LEBOUEF CASE

(Continued from Page 2) two shots about 8:30 which sounded like they were from a shot gun. They came from the direction of a negro school house he stated.

Attorneys Clash

Defense attorneys clashed when a witness was asked whether he had ever seen Dr. Dreher, E. Dreher and Mrs. Add Bonner Leboeuf meet in Morgan City.

James R. Parkinson, attorney for Dr. Dreher and Mrs. Leboeuf, objected and the jury was taken from the room.

Mr. Hibel said the object of the question was to show that enmity existed between Dr. Dreher and Leboeuf and to bring out the motive for the alleged killing.

"Hibel has the right to show who had a motive for killing Leboeuf," Mr. Hibel contended.

The court overruled the objection. Saw Two Enter House. The witness said he had seen the two go into the house of a negro at Morgan City. He said they remained in the house about 25 minutes and that it was "in broad daylight."

Examined by Mr. Parkinson, the witness said Dr. Dreher and Mrs. Leboeuf made no attempt to conceal their identity.

Sheriff Peacor was called to the stand and testified that Mrs. Leboeuf told him she had written a note to Dr. Dreher informing him she and her husband were going on a boat ride the night of the killing. Mrs. Leboeuf said, according to the sheriff, she had no intention of having her husband killed.

Lawrence Acosta testified he saw angle-irons in a tree near the scene of the alleged crime on June 24. He did not know whether the irons were the same as the ones on Leboeuf's body. The same testimony was given by Michael Fields and George Gendron, all of Morgan City.

Court was then recessed until 1:30 p. m. for lunch.

infested "high road" as the poet who sang of the back in the days of...

THE YOUNG MOON SHINES IN CLOUDS, AND THE SILVER ARE HIDDEN.

While "silver" hangs high in air uncalled for and unneeded the rancorous yelp of the kid and the song of the kid mingle well with the flattery and the chirps of the kid.

No tempest sweeps the country, no clouds obscure the sky. But my peace of mind is tossed as a million corks in For traffic jams and flivver wags and the smell of gasoline. Have I lifted up the country and spoiled the country?

The open road of the present means fifty per cent in a crossing with just an inch to spare.

—And that's no joke, a tip of Bill. "I didn't have to go on Saturdays—the cars came so close on Saturday nights."

CUBS GIANTS CARDINALS PUT DOWN INDIANS BEAT IN ONLY A LEAGUE

(By Associated Press) The Chicago Cubs, Pittsburgh Pirates, St. Louis Cardinals and Cincinnati Reds have won their first victories in the National League playoffs. The Cubs' victory in the first game of the series was a surprise, as they were considered the underdog. The Cardinals and Pirates also showed promise, while the Reds were seen as the favorites.

Have First Two Weeks of Season Been Plucky? The Giants are out of consideration for their position. At the 1927 season, the Yankees in the American League were scheduled to lead but rain hit and one-half inch game had elapsed. The Yankees led off Herb's sixth. Ruth went to camp and Gehrig in two trips.

CUBS AGAIN TAKE TOP AS PIRATES LOSE TO BOSTON IN RALLY

GIANTS DEFEAT CARDINALS TO PUT DOWN LEAD

INDIANS BEAT YANKEES IN ONLY AMERICAN LEAGUE GAME

The Chicago Cubs and the Pittsburgh Pirates have traded places in the National League standing once more. The Cubs moved into the leadership position yesterday by defeating Philadelphia, 4-5, while the Pirates staged an eleventh inning rally to waltz the Yankees to a 1-0 victory.

The political maneuvering of the leaders appears to be encountering a new element of danger at this stage, however, for the New York Yankees took their third straight loss from the Cardinals at St. Louis 6-2, and are now only five and one-half games out of first place.

Two weeks ago, while the Cubs and Pirates were playing happily bumper to bumper, the Giants appeared to be out of consideration altogether. Their position today is anything but hopeless. At the same stage of the 1921 season, when they won a pennant, they were worse off so far as the standing is concerned. McCraw's club has won five of its last seven games on the road and may make serious trouble over the championship before the season ends, two months from today.

Home runs by Bill Terry and George Harper routed the Cardinals, 7-1, for the circuit. Between them the pair drove in five of the New York runs. Phil Rhee, back in the St. Louis fold after a disciplinary setback, was driven out in three innings.

Chicago Beats Phillies. Brillhart had Philadelphia in check until the eighth when he weakened and was driven out, but Chicago tied the score at five-all in their half of this inning and won out in the ninth. Webb drove a home run.

Pittsburgh and Boston were deadlocked 1-1 at the close of the ninth. Andy Hitch's triple in the eleventh put the skids under the Buccaneers. Brooklyn and Cincinnati fought it out for temporary occupancy of fifth place and the Dodgers came through with a 2-1 decision. Deagy Vance held the Reds to five hits, the same number the Robins collected from Eppa Rixey and Beckman a recruit.

