Texas and A-M To Win Best Guess of Football, But Who Knows?

SEASON'S HIGH PINNACLE FOR GRID INTEREST DUE SATURDAY

In Wichita Falls Circles It Is High School Versus Vernon

TWO BIG NATIONALS

Yale and Army, Illinois And Pennsylvania Ready For The Whistle

Grid machines over the nation swing into action today in the choicest set of moleskin battles scheduled so far this season. Wichita Falls interest because of its cosmopolitan population is centered in combats on the Atlantic seaboard, games in the middle west, south, and far west as well as the Wichita Falls contest scheduled at Vernon and Spudder park and the games in the Southwest conference.

The southwest has a full house schedule of games today with every team in the organization playing. Interest centers on the Texas-S. M. U. affair at Dallas and the Baylor-Texas Aggie tiff in Waco, for it is this quartet of elevens, the dopesters aver, conference champions of 1925 will be found.

Opinion Is Varied.

Opinion is varied as to the probable outcome of the Dallas contest, but generally speaking, the critics believe the Longhorns boast a decided edge over the Mustangs. Opinion derived from comparative scores in games played by the Aggies and Bears this season indicate the Farmers should defeat Baylor hands down. But none other than E. J. Stewart, Texas university mentor, expresses belief Baylor will topple the Biblemen by something like a 10 to 3 score. Bridges and Crowe, Baylor mentors, declared on the eve of this game believe the Bears have an even chance of turning back the Farmers advance and capturing the contest. Few Southwest conference coaches in pregame statements heretofore have ever been willing to admit their teams boasted more than a 40-60 chance of copping. Hence, the declaration of the Baylor leaders gives the impending contest a peculiar angle in the face of the overwhelming statistical odds placed on the Farmers to win.

Others to Meet.

The remaining Southwest conference elevens engage in non-conference tilts. Arkansas' Razorbacks will meet tough opposition in Louisiana State at Shreveport. This is an annual conflict. The Rice Owls entertain Southwestern university's Pirates at Houston and Texas Christian university's Horned Frogs play Abilene Christian college at Fort Worth in the first meeting of the two Christian institutions. The Owls and the Frogs are rated a victory margin over their opponents.

There are two games slated for snow laden fields in the east which stand out high above other contests over the nation from the standpoint of an interested fandom. The Bulldog of Yale clashes with the Army Mule at New Haven, and Red Grange, famous as an ice man, leads his Illini against the Quakers of Pennsylvania university at Philadelphia.

Yale, apparently the strongest member of the Big Three, and a powerful eastern title contender, is somewhat handicapped by backfield injuries. On the other hand, the Cadets boast what appears to be the strongest eleven developed at West Point over the past sveral seasons. The odds favor

Sky's the Limit For Masks Here Say County Laws

Hallowe'en masks may be a strict violation of the new anti-mask law in Texas, but there appears little likelihood that enforcement of this statute will be attemtped in Wichita Falls tonight.

Reports from Austin Friday indicated that Travis county officials would undertake to ban all masquerades by Hallowe'en revelers on grounds that wearing of facial concealments was a clear violation of the new law.

The county attorney's and sheriff's departments here said yesterday they "hadn't thought anything about it" and that is taken as sufficient authority to proceed with the time-honored Hallowe'en masking.

"NO ROUGH STUFF"

"Have a good time, but eliminate the rough stuff."

Such was Police Chief George Hodgins' injunction to Hallowe'en revelers late last night. The chief stated that the police force would be instructed not to interfere with legitimate "fun" but that every precaution would be taken to see that there was no damage to property or personal injury sustained as a result of the night's play. The use of clubs and sticks was particularly warned against.

The entire day and night force of the police department will be on duty tonight, according to Chief Hodgins.

Gates Ajar

AUSTIN, Oct. 30.—(AP)—One conditional pardon, and three extensions of furloughs were granted by Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson. The governor remitted the jail sentence of Scoville Chaffin, sentenced to 30 days in jail in Bell county for giving worthless checks.

A. H. Harrison, sentenced three years in Haskell county on conviction of transporting liquor was conditionally pardoned after serving 18 months on recommendations of nine of the trial jurors, county judge, sheriff and a number of citizens. He has two children dependent upon him.

Extension of furloughs were granted:

Mike Ladish, Harris country, burglary, two years, 30 days.

W. S. Cooke, El Paso county, swindling, five years 30 days.

R. E. Andrews, Archer county, manslaughter, two and half years, 15 days.

ARKANSAS SHERIFF KILLED

His Chief Deputy Seriously Wounded in Gun Battle

TEXARKANA, Ark., Oct. 30.—(AP)—Sheriff Lish Barber of Miller county, Ark., was killed and his chief deputy, Bob Smith, was perhaps mortally wounded in a shooting affair in College Hill a suburb tonight. Former Chief of Police Henry Adams was slightly wounded.

BIG STAKE ORDERED PLACED.

Edinburg Plaining Mill Gets a Heavy S. P. Contract.

EDINBURG, Oct. 30.—(AP)—An order for ten thousand stakes has been placed with the Edinburg plaining mill by the Southern Pacific railroad, and the mill expects to have the order ready within 30 days. Nothing was given out as to what the order signifies.

C. E. Ballerstedt, Living Northeast of Seymour, Takes Life Friday

SEYMOUR, Oct. 30.—C. E. Ballerstedt, a well-to-do farmer living in the Mabelle community about eight miles northeast of Seymour, took his own life at 9 o'clock this morning by shooting himself in the head with a .45 caliber pistol.

He has been in this county for 20 years and has been a prominent stockraiser as well as a successful farmer. He is survived by a wife and eight children, three sons and five daughters, the youngest a son of 12 years.

Funeral arrangements have not been made, awaiting the arrival of a son, Charles Ballerstedt of Wichita Falls. The body is held by W. B. Gray, undertaker, and will probably be sent to Manor, Texas, the former home of the family where his only brother lives.

A sister lives in Santa Barbara, Calif. No cause is known for the act as he has a splendid family, money in the bank and this year made the biggest wheat crop in Baylor county.

1 Killed, 2 Hurt In Boiler Blast

ARCHER CITY, Oct. 30.—One man was instantly killed and two others were painfully injured at 9 o'clock Friday morning when a boiler explosion scattered parts of a drilling rig in all directions from the Lomax lease, seven miles north of this city. P. L. Adams, aged 35, a resident of Archer City, died almost instantly when flying fragments from the shattered boiler caught him with full force.

The injured, T. A. Niles of Archer City and R. M. Britain of Wichita Falls, were taken to a hospital in the latter city. Niles was suffering from injuries to the right arm, which was badly wrenched, severe scalp wounds and possibly a fractured skull. Britain sustained a badly wrenched back, a broken left leg and lacerations of the head.

NEW FRENCH ENVOY

PARIS, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Senator Victor Henry Berenger noted French financial authority it became known today from an unquestionable source, is soon to be appointed French ambassador to the United States, succeeding Emile Daeschner. The choice of M. Berenger for the post is still an "official secret."

VERNON EASED OVER FEAR OF QUEER MALADY

No Reason for People Not Trading There, Is Announcement

DAIRIES ARE O. K.'D

Nothing to Worry About, Health Authorities Say In Statement

VERNON, Oct. 30.—Dr. B. M. Primer of the state board of health has been here for the past two days in consultation with Dr. H. H. Rhodes, county health officer, and other physicians, in regard to a disease that attacks the throat of its victims. Some deaths have followed the spread of the disease and out of town people have heard rumors of people dying here by the score. As a result people are going elsewhere to trade.

The state health officer says there is no cause for alarm and that the dairies are being kept in a sanitay manner. It was rumored that the disease was the hoof and mouth disease. Hence the examination of dairies. This is emphatically denied.

There has not been over six deaths in the entire county of sore throat. Following is the county health officer's statement.

"Following the recent investigations of Dr. B. M. Primer of the state board of health he informs me that the present conditions in Vernon are well controlled. During the past few weeks there has been a number of cases of tonsilitis and sore throat caused by an organic which we, as physicians, call the streptococcus. He states that after inspecting the various milk supplies of the city that dairies are conducted in a sanitary manner. The milk supply is good and comes from the accredited dairies.

"The veterinarian informs that there are no cases of infectious disease among cattle."

The storm left its trail of snow in an area extending north to Southern New England and south to the District of Columbia.

Faster Than 5 Years Ago! Our Tongues

HOUSTON, Oct. 30.—People talk faster now than they did five years ago and at that time they were talking faster than they did five years before that, according to William S. Heller, president of the National Shorthand Reporters' association.

Mr. Heller is one of the country's oldest shorthand court reporters. He reported his first case in Omaha, Nebr., just a few months short of 40 years ago and is still in the courts at Omaha.

W. TEXAS RAIL PUSH HALTED BY I.C.C, CLAIM

U. S. Senator Mayfield Attacks Certificate Clause Of Rail Act

HOUSTON, Oct. 30.—A $50,000,000 expansion program is being obstructed in Texas through the operation of the certificate clause of the federal transportation act, United States Senator Earle B. Mayfield declared here today, in re-interating his intention of moving for the repeal of that phase of the law at the next session of congress. As the act now operates it is actually blocking the immediate start on construction of 1,000 miles of new railroad in Texas, the junior senator pointed out.

"And that is the last thing Texas needs in its present mounting development to set it off like a skyrocket," Senator Mayfield asserted.

Enumerating roughly the railroad development now obstructed "by the ponderous and impeding red-tape of the Interstate commerce commission" Senator Mayfield cited:

The proposed extension of the Santa Fe in the Panhandle region.

The Fort Worth and Denver project into new territory also in that section.

The Southern Pacific projected extension from Falfurrias into the Rio Grande Valley.

Col. R. C. Duff's proposed line from Waco to Beaumont and Port Arthur.

The Frisco system's planned extension of the Quanaah Acme and Pacific.

The porjected new railroad from Fort Worth to Tucumcari, New Mexico, backed by Colonel Powell.

"That much-needed construction awaits merely the sanction of the Interstate commerce commission," said the senator. "It represents 1,000 miles of new lines upon which work would begin the moment such sanction was given. It represents an outlay of $50 000.000 and the opening up of vast new territory in Texas.

MILLER BILLED ON CHARGE OF FLEECING U. S.

Former Alien Property Custodian Indicted In New York

$7,000,000 INVOLVED

Is Alleged to Have Released Assets of Big Company

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Colonel Thomas W. Miller, former alien property custodian, four German and Swiss citizens and three German and Swiss corporations were indicted today by a special federal grand jury on charges of conspiracy to defraud the United States government.

The indictments involve the release by the custodian of about $7,000,000 of sequestered assets of the American Metal company—representing the sale of a 49 per cent alleged enemy interest—to pretended Swiss owners.

Others Involved

In its report the grand jury declared that Miller, John T. King, former republican national committeeman from Connecticut, and the late Jesse Smith, confidant of former Attorney General Daugherty arranged the transfer with the foreign defendants in consideration of payment to them of $391,000 of the recovered assets.

King appeared before the jury and waived immunity, the statement said. Although named as a conspirator, he was not indicted.

Miller is expected to appear for arraignment before Federal Judge Francis A. Winslow Wednesday. Although invited to appear before the grand jury during its deliberation, Miller declined, Hiram C. Todd, special assistant attorney general, prosecuting the case said today.

Others Indicted

Other defendants indicted today were Richard Merton of Frankfort-on-Main, Germany, president of the Metallgesellschaft and former captain in the German army, Alfred Merton of Frankfort-on-Main, president of the Metall Bank; Leopold Du Bois of Basel, Switzerland, president of the Swiss bank of Basel; Fritz Zahn Geigy of Basel, president of the Societte Suisse Pour Valeurs de Meteaux; Die Metallgesellschaft, a German corporation of Frankfort-on-Main and the Societte Suissee Pour Valeurs de eMteaux, a Swiss corporation of Basel.

ASPIRANT FOR FROCK FAILS IN HALTING REPLY TO DOCTRINALS

He Is Not Firm in Answer To Belief on Genesis And Virgin Birth

WEST TEXAS MEETING

Sponsored by Presiding Elder no Quarter Is Given

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 30. (AP) — The west Texas conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, took and unqualified position today upholding the fundamental doctrines of the church by declining to admit on trial into the traveling connection a young preacher who failed to answer the doctrinal questions required to the satisfaction of the body.

Thomas J. Gibbs came up for admission from the Austin district, being represented by the presiding elder, Dr. O. S. Wright, who explained that while the young man had failed to answer certain doctrinal questions satisfactory to the committee on the first examination, a second examination had been given, with better results.

Questions Raised.

Questions raised by Dr. W. F. Bryan of Austin as to the orthodoxy of the young man brought out that he refused to answer yes or no to questions on the Genesis accounts of creation, the virgin birth and the resurrection of Christ.

The young preacher was called forward and made a statement in defense of his belief, but in answer to the direct question, propounded by Dr. Bryan, "Do you believe, as the Apostle's creed states, that Jesus Christ was the Son of God, conceived by the holy ghost and born of the Virgin, Mary?" he said he could not answer without making a further explanation, and in seeking to explain, he failed to satisfy the members of the conference.

Overwhelming Against.

The vote was overwhelmingly against him. Dr. Wright, his presiding elder, asked permission to use him as a supply pastor, but the conference denied this privilege by more than the required two-thirds vote on such questions.

An unusual case came up in the admission of young men on trial when a man 72 years old made application through his presiding elder, Dr. Wright, on recommendation of the Austin district. It was shown that Rev. S. J. Franks of the Austin district has been preaching for 25 years as an inierant in supplying charges around Austin. He was admitted by vote of the conference.

A Victory For The League

PARIS, Oct. 30.(AP).—Internationalism as opposed to extreme nationalism—an internationalism which will be based in moments of war peril on the surrender of state soverignty—was given new strength today by the League of Nations.

Completing the work of its special session by quickly adjusting the crisis between Greece and Bulgaria, the task for whic hit was convoked, the council of the league, passing onto greater issues virtually wrote the second chapter of a modern history of which the Locarno security treaties with Germany constituted the first chapter.

This second chapter is that henceforth the League of Nations becomes the machinery for the settlement of all disputes and that war must cease, because, as Austen Chamberlain, the British foreign secretary, said, if it does not, all nations will perish from the earth.

Obeying the covenant of the league, Greece and Bulgaria, by agreeing to submit their quarrel to the mediation of the council, set a precedent which Mr. Chamberlain warned, must be followed by all. He said that any menace of war anywhere concerns all the members of the league.

The international backing given the league, with two great powers, France and Great Britain, taking the leadership, has created a profound impression in Paris and has started anew tonight talk of the formation of a United States of Europe, the idea which Mr. Lloyd George vainly tried to launch at the Geneva Conference.

Pandem and Pandem-Simms Add Good Well To South Megargel

TWO WELLS MAY MAKE 800 BBLS. A DAY OUTPUT

Sand on Both Around 1,440 Feet Level; Pandem Highest

GULF ON SAND

Wells Give Pamdem First Production in North Texas

Two new wells with a flush production on the swab that will probably reach 700 or 800 barrels were added to the new pool south of Megargel in southwest Archer county yesterday with completions in Pandem Oil corporation's No. 1, Cockrell, north offset to the discovery well, and Pandem-Simms No. 1, Kruger, northeast offset to the Sun company's No. 2, Richardson, in a day or so ago.

The Pandem No. 1, Cockrell, in block 2433, a location west of the southeast corner of the block, is the best well, showing for between 400 and 500 barrels on the swab from sand at 1,437-42 feet. The well was first in late Thursday night, but when drilled deeper, started flowing about two yesterday afternoon and had every indication of making an exceptionally nice well.

Pandem-Simms in the southwest corner of block 2,434 Kruger fee, had sand at 1,440-45 feet and looked like 250 or 300 barrels on the swab.

Offsetting Pandem-Simms to the south, Gulf Production company had the sand yesterday and had set and cemented casing on at a depth of below 1,430 feet, in their No. 1, Harter, in the northwest corner of block 142%, TE&LCO survey.

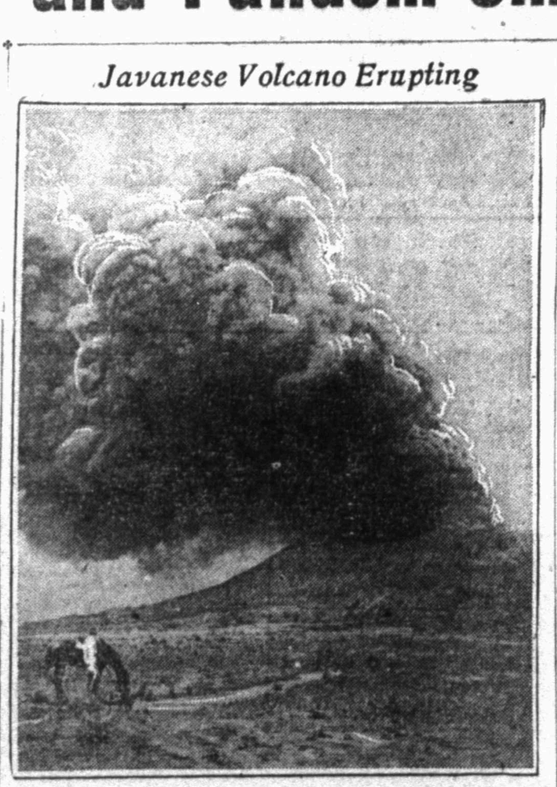

The production is the first of Pandem Oil corporation in north Texas that company having recently entered this district under the leadership of Ben M. Bell, formerly with the Sun Oil company.

Javanese Volcano Erupting

Mt. Kloet, most famous of Java's many volcanoes, is again active. New photo shows it giving forth a display of cinders, lava and dense smoke.

News of the Fields

Kentucky, Jackson

Kentucky Oil corporation's No. 1, Annie P. Jackson, in the southwest corner of the schoolhouse lot in the W. B. Aldridge survey, north of Archer City, is spudded and is drilling past a last reported depth of 380 feet.

