Hull Asserts Fate Of Rome Up To Nazis

Attack Based On Military Urgency

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 13—The United States served notice tonight that if Rome becomes a battleground and treasured relics of Christianity there are destroyed the blame will be upon the Germans.

Secretary of State Hull declared that German soldiers have entrenched themselves in Italian shrines and monuments and that Allied military authorities "are dealing primarily with considerations of military necessity."

Answer To Pope

This statement was in response to Pope Piux XII's appeal yesterday to Allied and German leaders to spare Nazi-occupied Rome "so that they may be remembered in benediction and not malediction."

Hull made no promise to spare Rome, although he stressed the desire of the Allied authorities to avoid destruction of holy and historic places, and human lives, "to the extent humanly possible."

The secretary of state was questioned about the Pope's appeal at a press conference, and issued a formal answer to the queries later in the day. Added weight attached to his words because of the fact that correspondents were permitted to quote them directly, a somewhat unusual procedure.

Text Of Statement

Text of Hull's statement:

"I think we all understand that Allied military authorities in Italy are dealing primarily with considerations of military necessity forced on them by the activities and attitude of the German military forces.

"Naturally, we are as much interested as any government or any individual in the preservation of religious shrines, historic structures and human lives. I am sure that our military people have that same view.

Germans Entrenched

"It is my understanding that the Allied military authorities are pursuing a policy of avoiding damage to such shrines and monuments to the extent humanly possible in modern warfare and in the circumstances which face them.

"If the Germans were not entrenched in these places or were they as interested as we are in protecting religious shrines and monuments and in preserving the lives of innocent civilians and refugees, no question would arise."

Man Drowns On Buffalo Outing

Firemen early today continued to drag the bottom of Buffalo lake, southeast of the city, in efforts to find the body of C. E. Sooter of Posey, who drowned about 1:30 o'clock Monday night when fishing.

Robert Stolle, about 40, who was in a row boat with Sooter, was rescued from the lake by Fred Holmes and his son, Tommy Lee, 15, who live in a house near the lake.

Stolle was reported to have said that Sooter was pulling on a trot line, lost his balance and fell into the water. Sooter, it was related, then grabbed the edge of the boat in an attempt to pull himself up, upsetting the craft and throwing Stolle into the water.

Stolle Towed To Shore

Holmes and his son, unable to get Stolle into their boat pulled him to the shore, one of them rowing, the other holding to the fisherman. Sooter had disappeared when they reached the point of the tragedy, said to have been approximately 50 yards west of the entrance to the resort area.

Sooter was unconscious when brought to shore but managed to "walk around" before he was taken to West Texas hospital in a Sanders ambulance. He received first aid and was released.

Firemen, working under the glow of floodlights, were groping in water up to 14 feet deep.

Two Men Killed In Crash Near Dallas

DALLAS, March 13. (AP) — Two men were killed and a third parachuted to safety when two training ships from the Dallas naval air station collided at Polo Field, auxiliary field seven miles southwest of the main station.

Names of the dead were withheld. Lt. (jg) W. D. Bushnell of Springfield, Ill., parachuted safely.

THREE DIE IN CRASH

FLORENCE, S. C., March 13. (AP) — Three soldiers were fatally injured today when a light bomber from the Florence Army Air base crashed in a field just west of here. Among those killed was: 2nd Lt. Rhea L. Woodrum, Wichita Falls.

Reds Seize Kherson; 75,000 Nazis Slain

REDS MAP "STRANGLE" HOLD ON NAZIS—While powerful Russian armies drive on after capturing Kherson, Black Sea port 90 miles east of Odessa, other equally powerful columns have cut the Lwow-Odessa rail line, last main line left to the Nazis in the Soviet, and have turned south for the Rumanian border. An estiated 500,000 Germans are in the Black Sea area, and are forced to use secondary railroads and mud-clogged highways for supplies.

Black Sea Port Falls In Sharp Street Fighting

By TOM YARBROUGH
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Tuesday, March 14—Gen. Rodion Y. Malinovsky's Stalingrad veterans wiped out a panic-stricken German garrison at Kherson yesterday, capturing that big Axis Black Sea base at the mouth of the Dnieper river and boosting the toll of German dead and captured to 75,000 in 10 days, Moscow announced at midnight.

Striking with crushing speed 22 miles down the west bank of the Dnieper river, the Third Ukraine Army chased the Germans, "who fled in panic" into Kherson. Then breaking into the strategic city "on the heels of the retreating Germans" the Soviet soldiers quickly slaughtered those who sought to make a stand, said the bulletin recorded by the Soviet monitor.

Nikolaev Also Menaced

Other units under Malinovsky captured Galganovka on the Ingulets river just 35 miles east of Nikolaev, the next big objective in his troops. Nikolaev is 35 miles northwest of Kherson, and also is threatened by Soviet forces last reported only 28 miles north of the city.

Moscow dispatches said the Germans were even throwing away their light packs in flight.

The Russian communique said Malinovsky's troops alone had killed 20,000 Germans and captured 2,500 in a week, not counting the Axis troops cut down at Kherson. Great quantities of equipment also were seized.

Far to the northwest in old Poland a new Russian thrust southeast of Tarnopol found Red Army troops reaching a point about 50 miles from the Rumanian frontier and about 100 miles from the eastern tip of the old Czecho-Slovakian border. Not yet able to take Tarnopol frontally the Russians appeared to be resorting to their favorite device of speeding around their goal.

The capture of Kherson, taken by the Germans in the fall of 1941 a few months after they attacked Russia, opened the way for coordinated Red Army drives on the next big Black Sea objectives, the ports of Nikolaev, 35 miles northwest of Kherson, and Odessa, 90 miles west of Kherson.

Other Russian units already are

Small Force Lashes Nazis Along Coast

Renewed Heavy Blows Indicated

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, March 13—U. S. Flying Fortresses in small force smashed today at German forward positions in northern France—target of an estimated 15,000 sorties in the last three months—as the time for a newly intensified, and perhaps decisive, period of the air war approached with the waning moon.

Again the Germans failed to send up a single fighter to defend this sector, closest to Britain,

RAF OVER EUROPE

LONDON, Tuesday, March 14 (AP)—RAF bombers crossed the southeast coast late last night for another blow at the continent after U. S. bombers blasted by daylight at German positions in the French coastal area.

where the enemy is known to have emplaced rocket guns, robot planes, and anti-invasion weapons.

Two Fortresses Lost

But two of the B-17's which crossed the channel under Thunderbolt escort failed to return, victims either of anti-aircraft fire or mechanical failures.

U. S. Ninth Air force Marauders struck the same area in the afternoon, escorted by RAF, Dominion and Allied Spitfires. Mosquito bombers staged a third attack, losing one plane.

This battered strip of northern France now has been attacked 58 times in the last 90 days.

The daylight blow followed raids on western Germany last night by RAF Mosquitos, none of which was lost.

Bright moonlight of recent nights has limited the RAF to low-level precision bombing by relatively small forces, but within a few more nights the moon which has saved the Germans from saturation night assaults will be gone.

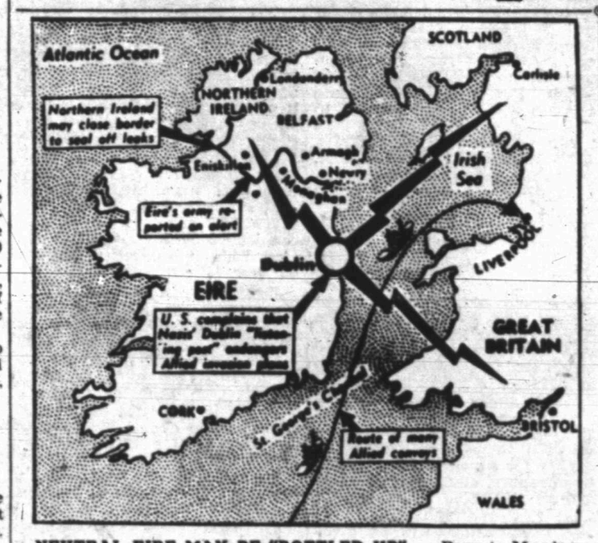

To Run Nazis From Air

Meanwhile it was learned that the U. S. Air force has given top priority to a goal of wiping out the Nazi Air force, with the American Strategic Air force beginning a deliberate campaign last week to engage the German fighters as much as possible, and knock them down.

In good weather, the main impact comes on airplane factories and similar targets. In bad weather, the goal is to make such destructive attacks through the

Third Of Jap Attack Force Is Wiped Out

NEUTRAL EIRE MAY BE "BOTTLED UP" — Reports Monday were that the 200-mile border will be closed between Northern Ireland, where thousands of American troops are in training for invasion of Europe, and neutral Eire, where normal relations are maintained with Axis nations and these diplomats are spying on Allied secrets. Map show how easily Axis agents in Dublin and along the southwest coast can maintain "listening posts" for their spying and espionage activities.

Blow At Empress Augusta Proves Suicidal Attempt

By ROBERT EUNSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Southwest Pacific, Tuesday, March 14.—A desperate attack by three to four thousand Japanese on American positions at Empress Augusta bay on Bougainville island in the Solomons was turned back Saturday, with about one-third of the attacking force killed, the Allied communique said today.

All the Japanese succeeded in getting through the defenders' barbed wire were wiped out before nightfall.

SCORE REVERSED AGAIN?

NEW YORK, March 13 (AP)—The Tokyo radio declared in a broadcast monitored tonight by NBC that two out of the three Allied air fields on the Bougainville coast in the Empress Augusta bay area were now in Japanese hands and that the third airstrip was under attack.

The announcer made the unconfirmed assertion that the Japanese were "taking over one American position after another."

Nearly 150 American Navy bombers supported the ground troops by smashing enemy infantry, artillery and machinegun positions and support troops. "It was a well-organized attack," a headquarters spokesman said of the Japanese thrust.

Feeble Attack Thursday

Concentration of Japanese troops around the beachhead northeast of Cape Torokina, where the Allies have two airfields, had been noted for several days. Last Thursday the Japanese made an attack which cost them 100 dead, and the following day Allied bombers and American destroyers hammered the enemy's artillery positions, from which he was throwing artillery shells onto the airfields.

Troopers of the First Cavalry division moved from their well established invasion positions on Los Negros island in the Admiralties to occupy two small islands on Seador harbor. The islets, Hauwel and Butjo Luo, were hammered by American artillery firing from Los Negros and American destroyers before the troopers went ashore.

Positions Improved

Occupation of the two islets puts the Americans in additional strategic positions for possible thrusts at Manus island, adjacent to Los Negros to the west and the largest of the Admiralty group.

The Japanese in the assault on Empress Augusta bay were part of the enemy force which Gen. Douglas MacArthur recently said was cut off from rescue or rein-

Russia Recognizes Badoglio's Regime

Ambassadors Are To Be Exchanged

By RICHARD G. MASSOCK
Associated Press Staff Writer

NAPLES, March 13 — Soviet Russia and Italy are exchanging ambassadors, the government of Marshal Pietro Badoglio announced tonight, marking the first diplomatic recognition by any of the United Nations of the Badoglio regime.

Diplomatic relations between Italy and Russia were severed June 22, 1941, when Benito Mussolini declared war on the Soviet nation, the day after his Axis partner Adolf Hitler invaded Russia.

Badoglio's Message

Badoglio, in a message to Premier Marshal Joseph Stalin, said:

"At the moment in which our two countries decide to exchange official representatives, I particularly wish to underline to you, Marshal Stalin, that all the Italian people are fully conscious of the imposing and victorious Soviet war effort. They are more than ever convinced of the necessity of restoring Italian and Russian relations on the basis of the constructive and friendly cooperation which was temporarily and tragically abandoned by the regime which today we are fighting together."

An official Italian spokesman said the resumption of direct relations between Italy and the Soviet Union repesented "the closing of a chapter and the opening of a new phase of Italian international life.

Called Great Step

"It is therefore an event of the greatest importance and significance, the import of which undoubtedly will be fully appreciated by Italian public opinion on

Hoffman Renews 'Smear' Charge

WASHINGTON, March 13. (AP) —Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich) charged today that the CIO leadership, Communists in "policy-making" federal jobs, the New Deal itself and "smear campaign" radio commentators have joined in efforts to smirch Congress and unseat some members.

Those who don't "bow" to the wishes of this group, Hoffman told the House, will be targets in the elections this year.

Hoffman delivered a 10,000-word blast in which he accused the heads of the CIO of "deliberately" hampering the war effort with strikes. The rank and file of the unions are not blame, he emphasized.

Indispensable Man?

There is a drive on, he said, "to override our form of government and convince our people that Franklin D. Roosevelt is the indispensible man."

Those who question "the soundness of New Deal policies have been the targets of the smear brigade." This "brigade" he said includes radio commentators Walter Winchell, and Drew Pearson, the newspapers PM and the Chicago Sun and others.

He noted that Winchell had been placed on an inactive status as lieutenant commander in the Navy but asserted that the commentator still was retained on the Navy rolls "by virtue of pressure from the White House."

WINCHELL CHALLENGES SOLONS TO CALL HIM

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 13. (AP)—Walter Winchell today flung an open challenge at Rep. Dies (D-Texas) and Hoffman (R-Mich) to summon him to Washington for interrogation as to his activities.

"The Hoffmans, the Dies and the Rankins have the power to subpoena me, but apparently are afraid to," he said, adding that "they can't be expected to stick to the rules, because they don't dare stick to the facts."

"They must be very desperate,"

Gaines County Sets Vote On Beverages

SEMINOLE, March 13. (Special) An election to decide on prohibiting the sale of alcoholic beverages in Gaines county was called by the Gaines county commissioners' court today for Saturday, April 8, County Judge Judson Roach announced.