Cleveland defeated the New York Yankees in the only game played in the American league. The week ending July 23. Because of rain the crop is expected to fall sixty per cent short of last year's output here, cotton men said.

EVERYTHING BACKWARD

OXFORD, Eng.—One of the queer societies of Oxford university is the "Upside Down Club." Three times a year its members go through a day doing everything backwards. Donning evening dress in the morning they start with cigars and port as a prelude to a reversed dinner, ending with hot d'oeuvres, so on through the day until they eat breakfast and retire.

JOHNSON ENDS 20TH YEAR IN MAJORS TODAY

BIG JUBILEE PLANNED FOR VETERAN HURLER WITH SENATORS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Walter Johnson, famous pitcher of the Washington Senators, and idol of American's national sport, today completes his twentieth year of major-league baseball. He will be 40 years old on November 6.

Before a host of the national capital's fans who were expected at the Griffith stadium to fall caparison, the Old Master, as Johnson is known among major league players, prepared to celebrate the anniversary by pitching against the Detroit Tigers, the first opponents of his career.

Plan Celebration. Washington's baseball fandom and the leading officials of the American league toy planned to mark Johnson's record with a celebration and tribute such as has been rarely accorded a player. To-day was "Johnson day" at the Griffith stadium and the tall veteran's reputation alone was to be the recipient of the fans' plaudits.

Before the game started a lengthy program of honors for Johnson was arranged. The ranking member of the cabinet, Secretary of State Kellogg, in the absence of president Coolidge, was to designate to present Johnson with two gifts from Washington's freedom—a silver service and a check. As the tribute of the American league, president B. B. Johnson of the circuit then was assigned to award the honor, the first distinguished service medal of major league baseball decoration created for the occasion. The medal is in the shape of a mattress cross, studded with 20 diamonds, one for each year of Johnson's service.

Lott Wins Over Thalheimer At Seabright Meet

SEABRIGHT, N. J., Aug. 2.—George Lott, of Chicago, member of the American Davis cup squad, today smashed his way to victory over Louis Thalheimer of Dallas, 6-2, 6-2, in the first round of the Seabright invitational men's singles.

Lott's performance was one of the features of the continuation of play halted by rain yesterday.

Manuel Abono of Philadelphia, the Spanish star who is second on the national ranking list, completed his victory over Clifford B. Marsh, Jr., of Buffalo, winning 6-3, 6-1.

Wallace Johnson, veteran Philadelphia chopstroke artist, was the victim of an upset when he was eliminated by Edward Felleman of New York former Harvard star, by scores of 6-3, 3-6, 6-1.

Lewis N. White, Austin, Texas, defeated Kenneth Appel, East Orange, N. J., 6-2, 6-2.

Dr. Carl Fisher, Philadelphia, defeated Berkeley Bell, Austin, Texas, 7-5, 5-7, 8-6.

Pinch Batters Of Cleveland Are In Awe Of 'Big Train'

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Aug. 2.—Pinch-batters on the Cleveland ball club have great respect for the used Walter Johnson. And there's a reason: Johnson, who is in his twenty-first season with the Senators, faced the Indians in a tight game recently and struck out three batters hitting pinch-batters, used by the Indians.

The Big Train from Coffeyville set pinch-batters Jacobson, Hodapp down in one inning, and also struck out the third batter in that frame. Then he whiffed Fonseca, who pinched-hit, in the next inning.

Dempsey Allowed Delay In His Bout

CHICAGO, Aug. 2 (AP)—The date of the heavyweight championship at Soldiers field here undoubtedly would be put over from September 15 to September 22 due to Dempsey's demand for a postponement because of the illness of Tex Rickard, promoter, intimated today after he had sent a telegram to Dempsey at Los Angeles.

Dempsey wanted the contest delayed until September 29, but Rickard said that date was impossible because Soldiers field had other engagements after September 25.

September 22 Latest. CHICAGO, Aug. 2 (AP)—Tex Rickard said today that September 22 would be the latest day he could possibly hold the Dempsey-Tunney fight in Soldiers field. He made this statement in commenting on a dispatch from Los Angeles which said Dempsey would be unable to box until after September 26. Rickard immediately wired the former champion explaining the situation.

WILSON ENTRY TAKES HONORS IN GAME HERE

DIAMOND SUPREMACY IN LEGION CIRCLES IS DECIDED 10 TO 9. The game was a close one, with the final result that a team will be placed in the City League. Two baseball teams from the Allen Brown Post of the American Legion met in combat at the Merrill park here Monday evening and settled a dispute between captains of the two teams that has held sway since July 4, when the two met in a game of town ball on the occasion of the annual July 4 picnic.

Score 10 To 9. Vaughn E. Wilson, captain of one team, and his mates, drew sweet revenge from their opponents captained by Homer L. Pharr in a fascinating game that saw action in all parts of the ball lot, especially the outfields. The final count was 10 to 3, with the Wilson group in the lead at the end of the five inning abbreviated contest.

