The first big holiday weekend of what is known to many as the "vacation season" begins today, but J.U. Parker, President of the Texas Safety Association, says it may be more accurately described as "the start of the summer mayhem season."

The Memorial Day holiday always has been one of the busiest and therefore one of the worst from the standpoint of accidents. On most years it is the first weekend following the end of public school terms and consequenly many families are all set to take their first big trip of the season.

This will not be the case in Snyder this time, since local schools are still in session and cannot even take off for Memorial Day itself on Monday because they lost some classroom time back in the winter because of weather. Many public schools have finished up, however, and the traffic is due to be just about as heavy as usual on most highways.

The TSA president notes that traffic accidents alone claimed 39 lives in Texas last Memorial Day weekend and he predicts that unless corrective action is taken, as many as 45 persons could lose their lives on Texas highways between 6 p.m. today and midnight Monday.

Some alert observers have sounded the alarm on proposed legislation now before Congressional committees dealing with unions of government employes. One of the measures now before a subcommittee would legalize strikes by employes of state and local governments.

One, known as the Clay Bill, would make the "agency shop" mandatory, which means that employes would pay union dues as a condition of employment without actually having to become union members.

A former assistant counsel for the United Auto Workers, Kurt L. Hanslowe, who now is on the faculty at Conrell, was quoted in one of the business journals recently on the topic of the union shop in government agencies: "The union shop in public employment has the potential of becoming a neat back-scratching mechanism, whereby public employe representatives and politicians each reinforce the others' interest and domain, with the public employe and the individual citizen left to look on, while his employment conditions, his tax rate and public policies generally are decided by entrenched and mutually supportive government officials and collective bargaining representatives over whom the public has diminishing control."

That could make NBL and Sharpstown look like small potatoes. If you are concerned about this, your Congressman and U.S. Senators should be so advised.

US Trade Deficit Over $2 Billion

By BILL NEIKIRK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's trade deficit soared past $2 billion in April, giving the country its worst start ever in trading with other nations.

The Commerce Department said the value of imports exceeded exports by $699.4 million in April, second worst monthly deficit in history. It put the total deficit for the year at just over $2.2 billion.

Last year, the United States recorded its first annual trade deficit in history when the value of imports exceeded exports by $2 billion.

Unless there is a turnaround in the trade figures in the latter part of the year, it appears that this year will be the worst on record.

A spokesman for the Commerce Department blamed the continued deficit on the fact that the U.S. economy is expanding fast, making it a good market for foreign imports, while other economies of the world are sluggish, making them bad markets for U.S. exports.

Figures showed that seasonally adjusted imports in April totaled $4.459 billion compared with $3.760 billion in exports.

The situation got worse in April because the nation shipped out fewer big jumbo jets than it did in March.

While exports declined, imports stayed at almost the same level, showing a small drop of 0.3 per cent.

Junior Rodeo Opens Tonight

Some 300 contestants are expected to participate in an American Junior Rodeo Association rodeo at the arena west of town at 8 o'clock tonight.

The Scurry County Rodeo Association is sponsoring the rodeo. Officers of the Association are J.N. Eicke, president; Tommy Riley, secretary-treasurer, and directors Jerry Springer, Sidney Johnson, Ralph Miller, John Ward and Bill Zimmerman.

Gary and Mike Ferguson will be riding judges. Bill Zimmerman will be the field judge. Tom Koger will be the announcer. Raymond Robinson will be the barrier judge. Barbara Sojourner is the timer. Ila Ruth Newton and David Lunsford are chute bosses, and Robert Meskin will be the clown.

Board Working On New Budget

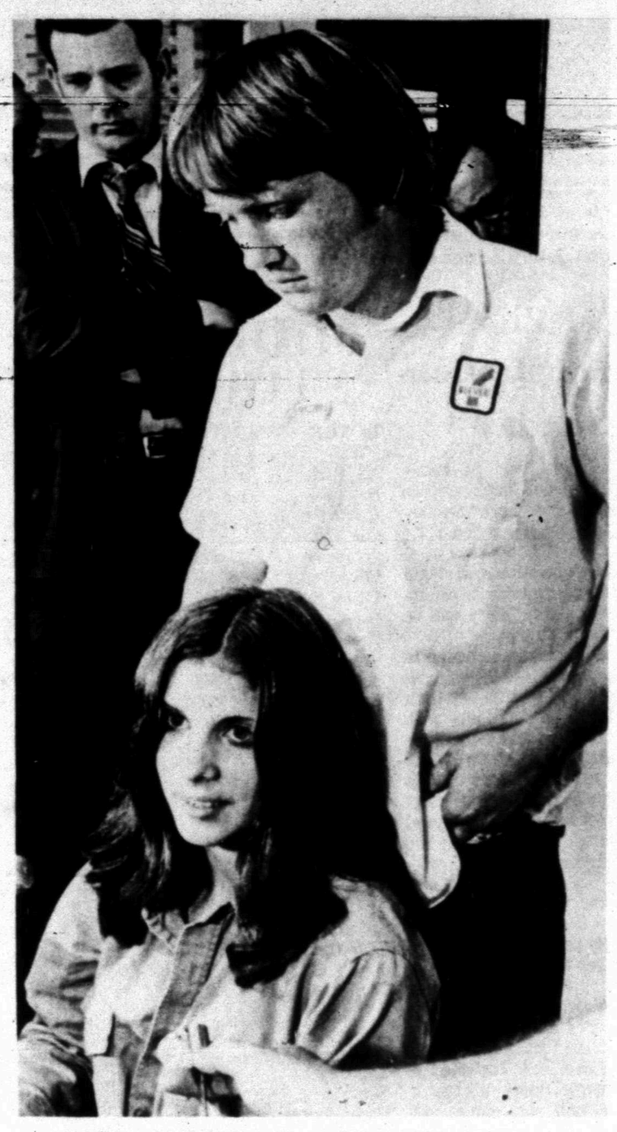
The Snyder Public School Board, meeting in a budget work session last night, approved participation in the summer program at the Scurry County Boys Club and appropriated $600 for that purpose.

