Ceylon Chief Is Wounded By Gunfire

By DENZIL PEIRIS

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP) — Prime Minister Solomon W.R.D. Bandaranaike was shot and critically wounded today by a gunman attired in the yellow robes of a Buddhist monk.

Three bullets were removed. A medical source said the shots penetrated his liver and spleen. Four pints of blood were given him. Ceylon radio broadcast appeals for additional donors.

The assassin, shot in the knee by a sentry as he sought to escape, also was hospitalized. There was no hint as to his motive. Bandaranaike appealed "to all to show compassion for this foolish man."

Gov. Gen. Sir Oliver Goonetilleke declared a state of emergency in this Indian Ocean Island.

In a broadcast to the nation, he announced mobilization of the regular reserves and the volunteer forces of the army, navy and air force. He said he did so for the protection of the people.

He reported that the Prime Minister's condition was termed by surgeons "satisfactory" but he could not be considered out of danger.

Police said that between 9:30 a.m. and 9:45 a.m. two men in the robes of Buddhist monks called at the Prime Minister's house and asked to see him.

Bandaranaike greeted them. After they had talked, the Prime Minister took leave of one by bowing. As he was about to bid farewell to the other, "the first whipped a 45-caliber revolver from under his robes and fired six shots.

Just before he was operated on, the Prime Minister said: "I appeal to the people of my country to be restrained and patient at this time. With the assistance of my doctors I shall make every such services as I am able to render my people."

Bandaranaike was due to leave for New York Monday to attend a session of the U.N. General Assembly. He planned later visits to London, Cairo and Bonn.

Bandaranaike came to power in April 1956, the year this island got its independence as a member of the British Commonwealth.

He had been ruling with only a shaky one-vote majority in Parliament since May, when his leftist coalition broke up.

Ike, Krush Launch Parley Late Today

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev met separately with top advisers today planning for the talks that start late today on a Maryland mountaintop.

Khrushchev, still a walking exhibit of energy despite his grueling nationwide tour and a late dinner session Thursday night, was up for breakfast at 8:25 a.m. at Blair House, the President's guest house. Then he went back up to the third floor to "work on some papers" as aides trooped into the mansion.

A short block away and across the street, Eisenhower was in conference with Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, U. N. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge who accompanied Khrushchev on his cross-country tour, and Llewellyn Thompson, U. S. ambassador to Moscow. Earlier, the President had seen Gordon Gray, his special assistant on national security affairs.

As the conferences continued, the White House announced that Eisenhower and his guest had decided to go by helicopter rather than by automobile to Camp David, Md., the presidential retreat in the Catoctin Mountains where they will meet until Sunday.

The White House said Eisenhower asked Khrushchev to state his preference and the Premier chose a whirlybird.

They planned to fly together, taking off from the White House grounds at 5:15 p.m. on the 45-minute trip of about 65 miles. Also assigned to their craft were two interpreters; James J. Rowley, chief of the White House Secret Service detail; a Soviet security man; and Capt. E. P. Aurand, Eisenhower's naval aide. Three more helicopters were ordered for other officials and security agents.

Starting tonight, the visiting Communist chief and the President will try to persuade each other to shift government policy in the interest of peace.

Khrushchev, newly returned from a remarkable and hectic tour of America, indicates he has not retreated an inch from his persistent accusation that U.S. policy created and preserved the cold war.

President Eisenhower, after 11 days of startling headlines about the boss of world communism, is pictured as hopeful the tour had some impact upon the visitor which might induce him to listen more receptively to the U.S. government's arguments.

The two get down to man-to-man talks this weekend in a placid setting ideally adapted to talk about peace. In the cool privacy of the President's Camp David retreat in the Catocin Mountains, 65 miles away from the bustle of Washington, the two will talk until Sunday about disarmament, divided Germany, nuclear weapons and other issues which keep the world's nerves on edge.

Khrushchev ended his United States tour with the same note of persistent challenge he sounded at the outset: The burden of proof of good intentions is upon the United States.

This was his theme at the final non-diplomatic gathering of his tour, a dinner in Washington attended by a group of leading U.S. businessmen Thursday night. The dinner, given by Eric Ridder, publisher of the New York Journal of Commerce, was private. Those present quoted Khrushchev as saying:

"If the United States renounces disarmament, one would doubt its sincerity. It would not appear to be mature."

This, for Khrushchev, is one test of American intentions. Another, he made plain, will be willingness of the United States to sell the U.S.S.R. anything or everything, regardless of any item's usefulness for building a war machine.

Banker Tells Of Saunders' Checks

AUSTIN (AP) — A Tyler banker testified today that J. Byron Saunders deposited numerous checks marked as retainers from one of BenJack Cage's insurance companies.

Charles Childers, vice president and cashier of the Tyler Bank and Trust Co., was the second Tyler banker to testify for the state in the perjury trial of the former State Insurance chairman.

Saunders is charged with lying six times to a House investigating committee about his dealings with Cage, playboy promoter and founder of the defunct ICT Insurance Co. Cage also promoted 73 other financial ventures before receiving a 10-year sentence for misappropriating funds. He is in Brazil.

Saunders told the legislative committee a total of $7,000 in checks from ICT Discount Corp., a Cage firm, were in payment for a Wood County oil lease.

Childers identified deposit slips with accompanying checks drawn on ICT Discount Corp. He read from the deposit slips quotations such as "August and September retainer," "ICT retainer for July," "ICT — Nile E. Ball retainer et al," and "ICT February retainer."

One check identified by Childers was for $300 on the Triangle Research Advertising Corp. Another deposit slip carried the quotation "ICT retainer for July for alarm company."

Another Tyler bank was asked Thursday about a $300 check from Atlas Alarm Corp. that Saunders deposited in May 1954.

The perjury trial against the former state insurance chairman went into its fifth day with every indication it will continue well into next week. Judge Mace Thurman said a Saturday session will be held.

Thursday George Richardson Jr., assistant vice president of the Peoples National Bank, Tyler, produced a record of Saunders account. State attorneys asked Richardson specifically about a $300 check from Atlas Alarm Corp. that Saunders deposited in May, 1954.

The prosecutors said officials from the two other banks where Saunders had accounts will follow Richardson to the stand.

Saunders, 49, now a Tyler attorney, was indicted by an Austin grand jury on charges he committed perjury six times while testifying March 15, 1957, before a special House committee investigating the collapse of the ICT Insurance Co.

Two Men Arrested In Felonies

Two men have been arrested and charged with felonies here, Earl Abercrombie, sheriff, said.

One of the men, Richard A. Patrick, 22, 2801 Avenue D, was charged with forgery involving a check given to a B&B Parkway store. He pleaded not guilty to the charge and was placed under $1,000 bond, on arraignment.

The other man, Willie Wesley Day Jr., of Brownfield, was arrested by officers at Spur on a felony charge of abducting a 13-year-old girl here. He pleaded not guilty to that charge and was placed under $2,500 bond on that charge.

A county court charge of contributing to the delinquency of the same girl was also made against Day. His plea of not guilty in county court resulted in $1,000 bond in the county court case.

Abercrombie said that neither man had made bond.

Fight Erupts Over School Bus Stops

DEWEYVILLE, Tex. (AP) —A fist fight that broke out following an argument over school bus stops sent Supt. Z. M. Cooke of the Deweyville School District to the hospital Thursday night.

Attendants at Orange Memorial Hospital said Cooke's condition was not serious.

Deputy Sheriff Fred Hryhochuk said warrants were issued for seven persons.

Witnesses said Cooke was knocked down by one of several persons who came to his office to complain about changes in bus stops recommended by the Highway Department.

Ireland Seeks U. N. Support For Censure Of Red Chinese

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Ireland sounded out U.N. members today seeking support for a demand that the General Assembly brand Red China a violator of human rights in Tibet.

Faced with opposition not only from the Soviet block but some neutralist and colonial nations, Ireland was reported anxious to make sure her proposed resolution would get the two-thirds vote needed for adoption by the 82-nation General Assembly.

Gyalo Thondup, 31-year-old elder brother of the exiled Dalai Lama, said in an interview in New Delhi Thursday that far more than 50,000 Tibetan irregulars still were waging rebellion against the Red Chinese using knives, old guns or any other weapons they could find.

Thondup said the Chinese killed 100,000 Tibetans in recent years, including 20,000 in the uprising in the capital, Lhasa, last March. Thondup is planning to come to New York to report to the U.N. what he called a "true picture" of the situation in Tibet.

The Dalai Lama who fled to India after the uprising, charged a month ago that the Communist rule had cost his country 80,000 lives.

The international Commission of Jurists claims 65,000 Tibetans have lost their lives.

Thondup said Tibetan men were being tortured and sent to concentration camps, leaving the women and children "for the Chinese to do whatever they want with them."

