Ozro Bartlett Longtime Area Resident, Dies

Ozro Bartlett, 76, died in Collingsworth General Hospital at 1:40 a.m. Wednesday, January 3, after an extended period of ill health. The family home is 1601 Childress Street.

A retired farmer, he spent most of his life in Collingsworth County. He had come here in the early years of this century.

He was active in community life over a long period.

Mr. Bartlett was born April 5, 1902, in Bridgeport, the son of the late P.L. and Ida Sheppard Bartlett, who came to the Wellington area in late 1904.

The family lived in Oregon in the early 1950s, returning here in 1957.

Funeral services were conducted at the Kelso Chapel at 10:30 Saturday, Jan. 6, with the Rev. Ron Wheeler, pastor of First Christian Church, and the Rev. Stanley Hughes, pastor of First Baptist Church, officiating. Burial was in Fairview Cemetery under the direction of Kelso Funeral Home.

Pall bearers were Johnny Carson, Billy Langford, Jimmy Langford, Louis Allred, Herschel Mayhugh, and Henry Sullivan. Honorary pall bearers were Zook Thomas, Sandy Parsons and Raymond Neeley.

Surviving Mr. Bartlett are his wife; two daughters, Mrs. Earl Clark, and Mrs. Ronald (June) Hoeft of Pendleton, Oregon; one son, Joe Bartlett of Boardman, Oregon; 15 grandchildren and 8 great grandchildren. Sisters-in-law here are Mrs. E.F. Bartlett and Mrs. Georgia Bartlett, and there are a number of nieces and nephew.

Two daughters and a son preceded him in death, Billie as an infant, Bonnie Bartlett Clark, and J.L. Bartlett, who died last year.

AMBULANCE OFFICERS

Officers and directors of Collingsworth Volunteer Ambulance Service meet following the annual meeting. Seated are Mrs. H.H. Bowen, director, and Mrs. Margaret Vines, secretary since its organization. Standing from left are Dennis Cudd; N.E. Childers; Bob Watson, president; Marshall Peters, vice president; Tom Anderson and Ralph Owens.

YH Sponsors CPR Course Jan. 18-19

The American Heart Association basic cardio-pulmonary resuscitation course will be offered in Wellington Thursday and Friday, January 18 and 19.

The 8-hour course will be held at the National Guard Armory from 6:00 to 10:00 p.m. each evening. Instructors will be Tom Anderson and John Brown.

The 8-hour course is sponsored by Wellington Young Homemakers and is the outgrowth of a program Anderson gave at a recent chapter meeting. A number of the YH members and several husbands have registered for the course. However, it is open to anyone wishing to enroll and the only charge is

"This will cover basic life support for both adults and infants, and also we will give instruction on what to do for a choking victim by the Heimlich maneuver.

Skills practice will utilize the mannequin ResusAnne and ResusBaby.

Anderson is a state certified Emergency Medical Technician and CPR instructor. He is affiliated with Clarendon College and has taught courses there, at Memphis, Shamrock and Wellington. Brown is certified as a CPR teacher.

CPR instruction was given approximately 100 Collingsworth County residents in 1978.

The Livestock Show: Good Animals and Good Kids

It's our pleasure at Warrick's to call your attention to the annual Livestock Show that Collingsworth County young people will hold at the Youth Project Show Barn at 8th and Amarillo Streets on Saturday.

We're proud to have had a part as dealer for the feed with which some fattened their stock.

The Show's interesting for observers, so plan to attend Saturday, January 13 at 1 p.m.

Fire Department Has Annual Dinner

Wellington Volunteer Fire Department members held their annual dinner Monday evening, December 8. This is traditionally given to honor the wives.

The county had 67 fires during 1978, with more than half of these in the rural area, Fire Chief David Peters told the group. Among the 24 in town fires, were three cars and six pickups and 7 truck-trailers. There were only five dwellings and two businesses and four business structures.

The two major fires were those at Thomas Brothers Grocery and the Gulf Service Station which also involved three vehicles.

Peters and department President Dan Langford agreed that the schools the men have attended paid off, although extinguishing the blazing gasoline transport truck could never be simulated in any school.

A letter from Wellington State Bank, with a $100 donation was read. Other donations following the gasoline truck fire have included $30 from Nash Texaco; Leon Hartman $25, and a donation from Verdel Masten for work putting out a cotton fire.

Langford was master of ceremonies.

Door prizes for the meeting were given by His and Hers Beauty Salon, Thomas Boys Grocery, Gibsons Discount Stores, Thriftway, C&H Pharmacy, Lyman's Automotive, Montgomery Ward, Said's Department Store, Holland's Livestock Supply Holton's Exxon, Owens Farm Supply, Sullivan's Hardware, Langford Conoco, Duane's Exxon, Clark Chevrolet, Lewis Grocery and Wellington Lumber Co.

Fire department members and their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Green, Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Doc Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Keller, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Larned, Mr. and Mrs. Danny Gray,

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Davis and the department mascot, Dell Davis, Jeff Langford, Carroll Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Martin, Mr. and Mrs. John Henard III, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Wilkerson,

Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Holland, Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Colson, Mr. and Mrs. Buster Hughs, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Sikes,

Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Sheer, Mr. and Mrs. Emmitt Skelton, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Anders, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wayne Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Peters, Mr. and Mrs. Langford and Virginia Robey.

Mrs. Ken Carman Here from Florida

Mrs. Ken Carman of Ft. Walton Beach, Florida, spent Christmas in Austin with her daughter, Cynthia Kay Carman, who is reporter-announcer for Station KTVV-TV in Austin.

Mrs. Carman then spent a few days in Wellington visiting her mother, Mrs. J.G. Hunt, and sisters, Mrs. Bettye Conant and son David Conant, and Mrs. Boyd Houcin and son Greg Houchin of Altus, Okla.

Her husband, Lt. Col. Ken Carman, who had visited here many times, died on October 28, at Wilford Hall Hospital, Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio.

Funeral services were conducted at Ft. Walton Beach, then his body was returned to San Antonio for burial in the National Cemetery at Ft. Sam Houston.

Lt. Col. Carman had served in the Air Force 33 years. He was stationed at posts in the United States and twice in Vietnam. His last overseas assignment was in Manila, Philippine Islands.

In addition to his wife and daughter, he is survived by a son, Kenneth Arthur Carman of Denver, Colorado.

Commissioners Hold First 1979 Session

The Commissioners Court held its first meeting of the new term Monday, January 8, taking care of a 25 item agenda of routine business. Most of these were first-of-the-year items and those relating to a change in administration, according to Judge Bob Watson.

The court voted to advertise for the county depository for the coming two years, as is required by law, and to advertise for supplies, material, fuel and oil.