A petition, signed by more than 300 persons, nearly twice the required amount, was presented to the court, asking that the election be set.

Several previous elections have been held on the issue in past years.

Sale of beer and wines is now legal in the county.

Seizure Of Liquors Is Ruled Illegal

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP) The Supreme court today held "illegal and wholly without justification" Oklahoma's seizure of a shipment of wine and whisky from outside the state to several hundred Army officers at Fort Sill military reservation.

The 7 to 2 decision upheld a federal district court's order for return of the confiscated liquor to Yellow Cab Transit company, which was transporting it from East St. Louis, Ill., to the Fort Sill Officers' club. Members of the club had ordered the liquor through the club secretary.

Rumanian Envoy Is Said Seeking Peace

LONDON, March 13. (AP) — Prince Barbu Stirbey was declared in a Daily Mail dispatch from Ankara today to have left Istanbul for Cairo in the role of Rumanian peace envoy to continue conversations with Allied authorities.

The former Rumanian premier holds a special pass which will enable him to enter Allied territory, the dispatch said, and added that the very fact the pass was issued indicated that his mission was receiving serious attention of British authorities.

Stirbey is a bitter opponent of former King Carol, who once exiled him to Switzerland. The Daily Mail dispatch said he had talked with both Americans and British in Ankara.

NAZIS REPORT BOMBING

NEW YORK, March 13 (AP) — DNB broadcast said tonight 25 Soviet bombers attacked a German convoy today east of Vardoe, on the extreme northeastern tip of Norway, but seven were shot down and the Germans suffered no losses. The dispatch, recorded by the U. S. foreign broadcast intelligence service, was without confirmation from Moscow.

Russians Begin To Press Finns

By JOHN H. COLBURN
Associated Press Staff Writer

STOCKHOLM, Tuesday, March 14—Soviet Russia was understood today to have given Finland a few more days to accept her armistice terms in a stern answer to the week-old Finnish request for an opportunity to negotiate conditions under which Finland would quit the war.

A heavily censored message from Edwin Shanke, Assoejated Press correspondent in Helsinki, hinted at "dramatic developments" within the next few days and suggested that the Finnish government must make a decision quickly at a scheduled parliamentary session today — or face severe consequences.

The exact nature of the reply Moscow made yesterday to the Finnish counter proposals is unknown but it was strongly indicated that Russia stood to all purposes on its original principal demands that Finland intern German troops in the country, withdraw to her 1940 borders and repatriate Russian prisoners.

Russia's reply was believed to have offered Finland one last chance to quit the war on conditions substantially the same as those tendered the Finns at their request about three weeks ago.

The peace crisis was described in informed quarters here as "getting tougher" for Finland every hour.

Neither government, however, was believed to haye closed the door to eventual agreement.

Gasoline Ration Slash Indicated

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP)—A gasoline ration cut for "A" card holders in the west and midwest appeared as a possibility tonight, holding them down to the two weekly gallons allowed motorists on the eastern seaboard.

Western and midwestern drivers now can get three gallons a week with their "A" ration.

Col. Bryan Houston, deputy administrator of the Office of Price administration, said the cut has been advocated by the Petroleum Administration for War and may be announced when the new fuel allotments are set by PAW, possibly tomorrow.

Although officials conceded the change would mean only a small savings in gasoline consumption, PAW Administrator Harold L. Ickes has wanted for a long time to equalize gasoline rations on a nation-wide basis.

Might Stretch Period

If the cut is ordered it probably will be accomplished by stretching out the valid period of "A" coupons to three months instead of the present two.

Drastic, nation-wide restrictions on the use of "R" gasoline coupons—intended for off-highway vehicles such as farm implements—will be put into effect by the OPA April 1 in an effort to dry up a gasoline black market that has grown out of their use.

Each "R" coupons is good for five gallons and OPA said they were issued liberally with the result that many users got more gasoline than they needed.

Sardinia Shows Striking Similarity To Southwest

By KENNETH L. DIXON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WITH THE AEF IN SARDINIA, March 7. (Delayed) — One of the first things you notice about this island of Sardinia when the plane comes over is its striking similarity to the Southwest back home.

DIXON

Flying in here in "Lady Katy," a B26 Marauder, I asked the pilot, Lt. Lloyd L. Gravely, jr., what the island's landscape looked like to him.

He said he didn't know, so I asked him where he was from.

"Rocky Mount, North Carolina," he said.

The co-pilot, Lt. Marvin M. Grieve, didn't get it either, but he admitted he was from New York City. When we got in to this advanced airbase from which the Marauders strike I asked Lt. Bob Whitten, a bombardier from Rosenberg, Texas, what Sardinia reminded him of.

"West Texas and New Mexico," he grinned.

And it does. It has the same flat, dusty rolling plains ringed by mountains; the same cactus; the same adobe buildings everywhere, and the same clear, cold air which seems to bring distant objects closer and makes the moon look brighter at night.

Of course the land is marked by

Border Of Neutral Eire Said Closed

Formal Sanctions Not Yet Planned

DUBLIN, March 13. (AP) — A high authority said tonight that the border between neutral Eire and Northern Ireland would be closed.

Even while this information indicated a drastic extension of the British-Irish travel ban, it was said that there would be no immediate formal sanctions against Eire by the Allies.

The authority, who cannot be identified by name, indicated that any hopes the neutral Irish might have that the decision on stopping traffic across the 200-mile border might be left up to the Belfast (Ulster) government were unfounded.

ALLIES BELIEVED READY TO CLOSE IRISH WINDOW

LONDON, March 13. (AP) — The Allies appeared tonight to be about ready to seal tight the Irish window on Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's flank through which they contend German agents in neutral Eire have been seeking out his secrets and peering at his troops as they marshal and maneuver in preparation for the western front.

It was accepted as almost certain both here and in northern Ireland that the British government would follow its virtual suspension of traffic from Britain into northern Ireland and Eire by closing the 200-mile Eire frontier—a job for which British and American soldiers would be available in northern Ireland.

Only Effective Way

It was said again and again in Belfast that only in this way could suspension be made really effective.

There was no evidence of any

County Is Near Red Cross Goal

Lubbock county's large $78,500 quota in the Red Cross War Fund drive will be reached, but with little to spare.

Uncertainty that some of the drive leaders had begun to feel was removed with the reports late Monday to General Chairman George P. Kuykendall.

Last doubts as to the success of the campaign faded with the announcement from Slaton that, at mid-afternoon, $2,325 had been raised in an intensive three-day effort which started from a kickoff breakfast in Community clubhouse Monday morning. Slaton's quota is $4,000, which the community raised to $5,000 voluntarily.

Many Yet To Report

Briggs Robertson, chairman of the Slaton Red Cross chapter, reported the $2,325 figure with the statement that most of the women's committees, nearly all the special gifts groups and the railroad committees still were to report. W. R. Sewell and Pete Pearson are co-chairmen of the Slaton drive.

An item on the Slaton list of contributions was one of $25 made anonymously as a dedication to Fighting Squadron No. 30, now serving somewhere in the Pacific.

In addition to the Slaton figures, new subscriptions reported Monday to Glenn Hess, drive treasurer, totaled $5,038.80.

$70,081 In Actual Cash

The money actually turned in to him, and not including anything from Slaton, was $70,081.19. The Slaton money will not be cleared through the drive treasurer, but all other contributions in the county will be.

As the drive stood late Monday, including all reports, $72,406.19 had been raised. To complete the $78,500 quota, $6,093.81 still was needed.

No reports at all have been

Ten Men Killed, 16 Hurt In Explosion

CAMP ROBINSON, Ark., March 13. (AP)—Ten enlisted men were killed and 16 injured, six critically, here today in an explosion at a surface mine school demonstration on the northern limits of this reservation, the camp public relations office announced.

The soldiers were engaged in the installation and removal of various types of mines and cause of the explosion was not determined, the announcement said.

All the soldiers involved were members of the 652nd Tank Destroyer battalion, attached to Fourth Army special troops. The battalion is commanded by Lt. Col. Gerald D. Albrecht.

The injured are receiving treatment at the camp base hospital. Names of the dead and injured were withheld pending molification of relatives.

READY FOR DISCHARGE

LONDON, March 13 (AP)—Civilian outfits for 1,000,000 men, complete from hats to shoes, have been ordered by the ministry of supply for free distribution to British soldiers when they are demobilized.

Ground Operations In Italy Stalled

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, March 13. (AP) — Ground operations in Italy have come to an almost complete standstill, with both sides so deeply mired in clinging Italian mud that only the opposing artillery is able to maintain the battle.

Allied artillery put in a heavy day yesterday shelling German troop concentrations and gun positions around the rim of the Anzio beachhead, considerably increasing its volume of fire, but otherwise action was limited strictly to aerial campaign against Field Marshal Albert Kesselring's supply lines.

British Beaufighters hit two German supply ships off the Spanish coast, beaching one and leaving the other in sinking condition, an announcement said.

Floyd County Over Red Cross Quota

FLOYDADA, March 13. (Special)—Despite the fact that Floyd county Saturday exceeded its Red Cross war found goal, contributions still were coming in today, according to R. E. Fry, county campaign chairman.

The county's goal was $6,500 and Saturday it had been surpassed by more than a thousand dollars.

CHILDREN DIE IN FIRE

BATH, Me., March 13. (AP)—Two little brothers perished and a third was critically burned when fire levelled their home in a government housing project in this shipyard city tonight. The victims were Neil, 5, and Dale, one and a half, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Norman McLeod.

New Orders On Draft Expected

WASHINGTON, March 13. (AP) —Complaints from war factories that selective service is taking their young, highly skilled "key men" rather than draft fathers may lead President Roosevelt to take remedial action, it was reported tonight.

Paul V. McNutt, director of the War Manpower commission, told reporters late today the President might soon issue a statement clarifying deferment policy.

McNutt termed the drain on industrial manpower "a serious situation" but gave no details of the anticipated announcement. Other sources indicated, however, it would make absolutely clear that fathers are to get no special consideration on deferments.

Draft Board Tendency

This, WMC officials said, would check what they described as the tendency of local draft boards to attempt to meet their draft calls by cancelling deferments of young men who hold key posts in war industry, rather than draft the fathers of pre-Pearl Harbor children.

It also was reported Mr. Roosevelt would recommend creation of government machinery to insure protection of essential war production employers who cannot find replacements for skilled men taken into the Army.

TACTFUL PEOPLE

A DEFINITION of tact usually is merely the perception of what to do and say under delicate or difficult circumstances.

Being neither very tactful nor diplomatic, we are always interested in watching those who are work a charm with everyone around them.

One cannot be tactful unless he thinks about other persons, what they like, what they think and cares about their feelings and rights more than about his own.

The best example of tact we have heard is the story of the Irishman who, upon picking up a set of false teeth that had fallen out of a woman's mouth, handed them back to her with this remark: "Here is a brooch you dropped, lady."

POSTWAR WONDER

SOMETIMES we dream of the wonders promised in the postwar world, although we agree with the soldier who recently warned his countrymen against too many plans for a peaceful era that is still a long way off.

Anyway, here is a possibility after the last gun has sounded and the last war plane has been flown. You've heard of the walkie-talkie—a portable radio which makes it possible to communicate with people some distance away.

In the postwar world there may be a smaller adaptation of it, which Mr. Man can carry in his pocket. As he rushes for his bus, he might whip it out, press a button which would connect with a similar device on his wife's kitchen shelf and say: "What was it you wanted me to bring home tonight dear, chops or a steak?"

Girls over 17 and one-half years of age and women (no maximum) who are not employed in essential industry and who can qualify for a position as a typist, stenographer, clerk, accountant or auditor are being urged to consider the opportunity. Civil service examinations will be given by the young Washington women who are here to get workers to relieve men for the fighting front.

"The Navy department pays the way of the worker to Washington and housing is reserved before she leaves home," Miss Ward said. "There is a placement section to enable the girl to be used at her maximum skill."

SPAAF Leaps Ahead Of Red Cross Goal

South Plains Army Air field went over the top in the 1944 Red Cross war fund campaign at the field Monday afternoon with contributions reaching $6,167.78, surpassing last week's total by more than $1,000 and well past this year's quota of $6,000, which Red Cross officials set at the field.

A big three night Red Cross carnival in the SPAAF post recreation hall over the week end helped boost contributions over the goal with civilian and military personnel pitching in with $2,853.81 for the three nights.

Red Cross officials Monday afternoon announced figures on contributions for the 1944 War Fund campaign.

The carnival brought in $2,853.81, enlisted men contributed $1,469.47, civilian workers at SPAAF gave $896.50, and officers have contributed or pledged a total of $948. Of this total, $819 has been pledged and will be deducted from officers' pay the latter part of the month.

Four-H Club Council Will Meet Saturday

The Lubbock county 4-H club council will meet in regular session in the district court room of the court house here Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, according to Raymond King, assistant county farm agent.

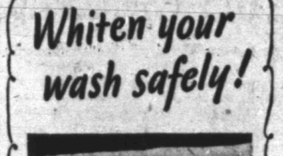

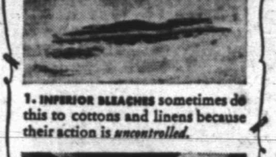

Delegates from the 15 clubs in the county will be on hand for the meeting. The 15 clubs, which have a membership of approximately 400 boys, are as follows: Frenship, Slaton junior and senior, Roosevelt junior and senior, New Deal junior and senior, Cooper, Becton, Posey, Shallowater, Estacado, Idalou junior, senior and Sunshine clubs.

