BAN ON RIFLES

House Drives For Action On Gun Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House was called into session an hour earlier than its usual noon starting time today in a drive for final action on gun control legislation.

Before the House was President Johnson's bill to ban the mail order sale of rifles and shotguns, plus over-the-counter sales to residents of nonadjacent states.

Debate on six bills effecting the District of Columbia Monday prevented scheduled work on the last of more than 100 amendments to the gun control bill.

Chief among the amendments is one that would provide for licensing of owners.

The House defeated two amendments last Friday that would have required registration of firearms, removing all hope for such legislation in this session.

Although President Johnson originally asked Congress, in the wake of the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, for the interstate mail order bans on rifles and shotguns, he later requested both registration and licensing, too.

Although it rejected registration, the House did toughen up the pending bill on one point. It adopted an amendment providing mandatory sentences for any person who carries a gun while committing a federal felony.

Politics At A Glance

By The Associated Press

The Democrats: Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey says whether he'd ask Sen. Edward M. Kennedy to be his running mate would depend greatly on Kennedy's "wishes and views." Harris Survey shows Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy maintaining a firm lead over GOP aspirant Richard M. Nixon, but Humphrey's lead slipping since last month.

The Republicans: New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller seeks delegate support in North Carolina for presidential nomination but reportedly sways none of the state's 26 votes. Nixon resumes campaign Thursday after rest in Laguna Beach, Calif.

The Presidential Deadlock Prospect: Sentiment gaining at National Governors Conference in Cincinnati for Republican-Democrat agreement not to deal with George Wallace if his independent presidential candidacy prevents majority in November for either party candidate.

'Like An Atom Bomb'

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — A gasoline storage tank exploded "like an atom bomb" today, hurled residents of nearby homes out of their beds, and shot flames 300 feet high over the Pensacola waterfront.

Seven hours after the first of three explosions, the 200,000-gallon tank still burned furiously, blanketing the area with oily smoke. The fire threatened other tanks loaded with gasoline and kerosene.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hicks were knocked out of their beds by the first blast, which blew gasoline and sparks through the windows, starting several small fires in the house. Both suffered burns as they beat out the fires before fleeing the home.

Barrancas Avenue running past the storage field was barricaded and residents of several homes were evacuated.

"It looked like an atom bomb explosion," said sheriff's deputy Edward Mayo.

"Every available Pensacola fireman" joined the Navy and Coast Guard in battling the blaze, said Sheriff's Sgt. Ed Brown.

Convention Breakthrough

CHICAGO (AP)—The chief spokesman of the striking International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers said Tuesday that the union will allow certain members to install all the necessary communications equipment required to hold the Democratic National Convention in Chicago.

Robert A. Nickey emerged from a meeting with top Chicago labor leaders and Mayor Richard A. Daley to announce the breakthrough in the deadlock between the union and Illinois Bell Telephone Co. which threatened to chase the convention from Chicago.

Nickey said that the members "will volunteer their services with no individual compensation for themselves to install all the necessary communications facilities needed in the International Amphitheatre."

"This in no way affects the general strike now in progress against Illinois Bell," Nickey said.

More Mail Woes

U.S. Plane Losses Dip In Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. aircraft losses over North Vietnam have dropped dramatically since President Johnson limited bombing raids to the country's narrow Southern Panhandle.

An Associated Press check of daily military communiques shows 30 U.S. planes listed as shot down over North Vietnam since the President's bombing restrictions went into effect March 31.

By contrast, the United States lost 133 planes during the same time period last year when raids were conducted against most of North Vietnam.

The sharp cut in losses is even more dramatic when it is noted that missions against the North have increased substantially since last year.

U.S. pilots are now flying at the rate of 130 missions per day over the North, compared with 103 per day in 1967 and 65 in 1966.

The following breakdown shows monthly mission totals for 1968 since the bombing curb began, with 1967 mission totals in parenthesis:

April 3,412 (2,925), May 3,593 (3,237), June 3,792 (3,607) and July (first three weeks) 2,723 (3,819).

In addition to the savings in manpower, the lower incidence in lost planes has resulted in a financial benefit.

Assuming the United States would have lost 100 more planes had countrywide raids continued as in 1967, the savings in aircraft alone amounts to at least $200 million.

Already Pentagon officials are scaling down fighter production from an originally planned 100 planes per month to 72 in accordance with the reduced losses.

Top defense officials maintain the bombing program is now more effective than it was even though enemy infiltration into South Vietnam has increased.

Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford told newsmen July 11 that concentration of the attacks on enemy supply lines below North Vietnam's 20th parallel probably has "produced more dividends and rewards than if the bombing were spread over a larger area."

Clifford said the enemy is expected to infiltrate 20,000 men southward in each of the summer months but "they will pay an increasingly higher cost for that as they go through the panhandle south of the 20th parallel."

Las Vegas JP's Net Too Much Money

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — At $5 a wedding, the two local justices of the peace make too much money, county commissioners said, then voted Monday to put them on a straight salary of $15,000 a year.

Officials said the two justices performed 13,932 marriages last year, collecting $69,660.

Beginning Jan. 1 the justices will give their fees to the county. They may keep their tips.

Ralph Blasts Postal Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Democratic senators have endorsed the Post Office Department's plea for an exemption from manpower cutbacks it says could lead to four-day residential deliveries and the shutdown of 12,000 branches.

"It is a fact of life that when the post office closes, the town dies," Chairman A. S. (Mike) Monroney of the Senate Post Office Committee said Monday.

'ASININE'

"Asinine," was what Ralph Yarborough of Texas labeled the cutbacks, mandated in the recently passed 10 per cent income surtax bill.

Monroney, Yarborough and Wyoming's Gale McGee endorsed the department's request for an exemption as presented to the committee Monday by Postmaster Gen. W. Marvin Watson.

Watson said the cutbacks, affecting all departments and agencies of the government, would be disastrous for the Post Office.

Although he gave no specific date, he said the cutbacks could lead to reducing residential deliveries to four days a week.

He indicated, however, that some already announced reductions in service may not be carried out if Congress shows some encouragement it may exempt the post office.

TAX BAIT

Reduction of the number of federal workers was demanded by Congress in return for passage of President Johnson's income tax surcharge.

Watson, calling for quick congressional action, noted one service cutback is scheduled to begin this weekend—elimination of most Saturday window service at first and second-class post offices.

He said elimination of Saturday mail delivery to homes is to be achieved by November. This would include parcel post deliveries, he said.

Refugees Skyjack Israeli Jetliner

Americans Are Among Passengers

ALGIERS (AP) — Armed Palestine refugees hijacked an Israeli El Al jetliner bound from Rome to Tel Aviv with 48 persons aboard early today and forced it to land in Algiers. Unconfirmed reports said from two to five men were involved.

The Algerian government, which considers itself at war with Israel, announced the 38 passengers were free to leave the country, but the Israeli crew members and the plan, a Boeing 707, were being held.

Two Americans were listed among the passengers.

An Arab guerrilla organization, the Front for the Liberation of Palestine, said one of its units did the hijacking.

Though informed sources reported two or more men were involved, a communique spoke of only one, saying a Palestinian commando had directed the plane to Algiers.

HELP PLEA

Israel asked U.N. Secretary-General U Thant to help obtain release of the plane and all aboard it.

In New York, Thant transmitted the request to Algerian Ambassador Tewfik Bouattoura. Bouattoura promised to contact his government immediately.

The Boeing 707 jet of El Al, Israel's national airline, was hijacked over the Mediterranean an hour after it left Rome on a flight to Tel Aviv. Aboard were a crew of 10 Israelis and 38 passengers including an American woman, Mrs. Rena Tsuriel, 27, of Brooklyn.

The Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine, one of several Arab guerrilla groups which sends commando squads on sabotage missions in Israel, claimed in a communique issued in Beirut that one of its units took control of the plane and forced the pilot to land in Algiers.

ARMED

An El Al spokesman said the pilot radioed from over the Mediterranean that an armed passenger was forcing him to change course. But a source in Algiers said two armed Palestinians broke into the captain's compartment and took over the plane.

The commando group said it was asking the Algerian government to hold the plane also.

The Israeli Embassy in Rome said there were eight Israelis among the passengers. All the 10 crew members were Israelis also.

The commando group's communique said non-Israeli passengers would be allowed to leave Algeria.

Algerian officials would say nothing about the plane for more than 10 hours after it landed at Maison Blanche, the Algiers airport. Then the Algerian government confirmed that the plane was at the airport under guard and that the passengers also were being kept at the airport.

Favor Ousting Of Unit Rule

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Students for McCarthy is circulating a petition which favors abolishment of the unit rule at the Democratic national convention.

Steve Gutow, coordinator for the supporters of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy for president, said Monday the goal is to get 5,000 signatures on the petition.

Gutow said the petition calls for an open convention in which "every delegate is free to vote according to the will of the people he represents."

Under the present unit rule, the majority decides how all the delegation's votes will be cast.

Texas' delegation is pledged to favorite son Gov. John Connally, who at some time after the first ballot is expected to release Texas' 104 votes to Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, although some Texas delegates lean toward McCarthy.

If the unit rule is not abolished, McCarthy delegates will have to vote for Humphrey.

The petition says "nearly 80 per cent of those voting in primaries this year" rejected the policies of President Johnson and Vice President Humphrey and interprets this as a sign that the nation wants someone like McCarthy to solve "the problems of poverty, injustice, discrimination and decay of our cities."

Resuscitation Revives Brother After Shock

John Cobb, an 18-year-old construction worker, suffered an electrical shock Monday while working with an electric drill and was rushed to a local hospital by Alert Ambulance.

According to his physician, Cobb is in good condition and will be released from the hospital today. However, when the accident occurred near the main gate of Webb AFB, the shock caused him to stop breathing. His brother, Russ Cobb, construction superintendent, turned off the power and then applied mouth to mouth resuscitation until John Cobb began breathing again.

Russ Cobb said the drill apparently had an electrical short in it.

Soviet Union Yields To Czech's Leaders

PRAGUE (AP) — The Soviet Union conceded to Czechoslovakia's leaders on the site for a meeting to discuss the former satellite's new liberal course and pulled the last of its troops out of Czechoslovakia Monday. But there were ominous reports that Moscow is demanding a strengthening of Czechoslovakia's frontier with West Germany—presumably by a Red Army force.

The Kremlin backed down from its demand for top-level talks on Soviet soil and agreed to send its Communist party politburo to Czechoslovakia for a conference with the Czechoslovak party presidium.

The date and place of the meeting were not announced, but there was speculation it might begin Wednesday or Thursday in Bratislava or Josice.

Agreement on the talks was reached after the last of some 18,500 Russian troops were reported to have withdrawn through the Soviet-Slovak border town of Presov. The Soviet forces had remained in Czechoslovakia after Warsaw Pact maneuvers ended three weeks ago, raising a scare that Moscow might try to reverse the country's liberalization drive by armed force.

ROCKETS

Despite the withdrawal, reliable sources in Warsaw said Soviet army combat equipment, including rocket launchers, has been sighted a few miles from Poland's southern border with Czechoslovakia. The sources estimated the equipment was backed up by several thousand men.

Informed sources in Prague said Soviet leaders had sent a new note to the Czechoslogak government contending that the Czechoslovak army is incapable of defending the country's western frontier with Germany and demanding a "solution to this situation."

West German Foreign Minister Willy Brandt told his Cabinet in May that Soviet Bloc nations were pressing for 10,000 to 12,000 non-Czechoslovak Communist troops to be stationed permanently in Czechoslovakia.

Concident with this report, West Germany, the United States and France were reported to have changed plans to hold maneuvers in September three miles from West Germany's border with Czechoslovakia. West German officials predicted the exercises would be held well away from the border or at a later date so as not to give the Soviets any pretext for intervention in Czechoslovakia.

Pravda, the Soviet Communist party newspaper, said today that the Western allies' change of plans changed nothing. It said the maneuvers merely were being shifted either to another time or another place.

"The political meaning of this manifestation of the generals and frantic-revanchist quarters of Bonn, is a threat of force, a demand for more demonstrative actions and pressure in connection with the situation in Czechoslovakia," Pravda continued. "It exposed the real schemes which are being hatched on the Rhine."

U.S. PROTEST

A Soviet attempt to accuse the United States and its allies of meddling in Czechoslovakia brought a protest Monday in Washington. Secretary of State Dean Rusk summoned Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin and told him "that these allegations are not so and asked for an explanation from the Soviet government," a spokesman said.

Rusk was referring to reports in Moscow papers of the discovery of U.S. arms caches, meant for anti-Communists, in Czechoslovakia. Many Czechoslovaks think the caches, which have been of small size, were planted by ast Germans or by some of the Soviet troops while they were in the country.

CRAFT HIT BY GROUND FIRE

Air Force General Lost

SAIGON (AP) — Maj. Gen. Robert F. Worley, deputy commander of the U.S. 7th Air Force, was killed today when his RF4C photo reconnassance plane was shot down by enemy ground fire 65 miles northwest of Da Nang.

The 48-year-old Worley, who played a prominent role in directing the bombing in North and South Vietnam, was the third general killed in action in the war.

'SPY' PILOT

A U.S. 7th Air Force spokesman in Saigon said in a statement:

"He was piloting a photo reconnassance mission when the aircraft was hit by ground fire. The second pilot in the aircraft ejected safely and has been rescued.

"Gen. Worley became 7th Air Force vice commander in July, 1967, and was scheduled to become deputy chief of staff for operations, headquarters Pacific Air Forces Honolulu on Sept. 1."

The spokesman said that Worley was a command pilot qualified to fly the RF4C, a Phantom fighter-bomber changed for photo reconnaissance.

"He had previously flown similar aircraft on combat missions," the spokesman said. "It is not unusual for a general to participate in the flying activity of his command."

The spokesman said that Maj. Gen. Royal N. Baker, assistant chief of staff for plans for the U.S. military command in Saigon, will become deputy commander of the 7th Air Force effective immediately. Baker previously had been named to replace Worley about Aug. 9, when Worley was due to leave Vietnam.

Worley is survived by his widow, the former Bette Lorraine Fury, and five children. He listed his home town as Palm Desert, Calif.

Worley's death came as heavy ground fighting erupted in the northern provinces after a coordinate series of heavy shellings of key American and South Vietnamese military installations.

