Front Against Reds In China Claimed Vital

Sen. Bridges Says HST Should Give Congress Facts

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Sen. Styles Bridges, R., N. H. today urged President Truman to call an immediate special session of Congress to provide more aid for "desperate" China.

Bridges said in a statement that Mr. Truman should recall Congress at once to receive the "real facts" on China and to rush additional aid to the Nationalist government of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

Bridges is chairman of both the Senate appropriations committee and the joint congressional "watchdog" group which checks on the foreign aid program.

Situation Desperate

He said the situation in China has become "so desperate that a positive and effective American aid program is urgently needed to prevent the Communists from taking over the whole of China lock, stock and barrel."

Bridges' statement was made as Republicans stepped up a drive to demand a special aid-to-China congressional session and to put Mr. Truman on the spot on that issue.

At the same time Bridges announced that he was calling his "watchdog" committee together on Dec. 2 to consider both the European and China aid programs.

GOP Could Act

The Republicans themselves could call a special session of the present Congress if their leaders should agree it was desirable.

Bridges advocated no specific form of increased aid, but said the administration should give Congress and the public the "real facts" and then let Congress take necessary action.

Bridges, along with other GOP legislators, feels that an immediate congressional appropriation for arms and ammunition is necessary to halt Communist advances in the Far East.

Quarantine Is Favored

These congressmen want Mr. Truman to extend to China the "quarantine Communism" program now in effect in Greece and Turkey. Under that program, the two Mediterranean countries have been getting military aid and advice from the United States.

GOP advocates of a special session of Congress point out that the

U. S. Delegate Cites Threats In UN Session

Russians Have 250 Combat Divisions At Their Disposal

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, Nov. 12.—A United States delegate told the United Nations today Russia is using "shrill government-directed propaganda to prepare its people for war."

The American, Frederick H. Osborn, told the general assembly's political committee there can be no disarmament until Russia stops threatening the world with Communist aggression.

The committee is debating a Soviet proposal that the United States, Britain, France, Russia and China slash their armaments by one-third and outlaw the atomic bomb.

Russians Kept in Fear

Osborn said Russia has 4,000,000 men under arms and that Soviet-dominated states have an additional 2,800,000. This, he said, adds up to 250 combat divisions, five times the combined forces of all the western European nations.

Russia's policies since the end of World War II have not helped to bring about international confidence, he said.

He cited, among other things, Russia's "summary rejection of the neutral nations' plan for Berlin."

The American said that Russian workers are "kept in fear of war by the Soviet government," and that the Russian citizens hear only the news their government wants them to hear.

There is some evidence, Osborn said, that some Russian leaders hold a "warped, twisted view of conditions outside the Soviet union."

Improvement Slackens

He added that he wondered whether members of the Soviet union's ruling politburo actually believe that the western world is ready to attack Russia.

"I am reluctant to believe that is so," he said.

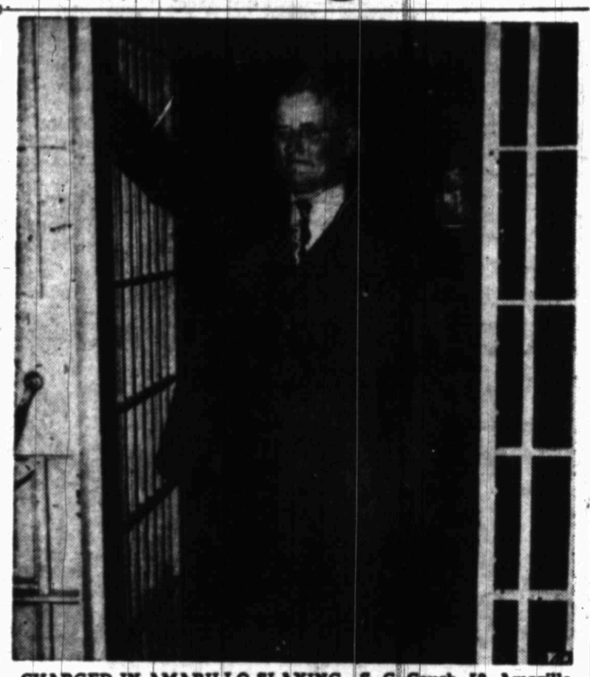

Even though their movements are restricted, Osborn said, U. S. representatives in Russia saw improvement there after the war.

This improvement has slackened now, he added, "because so much of Soviet production is going into war production."

PROMINENT SPEAKERS ON PROGRAM

Lawyers Gather In City For Institute

Lawyers from many of the 25 counties of the 19th Congressional district were gathering at 1 p. m. in the north ballroom of Lubbock hotel to attend a one-day institute on civil procedure sponsored by the State Bar association.

Truett Smith, Tahoka attorney and state bar director of the district, said there could be no "close estimate made of the expected attendance, but it should be heavy." There are more than 100 attorneys in Lubbock alone.

The program was about to commence at 1 o'clock, and will extend into the early night.

Program For Day

The program:

1 p. m.—Julius F. Franki, Austin attorney, will speak on "Discovery and Production of Documents" in Lubbock hotel.

3:15 p. m.—Wilmer D. Masterson, Jr., professor of law at Southern Methodist university, will speak on "Special Issues Submission," in Lubbock hotel.

6 p. m.—Dinner in the hotel; address by Robert G. Storey of Dallas, president of the state bar, on "Revision of the State Constitution." Thomas B. Duggan, Jr., president of the Lubbock County Bar association, will be master of ceremonies. The address of Storey, to be recorded by its technicians, will be broadcast by KFYO at 10:15 p .m.

Norvell To Speak

8 p. m.—Associate Justice James R. Norvell of the Fourth Court of Civil Appeals, of San Antonio, will discuss "Reversible and Non-Reversible Errors," in the third-floor district courtroom.

The institute is the fourth this year planned by the state bar for continuing legal education of Texas lawyers. One such institute will be held in each of the state's congressional districts.

Rayford L. Ball, chairman of the Lubbock County Bar association's continuing legal education committee, said speakers for the institute here had been chosen carefully by the state bar from numerous authorities in the field of law they will present.

Storey is a distinguished attorney who, among other numerous honors, was a member of the spe-

New Hike In Pay Forecast

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12 (AP) — Predictions of a fourth—and final—round of postwar wage boosts came today from an administration official weighing prospects for labor peace.

The policy shaper, who asked not to be quoted by name, said he looks for the pay increases to average between seven and ten cents an hour.

But he qualified his final round forecast by pegging it to another —that living costs are about to level off.

If they do, he told a reporter, future wage talks will shift emphasis from prices to productivity. His contention is that only by boosting output can workers be sure of pushing their earnings upward, once their pay has caught up with prices.

Since the war, wages have gone up three times, by roughly 18½, 15 and 11 cents an hour, with some fourth round increases of around 9½ cents. These last, however, have not yet spread to the big basic industries.

The administration labor official said preliminary plans being readied for President Truman's study call for a "reasonable compromise" on labor legislation and a greatly strengthened Labor department.

Strike By Greyhound Workers Threatened

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12 (AP) —AFL bus drivers and station attendants today threatened to strike Pacific Greyhound lines in seven western states at midnight Sunday.

In a letter to the company, the union said the strike would be called unless an "acceptable" wage offer is forthcoming before that deadline.

Affected would be 2,800 drivers, and 600 station employes in California, Nevada, Oregon, Utah, Arizona, New Mexico, and Texas.

Telephone Workers To Hold Strike Vote

DALLAS, Nov. 12 (AP) — Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., employes will begin a strike vote in 15 or 20 days to get a wage boost commensurate with the company's national policy, Ray Hackney, Texas director of the Communications Workers of America, revealed today.

Hackney said a strike vote of the 50,000 workers in the six-state area would be called by D. L. McCowen of St. Louis, union division president. The action was authorized at a meeting of the division this week in Galveston.

An offer made by the company on Sept. 17 averaged only 4-5 cents an hour increase to the employes, Hackney said, adding that the offer was not acceptable. He said the union sought a fair offer equal to the industry's national pattern "probably 10-15 cents an hour.

Reds Ride On Peace Talks

PARIS, Nov. 12 (AP)—High western delegation sources said today Russia has launched a new "propaganda peace offensive" around the world. The West, they said, plans to meet it at every point.

One leading delegate to the United Nations assembly told reporters privately that Russia is exploiting the reported possibility of a meeting between President Truman and Prime Minister Stalin for such propaganda purposes.

The source, who refused to permit his name or nationality to be disclosed, said the Russians apparently were disturbed over the effects of the big majority lineup against them in the United Nations.

He said everyone wants peace and that the reports of the possible Truman-Stalin meeting amounted to a campaign to weaken the position of the western powers.

The United States delegation to the assembly, meanwhile, refused to say anything on the reports of a possible meeting of Stalin and Mr. Truman. They maintain their position that they knew nothing about it here.

The delegation spokesman would not confirm or deny whether the subject would be discussed by U. S. Secretary of State Marshall and President Truman when Marshall returns to Washington.

Opera Star Carries On With Act After Knife Rips Wrist

(By The Associated Press)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 12—Metropolitan Opera Star Raoul Jobin carried on in true theatrical tradition last night despite a wrist stab wound sustained during the third act of Carmen.

Although bleeding from the wound inflicted accidentally by Leading Lady Gladys Swarthout, Jobin continued on stage but fainted as the curtain fell for the end of the act.

Jobin, portraying the role of Don Jose, was stabbed during a "quarrel" with Miss Smarthout, playing Carmen, after Don Jose had given up his family and his army career to join Carmen and a band of smugglers in the mountains.

Jobin sang the fourth and final act as the audience of 3,800 in Syria Mosque was unaware of the incident.

Later Jobin went to a hospital where five stitches were taken in his wrist.

He and Miss Swarthout had appeared as guest stars in

Red Casualties Hit 37,000 In Bloody Battle

Communist Force In China Routed By Savage Attack

(By The Associated Press)

NANKING, Nov. 12. — Savage Nationalist attacks reportedly routed nine Red columns at the Grand canal today in the mammoth Suchow battle.

The Communists, pro-government newspapers said, withdrew in disorder, leaving 37,000 dead and wounded. They had tried to sneak 135,000 Tsinan veterans across the canal for an attack on Suchow's left flank, 30 miles east of the government bastion.

Army Said Trapped

(The Communist radio heard in Peiping, said the Reds were annihilating the Seventh National army corps east of Suchow and had cooped up the Second Army corps west of the town. The Red radio said two National divisions went over to the Communists Monday.))

The fight at the canal was bloody. The Nationalists were credited with turning back more than 20 Red charges. The Reds, reports said, were using what the Chinese call "human sea" tactics —waves of men charging almost shoulder to shoulder.

Automatic weapons and low flying strafing planes took a heavy toll.

The newspapers called it a major victory. But observers agreed that at best it might only delay the Red timetable by three weeks at most. The big battle of Suchow, largest in Asiatic history, is still to be decided.

Million To Take Part

More than 1,000,000 combatants have been committed by the warring Chinese factions.

The Catholic newspaper, Yi Shih Pao, said President Chiang Kai-Shek flew to Suchow, 170 miles to the northwest, during the canal battle. This report was not confirmed. But it was obvious that the government was now throwing as many planes as possible into the struggle.

Foreign diplomats in Nanking generally expected Chiang to order the capital transferred southward in view of his decision to carry on what he calls his "eight years of war" against the Reds.

American dependents were leaving in U. S. Air Force and Marine transport planes from the same busy Nanking airfield. They were being flown to Shanghai and Tsingtao to board ships for home.

In the rear of the blue sedan were all Terry's golf clubs, and a bagful of golf balls, Terry told police.

Forged Checks Probed

Dep. Sheriff Earl Horton and Capt. of Detectives Pat Davidson, of the police, this morning sought further information from Police Chief Oscar Loder of Midwest City, a suburb of Oklahoma City, in regard to admissions of a Liberal, Kans., man and his wife that they had passed forged checks in three states, including at least one in Lubbock.

Chief Yoder identified the pair as Donald Ools, 21, and his wife Joyce Lavon Ools, 16.

They were being held in lieu of $1,000 bond each on a forgery charge there. They were quoted as saying they had cashed checks in Oklahoma, Kansas, and Texas.

Several persons are being sought by Lubbock authorities in connection with forgeries over recent months.

Clue Sought In Sex Slaying Of Young Colorado U. Co-ed

(By The United Press)

BOULDER, Colo., Nov. 12. A cream-colored automobile with Wyoming license plates was sought today as the car driven by the "maniacal" sex slayer of a pretty University of Colorado co-ed.

Police spread an alert for the automobile seen prowling Boulder streets Tuesday night, when 18-year-old Theresa Foster, a quiet, studious freshman in the college of engineering, said goodbye to her friends at a campus religious club and started walking home alone.

Her savagely beaten body was found beneath a bridge at a lonely spot 15 miles south of here yesterday by two hunters. She had been beaten into unconsciousness, raped and strangled. Except for moccasins, bobby sox and coat, she was nude.

Detectives admitted that the strange car seen cruising through the streets the night she disappeared was a slim clue, but they had few others to go on. Three automobiles fitting the description already

Jap Warlord Takes Sentence With Wan Smile; No Date For Executions Is Set

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, Nov. 12—Death on the gallows was decreed today for Hideki Tojo, the cold, calculating Japanese who led his country to ruin in the world's bloodiest war, and six of his 24 top leaders.

Life imprisonment was meted out to 16 others, including the Marquis Kochi Kido, close adviser to the emperor.

A seventeenth, Shigenori Togo, foreign minister at the time of the Pearl Harbor attack, drew 20 years in prison.

Aging, peg-legged Mamoru Shigemitsu, the statesman who hobbled aboard the battleship Missouri to sign the surrender terms in Tokyo bay, got seven years imprisonment.

An 11-nation court convicted all 25 defendants of war crimes. It sat for more than two and a half years. It took only 21 minutes to read the sentences.

Sir William Webb of Australia, president of the court, pronounced the sentences in a deathly silent and packed courtroom. Each man filed in sperately and stood in an otherwise empty prisoner's dock to hear his sentence. Each attempted to subdue emotion, but varied reactions were noticeable.

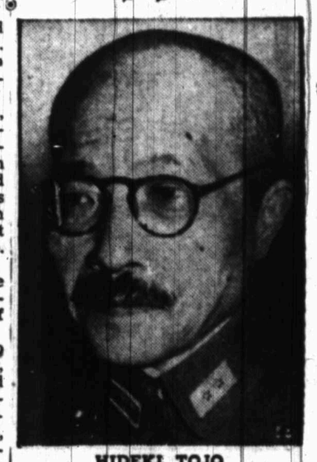

Bows To The Court

Tojo took his death sentence with a wan smile. He bowed politely to the court as did most of the other men.

Seventy-four-year-old Gen. Jiro Minami, former war minister, seemed befuddled and surprised with his sentence of life imprisonment. Gen. Hiroshi Oshima, former ambassador to Germany, stood arrogantly as he was sentenced to life and stalked away without the polite bow.

Japanese greeted the sentences in varied ways. Some said they thought more would be hanged and others said they were sorry for the defendants.

Maritime Strike Zero Hour Nears

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 12 — The zero hour neared today in a stevedores' strike that threatens to spread the length of the Atlantic seaboard and to the Gulf coast.

The bottling-up of virtually all American shipping on three coasts was feared, since western ports already are tied up by a maritime strike that began more than two months ago.

Ultimate scope of the coast walkout, which to date has disrupted operations in several major ports, hinged on the final tally today of ballots by some 65,000 longshoremen.

Vote Predicted

A union official predicted the vote will be against acceptance of a proposed wage settlement.

This, he said, would extend the waterfront shutdown from Portland, Me., to Hampton Roads, Va., and subsequently to South Atlantic and Gulf coast cities where workers have agreed to follow the lead of East coast dock hands.

Thousands of longshoremen already are idle in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, and Wilmington, Del., where locals of the AFL International Longshoremen's association already have rejected the proposed agreement.

Vessels Immobilized

The strike, which began here three days ago and snowballed from port to port, has immobilized scores of vessels. They have remained tied up at piers, with the owners unable to unload incoming cargoes or take on new ones.

Several other ships at sea have been rerouted to Halifax, Nova Scotia, because of the strike situation. John J. Sampson, head of ILA local 191, said crews of Greek Cabinet Calls It Quits

ATHENS, Nov. 12 (AP)—Premier Themistokles Sophoulis handed the resignation of his coalition Greek government to King Paul today. The king accepted it.

Sophoulis said the king would summon Foreign Minister Constantin Tsaldaris, leader of the Populist party, to the palace to discuss the cabinet crisis before asking any leader or group to form a new government.

Sophoulis' coalition Liberal-Populist cabinet had been in power since Sept. 7, 1947.

Free To Call Anyone

Tsaldaris still is at the United Nations session in Paris. Sophoulis cabled him last night, asking him to return, but so far there has been no indication of when Tsaldaris would arrive.

The outgoing premier said the king's summons of Tsaldaris followed parliamentary procedure since he is leader of the largest party. Technically the king is free to call on anyone to form a cabinet since the government did not fall on a vote of no confidence.

Poltical observers expect the king also will call leaders of other parties for consultations.

Western Diplomats To Decide Size Of New Defense Alliance

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Top Western diplomats will try to decide soon, perhaps next week, whether to expand the proposed Atlantic defense alliance from seven to at least 12 nations at the outset.

An answer to this question will be high on the program when the ambassadors from Britain, Canada, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg meet with Undersecretary of State Robert A. Lovett.

Behind closed doors, they will discuss specific plans for welding Europe's free nations into a giant defense belt supported by American arms and dollars.

U. S. Money Planned

If all goes well, invitations to join the alliance would then go out to the governments of Italy, Portugal, Norway, Denmark, Iceland and perhaps Ireland.

Countries accepting would be asked to send delegates to a full fledged defense conference some time in December. A formal alliance would be written at this meeting, pledging each nation to aid the rest in the event of attack.

To put teeth into this alliance, the State department currently is planning to ask Congress for several billion dollars needed to buy arms and munitions for member countries.

Difficulties Seen

The date and place of the conference to write the treaty has not yet been decided. But some foreign diplomats said they favor meeting in late December, in Washington, Ottawa or Bermuda.

A conference lasting three or four weeks would still give the administration time to present the agreed-upon treaty to the Senate for ratification early after it convenes in January.

Expanding the prospective seven-nation alliance may run into some difficulty, officials said. They gave this country-by-country analysis of factors that might make some nations reluctant to join:

Italy—the big Italian Communist party would be certain to oppose the idea bitterly. In addition the Italian peace treaty severely limits the size of Italy's armed forces.

Scandinavians Shaky

Portugal—Premier Salazar may take the view that his ancient defense treaty with Britain gives him enough protection.

Norway—her northern frontier borders Russia, causing some Norwegians to insist upon a strict neutrality position such as that pursued by neighboring Sweden.

Denmark — Russian troops in eastern Germany are along her southern border. Sweden's neutrality views influence her too.

Ireland—her traditional dislike of England might make her unwilling to join any defense organization with the British.

Iceland — this former Danish possession only recently gained its independence. It may be reluctant to tie its future too closely to the West.

Six Escape Death As Engine Strikes Auto

HOUSTON, Nov. 12. (AP)—Six motorists barely escaped death early today when the car they were riding in was hit by a slow-moving switch engine.

Treated for minor injuries were Henry Wells, his wife, a brother and three small children. The 28-year-old carpenter told hospital attendants he did not hear the train whistle. There is no signal at the crossing, in Houston's city limits.

Trainmen helped the family from the car after the light vehicle was shoved some 25 feet down the tracks.

Tito Again Hits At Cominform

LONDON, Nov. 12 (AP) — Premier Marshal Tito slapped again at the Cominform today but said Yugoslavia isn't turning its back on socialism.

He spoke to the Serbian academy of science in an appearance reported by Tanjug, official Yugoslav news agency. To assertions of the Russian-ruled Communist information bureau (Cominform) that Yugoslav Communism is too "nationalistic," the premier asserted:

Reports Are Assailed

"All the hopes of the reactionary elements who still believe that it is possible to turn back from Socialism are absurd. For this reason, all those stories spread in some countries of the people's democracies (Communist states) purporting that Yugoslavia is turning backwards are absurd.

"It is foolish to demand from us to do differently than we are doing now if our methods are showing excellent results."

Travelers from Yugoslavia to Trieste reported Tito had shifted military strength from the Trieste area to positions deep inside Yugoslavia.

The rightist newspaper Momento-Sera of Rome said Vatican political circles believed Bishop Joseph Patrick Hurley, American regent in the apostolic nunciature in Belgrade, had been influential in causing divergence between Tito and Russia. Despite the ideological split, a Yugoslav delegation was in Moscow negotiating trade treaty and the Yugoslav group in the United Nations consistently voted with Russia and the other Communist states.

Auto Walkout Idles 13,500

DETROIT, Nov. 11. (AP)—A spreading work paralysis in Chrysler Corp. was affecting four plants and idling 13,500 men today.

In a dispute over production rates Chrysler charged the CIO united auto workers with contract violation in a "wildcat strike" and the union accused management of a "speed up."

Strikes and layoffs followed a layoff discipline Monday for two machine operators whom management charged with refusing to meet the rates.

Workers Sent Home

At the Dodge truck plant 800 workers were sent home yesterday because of a shortage of engines which forced a halt to the heavy duty assembly line.

Chrysler said the 13,500 men were out of work "because 150 workers refused to live up to the contract their representatives signed with the company."

