It's Freezing In Panhandle, Storms Fade

By The Associated Press
Freezing weather returned to the Texas Panhandle this morning and violent thunderstorms appeared to be dying down after destructive blows in eastern areas of the state.

Damage appeared heaviest at Baytown, where high winds propelled water from Galveston Bay into the Brownwood addition, and at Lufkin, where gusts estimated up to 50 miles per hour tore at roofs and toppled utility poles Thursday evening.

A cool front moving slowly toward the southeast was blamed for the turbulence.

There were still showers and thunderstorms early in the day near and ahead of the front, which stretched from near Tyler to Galveston and Brownsville.

Temperatures meanwhile dipped to 31 degrees at Amarillo and 33 at Lubbock near dawn, while readings far to the south held as high as 76 at Brownsville.

Water blown into Baytown rose into a dozen houses and blocked eight streets in a low area. The cold front was blamed for tides running as much as four and one-half feet above normal.

At Lufkin, Morgan Butler told of being knocked off his feet as gusty winds whipped through his neighborhood, ripping off parts of the roofs of a construction company building and a home close by.

While rains measuring up to two inches were falling in East Texas, blowing dust cut visibility to four miles or less at Lubbock and wind hitting 40 m.p.h. in gusts whipped light rain across parts of the Panhandle.

As the colder air kept moving deeper into the state, the top temperature reached only 52 degrees Thursday at Dalhart in the Panhandle while the mercury climbed to 96 at McAllen in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Skies were still cloudy this morning east and about 75 miles west of the frontal zone while it was clear over most other sections.

DARING DANGLER PLIES HIS TRADE — Ignacio Reyes, 26-year-old father of three, is a window-washer who does his dizzying job daily high above the streets of Mexico City.

One Of Greatest Shows In Mexico Still Free

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A circus fan who admires feats of daring and skill doesn't need a ticket south of the border to watch one of the greatest shows of all—the Mexican window washer.

Suspended high above the streets by only a single rope attached to the roof, the "stars," as they are called, gently sway from wind to window.

One of them is Ignacio Reyes, a 26-year-old father of three. Daily, he anchors a piece of angle iron on the roof of a building with one end protruding over the edge about 10 feet.

To this he hooks a single rope on a three-wheel pulley. One end of the rope is loose and is used to raise or lower his small wooden swinglike seat he sits on.

The other end is fed through the pulley with a small hook on the end. To this hook are attached four strands of quarter-inch cable that are connected to the corners of the small wooden seat. Reyes seats himself between the strands and pushes off the end of the building into space.

He wears no security belt. Nor are there hooks on the sides of the windows to attach such a belt.

He lowers himself from the roof to the top floor window until he can plant his feet on the window sill. When he gets to the level he wants, he takes the loose end of the rope he has used to lower himself and puts a single loop around the hook to hold him at that height. Then with his bucket of water beside him on the small seat he washes the window and dries it.

When he reaches for the far corner of the window the swinglike apparatus sways to the opposite direction putting him in a horizontal position.

This doesn't frighten Reyes a bit; but it does bring a halt to all activity inside the office he is cleaning.

"No, I don't think about falling," says Reyes, "you can only think of your job up there—if you think of anything else you might fall."

When the window directly in front of him has been cleaned, he must do the adjacent ones. But it's too much trouble to move the entire apparatus. Instead he begins to swing from one side to the other, like a pendulum, using his feet to keep him from scraping the face of the building. He keeps swinging until he can hook his feet on the next window. After cleaning that one, he swings in the opposite direction until he catches two windows over.

Reyes has cleaned office windows for 12 years, since he was 14. He vividly remembers his first venture into space.

"I was so scared the swing swung around like a top," he recalled. "The rope got all tangled and I couldn't go up or down."

Each window washer however, has an assistant that either remains on the roof or on the street level. Reyes' helper came to his rescue, untangled the rope and brought him back to safety.

"He's fallen once—from the sixth floor. The tuck in the rope apparently came loose and he and the swing hurried downward. It was too thick to pass freely through the pulley, and Reyes and he and his seat were stopped at the first floor—a few feet from death.

Reyes' wife, Carmen Montiel, doesn't particularly care for her husband's occupation and has never watched him at work. She has asked him for years to find something else to do, and Reyes says one day he'll get a safer job. In the meantime, the 75 pesos ($6 he earns a day is a fairly good wage even though no insurance company will sell him a policy.

Although Reyes has two brothers who do the same work, he confessed he doesn't want his two sons, ages 2 and 4 to follow in his footsteps. He also has a 4-month-old daughter.

800 Skip Classes

UVALDE, Tex. (AP) — Mexican-American pupils on strike since April 14, continued their boycott of public schools here Thursday.

Officials reported 800 of the 3,560 pupils missed classes for the 17th day. The average daily absentee rate is 281. Slightly more than half the enrollment is Mexican-American.

There were unconfirmed reports of meetings on the dispute Thursday but no details or results were disclosed.

The boycott began over the all-Anglo school board's refusal to renew a Mexican-American teacher's contract. Two days later the board received a list of 14 demands for bilingual education, more Mexican-American teachers and other changes.

The board said it would discuss the demands only after the pupils return to school. Strike leaders said they would continue their strike until the board agreed to negotiate.

Indian Guides Plan Campout

The Indian Guides Longhouse will stage a camp-out Saturday at the Boy Scout Campgrounds.

The guides will begin gathering at 3 p.m. Saturday, games will be staged in the afternoon and a snake handling demonstration is planned. A campfire is set for the evening, and the Scout Order of the Arrow Indian dancers will give a demonstration. Charles Warren will give the devotional early Sunday, so that the Guides can get home in time for church.

Host tribes for the campout is the Tejas, Jim Shillberg, and the Seminole, Ray Webb.

Steel Prices Hike Revealed

BETHLEHEM, Pa. (AP) — Bethlehem Steel Co., which with U.S. Steel normally sets the steel industry's pricing trends, has announced a 4.7 per cent increase on big tonnage items used to make cars and many household appliances. The announcement by the nation's second largest steelmaker Thursday afternoon drew no immediate reaction from the rest of the industry. At the Pittsburgh headquarters of U.S. Steel, the industry giant, a spokesman said the Bethlehem move was being studied. A spokesman for Inland Steel in Chicago said officials would "study the competitive situation and see what the market will bear."

The Bethlehem increases cover hot rolled and cold rolled sheets—the basic products used by the automotive and appliance industries—and hot dipped galvanized sheets. The three lines account for about 35 per cent of the nation's steel shipments.

Average Wages

Overpopulation 'Top Priority'

DALLAS (AP) — The president and the House of Delegates of the Texas Medical Association have denounced the criticism of medical care administered under the medicare and medicare programs.

Dr. Charles Max Cole of Dallas, president, warned Thursday that Congress must economize in some of the medicare and medicare programs. He said proposed changes in the programs called for medical care for large groups on a group fee basis, while others called for physician's compensation on a flat fee schedule, which would abandon the "usual, customary and reasonable fee" concept that is now in effect.

Cole said overpopulation is a "top priority" problem. He said voluntary contraception did not seem to offer the needed control, and that, "as physicians we undoubtedly will play a major role in the control measures adopted."

Gideon Cabinet To Meet Here

State officials of Gideons International will be here this weekend for the annual banquet of the Big Spring Gideon encampment. They will join with local Gideons in supplying pulpits here and the area Sunday.

Heading 10 or more members of the state cabinet, which will convene at the Settles Hotel at 1 p.m. Saturday, will be Charles Humphrey, Dallas attorney, the state president.

The banquet at 6:30 p.m. Saturday in the Settles will be presided over by Jim Thompson, president of the Big Spring encampment of the Christian businessmen's organization.

Speaker for the occasion will be Andy Tell, Phoenix, Ariz., International zone chairman over Arizona, New Mexico, Texas and Oklahoma. A Dol. Farrar, Shreveport, La., also is to give his testimony. Assignments for the Sunday services will be distributed at the banquet meeting. Ministers and wives have been invited to be guests of the Gideons.

All records for distribution by Gideons of Bibles and New Testaments were shattered last year. These included copies of the Scriptures in 85 other lands as well as the United States.

"Doors are opened and hands outstretched for the Word of God," said G. G. Morehead, one of the local encampment founders.

'Stars' Show Here Saturday

"Night of Stars" will be presented Saturday night at 8 p.m. in the Municipal Auditorium, sponsored by the Howard County Association for Retarded Children to raise money for a sheltered workshop to teach retarded children how to earn a living.

The program will include "Antics in Pantomime," by The Little People; "Wheels in Motion," Miss Betty; "Madcap Mirth in Juggling," Miss Tina; "Day Tripper — Jogging Modern," Candace Academy of Dance; "Specialty Number by Emcee Mike Edwards;" "Rag Pictures — A Lost Art;" "Here Comes Rubber Legs," Jack DeHolt.

The entire second half of the program is devoted to a magic and illusion show presented by "The Amazing Fred Story & Co."

Admission is 75 cents for children and $1.50 for adults, and tickets may be purchased at the door or from downtown merchants.

For Senate Morris Stumps

Robert Morris, candidate for the United States Senate, was to visit here Friday afternoon. Republican women were to sponsor a tea from 3 p.m. to 4 p.m. for Morris at First Federal Savings and Loan Community Room.

Cong. Philip Landrum estimated that the welfare bill voted for George Bush will add 30 million people to federal subsistence rolls, said Morris in an earlier appearance Friday. "This guaranteed income will now add three-fourths of another person on to the back of each of the 40 million tax paying families in this country."

At the same time, tight credit, high interest and high taxes are pressing taxpayers, and the burden is getting unbearable. He noted that a decision recently issued by the Supreme Court will give "these 30 million people a 'right' to welfare benefits, thus nailing into the American structure the concept of welfareism which is alien to what we stand for."

IN TEXAS CAMPAIGN FOR U. S. SENATOR Cambodian Developments Echo

By The Associated Press — Cambodian war developments echoed loudly today in the Texas campaign for U. S. senator.

Robert Morris called for the use of troops from Free China against North Vietnam while his opponent in Saturday's Republican primary—Rep. George Bush, gave a qualified endorsement to President Nixon's use of U. S. fighting men against the Communists in Cambodia.

Both candidates for the Democratic nomination—Sen. Ralph Yarborough and Lloyd Bentsen—placed themselves on record against U. S. involvement, both speaking out prior to the President's televised speech Thursday night.

ABANDONMENT
Morris, a Dallas lawyer and former congressional committee staff member, told a reporter in Dallas the Nixon decision "as far as it goes, is correct," but means abandonment of a Vietnamization policy.

"In 1967 or 1968 the Free Chinese offered to send six of their own divisions against an exposed Hanoi," Morris said. "This would have ended the war decisively. Instead of accepting that offer our State Department not only declined but further ceased the bombing of North Vietnam."

"Now the 250,000 (enemy) troops thus relieved from the pressure of defending the home front are committed to aggression in Laos and Cambodia, and are threatening Thailand. Therefore we must assist the war and must allow the 600,000 Free Chinese troops to finish the job they've offered to do. The situation is now desperate."

NECESSARY?
In a statement issued through an aide in San Antonio after Nixon's address, Bush commented, "The President says this move is necessary for our troop withdrawals to continue and essential to the safety of our men."

"On the short term, limited basis that he outlined, it will have my support. However, the Congress should be asked to endorse the President's action since Cambodian soil is involved."

Bentsen declared at a news conference in San Antonio, held before Nixon disclosed this country's military move, that he was "absolutely opposed to us having land forces in Cambodia or Laos."

NOT ONE FOOT
It is illogical to exert a massive effort in Cambodia, Bentsen said, when U.S. policy, as outlined by the President, is a planned withdrawal of this nation's fighting men from Vietnam. He added that he opposed any extension of the war into Indochina.

Bentsen also raised the question of how the United States will be able to withdraw its troops from Vietnam if a substantial number of South Vietnamese are diverted to fight in Cambodia.

While Yarborough did not comment at once after the Nixon disclosure, the senator said only the day before that U.S. moves to help Cambodia defend itself were "exactly the way we got involved in Vietnam."

"I don't think," the senator told reporters with regard to Cambodia, "it is governmental, politically or morally wise or the thing to do. I don't think the United States should go one foot into Cambodia."

WELFARE REFORM
Others topics, most of them brought up before, also figured in the senatorial candidates' next to last day of campaigning before voters go to the polls in Saturday's primaries.

Yarborough replied to his opponent on the subject of busing public school pupils. Bentsen warned against pollution control becoming a political football. Bush discussed the Nixon administration's welfare reform proposals and Morris expressed confidence that the President would campaign for him in the general election next fall.

Asserting Bentsen had accused him falsely of leaving Washington to avoid voting on compulsory school busing to achieve racial balance, Yarborough said at a San Antonio news conference:

"For years I've been voting against forced busing of children. I don't believe in packing small children in motorized cars hauling them away from their home areas and setting them down with strangers."

CHEAP ISSUE
"I just ask my opponent to give us a few details on what he would do to help education—and just what he could do as a freshman senator that I, as chairman of the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee, which handles all federal education legislation, cannot do."

In a San Antonio airport talk, Bentsen told reporters, "I believe Texans want a Democrat in the Senate who will work for unity rather than constant discord."

He brought up the topic of pollution control during a Midland-Odessa stop, saying it could become "a cheap political issue—a class war between economic groups—or the avenue for an attack against the so-called establishment."

Bush, in another talk to San Antonio backers, said Texans are concerned over rising prices and about Democrats blocking Nixon's reform proposals.

