SUSPECTS NABBED HERE

Motorcycling Ex-Cons Curbed for Forgeries

Two ex-convicts speeding down U. S. Highway 80 on motorcycles ran into a detour Monday that led to jail.

They face charges in Big Spring and Post for a string of forged checks ranging from $50 to $215, according to Police Chief Leon Yeager.

Police identified the pair as Willie Ray Calvert, 18, who was released from prison in May; and Freddie Owen McKinley, 22, who left the state penitentiary only two weeks ago.

They were arrested here Monday at 3 a. m. by Police-men Truman Henderson, Bill Henderson and Dave Shackelford for speeding and driving without lights.

After stopping the pair, police made additional investigation and then checked them out as suspects in Big Spring and Post forgeries.

Infact, motorcycles the ex-convicts were riding had been purchased only two days before — Saturday in Big Spring with what police say were forged checks.

Texas Ranger Gene Graves took custody of the two forged suspects here Monday and delivered them to Big Spring.

In Big Spring Calvert was charged in Justice of Peace Jess Slaughter's Court with passing a forged check for $104.67 to Juanita Stigen at Charlie's Cycle Shop. The check, drawn on Multiple Oil Well Service Company of Midland, was made out to a D. W. Lynch and signed with the name Oliver P. Morgan.

McKinley was charged in connection with a Big Spring check for $169.15 on the same oil firm. The check also was signed by the name, Oliver P. Morgan, and made out to James B. Bosten.

Police here and sheriff of Big Spring report that Multiple Oil Well Service Company checks had been stolen from the firm's office in Post.

And Post police are naming Calvert and McKinley as suspects in a series of forgeries there involving stolen Multiple Oil checks.

New Business Faces

A new downtown firm, Hammond Floor Covering, opened for business this week at 250 Walnut.

Owners and operators of the business are James H. Hammond, 30, and his father, R. Y. Hammond.

Both have detailed experience in the home furnishing business here in Colorado City. Both are natives of this community.

The elder Hammond, who is a member of Colorado Independent School District board of trustees, operated Home Furniture & Appliance here from 1946 to 1951 and has agricultural interests in the Buford area.

James Hammond, a Navy veteran, formerly was associated with Pittman's Furniture & Floor Covering and Walker Furniture Company, both of Colorado City.

The new firm will offer all types of quality floor covering, plus installation service.

Although Hammond Floor Covering already is open for business, formal opening celebration will not be scheduled until the firm completes its stock.

Already available at the new firm are complete lines of famous brand Armstrong hard floor coverings — vinyl, asphalt, vinyl-asbestos and rubber.

GIRL AND 2 BOYS

Georgia Runaways Taken by Police

Police before dawn Wednesday stopped the runaway trip of a 16-year-old Georgia girl and her two male companions.

The trio were on their way to California when they were taken into custody here at 4:20 a. m. on Highway 80.

Police became suspicious of the trio and stopped their 1957 Chevrolet for routine investigation.

And it wasn't long until they learned the girl and her two friends, brothers 17 and 23 years of age, were being sought by the girl's parents in Columbus, Ga.

The girl told police she took her family car to go to night school at 8 o'clock Monday night in Columbus, Ga.

But instead of going to classes, she drove straight by the home of the two boys' friends and then turned the car toward the west and California.

Police contacted authorities in Columbus and parents asked that the trio be held in custody until their arrival here.

Parents of the girl traveled by plane to West Texas and arrived here Wednesday.

After an overnight reunion of the girl and her parents Wednesday in Baker Hotel, the group left Thursday for return to Columbus in the family car.

Agency Says Too Near Jet Strip

Federal Aviation Agency has turned down a request for airspace for Colorado City's proposed new municipal airport two miles northeast of the city.

The setback was revealed in a letter Thursday from Bob Boswell, airport engineer on the FAA Region 2 staff in Fort Worth, to City Manager Rollin K. Sneath.

It comes at a critical stage in developments in the city's continued move for federal aid funds in municipal airport construction.

