Wheat Flows to Elevators as Harvest Gets Underway

Bond Sales Total $5,043.75 During the First Week

Treasury Department has supported in its bond sales ign, which runs through and until July 4, in the a- of $5,043.75 according to released by the three dis- ng agencies, the two banks st Office. Wednesday. Ochil- County's goal in bond sales this period has been placed 000.

re will be no solicitation of the public to buy bonds by volunteer salesmen, as was done in many localities during the war. Thus the success of the campaign is dependent upon the individual in backing his future.

United States bonds are available to everyone. They say "I back your future." The treasury Department points out that it is true that no flag-appeal of the character to which the individual responded during the war years is present, but rather an appeal to the individual's own sense of security is being made.

President Truman has the following to say regarding the campaign:

"We are still in the throes of the battle against inflation. Billions of dollars above the value of available consumers' are in the hands of Americans. There is no longer compulsory rationing. Self discipline in the manner of handling your resources and income is of the utmost importance now. Every dollar you put into savings bonds is a dollar you keep out of competition with your neighbor for scarce goods. Continued investment in savings bonds is your personal guarantee against a shaky national economy, jumpy prices of the things you need to maintain a comfortable standard of living."

The June slogan "Back Your Future," which the Treasury Department has chosen can be safely interpreted to cover the immediate future as well as the period ten years hence when every three dollars invested returns to the purchaser one dollar.

It is emphasized that tomorrow, the next day, next week and the next month is the future talked about when inflation is to be considered.

It is also pointed out to Ochiltree county citizens that this is a new kind of bond sales campaign in which the bond purchaser acts as his own salesman.

Some Producers Report 30 Bu. Early Variety Yield Per Acre; Full Harvest Operations Due

Despite general dissatisfaction, expressed by many producers, with the war food order issued by the Production and Marketing Administration, whereby one-half of all wheat delivered to elevators must be sold, approximately 130,000 bushels of grain had poured into local elevators Wednesday. Grain dealers said that only a small portion of this wheat had been sold. Under the sale order the producer has 15 days in which to sell wheat delivered.

As harvest gets into full swing the yield is running considerably higher than previous estimates with some areas reporting as high as 30 bushels to the acre. Virgil Doerrie of the northeast part of Ochiltree County is reported to be cutting grain yielding in some parts around 30 bushels to the acre. The grain is the early Wichita variety. In other parts of the county Early Triumph is said to be yielding from 20 to 25 bushels to the acre. Tests are running in the neighborhood of 62-64 on the early varieties.

Later varieties are expected to be ready for cutting during the latter part of next week. Estimates made earlier last week indicated that a total yield for this county may exceed 3,000,000 bushels based on 330,000 acres seeded last year.

Labor for the 1946 harvest will be handled through the County Extension Service which has opened offices in the rear of the Ideal Food building in the offices of the Republic Life Insurance Co., according to Hood Wills, county agent. J. W. Buckley and Miss Polly Ann Holmes will assist the service at the downtown offices, centrally located for convenience.

During the past ten days a total of 80 workers and 15 combines have been placed with local farmers through the medium of the service. Producers desiring labor or equipment may secure same by contacting the employment office.

Residents Are Asked To Conserve Water

Mayor George T. Leatherman is asking the public's cooperation in the conservation of water. An acute shortage in the water supply has been prevalent during the past few days due to so many people watering lawns and gardens. The pumps are working overtime now and are unable to provide enough water for a wide scale watering campaign by citizens. Efforts are being made to secure a pump for the new well recently drilled, which when installed will alleviate in some measure the low water supply. Persons who have been using water on lawns and gardens are again urged to cooperate with city officials in maintaining enough water for all. The situation is also aggravated by the influx of new citizens during recent months.

Food Drive Will Close On June 15

Rev. Ralph A. Durham called on Ochiltree County residents Tuesday to help provide meals to people overseas who are suffering from hunger and starvation. The time is running out on the opportunity to give to this worthy cause. The local Emergency Food Drive closes Saturday, June 15. Donors have subscribed a total of $466.50 to Morris M. Payne, treasurer for the fund, up until Tuesday afternoon. Latest subscriber was Texas Beta Phi in the amount of $25. Small deposits placed in glass containers at Earl's Lunch, Burk Drug Co., Sanford Drug Co., City Drug and the Herald office has not been tabulated. A complete list of donors will be rerun in the next issue of the Herald.

"Many children in famine-swept lands are too weak from hunger to play," Rev. Durham, Ochiltree County chairman, declares. "Others are dying of starvation. Those who manage to survive may never be strong in body and their hearts will be bitter.

"Their embittered spirits could definitely endanger world peace. For our own sake, as well as theirs, we must do everything possible to assure them food now, because these are the children whom our own boys and girls must work with in the world of tomorrow," Rev. Durham further adds.

Gifts to the Emergency Food Collection to be used in the purchase of foods for shipment to foreign ports for distribution to where most needed, may be given to Mr. Payne at the Herald office or deposited in the glass containers in business houses named above, whichever is the most convenient.

C of C Issues Warning Note

Individuals as well as merchants are being warned against promotors seeking to extract money from the citizenry by means of scheme or gyp advertising. This warning was issued in the regular bulletin of the Chamber of Commerce this week.

During the last thirty days, as of record, eleven such schemes have been proposed to local merchants or to the Chamber office, Ovie L. Doane, secretary-manager reveals. An estimation of these eleven applications indicate an average donation of all down town merchants of approximately $15.00 each.

For the benefit of Chamber of Commerce and non-members also, who are not familiar with the procedure in this connection, anyone being contacted to buy advertising in any publication not being able to furnish their circulation certified by Publishers Audit Bureau, should advise that person that they will not buy ads, make donations, or purchase subscriptions unless the solicitor has a letter of permission from the Chamber of Commerce office.

Such a letter of permission may be secured after the applicant has applied for such a permit at the Chamber office and it has been studied and approved by a committee of down town merchants.

There is an increase in the number of insufficient and no account checks being passed to local merchants and the same is true in other areas where transients are pouring in for harvest. Please be careful, urges Mr. Doane, and know your indorser. If you do not know him, demand positive identification.

Beaver County Blocked for Oil; Test Started on Ratzlaff Farm

Major oil tests are in progress in Beaver County, Okla., according to an announcement made here this week. The Gulf Oil Company has begun work on a deep test on their recently approved location on the H. H. Ratzlaff place in SE NW of 9-3n-21 ecm. This location is northeast of Perryton and is approximately on the northern tip of a prospective field running south through Ochiltree county, according to indications.

A contract has been let to a drilling company of Chase, Kansas, and it is understood that a deep test to discover pay sand at a maximum depth of 10,000 feet is under consideration by the company.

