'em. It was fantastic—FANTASTIC!"

* * *

INDIFFERENT ADOLPHE

ADDS Adolphe:

"I still don't give a d— about being the best-dressed guy in Hollywood or in the world. All I know is that when I pay $125 for a suit I want it to fit."

As the screen's No. 1 clothes-horse, Menjou was showered with so many manufacturers' suits and hats and shoes that he had to build his Beverly Hills home like a store, he said.

"There are shelves and clothes racks all over the place. I still have 250 pairs of shoes. The only person I know who has more shoes is Horace McCoy, the writer. He collects 'em as a hobby. But he's a freak—nuts about shoes."

Other day for a scene in the RKO movie, "Man Alive" (plug) the studio needed a gray derby. They couldn't find one anywhere in Hollywood. "They were going to paint a black one gray," Adolphe said, "until I heard about it. I had two of 'em. I'm lousy with hats."

Son of a French father and an Irish mother — he was born in Pittsburgh—Menjou landed in Hollywood in 1920, immediately was typed as a villain because of his mustache.

"They said I was a freak—that I'd never get anywhere. They even tried to change my name to Jack Blye. I've even been introduced as Fu Manchu. But I said that when people can't pronounce a name they will remember it."

* * *

MENJOU ARRIVES

THEN came "The Woman of Paris" and Menjou became a matinee idol, the Frank Sinatra (with a mustache and without a voice) of his day.

"Even that was fantastic—FANTASTIC," he said. "I was hired to play the heavy in the picture. Then the leading man and the director got into a fight. They fired the poor guy and made me the hero. I was lucky. It's 99 per cent luck. Hollywood is fantastic —FANTASTIC."

Fitzgerald Hopes For Single Oscar

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, March 3.—William Shields, the Dublin civil service clerk who, at 42, became Barry Fitzgerald, the actor, who, at 57, will win one of Hollywood's Oscars—maybe two—was wearing blue striped pajamas, a pair of old slippers and a heavy overcoat. His dressing room was colder than a casting director's "No."

Barry took a pipe out of his mouth, shoved a pair of gold-rimmed spectacles up on his forehead, glanced at the gas heater and said:

"I never turn it on. I'm afraid of being asphyxiated. The d— things are always blowing out and I can't smell the fumes."

Tub Smoker

His sense of smell was bad, he thought, "because I smoke too much." He's a chain pipe smoker, he said. Even smokes in his bath.

While our teeth chattered, Barry chattered about golf, the ould sod, his stand-in, who is an Iroquois Indian, women motorists who are always trying to kill him when he rides his motorcycle and why he never married. "I was busy and then, suddenly, I found I was older than I thought. The time between 25 and 40 passes faster than you think."

Happy About Nomination

By practically twisting his arm, we got him to confess that he's mighty happy about the double Academy award nomination (best performance by an actor and best supporting performance for "Going My Way") and that two Oscars on his mantle would be "mighty nice."

"But I hope I win only one of them," he said, "for the supporting performance. It wouldn't be fair otherwise because I wasn't starred in the picture."

Went His Way

Until "Going My Way," Barry Fitzgerald went his way in Hollywood for eight years without fanfare or publicity. He had small featured roles in three pictures a year, batched it in a small bungalow with his stand-in, Gus Tallion, played golf, "fiddled" around on the piano, worked jigsaw puzzles (he has 200 of them) and puffed away on his pipe.

Now every studio in town is bombarding him with scripts, and photographers swarm all over his house every weekend, posing him at the piano, frying eggs (which he does every morning), tinkering with his motorcycle, cutting roses in the back yard and taking baths (with his pipe in his mouth).

He doesn't want to be starred in a picture, he doesn't want to appear in more than three films in 1945, and he reminds you that Katina Paxinou hasn't appeared in a single picture since she won a supporting role Academy award for her work as Pilar in "For Whom the Bell Tolls."