City has proposed a site just east of the old Snyder Rd., at a point near where the Interstate 20 freeway bypass will interchange with the old Snyder Rd. It would provide for 4,200 foot runway, plus 500 feet of clear zone on the south and 1,000 feet of clear zone on the north, in accordance with FAA regulations for executive type planes.

But the Regional Staff Planning Committee of the CAA in Fort Worth has turned thumbs down on the site because of its proximity to the Webb Air Force Base auxiliary jet landing field five miles northwest of Colorado City.

The airport situation will be discussed at a special meeting of the Chamber of Commerce airport development committee, chaired by City Councilman Lawrence Riddick, and airport project committeemen of the City Council, Garland Green and Sam L. (Buzz) Majors, and City Manager Sneath.

FAA officials have recommended that a new site be proposed by the city. However, the city also has the prerogative of meeting with the Regional Staff Planning Committee in a rebuttal attempt to secure approval for the original site.

A time limit—another new development in the airport program—is pressing the city. The FAA just last week notified the city that new "Request for Aid" must be submitted for the new Federal-Aid Airport Program for 1960 and 1961. And deadline for new request (complete with sketch of proposed field) is Sept. 1.

Here are key points of Airport Engineer Boswell's letter report concerning the planning committee's study and action:

"Jet aircraft from Webb AFB, Big Spring, utilize the Colorado City AF Auxiliary Field which is located approximately 5 miles northwest of the subject site (proposed municipal field northeast of Colorado City).

"The jet operations conducted at the Colorado City AF Auxiliary Field are extensive and consist of touch-and-go landings plus overhead practice flame-out patterns. Additionally, the Air Force has future plans to install a low frequency radio beacon at the Colorado City auxiliary field for the purpose of practice penetrations, approaches, etc.

"A distance of approximately 4.6 statute miles will separate the extended center-lines of the existing north-south runway at Colorado City AF Auxiliary Field and the new north-south runway at the proposed municipal airport site. Although the extended center-lines would be approximately parallel, this distance is considered to be insufficient for the safety of air traffic in view of the type existing and proposed jet operations at the AF Auxiliary Field.

"And existing antenna (255 feet above the proposed site elevation), is located approximately 1.8 statute miles south of subject site according to calculations, this antenna apparently would violate TSO-N18. Criteria for Determining Obstructions to Air Navigation. If the proposed airport

Woman Injured in Auto Wreck Here

An Abilene woman was injured here Wednesday morning in a two-car collision on U. S. Highway 80 in the city limits.

She is Evelyn C. Christopher, 47, who was treated at a local medical clinic for a back injury before being returned to her home in Abilene.

The Abilene woman was driving a 1957 Plymouth sedan that was in collision with a 1950 Oldsmobile driven by John Lewis Bowen, 88, of 843 Cedar.

Police reported that the Christopher sedan was traveling west on Highway 80 and the Bowen car was making a U-turn from the westbound traffic artery. Scene of the accident was just west of the Colorado River bridge.

Funeral service for C. E. Butcher, 42, fatally burned Saturday at Sun Oil Company's Jameson Gasoline Plant, were conducted Tuesday in Silver's First Methodist Church.

Hospitalized with burns received in the same fire were Tom Allen, 37, in Root Memorial Hospital here, and W. J. Wenetschlager, 29, of Ballinger, in San Angelo's St. John's Hospital.

The fire blazed up at about 1 p. m. Saturday when a Ballinger Butane Gas Company truck was being loaded at the plant's butane loading rack. Survivors of the fatally injured Butcher include his wife, one daughter, Mrs. Paul Tinkler of Robert Lee; his mother, Mrs. Bertha Butcher; a brother, T. K. Butcher; two sisters, Mrs. Harry G. Mosley and Mrs. Herbert O'Neal.

Gregory Dossey, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dossey, 403 Pine, broke an arm Friday when he fell from a tree at the home of Rolland Dossey.

He was dismissed from Root Memorial Hospital Monday.

Sellers Rites Conducted in Kiker Chapel

Chapel rites were Monday in Kiker & Son Funeral Home for Charlie M. Sellers, 71, who died unexpectedly at his home here Saturday.

