

Pioneer School Marker

When home-making pioneers began replacing buffalo herds on Mitchell County's sprawling frontier, the settlers brought with them a yearning for education.

They built their schools, one by one, where they lived with their families.

And, before 2 score years had passed, there were 29 of these rural schools in the county outside of Colorado City, Loraine and Westbrook.

Now there are none. All 29 erased by new living modes, educational methods and swift transportation.

Come Sunday, April 16, one of the early pioneer schools will be recognized and flagged for history with the erection of an official Texas Historical Marker.

The marker will be at the site of the Conaway School which opened its doors in 1896 to 9 pupils in the county's western ranch area.

It survived pioneer hardships, drought, even fire before finally bowing to progress in the fall of 1938 when its 7 pupils transferred into the Westbrook system and Conaway, as a school, went out of existence.

The marker will be placed southwest of Westbrook and the intersection of Interstate 20 with Farm Highway 670 at a site 3.5 miles south on FM 670 then 1 mile west on a local road.

A program--which is developing into a homecoming of former Conaway School students--is scheduled at 2 p.m. dedication day in Westbrook School Cafeteria followed by the dedication at the marker site.

The marker is another sponsored by Mitchell County Historical Survey Committee. Mrs. Witt Hines, who has assisted the committee in the historical project, is the daughter of the pioneer family for whom the Conaway community and school was named.

The community was opened in 1891 by pioneer settlers C. P. and Mattie Conaway.

The school conducted its first session--for 3 months--for children of 3 families in a 1-room building placed by Conaway south of his ranch home.

Four terms later, Conaway moved the school a mile north to serve a larger area.

Pupils sat on homemade benches, wrote on slates, dipped drinking water from a bucket.

With more farmers settling nearby, Conaway in 1906 gave See SCHOOL Page 7

Victim Of Progress

Opened to 9 students in 1896, Conaway School advanced from a one-room building to a new structure in 1906 followed by more expansion. Here is the way it looked in 1923 (top photo) with more than 50 students in view. In lower photo is one of the earliest school buses when in use in 1928.

4,103 Voters Eligible For May 6

Mitchell County has its largest voting potential in history for the May 6 Democratic Party primary election.

Four thousand, one hundred, three citizens, including the new 18, 19 and 20-year-old group, are registered in time for the primary.

More than half of them reside in Precincts 1 and 3, which include most of Colorado City.

Leading the voter registration is Precinct 1 with 1,366 voters, according to County Tax Assessor-Collector Mrs. Doris Burton.

With only 64 less voters in Precinct 3 with 1,302.

Third highest in voting potential is Precinct 4, centering in Loraine, with 720 registered.

Precinct 2 has 319 and Precinct 7 has 219. With the smallest number are Precinct 5 with 105 and Precinct 6 with 72.

TOWN TALK

By MAC McKINNON

KPRC, Channel 2 in Houston, sent a cameraman to Colorado City recently to do a television feature on the Colorado City Playhouse.

The man arrived here one night, did the filming that night and left early the next day.

So it came as quite a maddening shock to those who saw the film when the narrator opened with a reference to a "dying" West Texas town.

Bob Ratliff was in Houston last weekend and saw the film on the Playhouse which he said lasted about five minutes. It was part of a 30-minute program entitled "Eyes of Texas."

Although the opening statement was a slap in the face, the remainder of the show was complimentary, Ratliff said.

An Abilene television station has been asked to get the film so that it can be seen by West Texans. Hopefully, they will edit the first part.

SSS is coming. Watch for it.

Details on Colorado City's first annual fishing tournament are rapidly taking shape under the direction of Bobby Sparks.

Date of the event has not yet been set, but it possibly will be late this month or early next month, beginning on Friday and continuing through Sunday afternoon.

Fifteen trophies have already been purchased for the event. Seven of the trophies will go to first place winners in each of seven categories and seven other trophies will go to first place winners in the junior division of those same seven categories.

Then there will be one overall trophy to the fisherman with the most points as determined by low he scores in each of the categories.

In addition there will be merchandise prizes for those coming in second and third in each of the seven categories in the junior and senior division.

The contest will include catches at either Lake Champion or Lake Colorado City and there will be weigh-in stations at both lakes.

The Mitchell County Boy's Club is planning a city-wide clean-up on next Saturday, concentrating on cans and bottles that can be re-cycled.

Details on the clean-up will be completed early next week and outlined in Thursday's Record.

5¢ Tax Reduction Proposed

Public Hearing For City Budget Monday

public hearing date for the budget.

In a letter to the council, Sadler wrote, "Due to the sound financial condition of the city, it is recommended . . . that the ad-valorem tax rate for the City of Colorado City be reduced . . .