Troops of the U.S. American Division were in heavy contact with enemy forces 20 miles south of Da Nang, the headquarters for military operations in the five northern provinces. A U.S. spokesman said 69 of the enemy had been killed by late Tuesday afternoon in the fighting around Tam Ky, a provincial capital 20 miles south of Da Nang.

SHELLING

He said fighting was continuing and "enemy casualties are expected to rise."

There was no report of U.S. casualties.

Earlier, the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese hit allied posts in the northern provinces with their heaviest shelling in recent weeks. American casualties were reported light, and damage to aircraft and other facilities negligible to light. Initial reports said four South Vietnamese civilians and two soldiers were killed, and 17 government soldiers were wounded.

Five Shots From Big Game Rifle Kills DA In Texas

CLARENDON, Tex. (AP) — Five shots from a big game rifle killed Dist. Atty. John R. Gillham outside his county courthouse office Monday and authorities lodged a murder charge against a building contractor.

About 10 persons witnessed the early afternoon shooting on the square in the center of this normally quiet Texas Panhandle town of about 2,200 people.

DIVORCE SUIT

The complaint charging murder with malice named Clyde Gilbreath, 60, who was ordered held without bond. Police chief Gary Gerdes said Gillham, in his latter 50s, had been representing the wife of Gilbreath in a divorce suit.

Among the spectators was a 17-year-old son of Gilbreath, who seized his father and held him until Sheriff Bill Cornell arrived.

Lawyer William J. Lowe saw Gilbreath step to his truck and remove a 30-30 rifle moments earlier, he informed authorities, adding, "There wasn't any way you could get the gun away from him."

'DON'T DO THIS'

Basil W. Smith, manager of an auto supply store, told officers the shooting occurred as he started across a street toward where Gillham and Gilbreath were standing.

"Mr. Gillham was shouting, 'No, Clyde—don't do this!'" Smith said. "As soon as the boy grabbed his dad, it knocked the rifle a little away from him and I picked it up."

Gerdes reported the district attorney was shot twice in front, twice in the back and a fifth time as he fell to the sidewalk.

"I started over there when I saw what was happening," Jim Farnway, a mechanic, told investigators. "When I got there Basil had picked up the gun. It was about the worst thing I ever saw."

A LOVELIER YOU

Take Big Carryall On Trip To Beach

By MARY SUE MILLER

Accessories take on maximum importance in the beach scene. And it's not surprising when you think how bathing suits get mini-er and mini-er. What can a girl do to dress up a barely existent suit? For sure she can't dress it down!

Deessing begins at the head with wildly pretty hats of straw or stitched cotton, as large as parasols. For swimming, beach wigs take to the water and look great. Your own hair also looks great after the plunge, if your wig is based on a rubber cap.

Beach cover-ups have become a real fashion, both imaginative and gay. Among the unexpected are short flower-breasted coat dresses in soft woven cotton geometric prints.

Cutting capers are mini-jumpsuits with Mao collars in neon terry and enveloping paisley ponchos with deep fringes. In brilliant solids and prints, long cover-ups are hooded and wrapped. The works!

Carryalls for the beach, the biggest ever, are favored in vinyl, canvas or lined straw. Outside pockets and sturdy straps equip them for a long day's safari and the gear you wish to tote. Like?: beach jewelry—a bib of plastic leaves or a cork necklace; new sunglasses with a head scarf attached; your sun lotion, grooming aids and cosmetics. But of course!

And don't forget to tuck in your bathing suit. It's the "why" for the accessories.

BOSOMLINE

For a more attractive bosom, write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, requesting her pamphlet, "Enhanced Bosomline." Include 15 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope. Pamphlet contains detailed instructions on how curve and lift can be improved through exercise, posture and corsetry.

Their future, yours and ours

Their future holds great promise. It is also threatened by problems . . . problems which challenge all of us and must be solved if today's children are to have the opportunity to grow up in a world where they can realize their hopes and ambitions.

The problems are of concern to us all. And we at Texas Electric Service Company recognize that we have responsibilities beyond our day-to-day obligation of providing good electric service.

We recognize that we – as a company and as individuals – must be part of the community effort to provide an atmosphere in which each man can work with dignity and decently house and educate his children. This must be an atmosphere which also encourages law and order, a high standard of morality and good will among all races and creeds.

The people of our company through the years have enjoyed the satisfaction of work with youth organizations, in various educational efforts, in their churches and in assisting with programs and projects in civic organizations and community development groups.

As a company, we want to be part of the community effort to solve local and area problems as they arise, or are anticipated, and to help develop the local economy. We expect to carry out our company's citizenship responsibility to help build for the future of this area . . . and its young people.

This is our home, too.

Postal Services To Feel Pinch Of Economy Wave

Big Spring post office patrons will feel the first sting of the economy move the postal department is imposing this Saturday when several regular services will be dropped.

Frank Hardesty, postmaster, said he has been instructed to close all windows in the office but one for general delivery on Saturday morning. That window will be open for two hours only. No stamps will be sold, no money orders issued and no parcels accepted for shipment.

This is one of a series of steps that the postmaster general has said will have to be adopted by his department if the financial crisis now before the department is not alleviated.

The crisis developed when Congress, in approving the 10 per cent surtax bill, demanded that governmental employe totals be rolled back to the 1966 level.

This would mean that the postal department must eliminate 83,000 employes over the next four years.

Hardesty said that the Webb AFB substation will be closed on Saturday mornings.

However, he said the substations located in seven parts of town will be open as usual. Patrons can buy stamps, money orders and dispatch parcels at these stations on Saturdays.

The postmaster general also announced that effective Aug. 2, 250 fourth class post offices in the nation will be closed down and another 97 cut out by Aug. 30.

Hardesty said that he has been informed the closing down of fourth class offices will affect "very few installations" in Texas. He does not anticipate any closings in this county at this time.

There are three fourth class offices in Howard County. They are at Knott, Otischalk and Luther.

Also under consideration is a plan to abolish city route deliveries on Saturday effective in November. Already orders have been posted not to extend mail delivery to new developments in cities. This is tied to the plan to close a considerable number of third class post offices (Forsan is the only third class office in this county) by November, and ultimately to shut down all 12,000 second and third class offices in this nation.

Six Shot To Death

PETOSKEY, Mich. (AP) — The badly decomposed bodies of a suburban Detroit couple and their four children were found Monday in an isolated cabin in northwest Lower Michigan.

Emmet County Sheriff's Department said all six had been shot to death.

They were tentatively identified by State Police as Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Robison of Lathrup Village, an 8-year-old daughter, and three sons, ages 19, 17 and 12.

State Police said the bodies were discovered by a caretaker late Monday, northwest of Harbor Springs. They said first estimate was that the deaths occurred about a month ago.

According to state police, the Robisons had been vacationing and were expected to travel to Florida, therefore relatives apparently were not alarmed about them.

Commission Has Varied Matters On Its Agenda

City fathers will be considering a variety of topics at the regular City Commission meeting at 7 p.m. today at city hall.

A speed-up of zoning procedures has been recommended to lighten the commission agenda and "relieve frustrations of the zone change applicant," Larry Crow, city manager, said.

The suggested speed-up calls for the Planning and Zoning Commission to give notice of a City Commission hearing upon their approval of a zoning request, thereby shortening the time between the Planning and Zoning Commission meeting and the City Commission hearings by two weeks.

An unopposed request approved by the Planning and Zoning Commission would also be prepared for emergency reading as a zone change ordinance to be considered at the next city commission meeting. This would shorten procedures by four weeks.

Comparative golf course revenues and patronage since the May fee increase will be studied to determine the effect of the increase. The total increase during the first three months was $1,060.

The total number of players actually increased by 261 from May to June and Roy Anderson, assistant city manager, said inclement weather has been a factor in patronage although the course has been well occupied on fair days.

A permit allowing Tommy Lee and Margaret Hutchison to sell beer and wine for on-premises consumption at the Green Parrot, 410 N. Bell, will also be considered.

Commissioners will also study a request from the Planned Parenthood Organization for funds to help set up a family planning center for the coming year in Big Spring.

Puzzle of Monday, July 22, Solved

Rain Dots West Texas

By The Associated Press

Occasional showers dotted parts of East Texas and at least one small area in West Texas today, but brow-mopping July heat gripped most of the state.

Skies were generally clear over much of the state.

Thundershower activity was scattered through the area east of Galveston, Lufkin and Longview in East Texas and a few showers also fell east of the El Paso vicinity in far West Texas.

It was a continuation of weather stemming from a protracted inflow of moist, unstable air from the Gulf of Mexico.

Forecasters looked for the usual daytime heating to trigger additional showers in all sections except North Central and Northwest Texas.

The mercury climbed to 104 degrees Monday afternoon at Presidio, the hot spot of the West Texas Big Bend country. Wichita Falls recorded a high of 102 and Cotulla, Del Rio and San Angelo all 100.

Break In Monotony

DALLAS (AP) — Tracing stolen automobiles usually is pretty ho-hum business for the police auto theft bureau. But not during a recent week.

The bureau in one week had to hunt a stolen airplane and a stolen ambulance.

The ambulance disappeared from a funeral home parking lot. The key was left in the vehicle for speed in starting emergency runs.

The $12,500 stolen airplane was flown out of Love Field, the main Dallas airport, apparently at night.

Akron Troops Still On Duty

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—National Guard troops remained on duty in Negro sections of Akron today for the sixth straight day, and there was no indication when they will be removed.

Some minor disturbances were reported Monday before a 9 p.m. curfew went into effect, but authorities described the situation as "pretty peaceful."

Disturbances were caused by Negro youths throwing rocks and glass in two areas and harassing a store owner on Wooster Avenue, where the first disturbances last Wednesday night were reported.

In imposing the curfew again Monday night, Mayor John S. Ballard called it the "most useful means to restore calm in Akron."

Ohio Adj. Gen. Sylvester T. Corso, who is directing National Guard operations in Akron, said he could begin deactivating guard units within a couple of days if calm was restored.

Play Day For Riding Club

COAHOMA — The Coahoma Riding Club is having its July Play Day at 7:30 p.m. today in the club roping arena east of Coahoma. This is a make-up for the July 13 event which was rained out. The August Play Day is set for Aug. 17, and the final monthly event will be on Labor Day when winners will be announced.

Boys and girls are competing by age divisions (9 and under; 10-12, also 13-15, and 16-19) in such events as flag race, pole bending, barrel racing, etc. Four points are awarded for first place each month, three for second place, two for third and one for fourth. The boy and the girl in each division with the most points through Labor Day will qualify for belt buckles to be given away. Ribbons are awarded in the monthly competition.

Telephone Talker Loses Law Suit

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Claiming a neighbor didn't relinquish the party line when he tried to make an emergency phone call, a suburban Granada Hills man and wife have been awarded $1,500 in a Superior Court suit.

Robert F. Steffan and his wife said they attempted to call the fire department on Aug. 6, 1965, but that someone in the household of John G. Crawford, a mail carrier, didn't get off the line.

The Steffans filed a $37,200 suit but agreed Monday to a settlement. Steffan said the fire caused extensive damage to his garage.

Gunfire Fatality

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Gunfire from a passing car killed Oscar Reyna, 23, and wounded Roland Caldera, 18, as they stood outside Caldera's home Monday night. Caldera said the car carried three or four youths. He told police he could give no reason for the shooting.

Certification Of Acreage Due Aug. 1

Howard County farmers were reminded today by Gabe Hammack Jr., Agricultural Stabilization Conservation Service office manager, that Aug. 1 is the final date to certify acreage for the 1968 cotton and feed grain program.

Farmers in Borden, Mitchell and Sterling counties also must certify acreage by Aug. 1, he said.

Hammack said farmers must come by the ASCS office at 110 Gregg to certify acreage.

"A phone call or letter is not enough," he said. "Farmers must appear in person to sign the proper papers."

About 760 farmers, or all the cotton farmers in the county, did sign up for the program in February and March, Hammack said. But about one-half of them have not certified their acreage.

Howard County farmers who do certify will be receiving about $2 million in payments, based on full participation in the program, he said. The payments will be for a projected yield of 364 pounds of cotton per acre in the county.

Farmers in Martin, Glasscock and Dawson counties have until Aug. 15 to certify acreage.

Promoted To Judge

RIO GRANDE CITY (AP) — County commissioners promoted Frank R. Nye, 44, to succeed M. J. Rodriguez as Starr County judge Monday. Rodriguez died July 13. Nye had been county attorney since 1953.

Dear Abby

A Fat Romance

DEAR ABBY: I am a woman of 39 years and I weigh 237 pounds. I have weighed this much since I was a teenager and because of it I have never had a date. And I mean not one single date! My doctor just told me that I had to lose 100 pounds as my health is in danger.

My problem is this. I recently met a man and we were attracted to each other immediately He weighs 302 pounds. He says he loves me and he doesn't think I need to lose any weight. So what do you advise? MAYEBELLE

DEAR MAYEBELLE: I advise you to get this man to a doctor, and together you two should go on a diet. "Getting" a man won't help you much if you can't live to enjoy him — and he can't live to enjoy you. All vanity aside, fat smothers good health.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: This may seem like a petty thing to complain about, but it is really getting me down:

My mother-in-law has the cute little habit of saying, "My son's house, and my son's children, and my son's this and my son's that." Everything is Billy's. Nothing is ever mine.

Yesterday I heard her tell a friend about "Billy's wedding," so I politely corrected her and said, "I beg your pardon, Mother, dear, but MY father paid for the wedding," then she laughed and said, "Yes, but Billy has been paying ever since."

Abby, I am so tired of hearing references to Billy alone as thought he had no wife I am ready to explode. What can I do? MARIE

DEAR MARIE: Keep telling yourself that nothing your mother-in-law says will get you down. And repeat it often, or the ulcer you develop will be all yours — not Billy's.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am getting married soon, for the second time, and my fiance insists I wear a white wedding gown and veil, just like a real bride. I have tried to tell him I can't do that, but he says I can if I want to, and nobody can stop me.

The first time I wore a skirt and sweater and was married by somebody at the county court house. The whole thing took five minutes and I didn't feel like a bride at all. I was divorced a year later.

Is my fiance right, Abby? Has anyone in my circumstances ever had a white wedding?

I would really love it, but I haven't the nerve. Should I?

DEAR BRIDE: If you want to "go by the book," white weddings are reserved for the first time. However, your fiance is right — nobody can stop you. You may come in for a lot of criticism, but if you would really "love" it and your fiance is all for it, suit yourselves.

