Nixon Urged To Send Observer To Parley

NEW YORK (AP) — W. Averell Harriman said today, after conferring with President-elect Richard M. Nixon, that he is confident Nixon will send a personal observer to the Paris talks and will replace the two principal American negotiators soon after taking office.

Nixon, who had tentatively decided against sending an observer to the peace talks before inauguration day, was said to be shifting his attitude at the urging of Harriman, who said that he and deputy negotiator Cyrus R. Vance felt such a move would be "a very excellent way to insure continuity."

CLEAR

Talking to newsmen after meeting with Nixon for more than an hour, Harriman made it clear he and Vance will turn over their tasks to Nixon's team on or about Jan. 20.

Although there had been much speculation that the president-elect would retain either Harriman or Vance in the interest of countinuity, Harriman said he planned to return to Washington come Jan. 20 and reported that Vance might remain in Paris—but "only for a few days."

The veteran diplomat said he thought Nixon would send an observer to Paris later this month but said, "I do not know who he will be or when he will come."

Harriman said he got no impression in his talk with Nixon that the incoming administration would basically change the negotiating approach of the United States. And he said he didn't think the Communist side would pay a great deal of attention to the shift of power in Washington—that they see little difference between Democrats and Republicans but regard both groups as "imperialist capitalists."

MORE MEN

The Paris envoy said he did tell Nixon that the rather compact American negotiating team, including its supporting staff, might have to be increased soon by a few men in order to promote close liaison with the Saigon delegation that will join the talks.

Asked if he thought North Vietnam had taken military advantage of the total bombing halt in the North ordered last month by President Johnson, Harriman said all evidence indicates the North actually has significantly reduced the number of its forces in the South in recent weeks.

Ronald L. Ziegler, Nixon's press spokesman, announced, on another subject, that consulting economist Alan Greenspan of New York has been designated by Nixon to serve as his personal observer at the Budget Bureau in the weeks between now and inauguration day, while Johnson and his team fashion a new federal spending plan that they will present to Congress next month.

Harriman, meeting newsmen in Washington Wednesday after briefing President Johnson on the Paris talks, said that "the main burden of the negotiations will fall on the next administration."

GOAL OF TALKS

He said re-establishment of the demilitarized zone would be a goal of the talks when they reach substantive issues.

Nixon moved Wednesday to clarify the future status of Chief Justice Earl Warren, who had resigned last summer contingent upon Senate confirmation of a successor—an event that never occurred at the 1968 congressional session.

Ziegler announced that Nixon telephoned Warren Tuesday and, in a 15-minute conversation, urged Warren to remain on the job until the end of the Supreme Court's current term next June, "in order to avoid serious disruption of the work of the court." Ziegler said Warren agreed to serve until then.

No announcement of Cabinet-level appointments is expected before the weekend, but in Sacramento, Calif., Lt. Gov. Robert H. Finch said he had been offered the posts of secretary of health, education and welfare and as head of another department. He said he had reached a decision but that it would be announced by Nixon.

HONOR CARDINALS

The President-elect flies to Los Angeles to attend a dinner tonight honoring James Francis Cardinal McIntyre, Roman Catholic archbishop of that city. He will address a conference of Republican governors Friday at Palm Springs, Calif., before returning to New York Saturday.

Nxon will go to Palm Springs, Calif., Friday to address a conference of Republican governors before returning to New York Saturday.

HOME REHAB
Stanton To Share In Grants

FORT WORTH (AP) — Low-income homeowners will be able to make their homes safe and sound with the assistance of grants and loans announced today by the U.S. Dept. of Housing and Urban Development.

Under HUD's rehabilitation program, funds totaling $904,054 will be made available to Texas.

Cities cited to receive grants and loans are Aransas Pass, Austin, Crystal City, Edinburg, Fort Worth, Grand Prairie, Hearne, Los Fresnos, Mercedes, Mission, Port Arthur, Port Isabel and Stanton.

Johnson Puts Emphasis On Employment

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says that any return to high unemployment under the Nixon administration would be "a prescription for social disaster."

"God help us if we find ourselves returning to a period of high unemployment, with the 'haves' fighting off the 'no longer haves' for precious jobs," Johnson told a gathering of the cream of American industry and finance Wednesday night.

MIGHT ACCEPT

Some advisers to President-elect Nixon had said during the presidential campaign that a Republican administration might accept a higher jobless rate to hold down inflationary pressures.

Johnson, in talking to the prestigious Business Council, said he hopes Nixon will use the tools of economic policy forcefully.

"I hope he will insist on using them to guarantee full employment. For without full employment, he cannot succeed in his other urgent objectives."

In another part of his prepared speech, the President suggested limited power to raise and lower taxes might help future chief executives.

"I think it would be highly desirable, subject to necessary checks by Congress," Johnson said in reviving a proposal advocated strongly by the late John F. Kennedy.

Morse Was Defeated

SALEM, Ore. (AP) — Oregon's secretary of state has certified that Sen. Wayne Morse was defeated for re-election by Republican Robert Packwood by 3,445 votes.

Morse was to make today his formal demand for a recount of the more than 810,000 ballots.

Secretary of State Clay Myers, in announcing Tuesday that Packwood was the official winner, said the recount in the state's 36 counties would start Dec. 13.

Although Myers did not have in hand Morse's request for a recount, he had been told that it was coming.

HEOS Set To Go

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — An American rocket has been readied to hurl a European satellite deep into space to study radiation, solar winds and other interplanetary conditions.

The three-stage Delta booster was set for liftoff today.

The satellite, known as HEOS for highly eccentric orbiting satellite, will be rocketed into a great elliptical path ranging out to 138,000 miles from earth.

It was developed by the 10-nation European Space Research Organization. The U.S. National Aeronautics and Space Administration will be paid $3.75 million for the launch.

NASA has rescheduled the launching of an astronomical satellite for 3:40 a.m. Saturday. The launching of the satellite carrying 11 telescopes, has been delayed three times by technical troubles.

Cong Sets Holiday

LONDON (AP) — The North Vietnamese Liberation Radio announced today the Viet Cong will observe two cease-fire periods of three days each over Christmas and New Year, the British Broadcasting Corp. said.

Liberation Radio, broadcasting from Hanoi, said the first cease-fire period will cover Dec. 24, 25, 26 and the second, Dec. 30, 31 and Jan. 1, said BBC.

It said the broadcast was heard by one of its monitoring stations.

The U.S. and South Vietnamese commands announced Monday they would observe a 24-hour cease-fire Christmas Day but said there would be no truce on New Year's Day.

Christmas Cheer

Response to the CHRISTMAS CHEER fund continued good today with several friends rallying to its support.

Donors pushed to $148 the amount so far raised, and you are urged to mail or bring your gift to The Herald for grateful acknowledgment.

Immediately, the fund pays for spare parts and supplies necessary to put used toys back in first class condition for youngsters Santa Claus might otherwise overlook. What is left goes to buy drugs and food for needy children so that your cheer is spread throughout the year.

Latest donors include:

Bliss Given Strong Support

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Strong support for the retention of Ray Bliss as GOP national chairman is surfacing among Republican governors in discussions on the incoming administration's relations with the states.

Recent reports that President-elect Richard M. Nixon is thinking of replacing Bliss with a more dramatic figure as head of the party organization machinery, caught most governors by surprise.

PRAISE

Three early arrivals at the conference, Govs. Ronald Reagan of California, Daniel J. Evans of Washington and Tom McCall of Oregon, had words of praise for the grass roots job Bliss did before Nixon's own men took over management of the successful presidential campaign.

Evans, keynoter at the Miami Beach, Fla., convention, said he thought Bliss had done a "splendid job" during the campaign.

"He minimized the differences between Republicans and maximized the local efforts to support the national ticket," Evans said. "I have a great admiration for his abilities and I hope that he is not going to be replaced."

McCall said in a separate interview that he and Bliss worked closely during the campaign and he was surprised at removal talk.

"I don't quite understand how a man who has been successful in electing a president should be thrown out on his ear," McCall said.

Reagan told a news conference he thinks Bliss did a "wonderful job." But the California governor, like others of his colleagues, made it clear that i Nixon wants a replacement, he will get no real argument out of the governors.

Western Republican governors were saying, without exception, that Nixon must name a Westerner for secretary of interior. Publicly they were plugging Gov. Tim Babcock of Montana, defeated in the November election. Few privately expected Nixon to pick Babcock.

NO ANNOUNCEMENTS

One of Nixon's top aides said he expected no Cabinet announcements in a brief talk the president-elect will make to the governors Friday night at a formal state dinner. Every GOP state executive, and those who were elected in November but have not yet taken office, expected to participate in confidential talks with the man who will move into the White House in January.

Nixon set aside four hours, stretching into the early morning, for these discussions.

Saigon Delegates To Arrive Sunday

PARIS (AP) — South Vietnamese officials said today their entire peace conference delegation including Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky will arrive in Paris Sunday.

Officials of South Vietnam's diplomatic mission prepared a big-scale reception for Ky and his team at Orly Airport. The French government prepared massive security precautions.

SUDDEN CHANGE

Ky's decision to accompany Ambassador Pham Dang Lam, who will head the delegation at the conference table, was a sudden change of plans. He had intended following Lam by about one week.

The arrival of South Vietnam's team will clear the way for the start of the expanded peace parley. But it is expected to bog down in procedural disputes as soon as it starts.

Ky will be South Vietnam's chief strategist for the conference. Officially he is being described as an adviser, but in fact he will carry the authority of the Saigon government to mastermind the presentation of his country's case.

Soon after he and Lam get to Paris they are expected to meet with Ambassador W. Averell Harriman and Cyrus R. Vance, who lead the U.S. delegation.

The Americans are to consult with the South Vietnamese on arrangements under discussion for the formal talks in which North Vietnam and the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front will join. Vance already has met twice this week with the deputy chief of North Vietnam's delegation, Col. Ha Van Lau, to discuss arrangements for getting the peace talks rolling.

South Vietnamese authorities meanwhile rallied local sympathizers in the hope of staging a spectacular reception for the team from Saigon. Many thousands of Vietnamese live in Paris, and 200 of them showed up to cheer last month when the team's NLF leader, Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh arrived.

FIX BANNERS

The pro-Saigon Vietnamese prepared their banners and flags today. Stacks of them were in the consulate, hailing the arrival of the delegates and exhorting them to banish all thoughts of "peace at any price."

Students Jeer Police

A group of jeering, clapping students are shown as they parade past a group of police officers on the San Francisco State College campus yesterday. An estimated 600 policemen armed with riot batons kept the campus relatively calm following the wild Tuesday melee. There were only three arrests on campus during the day.

Hayakawa To Meet Some Of Demands

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — S. I. Hayakawa, acting president of San Francisco State College, pursued negotiations with campus dissidents today after a period of relative calm.

When Wednesday passed without any serious confrontation, the president said he would ask "higher authorities" for funds to meet some of the Black Student Union's demands which touched off a month of turmoil on the 18,000-student campus.

He refused to elaborate.

HERDED OUT

About 1,000 persons—the largest group of demonstrators yet—were herded out of the campus quadrangle Wednesday afternoon by 500 policemen.

Unlike the violent outbreak Tuesday, there were no injuries and only three persons—two white students and a Negro identifying himself as a reporter—were arrested on charges of assault and disturbing the peace. That brought the total arrests since Monday to 45. The only student suspensions were five Monday and nine Tuesday.

Hayakawa, who replaced resigning Robert R. Smith Nov. 26, reported classroom attendance as "normal" Wednesday morning, but like the previous two days, it dropped off in the afternoon.

He summoned police after a line of chanting students—8 to 10 abreast—snaked around the quadrangle, disrupting classes. They chanted "Pigs off campus! Shut it down!"

Speaking over an amplifier atop the administration building, Hayakawa warned about 3,000—most of them bystanders—to disperse. Exasperated when some booed him, he said: "All of you are looking for something gruesome to happen. It may happen to you."

Protests by small bands of militant students struck two universities in New York City Wednesday.

In New York a group of 20 Negro students on the Bronx campus of Fordham University seized a dean's office temporarily and won a promise that no action would be taken which would result in the loss of federal aid to Negro students for nonviolent dissent.

A predominantly white group of sleep-ins at the Jesuit institution today demanded that 20 per cent of future freshman classes be enrolled from the Negro and Puerto Rican community.

About one per cent of the school's present enrollment of 6,000 are Negro.

At New York University talks by a South Vietnamese diplomat and the executive editor of the New York Times were prevented Wednesday night by a group of 60 obscenity shouting demonstrators.

DRAPED

Nguyen Huu Chi, South Vietnam's permanent observer to the United Nations was draped with a Nazi flag and had a pitcher of water poured on his head by the rowdy students, some of whom waved Viet Cong flags.

He remained calm and was escorted from the hall where he was to have addressed the Political Forum of the university.

James Reston, executive editor of the Times, was speaking in another auditorium when the youths burst in a side door, dismantled the loudspeaker system and shouted epithets. They were booed by the audience.

Ike's Condition Still Unchanged

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's condition remains unchanged since a pre-Thanksgiving report of "slow but steady progress," spokesmen at Walter Reed Army Hospital said today.

They also said in response to queries there is no prospect of the 78-year-old general's early release from the hospital where he is recovering from a series of heart attacks.

Peruvian May Have Cure For Cancer; Time Will Tell

LIMA, Peru (AP) — A young Peruvian physician says he may have cured his half-sister's cancer by giving her cancer-fighting antibodies which he created by injecting himself with her cancerous cells.

MUST WAIT

Dr. Alfonzo Zavaleta Cruzado, 34, said in an interview that the experiment was performed less than a month ago and five years are required before it will be known if his sister, Mrs. Elis Wenzell, has been cured of cancer of the uterus.

But the cancer appears to have disappeared, he said.

Zavaleta said his experiment differs in some respects from similar experiments which are being performed in the United States and elsewhere, with encouraging results.

He said he took specimens of his sister's cancer cells and injected them in his own leg. His system formed antibodies to destroy the foreign cells, the doctor explained, and the antibodies were then transferred to his sister.

Zavaleta said the experiment is similar to the body's natural tendency to form antibodies to resist bacteria or reject transplanted organs.

Dr. Oscar Miro Quesada, an associate of Zavaleta and director of the National Institutes of Health, told The Associated Press: "It is too early to know the results of Dr. Zavaleta's technique. But this is a beginning."

Miro Quesada, who also is president of the Peruvian Society for Immuno-Pathology, added that he has "always felt a cure for cancer would come from a crossfire between chemistry and immunology."

He said he and Zavaleta "have been conducting chemical trials with hopeless cases—people with one foot in the tomb and the other on a banana peel" and have kept them alive for one to 1½ years before their cancer cells became resistant to the chemicals.

DIFFERS

The Zavaleta experiment differs from similar cancer experiments in the United States in which pairs of unrelated cancer patients have exchanged cells.

U. S. Concerned Over Mideast Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is trying urgently through diplomatic pressure to prevent further escalation of the Israel-Arab border clashes which have intensified the Middle East crisis in the past few days.

The State Department called in the Israeli and Jordanian ambassadors separately late Wednesday to declare that "violations of the cease fire line by both sides in the past few days are a matter of serious concern to us,"

Johnson administration officials privately expressed most concern over Israel's use of planes Tuesday against targets in northwest Jordan where Jordan and Iraqi forces are stationed.

At the same time a State Department spokesman prodded the Soviet government to use its influence with the Arab states —for which it is the major arms supplier—to try to move the situation toward a peaceful settlement.

Press officer Robert J. McCloskey responded to inquiries about an editorial in the Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda saying that Moscow was interested in a political solution to the crisis.

"We have noted the Pravda article which touches on a number of points," McCloskey said. "What we are looking for, however, is concrete evidence that the Soviets are exerting their influence toward peace in the Middle East. Peace in the Middle East is in everybody's interest."

Officials added that Soviet arms shipments into the area are continuing but they have not had evidence of comparable Soviet exertions in the interest of peace.

The United States itself is supplying arms to both Israel and Jordan, which has traditionally maintained relatively close ties with the Western powers.

McCloskey said that Israel Ambassador Yitzhak Rabin and Jordanian Ambassador Abdul Hamid Sharaf were summoned separately to the State Department Wednesday afternoon and told of deep U.S. concern over events in the Mideast.

U.S. officials indicated the two ambassadors each blamed the other side for starting the latest round of strikes across the cease-fire line.

RELEASE DEC. 17

Water Plan Expected

AUSTIN (AP) — A statewide water plan, the polished version of the Water Development Board's 1966 plan, will be released Dec. 17, board Chairman Mills Cox said Wednesday.

Estimated cost of the tentative plan, which featured a 980-mile system of lakes, channels and conduits to transport surplus water from East to South Texas, was $3.7 billion.

Pregnant Woman's Food Called Important

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Food is the most important drug a pregnant woman can have, a leading obstetrician said Wednesday, and a physician should have the right to prescribe necessary foods for her, just as he does medication.

Dr. Charles E. Flowers, professor and chairman of obstetrics and gynecology at Baylor University School of Medicine said "Food is extremely important and pregnant women should have a high priority in getting what they need."

Dr. Flowers, at a seminar sponsored by the Temple University Health Sciences Center, added, "It is more important to give food than a diuretic and even vitamins are not enough.

"A doctor should be able to prescribe proper food for pregnant women, especially those from lower income groups."

He said when they cannot afford the prescribed food they should be able to get them at government expense.

He said he was not advocating government obstetrics, but said pregnant women from low income groups are high risk patients, "and we should break the cycle through education and provide food if necessary."

He also said more must be done in prenatal care if the child is to develop to its full potential.

"We can monitor the functions of an astronaut 120 miles above the earth and even if he journeys to the moon," said Dr. Flowers. "Now we must develop means to monitor the conditions of the fetus just three inches from us."

Dawson County Unveiling Soon

Cancer Talk

STANTON (SC) — The Martin County Unit of the American Cancer Society Monday heard Mrs. Monroe Dunn, Midland, speak on service, outlining the seven targets of service. Refreshments were served to 19 members and guests, Mrs. Dunn, Mrs. B. L. House and Bill Whitis, district executive director of ACS, all from Midland.

Visitors Talk

STANTON (SC) — The Rotary Club Wednesday held a round-table discussion. There were 14 present including visitors, Bill Gipson, Cliff Chapman, and A. L. Harrison, all of Big Spring, and Roy Pruitt, Stanton.

