4-H Club Annual Camp to Be Held Tuesday and Wednesday on Blanco

Floyd county's Extension Service agents this week issued a call for all 4-H club boys and girls to make their plans to attend the 4-H camp Tuesday and Wednesday and the expectation is that a lot of the youngsters will take advantage of the opportunity to join in the fun.

The get-together will be at the Baptist encampment on Blanco canyon. It will be a one-night affair. A group will leave the court house at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon and others will go directly to the camp grounds arriving after 3 o'clock p. m. Parents of the boys and girls are being invited to attend the camp, coming any time they desire in the afternoon or evening.

There will be swimming, baseball and other games. A business meeting in the evening will be held and also a picture show for entertainment. "There will be other activities so that everyone will have a good time," is the word that is going out this week to the nearly 600 boys and girls who are members of the 4-H groups.

The plan is for each boy and girl to bring a sack lunch and all have a picnic supper together. Wednesday morning breakfast will be prepared at the camp, for which a small charge will be made.

Every club member will need to bring his own bed roll, towel, toilet articles, bathing suit, baseball equipment.

Miss Leila Petty, county home demonstration agent, and Robert H. Gibson, county agricultural agent, will have general supervision of the camp. They will be assisted by adult leaders.

Ruckers Lucky In Car Crash

Luck was riding with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Rucker last Thursday afternoon about 3:30 when they were involved in a collision with a car on the western outskirts of Idalou, in which the driver of the car, H. C. Paul, jr. of Spur, also escaped serious injury.

Neither of the Floydada couple had to be hospitalized and were at home carrying on normally Friday. Paul was hospitalized at Lubbock but had only treatment for minor hurts. His car was a total loss.

The car hit the rear end of the truck and caromed off to come to a stop in the south lane of the highway on its top. Rucker, said he saw the car pulling into him at a fast rate of speed, cut to the right and avoided a head-on-collision. Rucker was driving east, Paul westward toward Lubbock.

The dual rear wheels were knocked off of the truck (driven minus the trailer) about 40 yards through a picket fence and into a yard. The cab remained up right in the center of the highway. Rucker and the investigating officers theorized that Paul went to sleep.

Paul was driving a 1941 Mercury sedan, Rucker a 1948 Ford truck, the trailer not attached.

Rucker said Friday his wife was quite cool throughout the brush with the car.

Another Cold Lead In R. L. Ardry Hunt

Sheriff Leland A. Hart yesterday said the hunt for the 36-year-old R. L. Ardry, missing since June 12, is still unsuccessful, although the recent $500 reward posters issued on behalf of the children of the elderly man have begun to result in reports.

One of these reports took the sheriff to Royalty and Monahans in the oil fields the first of the week and as far west as Pecos. Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Runnels here Sunday were positive they had seen Mr. Ardry last week-end at Royalty. The sheriff was unable to uncover a likely lead on the ground there. He did contact officers and highway patrolmen of the area, however, in the hope of alerting help in that section.

Opened Jail With a Spoon

The sheriff was no more than back from the fruitless search for Mr. Ardry than he was called to Fort Worth to pick up Leroy Heard, a Negro, who escaped Floyd county jail last November using a spoon on the locks then in use. Leroy is a three-time loser already and is under indictment for burglary in Floydada last year. The sheriff thinks better locks will make it harder for Leroy to get out the next time from the jail here.

Wilted Fields Are Refreshed With Showers

Rains that were partial to areas of the county in varying amounts fell in the small hours of Sunday over a very considerable area, bringing invaluable help to great deal of cotton and feed and cooling the atmosphere for two or three days.

At Floydada the rainfall was recorded at 1.43 inches and from a point slightly north of Floydada in a big semi-circle that included most ofBaker and Pleasant Hill, Lakeview Starkey, McCoy, Allmon Blanco, and Sand Hill districts, the rain afford all the moisture immediately needed to revive dry land cotton and feed, which had began to suffer. And all areaes of the county had somerainfall, but in lesser amounts, ranging from one-fourth to one-half an inch.

Both feed and cotton, except where it had been irrigated, was beginning to deteriorate and some of the fields that did not have a half inch or more still show the effects of the high temperatures of a two-week scorcher when day-time highs ranged from 100 degrees up to 106.

The heat wave which began two weeks ago Tuesday continued right on through Saturday, with the high of the period on Friday. The Sunday morning refresher was a blessing to many heat-wilted fields.

Sunday morning as a result of the brief storm period, nearly 100 Bell Telephone company were out, but several men of the plant crew were on the job bright and early to bring service on practically all lines back to normal by noon-time.

Gibson Urges Farm Tour in Colorado Is Worth While

Seeing the farm practices and getting first hand ideas on irrigation farming, feeding, and crop rotation will be afforded by a sponsored trip into Colorado the first of next week.

Many of the problems which affect this area also affect the cattle and farming interests in that section, said County Agent Robert H. Gibson this week. It is his judgment that any farm operator who makes the three-day journey will profit by it. The trip is sponsored by the Denver Railway company. The jump off is at Rocky Ford, the first night spent in Colorado Springs, the second in Denver.

A party of four in a car can make the journey at a cost of $25 or so for each person. Leaving the county early Monday the return could be made not later than Thursday, Agent Gibson said. He refers to T. B. Mitchell and L. L. Jones, among others, who have made the tour and found it worth their while. As late as yesterday morning he had not prevailed on anybody from this immediate area to make the farm tour. He will be unable to go himself on account of prior arrangements with his 4-H club boys.

Hearing on County Budget is Set For August 27 By Commissioners

Members of the Commissioners court this week were speculating on the probable attendance at the county's budget hearing to be held on Wednesday, August 27.

The budget for the year is required to be prepared by the county judge and submitted to the Commissioners court for consideration during the month of August. The statutes also provide that a public hearing be held prior to the adoption of the budget. After the hearing it is adopted either with or without changes by the Commissioners court.

The hearing for the 1953 budget was set by the court Tuesday for Wednesday, August 27.

For several years the court has been sitting out the time alloted to the hearing with never a taxpayer looking in, except for an occasional one, curious to see what a budget hearing would be like.