"Texans believe our welfare system needs reform, and so do I," he said. "They oppose guaranteed annual income, and so do I."

'A HAND UP'
Bush described the welfare reform measure as "a hand up, not a handout," and said it does not provide for guaranteed annual income as claimed by his opponent.

Morris observed in Austin that Bush had said President Nixon and Vice President Agnew would campaign for the congressman if he wins the primary, and asked, "What do you think they'll do if I win—campaign for Yarborough?"

"Certainly they would campaign for me," Morris went on. "It seems unseemly to talk about it, and I hadn't planned to until George made such a big thing out of it."

Coupons, Stamps Help Operation
Connie Conwell, Amarillo, object of an area-wide coupon and trading stamp collection, has gone to Houston for a kidney transplant.

Mrs. C. H. Arbuckle, who helped promote gathering of the coupons and stamps which were exchanged with the Amarillo Kidney Foundation for help on the transplant, expressed deep appreciation to all who helped with this project. It may mean, she said, that Connie Conwell will have a new lease on life.

Tipsy Wasps
LONDON (AP) — Tipsy wasps have been on an orgy of child stinging in Britain, a beekeeper revealed.

"Wasps," said beekeeper Nicholas Simmons, "get drunk and drowsy by crawling into fallen fruit to feed on."

"It is when they are tipsy that they are at their most maniac," he said. "They are attracted by flashes of light reflected in the eye and will go for a child's face in a second."

One hospital, dealing with scores of wasp stings each week, termed 1969, "the year of the big sting."

'Our Town' Opens Today

The Hawk Players will open Thornton Wilder's Pulitzer prize play, "Our Town," today at 8 p.m. in the H.C.J.C. auditorium. The group will perform Saturday at 8 p.m.

Opening lead: Three of ♥
In attempting to establish the dummy's hand, South—the declarer at six spades—overlooked a simple discard which would have greatly facilitated development of North's club suit.

West opened the three of hearts, the deuce was played from dummy and East put up the nine which was covered by declarer's king. A spade was led to the queen and a spade returned to the ace. When East showed out on the second round, South drew the last trump with the king.

Work was begun next on the clubs. The ace and king were cashed and a third round ruffed in the closed hand. The suit failed to divide evenly, however, and the queen remained outstanding. South played the ace of hearts and led a diamond.

The defenders were in and returned a diamond forcing North to ruff with his last trump. South discarded another diamond on the queen of hearts, however he was left with a losing diamond in his hand and the defense subsequently scored the setting trick in that suit.

The odds did not favor an even division in clubs and declarer should have made his calculations accordingly. He could, in fact, have arranged to begin his ruffing one round earlier and thereby improve his chances considerably. This could have been accomplished by first cashing the top hearts in his hand and then discarding a club on North's queen of hearts.

After drawing two rounds of trumps with the queen and ace, it is suggested that South leave the jack of spades outstanding for the moment, play the ace of hearts and then cross over to the king of clubs to discard his remaining club on the queen of hearts.

He can now ruff a small club on the second lead of that suit while West is still obliged to follow suit. Now the North hand is reentered with the king of spades drawing West's remaining trump, the ace of clubs is cashed and another club is ruffed to establish the long card in that suit. A diamond ruff subsequently assures dummy of the entry required to cash the high club on which South's last diamond is discarded.

Back From Trip 'Round The World

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—"I don't like being by myself," mused 21-year-old Robin Lee Graham—having spent 57 months and 33,000 miles being just that to become the youngest person to sail solo around the world.

His 33-foot sloop, The Return of the Dove, the second of two boats he used on his long journey, eased into Long Beach Marina Thursday. Graham stepped ashore into the arms of Patti, 22, the wife he won on the other side of the globe.

"A nice hot bath," was his first fervent wish. "All I know I'm glad to be home. It's better than being out there."

Out there was Honolulu, Samoa, Tonga, Fiji—where he met Patti, a California girl on a tour—the Solomon Islands, Australia, South Africa—where he married her seven months later—South America, the Caribbean, through the Panama Canal to the Galapagos Islands and, starting March 5, the final 3,600 miles home.

Graham quit high school to make the voyage and had planned to continue his education through a correspondence course, but he was a bit busy. "There was too much to do aboard the boat to do much studying," he said, "but I did read a lot."

One of the things which kept him away from his books was his original boat, the 24-foot Dove, provided by his parents, which leaked badly and had two broken masts after being battered by storms. He replaced it midway through the journey.

"You have bad days and good," he said of his adventures. "You remember the bad days."

Now, he said, "I'll go back to school. I may pick up some sort of technical trade."

Patti joined her husband at various points along his route but didn't sail with him because "he started alone and he wanted to finish alone."

How did it feel to be home? "Tired."

Peace Decals Crackdown Halt Ordered

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—A halt on a wildcat police crackdown on cars bearing peace decals was ordered Thursday. The city manager told officers there are "more important things" to worry about.

Although Police Chief George Bichsel directed his force to stop arresting citizens displaying peace symbol decals, U.S. Atty. Seagal Wheatley said his office wasn't closing the door on the issue.

These developments occurred after Thompson Wood Lee, a decorated Vietnam War veteran, was warned again Thursday—again by patrolman Richard Stengel—that displaying the decal would lead to arrest.

Stengel arrested Lee, 25, Wednesday. Lee spent 10 hours in jail before he was released without charge.

Early the next day Stengel told Lee to remove the decal from his van truck. Lee removed the sticker, which appears to be a peace symbol superimposed on part of an American flag.

By midmorning Thursday, the issue reached city hall. City Manager Gerald Henckel quickly gave Bichsel orders to stop the arrests.

"We have more important things to do," Henckel said.

About 15 policemen nevertheless told newsmen they would arrest people displaying flag-peace symbol decals.

Patrolman Larry Simpson reported that he stopped a vehicle carrying the decal Thursday morning. He said the driver, warned of possible arrest, removed the decal and gave it to him.

First Federal Votes Change

Membership of the First Federal Savings & Loan Association Thursday afternoon voted a change in the Association charter pertaining to handling of reserves.

The amendment is in conformity with a uniform charter for such associations as drafted by the Federal Savings and Loan System.

The action was a technicality in a paragraph in the charter which permits more flexibility in the allocation of reserve funds.

The amendment was approved on recommendation of the board of directors.

'A HORSE AND BUGGY SYSTEM OF JUSTICE' 1,000 Years In Prison Not The Answer

AUSTIN (AP) — Sentencing a man to 1,000 years in prison is not the answer to the rising crime rate, says the presiding judge of the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals.

K. K. Woodley, who has a reputation as a hard-liner, told a Senate committee Thursday that his court should be given authority to reduce sentences if they are excessive. "You don't answer the problem by raising the punishment," he said.

Woodley is retiring from the court this year. He and his successor, John F. Onion Jr., were among those who testified before the Senate Interim Committee on Penal Servitude and Parole.

Also testifying was Travis County Dist. Atty. Bob Smith, who said recent Dallas juries that set millennial sentences for armed robbery were "trying to tell somebody something." The juries were expressing their frustration with "a horse and buggy system of justice," he said.

DENIAL OF BAIL

Smith made several suggestions on how to bring Texas' system of criminal justice from what he called the 18th Century to the 20th Century. Woodley and Onion backed him up on several of the proposals.

Smith said jury disgust could be assuaged by these changes:

- Provide that judges set sentences after juries' verdict.
- Allow defendants to waive grand jury indictments.
- Allow the denial of bail to a man accused of committing a felony while out on bail in another felony case.

—Permit prosecutors to tell juries how soon a man can get out on parole.

—Provide for the transfer of convicted persons to prison pending appeal.

Smith said 80 per cent of all defendants in felony cases would be willing to waive a grand jury indictment and plead guilty if allowed. Most other states have this system, he said.

JUSTICE DENIED

Forcing them to wait for an indictment creates backlogs for grand juries, and this in turn effectively denies minority representation on those juries.

In Travis County, for example, the grand jury must meet three times a week. The jury is handing down more than 100 indictments a month. Members of minority groups generally are wage earners who cannot afford three days out of their work week.

"I don't think it's healthy to have bankers or state employees exclusively on grand juries," he said.

If judges set sentences, Smith said, it would eliminate "plea bargaining" between prosecutors and defense lawyers. Since the defendant may elect to have the jury assess punishment, the prosecutor ends up compromising on a sentence half as long as he thinks he could get from a jury because there simply isn't enough time or staff to try all the cases, he said.

Smith said he and his eight assistants tried a total of 63 con-

SCRUB DOWN — Rusty, an orang-utan born Jan. 11 at the Buffalo Zoo, tolerates the soap as he gets his daily bath. Rusty, who will grow to 200 pounds, was shunned by his mother and dad, Alice and Stanley, after his birth. He is bottle fed and lives in an incubator.

Often this is done to get money to pay their lawyer, he said. Juries have no idea how long a man will have to stay in prison and hogtied," he said.

Under present law, a man becomes eligible for parole after serving 20 years or one-third of his sentence, whichever is shorter. With time off for good behavior in prison and with blood donations, he can get out in 9 1/2 years no matter what term of years the jury gave him. However, the State Pardons and Parole Board makes the decision, and it is required to consider such things as community attitude toward early release.

Some prisoners have been in the Travis County jail for more than a year while their cases are on appeal, Smith said. They get only day-for-day credit for time served in jail, whereas in prison they could be getting "good time" credit, he said.

Smith also supported the Texas adult probation project, a pilot program operated by Dist. Judge Perry Jacks of San Marcos that uses volunteers from among civic and religious groups.

"Probation, properly handled, is probably the only hope we've got so far as rehabilitation is concerned," he said.

POOR CHOICE

More than 50 per cent of those sent to prison from Travis County "have been there before," he said.

"The time for rehabilitation is after the first offense. The place is the community. The penitentiary is a poor second choice. It is a training ground. They do some rehabilitation . . . (but) I've never seen anybody come out better," Smith said.

Jacks said only six of 408 probationers handled through his program in the past two years committed new crimes of violence, and four of those were family affairs.

It is better to "keep him in the community," Jacks told the committee. "He's our people. He's one of us, and we're responsible for him."

Student Leaders Halt OSU Riots

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The authorities decided to let student leaders try to stop disorders at Ohio State University, and within a few hours peace was restored.

"They really gave us a big assist," National Guard Col. James Folk said of about 150 student marshals who patrolled the campus, calming down youths and dispersing crowds Thursday evening.

He gave them "full credit" for quieting the campus, where student rioting Wednesday night and Thursday morning injured scores, resulted in 500 arrests and left widespread damage.

About 1,800 National Guard troops and large concentrations of city police and Ohio highway patrol officers remained in the university area today, but only a few scattered incidents were reported.

A group of student assembly members, headed by Tim Sheeran, student body president, received permission from authorities Thursday afternoon to appoint marshals to assist authorities in restoring order.

As word of the agreement was passed around the campus, sporadic clashes between students and police began to taper off.

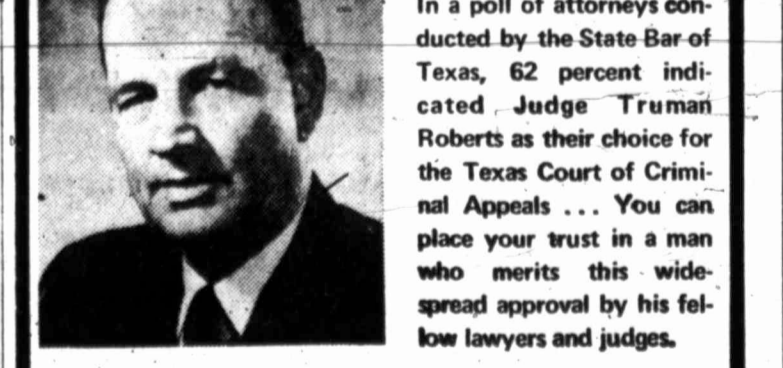

Meanwhile, University and Grant hospitals reported they

Ask "the people's candidate" why he voted against balancing the Supreme Court!

Ralph Yarborough, who refers to himself as "the people's candidate," voted against confirmation of Judges Haynsworth and Carswell to the Supreme Court. Why? He had no choice. He owes his allegiance to a small band of ultra-liberal colleagues and backers.

His votes helped defeat the President's plan to balance the Court with the appointment of a Southern judge who believes the Supreme Court should interpret the law rather than write the law. The President has now been compelled to abandon the South and turn North for his appointee.

Ralph Yarborough's actions came as no surprise to Texans. He has turned his back on his own people time and again.

Clapping, Patting Greet Jazz Band

Some of the Big Spring Concert Association family didn't show for the Preservation Hall jazz band concert Thursday evening at Municipal Auditorium, but those who were on hand will never have more fun.

From the start the seven-piece band led by Kid Thomas (Thomas Valentine), a 74-year-old veteran of the jazz era, had the audience on its side. By intermission nearly everyone was patting a foot, tapping a program, touching palms in unison, or nodding heads on the beat. During the second half, all restraint melted away and partisans began clapping the time, cheering every solo vigorously and roaring approval at each number.

Perhaps the band had moved on more familiar ground, but such offerings as "Basin Street Blues," "Hold that Tiger," "Tuxedo Junction" just set the stage for a climactic and rousing "When the Saints Go Marching In." In the midst of all this juice-stirring rhythm, the musicians played "Just a Closer Walk" with a beautiful delicateness, featuring passages by Albert Burbank on the clarinet, Louis Nelson on the trombone, and a tremendous muted sequence by Kid Thomas himself. Another offering which got a great hand was "Big Lunch Blues," a creation of Joseph (Twat) Butler, the bass.