Also approved was a proposal to increase the allowance for meals for students on school trips to $2 each. The allowance had been $1.50 each.

Also approved was a request by Boy Scouts to borrow a bus to transport local scouts to the Scout Ranch in the Davis Mountains.

Retirement of three teachers, Hazel Buswell, Margaret Key and Jewell Summers, as of May 31 was approved. They already had requested early retirement, which had been approved, and the effective day of May 31 was set last night at their request.

Remainder of the session was devoted to a study of budget proposals for 1972-73. Another work session on the new budget is set for Monday night.



AFTER ORDEAL—Mrs. Meredith Roberts of Waco talks with newsmen after her release by a robber who took her hostage in Waco early Thursday. She is shown with her husband. Budget Session Called June 14

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP (— Gov. Preston Smith has called the Legislature into special session, June 14 to adopt a state budget but no new taxes.

He said he is thinking about eight alternatives to cut or delay one potential source of new taxes—welfare.

"I said to the people of Texas (during his losing campaign for re-election) we would have no new taxes in that special session, and I think they believe what I say," Smith told a news conference.

The governor also said:

—He has called out 150 National Guard members from Austin and San Antonio on a volunteer basis to help the Highway Patrol during the Memorial Day weekend, which starts tonight.

—He has written letters to all Texas congressmen, asking them to vote for a senate-approved compromise bill increasing federal college aid and delaying the effective date of federal court busing orders until Jan. 1, 1974.

Smith's call for the session included only one subject: passage of state appropriations for the year starting Sept. 1, to replace the budget vetoed by Smith last June.

He said he also would allow the lawmakers to consider a code of ethics for state officials and repeal of a law requiring independent braking systems on trailers.

In the past, legislators have approved bills that were not included in special session calls. But Smith said this was because no one objected. He said he doubted an attempt to pass a tax bill would go without objection.

What if the unexpected happened, and the legislature—with close to a majority of lame ducks—did pass a tax bill?

"That would call for a great deal of thought about what the money was going to be spent for. But if it was outside the things we ask for, of course we would veto it," Smith said.

Mustang Contract Is Ruled Valid

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin ruled today that the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission contract to buy part of Mustang Island is valid.

He said he presumes the commission will honor the contract.

Martin said, "The contract involving the acquisition of Mustang Island by the State of Texas constitutes a valid, binding obligation of the State of Texas and the contractual obligations of the present commission are to carry out the terms and conditions [illegible]."

His legal opinion—binding unless overturned by the courts—went to Executive Director James U. Cross of the Parks and Wildlife Department.

The Parks and Wildlife Commission voted 2-1 in 1970 to buy some 3,800 acres of the island, near Corpus Christi, from Mrs. Sam E. Wilson Jr. of Corpus Christi for $4.2 million; with half the money coming from the federal government.

The check for the state's half has been locked away in a safe, pending the outcome of a lawsuit filed by former commission chairman Pearce Johnson of Austin to block the purchase. Johnson was on the short end of the 2-1 vote.

Summer School To Start June 5

The summer session at Snyder High School will begin on June 5 and continue through July 14, it was announced today.

Classes will meet from 7 a.m. to 12:15 p.m. five days per week.

Tuition charge will be $15 for a three weeks course and $30 for a six weeks course.

Horrace Bostick, high school principal, said any course which registers as many as 20 students will be offered, except English courses.

English courses will be limited to students who are repeating the courses. Also, students are being reminded that credit cannot be given for summer school courses if a student is absent more than two days during the term.

Wallace Has Surgery For Infection

SILVER SPRING, Md. (AP) — Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace was recuperating today after minor surgery to drain pus from an infected area near one of his wounds.

Doctors said the operation Thursday will speed his recovery. They said the infection was predictable.

The infection near a bullet wound in the left side of the abdomen required an incision to drain pus, doctors said.

"After these areas were drained, the governor showed immediate improvement and a marked reduction in abdominal pain," the doctors said in a medical bulletin.

Otherwise, the doctors reported, Wallace's condition remained stable.

Current, Former Legislators Charged

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Seven current or former legislators have now been charged with felonies since the stock fraud scandal shook state government 16 months ago.

The Travis County grand jury indicted four more of them Thursday:

—Former Sen. David Ratliff of Stamford, accused of theft of a state warrant, two counts, and conspiracy to commit theft. The first charge is punishable by a prison term of two to 10 years, the second by a term of two to five years.

—Rep. John Allen of Longview, charged with conspiracy to commit theft.

—Rep. Tom Holmes of Granbury, accused of theft by false pretext, which carries a penalty of two to 10 years.

—Former Rep. Hudson Moyer of Amarillo, charged with theft by false pretext.

Bond was set at $10,000 for Ratliff—$5,000 on each charge—and $5,000 for each of the other three.

The state says Ratliff and Allen hired each other's children with the intention of not requiring them to do any work.

The warrants Ratliff is accused of stealing were made out to Mrs. Virginia Mosser of Abilene, who was carried on Ratliff's payroll but allegedly did no work. The state says Ratliff cashed two of these warrants.