Beaver County lease-buying has been active due to the development on the east flank of the three-state Hugoton gas reserve, with the Stanolind Oil and Gas moving into Meade and Seward counties of Kansas. Also it is believed that flanks of the gas reserve will carry oil production.

The western and northwestern parts of Beaver County are nearly solidly blocked by various oil companies, as is almost all of Ochiltree County, which borders on the south. Northward of Perryton the Gulf Oil Company has a drilling area of approximately 125,000 acres running mostly with the Beaver River.

It is understood that royalties have been selling for $25 per acre upwards in the Boyd, Okla., area.

Much speculation is running rampant in Beaver County due to the large amount of interest shown by major oil companies in blocking the county, according to reports received here.

Pesky pin feathers on broilers may soon be a thing of the past if experiments in line and cross breeding keep progressing at the University of Minnesota farm. These samples are 12-day-old New Hampshires. Chick at left will be full-feathered at broiling age, while the one at right will require tedious hand plucking to get out all the pin feathers.

Local Farmers Being Urged to Invest in U. S. Savings Bonds

The past four years of war and the first few years of peace together give Ochiltree county farmers a chance to make themselves financially secure. They have never before had a chance to compare with this one.

Local farmers did a good job for the nation, during the war, of producing essential food and fiber. By getting their debts in to shape and building financial reserves, they did a good job for themselves. Now comes the critical time.

If the farmer dissipates his wartime earnings by putting his savings into high-priced or inflated land that he does not need to round out an efficient farm operating unit; if he invests in enterprises outside the farm field whose workings he does not understand or if he listens to the siren song of the promoters of unsound speculative ventures or get-rich-quick schemes, he will likely find himself worse off than he was before the war.

Slickers are going around in many localities, persuading farmers to cash in their war bonds and put the money into sure-thing stock schemes, imaginary gold mines and other bonanza bunco schemes. Some farmers fall for these swindles.

Selling farm land at inflated prices is perfectly legal, but buying it can have the same effect as a get-rich-quick scheme. This is not the time to invest in land unless it can be bought at a reasonable price. On March 1 of this year farm land prices in the U. S. were 42 per cent above the 1912-14 and 71 per cent above the 1935-39 level. In some States the average rise was even higher.

Nor is this the time for farm families to plunge heavily into debt or over-expand their credit, either long-term or short-term. Debts should be held at a conservative level for a period of readjustment of prices certainly lies ahead. What ever goes up must come down, at least most of the way down.

Farmers should build and keep up financial reserves to insure themselves against such setbacks as flood and drought, loss of earnings due to accident, sickness and, especially a fall in farm prices. Keeping present reserves in War Bonds and adding to them with U. S. Savings Bonds will help insure that a farm family can maintain its present standard of living when the economic shoe begins to pinch again. Savings in bonds will provide for education of children, funds for security.

The Series E Savings Bond sells as did the war bond, at 75 cents on the dollar of maturity value and matures in ten years, paying four dollars for each three invested. It is particularly good for laying away funds for the future. In case of necessity, after 60 days, you can always get your money out plus interest after the first year. More than 81 million Americans today hold more than thirty billion dollars in E bonds.

For farmers getting closer than ten years to retirement age (the average age of American farm operators is 51 now) the Series G Bond is the suitable investment. It sells at par and pays 2½ per cent annual interest by check coming each six months. Like the E bond it is registered in the owner's name and will be replaced without charge by the Treasury if the bond is lost or destroyed. Like the E Bond, it can be redeemed at fixed redemption values before maturity, if necessary, but it pays to hold either bond to maturity. The G bond matures in twelve years and will be paid off at par then. If the owner should die in the meantime, the Treasury will pay face value for the bond. This makes G bonds of particular value in settling estates and paying inheritance taxes.

To sum up the situation: farming is always a highly speculative business at best, for the farmer gambles with the elements, the weather and the market. The farmer, therefore, should not speculate outside his farming operation. His financial reserves should be invested in the soundest and safest way available, to balance a speculative business. That means United States Savings Bonds, either Series E or Series G. It is the judgment of a number of farm leaders that the sum to be invested in these bonds to furnish a financial reserve should be at least 20 per cent of a farmer's total assets.

Look Out for Poison Ivy

When summertime comes along, the desire to take to the open road becomes strong. Everything is fresh ad new and alive. We want to sit in the grass, climb a tree or pick flowers.

Well, there's one flower or plant it's a good idea to be on the look out for in order to avoid—and its name will tell you why: poison ivy.

It's a pretty thing and gets around wherever you do—along roadsides, in picnic grounds and recreational areas, on tree trunks (it's a clinging vine) and fences. It's easily spotted, having three-part leaves, usually red and green, which are smooth and glossy.

If you get too close to this plant you will soon know. Whatever part of your skin has rubbed against it will suddenly itch, get red and burn. Blisters may break out.

If it's a bad case, you should see a doctor. But in the meantime, or if the case is mild, you can wash the exposed area with a strong laundry soap, which will remove the oily resins causing the irritation. Don't use toilet soap—it's too mild; don't use cold creams or ointments—they can be harmful.

Poison ivy usually last ten days to three weeks, depending on the severity of the case.

Less well-known than poison ivy, but somewhat more severe in its effects, is poison sumach. This plant is found in swamps and bogs, but it's also hidden in clumps of small shrubs. The latter is the more difficult to find and therefore more dangerous. The leaves run in series or groups of four to six leaflets.

Although more severe than poison ivy, the care, pending a visit to a physician, is the same because both are essentially skin irritations.

Before going on a summer outing it might be a good idea to find out in advance what the plants look like. You can find them in a nature book, or you can write your local or state health department for a pamphlet on plants harmful to man.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. B. Jackson have returned from a week's visit in Tallequah, Okla. and Mr. and Mrs. Ramsey Smith came to Perryton with them for a visit. Monday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Jackson and Mr. and Mrs. Smith were visiting with Grandma Jackson on Wolf Creek.

Miss Betty Pugh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Pugh has enrolled for the summer term at W. T. S. C., Canyon. She is doing required summer work toward receiving her degree in home economics next year.

VFW Post Gives Insurance Advice

Every veteran who let his insurance lapse when leaving the service should renew it without delay, is the advice of Commander O. C. Watson, of V. F. W. Post 7107.

"Now that the veteran, under a new ruling by the Veterans Administration, may reinstate his insurance without a physical examination, there is no reason in the world why he shouldn't do so," Commander Watson declared. "This is especially true of the veteran who has disabilities which might disqualify him for other insurance. Under the ruling, this veteran can recover this fine protection, provided, of course, his health has not become worse since his insurance lapsed."

Commander Watson pointed out that this arrangement, announced recently by Veterans Administrator Omar N. Bradley, is only temporary and the veteran who has dropped his insurance has only until the end of 1946 to reinstate it without an examination.