If ever the stage here has been better individual craftsmen of their instruments, it is impossible to recall. Burbank kept his clarinet in ecstatic agony; Emanuel Paul coaxed an unerring beat from his base sax, which he made sound like a tenor sax at intervals; Nelson had a limitless range on the trombone along with an infectious sense of time and feel; Charles Hamilton played the piano like a jazz musician should; and Alonzo Stewart was marvelous on the drums. He kept a perfect beat, yet in restraint, refusing to orbit into wild banging.

Most of the musicians were elderly veterans who had grown up with jazz. Maybe jazz grew up with them. Anyhow, it was an evening to banish the blues.—JP

SAN MARCOS, Tex. (AP)—The Gary Job Corps center has expelled 28 students after a rock and bottle throwing disturbance there Sunday night.

A spokesman for the federal anti-poverty agency said an estimated $1,200 in property damage occurred.

Bands of youths ran around the grounds throwing rocks and soft drink bottles, a spokesman said. Six trainees were treated for minor injuries.

"The destruction was aimed at property, not individuals," information officer John Henry said. "The trainees did not seem to be fighting each other."

A review board met with seven other students Thursday but they were not involved, Henry said. He said five were discharged for various reasons, none involving violence.

Won't Change Hiring Rules

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Preston Smith of Texas said Thursday he will not instruct any state agencies to change hiring rules to place more minority group persons on the payroll.

Referring to an utterance by the Civil Rights Commission that Mexican-Americans in particular are under-represented at all levels of state law enforcement agencies, Smith said Texas agencies were not going to hire unqualified members of minority groups "just for the sake of having window dressing."

The commission recommended training for jobs as police, in courts and in other state and local agencies.

Smith was in Washington for a Housing Department meeting for a discussion of pension funds.

After talking with Secretary of Housing George Romney, Smith said he will encourage the administrators of Texas retirement funds to participate in home mortgages that the federal government will insure.

The interest rate will be about 8½ per cent, Smith said, and he thinks directors of Texas pension funds might find it attractive to invest in home mortgages.

SPECIAL AWARDS—Monte Pillion, Christi Price, Delores Williams, Linda Massey and Billy Cook were among the outstanding students presented with awards this morning in the Honors and Awards Convocation at Howard County Junior College.

Students Honored Today In Awards Convocation

Linda Jean Massey and Billy J. Cook, Howard County Junior College sophomores, were presented this morning with the annual citizenship awards given by American Legion Post 355 during the Honors and Awards Day Convocation.

George A. Zachariah and M. C. Grigsby, representing the post, presented the awards, Miss Massey is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Massey, 3203 Auburn, and Cook is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cook, Garden City.

Dean Ben F. Johnson was Master of Ceremonies, with the pledge of allegiance led by John Oglesby, followed by the invocation by John Hull, president of the student senate.

DO SI DO! Square Dancers Will Swing Partners In Big Area Rally

"Swing your partner and do-si-do" will echo in Big Spring tonight and tomorrow as the Big Spring Squares host approximately 300 dancers from around the state for their May Square Dance Festival.

This will be the largest square dance event to take place in Big Spring since square dancing was organized here after World War II, said Frenchie Steward, president of the Western Association.

Hosts are expecting 192 dancers today and 320 dancers Saturday from 8 p.m. to 11 p.m. in the Big Spring High School cafeteria.

Callers will be Chuck Bryant, San Antonio; Paul Odor, Midland; Dick Parrish, Hobbs, N.M.; and Curtis Thompson, Midland.

A workshop on new calls and dances will be held Saturday afternoon, and a party will be held following the Saturday night dance.

Steward said spectators are invited to attend the dances at no charge. Square dancers will pay a registration fee.

"We hope to make this an annual event in Big Spring," declared club caller Curtis Thompson. "This will bring several hundred square dancers to the city each year, and the event will grow each year it is held."

Dancers are expected from Hobbs, N.M., Lubbock, Levelland, Plainview, Amarillo, Snyder, Lamesa, Odessa, Midland, San Antonio, Brady, San Angelo, Eldorado, Dallas, Winters, Brownwood, Abilene, Colorado City, Jayton, Hamlin, Anson, Rhotan, Eastland and Fort Worth.

Many square dancers will be staying at local hotels and motor inns, Steward said, but since this is a "family-type" event, many of the dancers have indicated they will be camping out at the Big Spring campgrounds and near the clubhouse.

Entertainment for the Saturday-night party will be provided by the "M" Squares, Midland. Local square dancers are helping in the production of "Ha-Ha" Paul and Barbara Odor, Midland, are in charge of the production.

Those in charge of committee are Mr. and Mrs. James Cook and Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Steward, general chairmen; Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Thurman, arrangements; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Johnson, refreshments; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Caldwell, hosts and hostesses; Mr. and Mrs. Haskall Holland, finances; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Rybolt and Mr. and Mrs. James Householder, door prizes; and Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, Midland, festival coordinators.

Steward said spectators are invited to attend the dances at no charge. Square dancers will pay a registration fee.

Law Day Focuses Attention On Necessity Of Sound Code

Today is Law Day, a day in which the citizens of the United States are asked by their Congress not only to obey the laws of the land, but to consider the American legal process and appreciate its justness and durability.

Among those scheduled to participate in the day's discussion are District Judge Ralph Caton, County Attorney Bill Eysen, Dick Milstead, president of the Howard County Bar Association, Corporation Court Judge John Burgess, City Attorney Herb Prouty, Dee Jon Davis, Roy Ford, Harvey Hooger, Dick Peterson, Wayne Basden, John R. Coffee, and R. H. Weaver.

Mayor J. Arnold Marshall signed a law day proclamation which reads in part, "The benefits that have accrued to each of us as individuals and to all of us as Americans through adherence to the law are too numerous to record, and without law, no citizen could enjoy the rights, freedoms, opportunities and protection which we take for granted."

The earliest known code of secular law was promulgated by the Babylonian King, Hammurabi, a contemporary of the Biblical Abraham, about 2350 B.C. Among its 282 sections are the same words demanding retribution written in the Bible a thousand years later, "an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth."

Court Asked To Clarify Present Obscenity Laws

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top lawyers for Massachusetts and Texas have asked the Supreme Court to clarify existing obscenity laws and guarantee states the right to suppress newspapers and movies.

Robert H. Quinn called the movie commercial pornography. He told the high court the three-judge district court in Boston is shielding theater manager Serafin Karalexis from prosecution and thus creating "the possibility of disrespect for the public at large."

ADVANCE IN CAMBODIA — South Vietnamese tanks and Special Forces "Mike Force" commando units advance into the Cambodian town of Prasat, along Route One, some 24 miles into Cambodia, Friday morning. The invasion forces blasted barricades of furniture and stones, the remains of which are shown at side of road.

Yanks Encounter Light Resistance

SAIGON (AP) — More than 25,000 American and South Vietnamese troops pushed deeper into two areas of Cambodia today but for the most part encountered only light resistance.

The other three South Vietnamese forces were sweeping the Parrot's Beak area for enemy base camps. A total of 15,000 South Vietnamese troops were in the four forces, and about 100 advisers were the only Americans with them. But American bombers, helicopter gunships and artillery were supporting them.

The South Vietnamese military command reported 406 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops killed in the Parrot's Beak and said 84 government troops were killed and 168 wounded, including 55 wounded accidentally by American helicopter gunships. Three Americans also were reported wounded.

The U.S. Command said initial reports from the Fishhook indicated that 74 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops were killed by American helicopter gunships and three more by ground troops. One American was wounded slightly, and two observation helicopters of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division were shot down, but both aircraft were recovered.

The offensive launched today was under the command of Brig. Gen. Robert M. Shoemaker, assistant commander of the 1st Air Cav. His task force included four U.S. maneuver battalions, three South Vietnamese airborne battalions, the U.S. 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment and a South Vietnamese armored regiment.

Associated Press correspondent Jay Sharbutt reported from the command post at Quan Loi, in South Vietnam, that a three-prong thrust was under way from Route 7 to seal off a triangular area running 20 miles east to west and 12 miles southeast to northwest.

Their main target was the jungle command post for all Communist military and political operations in South Vietnam, known as the Central Office for South Vietnam, or COSVN. But COSVN is a mobile command post, and senior South Vietnamese officers said it had moved deeper into Cambodia several days ago, apparently in anticipation of the American offensive.

The offensive began at 7:30 a.m. Saigon time, an hour and a half before President Nixon went on the air to announce the advance of American combat troops into Cambodia.

Three South Vietnamese battalions, between 1,000 and 1,500 men, were the spearheads. U.S. helicopters landed them 12 miles inside Cambodia, and Sharbutt reported they met no

One American was wounded slightly, and two observation helicopters of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division were shot down, but both aircraft were recovered.

BOMBARDMENT

After an advance bombardment by about 35 B52s and nearly 100 artillery pieces at nine firebases along the border, a force of 8,000 Americans and about 2,000 South Vietnamese crossed this morning into the Cambodian area known to the military as the Fishhook, 70 miles northwest of Saigon.

U.S. GUNSHIPS

The U.S. Command also had a report that 108 persons had been detained, but spokesmen said they did not know whether they were Cambodians or Vietnamese.

MAIN TARGET

The operation plan called for infantrymen to sweep through the region, perhaps taking as long as six weeks to two months to destroy whatever North Vietnamese and Viet Cong base camps they find.

The local police reserve members have donated a new film to the department's narcotics information program entitled "Narcotics: The Pit of Despair."
 Patrolman Stewart Dickson said the new film depicts the process by which one young man evolves from a casual user of marijuana to a heroin addict and the personality effects of this process on the young man. The film will be shown on request by the department and is to be integrated with other established drug education techniques in the department's presentations.

"Marijuana," another short film concerned with the drug problem, will be shown when requested as in the past Dickson said.
 If reasonable notice is given, either of the two may be shown to any civic group by requesting a presentation through Chief of Police Jay Banks' office, Dickson said.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: Please write not about to let him off the hook.
 It seems so wrong for us to continue to accept support checks from my "ex" who is struggling hard to make ends meet, when my children don't need it, and his adopted family does.

My children and I have talked it over and want to put a stop to the support checks, but my husband is determined to keep collecting until the children are all of age. What can I do, Abby?
 WALKING A TIGHT ROPE DEAR WALKING: Nothing. Your present husband for reasons of insecurity, probably presents your "ex" and is determined to keep him on the hook for child support. Or he could be, frankly money-hungry. Both are regrettable, but there is nothing you can do about either, unless through persistent hammering you can finally get through to him. Keep trying.

Hungry Hyena
 BLANTYRE, Malawi (AP) — Large ragged holes extending right through the walls in two car tires baffled the car's owner. The holes were made while the auto was parked at Mlange airport. Experts from a major tire manufacturer examined the tires and decided they had been partly eaten by a hungry hyena.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for two years to a wonderful man, but something has come up which threatens our marriage.
 I have three children by a previous marriage. The children's father has been regularly since our divorce. He's never complained, but I know it has been a terrible hardship on him because he is now married to a woman whose husband deserted her and her three children, so he adopted her three, and is now supporting six children.
 My children and their father have always had an excellent relationship. Now my children see their father's stepchildren at school and church, and they notice the disparity between their standards of living and that of their father's adopted children, whom they like very much.
 Abby, my present husband is very well to do, and he doesn't need that support money from my "ex," but he says he is

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You are committed to many promises and duties and it would be wise to seek solutions to these problems instead of trying to get out from under them and starting something entirely new. Use foresight to build a new security for yourself.
ARIES (March 21 to April 19): You have many important outside matters to handle so forget about getting involved in personal problems. Don't get so serious that others think you objectionable. Put that pretty smile to work.
TAURUS (April 20 to May 20): Do not be forceful with others in order to get your way — use tact and diplomacy for best results. You have to have more patience. If you want to achieve your ambitions, be happy with what is in the evening.
GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): You feel that you have some limitation that can't be overcome, but if you get objective viewpoint of friends, all will be fine. Don't keep harping on the problem, though. Show that you have initiative.
MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21): Listening to what a higher-up has to say and following advice instead of registering complaints is a wise move. Forget the social. Get into some civic matter that is very important.
LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): Go out for some diversion and forget your problems at home. Don't become annoyed with someone who isn't doing things as you would like to have it done. Be good to your nervous system.
VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 23): If you listen carefully to what persons of different backgrounds and experience have to say, you gain some wonderful new ideas. Forget drab tasks. Open your eyes to greater opportunities.
LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23): You defeat yourself if you succumb to self-pity because of obligations that are piling up. Find the right person to give you good advice now. Make some new agreement that gets you out of the red.
SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Converse with others at length and know just where you stand. If you do them, you will do your share of any work connected with your relationship. Take your rightful place in the scheme of things. Be wise.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): With all the work you have to do, you hardly know where to begin, so take time to figure out which duties are most important. See that your appointment is right. Be energetic, vital.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Be sure to have amusements set up for your spare time so that you relieve tensions. Forget all that quorring with kin. Take them out with you in recreation and all will be fine. Show that you have a sense of humor.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Avoid some dissension at home. Be off to places of amusement and fun with friends. Get those hobbies perfected. Who, net, now, reports out properly today. Keep busy and you feel fine.
PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20): Get into basic matters with regular associates and solve problems in the most practical way. Be sure that your finances are wisely handled, too. An expert can help you with property improvements.

TORNADO PATH — One of at least two tornadoes which ripped through Oklahoma City early Thursday left this stretch of shattered homes in its wake. Nearly every home on one side of this northwest Oklahoma City street was demolished while houses on the other side of the street appear virtually undamaged. Despite the wide area hit by the storms, there had been no deaths reported. Nearly ten hours after the twisters struck, 38 persons had been treated for injuries.