A number of U.N. delegations were reported awaiting word from their governments whether to rally behind the Irish proposal which would put the Tibetan issue on the assembly agenda and propose a condemnation resolution.

Irish Foreign Minister Frank Aiken said a resolution was in the works, but that his delegation would not try to put it in until next week.

Diplomatic sources said Malaya already has agreed to join Ireland. Support also was expected from the Philippines, Mexico and Thailand.

A number of neutralist countries have opposed discussion of the Tibetan issue on grounds it would heighten East-West tension and widen the breach between India and Red China.

"India and some other members who want the Chinese Reds seated in the U.N. instead of the Nationalists argue that Peiping's absence from the world forum bars any debate on that country's actions.

Plane Crash In France Is Fatal To 53

BORDEAUX, France (AP) — A French airliner bound for Africa crashed and exploded within minutes of takeoff Thursday night, killing 53 of the 65 persons aboard.

Three children were among the 12 survivors thrown clear before the four-engine DC7 blew up and burst into flames. Most were burned seriously.

The plane made a two-hour stopover in Bordeaux after an uneventful flight from Paris on a regular trip to Bamako, French Sudan, and Abidjan on the Ivory Coast.

Officials of the privately owned TAI (Transport Aerien Intercontinental) airline, operators of the aircraft, said several prominent African politicians were aboard.

Among the survivors was Sekou Sissoko, health minister of the French Cameroons. Most of the passengers were French. Airline officials said there were a few Britons aboard but there was no immediate indication of any Americans on the flight.

The plane plunged into a forest two miles from Bordeaux-Merignac airport just before midnight after making a shaky takeoff.

The pilot appeared to be having difficulty gaining altitude on leaving the runway.

Many relatives and friends of passengers watching the takeoff saw the crash and hysterically broke through guard rails in an effort to rush to the scene.

Steel Strike Now Threatens Budget

NEW YORK (AP)—Steel strike negotiations adjourned today without any date being set for a resumption of talks.

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration had a new and urgent reason today for possible intervention in the 10-week steel strike. If it is not settled soon, it will unbalance the federal budget.

Budget Director Maurice Stans Thursday unveiled a new and higher estimate of federal spending for this 1960 fiscal year. It carries a 95 million dollar surplus, a 25 million increase over previous estimates, built on the assumption of prosperity and rising tax collections.

Government revenues will suffer quickly, Stans told reporters, if the mighty steel industry fails to resume production in time to prevent a spreading industrial paralysis, dropping income, and declining profits.

"If the strike is not settled in two or three weeks — or if there is no Taft-Hartley injunctions or some other action to get the men back to work — the surplus would be rather quickly wiped out," he said.

Chances of a quick settlement of the strike remained uncertain. Negotiators have been meeting spasmodically in New York with no apparent progress.

There had been previous indications that early October would be the deadline for serious consideration by President Eisenhower of strike-stopping intervention.

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell said recently he would recommend the Taft-Hartley procedure if the strike extended into next month and created a national emergency. Such action would bring about an 80-day resumption of work for fact-finding and "cooling off," but would not prevent a renewal of the strike at the end of that time.

Carter's Condition Satisfactory Today

DALLAS (AP) — Robert Carter, 20, of Levelland, who underwent heart surgery at Children's Medical Center here Thursday, was reported in satisfactory condition today.

The 3½ hour operation was to close a hole between heart chambers.

Carter is the son of a Levelland policeman, E. C. Carter.

He graduated from Snyder High School where the family lived before moving to Levelland recently.

16 Lost In Plane Crash

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — A commercial airliner with 16 persons aboard crashed on an Aleutian island Thursday night. A search pilot reported no sign of life at the wreckage.

The plane, a DC4 of the Reeves Aleutian Airline, crashed at the 2,000-foot level of a mountain on Great Sitkin Island about 5:25 p.m.

A Navy pilot located the wreckage 40 minutes later and reported the plane appeared badly shattered. The Coast Guard sent a tug with a ground party to the isolated island.

The plane carried seven Air Force men, one Navy man, one Army man, two civilians and five crew members.

Airline officials said the plane had started its approach to the Adak strip. There apparently was no report of trouble from the pilot before the crash.

Names of the military men were withheld until relatives were notified.

Ex-Governor James V. Allred Is Victim Of Heart Attack

LAREDO (AP) — James V. Allred, federal district judge and former Texas governor and attorney general died of a heart attack Thursday shortly after being admitted to a hospital.

Allred, 60, presiding at the U.S. District Court for South Texas, complained of severe chest pains Wednesday and was treated at his hotel by a physician.

He returned to the bench Thursday, but interrupted a trial at which he was presiding and adjourned court.

He went to his hotel. Later his court clerk, A. J. Alemia of Edinburg, drove him to a hospital. He died 35 minutes after being admitted.

Services will be Saturday at the First Christian Church, Corpus Christi. Burial will be at Wichita Falls, at a time to be announced.

Allred also is survived by three sons, Air Force Capt. James Allred, 29; David, 25, a member of the staff of Sen. Ralph Yarborough (D-Tex) and Sam Houston, 22, a student at Southern Methodist University, Dallas.

Gov. Price Daniel called Allred's death "A great loss to the state he loved."

Yarborough called Allred "The most eloquent champion of the people of Texas of our generation."

Allred was born March 29, 1899, in Bowie. His father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Renne Allred, once lived in a dugout in Childress County, where they took up a land claim. Drought drove them to Grayson County and later to Bowie, where his father was a rural mail carrier and operated a wagon yard.

Christened James Burr V. Allred was known as "Vee" in his youth.

He shined shoes, sold newspapers, ran errands and worked as a janitor and stenographer to earn money for his education.

He graduated from Cumberland University in 1921 and began practicing law in Wichita Falls.

When Allred was in the Navy in World War I he told friends he was going back to Texas to run for governor.

Gov. Pat Neff appointed him assistant district attorney for Wichita, Archer and Young counties in 1923. A year later he was elected district attorney at 25.

He made his first bid for state office in 1926 as a candidate for attorney general in the Democratic primary. He lost but won on his second try in 1930 by a substantial majority.

Allred married Miss Joe Betsy Miller of Wichita Falls June 20, 1927.

He was reelected attorney general in 1932.

He filed numerous anti-trust suits including one for 17 million dollars against 15 large oil companies and the American Petroleum Institute for alleged violations of the anti-trust laws. The state lost, but Allred won many other anti-trust cases.

Suits he filed recovered thousands of dollars in cash and valuable oil lands, including more than one million dollars for the public school fund.

One of his most notable achievements as attorney general was a victory in the U. S. Supreme Court over the right of Texas to control the flow of oil.

In 1934, Allred won the Democratic nomination for governor in a run-off with Tom Hunter by a majority of 40,000. He was elected to a second term without a run-off.

Allred's two terms as governor, 1935-1939, were marked by an effort to restore prosperity and to correct evils thought to have been responsible for the depression.

Floods Rage In Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Surging river waters threatened floods in scattered sections of Oklahoma today after cloudbursts Thursday for the second straight day.

North and central areas got the heaviest storms although little of the state was spared. More rains are due today, particularly in the south and east.

The North Canadian River was expected to be at flood stage or slightly higher at Watonga. At Union City the South Canadian River was expected to be bankfull although no flooding was predicted.

U. S. highway 66 was closed for hours at Hydro, Okla., where eight inches of rain fell.

One death was attributed to the storms. Dave Asquew, 50, of Gotebo, was killed when struck by lightning near Hydro. Later, the highway patrol said, a second man, M. E. Graham, 50, of Pampa, Tex., who had seen the accident died of a heart attack.

A number of families were forced from their homes near Okeene, Okla., by a flash flood after a 6-inch downpour.

A 2½-hour downpour at Hobart, Okla., flooded streets there. Around Cotulla, some farm roads were inundated but no main highways suffered traffic interruption. Downtown Cotulla streets were temporarily flooded.

Creeks went out of their banks in the Cotulla area, but no residential areas underwent high water.

Residents of Dumas in the Panhandle took shelter Thursday when at least three tornado funnels were sighted.

One funnel touched down about six miles southwest of Dumas but rose again promptly. The other two clouds were spotted in the same area.

There were no reports of damage.

A heavy thunderstorm which moved through the Amarillo area left 2½ inches of rain in three hours. Light hail accompanied the early evening downpour.

The heavy rains filled stock water tanks, which were low.

Temporary exhibits took a beating and electric power was disrupted at The Tri-State Fair in East Amarillo.

Dallas School In Test Of New Law

EASTLAND, Tex. (AP) — The Dallas school board said again today 1957 state laws aimed at stopping or slowing school integration do not apply to Dallas.

This was one of the main arguments as the board continued to seek a court ruling to end conflict between federal court rulings and state law.

A federal court and a lower state court have disclaimed jurisdiction.