Marland, Krupka

Marland Oil company is drilling below a last report of 2,730 feet in their No. 3, Krupka, in the south portion of the J. Scott survey, east of Swastika, southwest Archer county.

Marland is making a location for No. 5, 750 feet each way from the southwest corner of the survey.

Magnolia, Portwood

Magnolia Petroleum company was down to 1,000 feet and drilling yesterday on its No. 2, Cowden-Portwood, located 300 feet west of the No. 1, offset to the Jones et al. well, or located in the southeast corner of the northeast quarter of 1581, TE&LCO survey, southwest Archer county.

Callum Brazina

Cullum et al. have abandoned their No. 1, Brazina, located 600 feet west of the old Muse et al. dry hole on the Brazina, in the southeast corner of block 2410, south of Megargel and north of the Trio group at a total depth of 1,500 feet after testing salt water in sand below 1,440 feet.

Camp-Texhoma

Texhoma Oil and Refining company and Camp Oil and Gas company should be down in a day or so on their No. 3, Campbell, in block 1483, TE&LCO survey, last reported drilling below 800 feet. The Nos. 2 and 4 are both down about 500 feet and drilling. No. 5 is still a location.

Caldwell, Hutchinson

M. G. Caldwell No. 1, Hutchinson, in the northwest corner of lot 12, block 123, ATNCL, will go on the pump Monday. The well has been flowing more or less consistently through the tubing every day, and it is believed will make a nice pumper.

Oldham Area

Consolidated Oil company were surveying their ten acres yesterday and making a location for their No. 1, Oldham, located just east of the southern portion of Texhoma's seventy acres on the Oldham, Eliza Hubble survey, abstract 1128, and southeast of the discovery well, southwest Archer county, southeast of the Comac pool.

Humble, Waggoner

Humble Oil and Refining company have an oil well in their No. 1, Waggoner, located in the center (approximately) of the west line of section 46, east of Prairie's well, southern Wilbarger county, block 4, H&TCRRCO survey. The well is reported to have flowed about 40 barrels Thursday from pay topped at a depth of 2,315 feet.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—(AP)—A national memorial for the 23 chaplains of the United States army who died in the war will be erected on Governor's Island, it was announced today.

Cotton Samples Ruined by Fire

Fire of undetermined origin caused a loss of around $600 Friday afternoon in the Neil P. Anderson cotton offices on the second floor of the old First National bank building at Seventh and Indiana. A large number of samples were destroyed by the flames and water firemen poured into them, while some damage was done to the roof of the room.

The Frances-Hobson drug store on the ground floor was damaged a little when water dripped through from the upper floor.

Yesterday's was the second fire in less than six weeks at that point. The Story Studio laboratory and storeroom on the same floor as the cotton office, but in the rear of the building, was gutted by fire early one morning last September.

INFLUENCED JURORS

The company is incorporated for $160,000.

Man and Woman In Hotel Room Dead

HOLDENVILLE, Okla., Oct. 30.—(AP).—L. A. Galleciez, a contractor from Enid, Okla., and a woman, believed by police to be an employe of an Enid plumbing company, were found dead in a room at a local hotel today.

A gas stove was burning briskly and a coroner's jury returned a verdict of death from gas fumes.

ARGUE DOHENY CHARGE

Date Is Set for Discussion of Validity of Bribery Case.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 0.—(AP)—Arguments on the validity of the bribery charges against Albert B. Fall, E. L. Dohney and E. L. Doheny Jr., growing out of naval oil leases, have been set for next week in the District of Columbia court of appeals. The indictments were thrown out by the lower courts.

WOMAN KILLS 140 SNAKES IN FIGHT FOR LIFE

Rancher's Wife in Colorado Victorious in Terrific Struggle

FORT LUPTON, Colo., Oct. 30.—(AP)—Mrs. H H. Slauterback, wife of a raucher near here, killed 140 rattle snakes with a club yesterday in a two-hour battle for her life and that of her there-year-old child. Mrs. Slauterback said she was riding on horseback through a pasture on her husband's ranc. and was carrying her child. Dismounting to open a gate she heard the warning rattle and saw a snake nearby. She picked up a stick and killed it.

Immediately a second snake appeared, then a third. They came by twos, threes, fours and finally by the dozen, she said. In a few minutes she was hemmed in by scores of angry serpents while her baby clung to the horse nearby.

Frantically wielding the club she disposed of the snakes as they came within reach. Mrs. Slauterback was not bitten. Two ranchers went to the scene and verified Mrs. Slauterback's story. Photographs also have been taken as evidence of the adventure.

GREATER NEW YORK POLITICS

Greater New York, from many view points, is the greatest city of civilization. Just now the game of municipal politics is being played by the leaders of the two great political parties, and on the first Tuesday in November the candidates for municipal offices will be selected by the suffragans.

State Senator James J. Walker, the nominee of the Tammany democrats and allied democratic organizations, is predicting his own election by a majority of 400,000. Frank Waterman, the nominee of the republicans and the allied reform organization, is predicting his election by the aid of the silent vote.

If the silent vote wins the coming election, it will be for the first time in the history of New York politics. In betting circles Walker is a three to one favorite. Money usually talks in New York. Wherever the cold-blooded gamblers place their money, they appear to win.

Mayor John F. Hylan, who was defeated for the nomination by Senator Walker, has promised to vote the straight democratic ticket, but he isn't noisy about it. He continues to tell his friends that he was defeated by the financial interest of Wall street with the aid of the underworld voters.

Mayor Hylan is a very conscientious man. All his friends and supporters are pious and honest and patriotic. All those who are opposed to his policies of government and his peculiar vagaries are Wall street minions or their underworld attachments.

Notwithstanding all this, he was defeated for the primary nomination by a hundred thousand majority. And the leading newspaper of New York gave editorial aid and encouragement to the opponents of Hylan and Hylanism while the campaign was on. This may have ditched Hylan.

Pitiless publicity of the intelligent and impartial brand has lead to the overwhelming defeat of many popular idols of the political world and many measures advanced by political idols which we were as visionary or as utorian in their scope as the men who created them.

If the democrats fail to carry New York City at the coming election, the Tammany braves will be compelled to feed upon husks for the coming four years. If the democrats sweep their ticket into office, with Walker as mayor, then the plums of office and the picking, honest picking mind you, should be rich for the coming four years.

Governor Smith nominated Walker in his famous political battle with Hearst and Hylan arrayed against him. Governor Smith should he fail to elect Walker, the man whom he nominated, will be in a very awkward position.

He is the leader of the democratic party of New York, he forced the nomination of Walker and the republicans as well as the anti-Smith democrats will be wild with joy if the state senator is sent with the political bone yard by the voters of greater New York.

THE ONE GREAT OFFENSE OF MAN?

A popular pulpit orator cries the doctrine that the great offense of man is self-will. All the good of which humanity is capable is comprised in obedience. "Whatever is not a duty is a sin."

If it be any part of religion to believe that man was made by a good Being, it is more consistent with that faith to believe, that this Being gave all human faculties that they might be cultivated and unfolded, not rooted out and consumed. And that He takes delight in every nearer approach made by His creatures to the ideal conception embodied in them, every increase in any of their capabilities of comprehension, of action, or of enjoyment.

"It is not by wearing down into uniformity all that is individual in themselves, but by cultivating it and calling it forth, within the limits imposed by the rights and interests of others, that human beings become a noble and beautiful object of contemplation," John Stuart Mill observed.

In proportion to the development of his individuality, each person becomes more valuable to himself, and is therefore more capable of being valuable to others.

As works partake the character of those who do them, by the same process human life also becomes rich, diversified and animating, furnishing more abundant food for high thoughts and elevating feelings.

Then there is a greater fullness of life about the individual's existence, and when there is more life in the units there is more in the mass which is composed of them.

There is always need of persons not only to discover new truths, and points out when what once were truths are truths no longer, but also to commence new practices.

This benefit is not capable of being performed by every one alike.

There are only a few persons, in comparison with the whole of mankind, whose experiments, if adopted by others, would be likely to be any improvement on established practice.

And these are the salt of the earth; without them, human life would become a stagnant pool.

IGNORANT, STUPID AND GROSSLY UNJUST!

How easy it is to criticise! and how little criticism is not ignorant, stupid and grossly unjust.

Critical Persons (few of us escape this classification) rarely take to heart the ancient truth, "NO MAN CAN SEE OVER HIS OWN HEIGHT."

You cannot see in another man any more than you have in yourself;

And your own intelligence strictly determines the extent to which he comes within its grasp.

If a man's intelligence is of very low order, mental qualities in another, even though they may be of the highest kind, will have no effect at all upon him;

And he will see nothing in their possessor except the meanest side of his individuality—in other words, just those parts of his character and disposition which are weak and defective.

His whole estimate of the man will be confined to his defects, and his higher mental qualities will no more exist for him than colors exist for those who cannot see.

Comparatively few persons are capable of appreciating the value of men who tower above the masses like Albert Einstein, Thomas Hardy, Georg Brandes to name a few, and so they are given none of the popular respect and adoration that is showered upon Jack Dempsey, Babe Ruth, Gilda Grey, the author of "It Ain't Gonna Rain No Mo'" and any movie star.

Intellect is invisible to the man who has none.

Uncommon Sense

THE BUSY MAN KNOWS HOW

The old saying "if you have a hard job, give it to a busy man," is based on experience.

The busy man knows how.

He knows how because he has been busy.

A life of ease may be pleasant to some people, but it doesn't teach them anything.

Go into an office and you will find the really busy man is getting through his work with less trouble and less apparent effort than the others.

His desk is generally clear.

He has time to turn his attention, for a minute or two, to any new matter that comes up.

He does not get fussed or lose his head when extra work is piled on him.

He takes that, and does it when he comes to it.

No back work is piled up that must be finished.

It was never allowed to pile up.

It was done when it should have been done, in its proper time.

During the war, when a great deal of important work had to be done in a hurry it was the busy men who were asked to do it, and who did it, carrying on their own work at the same time.

But for the men who were busy with their own affairs a great many things that had to be done might not have been done, and the war might not have turned out as it did.

When there are hospitals to build, or work to be done for the poor, or emergency relief funds to be raised, when great disasters have swept cities away, it is the busy men that do it, and they do it well.

For having been busy all their lives, which means having used their brains, they have worked out systems of getting things done, and they can apply these systems to any new line of effort.

The head of a big business concern can always find the time to look into a new proposition that is likely to prove of profit to his firm.

Such a man always has the time to keep his private affairs in order, and to look after the care of his home and family.

And when drafted for a library board, or any other of the many public activities that somebody must do, he is always willing to serve, and does so to the great good of the people.

Naturally intelligent busy men will not leave their own work to do the work of others, and they find means of shutting out helpless loafers who try to borrow their brains.

But they can always take on an extra job or two, if it is worth doing, either for themselves or their follow men.

But for these busy men, our communities would want for good schools, good hospitals, and good institutions of all kinds, for these are mostly directed by unpaid effort.

It is a good thing that the busy man is ready to do the hard job. If somebody were not there to do it, it would never get done.

THAT "FAIR FLOATING ISLE OF PALMS"

Granting that we had both the will and the sense to choose our friends well, how few of us have the power!

Or, at least, how limited, for most, is the sphere of choice!

Nearly all our associates are determined by chance, or necessity; and restricted within a narrow circle.

We cannot know whom we would; and those whom we know, we cannot have at our side when we most need them and want them.

No word is oftener on the lips of men than friendship, unless is be money, and no thought is more familiar to their aspirations—unless it be money.

The poets tell us "Friendship is evenescent in every man's experience, and remembered like heat lighting in past summers. Fair and flitting like a summer cloud:—there is always some vapor in the air, no matter how long the drouth; there are even April showers. Surely from time to time, for its vestiges never depart, it floats through our atmosphere. It takes place, like vegetaton in so many materials, because there is such a law, but always without eluding the mariner in the Pacific seas," etc., etc.

But what is commonly honored with the name of friendship is no very profound or powerful instinct.

Men do not, after all, LOVE their friends greatly.

They are not often transfigured and translated by love in each other's presence.

You do not observe them purified, refined, and elevated by love of a man.

If one abates a little the price of his groceries or gives his neighbor's daughter a vote in the daily beauty contest and a jar of grandma's jelly, or takes him automobile riding frequently, it is esteemed a rare instance of friendship.

It is as Thoreau observed, "To say that a man is your friend means commonly no more than this, that he is not your enemy."

Most persons contemplate only what would be the accidental and trifling advantages of friendship, as that a friend can assist, in time of need, by his money, or his influence, or his counsel.

We do not wish for FRIENDS to feed and clothe our bodies—neighbors are kind enough for that—but to do a like office to our spirits.

For this few are rich enough, however disposed they may be.

WHERE THERE IS OIL THERE IS HELL

And now there is hell in the Ragan county oil fields and the jails are crowded with the sellers of booze. John Barleycorn appears to come to the surface whenever a new oil field is brought in by the wild-catters. Federal and state agents of the law raided the joints in the Ragan country and after filling the jails with offenders they seized thousands of gallons of whisky and destroyed hundreds of barrels of mash.

It is admitted by all concerned that most of the whisky was moonshine and that a majority of the offenders came from afar.

Texas has the Dean law. It provides a home in the penitentiary for any person who transports liquor in, Texas, manufactures liquor in Texas or sells liquor in Texas. Old John Barleycorn has more lives than a cat and as a hell raiser he has never had an equal under she shining sun.

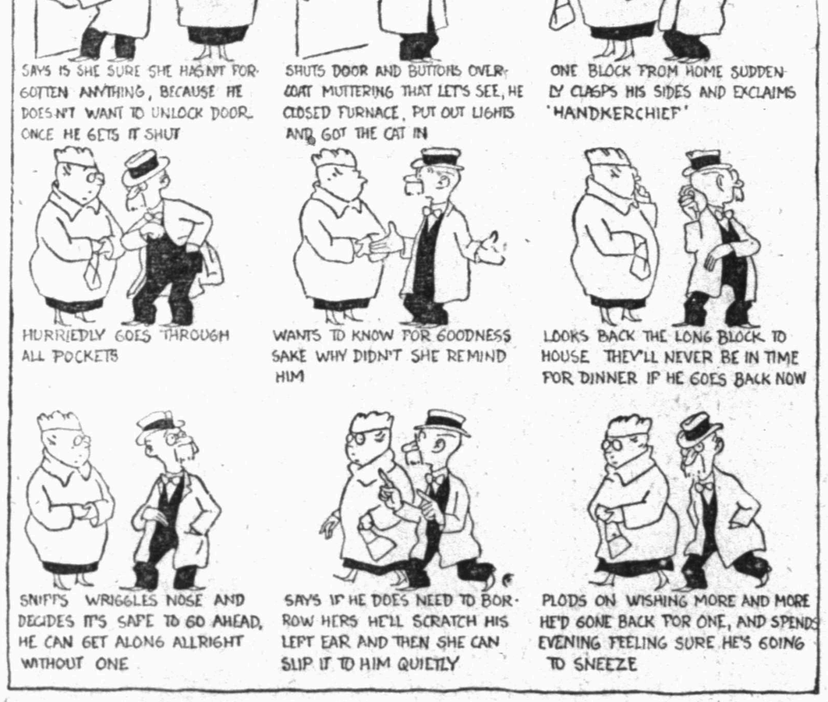

There are wise oil men who say that in the near future the Ragan oil field will be one of the most productive in America and that it is within the possibilities that the oil royalties taken from university lands will in time amount to more than $50,000,000.

If these scouts nd geologists are good guessers then in time the University of Texas should become one of the great institutions of learning in the world. But John Barleycorn is on the run in the Ragan fields. He flaunted his presents brazenly and the minions of the law smashed John and placed his retainers or agents behind the bars or ran them out of West Texas.

It was said in the long ago, in the Mexican oil fields that wherever there was oil there was hell and this saying appears to hold good the whole wide world over.

WHAT TODAY MEANS TO YOU

By MARY BLAKE

Scorpio.

Today's planetary aspects are exceedingly favorable until sunset, and as the vibrations are stimulating it is a very good opportunity for putting into execution those plans which have hitherto been deferred for some reason or other. The influences that prevail apparently favor commercial enterprises more than any other line of endeavor, and, in this connection, agreements or contracts can be executed and initiative and originality will have their reward. In the evening conditions become somewhat adverse and relief should be sought in mild, recreative amusements, as something will be needed to take the mind off the cares of either the office or the home.

Children born today will, regardless or sex, pass through the stage of fancy with only the usual ups and downs to which all little ones seem subject. They will, however, be liable to suffer a serious set back in their teens, which will require more than ordinary care and attention. Temperamentally, they will be affectionate, without being demonstrative. They will be reticent and reserved, rather serious minded and introspective, never jumping to conclusions, but even in their childhood weighing the pros and cons before taking action. They will not make friends readily but those they do elect to favor with their confidence will never regret the intimacy.

If today is your birthday you do not set much store by culture, learning or refinement. You think very little of the ordinary amenities of daily social intercourse and are, although this does not distract from your worth as a man or woman, unpolished. You possess a fund of anecdote, a keen sense of humor, and a directness of expression which, although amusing, is sometimes embarrassing.

You are honest and fearless and never fail to express your own opinions, although they may be in direct opposition to those of your auditors—and you have decided opinions about both things and people.

You are generous in thought, but frugal in execution. The longer you allow yourself to think about what your charitable impulses may urge you to do the less prospect there is of the ultimate action being commensurate with the original thought.

You have many friends and many of them are attracted by your whimsicality and unexpectedness, as you never run true to form and are everything that a man or woman can be except being imitative or sycophantic.

Successful people born on this date are:

Richard Heber Newton, clergyman.

Nicholas Senn, physician and instructor.

James O. Dorsey, ethnologist.

Kuhne Beveridge, sculptress.

J. B. Aleshire, major general in United States army.

William Gibbs McAdoo, ex-secretary and treasurer.

WOMAN IS BURNED

DALLAS, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Mrs. L. M. Watkins of Dallas was severely burned over the body this afternoon when her clothing caught fire from a gas heater in her home. With flames from her clothing reaching above her head she kept away from two small children who were in the room, preventing them from also catching fire.

