More Paratroopers Join US Force In Viet Nam

By PETER ARNETT

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Paratroopers of the 101st Airborne Division, successors to the World War II heroes of Normandy and Bastogne, came to the war in South Viet Nam today.

As 3,700 men of the 101st's First Brigade began landing at Cam Ranh Bay, 180 miles northeast of Saigon, a U.S. spokesman said giant B52 jet bombers of the U.S. Strategic Air Command dumped 500 tons of bombs on suspected Viet Cong positions 35 miles southeast of Saigon.

After the B52 raid — the sixth in South Viet Nam by the Okinawa-based bombers — several thousand paratroopers of the 173rd Airborne Brigade began combing the hilly area. By late today one Viet Cong had been killed, another captured, and there were no U.S. casualties, the spokesman reported.

North of the border, a U.S. Air Force RF101 photo-reconnaissance jet was shot down and the pilot was presumed killed while photographing one of the two surface-to-air missile sites attacked Tuesday by 46 fighter-bombers.

The site was 40 miles northwest of Hanoi. A U.S. spokesman said the weapon used apparently was conventional.

The paratroopers who landed at Cam Ranh Bay were greeted by the man who commanded their division when it dropped into Normandy to spearhead the invasion of France, Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor.

It was one of Taylor's last official acts in Viet Nam. He leaves Saigon Friday, to be replaced by Henry Cabot Lodge.

Among the arrivals was Taylor's son Thomas, an intelligence officer with the brigade.

The landing came less than 24 hours after President Johnson announced U.S. forces in Viet Nam would be increased from 75,500 to 125,000 men. But a U.S. spokesman said the brigade was part of a six-battalion increase in U.S. forces that had been programmed some weeks ago. He said it was not part of the buildup the President announced Wednesday.

The paratroopers came from Oakland, Calif., aboard the troop transport Gen. Le Roy L. Eltinge. The brigade commander, Col. James Timothy of New Orleans, La., said his men would deploy initially around Cam Ranh Bay to provide security for 2,500 U.S. Army engineers who are building a port and airstrip.

The paratroopers will reinforce 1,000 men of the Army's 1st Division who arrived July 12.

On the battlefield, an estimated 192 Viet Cong guerrillas were reported killed in a big government operation launched Wednesday in the Mekong Delta 100 miles southwest of Saigon.

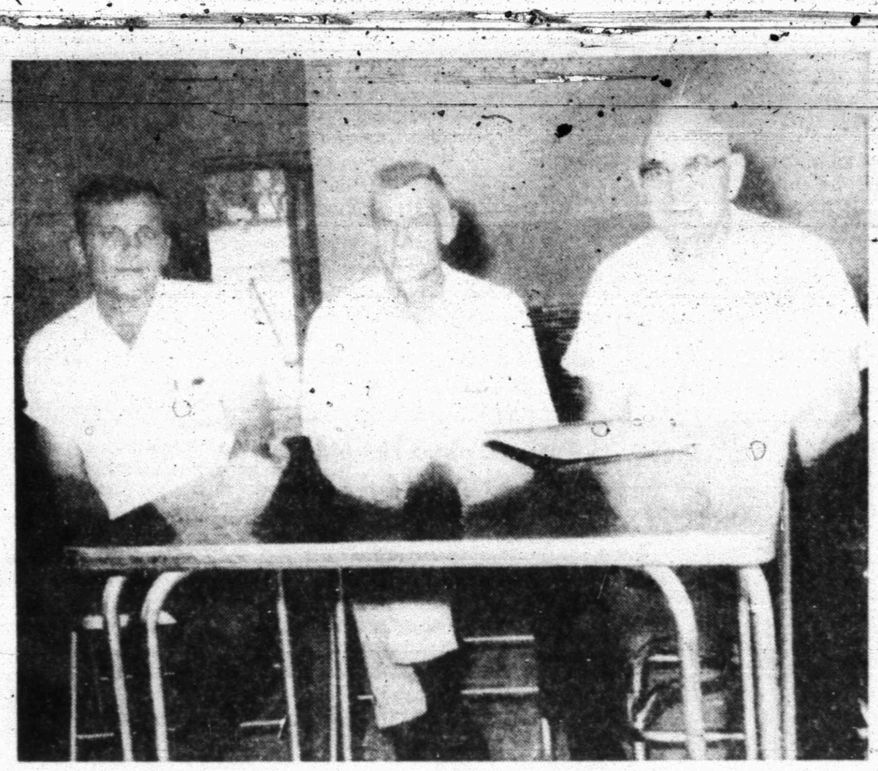

A U.S. spokesman said the Viet Cong toll had not been confirmed by body count, but U.S. advisers at the scene concurred in the estimate.

Government losses were described as "light to moderate." There was no word of casualties among Americans with the government forces.

U.S. and Vietnamese war planes made 75 strikes in support of the ground operation, the spokesman said.

Elsewhere in the delta a U.S. Navy F8 Crusader bomber crashed into a field today while on a stafing run against the Viet Cong, U.S. sources said.

The sources said the plane, from the U.S. carrier Bon Homme Richard, failed to pull out of a dive and was destroyed when it hit. The pilot was not seen to eject. The crash occurred about 65 miles south of Saigon.

TAKING WATER COURSE—Ten area men are now engaged in the Unit II Advanced General Water Works Operation course which is a 20 hour course taught by J. R. Bryan of the Engineering Extension Service of Texas A&M. Shown here are J. A. Hollman of Post, W. C. Landtroop of Post, and Bryan. Others taking the course are Bill Aaron, Gene Miles, Melton House, Henry Woellert, Dale Hoyle, George Lee, J. D. Robison, Fred Overman of Big Spring, Reuben McCowen of Coahoma, and W. A. Cooper. The class is held in the water treatment plant of Snyder.

TWO PLUS ONE NOW SEVEN—That's because this couple and their daughter were blessed by the birth of quintuplets — one boy and four girls — at the National Women's Hospital in Auckland, New Zealand. The smiling mother is Shirley Ann Lawson, 26. Smiling father is D. W. Lawson. All the babies are reported doing well in incubators. Shirley Ann's mother, Mrs. Hilda Menzies, said the quints are descendents of Bounty mutineer Fletcher Christian through her husband. (AP Wirephoto via cable from Auckland)

Gov. Reed Elected In Stormy Session

By JACK BELL

MINNEAPOLIS Minn. (AP) — The National Governors Conference installed GOP Gov. John H. Reed of Maine as its new chairman today in a 22-20 vote that cut across party lines.

Republicans had opposed the selection of Reed because of their previous agreements on Govs. John A. Love of Colorado and Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon as their caucus nominees. The GOP got help from southern and some other Democrats in a vote that climaxed a stormy session.

The chairmanship is alternated between the political parties every two years.

The conference elected to the executive committee Democratic Govs. John A. Burns of Hawaii, John B. Connally of Texas, Hughes of Iowa and Paul B. Johnson of Mississippi, and Republican Govs. Clifford P. Hansen of Wyoming, William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania and John Volpe of Massachusetts.

Reed's name was not among the two which the Republican Governors' Association had recommended. The GOP state executives had proposed the election either of Gov. John A. Love of Colorado or Gov. Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon.

However, Democratic Gov. John W. King of New Hampshire said the committee voted 3 to 2 for Reed.

The recommendation of the group was opposed by Gov. Robert E. Smylie of Idaho, chairman of the Republican Association, and GOP Gov. John A. Volpe of Massachusetts.

Republican governors caucused briefly and GOP Gov. Tim Babcock of Montana said they had decided to "play it by ear" on the nomination of Reed. Several colleagues said Reed was not asked in the caucus to withdraw. Democrats outnumber Republican governors 33-17.

Hatfield said his criticism of President Johnson's course in Viet Nam evidently worked against his choice for the chairmanship.

Reed has given all out support to Johnson's escalation of U.S. military forces in South Viet Nam and the general course Johnson has been following in Southeast Asia. Love also has supported the President.

The governors planned to shorten their final business sessions in time to fly in a presidential jet plane to Washington for a White House briefing on Viet Nam.

Quints Born In Sweden; Two Die

FALUN, Sweden (AP) — A Sweden woman reported to have been given hormones that can cause multiple births had quintuplets today, but two of them died shortly before noon.

