The new track at Snyder High School is one of the neatest facilities of its type and local coaches and athletes are anxious to try it out.

School administrators, coaches and board members inspected it Thursday as the last "striping" was being done. To get the best use out of the new Reslite track, however, some limitations of use must prevail, the manufacturer has recommended. Rules for use of the track, as well as the new tennis courts, are spelled out in an article on the sports page of this issue of the Daily News.

The Reslite material which is used for topping of the track appears somewhat similar to asphalt, yet in some ways it closely resembles rubber. It is "springy" and the striping has designated seven lanes instead of the usual eight, which means that track performers will have more elbow room.

The physical appearance definitely is an improvement over the conventional cinder track.

I was invited by Dave Harlin Sr. to attend a meeting of the men of First Christian Church Wednesday night where Roy Carter and several members of the Snyder High School Huddle of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes put on the program. During the program, Carter, who sponsors the FCA Huddle at SHS, disclosed that a much larger delegation of the local high school group probably will attend the FCA conference at Estes Park, Colo., this summer than ever before. Also, Dr. Wilton N. Jones will serve as camp physican during one week of the conference this summer.

The next day a notice came through the mail from FCA headquarters in Kansas City that one of the biggest throngs of nationally-known athletes in history will participate in a "Weekend of Champions" Feb. 7-9 at Dallas. Included will be such personalities as Bart Starr, Fran Tarkenton, Bill Glass, Carroll Dale, Tom Landry, Jerry Stovall, Bobby Mitchell, Willie Richardson, John Mackey, Jim Kaat, Ted Uhlaender, Bobby Richardson, Dave Wickersham, Bob Pettit, plus many more professionals and at least 25 college athletic stars. They will present programs in 40 high schools, junior high schools and colleges in the Dallas area, participate in 200 church services, visit hospitals, civic clubs and attend banquets.

Rep. Renal B. Rosson, our representative in the Texas House of Representatives, has been named chairman of the House Committee on Judicial Districts.

Appointment of the committees clears the way for the legislature to get down to business. Committees handle a large volume of the actual work load in the legislative process. All bills are referred to appropriate committees for hearings, discussions, etc. before recommendations are made.

Air Cavalrymen Find Huge Communist Base

SAIGON (AP) — American air cavalrymen have uncovered a huge North Vietnamese base spread over four square miles northwest of Saigon. U.S. officers said they think it was being built in preparation for a winter-spring offensive.

The base is believed to be the largest ever uncovered in the war and could accommodate perhaps 5,000 or more enemy troops. It contained hundreds of bunkers, a large underground hospital, dining halls, a bicycle repair shop, and a command post.

Troops of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division came on the base while on a sweep along jungle trails in the long-time Viet Cong stronghold known as War Zone C. The base was found some 53 miles northwest of Saigon and 14 miles south of the Cambodian border.

Lt. Col. Frank Henry of Franklin, N.C., told AP photographer Rick Merron during a survey of the area that his troops had already counted 354 bunkers of various sizes and that he estimates there are 750 to 1,000 bunkers in the whole area.

"They've been doing a lot of work on this complex in the last month," Henry said. "We think they were preparing for the coming offensive down South," meaning attacks on U.S. and South Vietnamese installations closer to Saigon and possibly on the capital itself.

Merron flew over the area in a helicopter and said the triple-canopied jungle made it invisible from the air.

A captured North Vietnamese told the air cavalrymen that there was something in the area. He said he knew of a hospital but couldn't pinpoint it.

The air cavalrymen were turning up bunkers so fast that engineers called in to blow them up were hard put to keep up.

"This is an impossible job," said one engineer." It will take us weeks to blow them all up effectively."

"One of the bunkers had curtains in it; it must have been some wheel's bunker," said Capt. Henry A. Colavita of Arlington, Va.

The hospital complex "was brand new, still in the construction process at the time," said Colavita, but "we didn't see too many signs of recent use" in other parts of the bunker complex.

Colavita, commander of one of the two Air Cav companies searching the area, said his men also found enough enemy documents to fill two sandbags. Intelligence officers looked the documents over and said they indicated that the area was a "logistical supply center" for North Vietnamese troops.

New Weapons Added To N-Arsenal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission said today it has developed new and secret nonnuclear components for the nation's already fearsome weapons.

And the agency hinted the new developments may already have been tested in the continuing quest to improve the nation's nuclear arsenal.

The componept-development disclosure came in one short paragraph of the AEC's annual report to Congress prepared for release today.

In the same report, the AEC made a new oblique reference to a conclusion voiced in 1966 by Congress' Joint Committee on Atomic Energy that China could be capable of launching a hydrogen-missile attack on the United States before the mid-1970s and conceivably as early as 1971.

The indirect reference came when the AEC disclosed for the first time that it has set "late 1971" as the target date for full-speed production in its program for providing "the new capability and increased capacity" for producing nuclear intercontinental ballistic missiles.

A key objective in this expansion program is sharply geared-up production of Spartan and Sprint missiles for the Sentinel system, a "thin" antiballistic missile system designed in part to cope with any early threat from Red China.

Vital Message To Nasser From Soviets

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Soviet leadership has sent an important message to President Gamal Abdel Nasser on the Middle East crisis, the semiofficial cairo newspaper Al Ahram said today.

It said the message from Soviet Communist party General Secretary Leonid Brezhnev concerned a meeting the Kremlin leaders held earlier this week on the Middle East. The contents of the message were not revealed.

Alexander Shelepin, a member of the Soviet party politburo currently in Cairo with a trade mission, delivered the message to Nasser and discussed its contents with him, the paper said. The editor of Al Ahram, anticipating the meeting of the U.S. National Security Council on the Middle East in Washington Saturday, urged President Nixon not to pursue the policies of former President Johnson in the Arab-Israeli conflict.

Editor Muhammed Hassanein Heikal, a confidant of Nasser, said in his weekly editorial a new attitude in Washington could have a far-reaching effect, not only in defusing the Middle East but also on future U.S.-Soviet relations.

He added that progress on such matters as missile limiting talks "depends totally" on first disposing of the Middle East problem.

American Is Arrested For Spying

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Baghdad radio said today American engineer Paul Bail was arrested in Iraq for "actions related to spying" and may be released within the next few days.

The broadcast did not specify whom Bail was accused of acting for, but it added that "the government, acting from a position of strength, will be tolerant toward him."

The announcement confirmed reports in Washington that Bail had been picked up in connection with Iraq's growing spy hunt.

The announcement about Bail was made Thursday by Information Minister Abdullah Samarrai and broadcast abroad today.

Samarrai said the execution of 14 Iraqis, including nine Jews, as spies was having results.

Texas Twang Lost For 'Pygmalion'

EDITOR'S NOTE: Snyder people have come to expect a lot from their high school's speech and drama department, and over 600 who attended the opening performance last night can attest to the fact that "Pygmalion" is one of the real high spots of an SHS drama tradition. Dana Thompson, SHS senior, reviews the opening night performance.

* * *

"Pygmalion," the "My Fair Lady" play, had its first showing last night in Snyder High School's auditorium and from the start, it was obvious that the performers, picked from Jerry Worsham's high school drama classes, had overcome tremendous odds in cleansing their accents of the "Texas twang" — a necessary measure in approaching the voice sounds of English ladies and gentlemen of all classes.

Yet they had not become alien in doing so. As a matter of fact, the characters portrayed were distinctly individual and believable — the rash and temperamental linguistics expert Professor Higgins, his diplomatic and reserved colleague Colonel Pickering, and the sensitive but defensive Eliza — to mention a few.