The Associated Press has learned that Mrs. Moser, whose husband is a car dealer in Abilene, has paid back all the money she received while on the state payroll. She recently turned over $888.88 to the Travis County district attorney's office, which in turn gave it to the state comptroller.

Mrs. Moser allegedly used postage stamps from his House contingent expense fund to pay most of the $3,195 purchase price of a new pickup truck. The state says he used $1,995 worth of stamps, paid in installments.

Memorial Day Events Slated

Veterans of Foreign Wars Post No. 8231 of Snyder will hold Memorial Day services with a flag-raising ceremony at 9 a.m. Monday at the post home.

Coffee and doughnuts will be served following the service. Another memorial service will be held at 10 a.m. at the Snyder Cemetery by the VFW Auxiliary.

At 6 p.m. Monday, there will be a barbecue at the VFW post home for members of the VFW and its Auxiliary, members of the American Legion and their families.

Youth disagrees with Abby on drug use

By Abigail Van Buren

(c 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: I have to take issue with your advice to parents who wanted to know if they had the right to snoop into their children's belongings to discover if they were using drugs. You said this was a case in which invasion of privacy was justified, and parents had the right to use "whatever means possible" to find out what their children were doing. Abby, now I'm convinced that you are not qualified to give advice on drugs; in fact, your column is beginning to show the characteristics of Gestapo police.

I am a college student who uses drugs, and as a citizen of this country, I have as much right to privacy as the next person. It is my life and my body, and I will do what I like with them.

Wise up, Abby. Talk to some users. Find out where it's really at, and stop encouraging kids to fink on each other. Someday the soft drugs will be legal and then a lot of us will breathe easier, just as people did after prohibition.

SICK OF HASSLES

DEAR SICK: So it's "soft drugs" you want to legalize? Who's to decide which drugs are "soft" and which are "hard"? You? If you then disagree on which drugs should be legal, will you still assert your "right of privacy" to use illegal drugs?

The legalization of some drugs as "controlled substances" may be on the way, and should be. But until it arrives, I'll continue to counsel obedience of the law as it stands, along with reasonable surveillance of the young in their use.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I [married for 12 years] have two children, and we finally managed to take a vacation alone [no kids] for the first time since our marriage.

We arranged to have a nice young married couple move into our home in our absence to look after our children.

When my parents saw us off at the airport, my mother asked, "Did you make a will in case something happens to you?" I really was shook up, Abby. Of course we didn't make a will.

I realize it is a possibility, but the point I am trying to get across is that nothing happened to us, but that remark of my mother's was on my mind the whole time, and it spoiled my vacation.

I ask you, wasn't that a lousy thing for her to have done?

STILL BURNING

DEAR STILL: Her timing was "lousy." But her suggestion was a good one.

DEAR ABBY: My son works long hours daily and when gift-giving time comes along, he asks me if I will please shop for a gift to give his wife.

I do not mind shopping, altho it is not easy for me, but no matter what I select, my son's wife always takes it back and exchanges it for something else. [I know her size, but it seems I can never choose a color or style she likes well enough to keep.]

Since I have yet to select a gift that she has kept, I feel I am wasting my time to buy gifts for her.

I once told my son that perhaps he ought to just give her the money and let her buy what she wants, but he said she did not like to receive money as a gift because it was so crass, and lacking in warmth and sentiment.

Have you any suggestions? TIRED OF SHOPPING

DEAR SHOPPING: If it's "warmth" and sentiment the lady likes, tell your son to send her a warm, sentimental card. And if money is too crass, how about a gift certificate?

DEAR ABBY: For pity's sake, please tell "Hard of Hearing" to stop cupping her ear with her hand and asking people to please speak up. Tell her to study lipreading instead!

I learned lipreading out of a book recommended by the Volta Bureau of Washington, D. C., after suffering a complete loss of hearing. I haven't heard a thing for 13 years, yet people who have known me a long time find it difficult to believe.

Last year I flew to Alaska and back unaccompanied. Of course, I always inform the airlines personnel of my handicap and they graciously look after me. OHIOAN

Model Plane Demonstration Set Sunday

A demonstration of radio-controlled model airplanes has been scheduled here Sunday afternoon by a group from the Sparks Club of Lubbock.

The demonstration will begin at 1 p.m. and continue to 5 p.m. at Winston Field. There will be no admission charge.

The model airplanes range in size from the small, single-channel type with 42-inch wingspan to the sailplanes with wingspans up to and sometimes over 120 inches. Most of the models to be flown in the demonstration here are sport planes with wingspans of around 65 inches to 72 inches. They are pulled through the air with engines ranging up to one horsepower. They can fly at speeds up to 80 miles per hour, but usually are operated at 50 to 60 miles per hour. Some may be flown as high as 800 feet, but since visibility is bad at that altitude, they usually are flown at around 200 feet.

The models are capable of doing every known acrobatic stunt as well as some not generally know. Also, there will be some scale planes on hand. These look almost the same as regular planes when they are in the air.

Most of those who fly the model planes have been doing so for years and are true professionals. They participate in area, regional, state and national contests all over the country.

Spectators will be welcome to witness the demonstration.

Threats Probed

Letters blaming the mayor for not preventing pollution were signed by anonymous "citizens interested in the beauty of Reggio."

Susan's Dad To Return Home

SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP) — The father of Miss Texas has been granted permission to return to his home in Austin with his daughter, following his arrest on charges of assaulting a flight steward.