The salary grievance committee, another legal requirement, was set up to include the county judge as the presiding officer, without a vote, the county clerk, county treasurer and county attorney as three members. The other three were drawn from the grand jury list for the previous year and include Mrs. Carl Wischkaemper, Andy Henard and Mrs. Raymond Ford.

Judge Watson announced that representative of Lone Star Gas were due to meet with the Commissioners at 1:15 p.m. Thursday to discuss the bill for $16,423 sent the County for repairs to a gas line 12 miles southwest of Wellington that was cut by a county maintainer.

The commissioners also voted to furnish fuel for the Department of Public Safety

Man Charged In 5-Vehicle Pile-up Mon.

A 5-vehicle pile-up occurred Monday afternoon, Jan. 8, when a county man drove into the wrong traffic lane on the south side of the square about 1:20 p.m. Three of the 5 vehicles were parked.

Chief Deputy Jerry Settle, who with Sheriff John Rainey investigated the accident, gave this account:

Clemon Blakes, Jr., driving west on 9th Street, failed to move his car slightly right into the west bound traffic lane when he entered the square, but continued directly ahead, into the east-bound lane, where his car hit the left front of the car driven by Bessie Rainer.

The Blakes vehicle then hit a car belonging to Mrs. Kelly Pigg, which was spun around, and another owned by Mrs. E.B. Seale, which was slammed into the side of a late model pickup belonging to Donnie Barnett. All three were in the center parking lane and unattended, Settle said.

"It is our estimate the Pigg, Seale and Blakes cars were totaled, and there was moderate damage to Miss Rainer's car and Barnett's pickup," the deputy continued.

Blakes was filed on for driving on the wrong side of the road not passing and being unable to control speed.

He was released from county jail only three hours earlier when he was held on a complaint of destruction of private property, stemming from an incident at Loving Living Retreat, according to Settle.

On Tuesday, Blakes was taken to Vernon State Hospital under an order of protective custody, signed by County Judge Bob Watson. A hearing in the case was due at mid-week, possibly Wednesday, the judge said.

Visitors in Handley Home

Holiday visitors in the home of Mrs. Bura Handley were her children, grandchildren and great granddaughter.

They were Mr. and Mrs. Ted Brock and Jackie Brock of Portales, N.M.; Joe Brock of Memphis; Miss Janet Brock, a student in Abilene Christian University, Abilene; also

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Brock, Jill and Jeanna of Amarillo; LeLand Bonneau of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Caillet and Andrea Faye of Garland; and a nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Winters of Denver, Colorado.

The Brock men were here for several days and did some quail hunting.

The Ted Brocks also visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A.J. Neeley. The group also visited in the home of an aunt, Mrs. Charlie Hill.

Others visiting Mrs. Handley and Mrs. Hill were their sister, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gafford of Crowell, while, Mrs. Handley's guests were Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Brock of Phoenix, Arizona.

W.C. Pitts, 49, Dies at Midland

A former county resident, W.C. Pitts, 49, of Midland, died Thursday, December 28. His death was attributed to a heart attack.

Mr. Pitts, who was a captain with the Midland Fire Department, would have retired January 9 after 28 years service. He was also employed with Hargrove Parts and Sales.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. C.E. Pitts and a brother of the Rev. Elvis Pitts.

He was born January 9, 1929 and graduated from Quail High School in 1946. He grew up in the Swearingen Community, living there until he moved to Midland in 1950.

Funeral services were conducted at Ellis Funeral Chapel Midland, with the Rev. Ross Payne, pastor of Cotton Flat Baptist Church, officiating. Pall bearers were firemen of Central Fire Station.

Survivors are his wife, Diane; one son, W.C. Pitts, Jr. of Midland, three step-daughters; his parents and brother.

Our President's Flag, was adopted May 29, 1916 by President Woodrow Wilson.

C-C Nominates Officers, Begins Banquet Plans

Chamber of Commerce directors Monday night, Jan. 8 began plans for the annual banquet and accepted a slate of nominees for office to serve during 1979.

Dr. W.P. Estes and Virginia Robey were named to the banquet program committee, while Mrs. Margaret Vines and Mrs. Dorothy McGill are on the food committee. The board agreed to have Bill McCutchen of Childress cater the banquet again this year.

All board members will sell tickets.

Nominated for president was Robert Owens, now the first vice president. Others are Miss Robey, first vice president; Mrs. McGill, second vice president; Billy Moseley, treasurer.

Nominated for two-year terms as director are Mrs. Frances Holland and Lyman Daniel, who is the retiring president. Howard Murdock was nominated for an unexpired term to end in January 1980. Retiring from the board will be Bobo Castleberry and Jack Neeley.

The board voted to contribute $300 to the Youth Livestock Show, which will be held Saturday.

Daniel presided, and others present were Mrs. Vines, executive secretary, Mike Naylor, Johnny Nash, Bill Hatch, Mrs. McGill, Miss Robey and Dr. Estes.

Student Financial Aid Meet Explains Loans, Scholarships

A meeting of Wellington High School seniors and their parents on how to obtain college financial aids will be held Thursday, January 18, in the high school auditorium.

J. Baumgardner To Teach in Stratford School

Juliana Baumgardner, who completed work for her degree at Texas Tech University in December, has joined the faculty of Stratford High School as home economics instructor, she began work Tuesday, January 2.

Miss Baumgardner will receive a bachelor of science degree in home economics education and nutrition at the spring commencement of TTU.

In Tech, she was president of Phi Epsilon Omicron home economics honorary society, president of Knapp Hall, secretary of The Residence Hall Association and a member of Mortar Board and the Student Dietetics Association.

She was on the Dean's Honor Roll every semester she was at Tech and her student teaching was in the Idalou Schools during the fall semester.

Between her sophomore and junior years, she was selected for a Summer Food Service Management Training Program at Penn State University, a program of the Association of College and University Housing Officers.

The next two summers she was head cook at a Girl Scout Camp at Bradford, New Hampshire.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Baumgardner and a graduate of Wellington High School.

Starting time is 7:00 p.m. This meeting is held each year.

Louis Granham, school counselor, will discuss the various financial programs open to college students. The basic education opportunity grant is an outright grant that does not have to be repaid. There are also low, interest loans which require a family financial statement. These are federally funded loans and grants and in some instances, the family income may be as much as $25,000. They depend on the number in the family, and the number of family members attending college at the present time. The loans do not begin to draw interest until the student is out of college.

A student must make application for renewal of the grant or loan each year. Grants range in amount from $200 to $2,000 per school year.

Long Breaks Leg In Fall on Ice

Chet Long, president of City State Bank, received a broken left leg in a fall on ice Monday, January 8. The accident occurred near the northwest corner of the square as Long started to lunch.

