USE OF GUARDS STILL FOUGHT

"Big 4" Brotherhoods Protesting

By Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 10.—Telegrams of instructions have been sent to members of the "Big Four," it was announced tonight by Warren S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and D. B. Robertson, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen.

"Take up this situation with the railroad management, endeavor to eliminate that danger. If you do not succeed the men will not be required or requested to work," read the telegrams. They were sent to brotherhood officials at Atlanta, Ga., and Antigo, Wis.

President Robertson late today received complaints from Atlanta on misuse of firearms by guards at the Atlanta joint terminals, and regarding conditions on Chicago and North-Western road at Antigo, Wis., where armed guards also are on duty.

5,000 D. L. & W. CLERKS TAKE STRIKE BALLOT.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—A strike ballot was ordered taken tonight by General Chairman W. E. Lavelle of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, Freight Handlers and Station Employes of the Lackawanna railroad. It was announced that 5,000 or more employes are concerned.

Chairman Lavelle said the strike vote had been ordered on the alleged failure of the Lackawanna officials to recognize the union, the road's continued policy of letting out contract labor, and its failure to live up to the wage scale decision of the railroad labor board affecting freight handlers.

Conservatives Win Pomerene Has Chance But Must Beat Fess May Face Harding

COL. CARMI A. THOMPSON IS the republican cock of the walk in the Buckeye state. He is one of President Harding's closest friends and advisors; he has no progressive leanings; he has piled up a huge fortune; he is ambitious to be governor of his native state and his ambition may be gratified in November as he won the primary nomination in August. Congressman Charles L. Knight made the race against Thompson, running as a progressive. Thompson led the field by 76,000 over the next highest man and Knight was next. Another conservative republican, Congressman Simeon E. Fess won the senatorial nomination. Thompson and Fess were picked by the organization leaders. Fess was not popular with republican labor men, but he captured the nomination just the same. Senator Atlee Pomerene was renominated by the democrats. He had opposition. Democratic labor men gave their support to former Congressman John J. Lentz. Buckeyes did not run amuck this year. Republican Buckeyes for the most part remained steadfast and voted for the two organization candidates who were the victors for governor and senator.

POMERENE INCURRED THE hostility of labor democrats by his refusal to vote for certain of their measures. He is thoroughly independent and it is his proud boast that he votes for the best interests of all the people and not for the selfish demands of a few of the people. He is as independent when it comes to the big interests and their demands as he is when he is called upon through conviction to oppose the demands of the more radical labor leaders for the enactment of radical laws. Pomerene is serving his second term. He has been nominated by the democrats for a third term. Six years ago he defeated Hon. Myron T. Herrick. Herrick is a man of large wealth, popular and able. He had been governor of Ohio two terms and a seat in the senate looked good to him but Pomerene put him away. Taft sent Herrick to France as American ambassador and he won a high place in the diplomatic world during the early years of the world war before Woodrow Wilson sent a democrat to Paris to displace him. When the republicans regained control of the government Herrick was ambitious to be appointed American ambassador to the court of St. James. President Harding had promised this place to Col. George Harvey and the Buckeye was given his old position and he returned to France for a second time as American ambassador to the great joy of the people of that nation.

CONGRESSMAN FESS IS A very able and a very adroit politician. He is looked upon as the strongest and the most popular of all the republican Buckeyes who have served in the lower house in recent years and Pomerene, despite his great popularity with the farmers and businessmen, has a rocky road to travel. Should he defeat Fess, there are democrats the country over who look upon him as a presidential possibility and the Pomerene and the Cox democrats of Ohio would wage a merry war for their favorite chieftains. James M. Cox has hopes that presidential lightning will strike him again in 1924. He refuses to permit the league of nations to die and he will make it his paramount issue. James M. Cox is a successful publisher and he is said to have made Ohio a most efficient governor for three years. There are a million democrats who are as well qualified or equipped to discharge the duties of president as Cox of Ohio. Hon. Atlee Pomerene is an intellectual and a statesman. This much is conceded by political friend and political foe alike. When conditions are normal, Ohio is as reliably republican as Vermont or Maine. There is a republican majority that ranges from 40,000

"NO SURRENDER" POLICY FAVORED BY RAIL CHIEFS

Transportation Men Gathering for Conference

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—As western and southern transportation managers began to arrive here today for the session tomorrow of the Association of Railway Executives to pass on President Harding's new rail peace plan, indications were that the "no surrender" policy voiced by L. F. Loree, chairman of the eastern conference was gaining momentum.

A concerted effort of the eastern men to strengthen their position was seen in several informal conferences held this afternoon and tonight, at which the newly arriving officials were guests of local executives. Officials of southern and western roads were the first to arrive of the 200 representatives of class one roads, which are expected to be represented.

First Sessions

The first of the conferences was held at the Association of Railway Executives' board rooms this afternoon, where 25 rail chiefs were secretly closeted for several hours. Those who attended the meetings declined to reveal what took plaee.

The drifting of sentiment against acceptance of President Harding's proposal, which until today seemed to be confined to a few of the more belligerent eastern roads, now appears to dominate among the executives here for the conference.

Their attitude is that the strike is

PARLEY TO END STRIKE OPENS

Miners and Operators In Session

By Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, August 10.—Negotiations of a wage contract, which, according to sponsors of the plan, will result in breaking of the soft coal strike, was begun today by operators and miners who decided to leave the details of settlement to a committee of 21, 11 miners and 10 operators, which will begin considering its report tomorrow. The start was made after the policy committee of the United Mine Workers voted in favor of contracting with those operators of the central competitive field who had enrolled in the conference.

20 Per Cent Present

Approximately 20 per cent of the normal coal production of the central competitive field was represented in the conference, but this proportion did not deter President John L. Lewis of the miners from predicting that a settlement at the conference here would result in more than 300,000 miners returning to work in the soft coal fields within a week.

"The mainers have won this fight and it is practically over," said Mr. Lewis.

I-I Men Absent

None of the Illinois or Indiana association of operators was represented in the conference but independent operators were present from both states. A canvass of the coal production of the central competitive field controlled by operators in the conference showed that the operators in the conference controlled 27,960,000 tons in Ohio, 7,800,000 in Pennsylvania, 2,740,000 tons in Indiana and 1,800,000 in Illinois. While the conference was at work here, W. A. Glasgow of Philadelphia, counsel for the miners, had gone to Toledo to confer with three members of the Illinois operators scale committee, and the hope was held out among the conferees that the Illi- operations might yet join the ference.

W. K. A. F. Tests Out as Thousands Sit In; Big Program on Monday

W. K. A. F. opened up for its first test concert at 7 o'clock Thursday night and thousands of people within a radius of 1,000 miles heard music that came from Wichita Falls and floated through the air to them. It was the test of the W. S. Radio Supply company broadcasting station.

There were several score persons who heard the broadcasting received at the Tenth street place of business of the W. S. Radio Supply company. The broadcasting was done on Huff street, where one of the most complete radio broadcasting sets in the country has been installed.

Bill Buzzard's orchestra opened the program by playing "Angel Child," and the tones could be heard just as distinctly downtown as they could have had the orchestra been playing nearby. Those same tones were produced as far as 1,000 miles away and when the announcer came out and said "W. K. A. F. at Wichita Falls broadcasting" thousands of young people and grown ups in their homes where they have their own receiving sets heard the music and knew from whence it came. The tones were reproduced just as distinctly hundreds of miles away as they were here.

Monday night will be the big opening night for W. K. A. F. One piece of mechanism that goes with the station and which will make the tones much clearer than they were Thursday night, will arrive today and will be installed before the Monday night concert.

There will be a varied program on that occasion when some of the best vocal and musical talent in the city will take part. Besides the baseball scores will be given by the Record News any big piece of news that may break during the early night will also be put in the air through W. K. A. F.

Following Monday night regular programs will be given and Wichita Falls will become one of the big stations that will furnish music and other entertainment for thousands of persons hundreds of miles away. The program given for the test Thursday night follows:

"Angel Child," Orchestra.
"Kitten on the Keys," piano solo, Eddie Machette.
"Some Sunny Day," Orchestra.
"Dear Old Pal," trombone solo, Billy Buzzard.
"Flipping the Flappers," written by Eddie Machette. Orchestra.

Ma Burdick Thanks Record News And Readers for Her Vacation

By R. WILLIAM ARCHER

"Tell the paper, the good people of Wichita Falls, the American legion and the Kiwanis club that I greatly appreciate their kindness and thoughtfulness of me and that when I get to California I will write back and let them know how I'm faring."

Tears welled in the eyes of Ma Burdick, heroine of the great world war, as she expressed those remarks yesterday shortly afternoon, when Mrs. E. B. Gorsline, Jr., of the United Charities and a reporter from The Record News placed in the hands of the woman whose heart and soul for many years has been devoted to doing good turns for others, a total of $236.75, a fund gathered through The Record News and the American legion, which will send a Salvation army worker across the plains and hills of Texas and New Mexico into the balmy lands of California on a much-needed vacation.

And then when the aged woman whose heart itself has always been kindness so expressed herself, her pale blue eyes fell from the friendly gaze of those who held the honor of making the presentation of numerous subscribers and she couldn't speak further.

Mrs. Gorsline and the reporter, perceiving the gratitude so wonderfully expressed in Ma Burdick's manner, moved toward the door and then sent back to her:

"For the people of Wichita Falls, and for the doughboys who love you and the Salvation army, Ma Burdick, we wish you bon voyage.

The Salvation army worker whose fame has spread even to Flanders field, where poppies nod again in the sun, but where she once stood over the sick and dying, or mustered courage to face shot and shell to carry food to some hungry lad, departed for California yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock and will be away from Wichita Falls for about one mohth.

The fund collected through The Record News aggregated a total of $118.25, while that collected through the American legion and presented by Mrs. Gorsline yesterday afternoon amounted to $118.50, all of which sent the brave little woman whose face is so well known here smiling on a happy trip.

