Snyder FFA stock judged

Snyder FFA members conducted their chapter show Monday, an event in preparation for the Scurry County Junior Livestock Show which begins Thursday.

Chapter members exhibited some 150 animals at the Scurry County Coliseum ag annex for Sweetwater ag teacher Eddie Puckett. He worked through the field of 150 project animals in just over 4 hours.

Animals shown by Thad Springer, last year's champion lamb producer, were awarded first place in two classes and the top prize of grand champion lamb. Springer's winner was a heavyweight medium wool.

FFA members showed nine calves during the steer judging. Glenn Beaver claimed the champion's trophy while Matt Butram won the reserve champion ribbon.

The hog show featured 90 entrants and closed the day's show shortly after 5 p.m.

Puckett tagged Amy Camp's entry in the lightweight crossbred class for the title of grand champion. Trent Martin drove his heavyweight Duroc entry to the winner's circle and the reserve champion trophy.

Hermleigh FFA members were scheduled to take over the show arena Tuesday afternoon for their chapter show. It begins at 3:30 p.m.

Results of the Snyder FFA show Monday were:

ADDITIONAL RECOGNITION — The Scurry County commissioners court added their thanks Monday to honors already given Mary Nell Bullard, who served Scurry County as head librarian for some 26 years. Earlier, members of the Scurry County Library Board had treated Mrs. Bullard to a retirement party. The court gave her a plaque Monday to commemorate her service. County Judge Preston Wilson is shown presenting it Monday. Commissioners shown are (from left) Ted Billingsley, Bernhard Bartels and Eldon Perry. (SDN Staff Photo)

Administrator contracts given 1-year renewal

Contract extensions were granted to key administrative personnel for the Snyder Independent School District Monday during the February meeting of the school board.

The new contracts were granted based upon the recommendation of Superintendent Bill J. Hood.

Personnel granted one-year contract renewals were Jack Gorman, assistant superintendent for administration and personnel; Dr. Tom Scannicchio, assistant superintendent for instruction; David Noble, athletic director; Bill Sealy, maintenance director; Charlie Anderson, Bob Travis, Jim Irwin, Geri Parker, Wayne Kennedy and Frank Miller, elementary principals; James Stehley, junior high school principal; Bill Hartsfield, assistant junior high principal; Ray Courtney, high school principal; Lee Presswood, vice principal at SHS; and Ned Underwood, assistant principal at SHS.

Also Monday, the board granted two requests regarding the addition of new locker facilities for both junior high and high school athletics.

Athletic Director David Noble requested that 40 more lockers be constructed and installed in the junior high gymnasium.

It is proposed this will allow junior high youngsters going out for athletics to dress on campus rather than at Travis Field — a process that now requires busing.

With this change, school officials have also proposed switching the junior high football practice location from Travis Field to the area just west of the junior high building.

It is estimated this change will eliminate some 30 minutes per day travel time to and from the practice area.

With the request granted, school officials say the locker addition will be included in the 1984-85 budget.

Flynn to retire

After 26 years service, E.D. (Doug) Flynn has indicated this school year will be his last as business manager for the Snyder school district.

He currently holds one of the top four administrative posts in the district with the title assistant superintendent for business. Flynn joined the system as business manager on Sept. 1, 1957.

His resignation becomes effective Aug. 31.

College professor seeks state office

A Western Texas College professor is a candidate for statewide office to be decided in Houston this weekend at a joint convention of two Texas junior college organizations.

Richard Lancaster, associate professor of English, has been nominated for the office of secretary for the Texas Junior College Teachers Association. TJCRA will be conducting its convention in conjunction with the Texas Association of Junior and Community College Instructional Administrators (TAJCCIA).

In addition, Marilyn Lancaster, assistant professor of developmental studies and English at WTC, will serve as chair-

On this particular Wednesday night, Riggan was facing a new class where most of the class members would be considerably older than he.

The subject of unity came up and Riggan used the word "union" in place of "unity."

A mature gentleman in the rear of the class rose to make his point. "Union is not the same thing as unity. If you tie two cats together by the tail and pitch them over a line, you have union, but you sure don't have unity.

If you missed Monday's chamber of commerce luncheon, not only did you miss a chance to win some cash, you missed the best pep rally in years.

Chamber President John Jarrell and the board deserve all the credit for putting on the event. Jarrell asked veteran chamber man and public speaker Delbert Downing to present the program.

We appreciated Downing's remarks and his optimistic attitude as he targeted the quality of life and the many advantages of living in a community like Snyder.

Delbert asked everyone to become a charter member of his new organization of Snyder boosters. As Downing said, towns don't remain the same, they either go forward or they go backward.

It was a timely and needed reminder to us all to be part of the solution and not part of the problem.

Q. — How much was spent on the WTC president's home in 1983?

A. — The WTC board approved replacement of the home's original carpet at an expense of $4,404. Other expenses would be insurance costs, which are provided through the college, and utility bills, which are paid by the president.

