The Beardless Germaine Finds True Consolation In Intriguing Sportwear

Dearest Cousin:

We are in this fairland of stately palms,apphire sea, tropical flowers, gleaming white hotels and villas of enchanting beauty. Cannes indeed is the garden spot of the world.

Fall in spite of the loveliness around me. I am a bit sad. This morning, on the shore, while listening to the lapping of the waves, I indulged in the luxury of self-analysis and introspection. I reviewed my past and contemplated the future with the result that I am not altogether pleased with this Germaine person I happen to be.

Here I have been out of the continent more than two years. In society for a year, yet I have made no progress with my life. Jacques is less devoted than when I first met, and I am more in love with him. I am, I think, more engaged, more dramatically, yet just as abruptly. Paul Perrone, a man of greater importance, age and dignity, who studies me out to be his wife. Yet he cold—as Jimmy used to say, Yes, he is pleasant to have around, but when I am away from him I do not even miss him. He did not dig deep into my consciousness, only stroked my surface vanity.

Womankind's Bond—Clothes

But you, my dear cousin, are in love with a man who returns your devotion, are engaged with your wedding day set all started toward richer and more varied experiences.

Why must I be such a trifler? Why can't I, too, find my niche and slip gracefully and easily into it? Why can't I build something substantial and permanent? What is wrong with me?

But how selfish to talk only of myself. Rather, let me pass on to more interesting topics—that one great bond of interest between us and all women—clothes.

For even as I was retrospecting, my eyes were coveting from one snappy beach costume to another and marveling at how lovely the all white costume is in the tropics. How foolish to try to outdo the background! And as for yellow, I believe it is most effective when combined with that new bright green that has considerable yellow in it. And how thoroughly feminine are all shades of pink and rose. Almost too obvious to suit me.

I have seen several novelties that might interest you, for the reason that you Americans are always after unusual effects. The most striking was one Anne Laska said, traced, with trousers instead of a skirt, but there were broad panels in front and back so that you noticed nothing unusual in the effect unless a stray breeze blew back a panel.

It was very interesting, I thought, for hiking and general sport wear—more appropriate I thought for American or English women than for French women who never hike, and who indulge in sports in truly feminine attire. If we should go to Switzerland this summer, and if the mountain climbing ones came upon me, I could imagine how quite a practical garment would be quite a practical one—besides well fitted to skirts.

Wool Length Skirts Persist

And speaking of skirts, they are knee-length here, and there seems to be no inclination to lengthen them. For dancing they are so very short that many designers have designed dresses to match the frocks and of the same material so that they seem a part of the costume. These are very elaborate and carry out the decorative scheme of the gown they accompany.

Several peasant vests have appeared here, particularly with mirroring stripes and hint at great popularity. One model I saw was of black velvet, embroidered in red yarn and bound with red, and it was worn with a skirt of black and white checked wool. It was sleeveless and short and decidedly chic.

Appropriate for the Country

Another style I liked even better was of tan wool bound with brown, which also formed a vest that buttoned with many flat buttons. This was embroidered in shades of brown, ecru and beige beautifully blended. It had a comfortable sport sleeve, and seemed to me a very appropriate attire for the country.

In my next letter, I promise to talk more of clothes and less of myself, for I have much better judgment in selecting clothes than suits, and I find they last better and are most satisfactory all around. All my love, GERMAINE.

Nationalist forces of the Cantonese government in China are drawing in closer around Shanghai. They are in full possession of the key city of Hangchow, only 112 miles from Shanghai, and are steadily moving toward the sea and to the grand canal.

Defeated troops of Marshal Sun Chuan-fang, defender of Shanghai, are in full retreat toward Shanghai with no indication that any further stand will be made. In Chekiang province, of which Hangchow is the capital, Sun's troops looted and partially burned Hangchow before retreating.

THIS TASTY FOOD TAKES ANY FLAVOR

The Italian who likes rich dishes, combines rice with oils. The Mexican who likes hot dishes, combines it with chili. The Englishman who likes hot dishes, combines it with syrup. Rice absorbs the flavor of whatever it is cooked with.

Food experts like the uniformity of Cornet grains. They discovered long ago that broken particles and small kernels cook first, to the great disadvantage in taste and appearance of the finished dish. Cornet Rice is sifted to avoid this.

If you would have rice which both has nutritious goodness, which retains its flaky deliciousness, say "Cornet" the next time you order.

Favorite American ways of preparing rice have just been assembled in a new booklet. Send for your copy right away. A two-cent stamp sent to the Cornet Rice Co., 1001 N. Light St., Dept. 221, New York, will bring it to you immediately.

MATADORS CAGE LIONS WITH 35-28 SCORE

Dancing Delaney And Mauling Maloney Ready To Mix Blows Tonight

HUNTER AND AL JENNINGS LOOP HOLE INTS TO WIN

CH CAGERS SWEEP TWO GAME SERIES FROM EAST TEXANS

The flaming jersid Matadors, in most sensational way, over-came a set of 10 points last evening making an sweep of the two game series with the East Texas State Tech and defeated the visiting crew by a final count of 35 to 28. The contest was one of the most interesting exhibitions presented to the fans of the Plains this season. It was a full of action and thrills, never losing interest and fight.

Delaney Hunter, scoring sensation of the evening, came back and up his scoring streak to lift the score out of a rut and put them on an even basis with the Lions. In for Alma Pace during the latter part of the initial session the Matador forward found his falling toward defeat and called time out to get his teammates out of the air and settle down to smooth the air and Jennings brought Matadors up even with the Lions. The first half was closed, the being 17 all. Hunter and Jennings both sunk four counters from the field during the initial period.

Tech Takes Lead

Matadors came back into the after a rest during half and by looping counters and took the lead. This lead was never passed by the Lions and when the final shot was heard the Nules' pistol was heard the Lions had another victory attached to their year's record.

Hunter was high point man on the floor for the evening with eight field goals, four in the period and as many in the last. He followed by Jennings, another forward, with six field loop-ers. Lanky pivot man of the team sank four counters and one free throw for a total of nine points to the field for the visitors.

Defense Is Good

Work of Kenneth 'Andy' Hemp, Matador center; Captain Dennis Walker for the home team kept the fans keyed up for the evening. For the visitors Gil built forward; Duncan, scintillating forward; Gardner, guard of the Lions, all contributed brilliant at all stages of the affair.