Chrysler Jumps Gun

President Joe Hatley of UAW-CIO Local 7 said Chrysler had "jumped the gun and started pushing workers around" after "betting on a Taft-Hartley administration in Washington."

Hatley said union members would "do a fair day's work" if Chrysler would "forget the election results, cool off and work this problem out with our union."

Two Veterans Parlay Shoestring To Huge $4,500,000 Housing Project In Alabama

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 12 (AP)—Ever try to parlay a shoestring into a $4,500,000 housing project.

A couple of young Air Force veterans have done just that. They are James M. Folmar, 31, and Henry I. Flinn, 29, engineer-architects and jacks of all trades.

Not content with one near miracle, they're now working on a formula which Folmar predicts will mean pre-war quality homes at pre-war prices. But right now their main interest is a rising suburban city here which they have named "Cloverland."

When finished this 200-acre development will contain 539 housing units with accommodations for 3,000 persons and a complete business district.

It started two years ago when the two college fraternity brothers—"Flormat" and "Flint," as they call each other—decided to team up and help lick the housing shortage.

They didn't have much experience in this line or even enough green stuff to build their own homes, much less a project such as they were talking about. What they lacked in cash, they made up for in audacity.

"Flint" sat down and drafted the basic plans. Then "Flormat," who majored in civil engineering in college, got out his slide rule and started translating them into figures.

Ready to tackle the financing, they bundled up their papers and went to see Lamar Kelly, former State Senator and head of the All-States Life Insurance Company's loan division.

The biggest shock came after they mentioned the $4,500,000 and Kelly nonchalantly replied, "Why not?"

"That's when trouble really caught up with us," Folmar confided. "There we were, practically unknown in the contracting business with no equipment, no office, no telephone and no trade accounts.

Folmar and Flinn didn't let that bother them, however. Instead they started dogging the trail of War Assets Administration sales over the country to line up surplus heavy equipment.

The Cloverland project is more than half finished with approximately 200 apartment units and 30 homes already occupied. Another 94 homes are being completed at the rate of about one a day.

"We're beginning to look to the future," Flinn said. "There's not too much competition now, but we want to be ready when it does come."

To that end he and his partner have their sights on a three-bedroom house of pre-war quality for $7,500. Folmar predicts they will have such a home on the market within a year despite high costs.

Science Comes To Aid Of Busy Wife Who Takes Meals For Family Out Of Tin Cans

CHICAGO, Nov. 12 (AP)—Science has come to the aid of the busy little woman who shakes the family meals out of tin cans.

She can claim she's counting your calories and vitamins; measuring your intake of proteins, minerals, fats and carbohydrates.

Scientists came up with a $125,000 answer to these questions today after six years of nationwide research centered in nine universities.

The study, which is continuing and eventually will cost $250,000, was financed by the National Canners association and the Can Manufacturers institute.

To Provide Information

It was undertaken to provide information about the nutritional value of canned foods.

A report on the research was made today to the directors of the National Canners association. The main points in the study claimed:

1. Foods canned by scientific methods retain relatively large amounts of essential nutrients "in contrast with many types of home cooking which disperse nutritive elements or destroy essential elements by overheating." The can actually functions as a miniature pressure cooker.

2. A large percentage of the nutrient value of canned foods has been proved to be in the liquid portion which careless housewives sometimes pour down the drain.

More than 50,000 cans of fruit, vegetables and fish were used in the tests. The samples came from all parts of the country.

Flavoring should be added to custards, boiled frosting, candies, and so forth, when they are cold, otherwise part of the essence may evaporate.

Mary Haworth's Mail . . .

17-Year-Old Girl, Declaring She's Adult, Is Refusing To Keep Health Rules In Eating

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: My daughter Celia, 17, who has just entered college, vows that she is adult and that my health-rules no longer apply to her.

I am neither baffled nor surprised by this attitude, which I accept as a rather painful phase of her growth, and I feel that in time she will swing back to proper balance; but in the interim years, what of her health?

That question is no joke. It is acute, due to the fact that I have taken a girl her age into our home as a paying guest. This girl, I'll call her Dina, says matter-of-factly that she has been allowed to drink coffee since the age of two years. Hearing this, Celia feels restricted and wants to do as Dina does.

Consequently the two girls' breakfast consists nowadays of a cup of coffee each and a few minutes' relaxed exhaling of cigarette smoke. I seethe when I see them at breakfast, ignoring fruit or fruit juice, cereal and milk, just nibbling at toast, then feverishly lighting their cigarettes and sitting back with their coffee.

PAYING GUEST GAVE DAUGHTER NEW IDEAS

OF course my irritation shows in my face, even in the desperate tone of my voice, when I cite the health menace and urge them to drink their milk or at least their fruit juice. But no; they say, "Food makes us ill." And Dina especially emphasizes that if I force her to eat by my insistence, she feels nauseated all morning.

Celia is five feet six inches tall, weighs 130 pounds and until recently just glowed with health, having always been nourished on a steady diet of milk, vegetables, fruits, cereals and meat. She has been a vital happy girl, but what now?

On a diet of coffee and cigarettes for breakfast, how would she fare if exposed to any epidemic? And a few years hence will she be a good health-risk for motherhood? Can you help me reason with her? Or do you think it's out of my hands and that I should stop worrying? The last is a foolish question, of course; for I can't be unconcerned unless somebody convinces me that these years of youth aren't important to an adult's health history.

(Signed) F. L.

NERVOUS STOMACH ISN'T GLAMOROUS

DEAR F. L.: Doubtless it's true that Dina feels nauseated if a normal breakfast is forced down her gullet; but the fact is nothing to brag about. To borrow a term from animal husbandry, it means she is seriously "off her feed."

Her addiction to coffee and cigarettes for breakfast, and no solid nourishment, is part of a vicious circle of "shot" nerves, which by her own admission has its origin in chronic malnourishment dating away back.

Unaccustomed to the exercise of digesting good food, Dina's sickly stomach quails from the very thought of it; so she is obliged to keep going on nervous energy for lack of daily adequate intake of basic energy-making fuel, and to "whip up" this unnatural exertion she relies on coffee; then turns to a cigarette to lessen her jitters, the one being a stimulant, the other more sedative.

All of which is more Dina's misfortune than her fault, of course, if family laxity betrayed her into bad hygiene practises from babyhood; but in view of Celia's better conditioning, she has little excuse for copying her.

WAN DIVA STUFF IS TRAGI-COMIC

THE breakfast tableau is tragi-comic, with Dina smugly advertising pathetic ignorance, projecting the defensive theory that it's more fetching to be a nervous wreck of sorts at 17 than a vital glowing beauty with an A-1 digestive tract; and with Celia, naively impressed by this "wan diva" stuff, blanking out her intelligence and playing the fool with her stomach, too.

Is the situation out of your hands? A doctor, discussing this very topic with certain young persons some years ago, told them bluntly that after 16 years of age, they were directly accountable for their health and dietary habits, provided they've been rightly taught before and had access to good nutrition.

In effect he said, if you elect to undermine constitutional vigor before its prime, by playing with false appetites for caffeine, nicotine or alcohol, neither parent nor doctor can prevent it; but while you exist you will never know full zest for living and the blame for it is on your head. So much for that.

Stop hammering at the girls. Give them this article to read and go relax. But if Diana's pert rude disregard of your wishes continues defiantly unfurled, I think you'd be justified in inviting her to make other guest-arrangements.—M. H.

Mrs. Trau, both state vice regent and national chairman on Americanism, spoke on teaching American history to native born citizens as well as foreigners. "The DAR Manual for Citizenship which is printed in 19 languages, should be given to every foreigner who takes out citizenship papers," stated Mrs. Dick who is national chairman of the manual. The Columbus woman, who is also state chairman of DAR approved schools, discussed the schools.

Mrs. Robert J. Allen, regent of the local Nancy Anderson chapter which was the hostess group at the meeting, presided and welcomed the state officers. Mrs. William G. Dingus gave the invocation and Miss Kathleen Brown, Americanization chairman of the local chapter, read the Pledge to the Flag.

Former Lubbock Man Receives MA Degree

After serving about three years in the Army Air Force during World War II, young Jackson returned to Lubbock for a B. A. degree at Texas Tech in June of 1946.

He plans to enter the State department in consular service as the result of his special training in Washington.

Five Injured In Accidents

Four persons were in local hospitals today as a result of three traffic accidents Thursday. Another man injured in one of the mishaps was released after treatment.

M. J. Stanton, 25, of Shallowater, and S. C. Caldwell, 47, of Muleshoe, were reported in satisfactory condition at St. Mary's hospital. Both were injured shortly before noon Thursday when their automobiles collided at a rural road intersection about one mile south of Winke gin near Shallowater.

Met At Intersection

Stanton suffered a crushed vertabrae of the back, and Caldwell was treated for a laceration of the head.

The highway patrol reported that Stanton's car was going west and Caldwell's vehicle south when the two met at the intersection. Caldwell's car overturned two and a half times. The injured men were brought to the hospital in a Bryan McDonald & Son Funeral home ambulance.

Two other accidents occurred shortly after 9 p. m.

Bill Snell, about 32, of 2323 Ninth, was admitted to Lubbock Memorial hospital after falling from a wagon while on a hayride with friends southwest of town. Although he suffered no apparent injuries, he could not recall where he had been or what had happened, companions said. He was admitted to the hospital for examination, and X-ray examination given.

Injured On Motorcycle

Charlie Joe Bartlett, 20, of 2311 Texas ave., entered Lubbock Memorial hospital for treatment of lacerations and abrasions of the face and a head injury of undetermined seriousness suffered when his motorcycle collided with guard posts on a curve in Mackenzie State park.

Bartlett's companion on the motorcycle, Ray Eade, 24, of 3916 Twenty-second, suffered a bruised hip. He was released from the hospital after treatment. Both men were taken to the hospital by McDonald ambulance.

Post Noses Out Slaton, 12-6

Six Games Reeled Off Over Section

Traditional grid clashes held the Armistice day sports spotlight on the South Plains Thursday, as six important conference and non-title tilts were unreeled in Districts 4-A and 5-A.

Post's undefeated Antelopes clinched the south half 4-A championship by nosing out the surprising Slaton Tigers, 12-6, in a feature settd at Slaton.

Tigers Tally First

The Tigers tallied first in the second quarter, when Fullback Tom Smith plunged across the double stripe on a two-yard smash, but the Antelopes tied up the game just before the half on a 40-yard sprint by Fullback Bob Teaff and a two-yard line buck by Fullback Ronnie Boucher.

Junior Malouf, Post's stellar halfback, crashed five yards for the decisive six-pointer early in the third period to clinch the triumph for the Antelopes.

O'Donnell's Eagles won the runner-up spot in the south 4-A standings with a 13-7 win over the Tahoka Bulldogs Thursday afternoon at Tahoka. The O'Donnell crew tallied in the first quarter on a one-yard plunge by Quarterback Joe Palmer, but the Bulldogs counted in the second stanza when Halfback Clark Farr circled left end for one yard and a touchdown. Duane Carter kicked the extra point to give the Bulldogs a temporary 7-6 lead.

31-Yard Jaunt

O'Donnell's Buddy Brock broke through left tackle for a 31-yard scoring jaunt to provide the margin of victory for the O'Donnell eleven.

Farwell's speedy Steers capitalized on a powerful ground and aerial attack to chalk up an easy 45-14 non-conference victory over the Seagraves Eagles Thursday afternoon at Seagraves.

The Steers scored on their first offensive play of the game, with Fullback Toby Boothe tossing a touchdown pass to End Don Ford on a play that covered 43 yards. Halfback Jerry Poole tallied again minutes later on a 33-yard scoring gallop and Boothe clinched the win with an 81-yard dash to paydirt.

The battling Seagraves eleven notched two touchdowns on a three yard plunge and a pass from Nelson Smith to End Kenneth Lampp, but Pool scored two additional touchdowns on runs of five and 72 yards. Steer Quarterback Warlick Thomas drove across the double stripe and Thomas passed to Boothe for the final six points.

Sundown's Roughnecks clinched at least a tie for the second place in the north half of 4-A by gaining a 15-0 victory over the stubborn Sudan Hornets at Sudan Thursday.

Following a scoreless first half, the Sundown crew struck for two quick tallies in the third quarter. Quarterback Neal Pearcy climaxed a long drive with a 20-yard pass to Back Bill McCulloch, then R. E. Hensley converted.

A Sudan fumble minutes later set up the second Sundown touchdown, with Pearcy tossing to End Melvin Houx for the six points. A fourth quarter safety for the Roughnecks boosted the score to 15-0.

In another north 4-A loop tilt, the Muleshoe Yellow Jackets crushed the Morton eleven, 31-7.

Cowboys Come From Behind To Drub WTSTC, 28-6 Thursday

ABILENE, Nov. 11 (AP)—Hardin-Simmons university came from behind to hand West Texas State a 28-6 licking in an Armistice day Border conference tilt.

West Texas State moved 66-yards for a touchdown at the game's outset, Lloyd Johnson plunging over the goal line to climax the drive.

Wilton Davis raced 36 yards for the Cowboys' first touchdown in the second quarter and Paul Bailey kicked the first of four extra points.

Davis accounted for another Hardin-Simmons tally on an eight-yard run and Bailey scored one on a 22-yard jaunt. Nolan Harvey chalked up the final Cowboy tally with a 19-yard return of an intercepted pass in the fourth quarter.

Carroll Thompson Wins Junior Title

Championship of the South Plains Junior High football league was clinched by Lubbock's undefeated Carroll Thompson Cowboys Thursday night, as the Thompson gridders rolled to a 19-7 triumph over the scrappy J. T. Hutchinson Rangers of Lubbock at Chapman field.

The Cowboys went ahead in the crucial encounter in the second quarter, when Quarterback Jack Weldon tossed a 25-yard aerial to End Tommy Yelvington that carried all the way to paydirt. Fullback Don Jones missed the try for point, but the Cowboys held a 6-0 halftime lead.

Hodges Goes Over

The Cowboys boosted their lead in the third stanza, with speedy Halfback Charles Hodges sprinting around end for 60 yards and a touchdown. The try for point was no good.

Billy Presley, line-battering Ranger fullback, sparked a J. T. Hutchinson drive in the third period that carried all the way to the double stripe. Presley broke through the line and raced 50 yards to the goal line on the scoring play. Wingback Ronald Stephenson plunged for the extra point and the Cowboys' lead was cut to 12-7.

Carroll Thompson Wins

Hodges clinched the win for the Cowboys in the final period, however, as he raced around end for 50 yards and another tally.

In the clash between the seventh and eighth graders of the two schools that preceded the main setto, the Carroll Thompson Calfropers outscored the J. T. Hutchinson Ranchers, 26-14.

The Calfropers' four tallies were made on two touchdown jaunts by Billy Biggs, a pass interception and return by Jimmy Clark and scoring gallop by Eddie Brown.

The Ranchers counted on a second period pass from Dub James to Tommy Miers, then duplicated the play in the third period for another six points.

TU Freshmen Blast Wogs Of TCU, 33-9

FORT WORTH, Nov. 12 (AP) — Odessa's Byron Townsend led the University of Texas freshmen to a one-sided, 33-9, victory over the Texas Christian University Wogs here yesterday.

Townsend gained 159 yards on 19 carries and scored once.

Carl Mayes of Pampa plunged four yards for Texas' first tally, climaxing a 74-yard drive in five plays.

A And I Tackle Will Miss Rest Of Season

KINGSVILLE, Nov. 12 (AP) — Ivan Snowden, star Texas A. and I. tackle, will miss the remainder of the season because of injuries, Coach Dewey Mayhew announces.

Snowden suffered pulled muscles in the game with the University of Corpus Christi last week and now has his shoulder in a cast.

Raider Frosh Defeat NMMI

ROSWELL, N. M., Nov. 12 (Special) — The season's record, with one game left to play, stood at all even today for the Texas Tech freshmen after their convincing 20-0 defeat here yesterday of the New Mexico Military Institute.

The Bronchos never were able to make a sustained drive or to threaten the junior Raider goal, as the Lubbock, Tex., eleven held the upperhand. Tech's verstile frosh scored the first time they held the ball and went on to win the game impressively.

Harold Haynes of Roscoe spun through the line for four yards and the first touchdown, which climaxed a long drive down the field. The conversion was good and the Tech fish held a lead they never gave up.

In the last minute of the second period the junior Raiders tallied again, with J. O. McClellan of Phillips tossing an 11-yard aerial to End Charles Allen from Pleasanton. Again the kick was good and the Tech frosh held a 14-0 lead at halftime.

Another pass, from McClellan to Littlefield's Jack Davis, gave the Tech freshmen their final six points in the third stanza, on a play that covered 27 yards.

The Tech forward wall, paced by Brownfield's Jerrell Price and Dick Andrews from McLean, held the Bronco backs well in check throughout the game. Bronco Quarterback Maurice Willis connected for several short aerials, but the home eleven couldn't muster a scoring punch.

Cowhands Get 20-0 Win Over Plainview

PLAINVIEW, Nov. 12 (Special) Touchdown gallops by Backs Tommy Fisher, Mack Taylor and Donnie Rawls paced the Lubbock Cowhands to an impressive 20-0 victory over the Plainview High "B" team here Thursday afternoon.

The Cowhands, defeated this season only by the strong Post Antelopes of District 4-A, started slowly, but chalked up two six-pointers in the second quarter. Fisher climaxed a long drive with a 12-yard smash through the line for the first tally, then Tackle J. R. Bradford converted from placement.

Taylor Drives Across

A few minutes later the Cowhands started another long march deep into Plainview territory, with Taylor driving across the double stripe from 15 yards out. Bradford missed the extra point try, but the Lubbock eleven held a 13-0 halftime margin.

The Cowhands clinched the victory in the third stanza, as high - stepping Donnie Rawls crossed the double stripe for the third touchdown. Bradford converted to end the scoring.

"Spider" Harris and Guard Ross Craig turned in excellent performances in the Cowhand line, which kept the Plainview youngsters out of Lubbock territory most of the game.

Princeton To Go Over Yale

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Sliding down from the top of the football peak with another hatful of forecasts.

Last week's 62 correct picks in 75 chances meant an average of .827. That brought the season's total to 451 correct and 101 incorrect for an average of .818.

This weekend's forecasts:

Irish To Keep Going

Northwestern at Notre Dame: A year ago the Northwestern sophomores were the only team to score more than once on the Irish. They punched over three touchdowns. They likely will do it again this time but Notre Dame will get four, at least. Notre Dame.

Army at Penn: The Quakers have been minus a consistent attack all season. There's nothing in the records to indicate that they have found it now. This game pits two of the country's best centers, Chuck Bendnarik of Penn. and Army's Bill Yeoman, against each other. Army.

Indiana at Michigan: Wolverine reserves have practiced all week. Even they should be able to handle the Hoosiers. Michigan.

Could Be Murder

Washington at California: Coach Lynn Waldorf of the unbeaten Californians expects either fullback Jackie Jensen or halfback Jack Swaner to have a good day. If both do, 'twill be murder. California.

Southern Methodist at Arkansas: Doak Walker gives the Mustangs the edge even if Clyde Scott plays for Arkansas. Southern Methodist.

North Carolina vs. Maryland: Statistics say this game in the capital city should be the defensive gem of the day. But North Carolina will score and score. North Carolina.

Princeton at Yale: There have been hints that Yale will be at full strength for the first time this season. Maybe so. But Princeton isn't exactly crippled with Weber, Leibert and Sella all operating. Princeton.

Engineers Awakened

Alabama at Georgia Tech: The loss to Tennessee last week has awakened the Engineers. Georgia Tech.

Dartmouth at Cornell: Each defeated Columbia by a touchdown in earlier games. The two appear as evenly matched as they were in 1940 when Dartmouth won, 3 to 0. Dean's punting and the home field give the big red an edge. Cornell.

Baylor at Tulane: Eddie Price, Tulane fullback, should riddle the Baylor line. Tulane.

Temple at Penn. State: That victory over Penn. convinced everyone that the Nittany Lions do have sharp teeth. Penn. State.

Mississippi vs. Tennessee: Mississippi lacks its early season zest, Tennessee seems to grow stronger week by week. Tennessee.

Clemson vs. Wake Forest: Another game on a neutral field, this one at Winston-Salem. Bobby Gage to be the difference. Clemson.

Oklahoma Gets Nod

District Schoolboy Crowns At Stake

Offensive Show Is Promised In City

Two different offensive formations will be on display at Tech's Jones stadium Saturday afternoon, when Lubbock High's Westerners match their powerful single wing attack against Plainview's tricky "T" in a traditional District 1-AA grid battle.

The Plainview Bulldogs have compiled a better won and lost record this season with their quick-breaking attack, chalking up victories over Lamesa, Midland, El Paso Bowie and Brownfield. The Bulldogs have lost four games to Poly of Fort Worth, Sweetwater, Borger and Pampa, but all of the defeats have been by strong teams.

Lubbock's Westerners have won only two games this season in a murderous schedule, dropping North Side Fort Worth and Childress, but also boast a tie with the Odessa Broncos. The Hub city schoolboys have been defeated by San Angelo, Austin, Borger, Amarillo and Pampa.

Ground Attack Good

Despite their up-and-down record, the Westerners feature one of the best ground attacks in West Texas. The Westerners have averaged approximately 200 yards rushing in each of their eight games this season, and last week topped the 300 yards rushing mark against Pampa's powerful Harvesters. The Lubbock eleven has averaged two touchdowns per game and has been held scoreless only by the speedy Austin Maroons.