Israeli Unit Moves Mile Into Lebanon

TEL AVIV (AP) — An Israeli army unit moved a mile into Lebanon early today and blew up the home of a "terrorist collaborator," the military command said.

A spokesman said the raiding party returned safely from the small Lebanese village of Houle, just west of the thumb of Israeli territory that juts northward into Lebanon. He charged that terrorists were using Houle as a staging area for attacks on "civilian settlements in Israeli territory."

The house was empty when demolished, the spokesman added.

It was the second Israeli raid into Lebanon in eight weeks.

A Lebanese military spokesman in Beirut reported that the Israelis are installing barbed wire along the 50-mile Israel-Lebanon border. The spokesman said the barrier was going up from east to west, but he did not say when they began it or how much they had completed.

The Palestine guerrillas' Armed Struggle Command claimed that Al Fatah guerrillas shot down an Israeli fighter-jet over southern Lebanon Thursday, and said two commandos were killed and three wounded when Israeli warplanes staged an hour-long raid in the area.

Lebanese government officials would not comment on the report of the air attack.

There was no Israeli confirmation of either report from Beirut. The only air activity reported by Tel Aviv was an Israeli raid Thursday night on Egyptian artillery and mortar positions in the northern and southern sectors of the Suez Canal.

In Amman, a Jordanian army spokesman said Jordanian forces repelled Israeli troops who tried to cross the cease-fire line at Ghoralsafi south of the Dead Sea around midnight.

The spokesman said there was a 20-minute mortar duel and one Jordanian soldier was wounded.

Frost Expected In New Mexico

By The Associated Press

Heavy thunderstorms roaming the lower Mississippi Valley dumped torrential rains today into Arkansas and Louisiana and churned up occasional high winds.

Tornadoes or strong windstorms caused moderate damage in southeastern Missouri and in parts of Arkansas Thursday night. One man was injured in a twister near Naylor, Mo.

Three inches of rain swamped Conway, Ark., northwest of Little Rock, in half hour. Nearly 2½ inches washed El Dorado, Ark., and more than two inches poured into Shreveport, La.

A tornado watch was in effect much of the night in portions of Missouri, Illinois, Kentucky, Indiana and Tennessee. Funnel clouds that did not touch down were sighted in several locations.

Cold rain chilled regions northwest of the storm belt. Snow fell in the northern and central Rockies and spilled into some Plains areas. The falling temperatures brought freezing conditions to Texas-Oklahoma panhandle. Frost was expected as far south as Arizona and New Mexico.

Two inches of snow whitened Goodland, Kan., late Thursday.

Severe windstorms in the Chicago area late Thursday caused heavy damage in a number of neighborhoods on the city's northwest side. Nine persons were treated for minor injuries.

Numerous trees were toppled, signs torn down and windows broken in homes and some stores in the Chicago storm. The Weather Bureau termed it a possible tornado.

The toll in twin tornadoes that hit Oklahoma City early Thursday was set at 38 to 41 persons injured, six homes destroyed, 25 with major damage and 600 other with at least some damage.

Mild but overcast weather dominated much of the eastern seaboard. Fog reduced visibility at New York's Kennedy International Airport Thursday night and caused departure delays up to 40 minutes. Overseas flights were diverted to other airports in the region.

Integration Date Posted

HOUSTON (AP) — Crosby School District trustees have until May 25 to complete integration of their schools or be held in contempt of court.

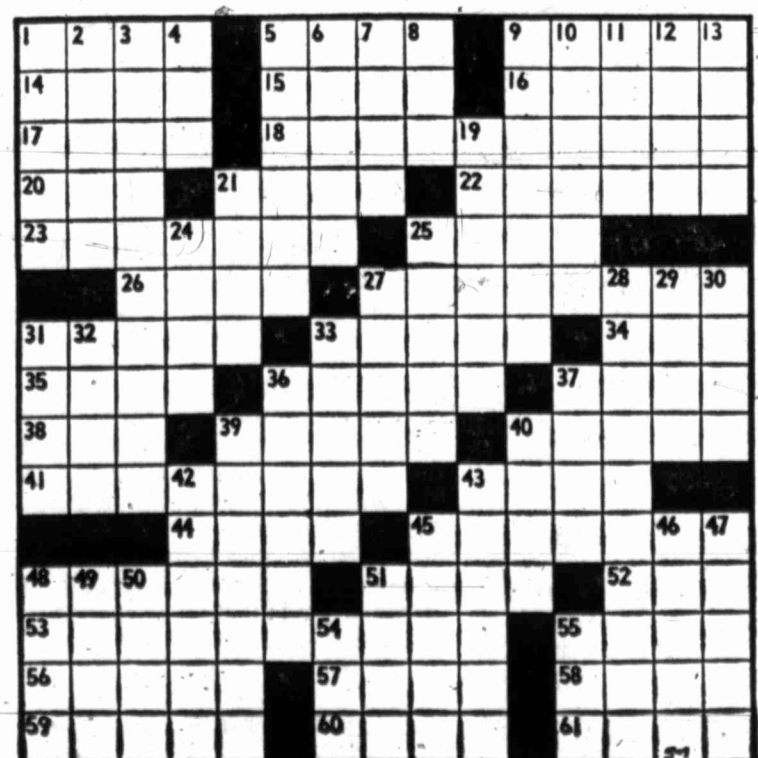

Federal Judge Joe Ingraham continued Thursday an earlier contempt of court show cause order against the trustees.

On April 3, the trustees of the north Harris County district were ordered to show cause why they shouldn't be held in contempt of court for failing to carry out court orders to integrate their faculty.

Ingraham ruled Thursday that crossover teacher assignments made after the April 3 order had not satisfied the court.

LOW BLOW BY REPUBLICANS

TYPICAL DIRTY POLITICS, CHARACTERISTIC OF NIXON CAMPAIGNS, APPEARED IN BIG SPRING HERALD SUNDAY, APRIL 26, THE TYPICAL NEGATIVE THINKING OF REPUBLICANS, URGING A VOTE AGAINST RALPH YARBOROUGH.

ON INVESTIGATION IT IS IRREFUTABLY DETERMINED THAT A TYPICAL NIXON-BUSH-BENTSEN RIGHT WING REPUBLICAN PAID FOR THE AD. THESE KINDS OF PEOPLE FEEL THEY WIN WITH EITHER BENTSEN OR BUSH AND ARE AGAINST ALL THE GOOD THAT HAS BEEN BESTOWED UPON HOWARD COUNTY THROUGH THE GREAT WORK OF RALPH YARBOROUGH. THESE REPUBLICANS WANT THE PUBLIC TO FORGET THAT RALPH YARBOROUGH WORKED FOR AND SECURED $10 MILLION IN CONSTRUCTION AT WEBB A.F.B. IN THE LAST 10 YEARS, AND JUST A FEW DAYS AGO OVER $100,000 CAME TO BIG SPRING SCHOOLS UNDER THE IMPACT AID BILL. THEY DON'T TELL YOU OF THE $56,000 IN COLLEGE LOAN FUNDS HOWARD COUNTY JR. COLLEGE STUDENTS HAVE RECEIVED OR THE $28,757 PROVIDED VETERANS IN HOWARD COUNTY FOR EDUCATIONAL AND VOCATIONAL FUNDS OR THE $122,000 FOR BIG SPRING'S HEAD START PROGRAM LAST YEAR. WOULD THIS REPUBLICAN NOW COME FORWARD AND TELL YOU WHO HE IS? NO, HE WILL NOT; HE IS ASHAMED.

KEEP RALPH YARBOROUGH — TEXAS PROGRESS MUST NOT BE STAGNATED BY NEGATIVE THINKERS.

VOTE FOR RALPH YARBOROUGH — THE PEOPLE'S SENATOR

A Devotion For Today . . .

Present your bodies as a living sacrifice, holy and acceptable to God. (Romans 12:1, RSV)

PRAYER: O God, help us to live in a way that will turn others to Thee. May our daily lives not be stumbling stones but stepping-stones to those around us. Through Christ Jesus in whose name we pray. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

New Leadership

How will Texas fare in the '70's in its stature in the national Congress? How will the nation perform in turning back ultra-liberal attacks on our courts? How will our country face up to fiscal stability? What do we really want in the way of reducing Washington bureaucracy and restoring stronger government at local levels?

These questions are pertinent to your vote Saturday in the U.S. Senate contest.

And if you want to see Texas gain increasing respect in Washington; if you want to see the rebuilding of constructionist courts which play such a part in restoring law and order; if you want to see a more conservative approach toward federal spending and federal policy, we submit that your vote for senator would be for Lloyd Bentsen.

This man is no Johnny-come-lately, but a mature, sound-thinking businessman who represents what we believe the majority of Texans stand for, regardless of their station or occupation. Farmers want to see some more government stability; labor wants to see fairness exercised in all national affairs; everybody wants to see some strong action taken for firm laws and firm interpretation of the laws.

Mr. Bentsen has served in our Congress, has made an outstanding record as a Texas citizen and a successful businessman. There can be no real question as to his ability, his honesty, his motives, his moderate approach to the problems of our times.

Texas needs to return to contemporary, effective leadership — a leadership demanded by the times in which we live — a leadership which in step toward and has the vision to lead in step in oncoming years. This leadership is personified in Lloyd Bentsen, and we advocate his nomination.

Vitally Important Day

Saturday is primary election day, and although this is to determine nominees, it can in many instances be the time at which several will be elected for practical purposes.

In either event, the importance of voting cannot be over-estimated. This is the first step by the people in saying whom they will have serve or represent them.

Those who get to the polls — and it is unthinkable that anyone would fail to make an effort to do this — should look at two things:

1. They should consider the individual's offering of a particular office and then consider the record of those persons in the past. In short, to get a good public servant, you start with a good man or woman.

2. Then the voter may well consider an individual's record of performance in office; or the type of proposals or programs espoused. The voter then becomes the judge of what is a reasonable and sound presentment, and vote for the one which seems to be sound and best.

But to get back to basics, all the analysis in the world won't do a bit of good unless you take just a few minutes to go to the polls Saturday.

Andrew Tully Words Of Lament For Yale

WASHINGTON — Maybe it is improvement over the bad old days when a Yale degree was a license to snoot the neighborhood. But I mourn Yale's descent to the sordid level of a banana republic university. Must we unwashed now pity a Yale man where we used to sneer amiably at his foolish pretensions?

Today's rally on New Haven's Town Green in support of the Black Panthers on trial in a Connecticut court for murder allegedly has respectability because Yale has endorsed it. The word allegedly is used advisedly. Sometimes prestigious Yale in fact is no more respectable than a crowd of street-corner bums in giving its imprimatur to this vicious nonsense.

I REFER to Yale as an entity in this one because students, faculty and even its usually sensible president, Kingman Brewster, are involved. After 80 per cent of the students boycotted classes in support of the Panthers, the faculty rabbits approved a student strike in the Panthers' behalf, and in an unwonted display of mealy-mouthed sophistry Brewster "welcomed" the faculty resolution which authorized teachers to suspend classes indefinitely while the protest is under way.

"WE FEEL THAT the suspension of the normal academic functions of the university would allow all concerned . . . a chance to discuss the issues," said the faculty statement. "Faculty members should be free to suspend their classes; they should take a tolerant position in regard to assignments and papers handed in late, and they should make as much time as possible available for the discussion of immediate and pressing issues."

My goodness. Is Yale an institution of learning or a book-lined branch of Stokely Carmichael's political Mafia?

THE THING is comical. There is a kind of perverted lunacy in the faculty statement that the trial of Bobby Seale and Co. qualifies as one of the nation's "immediate and pressing issues." Those jokers are being tried for a family murder, not for proclaiming their own foreign policy. The only issue is whether they are guilty or innocent. Whatever the verdict, it will not topple the Republic. Not, that is, unless the whole country has gone mad.

PRESUMABLY, most parents sent their sons to Yale to pick up some book learning, or at least to polish their snobbery. Yet the faculty resolution "commits the whole university" to holding intensive discussion of the Black Panther trial. If I were unfortunate enough to have a child at Yale I'd demand a refund, after first subjecting the boy to a horse doctor's dose of sulphur and molasses.

BEFORE THE faculty acted, it heard a personal appeal from a black student, Kurt Schmoekle, who said the students merely wanted guidance and were not trying to coerce their willful professors. Some guidance! Had the strikers demanded it, I suspect the faculty would have enthusiastically voted to raze the jail where the Panthers are lodged with heavy artillery. Tomorrow, Bobby Seale for President?

Let us fly the flags at half-staff and don sackcloth and ashes in Yale's memory. After long years of glory, old Elihu's school now must be relegated to the status of a cow college in Central America.

What Others Say

Mrs. Richard M. Nixon seems to be getting more help than she needs with her public relations.