'Youth' Of College Students Is Myth

AUSTIN (AP) — The "youthfulness" of the modern college student is "really a myth," says the Texas State College Coordinating Board.

"Those politicians who have been stumping the nation's college campuses are seeking more than enthusiastic audiences—they're soliciting votes," the board's monthly newsletter says.

Although 51.5 per cent of the students in Texas' state colleges and universities are freshmen and sophomores, the average age of males in all but one school—Tarleton State College—was above 21 in the fall 1967 semester.

The average of female students was above 21 in all but three schools—Tarleton, Southwest Texas State College and Stephen F. Austin State College.

More Employment Opportunities

Poverty and hardships of making a living are not confined to the big cities, even though the publicity spotlight is trained there.

These problems are at home, too, as pointed up in an exhaustive study of poverty right here in Big Spring, made by Herald reporter Sam Blackburn, whose series is being concluded today.

The Blackburn account tells what everybody knew: That there are families in Big Spring and Howard County subsisting at a sub-standard level. We have a tendency, however, to gloss over such conditions.

There is much being done to help these people, as the Blackburn study shows. The distribution of food through the federal program provides the basis of a balanced diet, and while this means probably that there is actually no hunger, this program is after all, just basic.

What can be done? In our view, essentially, the challenge is for all interests of the community to bind together to see about creating more employment. This is not easy, but it is not impossible.

A summer "Job Fair" program in Dallas this year has provided about 4,000 jobs, principally for young people and most of them Negroes. Some 250 Dallas firms participated in this program. They have not provided "make-work" jobs, but have tried intelligently to put the young people into productive skills, and many of these young people are responding.

Big Spring could do the same, at its own level of potentially. Whether the underprivileged family is white, Negro or of Latin extraction — many of them could be persuaded to come into employment were the opportunity provided.

A decent, thriving community ought to make this sort of a program as one of its prime objectives.

There will always be an element which must have charitable help, but the size of this element ought to be kept to a minimum.

Another Congress Crime Study

The House of Representatives by overwhelming roll-call vote has sent to the U.S. Senate a resolution for a special joint bipartisan congressional committee to investigate crime, its causes and cures.

On first thought, this would seem to be duplication of earlier exhaustive efforts. Congress already has in hand detailed reports, supported by broadly based expert research, from the President's Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Justice and National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders.

Also the proposal seems hasty and possibly no more than a "get in the act" political gesture. The resolution calls for specific recommendations by January, and the rising crime rate—made graver by the spread and depth of the trend to violence — is a hot political issue in this national election year.

Such a congressional study undoubtedly would only cover already well-trampled ground. But it could give Congress an opportunity and the means for advanced and independent analysis of available information that should be helpful to expedite anti-crime legislative action next session.

There is little, if any, doubt that the new 91st Congress will face crime-control as a major issue. The current Congress will leave unsettled many decisions on the national crime problem handed to it by President Johnson.

The next president can be expected to submit more crime-control and violence-curbing proposals to Congress, and the lawmakers should be prepared as well as possible to cope with them intelligently. Even a few months' study by a special joint bipartisan committee should assist that effort.

The Great Circus Press Agent

The other day when the circus train rumbled through town it brought back memories of one of the greatest press agents the show world has ever produced. I won't even except Phineas T. Barnum.

My pals were his superiors in dealing with the public and making friends. From what I have read P. T. wasn't too good at making friends.

Forty years or so ago, the main press agent for the Ringling Bros. was a handsome old gentleman named Dexter Fellows.

NO ONE knew how long Dex had been press agent with the circus. I doubt if he even remembered. On second thought, he did remember — Dexter never forgot anyone or anything connected with his job.

He was an old man when I first met him, of medium height, a little stout, always dressed as though he was on his way to a royal tea party and invariably carrying a neatly folded umbrella hooked over his arm. This umbrella was his trademark and the first thing he would do when he came into the office was hang the umbrella by its crook on the edge of a desk.

I WAS the editor of a struggling little morning paper the first time I ran into Fellows. He came into my dingy little office, greeted me as though I was the president of the United States.

In five minutes he had me eating out of his hand. If he had asked I would have splashed his entire circus publicity handout, complete with pictures, all over the front page.

Fellows had that gift. He had another gift which was equally effective.

The circus made its rounds about every three years. That meant that from the first time I met Dex until the next time he walked in was three years. Three years in which he had travelled the width and breadth of this continent and had been, perhaps, to Europe and Asia. He had met countless thousands of persons including nearly every newspaperman there was to meet in the country.

YET WHEN he walked back in my office, he remembered not only my name but even some trivial topic which we talked about on that day 36 months before. If he had met others on the staff he asked about them by name and if he had met someone formerly with the paper, but now in distant parts he remembered, the occasion and relayed to me what had been said.

On one occasion, the circus was in town. I was too shorthanded to attend although Dex had provided me with passes. At the afternoon performance a tiger had run amok and had mauled his trainer so badly that the man died a day later.

I CAME BACK from my supper to go back to work. As I climbed the stairs to the office I heard a typewriter. Not too fast, but steadily, it was clicking way. As I entered the doorway I saw an umbrella hanging on the corner of my desk.

At the typewriter was Dex busily writing me a detailed story of the tragedy which had struck at the afternoon performance.

"Fraid you'd miss it," said Dex.

He was a lot more fun than the circus. — SAM BLACKBURN

Good Reasons To Speak Softly

By DOUG BAILEY
(Substituting for John Cunniff)

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — The United Steelworkers used to be known as a tough-talking, strike-happy union.

In the 13 years between 1946 and 1959, the steelworkers walked out of the mills six times, for periods ranging from 12 hours to four months.

Now it has been almost 10 years since there was a general strike in the steel industry. The union's new president, I. W. Abel, is doing all he can to keep the boiling point of the current contract negotiations low.

THE SECRECY surrounding the bargaining is the most strict in memory. Even high union officials below the rank of the top five-man committee complain they don't know what's being proposed for the crucial wage-benefits package.

Abel has talked to reporters only three times since industry-wide bargaining began June 3. In the past union and management held news conferences and described each other's positions in less than complimentary terms.

This time Abel has used the most cautious language when he has been in public. Leading questions that give him a chance to knock the industry are sidetracked. A reporter who heard Abel tell a closed meeting, "If strike we must, strike we will"—the closest thing to militancy so far—was later upbraided by the union for publishing it.

ALTHOUGH there is no doubt that Abel will lead his 450,000 men out of the mills if he doesn't get what he wants by Aug. 1, there is also no doubt that he doesn't want to.

It was Abel who backed a proposal for arbitration to avoid the boom-bust pattern of steel production that jars the industry in every contract year. The idea was killed by the rank and file.

At the only meeting of the 600 local union presidents in basic steel, Abel took a great deal of time to explain the problems of imported steel. He pointed out that last year's imports, 11.5 million tons, were greater than the combined output of two of the nation's laggest companies, Republic and Armco.

Translated another way, industry and union spokesmen say last year's foreign steel meant 58,000 fewer jobs for American steeelworkers.

FOREIGN steelmakers now have an annual excess capacity of 55 million tons—more than half the needs of the American economy. A strike will mean that imported steel will grab new footholds with long-term contracts and cost thousands of jobs. . . and union members.

In addition, when the contract expires next week, American steel consumers will have 36 million tons of steel in their stockpiles, almost four months' supply in normal times.

And a steel strike does not shut down domestic production. The union itself acknowledges that companies with 20 per cent of the nation's steel producing capacity would continue to operate because of separate contracts. A recent study by a Cleveland economist said that, in the four longest steel strikes, the industry continued to cast at 40 per cent of the normal rate.

Those are good reasons to speak softly.

It Puckers Your Mouth

Art Buchwald has disappeared for a few weeks. He left some pieces behind, which he wrote when he was hanging around the wine cellars of Europe.)

(Copyright, 1968, The Washington Post Co.)

BORDEAUX, France — As a guest of Alexis Lichine, proprietor of the Chateau Prieure-Lichine and Lascombes, I spent a few days in watching one of the great vintages being brought in.

M. Lichine promised to take me on a tour of the Medoc, and we started, quite naturally, with his own Chateau Lascombes. He told me that in the course of the tour I would be asked to taste some wines, and he didn't want me to disgrace him.

I PRACTICED by tasting some wines from one of his vats. It tasted good, and I swallowed it.

"No, no, no," he said. "Don't swallow it. Swish it around in your mouth."

"Clockwise or counterclockwise?"

"Clockwise. Counterclockwise is for burgundy. And then spit it on the floor."

I practiced a few times until I got it right.

"Now say something," he said.

"It sure puckers the inside of my mouth."

"NO, THAT'S NOT what you're supposed to say," M. Linchine cried. "You're supposed to say something beautiful like, 'How full and generous. It will fulfill its promise.' "

"Okay, but it still puckers the inside of my mouth."

Our first stop was Chateau Margaux, one of the four greatest wine chateaux in France. We visited the chai, the long shed where the grapes are put in vats and barrels. The master of the chai asked me if I wanted to taste some. I nodded, and he gave me a glass.

I SWISHED IT around and spat it out. Lichine looked pleased at his pupil. "It has a texture all its own," I said. "It tastes like cotton."

Lichine kicked me in the leg. "What he means,' he said to the master, "is that it tastes like velvet."

After we were shown around the chateau (I discovered that no one in Bordeaux presses wine in their bare feet any more), M. Lichine took me to the Chateau Latour, another of the four greatest vineyards in France.

I tasted the Latour wine and said, "A great wine. It has such a rich, soft flavor."

Lichine smiled.

"COULD I HAVE some water?" I asked the owner, Count Hubert de Beaumont.

Lichine's face dropped.

"Water?" The count looked puzzled. "Do you want to wash your hands?"

Before I could say I wanted to drink the water, Lichine dragged me away.

"Never, never, never ask for water in Bordeaux," he admonished me.

"But I tell you my mouth is all puckered up. My cheeks are stuck to my teeth."

LICHINE WOULD have none of it. The last chateau we visited belonged to Philippe de Rothschild, owner of the Mouton-Rothschild Vineyards. M. Rothschild, a gracious host, showed us throught his caves and invited us to have a glass of champagne with him in his house, one of the most beautiful in France.

We went upstairs, and a servant served us each a bubbling glass. Lichine toasted his host, and we each sipped some. Then as Lichine looked on in horror I swished it around in my mouth.

He screamed, "No!"

But it was too late. I had already spit it on the floor.

Nixon Keeps His Guard Up

NEW YORK — The word gloat — "to gaze at or think about something with great self-satisfaction, gratification or joy," Webster —is ruled out of Richard Nixon's vocabulary. Yet he is so close to having the Republican nomination for President locked up that it takes iron discipline to be the modest front runner.

NO ANIMUS toward Nelson Rockefeller, simply a tolerant understanding for a futile last - minute effort bound to fail. No animus even toward George Wallace, although there is a recognition of the seriousness of the Wallace threat. This is a men who like a surf rider on the crest of the wave is trying to hold steady and silent in the belief that the gathering momentum will carry him through.

BUT, FOR ALL the roster of 640 or more delegates firm or leaning to Nixon, this is a time to keep the guard up against the temperamental slips that have at times in the past plagued the candidate. Reports come in of slippage, Rockefeller claiming 43 drifting away. The Rockefeller camp produces poll after poll showing their man ahead in trial heats against Vice-President Hubert Humphrey and Sen. Eugene McCarthy, with Nixon either trailing or tied. With Negroes, big-city voters and in other special categories the Rockefeller strategists are out to prove that the front runner may carry off the nomination but lose in November.

NIXON HAS BEEN telling editors across the country that Wallace in November will carry four states — Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and probably Georgia. He gives himself Florida, South Carolina (assuming the support of Sen. Strom Thurmond), Tennessee, North Carolina, Virginia, Kentucky and possibly Texas. His analysis is all on the assumption that his Democratic opponent will be Hubert Humphrey. And he predicts that unless Humphrey picks Gov. John Connally of Texas as his Vice-President he will not carry a single state in the South.

HIS SENSITIVITY about the polls comes out in both public and private meetings. I'm now ahead of the polls, he says; people decide and not the poll takers. He believes Wallace's 19 per cent is greatly inflated and will melt away when the voters confront a choice between two men, each of whom has a real chance to be President.

One pollsmanship claim he makes is that, contrary to popular impression, he runs better with independents than does Rockefeller. The Gallup organization confirms that he does do slightly better nationally. But the reason is that in the South so-called independents go heavily for Nixon. They are largely Democrats who voted for Goldwater in 1964 and now choose the independent over the Democratic label. With the South left out Rockefeller does much better than Nixon among voters in the independent category.

THIS SEEMS clearly to pose his essential problem if after his nomination he is to go on to win in November. That is the vote in the big cities. How is he to deny to Wallace in the South the former Goldwater voters and at the same time appeal to the great urban centers where elections are won or lost?

There is a profound contradiction here and he has thus far given no sign that he knows how to resolve it. The only hint comes in his hope that the impassioned McCarthyites will go for a fourth party and cut up Humphrey. Nixon, the shrewd calculator, knows that could spell his second triumph.

Cites Sudsy Epics Value

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:

Eight out of 10 wives under 40 no longer are able to mend holes in their husband's sox. They simply don't know the art.

Few things make a middle-aged man more aware of the breadth of the generation gap than the realization that probably four out of five of today's youngsters have never ridden in a buggy or seen a blacksmith at work.

SHOW ME a business executive who boasts he regularly puts in a 15- to 16-hour work day and I'll show you a fellow who won't stand up too well in a lie detector test.

One of the nice things about history is that some people seem to have been born at exactly the right time for their genius to flower. Charles Dickens, for example, was quite at home in the leisurely 19th century. If he were alive today, however, he might have to earn his living writing wisecracks for the Chinese fortune cookie industry.

AN IDEAL HOST is one who doesn't insist on inflicting his home movies on you until he has at least passed the martini pitcher around three times.

Husbands jest at their wives for wasting their time watching televised soap operas, but actually these sudsy epics can have a real educational value. A woman becomes so familiar with the fictional ordeals of her heroes and heroines that when an emergency occurs in her own family life she knows just what steps to take to cope with it. There are few disasters in real life that don't happen over and over again in soap operas.

IT SURE has been a long time, hasn't it, since you last saw a fireman wearing red suspenders?