At 42, Barry was a clerk with the Dublin Board of Trade. He made friends with an actor, who asked him to visit the Abbey Theater some night. Barry did, went backstage and liked the theater atmosphere so well he became a part-time actor himself. Finally he left civil service and took up acting as a profession, touring America in 1934 with the Abbey group in "The Plough and the Stars." When RKO filmed the play, Barry was hired for the picture and ended his career with the Abbey players.

"Ever since I left, the company has made money," he said. "Maybe I should have left sooner."

More nickel was used by the steel industry in 1944 than by any other single user.

Rabinof Concert Slated Tuesday

Benno Rabinof, great American violinist, will appear in concert at 8 o'clock Tuesday night in the auditorium of Senior High school, under auspices of the Kiwanis club. Beneficiary will be the club's underprivileged children's fund.

Actually, the concert will be two-in-one. Miss Sylvia Smith, Rabinof's accompanist, is a concert pianist widely known in her own right. She will play three compositions in addition to her accompanying of the violinist, who was a pupil of the great Auer, famed teacher of Heifetz and Elman. When he made his debut at Carnegie hall, his famed teacher conducted for him, the first time that master had undertaken to do that for a pupil.

It was way back in 1742 that Guarnerius, master violin maker, presented three "Sister" violins to the world—rich in tone and beautiful of body. The first lies in a museum in Genoa, birthplace of the first magician of violinists, Paganini. It seldom is used but is in perfect condition. In 1931, when Rabinof toured the continent, the Italians honored him by taking him to the museum, and inviting him to play it.

Played Difficult Composition

Rabinof, emotionally conscious of the honor, played Paganini's variation of "Nel Cor Piu Non Mi Sento," which means "There Is a Sadness in My Heart," one of the most difficult of violin compositions. He so captivated his Italian listeners that he was carried back to his hotel on admiring shoulders.

The second of the "Sisters" was purchased by Jascha Heifetz and is his favorite.

The third was once Fritz Kreisler's and his thrilling recordings were made on it. Then Rabinof became its owner. It, one of the rarest and most valuable of violins, has rich, clear and full tone, and Rabinof doesn't like to use any other. He will play it here.

General admission prices will be $1.20, reserved seats $1.80, both including tax. Most reserved seats have been taken committeemen announced Saturday. Tickets are on sale at John Halsey drugstore and at Adair and South Plains Music

Red Cross Work Is Never Done; Ex-Congressman A "Quickie Colonel"

Keep Your Gift Large!

Organization's Service Expands

THOSE actively connected with the Red Cross financial drive are encountering here to date a mistaken attitude upon the part of many estimable citizens. To come to the point, a great many of our people are saying: "The war will be over in Europe any day now, so the Red Cross won't need as much money this year as it did last. Therefore, I'll cut my contribution."

These people are sincere. Last year during the Red Cross drive—and on countless other occasions—they proved their generosity. They are not subject either to criticism, or to suspicion of penury. But they are mistaken in believing the end of the fighting in Europe will lessen the Red Cross' burden. As a matter of fact, our victory over the Nazis will increase, in many ways, the demands upon the Red Cross.

Cessation of hostilities in Europe will open many fields of Red Cross service to our men over there which now are closed due to the fighting. Red Cross opportunities to administer to the suffering of civilians in various European countries will be multiplied. So will be demands upon its services here at home. And, of course, as the fighting continually is stepped up in the Pacific, more Red Cross aid than ever will be needed there.

On next Tuesday, men and women of the Red Cross organization will begin their intensive campaign of personal solicitation. Let us remind the public, then, that Red Cross needs this year will be not as great as ever, but greater than ever.

To those who can afford to give as much this year as they did last, let us urge that they do so. And those who can afford to give more will be performing a great humanitarian deed if they'll give more.

"Keep Your Red Cross at His Side" is more than a slogan. It is a command we home front soldiers will be happy to accept and follow to the letter.

Good Roads For Farmers

COUNTY judges and commissioners of several South Plains counties, who appeared before the Texas Highway commission in Austin last week to request state construction and maintenance of a system of farm-to-market roads for the area, have taken a long step toward "pulling the farmer out of the mud."

