Nixon Eyes Middle East With Top Advisers

By FRANCES LEWINE
Associated Press Writer

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — Amid rising Israeli complaints of cease-fire violations, President Nixon sits down with his top advisers today to assess the Middle East situation.

He called Vice President Spiro T. Agnew back a day early from a Honolulu rest stop on the way home from Asia to join in the session at the Western White House. Agnew also will report to the President on the 10-day trip in which he met with leaders of five Asian nations.

Presidential Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said he did not expect any announcements or reports to come out of the Middle East meeting. Nor, he added, would any of the officials, including Agnew, meet with the press here.

Nixon has been stressing the need now for "quiet diplomacy" while Arab-Israeli peace decisions are under way at the United Nations.

In Washington, Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird said Monday, "With regard to arms deliveries to Israel during the 90-day cease-fire we are taking such steps as are necessary to assure that the arms balance does not tip against Israel."

Israel's Premier Golda Meir has expressed concern that the United States, which proposed the cease-fire, is not responding vigorously enough to Israel's charges of Egyptian violations and antiaircraft missile buildups in the Suez Canal area.

High Israeli sources say the United States has indicated in diplomatic contacts that it has recognized alleged Egyptian infractions, but has not agreed to make this public.

Nixon kept Tuesday free for the session with a group practically duplicating his National Security Council.

Ziegler emphasized: "It is not a formal NSC meeting. But it happens to be composed of people who are members of the NSC."

Those attending are: the vice president; Secretary of State William P. Rogers; Deputy Secretary of Defense David Packard, sitting in for Laird; Adm. Thomas H. Moorer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff; Joseph J. Sisco, assistant secretary of state for Near Eastern and South Asian affairs; Richard Helms, director of the Central Intelligence Agency, and Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, Nixon's national security adviser.

The only missing member of the NSC was Gen. George Lincoln, director of the Office of Emergency Preparedness.

Nixon, in a television interview broadcast Monday on CBS, said he saw some hope in the Middle East with the cease-fire and the beginning of peace talks. He added that suggestions of a U.S.-Soviet peace-keeping force in the Middle East were not particularly helpful now.

Asked whether this was meant as a reprimand to high administration officials who talked about such a possibility in a Western White House background briefing for newsmen last week, Ziegler said:

"In no way at all."

Col. Wilson E. Speir, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, has predicted that 49 persons will be killed in Texas traffic crashes during the 78-hour Labor Day weekend from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Monday, Sept. 7. This estimate is based on past experience and other factors, and traffic experts believe it will be accurate, unless drivers take it upon themselves to drive more carefully than they have on past holiday weekends.

It will be interesting to see whether the early beginning of college terms will affect the volume of traffic as well as the accident toll. This is the first year that virtually all colleges in the state have launched their fall terms before Labor Day. Previously, the Labor Day weekend has been the occasion for the last big fling before schools and colleges start their fall terms.

Now most public schools and nearly all colleges already have started their classes for fall.

However, as Col. Speir points out, "Inevitably, the drivers themselves hold the solution in their hands. That is why we constantly and repeatedly appeal to drivers to remain continually on the alert for situations that can spell disaster and make driving a full-time job while they are behind the wheel."

If you have a long-haired dog and have been clipping him in an effort to make him more comfortable during the "dog days" of summer, not only are you wasting your time, but you may be doing the dog harm, according to the Texas Veterinary Medical Association. Unless the fur is badly matted, it should be left at its natural length, they say. The skin of the dog does not perspire, which means that it is unable to produce much cooling effect. The dog pants instead of perspiring to eliminate excess heat.

The past weekend was a real dismal experience for most teams with experience in professional football's Super Bowl. All but two of the teams ever to perform in the Super Bowl were soundly beaten, and the two victors may have won only because they were playing other Super Bowl teams and someone had to win. Green Bay and Minnesota were the two victors. Green Bay, winner in the first two Super Bowls, took the measure of Oakland, who met the Packers and lost in the 1968 Super Bowl. Minnesota routed the New York Jets, world champions by defeating Baltimore in the 1969 Super Bowl, and the Kansas City Chiefs, the present world champs, fell to Atlanta. Baltimore, the Super Bowl loser of 1969, went down before Miami.

Dallas, Ft. Worth Flooded

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cloudbursts sent flash floods surging through several trailer parks and tornadoes inflicted limited damage near Fort Worth and Dallas during the night.

The deluges fell and violent winds battered several areas as thunderstorms and heavy showers rumbled through all but the far west and northeast sections of the state, dwindling by this morning into scattered showers over the High Plains, through Central Texas and over the coastal plains.

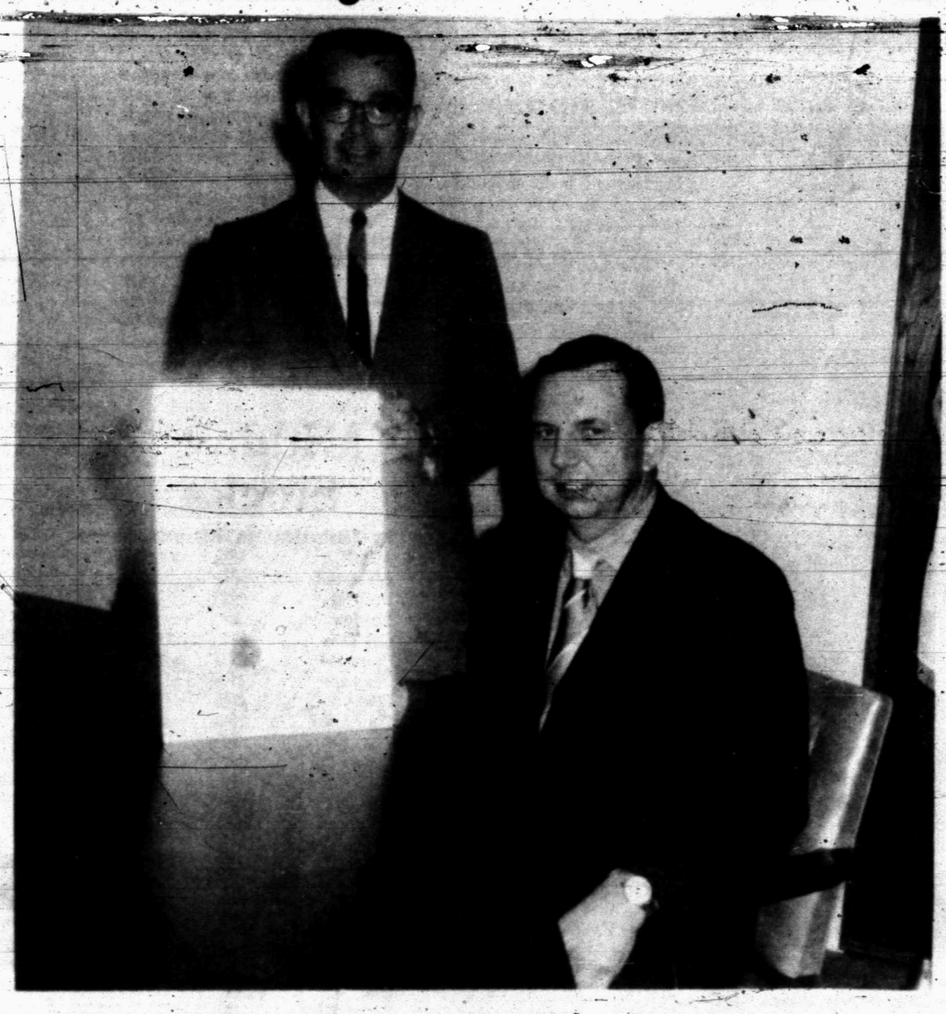
As much as 6.19 inches of rain poured down at Terrell, 30 miles east of Dallas, between 1 and 5 p.m. Monday, the Weather Bureau reported. Police said streets filled for a time but there was no damage.

High water caused trouble between Dallas and Fort Worth, rising into two trailer parks on the west side of Irving and into a third park in Grand Prairie.

Hail accompanied the downpour at Irving, where the rainfall was estimated at 5 inches. At Fort Worth's Greater Southwest Airport, in the same vicinity, the official measurement was 3.30 inches before midnight and .43 more fell by dawn.

Irving Police Sgt. Fred Vaughan said 14 trailer houses were floated off their foundations in one park and water climbed into eight places at another park as Bear and Delaware Creeks went on a brief tear. Some occupants were taken out by boats. The water subsided after midnight.

An unidentified woman who suffered a broken arm from falling in the mud apparently was the only person injured at Irving, Vaughan said. There was no word of injuries elsewhere.



PROCLAMATION SIGNED — Mayor Bobby McCormick, seated, this morning signed the proclamation being held by Tom Saltsgiver, general manager of the Ritz-Craft plant here, designating Sept. 24 as "Ritz-Craft Day" in Snyder. Gov. Preston Smith will speak at the dedication ceremony.

Ritz-Craft Day Proclaimed Here

Snyder Mayor, Bobby McCormick, today proclaimed Thursday, Sept. 24 as Ritz-Craft Day in Snyder.

The proclamation was issued in conjunction with an announcement by Larry J. Ritzenthaler, Ritz-Craft president, setting that date for the official opening of the company's new half-million dollar mobile homes plant in Snyder's Industrial Park, and dedication by Texas Governor Preston Smith.