The game was not without many thrills, as one team would take the lead, then the other in the slugger's box, and it was not until the last and adjoining him to be ready to fight on that date.

More Delay Asked. LOS ANGELES, Calif., Aug. 2 (AP)—Jack Dempsey will not be ready to meet Gene Tunney in a return heavyweight championship match on September 22, but will request that the fight be started any day after September 26. The former champion said today he would insist upon this delay in deference to conditions which he could not foresee when he was in the east recently.

Here Is The Latest Inside Stuff On The Man Who Is Known As Lou

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—Just a quiet, unassuming chap devoid of any heroic pose. His great interest in life is to help the New York Yankees win the pennant again this year. That's Lou Gehrig, the slugging sensation of the year.

This man known as Lou, whose big bat has boomed so steadily and so pleasingly for the Yankees this season, is the most talked-of youngster in baseball today. Especially since that big bat has been booming out home runs at a pace that threatens to wobble Babe Ruth off his home run throne.

Lou, strange to say, doesn't particularly care whether that big-league slugger gets hit or struck. He's just a kid who's in love with the game. He's a kid who's in love with the game. He's a kid who's in love with the game.

There are no girls in Lou's life, that is no steady girl who might monopolize his time. Of course, like every other attractive young man who can manage an occasional date, Lou has one. But as for being in love—well, he's in love with baseball and that's all.

Lou Gehrig should be a star in baseball many years to come if the care he takes of himself plays any part in it. During the winter months he seeks no white collar job—he worked in a garage as a helper last year—because his theory is that it is easier to keep in shape for five months than it is to try to take off 20 pounds in five weeks. Lou's the time that would take on plenty of pounds loafing. He even abstains from lunch to fight off fat!

Lou doesn't like crowds. He is seldom seen loafing around the lobby of a hotel when he is away from Gotham. What does he do?—goes to picture shows and walks and just "fools around with the fellows."

Another thing this young man of gigantic frame, does not particularly care for is talking about himself. He is duly appreciative of the praise given his sensational play for the Yankees this year, but when you ask him questions, it is with a modest reluctance that he answers. For, as he tells it— "It's just like a great big dream. I didn't have any idea I'd ever be a member of the Yankees when I was in college. I played a little baseball and a little football (the way Knopfle's running mate in his sophomore year at Columbia, and gave promise of becoming a big-league all-American caliber) but I was just standing with a sort of hazy idea of what I'd do when I got out. Then came the offer at the end of my sophomore year to join the Yankees and I did. You know the rest—a couple of seasons at Hartford and then back and here I am. Gee, how lucky—to be with the best ball club in the world."

ROME.—Every titled son in Italy is to have his claim to nobility investigated, by order of Mussolini. The blue book of Italian nobility has been issued and it already has stripped the titles from 150,000 persons who called themselves counts, dukes and princes. It is estimated that 75 per cent of persons using titles in Europe today, with the exception of England, have no right to them.

The Orderly Crowd

King Ferdinand of Rumania had been dead for hours before the public knew it.
These were not wasted hours in the seats of the mighty. Though knowing for weeks and months that the king must die, those who controlled the destinies of the nation, were not yet ready with their answer to the question of "After the king, what?"

And they dared not tell the people that their king was dead until the answer was ready.
When the mob's restlessness indicated that they knew something deeply affecting them was afoot, they were told that the king was dead and that little Prince Michael was their new king.

Dispatches made special note of the fact that, though learning the king was dead, "The crowd was orderly."
This was a commendable feature to the mob when the king was dead and that little Prince Michael was their new king.

THE PLAINSMAN

It might be interesting to the younger generation to know that the lad who won the Lubbock-Amarillo and return bicycle race did NOT smoke cigarettes.

A young man of sterling character approached The Plainsman yesterday and offered to give him a list of people to censure out. While suggestions for this column are always appreciated may it be pointed out that it is not essentially a 'grape' section. From time to time The Plainsman issues what we Americans recognize as 'gentle cuffs' out, directed at individuals, organizations and in some cases certain practices and habits, but not all of his writings by any means, are of the 'howl' variety. Unfortunately constructive criticism of practically every nature calls for the pointing out of errors and for this reason the reading public sometimes misconstrues the idea behind a given article. This column is a 'personal' column only so far as the reader will permit it to be. In other words, if the shoe fits, put it on—and you might reap some good from the suggestion. From his own viewpoint The Plainsman would much prefer to conduct a commendatory column but it is needless to say that one of that type would neither be as popular or as beneficial.