Bond Market So Varied, Connivance Hard To Find

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government experts say the market in bonds is so vast and varied that it may be impossible to pinpoint whether the sudden rise in value of a railroad's bonds following a secret ruling was coincidence or connivance.

The Interstate Commerce Commission is investigating whether an inside leak caused the dramatic upturn in the price of New Haven Railroad bonds in the week before the ruling was made public.

But an official in another agency which serves as the watchdog on the stock market said bond trading is so big and so broadly scattered that the government doesn't even know how many bonds are bought and sold each day.

"It's a very difficult thing to supervise. You don't have the surveillance," the official said.

The ICC had decided to allow a multimillion dollar boost in the price for the Jan. 1 takeover of the bankrupt New Haven by the Penn Central system.

But the agency decided to keep the matter secret for a week until the full ruling could be printed and publicly announced Monday.

It was during the time between the decision and its public announcement that the New Haven mortgage bonds pulled out of a month-long skid and jumped $46.25 over a two-day period to $578.75.

ICC Chairman Paul J. Tierney said, "There is certainly no indication of any leak." But he said his agency is investigating.

The Securities and Exchange Commission, in keeping with its policy of silence on market probes, would not say whether its watchdog experts also are checking the price jump.

But an SEC source said any price change is extremely hard to unravel because no central records are kept on all bond dealings.

While stocks on the market run into the thousands, bonds can run into the hundreds of thousands, he said. And, rather than being bought and sold only at a stock exchange, bonds are usually traded over the counter directly between dealers around the nation.

Stocks are ownership shares in a firm. Bonds, in simple language, represent loans made to a corporation, a city government or the federal government —like U.S. Savings Bonds— which are repayable with interest at a later date.

Any bond probe has to start with the various dealers to try to trace the sales backwards to find out what happened.

In contrast, the New York Stock Exchange maintains a computer check on all sales of stocks to detect any irregularities immediately.

The $46.25 jump in New Haven bonds took place on the New York Stock Exchange Nov. 26 and 27. The SEC official said the stock exchange tradings usually represent less than one-tenth of the over-all bond sales, but presumably reflect market trends.

GOT INVITATION

Ohio Family Planning To Attend Inauguration

DESHLER, Ohio (AP) — Vicki Cole says that somehow her entire family will get to Washington for the inauguration of President-elect Richard M. Nixon.

Vicki is the 13-year-old girl who held up the "Bring Us Together" sign which gave Nixon the idea for his inaugural parade theme "Forward Together."

Nixon invited Vicki and her family to be his personal guests at the inauguration Jan. 20. She will be accompanied by her father, the Rev. David Cole, minister of the Deshler United Methodist church; her mother; two sisters, Brenda, 14, and Renee, 11, and a brother, Gregory, 7.

"We're all pretty excited," Mrs. Cole said. "It was a personal letter. I guess that's the most exciting thing."

Vicki said, "The other kids don't envy me, but they're happy for me. And they're happy for our town especially."

She said she originally had wanted Democratic Sen. Robert F. Kennedy to be president, but by the time Nixon appeared at this small northwestern Ohio town on a whistlestop tour late in October, Vicki was one of about 15 "Nixon girls" at his rally.

"I really believe Mr. Nixon is the one who can bring this country back together again," she said Wednesday.

It was at that rally that Vicki picked up the "Bring Us Together" sign off the street. She had lost her own sign which read: "LBJ Convinced Us to Vote Republican."

The person who originated the poster which ended up in Vicki's hands has not revealed himself. About 8,000 were at the rally.

"I don't even think he saw it," Vicki said.

County Auto Tags Estimate

The State of Texas expects Howard County to have 18,510 passenger cars on the road in 1969.

At least that is the number of license plates which it is sending to Mrs. Zirah LeFevre, county tax assessor-collector.

The probability is that she will have to get additional plates in the fading months of the year but for the time being it is agreed that 18,510 are quite a lot of car tags.

This coming year's letter combinations are different from the year just ending.

The first tag is DCR 600. This series runs through 999. The other plates series assigned are the DCS, DCT, DCV, DCW, DCX, DCY, DCZ, DDB, DDC, DDD, DDF, DDG, DDH, DDJ, DDK, DDL, DDM, DDN, DDP. All run from 1 through 999 with exception of the DDP which will only go to 299.

The tag shipment will probably arrive about the second week in January, Mrs. LeFevre said. This is the usual date for the state highway department's big trucks to pull up to the court house with their loads of costly scrap iron.

The fees for car tags are the same in 1969 as they were this year. The new plates cannot be issued until Feb. 1. Deadline for payment of license on motor cars is April 1.

Calls Auto Repairs Raps Unjustified

WASHINGTON (AP) — A spokesman for automobile dealers hit back today at what he termed irresponsible allegations made at a Senate investigation into auto repair costs.

Tom A. Williams, president of the National Automobile Dealers Association, expressed shock and dismay at testimony "indicting the automobile industry in general with unethical business practices."

HEADLINES

He said it is highly probable "that the headlines resulting from irresponsible allegations made here have inflicted irreparable injury to the business reputation" of the nation's dealers and that, "as a result, thousands of employes will suffer adverse consequences."

His statement, prepared for the Senate antitrust subcommittee, referred in part to testimony by Glenn F. Kriegel, operator of an automobile diagnostic test center in Denver.

Kriegel told the subcommittee earlier in the week that only about 1 per cent of 5,000 cars tested at his center had been repaired according to manufacturers' specifications.

RIGHT PRICES

Without referring to Kriegel by name, Williams said that "we strongly object to being castigated as individuals who by design daily cheat 99 per cent of our customers by rendering inadequate service or failing to perform the services necessary to maintain our customers' vehicles in safe operable condition."

"If these allegations were absolutely fact," said Williams, a dealer, "neither I nor the thousands of quality franchised dealers in this nation would be in business."

"We wouldn't even be able to continue to reside in our own communities," he said.

To rebut the charge that only 1 per cent of auto service repair work is performed satisfactorily, Williams said that in a NADA survey of 10,000 auto owners, 64 per cent of those responding said the dealers' service work was satisfactorily completed the first time.

He also said that 71 per cent reported that in their estimation the dealers' service prices were reasonable.

'WHIPPING BOY'

Williams said that the NADA reports to its members any unfavorable comments that come to light as result of investigative actions.

"We use this type of information to impress upon our membership that performance in the customer interest is the only way to operate successfully," he said.

Williams protested that all too often the industry had been the victim of unjustified criticism and has served as "the whipping boy for unqualified experts."

Warren J. McEleney, speaking for the National Automobile Association, said in a prepared statement that the extended warranty iintroduced in 1962 has forced car sellers to do repair work at a loss.

McEleney, a Clinton, Iowa, car dealer, said that the car manufacturers don't repay their franchises enough on the warranty repairs and sales profits aren't large enough to make up the difference.

He told a Senate antitrust subcommittee that if a businessman feels he must take a loss, he will make every effort to minimize the deficit and to compensate for it by gaining additional revenue from other sources.

RECOUP

"How a dealer will attempt to recoup his warranty losses after absorbing as much as he can afford is difficult to determine," McEleney said. "Such an effort could be reflected in his new or used car sales or in his retail service department."

The subcommittee has been investigating the cost of auto repairs.

In other prepared testimony William W. Winpisinger, general vice president of the International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers, said the warranty system hurts mechanics as well as dealers.

Fish Stocking Work Complete

AUSTIN (AP) — The 1968 fish stocking program in Amistad Reservoir is complete, bringing the four-year stocking program to a total of 2.5 million bass and almost 500,00 channel catfish, the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department said today.

The reservoir is "an up and coming hotspot for anglers," a department spokesman said. More than 17,000 acres of water have already been impounded, he said.

Skyjack Victims Arrive With Forbidden Booty

MIAMI, FLA. (AP) — Laden with such forbidden booty as Havana cigars and Cuban rum, the latest batch of U.S. airline hijacking victims arrived in Miami Wednesday night sounding like returning vacationers.

They were surprisingly fresh despite their impromptu trip across the Florida straits, the work of a shabby Cuban refugee identified on the passenger list only as "E. Castill."

Stewardess Irene Guntin, who returned to Miami with other crew members before the passengers, said the hijacker told her his name was Eddie Canteras and he was 33 years old. She described him as shabbily-dressed and dirty.

The hijacker had a grenade and a gun when he forced the National Airlines pilot to head for Havana Tuesday evening.

"I had a ball after they got him off the plane," said Mrs. Eva Granet of St. Petersburg, Fla. "It was wonderful. Everybody was so nice."

Her comments were echoed repeatedly by the other 25 passengers aboard the flight which the air pirate diverted southward while it was over Miami.

Coahoman Selected

Mrs. Emily Gail Lundy, Coahoma, will appear in the 1969 edition of "Personalities of the South." Other names appearing in the book, which will be released in February, include U.S. senators, congressmen, governors, civic leaders, educators, ministers and sports figures. Selection for the honor is based on past achievements and service to community and

Stanton High Grad Named Press Secretary For Smith

STANTON — The young man who surprised his parents with an announcement that he was giving up studies in aeronautical engineering for journalism is now the press secretary for Governor-elect Preston Smith.

Jerry Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Hall, 508 W. Broadway, became Lt. Gov. Smith's second major appointment since his election. Earlier he had named Jim Oliver, Austin, to be budget director.

Hall was born in Stanton and graduated from high school here in 1943. After starting to Texas Tech with a goal of aeronautical engineering, he entered the AAF and got his wings as a left belly blister gunner aboard a B-29. (Later in private life he earned his private pilot's license.)

One day after he had been separated from service, he decided he would return to school but announced to his parents: "I'm going to major in journalism."

He did, becoming editor of the Tech paper. Hall joined the staff of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal in 1949, serving as reporter, copy editor and telegraph editor. In 1956 he moved to the copy desk of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, then accepted an appointment to the Washington staff of Congressman George Mahon in 1957-58.

In 1958 he returned to Lubbock as special assignments reporter, political writer and city hall reporter, resigning to join the staff of Newspapers, Inc., which embraces the Austin America-Statesman, Waco News-Tribune and Times Herald, and the Port Arthur News. He became chief of its capitol bureau.

During his career, he won awards for distinguished reporting, including first place from the Associated Press Managing Editors Association for newswriting, a special citation from the Headliners Club (Austin) for a series on county government; and a number of others.

Besides his parents, a sister, Mrs. Joe Jon (Bob) Cox, resides here.

Hall is married to the former Mary Frances Vestal, Dublin, and they and their three children, Martha, 15, Dick, 14, and Julie, 8, reside at 2400 Enfield Road in Austin. The family belongs to the Presbyterian church. Hall is active in Boy Scout work, remembering the days when he was in Stanton's Boy Scout troop. Now his son is in Scouting at Austin.

HemisFair Financial Report To Be Released

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — H. B. Zachry, who poured new life into HemisFair '68 at a critical point in its six-month run, has announced that a full financial report on the fair is soon to be released.

The construction magnate said Wednesday, "We expect to show that all approved accounts have been paid, or tender of payment made thereon and that the only remaining obligation is to the underwriters."

He said the statement is expected about Dec. 31.

The world exposition, which closed Oct. 6, is now city property, and open to the public at a small fee, operating under the name HemisFair Plaza.

Zachry, chairman of the board of the former fair, took charge of operations last spring when the fair was having operational problems and lower attendance figures than anticipated.

He has said the fair's financial deficit would be borne by three sets of underwriters. The San Antonio News said Wednesday the deficit, "which is fully covered by the contributions of the underwriters," will be about $5.25 million.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 NT	Pass	4 ♠	Pass
Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Ten of ♡

Altho three no trump is an ironclad contract, it was perfectly natural for South to insist on spades in responding to his partner's opening one no trump bid, inasmuch as his distribution is highly unbalanced. The four spade bid designates a good six card suit with less than 10 high card points.

West opened the ten of hearts, the deuce was played from dummy and East played the ace which felled declarer's jack. East shifted to the king of diamonds on which West signaled encouragingly with the nine. East continued with the queen of diamonds and his partner followed with the deuce, completing the echo. East had no more diamonds, so he returned a club. Declarer was in and, after drawing trump, he was able to dispose of his remaining diamonds on North's high hearts.

A few sharp words were exchanged between the defenders at the conclusion of the deal. East contended that his partner should have overtaken the queen of diamonds with the ace to give him a ruff on the third round. West said that he had no way of knowing that East had only a doubleton in the suit. East's answer was that, with three diamonds, he would have led a small card on the second round — saving his queen for the next lead of the suit.

This reasoning appears to us to be a little involved and, besides, East had available a simpler method for alerting his partner to the distribution in the diamond suit. Instead of shifting to the king of diamonds at trick two, it is suggested that East return the queen, to be followed by the king on the next round. Playing the diamonds in this abnormal manner should indicate to West that his partner is trying to get across a message concerning the distribution in the suit. The conclusion must soon become obvious that East has a doubleton and desires West to overtake the second round. The forthcoming ruff sends declarer down to defeat.

Hearing Slated For Guardsmen

AUSTIN (AP) — A Dec. 12 hearing in U.S. district court has been set on a petition by 106 Kentucky National Guardsmen who contend their call-up to active duty was unconstitutional.

Spec. 5 William S. Johnson and 105 other members of the Kentucky National Guard filed the petition against Lt. Gen. Beverly E. Powell, commander of the Army base at Fort Hood.

In the petition, the guardsmen say Art. 1, Sec. 8, Clause 15 of the Constitution authorizes the activation of organized militia in three cases only: to execute the laws of the United States, to suppress an insurrection or to repel an invasion.

The guardsmen were activated last spring when they were members of the 2nd Howitzer Battalion, 138th Artillery, 1st Armored Division at Fort Hood.

Special Program

These special education pupils at Moss Elementary school are presenting a Christmas program at the school cafeteria today at 7:30 p.m. for parents and members of a state association. All 90 children in the special education elementary division will take part in the program which will feature a tableaux, puppet show and choir, with special musical background. Parents and friends are urged to attend.

24-Hour Strike Perks Rome Woes

ROME (AP) — A 24-hour general strike hit Rome today as Premier-designate Mariano Rumor resumed talks to form a new Italian government.

The strike came after two days of violent demonstrations by workers and students in every major Italian city. The workers want higher wages. The students want reforms in the educational system, and both are protesting the police killing of two Sicilian farmhands during a strike demonstration Monday night.

POLICE-GESTAPO

Union leaders predicted 1.5 million persons in the Rome area would join in the strike and bring the city to a standstill. Schools were closed "to avoid unpleasantness to their pupils," the school board said.

The stock exchange in Milan, Italy's industrial and financial capital, was closed for two days.

Students marched in Naples, Rome and Milan again Wednesday night, shouting antipolice slogans and causing major traffic jams. They painted "Police Equals Gestapo" in red on the central police station in Naples.

The police remained out of sight in accordance with orders from Premier Giovanni Leone's caretaker government not to create further incidents. The Communist party also passed the word to its members and sympathizers to calm down and avoid violence.

Communist leaders were said to be worried that the riots would turn into anarchy, and the army and the police would seize control of the government and drive the Communist party underground.

MAIN MOVER

Like the French Communists last May, the Italian Communists are concerned because an element they don't control—the militant and exuberant students—are becoming the main mover in the demonstrations and disorders. The students consider the Communist party another member of the country's established power structure and don't take orders from it.

There was no indication that the mounting labor-student crisis was speeding up the formation of the center-left coalition government which Rumor, the secretary of the dominant Christian Democratic party, is trying to put together.

Rumor did hold a hurried meeting Wednesday night with the heads of the Socialist and Republican parties, the other two groups which with the Christian Democrats made up the government until last May. But aides said Rumor was expected to conclude his talks by the end of the week, adhering to a timetable he announced earlier.

SHARP INCREASE

228 Americans Killed In Action

SAIGON (AP) — The weekly toll of American battle deaths climbed last week to its highest mark in two months, the U.S. Command announced today.

U.S. spokesmen said 228 Americans were killed in action, the highest death count since 247 Americans died in combat in the week of Sept. 22-28.

While no major sustained fighting was reported last week, there were a number of sharp, scattered actions across the country, including clashes along the Cambodian border north and west of Saigon.

The 228 American dead last week represented a sharp increase over the 160 killed in action the previous week. Another 1,094 Americans were wounded last week, and 469 of them were hospitalized the previous week 1,432 were reported wounded in action.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported government casualties dropped slightly last week, with 223 men killed and 789 wounded in action. The tolls for the previous week were 246 killed and 902 wounded.

U.S. headquarters said 2,689 of the enemy were killed last week but noted—as it does every week—that the figure was "subject to adjustment."

Last Thursday, the total of enemy dead for the week of Nov. 17-23 was put at 2,175, but this was increased today to 2,706 on the basis of more recent reports.

The latest casualty count raised to 29,865 the number of Americans reported killed in action in Vietnam since Jan. 1, 1961. A total of 188,159 American wounded and 421,226 enemy dead have been reported in that period, the U.S. Command said.

Former Texas Woman Freed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration officials confirmed Wednesday that an American-born woman has been released from jail in the African country of Kenya after more than two years in prison without indictment or trial.

She is Mrs. Caroline Okelo Odongo, born in Marshal, Tex., as Caroline Jackson. Miss Jackson renounced her American citizenship in 1962 after her marriage to her present husband, a member of the political opposition in Kenya.

As Mrs. Okelo Odongo, she became the secretary of Oginga Odinga, the controversial leader of the opposition to President Jomo Kenyatta. She was arrested in August, 1966.

Officials said the embassy in Nairobi reported Mrs. Okelo Odongo's release, adding that Kenyan authorities gave no explanation and none is expected. She did not contact the American Embassy in Nairobi, they said.

Third Oklahoma Bank Robbery In Six Days

WEBBERS FALLS, Okla. (AP) — A search continued today for a lone holdup man who took $794 Wednesday at the First State Bank of Webbers Falls.

It was the third Oklahoma Bank robbery in six days. Banks at Jet and Hartshorne were robbed last Friday.

Lt. Lloyd Hobbs of the Oklahoma Highway Patrol said a description of the Webbers Falls robber matched that of the bandit who hit the Hartshorne bank.

He said a convicted bank robber out of prison on appeal bond was being sought for questioning.

Bank officials said the gunman picked the worst day of the month.