"It is further recommended that existing discounts for prompt payment of property taxes be continued," Sadler said in the letter.

The proposed budget is for the fiscal year beginning May 1, 1972 and continuing through April 30, 1973.

Sadler notes in his letter, that "in 1968, the budget presented to the City Council proposed a reduction in the ad-valorem tax rate for Colorado City reducing the rate from $1.65 to $1.60 per hundred dollar valuation.

"The council approved this reduction. In 1969, 1970 and 1971, the council approved a discount for prompt payment of property taxes."

The discount rate is as follows: If paid before Nov. 1, 1972, a 3 per cent discount; if paid before Dec. 1, 1972, a 2 per cent discount, and if paid before Jan. 1, 1973, a 1 per cent discount.

The proposed tax cut will mean an approximate loss of $4,500 loss in taxes on the $9 million assessed value of property in the city.

The tax reduction will mean tax bills will drop 3.1 per cent. This means that the owner of a home with an appraised value of $10,000 will pay city taxes of $69.75 rather than $72 as under the existing rate.

Overall spending by the city in the proposed budget has been reduced by $1,000 as compared to the present fiscal year.

Sadler expects the remaining loss of $3,500 in ad valorem taxes to be made up by increases in sales tax collection and new buildings added to the city tax rolls.

In his letter to the council, Sadler reviews last year's progress:

State Help Asked

City Council Delegation Visits Austin

Colorado City will ask the Texas Parks & Wildlife Department to perfect a plan for maximum development of a municipal park system coordinating Ruddick and Hickman parks.

A resolution formally requesting the state planning is expected to be approved Monday night at the City Council meeting.

The decision to seek state planning came after a City Council delegation conferred with Texas Parks & Wildlife Department officials Friday in Austin.

"We were especially pleased with the reception we received," said Mayor Clarence (Mike) Burt.

Burt was spokesman for the group that included Councilmen Frank Brownfield, F. L. (Buck) May, City Manager J. A. Sadler Jr. and Billy Jacobs of Abilene, engineer for West Central Texas Council of Governments.

The conference with W. M. Kopp, director of the parks and wildlife's grant-in-aid program, and with park planning experts.

Application for the state to do all the planning for the municipal project will be made directly to the Texas Parks &

Wildlife Department's executive director.

If the department approves the request, then state's best

The play is tentatively scheduled for presentation in early June.

There are parts for two females (Lucy and Patty), 4 males, Linus, Charlie Brown, Schroeder and Snoopy with a minimum age of 16 for actors and actresses.

The parts consist of singing as well as acting.

The musical comedy will be directed by George Womack and Mrs. Tandy (Lovess) Curlee.

Teacher Jobs To Board

84 Returnees, 5 New Are Recommended

Rehiring of 84 teachers for the 1972-73 school year will be recommended to Colorado Independent School District's board Monday night.

In the same meeting the resignation of 5 teachers will be considered by the board.

In addition, Supt. Lloyd McKee will propose 5 new teachers to the 1972-73 teaching staff and that 2 teachers be released at the end of the current year because of reduction of assignments in their teaching fields.

Reappointments to be considered by the board include 29 teachers for Colorado High, 13 for Colorado Junior High, 10 for Wallace Elementary, 10 for Hutchinson Elementary and 21 for Kelley Elementary and one all-school position.

Teachers resigning at the end of the current term are Mrs. Judith Austin, Hutchinson Elementary, speech therapist; Mrs. Della Fox, Hutchinson, who is retiring; Mrs. Marilyn Hicks, Junior High; Mrs. Katherine Dorn, who also is retiring, and Mrs. Margaret Sparks, Junior High.

To be recommended for appointment next year are: Miss Brenda Landes, graduate of Texas Tech University with major in home economics education, who will replace Mrs. Caudo Matthews during Mrs. Matthews' leave of absence. She was a student teacher here during the current school year.

Mrs. Susan S. Evermon, graduate of Hardin-Simmons University with major in elementary education and minor in speech. She has been employed here as a state teacher aide since Jan. 3.

Mrs. Joyce Burkett, wife of Calvary Baptist Church pastor Ed Burkett. She is a graduate of Wayland Baptist College with elementary education major and English minor with 3 years of teaching experience in Plainview and Vernon.

Hearing Asked

A teacher whose contract will not be renewed will have a public hearing Monday night before Colorado City's school board.

Mrs. Trina Owens, a teacher in the bilingual program at Kelley Elementary School, will be represented by an attorney, she has notified school officials.

The board, in a special meeting March 20, voted not to renew Mrs. Owens contract for the 1972-73 school year.