However, the commissioners contemplate the probability that more interest may be evinced this year than usual, due to the campaign to arouse the taxpayers interest in local government and to the fact that the budget is due to carry a new item—provision for a free county library. Petitions bearing the names of considerably more than a majority of the taxpayers of the county were presented to the court this spring asking for the establishment of the county library.

Adoption of the county library project by the court, while not exactly making a raise in taxable values a must, does accent the fact tht the county's expenditures for all purposes have been rising fast in the post-war years while revenues have not been increasing in proportion. Valuations for tax purposes on farm land and on a considerable proportion of city property have been practically stationary for more than a decade.

Through the reallocation of taxes between various funds of the county and by tapping new sources of revenue from the state for roads the court has been able to maintain the county's credit and carry on without any material change in basic taxable values during the decade. A 15-cent special road and bridge tax also has helped in this respect.

The two sources of revenue which have been life-savers for the road program have been the annual check from the county and road district refund and the county's half or the automotive license taxes retained above $50,000 collections.

Some pressure is beeing brought on the court to have a general overhauling of the taxable valuations, employing taxation experts, while in other quarters the court is being urged not to go into a complicated or high cost re-valuation program. These maintain that a study of the situation by the court and a simple resolution adopting a higher rate of taxable values on lands with a reasonable flat charge for each irrigation well would get the same results.

PMA Election Ballots Mailed

Ballots mailed out from the PMA office in Floydada on August 12 are in process of being voted by producers of Floyd county.

Election day is August 19, final day for filing a ballot at the PMA office for:

Delegates and alternates to the county convention;

There are to be nine "communities" under the PMA set-up the coming year in the county. All farm operators either owners, tenants or share croppers, as well as landlords and their wives are eligible to vote. Nearly 2,000 ballots were mailed out. Thos. J. Hutchins said some of the ballots had already begun to come in.

The increase in the number of community committeemen is predicated on the probability that quite a bit more contact work among the farm operators will be necessary this year. Increasing the number of "communities" from three to nine will make a much larger working force available when the contact work begins.

Absentee Vote Numbers Forty

Absentee votes cast for the August 23 run off primary in Floyd county numbered 40 at the close of business at the county clerk's office yesterday, said Margaret Collier, county clerk.

Absentee voting days close with Tuesday night, August 19, Miss Collier said. On this date before the first primary nearly 100 absentees had cast their ballots. Before election day slightly more than 150 votes had been cast absentee in the July 26 first primary.

Should this be a fair forecast of the final vote in the second primary, as compared with the first, the vote would be indicated as way down toward 2,000 in all.

Floyd county voters are being called upon to choose a nominee for sheriff between Leland A. Hart and Earl Cooper.

Voters of Justice Precincts 1 and 4 will choose a justice of the peace as between O. B. Olson and P. O. Sterling.

The ballot also carries two state office contests and two district contests. One of the district races is between J. W. Walker, jr., of Hale county, and LeRoy Saul, of Swisher county, for state representative of the four-county 89th district.

Floyd County Man On Ill-Fated Carrier Boxer Not Heard From

Last Wednesday morning, August 6, the U. S. Aircraft Carrier Boxer was preparing to launch jet planes against Red North Korea. It was a quiet peaceful morning, with the Boxer making about 30 knots, when the most dreaded of sea disasters, fire, broke out suddenly. No one knew how the fire started. Twelve airplanes were burned to a crisp, nine sailors dead and scores of others injured.

On Monday August 11 the Boxer anchored in the Japanese naval base at Yokosuka with a deck load of heroes and 12 fire ruined airplanes. The injured had been evacuated by air before the Boxer docked.

On the Boxer was a Floyd county boy, James A. Johnson, FN, who has been in the navy over two years. He is the son of Mrs. Zela Johnson of the McCoy community and brother of Otis, Ottis, Wendle, Pete and Junior Johnson of the Fairview and McCoy communities and a brother of Mrs. Ebah Leatherman, who is an operator at the Southwestern Bell Telephone company exchange here.

The last letter the relatives had from James was dated July 31. They had as yet no news as to the safety of the boy. However, the fact that no official news has been received is taken to be favorable.

FHS Football Reserve Seats Sale Wednesday

Hard on the return home of Floydada's high school coaches from the coach's meeting in Fort Worth last week, comes the announcement that reserve seats for the FHS football season will go on sale Wednesday of next week.

Superintendent I. T. Graves said the sale will be opened by Principal A. E. Baker and Coach Preston Watson at the county court room at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning on a first come first served basis. Reserve seats will be $2.50 each for the season. General admission, in addition will be $1 per game for adults, 50c for students.

Final touches on the re-building job in the grand stands are being done this week. A large part of the heavy timbers in the center section were replaced during the summer. The seats and the grandstand are now better than ever, claim the school authorities. Funds obtained from the sale of reserved seats have gone for betterments and replacements at Wester field for a number of years and this year will be no exception.

Coach Preston Watson and Mrs. Watson, who stopped over near Abilene, on the return from Fort Worth and the coaching school, to spend a brief visit with his parents, arrived home Tuesday night. Wednesday he began work, along with Coach Jack Meredith, of shaping up affairs for the opening of the school year, now only two weeks away.

Hard Schedule Ahead

With Kirkpatrick now graduated and no longer sparking the Post Antelopes, Coach Watson said he had no good idea of what strength Floydada's first opponent would have for the opening game (away from home) on September 12. However, he hopes to have a team that can play a good game and has issued call to the boys who plan to come out for the team to report in good condition when school opens on September 1. He will have an advance meeting of the squad on a date to be announced shortly before school opens, he said.

The coach said that Paul Huntington, who will be B team and basketball assistant, will not reach Floydada until shortly before the opening of school. Huntington is working on a master's degree at Hardin-Simmons and will be in class for practically the whole of August.

Bobby McGuire, former Floydada high squadman, who will be in the faculty of the school this year, will be junior high coach, said Mr. Watson.

