Oilmen Unhappy

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Railroad Commission Chairman Mack Wallace told Texas oil and gas executives today that there is "very little we can be happy about."

The commission routinely set the April statewide oil allowable at 100 per cent prior to hearing the executives discuss the state of the oil and gas industry.

Wallace said that there has been "a lot of disappointment" but he said he was hopeful Congress would develop a national energy policy.

Carter Wows Two States

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — President Carter got a warm welcome to West Virginia today after playing a Massachusetts milltown audience like an Irish harp.

Carter flew here from Clinton, Mass., where he wowed citizens Wednesday night at a town hall meeting that saw him at the peak of his campaign form.

The President flew to the West Virginia Capitol to meet with representatives of special interest groups concerned about coal and oil production and other energy-related questions.

An enthusiastic crowd of several thousand persons, mostly youngsters, greeted him at Charleston's hilltop airport and he reciprocated by "working the fence," shaking hands and exchanging brief greetings with his welcomers.

Some of the youngsters waved American flags as a high school band played marching music. One group held signs saying, "Sixth Grade, Fernbank School Welcomes President Carter."

Later today, the President was scheduled to travel to New York where he is to address the United Nations.

The stop in the capital of the Mountaineer state was part of a two-day "meet-the-people" trip that began Wednesday with a nationally televised town hall meeting in hilly Clinton, Mass., a town of 13,500.

The grinning President, sporting a green-tinted carnation in his lapel, stepped before about 800 townfolk and answered questions for 90 minutes. He seemed to wow his St. Patrick's Day eve audience in a town where Irish Catholics make up the largest ethnic group.

Brud Boren has been living around here long enough to tell weather stories and get by with it, and he had a good one literally dumped in his lap last week.

You remember the big blow of Thursday, March 10? That was the day Brud decided to go to Denver via automobile. Being a West Texan he naturally didn't pay much attention to weather forecasters, because everybody knows they are wrong more than they are right in West Texas. What he did not remember this time was that there are two ways they may be wrong. They may overestimate the weather and then on the other hand they may under-estimate it.

Anyway, Brud says he got to Amarillo, finally, and stopped to check into a motel because the stretch from Plainview on up was really tough driving. It was bound to be better the next day.

Everything went as expected until the following morning when Brud tried to open the door to his motel room. It was sealed tight. After a struggle, he got it open and learned that during the night there had been a combination sandstorm-snowstorm and that frozen mud had literally cemented the doors shut.

But that is not the end of the story. Starting up the highway out of Amarillo in the direction of Colorado, Brud was puzzled because there didn't seem to be any traffic on his CB radio. In fact, he tried to call out a few times and inquire about road conditions ahead, but nobody responded.

Finally, he reached Channing and decided to stop and check with law enforcement authorities. He found out why his CB calls had not been answered. There was nobody out there to hear them. The police gave him reports of snowdrifts up to 100 feet deep in southeastern Colorado. So, Brud turned around and came back to Snyder. He hasn't got to Denver yet.

The American Revolution Bicentennial Administration has issued its final report on the Bicentennial celebration, which was just getting started good this time last year. A total of 12,566 communities eventually had activities that involved participation embracing, or affecting, 190 million Americans. The Bicentennial Communities Program was launched on July 18, 1973, which means that nearly three years of planning went into the Bicentennial observance. It was a tremendous event, but, like Christmas and birthdays, we wouldn't want one to roll around too often.

Senate Bill Nixes Directory Charge

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Senators voted 19-9 today for a bill that would prohibit telephone companies from charging for directory assistance or "information" calls.

The bill was tentatively approved, with a final vote still needed to send it to the House.

In final arguments, opponents claimed it would give telephone solicitors "a free ride" and cost other telephone users a total of $41 million a year.

The sponsor, Sen. Lloyd Doggett, D-Austin, said the phone company charges for "everything except not having a phone - and they'd do that if they could find a way."

"Is this the bill to regulate the regulators that we set up last year to regulate?" asked an opponent, Sen. Bill Meier, D-Euless.

He was referring to the new Public Utility Commission, which entered a rate order recently permitting Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. to charge 20 cents a call for each call in excess of 10 a month to directory assistance, 1-411.

Doggett needed every vote he got in the Senate's 20-9 decision Wednesday to debate his phone bill. The Senate adjourned, however, before taking a vote on the proposal.

Meier said vice president Paul Gray of the Communications Workers of America supported the bill in committee. Meier quoted him as saying that its purpose was not to save jobs but that would undoubtedly be a "side effect."

Groundbreaking Is Set Friday

An official groundbreaking ceremony will be held Friday morning at the Varsity Square Shopping Center, which is now under construction at College Avenue and 30th Street in Snyder.

Chamber of Commerce Gold Coaters and local officials are due to be on hand at the shopping center site at 9:45 a.m. to greet guests.

Officials of the Varsity Square developers, along with representatives of major tenants in the new shopping center are expected to be on hand for the ceremonies.

The program will begin at 10 a.m. Mayor John Fagin and State Rep. Mike Ezzell will welcome visitors to the event and introduce representatives of Safeway and TG&Y Stores, the two firms who will occupy the largest buildings in the shopping center.

The visiting officials will be given an opportunity to speak, and a groundbreaking and get acquainted session will follow.

The program at the shopping center site is due to be completed by 10:45 a.m. when the visiting officials will go to the Snyder Chamber of Commerce office for a press conference.

Scurry Fair Dates Set

Dates for the 1977 Scurry County Fair have been set, H.W. Cargile, president of the Fair Association, announced today.

The three-day event will be held Sept. 29-30-Oct. 1 at the Scurry County Coliseum and Livestock Building.

House Panel Okays School Finance Bill

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Despite alleged pressures from "some of the powers that be," a House subcommittee has approved a $657 million school finance bill that mandates relief for property taxpayers.

The full House Public Education Committee will consider the measure Monday morning. Approval would send it to the House floor for debate, possibly before April 1.

Rep. Tom Massey, D-San Angelo, chairman of both the subcommittee and the committee, complained of efforts against the bill by "some of the powers that be and organizations in this field."

"The reason is, these people don't want any property tax relief. They want that money spent on salaries and other programs. But I tell you, property tax relief is in the wind this year," Massey said.

