Guard shoots one man at Pentagon

WASHINGTON (AP) — An armed man who tried to run past a Pentagon security guard was shot today and later died at a nearby hospital, authorities said.

A Pentagon spokesman said the man, identified by CBS News as Duane Wallace, 30, of Youngstown, Ohio, pulled a gun outside a Pentagon entrance and tried to bolt toward the National Command Center.

The spokesman, William Caldwell, said the man was shot once by a guard outside the River Entrance, one floor below the office of Defense Secretary Caspar W. Weinberger.

Caldwell said the incident happened shortly after 8 a.m. The man died less than two hours later at the National Orthopedic Hospital in Arlington, Va., said spokeswoman Beth Ellington.

Just beyond the River Entrance is a main corridor leading to the National Command Center, the heavily secured area of the building where the Joint Chiefs of Staff meet.

According to Caldwell, the incident began when the man was stopped at the security checkpoint by a Federal Protective Service guard of the General Services Administration.

"The man produced a gun and proceeded to run past the guard and make a dash toward the National Command Center," said Caldwell.

"The guard ordered the man to stop and he turned around, facing the officer and brandishing the gun in his hand. The guard then fired two shots, one of which struck the man."

"An investigation has been initiated by the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the Federal Protective Service," Caldwell said.

The Pentagon and General Services Administration, which is responsible for overseeing the operation of the Pentagon, declined to identify the guard involved in the shooting.

The GSA assigns FPS security guards to each entrance of the Pentagon.

Caldwell said no one else was injured in the incident.

Although the spokesman said it was unclear how many people were in the area at the time, the River Entrance is normally quite busy at that hour of the morning.

Caldwell said Weinberger was in the building at the time of the shooting.

The spokesman said there were no reports of any verbal threats or statements by the intruder before the shooting.

District completes tax rolls

Certified tax rolls will be presented to local taxing entities by Thursday, the Scurry County Appraisal District board was told Tuesday night.

At its regular monthly meeting, Chief Appraiser Ray Peveler told the board, "Tax values have been certified correct and appraisal rolls will be presented to the taxing entities by Wednesday or Thursday."

Problems with computer programming had caused an earlier imbalance in completing the tax rolls.

A resolution requesting ownership of real property located at 2612 College in accordance with Section 6.051 of the state property tax code was approved and sign-

Auto, other thefts cleared

Two Snyder youths were arrested at mid-day Tuesday in connection with a stolen pickup truck here, a stolen car in Winters and various other offenses.

A 15-year-old youth was released to his parents at 10 p.m. Tuesday, and a 16-year-old youth was remanded to juvenile authorities in Midland where he was already on probation, police reported.

Officers took the two into custody at 12:34 p.m. Tuesday at 30th St. and Ave. H.

With the arrests, recent cases cleared here included the theft of a go-cart June 14 from Ricky Sorrells at 307 34th St., the theft of two bicycles Monday from Rita Hammit at 703 23rd St., the theft Monday of a 1985 pickup from Gary Don Atwood of 208 31st St. and the theft of a car from a woman in Winters later that day.

Also cleared was the Monday theft of a rifle from a vehicle belonging to Steve Campbell of 301 34th St., officers said, adding that the bicycles, pickup, car and rifle were all recovered.

Officers had been looking for the youths since 3:24 a.m. Tuesday, when a patrolman stopped them. The pair abandoned the car at 21st St. and Ave. J escaped

Exchange student visits in Snyder

By Shirley A. Gorman
SDN News Editor

Andrea Veazey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Veazey, spent six weeks in Austria and other points in Europe this summer visiting the sites and meeting people from other countries.

She left Snyder on June 18 and when she returned July 31 she had Simone Baehr of Essen, Germany with her. Baehr will remain in Snyder for three weeks and when she leaves on Aug. 18 she will travel to California where she will visit a family she stayed with last summer.

Veazey's trip was sponsored by the local International Youth Exchange Program which is supported by local clubs, organizations and individuals. The trip was arranged through the Rotary Club's international youth exchange program.

Since Austria does not usually reciprocate with one of their students returning to the U. S. for a brief visit and since the Veazeys wanted to have a foreign visitor stay with them this summer, Veazey said that during orientation she picked Baehr and the two journeyed to Snyder together.

While in Austria, Veazey stayed with a total of three familes, each for two weeks. She said it was not hard to change locations so often, but that parting with her family each time was difficult.

She said that switching families was fun because she got to experience "different lifestyles."

Veazey's first stop was Jenbach, Austria where she stayed in the mountains with a family that had three children. The father was an optometrist. One of Education support group organizing

A new organization to support quality education is being formed in Snyder, and the Rev. Steve Smith, president of the group, told Snyder school board members Monday night its goal is to promote "excellence in education."

Described by some as an "academic booster club," the organization is seeking to become incorporated as a non-profit organization.

Smith, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church and one of the group's charter members, said the official name will be The Council for Excellence in Education.

"We intend to provide general support for our local school system. That would include students, board members, teachers and the administration. The group will lend support to existing policies while seeking to develop new ideas," Smith said.

Smith said the council's role is not yet clearly defined, but the group is eager to hear ideas from all interested persons. While no status or recognition was requested from the board, Smith said it desires a good, positive working relationship with all areas of the school.

"While the group cannot be all things to all things to all people, it does view excellence as a relative thing. It does not intend to be elitest and sees itself as being equally concerned with all students, regardless of ability."

A membership drive is planned during September, and is open to all persons interested in the Snyder schools. In addition to Smith, other council board members are Martha Huddleston, Elizabeth Potts, Drew Bullard and John Oudt.

Absentee vote ends heavy

Strong absentee voting in both the city and county elections indicate a heavy interest in Saturday's elections.

At the close of absentee balloting Tuesday, a total of 257 votes were cast in the city civil service vote. The county ballot on a half-cent sales tax generated 221 absentee votes with two ballots still in the mail.

The city vote Saturday deals with the effort to place city policemen and paid firemen under state-wide civil service laws.

The plan is supported by the Snyder Police Association and its auxiliary while the Snyder city council has gone on record in opposition.

The separate county vote deals with the implementation of a half-cent sales tax. It is expected that such a tax would generate some $250,000 in revenues. If approved, the county would be required to reduce the ad valorem tax rate that amount.

Saturday's civil service vote will be conducted at city hall from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

County voting will be during the same hours, but at 15 polling places throughout the county. The voting precinct is indicated on the individual's voter registration card.

Talley passes CPA exam

Belinda Talley, a staff accountant at Yorgesen, Blakey & Coronado, Certified Public Accountants, for the past six years, has passed her state examination to become a certified public accountant.

She was notified this week that she had made a passing score on the examination she took in May.

Mrs. Talley, 28, is a 1979 graduate of Stephen F. Austin State University. She lived previously in Atlanta, Ga., and Houston.

Her husband, Ron, is a graduate student at Texas Tech University.

The feller on Deep Creek says, "Taxes shouldn't be graduating, they should be dropouts."