School officials throughout Texas watched the case for possible guidance for their own actions.

Today's hearing before the Eighth Court of Civil Appeals was in effect an effort by the board to force a district court in Dallas to accept jurisdiction and hear the case on its merits.

The board told the appeals court state laws involved were not effective until Aug. 23, 1957, several months after Dallas had been ordered by federal courts to integrate. Dallas attorneys argued state laws could not be retroactive.

"Whether House Bill 65, 55th Legislature, the main anti-integration bill, operates in other districts that have not desegregated we do not attempt to say, but we do say that it does not operate in any wise on the Dallas district confronted with a prior order of the United States Court of Appeals," said a school board brief filed for today's session.

Dallas schoolmen at the same time sought to claim protection of a clause in state laws which exempts any school district from penalty if the district integrated before the state laws were passed.

The board simply asked that the appeals court reverse a lower court decision and order the case tried on its merits.

Attorneys pointed out unless some court clears up the conflict, the district and its board face penalties no matter what action they take.

Should it not integrate, its board members presumably would be subject to contempt action in federal court. Should it integrate the district would lose state financial aid and accreditation, and the board members would be subject to fines up to $1,000 each.

The 44th District Court in Dallas originally ruled that it did not have jurisdiction because, among other things, the school board did not obtain permission of the Legislature before suing the state. The ruling came on a state motion and the case was not tried on its merits.

In a rebuttal brief filed for today's hearing, the state attorney general's office renewed the claim that the board cannot sue. It also declared that no concrete situation has arisen and that the appeals court cannot rule on a hypothetical case.

If the district integrates without a favorable vote by citizens, it faces loss of $2,600,000 yearly in state aid, in addition to loss of accreditation. Loss of accreditation would make it difficult for graduates to enter some colleges.

The NAACP, which is seeking a court order for immediate integration in Dallas, is not a party to today's suit.

Federal Judge T. Whitfield Davidson ruled this summer Dallas officials are working in good faith toward integration. He did not set a deadline, but scheduled another hearing for next spring.

Report Of Beating Is Discounted

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Police are considering a lie detector test for Ferenc Iszak, 28, local leader of the Hungarian Freedom Fighters who was found Wednesday morning lying in Golden Gate Park.

Early reports attributed to Mrs. Iszak that he had been beaten by Communists were discounted, particularly after Iszak himself told detectives from his hospital bed that he was not beaten by them.

"We doubt whether he was beaten by Communists or anybody else," said Lt. Don Scott after interviewing Iszak in the hospital.

"There were no injuries on his body. His clothes were not torn. There was no evidence of a struggle," said Scott.

Inspector Frank Gibeau said he thought a disagreement between Iszak and other Freedom Fighters may have occurred.

Scott said it would be unusual to suggest a lie detector test because he theoretically is the complainant, "but I think we'll suggest that he take one once he is released from the hospital."

Auditor Says Tax Figures Misquoted

GROESBECK, Tex. (AP) —The Limestone County auditor said today the county's tax rate is $1.25, plus 42 cents to apply on old debts, and not $2.05 as reported at the state county judges and commissioners' convention this week.

The question arose in a discussion of the unit system of pooling equipment for county building and maintenance to save funds.

Arlon Simmons, Navarro County commissioner, was quoted as saying the Limestone County tax rate rose from 95 cents to $2.05 after the county adopted the unit system.

County Auditor Nall Leach said today that the tax rate now is $1.25 per $100 valuation plus 42 cents to pay off debts incurred before the county changed to the unit system.

"I don't know what we would have done if we hadn't changed to the unit system," Leach said.

He said that when the county adopted the unit system, it had more than three million dollars of scrip, time warrants and bonds outstanding. He said hundreds of miles of roads were closed from lack of proper maintenance.

Twelve years later, Leach said, the county debt is reduced to $372,000 which will be liquidated in six more years. He said the county has one of the best equipped road and bridge departments in the state and the county is operating on a cash basis.

Miners Dig Lair For Big Missile

By RALPH DIGHTON

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE Base, Calif. (AP)—You'd think they were digging a hole to hell — but it's really aimed at the heavens.

There will be times when the hole is a veritable inferno.

Smoke and flames and earsplitting thunder will roll forth, then struggling up through them will rise the deadly snout of a 20th century dragon, on its way to space.

Its mission may be the destruction of an entire city. Or it may seek only to scour the skies in quest of new knowledge for man, its master.

The dragon really exists. It is called Titan, because of its size. And hardrock miners, toiling around the clock at this West Coast missile base, are digging a lair for the ocean-spanning missile.

Forty feet across and 160 feet deep, the hole will be ready for occupancy by the end of January.

The hole, called a silo because it is used for storage of the 90-foot missile, is the key part of an eight million dollar project. Three smaller holes have been dug nearby, for storage of the fuel, liquid oxygen and control instruments.

When finished, this will be the country's first underground Titan launching site. The missile, which has a record of four successes in five firings from surface pads at Cape Canaveral, Fla., is expected to be operational here in mid-1960.

Last April miners started digging four more silos. A year from now these will be completed and Vandenberg will have two "hard" sites for launching Titans.

Titan sites are hardened, or buried underground, to protect them from attack. Theoretically, launched at an enemy even though nuclear bombs are dropping all around.

Krush Visit Helps Young Capitalists

COON RAPIDS, Iowa (AP)—Two 13-year-old capitalists used communism's No. 1 man to turn a couple of bushels of corn into a tidy $100 profit.

Twins Vida and Vicki Peterson charged 50 cents an ear for "souvenir corn" during Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's visit here Wednesday.

They sold more than 200 ears. The corn, at market value, was worth about $2.

Astronaut Felled By Virus Infection

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—A virus infection has sent one of this country's seven Astronauts to the hospital, officials disclosed Thursday.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said Capt. Donald Slayton is undergoing a thorough physical checkup at the Lackland Air Force Base Hospital before returning to the Astronaut program.

One of the seven trainees is expected to be the first American traveler in outer space.

Jury Returns Its Verdict

Issues submitted to the jury in the 132nd district court case involving a suit and counter suit were decided in favor of Tri-Service Drilling Co., one of the litigants.

The case was Tri-Service Co. vs. West Texas State Bank, suit on account; and West Texas State Bank vs. Tri-Service Drilling Co., suit on note.

Judge Sterling Williams said that during the presentation of the case, the Bank established its case so that no special issues were left for jury decision, and they the jury decided in favor of Tri-Service on the issues in its suit against the bank.

Special motions for judgment will be made before the court before any decision is rendered by Williams.

Red China Likely To Spring A Surprise On Anniversary

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Red China already could have her own A-bombs.

Her leaders might make this stunning announcement, or stage a nuclear test, Oct. 1 when China celebrates the 10th anniversary of Communist rule.

"It wouldn't surprise me if China now could make a small number of crude bombs," says one famous U.S. scientist who played a leading role in creating America's first bombs.

It's only an outside chance at best that China has done so, he and other scientist agree. It depends partly upon how desperately China wanted bombs a few years ago.

By now they might have crude bombs, similar to that dropped on Nagasaki in 1945.

All scientists surveyed stress that China is embarked on a tremendous program of training scientists and building her scientific strength, using science as a major springboard for the "Great Leap Forward." Eight scientists questioned, with most having indirect knowledge about China, preferred not to be quoted by name in their views.

There is also lively speculation whether China — ancient inventor of rockets—might seize upon the anniversary to launch a space vehicle into orbit. Some observers believe she could do it only with powerful Soviet collaboration.

The arrival in Peiping Monday of a top Soviet scientist, Dmitri Blokhintsev, director of the Soviet Union's Institute for Nuclear Research, has stirred speculations some scientific coup might be planned.

As for A-bombs, the big question is not whether China will make her own weapons — but when.

With them, Red China overnight becomes a vast new power, not only in Asia, striking new fear in India, Laos and other countries, but in the world. Knotty disarmament problems are magnified. So also are the chances of even accidental atomic war.

There are no real secrets about how to make A-bombs. Most of

Firing Halted By Technical Difficulties

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force was reported today to have been blocked by technical troubles in an attempt to launch a ballistic missile from a bomber in flight and put it close to the orbit of the Paddle Wheel satellite Explorer VI.

A source close to the experiment said the missile was carried high over Florida during the early morning hours but the launching was called off after half an hour's flight. The only immediate explanation was "technical difficulties."

The source said the trial was put off indefinitely.

There was no suggestion that the experiment had been called off permanently.

An Air Force spokesman said the firing may prove the feasibility of using air-launched ballistic missiles to intercept any enemy satellite that might spy on this country.

The satellite would be traveling at its highest speed—26,000 miles an hour—and the likelihood of getting the much slower supersonic missile near it seemed small. The satellite slows down at the top of its orbit, and its average speed for the complete circuit is 18,000 m.p.h.