Conducting the 2 p. m. rites was Rev. C. L. Carroll, pastor of 11th Street Baptist Church, assisted by Rev. A. J. Martin, pastor of Avenue D Baptist Church in Snyder.

Burial was in Hillside Memorial.

ALL DAY MONDAY

High School Sets Newcomer Sign-up

High school and junior high students moving into the Colorado City public school system for the first time this fall will register Monday.

The newcomers registration at Colorado High and Colorado Junior High will start at 9 a. m. Monday and continue until 6 p. m., according to Supt. Frank Wilson.

Seventh through ninth grades will register at junior high, of course, and grades 10, 11 and 12 will register at senior high.

Wilson emphasized that the Monday registration was for those students new in Colorado City, and who were not in the local school during the last school year.

The newcomers sign-up will be the first in a series of pre-school registration for Colo-do City students extending through the last weeks of August.

Plans for the registration and other school programming were made this week in meetings of school supervisory personnel. The entire staff met with the superintendent Monday, then principals joined Wilson in another special meeting Wednesday.

The regular registration for all Colorado High students is scheduled over a three-day period from Aug. 19 through Aug. 21. Seniors will register at 8:30 a. m. Aug. 12. Juniors will register at 8:30 a. m. Aug. 20. and sophomores will register Aug. 21 at 8:30 a. m.

Other registration schedules will be announced in Sunday's Record.

Plane View of Proposed New Lake

A plane flying over the proposed site of a new Colorado River dam south of Colorado City photographed this view stretching over eight miles of land that would be covered by water if the reservoir is built. Colorado River Municipal Water District will file application Thursday before State Board of Water Engineers for authority to build the 7,000 foot dam designated in central foreground of the aerial photo by dotted black lines. Rough outline of the water reservoir north of the dam is shown by the solid black lines rambling across the upper foreground of the photo. Distance from the dam (dotted line) to the upper end of the lake (where solid lines part in upper center) is a distance of eight miles. With its maximum 400,000 acre feet of water, the lake would extend two miles further toward Colorado City. The dam (dotted line) will be anchored against a 190-foot bluff at left where the river cuts deep into steep hills. Spillway will be concrete through the dam with control gates.

Personally Yours

Relaxation — do we ever see much of the stuff? I started out trying to think of some ways which Americans relax but I came to the conclusion that most of today's generation spend little time with that delightful habit.

We decide to have a peaceful week-end at the lake... but by the time we rush around and get everything prepared for our quiet stay, it's half over and then we start dreading going to work so tired the next morning.

For housewives and mothers... there is so little time left between ballgames, other activities of the kiddos, dentist appointments, and the regular household duties, yard work, etc.

We have that day off stuffed so full of activities that we barely get them started before we collapse in bed at night.

Sure! We have all sorts of devices to help us relax — "Your clothes dry while you enjoy precious time in rest and relaxation—with the Wagnalls' electric clothes dryer." "Beat the heat and enjoy yourself with a Count Air Cooler." "There's really nothing to it with push button control." They're wonderful — but not many of us can relax while we're using them—something else is always waiting.

How can housewives relax from their constant responsibilities? Well, you can grow roses, read poetry, play golf, or maybe listen to symphonic music — if you're lucky enough to have the extra time.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Rogers and sons, Michael Verne and Kenny Ross, left today for Bismark, North Dakota, where they will visit with Mrs. Roger's brother and sister-in-law, Beeman and Betty Dockrey.

The Dockreys are former residents of Colorado City. Among the activities that the Rogers boys are planning is horseback riding. The family will be on vacation for two weeks.

NEW NAME IS AUTHORIZED FOR PGAC
Perforating Guns Atlas Corporation of Houston, which has a station of operations here in Colorado City, is changing its name.
Stockholders of the corporation in a special meeting Saturday in Chicago, Ill., authorized a change of the company's corporate name to Pan Geo Atlas Corp., effective immediately.
Paul Charrin, president of the company, said: "For a long time our former name was not appropriate for our business — due, primarily, to our many new oil field services developed over the years and our expansion to world-wide operations."
"Our firm has been popularly known as 'PGAC' for many years throughout the oil industry; and this symbol of identification will continue because each word of our new corporate name carries the same first letter as formerly.
"Our new name, Pan Geo Atlas Corp., has a more applicable connotation. Pan (from the Greek: all) was chosen because it denotes PGAC's worldwide oil field operations. Geo (from the Greek: the earth) was chosen because it denotes PGAC's geological and geophysical applications in oil well completions.