First home game for the Floydada fans will be on September 19 when the Crosbyton Chiefs will be the opposing squad. It will be a night game, as will the game against Ralls Jackrabbits, also on Wester field, on the night of September 26. Next home game will be against the Lockney Longhorns on October 10, and Abernathy comes here on October 24 for a night game.

Only conference game the Whirlwinds will play at home will be against Hereford. This will be on November 7.

Pre-conference games away from home in addition to the Post date, will be played against Paducah October 3, and Spur October 17.

Delinquency May Be Handled Best In Kindergarten Years

There are now two hundred and seventy thousand juvenile delinquents in the United States and more children are being added to the list daily, states an article in a recent issue of Woman's Home Companion.

To try to cure delinquency doesn't seem to work. It must be prevented. But how?

Phoebe Radcliffe, in her article "Criminal in the Kindergarten," tells of a revolutionary new method for discovering the deliquent when he first enters school —so that he might be treated then instead of catching up with him later when he may be beyond help.

The method has been developed by a man-and-wife team of eminent criminologists, Professor Sheldon Glueck, and Dr. Eleanor Touroff Glueck, whose pioneering research at Harvard Law School has been published under the title "Unraveling Juvenile Delinquency."

Here's how the Glueck plan would be used in practice: Suppose there are fifty to sixty children coming into the first grade where the study is to be made. During the first few weeks the teacher allows the children a good deal of freedom in their choice of activities. Meanwhile she watches them and gradually sorts out possibly four troublesome ones.

They are given the Glueck tests. First, a skilled social worker visits the boy's home to look into his immediate environment and his relations with his parents. Second, a psychologist, trained in the Rorschach technique (analyzing interpretations of what a person sees in an ink-blot) administers the ink-blot test to determine the boy's basic character traits and deep-seated emotional drives. Third, a psychiatrist who knows and likes children interviews him to find out how he habitually reacts to everyday situations.

Army's Salvage Efforts Save Money for Taxpayers

Army Engineers in Japan have saved American taxpayers more than $34,000,000 (M) in a continuing program of repairing heavy equipment reclaimed from Pacific islands where it was left after World War II.

Seventeen plants in Japan, working under direction of the Army's Yokohama, Depot, are reclaiming and repairing equipment that ranges from fire extinguishers, generators, and refrigeration units to tractors, trailers, cranes, road graders, and rock crushers.

During a 12-month period, the depot repaired a total of 10,000 items of heavy engineer equipment at a cost of $6,000,000 (M). The equipment was badly needed as result of the fighting in Korea, and had it been necessary on procure it in the United States the cost would have been approximately $40,000,000 (M).

The reclamation program began on a modest scale shortly after the end of World War II, and in 1948 approximately 1,250 items of mechanical engineer equipment were repaired. Approximately 8,000 items were made serviceable in 1949, and 10,000 in 1951.

During the fiscal year 1951, approximately 60 per cent of the engineer equipment and supplies furnished for the Korean operation by the Yokohama depot came from within the Far East Command.

Robot Counter Eliminates the Error Element

Arthur Hale, manager of the Cotton Bowl, used to have to keep his small staff up all night counting football tickets.

Things got so bad that Hale's office at Fair Park got the nickname of the "counting house."

Recently, Hale got a gadget called a "tickometer" — an adding machine looking thing—which can take 54,000 tickets into its innards and count them in an hour.

The tickometer will be especially handy this autumn with sixteen major college and professional football games in the Cotton Bowl. What with summer musical shows and special events added to the football, Hale estimates his bunch will have to count more than 2,000,000 tickets.

Three girls work in Hale's office from May 6 to New Year's Day each year handling tickets.

The tickets are counted when received from the printer. Then, just to make sure they're all there, the pasteboards are counted again. After each game unsold tickets must be counted. This last count is for benefit of the Internal Revenue Bureau.

Ancient Ruler Invented First Tile Bathroom

Five thousand years ago, a wealthy monarch of Babylon, named Urnimar, started a trend. He had the first clay tile bathroom in history built in his palace.

For those times it was a sensation, and only a fellow as rich as the old king could afford it. Today, waterproof clay tile is available to the average man at moderate prices. In fact, it is expected to go into at least half a million American rural and urban bathrooms in 1952 alone.

Moderns has still another bathing advantage over Urninmar. Archeological records show that the ancient Babylonian had no tub, much less a shower, both of which are standard equipment in bathrooms

The baby was born in Saint Joseph's hospital there. Mrs. Fyffe is doing well, reported relatives Wednesday.

Mrs. Fyffe is the former Fay Nell Ginn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ginn, of the Cedar Hill community.

today, the king's servants him down by tossing [illegible] allowing it to run off. No harm was done to the palace bath, of course, but couldn't have been much satisfaction for Urninmar.

McLains View West Coast Sights as Daughters' Guests

(By J. T. McLain)

On Saturday, July 26, just after voting, we, Mrs. McLain and myself, left for Lubbock, where we joined our daughter, Mrs. J. E. Brown and family for a trip to Los Angeles, California. We spent Saturday night with relatives at Albuquerque, New Mexico and then on to the painted desert, through the petrified forest and on to Grand Canyon; to Boulder dam through Las Vegas, Nevada. (Non stop, wouldn't risk our 15 cents there.)

Landed at our daughter's home, The Wallaces at about 6:30 p. m. Monday. We visited another daughter, Mrs. Ovelene Huguly and children. We all took a boat ride to Catalina and also rode on the glass bottom boat while there. Could see some of the wonders of the sea on this boat. Played on the beach where the water comes to meet you and embraces you even if you did not intend for it to do so.

We had a wonderful time visiting our two daughters and families and also seeing the sights. We returned home August 8.

PAT STERLING SAYS--

Don't believe the rumor that is being circulated that I have withdrawn from the race for Justice of the Peace of Precincts 1 & 4. It is not true.

In the July primary, in which three of us were in the race, I was second with 698 votes. This puts me in the run-off primary with my opponent, Mr. Olson, who received 746 votes.