A statement from Falun General Hospital said a boy and a girl died. Two girls and a boy, still alive, were in oxygen tents.

The hospital, withholding the woman's name, said the quintuplets were born 11 weeks prematurely.

They were the second set of quints to be born this week. Four girls and a boy were born Tuesday to Mrs. Samuel Lawson, who received the same hormone treatment, in Auckland, New Zealand.

Three other sets of quintuplets are known to be living.

The Auckland quintuplets are doing fine, a hospital announcement said.

The newspaper Expressen reported the Falun mother had been treated for a hormone deficiency by Prof. Carl-Axel Gemzell of Uppsala University.

This treatment of infertile women consists of administering a drug produced from hormones from the human pituitary glands at the base of the brain. The method was pioneered five years ago by Gemzell.

Experts say the dosage for each individual varies and that there is no certain method of determining exactly how much hormone is required to produce an ovum.

Youth Is Killed Near Scene Of Marches

AMERICUS, Ga. (AP) — A white teen-ager was fatally wounded by a shot fired from a passing car early today as about 250 Negroes started an all-night civil rights vigil at the Sumter County Courthouse.

Police arrested two Negroes in connection with the shooting. They were identified as Eddie Will Lamar and Charlie Lee Hopkins, both of Americus.

Witnesses said the victim, 19-year-old Andy Whatley, was shot shortly after midnight as he stood with a group of white youths at a service station about three blocks from the courthouse.

He was given emergency treatment at a local hospital and rushed to a hospital at Albany, about 40 miles away, where he died at 2 a.m.

The demonstrators at the courthouse called off their vigil shortly after 3 a.m. after learning of Whatley's death.

Witnesses said two or three shots were fired from a car containing three Negroes. Others, however, thought there were only two Negroes in the auto.

Police said the car wrecked a short distance from the service station.

Civil rights demonstrators made three marches to the courthouse Wednesday. The first two were completed without incident although some whites heckled them.

About 50 whites gathered but police formed a line to separate them from the Negroes, who carried bedrolls and raincoats.

Mayor T. Griffin Walker asked the whites to leave and they departed after about a half hour.

Civil rights leaders said they would start an economic boycott at noon today.

In Macon, U.S. District Judge W. A. Bootle issued a temporary injunction barring Sumter County officials from enforcing segregation at the voting polls. He also ordered the release of four Negro women voters whose arrests triggered demonstrations here.

The action was sought by the Justice Department in a suit filed Tuesday. Bootle set a hearing for 11 a.m. Friday.

The department's suit, under the 1957 Civil Rights Act, named as defendants Sheriff Fred D. Chappell and 14 other county officials.

Slow Cool Front Brings Showers

By The Associated Press

A dawdling cool front straddled Texas today, kicking up occasional showers or thunderstorms in the central and eastern sections.

It held temperatures a few degrees under recent levels at some points but promised no lasting relief from the summer heat.

The weak front, which arrived in the state Wednesday, edged southward before coming almost to a standstill this morning along a line linking Lufkin, San Antonio, Del Rio and El Paso.

Light to moderate thunderstorms ranged southward through the area between Waco, Temple, Tyler and Palestine early in the day.

There were scattered showers dotting the sector from Brownwood to College Station.

The showers provided the first moisture in more than a month at a number of points.

During the 24 hours ending at 6 a.m. Thursday, Lubbock had .70 of an inch, Amarillo .56, Texarkana .49, Wink .45, College Station .28, Austin .37, Kermit .20 and lesser amounts at a number of other cities and towns.

The same kind of weather cooled a good part of North Texas a bit Wednesday while southern sections of the state roasted.

At Brownwood the mercury climbed to 103 degrees before a .25-inch shower dropped thermometers to 78 within an hour. Top marks elsewhere included Presidio 102, Austin, College Station, Laredo and Waco 101, and Corpus Christi, Houston, San Angelo and San Antonio 101.

Forecasts called for somewhat warmer weather over most of the state again Friday with more showers dotting the southern and western sectors.

Service For Mrs. Ramsey

Funeral services were to be held here today for Mrs. Clifford Ramsey, 59, former Snyder resident who died at 2:40 p.m. Wednesday in a Haskell hospital.

The service was set for 3 p.m. at Bell-Seale chapel, with the Rev. Jerry Speer, pastor of Green Hill Baptist Church, officiating. Burial will be in the Hamilton Cemetery near Corsicana.

Mrs. Ramsey lived here from 1949 to 1955 when she moved to Aspermont, where she still resided at the time of her death.

She is survived by her husband, a son, Clifford Ramsey Jr. of Alice; six sisters, Mrs. Myrtle Murphy and Mrs. Addie Bullar, both of Corsicana, Mrs. S. J. Carney and Mrs. Eula Clifton, both of Mount Enterprise, Mrs. Ethel Griffin of Sacramento, Calif., and Mrs. Edna Phillips of Houston.

Board Hears Protests On Rate Hike

AUSTIN (AP) — The State Insurance Board hears today the protest of two Texas labor officials against a controversial 13.4 per cent average statewide increase in auto insurance rates.

H. S. Brown, Texas AFL-CIO president, and Roy Evans, secretary-treasurer of the labor organization, requested the hearing. The two men said they were appealing in behalf of Texas working men with auto insurance policies.

The board ordered the rate increase July 1 after a hearing where insurance industry spokesmen complained of rising claim settlement costs. Included in the increases, which become effectiv Sunday, is a 20.8 per cent average boost in the price of auto liability coverage.

A suit is pending in district court here contesting the rate increase.

Bert Bader, Dallas lawyer, contends the board should have considered insurance company profits from investing premiums when it was setting the new rates. The board's rate setting formula includes 5 per cent of premiums for profits, before taxes.

Mariner Pictures Reveal Mars Cratered Like Moon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Latest pictures of Mars disclosed that the planet may be pockmarked by up to 10,000 craters, and that it appears to be more like the moon than the earth in its surface features.

This was disclosed today by space agency scientists in a report to the White House. The report covered findings on 18 previously unpublished photographs taken by Mariner 4 on its epochal voyage to the planet.

The scientist who made the main report said that the findings "will profoundly affect scientific views about the origin of the solar systems," and specifically may shed new light on the history of the earth.

Dr. Robert Leighton of the Jet Propulsion Laboratory, Pasadena, Calif., said the latest released pictures of the red planet reveal 70 craters ranging in diameter from 3 to 75 miles. He said that if the rest of the planet is like the area photographed July 14 by Mariner during a period of 25 minutes, there must be "more than 10,000 craters (on Mars) compared to a mere handful on the earth."

Leighton said evidence from the photographs "neither demonstrates nor precludes the possibilty of the existence of life" on Mars.

But the fact that the photos indicate Mars never had any oceans or significant quantities of water makes the pospect of finding life there "less promising," he said.

The scientist took the view that if life does exist on Mars in some pimitive form — perhaps bacterial or plant life — Mars "may be the best, perhaps the only, place in the solar system for preserving primitive conditions."

The report was presented at a White House ceremony in which President Johnson remarked that he was "a little bit relieved your photographs didn't show more signs of life out there."

He said he felt this way because he belonged to the generation which writer-actor-producer Orson Wells "scared out of its wits" with a realistic radio broadcast during the 1930s of an imaginary invasion of earth by Martians.

Pilots Killed As Jet Fighters Collide

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Two F105 jet fighters collided over Thailand Tuesday. Both pilots were killed in the crash near Udorn in northeast Thailand.

A U.S. military spokesman in Saigon announced Wednesday that two F105 jets collided and crashed while returning to home bases after a stroke against missile sites. He did not disclose their home base.

BY 300,000 MEN

Regulars Due Gradual Boost

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department probably will ask Congress to boost the regular military forces by 300,000 men or more in a gradual buildup through heavier draft calls and recruitment of volunteers.

Sources disclosed this today as it became clear President Johnson had chosen a relatively slow course of girding for the long haul in Viet Nam, rather than a quick buildup using reservists and National Guardsmen.

A boost of 300,000 regulars would swell U.S. military strength to about three million men. Much of the increase would be applied to the Army, sources said.