Lions left early this morning for T. L. A. conference tilt with the highly touted Bartons Buffs of T. S. T. C. The Lions and the Buffs both holding a tight grip on the conference title and the two no doubt give the Panhandle a great treat.

Matadors' diminutive floor art-ist, Driggs, for a number of years one of the most brilliant mentors of the western conference, handled the game in a most commendable manner. He kept both teams hustling and let the game drag for interest.

The former Baylor mentor kept a close game, no member of the team was ruled from the floor on account of personal fouls.

Matadors To Plainview

Matadors meet with the Jack-son of Wayland Baptist College tonight to return an engagement that quieted. This evening the element of Plainview will have their first opportunity to witness the Matadors in their city since opening of the states newest educational institution.

SAY RIXEY IS BEST

Major League fans say Eppa Rixey of the Cincinnati Reds is a bet- ter pitcher than Herb Pennock, who led the premier portside in the major League.

FRISCH HAS COLOR

While Frisch says he intends to leave the St. Louis fans forget all about Rogers Hornsby this summer. Frisch is a colorful player and a "go- ing" when in the mood to give his efforts.

After the Champion

Wallace, who overnigh- tly beat the best in the fistie game by knocking out Kid Kaplan, former heavyweight champion, and Cuddy, also, says there will be a new champion if he ever gets a shot at Mandell, present titleholder in light-weight class. "That's one can lick," says Wallace.

Two Prospective Futurity Champs Loom For Season

By NEA Service

While the opening Grand Circuit speed festival at Toledo is still some long months off, down at the popular training base in Orlando, Fla., they're already raving about two prospective futurity stars.

One is in the stable of America's premier trotting colt trainer, Ben White. The other munches its oats in the barn of the Hoosier star, Septimus Paine.

The White candidate is generally regarded as the most promising of the two-year-old performers in the famous horseman's establishment. It is a filly and is a full sister to that good totter, Peter Gay (2) 2:11 1/4.

It is possible White may have another Ruth-M. Chenault (2) 2:07 1/2 in this daughter of Peter Volo (4) 2:02. The Chenault filly made a clean sweep of her 10 "Racing Grand" engagements last year and established a new money-winning record for two-year-old trotters of $37,377.50. In addition, she proved the first two-year-old ever to beat 2:10 over a two-lap ring.

The fine-appearing youngster in the Paine stable is a colt by that good three-year-old totter of 1923, The Senator (3) 2:03 1/4, whose sons and daughters will appear on the country's ovals the first time this year. He is out of Virginia Barnett, 2:07 1/4. Paine recently worked him an eighth in 15 1/2 seconds. That's real speed for any horse and truly remarkable for a performer just turned two.

MATADORS WILL MEET BAPTISTS

Higginbotham's Hustlers Are To Play One Game Before Fans At Wayland

Coach Grady Higginbotham and his hustlers will board a north bound Santa Fe late this evening for a return battle with the basketballers of Wayland Baptist College of Plainview. This is the first time the fans of Plainview have had the opportunity to witness the Matadors on the Wayland floor. Intense interest will be shown in the event this evening as three members of the Matador quintet are former Plainview high school players, Mel-vern Hunter, scoring flashy of the Matadors in the last two games with the East Texas Lions, Kenneth 'Andy' Hemphill, lanky pivot man of the Matador machine; and T. M. Teague, Jr., are all former Plainview Bulldog floor performers.

Although the odds greatly favor the Matadors against the 'Potts' Anderson crew the Plainview machine has made considerable improvement in its work since meeting with the Matadors early in the season. In the past four games with the Sul Ross and Panhandle A. & M. colleges the Wayland-five has proved that it is a scrappy crew and is capable of handling much stronger aggregations.

Frisch Too Sensitive

A too sensitive nature is said to be the reason why Manager John McGraw of the Giants weakened on Frankie Frisch. McGraw rides his players hard when they fail to deliver, and Frisch weakened under the verbal barrage.

Draw Tough Jobs

The two toughest jobs in the major leagues have been bequeathed Bob O'Farrell and Jack McCallister. Bob O'Farrell succeeds a man who won a pennant and a world series. Rogers Hornsby, while McCallister falls heir to Speaker's Cleveland club that finished second.

Walter Whiffle 'Em

While Walter Johnson no longer tries for strikeouts, he fanned 125 last season, working in 262 innings, which means he averaged about one strikeout in every six men retired. Not so bad for a veteran of 20 years.

DISTRICT CAGE TOURNEY OPENS ON TECH FLOOR

SEVENTEEN TEAMS START ELIMINATION EARLY THIS AFTERNOON

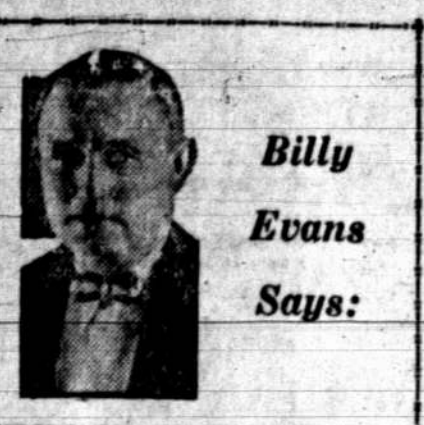

Coaches of the seventeen representative schools of the South Plains interscholastic league met at the assembly hall today at 12 and drew for the schedule. Every team was represented with the exception of Rails, of Crosby county, and Dickens, of Dickens county.

The following schedule was made after the drawing and will be run off as follows:—Roaring Springs vs. Sen- graves at 1 o'clock this afternoon; Plainview vs. Muleshoe, 2 to 3; Well-man vs. Lubbock, 3 to 4; Moflon vs. Stanton, 4 to 5; Littlefield vs. Lamesa, 5 to 6; Rails vs. Wilson, 7 to 8; Floyd-da vs. Levelland, 8 to 9; Snyder vs. Southland, 9 to 10. Dickens drew a bye.

All games will be played at the Tech assembly hall and George Beak-ley, Tech basketballer and former San Antonio Academy player, will officiate all games during the meet. Ac- cording to H. C. Hervey, manager of Tech athletics, a reasonable charge will be made for the games. A person may see all games this afternoon to- morrow afternoon for 25 cents. A 50 cent charge will be assessed for the finals tomorrow evening.

Soft for Golf Pros

From California, the professional golfers now in that section will next invade Texas for several big tourna- ments and then finish the winter season in Florida.