In Brief

Food recalled, destroyed

By the Associated Press

More than a week after the federal government recommended limits on EDB in food, confusion over the pesticide persists with New Jersey grocers destroying tainted oranges, Massachusetts seeking stricter limits and Ohio adopting the federal standards.

Although many state officials hoped the Environmental Protection Agency would provide definitive information on the safety of ethylene dibromide, the advisory issued Feb. 3 appear to have raised as many questions about the suspect substance as they have answered.

Some states, including New Jersey, Maine, Virginia and Florida, have recalled contaminated foods. Others, such as Ohio, Washington and Texas, have adopted the federal standards. But many have taken no action at all, and states such as Massachusetts and New York have expressed doubt about whether the EPA's limits are stringent enough.

Jones's lawyers rest case

GEORGETOWN, Texas (AP) — Genene Jones' defense lawyers, apparently confident that their expert witnesses had poked holes in the state's murder case against the 33-year-old nurse, today rested their case without calling Ms. Jones to the witness stand.

Defense lawyer Jim Brookshire closed the case after calling six witnesses over three days. Four of the witnesses were medical experts who never saw the little girl Ms. Jones is accused of killing, but studied medical records and said it didn't look like a murder.

State District Judge John Carter today prepared to move the trial, now in its fifth week, into its next stage, rebuttal testimony from prosecutors.

Ms. Jones, a 33-year-old mother of two, is charged with killing the girl and injuring five other patients who came to the Kerrville pediatric clinic where she worked in the summer of 1982. She faces a possible life sentence if convicted.

Trainers to be left behind

Andropov is laid to rest in Red Square

MOSCOW (AP) — fire and whistle shrieks Saluted by volleys of gun- across his vast nation, Yuri V. Andropov was buried today in Red Square at the foot of the Kremlin wall among the past heroes of the Soviet Union.

His successor as Soviet leader, Konstantin U. Chernenko, hailed him as "an ardent champion of peace" and then the open red-draped coffin was carried around the mausoleum of V.I. Lenin, founder of the Soviet state.

Two men escorted Andropov's sobbing widow to the graveside, while his son and daughter stood nearby, appearing stricken with grief.

With tens of thousands of Soviet soldiers and civilians, and hundreds of diplomats and world leaders looking on, the coffin was lowered into the grave. The Kremlin bells rang and the sound of gunfire rumbled across Moscow.

The official press said the salutes would be echoed in dozens of cities across the country, while every factory, ship and train whistle blew in memory of the late president.

At Wit's End

by Erma Bombeck

At a party the other night, the women got on the subject of marriage contracts.

All of us agreed that the "better-or-for-worse, richer-or-for-poorer, sickness-and-in-health" deal was pretty ambiguous and had a lot of loopholes and room for interpretation.

Is she kidding? Realistically, she's talking about passion, and passion statistically consumes a national average of 26 minutes a week. That amounts to about a day a year. What about the other 364?

Besides, marriage contracts aren't just for the benefit of one partner. They spell it out for both parties.

My husband always felt like I should have marched down the aisle with a Buyer Beware sticker on my forehead. The week after we got married, I fell apart. My tonsils became infected, my teeth began to rot, the kidneys put me in the hospital, I got three childhood diseases and my vision went.

He said I would have made a great little fixer-upper for some pre-med student, but frankly he couldn't afford me on his salary.

He wasn't the only one who was disappointed. When he got a cold, the world stopped while he climbed into a warm bed and we all watched him cough. When I got a cold, I walked it to death.

We knew we owned the house together, yet for no apparent reason, I got the lawn. He was always saying to me, "Your grass is getting ahead of you. After awhile, you're going to have to rent a tractor to cut it."

He could never understand about the appliances. They were mine until the warranty ran out and they needed fixing, then they became HIS toaster and HIS mixer. Even though the septic tank was on MY lawn, it was always within his jurisdiction, especially when MY lawn began to fall away from it.

As for the kids, I never understood why they were his between 6 and 8 p.m. when they were clean or when they were in school pageants, and they were mine between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m., when they were hungry, throwing up, failing in school, or throwing a brick through someone's window.

A marriage needs rules, especially if you use up all that passion the first week and split. Who gets custody of the kids? The realtives? The friends?

I'd like to see marriage contracts that came up for renewal every so often so you could assess what you've got. Consider options, negotiate for better hours, more benefits, and who knows ... bring the gross national passion average up to 27 or 28 minutes a week!

Nearly 30 percent of the 120 million person work force in Latin America is currently unemployed or underemployed, according to the Inter-American Development Bank. Open unemployment in the region decreased from 6.6 percent to 5.8 percent between 1970 and 1980. However, in 1982 it rose to 7.4 percent, and indications are that it climbed to much higher levels in 1983.

New hairstyles are simple, versatile

CHICAGO (AP) — Hairstyles that work — for the woman and her lifestyle — will take a prominent fashion role this spring and summer, industry experts predict.

Hair silhouettes will be simple and narrow, and the blunt-cut, one-length bob will be a favorite among women of all ages, according to the Helene Curtis Hairstylists Advisory Board, a group of recognized professionals from around the country.