Chalk this one up to the credit of the 'city boy' if you would be fair and impartial! Ever since the late unpleasantness with Mr. Hohenzollern and the so-called 'jazz age' came into being, the city 'jellybean' has been the target of scorn and maligned person. His antics have been ridiculed to high heaven and, in some cases, he has been the object of nothing short of personal abuse. But, in all fairness to the 'city jellybean' his country and a settlement. There, on the highway which is destined to some day be 'the Main Street of America', in broad daylight, sat a couple of most popular make. It was headed toward the east, barely off the center of the road, with its rear end a smugly drawn. As The Plainsman drove by he casually glanced at the parked machine, as most everybody else would do, and what do you think he saw? Comfortably ensconced in the coupe, his arm draped around the neck of a buxom lass, sat a 'rural jellybean' first cousin to the drug store cowboy of the metropolitan speakeasy, catching up, as it were, on his mid-summer 'necking'. Remember now—it was broad daylight, on a main traveled highway and the bird would have been twittering in the trees—top had there been any birds or tree-tops. In view of his experiences with jellybeans and their antics The Plainsman has never seen the like among the city shiks, who at least seem to concentrate their petting proclivities on the byways and under the cover of darkness. It appears that his rural rival has gone him one better both in undisturbed nerve and poor judgment.

POLICE WORK ON 1923 CASE FOR MURDER announces the headline in a Texas paper. Verily the wheels of justice grind slowly though perhaps not so fine as the philosophers might have us think.

Homer D. Wade, manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, has promised the aid of his organization in having Texas rangers removed from Borger, says the Borger Daily Herald in a front page news-story. This action of Mr. Wade is true as announced in the Herald, may be a dangerous precedent. While The Plainsman living in Lubbock, freely admits that he knows very little about the so-called lawlessness of the oil camp town, he imagines that officials of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, who are scattered all over the western side of the state, know no more about it than he or any other average citizen. Governor Moody and members of the law enforcement departments of the state should be able to decide the question of rangers remaining in Borger without the aid of any organization, regardless of its prestige. The Plainsman believes the WTCCh should continue to serve the territory in the same efficient manner as it has in the past, but he also believes that it should steer clear of the treacherous, rock-studded sea of politics.

WASHINGTON LETTER

U. S. DRIFTING TOWARD DICTATORSHIP, SAY DEMOCRACY LOVING ALIENS

BY RODNEY DUTCHER, NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Nearly every other day now, someone warns us that we are drifting toward a government by dictatorship. This warning has almost superseded the old threat that the existing form of government in the United States was in danger of being overthrown in favor of a Soviet regime.

These differences are promptly seen by comparison of the two bogys. The viewers-with-alarm who feared communist domination were conservatives to a man, while those who fear or predict a dictatorship are of all shades of political opinion.

Everyone in this country worth mentioning is strenuously opposed to any communist form of government, but there are many who are enthusiastic over European dictatorships and apparently view the general theory complacently. The United States was never in danger of being communized, but there is a tendency today which, if not checked—as it undoubtedly will be—would in its logical conclusion find the American people and the Congress heretofore most of their governing privileges.

If it were possible to dispose of this dictatorship bogey by laughing it off, the subject would not be discussed in this article. The dictatorship idea has taken a firm hold in some European countries, notably in Italy, but Italy has edged right over into the western hemisphere. Chile has a military dictatorship so firm as to rival Mussolini's; President Borno is altering the Haitian constitution so as to become that republic's man on horseback, and the A. F. of L. has exposed the persecution of labor union officials under Machado in Cuba, where the constitution is also being revamped to prolong the president's term and federalize Havana.

In Mexico, the dictatorship bogey is raised against Obregon because he seeks a second, non-consecutive presidential term. All this may be but a swing of the pendulum, but the symptoms of the dictatorship trend are to be seen right here at home.

Terrific blarney has lately been delivered at the direct primary system by reactionary statesmen and politicians. The direct primary is supposed to be one of the big bulwarks of popular government in this country, and the present bureaucracy is working for a dictatorship that they have even formed an organization called the American Constitutional Association to fight the trend. The incorporators declare that the current slide to which Congress is constantly subjected, and the gradual 'usurpation' of the rights of the states are both a part of the insidious attempt upon the right of free government.

School children have always been told that the president of this country held more power than most men in this country, which is true. Woodrow Wilson attained the high water mark of presidential power, and during the war the president's greatest instru-

PROBABLY NO MORE KAISERS

When the former Emperor of Germany celebrated, in his residence at Doorn, Holland, the centenary of his birth, the celebration of the former crown prince, the tone of the ex-kaiser's remarks to his guests seem to indicate that he had little hope of regaining the throne of Germany, but that he cherished thoughts of the possibility that his grandson might some time reign. It was a natural expression of the feeling of an old man who realizes that his life is nearing its end, but in respect to the chances of his grandson it showed unwillingness to give up dreams of Hohenzollern power and glory which are increasingly improbable of fulfillment, every year and every day.