POEMS THAT LIVE

The Arrow and the Song.

I shot an arrow into the air,
It fell to earth, I knew not where;
For, so swiftly it flew, the sight
Could not follow it in its flight.

I breathed a song into the air,
It fell to earth, I knew not where;
For who has sight so keen and strong,
That it can follow the flight of song?

Long, long afterward, in an oak
I found the arrow, still unbroke;
And the song, from beginning to end,
I found again in the heart of a friend.
—Henry Wadsworth Longfellow.

Sunshine Pellets

I'll tell you, Old Timer,
All their trouble begins
When people pick pimples
With poisonous pins.

When the window's down the doctor's up.

And another slough of despond is where mosquitoes breed.

Being grouchy's just a token of some law of Nature broken.

There was a foolish driver
And he drove a little truck;
He tried to make the crossing
But he hadn't any luck.

Three kinds of cake; ginger-cake, jelly-cake, stummy-cake.

The hospitals are crowded with poor judge of liquor and distance.

HOW IT STARTED

THE MINISTER'S FLOCK

We are all familiar with the commonly used reference to the minister's congregation as his "flock." Carrying the metaphor to its logical conclusion, of course, the minister is a shepherd who tends and watches over his "flock."

Attempts have been made to explain this metaphor by turning to the word pastor, synonymous with minister, which, harking back to the Latin "pascere," signifies "one who pastures or feeds." The theory is that pastor was the earlier designation for the preacher and that it is from its original significance of giving pasture that the objects of the preacher's efforts came to be spoken of as his "flock."

That, however, is going far afield, for a source that is to be found much nearer home. The fact is that the characterization of a congregation as the minister's "flock" has no reference to the flock of sheep or lambs that graze in pastures, but that the term was acquired by the cattle and birds after it already described the worshipping numbers, or, for that matter, any other group of people.

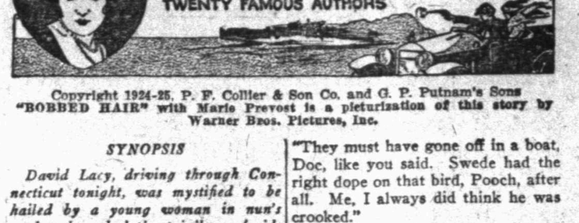

For the word "flock" comes from the Anglo-Saxon "flocc," which signifies originally simply a company or a multitude. Hence the term belonged originally to the minister's "company" and was applied only in a secondary way to the number of animals or birds which, grouped together, we have come to call a "flock."

SYNOPSIS

David Lacy, driving through Connecticut tonight, was mystified to be hailed by a young woman in nun's garb, who asked the privilege of riding with him. They drove to the Sound, crossed on a ferry, and were on Long Island when they had a collision, in which Lacy was stilled. Now he's trying to make out what it's all about. Meanwhile, the girl, who is Connemara Moore, finds herself on a yacht in the company of Pooch, another stranger, being pursued by "revenooers."

CHAPTER VII—Continued

"Hey, what's the idea, sprinting like that?" demanded the big man. "Didn't you hear me tell you to stop?"

"I could hear the tune, but I couldn't quite catch the words," said David. He smiled politely.

"Yeah? Well, I'll words you, if you try getting new around here," replied the big man, who was evidently possessed of no mean wit. "Come on now—stick 'em up."

"Anything to make you happy," agreed David. "That's all I live for, really." He raised his hands above his head obligingly.

"That's better," the big man said. The revolver, in his admirably steady hand, pointed at David's chest. He made a backward gesture of his head toward his companion. "All right, Sweetie—go on through him."

"Sweetie!" said David. "Isn't it nice you boys get on so well together! That's what I like to see."

The shorter figure came into the circle of light. David's first thought was that never had he seen worse-fitting clothes.

"Aw, shut your face," replied the laconic Sweetie.

From somewhere within the depths of a flapping sleeve a thin, small hand shot out. David looked at it attentively, then closely scanned its owner's countenance. Between the cap and the upturned coat collar was the powdered, rouged face of a rather pretty girl—scarcely the daughter of a hundred earls, but still a rather pretty girl.

"Is there no line of business," David asked himself, "that is safe from the inroads of women, these days?"

He shook his head at her, more in sorrow than in anger.

"Oh, Sweetie," he said, in grieved tones, "aren't you ashamed of yourself, dressing up in Brother's clothes? Will you never outgrow your tomboy ways?"

"Aw, shut your face," replied the laconic Sweetie. With deft and experienced fingers she searched him thoroughly, while he regarded the process with deep interest.

"Not on him, Doc," she reported to her companion, finally.

"I could have told you that, Sweetie, if you had only asked me in a nice way," said David. "Look at all the trouble you and your boy friend had to go to, just because of your impetuous ways."

"The girl must 'a' got it," the big man said. He approached David menacingly, "Where the hell did she go to?"

"That," said David, "is just what I was looking into when you interrupted me."

"One more of those cracks, and you're going to get a bust in the nose, see?" prophesied the big man.

"That's that wicked temper again," said David sadly. "You must try to remember that your heart is God's little garden."

With a bellow the big man lunged at him. But the girl, with a bored air, pulled him back.

"Oh, can that," she said wearily. "They must have gone off in a boat, Doc, like you said. Swede had the right dope on that bird, Pooch, after all. Me, I always did think he was crooked."

"Yeah? Well, we can fix that up, all right, all right," said the big man. "Come on, Sweetie—we'll get 'em. We got a pretty good notion which way they'll be headin'. What'll I do with him—" he indicated the attentive David with a movement of his head—"crack him on the head and leave him lay here?"

Sweetie considered a moment. "Oh, drag him along," she said. "He can help with the engine. I'm rotten at that stuff."

The big man approached David. "Go on, you," he ordered. "Try anything fancy, and it'll be your last official act, see? And keep 'em up."

The girl, with the flashlight, led the way along the ditch. Then came the obliging David, his hands airily above his head, the end of Doc's revolver nuzzling his back. At his heels was Doc, breathing heavily, and whole heartedly cursing various roots and stones and twigs.

"Couldn't we have a song?" suggested David. "It's always easier to march with music. What do you know, Sweetie?"

"Think you're funny don't you?" growled the big man.

"No," said David, with perfect truth.

"Well, then shut up."

"What would he have said if I'd said yes?" David wondered. But he remained silent. He gathered that they were on their way to find Connemara, and he felt it best to stay quietly along with them. Doubtless they could find her far more easily than he. They appeared to know her ways. Probably they all traveled in the same set.

The ditch dwindled away, gave place to a stretch of sharp stiff grass, then to an expanse of gray, cold, unpleasantly flabby sand. Beyond it the black water tossed peevishly. Lightning cut viciously across the wild sky, and with a roar and a rush the storm broke. There was no preliminary patter of infrequent drops; sheets of water dropped abruptly from above. The little procession toiling along the soggy sands was drenched immediately.

Suddenly the girl uttered an exclamation of relief. The last lightning flash revealed a tiny, ancient pier, to which was tied a little open motor-boat—apparently one of the first ever made.

"This is us, Doc," commented Sweetie. "I knew it was right along here."

"Well, it's about time," was Doc's remark. It appeared to David to mean singularly little. He feared that the big man was one who spoke merely for the pleasure of the exercise.

The procession veered sharply, and made toward the boat. The girl got in it, and took the cover from the rusty engine.

"Get in, you," the big man ordered David. His voice breaking to a whine, he turned imploringly to the girl.

"Aw, say, Sweetie, why don't I just busy him now and leave him here?" he asked.

"Oh, let him alone," replied the girl. "He'll do his stuff if the engine dies on us. We can flop him overboard if he tries any stunts."

"Bless your little soft heart, Sweetie," murmured David. He got into the boat and sat beside her. Doc untied the rope and followed them.

The little boat tossed and lurched on the growling water as the big man wrestled with its motor. David noticed, by a flare of lightning, that the craft's name was painted, in well-worn letters, across its stern. There displayed were the words Idle Hour.

"What an understatement," thought David.

The big man paused, raised his head to the raging heavens, and told God all about the stubbornness of the little engine. In the middle of his remarks the girl yawned. Having concluded, he addressed himself again to his work, gave a mighty wrench, and the motor started, with a succession of plaintive chugs. He took the wheel, and tossed his revolver to Sweetie.

"Keep it on him," he said.

"I'll do that," promised Sweetie grimly. She turned the revolver on David.

INDIAN DEED ANNULLED.

Love and Other Considerations Not Enough, Says the Court.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 30.—(AP)—The United States circuit court of appeals today annulled a deed to 80 acres of valuable oil land in Okfuskee county, Oklahoma, given by Miller Tiger, a Creek Indian, to his guardian, Rosanna H. Brown of Henryetta, "for $1, love and affection and other consideration." The ground was that the deed had not been approved by the secretary of the interior.

Hallowe'en Arrives

DIGNITY QUITS WHEN WITCHES HOVER NEAR

Junior College and Fannin School Scenes of Great Festivity

Happiness flaunted itself in Wichita Falls last night when hundreds of school boys and girls enjoyed the Hallowe'en revels amid dark, sinster witches, and equally terrorizing ghosts in white. Daring costumes in vivid colors, here and there a mask, horns, balloons, in fact everything typical of the heyday when spirits commune with the living yielded itself to the yearly carnival spirit.

Students of the Junior high school at Eleventh and Broad and their parents were guests at a party at the school building; the Parent-Teacher association of Fannin school entertained students and teachers alike at the school in a merry-making; then the young folks came in for their share of the fun when the Girl Reserves of Junior college and high school entertained at Junior college.

Dignity was lost in the age-old sport of bobbing for apples, and memories of Colonial days were brought to mind with the dancing of the stately Virginia reel, and old and young alike enjoyed the peanut races and other games suitable for Hallowe'en.

All the Goblins.

Ghosts and witches, Happy Hooligans and others in fancy dress including a hundred Girl Reserves and their friends, enjoyed the program at Junior college, presented by Jean Fisk, Girl Reserve program chairman. Elizabeth Weldon sang, "Yes, Sir, That's My Baby." Piano accompaniment was played by Dorothy McCloud. Orda Lee Jenkins gave a reading in Italian dialect. Following the program, games of various kinds were played.

Faculty members and sponsors present included Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Rider, Misses Juanita Kinsey, Ivo Lorene Wilson, Mrs. E. W. Wade and Mrs. J. F. Boyd.

Hold Pep Rally.

Preceding the party, a pep rally was held around a glowing bonfire on the campus, when talks were made by Dr. C. V. Terrell and J. Wilkie Talbert. Football songs and yells started the enthusiasm in real style. The party ended with the group singing "Follo. the Gleam," the Girl Reserve song.

At Fannin school, Miss Estes Price won the prize for the prettiest costume. She was gowned in a yellow shepherdess dress. Herbert Britton, in Mexican dress, was winner in the men's costumes.

Mrs. Wayne Holmes and Mayor R. E. Shepherd entertained with a number of vocal duets including "Rose Marie." Preceding the program, Mr. Shepherd led the assembly in a singsong. S. L. Butler, principal of the school, presided. It was announced that $33 was made from the party for the benefit of the Mothers' club.

Many Costumes.

The halls of the Junior hgih school were filled with frolicsome youngsters dressed in varied costumes. At 9 o'clock the revue took place, when Yvonne Jeter was awarded the prize among the girls. She was dressed as a Japanese maiden. Bobbie Borden, dressed as a darkey, won the prize offered for the best costume.

A Gypsy dance was given by Juanita Burgess; a duet, "Playmates," was given by Lula Nolen and Pearl Bristow; a duet, "Ukelele Lady," was given by Lora Arbuckle and Evelyn Brown. Winifred Hudgens gave a Colonial dance.

The Junior high party was a benefit for the library of the school and approximately $200 was the net result of the evening's affair.

Ex-Klan Head's Murder Trial Is Hotly Fought

NOBLESVILLE, Ind., Oct. 30.—(AP).—Moving rapidly from one high point to another the trial of D. C. Stephenson and two aides in connection with the murder of Madge Oberholtzer of Indianapolis today reached the stage of arguments over admission in evidence of the dying declaration of the girl, deemed by the state its most powerful weapon for conviction. The arguments began at the opening of the afternoon session of the court.

A motion of the defense to dismiss the jury and stop the submission of evidence was overruled by Judge Will Sparks as court convened.

On the witness stand all forenoon was Asa J. Smith, Indianapolis attorney, who testified he had drafted the dying declaration of Miss Oberholtzer during her fatal illness which followed her alleged abduction and assault. Earl Gentry and Earl Klenck are co-defendants in the case with Stephenson.

Smith was grilled severely by defense counsel. On cross examination he was asked:

"Didn't you try to settle the case with Stephenson for $100,000, then for $50,000, then for $25,000, then for $10,000?"

Smith said "no" to every question.

DARROW DEFENDS NEGROES.

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 30.—(AP)—Clarence Darrow appeared in recorder's court today as chief counsel for Dr. Ossian Sweet and ten other negroes, including Mrs. Sweet, charged with murder. A $50,000 fund now is being raised by the national association for the advancement of colored people, for the negroes' defense.

"PHANTOM OF THE OPERA" GOOD

Few Realize the Greatness of Lon Chaney's Latest

Three years ago in Paris Carl Laemmle was introduced to Gaston Leroux author of a novel entitled "The Phantom of the Opera."

Mr. Leroux gave the picture producer a copy of his book, and Mr. Laemmle, who had thought that he would find time to peruse it while crossing the ocean, sat up half that night reading it. So the morning after receiving the volume Mr. Laemmle realized that the story would make a wonderful picture. How could it be screened? He pondered over this as he sat at breakfast next morning. To picturize this literary effort, Mr. Laemmle thought it would require the use of the Paris opera, in which most of the action takes place, or a wonderful stage setting in which the opera structure was produced. To the producer it presented greater problems than the making of "The Hunchback of Notre Dame."

A little later Mr. Laemmle received a cable from Universal City announcing that his staff had overcome all obstacles in reproducing the Cathedral of Notre Dame. During the day he pondered over "The Phantom of the Opera," and finally sent a cable to California instructing his staff to get ready to reproduce the Paris Opera.

We now hear that all the essential features of the great building were reproduced, with its five tiers of boxes and balconies, the foyer and the grand staircase, the elaborate backstage effects, the five cellars and an "underground lake," said to be below that Opera; the roof of the building with its great statue of Apollo overlooking Paris, the dancing salon, the exterior and different entrances.

"For the many scenes in the dim places below the Opera, which included flooded cellars, a hill on Universal ranch was tunneled. When the cellars were excavated they were reinforced and wired for electricity.

A Cerebal Movement.

"In the flood scenes large water tanks were arranged about halfway up the hill above the level of the excavation, directly over the tunnels leading to the cellars. The tanks were so constructed that at a signal traps in the bottom were opened and thousands of gallons of water rushed with great force into the excavations. A battery of cameramen with their apparatus were suspended on scaffolds and on rafts so that there would be no hitch in photographing these scenes which could hardly be rehearsed or retaken.

Reminders of Operas.

"The narrative of 'The Phantom of the Opera' takes place in 1880 and therefore the usual keen attention had to be given to costumes and properties. The research work for these details was obtained from Paris. Although only one opera, 'Faust,' is shown in the picture, the settings and properties for other operas had to be built, as the property rooms, in which these settings are stored, are backgrounds for important scenes in in the picture. Some of the action takes place in the room where the great dragon for 'Siegfried' is stored. Another scene is laid before the settings of 'Le Roi de Lahore.' We had to be careful in staging the opera 'Faust,' particularly the ballet scene, as although the method of presenting the opera did not differ greatly from the present ideas, changes have been made in ballets.

"In the ballet scenes of the opera there are 200 dancers. Then we had a large orchestra. As virtually all of the ballet scenes and those on the grand staircase are in natural color in the film the problem of costumes was even greater than in the ordinary tinted and toned print.

"One o fthe spectacular scenes in the picture shows the fall of the great crystal chandelier from the ceiling of the opera house into the orchestra pit. This happens during the 'performance.' Great technical problems arose in the mapping out of this scene, Lon Chaney is the star in this production. He is supported by Mary Philbin, Arthur Edmund Carewe, Gibson Gowland, Snits Edwards and Virginia Pearson."

The big Universal spectacle film is now showing at the Olympic.

and thrills, you'll want to see "Bobbed Hair," the Warner Bros. Classic of the screen, which is showing at the Strand today.

Marie Prevost plays Connemara Moore, the charmingly willful heroine of this story written by twenty famous authors. Miss Prevost has every opportunity for dramatic as well as comic scenes in this picture and gives one of her finest performances.

Reed Howes and John Roche play Bingham Carrington and Salton stal Adams, Connemara's suitors; Bing clamoring that she bob her beautiful auburn hair and marry him, and Salt that she leave it unbobbed and marry him. Unable to decide what to do, she runs away with David Lacy (Kenneth Harlan) and becomes involved in a series of amusing but decidedly dramatic adventures.

After they have an opportunity to catch their breath after escaping burribis deaths, Connemara decides she loves Lacy. Since her aunt's will decrees that she marry before her twenty-first birthday, and since Lacy like all other men has fallen a helpless victim to her charms, the affair is settled to the satisfaction of everybody except Bing and Salt.

It is a thorough entertaining picture, excellently directed by Alan Crosland from the scenario written by Lewis Milestone. In addition to being perfectly cast, it is perfectly acted by a cast which includes besides those previously mentioned, Louise Fazenda 'Francis J. McDonald, Pat Hartigan, Emily Fitzroy, Tom Ricketts, Walter Long, Otto Hoffman, Kate Toncray, and "Pal," the dog. Byron Haskins was cameraman.

F. H. Methodists Give Pastor Pound Party

Rev. S. A. Barnes, pastor of the Floral Heights Methodist church, and Mrs. Barnes were given an old-fashioned "Methodist pounding" at the church last night, when, in appreciation of the services of the two and their return to Wichita Falls, members of the congregation welcomed them with an informal reception and pantry shower.