Perms are expected to provide the foundations for many of these styles.

"Bobs will be everywhere this spring, but there are so many possible variations that few women will look alike," comments board member Victor Figueroa of New York City. "My clients like the versatility of the bob, but want to personalize their hair fashion statement. To some this means soft, spiky bangs, to others, an asymmetrical design."

Michael Marks, Elkins Park, Pa., agrees that "simplicity and efficiency in design are key to a workable hairstyle that's fashionable as well. Today's woman doesn't have the time to fuss with a lot of unruly hair. She wants something that's fast, manageable and very versatile. I call it 'reality fashion.'

"Versatility will come in many ways: partial perms in areas where volume and support are needed will be popular; evening styles will be created instantly with a dab of styling mousse to control and slick one side behind the ears; a comb, barrette or bright jewel can be placed in the crest of a wave for accent; slightly messy strands of hair that fall out of the sleek silhouette of the bob will create a natural, casual wind-blown feeling.

While the bob will be the biggest hit of the season, Rocco Altobelli of Minneapolis-St. Paul sees other looks emerging on the fashion scene.

"Very short spiky curls, a tone-down version of the punk look from past seasons, the sensuous "Marilyn Monroe" fluffcut and even a super-short 'I.' cut for the very young and daring will make a fashion statement nationwide," he predicts.

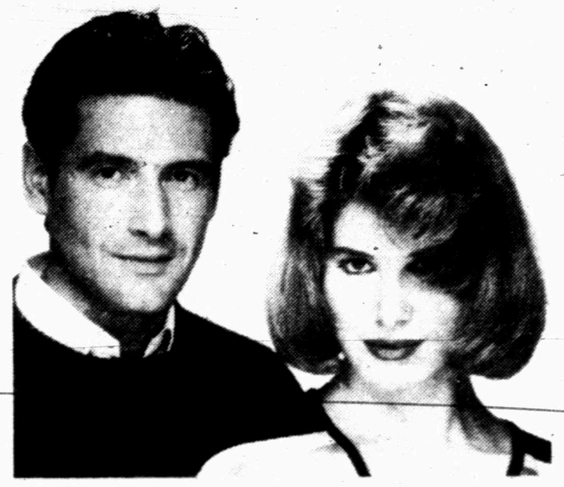

Rosalie Cantrell of Seattle also thinks "many women are ready to experiment with their hair. Asymmetric looks, combining several shapes in one haircut, will be quite right for the stylish woman. The side lengths can be longer or shorter depending on how dramatic an effect is desired."

While women are looking for more dramatic looks in their hairstyles, men, who patronize beauty salons in ever-increasing numbers, favor a more conservative look. Mario Tricoci of Oak Brook, Ill., finds that his male clientele "want to look very corporate, but are willing to have a perm, or add subtle color changes as long as it looks natural."

And although many of the spring hair fashion looks are smoother than in past seasons, the perm remains one of the most popular services in the salon.

"My clients who had the wild and frizzy perms of the late '70s have come to depend on the support and fullness only a perm can give. But now they add one more quick step, using a hot styling brush, curling iron or electric rollers to smooth the curl while leaving the volume."

EASY DOES IT—Clean, conservative looks for men, and softly simple hairstyles for women will be most popular this spring, according to the Helene Curtis Hairstylists Advisory Board. It will be a season in which easy-care hair and "quick changes" will be important. These styles are by board member Mario Tricoci of Oak Brook, Ill.

Dear Abby

Be a Sweetheart on St. Valentine's Day

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1984 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR READERS: Can you believe it's St. Valentine's Day again? Well, it is, so here's my updated annual message:

Be a sweetheart; call someone who's lonely and say, "I'm thinking of you." Or better yet, say, "I'm coming over to take you to lunch ... or to run some errands ... or to give you a ride." Visit someone in a nursing home or a prison. Say a prayer. Donate some blood. Adopt a pet. Will your eyes, your kidneys and all your usable organs to someone who can use them after you're gone. Quit smoking. Listen to your teen-ager. Write a fan letter. Tell your parents you think they're great. Pay your doctor. Spay your dog. Neuter your cat. Forgive an enemy. Register to vote. Hug a child. Listen to a bore. Send a donation to the Salvation Army, Care or to the charity of your choice.

If you love someone, tell him or her now; don't wait until next Valentine's Day to be a sweetheart again.

Love, ABBY

DEAR ABBY: Two years ago my mother died of a lingering illness. Now my father will soon remarry. The big problem: He is planning to take the diamond out of Mother's wedding ring and have it reset for his new wife.

My sister and I both voiced our objections for sentimental reasons. By the way, my mother promised the ring to my sister, but toward the end, she told Dad (in our presence) that if he needed to sell it for financial reasons it was OK with her.

I am shocked that Dad would actually give that diamond to another woman. He said it was just a piece of jewelry. When we told him that we disagreed with him on this point, he held to his position.

Abby, this woman my dad is marrying has been married before (she's a widow) and is not in need of any more jewelry. Is Dad wrong? Or are we? Whose ring is it?