Ritzenthaler said the company is planning an open house tour of the plant following the dedication ceremony to which local and state officials and representatives from the mobile homes industry and local citizens are being invited. Corporate executives from Ritz-Craft, Inc., and from The Wickes Corporation, parent company of Ritz-Craft, will be on hand to meet the guests, he said.

The plant, being called Ritz-Craft of Texas, is now in final stages of completion and limited production was begun there in late July.

The plant provides 70,000 square feet of space and is Ritz-Craft's largest facility. Two side by side production lines are expected to be turning out 15 mobile homes per day soon. Employment at its peak is expected to reach 150 persons.

Ritz-Craft of Texas will make mobile homes up to 70 feet long and 14 feet wide and is capable of building models to 16 feet wide and 75 feet long. Its market will extend throughout the Southwestern states.

Ritz-Craft, Inc., with headquarters in Argos, Ind., was founded in 1954. The Snyder plant is its eighth facility. Other plants are located in Pennsylvania, North Carolina, Florida, Louisiana and Nebraska.

Tropical Wave To Cause Rains

MIAMI (AP) —The National Hurricane Center said today that Brownsville radar reports and low wind observations along the lower Texas coast indicate a weak circulation has formed on the tropical wave which has been tracked westward through the Gulf of Mexico.

The Hurricane Center said: "This system is centered a short distance off the lower Texas coast and is expected to approach the coast slowly today, probably moving inland along the middle Texas Coast this evening. No significant strengthening is expected.

"The system will cause heavy rains in the Coastal Bend area and a few heavy squalls with winds up to 45 m.p.h. for brief periods, and seas locally 6 to 8 feet."

Scholarships Being Made For College

Scholarship have already been received by Western Texas College, and numerous inquiries are being made concerning scholarships for worthy students in this area, college officials have reported.

Letters concerning scholarships are being mailed to area civic and teachers organizations and to churches who have an interest in futhering the education of area youth. Some individuals and organizations have expressed an interest in contributing scholarships for students in certain fields, such as nursing and vocational trades, as well as general academic scholarships.

Names of donors and the name and amount of scholarships are needed this fall to be included in the official Western Texas College catalog, which is to be ready for distribution Jan. 1. The educational cost for a full-time student at WTC, including tuition, all fees, deposits and books, will be $123 per semester. Those offering scholarships may offer either a full scholarship of tuition, fees, etc., or a tuition only scholarship which costs $50 per semester.

College officials have pointed out that scholarship contributions made payable to Western Texas College are deductible for income tax purposes.

Today In History

Senate Nixes War Amendment

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate, in a vote that upheld President Nixon's Vietnam policies, refused today to set deadlines for withdrawal of all American troops.

The roll call vote was 55 to 39.

The lame duck Texas Democrat, Ralph Yarborough, voted for the amendment. Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., voted against it.

It turned down a proposal that the troops be pulled out by the end of 1971.

The defeat of the "Amendment to End the War," came as a triumph for the Nixon administration, after months of controversy in which critics denounced the measure as a blueprint for the first defeat in American history.

But Sens. George McGovern, D-S.D., and Mark O. Hatfield, R-Ore., the principal sponsors of the amendment, said the vote succeeded in demonstrating the depth of national discontent over America's long and bloody struggle in Southeast Asia.

"This amendment gave a rallying point to millions of anguished citizens across this war-weary land," McGovern told the Senate.

Branding the war the cruelest, the most barbaric and the most stupid conflict in American history, McGovern said:

"Every senator in this chamber is partly responsible for sending 50,000 young Americans to an early grave."

The defeat of the amendment was all but sealed less than an hour before the vote when Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., considered a key figure by the Hatfield-McGovern forces, announced he would not support it.

Cooper said the Congress must place its faith in the President.

NEW RESIDENTS — These young people all are daughters or sons of oil company employes who live overseas. They are living with Mrs. Alvin (Ann) Nitsch at the Travel Inn Motel on the East Highway and will attend Snyder High School this year. Widely traveled, they are looking forward to making new friends in Snyder. They are, from left to right, front row, Robert Nitsch, Kate Nitsch, Judi Huddleston and Toni Trahan; and, back row, Susan Gay, Keith Trahan and Sheryl Scott.

Seven Here For School While Parents Overseas

Mrs. Alvin (Ann) Nitsch is an unusual housekeeper.

She has five girls and two boys living with her, all children of oil company employes who work overseas.

She came up with the idea of making a home for them when her husband and other oil company employes who work in Africa discovered there are no adequate schools in Tripoli. Thus the children will be able to get a good education by attending high school. And, of course, many of them later will be qualified for college.

The group of her "children" include Judi Huddleston, Toni Trahan, Susan Gay, Keith Trahan and Sheryl Scott. In addition, she has two of her own children: Robert Nitsch and Kate Nitsch. All of them are of high school age, and each has lived several years in a foreign country.

Saturday afternoon, The Portables, a music entertainment group from Abilene, put on a special program, just for the students prior to a dance that was held at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 8231 home. Safeguard Intercepts Missile In Outer Space

WASHINGTON (AP) — Development of the Safeguard Antiballistic Missile (ABM) system has reached a significant milestone with its first interception of a missile in outer space, but the ultimate test remains five years away.

A Spartan missile fired Friday from a mid-Pacific test site on Kwajalein Atoll intercepted a Minuteman I ballistic missile nose cone high over the Pacific and above the earth's atmosphere.

It was the first time the Spartan was fired at an actual target and guided by its new and complex missile site radar (MSR), the Defense Department said Monday in a brief announcement of the test. In previous tests, Spartans were fired only at points in the sky.

"This was the first test to see if the system works," a Pentagon spokesman explained. "It wasn't the ultimate test, but it was a milestone."

The ultimate test of the disputed multi-billion-dollar ABM system will come in 1975 when the first Safeguard site is scheduled to become operational with all its component parts, including the important but still not completed perimeter acquisition radar (PAR), at Grand Forks, N.D.

Safeguard is designed to protect America's offensive Minuteman missile force by knocking out incoming enemy missiles with its long-range, nuclear-tipped Spartan and short-range Sprint missiles.

Safeguard critics, both in Congress and the scientific community, question whether the ABM's guiding radars are sophisticated enough to distinguish the incoming nuclear warheads from decoys and other electronic devices designed to fool or jam the system.

Friday's mid-Pacific test demonstrated the missile site radar's ability to track an incoming missile and guide Spartan to its target. In this case, it was a single nose cone and not a multiple warhead such as would be expected in an actual attack.

The Safeguard system also will be aided by its perimeter acquisition radar, which is being designed to pick up enemy missiles when they first appear over the horizon minutes after launch. However, because of its size and complexity, it will be impossible to fully test the PAR and the completed Safeguard system until the first site is installed at Grand Forks.

In describing Friday's test, Pentagon officials said the Spartan intercepted a Minuteman nose cone launched 4,200 miles away from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif.

"The girls couldn't attend the dance," Mrs. Nitsch said, but they wanted to hear the singing group, and they put on the program especially for them."

Each one of the students could tell a story of adventure abroad, for many interesting things have happened to them over the years. For instance, Kate Nitsch and Sheryl Scott, who hails from East Orange, New Jersey, have both ridden their horses for the King of Tripoli. Last year Kate, who is a twirler, performed before the King before he was ousted from his throne this year. She also twirled at the All-American basketball tournament in Rome and in Vechiaza, Italy. Most of the students have traveled extensively in Europe.

For instance, Kate went on a cruise down the Rhine River last summer and took a cruise on the Mediterranean at Christmas time, visiting Naples, Pompei, Barcelona, Palma and Tunisia. She has lived in North Africa six years.

Sheryl has been out of the country five years, living in Caracas, Venezuela, and Tripoli. She has been to camp in Switzerland and went on field trips to Austria and to Germany. When the revolution occurred in Tripoli, she was evacuated to Naples, Italy, on June 5, 1967.

Susan Gay is a native of Germany but has lived in Tripoli for the past two years. She also has lived in Leddag, Saudi Arabia and attended school in Switzerland. Although Susan has visited in Germany, England, Turkey, Egypt, Beruit, Spain, France, Italy, Tunis, Greece, Jerusalem, Switzerland, Saudi Arabia, Libya and Holland, she says she thinks she will enjoy her stay in Snyder. Her parents and a little brother are on vacation in Washington State but will be leaving soon for Tripoli. Susan has lived in the United States only four years of her life.

Judi Huddleston lived in Tripoli seven and one-half years. She has traveled in virtually every country in Europe as well as Mexico. She plans to visit her parents in Tripoli at Christmas and visit some old friends in Rome next summer. She was late arriving in Snyder due to a major cholera epidemic. Judi was born in Morgan City, Louisiana.

Keith Trahan was born in Houston and has lived in Venezuela and Libya. He attended school in Switzerland and has lived outside the United States nearly all of his life.

Keith's sister, Toni Trahan, was born in Maracaibo, Venezuela, and lived there 12 years before moving to Libya. She attended school in Switzerland. Her parents are in Libya now and are planning to visit Snyder in October. In addition to European countries, Toni also has visited Central America, Corsica, Cuba, Jamaica, Curacao, Puerto Rico and Malta.

The Nitsches lived in Brownfield six years ago.

All of them are looking forward to making new friends in Snyder.