"That is the least amount of money we've had in those drawers in over a month," teller Leonard Gamble said.

Gamble said the well dressed gunman handed him a note stating, "Give me all the money in the drawer or I'll kill you and everyone else (sic)."

Says His Selection As Negro Councilman Is 'Great Stride'

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Negro attorney Arthur Shores, calling his selection as Birmingham's first Negro city councilman a "wholesome thing," says it will increase the black community's confidence in city government.

Shores, 56, was elected to the nine-member council by the other eight members Wednesday to fill the unexpired term of a councilman who died.

"I am happy the council saw fit to appoint me," he said. "It is with a feeling of humility that I accept the appointment and I look forward to serving my city and all of its people."

Shores will be the first Negro ever to serve in an elected position in the city. However, Negroes currently serve in appointive positions on at least three city boards.

"The city is making great strides in changing its image," Shores said. "I think this appointment will increase the confidence of the black community in the city's efforts to meet the needs of all of its citizens."

Shores' $75,000 home was extensively damaged by two dynamite blasts in 1963. No one was seriously injured but his wife was shaken up in one of the bombings.

"There has been a phenomenal change since then," he said. "It's almost unbelievable the progress that Birmingham has made, even though there is still a way to go yet."

Council members normally are elected at large by Birmingham voters. The city's population is approximately 40 per cent Negro but no Negro has been elected to the council by the voters.

Intensive Hunt For Liu's Pals

HONG KONG (AP) — An intensive month-long campaign to denounce President Liu Shao-chi has been ordered by Peking, Chinese arriving from Communist China reported today.

The travelers said all revolutionary committees were ordered to mobilize the masses for a series of denunciation rallies throughout December.

In their drive to root out all traces of Liu's influence, the followers of Chairman Mao Tse-tung are also embarking on an intensive hunt for Liu's followers throughout the country, these sources said.

U.S. Destroyers Arrive In Japan

SASEBO, Japan (AP) — The U.S. aircraft carrier Hancock and the destroyers Decatur and Samuel N. Moore arrived in southwest Japan today after three days of operations off the eastern coast of South Korea.

Two other destroyers which had escorted the carrier, the Rupertos and Mahan, were reported headed for the U.S. Navy's other base in Japan, Yokosuka, southwest of Tokyo.

There was no indication whether the task force would be replaced in Korean waters.

Gusty Norther Kicks Up Dust

By The Associated Press

Another late fall cold front whistled deeper into Texas today, dipping temperatures as low as 16 degrees at Dalhart in the upper Panhandle.

By early morning the gusty norther, kicking up dust as it swept through some areas, had progressed as far as a line linking Paris, Dallas, Abilene and Wink.

Skies remained clear throughout the state with no change in prospect. Another chilly night was promised most sections before a little warming Friday.

Shaking off the sharp freeze of the night before, temperatures generally climbed into the 60s Wednesday afternoon and top marks ran as high as 71 degrees at Amarillo and Brownsville and 72 at Dalhart.

Readings at other points this morning included Perryton 20, Amarillo and El Paso 23, Plainview 25 and Lubbock 32. On the coast it was still a comfortable 54 at Galveston.

It's Still True Liquor Quicker?

NEW YORK (AP) —

Candy
Is Dandy
But Liquor
Is Quicker
Pot is not

So goes humorist Ogden Nash's revised version of his famous 1931 quatrain, updated for the psychedelic 60's.

"It's still true that 'liquor is quicker,' " the 63-year-old Nash said in an interview.

"In the days of the Gibson girl, candy was the sure icebreaker between the sexes. Later it was liquor, which makes its drinkers nicely social. But pot (marijuana) doesn't do that, I hear; it's too individual.

"Besides," he continued, "I'm old-fashioned enough so that I like to think it's still liquor that ripens acquaintance to intimacy."

Cheese Cake Proof Fades

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — The Navy has learned that cheese cake could stand up at 1,000 feet below sea level.

A cheese cake was baked Wednesday for the five aquanauts living in a hyperbaric chamber at Duke University this week to test their abilities to function normally at deep sea pressures.

Scientists had told the Navy's Miss Sandy Harrison that the cake would collapse.

But she baked it anyway and the cake was introduced through an air lock into the chamber. It stood up well.

"The only trouble with the experiment is that the aquanauts ate the proof," she said.

Air Veteran Dies

Arrest Woman Hiding In Bushes

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Calif. (AP) — Police got a report of a possible escape attempt, staked out the county jail and at 3:30 a.m. arrested a woman hiding in bushes.

Officers charged Marilyn Jean Bynum Wednesday with "attempting to furnish a prisoner with something useful to aid in an escape"—namely, three hacksaw blades. Her husband, Joseph, is a jail inmate.

Study Of Nuclear Explosions Asked

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States proposed today an international study of underground nuclear explosions in an effort to improve the technique of detecting such explosions.

William C. Foster, director of the U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, told the 95-member committee that this was the kind of practical effort required to make serious progress toward disarmament.

The U.S. plan would include a series of underground explosions with seismic stations throughout the world alerted in advance so they could record the seismic data on the explosions and pool their information for evaluation.

The inability to find an ironclad way to detect underground nuclear explosions has been the main difficulty in extending the test ban treaty to include such detonations.

Foster acknowledged that progress had been made in detection, but he said even the latest devices were unable to differentiate positively between man-made explosions and earthquakes.

He said that the new U.S. proposal "would not be in any way a panacea for the problems regarding negotiation of a comprehensive test ban" but added that much valuable information proposed study.

"The United States is convinced," he said, "that its proposal for seismic investigation using underground nuclear explosions is of significant value and has much to commend it."

Arctic Cold Rumbles In

By The Associated Press

A wind-blown wave of Arctic cold rolled across the Great Plains today powered by gusts up to 70 miles an hour.

A frosty chill also nipped wide areas of the southeast as an earlier cold front swept into the Atlantic.

Temperatures fell into the teens or lower in the northern plains. The mercury settled to four below zero at Havre, Mont., shortly after midnight.

Winds clocked at 72 miles an hour pounded Russell, Kan., late Wednesday. Gusts reached 67 miles an hour at Watertown, S.D., and ranged to near 60 eastward as far as Chicago during the night.

Snow and chilling rain preceded the prewinter blast of cold from the Great Lakes region to New England. Portions of northern Maine measured five inches of fresh snow. Rain spilled southward as far as the Boston area.

In the Pacific northwest, travelers warnings were in effect for heavy snow in mountain areas.

Gale warnings flew along the northern Pacific coast, over the Great Lakes and along the New England coast.

Residents of Georgia and northern Florida awoke to thermometer readings in the low 30s, or lower. Tallahassee, in the Florida panhandle, registered 29 before daybreak.

Details Of North Crest Apartments

Details of North Crest Apartments were outlined for Downtown Lions members Wednesday at the Settles by Oliver Reed, president of the Mt. Bethel Charitable Trust. Reed said occupation of the first 40 apartments was scheduled for a month from now. So far there are approximately a score of applicants with more being received regularly.

The project is located between North Tenth and North Twelfth and between North Runnels and North Main streets, he said, and will accommodate families of $3,000 or less annual income. Those with $150 or more per month income will pay 25 per cent of income, which covers cost of utilities. Those under that figure pay a smaller fixed fee.

Housing is open to all who can qualify regardless of ethnic background. Applicants are screened for reliability and responsibility, he said.

Reed traced the history of the project from its beginning in November, 1966, until ground was broken May 11 for the contractor, D. D. Johnston, and to the present time on the eve of opening of the first section. There are one, two and three-bedroom apartments.

Plans for the club's Christmas party for the young people at the Big Spring State Hospital on Dec. 19 were outlined by Morris Rhodes, who presided. Evening Lions and the Alpha Chi chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha will join with the club.

Joe Pond conducted the induction of two new members, Col. Chandler Estes and Dr. A. T. Arja.

Rules Rapist Still Insane

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — A Fort Worth jury today found Charles Roy Hefley II still insane and said he should be returned to the state hospital at Rusk.

The case went to the jury Wednesday and it recessed overnight without reaching a decision.

Hefley was adjudged insane in 1965 and committed to the Rusk State Hospital. The decision at that time was that he also was insane late in 1964 when he told officers he beat and raped Mrs. Carolyn Adams and drowned her two infant sons in the Trinity River.

Medical experts gave contradictory testimony at the current hearing.

Dr. F. Fagan Thompson, chief psychologist at the Rusk hospital, described Hefley as "a mild sociopath" who in his judgment would not engage in violence if freed. Dr. James Hunter, also on the hospital staff, expressed the view that Hefley had been sane since being confined there.

Dr. John Holbrook of Dallas and another psychiatrist pictured Hefley as "a paranoid schizophrenic" who would be dangerous to himself and others if he should be released. They said he should be treated further.

Since Hefley was pronounced insane at the time the Adams youngsters were slain, he cannot be tried on charges filed then.

'Liniment Bowl' Benefit Slated

RAYMONDVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Raymondville Jaycees and volunteer firemen tangle here Friday night in what might be called the "liniment bowl."

Teams representing the two organizations will play football to raise money for the Mike Wolf Hospital fund. The game is to be played at 7:30 p.m. Friday at Burnett stadium.

Wolf is a Raymondville high school student who was critically injured last summer when he fell from a trailer while directing a crop duster plane as the airplane sprayed a cotton field and has been hospitalized at Corpus Christi and Raymondville.

Big Springers Urged To ZIP Yule Presents

Frank Hardesty, postmaster, today urged Big Spring residents to start their Christmas shopping and mailing now.

"After this week the post office will be hard pressed to handle the tremendous volume of Christmas mail expected," Hardesty said.

The postmaster noted that gift selections are better early in the season, shopping is more enjoyable, and one can be assured that his mail will be delivered before Christmas.

"Literally billions of pieces of mail will be delivered between now and Christmas. If everyone were to wait until the last week to mail their gifts and greetings, postal facilities would be severely overloaded," he said.

"More important, special greetings would not be delivered on time. Public cooperation is the key to fast and on-time delivery at this time of the year."

Hardesty asked citizens to purchase and mail gifts as soon as possible, and to mail them with ZIP codes.

He also encouraged all persons receiving mail to make a special effort this year to update mailing lists by recording the ZIP codes in return addresses of incoming mail.

"That's the easiest way to get the ZIP codes you need," Hardesty noted. "You can also look them up in our lobby ZIP Code Directory, or call the post office."

Miner Recalls No Trouble

FAIRMONT, W. Va. (AP) — One of the 21 men who escaped from the mine explosion near Mannington on Nov. 20 testified today there was no indication "of any trouble" before blasts and fire trapped 78 other miners.

The West Virginia Department of Mines opened a two-day preliminary hearing today into the disaster. The 78 trapped men were given up for dead Friday night when officials ordered Mountaineer Coal Co. No. 9 mine sealed.

Representatives of the U.S. Bureau of Mines and the United Mine Workers Union were also present when the hearing opened this morning at the Fairmont federal building.

Russell Foster, a lampman on the midnight shift in No. 9, said the mine's four ventilation fans were working and there was no inkling of trouble the morning of the first explosion.

Foster said there was a power failure "at the slope bottom about 3 a.m.," but he said it was quickly remedied by a maintenanceman and had no affect on the rest of the mine's operation.

Foster also said the electronic board which he manned was functioning properly and indicated all systems were satisfactory in the big mine.

Tennis Shoes Bandit Strikes

AUSTIN (AP) — A slender man wearing a plaid hat, dark glasses, long trench coat and white tennis shoes robbed the bank in Nordheim, DeWitt County, about 9:35 a.m. today, the Department of Public Safety reported. Nordheim is about 60 miles southeast of San Antonio.

Bank employes said the robber, a white man, had long sideburns. He escaped in an old model white automobile, the DPS said.

Bank officials were unable to estimate immediately how much money was taken.

Operation Staged To Trap Commies

DA NANG, Vietnam (AP) — Enemy bunkers and caves yielded bodies and prisoners today as U.S. Marines went into the mopping up stage of a 15-day operation designed to trap a mixed force of North Vietnamese troops and Viet Cong guerrillas.

A total of 462 enemy soldiers have been killed and 73 prisoners taken as the Marines narrowed their cordon to an area of less than two square miles inside the horseshoe bend of a river 15 miles south of Da Nang.

The Marines say their over-all casualties have been in a death ratio of about 8 to 1, meaning approximately 50 Marines have been killed.

"It may take two more days to complete the operation. There is a lot of cleaning up to do down there," said the commander of one company of the 26th Marine Regiment.

The regiment is spearheading the 4,000-man force still committed to the operation, code named Meade River.

Senior officers were proclaiming the campaign in a long-time enemy stronghold the best cordon operation yet conducted by the Marines, whose past efforts with the encirclement tactic have been uneven success.

In addition to the prisoners who either surrendered or were pulled from hiding places at gunpoint, the operation also netted 73 alleged members of the area's Viet Cong infrastructure for a total of 146 captives.

Marine and South Vietnamese officials say this removed about half of the known or suspected members of the Viet Cong's so-called shadow government from hamlets and villages in the area, which is along a route commonly used by the enemy for movement toward Da Nang.

Dawson Tops Bonds Quota

Dawson County has exceeded its quota in purchase of United States savings bonds for the year, Larson Lloyd, district 4 chairman, said Thursday.

Through October, Dawson's sales amounted to $126,651, or 105 per cent of the goal set for the year.

Howard County, which carries 40 per cent of the district quota, has achieved 80 per cent of its goal and if sales maintain the average for the year, the quota will be reached.

Not quite so bright is the outlook for the district. October sales aggregated $129,151, making $1,240,119 for the first 10 months, or 69 per cent of the year's quota.

October sales by counties in the district (with cumulative totals in parenthesis) and per cent of quota follow:

Andrews	$7,430	($37,087)	46;
Dawson	$11,065	($126,651)	105;
Fisher	$9,725	($42,233)	70;
Gaines	$3,236	($42,551)	47;
Howard	$66,346	($563,011)	80;
Martin	$2,804	($22,059)	73;
Mitchell	$8,040	($127,966)	75;
Nolan	$13,661	($140,447)	39;
Scurry	$6,842	($138,114)	81.

ABC To Honor Old-Timers

Old-time members of the American Business Club will be honored at the organization's noon luncheon at the Settles Hotel Friday.

Any person who has held membership in the club at any time in the past has an open invitation to be on hand, club prexy Bill Bradford has announced. The luncheon is one of two functions planned by the club for the day.

The ABC's annual Christmas party takes place at the Big Spring Country Club starting at 7:30 p.m.

This will be a dinner-dance and couples will be admitted to the party upon payment of $5. Ducats will be available at the door, Bradford says.

Jess Gayer and his orchestra will provide music for the program. Members can make reservations for guests in advance, it has been announced.

Two Wildcat Efforts Shape

Two wildcat efforts are planned in West Texas. They are in Martin and Sterling counties.

The Martin operation is Adobe Oil Co. of Midland No. 1 Sale Ranch, 14 miles northwest of Stanton and 3½ miles northeast of the exhausted Stanton (Spraberry) pool, 6½ miles northwest of the Martin sector of the Spraberry Trend Area.

Scheduled as a 9,200-foot Dean Sand venture, it is 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 22, block 37, T-1-N, T&P survey.

Adobe also has the Sterling prospector, No. 1 Carolyn Terry, an 8,632-foot Fusselman searcher, five miles southwest of Sterling City.

Location is 1,980 feet from south and west lines of section 8, block T, T&P survey, 4½ miles north of the WAM, South (Fusselman) reservoir.

It is a re-entry and cleanout to the old total depth — 8,632 feet — of the former David Fasken of Midland No. 1-8 Carolyn Terry, which was abandoned in January after developing some shows of petroleum on a drillstem test at 8,500-8,570 feet.

Solar Oil Co. of Midland No. 1 Broyles is to be a 9,600-foot Pennsylvanian probe in Dawson County, eight miles northwest of Lamesa, 467 feet from south and east lines of tract 9, league 4, Taylor County School Land survey.

The drillsite is 2½ miles southeast of the Mungerville (Pennsylvanian reef) reservoir and 1½ miles south of the Triple D (Wolfcamp) pool.

Monsanto Co. of Midland No. 3-A Hutto is to be drilled to a possible 7,600 feet as a 2,056-foot flanker to a producer in the Hutto, South (Wolfcamp) pool of Howard County.

It is 1,805 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines of section 9, block 31, T-1-S, T&P survey.

COMPLETIONS

HOWARD

Pan American No. 28-B Texas Land and Mortgage Co. has completed a well in the Iatan, East-Howard, 660 feet from the south and 971 feet from the west lines, 5-30-T1S-T&P survey. Total depth is 3,000 feet with well plugged back to 2,941 feet with 5½-inch casing running to 3,000 feet. Perforations are from 2,888-2,909 feet and initial pumping potential is 30 barrels of 33.7 gravity oil with 106 barrels of water per day. It was acidized with 500 gallons and fractured with 15,000 gallons and 22,500 pounds of sand.

Wood, McShane and Thams No. 15-A Otis Chalk has completed a well in the Howard-Glasscock field, 2,245 feet from the north and 965 feet from the west lines, 125-29-W&NW survey. Total depth is 2,486 feet with 5½-inch casing running to 2,486 feet. Perforations are from 2,235-2,349 feet and initial potential on pump is 20 barrels of 30 gravity oil and 12 barrels of water per day. It was acidized with 2,000 gallons and fractured with 17,000 gallons and 54,000 pounds of sand.

DAILY DRILLING

DAWSON

Pennzoil United No. 1 Schiller is at total depth of 4,761 feet in lime, waiting on cement and running 8⅝-inch casing to total depth.

Lario Oil Co. No. 1 Cox drilled to 11,304 feet and plugged and abandoned. 660 feet from the north and east lines, 52-35-T&N-T&P survey, seven miles north of Lamesa.

MARTIN

Mobil Oil Corp. No. 1-A Nail is at total depth of 12,568 feet with well plugged back to 9,502 feet, corrected, and prepared to set 5½-inch casing at 9,502 feet.

BORDEN

Lario Oil Co. No. 1 Wade drilled to total depth of 7,230 feet and plugged and abandoned. 2,303 feet from the south and 1,340 feet from the east lines, 48-25-H&TC survey, 17 miles east of Gail.