Among other things, the Army will get one more division, probably mechanized infantry, to raise its division total to 17. More independent infantry brigades also are planned. An Army division totals about 15,000 men, a brigade about 4,000.

Johnson's move increasing the U.S. military commitment in Viet Nam by 50,000 men, to a total of 125,000, falls short of expectations. But it is considered likely further U.S. reinforcements, possibly as many as 50,000 more, may flow to the war zone by the end of the year.

The new strengthening of forces in Viet Nam is well below what would be needed to bring about a 10-1 or even an 8-1 margin of superiority over the Communist guerrillas infesting the country. Some experts say such a ratio is essential.

To reach a margin of 10 to 1 or 8 to 1, another 650,000 to 900,000 Americans would have to be poured into Viet Nam to reinforce the 559,000 South Vietnamese troops and the Americans already there or due to arrive under current plans.

The buildup in South Viet Nam is beginning to drain the strategic reserve of regular Army divisions based in the United States for use around the world.

Johnson faced two alternatives for rebuilding this strategic reserve — either by a combination of the heavier draft and stimulated enlistments or by callups of thousands of reservists and National Guardsmen.

U.S. officials said Johnson decided against calling reservists and guardsmen to the colors because, he and his advisers concluded such action was not necessary at this time.

Dear Abby...

BY ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am 26 and with my girl friend at a public dance hall and when we swung out a man cut in and the next thing I knew she was gone, and I finished the dance with him and he took me back to my table and thanked me. My boy friend was furious. He said I had no business dancing with a strange man just because he cut in on me. Was I right in finishing the dance with the man or should I have walked off the floor and left him standing there? He was a perfect gentleman all the time we were dancing. My boy friend doesn't dance fast numbers. That's why I was dancing with my girl friend.

ANGIE

DEAR ANGIE: When two women dance together at a public dance hall, it is an implied invitation for a man to cut in, so don't blame the man. To have walked off the floor and left him standing there would have been rude. And if your boy friend didn't want you dancing with strangers, he should have put his foot down when you wanted to dance with another girl publicly.

DEAR ABBY: I am nearing 60 and have an important decision to make. My wife died four years ago and for the past year I have been keeping steady company with a widow. Everyone tells me I would be lucky to get this woman. When we started to get "serious" she said she wanted an "official" engagement with a diamond ring. (She is 55 and has grandchildren.)

I asked her what kind of diamond she had in mind and she asked me what I did with the ring my first wife wore for years. I told her I had given it to my married daughter, which I had. Then she said she wouldn't accept anything smaller than two carats, and it had to be perfect! Frankly, I hadn't planned on buying her any kind of a diamond because she already has a nice one from her first husband. She is good company and a fine-looking woman and we enjoy each other's company. But all this talk about diamonds has got me ready to back off. What do you think?

DEAR CHANGE: Back off!

DEAR ABBY: I was dancing this girl I have been going with for three years. Neither one of us has ever been married. She has been bugging me to marry her for the past two years, but I just can't seem to get fired up about it. I have been putting off my decision to give it more thought. But I can't make up my mind. We both work, so there is no financial problem. There isn't any religious problem either. We get along okay and don't disagree on anything really important. She's a nice person, an efficient housekeeper and she's very practical. I don't think I love her, but she keeps telling me that she loves me so I say I love her, too, so as not to hurt her feelings. I like my freedom, but if I don't see her I never think of looking for another girl. Should I marry her or not? I just wish someone would help me make up my mind.

UNDECIDED

DEAR UNDECIDED: When in doubt, do nothing. You don't seem able to get very "fired up" about much of anything. Perhaps you don't have the capacity for it, but marriage requires more enthusiasm than you display.

Decision Greeted By Wide Support

BY EDMOND LE BRETON

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John[illegible] support today in Congress for his decision to send 50,000 additional troops now, and more later.

Not all criticism was stilled, however, and some who approved called for more information on the Vietnamese situation or cutbacks in domestic spending.

At a news conference Wednesday that jammed the East Room of the White House, Johnson spoke to 250 newsmen and to the country by television and radio. He said he has decided:

—To send to Viet Nam a new, helicopter-borne division and enough other troops to raise American strength in the embattled country quickly from 75,000 to 125,000 men.

—To increase draft calls more than 100 per cent, from 17,000 men a month to 35,000.

—Not to mobilize any National Guard or reserve units at least for the moment.

Today, Pentagon sources said the Defense Department probably will ask Congress to boost the regular U.S. military forces gradually by at least 300,000 men through draft calls and recruitment.

It was learned also that the U.S. air attack Tuesday on two missile sites near Hanoi was partly responsible for Johnson's decision not to call up reservists now. The attack was felt to be a strong demonstration of the "no retreat" policy without the attack some mobilization might have been used to display national determination.

Viet Nam dominated the news conference and set its somber tone when Johnson spoke of "the most agonizing and the most painful duty of your President." This, he said, is the duty of sending young men away from homes, work and happiness, despite the tears of their families, into a zone of war.

Johnson also announced the first big assignment for the new ambassador to the United Nations, Arthur J. Goldberg. It is to ask the international body to use all its resources to bring peace in Viet Nam.

Fluvanna News

By MARJORIE MATHIS

Family reunions, weddings and visitors are in the news today. Miss Gwen Landrum served as bridesmaid for her roommate, the former Sue Cooper of Vernon, when formal nuptial rites were read at First Methodist Chapel, Vernon, Friday night, July 23. Miss Cooper was married to Kenneth Hildebrand. The couple will live at Longworth where Mr. Hildebrand is pastor of the Methodist Church.

A surprise visit to his mother, Mrs. Jessie Sims, was made by William P. Sims of Washington, D. C., last week when he dropped in on his way home from Denver. Mr. Sims stayed from Wednesday through Saturday before continuing his journey by air from Lubbock.

Mike Landrum has returned from a youth Methodist work field trip at Casa del Amigos, Midland. He made a report of his experiences from the pulpit of the Fluvanna Methodist Church Sunday night.

House guests at the Mert Jones ranch home in Borden County have been their grandsons, Jeff and David Willard of Borger. The boys spent a week visiting.

The Joe Landrum family visited in the home of Rev. and Mrs. Howell A. Watkins, Lamesa, last Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Watkins are former residents. A house-guest of the Landrums has been Charlie Cate, a McMurray student from Abilene.

The Church of Christ meeting began Sunday with Mr. Ed Wharton, Sunset School of Preaching, Lubbock, in charge. Sunday afternoon singing attracted a large group at the church. Mr. and Mrs. Wharton had Sunday dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Sandy Holder and other guests, Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Holder, Keith and Kent, from Andrews.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Smith recently made a two-week vacation swing to several places to visit their children. They stopped several days with their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John G. Hallford, at their new home in Haven, Kansas, and with grandchildren Mike, Gary, Deborah and Lessie. At Odessa they visited another daughter and her family, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Crouch, Donna, Larry, Jerry, Janice, Mark and Beverly. Then they drove down to Fort Stockton to see their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith, Tommy and Kathy. At Abilene they stopped with Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Smith and Patricia, another son, and with another daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Hillard Hight. Then on to Winters where they saw Mr. Smith's sister, Mrs. Ida Martin and Mrs. Smith's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Davis. Mrs. Sarah Davis, who is Mrs. Smith's mother, accompanied them home. Currently granddaughters Rebecca and Sharee Smith and their mother, Mrs. Jimmy Day, are visiting from Abilene.

Robertanne Turner spent several days at Camp Butman recently, and she reports having a wonderful time during her camp experience.

Former residents were welcomed over the weekend by several Fluvanna friends. Mr. and Mrs. Raleigh Mason and their daughter, Sheryl, of Muleshoe were overnight guests with the C. A. Daugherty family and spent Saturday and had lunch with Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Wills.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Ball and Zenda have returned from five days of camping and sight-seeing in New Mexico. Along with a brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Ball of Snyder, they toured the Santa Fe, Ruidosa and Cloudcroft areas.