It has been my plan and aim to see each voter in the two precincts before the primary on the 23rd of this month. But due to an infected foot I am having to enter the hospital in Lubbock where I will be a patient until after the primary. For this reason I request that all my friends please remember that I tried to get around, and that I will deeply appreciate, more than I can tell, their vote and influence in my behalf on election day while I am in the hospital.

I promise that if you elect me I will faithfully and efficiently serve as your Justice of the Peace, and that I will dispose of every case that comes before me with equal justice to all and special privileges to none. There will be no cliques or clans who can dictate to me and I will be shackled by no one.

Respectfully,

Queen Of Pre-Madison Square Garden Dublin Rodeo

PRETTY 18-YEAR-OLD Betty Sue Bradley of Dublin has been selected Queen of the Pre-Madison Square Garden Rodeo to be held at Dublin, Texas, August 27, 28, 29, and 30. Miss Bradley has been one of the Texas sponsors at the Madison Square Garden Rodeo in New York which is produced by Everett E. Colborn of Dublin, Texas.

Floyd Infantryman In Battle for "Old Baldy" Mountain

With the 2d infantry div. in Korea --PFC E. C. Warr, Floydada, Texas, braved heavy Communist fire to lay vital communication lines during the recent battle for "Old Baldy" mountain in Korea.

Private First Class Warr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Warr, Route 1, Floydada, is a member of the 2d Infantry Division which captured the important position on the rain-soaked western front.

When 2d Division infantryman assaulted "Old Baldy",Warr and his comrades on the communications team laid their wires simultaneously. The wire crews since have frequently braved enemy artillery and mortar barrages in exposed positions to repair lines destroyed by the Communists.

Private First Class Warr entered the Army in January 1951 and joined the 2d Division last March. He is assigned as a field wireman with the 2d Signal Company. In civilian life Private First Warr was engaged in farm work at Floydada.

ROY ROGERS LIBERTY ACT

DUBLIN, Tex.,--The Roy Rogers matched Palomino horses, will be one of the highlights of the 1952 Pre-Madison Square Garden Rodeo to be staged in Dublin, Texas, nightly Wednesday through Saturday, August 27-28-29-30.

The act is one of the most outstanding liberty horse acts in the world today. The horses are trained and presented by Glenn Randall, trainer of the internationally famous Trigger.

Satin, the lead horse of the Liberty Act, whose keen intelligence inspires the other horses to perform, is continually heckled by the "ham" act of Elmer. Elmer has the habit of trying to steal the show by just doing half the things he should, when Randall's back is turned.

Dublin's World's Championship Rodeo is now in its 13th year. Just before Colburn takes his troup of cowboys, cowgirls, sponsors and special performers and the rodeo stock and equipment to New York he stages the biggest rodeo of them all --in his home town of Dublin. Advance tickets sales are made to people from almost every state in the union.

Mrs. Norma Walls and son Dean, in company with Joe Dick Moore, have returned from Stockton, California, where they spent a few months this spring and summer.

To The Voters of Floyd County:

Due to the fact that the duties of the sheriff's office have been extremely heavy, I have been unable to contact all the voters of the county. If I have missed seeing you I assure you that it was not done intentionally as I believe the duties of the office come first as law enforcement must go on just the same.

As your sheriff I have worked hard at all times to make you a good officer and have maintained a staff of deputies who have worked diligently and faithfully in trying to combat and keep crime down to the extent that Floyd county is considered as one of the cleanest counties in Texas, as far as crime is concerned.

As my best recommendation I offer the record I have made in the office since I have been serving as your sheriff, and if elected I will do my best to give the kind of service that I know you are justly entitled to. Trusting that you will consider this as a personal appeal for your influence and vote on August 23rd.

I am your friend,

Politics Coins New Words for The Dictionary

American political campaigns produce a lot of words—and some of them catch on to become a part of the American heritage.

When the 1952 campaign is over, lexicographers — the men who write dictionaries—will have a job sorting out the new Americanisms that are left eddying in its wake.

These homemade political words and catch phrases will eventually be included in "A Dictionary of Americanisms" published by the University of Chicago Press.

The dictionary editor, Milford M. Mathews, has already done a lot of research on words that sprouted from United States political battles of the past.

"Everyone knows what it means "to keep the ball rolling," for instance. But not many persons know the expression originated in the bitter 1840 "log cabin" and "hard cider" campaign between "Little Van" and "Tippecanoe and Tyler, Too."

Mommoth parades became a fetture of the huge political rallies, the first such gatherings in American history. Whig politicans rolled balls, sometimes thirty feet in diameter, down the streets to call attention to their candidate, William H. Harrison, "Old Tippecanoe."

Some of the balls were so large that trees along the Baltimore, Md., parade route had to be trimmed to permit their passage. Men sometimes walked inside a ball to keep it turning. Other balls, revolved on long poles, took as many as twelve men to roll them.

Newspapermen covering the campaign coined the phrase which Americans use today when they mean keeping something going.

Recent additions to the political language include the phrases "grass roots" and "whistle stop." First evidence of the use of "whistle stop" actually came from a 1940 sports story in a newspaper, Mathews says. However, it has long since been taken over by the politicos and the public generally to mean any small town. Both it and "grass roots" will go into the next edition of the dictionary as having a political meaning, the editor added, as a result of their frequent use during the 1952 campaign.

The dictonary lists among political Americanisms such bulwarks of democracy as the words "President," which had its earliest printed appearance in a 1608 reference to the highest officer in an American colony; "town meeting," first known usage in 1636; "House of Representatives," 1692; "capitol," 1699; "general election," 1716; "convention," 1754, "elector," 1787; "Democratic", 1798. "Republican" was first used in 1782 to denote a member of a Pennsylvania political faction, but its first use in connection with the modern political party came in 1854. "GOP" first appeared in 1887.

The Republican elephant, in its first known published form, appeared in 1874 in a Thomas Nast cartoon in Harper's Weekly, in which an elephant was labeled the Republican vote. "Vote," by the way, was first used in 1859.

The Democratic donkey was used as early as 1837 in a book by Stefan Lorant, called "The Presidency."