SPEAKING TO LIONS

Judge Says Environment Not Always Delinquency's Cause

Many children grow up to be good citizens even though they live in bad surroundings, according to County Judge Elmer Martin.

By the same token people living in luxury do not always produce good law-abiding citizens. These ideas were expressed by the Judge Friday in a speech to the Colorado City Lions Club.

Martin discussed the Mitchell County Juvenile Court and the experiences he has had in this court.

"Juvenile delinquency cannot be laid at the door of any one thing," he said.

Among the contributing causes to juvenile delinquency, he listed social forces, mental and physical makeup, parental desertion, long absences of one or both parents, alcoholism, demoralizing influences in the community, working mothers, or fathers who work at night, immorality on the part of one or both parents, and living under unhappy circumstances.

"Delinquent children are unhappy children, he emphasized." The Juvenile Court is a court of human relations, not a criminal court.

It is the purpose of the court to secure for each child such guidance, care, and control, preferably in his own home, as is to his best interest and that of his community and state.

When removed from his home it is the court's responsibility to see that he has proper care and guidance, Martin said.

Hearings are usually conducted around a table with the child and his parents. It is held in an orderly fashion, yet with informality.

Martin praised law-enforcement officers, public schools, civic clubs, the church and church-schools of the community for their assistance in handling the problem of juvenile delinquency.

MONDAY MAKE-UPS

Giants, Tiger Triumphs Close Out Little League

Curtain came down on 1959 Little League play Monday night with Tigers and Giants in the win column.

Giants, No. 2 in season standings, defeated the last place Dodgers, 7 to 4, and the Tigers moved up almost even with the Pirates for the year, whipping the Pirates 5 to 3.

Both of the Monday night games were make-up contests. Regular schedule play was closed out last Thursday and Friday nights with three ball games.

In Monday night's tilts the Pirates scored two runs in the opening half of the first inning. But their lead was short, for the Tigers retaliated with four runs of their own in the same frame.

The Pirates added another score to pull up, 3-4, in the second. But for the rest of the game they were shut out with only two hits off the Tiger's Bearden.

The Tigers made it 5 to 3 with the game's final score in the fourth inning. On the mound for the losing Pirates were Beasley and Taylor.

Giants made good use of limited hits to score 7 runs in three innings for their 7 to 4 triumph over the Dodgers, who gathered five hits.

Hurling for the winners was Phillips. Dividing mound duties for the Dodgers were Carrasco and Russell.

Thursday encounters saw the picture of the earlier season still repeating as the Indians added to their win column by besting the Pirates 4-2. The second place Giants breezed by the Tigers 9-3 in the finale.

Friday's only action was a triumph over the Dodgers, easy going affair as the third place Yankees walked by the last place Dodgers 9-0.

The Indians had an unusual tough time with the Pirates, but provided enough power to back up the three hit pitching of Randolph Cupp and boast their season total to 12 wins against only one loss. Jim Gresham was their big gun offensively going three for four at the plate and driving in two runs with three straight singles.

The nightcap game on Thursday was breather for Giant pitching as the Giants were able to push across eight of their nine runs the first two innings to coast to a 9-3 victory over the Tigers and end up regular play only two games out of first place.

The Yankees made fastwork of the young Dodgers in Friday's game by scoring in almost every inning and limiting the Dodgers to only five safeties.

Friday's box score:

Following this season, the present east stands will be moved back 200 feet, the field will be excavated 30 feet and the ensuing slopes lined with seats. Conservation Reserve Program For '60

Mitchell County farmers, like all others of Texas, will receive a basic rate of $12 an acre under announced plans for the Conservation Reserve of the Soil Bank for the 1960 crop season by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. A tentative goal of 452,000 additional acres was also announced for the state.