MAD AT DAD

DEAR MAD: You say that your mother promised the ring to your sister unless your dad needed to sell it for financial reasons, so since your dad did not sell it, the ring "belongs" to your sister, which is what I would tell your dad were he to ask me.

However, he didn't ask me; you did. So my advice to you is to forget it unless you want to take your father to court for breaking a verbal contract, which I think is unthinkable.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 29-year-old married woman (no children) and do not have a job outside my home. My husband and I are very happy with our lives and we have an excellent relationship.

When I meet people for the first time, they usually ask, "And what do you do?"

I don't want to say, "I'm just a housewife." And I don't want to say, "I don't do anything," because actually I do a lot of cooking, cleaning, shopping, laundry and entertaining. I make a nice comfortable home for my husband and myself.

Abby, do you know of some witty comeback?

AT A LOSS FOR WORDS

DEAR AT: Don't say, "I'm just a housewife." Say proudly, "I hate to brag, but I'm a housewife."

The Pill after 40

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Is it safe to take birth control pills until menstruation has ceased? My doctor led me to believe this. But my gynecologist told me a woman must stop taking the Pill when she reaches 40. He said the side effects become too severe at that age. What are the side effects?

DEAR READER — I think new information about the birth control pill supports the idea that many women are able to take the Pill through menopause and that the benefits from using hormones, if needed after menopause, outweigh the dangers.

Women who are overweight, smoke and have high blood pressure should either lose weight, stop smoking and control their blood pressure, or they probably shouldn't use the Pill after 40.

If you don't have these problems, then there's no good reason not to use the Pill. I'd much rather see a woman correct her lifestyle and health and continue taking the Pill than keep on smoking and doing nothing about her weight and stopping the Pill.

The danger is an increased risk of heart attack. But as one study showed, only four in 1,000 women older than 45 who didn't smoke, didn't have high blood pressure and had normal cholesterol levels developed any evidence of heart disease in the following six years. If these same women used oral contraceptives and there were five who developed heart disease in six years, it would be reported as 125 percent of the rate in non-users. That's how you get some of those wild news stories. In reality, there was only one in 1,000 more in users vs. non-users.

The risk of cancer from using oral contraceptives has actually decreased. The question of uterine cancer was always limited to endometrial cancer, not cervical cancer. Endometrial cancer is rarely a cause of death. There are only about 3,000 endometrial cancer deaths a year in the United States, compared to more than 30,000 deaths from breast cancer.

I've discussed these various fears in relation to new studies in the Health Letter SR-12, Oral Contraceptives and Postmenopausal Estrogens, which I'm sending you. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I have cold sores on my lip. A neighbor told me they were herpes and said smallpox vaccinations would cure them. Is this so? I've never found anything to relieve these sores when they come.

DEAR READER — That was an old idea that's no longer supported. Smallpox and herpes viruses have no basic relationship to each other. The only licensed maker of smallpox vaccine in the United States is Wyeth Laboratories. They have discontinued the distribution of smallpox vaccines for the civilian population. The morbidity and mortality weekly report from the Centers for Disease Control in Atlanta stated that the lack of availability of the smallpox vaccine for the civilian population should end its misuse in attempts to prevent or treat herpes.

Oswald: "Here is Edgar Kaplan at his best. I was North and, as you can see, I got him to seven hearts after he had opened with one spade. The bidding wasn't elegant, but it was effective and gave Edgar a chance to show expert technique.

"Dummy's ace of diamonds took the first trick. Edgar cashed my ace of clubs, ruffed a club, cashed his ace of hearts and led a heart to the king. If both opponents followed, he would ruff a club, come to dummy to draw the last trump and claim, but East showed out.

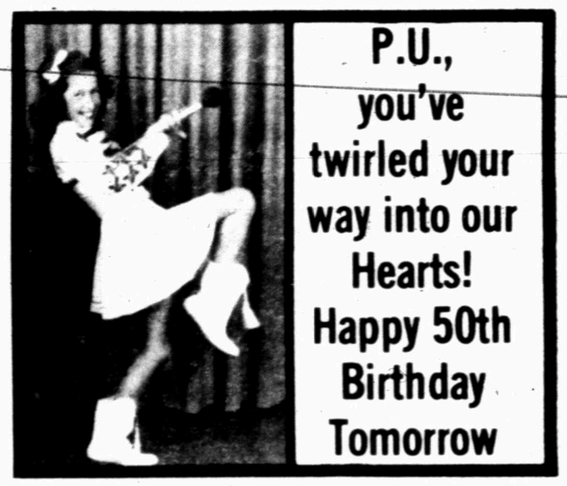

"Edgar had to lead a heart to his jack. He cashed his king of diamonds and chucked one of my clubs. Back to dummy with the ace of spades to pull West's last trump.

"If East had been dealt four clubs and four spades, he would have been squeezed at this point. East wasn't squeezed, but Edgar was a winner if either black suit broke. He cashed my ace of clubs. The queen dropped, and the slam was home.