Well, It's Some Yarn; Even If It Is From Vernon

Special to the Record News.

VERNON, Texas, Aug. 10.—That incubators are not necessary for hatching chickens during the present heat wave was evidenced yesterday when R. L. Roffee of a local grocery company, in handling a case of eggs heard a sound very much like the "cheep" of a baby chick. Hearing the familiar noise a second time he decided to make investigation, and after removing eleven layers of eggs found a well developed and apparently two or three days old chick. En route to market the little chick had beaten down the egg shell to make its quarters comfortable, but hunger was beginning to assert itself and the chick set up a cry to be released.

The bird is living today and seems no worse as the result of this form of incubation. Chicks have been known to hatch out in the weeds in this county and come straggling in without old biddie to make a fuss over them, but this is the first case on record where a chick has survived incubation twelve layers deep in an egg case en route to market.

And the Fire Boys Cussed

Dyer King has some new upholstering to buy for a "flivver."

Some how or other the cushion of the rear seat became ignited last night and the boys from central station turned out, "hook 'n ladder" and everything, rounded the corner down Indiana where a blazing Ford waited for a dash of chemicals.

A couple of squirts and it was all over. Little damage, but lots of lost sleep and another "Henry" still able to "hoopenkaek."

L. Hibbard, general manager of the Coast Line.

MAY WIELD BIG STICK AGAINST UNRULY OWNERS

Mine Operators to Face Fight With Commission

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, August 10.—Use of the emergency powers of the interstate commerce commission to bring into line coal operators who are failing to co-operate with the federal fuel organization in the control of prices was under consideration today by the central coal committee.

The government's defense against price advances above the maximum charges agreed upon by producing operators with Secretary Hoover was declared to lie in the powers of the interstate commerce commission to allocate coal cars so that mines boosting prices would be without transportation facilities.

Department of justice officials connected with the federal fuel organization, were said to have advised the committee that the commission had ample authority under the law to so distribute cars to the mines as to effectively control their charges. The question remained whether the commission would exercise these emergency powers to their full extent.

Alabama operators, Mr. Hoover announced today, have broken away from the fair price agreements made with him and he added, Governor Kilby of Alabama will be asked to take steps to protect consumers in that state against rising prices.

Operators Slipping

Operators in other districts are showing signs of slipping from their stand with the fair price program, it was said. Inquiry is being made, Mr. Hoover said, as to what action the federal organization can take in cases where operators fail to co-operate in the matter of price control. In some states, he said, organization against profiteering is going forward vigorously, but in other states it has not progressed as rapidly as desired.

The New England states, New York and Massachusetts, he asserted, were taking care of the whole program of emergency fuel distribution vigorously.

SENATE FIGHTS HARDING'S BILL

Tariff Provision's Fate in Doubt

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Flexible tariff provisions designed to carry out President Harding's recommendation to congress last December met with such strong opposition today in the senate that their fate in the voting that must come tomorrow under the unanimous consent agreement appeared to be in doubt. It seemed fairly certain that they would be modified to an even greater extent than proposed in a substitute for the original plan reported today by the finance committee majority.

Dems. Opposed

Practically all the democrats and a number of republicans, including Chairman Gooding and other leaders of the agricultural tariff bloc, have indicated their opposition to the provisions in any form, while others on the majority side, prominent among them Senator Lenroot of Wisconsin have insisted upon a sharp curtailment of the broad authority the comittee has proposed shall be given to the president.

Under the committe substitute, the chief executive would be authorized to increase or decrease tariff rates within a radius of 50 per cent if investigation developed that such action were necessary to equalize the differences in conditions of competition in the principal markets of the United States as between domestic and imported articles. Should a 50 per cent advance in rates be found insuficient for this purpose, the president, after investigation would be authorized to base duties on the American wholesale selling price instead of the foreign selling price and then to increase or decrease rates within a radius of 50 per cent.

Klan Trial Halted When Ex-Kleagle Collapses After Witness' Testimony

By Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 10.—The trial of 37 reputed members of the ku klux klan, alleged to have participated in a raid at Inglewood last April, halted abruptly today when Nathan A. Baker, former kleagle for Los Angeles county and one of the defendants collapsed in his chair and was carried in a stretcher from the courthouse.

Baker was the admitted leader of the raiders. His explanation of the affair, made public before the trial, was that he was acting as an officer of the law in an attempt to secure evidence of the violation of the prohibition laws.

Bernado Elduayden, a Spanish girl of 13 was on the witness stand and had just related that she was aroused on the night of the raid by masked men coming into her room and that she and her sister, Marie, 16, were forced to get up and dress while the intruders remained in the room. She said her father, Fidel and, her uncle, Mathias Elduayden had been taken from the house.

The girl had just completed her recital when Baker, who apparently had been listening intently gasped and slipped from his chair.

Baker was removed to the city receiving hospital where physicians said his trouble appeared to be "entirely mental," brought on by nervous strain. Several weeks before the trial he had a somewhat similar collapse and was placed in the psychopathic ward of a hospital for observation.

A recess was taken when Baker fell and the trial was continued until tomorrow morning by stipulation of counsel.

Neff Orders Three Cities In Panhandle Put Under Rule of Open Port Law

Dalhart, Amarillo and Texline Regarded as Needing State Ranger Enforcement; Water Pipes at Texarkana Yards Are Cut Twice; Rumored Rangers Go to Palestine

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Aug. 10.—Three additional Texas railroad centers—Dalhart, Amarillo and Texline—were placed under open port law by proclamation issued by Governor Neff late today. The order became effective at 6 o'clock tonight. State rangers already are on duty at all three places and will be in charge of Ranger Captain Frank Hamer, Governor Neff announced.

All territory within the city limits is included within the open port order and in addition all railroad shops, yards and switches outside the city limits. Open port law was put in force at these points following reports from state rangers and an extensive investigation made last week by Adjutant General Thomas D. Barton.

Reports that Palestine would be placed under open port law failed to be confirmed by the governor's action today. Governor Neff would not indicate what action is contemplated at that point. It is believed that Ranger Captain Jerry Gray who was reported today to be proceeding to Palestine has been sent to make a thorough investigation of the situation there and that action by the governor will depend upon the ranger's report.

RANGERS ARRIVE AT TEXARKANA FOR DUTY

By Associated Press.

TEXARKANA, Texas, August 10. Captain Lem Lamkin and nine rangers arrived here this afternoon for duty in connection with the strike situation. More rangers are expected tomorrow under R. W. Hardesty.

The trial of the four strikers taken to New Orleans Tuesday night has been set for Monday in Judge Rufus E. Foster's court. They are accused of violation of Judge Foster's injunction prohibiting interference with railroad operation or railroad employes.

About midnight last night unknown persons cut the pipes supplying the Texas & Pacific yards and the Union station with water. Repairs were made and about 4 o'clock this morning the pipes were cut for a second time.

Cotton Crop Report Incomplete

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Estimates of cotton acreage abandoned up to July 1, and extent of boll weevil damage to July 25, were not included in the August 1 cotton crop statement of the department of agriculture, according to a letter received today by Senator Harris, democrat, Georgia, from Leon M. Estabrook, chief of the crop reporting division of the department.

"The percentage of damage from the boll weevil indicated by these (county) reports was not deducted from the regular report of 70.8 per cent of normal," said Mr. Estabrook, "because in arriving at that estimate the factors likely to affect the yield per acre, including boll weevil, were fully considered by the field statisticians and crop reporters."

Negro Slayer Is Safe From Mob

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 10.—Elias Ridge, negro, confessed slayer of Mrs. George Adair, white, wife of a Mayes county farmer, is safe in the county jail at Tulsa, Adjutant General Charles F. Barrett said tonight.

The negro was spirited out of the Craig county jail at Vinita last night by officers, while leaders of a mob determined to lynch him, searched the building.

Preliminary hearing for the negro will be postponed until sentiment cools in Mayes county, Barrett said.

AGREEMENT ON CLAIMS REACHED

Germans to Settle With U. S.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Announcement that an agreement between the United States and Germany providing for the determination of the amount of claims against Germany was signed today in Berlin, was made tonight by the state department. The agreement provides for a claims committee to be composed of two commissioners and an umpire.

Associate Justice Day of the United States supreme court, it was announced, has been selected by President Harding as umpire. He will have authority to decide finally upon questions on which the two commissioners—one to be selected by each government—may disagree.

The selection of Justice Day, it was stated, was made after the German government expressed a desire to have an American citizen appointed as umpire. The name of the American commissioner, it was said, will be announced later.

Under the agreement the commissioners will meet in Washington within two months from the date of its signature and will pass upon (1) claims arising from seizure or damage to American property within the former German empire; (2) claims arising as a consequence of the war and occurring since July 31, 1914, and (3) debt owed as between the nationals of the two countries.

Lloyd George Has Cabinet Support On Debt Question

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Aug. 10.—Prime Minister Lloyd George now has secured the full support of his cabinet for whatever policy may have been decided upon by the British delegates to the conference which has been considering the German financial question, while the French cabinet also has given Premier Poincare a free hand. Thus, although the full conference has not yet formally rejected the proposals whereby France would consent to a moratorium for Germany, a deadlock sems to have been reached, which, in the opinion of observers will only permit the winding up of the conference when the allied statesmen meet tomorrow.

Immediately after today's cabinet council Mr. Lloyd George reported the position to the king and stated that he hopes to be in Wales Saturday to attend the annual Welsh festival.

For other state officers the ranger highway commissioner is the only one in doubt. Herbert R. Wilson, leading his opponent, Roy V. Leonard, by only 283 votes on virtually completed unofficial returns.

$200 FINE FOR VAGRANT HERE

Man Jailed on Girl's Testimony

Claiming that she had met the defendant, a man about 25 years old, some time ago and that they "had lived together" three or four weeks, a girl with bobbed hair, who said she was 18 years old, but who gave birth dates that would make her 14, appeared in corporate court yesterday morning against a man charged with vagrancy.