Personnel matters are usually discussed in closed meetings by the board, a practice which is permitted by state law. However, a teacher can request a public hearing.

Mrs. Owens made her request for the hearing after being notified in writing and in person by school administrators of the board's March 20 action.

She joined the school teaching staff last fall.

Fishing's Good

Earl Richardson of Lakeview Camp at Lake Colorado City posed for this picture Thursday with a 45-pound yellow catfish caught Wednesday night by Curtis Shaw. The 45-pound is only one of many big ones that have been caught at Lake Colorado City recently.

Bond Goes Higher

It's Jail With Repeat Charges

Driving while intoxicated charges are beginning to be a habit with Shelby Chester Shannon.

The Colorado City man, well known by local law enforcement officers, was arrested by city police and charged May 6 in Justice of Peace Leonard Henderson's Precinct 1 Court with subsequent offense driving while intoxicated.

Subsequent DWI is a felony offense and Shannon went free to await trial after $1,000 bail was posted by a Big Spring bondsman.

The felony complaint alleges that Shannon was legally convicted of misdemeanor DWI here March 3, 1973.

March 27 Shannon was back before Peace Justice Henderson, this time charged with a second subsequent DWI offense after being arrested by State Highway Patrolman Kent Cearley.

Again, the defendant was released on $1,000 bail posted by the Big Spring firm.

Monday it happened again. Shannon was arrested and charged for the third time in 4 weeks with subsequent DWI. Again the arresting officer and Patrolman Cearley.

District Attorney Frank Ginzl weary of filing the repeat felony complaints, urged an increase in the bond.

"The proof is evident of his guilt and he is not a candidate for probation," the district attorney declared in his court request, "and professional bondsmen keep making his bonds to the potential injury of the public and citizenship at large."

Peace Justice Henderson quickly approved and raised the bond to the level asked by the D.A.--to $7,500.

This weekend Shannon remains in County Jail in lieu of the higher bail.

Speaker

State Sen. Jack Hightower of Vernon, who is uncontested in his bid for re-election as state senator from the district that now includes Mitchell County, will be guest speaker at the Kiwanis Club luncheon at Civic House noon Tuesday. The public is invited but reservations must be made with the Chamber of Commerce tomorrow (Monday).

Supt.

Joe Robinette, 25, is the new superintendent of Lake Colorado City State Park. He formerly was superintendent of Ft. Leaton historical site at Presidio.

Ruth COFFEY'S CONVERSATION CORNER

LIFE is so full of contradictions that it's a wonder anybody ever really knows what he's talking about. And hardly anybody ever does either.

Why do we call it income tax? Almost never anything comes in from it. It is more literally the outgo tax. Some people even have been known to have to go out and borrow the money to pay the income tax which we soberly label the income tax.

Those of us born confused had rather the Internal Revenue Service would just kindly withhold the entire amount we owe for the pleasure of what is known as making money and let it go at that.

AND THERE'S another common contradiction. You got trying to "make money" for passing and spending purposes and you get caught, arrested, convicted, and put in jail.

We all use the word "make" in 100 ways it doesn't actually fit. Kids make a mess. Adults make merry. Farmers make a crop. Merchants make profit. Politicians make speeches.

Women make visits. Women make clothes. Funniest sound to these ears is when women talk about making breakfast, dinner, or supper. Mid-western women all say it. Most Texas women, however, stick to the old "fix or cook" the meals.

NOW YOU take the numerous meanings we all have for the little word "cat". A cat is a feline pet or a lion or a tiger or a leopard or a cougar.

A cat tail is what people accidentally step on in the kitchen or rock on while sitting on the porch. A cat tail is also a beautiful marsh plant sometimes used for weaving or for decorative arrangements for the hearth.

A cat can be a sharp-tongued woman who says ugly things to and about other people. So a cat tale has to be gossip.

CONTRADICTION of the way people use "dog" is in the same state. A dog can be a man's favorite hunting friend. A dog can be a woman's pretty poodle or a child's frisky playmate.

These days a dog is used as a derogatory term for a homely girl on a blind date or for a very unattractive woman.

A dog, preceded by the word dirty, can be a mean man, a crook, and lowdown hound.

SO IT GOES. A fish can be a bass or crappie, or whatever. But then it can be a humble, defeated man—the poor fish.

A chick should mean a bit of fluff of a baby fowl. Hear "chick" in the era and it can be a compliment—or a question mark—for a glamorous girl.

A bear is a bear is a bear is a bear. Prefix by saying "cross as a bear" and it can be a tired, disgruntled spouse, parent, grandparent, or even a harassed school teacher.