A battle of top backfield performers is predicted in the tilt, with the Westerners' Bobby Brown, Donald Decker, Malcolm Young and Wayne Stroud staging a torrid scoring duel against the Bulldogs' Marlin Miller, Bill Blair and Jimmy Old. Brown is rated as one of the top schoolboy backs in West Texas, although Decker, Stroud and Young have turned in outstanding jobs, and Miller and Blair are ranked as stellar leather-luggers.

The Westerner forward wall will have a weight advantage over the Bulldog line, but the Plainview gridders have an advantage in experience.

Lubbock Favored

Lubbock will enter the traditional clash as a one-touchdown favorite over the Plainview eleven, but Hub city fans are well aware of the fact that the Bulldogs have defeated the Westerners for the last five years. Not since 1942, when the Lubbock team featured some of the top players in the state, have the Westerners emerged from a tilt with the Bulldogs on the long end of the score.

A crowd of approximately 9,000 persons is expected in Tech's Jones stadium at kickoff time, officials have reported, but the attendance may be boosted by large delegations from South Plains towns. Tickets will be on sale today at the Senior High school athletic office, then will be available at the stadium starting at noon Saturday.

Plenty of good seats are still available for the tilt, officials emphasized.

BOWLING SCORES

Hemphill-Wells and Mission Orange continued in a tie for first place in the City Women's Bowling league last night, each team winning two out of three games.

But Lubbock National Bank pulled into a three-way tie for sixth place by sweeping three games from Stale Drug, and Hub Laundry won two out of three games from Bell's Ice Cream.

Hemphill-Wells won from KCBD and Mission Orange won from Lubbock Packing company.

High scorers for each team included Billy Slover, Mission Orange, 176-474; Paola Patton, Lubbock National Bank, 156-462; Bill Hendrix, Bell's Ice Cream, 178-459; Polly Buckner, Hub Laundry, 165-451; Daniels, Hemphill-Wells, 151-450; Bonnie Priestley, KCBD, 148-436; Frances Mc-Dewell, Lubbock Packing, 151-415; and Jo Nita, Stale Drug, 156-395.

THE STANDINGS

Teams	Won	Lost
Hemphill-Wells	20	10
Mission Orange	20	10
Hub Laundry	19	11
State Drug	15	15
Lubbock Packing	13	17

Hardin-Simmons Accepts Bid For Benefit Tilt In Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK, Nov. 12 (AP)—Conference approval is the only thing needed for a post season game here between Ouachita college and Hardin-Simmons university.

Allan Berry, manager of the Arkansas War Memorial stadium, yesterday said that both schools had accepted invitations to play in the Dec. 18 game for the benefit of the Shrine children's hospital at Shreveport, La.

Berry said conference approval of the game is almost certain.

Ouachita, located at Arkadelphia, Ark., is a member of the Arkansas Intercollegiate conference. Hardin-Simmons, Abilene, Tex., is a member of the Border conference.

Ouachita has already accepted a Dec. 4 game with Southeastern Oklahoma State college at Durant. This tilt will be played at Denison, Tex., under the sponsorship of the Denison Kiwanis club.

Paducah Is Licked By Lockney, 48-0

LOCKNEY, Nov. 12 (Special)—An undefeated Lockney High school eleven today was looking forward to their bi-district clash against the winner of District 4-A, after the Longhorns yesterday finished wrapping up their claim to the District 3-A conference title with a 48-0 whitewashing of Paducah.

The Longhorns have until the weekend of Nov. 27, probably, to get ready for their bi-district meeting. And in the meantime, Coach Curtis Kelley's squad of huskies will be spending all their time fixing up an attack designed to carry them through the playoffs.

Was Sweet Revenge

Yesterday was sweet revenge for the Steers, for it was Paducah last year that halted a victory surge by the Longhorns. Lockney was undefeated and had the district title within its grasp, only to lose to the once-beaten Dragons.

But the Dragons never threatened yesterday until the Longhorns had boosted their point total to 48-0 and then Coach Kelley added insult to injury. He inserted his 200-pound varsity line and they threw back four Dragon efforts to hit paydirt.

The victory left the Longhorns with nine victories and a tie for the season. They won seven conference games to keep their slate clean and added two more victories in outside play. Their tie was with Kress, a 13-13 deadlock.

Sparked By Pyle

Yesterday's victory was sparked by End Calvin Pyle, who caught one touchdown pass and raced 58 yards and 35 yards on end around plays to score a total of three touchdowns. Jerry McCullough raced 26 yards and plunged three for two touchdowns and other markers were chalked up on Jack Cole's 35-yard sprint and a pass from Cole to Charles Crouch, good for an eight-yard paydirt sprint.

Three touchdowns in the first quarter, for a 20-0 lead, broke what resistance Paducah had and in the second quarter, Joe Ed Sanlin, star Dragon halfback, was carried from the game with an injured ankle to further nullify any Dragon threat.

Pyle, Guard Robert Huckaby and Tackle Delbert Shearer were outstanding in the Longhorn line, while Tackle Bobbie Seigler was a standout for Paducah. In the backfields, McCullough, Jimmy McGowan, Cole and Ray Ferguson led the Lockney attack, while Rudy Rochelle, Keith Slover and Paul Sandlin turned in fine games.

Spur Routs Ralls

Spur had little trouble holding onto second place in the conference with a 34-0 rout of a game Ralls eleven. The Jackrabbits simply could not cope with the classier Bulldogs. Halfback C. Blair went 70 yards for one of his two scores, while Fullback D. Slack also tallied twice. T. Alldredge made the other touchdown and Melvin Lindsey converted on four efforts.

Floydada broke a two-way tie for third place in the conference by rolling to a 25-13 victory over Crosbyton in a personal duel between Bill Jeter of the Whirlwinds and Bill Simmons of the Chiefs.

Jeter had an edge in the jousting, scoring three touchdowns on runs of 14 yards, 66 yards and five yards, in addition to getting an extra point. Simmons went five yards for one score and 10 yards for the other.

The second Whirlwind tally came when Center Aubrey Guthrie recovered a fumble in the Chief's end zone.

The only other game in District 3-A will be played tonight at Abernathy, where the Antelopes entertain the Matador Matadors. The Antelopes are favored to win and move into fifth place ahead of Paducah.

Aggies To Open Cage Play In San Antonio

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 12 (AP)—Texas A. and M. will open the 1948-49 basketball campaign in San Antonio Dec. 3 in a non-conference game with Trinity university.

First home game is against Abilene Christian college Dec. 11.

Lamesa Is Blanked By Odessa, 27-0

By WILBUR MARTIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

Three district titles go on the line tonight and tomorrow in Texas' schoolboy football race.

At least two other clearcut favorites should be established as class-AA and City conference teams near the playoff round.

Breckenridge took a stranglehold on first place in district 7-AA yesterday with a 21-12 victory over Brownwood.

Titles At Stake

The district 8-AA crown hinges on the result of the Henderson-Texarkana tilt tonight; the 4-AA title on the Austin (El Paso)-Bowie (El Paso) game, and the 1-AA championship on the Amarillo-Pampa contest tomorrow. No other teams in the various districts are figured strong enough to upset winners of these games.

Lamar needs a victory over John Reagan to stay unbeaten in the Houston district of the City conference and to continue as chief rival to Milby for the title.

A triumph for Arlington Heights over North Side tonight would put it in a strong position to cop the Fort Worth district championship.

Battle For Survival

Denison and Greenville, two of four teams tied for first place in 5-AA, square off tonight in a battle for survival in this hectic district race.

All participants in the big games of 4, 8, and 1-AA are undefeated in district play.

Amarillo and Henderson are among the four undefeated, untied teams in the state. The other two are Waco and Port Arthur, doped as easy winners in loop tilts this week.

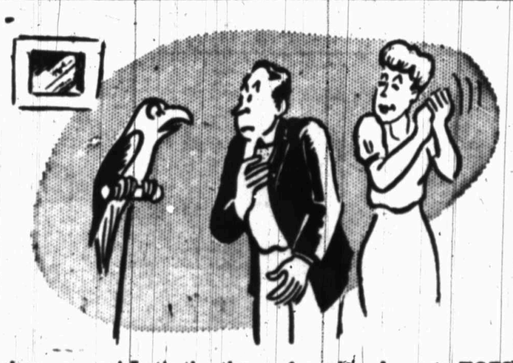

Lamar and Arlington Heights are among the five unbeaten but tied teams. Milby, Alice and Baytown are the other three.

Odessa blanked Lamesa yesterday 27-0 to keep a perfect slate in 3-AA play and move within two games of the title.

In other games, North Dallas and Forest (Dallas) drew, 7-7; Amon Carter-Riverside whitewashed Fort Worth Tech 14-0; Austin (Houston) dumped Sam Houston 13-6; Borger stomped Brownfield 3-7; Vernon licked Graham 20-6; Mineral Wells edged Cisco, 7-6; Stephenville ran over Weatherford 27-13, and Lufkin beat Nacogdoches 25-12.

BOUT SET TONIGHT

NEW YORK, Nov. 12. (U.P.)—Kid Gavilan, classy Cuban welterweight contender, and tough Tony Pellone of New York were expected to attract nearly 10,000 fans for their 10-round bout at Madison Square Garden.

SMU, Texas, Rice And Tulane Picked In Southwest

Between . . . The Lines

— By JOE KELLY —

Since Texas Tech isn't engaged in any football war this Saturday, we thought it might be well to pause for a look at the record so far this season in eight games. What we found was a surprise to us. The Tech offensive and defensive has been pretty good on the average.

• • •

The only point on which the opponents hold an edge is in first downs and there they have rolled up 103 to Tech's 86 for an average per game of 12 and 10 respectively. Tech has gained 1,808 yards on the ground rushing, net, compared to 1,385 yards, an average of 226 yards per game compared to 169. Through the air the Tech completion record is slightly under 50 per cent, but so is that of their opponents. Tech has completed 35 of 79 for 567 yards; the enemy, 51 of 103 for 549 yards. That gives Tech an average of four completions in nine attempts for an average of 17 yards a throw. The enemy has completed six of 13 for 68 yards, or an average of 11 per heave.

• • •

Considering the fact that Tech played four Southwest Conference teams, admittedly stronger defensively, to say nothing of one game in muck and mire, that record is pretty good. They had their best day on the ground against Texas Mines, when they rolled to 399 yards. They had their worst day against Baylor in the mud, when they picked up only 112 yards. Their best defensive day on the ground was against WTSTC, whom they limited to 85 yards rushing. Their worst defensive day was against Texas Mines, 241 yards.

• • •

Their best day in the air was against Texas A. and M., when they completed five of ten for 136 yards, their most air yardage. Their worst day was against Rice, when they completed four of seven for only 17 yards. Their best defensive day in the air was against Baylor, which completed one of two for seven yards. Their worst defensive day was against Tulsa, which completed 15 of 27 for 203 yards. Their best day on first downs was against Arizona, when they rolled up 19. Their worst day was against Texas Mines, when the Miners rolled up 18.

• • •

In three of the five games in which opponents made more first downs, Tech won. The Raiders have been outgained on the ground in only two games, both of which they lost. They have been outgained in the air in four games, two of which they lost. The Raiders have allowed their opponents no touchdowns in two games, one touchdown in one game, two touchdowns in three games, three touchdowns in one game and six touchdowns in one game. They have been held scoreless once, have scored one touchdown in each of two games, three touchdowns in two games, four touchdowns once, six touchdowns once and seven touchdowns once. They have scored 170 points to 108 for an average of 21.2 per game against 13.5.

• • •

There are some other interesting developments. For instance, the greatest offensive display was against Mines, when they scored three touchdowns on only four plays from scrimmage, all in the first quarter. It took one play to punch over a score from the one-yard line following recovery of a fumble. It took two plays to score from the 19-yard line, following Bud Conley's 26-yard punt return. And Glen Lewis dashed 88 yards to score on the first play from scrimmage after the Mines had kicked and Tech was penalized back to the 12-yard line.

• • •

The Mines game also was good for some other interesting developments. How about the fact that five Raider backs threw passes and completed four of these attempts? And seven different players caught passes for Tech during the game. Lewis carried the ball only once in the entire game and that was on his 88-yard solo. Moreover, Tech was forced to punt just once in the game. For Bob Ripley, Milton Rathbone returned two punts and they were for exactly the same distance, 32 yards each. Six players scored seven touchdowns. Ike Stiver took part in eight consecutive offensive plays, carrying the ball 27 yards on six tries, taking a six-yard pass from Rathbone and throwing his first pass of the year—complete—to Rathbone for a 22-yard gain.

• • •

If you want to risk a nickel for some interesting football stories, take Col. W. C. "Bill" Saffarrans out for a cup of coffee one of these days. Bill is a graduate of Georgetown university (1924) and was a player, coach and official for 13 years. He rose from a second louey to chicken colonel in the regular Army (Infantry) and is an authority on jungle fighting. He holds four combat decorations, but now is in the relatively tame task of serving as West Texas manager of the Texas Manufacturers association.

SWC Race Is Near Climax

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

Battles at Fayetteville and Fort Worth tomorrow can bring the Southwest conference football race down to a two-team affair—or throw it into a three-way fight.

The Southwest conference usually is that uncertain at this stage of the campaign.

Southern Methodist, unbeaten and untied, goes to Fayetteville to battle Arkansas with prospects of rain or snow. That might well be disastrous for the Methodists and their aerial game—the most terrific in the circuit. Arkansas depends on a ground attack and features fast backs, so a heavy field might handicap the Razorbacks, too.

It's Homecoming Day

Anyway, it's homecoming day in the Ozarks and Southern Methodist expects to have its work cut out for it against the victory-hungry Porkers. Defeat for SMU would throw the race into a two- or three-team affair.

Baylor, which has lost one game, doesn't have a conference test. The Bears play Tulane in an intersectional tilt at New Orleans.

Texas and Texas Christian get together at Fort Worth. Defeat for Texas would eliminate the Longhorns, who, like Baylor, have lost one conference game. Victory for Texas and defeat for SMU would pitch the championship race into a three-way tie.

A third conference game is on the schedule but it means little except to settle for a year a very deep rivalry. Texas A. and M., hoping to finally break into the win column, takes on resurging Rice at College Station. Chances are the Aggies won't be fired up like they were last week against Southern Methodist. Rice apparently has just started to roll.

Baylor Is Crippled

Baylor, in a crippled condition, meets an up-and-coming Tulane team that features the top ground-gainer of the Southeastern conference in Eddie Price. Price has rolled up 758 yards. Tulane has lost only one game—that to Georgia Tech—and is aiming at a bowl bid.

Our record on picking winners was knocked full of holes last week when we missed two out of three. But you can't hang a guy for trying:

Southern Methodist vs. Arkansas at Fayetteville—It'll be a good ball game but we can't see any sign indicating Arkansas might win. Southern Methodist by two touchdowns.

Texas vs. Texas Christian at Fort Worth—TCU is ready but we think Texas' line will be the difference; Texas by a touchdown.

Baylor vs. Tulane at New Orleans—Baylor doesn't look quite up to it; Tulane by a touchdown.

Rice vs. Texas A. and M. at College Station—The Aggies think this is the spot to win one if they ever do this season; we doubt it—Rice by two touchdowns.

Polo Consolation At Fort Bliss Slated

EL PASO, Nov. 12 (AP)—Pecos Valley of Roswell, N. M., and a team from Abilene, Tex., tangle today in the consolation finals of the Fort Bliss polo tournament.

The New Mexico team took a 3-1 decision over Juarez, Mexico yesterday, to advance to the finals.

Mexico City's Marte entry will meet El Ranchito Sunday for the high-goal championship. Tomorrow San Angelo and Lamesa tangle for the low-goal title.

MONEY WAITS FOR HIM

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—Engineer Frank Coniff told himself each day he would pick up a brown object lying along the tracks on which his train traveled. He finally walked to the spot. He was right. The object was a wallet containing $104, lost a month ago by Robert Pierre, a local switchman.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

by Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12. (AP)—The fact that Dan Topping has hung a "for sale" sign on the Newark Bears emphasizes that everything isn't rosy in minor league baseball despite a record attendance of nearly 43,000,000 for 58 leagues during the past season. . . . The late Judge W. G. Bramham issued a stern warning to club owners some years ago that they'd better cut out the reckless spending. . . . Maybe the Bears haven't been too reckless, considering present-day baseball salaries, but they haven't made money or produced enough major league ball players to justify the expense. . . And when you get down to class "C" or "D" the problem is even more acute . . . The farm operators are beginning to drop out and the independents can't come back when it costs around $50,000 a season to operate a class "D" club and they can't raise ticket prices above the 50-75 cent level because that would just send the customers to the movies.

AROUND THE BLOCK

When Florida's Charley Hunsinger ran 64 yards on a punt return to score against Georgia the boys in the press box began asking Joe Sherman, Florida publicist, who threw the key blocks. . . Joe, who isn't used to seeing such things, answered frankly: "I wasn't looking to see who was blocking. I was only making sure they were blocking."

Sports Before Your Eyes

The week's big question is: Who is Mike O'Dowd? The guy is supposed to fight Billy Conn in Macon, Ga., but nobody, including the Macon promoters or Conn's eastern Representative, can supply any information about Mike. . . . Babe Didrickson Zaharias, who took a couple of lickings at golf this summer, has given up such things as sportsmen's shows and skiing to concentrate on her golf game. . . Chances are she'll appear in a few exhibitions with Sammy Snead and Byron Nelson during the winter. . . Yale's Herman Hickman and Princeton's Charley Caldwell, rival coaches in the Big Three title game Saturday, were born only 25 miles apart in Johnson City and Bristol, Tenn., respectively. . .

End Of The Line

Georgia Tech has landed one of the South's prep football prizes, halfback Billy Joe Ehrhart, who scored 386 points in four years at Nashville, Tenn. . . American Legion junior baseball helped to develop 243 of last season's major league players, including 17 of the world champion Indians and 18 of the Braves. . . . Fifteen carloads of horses arrived at Hialeah the first day the track was open to receive them. . . First basketball publication of the season is "Clair Bee's Basketball Annual"—No scores, but plenty of interesting short articles . . . After the Oklahoma football team scored four touchdowns against the wind to lead Missouri 55-7, an excitable radio announcer exclaimed: "And now the Sooners have the wind." . . . Of course, they won in a breeze.

Anton's Reserves Lick Levelland B

ANTON, Nov. 12 (Special)—The Anton High school reserves beat the Levelland B squad here last night 32-12, with Bob Watson, Kenneth Sudduth and Truman Isaacs playing outstanding games.

Coach R. F. Hollingsworth said that he played all boys who had not seen action in any games this season, as well as freshmen and sophomores to see what they could do. He was particularly well pleased with the sophomores.

Plow Horse Is Race Winner

SALEM, N. H., Nov. 12. (AP)—How are they going to keep Big Red down on the farm?

Big Red, a stocky plow horse, moved in on the "horsey" set by coming off his New Hampshire farm yesterday to win a special match race at Rockingham Park.

Feed Bag for Life

Traveling like a Bowery bum caught in a Park Avenue penthouse, Big Red ran the half mile in 1:03 to cop the $1,000 winner-take-all prize money.

The money went to 17-year-old Milton Scully of Salem Center, N. H., who rode the farm horse to victory—but Big Red will not go unrewarded.

Young Scully promised to keep his mount in "oats up to his neck for the rest of his life"—and Big Red is big.

The captor of honors usually reserved for thoroughbreds also won $400 for his rider in the qualifying and final tests at Rockingham a few weeks ago.

Scully said he will use what's left of the prize money—after he has put away enough for feed—toward a college education for himself.

New Challenge Made

Immediately after the race, Scully issued a challenge through Lou Smith, managing director of Rockingham, to any plug horse in America at any track.

In the two-horse race Big Red broke alertly at the command of starter Bob Frend and opened up a one-length lead in the early stages.

He increased the lead to two lengths when Superfiler, ridden by Barney Stone of Lexington, Ky., lost ground by going to the center of the track.

OKLAHOMA'S GUARD — Oklahoma's best bet for All-American honors this year is Paul "Buddy" Burris, 23-year-old married veteran from Muskogee, Oklahoma. Burris, who plays a rough and aggressive game, has been nominated by various of his opponents as the greatest guard they've played against. Oklahoma has lost only to Santa Clara, building up an impressive record against other teams.

All-America Loop's All-Stars Selected

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 12—The Cleveland Browns and the San Francisco 49'ers are dominating the All-America football conference this season and the reasons are clearly evident in all-star teams selected today by two of the circuit's coaches and their aides.

Red Strader, the new coach who has revived the New York Yankees, and Carl Voyles of the Brooklyn Dodgers huddled with their staffs and came up with both first and second offensive and defensive teams.

Offensively the first team lion's share goes to the powerful Browns, two-time champions of the conference, with five spots. The Los Angeles Dons and Baltimore Colts each take two places and Buffalo Bills and San Francisco each one.

San Francisco In Lead

On the second offensive team, San Francisco leads with four places, the Dons take two and Colts, Cleveland, New York and Brooklyn each one.

Defensively, Cleveland shares honors with San Francisco with four berths each on the first team. New York took two spots and Brooklyn one. Strader overruled Voyles to give Brooklyn five second defensive team assignments with two each for Cleveland and Los Angeles and one each for New York and Baltimore. Neither coach gave the Chicago Rockets a look in.