Mike Naylor, Lone Star Gas manager, was the first to reach Long and took him to Collingsworth General Hospital in his car.

Mrs. Long said Wednesday he is doing well and doctors may be able to set his leg Friday. The broken bone was a short distance above the ankle.

Man Draws 180 Day Sentence On DWI Charge

Thomas Newton Hudson pled guilty in county court Monday, Jan. 8, to a charge of driving while intoxicated and was sentenced to 180 days in jail and fined $100. He will also pay court costs of $53.70.

Hudson was picked up over the week end by sheriff's deputies.

He waived a jury trial. Judge Bob Watson, who heard the case, said Hudson was presently on probation for a conviction of driving while intoxicated, and that another DWI charge was under advisement from this county, after Hudson was sent to the Vernon State Hospital.

He waived the right to an attorney and accepted the sentence handed down by Judge Watson. Judge R.L. Templeton represented the county.

This was Judge Watson's first case after he was sworn in as county judge.

A chance to see the county's best

This year's Collingsworth County Fat Stock Show features 18 calves and 9 lambs--the products of months of hard work by our county students. We're glad to have furnished part of the feed that has helped this year's entries develop into the fine animals they are.

Congratulations to the 4-H Club students who are the owners, and to the organization that is training them to be part of Texas' agricultural industry.

Come out Saturday and see the best livestock in the county.

Norwood Class Has Party

Samnorwood seniors had their class Christmas party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Breeding Friday, Dec. 22.

Steaks were cooked outside and served with baked potatoes, Mexican salad, relish plates and Christmas goodies.

Afterwards, the class surprised Lowry Schaub with a birthday party.

Home made ice cream and birthday cake decorated as a basketball court, complete with goal and ball player wearing No. 22 on his back. Candles extended along both sides. Birthday gifts were given, then Christmas gifts were exchanged.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schaub, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bentley, Mr. and Mrs. Breeding, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Knoll, and Lowry Schaub, Mike Bentley, Randy Breeding, Joe Knoll, Jr., Rhonda and Janice Backman, and Patty Beasley.

Use the basic four food groups as a yardstick for judging the nutritional adequacy of the diet of school children, advises Frances Reasonover, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Continuous abnormal eating is called bulimia. Some victims spend 15 hours a day eating.

Talley Family Together

On Christmas Eve the children and grandchildren of Mrs. Lillian Talley and the late Otho Talley met at her home in Dodson. Almost 40 attended.

After lunch, out came musical instruments. Haskell Talley was the fiddler, and guitarists were Elvis Sain, Gary Carey, and Oran Sain. Elvis Sain and Donna Holt sang a number of duets with everyone joining in.

Gifts were distributed from under the Christmas tree, then more music and singing followed.

Attending were Mrs. Talley; Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Sain, Lu Wana and Ada of Dodson; Haskell Talley, Wanda Talley, Peggy Talley and Douglas Talley of Memphis; Mrs. Ramona Wilks and Denise Wilks of Arlie Community;

Wilson Talley and Randy Talley of Altus, Okla.; Nona Talley, Wilson Talley and Janice Talley of Duke, Okla.; Barton Talley of Dodson; Aletta and Carl Whorton, Eddie Tompkins, and Donna Holt of Quanah; Mr. and Mrs. Elvis Sain Angela and Anthony of Canyon;

Sains Host Family Meal

Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Sain were hosts for a family Christmas supper at their home in Dodson, with all their children except one present.

Children and grandchildren attending were Mr. and Mrs. Elvis Sain, Angela and Tony of Canyon; Mr. and Mrs. Oran Sain and Jason of Springlake; Mr. and Mrs. Mort Sain; LuWana Sain and Ada Sain of Dodson, and a niece, Donna Holt of Quanah.

For winter, close off the attic from the home. Be sure to seal cracks around any attic doors, pulldown stairways or air duct passages, for example, advises Claudia Kerbel, consumer information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service The Texas A&M University System.

To keep warmest this winter, choose garments that are thick but not heavy, or select those that can be worn loosely in layers that trap insulating air next to the body, advises Becky Culp, clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Young Homemakers Vote to Sponsor Standard CPR Course

Wellington Young Homemakers saw a demonstration of Cardio pulmonary resuscitation and other emergency rescue techniques, given by Tom Anderson, a certified CPR and Emergency Medical Technician instructor.

He was assisted by a YH member, Mrs. Danny Gray, who is a member of the Volunteer Ambulance Service. She is certified to give CPR and EMT.

Using a teaching maniquin, they demonstrated how CPR is given the victim of a heart attack or other emergency in which the respiratory and pulmonary systems have stopped.

They also demonstrated the Heimlich maneuver, a simple procedure now recommended for use with a person who is choking on food or other obstruction.

So enthusiastic were the young women after seeing this program, that they voted to sponsor a standard CPR course for members and other interested.

Hostesses were Mrs. Ron Hill, Mrs. Donnie Barnett and Mrs. Bill Spillman.

Mrs. Joe Harris gave the devotional. Mrs. Reed Souder presided at the business session when plans were made for the Valentine-salad supper to be held February 6. Members are encouraged to bring guests, especially someone who is interested in becoming a member of YH.

Present were Mrs. Tom Thomson, Mrs. Gary Killian, Mrs. Harris, Mrs. Eddie Maxwell, Mrs. Nicky Watts, Mrs. Ronny Hartman, Mrs. Don Hendrix, Mrs. Dennis Cudd, Mrs. Redgie Souder, Mrs. Reed Souder, Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Gray, Mrs. Ricky Motsenbocker, Mrs. George Porter, Mrs. Eddie Riley, Mrs. Duane Campbell and Mrs. Mike Barjenbruch.

Inflation-Fighting Food Ideas

RICE - LOW-COST BASIS FOR TASTY MEALS

GLAZED CHICKEN AND VEGETABLES WITH RICE is nutritious as well as tasty and economical.

Rice and chicken combine beautifully in many delicious and economical ways.

Versatile rice can form the basis for most any meal, but its mild taste makes it a particularly appropriate accompaniment for subtle-tasting chicken—and at only about three cents per half-cup serving, a very inexpensive one, too.

Not only is it low in cost; it has many positive features as well. Consider these facts:

- It contains all eight essential amino acids in proper proportion to allow the body to effectively use the protein in rice.
- Calcium and iron in rice help meet your body's need for these essential minerals.
- Rice contains only a trace of fat, is low in cholesterol and sodium.
- Rice can be digested in only an hour while other foods require up to four.