Billy Evans Says:

Johnson Smiles

"One less tough baby to fool" was the smiling comment of Walter Johnson, when notified that Washington had signed Tris Speaker.

"Now if some club in the National League will just kidnap Cobb, it will be a lot easier for me to beat Cleveland and Detroit next summer."

"Batters like Cobb and Speaker only come once in about every 25 years. They're not only natural hitters, but favored by keen minds, they mix their style, so the pitcher is always in trouble when pitching to them."

"While I never would pick Cobb as a batter easy to pitch to, still I would much prefer trying to fool him than matching wits and curves with Cobb or Speaker."

Cobb's Weakness?

Walter Johnson is happy because Washington, rather than some other club, has signed Speaker. While not wishing Ty any bad luck, he would prefer that the National League pitchers worry over the problem as to what Cobb can't hit.

Discussing the great batters of the last 20 years with Johnson one day last summer, I asked him how he pitched to Cobb.

"There is no set way to pitch to Cobb because he hasn't a weakness, I have tried my entire assortment against him and reached that conclusion," he replied.

"Some days when I have been very

Sensational Work

It strikes me Washington fans are going to be treated to some sensational work in the outfield this year.

To my way of thinking the Wash- ington ball park is the only honest-to- godness ball field in the majors, playing territory considered.

If all the major league ball parks were patterned after the Washington playing field, baseball would be a much more interesting game. Inciden- tally pitching would be an easier task.

A player who knocks the ball over the high wall in right field at Wash- ington or drops it into the left field bleachers, deserves a home run.

The Washington field enables the gardeners to cover all kinds of ground and offers plenty of opportunity for sensational running catches, still one of the greatest plays in baseball.

Speaker, Rice and Goslin should provide plenty of thrills for the Wash- ington fans this summer as well as many heartaches for the opposition.

Entitled to Chance

There is no logical reason why former Heavyweight Champion Jack Dempsey should enter the heavy- weight elimination tournament Tex Rickard is planning. He is entitled to a return bout, as is customary when a champion is defeated.

Ban on Hagen

Walter Hagen, being under contract to give Florida publicity through his golfing prowess, was ordered not to take part in the California golf tour- nery after making the trip out there expressly for that purpose. None of the other players expressed sorrow over the fact.

fast, I found that my speed bothered him to a certain extent. That is, I might make him miss two fast balls, but invariably he would murder one of them before I managed to slip over the third strike.

"I have always made it a point to carefully study Cobb's stance and pitch accordingly. However, I never had better than fair results."

Ticket Scandal Causes Last Minute Probe of Queer Sales

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—Jim Maloney of Boston had a weight advantage of 3 1/2 pounds over Jack Delaney of Bridgeport, Conn. when they weighed in before the state athletic commission this af- ternoon. Maloney scaled 203 1/2 pounds against 172 for Delaney.

slasts sought tickets for the fight, internal revenue officers and officials of the state boxing commission found that possibly 5,000 of the 19,000 avail- able tickets had fallen into the hands of speculators.

While 100,000 spectators sought tickets to the arena, speculators held choice seats at prices as high as $150 each.

Some tickets, purchased from speculators as evidence, were traced to the allotment of Dan Carroll, manager of Maloney and others to the quota of the boxing commission itself.

Both Carroll and members of the commission denied any connection with the speculators, but Carroll and Pete Reilly, manager of Delaney, along with revenue officers and witnesses were summoned to a hearing in the commission offices.

Tex Rickard will have the match broadcast from station WMSG on a 302 meter wave length direct from the ring-side.

This modern age recognizes the honest quality of Camels

THE smokers of America have rewarded Real Quality with Real Leadership.

For Camels have always been all quality and no frills. The choicest tobaccos money can buy, superbly blended. Millions of dollars put into the cigarette. Never a penny expended for show.

There's just one way to find the smoking thrill that has won the modern world's admiration — try Camels. You'll know such taste and fragrance, such mellow mildness, as you never hoped to find. "Have a Camel!"

West Virginia Senator Says He Allowed Claims For Metal Company

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Feb. 18 (AP)—Senator D. Goff, of West Virginia, took stand in the Daugherty-Miller trial and assumed all responsibility for the allowance of the claim for the metal company.
"I spoke in a voice that rang down the court," Senator Goff declared. "In the man who passed these claims," he told the world that Harry M. Daugherty, "never once spoke to me about those claims, directly or indirectly."
"Did Jess Smith ever speak to you about them?" he was asked.
"No, Jess Smith never spoke to me, but I want to say that if he had I would have ordered him out of my office."
"I want to take this occasion to tell the court, this jury and the world that either Daugherty or Miller or Smith or spoke to me of those claims, and they or anyone else had, it would have done them no good."

WASHINGTON—Senator Wadsworth of New York, an Episcopalian, wishes the newspapers to "squell the religious poison which is being spilled in the senate." He told the National Press club such poison could soon make neighbors enemies and divide the nation on religious lines.

Anti-Suicide Club

BALTIMORE—Thirteen boys and girls at the University of Baltimore are charter members of an anti-suicide club, formed because of 17 recent student suicides at various other institutions. Members will study student habits of thought. The motto is "live and let live."

Jack Loses

NEW YORK—Jack Dempsey's income has been cut $3,000 a year. Before Gene Tunney licked him, a deal was pending by which Jack was to get that sum for use of his photograph and autograph in advertising hats. Right after the fight Dempsey forwarded a signed agreement. Now the manufacturer has repudiated the contract and been upheld in court.

Mexico Hits Back At Reports Given By Sec. Kellogg

(By The Associated Press)
MEXICO CITY, Feb. 18.—The Mexican department of commerce and industry challenges the accuracy of Secretary Kellogg's recent report to the American senate on the Mexican oil situation in a declaration published today.

"While the department's statement is made, it says, with the intention of rectifying errors contained in press dispatches from the United States, originating perhaps from vicious information spread by a group of interests opposed to the Mexican laws," the main points dealt with are those made in Secretary Kellogg's report.

"It has been stated," the declaration began, "that out of forty American companies owning oil lands in Mexico only four have applied for compulsory consignment in accordance with the law. There are sixteen, not forty, such proprietary companies, of which half have solicited confirmations."

"It is said that the Penn-Mex and Texas oil companies are not carrying on actual production. Neither of these companies have ceased to produce petroleum. The total production of both companies during the last six months was between 200,000 and 250,000 barrels monthly."