Eliza, a poor Cockney [illegible] who roams the streets of London selling flowers for a half crown a day, comes to Professor Higgins not knowing the different uses of a handkerchief and the sleeve of her coat. As Higgins says himself, "She's so

Leaking Oil Well Threatens Coast

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Beaches, wildlife and fish were threatened today as oil bubbled forth from a leaking ocean-floor well at a rate of 21,000 gallons a day.

The black slick covered 200 square miles of Pacific Ocean, as pilots prepared chemical air drops to disperse the oil and underwater crews worked to seal the leak.

A team of experts was dispatched from Washington, D.C., by Secretary of Interior Walter J. Hickel, and Gov. Ronald Reagan told of the threat of "major pollution to our coast."

"It is imperative that everything be done that can be done," said Hickel. He is considering tighter regulations on offshore drilling, he said, as a result.

The undersea well being drilled five and a half miles offshore by Union Oil Co. of California blew out Tuesday.

With the migration of gray whales at its height, State Fish and Game officials expressed fear for safety of the mammals which must come to the surface to breathe. Their route was through the oil slick.

Many birds were struggling on the beaches, their feathers sticky with oil. State marine biologists said chemicals used to disperse the slick may harm bottom-dwelling fish and plankton.

The Coast Guard warned ships to stay at least five miles from the drilling platform from which oil workers sought to seal the leak. The well was drilled 3,000 feet below the ocean floor.

Logs were lashed together into floating barricades in an effort to trap the oil before it spread into harbors.

The oil was surging to the surface in two major bubbles Thursday night about 800 feet from the drilling platform. There may be other smaller flows as well, an oil company spokesman said.

In addition, natural gas was leaking near the rig.

Crews worked to force mud into the well, stopping the pressures. Workers from the Red Adair Fire Fighting Co. arrived to help.

Nixon Asks Plan To Terminate Draft

By FRANK CORMIER ...
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has asked Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird to set up a special commission "to develop a detailed plan of action for ending the draft."

The request announced by the White House Thursday represented one of several small steps taken at the same time to redeem campaign pledges.

These steps gained added impetus today with Nixon's planned statement to Congress, calling for more policemen, judges and prosecutors to curb crime in the nation's capital.

That late afternoon message was on a schedule including a trip to the Pentagon for a briefing with the Joint Chiefs of Staff and a pep talk to lower echelon defense officials.

During the campaign, Nixon repeatedly pledged an all-out effort to combat crime, particularly in Washington which he said should be a national model.

Nixon ordered Atty. Gen. John Mitchell earlier this week to map an urgent program against crime in the capital where homicides and rapes reached record totals last year, robberies in December were double the same month a year before and bank holdups have more than tripled.

On the draft question, the White House said Laird "was advised of the President's conviction that an all-volunteer armed force be established after the expenditures for Vietnam are substantially reduced."

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am 24, been married six years and have five children — going on six. (No, we aren't Catholic, and we didn't have any of these kids on purpose, but O well, you know how it is.) My problem is my husband. George thinks all he has to do is bring home the paycheck. Everything else is MY job.

He never once got up during the night to change a baby or give him a bottle. Nor has he ever lifted a finger to help me in the house. When I was seven months pregnant with our first I had to learn how to drive a car because George had a few beers too many, smashed up the car and had his driver's license taken away. I had to drive myself to the hospital to have the baby.

I don't know how we ever made it. I nearly had the baby in the car. I'm in my eighth month right now. This morning while I was on my hands and knees scrubbing the kitchen floor, George was laying on his backside on the sofa watching TV, and he had the nerve to complain because he saw cobwebs on the ceiling. Maybe if I had time to lay on my backside on the sofa I would have noticed the cobwebs myself.

Abby, how can I get some cooperation out of this guy? I'm ready to fall apart.

TIRED

DEAR TIRED: I don't know any magic formula to get instant cooperation out of a husband, but for openers you can close the "baby factory." If you've never heard of PLANNED PARENTHOOD, get acquainted.

DEAR ABBY: When a lady comes to your table at a restaurant, is offered a chair, but refuses saying she is going to stay only a minute, but she stands there talking, how long should a gentleman remain standing?

DON

DEAR DON: Two minutes. And if she's still standing and talking, sit down. She's no lady.

DEAR ABBY: Here's a new one for you. My wife and I are the same size — 5 ft. 10 in. tall, and we weigh 130 pounds. We wear the same size shirts, shoes, etc., which is my problem because my wife "pirates" all my clothing. Telling her doesn't do any good. Also, it wouldn't help if I were to buy HER more clothes as she already has a beautiful ample wardrobe. Any serious suggestion would be greatly appreciated.

NEARLY NAKED

DEAR NEARLY: If you're not putting me on, the only way to keep your wife from putting your clothes ON is to keep them under lock and key.

DEAR ABBY: I read in your column that you had never heard of lady pallbearers. Well, you just haven't lived long enough.

I am 89 years old and was in the funeral business for 52 years and I have heard of it. We had one man who died and left eight daughters, and six of them carried him to his grave. It was very nice.

I have eleven granddaughters and six of them are going to carry me to my final resting place. Thank you.

Car Rental Franchise Is Granted Here

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. — Francis Rental & Leasing Inc., has been granted a National Car Rental System franchise in Snyder, it was announced by William B. McKinstry, president of National.

Les Francis, Jr., president, said the new franchise will provide business and professional customers with daily, weekly and monthly car rentals in the Snyder area.

New Chevrolets will be available for customers. In addition, National also gives S&H Green Stamps to its customers.

A unique aspect of the National System, according to Francis, is the availability of the "Floating Fleet" of General Motors cars from which vehicles may be rented and dropped off at any one of the approximately 1,400 National locations throughout the United States.

National recently completed installation of a Master Reservation Office in Minneapolis which represents the first fully computerized reservations network in the industry. In addition, National accepts most major credit cards.

The new agency will operate from the Francis Rental Leasing Inc. office at 711 twenty-fifth Street.

Farm Costs Climbs To Record High

WASHINGTON (AP) — Farm production expenses rose to a record high during the month ended Jan. 15, a gain of five per cent from a year earlier, the Agriculture Department reported Thursday.

Prices farmers receive for their products rose one-third of one per cent during the month, but showed only a four per cent gain from mid-January 1968.

The most important changes during the month were higher prices for hogs and lower price for cotton, the department's crop reporting board said.

The index for prices farmers receive rose to 263 per cent of the 1910-14 base period average compared with 262 in mid-December and 264 a year earlier. The record is 313 per cent set in February 1951.

Board officials said the index for farmers' production costs was a record 363 per cent of the base average, up one point from the previous high of mid-December. A year earlier, the cost index was 347 per cent.

Effects Of Dock Strike Widespread

NEW YORK (AP) — The long, costly East and Gulf Coast dock strike is not only affecting shippers, truckers and industrial firms: it's hitting such people as the guy waiting for his imported auto—on a freighter idled in the harbor—and even baseball teams.

The 41-day strike by the 75,000-member International Longshoremen's Association already has cost the industrial establishment more than half a billion dollars, with losses continuing to mount at the rate of $17 million daily.

There was a slight gleam in the gloomy outlook, however, when ILA President Thomas W. Gleason said Thursday that, for the first time, shippers in Philadelphia and Boston were considering the union demand for a $1.60 wage-benefits package.

"This may crack it," Gleason said.