People do not call each other by names of animals, fish or fowl or reptile to be naturally nasty. It comes from a limited vocabulary and sometimes just for fun. And because life is full of contradictions like that.

EVER HEAR any of these... snake in the grass... mad as a wet hen... slippery as an eel... sneaky as a fox... fat as a pig... filthy as a packrat... contented as a cow... wise as an owl?

EVER HEAR a genuine cowhand call his best girl a little filly? ... EVER HEAR scared as a rabbit... meek as a mouse... dainty as a bird... clumsy as an ox... panting like a wolf... gentle as a lamb... wild as a buck... busy as a bee... chatter like a squirrel... sting like an adder... squirm like a worm... ants in the pants?

ALL THESE have become more or less acceptable in our American language.

But as said in the beginning income tax is a flat contradiction. And so, by golly, is Daylight Saving Time.

FAMILIAR FACES all around places belonged to Naomi (Mrs. Dr. Bill) Rhode at the bank, looking both pretty and pretty happy. The Rhode family has had a visit from second daughter, Anne Youngstrom and her baby son, Eric, of Canada. Eric is first grandchild of the Dr. and Naomi, first great grandchild of Dr. Bill's mother, Mrs. W. W. Rhode.

Saw Lucy (Mrs. Luke) Thomas looking bright and happy and wearing a bright and happy looking pantsuit... Leon Calaway on his mail route and chatting with Mrs. H. B. Cook on Chestnut Street.

Swapped hello's with Wanda Jones at the new World Inn Baker... Sefton Pickens... Arlene and Katie Morris... Mona Scott... Thelma (Mrs. A. L.) McSpadden... Lynn Burke... Ann Randle Davis and daughter, Jill... Lil (Mrs. Earl) Brown all at refreshment break time.

Greeted, too, Rick Perkin... Margaret (Mrs. Warren) Costin... Fanny Fay (Mrs. Orin) Feaster... Mary Louise (Mrs. Willis) Jones... Doyle Kiker.

C-CITY friends are delighted to learn that our J. C. Brown, City Councilman, came through heart surgery in Lubbock in fine shape.

And that Guy Burson of the Post Office is also recovering so well from recent heart surgery in Lubbock that he is at home now walking around his own yard and smiling.

J. C. Brown expects to get to come home from Methodist Hospital this coming week. His dainty wife Fern is with him and is ecstatic over his progress.

Ruby Jewel Smith underwent surgery in Shannon Memorial in San Angelo Thursday, April 6th. Her many friends at Root Valley Fair Lodge where she is an aide will be glad to learn she is getting along nicely.

is his marvelous use of the Epistles of Paul," she said. "But not all letters God uses are preserved for the ages. Many may benefit only one person."

From the book the speaker told of Dietrich Bonhoeffer who was able to endure his years in prison partly because of the joy of receiving and writing letters.

The book's author reviewed letters to a personal friend with whom he had shared the joy of growing. Excerpts from one letter expressed his enthusiasm for his friends "new start in the Christian life" and his encouragement to "ask for His guidance every day."

MRS. JOHN WAYNE REEVES, nee DeLynn Grisham.

Miss DeLynn Grisham Becomes Bride Of John Wayne Reeves

Miss DeLynn Grisham and John Wayne Reeves, both of Houston, were married here last Saturday evening in Cosden Lake Club at Lake Colorado City.

Miss Grisham is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon J. Grisham of 1083 Oak Street.

Reeves is son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Reeves of Magnillo.

Rev. Caddo Matthews, pastor of Plainview Baptist Church, read double ring vows in the seven o'clock ceremony.

Mrs. Eddie Gregory, pianist, played wedding music including "Somewhere My Love" and accompanied Dwayne Clawson of Coahoma as he sang "Only You" and "Till the Twelfth of Never."

An improvised altar was centered by an arch entwined with greenery and bridal wreath. Arrangements of white tapers flanked each side of the arch. Pink tapers in a white candelabra marked the piano.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of candlelight pea de sole made by her mother. Empire bodice was fashioned with fitted sleeves and a standup collar. Layers of Old English lace accented the skirt.

She wore a fingertip veil of illusion which was attached to a headpiece of white rosebuds and seed pearls.

Bridal bouquet was a cascading arrangement of white and pink carnations atop a white Bible.

Her gown served as the traditional "something new"; a garter, "something blue". She had a penny, made in her birth year, borrowed from her maid of honor and her Bible was a gift from her grandmother in 1962.

Mrs. Christy Whatley of Midland and Bobby Grisham, brother of the bride, were honor attendants.