Stan Rewards "Good Boys"

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Every Saturday morning at 10, about 80 boys and girls line up outside Stan Myles' auto body shop in the Watts district to get their dimes.

One by one they walk up to the counter and Stan checks their name off a list he keeps.

Dimes in hand, each youngster then scampers to a store across the street for a soda or ice cream.

Stan, a 50-year-old widower with two grown children, has been handing out the pocket money for five years.

To earn a dime a child must be a member of the Neighborhood Good Guys Club. Anyone can join.

All of the kids are between the ages of 3 and 14. Most of their families are on welfare and in many of the homes there is no father.

How do you become a good guy?

"By keeping your hair combed and being nice," says 8-year-old Vanoy Bush.

Good guys also have clean faces, a neat appearance and never break windows, fight or get into trouble.

"They also do anything their mother wants them to do without protest," says Myles, a native of Texas who came to Los Angeles in 1936.

A good report card during the school year brings an extra 15 to 50 cents.

Stan, as the kids call him, started the club in 1965 when he caught two brothers breaking bottles behind his shop.

Instead of bawling them out he asked them inside the office, gave them a soft drink and told them they could earn a dime apiece by cleaning up the broken bottles.

Soon the word spread that Stan was a pretty good guy.

Besides dimes, Myles has handed out baseball equipment, swimming pool passes and shoes and even paid a beautician to fix up a little girl's hair so she could be in a parade.

Each Christmas Myles throws a neighborhood party with a present for each guest.

In five years since he started handing out dimes, Myles has lost only $20 worth of merchandise from his shop and has never had a broken window.

40 POWs Escape

SAIGON (AP) — Forty prisoners of war escaped from a prison detail on Phu Quoc Island Monday after killing one of their South Vietnamese guards and wounding another.

Nine of the prisoners were killed and two wounded in a gun battle, but 29 were still at large today, South Vietnamese headquarters announced.

A spokesman said he did not know whether the prisoners were North Vietnanese, Viet Cong or both. He said there are more than 20,000 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong in the prison camp on the island in the Gulf of Siam just off the southwest coast of Vietnam.

A communique said the prison break occurred late Monday afternoon while South Vietnamese navy men were bringing the 40 prisoners back to the prison camp in a truck from a work detail at a navy base.

DENTON — Four Snyder students were among 1,236 students from 36 different states receiving degrees at summer commencement Aug. 15 at North Texas State University.

Conferred were 750 bachelor's degrees, 444 master's and 42 doctor's degrees, including the first doctor of philosophy degrees ever awarded by NTSU in history and physics.

Snyder graduates and their degrees were Mrs. Carol Jean McCarty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Eime, Route 1, bachelor of science in elementary education; and Wade James McCarty, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McCarty, 907 Twenty-seventh Street, bachelor of science in industrial arts.

Also, Patsy Orms, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Orms, 3003 Fortieth, bachelor of science in physical education; and Ronald Wayne Preston, son of Wayne Preston, 2701 Thirty-eighth, bachelor of arts in biology.

Snyderite's Father Dies

Sam Russell, 94, of DeQueen, Ark., died yesterday at 2 p.m. Funeral services are pending in DeQueen. He is survived by 7 children, including a daughter, Mrs. Ruel Stinnett, of Snyder.

Operation Reshape For Less Than Perfect Legs

By AP NEWSFEATURES

Don't despair if your legs are less than perfect. Now you can redesign your legs the same way you do the rest of your body—through regular routine exercises.

"Operation Reshape," a three-to eight-week leg fitness program, has been designed to overcome common problems in leg architecture.

Women are no longer fated to thick ankles, heavy thighs or otherwise unattractive leg attributes, say the manufacturers of Roman Stripe hosiery, the program's sponsor. All it takes is daily dedication to a simple exercise routine—Operation Reshape must be followed to the letter.

Warm-Up Is Essential First

A minimum one-week "warm-up" period is essential at the start. This both wakes-up unused muscles, and develops the correct toe movements and tempo essential to successful leg reshaping.

Begin with 10 repetitions and gradually increase both the tempo and number until you reach a maximum of 100 faster-paced repetitions by week's end.

For the first warm-up exercise: Hold a mop handle or stock with both arms extended at shoulder height. Keep one foot firmly balanced on the floor. With toes turned up and back, raise the other leg to a near-horizontal position and swing it toward and away from the stick. Alternate legs, then repeat the exercise with toes pointing down.

For your second exercise, face sideways and support your body with one arm against a wall, table or sturdy chair. Swing outside leg to front and then to rear with toes turned up and back. Repeat with other leg, and also with toes pointing downward.

After a week, you should be ready for the main part of Operation Reshape. But continue to do the "warm-ups" daily throughout the entire length of the program.

Three Exercises Reshape Entire Leg

Three exercises are involved, and should be done daily in loose fitting clothing.

The first, a horizontal knee-bend, is effective in thigh reshaping. Lie on your side, resting your head on your arm. Bring one knee up to touch the chin and repeat 10 times with toes turned up, and then 10 times with toes pointed down. Repeat on other side. Then, bring both knees up at once, first with toes up; and then with toes down. Repeat 10 times with toes pointed down.

The second exercise helps reshape the entire leg. Lie down with your back flat on the floor. Place a pillow, ball or other object under your ankles, then raise both legs as high as possible. Lower legs slowly, and repeat 10 times.

The final exercise is probably the most difficult of all, but the best in reshaping both calves and ankles. Standing on one leg, bend down from the knee as far as possible, then straighten up slowly. Repeat 10 times for each leg.

If all of this brings on a little stiffness during the beginning phase, soak yourself in a warm bath of epsom salts for 10 to 15 minutes after each workout, then spray yourself with cold water.

FRESH CORN RELISH — It's stored in the refrigerator and is delicious with meat, poultry and fish.

Fresh Corn In Relish

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Refrigerator relishes are in vogue. They're so easy to put together and to store.

One of the best of these is a fresh corn relish. When we made up a batch of it in our test kitchen, we found it was delightful served with roast meat, roast or fried chicken, roast turkey and broiled or pan-fried fish. Here's the recipe:

FRESH CORN RELISH

6 to 8 medium-size ears fresh corn
1 medium-size onion, peeled and chopped
½ cup chopped celery
2 drained canned pimientos, chopped
2 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 teaspoons dry mustard
½ cup sugar
1 cup distilled white vinegar

Cut kernels from corn—there should be about 3 cups; reserve.

Into a large saucepot turn the onion, green peper, celery, pimientos, salt, pepper, mustard, sugar and vinegar. Heat to boiling.

Add corn; cover and simmer for 15 minutes, stirring occasionally. Remove from heat; cool.

Store, tightly covered, in refrigerator up to 2 weeks. Serve as an accompaniment for meat, poultry or fish.

Makes about 1 quart.

Note: Knife-chop the onion, green pepper, celery and pimiento.

KITCHEN NOTES

Here are half a dozen suggestions for using leftover cooked corn. Cut the kernels from the ears, then team them in one of these ways:

1. Make up a green cabbage slaw, using cooked dressing, mayonnaise or French dressing. Add cooked corn kernels.

2. Add cooked corn kernels to the egg mixture when you are preparing scrambled eggs.

3. An old-fashioned vegetable soup made with a creamsauce base and diced carrot, onion, celery and green beans can also have an addition of cooked corn kernels. Add the corn after the soup is made and reheat.

4. Add cooked corn kernels to pancake batter. They're also good in corn bread and corn muffins.

5. Saute green pepper strips in butter until tendercrisp; stir in cooked corn kernels and reheat.

6. Slice celery and cook in salted boiling water just until tender-crisp; drain. Add a dollop of butter and cooked corn kernels and reheat. Or trim the cooked celery and corn with a cream sauce; sprinkle with paprika before serving.

Novel Laced With Brutality

THE DIAMOND HOOK. By James Quartermain. Doubleday. $5.95.

Corbo is a private eye, and counts himself a pretty tough one, until he runs into some even tougher characters in this adventure novel.

A Mrs. Diamond, who controls a huge international business corporation, has hired Gully, head of the best sleuthing outfit in London, to do a job, and Gully has assigned Corbo.

At first all that Corbo knows is that Mrs. Diamond hates a certain Nassim Khadou (it turns out she once had been married to him). And now Khadou has his clutches on Mrs. Diamond's young sister Celia, who has become a heroin addict. Corbo is to get Khadou out of the picture, one way or another.

Throughout the narrative Corbo keeps facing up to Khadou and his murderous henchmen, and coming out with assorted broken bones. At one point Khadou holds Corbo captive for eight days and turns him into an addict.

Corbo finally solves the mystery of what the real villain of the piece is up to, as the plot winds to a rather improbable finish. Brutality is over-emphasized in this book but if you don't mind that you'll find plenty of action.

The Weeders Guide

By EARL ARONSON
AP Newsfeatures

After blossom time, flowering shrubs should be given their annual pruning to keep them in shape and shapely and to encourage development of new wood. It also will encourage vigorous growth.

Azaleas should be pruned lightly, thinning dense surface growth and removing dead wood. Andromeda may be reduced in height by fairly heavy pruning. Rhododendron seldom needs pruning. If you do trim, cut only above the whorls of leaves.

Keep your beauty bush in bounds by reducing the number of old canes. Be careful in thinning lilac since blossoms appear on two and three-year old wood. Deutzia should be shaped, but not pruned heavily.