The offensive teams:

		FIRST TEAM		SECOND TEAM
Mac Speedie, Cleveland	E		Alyn Beals, San Francisco
Bob Reinhard, Los Angeles	T		John Woudenberg, San Francisco
Dick Barwegen, Baltimore	G		Knox Ramsey, Los Angeles.
Bob Nelson, Los Angeles	C		Lou Sossamon, New York
Ed Ulinski, Cleveland	G		Bruno Banducci, San Francisco
Lou Rymkus, Cleveland	T		Ernie Biandin, Baltimore.
Dante Lavelli, Cleveland	E		Al Baldwin, Buffalo
Frankie Albert, San Francisco	QB		Otto Graham, Cleveland
Chet Murtyn, Buffalo	LH		Glenn Dobbs, Los Angeles
Bill Hillenbrand, Baltimore	RH		John Strzykalski, San Francisco
Marion Motley, Cleveland	FB		Mickey Colmer, Brooklyn

Jack Russell, New York	E		Len Ford, Los Angeles
Martin Ruby, Brooklyn	T		Chet Adams, Cleveland
Weldon Humble, Cleveland	G		Tex Warrington, Brooklyn
Lou Saban, Cleveland	C		George Strohmeyer, Brooklyn
Riley Mathewson, San Francisco	G		Dutch Levy, Los Angeles
Arnie Weinmeister, New York	T		Lee Artoe, Baltimore
John Yonaker, Cleveland	E		Ted Scruggs, Brooklyn
Jim Cason, San Francisco	QB		Otto Schnellbacher, New York
Tom Colella, Cleveland	LH		Ray Ramsey, Brooklyn
Paul Crowe, San Francisco	RH		Tom James, Cleveland
Norm Standlee, San Francisco	FB		Walt McDonald, Brooklyn

Although Albert and Graham are tied for second in conference passing, Albert was the acknowledged quarterback master of the league. Murtyn leads in scoring and punt returns; Hillenbrand leads in pass receiving yardage and Motley in ground gaining. At the ends, Speedie is the leading pass receiver and, while Baldwin ranks second, Lavelli was rated on top despite time lost because of injuries.

RITES ARE HELD

DALLAS, Nov. 12 (AP)—Private funeral services were held here today for Mrs. George Getty, 81, who died yesterday in a Dallas hospital. Her body will be taken to Syracuse, Kans., for burial Sunday. She was the mother-in-law of Harvey Scandrett, state editor for the Associated Press in Texas.

To keep a child from losing mittens fasten them to each end of a cord long enough to reach through the coat sleeves and across the child's shoulders. The cord may be anchored to the back of the coat collar.

College Grid Teams Really Cost Dough

ATLANTA, Nov. 12. (AP)—College football has gone professional to the point that when "some of the big stars turn to professional football they have to take a cut in salary."

That's the opinion of Dr. John L. Plyler, president of Furman University at Greenville, S. C.

And the little colleges with limited athletic funds can't hope to keep pace with the big schools who have ways and means of attracting top grid talent, the educator said at an alumni meeting here last night.

Cost Estimated

He estimated the cost of an average, good" football team these days at $100,000 a year. "Big time" teams run from $250,000 to $600,000 annually, he said.

"We just don't have that kind of money to throw around at Furman," he added.

"At least if we have I can't find it—and I've been looking.

"Don't think these swivel-hipped, tip-toeing quarterbacks don't cost money. The situation in 'amateur' college football is such that when some of the big stars turn to professional football they have to take a cut in salary."

Drillstem Test Of Wildcat In Shafter Lake Field Underway

Sinclair Prairie Oil company No. 2-154 University, Ellenburger wildcat inside the proven limits of the Shafter Lake field, in North-Central Andrews County, for production from the Wolfcamp-Permian, and from the Devonian, was taking a drilistem test in the top of the Ellenburger formation.

The test was being run at 11,695-746 feet. The tool was still open at the time this report was prepared. It had been open for one hour and 30 minutes, and at that time no gas or fluid had showed at the surface.

First Exploration

This is the first exploration in the Shafter Lake area to enter the Ellenburger. Some geologist picked the top of the Ellenburger at 11,695 feet. Elevation is 3,211 feet.

That gives it a datum of minus 8,484 on that mark. The average datum on the top of the Ellenburger for the producers from that formation on the northwest side of the Fullerton field is minus 6,400.

The Sinclair exploration is about 12 miles north and west of the town of Andrews, and 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 24, block 13, University survey.

Drillstem Test Run

Sun Oil Company No. 2 Emil Schattell, a one-location northwest flanker to the discovery for flowing production from a Pennsylvanian lime, to open the Schattell field in Southwest Scurry County, took a drillstem test at 7,877-7,907 feet, in an unidentified formation.

The tool was open for 30 minutes. There was a blow of air for most of the period. Recovery was the 1,500-foot water blanket, which was heavily cut with oil and gas: 50 feet of clean oil, and 40 feet of heavily oil and gas cut drilling mud. There was no formation water.

Open flowing bottom hole pressure was 800 pounds. Shutin bottom hole pressure, after 15 minutes was 1,400 pounds. The project is coring ahead.

This exploration is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 186, block 97, H & TC survey. It drilled through the section which is producing in the discovery of the Schattell field and failed to find any commercial oil in that zone.

More Oil Flows

More oil flowed from the Devonian at Texas Pacific Coal & Oil Company No. 1-F State, deep prospector in the north edge of the Shafter Lake field in Northwest Andrews County.

On a drillstem test at 9,600-9,700 feet, gas came to the surface in eight minutes, and oil began flowing in one hour and 45 minutes. Through a ¾-inch choke, it flowed 45.5 barrels of oil in two hours. There was no water.

The prospect is now drilling ahead below 9,760 feet in chert. Another drillstem test is scheduled around 9,775 feet.

Production has already been indicated from the Clear Fork, Wolfcamp and Pennsylvanian by this project. The Devonian shows make the fourth prospective pay section.

Location is 1,980 feet from east and 660 feet from south lines of section 13, block 13, University survey.

Stock Market

MARKET SLIGHTLY HIGHER

NEW YORK, Nov. 12 (AP) — The stock market advanced today but there was little driving power behind demand.

Final prices were up fractions to a point or more and under the day's best gains in most cases.

Buying was most aggressive immediately after the opening but soon tapered.

Trading slackened after a fast beginning but at that was large enough to top 1,000,000 shares.

The rally, slight as it was, cancelled only a small part of the losses incurred in a post-election selling drive which carried the market back to the level prevailing in late March.

Issues higher included American Broadcasting, U. S. Steel, General Motors, Goodrich Tire, Montgomery Ward, Lockheed, Kennecott Copper, American Can, Dow Chemical, Owens-Illinois, International Paper, Southern Railway, Nickel Plate, Standard Oil (NJ), Twentieth Century-Fox, and Skelly Oil.

Tending to hold back were Youngstown Sheet, International Harvester, Atlantic Coast Line, Union Carbide, Transcontinental & Western Air, Westinghouse Electric.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 12 (AP) — Cotton futures turned irregular in moderately active dealings today. Old crop deliveries were firm on mill buying, along with New Orleans and local demand. Strength reflected the rapid movement of cotton into the loan and increasing price firmness on the better quality types of cotton. Sales of cotton goods were also reported moderately better. New crop deliveries were easy on profit takings.

Cotton futures rallied sharply on a late flurry of buying which found offerings scarce. Old crop deliveries led the advance on short covering. The nearby December closed 31.70 to 31.76 cents a pound, or approximately one cent a pound above average loan level at Memphis for 15/16 inch middling.

Futures closed 15 cents to $1.55 a bale higher than the previous close.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Nov. 12 (AP) — Grains moved ahead a bit on the board of trade today under the leadership of wheat. The bread cereal was helped by flour sales to Belgium and entry of some large eastern bakery chains into the flour market.

All cereals got off to a shaky start, corn showing the widest losses. Bumper crops and longshoremen's walkouts in the east caused the initial selling. The market's ability to withstand this early selling impressed traders. Later, corn also rallied.

Wheat closed ¾ to 1 cent higher. December $2.32½-¾, corn was ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, December $1.42½-¾, oats were ⅜ lower to ⅛ higher, December 81⅛-80⅝.

Vandenberg Aims Statement At Moscow

Demo Hopes Raised For GOP Backing In Foreign Program

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12—A new GOP pledge to help friendly nations regain their feet defensively raised administration hopes today for Republican backing of the forthcoming arms-for-Europe program.

In a declaration aimed pointedly at Moscow, Senator Vandenberg of Michigan put his fellow congressional Republicans on record—as nearly as any one man can—in favor of helping western Europe to defend itself.

The Michigan senator, who steps down in January as chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, told the Reserve Officers association in Philadelphia last night:

"While never neglecting prudent conservation of our own resources, we shall aid other friendly, independent nations to stand on their own feet in defense of their own freedom. Western civilization shall survive."

Vandenberg put this warning to Moscow on top of another assertion: That it would be a dangerous miscalculation for the Kremlin to believe that President Truman's election means any softening in American opposition to further Russian expansion.

While he did not specifically promise support of any military aid plan, Vandenberg's statement seemed to represent a step beyond the point he was willing—or able—to reach in his United Nations resolution which the Republican-controlled senate adopted last June.

German Strike Ties Up Ruhr

FRANKFURT, Germany, Nov. 12 (AP)—A one-day strike by millions of Germans protesting the mounting cost of living virtually paralyzed the British and American zones today although some workers disregarded the strike call.

Halting of street car service gave ordinarily teeming cities such as Hamburg and Frankfurt an almost deserted look.

Shops were closed, with iron gratings over the doors, except for food and milk stores which opened for two hours. Some other shop proprietors opened their doors optimistically but closed shortly afterward because few persons were on the streets.

Ruhr Area Idle

The walkout left the Ruhr, industrial heart of Europe, idle for the first time since the war. The miners held a one-day strike once before as a protest against food shortages, but this time workers from steel plants and other factories joined them.

Reports from throughout the bizonal area indicated no incidents or violence. Union leaders had banned demonstrations, parades or picketing.

It was mostly a stay-at-home strike and was not directed against the military governments or factory owners.

Extra Session

$125,000,000 granted China for military equipment is just about gone. They fear it may be too late to do anything for Chiang when the regular session gets into full swing. Though Congress convenes Jan. 3, the first week will be spent in reorganizing rather than in legislating.

Move Up To GOP

The legislators can be called into special session either by the President or by the Republican high command. It is not likely, however, that Mr. Truman would recall a GOP Congress when two months hence he will have a Democratic House and Senate to work with.

Thus any special session move would be up to Senate President Arthur H. Vandenburg, House Speaker Joseph W. Martin, jr., acting Senate Leader Kenneth S. Wherry and his House counterpart Charles A. Halleck. There is some doubt whether all four would go along with such a proposal if it were formally presented to them.

One of the sponsors of the extra session plan explained:

"We want to find out right now whether the Truman administration means to help China. We went on record during the political campaign for ending 'shameful neglect' of China by this country, and we are ready to force the issue."

A showdown on Capitol Hill on the Chinese situation could cause serious embarrassment to the administration. Secretary of State George C. Marshall long has warned against this country's trying to "underwrite" Chiang's military or political efforts.

Meanwhile, Rep. Sol Bloom, Democratic foreign policy leader in the House, said that "more adequate safeguards" are needed as a prerequisite for all-out American aid to China.

The veteran New York congressman, who will again assume the chairmanship of the House foreign affairs committee in the 81st Congress, said he feels the present Chinese administration of American aid is "inefficient and corrupt."

Former Guards In Germany Executed

MUNICH, Germany, Nov. 12 (AP)—Fifteen former guards at the Mauthausen concentration camp were hanged today for slaying more than 4,000 war-time inmates, including 47 British and American airmen.

Thirteen of those sent to the gallows this morning were S.S. (storm troops) men. Two were inmates who turned on their fellow prisoners.

Robbery Link Seen In Death

HARRISBURG, Pa., Nov. 12 (U.P.) A tattooed man, found slain with 10 new $100 bills tied to his body, was identified today as one of two gunmen who robbed a wealthy race horse owner of $20,000 at Altoona, Pa., Wednesday.

State police were unable, however to definitely determine the name of the slain man, whose body was discovered in a cow pasture pool. They listed him "purely tentatively" James Langden or Longden.

The link to the Altoona robbery came after state police found fragments of a letter written on stationery from the Senate hotel Altoona, on the man's body.

Victim Identifies Bandit

After viewing the body today, Daniel Lamont told police the man was one of the gunmen who broke into his fashionable Altoona home early yesterday and robbed him of $13,000 cash, jewelry and other valuables.

Most of the money was in $100 bills, the same type of bills found fastened between the tatooed man's legs by a rubber band.

Authorities theorized that the slain man, believed shot in the back at close range and thrown into the half-filled pool to die, may have been the victim of a gangland "doublecross."

Clues Are Checked

State officials said an 18-state teletype search for clues to positive identification of the slain man had yielded no definite results. One of the clues under police check was the address of a Florida woman who apparently had corresponded with the slain man.

Two of the murdered man's tatoos, including one of a devil playing a banjo, and another drawing of a woman with a fur neckpiece, were described by Ralph E. Ashwell, jr., Harrisburg tattoo artist, as "rare, the work of an artist. . ." He said the sketches were done only in Norfolk, Va., or in the west coast ports.

Three employes of the Hershey estates found the body yesterday half-submerged in the cow pasture pool about one-quarter mile east of Union Deposit in Dauphin county.

Santa Is An Engineer In South Carolina And It's Christmas Every Day In Year

GREENVILLE, S. C., Nov. 12 (NEA)—The piercing screech of a train whistle split the early evening stillness, and sudden, violent pandemonium reigned at Dunean Village.

Screen doors banged, dogs barked, horns tooted, bells jangled and voices shrieked the excitement of the moment.

The sound of the whistle announced the arrival of the chewing gum train.

Engineer A. C. Cobb sat at the throttle, a Santa Claus in grimy cap and coal-blackened goggles, all set to toss his gifts of gum to the waiting assemblage.

"It's not the gum itself that they like so much," he said, dusting himself off at the end of his route. "It's just the fact that they are getting it as a gift and from off a train."

Cobb, who engineers Southern Railroad freight No. 818, from Greenwood to Greenville, started tossing gifts to children about four years ago.

"It all started with that little three-year-old girl just below Belton," he explained. "She would stand there by the tracks, rain or shine, summer or winter, and wave her lonely little greeting as I passed her by. She looked so small and lonesome standing there and I got the idea of tossing a stick of gum to her. It seemed to me such interest should be rewarded.

"It wasn't very long before I noticed other children along the way, their little hands waving, their upturned faces wrapped in awe and wonder over the passing of a train. I have a long list of regular customers now, all along the line."

A railroad man for 36 years and a freight engineer for 18, Cobb is a large, kindly-faced man who spends most of his leisure time working with children as a Sunday School superintendent. He has two sons.

In Dunean Village, the noise had subsided. On the porch on Hutchens street, which faces the railroad tracks, two-year-old Frances Jeckel hopped ecstatically on one foot and then the other chanting, "The gum train has come, the gum train has come."

"What is the gum train?" she was asked.

Frances pulled a wet, pink thumb from her mouth and chewed steadily. She eyed the questioner with lively curiosity before she spoke.

"The train comes, and a man smiles . . . a good man smiles and gives us gum. He's just like Santa Claus."

Award To Be Given Army Officer Today

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 12 (U.P.) — Brig. Gen. Edgar Erskine Hume will receive the Gorgas award at the annual dinner of the Association of Military Surgeons here Friday night.

As head of the allied military government in Italy, Hume first used DDT on a mass scale in fighting Naples' wartime typhus epidemic. He was later chief of the United States Zone of Austria from 1943-47.

Everett V. Scott, executive of Wyeth, Inc., which gives the Gorgas award annually, will make the presentation. A $500 cash award accompanies the medal.

The citation says the award is for "distinguished service to the armed forces in many fields since his entrance to the medical corps in 1916."

Business Building At Borger Is Damaged

BORGER, Nov. 12 (AP) — A building housing the Big Heart cafe, a school supply firm and three apartments was destroyed by fire here early Thursday. Loss was estimated at $30,000.

The Borger fire department, aided by a fire truck from nearby Buna-Vista, fought the blaze from 9:50 a. m. until 10:35 a. m. The cause was not immediately determined.

Fireman Dick Price was slightly injured.

Family Found Dead In Home

INGOMAR, Pa., Now 12 (AP)—A man, his wife, and their three small children died in their partially finished home after being overcome by what the coroner's office said were carbon monoxide fumes.

The victims were identified as William Crisman, 32; his wife, Francis, 28, and their children, Florita, 7, William, 5, and Joanna, 4. Dr. E. R. Preisinger of Ross township said the deaths yesterday were caused by carbon monoxide.

Heater Turned On

Crisman had started building the small home earlier this year in Franklin township, 10 miles northwest of Pittsburgh. The family later moved in and lived in a section of the house originally designed for a garage.

The bodies were discovered by Mrs. Crisman's brother when he went to the house to see why his sister failed to keep an appointment.

Allegheny county Detective John Hovat said a gas circulator heater was turned on but the flame apparently had gone out.

American Brunette Reported Missing In Western Germany

FRANKFURT, Germany, Nov. 12 (AP) — U. S. Army authorities said today a pretty American brunette employed by the counter-intelligence corps has been missing since Oct. 27.

Authorities said a wide search is being made throughout west Germany for the girl, identified as Lydia Briggs, 26, of Glenville, N. C.

Had Two-Day Leave

Officials said the girl had a two-day leave of absence starting Wednesday, Oct. 27, but telephoned her roommate she would not be back at work the following Monday.

She also phoned her brother, Lt. John C. Briggs, in Nuerenberg, saying she would not see him over the weekend as planned.

There has been no clue as to what prompted her change of plans.

Mystery Woman Witness Found In Strange Case Of Slayings

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Nov. 12. (INS)—A mystery woman cropped up today in the strange case of Ralph Lobaugh who is sentenced to die for three Fort Wayne sex slayings.

The mystery woman, coupled with indictments of two men for one of the murders for which Lobaugh is to die, complicated the question: "Who killed Mrs. Dorothea Howard in 1945?"

Fort Wayne Detective Capt. Theodore Wiss said a renewed investigation of the Howard slaying uncovered a "mystery woman witness."

The criminal assault-slaying of Mrs. Howard was believed solved last year when Lobaugh, 31-year-old ex-grave digger, musician and factory worker, confessed. He also confessed murdering two other women.

Confession Doubted

He pleaded guilty at his trial and was sentenced to die in the electric chair at the Indiana state penitentiary. However, a truth serum test administered shortly before Lobaugh was to be executed cast doubt on his confessions.

Under influence of the serum Lobaugh said he was innocent of the three killings but asserted he wanted to "commit legal suicide" in the electric chair.

A reprieve was granted. Three other respites from the death chair followed and Fort Wayne Police Chief Lester Eisenhut renewed an investigation into the Howard murder.

Identification Repudiated

Last Monday two men who were in Fort Wayne at the time Mrs. Howard was killed were indicted by the Allen county grand jury.

They are Robert Christen, 39, former Fort Wayne druggist now living in Denver, Colo., and Charles Dodson of Memphis, Tenn., who had been stationed with the Army in the Indiana city.

Dodson had identified Lobaugh as the man he saw in an alley with Mrs. Howard shortly before she was slain. However, Dodson repudiated that statement when he viewed the condemned man in the state prison.

Capt. Wiss said Dodson and the "mystery woman" had identified Christen in the Howard case. He refused to elaborate.

The detective chief added that Gov. Ralph Gates of Indiana will be asked to seek Christen's extradition to Fort Wayne. Christen has said he will fight being returned from Denver.

Wiss said investigations into the slayings of Miss Wilhelmina Haaga and Miss Anna Kuzeff, also admitted by Lobaugh, would await disposition of the Howard case.

Negro Hobo Will Be Charged With Murder In Train Wrecking To Steal From Victims

MORRISTOWN, Pa., Nov. 12. (AP)—A Negro hobo admitted in a signed statement here today that he tore off a 30-foot section of track hoping to get money by "searching the pockets of the dead and injured."

But the scheme fell through. The suspect, James M. Johnson of Pocomoke, Md., said he fled immediately after the wreck because he saw "no one badly hurt. Everybody was on his feet."

The railroad accident, in which two train crewmen were killed, occurred May 9. The Reading Co. passenger train was derailed at historic Valley Forge.

District Attorney W. Arnold Forrest said the man would be charged with murder.

Johnston was brought here from Edgefield, S. C., where he had been picked up for walking along a highway against traffic.

A check of fingerprints showed he was an ex-convict wanted by Pennsylvania police for questioning in connection with the wreck.

Johnson had served seven years in prison after he was convicted of attempting to derail a train at Stanton, Del., July 8, 1940.

Forrest said Johnson stated he hopped a freight train to a spot near the scene of the wheck, stole a spike bar and wrench from a tool-house and ripped up spikes fastening a 30-foot section of rail to the ties.

He waited nearby, the statement continued but found the site crowded with shaken-up passengers immediately after the wreck. Johnson walked rapidly away, hopped another freight and headed south, Forrest said.

Killed in the wreck were Engineman Buck L. Demmy, 51, and Fireman Howard Jackson, both of Allentown, Pa. No passengers were hurt seriously.