Recent reports concerning Sweetwater's effort to secure a Texas prison unit has caused some confusion here. It has prompted some folks to inquire why Snyder was not one of the communities to submit a bid last week.

Sweetwater and Nolan County was among 51 making a proposal for location of one of four private pre-release centers planned in the state.

Other West Texas towns making a bid last Friday were Abilene, Andrews, Weatherford, Odessa, Swisher County, Ozona, Brady, Levelland, Amarillo, Lubbock and Big Spring.

The four units will be 500-bed facilities. The deadline was last Friday, and those 51 communities hope to hear of a TDC decision by the board's September meeting.

Snyder was one of the first communities to zero in on a prison as a possible industrial prospect. The decision to go for it was made after much study and research.

One of the things learned was that the TDC wanted to locate the pre-release centers near urban areas. In addition, the pre-release concept would have the prisoners working in the community as a means of easing inmates back into the mainstream of society.

It was easy for our committee to decide that Snyder did not fit into this plan. We are hoping to create jobs, not to have inmates competing in a tight job market.

Snyder is still very much interested in a state of Texas prison. It appears that our best shot is for a typical state-operated prison such as the new one just being completed in Palestine.

The local committee has done its homework, and has worked its political bases. Folks in Austin and Huntsville know of Snyder's interest. There have never been any guarantees, but we're still optimistic about Snyder's chances to land from 500 to 1,000 state jobs. And boy, do we need them.

In Brief

Faulty bolts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Faulty bolts have crippled 1,220 of the Army's main battle tanks, according to a House subcommittee member who said hearings today were intended to determine whether similar problems exist elsewhere in the military.

The House Energy and Commerce oversight subcommittee was scheduled to hear Army officials testify today about the problems with guns on nearly one-eighth of the service's 10,000 M-60 tanks, said Rep. Ron Wyden, D-Ore.

"They can't fire the main gun except in a national emergency because the screws are in such bad shape," said Wyden, who had seen copies of the Army's prepared testimony.

The panel also planned to hear testimony about other weapons problems caused by substandard fasteners, the congressman said.

Shuttle test

BRIGHAM CITY, Utah (AP) — The first major test of a fully redesigned space shuttle booster joint was declared a "tremendous success" by officials from NASA and Morton Thiokol Inc.

In the test conducted Tuesday afternoon, the new joint prevented super-hot gases from escaping the rocket motor during a 50-second firing at Morton Thiokol's proving ground 20 miles west of here, said Allan McDonald, director of Thiokol's Redesigned Solid Rocket Motor Task Force.

The trial was a preliminary step toward the first full-scale test-firing of booster rocket using the redesigned joint. It is scheduled for sometime later this month.

Leaking gases from a faulty joint have been blamed for the Jan. 28, 1986, explosion of the shuttle Challenger.

40 may have been exposed

MARLIN, Texas (AP) — Juvenile authorities say they are warning children listed in an insurance salesman's computer records that the man may have exposed them to the AIDS virus through sexual contact.

Jimmy G. Ethridge, 38, of Marlin, who was found in an autopsy to have carried the virus, may have exposed as many as 40 children to the virus linked to the fatal and incurable disease, said Debra Coca, a Falls County juvenile probation officer.

She said anyone with whom Etheridge had sexual relations has an 80 percent chance of contracting aquired immune deficiency syndrome, a disease that weakens the body's ability to fight germs.

AIDS is caused by a virus believed passed through the blood and semen.

It cripples the body's ability to fight germs and disease. Groups at highest risk are homosexual men and intravenous drug users.

Ms. Coca said she has interviewed 10 of the 40 children.

Most of the 40 children were Hispanic or black and between 13 and 16 years old, although some were as young as 7, Ms. Coca said.

All 10 children who were interviewed Monday and Tuesday are Marlin residents, Ms. Coca said. Many of them agreed to take an AIDS test, she said.

The rest of the 40 children live in Louisiana, Arkansas and Mexico, Ms. Coca said. She said an unknown number of the children live in Waco.

Ms. Coca said she plans to send letters telling the other children about the case and advising them to seek medical care.

Ethridge was found in his bedroom with a bullet wound to his head. A 16-year-old Marlin boy, who apparently was living with Ethridge, was a suspect but authorities said there was not enough evidence to prosecute him for the death.

During the investigation, police found enlarged photographs of nude children and a computer containing information about them, Ms. Coca said.

The addresses and names of the 40 children were discovered after the computer code was broken Tuesday, Ms. Coca said.

Ethridge apparently kept files about those boys he had "long-term relations with," Ms. Coca said. The files included addresses, names, telephone numbers and dates when Ethridge met the boys, she said.

"Usually those relationships were 10 years or longer," Ms. Coca said. "Some of the boys were 7 and 9 at the beginning and are now between 17 and 19."

For "short-term" relations, Ethridge apparently kept computer stories on what transpired, Ms. Coca said.

Fairness Doctrine out but debate still continues

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fairness doctrine supporters say the Federal Communications Commission's decision to abolish the 38-year-old policy strikes at the heart of the law requiring broadcasters to serve the public interest.

Media groups, however, hailed Tuesday's landmark decision as an important step toward giving broadcast journalists the same First Amendment guarantees that have protected the print media — a freedom most broadcasters will handle "professionally and fairly," they say.

But members of Congress promised to accelerate efforts to write into law the doctrine that requires broadcasters to present contrasting views on controversial issues. They claim the FCC's action was an "end-run" around Congress, which earlier this year passed a bill to codify the doctrine but has been unable to override President Reagan's veto.

Rep. Edward J. Markey, D-Mass., chairman of the House telecommunications subcommittee, declared: "The honeymoon between Congress and the Patrick Commission is over." Dennis R. Patrick took over as chairman of the commission last spring.

The doctrine, which evolved through FCC decisions and case law, required radio and TV stations to cover "controversial issues of public importance" in their communities and present contrasting views on those issues. If someone bought time to present a position on a controversial issue, the station had to ensure that its overall programming covered all sides, by selling ads or making free time available to groups with opposing views.

Unless and until Congress acts, radio and television broadcasters no longer will have to use the doctrine as a measure of their fairness in news and public affairs coverage.

"This action really strikes at the American system of broadcasting, at the Communications Act of 1934," the basis for most broadcast regulation, said former FCC commissioner Abbott Washburn, who served on the FCC from 1974 to 1982.

"The foundation of the act is the trusteeship concept" that broadcasters are licensed to serve the public interest, "and the fairness doctrine is at the core of that concept," Washburn said. "You're really undermining the system of broadcasting that has worked so well in this country."

Rosel Hyde, who was acting chairman of the FCC when the commission adopted a report in 1949 that formalized the doctrine, shared Washburn's concern.

Peach of a Deal Turns Rotten For Couple Selling Orchard

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1987 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: Our problem is failure. Now, in our late 60s, my husband and I have lost all of our savings in an effort to do more for our children, especially our 40-year-old son who talked us into mortgaging our farm and going into debt to purchase a nearby peach orchard in Georgia.