DEDICATION SET SUNDAY

Book Collection Started Here In 1920s Returning

A book collection begun in Snyder in the 1920s has been returned here from Austin to become a permanent part of the Scurry County Library.

The collection has been designated the Fritz R. Smith and J.M. Harris Memorial Library in honor of its originators. Dedication ceremonies for the collection are being planned for 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the library building at 1916 23rd Street, and the public is invited to attend the brief program.

Arrangements for the dedication are being made by the library board and the Scurry County Historical Commission.

Donors of the memorial library are Capt. (Ret.) and Mrs. Coleman H. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Martin Harris, all of Austin.

J.M. (Jack) Harris and Fritz Smith were partners in a Snyder law firm when they began the joint book collection. Smith later served as district judge. Mrs. Harris (Rose) and Mrs. Smith (the former Clare Dodson) are remembered for their social and church activities. Both families eventually moved to Austin.

Most of the materials in the collection relate to Texas and the Southwest, and include works by many well-known authors as well as privately published works. There are some first editions and other rare volumes which will be kept in the county library's rare book section.

All in all, the collection includes more than 500 pieces, Mrs. Mary Nell Bullard, librarian, said.

Arrangements for the collection to be returned to Snyder were made by Hugh Boren, Jr., vice chairman of the Scurry County Historical Commission. The late Fritz Smith was his uncle, and he learned that the Smith and Harris families were interested in finding a permanent location for the collection when he visited in Austin last fall. Several libraries were interested in obtaining the collection, Boren said, but sentimental ties with Scurry County tipped the scales in favor of moving it back to Snyder when the invitation was extended.

The Smiths and Harrises plan to be on hand for the dedication, and family friends are especially invited to be at the library to renew acquaintances.

Harris has indicated that he plans to add books of special interest to the Memorial Library as they are published. He has also offered to pay the costs of re-binding the few following the rules

If you haven't heard of CB radio by now, you must have been absorbed in a RipVan Winkle type project, or else you have simply tuned out the times.

However, according to a relatively new organization called "National Association Of Legal Citizens Band Radio Operators, Inc.," most people may know that such a thing as CB exists, but few really know much about it, and that goes especially for Texas lawmakers. The legal CBers Association is headquartered in Austin, and it took a survey among members of the Texas House of Representatives recently. They asked five basic questions, and of the 40 per cent of the membership of the House participating, none of the respondents could answer all five of the basic questions.

For example, 65 per cent did not know the number of CB sets in use (they probably got it mixed up with the national debt), 75 per cent were wrong about the number of CB licenses that had been issued at the end of 1975, 72 per cent didn't realize that applications for FCC licenses hit a historic, one-day peak in January of 1977 (100,000), 78 per cent didn't know that illegal CB radio operators may be fined up to $10,000 under existing federal statutes, and 65 per cent didn't know how many licensed CB operators live in Texas (800,000).

We do not think that the responding legislators should be scolded for their scores on the survey questions. Indeed, we suspect that they probably scored higher than most average citizens, and possibly higher than some CB operators would if they should be given the questions "cold." The interesting fact in this report, in our opinion, is that the association taking the survey calls its members "Legal" CB operators. It indicates that it is an organization that is interested in following the rules, and there seem to be too few of these today, not only in the CB world, but in the world at large.

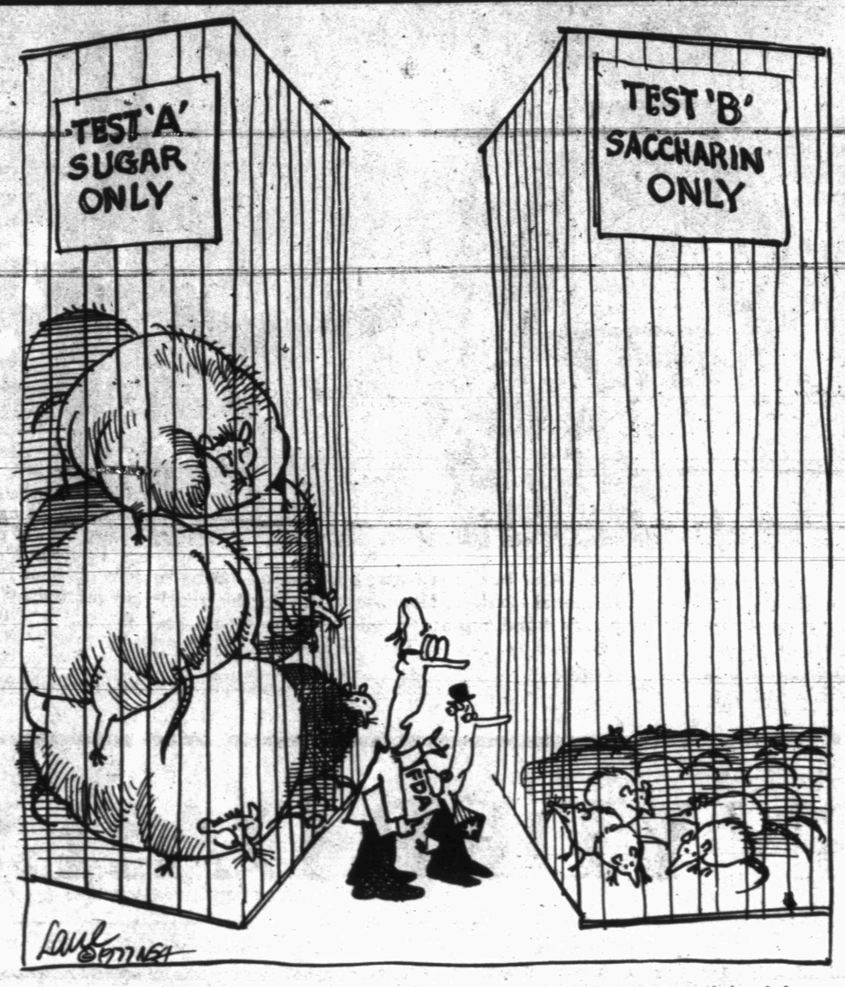

energy suggestions

Fourth graders in a school in Ravenna, Ohio, were asked by their teacher for suggestions on how to deal with this winter's problems of abundant snow and scarce fuel supplies.