The man denied any relations with the girl, and said he had met her south of Wichita Falls several weeks ago. He was fined $200 by the court, being remanded to the city prison in default of his fine.

The girl's case was passed for the time being, but W. J. Townsend, city prosecutor, communicated with her parents in Rio Vista, Texas, late yesterday, learning that the girl has been married twice.

Her mother, upon being questioned by the attorney relative to whether the girl should be sent home, said "let her do as she likes, we don't want her."

Pat Allen, held in the local jail for several days on complaint of his daughter, 16 years old, that he had assaulted her for a period of six years, will be taken to Frederick, Okla., today, where his alleged offenses will receive investigation by Oklahoma authorities.

According to reports from Frederick, received by county authorities Thursday, the county attorney and sheriff of Tillman county, started after the prisoner Thursday. The return to Oklahoma for investigation in that place was made necessary by reason of the fact that the alleged offenses were said to have been committed in Oklahoma.

Two Arrested for Theft of Oil Pipe

As a result of activities carried on in Electra by Deputy Sheriff Will Bryan, two men faced charges yesterday of theft of over $50 worth of oil field piping.

The men were brought to the Wichita county court house yesterday afternoon, in the custody of Deputy Sheriff Bryan, where McClain was placed behind prison bars, while Davis waived preliminary hearing and made bond of $500.

The deputy stated that he recovered from the men arrested four checks, one for $95, one for $105, one for $30 and one for $70, all of which is alleged to have been secured from the sale of stolen pipe.

PRESIDENT HARDING IS CERtain of renomination, if he demands it. Albert J. Beveridge of Indiana has declared with great positiveness that he will not be a candidate for the nomination; Gifford Pinchot has declared himself and his followers for Harding for another term and unless the middle west and the far west break away from the administration the Marion newspaper publisher and native son of Buckeyeland is certain to be the republican standard bearer. Labor marked Fess for defeat. Fess won. Labor marked Pomerene for defeat. Pomerene won. There is an army of coal miners in Ohio. Organized labor is all powerful in Ohio. Senator Charges Moneyed Men Are Beating Cotton Prices Down

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, August 10.—Investigation of charges that undue methods or practices are being employed by the trade in restraining the natural operations of the law of supply and demand and depressing cotton prices was proposed in a resolution introduced today by Senator Smith, democrat, South Carolina. The resolution was referred to the agriculture committee.

Senator Smith's resolution recited that the cotton carried over was less than normal and that reports of the growing crop indicated a yield below the world demand. It also stated that the boll weevil damage was "more extensive and severe than ever before in history . . . making the yield entirely problematical."

The price of cotton in the markets has failed utterly to respond to these conditions," said Senator Smith's resolution. Senator Smith made public a letter from J. S. Wannamaker, president of the American Cotton association, reporting that New York and English cotton speculators are working together to beat down the market.

"Since the government's crop report was issued, one of the most bullish reports ever known, the market has gone down every day," said Mr. Wannamaker in his letter, "and it is the general talk of the trade that a powerful combine has been formed for the purpose of beating cotton prices down, it being stated that this combine is composed of some of the biggest financial interests in New York, some of the biggest speculators there and some of the biggest speculators in England and that they boast that they will beat the price of cotton down to 15 cents. Through some of the most reliable sources, I am given this information."

Every One Satisfied That Bunco Man Really Died in Fort Worth

By Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 10.—Doubt as to whether Joe Furey, nationally known swindler, actually died in the penitentiary at Fort Worth, Texas, and was interred here was cleared away as far as the police are concerned today when the body in question was exhumed and minutely answered Furey's description. Furey's finger prints, in the possession of the police, tallied with those of the dead man, the police said.

BODY OF FUREY EXHUMED BY POLICE

SAN FRANCISCO, August 10.—Into the silent city of Cypress Lawn cemetery which skirts the hills of San Mateo county, official grave diggers under authority of the San Francisco police department today entered to exhume a casket said to contain the body of Joseph Furey, international bunco man, who died recently in a Texas penitentiary.

Since Furey has deceived authorities before with the usual burial rites and later has come to life in some strange manner with new operations in the bunco game, authorities have decided on a policy of "safety first" before definitely dropping three charges of grand larceny that face Furey in Los Angeles.

Governors Approve Federal Seizure

By Associated Press.

ST. PAUL, Minn., August. 10.—Government operation of railroads serving the producing mines and if necessary government seizure and operation of all the coal mines in the United States will have the approval of the governors of Minnesota, South Dakota, North Dakota, Wisconsin and Iowa, according to resolutions adopted at the conference of governors in St. Paul tonight and forwarded to President Harding.

First Coal Mined Under Hoosier Guard

By Associated Press.

STAUNTON, Ind., Aug. 10.—The first coal to be shipped out of the two strip mines here being operated under protection of state troops, went out today when six carloads were hauled under guard to a main line railroad and started on their way to state institutions. Union railroad trainmen refused to touch the cars until they were out of the martial law area and they had to be switched to the trunk line with a little "dinky" mine engine.

already lost to the shop craftsmen and that, by accepting the strike leaders' challenge to a "fight to the finish" their shop forces will be soon recruited to normal strength and the power of the union disintegrated.

Southern and western roads, however, are not faring so well, it is frankly admitted, because most of their shops are situated far from the big labor centers where non-union forces are most easily recruited to replace the strikers.

Their representatives came here prepared to vote for acceptance of Mr. Harding's plan, it was understood.

Lead by President Felton of Chicago, Great Western chairman of the western division of the Association of Railroad executives, this element for acceptance was expected to put up a stiff fight against the easterners.

UNION OFFICIALS READY FOR MEETING

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Nearly all the officials of railroad unions who will participate in tomorrow's conference over President Harding's final proposal of a basis for settling the strike, were in Washington tonight and had completed a survey of the situation as presented to them by leaders of the seven shop craft organizations actually on strike.

Ben W. Hooper, chairman of the railroad labor board also arrived in Washington today. He called upon President Harding and later got in touch with union spokesmen.

Fire Threatens to Destroy Camp Grant

By Associated Press.

ROCKFORD, Ill., Aug. 10.—A fire which threatens complete destruction of all buildings in the heart of Camp Grant broke out in the old base hospital area about 9 o'clock tonight and is spreading rapidly. All Camp Grant fire companies and half of the Rockford city department is fighting the blaze. Several men have received minor injuries and burns. Six buildings of the hospital area are now consumed and fire is spreading.

Barracks just east of the camp guard house and across the road from the hospital area have caught fire and are burning so rapidly firemen are helpless. There are no prisoners in the guard house which is also endangered. Camp authorities suspect incendiarism.

The new well is in the sand at 1,920 feet. It is the third deep producer on this lease, where the 700-foot sand has also been developed.

The 1,500-foot sand, which has been developed into a nice producer in the Shamrock and Cline neighborhood leases, has not been tested out here, it is understood.

SYNDICATE TO SINK WILDCATS

New York Company To Drill Tests

Special to the Record News.

NEW YORK, August 10.—A syndicate comprising some of the strongest financial interests of New York has just been closed for an extensive campaign of "wildcat" drilling throughout the mid-continent oil fields. The syndicate is fully financed.

Its program of drilling is one of the most comprehensive that has yet been inaugurated, as it includes a total of 100 test wells to be drilled in the attempt to extend present producing areas and the opening of new oil pools in Oklahoma, Texas, Kansas, Louisiana and Arkansas. The present program calls for a minimum of 12 test wells per annum, arrangements for beginning work on three of these already being made. Activities of the syndicate will not be limited to territory already acquired but its maungers will consider propositions of attractive areas now owned by others.

Governor C. N. Haskell, chairman of the middle states oil board, is one of the prime movers in the new undertakings. The field management will be under the supervision of C. A. Owens, who has been associated with the Haskell interests for several years specializing in "wildcat" work in Kansas, Texas and Louisiana.

Headquarters of the syndicate will be at 347 Madison avenue, New York city.

Carter County Acreage Is High

During the month of July there were 56 wells completed in Carter county including five dry holes and three gassers. Oil wells completed added new production of 6,615 bar-

Amarillo Expects To Hit Pay Sand

The Greater Amarillo Oil company well No. 1, Masterson, has been lubricated, according to T. L. Coplin, who returned Thursday from Amarillo. Work drilling through the lubrication will be resumed right away, he said.

This well is one which much interest has centered in the Amarillo field and the operators expect to drill into the pay sand at an early date.

WILDCATS WILL BE SUNK IN PANHANDLE

Special to The Record News.

PANHANDLE, Texas, Aug. 10.—Reports are current that Hutchinson county is to have more wild cat tests started within a short time.

The territory receiving attention at this time is in the south portion of Hutchinson county in block Y, C. A. Fisher and H. W. Lowri are at present making a detailed structural survey of this district through the office of Mayor and Coker of Amarillo. Several large producing companies who have holdings in block Y, are said to be interested the report of these famous geologists and in the event of a favorable geological report, will begin drilling at once, it is authoritatively reported. The survey will be completed within the month.

COPLIN INSPECTS AMARILLO GASSER

T. L. Coplin of the railroad commission in this city has returned from Amarillo where he went to inspect the gas wells and to look especially to the shutting off of the big Master gasser that has been on fire several days.

The big gasser was put out by shooting it with nitroglycerine and dynamite, Mr. Coplin said. A cable was strung above the well and a can of the explosive with a time fuse was let down over the well just under the flame. This exploded scattering the gas so that the blaze went out.

M'NARY DELVES DEEP IN PROBE

Will Question Big Oil Heads

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Decision to call head officials of many of the greater oil companies who can "talk about the inside of the oil industry," was reached today by Acting Chairman McNary of the senate manufactures committee as the next step in the senate investigation of the gasoline situation.