Tom Brown Drilling Co. No. 1 Clayton and Johnson is drilling at 6,480 feet.

STERLING

Apache Oil Co. No. 2 McEntire is at total depth of 8,633 feet and prepared to run core.

Adobe Oil Co. No. 1 Conger is drilling at 1,900 feet in lime.

Roden Oil Co. No. 2-H Reed reacidized perforations from 7,543-7,563 with 500 gallons and swabbed to recover 36 barrels of load oil and four barrels acid water. The well kicked off and flowed gas and a small amount of oil and acid water. It was left on 16-64 choke over night and died. They are prepared to swab.

3 Panthers Hit-And-Run

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP) — Three members of the Black Panther party were arrested today in connection with the hit-and-run shooting attack on a Jersey City police precinct Friday night, police said.

They were Isaiah Rowley, 24, Charles Hicks, 36, and Victor Perez, 19. Rowley identified himself as the New Jersey minister of defense for the Black Pant..ers.

Commenting on the arrests, Mayor Thomas J. Whelan said "The Black Panthers are through in Jersey City."

The three were to be charged with assault on a police officer, police said. Police also said there would be weapons charges.

Deacon Jones Is Top Lineman

NEW YORK (AP) — Deacon Jones had a 102-degree temperature at game time. The thermometer at Minnesota's Metropolitan Stadium read 34 and there was wet snow on the ground. Not exactly California weathe·.

There was considerable doubt that Jones would be able to play at all. He revealed he had 105-degree fever from the flu Saturday night.

"I was terribly ill," said the Los Angeles' Rams defensive end, "It took a lot out of me. I managed to find some energy someplace and went out and played.

Gold Prices Drop Back, Protest Strikes Staged

PARIS (AP) — The Bank of France reported improvement in gold and currency reserves today and a worker protest against Charles de Gaulle's austerity measure came off without incident.

At the same time, gold prices eased back slightly in Paris and other European trading points.

Workers at Renault, the nation's chief automobile manufacturing complex, staged four-hour protest strikes against President de Gaulle's moves to bolster the franc through internal belt-tightening. But police kept their distance and there were no reports of trouble.

SPECULATION

The company reported the strikes were only partially effective.

The gold and foreign currencies that flooded out of France in the wave of speculation against the franc last month have begun to trickle back, the Bank of France reported.

For the first time since Sept. 3, the Bank of France's weekly statement showed an increase in the reserves. For the week ending Nov. 28, the holdings of gold and foreign exchange bounced up $46.4 million. It wasn't much but French officials hoped that it signaled a trend.

Gold prices dropped back slightly in Paris, Zurich and London after hitting the highest point in almost five months Wednesday. On the London free market, gold was quoted at the equivalent of $40.45 an ounce. In Zurich the range was $40.35 to $40.55. In both cases the drop was 5 cents an ounce.

In Paris, the price of a one-kilogram, or 2.2 pound, gold ingot was at the rate of $43.50 an ounce, down from $43.91 an ounce Wednesday, which was the highest since July 5.

Lamesa Master Plan Application Shaping

LAMESA (SC) — The Lamesa City Council has taken an initial step toward making application for a federal grant to finance two-thirds the cost of a proposed $20,000 comprehensive planning study for the city.

The council conferred this week with Jim Delashaw of the Texas State Health Department in Austin.

Delashaw explained the mechanics of the proposed master plan, funds for which are available from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development through the state health department.

Councilmen voted unanimously to authorize the health department to prepare an outline of study areas which would be included in the long-range plan similar to those already adopted by some 60 Texas cities.

The plan would be completed by a private professional planning consultant, under the supervision of the state health department.

Among study areas would be current and projected future land use within the city, municipal financial needs, community facilities, utilities, traffic flow, and similar key items of city development.

It was the first full council meeting for Dr. Douglas B. Black, former Lamesa mayor who was appointed to the council two weeks ago to serve the remaining 18 months of the term of Robert Oates, Lamesa businessman and council member who died of an illness a month ago.

Other members are Mayor Lloyd Cline and councilmen Wendell Strahan, Don Bryant and John Palmore.

Pentagon Probes 'Dixie' Hospitals

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon is working to stop some civilian hospitals from discriminating against the families of Negro servicemen.

So far, the government has ruled that eight Southern hospitals are ineligible to participate in what amounts to a military medicare program because of alleged discriminatory practices.

BILLS PAID

The program, a joint effort with the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, marks a new phase of the Pentagon's drive to force an end to inequities encountered by black men in uniform.

The affected hospitals, in Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi and South Carolina, have been barred from taking part in the Civilian Health and Medicare Program of the Uniformed Services—Champus.

Champus, basically a military counterpart to the medicare program, was set up to enable servicemen's dependents living far from military medical facilities to get subsidized treatment.

Under it, the wife of a serviceman may go to a civilian doctor or hospital for medical care and have most, if not all, the bill paid for by the Pentagon.

A total of 7,000 hospitals are currently eligible to participate in the program.

Unless the eight southern hospitals change what the government regards as discriminatory policies, they cannot be reimbursed for medical treatment provided to servicemen or their families.

BLACKLIST

This will encourage if not force service families to seek out other hospitals on the Pentagon's approved list.

The Pentagon's findings of discrimination have been based almost solely on information compiled by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare in running the medicare program, officials said.

Two Wanted Men Jailed

Two men are being held in jails at West Palm Beach, Fla., and Floydada for the Howard County Sheriff's Department for violation of probation.

Theodore Taylor McDonald, 40, Abilene, is being held in Florida for the Howard County sheriff and Jefferson County Sheriff's Office in Beaumont. Lindy Oldfield, chief deputy here, said McDonald indicated he would sign a waiver of extradition and would be returned to Beaumont.

Juaquin Cantu, 23, Big Spring, is being held in Floyd County jail in Floydada under felony warrant for violating a two-year probation for malicious destruction of private property.

Squirrel Crop Is Looking Good

AUSTIN (AP) — The East Texas squirrel "crop" is the best in the past eight years, the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department reported today.

Summer reproduction was "very good," a department spokesman said. The squirrels are mating and feeding on the ground because high wind and rain have knocked most of the hardwood mast to the ground.

This makes hunting with dogs more productive, the spokesman said. "We hope hunters will take advantace of this huge squirrel crop," he said.

Judge In Ray Case Delays

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) —The judge who will hear the James Earl Ray case Wednesday postponed a contempt of court hearing for an FBI expert until after the Ray trial, now set for March 3.

Criminal Court Judge W. Preston Battle had ordered fingerprint specialist George Bonebrake to show cause on Dec. 6 why he should not be held in contempt of a court - ordered publicity ban surrounding Ray, the man charged in the slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Battle said he deferred the hearing because he believes "such hearings are self-defeating. They generate more publicity. We want publicity to subside."

A committee of attorneys watchdogging publicity recommended the contempt move against Bonebrake after stories appeared in Wichita, Kan., quoting him on fingerprint evidence in the Ray case.

Four other persons, two Memphis reporters and two members of Ray's early defense team, have already been found in contempt of the order.

Valdez Case Decision Due

The State rested its case late Wednesday afternoon in the 118th District Court trial of Ismael Valdez for assault with intent to murder, and the defense began calling witnesses this morning.

Valdez, 25, is charged in the shooting of Frank Maholly Jr. on Nov. 12, 1967, at the Deep Rock Service Station on Lamesa Drive. Thomas Carreno, 31, was killed in the shooting.

District Attorney Wayne Burns called seven people to the stand Wednesday, including Avery Falkner, Pete Stone, Jimmy Lockhart, all Big Spring police officers, Bobby Torres, Les Torres, Reynaldo Uribe and Frank Maholly Jr.

Ted Abbott, defense attorney, called Uribe to the stand this morning and then Anna Peucard testified.

'SATURDAY ADOPTION'

90 Minutes Of Little Action And Much Talk

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Ron Cowen, the 23-year-old author of "Saturday Adoption" feels strongly that it is unfair to give —money, time, affection—and expect something in return.

In his 90-minute original drama, the second in this season's "CBS Playhouse" on Wednesday night he phrased and rephrased this thesis in the dialogue and plot: "You give something to somebody and you want a little piece of him."

Cowen's story was built around a dissaffected 20-year-old prelaw student who, needing some meaning in his own life, volunteers as a Saturday tutor to a boy in a slum neighborhood. Rich Meridan, from a middle class suburban home, is assigned to Macy Stander, a bright 12-year-old Negro who is encountering trouble reading.

HAMMERED AWAY

Macy's background is the source of his unhappiness and loneliness—recollections of an out-of-work father now dead, a hard-working, ambitious mother who is determined to get better things for herself and child. And an older brother, Paul, hostile and suspicious of do-gooders, who has left his family to make his own hard way alone in a small job.

Rich has been sold by his father on becoming a lawyer and in spite of his personal doubts, he turned right around and sold the same idea to the little boy. He also hammered away at the boy's reserves and finally persuaded him to share some of his boyish dreams—cutting out to the South Seas and painting, jumping into a red sports car and running away to look at sunsets and forests in the Midwest.

But Rich was dreaming and knew it. The younger boy, once he had been reached and believed Rich, accepted the dream quite literally.

Of course, there was no way to a happy ending for Macy. Rich's businessman father laughed off his request for money to send Macy through college. That was reality and Rich was forced to deliberately and cruelly disillusion the youngster and send him, crushed, out of his life.

Cowen did not make any particular point about the black and white relationship, but his play did attempt to point up the differences between comfortable middle class existence and the bleak, hard life of low income families.

HIS YEARNING

His characters seemed a little fuzzy. The 20-year-old was infantile in his yearning to go back to age 13 and be a pirate. The little boy was extremely mature in his initial resistence to making plans that probably would not materialize.

It was 90 minutes of little action and much talk and would have benefited by editing down to one hour. It moved slowly as Cowen circled around and worried at his theme from various angles. However, the performances of the two young leads were impressive. Rick Gates played the college student. Eric Laneuville was effective as the lonely little boy. Delbert Mann's direction was sensitive, although his device of having Rich walk on camera from scene to scene —once there was supposed to be a lapse of a year in time between the scenes—was a little arty and self conscious.

Coahoma's All-District Players

All the Coahoma athletes pictured here with coach Bernie Hagins, who are, coincidentally, seniors, were named either first team All-District 5-A players or were included on the honorable mention list. From the left, they are Rickey Evans, Leo Bender, Gaylon Williams, Rodney Wall, Mike Duke, Gene Snow, Lynn King, Billy King and Ronnie Lepard. The Bulldogs won district and bi-district honors before losing a 7-6 heartbreaker to Sonora in Regional finals at San Angelo.

Coahoma Places Eight On All 5-A Platoons

Champion Coahoma dominated the All-District 5-A football platoons chosen Wednesday by coaches in a meeting held at Seagraves.

The Bulldogs placed eight boys on the first platoons. Gene Snow was a unanimous pick on both offense and defense. Rodney Wall was a unanimous pick on defense, as was Billy King.

Only other unanimous pick was quarterback Billy Flemmons of Seagraves.

On offense, Coahoma placed Ricky Evans at a running back spot, Billy King at end, Wall at tackle and Ronnie Lepard and Snow at guards.

On defense, Wall and Ronnie Lepard were among the six linebackers chosen while Mike Duke earned a halfback spot. Snow and Leo Bender made up as guards while Lynn King was chosen as an end.

In addition, center Marvin Wynn, end Gaylon Williams, QB Kenny Clanton, running back Dean Richters, fullback Johnny Ted Fowler and defensive back Toby Green of the Bulldogs were given Honorable Mention.

Twelve players were chosen on the offensive platoon while 17 were named to the defensive unit because of ties for some positions.

The elite squads:

OFFENSE PLATOON

Quarterback — Billy Flemmons, Seagraves, 6-2, 185, sr.

Backs — Wally Shifflett, Wink, 5-10, 180, sr.; Ricky Evans, Coahoma, 5-8, 160, sr.; Ricky Smith, Cooper, 6-3, 175, jr.

FIGHT RESULTS

WEDNESDAY NIGHT

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — Andy Kendall, 176, Portland, Ore., knocked out Eddy Parotte, 172, Las Vegas, 4; Cipriano Hernandez, 147, San Diego and Benito Juarez, 142, Las Vegas, drew, 8.

TOKYO — Masahiko "Fighting" Harada, 127, Japan, stopped Rey Amalona, 126, Philippines, 2.

INDIANAPOLIS — Henry Hank, 173, Detroit, stopped Mark Tessman, 173, Houston, Tex., 5.

ROCHESTER, Minn. — Pat O'Connor, 157, Rochester, Minn., outpointed Billy Marsh, 164, Henderson, Nev., 6; Duane Horsman, 164, Chatfield, Minn., stopped Lavern Williams, 174, St. Louis, 3.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

On a dry field, I rather think Coahoma could have shut down Ed Lee Renfro, the heart and soul of the Sonora attack, and been alive and kicking in the Class A football playoffs today.

The elements frowned upon the Bulldogs, however. Coahoma lost in a sea of mud at San Angelo last weekend, 7-6.

In view of the conditions, it was remarkable that the two teams didn't fumble more than they did. Coahoma lost the ball three times on bobbles. Sonora mishandled the ball numerous times but always retained possession.

Kurt Papp, the former Howard County JC basketball star who is eligible at the University of Texas again this season because he was red-shirted in 1966-67, will likely be one of the Longhorns' leaders during the campaign.

He hit 51.6 per cent of his shots from the field last season and was the second leading Texas rebounder in Southwest Conference play, averaging seven caroms a game. Over the year, he scored a total of 261 points. Kurt is a Civil Engineer major.

Eligibility rules differ in professional baseball and football and are more liberal in the latter sport.

Players qualified to play in post-season championship games must have played in either one or two of the final regular season contests involving their clubs.

Following completion of conference championship games, a club may add one player to its active list from its future list, but not from its reserve list, for participation in the league or world champion (Super Bowl) games, provided the player named is under contract to that club and provided such club remains within the applicable player limit of 40.

No club can add a play who is either under contract to or on the future list of any other club in the league.

You might feel inclined to shed a tear for Coach Bobby Dobbs, Tulsa, following that 100-6 football loss recently to Houston, and must feel compassion for Bump Elliott in the wake of Michigan's 50-14 humiliation at the hands of Ohio State.

Adjust to the world of Louis (Red) Klotz, the most consistent loser in sports history, however. He's the founder, owner, player-coach and dean of the Washington Generals, the team that makes a living losing to the Harlem Globetrotters.

In something over 3,500 games with the Trotters, Klotz and his intrepid band have won exactly three times. If they won with more regularlity, the Generals probably would have to seek other means of employment.

Klotz and Company are stooges in only one sense. They're all talented players but must fit their play into the comedy routine of the Trotters.

The red-head, who is now 47 years of age reasons his players could fit into some NBA lineups as the tenth or 11th men.

Says Klotz:

"The idea is to press the Trotters into topnotch basketball. But I make it fit a pattern so the Trotters can perform. That's what the people pay to see. I have never told any of my boys not to score. I only advise them not to try to be wise guys."

The Trotters, who'll be in this area later in the season, once played a game in Guadalajara, Mexico, in ankle-deep mud. There was no dribbling. The action looked more like volleyball. The bullring in which the Trotters performed dried out so fast, however, that the following day they played in a duststorm.

Junior Highs Await Meet

Trophies galore will be awarded at the conclusion of the annual Big Spring Junior High School Basketball tournament, which starts Friday in three local gymnasiums.

Awards go to the first, second, third and consolation winners in both the ninth and eighth grade divisions.

In addition, eight all-tournament selections will be made in the ninth grade class and seven in the eighth grade division.

Ben Neel and Bob Presley are serving as co-directors of the tournament, which will have eight teams entered in each division.

Only one game of the meet — a 2:30 p.m. engagement tomorrow between Runnels and Colorado City — will be unreeled in the Runnels Gym. The rest of the tournament takes place at Goliad.

All ninth grade contests are scheduled for the high school gymnasium.

The tournament winds up with 8 o'clock championship games Saturday night.

Snyder Lamar, Snyder Travis, San Angelo Edison and Lamesa have entered quintets in each bracket, along with local representatives.

Local JV's Vie In Snyder Meet

SNYDER — The Big Spring JV's will play Lubbock High, a team they've already beaten twice, in the first round of the Snyder B team basketball tournament this weekend.

The Dogies and Lubbock square off at 6:30 p.m. Friday.

In other first round engagements, Cooper opposes Plainview at 3:30 p.m.; Lubbock Monterey tries Seminole at 6 p.m.; and Midland Lee tangles with Snyder at 8 o'clock, all on Friday.

The tournament winds up Saturday.

Forsan Draws Bronte Teams

FORSAN — Forsan has drawn Bronte as an opponent in both divisions of the Blackwell-Divide Basketball tournament, which gets under way today and continues through Saturday.

The Forsan boys play Bronte at 9 o'clock tonight. The Forsan girls square off with Bronte at 7:30 p.m. today.

In other first round games of the boys' bracket, Highland opposes Roscoe at 3 p.m., and Hermleigh tangles with Loraine at 6 p.m., both contests today. First round play will wind up at 3 p.m. Friday in an engagement between Rotan and Hawley.

Championship games will be at 7 p.m. (girls) and 8:30 p.m. (boys) Saturday.

This is the first time Forsan has entered teams in the tournament.

Jayhawk Queens Succeed Again

The HCJC Jayhawk Queens wound up their home volleyball season on a successful note here Wednesday night, defeating West Texas State, 15-9, 16-18, 15-8.

Scoring was evenly divided. Judy Gromatsky led in the opening game with five points. Connie Trevino and Kay Kirkpatrick each had four in the second go. Sonia Whittington counted six in the final encounter.

The win was the 19th in 22 starts for the Queens, who go to Texas Tech Monday night for a contest.

Two Texans Are All-Americans

NEW YORK (AP)—Southern California's O. J. Simpson, the runaway pacemaker in a season dominated by brilliant ball-carriers, heads the array of college football stars named today to The Associated Press 1968 All-America team.

Simpson, the Heisman Trophy winner who lugged the ball more times and gained more yards this fall than anyone ever had in one season, earned All-America honors for the second consecutive year.

Versatile halfback Leroy Keyes of Purdue, pass-catching marvel Ron Sellers of Florida State and towering defensive end Ted Hendricks of Miami, Fla., join the Trojan flash as repeaters from the 1967 All-American squad.