"This policy was announced especially for the protection of World War II veterans, and it is a fine thing for those who for one reason or another dropped their insurance," Commander Watson said.

Mrs. E. R. Jarvis and Mrs. Rosamond Adkins left Wednesday for Lubbock where they will spend a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Jerald Jarvis.

Bob and Don Renlund were week-end visitors of Dan Carmichael. Bob and Dan served together while they were in the army.

Miss Mary Frances Crowe Marries in Pretty Church Ceremony at Meade, Kans.

At a pretty ceremony Sunday evening at the St. Augustine's Episcopal church in Meade, Kans. Miss Mary Francis Crowe, daughter of Mrs. W. A. Cone of Meade, became the bride of Dean R. Gates, son of Mrs. Mae Gates, also of Meade. The double ring ceremony was read by Rev. Joseph S. Young of Garden City before the group of wedding guests.

Baskets of peach gladioli flanked the altar which was banked with fern and white snapdragons. Light from white tapers in twin candlabra, gave illumination for the nuptial scene. Miss Sue Berghaus lit the candles.

Preceding the ceremony "O Perfect Love" was sung by the Garden City choir. The processional by Lohengrin was played by Mrs. Betty Hardesty as the bridal party entered the church. She also played the traditional wedding march at the close of the service.

The bride, given in marriage by her stepfather, W. A. Cone, was lovely in a beige street dress, with lace yoke and white accessories. Her corsage was a single gardenia edged with miniature pink carnations and she wore a pearl necklace of her mother's. The white satin prayer book which she carried belonged to Mrs. Dean Murphy.

Her only attendant was her sister, Miss Laverne Crowe of Oklahoma City. She chose an aqua dress with white accessories and her corsage was red rosebuds.

Roy Twist served the bridegroom as best man.

Mrs. W. A. Cone, mother of the bride, was dressed in tomato red with white accessories, and the groom's mother, Mrs. Mae Gates chose a black dress with matching accessories. Both wore corsages of gardenias.

Reception

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The wedding table was centered with the three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom. The cake was encircled by fern and sweet peas and complemented by tall white tapers in crystal candlabra on either side. Assisting at the reception were Miss Sue Berghaus, Miss Evelyn Cooper and Miss Doris Marlow. Mrs. Everta Wolfe had charge of the guest log.

Besides Meade residents at the wedding additional guests were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ridgeway of San Diego, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Haggard of Dodge City, Kans.; the bride's grandmother, Mrs. W. V. Sanders of Amarillo, Texas.

Live in Meade

After June 15 the young couple will be at home in Meade, Kansas. They went to Colorado Springs for their wedding trip and for the trip the bride chose a three piece mint green suit with brown accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Perryton high school with the class of 1942, and has many friends here. For a time she was employed by the Meade First National Bank, and is at present in the employ of the M & M Drug store in Meade.

The groom is a graduate of the Meade high school and the University of Kansas. He was discharged from the armed forces in February after having served as a tech sergeant in the medical corps for two and a half years. He saw service in the African and Italian campaigns. Since his discharge he has been employed as a pharmacist in the M & M drug store.

THIS CZECH YOUNGSTER seems to be afraid someone may take away his weak soup and bread crust. It is his one meal for the day. There are millions of others in Europe and Asia who have not even this meager ration. You can help save them from starvation by giving money or food in tin cans to the Emergency Food Collection.

Good Cars Going Bad

Congress wants the War Department to explain why this stockpile of an estimated 25,000 to 40,000 vehicles is left to rust and deteriorate at Atlanta Ordnance Depot instead of being placed on sale. Many of the autos, trucks, and jeeps are rim-deep in mud and water—and many of them show less than 5000 miles of use.

Veterans' SERVICE BUREAU

EDITOR'S NOTE: This newspaper, through special arrangement with the Washington Bureau of Western Newspaper Union at 1616 Eye Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., is able to bring readers this weekly column on problems of the veteran and serviceman and his family. Questions may be addressed to the above Bureau and they will be answered in a subsequent column. No replies can be made direct by mail, but only in the column which will appear in this newspaper regularly.

Return of Dead Heroes

Veterans' Service Bureau has received many letters from Gold Star parents asking about regulations for returning bodies of deceased men in the armed services to this country. Up to this time we have been able to give general answers only. However, President Truman has just signed a new law providing appropriations and setting up regulations for the return of these heroes from military cemeteries in other countries.

Under the new law the families of deceased personnel will have the option of:

Having the remains returned to the U. S. A. for final interment in a national cemetery near their home, the cost to be borne entirely by the government;

Returning the remains to the States for burial by next of kin in a private cemetery, the government to pay $50 toward cost of local interment expense and all costs of shipping the body home;

Burying the deceased in a permanent American military cemetery overseas.

The first shipment of war dead is not expected much before the end of this year due to shortages in caskets. In the meantime the army and navy will poll next of kin of completely identified dead as to disposition of the remains. The process will take some time and inquiries will be mailed as the records of the 356 temporary cemeteries overseas are completely verified. Of the 328,000 American service war dead, it is estimated that 75,000 never will be found. Shipment of the deceased soldiers will be made in special funeral ships painted white with a wide purple stripe circling the ship. The flag-draped seamless caskets will be transferred under military escort to 13 redistribution points on arrival in special funeral trains, converted hospital coaches, and thence sent to their final resting place. Cost of returning the bodies will be about $700 per man, borne as pointed out above, by the government.

Questions and Answers

Q. I would like to know if my brother, a veteran of World War I, is entitled to a bonus. He was operated on last April of 1945 for a rupture which started when he was in service loading ammunition at Camp Amatol, N. J. He was in the hospital at Lake City, Fla. The trouble started when he was in service and he just kept letting it run until he had to be operated on and he is now disabled as far as working.—Mrs. G. B., Cleveland, Ohio.

A. No, he is not entitled to a bonus, since he already has received his World War I bonus. He may be entitled to a disability pension. Suggest that he apply to the regional office of the Veterans' administration, Cuyahoga Building, Cleveland.

Q. My husband is in Japan. He has been over there seven months and in the army 14 months in all. I am in very bad health and unable to take care of our two small girls and myself. Is there any chance of his getting a dependency discharge? He has only 38 points.—Mrs. O. S., Union Grove, Ala.

A. The only answer I can give is for him to apply to his commanding officer for dependency discharge and see what happens.

Q. My husband has been in the service for 19 months and has 43 points as of September 2, 1945. He is serving overseas in a tank battalion. When will he be eligible for discharge?—D. J. J., Beauregard, Miss.

A. Latest army regulations say that all men with 40 points as of September 2, 1945, or with 24 months service as of June 30, 1946, will be home by June 30. After June 30 further regulations likely will be announced.