For as many years as there have been farms in this area, the farmer has been on the "short end of the stick" in the matter of roads. When he first started settling in this country, he hauled his products to town along cattle trails and marketed his products with much difficulty. His heavily-ladened wagon often became mired in the mud and deep ruts after hard rains and he often had to unhitch his team and ride them back home, leaving his farm products in the wagon until the ground became firmer.

Then came the era of the automobile and he was again left to shift for himself until pressure was put on short-sighted commissioners' courts to provide him with some sort of road system for his vehicles.

It took years for him to get any semblance of roads for "off the highway" rural areas. Even when "good country roads" were laid and graded up, it might be days after rains before they were re-graded so that he could travel without "getting stuck." Only in the past few years has he been given any consideration in the matter of roads and due to the inadequacy of funds in the county road and bridge funds, he hasn't been helped much.

Not only has he been stalemated in bad weather in hauling his products to town or bringing supplies back, but his children frequently have been mitigated against in their efforts to gain an education.

With the coming of heavy school buses, rainy weather simply put a stop to their travel and rural schools in this area have lost as high as two weeks time during a term, because buses couldn't get through on the muddy roads. This necessitated holding sessions two weeks later, and sometimes on Saturdays, to make up for lost time.

This kept many youths from helping their parents in the great task of production, sorely needed in these days of labor shortages.

But in the post-war world, there is relief in sight for the farmers. He's going to get an all-weather, hard-surfaced highway on which to haul his farm produce and other products to market.

Construction of these roads, of course, will of necessity be confined to areas where they are most needed and where they will serve the greatest number.

Improvement of present routes, of which there are but a scattering throughout the South Plains area, will come along with their extension into other farming areas of the various counties. The present roads were constructed with little regard to grade and engineering and therefore will have to undergo some changes along these lines.

Those far-sighted county officials who went to Austin last week are to be commended for their efforts. They're getting set for the release of funds, materials and labor so that the rural residents of their counties will be able to share in the more abundant life in store for us all when the bells of peace ring again.

"Who Won?"

Contact Is Missing Between Iwo Jima And New Bedford, Mass. . . .

Lack Of Responsibility In Labor Difficulty Is Cited

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., March 3—Maybe there's a lesson for all of us in New Bedford.

The story has been told—how for weeks the government has been blocked in trying to get together some 300 skilled textile workers to man fully a three-shift, seven-day week operation in two plants that produce tire cord, so badly needed for heavy duty tires for military service.

STOKES

How voluntary methods got nowhere. How War Manpower Commissioner Paul V. McNutt now has run into a blockade of refusals and appeals with his scheme to force enough workers to transfer from nine fine goods plants here to the two tire cord plants, one operated by Firestone, the other by U. S. Rubber.

With the nation facing still the most severe ordeal of the war, dramatized in such a ghastly way at Iwo Jima, it is hard to understand why this problem has not been worked out, despite all its complicating factors.

• • •

Contact Is Missing

Somehow or other contact seems to be missing between Iwo Jima and New Bedford, using this city as a symbol for perhaps lots of others, perhaps for home-front America in general; for New Bedford seems typical.

It is particularly difficult to understand, taking this city again, for most of the workers here have sons, brothers, relatives in the service. So do company officials, and so do the townspeople. The city is ahead of its quota on bond sales and on its blood bank.

Perhaps it is all spelled out by a visit to Seraphim P. Jason, local AFL leader, president of the Central Labor Union, in his bare office halfway up a long flight of dark, narrow stairs. On one wall is a map of New Bedford. On the other, in a group, are pictures of George Washington, Abraham Lincoln and Franklin D. Roosevelt, and underneath these is a framed copy of President Roosevelt's war message to Congress.

• • •

MR. JASON sits at a plain table, a bulky figure, his back to a big window which looks out on Union street, a narrow old thoroughfare leading down to the river and the wharves.

He complains loudly—about the Firestone and U. S. Rubber plants, about the War Labor board in Washington and its delay in acting on pending cases, about the high cost of living and low textile wages, about the difficulties of older women who work and younger women with children, who don't have adequate facilities to take care of them and who have to go home after a hard day's work and get dinner.