The New York longshoremen have tentatively approved the package, which would boost wages to $4.60 an hour in the final year of a three-year contract, but await simultaneous ratification votes in all ports. Pacts also have been approved tentatively at ports from Morehead City, N.C., to Jacksonville, Fla.

As a result of the walkout, airline freight business has been booming but airport terminals were becoming bogged down due to space limitations.

Hit with an economic piledriver have been freight forwarders and brokers, most of them are quartered in New York. They were being forced to either shut down or lay off employes.

The Teamsters Union reports that 3,500 of its drivers have been furloughed as hundreds of ships lie idle at their piers or at anchorage in harbors.

Brian Clendenin, who works for the National Association of Security Dealers, is still waiting for his Volkswagen, which is tucked into a vessel off the Brooklyn piers. The VW people say 16,500 of their cars wait to be unloaded.

And baseball pitchers are wondering what they'll use for baseballs in early season workouts, since most of the balls used in major league play are sewn in Puerto Rico, then returned to the New York area for refinishing.

Durbin Faces 2 Indictments

AUSTIN (AP) — Clyde Durbin Jr. now faces two murder indictments, one in Travis County and one in Burnet County.

The Travis County Grand Jury indicted Durbin, 21, of Dallas, on a charge of murder with malice Thursday in the Jan. 8 slaying of John Albert White, 21, Corpus Christi.

Durbin already had been indicted by the Burnet County Grand Jury in the death of Miss Keitha Morris, 19, White Deer.

Miss Morris' body was discovered floating in Inks Lake Jan. 9.

White's body was discovered near Bull Creek outside Austin. White and Miss Morris had a picnic date on the afternoon of Jan. 8.

Durbin will be called to the 147th District Court Feb. 5 for designation of attorney of record. Arraignment normally follows two to four weeks later.

A spokesman in the district attorney's office said no decision would be made on whether to qualify the jury on the death penalty until Durbin has completed a number of psychological tests.

RETIREMENT PRESENT — Hubert Cargile, president of West Texas State Bank (right), presents Bill Miles a watch on behalf of the bank employes. Bill, 75, is retiring from his job as building custodian, a position he has held since the bank opened in 1950.

Miles Retires As Employe Of Bank

Employes of the West Texas State Bank presented Bill Miles with a watch yesterday on the occasion of his retirement. Bill has been a building custodian at the bank since it opened in 1950.

His retirement was effective Jan. 1, but he's been staying on the job until the bank finds a suitable replacement.

Bill and his wife, Irene, moved to Snyder in 1923 from Paris. That is the year Bill first went to work for a bank. He was building custodian for the old First State Bank and the old First National Bank, holding both jobs at the same time.

"You wouldn't guess it to look at him," said Hubert Cargile, president of West Texas State Bank, "but Bill is 75 years of age."

One reason Bill may look younger than his years is because he always has been content with his job. Also, he has been an active worker in his church — the Mount Olive Baptist church where he is a deacon. Bill also is a member of the Masonic Lodge.

"I'm not just going to sit around," Bill said contemplating his life after retirement. "I like to fish."

Miles said nothing unusual has ever happened while he was on the job. Nothing unusual — just a long, happy career as a faithful and loyal employe.

More Cold In N'West

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Winter heaped more weather woes on the Pacific Northwest today as still another storm system lashed the region with wind-whipped snow and cold.

Rain washed the Eastern seaboard and fog shrouded the Middle Atlantic states, but the weather elsewhere returned for the most part to more placid midwinter conditions. Flood-producing rains which had drenched Indiana and Arkansas ended during the night.

Snow and blowing snow swept the Northwest from Puget Sound to the northern Rockies. Some coastal cities normally bare of snow were heavily laden with weeks-long accumulations, preserved by a prolonged siege of below-normal temperatures.

Cold, dry air seeping into the nation's midsection seemingly ended for the moment the threat of additional rains in flood-swollen streams and rivers in Arkansas and Indiana.

Fog continued to pose hazards for motorists and slow air travel in New York and Pennsylvania, but generally milder weather ended freezing rains of the past two days in all of the East except northern New England.

Waco Boy Drowns In Stock Pond

WACO (AP)—Sam Warren, 3, drowned Thursday in a stock pond near his home in an apartment complex on the east side of Waco.

Playmates found him floating in the water and James Holder, 16, responding to their shouts, pulled the youngster out. Efforts to revive him failed.

He was the son of Mrs. Mabel Warren.

Bonds Made By Suspect

Jack Stone was released from County Jail yesterday after posting four bonds totaling $26,000.

He was apprehended by Sheriff's Authorities here Jan. 21 on a charge of theft over $50. Officers said the charge stemmed from an offer to perform work on a lightning rod at the home of an elderly Hermleigh woman. She gave him a check for $2,500, officers said, and the suspect was arrested when he attempted to cash it.

A hearing on an application for a writ of habeas corpus made by attorneys for the accused was held last Saturday and continued Thursday. No action was taken on the writ since the suspect was released on bond. Officers said the name, Jack Stone, is an alias, that the suspect's real name is Raymond Jaynes.

Warrants charging Stone with similar offenses were issued from Kansas, Oklahoma and Nebraska. Fugitive complains on these warrants were filed here with bond set pending the accused's appearing for extradition.

Episcopalians Eye Status Of Women

HOUSTON (AP)—A constitutional change affecting the status of women as delegates was one of the main items on the agenda today at the opening business sessions of the 120th annual council meeting of the Episcopal Diocese of Texas.

The controversial constitutional change was introduced at last year's council meeting and must be approved by two-thirds vote of clergy and laity if women are to be allowed to serve as delegates to both the diocesan council and the general convention.

A canon change, approved last year, made it possible for women to serve on parish vestries. The diocese reports since that time a number of women have been appointed to fill unexpired terms.

During the two days of formal business sessions, delegates will vote on the annual diocesan budget as well as other constitution and canon changes.

The Rev. Edmond E. Tate, rector of St. Luke's Episcopal Church in Atlanta, Ga., was to speak at the banquet tonight.

The Rt. Rev. Harold Barrett Robinson, bishop coadjutor of the Episcopal Diocese of Western New York, delivered the opening sermon Thursdy night and told delegates that the church must "gear up" for the 20th century.

"I believe we must go back to some very basic fundamentals and look again at the mission of the church and our part it it," he said.

"Our devine commission is nothing less than bringing to remembrance the fact all men are the children of God," the bishop added.

He told delegates the church of the future "will become more and more involved in contemporary social issues."

"I firmly believe that at this moment the Christian church stands at a vital cross roads," he said.

"It either continues along the path of ambiguous compromise, not really ministering to the real needs of the world and the people in it, and eventually suffocates to the point of ineffective weakness, or it takes the path of death and resurrection, out of which shall bloom a revitalized and rededicated christian community bent on serving a serving Lord."

deviously low, so horribly dirty," that he and Pickering cannot resist subjecting her to a bit of experimentation in order to see if they can make "an entirely different human being of her simply by changing her speech."

Both the effort and the result are touched with comedy and sentimentality.

In the meantime, Alfred Doolittle, Eliza's father who is a common dustman, appears to liven the action. As the "experiment" progresses, Higgins and Pickering present Eliza at a small get-together held by Higgins' mother. Constantly embarrassed by and always protesting her son's lack of polish in social gatherings, Mrs. Higgins does her best to maintain her dignity in dealing with the professor. Eliza begins the conversation with Mrs. Higgins' superficial and class-conscious friends in a stilted manner but eventually loosens up, much to the chagrin of Higgins and Pickering — and much to the amusement of the audience.