J. W. Crowley, bandmaster at the high school, George P. Politz, assistant, and two officers in the band, Harmon Jenkins and Rufus Scarborough, left this afternoon for Wichita Falls where they will attend a convention of bandmasters at the chamber of commerce building, there tomorrow and at which time music will be selected and rules and regulations laid down for the May contest at Wichita Falls.

The Lubbock band was awarded second place in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce contest last spring with the Breckenridge musicians winning first place. This same band will be the local group's hardest competitors this year, it is thought.

Many Are Killed, Scores Are Hurt, As Devastating Storm Sweeps Two States

 seven members of one family were killed and six other members of the same family were injured.
Death List Given
 The list of identified dead at Pleasant Hill included Mrs. V. D. Hicks, 60, Keys Hicks, 23, Mrs. Oscar Ashby, 40; Ova Ashby, 18; Charles Warren and Willard Ashby, small boys; Mrs. J. J. Birdwell and Annie Birdwell.
 Three injured are believed to be dying at Pleasant Hill and twenty-five or more were injured there.
 The known dead at Rose Hill, Miss., included Mr. and Mrs. M. Floyd and five children, and John Lewis, Jr.
 Two other Boyd children were seriously hurt and the three remaining children less dangerously hurt. John Lewis, Sr., also was injured.
 Most of the dead in other places were plantation negroes.

(By The Associated Press)
NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 18.—Impeded by almost impassable roads, rescue workers today were checking the toll of a tornado which struck two places in Louisiana and one place in Mississippi last night, leaving 31 known dead, scores injured and an unestimated amount of property damage.
 One storm struck first near Pleasant Hill, Sabine Parish, on the Louisiana-Texas boundary. Pleasant Hill, which is in a newly discovered oil field, reported 9 known dead, one missing and two expected to die, with more than a score injured. This storm next was reported near St. Joseph, Texas Parish on the line between Louisiana and Mississippi. Seven negroes were killed on plantations at Lake Bruin and were injured.

Break Is Noted
 Nachtsoches, on a direct line between the two points, reported only a slight storm. Wires were down at many points along the supposed path and a complete check could not be made.
 Another storm was reported at Leaf and Rose Hill, Miss.
 Several houses were demolished at Leaf and 8 persons reported killed at Rose Hill, 35 miles southwest of Meridian.
 At Pleasant Hill it was reported that fifty houses had been leveled. One five year old boy was killed when the wind lifted him from the ground, then hurled him back, crushing him. Three plantations were hit at Lake Bruin. A negro was killed when her house was blown into the lake.
Child Nearly Blown Away
 E. A. Davis, manager of the Lolla-Mark plantation in Texas Parish, said that his small son was lifted four feet in the air by the wind and that it was with great difficulty that he prevented the boy from being blown away.
 Nearly all sections of Louisiana and Mississippi reported torrential rains. Baton Rouge reported that the Amite river was rising and that it was probable that all roads would be flooded.

Eight Dead At Roshill
MERIDIAN, Miss., Feb. 18.—Eight persons were killed a half mile east of Roshill about 9:30 p. m. Thursday by a tornado, according to Dr. Dudley Stennis of Newton, over long distance to the Meridian Star this morning. Rose Hill is about 35 miles southwest of Meridian. Dr. Stennis and three other doctors were called to Rose Hill.

Wind At San Antonio
SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 18.—Accompanied by showers, a norther, which at times reached a velocity of 50 miles an hour, struck San Antonio last night and at 5 o'clock this morning had brought the mercury down to 32 degrees.
 A miniature tornado which centered its attack on Stinson, a commercial flying field lying between Brooks and Kelly field, literally wrecked hangars and planes stationed there. No damage was done to the two army fields, and there was but slight damage in San Antonio.

Damage At Galveston
GALVESTON, Texas, Feb. 18.—A norther, accompanied by a sixty mile gale, struck Galveston at one o'clock this morning. Trees and fences were blown down and window panes broken. A number of houses in the west end grade filling area which had been elevated in anticipation of grade raising operations were blown from their foundations, but no serious injuries were reported.

Thirteen Dead In Texas
WYKESVILLE, Miss., Feb. 18.—Thirteen persons were killed in Texas parish, Louisiana, last night in the storm which swept eastward across Louisiana and Mississippi, a check of the territory revealed here today.

Two Die In Colorado
DURANGO, Colo., Feb. 18.—A heavy snow slide from the mountains around the Sunnyside mine near here today killed two men when it carried away the mine's tramway station. Officials fear others may be buried under the tons of snow which swept over the properties. Robert Salfberger, 22, and Chris Ness, 23, are known to have perished in the avalanche.

Airplanes Damaged
GALVESTON, Feb. 18.—Airplanes of the third attack group, under canvas hangars in an open field, were the greatest sufferers of the norther which struck Galveston last night.
 Major Frank D. Lackland estimates damage done to the planes at $100,000. The new steel hangars, now under construction, were not damaged.
 Unofficial estimates of the damage done elsewhere in the city by the gale ranged as high as $25,000, principally in the grade raising area of the west end where about a score of small houses estimated on still like piling to conform to the new grade, slipped off their foundations.
 The only casualty that could be ascertained was one woman with a sprained ankle.
 The wind attained a velocity of sixty miles an hour for brief periods from the north and was accompanied by a drizzle of rain. No damage whatever was reported to shipping and port traffic was moving normally this morning.

ORIENT RAILROAD WILL BE FINISHED CHRISTMAS

SAN ANGELO, Feb. 18.—Building of the Orient railroad in Mexico should be completed to the Rio Grande by Christmas, according to W. L. The new church will be located on property owned by the congregation at the corner of South Ninth and Chestnut streets and will be of brick or brick veneer, with a frontage of 41 feet and extending back 65 feet from the street. Rev. J. H. Mead is pastor of the church.

NEGRO SLAYER EXECUTED

HUNTSVILLE, Texas, Feb. 18.—F. D. Barnes, 27, negro, was electrocuted at the state penitentiary here early this morning for killing his wife.