He pulls out a sheet of paper and draws a crude map to show how far it is from where most of the workers live to the Firestone plant.

Yet he has three sons in the service.

"Tony" England, the local CIO director, tells the same sort of story, but in more commodious surroundings, for the CIO is top dog here.

• • •

Lack Of Responsibility

Managers of the fine goods plants complain that the transfer of the 300 skilled workers to the tire cord plants would interfere with their operations and throw three or four others of work for each one transferred. They tell also about the war contracts they have, aside from civilian production.

All this would have a ring of reason in normal times. Now it seems to stem from a lack of responsibility for which both unions and management may suffer after this war. There is a suspicion, each of the other, which seems unhealthy now.

• • •

WHAT is happening at New Bedford goes back, too, to other things—to failure to tell the people of this country the real story of the war; to overly optimistic statements from high officials about the war and to rosy forecasts of its end; to the failure to enact long ago a real national service law in which everybody would contribute as equal a sacrifice as possible — management unions, civilians, as well as the soldier who was tapped on the shoulder and told to go; to mistakes in planning and allocation of contracts.

• • •

Sent Wrong Place

But whatever the reasons, talking about them now does not make tires, nor the other things so desperately needed for the final push.

Mayor Harriman, who has stepped in on the side of the workers, offered perhaps the only practical solution when he said, in his wire of protest to Mr. McNutt, that the people would obey labor draft legislation "in the same spirit as they obeyed the draft law."

He knows his people.

Perhaps he should have sent that wire to Congress.

Looking At Life - - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

YOU probably all read the story about Katherine Ward Lane, the sculptress, who has just listed the 10 handsomest men in the United States.

Just to refresh your memory, her choice consists of Gary Cooper, Philip Merivale, Admiral Richard E. Byrd, Gregory Piatigorsky, Frederic March, Lt. Gen. Mark Clark, Raymond Massey, Gen. Douglas MacArthur, Cary Grant, and Paul V. McNutt.

However, that isn't what I'm going to talk to you about.

BRANDEIS

The part of the story that interested me the most, was Miss Lane's remark that there are very few men of any nationality that she would care to look at for more than five seconds.

According to "Who's Who in America," Miss Lane is 46 years old, unmarried, a member of many learned societies and the winner of quite a few awards for distinctive work in her chosen profession.

I have no fault to find with her selection of the 10 best-looking men. That's a matter of taste and she has as much right to her opinion as you have to yours.

But when she says that there are very few men that she would care to look at for more than five seconds, I certainly think that Miss Lane is missing a lot.

At a recent press conference Mrs. Roosevelt gave her definition of an old maid.

An old maid, she said, is a woman who couldn't have married even if she wanted to, while a single woman is one who could have married but didn't want to.

• • •

Now, how in the world can anybody make up her mind about a man if she doesn't look at him for more than five seconds?

Poor Miss Lane may have to go through life without ever being able to say whether she is an old maid or a single woman.

And I would like to know why she wouldn't care to look at any man for more than five seconds?

Why are we so obnoxious to Miss Lane?

I know lots of women who could look at Gary Cooper for hours and enjoy it.

And I know a number of girls who could look at almost any man for much more than five seconds without getting tired of him.

By the way, the average man wouldn't feel a bit flattered to be called handsome.

Men don't care anything about their looks. Maybe stage stars and screen actors do. That's part of their stock in trade.

But women don't pick men for looks. They want character and strength and somebody who'll look after them.

• • •

I THINK in that respect women are much smarter than men.

We fellows fall for pretty dolls and for a lot of make-up and even the wisest of us will give a pretty but dumb bunny an A-priority over the nicest and cleverest girl if she hasn't got what used to be called "IT."

Maybe that's the trouble with Miss Lane. As a sculptress she is probably too much concerned about features and not enough about future.

My advice to all of you ladies who read that story and who read this is:

"Don't look more than five seconds at your man's nose or eyes or hair or legs. Look inside of him and try to find out what makes his wheels go around. And that takes more than five seconds or five days or five years."

Unless you want to be an old maid—or a divorcee.