But Mrs. Higgins is quite conditioned to her son's behavior. When later warned by her maid that Mr. Higgins "is in quite a state," she simply responds, "It would surprise me more for you to tell me Henry isn't in a state." So everyone is always at odds with Higgins or he is at odds with them. When asked by his pompous and particular housekeeper not to swear, he shouts at her, "What the devil do you mean?"

Another memorable character is Alfred Doolittle, whose trade, according to Eliza, is "talking money out of other people's pockets into his own." When Higgins offers him a sum of money, Doolittle expresses his philosophy: "Ten pounds is a lot of money. It makes a man feel prudent-like, and then there goes happiness."

In Eliza's ultimate test of how successful Higgins and Pickering have been, Nepomuck, a former Hungarian student of the professor's, partly determines the success of the effort. Nepomuck is a hypocritical, self-esteemed fraud, who considers himself an expert in the language of the world.

Overall, each character is individually memorable, just as he is the entire play — the result of an obvious amount of hard work, concentration, and language study.

Two more performances are scheduled for tonight and tomorrow night, each beginning at 8.

Members of the cast were Gary Terrell as Higgins, Linda Wesson as Eliza, Joe Wilson as Pickering, Kathie Martin as Mrs. Higgins, Brad Maule as Doolittle, Dianna McCants as the housekeeper Mrs. Pearce, and Otis Archie as Nepomuck.

Mrs. Higgins' friends are Patty Smyth as Mrs. Eynsford Hill, Pam Hartsfield as Miss Eynsford Hill, and Jamie Boren as Freddie Eynsford Hill.

Also on the cast are Debi Hall, James Vandivier, Belita McCravey, Lou Head, Deborah Handback, and Peggy Patterson. — DANA THOMPSON

Burglary Charge Is Filed Here

A charge of burglary was filed in Justice of the Peace Court here this morning against Ross Aguilar, Jr., 19-year-old suspect in a recent breakin at White's Antique Store in Snyder.

Sheriff's authorities who arrested the suspect and a couple of juveniles in connection with the offense said the setting of a bond is pending Aguilar's release from jail in Roby where other charges apparently have been filed.

Officers recovered the loot, including several guns, that were taken in the breakin

Firemen Answer Calls

City Firemen answered three calls yesterday.

They extinguished grass fires at 1:30 p.m. in the 200 block of Avenue O and at 2:10 p.m. at Snyder Cemetery. The other call, also to a grass fire, was to a point five miles south of Union at 2:45 p.m.

Ski Resort Setting Of Gathering

SNOW GODS. By Frederic Morton.

The jet set turns into the ski set in Morton's mockingly humorous novel, set in a very expensive resort high in the Swiss Alps.

The characters are on the strange side; There is a power-mad owner of an airline, who thinks nothing of buying up the whole side of a mountain; or sending to New York for a thermos jug full of his favorite chop suey. There is a Negro mime bitterly conscious of racial prejudice, whose wife is an English lady with an eccentric personality.

There also is a movie actress, married to a neurotic writer, and part of the plot is concerned with arranging a movie deal for her and for the Negro. The actress is pursued by a German pianist who hates his baby-doll wife. On the fringes of this crowd are an old Russian aristocrat with a macabre hobby, a ski champion who hates his boss, and a concierge with visions of impending doom.

Morton depicts this ski set as an outwardly glamorous type of Beautiful People, madly pursuing fun and games, and concerned with status, clothes and above all the glare of publicity. Inwardly, they are false, artificial and highly vulnerable mortals.

There are a few elements of the plot and the characterization that are a bit overdone; but caricature being a legitimate form of expression, the flaws can be overlooked.

This is the sort of novel that causes a lot of talk, for it is a high pressure tour of the world of the gossip columns.

New Tasty Salad Idea

It's that unique time of the year: Christmas and all of its excitement are over, but spring has yet to break through. While the temperature outside is still chilly, try these "HOT" ideas for a zesty addition to your wintertime cooking.

Get busy and give a party! Invite your friends over for lunch and serve this savory salad.

Tastemakers' Salad

½ cup margarine
Lobster . . . or Shrimp . . . or Crab
Potato Chips
Celery
Onion
Dressing
Tomatoes
Lettuce

After melting the margarine, thoroughly coat the seafood and then roll each piece in potato chip meal. Let stand until firmly set and then add celery, onion, and dressing. Serve on tomato slices in lettuce cups. This serves four and is guaranteed to impress!

Be sure to give your friends something to talk about at your next after-the-game buffet, with a butcher's scale (!!!) as a combination centerpiece and conversation piece. Its pleasing eye appeal will match the spirited taste of the fresh chips and bits of cheese which balance it AND which make the perfect "go-withs" for piping hot soup served in colorful mugs.

There's a paint roller now for every job, a definite contrast to the early days of this handy tool, used then almost exclusively with flat paint for interior smooth surfaces.

Whether you're painting inside or out, on plaster, wood, metal, concrete or any other material — and regardless of whether you're using flat, semi-gloss or gloss paints — you can find a suitable roller. In addition, there are rollers of all sizes and shapes to handle specific jobs, among them the painting of such things as radiators, pipes, fences, clapboard and trim.

As always occurs when a multiplicity of choices is available, the purchaser is likely to find himself a bit confused in making the proper selection. Most hardware, paint and lumber yard dealers can assist you if you explain the purpose for which the roller will be used. But you'll occasionally run into one who can't, in which case it's a good idea to have some knowledge of the fundamentals so that you can make an intelligent choice of your own.

While roller covers come in many kinds of materials, including wool, mohair, lambskin and various synthetics, the rule of thumb to be followed is that the rougher the surface to be painted, the longer the nap of the roller should be. Thus, you should select a short-napped cover for smooth surfaces, such as plaster and dry wall; the medium nap for light stucco and fairly smooth concrete; and the long nap for brick, rough concrete, heavy stucco and cement block.

Covers made from lambskin are excellent for most oil paints, but not for enamels or latexes. Synthetic materials are good in all kinds of paints. Mohair is especially good for enamels.

On vertical surfaces, the first stroke should be upward even if the general direction of the painting is downward. Follow with a downstroke and then roll crosswise. Start rolling in a dry area and toward one just painted, blending in the laps. Splattering is caused by rolling too fast and spinning the roller at the end of the stroke.

To load the roller, pour the paint into the well of the roller tray and dip the roller in, loading it fully. Roll it over the slanting corrugated section of the tray to distribute the paint evenly over the entire surface of the roller and to remove excess paint.

Don't overlook the use of extension handles for painting areas difficult to reach. They not only are excellent for making the job easier, but are a lot safer than reaching too far from a ladder perch and than, in many cases, using a ladder at all.

QUESTION: I read about a new law which will enable low income families to buy their own houses and that the government will pay most of the cost. Is this true? I am married, have two children and make $5,200 a year. Would my family be eligible? Does this law apply only to big cities?

ANSWER: You are referring to the Housing Act of 1968. It was designed, as you say, to enable low income families to buy their own houses. The law applies to all areas. And, from the little you have mentioned, your family probably would be eligible. But the government will not pay any of the actual cost of the house.

What it will do is to cut down your monthly mortgage payments by subsidizing what you ordinarily would pay in interest. In some cases, it will act to reduce the interest rate to as low as one per cent, depending on the ability of the home owner to pay. The lending agency does not suffer, since the government will pay it the difference between the actual interest rate and the amount paid by the home owner.