Q. My son is in the army and I receive a dependency allowance from him. Would I be entitled to free medical treatment and hospitalization?—Mrs. F. P., Fort Oakley, Miss.

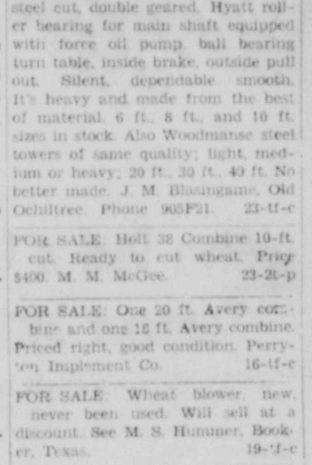

A. Dependents of the four lowest pay grades are entitled to free medical treatment. Suggest you apply to your nearest army hospital or dispensary. Your local Red Cross can help you.

Q. My husband has been in service since June 8, 1943, and has been overseas since January, 1944.—Wife, Scottsboro, Ala.

A. As of September 2, 1945, he had approximately 48 points and will have had almost three years of service. If he applied for his discharge, he should be home now.

Q. Do all World War I widows get a pension now?—H. E. J., Oak, Neb.

A. Yes, under certain conditions. Suggest you apply to the contact unit, Veterans' Administration, Post Office Bldg., at Hasting, Neb.

You can't put 5 gallons of water into a 2-gallon pail

—and you can't get full-measure electric service from home wiring that's inadequate

The ability of a home to function, electrically, depends upon the wiring system, located in the walls, ceilings and floors.

Wiring is inadequate if lights dim when appliances are operating . . . if heating appliances come up to temperature slowly . . . if fuses blow frequently . . . if extension cords must take the place of outlets . . . if one appliance must be disconnected to plug in another . . . if it is necessary to grope in the dark to find a light switch.

Adequate home wiring removes these obstacles to efficiency and convenience . . . permits you to enjoy full-measure electric service for better electrical living. If you plan to build, buy or remodel a home, insist on adequate wiring.

What Is Adequate Wiring?

Adequate wiring simply means a service entrance large enough to bring in as much electricity as your home may need at any time, enough branch circuits of large enough wire to conduct a full measure of electrical energy to your lights and appliances, plus plenty of outlets and switches, properly located. Adequate wiring is the key to better electrical living.

time sufferer of the great famine in Europe immediately following World War I and delivered a graphic description that gripped the hearts of many present. An offering of over $1,200 was taken for relief. The Bethel male chorus of twenty voices sang during the afternoon session under the direction of Mr. Ollenberger.

The evening service was given over to several good messages by visiting ministers.

Church History

In 1906 some of the Mennonite Brethren, who were pioneers of Beaver County, Okla. and of the Bethany community felt the need of a place to worship, and built a small structure which served as a church until 1916. During that year a larger church was needed and was built and dedicated. For many years this was known as the German Church.

For 30 years this building served the community and it proved to be a place of blessing and comfort to many.

In the summer of 1945 it was decided to build a larger and more adequate building, which would provide ample room for expansion. A building committee was elected and organized of the following: E. J. Neufeld, R. P. Frantz, J. W. Ollenberger, J. J. Schwalk and Ted Bergen.

In August, 1945, excavation was begun on the basement, and as work progressed along the basement was used as an auditorium and the old building was salvaged to be used again in the new structure. D. A. Nachtigal was carpenter, assisted by P. S. Mehl and many volunteer workers.

Building material restrictions prevailed during the whole period of construction and work at times was haited. In spite of being hampered by material shortage, the new building was completed in May, 1946.

The church stands three miles north of Bryan's Corner on Highway 83 and No. 3 junction.

Sunday school is held each Sunday at 10:00 a. m. with Loyd Penner, superintendent. Classes are held for all ages.

Deacons are O. C. Ollenberger and D. H. Penner. As an ordained deacon, Mr. Ollenberger is also serving the church as leader at this time.

Each Sunday the singers bring a message in song to the congregation before sermons. As most of the congregation are farmers and self supporting, the ministers also carry the church load in like manner. They are H. P. Kliewer, H. J. Enns and M. M. Schmidt, who serve alternately.

"Services are open to all who seek a place where their longing and thirsting soul can be satisfied," church leaders said. The testimony of the church is "We believe in the atonement thru the shed blood of our Lord Jesus Christ. And thru baptism by immersion do we become members of the church."

Members of the congregation look back with pride to last winter when a group of slightly more than 100 members were permitted to ship one and one-half car loads of flour, 65 blankets and many items of clothing were shipped to the Mennonite Central Committee, who work hand in hand with other relief agencies in the nation.

A sewing circle meets regularly and sew for relief purposes.

"WAKE UP, AMERICA!"

Is the Unionization of Foremen in the Public Interest?

Moderated by FRED G. CLARK Chairman American Economic Foundation

As debated by

Robert B. Keys	Whiting Williams
President, Foremen's Association of America	Counsel in Employee and Public Relations

MR. KEYS OPENS: The unionization of foremen just like the unionization of any other group of people, will foster and develop democracy and will add an additional safeguard to our right of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. To anyone who understands the broader issues involved, the answer is as simple as that. The public, composed of a majority of wage earners, benefits as a whole through the economic improvement of any of its organized groups. Those "theorists" who claim otherwise are not only unrealistic but have a foolish philosophy of fundamental principles. Approximately 3 million foremen in this country work for a living. They are employed to supervise the productivity of other employees. Quality and quantity of production, as well as operating efficiency, depend greatly upon their status as a "satisfied employee". For years their wages have not been commensurate with their responsibilities and duties. Unionization will bring to them their rightful share of the national income along with improved conditions of employment. Quality, quantity and efficiency will improve. True respect and dignity will be theirs. Employers will not suffer the loss of any proper prerogatives. Only undemocratic and dictatorial powers will be curbed. As unionized foremen and other groups of unionized people improve their position in life through the attainment of the economic security that is due every American, all of us—the public—will benefit.

MR. WILLIAMS CHALLENGES: If, as Mr. Keys intimates, foremen aim at higher immediate remuneration and greater job "security" by freezing themselves into the level of "wage earners", then their unionization is understandable. But most of our industrial executives climbed up from the ranks. Their climb started with their appointment as foremen —in time, thenceforth, for individual consideration for all higher managerial positions. Towards that climb, unionization's mass pressures are more hindrance than help. So foremen show bad judgment when they exchange their individual opportunity in management for any group advantage as "wage earners". In addition, they thereby reduce industry's ability to serve the public by producing more goods at lower cost.

MR. KEYS REPLIES: Foremen do not freeze themselves as wage earners through unionization. To the contrary, they have for the first time proper channels through which their grievances are aired and their constructive suggestions heard. Therefore, their true ability and value is recognized. Results are proper promotions, satisfied foremen, efficient production and more goods for the public at lower costs. Records at our headquarters in Detroit, Michigan, prove that many foremen have advanced to higher positions through unionization. Most of these men have 25 or more years experience as foremen. They have not stifled any personal opportunities or ambitions because of union membership.