Eagles Go To Starnes

(Washington Merry-Go-Round)

By DREW PEARSON
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—If you are a defeated congressman, you don't have to worry about getting quick promotions in the U. S. Army. At least that's what ex-Congressman Joe Starnes of Alabama found out when he left Congress January 3, joined the Army as a lieutenant colonel January 4, and was upped to full colonel the very same day.

Some insiders view the Starnes commission as part of the brass hats' scheme of handing out fancy commissions, and doing all sorts of petty favors for congressmen and ex-congressmen to pave the way for billions of dollars in departmental appropriations.

PEARSON

Starnes had held a commission as lieutenant colonel in the Alabama National Guard, but other National Guard officers have been given stiff training before getting a higher rank in the regular Army. However, the War department turned handsprings for this ex-legislator who was repudiated by the voters last November. He got a whirlwind retraining course in three days.

Starnes arrived at Fort Benning, Ga., the afternoon of January 4, was outfitted, promoted, then taken on a conducted tour to see an Infantry tank combat team and a flame-thrower in action. Next day he saw a troop movement in the morning, received an infantry-artillery cooperation lecture before luncheon.

After lunch, he heard a lecture on the organization of the Army. Next day he heard four more lectures, was then promptly moved off to Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, a completely re-oriented Army full colonel, and sent to Commanding General Staff school at Fort Leavenworth.

Meanwhile West Point graduates go up the hard way.

• • •

JOCK WHITNEY TALKS

THE War department has kept it very hush-hush, but polo-playing Jock Whitney, who married the President's ex-daughter-in-law, said some things as a prisoner in Germany which gave the Nazis some good propaganda ammunition.

Whitney married the former Betsey Cushing after she had divorced Jimmy Roosevelt. When captured in Germany last year, the Nazis cleverly planted a spy in British uniform with Whitney, and Jock did some rather critical talking about his commander-in-chief, the ex-father-in-law of Mrs. Whitney.

While Jock was talking, the Nazis had a recording machine and a dictaphone operating backstage, which took down all Whitney's anti- Roosevelt views. Then the German radio played this back as propaganda, showing what a colonel in the United States Army thinks of his commander-in-chief. Fortunately, Whitney did not disclose any important military information.

NOTE—Whitney is a close pal of Harry Hopkins and once was on the staff of Nelson Rockefeller's Committee on Latin America. His job was to promote cultural relations through motion pictures and Hollywood stars.

BETTER SOLDIERS' MAIL

AT the suggestion of Congressman Bob Sikes of Florida, the Adjutant General's office is considering a new mail system to take care of one of the worst homesick periods faced by the average serviceman. This is just after he has left this country for overseas and sometimes has to wait six or eight weeks before receiving any mail from home.

To alleviate thi sand provide servicemen with mail during their loneliest days in the Army, Sikes has proposed that the Adjutant General's office make use of the temporary postoffice numbers assigned these men.

Mail sent the soldiers at this temporary address is held in Washington until word of his safe arrival overseas is received, and his permanent number assigned. This mail sometimes accumulates for two months before he actually receives it. Sikes has proposed, therefore, that the mail be shipped overseas on the basis of the temporary, or "blind" APO number. This number means nothing to the ordinary citizen, and would give away nothing to the enemy. The AGO, however, knows perfectly well where the soldier is going and can use the blind number.

Army postal authorities both here and overseas have agreed that this system will probably work, and the AGO has found no important objection to it other than that it will mean a slight increase in manpower.

CHILDREN OF ITALY

IT won't be published by the White House, but famed Italian Orchestra Leader Arturo Toscanini is writing a letter to the President which almost burns up the stationery it is written on.

Toscanini, long a great supporter of Roosevelt, is making a personal plea in behalf of the children of Italy. In substance, the Italian orchestra leader says that every time he has been in the United States, he has done everything possible to aid the infantile paralysis fund. Therefore, he concludes, it is time for President Roosevelt to do something for the children of Italy.

The children of Italy, Toscanini points out, had no more to do with Fascism than American children can be held responsible for infantile paralysis.