But — and this is the important provision — the purchaser must pay at least 20 per cent of his income towards the monthly payment of the home, including principal, interest, taxes, insurance and the Federal Housing Administration mortgage insurance premium. Since the program is administered by the FHA under the supervision of the Department of Housing and Urban Development, single family dwellings must be approved by the FHA prior to construction to be certain that the structures meet certain specifications.

However, it is the private lenders who determine the final eligibility of the buyers, since they are the ones putting up the money. The government says, in effect, that if the purchaser has a low income (it varies depending on the number of persons in the family) and meets certain other qualifications, we will pay part of his interest so that his monthly payments are low enough for him to handle. But this only applies if the lender decides that, under these conditions, it is willing to handle the mortgage. It is a complicated subject, and you would be wise to inquire at a local FHA office or lending institution to get all the answers applying to your particular case.

A message to those Americans who don't happen to think the land of milk and honey is going all sour.

Our country is in a strange mood these days.

Uncertainty surrounds us.

So what can you do about it?

Well, first of all, maybe you should take a long, hard look at this country of ours. Maybe we should look at our healthy side as well as our ills.

And maybe, just maybe, you'll find we're not all that bad.

Sure we have our problems. And they're not going to go away if you just stand along the sidelines as a spectator.

But they might start to go away if you seriously want to do something for your country.

A U.S. Savings Bond is one way. Let's say you fork over $18.75 of your hard-earned cash. Through a Payroll Savings Plan where you work, or at your bank. That will give you a Bond that's worth $25.00 in just 7 years. If you did that every month you'd stash away quite a nest egg for yourself.

If they're lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace 'em.

And so would your country.

Your country would be economically stronger to find remedies for some of the headaches we have. While it's preserving something called freedom.

Something that's hard to appreciate. Until you lose it.

Savings Bonds now have a new high interest rate of 4¼%. And buying them gives you the privilege of also buying the even higher interest 5% Freedom Shares in combination.

However you look at it, it simply makes a lot of sense to invest in your country.

After all, it's the only country you've got.

MANY PARENTS WONDER

What Is "Generation Gap?"

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) —Curbstone comments of a Pavement Plato:

You're not in step with the times today unless you have a furrowed brow from worrying about the so-called "generation gap."

This is one of those wrap-up sociological terms, such as "meaningful dialogue," which have become so common in our society lately, phrases which bloom madly in cocktail party conversations for a few months or perhaps years, then die out.

Perhaps, however, before both these currently popular phrases go out of style and depart into the limbo of language, we should hold a "meaningful dialogue" on the "generation gap." Just what is that gap? It refers to the deepening gulf—oops, there's another one of those cozy intellectual terms—between America's young and its middle-aged.

One might dismiss this gap tolerantly as a mere matter of a difference in age, and let it go at that. After all, girls and women, separated by 25 years, don't usually go to pajama parties together; men separated by 25 years don't usually play handball or tennis together.

Youth naturally tends to flock with youth, those in their middle years with others in their middle years.

But the present generation gap goes beyond the normal gap which historically has separated all previous generations from one another. The gap is deeper, wider, and reflects a bitter emotional estrangement more than a mere difference in age.

Every generation is something of a mystery to the one that it follows and the one that it precedes. But customarily the estrangement is the result of friendly misunderstandings and there are areas of reconciliation and avenues that lead to mutual acceptance.

The danger of the present generation gap is that there appear to be fewer touching points of agreement than existed in the past. Today's youth seems to regard the middle-aged not as misunderstanding friends but as actual or potential enemies, relics of an outworn social system who seek not to help them but to crush them. Their now-trite slogan eloquently voices this suspicion: "Don't trust anybody over 30."

This slogan is peculiarly annoying to a modern father. He doesn't feel he is inviting his son or daughter to dwell in a rusting rut but to a better way of life he himself did not know when young. He is bewildered by the repudiation of his own values by his own children.

Scarred by a great depression and a great world war, he graduated from school or college into a world that had no job waiting for him and appeared to be indifferent to his welfare. Therefore he puts a high premium now on comfort and security, which he has achieved after hard, struggling years.

But his son today, with a job waiting for him and a welcome mat spread for him by the world, often doesn't want either that job or to dwell in that world as it stands.

"What do the kids of today really want then?" many a puzzled, frustrated, despairing parent asks.

The rebelling youth of today don't seem to know either. If they know their real aims, they are unable to state them clearly. Do they merely want to tear down what exists and blindly trust that something better will, without plan, inevitably arise? To the middle-aged such an attitude is a gamble in ignorance, a gamble doomed to failure.

There the generation gap stands now, and if anyone knows a sure way to end that gap by building fresh bonds of trust and affection between the generations he has yet to express it in a "a meaningful dialogue."

Junior Editors Quiz on CRYSTAL

QUESTION: What is the difference between crystal and glass?

* * *

ANSWER: Crystals and glass look much alike. Both a crystal — such as we find in a mineral like quartz — and a piece of glass, which is generally a man-made substance, are hard, smooth, shiny. It is possible to look through them; they are transparent. But these two substances are different in structure. In 1912, the German scientist von Laue found a way to use x-rays to penetrate the inside of a crystal. It was then discovered that the way the atoms were arranged inside explained the outside crystal shape. These atoms, as suggested at upper left, are lined up in neat, orderly rows, thus producing the sharp faces or outside planes of the crystal. In contrast, the atoms inside glass are scattered around at random, without a definite pattern. This means that glass is not only different from crystal, but acts differently. Heat a crystal, like ice, and it will turn to water all at once. But glass, when heated, becomes flexible only gradually. It can be bent, and when cooled, will stay bent. This is how so many useful glass objects are produced.

We Need Data On Job Vacancies

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — In November there were 2,643,000 Americans out of work; 354,000 of them had been jobless for 15 weeks or more.

Stated as percentages, these figures are small, 3.3 per cent of the labor force. In human terms, however, the numbers are lamentably high.

At the same time that so many people were out of work, the help-wanted advertising index, compiled from classified ads in 52 newspapers by the National Industrial Conference Board, reached an all-time high.

In other words, while millions of Americans were seeking work, thousands of companies were running thousands of ads looking for thousands of workers. And, it might be assumed, they were not finding them.

There are some obvious reasons for this.

Among them: geographical differences, insufficient training, age, health, sex and—it cannot be ignored—race. These factors helped prevent the matching of want and need. But another factor, the lack of comprehensive information on job availability, may also be involved.

For some reason the United States has never tackled its studies of job vacancies nearly as vigorously as it studies unemployment. An amazing amount of statistics is available on the latter, relatively little on the former.

It was once put this way by Arthur F. Burns, then head of the National Bureau of Economic Research and newly installed in the powerful position of counselor to President Nixon:

"It is not enough to have information on the supply side of the labor market. We also need reasonably good data on the demand for labor. We need to know what employment opportunities exist for those able, willing and seeking to work."

The country needs to have this information, Burns said, "month by month, on an overall basis, and also for local areas and individual occupations."

Burns remarks were included in a study of job vacancies published three years ago by the National Bureau of Economic Research. But it was only this month that the Labor Department decided that such studies should be made available to both government and industry.

FHA Finances New Grazing Operation

PARIS, Tex. (AP) — The Farmers Home Administration has made a $400,000 loan to the Fulbright Grazing Association. The money will be used to purchase and develop some 2,287 acres eight miles southwest of Clarksville.

Eleven Red River Countymen formed the association. The group will pasture about 1,000 cows for nine months of each year on the land, The Association will feed the cattle for the remaining three months.

This is the second such operation to be financed by FHA in Red River County. The Dimple Grazing Association is already in operation.