Mrs. Whatley wore a pale pink pea de sole gown fashioned identically to the bride's costume and a pale pink shoulder-length veil. She carried a white basket of pink daisies circling a lighted pink candle.

For the fete the honoree wore a pink knit dress with matching accessories.

Refreshment table was covered with a lace cloth and marked by an arrangement of pink carnations. Crystal appointments completed table decor.

Ringbearer was Wade Carper, cousin of bride.

Candles were lighted by the bride's brothers, Drex Grisham and Gregg Grisham.

Barrett Allen of Tom Ball, groom's cousin; Clyde Jarnagin of Houston and Lt. Johnny Jarnagin of Big Spring, cousins of bride, ushered guests.

Wedding reception was in party room of the club.

Bride's table was laid with a hand made lace table cloth over pink and centered with a silver candelabra arranged with pink tapers.

A white cloth covered the groom's table. Registry table featured lace over a pink cloth and a pink carnation bouquet.

Mrs. Jerry Walker of Plano and Mrs. Richard Roll of San Antonio presided at the bride's

Mrs. Kim Bills registered guests. Others in the house-party were Mrs. J. R. Erwin and Mrs. Clay Mann Smith.

For a honeymoon trip to San Antonio the bride changed to a white and tangerine dress complemented by white accessories.

Following their wedding trip they will be at home in French Village Apartments in Spring Branch.

The bride, a graduate of Colorado High School in 1969, attended Sul Ross State University and is now employed by T. F. Hudgins and Associates in Houston. Her husband was graduated from Jefferson High School in San Antonio.

the end of the fiscal year 1971 1972, during which time the City completed many projects for the use and benefit of its citizens.

"Some of these projects were the completion of 2,000 feet of downtown sidewalks, with curb and gutter; 2,500 feet of curbing in the cemetery; 60,000 square yards of seal coat on existing pavement; the installation of 12,000 feet of 6-inch water mains and the purchase and renovation of a building to house the Police Department.

"All of these projects were done without cost to the property owners and no new indebtedness was accrued along with no increase in either the tax rate or valuation percentages.

"The proposed 1972-73 budget reflects a continuation of last year's progress. As submitted, it is a balanced budget with $40,000 set aside for capital improvements; $21,000 of this amount for water system improvements and replacement of small and inadequate water lines."

While most incomes and expenditures are about the same as for last year, funds for the police department have been increased from $69,198 to $75,064; the fire department budget has been increased from $29,572 to $44,550 and the sanitation department budget has been increased from $45,702 to $49,016.

These three increases reflect funds set aside for new vehicles for the fire and sanitation departments and new radio equipment and salary increases for the police department.

All personnel received a 5 1/2 per cent pay increase following a survey of salaries paid city employees in comparable cities within the West Central Texas Council of Governments.

The survey showed that Sadler was the lowest paid city manager in the 10 comparable cities and under the new budget, his salary is adjusted to the average of the 10 cities. This means an increase for Sadler of from $784 to $884.

to inspect the more than 100 acres of park land to appraise its suitability and potential for park development.

City Manager Sadler said the initial request will be made for all the acreage of Ruddick Park and the new Hickman Park, plus an additional area northeast of Ruddick extending to State Highway 208.

One of the major reasons for the state's interest in the municipal park planning is the state's objectives for 1975.

"Our park potential appears to fit perfectly into these objectives," Sadler reported, "because the priorities are for the development of hiking and bike trails, picnic spots and overnight camping sites in addition to the usual park facilities.

"Our acreage along Lone Wolf Creek has outstanding potential for this type of development... an abundance of sites."

She will teach 7th and 8th grade remedial reading under Title I. Her teaching certificates has professional counselor and high school endorsements.

Two teachers recommended as surplus because of reduction in teaching assignments are Donald Schollenbarger, high school commercial, and John Zalman, high school science. Texas Education Code requires in such instances that reduction of staff be made in reverse order of teacher seniority in the specified teaching field.

the new site, helped raise $375 and, with the families pitching in to do the work, a new schoolhouse was built.

Three rooms were added as enrollment increased. But the building was destroyed by fire in 1929 and replaced by a 4-room brick structure equipped with an auditorium.

Progress had definitely arrived. A well and windmill provided a water system replacing the bucket and dipper.

Peak enrollment was during the 10-month term of 1933-34 with 115 pupils.

But from then, enrollment began to dwindle and the path of education eventually turned away from Conaway School. After 1936 upper grades were transferred by bus to Westbrook. Consolidation with Westbrook was completed in 1938-39.

Finally the school building was sold and dismantled in 1947.

Now comes the historical marker and appropriately, its donors are a couple of former Conaway School students--Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Smith Jr.