Toscanini may not realize it, but the inside fact is that President Roosevelt is trying to do more for Italian children than anyone else in this country, with the exception of Brig. Gen. Bill O'Dwyer. When O'Dwyer brought back his report on starvation inside Italy, the President immediately took vigorous steps to aid all Italian civilians, especially the children. On October 31, he wrote a letter to Secretary of War Stimson and as commander-in-chief, directed that the Italian civilian bread ration be increased from 200 grams to 300 grams daily.

However, General Sir Maitland Wilson, British commander in that theater, was opposed, and the increased Italian ration was never put into effect until three days ago.

On January 19, this column published the text of a British note to the State department, opposing increased food for Italian civilians. On that day, Secretary of State Stettinius publicly denounced this column, claiming that the British had revised their position and were now in favor of feeding Italians. Nevertheless, it remains a fact that the increased ration was not adopted until last Thursday.

UNDER THE DOME

WHITE-HAIRED, dignified Sen. Wallace White of Maine strolled by the lobby of the House restaurant just after Rep. John Rankin had clashed with Frank Hook of Michigan. "What brings you over to this side of the capitol?" asked Jack Pollack of the Kilgore committee. Clutching his own coat lapels about him, White replied, "I'm just hoping I can get through this corridor without being punched" . . . Herb Brownell and Tom Dewey walked out for a breath of air after their recent Washington press conference. Brownell was consoling. "You see, Tom," he said, "it wasn't so bad" . . . The Senate Campaign Expenditures committee, which has asked for financial information from all organizations politically active, received back its questionnaire from the Dewey-Bricker Victory club, of Des Moines, Iowa, with the following scrawled across it: "Mr. X, who handles such matters as are attached, is now serving time for intoxication. When he is released, he will give his attention to such maters." . . . Alfred Marum of Lawrence, Mass., is not impressed with criticism of red tape in our government. In 1917-18 he served in the German army, but although decorated, he did not receive his medal until 1939, just before he fled the country. Marum then found his citation signed by A. Hitler. Probably he is about the only Jew Hitler ever decorated.

Wilson Gives Lowdown On City's High Life

New York Columnist Writes "I Am Gazing Into My 8-Ball"

"I AM GAZING INTO MY 8-BALL," by Earl Wilson; (Doubleday, Doran).

EARL WILSON, New York Post columnist makes a business of giving his many eager readers the lowdown on his city's high life. His specialties, he says, are the three B's: Booze, Bosoms and Behinds, and he might add a fourth, a B for Belly laughs, which abound in his book. He has been called Booze Editor, and he accepts the title; when you read him, you learn all the booze that's fit to print, plus some that isn't.

Staggers All Over

His book really wanders, or staggers, all over the place, from parlor to bath, particularly to bath. He covers the fire-water front. He does stories about night clubs and the night-club denizens who come a dime a denizen in this crowded, gay, somewhat frenetic, often bawdy city.

He has one special advantage: a wide acquaintance among sharp wits, and he quotes them so generously that you're sure to find some passages that are good for a loud laugh. It all might be called . . . this is his kind of word . . . a sinposium.

Contributes His Share

But he is definitely a wit himself, and has contributed his share. He hunts up oddities, puts the embarrassing question. He has the inquiring mind. He digs diligently for facts; you may remember he lay in wait three days for Greta Garbo. He does not help the world go round, perhaps, but maybe we are better able to stand the way it does go round for having hawhawed at what he writes.

Shows Up Off-Color

He talks to girls who have been Tommy Manville's wives, to girls who want to be. He asks Hollywood stars whether they sleep raw, how much padding they use, and where. He goes out and buys himself a girdle; tries beauty aids such as a foam bath. He visits the shop where "gay deceivers" are made and modeled. He watches a girl get a massage.

In short, he turns a bright light on many slightly off-color things, about which people want information but about which they are too timid to inquire. He makes money out of the situations which make others red in the face. He is honest, too, a dependable as well as enjoyable debunker.

Refreshing Book

IN A world which devotes much of its spare time and energy to waging war and where writers revel in chronicling the story of Mars, it is refreshing to happen upon Edith Morris' little volume, "Three Who Loved" (Viking).