Try rice with this medley of vegetables for a delicious one-dish meal:

GLAZED CHICKEN AND VEGETABLES WITH RICE

- 2-1/2 to 3 pounds choice chicken pieces
Salt and pepper
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 large onion, cut in 8 wedges
2 ribs of celery, cut in 1-inch pieces
3 carrots, cut in 2-inch pieces
1/2 large green pepper, cut in 1-inch squares
1 can (14-1/2 to 16 ounces) tomatoes (about 2 cups)
1 clove garlic, crushed
1/2 teaspoon thyme
2 teaspoons salt
Dash of cayenne pepper
1 bay leaf
1-1/2 tablespoons cornstarch
3 cups hot cooked rice

Season chicken with salt and pepper. Brown on all sides with butter. Add onion, celery, carrots, green pepper, tomatoes and seasonings. Bring to a boil, cover, and simmer for 30 to 40 minutes or until chicken is tender. Blend a little water into the cornstarch. Stir into chicken-vegetable mixture. Cook about 2 minutes longer. Remove bay leaf. Serve over beds of fluffy rice. Makes 6 servings.

Note: If dish is to be held an hour or longer before serving, turn chicken mixture and rice into separate containers. Cover and place in a 140° to 160° oven for 1 to 3 hours. Or prepare and refrigerate until ready to serve. Reheat.

Fashion Forecasts

The military mood colors fashion this year with crisply-tailored suitings stepping to the front of the line. The raglan-sleeved jacket features the fine detailing of shoulder epaulettes, shirt cuffs and bellows pockets. It brass-buttons over contrasting straight-legged pants, coordinated shirt and tie, and caps off with a matching hat. The full-bodied fabric in Today's "Dacron" sees to it that this neat and easy put-together keeps a suitably fresh face from season to season with a minimum of care.

Window treatments contribute to the exterior as well as to the interior of the house. Consider them from the street or road during the day and the night, suggests Sue Young, housing and home furnishings specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Cream or light cream must have at least 18 percent and less than 30 percent milkfat, reports Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Heavy cream must have at least 36 percent milkfat, she says.

Homemakers with Limitations Can Simplify Work Tasks

Homemakers with physical limitations can make work easier by simplifying their tasks, says Linda McCormack, family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service The Texas A&M University System.

Homemakers with physical limitations can use the following principles of work simplification:

(1) Arrange a special work place for each job. Keep supplies and equipment stored in fixed work places. Pre-position tools and supplies so that they can be grasped and used immediately.

Adjust the work-place height to the person and the job. Do not store often-used items out of reach.

(2) Select the right tools and equipment to do the job. Eliminate unnecessary motions like "smoothing" a bed. Locate machine switches and controls within easy reach. Select appliances with accessible controls. Change location of switches where possible, or use electric cords with their own switches.

(3) Choose equipment for multiple use. Do not buy one-use-only appliances. Try to use multi-purpose appliances, such as electric skillet, blender, toaster-oven.

(4) Use body efficiently. Sit to work whenever possible. Select a comfortable chair with adequate support for the back, or use a stool for short-time jobs.

Slide things instead of lifting and carrying. Slide pots from range to counter.

Use a cart or basket to carry laundry, groceries, dishes.

Use mechanical devices for holding. Too often the use of one hand is wasted in holding something which could be held mechanically.

Use suction cups, clamps, cleats or other holding devices so that both hands are free to work. Use both hands when possible.

Avoid having one hand lie idle while the other does most of the work-many tasks take half as much time if both hands are used.

Suede Care Needed

Easy-care "knowhow" makes synthetic suede one of today's "main attractions" in fashion, says Nancy Brown, a clothing specialist.

Synthetic suede combines the plushness of suede with the easy-care properties of synthetic blends.

Suede look-alikes will machine wash and dry--and they boast resistance to wrinkling, shrinkage, spotting and fraying.

But be careful, she warns. Miss Brown is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

READ LABELS

Laundering and drying instructions vary, so read care labels and follow instructions.

'DON'T SQUEEZE THE SUEDE'

When sudsing suede synthetics by hand, take care during the rinse not to squeeze or wring the items.

To remove excess moisture, roll the garment in a towel. Lay it flat or hang it to dry.

TRAVEL CARE

Synthetic suede travels easily due to its wrinkle resistance.

For touching up, iron it. Using a low-heat setting, press it on the wrong side--and use a press cloth.

Brush it lightly in one direction to restore the nap.

"How could a lovely Christian Lady like Rosalyn Carter possibly be for ERA? She is misled and misinformed, just like when she wrote a 'Dear Jim' letter of approval to Rev. Jim Jones, the cult leader responsible for the suicide of 909 people in Guyana".

Dodson Club Holds Party

Dodson Civic Club held its Christmas program in the home of Mrs. Willis Price in Hollis, with Mrs. Sherill Beanland and Mrs. Hildreth Charlton as co-hostesses.

Original and unusual Christmas decorations were by Mrs. Charlton.

Mrs. Beanland, in the role of Santa Claus carried out a Christmas walk. The group sang carols, which she led, with Mrs. Ema Lee Pittman as accompanist.

After a short business session, refreshments were served to Mrs. B.T. Webb, Mrs. Thurman Crowover, Mrs. Clarence Black, Mrs. T.E. Lennon, Mrs. Murray Dodson, Mrs. B.B. Martin, Mrs. E.H. Ready, Mrs. J.C. Howell, Mrs. Lynnel Black, Mrs. Pittman, two visitors, Mrs. Brasel and Mrs. Jarvis of Hollis, and the hostesses, Mrs. Beanland, Mrs. Charlton and Mrs. Price.

The custom of throwing rice at a bride comes from India, where it is considered good luck.

Personal

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Les White during Christmas were their children and several grandchildren: Mr. and Mrs. Alfred White of Stratford and Mr. and Mrs. John Tribble and children, Tom Tribble, Shawn Tribble, and Mr. and Mrs. Terry Tribble of Albuquerque, N.M. and Miss Carol Tribble of Abilene. The Alfred Whites also visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Buford Chandler.

Visiting Mrs. Harry Creed over the holidays were a son, Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Creed of Costa Mesa, Calif.; daughters, Mrs. Eva Gosnell and children, Mr. and Mrs. Kim Lawson of Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Goldsmith of Olney; Miss Mary Creed of Graham; Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Johnson of Friona; and friends, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Wall of Logan, N.M.

Mrs. Velma Rainey returned this week from a five day visit with her son, Mr. and Mrs. John James and family of Snyder. They were here to visit during the Christmas holidays and Kim and Randy stayed for an extended visit with their grandmother and she took them home.

Thinking Things Over

I spoke with a young man recently who had indefinite plans for the future and asked him why he didn't return home to seek help.

"Go home? Why?" he asked.

"Well, the best business opportunities are there for you," I said. "Your family can help you out either directly or with their connections."

He uneasily shifted his weight in his chair. "I could never shape myself into the man I want to become if I went back home," he said.