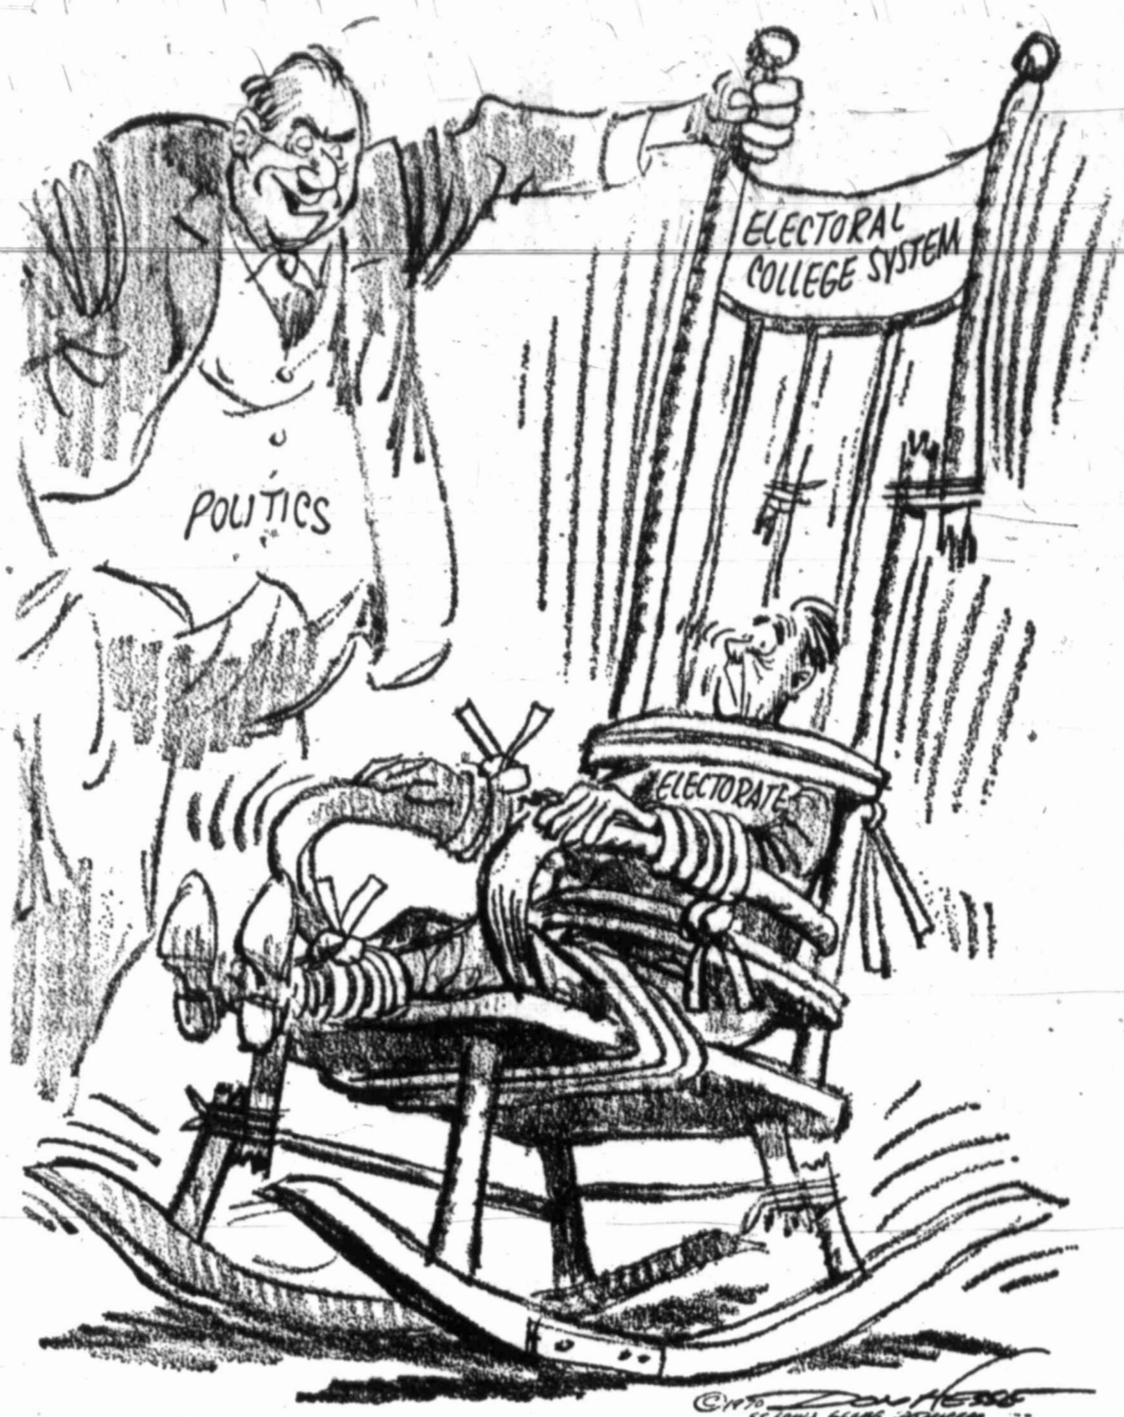

A high-powered, Madison Avenue-oriented staff of eight appears determined to package and market the First Lady as though she were a new detergent.

The staff costs the taxpayers $105,000 a year in salaries. Not included are Mrs. Nixon's social secretary, her helper and assorted drop-in help from the President's staff.

Goal of the group appears to be to help Mrs. Nixon "write a long-remembered chapter in White House history." The razzle-dazzle college campus tour Mrs. Nixon made recently is a sample of the staff's thinking. More appears to be in the making.

This sort of selling is unnecessary. Mrs. Nixon is quite charming in her own right. She serves her husband, her family and the public best by being herself. She need not be part of the "package" of images the administration's hucksters are peddling.

John Cunniff Swamped With Problems

NEW YORK (AP) — Wall Street keeps getting swamped with new problems these days before it is able to rise above the old ones.

Perhaps never before has there been such a confluence of muddy issues spilling onto the desks of analysts, problems with which even the State Department foreign affairs specialists would have difficulty.

The threatened escalation of the war in Indochina is giving nightmares to analysts who based their hopes of a rising market on a reduction of hostilities in that area. Their theory in recent weeks has been this:

"War might have been good for industry in the past, but it surely isn't anymore. Look at those terrible profit statements. And see how war has brought inflation. A cool Southeast Asia would warm the stock market just enough."

Although one war is one war too many for analysts who understand balance sheets but not balances of power, these securities scholars are also being forced to keep an eye on the confused and potentially explosive Mideast.

Foreign affairs are very much a factor in this market, but analyses of foreign affairs by securities men lack credibility. Few investors are willing to buy stocks because of a military or political forecast by a securities analyst. And so they remain almost catatonic.

Domestically speaking, it is also difficult to determine the American economy. High interest rates were supposed to curtail heavy spending. But something has gone wrong with that theory.

Capital spending plans—the plans of business remodeling and expanding—were supposed to be falling off by now. Instead, business seems to be raising its intentions to spend.

That, at least, is the opinion of some private economists who have surveyed the field, and whose conclusions include a simple forecast of still higher interest rates and a prediction of a possible money panic.

Eliot Janeway, an author, economic consultant and financial adviser, has been warning for some time about the possible panic. He sees business and government locked in a battle to borrow from an insufficient supply of lendable funds. He suggests credit controls, and possibly a continued market dip.

Any American over 50 years of age who had never been on a public welfare roll would be given a gold medal.

Pigeons would wear diapers.

Congressmen would have to hitchhike around their home districts at least once a year so they'd really get to meet the people.

It would be against the law to have knives and forks on the table at a chicken dinner.

Anybody who ever asked another person during a cold spell how he was standing the heat wave would be compelled to jog a mile through the snow clad only in his underwear.

The name of pop art would be changed to unpop art.

Any advertising writer who wrote that something was as American as blueberry pie would get a free blueberry pie—right in his face.

All television comedians who joke about their wives and mothers-in-law would have to buy them equal time on a national network so they could tell what a crumb he is.

Supermarket shopping carts would be equipped with rubber bumpers.

Every bottle at a cocktail party would self destruct five minutes after the party was supposed to be over.

Every person convicted of drunken driving would receive an automatic one-year jail sentence.

No man would be permitted to wear shoulder-length hair in public unless he concealed it under a crew-cut wig.

Anyone convicted of peddling narcotics would immediately have injected into his own person whatever drugs were found on him at the time of his arrest.

For sports fans who weary of the long baseball season, pro football teams would play two schedules—one in the spring and another in the fall.

All college faculty members would be free to join in a student picket line—but they'd lose their pay any day they did so.

Corporations which issue credit cards would have to print on the back of them this warning: "These cards are addictive and can lead to quick insolvency."

He Can Skip That One, Too

In too many instances, the politician's bumper sticker lasts longer than his promises.

If you think the politicians are doing a bad job, try giving it back to the people for a while.

As an example, who chooses the politicians?

These days that ought to be a REALLY BIG session.

A FIGURE FILBERT in Washington has figured the average American (and I doubt if there is such a thing) spends the first two hours and 49 minutes of each 8-hour day earning enough to pay his taxes.

Some junior executive is going to demand that period be switched to the last two hours and 49 minutes of the day, when he's tired.

The Bell Tolls For All

WASHINGTON — Some of the adverse comments of senators about military aid by the United States to Cambodia and Laos indicate that the significance of aggression in distant lands is still not fully realized.

It is refreshing, therefore, to read a speech made in the House of Representatives at Canberra by Prime Minister John G. Gorton of Australia, which has troops in Vietnam allied with American military forces.

Vietnam is hardly 2,000 miles away from Australia, but the critics there still question whether the Australian forces should have helped resist the attack on South Vietnam. Mr. Gorton said:

"THE GOVERNMENT believes that our engagement in Vietnam is right, and that it does best promote our national security, and we believe that for these reasons: It is surely incontrovertible that in Vietnam aggression is taking place and is being resisted. It is surely incontrovertible that the war there is only being sustained because large numbers of troops from North Vietnam are constantly dispatched to invade and subjugate the South and that if that troop flow stopped the war would stop.

"RESISTANCE to such aggression does best promote our national security, because we must strive to ensure that history is not repeated, and that invasion and aggression is not allowed to be successful . . .

"WE SAW FASCIST and Nazi aggression raging unchecked, and subjecting one small country after another to conquest until it had to be stopped — at the cost of a world war — which need not have happened had the aggression been stopped at its beginning . . .

"THEN WE SAW aggression in Korea. We saw the people of the North Sweep across the frontiers of the South in armed formations. Because the prevention of aggression then was the basic concept of the United Nations, we saw United Nations forces moving to defeat that aggression. Australians were there.

And the aggression was defeated. And Australian national security was best promoted because it was defeated.

"We saw — and the principle is the same — Malaysia threatened during the confrontation, and armed incursions into Malaysian territory. Australia helped to repel this aggression. And our national interest was best served by this.

"AND THEN WE saw the pattern repeated in Vietnam. It is Communist aggression there, as it was in Korea and Malaysia, but the source of the aggression — significant though it may be — is not as significant as the fact that it was aggression . . .

"The one consistent thread of principle — that small nations are best rendered secure if other small nations are not allowed to be overrun — has distinguished our policy through the postwar years. That is why we are in Vietnam . . .

"I HAVE SAID that successful invasion of South Vietnam by the North would lead to further attempts at conquest in Laos, in Cambodia, and on the frontiers of Thailand. This was scouted and denied by those in the ranks of the opposition who support the case of the invaders. But the history of recent days shows, I submit, how dangerously wrong they were."

The Australian Prime Minister concluded his speech with a statement that applies all over the world. He declared:

"For whenever one small country loses its freedom, let us not ask for whom the bell tolls — it tolls for all."

Brandt An Effective German Leader

BONN — Germany's well-advertised economic miracle with fat Ludwig Erhard as its patron saint is matched today by a political miracle. The fact that Willy Brandt is Chancellor seems in itself little short of miraculous.

In a society so long ridden by caste and rank Brandt should by the standards of the past be an outcast. His mother was a salesgirl in a cooperative store in Luebeck, his father unknown. In 1933 he fled the Nazis and took refuge in Norway where he became a Norwegian citizen. In Norwegian uniform he served as press attaché in Norway's Embassy in Berlin.

THIS IS THE man who in six months as Chancellor of the Federal Republic has made a deep imprint on the world and on his own country. His stock is steadily rising in the opinion polls. Brandt is the only figure on the European scene to pioneer a new path between East and West, breaking the stalemate that was a heritage of the cold war.

Because it is a bold course and because the back-seat drivers want to keep alive the old fears, there is some misunderstanding of the goal. No one in authority here has any illusion about a federation of the two Germanys, West and East, in the foreseeable future. Nor is there any prospect of Bonn recognizing the Communist regime in East Berlin in any formal legal sense.

THE WHOLLY pragmatic approach is to get agreement on removing sources of tension between the two Germanys. By relaxing tensions along the border the danger of an incident that could trigger a war is greatly reduced.

At the same time the Brandt government is moving to bring about better relations with neighboring Communist powers. The opening to the East has an incalculable potential. But the leadership Brandt has taken in Western Europe has meant an achievement already in hand. Largely through his influence at the meeting of the Common Market leaders at The Hague the door for Britain's eventual entry was opened.

THE BRANDT foreign policy makes the headlines in the world press. For the Chancellor himself his domestic program is pre-eminent. He believes deeply in the need to expand the entire frame of German life and particularly in education where the old order of caste and rank has kept a tight hold on the educational structure.

It is hardly necessary to add that, among other things, Brandt is an astute politician. Political skill of a high order was essential last October in welding a coalition with the Free Democrats, whose 30 seats represented the balance of power in the parliament. In the election in September the Social Democrats got 42.7 per cent of the vote while the Christian Democrats, for 20 years the majority party, got 46.1 per cent.

THE RECORD in leadership since 1945 is extraordinary. Adenauer presided over the initial partnership with the United States that saw large sums of Marshall Plan aid helping to restore German industry. Erhard gave the go-ahead for the booming economy. And now Brandt has demonstrated that the ancient prejudices of class and caste do not stand in the way of a man of drive and ability.