Bengals Host Lamesa As 2nd Round Begins

If both teams are hot, that 3-AAA basketball South Zone clash between Snyder's Tigers and Lamesa's Golden Tornadoes could be a real barn burner. Tipoff is on tap for 8 p.m. today in the Scurry County Coliseum following the JV tilt at 6:15 p.m.

The Bengals of Coach Ned Underwood should have plenty of incentive for an all out effort. The Tornadoes seem to have a hex over the Tigers. Previous encounters between these two teams in the past few years have been strangely reminiscent of the Packer-Cowboy gridiron clashes.

Snyder also would like to reverse a first round setback that occurred in the Tornado gym in the first district skirmish this season. Lamesa prevailed 71-57 in that skirmish as the Tigers were colder than an igloo on floor shots.

The Tornadoes also will be favored tonight. They have one of the best outside shooters in the district in Lloyd Jenkins, 6-3 junior forward. He, his brother Floyd, and Jerry Jernigan, 6-4 junior post man, give the visitors plenty of strength under the boards. Lloyd also is a 6-3 junior forward.

In the back court for the Tornadoes are Brent Minnix, 5-10 junior, and Cecil Davis, 6-0 sophomore. All of Coach O. W. Follis' starters return next season. Lamesa is a well-balanced club. The Tors can run and shoot, have more height than the Tigers and are tough defensively. These are the reasons why they are 5-0 in district as second round action begins.

Although the Tigers will be outmanned slightly in first team strength, Snyder has more depth than the Tors and could pull an upset if the contest develops into a rough-and-tumble affray where fouls are "closely called."

The so-called home court advantage doesn't mean as much in Snyder's case since the Bengals perform most of their workouts in Tiger gym. This week, however, they've managed to hold a couple of practice sessions in the big Coliseum confines. All of the Bengals except senior guard Bill Hood are in reasonably good health. Bill reinjured an ankle at San Angelo Tuesday night and probably will be out for two weeks.

The Tigers, led by senior forward Benny Ward, also know something about shooting. With better lighting in the coliseum, they could give the Tornadoes some uneasy moments. They knocked off highly regarded Dunbar on the same court in the finals of the Canyon Reef tournament. Snyder's strong points are their ability to handle the ball with few mistakes and their poise under pressure.

Also on the firing line tonight will be senior forward Jerry January (6-1), junior center Jim Patrick (6-2), senior guard Jodi Williamson (5-8) and junior guard Lee McNair (5-11).

Coach Jerry McLeod of the talented "B" Team Kittens said probable starters include Glenn Rambin, Ronald Ward, Bid Cooper, Jeff Stewart and Tony Breedlove or Danny Farmer.

Young To Call Pipers' Tunes

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It was moving day Thursday for several coaches and players in football, hockey and basketball.

Two professional sports teams announced new coaches. Clive Rush, who molded the offense for the world champion New York Jets, took over as head coach of the American Football League's Boston Patriots. In the American Basketball Association, Verl "Gus" Young replaced Jim Harding as coach of the Minnesota Pipers.

Rush, the offensive coach under Weeb Ewbank of the Jets, takes over from Mike Holovak, who was fired as the Patriots' coach and general manager last month. No new GM has been named yet.

Young, former coach at Gustavus Adolphus College at St. Peter, Minn., moves up to the Pipers' coaching job after serving as the team's director of special promotions.

Harding was removed as coach of the ABA's Eastern All-Stars Tuesday night after becoming involved in an altercation with Gabe Rubin, minority owner of the Pipers, at a pregame banquet in Louisville, Ky.

In college sports, there were also coaching shifts.

James G. "Gerry" Alaimo was named basketball coach at Brown University, succeeding Stan Ward, whose resignation becomes effective June 30. Alaimo is a former Brown star and currently coach at Middlebury, Vt., College.

J. L. "Jake" McCandless was named football coach at Princeton University, replacing Dick Colman, who resigned last month to become athletic director at Middlebury. McCandless moves up to the top job after 11 years as Colman's assistant.

In player trades, the Cincinnati Royals of the National Basketball Association acquired veteran Fred Hetzel from the Milwaukee Bucks in exchange for rookie Don Smith and cash, and the Pittsburgh Penguins and Oakland Seals of the National Hockey League swapped six players.

Lamar Wins Close 7th Grade Tilts

Lamar Red shaded Travis Blue 38-35 and Lamar Gray edged Travis White 33-30 in overtime in two exciting 7th grade basketball tilts held here yesterday.

The Blue team took a 17-6 lead in the first period, saw the margin cut to 19-17 at halftime, held on, 30-26, in the third period, then saw the Red come from behind with a great fourth period to wrest victory from them.

Steve Talbott and Jeff Richardson were the sparkplugs in the Red attack, getting 11 and 10 points respectively. Gilbert Ramirez and Hubert Crayton shared scoring honors for the Blue with 10 points apiece.

The Gray-White clash was close all the way with neither team able to hold more than a one point lead at the end of each of the first three periods. Regulation play ended in a 29-29 deadlock.

Bryan Hargrove, who led the Gray with 10 points, connected on a field goal in overtime to put his team ahead, and Tim Jones dropped in two shots from the free throw line to sack up the victory. The White only scored one point in overtime on a gratis toss by Robert Braziel, leading scorer for the Travis team with nine points.

LAMAR RED (38) — Underwood 0-1-1; Price 3-2-8; Grimmett 1-0-2; Norred 2-0-4; Richardson 4-2-10; Talbott 3-5-11; Harper 1-0-2; totals 14-10-38.

TRAVIS BLUE (35) — Ramirez 5-0-10; Archie 2-3-7; Diaz 0-1-1; Perry 1-0-2; Crayton 5-0-10; Welsh 2-1-5; totals 15-5-35.

TRAVIS WHITE (30) — Emerson 2-1-5; Braziel 3-3-9; Gonzales 4-0-8; Watts 1-0-2; Robinson 1-1-3; Mosier 1-1-3; totals 12-6-30.

Congars Climb Out Of Sight

HOUSTON (AP)—Houston's golf team held a 22 stroke lead over the University of Texas today in the final round of the fourth annual Atascocita Intercollegiate Golf Tournament.

Houston finished the first 27 holes Thursday with a team score of 894. Texas was next with 916 followed by Texas A&M with 947.

Four Houston golfers finished the first 27 holes tied for the individual lead. They were defending champion Doug Olson, Bob Barbarossa, Ken Newell and Bruce Ashworth. Next with 111s were Zach Padgett and George Machock of Texas and John Mahaffey of Houston.

Jr. Tourney At C. City Begins

Four Snyder Junior High High School teams are entered in a basketball tournament at Colorado City this weekend.

Lamar 8th and 9th grade teams both will see action today. The 8th graders will tangle with Lamesa at 4 p.m., and the 9th grade Texans test Lamesa at 4:30 p.m.

All of the 9th grade tilts except the Consolation finals will be held in the high school gym. All of the 8th grade tilts except the finals will be held in the junior high gym.

The Travis teams will not see action until Saturday. Travis 9th takes on the winner of the Lamar 9th-Lamesa game at 11 a.m. Saturday. Travis 8th meets the winner of the Lamar-Lamesa game at 10:15 a.m. Saturday.

Loser of the Lamesa-Lamar 9th grade clash will automatically qualify for the Consolation finals. It will be held at 2:30 p.m. Saturday in the junior high gym.

Other first round tilts on tap today included Sweetwater against Ballinger at 6 p.m. and Stamford against Colorado City at 7:30 p.m.