We desperately need to sell our peach orchard. There are so many people with so much money now; surely the prospect of expenses deductible from income tax should appeal to them. And the expense of operating a peach orchard is considerable, and it's deductible.

Abby, can you help us find a buyer?

NEEDS A BUYER

P.S. Our son is tall, blond, handsome and unmarried. Many girls have tried to land him. My only other hope is that some wealthy girl who loves horses as we all do will show up.

DEAR NEEDS: I urge you to advertise in your newspaper and contact an agent whose business it is to sell such properties. If that doesn't bear fruit, forget the orchard and advertise your son. (Only kidding.)

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a real couch potato. Now, don't get me wrong, I like TV as much as the next person, but here's my problem: He stays up until all hours watching old movies and reruns and then comes to bed late. It's not that he ignores me or is trying to avoid sex — it's just the opposite. He wakes me up at 2 or 3 a.m. wanting to be romantic.

I have asked him to come to bed first, then watch TV afterward, but he says it takes away all the spontaneity. But, Abby, once I go to sleep I would like to stay asleep.

What do you think?

MRS. COUCH POTATO, GLENDALE HEIGHTS, ILL.

DEAR MRS. POTATO: Forget spontaneity and plan ahead. Talk this out together while you're both wide awake.

DEAR ABBY: This October, my husband and I will have been married for five years, and I have never sent thank-you notes to relatives and friends who gave us wedding gifts. Needless to say, I feel terribly guilty about this.

Is there a way I can now, at this late date, send the thank-yous along with an apology? I guess what I'm hoping for is a "magic phrase" that I can incorporate into the "thank-you" note which will enable them to forgive me, and, I hope, to understand that I not only want to thank them, but also want to correct this seemingly rude omission.

Thank you in advance, Abby!

C.H.M. IN BRAINTREE, MASS.

DEAR C.H.M.: The "magic phrase" is: "We are profoundly embarrassed to be writing at this very late date to thank you for the beautiful ice bucket you gave us when we were married.

"Please forgive us for what must seem an inexcusably tardy acknowledgment. Believe us to be terribly ashamed. However, the pleasure we have received from that wonderful ice bucket would warm your heart" etc."

I hope you have kept a list of what each giver gave because if you can make an identifying comment about the gift, you may be more readily forgiven. Good luck.

Your Birthday

Thursday, Aug. 6, 1987

In the year ahead, you are likely to set aside old interests that have neither produced a profit nor advanced your position in life. Your rewards will lie in the new.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) A bit more self-discipline than usual may be required today regarding your health habits. Practice moderation when eating or drinking. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph Matchmaker set instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Your luck today may be bounded by definite perimeters. Rejections are possible if you press things too far. Try to play important matters close to the vest.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) If you hope to keep your household budget intact today, you might have to hide your mate's checkbook in order to counter his or her extravagant whims.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Things will work out well for you today, provided you can find someone to carry out your ideas. You may not do too much about them yourself.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) As of this time, you should have accumulated a little surplus. Bank it for a rainy day, instead of blowing it on something frivolous.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Schedule your day so that you can take care of your more important needs later in the afternoon. Today you are a slow starter, but a strong finisher.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Associates are prepared to behave cooperatively toward you today, but don't make it a one-way street. Their assistance will cease if you are unresponsive.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Try to select companions today who are on your wavelength philosophically. Involvements with individuals who aren't may not turn out too well.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) If you hope to exploit a present area of advantage, it will be necessary for you to make a more conscientious effort than you are now doing.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) A decision to which you've given considerable thought could misfire today if you start making last-minute changes. Stick to your blueprint.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Be cautious today when dealing with people or firms about whom you know little. If you are too naive, there's a chance you might be deceived.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Don't expect too much today in a commercial way from someone you only know socially. This is a person who tries to keep the two worlds separate.

Researchers slow deterioration in dreaded illness

NEW YORK (AP) — Researchers have developed a drug treatment that slows muscle deterioration in children with severe muscular dystrophy, delaying their need to use wheelchairs full time by about two years, it was announced today.

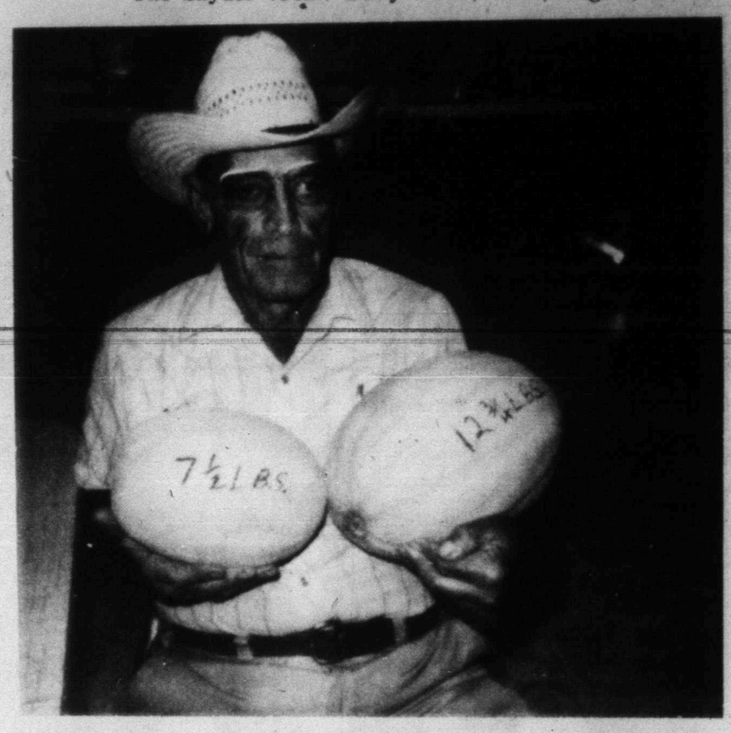

Until now, there has been no treatment for Duchenne muscular dystrophy, the most severe form of the disease. It is rare in girls but occurs in about one in 4,000 boys, making it the most common childhood form of muscular dystrophy and among the most common of any inherited disorders.

Surgery and back and leg braces are used to relieve the disease's side effects, but unlike the new treatment, they do not delay muscle deterioration, said Donald Wood, director of research for the Muscular Dystrophy Association in New York.

A drawback of the new treatment is that it involves a drug, prednisone, with side effects that may be severe enough to prevent its use outside of carefully controlled experiments, Wood said.

Two studies reported in the current issue of the Archives of Neurology conclude that prednisone has long-term beneficial effects delaying the loss of walking ability by approximately two years, and that muscle and lung function improved over the short term.

"It's the first drug that in a controlled trial has been demonstrated to improve the strength of muscle in patients with Duchenne muscular dystrophy," Wood said.