There reportedly will be no attempt to hit the Paddle Wheel satellite, but only to co-orbit the missile with it briefly.

The satellite is nicknamed for its radiating vanes that draw power from the sun for its radio instruments. Launched Aug. 7, it still is working fine, and scientists hope to get information from it "for months to come."

Negro Youth Loses Arm In Accident

CORSICANA (AP) — Sammy Curry, 17, a Negro, fell into a stalk cutter today and lost his right arm. The accident was on the Frank Cartlidge farm near this Central Texas city. Curry underwent surgery here and was reported in good condition. The arm was severed just above the elbow.

Passengers Sue Airline

HOUSTON (AP) — A plaintiff in a 2½ million dollar damage suit against National Airlines testified Thursday an airline pilot pushed him into a seat during a flight from New Orleans to Houston.

Robert W. Milner Jr. said the push came after he had went to the galley and asked a stewardess if it was all right for him to take a drink. He said he got approval from the woman.

Later, he said, Capt. C. J. Delk told him to take a seat and that he told the pilot, "this is no way to treat a passenger." Delk, Milner said, then shoved him into a seat.

The November, 1957, flight was met by Houston police who arrested both Milner and Bert F. Winston. Milner, charged with being drunk, was acquitted in Corporation court.

Milner seeks two million dollars as a result of the incident and Winston $500,000. Delk also is a defendant.

Camera Takes Rocket Ride

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —A camera-carrying rocket shot over the Atlantic today to photograph Hurricane Gracie.

The 25-foot Nike-Cajun rocket was to boost a nose cone holding the camera to an altitude of 85 miles. The cone was to fall into the ocean about 40 miles offshore. A Navy destroyer waited to retrieve it.

Gracie, gradually losing punch as she moved northward on a 200-mile front, was centered about 340 miles east of here. Her highest winds were bare hurricane force of 75 miles an hour.

Weather Bureau scientists hoped the camera, capable of photographing a 300-mile span of ocean, will provide the first pictures of a complete storm. In the past, cameras in planes and weather balloons have recorded only segments of storms.

If recovered, the film will be taken to laboratories in Washington for processing and study. Officials said it probably will be a week before results are announced.

Medical Director Files For Divorce

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Dr. Samuel S. Golden, 65-year-old hospital medical director, filed a divorce suit in Denver District Court Thursday. He also obtained a restraining order against his wife, Nina, 55.

Golden told Judge Harry Sayre that last week his wife poured red nail polish over his bald head as he was sleeping. On another occasion, he testified, Mrs. Golden awakened him early in morning by pouring cold alcohol on him.

The doctor said: "I'm afraid of the woman."

City Manager Plan Grows

THE DENISON HERALD:

Though voices of doubt are still occasionally raised against it, the council-manager form of municipal government continues its gain toward dominance among all city systems.

The International City Managers Association's latest report is that more than 1,600 cities (including a few counties) now have council-manager government. It is now the most popular system among Texas home-rule cities, the number adopting in doubling during the past decade.

Texas now has two national distinctions in this field. Dallas is credited with being the largest council-manager city in the United Statees. Houston, the only Texas city and one of only 4 per cent nationally to abandon the form permanently, is probably the largest American city to reject it after a trial.

Since its inception in 1912, the council-manager system has been more readily adopted by the medium size cities. It is now also spreading rapidly to smaller cities, but there is growing reason to believe that the million mark in population may be the maximum size for which the system is preferable.

Actually, American political ingenuity has yet to come up with a form of local government promisingly suited to the policy problems and administrative intricacies of metropolitan areas of multimillion population. Those are governed today by a bewildering hodgepodge of makeshift units built on incompatible mixture of tradition and expediency.

Just as council-manager city government has been the major American political reform of the first half of the Twentieth Century, devising an efficient and democratic system for metropolitan-area government is the area of opportunity for the major reform of the second half of this century. The end result may only faintly resemble the governmental structures with which we are now familiar.

Khrushchev Faces Top Test Of Tour

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev has made a shambles of a supermarket, a cornfield, and stuffed-shirt diplomacy. But now the time has come to see whether he's any more than a bull in a china shop.

His American caravan, more like a mardi gras than a sightseeing expedition, included hat-swapping, hot dogs, insults, temper-tantrums, baby-patting, pig-patting, turkey tickling and a fling at the Can-Can.

He has talked peace and he has talked big. But so far it has been all talk and all vague. Now he has to get down to cases with President Eisenhower. By Sunday, when their meeting breaks up, there should be answers to two questions:

Whether he came just for the ride and the publicity; or, whether he means business, wants peace, and is willing to take steps to bring it about.

Even if the talks are only a small success Khrushchev will look like a great man to a lot of the world, since he was the one who initiated all this and went to a lot of trouble, coming over and poking around, to find a settlement.

He's done his best to create that picture of himself already.

If the talks finish in flat, dead-end failure he can blame it on this country and still look good to a lot of people. He can point to his efforts. But if there is failure, and he keeps on talking, he runs a danger.

He may wind up looking like an international windbag, which is the large size.

He and Eisenhower, as they sit down together, have one thing in common: A kind of inborn optimism that, with the proper effort and plenty of it, the world can be made wonderful. Trouble is, they haven't agreed on how to do it.

They do agree nuclear war is unthinkable — although they keep on thinking about it — but they suffered from a bafflement on how to prevent it.

They have a lot of unfinished business to discuss: Disarmament, Berlin, nuclear tests, Laos, the future of Germany, American-Soviet trade, travel exchanges between the two countries, and any other problems they can think of.

You'd have a time finding anyone here convinced the two men will reach any flat or final agreements. Maybe the most to expect is that they will make a start, at least, toward some future settlement.

Perhaps just realization by both of them that Americans and Soviets don't want to hate each other will be start enough for the two men to go on to further and more fruitful meetings.

Traditional diplomats from Washington to Hong Kong, who for years have been long on palaver and short-on performance, must be horrified by Khrushchev's revolutionary approach to foreign relations.

If his mission is a success, after the kind of performance he put on, diplomats the world over may feel they had a disturbed childhood because they didn't work in a coal mine or were retarded because they went to college.

Khrushchev, despite all his created very little ill will in America. If he made any enemies on this trip they were probably the world's high-priced tailors.

Angry Young Man No Longer Angry

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Rod Serling, one of the earliest and loudest of television's angry young men, is angry no more.

For years he engaged in a running battle with agencies and sponsors over his right as an author to say what he wanted in the way he wanted.

"I'm no longer an angry young man," smiled the dark-haired, 34-year-old ex-combat paratrooper. "Now I'm merely a petulant, aging man."

Actually, Rod, who probably has rung up more "firsts" than any other TV writer, has simmered down because he feels he has won success without losing his freedom.

"My philosophy is to please as many people as I can — without selling out to them," he said.

Serling makes his debut in a new role Oct. 2 as executive producer of a weekly series of odd, offbeat and sometimes eerie tales of adventure in the realm of the imagination.

He has written 21 of the first 26 stories himself, and will also act as host and narrator for the series.

"That makes me a star, I guess," he said cheerfully. It will also give him three or four salaries, plus later residuals. These rerun rights are highly important today. They are bringing some writers from $25,000 to $75,000 a year.

Serling won a $500 prize for a radio script while still a student at Antioch College in Ohio in 1948, then wrote 40 more scripts that didn't sell.

He quit a $90 a week job with a Cincinnati radio station when he asked for a $10 raise and was turned down.

For two "lean but happy years" he and his wife—he married his college sweetheart—lived in a trailer until he began to click as a free lance.

"I got $100 for my first half-hour TV script," he recalled. "Writers are better paid now. The fee for a half-hour show today is from $2,000 to $4,000."

Altogether he has sold more than 100 TV scripts and six screen plays.

"I've got two healthy children and a good wife, and I can't conceive of anything else a person could hunger for," he said.

"I'm not in rebellion against anything. What can I rebel against? Life has been too good to me."

Gas Flames Injure Man

PORT ARTHUR (AP) — Flames erupting from a test well in the Port Acres gas field injured a workman seriously Thursday night. Four others suffered lesser burns.

The blast occurred 6 miles northwest of Port Arthur at the Peter Henderson Oil Co. No. 1 Lepiniec. Drillers said it presumably encountered a gas sand stringer.

Port Arthur hospital attendants said Marion Wiley Sandifur, 44, of Houston, was in serious condition.

Also injured were Robert Lee Brock, 40, and Hershel Lindsey, 36, both of Humble, and John Lawrence Speagall, 20, and Johnnie V. Speagall, 40, both of Port Neches.

Foreign Firms Taking Business

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Increasing competition from foreign industries—notably those in Western Europe and Japan—continues today to fret American businessmen.