MR. WILLIAMS OPENS: Unquestionably Industry's sudden wartime expansion diminished unduly the foreman's proper differentials of pay, status and perquisite. Blame for this must be shared by the Federal Treasury, the War Labor Boards and the unions as well as by too many employers. By the same token, reconversion's sudden contraction diminished the job-security of some supervisors in many companies. But every foreman worth his salt is less concerned about his wartime salary check and his reconversion job-security than about his long-term opportunity to advance to higher levels in management on the basis of his individual merit. Unionization could doubtless hurry up proper salary readjustment and increase his temporary job-security. But for these minor gains he would have to surrender the status of his group as a part of management, confess himself permanently as nothing more than a managerial "traffic cop", and abandon completely and forever his chance at promotion except on the basis not of merit but of seniority or length of service. As admittedly demonstrated by many departments of our Federal Government, the promotion of foremen to higher positions by seniority is certain to make Industry immensely less efficient. It is, therefore, bound to bring an increase in the costs and prices of all manufactured goods. Such increase the consuming public would, of course, be required to pay. In addition our ability to compete in world markets would be very seriously lessened.

MR. KEYS CHALLENGES: Employers blame Industry's wartime expansion for their failure to properly pay their foremen. Organized foremen received proper pay and their employers had little trouble getting governmental approval. As long as "big bosses" promote and demote foremen based on favoritism, and fill key positions with friends and relatives, foremen who are "worth their salt" will continue to be exploited. Unionization of foremen corrects such conditions and brings permanent relief. Recognition of their seniority, ability, and grievance machinery for unionized foremen pays dividends to employers. Facts prove it. Unionized foremen produce efficiently. Count the 1946 cars. "Watch The Fords Go By!"

MR. WILLIAMS REPLIES: If employers generally have been viciously exploiting their foremen and if Big Bosses have widely promoted and demoted them unfairly, it is strange that unionization was delayed so long after the Wagner Act of 1935. Strange also that to date so few foremen—only around 5%—have shown lively interest. This proportion is far too small to prove that, to overcome the shortcomings of a few backward managements, it is in the interest of themselves, of Industry or the public, that ALL foremen should freeze themselves as organized wage earners instead of discussing betterment with their fellow members of the managerial family.

Obituary

Louisa Mae Stump was born in McPherson, Kansas, August 1, 1913, the daughter of Lester and Fern Burger Stump. Soon after her birth she was taken to the family home on the plains of Texas near Perryton. Here, except for a short stay at Thomas, Oklahoma she passed through the happy days of girlhood. Here she grew and became a woman. During these days, in February, 1922 she accepted Jesus as her personal friend and Savior and became a member of the Church of the Brethren.

She received her elementary schooling in the Waka Public Schools near Perryton, Texas. She was graduated from Perryton High School with the class of 1931. Later, in McPherson, Kansas, she studied to become a nurse but because of her health was forced to transfer to Wichita Beauty College in Wichita, Kansas.

In 1933 she met Earl Kearns in Vici, Oklahoma and on September 22, 1935 they were united in marriage at Wichita, Kansas. Two children were born to this union, Donna Mae, now 7 and Deana Kay, 5. The family resided first in Perryton, Texas, moving to San Antonio in 1942, and on to Oklahoma City in 1943.

In 1940 she learned that she was suffering with an incurable illness. In the years that followed she bore her pain with great hope and was a constant source of sunshine to those who knew her. Finally, on June 1, 1946 she closed her eyes and lay down to peaceful rest at the age of 32 years and ten months.

She leaves to follow her into eternity her loving husband and daughters, her father and mother, residing near Perryton, Texas; two brothers, Galen of Cabool, Missouri and Harley of Oklahoma City; two sisters, Mrs. Audrey Lee Leighnor and Claudia Jo, both of Perryton, Texas; her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Burger, Perryton, Texas, and innumerable other relatives and friends.

Her undying faith in God, her constant love for His Church and her fervent hope will be a ray of sunshine to all who knew her.

SUNDAY LESSON

Kingdom of Christ Is an Inner Rule In Hearts of Men

The International Sunday School Lesson for June 16
Scripture: Luke 9:23-24, 46-48, 57-62; 11:1-4; 17:20-21

WHEN Pilate asked Jesus, "Art thou a king, then?", Jesus answered, "Thou sayest that I am a King. To this end was I born, and for this cause came I into the world, that I should bear witness unto the truth. Everyone that is of the truth heareth my voice."

The jesting Pilate did not take Jesus seriously. He replied in the memorable words of cynicism, "What is truth?" And, though he was willing to sacrifice the life of an innocent man for his own advantage, he could not resist jesting with the clamorous enemies of Jesus, "Shall I crucify your king?"

The soldiers, too, had to have their cruel jest, platting their crown of thorns, putting it on His head, robing Him tauntingly in purple, and mocking Him. "Hail, King of the Jews!"

In their cruel jesting and clowning they did better than they knew. The crown of thorns has become the truest and noblest crown in history.

It is true that Jesus said that His Kingdom was not of this world; but He spoke of His disciples as "in the world, but not of the world," and that is true also of His Kingdom.

There were two classes who were wrong in their conceptions of Christ and of His Kingdom—the enemies of Jesus, who either believed that he intended to set up an earthly kingdom or professed that belief only to accuse Him to the Roman authorities; and the friends of Jesus, who hailed Him as the Messiah, about to establish a kingdom on earth.

To His friends, Jesus gave the assurance that His Kingdom was spiritual, a Kingdom of inner rule in the hearts of men.

We are subject to the danger of materializing the Kingdom of Christ even today. Attempts to establish theocracies, to build Christian states on the basis of external authority and power, have failed. True religion cannot be forced.

Christian Science

"God the Preserver of Man" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 16.

The Golden Text is: "Without me, O Lord: let thy lovingkindness not thou thy tender mercies from and thy truth continually preserve me" (Psalms 40:11).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "The Lord shall preserve thee from all evil: he shall preserve thy soul" (Psalms 121:7).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "God gives the lesser idea of Himself for a link to the greater, and in return, the higher always protects the lower" (page 518).

"Kitty" Gay, Laugh-Filled Film Triumph Coming to Ellis Screen

Gay and sparkling as a glass of champagne, Paramount's "Kitty" will show at the Ellis Theatre Sunday and Monday, June 16-17. A Mitchell Leisen production, it scintillates with wit and mischievous merriment. "Kitty" has a script to match the brilliance of some of the most dazzling sets and costumes ever seen on the screen. This is ultra-modern comedy—lush and racy—told against the magnificent pageantry of Eighteen Century London.