J. M. Bland gave the address of "welcome home" to Rev. and Mrs. Barnes, commending their work in this city, and expressing the gratitude of the congregation at having them returned to Wichita Falls.

Rev. Barnes responded to the address of welcome.

The reception was a complete surprise to the pastor and his wife. They, with Judge and Mrs. Walter Nelson, were invited to the home of Judge and Mrs. Dan Boone for a turkey dinner. The telephone rang and the minister was asked to come to the church to perform a marriage ceremony. The church was darkened, but he was greeted with the singing of "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here." The evening was spent in playing games and singing. One hundred members were present at the reception.

Aged Pachyderm Wants To Shed Golden Coat For Public's Benefit

Well here's the little old elephant again as we say in Texas. Can you blame him? He's carrying $1,000 in good American dollars and he wants to get rid of them on November 14. In other words to the Texas or Oklahoma reader of the Record News who gets the most correct answer to how much the elephant weighs will go the first prize of $500. The other $500 will be distributed in the same manner.

Turn to the elephant ad in your paper this morning and don't waste another day or let another sun go down without adding up these figures and sending in your check for the paper. Remember that in addition to sharing in the elephant money, we will give absolutely free an insurance policy of $1,000.

These two wonderful offers are well worth the time and attention of every reader. Others are taking advantage of them. We're waiting to get your answer now and register it so that on November 14 we can notify you that you will be so many more dollars richer the following day.

You have an equal chance here with your neighbor. No one knows how much the elephant weighs, not even the Record News contest manager. The owner of the elephant in Washington knows what he weighed but the Record News took a few numbers off his hide, so that even he does not know now.

Put two and two together yourself and you'll know. And better yet you'll know how to spend that portion of the $1,000 which you will receive and if you don't just read our ads. They'll tell you how.

PAROLE REVOKED

AUSTIN, Oct. 30.—Parole of Link Bookman, negro, sentenced in Travis county to six years for operating a gambling house, has been revoked by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson. The revocation was not announced as Bookman is not in custody. He was paroled to Charles Hamby of Austin.

Bexar Jurors Would Cancel Road Contracts and Oust Officials

JUSTICES AND CONSTABLES IN BAD, LIKEWISE

Scathing Criticism Comes As Result of Official Investigation

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 30. Cancellation of the contract held by the Hoffman Construction company of state highway maintenance work in Bexar county, removal from office of two constables and eight deputy constables were asked by the Bexar county grand jury which filed its final report with Judge W. W. McCrory of the 94th district court today.

The grand jury suggested that a copy of testimony taken by them in the highway matter be sent to Attorney General Dan Moody with the request that the contract be abrogated. The probers reported their investigations had shown that act was the only contract let at an excessive figure but that little is being done to keep the highways in repair and that a bid of approximately $29.000 under the accepted bid was rejected by the state highway commission.

Scanting criticisms of justices of the peace, constables and deputy constables, with the exception of those of precinct No. 1 was included in the reports. The justices were declared to with very few exceptions to have any idea of the limits of their precincts and but a general understanding of the highway laws. Deputy constables were charged with carrying pistols contrary to the law and of being guilty of extortion in accepting cash bonds from offenders which was turned over to justices of the peace.

NO REPORT FROM TRAVIS GRAND JURY

AUSTIN, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Two developments in the state highway situation today were the adjournment of the Travis county grand jury until Monday and a two-hour conference between Frank V. Lanham, chairman of the state highway department, and former Governor James E. Ferguson.

The grand jury made a report on eight local indictments.

Mr. Lanham, who arrived here from Austin, was en route to Dallas. He declined to discuss the situation, other than saying that the threatened suits for cancellation of a number of maintenance contracts by Attorney General Moody, are working hardships on the contractors. He explained that the contractors are placed in a quandary, not knowing what action to take until the attorney general signifies whether he will file the suits. In the meantime, Mr. Lanham said, the highways will need maintenance work carried on.

Assistant Attorney General Ernest May was in the grand jury room today. He and Attorney General Moody expect to be in Dallas Saturday.

A number of witnesses have been summoned to appear before the grand jury Monday. Those who appeared today are Dr. C. C. Davis and J. M. Daniels of Linden, T. L. Childs of Waco and T. D. Wooten of Carthage.

DOROTHY DIX ADVICE

Can the Repentent Husband Return to His Divorced Wife After Learning His Lesson? Is a Young Man Who Doesn't Want to Marry Really in Love? Specially Written Reminder to Parents

Dear Miss Dix—I am a man 44 years old, and have been married twice. My first wife and I lived together eight years. She was an ideal wife, but I was a fool. I let a woman who was working for me make me think that my wife did not appreciate me nor understand me, and that she did, and our relationship became such that my wife divorced me. Then I married this other woman, only to find out that she had an unsavory past, that she was a shrew and a sloven and everything a woman should not be, and that she had married me only to get a home for herself and her two children. I stood everything, as I felt that it was no more than my just punishment, but now this woman has put her children in an orphan asylum and run off with another man.

I would give a million dollars to have my first wife back. Do you think that I should try to get her to forgive me?

REGRETFUL ANDY.

Answer:

If you are wise you will crawl in the dust before your first wife and tell her that you repent in sackcloth and ashes, and perhaps, because wise women know that their husbands are just bad little boys that need to be spanked and kissed and forgiven, the mother heart of her will make her overlook your sins against her and take you back. And I think she would be wise to do it, for all that many a poor husband needs to make him a good husband is just such a lesson as you have got.

As I grow older and see more and more of life I realize how, oftener than we think, the good first wife is avenged on her husband by the bad woman who takes him away from her.

It is a very common thing for a middle-aged man, when he reaches the years of indiscretion, to think that the wife of his youth is too old for him, and to imagine that he has grown tired of her, and for him to begin running around with flappers and wild women. If he has enough money to make it worth her while some pretty young creature who is slim and willowy in figure, who is full of pep and booze, who can dance and pet and flatter a man into thinking he is 21 instead of 51, makes him believe that he has outgrown his wife, and that if he will marry her he will be a joyous and carefree boy again.

And while he is doped up on this synthetic-youth stuff that she manages to inject into his veins, he divorces the faithful old wife and marries the vamp, and in about ninety-nine times out of a hundred it turns out disastrously.

His bogus youth collapses like a pricked balloon, and he finds out that he is an old man tied to a young woman who has no love for him, but who only married him for his money. She drags him around to places of amusement, where he sits on the sidelines, a pathetic figure, a "sugar papa," who pays for the drinks and food of the young fellows of her own age with whom his young wife disports herself.

When I look at these men I think that if their deserted old wives had called down on them the bitterest curse that could be sent upon them, it would be no worse than wait they are suffering. It is the new wives who avenge the old.

DOROTHY DIX.

* * * *

Dear Miss Dix—I am a young man in love with a girl whom I have known more than a year. But, although I am able financially to get married, I don't want to marry and settle down. Do you think that if I really loved her I would want to marry this girl?

CHARLES.

Answer:

I think, Charles, that you have merely a case of near-love, and that you will be very wise to refrain from marrying until you feel that the best time you can possibly have will be as a husband, and not as a gay young rounder.

Genuine love, the real blown-in-the-bottle brand, is inseparable with a desire for possession. A man who truly loves a girl wants her for his own, and he is so afraid that some other fellow might get her that he hastens to pop the question, often before he is in a position really to do so.

But I commend your prudence. No man should marry until he has had his fling and is ready to settle down. Nine-tenths of the truble in matrimony comes from men marrying before they have had their fill of roaming.

There will always be plenty of girls, so don't get married until you find one who makes the prospect of being a fireside companion the most thrilling job in life to you.

DOROTHY DIX.

* * * *

Dear Miss Dix—I am a girl 19 years of age and my father will not let me go to any dances, or parties, or go out with boys, or have them come to see me. I would be happy if I could go out just once a week. Won't you please write something about parents who have forgotten they were ever young?

ROSE MARIE.

Answer:

I am always writing that, Rose Marie, because I am so sorry for you poor kids who are being robbed of all the joy of your youth and who are being actually forced by your fathers and mothers into doing foolish, risky things that so often turn into tragedies. But I am afraid that it does no good, because when people forget their youth both their brains and hearts are petrified, and you can't change them.

I can't see how any man or woman can forget when they were 19. I can't see how they can forget how their feet ached to dance, how they craved other youthful companionship, and what fun they could get out of all sorts of sill, nonsensical things. And I can't see how they can fail to remember the parties they went on, and the moonlight strolls they took, and the dear, delicious spooning over the front gate or on the stoop and all the silliness they talked.

And how any man and woman can be cruel enough to deny that to a 19-year-old girl and make her sit at home of an evening skylarking about, is more than I can tell, but I think Nero never had a thing on them in the way of hard, grinding tyranny.

And how any father and mother can have little enough sense to not to realize that they are deliberately shutting a girl away from her chances of love and marriage, and home and children, and dooming her to lonely spinisterhood, by shutting her away from association with other young people is beyond fathoming. They are so stupid they ought to be committed to a home for the incurably feeble-minded.

And how any parents can be fool enough not to know that if they won't let their girls have a beaux at home, and meet nice young men respectably and under proper home environment, that they will pick up men on the street and make the worst possible acquaintances, is something I cannot even try to guess.

I could weep over you, Rose Marie, and all other poor little girl's whose parents have forgotten their own youth and who crush out their children's with their pitiless old hands.

Wichita Falls Boys Form Upilft Club

The Boys' Civilian club of Wichita Falls, an organization for boys between 12 and 16 years of age, was formed at a meeting at the North Side Community House, north of the river, last night. E. Vandeventer, superintendent of the North Side Sunday school, was named leader and sponsor for the club, which is formed, it is announced, to further mental, spiritual and physical development of the members.

Clyde Sproul was elected captain of the new organization, Roy Rockwell, secretary; John Hix, treasurer; Hassie Qualls, counselor. A motto, "See something good, say something good, do something good every day," was adopted by the club. Members pledged themselves to abstain from the use of tobacco, to attend Sunday school, to obey parents and school teachers and to respect the law.

Members other than the above named officers are Harold Scott, Cassie Qualls, Lyman Burton, Allan Heffner, Will Heffner, Burton Fore, Vernon Jackson, Raymond Jackson, Lester Jackson and Cecil Scott.

For the Rajah's Elephants

In early times butter was employed in many ways. Always it was considered the best for the use made of it.

The wounds of the highly trained, highly prized elephants that fought the wars of the Rajahs were dressed with butter.

Nowadays good butter has but one use—to make good things to eat taste better.

Mistletoe certainly is good butter. It is made of finest cream, pasteurized and churned with every care to produce a fine food. Yet it costs no more.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 30.—(AP)—The cotton market was extremely active and at the same time decidedly weak today. The session was characterized by heavy liquidation of remaining long interest and liberal hedge selling as well as considerable speculative short selling. After an opening gain of 2 to 15 points the market sagged steadily all day, the rallies being few and of little consequence. The close was barely steady at net losses of 60 to 65 points.

The start was irregularly higher with December opening at a gain of 15 points, January 8 and later months unchanged to 2 up. The highs of the day were made right at the start with December at 19.10, January at 19.13 and March at 19.05 or 5 to 13 points above yesterday's close. The Liverpool cables were about as due or a little better and the weather map showed exceedingly bad weather in the belt. These influences caused the slight initial upturn but after that they were ignored.

Prices rallied a little when Secretary Hester announced the mill takings for the week to have been 443,000 bales against 358,000 bales for rthe corresponding week last year. The low points of the day were reached near the close with December at 18.35, January at 18.38 and March at 18.37, or 10 to 75 points below the early bids. The main cause of the decline was the growing leaning towards large crop ideas.

Exports for the day totalled 32,014 bales and fo rthe week 180 447 bales. Fall River reported sales for the week of 70,000 pieces of print cloths.

NEW YORK FUTURES.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Cotton futures closed weak at net declines of 47 to 58 points.

	High	Low	Close	Prev. Close
Jan.	19.20	18.55	18.55-57	19.43

Opening: January 19.10; March 19.42; May 19.50; July 19.15; December 19.64.

NEW YORK COTTON.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—(AP)—The cotton market was weak and unsettled prices making new ground for the movement under liquidation, southern and local selling. All months but December broke through the 19 cent level, January selling off to 18.58 or 58 points net lower and more than 61½ cents a pound below the high price of last summer. Closing quotations were the lowest of the day, with the market weak at net declines of 47 to 61 points. The opening was barely steady at a decline of two to six points under overnight selling orders, but prices stiffened up after the call on covering by recent sellers, a moderate demand based on relatively steady showing of Liverpool and reports of unfavorable weather in the south. In contrast to the ruling of yesterday, December was relatively steady, regaining much of the premium over January lost in Thursday's trading. This helped the tone of the general market which sold six to 14 points net higher in early trading.

The advance was checked by increased southern hedging, however, and the market broke later in the day on reports of a slackening trade demand and rumors that some of the southern mill interests were hedging cotton purchased earlier in the season. An impression also appeared to prevail here that southern spot markets were beginning to feel the weight of the movement and this idea was probably promoted by the continuance of the southern selling here in late trading. December broke from 19.80 to 19.25 while March sold off from 19.44 to 18.83 or 47 to 58 points net lower on the active positions.

The week-end figures showed an increase of only 286,523 bales in the world's visible supply of American cotton for the week compared with an increase of 357,692 last year, but the comparison cams in for comparatively little comment.

Exports to rthe day 36,014 bales, making 2,185,733 so far this season. Port receipts 72 471. U. S. port stocks 1,366,877 bales.

LIVESTOCK REVIEW.

FORT WORTH, Oct. 30.—Uneven prices were paid in the cattle division Friday but the Fort Worth market as a whole was satisfactory. Cows cleared on a strong to 10c higher level, but calves were weak to 25c lower, while beef steers remained barely steady. Yearlings were purchased readily on a strong basis and the bull market was an unchanged affair. The estimate was for 2,600 head of cattle and 900 calves.

About six cars of steers were here all of which were fairly fat and rather desirable. Four loads were suitable for slaughter, or for shipment back to pastures. The market was slow, but prices were steady. An early sale was at $6.85.

Strength developed in the butcher stock trade, and sales of cows were just about in line with those prevailing a week ago, practically all of the Monday decline having been regained. Some good cows on the heifer order brought $6. A few cows made $4. Most of th esupply, however, lacked quality, and most of the day's trading was within a range of $2.50 to $3.50. Although receipts of calves and yearlings are increasing the demand is holding up well and another active market was staged. All kinds were cashed in on a fully steady level. The top-end of the run brought $8.50 and $9.

Demand for bulls continues to show strength. Small receipts were quickly absorbed, prices being in line with those paid on other days this week. The best here sold as singles and went at a range of $4 to $4.15.

Buyers were out early looking for cattle suitable for shipment to feed lots and pastures, but receipts did not offer a very wide selection, and stocker buyers were in competition with the packers on some cattle. Sales indicated a healthy trade.

Hog buyers took advantage of an opportunity to force a decline here and place hog values nearer in line with those prevailing at other centers. The decline amounted to 35 to 40c. One sale of eight head was made early to an order buyer at $11.75, but that value was above the market. The car top was $11.75, and the top to the big packers was $11.45, although they bid $11.50 for hogs that they failed to obtain. Most of the receipts cleared at $11.40 to $11.50. Receipts amounted to only 600 head and included 200 hogs that came to a packer house came to a packer. The number yarded amounted to 600 head. Market conditions remained quotably unchanged. A deck of goats sold at $1.75.

TEXAS LIVESTOCK.

FORT WORTH, Oct. 30.—Cattle, 3,500 including 900 calves; market slow on steers, 10c higher on cows, steady to 25c lower on calves; beeves $3.50@8.00; stockers $3.50@7.75; fat cows $3.75@5.50; cutters $2.25@3.00; canners $2.00@2.25; heifers $3.50@7.00; yearlings $3.50@8.50; bulls $2.50@4.75; calves $2.50@8.50.

WOOL.

BOSTON, Oct. 30.—(AP)—The Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will say:

There has been a broader wool market this week and the tendency of prices is to harden, even against very strong competition from the buyers. Prices are occasionally a cent dearer in the grease

Potatoes Shoot Up $1 From Yesterday

GREENVILLE, Mich., Oct. 30.—(AP)—The price of potatoes on the Greenville market shot up $1 today from yesterday's price of $2.50 a hundred weight. Shippers attributed the jump to speculation that has developed in the market since most of the late potato belt of the United States and Canada has been buried under a blanket of snow.

Woolen mills are showing more interest although the big trade is still for worsted weeks. Foreign markets are very buyant and generally 5 per cent heavier for the week. France and England are free buyers in all primary markets.

Fall mohair has been selling freely and nearly all late purchases by coasters in the southwest ra ebelieved to have been sold at firm prices. Quotations:

Scoured basis, Texas fine 12 months (selected) $1.25@1.30; fine 8 months $1.10@1.15.

Mohair best combing 75@80c; best carding 65@70c.

MELBURNE, Australia, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Owing to the improved demand for wool the offerings from all centers during November and December will be increased 10 per cent.

Market Gossip

R. E. Flowerree and Co., brokers, basement Staley Bldg., today received the following market comment from Fenner and Beane of New Orleans, New York and Chicago:

COTTON.

The cotton market opened a few points up today on bad weather, but soon turned weak, and values were o nthe downgrade most of the session. Rallies were few and proved short lived. The lowest prices of the day were made just before the close when most positions showed net losses of a little over three dollars a bale.

Bearish sentiment was much in evidence at the start and became more aggressive with each decline. Some stale long liquidation, hedging of small spot holders, liquidation in December in New York and reports that mills had withdrawn buying orders more than offset the bad weather and the market was called upon to absorb a steady stream of selling.

Most of the buying and rallies apparently came from shorts taking profits.

Mr. Hester's week-end figures were bullish but passed unnoticed. Bad weather and prospects of more bad the decline.

Indications are that the market will be called upon to absorb considerable more selling and liquidation and that values will shrink further during the process of absorption.

GRAINS.

Wheat: A featureless market in wheat today with trading confined to smaller professionals who are divided in their opinions. The market is marking time awaiting new forces of control. The decline in Liverpool was credited to sympathize with North American markets and general rains in Australia, but it is stated that actual wheat is not being offered freely.