It would be wonderful to report that out of the mouths of babes came overlooked solutions to both problems, especially the second one. Unfortunately, the suggestions ranged from the commonplace - turning down thermostats and closing off unused rooms - to the fanciful: building a giant light bulb and magnifying glass to melt the snow.

The most interesting suggestion in regard to the energy shortage, however, was one that was NOT made. Not one of the children said the schools should be closed.

That seems to be a grownups' idea.

my turn...

by john long

The other day, as I was walking in the 1600 block of Pennsylvania Avenue in Washington D.C., I was admiring the stately White House and all that it stands for.

I was walking by a shrub on the White House grounds when I heard a peculiar noise coming from the plant.

"Psssst," sounded the noise again.

Thinking it was a snake, I quickly stepped back. Then, suddenly, out from behind the bush comes a man who looked strangely familiar.

The man had a full head of hair and a big toothy grin. In a flash, I realized I was looking at the President of the United States, Jimmy Carter.

"Psssst," he said again, "Are you a common citizen?" he asked beseechingly.

Initially, I was taken aback, But after thinking a moment, I replied, "Well, yes...I am."

"Good," the President said. "I thought I'd never find one."

"What is the meaning of this, Jimmy," I asked inquisitively.

"Would you believe that I've been looking for a common citizen all morning and that you're the first one I've found?" he said.

"Well, now that you've found one, what are you going to do?" I asked.

"What am I going to do," he said, repeating my question. "I'm going to ask you for your opinions," he declared.

"I'm conducting a grass roots sampling of the mood of America," he said.

"But I'm not in a good mood today," I said.

"Perhaps not," he said. "But you've got to admit that this is pretty grassrootsy."

I was forced to concur. "But," I countered, "what about the Gallup and Harris opinion polls?"

"What do they know?" he pouted.

"I'm after a sampling of the real grass roots. You know, the common people," he said.

"I've been accosting people along this sidewalk for months now," he said. "This is my way of finding out what the people think."

"Now, how well do you think I've handled inflation?" he asked.

We spent most of the afternoon whiling away the time talking about things of great importance.

As I was walking away, I spied the President accosting another passerby on the sidewalk.

liberators eye hatch act

Kentucky has a new death penalty law.

For specific crimes the criminal pays with his life.

Many of that state's legislators say they were convinced by an impassioned speech by one of their own--Larry Hopkins.

I will seek to reconstruct what he said.

In the United States we have a murder every 27 minutes, a forcible rape every 10 minutes, a robbery every 82 seconds, an aggravated assault every 76 seconds and an automobile stolen every 30 seconds.

And those are just the reported crimes!

So it is now the honest people who are locked up in their homes or places of business--while the pursuit of happiness in the streets has become an exclusive right of the criminal.

And the most damnable part of this situation is that a society which ought to be blaming the criminals is instead blaming itself.

I don't buy the theory that the underprivileged have a right to steal and kill and a big majority of the underprivileged don't buy it, either.

Some of our state representatives have been visiting prisons to study what we are doing to criminals; should they not also visit the hospitals and convalescent homes and cemeteries to see what criminals have done to us?

In no other nation are the rights of wrongdoers, however vicious, so zealously protected--while the rights of the victim are so callously trampled.

Every wanted poster in the Post Office includes a long string of "previous offenses"; crime is a career in which the odds are one in 100 that the criminal will get caught and 500 to one he'll go unpunished.

Does the death penalty deter crime? The evidence says it does. Not one of the 162 killers executed in Kentucky has killed anyone since.

More evidence: In Manitoba, Canada, a bank bandit killed a teller during a robbery on a Tuesday. The bandit was captured immediately, tried on Thursday, sentenced on Friday--and executed the following Tuesday.

They never had another bank robbery for 20 years in the entire province of Manitoba.

The death penalty is not something we are deciding; it has been decided. Not in any state in the United States has the death penalty been abolished. It has not been abolished for nice old ladies walking home from church or from the grocery store. It has not been abolished for grocers, druggists, bus drivers and little boys and girls.

It has been abolished only for killers and kidnapers. It is time to even things out.

And Kentucky, in response to that plea, evened things out.

kentucky law effective

WASHINGTON, D.C.— Prior to 1883 federal employment was purely on the basis of the "spoils system." At that time, a part of what we know as Civil Service was adopted and in 1938 the so-called Hatch Act was enacted into law.

The Hatch Act, in effect, restricts federal Civil Service workers from participating in partisan political activity. The intent of the law is to remove political pressures from Federal employees by the politicians who would demand their support for themselves or their party under threat of being fired if they failed to do so.

There are now certain "Liberators" who would toss out the Hatch Act's restrictions which could again allow employees of the Federal Government to run for partisan political office, to work in partisan campaigns, to solicit funds and contribute money or work in Federal political activities under the direction of officeholders.

There is no evidence that a majority, or even a substantial number of civil servants want this liberation, but those pushing the revision or repeal of the Hatch Act want to give it to them whether they want it or not.

Mr. Bertrand Harding, President of the National Civil Service League, testifying before a House Civil Service Subcommittee said, "That which is permitted would quickly become required." He predicted that during the first election after the repeal of this law there would be subtle pressures on Federal employees to contribute and work for the officeholder or a political party; in the second election there would be the expectation, both within and outside the career service, for jobs or promotion for rewards of political activities; and by the third or fourth election, we would be back to pretty much what existed before 1883—a pure spoils sytem.

Those who would gain by the repeal of the Hatch Act would be a very small percentage of workers who might want to run for public office or involve themselves in partisan politics. Union leaders who want to build a giant political force would gain the power they seek. The losers would be the vast majority of workers who will find themselves with little protection against coercion by political leaders and supervisors trying to make "Brownie points" with the politicians; workers who could well find advancement in a Civil Service position determined by political activity rather than by merit.

The public would also be the loser. A politicized Civil Service would mean an unstable and a less productive work force.

The civil service system is far from perfect but it has nothing to do with the Hatch Act. It certainly would have something to do with it if Federal employees had to be torn between loyalty to politicians and union leaders and loyalty to public service.

The Hatch Act was repealed in the last Congress but vetoed by the President. Similar legislation from the Carter Administration.