"You see, that's my past. It's a world where I already know everything and everyone, and nothing's new. It's always the same."

"All the people back home either think alike or don't think at all. It's their territory. They hole up in their houses and make their social rules and any newcomer has to measure up or get out. That's no place for me."

I couldn't argue with the young man because he was right. He had stripped away the hypocrasies and lies, and there stood the naked truth about so many home towns.

Too often home is a place where people harbor provincial beliefs and run a blockade against creativity and imagination. They become self-righteous, inflexible and ignore social responsibilities.

The young man could clearly see this, and he didn't want to be a part of it.

"It's not that I don't love my family because I do," he said. "They are the best family anyone could ask for. Only the life back home is their world. If I went back, I'd just exist. I wouldn't live."

The young man's thoughts might answer to many parents' questions about why their young people don't come home. And they may make parents ponder the world they've built.

Is it static in its beliefs and reactionary in its activities?

Is it a living cliché where platitudes bear no relation or relevance to the twentieth-century world?

Is it conformist in its thinking, feeling and acting?

Are wealth, respectability and power the only rewarded virtues, while the energies of the mind and spirit are considered wasted unless they are harnessed to conventional goals?

And, most important, does it have a capacity for the kind of genuine self-criticism which alone could change it in the future?

It takes a lot of courage even to think about these questions because the answers may be disturbing. And it will take even more courage to admit that we may be inflexible and intolerant, and then to do something about it.

Like others in similar straits, the young man thought he might soon go to a large, cosmopolitan city where, somehow, he could thrive. The more people he could be with and the more varied ideas he could share, the more he could squeeze out of life. The closer he could get to the marrow.

"It seems like a hard decision to make when you're on your own and don't know what you want. But if I'm really honest with myself, going to an area where people are open-minded is the only answer because I could never grow if I went back home," he said.

It troubled me that he had come to that conclusion, but I couldn't argue with him. There is too much evidence to support his case.

We Want Your Letter

The Wellington Leader encourages readers to comment on issues of local, regional, state, national or international interest with letters to the editor. The best letters are brief and discuss only one topic. All letters to the editor must be signed. The letter must include the signer's address and phone number, although this information will not be published with the letter.

Letters from the People

Dear Editor,

I would like to relate to you and anyone else who is interested, and God help us if we are not interested, about our recognizing Red China and severing relations with Taiwan.

"First," it isn't smart politics if we wish to remain free to ally ourselves with human garbage who have killed at least sixty million of their fellow Chinese in ways to bestial to describe. "The Peoples Republic of China" is not even a legitimate government, by any wildest stretch of the imagination. It's power rest entirely on the past murder of those sixty million people.

"Second" our trade direct with less than 20 million people on Taiwan will amount to about 7 1/2 billion dollars, and all these transactions will have been entirely on regular commercial terms, without any of the subsidies, long term loans, and other disguises for the fraudulent nature of all our "business dealings" with communist countries.

The only appreciable exports coming from Red China with their eight hundred million slaves, are deadly narcotic drugs.

"Third" in October, the Senate approved (96-0) a resolution urging Carter not to recognize Red China without first consulting Congress.

It's not that Jimmy Carter should have his head examined for he knows exactly what he is doing, but we should have ours examined if we let him get away with it.

Yours Truly,
Jerry Scott

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Historic inauguration ceremonies for Texas' first Republican governor in more than a century top Austin's political and social calendar for next week.

Bill Clements will take the oath of office at noon January 16 on the familiar flag and bunting-draped platform at the south steps of the capitol.

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, a Democrat launching his third term, will share the inaugural festivities with Clements, but there is no doubt who will be in the spotlight.