Extinct Animal Is Pictured By Tracks

BERKLEY, Calif., Nov. 12 (AP)—A scientist has worked out an ingenious way to tell what an extinct animal looked like merely by studying its tracks. Some animals lived so long ago that fossil footprints are the only evidence of their existence. Such a creature was the chirotherium, a reptile which lived about 200 million years ago. The tracks of its hind feet resemble prints made by a human hand.

Dr. Frank E. Peabody, University of California paleontologist, coaxed Salamanders to walk across sheets of smoked paper and layers of mud in his laboratory. From the resulting tracks he learned how to describe a modern salamander. The size and depth of the tracks told him something about the size and weight of the animal. The length and width of the stride added other data. Orientation of the feet gave other facts. A lot was gained from what he called "pace angulation" — the angle formed by three consecutive steps.

Then he worked on some 20-million-year old salamander tracks. These results indicated the method applied to chirotherium tracks would give a similarly accurate picture. Dr. Peabody concluded that the chirotheria, which lived long before the dinosaur, carried in weight and size ranging from that of a chicken to a beast standing about 6 feet high at the hips. He has been able to predict what its bones should look like.

The university's excavators already have found in Arizona some fossil bone fragments which may turn out to be the first skeletal remains of a chirotherium. However, they are not sure yet.

Georgia Mother Faces Texas Charge Of Kidnaping Her Son

WICHITA FALLS, Nov. 12. (AP) Extradition proceedings were scheduled today for the return from Oklahoma of Mrs. Margaret Hodges of Atlanta, Ga., to face Texas charges of kidnaping.

Assistant District Attorney Clyde Fillmore of Wichita Falls said the proceedings were scheduled to get under way today in Austin.

Flees to Oklahoma

Mrs. Margaret Hodges, accused of kidnaping her son, Jackie, 8, fled to Walters, Okla., with the child Wednesday. The youngster was taken from the Alamo elementary school, where the mother had gone to visit him and his older brother, Paul, 11.

Paul broke away when his mother attempted to get him into her car. The mother was taken into custody at Walters.

Two Atlanta taxi drivers, Ernest Lee Evans and Johnny E. Carver, also were charged with kidnaping and placed in jail here. Their examing trial was scheduled for 9 a. m. today.

Princess' Baby Shower May Be Shared With British Subjects

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Nov. 12. (AP)—A world-record baby shower for Princess Elizabeth's first born may overflow into many humbler British homes.

The princess has let it be known she would like other babies arriving the same day as hers to share many hundreds of layettes given to her by loyal subjects and admirers the world over. The birth of Elizabeth's baby is expected some time this week-end.

In London alone it is estimated that at least 350 to 400 babies will be born this week-end, in hospitals, nursing or private homes.

Clubs Organized

Elizabeth and her husband, Prince Philip, may share their baby presents with perhaps 100 or more of that number.

A similar course with wedding presents was followed by the princess when she married last November. Overwhelmed with gifts from all over the world she gave away some two dozen frocks and suits to other late November brides of her own age.

Months ago when Buckingham Palace confirmed reports that a royal infant was expected, women of Britain and the commonwealth started making nursery clothes and organizing Elizabeth needlework clubs.

Th idea caught on, particularly in Australia and New Zealand, which the royal family expect to visit next year. Sydney has sent 900 baby garments, hand made and embroidered. Melbourne, Brisbane and other cities are contributing also.

U. S. Firm Makes Offer

Many commonwealth inhabitants as well as homeland subjects have sent gifts individually.

From donors close to home have come lamb's wool and kid leather baby shoes, fancy shawls and crib covers, embroidered silk and knitting wool.

An American firm is rumored to have offered daily diaper service by airlift, each diaper to bear the royal crest. Much as Elizabeth might appreciate the offer, it no doubt will be turned down.

Clubs and organizations throughout Britain have sent messages pledging loyalty to the royal couple.

Elizabeth, who remains in excellent health and spirits, strolled in the spacious Buckingham Palace gardens yesterday making the most of the hazy autumn sunshine.

Truman Obligated To See Stalin, Reds Say

BERLIN, Nov. 12 (AP)—Russian controlled newspapers contended today that President Truman "obligated" himself in pre-election promises to go to Moscow and see Prime Minister Stalin.

The papers hinted that at least Secretary of State George C. Marshall should go to Moscow for direct negotiation on east-west differences.

Comic Leaves Liquor To Brother, Director

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 12 (INS)—Comedian W. C. Fields, whose fondness for liquor was legendary, willed his $2500 stock of bottled goods to his brother, Walter, and to film director Gregory La Cava.

This was disclosed today in a special petition filed in superior court. The attorney for the comedian's estate asked that a paper on which Fields listed his personal effects and the persons to whom they were to go be made a part of his will.

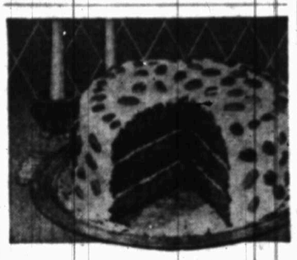

The comic specified that Walter Fields and La Cava were to share the liquor supply. Writer Gene Fowler was left a refrigerator on wheels. Fields left his champagne buckets to his agent, Charles Byer.

Next Stop For Political Train Will Be Session Of Congress

BY JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12 — Washington is like a train which has just pulled out of one big station and is racing on to the next.

The stop it just left was November 2, election day. The next big one is January 3, when the new Congress, the 81st, sits down to work.

A few days later President Truman will hand Congress his state of the union message—his program for 1949—and his budget message.

Then on January 20—inauguration day—he will be sworn in as president. Then the show starts.

Meanwhile, a lot of wood is being thrown on the fire to keep the engine going.

Truman, Aides Confer

This will explain what is happening now and what will happen:

Mr. Truman is conferring at Key West, Fla., with some of his top aides on what he and his Democrats should do in 1949, and how to do it.

But here in Washington government department began months ago to figure how much each of them will need next year to carry out its job.

All these estimates, after a lot of checking, are put together in a big book, big as a New York telephone directory, called the budget.

In his budget message, which goes to Congress together with the book, Mr. Truman will explain why he thinks Congress should vote the money called for by the budget estimates.

All this budget stuff will be taken over by the House appropriations committee which promptly divides itself into a number of subcommittees.

Hearings To Be Held

For months thereafter the heads and officials of the government departments and bureaus will have to parade before the committees.

They'll have to explain why their agencies need the money the budget says they need, and why the amounts shouldn't be cut down.

After months of such hearings the appropriations committee will write bills providing as much money as it thinks each department ought to get.

Along about late spring Congress will get around to voting on those bills.

But that's only a part of what will be happening up in the capitol after the new Congress takes over January 3.

First of all, the Democrats — now that they have a majority in both houses of Congress—will reorganize the various committees, such as those on labor, commerce, banking, and so on.

GOP Out Of Saddle

In the 80th Congress, the one going out of business this year, the Republicans had a majority, so on every committee the Republicans outnumbered the Democrats.

In the new Congress the Democrats will oust enough Republicans from each committee to make sure each has a majority of Democrats on it. And each committee will be run by a Democratic chairman.

It's these committees which will be the key to the Congress and to the success or failure of Mr. Truman's campaign promises.

Is the Taft-Hartley act to be wiped out and maybe a new labor law set up in its place?

You can be sure the committees on labor in the House and Senate will hold hearings on that.

Then, if a majority of the committee members approve, a bill will be drawn up to kill the pact or substitute another one.

Changes By Committees

This bill then goes up to the full Congress to be approved or killed by vote. And when it gets out on the floor for debate before the vote, changes may be made in the committee bill.

And if a committee wants to scuttle a Truman promise—even though Democrats have a majority—it can refuse to approve a bill which would, if voted into law by the full Congress, carry out the promise.

Congress generally follows the ideas or recommendations of its committees.

So you can sit back and wait. It will be months before you have a chance to see whether Mr. Truman's Democratic Congress is going to go along with him.

Veteran Aggie Group Elects New Officers

Frank Guess, of Idalou, was elected president of the Lubbock County Veterans Agriculture association at a regular monthly meeting held Thursday night at the Texas Tech aggie pavilion. Eighty members and visitors were present.

Other officers named were H. M. Cade, Slaton, vice president; L. D. Taylor, Sanyer, second vice president; Doug Allison, Lubbock, secretary treasurer; Ross Meador, Lubbock, parliamentarian; E. E. Hale, Lorenzo, sergeant - at-arms, and Leo Bullock, Idalou, reporter.

Former Official In Bavaria Arrested

MUNICH, Germany, Nov. 12 (AP) The arrest of Alfred Loritz, who had eluded German police for more than a year, was announced last night.

Loritz, colorful former Bavarian denazification minister, escaped on Oct. 4, 1947, while awaiting trial on black market charges.

While police searched for him he tantalized them by issuing political statements from hiding places. He topped that with an almost incredible performance in making a sudden appearance at Economic Reconstruction party headquarters last August and getting himself re-elected chairman of the party.

American military government sources said Loritz was believed to have travelled to and from Switzerland a number of times under a disguise.

Loritz went after the big Nazis while he was denazification minister. He supervised the trial of Franz Von Papen, who got an eight-year term.

Ambassador Smith On Way To Berlin

MOSCOW, Nov. 12 (AP)—American Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith left Moscow airport this morning for Berlin, where he expects to remain several days.

Smith, whose departure had been delayed by bad weather, has denied there is any political significance to his trip. He was accompanied by Mrs. Smith.

Pop Refuses To Be Outdone By Rookie

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 12 (U.P.) — A veteran St. Louis cop refused to be outdone by his rookie son.

The son, probationary patrolman Robert McLaughlin, got his name in the papers when he nabbed a man who tried to jump into the Mississippi from the MacArthur Bridge.

RECIPE

"HAPPY PARTY" CAKE

An "m-m-m" cake—quick-mixed and so easy with quick-blending Snowdrift!

Sift together in a large bowl:
2¼ cups sifted cake flour
3½ teaspoons double-action baking powder (4½ teaspoons single-action)
1 teaspoon salt

Add:
⅓ cup Snowdrift (Emulsorized...gives blending aid)
⅔ cup milk

Mix until flour is dampened. Beat 2 minutes. If you beat by hand and take "rests," count beating time only. (If you use electric mixer, set at "low speed"; scrape bowl and beaters frequently.)

Add:
4 egg whites (unbeaten)
⅓ cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Beat 1 minute. Turn into 2 greased 8- or 9-inch layer pans, with bottoms lined with thin plain paper. Bake in moderate oven (375°) about 25 minutes. Cool on cake racks 5 minutes; turn out of pans, invert and cool. Put layers together with—

PINK PARTY FROSTING

2 egg whites
1½ cups sugar
⅓ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon cream of tartar
⅓ cup water
1 teaspoon vanilla
Few drops of red coloring

Combine all ingredients except vanilla and coloring in double boiler, over boiling water. Beat constantly with rotary beater 7 minutes or until icing "peaks." Cool. Stir in vanilla and enough coloring to make frosting a delicate pink.

Bumper Grain Crop Will Mean Lots Of Eating For Livestock

BY WILIAM FERRIS
Associated Press Staff Writer

CHICAGO, Nov. 12 — Corn today is fed to hogs with a shovel instead of a spoon. That's the opposite of last year at this time. And it's all right with hogs, which don't mind eating anytime they aren't sleeping.

Furthermore, the little pigs of next spring's crop are going to find living — and eating — just grand. In comparison to the number of animals to eat it, there's never been so much food around for livestock.

Other Stock Joins In

It isn't just hogs which will enjoy this increased feeding. Cattle and poultry also will share in it. And, eventually, it will mean more food for humans.

By now, nearly everyone knows about the record-breaking corn crop. But there's a lot of oats, barley and sorghum grain. There probably will be a good supply of molasses — it's sprayed on coarse grains because then the livestock eat more of them.

The Agriculture department today estimated "the total supply of all feed concentrates for the year which began in October is 23 per cent larger than the 1947-48 supply.

Supply Means Increase

"The big supply of feed in relation to livestock probably will mean a substantial increase in total quantity of concentrates fed to livestock. This increase will result principally from increased feeding per animal, although livestock numbers may also increase somewhat."

Much lower prices already have made it more profitable to feed corn to livestock than sell it as grain; even though hog prices are slipping. The careful spooning out of corn last winter, following the short crop, is no longer necessary.

In October, the Agriculture department said, the average price received by farmers for each 100 pounds of live hog was equal to about 17.8 bushels of corn. This compared with the long-time October average of only 12.7 bushels.

Dairy Prices Higher

Prices of dairy products are much higher than average in relation to feed prices. The department said in October dairymen fed their milk cows about 13 percent more grain per cow than a year earlier, and about 10 percent more than in 1946. Result: More milk per cow.

Eggs produced per hen in September, the department said, averaged about 8 percent higher than last year, "and this also may be due partly to more liberal feeding per bird."

"At least as many cattle will be grain-fed this winter as last," the department added, "and the numbers of hogs and chickens are expected to increase in 1949."

SHAVED BY THE BALLOT—The Dewey Mustache Club is in a lather. Organized in the defeated Republican candidate's home town, Owosso, Mich., with members pledged to grow Dewey hairlips, it recently held final rites, with victorious Democrats shaving off the GOP mustaches. Lee Janssen, president of the club, has his removed by Gino Caruso, a staunch Democrat. Looking on are William Mills and Dave Dreuth, right, the latter waiting his turn.

Realtors To Attend Meet In New York

Three members of the Lubbock Real Estate board are to leave here today for Dallas, where they will join others of the Texas delegation of approximately 90, to attend the annual convention of the National Association of Real Estate boards, to be held in New York City Monday through Saturday of next week.

Going from here will be J. W. Chapman, A. R. Osborne, and L. D. Casey, the latter a member of the board of directors of the Texas Real Estate association for nine years.

They planned to drive to Dallas, where they are to entrain with others from Texas, using three special coaches, a diner and a club car, for the trip. Others from the state are to fly to the convention city.

Smoking Santa Has Children In Tears

TAMPA, Fla., Nov. 12 (AP) — Tampa youngsters know Santa Claus can navigate chimneys, but just the same they don't want to see him go up in smoke.

Many of them burst into tears when a department store mechanical Santa, his motor overheated, began to smoke heavily.

They soon calmed down when the motor was shut off and Santa stayed safe and beaming, although no longer active.

Take time to save time

Have you ever mapped—with pins and thread, or with pencil on paper—the daily "chore route" of your farm or ranch? Have you figured how much back-tracking you do, how many unnecessary extra steps you walk in a day? Have you taken time to save time, and steps, and labor?

A number of agricultural colleges and experiment stations have made practical work studies on farms and ranches, with some astounding results. For example, one dairy farmer (who thought himself pretty efficient) adopted improved machine milking techniques, rearranged his barn to save steps and time in feeding and watering. He saved himself two miles of walking per day, cut his daily chore time by two hours and five minutes. That's 730 miles of walking and 760 hours of work in a year. In making the changes, he spent less than $50.

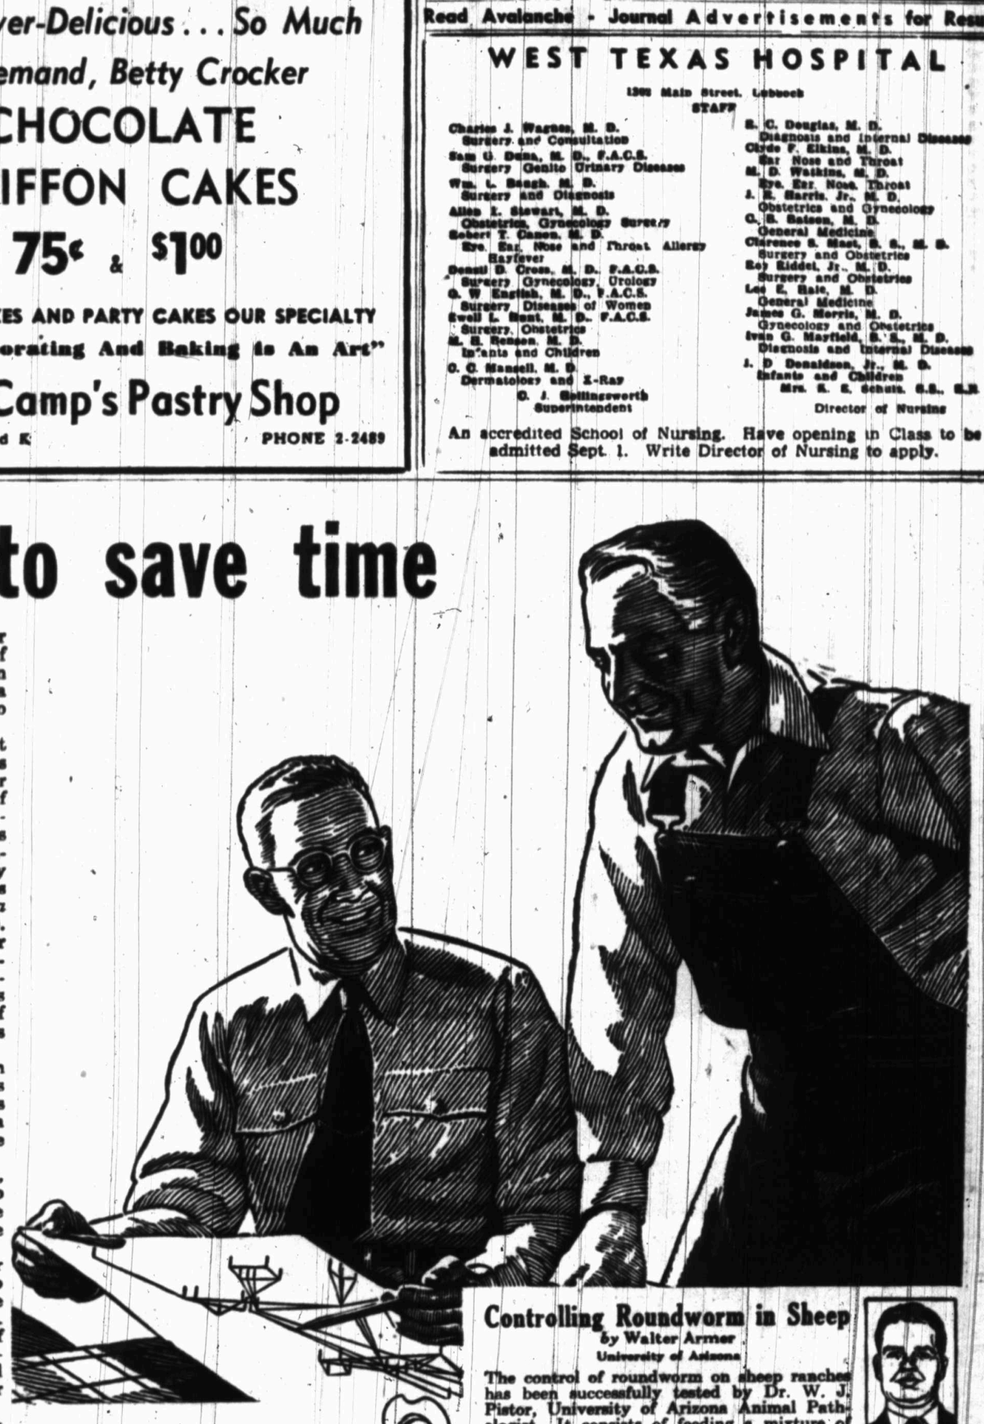

Indiana tells of farmers who, by planning their work, are raising hogs with one quarter their former hours of labor . . . There's a report of men making hay in 90 man-minutes per ton; while others using similar equipment—but older, harder ways of working—spend twice that time . . . There are scores of other examples.

Perhaps you cannot make such great savings in your operations. Maybe you can make more. It's certainly worth looking into, for even little savings are important. Five steps saved a day makes a mile in a year. Five minutes a day gives you three extra days a year.

There's no master plan to fit every farm and ranch, because no two are exactly the same. You have to work out your own plan of improvement. But the time it takes may well be the most profitable time you've ever spent.

A four-step scheme is suggested. First, consider each job or chore separately. Break it down into its parts. Check each part with a watch or tape measure and see if steps or time can be saved. Second, compare your work methods with those of your neighbors. Third, examine and check the details of your work methods. Fourth, develop and apply the new method. In a nutshell, "Plan your work and work your plan."

Time studies and job analysis have helped Swift & Company increase efficiency and make important savings. That's why we so confidently suggest similar studies in your operations. One excellent bulletin on the subject is Number 307, published by Purdue University, Lafayette, Indiana. It's interesting reading and well worth writing for. Your county agent or state agricultural college can tell of other bulletins on the same subject.

The American Way

In the livestock-meat industry, as in all American business, profit provides the basic incentive for work, enterprise and action. Profit makes the mare go for livestock producers, meat packers and retailers. Too little profit by one section creates an unbalance in the industry. If one part of the livestock-meat industry suffers continued loss, all of us are hurt in the long run.

However, a margin of profit fair to one section of the livestock-meat industry might be quite unfair to another. For instance, we at Swift & Company know perfectly well that both livestock producers and retailers require a higher margin of profit, because of their relatively small volume. On the other hand, nationwide meat packers must build up a tremendous volume of sales to make up for a very small margin of profit per unit—a margin that has been consistently lower than that earned by any other manufacturing industry in America.

Over a period of years, Swift & Company has earned, on the average, less than two cents on each dollar of sales (a fraction of a cent per pound of product handled). Over the same period, the average amount returned to producers for agricultural raw materials, including livestock, wool and hides, has been 75 cents out of each dollar we received. This is not a profit. Out of this 75 cents producers must pay the cost of production.