The T. M. Hughes family have had visitors from far and near during the past week. Mr. and Mrs. Alva Johnston of San Angelo and their daughter were here. From Tulsa came a grandson G. A. Bachelar and his wife and children, Mike, Debbie, Cindy and Kerry. They stayed two nights. Mrs. Hughes noted that this was the first time in twelve years that they had visited Fluvanna. From New Orleans came Mr. and Mrs. C. L. McDonald and their sons, Terry and Wesley. Mrs. McDonald is the Hughes' daughter. Mr. McDonald is a brother of Panch McDonald, and both McDonald families visited and attended the Snyder Rodeo. At present four grandchildren are visiting with the Hughes. They are Keitha, Tim, Dwayne and Tracey, children of Sheriff and Mrs. Keith Collier, Snyder.

Members of a prominent family which originated in East Texas gathered for the first time at Fluvanna for their annual reunion last weekend. Hosts for the Mitchell Family Reunion were Mr. and Mrs. Leo H. Beaver, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Beaver, and Mr. and Mrs. Pat Jones. Mrs. Leo Beaver is the former Opal Mitchell. Brothers and sisters began to arrive last Friday. Saturday night and Sunday activities centered at the Community Center, where the menu featured chicken, ham, barbecue and special hot dogs along with varieties of homemade pies and cakes. All of the five brothers and three sisters which make up the Mitchell family were on hand for the reunion. On Monday they spent the day at the Jones Lake Cabin. The last of the group left Tuesday. Those present for the event were Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Mitchell. Mr. Mitchell is Rehabilitation Area Manager at Austin. Their daughter and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Cameron, Camie, and twins Stewart and Phil, came from Irving, Texas. Principal of Lewis Elementary School in Houston, J. C. Mitchell, and Mrs. Mitchell, were also on hand.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Myers and Judy came from Marshall, Texas, where Mr. Myers is a pipe fitter. Rev. and Mrs. W. V. Bane, Fort Worth, were on vacation from duties at the Methodist Church of which Reverend Bane is District Superintendent.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Mitchell, Longview, along with Mike and Walt, enjoyed their visit to West Texas. Mr. Mitchell is associated with the Mid-Continent Life Insurance Company as District Manager.

From Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Mitchell and their daughter, Jessica. Mr. Mitchell is with Dun and Bradstreet. Visiting with them was a niece, Miss Pam Morris, also of Harrisburg. The Mitchells and their guest flew to Fort Worth and visited Six Flags before driving to Fluvanna.

Another Mitchell, J. W. and his wife, came from Deball, Texas, where he is a radio announcer.

A niece and her family from Henderson, Texas, also were present. They were Mr. and Mrs. Don Copeland, Debbie and Ray. The Copelands will have the Mitchell Reunion next summer.

Others present were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Fee and Jimmy Aaron of Colorado City.

Members of the Mitchell Family are well known to many Fluvanna residents and friends of the Leo Beavers, and many called at the Community Center to renew old acquaintances.

Fortas Boasts Background In Law

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tennessee-born Abe Fortas, President Johnson's choice for the Supreme Court, is a onetime New Deal whiz kid who became a top lawyer and made a reputation as a champion of individual liberties.

General counsel of the Public Works Administration at 29 and undersecretary of the interior at 32, Fortas, now 55, was nominated Wednesday by Johnson to succeed newly named U.N. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg on the high court.

In announcing Fortas' appointment at a news conference, Johnson called his long-time friend and adviser "a scholar, a profound thinker, a lawyer of superior ability, and a man of humane and deeply compassionate feelings toward his fellow man — a champion of our liberties."

As a senior partner of one of Washington leading law firms — Arnold, Fortas and Porter — Fortas has defended such clients as Owen Lattimore, the Far East specialist accused in the early 1950s of lying about Communist associations, and Bobby Baker, the former Senate aide whose business affairs came under congressional fire.

In 1963 Fortas represented a penniless Florida man, Clarence Gideon, in the historic case in which the Supreme Court ruled that states must provide free counsel to paupers accused of a crime. A decade earlier, Fortas won the Durham case in which the U.S. Court of Appeals here broadened [illegible] insanity.

His background suggests Fortas will become a member of the court's "liberal" bloc, which has favored increased use of judicial power to protect individual rights and to raise state court practices to federal stands.

The court's "liberal" majority now consists of Chief Justice Earl Warren and Associate Justices Hugo Black, William O. Douglas and William J. Brennan Jr.

The appointment appeared to be another example of the Pres- [illegible]

On Monday, White House News Secretary Bill D. Moyers said Fortas had told Johnson repeatedly he wanted no government post "from president on down." Tuesday Moyers said Fortas turned down two offers and repeated he was not interested in any post.

Oswald's Captor Tours Kennedy Home

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP) —The Dallas policeman who struggled with and captured Lee Harvey Oswald in a theater shortly after the assassination of President Kennedy toured the Kennedy family compound Tuesday.

Communists Plan Sunken Berlin Barrier

By HUBERT J. ERB

BERLIN (AP) — Refugee soldiers say East Germany's Communist regime is planning a sunken wall around West Berlin that will be less noticeable and more effective.

Such a barrier is already taking shape along one section.

"We have no official confirmation of the plans," [illegible] Hans Hackbarth of the West Berlin police during a tour of the border Wednesday.

"But according to information we have received from refugee East German soldiers, the Communist regime plans to encircle West Berlin completely with its 'modern border' by 1970. The idea is to remove all barbed wire and the present wall from around West Berlin."

Pointing to a section of the "modern border" already built along the Zehlendorf frontier, Hackbarth said:

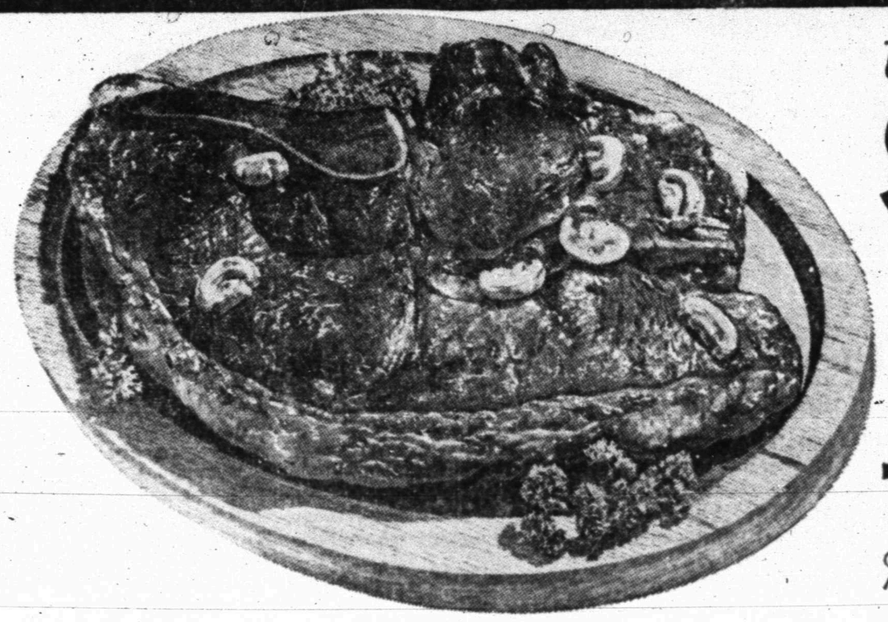

"They will put up an ordinary wire fence [illegible] the border wall now stand. In the midle of a cleared strip 500 yards wide, they will dig a broad trench, and inside it on the side toward West Berlin will be a cement wall nine feet high and almost vertical.

"No vehicle, including a tank, will be able to get up that wall and no one will be able to climb it without help.

"On the eastern side of the trench and its sunken wall will be a road for their motorized patrols. Foot [illegible] and dogs will patrol in their [illegible] each."

"Beyond the road will be a second wire fence. The whole strip will have a normal appearance, camouflaged through design and landscaping.

Stories Are Told; Casey Doing Fine

NEW YORK (AP) — "Now doctors should be in about that ball in my hip. I don't know what kind it is but did I ever tell you about the time I got a National League ball right here, next to my heart?

"I was playing with the Giants then and Buleigh Grimes, who was with Pittsburgh, threw a spitter that hit me right there. You could see the imprint of the ball on my skin as plain as day. The nurse was puzzled.