Plan To Scrap Welfare Reform Denied By Finch

WASHINGTON (AP) — Welfare Secretary Robert H. Finch has denied the Nixon administration is on the verge of abandoning its massive welfare reform plan—a disclaimer shared by the senior Republican on the Senate Finance Committee.

to answer questions tossed at him, but he added his department will produce all the information requested.

work and simply drew the expanded benefits.

ings, and the figures probably surprised them.

Finch, who was called back for a third day to testify today, entered a quick denial that the administration was giving up on the program, already approved by the House.

He's Sentenced To 200 Years

Williams also said he cannot support the bill in its present form.

WICHITA FALLS (AP) — George Richardson, 20, was sentenced to 200 years in prison Thursday after being convicted in the rape of a Fort Worth girl last Christmas.

'The Fugitive' Must Pay Ex-Wife

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — David Janssen, who starred in the title role of the popular television series "The Fugitive," is under court order to pay his ex-wife $3,750 monthly support.

Finch said the legislation is extremely complex and acknowledged it has been difficult

After receiving sentence, Richardson pleaded guilty to two other charges of rape, and the judge sentenced him to life imprisonment on both counts.

For example, a Chicago, Ill., four-person family would have a total income from various benefits of $6,206 if the household head earned only $1,000 a year and a smaller total income of $6,109 if the father or mother had much higher earnings of $5,500, the HEW presentation showed.

Janssen, 40, and his wife Elsie, former New York model, were married Aug. 23, 1958, in Las Vegas, Nev. They separated on their 10th anniversary.

Slick Highway Crash Kills Two

FORT WORTH (AP) — Two persons were killed Thursday when a pickup truck and a mail truck collided on a slick highway in north Tarrant County. They were Ernest Schwab, 65, and his wife, Elizabeth, 63, of Grand Valley, Colo.

Self Advertising

MADISONVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A local sign painter advertises his own trade with the sign painted on his pickup truck which reads: "A business with NO SIGN is a sign of NO BUSINESS."

A New York City family of the same size could have total income of $7,614 without any earnings at all, but only $7,743 if the family head had a job which paid $6,550.

Superior Court Judge Richard L. Wells weighed the matter a month before ruling Thursday the marriage was dissolved and that Janssen must assume the obligations of legal fees and support.

The income in these cases included benefits from food stamps or commodities, medical, and public housing.

Williams said he believed one reason the HEW witnesses seemed lukewarm was that they had compiled this information for him on the eve of the hearing.

Blood-Red Armbands Signal Beginning Of Youth Crusade

Young people in this area will be seen this week and next week sporting red armbands, but instead of demonstrating against something they will be demonstrating for something.

That something is the youth crusade which begins Sunday in the amphitheatre at Comanche Trail Park, and the armbands signify the blood of Christ.

The revival is being sponsored by the 17 Baptist churches in the Big Spring Baptist Association; but plans for the crusade originally developed entirely among the young people, the Rev. James Puckett said.

"Then they sought and won the support of their churches and the association," he said. "They have been meeting for weekly prayer and witness training sessions since January in preparation for the crusade."

The revival described as "six nights under the stars" will run from Sunday through Friday, beginning at 7:30 p.m. nightly. All Baptist churches in the association are dismissing Sunday evening services in order to help launch the crusade with a banner attendance.

David Bailey, a Southern Baptist missionary to Hong Kong now on family medical leave, will be the evangelist. He is engaged in fulltime youth evangelism while he is in the United States. He was director of the Far East Evangelistic Crusade in which Billy Graham participated.

Jerry Wayne Bernard, Houston music evangelist, will be directing the 50-voice youth choir made up of young people from all the churches. He is a former signer with the Vincent Lopez orchestra and gave up a motion picture contract to invest his life in religious service.

Eight churches will have nurseries open at the churches each night of the revival to enable parents to attend the meetings. The churches will be First Baptist Church, College Baptist, Baptist Temple, Crestview Baptist, Berea Baptist, Phillips Memorial, Westside and Hillcrest.

Committee chairmen are Janice Place, The Look Up Group (prayer); Johnny Turner, The Sing Sing Group (music); Kay Woodard, The Tell It Group (advertising); Billy Smith, The Pickpockets (finance); Bobby Bryant, The Fall Guys (management); Cathy Carlile, The Netters (counseling); Molly Condon, The Break-a-leggers (special appearances); David Draper, The Free loaders (transportation); Dana Baker, The Phonies (telephone); and Cindy Adams, The Door Mats (hospitality).

Advisors are Frank Radcliff, Bruce Hudspeth, James Puckett, Byron Orand, Pat Bullock, Charles Corley, Bill O'Dell, Mrs. Pat Bat Bullock and Guy White.

Cathy Carlile will be pianist and Cindy Adams organist. In case of bad weather the services will be held in First Baptist Church.

Pastor On Visit Here From Israel

The Rev. Vendyl M. Jones, Jerusalem, Israel, will be speaking in the Grace Baptist Church, 2000 FM 700 West, at 7 p.m. tonight and Saturday and at the Sunday morning church service.

The Rev. Jones is a native of Sudan and is in Houston where his son recently underwent a kidney transplant. He plans to return to Israel as soon as his son's health permits.

He served as a forward observer for the Israeli forces during the Six Day War. His partial color blindness makes camouflage easy for him to find. This enabled him to locate four anti-personnel bunkers and 66 anti-tank bunkers ahead of the Israeli ground advance in the liberation of the West Bank.

The Rev. Jones is president of the Judaic Christian Research Foundation, which is a duo-group effort in Jewish-Christian relations. The organization takes a positive approach in seeking a Judaic and Talmudic interpretation of the New Testament.

He has been a devoted student of Judaica for the past 15 years. He began Talmud-Torah studies in 1956 and is engaged in advanced Jewish studies in the Hebrew University.

He frequently lectures in synagogues, B'Nai B'Rith convention, Hadassah, Hillel and Zionist meetings. He has even spoken to Arab student groups on the place of Israel in the Twentieth Century.

The public is invited to attend any or all of the meetings, the Rev. Roy Honea, pastor, said.

Share Work

EDINBURGH, Scotland (AP) — Members of the (Presbyterian) Church of Scotland and the Episcopal Church in Scotland have agreed to share in the work of their churches by becoming associate members of each other's church committees. The decision was reached after a meeting of panels appointed to seek a way forward to unity. The plan is that the two Churches would work together at the local level and at the planning stage before decisions are taken.

TWO SPEAKERS Mormons Schedule Odessa Conference

Elder Hugh B. Brown, a member of the Council of Twelve, and Elder Joseph Anderson, an assistant to the Council of Twelve, Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, will speak at the Texas West Stake (diocese) Conference Saturday and Sunday in Odessa.

Brown is a former Canadian army officer, college professor and oil company executive. He served as a counselor to the late David O. McKay, president.

Although born in Salt Lake City, Utah, Brown spent much of his life in Western Canada. He practiced law and served during World War I in the Canadian Army, attaining the rank of major. He was professor of religion and coordinator of veterans affairs at Brigham Young University, Provo, Utah, and has spent years in Great Britain as a missionary and mission president.

As a businessman, he was president and manager of the Richardson Oil Development Company of Canada, Ltd, immediately prior to his call to Salt Lake City as a Church general authority.

Anderson became secretary to the first presidency of the church in 1923 and still serves in that capacity in addition to his other duties. Born in Salt Lake City, Utah, he has traveled throughout the world with the presidents of the church. He was a missionary in Switzerland and Germany as a young man. In business, he is a director, member of the executive committee and secretary-treasurer of the Deseret Book Co. in Salt Lake City.

The conference session will be held Sunday at 10 a.m. in the Odessa Chapel, Stake President Roland L. Hamblin, 3602 Maple, says visitors are welcome.

Jesuit Move

LONDON (AP) — The Jesuit House of Studies at Heythrop, Oxfordshire, is expected soon to become a part of London University. The move follows concern expressed at the Vatican Council that theological colleges should be linked with secular universities. The idea is that in future Jesuit and non-Jesuit, Roman Catholic and non-Catholic, teachers and students can approach their theology in an ecumenical setting. The Heythrop library, containing 200,000 rare books, will be available to London University students.

'Dust And Ashes'

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — The United Methodist Church's General Board of Evangelism has added a touring folk-singing team to its staff to serve at ecumenical settings. The Heythrop library, containing 200,000 rare books, will be available to London University students.

Grace Baptist Youth Host West Texas Fellowship

Young People of Grace Baptist Church with their director, Vernon Gamble, and pastor, the Rev. Roy E. Honea, hosted the West Texas Youth Fellowship meeting April 24.

Preceding the meeting dinner was served by the ladies of the church to approximately 200 people from Big Spring, Bethel Baptist Church, Midland Fellowship Baptist Church and Park Avenue Baptist Church, Odessa; and Tabernacle Baptist Church, San Angelo.

A program of special music by young people from the various churches included a vocal solo by Miss Teena Licking, who is currently Miss Teen-Age Texas.

Main youth feature of the evening was a contest during which two delegates from each church answered Bible questions and quoted passages of Scripture in an effort to achieve custody of the new silver traveling trophy which will find a permanent home at the end of the year in the church whose delegates have been able to win it most often. The trophy was won this first time by Judy Taylor and Jackie Acuff, delegates from Grace Baptist Church, Big Spring.

Sermon of the evening was brought by the Rev. Charles Harper, former assistant pastor of Grace Baptist Church and presently pastor of Harmony Hills Baptist Church, San Antonio. He also brought the Sunday morning sermon at Grace Baptist Church.

Next meeting of the West Texas Youth Fellowship will be May 29 at the Fellowship Baptist Church, Odessa.

Muny Invitational Begins Saturday

Most of the registrations are likely to take place today in the third annual Big Spring Muny Invitational Golf tournament, which will be held Saturday and Sunday at the public links course in the Comanche Trail park here.

All contestants will play 18 holes Saturday. Championship flights will go 27 holes Sunday while players in all other flights play 18 Sunday.

No entries will be accepted after 7 o'clock today, club pro Charley Brantley has announced. Pairings will be drawn up immediately after the deadline.

All entries must have an approved handicap card, checked out by their club pro. The handicap cards will be used only to determine in which flight a golfer competes.

The tournament committee is reserving the right to make adjustments on all handicaps.

Defending champion in the tournament is Marvin Williams, who likely will be a tough competition again this time.

The titlist in the inaugural event two years ago was Robb Smith, who since has moved from town and likely won't be back.

Golfers who wish to take guests to the barbecue can do so at an extra charge of $2 per person. The barbecue will be catered. Last year, 104 players competed in the event.

The course is in good shape for the tournament, having benefitted from a recent rain.

LITTLE MAN, BIG TALENT — Mack Calvin (20) of the Los Angeles Stars, at 6 feet, is small as professional basketball players go. The 22-year-old rookie gave the Denver Rockets fits Thursday night as he chipped in with 33 points in a losing cause as the Rockets won in overtime 123-113 to take the first game of the western division finals in the ABA. Calvin (20) is guarded by Lonnie Wright (42) and Spencer Haywood (24) of the Rockets.

HC Linksters In Conference

ROSWELL, N.M. — Howard County Junior College's golf team is in Roswell today, where play gets under way in the 54-hole Western Conference meet.

The Hawks get a last chance to overtake pace-setting Odessa College in the league standings.

The first 27 holes of play will count toward the WC championship. It serves to make up for a match weathered out earlier this year.

HC's chances have been enhanced by the return to action of freshman Tommy Jackson, who was held out of action during two matches for disciplinary reasons.

A finish among the top three teams in today's play will clinch first place for the Wranglers, regardless of how HC fares.

Both teams are pointing for the National JC tournament scheduled in Miami Beach, Fla., June 8-12.

All-conference selections are awarded to the five golfers posting the best overall scores in the Roswell meet.

Right now, it appears Odessa will have at least three boys on the elite squad. They are Si Harris, Bart Schuerman and Scott Stegner.

Steers Visit Eagle Field

A bone-tired Big Spring High School baseball team returns to Abilene Saturday to play its third game of the week.

The Longhorns, now occupying the cellar position in the East Zone of District 3-AAAA, will seek their first win of the season in four starts against Abilene High in a 2 p.m. contest.

Abilene needs a win to stay in striking distance of pace-setting San Angelo.

The Steers had to go 12 innings against San Angelo here last Tuesday, ultimately losing to the Bobcats, 2-1. Against Abilene-Cooper the following day, the locals couldn't do anything right and yielded a 10-4 decision.

Coach Oakey Hagood of Big Spring has nominated David Englert to pitch against the Eagles. Englert looked very good in a one-inning stint against Cooper Wednesday.

Hagood will save his ace, Jimmy Farris, for the Steers' final home game Tuesday against Cooper.

Firebirds Rally To Edge Steers

The Firebirds scored eight runs in the final inning to edge the Steers, 15-14, in American Minor League play here Thursday.

Scott Vick clubbed four hits, including a triple, for the Steers, who outlit the winners by a margin of 15-14.

Tommy Belcher was the winning pitcher. The Firebirds are now 2-0 in the race while the Steers were making their first start.

Super Scores Are Likely At Dallas

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Host professional Gene Shields looked out the window of the Preston Trails Golf Club at the torrential rains lashing the course and said "If it ever clears off, there will be some super scores show here."

A field of 144 was to give it another go today in the rain-delayed $100,000 Byron Nelson Golf Classic and winter rules were in force.