The message is loud and clear

By James Jacoby

There is a great philosophical conflict in the world of international bridge these days. Because complicated and abstruse stystems have proliferated, many experts feel that high-level bridge has become so complex that young minds are turning away from the game entirely. Although there is a large body of bridge professionals — writers, teachers and players — who can master the complexities of the game, I join those who feel that competitive bridge will endure only if the dedicated amateur can enjoy playing and can also enjoy following the exploits of the world's great players.

Many conventions used in competitive bridge are easy to understand, and their use occurs in such a startling way that they are hardly ever misconstrued. Such a bid is the splinter bid. Today South opened one spade. When his partner jumped to four clubs, that described a hand with four-card trump support, 9-11 high-card points and a singleton club. When South cue-bid his heart A-K, North was delighted to show his diamond controls; even though that advanced the partnership to the five-level. That was enough to propel declarer into a six-spade contract — an easy contract to make, given the excellent dummy. All declarer had to do for 12 tricks was ruff two clubs in dummy and then pitch a third club on the second high diamond. In fact, when the ace of clubs came down on the second club ruff, the club jack became a winner.

Both pilots land safely

LANCASTER, Calif. (AP) — A small plane collided with a commuter airliner over the Mojave Desert, but pilots of both damaged aircraft landed safely and the 11 people aboard walked away uninjured.

The accident was one of three involving small planes in the Los Angeles area Tuesday. The two earlier accidents involved crash landings, one of which caused cuts and bruises to two motorists on the ground.

In the collision, tragedy was averted 5,800 feet above the Antelope Valley when the pilot of the Trans World Express commuter carrier dived after spotting the small craft, officials said.

The twin-engine DeHavilland DHC-6 was on final approach to Lancaster's Fox Field when it was clipped by the single-engine Cessna 172 shortly after noon, said Federal Aviation Administration spokeswoman Elly Brekke.

"The pilot took some evasive action to avoid a more disastrous accident," Ms. Brekke said.

Latin American exports have grown in volume since the onset of a debt crisis, but their value has decreased at a rate of 4.6 percent a year since 1981, according to the Inter-American Development Bank. Merchandise exports provided 70 percent of Latin America's foreign exchange between 1978 and 1981. That figure rose to 95.5 percent in 1985.

Oil in sweat stains clothes

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT — My friends call me "Old Yellowstain" because of the marks on the armpits of my T-shirts. Each new shirt becomes stained after one or two uses. I bathe frequently. Why does this happen?

DEAR READER — Perspiration contains skin oils as well as moisture. The oils can become trapped in fabric after the moisture evaporates. When sweat has a high oil content, the oil oxidizes to a yellow color. Often this material is difficult to wash out and causes permanent staining.

The yellow stains on your T-shirts may be a source of ribbing from your friends; however, they do not reflect ill health or disease. The use of antiperspirants may reduce the excretion of oily perspiration from your underarms.

DEAR DR. GOTT — We have several outside dogs and cats. Can my kids get worms from walking barefoot in the yard or being licked on the face?

DEAR READER — Hookworm is the most common temperate-zone parasite that can penetrate unbroken skin. The larvae, which hatch in soil contaminated with feces, mature in about 10 days and can enter the skin. These larvae may exist dormant in soil for several months.

Most canine and feline parasites lay eggs that pass out of the animals in excrement. With the exception of hookworm, the parasites are usually spread to humans by finger-to-mouth contact. Because parasites do not pass "upstream" into the animals' mouths, your children are not at risk by being licked on the face.

DEAR DR. GOTT — Is it bad to consume a lot of vinegar? I put it on everything. I am 20, have had kidney stones and take 300 milligrams of Zyloprim daily.

DEAR READER — Vinegar, a dilute acid, is not harmful when taken as a dietary constituent. I have never heard of a person drinking vinegar, so I cannot comment on the possible hazards of such massive quantities. The amount that usually is added to food is unlikely to cause disease and will not affect either your kidney stones or the gout for which you are taking Zyloprim.

However, you should tell your doctor about your dietary preferences. Perhaps you are eating other substances that could contribute to kidney stones and gout — for example, sweetbreads and liver.

To give you more general information, I'm sending you a free copy of my Health Report, ABOUT GOUT. Others who want a copy of the Report should send $1 and their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

U. S. citizen reported killed

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — A Chilean jetliner with 33 people on board broke in half and burst into flames after a tire blew out on impact. One passenger, a U.S. citizen, was killed, airline officials said.

Television broadcasts monitored in Santiago showed the Lan Chile Boeing 737 engulfed in flames on the runway, its fuselage split in two, following the Tuesday evening crash in the northern city of Calama.

ATTENTION: ANNUAL SUMMER DRAPERY CLEANING SPECIAL

There is a good reason why we have an annual Drapery Sale each year at this time. At the plant we employ a lot of skilled people in our Household Dept. and we run this discount sale on draperies to give these folks full employment. It's your chance to give your draperies the same attention to details and all at a 20 percent discount. If you want to get a head start on housecleaning, I can help you take the draperies down today or on my next call.

Golfers brave the dark...

Nitelite tourney big success

There was a lot of whooping and hollaring going on. The basic gentlemanly rules of relative quiet on the course didn't seem to apply. But maybe that was because the golfers couldn't see each other.

The Nitelite Scramble - alias Midnight Madness as WTC Golf Coach Dave Foster termed it - finished up a little after midnight at Western Texas College Golf Course with Pat Doran, Lee Snead, Rick McPhaul and Dave Minemier taking top honors in the Championship Flight.

They shot a 27 in the dark to clip Alton Patterson, Johnny Powell, Donnie Newman and Billy Brock by a single stroke. First Flight winners were John Hopkins, Bud Pinkerton, Shawn Ragland and Kelly Ragland, who won on a scorecard playoff after locking at 34 with four other teams.

Fifteen four-man teams participated in the nine-hole event, which began at 9:30 p.m. with a shotgun start. Players used specially lit golf balls. Certain parts of the course, including the flags, were lit with special light sticks.

"It was a big success," beamed Foster. "And could you believe the spectators? We had more spectators for this than we usually have in a daylight tournament. Everybody had a good time. We hope to have another one at the end of August or first of September."

It was the first night golf tournament for most of the golfers, including Minemier.

"The hardest part was putting because you couldn't really read the greens," said Minemier. "You just kind of hit it towards the hole and hoped it would go in. Lee (Snead) seemed to have a knack for it and that really helped us a lot."

Driving the ball ("You just lineup and whack it.") seemed easier than putting, he added, but it was "sometimes difficult to tell which club to use. What was wild was to watch the balls coming through the air. Not the ones that you hit, but the ones that were coming toward you."

Proceeds from the tournament go to the WTC Scholarship Fund.

TOUGH TO SEE -- With only a soft glow from the ball and a marker on the flag for light, Dave Minemier lines up a putt during the Nitelite Scramble, held at Western Texas College Golf Course. Tryout time changed to 1 p.m.

Saturday's basketball tryout at Western Texas College has been moved from 2 p.m. to 1 p.m., the athletic department reported this morning.

The tryout is open to young men who wish to play basketball for Western Texas and who are eligible to attend college.