Chris Gilbert, Texas' explosive tailback, moved up from last year's second team to nail a running back spot alongside Simpson and Keyes. Terry Hanratty, who masterminded Notre Dame's awesome attack until he was grounded by a November knee injury edged Kansas ace Bob Douglass for the quarterback post.

Joining Hendricks, Miami's 6-foot-8, 222-pound Mad Stork, and the 6-foot-5, 245-pound Stanfill on the defensive team are end John Zook of Kansas, mammoth tackle Joe Greene of North Texas State and tenacious middle guard Ed White of California. Greene is the heavyweight at 274 pounds. Zook goes 230 and White 245.

Gilbert, a 180-pound wraith, was the workhorse in Texas' hard - driving full house backfield. He became the first back ever to roll up more than 1,000 yards for three straight years, finishing with 1,132 for a career total of 3,231—third highest in history.

All-America college football team selected by The Associated Press:

OFFENSE

Tight end—Ted Kwalick, Penn State, Sr., 6-4, 230, McKees Rocks, Pa.

Split end—Ron Sellers, Florida State, Sr., 6-4, 187, Jacksonville, Fla.

Tackles — Dave Foley, Ohio State, Sr., 6-5, 255, Cincinnati, and Mike Montler, Colorado, Sr., 6-4, 235, Columbus, Ohio.

Guards — Charles Rosenfelder, Tennessee, Sr., 6-1, 220, Humboldt, Tenn., and Jim Barnes, Arkansas, Sr., 6-2, 225, Pine Bluff, Ark.

Center — John Didion, Oregon State Sr., 6-3½, 242, Woodland, Calif.

Running backs — O. J. Simpson, Southern California, Sr., 6-1, 207, San Francisco; Leroy Keyes, Purdue, Sr., 6-3, 215, Newport News, Va., and Chris Gilbert, Texas, Sr., 5-11, 180, Spring Branch, Tex.

Quarterback — Terry Hanratty, Notre Dame, Sr., 6-1, 200, Butler, Pa.

DEFENSE

Ends — Ted Hendricks, Miami, Fla., Sr., 6-8, 222, Miami Springs, Fla., and John Zook, Kansas, Sr., 6-4, 230, Larned, Kan.

Tackles — Bill Stanfill, Georgia, Sr., 6-5, 245, Cairo, Ga., and Joe Greene, North Texas State, Sr., 6-4, 274, Temple, Tex.

Middle guard — Ed White, California, Sr., 6-3, 245, Palm Dessert, Calif.

Linebackers — Steve Kiner, Tennessee, Jr., 6-1, 205, Tampa, Fla., Dennis Onkotz, Penn State, Jr., 6-2, 205, Northampton, Pa., and Mike Widner, Virginia Tech, Jr., 6-0, 200, Pennsville, N.J.

Backs — Jake Scott, Georgia, Jr., 6-1, 188, Arlington, Va. Roger Wehrli, Missouri, Sr., 6-0, 184, King City, Mo., and Al Worley, Washington, Sr., 5-11, 175, Wenatchee, Wash.

Second team selections included Jerry Levias, SMU, end; Don King, Texas Tech, guard; Steve Owens, Oklahoma, and Paul Gipson, Houston, both running backs, all on offense; and Loyd Wainscott, Texas, defensive tackle.

Third team selections included Eddie Hinton, offensive end; Eugene Morris, West Texas State, offensive running back; Bill Hobbs, Texas A&M, linebacker; and Jim Livingston, SMU, defensive back.

Salty Foxes Meet Steers In Tourney

ODESSA — Big Spring, 4-4 on the year, opens play in the Odessa Invitational Basketball tournament at 5:30 p.m. today against the powerful Silver Foxes of El Paso.

Odessa Ector and Lubbock High clash in the opening game of the meet at 4 p.m.

The night sessions sends Odessa against Amarillo High at 7 o'clock and Odessa High School against Amarillo Caprock at 8:30 p.m.

Odessa High, coached by Harold Green, is favored to reach the finals against either Permian or Amarillo.

Winner of the OHS-Caprock game will play at 8:30 p.m. Friday in the semifinals while the Permian-Amarillo winner will play the Jefferson-Big Spring winner at 7 p.m. in the other semifinal game Friday.

The seventh place game will start at 4 p.m. Saturday; consolation championship at 5:30 p.m. and the third place game at 7 p.m.

Championship finals will begin at 8:30 p.m.

Odessa has a tall quintet led by 6-7 John Wilson and 6-5 Craig Heap. Add Mark Green, 6-3, Ricky Moon, 6-3, Harry Taylor, 6-3, Ronny Silvers, 6-3 and Bob Pufal, 6-2 and you can see how coach Harold Green can field a tall team.

Permian has good height with Richard Garner, 6-6 along with Randy Reynolds, 6-2, Dale Harrington, 6-2 and Leroyce Bird, 6-1.

Bobby Wright, 6-6 senior, won't be eligible until second semester since he transfered to Odessa from Peacock Military Academy.

Amarillo High doesn't have much height, but coach Gary Lawley's Sandies have speed and are paced by 6-4 Hershel Mitchell, Leron Leathers, 6-5 and Kelton Naylor, 6-3.

Big Spring is still without the services of its top player, Claude (Snake) Tucker, who underwent knee surgery during the football season and won't be ready until the first of the year.

Caprock is another team out of the North that is short, but speedy. Its speedy team is led by 6-2 junior Frank Horton.

Jefferson won the District 1-4A title last year and also walked off with top honors here last year with a 58-50 win over OHS in the finals.

Back again this season to lead the Silver Foxes is 6-6 senior Wilson Barrow along with Mack Sweed, 6-2 sophomore and Jorge Rojero, a 6-0 sharp-shooting senior guard.

Lubbock High comes into the tourney with a 22-game losing streak. David Dillashaw, 6-3 senior is the top scorer for the Westerners.

Coach Al Oglesby's Ector Eagles are blessed with good speed and are paced by 6-5 junior Quincy Wallace and 6-1 senior Gene Collins. Perry Cooksey, 6-4 junior adds more height into the lineup for the Eagles.

A 10-man all-tourney team will be chosen again this year by the coaches and press.

IN BASKETBALL

Split Season Is Again Adopted

Meeting in formal session here Wednesday, the executive committee of District 3-AAAA adopted a baseball schedule for the 1969 season, voted a price increase of sorts for next fall's football games and agreed to consider a change in the starting time of football games at their August meeting.

District teams have heretofore been restricted to an 8 p.m. starting time in football but there has been agitation to advance the starting time to 7:30 p.m.

The committee also authorized a golf schedule which again calls for tournament competition in all five member cities. The schedule:

Feb. 7—in San Angelo; Feb. 14—in Big Spring; March 14—in Abilene; March 21—in Midland; April 4—in Odessa.

The price of football tickets, if purchased on a seasonal basis, will remain at $1.50 for adults and 50 cents for students.

However, the price will advance to $2 for adults and $1 for students if buyers wait until game time to get them.

The baseball season formally gets under way March 11 and continues through May 10, during which time the nine teams will engage in a double round-robin of competition.

Big Spring draws byes in 3-AAAA play on March 15 and again April 15.

A plan to again split the basketball schedule into two halves was approved. If the champions of each half differ, they will meet at the end of the season to determine the over-all king and the conference representative in bi-district competition.

All members of the executive committee were present but Dr. Jim Mailey, Midland; and Sam Anderson, Big Spring.

The baseball schedule:

March 11—Abilene open; Ector at Big Sprina; Lee at Permian; Midland at Cooper; San Angelo at Odessa.

March 15—San Angelo at Midland; Abilene at Lee; Permian at Ector; Odessa at Cooper; Big Sprina open.

Westbrook Wins 10th Decision

KLONDIKE — The Westbrook Wildcats ran their won-lost record to 10-1 by defeating Klondike, 56-51, here Tuesday night.

Bo Jackson counted 18 points for Westbrook while Russ Dunbar led the Cougars with 20.

Klondike easily won the girls' contest, 62-21, in a game that saw Margie Minter tally 33 points for the winners.

Boys' game:
WESTBROOK (56) — Robert Chambers 6-5-17; Don Jarratt 6-0-12; Bo Jackson 7-4-18; Gary Matlock 3-0-6; John Ritchey 1-1-3. Totals 23-10-56.
KLONDIKE (51) — Jim Ethridge 1-0-2; J. V. Cohora 3-0-6; Russ Dunbar 10-0-20; Joe Cozart 5-0-10; Val Stephens 3-7-13. Totals 22-7-51.

Coahoma Cagers Play At Winters

COAHOMA — The boys' and girls' basketball teams of Coahoma venture to Winters this weekend for a tournament.

The boys play Robert Lee at 6:30 p.m. today in the game immediately following the 5:15 contest between girls' teams of the same schools.

Eden and Winters contingents play in the other two first round games carded today.

Says Landry

Cowboys All-Time Finest

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Dallas coach Tom Landry said today he feels the Cowboys have their best football team in history.

"The difference in this team is that they move when they have to move," said Landry. "I don't know when we have been better off than we are today."

Dallas has clinched the Capitol Division crown of the National Football League with a 10-2 record, but some critics claim the Cowboys have looked listless doing it.

"I couldn't be happier with our people," Landry said. "Our defense is as good as ever. We've only allowed two touchdowns in 12 games on the ground.

"And I think (quarterback) Don Meredith is the best in football. Of course, I'm biased but I wouldn't take anybody over him."

Landry said things were going so well that "We dont seem to be doing what we are really doing. People just seem to be using a different measuring stick against us this year. They are looking for signs that we will become a world championship team. So they look critically at every little thing."

He said he figures Dallas will meet Cleveland in the Eastern Conference playoff game.

"We certainly respect Cleveland—they are now the team they used to be," Landry said.

Landry said he felt Dallas needed to win its final games with Pittsburgh and New York to build up momentum for the playoffs. And he has been wielding a stern stick on his players, fining cornerback Cornell Green $150 for being five pounds overweight.

"I expect Green to be back at his playing weight of 210 for Sunday's game," said Landry.

On another subject, Landry was asked if he had any comment on the officiating in last Thursday's Dallas-Washington game. The Cowboys won 29-20.

"Gosh no!" Landry said.

Two For Jackson

Robert Jackson, sophomore ace for the HCJC Jayhawks, goes up for a two-pointer as David Blakely (22) of Southwest Christian College stands helplessly by. HC won the Tuesday night game here, 99-60. The Hawks open play in the Odessa tournament this afternoon, meeting Cisco in a first round contest.

HC, Cisco Open Meet

HCJC's high-flying Jayhawks and Odessa College rank as co-favorites in the annual Odessa College Basketball tournament, which gets under way in Odessa today and continues through Saturday night.

HCJC has won seven of its first eight starts, losing only to Sterling, Colo. The Odessans are 4-1.

The Jayhawks and Cisco square off in the opening contest at 2 p.m.

Cisco, coached by Ken Henson, is 3-2, having beaten Midwestern JV, 99-56; Schunete, 88-72; and the Howard Payne freshmen, 83-66. The Wranglers have lost to Oral Roberts, Okla., 75-71; and Ranger, 79-72.

In other first round contests, Christian College of the Southwest (Dallas) tangles with Lubbock Christian at 4 p.m.; Odessa has it out with St. Phillips of San Antonio at 7 p.m.; and Ranger tangles with New Mexico JC of Hobbs at 9 p.m.

HCJC would swing back into action against the LCC-Christian College survivor at 7 p.m. Friday if it beats Cisco. A loss would see the Hawks returning to play at 2 p.m., tomorrow.

The other consolation round game is at 4 p.m. while the other championship semifinal test is down for 9 p.m. tomorrow.

Seventh place will be determined at 2 p.m. Saturday, the fifth place contest is booked for 4 p.m. Third place goes up for grabs in a 7 o'clock contest Saturday night while the title game will be started two hours later.

An all-tournament team will again be named this year.

Only returning all-tournament player is Robert Jackson, who is now HCJC's leading scorer.

Odessa and HCJC have each won the tournament title twice. NMJC has been in the finals the past two years but isn't one of this year's favorites due to a lack of height.

Christian College, coached by Bill Blakeley, and winner of the Region V meet in Big Spring last year, is 6-3 this year. The Dallas team lost successive contests to Lon Morris, Hill County JC and San Jacinto before straightening up to defeat Lon Morris, Hill County, Grayson County, Paris and Lee. The team has been averaging 95 points a game to 88 for the opposition.

The Dallas team has two 6-7 players in Jimmy Davis and Steve Davidson.

Ranger is 2-3 on the year, Lubbock CC 4-4, New Mexico JC 2-2, St. Phillips 2-4 and Odessa 4-1.

Judged off their records, HCJC boasts the most potent offense in the tournament while Cisco has the most poisonous defense.

Coach Buddy Travis is likely to start a lineup consisting of George Tilley, Sammy James, Robert Jackson, Glen Fletcher and Mickey Wilson.

MOBILE X-RAY UNIT HAS BUSY LAMESA DATE
Many avail themselves of opportunity to have chest checked

X-Ray Shots In Lamesa

LAMESA — Despite chilly weather, scores of Dawson County residents were on hand Wednesday to have X-ray photographs made of their chests while the West Texas-Lubbock Tuberculosis Mobile X-ray unit was in town.

The visit to the Dawson County courthouse lawn of the mobile unit was jointly sponsored by the Dawson County Commissioners Court and the Lamesa Business and Professional Women's Club.

The county commissioners agreed to pick up the tab for all indigent persons, particularly children, who appeared for X-ray examinations and could not pay the fee of $1.25 charged by the unit. The B&PW members manned the registration and record-keeping tables.

It was the first public operation of the unit in Dawson County in four years.

The unit was on hand only one day.

The fee of $1.25 it was said, pays for the film and the developing. The Tuberculosis Association will have competent physicians check the X-rays and all persons who were photographed will be advised in January of what the photos showed.

The West Texas Lubbock Tuberculosis Association serves 23 West Texas counties.

Cop Agents Tried To Spur Violence

WASHINGTON (AP) — A leader of the antiwar demonstrators who fought with authorities in the streets of Chicago during the Democratic National Convention says police undercover agents tried to spur the protestors to violence.

David Dellinger, chairman of the National Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam, told a House panel investigating the Chicago disorders Wednesday that the police agents tried to blur the purpose of the demonstrators by urging them to use force.

Dellinger, who was called for a second day of testimony today before a subcommittee of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, also said he had appealed to the protesters not to fight even "when police brutally attacked us."

"My position has always been to avoid violence and to avoid provocation," Dellinger said.

There was a brief flurry before the hearing actually started Wednesday when Yippie leader Jerry Rubin appeared outside the room dressed in a Santa Claus suit and carrying a toy gun. He was ordered kept out by Chairman Richard Ichord, D-Mo.

Rubin, who showed up at hearings last October wearing a bandoleer and war paint, told reporters his latest costume was typical of the committee, which he described as "a total circus."

Rubin said he would refuse to appear as ordered at a closed session Friday and would insist on a public hearing.

Dellinger, said at Wednesday's hearing, he advocated "revolutionary change, and I use this in the form of drastic or basic rather than I should go out and kill you or you me."

As a pacifist, Dellinger said he could understand American, Vietnamese, Cuban and black patriots who feel it necessary to resort to violence "to throw off oppressive force."

Dellinger condemned the "imperialist United States for fighting a war of example in Vietnam." He also said he condemned the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia while in Chicago but said this wasn't widely publicized.

During his afternoon on the witness stand, he suggested additional inquiry be made into assassinations of President John F. Kennedy and Negro leader Malcolm X.

He called the Warren report, which said it found no plot in the Kennedy slaying "a snow job to try and pacify the American people."

Sports Committee Meet Wednesday

Sports and recreation committee of the chamber of commerce will meet Wednesday in the chamber's conference room. Past activities will be reviewed, and recommendations for new activities and projects will be discussed, said Harold Davis, committee chairman.

Israeli-Jordanian Front Quiet Today

By The Associated Press

The Israeli-Jordanian front was reported quiet today after massive Israeli air strikes against Iraqi forces stationed in Jordan.

The war planes flew 50 miles inside Jordan Wednesday to attack Iraqi artillery emplacements, troops and ammunition dumps. It was the third Israeli air attack in Jordan this week.

One Israeli plane, a French-made Super Mystere fighter-bomber did not return, the Israeli army said.

GUN BATTLE

A spokesman said the 22-year-old pilot died in a helicopter that lifted him from Jordanian territory after he had bailed out and then was shot.

Unconfirmed press reports in Jordan's capital, Amman, said the flier was killed in a gun battle with a Jordanian shepherd.

Radio Amman said six soldiers were killed and 14 wounded in the raid on the Irbid sector, which is 20 miles east of the Jordan River, and on the city of Al Marfaq, the site of an air base farther east.

Radio Baghdad quoted a claim by the Iraqi commander that seven Israeli planes were shot down.

Israeli sources believed the attack dealt a serious blow to the Iraqi military presence in Jordan, which is believed to have been strengthened recently by new armor and new artillery. The Israelis said Iraq has about 12,000 troops in Jordan.

TERRORISTS

An Israeli Foreign Ministry spokesman charged the Iraqis "are the main sources of aid to the Palestine terrorists with money, vehicles, weapons, training and manpower."

Egyptian president Gamal Abdel Nasser rejected a reported American seven-point plan for peace between Israel and Egypt. Nasser told the Egyptian National Congress: "We refuse a plan designed to find settlement with each Arab country separately. The honorable solution in my viewpoint is that Israel should not take a single inch from Arab territory."

The existence of such a plan was denied by the U.S. State Department, which said "it would be misleading to believe" the United States has any new formal plan for peace beyond its often-stated views.

Vets To Get Big Dividends

More than 4,250,000 World War I and World War II veterans holding GI insurance policies will receive $236 million in dividends during 1969, Jack Coker, manager of the Veterans Administration regional office in Waco, said today.

This is $13 million more than the 1968 dividend payment of $223 million.

The dividends will be paid throughout 1969 on the anniversary dates of the policies, Coker said. Veterans need not apply for the dividends since payments will be made automatically.

Increased interest earnings on government life insurance funds made possible the higher 1969 dividends.

These earnings will also enable VA to pay a modest, first-time dividend averaging $11 to approximately 193,000 veterans holding modified life insurance policies.