"'That's a strange place to carry your identification, Mr. Heydler,' she said.

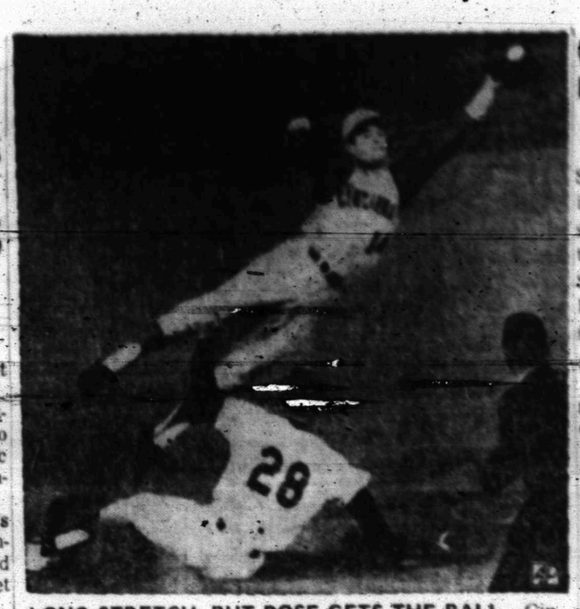

"I had trouble convincing her that my name was Charles Dillon Stengel and that the name John Heydler on my chest was just the imprint that came off the baseball. Heydler was president of the National League."

Chances are that Stengel, recovering at Roosevelt Hospital following a hip operation Tuesday, hasn't told this story yet. But give him time. He'll get around to it and to many more stories before he leaves the hospital which, according to the doctors, should be in about three weeks.

"Casey is doing fine," reported Dr. Peter LaMotte who had aided the team of orthopedic surgeons that operated on Stengel.

In order to hasten Stengel's ability to walk, the doctors inserted a metal ball at the head of the bone where the socket meets the hip joint.

Stengel, who will be 75 years old Friday, is not allowed visitors, except for wife Edna, and won't be for at least several more days. A special policeman has been assigned to patrol the area where he is confined to make sure no one disturbs him.

LONG STRETCH, BUT ROSE GETS THE BALL—Cincinnati's second baseman Pete Rose has to make a long stretch — but he gets the ball — as Dodgers' Wes Parker is safe at second on a second-inning steal against the Reds at Los Angeles. High throw came from catcher John Edwards in second game of three-game series. Umpire Ed Vargo keeps eye on the play. Dodgers won, 9-7. (AP Wirephoto)

Moore, Parker Fear New Atlanta Team

By GEORGE BOWEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP) — National Football League All-Stars Lenny Moore and Jim Parker don't intend to rest on their 1964 laurels. The possibility of a forced transfer from Baltimore to Atlanta late in athletic life doesn't appeal to them.

The roommates talked about the NFL plans for a grab bag of players from the other 14 clubs to start off the new franchise in Atlanta next season.

"How many players can the Colts label untouchables?" asked Parker who reported Wednesday for his ninth season as offensive lineman.

"Twenty-five," replied Moore, in his 10th year as halfback.

"Hmmm, out of 40," mused Parker. "And we're both over 30 years old. . ."

"Yeh, we've got to get operating right away," said Moore, who was voted the league's comeback star last season with a record 20 touchdowns. Prior to the season, the Colts had been willing to trade him.

STRING STOPPED AT 11!

Sandy Koufax Is Beaten By Cincinnati Redlegs

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

When Sammy Ellis retires, he may be the only guy on the block with a sterling silver lunch pail.

The Cincinnati right-hander took another step away from carrying a two dollar pail, outpitching Sandy Koufax in the Reds' 4-1 triumph over Los Angeles Wednesday night.

Ellis stymied the National League leaders on four hits while the second-place Reds snapped Koufax' winning streak at 11 and moved to within two games of the Dodgers.

The victory put Ellis in a class with Koufax, Don Drysdale and Juan Marichal, the four being the only pitchers in the majors to have at least 14 victories this season. Ellis now is 14-6 while Koufax is 17-4.

And the showing the 24-year-old fireballer has made is pretty good for a guy who didn't know before the season started whether he would be a reliever or a starter. He did know one thing, though. He didn't want to relieve.

In other National League games Wednesday, Philadelphia edged Pittsburgh 1-0 in 14 innings, Milwaukee outlasted Houston 6-4, San Francisco defeated St. Louis 8-5 and Chicago swept New York 7-2 and 9-0.

In the American, Minnesota trounced Washington 8-1, Baltimore beat Los Angeles 5-1, Cleveland topped Chicago 4-2, Detroit nipped New York 4-3 and Boston blanked Kansas City 6-0.

Philadelphia and Pittsburgh battled through 13 scoreless innings before Don Schwall walked three Phillies in the 14th and Alex Johnson beat out a two-out infield single, driving in Cookie Rojas. The Pirates managed only five hits off Jim Bunning and Jack Baldschun.

The Braves boosted their All-Star break to 13-4 as Denis Menke drove in two runs with a homer and a single and Ty Cline rapped three hits. Billy O'Dell saved Ken Johnson's 11th victory against five defeats by pitching out of a bases-loaded jam in the seventh.

Dick Schofield and Jim Davenport each batted across two runs in a five-run second inning that carried the Giants past St. Louis. Singles by Lou Brock, Ken Boyer and Phil Gagliano plus Ron Herbel's error helped St. Louis to three runs in the sixth.

Dick Ellsworth 12-6 stopped New York on seven hits in the first game and received support from two-run homers by Ernie Banks and Ron Santo. Banks, whose homer was his 17th, singled before Santo connected for his 21st.

Larry Jackson, 9-13, posted his 12th career victory over the Mets with a five-hitter in the nightcap. Billy Williams backed him with three hits, including a homer, and three runs batted in.

Hagen Improves After A Throat Operation

NEW YORK (AP) — Walter Hagen, who reigned as the king of professional golf before the present day leaders such as Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer, Tony Lema and Gary Player were born, is winning the greatest match of his life.

The 72-year-old fabulous Haig, as he was known in the 1920s when he was a contemporary of Babe Ruth, Bill Tilden, Red Grange, Jack Dempsey, Bobby Jones and Earl Sande, underwent a throat operation for cancer Tuesday.

"He's doing very, very well" his son, Walter Hagen, Jr. said today.

"Let's face it. I was worried before the operation. But when I visited him at the hospital Wednesday night he was sitting in a chair and watching the Detroit-Yankee baseball game on television."

Ralph Boston Is In Quest For New Broad Jump Record

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

KIEV, U.S.S.R. (AP) — The 28-foot mark is Ralph Boston's long jump goal in the Soviet-American track and field meet here this weekend — and he thinks it possible.

"Everything must be just right — conditions, weather, my takeoff and landing," the wiry Tennessee A&I world record holder said today.

"I feel great but I must improve my landing soon. I don't know what it'll take to win but I hope I've got it. I want to keep my record clean against Ter-Ovanesyan."

The duel between Boston and Russia's Igor Ter-Ovanesyan offers one of the featured sidelights of the annual meeting of the two big track powers Saturday and Sunday in Kiev's Central Stadium.

Boston never has lost to his Soviet rival outdoors. He holds the world record of 27 feet 4¼ inches set at Los Angeles last September. Ter-Ovanesyan's best this year is 26 feet 1½.

Boston's enthusiasm and Randy Matson's continued power with the 16-pound shot are the two brightest spots in American preparations.

On the darker side are doubts about U.S. strength in the distance races, where the Russians normally excel.

The Olympic champion, Billy Mills of Oceanside, Calif., in the 10,000 meters, and Bob Schul of Dayton, Ohio, in the 5,000, both have been running in Europe prior to coming here. Gerry Lindgren 19-year-old distance ace of Spokane, Wash., is suffering from a bad cold.

Also on the ailing list is Rex Cawley, Olympic 400-meter champion from Los Angeles, bothered with an Achilles tendon. He, too, has been running in Europe.

Snyder's Hopes Put On Line

Star light, Star bright, which Stars will shine tonight? That is the question that will be answered tonight at 8 p.m. when the Snyder Pony League All-Stars tangle with the Abilene Pony League All-Stars in the first of a best two out of three game series in Abilene.