Athletic physicals this evening

Seventh and ninth grade boys and girls who plan to participate in athletics during the 1987-88 school year should report to the main building at Snyder High School at 5:30 p.m. today for a physical.

There is no charge for the physicals, which are also required of transfer students, or students planning to participate in athletics for the first time.

Students must have a medical history form on file prior to the physical. Forms may be picked up through 4 p.m. at the school field house.

Buffs claim opener; play Temple tonight

BELTON -- Willie Garcia pitched a no-hitter through three innings, prompting Snyder to an 11-3 victory over Gainsville in first-round action of the Texas Junior Teenage League State Tournament here Tuesday morning.

The Buffs, undefeated this season, will face Temple in tonight's 6 o'clock game as the tournament continues. Temple advanced with an 11-10 win over Bowie County.

In other games played Tuesday, Elkhart crushed McCamey 22-8 and Belton defeated Freeport 11-5. Today, Gainsville was to play Bowie County at 9 a.m. and McCamey was paired against Freeport at 11 a.m. In addition to the Snyder-Temple game at 6 o'clock, Elkhart and Belton will play at 8 p.m.

Garcia kept Gainsville off the scoreboard for the first three innings, while his teammates were staking him to an 8-0 advantage. Manager O.D. Brewer gave the youngster a rest after that, saving him for future action. Each pitcher may only pitch 14 innings during the four-day tourney.

Snyder took a 1-0 lead in the first inning when Marcus Greene walked, moved around on a hit batsman and another walk, and came in when Randy Morris was tagged by a pitch from Gainsville starter Charles Smith.

The Buffs extended the lead to 5-0 in the second inning. Bart Morton drew a one-out walk and scored on a Morris single. Tommy Lane also walked, and Jason West followed with a two-run single. Greene also singled West home before Gainsville could retire the side.

Snyder added three runs in the top of the fourth inning. Greene's one-out double scored Morris, who had walked, and Lane, who had singled aboard. Gilbert Hernandez later cracked a two-out basehit which pushed Greene home.

Snyder picked up a run in the fifth on an error, and two more in the sixth on a Bert Merritt double after Garcia and Hernandez had singled.

With help from an error, Gainsville scored its three runs in the fifth and sixth innings off of Morris, who relieved Garcia on the mound. Hernandez also made an appearance, working the seventh stanza.

Snyder pitching allowed just two hits and dished out seven walks. Gainsville gave up 10 hits and six walks.

A victory over Temple would send Snyder into Thursday's 6 p.m. game. A loss would put the Buffs back on the field at 11 a.m. in the double-elimination tournament.

Finals are scheduled for 11 a.m. Friday, with a 6 p.m. game also scheduled, if necessary.

Rohrer back in fold; eager to don uniform

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP)-Linebacker Jeff Rohrer, who missed five days of training camp and was fined $5,000, has a new two-year agreement with the Dallas Cowboys.

"I'm very happy and I just wish it hadn't come down to all the name calling," Rohrer, the second leading tackler on the NFL team in 1986, said Tuesday.

The six-year veteran left camp last Thursday when he found out his $192,000 salary for his option year was less than the money made by Dallas' other starting linebackers, Eugene Lockhart and Mike Hegman.

He signed for $220,000 this year and $240,000 next year.

"We both have a deal we can live with," Rohrer said. "I wanted to be here and I wanted to play. I'm ready to hit somebody. We took the bull by the horns, cut out all the stuff, and did the deal."

With a scrimmage set for today against the San Diego Chargers, Rohrer said he was so pumped up he was "sleeping with my uniform on."

After Rohrer reported on Thursday, he was notified he was subject to the "Riggins rule."

It's a rule for players who report to camp and leave. A player who stays away from camp five days after he first reports is subject to being placed on a reserve roster where he can't go to any other team in the NFL.

"It was sort of a do or die situation tonight for me and the Cowboys," Rohrer said. "I wanted to play for the Cowboys. They could have waived me. I'm glad it worked out. We were mired down in a lot of nonsense."

Rohrer had a two-hour negotiation with vice president Joe Bailey of the Cowboys after talking to Coach Tom Landry.

"I owe Coach Landry a lot and I want to repay him someday," Rohrer said. "I'll have to pay the $5,000 fine but I'm willing to do that."

Angels spoil Carlton's debut; pound Minnesota Twins, 12-4

by The Associated Press

The California Angels hammered out a season-high 19 hits, including home runs by Doug DeCinces and Wally Joyner, spoiling Steve Carlton's debut with Minnesota and pounding the Twins 12-3 Tuesday night.

"I don't know how hard he threw. We didn't have a gun on him," Minnesota Manager Tom Kelly said of Carlton, who was acquired last Friday from Cleveland and was battered for 11 hits and nine runs in 4 2-3 innings. "But I thought he threw pretty well."

Bill Buckner had RBI singles in the first and third innings and DeCinces led off the third with his first homer since July 7. Gary Pettis capped the Angels' three-run third with a run-scoring double, his first RBI since the All-Star break.

The Angels chased Carlton during a five-run fifth, capped by DeCinces' two-run single off Roy Smith. They made it 10-3 in the sixth on Pettis' RBI single and continued their assault in the seventh on Wally Joyner's two-run homer, his 23rd. Joyner hit 22 last season.

The setback cut Minnesota's lead in the American League West to one game over Oakland, a 9-3 winner over Seattle, and 1½ over California. In the AL East, Cleveland crushed New York 15-3 and sliced the Yankees' lead to one-half game over Toronto, which defeated Chicago 4-1.

Elsewhere, it was Kansas City 8, Detroit 4; Boston 8, Texas 6; Oakland 9, Seattle 3; and Milwaukee 9, Baltimore 8.

Red Sox 8, Rangers 6

Dwight Evans' second home run of the game, a two-run shot off Dale Mohorcic in the ninth inning, rallied Boston. With Texas leading 6-5 after Geno Petralli's two-run single in the eighth, pinch hitter Don Baylor opened the Boston ninth with a single and Evans, who hit a three-run homer in the sixth inning, hit his 25th of the season and fifth in the last three games.

Athletics 9, Mariners 3

Jose Canseco and Terry Steinbach hit two-run singles in a five-run fifth-inning rally aided by Seattle's sloppy fielding. Winner Steve Ontiveros gave up three runs in seven innings to snap his four-game losing streak. Seattle's Gary Matthews got his 2,000th career hit, a single in the third.

Indians 15, Yankees 3

Pat Tabler drove in four runs and Ken Schrom pitched a six-hitter over seven innings for his first victory since May 24. The Indians scored five times in the third and fifth innings in piling up their highest run total of the season.

Loser Tommy John gave up seven runs, five of them earned, on six hits and three walks in 2 1-3 innings.

Blue Jays 4, White Sox 1

Rookie Fred McGriff had two tape-measure home runs and John Cerutti held Chicago to six hits and an unearned run in 7 2-3 innings. Both homers came off Neil Allen, winless since July 20, 1986.