"Nothing exciting, but at the other table Dick Pavlicek opened a club against that same grand slam, and declarer worked on spades instead of clubs. He was down one since Dick trumped the second spade."

NASA scrubs July mission due to cancellation

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — A space shuttle mission that had been scheduled for July will be scrubbed because the Department of Defense is removing a secret payload that had been scheduled for launch, a space agency official says.

An Air Force spokesman confirmed Monday night that the secret payload would not be launched in July.

Glynn S. Lunney, space shuttle program director at the Johnson Space Center, said he had not been told of the Air Force plans, but that without that cargo the July mission will not be launched.

"If they are removing the payload, then we won't fly," said Lunney.

Air Force spokesman Maj. Ron Rand said Monday night that the Department of Defense secret payload "will not be there" for the July launch.

"We have dropped from the mission we had scheduled in July," said Rand. "The DOD will not have anything to fly on that mission."

He declined to give further comment, citing DOD policy.

NASA administrator James Beggs said last week that the July flight was "in jeopardy".

Other NASA officials had said that the Air Force may not fly the secret payload because of problems with the Inertial Upper Stage, a rocket booster used to send payloads of 5,000 pounds or more from the low orbit of the shuttle to geostationary orbit 22,300 miles above the Earth.

The IUS failed last April and left the $100 million Tracking and Data Relay Satellite in a low, elliptical orbit. Engineers were able to raise the satellite to its proper high orbit by firing its small rocket thrusters repeatedly over several months time.

After the April failure, a DOD-shuttle mission that had been scheduled for the fall was cancelled.

An investigation by NASA and the Air Force has been underway since April into the IUS failure, but Air Force Lt. Gen. James A. Abrahamson, NASA's associate administrator for spaceflight, said in a briefing last week that the IUS problem has not been solved.

Failure of a similar, but smaller booster, the Payload Assist Module, left two commercial satellites stranded in low Earth orbit during the space shuttle mission that was completed last Saturday.

NASA officials have expressed concern that the PAM failure may cause a commercial customer to reschedule or cancel a satellite set to be deployed from the shuttle in June. The customer, the Canadian government, had scheduled a satellite that would use the PAM.

Both the IUS and PAM are solid rocket boosters. Their failures led Abrahamson last week to suggest that there may basic flaws in the engineering design or manufacture of the current generation of solid rockets.

A cancellation of the July mission will leave four astronauts earthbound for a second time. Thomas K. Mattingly, Loren Shriver, Ellison Onizuka and James Buchli were set to have flown the military mission cancelled last fall, and were to be the crew for the July mission.

Testimony begins in pre-trial case

DALLAS (AP) — A Garland police detective testified today that black engineer Lenell Geter told him that two fellow employees of a defense contractor and a third man whom the officer could not remember were responsible for a series of Dallas-area robberies.

But under questioning by defense attorneys, Lt. Patrick Martinkus said he made no notes of the jailhouse conversation and obtained no signed or taped statements from Geter.

Martinkus also said he asked Geter about the robbery of a Taco Bell he had been arrested for, and Geter said repeatedly "I don't know what you're talking about."

The testimony came during the second day of a pre-trial hearing in which attorneys have asked State District Judge John Ovard to dismiss the case against Geter.

After being convicted of a robbery in the southeast Dallas suburb of Balch Springs and sentenced to life in prison, Geter, 26, spent nearly 16 months in prison. After news reports raised doubts about his guilt, he was released in December and granted a new trial.

Martinkus said he learned of Geter from Plano police who had first heard about him from a Greenville police lieutenant.

He said he obtained photographs of Geter and his roommate, Anthony Williams, who has been acquitted of a similar robbery.

One eyewitness to the Taco Bell robbery in Garland picked Geter out of a photographic lineup, and a second did not.

Retail sales rise reported

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sales by U.S. retailers rose a strong 2.2 percent in January, the biggest increase since May, the Commerce Department reported today.

Total sales, spurred by good showings for cars and food, reached a one-month record of $104.4 billion. The 2.2 percent rise from December sales was the biggest since a 3.1 percent jump in May 1983. Then the nation's economic recovery was being spurred by a strong surge in consumer buying.

In recent months, however, the surge in consumer spending has slowed somewhat, including a tiny 0.1 percent December increase in retail sales. That figure surprised a lot of analysts who were expecting the December selling season to be at a record pace.

However, the strong upturn in January sales bolstered the belief by many analysts that December sales were held down by unusually severe weather.

"January weather was a little better than December and people were able to get out and spend the money," said David Berson, an economist with Wharton Econometrics.

Commerce Secretary Malcolm Baldrige said the robust sales reflected growing consumer confidence in the nation's economic health reflected by "expanding household incomes, lower inflation and smaller tax burdens."

"Though we should expect some slowing of retail gains after last year's heavy growth, consumer spending should continue to participate fully in the economy's healthy expansion," he said in a statement.

Automotive sales continued strong, rising 1.2 percent from December and were 33.3 percent ahead of the level of January 1983. The $21.3 billion in sales was a new record for a single month.