Flowering almond's old wood should be pruned each year and flowering wood trimmed back after flowering. Long shoots of forsythia should be cut back and old wood thinned at ground level. Weigela canes need thinning and flowering branches should be reduced to encourage strong wood for next year's bloom.

As far as evergreens are concerned, prune to remove winter-killed areas and to shape and promote thick growth. Pine, fir, and spruce develop compactness when half to three-fourths of new growth are removed. Hemlocks become bushier when tops are cut.

Removing top leaders of aborvitae, yew, juniper and chamaecy-paris that have grown too tall helps them develop better lower growth. Removing excess lateral branches opens evergreens to more light and air.

A good thing to remember is that when pruning shape the tree and shrubs to natural symmetry. Use sharp shears and don't tear the bark. "Clean cuts at a slant is a basic principle in correct pruning techniques," says our tree expert.

WATER TREES

Weakened trees need a generous supply of water in summer. Trees producing leaf and flower buds for next year need moisture. Watering near the trunk is not much help. The tree should be watered at the dripline or outer crown limit and beyond. That is where the feeder roots are and water is absorbed through these tiny roots.

If the soil is caked and dry, you can avoid water runoff by sprinkling the area lightly first. Moisture will soak in gradually.

Trees respond well to pressurized injections of water and food into the soil through a large feeding needle. Such delivery of water and nutrients has the advantage of breaking up compacted soil and admitting air.

TEMPERATURE TELLS

Neighbor Col. Willis W. Lasher, retired Army physician and author of a highly-regarded textbook on industrial medicine, has done some testing (he calls it "unscientific experimenting") regarding temperature regulation in the leaves of rhododendrons.

He reports: "Where the leaves were tightly closed—below zero, I picked off a few leaves and placed them in a warm room. In less than a minute they uncoiled and flattened out just as they appear in summer. Therefore it would seem the rapid change in the leaves is not caused by sap in the limbs or twigs to which they are attached." But he says this is merely a guess.

Russia On Our Minds

RUSSIA ON OUR MINDS. By Delia and Ferdinand Kuhn. Doubleday. $6.95.

The Authors have been professional journalists and tracelers for many years, but they were not "Russian experts." In this account of a seven-week journey across the Soviet Union they are writing not as correspondents, but as tourists.

They chose to avoid the official group tours, and went on an independent trip starting with Leningrad, and continuing through Moscow, Kiev in the Ukraine, Tbilisi in Georgia, three cities in Central Asia, Alma Ata in Kazakhstan, Irkutsk in Siberia—then rode the Trans-Siberian railroad to the Far East and came out in Japan.

Their report is a mixutre of history, geography, social observations and tourist information on everything from restaurant problems to the ballet, underground art and jazz, and housing, transportation, book stores, marketing and industrial complexes.

They record their personal impressions of how the Russians live, and the limitations imposed by the regime on their personal affairs.

The subtitle of the book is "Reflections on Another World," and that is a key to their attitude.

They reject the theory that the basic Russian and the basic American have many traits in common; they reject the idea that the two world powers are on a course leading to convergence of their social structures. They assert that, thus far, the Russians have a closed police state and the Americans a free society.

This is a personal reaction to a tourist view of the Soviet Union, rather than Kremlin-watching ideological analysis, and is an interesting collection of careful observations.

Company Dinner

Beer adds subtle flavor to this good dish.

Pork Chops with Pears Rice
Green Peas Salad
Chocolate Ice Cream Beverage

PORK CHOPS WITH PEARS

6 pork loin chops, medium-thick
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon butter
1 large onion, cut in thin strips (about 1 cup)
2 teaspoons sugar
¾ cup beer, measure after foam subsides
½ cup water
3 fresh Bartlett pears, pared and seeded and quartered

Trim fat away from around chops. Sprinkle chops with salt and pepper. In a 12-inch skillet melt butter; add onion; cook gently until transparent but not brown; remove onion from skillet. Add pork chops to skillet and brown well on both sides. Return onions to skillet. Dissolve sugar in beer and add to skillet. Simmer until beer takes on a golden-brown color; add water. Place pears on top of chops; cover and simmer until chops are cooked through—about 20 minutes. Remove cover and simmer 5 minutes longer, basting pears with the thin gravy. Makes 6 servings.

North Vietnamese Still Striving For Equality

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

"All men are created equal," said the document. "They are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights. Among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

With those words 25 years ago today, a declaration framed by Ho Chi Minh proclaimed independence for what he called the Democratic Republic of Vietnam, with himself as president. Ho, a veteran international Communist and agent of Moscow, long had planned to use the American words for his proclamation. Perhaps it was sincere admiration for the 1776 declaration, but perhaps, too, it was a device to mask Ho the Communist behind Ho the patriot.

Ho died a year ago Wednesday, at the age of 79. This week North Vietnam is commemorating the 25th anniversary and Ho's death, and the tone of the accompanying propaganda carries a strong suggestion of political uneasiness in Hanoi. Evidently some tension has been generated over the question of how Ho's legacy of power is to be distributed.

Ho had no successor. He could not have had one, since none of his heirs had anything like his stature. Thus there is now repeated stress in the Hanoi press on the motion of "collective leadership."

None of this seems likely to have any immediate effect upon the wars in South Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia. Up to now the ruling Politburo in Hanoi has not let its political differences interfere with the machinery of battle. There could be a long-range impact, nonetheless, since what apparently has been at issue in Hanoi has been the "how" of the war—whether "protracted war" should continue for years, or whether heavier investment should be made in a bid for a less distant decision.

The protracted war concept was originally espoused by Red China's Mao Tse-tung and supported in Hanoi by Truong Chinh, a powerful Politburo member. Chinh lost out early in 1968 when Hanoi decided to go all-out with the Tet offensive. Le Duan, now 62, as first secretary of the ruling Laodong Workers —party seemed the architect of the strategy.

Curiously, however, both sides in the argument appeared to win out, a development which might have averted a Politburo showdown. The Tet offensive failed to achieve its objectives, but it was followed by President Lyndon B. Johnson's departure from the 1968 presidential campaign, by talks in Paris, by the end to bombings of the North and, perhaps most significant of all, by intensified turmoil in the United States generated by the war issue.

Today, Hanoi's leaders seem resigned to protracted war for as long as necessary, while hopeful still of forcing the U.S. presence out of Vietnam entirely before South Vietnam's regime can become stable enough to resist the North's pressure. The North Vietnamese effort thus appears to have been slowed, even though Hanoi is more involved than ever as the result of the new front in Cambodia.

Hanoi has huge home front problems, as its propaganda makes abundantly clear. It has lots of military hardware, and there is more where it came from, but the country is painfully short in civilian manpower and in every day necessities for the people. So the stress now is on "using small forces to defeat larger forces." This suggests that the viet Cong in the South must rely more heavily on their own guerrilla tactics.

If there is a struggle for power going on at the top, no clear evidence of it comes through the propaganda at the present time. The indications are that Le Duan, the practical man as distinct from the inflexible ideologist Truong Chinh, has the dominant voice in the collective. He has been stressing in published statements the need for the minority to submit to majority decisions.

And so, 25 years after the invocation of the ringing words of the American Declaration of Independence, it seems clear that equality and the pursuit of happiness have not come to the North Vietnamese.

One gets the impression that the men whom Ho brought up as leaders over the past quarter-century are obliged today to be gamblers. If they can hold out long enough, domination of all Vietnam, North and South, may one day be theirs. But the price will be heavy. Until then, the already tight North Vietnamese belt must be drawn even tighter.

Junior Editors Quiz on COINS

QUESTION: Where do our words penny, nickel, dime and quarter come from?

ANSWER: The word penny for a coin comes from old English days. At first this coin was of silver and in Anglo Saxon was called penig of pening. Later, the British penny was larger and made of bronze. To make it smaller, they broke the coin in half, calling it half penny, and in fourths, when it was called a farthing. In the U.S., the Founding Fathers took the idea of using a non-precious metal for a coin like the English penny. The word cent was suggested by Gouverneur Morris in 1782, the word may have been from the Latin "centum" meaning 100, since there were 100 cents in a dollar. Our cent or penny, is made of copper. Our nickel (five cents) is so called because it is made of an alloy of the metal nickel (a chemical element) with copper added. The word nickel was used from 1857 to 1864 for small cent coins and certain three-cent pieces were also called nickels. On the head side of one nickel is an Indian; on the tail side, a buffalo. Another nickel shows the head of Thomas Jefferson; on the reverse side is his famous house called Monticello. About "dyme and disme," these words originally came from the Latin decimus, meaning one tenth — a dime being one tenth of a dollar. As to quarter, the coin equals one quarter of what? A dollar, naturally.

Picture Phone May Change Life

By JOY STILLEY

NEW YORK (AP) — Soon I will be keeping more than a pad and pencil near the telephone—I'll have to stash a comb and mirror there too.

This extra equipment will be required to make sure I appear at my best when I answer the telephone, once the new Picturephones being commercially tested in Pittsburgh come into general use.

There will also be a prominent sign to remind me, "Smile, you're on camera." But this admonition will be difficult to adhere to if the caller has aroused me from slumber.

While it will be pleasant to view my conversational partner, the problem will be to make sure he will find it pleasant to view me. So before I get in touch with the telephone operator I'll hace to get in touch with the beauty operator.