No woman ever goes truly content to her grave unless at least once in her career she has found out what it is like to be kissed by a man with a beard.

When you get more than one post card from friends during their stay at a vacation resort, you can be sure they're having a rainy time.

You can generally win money by betting that the first girl to take off her shoes at a cocktail party will be one of the last to leave.

ONE OF THE things that puzzles me is what hatcheck girls live on during the summer months. They don't earn enough in tips to keep a peacock from anemia.

If that racehorse Damascus can earn a million dollars, why don't the rest of us get paid more for running around in circles?

If you're planning on going to heaven later, it might be a good idea now to start visiting your church more often than you see your dentist.

The Rise Of Wallace

WASHINGTON — "The NBC computers now indicate that Nixon is leading in electoral votes, Wallace is second, Humphrey is third — and none has a majority in the Electoral College."

Imagine some such announcement on election day next November, and you are mind-reading a nationally known Wallaceman who recently paid me a visit, and you are eavesdropping on frightened politicians of the major parties now verging on panic.

GEORGE WALLACE in second place, not third, would be a legitimate Constitutional candidate in the House of Representatives which would convene to choose a President if there were no clear majority in the Electoral College. If Dick Nixon were the only alternative to Wallace (a former Democratic Governor) how would a Democratic majority of the House decide?

In Georgia, less than two years ago, the Democratic delegates of the Georgia House resolved just such a problem by voting the party line. They chose Lester Maddox to be Governor, although he was a rank outsider and had won fewer popular votes than Bo Calloway, the Republican.

THE CHANCES of Wallace running second in the electoral college are still remote, but no longer inconceivable. The latest Gallup poll shows that his support has doubled between April and July.

Moreover, the major parties are in such a disarray over the prospect of a Nixon vs. Humphrey contest that one respected analyst, Lewis Wolfson of the Providence Journal Bulletin, has reported "some far-out ruminations" of a coalition ticket. It could be, says Wolfson, a combination of McCarthy-Rockefeller or McCarthy-Lindsay or Lindsay - Ted Kennedy. Regardless of the realities in such matings, the inter-party discontent is real — very real — and this is what Wallace has been saying for several years. He would become the surviving heir if we had a political debacle.

This is the dream of his backers — and the nightmare of all who fear him.

WHO ARE the backers? Well, the elite Wallacemen are thoughtful persons, mostly Southerners, who knew all along that Wallace was not the montebank that a hostile press presented. They are intelligent persons, in and out of the South, who fully understand that Wallace represents the White Power Structure with the Big Stick. They don't find that objectionable. They find it desirable, under the circumstances. As to the Wallaceite rank - and - file, it has been scientifically described in the Gallup samplings: anti-Administration, anti-integration, anti-Supreme Court, anti-coddling of criminals and demonstrators, anti - Communist to an extreme, and anti-foreigner to the extent of being isolationist.

WHO ARE those who most fear Wallace? Strangely, they are not the Negro militants, for these agree with Wallace on racial separatism. The most fearful of Wallace are political conservatives who dread to see a breakup of the two-party system, and who disapprove of anything approaching one-man dictatorship, in any form, in any emergency.

Billy Graham

I want to be a Christian, but when I try to pray my prayers seem empty and I feel far away from God. Can you help me?

K.F.

Your feelings will not tell you whether you are a Christian. Feelings often deceive. The Christian life is lived through faith. The Bible does not say we are saved by feelings but by faith. "Everyone who believes that Jesus is the Christ is a child of God." A Christian is one who trusts Christ alone for salvation.

There can be good prayers, bad prayers, wandering prayers. Bad prayers are when you want evil things, and ask for them inwardly. Many of us get to wandering in our prayers because faith is faulty. Good prayers are in full and living faith. The Christian is a new creature. That means a new response to the will of God.

Time For Progress

NEW DELHI (AP) — The machine age is finally coming to Indian road building.

Officials have imported three huge road-building machines as part of a major widening and strengthening of New Delhi streets. They decided the old system of hauling hand-mixed asphalt in baskets on the heads of workmen was too slow.

Told Not To Worry Over Burst Bood Vessel

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am a male, 46, in good physical condition except that two years ago a blood vessel burst in my eye. It has happened twice since then. Each time I called the doctor, but he advised me not to worry and said no treatment was necessary.

Since there was no apparent cause for this to happen, I wonder if it is a sign of vascular weakness or deterioration. Can anything be done to prevent recurrence? — M.W.M.

This sort of thing does happen to some people, and as a rule they get the same correct advice you did. Ordinarily the explanation is a fragility of the tiny capillary blood vessels in the outer eyeball. The bleeding shows up vividly; the same amount of bleeding, or even a great deal more, in some other part of the body would merely appear as a small bruise that you wouldn't worry about.

Such bleeding in the eye can be caused by a minor injury, rubbing the eyes, or even a hard sneeze or two. But the fact remains that actually only a very small amount of bleeding is involved.

It does not ordinarily indicate any general vascular weakness, but just a minor weakness in the tiny vessels involved.

Deficiency of Vitamin C and calcium can contribute to such bleeding, so be sure you get ample Vitamin C (from citrus or tomato juices) and calcium from milk.

* * *

Dear Dr. Molner: I am a glue-sniffer. I would like to know whether sniffing can hurt you in any way at all. I have been sniffing for about two months and have had no after-effects. People tell me it destroys brain cells.

Is there any danger of hurting myself? I enjoy the glue trips and don't want to give them up. I am 15 and take a trip about once a week. —B.M.

Maybe you haven't harmed yourself so far and I hope not, but you must have been on a "trip" the times I wrote about this before.

The foremost dangers are damage to the liver and to the blood, and by the time you begin to notice any symptoms, there will have been permanent damage that cannot be repaired medically.

A few months of glue-sniffing can wreck the liver worse than years of hard drinking. It's as simple as that.

To learn the major categories of prostate trouble — symptoms, treatment, how to speed recovery — write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald for his booklet, "The Pesky Prostate," enclosing 25 cents in coin and a long, self - addressed, stamped envelope to cover cost of printing and handling.

Plans Of Sen. Kennedy Remain Big Question

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP) — What the future holds for Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, the last surviving brother of the Kennedy clan, is one of the major political questions of the hour. The question grows as the time draws near for the Democratic National Convention. There has been speculation whether he will become a candidate for vice president, or even whether he will remain in the Senate.

A meeting Monday at the Kennedy compound overlooking Nantucket Sound brought together some of the leading figures in the campaign and administration of the late President John F. Kennedy, and in the brief campaign of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy which ended with an assassin's bullet June 5.

Gathering to discuss creation of a memorial to Robert Kennedy were such men as Robert S. McNamara, Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr., Theodore C. Sorensen, and Kenneth P. O'Donnell. There were about a dozen others for the meeting on the memorial plans.

McNamara was secretary of defense in the Kennedy and Johnson administrations until his appointment as president of the World Bank.

Schlesinger, former Harvard historian, and now at City College of New York, was a White House staff member.

Sorensen was a White House aide to President Kennedy and had been on his Washington staff when Kennedy was a senator.

O'Donnell has been a Kennedy campaigner for years, and also was in the White House.

Also at the meeting was Frank Mankiewicz who was on Robert Kennedy's staff. He said on his return to Washington that the meeting was the second of a series to plan a "living" memorial to the senator.

NO COMMENT

He said that a possible foundation was discussed.

"There wasn't anything political in the meeting," he added.

Sen. Kennedy, 36, back from a week of sailing off the Main coast on a chartered sailboat with family members and some friends, was on hand. He has made no comment on his political plans.

Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston, an old family friend, said a few weeks ago Kennedy should retire from politics and public life to be more available to the 12 fatherless children of his two slain brothers.

Michael V. DiSalle, former governor and U.S. senator from Ohio, has announced he will place Kennedy's name in nomination for president at the Democratic National Convention next month.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey let it be known last week he'd be happy to have Kennedy as his running mate on the Democratic ticket. But he said Monday night in a New York interview, that whether he will invite Kennedy to run is "greatly dependent on Mr. Kennedy's wishes and views."

American Image Hits New Lows

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. image abroad is tumbling to new lows, largely because of Vietnam and assassinations, according to three foreign opinion surveys.

The surveys were taken in preparation for House Foreign Affairs subcommittee appearances Monday by George Gallup Jr., president of the Gallup Poll; Floyd Free, director of the Institute for International Social Research, and Edward L. Bernays, president of the Bernays Foundation.

"The key to the attitude toward the United States is ambivalence," Free said. "They love us and hate us at the same time."

Mussolini's Widow

Rachele Mussolini, widow of Italian dictator Benito Mussolini, smiles in her Predappio, Italy, home yesterday, after Italy's top administrative tribunal ruled she is eligible for a pension based on the more than 20 years Mussolini served as Premier. Lawyers say she will get $48,000 in back payment and $560 a month.

Interest On Home Loans Rise Sharply

WASHINGTON (AP) — Interest rates on conventional home loans rose sharply during June, climbing to almost 7 per cent for the first time in history.

The Federal Home Loan Bank Board said today the average interest rate on conventional loans for new houses jumped to 6.88 per cent during June while the rate on existing houses went to 6.97 per cent.

TIGHT CREDIT

The board blamed both the tight credit conditions in the economy and recent increases in the ceilings fixed by states on maximum interest charges.

June marked the fifth straight monthly rise in the conventional rate for new houses. The rate on existing houses has risen every month for the last year.

In the 18 major metropolitan areas included in the Board's survey, the rates on new homes ranged from 6.18 per cent in New York City to 7.42 per cent in Dallas.

Rates were above 7 per cent for new houses in 10 of the 18 areas.

CHARGES

The National Association of Home Builders, which made its own survey several weeks ago, said there are signs of interest rates leveling off at their June records.

The federal survey does not include interest rates on home loans insured by the Federal Housing Administration or guaranteed by the Veterans Administration which are now fixed by regulation at 6.75 per cent.

The June levels compared with an average 6.69 per cent rate during May for new houses and a 6.81 per cent rate on existing houses.

With initial fees and charges figured in, the board said the average rate on new houses during June was 7.03 per cent for new houses and 7.12 per cent on existing houses.

LETTER

Has Praise For Officers

To the Editor:

We want to commend your Police Department and we want to especially commend your detectives, Paul G. Alexander and W. W. McCain, for courtesy and sincere efforts in the apprehension of two ex-convicts in a stolen car which contained nearly all of the items taken from our home, which had been burglarized just four days before. Much of the stolen goods shown in the picture on the front page of your paper of Thursday, July 18, was ours and we were so happy to recover it since some of the items were family heirlooms and could not be replaced.

Every policeman we came in contact with both here in Fort Worth and in Big Spring were efficient, courteous and helpful and we deeply appreciate it.

We hear so much criticism of policemen these days that I get a little weary of it. I also find that most of it is unjustified.

We hope you will see fit to publish this letter because they all deserve a vote of thanks.

Sincerely yours,
Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Laughbaum

Hard Work Reason For No Big Smiles

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Florida turnpike toll collectors, replying to criticism from Gov. Claude Kirk that they don't smile enough, said Monday the corners of their mouths stay down because their pay hasn't gone up. The collectors added that they don't get restroom breaks, some days they must miss lunch, and they are compelled to work overtime.

110-Year-Old Slave Trade Note Found

BRECKENRIDGE, Tex. (AP) —A 110-year-old document acknowledging purchase of a slave has been unearthed by Mrs. Atkins Wright, Stephens County Commissioner.

The receipt, signed by I. M. Tucker, was given Mrs. Wright's great-grandfather, G. C. Pevler, one of Stephens County's earliest settlers.

The document says Pevler and Tucker had bargained for and sold "a certain Negro man of black color named Seth, a slave for life, sound in mind and body, 35 years old" for $1,200.

The receipt was dated in 1858 in Fannin County and was found between the pages of a Bible belonging to Mrs. Wright's grandmother.

Shotgun Charge

HOUSTON (AP) — A shotgun charge struck Charles Williams, 17, in the stomach and killed him Monday on a Houston street. Officers charged Robert Batiste, also 17, with murder.

Singers Draw An Ovation In Dallas

DALLAS (AP) — The hymns of the Mormon Tabernacle Choir outdrew rock n' roll and basso nova Monday night as the singers from Salt Lake City launched an international concert tour with a sellout triumph in Dallas.

An audience of more than 9,000 gave the 340-voice choir and director Richard P. Condie separate standing ovations of more than a minute each after a flawless performance of 18 religious numbers.

ONE OF BEST

The Dallas Memorial Auditorium had been sold out since Friday and every seat in the arena and the stands of the circular hall was occupied. The Dallas appearance was sponsored by the Dallas Morning News.

"The phone's been ringing off the wall all day," said auditorium assistant manager Harold Bradford. "This is one of the best attractions we have had all year. If they had done two shows, we could have filled it twice."

Bradford said a rock group—The Doors—drew 8,100 patrons a week ago and that last Friday a program featuring Henry Mancini and Sergio Mendes drew 8,000. The most recent sellout was the finale of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey Circus, 8,300, which took up a lot of chair space with its three rings.

Chief Tabernacle organist Alexander Schreiner accompanied the choir on a grand piano. In Salt Lake City, he uses a specially built pipe organ which cannot be transported. The choir is traveling with dozens of technicians who run the Tabernacle's own sound equipment installed before each performance.

MEXICO NEXT

Condie expressed his satisfaction with the choir's flawless performance of the program and three curtain call selections —"Shenandoah," "Battle Hymn of the Republic," and "God Be with You 'til We Meet Again."

He conducted in a rented white dinner jacket because after packing his formal wear in Salt Lake City he forgot it when he left the house. A courier is to meet him with the suitcase in San Antonio.

The choir will appear twice at HemisFair and once at Lackland Air Force Base in San Antonio. The singing group has performed at every world's fair since the Chicago Century of Progress in 1924.

Thursday, the Mormons fly to Mexico City for performances at the Palace of Fine Arts.

A special feature of the Mexico City appearance will be the choir's rendition of a special arrangement of Mexico's national anthem. Ramon Noble, the composer for the Folklorico Ballet has written the arrangement especially for the American choir, and the Thursday and Friday performances will be the first time the arrangement has been heard.

Nebraskan Gets Heart Of Texan

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Surgeons transplanted the heart of a youth fatally injured in an auto accident into the body of a Nebraska man today in what they described as a very successful operation.