King said that emphasis would be placed on the "food fights for freedom" program.

Loans Planned On Commodities

War Food Administrator Marvin Jones has announced the 1944 schedule of support prices for farm products, according to Walter Y. Wells, secretary of the Lubbock County Agricultural Conservation association. This schedule is substantially the same as proposed on Jan. 26 for most products. These proposals were made contingent upon action by the Congress making provision for carrying out the support price program. The action has been taken and the price schedules now become effective.

It is planned to carry out the support price programs through loans, purchases of commodities for military, Lend-Lease, and other government uses, and, for some commodities, direct payments to farmers or processors.

Loans Are Planned

The support price programs will include the loans required for the basic commodities — corn, wheat, cotton, rice, and tobacco — by the act of Oct. 1, 1942, Wells said.

None-recourse loans at 85 per cent of the parity price as of July 1, 1944, will be made available to farmers on wheat stored on farms or in warehouses, he said. A specific schedule of loan rates, with differentials for location, grade, and quality, will be announced at a later date. The loans will be available until Dec. 31, 1944 and will mature on April 30, 1945, or earlier upon demand.

Will Purchase Wheat

The War Food administration will also buy wheat at the loan rates from farmers who are unable to ship to their normal markets, provided local storage is not available and the administration owns bins in which the purchased wheat may be stored.

Non-recourse loans on American Upland cotton produced in 1944 and stored on farms or in warehouses will be made available to farmers at 90 per cent of the parity price as of Aug. 1, 1944. The basis loan rate will be for middling ⅞ inch cotton, with appropriate premiums and discounts for other qualities and differentials according to location.

To Support Peanuts

Peanuts produced in 1944 will be supported, Wells said, at base prices to farmers of $160 per ton for Spanish, Virginia and Valencia types and $145 per ton for Runner types and 70 per cent in the case of Spanish types. Premiums and discounts will be established for other qualities.

Non-recourse loans on grain sorghums stored on farms or in warehouses will be made available to farmers. The loan rate for grain sorghums grading No. 2 or better will be 95 cents per bushel in Texas. Discounts from this rate will be made for lower grades. A deduction of 7 cents per bushel will be made on warehouse-stored grain sorghum unless the producer has paid the storage charges through April 30, 1945. The loans are now available and will mature on June 30, 1945, or earlier upon demand, he said.

Meeting On Sugar Beets Is Scheduled

C. W. Briggs of Rocky Ford, Colo., representative of the American Crystal Sugar company, was in Lubbock Monday making plans for a meeting to be held in the Extension Service building, Fourteenth street and Avenue Q, Thursday night at 8 o'clock, at which time farmers will be urged to raise more beets.

"Due to the increased demand for sugar," Briggs said, "the farmers of the Southwest are urged to raise beets to increase the supply of sugar in this nation."

H. E. Knapp, manager of the Rocky plant of the company, will be the principal speaker at the meeting and anyone interested in the subject are cordially invited to attend.

Briggs added that if a sufficent amount of acreage is devoted to the raising of sugar beets in this county, an experienced man will be sent here to aid farmers in planning their crops and problems connected with it.

Davis Offers Suggestions For Management And Labor

DETROIT, March 13. (AP)—Asserting that he favored a minimum of governmental interference in the problems of labor relations, William H. Davis, chairman of the National War Labor board, said today he believed management and labor advantageously could begin now a careful study of the scope of collective bargaining in its non-wage aspects.

Addressing a meeting of the Economic club of Detroit, he said:

"There is no doubt in my mind that one of the greatest impediments to collective bargaining between management and workers is fear in the minds and hearts of both sides."

Eight General Suggestions

Davis offered eight general suggestions to help "speedy victory in the war and at the same time build up sound industrial relations for the post-war period." he summarized them as follows:

"1. Live up to your contracts and make them work.

"2. Install arbitration as the final stage in your contract's grievance procedure.

"3. If you already have grievance machinery be sure you utilize it in all disputes.

"4. If your contract is about to terminate, extend it until you have negotiated a new one or until the regional board has rendered its decision.

"5. Employers should not cause dissension in their plants by challenging the right of a duly certified union to represent their employees in collective bargaining.

"6. The same holds for unions and their raiding tacts, of course. . . . Let's leave the raiding to the Navy's task forces, which seem to be quite expert at it.

Sincere Negotiation

"7. When negotiating new contracts, or revising old contracts, make a sincere effort to negotiate a settlement.

"8. Above all, employers should impress upon their foremen, superintendents and others supervisors that you don't build tanks or guns or anything else by fomenting quarrels with your employees; that the way to get better labor relations is to treat the employees like human beings. And, of course, that goes for the employees' side, too. . . . Labor leaders must not play politics by manufacturing grievances in the plants."

"With a few noisy exceptions leaders of industry and labor during the war have settled their differences at the conference table or through the WLB. . . . Let us hope they will substitute the conference table for the picket line or lockout after the war," Davis concluded.

Kenneth Dixon

farms instead of ranches, and they grow green grass and grain and vegetables instead of sagebrush, but the similarity still strikes you everywhere.

In the tiny towns and villages along the island's southern slope adobe buildings perch up hard against the narrow streets, leaving little or no room for sidewalks. The spaces between the buildings are filled in with adobe walls. Sometimes the adobe is covered with a form of plaster and painted, and sometimes left with the raw mud and straw mix sticking out in the sun.

Out in the country you notice the difference in the cactus. Instead of growing wild as in the Southwest it lines the roads and is used by the farmers for field fences. Standing about shoulder high, it serves the same prickly purpose as hedge fences on midwestern farms.

They have another use for the cactus leaf which is about three times the size of a big man's hand and the same shape. Truck farmers use them as protection for young and tender plants. Rows and rows of the cactus leaves can be seen in the truck patches, propped up to shield the seedlings from the elements.

Sh amongst the fields are occasional olive groves as well as pasture lands where flocks of sheep graze peacefully ignoring the jeeps and trucks which rattle along the road and the planes which roar overhead.

In the distance the snow-capped mountains provide a problem for the pilots who sweep back and forth across the Tyrrhenian sea on bombing missions over northern Italy.

Along the flat lands which stretch from the foothills of the mountains are the tents and barracks of the men who fly the planes and the men who keep them flying.

But also along those plains are the Sardinian houses and villages. As you go by and see the people slouching in the sun, leaning or standing with their backs against the adobe walls, you have to shake yourself to realize you are on an island in a war zone and not in some South Texas town.

Retail Sales Increase In Nation In January

WASHINGTON, March 13. (U.P.)—Chain store and retail mail order house sales in January were about $1,100,000,000, or five per cent above those of the corresponding last year, the Department of Commerce reported today.

The report said a number of chain trades experienced less than the usual seasonal decline from December to January. The seasonally adjusted index of the combined trades advanced from 164 in December to 176 in January (1935-39 equals 100). The January level was shown to be the same as February, 1943, when chain store activity was at a record high.

News Briefs

The county tax assessor-collector's department announced Monday afternoon only 2,003 passenger, 197 commercial and 142 farm vehicles registrations had been issued for 1944—as compared with the approximately 19,000 registrations of all kinds to be issued through April 1 deadline. H. B. Bryan, assessor-collector, urged haste.

The War department announced Monday the names of two West Texans missing in action: Second Lt. Victor A. Brokman, son of Frank J. Brokman of Nazareth, and T/Sgt. Hubert H. Waldrop, son of Mrs. Fleda C. Waldrop of Canyon. Lt. Brokman was in the Mediterranean, Sgt. Waldrop in the European area.

Facts and figures concerning the motion picture industry were given by Morgan (Tiny) Duval, a representative of the Lindsey theaters here, at the luncheon of the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce Monday noon in the Chimayo room of the Hilton hotel. Duval, who is secretary of the Jaycee's, presided at the luncheon in the absence of Ray Blackwell, acting president.

The following 17-year-old boys, who had enlisted in the Marine Corps reserve, have been called to active duty: Harold L. Bearden, son of B. B. Bearden, 1418 Avenue C, Lubbock; William C. Edwards, son of Mrs. May Bell Bradford, Paducah; Jimmie W. Chapman, son of Mrs. J. V. Chapman, Littlefield; James S. Goldsmith, son of C. S. Goldsmith, Borger; William T. Blalock, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Blalock, Phillips. The announcement was made Monday by S/Sgt. Charles G. Baker of the Marine Corps recruiting office in the federal building here.

An iron fell off an ironing board and burned a hole completely through the floor, firemen said, after answering an alarm at 6:22 o'clock Monday night from 1947 Avenue N.

Four Indictments Are Returned In Hockley

LEVELLAND, Mar. 13 (Special) With the first negro ever to serve on a Hockley county grand jury as a member, a 72nd district grand jury today reported to Judge Dan Blair, four indictments naming two men.

Two indictments each were returned against W. E. Owens, of Tahoka, and J. L. O'Neal, of Seymour, alleging theft of grain from Hockley county farmers.

The jury adjourned to be recalled June 5, according to District Attorney Burton S. Burks. T. J. Woolam of Smyer is foreman.

Cases against Owens and O'Neal were set for trial March 27.

The negro, whose name was unavailable, lives at Anton.

Owens is alleged to have taken grain from Hoyt Hammill, who lives northwest of Levelland, and G. C. Campbell, who at the time of the theft lived southwest of Levelland. O'Neal is charged with having taken grain from a Mr. Carruthers and Oliver Jones.

Red Cross Drive

made on the drives in three of the rural school districts. Partial reports only have been made in the other three—Idalou, Cooper and Shallowater. Final reports also still are to be made on the city of Lubbock and the two air bases, while a great deal of work still remains to be done in Slaton.

Among the new subscriptions announced through Treasurer Hess late Monday, $827.29 came from Cooper Rural High school, $1,444.63 was reported from Shallowater district by Mrs. D. R. Weber, chairman, and $70 came from the pupils of Sanders Sunday school.

Shallowater Rally

Mrs. Weber announced that the drive in Shallowater district will reach a climax Friday night at 8 o'clock at a big rally in the high school gymnasium, which will be featured by a basketball game between the Shallowater women Independents and the LAAF WACs.

Shallowater's goal is $2,100. Members of the campaign committee, additional to Mrs. Weber, are Mrs. L. B. Rice, Mrs. A. C. Wright, Joe Shooter, Glen Blackmon, Roe Marr, Mrs. A. R. Shipp, Mrs. A. A. Greer and Earl and Esdell Merrell.

An event of tonight at 8:30 in the drive will be a rally in Roosevelt High school auditorium at which Chaplain Randall T. Miller of LAAF will speak and motion pictures will be shown.

German Prisoner Is Found Hanged

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 13. (AP)—Col. A. H. Means, commandant of the prisoner of war camp near here, announced today that a German prisoner was found hanged last night.

Colonel Means declined further details, saying that a board of inquiry had been appointed to investigate the matter.

Registration On Rent Control Set

Announcement was made Monday by Earl W. Heath, area rent director for the Lubbock Office of Price Administration, that the area rent office here, 1415 Avenue Q, would be opened to registrants Monday, March 20.

Owners of rental property are required to register this property as provided for in the Emergency Price Control act of 1942. The city of Lubbock has been divided into six zones. Landlords with property in Zone No. 1 will register this property on Monday and Tuesday, March 20 and 21, one No. 2 the next two days, etc.

Zones Are Announced

Heath pointed out that a landlord who has property in more than one zone will register all of his property at one time.

The zoning of the city and the dates for registration is as follows:

Zone No. 1. (Monday and Tuesday, March 20 and 21) Avenue Q to College; Fourth street to Nineteenth street.

Zone No 2 (Wednesday and Thursday, March 22 and 23.) Avenue Q to College; Nineteenth street to Thirty-fourth street.

Zone No. 3 (Friday and Saturday, March 24 and 25.) College to Tyler Avenue; Nineteenth street to Thirty-fourth street.

Schedule Is Tentative

Zone No. 4. (Monday and Tuesday, March 27 and 28.) Avenue Q east to the limits; Nineteenth street south to the city limits.

Zone No. 5. (Wednesday and Thursday, March 29 and 30.) Bounded by Nineteenth street on the south, Avenue Q to Fourth street on the west, where it makes a jog to Avenue P on Fourth street, and takes in all the area north and east of those boundaries.

Zone No. 6. (Friday and Saturday, March 31 and April 1.) Avenue P west to the city limits; Fourth street north to the city limits.

The above schedule of dates for registration is tentative and subject to change, Heath said. The public is asked to watch the newspapers for any change in dates.

Slaton Registration Provided

The office will be open from 9 a. m., to 5 p. m., each day, he added.

He said that a place has been provided in Slaton for registrants in that community, but all property owners in other communities will register in the Lubbock office, and may register on any day. These landlords are advised, however, to register during the first days for registration.

he said.

Winchell, commenting on a 10,000-word speech against the Roosevelt administration today by Rep. Hoffman, said "it's the same old stuff; Hoffman must have lost his gag writer."

The Michigan congressman suggested that the FBI investigate Winchell and columnist Drew Pearson.

"A most important thing is that these men keep popping off against citizens," Winchell commented. "They never speak against a couple of guys named Tojo and Hitler.

"These congressmen make the laws, can change the laws, and frequently are the first to break the laws. I have repeatedly asked to be brought to Washington for questioning. Why don't they do something?"

Sterling Parrish To Seek Senate Post

AUSTIN, March 13. (AP)—Announcing his candidacy here today for the place his father occupied in the Texas Senate from 1929-1933, Sterling Parrish, son of the late State Sen. Pink L. Parrish of Lubbock, became the first publicly announced candidate for the office.