Timing Of Walker Report Questioned

CHICAGO (AP) — A federal grand jury invesigating disturbances during the Democratic National Convention may look into a report on the subject by a task force of the President's Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence.

Chief Judge William J. Campbell of U.S. District Court, who is directing the grand jury inquiry, said Wednesday the timing and motivation of the report compiled by Daniel Walker, a Chicago lawyer, should be scrutinized.

'POLICE RIOT'

The timing of the Walker report, he said, "Seems inopportune." "I think any investigation of the timing by my grand jury might be appropriate. I assume they will look into that matter."

The report, released Sunday in Washington, said a "police riot" was involved in violence which surrounded the convention.

Judge Campbell questioned whether the report should have been made known before it was shown to the grand jury. He also criticized the 53-day time limit he said was placed on the Walker investigation.

HIS ANGLE?

"I don't know why anyone wanting to be objective would place a time limit on an investigation. This is no way to conduct an investigation and anyone skilled in the field would not undertake the task under such conditions," the judge said.

Concerning the possibility of a grand jury probe into the Walker report, Judge Campbell said: "The motivation might also be the subject of their inquiry. Whether it was done to influence the (grand Jury) investigation could very well be a subject of investigation."

Kentwood Chili Supper Saturday

The Kentwood Methodist Men will sponsor their annual chili supper for Boy Scout Troop 179 Saturday at Kentwood Methodist Church, 2805 Lynn Drive.

Admission to the gathering is 75 cents, and the menu includes homemade pie, tea and coffee.

All proceeds will go to the scout troop, and tickets may be purchased from troop members, Kentwood Methodist Men or at the door.

Commissioners Buy Road Grader

Howard County Commissioners Court today voted to purchase a road grader from Plains Machinery Co., Odessa.

The firm submitted the lowest bid of three companies for a 118 Galion for $19,694.50, with trade. Other bidders in competition were Patton Equipment Co., with a bid of $19,800, and Treanor Equipment Co., with a bid of $20,500 and an alternate proposal of $25,000 for a heavier piece of machinery.

Aftre comparing all specifications and weights of machinery from the companies, the court voted to purchase the grader from the Odessa company. The vote was 3-1 with Commissioner Bill Tune opposing.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Heloise:

The top of my quilt wore out before the lining. So I took a seldom-used tablecloth with huge roses on it and hand stitched around each rose to give it an appliqued effect.

Then I stitched the tablecloth to the quilt on my sewing machine. Trimmed it with a used sheet dyed to match the cloth and came up with a completely new comforter which looked very attractive . . . Gayle Glaspie

Dear Folks:

Thanks oodles for sending us all your great ideas for using the little plastic, clip on bread fasteners. Two great big hugs for all of you.

One thing for sure, they are handy little gadgets to have around, aren't they?

One mother wrote that her son used one as a pick for his steel string guitar when his regular one was lost, and it worked just fine.

One doll uses them on camping trips for clothespins. Another uses them for yarn bobbins when knitting.

Others wrote that they use them to:

Label which is whose shirts by clamping one on a collar button; hold a string of patio lights in a tree; mark special rows in knitting; hook around a bird cage for the parakeet to play with; clip on the side of pot plants for identification; attach plants to a support to hold the plant up; and of all things . . . to close plastic bags!

So gals, don't throw 'em away. You're sure to find good uses for them. Remember, they cost you nothing!

Thanks again, all you pals of mine . . . Heloise

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

Dear Heloise:

I've lost so many dishes and good plates and bowls by sending goodies in them to neighbors and friends that I finally found the answer . . .

I put my food on a chipped plate now! And I always get it back quickly! . . . Reader

Dear Heloise:

My family loves salmon croquettes.

Recently when making them, I discovered I was out of onions and wondered what I was going to use. Looking over my pantry shelf I spied a package of onion soup mix. So I dumped in about two tablespoons of it.

Well, you'll never believe how delicious those croquettes were. According to the family, they were the best ever.

From now on I'll never bother chopping onions and will use the onion soup mix instead. We even liked it better.

I think you will agree if you try it, Heloise . . . B.M.W.

I did, and I agree! Delish! . . . Heloise

Dear Heloise:

I'm 15 years old and have had enough experiences of losing packages while shopping.

Now I take along some of my address stickers in my purse and as I make a purchase, I stick one of these on the outside of the package.

Then if I happen to lose it, it's easy for the finder to return it . . . Chris Grabiec

Dear Heloise:

Do you need heated quarters for your dog this winter?

Many homes are now built with at least one furnace vent to the garage. This in itself is not enough to heat the whole garage to the desired temperature for a pet. However, a small warm area can be created by removing the furnace vent, turning it upside down and reinstalling it so that the louvers point DOWN.

This gives Fido a cozy retreat when heeded. Just be sure you check to see that it doesn't get too hot! . . . Dog Lover

Election Reforms Need Attention

How responsive to public opinion is representative government in the United States? Action or lack of it on reforming the dangerously antiquated system of electing the American president and vice president should soon afford fresh insight into the answer to that question.

Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., will introduce in the new Congress his previously proffered constitutional amendment proposal to abolish the Electoral College and provide for direct popular elections. Significant is the gap that he now sees between public and legislative opinion on this issue, which has become acute since the perilous presidential election this fall.

Bayh is aware, of course, that a Gallup poll, which is reasonably accurate on such matters, has found 81 per cent or about four-fifths of the people in favor of his plan. Yet he recently estimated that his proposed amendment has majority favor in Congress but not yet the required two-thirds majority to submit it to state legislatures for ratification. And he also foresees that the three-fourths ratification by the states would be the "hardest battlefield," if Congress submits the amendment, though "not an insurmountable obstacle."

Admittedly there are a variety of ways in which presidential elections can be remodeled and wide disagreement over which may be best. Expectedly there will be heated debate among lawmakers.

However, there is no doubt that American public opinion is overwhelmingly in favor of sweeping reform.

Reasonableness Of Comment

Speaking of election reforms, there is one locally which might well be developed, and that is reasonableness of criticism.

Several have commented on the recent commissioners election which saw an error made in the absentee and a correction of totals in another box. Some of those who spoke or wrote on this issue impugned the motives, if not questioned the integrity, of the commissioners court, the district judge, and others. Some have even suggested these officials resign.

These officials simply followed the law, and if this is a cause to resign or to have motives or to have integrity questioned, then we have come to a pretty pass. Those who advocate dipping into ballot boxes without due process of law need to rethink this position.

It would be chaotic as to law if a judge intruded into matters which had never been placed officially before him. The simple fact is that judges — whether county, district or appellate — cannot act on matters which have not been filed. Nor can a body responsible for canvassing returns (in this case the commissioners court) open up ballot boxes, unless authorized by proper legal course, without the probability of invalidating every vote in those boxes. And finally, parties to an election cannot challenge something until it is given an official status.

Although the legal tapestry may seem tedious or complicated, it is the framework which must be followed.

To deduce that a healthy respect for legal processes on the part of the district judge or county commissioners court is somehow devious and shadowy defies logic. This, then, could cast the matter back on those who hold elections, and our observation is that all we know who have performed this public-spirited service are of unquestioned integrity, who are after all human, but who do a remarkably good job under pressing circumstances. If anyone has knowledge of hanky panky at the ballot box, he has the obligation to lay it before the grand jury. Anyone is entitled to an opinion, but this cannot take the place of law and should not take the place of reasonableness of comment.

Riots More Than Spontaneous Unrest

WASHINGTON — Dr. Milton Eisenhower's commission, the House's Un-American Activities Committee under various acting chairmen and Sen. John McClellan's investigations subcommittee have this autumn all been studying civil violence which, in fact, could more correctly be called civil warfare. These three groups differ significantly in their approach.

DR. EISENHOWER'S panel (I have never seen him present at a hearing) is academic in its curiosity. It seeks the general rather than the specific causes. Most of the witnesses have been authorities on criminology, psychology, psychiatry, sociology and the moral justification of civil disobedience and racial revolt.

HUAC is looking for conspiracy and subversion. With rare exceptions, its witnesses are hostile and bizarre, often so professedly and aggressively "un-American" that they have reversed the stereotype roles of an HUAC hearing. Committeemen don't abuse the witnesses, but the witnesses abuse, bully, insult and defy the committeemen. Many of these witnesses condemn themselves, but much of the national press is day-before-yesterday-minded and goes on condemning the committee.

McCLELLAN'S subcommittee is doing a pinpoint, city-by-city examination of violence. It has now published 13 volumes of testimony, with one or two volumes to come. Senate Resolution 216, which ordered the investigation of riots also requires the subcommittee "to recommend such course of action it deemed necessary to prevent their recurrence." This prescription for riot-cure is not yet being concocted, but the McClellan staff has released a fact sheet which provides the most objective analysis yet put together. McClellan sent out questionnaires to the mayors of riot-hit cities, and the 137 completed forms have been compiled into a boxscore. It is a statistical reconstruction of civil disturbances from 1965 through July, 1968.

THESE WERE not flashfire disorders: In filling out the space marked "triggering incidents," the mayors only four times said that the uprisings were "spontaneous." The typical incident had something to do with a planned or incited resistance to law-enforcement. In a word, police-baiting. The shock-incentive of Martin Luther King's assassination, which might have been expected to cause endemic Negro violence, did not do so, apparently because it happened too suddenly for organized rioting, on a national scale. The McClellan staff checked 142 communities where the press reported violence after the assassination. Thirty-six mayors said they had no violence at all, 66 had incidents "not of sufficient gravity to be listed," and only 40 had disturbances serious enough to make the McClellan records.

TO RIOTERS Belong the Spoils: The first three riots (1965) of this study were "triggered," according to the mayors, by civil rights demonstrations. But these three springtime riots (in Selma, Philadelphia, Bogalusa) produced no looting at all. It wasn't until Watts (August, 1965) and Chicago (August, 1965) that the rioters began to profiteer on political protest. Thereafter, the raiding of stores for liquor, luxury items like television sets, cameras and fancy clothing, became almost a part of the action, climaxing in Washington, D.C. The grief over Dr. King's death (April 1968) didn't prevent the capital city mourners from doing $13,300,000 in property damage, much of it in breaking-and-stealing.

If the riots are not typically spontaneous, and are becoming more than mere expressions of social unrest, then we may be dealing with civil warfare that has two discernible purposes: to defeat the police in its peace-keeping assignment, to seize and destroy property.

The McClellan subcommittee isn't likely to "recommend" that the country take this lying down.

Billy Graham

The Bible says that we all are sons of God. Will you explain this, as we surely are not equal with Christ— M.L.

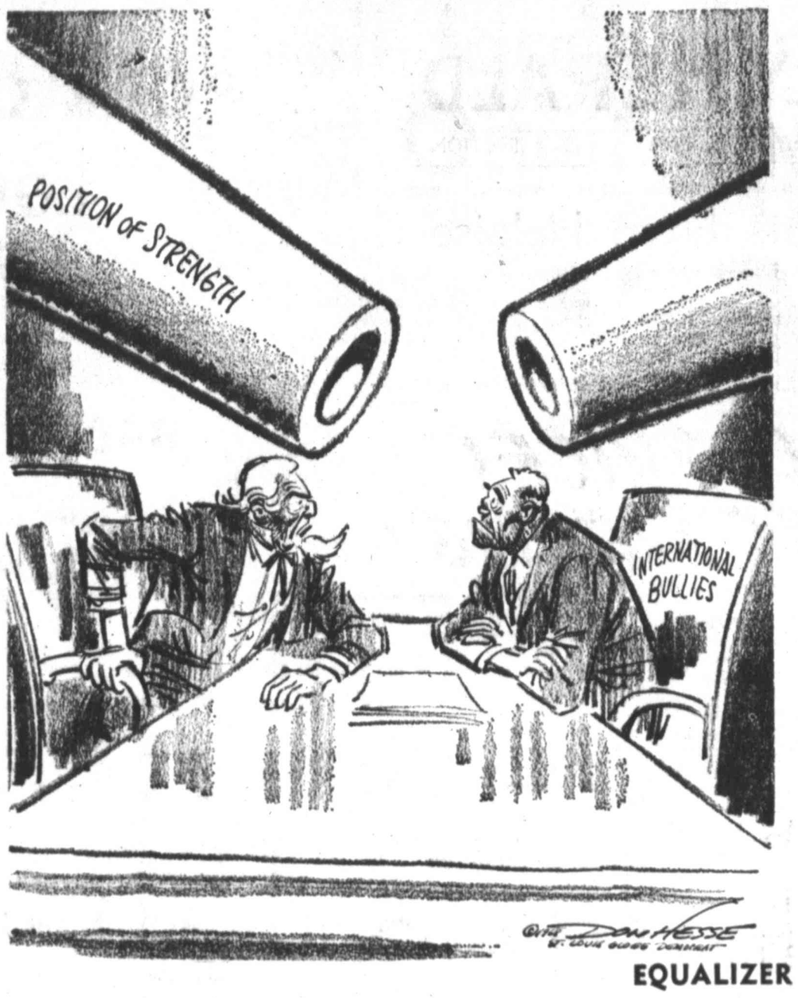

It means that we should be like Him. The Bible says: "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life." (John 3:16). God sent His Son into the world that we might be saved. We are saved when we accept Him, and follow Him. It would be blasphemy to say we are equal with Christ. That would be the same as saying we are equal with God.

We can be sons of God when we pattern our lives after Jesus. In the Gospel of John (1:12) we find these words: "But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name." You can be a son or daughter of God if you believe on His name, and walk in His Way. Live for Christ. Be like Jesus, and God will claim you for His child. Do good, but give the glory to Christ. Then you will be a son of God — a reflection of Jesus.

They Socked It To Small Investors In '68

NEW YORK (AP) — "Sock it to me" will probably go down as the catch phrase of the year for 1968 and it's likely that the small investor on Wall Street feels as though the phrase was coined for him. It's not because of any drop in the Dow Jones average, but because of his having slipped from a second class citizen on the street to a newly formed third class condition.

The small investor up until today was always considered to be the one who bought in odd lots—less than 100 shares at a time. Wall Streeters could always tell what the "little guys" were doing by watching the odd lot movement.

HE PAID AN extra charge a share over and above the normal commission when he bought stock. The theory apparently was that his order didn't generate enough commission to cover the cost of the brokerage firm's efforts.

The small investor was accustomed to being a second class citizen. He understood his position in relation to the big buyers.

But, as of today he's third class.

Wall Street created a new class today—the over 1,000 class. These are the buyers who get a reduction of about 20 per cent in the commission they pay if they buy 1,000 shares or more at a time. The commission reduction came about through pressure by the Securities and Exchange Commission.

THE SMALL INVESTOR now looks up to the man who can buy several hundred shares at a time while that man looks up to the person who can buy 1,000 or more shares and thus realize a considerable saving in the commission he pays.

This year has had other hard blows for the small investor. Some brokerage houses, flooded with more business than they have been able to handle, have refused to open accounts for small investors. Some have refused to handle orders involving less than $1,000 or $2,000 worth of business. One brokerage firm discharged 200 securities salesmen to reduce its volume of business. The salesmen were the "lowest producing account executives."

No Conflict In Two Careers

NEW YORK (AP) — "We cannot live in our time with small windows," said Renee Theobald. "We must open them more—feel the possibilities and challenges of life more, and express them more."

At 42 the beautiful and exciting Parisian artist, well known both in this country and in Europe, has been doubly successful in opening the "windows on walls" of her own life.

HER PAINTINGS, notable for vivid coloring and optimism, have drawn warm praise for their "virile touch" and the "zest and joy" they demonstrate. She has had 25 one-man shows. Twenty of her paintings were snapped up by collectors during a recent two-week exhibition at the Emile Walter Galleries here.

As wife and mother, Mme. Theobald has been equally successful. She is married to Dubois de Montreynaud, a French statistician and insurance company official, and they have five daughters, ranging in age from 10 to 18 years.

She has found no conflict in pursuing two careers. Mornings and evenings are given to her family, afternoons are spent at her easel.

Trained at the Sorbonne and Beaux-Arts de Paris, she resumed painting after the birth of her fourth daughter.

"THE CHILDREN came so quickly that I felt I had to open another window in my own world to keep from being trapped by diapers and baby care," she recalled, smiling.

"I felt I had to show I could do something else, too. It was a kind of sport to prove I was not a prisoner of occasion and recurrence.

"I feel my husband and children are proud of my painting. Each of us has his own intellectual interests—as well as our whole life together. I feel it important that every family be enriched by the way each member of it reaches his own inside harmony."

Mme. Theobald, who is brown-eyed and chestnut-haired, as a a girl wanted to be an aviatrix because she had a yearning to fly.

"NOW I TRY to fly by my painting," she said. "But it is not a way to escape. It is a way to assume one's self more, to live in a stronger way.

"Art is a means to seize or grasp more of life, and then to communicate to others what you see and feel. That, I believe, is what life is for—to find happiness yourself and then try to help give it to others."

She is an impressionist painter, and has little interest in turning out the kind of abstract or geometric pictures which leave many a viewer uncertain whether they are hung rightside up or not.

How Do You Get Rid Of That Cold?

By G. C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Why can some people get over a cold in three or four days while mine lingers on for a month? I take drug store remedies, but they don't help much.

Even when I get over the runny nose, I cough up sputum for about three weeks. It is thick and yellowish in the mornings but is lamost clear by the end of the day. I wheeze.

I also have a little sinus trouble. Could this sputum be from sinus drainage? Could my coughing have any relationship with being tired most of the time? — D.C.

Let's take a cold apart and see what makes it tick.

It's a virus infection (dozens and possibly even hundreds of different viruses cause colds) and the exact form of irritation can vary — nose, throat, sometimes the eyes may be inflamed.

There is, as we say, "no specific treatment." In plain language, there is no such thing as a cold cure. Sooner or later your system overcomes the virus.

How quickly? Some folks won't take care of themselves. They ought to rest while their bodies are fighting the virus. Faulty nutrition also can be a factor. And some people, for reasons not always apparent, have that vague thing called "resistance," while others lack it.

Those with weakened resistance are more likely to develop other infections once the virus has inflamed the mucous membranes. The yellow sputum is a sign that, in your case, pus-forming germs (bacteria rather than viruses) have invaded. At this stage of a cold, antibiotic treatment is indicated. The antibiotics can make quick work of bacteria, but do not affect viruses.