Every hour that Germany goes on gaining in population, wealth, power, and buoyancy of spirit, weakens the old monarchical tradition, and undermines the old loyalty of the masses to the family of the "kaiser" who fled to the Netherlands in the hour of his country's defeat. This change is going on constantly, and year by year the balance tips in favor of the republic and against the imperialism of the masses to the family of the "kaiser" who fled to the Netherlands in the hour of his country's defeat.

When Gerald Chapman was operating it developed that he had a call on vast sums of underworld money. No one ever completely explained the distribution of his rich spoils, which included a million dollar mill robbery. Stolen bonds found their way into the most respectable hands and the respectable hands never knew the intricacies of the transaction. There were scores of secret emissaries below the surface who could hide him out and tie him over. He was able to penetrate the walls of Atlanta prison and disappear. His cronies in the city's quagmires were legion. Only one of them ever "squealed" and he did only when he thought Chapman dead.

The Whittemore gang, one of the most elaborate the east has known, had fortunes at its command. A sum of $50,000 could be produced on a few moments' notice and the Whittemores did not forget their "connections." A vast bond in plain the distribution of his rich spoils, which included a million dollar mill robbery. Stolen bonds found their way into the most respectable hands and the respectable hands never knew the intricacies of the transaction. There were scores of secret emissaries below the surface who could hide him out and tie him over. He was able to penetrate the walls of Atlanta prison and disappear. His cronies in the city's quagmires were legion. Only one of them ever "squealed" and he did only when he thought Chapman dead.

This system operates on many levels, from petty larceny to Champanneque proportions. In the lesser gangs, particularly among the hoodier factions, territory is inviolable. To traffic in another's belt means hasty departure from the earth. The prosperity of a given gang is likely to bring about a war born of jealousy and an argument between gangsters is settled with a flash in the night and a corpse in the gutter. GILBERT SWAN.

enforced in recent years by other important powers. The right of the president to remove all appointed officers at will, which has been confirmed within the year, is another of his dictatorial powers. The more Congress is discredited, the stronger becomes the position of the executive. The House, hamstrung by its rules, is discredited and ruled by an oligarchy. The Senate, where exists the unlimited debate which some liberals describe as the last bulwark of democracy, is threatened with drastic closure. The perfect type of "man on horseback" in this country today is Vice-President Dawes, who wants to abolish the direct primaries and amend the Senate rules. But Dawes is so individualistic and so unwilling to play the game that Coolidge dislikes him and the Senate dislikes him. The pump is that he will

Les Drawn To Halt Spread Of Potato Weevils

(By Associated Press)
 LUBBOCK, Tex., Aug. 2.—Parsant law passed by the 40th Legislature, Monday, provides for the issuance of regulations governing the sale and shipment of sweet potato plants and potatoes designed to prevent the spread of potato weevils and other insects, and also to protect the potato crop from the potato beetle, the Colorado potato beetle, and other diseases. The regulations are intended to be put into effect immediately for the production of slips in the field while the plants are still in the soil, and also in storage. Any person intending to produce or ship sweet potato plants or potatoes from this state to any other state, or to any foreign country, is required to dip the plants or potatoes in a fungicide solution to kill any insects or diseases that may be present. The regulations also require that the plants or potatoes be packed in such a way as to prevent damage to the crop. The regulations are intended to protect the potato crop from the potato beetle, the Colorado potato beetle, and other diseases. BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES

A Tight Squeeze

Jack Lockwill in the Woods

By Gilbert Patten

The sheriff and two other men appeared, all of them armed. They listened somewhat incredulously to Jack's story of how Garabaldi had saved the little girl by jumping on to the wild bear and driving the creature away. Then Bambo, panting and breathless, reached them. "Oh, I think they kill-a Garabaldi!" she jabbered. Gobbling for joy, she flung her arms around the bear's neck.

"Well now," said the sheriff, "with one bear killed and Widder Dearborn's little girl all safe, I guess there ain't going to be any more shooting."

They were on their way out of the woods when they came upon two of the armed bear-hunters who had captured Tony Arato and were taking him to town.

As they approached a pasture beyond the woods, they heard a man shouting and screaming as if in great agony. Just within the border of the forest, they found Elam Frye, who had been caught in the bear-trap he had attempted to set near the old horse that Nate Turner had shot. Both the man's arms were caught fast in the wicked jaws of the trap, and he could not release himself.

B. C. D. TO MARK PIONEERS TO ALL HIGHWAYS FROM LUBBOCK

STANDARD SIGN GIVEN APPROVAL EVERY TWO MILES

Following the suggestion of a most successful member of the Chamber of Commerce, the Board of City Development voted to mark the seven state highways leading out of Lubbock with road signs, when they met in regular session Tuesday morning.

The marking of highways in the South Plains section proved to be a favorite plan offered when the Chamber of Commerce members were making suggestions this spring to be used in a program of work.

A meeting of the members who represented their interest in this program was held recently and their decision on what should be done was accepted by the board and will be carried out.