Senator McNary said he was determined to have "revelant facts instead of side issues," in the committee record.

The investigation would show, Senator McNary said, whether there is "actual competition, for instance, among the units of the Standard Oil group."

The committee has heard in the past four days R. L. Welch, secretary of the American Petroleum institute, and John D. Clark, vice-president of the Mid-West Refining company. Both gave testimony which the chairman said he regarded as "highly interesting and frankly offered," but stated that it did not "get anywhere in the committee's plan." Consequently, the committee adjourned today to meet again probably early next week when it is proposed to call witnesses from the ranks of high oil companies officials.

MONTANA FIELD MAY CUT PRICE

Large Companies Are Rushing In

Special to The Record News.

TULSA, Okla., Aug. 10.—Oklahoma oil men, both independents and big company representatives, see a possible menace to the future price of mid-continent crude in the Sweet Grass Arch district in Montana, where there is a maximum of important development under way at present.

A number of key wells on various structures are being drilled at present, with indications reported exceedingly favorable for the opening of a good producing area. Another index of its possibilities is pointed out in the rush of the large companies and larger independents to secure acreage, which they are already acquiring in large tracts.

Large Companies There

All of the large companies are keeping close tab on the developments there, as contrary to some geologic opinion, it is likely that the Sweet Grass Arch will prove oil bearing to a large degre. Several large oil men have ventured the remark recently: "I am satisfied that the present slump in the oil business cannot last long so far as the mid-continent situation is concerned, but perhaps Montana offers a menace that we have not taken into consideration." Although it is not likely that this is the case at present, Montana may perhaps, some day, be a very big factor in the national oil situation.

That the Standard Oil company of California and the Ohio Oil company have each spent in the neighborhood of $1,000,000 or over for undeveloped properties there, is taken as an indication that they think well of it. A great significance is attached to the Standard of California's action, as it shows that big concern's eagerness to acquire high grade oil-producing leases to satisfy the big demand for gasoline west of the Rockies.

PAULINE REFINERY WILL OPEN SOON

Special to The Record News.

DUNCAN, August 10.—The refinery here of the Pauline Oil and Gas company of Oklahoma City will be in operation by August 20, officials of the company announce. It is nearing completion. The company which now has about 740 barrels production daily in the Duncan field, will run its own crude and probably buy additional crude to operate at capacity of 1,000 barrels at first. The plant will have a capacity of 1,500 barrels. J. A. Snyder, formerly superintendent of the Atwood Refining company and four years with the Bolene Refining company at Enid, has been employed as superintendent.

M'ADAMS LUMBER CO. IN NEW HOME

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Aug. 9.—The large shed and offices constructed by the McAdams Lumber company has been completed and the stock was moved into it Friday. The equipment and conveniences in this new structure are the most complete to be found in this section of the state, according to those who are in position to know. Among the unusual features are offices for the use of carpenters and a public writing desk with typewriter and paper furnished free.

This company recently absorbed the Lincoln Lumber company and the stock of that concern was moved to the new location.

Crude Price Cut Natural, Clark Says

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—The recent decline in gasoline prices was a natural consequence of the fall in the price of crude oil and was not an effort to make "a showing" in advance of the senate investigation into the gasoline price situation, John D. Clark of Denver, vice-president of the Midwest Refining company, testified today at the senate gasoline investigation. He asserted in reply to questions that the cut of two cents a gallon in gasoline and one cent a gallon on kerosene was the equivalent of 50 cents a barrel reduction in the price of crude.

Workmen Begin Erection of Cross For Klan Show

Out on the gun club course just back of the ball park yesterday there were strange activities.

A truck drove up just before the start of the game and unloaded some timbers. Shortly afterwards a couple of innocent looking automobiles parked on the prairie out there and three workmen began a bit of construction work which bore no particular form or meaning.

In the meantime another truck, hooded as the wagon trains of old, drove up and unloaded more materials.

Gradually the construction began to take form and those in position to observe the handiwork realized a cross was being built. Sockets for electric lights were fastened in profusion over the cross and it s denly dawned—the ku klux klan initiation tonight.

A horseman stood parked slightly apart from the workmen, but if he was there as an outpost, his duties were nil.

Then as silently and mysteriously as all klan affairs are, the work was left completed and the workmen departed, unnoticed and unrecognized.

Maybe He Never Heard of Volstead

One man charged with being under the influence of intoxicating liquors was fined $25 in corporate court yesterday morning by Judge John P. Marrs, when the defendant entered a plea of guilty, and informed the magistrate that it had been his custom for a long time to "drink when he chose."

Two men whose names were called to answer charges of vagrancy were absent and their bonds of $10 each were forfeited.

Thieves Strip Stolen Roadster

It became known yesterday that the Buick roadster belonging to Mack Thomas, which was found in Waggoner's pasture several miles from town recently by county officers from Sheriff Fred K. Smith's department, stripped, was minus two new Kelly-Springfield tires, only 30 days old, a motor meter and four rims.

The car was brought back into town and officers are looking for the missing parts.

FIGHTERS FINED

It isn't only "hard on old clothes to fight," but it's a violation of the law in Wichita Falls.

Judge John Marrs fined two defendants, charged with affray, a total of $10 yesterday when the pair was brought into corporate court.

Both defendants pleaded guilty.

WILL SHE WIN

WEST VIRGINIA republicans renominated Howard Sutherland as their candidate for United States senator and the democrats named as their senatorial candidate former Congressman M. M. Neeley. Sutherland defeated the publisher of the leading newspaper of West Virginia by 6,000 majority. Neeley defeated Mrs. Izette Brown, the widow of a former democratic congressman who had won fame as an actress before she had won the heart and the name of the leader of the West Virginia democracy. He died while in office.

Mrs. Brown was a delegate to the San Francisco convention and presented the name of John W. Davis as the choice of West Virginia democrats for presidential honors. She won the cheers of the multitudes, but didn't win many votes for her candidate. John W. Davis is one of the great lawyers of America and was American ambassador to the court of St. James at the time the West Virginia delegates gave him their votes to be the standard bearer of the democrats of the nation.

Mrs. Brown was ambitious to win the senatorial nomination and to be the first woman to be given a seat in the senate of the United States. She ran a miserable third. Her sister democrats must have voted for Congressman Neeley. He ran away from the woman contender and the democratic leaders of West Virginia hope that he will run ahead and away from Sutherland on November election day.

Four women sought congressional nominations in Missouri. One captured a nomination and three were defeated. Mrs. St. Clair Moss, president of the Christian college of Columbia, was the victor. She defeated two male opponents for the democratic nomination in the eighth district. Mrs. Moss is an ardent prohibitionist, she has been active in suffrage movements for years and the first woman in Missouri to be a congressional nominee. She is fully confident of victory and if she wins she will be the first woman in Missouri to hold a seat in the national congress. In the republican landslide two years ago the democrats lost the district for the first time in many years. They hope to win it back next November.

Three women lost in Oklahoma where Congresswoman Alice Robertson easily won a renomination and hopes to be reelected by the voters of her district. In normal years her district rolls up a majority of 7,000 to 10,000 for the democrats and the democrats have named as their standard bearer Judge W. W. Hastings, who was put out of congress by a woman two years ago. He hopes to overwhelm "Miss Alice," as the Washington correspondents call her, at the polls in November, but it will be some huge joke on him if he is given a second knockout by the republican sister who refused to take orders from the national woman's party and who bluntly told the women lobbyists who haunt the corridors at the capitol to run home and attend to their babies and their household duties. Many women announced for high office the country over but few were chosen. Women who are not candidates appear to be fond of the men on election day.

WHO SAID CANCEL?

JOHN BULL has hinted to Brother Jonathan that war debt cancellation would be the proper thing. Brother Jonathan is deaf to the proposal. There is a law against the signing of any agreement by the United States either to cancel the allied debt to this nation or to fund them except as definitely stipulated by law. This law creating the debt funding commission provides that every dollar owed us by foreign countries must be paid. Senator Porter J. McCumber is chairman of the senate finance committee. He says that Great Britain ought to be willing to cancel her loans to France and Belgium and Italy for the reason that at best she will never realize more than 50 per cent of what is owed her and it will be years before she can get that much.

Senator McCumber also says that Great Britain, in contrast to her creditors, is entirely solvent, that she is offering to cancel claims against debtors on the verge of bankruptcy from whom she cannot collect; that the United States will never cancel the debt, that such a measure could never pass the senate and lastly that it would never be approved by the American people.

Senator James A. Watson of Indiana, a member of the finance committee, says any proposition to cancel our claim against England would never get out of the finance committee of the senate in a hundred years and he adds that if it did it would never pass the senate as it is now constituted and to clinch the proposition, the Hoosier senator declared the American people would be overwhelmingly opposed to any such proposition.

In the division of the war loot the United States did not ask for or receive a dollar in cash or an inch of territory. Great Britain took over the German cables, the rich colonies wrested from the Germans as well as a vast number of the freight carriers of the broken empire. France received as her share her lost provinces, rich coal and iron fields that never did belong to the French and colonial possessions of great value. Germany was stripped to the bone of her foreign possessions, her ships of the seven seas, her cables which encircled the globe and her navy and merchant marine. Senator McCumber is right. Senator Watson is right. Great Britain is solvent. France is solvent. Belgium is solvent. They should be made to pay their honest obligations.

WHY SHOULDN'T THEY PAY?

HEADSTONES for soldiers will be provided free as the government has decided to place markers over the graves of the men of America who died for their flag and for democracy in the World war. If all the profiteers could be reached by the government dragnet, speaking of those who amassed large fortunes in war time, it would be an easy matter to provide a handsome money bonus for each former service man who gave up his job and marched away when his country called him. There is a vast army of former service men who are living from hand to mouth today and there is another army battling to keep the wolf from the door who are hopeful that the pledges of the politicians of America shall be redeemed some day. America spent thirty-three billion dollars in the winning of the World war. This includes the nine billions loaned to foreign governments.