His father was the largest man ever to be a member of the Texas Senate and Sterling equals his father in size. He has many of the late senator's mannerisms. He refers to Pink L. Parrish, jr., as his "little" brother. He was small enough to enter the Navy.

The senatorial district includes 24 large West Texas counties. Present senator is Marshall Formby of McAdoo, an officer in the Army after enlistment as a private.

Big Damage Reported In Red Bomber Raid

LONDON, Tuesday, March 14 (AP)—Russian bombers in a recent attack on Reval (Tallinn), Estonian capital, set fires visible for 150 miles amid German troop trains, fuel dumps, a chemical factory, and also attacked ships in the harbor, said a Moscow broadcast-communique recorded by the Soviet monitor today.

Five Russian planes failed to return to their base, the bulletin added.

Darrow Fails To Keep His Tryst For Sixth Time

CHICAGO, March 13 (AP)—Clarence Darrow's spirit missed its sixth annual date with destiny today.

At 12:30 p. m. (central war time) six years to the minute since Darrow's death, Claude P. Noble, Detroit magician and spiritualist, stood on a bridge in Jackson Park over a lagoon in which the ashes of the great criminal lawyer had been scattered.

For the sixth time in as many years, he held out a copy of Irving Stone's "Clarence Darrow for the Defense," recited the Lord's Prayer and said: "Clarence Darrow, I am here in fulfillment of our pact and if you can manifest yourself, please do it now."

Nothing happened.

Darrow, Noble and Thurston, the magician made the pact in 1934. On April 13, Noble will kneel before the crypt in Columbus, O., where Thurston was buried in 1936 to repeat the experiment.

Reds Smashing On

within 30 miles of Nikolaev on the north, moving down both sides of the Ingul river. Odessa, the ultimate major prize, is the funnel through which hte Germans must reatreat along the Black Sea coast into Rumania over inferior rail routes unless they can stop the Soviet juggernaut.

Crimea Isolated

Sixty-five miles southeast of captured Kherson lies the Crimean peninsula, isolated by the Russian mainland advance last fall. Presumably the German garrisons there have been left to wither although Soviet amphibious forces hold toeholds near Kerch on the eastern end of the peninsula.

Stalin especially praised pontoon bridge builders in his commendation of the victorious Red Army units. Those Soviet engineers spanned the wide lower Dnieper river last Friday near Berislav, allowing assault forces to cross, capture Berislav on Saturday, and then smash on down the west bank of the river 44 miles into Kherson. Stalin ordered 20 salvoes from 224 Moscow cannon to celebrate the fall of the two cities.

Three-Pronged Drive

At three points the Russians were threatening the approaches to Rumania — at newly-captured Skalat, 20 miles southeast of Tarnopol in the southeastern corner of old Poland, south of Proskurov rail junction in the west Ukraine, and at Gaivoron on the banks of the middle Bug river.

For the second time Moscow failed to mention the progress of the bloody street fighting at Tarnopol.

(The Polish telegraph agency said the Germans, "without an attempt at concealment, had massacred more than 10,000 persons at Lwow, 75 miles west of Tarnopol, and were burning their bodies in preparation for evacution. The victims were declared to have included a whole trainload of Russian women and children seized on Soviet soil and various Italian officers and men who refused to continue fighting the Red Army, as well as Jews and Poles.)

Incredible Speed

The Russians under Gen. Malinovsky and Marshals Gregory K. Zhukov and Ivan S. Konev were reported striking ahead with incredible speed despite the muddy Ukraine terrain, slashing the few rail routes left to the beleaguered hundreds of thousands of Germans in lower Russia, and taking a terrific toll of Nazi lives and equipment.

Malinovsky's men were declared to have killed or captured 22,500 Germans between March 6 and 12. Thus, in little over a week, the three Russian armies have slain 65,000 Germans and captured nearly 9,000 on the basis of Moscow announcements. On the same basis the Russians have taken a toll of approximately 350,000 Germans killed and 40,000 captured during their major offensives of the 1943-44 winter.

Huge German Losses

The pace of the Russian advance suggested that the Germans were retreating methodically toward the Black Sea coast for an escape into Rumania. But the Russians declared the enemy was suffering huge losses both in men and equipment. As an example of the equipment losses, the communique said Malinovsky's men alone in a week had destroyed 115 tanks, 64 of the big "Ferdinand" self-propelled guns, 390 other guns, 230 mortars, 950 machine-guns, 68 armored cars and troop carriers, 67 tractors, and 3,830 trucks.

In the same period the Russians said Malinovsky's men captured 87 tanks; 50 self-propelled guns, 338 field guns; 142 mortars; 1,077 machine-guns, 8,300 rifles; 48 armored cars; 121 tractors; 5,342 trucks; 27 locomotives; 242 freight cars and 63 ammunition and supply dumps.

Rodeo Officials Are Selected

FORT WORTH, March 13. (AP)—The National Rodeo association today elevated Floyd B. Rigdon, Carlsbad, N. M. publisher, to the presidency, elected other officers and named directors.

Rigdon, formerly first vice president, succeeds Scott D. Hamilton of Little Rock, Ark.

Ralph R. Wolf of Waco, second vice president, was raised to the first vice presidency, Roy E. Evans of Dodge City, Kan., was named second vice president and C. A. Studer of Canadian, Texas, was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Incorporation Planned

Hamilton and John B. Davis, manager of the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock show, were elected to the directorate. Re-elected directors were James O. Selman, Woodward, Okla.; Allyn D. Finch, Dalhart; George P. Gilbert, Sidney, Iowa; Clyde Byrd, Little Rock; Emmett C. Roberts, Strong City, Kan., and Roy Parks, Midland.

The association voted to incorporate the organization under the laws of Texas as a non-profit institution designed to encourage cowboy sports and to formulate standard rules for rodeo contests.

Annual championship awards of the association, determined Sunday were made at Monday night's rodeo performance at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat stock show rodeo by Hamilton.

Top award goes to Louis Brooks of Pittsburg, Okla., who was named all-round cowboy by the NRA on the basis of winning during the 1943 season. He also draws bareback bronc riding awards. Amye Gamblin of Wilson, Okla., takes the calf-roping award, Andy Curtis of El Reno, Okla., the saddle bronc award, Buck Jones of Wichita Falls, the steer-wrestling prize, Fuzzy Garner of Canute, Okla., the bull-riding prize, and Everett Shaw of Stonewall, Okla., an award for single steer roping. Twenty-fifth place, a consolation award, goes to Dee Burk of Comanche, Okla., now a soldier at Fort Sill.

Former Southland Resident Dies Here

J. S. Boyd, 77, a resident of Southland 27 years, died at 6:15 o'clock Monday night in Lubbock General hospital.

Funeral services will be conducted at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon at the South Side Church of Christ, with Ministers Guy N. Woods and Otis Gatewood of the Broadway Church of Christ, officiating. Burial will be in a local cemetery.

Mr. Boyd, who came to Lubbock five months ago and lived at 1517 Twenty-fifth street, was the father of S. O. Boyd, night chief of police. He was a retired farmer.

He is survived by his wife; three sons, S. O., H. D. of Fort Worth, A. D. of Lubbock; four daughters, Mrs. Tom Farrow, of Fort Worth, Mrs. Bjll Dabbs, of Hobbs, N. M., Mrs. J. W. Calvert, of Lubbock, Mrs. H. W. Stotts, of Lubbock; one brother and three sisters.

Arrangements are in charge of Sanders Funeral home.

Three Germans Held On Espionage Charge

SANTIAGO, Chile, March 13 (AP)—Else von Flaten, former employe of the German embassy, has been arrested on an espionage charge, government authorities announced today.

Police said they found many espionage papers, including instructions to spies in Chile, in her possession.

Two other arrests of Germans on espionage charges were announced yesterday. Juan Moller was seized along with a radio transmitter found in his home, and Maximo Kutzner was arrested at Valparaiso with $9,000 in bills on his person. As a result of Kutzner's statement five other persons were seized, and Juan Westermeyer, a physician at the military hospital, was suspended by the minister of defense.

Measles Win Verdict Over Daniel Cupid

ELLINGTON FIELD, Tex., March 13. (U.P.)—Measles and marriage don't mix, Aviation Cadet Harry J. O'Brien said today.

O'Brien had a fine wedding party planned. The minister was notified, the ring was ready, and the flowers were ordered.

Then, his bride-to-be, Miss Savilla Smith, en route from her home at Port Jefferson, N. Y., wired from St. Louis, Mo., that the wedding would have to wait.

"I'm in a hospital, isolated, with measles," she telegraphed.

"Gosh, I sure hope she gets over the measles in time to marry me before Saturday," said O'Brien, whose home is Philadelphia.

"I have to ship out then. But, of course, we could be married later at my new station."

both sides of the battle line," the spokesman added.

The communique, announcing that the two nations are exchanging ambassadors said:

"Following a wish officially expressed some time ago on the part of Italy, the government of the U.S.S.R. and the royal Italian government had agreed to establish direct relations between the two countries.

"In compliance with this decision, the two countries will proceed without delay to the exchange of representatives enjoying the usual diplomatic status."

Proof Of Good Will

The Badoglio spokesman said that "the new Italy", during the nearly six months she has passed as a co-belligerent with the United Nations, "has given conclusive proof of her good will, her loyalty and her decided and firm intention of total cooperation with the United Nations."

"Italy and Russia," he added, "realistically take stock of these circumstances and draw therefrom no less realistically the obvious measures which represent indeed the necessary pre-requisites of a truly constructive policy."

In further commenting on the diplomatic exchange the spokesman said that it is "unnecessary, and might indeed at the present be untimely, to dwell on the implications of this event in regard to the present Italian situation."

Most Tragic Moment

The Italian people, the spokesman said, will not forget that Russia "stretches out her hand . . . in one of the most tragic moments of their history."

(Russia's action in diplomatically recognizing the Badoglio regime was in line with a similar step taken last August when the Soviet Union gave fuller recognition to the French committee of national liberation than was given by either the United States or Britain.

(While the United States and Britain gave the committee only limited wartime recognition as an administrative agency in the French overseas territories which acknowledged its authority, the Russian government said the group would be recognized as the representatives of the state interests of the French republic and as the leader of the interests of the French republic and of all the French patriots fighting against the Hitlerite tyranny.")

WASHINGTON SURPRISED AND GREATLY INTERESTED

WASHINGTON, March 13. (AP)—Washington diplomatic quarters heard with intense interest and no little surprise today that Russia had decided to exchange ambassadors with the Italian government of Premier Marshal Pietro Badoglio.

Several questions arose immediately:

Does Russia's decision have the effect of strengthening the Badoglio government?

In order to maintain equal representation with Russia should the United States and Britain also exchange ambassadors with Badoglio?

Does an exchange of ambassadors have the result of recognizing Italy as a full ally rather than a co-belligerent?

Apparently official quarters had no advance word of the impending exchange. Present British and American policy is based on dealing with the Badoglio government, under King Vittorio Emanuele, through the Allied armistice control commission, which sees that Italy abides by the Sept. 8 armistice terms. The commission is subject to the Allied military command, representing this country, Britain and Russia.

overcast that the Germans are compelled to send up fighters, which are engaged by sharp-shooting Liberator and Fortress gunners.

The Germans definitely have been forced into a rigorous policy of conserving planes, pulling back to the Reich much of the force that used to pitch into any Allied venture into France.

Attacks Doing Well

The two-edged American onslaught seems to be proceeding well. On two Berlin attacks last week when the Germans could send their fighters up, 301 of them were shot down—in addition to the extensive industrial damage done by the bombs — against a loss of 106 bombers and 26 fighters.

German combat losses now are reported by the U. S. Strategic Air force to be greater than their replacement ability, so it is only a matter of time, under the present trend, until the luftwaffe is downed.

passionate feeling toward Eire, whose own press as well as that of Britain was avoiding any high tone of anger. But it was clear that the supreme Allied leadership was nevertheless determined to deal quickly and thoroughly with the whole problem of the presence of enemy informers in Eire.

American and British action already taken, as well as that probably contemplated, was flavored more with the military considerations of the forthcoming opening of the western front than with any diplomatic or political considerations.

The British home office order last night suspended all travel, except in cases of greatest urgency, between Britain and Ireland, both northern Ireland and Eire. It was made just two days after Prime Minister Eamon De Valera made known his refusal to agree to the request of the United States that Japanese and German legations in Eire be closed.

Travel on Belfast-Dublin trains was restricted during the day almost wholly to soldiers and sailors in Mufti returning from leave. There was almost a total absence of ordinary traffic.

CANADA REFUSES PLEA OF AID FOR DE VELERA

OTTAWA, March 13. (AP)—Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King said today Canada had rejected a suggestion from Prime Minister Eamon De Valera that she use her influence to have withdrawn the United States' notes requesting the closing of German and Japanese diplomatic and consular offices in Eire.

The Canadian government was in full sympathy with the Washington request, King told the House of Commons.

Crash In Alabama Is Fatal To SPAAF Fliers

COURTLAND, Ala., March 13. (AP)—Three fliers were killed Saturday night when an Army utility cargo plane crashed two miles south of Decatur, Ala., according to information from the public relations at the Courtland Air base.

The dead: First Lt. Winston H. Lewis and Second Lt. Leonard D. Turk, both of Birmingham, and First Lt. Hiram J. Moore of Tarrant City, Ala.

Home station of the plane was the South Plains Army Air field at Lubbock, Tex. It was en route to Birmingham from Greenville, Miss., at the time of the crash.

DETAILS NOT AVAILABLE

No information was available on the crash from SPAAF Monday as details of the accident were not revealed, it was announced. A board of officers from Courtland field will investigate the crash.