Principal changes listed for the 1960 Conservation Reserve in the USDA announcement include regulations relating to publicly owned land, tenure of ownership, method of setting payment rates and the determination of priorities when more applications are received than can be accepted.

Land owned by a state, county, town or local government will be ineligible for the program. This rule is already in effect on federally owned land. Land which has changed ownership (except through inheritance) since December 31, 1956 is ineligible to enter the program in 1960.

If land under a 1960 Conservation Reserve contract is sold, the contract generally may be assumed by the purchaser only after it has been in effect for three years.

The priority system of accepting applications has been modified to assure first consideration to farmers who were unable to participate in the 1959 program because of lack of funds.

Detailed information as to the application of these and other changes to individual farm situations will not be available in Mitchell County ASC office until mid-August, stated the USDA announcement.

This will be the fifth year of the Conservation Reserve program. If farmers contract for the expected 5 million additional acres in 1960, the total acreage in the program next year will be approximately 28 million.

The Los Angeles, California, Times urged its readers to write their Congressmen and protest against inflationary federal spending. More than 30,000 did just that.

We've heard the same around these parts — from farmers, ranchers, businessmen and housewives, too. WASHINGTON REPORT

Commission May Map Farm Policy

By CLINTON DAVIDSON
Special Correspondent

A proposal by Sen. John Stennis of Mississippi for creation of a 12-man Agricultural Policy Commission to make a thorough study of farm programs and recommend new legislation makes good sense.

Washington — Congress, the Administration and the farm organizations — has floundered through seven months of futile squabbling over farm problems this year chiefly because there is no well-defined farm policy.

We still are operating under farm programs and policies developed to meet wartime and postwar needs for maximum production of foods and fibers. Control programs designed to slow down production have not always been effective.

Price supports are being challenged within as well as outside the agriculture industry.

The bill introduced by Sen. Stennis would set up a commission similar to the Hoover Commission which several years ago made a study and recommendations for reorganization of the government administrative agencies. It would seek to take farm policy out of politics through the naming of a non-partisan commission.

Of the 12 members, the President would appoint four — two from the executive branch and two from private life. The vice president and the speaker of the house each would name four — two each from the senate and house and two each from private life.

The commission, Sen. Stennis explains, would be composed of high-level, competent people who would be capable of evaluating the farm problems and making sound recommendations for legislation to strengthen the farm economy.

"I visualize this proposal," Sen. Stennis said, "as a new and fresh approach for formulating a sound and long-range agricultural program."

"I am convinced that if we do not come up with a more realistic program which would meet certain objectives, and at least cost to taxpayers, our agricultural program, as we know it today, is doomed for greater criticism and eventually complete collapse."

The commission would have authority to employ a competent staff of assistants and advisers, and to hold public hearings. To make certain that its recommendations are not influenced by partisan politics, the commission would be required to withhold its report until after the 1960 election.

The duties of the commission would be to make a full and complete study on a commodity basis of the various agricultural programs now in effect. The study, Sen. Stennis specified, would include:

First, the various price support programs. Second, programs for the control of production. Third, programs for the disposal of agricultural surpluses and, fourth, other programs relating to production of all price supported commodities.

Such a commission could serve the useful purpose of developing a blueprint for adoption of sound long-range farm programs. It could, also, possibly bring some unity among the present conflicting groups which so far have been unable to agree on farm policy.

IN STATE'S BIG TAX BILL

House Finally Wins Extended Gas Tax Battle with Senate

By VERN SANFORD,
Texas Press Association

With the bottleneck broken on a tax bill for regular spending, legislators began to look down the road.

Rep. Murray Watson of Mart proposed a resolution that pointed up the lawmakers' uneasiness about having more rough decisions before the year is out.

Watson's resolution called on Gov. Price Daniel to say immediately whether he would call another special session to raise money for the Hale-Aikin school improvement program.

Hale-Aikin proposals, which include an $800 a year salary boost for teachers, would cost an estimated $120,000,000 a year. There have been repeated rumors that the governor will recall the Legislature next fall to enact Hale-Aikin. Also floating around is the rumor that a 1 cent per gallon hike in the gasoline tax is being "saved" for that purpose.