Such terms as "influence," "third party," "third-termer," "New Deal," "machine" and "mugwump", sound right up-to-date, don't they? Well, "influence," in its unsavory political sense, was first used in 1792. They were speaking of a "third party" in 1801; a "third-termer" was mentioned in 1833, and a "new deal" first was pledged to the people by Andrew Jackson in 1834.

"Machine" politics was known in 1865 and there were "mugwumps" back in 1884.

There are a lot of hot issues in the current campaign—but they're not so new, either, it would seem. The current participants are doing a lot of thinking about a possible "bolt" (1833) by the "Solid South" (1876) They're worried about "civil rights" (1874) and being able to "deliver" (1893) the votes. And there are those "pivotal states" (1914).

WEAR YOUR CLOTHES Don't Let Them Wear You

1. Nothing makes a coat look to big for you than sleeves that are to long.
2. The collar of the coat should ride comfortable and snug around the neck. This avoids any "horse collar" look.
3. If the shoulders are to heavy padded for you, your coat will look as if you were wearing one belonging to some one else.
4. The length of the coat is important. This is a very important measurement. You could be either long or short waisted.
5. A well fitted coat can be thrown off complete by wearing a pair of ill fitting trousers. Trousers to long and ride on your shoe tops, will cut down your height. If you honestly don't care about your appearance—and there is some who don't. Its better not to care at all than half way. Seat of trousers should fit comfortable but not baggy.
6. Don't expect men who wear clothes that fit to discuss them—but you can be certain they know them.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

(Nellie Witt Spikes.)

As it stood in the corner smiling;
And blessed the time with a merry chime,
The wintry hours beguiling.

But a cross old voice was that tiresome clock,
As it called at daybreak boldly,
When the dawn looked gray o'er the misty way,
And the early air blew coldly.

This is a fine Monday morning, August 11th. The year stretches on. School days are just over the horizon and the green bolls of cotton will turn to brown and pop open in the bright fall sunshine. I always felt a sadness when this time of year came around when my children were at home. I never wanted school days to come, I wanted my children at home with me. Of course I wanted them to get an education, but at this time of year the wind seemed to bring a reminder that time was near the days ahead would have to be spent in the farm home, too quietly, as the children and their many activities would not break the long hours. And when the time came for them to go to college, the nights, too, would be too quiet as well as the days. So, even today, the wind whispers warnings of approaching changes, and I remember and feel an apprehension of uneasiness as I did years ago.

No words more fitting to say in memory of Mr. W. E. McLaughlin than are those of Carlyle: Great men are fire-pillars in this dark pilgrimage of mankind; they stand as heavenly signs, everlasting witnesses of what has been prophetic token of what may still be, the revealed, embodied possibilities of human nature.

Mr. Mc, as he was affectionately called, was indeed a great man and the town of Ralls as well as the county of Crosby, is indebted to him for his foresight and planning and building of a better neighborhood in which to live and rear the coming generations.

Mr. Spikes, Joe Ellis and myself were honored guests at the Parrish reunion in Ralls at the home of Delmar and Eula Parrish. Cars bearing the tags of California, New Mexico, Oklahoma, stood by side with many cars of Texas license. And a cousin Claude Parrish came from Liberty, Missouri, in his airplane. Such a feast was the noon meal at which we all filled plates to overflowing. The barbeque was perfect and one wished he could eat more of it, but by its side were dishes of fried chicken, bowls of crisp salads, buttered potatoes, it makes me hungry this morning just to think about it. And at a side table were pies and cakes to call attention to not eating too much before that was reached. All the family were so congenial and so happy to be together. They are an honor to the father and the mother who brought them up, the father and mother who were pioneers of the plains and who so fearlessly and so bravely met the responsibilities and the disappointments of a new country.

And there was lots of fun, too, as the brothers and sisters talked, fourteen of them, only one absent. They recalled the old pranks they played, the fun they had.

We talked with Bonnie and learned for the first time which must have been formed in this praire land. Of course when we landed on top of the cap from the long journey from Parker county, the loveliest things we saw were the lakes of blue water rippling in the green prairie and reflecting the blue of the sky, the soft white clouds and sparkling with the gold of the sun.

"We had come to a flat land," So Bonnie laughed," We needed water. So some of us boys started out digging the lakes. We carried the water from the canyon in gallon syrup buckets. Jeff Spikes, Delmar, and some others helped."

But I told Bonnie some years they must have been too lazy to carry water in gallon buckets to fill the lakes for I saw them dry and cracked open. I knew that Uncle Hank Smith and Uncle Charlie Holmes had the honor of digging the Blanco canyon. I even talked with a woman who carried drinking water to them, but it was the first time I had ever known who was responsible for the many beautiful lakes we found on the plains.

Now you who live far away from this magic land on the plains, may just think this is another tall tale from Texas. But when you come here and see how the farmers have filled up many of these smaller lakes and drained others to make crops of cotton, and have found the water in deep underground rivers, instead of having to carry it from the canyon in gallon buckets as did the first settlers, may well see and believe even the tallest of the tales of West Texas.

Good thought for the week from The Upper Room, by Grace Noll Crowell: "Someone has told of this brief and beautiful prayer offered by an Indian to his God: 'Great Spirit, help us never to judge another until we have walked for awhile in his moccasins."

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Harris and sons, of Slaton, were business visitors in Floydada on Saturday. The Harris family are former residents of Floydada.