Food sales were up 2.7 percent from December with some of that rise attributed to the fact that prices also went up in January.

The January 2.2 percent jump in total sales compared to a 1.1 percent increase in November and a 1.7 percent hike in October.

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — Author Mickey Spillane, creator of tough-guy detective Mike Hammer, has a new book in the works, but admits he's "not too far into it."

"I can afford to be lazy now," says the 65-year-old Spillane, who has been busy making beer commercials while the new television series "Mickey Spillane's Mike Hammer" climbs in the ratings on CBS.

Spillane, who lives in Murrells Inlet along the South Carolina coast, attended ceremonies Monday at the Charleston Veterans Administration Hospital marking national Salute to Hospitalized Veterans Week.

He was asked if the new book is in the Mike Hammer "genre."

"You guys use that awful word," he quipped. "There's something about that word. It sounds indecent."

"It's a novel," he said. "It's a Mike Hammer novel."

Reagan challenges Chernenko

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Reagan administration, seizing on conciliatory statements by Soviet Communist Party General Secretary Konstantin U. Chernenko, is challenging him "to move from words to deeds" in building a constructive Soviet-American relationship.

But President Reagan appears to be ruling out a "get-acquainted" meeting with Chernenko, suggesting in an interview published today that a summit must be preceded by extensive preparations and hold a prospect of success.

Reagan, in an interview with Knight-Ridder newspapers, recalled a 1967 summit between President Johnson and Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin and said: "There was a kind of great letdown when ... all they did was, really get acquainted, and the world was waiting for maybe a solution to some problems."

But the State Department, ignoring hard-line aspects of Chernenko's speech Monday before the Communist Party Central Committee, welcomed the new Soviet leader's stated willingness to "assist through practical deeds in lessening international tensions."

The State Department also found encouragement in an article, written before the death of Soviet President Yuri Andropov, in which Chernenko said it is "more important than ever before to multiply our efforts toward mutual understanding."

The administration statement reflected its view, first outlined a month ago in a speech by Reagan, that the Soviets may be more willing to negotiate seriously now that the United States has showed resolve in such areas as military spending, Grenada and Central America.

Chernenko demonstrated some resolve of his own Monday, asserting the Soviet Union would match any security threat from the "hot heads of militant adventurists" in the West.

There was little expectation here that the Soviet succession — only the fifth in its 66-year history — will produce any short-term improvement in superpower relations.

U.S. officials said the problems of U.S.-Soviet relations are too complex for any short-term remedies.

Westerners knock off 20th ranked Howard, 73-72

By BILL McCLELLAN
SDN Sports Editor

BIG SPRING – Michael Porter and Jerry Stroman delighted the crowd with their outside shooting here Monday night but it was Western Texas' Larry Banks who had them gaping in awe.

Banks left Howard fans stunned and Western backers in delirium when he shot over two would-be defenders to hit a 30-foot jumper at the buzzer and propell the Westerners past the No. 20 ranked Howard Hawks, 73-72.

The rest of the Westerner team immediately swamped the 6-5 sophomore from Navasota, knocking him to the Dorothy Garrett Coliseum floor in their jubulation. Even Coach Barry Davis joined in.

"We need that," said a happy Coach Davis after the game. "We knew we could play with them. We let the last one slip away but tonight the guys showed a lot of heart, a lot of pride."

Davis was refering to the Dec. 8 game when Western lost to the Hawks 70-66 in overtime. In the waning moments here it appeared history might repeat itself.

The Westerners held a 71-68 advantage when Richie Fells scored with just 27 seconds left in the game. But Western was whistled for a foul 17 seconds later, and Howard's Anthony Snooks went to the line. Snooks bagged the first freethrow, but missed the second. Teammate James Johnson grabbed the rebound and put it back up for the tying points. Much to Davis' dismay, the officials also called WTC's Eugene Lewis for a foul on the play. And with eight seconds left, Johnson scored the go-ahead freethrow.

"It was a million in one chance that they would get the rebound and put it back in," Davis said. "And it was probably a zillion in one chance that we would foul and they would make a three-point play out of it. I thought he pushed off. I thought it should have been an offensive foul."

Undaunted, Western got the ball to midcourt and called time out with four ticks left on the clock. When the teams returned to the court, Richie Fells inbounded to Banks, who first tried to find an open man, couldn't, then doubled pumped and tossed up the winning points.

The victory left Western at 16-8 for the season - already the best record for WTC since the 1979-80 campaign.

"Overall we kept our composure, even in the final seconds. And Larry made a great shot," said Davis. "When you are on the road you have to play well, especially against a team like Howard College. They are are well coached and they have excellent talent."

The game was so close that a final tally of the statistics showed both teams shot 29 of 51 from the field (57 per cent) and pulled down 20 rebounds. A running total of the game indicated the same. Neither team led by more than six points the entire contest and from 6:26 in the second half to 2:04, the lead changed sides with every bucket - nine straight times.