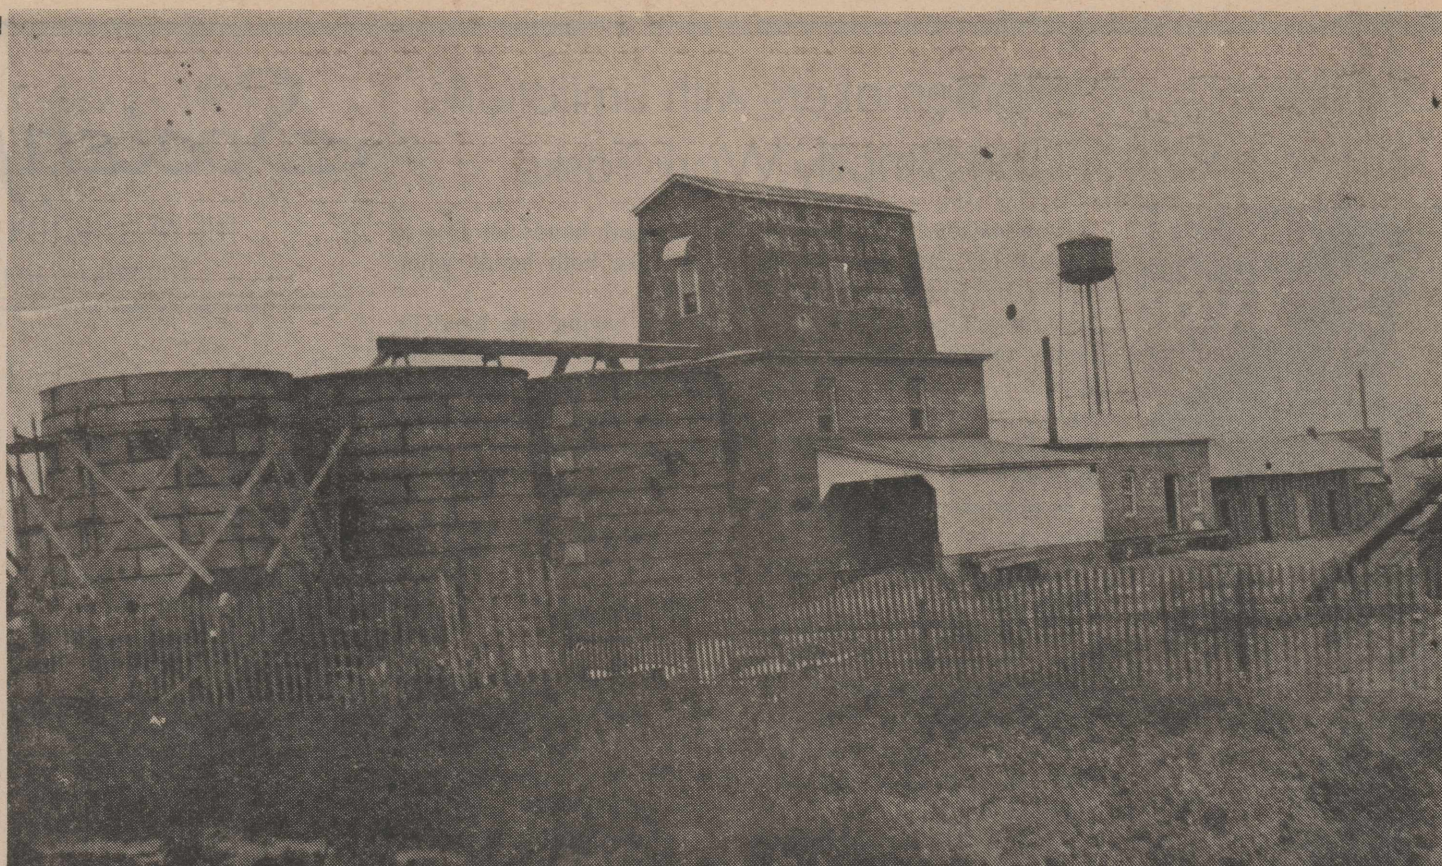

Legislators launched their 66th biennial session here January 9; and agendas of both House and Senate already are stacked high.

Clements put the finishing touches on his top level executive staff just before lawmakers began their own preliminary organization, which included re-election of House Speaker Bill Clayton by representatives.

Legislators usually mark time while awaiting recommendations of the incoming governor. They may be listening a little more attentively this time, since the overwhelmingly Democratic House and Senate haven't looked to a Republican in the statehouse before.

Inaugural festivities for

FLOUR MILL

A 1916 photograph of Singley Brothers Mill & Elevator shows the home of "Home Queen" and "Pride of Wellington" flour, which the mill produced for about a dozen years until 1928. Bins on the left held wheat until it was ground in the three-story structure at center.

Clements will open with GOP fund-raising events Monday at Austin Municipal Auditorium.

A breakfast, prayer service, oath-taking ceremonies, a barbecue on the capitol grounds, parade, Young Texans celebration, inaugural symphony concert and five inaugural balls make up the Tuesday program.

Cuts Ordered

The State Insurance Board ordered cuts in workers compensation rates which may save businessmen $60 million a year.

Reductions effective February 1 average 5.3 per cent statewide. They are the first in a decade for coverage insuring workers against injuries received on the job.

Contractors will receive a 7.6 per cent cut and oil companies 8.8 per cent. The premium decrease for manufacturing firms is only four per cent, however, and other category including commercial firms will average a 4.3 per cent cut.

Shipbuilders and ship repair yards are an exception. Due to accident experience, their rates will jump 25 per cent, the maximum allowed.

Texas Trial Lawyers Association indicated they may appeal the board order, on grounds it allows too much for company expenses and taxes, and too little for claim payment.

White Takes Over

Mark White Jr. took the oath of office as Texas 44th attorney general January 1, promising a tough but open and fair administration.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe was among a large group of officials who turned out for the New Year's Day ceremony. Briscoe predicted White "will make the best attorney general Texas ever had."

Other new officials moving into their offices included Supreme Court Associate Justice Franklin A. Spears and Court of Criminal Appeals Judge Sam Houston Clinton.

White said bulk of the attorney general's legal staff will be retained, although he stirred some unrest by handing dismissal slips to about 30 employees.

Courts Speak

Texas Court of Criminal Appeals upheld the involuntary manslaughter conviction of a Houston man although he did not actually kill anyone.

In other cases, the court: —Overturned a Kleberg County marijuana conviction due to insufficient evidence.

—Reversed a Cameron County heroin conviction where a trace of the drug was found in a balloon held in a woman's mouth.

—Upheld three consecutive life sentences given a Dallas man for aggravated robbery and attempted murder.

—Affirmed an 80-year-sentence of a Corpus Christi man in a shooting death.

County Voters Ponder City Hospital, School Elections

THE WELLINGTON (TEXAS) LEADER
Thursday, January 11, 1979

Although 1979 is an off election year, Collingsworth voters nevertheless will ballot in from one to three elections, all falling on the same day, Saturday, April 7.

These include Wellington and Dodson City elections, Collingsworth General Hospital board, and school trustees at Wellington, Samnorwood, and Quail.

None of the present office holders has given any indication if he plans to run again.

Unusual in these elections is the number of men appointed to fill unexpired terms. Under Texas law, these appointees serve until the next election when they must run for the office.

Wellington voters will name a mayor and two council members. Mayor Bill Hatch's two year term in office expires, as do those of Councilmen Tom Wilkins and Ralph Owens.

Owens was elected a year ago to fill the one-year unexpired term of his brother, Robert Owens, who resigned. Wilkins is completing a regular two-year term.

Hold-over Council members are Lyndon Crelia, Wayne Cudd and Willie Gragson.

In Dodson, Mayor Lonnie Roberson complete a two-year term, as do Councilmen Tommy Hightower and Thurman Crownover.

Those whose terms run until April 1980 are John Green, L.C. Leathers and Bobby Tabor.

Three hospital board members complete terms: Clyde Drake, Truett Holland and J.C. Howell of Dodson. Hospital board members are elected for two years. The four whose terms continue until 1980 are Tom Cunningham, Lyman Daniel, Otis Emmert and Bill Jones.

All school trustees are elected for three-year terms.

Three board members will be named in Wellington Independent School District. Those completing terms will be Carroll Nunneley, Jerol Morris and Benson Long. Hold-over trustees will be Harold Wayne Moore and V.K. Orr, Jr., whose terms expire in 1980, and Kirby Campbell and Frank Coleman, who continue in office until 1981.

Samnorwood Rural High School district voters will name two trustees to regular terms and one trustee to fill a one-year unexpired term. The latter vacancy occurred with the January 1 resignation of Joe Frank Knoll, who became Commissioner of Precinct 2. A successor to Knoll will be appointed to serve until the April election, when that member will be a candidate for the remainder of the term, which is one year to 1980.

Terms of Doug Darrow and Gary Oldham expire this year. They also were appointed to fill unexpired terms and at the next elections ran for the remainder of the terms.

Hold-over Samnorwood trustees are: Marvin Knoll whose term continues until 1980; and Jim Ray, Richard Bentley and Rudie Tate, who serve until 1981.

Quail Independent School District, with a 9-man school board, will elect three to regular terms and one to a one-year unexpired term. Those completing three-year terms are John Farris, Jim Kennedy and Donald Langley. Don Hall was appointed to fill a vacancy created by the resignation of Delbert White, and he is eligible to run for the remaining one-year on that term.

Hold-over trustees are Lonnie Needham and Dan Guthrie, whose terms expire in 1980, along with the trustee elected to the one-year term; while Paul Fielding, Cary Don Neeley and B.J. Patterson remain in office until 1981.