Sinus trouble as a part of it? Quite likely. When the cold strikes, the sinuses also become inflamed and may also become the site of bacterial secondary infections.

A constant cough uses up energy and thus may contribute to your tiredness. Just the nervous tension can play a part. But are you getting enough rest, and are you eating properly? The tiredness may also contribute to making the cough linger.

So when a cold hits, here are things you can do: —Rest.

—Aspirin will ease the discomfort and to some degree alleviate inflammation.

—There are common remedies which help "dry up a cold," but they don't affect the virus. They just have a drying effect. I wouldn't use one of them for more than a day or two, because the dried membranes can become brittle and crack, causing bleeding and allowing entry of other germs.

—If a secondary infection (yellowish sputum or nasal discharge being the chief signs) develops, that can be treated effectively by your doctor. But you have to get rid of the original cold by yourself.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: We recently discovered that my husband has dystonia. He is 49. Suddenly his head started shaking. The neurologist gave him pills to help him. What is the cause? And the cure? — MRS. J.K.

Dystonia means an alternate spasm and relaxation of certain muscle groups. The result is a bizarre twitching or contortion of whatever area is affected.

It is a rare disorder and the cause is not known; for that reason cure is unpredictable.

When it occurs, it is usually at an earlier age than 49.

Are you bothered with ringing in the ears? If so, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Big Spring Herald for the booklet, "Ear Noises — Their Causes and Cures," enclosing with your request 25 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Around The Rim

Action Needs To Match Interest

Once again, residents of our city's north side have asked help from the city administration in doing something about certain conditions that exist in what is called "the flats. Once again, the matter has been "taken under advisement."

IN THE PAST decade, this must be about the third or fourth time that responsible citizens of that area have asked for help in solving some of the problems that exist in their midst. These delegations have been thanked profusely for their interest, and then — to put it succinctly — forgotten.

Compared with 10 years ago, there are certainly fewer taverns operating in the area than before, but this probably is due largely to the fact that the demand left with the braceros. The dilapidated old buildings still stand — block after block of them. A few buildings have been eliminated by owners, but no more than a half dozen.

SCORES STILL stand vacant, every one of them a potential tavern harbor for another gunfight, if and when someone decides to open them up again.

The city still has an ordinance against hazardous structures, as well as its weed clearing law. This combination might provide a one-two punch to solve this incredibly run-down area.

Time and again, responsible residents of the area have demonstrated they want something done. Yet, in 10 years, little has been done to even start the ball rolling.

IT WAS about that long ago that residents voted down an urban renewal project here, which might have helped solve this particular problem. It was pointed out at the time that private interests could do the job better. Although I wholeheartedly agree that it would be better done this way, the fact remains that nothing has been done by anyone.

Police have managed to keep a closer eye on most of the trouble spots, and many have been closed. But the problem in the "flats" goes deeper than police action. It is frightening to know that any of these buildings could qualify under our standards of health, safety, or building requirements.

FRANKLY, THE residents of the north side deserve more than a "thank you for coming" answer when they ask for help, again and again. There must be a better answer than that, and if the tools to solve the problem are available, it's time someone started using them; if not available, then start to develop tools that may be put to work.

Local Spending Outstrips Federal Rate

WASHINGTON — Something is happening to the finances of state and local governments in America which in many respects is more serious than the unbalanced budgets and huge debt of the federal government. Thus, for example, the annual expenditures by state and local governments have risen from 49.6 billion dollars in 1960 to more than 103 billion in 1968.

THESE FIGURES, which were compiled by the economic unit of the magazine "U.S. News & World Report," from data supplied by the Department of Commerce here, are startling not so much because of the total amount spent as the rapidity with which expenditures are increasing.

When an analysis is made of what is being done with the money, it will be found that education is getting 41.4 per cent, whereas police protection gets only 3.5 per cent and fire protection 1.7 per cent. Even the outlays for health and hospitals amount to only 7.7 per cent.

Undoubtedly the increasing amount being spent for education is due to the fact that the federal government offers to furnish up to 90 per cent provided the states put up as little as 10 per cent. This means a chance to finance new programs at 10 cents on the dollar, and the state and local governments are not likely to pass up that kind of opportunity to improve their educational systems.

THE FAILURE, however, to spend money for police and fire protection is one of the reasons why there are so many crimes being committed and why riots are not effectively handled. The total amount spent yearly by the 50 states of the union and local governments for police protection amounts only to 3.3 billion dollars, while 1.6 billions are allocated for fire protection.

More than 13 billions are allocated to highway construction. What is termed "public assistance and relief" receives 9.4 billion dollars, largely because of federal grants.

THE DEBT of the state and local governments has also soared at a rate far exceeding that of the federal government. State and local debt in 1968 is estimated at 129 billion dollars, which represents a rise from 63 billions in 1960.

Under Secretary of the Treasury Frederick L. Deming said in a speech recently that a "mere continuance" of the rate of growth of state and local debt for the past two decades would boost the total debt by another 120 billion dollars in the next decade. He pointed out that Congress in 1968 passed new legislation by which the federal government is offering to pay part of the interest or principal on a number of state and local borrowing for a number of programs. These include public housing, higher education, water-pollution control, and hospital modernization. Mr. Deming indicated that it will be necessary to add new financial requirements for mass transit and other urban-redevelopment activities, municipal airports, anti-air-pollution effects and other areas in which federal programs have been established and are expected to be increased. Mr. Deming added:

"TAKING ALL this into account, it is not difficult to visualize a total rise in state and local debt over the next 10 years of 150 billion dollars or more, in addition to the 'normal' growth of 120 billion cited earlier.

"That would mean that, in 10 years, state and local debt would be rising by 30 billion to 35 billion dollars or more a year, rather than by 10 billion, or less, as at present."

Mr. Deming and many others are saying that the present system by which state and local governments do their financing through tax-exempt bonds will not be sufficient for the borrowing that will have to be done. It is being predicted that some other arrangement will have to be made.

UP TO NOW it has been assumed that state and local governments are not carrying their share of the burden and that the federal government could unload it almost entirely on them. But it is apparent that the states actually are going more and more heavily in debt and are doing much more borrowing than ever before. It may turn out that new forms of taxation or higher rates of present taxes will become necessary in the states and cities in order to meet the growing needs of an increasing population.

Football—An Insidious Weapon

Just behind the Pushkin Museum, off the 6th of March Alley, is a nondescript brownstone which houses the supersecret Soviet espionage organization known as GRUB.

Last week, at 3 o'clock in the morning, a meeting of Soviet leaders was called at the request of Vladimir Kov, the chief of GRUB's infamous American Desk.

KOV OPENED the meeting by stating that he had just made a discovery which could affect Soviet-American relations for years to come.

"So speak, Kov," said Comrade Kosygin irritably. "It better be important, to get us out of bed at 3 o'clock in the morning."

"Comrades," said Kov, "I have startling information that the American male is atrophying!"

"What are you talking about?" Comrade Gromyko shouted.

"AMERICANS ARE getting smaller. Look at these charts. This is the American male in 1958 — and this is the American male in 1968. In 10 years his arms have become two inches shorter and his legs three inches shorter."

The Kremlin power structure looked at the charts in amazement.

"What has caused it?" Comrade Brezhnev asked.

"Football," Kov said. "It appears that American men have been watching so much football on television that they are no longer using their limbs. Over a period of time their arms and legs have gotten smaller and smaller."

"Are your sure, Kov?" Comrade Suslov asked.

"OF COURSE I'm sure. These charts were compiled from stolen X-rays in over 200 American hospitals. Notice that not only are the American male's limbs atrophying, but his spine has been steadily curving from sitting in soft chairs. On the basis of our studies, we predict that in 20 years the average American male will be 4 feet, 3 inches tall."

Comrade Kosygin shook his head. "But how are we sure that the Americans will continue to shrink?"

"Because there will be more and more football on U.S. television. In five years there will be six hours of football every night, and 48 hours on the weekends. It's possible that the American man may never leave his chair in front of the television set, except to get a beer."

COMRADE BREZHNEV said, "What does this all mean, Kov?"

"It means, comrades, that there is no reason to build an antiballistic missile system. In 10 years the Americans will be so small that they will no longer be a threat. Even when attacked, they will refuse to leave their football games."

"And it didn't cost us a kopek," Kosygin said happily.

"But," said Comrade Suslov, "what about the average American woman?"

Kov said, "Because she now has to do all the work around the house while the American man watches television, she is getting larger and stronger. This chart shows that in 10 years her arms and legs will have gotten three inches longer."

"THIS IS bad," Comrade Brezhnev said.

"It's good," Kov said. "As American women get larger, their demands on their men become greater, so the men in turn become weaker. If the trend keeps up, by 1978 every man in the United States could become a vegetable."

Comrade Kosygin jumped on the table. "Let's hear it for the Baltimore Colts."

MRS. JIMMY RAY SMITH

Homemaker Prepares For Coming Holidays

By RHODA LEMONS

As December makes its annual appearance, the tinkle of Christmas bells can be heard in the air. Also, the faint sound of carols and the clamor of rushing feet of gift shoppers is even now being heard throughout the city.

In the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Ray Smith, 808 Edwards, Christmas preparations have begun to make the house hum, for the Smiths will spend Christmas holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fritzler, in Dallas.

The Smiths have three children, Steve, 15, a sophomore at Big Spring Senior High School; Nancy, 13, an eighth-grader at Goliad Junior High School; and Suzanne, 8, a fourth-grader at Park Hill Elementary School.

Mrs. Smith will make many Christmas foods, including candy, cakes, pies, cookies and fruit cake, well in advance of the holidays. The family will decorate the home early, too, so that they will have a chance to enjoy it before they leave town.

"On the night when we trim the tree, we have a 'special' family night," said Mrs. Smith. This is the night she makes a festive holiday punch and gets out samples of her Christmas goodies. She accents the pink and white dining room, which is done in French Provincial, with Christmas decorations and lays the table with a pink felt Christmas cloth trimmed with sequins and seed pearls. She uses a silver tea service, and the family has a feast while preparing the home for the holidays. Christmas carols are sung, and on occasions, the children have friends over to join in the fun.

Sometime between Christmas and the New Year, the Smiths plan to entertain with a small dinner party; about six to 12 people, followed by card games. They usually host an affair during the holidays, but, as yet, the date has not been set.

Lately, Mrs. Smith has been preparing fruit for freezer storage as well as giving some to friends. She recently learned to make jellies and preserves and now wants to learn to sew. She has been busy antiquing furniture but does not care to tackle large pieces unless they have been professionally stripped. Their home features contemporary, French Provincial and antique furnishings that blend harmoniously. The young people keep their rooms clean, and Mrs. Smith has domestic help one day a week.

Mrs. Smith, a former teacher, is taking graduate work in psychology at Hardin-Simmons University. Her husband is a training evaluator at Webb Air Force Base.

Mrs. Smith plays bridge in two afternoon clubs, and is a member of the 1953 Hyperion Club and Potpourri Club. She and her husband play bridge with other couples twice a month, and they belong to a couple's dinner club.

Try Cakes For Fine Fall Supper

When you want to play the tune for a simple supper, consider the savory appeal of sausage and corn made into panfried cakes.

These are both hearty and appetizing, combining as they do two such flavor favorites, pork sausage and corn. Made into a batter with eggs and baking powder, Reba Staggs, meat expert, advises dropping this mixture into lard or drippings to fry into attractive golden brown cakes.

They can be served for a delightful Sunday night supper when it's grown chilly, along with fruit salad, hot biscuits and jelly and baked custard for dessert.

SAUSAGE-CORN CAKES

1 lb. fresh pork sausage
1 can (16 oz.) whole kernel corn, drained
¾ cup sifted enriched flour
1 tsp. baking powder
1½ tsps. salt
2 eggs
¼ cup corn liquid or milk
2 tbsps. lard or drippings

Cook sausage in frying-pan until lightly browned. Pour off drippings. Combine sausage and corn. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Beat eggs. Add liquid and eggs to sifted dry ingredients. Stir meat and corn mixture into batter. Add lard or drippings to pan in which sausage was cooked. Drop sausage mixture by spoonfuls into hot drippings and brown on both sides. Makes six servings.

Make Beef Soup For Football Fans

Make this delicious soup to serve on a cold fall day, or serve it after the television game-of-the-day party.

MEXICAN BEEF SOUP

3 quarts water
5 tsps. salt
½ tsp. ground black pepper
1 large onion, sliced
2 cloves garlic, split
1 cup dried lima beans
3 lbs. short ribs
3 zucchini, cut into 1-inch slices (about 1¼ pounds)
4 large carrots, cut into ¼-inch slices
4 ears corn, cut into thirds or use 1 (1-lb, 1-oz.) can whole kernal corn, drained. Add to soup and heat through.

Place first six ingredients into large pot. Bring to boil; add short ribs and simmer, covered, one hour and 40 minutes. Add zucchini and carrots and cook, covered, 10 minutes. Add corn; cook 10 minutes, or until meat and vegetables are tender. Remove meat from bones; cut into bite-size pieces. Place with vegetables in large soup tureen. Pour in broth. Makes eight (about two cup) servings.

Whipping Cream

Make Diet Watcher Happy

Try a complete menu that is good to look at, good to eat and is low on calories. It is easy to prepare, and the calorie count is listed on the menu. The menu will be both filling and palate pleasing; leaving the dieter without empty hunger pangs.

Serve A Delicious Meal With Low Calorie Meat And Menu

Perhaps it is a new thought to many that pork is low in calories. As pork has become leaner the calorie count has gone down, too. A standing rib roast of pork will be a welcome change on the menu of those who are watching their diets.

MENU
Rib Roast of Pork with Herb Rub
Broiled Tomato Garnish
Baked Potato with Paprika
Hearts of Lettuce
Blue Cheese Dressing
Honeydew Melon

RIB ROAST OF PORK WITH HERB RUB

4 lbs. lean pork rib roast
1 tsp. salt
¼ tsp. pepper
¼ tsp. rosemary
¼ tsp. leaf thyme

Combine salt, pepper, and herb seasonings. Rub generously over the surface of the roast. Place roast, rib side down, on a rack in a shallow pan. Do not add water. Insert a roast meat thermometer into the thickest portion of the meat. Do not touch bone.

Roast in a slow oven (325 degrees) 2½ hours or until roast meat thermometer indicates 170 degrees. Remove the pork roast from the oven and allow it to stand about 15 minutes before carving. Count approximately 240 calories for each one-rib (3½-oz.) serving. In the past, the same portion would have counted up to 377 calories or more. Yield: Eight servings.

BROILED TOMATO GARNISH

Slice off the tops of medium-size tomatoes. Sprinkle lightly with fine bread crumbs and salt and pepper. Top each tomato with about one-half teaspoon of margarine. Place tomatoes in a shallow pan under the broiler. Broil about five minutes to heat through only. Serve one tomato with each serving of pork and count 40 calories.

BAKED POTATOES

Bake medium-size potatoes. Just before serving, cut the tops of the potatoes and fluff the inside with a fork. Let each calorie counter season his potato with salt, pepper, and a little paprika. Count 100 calories for each potato and add 35 calories for each teaspoon of butter or margarine used.

HEARTS OF LETTUCE SALAD WITH BLUE CHEESE DRESSING

Cut a crisp head of lettuce into wedges and arrange on individual salad plates. The lettuce is nearly free of calorie count. With each tablespoon of dressing, add 20 calories.

BLUE CHEESE DRESSING

¼ cup crumbled Blue Cheese
1 cup condensed tomato soup
2 tbsps. chili sauce
4 tsps. lemon juice
1 tsp. diced onion
½ tsp. paprika

Combine above ingredients. Beat until smooth. Chill. Yield: One and one-fourth cups.

DESSERT

Honeydew melon is so completely refreshing that it does not need any additions to make it a perfect dessert for this low calorie meal. Just add about 100 calories for each three inch wedge of melon. Or you can switch to watermelon for about the same count.

RECOMMENDED RECIPES

By Mrs. Jimmy Ray Smith

WILD DUCK

Stuffing:
1 onion
2 stalks celery
2 oranges, sliced and peeled
1 unpared apple, chopped
1 tsp. salt
⅛ tsp. pepper

Prepare stuffing the day before serving time, combining chopped onions, celery and oranges. Add apple, salt and pepper immediately before stuffing fowl next day.

½ tsp. salt
⅛ tsp. pepper
1 cup flour
6 cups bacon drippings (part salad oil, if desired)
1 6-oz. can frozen orange juice
¼ cup water

Clean and wash ducks in cold water. Skewer neck skin to back with toothpick. Shake in bag with flour, salt and pepper mixture. Brown in very hot fat in Dutch oven, one or two at a time, then lift carefully out, drain, and cool.

Fill birds with stuffing mixture. (Don't truss.) Arrange in roasting pan with two tablespoons bacon drippings. Combine thawed orange juice and water and pour over birds. Cover with foil; bake about two hours for medium-done birds, or longer for well done.

When done, arrange ducks on platter; remove toothpicks. Brush with orange drippings; spoon rest over them in serving. If desired, garnish with toast points.

CHRISTMAS MORNING EGGS

6 eggs
½ tsp. salt
⅛ tsp. pepper
¼ cup milk
½ tsp. whole dried rosemary
2 tbsps. butter or margarine
½ cup creamed cottage cheese

Combine all ingredients except butter in medium bowl and mix thoroughly with a fork. In medium skillet, melt butter and when hot, pour in egg mixture and reduce heat. Cook slowly, gently lifting from bottom and sides with spoon as mixture starts to set. Fold in creamed cottage cheese and continue cooking until eggs reach desired degree of doneness. Makes four servings.

CHRISTMAS WREATH COOKIES

½ cup soft butter or margarine
⅓ cup sugar
1 egg, separated
¼ tsp. vanilla extract
¼ tsp. almond extract
1 cup sifted flour
½ tsp. salt
¾ cup chopped, shelled pistachio nuts or tinted walnuts
½ cup strawberry jam

Heat oven to 300 degrees. With electric mixer at medium speed, beat butter until creamy; beat in sugar, egg yolk, extracts, then flour sifted with salt. Form into balls, using about one teaspoon of dough for each. Dip in slightly beaten egg white, then roll lightly in nuts.

Arrange cookies on greased cookie sheets. With fingertip, make a depression in the center of each. Bake 25 minutes. Then remove to wire rack and, while still warm, fill centers with jam. Store, tightly covered. Makes 36 cookies.