My phone bills will be minor compared with my clothing bills. After all, I have to be properly dressed for those long-distance face-to-face confrontations.

Fortunately, I've still got time to assemble a suitably photogenic wardrobe, since the service won't be started in New York just yet. Another plus in my favor is the fact that the images are still being transmitted in black and white. So I don't have to make sure that the shade of my robe when I dash out of the tub to answer the phone matches the shade of my hair curlers.

But they're experimenting with color, as well as three-dimensional pictures, and then I'll have to be as concerned with my skin tone as I am with my dial tone.

There are other difficulties inherent in these electronic encounters. Up to now all that was required of me during a conversation was that I speak up and enunciate clearly. In the future I'll have to remember to stand straight, smile sweetly and keep the best side of my face toward the camera.

In fact, this innovative show-and-tell instrument will cause numerous changes in the communicating public's life style. It will put an end to "blind" dates made by telephone, to interminable "guess who" games, to anonymous calls and to comedians who disguise their voices.

But it will have one really big drawback. What a disappointment it will be to get all dressed up to make a phone call and get a busy signal!

Farm Prices Drop 3%

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department says prices received by farmers for raw products dropped 3 per cent in the July 15-Aug. 15 period, marking the largest 30-day decline since October, 1948.

The crop reporting board said Monday that lower prices for hogs, cattle, potatoes and pigs contributed most to the decrease. Higher prices for milk, lettuce and wheat partially offset the loss.

The over-all August index for prices paid farmers was put at 276 per cent of the 1910-14 base period, compared with 286 per cent a month earlier and the five-year high of 290 last February.

The board noted that the report did not reflect the sharp grain market fluctuations the past two weeks caused by reports of 1970 corn losses because of the Southern leaf blight.

Grid Tickets Are Available

Season tickets to Snyder High School football games will be available to the general public beginning tomorrow. Holders of season tickets last year were offered the opportunity to renew their season reservations through today. Those who did so may pick up their season tickets at any time at the business office in the school administration building.

The season tickets will be available henceforth on a first come, first served basis. Also, single game tickets for the season-opener against Stamford on Sept. 11 will go on sale next Monday.

Tickets are priced at $1.50 each, the fee set by the district. Thus, a season ticket costs $9, since the Tigers have six home games this year.

Lions Crush Eagles 31-7

By LARRY PALADINO
Associated Press Sports Writer

DETROIT (AP) — Philadelphia is the City of Brotherly Love, but when the Philadelphia Eagles leave home they must leave their love behind.

They left it behind Monday night, but they sure weren't angry enough to handle the growling Detroit Lions.

The Lions came out fighting first and shook hands later as they crushed the Eagles 31-7 in their National Football League exhibition game before a record preseason crowd of 56,032.

Although there were several fights during the game the biggest fight seems to be the one developing over who'll be Detroit's No. 1 quarterback. Greg Landry won his bout against the Eagles, firing a pair of touchdown passes and running 33 yards for another score to draw the praise of coach Joe Schmidt.

Bill Munson had started Detroit's first three games, although Landry has played considerably. Munson didn't play at all against the Eagles, who have lost their three exhibitions. Third-stringer Greg Barton played the fourth quarter for the Lions who have won three straight in a 3-1 record.

It is generally conceded Detroit has a fine defense. The Eagles only score came on a one-yard plunge by rookie Lee Bouggess with a minute left in the game, with Mark Moseley converting.

Landry put the Lions ahead 7-0 at the five-minute mark of the first quarter with a 29-yard touchdown pass to tight end Charlie Sanders. The sensational Sanders, recently returned from the Army, made fine catches on two other apparent TD tosses from Landry only to have them nullified by penalties. One was a 46-yarder in the second quarter and the other for 42 yards in the third.

Sanders didn't only shine as a receiver. Landry, who likes to run, found his receivers covered and so sprinted the 33 yards for his TD in the third period. Former Michigan State quarterback Jimmy Raye, an Eagles defensive back, had a clear shot at Landry on the five but Sanders upended him with a jarring block.

The 6-foot-4, 235-pounder was involved in a little of every thing. In the third period he and Eagles defensive tackle Gary Pettigrew scuffled briefly.

"Landry was rolling out and the only person between him and me was Pettigrew," Sanders explained. "So I blocked him in the legs and he started kicking me. But we shook hands afterward."

However, the big fight came early in the fourth quarter moments after Lem Barney intercepted a Norm Snead pass and returned it 16 yards to the Philadelphia 24.

Lions defensive back Bobby Williams threw a punch at EaglesdefensivetackleErnieCalloway after both benches cleared to the Eagles end zone where some pushing was going on.

Strangely only Philly's Ronnie Blye was ejected.

Philadelphia managed just 172 yards total offense to 405 for the Lions, who outrushed the Eagles 219 yards to 67.

George Mira went most of the way at quarterback for the losers and had passes intercepted by Barney and Tom Vaughn. The same two Lions snared two of Snead's tosses.

U. S. Piles Up 19 Gold Medals

By ENRICO JACOMINI

TURIN, Italy (AP) — The sixth World University Games passed the halfway mark today with the Sovet Union trying to catch up with the United States and its pile of 19 gold medals.

The Soviets picked up two golds on Monday for a total of eight thus far. They have good chances to win gold medals in tennis, gymnastics, women's basketball and the volleyball tournaments.

It appeared likely, that the decisive battle for supremacy between the two powers would come from the track and field with its 31 gold medals at stake. The track and field events start Wednesday.

The two medals the Soviets won Monday were for the men's team foil and the water polo. They were the only ones at stake for the day.

In the final water polo match the Soviets beat Italy 4-3.

In basketball, the United States won its second straight game in the final round by beating Brazil 85-75.

The Games have been marked so far by bitter political controversies which have led Albania, Algeria and Kuwait to refuse to pay Israel in team competitions.

The Albanians and the Algerians have refused to play the Israeli basketball team and Kuwait defaulted in a men's volley ball match.

The string of political protests was expected to grow today as Algeria announced it would not play Portugal in a basketball match.

The Albanians and the Arabs have said they would not play against Israel, the country that, they said, has "invaded Arab territories and refused to withdraw its troops." Israel was awarded forfeit victories.

The women's team foil title was the only one at stake today, with the Soviet girls rated favorites to win the gold medal.

Texas Voice Is Silent

AUSTIN (AP) — Dr. C.J. "Shorty" Alderson, the familiar "voice" at University of Texas home football games from 1943 to 1959, died of an apparent heart attack Monday. He was 81.

Alderson was found unconscious in his car, which had struck a parked auto on the campus.

He had been professor emeritus of physical and health education in recent years and was a member of the Lonrhorn Hall of Honor, a select organization honing those associated with athletics at the university.

Alderson was an assistant coach of football, basketball and track in 1924-27, swimming coach in 1931-33 and assistant football coach in 1942-47, but he was probably best known as the public address announcer at Texas' games in Memorial Stadium.

He received a bachelor's degree from the university in 1922, and acquaintances said he had taken an amazing number of courses at the school. Alderson received his doctor's degree in education from Columbia University of New York in 1949.

Funeral service will be at 3 p.m. Wednesday with burial in Austin Memorial Park.

Bucs Have Been Sold

By RANDOLPH SCHMID

MEMPHIS, Tenn. AP — The New Orleans Bucs, faced with slumping crowds and loss of revenue at home, have been sold and will be moved to Memphis this season.

The move, announced at news conferences Monday in both cities, remains contingent upon approval of the league expected today.

P.L. Blake of Greenwood, Miss., negotiated purchase of the team from Maurice Stern of New Orleans.

Neither side would disclose the purchase price, but Stern admitted that the club owners did not get their investment back. "We took a loss," he said.

Stern said he had initially been approached by Blake about 10 days ago, and the formal agreement was reached Saturday.

Coach J. H. "Babe" McCarthy, who will remain with the squad, said pre-season practice will begin Sept. 14.

Club spokesmen said that at least temporarily the team will be renamed the Memphis Pros. Eventually, they said, the citizens of Memphis will have an opportunity to choose a new name for the squad.

McCarthy said that a six-game exhibition schedule has been planned, to precede an 84 game regular season schedule.

The pros will open their season Oct. 22 at the Mid-South Coliseum in Memphis against the Kentucky Colonels.

Last year McCarthy piloted the Bucs to a .500 record, but still finished last in the ABA's Western Division.

Amos Otis of the Kansas City Royals hit only .151 in 48 games for the New York Mets last season. For the last 71 games he played with Tidewater, Va., he batted .327.

Mets Snap Streak, Stop Cardinals 11-5

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

If you thought you saw everything last year when the New York Mets cakewalked to the world championship with a great young pitching staff ... well, you haven't seen everything. This time the Mets may do it with their bats.

They snapped a three-game losing streak Monday night by trouncing the St. Louis Cardinals 11-5 with the help of two-run singles by Donn Clendenon, Art Shamsky and Cleon Jones and Tommie Agee's 22nd home run.

That was the only game in the tangled National League East and the standings now show Pittsburgh on top by one gane over the Cubs and 1½ over the Mets.

In a sparse American League schedule, Baltimore crushed the New York Yankees 10-2, Bostop topped Detroit 4-2 and Washington held off Cleveland 5-4.

While the talented young Met pitching arms continued to serve up hits of all kinds to the opposition, the onae punchless Met bats are taking up some of the slack.