"They get to improve that lie," Shields said. "That means they can fire the ball at the pin with better accuracy and because the greens are damp it's going to stop quick for closer birdie putts."

Shields, who knows every blade of wet grass over the soggy, rolling layout, said he liked the chances of South African Gary Player and long-knocking Jack Nicklaus.

"Nicklaus is driving so well and Player is shooting the best golf of his life and can play under any conditions," Shields said.

The already soaked course was buffeted by heavy rains

Stan Bahnsen First Yankee To Go Route

By The Associated Press

The New York Yankees have been waiting for Stan Bahnsen to become a complete pitcher. Thursday night he became the only one they have.

In the 21st game of the season, the Yankees finally got complete game No. 1, and it wasn't from pitching aces Mel Stottlemyre or Fritz Peterson but rather from the one-time Bahnsen burner, whose flame flickered last season after he was 17-12 and Rookie of the Year in 1968.

The 25-year-old right-hander throttled the California Angels on five hits 1-0 and reversed his own personal shutout trend. He had been in the losing end of the two blanks the Yanks suffered earlier.

Elsewhere in the American League, Kansas City stopped Detroit 3-2 on Bob Oliver's 10th-inning double. Washington bombed Milwaukee 12-2, the Chicago White Sox clipped Baltimore 6-3, Minnesota whipped Cleveland 4-1 and Boston outlasted Oakland 8-7.

Roy White's long sacrifice fly in the third inning following singles by Horace Clarke and Bobby Murcer gave Bahnsen his 1-0 lead and he protected it with an assortment of fast balls, curves, sliders and change-ups.

He struck out only two Angels but picked up 17 outs on ground balls.

"He was making them hit the breaking ball," said manager Ralph Houk. "I thought the way he mixed up his pitches was the best ever for him. In so many games he looks like he's trying to throw the ball by the hitters. He'll strike out so many in the first four or five innings, then get his pitches up and get hurt."

Houk had the bullpen ready to go after Sandy Alomar opened the ninth with his third hit. But he went with Bahnsen and didn't have to regret it as Bill Boss bounced into a double play and Jim Fregosi flew out.

Kansas City nipped Detroit when Oliver slammed a two-out double in the 10th following a walk to Amos Otis. Otis and Joe Keough hit solo homers for the Royals in the sixth.

City Softball Play Nearing

Competition begins Monday in the four-team City Softball league and continues two nights a week through July 2.

Fleeting teams in the circuit this year are Neel's Transfer, the Big Spring Merchants, Morton's Foods and Bill Reed Insurance.

Charles (Bean) Williams is commissioner of the league. The schedule:

Ex-BS Coach Out At Mason High

MASON — Jimmy Pope, former Big Spring Junior High coach, has resigned as head basketball coach at Mason High School.

Melvin Burns of Menard was named to replace Pope. In three seasons, Pope's teams won 60 and lost 29 and captured district titles both in 1969 and '70.

Burns graduated from North Texas State University in 1964. He is a native of Wink.

Tabbies Hang Up Second Victory

The Cats won their second straight Texas Little League decision Wednesday night, flogging the winless Tigers by a score of 10-5.

Cats' pitcher, Tiger, struck out 10 batters and pitched a complete game. Tigers' pitcher, Tiger, pitched 6 1/3 innings, allowing 10 runs, 10 hits and 10 errors.

Terlago Is Given Nod In Run For The Roses

LOUISVILLE (AP) — A field of 18 3-year-olds, the lack of a solid favorite and Diane Crump. That's the mixture ready to boil over in Saturday's wide-open and history-making Kentucky Derby.

The catalyst is Miss Crump, who will be the first girl jockey to ride in America's most famous horse race.

Lacking an attention-getting colt, such as Majestic Prince, this 96th renewal of the Derby at Churchill Downs soared in public interest when the 21-year-old Miss Crump was named to ride W. L. Lyons' Brown's Fathom.

DOWN AT 7-2 The first colt entered Thursday for the 1 1/4-mile, $125,000-added classic was Sonny Werblin's Silent Screen, the 1969 juvenile champion who has won only one of four starts this year, and the last was William C. Robinson Jr.'s Admiral's Shield, this 96th renewal of the Derby winner of Tuesday's one-mile Derby Trial.

Those whose names passed the entry box in between included Samuel J. Agnew's Terlago, the Santa Anita Derby winner and the early 7-2 pick for Saturday, and Raymond Curtis My Dad George, the 4-1 second pick who won the Flamingo, Florida Derby and Stepping Stone Purse consecutively.

If all 18 leave the gate at 4:40 p.m., CDT, the gross purse will be a Derby record $171,300, with a record $128,800 to the winner. Coverage on television will be from 4:55 p.m. and on radio from 4:30 p.m. CBS will handle both.

The forecast calls for mild weather with a chance of thunder showers. The usual crowd—traditionally estimated—by Churchill Downs at 100,000—will be on hand.

Also entered were the Ethel D. Jacobs pair of Personality and High Echelon, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Gary's Corn Off The Cob, Alan Magerman's George Lewis, Robert Lehmann's Dust Commander, Mrs. J. S. Dean Jr.'s Holy Land, Charles Engelhard's Protanto and Her-Aac Stable's Naska.

Joining Fathom as field horses—horses grouped as one betting interest—were Lin-Drake Farm's Dr. Behrman, Steve Carson and Irving Apple's Rancho Lejos, Dr. Richard Kuhn's and Walter Hickey's Robin's Bug, the Wolfson Brothers' Native Royalty and E. V. Benjamin III's and J. M. Jones Jr.'s Action Getter.

Bill Shoemaker will take Terlago out of the No. 14 post, with My Dad George just inside him under Ray Broussard. Bill Hartack will send George Lewis out of the No. 1 slot and Angel Cordero Jr. will leave No. 18 on Corn Off The Cob. Corn Off The Cob is the co-third favorite at 5-1, with High Echelon, No. 12, and Larry Adams, and Personality, No. 17, and Eddie Belmonte.

Charles Finley, owner of the Oakland A's, says big league baseball didn't succeed in Seattle because the pilots were playing their games in a hock sty.

"And who's gonna watch a game in a plegen?" asked Finley. Finley, convinced that the San Francisco Bay area can support two big league baseball teams, is spending $300,000 on advertising and promotion this year. His advertising budget is triple what it was a year ago.

Pete Shaffer, who could make quite a difference in Big Spring's defensive football play next fall, moved from here to San Angelo at the age of 11 after an outstanding year in Little League ball.

When his name was thrown in the hopper for Little League play down there, he fetched more points in the preseason "sale" of players than any other player whose name was placed in the mart.

Pete was killed much of last fall with what was diagnosed as a back injury at the time but apparently he'll be able to go full throttle when the Steers open spring workouts next week.

Rod Curl, who's had lots of TV exposure in the recent professional golf tournaments, came close to dropping off the circuit before a recent satellite tournament because he had gone through practically all of a $12,000 expense fund which had been set up for him.

Curl, who is part Indian, won $1,700 in the Magnolia Open and followed that with a $3,737 share of the New Orleans purse, however.

Changes Curl has made in his swing (he had been hooking) brought about the improvement in his game.

Since his 40th birthday in 1963, knuckle ball pitcher Hoyt Wilhelm has pitched in more than 360 big league games, which average out to about 60 a year. His earned-run average during that time has been less than 2.00.

Clovis Hale, director of athletics of the local public schools, says the Steer tennis post vacated recently by Royce Cox (who moves over to become the golf mentor) won't be filled until the end of school.

Harry Heilmann, who went to his reward in 1951 after accumulating a big league career batting average of .342, played alongside Ty Cobb and against such baseball immortals as Tris Speaker, Babe Ruth and George Sisler.

Asked once to identify the greatest hitter he ever saw, he raised a few eyebrows when he replied: "Bill Terry."

Heilmann spent most of his time in the American league but he did glimpse Terry several times in his sunset years, when Harry was with Cincinnati and Terry was punishing enemy pitchers while wearing the uniform of the New York Giants.

Terry finished at .401 for the Giants in 1930 and Heilmann said Bill should have hit .600 that year.

"Almost every game he got his two for four," Heilmann explained, "but he was robbed a lot, too. I remember one series when Leo Durocher was playing with the Reds and he made four diving catches of line drives by Bill. They should have all been hits."

Harry was no shrinking violet at the plate. In 1923, he hit .403 for Detroit. That came a year after Cobb had feasted on American league pitching with a .401 norm.

In 1927, the year Babe Ruth clubbed 60 home runs, Heilmann lacked two percentage points of reaching .400.

Spike Dykes, who tendered his resignation here earlier this year to become head football coach and athletic director at Alice, has told intimates 1971 may be "his year" at the Valley school. He could surprise a few teams down that way this fall, too, neutral observers say.

LOOKING 'EM OVER With Tommy Hart

Promoters of the Odessa Pro-Am golf tournament have been strangely reticent about releasing dates for this year's meet, lending credence to stories that the storied event will be cancelled.

The tournament benefitted hugely from nationwide publicity when Don Cherry talked Dean Martin into competing for a couple of years but entertainers are fickle and Martin begged off last year, claiming commitments in Hollywood.

However, the real villain threatens to be the PGA, which doesn't want any of its high-priced talent competing for any loot under $100,000.

There is talk the Odessa people will drop their purse back to $20,000 from $35,000. If they do, however, they want to get off the nut in advance by charging each team $200 for the privilege of playing. A pro could ante up the money. An amateur might have some misgivings about meeting the price.

Pros in the North Texas chapter of the PGA alone would be eligible. That would still leave the Odessa group with an attractive potential because people like Bruce Crampton, the Cupit brothers, Don January, Billy Maxwell, Miller Barber, Gay Brewer and Don Messange would be eligible. Still, some of those might beg off. Most have developed champagne tastes and the Odessa tournament would offer a beer income.

Surely the Odessans will commit themselves one way or another before long.

Charles Finley, owner of the Oakland A's, says big league baseball didn't succeed in Seattle because the pilots were playing their games in a hock sty.

"And who's gonna watch a game in a plegen?" asked Finley. Finley, convinced that the San Francisco Bay area can support two big league baseball teams, is spending $300,000 on advertising and promotion this year. His advertising budget is triple what it was a year ago.

Texan Tames Giants Behind Mets, 4-1

By The Associated Press

Nolan Ryan dazzled National League batters during April but the flame-throwing New York Mets' right-hander closed out the month on a gradual downhill slide.

The 23-year-old speedballer set down San Francisco 4-1 Thursday, limiting the Giants to three hits while striking out eight and walking eight. Not a bad performance, however, considering Ryan's two previous starts.

—A one-hitter in a 7-0 victory

PLAYS IN 1,000 CONSECUTIVE GAMES — Chicago Cubs' Billy Williams holds sign with Roman numerals of 999 plus 1 after he became the first player in National League history to play in 1,000 consecutive games Thursday night in Atlanta, Ga., in game with the Atlanta Braves.

over Philadelphia on April 18, striking out 15 batters and —A two-hitter in which he dropped a 1-0 decision to Los Angeles, April 25, striking out five.

Thursday's performance by the Alvin, Tex., resident, evened his record in two-plus major league seasons to 14-14 and he has now struck out 259 batters in 252 innings.

IMPRESSIVE RECORD
The 6-foot-2, 195-pounder's credentials for this season: An 0.69 earned run average in 26 innings, two earned runs, six hits, 28 strikeouts, 20 walks and a 2-1 record.

Atlanta creamed Chicago 9-2 and Los Angeles edged Montreal 2-1 in the only other NL games played. Houston at St. Louis was called by rain.

Ryan's third complete game of the season gave him more than he had all of last year when he finished but two games in a 6-3 season. His victory also was the world champion Mets 10th triumph in April, establishing a club record. Ryan's eight bases on balls also set a club record.

Ryan was supported by Tommie Agee's homer and a two-run single by Joe Foy. Bud Harrelson tripled and was driven home by Cleon Jones' single for the Mets other tally. The Giants lone run came on a walk, a single by Hal Lanier, a sacrifice and Bobby Bonds' groundout.

Also closing out a torrid month of April was the hot-hitting left fielder of the Braves, Rico Carty. Carty boomed two homers, including a grand slam in the first inning and Hank Aaron and Hal King chipped in with solo blasts in the Braves rout of the Cubs.

GETS A PAIR
Carty's homers, his sixth and seventh of the season, also stretched his hitting streak to 20 games and upped his batting average to .423, second best in the league. He also has driven in 23 runs.

George Stone, 3-1 stopped the Cubs on six hits and struck out a career high of 10 batters.

Jim Hickman rapped a homer off the southpaw in the ninth inning, making a total of 34 round-trippers hit out of Atlanta Stadium in nine games. All five blasts Thursday night carried over 400 feet with Aaron's estimated at over 500 feet.

Chicago's Billy Williams became the first player in NL history to play in 1,000 straight games but went hitless in four trips.

Rookie right-hander Sandy Vance scattered four hits in gaining his first major league victory and got all the support he needed when the Dodgers scored twice in the opening inning.

Singles by Maury Wills and Ted Sizemore and a walk to Willie Davis loaded the bases. Andy Kosco struck out but Wes Parker walked to force in one run and a forceout bouncer by Willie Crawford brought in the other.

Montreal's run came in the fourth when Kosco slammed into the right field wall while chasing Bobby Wine's fly ball. Wine flew around the bases for an inside-the-park homer and Kosco had to leave the game with a bruised cheekbone and a laceration inside his ear.

Vance, a 23-year-old, recalled from the Pacific Coast League to fill Bill Singer's spot in the starting rotation, struck out three and walked three.