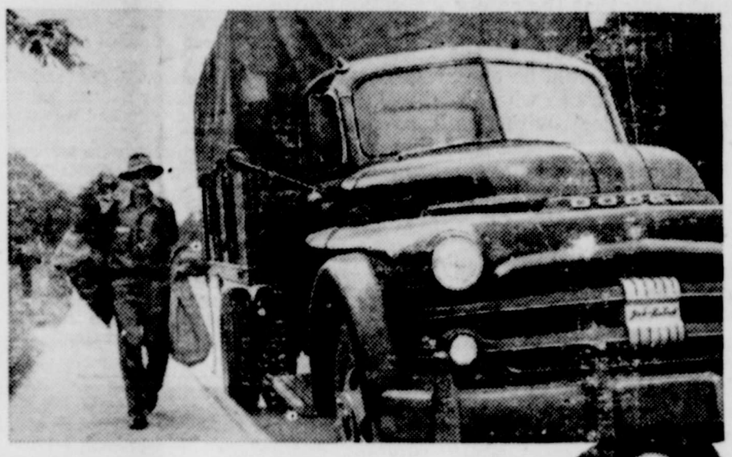
Keep costs down, performance up, with a Dodge



- Haul at lower cost with a Dodge truck — ½- through 4-ton—that's "Job-Rated" to fit your job.
- Reduce upkeep with such wear-saving features as floating oil intake and positive-pressure lubrication.
- Come in for a demonstration—and a good deal!

"My Dodge trucks save a lot of money on gas!" says H. A. ROBINSON, Contract Hauler, Mobile, Ala.

"On a 200-mile run I save 1½ to 2 gallons of gas. I get this saving seven days a week, and on my two trucks that means I save over $300.00 a year on gas alone. That's good, because each of my trucks makes an average of 50 stops per day hauling mail.

"My first Dodge truck cost me only $54.00 of repair expense in two years. I ran my second Dodge over 103,000 miles in two years and spent only $15.50 on it for repairs.

"If I'd known what I know now about Dodge trucks, I'd have switched to them long ago and saved myself a lot of money."

Save on gas and oil. All 8 Dodge truck engines give exceptional economy with plenty of power. You get advantages like lightweight aluminum pistons, improved fuel system with economy control, precision-balanced crankshaft, and other money-saving features.

Save on maintenance. Rugged engines and chassis make Dodge trucks famous for dependability. Upkeep costs stay low because of special Dodge features like 4-ring pistons, chrome-plated top ring, and wear-resisting exhaust valve seat inserts.

Save with long life. Because Dodge trucks last so long, depreciation is less and trade-in value stays up. Long life and dependability are result of such features as alloy steel springs, shot-peened axle shafts, and extra-sturdy frames.

Views and Comment

Much interest doubtless was created by the report that a plan is being worked on to test a heavy flow of water found at about 800 feet under the H. A. Krause land while the driller was boring for oil for the Poff-Brinsmere interests. This strata of water was logged as being a strong one. The driller had made a prior promise to make the log available so far as the water sands were concerned. A report has it that this sand carries a tremendous amount of water. What intrigues is the possibility that the water in this strata could be used to help re-charge the shallower sands from which the pumps are pulling a tremendous amount of water. A very high per cent of the land in the area is being farmed by the aid of irrigation. An additional supply of water from the deeper horizon would help stabilize business and make an additional guarantee of ample supply of water. The Hi-Plains Underground Water association could very well lend its aid in developing the possibilities and get the approval of the people of the water district, it seems to us. As oil tests go down over the area it also would be good for the landholders to try to get understandings with the drillers to make available their information on water sands which they may encounter. The deep underground supply definitely is known about, although it is not encountered in every test that is drilled. The Petersburg people have a good lead in the search for more water deeper. It is probably too big a gamble for one man to undertake alone but is the kind of a job in which all can join with enthusiasm.

How much the Floyd county cotton and feed crop will be hurt by the weather remains yet to be seen. As of August 1 both crops were at the ideal stage for the time of year. There was no way for the crops to turn, if turn they must, except for the worse. So both cotton and feed, where the heat poured on and there wasn't water underneath are not as good as they were August 1. But there are still lots of bolls on the cotton and lots of feed making and there'll be a-plenty in Floyd county this fall to give thanks for.

Rising cost of the companies and associations which underwrite casualty insurance against highway damage to property and life have given point to their claim that rates must go up. An individual, unless possibly he be a millionaire, can hardly afford to go without insurance when he puts himself and his automotive vehicle on the highway. Thousands do it and get away with it because they can't be sued successfully, but these only add to the burden for those who do insure or can afford a successful lawsuit. Casualty underwriters in a state the size of Texas have many, many thousands of claims pending all the time and the number of thousands is growing. The rates will go up for the simple reason that people will find it more difficult to get somebody to underwrite their contribution to the hazards of the highways.

—O—

September 6 is the deadline for safety inspection of automobiles and other vehicles that operate on the highway. While it is true that most of the accidents on the highways can be attributed to carelessness and especially to high speed, a form of carelessness, the fact remains that an owner of an automotive vehicle should not intentionally have it in the traffic and on the highway unless it is in reasonably safe operating condition. So, we consider, even in the face of the claim of many that the safety inspection law is a "rich man's law", it is in the interest of the safety and welfare of the traveling public and as such should be observed by all good citizens. And those who disdain to observe it should be dealt with firmly so that the next time they get on the road they will realize that the law does have reason and common sense behind it and public approval as well.

—O—

Saving equities in cattle in the area down-state where the drought conditions continue has now become the big job for the man who financed cattle purchases and mountain-high feed bills. When nature and the markets both begin to conspire against you, it is a long road that just won't turn. A good rain would save herds of cattle and save some ranchers' hides financially. But the good rain persists in holding off. The books tell of a period like in in the eighties, or was it the seventies, two generations ago.

Child Discipline

I must not interfere with any child, I have been told to bend his will to mine, or try to shape his through some mold of thought.

Naturally as a flower he must unfold. Yet flowers have the discipline of wind and rain, and though I know it gives the gardner much pain, I've seen him using his pruning shears to gain more strength and beauty for some blossoms bright. And he would do whatever he thought right.

I do not know . . . yet it seems to be that only weeds unfold naturally.

Bruising, crippling and death of livestock, starting on the farms and continuing all the way to markets, wastes 70 million pounds of meat every year— a national loss of more than $50 million. Handling livestock with care, using only proper equipment and following time-tested rules developed by experience will greatly reduce these losses.

BUICK'S POWER STEERING?
It's the big NEWS of the year

THERE is a host of things that endear a ROADMASTER to anyone who loves to drive.

There's the might of its Fireball 8 Engine—most powerful ever put in a Buick.