Willie Heston Play is Still Remembered

Willie Heston, great Michigan football player and a Walter Camp all-time all-American halfback, would have more than held his own with football players of today, thinks Fielding H. Yost, Michigan's athletic director. He made some comparisons of Heston and Red Grange. Heston played four years, scoring 88 touchdowns in 44 games. Then the playing field was ten yards longer than now and a touchdown counted only five points.
 Heston's total points were 440. Grange played three years during which the total score of Illinois was 428 and Red's personal total 186. In that time Illinois played 24 games. Yardage gained on which modern records are based was not kept in the old days. During Heston's four years the Michigan team scored 2,226 to its opponents' 40. His team did not lose a game but played one tie. Illinois won 19 games during Grange's campus career, lost four and tied one.

Stop-Look-Listen!

American railroads are the safest in the world to ride on. They are safer than any other kind of transportation. But you can make them even safer by being more careful. The welfare of yourself and family may be involved.

- The railroads are making a vigorous effort to reduce accidents.
  - Don't you help?
  - You can help in many ways and especially by observing these ten don'ts.
  - Don't cross railroad tracks, either walking or driving, until you stop and look in both directions, whether view is obstructed or not.
  - Stop—look—listen!
  - Don't try to cross tracks in front of an approaching train. It pays to wait.
  - Don't cross a track after a train has passed, until you have made sure no train is coming from the opposite direction.
  - Don't walk or stand on railroad tracks. If compelled to walk in railroad yards, avoid walking between the rails of any one track. There is usually room between the tracks.
  - Don't let your children play around railroad tracks or trains. Teach them to play elsewhere.
  - Don't get on or off a non-passenger freight train, or crawl under it.
  - Don't attempt to get on or off a moving passenger train. Wait until it stops.
  - Don't be careless when stepping on or off a standing passenger train. Watch your step.
  - Don't stand on platforms of passenger cars. It is safer inside.
  - Don't place hand or arm in an open window. The window may close unexpectedly.
  - Two-thirds of all railroad accidents are incurred by persons going on railroad tracks without stopping, looking and listening.
  - You share in the responsibility for these accidents.
  - Your co-operation means greater safety.

SAINT AND SINNER

BY ANNE AUSTIN COPYRIGHT 1938 NEA

AFTER leaving Frank and Garner, Faith went immediately to her hotel where she locked the suitcase containing Cherry's exquisite wedding dress and the few other articles of her trousseau in the closet of her room. The sight of the empty suitcase which had held the luxurious, glistening, pink and crimsoned her heart with pity for Cherry, but a little glow of triumph routed the pain. After all, she had a thousand dollars in its place, and a thousand dollars meant comfort for three or four months for the Lane family.

She had an early dinner in a fantastically decorated room, ate slowly and with a faint edge of appetite, probably regretting the fact that for none of the stately, dandy-looking women who nibbled gluten bread and drank arizona tea gave her even a second glance.

In her home town she could not have taken a bite unobserved; every eye in the room would have been boring her, avidly curious as to how she was "taking her relationship to an accused murderer."

But here in Chicago where her pale-faced, pale-eyed girl, not pretty enough to attract attention and so shabbily dressed to be looked upon with envious, speculative eyes.

It was equally satisfying a little later to find herself unobserved at a great, roocooco palace devoted to vaudeville and motion pictures. She even laughed aloud at the antics of a comedian and for the first time since "the" began to unravel, she forced herself to concentrate on the complicated foolish story as if it were the most important thing in the world. She was feeling almost cheerful and quite pleasantly tired and ready for bed when she returned to the small, ugly hotel.

The night clerk was obviously excited when she asked for her key.

"The lobby has been full of reporters all evening, Miss Lane, waiting to see you. A couple of them are still here."

"Oh!" moaned Faith, casting a desperate, hunted look over her shoulder. "I don't want to see any reporters. Please! Can't you help me? How did they know I was in Chicago?"

Before the clerk could answer a long-legged, carefully dressed sharp-faced young man came slouching toward the desk, removing a battered felt hat and extending a cordial hand as he did so.

"Miss Faith Lane? I'm Evans of The Chronicle. Sorry to trouble you so late, but we want a fellow on that yarn the Express is running about your being here to sell your sister's trousseau for fun and for the great staff; got a cameraman here, and we'd like some pictures of you with the wedding dress. The Express is running a hot pace splash, showing Peggy Brainerd in the mink."

He stopped only when Faith held out her hands brightly and looked as if she were going to faint.

"Please!" she gasped, "do write that pity flicker for a moment in the reporter's keen blue eyes. I had no idea papers would get hold of this! I—can't pose for you!" she caught her breath sharply. "I have nothing to sell. Life contrasts, voice, richened by tears, quivering on the lip but her eyes met his defiantly.

"Maybe you'd like to see The Express," the reporter pressed, drawing a folded paper from his coat pocket, sure, sure, sure on it. And his eye to me to get a snappy follow on the story."

The paper shook violently in Faith's hands as her bloodshot eyes took in the great headlines and the two-column picture which occupied the center of the front page.

TOMORROW: Faith escapes from the reporters.

Is Tobacco Harmful?

At least once each year some medical periodical is likely to devote a number of pages to a consideration of the effects of tobacco smoking by specialists in various fields.

The Practitioner, published in England, presents a study in a consideration of the subject by specialists in various branches of the digestive tract, of the nervous system and of the effects of drugs.

Sir Humphrey Rolleston, physician to the King of England, recognizes that the hot smoke of some tobacco produce soreness of the tongue and increased amounts of saliva in persons who are especially sensitive, and the irritation of the mouth sometimes associated with smoking may arouse thickening of the tissues of the larynx and tongue. These, however, are relatively rare, affecting the vast number of persons who indulge in tobacco.

It has not been found that smoking favors decay of the teeth. Dr. Rolleston recognizes also the fact that smoking stave off the discomfort of hunger, which he believes is due to the fact that the nicotine in the tobacco produces the sensation of hunger.

Excessive smoking may at times be responsible for indigestion of the stomach, particularly in men over 50 years of age. However, in ordinary amounts and with occasional smoking, smoking does not seem to have any specific effects of this character.

Another English physician, Dr. Arthur Hurst, believes excessive smoking in persons who are sensitive and excites the nervous system and in the stomach and excites that the food is passed from it too rapidly.

The smoking of tobacco has also been associated by physicians with the causation of hiccup, pains in heart, with difficulty in swallowing, and with many other rather indefinite symptoms. However, these facts are not established for any large number of persons.

When such symptoms occur, it is desirable to have a full physical examination by some one competent to determine whether the symptoms actually result from smoking in excessive amounts or whether they are due to some fundamental physical changes in the body.