Malta Dougas Peters, 45, father of Susan Lynette Peters, who competed in the Miss U.S.A. beauty pagenat here over the weekend, was arrested by a sky marshal on a commercial flight between San Juan and Miami Monday night.

On Thursday, Federal Judge Hiram Cancio granted a petition to allow Peters to go home to be examined at a mental hospital in Austin on the condition that the institution file a report of Peters' condition to determine if he is fit to stand trial in Puerto Rico.

Smith Refuses Extradition

EL RENO, Okla. (AP) — John Edward Smith, 30, who has refused extradition from Oklahoma to Texas to face charges in the slayings of a Hearne banker and two members of his family, was charged Thursday with the murder of a fourth person in Oklahoma.

Swift was accused of murder in the death of Robert Nogales Duran, 30, whose body was found Saturday in a ditch in eastern Canadian County.

Two persons, Lee Murry Jurode, 29, and Jo Ann Adams, 24, were arrested with Swift Monday night. Miss Adams and Jurode, who have waived extradition to Texas in connection with the Hearne slayings, both have been selected as material witnesses in Duran's death, according to Dist. Atty. John Howard of Reno.

The two were also sought as material witnesses in the death of H.D. Kelly, a Hearne banker, his wife and daughter.

Howard said proceedings to extradite Swift to Texas after his trial for Duran's death have been started by Texas authorities.

Words Put To "Swan Lake"

MOSCOW (AP) — Usually Tchaikovsky's classical ballet "Swan Lake" is performed without words.

Thursday night it got three, heard around the world.

"Via dal Vietnam!," Italian for "Get out of Vietnam!"

Or was it "Freedom for Vietnam" shouted in English?

In any case, the sentiment expressed was not unfamiliar to Richard Nixon as he sat with the president and premier of the Soviet Union in the gilt and red box once used by the Czars, when a woman in the balcony let go. Witnesses said the cry came from an Italian woman who lives in Moscow.

Shortly thereafter President Nikolai V. Podgorny was seen whispering into President Nixon's ear and Nixon nodded, smiled and shrugged in the manner of a man saying, "Well, that's the way it goes these days."

It was the first discordant public note since Nixon's arrival in Moscow. But on leaving the century-old Bolshoi Theater he thanked Podgorny and Kosygin for a "marvelous evening."

Shortly after the shout, the house lights went up and the President's box was flood lighted. One was told that it is normal for the lights to go on so that, just before the last act, the audience can applaud the conductor. This was done, but in the process, many spectators turned back toward the central box as they clapped.

A witness reported that shortly after the woman shouted, a number of Soviet security agent appeared in her area of the theater, the sixth and top balcony, somewhere to the President's left.

While the house lights were still on, this source said, the Soviet plainclothesmen did nothing. They just stood there. Then, about 10 minutes into the last act of "Swan Lake," which is basically a tale of good triumphing over evil, they summoned a Russian woman next to the shouter for questioning.

After a few moments, the Russian was allowed to return to her seat. Then, according to this source, Soviet security men came in for both women and "lifted them up like two packages" and took them out of their seats.

Later reports were that the woman accused of shouting in Italian denied that she shouted anything and was released by the police. There was no word about her Russian friend.

Preparing For Garage Sales

COLLEGE STATION — "If spring cleaning has left you with a headache over that large pile of unwanted items, a garage sale may be the answer to your problem."

That's the advice offered by Mrs. Bonnie Fowler, home management specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The specialist pointed out that it's possible to sell any type of item in a garage sale when it might me of interest to someone else. This includes boys, books, records, knick-knacks, household and sports equipment, furniture and clothes. Use a garage sale to raise money for the family or a favorite charity.

"If your friends and neighbors are in the midst of spring cleaning, join forces to offer a variety of merchandise," Mrs. Fowler suggested.

Keep in mind that low prices attract bargain hunters. However, extremely low prices often fail to make the venture financially worthwhile. Check the cost of items at local thrift and second-hand shops for a pricing guide.

Mend and clean clothing before putting it up for sale. Pin the correct size on garments. Tie or pin pairs of shoes together. Clean and repair toys, records, kitchen equipment and books. Steer clear of selling unrepaired or damaged goods.

Remember a trick of the trade, and set up a few tables where everything sells for the same price. Otherwise, group similar items together. Hang all garments on a rack.

"Don't forget advertising for the sale," the specialist reminded. "Neighborhood signs can help. You can also consider placing a small ad in the newspaper."

Remember to check legal aspects that relate to selling goods. Call the Comptroller of Public Accounts for information on collecting sales tax. He's listed in the phone book under Texas State Agencies.

Check with the Internal Revenue Service for information on reporting income from a garage sale. Is the money collected to be donated to a recognized charity? Ask about giving tax deduction receipts to donors of merchandise. The Internal Revenue Service is listed in the phone book under United States Government Offices.

MakeQuick AppleBread

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Something new has happened to apple quick bread. We've just tested a delightful recipe that adds slivered orange rind to the loaf and it's a great addition.

Another feature of this bread cooks will like—it's flat on top with only a few slight cracks.

We like this bread spread with cream cheese but you may want to serve it with butter or even plain.

APPLE ORANGE BREAD

2 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
½ cup butter or margarine
¾ cup firmly packed light brown sugar
2 eggs
2 tablespoons milk
1 cup finely diced pared cooking apple
¼ cup lightly packed slivered orange rind, see note below

On wax paper sift together the flour, baking powder, baking soda, salt, cinnamon and nutmeg.