Now Great Britain is passing the buck to European governments which are her debtors. John Bull has told the heads of these debtor governments that he would be willing to cancel their obligations, but the United States insists that Great Britain shall pay and if Great Britain must pay then all the other governments must pay. Why shouldn't they pay? Why shouldn't Great Britain pay? Why shouldn't France pay? Why shouldn't Belgium pay? Why shouldn't Italy pay? When the division of loot came, Great Britain received the lion's share, France came second, Belgium third and Italy last.

America, running true to form and the gospel of the early fathers, fought for justice for the weak and never received a dollar in treasure nor an acre in territory. Let them pay. They are the owners of world empires. They were saved from extinction by the soldiers of America, the dollars of America, the food products of America. They are not paupers. They should not be beggers. Business is business. A man never appreciates the value of a dollar unless he is forced to earn the dollar. America loaned the money and unless those who borrowed it pay it, then Americans must dig it out of the earth.

On with the digging the world over. There is only one way to create wealth, to restore the wealth destroyed by the sword. And the diggers will be the restorers. Wealth is not created by starting the government printing presses and keeping them running day and night. Soviet Russia tried the printing press plan. Its money has a value of about $10 a ton. Germany tried it. Eight hundred marks have the value of a dollar. Workers of the world are the winners of the world. They are the wealth makers of the world but there is no place in history where the rough workers who do the heavy toiling ever received more than a pittance as a reward.

TWO BUNK ISSUES

THERE are two bunk issues before the people of Texas and they are said to be paramount issues. First, if the Esch-Cummins act were repealed tomorrow it would not effect a change in the freight rates now operative. Second, the eighteenth amendment is a part of the organic law of the republic. It prohibits the manufacture and the sale and the importation of beverages which are intoxicating. A supreme court decision clothed the interstate commerce commission with the authority to make freight rates. These are some of the things that the reading public should know.

Rippling Rhymes

THE HAPPY LAD

My car is made of zinc, my car is painted pink; but I'm as gay when on my way, as any wealthy gink. My home is but a shack, a woodshed at the back; but when I'm there 'twould make you stare to see how high I stack. My watch is built of tin, and has punk works within; it is a crime, but keeps the time, the while I toil and spin. My duds are ready made; I see the colors fade; but still I spring a smile and sing—the clothier has been paid. On liverwurst I dine, and I am feeling fine; the goods you see belong to me, and they are truly mine. No creditor appears with caustic taunts and sneers, to get his plunk or have my junk sold by the auctioneers. No sheriff comes with writs to scare me into fits; no bailiffs wait around my gate to bone me for six bits. I'll have a limousine some day, and mansion green; some day I'll shine in raiment fine, a silk hat on my bean. Some day I'll have a clock that none will dare to mock; some day I'll eat such costly meat 'twill make the neighbors talk. But I won't cut this ice until I have the price; and so in brine these coins of mine I pickle once or twice.

Mr. Dooley on the Senate Situation

By E. VAN DEVENTER
With Apologies to the Late P. F. Dunne

"Well," said Hinnessy, "an' 'ou be ye goin' to vote in th' sinnatorial run-off election?"

"Th' sinnatorial situashun," replied Mr. Dooley, "is very much loike a thorn in y'r soide; every time ye think av it it gives ye a pain. Shure an if I knowed which wan av th' pair would be rayfused a seat be th' sinate I'd be trowin' me support to him."

"Av course, Hinnessy, th' whole blame f'r th' predicament we foist lay on th' frout door steps av th' Honerable Cone Johnson av Tyler, fr not acceptin' th' office himself. But anyhow, here we arre wit Jim Ferguson on wan side an' the deep blue sea of ku kluxism on the other, an' nary an airplane.

"Now av coorse we good prohibitionists moight schwoller Jim's light wine an' beer tho' it be a bit distasteful if that was all he asked us 't schwaller. As fr Mayfield when he gits t' th' sinate who knoos but he will be afther takin' his orders frum Atlanta, Georgia, instead av Texas?

"'And phat is a ku klux,' inquired Hinnessy.

"Th' ku klux, Hinnessy, is a bunch av cut-ups that have lost entirely all rayspect fr' th' law an' coorts an' arre thryin' t' relaive justice be a bit av direct action. They k'rrick in secret an' entoirely wid out remunerashun except f'r th' joy av metin' out th' punishment. They go to church occasionally, which lends thim a bit av ray pectability, but nivver shtay f'r th' serices.

"Their activities remoind me av a young an' inexperienced husband. Ivery toime he has a quarrel wid his spouse he sits in th' corner an' pouts, countin' up all th' shortcomin's av his woife, an' thinkin' av all th' foine points av a certain girrel he wished he had married an' didn't. "Now, Hinnessy, th' law may not be all she's cracked up t' be, but we're married t' her fr all that, an' if good dimmycrats don't stand by her who's left t' do it?

"'But Mr. Dooley,' said Hinnessy, 'would yez moind tellin' which man ye be fur f'r th' sinate, supposin' ye had th'e decidin' ote?'

"'Shure,' said Mr. Dooley, 'if I knowed it would take me wan vote t' elect ayther av thim I would vote f'r the other wan.'"

The Once Over

THOUGHTS OF BATHING GIRLS' PICTURES IN THE NEWSPAPERS.

WHEN does a woman swimming champion dress?

o o o

This becomes more and more of a mystery the more you look at the illustrated sections of newspapers.

o o o

The average editor who picks the pictures for the photogravure section, for instance, must consider his duty well done if out of 100 photographs he has 90 ladies in bathing suits, five views of the Prince of Wales, three snapshots of Lloyd George and two of President Harding at golf.

o o o

In the old days photographs were used to "dress" the paper. Now the are used to "undress" it.

o o o

Of course, the girl swimming champions are somewhat to blame. When they are not swimming they're posing. A girl swimming champion is always diving for instance and coming up for photographs. She's a bare!

o o o

Until recently it has been the custom for the girls to pose with an appropriate background. Not necessarily at the water, but with a water atmosphere. The other day, however, we saw a picture of a famous girl swimmer posing in a one-piece suit in a Morris chair. Yesterday we saw another sitting on a tabourette. We wouldn't be surprised any day to see a group of swimming girls posing on a baby grand piano.

o o o

The deduction is that they never dress. It would be a real novelty (and why doesn't some editor realize it?) to see a picture of a lady swimmer in street clothes.

o o o

It always has struck us that a young man who keeps company with a swimming champion must be kept in a perpetual state of curiosity as to how she will look when she decides to settle down and put some clothes on.

o o o

Last fall a famous swimmer was married. When the groom saw her the day of the wedding, fully dressed, he didn't know her and had to have her identified. 'Safact.

o o o

Training for a distance race must be very difficult. The swimmer has to get up early in the morning and phone for the newspaper photographers. Then she has to name a place to meet them. Then she must hurry there and go through a half day of posing.

o o o

This over she must hustle t' her own photographer's studio and put through a grilling hour posing for pictures for distribution to papers not represented by staff photographers.

The rest of the day has to be spent in posing here and there wherever a stray photographer happens to be located.

o o o

It's a terrible ordeal. No wonder a swimming champion lives such a short life; she's exposed to so many things.

Mommer, may I go in to swim,
And cut some diving capers?
Yes, my dear, and have each limb
In all the Sunday papers!

Learn to Swim For Health and Beauty

By GERTRUDE ARTELT
National Champion and Record Holder
Writing a Series of Articles for The Record News

ARTICLE No. 5

THE CHANGE OF SEVEN YEARS

SWIMMING PRODUCES SMOOTH LINES IN FIGURE
The illustration shows Gertrude Artelt as she is today, a well-built muscular and yet graceful girl of 21 years. The inset also is of Miss Artelt when she was 14 years old. Note the contrast. She attributes her development from a slim, "painfully thin" lass to the most physically perfect woman in America to swimming and gymnastic exercises.

THE benefits of swimming are many, but primary among them are recreation, self-protection, health and physical development.

Every one in the game, whether a racer, a recreation seeker, a beginner or just an enthusiast, tells of the good the sport does in exercising every muscle in the body.

The swimmer gains a physical development that is virtually impossible to attain in any other sport.

In tennis, golf and baseball the right forearm is enlarged from the continual use of the fore arm muscles.

In track athletics the legs are overdeveloped and so it goes down through the various sports. Each has a call for energy from one particular part of the body.

In swimming the left side of the body is called upon to do exactly as the right side does. That is the answer to the smooth, perfectly proportioned lines of a swimmer.

THE muscles, instead of getting hard and knotted, are loose and pliable.

Gymnasts Have Knotty Muscles

I AM very tall. Often I am asked how much I weigh. When I tell them—and I'm not a bit hesitant in declaring myself—they say:

"You really don't mean it? Why, you don't look 165 pounds."

But I am. I may not look it. This is because swimming gives one the appearance of being slender. My lines are smooth and there are no knots protruding.

As a contrast, consider Roberta Ranck, who has the greatest muscular development from gymnastics I have ever seen in a woman. At Chicago last year in the national gymnastic meet she took second place out of 2,000 contestants. Bobbie is of medium height and even proportioned. Her muscles, however, are hard and knotted—the very opposite of a swimmer.

The swimmer and the gymnast are two very different types. They both are unusually well built.

AT THIS gymnastic meet I was chosen as the most perfect specimen of physical culture simply because in connection with the gym work I swam. The tendency the gym had to knot my muscles was dispensed with in the water.

Develops Sportsmanship

WHY do so many entnuse about swimming girls? I am not referring to bathing beauties. I mean girls who actually get some place in the racing game. The reason is a simple one. They are good to look at.

Swimmers usually are evenly proportioned and have a clean-cut appearance. And the swimmers are as wholesome as they look, both physically and mentally.