Watson charged, "I think there's been a definite deal made with the Texas State Teachers Association. . . . Somebody else should know what's going on here instead of just the governor and the teachers' lobby."

Governor Daniel's supporters called this unfair. They declared that the governor, like everyone else, couldn't tell how it would be until after the dust settled from the fracas over raising money for the basic budget.

AT LAST — When the Legislature finally voted out the new $185,000,000 tax bill, it voted it out in a big way. Tally was 29-to-2 in the Senate and 115-to-24 in the House.

This is well over the required two-thirds to make the bill effective immediately on the governor's signing.

House, which had been hamstringed for seven months on the tax issue, came unstung so suddenly it surprised the bill's advocates. Voting ended good naturedly with "yea" votes recruited in the atmosphere of an old-fashioned revival meeting.

Most talked-about feature of the new bill is a severance beneficiary tax of 1.5 per cent on natural gas. It was the first time the Senate had approved this tax. Many House members had said they would not vote for any bill that didn't include it. It will bring in an estimated $15 to $18,000,000 over two years if not ruled unconstitutional.

Three fourths or more of the bill's revenue will come from selective sales taxes. Newcomers are a 3 per cent tax on jewelry and furs, a 3 per cent tax on hotel and motel room rentals, 3 per cent on boats, motors, cameras, air conditioners, 25 per cent on tobacco products.

BIBLE COMMENT

Christian Secret Found in Power

In the growth of religions and religious movements from small beginnings Christianity is not unique. Other great world religions have had similar history. And in modern times, conspicuous religious movements have had the same developments.

World Methodism, with its immense and numerical and spiritual power, began in a couple of devout Oxford University students, and particularly in the one, John Wesley.

The Mormon empire grew from one man, Joseph Smith, though he had amazing successors. Another notable instance is the rapid and widespread growth of Christian Science from the life and writings of Mary Baker Eddy.

The similarity of the growth of various religions and religious movements does not put them on an equal spiritual plane. There is something unique about the growth of Christianity. It is not the fact that it spread from a small beginning, but in the nature of the beginning from which Christianity developed.

The beginning was in spiritual teaching, and in a message. If one believed the Gospel, its very nature impelled one to make it known. And witnessing has been the very foundation of its continued growth and strength.

But the secret of Christianity lies in power as well as other than cigarettes. Taxes on cigarettes will go up 3 cents a pack; liquor and wine, 20 per cent; motor vehicle sales, from 1.1 to 1.5 per cent.

Utility gross receipts will go up 20 per cent, and the corporation franchise tax will go up by 75 cents per $1,000 capital for one year, 50 cents per $1,000 thereafter after.

LADIES DAY — Senae debate on the tax bill was enlivened by the arrival of a "women's march on the Capitol."

Gallery was filled with flowery hats and excited chatter as some 40 to 100 women (estimates varied widely) swept in "to show those lobbyists what's what."

Leaders were Mrs. Jud Collier of Mumford and Mrs. Minnie Fisher Cunningham of New Waverly, both workers in the militantly liberal Democrats of Texas Clubs.

They were, according to Mrs. Collier, "infuriated by the scandalous lobby which has blocked action on the tax bill." Specifically, they favored a bill heavy on gas taxes and light on selective sales taxes.

ENDED ABRUPTLY — Tax bills have had a lot of attention during the current special session of the Texas Legislature. But there were more eyes on charming Miss Carol Ralphs when she stopped in for a capital building visit than ever looked at a tax bill.

This fetching miss from Farron, Utah, whose theme song is "Remember the A-L-A-Mode," is America's Miss Dairy Princess. She was accompanied by Mrs. Anne Reeve, whose husband Lew is publisher of the Ocala (Wis.) Sun. Mrs. Reeve is the chaperone for Carol's journeys about the country. Miss Dairy Princess was introduced in the House, addressed the Senate, and was the recipient of complimentary resolutions from both branches of the legislature. Then the lawmakers settled down to work again.