Whether livestock prices are high or low or whether meat is high-priced or inexpensive—Swift & Company can earn a reasonable profit only by adding together many tiny savings on a large volume of business.

Vice-President, Swift & Company

OUR CITY COUSIN

City Cousin cannot see Why "you" is spelled E-W-E... Neither can we!

Farmer's Choice—When I was in high school, I spent a summer vacation on my grandfather's farm in Indiana. From my city-bred standpoint, his seemed a particularly dull and unrewarding life. Rising before dawn and working till after dusk, with little or no opportunity for urban pleasures, he was an object of pity to my adolescent eye. Why didn't he sell his farm and move to town? How did he ever get into this rut in the first place? "Grandpa," I asked one evening at milking time, "Why did you become a farmer, anyway?"

He paused a moment, leaned back on his stool and looked slowly around the barn—at the livestock, at the huge haymow in the east corner, at the farm tools, at the broad beams that supported the roof. What he saw seemed to reassure him, and I shan't forget his answer: "Just lucky, I guess."

Controlling Roundworm in Sheep

by Walter Armer
University of Arizona

Walter Armer

The control of roundworm on sheep ranches has been successfully tested by Dr. W. J. Pistor, University of Arizona Animal Pathologist. It consists of feeding a mixture of 1 part phenothiazine with 9 parts of ordinary granular salt. Roundworm, a serious plague, especially to sheep grazed on irrigated pastures, can be checked by phenothiazine and salt. Of course, it is not a cure-all. Badly infected sheep may still have to be drenched. But feeding the mixture throughout the pasture period will prevent the worm population from reaching the dangerous level in the majority of cases.

Phenothiazine, alone, is but one of a number of drugs known to aid in controlling roundworm in livestock. But during World War II, animal husbandmen discovered its effectiveness was greatly heightened when used with salt and fed throughout the pasture season.

Experiments begun in 1943 with sheep grazing on irrigated pastures in Arizona proved the remarkable value of the new mixture. It resulted in cutting down loss of sheep and in marketing lambs in better condition. Today a high percentage of sheep on Arizona farm lands receive the 1-9 phenothiazine and salt mixture.

This new treatment is economical as well as effective. It practically eliminates the necessity of drenching each animal individually to control roundworms—a costly and possibly dangerous practice.

Track Down the Facts

A great family "man" is Fiber Zibethicus, better known to American farmers as the muskrat. He raises his many offspring in marshes, and about streams, lakes and ponds. Muskrat tracks are easily recognized by the drag of his knife-like tail, which shows up well in soft mud.

The muskrat-trapper works hard to make a living out of muskrat skins, and generally his efforts are rewarded. But there is one fact about his business that he tracked down long ago. He knows the price he can get for muskrat skins depends on the popular demand for finished pelts.

In the business of processing livestock into meat for people's use, we at Swift & Company have to keep track of the demand for meat everywhere in the nation. We must know, too, the weights and grades of cuts preferred by housewives. Experience has taught us that the price the producers receive for their livestock is governed by what the meat packers can get for the meat and by-products.

IT WAS DIRTY TRICK TO LET "SHIP GO DOWN"

Irishman Sat In Room With Dead Friend For 52 Hours, Unable To Summon Help

BY LEO TURNER
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 12 — We took a ride over to St. Vincent's hospital on Staten Island today to ask 73-year-old Morris Driscoll how it felt to sit in the same room with a dead man for 52 hours, unable to summon help.

"Sure, and it was a dirty trick he pulled on me, he did," said Driscoll, "but the story's been changed in the telling."

Driscoll was propped up in bed in a room with seven other Irishmen. His cheeks were sunken, his black hair needed trimming a little, his mustache was salted with gray, but there was never a man in a finer frame of mind than the one who came from Skibbereen, county Cork in April, 1905.

Drank When Dry

"Sure, I'd been living with Charlie Scharrott for five years, I had," said Driscoll. "We ate when we were hungry and drank when we were dry. Sometimes I cooked three meals a day, I did, but most times it was two. But when Charlie died there wasn't a bottle in the house to steady me nerves, except some coke-lee-cola."

Police found Driscoll, whose hip had been fractured in a recent fall, sitting in a rocking chair Wednesday in the unused 25-room mansion of the late banker, Edward W. Brown, at Dongan Hills, Staten Island. Across the room was the body of Charles Scharrott, 76, who had been dead since 1 a. m. Monday.

"There was a man for you, was Charlie," said Driscoll. "Nivver could he sleep in a bed. Always slept in a chair, he did. And since he had an attack some time ago and couldn't move, the covers kept falling off."

Ship Went Down

"He wakes up hollering about 4 o'clock in the morning and got me out of bed. I covered him up again and said 'Charlie, ye'll wake up the dead, ye will, with your caterwauling.

"About daylight I heard him say 'the ship's going down' when I went out and looked, he was dead."

Driscoll was able to pull himself around the lower floor of the house with the aid of a straight chair which he pushed in front of him.

"No, I didn't worry. I have a long patience, laddy. I never worry about anything. What did I think about? I thought someone would be along, they would, and I passed the time writing a poem or two, the same being my hobby.

Thieves And Women

"I pushed myself out to the kitchen door, thinking I would get into the yard. But the door handle came off in me hand.

"Damn the lock and damn the door.

"If it weren't for women and thieves.

"Of course, men would nivver take them."

"I went back and pulled the cover over Charlie's head. Then I cooked something for myself. We had enough provisions to last all winter.

"Wednesday I heard the bread man at the door and I hollered. I gave him a note for the laddies down at the firehouse and they passed the news on to the police.

"When I get out of here, I'll go back to the house. Mrs. Brown is glad to have me. Every Christmas she sends me a check for $5. She used to send Charlie a check, too."

A red-haired nurse came into the room.

Saving China Hard Problem

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

The question of what—if anything—America can do within reason to save Chiang Kai-Shek's nationalist regime from utter collapse in face of the Chinese Communist onslaught has received no satisfactory answer thus far.

Hourly the situation becomes more critical.

Actually not only the fate of Nanking is in the balance in current battles but control of all north-central China.

On top of this military crisis the political and economic situations continue a shocking deterioration. China is in a state of chaos.

The first major shipment of American guns and ammunition to China since the Red victories in Manchuria is said unofficially in Washington to be nearly ready for departure. Of course any help is good help—but it will take more than a bucket of water to halt the Chinese conflagration.

That's what makes America's position so difficult. How can she give worth-while aid without going to the unthinkable extreme of taking over the military burden herself?

The most promising suggestion I have run into came from Dr. Chen Li-Fu, vice-president of the Chinese national parliament, when he was in the United States three months ago. He told me he believed the Chinese government's military success must be premised on economic reform.

Chasing Is Useless

Chen figured it was useless for the government to keep on chasing the Reds all over the place, expending men and materiel under present conditions. Without economic reform the war could run on indefinitely. Therefore, he would drive all the Chinese Communists north of the Yangtse river and then hold the line of the Yangtse while southern China was put on its feet economically. Once economic rehabilitation was achieved, the government could conquer the Communists in northern China and reunite the country.

As things now stand China must assume most of the burden of working out her own problem. She has had much help from America, and she is getting more. However, there is no indication that the United States intends to take over the job of cleaning out the Chinese Bolshevists.

Selznick-Jones Wedding Rumors Thought Clinched By Plans For English Film Job

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
INS Motion Picture Editor

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 12—There certainly doesn't seem any doubt that the many rumors that Jennifer Jones is going to marry David Selznick in England early next year are true.

I base this on the fact that Selznick has bought "Gone to Earth," a novel by Mary Webb, which Jennifer will make abroad as soon as she finishes "Madame Bovary" at MGM.

David is producing the picture himself in collaboration with Michael Powell and Emerick Pressburger, two of Britain's top film men. It's the story of a Welsh girl, and many of the exterior shots will be filmed in Wales. Both David and Jennifer will go to England in January.

This doesn't mean that "Tess of the D'Urbervilles" is off. That will be made later, but not until after Jennifer plays "Romeo and Juliet" on the Broadway stage for the Theater Guild.

Mature In Mystery

Vic Mature, who went visiting on the Paramount lot for "Samson and Delilah," stays for one. Betty Hutton gets him for "Restless Angel," a cheerful little murder mystery once called "Broadway Story."

At one time, Ray Milland was rumored in this movie, but Ray goes to 20th on a loan out, as we said a few days ago.

Constance Bennett will spend half of her Christmas in Hollywood and half in Germany. Her handsome husband, Col. John Coulter, has been ordered to Weisbaden for two years by the Army. Said Connie when I saw her at dinner:

"I can't leave the children alone all Christmas, so I am going to spend the day before Christmas with them. Then, I am going to fly Christmas eve to be with John. If I had only known that John was going to be ordered to Germany, I wouldn't have bought a new house, nor would I have made arrangements to start a picture in January.

"Now there is nothing to do but sell the house, put the children in school, and go to Europe to live for the next two years."

Background Worn Out

Wynn Rocamora, who has fostered the career of young Diana Lynn ever since she started, is having her wedding reception at his home on December 18. The wedding will be very small, but the reception will include all of Diana's and John Lindsay's friends. Jane Withers will be hre matron of honor.

In telling me about "Cariboo Trail," the movie Mat Holt is making in Canada to follow "Canadian Pacific," he says the reason he is going so far from home is because backgrounds for westerns have been absolutely dissipated in Arizona, New Mexico and California.

Errol Sends New Key

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Errol Flynn tells me he has sent Nora Eddington a new key to their house just in case she has a change of heart. "I wanted to be sure," said Errol, "she hasn't lost the old one."

The last Bob Hope show with Jack Benny was t-e-r-r-i-f-i-c. Both of them were at their best, and when they are, no comedians can top them, or hope to equal them.

The whole town is turning out Friday night to welcome Morton Downey to Ciro's.

Jack Warner is so much better, I am glad to say, that he will be allowed to go home in a very few days. He had a very tough siege following his serious operation.

I keep hearing about Sonja Henie and Al De La Vega, scion of a wealthy old California family, but everytime Sonja turns those pretty eyes in the direction of a gent, word comes she's serious.

Zoltan Korda has rented an entire T. B. sanitorium in Switzerland for the location of Thomas Mann's "The Magic Mountain."

Viveca Lindfors is sending her five-year-old son, Jan, and four-year-old daughter, Lena, to Stockholm with a nurse, shortly after the first of the year so they can visit their father and her parents.

Three In Top Democratic Command Interrupt Conferences In Florida For Trip To Havana

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
Associated Press Staff Writer

KEY WEST, Fla., Nov. 12.—Three members of President Truman's top Democratic command interrupted their conferences with the chief executive today for a flying trip to Havana.

Senator Alben W. Barkley, the vice president-elect; Senator J. Howard McGrath, Democratic national chairman; and Leslie L. Biffle, director of the Senate Democratic policy committee, planned to be gone only a few hours, however.

McGrath flew here from Washington yesterday to step up the pace of discussions looking to a reorganization of the administration.

Many Changes Expected

He would not comment on what recommendations he had in mind, but told reporters he believed the President would forgive the "venial" sins by Democratic officials, if not they were not the "mortal" sins that "kill the soul."

At the same time, other sources close to the President said there would be numerous changes in top level jobs, in addition to some in the cabinet, as the aftermath of the presidential election campaign.

They agreed with McGrath that Mr. Truman is not in a vindictive mood, but said that he was well aware where his strongest support came from.

He is known to be pleased with the efforts of Secretary of Labor Tobin, Attorney General Clark, Secretary of the Treasury Snyder, Secretary of Agriculture Brannan and Postmaster General Donaldson.

Marshall Supported

Furthermore, he wants Secretary of State Marshall to remain in that post as long as he is willing to stay on the job. His warm personal friendship and admiration for the general may result in keeping Marshall at work despite the secretary's desire to go into his long-deferred retirement.

The two will talk it over when Marshall next returns from Paris to review the international picture with the President again.

Secretary of Defense Forrestal and Undersecretary of State Lovett are expected to step out soon.

On source unusually close to the President, but unquotable by name, said the President was being asked to drop Secretary of Commerce Sawyer and Secretary for Air Symington. Criticism also has been voiced against Secretary of Interior Krug.

He said he "welcomed" the support of "progressive Republicans" on Democratic legislative proposals. Senator Aiken (R-Vt) was quoted as having promised such support on proposals where the Democratic and Republican platforms coincide.

McGrath also said he favored the idea of more women in public office—but that it was too early to be specific.

Meanwhile, there was no White House comment on an assertion by Representative Boykin (D-Ala) that President Truman convinced him he would not oppose civil rights legislation on the South.

Platform Pledge Given

Boykin told an Armistice Day crowd at Foley, Ala., yesterday that he was "convinced after a discussion of the civil rights proposal with the President that he will not bring this thing upon us."

Boykin did not say when the conversation took place.

Mr. Truman told a campaign audience in Harlem that he would not retreat from his civil rights proposals. Then, on the night after his election, he told a home town audience in Independence, Mo., that he would stand by the Democratic platform.

The President looked forward to the arrival late today of Mrs. Truman and his daughter, Margaret. They will be quartered on the White House yacht USS Williamsburg, docked near the President's quarters in the commandant's house. They will arrive at Miami by train and be driven to Key West.

WORLD TRAVELER—... months, Mark Wilson, full of importance with his briefcase and fez, is an experienced world traveler, having visited 10 foreign countries. He recently arrived in New York with his parents from Cairo. Reason for Mark's travels is that his dad is an airlines accountant.

That Girl on Broadway says the average person thinks he is well informed until he is called upon to answer the questions of a 12-year-old boy.

* * *

It's always wise to remember that the "good old days" never were as good as the oldtimers can make them sound.

* * *

IT WOULD be very interesting —and probably darn good politics as well as sound judgment —if President Truman were to appoint as General Marshall's successor the outstanding Republican statesman, Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg, of Michigan.

General Marshall is not long for the State department, as he originally announced 'way last Spring. The general wants the rest and retirement which are his due after a long, full life in the military and diplomatic service of his country.

Furthermore, his lack of enthusiasm for President Truman as an administrator could be another reason for his desire to leave the cabinet, and certainly could be a good reason for Mr. Truman's wishing to replace him.

* * *

Senator Vandenberg is not only the outstanding statesman of the Republican party. He also is the outstanding statesman of the entire legislative branch of the government. No Democrat approaches him in this regard.

He has been a pillar of strength for the Marshall Plan and for the entire Truman foreign policy. He broke with his own party leaders — and made them like it— in rendering this support when it was most needed.

In fact, Senator Vandenberg has been of more actual help to President Truman than most, if not all, of the outstanding Democrats in high places during the past two years.

* * *

WHILE appointment of a Republican Secretary of State in a Democratic administration would smash tradition into little pieces, it should be remembered that bi-partisanism sometimes is as essential to national welfare in times of peace as it is in time of war. In wartime, Presidents have reached into the ranks of the opposition party for particularly able men. And our foreign policy is and should be bi-partisan.

We do not anticipate that Mr. Truman will appoint Senator Vandenberg to succeed General Marshall, but he could do a lot worse.

The people have confidence in Senator Vandenberg—more confidence in him than in any man whose name as yet has been suggested for the post.

ALTHOUGH there hasn't been anything much about it in the papers of late, the fact remains that the Lubbock chapter of Alcoholics Anonymous is steaming right along, growing and doing a tremendous amount of good.

We were talking with one of the members the other day and he told us that there are between 200 and 250 members of the local chapter now—in spite of the fact that chapters have been formed in nearby towns whose members used to be in the Lubbock group.

This local member of the AA's says the club's record here is running about 90 per cent of goal — which means that it has had only about 10 per cent of failures in "drying out" its members and keeping them that way.

Incidentally, there is a possibility that the Lubbock AA chapter soon will divide itself and thus set up here two groups, instead of one.

When a chapter gets so big that its members can't keep in touch with each other, or know one another quite well, it loses some of its strength. At least so some AA's say. So if the local group gets much larger, a division of strength is pretty sure to follow.

El Paso, for instance, has three. Los Angeles has 43.

GENERALLY eclipsed in public interest by the more sensational factors of the Truman victory was the division of the vote in Texas. While Mr. Truman carried this state handily, he did not carry it in anywhere near the ratio that a Democratic candidate customarily does.

His 768,160 votes topped Dewey's 281,673 by well over 2-to-1, but his margin over all opponents was under 2-to-1. Dewey, Thurmond, Wallace and the "Trinity admirals" on the ticket racked up a total of 392,887—or 25,051 more votes than gave Texas to Hoover in 1928. Hoover's total that year was 367,036 to 341,082 for Smith. There was no other candidate on the ticket.

Normally, the Democratic candidate for President carries Texas by all the way from 15-to-1 to 20-to-1. The much lower plurality of Mr. Truman this year indicates that Texans are getting over their habit of "voting a straight ticket."

* * *

The figures in the senatorial race this year also bear out the fact that those who believe Texas should be a two-party state are gaining support.

Lyndon Johnson defeated Jack Porter without any trouble at all, but again his 736,368 to Porter's 360,210 was nothing like the customary vote given a Democrat over a Republican. Since Sam Morris, a whoop 'em up preacher of sorts, got 8,930 votes as the Prohibition candidate for the Senate, the Democratic edge in that race was even smaller.

* * *

PROBABLY a better guidepost to two-party thinking in Texas was the vote cast for Beauford Jester, Democratic governor running for a second term, and his unknown opponent, Republican Alvin Lane. Jester's 6-to-1 margin over Lane wasn't in a class with the victories of most Democratic governors over their Republican rivals. Customarily, a Democratic governor gets nearly all the votes and the fact that Jester is a very unpopular, wishy-washy governor doesn't tell the whole story of the vote given Lane.

All in all, the November 2 vote should give balm to Texans who believe the state would be better off with two parties than it is with just one.

It is entirely possible that the trend toward two parties now is set and that only time is needed to bring about the change of political face in Texas.

BY DREW PEARSON: REPENTANT SOUTH CAROLINIANS SCRAMBLE FOR HST BANDWAGON

Experts Rewriting Republican Farm Legislation

PEARSON

The South Carolina legislature is actually cooking up a full-dress investigation into Thurmond's campaign. What the legislators want to probe is the charge that Thurmond traveled in a state-owned Cadillac, driven by a state highway patrolman, while campaigning for the presidency on the Dixiecrat ticket.

The legislature also is curious about his expenditures for stationery, postage stamps and office help—the highest of any governor in the state's history. Some legislators suspect this was not all spent for state business, but partly for campaigning.

Also in line for a political spanking is South Carolina's Congressman Mendel Rivers. The Charleston congressman refused to run with the rest of the delegation on the Truman ticket, insisted on putting his name up with Thurmond, and campaigned actively for the Dixiecrats. Loyal Democrats wil lnow try to classify him as a Dixiecrat, thus forcing him to lose his seniority on committees, and giving him about the same influence as the labor party's lonely Vito Marcantonio.

South Carolina also is moving to give its electoral vote to Truman instead of Thurmond. Originally the state Democratic committee voted to pledge its electoral ballots to home-son Thurmond, but is now planning to meet again and reverse itself.

NOTE—In spite of all the anti-civil rights oratory, South Carolina's two senators, Olin Johnston and Burnet Maybank, stayed loyal to Truman. As a result, both probably will be rewarded with a committee chairmanship — Johnston as head of civil service, and Maybank as acting chairman of banking and currency.

New Farm Program

And though farm policies haven't received as much publicity as the famed Taft-Hartley act, the new farm program is going to be just as important to about one-third the people of the United States. Here are some of the moves to be launched as soon as the new Congress reconvenes:

1. Cancellation of the 80th Congress ban against the government's additional grain-storage space. This ban was sneaked into the farm bill by ex-congressman Roger Slaughter of Kansas City, whom Truman once purged. Because the government can't acquire storage space, it can't take up sufficient grain and wheat, and many farmers have to sell below parity.

2. President Truman will order ECAA administrator Hoffman to stop buying grain for Europe through private companies. This chiefly benefits Argentina and foreign grain brokers, costs the U. S. more.

3. Secretary Brannan will press for ratification of the international wheat treaty, guaranteeing American farmers a stable foreign market. This was vetoed by the 80th Congress.

4. Brannan will urge both a permanent price-support program for farm products, plus controls through acreage limitation. If farmers start overproducing any single commodity, production could be cut by reducing price supports—were it not for the fact that this hurts little farmers, who can't compete with big farmers. For this reason, production controls have to be kept for stand-by use.

5. Because of the meat and milk shortage the Agriculture department will encourage more production of beef cattle and dairy cows. This will be part of a new program to increase the variety of farm products, instead of a few basic war products.

6. Soil conservation, crop insurance, rural hospitalization and rural housing will also be part of the new farm program.

SOME interesting things have been taking place at Nuremberg, where high-placed German war criminals are supposed to be on trial for their lives, not enjoying the winter social season.

However, the wife of war-crimes Judge James Morris of Bismarck, N. D., has frequently invited Baroness Von Schnitzler to the U. S. Army PX, despite the fact that the Baroness's husband is in jail charged with committing ghastly war crimes. Chatting together gayly in public, the two women act as if they were bosom friends.

Another jurist, Judge Curtis G. Shake of Knox county, Indiana, conceived the brilliant idea of inviting several German defense attorneys to dinner at the Grand hotel, where Germans generally are denied admittance.