They see our gold supply dropping—with signs that the status of the dollar is being weakened in the world's eyes.

They see our exports dropping and our imports rising.

They see American companies building plants abroad to sell not only in their host countries where quotas and tariffs may keep American goods out, but also in some cases to sell in the United States itself at lower prices than the American firms can make their goods here.

They see some of our traditional markets abroad shrinking as foreign traders take over. The cry is raised that American goods are pricing themselves out of the market, and that rising production costs here are to blame.

And they see foreign goods increasingly challenging American right here at home.

For some American industries the situation already seems critical. For others it is regarded as a growing threat. Any sharp weakening of the U. S. dollar's international standing would hurt not only our pride but our pocketbooks.

Against these fears, the official Washington view has been that there is no basic weakness in the U. S. dollar, that the decline in U. S. exports and the big drain of gold, especially last year, reflect not American weakness but the growing health and strength of the leading industrial nations.

This is a policy deliberately followed by this country since the war in its system of grants and credits known as foreign aid, and in its drive for lower tariffs and other trade barriers.

The official view is endorsed—up at least until the present—by Dr. Marcus Nadler, consulting economist to the Hanover Bank, New York.

But he goes on to warn: "If U. S. gold reserves should continue to shrink and the gold and dollar reserves of foreign countries go on rising, a modification of our foreign aid program would become imperative."

And to this he adds: "Prices of certain types of U. S. manufactured goods—notably producers' goods and vehicles—hace increased more rapidly than those of the principal competing countries. From 1953 to the third quarter of 1958, the wholesale price index of machinery and vehicles rose 7 per cent in Germany, 15 per cent in Great Britain, and 22 per cent in this country."

Between You And Me

By JERRY JACKSON

Yep, there's going to be a doubleheader in Lubbock along about October 3. Now, it is conceded that doubleheaders are a dime-a-dozen in this sports-happy world of ours, but this particular one has a definite gimmick which should prove to be of interest.

Choc Hutcheson, Hub City sports fancier and athletic dabbler deluxe, lined it up and is ramroding 50 per cent of said twin-bill, it being a Choc concoction of the first order. A professional basketball game is what it amounts to, the first such contest ever staged in West Texas by NBA teams. If will feature an imposing pair of teams which will lock horns, too, with the St. Louis Hawks going against the Philadelphia Warriors. Blessed with several of the biggest names in cage circles today, these two teams should put on a show well worth witnessing.

The name commanding the most respect and greatest notoriety is that of Wilt (Ye Olde Stilt) Chamberlain, Philly's fearsome freshman. He will be making his NBA debut this year, having made a name for himself while playing for Kansas University the past few years. During his last two seasons there he averaged 30 points a game, a feat which bolted him into national sports prominence.

Mammy, Where Is That Shortnin' Bread?

WILT IS WHAT you might call tall, and always seems to be bumping into people's chandeliers. It's really not all his fault, though, since he stands 7 feet 2 barefooted. The trouble is that he hardly ever goes anywhere barefooted, and those shoes he wears just make him look that much taller. Then, on top of all that he's built like... well, sort of like a pencil, which isn't in his favor either when people start to gawk at him and wonder how tall he's getting to be and how he happened to get that way.

But Wilt is one wicked basketball player who can handle the ball well, has an amazing eye for the basket, as you might guess, is a better-than-average rebounder. The only real trouble he has is when pesky little people dribble in between his legs as they go in for crip shots, but every job has its drawbacks and that's just one of those occupational hazards with which he has to contend.

Pettit Also On Star-Studded Program

CHIEF POINT-MAKER on the opposing St. Louis Hawks will very likely be Bob Pettit, who isn't any slouch at the game himself. He is a tried and proven performer who can do it all with lightning speed and gazelle-like grace. He is a spectacular-type performer with explosive talents, his NBA scoring record of a 29.2 point average in 72 games last season pointing up this fact.

There will be other big names from the basketball world in the contest, too. Of particular note are Slater Martin, the five foot ten ex-Texas University flash, Clyde Lovellette, and Tom Gola.

Now, concerning the other end of that doubleheader, we turn to football. Following the basketball game, which has a tip-off time of 3:30, will be the Texas Tech-University of Tulsa game at nearby Jones Stadium with an 8 o'clock kickoff planned. This particular contest has proved to be one of the more exciting ones on the Raider's schedule the past few years, and should afford an evening of fine football entertainment.

For all those who would like tickets to the basketball game in advance, they may be obtained by sending a check to Pro Basketball, Box 5002, Lubbock, prices being $2.00, $2.50, and $3.00. They will also be available at the coliseum boxoffice on the afternoon of the game.

Top Teams In Tough Debuts

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Those "easy openers" on the first full Saturday of the college football season have gone the way of the five cent cigar, nickel beer and unlimited substitution.

Don't believe it? Ask Oklahoma or Northwestern. They play each other Saturday. Auburn will verify it. The Tigers open against a tough Tennessee team.

And the second games are getting as bad as the first. Pitt, which was supposed to have a relatively easy time with Marquette last week in its opener, barely won 21-15. Now they must go out to the Pacific Coast and face burly Southern California tonight after the Trojans ran roughshod over Oregon State, 27-6 last week.

The nation's No. one team in the current Associated Press poll, Louisiana State, had a dickens of a time beating Rice 26-3 last week, and Saturday must take on Texas Christian, the 1958 Southwest Conference champ and one of three favorites to repeat.

Other games tonight find Tulane at Miami (Fla.) and Iowa State at Denver.

Oklahoma, rated No. two in the pre-season rankings and again last week without playing a game, takes on a Northwestern team that is the darkhorse of the Big Ten and No. nine in the AP poll.

Fourth-ranked Mississippi, a co-threat with Auburn for LSU's SEC title, takes on Kentucky at Lexington in a night game. Ole Miss won its opener from Houston 17-0 last week while Kentucky bamboozled a good Georgia Tech team before losing 14-12.

Tech is at home to Southern Methodist (No. six) as the Mustangs begin their season with the burden on passer Don Meredith and halfback Glynn Gregory.

Fifth-ranked Clemson, atop the Atlantic Coast Conference after its victory over North Carolina last week, takes on Virginia, a 37-0 loser to William & Mary.

Coach Dale Hall, successor to Red Blaik at Army, has Boston College on his docket as the Cadets opener. Halfback Bob Anderson and "lonesome end" Bill Carpenter are the crux of arguments for the Cadets No. seven ranking.

Wisconsin (No. eight) opens its season against Far West Five member Stanford, a 28-27 loser to Oregon last week.

Top games in the East find Rutgers and Princeton renewing college football's oldest rivalry at Princeton; William and Mary is at Navy and Ivy league favorite Dartmouth entertains Holy Cross.

Big Ten member Ohio State goes to Duke for its opener. Penn State visits Virginia Military; a pass-minded Georgia eleven plays Vanderbilt and Florida meets Mississippi State in SEC games.

Snyder 8th Triumphs

Snyder's Eighth Graders took a trip to Lamesa last night and brought home a decisive 44-0 win.

The greater part of the rompin' and stompin' took place in the second half, with the sole first half score coming on a 15-yard scamper by fullback Jackie Stewart, with Wilson adding the extra points.

Second half scoring was started by fullback Eddie Kirby on a play good for 20 yards, plus left half Gail Potter's successful two points. Then, Kirby ushered in a frenzied fourth quarter for Snyder by scoring from six yards out, with Potter carrying for two. Then Mr. Potter got into the touchdown parade on a six-yard six-pointer, then followed it up with another TD on a pass from Wilson, which covered half the length of the field. Extra point specialist Potter scored once again on the extra points.

The final tally occurred late in the game, as halfback Ygnacio Benitez gathered in a punt on his own 40 and waltzed 60 yards to paydirt.

Looking especially outstanding on defense for Snyder was Rex Akin.

Travis Takes Lamesans

Snyder's Travis Seventh Graders continued to roll along the victory trail at Lamesa last night, coming out on the long end of a 20-0 score.

Robert Foree scored the first touchdown on a first quarter counter play good for 40 yards. He also added the second tally on a 35-yard end sweep in the second quarter, with Tommy LaFountain adding the extra points.

The final counter was made in the same quarter, as Leslie Brown carried for 12 yards on a straight power play. Another TD late in the game was nullified by a clipping penalty, it being a 65-yard romp by LaFountain.

Tigers Out To Buffalo Steers

It'll be the Tigers against the Steers here tonight, as revenge-seeking Big Spring blows into town for an 8 o'clock battle at Tiger Stadium.

Having played only one game thus far this season, the Steer strength under game conditions is comparatively unknown. In that contest, Coach Al Milch's crew built up a 12-0 halftime lead against San Antonio Edison only to see it taken away, with the final score reading 13-12 for the South Texans.