71 NEW PATROLMEN — A total of 46 new patrolmen now are manning Texas highways. These trainees have just graduated from the Law Enforcement Academy of the Texas Department of Public Safety. Also graduating were 20 drivers license patrolmen and five license and weight patrolmen.

Presenting diplomas to the group was Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the department. He announced that there still are 73 openings on the force. Eligible to fill these posts are young men 21 to 35 years of age — and they are badly needed.

CITY BUSES LOSE — Another cause, apparently lost for this year, is that of exempting city bus systems from the state gasoline tax.

Rural area senators, led by Sen. Wardlaw Lane of Center, voted it down.

City spokesmen say the buses, needed by low-income people, can't stay in the black unless they get tax relief. San Antonio's transit system went to the wall, was taken over by the city.

LOCAL BUSINESS

Public Appeal Is Vital to Services

By ROY V. FOX
Record Co-Publisher

Service enterprises which have no specific product to sell are finding that advertising is just as important to them as it is to the grocer or the druggist.

Companies such as banks and insurance agencies have learned that their success depends largely upon public attitudes toward their firms. Many of the service firms have found that the best place to create a favorable picture of their companies is through the same medium used by the local retailer — the community newspaper.

A bank sponsored survey in Pennsylvania indicated that the public knew relatively little about the services offered by the bank and even less about how to make use of the services.

Bank officials prescribed an extended advertising campaign in local newspapers to correct the situation. The result was a dramatic increase in business and a new feeling of personal friendliness toward the bank. One bank officer called the advertising program itself "Money in the bank."

Insurance companies, too, have found that local newspaper advertising can be profitable. Donald F. Barnes, head of advertising of the Institute of Life Insurance, has said that newspaper advertising is important in getting company and agent recognition down to a local level where policies are sold.

The insurance executive added that the newspaper is effective in implanting "in the public mind ideas that are now misunderstood" about insurance. He pointed out that the insurance agent is in competition for the same consumer business which retailers hope to gain.

The service agencies, like retail stores, ultimately do their business with individuals on the local level. It follows that they should find the basic retail medium — the local newspaper — effective for their purposes.

PHILOSOPHER SAYS

Laziness Defense Is Under Attack

Editor's note: The Shinnery Flats Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Bone Hollow Creek seems to be defending himself this week, which is a pretty good sized job.

Dear editor: A man stopped by my place out here yesterday, said he was in a big hurry, had to get back to work, but took long enough to say he didn't approve of my letter to you last week, said I was defending laziness.

"Trouble with the world now is it's got too many lazy people in it," he said, and hurried off to work.

Well, it may be that the trouble with the world today is it's got too many lazy people in it, but this is the first I knew the hydrogen bomb was built by lazy people. Or bacteriological warfare.

Now I'm not saying everybody ought to be lazy, every time I turn on an electric light bulb I'm thankful Thomas Edison wasn't lazy, although it'd suit me if the light company was a little lazier about reading the meter, but on the other hand some of the world's greatest mischief has been caused by busy people. How much further along would the world be today if Hitler had been a lazy man?

It all depends on what a man's busy at. I guess one of the busiest men I've ever read about was that burglar they arrested in California the other day who averaged breaking into a home six nights a week for two years in twenty states.

My position is — and understand I'm not defending it, I figure a man can take a position without defending it — is that if a man feels like keeping busy, he ought to, and if he feels like loafing, he ought to, if he can get by with it.

When Edison perfected the light bulb, I don't figure he objected to a man's switching it on and opening up a newspaper and sitting back and enjoying himself under it. You're not going to catch me getting so busy I don't have time to enjoy the results of some other man's work. It wouldn't be fair to him.

I guess I could find out the news of this part of the country by getting out and digging it up, but it's a whole lot better to sit back and let you and The Record dig it up for me. And I have a notion you prefer it this way, too.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Scouts in Water Sports

These two Boy Scouts demonstrate one of the many water sports available at Lake J. B. Thomas for scouts and explorers participating in camping periods at the lake's Camp Ed Murphy.

FOR SCOUTS, EXPLORERS

Lake Camp Period Will be Extended

Scouts of Buffalo Trail Council will have another opportunity for scout camping this summer at Camp Ed Murphy, the council camp on Lake J. B. Thomas.