It's significant that the I. G. Farben defendants got off with lenient sentences.

New Wyoming Senator

Gov. Lester Hunt of Wyoming, newly elected to the Senate, is the only governor in U. S. history who is a dentist. He began, however as a baseball player. Born in Atlanta, Ill., Hunt became a star on the high-school ball team at a time when some of the small towns of Wyoming were baseball crazy, and the town of Lander, Wyoming, enticed him from Illinois out to the west. He has been living there ever since.

In a state dominated by big cattle and sheep men who out-Republican the Republican party, Hunt, a Democrat, has been elected anyway.

What swung a lot of votes to Hunt in 1946 was the fact that millionaire Republicans in the East previously had sent campaign money into the state. Hunt called the roll of Republican contributions in 1942: Estelle Pew, $500; J. Howard Pew, $500; Mabel Pew Martin, $500; Joe Pew, $500, all from Pennsylvania, all from the big Sun oil family, which bosses the GOP in Pennsylvania.

Then he called the roll of 1944 contributions. The same Pew family also contributed, but more this time: $750 instead of $500 each, plus $2,000 from the Pennsylvania Republican committee.

After reading this roll call, Wyoming's voters decided they didn't want their state run by distant Pennsylvania. In last week's election a lot of big Republican money from the East also flooded Wyoming, but again that only helped Hunt to win.

Incidentally one of Governor Hunt's proud boasts is that in the midst of a Republican economy drive, he spent more money on the University of Wyoming than previous governors.

Justified Odds Against HST Makes Win More Remarkable

NOTES of a New Yorker. Make no mistake about it, the 15 to 1 odds against Truman were justified, which makes his victory all the more remarkable. . . . He had to defeat not only half of his own party but half of his own Cabinet. . . . There is no way to describe his triumph except if you can imagine a cow pony beating Man o' War and Citation in the same race, Jonah swallowing the whale, the camel going through the needle's eye, the moon jumping over the cow, the Grand Canyon filled with razor blades and Joe Louis taking the count from a punch by Billy Rose. . . Harry Truman has broken all records. He even has any time to rock it.

IT is about time all politicians—of all parties—brushed up on American history. . . This Republic did not start with an election and it cannot end that way. . . It started with 13 colonies as allies in a fight and finished with 48 States in a nation.

This country was strong and a going concern before either the Republican or the Democratic Parties was born. Nations are built by a people, not by political parties.

No political party ever built a railroad—ran a blast furnace or invented an engine. . . Well, Mr. Dulles stated in 1941: "President Roosevelt has dealt boldly and dramatically with domestic problems. Recognizing the failure of our society (as organized) to adapt itself to new conditions and to meet the imperative need of human beings, he has effectively grappled with the problem and has not hesitated to break with tradition and to alter fundamentally the entire structure of our economic order. As to what he has done there is disagreement. But few would seek to undo the great social reforms he has effected. We are entitled to expect a like approach to the problems of peace.

We have a duty to urge upon our President that he dedicate to this great task his outstanding qualities of leadership."

Why, Mr. Dulles, you old New Dealer!!!

THERE was not a black-and-white difference between Dewey and Truman—just two different shades of gray. . . Perhaps this is best exemplified by the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. . . When this newspaper announced its support of Dewey—it attacked his stand on public health, Federal aid for education, the development of natural resources, inflation, tidelands oils and public housing.

In short, the choice wasn't between good and bad—but between bad and worse.

"What Do I Do Now, Sam?"

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Attempt To End Un-American Activities Committee Certain

WASHINGTON—The score on the House Un-American activities committee as of today stands: Chairman J. Parnell Thomas indicted by a federal grand jury on a charge of conspiracy to defraud the government; Reps. Richard B. Vail of Illinois and John McDowell of Pennsylvania defeated by the voters in their respective districts.

CHILDS

Rep. Karl Mundt of South Dakota was elected to the Senate. This leaves only one Republican survivor unscathed. That is Rep. Richard M. Nixon of California, who was re-elected in a contest in which his only opponent was a Wallaceite.

This illustrates once again the high mortality rate of the members of a committee which has managed from the beginning to get into hot water and stay there. Of the members appointed when the committee was formed in 1938, Thomas is the only one to come through the storm and strife to the present.

The first chairman was Rep. Martin Dies of Texas. In his swashbuckling, splashdash way, he set the pattern. With one eye on newspaper headlines and the other on the newsreel cameras, Dies ignored ordinary rules of procedure in a search for sensations.

Dies was defeated when he ran for the Senate in 1944. The votes of organized labor contributed substantially to that outcome.

* * *

Others Went Down

Four others of the original members ultimately went down to defeat. This included former Rep. Jerry Voorhis of California even though he had tried to curb some of the excesses that had brought sharp criticism. Rep. Noah Mason of Illinois got off the committee and he has been returned at succeeding elections including the one last week.

After he took over as chairman, Thomas succeeded in making Dies look like a sternly objective statesman. Behind the scenes, a cabal of newspaper men and informers really ran the committee, under the tutelage of the secretary, Robert E. Stripling, interestingly enough, has survived while the congressmen he coached and prodded went down to disaster and oblivion.

Criticism of the committee came not merely from labor and the left. By its methods the committee seemed determined to punish as well as to investigate and expose Americans of conservative opinion felt that here was an attempt by Congress to usurp the functions of the courts.

* * *

INDIVIDUAL cases brought wide indignation. Thus Dr. Edward U. Condon, head of the Bureau of Standards, was smeared in a public statement and yet, in spite of his repeated requests, never given a chance to answer the vague charges publicly made against him.

Thomas is a man of dark suspicions and inquisitorial temperament. He has a kind of self-righteousness which persuades him that he is saving the republic from imminent danger.

Two years before the Republican sweep of 1946, a Democratic house voted to give the committee permanent status as a standing committee. Southern Democrats combined with Republicans and the vote was 208 to 186 over the indignant protests of those who felt this was blanket approval for outrageous committee procedure.

In the new Congress there certainly will be a strenuous attempt to wipe out the Un-American committee. Many incoming Democrats will take it as part of their mandate to try to eliminate it.

Democratic leaders in the House will be sympathetic to such a move. But they are not optimistic over its success. Southern Democrats seem certain to vote to continue it and so will old line Republicans.

* * *

Wood Will Be Chairman

If the committee is continued, the chairman will be Rep. John S. Wood of Georgia. At his home in Canton, Ga., Wood said he favored continuing the committee, believing it has an important function to perform.

"We can run it without witch hunts," he said. "We can treat people fairly and proceed in an orderly way. I was chairman of the committee from July of '45 to January of '47 and I didn't hear much criticism then."

If the committee is to perform any sort of useful function, it will have to overcome the serious handicap of its past reputation. One of the first steps would be to eliminate Stripling.

At least two new Republicans must be appointed. Given the committee reputation for disaster and oblivion, something like the curse of King Tut's tomb as advertised by the Sunday supplements, it may be hard to find two new victims.

The larvae of one moth can destroy as much wool in one year as twelve sheep can produce.

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

AT last a woman has reached the United States Senate under her own steam and everybody seems completely surprised. A few years from now such a triumph for a woman may not be surprising at all. For Margaret Chase Smith has marked the trail.

MILLETT

There are plenty of intelligent, hard-working, keen-minded women in the country who can ask themselves: "What has Margaret Case Smith got that I haven't got?" and get a reassuring reply.

* * *

WHAT'S SHE GOT?

MRS. SMITH hasn't youth. She's a silver-haired 50.

Mrs. Smith doesn't have a string of college degrees. She started to work as soon as she finished high school.

Mrs. Smith hasn't a husband. Like so many of the country's middle-aged women she is a widow.

Mrs. Smith hasn't an impressive family background. Her father was a barber and she early started earning her own money.

What Mrs. Smith has, apparently, besides a good mind and a keen interest in politics, is a combination of qualities many women possess. She has a pleasing personality. She likes meeting people and turning acquaintances into friends. And she isn't afraid of hard work.

Today's Journal Editorial

LET THE PEOPLE VOTE

A constitutional amendment proposing repeal of the poll tax as a requisite to voting in Texas will be a proper subject for consideration when the Legislature convenes in January. Several members have said they intend to bring the proposition up.

How far the effort may go remains to be seen. But the opinion prevails widely that a repeal amendment, if submitted to a vote of the people of Texas, would have a good chance of approval. This opinion is not based on the wholly fallacious theory that a poll tax is discriminatory. It is founded upon the conviction that a tax upon the privilege of voting simply is not a good thing.

Perhaps it will be just as well if the Legislature does give people of Texas an opportunity to ballot upon the proposition.

Ducks Expected To Be Greater In Number, But Concentrated

By LLOYD LARRABEE
United Press Staff Writer

Texas duck hunters, opening the 1948 migratory waterfowl season, faced the prospect today of more ducks but less shooting chances than last year.

At the season opening at noon today, there were reports up and down the Gulf coast that the duck population was higher than in 1947.

Ponds Dried Up

But Texas' severe drouth dried up many ponds, and it appeared that the ducks, though they might be greater in number, would be concentrated over a smaller territory.

Thus, explains Howard Dodgen, executive secretary of the Game, Fish and Oyster commission, there may be less shooting opportunity for the 1948, continuous 35-day hunt.

But, he added, "I don't think there is any doubt but that we have a better duck population this year."

An anticipated increase in the number of hunters was not expected to help the situation, either. It was expected to be Texas' greatest hunting season in history.

Dodgen said reports from game wardens indicated there would be a good supply of ducks all the way from Corpus Christi to Port Arthur.

Limit Is Set

The season will stretch to Dec. 16. Sportsmen may kill five ducks a day, and have up to 10 in possession, except on the opening day, when it's limited to 5.

The predominant types of ducks which the Texas hunter will shoot are pintails and mallards, with some teal.

But Dodgen reminded nimrods that baiting or live decoys are prohibited. Also taboo under the law is the taking of ducks from an automobile or plane.

And a shotgun larger than a 10 gauge may not be used, according to the law. The law also specifies that hunters are not to shoot with a repeating shotgun capable of holding more than three shells, including those in the magazine and chamber.

Geese Included

Also, migratory game birds are not to be killed from a power-driven boat or a boat under tow or sail.

And, the law prohibits taking of waterfowl "by means, aid or use" of cattle, horses or mules.

Along with ducks, hunters will be shooting at geese, brant and coot.

You may take a total of four brant and geese, meaning four in all. And, in that kill, the limit on geese is two, with an additional restriction that not more than two Canada geese or two white-fronted geese may be taken.

It may be a good season. But Dodgen was still hoping for rain—and a "greater dispersal" of ducks so every sportsman could have a shot at a duck.

Close on the heels of opening of the waterfowl season comes the deer and turkey hunt, from Nov. 16 to Dec. 31.

An "average deer season was expected by game officials, meaning that 40,000 deer probably will fall to the boom of sportsmen's guns.

But officials were more concerned with the hunt on turkeys, which have felt the extended drouth.

Conditions were expected to be good in the heart of the turkey country—in the hills of Gillespie, Kerr and surrounding counties—but the outlook was not bright in other areas.

In some regions, over-grazing had beaten down the range. But it was anticipated that there would be some 6,000 turkey killed in the six-week season.

The regular deer season was preceded by a six-day shoot ending this week west of the Pecos.

ROLL OUT THE BARREL—Kansas voters, who repealed the state's 68-year-old dry law, are going to have a celebration, but it'll be with 3.2 beer. No hard liquor can be served until the legislature acts, so Topeka tavern owner Daniel Dreiling rolls out a barrel of 3.2.

Introduction of new "wonder" drugs have brought recent death from influenza and pneumonia to the United States to unprecedented low levels, but specialists insist that some types of these diseases are not amenable to the new treatments and an epidemic rise in deaths at some future time is not impossible.

Demo Vote Seen As Boon To Business

HOUSTON, Nov. 12 (U.P.)—Former Under Secretary of State W. L. Clayton, contradicting Wall Street financiers, said here today the Truman administration and a Democratic - controlled Congress should be a boon to business.

Clayton, the world's richest cotton millionaire who currently is special economic assistant to Secretary of State George C. Marshall, said he was "delighted" over the election results that had vested responsibility in a single party.

"I think the financial and industrial interests are wrong in construing that it (the election) will be bad for business," he stated. "It seems both constructive and hopeful to place all responsibility on one party and on one administration."

Clayton spoke hesitatingly about rumors that he might step into the big job of Secretary of State if President Truman re-shuffles his cabinet, or if Secretary Marshall resigns.

The advisory post he now occupies is one he hopes to be relieved of "very soon," he added.

Bess Truman Is Pictured As The "Reluctant First Lady"

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Will Bess Truman go down in history as "The Reluctant First Lady?"

Many of her friends think that she will.

It was generally believed that the long delay in announcing the plans for the strenuous White House winter social season was because Mrs. Truman did not want to appear presumptuous before the election. Her close friends and members of the White House staff knew better. The delay was mostly feminine procrastination toward an unpleasant task.

Campaigner: Although she usually remained stolidly on the sidelines, Mrs. Truman also could relax in a hearty greeting, like this one during a train stop in Nebraska.

Has Bursting Pride

Nobody who knows her would suggest that her heart was filled with anything but bursting pride at the news of her husband's sensation personal victory. But they say, too, that somewhere down inside was a small selfish feeling of dismay at the prospect of four more years of endless, stuffy feas, tortuous hours on aching feet in a reception line, uncomfortable, stiff state dinners, and the constant strain of life in the 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue fish bowl.

Defeat would have been a bitter pill to the President. But to Bess it would have meant the simple pleasure of cooking flapjacks for the "boss" instead of an occasional hurried breakfast with him. It would have meant a pleasant visit or call to Roger Sermon, the Independence, Mo., grocer and mayor, instead of a two-hour conference with a secretary, housekeeper and chef.

Good Insight Given

Just before she started campaign junketing with the President an incident occurred which gave a good insight into the First Lady's attitude toward her official duties. A society reporter discovered that she had lunched with several other ladies at some obscure restaurant. The reporter found the woman who had arranged the party, and got this reply:

"I'm sorry you found out about it. We've been keeping it a secret for a couple of years. A few of us who are real old friends of Bess get together once a month and try out a different place to eat. Of course, we all go Dutch treat. Bess says it gives her a chance to relax. You see, none of us are in the social register."

Never Learns Trick

Mrs. Truman apparently has never caught onto the trick of relaxing like her husband does while performing social duties. At all but small, intimate gatherings of close friends her attitude appears to be one of stolid determination to see it through. The thousands of Americans who saw her on back-platform appearances during the campaign noticed this. Toward the end she was learning a little more natural smile when she was introduced. But the only thing that could crack her stiff pose while listening to the President's speeches was the frequent loud yell from the audience, "give 'em hell, Harry." She always laughed heartily at this.

Only one thing has really provoked her as far as her personal reaction to White House life goes, a good friend tells. It's the gossip that has gotten back to the First

Officials Not Worried About Market Plunge

BY JAMES DANIEL
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12—The stock market's current tail spin is causing no alarm among federal officials.

Government sources say the market has ceased to have much significance as a forecaster of general business conditions. They credit the drop since election day to the surprise over President Truman's victory.

"Any time everybody in the market expects one thing to happen and the opposite occurs, it upsets the basis of their calculations," said one official. "It takes about 10 days to absorb the news. In that time you can have two or three declines as first the insiders and then the people on the edge react to the event."

Decline Expected

A government economist said he had expected a market decline whichever way the election went. "The short-term speculations had been buying heavily expecting a Dewey victory. They would have got out anyway as soon as the returns were in."

An adviser to a government agency said: "The majority of the people in the market are of the propertied classes. They wanted a Republican victory. They got a shock. But already you see financial papers telling them what they want to hear—that the Democratic victory isn't as bad as it seemed.

"Over the long run the Democratic victory should be encouraging to those people who don't want a boom and bust. The Democrats were more likely than the Republicans to do something about curbing inflation because they believe more in controls.

Fly In Argument

"But there's a fly in this argument, as I see it. The President's promises to farmers and to labor are going to be inflationary, without reductions in spending elsewhere. If they are kept and higher taxes and wage increases eat into profits, it could mean lower dividends.

"I think the effect of armament spending is still to be felt and that this is a time for buying and keeping stocks, not selling."

An economist said that usually 'good" news unduly elated the market and "bad" news sent it into a fit of depression. "Values balance themselves after a while. President Truman has held interest rates low despite a steady drumming from the insurance companies, and low interest rates makes stocks attractive."

Values More Solid

Winners In 4-H Club Named

Four To Make Chicago Trip

At least four 4-H club boys and girls on the South Plains will be among 29 or more from the state scheduled to attend the national 4-H club Congress in Chicago Nov. 28 to Dec. 2 with all expenses paid, as result of outstanding work in club activities, according to announcement from extension service headquarters at College Station.

An additional 18, bringing the total to 47, shared in various other awards on a state basis, and according to the announcement, it is possible that several of that 18 will also attend the Chicago meeting, since some are entered in sectional and national contests in which winners are yet to be announced.

Club workers in Castro, Cochran, Garza and Lubbock counties have been awarded the Chicago trip, three of them as guests of the Santa Fe railroad, and the other as guest of Montgomery Ward.

Area winners in the Santa Fe contest are Mary Lou Crump of Shallowater, E. P. Wicker of Wilson, and Kenneth Acker of Nazareth (Castro county). Lois Wilson of Morton won the Montgomery Ward contest for the Chicago trip.

Three others in this area were named among the state's 47 award winners for outstanding work in 4-H club activity.

These were: Doyle Davis, 17, of Hart, Castro county, who won a $25 bond posted by Kraft Foods company in a dairy production contest, and Davis also is entered for sectional and national award, through which it is possible for him to win an expense-paid trip to the national congress. He has been in club work seven years and carried demonstrations in dairy cattle, beef cattle, swine, crops and poultry. He is an established dairy breeder, and has exhibited in local and state shows. His total income from products sold is about $30,000. He attended the national congress in 1945 on a Santa Fe award;

In the army in 1946-47, he spent some time in Hawaii, where he met 4-H club leaders there. He attended the national congress in 1943 on a Santa Fe award, was awarded the Anderson-Clayton scholarship for his cotton in 1945, and received the Danforth award for leadership in 1948, as result of which he attended Camp Miniwanca, Mich.

ONE WEEK SHY OF TYING RECORD

Texas Endurance Fliers Are Forced Down By Bad Engine

LONGVIEW, Nov. 12. (U.P.)—Two sad Texans, whose dream of shattering the world's record for endurance flying ended with the final sputter of their craft's engine last night, marked up their defeat today as merely a triumph of matter over mind.

Fred Vinmont and Bert Simons both of whom pushed "Uncle Sam's" aircraft through the skies during World War II, called it quits and made an emergency landing near Gregg county airport last night. They were just one week shy of tying the existing record of 726 hours of continuous flying.

The pilots, both of Dallas, blamed the failure on a "frozen engine"—a condition that generally is caused by failure of the oil system.

Moved to Gregg Airport

Their single-engine Luscombe Silvaire had logged 529 hours of continuous flight when the engine "cut out." They had been confident of breaking — even doubling—the 1934 record of Al and Fred Keys over Meridian, Miss.

The two former Air Force pilots took off from Love Field in Dallas at 6:01 p. m. Oct. 20. They used the Grand Prairie airport for a base for several days and then moved to the Gregg county airport near here when night fogs threatened in the Dallas-Grand Prairie area.

The flight was sponsored by the Texas Private Flyers association to promote interest in private flying. During the slightly more than three weeks that the plane —the "Miss Texas"—was aloft, it was viewed by thousands of spectators in East Texas.

PLANE IS OVERDUE

GUAM, Nov. 12 (AP)—An Air Force B-29 was reported overdue today, with its normal fuel capacity believed expended.

Tech Judgers Are Selected

Members of the livestock judging team that will represent Texas Technological college at the International Livestock show Nov. 27 in Chicago were announced Thursday as a result of Wednesday's intramural judging contest, in which 15 seniors participated.

The international team, as announced by Ray C. Mowery, assisatnt head of animal husbandry, will be composed of W. D. Hancock, of Jayton; Glenn Quattlebaum, of Amarillo; Clinton Ritter, of Lawn; Ed. C. McElroy, of Brownfield; Robert W. Mims, of San Angelo; and Robert Cox, of Lubbock.

To Leave Nov. 19

Leaving the college Nov. 19, the group will be given an intensive training program en route to Chicago, stopping for practice judging at five colleges and seven livestock farms. This training will be almost the equivalent to an entire semester of classroom instruction, Mowery said.

Colleges to be visited on the way are Oklahoma A. and M., Stillwater; Kansas State Agricultural college, Manhattan, Kan.; Iowa State college, Ames; University of Minnesota, St. Paul; and Wisconsin university, at Madison. Farms and ranches included in the itinerary are the George A. Keith farms, Wichita Falls, where they will judge Hereford cattle; Flying L Ranch, Sulphur, Okla., which also raises Herefords; Turner Ranch, of Sulphur, Herefords; J. C. Penney Aberdeen Angus farm, at Hamilton, Missouri; Boulderbridge Belgian horse farm, St. Paul, Minnesota; Edellyn shorthorn farms, Wilson, Ill.; and the Marelibar farms, of Libertyville, Ill., where they will practice on shorthorns again.

Progress Made At Treatment Center

A two-year-old boy raised himself from his position beside toys on the floor, walked across the room and went up and down a flight of stairs several times.