The acute tightness of the cash wheat is beginning to ease, the December delivery in Minneapolis having lost all its premium over May with farmers free sellers of storage tickets. World's shipments for the week are indicated as slightly more than 15,000,000 which with the rains in Australia should make Liverpool prices steady.

There is nothing at hand suggesting any important swing in wheat but we anticipate a gradual lowering of value unless new elements appear.

Previous sellers of December corn have supplied their wants, therefore the market lacks buying power.

STOCKS.

The market was again very active with the motors again to the front and showing no disposition to give up their prominent position in the trading. Hudson Motors was again advanced into record territory and in strength closely followed by Dodge and Studebaker. Jordan sold at a record price in an active turnover.

Strength in the motors was again extended int othe accessories like Timken and Hayes Wheel which were higher and very active.

Attention to the rails was brought about in a very forceful manner by Atlantic Coast Lines which continued its upward movement, lifting it high record.

The market showed a tendency of broadening out under leadership of American Smelter and Anaconda in coppers.

Coca Cola also experienced a sensational upturn which put the shares of this company on a record price.

DUN'S REVIEW.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Dun's tomorrow will say:

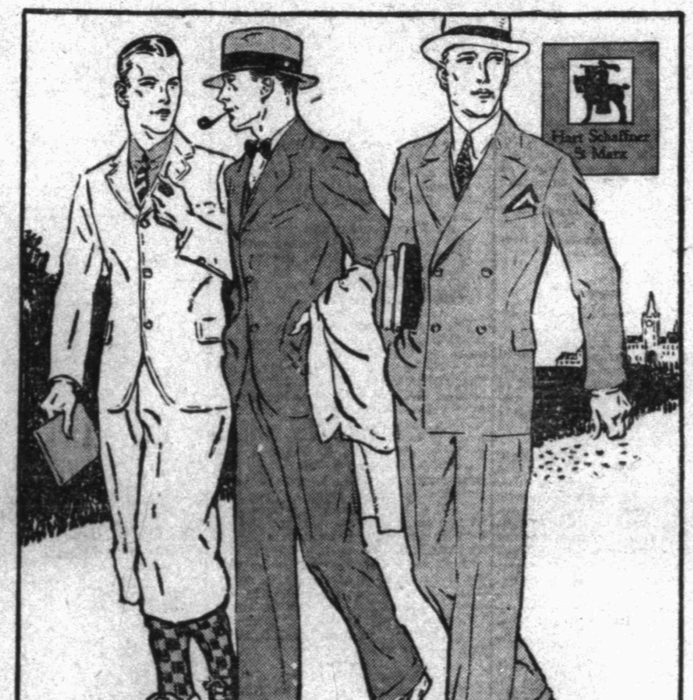

A more marked upward trend is visible in most lines of business. Expansion since the fall season opened has been progressive, something being added each week to the gains previously made, and the general outlook is decidedly promising. It is the most common report now that results are better than those of a year ago, adverse comparisons being the exception, and in some instances conditions are more favorable than for several years. Financial statements recently issued show conclusively that the position of many corporations has materially strengthened, with earnings of some prominent companies setting new high records. Production and employment of workers in most industries are rising under the impetus of broadening demands for actual consumption, while in certain quarters there is now more disposition to anticipate requirements, and unfilled orders of manufacturers are larger.

Kell Sees Florida Dirt and Auto Stocks Only 2 "Bad" Booms Now

PUSH BUSINESS IN WF TO LIMIT IS HIS ADVICE

Capitalist Before Business Council Outlines View On Nation

Sound business conditions prevailing at present give every indication of continuing on through the balance of the present year, through 1926 and perhaps for a time in 1927, Frank Kell, prominent local business man said Friday noon when, in an address to the business council of the chamber of commerce, he placed a stamp of confidence on what the future holds.

He declared that aggressive business leadership in the next two years would be rewarded by large and staple expansion that would be its financial and economic reward.

Trips Through East.

Recent business trips through the east where he came in contact with the men who are directing the destinies of the big business centers gave Mr. Kell the conviction that the world in general is on a sounder basis, he said. He said that he found every hand indications of sane business promotion with no signs of an inflation that would take disastrous toll in the end.

The speaker pointed out the more important factors in the business world's rosy sky the reduction of the discount rate of the Bank of England, the return of England to the gold standard and recent peace gestures instituted by the great powers of Europe who are finally swinging their cloaks of militarism and turning their attention to the more productive side of life.

Immense Building.

One noteworthy feature which Mr. Kell remarked was the immense amount of building and new construction work found in all sections of the country. Wichita Falls, he said, is not enjoying an unprecedented era of building activity, he said; this same condition exists all through the east, north and middle west. New York City, for example, is putting new structures leaping up on every corner.

The only two "booms" hanging on which Mr. Kell looks with doubt are the Florida real estate speculations and the valuations of automobile stocks. In Florida and only in some of the east gulf states he said, real estate values were out of proportion; while he felt that automobile stocks were riding the crest of a wave of inflation.

On the other hand, the broads, one of the most vital of the nation's businesses, are in sound financial condition with their stocks "cheap for the money," Mr. Kell said. Added to recent huge orders for new equipment placed with American steel mills proof of the stability of the country's transportation lines.

Farms in Good Shape.

Agricultural conditions generally are in excellent shape the speaker said, and declared that in the north central Texas where a ruinous drouth was experienced last summer conditions would not be so acute as is generally thought. Little has been made, he said, but farmers and business men of the area are making arrangements to care of the financial needs of their sections until another crop rolls around.

Wichita Falls seems to be taking full advantage of these favorable business conditions, Mr. Kell asserted, and in closing he urged boosters to be unafraid to push various enterprises to the front. There is no need, he said, to succumb to sudden reactions or to hesitate during the intensive period of business inflation.

Japan Uneasy as Fascisti Movement Gains Momentum

A Fascisti movement patterned after that which has made Mussolini master of Italy, is gaining momentum in Japan, it is indicated by dispatches. Photo shows youthful advocates of movement, gathered from all parts of the empire for a demonstration, marching from the Tokyo railway station under the watchful eye of police. Leaders were arrested to prevent disturbances.

Produce

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 30.—Another Texas commodity entered markets commercially for the first time this season when this state rolled its first three cars of grapefruit, the fore-runners of a possible total movement from the lower valley section of 1,000 cars. Arizona shipped one car, central California one and the Florida movement was incompletely reported as 15 cars in the day. Besides the grapefruit movement one Texas freight and one express car of peppers moved in a total of seven and three of 105 cars of sweet potatoes got under way from this state's loading points. Total shipments of other vegetables for the day follow: lettuce 18, lemons 26, grapes 523, celery 53, cauliflower 14, cabbage 12, mixed vegetables 40, pears 35, spinach one, string beans seven, onions 174, oranges 33, apples 1,305, potatoes 1,028, tomatoes 26.

Grapes at Fresno for the day were weak with cash track cars of table stock of Emperors listed at 90c to $1. Potatoes at Idaho Falls were stronger with the cash track market for rurals unquotable and for Russets for California shipment around $3 to $3.15. Grand Junction listed the cash market for Peoples Russets and sacked round whites mostly at $3. Tomatoes cabbage was strong under a good volume inquiry with domestic selling usual terms f. o. b. for $10 and Danish for 51b to $16 against $14 to $16 for the latter at Rochester. No frost damage was reported Wednesday at this last named point. Apples at Grand Junction were steady with boxes of extra fancy Romes, carrying usual terms selling for $1.50 to $1.60 and winesaps $1.70 to $1.75. Wenatchee Valley points listed winesaps term for $2.10 to $2.25.

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 30.—Poultry with the exception of turkeys was heavier today at most Texas points, mostly on account of the restricted consumed demand. Eggs are also off slightly at Fort Worth, but fully steady at San Antonio. Butter is unchanged.

San Antonio: Hens 18@19c; turkeys 23@24c; roosters 10@12c; fryers mostly 24c for medium sized stock.

Eggs: No. 1 candled per 30 dozen cases $9.90 to $10.60.

Fort Worth: Hens, large 14@16c; small 12@14c; springs, large 23@25c; small 20@22c; old cocks mostly no live weight; geese 75c@$1 each; ducks 60@75c each; guineas 30c each; turkeys 22@24c pound.

Eggs: No. 1 candled to retailers $10 to $10.50. Infertiles $10.50@11.00, fresh gathered firsts to producers $10@10.50.

Butter, packing stock country 28@30c; creamery A 50c; B 48c pound.

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Poultry alive, steady; receipts 12 cars; fowls 16@23c; springs 23c; roosters 14c; turkeys 30c; ducks 23c; geese 20c.

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Butter, higher, receipts 9,178 tubs; creamery extras 49½c; standards 43¾c; extra firsts 46@48c; firsts 43½@45c; seconds 41@43c.

Eggs, higher; receipts 3,277 cases; firsts 44@48c; seconds 36@42c.

Grain

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Standing orders to sell the December delivery of wheat every time today that it rose ½c above yesterday's closing figures had a depressing effect on the wheat market as a whole. The selling orders referred to were from one of the principal holders of that delivery. Wheat closed weak ⅝ to 1c net lower, new style, December $1.47½ to $1.47⅝ and May $1.43½ to $1.43⅝, with corn ⅛ to ½c down, oats ⅛ to ¼c off, and provisions varying from 20c decline to a rise of 52c.

Selling of corn increased with the decline of wheat prices.

Early upturns in the value of corn were thus more than wiped out. Oats followed corn.

Provisions averaged higher, owing to the firmness of the hog market.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Spectacular bidding up of the motor shares, several of which advanced to new record high levels featured the irregularly higher movement of prices in today's stock market. Sporadic near selling and profit taking frequently interrupted, but failed to halt the upswing of prices, which reached its peak in many issues in the last few minutes of trading. Total sales exceeded two million shares for the 15th consecutive session.

Speculators to the advance found encouragement in the weekly statement of the New York federal reserve bank, which showed an increase in the reserve ratio, testifying to the apparent healthiness of the credit situation. Temporarily stiffer call money rates were disregarded.

Weekly mercantile reviews confirmed reports of recent improvement in business. A more emarked upward trend is visible in most lines of business," says Dun's review, adding that "expansion since the fall season opened has been progressive, something being added each week to the gains previously made bu the general outlook is decidedly promising." Bradstreet's states that "trade and industry, generally speaking, have been maintained at about the best levels o fthe year, with gains over a year ago at this time still reported.

Hudson was the new leader of the motor from the dullness of mid-year in 1924. despite the marked rally shown last fall groun, soaring 8 ½points to a record high at 114 and closing at the top. Dodge Brothers "A" moved up 4⅝ points to 87½ and Jordan 4 to 60, both new high records. Studebaker crossed 67 to a new top and slipped back to 65¾. Chrysler closed three points higher at 237 and General Motors nearly 2 points higher at 138½, but they did not touch their recent highs. The combined sales of Studebaker, Hudson and Dodge "A" exceeded 325,000 shares.

With the exception of American Can, which advanced nearly six points to 258, or within a point of its record high, despite the fact that it was selling ex-dividends, standard industrials failed to participate extensively in the advance. U. S. Steel common closed fractionally higher at 128⅛ after having crossed 128. Baldwin showed a small fractional loss at 123½ and American woolen at 50⅝.

Atlantic Coast Line was was the sensational feature in the rail group, soaring over 14 points to a new high record at 215. After the market closed the road announced the proposed construction of a new line in Florida. Seaboard Air Line was run up over four points to a new high at 50¢, and Louisville and Nashville crossed 130, also for a gain of more than four points. Pennsylvania sold above par ($50) for the first time since 1918. The Van Sweringen issues displayed a firm undertone.

Several spirited advances again took place among the specialties. Coca Cola soaring 11 points to 163 and International Business Machine and Loose Wiles Biscuit seven each to 176 and 114, respectively, all new high records.

Call money held firm at 5 per cent all day. Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged.

IRRIGATION

MONUMENTS AND MEMORIALS.

It is the desire of many men to leave behind them when they depart this life some monument or memorial that will cause future generations to remember them and what they did. This is a fitting ambition and worthy of any man's desire.

Rich men will millions to educational institutions hoping thus to perpetuate their name and fame. Witness the forty millions to Duke university left by the tobacco king, Duke. Think of the thousands of public libraries bearing the name Carnegie or the Rockefeller foundation with its world-wide activities.

Often men's names are perpetuated by great structures. Roosevelt will long be remembered as the president under whose administration the Panama canal was constructed and in the western part of the United States the Roosevelt dam in Arizona will serve for generations as a reminder of a great president.

Wilson dam at Muscle Shoals is an everlasting monument to our last war president.

A great dam with the lake formed by it is a monument that any man may be proud of and it is well that Wichita Falls has given the great body of water created by its citizens the name of Lake Kemp.

The diversion reservoir still remains unnamed unless the citizenship see fit to take up the suggestion put forth by Dan Carithers that it hereafter be called Lake Sam Bellah in honor of the pioneer engineer who first pointed out the possibilities of creating artificial lakes on the Wichita river.

Legal Notice 91

CITY POUND NOTICE.
Taken up and impounded by the city of Wichita Falls, Texas, under the provisions of ordinance No. 461, to prevent certain stock running at large:

Descriptions: 1 sorrel horse mule about 10 years old, about 15 hands high, knot on left jaw.

Branded: No brand.

If the owners of said animals do not apply for same within five days from the date of this notice, I will proceed to sell said animals to the highest bidder for cash at the gate of the city pound, as provided in ordinance first aforesaid.

W. J. TUCKER,
City Pound Keeper.
Date October 28, 1925.

NOTICE OF ELECTION.
Ordinance No. 629.

An ordinance providing for the holding of an election in the city of Wichita Falls, Texas, for the purpose of submitting to the qualified voters of said city who are property tax payers therein a proposition for the issuance of bonds of said city in the amount of seventy-five thousands ($75,000) dollars for the purpose of raising funds to pay the cost of construction of public buildings for housing fire apparatus in said city, and levying a tax on all taxable property in said city to pay the principal and interest of said bonds.

Whereas the board of aldermen of the city of Wichita Falls deems it necessary and expedient to borrow money on the credit of the city in the sum of seventy-five thousand ($75,000) dollars and to secure the payment thereof by the issuance of bonds of said city in that amount for the purpose of raising funds to pay the cost of constructing public buildings for housing fire apparatus in and for said city.

Shall the board of aldermen of the city of Wichita Falls be authorized to issue the bonds of the city of Wichita Falls in the sum of seventy-five thousand ($75,000) dollars to mature serially in from one to thirty years from the date thereof, bearing interest at the rate of four and three-quarters per centum per annum, payable semi-annually, for the purpose of providing funds for the construction of public buildings for housing fire apparatus in and for said city and to levy a tax sufficient to pay the interest on said bonds as it accrues and the principal thereof at maturity?

2—The said election shall be held at the city hall and in Wichita county court house in the city of Wichita Falls and shall be conducted by the following-named persons:

Nat L. Inge, presiding judge, city hall box.

R. E. Strange, clerk, city hall box.

Boyd Dooley, clerk, city hall box.

Mrs. Kathleen Gorsline, clerk, city hall box.

Dan White, presiding judge, court house box.

F. B. Mashburn, clerk, court house box.

Robert McCulloch, clerk, court house box.

Walter Robbins, clerk, court house box.

Voters living east of Lamar street and northeast of the Wichita river and southeast of the Wichita Valley railway track in said city shall vote at the city hall box; all voters living west of Lamar street in said city shall vote at the court house box.

3—The said election shall be held in accordance with the general election laws and only qualified voters who are property taxpayers in said city shall be allowed to vote.

4—The ballots to be used at said election shall contain the proposition substantially as above set forth, followed by the words "for the issuance of bonds" and "against the issuance of bonds."

5—Notice of said election shall be given by the mayor by publishing a copy of this ordinance with the words "Notice of Election" prefixed thereto ten days next preceding the date of said election in the Wichita Falls Record News, a newspaper published in said city.

6—That because of inadequate fire protection now existing in the city of Wichita Falls, due to not having sufficient number of buildings for housing fire apparatus endangering the property of the citizens of said city, creates an urgent necessity demanding and requiring that the provisions of the city charter providing for the reading of ordinances on three separate days be suspended, and the same are suspended, and this ordinance is passed as an emergency measure and shall take effect and be enforced from and after its passage.

R. E. SHEPHERD,
Mayor.
Attest: W. E. McBROOM,
City Clerk.

NOTICE OF ELECTION
Ordinance No. 648

An ordinance providing for the holding of an election in the City of Wichita Falls, Texas, for the purpose of submitting to the qualified voters of said city who are property taxpayers therein, a proposition for the issuance of bonds of said city in the amount of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) for the purpose of constructing permanent street improvements in said city, and levying a tax on all taxable property in said city to pay the principal and interest of said bonds.

Whereas, the board of aldermen of the City of Wichita Falls deems it necessary and expedient to borrow money on the credit of the city in the sum of one hundred thousand ($100,000) dollars and to secure the payment thereof by the issuance of bonds of said city in that amount for the purpose of raising funds to pay the cost of constructing permanent street improvements in and for said city.

Now therefore, be it ordained by the Board of Aldermen of the City of Wichita Falls, Texas:

Section 1. That an election be held in said city on the tenth day of November, 1925, at which election the following propostion shall be submitted:

Shall the Board of Aldermen of the City of Wichita Falls be authorized to issue the bonds of the City of Wichita Falls in the sum of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) to mature serially in from one to thirty years from the date thereof, bearing interest at the rate of four and three-quarters per centum per annum, payable semi-annually, for the purpose of providing funds for the construction of permanent street improvements in and for said city and to levy a tax sufficient to pay the interest on said bonds as it accrues and the principal thereof at maturity?

Section 2. The said election shall

NOTICE OF ELECTION
Ordinance No. 628

An ordinance providing for the holding of an election in the city of Wichita Falls, Texas, for the purpose of submitting to the qualified voters of said city who are property taxpayers therein a proposition for the issuance of bonds of said city in the amount of $375,000 for the purpose of raising funds to pay the cost of extending and improving the sanitary sewerage system in said city and levying a tax on all taxable property in said city to pay the principal and interest of said bonds.