As a compromise, a Virginia Member of Congress has suggested that Civil Service workers be allowed to participate in local and state partisan political campaigns but not on the Federal level. Such a compromise would allow Federal workers to take part in much of the political life in this Country without exposing them to pressures which could jeopardize their jobs, working conditions and chances for promotion. If revisions need to be made, it would seem that this approach would be far more desirable than outright repeal of the law which now provides indeppendence and protection of Federal employees.

YOUR NEIGHBOR'S KITCHEN

Recipes From Mrs. Ashley's Kitchen

By JOANN NUNLEY

Thumbing through the popular, recently published "Country Doings," Scurry County's Centennial Cook Book, you will find many of Lillian Ashley's recipe contributions. Mrs. Ashley was one of the diligent workers who helped compile the cook book in celebration of the country's 100th year.

Lillian, and husband Morris Ashley, have been in the stock business some twenty-seven years near the Dunn Community. She enjoys the farm life and stays busy with her many hobbies, since her three children are grown and live away from home now.

Wade, their youngest son, won the contest to name the cook book out of 67 entries.

Lillian stated that she enjoys cooking, tole painting, playing the organ and interior decorating. In viewing her home it is evident that there is talent behind these interests.

"My husband enjoys the more simple foods he is used to eating and doesn't care for trying many new recipes," Mrs. Ashley said. Some of the following recipes are from the "Country Doings" cook book and some are favorites of her family.

She also serves as superintendent of baked goods in the Scurry County Fair.

'Nest Egg' Idea Hatched

LORAIN, Ohio (AP) — Lorain businessman Wilbur Ptak has hatched an idea for a new fad gift - the "Nest Egg," a plastic egg filled with up to $5,000.

He calls it ideal for anyone interested in money, credit, financial power or just plain hoarding.

But the money egg is practically worthless - its contents will be old shredded bills from the Federal Reserve Bank.

South's three-spade response to North's two-diamond opening showed a seven-card suit and denied possession of an ace or king anywhere with two or more cards in his partner's suit.

North was able to count 11 sure winners at notrump or spades. At notrump the 12th winner would only come from a successful heart finesse. At spades it could also come as North's fifth diamond could be set up. This made the spade slam a very good one and North bid it.

This hand helped decide the national knockout team championship of 1933 because it was bid at one table while the other table stopped at a mere game contract.

The slam failed to make. The late Louis Watson, whose death at the age of 29 just two years later deprived bridge of one of its very best and very nicest players, happened to sit West.

Louis was noted as a sound steady player. He could have made the normal lead of the queen of diamonds. If he had done this south would have found out about the 5-1 diamond break before having to do anything about hearts and taken the heart finesse. But Louis knew it was time for something brilliant. He opened the deuce of hearts. Poor South thought a while, called for dummy's ace of hearts and had to go one down.

Westerners Rip Arizonans, 93-59

By LINDA GRISSOM

HUTCHINSON, Kan. — Coach Mike Mitchell's Western Texas College Westerners turned things around here Wednesday and surged to an easy, 93-59 victory on Western Arizona in the consolation bracket of the National Junior College Athletic Association's annual tournament.

The decisive victory enabled the Westerners to stay in the running for 6th place in the tournament.

They are scheduled to square off at 2:30 p.m. Friday against the winner of a game between Shelby State of Memphis, Tenn., and Mercer Junior College of Trenton, N.J., being played today.

WTC looked more like the team that won its conference and the Region V title against the Arizonans than it did in the opener against Ellsworth, Iowa.

For one thing, Lawrence Butler's shots from the field were dropping through the hoop in a normal manner. He wound up with 33 points on 15 field goals and three free shots to pace the scorers in the game. Darryl Smith chipped in with 17 points and Larry Orton had 12 as the Westerners were in command all the way. In fact, WTC led by as much as 38 points before Coach Mike Mitchell began calling on his bench. By the end of the game all of both the first and second teams had experienced some playing time.

Arizona Western went into the game with a 29-6 record, but from the outset it was obvious that they were no match for WTC. The Westerners had eased out of a 43-27 half-time lead, and after that it widened steadily.

Coach Mike Mitchell was much happier over the situation as his team cashed in on 37 of 72 shots from the field for 51.4 per cent. Meanwhile, Western Arizona hit only 27 of 74 shots from the field for 36.5 per cent. Kevin Blakely made 20 points for Western Arizona.

If the Westerners win their 2:30 p.m. game Friday, they will play for sixth place in the tournament in a game scheduled to tipoff at 1:45 p.m. Saturday.

The box score:

WTC (93) — Jamison 1-1-3; Person 2-1-5; Butler 15-3-33; Corder 2-4-8; Orton 5-2-12; Worthington 1-0-2; Brown 1-0-2; Smith 8-1-17; Moorehead 2-1-5; Benjamin 0-6-6; totals 37-19-93.

W. ARIZ. (59) — Gray 4-0-8; Chisholm 2-0-4; Woods 1-0-2; Blakely 10-0-20; Brinkel 4-0-8; James 3-3-9; R. Smith 1-2-4; Jarmillo 1-0-2; Gizonski 1-0-2; totals 37-5-59.

Pittsburgh Pirate rookie Omar Moreno stole 70 bases last season, 55 for Charleston, W. Va., and 15 for the Pirates.

Rangers Lose 5th In Row

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The Texas Rangers suffered their fifth straight loss in exhibition baseball this season in a 5-4 defeat by a split Atlanta squad Tuesday.

Atlanta's winning run in the ninth came on an error by rookie shortstop Wayne Pinkerton. The Rangers blew a three-run lead in the eighth inning when rookie second baseman Bump Wills muffed a double play and pitcher Tommy Boggs heaved a wild pitch. Before that starter Gaylord Perry and Boggs had held Atlanta to one run against four for the Rangers.

Houston Faces 'Bama Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) — Houston's Cougars face Alabama tonight in the semifinals of the National Invitation basketball tournament. The Cougars edged Illinois State Monday night on a 20-foot field goal at the buzzer by ace Otis Birdsong, who has been averaging 30 points a game all season.

Birdsong says the NIT action has made up for the NCAA's slight of the Cougars, who finished second behind Arkansas in the Southwest Conference.