Western led most of the way, though as mentioned, never by more than six points. Howard took a 27-26 advantage with 3:53 before halftime, a 39-38 lead at 16:40 to go in the game, a 56-55 lead at the 6:26 mark, and a 72-71 lead when Johnson converted the three-point play with eight seconds to go. WTC stayed in front or even the rest of the time.

Howard was bouyed by the hot (12 of 19) outside shooting of 6-4 freshman Michael Porter, who put in 20-foot shots the way most players drop in layups. Another sophomore, 6-6 Jerry Stroman, also targeted the outside jumper well for the Hawks.

But Western's defense on the inside helped to undo the highly-touted Hawks. While Stroman accounted for 24 points and Porter for 22, 6-8 Anthony Snooks got only 3 points and 6-9 Al Holland picked up 4. Johnson, a 6-4 sophomore, did score 15, but nine were from the freethrow line. He had only three field goals.

Banks scored 26 for the Westerners, and he got help. Fells scored 15 and Lewis added 12, while Fred Johnson and Melroy Butler added 6 apiece and Jeff Gibson and guard Billy Chambers had 4.

Chambers' who had 13 assists on the night, was a key figure for the Westerners, despite putting up what appeared to be a poor shot late in the game when Western was deliberately looking for the best opening possible. But Davis defended the freshman.

"I expect every player on the team to believe he is going to make any shot he puts up. I expect him to be the most surprised person in the place if it doesn't," said Davis. "So when Billy shot that shot, or whatever shot, I know he thought he would make it."

If that's true, one might observe with tongue in cheek that when Western needed a miracle, it ahh... took it to the Bank(s).

Freshmen will be back for OC

BIG SPRING -- Freshmen Victor Spencer and Anthony Smith did not suit up for Western Texas' game with Howard College but Coach Barry Davis said they will be ready when the team goes to Odessa on Thursday.

"It was no big thing, really. Victor's mother has been ill and they went up to see her. They apparently had a mix up with their transportation and missed workout Sunday," said Davis. "It wasn't that they missed the workout, but they didn't call and let us know anything and Phil (assistant coach Phil Spradling) and I were worried they might have had an accident or something. Everything would have been fine if they had called us. This (the suspension) is just a one-game thing. We're looking forward to having them back for Odessa," the coach added.

Western has an 8 p.m. tipoff against the Wranglers. WTC's women will also play in Odessa Thursday, at 6 o'clock

Dusters stumble to Hawk Queens

BIG SPRING -- Western Texas College's Dusters rolled the dice and came up with snake eyes here Monday, losing to Howard College's Hawk Queens 72-69.

The loss put Western in second place in the conference with a 7-2 record. The Dusters are 22-6 on the season. Western's next opponent, Odessa, was idle Monday and took over first place in the Western Junior College Athletic Conference (WJCAC) standings with a 10-1 record.

"We came down in situations where we had an opportunity to go ahead and we kept making stupid mistakes, walking, throwing the ball away," said Cushing. "We had plenty of chances. You have to give Howard credit. All we can do now is get our heads up for Odessa on Thursday. We've got to be ready."

Howard didn't really need too much credit. Though the Queens undoubtedly played well, it was obvious that something, from somewhere, was watching over them.

Not only did Western struggle offensively, the Queens got some amazing shots off at the 30-second buzzer. The toss-it-up and hope kind. And they fell.

It was a good spectator contest. The game was tied nine times in the second half and the lead switched partners on four occasions. Howard led most of the way, though never by more than four points.

Western went in front with Mary Nell Clayton's freethrows at the 15:47 mark, lost the lead, and finally regained it when Clara Campbell stuck up a rebounded ball with 1:42 to play, 67-66.

Western had two opportunities to go ahead by three points, but couldn't convert. And when Janene Berry's off balance, hook shot from 17 feet hit as the 30-second clock sounded, Western fans knew it wasn't their night.

"They did make a few unbelievable shots right when it looked like we had them on the 30-second clock," agreed Cushing, shaking his head. "But we had our chances."

The clincher came when Western still found no success on offense and was forced to foul. Howard, which hadn't been hitting well from the line, was four of five in the final 30 seconds to wrap up the victory. It was still a one-point game with when Molly Early went to the line with 18 seconds left. The sophomore put in both freethrows to seal the game for the Queens.

Clayton led the Dusters with 23 points. Karen Kuykendall had 12 and Campbell added 11. Rhonda Hoelting bagged eight points and Renvy Evans scored 6.

Western got 10 rebounds from Kuykendall and seven apiece from Campbell and Evans. The Dusters outrebounded the hosts 41 to 30.

Despite WTC's domination on the boards, the Dusters turned the ball over 17 times and shot only 38 per cent (26 of 69) from the field.

Howard, meanwhile, was 50 per cent (31 of 62) from the floor. The Queens got 25 points from Terri Moore, 14 from Early and 10 from Berry. Alex Provencio added 7.

Tigers needing help for playoff position

Snyder's Tigers, whether to cling desperately to playoff hopes or to improve in the 2-4A standings, can play a part in the overall race tonight when they take on Andrews at 7:45 in Scurry County Coliseum.