It was the 27th such transplant in the world and the second in three days at St. Luke's Episcopal hospital, where seven now have been performed.

Hospital spokesman identified the recipient as Henry W. Jurgens, 57, of Beatrice, Neb. They said he entered St. Luke's Sunday suffering from advanced heart disease.

AUTO ACCIDENT

The donor was Michael K. Buxton, 16, of Houston, who suffered massive head injuries in an auto accident Monday morning. He died at 12:47 a.m., the hospital reported, and the transplant surgery was completed at 2:15 a.m.

Dr. Denton A. Cooley supervised the operation, as he has the others at St. Luke's. Attendants said he considered it very successful and pronounced Jurgens in highly satisfactory condition.

Hospital spokesmen said the patient who received a new heart Saturday—Fred C. Everman, 58, a retired barber from Alexandria, Va.—was able to walk unassisted from his bed to a chair.

SWAPS PROGRESS

Everman received the heart of Evelyn G. Krikorian, 33, a Houston housewife who died of complications from a kidney ailment. He was reported in "very satisfactory condition."

Of the previous heart transplant patients at St. Luke's, three others continue to recuperate and two have died.

Everett C. Thomas, 47, of Phoenix, Ariz., who received a new heart May 3, has left the hospital and plans to start work Aug. 1 at a Houston bank, Cooley said.

Louis J. Fierro, 54, of Elmont, N.Y., underwent surgery May 21. He probably will move to Houston for twice-weekly checkups when he is dismissed, Cooley said.

The third patient, George Henry DeBord, 46, of Helotes, Tex., also is progressing satisfactorily, Cooley said. DeBord received a new heart July 2.

Parks Department Buys 15,200 Acres

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department has bought 15,200 acres in La-Salle and Dimmit counties for a wildlife management area.

Deputy Department Director Bob Mauermann said the land is largely native, unaltered brush country. The purchase was from George Light III, San Antonio.

The 1967 Legislature appropriated $2 million to buy wildlife management land.

X-Ray Research

FORT WORTH (AP) — Research is under way in Fort Worth to uncover details of how X-rays are produced.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration recently asked a Texas Christian University research group to continue its X-ray research.

The research is being done in the laboratories of Dr. Lee Baggerly and Dr. C. A. Quarles, nuclear physicists on the TCU research Foundation. NASA supports the research work and provides fellowships for two graduate students working with the physicists.

Nixon Backers Claim 3 To 1 Margin In Texas Delegation

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas' delegates to the Republican national convention say they will go to Miami Beach, Fla., two weeks from now with Richard Nixon holding a 3-to-1 advantage within the delegation.

A continuing check of each of the 56 official delegates to the national convention by The Associated Press shows 33 committed to Nixon, 12 solidly for California Gov. Ronald Reagan and 11 uncommitted.

FAST START

About two weeks ago Nixon's margin over Reagan was 27 to 11 with 18 undecided.

The convention opens Aug. 5 with the first Texas delegation caucus scheduled Sunday afternoon, Aug. 4, in the delegation headquarters hotel, the Barcelona.

A number of state GOP officials and delegates plan to go to Miami Beach a week earlier to take part in committee hearings on credentials, platform and other matters.

Leading the list of those committed to Nixon is Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., who was endorsed by the state GOP convention June 11 as a favorite son candidate but on July 1 released the 56 delegates from their pledge and urged them to support Nixon.

Also publicly supporting Nixon are Rep. George Bush, R-Tex.; Albert Fay, Houston, national committeeman; Mrs. Bradley Streeter, Dallas, state vice chairman; Paul Eggers, GOP candidate for governor; David Dorn, Houston, state finance chairman; and Sproesser Wynn, Fort Worth, candidate for attorney general.

UNCOMMITTED

The committed delegates for Reagan come from the Houston-Beaumont area or West Texas. Leading the list are Rep. Bob Price, R-Tex., Pampa, and Mrs. G. N. McDaniel, Borger, former state vice chairman.

The outstanding uncommitted delegate is state GOP Chairman Peter O'Donnell, Dallas, who led Tower's favorite-son campaign and feuded at length with Reagan supporters over plans to bind all 56 delegates to a favorite son candidate.

Others who told The AP they are uncommitted include: Mrs. Tobin Armstrong, national committeewoman; Jim Collins, Dallas congressional candidate; and Douglas Decluitt, Waco, candidate for lieutenant governor.

Horoscope Forecast

TOMORROW
—CARROLL RIGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: you are very restless and you want to run about in many directions even though you feel tired. Take it easy. Get at those unfinished tasks today and show you can get everything about you in perfect working order for the future. Think out any problem as your mind is working fine, so listen to it.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Get an early-morning start on that shopping today and keeping the right appointments, since you have been procrastinating too long on this. This is not a good day to reach important conclusions, but talk is all right.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Don't go off on a tizzy somewhere. You can handle those financial matters very expediciously now. Use you rintuition for best results. Don't feel that you have to foot the whole bill for some pleasurable association.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You can concentrate now on ideal way to get ahead socially without feeling that kin will be annoyed or neglected. If you get rid of whatever is obsolete, you see the future in brighter tones. Be alive, interested in all that you do.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Sit down with experts and then follow the advice given. You fare much better as well as gain their approval. The path to success can now be open for you. Don't hesitate and ruin your chances.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Ideal day to be with persons who have done you many a favor in the past, but be sure you drive with both hands on the wheel. Don't permit a blunt-spoken person to confuse you. Let a smile be your olive branch.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Philanthropy and public duties are your best outlet today, so gain prestige, the love of others. An executive is having troubles, so don't add to his woes. Be as helpful as you can instead.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You require more data, be it for scientific or business outlets, so get out and get it and forget about going off on some tangent. Get in touch with that wise person you know who is influential. Make this a day for big activity.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You can handle your problems very wisely if you rely on those hunches that assail you instead of getting all worked up. Show that you are a conscientious person. Do whatever pleases mate in p.m.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Many duties need your immediate attention now and you can get the aid of good allies if you just go to them or pick up the telephone. Don't go it alone or some big problem arises with a partner who is very suspicious. Be clever.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) If you get right at all that work ahead of you, you need not impose on others, especially partners who are very busy. Something should be done about that health problem. Take care of it before it gets worse.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Provided you do not injure the feelings of one who thinks a great deal of you, this can be a most happy day for you. Think twice before you speak. Show ingenuity if you want to gain prestige where newcomers are concerned.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Doing what is expected of you by own kin is best. Then you can be with those persons you like, and vice versa in the outside world. Put plans in motion for greater security in the days ahead. Don't fall for any forceful tactics from others.

Astronaut Collins Undergoes Surgery

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Astronaut Michael Collins, veteran spacewalk expert of Gemini 10, undergoes surgery today for a back ailment that already has cost him his spot on the Apollo moon-landing program.

Collins was to be taken to surgery at 8 a.m. today at Wilford Halls Air Force Hospital in San Antonio for removal of an arthritic spur on his spine just before the base of the neck.

Collins, 37, an Air Force lieutenant colonel, was admitted to the hospital Sunday evening.

He was to be the command module pilot on the third manned Apollo mission, scheduled for next year.

Dr. Charles Berry, director of medical research and operations at the Houston Manned Spacecraft Center, said Collins is definitely off the Apollo roster.

His flight status will be determined later. Space officials refused to speculate on whether Collins' ailment removed him from all future spaceflight rosters.

Berry said the growth was discovered after Collins reported altered sensations in his left leg.

Berry said Collins' problems had increased in the past few weeks. X-rays confirmed the presence of the spinal growth. Berry said bone spurs on the spine are fairly common type of thing and theorized that the growth probably came from an old injury.

Collins was in the third group of astronauts, selected in 1963. He flew as pilot with command pilot John Young on the Gemini 10 mission in 1966 and did two stints outside the spacecraft in the three-day flight.

Collins and his wife, the former Patricia Finnegan of Boston, Mass., have three children.

Thugs Keep Cops Busy

Several burglaries, thefts and acts of vandalism were reported to police Monday.

Clarence Shaw, 1007 NW 2nd, reported a television was taken from his residence sometime Monday afternoon. Entry was apparently gained by cutting a screen door.

Garvin Moore, 1811 Scurry, reported a tool box, three axes, two chalk boxes, one pair tin snips, two pairs pliers and one stripper were taken from the Carlton Apartments. He told police he thought he knew who took them, and police are investigating the report.

Jimmy Ream, 508 Highland, reported a car stereo tape recorder and 10 stereo cartridges were taken from his car while it was parked on Owens Street. The car was locked and entry was apparently gained by forcing open a wing window.

Mrs. Jerry Foresyth, 3233 Cornell, reported an attempted entry to her parents home at 3301 Drexel. However, no entry was gained.

Floyd E. Pringle, 2713 Larry, reported words written on the windows of the General Welding Supply. Lawrence Lee Peaslee, Webb AFB, reported four men in an automobile threw a beer can at his car while he was driving.

GRABS GUN AND SHELLS

Shoots Three Persons

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Calif. (AP) — A man fatally shot two men and wounded a woman walking along the street Monday night after he broke into a sporting goods store for a pistol and shells.

Authorities identified the dead as August Marsala, 46, and Victor Cricco, 52, both of Yonkers, N.Y. Marsala's wife, Evelyn, 44, was reported in serious condition at a San Luis Obispo hospital after being shot in the chest. The bullet also broke her left wrist.

Police said William B. Duff, 38, of Havre De Grace, Md., was arrested after a chase on foot and was booked on suspicion of murder.

The three victims were vacationers strolling in San Luis Obispo, 200 miles north of Los Angeles, when they were shot.

Police Lt. William Sperlo said that when he arrived at the scene minutes after the shootings bystanders yelled, "He ran around the corner."

Sperlo gave this account:

He took a shotgun from his patrol car and pursued on foot. He saw Duff three blocks away, ordering him to stop.

Duff surrendered to the lieutenant, saying, "Nobody likes me. I don't mean to hurt people."

GLASS SMASHED

Sperlo said Duff carried the pistol in one hip pocket and a foot-long iron pipe in the other when arrested.

Witnesses said they did not see the shooting but heard a rapid sequence of shots and looked up to see the man fleeing.

Dave Ethridge, owner of Dave's Sports Emporium, said Duff ignored everything in the store but the .38-caliber pistol in a counter display with several other handguns and a box of shells in a wall rack. He said the store's glass door was smashed.

The lieutenant said four of the six shells in the pistol's cylinder were spent and Duff still carried the box of cartridges when arrested.

Yesterday's Jumbles: TAFFY FRAUD NIBBLE HOMING

Answer: Where the competing silkworms ended up—IN A TIE

Governors Fear Wallace May Stalemate Top Race

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Governors of both major parties, some of them openly disenchanted with their prospective presidential nominees, are fearful that Alabama's George C. Wallace may succeed in stalemating the race for the White House.

And there is a growing movement to support a Republican-Democratic agreement to settle any deadlock—without dealing with third-party candidate Wallace.

One Republican planned to propose that such an accord be written into both the GOP and the Democratic party platforms next month.

CONCESSIONS

Two Democrats, one from the South, one from the North, agreed that if either party entered post-election negotiations with Wallace, bartering policy concessions for electoral support, it would destroy that party politically.

Republican Gov. John H. Chafee of Rhode Island sought backing of the 60th National Governors Conference today for a plan which would have the Republicans and Democratic nominees agree in advance to support whichever man receives the most popular votes in the Nov. 4 election if there is no majority victory in the Electoral College.

Should there be no electoral majority, the Constitution would send the presidential decision to the House of Representatives with each state to cast one vote.

DANGER

A state's electors normally vote for the candidate who wins the most ballots in that state. Chafee proposed that the GOP and Democratic nominees agree that the national popular vote loser would "exert his influence" among electors pledged to his candidacy to guarantee Electoral College choice of the candidate who wins the over-all ballot count.

He sought conference approval of a resolution urging that plan upon the two major parties, and indicated he would like it to be part of their platforms.

A variation of that plan would have the parties agree to support the popular vote winner, without regard to political affiliation, should the decision go to the House.

Chafee said there is "a clear and present danger" that there will be no Electoral College majority because of the third-party Wallace race.

Some form of major party agreement to break a possible deadlock also had the endorsement of Republican George Romney of Michigan and Democrat Philip H. Hoff of Vermont.

Hoff said a Wallace-produced stalemate "could cause a major disruption" in the United States and abroad.

REALITY

Without endorsing the idea, Gov. John J. McKeithen of Louisiana forecast some such plan would be adopted. He said Wallace currently has enough support to deny an electoral college majority to both major candidates in a close race.

"It's a matter of fact and reality that this is going to happen," he said of major party pact aimed against the Wallace bid for bargaining power in the White House race.

Gov. Albert P. Brewer of Alabama said he believes Wallace could carry 12 states. He said he would support an agreement to give the White House to the candidate obtaining a popular vote plurality, and argued that this would give Wallace a chance of winning the presidency.

Brewer said he would campaign for Wallace. McKeithen said he supports Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey for the presidency. But he avoided any criticism of Wallace, saying that was too much to expect of a Deep South governor.

'DARK HORSE'

While McKeithen said Humphrey would be a great president, an undertone of criticism continued in the conversation of some Northern Democrats.

One Midwestern governor said he is not satisfied with either Humphrey or Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota as a presidential nominee—and added many delegates and party leaders feel the same.

"I look for a dark horse," this governor said.

Few Democrats agreed. But the Midwesterner, who asked that his name not be used, said Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., could emerge at the convention in a presidential role. He said there will be a tremendous emotional demonstration when Kennedy appears in Chicago.

"It could precipitate a nomination by acclamation," the governor said.

Jury Acquits Defendant

A jury in 118th District Court took less than half an hour Tuesday morning to acquit Ellis Dyer of charges of DWI second offense. It was the second time the state had brought Dyer to trial, the first ending in a hung jury.

The offense was allegedly committed in December, 1967.

Judge Ralph Caton announced that the case would be the final one to be tried on this week's criminal docket. He pointed out that only 28 jurors were left of the original panel when the qualification procedure ended on Monday. The next case on the docket would probably have been an armed robbery count and would involve close questioning a larger number of prospective jurors.

This would have meant that the court would have to summon talesmen to serve and under the new law such talesmen must be drawn from the jury wheel.

The procedure of drawing and notifying the jurors would take two days and would have pushed the earliest possible date to begin the case to Friday. This would have meant that it could hardly be completed this week.