Another regularly scheduled election during the year is the ASCS committee election in December. One member is elected each year to a three-year term. Present members are Dan Henard, Troy Thomason and Billy Waters, who took office January 1, 1979.

Temperature Doesn't Rise Above the 30s

Temperature readings did not get above the 30s during the entire week of January 3 through 10. At the same time, the low reading was 6 degrees above the 1 degree low recorded for the preceding week, according to Mrs. Vern Barton, who keeps the Weather Bureau records.

Readings for the week were:

Date	Low	High
Wed. Jan. 3	7	29
Thurs. Jan. 4	11	33
Fri. Jan. 5	13	36
Sat. Jan. 6	12	23
Sun. Jan. 7	15	23

Wellington Authors to Be Honored at Dinner Jan. 20

John S. Coleman and Virginia Gholson of Wellington will be among 32 area authors to be honored Jan. 20 in Amarillo at the 11th annual Book and Author Dinner. Books to be recognized must have been written within the past year.

"Bataan and Beyond," by Major (Ret.) John S. Coleman was published by Texas A&M Press. It is a personal account of a prisoner of the Japanese in World War II.

"Seeds of a New Land," by Virginia Gholson, is historical fiction and was published by Eakin Publications.

A handy man with a sketch pad and a paintbrush, Ben Carlton Mead returns to Amarillo Jan. 20 to show slides and tell background stories of some of the illustrations done for more than 70 books, most of them western in theme, and his paintings.

Mead will speak at the 11th annual Book and Author Dinner, open to the public and sponsored by the Friends of the Amarillo Library. Reservations are required, and should be made through the library office. Cost is $5.00 per plate, and the dinner is at 7 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 20 at the Amarillo Y.W.C.O. Deadline is Jan. 18.

Paintings by Ben Carlton Mead in Amarillo are located at the Bank of the Southwest, Amarillo National Bank, Pioneer Natural Gas, Bivins-Childers Estate offices, and First National Bank. The Panhandle-Plains Museum at Canyon has three Mead murals: primitive Panhandle culture, Coronado in the Palo Duro, and the Comancheros.

First recognition as an illustrator came with J. Frank Dobie's "Coronado's Children." He worked as art director for a large advertising agency 15 years before retiring.

Bobby J. King Dies Suddenly January 2

Bobby Joe King, 44, died of an apparent heart attack at his home Tuesday evening, Jan. 2.

A carpenter, he grew up here, then moved with other members of his family to Guymon in 1957. He lived in Canadian 10 year, until he and his family returned here 6 months ago.

King was born in Wellington June 3, 1934 and was a graduate of Guymon High School. He was married to Miss LaNora Stall January 8, 1956, in Wellington.

He was a Baptist. Funeral services were conducted at 2:00 p.m. Thursday, January 4, in First Baptist Church, with the Rev. Stanley Hughes officiating. Burial was in Memorial Gardens under the direction of Kelso Funeral Home. Pall Bearers were John Barton, Clyde Ingram, Billy Wilkerson, Dan Langford, Denzil Lacy and Johnny Nash.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. LaNora King of Wellington; a son, Greg King of Weatherford, Okla.; three daughters, Mrs. Cacque Smythe of Anthony, N.M.; Stacy King and Tammy King of Wellington; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray King; a sister, Mrs. Raenell Yates and a brother, Doug King, all of Guymon.

tions are required, and should be made through the library office. Cost is $5.00 per plate, and the dinner is at 7 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 20 at the Amarillo Y.W.C.O. Deadline is Jan. 18.

One Injured In Collision

Kevin Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hall, was hospitalized overnight after the pickup he was driving collided with a car in an ice-related accident about 8:30 Sunday, January 7.

Deputy Billy Gilbert, who investigated, said the accident occurred at the southwest corner of the square, pavement on 9th street leading onto the square was dry to within a short distance of the yield sign, where ice had not melted.

Upon reaching this ice, Hall could not stop his pickup.

Kathy Daniels, driving south on West Avenue, could not stop either and her car struck the Hall vehicle broadside. She was uninjured.

Hall was taken to the hospital by Volunteer Ambulance Service. Gilbert said the young man's doctor reported he suffered a mild concussion. He was released from the hospital Monday.

Miss Daniels drove her car away.

Sheriff John Rainey worked with Gilbert in the accident.

Services for Mrs. Whitehorn At Memphis

Mrs. Florence Whitehorn, 81, of Memphis, died in Hall County Hospital at 9:45 p.m. Monday, Jan. 8. She was the mother of Mrs. D'Ett Creed and J.D. Farrar. She frequently stayed with her daughter here in recent years.

Funeral services were conducted at 2:00 p.m. Wednesday in the Assembly of God in Memphis, with the Rev. R.A. Staggs, pastor, officiating, assisted by the Rev. Harvey Melton. Burial was in Fairview Cemetery, Memphis, under the direction of Spicer Funeral Home. Grandsons were pall bearers.

She was born Oct. 21, 1897, at Mansville, Okla., the daughter of James and Julia Ellen Brown Thompson. Her mother, born in Oklahoma, was a member of a pioneer family of that state.

Survivors are two daughter, Mrs. Creed and Mrs. Willie Roach of Lubbock; two sons, John Farrar of Amarillo and J.D. Farrar; 11 grandchildren; 13 great grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. T.E. Gibson of Memphis and Mrs. Murry King of Arlington; four brothers, J.D. Thompson of Augusta, Kansas; George Thompson and Seth Thompson of Amarillo and Sam Thompson of Stratford.

We're proud of the youth and the livestock industry of our area.

It's our pleasure at Wellington State Bank to furnish the ribbons and trophies that will be presented at the annual Collingsworth County livestock show on Saturday. It's our way of saying "a job well done" to county agent Don Reeves, the students, and their fathers who spend long hours each year to get their animals in top shape to show.

And we want to issue a special invitation to everyone to show your support of the county's youth and livestock industry by attending the show on Saturday, January 13 at 1 p.m. at the youth project show barn, between 8th and 9th on Amarillo Street. Come on out Saturday---you'll enjoy seeing the fine young people and their fine animals.

WELLINGTON GIRLS

Wellington Rockettes lost their first round game of the White Deer tournament to an aggressive Groom team 55-41 Thursday, Jan. 4.

Groom led 12-7 at the first period, 24-20 at halftime and 37-29 at the third.

Wellington girls were cold in so far as their shooting was concerned, hitting only 15 field goals of 50 attempts.

Out of 35 points missed, 16 attempts (32 points) were two-pointers, Coach Debbie Chisum pointed out.

On the other hand, the Rockettes had fewer turnovers more recoveries and more rebounds than Groom.

Wellington's point-makers were Suzy Chandler 21, Pam Ingram 17, Vanessa Ingram two and Kathleen Reeves one.