Lt. Turk was the only married man of the trio, according to records at SPAAF. His wife resided in Birmingham. He was a pitcher on the SPAAF baseball team last year and graduated from the school.

Rabaul Wewak Pounded

American officers said a few days ago they believed the enemy was concentrating to make a suicidal atack on the Empress Augusta bay beachhead, which United States Marines established last Nov. 1 and later turned over to the Army.

Fifth Army Air force bombers with escort struck Wewak, the Japanese base on the northeast coast of New Guinea Sunday.

ARMY, NAVY HEAVIES BATTER WAKE AGAIN

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Pearl Harbor, March 13. (AP) — Army and Navy heavy bombers delivered a 50-ton bomb attack on Wake island on Saturday, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced today, while other American planes bombed Nauru island, and three enemy-held bases in the eastern Marshall islands.

There was no enemy air interception over any of the targets and all planes returned, the Central Pacific commander said in a press release.

Wake, hard hit in a two-day carrier and surface bombardment last October, has now undergone seven air attacks this year. The last previous one was on Feb. 28, when six enemy planes were destroyed or damaged on the island 2,300 statute miles west of Pearl Harbor. There were no details of last Saturday's slash at Wake, captured by the Japanese a few weeks after the war opened.

Tests Set Wednesday For Specialized Service Plan

The third college qualifying test for the Army specialized program and the Navy V-12 college program will be administered at Technological college and Lubbock Senior High school Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock, Dr. H. L. Kent, administrative assistant at Texas Tech, announced Monday.

Approximately 95 students will take the tests at the college, under the supervision of Dr. Lewis B. Cooper and Agnes True. No estimate was given as to the number of students taking the tests at the high school. Tests there will be under the supervision of Miss Grace Padley, guidance director at the school.

STIMSON APPEAL

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP)—Secretary of War Stimson today urged all eligible young men to take the examination on March 15 for the Army specialized training reserve program.

The examination, to be held throughout the nation in high schools and colleges, will determine who are qualified. Those accepted will get special training in colleges at Army expense until they reach the age for active military duty. The examinations are intended for high school graduates who will be not more than seventeen years and nine months old next July 1.

Stimson said "the Army's experience with such training in colleges has shown that it increases a man's fitness for his future duties as a soldier."

Others To Take Tests

A number of students from other schools in the county have signified desire to take the test.

Students between the ages of 17 to 19 inclusive, who are high school graduates or who will graduate on July 1, 1944, are eligible for the Navy test. Students between the ages of 17 and 21 inclusive are eligible for the Army test, Dr. Kent said. A leaflet of information which contains an admission identification form may be obtained at either of the schools.

The same examination will be taken by both Army and Navy candidates. It is designed to test aptitude and general knowledge. Candidates will be required to indicate on the day of the test their preference for the Army program or that of the Navy.

The purpose of the Army Specialized Training program is to provide technicians and specialists for the Army. Those selected for the program will study at government expense in colleges and universities sponsoring the Army program. They will be on active duty, in uniform and on regular Army pay. The number of students to be accepted has been greatly reduced by the decision of the Army recently to withdraw many such students and place them on active service.

The Navy V-12 program is to provide officers for the Navy, Marine Crops and Coast Guard. After a candidate is chosen for the program he will be sent to a college or university sponsoring the V-12 plan and will be on active duty, in uniform and subject to Navy discipline with Navy pay.

APPROVES EDITORIAL

Editor, The Avalanche: If I had not been so busy the last few days I would have written to you before this to convey my heartiest congratulations on your excellent editorial titled "An Explosive Proposition."

I have enjoyed reading this editorial and I find that it expresses very much the thought of many oil operators with regard to the subject.

I am sending your editorial to the Independent Petroleum Association of America because they are widely interested in this matter and will, no doubt, appreciate the fact that this editorial appeared in the leading newspaper of the West Texas-New Mexico Permian Basin area.

With best personal regards, I am,

Yours sincerely,

REA Administrator Accused By Wickard

WASHINGTON, March 13 (U.P.)—Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard today accused Harry Slattery, Rural Electrification administrator, of "untruthfulness" and added that "it is my opinion that his untruthfulness cannot be attributed to forgetfulness, but in most instances to self-interest."

Wickard told a Senate agriculture subcommittee that one of the reason's he sought to remove Slattery as REA head was because Slattery's "word cannot be relied upon."

Answering questions for the committee which he refused to discuss some time ago, he said that there was no question now but that President Roosevelt wanted him to speak without reservations.

Wickard said he came to the conclusion early in 1941 that "the REA program would be benefitted if the head of the organization were a person with greater administrative ability" than Slattery.

"In my personal dealings with Mr. Slattery numerous instances occurred wherein it was found that his word could not be relied upon," Wickard said. "His lack of veracity has likewise been mentioned to me by several individuals. It is my opinion that his untruthfulness cannot be attributed to forgetfulness, but in most instances to self-interest."

Smith Is To Run For Re-election

AUSTIN, March 13 (AP)—Lieut.-Gov. John Lee Smith today reiterated that he would be a candidate for Democratic re-nomination.

Smith declared: "I have no reason to have changed my mind."

He announced weeks ago that he would seek renomination.

In receint weeks he has been critical of Governor Coke R. Stevenson and Attorney General Grover Sellers on grounds their stands against the legality of a special session of the legislature to waive the poll tax for soldier voters was unconstitutional.

Opposes Officials' Views

Answering a question, Smith said today he opposed the governor's and attorney general's views on the subject because he felt that they were not upholding the constitution which they were by oath charged to support.

He declared further that the only free ballot available to soldiers was a state administered ballot and that federally administered soldier voting could not be considered an absolutely free vote.

Scotches Other Reports

Smith had been reported as a possible candidate for attorney general or governor in the Democratic primaries.

Governor Stevenson is expected soon to announce for renomination as is Sellers.

State officials who have announced for re-nomination are Railroad Commissioner Beauford Jester, land commissioner Bascom Giles, Agriculture Commissioner J. E. McDonald, Comptroller George H. Sheppard and State Superintendent of Public Instruction L. A. Woods.

AWARDED AIR MEDAL

HOUSTON, March 13. (AP)—Lt. (JG) William A. Nickelson, USNR, of Franklin, Tex., has been awarded the Air Medal for achievement as pilot of a dive bomber in combat against Japanese forces in the Solomon islands area from June 27, to July 23, 1943, the Navy announced today.

Red Raiders Launch Spring Football Monday, 32 Report

The Texas Tech Red Raiders donned football uniforms Monday afternoon and took the first workout of the spring football camp with 32 prospective gridders answering the call of Coach Dell Morgan.

Most of the afternoon was taken up with issuing the uniforms and very little real work was crowded into the first day's workout, but the boys did get in enough real work to find a few lads showing up well in the early stages of the camp.

A week of track work for the gridmen closed Saturday afternoon and left the boys in good shape for the start of football, and should eliminate the usual crop of sore muscles that usually hit spring football camps in the early stages.

The Red Raiders are well loaded with talent for every position on the team but centers. Just what will be done about filling this important post in the line remains to be seen.

Monday afternoon, Coach Morgan had three lads working at center posts with indications that they may be shifted into the pivot positions. One of these was Calvo Boydsun, a guard with the Red Raiders last season. Boydstun is from Sanger.

A tackle and an end were also taking turns at working at center with a strong possibility that Floyd Lawhorn, big tackle from Temple, will make a strong bid for the center position. Ed Turner, an end from Plains, also looms as a likely candidate for the shift to center.

Johnson Looks Good

Indications were Monday afternoon that Coach Morgan might have a real find in a youngster from Cooper High school for one of the backfield posts. Don Johnson,son of Jess Johnson, former high school coach at Burkburnett, ad vocatioal agriculture teacher at Cooper last year, was showing lots of pep and fire in the first workout Monday.

Coach Morgan had the youngster running at fullback and he was looking like a good prospect.

Fourteen veterans from the 1943 Red Raider squad were out Monday, and ready to battle for positions.

Coach Morgan indicated Monday that he expected "about 14 or 15 more" boys to report to the Red Raiders in the fall, and how many of the present squad will be available then remains a question.

Several of the boys will become "draft age" before fall, but most of the new comers on the squad are 16 and 17 year olds and very likely will be available when football season opens.

Data On Famed Star Proves Great Hobby

TEMPLE, March 13 (AP)—To her other distinctions, Mildred Babe Didrikson may now add that of having an M10 tank destroyer named for her at Camp Hood.

And standing by, looking with pleasure on this latest acknowledgment of the prowess of Texas' famed woman athlete, is the man who has been the Babe's biographer for 18 years.

It was in 1926 that Keith Quick, living on a farm near Palestine, Tex., saw a picture of the Babe playing a harmonica at a party to raise funds to buy sweaters for the Beaumont High School football team. He read about her athletic versatility and instantly became her admirer and biographer.

Years Of Work

For twelve years he saved "Didriksonania"—every scrap of information about her. In 1938 the Babe came to Palestine to see his collection, which today fills nine trunks. She was impressed and told him when her biography was written it would carry Keith Quick's by-line.

She gave him her clippings but he assured her there was no need for her to save them; he was spending an average of $15 a month in subscriptions to clipping bureaus all over the United States in addition to culling every magazine on the newsstands.

Even while he has been in the Army he has continued to collect "Babe items." Here at Camp Hood he has enlisted the aid of the librarian and everyone else he meets.

And from civilians and soldiers all over the country—and in foreign countries — he receives an average of 60 letters a month, each containing at least one "Babe item."

Plans Biography

Several years ago George Palmer Putnam, the publisher, heard about his collection and asked him to write a biography. He had completed a draft of the book when he got his induction notice; and since he wasn't satisfied with the work he's put it off for the duration.

Meanwhile he spreads the word: there is but one Babe, the greatest of all athletes. He passes it along through the pages of the Camp Hood newspaper, the Panther, of which he is sports editor.

And it's an infectious word.

Sergeant Ivan Smith of Eugene, Ore., before being transferred from the Panther to another camp, made arrangements with friends on the West Coast to collect "Babe items." Corporal Norman Perlstein of Hartford, Conn., fell to the extent of inducing a friend of his, a sports columnist on the Meriden Journal, to do a column on the Babe—and another "Babe item" was added to the collection. Then there was Private Wilfred Weiss of Trenton, N. J., who made a deal with Quick to have the exclusive right to do a magazine feature on the Quick Didriksonania.

And there are many more members of this association-of-fans-of-Babe-Didrikson, all paying their dues in "Babe items."

Volleyball Races Get Hot In City Schools

The Ward school volleyball races in Lubbock have grown "red hot" with the week's schedule to be centered on the clash this week of the undefeated girls teams of the Hunt and Dupree schools. The date for the meeting has not been set.

Only the Central Ward boys have remained unbeaten in the boys division, but are closely pressed by the George R. Bean boys who have lost only one setback and staying close on the heels of the two leaders.

The Roscoe Wilson and K. Carter teams tangle Thursday afternoon at the Lubbock High school gym in the only game of the week in which the date and site has been set.

Scholastic Entries Due In By March 15

AUSTIN, March 13. (AP)—Deadline for entries in conference meets for the University of Texas Interscholastic league is March 15, Roy Bedichek, director of the University league, said today.

All schools in Conference A and B must notify league headquarters here by Wednesday if they plan to participate in the conference meets scheduled this month and the week-end of April 1.

"This means entries in all activities in the league program—both athletic and literary," Bedichek emphasized.

Vets Ask For More Baseball

By WHITNEY MARTIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, March 13 — We have had forwarded to us recently three letters in which we were carefully taken apart, piece by piece, as a menace to sports. They really are lulus, with such loving descriptions as "sap" and "moronic mentality" just the openers.

Well, we long ago decided you can't please everyone, and even when you throw a verbal bouquets at somebody someone will write in and say the guy is a heel, and what do you mean by trying to build him up?

What interested us about these letters, all signed, however, was the source. They came from a veterans' hospital at Legion, Texas, and voiced objections to our frequently gloomy outlook toward pro sports, particularly baseball. We're guilty of that, but have never urged that baseball dry up for the duration, or even hinted that the players shouldn't be playing. We've just tried to paint the picture as we saw it, with the man-power situation making the future hazy, which it admittedly is.

Anyway, the source of these letters gives a new angle to the question of continuation of baseball in war time. Here are maimed victims of the first world war crying for the continuation of sports.

Wilbur Martin (no relation) of the San Antonio Express, who forwarded the letters, sizes up the situation expertly in his accompanying note. He writes:

"The men in this American Legion hospital are the crippled, diseased and gassed veterans of the last World war. They are so badly crippled they cannot make a living, dwelling continually in a pain-wracked world where their only bit of happiness is the interest they take in events known only to them through newspapers and radio.

"I think this is an indication of things to come. Most of these men have spent this entire period since the last World war in this hospital . . .

"It is to these men that sports owe a debt. And if the biggoted and narrow-minded who scream about this field continuing could see the pleasure just a simple box score brings to scores of persons, I believe their attitude would change.

"If the attitude of these men, 25 years after being wounded, is that there should be sports—and a bright side of presenting them—think what the fellows who are streaming back now—from the Pacific, Italy, Burma — think. Already it is proven that men overseas want sports and sports news."

Martin—the right Martin — is dead right. If afflicted victims of war see no wrong in able-bodied men playing ball now, and even urge that the game be continued, why should anyone else offer objections? Those boys, the ones in the hospitals, are due the first consideration. We still think the outlook is hazy, but we still hope the clubs will be able to struggle through some way.