"It's encouraging that we're getting the hitting," said manager Gil Hodges, "because we're not pitching well.... It's good to get back on the winning track. Holy cow, it's been a long dry spell."

The dry spell covered six losses in seven games, and even though the Mets dropped from second place to third they gained ground on the Pirates, who lost six in a row. That's how confusing the race is.

Even in winning, the Mets had a scare. Starter Jerry Koosman, sailing along for five innings, yielded a three-run homer to Joe Torre in the sixth, followed by Jose Cardenal's single and another home run by Ted Simmons, and the lead was a shaky 6-5. But the Mets wrapped it up with five runs over the final three frames.

Vic Davalillo of the Cards drilled a pinch single in the ninth and set an NL record of 23 pinch hits in a season, one short of the major league mark.

Both the Mets and Pirates made moves Monday to bolster their pitching staffs. The Mets purchased 32-year-old reliever Ron Herbel, 7-5, from San Diego while Pittsburgh obtained much-traveled George Brunet, 35 and 8-6, from Washington.

The Orioles disposed of the Yankees quickly, scoring four runs in the first inning. Mike Cuellar breezed to his 21st victory, aided by Brooks Robinson's two-run homer and RBI single.

Ray Culp drove in the tie-breaking run for the Red Sox with a sixth-inning single and posted his 14th victory, although he needed help in the ninth from Gary Wagner and Sparky Lyle. Tony Conigliaro homered for the Red Sox, who climbed within one-half game of the Tigers in the AL East.

Frank Howard's 38th home run with a man on capped a four-run fifth inning that carried the Senators past the Indians. The long blast tied Howard with Minnesota's Harmon Killebrew for the league home run lead. Aurelio Rodriguez also connected for the winners while Graig Nettles poked a two-run shot for the Indians.

Jaycees Win Grid Barbecue

Snyder Jaycees have scheduled their annual barbecue honoring Snyder High School football players for Friday evening at the Towle Park Pavilion.

Tickets to the event are on sale at $2.50 each and reservations may be made by calling 573-3832.

Reservations to attend the event should be made by Thursday, said Jimmy McFarland, chairman of the activity for the Jaycees. High School football players will be guests at the barbecue.

Honolulu, Hawaii ranks among the 10 fastest growing major cities in the United States, with an increase in population of 29 per cent over the last decade.

Royal Has Praise For Wigginton

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Texas coach Darrell Royal took time out to praise the scrubs Monday.

The leader of the national champions praised No. 3 quarterback Donny Wigginton, in particular.

"There's none with a better attitude or who is more courageous working with an inferior team," Royal said. "He reminds me of Marvin Kristynik. He'll take the third team and move it against the first team."

Royal also had kind words for halfback Terry Collins, who scored two touchdowns in Saturday's scrimmage.

"He had a very good scrimmage and right now he looks like our No. 1 backup halfback to Jim Bertelsen and Billy Dale," Royal said.

At Baylor, rover linebacker Tommy Bambrick underwent corrective knee surgery and it was not determined when he will be available to the depth-shy Bear squad.

Coach Bill Beall tried Mike Beane, Wayne Trammell, Willie Stewart and Ed Marsh at Bambrick's "Bushwhacker" spot.

Beall also named his six game captains for the opener against Missouri Sept. 11 in St. Louis.

They are fullback Randy Cooper of Dallas, tackle Ron Evans of Amarillo, quarterback Laney Cook of Sonora, middle guard Trent Phipps of Garland, defensive end Dennis Watson of Marshall and linebacker David Jones of Corpus Christi.

There was bad news at Fayetteville, Ark., where defensive tackle Rick Kersey, an All-Southwest conference selection last fall, suffered injuries to his left ankle. An examination indicated the ankle was not fractured, but Kersey will not be able to work out until later this week.

Coach Frank Broyles was happy with the defensive play of tackle Dick Bumpass in last Saturday's scrimmage.

He said Bumpass is having a "Great practice" this fall.

Position changes were in the works at Texas A&M and Texas Christian. Dave Elmendorf, who had been working as an offensive halfback for the Aggies, moved back to defensive safety. A&M coach Gene Stallings said Elmendorf will probably see action at both positions this fall.

At TCU, coach Fred Taylor shifted fullback Lane Bowen, a sophomore from Brownwood, to end. Also, Taylor said he now has three first string running backs — Bobby Davis, Larry Harris and Raymond Rhodes. Taylor said he plans to alternate the three.

Grieved Dog Lover Damages Jet With Axe

By TAD BARTIMUS
Associated Press Writer

MIAMI (AP) — A dog lover blaming the death of his traveling Irish wolfhound on an airline took a $6.60 axe and hacked 18 slashes in a $5 million jetliner to get "what they owe me."

Thomas William Brown, 38, a lanky carpenter who said he blamed Eastern Airlines for the death of his 2-year-old champion dog, Lost River, threw black paint on a Boeing 727 cockpit Monday and slashed its underbelly before a crewman stopped him, the FBI said.

The airline estimated the damage at $100,000.

The dog died May 22 of what a veterinarian called a heat stroke shortly after returning to Miami from Dallas in the cargo hold of an Eastern jet. The dog had been sent to Dallas to be bred.

Brown claimed in a lawsuit against Eastern the shipping hold didn't have enough oxygen for the dog and no temperature control.

Eastern said it was not negligent, claiming in court papers the dog was highly nervous and "this nervousness and excitement was probably the cause of the ... eventual state of prostration to which the dog succumbed." The airline asked Monday for dismissal of the lawsuit in Dade County Circuit Court.

Authorities said Brown, father of four daughters, then bought an axe and walked up to the jet as it unloaded passengers at Miami International Airport after a flight from New York. He hacked through the metal skin, cables and hydraulic lines before Second Officer Jim Broadman asked him what he was doing.

Broadman said Brown replied, "None of your business ... Well, I guess I've done $5,000 damage to that airplane, and that's what they owe me."

"He worked that right hand side over pretty good," an Eastern spokesman said. "He used a full axe, single bladed. The thing was brand new, it still had the $6.60 price tag on it."

A U.S. marshal at the airport on antihijack duty held Brown until he was charged by the FBI with destruction of an aircraft and jailed under $100,000 bond.

"Dogs represented his whole life, and he couldn't get any thing but indifference from officialdom when he tried to get satisfaction for his dog's death," Brown's attorney, Laurence Feingold, said Monday night after visiting his client in the Dade County jail.

"He is just a simple man who dreamed of breeding puppies from the dog he bought for $800 and raised to be worth what he considered $20,000. When the dog died, and nobody seemed to care, he just blew his top," Feingold said.

Two Units Are Disbanding

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. 199th Light Infantry Brigade and the 3rd Brigade of the 9th Infantry Division are being deactivated within the next six weeks as part of the American troop cutback in South Vietnam, informed sources disclosed tonight.

The disbanding of the two units, which helped defend Saigon during the Communists' 1968 Tet offensive, will reduce American strength by about 10,000 men.

The brigades are the first major combat units being pulled out in the fourth phase of President Nixon's withdrawal program. That phase will reduce authorized American troop strength in Vietnam to 384,000 by Oct. 15.

Jet streams, or rivers of air, flow near the base of the stratosphere at altitudes ranging from 20,000 to 40,000 feet. They may measure 300 miles wide and four miles deep.

Tokyo Taken Off R&R List

SAIGON (AP) — Tokyo will no longer be a rest and recuperation center for American servicemen from Vietnam after Oct. 1, the U.S. Command said today.

"The redeployment of U.S. forces from Vietnam has necessitated a realignment of the R&R program to meet adjusted requirements," the command announced.

Other cities recently taken off the R&R list include Singapore, Manila, Kuala Lumpur and Penang. Still on the list are Bangkok, Sydney, Hawaii, Hong Kong and Taipei.

A spokesman said that nearly 20,000 American servicemen had visited Tokyo since last Jan. 1 as part of the R&R program.

He said he did not know why Tokyo had been singled out for the latest cut.

POW Film Received With Mixed Reactions

By JIM LUTHER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 12-minute North Vietnamese film, purporting to show U.S. prisoners of war celebrating Christmas was received with mixed reaction by families at home. Some shouted recognition, some were skeptical.

In Cleveland, Mrs. Charles S. Stanley Sr. said she, a son and daughter were viewing the televised film when a familiar profile appeared.

"We all jumped at once, so it must be him," she declared, referring to CWO Charles S. Stanley Jr., her son. She said he had his head down and looked "so sad."

The film was aired nationally Monday night after the Pentagon had sent telegrams to families of missing soldiers asking them to view it. Spokesmen said most of the men who appeared weren't on the official prisoner list.

Nina Trout of Murfreesboro, Tenn., said one of the men was her son, Capt. Mark Babson. "It may be a propaganda film, but that's my son."

Mrs. Trout said she had been notified her son was missing in action on Oct. 14, 1969, and received no further word until she got the Pentagon's telegram earlier Monday.

Babson's wife, however, who watched the film at her home in Ozark, Ala., was unable to spot him.

Other relatives contended the pictures of the healthy-looking men may have been faked to leave the impression that Hanoi treats prisoners well.

The film was handed to Rep. Roger Zion, R-Ind., by North Vietnamese in Paris last week. Zion, who had gone to Paris to deliver a letter from 406 congressmen seeking humane treatment of POWs, said he was not told where the movie film was taken.