Make any time up to two weeks ahead.

TINTED WALNUTS

Heat oven to 300 degrees. Add two dashes liquid green food color to two teaspoons warm water. To it add ¾ cup chopped walnuts and toss thoroughly. Spread on cookie sheet and bake eight minutes.

BACON CRUNCHY CHIP DIP

2 tsps. catsup
1 tsp. prepared mustard
⅛ tsp. ground ginger
¼ cup dairy soured cream
½ cup cooked, chopped bacon

Soften cheese, combine with remaining ingredients. Serve with potato chips or crackers. Makes about one cup.

CRANBERRY ORANGE RELISH (UNCOOKED)

4 cups fresh cranberries
2 unpeeled oranges, cut in quarters
½ unpeeled lemon
2 cups sugar (or 1 cup sugar and 1 cup corn syrup)

Put all fruit through food chopper. Add sugar and mix well. Serve cold. This is very decorative served in orange half shells. Relish will keep for some time in refrigerator. Makes 1½ quarts. Serve with meat course.

PENUCHI CANDY

½ cup evaporated milk
2 cups brown sugar
2 tbsps. butter
1 tsp. vanilla
⅛ tsp. salt
1 cup broken nut meats

Combine milk and sugar. Cook slowly, stirring only until sugar is dissolved, until 236 degrees is reached (the stage at which a drop of the mixture will form a soft ball when dropped into cold water). Add butter. Cool slightly. Add other ingredients and beat until creamy. Pour into greased pan.

NUT BRITTLE

2 cups nuts
2 cups sugar
¼ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. soda
1 tsp. vanilla

Heat sugar gradually in a frying pan. Stir constantly with the bowl of the spoon until a golden syrup is formed. Remove from heat and stir in quickly the salt, soda and vanilla. Pour syrup over layer of nuts in greased pan. When cold, crack into small pieces.

HOT SPICED CRANBERRY JUICE

¾ cup firmly-packed brown sugar
1 cup water
¼ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. nutmeg
½ tsp. cinnamon
¼ tsp. allspice
¾ tsp. cloves
2 cans jellied cranberry sauce
3 cups water
1 qt. pineapple juice
Cinnamon sticks
Butter or margarine

Bring to a boil sugar, water, salt, spices. Crush cranberry sauce with fork. Add water and beat with rotary beater until smooth. Add cranberry liquid and pineapple juice to hot spiced syrup and heat to boiling. Serve hot. Dot with butter or margarine. Serve with cinnamon stick stirrers. Yields 2½ quarts.

SANDWICH WREATH

Serve Holiday Snack With Cheery Punch

Welcome your holiday guests with an attractive Party Bread Sandwich Wreath. For all its beauty, it is surprisingly easy to prepare. Contrasting party breads and handy meat spreads are just about all you'll need. Recipes are given below.

CHRISTMAS SANDWICH WREATH

DEVILED SPREAD

1—4½ oz. can deviled ham
¼ cup chopped celery
½ tsp. Worcestershire sauce
20 party pumpernickel slices
Softened butter

CHICKEN APPLE SPREAD

1—4¾ oz. chicken spread
¼ cup chopped apple
1 tbsp. sour cream
20 party rye slices
Softened butter

NIPPY PATE SPREAD

1—4¾ oz. can liverwurst spread
¼ cup chopped green pepper
1 tbsp. mayonnaise
20 party cheese slices
Softened butter

Combine first three ingredients. Spread bread with softened butter. Spread half of bread slices with meat spread mixture; close sandwiches with remaining slices. Each recipe makes 10 sandwiches. To form wreath, on a large round plate arrange sandwiches, on edge, around edge of plate. Decorate wreath with a satin or paper bow. Wreath contains 30 small sandwiches.

Prepare Savory Sausage Snacks At Dinnertime

Outside, Jack Frost paints the countryside blazing colors with his magic brush. Inside, we're adjusting to autumn's busy pace, school schedules, club meetings and other social activities.

SNAPPY SAUSAGE PINWHEELS

1 lb. pork sausage meat
1½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
¾ cup enriched corn meal
1 tbsp. baking powder
½ tsp. salt
⅓ cup shortening
½ cup milk
1 egg yolk

Pan-fry pork sausage just until it loses the pink color; drain. Sift together flour, corn meal, baking powder and salt into bowl. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Combine milk and egg yolk. Add to dry ingredients, stirring lightly until mixture is just dampened.

Turn out on lightly floured board or canvas. Knead gently a few times. Divide dough in half. Roll each half to form a 14 x 10-inch rectangle. Using half of the pork sausage for each rectangle, pat out to cover pastry, pressing lightly into dough. Beginning with long side, roll up as for jelly roll. Wrap in aluminum foil and refrigerate at least one hour.

Cut into ½-inch slices. Place on ungreased cooky sheets. Bake in preheated hot oven (425 degrees F.) 12 to 15 minutes. Makes 4½ dozen.

Dear Abby

—ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Maybe It Isn't Stealing

DEAR ABBY: How come there are laws against stealing chickens, horses, and automobiles, but there aren't any laws against stealing a man's most precious possession — his wife.

I'll bet if there were a penalty of 10 years in the penitentiary for wife stealing, there wouldn't be so many divorces, and poor little innocent children the victims of broken homes.

DENISON, TEX.

DEAR DENISON: Chickens, horses, and automobiles, the possession of which is protected by chattel law, can neither give nor withhold consent to be stolen, right?

A wife? She could be "kidnaped," but if she goes willingly, she's not stolen. Besides, she's no chattel.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter is 17½ and she's in her last year of high school. She has fallen in love with a 50-year-old man, and Abby, we are about out of our minds.

They want to marry when she is 18. They claim they are "in love" and are miserable when they're apart.

This man has plenty of money, drives a big Cadillac, and he's a snappy dresser. He doesn't look his age. He's very peppy and a wonderful dancer. (So is she.) He's promised her a Hawaiian honeymoon and a whole new dream world. Our daughter says it's not the money. She'd love him if he were poor. Can this be?

Should we try to break them up? What do you say, Abby? Do you think they could be happy together?

HER MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Those May-December marriages are usually wikily happy as long as they last, but they seldom last long. If you try to break them up, you might hasten the marriage. Try to persuade your daughter to wait a while. If you fail, she'll be stuck with a man who can give her everything she wants now, but she'll have to take her chances on what's in store later.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I passed a Jewish cemetery recently and noticed that the tombstones were very tall and close together. A friend of mine told me that it's an old custom of the Jewish people to bury their dead with caskets upright. Was my friend right? No offense, dear. S.A.S. IN CLEVELAND

DEAR S.A.S.: No. The Jewish people bury their dead horizontally, same as Christians.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: In reply to the girl who thinks "It is the dumbest thing she ever heard" that a girl at school doesn't attend the dances because it is against her religion, I would like to quote some men of widely different faiths who have spoken out on this subject.

A Jewish rabbi writes, "Modern dancing is popular, not because of its grace, but because of its appeal to our lower nature."

A Presbyterian preacher says, "Dancing, balls, and partying lead to forgetfulness of God."

Clovis Chappel, noted Methodist evangelist, states, "60,000 girls enter the underworld every year, and three-fourths of them by the dance floor."

A Roman Catholic confessional reveals that 19 out of every 20 young women who go wrong attribute it to the dance.

These are only a few of many examples. By the way, I am not a member of any of the above-mentioned religious organizations. I am a 16-year-old Christian boy who prefers not to add to the strifes of life by partaking in the dance. I don't think it is "dumb" and I don't think I've missed a thing. Actually, I think I've gained a lot by not dancing.

Content, but not dancing.
In Cheyenne, Wyo.

Mixed Up Tug

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A tug boat whose name has been changed from "Ethel" to "George" soon will be doing chores in Memphis Harbor. Warner & Tabmel Transportation Co. said the 10-year-old Ethel Woods has been refitted and will be known as the George L. Murphy after the firm's shore captain.

The vessel formerly was used extensively on the White River in Arkansas.

Tragedy Spurs War On Crime

NEW YORK (AP) — A business executive whose wife was slain last year plans a nationwide war on crime by mobilizing a minimum of 10 million Americans.

H. Bruce Palmer, 60, president of the National Industrial Conference Board, Wednesday announced formation of Citizens for Justice with Order, adding: "It took a personal tragedy in my life to motivate me to try to do something about crime."

Palmer's wife, Dorothy, 57, was stabbed to death Sept. 29, 1967, in their New Vernon, N.J., home. Frederick B. Thompson, 36, who worked as a tree trimmer on the Palmer estate, was arrested in Chicago about a month later. He was convicted of murder last Nov. 21 and sentenced to death.

The new organization hopes to raise $25 million in its first drive, with comedian Bob Hope, honorary national chairman, kicking off the campaign on national television tonight.

Plans of the new group call for improved training programs for convicted criminals and juvenile delinquents, he said, with separate task forces on higher education, the clergy, television, newspapers, youth and minority groups.

The group's prospectus said in part: "It is the intention of Citizens for Justice with Order to remind the people of America of their responsibility for its conduct and to encourage them to actively become involved in assisting law enforcement personnel."

Two Spy Profs Draw Death

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — Two South Korean university professors being retried on charges of participating in a North Korean spy ring in East Berlin today were again sentenced to death.

The verdicts against Chung Kyoo-myung, 40, a physics researcher at Frankfurt University, and Chung Ha-yong, 35, a Seoul college professor who studied in West Germany, are subject to review by the nation's highest court.

The Supreme Court last July ordered retrials for them and 10 others in the Seoul Appellate Court, citing lack of evidence. Of the others, composer Yun Isang's 15-year term was reduced to 10 years and Lim Sukhoon, 33, was sentenced to 15 years in prison instead of death.

Thank You, LBJ

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Ernie Burdine Jr. leased a billboard near a busy street and put up this sign: "Thank you President Johnson for a lifetime of dedicated service to my country. . ."

Ernie said it cost him $100.

Horoscope Forecast

TOMORROW

—CARROLL RIGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Until noontime, startling and unexpected developments are apt to be taking place so make no definite commitments until after that time. Then aspects take a decided turn for the better and you are able to gain the good will of those you are fond of. Also, get the rounded understanding you need of life.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Don't argue with co-workers in the morning, then you find that the clan will help you complete any plans you have. That unusual idea will not work early, but P.M. is fine. Be active.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Find better method for handling your particular work with greater efficiency, then put to the amusements you enjoy. You have some new project in mind. Talk it over with the right people, get their approval first, then start operating wisely.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Think how to add to present abundance instead of wasting time arguing with those who dwell under your roof. A different angle is necessary to that idea a clever business person gives you. Be alert, too.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Show that you are a careful driver and avoid accidents so that you can then put your ideas across to associates. Do not use sarcasm in dealing with others. Have you taken care of that correspondence yet?

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Instead of being so critical of those in social life, use courtesy and real thoughtfulness for their welfare. For heaven's sake, get that anxiety out of your hair! Then life becomes much happier for you.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Sidestep that irresponsible impulse that could jeopardize your present good position and study how to gain your personal aims more quickly. Keep only social engagements helpful to you and your career. Stop wasting time.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Don't take on work that could limit you, prevent you from getting ahead along more constructive lines. Some fine inspiration comes to you in P.M. Assist one in trouble: this is also an avenue to progress.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Keep your monetary matters within your realm and friends in another for best results now. Handle those puzzling problems wisely. Have you worked on that favorite hobby lately? Have fun tonight.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Be sure you follow through with all your obligations. Please higher-ups and fine benefits are yours. Study new plan you have in mind. Then start putting it in operation.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Rely on persons who have your interests at heart instead of some new-found individual who has you hypnotized. Day hours may be very exciting, but by evening all is well. Show you are a clever person.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Handle that annoying matter in A.M. and get it cleared up quickly, then you can move to newer and greener fields. An expert is trying to assist you. Show you are enthusiastic instead of adamant.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Your associate is acting up quite a bit but don't let it bother you in A.M. and you can then do as you please later. Show one who is interested in your welfare you are most grateful. Be cooperative.

Backyard Oil Discovery Bubbles More Troubles

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bernard Weinsieder, who discovered oil in his backyard only to see his dream of riches disintegrate, says he now may have to dismantle part of his home to get rid of the oil nobody wants.

It could cost him $20,000 to cap the deserted well, just to stop the oil from seeping everywhere, he said Thursday.

He and his family were overjoyed when oil bubbled up through a crack in their patio last month. They followed the seepage to a storage cellar, where they found a pool of oil large enough to fill 150 barrels.

LIFE SAVINGS

But as it turned out the oil came from a well drilled in 1911 and abandoned in 1924 and the question was not how much money the Weinsieders would get for their oil, but how much it would end up costing them.

First, the oil refineries said they couldn't buy the oil from independent operators. Then neighbors began complaining about the odor and the fumes.

When one neighbor's tenant moved away, the Weinsieders were sued.

Weinsieder, a bread salesman, then had to pay $2 a barrel to have the cellar pumped out and the oil trucked away.

Now the Weinsieders say it'll cost them about $20,000 to have the well capped properly. In order to get the necessary equipment through the driveway and into the back yard, they'll have to tear down part of the house.

"This place represents my parents' life savings," said Weinsieder's son, Jules, 22. "Everything they have is tied up in this house. They have no place else to go."

Jules said the oil has continued to seep into the two large pits in the back yard.

DO THEIR BEST

The family discovered the well was drilled and deserted by the Associated Oil Co., which later became part of the Getty Oil Co. They have hired an attorney who filed a $575,000 negligence suit against Getty.

They claim the well was capped with an 18-inch plug instead of the required 25-foot cap. The oil company has filed a legal response to the complaint, saying the Weinsieders have no legal cause of action. A ruling on that response is scheduled Monday.

In the meantime, the family has had to remortgage their house for money for the well capping, and rebuilding of the home after it's dismantled.

But the Weinsieders, a Jewish family which immigrated to America from post-war Germany, say they'll do their best to hang on.

"We managed to survive Hitler," says Mrs. Weinsieder.

Soviet Warships Action Picks Up

LONDON (AP) — The commander of U.S. naval forces in Europe said Wednesday night that Soviet warships have "begun to operate on a regular and continuous basis in the northeastern Atlantic and the Norwegian Sea."

Adm. W.F.A. Wendt told the English-speaking Union the buildup is similar to the Soviet naval expansion into the Mediterranean in the past two years.

Good Neighbor Commission Supports Railroad Project

HOUSTON (AP) — The chairman of the Good Neighbor Commission of Texas says 50 per cent of the high schools in Texas do not offer any foreign language instruction.

A. G. Ainsworth Jr., of Lubbock, said Wednesday the absence of low quality of Spanish instruction is "one of the most atrocious situations in Texas."

Jack H. Drake of Weslaco, another member, told the commission at its quarterly meeting that "Mexico is doing a better job of teaching English than we are in teaching Spanish."

The commission criticized a law in the Texas school code requiring English for all public school instruction other than in the teaching of foreign languages.

Article 288 under the religion and education title of the penal code makes teachers, principals and superintendents liable for harsh penalties if "recitations and exercises" are conducted in any language except English. Foreign language classes are exempt from the provision.

Glenn E. Garrett of Austin, executive director of the commission, said 16 school districts in the state offer bilingual education despite the law. He said a change in the law is one of the principal problems coming before the legislature.

The commission also decided to assist in a project for new railroad passenger service between San Antonio and Monterrey, Mexico. The plan would bring Mexican rail equipment over Texas track with train crews being changed at the border at Laredo.

Texan Takes Fast Look At American Party

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Bard Logan, who is setting up new quarters here, said Wednesday he knew of no plans for a national party meeting early next year in Texas.

However, he said he had heard that a tentative national meeting was being considered by some groups for Tulsa, Okla., "some time in the first half of February."

OPTIMISTIC

Logan, chairman of the George Wallace American Party in Texas, made his remarks after reports circultated that a national planning meeting was scheduled in Texas or Oklahoma Jan. 11-12.

"I haven't had any communication on it," Logan said of such a meeting in Texas. Furthermore, he said, the national headquarters for the Wallace presidential campaign in Montgomery, Ala., hadn't contacted him on such a conference.

Logan said he plans to open the American Party's new state headquarters here early next month. The headquarters was in Austin prior to last month's general elections.

Taking a look at the party's future in Texas, Logan had these observations Wednesday:

—He is "very optimistic" that Wallace may run again in the next presidential election, provided that "enough loyalty and support is exhibited in the next two years."

PITFALLS

—He doesn't believe the American Party should have a strong national committee. "I think there are a lot of pitfalls in forming a national organization with too much authority, particularly at the present time when the party is new," he said.

Lovelace Clinic Founder, 85, Dies

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Dr. William R. Lovelace, 85, a surgeon and founder of the Lovelace Clinic in Albuquerque, died Wednesday after a long illness. His clinic examined the first group of U.S. astronauts. It opened in 1923.

Kiwanis Leaders To Be Installed

Jim Thompson becomes president of the Big Spring Kiwanis Club tonight. Paul Cooper, Midland, lieutenant governor for Division 22, Texas-Oklahoma Kiwanis International, will be installing officer.

The ceremonies will be at a ladies night dinner in the Big Spring high school cafeteria. The dinner is set for 7:30 p.m.

Roscoe Newell, president of the local club, urged all members of the organization and their wives to be on hand.

Other officers to be installed by Gov. Cooper are Dawson DeViney, first vice president; Jack Worsham, second vice president; and Delaine Crawford, secretary-treasurer.

New directors, who will be presented, are Charles Warren, Bob Dunson, Horace Reagan, Bob Crowell and Sam Blackburn.

Holdover directors are Jim Beam, Donald Lovelady, and John Coffey. Newell, as retiring president, will serve as ex-officio member of the board for a year.

Sam Blackburn will be master of ceremonies.

Jeff Talmadge, a member of the Key Club — a boys' organization in the high school sponsored by the Kiwanis Club — will lead the pledge of allegiance.

Pete Hull will ask the invocation.

A featured event will be the appearance of the Big Spring High School sextet.

Gov. Cooper will then install the officers and directors.

Newell will close the meeting with announcements on plans of the club for the remaining weeks before the New Year.

Jack Lee will pronounce the benediction.

There will be delegations present from Kiwanis Clubs in other cities, according to Thompson, but the names and number of these guests were not available today.