Signs Every Two Miles

The program calls for the erection of signs showing the distance to Lubbock every two miles for the first fifty miles out on each of the seven roads, and every four miles for the next fifty.

Committees were authorized for the general arguments for a Denver Railroad Celebration. Lubbock has been looking forward to since the granting of the permit to the Burlington system by the U. S. C. Lubbock expects to put on a big celebration with the cooperation of other towns along the line and in this section. Other celebrations have been held while Lubbock has participated by sending a band and large delegations.

Entertainment Planned

Neil H. Wright, H. D. Woods, and Hubert L. Allen were appointed as a committee to look after the arranging of an entertainment to be tendered J. C. Hall of Colorado for his services in helping to pass the Tech appropriations bills.

The board voted to send representatives to Tahoka when representatives from towns on highway number 2 will gather there to discuss plans to have the highway improved.

A report of activities of the organization since the last meeting was carried in the program and discussed along with other matters.

payment of fees to certain county officers, and in lieu permitted payment of straight salaries to them, and that which would have permitted raising the governor's salary to $10,000 a year and fixing the pay of legislators at not exceeding $1,500 a year, seemed to attract about the same amount of attention both for and against.

Votes Are Given

The votes on the four amendments from the 179 counties follow:

Moody Withholds Comment Today

AUSTIN, Aug. 2 (AP)—Governor Dan Moody had made no comment Tuesday noon on the results of Monday's constitutional amendments election, but indicated he might have something to say later in the day.

Last night the governor expressed surprise at the heavy vote against the judicial amendment.

Former Governor James E. Ferguson was pleased with the results.

"Four distinct and radical changes in our constitution were proposed without rhyme or reason," he said. "The people rose up in their mighty majesty and said they shall not pass."

JAPAN OFFERS PLAN TO SAVE NAVAL PARLEY

THURSDAY IS SET FOR ANNUAL MEET OF ASSOCIATION

Convening at 3 o'clock at the county fair park Thursday, pioneers of Lubbock county will sound the knell which will evoke recollections of early days of the plains opening the third annual reunion of the Pioneers Association of Lubbock county.

The mid-afternoon hours will be taken up with speeches and greetings of "old timers." Prominent settlers of the county will entertain the gathering with tales of yesteryear.

Plenty of Shade

The machinery shed of the county fair park will be utilized as headquarters of the convention and plenty of lee water and shade will alleviate the probable heat of the day. Basket supper will be at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, each member bringing some dish. In addition to the ratins supplied by the organization, the McDonald Packing company will furnish a stew for the reunion.

Six hundred to one thousand persons are expected to attend the meeting Thursday, many of whom will remain in the city overnight to attend the two reunivals being conducted here. New members will be added to the club throughout the day, the requirement being 25 years of residence in the county.

BIKE MARATHON

The boys, "Blondie" rode several miles up the highway on a scout-like mission, to be told by an automobile to catch up with Great in 8 inch gun cruisers, in which category the sole British now hold a notable advantage.

Later in the day Mr. Gibson and Rear Admiral Hilary P. Jones, U. S. N., returned the visit of the Japanese statesman. It had been expected that they would be able to present their definite proposals for a naval holiday up to 1921, with the exception that it would permit the American navy to

Branch Unreported

Dugan Branch, whose bike was wrecked near Canyon, has not yet returned. Believing that the oldest of the boys realized the impossibility of overcoming a 50 mile lead which was caused by the difficulty of adequately repairing his wrecked bike, his friends entertain the thought that he is taking his time on the return.

Clean sportsmanship has been displayed by the adventurous boys who would be the Lindberghs of tomorrow. When it was suggested by the Daily Journal that young Wiggins submit his picture for publication, he demurred, but later agreed, provided the pictures of the other boys were included.

Prizes Total $80

Prizes totaling almost $80 will be distributed on the basis of one-half, one-third and one-sixth for first, second and third places. A number of citizens of the town have suggested that some consideration be shown each contestant of the race, believing that in defeat there is victory in the endurance exemplified by each of the boys. Contributions, which continue, to come into the purse will likely be shared proportionately to achievement by all the boys.

DARED REDS TO KILL

PARIS—King Alfonso of Spain visiting England and France, has acquired a reputation of great daring, since he, a royalist, seems to have no fear of anarchists. Once brooding of a meeting which his death was to be plotted, he attended in person, unrecognized until he finally announced himself. The reds did not attempt to harm him.

To get in communication with the presiding officers of the various precincts prohibited an exact tabulation a few votes today.

It is like that the county commissioners will meet tomorrow or next day and canvass the votes. County Judge Charles Nordyke said this morning.

The vote as it stood with the returns this afternoon was: Judiciary—for 175, against 364; taxation—for 346, against 36; fire system—for 72, against 491; salary—for 115, against 261.