Whereas the board of aldermen of the city of Wichita Falls deems it necessary and expedient to borrow money on the credit of the city in the sum of three hundred and seventy-five thousand ($375,000) dollars and to secure the payment thereof by the issuance of bonds of said city in that amount for the purpose of raising funds to pay the cost of extending and improving the sanitary sewerage system in and for said city.

Now, therefore, be it ordained by the board of aldermen of the city of Wichita Falls, Texas:

1. That an election be held in said city on the 10th day of November, 1925, at which election the following proposition shall be submitted:

Shall the board of aldermen of the city of Wichita Falls be authorized to issue the bonds of the city of Wichita Falls in the sum of three hundred seventy-five thousand and no 100 ($375,000) dollars to mature serially in from one to forty years from the date thereof, bearing interest at the rate of four and three-quarters per centum per annum payable semi-annually for the purpose of providing funds for the extension and improvement of the sanitary sewerage system in and for said city and to levy a tax sufficient to pay the interest on said bonds as it accrues and the principal thereof at maturity.

2. The said election shall be held at the city hall and Wichita county court house in the City of Wichita Falls and shall be conducted by the following named persons:

Nat L. Inge, presiding judge, city hall box; R. E. Strange, clerk, city hall box; Boyd Dooley, clerk, city hall box; Mrs. Kathleen Gorsline, clerk, city hall box; Dan White, presiding judge, court house box; F. B. Mashburn, clerk, court house box; Robert McCulloch, clerk, court house box; Walter Robbins, clerk, court house box.

Voters living east of Lamar street and northeast of the Wichita river and southeast of the Wichita Valley railway track in said city shall vote at the city hall box, all voters living west of Lamar street in said city shall vote at the court house box.

3. The said election shall be held in accordance with the general election laws and only qualified voters who are property taxpayers in said city shall be allowed to vote.

4. The ballots to be used at said election shall contain the proposition substantially as above set forth followed by the words "for the issuance of bonds" and "against the issuance of bonds."

5. Notice of said election shall be

SUB ROSA BY MIMI

The Weeaty Letter.

Dear Girls:

Some of you who complain so bitterly that your sweethearts or husbands have rather grown out of the habit of being real courtiers—that they seem to be forgetting the small acts of courtesy to which you had been accustomed—might be interested in hearing the following story:

We had decided to motor from Etretat to Paris and with us were going a merry crowd of young people, including a young Frenchman and his bride of a week.

One of the cars which came to fetch us was rather small—and we found it a bit of a tight squeeze in the back seat. So it was suggested that the small rather uncomfortable side seats be used.

Our Frenchman had settled himself in the back seat before his young wife appeared on the scene. "Where am I to sit?" she asked as she climbed into our rather old-fashioned vehicle.

"Oh, my dear, just make yourself comfortable in one of those side seats," answered the fond husband.

The rest of us were aghast with horror at this idea. "Hadn't you better sit there and let Jeanette take the back seat?" we ventured tentatively, not liking to anger him.

"But no," he replied blandly, "I am entirely comfortable where I am." And that was that. We all took turns with Jeanette on her hard unsteady perch, but friend husband remained where he was during the journey.

After three or four hours, we drew up to an old inn for tea and entered the place to find a few tables surrounded by old-fashioned straight back chairs.

The boys of the party immediately lashed into an adjoining room to collect some cushioned armchairs. "Raoul, dear," Jeanette addressed her husband rather diffidently, "the young men are bringing in those nice chairs. I should like one too, please."

"Certinly, my dear," he answered readily enough. "By all means get yourself one. You will find it much more comfortable, I'm sure."

He was perfectly unconscious of the looks of amusement directed toward him, but sat there blandly sipping tea—believing himself to be the kindest husband in the world.

We all made a hasty resolution never to complain of the trifling things American boys omit to do. After that exhibition of charming courtesy from a man to his poor better half, we were prepared to be very lenient with our own countrymen.

Our last glimpse of that happy pair was when we bade them goodbye at their hotel. It was the noisiest in Paris and Jeanette had protested all the way that she simply couldn't sleep in such a place—but as he said farewell, we could hear Raoul telling her reassuringly that he found no difficulty at all in sleeping there as everything was bound to be all right. I ask you, does your particular friend ever behave as badly as that?

Grange to Be Halted.

Playing on a slow field, the swashbuckling Grange is expected to be halted by the great defensive team which Lou Young has joined together at Penn this year. The Quakers, victors the past week-end in intersectional embroglio with Alonzo Stagg's Chicagoans, apparently are set to romp off with the victor's laurels in another intersectional encounter. Holding the Illini at bay with a sterling defense, but ever on the alert to launch a surprise foray, Lou Young's warriors are expected to turn back the middle west invasion. However, the Quakers, like Yale, are hampered by backfield injuries.

The Brown-Dartmouth set-to at Providence will draw considerable interest. Brown tough boasting a great machine is expected to fall before the powerful advance of the big green backs.

Gil Doble's Numidian Lions of Cornell are rated a shade on Columbia at the Polo Grounds, but here the dope stands in a fair way of being shattered. Columbia has the most powerful array of grid talent it has boasted since return to football several seasons ago.

Chicago is expected to defeat Purdue at Chicago.

Knut Rockne's weakened Notre Dame Micks pack a decided edge on the Golden Tornado of Georgia Tech.

What Is the Weight of the Elephant?

Special Notice

There has been several inquiries about the white spot in the center of the elephant. Only the maker of the elephant knows the correct answer. We have removed a number from the cut so that not even he knows the weight now.

Pay no attention to the spot, just add the numbers that are plainly printed, and the nearest correct solution will win the first prize and so on down to the twenty-fifth prize.

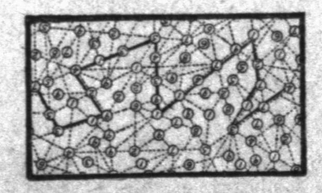

This competition is open to all residents of the states of Texas and Oklahoma, except employes of The Record News and members of their families.

Contestant may submit as many different solutions as they desire provided a payment of one of the mounts designated in the prize list shall accompany each solution. NO SOLUTION UNACCOMPANIED BY A SUBSCRIPTION PAYMENT WILL BE REGISTERED.

The Record News offers these prizes for individual effort. While it is proper for members of one household to work together or several friends, it is not permissible for more than one of those working in unison to send a solution of the puzzle. When in the judgment of the contest manager more than one member of the same family, or more than one of any number of persons he believes have worked together send in a solution of the puzzle, he reserves the right to refund subscriptions and return the solutions he believes have been submitted contrary to the foregoing rule. The Record News reserves the right to reject any solutions it believes have not been submitted under proper conditions. The Record News also reserves the right to finally decide any other questions or points which may arise and those entering the contest agree to abide by such decision.

In the event of ties on this puzzle, as many prizes will be reserved as there are contestants tied, before any prizes are awarded for a less correct solution. For instance, if five people were tied on the best solution, the first five prizes will be reserved for them, and they would be awarded the prizes in accordance with the standing of their solutions of the second puzzle. That is, the one submitting the best solution of the second puzzle would receive the first prize; the one submitting the next best, the second, and so on.

Subscriptions may be NEW or RENEWALS. Both count the same.

In case of ties those tied for any prize will be presented with a second puzzle, which will consist of drawing a line across the face of a chart of figures, like the accompanying chart, only larger, so that the figures thus connected when added together will total the greatest sum. If necessary this chart will be used four times, after which, should any ties remain, each contestant will receive full value of any prize tied for.

In case there are no ties on counting the Elephant no other puzzle, of course, will be presented.

WINNING ANSWERS WILL RECEIVE PRIZES AS FOLLOWS

THRE OF ADVENTURE

I faind go across the snow,
Or bi on the Arctic floe,
With ne but an Eskimo
To e my solitude.
I faild face the chilling blast
On spaces bleak and vast,
Whear bears go strolling past
In pursuit of food.

I fe onging now and then
To the tiger in his den
And him with one bullet when
He ached to spring at me.
I'd omething before I die
To l lion in the eye,
And wild frenzy to defy
Manly dignity.

I'd o fight a bull some day,
And e him cringe and slink away,
Whousands shouted "Hip, Hurray!
A heroic feat."
I'd in some far Afric vale,
To a python by the tail
And e the monster cower and quail—
Awn that he was beat.

But so pleasant here at home
The can't quite decide to roam
Ache wild and tossing foam
Quench my fierce desire.
Sole my light holds out to burn,
Stald adventures will I spurn,
And with quiet unconcern
Be my cottage fire.

DOPE CHANGES?

The dope may have it Dana's Farmers are due to slap it on Baylors down at Waco today, but you can't tell Ralph Pittman that, without getting a lusty guffaw from the former Bear backfield power. Ralph declares the Bridges crew looked mighty good to him inthat Moward Payne game last week, and "they're quite liable to slip up on the Aggies Saturday." With the firm belief and hope his Alma Mater will tag it on the Farmers today, Pittman has gone to Waco, as he puts it "To see it done."

* * *

You can't tell Doc Stewart, the Longhorn mentor. A&M will win. You can't tell it to Jinx Tucker of Waco either. So it begins to appear that if Bible's men come through it will truly be an upset to the dope bucket instead of just the opposite like we ordinary fellows had thought it would be. In the face of all those high powered predictions, Mr. Bible must have an awfully heavy load to carry.

MUNN HERE NOV. 24

"There'll be only big matches staged here in the future," declared Alec B. Ross ,matchmaker for the Wichita Falls Wrestling association, Friday. And straight away he announces the billing of one of the "big" fellows. Wayne (Big) Munn, the cornhusker giant and the best drawing card in the mat game today, has agreed to perform at the Majestic theatre November 24, said Ross. No other matches will be held between now and that date, according to the promoter, and hereafter the bouts are to be staged twice monthly.

* * *

Ross said he has been dickering with several wrestlers in effort to get a suitable opponent for Munn and expects to come to a settlement i nthe next few days. Munn, he assured, positively will be here November 24.

* * *

This gives Wichita Falls fandom its first chance to see the big time boys in action, and in starting the major matches with Munn on the card, Ross has selected the most colorful wrestler of the day, and an athlete about whom probably more copy has been knocked off by the sport scribes over the country in the past year or so than any other one grappler.

* * *

Munn has been winning all his matches of late, pinning some of the best of the hefty fellows and seems on the verge of beating back for another fling at the heavyweight belt.

* * *

As a preliminary to the Munn match, Ross intends to send Tony Ross, the tough Johnson City, Kan., welterweight, against Ernie Maddock, the Cleveland junior middleweight who won quite a bit of popularity locally a month or so back in a pair of mills with Matty Matsuda. This bout, ordinarily a main event, Ross stresses by way of a bit of press agenting, is only good enough to be a prelim on the card coming up or any of the future programs to be held in Wichita Falls.

* * *

JIM AND MATTY WIN

Both Jim Brown and Matsuda won their matches staged Thursday night. Jim beat Tony Parnell in Kansas City, winning in straight falls. He's slated for a match Monday night in Eureka, Kan.

* * *

Matty defeated Johnny Vorris of Chicago in straight falls, taking the first in 11 minutes and the second in 24. Vorris was no match for the Jap, but the champ injured his left arm while tking the first fall. It may be in order to remark that this same wing, hurt the night before in Lawton, troubled Matty quite a bit in his match here last week with Brown.

* * *

AVERY TOUGH ONE

Although we've always been an ardent follower of Dick Griffin, the hard working little Fort Worth feather, and have been interested in seeing him win no matter who his opponent may be, it wouldn't be out of order to hazard he may find the going roug hin that bout scheduled Thursday with Lew Avery, the New York Hebrew battler.

* * *

Griffin is cleverer than Avery, but Lew is a rugged little fellow, tough, and apparently a heavy puncher. In his workout yesterday with Vicente Aguilar, the Mexican middleweight, the New Yorker displayed surprising ability to take 'em and to give 'em in return. Stockily built, sturdy as they make 'em, he stacks up as no easy mark for any of the little fellows.

* * *

Griffin, it is my opinion, is the classier glovester o fthe two, and it's certain he's headier and more experienced. But it's possible Avery may get to him early and slow him up. Otherwise, it would not be surprising to see Dick win by a knockout, tough as his opponent appears to be.

CURTAIN RULED FROM VERNON GO BY LEAGUE

Dobson Out—Clary May Not Play With Tribe In Aggie Tiff

Wichita Falls moleskin warriors are billed in two equally important contests this afternoon. Great interest is attached to the Coyote-Lion embroglio scheduled for Vernon because the game has at stake the championship of the eastern half, district 1 of the interscholastic league. The spotlight turns on Spudder park in full force at 3 o'clock when Bubs Mosley's Junior College Indians swing into action against the north Texas Aggies of Arlington, because this game is the initial Junior College conference tilt in the history of the Wichita Falls school. There should be just as much interest manifested in the game here as the one at Vernon for there is just as much at stake for the baby member of the Texas Junior college conference as there is for Bud McCallum's Coyotes at Vernon.

Under Dogs.

Both Wichita Falls teams are entering their contests rated as the under dogs, henceforth should they be returned victorious the victor's laurels will be all the more sweeter.

The Arlington school is purported to be heavier and far more experienced than the Indians. To combat these odds Mosley sends a fast club onto the field which over the past several weeks has become surprisingly well grounded in fundamentals, and a club which probably packs more determination and cheer will to win than does its opponent.

The Indians more than likely will be forced to enter the fracas minus the services of their captain and center, John Clary, who is on the casuality list with an injured nasal organ.

But a light workout was staged yesterday. Announcement of the probable starting lineup was not forthcoming. However, it is possible Mosley will start Crites and Harris at ends, Weeth and Burks at tackles, Saunders and Karns at guards, West at center, Deems at quarter, Stephenson and Rawls at halves, and Beaty at fullback. Gonce, Box, Thurman, Datson and Whitelaw all probably will see service.

Pack Outlook Bad.

Coyote chances—and the prospects were not very bright to begin with—for a victory at Vernon were dimmed considerably Friday by announcement that Wilks Dobson, dependable tackle, and Captain Rowdy Curtin, flashy halfback, will not start the game. Curtin is out of it entirely by rule of the interscholastic league, an announcement made yesterday by Coach McCallum. Curtin was declared over the 20-year age limit by league headquarters, but McCallum declares it his firm belief an error has been made. Due to a mix-up registered in Curtin'e age several years ago which at the time appeared not important enough to bother about correcting the league now upon discovering, has cut the Wichita Falls athlete out of high school competition, said McCallum. Other documentary evidence to the contrary produced by the Wichita Falls mentor has been discounted, he said.

Killing Blow.

The loss of Curtin may prove a killing blow. He was by far the most versatile member of the team. He is a dependable punter, an excellent passer, excedingly dangrous in an open field, and a power on line plunging as wel as being a strong defensive back.

Dobson, one of the outstanding performers in the forward wall, has been handicapped by a bad ankle and yesterday irritated the injured member to such an extent during practice that it is doubtful he can be used to day.

The Coyotes handicapped thus are doped to lose by several touchdowns, but nevertheless will invade Vernon with a determined spirit and a fighting attitude which should the breaks come their way, may upset the favorites.

Drill on Pass Defense.

The squad was drilled extensively on forward pass defense yesterday and Vernon style of play, topping the week's training activities with a brisk signal drill.

The squad, 25 in number, leave Wichita Falls this morning at 8:10.

McCallum probably will start Herndon and Flippin at wings, Wainscott will take one tackle, but the other position is still a question mark. It is possible Zeke Taylor, injured himself, may play in Dobson's place. Ray and Gillum are slated for guards. Bell goes to center. Powell takes quarter. Steed and Francis are billed for the halfback positions, and Moore for fullback. It is quite likely Moore will be used at defensive tackle, too.

Not Dog's Life But Two Dogs' Demise

A few years ago the Buffalo club had as a member of its pitching staff a husky good-natured chap named Rube Kissinger, who was a natural comedian and a good story teller. Here is one of his tales: On Rube's return to his home town at the end of the pennant season he met a friend of his who bewailed the loss of a pet dog.

"How did he die?" queried Rube.

"It was this way," replied the owner. "The dog started across the railroad tracks as a train hove in sight traveling at high speed. The dog was nearly across the track when the engine struck him. He died by inches."

"Too bad," sympathized Rube, who then told his friend the story of a dog who had met a like misfortune.

"It was this way," said Rube, "a circus parade was passing one day when the purp ran out barking only to be seized by an elephant's strunl and thrown over the top of a house and he died by the yard."

TRINITY STEPS ON KANGAROOS FOR 16 TO 0 WIN

Lowe Features With Run Of 70 Yards To Goal

SHERMAN, Oct. 30.—Trinity Tigers maintained their T. I. A. A. standing by defeating the crippled Austin College Kangaroos 16 to 0 here Friday afternoon in one of the most spectacular college games seen on Cashion field. The Tigers took their first tally early in the first quarter on a drop-kicked field goal by Lowe, from the 23-yard line.

The first half of the game went off with the Tigers showing a slightly better offensive game than the Kangaroos. The last half was clearly the Kangaroos'. The Austin college gridsters came back fighting and threatened several times to score with long gains by Nelson and a sensational passing game.

Nelson Flashes.

Nelson, starring for the Kangaroos, gained on almost every play. Price also did good work for the Kangaroos, going down under Keeling's well placed passes.

The Tigers took their first touchdown in the second quarter after a punting duel between Hill and Lowe. Hill was hit hard for a 25-yard loss when he went back after a poor pass from center. He was taken out with the Tigers on the enemy's 18-yard line. Line plays took the ball to the one-yard line and Scbley bucked it over. Lowe missed a drop kick attempt at goal.

Austin Menaces.

The only other score of the game came when Lowe went through the line and raced 70 yards for a touchdown.

Twice in the second half the Kangaroos went within five yards of the Tiger goal once losing the ball on downs on the one-yard line.