Although the Tigers have come out on the winning end of things for the past four years running in games against the Steers, times were not always so good, as the all-time record in the series shows five triumphs for the Tigers as against four for Big Spring. The rivalry dates all the way back to the year '28, although the "modern" series was instigated in 1952 and has been renewed every year since. Last season's fray falls in the too-close-for-comfort class, as Snyder managed to squeak through for a 25-20 win in a hard-fought contest.

Snyder will go into the game in good shape physically, with only one boy not slated to be ready for action. Not suiting up for the game will be sophomore halfback Spencer Dyer, who was the victim of a broken arm in the early minutes of the Andrews clash.

Steer fortunes were dealt a blow this past Tuesday, when it was learned that starting halfback Carey King would be lost to the team on his physician's advice. King had previously suffered several broken bones and was once again injured in the Edison game of two weeks ago. Also, starting quarterback Tommy Whatley may not be able to go at full steam following a minor injury in a Tuesday scrimmage, but should nevertheless see a good bit of duty.

Coach John Conley, along with able cohorts Horrace Bostick and Don Robbins, will depend primarily on straight-T and wing-T formations to set the Tiger scoring machine in motion. Varied use of split ends and flankers will also be in evidence.

The Milchmen will counter with a wing-T offense, also, with backs staggered strong to the left or right on occasion, and maximum use of flankers anticipated. The Steers are expected to utilize pass and option plays to the fullest, if the Edison fracas may be used as a yardstick. In that game Big Spring attempted 17 passes, completing a very respectable nine of same.

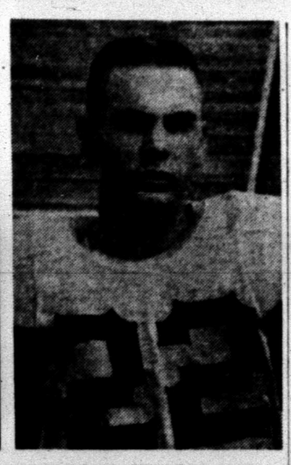

The starting offensive backfields will weigh out about the same, but there will be more beef in the Steer forward wall, thanks to the left and right tackles, who scale 190 and 200 pounds, respectively, and a pivot man who tips the beams at a cool eighth of a ton.

Glancing at the offensive lineup for the Tigers, there will be Jim Robinson and Barry Walker at ends, Stanley Woolever and Charles Gladson at tackles. Tommy Minton and Devane Jones at guards, Reg Scarborough at center, Dick Hayes quarterbacking, Marcus Strickland and either John Weaver or Jim Fitzgerald running from the halfback slots, and Eddie Watson at fullback.

Defensively, the Bengals will have Jim Huffman and Scarborough at tackles, Woolever and Gladson on the ends, Mike Moffett, Hayes, Watson, and Jim Robinson, backing the line, Strickland and Fitzgerald at halfback, and Wayne Berry at safety.

Heavyweights To Meet

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — Alex Miteff, seventh - ranked heavyweight, goes after his fourth straight victory tonight against Billy Hunter in a scheduled 10-round bout.

Miteff, 24, of Argentina, first fought here in October, 1957, and saw his string of 12 victories ended by Mike DeJohn, who knocked him out in the first round.

Hunter, 26, of Detroit, is a stablemate of Sugar Ray Robinson. The young Negro will take into the ring a 12-6-2 record. She has scored six knockouts.

The Miteff-Hunter scrap will be broadcast and televised nationally (NBC, 9 p. m., EST).

Mustangs Picked Over Engineers

Texas Christian tries to knock down the nation's No. 1 team, Louisiana State, and Southern Methodist starts out to justify its high rating in a game with Georgia Tech Saturday as the Southwest Conference goes all-out intersectional.

The TCU-LSU clash is the headliner and a top game in the nation. The Christians will be the second Southwest Conference team to test the mighty Tigers and there's still one to come. Baylor makes the attempt next week.

Rice tried it and took a 26-3 licking last Saturday. That, however, was expected. TCU is supposed to give LSU a real fight because its veteran strength is almost up to the Tigers.

SMU, rated sixth in the nation but yet to show its ability, will find Georgia Tech in Atlanta a rugged trial horse. No SMU team ever has won from Tech on its home field.

SMU will be making its season start and so will Baylor, which journeys to Boulder to play Colorado.

Baylor's opener is being watched with as much interest as any of the other games. The golden Bears have been in the cellar two years in a row and have a new coach, John Bridgers, who's trying to give them a rebuilding job in a hurry.

Texas A&M, disappointed with a 20-14 defeat by Texas Tech, will be in East Lansing, Mich., for a try at Michigan State. State was a big power until last year when it slumped badly. The Aggies also have been down and give little promise of raising their status this year.

Texas, impressive with a 20-0 victory over Nebraska, gets Maryland at home in a night game. The Longhorns are expected to hurdle the terp menace but Coach Darrell Royal has been putting out scare signals.

Arkansas, taking on Oklahoma State at Little Rock, is due to win with about as much ease as the 28-0 trapping of Tulsa last week.

Texas Tech, in fine fettle after its upset of Texas A&M, plays Oregon State at Lubbock. A slam-bang battle is anticipated with Tech granted an excellent chance of making it two victories in a row.

Four out of five last week causes a confident roundup of Saturday's games like this:

TCU-LSU — The Horned Frogs

Texas-Maryland — A solid vote to stop LSU's surge, for Texas.

A&M-Michigan State — Michigan State in a close one.

Baylor - Colorado — Baylor to make a good start under new coach John Bridgers.

SMU-Georgia Tech — Couldn't very well pick SMU to lose its first game since picking it to win the Conference.

Arkansas - Oklahoma State — Arkansas wouldn't appear to be in much danger here.

Texas Tech - Oregon State — A mild leaning toward Tech.

Snyder 'B' Goes Down

The Snyder "B" Team went down to a soggy defeat last night at the hands of San Angelo's Bobkittens, the final tab reading 22-21. The game was played during a steady downpour at San Angelo Stadium.

The local crew was unable to mount a successful scoring offensive until the fourth quarter, at which time they garnered two late tallies, both in the final 3½ minutes of play. The first came on a 36-yard run around right end by Fullback Bob Pena, and the other by Quarterback Mike Morris on a 46-yard sprint around the same end.

Angelo scoring was accomplished by Bill Cameron on a 37-yard sprint through tackle, a pass from Quarterback Larry Mullins to End Don Hughes tacking on the extra points. The second tally was the result of a Mullins pass to Halfback Roy Lowery, good for 36 yards, and the final TD was realized as Cameron went two yards through guard. Mullins scored the conversion following that six-pointer on a keeper play around end.

24 Bust Par In Golden Gate Rounds

By P. D. ELDRED

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A bunched field of golfers — 24 of them under par in their first round — closely chased co-leaders Jack Fleck and Mason Rudolph today in the second round of the Golden Gate Championships.

Fleck and Rudolph with 67s held just a one-stroke advantage after the opening round of this $40,000 tournament Thursday.

Playing with a sore shoulder, Fleck toured the foggy 6,628-yard course in 4-under-par 35-32. Four years ago, in one of golf's biggest surprises, he won the National Open at the Olympic Club here.

Rudolph, 25-year-old former National Junior and Western Amateur champion from Clarksville, Tenn., matched Fleck with 34-33—67.

The 37-year-old Fleck, now playing out of Los Angeles, had a doctor look at his ailing shoulder after the round, but said he would continue in the tournament.

Pressing the leaders were husky Mike Souchak and Frank Stranahan with 3-under 68s.

In a cluster of nine 69s were Jim Ferrier, Art Wall Jr., Fred Hawkins, Tommy Bolt, Don Whitt, Jim Ferree, Bob Goalby, Ernie Vossler and George Schneiter.

Tiger Fish Are Downed

In a game featuring a wild and free-scoring second half last night, Snyder's Freshman Team went down like the Titanic under a 34-14 deluge at the hands of Big Spring Runnels.

The first half was shy on fireworks for the hometowners, as Runnels piled up a 12-0 lead. The first touchdown was scored in the fading seconds of the first quarter, as Gene Lamb connected with Don White on a 28-yard pass. Then, about midway through the second quarter and faced with a fourth and goal to go situation, the little Steers tallied again as Ricky Wisener carried over.

The second half started off dismally, as Wisener took a handoff on his 24-yard line following the kickoff and raced down the sideline on a 76 yard scoring scamper. Snyder's initial six pointer was made as the third quarter played out, as Halfback Jackie Wasson carried over on a one-yard line buck.

The visitors took to the air following the kickoff, and scored again in short order on a 40-yard pass from Lamb to Robert Mahoney. Jerry Bethell carried over for the extra points. Snyder's scoring was capped off by Quarterback Dalton Walton, who went over from one yard out on a keeper play. Luke Nigliazzo tallied the bonus points. Big Spring made its last TD as time was running out, as Bethell galloped 85 yards to paydirt.