Royals 8, Tigers 4

Kansas City used home runs by Lonnie Smith and Steve Balboni, plus a five-run fifth inning, and Danny Jackson broke a personal three-game losing streak with a seven-hitter as the Royals beat Detroit for the sixth time in seven meetings this season.

Connors upset at Volvo event

STRATTON MOUNTAIN, Vt. (AP) - Unseeded Greg Holmes pulled off the first major upset of the $315,000 Volvo International tennis tournament by beating second-seeded Jimmy Connors 7-5, 7-5 in a first-round match.

Top-seeded Ivan Lendl, Wimbledon champion Pat Cash and No. 4-seed John McEnroe advanced.

Montreal 'Raines' on Cards; Houston squeaks past Giants

by The Associated Press

It was do or die time for Tim Raines and the Montreal Expos, and both came out alive and kicking against the St. Louis Cardinals.

Raines singled to spark a four-run fifth inning and hit a two-run homer in the sixth as Montreal rallied from a five-run deficit to beat St. Louis 10-5 at Olympic Stadium Tuesday night.

The Montreal bullpen turned in an excellent performance with Bob McClure, 5-1, pitching three innings of one-hit ball and Jeff Parrett tossing four perfect innings for his fourth save.

Elsewhere, New York beat Philadelphia 5-3, Chicago edged Pittsburgh 3-2 in 11 innings, Cincinnati pounded Los Angeles 10-4, Houston defeated San Francisco 5-4, and Atlanta outlasted San Diego 12-7.

Astros 5, Giants 4

Glenn Davis' two-out infield single in the eighth inning scored pinch-runner Buddy Biancalana as Houston defeated visiting San Francisco for its third straight victory.

With Biancalana at third and Alan Ashby at first and the score tied 4-4, Davis hit a grounder that was fielded behind second base by Robbie Thompson. Thompson's throw to shortstop Randy Kutcher was too late to force Ashby, and Biancalana scored.

Jeff Heathcock, 1-1, was the winner, with one inning of scoreless relief, and Dave Smith recorded his 19th save.

Mets 5, Phillies 3

Dwight Gooden, 9-3, pitched six-hit ball for eight innings and struck out a season-high 11 as New York defeated visiting Philadelphia for the ninth time in 11 games this season.

It was the Mets' seventh victory in their last eight games and the Phillies' fourth straight loss.

Cubs 3, Pirates 2

Andre Dawson hit his 32nd home run of the season in the 11th inning to lift Chicago over host Pittsburgh.

Dawson's homer equaled his career high set in 1983 with Montreal. Leading off the 11th, he hit an 0-1 pitch from reliever Brett Gideon, 1-2, deep into the lower right-field seats.

Mike Mason, called up earlier in the day from Class AAA Iowa, pitched two scoreless innings for the victory to improve to 3-1.

Reds 10, Dodgers 4

Bo Diaz continued his hot hitting against Los Angeles, driving in four runs with a pair of homers to pace Cincinnati.

Diaz hit a solo homer in the second inning off Tim Leary and a three-run homer in the fifth off Rick Honeycutt to help left-hander Guy Hoffman, 8-6, secure his first victory since July 3. Hoffman had lost his four previous decisions and was 1-5 in his last eight starts.

Braves 12, Padres 7

Ken Oberkfell drove in four runs and Dale Murphy added a three-run homer, leading host Atlanta over San Diego despite seven runs batted in by John Kruk.

Kruk had three-run homers in the first and ninth innings and a run-scoring single in the fifth.

Oberkfell's second home run of the season and Ozzie Virgil's triple to right center keyed a five-run Atlanta second inning off Padres' starter Eric Show, 5-12.

Howe now?

NEW YORK (AP) - Texas Rangers owner Eddie Chiles and president Mike Stone flew to New York today seeking approval from Baseball Commissioner Peter Ueberroth to promote pitcher Steve Howe to the Rangers' major league roster.

A source close to the organization said Howe is expected to join the Rangers in time for a three-game weekend series that begins Friday in Baltimore, The Dallas Morning News reported today.

Heat persists for southern states

By The Associated Press

A cold front freed the middle third of the nation from the muggy grip blamed for at least 96 deaths in 14 states, but the heat wave entered a 19th day today from Virginia to northeast Texas.

"The horses are a little less sweaty, fresher, friskier and they've probably got a better appetite," said Matt Weston, a security guard at Arlington Park racetrack in Illinois.

"I know my appetite is a little better ... and I haven't done any exercising."

The wave of relief moved southeast Tuesday from the central Plains across the Ohio and mid-Mississippi valleys to Arkansas and Tennessee. The southeastern boundary of the cooler air extended today from northeastern New York State through north-central Texas, said Harry Gordon of the National Weather Service in Kansas City, Mo.

Temperatures throughout Indiana dropped below 90 Tuesday for the first time since mid-July. A heat shelter in Chattanooga, Tenn., sat empty.

The Alabama Department of Public Health lifted a 3-day-old heat alert as the front brought rain to the state. Following the rain, the front was expected to bring drier air to the state, which has endured 95 percent humidity for days. Temperatures should reach the low- to mid-90s today, a moderate break from heat that set a record of 98 degrees Tuesday in Huntsville.

Other records Tuesday included 98 at Greensboro, N.C.; 97 at Baltimore's airport and at Washington, D.C.

The weather service forecast highs from the middle 90s to around 100 degrees today from parts of the lower Mississippi Valley through the southern Plains and southern Plateau. The rest of the nation's eastern two-thirds should get highs in the 80s and 90s, except for 70s from the Great Lakes through New England.

As the cold front collided with stagnant masses of hot, humid air, storms formed, including funnel clouds Tuesday evening in northeastern Arkansas, and hail and lightning elsewhere in the state. The temperature in Jonesboro, Ark., plunged from a high of 98 to 73 by mid-evening.

The power of the storms unleashed by the front was apparent in central Ohio, where crews were still working Tuesday night to restore power to the last hundred or so homes of 75,000 that lost electricity Sunday.

Residents of Cheyenne, Wyo., were cleaning up from a storm that dropped golfball-sized hail for about 30 minutes Monday. Damage is estimated at $27 million and insurance companies are expecting more than 20,000 claims.

Teen who sang in choir said accused of murder

DALLAS (AP) — A high school senior accused of the murder of a champion college gymnast was a member of the honor roll, competed in school talent and beauty contests and sang in her church choir.

The mother of Sheila Hill, charged in connection with the Saturday shooting death of a man trying to retrieve a purse snatched from a woman at a shopping mall, said she had not talked with her 17-year-old daughter since the girl's arrest.

"I sit down and think, Lord, why ...," Hazel Pugh told The Dallas Morning News. "But I just don't know why."

She said her daughter sang in the church choir and sometimes read from the Bible during services.

"She said she wanted to be a model," Mrs. Pugh said. "She is always talking about being a model."