Swimming also develops real sportsmanship. Fair play is the trademark of the game.

I remember when I was younger how I felt after losing a race. Why, for an hour or more after the race it was all I could do to hide my feelings.

THERE was no cause for it for I had nothing to lose, no experience to back me. I just hated to think of second place, and I had my share of defeats.

NOW when victory and defeat should mean so much to me I never even worry before or after a race. Please, don't think I have acquired that "I-don't-care" attitude, but the more experience you have the more you realize how much sport there is in the game.

Swimming also teaches control of the nerves. It helps you keep your head where others would be confused.

Grit, determination and confidence go hand in hand with swimming. The sport gives more than it takes.

WHEN I think how it has changed the painfully thin girl I was at 14 years into what I am now, I feel indebted to nothing else as I do to swimming for developing me.

In her next article Miss Artelt will write of many interesting experiences in her athletic career.

FASHIONS

Lace and Satin Combined in This Afternoon Dress

Very graceful and smart is this afternoon frock combining satin and lace, with velvet in black or a dark contrasting color lightly banding the blouse, on the sleeves, and about the neck, and forming the rosette at one side of the twisted girdle. The long sash panel at the side of the skirt adds a smart touch to the otherwise plain dress. The entire outfit offers a suggestion to the woman who is engaged in the serious business of remodelling and making over last season's frocks in order that they may do service during at least a few weeks of the season immediately ahead.

Laces of various kinds are in very high favor for fall and winter, black and white and the colorful dyed laces sharing honors. The blouse of a frock may be of lace, with skirt of silk fabric, or the opposite combination may be effected, the entire skirt being of lace with bodice of silk crepe or satin lightly trimmed with lace. Lace panels and sashes of one sort of another are also very frequently seen.

Asmart dancing frock of fall vintage recently seen had the waist made with plain yellow crepe yoke and black lace lower part joined at the low waist-line by a skirt having a straight, narrow foundation or underneath skirt of the crepe over which were draped circular panels of crepe about six inches shorter than the skirt and panels of lace trailing several inches below the skirt hem. Another dance frock featured a straight line foundation of cloth of silver, with silver lace side section gathered so as to flare away from the figure.

The selection of lace as an important part of a dressy frock will meet with the approval of Dame Fashion in the season ahead.

Little Stories For Bedtime

FARMER BROWN'S BOY MISSES A DUCK

"Quack, quack, quack, quack, quack, quack!" Sammy Jay, who had stopped in the big maple tree in Farmer Brown's dooryard for a minute, shook his head in disgust. "Did you ever hear such noisy things as those ducks in all your life?" he muttered to no one in particular.

"Since you ask me, I must say that I have," replied Chatterer the Red Squirrel, poking his head out of a hole close by Sammy.

"I didn't ask you!" snapped Sammy, who had given a frightened little jump at Chatterer's unexpected appearance and was provoked, as some people are when they are startled.

"Well, who were you asking?" demanded Chatterer. "I seem to be the only one near enough to hear."

"I wasn't asking anybody; I was talking to myself!" snapped Sammy.

"A bad habit! A very bad habit!" replied chatterer, shaking his head gravely. "Some day you will give away a secret that way. But getting back to those noisy ducks; they are no more noisy than you are when you are excited. By the way, Farmer Brown's boy seems to be troubled about something. I wonder if it has anything to do with those foolish ducks."

Sammy Jay turned to look, and right away he forgot his ill temper. Farmer Brown's boy did seem to be troubled about something. He had driven all of the ducks into a corner of the henyard, and he was counting them. Three times he counted them, ad there was a frown on his face as he began once more. He took his hat and rubbed the top of his head thoughtfully.

"There certainly was one more this morning, for I counted them when I turned them out," he murmured.

"Quack, quack, quack," said the ducks.

Farmer Brown's boy grinned. "I suppose if I could understand duck talk you would tell me all about what has happened, but seeing that I don't understand a word you say I suppose I have got to find out for myself."

Once more he counted the ducks. "One is surely missing," said he. "Wonder if the foolish thing has wandered off somewhere. I'll have a look in the grass around the duck pond Perhaps I'll find something there to tell me what has become of that missing quacker."

Off he strode to the duck pond, and Sammy and Chatterer could see him looking about in the grass. Then he looked this way and that way in the air. Of course he wasn't looking for a duck there. What he was looking for was to see if Redtail the Hawk or any of Redtail's relatives were anywhere in sight. Not a single member of the Hawk family was to be seen. Then Farmer Brown's boy began to study the ground. He was looking for tracks. Yes, sir, he was looking for tracks. He was looking for the footprints of Reddy or Granny Fox. He didn't find any, and once more he took off his hat and rubbed his head thoughtfully.

"I give it up," said he at last. "That duck has disappeared just the way my lunch did the day I went after berries in the Old Pasture and met Buster Bear."

Farmer Brown's boy spoke more truly than he guessed. Old Man Coyote could have told him just why it was that he missed one of his ducks that night.

Another American Slain in Mexico, Official Reports Say

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10. — The killing of another American in Mexico was reported offiejally to the state department today by the American consul at Torreon, but the story told by the dispatch was at wide variance with newspaper reports of what apparently was the same incident.

Consul Donaldson's telegram said the man killed was Guy Marks of Columbus, Ohio, and that G. F. Martin of San Antonio, Texas, had been wounded. The dispatch added that the attack on the two men took place last Friday night at Mapimi, Durango and was credited to bandits who were being pursued by local authorities.

Newspaper advices yesterday from Torreon to Mexico City had given the dead man's first name as Thomas Martin and said that Guy Marks was seriously injured. According to this story, miners from a neighboring camp were responsible and the shooting was said to have taken place on Sunday near La Zecatera, Coahuila. Department officials are endeavoring to further confirm the consul's dispatch and to secure additional details.

Why Women Get Despondent

Are not women naturally as light-hearted, brave and hopeful as men? Yes, certainly; but a woman's organism is essentially different from a man's—more delicate, more sensitive and more exacting. Women in delicate health are more dependent, more nervous, more irritable and more despondent. When a woman develops nervousness, sleeplessness, backaches, dragging-down pains and melancholia she should lose no time in giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial, as it will quickly dispel such troubles. This root and herb medicine contains no drugs and has been the standby of American womanhood for nearly fifty years.—(Adv.)

Giants Can't Stop Onslaught of Salm's Slugging Beauties

FLAHERTY PITCHES FOUR-HIT GAME WHILE SPUDDERS GIVE HIM PERFECT SUPPORT FOR WIN

Giants Bunch Hits and Threaten to Ruin Perfectly Good Ball Game in Seventh Inning But Wichita Shows Old Fighting Spirit and Comes From Behind in Eighth

Great swat!

What a ball game!

Thrills that chased up and down your spine in constant succession and that felt like someone jerking a barbed wire out of your spinal column kept about 3,000 rabid Spudder fans shrieking and yelling from the first to the ninth inning of yesterday's game which ended with those unbeatable Spudders sitting on the long end of a 4 to 3 score. Twenty-three straight wins.

Pat Flarerty went out in front for the Spuds, and for six long innings he wielded a brush dripping with whitewash. The Giants couldn't find him. In those six memorable innings, while the locals counted twice, the Dallas entry never got a solitary scratch off Pat. Only nineteen men faced him for the first two-thirds of the game. One man walked. Pat hit another, but he went out in a double play. Oh, it was sweet baseball.

Now that it's all over, you can't help feel glad that the big Irishman did allow them those three runs in the seventh, but at the time, man, oh man, it was terrible.

In the third, with two men down, Bescher beat out an infield hit toward third. Tanner walked, and Adams singled to right, scoring Bescher. Tanner was run down between third and the plate for the third out.

In the fourth, the Spuds scored their second. Tex McDonald walked, stole second, and scored when White singled to left.

The Giants came to life in the seventh inning. Massey walked, De Maggio singled to right when the ball took a nasty hop over Al White's head. It looked like an easy out. Then the fun began. Galloway lined out to Summa, and Donahue singled to left, scoring Massey. DeMaggio took third. Bescher tried hard to stop the ball but was barely able to touch it with his glove after a hard run. Segrist fouled out to Tanner, but Lovelace doubled to right center, out of Summa's reach, and De Maggio and Donahue scored. Lingle was out, Tanner to Beck, ending the agony.

The Spudders did their best to even the count in their half of the seventh. Bischoff singled to center. Flarerty fanned, then Bish was caught off first. The fans moaned. Bob Bescher then stepped into one of Mitchell's fast ones for two bases to right. Tanner flied out and ended the rally.

But oh that eighth!

Shorty Starts It.

The fans were begging for something, and Shorty Adams heard their plea. He knicked Mitchell for a single to center, after two strikes were called on him. Our Mr. Summa placed one of the prettiest sacrifices of the season, and Shorty stopped at second with one down. Tex hit to Mitchell and was thrown out at first, Adams taking third. Two down. Oh man, how those fans were begging for that run!

Beck Ties It.

Then up stepped Mr. Beck. Good old Fred. He drew quite a cheer and Mitchell, the former Cincinnati star, looked worried. The Giants had Snipe Conley warming up. Beck leaned on one that bore a two-base ticket, and Shirty raced home with the tying run. Did the fans cheer? Ask me! That new grandstand rocked.

And White Finishes It.

But the fun wasn't over yet. White singled to left, DeMaggio juggled the old apple for a minute, just long enough for Beck to race home with that winning run. He showed he could run despite his injured leg. This was the second run that White had driven in. Bischoff popped to short and ended the rally. Those fans couldn't have stood much more, anyway.

In their half of the ninth, Dallas got their fourth measley hit, but it didn't count for the next three were out, as fast as they walked up to the plate. De Maggio had reached second with none out, however, and for a minute it looked like those Giants might tie the score.