Connie Crowell had 31 for Groom.

Due to icy roads, Friday's game was cancelled.

8TH GRADE GIRLS

Wellington eighth grade girls defeated Childress girls 41-11 Monday evening, Jan. 9 in Rocket Gym.

Wellington girls scored 12 points in the first period and held their opponents scoreless.

By halftime, Wellington was ahead 26-3 and at the third period led 33-11, said Coach Jimmy Chappell. Stacy King led Wellington scoring with 13 points, while Cynthia Shrubs had 9, Carla Nunnelley 6, Belinda Crelia and Renee Daniel four each, Leslie Birkey and Kim Black two each, and Cathy Crelia one.

Halincak had 6 for Childress.

7TH GRADE BOYS

Wellington 7th grade boys lost a close game to Childress 17-13 in Rocket Gym Monday evening.

Wellington led 6-4 at the first period, but were unable to score in the second period and trailed 8-6 at halftime, and 12-8 at the third, according to Coach Jimmy Chappell.

Mark Hunnicutt led Wellington scoring with 5 points; Dewayne Culpepper had four; Mike Aguero and Darvin Nix two each. High point player for Childress was Jeter with 8.

THURSDAY GAMES

Junior High teams will be in the Childress Junior High tournament this week, with the 7th grade playing on Thursday and 8th grade Friday. Finals will be Saturday. This is a four-team tourney.

On Friday, eighth grade will play Memphis there.

BOYS TOURNEY

Wellington Skyrockets defeated Groom boys 74-33 in the White Deer Tournament Thursday, Jan. 4.

The Rockets led 19-14 at the end of the first quarter and 38-32 at halftime. At the end of the third, they were still ahead 54-44 and in the fourth, Wellington scored 20 points and held their opponent to 9.

Charles McIntosh scored 20 points for Wellington and Tony Schafer 20 for Groom.

In the second round Wellington defeated Panhandle boys 60-44, leading 12-4 at the first period, 27-15 at the half and 45-29 at the third. Ricky Jones led Wellington scoring with 18 points, Gary Hillers of Panhandle had 17.

Due to ice roads, Wellington boys did not return to play in the tournament Saturday.

QUAIL-HEDLEY GIRLS

Quail girls led over Hedley until the closing minutes of their Monday night game, then lost in overtime 35-32.

The first quarter saw the game tied 6-6; Quail was ahead 16-12 at halftime and 22-17 at the third. The game was again tied 29-29 at the end of regulation play.

Donna Langley scored 14 points for Quail, Beth Willis had 8 for Wheeler.

C.R. DeARMOND

Services Held Wednesday for C.R. DeArmond

Clinton Ray DeArmond, 84, of 301 8th Street, died in Collingsworth General Hospital at 12:45 p.m. Monday, January 8.

He and his wife moved to Wellington in 1975 after having lived in Lubbock 40 years.

When Mr. DeArmond retired in 1970, he was a groceryman. He had also been a barber and school teacher.

He was born March 14, 1894, in Camden, Arkansas. Mr. DeArmond married Miss Florence Peters, formerly of the Vinson and Madge area, on October 5, 1935.

A veteran of World War I, he was also a Mason and Shriner and a member of the Eastern Star, of which he was past patron at Lubbock. Mr. DeArmond had been a member of the Presbyterian Church since he was 14 years of age, however, at the time they moved to Wellington, he and Mrs. DeArmond became members of First United Methodist Church.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday, January 10, at 1:00 p.m. at the First United Methodist Church, with the Rev. Tom Thomson, pastor, officiating. Burial was in Independence Cemetery in the Madge community under the direction of Guy Owens Funeral Home.

Pall bearers were Vernon Peters, Rufus Hays, James Sullivan, Dan Henard, Dennis Cudd and Leo Reeves.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Florence DeArmond of Wellington and several nieces and nephews.

The family requests that memorials be given to the First United Methodist Church Building Fund.

Counselor Named for Area Alcohol, Drug Abuse Program

Mrs. Dorothy Ogradny began work Monday, Jan. 8, as alcohol counselor for the four-county area served by the Wellington Family Service Center, according to Larry Barton, director. She is assigned to Collingsworth, Donley, Armstrong and Hall Counties and will live in Wellington.

She comes from Lubbock, where she worked with Redirections Unlimited, a non-medical detoxication and treatment program for alcoholics and drug addicts.

A Texas licensed alcohol counselor, her Family Service Center duties will include doing assessments for the courts for commitment purposes or alternative placements such as the Panhandle Alcohol Recovery Center at Amarillo, and with the detoxication unit of AAA.

"She is trained in many treatment methods, and is trained to use such things as Transactional Analysis, group therapies, and she will assist in counseling of general mental health problems of individual referred to the Family Service Center," said Barton.

Mrs. Ogradny will work in Clarendon one day each week, where plans are for a satellite of the Wellington Center will be set up. Armstrong County will be worked from that center. There will be periodic visits to Memphis, and the remainder of the time will be here.

The service center has been without a counselor since mid-August with Barton covering the case load. The alcohol service presently has about 25 active cases and the same number of inactive cases which they hope to reactivate. Barton also has a case load of more than 90 in mental health alone.

With the addition of Mrs. Ogradny to the center staff, Barton pointed out that there are plans for formation of Alcoholics Anonymous an Alanon (for families of alcoholics). She has been a member of Alanon for a number of years.

"We have a different type alcohol problem from those at Lubbock," Barton said of alcohol counseling. "There are so many closet alcoholics here. This has to do with the religious atmosphere of the community and as to its being dry. You don't see these people at the local bar. They don't drink in public."

In Lubbock, Mrs. Ogradny

worked at the alcoholic recovery center which is basically a home for alcoholics when they don't have anywhere else to go. She was a night and weekend case worker for American and their families in cases of serious illness or death.

Born at LaJunta, Colo., she spent her childhood at Walden. She served in the United States Navy two years and holds an associate of science degree from El Paso Community College, Colorado Springs. She then became involved in the Alanon program and completed the Alcohol and Drug Training program at the Veterans Administration Hospital, Ft. Lyons, Colo., considered one of the outstanding programs of its type in the country. She graduated January 14, 1976.

"This is not only a training program to work with alcoholics, but a self help program, getting your own life straightened out."

She was at Lubbock three years.

Mrs. Ogradny has three children, Jenny a sixth grader who is with her here, Barbara Ogradny and Norman Ogradny, who are grown and live in Colorado. She is a member of the Christian Church.

MOTHER HEN AWARD

Volunteer Ambulance members said Mrs. H.H. Bowen has been "like a mother hen" to the service since its organization. Saturday night they honored her with this award. The copper plaque on bottom pays tribute to her service.