On Tuesday, the teen-ager was being held without bond in Richardson City Jail on capital murder charges in connection with the shooting death of Glenn Michael "Mike" Sims, police said. She also was charged with attempted capital murder and burglary of a motor vehicle, in connection with the purse-snatching. Bond on those charges totaled $101,000.

A 23-year-old woman, accused of driving the car in which Miss Hill fled the scene of the purse-snatching, also was charged with capital murder and car burglary.

Police say Sims was shot and killed after he followed the two women and tried to retrieve the purse they are accused of stealing.

Miss Hill was a "B" student at Madison High School before she transferred to Lincoln High School at the request of the principal, who wouldn't discuss the reasons for the transfer.

Sylvanna Quiroga of Dallas also was arrested and charged in connection with the Sims shooting.

Miss Quiroga said she met Miss Hill Saturday and asked her to come to a party in Plano, a nearby suburb.

Miss Hill didn't want to swim when they arrived, according to Miss Quiroga, and the pair went to the Richardson shopping center where the purse-snatching occurred.

Miss Quiroga contends she stopped her car after Sims continued to chase them and "begged" him to stop. "I said, 'Please man, we'll never do this again.'

"The man thought it was really funny. He was laughing because he wanted to be a hero. He thought it was a big joke," she said.

Two wrecks occur in city

Two wrecks were investigated by Snyder city police Tuesday.

A 1981 Renault two-door driven by Jacqueline Baldwin of 414 34th St. was in collision with a 1982 Honda motorcycle driven by Charles Clinkenbeard of 402 35th St. at 11:29 a.m. at 26th St. and Ave. R. Neither party was injured.

At 6:06 p.m. a 1986 Ford Tempo driven by Anne M. Powell of 409 30th St. was in collision with a 1984 Pontiac Firebird driven by Roosevelt V. Thompson Jr. of 603 30th St. The mishap occurred in the 1800 Block of 30th St.

Banquet tickets available here

Tickets for the fifth annual Freedom Fund Banquet to be held at 7:30 p.m. Aug. 14 in the Taylor County Civic Center may be purchased from Evelyn Malone. The cost is $10.50 for adults and $6.50 for youth aged 6-17. The deadline for purchasing tickets is Tuesday, Aug. 11.

The Freedom Fund Banquet is sponsored by the Abilene-Taylor County chapter of the NAACP.

ed by board members. The resolution now passes to local taxing entities for approval.

The building is presently paid for and owned by the district, but a new state ruling has made it necessary to gain permission of ownership again.

Peveler also informed board members that appraisal rolls are being prepared for microfilming. Future records will also be stored on microfilm.

In old business, Peveler noted that hospitalization insurance bids received so far have higher premiums than the present coverage or the benefits are lowered. The board gave approval for Peveler to choose the program he feels is best for district employees.

Accounts payable for July were approved by the board.

Those in attendance were Peveler, Ross Blanchard, Dwaine Williams, Pete Hester and Larry Crooks, assistant appraiser. Board members not present were John Reed and Mairl McFaul.

on foot.

In other police activity, a patrolman at 3:48 p.m. Tuesday arrested a 25-year-old Snyder woman for shoplifting, Class C theft, at a local supermarket, and at 3:49 p.m. an officer answered a report of a juvenile in shorts and a baseball cap going through the window of a house in the 2000 Block of Ave. O. A 13-year-old boy was taken into custody and later released to his parents.

A 36-year-old man was arrested for public intoxication at 2:39 a.m. Tuesday in the 1100 Block of 25th St.

Cooperation pledged

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union and Iran have agreed to cooperate in large-scale economic projects and have condemned "dangerous actions" by the United States in the Persian Gulf, Pravda said today.

The Communist Party daily said Soviet First Deputy Foreign Minister Yuli M. Vorontsov held talks with top Iranian officials, including President Ali Khamenei, during a trip to Tehran that ended Tuesday.

Vorontsov is on a three-nation tour of the Middle East and Persian Gulf region that Soviet media say is aimed at helping negotiate an end to the nearly 7-year-old war between Iran and Iraq.

Iran will launch its first submarine

MANAMA, Bahrain (AP) — An Iranian military commander announced that Tehran would deploy its first submarine this week, and he said Iran's missiles are prepared for launching in case of provocation in the Persian Gulf, official media reported today.

The Iranian news agency quoted Mohzen Rezaie, the commander of the Revolutionary Guards, as saying the submarine would be launched during the three-day war games codenamed "Martyrdom" that began at midnight Monday.

Iran has been at war with Iraq since 1980. But Rezaei told reporters the naval maneuvers were being staged to increase Iran's capacity "to confront plots of the United States and international arrogance," according to the Islamic Republic News Agency, monitored in Nicosia, Cyprus.

Iran has threatened U.S. vessels in the Persian Gulf since the Reagan administration agreed to reregister and protect 11 Kuwaiti tankers plying the waterway. Tehran has stepped up its threats since Friday's killing of hundreds of Iranian pilgrims in a clash with Saudi Arabian police in Mecca.

Today's IRNA announcement was believed to be the first time the Iranians have said they have a submarine. It was not possible to independently confirm the report, which offered no details on the underwater craft. The London-based International Institute for Strategic Studies lists no submarines in the Iranian navy.

Rezaie said that during the maneuvers, the Revolutionary Guards, devoted followers of Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini, are battling hypothetical targets with surface-to-ship and surface-to-air missiles. He added, however, that the surface-to-ship missiles would not be fired against vessels in the gulf "except for an untoward incident instigated by an enemy," IRNA reported.

Iran reportedly has Chinese-made Silkworm anti-ship missiles with a range of 50 miles positioned on the northern side of the Strait of Hormuz, the entrance to the gulf. The missiles could hit any vessel negotiating the narrow passage.

On the first day of the exercises, Iranian speedboats attacked dummy "enemy ships" and anti-aircraft fire crackled along the Iranian coast. Shipping traffic slowed to a crawl in the Strait of Hormuz.

In Washington, the Defense Department's chief spokesman, Robert Sims, said the Iranian naval maneuvers did not affect the United States.

"We will continue to operate ... in a normal way in the gulf," he told a news conference in Washington. But other officials, speaking on condition of anonymity, said the U.S. Navy would not begin escorting the reflagged Kuwaiti tanker Bridgeton on its 500-mile return trip through the gulf until next week, after the Iranian exercises concluded.

Pentagon officials have said they believe Iran laid a mine that blew a hole in the Bridgeton last week near Farsi Island. The tanker, part of the first convoy to receive U.S. protection, will carry a partial load on its return from Kuwait.

their children is presently in the U. S. now.

The next family lived in Vienna. They have two daughters and one of them stayed in the U. S. last year. The 17-year-old was named Andrea as well. The dad was a civil engineer consultant.

The third family lived in Vienna but maintained a summer home which Veazey stayed at. They had five children and the father worked for the Austrian government.

Other foreign exchange students were also staying with these families at the same time as Veazey's visit.

"I liked Vienna best of all," Veazey told the Snyder Daily News. "It was a very big city and I enjoyed seeing all the sights and going shopping."