In a large mixing bowl cream butter and sugar. Add eggs one at a time, beating well after each addition. Add milk and stir in apple. Blend in flour mixture. Stir in slivered orange rind. Mixture will be on the stiff side. Turn into a greased loaf pan (9 by 5 by 3 inches) and spread evenly.

Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven until a cake tester inserted in center comes out clean—about 1 hour. Place pan on a wire rack to cool, for 10 minutes; turn out of pan onto wire rack; turn right side up. Cool completely.

Note: To prepare slivered orange rind, remove outer rind in thin strips with a vegetable peeler; cut into slivers with scissors or knife.

Snyder Jr. 4-H Club Meets

The Snyder Jr. 4-H Club met at the County Extension Office May 23. The president, Mary Garza, called the meeting to order. The rules for bake contest were discussed. Bake contest will be held in Central Elementary School on June 10. There will be a bake sale in Everybodys and Piggy Wiggly Stores. Each girl can enter up to 8 products: cake, cookies, bar cookies, yeast rolls, yeast loaves, quick bread, pie and candy. Each 4-H'er will receive a ribbon for each product entered.

There was one new member, Patsy Humphreys.

The program was on fabrics and weaves. The members learned to recognize plain weave, basket weave and twill weave and studied about knit and woven fabrics, grainline and off grain prints. They learned to identify some common fabrics.

Becky Costillo and Mary Garza served the refreshments.

Those attending the meeting were: Ann McClain, Terri McClain, Claudia Hernandez, Gracie Hernandez, Debbie Romo, Becky Costillo, Patricia Luera, Patsy Humphreys, Mary Luera, Rita Rios, Ann Rios, Jane Van Sickle, Debbie Van Sickle, Mary Jane Rios, Gloria Rios and Mary Garza.

Pet Jay Kisses And Eats Eggs

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Like all women, Frank Ellison says, Jay-Jay likes money.

"She'll trade me a dime for a quarter, but she won't take a penny," Ellison laughed.

Not much of a feat, perhaps, except for the fact that Jay-Jay is a jaybird, a pet in the Ellison house. Ellison, 66, a semi-retired plumber says Jay-Jay became part of the household months ago when she was found with one wing badly mauled by a cat.

The Ellisons put the wing back in place, bandaged her and kept her in a cage until she was well. Then they let her out.

"She can fly, but manages only about a block before she must rest," Ellison said. "The wing is not as good as it was before we found her."

They let Jay-Jay come and go as she likes. When they call, she returns.

"Not long ago she was gone for eight days and I got worried," Ellison said.

He said he found Jay-Jay at the home of a deputy sheriff, but a neighbor assumed the bird belonged to the deputy.

"That fellow told me to leave the deputy's bird alone, but I said, 'This is my bird. Will the deputy's bird kiss him?' He said, 'No.' I said, 'Well, she'll kiss me,' and I said 'kiss, kiss' to her and she kissed me," Ellison said.

"She got on my shoulder, we got in the car and drove home," he said.

Jay-Jay has a room of her own, in the house. The furniture is covered by paper, which Jay-Jay likes to peck holes into, and the curtains and spread have been moved out.

Breakfast for the bird is scrambled eggs, rice, bread and cookies. Bird-feeding stadtions are all about the Ellison house and they use about 10 loaves of bread a week, plus grain and mash for their feathered friends.

But Jay-Jay is the pride of the flock, Ellison said. "I wouldn't take $100 for her," he added.

Financial Firms Cast In Money Shootout

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Money isn't everything, but don't try selling that routine to the various financial institutions who are now shooting it out in every corner of America.

They're not getting along; in fact, they're popping off at each other, and it's all about money.

The scenario for "The Shootout at Money Gulch" has a cast of thousands and involves many billions of dollars. Every state in the Union is involved and so is the federal government.

Included in the cast are 14,000 commercial banks, 6,000 savings and loan associations, 490 mutual savings banks and, to some extent, more than 20,000 credit unions. One item of contention is $473 billion in savings.

And the plot: The thrift institutions, that is, the savings and loan associations and the mutual savings banks, are strictly restrained in the types of services they offer. The commercial, or full service banks, have wide privileges. The others want to share in them.

Specifically, the S&Ls and mutual banks—and even, it is sometimes suggested, the credit unions—want the right to offer checking accounts and even to develop into full service family finance centers.

The full service banks don't want that kind of competition. They prefer to see the S&Ls and mutuals restrict themselves to accepting savings and then investing those savings mainly in home mortgage loans.

The full service banks argue that there is little need for any dilution of their rights so long as the public is served and, they claim, it is served.

While the showdown is occurring throughout the country on the state level, the most significant aspect of the competition right now is the Hunt Commission Report, headed by Reed Hunt, a retired corporate executive.

In the spring of 1970 President Nixon appointed a special Commission on Financial Structure and Regulation and charged it with "reviewing and studying the structure, operation and regulation of the private financial institutions ..."

The 121-page report presented just before last Christmas included 89 recommendations, among them: new powers for the thrift institutions, a phaseout of interest-rate ceilings, a uniform tax formula for all institutions that offer checking accounts.

Moreover, it recommended that S&Ls and mutuals be allowed to make secured and unsecured consumer loans in amounts not to aggregate in excess of 10 per cent of total assets.

The next major move on the national level is expected to come sometime later this year when the President is expected to send to Congress his own recommendations, based partly on the Hunt report.

Whether the President follows the commission recommendations is still in doubt, however. The battle is far from settled; the shooting continues.

Students Changing

BENTON, Ill. (AP) — High school students today are less respectful, less interested in being attractive and less informed than students in past years.