A devotee of the good, the true and the beautiful, and with a knack of plucking a tender phrase, Miss Morris has no truck with reality and devotes her talents to telling three allegorical tales to three persons who loved, and loving, left behind them good.

First there was the Kullan servant girl, golden-haired, apple-cheeked and carefree as a summer wind. Her contribution to the world was love, brief, lusty and fruitful. A dash of color on an otherwise drab landscape.

Then there was the silent laughing child in the Melody who transformed a sordid, hate-filled village by the sheer power of love.

Lastly there was the peasant woman who became a welfare worker and went into the city slums, where the power of her love was like a great light shining.

Although Miss Morris sometimes gets mixed up in the sheer beauty of her words, she has contrived three tales whose net result is a desire to place "Three Who Loved" on one's book shelves.

Compelling Story

FOR a first novel, "The Broken Pitcher" (Dial Press) by Naomi Gilpatrick is unusually rich and mature. It is an unusual love story, too, dealing with the love lives of four women and two men and the problem of a young girl falling in love with her stepfather.

It is a compelling story of the double triangle — a six - sided story of the loves of a daughter for her mother—and is treated keenly and with suspense and horror by Miss Gilpatrick, who heretofore confined her writing talents to periodicals.

Please pardon our shuddering. We were right in the midst of enjoying an intriguing and roseate dream of a postwar world paradise when President Roosevelt rudely awakened us by asserting that after the war 60 million Americans will be provided with jobs!

Answer to Previous Puzzle

What Did You Do Today . . . To Keep This Bell Ringing?

The boys in uniform you know—on the European continent . . . in mine infested waters . . . in Jap infested jungles . . . stand ready to give their lives today, that Liberty such as we have known since 1876 might be won for all time. This Liberty cannot be ours unless we, too, make some sacrifices. We are not asked to go out on the foreign battle fields and risk our lives. We are only asked to lend—not give—our money so we can back up our Army, our Navy . . . our War.

It's not over, over there—not by a long shot! Uncle Sam can count on the fighting men to keep on fighting — and he must be able to count on you to keep on backing them, by buying War Bonds. And remember, when you buy bonds you are saving for your future and the future of your country!

Keep On Buying War Bonds

It will show our fighting men that you are willing to do your part!

War Seems Distant In Mexico, But Its Effects Are Felt

MEXICO CITY, March 3 (AP)—You wouldn't know there's a war on if you came from Washington to Mexico City.

In fact you wouldn't have the OPA-horrors or that pang for a cigaret, a juicy steak or mutuel ticket on a winner.

Nor would you hang on every word about the bloody battle on Iwo Jima or Eisenhower's offensive toward Cologne.

But you would be living in that "world at peace" President Roosevelt talked about to Congress, and in the country where Mexican President Avila Camacho wants to raise the living standard.

You might be inconvenienced by the plumbing and get tired of arguing with the cab drivers over the prices for a riotous, horn-blowing ride through the city.

But you'd be happy to see the sun every morning instead of that mournful, grey pall hugging Washington-the-Potomac these days.

Americans attending the inter-American conference, however, won't say that Mexico isn't suffering from the war. Some who claim they are commuters between the two countries point out that prices have skyrocketed during the war.

The minimum wage is still four peso a day (about 90 cents) and that's the cost of a steak without the apple pie and coffee.

A couple of years ago, an old-timer says, the same inch-thick steak was only two pesos or less.

Cost Same As In U. S.

Meals, however, cost about the same as in the States. In fact, the old-timer says, meals in the better places used to be quoted in dollars until the president put his foot down.

So the restaurants just converted the prices at the prevailing rate of exchange.

Chilean, Brazilian and other Latin American delegates who've felt the pinch of gas-rationing marvel with the Americans over the number of private cars on the streets.

Mexicans, however, have a war-consciousness of their own. They are on the Allied side and their squadron 201 is ready to help the U. S. out in the Pacific. They've had to tighten their belts because of inflation and they feel there won't be any relief until the war is over.