The series marks the second round of the Pony League Playoffs, and both Snyder and Abilene have already stepped the first hurdle, in the first round. Snyder entered the second round by defeating Colorado City in two straight games, and Abilene advanced to the second round by winning a four team double elimination tournament in Abilene. The tournament was composed of three Abilene teams and Coleman.

It will be important for the locals to gain a first game win over the Abilene crew. The second game of the series will be played in Snyder tomorrow night in Dowle Park at 8 p.m., and with a first game victory in Abilene, it could prove to be easier to win on the familiar field. If Abilene wins the first game, Snyder would have to win two straight games in order to remain in the playoffs, and the third game will be played in Abilene if needed.

Should rain hamper the series on any night, the site of the ball game will be switched to the next day and the game will get the games in by Monday, the Abilene stars will have to leave for their home towns, a game would be allowed on Monday.

The Snyder Pony League All-Stars are the only team left in the post season baseball playoffs from this city. The Colt and Little Leagues have been eliminated.

The Snyder manager, Garland Bishop and Coach Chick Bond get the credit for the locals reaching the playoffs. Bishop and Coach Chick Bond have been working with the boys since the first of the season. Snyder's eastern border on their return trip from Abilene tonight with an illuminating win.

FACING A FACT OF LIFE---AND DEATH!

LBJ Quickens War's Pace; Still Favors Limited Action

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's decision to avoid calling reservists to fight in Viet Nam was influenced, in part, by the end result also coincided Tuesday's attack on two mobile missile sites near Hanoi by American fighter bombers.

Johnson felt that direct and quick retaliation against the missile launchers that had bagged a U.S. jet bomber Sunday was sufficient proof of what he terms the nation's "no retreat" policy in Viet Nam.

Had the launchers not been discovered and attacked, it was said, Johnson probably would have felt compelled to mobilize some reservists and National Guardsmen as a display of national determination.

The administration view seemed to be that the assault on the launchers would be weighed most seriously in the Communist camp because, so far as is known, the United States struck without knowing or caring whether the installations were manned by Russians, Communist Chinese or North Vietnamese.

If this is correct, and high administration officials said Wednesday night the missile base episode was a turning point in Johnson's deliberations, neatly with the President's personal inclinations.

Johnson has seemed anxious to avoid, to the degree possible, any direct provocation of the Communist camp. And, officials said, he was reluctant to order a mobilization that might have put the county on a semiwar footing and made any peace talks — the ultimate aim — more difficult.

One of the mobile missile bases was reported destroyed and the second damaged. Three American fighter bombers were listed by the Pentagon as shot down by conventional antiaircraft fire during the 46-plane attack.

After weighing all factors in a solid week of conferences, Johnson limited his Viet Nam policy actions — announced at a news conference Wednesday — to a doubling of the monthly draft call to 35,000 men and quick increase of 50,000 in the size of the American force in South Viet Nam.

Johnson also said he would ask Congress this year for additional money to help finance expanded military commitments. Officials said the amount would run between $1 billion and $2 billion.

He said more troops would be dispatched even after the projected level of 125,000 is reached.

Officials said Johnson's latest move will have as much immediate impact as any broader mobilization. For one thing, they said, there would be a considerable time lag before any reservists could reach Viet Nam, whereas some seasoned regular troops can move in almost at once.

Competition Continues In Beauty Pageant

FORT WORTH (AP)— Talent and swim suit competition continues tonight in the four-day Miss Texas beauty pageant.

In opening contests Wednesday night, Miss San Antonio and Miss Houston won the talent and swim suit divisions, respectively.

Miss San Antonio is brunette Wanda Smith, 19, a junior at Trinity University whom the tape measures at 34-25-34. She performed a classical ballet dance.

Miss Houston is blue-eyed Julia Keith, 18, a 5-foot-6 beauty measuring 35-22-35. She will be a sophomore next fall at Houston Baptist University.

There are 66 girls entered in the pageant.

Southern Pacific Has Two Derailments

VICTORIA, Tex. (AP) — A Southern Pacific freight train was derailed twice within two miles Wednesday.

Its caboose and seven of the 48 cars jumped the track 9 miles north of here.

The engine and remaining cars followed suit as they continued toward Victoria.

A railroad spokesman said a kink in the rails probably was to blame.

The train, bound for Port Lavaca and Aransas Pass, was hauling granite blocks, some weighing as much as 37,000 pounds.

Gas Gauge Instrument Of Concern

By JOY STILLEY

NEW YORK (AP) — Ever hear of a car that runs without gas? Ours does. Or at least so my husband thinks.

He is convinced that, even though the gas gauge registers almost empty, it will take him where he is going and back without stopping at a filling station.

Our old car did, indeed, still have a few gallons left in it after it claimed to be empty. I have traveled many an anxious mile staring at the black line resting on E and fruitlessly suggesting that it would look at lot more reassuring somewhere around the F mark.

The new auto we recently acquired means what it says and the only advantage to this state of affairs is that I'm never bored on trips. When the turnpike sign warns "last gasoline for 35 miles" and the tank is about one-eighth full, I can entertain myself for quite a while with mental arithmetic. If the tank holds 16 gallons and it apparently has about two gallons left and the car gets 15 miles to the gallon and it's 35 miles to the next pump, how many minutes will I have to wait in the car alone while Pop goes trudging to the station and back?

We once started on a 1,600-mile trip with the gas tank only a quarter full. I timidly suggested that this amount was not likely to get us to our destination and we might as well fill 'er up before embarking. My husband didn't share my doubts. He avowed it would be plenty of gas to get us out of town and we'd get some when we actually needed it.

A while later we were riding along one of those super-roads and I had one eye on the gas gauge and the other on the frequent signs which advised there were no services on the highway. I had been maintaining a frustrated, dignified silence for many miles when I noticed my chauffeur beginning to glance a little nervously at the dashboard instruments.

At the next exit he turned off, remarking grudgingly: "Well, if you're going to fuss about the gas all the way I'll get some just to humor you." The station attendant put 16 gallons into the tank — its exact capacity.

I'll have to admit we've actually run out of gas just one time, and then only half a mile from a filling station. I fervently wished my stubborn husband had had a lot farther to walk.

Junior Editors Quiz on ANT HOUSES

QUESTION: What are ant houses made of?

* * *

ANSWER: Ants work together in a social society and most of them operate from a home base. Different kinds of ants make different houses. Carpenter ants live in tunnels bored in wood. Harvester ants build mounds rising above ground. Certain ants, living in trees, make nests of leaves which they fasten together. A great many tunnel into the earth. We show a cross section of such a home — or rather village, so many activities are going on inside. There is a room where the queen is laying eggs; another where eggs are being hatched into larvae; and one in which the larvae are changing into pupae, the last stage before anthood. Other rooms are used for storage of various food supplies. Take a look at an ant home for yourself. Turn over a few stones and you are pretty sure to find one with a bustling ant colony underneath. There may be many large white objects which are the pupae from which the adult ants emerge. Watch the workers rushing frantically around, apparently without direction. You may think: "Poor little creatures—they haven't the slightest idea what to do next!" But they do.

* * *

FOR YOU TO DO: Watch the ant colony you have uncovered for awhile. Notice how the ants get the precious white pupae to a safe underground place as soon as possible. In a very short while, every last pupae will have been moved to one of the nurseries below. 7-29

American Industry Reports Peak Production And Sales

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The sinews of American might — steel, nonferrous metals, oil, chemicals — are performing at top form. Major companies in these fields are reporting peak production and sales. And most of them are flexing their profits.

With few exceptions, the basic suppliers to American industry are reporting impressive gains in net income in the second quarter of 1965 compared with the like period of 1964. This maintains the spread that brightened the first three months of this year.

In the three months just ended steel companies translated record shipments into profit figures to delight stockholders. Among those reporting so far: U.S. Steel netted $81 million, up $20.3 million from the $60.7 million in the 1964 second quarter; Republic $21.4 million up from $17.7 million; National, $24.4 million from $20.6 million) Armco, $24 million from $18 million.