Such agility was not possible with him two and one-half months ago. At that time, he could not raise himself to a sitting positon and could not walk up stairs.

He is one of 79 children from a radius of 250 miles of Lubbock who visit the Lubbock Cerebral Palsy Treatment center at 1317 Tenth from one to three times a week, or an average of twice weekly.

Progress Is Noted

"We have children who couldn't sit up and who do sit up now, and children who couldn't walk two months ago who now can," said Miss Esther E. Snell, director of the treatment center. "They learn such things as feeding themselves and dressing themselves which they didn't do before," she said.

The children do not accomplish such extensive improvements during treatment sessions, but rather through continued care as recommended in the treatment center.

"The purpose of work here in the treatment center is to teach parents to care for the children," said Miss Snell. The children, she said "need that daily treatment they get at home."

The rate of improvement varies. Cure is not promised. "We don't think in terms of complete recovery. We think in terms of improvement," said Miss Snell. In some cases, a child may show only a minor improvement, while other effects of cerebral palsey remain.

Wide Area Represented

Parents bring children to the center from as far away as Borger, Stamford, Roscoe, Portales, N. M., Snyder, Odessa and Sweetwater, as well as from towns on the South Plains.

The center, which is sponsored by Lubbock Rotary club and the Lubbock Crippled Children's council, opened Aug. 23.

It is open from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Mondays through Fridays, with parents taking their children there by appointment. A 30-minute period is reserved for each child, and the child may remain afterward to play with educational toys.

The center plans to hold a clinic every two months for new patients and for patients who need to be rechecked.

Such a clinic will be conducted Nov. 22 by Dr. Charles Sadler of Amarillo and Dr. Charles Clayton of Fort Worth. Parents interested in taking their children to the clinic may make appointments by writing to the Lubbock Cerebral Palsy Treatment center, 1317 Tenth, or telephoning

Gladewater Hotel Destroyed By Fire

GLADEWATER, Nov. 12 (U.P.) — A fire early today destroyed the $300,000 St. Clair hotel in the downtown area here but 75 guests escaped without injury. All guest rooms were filled.

Hotel Owner, Carl Bruce said the fire broke out at 2:30 a. m. believed it started from a faulty exhaust fan in a coffee shop. The hotel structure housed not only the coffee shop but also a liquor store, an infants ready to wear shop, and a beauty shop. Their contents were total losses by early estimates.

Firemen from nearby Longview and Kilgore aided the Gladewater department in fighting the blaze which was visible for many miles. Three times they apparently had the fire subdued, only to have it break out once again. It was still burning at 8:15 a. m. today, but was under control.

The brick hotel was the only major one in Gladewater, and Bruce said that he planned to rebuild as soon as possible. Part of the loss was covered by insurance.

Exemption Of Cotton Products Under ICC Truck Act Sought

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12 (AP) — The Interstate Commerce commission today was asked to rule that cotton linters, cottonseed and cottonseed hulls have an exempt status under the truck regulatory act.

Ed P. Byars, of Fort Worth, told a commission examiner that such products, like baled cotton, are clearly agricultural commodities and not manufactured products.

The hearing before examiner C. Evans Brooks is to help the commission define what is an agricultural commodity and what is a manufactured product.

Involved is a decision of one group of commissioners that spinach which has been washed and packaged is a manufactured product.

Byars said the commission in one decision had rightly held that baled cotton is an agricultural commodity and hence an exempt article. He said that since cottonseeds in bulk result from the same process as the baled cotton, they too should be exempt.

Cotton linters—the short fibers taken from cottonseeds before the seeds are converted into oil—are obtained, Byars said in what amounts to a second ginning operation and baled linters therefore are entitled to exemption the same as baled cotton.

Likewise, he said cottonseed hulls—removed before the oil is pressed from cottonseeds—are an agricultural commodity and as such are fed to livestock.

Various other witnesses testified today that fresh fruits and vegetables which have been washed and packaged for market can't be considered manufactured articles.

Mother Takes Dim View Of Pledging

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Nov. 12 (INS)—The things a Tennessee school sorority pledge has to do are enough to make mother gray.

One harried San Antonio mother of a "microbe" (pledge) says it was bad enough a few months ago when her daughter had to run down a cockroach and then outfit it in a complete football uniform—helmet, shoulder pads and all the rest.

There Is No Denomination To Tennessee Minister's Auto

* * *

RALEIGH, Tenn., Nov. 12 (INS)—The Rev. Robert Hamilton, pastor of Eastland Presbyterian church, has a new automobile because he has shown Raleigh that creed is much less important than Christianity.

Men and women of all creeds got together $1000 toward the car. Another $500 is needed. They know it will be hard for Hamilton to raise that much, but they hope he will make it—and after going that far, it is doubtful that Raleigh will sit by idly and watch Brother Hamilton's car being repossessed for non-payment.

Long Without Car

It all started when Ernest Kleier, who belongs to the Raleigh Christian church, got back from tank-fighting in Germany. He discovered that the Rev. Mr. Hamilton had been walking ever since he sold his battered old jalopy seven years ago to get money to buy shoes for poor children to wear to school.

When Kleier was about to leave for Camp Shelby in February, 1943, Brother Hamilton dropped in for a last-minute prayer and God-speed, just as he did on as many young men as he could, regardless of where they went to church.

Everyone Helps

So Kleier decided something should be done about a car for the minister. He talked it over with his pastor, the Rev. Mearl E. Lasley, who called a meeting at his house. About 12 representatives of different churches attended, including the Rev. H. H. Newson of the Raleigh Methodist church and Dr. Ira Cole of the Raleigh Baptist church.

A Baptist was made chairman of a committee to get money for a car. A Presbyterian became vice-chairman. A Memphis Jew made the first contribution. Children sent in their piggy banks. The Gragg School PTA gave $50. A Masonic lodge gave $100. Jimmy Stroud and his "Youth for Christ" gave $50. Almost everybody gave something.

The attention to departing service men, the sale of his car to get shoes for bare-footed children are only episodes in a long career of devoted service.

Folks used to take him for granted. "Fine Christian," they might remark. "Does a lot of good." And then forget.

Rev. Robert Hamilton: One car went for shoes for the poor.

Fire Greater Danger On Farms Than City

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 12 (U.P.)—If you are a farmer, fire is a greater potential danger for you than it is for your cousin in the crowded city.

At least, that is the story told by statistics at the University of Minnesota agricultural extension service here.

Only about one-fifth of the people in this country live on farms, yet fully one-third of the number killed each year by fire live on farms, the statistics show.

In 1947, 11,000 persons died by fire in the U.S. Of these, 3,500 were farm residents.

Monetarily, fire loss last year came to $700,000,000. Twelve per cent of the loss was on farms.

According to extension officials, the main reason for the higher toll on farms is the higher number of fire hazards to be found there than in cities. Farmers store larger quantities of gasoline and kerosene; improperly cured hay is another hazard not common to the city; lightning is more dangerous in the country than in the city. And cities are better protected by organized fire-fighting units.

Maryland Sugar Plant Worker Confesses To "Date" Killings

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 12. (AP)—A burly sugar plant worker has confessed to the "date" killings of Miss Mary C. Kline and John H. Mahlan, a spokesman for Governor Lane announced last night.

Louis O'Donnell, special assistant to the governor, said police officials telephoned Lane at Sea Island, Ga., that Thomas Alexander Edwards, had admitted shooting the 18-year-old Glen Burnie girl and her escort Sept 17.

Taken Into Custody

Edwards, a 23-year-old Anne Arundel county negro, was taken into custody Monday night. A wire recorder was rigged up in his cell and his conversation with a negro in the next cell was noted.

Chief John H. Souers, jr., of the county police said FBI tests showed bullets fired from a gun recovered from Edwards' home matched bullets taken from the bodies of the victims.

Were Good Friends

Mahlan, a 25-year-old Glen Burnie post office worker and the pretty, red-haired girl were good friends who used to date about once a week.

They disappeared the night of Sept. 17 and their bodies were found three days later on a dead-end dirt lane six miles west of Annapolis. Both had been shot through the head.

Mahlen's wallet, which is believed to have contained less than $2, and the girl's watch were missing.

Difference Between Women And Girls Seems To Be Length Of Skirts; Girls Take Longies

By BARBARA BUNDSCHU
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 12 (UP)—The difference between a woman and a girl today may be the length of her skirt.

While most New York manufacturers were busily cutting at least an inch off their dresses to hem them between 12 and 14 inches from the floor, the St. Louis folk came up with an apology for the shortness of one costume hemmed at that modest mid-calf length.

The right skirt, as they figure it, is about 10 inches off the floor.

"The girls seem to want them that way," a spokesman for the industry said. "They can always hack them off, after all, if they change their minds."

Other ideas the girls appear to have sold their dressmakers on are simplicity and low prices. Most of the dresses shown here this week will retail between $10 and $30. Fall print dress and wool coat combinations will sell for around $50 complete.

All the costumes showed modification of last season's exaggerated styles. Back "interest" and skirt fullness have both been toned down.

Slim Skirt New

A few dresses have wide panels of unpressed pleats or all around lightly gathered skirts. As many are outright slim. The majority stick to a happy in-between of flared skirts or achieve softness with a few pleats or gathers. New is a slim skirt with fullness in pleats or flare beginning just above the knee.

Stoles are shown within a few of the print dresses. Jackets top many dresses, most notably a simple cardigan style jersey in tiny red and white pattern on blue shown over a white resort or summer dress. A sports costume combining skirt, blouse, waistcoat, jacket and pedal pushers was designed to sell for less than $35 complete.

One of the prettiest double-up costumes was a navy faille costume which made its first appearance with a low U collar neckline framing a shirred front panel. Short sleeves ended in a brief shirred puff. The skirt had moderate front fullness in released tucks. When the waist-length jacket is removed the dress goes out for dancing with a bare, shoestring strappee shoulder line.

Veteran Performer Dies Of Pneumonia

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 12. —Fred Niblo, whose career began in a small Nebraska town and included fame on Broadway and in Hollywood, died of pneumonia here yesterday. He was 74.

His death brought an end to plans for a thirtieth wedding anniversary cruise with his wife, the former actress Enid Bennett of Australia.

Niblo retired ten years ago. He was widely known in the early days of Hollywood and was acclaimed for directing such films as "Ben Hur," "The Three Musketeers" and "Blood and Sand."

The veteran performer appeared in vaudeville in the early 1900's, during which time he had two command performances before the British royal family, and appeared in numerous Broadway productions from 1910 to 1918.

He was one of the founders of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences.

50-Year Pact Would Bind Western Allies

PARIS, Nov. 12 (AP)—A proposed 50-year military pact which would bind the United States to western Europe will be presented by France to the five-power conference now being held in London, it was reported today.

A French foreign ministery spokesman said reports circulating about the contents of the French draft "are right in a general sort of way," but added that details of the proposal still are secret.

The French plan is said to commit the U. S., Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg to come to each other's aid in case of attack.

American Defense Secretary V. Forrestal is believed to have discussed the pact at a meeting here last night with French Defense Minister Paul Ramadier.

Bess Truman

Among Washington fashion writers and society women it is almost a standard gag that Mrs. Truman's hats defy the current vagary of fashion almost as much as the famous headgear of England's Queen Mary. The First Lady resents this criticism. She says the only person she is interested in pleasing with her hats is her husband. Contrary to his own taste in hats, he likes to have his wife stick to simple millinery.

Far From a Tyrant

In supervising the housekeeping of the White House, friends say Mrs. Truman demands the same meticulous housekeeping she maintained in her modest home in Independence.

Bess Truman is far from a household tyrant, however. The White House staff has a deep affection and great respect for her. They were more overjoyed than anyone about Truman's victory. A porter said:

"We sure are glad to keep Mrs. Truman here. She's a wonderful lady to work for."

As far as running the White House staff is concerned, Mrs. Truman quickly lost her shyness. But the Mrs. Truman who insists on sparkling windows is different from the Mrs. Truman who greets the officials and diplomats at formal receptions. The former is a woman who like and understands a job. The latter is a woman who believe that the most satisfactory social function is a meeting of the Tuesday afternoon women's bridge club in Independence, Mo.

4-H Winners

Eloise Woodruff, 18, of Shallowater, is entered in a sectional Edward Foss Wilson leadership contest through which she could attend the national congress. A sophomore in Texas Tech, she has held every position in her home club. She attended the national 4-H congress in 1946, and the national 4-H club camp in 1947. She was part of a team demonstration on value of buying eggs on graded basis at the state 4-H roundup in 1946, was county dress revue winner of 1947, and Gold Star girl for the county in 1944. She has been a leader in county and district camps, instructing in handicraft. She was adult leader of the district camp in 1948, and member of the judging committee which selected the 1948 Gold Star girl. She was awarded a $100 scholarship by the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce on the basis of selection by classmates and faculty. She helps with all the work on a 320-acre cotton farm.

Have Outstanding Records

Mary Lou Crump, 16, of Shallowater, who won in the state records contest. In club work seven years, she has carried demonstrations in canning, sewing and cooking, poultry and gardening. She was county Gold Star girl in 1945, and won more prizes than any other girl at the fair here, taking first in the county in poultry, home improvement, canning, dairy food demonstration, food preparation, and record contests;

E. P. Wicker, 18, of Wilson, Garza county, has been in club work six years and carried demonstrations in beef calves, hogs, dairy cattle, poultry, and field crops. He started with two beef calves in 1942, won a registered gilt in the Sears Foundation contest in 1943 and from profits on this bought a registered Jersey heifer. After calving, the cow was sold but the calf won first at his county show and at the South Plains fair here. He has kept hogs every year, handling 28 head this year. His work with dairy cattle has been outstanding, and in 1947 he won the Kraft Gold Medal dairy award as well as a Texas Tech scholarship as outstanding junior showman at the fair here. In the U. S. Navy a while in 1948, his company commander recommended him for enrollment in the U. S. Naval academy, but necessity for a medical discharge put an end to that. Resuming 4-H club work, he showed both junior and senior champion heifers at the Garza county show, and grand champion dairy animal in open and junior divisions in the South Plains fair here;

Kenneth Acker, 16, of Nazareth, Castro county, has been in club work seven years, with demonstrations in swine, dairy cattle, and field crops. Twice unsuccessful to win a pig in the Sears contest, he won in 1945 and was awarded a Chester White boar. The boar took first place in an Amarillo show, which won him a Jersey heifer. Drouth plagued his field crop demonstrations, but he made money in 1946 by pasturing 80 head of cattle on wheat and row crop stubble. In 1948, he made a net profit of about $1,600 from 50 acres in hegari and sudan. He has been president of his club;

Lois Wilson, 17, of Morton, winner of the Montgomery Ward girls' record contest, has carried demonstrations in garden, yard, home improvement, bedroom improvement, clothing, dairy cows, swine, and poultry. She was county Gold Star girl in 1945 and a blue ribbon winner in the state dress revue. She is saving her profits for a college education, and as a member of the Talent club won an award of $25. She borrowed $140 from her college fund to add to the $25 and bought a dairy cow. She expects calves to add to her college fund. She is one of a family of six living on a 354-acre farm.

Cerebral Palsy

6541, Miss Snell announced.

Parents are welcoming the opportunity for regular advice on care of children who suffer cerebral palsy.

"Robert just lives for his trips to the treatment center, said Mrs. B. B. Reid of 705 Third, who took five-year-old Robert to the center Wednesday afternoon. Before the center opened in Lubbock, she said, she took him to Dallas once a year.

Concerning importance of the center to parents, Mrs. F. M. Allen, jr., of 122 Ave. W, offered this explanation, "You can't imagine!" Her two-year-old son, Jimmy, is the child who couldn't raise himself to a sitting position two months ago and who has shown remarkable improvement.

Patients are referred to the clinic by physicians. If they are under care of an orthopedic specialist before going to the treatment center, directions for treatment are obtained by the center from the specialist.

The Lubbock Nutrition club and the foods and nutrition department of Texas Technological college provide a nutritional consultant service for patients at the clinic, studying the child's diet each week and making suggestions.

The Rotary Anns, wives of Rotarians, have supplied educational toys and equipment for the center and members of that group do clerical work at the center.

"We're interested in the whole child," said Miss Snell. Attention is given to health habits and exercise, in addition to diet.

Effects of cerebral palsy may include inability to sit or stand or walk, almost no coordination of arms or legs, or muscles of speech or of eye muscles, said Miss Snell. Cerebral palsy may result from pre-natal or post-natal causes, she explained.

One child was 16 months old when she ran a high temperature, which may have been the cause of cerebral palsy which developed. Another child who had measles when three months old developed cerebral palsy.

are a great deal more solid than in any previous boom. The 75 per cent cash requirement for trading keeps Wall street on its good behavior, he said.

Washington still seems to fear further inflation more than deflation. If what has happened in the stock market since Nov. 2 causes some merchants and industrialists to hold up plans for construction and expansion, there are officials who will think Wall street has done the country a favor.

Major Powers Oppose Airing Berlin Case In UN Assembly

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, Nov. 12.—Russia and the Western powers were reported today to be opposed to airing the delicate Berlin deadlock in the United Nations general assembly.

Reliable sources said Argentine Foreign Minister Juan A. Bramuglia, November president of the security council, has asked U. N. Secretary-General Trygve Lie not to step into the Berlin case.

Sources close to Bramuglia said he was planning to deliver a similar message to Herbert V. Evatt, Australian external affairs minister and president of the assembly, who has been reported ready to raise the Berlin issue in the 58-nation assembly.

Financial Issue Studied

Lie earlier this week had instructed U. N. legal and financial experts to study the Berlin monetary question. This was on the theory that only the issue of making the Soviet zone mark Berlin's sole currency really prevented an accord which would result in lifting of the Soviet blockade.

In the negotiations by the neutrals last month to end the deadlock between East and West over Berlin, the two sides could not agree on whether the blockade should be lifted before the Soviet mark was made Berlin's only currency—or vice versa.

Russians Oppose Course

Western power delegates reportedly told Bramuglia the Berlin case should remain in the security council and not become the target of political oratory in the assembly. They said such a step would reduce the chances of an ultimate settlement.

Sources close to Bramuglia said Russia also did not want the issue brought up in the assembly, although possibly for different reasons. The Russians never wanted the security council, or any U. N. agency, brought into the case. They have insisted all German problems are in the province of the foreign ministers council of the Big Four powers.

In another U. N. development yesterday the U. S. told the U. N. social committee it reserves the right to bar from public employment any person holding "subversive belief." The statement came during debate on an article proclaiming everyone's right to take part in the government of his country directly or through freely chosen representatives, to have access to public employment in his country and to a government which confirms the will of the people.

Young Woman Held In Houston Slaying

HOUSTON, Nov. 12. (U.P.)—A 20-year-old woman was held today in connection with the shooting of Raymond Miller, 25, who she said was her common-law husband.

Miller was shot to death early today. The woman told police he was fatally wounded during a scuffle that started when she came home late.

Rites For Abernathy Man To Be Conducted

ABERNATHY, Nov. 12.—(Special)—Funeral services for Silas H. Daniel, 77 ,were to be conducted at 1:30 p. m. today in Abernathy First Baptist church, Rev. Cobb of Lockney officiating. The body was to be taken overland to Spur for burial, under direction of Rix Funeral home of Lubbock.

Mr. Daniel, a resident of Abernathy for 14 years, died early Thursday at his home here. He had become ill Tuesday while working in the yard.

Survivors include the wife; four daughters, Mrs. Anis Wright of Vernon, and Mrs. Letha Sampson, Mrs. Vera Millsap, and Mrs. Floy Gilbert, all of Lubbock; four sons, Vernon Daniel of Lockney, Louis Daniel of Rogers, N. M., Earl Daniel of Strathmore, Calif., and Frank Daniel of Alma, Ark.; 23 grandchildren, and seven great grandchildren.

Season Is Lucky For Former Haberdashers From Midwest

BROWNSVILLE, Nov. 12. (U.P.) This is a lucky season for middle-aged midwesterners who once operated clothing stores.

The latest example is Fay H. Houlton, Hawarden, Iowa, who has been named "typical tourist" of the lower Rio Grande valley. The honor carries with it a $1,000 vacation.

Houlton won the contest by coming nearest to measuring up to the statistical average of winter visitors to the valley. He rated high with the judges, also, because he walks, talks and even looks like another e -haberdasher—Harry S. Truman, the man who just took another four-year lease on that house on Pennsylvania avenue. He even wears the same kind of cap—a long-billed beanie.

Statistically, Houlton pleased the judges when he drove into the valley area last week in a 1942 sedan and said he intended to stay for the duration of the winter. That, according to statistics, was typical of all tourists.

Likes To Fish

He liked to fish, he remarked, which was just as the statistics showed he should.

Houlton and his wife are now enjoying their vacation by going deep sea fishing and taking plane trips over the valley. The junior chamber of commerce will pick up their guest checks during the winter months at motels, car service stations, and cafes, as well as plying the Houltons with curios and gift fruit to send back to friends in Iowa.

Playing With War Relic Fatal To Boy

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 12 (AP)—Tommie Coulter, 12, was accidentally shot to death last night while he and a companion played with a war relic, a German Luger.

Sgt. Charles Doerr of the San Antonio police department said the boy was accidentally killed when a loaded clip of bullets was slipped into the weapon and it fired.

PLANT IS WRECKED

CAIRO, Nov. 12. (AP)—A mysterious blast wrecked a publishing plant in Central Cairo this morning and police said rescue workers so far have dug out four dead and 29 wounded.