As A Woman Sees It

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

DURING EXAMS, LENIENCY IS PARENTS' BEST POLICY

PARENT often displays a peculiar attitude toward a son or daughter in college whose education is costing a good bit of money. If the boy or girl happens to be working his way through or has secured a scholarship, the provision for free education, I am inclined to believe that the average parent views the matter less personally and therefore less critically.

In other words, it is a decidedly human trait to want money's worth, and "getting our money's worth" in college investment means passing marks.

There is of course more to it than that. I am not discussing the element of pride, but I have noticed less and less put upon the child by parents as long as he is in school than is brought to bear upon him after his son becomes a personal matter of dollars and cents. I believe that parents don't know exactly how hard to get through college nowadays, or what credit attention to the young man or woman who succeeds, or, like everything else, has changed. It has become highly specialized and requires concentration and see that older minds and constitutions could never have read of six suicides of college students during recent "midyears." No doubt there were others of whom I did not hear, I know quite well a girl who last made one of the highest averages in the United States on college boards, but who went into hysterics over examination examination in midyear tests recently. She died in an empty room.

I do believe that half the time behind the bugaboo tests lies the grim spectre of a disappointed parent, strain on the boy or girl is sometimes more than he can bear.

Parents watch over children tenderly and carefully years. They guard them from physical harm and mental shock.

May then suddenly turn inquisitor and threaten disinherit if they meet disaster at school?

Why not say, "Go and do the best you can and I understand?" Young people are not likely to soldier parents who are making a sacrifice to educate them. They are usually better sports than that.

Don't have them say, "It will kill Dad and Mother don't make good marks," and worry themselves into nervous breakdown.

Editorials The Fighting 69th

Mr. Blanton, Thomas W. Blanton to be exact, Alabama's bellicose representative in the House of Congress, with his recent little fantasia, went 'round for thought in this Congress, anyhow? Just what is this Congress, anyhow? Is it a place where serious minded men gather to discuss and solve the problems confronting our country, or is it a place for pot-bellied bores to argue, to fight, to giggle, and through parliamentary trickery, to halt solution of these various problems?

We Can't Do It

Old Master's

I am a part of all that I have met, And all experience is an arch where-through. Glimpses that untravelled world, whose margin fade, For ever and for ever when I move.

IN NEW YORK SEE-SAVING and BROADWAY

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—The toastmaster of the banquet-tables has evolved into the master of ceremonies at the night clubs.

And just as the success of many a dinner has depended upon the toastmaster's wit and intelligence, so the unenviable atmosphere of Manhattan night-club scenes has depended upon a entertainer who can carry his safe to popularity and himself to fame and fortune.

More than one place would have some under in the chaos of competition but for a clever master of ceremonies, and reputations that draw crowds might have been built on this personality.