COOLIDGE GIVES HIS INSTRUCTIONS

DETAILS GUARDED AS DELEGATIONS STUDY NEW SUGGESTIONS

(By Associated Press)

GENEVA, Aug. 2.—The Associated Press learns that the Japanese compromise proposal, made in an effort to save the tripartite naval conference from failure, provides that Great Britain and Japan shall cease building cruisers when they reach the end of their present authorized programs, and that up to 1921 the number of 10,000 ton cruisers shall be limited to twelve for Great Britain and the United States and eight for Japan.

Supreme Effort Made By Japanese

After failing in their first attempt to find compromise finally the hold the possibility of giving satisfaction, Admiral Saito and Viscount Ishii this morning visited Hugh S. Gibson, chief American delegate, and handed him the text of a compromise project concerning cruisers.

The project is quite provisional in nature, but designed to prevent the wrecking of the conference on this outstanding difficulty.

Secrecy Maintained

Greatest secrecy was maintained by both delegations concerning the nature of the projected compromise, but it is understood that it generally partakes of the nature of a naval holiday and provides means for the United States to catch up with Great in 8 inch gun cruisers, in which category the sole British now hold a notable advantage.

Immediately after the departure of the American delegates Admiral Saito and Viscount Ishii called upon W. C. Bridgeman, first lord of the admiralty, one of the chief members of the British delegation, and handed him a copy of the plan previously handed to Mr. Gibson.

The first Japanese reaction is that their project, which they frankly say does not embody a genuine accord on the cruiser question, but merely offers a temporary expedient or temporary arrangement, is in essence more calculated to meet the American than the British ideas.

This is not because they wish in any way to favor the American standpoint, but because of the fundamental difficulties involved in the meeting of the British viewpoint. The British reaction to the Japanese plan was not available at mid-afternoon.

According to some information, the Japanese plan practically provides for a naval holiday up to 1921, with the exception that it would permit the American navy to

"CHEAPEST" ROYALTY MAN IS TALK OF SHAWNEE

SHAWNEE, Okla.—Oil field men are talking about the "cheapest" man ever connected with the industry.

They say that one of the owners of royalty on a lease in the Cherokee field has been causing no end of trouble by his constant quarreling with the production company.

Not satisfied when a gusher was brought in recently, he appeared at the company's office to complain that several hundred barrels of oil had been allowed to run on the ground, creating him of a goodly number of dollars royalty.

"You better watch that guy," a lease man told the boss. "He will be carrying that oil away in buckets first thing you know."

INDIAN DRAWS MAP TO SHOW WAY HOME

EL PASO, Texas.—Early last June officers dragged a nude Indian, brought from the Grande and put him in jail. They hadn't a thing against him except that he simply wouldn't wear clothes.

Nobody could understand the youth as he jabbered in a strange dialect, so there was no way of speaking to him. Finally the boy got hold of pencil and paper, traced in rivers and mountains, showed the direction by a picture of the sun, then put a mark where his home should be. It indicated that he is an Apache from the vicinity of Alamo, Texas. A search is being made for his relatives.

CRUDE PRICE REDUCED

FINDLAY, Ohio, Aug. 2 (AP)—The Ohio Oil company today reduced the price of Wooster crude oil 20 cents a barrel. The new price is $1.57 a barrel.

LET your speedometer tell the story! Fill your tank to the very top with Conoco Gasoline. Then note your speedometer reading. When you refill, have the tank brimful again. The number of gallons required for refilling shows the number of gallons you have used. Read your speedometer again—subtract your first reading from the second to obtain the number of miles traveled. Divide the miles by the number of gallons used and you'll be surprised! For then you'll know that Conoco really does deliver extra miles—with every gallon.

Is it any wonder that motorists who demand maximum mileage insist upon Conoco? And they get these extra miles without sacrificing the other essentials of a good motor fuel—ready starting and a rapid pickup.

Why don't you travel farther this summer at less cost with Conoco?

Look for the Conoco sign.

PLANS OPENED TO REORGANIZE DRY SYSTEM

NATION RE-ZONED BY PLAN APPROVED BY LAST CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2. (AP)—Steps toward final reorganization of the prohibition bureau were taken today by Assistant Secretary Lowman, 24 hours after he formally took the oath of office, with abolition of the five fixed enforcement zones and elevation of his immediate assistants to higher ranks.

The readjustment is subject only to changes which may be necessary when the bureau is put on a civil service basis, as provided by act of the last congress.

White is Named Mr. Lowman appointed H. H. White, who has been acting assistant commissioner, as general supervisor of field officers to effect a reorganization of field officers on a business basis.

The assistant secretary said he expected the three appointees as well as most of the district administrators to retain their posts when the civil service reorganization takes place.

With abolishment of the North Atlantic, South Atlantic, Pacific, Great Lakes and Gulf zones, division of the country for enforcement purposes now falls back on the 22 districts created by Mr. Lowman's predecessor, General Lincoln C. Andrews.