Mitchell didn't look so hard. Those Dallas sport scribes have been telling us what he was going to do to these slugging Spudders. They all said they would take two games, MAYBE. Mitchell was going to take one, SURE, and they sort of thought Snipe Conley would take the other.

Well, Mr. Mitchell is down.

BRING ON SNIPE CONLEY.

WE EAT PITCHERS.

WOMEN GOLFERS ENTER TOURNEY

Fort Worth Plans to Entertain Many

Special to The Record News.

FORT WORTH, Texas, Aug. 10.—The cream of women golfing talent of the Lone Star state will be here in October for the 1922 tournament of the Texas Women's Golf association.

Mrs. J. W. Hamilton of this city, secretary of the association, announced today that a much larger entry list will be made public soon for the October meet than was on hand for the tournament, which was postponed this spring because of the floods.

Mrs. Jack Lapham of San Antonio, many times queen of Texas female golfing circles, is expected to defend her title, although she was unable to come here this spring. Mrs. Lapham's appearance will add all the color of a great championship tournament to the local meet, for she is recognized, respected and feared by all contenders as the best linkswoman in the state. San Antonio bids fair to be the home of the trophy for another year.

Houston, Waco and Wichita Falls will also send large delegations. Several west Texas towns may have representatives here when the curtain goes up on what promises to be the most successful tournament of its kind ever staged in Texas.

Dallas has many excellent women golfers, including several younger female sensations.

Three new members were out last week, an evidence of the interest being manifested in th organization and several more are expected today.

The regular program of 50 single rise targets from the 16-yard rise mark and 12 pairs thrown in doubles will be shot.

APPORTIONMENT FOR SCHOOLS TO BE FIXED

Special to The Record News.

AUSTIN, Aug. 9.—Apportionment for the Texas school system will be fixed by the state school board Thursday, at which time funds will also be set aside for the purchase of free textbooks during the coming year.

Though the state txa rate was recently raised from 22 to 35 cents, it is expected that the scholastic apportionment will be lowered from its present figure of $13 to approximately $10.50, as benefit of the higher tax rate will not be felt for a year.

The apportionment for the coming year will be based on a scholastic population of 1,290,000; so that if the apportionment is fixed at $10.50, the total sum thus set aside for rural and grade school during the coming year will be approximately $13,500,000.

There remains unpaid on the past school years $ 1.50 of the $13 apportionment, yet to be paid before the school board begins the distribution next fall of the new apportionment to be fixed this week.

Free textbooks will cost more than $1,000,000 during the coming year, according to unofficial estimates.

The state tax, fixed by law for school purposes, is 35 cents on the $100 property valuations. Of this sum, as much as is required up to 15 cents of the 35 cents, is reserved for the purchase of textbooks. The sum estimated to be required during the coming year will be set aside by the school board, after which the balance of the funds available from the direct tax will be subject to other educational uses.

Mennonite Influx To South Continues

By Associated Press.

EL PASO, Texas, Aug. 10.—Representatives of Canadian Mennonites announced here today that in October 8,000 more Mennonites would leave their homes in Canadian provinces for colonization tracts in the state of Chihuahua, Mexico.

They also said after returning from the colony established in Chihuahua last spring that the Mennonites were busy building houses, roads and schools and planting crops, 3,500 acres already being under the plow.

There are 2,300 persons in the colony now. The Mennonites have purchased 300,000 acres of land surrounding the town of San Antonio in Mexico. The land is held in fee simple, but no individual can hold more than 160 acres, they said. The bishop is head of the colony.

Negress Held After Cutting

A cutting affray that may end fatally for Marvin Horton, negro, resulted in Leola Horton, his wife, being locked behind steel bars in the city prison yesterday at noon, held in connection with Horton's wounding.

Horton, moaning with pain and suffering from several fierce gashes inflicted in his back, according to his own statements, with a butcher knife, reeled in the throes of agony in the police station yesterday as he stood and attempted to narrate the incident to the police which nearly cost him his life.

The negro declared that his wife "started trouble" early Thursday morning, "threatening to kill me."

"She first came in the room wth a .32 caliber pistol drawn on me, and told me I'd bee nmean to her, and that she was going to kill me," the negro stated, declaring that after a struggle he had taken the gun away from her and had then gone back to sleep.

The negress, according to Horton's story, returned at 10.45 with a butcher knife and stabbed him while he slept.

Officer Tom Shook rushed to the scene when the call was received at headquarters, returning with both negroes, Horton later being send to a physician, where it was learned his wounds are serious.

The negro man claimed that he is employed in a local cafe, and asserted at the station that the trouble occurred at his home at 609 Flood street.

Railroad Stocks Show Unexpected Strength Thursday

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—Extraordinary strength of railroad stocks, many of which moved to new high ground for the year, despite the increasing seriousness of the railroad strike situation, was the outstanding development in today's stock market session. Threatened extension of the strike to members of the "big four" brotherhoods caused some uneasiness at the start, but the offerings were easily absorbed and prices held well to the end regardless of "short" attacks, indicating that the flowing supply of stocks was in strong hands.

Grangers, such as Northern Pacific, Great Northern preferred, Chicago and Northwestern, St. Louis Southwestern and Pere Marquette, again broke through to peak prices for 1922. International Harvester and Sears Roebuck, which which are also expected to profit by banner crops also made new high records.

Steel Down

The financial community apparently interpreted the increase in the United States steel corporation's unfilled contract during July as being due to curtailed production because of strike conditions rather than to increased business. United States steel common was down 7-8 and independent steels, notably crucible and republic, softened in sympathy.

Cuban sugar stocks were again reactionary, despite the prevalent belief that the increased tariff, decided on by the senate, would be reflected in the price to the consumer rather than in earnings reports of the Cuban companies.

Mexican petroleum continued its jumping jack movements of the last few days, closing at a net gain of 1 3-8 points. Studebaker and Chandler, which are also favorites of the speculative element, sold off, the former dropping 1 1- 8points.

Stutz Motor Stock Rises

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, August 10.—A sharp rise in Stutz Motor Car company shares occurred on the New York curb market today upon the overnight announcement that Charles M. Schwab, chairman of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, and E. R. Thayer, former president of the Chase National bank, and their associates, had acquired a controlling interest by the purchase of 130,000 shares from the Guaranty Trust company. The trust company recently bought them for $20 a share at an auction sale of the collateral of Allan A. Ryan, former stock market speculator, who failed for $18,000,000.

The stock was quoted at the opening at 23 to 24 a share, but soon rose to 25½, which was 2 3-4 above yesterday's close and 6 3-4 above yesterday's low. Profit-taking set in at the higher level, however, and the price was forced down to 23 3-4. Total sales to 1:30 p. m. were more than 16,000 shares, as compared with 7,800 in yesterday's full session.

STRIKE PUTS WHEAT HIGHER

Market Has Firm Close

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, August 10.—Uneasiness about possible spreading of the rail strike had more or less to do today with an upturn in the price of wheat. The market closed firm, 3-4c to 1c net higher, with September $1.05 7-8 to $1.06 and December $1.06 1-8 to $1.06 1-4. Corn finished 1-4c to 1 1-4c up, oats off 1-4c to 3-8c and provisions unchanged to 27c lower.

The wheat trade was especially stirred by a report that locomotive engineers at Pottsville, Pa., had declared for an immediate walkout to aid the shopmen. Shorts covered freely after this report became current and the market closed at the top figure of the day. Previous to notice being taken of renewed talk about transportation facilities, the wheat market had developed a little strength as a result of higher bids from exporters, together with announcement that 505,000 bushels had been purchased here for shipment to Europe.

RICH WOMAN ADMITS THEFTS

Shoplifting Charges Are Filed

Walking by the side of a city detective, a woman 50 years old, who gave her address to the police department as 10 miles south of Wichita Falls, was conducted into several department stores along Ohio and Indiana street yesterday at noon and introduced to the places of business and their clerks as a "thief who had stolen goods at that particular place."

Only 30 minutes before this kind of punishment was inflicted upon her by Chief J. W. McCormick, at the instance of Commissioner of Police J. B. Fitts, the woman had been arrested by Sergeant Lenly Humphris at Kress 5 and 10c store, where she is charged with helping herself to two pairs of hose, a bar of soap and two handkerchiefs.

"Don't let this get out on me," she begged the officer when he had taken her in custody on Indiana street. "Don't—don't—don't. My daughter would never forgive me and I've got plenty of money.——"

The woman gave her name, connecting her with a prominent family in Wichita county, and declared that she owns a farm and property south of the city. She admitted, after several minutes of argument to the contrary, that she had stolen goods at Kress store, at P. B. M.'s and at the Perkins-Timberlake store on several occasions and pointed to some of the clothes she wore, remarking:

"I got that at P. B. M.'s last week."

Chief McCormick placed her under $100 cash bond, which she hurriedly gave, drawing a check on a local bank, on her personal account, and then sent her to the department stores in the custody of the officers.

At each store, the management was introduced to the woman, all of whom seemed to know her as a good customer, and then the clerks of each place were called together and given an opportunity to have a look.

M. H. Chenault, manager of Kress store who caught the woman in the act of taking a pair of hose, and who watched her while she placed several other articles in a large paper handbag without paying, or offering to pay for them, notified the city police, Cergeant Humphris being immediately dispatched to the scene arresting the woman after she had left the store.

Mr. Chenault declared that she was "one of the slickest shoplifters I have ever seen." He stated that he first noticed the stately, well-dressed woman when she had walked down an aisle of his store, a bundle of handkerchiefs disappearing from a counter as she passed, and the store manager being unable to "see where they went to."

She told Chief McCormick that she and her husband are sparated and that she lives with her oldest daughter on a farm. An investigation showed that the woman has in her possession a number of stolen articles that she admitted having taken from Wichita Falls business houses at various times.

OCTOBER GOES UP $5 A BALE

Market Opens at Low Ebb

By Associated Press.