In a game which was to have preceded the Freshman encounter, the Lamar Seventh Graders didn't see action, as the Big Spring opposition failed to make an appearance.

NL Race Feverish

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's Don Drysdale, working in a jinx park, for Los Angeles and Lew Burdette, facing a club he hasn't been able to beat since May, for Milwaukee as the National League pennant race barrels into the final weekend looking like it'll never end.

Drysdale faces the Chicago Cubs at Wrigley Field today for the Dodgers, deadlocked with Milwaukee for first place with three to play.

The Braves, playing a night game, will have either a psychological lift or a grim reminder depending on the Dodger result on the scoreboard — when they go against last place Philadelphia at Milwaukee.

The race could end in a tie between the Braves and the Dodgers. They then would meet in a best-of-three playoff, opening at which one will meet Chicago's American League champion White Sox in the World Series.

The late San Francisco Giants could make it a three-way tie for first. Going into their final three games at St. Louis tonight, the Giants are hobbling with a five-game losing string, their longest of the season. To gain a tie, the Giants will have to sweep the Cardinals and pray the Dodgers and Braves each lose twice.

Chicago's Cubs, who crashed the Giants' hopes with a two-game sweep, could be just as chilling for the Dodgers. Only the Cubs (10-9) and Cincinnati (13-9) have an edge over Los Angeles for the season.

Drysdale (17-13) has only a 2-3 season record against the fifth place Cubs. And he's managed to win just one of five decisions at Wrigley Field in his four-year career.

The Cubs will start Glen Hobbie (16-13), their biggest winner since Bob Rush won 17 in 1952. The young right-hander is 0-2 against the Dodgers.

The Dodgers, with slugging first baseman Gil Hodges apparently none the worse after taking a pitch on his left forearm at St. Louis Wednesday, figure on southpaw Johnny Podres Saturday and Roger Craig Sunday.

Milwaukee, knocked off a four-game streak Wednesday at Pittsburgh, has a well-rested Burdette ready for the Phils. Burdette (21-14) hasn't worked since Sunday — when he missed the decision in an 8-5 victory at Philadelphia. The rugged right-hander has won three in a row since he dropped an 11-5 game to the Phils September 2.

He's lost three straight to the Phillies since May 22 and stands 3-3 against 'em for the year.

The Braves, a 5-8 pick to win the flag (you have to bet $8 on them to win $5), probably profited the most from the day off each of the contenders had Thursday. The extra day of rest may have lifted center fielder Billy Bruton (twisted ankle) and shortstop Johnny Logan (infected toe) back into the line-up for tonight's game against Don Cardwell (9-10, 2-2 vs Milwaukee).

The Giants go with Sam Jones (20-15), who has lost three in a row against the Cardinals' Vine-gar Bend Mizell (13-9). The odds are 30-1 that San Francisco won't make it.

In the AL, Chicago Manager Al Lopez will be scouting the Dodgers while his White Sox run out the string at Detroit. The Tigers are struggling with New York for third place.

The Yankees, playing Baltimore, need just one more victory to nail it — their lowest finish since 1945.

Cleveland's Cal McLish shoots for his 20th victory in the second game of a twi-night pair with Kansas City. Washington is at Boston with the Senators' Bob Allison needing one home run to tie the AL rookie record of 31 set in 1939 by Ted Williams.

Sooners Stricken At Chi Nite Spot

CHICAGO (AP) — Oklahoma's hopes for a victory in its first encounter with a Big Ten football team were dealt a severe blow when 12 Sooners became violently ill at a Chicago night club Thursday night.

Whether the 12, five of them members of the first team, would be available for Saturday's nationally televised game with powerful Northwestern was not immediately known, physicians said.

Oklahoma is ranked No. 2 in this week's Associated Press poll and Northwestern No. 10.

Six players were taken from the night club to a hospital where their stomachs were pumped. Six others were returned to the Orrington Hotel in suburban Evanston, where the team is staying.

Coach Bud Wilkinson, who had not accompanied the squad to the night club, was described as "heartsick" at the news. He said the team probably would not hold a workout today, adding: "I don't know how we can with so many players missing."

Wilkinson had permitted the players an evening out to "take their minds off the game and let them relax." They were to return to their hotel headquarters in Evanston later.

Harold Keith, director of Oklahoma sports publicity, said the players were stricken shortly after they had eaten a salad. Physicians, however, were unable to determine the cause of the illness.

The six players taken to the hospital are co-captain Bobby Boyd, starting quarterback; co-captain Gilmer Lewis, starting left tackle; Jim Davis, starting center; Bob Scholl, No. 2 center; Bob Page, No. 3 quarterback, Paul Benien, No. 3 left halfback. Asst. Coach Jimmy Harris, who had accompanied the players to the club, also was stricken.

All seven had their stomachs pumped and were being fed intravenously.

The six players stricken and returned to the hotel were Jimmy Carpenter, starting left half; Brewster Hobby, starting right half; Jerry Payne, No. 2 left guard, Max Morris, No. 3 left tackle; Bonnie Hartline, No. 2 fullback, and Bill Watts, No. 3 right tackle. Several other players, who were not identified, were put to bed with severe headaches.

Only two members of the 40-man traveling squad did not accompany the team to the night club. They were fullback Prentice Gautt and left end Wahoo McDaniel.

Keith said it is Wilkinson's custom to permit the players an evening out, until 10:30 p.m., on Thursday night to "take their minds off the game and let them relax."

Frogs Down Hotshots

The Frogs decisioned the Hotshots, 18-6, in Pee-Wee football play Thursday afternoon.

Eddie Greenfield and David Cadena paced the Frogs' offensively. Greenfield scored the first two touchdowns, and Cadena intercepted a pass and ran it back 52 yards as time was running out in the game.

Powers Booth scored the only Hotshot touchdown, while Buddy Powell was leading ball carrier for the losers.

The Frogs rolled up 174 yards rushing, and the Hotshots made 62 yards on the ground and 41 passing.

Proposal To Halt Trains Protested

SHERMAN (AP) — City officials of Sherman planned to add their testimony today to that of others opposing a Frisco Railroad proposal to halt daily passenger service between Dallas and Tulsa.

The railroad says its one train a day each way is losing money. Railroad brotherhoods and several cities on the route are protesting the move.

A hearing opened Thursday before examiner Jerome K. Lyle of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Delbert Fields, Frisco passenger traffic manager, testified the Dallas-to-Tulsa operations produced a $1,324,677 deficit between Jan. 1, 1957, and last June 30.

Lack of patronage, credited to increasing use of private automobiles, and higher expenses and taxes were blamed by the railroad for the deficit.

Fields said without mail revenues, the deficit would have been $899,622 in 1957, $744,824 in 1958 and $364,957 the first six months of 1959.

He said a change from steam to diesel power decreased power costs but wages have gone from an average of 70 cents an hour in 1939 to $2.45 at present. It takes seven crew members to operate each train involved, Fields told the examiner.

Fields was one of eight witnesses offered by John E. McCullough of St. Louis, the Railroad's lawyer. McCullough said he expects to call 16 others.

Burrows At Green Hill

Royce Burrows has been called to serve as Music Director at the Green Hill Baptist Church.

A 1951 graduate of Howard Payne College, he was a member of the Life Service Band and the band. After serving in the armed forces until 1953, he moved with his family to Snyder where he began his present employment with the Texas Highway Dept.

During part of 1955 he was part-time music and education director at the First Baptist Church and he served a year at Colonial Hill Baptist Church as choir and youth director.

From 1939 to 1946 Burrows lived in India with his parents who were medical missionaries. His mother, now widowed, still serves in Assam, India.

Mrs. Burrows is the former Alice Faye Dorety. Their children are Belinda, 5, Burton, 3, and Stacy, 1½. They live at 4010 Austin Avenue.