FACE PECOS IN OPENER

Tigers In Monahans Tourney

Coach Albert Lewis and his Snyder High varsity baseballers left for Monahans early today where they were to face the strong Pecos team at 3:30 p.m. in the first round of the annual Monahans Tournament.

Lewis expected a tough game in his tournament opener.

"They got a late start because they had so many out for basketball, but they should be plenty strong by now," said the Tiger coach of Pecos.

He said Pecos and Snyder are the only two teams so far to pin a defeat on the Odessa High Bronchos, and that Pecos generally is regarded as a contender for the state AAA title this year.

The Tigers are 5-2 for the young season.

Lewis said he likely would start a lineup this afternoon composed of Dray Sikes at second base, Alvin Ollison in centerfield, Bobby Doe at shortstop, Ricky Beard on the pitcher's mound, Tracy Witherspoon behind the plate, Anthony Lewis at first base, Scott Crenwelge in rightfield, Sid Everton on third base and Mitch Mackey in leftfield.

Beard is leading the Tiger mound corps with two victories and one defeat.

The Bengals are hitting .314 as a team, connecting 68 times in 216 times at bat. In seven games they have scored 60 runs. David Lee leads the hitters with two safeties in four trips to the plate. However, Doe has the best average among those who have performed regularly, with 10 hits in 24 times at bat for a nifty .416.

Here's how the Tiger batting averages looked as they departed for Monahans:

Name	AB	H	AVG.
D. Lee	4	2	.500
S. Everton	3	7	.428
B. Doe	24	10	.416

Making up the Gold Team in Friday night's game will be William Cotton, Barry Davis, Jeff Fowler, Monte Gambol, David Gee, Ken Kitching, Ron Lapointe, David Nicholson, Whit Parks and Brent Roemisch. I.E. Ham is team manager and Kirk Johnson is coach.

Finley Loses Baseball Suit

CHICAGO (AP) — Oakland A's owner Charles O. Finley has lost his multimillion-dollar lawsuit against Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn, U.S. District Judge Frank McGarr confirmed this morning.

McGarr, who heard the case without a jury, confirmed published reports that he had ruled against Finley. The judge said, however, that he would not release the full decision until later in the day.

Astros Fall To Braves By 6-1

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The Atlanta Braves downed Houston 6-1 in exhibition baseball here Tuesday as Phil Niekro allowed only one hit in four innings and Buzz Capra gave up just two in three frames for the Braves.

Niekro got credit for the victory and Willie Montanez, Gary Matthews and former Texas Ranger Jeff Burroughs accounted for five hits in nine trips and three runs batted in. The loss went to Houston starter J.R. Richard.

WORKING FOR PEANUTS—The performing pachyderms of the American Continental Circus represent tons of fun in the three rings. They will be among the feature attractions Friday when the circus comes to the Scurry County Coliseum. Performances are set for 4:30 p.m. and 8 p.m. and tickets will go on sale at the door one hour before each show.

Over The Area

Joint Tax Plan Okayed

BIG SPRING—Howard County Commissioners have approved a proposal by Zirah Bednar, county tax assessor-collector, to approach the City of Big Spring and the Big Spring Independent School District on the possibility of tying tax collections of all three agencies together under the county's tax collection department.

Mrs. Bednar said she believed that the present triplicate tax collection efforts were an unnecessary expense to the taxpayer and to the other agencies.

Mitchell To Buy Teletype

COLORADO CITY—The Mitchell County Commissioners Court has decided to continue providing a teletype on the Texas Law Enforcement network, rather than join the city of Colorado City in operation of a single unit. Officers cited a need for a separate unit in the sheriff's office.

The Criminal Justice Council provides financing on grants matching funds on an 85-15 basis. It costs both city and county $1,520 the first year to purchase a unit and $1,250 each succeeding year for maintenance.

Teachers At Post Rehired

POST—The school board here voted to offer contracts for the 1977-78 school year to all present teachers and coaches in the system, except one, subject to assignment.

The exception was Joan Bearden, high school teacher and freshman girls basketball coach who asked that she not be considered for either a coaching position or a high school teaching position.

"Gibraltar of the Caribbean" is the name given to the Brimstone Hill fortress on the West Indian island of St. Kitts. The 18th-century structure once gave safe anchorage for British men-o-war during combat with French and Spanish fleets for control of the seas of the New World.

Send Off Secretary—With References

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1977 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I've been married to a professional man for 20 years. (I'll call him Joe.) We have a beautiful family, and I always thought we had a good marriage. Now I find out, quite by accident, that Joe has been having an affair with his secretary for more than two years.

I've had this girl in my home, and I really liked her. Joe says that he doesn't "love" her—he loves ME—but that all professional men "fool around." Then he went on to list all his colleagues we're friendly with, saying they all have girlfriends on the side.

Joe says it's all over between him and his secretary, but she practically runs his office and he "needs" her, so he's keeping her on.

He's always told me what a super wife, mother and bed partner I was. Now he says I wasn't really all that great, but he didn't want to hurt my feelings or make me feel insecure.

Meanwhile, I can't look his secretary in the face, and I don't want to be in the company of his colleagues and their wives, knowing the men are cheating and their wives are being deceived.

Is there an answer to this nightmare?

DISILLUSIONED AND HEARTBROKEN

DEAR DIS: Your husband has behaved like a prize heel. And don't disregard the possibility that he implicated innocent colleagues to make his transgressions appear more commonplace.

All professional men do not cheat on their wives. If he "loves" you as he says he does, he will get rid of his secretary. And with the reference he can give her, one of his colleagues might be glad to hire her.

DEAR ABBY: I am 24 and am engaged to marry a man who is 40. This will be my first (and, I hope, my ONLY) wedding.

I started to plan a big, formal church wedding with all the trimmings—the kind every girl dreams about—but now I'm having second thoughts.

You see, my fiance is a divorced man with teenaged children. He and his first wife were hastily married by a judge, so this would be his first church wedding, too. He agrees to go along with my decision.

Abby, a few of my friends have expressed surprise that I would have a big flashy wedding even though my fiance is 40 and was previously married, and his first family lives in this rather small town.

What do the etiquette books say? And how do you feel about it?