That is the opinion of Ellen Burkhart, a Benton Consolidated High School English teacher is retiring after 45 years.

"It seems to me there is a lack of respect—they're not as respectful as they used to be," she said. "Nobody opens doors for me anymore."

NM Governor Won't Take Compromise

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — The New Mexico governor's office isn't accepting a compromise offered by El Paso Natural Gas Co. in its gas curtailment plan for New Mexico.

Toney Anaya, aide to Gov. Bruce King, said the compromise increases allocations to Las Cruces, New Mexico State University and Deming but the over-all effect is a more drastic curtailment for the state as a whole.

The governor says the modified plan is unacceptable, Anaya said.

El Paso announced the modified plan Thursday at a meeting in Tucson, Ariz., attended by Anaya. Anaya said the governor's office will continue to fight for a larger allocation of gas to New Mexico, which produces more gas for out-of-state transmission than is used in the state.

King says the state's residents have a right to all the gas they need since it is produced in New Mexico, and that El Paso is planning to meet commitments in California with New Mexico gas at the expense of New Mexicans.

A second argument is that a shortage of gas in New Mexico would force industries to turn to more polluting fuels such as coal or oil.

Junior Editors' Quiz on FLYING FISH

QUESTION: Are there such things as flying fish?

* * *

ANSWER: Flying fish live in the ocean and prefer warm seas, but may appear halfway up the Atlantic and Pacific coasts. A flying fish uses the motion of its strong tail to thrust itself out of the water. It spreads out its large fins which act like wings and glides upward, dropping down when it loses its momentum. Sometimes it takes to the air a second or third time without touching the water. The flight often covers 150 to 1,000 feet. Usually, the larger the fish the longer distance it can "fly." In flight, the fish looks like a giant dragon fly.

Flying fish travel in schools. They leave the water to escape from larger fishes, such as tunas and mackerels. There are times when they even glide over small ships. Different types of flying fish vary in size and habitat and are considered valuable for food.

Say What Man Wants To Hear

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — So you want to be a good conversationalist?

But you don't have time to memorize a thousand sparkling quotations or read a lot of heavy books so you'll be really well informed?

So what? What does being witty or knowledgeable have to do with being a good conversationalist?

The man who impresses you most with his speaking ability isn't the one who tells you something new. No, it's the one who tells you what you want to hear who sticks in your memory.

The backbone of any real conversational skill lies in probably a dozen or so key remarks you can make which give reassurance to people in most situations and which bolster their own secret high opinion of themselves. Just memorize the following statements, and use them as often as you can to as many people as possible:

"You've been a kind of hero to me in a way for a long time, but I never thought you were so young."

"From the way you're built, I'd judge you must have played a little football in your time—and not so many years ago at that."

"When you know you've got the right on your side, like you do, the battle is half won."

"Well, some people are just born photogenic, and some aren't. You're one of the lucky ones."

"You look like you've been taking off weight lately. What's your secret?"

"The trouble with you is that you're too generous for your own good. Here, let me get this round."

"I can't think of anyone else who could hold up under the strain like you do. You must be made of iron."

"Of course, they're all pretty, but I'd say this one is the best looker of the lot—the one that has your eyes and that same delightful little crinkle around the mouth."

"Well, I'll say one thing about you—you never go off half-cocked. When you open your mouth, you make real sense."

"I should think that a wife lucky enough to have you for a husband really couldn't find much in her life to complain about."

"Why should they expect you to do the thinking for everybody?

Yes, it is only by telling people what they want to hear that you can gain a name as a good conversationalist, one people are always glad to talk to. If you try to tell them anything else, they not only won't listen—they'll spread the word that you're one of the biggest-mouthed bores of all time.

Friendship Wins Out

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Election—year rivalries gave way to old-time friendship here Wednesday.

When the Utah State Board of Education was reapportioned by the state legislature earlier this year, two long-time friends, both incumbents on the board, were placed in the same district and would have been forced to run against each other for re-election.

That would not do for the two members, Mrs. Helen B. Ure and Mrs. Esther R. Landa. So they flipped a coin.

Mrs. Ure won the toss and will seek re-election to a four-year term. Mrs. Landa will file for a separate two-year term from the same district.

Black-Gold Tilt Closes Training

"We're real pleased with the progress the boys have made," said Maurice (Mo) Hodges, head football coach and athletic director at Snyder High School, Thursday afternoon as the end of spring training neared.

The three week drills will conclude Saturday with two spring "games". The Freshmen, coached by Milton Ham, will meet the Junior Varsity, coached by Bill Hartsfield, at 5:30 p.m. Saturday in Tiger Stadium. Following this game, the Black team, coached by Ken Scott, will meet the Gold team, coached by Jim Bartlett. Both the Black and Gold squads will be comprised of varsity players.

Coach Hodges said about 90 grid candidates participated in the spring training. There have been only a few injuries and only one that could be termed serious. Quarterback David Chambers sustained a knee injury, but he is expected to recover.

The head Tiger mentor said the coaching staff has benefited greatly from the spring training.

"We now have a good idea of which boy to play at any particular position," he explained. "When fall training begins, we'll be that much ahead." he added.

Both of the final spring games will be open to the public.

Each game will consist of four 10 minute quarters under actual game conditions except there will not be any punting, although there will be kickoffs.

NBA Defeats ABA 106-104

UNIONDALE, N.Y. (AP) — "The National Basketball Association Players' Association has decided that if anyone is suspended or fined, all the players will quit," said burly Bob Lanier of the Detroit Pistons.