There's the thrift of its Airpower carburetor—a four-barrel automatic that literally brings increased power right out of thin air.

There's its hushed and luxurious silence—its poised and level ride that cost a million dollars to develop—and the infinite smoothness of its Dynaflow Drive.

But the thing that has brought the most cheers for this big and obedient beauty is Buick's version of Power Steering.*

Gone is the tug of turning, parking, maneuvering in small space.

Power Steering takes over the effort of turning the front wheels—makes it a one-hand operation.

Do you have to learn to drive all over again if you have this new Buick feature?

You definitely do not. On the open road, you have that same sure sense of command that you've always had. Coming out of a curve, you can loosen your grip, and the front wheels right themselves just as they do on every Buick.

But you'll notice this: When you suddenly hit loose dirt or sand—or a stretch of rough road—Power Steering smoothly goes into action—helps take up the jerk—makes control of the wheel easier and driving safer.

Wouldn't you like to try out this newest wonder—on a ROADMASTER or a SUPER? You say the word, and we'll do the rest.

*Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. Optional at extra cost on Roadmaster and Super only.

NEW POWER AND ECONOMY WITH MM MODEL U AND LP GAS

LP gas equipment factory installed on Minneapolis-Moline UTU and UTS tractors offers owners the many advantages of this clean burning high-octane fuel. Complete and slow burning of LP gas make possible new smoothness and uniform bearing pressures. This gives you more power on tough plowing jobs and exceptional smoothness for careful cultivating jobs—gives you the hidden savings resulting from greatly reduced maintenance savings and oil economy.

Apply these added fuel benefits to the MM Universal or Standard U tractors that are power and economy leaders in the 3-4 plow power class and you have truly outstanding performance.

See us for full particulars on LP gas equipment factory installed to save you time and money on field changeover.

Minneapolis - Moline pioneered LP gas burning equipment on the famous MM U Tractors in 1941.

See the MM tractor model W, GTC and Z now on display. All are butane equipped.

...Tells ...of Rome ...Seen

...First and second in... ...the story of his jour... ...pe and the Near East ...below by R. Earl Al... ...of the First Baptist ...loydada. The first, ...from Rome on August ...e Hesperian office on ...e second, dated Aug... ...us August 11, gives rise to the belief that while airplanes make incredible speeds crossing the oceans, somebody in the postal service dallies by the way between flights. The No. 1 installment was posted in Rome, the second in Cairo.)

By R. Earl Allen

After an interesting stay in New York City we arrived in Paris, France, by route of Gander, Newfoundland and Shannon, Ireland, by T. W. A. Plane.

Ireland was reached at 12 noon where lunch was served. Ireland is a glorious place with a natural beauty that is undescribable. Gander is an isolated international airport. We reached this stop in the middle of the night and in the middle of a long flight, hence we would not be so lavish in our praise.

A great deal of the time in New York was spent in briefing the passengers for the trip. A State Department official gave us much information and most of it was in off the cuff fashion repoters were barred from the room. It seems that events in Egypt happened sooner than believed. The flight was met in New York City by Associated Press photographers and reporters.

The take-off was carried by two radio stations. New York times as well as others carried articles on the trip.

The reason for the interest in the tour was not due to the presence of local persons, but due to the fact that in the history of theological education, it is the first time that a seminary has literally transfered it's professors and students to the scene of the Holy Land.

Four major theological seminaries have cooperated in the unique program. Four professors as well as four guides accompany the 78 persons on the trip. On the scene spot lectures are given which greatly enhance the value of the tour.

MONUMENTS TO BEAUTY

Paris, France was reached late in the evening. The next morning a trip over the city was conducted. Paris is a beautiful city in many respects. It would be impossible to make evaluation in so short a time. Religiously the country is not progressing. You are shown the churches in the city, but apparently as monuments of architectural beauty and not of places of worship. Church Historians place the population at 42 million with 5 million practicing Catholics and 750,000 Protestants. We could not vouch for these figures, but it is easy to see that there is more sightseers in church than worshippers.

It was interesting to find a beautiful little church on the Seine river known as the American Colony Protestant church. This was supposed to be the first American protestant church on foreign soil. We were not shown this church but found this church on our way to the Eiffel Tower.

The Eiffel Tower is a wonder. It is hard for the French to remember that the Empire State building in New York is higher, so they go on saying this is the tallest in the world. It's hard on Texans and Americans to be silent at times.

SMALL WORLD INDEED

Small world indeed was realized when an elderly couple near us in our hotel cafe wanted a cup of our powdered coffee which we took along. On exchanging of introductions to Dr. Thacker we found that this man was also a dentist. As a boy he settled with his Quaker father at Estacdo, Texas near Floydada. With the failure on their venture they moved out in 1898. He was a member of the Holmes family there who moved to Crosbyton and is now practicing in Kansas. His close watch on progress of the area was amazing.

Another interesting experience was made on a river boat ride. The people couldn't speak enough English to make change for our money, but surprised us in other ways. A great crowd of French occupied the boat along with a few from the flying services. To keep up our bragging which was expected of us and partly to entertain ourselves, some of the elect started The Eyes of Texas. We felt foolish when we were joined by all of the French in singing it. We tried Home On The Range and they grinned and stayed with us. It soon became a contest to see if we could think of something they couldn't sing. We couldn't until we tried a religious number which we never could hoist. A grining man told us in broken English that the Yanks Have Been Here!

Our party of 84 winged it's way to Rome after lectures and the final sight-seeing trip that was officially conducted. One of the things that we personally treasured was an opportunity to see the new European Bible Institute that has just been started in Paris by the Evangelical churches of America. I found that the president and all faculty members save one was a Baptist.

There are very, very few books in French of a religious purpose for non-Catholics and no protestant Bible concordance of any nature. The progress of the seminary through the ministry of it's students and the scholarship of it's professors ought to be a distinct blessing to the religious life of France.