SECOND THOUGHTS

DEAR SECOND: The etiquette books say that since this is YOUR first marriage, there are no restrictions on the kind of wedding you may have—providing your clergyman approves. I think, considering the circumstances, a less "showy" wedding would be in better taste.

DEAR ABBY: I have a dear friend who is sweet, kind and intelligent. She is such a fine person and everyone likes her, and I would really like to help her.

She has one fault. Body odor. I don't know whether she uses a deodorant; perhaps, it's caused by her taking so many vitamins. In any case, the odor even permeates her clothing.

I want so much to help her. Is there anything I can do without losing her friendship?

A FRIEND IN FLORIDA

DEAR FRIEND: Tell her in a very gentle and loving way. It would be a kindness.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (24¢) envelope.

Calories count in diet

DEAR DR. LAMB — I've been reading your column for some time now and I also read your book, "Metabolics." It was very interesting and I sure learned a lot about losing weight. You have finally convinced me that the way to lose weight is to take in fewer calories than your body uses.

I am 20 years old, 5 feet 2, and weigh 115 pounds. I only want to lose five pounds. It is very hard for me to lose when I eat only 800 calories a day, so I cut my intake to only 500. For the last few days I have also been running a mile in the morning and the other night I played tennis for an hour. The other morning when I got on the scale after all the exercise I've been getting and the few calories I eat, I had gained a pound.

I have to watch everything I eat so I don't get back to 130 pounds like I was. My husband can eat anything and everything he wants without putting on a pound. He tells me if I would get some exercise I could do the same thing. But how much more exercise do I need to get?

As you can tell I am very discouraged. I've been trying to get these last five pounds off for the last four months. Do you have any suggestions? And can you tell me why I might have gained after all that exercise? I need some advice quickly.

DEAR READER — Congratulations on getting rid of the 15 pounds of fat. Not everyone has enough will power to do that.

I don't like you to restrict your calories that much. I am sending you The Health letter number 4-7, Weight Losing Diet, which will give you a plan you can follow and still have a balanced diet. Others who want this issue can send 50 cents for it with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for mailing.

Exercise helps a person lose weight but it does so slowly. That is why you need to be consistent with your exercise program. That mile you ran probably used an additional 100 calories at most — probably less considering your size. The hour of tennis perhaps only 350 calories, depending on how vigorous the game was. There are 3500 calories in a pound of body fat or 17,500 in the five pounds you want to lose. If you walked three miles a day, in four months time you would use the calories in five pounds of body fat.

The other problem you have is that pounds on the scale are a poor indication of body fat loss. As fat is metabolized it breaks down into carbon dioxide and water. The body may retain the water. As you retain four or five pounds of water it looks like you are not making progress. After three or four weeks, suddenly there will be a washout of water and your weight will drop.

Another aspect is the difference in calories in a pound of muscle and a pound of fat. If you increase your muscle mass from healthy exercise, you build a pound of muscle with only 600 calories. So you can be losing calories and gain weight as you lose fat (3500 calories per pound) and gain muscles (600 calories per pound). That is healthy and you shouldn't be discouraged about that. Exercise may also stimulate your body to retain more fluid — to expand your blood volume — that is a limited affair too. I think you need a consistent program and a little more patience.

(Because of the volume of mail Dr. Lamb cannot answer your letters personally but he will answer representative letters of general interest in his column. Write to him in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.)

Silver Dollar Most Valuable

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — When Norman Johnson got an 1804 U.S. silver dollar from his grandfather, he thought it was simply a nice gesture.

Then this week he had the coin appraised. A local coin dealer, Ted Cash, said Wednesday he thinks the silver dollar is worth $264,000.

"It's easily the most valuable coin in Australia and one of the most valuable in the world," Cash said, adding that he started to shake when he realized the value of the coin.

Johnson, 30, a truck driver, said he did not know what he would do with the coin.

Vandalism Is Probed By Police

City policemen investigated four acts of vandalism today and recovered two stolen bicycles yesterday afternoon.

Officers reported that the windshields of three cars had been broken by rock-throwing vandals and that a plate glass window at Hinshaw's House of Flowers had also been broken.

The incidents of vandalism, they said, occurred either late Wednesday night or early Thursday morning. The cars sustaining damage in the rock-throwing spree were parked in the 4100 block of Jacksboro, the 2900 block of 34th St., and the 1800 block of Ave. G.

In other activity, officers reported they recovered two stolen bicycles from a pair of juveniles late Wednesday afternoon. The juveniles, aged 11 and 12, respectively, have since been released to the custody of their parents.

A traffic accident occurred Wednesday at 12:38 p.m. Officers said a 1974 Chevrolet driven by Mary Nell Stewart collided with a reflector pole at the intersection of 37th St. and the East Highway. Only minor damages were reported to the vehicle.

Pierre Trudeaus Attend Ballet

OTTAWA (AP) — Margaret Trudeau has returned to the public eye, doing one of the things she likes best - attending the ballet with her husband, Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau.

Since her return Saturday from a controversial trip to Toronto and New York, Ms. Trudeau had not been seen publicly. Official sources, including the prime minister's office, had no comment on her whereabouts.

The Trudeaus were among a sell-out crowd at the National Arts Centre Tuesday.

20 Injured In Blast

PORT ARTHUR, Tex. (AP) — An explosion and fire injured approximately 20 employes at the Texaco plant in Port Arthur this morning.

A spokesman at a Port Arthur hospital said 20 men had been brought in for treatment.

Plant manager E.L. Chase said the explosion occurred shortly before 8 a.m. and sparked a fire, which was brought under control by company firemen.

Chase said the affected plant unit was sealed off from others in the refinery.

Coffee Prices Top $4

NEW YORK (AP) — Wholesale coffee prices have shot over the $4 barrier, but consumers will have to wait several weeks to find out how much more per pound they'll have to pay in the supermarkets.

General Foods Corp., the nation's largest coffee roaster, increased the wholesale price of ground coffee by 50 cents to $4.21 a pound Wednesday. The action followed Monday's 50-cent increase to $4.18 a pound by second-largest Folger Coffee Co.

General Foods also raised its prices for Sanka and Brim ground decaffeinated coffee by 40 cents a pound. It left instant prices at $5.45 for a 10-ounce jar, the same price charged by Folger for instant.