"That's probably true." said Dave DeBusschere of the New York Knicks, "but I don't know that for a complete fact. But that would be the logical thing to say. If they suspend one of us, they might as well suspend all of us."

They made their comments Thursday night, after the NBA All-Stars, playing under the threat of fines or suspensions from Commissioner Walter J. Kennedy, had overcome a 19-point deficit and edged the American Basketball Association's best players 106-104 at the Nassau Coliseum.

Kennedy had strongly warned the NBA players that they would be subject to fines, the minimum of which would be the amount they received for playing in the game. For beating the ABA for the second year in a row, the NBA players earned a total of $33,000, or $3,000 per player.

The ABA All-Stars, whose owners and Commissioner Jack Dolph had endorsed the game, split a total of $17,000.

"I wasn't really bothered by the threat, but apparently some players were," said Lanier, voted the game's Most Valuable Player after sparking the NBA's comeback with 15 points and seven rebounds.

Of the original group picked to represent the NBA, there were three defections—Milwaukee center Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, the league's Most Valuable Player and leading scorer each of the past two seasons; and All-Star guards Jerry West of the Los Angeles Lakers and Walt Frazier of the Knicks.

Frazier was a surprise absentee. He did not even inform game officials that he would not play.

"The fans got their money's worth," said former Lakers" star Elgin Baylor, who made his coaching debut as head of the NBA club. "It was a good show."

Havlicek wound up as the game's high scorer with 17 points. Donnie Freeman of Dallas paced the ABA with 16.

Registration Is Extended For Summer Golf

Registration for the Snyder Junior Golf Association summer golf clinic has been extended one day to Saturday, May 26. Persons wishing to participate may register today from 4:15 to 6:00 p.m., or any time Saturday at the Snyder Country Club pro shop.

Instruction is provided by Snyder Public Schools. No fees are required of the student. Practice balls will be provided for the driving range. Students need only to furnish their clubs and balls with which to play the course.

Teenage Mothers Elect Officers

Mothers of boys playing in the Snyder Teenage Baseball League met Tuesday, May 23, in the Snyder National Bank building to elect officers for the 1972 season.

All mothers were urged to cooperate when called upon for the various duties necessary to run the concession stand.

Memphis Defeats Midland

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Memphis unleashed its ninth-inning lightning on Midland Thursday night to remain in command of the Texas League's Eastern Division.

George Kazmarek, Memphis rightfielder, hit his second homer of the night during a six-run explosion as the Blues downed Midland 12-7. Kazmarek poled a two-run homer in the climactic inning after stroking a solo homer in the fourth.

In other games, Shreveport got some home-run hitting of its own to take out San Antonio 5-3, the Alexandria at Amarillo game was postponed because of rain.

Memphis trailed 7-6 going into the ninth on the strength of Midland's 14-hit attack, including a homer by pitcher Jim Dunegan.

John Dougherty clubbed a three-run homer in the fifth inning to cap a four-run Shreveport outburst to sink San Antonio.

Bill Bright and Alan Putz clubbed home runs for Arkansas as it bombed El Paso with a 14-hit attack.

Millions Of Cars Recalled

DETROIT (AP) — More automobiles have been recalled in the last six months than ever before in a similar period. And if it seems like it's true to you—that's right.

More than 7.6 million cars have been recalled since last December. The vast majority of the recalls, however, were for defects newly surfacing in cars built anywhere from 3 to 10 years ago.

Not all of those recalled had defects. For instance: General Motors recalled 32,649 Buicks, Oldsmobiles and Pontiacs to find 1,250 which had received faulty wheels.

Why so many goof-ups, after all these years of experience and the millions upon millions of dollars continually pouring into research, engineering and quality control in the nation's major manufacturing industry?

Mostly it boils down to defects in design or engineering that stay hidden on the drawing boards, in the laboratories or on the test tracks.

But a perfectly designed and engineered car could be forced into recall by a single component installed upside down along the assembly line by a workman new on the job.

All automakers strive to "engineer out" the possibility of worker-mistakes, but they haven't always been successful.

In the Buick-Oldsmobile-Pontiac recall it turned out that one welding machine in a supplier's plant malfunctioned for two days without any outward appearance of trouble. Wheels and rims were insecurely joined.

Testing disclosed the goof-up and a checkback pinpointed the cause and time, but 32,649 cars had been equipped with wheels from this supplier in those two days.

All were recalled and located before there had been an accident or injury charged to them.

Almost half as many automobiles have been recalled for inspection and correction of suspected defects as have been sold in the United States since the National Highway Safety Act became law in 1966.

The figures roughly are 55.2 million sold and 25 million recalled, according to Automotive News.

But many of those recalled were built prior to 1966—including more than a million 1965 Chevrolets involved in a current campaign.

Ford and General Motors have recall campaigns under way in which their fix-it bills are expected to run to $30 million plus each.

Driscoll For Mining

FRAMINGHAM, Mass. (AP) — Lt. (j.g.) William Driscoll, one of the Navy's first two air aces of the Vietnam war, says he supports President Nixon's blockade of Haiphong harbor in North Vietnam but if others dissent that's their right.

"One of the basic precepts of this country is the right to dissent," the 25-year-old radar intercept officer said in an interview. "It doesn't make me angry and if that's the way people feel they've got a right to express it."

Back home in Framingham after eight months in Vietnam, Driscoll said he hopes he will have an opportunity to do something about the prisoners of war in North Vietnam.

Notre Dame's 10-game football schedule will end Nov. 25 with a game at Southern California.

Fathers Of Year Named

NEW YORK (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew marked his selection as "National Father of the Year" with a speech criticizing proponents of "the new morality."