The water camp will open for the last weeks of August, according to Morris Kirschbaum, local chairman for Boy Scout camping and activities. Kirschbaum said the camp will open Aug. 16 and continue through Aug. 28.

First week of the final camping periods will be Aug. 16-22, and will be an Explorer sportsman camp. It will close with a sports tournament, Aug. 22. Second week, beginning Aug. 23 and continuing to Aug. 29, will be a Boy Scout camp with all the activities and fun of scout camping, according to Kirschbaum. There will be campfire programs, archery, plenty of swimming, boating and canoeing. Opportunity also will be given for advancement in scout skills.

TECH SHORT COURSE

Local Engineer's Paper Published

Five important areas of oil lifting operations are covered in 48 papers published in the Sixth Annual West Texas Oil Lifting Short Course Proceedings currently being distributed at Texas Tech.

Published by the short course association and Texas Tech's petroleum engineering department, the 48 papers cover artificial lift, gas pumping, gas lift and others, multiple zone producing methods and equipment, corrosion, scale and paraffin control, lease automation, and well stimulation.

An article by Bennie L. Franks of Sun Oil Company here in Colorado City is included in the proceedings published at Texas Tech. Frank's paper is "A Graphical Study of Pumping Wells" and is one of the 48 appearing in the 250-page publication sponsored by the West Texas Oil Lifting Short Course Assn. and the Texas Tech petroleum engineering department.

Other specialized subjects cover cementing, water analysis, design of salt water gathering systems, and inspection of oil field tubular goods.

Representative of the papers is the comparison of detailed and standard field procedures for designing a continuous flow gas lift installation. Presented by Kermit E. Brown of the University of Texas and Carlos R. Canizales of Otis Engineering Corp., example problems are given to illustrate both methods of calculations. A lively panel discussion on selection of meters for Lease Automatic Custody Transfer systems is also featured in the proceedings. They discussed the advantages and disadvantages of positive displacement meters and dump type meters with respect to accuracy, reliability and cost in LACT systems.

A critical review of the methods employed in achieving selectivity in well stimulation operations is presented in a paper by Charles Simmons of the Western Co. He emphasizes the perforation Ball Seal process as the way to provide a much improved completion with less expenditure of time and money.

A technique for determining the most economic method by which a well can be lifted is detailed by Robert W. Drake Jr. of Atlantic Refining Co. in the proceedings. He emphasizes that significant savings can be made by a comprehensive lift study because of the present trend toward deeper pumping and longer reservoir life.

More than 460 oil men from throughout Texas and the nation registered for the annual oil lifting short course in April. Copies of the proceedings may be obtained for $7.50 from the Texas Tech petroleum engineering department.

Western Drama at Palace Theatre

Kirk Douglas, three times nominated for Academy Awards ("The Champion," "The Bad and the Beautiful" and "Lust for Life"), has come a long way since he made his film debut in the Hal Wallis production, "The Strange Love of Martha Ivers." Although he now has his own motion picture company, Bryna Productions, which recently made "The Vikings," Douglas still accepts top roles that he considers interesting enough to further his acting career.

Such a role is in the new production of film-maker Wallis, who discovered him, Paramount's "Last Train from Gun Hill," which stars him with Anthony Quinn and starts Sunday at the Palace Theatre. The Technicolor and VistaVision outdoor drama co-stars Carolyn Jones and Earl Holliman.

In this outstanding western drama, Douglas portrays a bitter man whose best friend's son assaults and murders his Indian wife, and who is determined to avenge the despicable crime.

Quinn is the strong man of the town of Gun Hill and he is determined that Douglas shall not take his son out of it to stand trial in the town of Pawley where the crime was committed. Earl Holliman is cast as the son. Carolyn Jones who scored in "Bachelor Party" plays Quinn's woman, who backs Douglas in the showdown.

House Guests Hosted In H. L. Leach Home

Mrs. Leach's sister, Mrs. W. W. Eaves returned to Plainview with her son and family after spending two weeks in the Leach home.

Listen!

Mrs. Elliott was at her mother's bedside for several weeks before her death.