General Foods and Folger sell more than half the coffee consumed in the United States.

Viewpoints Are Split Over Future Inflation

NEW YORK (AP) — The indicators of increasingly strong economic activity, including the sharp rebound in industrial production after the big freeze, is intensifying the debate over future inflation.

The difference in outlook has always simmered in the divergent philosophies of conservatives and liberals, but the eruption this time is hardly theoretical. It involves Washington's great stimulus plan.

The split in viewpoint became clearly visible late in 1976, when some interpreted the socalled "pause" to be a weakness that had to be corrected, while others said it was temporary and self-correcting.

It widened in January and February, when the coldest winter in many years, accompanied by a natural gas shortage, slowed the gears of industry in a vast area of the nation. Again, some said temporary, others said permanent damage.

Now it has become a gap that perhaps cannot be bridged by compromise, as increasingly favorable economic reports suggest to some bank and business economists that the stimulus program should be shrunk and maybe even abandoned.

The lines are imperfectly drawn. Some business economists remain convinced that inflation won't exceed the 5 per cent to 6 per cent level, or not much changed from last year's rate.

While not enthusiastic about the entire program, some of these economists do feel that business can benefit from fiscal goading, not so much as an immediate corrective but as part of a long-term program to revitalize industry.

Others, however, are adamant, and have been telling clients and customers, and anyone who will listen, Congress included, that tax rebates and job-creation programs are ripples that will grow to a new wave of inflation.

As the evidence accumulates that the economy rebounded from its constraints as suddenly as the weather improved, the warnings of the antistimulists have grown more ominous.

They observe that despite the terrible weather, employment has risen, installment credit and consumer spending have grown, capital spending plans of business have accelerated.

Library Has Shipment Of New Records

A new shipment of records has been received at the Scurry County Library and now has been processed and is ready for patrons.

Included are several selections of American music, such as Aaron Copeland's "Outdoor Overture;" Darius Milhaud's "Kentuckian;" Douglas Moore's "Farm Journal;" Charles Ives' "The 100th Anniversary;" Morton Gould's "American Salute;" Quincy Porter's "New England Episodes."

Also, Scott Joplin's "Maple Leaf Rag;" Leontyne Price singing "Knoxville, Summer of 1915;" the Louisville Orchestra playing "Symphony No. 3" by Klaus Egge and "Kentucky Spring" by Roy Harris.

Four religious albums received are Tennessee Ernie Ford's "Anniversary;" Tennessee Ernie Ford and the Jordanaires singing "Great Gospel Songs;" the Mormon Tabernacle Choir and the Billy Graham International Crusade Choirs.

Stationery Costs Man His Job

CLEVELAND (AP) — Harry Horton says he regrets having sent his bosses a picture of the backside of a horse. But he still doesn't understand why they fired him.

Actually, it was a picture of a colt with a purple butterfuly sitting on the colt's rump.

Horton, 28, recently wrote to his superiors at the Ohio Department of Liquor Control, asking them if he could work as a fulltime clerk instead of parttime. He wrote his request on a card with the colt illustration.

"It was a poor choice of stationery," said George R. Schoeffel, Cleveland district sales supervisor for the liquor department. Schoeffel also chided Horton for sending the card to the department's headquarters in Columbus instead of to the district office here.

Horton explained that the stationary was from a set he bought from his niece who was selling them for a school fund-raising project.

"People buy posters like this for their houses and everything," Horton said. "I just don't understand ... If I had known that the card would be insulting, I would never have sent the card."

PROGRAM PRESENTED—Clyde Ferguson and his wife, Cindy, display "Smoking Sam," a device used to show the effects of nicotine on the lungs. Ferguson, respiratory therapist at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock and formerly of Snyder, presented a program on lung disease at a joint meeting of Snyder Jaycees and Jaycee-ettes.

'Roots' Author Sues Publisher

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Alex Haley, author of the best-seller "Roots," has sued Doubleday & Co., accusing the publisher of failing to promote the book and underselling paperback rights.

Haley filed the $5 million damage suit Wednesday in Superior Court and claimed Doubleday violated its 1974 contract by not promoting the book through advertising and speaking engagements.

He said he had to promote "Roots" and negotiate the successful serialized television program based on the book.

The author also said Doubleday did not provide distributors with enough copies of the $12.50 hardcover edition after the success of the television serial and many bookstores ran out.

Under contracts negotiated with Doubleday in 1964 and 1974, Haley receives 15 per cent royalties, or about $1.87 on each hard-cover book, and 50 per cent of the paperback license or rights plus about 35 cents on each paperback book sold.

Haley said Doubleday did not obtain an adequate contract for the paperback edition with Dell Publishing Co. because Dell is a Doubleday subsidiary.

The suit seeks $5 million punitive damages plus unspecified damages for lost potential profits and an injunction to stall publication of the paperback edition.

Lung Disease Is Jaycees' Topic

Clyde Ferguson, respiratory therapist at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock, presented a program on lung disease at a joint meeting of Snyder Jaycees and Jaycee-ettes in the Snyder Savings and Loan Community Room.

Ferguson had been invited to present the program to familiarize the Jaycees and Jaycee-ettes with lung diseases, since they are currently in the process of finalizing plans for a "Superkid" project, with all proceeds to be donated to the Lung Association.

Ferguson stated that anything inhaled into the lungs is detrimental. He named hair spray, deodorant and dust as a few examples of pollution that can damage lungs daily. However, smoking was the leading cause of lung disease that he cited.

Chronic bronchitis, emphysema, and asthma are directly attributed to smoking, Ferguson said. To emphasize the dangers of nicotine, Ferguson presented some alarming statistics. He said that one pack of cigarettes contains 70 milligrams of nicotine. If you rubbed a finger on 70 milligrams of nicotine and then rubbed it on a dog's gums, he would die instantly. Also, he said nicotine is used in Black Flag 40, a highly-potent bug killer.

Ferguson concluded his program with a warning to smokers and presented facts on how to keep your lungs healthier in today's polluted society.