Cotton Mize Hurls No-Hit Contest

Cotton Mize no-hit the Merchants in leading Morton's Foods to a 14-0 victory and Neel's Transfer edged Bill Reed Insurance, 7-6, in City Softball league practice games staged on the Comanche Trail park diamond Thursday night.

Each game went only five innings.

Mize fanned eight and allowed only one runner to reach base. That was Charles Burdett, who walked with one out in the second and was sacrificed to second by Rowland Fryar. Morton's scored all its runs in the first three innings and every man in the lineup hit safely at least once. Jimmy Roger and Tom Arista had home runs for Morton's.

Neel's exploded for all seven of its runs in the second, then held on to win. Bobby Brasel smashed a triple for the winners.

Reed's fought back with five runs in the third and had runners on board in each of the final two rounds but couldn't quite pull it off.

Frank Long, on the hill for Neel's, set Reed's down with four hits.

Indianan Signed By Texas A&I

KINGSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Texas A&I has been busy signing both football and basketball schoolboy stars to letters of intent.

The Javelinas announced Thursday they signed 250-pound all-Indiana tackle Jim Wendling to a football letter and 6-foot-8, 195-pound Stephen Weems of San Antonio McCollum to a basketball letter of intent.

Evans Is Entered In Lubbock Meet

Coach Glenn Petty and Big Spring High School sprinter Herman Evans go to Lubbock Saturday for a State Qualifiers track and field meet.

Evans earned the invitation by finishing second in the 100-yard dash in Regional competition at Odessa last week.

As the name of the meet implies, only those who have qualified for the state meet are eligible to compete in Lubbock.

The show gets under way at 2 p.m. and every event will be a final.

Neill Dazzles In A&M Drill

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Aggies have found themselves an excellent running back prospect in spring football training.

He's Doug Neill, a 6-foot-2, 195-pound junior from Houston.

Neill rolled up 147 yards in nine carries and scored on runs of 54 and 32 yards Thursday night as the Maroons bombed the Whites 42-0 in a controlled scrimmage.

Communism Is Cause Of 'Generation Gap'

Tactics used by defendants and lawyers in the "Chicago Seven" trial to get a mistrial declared were detailed by Judge Ralph Caton, 118th Judicial District, when he was guest speaker Tuesday for the National Secretaries Association. Judge Caton cited communism as a major factor in "what's going on in the United States today." He said, "They are trying to break down our laws, police forces, educational institutions, the family and judicial system."

In Judge Caton's opinion, communism is the main cause of the present "generation gap."

"We need to get behind and support our courts and police department," he said, "because they need help to get the job done in ridding this nation of crime, riots, looting and other disturbances." The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Bill M. Sheppard, vice president.

The meeting was a salad supper at the Veterans Administration Hospital with Mrs. Jerry Callahan presiding.

Mrs. W. A. Bryans, nominating committee chairman, presented a proposed officer slate which was accepted. To be installed May 26 at Cosden Country Club are Mrs. Sheppard, president; Mrs. Frank Long, vice president; Mrs. E. W. Seitzler, recording secretary; Mrs. Sue Rathoff, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. John Papskar, treasurer.

A report on the recent NSA seminar was given by Mrs. Long, and members were urged to attend a meeting at 7 p.m., April 30, of the Future Secretaries Association. An educational film will be shown at that time.

Mrs. Bryans announced that the first Bridge Marathon Awards party will be held at 7:30 p.m., May 7, in the Pioneer Gas Flame Room, and the second party is scheduled June 4.

Petterson Talks To Homemakers

Paul Petterson of River-Welch Funeral Home was guest speaker at the meeting of Howard County Young Homemakers Monday in Texas Electric Reddy Room. He explained the history of funerals which began with the ancient Egyptians. He told of the importance of being prepared for death and what to do when a death occurs. Petterson also described different customs observed by major religions in funerals. Refreshments were served by Mrs. R. L. Coates.

In Nacogdoches To See Grandson

WESTBROOK (SC) — Mrs. Keith Williamson is visiting her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Howard Williamson, and new grandson, James Gregory, in the home of the Gaylon Longs, Nacogdoches.

The P. E. Clawsons, Coahoma, have returned from a vacation in East Texas.

Boutique Sale Is Set Saturday

A boutique sale will be held Saturday in Highland Center Mall by the Mothers Club of the Immaculate Heart of Mary School. Mrs. Wayne Rock is chairman. Handmade articles including ceramics, decorative flowers, decoupage and needlework will be for sale. This is the last fund-raising project for the club this school year.

Henry Brewer, Mrs. James Fisher, Mrs. Mike Hull, Mrs. Pete Jenkins, Mrs. Norman Krisle and Mrs. Eddie Trice. Mrs. Jenkins was also welcomed as a new member of Civinettes.

A Mexican supper for Civinettes and their husbands was planned for 7:30 p.m., May 16, in the home of Mrs. Brewer, 2513 Carol. Also scheduled was a hot dog supper at 7:30 p.m., June 30, for the Work Village at Big Spring State Hospital when the high school girls' sextet will perform. The next regular meeting will be May 26 in the home of Mrs. Fisher, 15-B Albrook.

Flower Show Is Scheduled At Y

"Time For Everything Portrayed with Flowers," a flower show, will be presented by Planter's Garden Club Saturday at the YMCA. The show is open to the public 3-7 p.m. with free admission.

Big Spring Civinettes Attending Convention

The Civinettes met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. D. W. Overman, 2619 Larry. Plans were made to attend the Texas District, Ladies of Civitan meeting May 1-3 in Austin. The women are meeting concurrently with the Texas Civitan annual convention. The nominating committee, composed of Civinette presidents of their delegates, will prepare a slate of officers for election by Civinettes Saturday.

Duplicate Bridge Winners Named

First place winners of duplicate bridge games Wednesday at Big Spring Country Club were Mrs. Charles Tompkins and Mrs. J. H. Fish. Mrs. Ward Hall and Mrs. Ayrta McGann, were second; and Mrs. D. A. Brazel and Mrs. Ray McMahan, third.

Mrs. Petty Is Speaker

A talk commemorating the 151st birthday of Thomas Wiley, founder of the IOOF, was given by Mrs. J. R. Petty at the Tuesday meeting of Big Spring Rebekah Lodge 284 in the IOOF Hall. Mrs. Petty's talk stressed IOOF beliefs when she asked, "What are we doing for the sick, lonely and aged?" Mrs. Melvin Newton recited an original poem, "Being A Rebekah."

'The Awareness Of Danger' Talk Given At Business Women's Club

Mrs. Bert Affleck and Mrs. Bill Ward presented a skit, "The Awareness of Danger," Tuesday at the meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club at Coker's Restaurant.

In discussing the mounting toll of people suffering from malnutrition, Mrs. Affleck said, "The loss of valuable nutrients in fruits and vegetables from the fields and gardens to the dining table is tremendous. Mothers and housewives are prone to throw away the most nutritious parts of fruits and vegetables, such as the peelings, skins and outer leaves." Other health aspects were discussed such as causes of infections, antibodies and how they fight disease.

"Health, not sickness, is the greatest of medical mysteries," Mrs. Affleck concluded. She is the chairman of the program and safety committee, which hosted the meeting. Members are Mrs. Ward, Miss Ruth Dyer and Mrs. Oma Buchanan. Tables were decorated with arrangements of fruit and vegetables.

Mrs. Weldon Nuckolls presided at the meeting. Miss

Movelda Rhine announced the candidacy of Mrs. Walter Snead, for third state vice president in the upcoming election of state officers. Mrs. Snead is former District 8 director. Miss Rhine urged the club to support Mrs. Snead.

The next meeting will be May 12 at Pioneer Gas Flame Room. Hostesses will be members of the civic participation committee headed by Mrs. Mamie Roberts.

Wildflowers Shown To Grady HD Club

STANTON (SC) — Grady Home Demonstration Club members met at the Baptist Camp for an illustrated talk on wild flowers by the camp custodian, Mrs. James Lueb. Mrs. Lueb was the hostess. Mrs. Wiley Williams gave the devotion.

Mrs. Eddie Odom was chosen delegate to the Texas HD Association meeting. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Charles Mitchell with Mrs. James Eiland, county HD agent, speaking on food preservation.

General Assembly Of WSCS To Meet

The general assembly of the Women's Society of Christian Service, held every four years, was described at the Tuesday meeting of the First United Methodist WSCS. Mrs. H. H. Stephens and Mrs. Dale Vaughn described the purposes and details of the assembly, which will be held May 7-10 in Houston. The theme this year is "Choose Life."

The speakers said purposes of the assembly are to bring United Methodist women together, to confront them with areas of critical need and concern, to challenge them with responsible action and to help them achieve a sense of unity in worship and missions.

Mrs. R. W. Thompson played the piano for the program, which concluded with a report on the recent Northwest Texas Conference in Lubbock by Mrs. Leo Gee, Mrs. Stephens, Mrs. Clyde Johnston and Mrs. Max Fitzhugh plan to attend the general assembly.

A LOVELIER YOU A Lovely Complexion Needs Constant Care

By MARY SUE MILLER

Never stretch your luck so far that you take a lovely complexion for granted. For a clear, dewy skin, Miss Teen can thank her lucky stars and her mother's beauty training.

But, once a woman passes voting age, only correct and constant care preserves a normal complexion from drying for long. An effective routine includes these steps:

1. Upon a change of makeup and before retiring, float away an accumulation of cosmetics and dust with a creamy remover. Never neglect this step or deep-down cleanliness will elude you. And it is basic to the complexion's well-being.
2. Gently wash the face in the morning and after cosmetic removal at bedtime with a super-fatted soap. To freshen as needed between washings, use a mild skin freshener.
3. Apply a cream or skin-oil on retiring. It will have emollient and moisturizing features, but it will be of the simplest formula and lightest texture. More sophisticated products are not intended for use on normal skins.
4. By the same token, make sure your makeup is filmy. Never masky.

In addition to the foregoing, there are several preservatives especially useful in the summertime. A stick of eye cream and a moisturized sunburn preventative would stave off a seasonal toll of dryness.

FOR DRY SKIN:
For ways to keep past-30 skin smooth and dewy, order my leaflet, "New Beauty for Dry Skin." It tells in personalized steps how to cleanse, correct, protect and make up for dryness. To obtain your copy, write to Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing self-addressed, stamped envelope and 15 cents in coin.

SA Home Leaguers Plan For Rally

Ladies Home League members met Wednesday at the Salvation Army Citadel to clean, press and repair Girl Guard and Sunbeam uniforms for the annual area rally in San Angelo Saturday. Twenty-five girls from Big Spring plan to attend the competition with Guards and Sunbeams from Abilene, Midland, Odessa and San Angelo.

Last year the Big Spring Sunbeams and Guards both won first place trophies which enabled them to attend the state competition in July in Midlothian. The girls compete in quizzes, relays, games and skits. Mrs. Joe Saint and Mrs. R. M. Moore will accompany the girls to San Angelo.

John A. Kee Rebekahs Hear Program On IOOF

Mrs. Homer Petty was installed as financial secretary when John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge met Tuesday with Mrs. Grady C. Beck, noble grand, presiding.

Mrs. Everett Hodd, lodge deputy, conducted the installation with the assistance of Mrs. Jones Lamar, deputy marshal; Mrs. Jim Ferguson, deputy chaplain; Mrs. H. F. Jarrett, deputy financial secretary; and Mrs. Charlie Boland, musician.

The charter was draped for the late Mrs. Ann Eberly by Mrs. John Cate, funeral marshal, assisted by Mrs. W. E. Rayburn, Mrs. M. R. Ray, Mrs. Johnnie Acuff, Mrs. K. C. Webb and Mrs. W. R. Loftis.

Mrs. Alton Allen presented a program on Odd Fellows, followed by lodge instruction by Mrs. Hood. Twenty-three visits to the sick were reported. Introduced as a guest was Mrs. George K. MacConnell.

Miss Linda Magnor Honored By Shower

Miss Linda Magnor, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. George Magnor, Vincent, was honored with a bridal shower Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Jack Wolf.

The bride-elect was given a yellow carnation corsage sprinkled with tiny wedding bells. The corsage complemented her yellow dress with matching scarf.

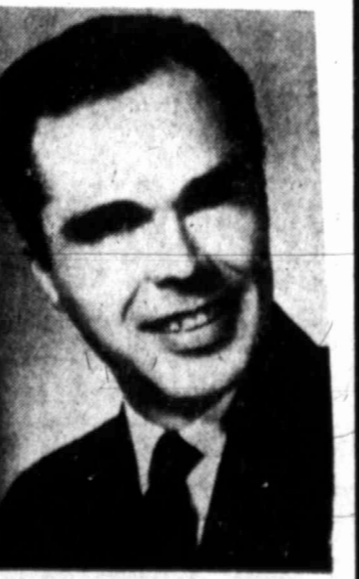

The refreshment table was centered with a crystal bowl filled with yellow and white spring flowers, and crystal and silver appointments were used. Guests were registered by Mrs. Tommy Wyrick. Cohostesses were Mrs. Claude Hodnett, Mrs. John Summer, Mrs. Jack Dunn, Mrs. Elmo Dunn, Mrs. Hay Wilson, Mrs. Terel Shafer, Mrs. LaRoy Shafer and Mrs. Jim Hodnett.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Russel Dunn, Jeralyn Dunn and Mrs. Mardell Foster, all of Colorado City, and Mrs. Guy White, Coahoma.

Miss Magnor and Robert Boyd of Massachusetts plan to marry Friday in the First Baptist Church in Vincent with the Rev. Magnor officiating.