Schley and Ferguson starred for the Tigers, but their team's offensive worg was not the same that was put in play against Baylor and Rice as the game closed.

Line-up:

Austin College	Position	Trinity
Lingo	Left end	Elms
Muse	Left tackle	Allen
Cooksey	Left guard	Roland
Moore	Center	Manning
Mathis	Right guard	Boggs
Crawford	Right tackle	Yantis
Price	Right end	Rhome
Keeling	Quarter	Lowe
Nelson	Left half	Whitaker
Cooper	Right half	Ferguson
Hill	Fullback	Schley

HOUSTON TIES SANTONE.

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 30.—Battling to a scoreless tie, Houston Heights outplayed Brackenridge high school here Friday afternoon, Honston made nine first downs against three by Brackenridge. Brackenridge was within 18 yards of the opposition goal at one time, which was their only threat, when they lost on a fumble, while Houston was within scoring distance several times but the Brackenridge defense was equal to the occasion.

Philadelphia Bows To "Red" Grange

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Philadelphia bowed to Red Grange today, at least that part of it through which he, with the other warriors of the Illinois football squad, passed from the railroad station to the Bellevue-Stratford hotel. Whether the University of Pennsylvania gridiron machine does likewise when they meet on Franklin field tomorrow remains to be seen.

Arriving from the west in a driving snowstorm, the Illinois squad, led by Coach Zuppke, were greeted at the station by a great throng. There were hundreds of University of Illinois alumni among the crowd, but the great majority were plain football fans who braved the elements to get a glimpse of Grange. They clamored at the station gates, besieged his taxicab and craned their necks at him from every vantage point on the route to the hotel.

Women in limousines drove up to the cab and waved, policemen tapped the window and shouted a greeting and "Red"—just smiled a self-conscious smile and nodded right and left.

"Gee, they treat a fellow great," he said.

COMMISH SUSPENDS BRITONS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—(AP)—William Ames of Clifton, Mass., and a string of British boxers he manages, including Wee Willie Woods, Tommy Milligan and Frank Moody, all were suspended indefinitely today by the New York state athletic commission.

GEORGES TO BOX DELANEY.

PARIS, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Georges Carpentier, former light heavyweight champion, today signed articles to meet Jimmy Delaney, St. Paul light heavyweight, in a 10-round bout in California between January 15 and January 31.

PENN RATED SHADE OVER ILLINI TODAY

Eastern Elevens May Be Forced to Play In Snow Drifts

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Mid-season football battles, several of them destined to create new chapters in the history of gridiron sport, will be fought out in all liklihood on wet fields in the east tomorrow.

Snow of a mud-forming variety swept most of the playing surfaces today over a wide area. Speculation on the effect of this was centered particularly in the great intersectional game between Red Grange's Illinois eleven and Pennsylvania, outstanding eastern contender at Philadelphia.

Penn Stars Out.

Pennsylvania conquered Chicago in the mud last week and with similar conditions likely to prevail tomorrow the speedy Quaker forward line, one of the best defensive arrays in the east would hold an advantage over Red Grange, who would find it correspondingly difficult to get underway on a slippery surface. But Pennsylvania will be handicapped by the absence of two star backs, Kruez and Fields, to offset this.

Army vs. Yale.

The Pennsylvania-Illinois fray attracting a crowd of 62,000, will share the intersectional interest of the day with the battle which Navy will wage against Michigan at Ann Arbor, but from the viewpoint of their effect on eastern championship aspirations, the most important struggles are those between the Army and Yale at New Haven before 75,000 in the Yale bowl; Cornell and Columbia before probably 50,000 at the Polo grounds; Dartmouth and Brown in the New Providence stadium and Syracuse and Penn State at Syracuse.

Army, Dartmouth, Cornell and Syracuse all have been undefeated todate and are in the forefront of the title contenders. All are favorites in tomorrow's tilts, but Cornell and Army, at least, have stiff fights on their hands.

HOWARD KINSEY WINS.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Howard Kinsey of San Francisco defeated Ray Casey, also of San Francisco, in the men's singles of the Mexican national tennis championships today, 6-4, 6-4.

In the men's doubles William M. Johnston and Clarence J. Griffin og San Francisco, defeated Borbolla and Llano, both of Mexico City, 6-4, 6-4, 6-4.

Electra Backs Jump On Their Bicycles and Ride Quanah Indians, 41 to 0

ELECTRA, Oct. 30.—The Electra Tigers scored their initial win of the season Friday afternoon when they trampled the much lighter Quanah Indians under a 41-0 score on the local athletic field. The locals outclassed the visitors from every angle of the game. The Tiger defensive machine showed its same old form in holding the Indians without a first down being scored. Both teams resorted to straight football.

Trammill Runs 90 Yards.

The feature of the game came in the second quarter when incent Trammill, Tiger fullback, received a Quanah kick on his own 10-yard line and raced through the entire Quanah aggregation for a touchdown. Trammill circled the visiting ends for numerous other long gains. He also showed up well with his kicking for an average of 44 yards.

Bob Moore, Tiger halfback, played a stellar game. His line plunging was one of the outstanding features of the fray. His toe scored five points for the Tigers as he kicked five goals after touchdown out of six attempts.

Wright Is Right.

John Louie Wright who has seen very little action this year in the backfield, made a name for himself this afternoon with line plunging. He was responsible for a large number of the Electra gains. Lendon Smith, who took over Moore's halfback position in the second quarter when Lebus gave way to Moore, played a bang up game on both defensive and offensive.

Clay Stands Out.

Toots Gilger at tackle and Ralph Turner at end, played their same great defensive games as did Deil Cooledge, who was back at his old post at tackle after playing most of the season in th backfild. He was on the receiving end of a number of long passes with Trammill on the heaving end. Louis Kent, Bud Aven, Roy Cooledge and Buzzy Smith also are due much praise for their work in the line, Mike Brown was found ineligible shortly before the game and Kent played his end.

Quarterback Clay, Tackle Shook and Bauchamp were best defensive bets of the visitors. Clay played safety but was in almost every defensive play.

Landis' Reign Near Termination, Scribe Avers After Series

While the Senators and the Pirates were performing valiant deeds on the field, things were going on behind the scenes which portend an early end of the reign of Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis as the dictator of baseball, writes George Chadwick for the Consolidated Press Association.

An impromptu meeting of major league club owners, held downtown in Pittsburgh, at which the future executive control of the affairs of baseball was discussed at length, started the ball rolling.

"Never again will I vote for a one-man head of baseball," said one of the owners at the conference, and the others present seemed to concur in his sentiment. "I am in favor of a commission, where everybody has a chance. I think the presidents of all major league clubs should be members of this commission, with a chairman who is not connected with any club. I will not vote for a dictator again as long as I own a dollar's worth of base ball stock."

Judge Landis' contract as high commander of baseball has another year to run, but even at this early date it seems certain that it will not be renewed. There are one or two National league club owners who are ready to stand or fall by the judge, but it is doubtful whether he will be able to command the support of more than one or two American league clubs when the show-down comes.

A change of sentiment tword Ban Johnson, president of the American league, doubtless is responsible for the decline in the popularity of Judge Landis among the clubs of the younger circuit. Johnson stands higher today in his league than he did before the Chicago meeting which censured him for his outburst over the Dolan-O'Connell affair.

Should Get Around Speedily, at That

Fans at Sportsman's Park, St. Louis, had a good laghu during one of the games in the rectn series between the Cardinals and Brooklyn. Manager Robinson was making all sorts of shifts in an effort to get some runs over.

Presently Windy Kelly, the announcer, megaphoned to the crowd that "Hudson is now running for Ford." It sounded like a six-cylinder machine replacing a four-cylinder wheezer and the crowd was quick to get it.

The player Kelly caled Hudson was reality Hutson, a recuit

WALTERS PUTS IT ON DUNCAN

WALTERS, Okla., Oct. 30.—The Walters Purple Devils took another step in their avowed effort to win the southern conference when they defeated the Duncan leven here today 25 to 0. The game was featured by aerial passes which the Duncan team used extensively, although outplayed in most every other part of the game by the local gridsters.

Intersectional Peak Reached On Grid Today

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—(AP)—The peak of the season's intersectional football competition tomorrow finds the middle west's strongest team—Michigan — entertaining the Navy; the big ten's brightest star—Red Grange—invading the east against Peunsylvania and the country's greatest traveling team—Notre Dame—down at Georgia ech.

Three western conference games tomorrow settle rivalries of long standing—Wisconsin-Minnesota, Purdue-Chicago and Indiana-Northwestern. It will be Minnesota's first conference game of the season and one of the crucial games for the new coaches of the big ten, Little of Wisconsin and Spears of Minnesota. Of the two elevens, Minnesota has shown perhaps the greatest strength, especially in reserves.

Iowa and Ohio State, the other western conference teams, are counted upon to win their non-conference tests.

What's the Reason you can't afford a new Overcoat?

It's alright for you to tell that to—but you'd fly off the handle if we told you couldn't afford a new Overcoat this winter.

Only about 5 per cent of the men who plead this excuse are correct—the other 95 per cent are shielding a threadbare garment with a threadbare alibi when they should own the happiness that new (Michaels-Stern*) coat can bring—

Say—What's this life anyway?

If all the money that came into you income stayed in—business would boom—trade would be stagnate—employment would be lacking.

That's why we ask—What's to prevent you from having a new (Michaels-Stern*) Overcoat?

Certainly not the prices—

Conference Elevens Ready For Headline Contests Today

Ed Hughes' Column

Western football has ever been prolific in the production of individual stars. Not only can the west produce them, but it also understands how to advertise them. In the matter of obtaining publicity to rits grid stars the west seems to be in advance of the east. Reams of press agents' stuff, dilating on the greatness of this and that player, pour into every eastern newspaper office daily—accompanied by photographs.

The fame of Red Grange is almost as familiar to easterners as thdat of Babe Ruth. Perhaps he deserves it all, but we question it, talented though he doubtless is. It is the writer's opinion that every individual football star's renown should be reduced one-half to obtain a proper estimate of his greatness. In other words, half of his glory is due to the interference he receives from those who open up gaps that lead to big gains This is no longer received as a conjecture by those who understand the game. That the truth is not patent to all is largely due to the silly lists of leading individual point scorers which are printed in the papers.

* * *

They glorify the ball carrier, the while ignoring the party or parties who cleared the path for the gain. Thus the whole statistical truth is not published and the individual reaps an undeserved reward.

* * *

WESTERN RIVALS

But to get back to the press agenting of individual western stars. A new one has sprung up who is already being talked of as a genuine rival of the celebrated Red Grange. He is "Cowboy Nick" Kutsch, the Iowa back. Kutsch has been raising havoc on western gridirons with spectacular long runs, devestating line smashes and effective kicking. The cowboy is described as a 170-pound dynamo with a striking resemblance to Jack Dempsey. Perhaps the latter is a bit of press agent's bilge, but the fact remains the east is asked to believe it. Begging folks to believe anything is the sacred duty of every proficient press agent.

* * *

The publicity gentry have started handsomely on Kutsch by linking his name with that of Dempsey. But whether Kutsch's fame in the east is to rival that of Grange's will largely be up to the cowboy's own personal activities. Kutsch clashed on a gridiron with the illustrious Grange for the first time this year. And Grange was forced to share the individual honors with the newcomer, who would brush him from the spotlight. The Sioux City sensation brought off a thirty-two-yard run, but was unable to to pass the one-yard line, where Grange himself tackled him. However, the cowboy ploughed through for a touchdown on the next play. In addition to this, Nick kicked two field goals, thus scoring all of Iowa's point. These were enough to beat Illinois, 12 to 10.

But has Kutsch the post-season flair for publicity which Grange exhibited? Red kept his name in the sprints, and his face in the movies, by dignifying the iceman's job in summer. Was he really very concerned in keeping fit for this year's football? Is Santa Claus in the house?

It's up to Kutsch to get in touch with Jack Dempsey or Tom Mix during the winter months. Perhaps he can graft as much publicity out of them as Grange did from the ice wagon and the tongs

The ice wagons are ruled by real icemen in the east. None of them go to college to learn how to break an icebox. Oh, this higher learning.

* * *

NEW BOXING RULE

Notice the boxing commission has ruled that fighters who fall out of the ring must get back without assistance. And that if they do not, disqualification will result. The writer thinks it an unwise rule. As a matter of fact, any fighter pitching out of the ring in the future is in danger of losing then and there, to be conscious or not. Providing of course, the rule is enforced.

The commission has made an effort to uncover a solution to a problem which has existed for decades. Heretofore boxers tumbling out of the ring have received assistance back. It did seem somewhat unfair to the principal who had delivered the blow. But there were other equally important angles to consider. How about the spectators upon whom the catapulting victim came to rest? In extricating themselves from the fallen boxer they could not help but render assistance.

* * *

The best illustration in point is that of Dempsey's spill out of the ring in the Firpo battle. The champion shot through the ropes and landed squarely on the typewriter of Jack Lawrence, the sports scribe. There was no alternative for Lawrence but to shove Dempsey upward toward the ring. Unless he had elected to remain neutral under the most impossible circumstances. That is to have permitted Jack to stay on top of him until the champion could make an effort, strictly on his own behalf, to ascend. In that case, Lawrence would have been obliged to offer his windpipe as a leverage for Jack's ringward struggles. Naturally he didn't. Nor would any other sane bloke in a similar plight.

* * *

Had the present rule been in force that memorable night Johnny Gallagher must have named Luis Firpo as the new champion of the world. Dempsey would have lost solely because he had been knocked through the ropes and had been lent assistance that was purely involuntary, unavoidable.

* * *

In order not to give assistance in a case of the kind, a newspaper man would have to move so that a fighter would crash still lower—to the ground. And what scribe would care to be to blame for injuries that might very possibly result? I for one would rather see a fighter lose a fight than lose his life.

So take care, all ye bruisers who fall on this scribe. Assistance shall be rendered!

The new ruling which asserts that a referee must not start counting on a fallen boxers until his opponent has definitely started toward a corner is a good one. There will be no repititions from others of Dempsey crouching over the flattened Firpo, ready to crack him before he can raise his fists.

Baylor Coaches Declare Bears Have Even Chance To Defeat Dana's Aggies

DALLAS, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Four powerful southwestern conference grid machines will throw their full strength into two headline contests of the week tomorrow that will have important bearing in the 1925 championship race. Last year's leaders, the Baylor Bears, will face one of the strongest contenders this year in the Texas Aggies at Waco. The showing that Texas Longhorns and the Southern Methodist university Mustangs will make this season will be determined in a large measure in the clash here tomorrow.

Both the Mustangs and the Longhorns will take the field at full strength, though Captain Wright of Texas is reported suffering slight after effects from previous injury, and Olle, an end, who has also been injurel, will probably not be used in the first quarter. Wright is scheduled to start in the line-up, however.

Blackwell Shouts Razzberries.

Dr. R. N. Blackwell, business manager of athletics with . M. U., in a statement last night, characterized reports this week that Texas players mSight be forced from the game as "somebody's psychology to draw public sentiment to Texas and against S. M. U." He emphasized reports of Wright's slight injury declaring that the first hard jolt might render him unable to continue the game.

FARMERS IN GOOD SHAPE.

WACO, Oct. 30.—Sportsmen are already pouring into Waco from all parts of Texas for the annual Baylor-A. and M. football classic, which will be staged on the Cotton Palace gridiron Saturday afternoon.

Coach D. X. Bible and his Aggie eleven will remain in College Station tonight. Information from the Farmer coaching staff last night showed the Aggie team to be in tip-top shape.

Optimism over the probable outcome of the game came from the Baylor coaches for the first time this year, today. Both coaches, Bridges and Crowe, declared that the Bears had an even chance to defeat the Aggies tomorrow. The Bears did not work out today, Coaches Bridges and Crowe believing that rest would benefit their squad more than work. The Baylor team was reported to be in the best of condition with the exception of the loss of Jack Sisco, who has been out of the game since the Notre Dame affair.

Parades Before Game.

Parades, pep meetings and numerous other demonstrations will take place, beginning early Saturday morning. Several thousand students and citizens are expected to attend a pep meeting on the Baylor campus at 8:30 Saturday morning, which will be followed by the "Bear Prance" down Austin avenue.

Four trains of A. and M. cadets are scheduled to arrive in Waco at 10:10 a. m. Immediately following the arrival of the Cadets, they will parade in the business section. Other smaller demonstrations will take place in various parts of the city.

In addition to the Baylor-A. and M. game, West Texas day will be observed at the Texas Cotton Palace. Several special trains are scheduled to arrive from West Texas points over the Cotton Belt railroad in the morning.

LONGHORNS AND PONIES WORKOUT.

DALLAS, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Coach Doc Stewart arrived in Dallas late today with 28 members of the Texas Longohrn football squad and forthwith shot his gridsters through snappy drill for the clash with the Southern Methodist University Mustangs at Fair park tomorrow. Ideal football weather prevailed today with prospects for its lapping over Saturday. This prerequisite together with the intense interest in the battle that pervades the myriad fans awaiting the pop of the gun tomorrow, and the two teams "rarin' to go," forecast a colosal gridiron engagement.

Visitors from all over the state, including many alumni of the two institutions, are arriving in Dallas tonight. A goodly supply of tickets were unsold tonight, however. No sideline tickets are being sold until all box seats and reserved seats are disposed of.

The Mustangs worked out this afternoon against the strong "colt" aggregation, which defeated Burleson college at Greenville Thursday 10 to 0. The "colts" probable Junior college champions of the state, have adopted Longhorn tactics in practice with the varsity team .

RAIL EXPENSES DROP.

Rock Island Lines Decrease Figure by 12 Millions Last Month.

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Total operating expenses of the Rock Island lines decreased from $12,467,279 in September, 1924, to $11,774,806 for last month, the road's income account revealed today. Operating expenses also decreased for the month of September $18,370,540 in 1925, compared with $8,572,475 in 1924. Net operating income slumped from $2,839,494 in 1924, to $2,400,339 in September, 1925.