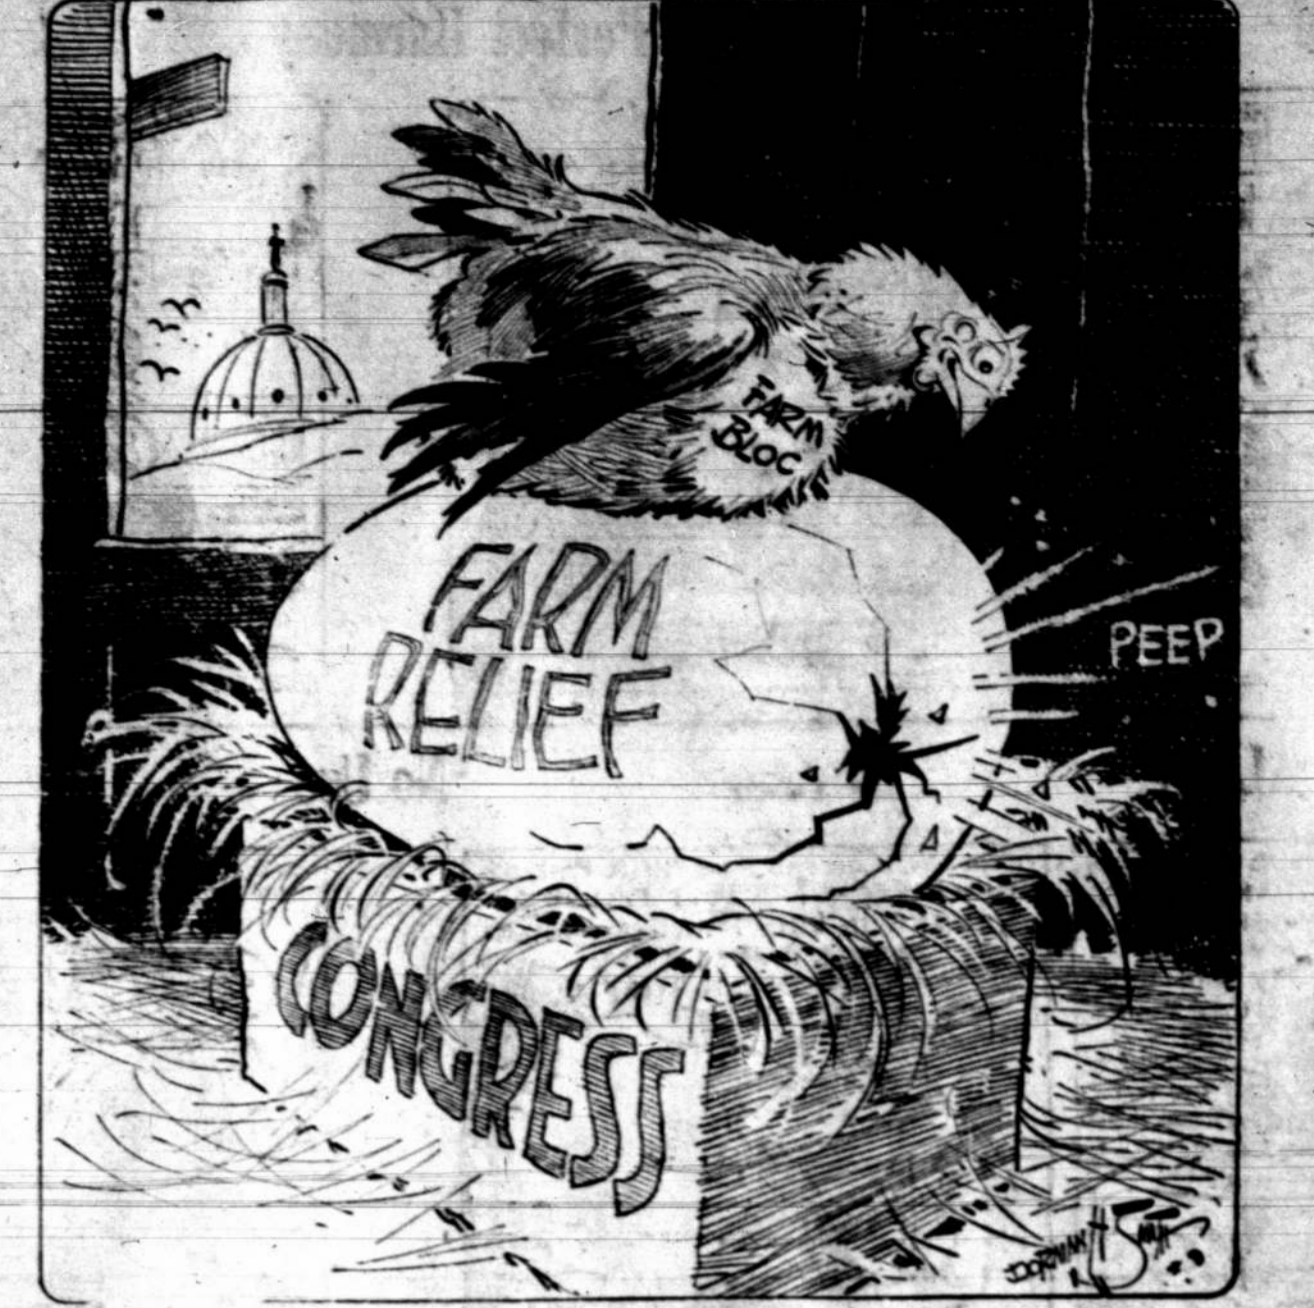

Like the toastmaster, his acquaintance is expected to be wide. He immediately recognizes the important guests and calls them by name. Now and then he stops to spin an anecdote about them.

Perhaps Broadway's most typical instance of the successful master of ceremonies is Harry Richman. Not so many years ago Richman was pounding a piano and making a very good name. He began to attract such a following as a master that he started his own cafe and early in the present theatrical season was thrust into prominence and prominence by doing his independent entertaining in Broadway's most successful musical revue.

Flapper Fanny

The king of England has invented a new buttonhole, says a dispatch. A strip of elastic across the lapel to hold a flower. We thought most of the kings nowadays carried their lilies in their hands, but this new announcement is important if true.

After Seven Long Years

WASHINGTON LETTER

Ira O. Biffle, air mail pilot, feels he has achieved an aviation record which few competitors will voluntarily attempt to take from him. He, with his machine, cut the upper half of a good sized tree to kindling wood in half a second.

His colleagues, in reporting the feat to air mail headquarters, told him Biffle, arriving at the Omaha field, approached over three tall cottonwood trees. As he was about to clear one of them, his machine unexpectedly settled and he found himself staring at a rapidly approaching tree. He advanced his throttle to lift the ship but the motor did not 'take,' so he decided to hit it as squarely as possible.

Some automobile tourists leave the National capital wondering if it was not a collection of reincarnated man-moths who laid out the traffic directions of the capital plaza by wallowing in white paint and then jumping all over the wide expanse of concrete.

There are straight and curved arrows, marking of pathways for pedestrians, parking channels, dozen marks for traffic going in half a dozen directions, and prohibited zones beside two 'stop and go' towers at each end of the plaza. Drivers with foreign license plates get off easier with the capital police than Washington operators, who are frequently called upon to demonstrate ability to back, twist, and squirm their cars, all at the same time.

Journal Jobs

The king of England has invented a new buttonhole, says a dispatch. A strip of elastic across the lapel to hold a flower. We thought most of the kings nowadays carried their lilies in their hands, but this new announcement is important if true.

The king could organize a union of buttonhole artisans. Mussolini would lead the organization King Victor Emmanuel, who could paint them. King George could specialize in some kind of buttonhole which the prince could fasten to a button on his chest.

Contemporaries PLANT A TREE

This is the season of tree planting and community beautification. February is the month of arbor days—the month just before the sap begins to rise in the trees and the propitious time for successful replanting.

The tree lined banks of the Conchos lure their thousands of visitors during the summer time. The beauty spots of this section are those that afford the verdant green of a pecan or a live oak mott in the summer time. A tree is more the less beautiful where it grows itself heavenward, perhaps alone or with one or two others on a well kept lawn in the city. They have a value there—intrinsic perhaps, but nevertheless one that occasions delight to the eye and favorable comment from those who love a well kept and beautiful home. A city of trees, no doubt, possesses much the same lure to residents as do the tree lined banks of the Conchos as the pleasure spots of West Texas—San Angelo Standard.

An annual appropriation measure for the various executive departments are generally expected to contain items which would pay an ordinary individual's rent for a number of years or even generations. But frequently congress is called upon to appropriate sums which would pay little more than the tip at a night club.

The $11,000,000 state department supply bill carried an item of $20, the United States' part of the 1928 expense of the Central bureau of the International Map of the world, organized at Geneva in 1909 to prepare a standard chart of the world.

What such a field means to the Texas surrounding no man can estimate. It means growth and prosperity; it means hard work to take care of new problems; it means a vastly increased population.

No section of Texas is getting a bigger 'play' from the big companies than is this immediate section, including particularly Jones, Fisher, Nolan, Callahan, Shackelford, Taylor and Coleman counties. They are spending millions of dollars in the search for new fields or development of existing fields. The people of these counties will profit through these activities.

INEFFECTIVE PRAYER

A Chicago woman, suing for divorce, recites that every day before her husband left for work he would kneel and pray for her to die before he returned. That was insulting, but invoked no danger over the poor woman's head. Such prayers could reach no higher than the ceiling.

We have the utmost respect for prayer, and sincere and honorable individuals who pray; but proper procedure, in the case of this unhappy woman in Chicago would have been for her to have procured a bed plate and applied it vigorously in the proper place to have raised her profane helpmate from his knees every time he offered his wicked supplication—Temple Telegram.

The scientist who can start life in the sea urchin could find plenty of jobs on land. For one thing, he might be made editor of the Congressional Record.

Perhaps he could devise a way to protect life from some of the land urchins, notably along the southern shore of Lake Michigan.