Medal Is Awarded To Farwell Man

SOMEWHERE IN THE PACIFIC—(Delayed)—(AP)—For treating wounded men while exposed to heavy enemy fire during the battle for Guam, Pharmacist's Mate 2/C Jason R. Hall, 32, of Farwell, Tex., has been awarded the Navy and Marine Corps medal.

Hall, a Navy hospital corpsman serving with the Third Marine division, advanced 75 yards through heavy Japanese fire to aid wounded Marines on the Asan-Adelaup beachhead last July 21. While he was administering plasma to one man, a mortar shell fragment struck and killed the man.

Disregarding the enemy fire, Hall continued to move among the injured until he collapsed from heat exhaustion.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Hall of Farwell, he is also a veteran of the Bougainville campaign.

U. S. Guns Dominate Rhine; German Towns West Of River Fall Readily

By WES GALLAGHER
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEUSS, Germany, March 2 (Delayed)—Lt. Robert Packer, a 23-year-old former college student from Brooklyn, commanded the first American company to reach the Rhine opposite Duesseldorf early today, splitting Field Marshal von Rundstedt's armies in the west in two.

American guns now dominate the Rhine. It was apparent that American artillery fire on a 24-hour-a-day basis would make it impossible for the Germans to operate their war factories in Duesseldorf. From wrecked houses overlooking the Rhine I watched scores of U. S. Ninth Army guns pound shells into Duesseldorf and the Ruhr as German divisions fled north to escape across a bridge near Krefeld.

Entered Night Before

Elements of the 83rd (Ohio) Infantry division reached the Rhine after fighting through Neuss. The city has been cleared except for sporadic resistance on the outskirts as enemy stragglers tried to cross the river. Packer's company E entered Neuss last night.

The 83rd attacked Neuss after the Second Armored division had cleared the way to within three miles of the city and then turned north, fighting its way across the Nord canal in a thunderous pursuit of the Germans.

More than 20,000 civilians were huddled in air raid shelters here this morning. German soldiers in the city gave up easily, as did most of the other uniformed men. The police battalion which was supposed to fight was waiting to surrender with grips all packed.

People Stand Sullenly

Every other town west of the Rhine is surrendering as docilely as this one. White flags hang everywhere from windows and air raid shelters. Men and women stand around sullenly with hatred in their eyes but without the slightest truculence.

It is apparent that west of the Rhine, at least, Hitler's wild exhortations to fight to the last man, woman and child, to snipe, to sabotage, to defend their towns and homes street by street have been a complete flop.

This despite the fact that every street in Neuss has huge Goebbels-inspired painted signs such as "American fighter-bombers are fiends from hell," "There is no room for traitors in Germany—fight all for victory."

City Among Quietest

Except for a few enemy shells being tossed into the town from across the river this is the quietest freshly captured city I have seen in France, Belgium, Holland or Germany.

However, Lt. Col. John A. Norris, jr., of Austin, Tex., commander of the battalion which took the town, gave three other correspondents and myself a guard of six riflemen as we made our way through the shattered hulks of buildings to the waterfront harbor which leads in from the Rhine 500 yards away.

Correspondents reached this Rhine city shortly after daylight this morning.

The streets were crowded with civilians emerging from cellars particularly along Adolf Hitler strasse, which is one of the main streets. They said the German army had started fleeing across the Rhine four days ago, leaving it up to the civilians to decide whether they wanted to stay.

Almost all of those left after the bombings did stay, saying the war was lost and there was no point in fleeing to be overrun again at a later date, possibly by the Russians. The German civilians and soldiers alike showed a great fear they might fall into the hands of the Russians.

Another big tank battle was raging a few miles to the north, southwest of Krefeld. Among the Americans engaged in that attack was Pfc. David Vasquez of Fabens, Tex.

SEVEN UP—Thank the press agent of screen actress Toni Seven for the flash that she's the favorite pin-up of G. I. editors. His recent survey of service publications indicated that her photo, usually the one above, appeared three times as often as pictures of other top pin-ups, including such barrack-wall flowers as Lana Turner, Betty Grable and Carole Landis.