A boys junior varsity game will be held at 6. Snyder girls wrapped up their season last weekend.

Other 2-4A action tonight has Pecos at Sweetwater, Lamesa at Monahans and Lake View at Fort Stockton.

In a game played Monday, Andrews clinched a share of the girl's crown by ripping Lake View 69-42. Andrews is slated to face Sweetwater tonight at 7:30 in Big Spring for the 2-4A championship. The loser will be the district runnerup and also participate in postseason play.

Here at home tonight, Coach Larry Scott's 7-5 Tigers need some outside help to have a chance at the boy's runnerup spot and a playoff berth. Andrews, 9-3, would have to lose to Snyder tonight and to Sweetwater on Friday. In addition, 8-4 Sweetwater would have to lose tonight to Pecos and beat Andrews this weekend.

Pecos is also 7-5 and needs a similar situation to get into the playoffs. The Eagles host Snyder on Friday.

Andrews meanwhile, needs a win tonight to keep from slipping into a tie with Sweetwater.

So, fire up the playoff possibilities, add pride and the fact that Andrews and Snyder are becoming something of rivals on the basketball court, and tonight's contest has the makings of a classic shootout. Andrews defeated the Tigers earlier this season by a 61-45 score. The Mustangs outscored Snyder 18-10 in the second quarter in a game that was closer than the final tally indicates.

Darrell Collins keys the Mustang attack. Collins, averaging 21 points this season, scored 30 in Andrews' first game with the Tigers. Other top players for AHS are Danny Neighbors, Lester Abron and Mike Campbell.

Snyder is 11-16 for the season. Andrews is 19-8.

Strickland's clearance sale is best time to buy new Quasar

QUASAR CLEARANCE SALE Let Mark or Pauline Strickland show you how you can save up to $200 on a quality Quasar television. (SDN Staff Photo)

Everyone knows the quality that goes into the making of a Quasar television. And everyone knows the fine service you get from Quasar products. But what you may not know, is that right now, you can get an even better deal on a Quasar during Strickland TV's Clearance Sale.

Hoyle Dean and Pauline Strickland have marked down every television set in the store for this sale, reflecting savings to you of up to $200 with trade in! So, if you've even considered a new set, now is the time to see them at Strickland TV, located at 2413 College Ave.

In addition to television, the Stricklands carry the finest in microwave ovens and stereo equipment, and, of course, satellite antennas.

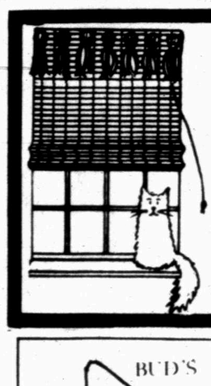

Satellite antennas have shown themselves to be one of the greatest advances in TV reception. Anyone can enjoy the benefits of a satellite, but particularly they are enjoyed in rural areas where cable TV isn't available or in areas where antenna reception is poor.

Strickland carries two of the finest brands of satellite antennas, the Prodeline and the Apollo X9. Go by and let them show you the wonder of almost unlimited viewing.

By the way, we need to mention that almost anything that Hoyle Dean sells, he will also rent on a rent-to-own plan. THIS EVEN INCLUDES THE SATELLITE ANTENNAS! If you rent the antenna for three years, then it's yours. And during the rental period, Strickland takes care of all maintenance and repairs.

Strickland's slogan down through the years has been "I service what I sell", and it still applies. For the best in service after the sale, see Strickland's TV.

Central Tire is the place to go for a complete vehicle checkup

Even though there is still a slight hint of winter in the morning air, afternoons have seemed like spring is here. For carefree driving in this nice weather, you need to make sure your car is in good condition.

Whether your needs are for a general tune-up, exhaust work, brake work, or checking the air conditioner, Central Tire, located at 1510 25th St. is the place to go.

If your car is sluggish after the cold weather we have had, a tune-up may be the answer to your problem. And while you have your car at Central Tire, a check-up for the air conditioner and brakes may save you time now and trouble later.

They are also experts in exhaust systems. If you've been smelling car fumes when you drive, chances are you need to see Central Tire now. They can also help you with the custom exhaust systems that so many cars now have.

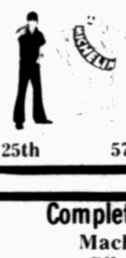

Being without a car even for just a little while is certainly an inconvenience with our busy schedules, but a checkup is well worth it to prevent a problem during a time you can't afford it. So take the time now and save time and headaches later.

Of course, Central Tire is the tire headquarters for Snyder. They carry Michelin and MultiMile tires. They also balance tires and can align your car's front end. Central Tire has up-to-date equipment to put your car in excellent running condition.

For all around car care, stop by Central Tire and Automotive Service, or call them at 573-3567. Let them explain the difference a check-up for your car can make now.

King James II, the last Roman Catholic monarch of England, died in 1701 after 13 years in exile and abortive attempts to regain the throne from which he had been deposed.