Our trip to Rome was made without hazard of any nature. Rome, The Eternal City, as called by the Catholic people, has much of a biblical significance. It is also called the city of a thousand churches, but there are only a few more than 500. We are not sure if the Chamber of Commerce or others are responsible for this statement. We made this observation that all of them have steps and one had more than 125 steps. The most elaborate and beautiful Catholic cathedrals of the world are here. They all are works of art.

Crosses Into Vatican City

We made a trip across the imaginary boundary line into the state of the Vatican City which embraces over 100 acres in the heart of Rome. It is the capitol of Papal States and the home of the pope. It has over 1000 population which includes the colorful Swiss guards and other guards of the pope. It's public services are under the direction of it's Governor. The greater part of the state is occupied by the Basilica of St. Peter and by the palace of the Vatican with the art collections. We had an opportunity to see the Pope on Sunday but passed it up for the privilege of going to one of the two American cemeteries in Italy. Dr. Thacker and I, in company of the pastor and wife of the First Baptist church Lakeland, Florida, made our way by car to the Anzio Beach head and to the Nettuno cemetery.

The Mediterranean sea, in which the red blood of many brave soldiers were spilled, is still a quite blue but there are many reminders of the cost of war. Buildings still bear the marks but what is really heart-breaking and soul tugging is the thousands of white crosses there.

I can't describe the emotions of that moment. The American flag looked dear to us at it moved in the soft breeze because it was a symbol of home and we were in a foreign nation, more than 7000 miles from home, and because it was there in silent salute to the fallen comrades.

Sees Grave of James Roy

We made our way among the 7859 white marble crosses and Stars of David until we came to the grave of James Roy, heroic son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Roy of Floydada. Strange sentiment steals your soul's meditation at a time such as this as you recount the high privilege of being an American citizen. I shall never take it lightly from this time.

A Christian traveling from America would easily realize that the Holy Bible and United States Passport book are the world's two greatest. It would be a tragedy to be a man without a country, a flag, home friends, loved ones and Christ!

From this grave we made our way across the cemetery with the Florida pastor to see a soldier's grave from his community. While searching with them we came across the grave of a soldier named Floyd from White Flat community.

Though you do not know them you realize that you are in deep debt to them. The United States is building a beautiful marble chapel on the ground and making the landscape beautiful. It has a solemn grandeur that can be seen and understood, but cannot be retold.

The young man who was our taxi driver was a prisoner of war for two years during World War II. We came upon him after we had completed our visit, there in a manner in which it would have been impossible for him to have expected us and found him weeping. War always causes much grief. If the nations of the world only believe in the Prince of Peace.

Attends Italian Service

On Sunday morning the party broke up and various ones of the tour went to the churches of their denomination. We sought out one of the five Baptist churches there along with a number of others and worshipped with the little Italian Baptist church. It was a high privilege to be present. They were observing the Lord's supper and the service was, of course, in Italian. We all were recognized and spoke greetings, through an interpeter. Though we couldn't understand the language, we could know that God was there in spirit as we worshiped with them.

We also made a trip to our orphanage there as well as our girls training school with one of our Southern Baptist convention missionaries there.

We are just now getting to places of bible interest, but two places of interest were high soul experience to us.

Where Paul Wrote to Timothy

One was the prison in which Paul wrote his letter to young Timothy and from where he was taken and beheaded for his faith. You find yourself growing deeply distressed in soul over those who take the privileges of Christ and his church lightly. We went then to the Catacombs over the ancient Appian road. This was the road over which Paul traveled into the city. The Catacombs are the early Christian burial place from perhaps the 2nd to the 9th century. They are some 35 feet deep in the ground and wind around for some 11 miles. The tunnels are dug out of the earth and the burial places are dug into the land on either side. There are several chapels which have been dug out where many people may worship.

When we went down the stairs into the catacomb, I was behind the guide and first to reach the ground level and started the song, "Faith of our Fathers Living Still." It was good to hear Christians there. We held a service in the chapel and stood for the message and songs. After prayer, we went to the coliseum where Christians were thrown to the lions for their faith. Now Christians just throw themselves away.

Today, we are in Cario, Egypt. Tonight we sleep by the River Nile. Tomorrow we go to the Pyramids.

CADR OF THANKS

We are indeed grateful to our many Floyd county friends for their thoughtfulness during the recent illness and death of our father, W. A. Moore. The flowers, cards and telegrams were truly appreciated. May God bless each of you.

MISS JOY ANN REEVES

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Reeves of Portales, New Mexico, formerly of Floyd county, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Joy Ann to Jerry L. Ralls, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry W. Ralls of Fort Worth. The vows will be spoken in the First Baptist church in Portales on August 29.

Miss Reeves attended the Fairview school, where she lived with her parents in the Fairview community in 1940-1943. She also attended Floydada High school.

The young couple will make their home in Fort Worth.

For years we've heard men jeer at women about what all they carry in their purses. Everything but money, they say. If anything around the house — from the portable radio in the spare room to the big skittle —gets misplaced, they wisecrack: "Go look in your other purse."

To some extent we plead guilty. When a season changes, we often unearth some lost treasure in a handbag that hasn't been in use for several months: a recipe, a clipping about an old school friend, the button off our best suit, an address, a pair of earscrews we'd given up as lost.

But did you ever watch a man go through his billford? It's a sight to behold! We had a friend out for supper the other night and he suggester we all three go to the movie on his pass. He got out his billfold and began to go through it: Credit cards with two airlines, membership cards for his lodge, service club, country club and Red Cross. Courtesy cards for two hotels and several service stations. Seasons tickets to Town Hall programs. A neat litle memo for keeping his wife's measurements for gloves, hose, dresses, et cetera, only it wasn't filled in. His driver's license, the address of his car insurance company. All told, including his own business cards, he had between fifty and a hundred of the things stuffed into this diminutive billford, along with a few tired dollar bills.

Hm, we gloated; and he's got five other pockets! Women may carry a bunch of nonsense in their handbags, but at least they don't send a coin purse to do a shoulder satchel's work.

Mrs. Jimmy Willson and children, who are among the mid-summer vacationers, spent several weeks at Carey, North Carolina, where they were guest of her parents. They reached home last week.