Wants Uniformity Explaining that the reorganization was hoped to effect greater uniformity and efficiency throughout strengthening the policy of centralized administration, Mr. Lowman said the abolishment of the zone supervisors would affect only one official, H. M. Dengler, who works out of headquarters here.

Maurice Campbell, who has been covering both the eastern and middle western zones, was appointed administrator for New York to succeed Chester P. Mills.

idea in the East and Lowden from the West. He thinks it is also likely that there may be two democratic candidates for the presidency, Al Smith in the South and North and a dry man in the South and West.

As floor leader for the Democrats Mr. Garner said he is to have no measure that he could call his pet, but that he is interested in reducing taxes, adding that in his opinion the government could be run for a lot less than is now being spent.

Reduce the corporation tax from 12 1/2 to 10 per cent. Repeal all nuisance taxes. Repeal the automobile tax. Repeal all consumption taxes except the custom and excise taxes.

Mr. Garner said he would like to see a competitive tariff on everything and was at a loss to understand just why he had been accused in some quarters of being against the growers of wool and maul.

Mr. Garner says that he, Forney of Michigan and Senator Jones of New Mexico, were the only ones that knew anything about this business with mohair.

The veteran congressman said "there is not a word of truth in it" when a charge that he was planning to write a tariff bill and put wool and mohair on the free list, was quoted to him.

Mr. Garner seemed somewhat at a loss to know why some livestock bodies praised Claud Hudspeth to the skies at the same time making some attacks on him.

DR. WILL HOGG BRINGS GOOD MESSAGES AT TABERNACLE DAILY

The revival meeting at the tabernacle, corner Avenue H and 15th Street, entered the second day of the four weeks' campaign with a larger crowd present than on Monday morning.

Dr. Will Hogg, the evangelist, delivered a strong message to the church people of the community. He showed them their duty, and urged that they clean up their own lives and get ready for work.

Dr. Hogg is reaching the hearts of the people with his earnest, piercing messages such as possibly no other minister ever has in this city, and the great interest shown by the fair to result in one of the greatest revivals that Lubbock has ever known.

Stresses Bible Reading The evangelist connected up his message this morning with his sermon of Monday night, when he took as his subject, "Where shall we go from here, boys."

The subject announced for discussion this evening will be the "Great Divide." Dr. Hogg has a wonderful sermon under this caption, and it is hoped that the largest attendance yet, will be present to hear him.

Wednesday evening special delegations will be present from the Nazarene church, the Nineteenth Street Methodist church and the Nineteenth Street Baptist church.

The members of these three churches will be given reserved space in the center tier of seats at the front of the tabernacle, and a good representation of the three churches is expected to be present.

Song Service At 8:15 The song service will begin promptly at 8:15 each evening and it is important that you be there early, in order that a choice seat may be secured.

A nursery tent has been arranged and in charge of competent ladies who will care for the babies while the mothers attend the services, and those who have children and feel that they cannot attend the services because of the little ones, need not stand back for that reason, for they will be well cared for during the services, and you need suffer no uneasiness about them.

The nursery tents are in charge of members of one of the Missionary Societies, and your children will not bother anyone and you will enjoy the services yourself.

Mr. Garner is the owner of three farms and he is therefore in a position to know just what the condition of the farmer is. He is also interested in banks that have first mortgages on more than 25,000 acres and thinks he knows something of this production business.

The oil business is affecting Texas in no small way and the congressman is interested in methods to stop waste of oil or wasteful production. "The companies could be given heavier taxes if they do not stop drilling," he suggested, but did not say that he would favor any such scheme.

The Democrats have a change of the House, Mr. Garner said. He was asked to give the definition of the Democratic party and he showed the influence of the party when he said: "The Democrats legislate for the entire people while the Republicans believe in legislating for the special interest of big business."

Aviation Big Issue in 1928 The Democratic floor leader thinks aviation will not be a partisan issue and looks for the next Congress to look aviation squarely in the eye with the vision furnished by the exploits of Lindbergh, Chamberlin, Byrd, and Matildas.

Mr. Garner has a strong friend of aviation and wants to see it get more money. Aviation, he declares, is bound to be a big issue in Congress. He wants enough airplanes and enough battleships to keep any nation from setting foot on American soil, and thinks in the money appropriated for defense purposes needs to be better balanced with aviation getting a larger share.

The first citizen of Uvalde doesn't believe very much in the effectiveness of blocs, such as the agricultural bloc and others. "When I build a house, I go over and get a block of tin here and a block of wood there," he said. "Blocs are in the main something for the press boys to write about." But he finds they are very satisfactory to use, although, they do some harm and some good.

Don't Talk Politics at Home Mr. Garner never talks politics at home, his son cashier at the First State Bank here, says. He enjoys spending his time when off duty here at home, fishing with as he has it "the triflingest fellow I can find for they are the best people and the best fishermen."