HCJC Shows 197 For Second Term

The final registration for the second six-weeks term for Howard County Junior College was 197, B. M. Keese, registrar, said Tuesday.

The first summer term had 299 registrants, but the second half usually produces a substantially lesser number.

Chamber Wants To List Heads Of Local Clubs

Newly elected presidents of local clubs and organizations have been asked to contact the Chamber of Commerce office by Edith Gay, chamber secretary.

"We are currently in the process of updating our list of clubs and organizations and we need the names, addresses and phone numbers of the new presidents," Miss Gay said.

The list is divided into five categories, men's service clubs, organizations and women's study clubs, veteran and patriotic organizations and benevolent and fraternal orders. The list is revised annually and kept as part of the chamber's reference files.

Miss Gay also asked clubs who will be hosting district or area meetings to contact the chamber so that the event might be listed on the calendar of events.

Good Turnout For Picking Beans For Old Settlers

Twenty-five volunteers worked two hours Tuesday morning eliminating the assorted rocks, sticks and other foreign material from 200 pounds of beans which are to be prepared for the 44th annual Howard-Glasscock County Old Settlers Reunion Barbecue.

The bean picking was at the Old Settlers Pavilion in the City Park which is to be the scene of the reunion on Friday of this week.

The beans will be matched up with choice beef to be barbecued for the dinner. The barbecue will be prepared on Thursday night and served at noon Friday. In the past according to Jess Slaughter, president of the association, the noon meal has been served to hundreds of guests. It is anticipated this year's attendance will be on a parity with the attendance at other rallies.

These annual July picnics are held for the purpose of permitting early day settlers of the two counties to get together for visits.

Registration will open early at the park. All persons who register will be provided with tickets for the dinner. The custom is for each registrant to make a donation to help defray the expenses of the barbecue.

More gifts are needed.

After the noon meal, a program is staged at the pavilion.

Events will include an old fiddlers contest, music by a combo known as the Four Majors and a Minor and square dance exhibitions by the Huff 'n' Puffers and the Big Spring Squares.

Old timers will be recognized and there will be other entertainment.

A dance Friday night will close the day's reunion.

Donations to the fund have been received from Safeway, Lillian Jordan, W. L. Wilson, Cooperative Gin of Big Spring; Bob Brock Ford, Bud Tucker, J. W. Brigance, White's Auto Store; Newsom Grocery, J. T. Langley, Laura R. Flanagan, Evert Smith and Helen Shelly.

Two Accidents

Two minor accidents were reported to police Monday. At Third and Johnson, Jerry Cook, 2002 Runnels, and Jo Ann Fisher Arnold, Route 1, were involved in a car accident; at West Eighth and Bell, Albino M. Renteria Sr., 1200 Grafa, and Frank E. Urquidez, Webb AFB, were involved in a car mishap.

Stolen Pickup Reported Found

A pickup stolen here some weeks ago and found abandoned near Weatherford should be back at home by late today. The owner left early Tuesday for Weatherford to take possession of his vehicle.

No arrest was made in the case. The pickup, the sheriff's office has been advised, is in running condition.

A Quiet Little Talk

Linda Farr talks in sign language to Johnny Miller, a deaf mute employe of the Army Corps of Engineers in Kansas City. Linda and all 16 others in the office are learning sign language in order to communicate with Miller, a new employe. "We just think enough of him to do it, that's all," says Miss Farr.

Quiet Office Talks In Sign Language

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The coffee breaks are unusually quiet affairs in one of the local offices of the Army Corps of Engineers.

That's because many of the 17 employes are clustered in a corner talking in sign language.

Johnny M. Miller is a deaf mute and has to talk with his hands, but the others are learning so they can communicate with Miller.

"It just sort of happened," said Derald Sarratt, unit supervisor.

LEARNING

"Actually, sign language isn't as difficult as I thought it would be. We're still slow at it, of course, but we're learning."

Miller, a husky 25-year-old graduate of the Missouri School for the Deaf at Fulton, came to the engineering office this spring. He's a cartographic draftsman and etches maps on film for reproduction, a process called scribing.

At first others in the office communicated with Miller by writing notes.

"Then one day I noticed he had a book that looked interesting, and I asked him about it," said Linda Farr, a petite 20-year-old coworker.

Youth's Death By Gang Fight

BOSTON (AP) — John Richards, 17, believed killed by a train in March, actually was killed by drunken youths 15 to 19 in a gang fight, District Judge Sadie Shulman says in an inquest report.

The boy's body was found March 29 on railroad tracks near his home after 31 freight cars passed over it.

Judge Shulman, in her report filed Monday, said two teenage gangs were rivals in the area. One gang, she said, was made up of older boys who were heavy beer drinkers. On the night of the attack, she said, one of this gang consumed 20 cans of beer and two others had "17 or more."

DEATHS

H. J. Morrison Service Is Set

Survivors include three sons, Donasiano Rocha, Demetrio Rocha and Tranquilino Rocha; one daughter, Mrs. Elodia Ayala, all of Big Spring; 21 grandchildren; 31 great-grandchildren and 13 great-great-grandchildren.

Services will be at 3:30 p.m. Thursday at St. Thomas Catholic Church with the Rev. Leo St. John officiating, and burial will be in City Cemetery under the direction of Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

C-City Grocer Dies Of Attack

COLORADO CITY — Ben Dotson Elliott, 66, was found dead in his grocery store at 12th and Hickory Streets, Sunday at 9:45 p.m., apparently of a heart attack, according to Justice of the Peace Leonard Henderson, who returned a verdict of death from natural causes.

Mr. Elliot had gone to the store Sunday afternoon to prepare for Monday's business, and when he did not return, Mrs. Elliot went to the food store and found it locked. She enlisted the aid of Aaron Feaster, a neighboring businessman, who removed the screen from a back door. Mr. Elliot was found lying on the floor, within.

Funeral services are to be at 2 p.m. Tuesday in the Kiker and Son Chapel. Burial was to be in the Elmwood Memorial Cemetery in Abilene, with Masonic rites at the graveside.

Mr. Elliot was born Sept. 1, 1901 in Coryell County and married Naomi McCaleb in Anson, November 22, 1921. They came to Colorado City in 1938, and he had operated the Elliot Food Market since 1950. He was a member of the Baptist Church, a past master of the Masonic Lodge and a member of the Chapter and Council Commandry of the lodge.

He is survived by his wife, one son, Jon Corydon Elliot, Colorado City; two sisters, Mrs. T. E. Robbins, Knox City, and Mrs. Sims Palmer, Colorado City; and two brothers, George Elliot, Anson and Guy Elliot, Midland.

Mrs. Stall, 606 E. 14th St., had been a resident of Howard County since 1927. Pallbearers will be Roy Wilson, Bob Bradbury, Merrill Creighton, Sherman Smith, Roy Cornelison and John Gary.

Lt. Littler III, Vietnam Victim

Lt James Littler III, former missionary with the Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter Day Saints here, died July 3 in a helicopter explosion in Vietnam.

Lt. Littler was squad leader on a rescue mission doing low-ground flying when the explosion occurred. He was buried in Hawaii July 5. He had been in the Marines for three years and served in the reserved while living in Big Spring.

He spent four months in Big Spring in 1964 and had many friends in this area. He left here in 1964 to return to his home in Hawaii where he was married and later attended Brigham Young University in Utah.

Lt. Littler, is survived by his wife, Sherry; a son, James Littler IV; and a daughter Joni Kanani, now of Bartlesville, Okla.

Fortas Defended By Clifford Aide

WASHINGTON (AP) — Deputy Atty. Gen. Warren Christopher defended Supreme Court Justice Abe Fortas today against a Southern Democratic senator's charge that he throws judicial precedents in the garbage can.

PROPAGANDA

Christopher appeared before the Senate Judiciary Committee at the request of Sen. Sam. J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., for questioning about what Ervin called a propaganda document by the Justice Department in Fortas' behalf.

Fortas, an associate justice of the Supreme Court since 1965, has been nominated by President Johnson to succeed Chief Justice Earl Warren.

Ervin asked Christopher if he could explain why the Supreme Court as now constituted, and expecially since Fortas became a member, "has been taking precedent after precedent and casting them into the judicial garbage can."

Christopher replied that the issue is whether the committee thinks Fortas is qualified for the high post for which he has been nominated.

CAUTION

Christopher said that he would say, as Fortas himself had testified, that he believes the nominee would approach the overturning of precedents "with the greatest care and caution."

The Justice Department memorandum on Fortas' record became a subject of controversy when Ervin charged Monday that it was an attempt at "propagandizing the committee."

At the outset of today's hearing Ervin asked Christopher if he had prepared the memorandum.

"I did not personally, but I take responsibility for it," Christopher replied.

Christopher's appearance was arranged by Committee Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., at Ervin's request.

The Justice Department's 27-page memorandum on the "judicial performance of Mr. Justice Fortas" was put in the record last Saturday by Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich.

Hart said he had requested it to provide "more balanced record" after the critical questioning of Fortas by Ervin and Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C.

The memorandum, commenting on decisions in which Fortas participated, concluded this way:

QUIBBLES

"Notwithstanding the quibbles about particular votes and decisions, the verdict of the American Bar . . . is that Justice Fortas has performed remarkably well in three years, fulfilling the promise that one of the nation's greatest lawyers should become one of its greatest justices."

Ervin called the Justice Department document an attempt "to propagandize the committee" and said he intended to answer it and wanted to question the lawyers who drafted it.

Suspects Turned Over To Abilene

Two men arrested here last Wednesday in connection with a stolen car report have been released to law enforcement officers in Sweetwater and Abilene, according to Det. Sherrill Farmer.

Police are still trying to identify some of the stolen goods found when the two men were captured, though a good portion has been claimed by owners, Farmer said.

Farmer said most of the loot came from one place in Fort Worth and that the capture here had also cleared two other Fort Worth cases.

It's The Owners Who Are 'Lost'

The sheriff's office needs to find two lost owners.

One is the unknown owner of a 3-year-old brown mare and the other is the owner of a two wheel trailer containing a 250-gallon butane tank.

Both the trailer and the mare have been in the sheriff's custody for some weeks and he would like to return both to their owners.

The mare was found straying on the highway some weeks ago. Who owns her has not been established.

The trailer and butane tank was found abandoned on the roadside east of town. The trailer has the words Magrum Rig No. 1. It has a 1966 license plate.

A. N. Standard, sheriff, said he would be happy to turn the items over to their owners if the owners will show up and identify themselves.

Westbrook Man Has Summer Post

WESTBROOK (SC) — Clay Strange, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gwen Strange, Westbrook, is serving as youth director of Whaley Methodist Church in Gainesville this summer. He will be a senior at Austin College in Sherman this fall. Clay visited his parents last week and attended funeral services for his classmate, David McKay, who was killed in an automobile accident near Paris July 13.

Air Condition Bid Date Set

Bids will be opened Aug. 6 at the State Building Commission in Austin for refrigerative equipment to air condition a building at Big Spring State Hospital.

The unit is building 506, which is one of the original structures on the campus, being located northwest of the administration building and facing east on the mall. Two years ago when the building was rehabilitated, all duct and other work necessary for air conditioning was installed. Now the state commission is taking the final step.

No word has been received on whether the commission will exercise all alternates on a contract let to Jim Bill Little, Big Spring, on July 2 for rehabilitation of two sturctures.

Gary and Hohertz, Big Spring architects who have done all this work, will complete plans this week for a rehabilitation workshop and will forward them to the commission for review. If approved, the plans may be put out for bids toward the last of August.

Rio Cotton Snag

WESLACO, Tex. (AP)—The Valley Chamber of Commerce said Monday that 140 bales of cotton have been ginned in the Lower Rio Grande Valley this year, compared to 70,004 a year ago.

The harvest was delayed by heavy rains.

Bill Brown Is Back With Viking Club

By The Associated Press

Minnesota Viking fullback Bill Brown is back in camp after a brief absence and Green Bay home—and the Packers hope that will be a brief stay, too.

Starr, who quarterbacked the Packers to the National Foot ball League title and the world championship, worked out briefly at Green Bay Tuesday, then was sent home, apparently suffering from a case of influenza.

There was no indication how long Starr might be out.

WANTS TO PLAY

Brown, who walked out of the Vikings' training camp at Mankato, Minn., Saturday in an apparent contract dispute, returned to camp, went through two workouts and said he wants to be prepared to play for the Vikings.

General Manager Jim Finks is due in camp today and was expected to talk contract terms with Brown, the team's leading ground gainer.

There were a couple of other notable contract disputes, and one notable agreement.

The agreement involved scrambling Fran Tarkenton and the New York Giants. Quarterback Tarkenton signed a one-year contract estimated at about $60,000.

"I don't care for the security of a long-term contract," Tarkenton said. "They really don't mean a lot. If I play well, I'm rewarded; if not, I shouldn't be."

The disputes involved safety Jerry Richardson and the Atlanta Falcons, and defensive tackle Frank Parker and the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Richardson quit the Falcons when his demand for a guarantee that he play at least three games was turned down by Coach Norb Hecker. Richardson, a four-year-man, needs to appear in at least three games to be eligible for the NFL pension plan.

"I can't guarantee anybody anything," Hecker said. "I told him he could get out there and make the club like the 73 other guys we have in camp. We just can't cut or make guarantees indiscriminately."

WANTS RELEASE

Richardson said he he couldn't have a guarantee, he wanted a release or a trade.

Parker, obtained in a trade with Cleveland, failed to report to the Steelers' camp. The club said he was holding out for more money.

"We offered Parker more money than he earned last year, but he didn't accept," a club spokesman said.

Safety Elbert Kimbrough, who sat out the 1967 season, signed a contract with the New Orleans Saints. Kimbrough was obtained by the Saints from the San Francisco 49ers in their expansion draft last year, but he didn't report to New Orleans because of business commitments in San Francisco.

Bob Dee, veteran defensive end who has played in every Boston Patriots' game--112 of them—since the American Football League was formed in 1960, announced his retirement. Dee said he had a business opportunity "too good to resist."

The New York Jets opened their training camp, and quarterback Joe Namath tested his left knee, on which he underwent surgery during the winter.