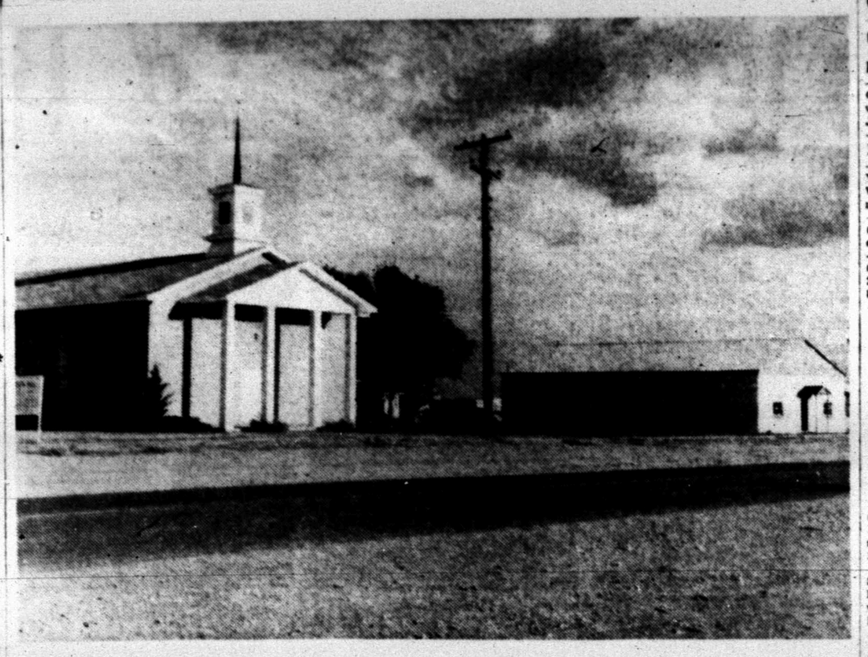

This is a part of Choir Enlistment month at Green Hill. The Choir rehearses on Wednesday nights at 8:40 p.m. immediately following mid-week prayer service.

Hungerford To Seminar

Upon invitation of the Bishop of Washington, clergy from various parts of the nation attend this post-graduate seminar.

Rev. Hungerford will study under an outstanding contemporary Anglican theologian, Dennis Baly, in addition to doing clinical work in preaching. Rev. Hungerford will visit in New York City on his return trip.

EDUCATION BUILDING—A combination fellowship hall and education building has just been completed at Green Hill Baptist Church on the Clairemont Road. The new building is the concrete-block structure at right, with a Sunday School class capacity of 130 persons. A large room and kitchen will provide for social activities of the church. (Lee Watson photograph)

Green Hill Church Sets Dedication

Green Hill Baptist Church will dedicate its new educational annex Sunday.

The building was converted and remodeled from the old Snyder bus garage south of the present auditorium. Sidewalks were laid to connect the church with the six lots recently purchased. Labor was done primarily by the men of the church.

Containing 2,400 square feet the building provides space for 130 additional people in three Sunday School departments, and eight classrooms as well as recreational area and kitchen. New departments constituted are Young People, Young Married People, and Adult I.

Also in use Sunday will be new Baptist Hymnals for the auditorium and new folding chairs in both educational buildings. The temporary seating in the Intermediate, Junior I and Junior II departments has been replaced.

The program for the dedication service will include a box luncheon immediately following the morning worship service, song service, special music, recognitions and a brief address by the Rev. Bill Arnett, district missions secretary for District 8.

Last Sunday's goal of 230 in Sunday School was exceeded and the goal for this Sunday in the "Stars in my Crown" campaign is 251, which would be the highest attendance on promotion day in the history of the church.

Next weeks's activities include preparation week for newly-elected Sunday School workers on Wednesday and Thursday at 7 p.m. Also on Tuesday, the WMS will meet for the teaching of a stewardship book by Mrs. Bill McCrary, and installation of officers for the coming year by Mrs. Roy Burgess.

Men's Brotherhood will have its regular monthly meeting Monday at 7 p.m.

Training School Being Conducted

ABILENE. — More than 70 volunteer education workers, most of them responsible for training church school teachers among Texas Christian Churches, are being equipped for their jobs in a week-long school here.

The Annual Texas Leader Training School of the Christian Churches opened Monday and will close Friday at Abilene's First Christian Church.

Marvin E. Smith of St. Louis, Mo., editor - in - chief of church school literature for the Christian Board of Publication, is the principal lecturer for the school, which this year is emphasizing the content of teaching.

Smith is delivering a series of lectures on "Theology and Christian Education" in general assemblies and is discussing "Philosophy of Christian Education and Curriculum" in sessions with ministers and district chairmen of education.

In group meetings workers with various age levels—pre-school, elementary, junior high school, high school and adult—are interpreting Smith's "Theology and Christian Education" presentations in terms of their own jobs.

District age-level directors of education are receiving specialized training in two-hour sessions each day.

Evening sessions of the statewide school are interest groups on specialized areas of work—serving persons with special needs, music, worship, visual aids and church libraries.

Mrs. C. R. Doyle of Houston is conducting a library period in the afternoon.

Other leaders include B. E. (Ernie) O'Donnell of Fort Worth, youth director for the Texas Board of Christian Church; Mrs. Paul Campbell of Fort Worth, children's worker of the TBCC; and Keith D. Pierce, associated minister of the First Christian Church in El Paso.

Also Ervin Watson, minister of the First Christian Church at Brady; Tommie M. Bouchard, minister of the First Christain Church in Mineral Wells; Jack Garrett, minister of the First Christian Church in Center; and Eugene Brink, minister of the First Christian Church at Carrollton.

And Walter Hehl, minister of education at the First Christian Church in Lubbock; Mrs. John Mullen of Brownwood; Mrs. H. L. McCleary of Houston; and Mrs. George Fowler and Mrs. H. R. Mundhenke, both of Fort Worth.

Robber Has Reason For One Failure

WOODBRIDGE, N.J. (AP) — There was a perfectly logical reason why Joseph Freda didn't rob anybody in Perth Amboy, although he admitted he had participated in 19 holdups around here.

"Didn't find any place to park," he told police Thursday, as they booked him for armed robbery.

Grace Lutheran Adopts Plot Plan For Proposed Building

The Grace Lutheran Church congregation adopted a plot plan study for its ultimate building near Cogdell Memorial Hospital on Roundtop Road last Sunday.

Contract was awarded to J. D. Hinton, architect, to complete drawings for the first unit of the building.

The new plant will be located a block south of Medical Arts Clinic on one and a half acres of land donated to the church by Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Cogdell Sr.

Construction of the first unit is planned to begin early next year. The first unit will include a parish hall to also serve as a sanctuary and a wing for classrooms.

The second unit, to be built in the future, will be a large sanctuary.

The Rev. Walter Lentz, pastor, said that the congregation here will pay a portion of the initial cost of the unit in cash and pledges, but that major financing will come from the board of American Missions of the United Lutheran Church in America.

The initial unit will have seating capacity for about 125 persons in worship services and Sunday School class room for about 140 persons.

Committees working on the building project include Bob Eime, chairman of the building committee; Jesse A. Johnson, chairman, Doyle Henricks, Richard Wolfe, Mrs. L. G. Kramer, John Lammert and Calvin Lange, architectural sub-committee; Calvin Lange, chairman, L. T. Kramer, C. R. Dansby, and Vernon Rannefeld, finance sub-committee; Mrs. Gilbert Richter, chairman, Mrs. Vernon Rannefeld, publicity sub-committee; with the pastor as an ex officio member of all committees.

Final approval of all plans is the responsibility of the church council and congregation.

Council members are Bob Eime, Jesse Johnson, Calvin Lange, Vernon Rannefeld, Richard Wolfe, Raymond Graves, Henry Schwarz, Victor Freytag, L. T. Kramer, and Lentz, as council chairman.

TAKING INVENTORY

(Question) "Can we take for granted that the Lord is with us?"

(Answer) "Paul warns against such procedure in 2 Cor. 13:5. "Try your own selves, whether you are in the faith; prove your own selves." This verse urges us to take inventory of lives to determine the strength of our faith. Business firms make annual surveys to ascertain their stock on hand. Students take inventory to see what is lacking in their literary courses. Christians should take inventory to learn their spiritual rating and determine their need. When Peter says for us to add to our faith, (2 Pet. 1:5-10) we need to determine if we have added or subtracted. It seems obvious that we may deceive ourselves by the admonition Paul gave the Corinthians, "Try your own selves." Paul teaches self-deception if we try to sow to the flesh and reap a spiritual harvest. (Gal. 6:6-7) Self-deception does not relieve us from the guilt of sin. "But exhort one another day by day, so long as it is called To-day; lest any one of you be hardened by the deceitfulness of sin." (Heb. 3:13) In retrospect Paul saw what might have been had he continued his sinful ways. (Phil. 3:1-7) Then he made "circumspection," and insist that we do likewise: "Look therefore carefully how ye walk, not as unwise, but as wise; redeeming the time, because the days are evil." (Eph. 5:15-16) Think today, are "You in the faith?"

—GLEN PACE, 25th St. church of Christ.

Whosoever Will may come to Church may come to God . . .

GOOD MUSIC

. . . the common language of all people. It takes skilled musicians to blend an orchestra into the perfect ensemble . . . to make good music. Just as surely as it requires more discords than concords to make good music, so does it take more disappointment, sorrow and trouble to sweeten up a life . . . to make a good Christian. The orchestra spends a lot of time just tuning up. And so does a life if it is to count for God. One must go to Sunday School, attend church and learn of Him, if his music, his life is to be worthy to be used by God to warm the hearts of men. They learn well and play true.

You In The Church
The Church In You

— form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.