The battle for third place is set for 5:30 p.m. Saturday with the finals to be held at 8:30 p.m. Saturday.

The older Travis boys originally were scheduled to meet Coahoma in the first round today, but Coahoma has dropped out of the tournament. Travis 8th drew a first round bye.

Snyder Net Team Hosts 4-Way Meet

Snyder High School's tennis team will host a 4-way match in Towle Park Saturday. The action begins at 9 a.m. and will continue all day.

"This will be our first appearance on the new court" said Coach Ken McAllister. He extended an invitation to the public to watch the match, saying he and his players will be available to answer any questions concerning tennis.

The outside foes are Sweetwater, Plainview and Big Spring.

Four of the Southwest Conference's five most accurate shooters from the field will be in action Saturday when undefeated Texas A&M battles once-beaten Texas in a regionally televised match in Austin.

Texas A&M's Ronnie Peret leads the SWC with a 57.2 per cent accuracy from the field. Texas' Kurt Papp is close behind with a 55.4 followed by Billy Bob Barnett of Texas A&M 54.5 and Bruce Motley of Texas 50.7.

Larry Gatewood and Tommy Bowman of Baylor continue to rank one-two at the free-throw line at 87.2 and 84.4 per cent, respectively.

The most accurate shooter for all shots, both from the field and at the charity stripe, is Papa who has hit 154 of 245 for 62.8. Barnett is second with 161 of 263 for 61.2.

A&M is 4-0 and Texas and Baylor are 3-1. A victory by the Longhorns could send the race into its usual frenzy.

Baylor is at Rice for a 3:30 p.m. game Saturday. The Owls are 1-3 in SWC games.

Arkansas (1-3) is at TCU (0-5) for a 2 p.m. games Saturday.

Texas Tech (2-2) is at SMU (3-2) for an 8 p.m. battle Saturday.

Jack Fires 4-Under

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN DIEGO (AP) — The years have been scarce and far between when Jack Nicklaus didn't win a major golf championship. The year 1968 was one of them.

The 29-year-old Nicklaus hopes to rectify the situation in 1969.

The leader going into the second round of the $150,000 Andy Williams-San Diego Open today, with an initial four-under par 68, the big and friendly bear from Columbus, Ohio, made a few revelations.

For one, he has begun his training program weeks earlier than usual. He used to delay perfecting his game until the Masters at Augusta, Ga., loomed ahead.

"I played a lot of golf starting Dec. 27 in Florida," said Jack of a period in which he used to relax and fish. "I didn't win a major tournament last year and naturally my objective is to win one of them this year."

He referred to the U.S. Open, the Masters, the PGA and the British Open, the crowns of golf. He has won each of them at least once in his brilliant career.

Immediate target, of course, is the tournament here and its $30,000 top money. Last Monday, in his first tournament of the year, he finished just four strokes back of the winner, George Archer, in Bing Crosby's affair.

"I thought I played well up there," Nicklaus observed. His 68 Thursday left him one stroke ahead of Dow Finsterwald, formerly a tour regular who limits tournament play now to 18 or so events a year and spends much of his time as a club pro in Colorado Springs, Colo.

Billy Casper, the local hero and biggest money winner in golf last year, was in the heavily populated 72 bracket as only eight players broke par 36-36—72 on the 6,844-yard Torrey Pines Municipal course.

The par breakers were Larry Ziegler, Dave Eichelberger and Gene Littler at 70, and Jim Colbert, Hugh Royer and Jerry Abbott at 71.

Buccaneers Extend String

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Togetherness has launched the New Orleans Buccaneers on a modest American Basketball Association winning streak. But it hasn't quite replaced Doug Moe and Larry Brown, who are keeping the Oakland Oaks in orbit.

New Orleans' Jones boys, Jimmy and Steve, combined for 47 points and four teammates hit double figures Thursday night in a 120-103 victory over Miami that ran the Bucs' winning string to four games.

The Bucs, who traded hotshots Moe and Brown to Oakland early in the season and have been rebuilding since then, moved within one game of the .500 mark by beating Miami for the first time in four meetings.

Moe, meanwhile, scored a career high 41 points as the Oaks edged Indiana 146-143 in overtime for their 37th triumph against just five setbacks. They lead second place Denver, which beat New York 128-103, but 11½ games and have a 16½-game bulge over New Orleans' defending Western champs.

In the National Basketball Association, New York topped Baltimore 109-106, Cincinnati shaded Philadelphia 116-115, Detroit ripped Seattle 144-118 and Chicago beat San Francisco 111-101.

Jimmy Jones' 24 points paced the Bucs attack, but the balanced scoring behind him was most pleasing to Coach Babe McCarthy. "It sure feels good," McCarthy said, "because this is the longest winning streak we've had this season. It's taken until now for us to get used to each other. This is virtually a new ball club."

Baskets by Moe and Brown in the final minute of overtime pushed Oakland past the Pacers in a game marked by excessive fouling and two early brawls. Indiana, which rallied to tie it 135-135 on John Fairchild's basket with 19 seconds remaining in regulation play, lost five players on personal fouls.

Larry Jones, who finished with a game-high 29 points, and Byron Beck, who threw in 20, each scored 10 in a third quarter Denver blitz that locked up the victory over the hapless Nets. Tom Perry led New York scorers with 22.

New SHS Track Is Ready For Use

School officials inspected new track and tennis facilities at the high school Thursday and accepted the new construction as suitable for immediate use and in accordance with building specifications.

The Board of Trustees also issued the following statement to govern the use of the facilities.

To protect the taxpayer's investment in the new track and tennis courts, it is felt that these facilities should be used only for the puspose for which they were constructed and then only under the direction of the athletic director or his duly authorized representative.

For further protection, only flat-soled cross country or tennis shoes are to be worn on the tennis courts and only flat-soled cross country, tennis or track shoes with spikes not to exceed ¼" in length may be used on the track. It shall be the duty of the director of each meet to enforce the use of proper footwear so that the playing or running surfaces will not be damaged.

Individuals wearing cleated shoes shall cross the track surface only at a place designated by the director of the event. Vehicles shall be moved onto or across the track facilities only under the direction of and with the permission of the maintenance director.

The enclosures around the tennis courts and the track are to be locked at all times when the facility is not in use by school groups.

To provide for out-of-school patrons, the school administration has suggested the formation of a "Joggers" Club. Dan Martin, school faculty member and avid health jogger, has been appointed school representative within this proposed group. Martin has agreed to call an organizational meeting to determine the best time for daily running, etc., and has agreed to be responsible for opening and locking the track facilities for this group. Interested persons may contact Martin at 573-5401 or 573-3413.

Parents of in-school youth are asked to cooperate with school officials in protecting this new construction by reminding their children that climbing fences to gain access to the track or courts is trespassing and could be physically dangerous as well as a violation of the law.

Grasping At Straws?

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Luckless Jerry Wolman, stung by another misfired deal, hoped to save his faltering financial empire—and the Philadelphia Eagles' National Football League franchise—with yet another plan today.

Wolman indicated he may go to bankruptcy court in Baltimore with a contract under which Leonard Tose, a Norristown, Pa., trucking executive, would agree to purchase the Eagles outright.

The contract would need approval of Joseph O. Kaiser, U.S. referee in bankruptcy for the U.S. District Court of Maryland, who is ovrseer of Wolman's financial affairs in behalf of some 200 unsecured Wolman creditors.

Tose, presently the conditional purchaser of the Eagles, was denied a $15 million loan Thursday from the First Pennsylvania Banking & Trust Co.