The Defense Department counted 75 faces in the film. Of these, officials said, 14 were on the Pentagon's POW list, 41 probably were known prisoners and 20 had not been listed previously. No names were listed.

"We know that other films like this have been staged," said Iris R. Powers, coordinator of a group of families whose sons or husbands are missing in action.

"Many of the men shown in the film are wearing different kinds of clothing," Mrs. Powers said. "Now why? Is it because they come from different camps?

"If so, and we suspect this could be the reason, then it follows that they very probably may have been hand-picked because they are not representative of those who have suffered most, who are ill or injured ... or have been brutalized by their captors," she added.

She said the nine U.S. POWs released by Hanoi told of not being allowed to leave their cells, let alone attend a church service.

The silent film shows GIs in what appeared to be a church lighted with "Noel 1969" signs. Various scenes show prisoners singing, taking communion and kneeling at an altar.

The Defense Department lists 454 prisoners of war.

Farm Prices Take Big Drop

WASHINGTON (AP) — A dip in hog prices of $2.20 per hundredweight during July-August led the sharpest one-month drop in the nation's farm prices in 22 years.

The Agriculture Department said Monday the index of prices received by farmers during the month ended Aug. 15 averaged 276 per cent of its 1910-14 base. This was 10 points less than in July and one under the 277 per cent reported for August last year.

Crop reporting board officials said the decline represented a 3 per cent drop in average prices, the sharpest since 1948.

Meat animals, including cattle and hogs, averaged 5 per cent lower during the month. Hogs averaged $21.70 per hundredweight, $4.20 less than a year earlier, and were the lowest since April 1969.

The average for all beef cattle, including cows, steers and heifers, was $27 per hundredweight or 90 cents less than in July. However, officials said, the all-beef average was the highest for August since 1951 and was 10 cents more than during the month last year.

Lower hog prices the second half of this year have been predicted by department economists since it was indicated producers planned to raise more baby pigs for market next fall and winter.

Lower prices also were reported for potatoes and eggs but prices rose somewhat for milk, lettuce and wheat.

While the price average dropped, expenses farmers have to pay to produce the nation's food and fiber remained at near record levels.

The expense index for August was 389 per cent of the 1910-14 average, the same as in July and only one point less than the record set last June.

Thus, as product prices dropped and expenses continued stable, the government's parity formula related to these two factors dipped to 71 per cent, compared with 74 per cent in July and a year earlier.

Drunken Drivers May Be Grounded

AUSTIN (AP) — Convicted drunken drivers, already faced with possible loss of their motoring privileges for a year, could be grounded for two years if they refused to take a breath test when arrested.

Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin issued that legal opinion Monday, interpreting the 1969 "implied consent" law for Garyson County Atty. Clifford Powell of Sherman.

Martin noted that a conviction for driving while intoxicated carries an automatic 12-month license suspension, unless the sentence is probated.

The implied consent laws allows the Department of Public Safety, after a hearing, to suspend for a year the license of a driver who refuses to take the breath test if there was good reason to believe he was intoxicated. The license of a driver acquitted of DWI, however, could not be suspended for such a refusal.

Martin held that:

—A defendant who received a probated sentence for DWI is still subject to a year's suspension of his license if he refused to submit to a breath test.

—The license of a person convicted of DWI and given a year's suspension may be suspended for an additional 12 months if the driver would not take the test.

—Both suspensions could run consecutively.

"It is therefore possible that with consecutive terms of suspension, and under the proper factual circumstances, suspension of an operator's license may be for as long as a period of two years," Martin said.

Borman Arrives In Tokyo

TOKYO (AP) — Former U.S. astronaut Frank Borman arrived from Hong Kong today for a 10-hour visit before returning to the United States.

He has been on a tour of world capitals as President Nixon's special representative seeking to enlist aid to get negotiations for the exchange of prisoners of war with North Vietnam.

During his stay in Tokyo, Borman's schedule included meetings with officials of the Japan Red Cross Society and Japanese political leaders including former Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi, who is Prime Minister Eisaku Sato's older brother.

McLucas' Attorneys Plan Appeal

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Attorneys for Black Panther Lonnie McLucas are seeking to overturn a jury's verdict that he was guilty of conspiracy to murder in the killing of a fellow Panther in May 1969.

Within hours of the jury finding Monday, the lawyers filed a motion to set it aside. And they indicated they would file an appeal when McLucas is sentenced later this month.

The jury's verdict came after six days of deliberations—a total of 35 hours. The jurors found McLucas innocent of three other charges—kidnaping resulting in death, conspiracy to kidnap and binding with criminal intent.

Conspiracy to murder carries a maximum penalty of 15 years in prison.

McLucas' lawyers argued that the verdict was "against the law and the evidence."

The charges against McLucas stemmed from the death of Alex Rackley, a Black Panther from New York City whose body was found in a Connecticut swamp.

Seven other Panthers, including national chairman Bobby G. Seale, are awaiting trial in the case.

The state charged that Rackley was killed as a police informer on orders from Panther leaders.

He's 'living' it up at his own expense

By Abigail Van Buren

(c) 1970 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is 55, and thank God he's in pretty good health, but every time he hears that someone he knows under 75 dropped dead, he announces that he is going to "start living." Abby, Harry has been "living" all his life, and if he has ever missed anything, I don't know what it could be.

Well, Harry started "living" again last week after he buried a 57-year-old friend. He is eating all the things he shouldn't (he is supposed to watch his diet because he's inclined to be heavy) and he also drinks more than what is good for him. He quit smoking a year ago, but now he's started again, saying he is not going to deny himself anything, because who knows, tomorrow his number may come up.

So what is a wife supposed to do with a husband like that? I love him. HARRY'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Hit him over the head with his life insurance policy. If he doesn't get the message, nag him.

DEAR ABBY: Your support on behalf of that long-haired son who is unable to find a job because of his hair, and wants to bring his bride home for mom and dad to support, makes me cringe.

It is this kind of stupid thinking that makes parents support kids on college campuses who spend the academic year causing trouble instead of attending classes.

I say the boy is entitled to wear his hair to his knees if he so wishes, but if he's old enough to make this decision, and old enough to take a wife, he must suffer the consequences. Mom and dad should tell him to support his own wife and establish his own home.

What is a married man doing at home living off his daddy, anyway? Even the mother bird shoves her babies out of the nest to try their wings. She knows the only way to strengthen these wings is to use them. We are raising a generation of weak, crybabies, thanks to people like you. Abby, you blew it again, and I will be most surprised if you print this. DISGUSTED IN WISCONSIN

DEAR DISGUSTED: The parents of "Long Hair" asked me if they should let their college son [newly married and jobless] come home with his bride to hunt a job—on the condition that he cut his hair. I said, "If you let him come home, don't offer him bread with a hook in it." And, that's what I meant.

DEAR ABBY: There are 10 of us girls who recently formed a club. We call ourselves "The Triple T's" for "Ten Terrific Teens." We have a question to ask you.

How can a girl keep a boy interested in her without letting him get out of hand—if you know what I mean?

Linda says a girl simply has to let a boy advance little by little in order to keep him coming back for more, but if he really gets out of line, she should slug him.

Barbs says a girl should advertise the fact that she is pure, and intends to stay that way. Well, that sounds groovy, but Barbs stays home nearly every weekend. What is your advice? "THE TRIPLE T'S"

DEAR TRIPLE: It's up to the girl to set the limits and make it crystal clear what those limits are. If she lets a boy "advance" little by little in order to keep him coming back for more, she'll soon have nothing left for him to come back for. Also, I don't recommend leading a fellow on, and then "slugging" him.

I think Barbs has the right idea if she doesn't overdo the goody-goody bit. And staying home weekends beats hand-to-hand combat with an octopus.

CONFIDENTIAL TO ASHAMED IN NASHVILLE: George Bernard Shaw put it this way, "The more things a man is ashamed of the more respectable he is." Think about it.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

TAX ANSWERS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

• • •

Q — Should I make any change in my next estimated tax payment based on the expiration of the income tax surcharge in June?

A — No, although the surcharge expired June 30, the surcharge rate of 2½ percent shown on the estimated form you filed earlier this pertains to income for the entire year.

Any taxpayer who has not filed an estimated declaration and finds it necessary to do so now, should use the 2½ percent rate for the surcharge. Forms and instructions for making estimated declarations are available at local IRS offices.

Q — When my divorce comes through will I still be able to claim a withholding exemption for my wife?

A — No, after your divorce you cannot claim her exemption. Make the necessary change in your withholding by filing out a new W-4, Withholding Exemption Certificate, and giving it to your employer.

Q — When my father died, mother collected benefits from his life insurance; is that taxable?

A — If the benefits are paid in a lump sum they are usually not taxable. Benefits paid in installments, however, may be partly taxable to the extent they represent interest.

Details on insurance payments may be found in Publication 525, Taxable Income and Nontaxable Income. Send a postcard to your IRS district office for a free copy.

Q — I want to protest the disallowance of some deductions by the IRS Agent who audited my return. Do I have to make a written request or can I just come in and talk to someone?

A — You can ask for a district conference. If the amount of tax involved is not more than $2,500 for any one year, no formal written protest is required to obtain a district conference. This provides you the opportunity to present your side of the dispute to an impartial third party.