Producers of nonferrous metals and their products also have been prospering on increased demand, fed both by the business boom and war threats. Kennecott Copper reports second quarter profits of $27.9 million against $21.5 million a year ago; Magma Copper $4.6 million against $4.5 million.

Aluminum Co. of America compares a $22.4 million second quarter with a year ago figure of $16.9 million. Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical reports $11 million this year against $7.5 million last. And Reynolds Metals has a $15-million second quarter this year against a $9-million one in 1964.

Oil profits have been flowing freely, thanks to steadily growing civilian and military use. Ahead this April-June quarter over last year are: Gulf Oil, $104 million, up $13 million over the year ago figure; Socony Mobil, $78 million, up by $7.5 million; Shell, $60.4 million, up by $13.8 million; Indiana Standard, $49.4 million, up by $5.6 million; Phillips, $34 million, up by $3.6 million; Cities Service, $24.2 million, up by $7.4 million or 43 per cent; Sun Oil, $20 million, up by $5 million; Sinclair, $17 million, up by $7.6 million.

Most chemicals show second quarter gains this year. But the largest, Du Pont, shorn of its GM stock dividends now, trails by $2.39 a share in 1965 against $2.61 a year ago.

Ahead are: Union Carbide, with $57 million in this year's second quarter against $45 million in 1964; Monsanto, $38.8 million against $35.3 million; Dow, $30 million against $27.7 million) Allied $24 million against $23 million; Olin Mathieson, $16 million against $13.5 million.

Will the gains continue the rest of the year? Steel companies say even some slackening couldn't spoil 1965's final figures. Oil concerns see conditions still improving. Chemicals express confidence in the rest of the year.

Viet Nam holds uncertainties but few threats for most companies — these suppliers to civilian industry also service the military.

FAMOUS BROKEN ARM—One of the most important right arms in medical history is on the mend again at Boston's Massachusetts General Hospital. Everett Knowles, 15, whose arm was severed completely in an accident and restored in a historic operation, broke the arm recently in a fall. Knowles is pictured at his Somerville, Mass., home in 1963 after the operation to restore the arm. (AP Wirephoto)

Truth, Balance Persuasive Says Voice Of America Chief

By EDMOND LE BRETON

WASHINGTON (AP) — John W. Chancellor, newsman named to head the Voice of America, said today that official radio can be most persuasive about the United States' Viet Nam policy by sticking firmly to truth and balance.

President Johnson announced Wednesday his choice of Chancellor, chief White House correspondent for the National Broadcasting Co. The President hailed him as the first working newsman to be put in charge of the government's world-girdling radio voice.

"I am satisfied the President wants the Voice to tell the truth," Chancellor said in an interview.

He said he proposes to see that the official service observes the same standards of accuracy, judgment and balance as do unofficial U.S. news gathering agencies, and he added quickly, "I believe we have them now. The newscast is inviolate. People have to believe it.

"If I can bring to VOA — to its own skillful people — a sort of outside invigoration, I will be performing a function."

Chancellor took over the NBC White House job last November and before that, he said, he had had no real personal contact with Johnson.

"I had shaken hands with him, I had done some coverage, at a distance. I had never even interviewed him."

It was July 17, he said, when the President offered him the voice directorship.

A surprise? he was asked. "A great shock," he replied.

"I was happy as a flea at NBC," Chancellor went on, "but he has a way. My arm was never twisted, but he is able to make irrelevant all questions of career and money and present job and make you think truly in terms of service. He left me no ethical alternative."

Chancellor lives in Northwest Washington with his wife, the former Barbara Upshaw, a California girl, and their two children, Laura, 6, who was born in Vienna, and Barnaby, 5, who was born in London. His 14-year-old daughter by a former marriage, Mary, is visiting in Europe "and I hope listening to the Voice," her father said.

Ex-Resident Is Promoted By Dowell

Warren L. Sallee, general office sales for Dowell Division of The Dow Chemical Company, Tulsa, Okla. has been named district sales manager at Oklahoma City, it was announced by B. E. McCann, general sales manager.

Sallee began his career with Dowell in 1949 as a junior service engineer at Alice, Tex. He was promoted to service engineer and transferred to Snyder the following year. In 1951, he moved to Hobbs, N.M., as sales engineer and there advanced to area engineer. From November, 1952 to January, 1955, he served as development and sales engineer in the company's general office at Tulsa. He moved to New Orleans in 1955 as district engineer and later became district sales manager. During 1958 and 1959, he was in Denver for 15 months on special assignment, then transferred to Abilene late in 1959 as general sales engineer. He moved to Fort Worth in 1961 in the same capacity and has been in his present position since February, 1964.

Sallee was born in Brady, Tex. and received his early education at Brady and Abilene. In 1949, he received a B. S. degree in mechanical engineering from the University of Texas — after serving three years in the U. S. Army.

The Oklahoma City district is now one of Dowell's largest districts. It supervises the company's oil and gas well stimulation and cementing services in Oklahoma, Kansas and portions of Texas and Arkansas.

US Navy Pilot Figured His Chances Were Slim

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Newsmen were permitted today to interview a U.S. pilot rescued after parachuting into North Viet Nam from a disabled plane. Though more than a score of Americans have gotten back safely from some such experience, this was the first time an interview was authorized. Here is the pilot's story.)

By PETER ARNETT

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Lt. Grant R. Townsend, 27, West Palm Beach, Fla., a U.S. Navy pilot, said today he figured his chances were bad.

Fire crackled in the elephant grass just 50 yards from where he lay hidden. The flames were licking up the ridgeline toward him.

North Vietnamese in the valley had made four attempts to reach him in the previous 80 minutes. U.S. Navy Skyraiders had beaten them off with strafing and rocket runs.

Townsend had been pulling his A4 Skyhawk jet out of a bombing run when a sudden explosion jolted the plane. He jerked the ejection handle and parachuted into elephant grass 14 feet deep. He was 65 miles inside enemy territory.

"My instinct told me to move up the hill," Townsend said. "But I didn't figure I had much of a chance. This was a populated area and the Communists surely could reach me before my own people did."

Using his tiny but powerful radio transmitter, he made contact with the three other Skyhawks from his carrier, the Midway.

These planes circled in, but their fuel supply was low. The Skyhawks were replaced by two Navy Skyraider fighter-bombers. They kept flying above Townsend.

Couched deep in the grass, Townsend began hearing voices. People he presumed were soldiers were shouting at each other and there was a rustling nearby.

He called in the Skyraiders for a strafing run on the area of the voices and the noise subsided.

"The aircraft told me that I could expect a rescue helicopter in 40 minutes," he said. "But that was a long time. I tried to keep my mind occupied. I said prayers, I manicured by fingernails."

At 2 p.m., one hour after he had parachuted, Townsend heard the voices again, this time closer. He called in another strafing run.

The skyraiders fired rockets and this set the grass blazing. The flames raced though the undergrowth.

He was hidden just below a ridgeline. If he had moved up he would have been spotted on the high gound. If he didn't move he would be burned.

Townsend kept talking to the Skyraiders to keep up his spirits. They made repeated strafing runs.

Suddenly Townsend heard a familiar clop, clop. It was the rescue helicopter, from the Da Nang air base in South Viet Nam.

"I figured they were just here on time. That fire was getting close," he said.

The helicopter pilot was U.S. Air Force Lt. Walter Turk of New York. Turk could see the fire blazing from 10 miles away. As Turk came in low, Townsend fired a pencil-thin flare to show his location.

A rope ladder snaked out of the helicopter and Townsend grasped it. Townsend said he didn't know where the Communist troops were then.

He didn't care. His 90-minute visit to Noth Viet Nam was over.

Says Negroes Can Gain In Politics

AUSTIN (AP)— Political opportunity for Negroes has reached its highest level yet in this country, says a Georgia-born Negro who is deputy chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

The 288 Negroes holding elective office in the United States include 98 state legislators and six congressmen, Louis Martin told the sixth anual institute of the United Political Organization of Texas.

"This is a great high water mark—proof that we are on the move in a very basic way in the main stream of American politics," said Martin, who now lives in Washington, D.C.

About 100 UPO members turned out for the gathering Wednesday. UPO is a predominantly Negro organization formed to encourage political participation by Negroes.