Mike Kelly Called Bucky Harris Of Southern Diamond

The name "Bucky" Harris has become synonymous with leadership and pluck in baseball, thanks to the successful management of th Washington team by the dapper young student of baseball.

And so in the south, according to Ernie Phillips, demon sport writer of the Asheville, N. C., Times, they are calling Mike Kelly, manager and first baseman of the Spartanburg, S. C., team of the South Atlantic league the "Bucky Harris of the South."

Here is a brief record of what Kelly did to win the moniker.

Won the South Atlantic league championship.

Nosed out the Charlotte team in the last game.

Overcame a lead of seven and a half games in the last two weeks to tie the Charlotte team.

Won 26 of its last 30 games.

Hit .362 while managing the team.

Collected 22 home runs.

Led his team to victory in interleague series against Richmond, Virginia League Champs, for the class B championship of the south, four games out of five.

Got four home runs in the five-game series, two in the last and deciding game.

Then received the signal honor of being voted the most valuable player to his club in the "Sally" league.

Kelly was serving his fifth year as pilot of the team—in a league that saw some 18 different managers in action during the hectic campaig of 1925. And his showing has caused his club to offer him another contract—at just double the figures the old one mentioned.

Kelly has had many offers to step into faster company, but expresses complete contentment with his present ob. And, judging by the feeling in Spartanburg now, Mike'll make the first move to leave the place.

Moran Instigator Of "Big Six" Memorial

Baseball has responded to a man to the plan broached by Uncle Charley Moran, National league umpire, and Bucknell's football coach to erect a memorial at Lewisburg, Pa., in memory of Christy Matthewson, greatest of all pitchers whose death occurred on the evening of the opening game of the world's series, comments Chester Smith in the Pittsburgh Gazette-Times.

Moran went to Washington and put his proposition before the heads of the National and American leagues. It involves the playing of a game between the New York Giants and the Senators in New York next year, the money received to go toward the construction of a field house and gymnasium at Bucknell, Matty's alma mater.

So enthusiastic was the reception given the propostion that Presidents Heydler of the National league and Ban Johnson of the junior circuit at once agreed to arrange their schedules so that the contest will be played before June 15.

No memorial to Big Six would be more fitting that one which would aid in developing young men of the present generation to as high a degree of physical perfection that Mathewson attained.

Travis Grand Jury In "Local" Report

AUSTIN, Oct. 30.—(AP).—The Travis county grand jury which has been investigating the state highway department adjourned today until Monday. It reported eight indictments, all of local nature.

BOMBING RECORD

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—(AP)—A new record for accuracy in bombing has been established at Langley field by Lieutenants C. S. Shankle and Levi Beery of the army air service, in scoring seven hits with 100-pound practice bombs out of nine dropped from an altitude of 5,000 feet.

Empire Pays Off, $275,000 Check

The deal between the Empire Gas and Fuel company and the Freeman-Hampton Oil corporation et al, for the boldings of the latter name corporation in central Archer county, was definitely closed yesterday, and the Empire's check for $275,000 received in payment for 60 acres containing seven oil wells making about 450 barrels a day. The firm of Burton and Ruff was also interested in the property sold.

Van Sweringen's Big Merger Step Near

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Hearing of the Van Sweringen railroad merger plan ended late today before the interstate commerce commission which must yet hear arguments of attorneys and receive briefs before reaching a decision.

VALLEY TITLE AT STAKE IN IOWA STATE-MISSOURI GAME

KANAS CITY, Oct. 30.—(AP).—The Missouri Valley conference gridiron leadership will be decided tomorrow unless a tie should develop in the Iowa State-University of Missouri game.

The two undefeated valley leaders will clash at Columbia, with Missouri striving to maintain its prestige in the valley and gain the title for the second consecutive year.

The Nebraska Cornhusgers expect anything but an easy tussle with Oklahoma at Lincoln. Cornhusker scouts who saw Oklahoma defeat Southern Methodist university at Dallas last week, have taken some of the edge off the Nebraska enthusiasm and report a hard game may be prepared for.

After losing to Ames, Kansas Aggies and Nebraska it seems doubtful if Kansas can turn back Drake at Lawrence tomorrow. The Bulldogs are third in the valley standing with three victories and one defeat.

The Oklahoma Aggies will play Grinnell at Grinnell in the fourth valley game tomorrow. Both teams have fared ill in the valley play so far this season. The Kansas Aggies and Washington university are idle tomorrow.

State's Victory Gives Cornell Edge in Next Game

Cornell, one of the few remaining unbeaten teams in the east, is ready to pit its strength against its next rival, Columbia, at the Polo Grounds, New York city, Oct. 31. Columbia showed considerable power in its eastern games against John Hopkins and Wesleyan, but the defeat handed it by Ohio State University—at Columbus—showed that a strong offensive team could penetrate its line. Cornell's 41 to 0 vietory over Rutgers indicates its strength.

THE BIG "BUSTS" OF 1925

Herman Ruth Was Largest of All, Thanks to Appetite

The sport year of 1925 might well be termed "The year of the big busts."

For while the waning 12 months have been replete with thrills, have furnished some remarkable sport, and have seen some new faces blossom forth the outsanding feature of the year was the manner in which idols—old ones and those fresh from the plaster mold—were dashed to the floor.

Babe Ruth, of course, draws the title of "King of Busts."

This is not meant in a spirit of derision or sarcasm. Due to circumstances which Ruth had not realized he should control he was a total loss to baseball, at a time when his daily presence with his mighty power at bat might have lifted the Yankees from a tail-end outfit to a pennant contending team, albeit not a pennant winner.

True, Ruth got into the game long enough to crash out 25 homers, but these came too late, and then at too scattered intervals—to do any good—material or psychological.

Cost Yanks Thousands.

His protracted absence from the game, coupled with the poor showing of the Yankees—in a measure due to his failure—cost the Yankee owners many thousands of dollars. The Babe's own drawing power is counted on to produce the gate receipts that will cover his own little salary of $52,000 a year. In addition to this the club owners have had the right to expect a goodly return on their investment through these gate receipts.

Ruth entered into the early spring training last year with earnest and serious intentions of bolding his place in the baseball sun. He realzed that the public expected him to deliver—that he owed it to the public, to say nothing of the Yankee bosess, to deliver.

His first workouts at Hot Springs, Ark., were encouraging to him as well as his thousands of followers. Perhaps too encouraging to the Babe. Finding that he was rounding into form with little trouble he took a new lease on life. He joined the team at St. Petersburg, Fla., happy in the thought that the opening of the campaign would find him "set." Unintentionally, probably, he let down in his training.

Unthinking friends made no effort to check him when he found the training a bit irksome at last and sought recreation. Whether or not they could have influenced him is, of course, a matter for debate. A man of Ruth's type, build and brawn, does not like to be guided. A man now manager of one of the leading minor league teams of the country, has told me how he tried in vain to play "big brother" to Ruth early in the slugger's career and found all his efforts going to naught.

Ruth's collapse on the trip north was due, it is generally believed, to his excessive appetite. That Ruth always has been an enormous eater—is a matter of general knowledge, from umpires of the game in which he worked, to clerks behind "one-armed" joints near the various hotels at which the Yanks have stopped.

Not even the seriousness of the operation which followed his collapse remained long in Ruth's mind. He narrowly escaped a relapse.

Fans Await Return.

Then came his return to the game. Fans, who had awaited his coming with the anticipation which accompanies hero worship, longed to see him fall into his old stride.

"Start something, Babe." was the cry from all sides.

But Ruth was in no condition, physically or mentally, to assume his old place in the scheme of things. This knowledge fretted him.

The outburst against Huggins followed—and then the castination. Babe's decision to take back his cruel words, bend the knee to Manager Huggins and play the game again was the only bright spot in the Ruthless one's work for the year. It showed once more that Ruth's intentions are of the best. At heart he is ambitious to start to play the game right, to be liked.

That the public has a heartfelt interest in him is indicated by the fact that he is still a magnet wherever he appears. And if he shows again a desire to break back into the old spotlight the public will string with him—until he stretches their faith a bit too far.

Florida Extension By Rail Planned

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—(AP).—Plans for the construction of a new railroad line in Florida opening up a new gateway from the west coast to the middle and northwestern part of the country were announced today by the Atlantic Coast Line railroad. The road will bridge a 40-mile gap between Monticello and Perry, Fla., establishing through lines from Tampa and other west coast cities to Atlanta, Chattanooga, Nashville, St. Louis, Cincinnati and other northern points.

2633 to 1906 For Unification So Far

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 30.—Twenty-six conferences of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, have cast a vote of 2,633 in favor and 1,906 against unification of American Methodism, a total of 4,539, or 771 short of the three-fourths majority required.

The vote represents approximately half of the voting strength of the southern church.

Honor System For Alamo School Is Near Perfect Now

The honor system established in the Alamo school last year is working almost 100 per cent perfect, according to the principal of the school, J. E. Park, yesterday.

Notebook paper, pencils and pen points are arranged on a table in the hall and the children drop their pennies and nickles in "the slot" where the coins are placed in payment.

Each evening after school a meeting is held by the officers of the student's council and a check made on the day's sales. The officers are: Gladys Ragland, president; C. D. Shamburger, vice president; Zaidee McKinney, secretary-treasurer. Each class has a representative to the council. Miss Alice Bennett is sponsor for the buying and assists the council in taking care of the business.

Receipts for each day's business amount to three or four dollars.

"The honesty part is working fine," Mr. Park said.

AUSTIN, Oct. 30.—(AP).—Although the workmen's compensation act does not include municipal corporations, they may elect to insure employes, but if they do, all the employes must be insured, the attorney general's department informed the industrial accident board today.

Iowa Park Climbs On Wichita Falls Juniors For 20 To 0 Victory

The Iowa Park Hawks trampled the Coyote Pups by the score of 20 to 0 Friday afternoon on the Iowa Park grid. The Hawks broke through the smaller Wichita Falls line time and again for good gains, making 22 first downs to the Pups' five.

The Pups threatened but once, that was late in the game when the Pups placed the ball on Iowa Park's four-yard line, but lacked the punch to carry it over. Fly attempted a drop kick, but the try was blocked by the Hawks who took possession of the ball.

Buddy Tanner, Hawk center, was the power of the Iowa Park line. Tanner piled through the Pups forward defense with ease, and made several tackles behind the line of scrimmage.

Cheeves was the outstanding star of the Hawk backfield with his consistent ground gaining. This little half carried the ball almost every other time, and picked his holes well. The honor of the day for long gains by the Hawks goes to Burney, plunging fullback, who ripped off several big advances.

Fly Offensive Star.

Fly was the outstanding offensive star of the Coyote Pups. The Tennessee schoolboy was the most consistent ground gainer, and his punts were a great factor in pushing back of the Hawks.

Being forced to play on the defense throughout most of the game and showing little at carrying the ball, the Pups displayed a spectacular defense at times.

Pete Powell, right guard and roaming back on the defense, was the outstanding star on the defense. Powell was in almost every plays of the game, and broke up many advances before they were hardly started.

Anderson on Defense.

Babe Anderson, left end, was a bullwark in the Pup line showing ability to pass the opposing line and make his plays far back of the line of scrimmage. Both Carter and Brackett were stars on the defense in the backfield. Their showing was in the breaking up of passes. Fly also made a nice showing on this work.

Grand marches down the field by the Hawks were responsible for all three touchdowns. Burney, Beasley, Enloe and Cheeves seemed to be unstoppable in the first three quarters while the line offered them the best of interference.

Shreveport Lauds Cancelling of Split

Texas League club owners have very wisely decided to abolish the split season, observes Otis Harris in the Shreveport Journal. At their meeting in Dallas, they recorded a majority vote against the practice resorted to almost annually to knife successful teams for the crime of winning more games than their less fortunate colleagues.

It is well to have it over with now and avoid the uncertainty that usually comes in mid-season with one or two teams way out in front and others trailing at more or less respectful distances. At best, the split is a bushy practice and should never have had a part in the Texas league's scheme of things. It was first put into effect in 1919, with Shreveport in first place, and fans here thought a deliberate attempt was made to gyp them out of the pennant. Since, Shreveport fans have warmed up to the idea to some extent when the local team was buried in the basement, but however brilliant the idea might have been it has never struck a really popular chord here or elsewhere.

With the split definitely abolished, club owners and their managers will know where they stand before the season begins. They will know that they can't start with misfit crews with the hope that their clubs will be improved as the race progresses an da chance to start over again at the half-way point.

Rupture Expert Coming

Demonstrate the Famous Rice Method Free To Callers at Hotel

If you are ruptured, your big opportunity has now arrived. If you want to be free from the slavery of gouging, chaffing trusses that make life a burden and misery, then HERE and NOW is the time to act.

Expert in rupture cases, trained under the personal direction of W. S. Rice, of Adams, N. Y., originator of the famous Rice (Non-Surgical) Rupture Method, will be at the Texan hotel, Wichita Falls, Texas, Monday and Tuesday, November 2 and 3, to give free demonstrations and trial of his safe and painless method to every man, woman and child who is ruptured.

You have, no doubt, heard and read much about this famous Rice Ruture Method and the wonderful cures which thousands have reported from it. Now, you have the chance to find out all about it—to have it personally applied to your own rupture and learn just what it can and will do in YOUR OWN case. Just call at the hotel and this expert will give you his personal attention, best advice and complete demonstration entirely free.

Are you tired of that binding, hampering, uncomfortable old truss? Would you like to be done with truss wearing forever? Then investigate this Rice Method and learn the wonderful opportunity for help and cure it offers. Remember it is different from everything else and is accomplishing wonderful results where all other treatments, and even operations have failed. It is modern, up-to-the-minute, abreast of the latest scientific developments. It is the one Rupture Method you are not asked to take on faith alone—the one Method that is positively demonstrated to you right on your own rupture, without any charge whatever.

Don't let this great opportunity get away from you. Your call on the Rice expert is sure to prove one of the best things you ever did. He will be there only two days then your opportunity will be gone. Remember, you do not spend a penny unless, after having a complete demonstration, you decide this is the Method for you, and you—you alone—are the sole judge of that.

Call any time from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m., or 7 to 8 evening. Simply ask at the hotel desk for the Rice Expert and she will do the rest. Don't miss seeing this Rice Expert.

Police File Against Russell and Two More In Hi-Jacking

TWO MEN WHOM RUSSELL SAYS AIDED JAILED

Rush Stell and Doc Taylor Said to Have Made Statements Friday

Charges of robbery with firearms were filed Friday afternoon in justice of peace court against Rush Stell and Doc Taylor, two men named Thursday by Jack Russell as being accomplices of his in a series of hold-ups in Wichita Falls in the past few weeks. A similar charge was also lodged against Russell and all three men are now in the county jail here.

Russell was arrested Thursday by the city police department and after a lengthy grilling broke down and confessed to a number of hi-jackings, included in which were the hold-ups of the Lamar Avenue pharmacy, the Pig Stand No. 2, the Switzer filling station and numerous individuals.

In his confessions Russell named the other two and one of them was arrested Thursday afternoon. The other was not apprehended until later in the evening, however, and filing of all three complaints were deferred until Friday. It is understood Stell and Taylor have both made statements to the district attorney's office concerning the robberies here.

With the arrest of these three the police are confident they have broken the back of the hi-jacking ring that has operated successfully for several weeks here.

Thus far no effort has been made to secure bond for the trio.

Judge Sartin Speaks On "Old Ironsides"

Judge B. D. Sartin was the chief speaker at the boys' assembly of Junior high school at Eleventh and Broad Friday morning when he talked on "Old Ironsides," and explained "Old Ironsides" week to them. Junior high school has announced that $20 has been raised in the nation-wide campaign for $400,000 among the school children of the United States to keep the historic battleship which survived 50 different encounters.

Through the history department of the Junior high school, special programs are given each week devoted to something of historical interest. This has been observed as "Roosevelt Week" because of the birthday of Theodore Roosevelt, October 28. The music department co-operates with music suitable for the occasions; the art department makes posters, and the English department takes up literature for the week.

World fellowship will be observed next week featuring Japan, it was stated.

Chief Figures in Gem Ransom Probe

Methods of burglary insurance companies in working to recover stolen property are being gone into by Ferdinand Percora (left) assistant district attorney of New York City, in a grand jury probe of return of $683,000 Donahue gem collection. Noel C. Scaffa (right), private detective for an insurance concern, is alleged to have paid $65,000 ransom to theives for return of the gems. He is under indictment on charge of compounding a felony.

Marshall Forced To Further Appeal

James L. Marshall, convicted in the 30th district court here three weeks ago and sentenced to 25 years in the state penitentiary, must seek a new trial through the court of criminal appeals.

Judge H. R. Wilson of the 30th district yesterday overruled a motion submitted by Marshall's attorneys for a new trial here and notice of appeal was immediately filed.

Marshall was found guilty of the murder of Bud Swayzee, local dairyman the latter part of last July.

NO PROGRESS IN COURTMARTIAL IS SEEN FRIDAY

Brief and Lively Session Means a Loss to The Defense

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—(AP) The brief but lively session held today by the court martial sitting in judgment on Col. William Mitchell charged with conduct prejudicial to military order and discipline in violation of the 96th article of war, accomplished little today beyond putting the air officer's pleas of "not guilty" in the record and denying him the "bill of particulars" he had requested.

Director Arrives For "Vanity Fair"

Torry McKinney of the Harrington Adams company of Fostoria, O., arrived Friday afternoon to begin rehearsals for the "Vanit yFair Revue," the annual play given under the auspices of the Business and Professional Women's club.

Mr. McKinney has directed the plays here for the past four years, and many remember the successful performances of "Spring Time," "The Glorious Girl," and "Marcheta."

Some of the best local talent in the city will have parts in the play. Mrs. Lois Parker and Miss Marguerite Fisher are members of the talent committee.

CASUALTIES ARE 4,500.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Reuters correspondent at Alhucemas says the total Spanish casualties in that area have been between 4,000 and 4,500, this presumably covering the period since the Spanish landing there early in September.

The Spaniards, he adds, propose to begin operations about November 14 to capture the heavy Riffian gun which has been shelling Tetuan in the western sector.