Q — I want to clear out some of my old bank records, check stubs, cancelled bills and the like. Is there any need to keep some of them for tax purposes?

A — As a general rule, the IRS may assess additional tax or you may claim a refund within three years of the due date of a return. Therefore, any record you might need to support an item listed on your return should be kept at least three years.

Naturally you will keep some records longer. For example: records on the purchase of a home of the acquisition of stock should be kept longer.

Railroad Fares Hiked 10%

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rejecting an appeal by New York and Ohio officials, the Interstate Commerce Commission has given final approval to a 10 per cent increase in passenger fares by 21 railroads, effective today.

Three ICC commissioners, acting Monday for the full, 11-member panel, upheld last week's approval of the fare hike by the agency's Board of Suspension.

New York's and Ohio's public utility commissions had protested. Further appeal still is possible, but the increase can be implemented in the meantime.

The boost is the eighth granted by the ICC since Dec. 1, 1967. Most have been for 5 per cent, and not all railroads benefitted from each hike.

Among beneficiaries of the latest increase is the financially troubled Penn Central Railroad, which operates commuter service and long-haul passenger routes along the East Coast and inland as far as Chicago.

Other lines receiving the 10 per cent boost are:

Baltimore and Ohio; Chesapeake and Ohio; Norfolk and Western; Delaware and Hudson; Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe; Burlington Northern; Chicago and Northwestern; Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific; Denver and Rio Grande Western; Chicago Rock Island Pacific; Louisville and Nashville; Missouri Pacific; North Western Pacific; Oregon Trunk; San Diego and Arizona Eastern; Southern Pacific; Texas and Pacific; Union Pacific; Gulf Mobile and Ohio, and the St. Louis Southwestern Railway.

Prince, Premier Meet In Laos

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Pathet Lao envoy Prince Souk Vongsak met again today with Laotian Premier Souvanna Phouma prior to Souvanna's departure Wednesday for Europe, Africa, and the United States.

Government sources said Souvanna has indicated that his trip abroad will not hinder peace talks with the Pathet Lao as his delegation has already been appointed and he can be contacted by telegram.

Souvanna will pay a courtesy call Wednesday on Thai Prime Minister Thanom Kittikachorn during a stopover en route to Paris. He will attend the nonaligned nations conference opening in Lusaka, Zambia, Sept. 6, and then will go to New York for the U.N. General Assembly meeting commemorating the 25th anniversary of the founding of the United Nations.

Souvanna will return to Vientiane at the end of October. Diplomatic observers say they expect little progress in the peace talks during Souvanna's absence.

Nationwide Grape Boycott Ended

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — An official end to the nationwide boycott of California table grapes has been declared by AFL-CIO President George Meany.

He told the California Labor Federation's state convention Monday that 90 per cent of the state's grape growers have signed union contracts and the boycott was regarded in union circles as a great success.

The same tactic might be used in other disputes, he declared.

Offshore Drilling Delay Suggested

By HARRISON HUMPHRIES
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The petroleum industry should confine its drilling to land and delay further offshore operations to protect the environment, a federal study suggests.

The study cited eruption of an oil well in California's Santa Barbara channel in January 1969 and pollution resulting from an oil fire off the Louisiana coast last February as examples of offshore operations damaging the environment.

The study, released today by the Joint Economic Committee of Congress, was prepared by the environmental policy branch of the Library of Congress.

The oil industry, the report said, has improved its record of containing blowouts on land, and pollution, when it occurs, is localized.

"With on-land problems of production and transportation of petroleum sufficiently well in hand so that substantial pollution seldom occurs, the on-land search for new petroleum reservoirs might for this reason and other good reasons be encouraged," the report said.

Much of the United States has not yet been explored in depth for oil, the report said, and there are opinions that large areas are favorable prospects for oil and gas.

"The situation would appear to deserve serious consideration, not only to set a policy but to design a program to stimulate the discovery of such resources fully adequate to our needs at least until the use of atomic energy is more fully developed," the report said.

Offshore, the report noted, aspects of federal-state proprietary and administrative relations are not fully resolved, oil spills are harder to contain, and workable rules to protect the environment present problems.

Men To Serve State Dinner

CORONADO, Calif. (AP) — Within a week after Women's Liberation Day, 90 veteran waitresses have learned they apparently will be replaced by men at President Nixon's state dinner Thursday honoring Mexican President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz.

They're not at all pleased.

"Aren't we good enough to serve the President and his guests?" asks Ivy Easley, 40, a waitress for 26 years.

"We've been getting ready for days," she said Monday. "Many of us even bought expensive wigs.

"Furthermore, most of us have children at school who are learning about democracy and our way of doing things in America. How can we answer them when they ask, 'Is this democracy at work?'"

Tim Elborne, a White House spokesman, said simply, "State dinners have always been served by waiters." He added that no final decision has been made regarding waiters for the dinner at the Hotel Del Coronado.

However about 50 waiters have been hired through the San Diego local of the Waiters and Bartenders Union, AFL-CIO, a union spokesman said.

The waitresses, who work six days a week and make $20 to $30 in tips during their four-hour dinner shift, stand to lose a day's wages.

They have sent their story via telegram to the Western White House, to California Gov. Ronald Reagan and to several congressmen. However, they said that if no reply is received, the next move is a women's liberation group.

Chlorine Fumes Hospitalizes 7

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A tank of chlorine gas being carried on an open truck cracked open Monday night and seven persons were hospitalized after breathing the fumes.

Traffic on Interstate 20 east of Atlanta was blocked for two hours while the gas dissipated. An evacuation of nearby homes was ordered but the emergency ended before it was carried out.

None of those taken to hospitals was seriously hurt.

Igloos Touchy Subject To Dallas Eskimo

— DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Texas heat may be hell to Eskimo Bun-ee-na-kak Ah-na-chu-ngak, but you won't find her running home to an igloo.

In fact, asking her if she lived in an igloo at home on Nunivak Island in the Bering Sea, is about the only thing that raises the heat under her pretty little collar.

She also is known as Mrs. Hannah Jones Morris. Like a few other Eskimos, Mrs. Morris came to Dallas under the training and relocation program of the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

Unlike the others, who usually flee the heat as soon as their training is completed, Hannah Jones married a Texan (Jesse Morris of Greenville), took a job and stayed on.

Their baby, due in November, may be the first native Eskimo Texan. Who knows?

Sometimes people ask if she lived in an igloo at home. That's when she heats up.

"Everybody asks me that! The only igloo I ever saw was built by an American teacher from Seattle, Wash., who came to our island. Some of the older schoolboys helped him build an ice-block house, but he had to teach them how first, for they'd never seen one. We live in frame houses, and I think igloos were used a long time ago, away up north."

She gives in a bit, though. "My father, when he's off hunting in the winter, takes a shovel and digs a temporary home in a snowbank.

"I think my eskimo names mean 'youngest daughter' and 'little girl'," she explains. "But of course my baby will have an American name."

She is the youngest of a family of four sisters and four brothers. Her husband spent six months in Alaska when he was serving in the Navy, but he met Hannah in Dallas.

"We've decided that next year we will move to Anchorage, partly because of the climate, but also because we can earn more there," Mrs. Morris says.

Texas is a melting pot in more ways than one as far as Mrs. Morris is concerned.

She works in a Dallas beauty salon owned by a Chippewa Indian from North Dakota. Another operator there is a Choctaw from Oklahoma.

Board Can Go To Court

AUSTIN (AP) — Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has affirmed the Texas Air Control Board's right to go to court against those who violate its orders and regulations.

He also told board Chairman Hebert McKee that local governments also can seek court orders against those who violate board edicts.

"If the board did not have authority to proceed in court to prevent violations of their rules, regulations, variances, or orders, such rules, regulations, etc., would be meaningless, empty pronouncements," the opinion said.

Martin added that in such suits, "The only issue for decision by the court in a suit based on an order violation is whether or not the defendant violated the order. There is no issue of intentional or willful violation unless the statute makes such an incredent of the cause of action."

Evidence of nuisance or injury or harm is not essential in such a case but can be helpful, the opinion said.

Addo Is New Ghana Chief

ACCRA, Ghana (AP) — Former Chief Justice Edward Akufo-Addo, 68, has been elected president of Ghana.

The Electoral College gave him 123 votes Monday to 35 for Dr. Isaac Asafu-Adjaye, also 68.

The presidential election, first since 1960, completed the country's return from military to civilian rule.

Akufo-Addo, father of Ghana's new constitution, was sponsored by the ruling Progress party.

Billy Graham In Mayo Clinic

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham has entered the Mayo Clinic for what was described as a periodic medical examination.

Graham, 51, said jokingly at his hotel before going to the clinic Monday: "I hope it is a routine medical checkup."

He had surgery for an oral abscess at the clinic in 1968.

Missouri, beaten only by Colorado 31-24 last season, will play host to Notre Dame on Oct. 17.

Clay Is New AF Commander

SAIGON (AP) — Gen. Lucius D. Clay Jr., son of the famed World War II Army general, took over today as commander of the U.S. 7th Air Force in military ceremonies at Tan Son Nhut Air Base.

Clay, 51, replaced Gen. George S. Brown, who held the post for two years.

Brown has been reassigned as commander of the Air Force System Command.

As commander of the 7th Air Force, he will be responsible for all air strikes and air defense operations in Southeast Asia.