"I suggest that much of what is in the new morality is not morality at all but just a cheap, easy rationale for doing whatever you damn well please, wherever and however you want to do it," Agnew said in an address Thursday.

Fathers of the year were also named in these specialized fields:

—Sports: Quarterback Roger Staubach of the Super Bowl champion Dallas Cowboys.

—Music: Doc Severinsen, musical director of the "Tonight" television show.

—Radio: Ted Brown, a host of the NBC radio "Monitor" program.

—Television: Mike Douglas, host of his own syndicated talk show.

—Humanitarian: Vernon E. Jordan, executive director of the National Urban League.

-Labor: I.W. Abel, president of the AFL-CIO United Steelworkers.

Orr Won't Step Down

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — State Democratic Chairman Roy Orr says he will not step down as temporary state convention chairman. He also lashed out at those he said were attempting to destroy party unity by challenging his chairmanship.

Orr Thursday strongly criticized Dallas State Sen. Oscar Mauzy, Texas AFL-CIO President Roy Evans and others after being named temporary chairman of the state party's convention by majority vote of the State Democratic Executive Committee which he heads.

Orr declined to say whether he will seek the permanent chairmanship, but did say, "I'm going to do all I can to keep the radical liberals from taking over."

Orr's statement foreshadowed what promises to be a traditional liberal-conservative battle at the convention. At stake at the June 13 San Antonio convention is selection of Texas' 130 delegates to the national party convention which will pick the Democratic nominee for President.

Liberals fear conservatives led by Orr and Followers of George Wallace will attempt to cut them out of a share of the national delegation.

WANTED 20 WOMEN OR MEN

TO DEVELOPE FOR 20 OPEN FIELD MANAGER POSITIONS

With a fast growing corporation. Women, who if qualified (and let us be the judge of this), who make their own decisions, have empathy, ego drive, and the courage to become successful. Success means different things to different people. To some it means doing a good job, a luxury automobile, being a good mother, owning an expensive wardrobe, education for the children, a new home, etc. Most of which require a large sum of money...and this is exactly what this opportunity is all about. If it were possible for you to earn $300 to $500 or more per week would you be interested? Well, it is possible, but most people do not believe these large sums and this eliminates them from the successful 5 percent. They do not have the ability to think big so they never become big. Now think about this...Have you missed out on opportunities before, or have you just wished for one? Maybe you have not had a good opportunity in your lifetime? NOW YOU DO! Think this over. If you really want success it can be yours...but be sure only 5 percent really want success. The other 95 percent are looking for excuses for why they've failed. If you really mean business we are interested and remember we are not looking for degrees or diplomas...We provide professional training on a continuous free basis, which means you can repeat all or any phase of it at anytime you need it. We are looking for intelligence, attitude, aptitude, ego-drive, personality, and a deep-rooted desire for success.

Now think about what you want, your goals....what amount of money it will take to get these things....Now you have an opportunity to make your wants and needs come true. Think about this...here the money is all spread out in stacks of $5 and $10 bills, and you can have what you really want. Okay. This is it! It can be yours! But a word of warning...you don't get something for nothing. Success requires work and lots of it. But remember—WORK CAN BE FUN PLEASANT AND REWARDING, this we guarantee. We've been honest with you, so now you can be honest with us, and if you really mean business and want these things to come true, we will try to help you. So make an appointment now.

WE WILL INTERVIEW ONLY THROUGH TUESDAY NOON

Church Sentence

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — A young woman who pleaded guilty to murder has been sentenced to go to church each Sunday for the next 10 years by a judge who admits he skips religious services now and again himself.

Eartha Lee Griffith, 28, appeared before Circuit Court Judge Claude R. Edwards on Thursday and was told she could decide how to spend the next 10 years of her life.

"I told her she could go to jail for the next 10 years or spend every Sunday through 1982 in a pew," said Edwards. "For the first time since I have known her, she smiled. She chose church."

Miss Griffith had pleaded guilty March 27 to the second-degree murder of her boyfriend, Eddie Lee Lampkin. She admitted shooting him to death in the Orlando home they had shared.

"There were tremendous extenuating circumstances in her case," Edwards said after the sentencing. "Her boyfriend had earlier beaten her almost to death and had threatened her with a weapon."

Edwards said a presentence investigation showed that she had no prior record, "so after consulting with her minister, speaking with her and considering the case at length, I decided on giving her the option."

He stipulated that Miss Griffith must obtain a high school diploma within the next four years—she has completed the 11th grade. He also ordered her to pay the $2,000 in court costs at the rate of $20 a month.

Edwards has set mandatory church attendance as a probationary term before.

"I feel that association with people who go to church is beneficial whether or not those people are able to convert the probationer to be religious," Edwards said. Admitting his outlook is "a bit unorthodox," Edwards said several lawyers have questioned it as unconstitutional. But his practice has not been challenged in the courts.

Just who among us can fathom the miracle of light? The ministries of the sun are many. A single ray can be concentrated to explosive intensity. The sun gives off a burning heat we could not do without. Light, warmth, growth, health and healing are daily ministries of the sun.

The earth becomes sour and barren without it. In this same manner man limits his strength and usefulness when he turns away from God.

Let us wait and pray in the sanctuary of His church, for in such waiting and worship, God promises to bless man's soul as does the sunlight bless the earth. We should strive to capture the rays from God like the prisom does the sunlight, and direct it to good and wholesome uses. Then, they who wait upon the Lord may run and not grow weary. They may walk and not faint (Isaiah 40:31).