Martin said the Kennedy and Johnson administrations moved Negroes into decision - making and policy positions in the federal government, reversing a long standing trend of using Negroes only in advisory posts.

"The day is not too far away when we will have Negro representation both on the Cabinet and on the Supreme Court," he said.

Friend Of Johnson Buys Station

AUSTIN (AP) — Roy Butler, Austin automobile dealer and personal friend of President Johnson, has won Federal Communications Commission approval to take over a local radio station and television station construction permit.

The FCC approved sale of the station and permit to Butler for $500,000 Wednesday. The station is KVET, an AM outlet. It was sold by Willard Deason of Austin.

KVET was founded shortly after World War II by a group which included John Connally, now governor, and J. J. Pickle, now congressman for the 10th district of Central Texas.

Another founder was J. C Kellam, now general manager of KTBC radio and television properties in Austin which are owned by the Johnson family business interests.

Butler was Johnson's host at a barbecue here last summer.

He told reporters several months ago he planned to use the construction permit to establish a second ultra high frequency television station here by next Jan. 1.

KTBC-TV, a very high frequency outlet, for a number of years was Austin's only television station. KHFI-TV, a UHF station operated by Southwest Republic Corp., went on the air in February.

Swine Course Is Scheduled At Ira

A swine short course for South Farmers will be held Aug. 2 under the sponsorship of the Ira High School Vocational Agriculture Department, according to Roy Sallee, superintendent, and James Easton, teacher of vocational agriculture.

JOE TOCQUIGNY

Joe Tocquigny, swine specialist with the Vocational Agriculture Division of the Texas Education Agency and the Department of Animal Science at Texas A&M University will teach the course. He is headquartered at Texas A&M University.

Tocquigny holds a B.S. Degree in Agricultural Education from Texas A&I College, and M.S. Degree in Agriculture from Texas A&I. He was a purebred breeder and commercial feeder for 10 years. Prior to joining the specialist program in 1963, he taught vocational agriculture at Weslaco.

More than 60 swine short courses in various parts of the state have been taught by Tocquigny and all have met with outstanding success, according to Mr. Hulon Harris, area supervisor of vocational agriculture, Big Spring. Arrangements for the adult education short course in swine husbandry and in other fields are made through Harris' office.

The short course at Ira is scheduled to begin Aug. 2 at 8 p.m. in the vocational agriculture building. Other meetings in the series of 5 will be held Aug. 3, 4, 5, 6. During the dates the short course is in progress, Tocquigny will be available to assist producers with individual problems and to provide on-the-farm instruction, according to Easter.

Anyone wanting additional information regarding the short course can contact Easter or Sallee. Swine Production Short Course Certificates are to be presented to each participant who attends all the training sessions. An enrollment fee of $2 will be charged.

Tocquigny said the short course will be adjusted to wishes and interests of farmers enrolled, but that he expects to cover methods of improving feed conversion, raising better pigs, providing economical housing and equipment and a management program.

"Short courses in swine production, as well as in other areas, are now available to farmers throughout the state under the cooperative program between the Texas Education Agency and Texas A&M University," stated Bob Jaska, Associate Professor, Department of Agricultural Education at Texas A&M University, who coordinates the program.

"This cooperative program," said Jaska, "is designed to make the services of specialists available to conduct short courses under the supervision of public schools. Such a program will enable teachers of vocational agriculture to provide improved education services to farm people."

Specialists are now available in the fields of beef production, insect control, farm management, farm electrification, farm (arc) welding, swine production, tractor maintenance, dairy science, pasture and oxyacetylene welding.

Cotton Begins To Suffer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Weather Bureau reported today that hot, dry weather in the northern half of Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana is beginning to affect the cotton crop adversely.

In the eastern half of the [illegible] plants generally made favorable growth.

The bureau said plant growth has been rapid throughout the corn belt, although a lack of soil moisture is affecting growth in some sections. It said soybeans were making favorable development in the principal producing areas.

Condition of the sorghum grain crop in the Southern Great Plains declined as hot weather reduced available moisture.

The bureau said there was no important change in the prolonged drought situation which plagues the Northeastern states.

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

ACAPULCO, Mexico — A gorgeous 10 a.m. breakfast beneath the palms this golden day. Looking out over the huge bay and the long, wide beach. And the gentle surf foamed in like beer suds while I piled on the calories.

After an experience like this, there is nothing to do but stroll down the sand to see what is happening with the movie people visiting here.

For the old Pacific Paradise is now a Hawg Heaven with the ladies in bikinis and photographers trampling one another to get there first.

The big action is around the Hotel Presidente. Press offices, heavy brass from the movie industry and glittering stars in scanty swim suits everywhere you turn. Filming a flicker of some sort.

There was standing room only at El Presidente's swimming pool. Talent splashed about the sparkling waters, sat in reclining chairs or lay in the bright, bright sunshine. I must have stepped over several million dollars worth of prime movie beef in 13 cents worth of cloth. If I only knew who they were — well, what a story to save for my grandchildren.

And there was Mr. John Alius, the United Press Leader in Mexico, clinging to a palm tree while recovering from some rare tropical disease.

"I cannot imagine where I contracted this," sobbed Mr. Alius. "I was out until six o'clock this morning interviewing people and as I recall, they kept offering me beverages. Now my head is bursting and I sincerely believe one of those guys murdered me while I wasn't looking."

The frightful illnesses of the tropics strike quickly.

Mr. Alius managed to hold to my shoulder until we got to a pleasant spot on a shady terrace overlooking the beach. Down below, a collection of photographic gentlemen were burning up miles of film on a red headed lady in an exceptionally snug bikini.

Everything exactly where it should be and in amazing proportions.

"Holy Cow!" exclaimed Mr. Alius, leaning over for a better look. And fell maybe 15 feet to the beach, but I do not think he noticed.

So we strolled over while the red head lolled on rocks, sand, stood in the edge of the foamy surf and let the wind ripple through her hair for the gentlemen of the press.

I edged up to a panting photgrapher and asked, "Who is she?"

And without so much as a glance at me he said, "Go away."

So I told him. "All I want is her name. Possibly an interview."

"Get lost!"

We moved back to the shade and studied the situation. More photographers rushed up and aimed their cameras. The public moved in and took pictures of the photographers taking pictures. And the red head was most obliging for everyone.

Well, there was this U.S. gentleman with a camera standing about two feet from the lady clicking away like at a three alarm fire. Never took his eyes off her, he was that dedicated. After awhile, Miss Red Head strolled out into the surf and the press followed her, all dressed up in their Sunday pants and shoes. Knee deep.

The American reluctantly walked past us. And I asked him who she was. He shrugged. So I asked who he was with and he looked disturbed.

"I mean are you taking pictures for the UP, AP or what?" I asked.

"Oh," he said. "I'm a tourist. I ain't even got any film in my camera but you don't think I'd pass up a chance like this do you?"

I would certainly hope not. And Mr. Alius asked for another handful of aspirins and agreed.

Redistrict Hearing Set In September

HOUSTON (AP)— A hearing is scheduled Sept. 9 on a suit that challenges Texas' congressional redistricting plan.

A special three-judge court set the date during a three-hour closed session Wednesday.

The legislature redistricted Texas earlier this year after the Houston court set an Aug. 1 deadline for new districts based on population only.

Nine Republicans and a state representative who is a Democrat filed petitions last week asking the court to throw out the plan and appoint a master of chancery to redraw district lines.

The Republican intervenors claim the districts mapped by the legislature are gerrymandered to their disadvantage.

Rep. Neil Caldwell of Brazoria County objected in his petition to the legislature's dividing his county into two congressional districts.

Most Solons Oppose Repeal Of Law

WASHINGTON (AP)— Texas congressmen voted overwhelmingly against President Johnson Wednesday as the House passed 221-203 a bill to repeal Section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act, the so-called "right to work" law.

Four voted for the measure and 18 went on record against.

Texans for: Reps. Brooks, Gonzalez, Thompson and Wright.

Texans against: Reps. Beckworth, Burleson, Cabell, Casey, de la Garza, Dowdy, Fisher, Mahon, Patman, Pickle, Poage, Pool, Purcell, Roberts, Rogers, Teague, White and Young.