CHISOX SIGN TWO

CHICAGO, March 13. (AP)—Grey Clarke, batting champion of the American association last season, has signed with the Chicago White Sox, Harry Grabiner, vice president of the club, announced today. The Sox also signed Bob Mistele, a righthanded pitcher of suburban Wheaton. Mistele was with St. Paul last season.

Baseball Camps Encounter Bad Weather For First Day

By HAROLD CLASSEN

NEW YORK, March 13 (AP)— Spring rains, spring thaws, a bit of spring fever and the ever present manpower complications greeted the players today as the Major Leagues began their third war-time training grind.

The two New York clubs, the world champion Yankees, in the American loop and the cellar-dwelling Giants of the National loop, were hardest hit during the day in the draft derby.

Mel Ott, opening his third term as boss of the Giants, told his players at Lakewood, N. J., between showers he had been reclassified 1-A but had no idea when he might be called up. Ott, 35 years old and a father, spent the past winter in a New Orleans shipyard.

Etten In 1-A

The Yankees, restricted to calisthenics at Atlantic City by rain, received word that first baseman Nick Etten, only expected returning regular of their 1943 infield, also had been classified 1-A. He said that he did not expected to be called for examination until mid-summer. Etten, however, reported to Manager Joe McCarthy.

Washington, assembling at College Park, Md., had to be content with a light drill in the University of Maryland armory when the thaw and rain made the diamond more suitable for mud-pies.

But it was a different story in Indiana. At Bloomington, Bill McKechnie routed his Cincinnati Reds out of bed at 7:30 a. m. and had them sweating in the Hoosier fieldhouse by 9 a. m. To get his hirelings in the proper collegiate atmosphere, he opened the session with a pep talk.

At nearby LaFayette, Lou Boudreau of the Cleveland Indians assigned Russ Peters to second base and shifted Jimmy Grant, an infielder in recent years, to the outfield. Mike Naymick, six-foot, eight-inch right handed pitcher, was the first Indian to appear on the practice field in uniform.

Mack Works Pitchers

At Frederick, Md., Connie Mack and five coaches were occupied by sending six pitchers through their early paces. The flingers included Fred Peeler, up from Salisbury, N. C., and Bert Kuczynski, former Penn State athlete and lately of the Marines.

Herb Pennock, general manager of the Philadelphia Nationals, issued an ultimatum to outfielder Ron Northey, who returned an unsigned contract. Northey, a pipe-fitter's helper at Camden, N. J., was told that the "next move is up to you. We have offered our limit."

Branch Rickey, chief of the Brooklyn Dodgers, provided some good news. He reported that Curt Davis, veteran right hander, had agreed to terms and Ott countered the announcement of his reclassification with one that Cliff Melton and Harry Feldman, both hurlers, had initialed their contracts.

The Chicago, Boston and St. Louis clubs of both leagues won't begin their rehearsals until later. The Detroit Tigers start their unkinking process at Evansville, Ind., tomorrow and the Dodgers take up at Bear Mountain, N. Y., Wednesday. Pittsburgh's opening is slated for Thursday.

Bear Wolf Releases Contract With NCU

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., March 13. (AP) — Lt. Raymond (Bear) Wolf, head football coach at the University of North Carolina, who is on leave with the Navy, has released the athletic council from his contract, to permit the university "to supplant its war-depleted staff and continue a creditable football program."

The announcement was made tonight by Athletic Director R. A. Fetzer, after the council accepted Wolf's "generaus action" with a tribute to his "fine work."

His contract has three years to run.

Coach Wolf's action clears the way for the athletic council to consider a head coach for next fall.

Wolf came here from Texas Christian in 1936.

During the last year he was director of physical fitness at the preflight school at the University of Texas.

Huffman Named As Track Coach

KEESLER FIELD, BILOXI, MISS., Mar. 13—First Lt. George Berl Huffman, former athletic coach at Texas Tech, has been appointed track coach at Keesler Field, local Army Air Force Training Command station.

Huffman held a similar position at Texas Tech as well as serving as basketball coach and backfield coach on the football squad. He is director of physical training at Keesler Field. He coached the 1943 Keesler Commando football team which lost only to the strong Arkansas A. & M. eleven.

Others named at the head of athletic teams were First Lt. Herman Rohrig, Lincoln, Neb., former University of Nebraska football and baseball star, as head baseball coach, and named First Lt. Carl Sears of Tulsa, Okla., as head coach of softball.

Sears has long been associated with sports in the Big Six, Southwest and Missouri Valley conferences.

Huffman started his coaching career at White Deer in 1930 after graduating from Trinity University. He came to Lubbock High School in 1931 where he remained until taking the job at Texas Tech in 1935. He played high school athletics at Grapevine, Texas.

Cagers Set Stage For Playoff Scrap

The 498th Squadron cagers and the 84th Squadron five outscored strong foes Monday night at the Lubbock Army Air Field gym, and cleared the deck for their "battle of the year" Thursday night when the two teams will meet to break the tie for the last half title.

The 498th Squadron outscored the Finance Department cagers, 50 to 45, in the first game in a battle that proved to be a real thriller, and in doubt until the final minutes. In the second game, the 84th Squadron also came through with a close, high scoring victory over the 495th Squadron, 47 to 43.

In both games, it was the losers that provided the scoring leaders of the night.

Loserss Pace Scoring

In the opener, McNelly and Reese of the Finance club accounted for 35 of their teams 45 points as McNelly poured 18 points through the hoop and Reese accounting for the other 17.

Norman Volz set the pace in the attack of the winners, getting 12 points while Taylor, his team mate, helped him along with 11 more.

The two teams thundered up to the halfway mark with the score knotted at 26 to 26, and the battle was close through the second half, but the winners put on a last minute spurt that put over the victory.

In the second game, Elrod set the scoring pace for the losers with 16 points while Grieser followed with 14 points while honors for the 84th cagers found Long and Riddel tied for first place with 12 points each.

The 84th Squadron bounded away to an early lead, and at the half was out in front by a 27 to 21 margin, but late in the game, the 495th lads began to close the gap, and with two minutes to play the winner's lead was cut to 44 to 43. But in this time, Long sank a field goal and Riddel added a free pitch to ice away the game.

The Squadron League race will close Thursday with the two winners of Monday's games playing each other. They are tied for the top, each with one loss, this coming in a split of the two games played with each other. The 84th Squadron won the first half, and a win Thursday would mean the clear claim to the title. A victory for the 498th Squadron would give it the last half, and send the two teams into a playoff for the championship.

The old name for sinusitis was catarrah. This is the time of year on the Plains when those succeptible will suffer more account of the dust storms. Why they are succeptible is a question we all cannot agree on. The mucous lining of the air passages become inflammed and highly sensative. WE pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands; One Nation, indivisible, with Liberty and Justice for all.

Claims Without Proofs

CLAIMS like that made the other day by Chester Bowles, OPA administrator, that price controls have saved the American people 89 billion dollars are utterly meaningless. They are impossible of proof or disproof. He might as well have said that the savings have been 589 billions. The statement still could not be proved, or disproved.

True, Mr. Bowles cited some figures in purported proof of his statement. But figures in a case like this may or may not have meaning. We imagine that it would be possible to dig up some figures from wholly authentic sources which would "prove" that OPA actually has been a liability.

However, no honest person can deny that this nation would surely be in the throes of something approaching price chaos now without OPA or some similar agency. OPA has kept prices from going as high as they unquestionably would have gone without controls. But, by the same token, any agency spends, and has spent upon it, as much money as OPA certainly should show some sort of results.

Thus, the statement that prices aren't as high now as they would be without OPA is not an admission that they should not be lower than they are. Certainly, as all people are fully aware, prices of practically everything are "plenty high" even with ceiling, real and imaginary.

Even so, the number of Americans who agree that OPA is doing an infinitely better job than a few months ago—and that Mr. Bowles, in particular, is doing a splendid job—is increasing steadily. But it remains to be proved that OPA is doing the entire job that the American people have the right to expect for the money that it costs.

Dangers Of Gun-Toting

MOST people who read of Houston's troubles down at the dog pound a few days ago doubtless were amused. It appears that the Bayou City's dog catchers were going free and easy with their pistols — such pranks, for example, as taking playful pot shots beneath each other chairs. Quite a sense of humor those boys seemed to possess.

The whole things is, of course, Houston's headache. And it seems to be a real headache for some of the officials there. But it may cause curiosity among a great many people both there and elsewhere as to why in the name of common sense dog catchers were allowed to tote pistols.

We know, of course, that it isn't common practice for dog catchers to lug big .45's around with them. The excuse is that they must be prepared to protect themselves from vicious dogs. The excuse, manifestly, is ridiculous. A club and a net are all the protection they should require. Lion tamers work less. Any city that allows its dog catchers to become pistol toters is asking for the kind of trouble—and worse—that Houston has experienced.

In Lubbock, the dog catcher doesn't find it necessary to lug a piece of artillery wherever he goes, and the system has worked to entire satisfaction. It is to be hoped, and expected, that the officials in this city, at least, will continue that common sense practice.

Let's Have All The Facts!

THE administration has opened its propaganda barrage in behalf of a continuation of the Lend-Lease authority which expires June 30. The barrage follows a familiar pattern and, as in the case last year when the same tactics were employed, something is missing.

The administration propagandists now are talking most about the Lend-Lease help that Uncle Sam has been getting from other sources chiefly England and Australia. Why, say these professional molders of American public opinion, nearly two billion dollars worth of Lend-Lease materials have come from the British Isles, Australia, New Zealand and India.

But, as remarked, something is missing. The propagandists refrain carefully from mention of how much Lend-Lease help has gone to those places. The propagandists aren't putting the figures side by side for the ready comparisons which would show that many times two billion dollars worth of Lend-Lease materials have gone to those nations.

This does not suggest that Lend-Lease aid should be discontinued. On the contrary, it should be continued for another year at least. To discontinue Lend-Lease would be worse than stupid—it might be fatal to victory.

But when our bureaucratic propagandists present facts bearing on the subject, why don't they give all the facts? Or do they fear, perchance, the re-action of public opinion to a knowledge of everything that has gone on, and is going on, under the guise of Lend-Lease?

Believe It Or Not --- By Robert Ripley

Tomorrow Fair

BY WINIFRED HALSTED

THE STORY: Kitty Bishop comes to the suburban home of her brother, Ben Graham, and his wife, Peg, to recuperate from her sudden divorce from Collins Bishop, a meteorically successful young lawyer. Kitty had rebelled when the increased importance of his career made him apparently neglect her. She makes a hit with ebullient Mac MacGregor and hen-pecked Randall Seaton. Mag Seaton is jealous.

As the days sauntered by, Collins' blank silence began to bother Peg as much as his earlier close supervision of Kitty's affairs through Ben.

One evening while Kitty was upstairs keeping Sara Ann awake by hilarious and prolonged goodnights, and Jane and Bunny were temporarily out from under foot, Peg seized her chance to ask Ben out loud if he'd heard from Collins during the day.

"Now Peg," remonstrated Ben, "what do you expect?"

"Be detached," she said coldly, "be aloof. You aren't fooling me. I tell you what I wish. I wish I had a shotgun."

"What in the world do you think you—"

"I don't know what to think. They may be divorced but he could ask how she was, couldn't he? I think Collins Bishop is being very rude."

This particular criticism struck Ben as so funny that he laughed until he heaved. Peg said angrily that she had never supposed he could be so indifferent to Kitty's happiness.

"I'm not." Ben was injured. "It was you that struck me funny. You sound as though you expected him to come around and pay a party call or something."

"Well . . . But what would you do, Ben? Pretend you're Collins and imagine how your mind would work. Go on, use a little imagination. You know, like the story: pretend you're a donkey and where you'd go if you were a donkey."

"I'm not Collins and I'm not a donkey. Thank God twice, because I'm not suited to either life. There's this side of it, Peg. If I were Collins and you were Kitty, and you were away from me and there was any possibility I didn't feel good about it, I certainly wouldn't talk to you, even on the telephone, if I didn't have to."

"Why not?"

"What do you think your voice would do to me?"

"Why, Ben!" said Peg. She was overcome. "Why, Ben . . ."

"Bless you, my children," said Kitty affably, and they leapt guilty apart. "I'm no prude, if his intentions are honorable, I shan't raise an eyebrow. Hear anything from Collins today, Ben?"

"No," grunted Ben.

The blush that always gave Peg away tinted her brilliantly.

"I did," said Kitty. "He's in San Francisco. I wish you'd stop worrying, Peg . . . It was a very polite letter. Guess what — he's been busy. I shall write politely back and say I haven't got the storage warehouse receipts."

Jane burst in, a stumpy pencil clutched like a weapon in her fist. She went at her lessons with the murderous crouching approach of Joe Louis and long division was driving her mad by not collapsing at her first swing. Ben sighed patiently, realizing that he and Jane would have to get the best of their homework before he earned his dinner.

While Ben worked away at long division, Collins Bishop sat hunched in a corner of the airline bus on his way from La Guardia Field into New York. He had returned from an unexpected and hurried trip to San Francisco by air, overtaking his letter to Kitty, and his head was still full of the motor hum of planes, and of tags and knots of legal phrases that circulated wearily in his mind. Nevertheless, tired though he was, the prospect of the adequate but spiritually antiseptic hotel room he looked forward to drew his mouth into a somber line. He decided it was the vastness, not the legal intricacies of the war order contracts he'd been working on, and the still greater vastness of problems and conflict they implied, that wore him down. Then he tried to persuade himself he was depressed because it upset the psyche to jounce across the continent so fast. At any rate, it distracted him from his real troubles to make up theories. He was tired of coming back from somewhere to nobody. But Collins knew it weakens to question a course once you'd chosen it. He set his jaw.