Wolman was to borrow the money from Tose to pay off secured creditors and buy 48 per cent of the Eagles' stock from Earl Foreman, a Washington lawyer. But the bank turned down the loan as too risky.

Dr. Cooley's Biggest Thrill Seeing A New Heart Work

By RICHARD BEENE
Associated Press Writer

SAN ANTONIO (AP)— Dr. Denton A. Cooley knows perhaps better than anyone else what it's like to cut a living man's heart out.

But he says he still finds it hard to describe.

Cooley, 48, has performed 17 heart transplant operations, more than any other man in the world. He recalls his first transplant operation vividly.

"My first patient was the most dramatic, of course," he said Thursday before a speech. "The thrill I had when I saw this donor heart begin to function is almost indescribable."

It was, he said, "one of the biggest satisfactions I've had as a physician and a surgeon."

The tall Texan was referring to his first heart transplant patient, Everett C. Thomas, 47, of Phoenix, Ariz., who became the world's ninth transplant recipient last May 3. Thomas died Nov. 23 following a second transplant.

Three of Cooley's heart transplant patients survive but he is determined to continue.

"The most reassuring thing that has happened to me was when Fredi Everman returned to the hospital from the Christmas holidays, Cooley beamed.

"He's enthusiastic, he's happy, he feels strong...he walked in the hospital with some pigeons in a cage...I kept them in my office until he released them."

Everman, 58, of Arlington, Va., received a new heart July 20 and is this nation's longest surviving heart transplant recipient.

The thought of Fredi Everman brought Cooley to the subject of morality questions some have raised concerning heart transplants.

He said he wished Everman could be present to answer such questions. "Let him answer it," Cooley said. "Let him say if he thinks it's immoral."

Later Thursday night, in his speech kicking off the 1969 heart fund campgn, Cooley told an audience of more than 500 that Everman and Dr. Philip Blaiberg of South Africa "live as symbols" that heart transplants can and will succeed.

Blaiberg, Dr. Christian Barnard's patient, has lived more than a year with a donor heart.

Prior to his speech, Cooley took a long look at himself and his relationship with his transplant patients and said with a smile, "I guess I'm sort of a father image to them" in the post-operative phases.

For this reason, he said, "I find it better to divorce myself somewhat from the medical management of the patient."

After all, he said, "I'm just part of the team...I just run the first leg of the relay."

"I do feel a little queasy when they act so appreciative," he said, adding that he gets many letters from his patients, even some poetry.

Cooley performs the transplant operations with a team of experts at St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital in Houston.

He said he and his team are seriously considering use of mechanical hearts, but he declined to divulge many details.

"I'm pointing toward mechanical hearts," he told newsmen. He said the future may hold the use of a total artificial heart for a patient, followed by a heart transplant. This would allow physicians enough time to find a suitable donor, he explained.

Cooley said medicine may see an artificial heart completely contained within the body "within the next 10 or 20 years."

Some mechanical heart devices might come into use sooner, he said.

SOURCE of VALUES

We can get them from The Old Book— values a-plenty to make the New Year really new. Of course the months, the weeks, the hours are much like the old ones. We should carry all the good things of yesteryears over into the New Year, and then add more.

Just how will your New Year be New?

We and others, like ourselves, will make the difference. Be more kind and patient in the home circle—then it will be a new house this year. Exhibit a better spirit as you do the old task—and the office, or shop, or kitchen will be a new place for the New Year. Worship God more sincerely and work more in His program of service—then you will have a new church for the New Year. Only a new Person will make it a New Year.

Summer Courses To Be Held In Puebla

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — The 30th annual Mexican Field School of Sam Houston State College will be held in Puebla, Mexico, again this summer during the second six-week summer term.

Courses are expected to be Spanish, art, sociology, history, government, economics, agriculture and English.

Be still

"God be merciful to me a sinner." Luke 28:13.

It's only human to fall into sin
But decidedly worse to dwell therein.

The man sin- grieves is like Christ a bit,
But is God-like only when he's rid of it!

For most of us, sin is a constant weed;
Though hoed or dug up, it returns indeed!

WILL CURTIS

East Side C-C

Bill Minick will be the speaker at the services at East Side Sunday. He will also be the speaker on the 8:15 a.m. radio program, "Give Me the Bible." At the 10:25 a.m. worship service his topic will be "Bible Morality and Dancing" (No. 3 in a series on Bible Morality), Galatians 5:16-21. At the 6 p.m. worship service his subject will be "The Character of Christ," John 1:14-18.

Bible classes for all ages are held each Sunday morning at 9:30. Ladies Bible classes are held each Wednesday morning at 9:30. There are also classes for pre-school children.

Mid-week worship services are scheduled for 7:30 p.m. each Wednesday. Visitors are always welcome.

Ira Church Has Pastor

IRA — The Rev. Jeff Germany has begun his ministry as pastor of the First Church of God in Ira.

Rev. Germany and his wife moved here from Muskogee, Okla. He is the first full-time minister to serve the church here in some 10 years. He has been in the ministry for 35 years.

Rev. and Mrs. Germany have five children, all of them grown.

Greenhill Baptist

The Green Hill Baptist Church begins services with Sunday School at 9:45 and the worship service to follow at 11. Training Union begins at 6:30 with the evening worship service at 7:30. Quinton Montgomery will preach at both services.

Wednesday night, officers and teachers meet at 7 p.m., and the prayer service follows at 7:45. A clean sanitary nursery is provided for all of the services of the Church.

The WMU of the church is planning a Sweetheart Banquet for the young people, in observance of valentines day. It may be a good idea for the boys to see about a partner to escort to this event.

There is beginning to be a lot of enthusiasm around Green Hill concerning the Encounter Crusade which the Church will be cooperating in, along with many other Churches of the city. Any member wishing to participate in this effort may do so by contacting the pastor.

Witnesses Plan Convention Here

"Law and Order — When and How?" will be the main subject to be discussed at an upcoming 3-day convention of Jehovah's witnesses, it was announced here this week.

The presiding minister of the Snyder congregation of the Witnesses, Mr. Roy Chamberlain, released the information locally so that the motels and hotels could be notified of the 500 delegates expected to attend the Christian convention. Some 16 congregations will be represented who will attend from as far north as Memphis, as far west as Levelland, Lubbock and other area communities comprising Texas Circuit No. 9, co-sponsors of the 3-day gathering, March 7-9, at the High School Auditorium, in Snyder.

"Making Wise Use of the Remaining Time," will be the theme of the assembly which officials describe as advanced Bible training sessions with discourses, dramatizations and symposiums, using the Holy Scriptures as the text book.

Convention highlights will include a baptism of newly dedicated ministers all of whom will symbolize their act by being immersed under water in a pool set up especially for the event.

"Jehovah's witnesses believe in being dipped under water, the action of which constitutes ordination," according to Chamberlain.

A model ministery school will be featured on the opening night with the convention highlight to come Sunday the final day. Mr. L. M. Dugan, from New York will give the main public lecture at 3 p.m.

Arrangements to send Mr. Dugan to Snyder were made by the Watchtower Society, co-sponsors of the assembly, who regularly direct the world-wide activities of the Witnesses and arrange for 3 conventions ayear to be held at the Circuit and District level. Some years they sponsor larger national and international gatherings. The convention to be held in Snyder is to be patterned after the larger meetings with 22 departments operating to provide for the comfort of the delegates expected to attend.

Family groups will meet together in the High School Auditorium in what Mr. Chamberlain described as similiar to a family reunion. All sessions will be open to the public with no collections to be taken.