Based on Rosamond Marshall's popular novel, it co-stars Ray Milland with Paulette Goddard as the illiterate Cockney waif whose breath-taking beauty takes her out of the filthy Houndsditch slums and into the royal Palace. Produced by Karl Tunberg, the cast also includes Patric Knowles, Reginald Owen, Cecil Kellaway, Constance Collier and Sara Allgood.

It all happens when Kitty, a wild unruly gamin, makes her way to fashionable London to see what she can steal. Spying a handsome carriage with livery, she pounces on a well dressed man yanking the silver-buckled slippers off his feet as he attempts to alight. The man is Sir Thomas Gainsborough, a celebrated artist (Cecil Kellaway). Beneath the tousled hair and dirty rags Gainsborough glimpses remarkable latent beauty. Kitty becomes his model and the master's portrait of "An Anonymous Lady" makes her famous overnight, attracting the attention of the Duke of Malmunster (Reginald Owen). In the meantime, Kitty has been adopted by an ingratiating, but penniless scoundrel (Ray Milland and his aunt (Contsance Collier) who decide to transform her into a "grande dame" and sell her off to the highest bidder on the marriage market. Kitty's gaucheries are finally glossed over and the young spitfire proceeds to exploit her charms to the fullest.

"Kitty" definitely establishes Paulette Goddard as a very finished actress, and the spectacular Old English costumes certainly enhance her beauty. After his stunning portrayal of the chronic alcoholic in "The Lost Weekend," versatile Ray Milland takes a turn at playing the attractive rogue, and does it very well.

"Kitty" is sophisticated adult fare, keen as a steel blade and gleefully entertaining from start to finish.

Leonard Robertson and Mrs. B. L. Barnes were in Allanreed, Texas, Sunday attending an old settler's reunion. Allanreed is the childhood home of Mr. Robertson and Mrs. Barnes.

Sunset Carson Rides at Ellis

Sunset Carson rides again at the Ellis Theatre, Saturday, June 15, in Republic's most thrilling Western to date: "Alias Billy the Kid."

In his most versatile and active role of a Ranger in disguise who joins forces with Ann Marshall to help her avenge her father's death and to regain cattle and money stolen from ranchers.

The role of Ann Marshall is skillfully played by Peggy Stewart, who scores high as a Lady Robin Hood who takes the law into her hands. Pretending to be in league with the gang leader, Sunset has to turn the girl over to him until reinforcements can be brought, but at the showdown, Sunset and Ann fight the enemy side by side.

Roy Barcroft turns in an excellent performance as Matt Conroy, the suave, clever, self-appointed czar of the lawless section West of the Pecos, who forces the ranchers to sell their cattle to him at starvation prices. Tom Chatterton, Stanley Price, Tom London, Russ Whiteman, Tex Terry, Pierce Lyden and Edward Cassidy also have good parts in the thrill-packed Western directed by Thomas Carr and produced by Bennett Cohen.

PAULETTE GODDARD, an illiterate Cockney waif, tries to steal the silver-buckled shoes of the celebrated artist, Sir Thomas Gainsborough in Paramount's "Kitty," showing at the Ellis Theatre, Sunday and Monday, June 16-17. Cecil Kellaway plays Gainsborough in the Mitchell Leisen film.

Linguist, Too

Film actress Linda Christian, say Hollywood publicists, reads, writes, and speaks six languages. "Mmmmmm!"—our description of her—means the same in all of them.

Glamorous Star Gains Weight

Glamorous Lucille Ball, who worked a strenuous six weeks before the cameras without a day off during 20th Century-Fox's filming of "The Dark Corner," which shows Thursday and Friday, June 20-21 at the Ellis Theatre, actually gained six pounds during the process.

Lucille, one girl who isn't concerned about gaining weight, explained the phenamenon to co-stars Clifton Webb, William Bendix and Mark Stevens thusly: "I always gain weight when I'm working, because I'm happier then. My weight trouble comes when I'm between pictures for too long a time; I lose even faster than I gain.

"I guess I'm just a born workhorse," the flame-blonde star concluded.

To The FARMERS OF THIS AREA!

You no doubt have read or heard statements regarding the advance in the retail price of farm machinery which was announced by OPA on Saturday, May 11th, which inferred that the increase in price to the farmers was only 3%. May we at this time call your attention to the fact that this is incorrect; the raise in the retail prices in most cases is 5% but the raise to the manufacturer on a wholesale basis is 10.25%. This increase in price was due to the requests from manufacturers of farm equipment primarily because of increased labor costs and the increased cost of material and component parts needed to manufacture farm machinery.

Dealer's operating margin has been reduced 20% by OPA's new regulation.

THIS MEANS that your farm equipment dealers must operate from now on, on a 20% less working margin than they had before May 10, 1946.

THIS MEANS that your service dealer, even though his operating costs have mounted tremendously during this war period, must operate on a lesser margin than he had during World War II. When all other industries nationwide were demanding increases for their products, your farm equipment retailer did not ask for any increase.

THIS DECREASE MEANS that many of your farm equipment retailers will be forced to curtail the services that have made it possible for you to operate during these emergency periods with many obselete machines even when new repair parts were not available.

THIS MEANS that many farm equipment dealers may be forced to remove from their pay rolls mechanics, servicemen and other employees, many of them G. I.'s, so that their operating costs will be in line with their earning margin.

THIS MEANS that many dealers, because of this "squeeze" in dealer's working margins, may be forced to close their doors and discontinue their operations.

All we ask of you, Mr. Farmer, is that you consider your welfare, and if you feel that we have done a good job for you during these "Hectic years", that you please contact your Congressmen and Senators and ask them to restore to us the working margins we had before this new OPA ruling. Please bear in mind that we are not asking for any increase, but we cannot stand a reduction at the present time if we are to continue our operations. We would be pleased to have you stop in at our stores to discuss more thoroughly this program which is threatening to destroy the farm equipment retailers of America.

Vets Attending Colleges

As of March 10 there were 394,557 veterans of World War II enrolled in 1686 colleges and universities of junior college level and higher, and the estimate for the fall term, according to VA officials, is 695,321.

The largest number of these veterans or approximately 15 per cent of the total are taking such courses as business administration, accounting, banking and clerical. For instance, out of the 32,543 veterans who started their education in February under the G.I. bill, 12,513 enrolled in these courses; 9,459 chose engineering fields including electrical, mechanical and other types while 8,305 went into mechanics, including auto repair. Other school courses rating high with the veterans included agriculture with 7,960, metal working with 3,504 and teaching, law and construction each claimed more than 1,500.

Out of this February enrollment, the liberal arts courses attracted 16,182. More than 80 per cent of the new students entered colleges and universities while the balance began on-the-job training.