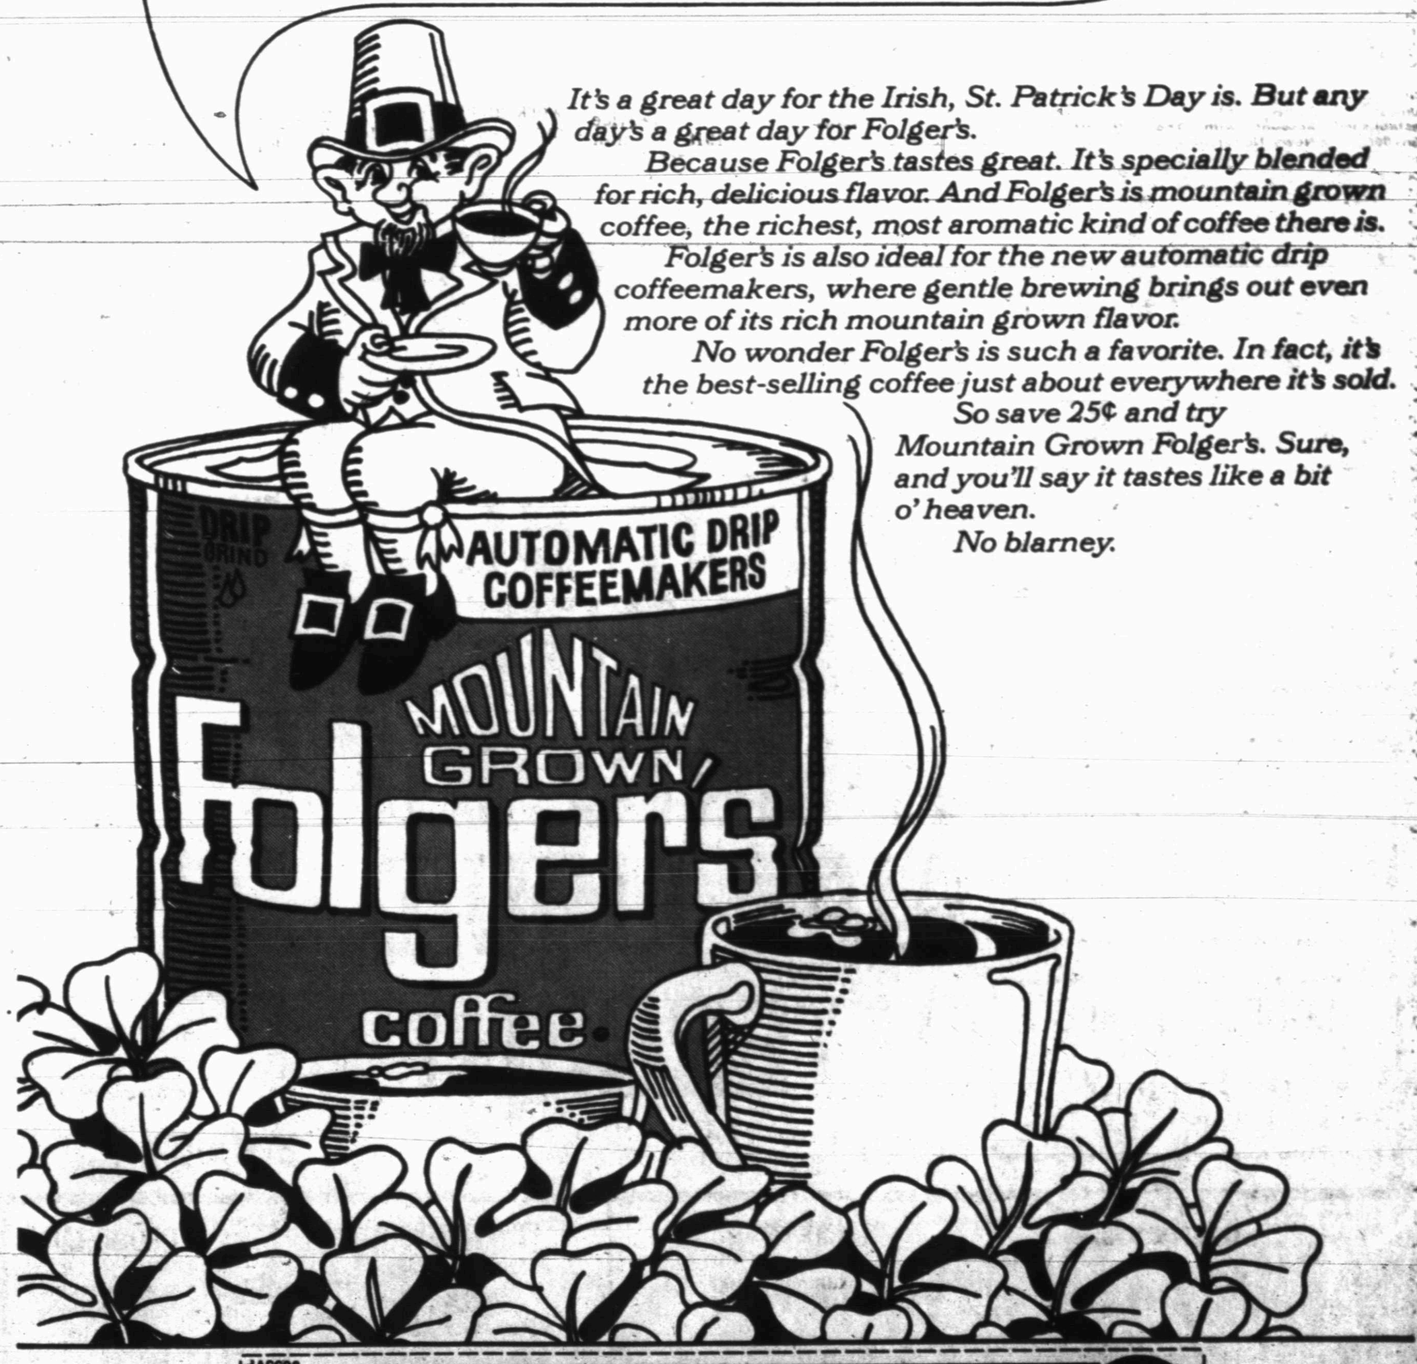

Ferguson is a former Snyder Jaycee and served as president of the club here until he moved to Lubbock a few months ago. He and his wife, Cindy, a former Jayceeette president, and their three children now live in Lubbock.