Veazey admits to doing most of the things that visitors to other countries do, such as sightseeing and taking a gondola ride in Venice, Italy. She also visited Munich, Germany and Budapest, Hungary where she saw first hand how people in Communist countries live.

She visited points in Italy twice.

While in Austria she did a lot of mountain climbing and hiking especially while staying with her first family in the mountains.

She also saw lots of castles and museums.

Veazey signed up for the exchange program while at school and even though France was her first choice she said she is glad she went to Austria. She learned a little German while there.

She will be a senior at Snyder High School this fall.

Baehr attends a gymnasium in Germany which is the equivalent of our high school. She has no brothers or sisters and her father is an engineer.

She has been studying English for the past six years. She said she likes traveling to other countries and enjoys skiing in Switzerland and Italy.

There are differences between her country and the U. S. For instance the weather is hotter here, her hometown is bigger than Snyder and Germany is "more crowded."

She had originally planned to stay one year in the U. S. but then decided on the shorter summer visit.

The Veazeys have taken Baehr to Six Flags over Texas and Wet and Wild which was her first experience in a water park. They plan to visit Palo Duro Canyon also.

Court: nuke board can't use cost as excuse anymore

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nuclear Regulatory Commission is being ordered to rewrite its rules to exclude cost as a factor in determining if nuclear plants need upgrading to meet minimum safety standards.

The U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals ruled Tuesday that using cost-benefit analysis in defining compliance with minimum safety standards was a violation of the Atomic Energy Act.

"The overall focus and purposes of the act, as reflected in its history, support the conclusion that the commission may not consider economic costs in ensuring the adequate protection of health and safety," the court said in an opinion by Judge Abner Mikva.

The NRC "must determine the content of the adequate-protection standard without reference to economic costs; the commission must then apply that standard to individual applicants and licensees notwithstanding any pleas of poverty," Mikva said.

The court overturned the 1985 NRC rule, which was challenged by the Union of Concerned Scientists. Diane Curran, an attorney for the group, called the ruling "a clear mandate to the NRC that safety comes first."

She said the NRC must consider how to upgrade the safety of many existing nuclear power plants. "The major issue is going to be how to deal with them," she said.

The judges did, however, reject the union's argument that the NRC could not use cost-benefit analysis under any circumstances.

The court said the NRC could weigh the cost of retrofitting a plant that has already met minimum safety standards against the resulting improvements beyond the minimum requirement. Agency spokesmen emphasized that part of the ruling in their reaction.

William H. Briggs Jr., the agency's solicitor, said the court's decision was narrow. "It was clear all along that the main thrust of the rule was things we were requiring over and above adequate protection," he said.

NRC spokesman Joe Fouchard added that "to a substantial degree, the court has approved the commission's approach to giving limited consideration to cost in regulating nuclear power plants."

The decision came a week after the full appeals court unanimously ordered the Environmental Protection Agency to consider only health, not cost, in setting emission standards for cancer-causing chemicals.

In the nuclear power case, Mikva said "the backfitting rule is an exemplar of ambiguity and vagueness; indeed we suspect that the commission designed the rule to achieve this very result."

RIBBON CUTTING--Snyder Gold Coats were on hand Monday for ribbon cutting ceremonies held at Canon Supply, Inc. located on the Lamesa Highway. One of Snyder's newest businesses is a stockman supply house which carries animal health products, Acco feed and tack. They also handle steel and fencing material. Terry Cheatham, manager, is pictured cutting the symbolic ribbon. Standing just in back of her are her parents, Joe and Dorothy Canon, store owners. Others pictured are Connie Springer and Don Crane, employees, and Melba Rinehart. (SDN Staff Photo)

IRS promises not to grab children's savings anymore

WASHINGTON (AP) — A red-faced Internal Revenue Service is taking steps to ensure that it never again grabs a child's savings to pay a parent's overdue taxes.

"We don't take money from people who don't owe us money," IRS Commissioner Lawrence B. Gibbs said Tuesday in outlining new procedures for seizing bank accounts to settle a tax debt.

Furthermore, Gibbs said, if any person can "show us where we have taken an account that does not belong to a taxpayer who owes us money, we will move quickly to give it back."

The new safeguards are part of Gibbs' campaign for "trying to treat taxpayers like customers," an effort to rid the IRS of what some lawmakers have called a bully image.

Gibbs acknowledged in an interview that even his friends have pressed him to explain how the IRS could seize a child's savings to pay a bill the child did not owe. Several such cases have been publicized over the last few months.

"This is a situation in which we have been as frustrated as the taxpayers have," he said. "Some of the stories (about such seizures) indicate we are a large, uncaring, insensitive agency but, believe it or not ... we haven't done this intentionally."

The IRS will continue searching for a permanent solution to the problem of seizing the wrong accounts, Gibbs said. In the meantime, the agency says:

—It will not ask financial institutions to seize any account with a balance of less than $100.

—Banks will be asked to freeze temporarily, rather than seize, any account that bears a name in addition to that of the delinquent taxpayer. The IRS then will try to determine the real owner; unless the bank receives directions to the contrary within 21 days, the account will be freed.

Under the old procedures, the IRS simply told a bank it was attaching the rights to an account bearing the name or Social Security number of a delinquent taxpayer. A child's account could be seized if it carried the Social Security number of a parent.

"When parents or grandparents put their Social Security number on a child's account, we and the bank have no way of knowing it until the money is taken," Gibbs explained.

That happened last month to 12-year-old Garry D. Keffer of Chesapeake, Va. He had the foresight to take his complaint straight to the top — President Reagan — and to give his hometown newspaper a copy of the letter he wrote the president. Garry is getting his $10.35 back from the IRS.

Gibbs noted the new tax overhaul requires any child over the age of 4 who can be claimed as a dependent by a parent to have a Social Security number by next April 15. The commissioner recommended that parents wait no longer to get numbers for their children and to begin using the numbers on the children's bank accounts.

In a related announcement, the IRS reminded children who have summer jobs or other part-time jobs that in most cases, their wages are no longer exempt from withholding.

Dance for MD slated Aug. 22

A special benefit Discola Dance for the Muscular Dystrophy Association will be held from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 22, at the National Guard Armory. The admission is $4 per person or $7 for couples with Discola music operated by Dennis Muere of Snyder.

The dance is sponsored by Town & County Food Stores. Town & Country is a regional sponsor of MDA raising over $50,000 every year in the fight against muscle disease.

Fair association meets Monday

The Scurry County Fair Association met Monday night to finalize fair plans. The fair and a three day flea market will be held Sept. 24-26.

Some booths are still available for commercial display only or sell by order.

Scurry County non-profit organizations are allowed to sell non-edible products from the booth. These booths are $40 each.

Fair catalogs will be available near the end of August and will be placed in business places who advertise in the catalog.

Anyone needing information or rules for various entries may contact the extension office until the books are ready.

Public streetcar service in New York City began in 1832. The fare was 12 cents. The streetcar was horse-drawn.