Questions and Answers

Q. My husband was drafted in World War I and has been dead three years. I don't have his serial number. All I have is a form, as his discharge burned in our home. He was drafted from Madison, Tenn., on October 4, 1917 and was kept in service till October 25, 1917 and discharged for disability. Would I be eligible for a pension as I am a widow and unable to work? —Wife, Brownsville, Tenn.

A. I believe you would be eligible for a pension, but you should apply to your veterans' administration office either at 408 E. Main, Jackson or 8 N. 3rd street, Memphis.

Q. I have a son who was called to the army in October. He is needed at home badly to care for the farm and stock. He has six depending on him. Could I get him out? How long do the boys called in October, 1945, have to stay? How many points and what do they get points on? — M. H., Nashville, Ark.

A. Your son evidently is still in training in this country and must serve, under regulations in effect, up to June 30, 1946, 24 months or 40 points as of September 2, 1945. Your son did not get into the army until after September 2, 1945, so we do not know what point score he will have earned by the time new regulations are announced. At the present, one point is awarded for each month of service, one point for each month overseas, 12 points for each minor child and 5 points for decorations or battle stars. Your son, however, likely will be eligible for discharge only on length of service, unless a new point score is fixed. He likely will have many more months to serve. If he can prove a hardship case, he would be entitled to ask his commanding officer for release for that reason, but it would be up to the officer.

Q. My husband was in World War I and his insurance lapsed. Upon a physical exam he was refused. They said he had asthma and defective eyes. He tried to enlist in this war but was refused on the same grounds. Later we left that state and he was drafted and found OK at the induction center. Doctors in the army couldn't understand how he could get in since he had asthma and hearing in one ear gone. He was sent to a medical department enlisted technician school, but after a few lessons his asthma got so bad he couldn't attend, so he was flunked and shipped out. They would not hospitalize for asthma and their medicine didn't help. Upon his discharge he went to the Red Cross who told him he had a claim. He filed for the claim, but was refused for they said he had asthma and poor hearing when he was drafted. Still he was found physically fit for induction. Is there anything he can do about this?— Mrs. R. A., Parsons, Kans.

A. You have the right of appeal for the disability rating. There is a contact office of veterans' administration at the municipal building, Pittsburg, Kans. Suggest you apply there and if it is necessary to go to a regional rating board, they will tell you where to apply.

Q. My brother, an M. P. stationed in Brazil for three years, plans to marry a Brazilian girl. If he is discharged within the next six months, will he have to pay for her transportation home? Or will transportation be provided for her as in the case of the European wives of American soldiers? — Mrs. C. S., Palmdale, Calif.

A. I am not sure about after his discharge, but if he is married while he is in the army, he is entitled to apply to his commanding officer for transportation of his wife to this country.

Jack Steele returned to Perryton Thursday after spending several months at Sanatorium, Texas. Mrs. Steele and Jackie and Miss Moina Caldwell went to Sanatorium Wednesday to bring him home.

...al Service Life Insurance policies can be converted ...anent insurance only thru ...terans Administration, and ...ough a private commercial ...e company. And once it has been converted, the insurance has several valuable advantages over the "term" policy.

Converted insurance has a cash surrender value, which increases as long as the veteran pays premiums on the policy. Converted policies also have a loan value, which means that the veteran may borrow up to 94 per cent of his policy's cash value, at 5 per cent interest.

If he wishes, the veteran may surrender his permanent policy and have the Veterans Administration issue him a completely paid-up policy for a smaller amount. For example, a 25-year-old veteran who took out a $10,000 policy on the 30-payment life plan would pay $197.70 a year in premiums. If he decided to drop the policy at the end of one year, it would have a cash value of $123. This $123 is enough to purchase $340 in paid-up insurance, and he could have VA issue him a fully-paid policy for that amount.

Another advantage of converted insurance is its "extended insurance" value. If the veteran stops paying premiums, he can have the cash value of his policy applied against future premiums, thus extending the life of the policy. In this case the policy keeps its full face value, but expires when the "extended" period is over. A 30-year-old-veteran who has paid premiums for five years on his 20-payment life policy, for instance, can have the policy extended for 13 years and 195 days without paying any additional premiums.

Insurance converted to one of the permanent plans offered by the government has all the valuable features of the "term" insurance carried by veterans while in service. There are no restrictions as to travel, residence, occupation, or military or naval service. Proceeds of the policies are not taxable, and payments made to beneficiaries are not subject to claims by creditors of the veteran or beneficiary, except that the Federal government may make such claims.

Full information on conversion of National Service Life Insurance can be obtained at any Veterans Administration contact office.

A Vital Issue

THE POWER TO TAX is vested in the Congress by the Constitution, and only in the Congress. It even took an amendment to the Constitution to give the government the power to levy a tax on individual incomes.

Contrast this with the effrontery of the union leaders who today demand the right to levy a tax on the people as the price that must be paid for sitting down at the collective bargaining table to obey the law of the land. They refuse even to discuss wages until they are conceded the right to tax the people. Real collective bargaining is impossible under these conditions.

These union leaders already have a stranglehold on the nation. Their grip grows tighter and tighter. Industry after industry slows and halts. Trains stop running; food and commodities cannot be hauled. Power plants stop; the lights go out. They are bringing the nation to its knees.

AND NOW THEY WANT to add the power to tax—a power so great that it has always been reserved exclusively for the Congress.

Babson Discusses Different Industries

ROGER W. BABSON, Editor-in-Chief

Babson Park, Mass., June 7—Once every six months (June and December) I prepare a brief summary of leading industries and here follows my outlook for the second half of 1946.

AUTOMOBILE STOCKS: The automobile industry should have a boom for a few years; but it is very vulnerable to labor troubles and to bombing. There may be no reason for now selling automobile stocks; but it looks as if the high prices have discounted the immediate outlook.

AIRCRAFT MANUFACTURING STOCKS: These stocks are selling largely on their liquidation value. From this point of view, some of them may be a good speculation; but the industry as a whole is uncertain.

AIR TRANSPORT STOCKS: This is a growing industry and will do a tremendous business for some years to come; but the rates are governed by federal authorities. Moreover, the airlines neither own their terminals nor the air through which they travel. Today—based on both book value and earnings—they are selling the highest of any group.

AGRICULTURAL EQUIPMENT STOCKS: This is a fundamental industry and the better-garde stocks have both real security and a fair promise of continued dividends for conservative investors.

AMUSEMENT STOCKS: The motion picture industry and similar groups enjoy great prosperity and dividends should continue liberal for another year or two.

BANK STOCKS: In view of the tremendous deposits, a small increase in interest rates on the banks investments and loans should help earnings. What the future interest rates are to be is anyone's guess.