The morning dawned bland and sunny as though spring along the eastern seaboard was always that way, instead of usually producing a crop of colds in the head that outbloomed the daffodils. Kitty felt perfectly in tune with the April day. She beamed encouragingly upon Sara Ann who was busily throwing all the magazines in sight on the floor. She marveled at Peg, born a good citizen and entangled like a maypole in strands of community activities. Kitty was content for the moment not to do anything but savor the fact that she felt happier than she had in a long time. Around the middle of the afternoon Peg announced that she had to go downtown and speak sharply to the Grand Atlantic.

"Want to come?" she asked Kitty.

On the way to the Grand Atlantic Kitty reflected how much she liked Doremus and its friendly informality. And, having been a migratory city child, she was fascinated by her pleasant but confused impression that Peg and all the village functionaries had been in seventh grade together.

"Well, Peggy," said the butcher in the Grand Atlantic, "what'll it be today?"

Kitty wandered off to look for the Clapp's strained vegetables Peg had instructed her to find and, rounding a beautiful pyramid of caps, came face to face with Mag Seaton.

RAIDS KILL 961

LONDON, March 13. (AP)—Air raids against the United Kingdom last month left 961 persons dead or missing and believed dead, the ministry of home security announced today, while 1,712 were injured. The deaths compare with 252 in February 1943 and 109 in January 1944.

Looking At Life - - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

I DON'T know any of the details about the case of Virginia Wright, the WAC lieutenant who was tried before a military board because she shared a pint of ice cream and a half a watermelon with enlisted personnel.

But I'm glad she was acquitted.

Somehow I can't quite imagine an American girl being disciplined because—well, because she is an American girl.

After all, our officers and men (or women), all come out of the same towns and villages, out of the same clubs and schools.

It's pretty hard for a girl who was "Hya Virginia" to a pal yesterday, to eat a whole pint of ice cream all by herself, just because she has a bar on her shoulders.

Maybe I shouldn't tell you this, but I'm going to, anyway.

The kid son of a very good friend of mine was shipped overseas the other day on one of the world's largest transports.

One day the captain—with four gold stripes on his sleeve—saw the youngster sitting way off by himself, looking as if he had lost his last friend.

He walked over. The kid stood at attention.

"Hey, kid," said the captain, "aren't you Dick Soandso from New Jersey, John Soandso's son?

"Yes, Sir, I am," said the boy.

"Well, you certainly have grown. Haven't seen you in two years. Remember my boy, Bill? He was in the same class with you in high school."

"I certainly do, Sir. Bill used to be stuck on my sister. May I ask where he is now, sir?"

The captain hestiated for a minute.

"Bill's gone, Dick," he said, and his voice was husky. "The Japs got him."

Then, in his sternest military tone:

"Report to me in my room in half an hour."

IN a half hour Dick, the rookie, and the four-striper, had tea together in the captain's room, swapping little neighborhood gossip and talking about all the things that neighbors talk about.

And every afternoon until the ship landed, Dick was the captain's guest at tea.

When the boy wrote home to his father, he said, "It was the swellest time I ever had."

Would you have court-martialed the captain?

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

TENTATIVE Treasury regulations governing the kind of financial reports to be filed by labor unions may precipitate another controversy on Capitol Hill. Framers of the provision imposing fiscal responsibility on workers' organizations doubt whether departmental inquisitors will elicit the wanted information.

Ways and Means authors originally intended that the CIO, AFL, UMW and similiar units should tell how much money they collected, what the hidden sources were and how their dollars were expended. The data required were to be as extensive as that which citizens must set forth on their income tax forms.

The basic idea was to expose the heavy tribute imposed on members especially those engaged in temporary war manufacture, and to ascertain the methods by which the cash is used to influence congressional and public sentiment. Ultimately, it was planned to levy a tax on these assets and to enact a statute to prevent expenditures of excessive amounts in partisan affairs.

LABOR: Attorney General Francis M. Biddle's prospective approval of Sidney Hillman's CIO fund of $700,000 for political activities in the coming campaign has sharpened demands for scrutiny of union treasuries.

It is understood, however, that the blanks now in preparation will require only general pro forma statements, which will not contain pertinent data. Moreover, the returns will be kept under lock and key unless asked for by duly authorized House or Senate committees. They will not be open to general inspection.

These official safeguards will prevent fulfillment of the will of Congress, but they will please labor officials who expect to spend large sums between now and November. Recalling how FDR blamed them for making income tax questionnaires so "complex," the lawmakers may demand the right to check the final draft before it becomes effective.

FAILURE: Military officials in the United States still shroud the famous Norden bomb sight in graveyard secrecy; it is guarded like the family jewels. But it is merely another weapon to overseas airmen, who give it no greater protection than they do a monkey wrench — sometimes not so much.

The Germans obtained possession of the gadget many months ago, according to returning flyers, and its construction is known to enemy engineers. It was frequently impossible for our aviators to destroy the mechanism and the Nazis were able to seize many planes with this installation intact. Our people doubt, however, whether the foe can reproduce it in sufficient volume, because of his lack of materials. It would necessitate costly and extensive retooling.

Hitler's failure to turn out improved models of many weapons, based on a study of captured British and American armor, highlights one of his principal weaknesses as the war nears the final stretch. He cannot afford the time and money required for overnight shifts. As a result, his men on the ground, in the air and on the water are forced to fight with fairly obsolete equipment.

CRIME: More than 100,000 men convicted of felonies are now in the United States Army at home and abroad, according to War department reports. If otherwise qualified, any man who was not imprisoned for a "heinous offense" is eligible to join up on the parole or on release from behind the bars.

The military is not opening jail doors to fill the ranks. But it has established screening systems in cooperation with federal and state prison officials, and has obtained many fine fighters from the nation's penitentiaries.

Here is how they are handled once they exchange stripes for a uniform:

"The Army treats enlisted men who were former prisoners in the same manner as any other individual," says Brig. Gen Russell B. Reynolds, director of the Military Personnel division.

"Parole and custody to any other agency is either suspended or terminated indefinitely for the period of time the individual is in the Army. He will be discharged from the service the same as any other person and, so far as the Army is concerned, he will be a free man."

While Washington has insufficient statistics to provide a complete answer, it is believed that training as soldiers, as well as the realization that they have a chance to make good in a new and different atmosphere, may prevent many of these men from returning to lives of crime.

WINNING THE WAR
By Albert Leman

ARMCHAIR strategists are prone to label each successive Soviet advance as an all-out drive to smash the Germans in one super-battle. The blow in the direction of Rumania is so described in many instances.

Probably it is a race to cripple the enemy before spring thaws immobilize the entire front. By the end of this month — perhaps earlier — mud will aid the Nazis fighting the Muscovites. Already rains have been heavy in the Ukraine.

In fact, weather has been unusually favorable for Hitler this year in Italy and in Russia. This, more than any other element, has saved the Brownshirts from disasters.

PRESSURES: The latest maneuver may be an attempt to reach Rumania and catch the Axis forces in the Black Sea pocket. But if he assault follows the previous pattern, its objectives are more limited.

A study of recent campaigns shows that Stalin's marshals have hurled thunderbolts at widely separated parts of the line. None of these attacks has been a duel to the death. Whenever enemy resistance stiffened and difficulties developed in Russian supplies, the generals broke off the engagements. They did not try to batter futilely against steel barriers.

But—and this point is extremely important in any accurate analysis of what is happening—when checked in one sector, the Red Army struck in another.

The Germans are spread too thin from the Baltic to the Balkans to stand firm everywhere without reinforcements. They have been hard put to it to transport their diminished reserves from here to there and almost always the weak walls in their defense caved in as the Slavs threw their weight against them.

We are not yet witnessing an Axis catastrophe. But we most certainly are observing the wearing down of the Reichswehr before constantly shifting pressures.

TRAPPED: So far Hitler has escaped actual defeat because of the open winter. The season usually begins on the steppes in November and intense cold continues until March. This year there were only light frosts between November and the middle of February. The January mean temperature was just around freezing.

A large part of the current line from Leningrad to the Ukraine runs through lake, river and swamp country. The ice on these obstacles has been too thin to support tanks, howitzers or even trucks. If the marsh crust breaks under a foot soldier he plunges into quicksands. Any extensive troops movement over such terrain churns acres of mud.

Formations with heavy mechanized equipment cannot advance through thick swampy woodland. They have to keep to the few major highways and are at the mercy of concentrated enemy artillery fire on the roads. The Soviet generals rely on tanks and cannon as spearhads to clear paths for infantry divisions.

The foregoing is an explanation of the slow Russian progress and of why Hitler's legions have not been trapped.

Legislative Body Is Defied By State's Education Head

By WILLIAM E. KEYS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, March 13 (AP) — The Joint Legislative Audit committee, a sort of policing power over fiscal affairs within the state governmental structure, has had its first clash with a state department head and the result apparently is a stalemate, at least until the legislature meets again.

One result is that apparently the committee, composed of House and Senate presiding officers and other committee chairmen from both branches, may change its tactics.

It has indicated that it soon may conduct public hearings, with testimony taken under oath, when it studies other state departments. The bureau of labor statistics is now being audited.

"Czar" Woods

In its study of education department fiscal procedure —resulting in the clash with Superintendent of Education L. A. Woods—there was no testimony taken under oath.

When the committee recommended that Woods discharge or replace two employes because of alleged incompetency, Woods asserted it would be criminal on his part to discharge the workers, who he said had been faithful and efficient employes for years.

The question of privilege attaches to unsworn testimony taken by a legislative committee. This may be one reason why the committee will put future witnesses under oath.

THE FUNCTION of the committee represents a complete change in the state's auditing procedure. It was created—on Gov. Coke R. Stevenson's recommendation—by the last legislature. The act creating it permits it, instead of the governor, to select the state auditor.

The theory behind this method is that the legislature appropriates money for state departments and it should have a close check on the expenditure of money.

Consequently, the state auditor by direction of the committee, preliminary reports on his findings among state departments and the committee usually calls in for interviews the department head or employes, who are instructed to make any changes the committee deems necessary.

Future Methods To Change

The committee's recourse, in the event the recommendations are not followed, is to report to the legislature when it next meets. Barring a special session, the legislature does not meet again until January, 1945, and apparently the Woods-audit committee differences will not be adjusted earlier.

But in the case of future investigations involving testimony the committee's recommendations may bear more immediate weight if the testimony is taken under oath and fully publicized.

REMINDING that the 1944 milk production goal for Texas is somewhat larger than the one set for 1943, E. R. Eudaly, dairyman for the A. and M. College Extension service, says that it will have to come from fewer cows than were milked last year.

Texas' goal this year is 4,659,000,000 pounds, or an average production of 3,233 pounds for the 1,441,000 milkers in the state. This goal includes milk for home use. It is estimated that at least 50 per cent of Texas farmers do not have an adequate supply because their cows are dry, or nearly so, about half the time, Eudaly says.

He believes that if farm families are to have an adequate supply and the year's over-all production goal attained "we shall have to feed and take care of the cows in a way ot maintain a good yield for at least 10 months out of 12."

Milk Drinkers Escape

An onion peel helped two milk-drinking juveniles escape a pursuing janitor and possible arrest in Houston.

The janitor—at 5:30 a. m. —discovered the boys in the cafeteria of the John Marshall Junior High school drinking milk.

He chased them and almost had made the capture when he slipped on the onion peel. They escaped through a window.

The janitor discovered the kids had drunk 10 half pints of milk, and had another 10 ready to be opened.

A SABOTEUR prowling among Houston's vital docks, warehouses, shipyards and storage tanks might find that he had to overcome a gun-wielding bank president, a prominent educator or a brush salesman before damaging the installations.

Since October, 250 men left behind by the draft have volunteered to don Coast Guard uniforms in their spare time to patrol this war-busy Gulf Coast port.

They compose the Coast Guard Volunteer Port Security Force which releases young coast guardsmen for overseas duties.

Among the volunteers are prominent businessmen and educators, labor leaders, war workers, professional people and a plentiful sprinkling of retired but willing oldsters.

The term "blarney" comes from the Lord of Blarney, who made excuses to Queen Elizabeth "with fair words and soft speech."

FOR
HOGS IN A HURRY

Feed STANTON'S 20% PIG RATION

Today, more than ever before, it is extremely important to speed up growth and keep mortality down in young pigs. Feed is too precious to waste on the laggards and pork is too valuable to lose before it goes to market. Stanton's 20% pig ration provides extra protection against both. In hundreds of hog lots, it has consistently improved pig health, speeded up growth and reduced mortality because it gives little pigs the same kind of boost that chick starter gives to baby chicks. It is being fed widely to sows before farrowing and—preferably in "creeps" as illustrated—to pigs from 2-3 weeks of age on up.

MANAMAR

In Stanton's 20% Pig Ration supplies the hard-to-get feeding essentials—fish proteins, food minerals and vitamins, including the important Vitamin B "Complex," supplied by patented "B-G Plus."

ManAmar and B-G Plus have been developed and are produced in the laboratories of Philip R. Park, famed livestock nutrition authority. These laboratories have approved the formula for Stanton's 20% Pig Ration. Let the records of users tell the rest of the story. Get all the facts today.

Mason Steer Is Grand Champion

FORT WORTH, March 13 k—Surprise, a 980-pound Hereford steer exhibited by Miss Merlyn Gail Kothmann, 16-year-old 4-H club girl from Mason county, was adjudged grand champion today of the 1944 Fort Worth Fat Stock show and rodeo.