"It feels 150 times better than any time in the last three years," he said.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Sports dialogue:

BILL JAUSS, Chicago writer:

"Golf is strangling to death as a sport. The disease is slow play. A Page One story in the Wall Street Journal traces the dramatic recent popularity rise of tennis. Ex-golfers from around the nation explained why they switched sports: 'Golf is too time-consuming.' A field of 162 young men under 21 played the qualifying round in the Chicago District Golf Association Junior championship at Calumet. Playing in threesomes, they average 5½ hours per round . . . The pros in a pro-am should insist that other players think out their next shot or putt while their partner is shooting . . . I sure hope a go-go-golf campaign gets going. The tennis courts where I play are getting awfully crowded with ex-golfers."

EARL COOMBS, former outfielder for the New York Yankees:

"I'm puzzled over the decline of .300 hitters in the major leagues. I know they don't choke-hit as we once did. Even so, the pitching can't be that good. Golly, we had great pitchers when I was around and still had a lot of .300 hitters. I batted over .350 one season and was about tenth in the league."

Miami Dolphin football coach GEORGE WILSON, discussing Miami-bound LARRY CSONKA, star of the recent All-America football game at Atlanta:

"He runs a little like the top fullbacks in pro football right now. He watches where he's going. Also, he has that rare ability to change directions in an instant which Jimmy Brown was terrific at."

TED BATTLES, Midland scribe:

"Midland becomes a stop on the professional tennis tour this fall when the Racquet Club will stage a three-day tournament Sept. 27-29. Rod Laver, ranked No. 1 in the world, and No. 2 ranked Ken Rosewall will be here as well as Pancho Gonzales, Roy Emerson, Fred Stolle and Andrew Gimeno."

LEO DUROCHER, manager of the Chicago Cubs:

"The umpires must share a large portion of the blame for reducing major league batting averages. We were sitting around a while back watching films of a game, and you should have seen the pitches umpire Lee Weyer was calling strikes. They were ten inches or so too far outside or inside. The batters are swinging at pitches they can't hit because they are afraid to take pitches, knowing the umpires will give the pitchers the close ones. The strike zone used to come up to a guy's chest. Then it was expanded to reach the armpits. Now it's up to the throat. When they couldn't go any higher, they made it wider. And they keep a ball in play now until it looks like a piece of charcoal. I told an umpire the other day, why don't we just wrap some black tape around the ball like I used when I was a kid."

ALEX HANNUM, former Philadelphia 76er basketball coach, when asked how he treated Wilt Chamberlian when he first joined the club:

"The same way I treat any other 7-foot millionaire who plays basketball . . . I wouldn't say that every moment of my association with Chamberlain for three years was a dream world, but I respect him and I think he respects me."

One-time mound star LEFTY GOMEZ, who doesn't agree with modern ball players who say travel wears them out:

"It used to take us 18 hours to go from New York to Chicago, and we traveled in non-air conditioned trains and stayed in non-air conditioned hotels. When we had an open date we usually spent all of it on a train traveling to the next series. An open date was a travel date."

Cards Surge Late To Win Over Bucs

By The Associated Press

It's the bottom of the ninth inning and you're two runs down. But you've got two and nobody out and the league's MVP —your clean-up hitter — coming

So you pinch hit for him. Right?

Right, agreed struggling slugger Orlando Cepeda after pinch hitter Lou Brock's ground single keyed a three - run rally that swept the Cardinals past Philadelphia 5 - 4 in a nationally televised game Monday night.

CEPEDA APPROVES

"It was the right move," said Cepeda, the National League's 1967 MVP, of Manager Red Schoendienst's switch to Brock, which helped the Cardinals open their league lead to 11½ games. "I'm not hitting and Lou is the faster man. You put in the fast man to stay out of the double play.

"And he's the manager."

While the Cardinals were scrambling to their 16th victory in 20 games, the New York Mets trimmed second - place Atlanta 5-2; Houston topped Los Angeles 4-0; and the Chicago Cubs swamped San Francisco 7-2 in other NL action.

In the American League, Cleveland whipped Baltimore 7-3, Boston nipped the New York Yankees 7-6, Oakland blanked the Chicago White Sox 4-0 and California shaded Minnesota 6-5.

Phils southpaw Woody Fryman, backed by Don Lock's three - run homer and Roberto Pena's bases-empty blast, took a 4-2 lead into the ninth at St. Louis. But John Boozer replaced Fryman after Julian Javier's leadoff single and Curt Flood beat out a bunt against the reliever.

Brock, the Cards' hottest hitter in recent weeks, had been given a rest by Schoendienst. But he got the call to bat for Cepeda, who was hitting .264 after going 1-for-3 against Fryman.

The slim speedster bounced a single through the right side, scoring Javier, sending Floodto third and riasing his batting average to .290. Flood scored the tying run and Brock trotted to third on Mike Shannon's one-hop ground-rule double into the right-center field stands and Tim McCarver hit Grant Jackson's first pitch to right for the game-winning sacrifice fly.

Evans Boys Show Class

Leonard Evans of Big Spring won three first places in the TAAF State Track and Field meet at Odessa last weekend, two of them in the Open division.

In Open competition, Leonard was first in the 100-yard dash in 10.8 while Sam Evans of Big Spring finished third in the same event, at which time he was clocked in 11.5.

Leonard also was first in the broad jump with a leap of 22-1¼. Sam Evans was second in the same event with an 18-2½ effort.

In the Senior Boys' division, Leonard also picked up a first place in the 180-yard low hurdles in the time of 21.6.

Herman Evans was third in the 220-yard dash in 23.3 and third in the 100 with a 10.4 clocking.

David Jones of Stanton was first in the 220 (Senior Boys) in 23.1 and also captured a first in the 100 with a 10.2 clocking.

Richardson Quits Atlanta Falcons

JOHNSON CITY, Tenn. (AP) — Atlanta Falcons' officials said Monday defensive safety Jerry Richardson quit the National Football League team when his demand for a three-game guarantee for the 1968 season was rejected by Coach Norb Hecker.

"I can't guarantee anybody anything," Hecker said. "We just can't cut or make guarantees indiscriminately."

Richardson, a four-year man, needs to be activated for at least three games this year to be eligible for a NFL pension.

Ronnie Broadrick Third Local Boy To Qualify

SWEETWATER — It took a while but Ronnie Broadrick of Big Spring nailed down a spot in the Tournament of Champions by touring the Lake Sweetwater golf course in two under par 70 in an 18-hole junior meet staged here Monday.

Broadrick beat out the most consistent winner, Alan Pursley of Midland, and other entries in the 16-17 age bracket.

The Sweetwater meet in one of a series being staged by the West Texas chapter of the PGA this summer. The Tournament of Champions takes place in Andrews Aug. 22-23.

Pursley was second to Broadrick in their age bracket. He wound up with a 71.

Glen Rambin of Snyder led the 14-15 year olds with a 77. John Round of San Angelo fashioned a 78 and then won a 'sudden death' playoff for second place.

Mark Hargroves of Snyder fired an 81 to grab first place in the 12-13 age group. Steve Cromwell of Midland was second with an 82.

Jimmy Stewart and Bennett Robb are other Big Spring entries who have already gained places in the Tournament of Champions. Both will be in the 12-13 group. Stewart won his spot in Amarillo while Robb qualified at Big Spring.

Three Greats Are Added To Shrine

COOPERSTOWN, N.Y. (AP) — Medwick, Goslin and Cuyler —three more names that stand for baseball greatness.

Joe "Ducky" Medwick, Leon "Goose" Goslin and the widow of the late Hazen "Kiki" Cuyler were present Monday for formal induction ceremonies at baseball's Hall of Fame.

"It's been a long time coming," said Medwick. "But I'm very proud. My life is now complete."

The 66-year-old Goslin, overcome by emotion, said:

"I have been lucky. I want to thank God, who gave me the health and strength to compete with these great players. I will never forget this. I will take this to my grave."

Mrs. Cuyler, whose husband died in 1950, said, "I know my husband would be very proud today. Baseball was his life and it was a good life."

Commissioner William D. Eckert presided at the ceremonies which preceded the annual game in which Detroit trounced Pittsburgh 10-1.

Medwick, 56, was voted into the Hall last January by the Baseball Writers Association of America. It was the final time he would have been eligible before moving into the jurisdiction of the 12-man veterans committee.

Cuyler and Goslin were named by the veterans group.

Medwick played with St. Louis, Brooklyn and New York of the National League from 1932 to 1948. He compiled a .324 lifetime average and won the Triple Crown with St. Louis in 1937.

Cuyler hit .321 and stole 328 bases while playing with Pittsburgh., Chicago, Cincinnati and Brooklyn from 1921 through 1938. Four times he led the National League in stolen bases.

Goslin hit .316 with Washington, Detroit and St. Louis of the American League from 1921 to 1938. His hitting played key roles in Washington's only three pennants.

District 7 ASA Tourney To Be Held In Lamesa

The District 7 ASA Softball tournament will be held in Lamesa Aug. 2-3, according to D. A. Miller of Big Spring, the district commissioner.

Three teams are already committed to the meet and a fourth will probably take part, Miller stated.

Top two teams in the tournament become eligible to take part in the State tournament at Brownwood, which will be held later in August.

Miller said the tournament was being held in Lamesa rather than Big Spring this year because the Lamesa softball diamond is in far better shape.

The Lamesa Merchants, Lamesa's Furr's and Webb AFB of Big Spring are the three teams already entered.

Those intent on entering teams in the tournament can contact Miller at 610 Steakley St., Big Spring, or by calling him at 267-7590.

Entry fee is $30 per team, Miller stated.

Japs Have Eyes On World Title

TOKYO (AP) — Japanese skindivers said today they hope to host the eighth World Underwater Fishing Championships off the Donin Islands in September, 1969.

The championships were first held in 1954 and are known as the Blue Olympics.

Bob Dee Retires From Pro Ball

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Patriots just won't look the same this year without Bob Dee, and the veteran defensive end knows he's going to feel it too.

"I'll miss it — no doubt about that," Dee said in announcing his retirement Monday night.

"I know it's going to be hard to turn away from," the 10-year pro added. "I've played every game they ever had."

Night Racing Is Set On Coast

LOS ALAMITOS, Calif. (AP) — With $1 million already spent on an oval of lights and another $2 million in a purse pool, Los Alamitos race track opens a 78-night quarter horse season tonight, the first night racing ever in Southern California.

Longest race permissible in quarter horse racing is 440 yards. But with more and more thoroughbred stock turning up in the sport, races up to 870 yards on one turn, about four furlongs, have been approved for 1969.

Austin Nears City Crown

In a game that was finished in the mid-watches of the night, Morton's Foods eked out a 1-0 victory over Webb AFB here Monday to retain hopes for a first place tie in the standings. The game went 12 innings.

The win was the 11th in 13 starts for Morton's. Webb is now 7-6.

Austin Enco remained unbeaten with a 9-1 victory over the VA Hospital team in the opener. The Austin team clinched a tie for the top spot and now has a 13-0 record. The VA Hospital club is 1-13.

The only run the Morton's team scored was unearned. Jackie Blizzard, who had singled, scored on an infield hit by Tommy Walker and a bobble after two men had been retired.

There's more to Volkswagen economy than 27 mpg.

It's only the beginning.

Volkswagens take pints, not quarts, at oil changes. And average 40,000 miles to a set of tires.

You can skip the expense of anti-freeze and broken water hoses, too. VWs are air-cooled.

Then there's something you may not give much thought to right away. Depreciation.

Give it some thought.

VWs don't change every year like domestic cars.

So you can sell a 2-year-old Volkswagen for more money than some domestic cars that cost more new.

Even if you kept it as long as 5 years, you'd still sell it for more than you'd get for that domestic car.

So anybody who tells you how much money VWs save you on gas isn't telling you the whole truth.

Remember 1941?

Oakland Athletics vice president Joe DiMaggio, right, has reunion Monday night with Ken Keltner, the former Cleveland Indians third baseman who twice threw out the former Yankee on July 17, 1941, when DiMaggio's 56-hit game hitting streak was halted. Keltner and DiMaggio got together at Milwaukee County Stadium where Oakland met Chicago White Sox, and won 4-0.

Lonborg Impressive; Sox Set For Move?

By The Associated Press

Dick Williams had to pinch himself to make sure he was awake but the Boston Red Sox hope it was the start of another Impossible Dream.

The occasion was the first victory of the season Monday night for right-hander Jim Lonborg, who pitched Boston to their 100-to-1 shot American League pennant a year ago by winning 22 games and the Cy Young Award.

Lonborg missed almost two months of the season following surgery on a knee he injured while skiing last winter. He had lost three times this season but hurled six strong innings allowing only one hit in Boston's 7-6 triumph over the New York Yankees.

INDIANS CLIMB

Elsewhere, Cleveland climbed into second place with a 7-3 victory over Baltimore, California outlasted Minnesota 6-5 and Oakland trimmed the Chicago White Sox, 4-0. Detroit and Washington were not scheduled.

"This is what we've been waiting for," exulted Manager Williams after Lonborg's encouraging performance pulled the fourth-place Red Sox to within nine games of front-running Detroit. "If there are no side effects, and we don't expect any, he is in the rotation now. He'll make his next start Friday in Washington."

It was only the third start for Lonborg, who had worked only 12 innings while compiling an 0-3 record. He was wild, walking eight and hitting a batter, but allowed only a first-inning single by Roy White. Three walks brought White home for the only run off Lonborg.

Boston piled up a 7-1 lead before the Yankees rallied with two in the eighth and three in the ninth.

Cleveland jumped on Baltimore rookie Mike Adamson for four runs in the first three innings and walloped the Orioles. It was the first appearance of the season for Adamson, called up because three Baltimore hurlers are on reserve duty.

TRIPLE HELPS

The Indians, who trail Detroit by five games, got a run in the first on Duke Sims' RBI single. A triple by Dave Nelson highlighted the two-run second. Lou Johnson belted a two-run homer in the fifth after the Orioles had pulled to within 4-3.

Rookie Andy Messersmith won his first big league game in relief and Aurelio Rodriguez and Orlando McFarlane combined to drive in five runs in California's squeaker over Minnesota.

The Angels built up a 6-1 lead after three innings but Bobby Locke and Tom Burgmeier had to put down threats in the final two innings as the Twins rallied.

Jim "Catfish" Hunter stopped the White Sox on six hits and got home run support from Dave Duncan and Reggie Jackson in Oakland's triumph. It was the second shutout for Hunter, whose other one was the perfect game he fired against Minnesota on May 8.