BEVERAGE STOCKS: I know nothing about liquor stocks. The outlook for the soft drink stocks should be good after the sugar supply has become normal, but prices of the stocks may already anticipate this.

BUILDING STOCKS: Unless there is a buyers' strike; the building industry is headed for a remarkable boom. On the other hand, building stocks are high. I had rather buy well-located real estate.

CHEMICAL STOCKS: Although they now look high, with small yields, they are still attractive. The chemical industry will benefit from some wonderful discoveries now in the laboratory stage. Also the industry has a very small labor expense and its basic raw materials are relatively low priced.

CLOTHING STOCKS: These appear to have a good future—especially manufacturers of men's clothing, shirts, shoes, etc. As to the textile group, the rayon manufacturers continue to be the most favored.

CONTAINER STOCKS: These suffered no conversion troubles and will continue to do a good business; but the stocks appear fairly well priced in view of recent earnings.

ELECTRICAL EQUIPMENT STOCKS: This industry as a whole should do a wonderful business, but it is beset by labor troubles and intense competition.

FOOD STOCKS: The food industries, such as baking, dairy products, corn refining, meat packing, are all rearing to go ahead and waiting only for a green light at Washington.

MACHINERY STOCKS: Altho there are exceptions, the machine tool industry will be beset for some time by a tremendous secondhand market. Its stock prices, however, are not over priced.

MERCHANDIZE STOCKS: Sales and earnings will probably hit new peaks this year. I prefer, however, the chain stores, with their assets distributed broadly throughout the country, rather than the department stores with their assets concentrated in a few large cities subject to bombing.

MINING STOCKS: There should be a continuous increase in the demand for non-ferrous metals in the months ahead. Mining stocks are also in the "bombing-proof" group.

OFFICE EQUIPMENT STOCKS: The office equipment companies have been suffering from the demands of re-conversion; but the better-grade stocks should continue to be attractive to conservative investors.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Gilkerson of Pyote, Texas were in Perryton last Friday renewing acquaintances and meeting old timers of Ochiltree county. Mr. Gilkerson used to be a barber at Old Ochiltree and is still engaged in that profession at Pyote. The Gilkersons were visiting in the home of his brother, George at Lipscomb and were in Perryton only one day.

Thursday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. LaRue Norris were Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Richardson, Mrs. Beth Fuelscher and Fred Easterday of Lincoln, Nebr. After dinner they took Mr. Easterday, who had been a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Organizations To Wipe Out WAA Abuses

Five leading veterans organizations have agreed to support efforts of the War Assets Administration to wipe out abuses of certification to buy surplus property, Hampton Morton, Regional Director WAA, Fort Worth announced Wednesday. The agreement was reached following a meeting last week in Washington of the Veterans policy committee of the WAA, consisting to Representatives of the ogranizations and WAA officials.

Joseph F. Carroll, Director, Compliance enforcement division had uncovered indications that a small minority of veterans had acquired surplus property for others after certifying that the property was for their own use.

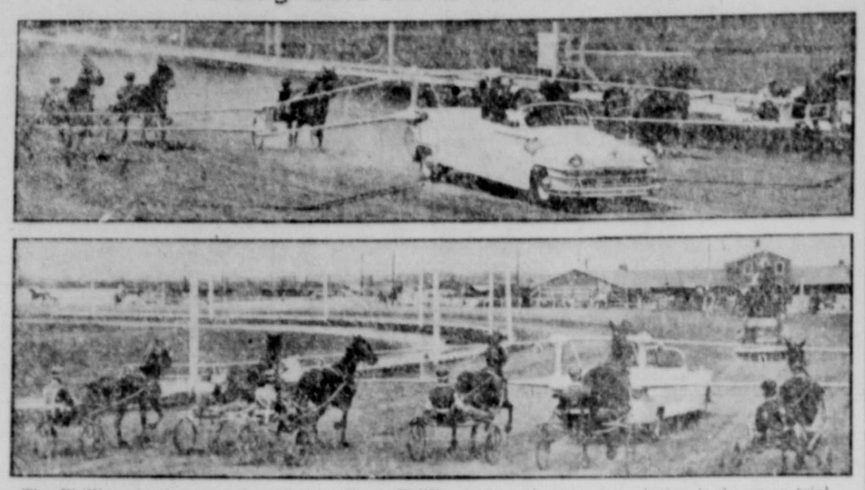

Under a WAA regulation, any evidence of irregularity in the acquisition of surplus property is reported to the Department of Justice. Investigation is thereupon taken over by the Federal Bureau of Investigation and prosecuted by the Department of Justice.

Some of the cases which the Department of Justice is now preparing to prosecute involve dealers who have induced veterans to obtain substantial amounts of property for the dealers, certifying that is for their own use in setting up or maintaining a business.

Members of the Veterans Policy Committee at the meeting were Omar B. Ketchum, Veterans of Foreign Wars; Millard Rice, Disabled American Veterans; Herrick J. O'Clara, American Legion; Chat Patterson, American Veterans Committee, Inc.; and Robert E. McLaughlin, American Veterans of World War II. WAA officials present include Mr. Carroll, Scott W. Donaldson and Huly E. Bray.

Folding Gate Starts Harness Races

The Phillips starting gate, invented by Steve Phillips, veteran harness race starter, is shown on trial at Roosevelt Raceway, Westbury, Long Island, where it will be used this summer. Horses line up behind respective numbers, lower, follow the gate down the track and when starting line is neared a signal is given and the gate, which has a 70-foot spread, folds up alongside car—and they're off!

TWO STRIKES ON HIM

Pat M. Neff in Active Campaign

Houston—Pat M. Neff, Jr., towering candidate for Attorney General of Texas, is already hitting the high spots in what he avers will be a vigorous statewide campaign.

His range this week will be from Orange to El Paso. Next week he will launch a strenuous town-to-town drive that will take him into every section of the state before the First Primary June 27.

Neff did organizational work in the Houston-Beaumont-Port Arthur-Orange sector this week before jumping across Texas to El Paso for a brief visit with friends and a radio talk.

Partners? Sure, Bill and Pat are partners! They've been partners since that very first day at the hospital, when little Pat smiled up from his crib at his big, broad-shouldered dad—and wiggled his baby toes. Right then was when Bill promised himself that he'd see to it that his son got the very best chance in life that Bill could provide.

And Bill has kept that promise. Regardless of the future, Pat will get to go through high school—and college, too. More than that—little Pat has a "nest-egg" to start in business, or to enter the profession of his choice. And Bill has seen to it that nothing can alter those plans for Pat, because he's built them all through Southwestern Life Insurance.

What Bill has done for little Pat, you can do for your son . . . or for your daughter . . . through Southwestern Life Insurance. It's the safe, sound, thrifty way to assure them a chance in the world of tomorrow. Get an outline of the plan today. Its flexibility will please you.