He can put pep in the egg of a sea animal, but it's the cold storage variety that keeps us guessing.

Headache Caused By Nerve Tension

A headache is Nature's warning of high nerve tension (strain) which results, sooner or later, in high blood pressure and ultimate injury to your health. The next time you have a headache, neuritic pain, lagrappic pain or other nerve pain try the improved method of relief—two teaspoonfuls of Capudine in a little water. Being liquid, Capudine acts almost instantly. In one-fifth the time required by tablets and powders, Capudine soothes the excited nerves without desensitizing them. Yet it is more effective in the relief of headache, neuralgia, lagrappic pains, rheumatic and periodical pains. Capudine does not depress the heart and will not upset the stomach.

If the use of Capudine does not give you permanent freedom from headaches, you may be sure they are caused by some organic condition which should receive the attention of your oculist, dentist or family physician. Physicians and druggists recommend Capudine as the safe, quick and dependable agent for relieving nervous pains and high nerve tension. Every home should be supplied with Capudine. Get a bottle today at your druggist's and if you do not like it far better than anything you have ever tried, the manufacturer will cheerfully refund the price upon request. Family size, 60c; Individual Dose, at all drug stores. (adv.)

Millions for Us All—Some Day
But Rich Then Will Have Billions, Say Economist and Banker, Not Alarmed at Today's Luxuries

THE DECLINE OF $25,000!

By NEA Service

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—A vast majority of the nation's money is being hoarded in the hands of a few. A study of the social and economic conditions that requires extravagant expenditures, says the spokesman of a passing industry.

And there you have a picture summarizing of conditions that have thrust some 25 blocks of Park Avenue Manhattan into the world of luxury as a section given to such extravaganzas as perhaps never were equaled upon this planet.

"Fifty years ago," recalls Charles R. Flint, financier and representative of an earlier-day society, "the very Alps of society got along very much on $25,000 a year. One must remember, however, that business in that day were accomplished. They could entertain without calling in Broadway celebrities at princely fees. The present-day gestures are nouveau riche. Lacking the social assurances they compensate with that which can be bought, whatever the price."

And again—"From an economic viewpoint we are witnessing nothing phenomenal," asserts Professor William D. Atkinson, economist at New York University, who adds prophetically: "However startling the situation may seem looking from a vantage point 25 years back, such expenditures will seem commonplace 15 years or so hence. Such figures as now issue from Park Avenue will become more general. The expenditures will increase and more and more people will be spending these sums."

Be all this as it may, the fact remains that today an income of $25,000 a year is the average of the Park Avenue apartment dweller and in these few straight miles, $250,000,000 per year is being spent, according to statistics compiled by H. Gordon Duval, president of the Park Avenue Association.

His figures show, among other things, that the cost of keeping the pretty ladies of Park Avenue well provided is $192,600 a day. Something like $15,000,000 a year goes to the bootlegger. Rentals at $10,000 a year are very reasonable. Something like $15,000 per day goes into bouquets for military. Other expenditures are similar and a man with a mere $50,000 a year is comparatively poor.

Yet a check shows, this income of lavish spenders does not represent the society of the blue-looks social registers and four-hundredth is largely speaking, the loose money retained in to a given area.

to feel that, perhaps, they will flourish as never before.

"What is more, there is no reason to believe this money surplus will dwindle. On the contrary it should grow and what, at this moment, seems extravagant will become commonplace and greater expenditures will be recorded in the future.

"It is true that such figures placed before the eyes of needy persons are better propaganda than all the soap-bubbles. But all the advertising mediums are, indirectly, full of the same sort of taunts to the very poor.

"Fifty years ago," says Flint, a type of the old order going back into his memories half a century, "an accomplishment, not wealth, was the open sesame to New York society. The rivalry was not for display but for talent.

"A hostess of the 70's and 80's depended upon her own ability as an entertainer. She would have 'kept up her hands in horror at the idea of importing a troop of jazz singers or chorus girls to amuse her guests.

"Consequently there were no bills for entertainment. New Yorkers of that day dined very largely at home and entertained in their homes. Such beauty shops and restaurants, which meant into millions on Park Avenue today, did not gnaw at the income of 50 years ago.

Plan Big Program For Hereford C. C.

HEREFORD, Feb. 18.—An $8,000 budget for 1927 for the Hereford chapter of commerce was unanimously adopted at the luncheon Monday, and over $5,000 of this amount has already been pledged, according to A. O. Thompson, treasurer.

A board of equalization, consisting of E. S. Ireland, Homer Fox, J. E. Hill and Louie LeGrande, was appointed at the meeting Monday, and at a meeting of this board Monday evening plans were laid to complete the budget this week. It was also decided to have attractive membership cards printed for each business firm that is identified with the organization.

The local organization has planned the largest program for 1927, that has been attempted in a number of years, and President Blank says he wants the money in sight to match this program. The members present Monday gave a unanimous vote of confidence to President M. B. Black, and A. O. Thompson, treasurer, and promised to stand behind them in their work during the coming year.

Texas Net Prospects Good, Says Penick

AUSTIN, Feb. 18.—Texas certainly ought to win the tennis doubles championship of the Southwestern Conference, and the chance for the singles crown is also good," declared Coach D. A. Penick of the University of Texas. Despite the fact that the bad weather is holding back the university net men, they are playing good tennis for the opportunity they have had for practice. They are still a long way from championship form, however, Penick said. The new concrete courts are being used for practice whenever it is possible.

Coach Penick is optimistic over the prospects of the tennis team because of the material from which he may draw. Last year's letter men who are out are Edward Mather of Austin, Clifton Wilkinson of San Antonio, and John Boone of Harlingen. From last year's squad David Minchen of Houston, Bernard Clinton of Waco, John Hoff of Comanche, and Ader Stiles of Austin are showing up well. Among the freshmen of last year from whom Penick is expecting much are Wilmer Allison of Fort Worth, Louis Fercuson of El Paso, Hugh Dunlap of Cleburne, George Cunningham, Walter Wukachy and Cochran Penick all of Austin, and Mitchell Masur of Laredo.

Oklahoma university is expected to offer the stiffest competition for the Texas players. Last fall they were defeated at Austin by a 4-2 score. In the next match, however, they will be on their home courts which will be much in their favor. Coach Penick is also expecting strong competition from Oklahoma A. and M. and Baylor university.