Hoyt Wilhelm, Chicago's 45-year-old knuckleballer, made the 906th appearance of his career, tying the record of Cy Young, which had stood since 1911. However, Jackson slugged Wilhelm's second pitch for his 17th homer. Dave Duncan hit a two-run homer in the second.

Joe Foss Visits Webb, Midland

Joe Foss, one-time commissioner of the American Football League, a World War II flying ace and a former governor of South Dakota, landed at Webb AFB Monday before going to Midland on a business mission.

The cigar-chomping Foss returned to Webb unexpectedly this morning, stopping in Base Operations only long enough to file a flight plan and then took off again.

Red Sox Can Snarl Fight

It's understandable that the Giants and the Lions will be out rooting for the Red Sox in their Sophomore Teen-Age Baseball league game with the Rebels tonight.

The Rebels, now 9-4 in the race, remain in the lead by drubbing the Red Sox. However, should the Red Sox win, all four teams would be deadlocked for the lead.

The Red Sox are currently 8-5 in the standings while the Giants and the Lions both boast 9-5 marks.

The Giants 'hung tough' in the race by spilling the Lions, 6-1, Monday evening.

Greg Crawford pitched the win, limiting the Lions to four hits. Those included a double and a single by Raymond Swafford.

The game rocked along until the fourth, when David Massey propelled home Scott and Gregg Knight with a double. The Giants then added three runs in the fifth to ice the verdict.

Massey also had a single to go with his double to pace his team's six-hit offensive.

Area Coaches Await School

LEVELLAND — Coaches from Texas' eight and six-man schools are making plans to attend the annual state coaching clinic here Aug. 14.

New plays, different methods and the latest in football and basketball wizardry will be the topics of discussion at each of the daily meetings for the mentors, which continue until Aug. 17.

The schools' best athletes will exhibit their skills before the coaches when the youths assemble for the All-Star games.

Basketball will be played in South Plains College's Texan Dome Thursday Aug. 15. The eight-man team gridders get their chance in Lobo Stadium the following night. Six-man team all - stars perform Saturday, Aug. 17. Starting time for all contests is 8 p.m.

Advance tickets can be obtained from the chamber office.

Redman Wins Two Events

In a trapshoot held Sunday by the Mesquite Gun Club at its range near Vincent, Larry Redman won a shootoff with V. W. Kemper and Skeet Davidson after the three had tied in regular competition.

Kemper was second and Davidson third in the shootoff.

The three had originally aimed at 20 birds from a distance of 16 yards. They moved back ten yards for the shootoff.

Redman also won first place in pistol competition, achieving a score of 74 x 100. Kemper was runnerup in that phase of activity with a score of 70 x 100 while Nolan Stanley wound up third with a score of 64 x 100.

In all, 15 entries took part in the afternoon of firing.

Next round of activity at the range will be in heavy hunting rifles Aug. 4.

Internationals, Texans Meet Tonight At Webb

The Big Spring Internationals go against the Big Spring Texans in the District 3 Little League playoffs at Webb AFB this evening, with the winner qualifying to oppose the Big Spring Nationals in Thursday night's finals.

The Texans drew a first round bye in the five-team event while the Internationals advanced by turning back the Andrews Americans, 5-1, last Saturday night.

The Big Spring Nationals sprang a mild upset by ousting the Big Spring Americans last night, 6-1.

The District 3 titlist advances into bi-district competition against the District 4 kingpin. That game will be played here the night of July 29. The bi-district survivor advances to Sectional play, which takes place in Abilene.

The winner in Abilene goes to the state tournament, scheduled Aug. 5-9 in San Antonio.

The Americans outhit the Nationals, 5-4, but couldn't overcome the effects of erratic play and wildness on the part of their own pitchers.

In the fourth, Bruce Abbe reached base on a fielder's choice for the Nationals. Jimmy Stewart gained a life on a misplay and both scored on Tom Sorley's single.

That was all the Nationals needed but they counted again in the fifth when Paul Douglas doubled home Ken Froman, who had singled.

In the sixth, the Nats benefitted from five bases on balls, an error and a fielder's choice to pick up their final three runs.

Larry Stanley scored the lone run for the Americans in the sixth.

Tony Shafer pitched the win. Douglas had two doubles for the Nationals.

Play In Sonora Tonight

Pictured here are the St. Lawrence boys who were chosen members of the Midkiff Little League All-Star team. The elite club plays in Sonora at 8 o'clock this evening in another round of the district playoffs. Front row, from the left, they are Mike Batla and Chris Hirt. Back row, Douglass Plagens, Ronnie Halfmann and Wayne Jansa. Delmer Batla and Ralph Halfmann of the St. Lawrence community will direct the team afield. The winner meets the survivor of the Pecos-Crane contest.

COUNTY'S FIRST LOW COST RENTAL COMPLEX
North Crest unit will provide 68 apartments for needy

New Project Under Way To Help The Poor Have Homes

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third and final article in a series of studies on Big Spring and Howard County and what is being done and should be done to help the poor of the community.)

By SAM BLACKBURN

If 15 per cent of Howard County and Big Spring's households have incomes under $3,000 and if their substandard income forces them to subsist on substandard diets, it has to follow that the bulk of these unfortunate people live in substandard houses.

A check of the poorer areas of the community will bear out this conclusion. Other than for one experiment, just now being activated, little or nothing has been done over the years to bring about any improvement in the housing conditions which affect the needy of the community.

The city administration has adopted a plan which does obliterate a few of the crumbling buildings which have become so decrepit as to constitute what the officials call a public menace. This program has made little visible effect on the over-all situation.

SHACKS

A drive through the northside of town, as well as in parts of the west section of the city, will reveal countless examples of residences which have to be classified as huts and shacks.

There are two or three possible solutions. One is for the individual landlords to tear down the shanties they are now renting and replace them with more satisfactory structures. This, as has been repeatedly demonstrated, does not work. There is not enouch income from the low rental property to justify expenditure of money in building new houses. The tenants cannot afford to pay increased rents so the landlord would have little chance of getting his money back or making a profit on his investment.

URBAN RENEWAL

A second alternative is the urban renewal program of the federal government. This program generally stirs opposition wherever it is proposed and in the communities where the programs have been pushed through the resistance survives.

Under this plan the federal authorities acquire vast portions of a city's substandard dwelling areas and renovate these areas. They level existing structures, pave streets, lay water and sewer lines, build attractive apartments and then rent these to the needy for rentals which are determined by the tenant's income rather than by the true rental fees the property should bring in.

No one has proposed such a program here. There is one in Stanton and a few others have been pushed through in other West Texas cities. None has been outstandingly successful.

FOR 68 FAMILIES

In Big Spring, a third method is being pursued and when it is completed will afford inexpensive modern housing for 68 low income families.

This is the project now under way between Main and 10th NW fronting on 12th northwest. It is under the auspices of the Mt. Bethel Baptist Church which has organized a nonprofit charitable trust to operate the project.

The project is located on a 4½-acre tract of land which fronts on Tenth and Twelfth streets.

$718,000 COST

The investment involved is $718,000. It will include 68 units when completed. Thirty-two of these will be three-bedroom apartments; 16 will be one bedroom and 20 will be two bedroom.

The contractor for the project, which is now in the third month of its construction, is D. D. Johnston. It is estimated the job will take nine months to complete. Built of concrete blocks the units are in separate two-story structures fronting on a court yard. The layout takes the form of a "U" with the open end facing north.

The court yard will provide off-street parking for the tenants and also a large playground for the children who will live in the complex.

In addition to the housing units, there will be an office building and a maintenance building.

APPLIANCES

Each unit will include a built-in stove and refrigerator. All will be floored with tile. Outside stairways will lead to the second floor apartments.

The contractor has all of the units on the west leg of the "U" now up to first floor level and is working on the segments across the south end. Foundations have been poured for some of the east side buildings.

When completed, these apartments will be available to tenants who need cheaper and better quarters without regard to race, color or other factors.

CHARITABLE TRUST

The project is officially the operation of the Mt. Bethel Charitable Trust. This is an agency within the Mt. Bethel Baptist Church which will have administration of the complex and will see to its proper operation.

Oliver Reed is the president of the trust. Leroy Perry is vice president; Clarence Willis, secretary - treasurer and Tommy Biggs, Garland Green. With the Rev. Melvin Montgomery, pastor of the church, they are trustees. This foundation has acquired a loan of $718,000 from the Federal Housing Administration to build what is to be called the North Crest Apartments.

Reed said that the land had been originally acquired by another group but when it was found that funds could be obtained only if the project was under the aegis of a non-profit charitable agency, the Mt. Bethel Baptist Church stepped in and took over the plan.

RENT SUPPLEMENT

The rental project, when completed, will be operated under the FHA program of rent supplement designed to afford better housing for low income family groups.

A tenant of the apartments must have qualified under certain standards which will be supervised by the trustees.

Reed said that the minimum rental for a one bedroom apartment will be $105 per month. The income of the prospective tenant will decide the rental he will pay. Base rental is $35 per month. Any tenant must bear this much of the rental. If the apartment rented is a two-bedroom unit, the base rental is $120 and for a three-bedroom unit, $135.

$35 MAXIMUM

"The man who makes a hundred dollars a month," explains Reed, "will pay only $35 maximum. The FHA will supplement the rent to the trust to bring it to the established $105 level. Actually, the rental rule would be one quarter of the tenant's monthly income. Therefore if a tenant had an income of $460 a month and wanted a three-bedroom apartment, he would pay the full $140."

The fair rental for an apartment has been determined by the FHA and the trustees. The tenant pays one-quarter of his monthly income (or such part as the FHA and the trustees feel is proper) and the FHA supplements the payment he makes to bring it to a parity with the previously determined fair rent on the property involved. This pays for the project and its upkeep.

NEW PROGRAM

The housing project is something new in the program of dealing with the problem of adequate housing for the needy of a community. At the time the local project was started there were only two or three such enterprises under way in the state.

Already, it is said, applications are being made for quarters in the new complex. A screening will have to be made to determine the eligibility of the applicants. A large number of factors will doubtless enter into this evaluation.

Since there are only 68 units to be available it is obvious the selection of the families most deserving will not be an easy one and that the list of applicants will be long.

OTHERS NEEDED

Reed points out that the North Crest program will merely solve the housing for only 68 of the community's families who are in need of better homes.

"We hope," he said, "that our project is so successful that other organizations will step forward and start similar programs. If this can be done, we could eventually provide proper homes for all of our needy neighbors and friends."

Meantime, the number of poor in this city and the county seems to be fairly static but it is also clear that it is not decreasing. Some outside assistance will have to be provided for a great many years to come.

So far the burden is borne by a relatively few agencies and organizations. In addition to the welfare boards, the Salvation Army, the church charitable groups, there are other helps afforded to the community's low income families.

OTHER HELP

The schools, through the hot lunch program, serve free noon meals to scores of children who cannot afford to pay for the food. Milk and ice is provided for the sick and very young through an agency of the United Fund. The Herald's Christmas Cheer Fund also helps.

The Howard County - City Health unit has a public nurse who carries on a farflung program of help to the sick in the needy families.

The crippled children's organizations rally to afford children help where such help will alleviate suffering and possibly redeem the youngster for a useful life ahead. The Rehabilitation Center has many on its patient list who pay nothing for the treatments and help they get.

MEDICAL CHARITY

Hospitals and doctors do a heavy charity business, some part of which is financed by the County Welfare Board and a contract the county has with the hospitals.

The Texas Employment Commission seeks jobs for the jobless and carries on through the Howard County Junior College programs to train the underemployed and undertrained for jobs to produce better incomes for their families.

Lots of things, observers point out, still need to be done to help the community's poor, but a study of the activities and programs show that a great deal is already being done.

'Skyscraper' Saved From Destruction

WICHITA FALLS (AP) — "The world's smallest skyscraper"—a 10-6-16-foot four-story building erected here in 1919—has gained a respite from destruction.

The owner has agreed with the city's building inspector to board up the windows and doors "until something could be done."

The city has ruled the structure unfit for human habitation and has ordered in repaired or demolished.

Mrs. Iva Dean Pink of Wichita Falls, the last of several owners, has expressed doubts about demolishing the building that has some of the city's history amid its bricks and dust. It was erected during the oil boom days following World War I and was subscribed to the tune of $200,000 in shares. The structure was used for a while. Then in 1931, a fire rendered the building useless and for most of the time since it has mainly been a pigeon roost.

Psychiatric Center Slated For Dallas

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas will have a $3,571,500 psychiatric teaching and research hospital in connection with the University of Texas Southwestern Medical school. It may be enlarged from that.

The hospital was helped by a $2 million federal grant with other funds provided by the Texas Legislature.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	1 NT	2 ◇
4 ♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Ten of ◇

A daring maneuver paid off a handsome reward in this hand, when East uncovered the only defensive strategy to offer a chance of defeating South's four spade contract.

West opened the ten of diamonds, and East paused to consider the situation before he made a play. From West's lead, it was obvious that declarer held the king of diamonds. Unless West held a singleton—which appeared to be very remote—the defense could take only one trick in that suit. Altho East held two trump tricks, he despaired of finding his partner with any significant honor strength, for South's jump game rebid strongly suggested that the latter had all the missing toppers.

East concluded that any hope for scoring a setting trick hinged on his obtaining a heart ruff. In order to retain a possible entry to his partner's hand, he decided to duck the opening lead, on the chance that West held the nine of diamonds and could eventually get in with that card.

South was in with the king of diamonds at trick one and he promptly led the queen of spades in an attempt to draw trump. East played the king of spades and returned the ten of hearts. A spade was led from dummy and East put up the ace and shot back a small diamond. West was more than a little surprised to suddenly find himself on lead with the eight of diamonds—however, he dutifully returned a heart and East scored the setting trick with the deuce of spades.

In spite of the dazzling footwork exhibited by the defense, declarer could have foiled their efforts by returning a diamond at trick two. This would have eliminated West's entry before the ruffing situation had been established. We would be reluctant to point the finger of scorn, however, at South for failing to uncover the winning counter strategy.

Not All Homing Pigeons Go Home

WICHITA FALLS (AP) — Homing pigeons are supposed to go home but apparently they don't all do that.

A bird perched on the door of a Wichita Falls hotel—perhaps a home away from home—for almost an hour until a postman grabbed it and read the note attached to its leg.

The note said, "Please keep this pigeon home."