Reserve champion honors went to Mischief, Hereford steer showed by George Lee of Pecos county, now serving in the Navy, and exhibited by Bryant Mills, which was grand champion Saturday of the boys' baby beef show.

These two also had matched points against the champions in the Shorthorn and Aberdeen-Angus breeds in the open exhibits. Oklahoma A. & M. college had the champions in the latter two classes.

Open Class Champion

Surprise already had been adjudged champion in the open class for Herefords after winning in its own class of steers weighing from 900-1,025 pounds. The steer was ruled winner over the champion Hereford steer over 1,150 pounds entered by Miss June June Thompson, Newport, Neb.; the champion in the 1,025-1150 class shown by Hardy Lee Richards, Vera, Texas; and the champion under 900 pounds entered by Oliver Grote, Mason, Tex.

Surprise is a grandson of Her Royal 85th, reserve grand champion bull in the 1936 Centennial Fat Stock show here, and reserve champion that year in the Denver, Kansas City and Chicago shows. The steer was fed under the supervision of Frank Newsom, Mason county agent.

As the judging proceeded Monday morning, L. L. Johnson of College Station, state director of boys' club work, predicted that more than 15,000 boys and girls of the 4-H clubs would be in the city before nightfall.

STOCKS PUSH HIGHER

NEW YORK, March 13 (AP)—In one of the fastest sessions of the past several months, the stock market today responded to further investment confidence by a push to a new high mark since last July with gains of fractions to more than a point.

While low-priced issues turned over in blocks running to around 20,000 shares, principal bidding centered on pivotal rails, motors, steels and specialties. Peace-rated stocks exhibited strength but armament issues generally managed to hold their own. The direction was upward from the start.

The Associated Press 60-stock average was up .4 of a point at 53.1, a peak since July 14, 1943. The rail composite was at the highest since October, 1937, and the utilities since November, 1940. Transfers totalled 1,618,920 shares compared with 1,147,720 last Friday.

In the "new high" class were Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Atlantic Coast Line, Pullman, American Locomotive, General Motors, Chrysler, Packard, Studebaker, Western Union "A," Oliver Farm, United Aircraft, Braniff Airways, Westinghouse, Du Pont, Johns-Manville, Distillers Corp., Pepsi-Cola and Warner Bros. In front were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Consolidated Edison, Montgomery Ward, Anaconda, Texas Co., and Radio Corp.

At Chicago wheat was unchanged to up ⅛ of a cent a bushel. Cotton gained 55 to 85 cents a bale.

NEW YORK FUTURES

NEW YORK, March 13 (AP)—Cotton futures prices rose 5 to 85 cents a bale today on continued trade and commission house buying, and boosting the aggregate rise for the month so far to $1.80 to $3.15 a bale.

Hedge selling increased with the uptrend and, along with some profit cashing, offered the only resistance to the advance.

The war need for textiles, taxing the facilities of the industry, remained the principal factor behind the demand for cotton for future delivery.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, March 13 (AP)—The average price of middling 15-16ths-inch cotton today at ten designated southern spot markets was 50 cents a bale higher at 21.27 cents a pound (new season high); average for the past 30 market days 20.85; middling ⅞ths-inch average 20.16.

Presbyterian Church Is Dedicated Sunday

Members of the First Presbyterian church Sunday formally dedicated their debt-free building and other property to "a furtherance of Christian service in Lubbock," in a special service at the morning worship hour.

S. C. Wilson, a charter member of the congregation organized in 1903, first and only clerk of the session since the organization, sketched the history of the church, and Dr. James Marcus Gordan, long a Wednesday night. The banquet, at which church and Sunday school leader of Texas Presbyterians, delivered the anniversary address.

Dr. Charles J. Wagner urged full attendance of members at the annual Loyalty banquet set for officials will be selected and financial pledges made for the coming year, will be a further observance of the payment of church debts and the 22nd anniversary of the pastor, Dr. Jack M. Lewis.

Texas Tech Briefs

Meeting of the Board of Directors of Texas Tech will be held Wednesday at Fort Worth, President Clifford B. Jones announced Monday. The board will discuss summer school plan for the college, Dr. Jones said.

D. O. Wiley, band director at Texas Tech, will attend a meeting of the Texas Music Educators association, of which he is secretary, at Abilene Saturday.

Regular summer band school at Texas Tech will be held during the first six-weeks term from May 29 to July 7 under the direction of Professor D. O. Wiley. Non-college students may enroll for instruction. Several well known guest teachers will assist in the school.

Mrs. James G. Allen, journalism instructor at Tech, has returned from a board meeting of the Texas division of the American Association of University Women which was held in Waco this past weekend. Mrs. Allen is chairman of the state bulletin committee and president of the Lubbock AAUW.

Student Religious Life bulletin has been published by the Tech press, according to Dr. A. J. Bahm of the student religious life committee. First of its kind to be published at Tech, the bulletin contains religious matter relating to Tech. Students desiring these bulletins should call at the registrar's office, Dr. Bahm said.

Grain . .

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, March 13 (AP) — Trade in rye futures featured the grain market today, prices moving upward in generally quiet trade. Oats and barley were firm with rye, and wheat was steady. The late advance in rye uncovered little pressure.

Rye, which was weak with wheat in earlier trade, strengthened in reflection of a trade report that said Senator McCarren (D-Nev), head of the Senate sub-committee investigating the alcohol situation, predicted that the War Production board would sanction distillation of some liquor shortly after the committee filed its report. Nothing was said as to when the report would be ready.

Steadying near the close, wheat finished unchanged to ⅛ higher than the previous close, May $1.71½, July $1.68¼-⅜, oats were ⅛ higher, May 81⅝, rye was up ⅝ to 1 cent, May $1.29⅝-¾, and barley showed gains of 1⅛ to 1½, May $1.26.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

Reds Holding Top Card As Ukraine Battle Nears End

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

The battle of the southern Ukraine, all but unrivaled in history for the size of the opposing forces engaged and the vast terrain over which it has been fought, is virtually at an end in a crushing Russian victory.

Kherson at the Dnieper mouth has fallen. The Bug river line, last potential water-guarded front in southwestern Russia for the defeat-dogged Nazi invaders, is outflanked at one end and punctured in the center. There is no other front short of the wide Dniester that marks the old Russian-Bessarabian border behind which the foe can hope to rally.

SIMPSON

A German flight into Rumania proper is on. It must force the issue of not only Rumanian but Bulgarian continued adherence to the toppling Axis, and possibly lead to Turkish active cooperation with the Allied-Russian war fellowship.

Nazis Said Panicky

Moscow advices say panic conditions prevail in Nazi ranks in some sectors, and the speed with which the Kherson bastion was wrenched from Nazi hands lends solor to such reports. There can be no doubt that its fall adds to the already desperate situation of anywhere up to half a million Nazi troops in the southwestern Ukraine, particularly those still east of the Bug.

It seems clear that following the fall of Krivoi Rog and Nikopol in the eastern end of the Dnieper bend the Nazi high command began preparations for a general withdrawal to the Bug line. It had already been potentially outflanked by the Russians far to the northwest but still was a powerful natural obstacle behind which to rally, flood conditions due to early thaws adding to its strength.

Plan Broken Up

If that was the German plan, however, the Russian breakthrough in the center to cross the Bug on an indicated five-mile front at Galvoron disrupted it. With the capture of Kherson, the main Bug crossing at Nikolaev at the upper end of the Bug estuary is now also exposed to a Russian pincer attack, its early fall virtually certain.

Kherson and Nikolaev were essential protective bastions for Odessa, main Russian Black Sea port. With Kherson in Russian hands Nikolaev is too vulnerable to expect it can long be held by the Germans to prevent the Russians from closing in on Odessa.

Nikolaev, on the west bank of the Bug estuary, is wide open to frontal assault up the Kherson-Nikolaev railroad and Russian guns are apt to make the Bug crossing at that point useless to the Nazis.

Only Two Rail Crossings

In effect the invaders falling back on the Russian-breached Bug line from the Dnieper plateau are restricted now to only two minor rail crossings of the flooded river, one leading westward toward Rumania and the other south to Odessa. Any retreat southward, would probably result in troops being bottled up against the Black Sea.

It appears more probable that Nazi evacuation of Odessa will be reported soon. With the Kherson-Nickolaev protective barriers lost it could become a Nazi graveyard. And that is even now what faces the German garrison in the Crimea, cut off for many weeks except by air and possible night-time sea movement to Odessa to escape the Russian trap.

News Briefs

The War department announced Monday the names of 433 United States soldiers wounded in action, including the following West Texans: Pvt. Thomas F. Cooper, Mrs. Opal I. Cooper, wife, Roaring Springs; Pvt. Jewell F. Cox, Mrs. Inez Cox, mother, Fluxanna, and W/O Oll D. Denman, Mrs. Oma Denman, wife, San Angelo.

Pvt. Sam T. King, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. King of Ralls, has been wounded in action somewhere in Italy, his parents were informed Monday by the War department. Pvt. King, a pilot of an armored tank, has been overseas a year. He was first stationed in North Africa and was in the Sicilian and Italian mainland invasions.

All stamps marked "8" in the ration book will be used first throughout the alphabet under the new system of token rationing, with all red and blue stamps worth ten points each. The stamps will be torn out across the ration book, along the top of the page, rather than up and down, which was the system before token rationing began, according to the Office of Price administration.

Bail of $1,000 in each of two county court cases was posted Monday by Gus Walker, 35, a Lubbock negro charged with illegally carrying a pistol and drunk driving. He pleaded innocent. Bond of $350 was set for Lonnie Thomas Crawford, 17, who pleaded innocent of drunk driving. Judge G. V. Pardue found C. R. Barber guilty on the defendant's own plea of guilty of breaking glass on a public street and fined him $25 and costs. Judge Pardue fined Alton Raulston $1 and court costs on a plea of guilty of writing a worthless check, and released him on his own recognizance.

Lucian Thomas, who had not walked in more than four years—result of a car accident when a student of Texas Technological college—has returned from the West coast and a fitting in corrective leg braces. He was able after his fitting to walk 20 feet in 25 seconds, and will be able to get about with a crutch, said Jack Thomas, a brother who is a police motorcycle patrolman. Jack Thomas accompanied his brother.

Gallaher Points Up Railroad Job

"Passenger traffic on America's railroads in 1943 was by far the greatest for any year in railroad history," according to T. B. Gallaher of Chicago, passenger traffic manager for the Santa Fe railway, who stopped in Lubbock Monday.

"An over-all picture of what the country's railroads are doing today," Gallaher said, "shows that 85 billion passenger-miles were run during the 12 months of last year. This was an increase of 58 per cent above 1942, twice what it was in 1918, and nearly four times what it was in 1939."

On Inspection Tour

Gallaher, who was in Lubbock in connection with a month-long inspection tour which is carrying him over almost every mile of his railroad, said the heavy movement of passengers in 1943 can be attributed in part to Army troop movements, more than ten million men having been moved in special trains and special cars. This does not include the millions of soldiers, sailors and marines on furlough who traveled during the year, nor does it include small groups of individuals moving on order, nor Navy and Marine Corps movements, nor prisoners of war.

Gallaher was accompanied by his wife, traveling in his private car, and at each division point visited he is joined by members of his staff serving the particular division being traversed.

Formerly general freight and passenger agent of the Amarillo division, Gallaher is widely known throughout West Texas. He was active in civic circles in this area and frequently made business trips here prior to his promotion and transfer to Chicago.

The Santa Fe, Mr. Gallaher said, is doing its greatest volume of business in all history. "Our road, and the others," he said, "are anxious to increase and improve equipment but due to war's call on many materials we are not able to do as we'd like."

Declines Post-War Forecast

Aside from forecasting that the future will bring to rail travel many conveniences and luxuries hither-to dreamed of, Mr. Gallaher had no comment on how the post-war era will affect rail transportation.

"We haven't got the war won yet," he said. "In my judgment, we're not yet close enough to victory to get a clear vision of what the future may bring. Personally, I do not believe in thinking and working too much in the future until the big job of the present has been successfully completed."

Mr. Gallaher, now one of the nation's top rail executives, expected to leave Lubbock late today, moving to Sweetwater. From there he will go into South and Central Texas.

Third '44 Class Is Graduated From LAAF

Graduation ceremonies were held in the field gymnasium Sunday morning when Lubbock Army Air field graduated its third class of cadets of the year. Relatives and close friends from many parts of the country were on hand to see sons, husbands and friends receive the coveted silver wings and take the oath as flying officers in the Army Air Forces.

During the exercises Col. Ralph E. Holmes, Commanding Officer, acting for the secretary of war, presented the Air Medal to Willian A. Morter of Plainview who received it for his son Lt. Willis B. Morter who is a prisoner of war in Germany. The Air Medal was awarded to Lt. Morter for great daring and skill as shown during five different bomber missions against Nazi targets. Lt. Morter's mother was also present as were: her sister, Mrs. R. B. Underwood; Miss Frances Underwood; Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Davidson and Miss Wanita Davidson and Mrs. F. M. Carol, all of Plainview.

An individual presentation of wings by Major Gordon J. Mott, director of ground school, to A/C Hartwell Dayis the honor student of the class, was followed by presentation of wings to the other members of the graduating class, as each new officer crossed the stage he was handed his wings and received a hearty handshake from Capt. John L. Schroeder, jr., commanding officer of the 1st provisional training squadron or Capt. John C. Palmer, commanding officer of the 3rd provisional training squadron. The two officers alternated in presenting the wings.

The invocation was given by Chaplain Randall T. Miller of LAAF and the oath was administered by Major Russell D. Shively, secretary. Following the presentation of wings the entire class as the customary last official act as a class, sang the air corps song, led by CWO George Attridge.