NEW ORLEANS, August 10—The outstanding feature of the trading in cotton today was the strong bulge of the early session when the October position was shot upward 85 a bale following the issuance of a private bureau mid-month report on condition of 67.0 per cent of normal, which, it was claimed indicated deterioration for the half month of 6... points. Before this bulge the market was easy and lower and after it the tendency was to sag under the effect of the continued unsatisfactory labor conditions in this country and the unsettling political news from abroad. The close was at net advances on the day of 44 to 47 points, with October at 20.28.

Poor cables and the unfavorable foreign news caused a lower opening and soon after the first call prices were 13 to 20 points under the closing of yesterday with October off 19.55. At this level the market heard of the private condition figures and one of the strongest advances in recent months occurred. October shot upward 98 points to 20.53 at which level the list of active months was 43 to 72 points higher than the final price of yesterday.

Heavy realizing from the long side checked the upward swing and brought about reactions which carried October as low as 20.15.

Cotton closed steady at net advances of 44 to 47 points.

	High	Low	Close
October	20.53	19.55	20.28
December	20.33	19.60	20.21
January	20.20	19.57	20.16
March	20.16	19.54	20.11
May	20.04	20.04	20.07

NEW YORK COTTON

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, August 10.—There were sharp rallies in the cotton market today on reports that declines to about the 20 cent level were bringing in an increased trade demand, the renewed nervousness over the progress of the crop. December contracts sold up to 20.82 or 77 points above the low level of yesterday morning and 64 points net higher. That delivery closed at 20.70 with the general market closing firm at a net advance of 47 to 57 points. The market opened steady at a decline of 12 points to an advance of 2 points. There were some scattered selling on the relative weakness of Liverpool and also some selling here for southern account, but the market soon turned firmer. This probably reflected a belief that some of the early sales had been absorbed by buying for domestic mill account while the rally was later promoted by claims that the Texas drought had been broken in only a comparatively small portion of the state and that elsewhere the crop was deteriorating.

LESSON NO. 40
Review (Continued)
The Variometer

Briefly, the variometer consists of two coils of wire connected in series, one of the coils being stationary and the other so mounted that it may be rotated. If current flows through both coils in the same direction, the magnetic fields assist each other and the self-induction is at a maximum. If the inner coil is rotated so that the ceurrent flows through the coils in opposite directions, the magnetic fields oppose one another and the self-induction is at a minimum. The variometer, therefore, affords a continuous variation of inductance and close tuning within a comparatively small range of wavelengths.

The Two-Circuit Receiver

In a simple form a receiver of this type may have a fixed primary winding and a secondary winding so constructed that it may be slipped in and out of the primary winding, thus securing various degrees of "tight" or "loose" coupling. The number of turns used in the primary winding may be regulated by an adjustable slider while the secondary winding may have taps brought out to a multipoint switch. This adjustable receiving transformer in conjunction with a variable condenser, detector, and receiving telephones forms a two-circuit receiver which gives very satisfactory results in the receipts of radio signals.

Rectification by the Crystal Detector

If the series of damped radio-frequent oscillations are impressed upon a crystal detector, the rectifying properties of the crystal allow only the positive or negative currents to pass through, with the result that half of each cycle is wiped out and the incoming oscillations are rectified into a series of uni-directional pulsations. The average effect of each group of rectified oscillations impulses the diaphragm of the receiving telephones and results in the reception of audible signals.

The Thermionic Tube

The thermionic tube consists of a small glass bulb from which the air has been exhausted. Supported in the vacuum are three elements, the filament, grid, and plate. When the filament is properly heated and the plate is connected to a source of positive potential, the electrons given off by the filament flow toward the plate. The grid perform sthe valuable function of regulating the electron flow by means of potential control. Like the crystal detector, the tube has rectifying properties so that radio-frequent oscillations are converted into uni-directional pulsations. In addition to its property of detection, the tube possesses the ability to generate and amplify radio currents. In comparison with the crystal as a means of detection, the tube offers the distinct advantages of increased range, intensified signals and stability of adjustment.

Receiving Tuners—The "Honeycomb" Coil

The "honeycomb" coil consists briefly of a multi-layer coil, in compact forms, so designed as to function with low energy losssess. The mechanical arrangement of the windings is such that one layer crossess the preceding layer at an angle which reduces the losses, due to capacity effect, to a minimum.

The coils are constructed in unite with different numbers of turns and by proper selection of unitsss the receiving set is easily adjusted to long or short wave lengths.

These units may be utilized as the primary and secondary windings of their receiving transformer and an extremely flexible regenartive receiver may be developed by an additional coil connected in the plate circuit and located in inductive relation to the secondary winding.

New Market to Be Operated Here

Wichita Falls is to have a new market. The Public Market, a branch of the Public Markets in operation throughout the country, will open its doors for business Saturday morning at 809 Ohio.

The company is one of the largest retail markets in the west and has several stores located in Iowa and Kansas, with the main headquarters of the company at Wichita, Kan.

G. E. Majors, who will be in charge of the local branch, says in selecting Wichita Falls for their new store the company realized the progressiveness of the community and selected this city, in preference to several others.

ENGINES BAD RAIL MEN CLAIM

Declare Rail Travel Is Dangerous

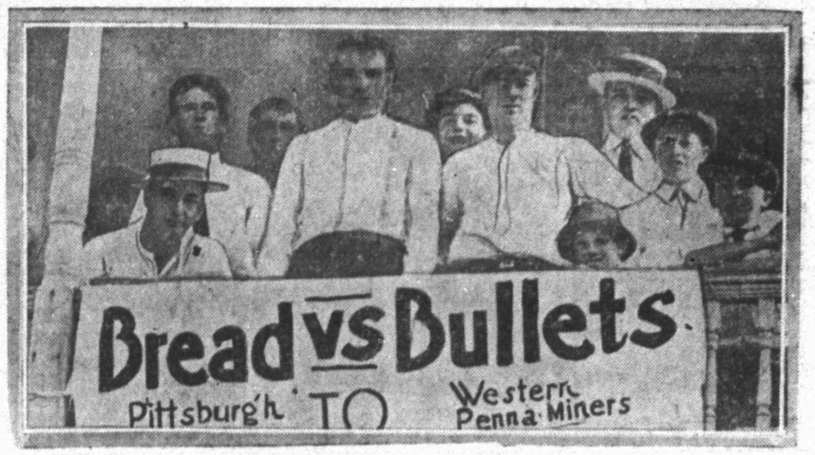

That some of the engines on railroads running out of Wichita Falls are in such condition that it is hazardous to ride on them and that there is hardly an engine in the Wichita Falls division that will stand inspection, was the statement made by an engineer at a joint meeting of the six shop crafts and Big Four brotherhoods in the labor temple Thursday morning at 10 o'clock.

The Big Four members in Wichita Falls met with the striking shopmen to discuss the strike situation and the rolling stock now in use. It was reported by some members of the Big Four that two roads running out of this city are using engines that were not inspected in July. It was stated that the interstate commerce commission inspectors appear to all be on vacations and that it will take an increased force to take care of the work that is now piling up.

While it was not officially stated, individual members of the striking crafts said they would not be surprised to see the same thing happen here that happened in Joliet, Ill., when the Big Four brotherhood walked out because of the condition of rolling stock and other conditions which they claimed endangered their lives.

Local railroad shop strikers do not expect the Big Four to walk out in a body unless some extreme situation develops but think that unless the strike is settled soon that in various localities the Big Four will walk out because of rolling stock condition.

Large and Juicy Alberta Peaches Are Grown Here

An actual demonstration of what irigation will do in Wichita Falls territory was taken to the chamber of commerce Thursday by J. M. McFall. Mr. McFall took several large Alberta peaches raised on a tree at 1623 Tenth street and ripened beautifully. They were very large and juicy, having a delicious flavor.

From the same age and same kind of a tree in the same yard and only a few feet away he took several peaches which were just about one-third as large as the first and were not ripened. The difference was that the tree from which the large peaches had been taken was irrigated and the other was not.

Fruit under irrigation in this section of the country will produce abundantly and mature rapidly, according to all tests that have been made.

LOAD DRIVERS FOR RAIL WORK

Track Laying Will Start Soon

F. N. McCabe, who will have charge of track and bridge work on the Byers-Waurika railroad, is loading pile drivers and track machinery at Jim Jurn and just as soon as it gets on the ground at Byers work will start on track laying, provided the spikes and bolts arrive in time. Capt. H. F. McFarland said Thursday that 22 carloads of rails have arrived in Byers and he expects the spikes and bolts right away, although they have been delayed in shipment.

Material for bridge building has been going forward to Red River and when the pile driver and other equipment arrives the work will be started, it is said, so that by the time the track reaches the river several hundred feet of the bridge will be ready.

A. D. Hanna with a 45-team grading outfit, passed through Wichita Falls Thursday en route to the Oklahoma side of the river where he will start grading on to Waurika. This work will be pushed as rapidly as possible and other teams now at work on this side of the river will be sent to the Oklahoma side as soon as they finish up on the Texas side.

Hico Man Told to Go After Moon

"Reach for the moon, Mister."

And instanly H. G. Conlay of Hico, Texas, shot his arms skyward.

Two hold-up men, each with "bad-looking, big guns," nudged the pistols into Mr. Conlay's sides, while both proceeded to go through his clothing.

The Wichita Falls visitor was relieved of $21.25 in money, a costly watch and other articles. He was held up and robbed at about 10 o'clock Wednesday night, just at the intersection of Twelfth and Ohio streets, while he was en route to the city business districts, according to the information he gave the police.

No trace of the two men, whom he described as being a "tall man neatly dressed, and a short, stubby man, attired in khaki trousers and a blue shirt," has been found by the police, who began an investigation last night when the call reached the station.

The hold-up is the first that has occurred in Wichita Falls in about two months.

Lack of Material Halts Road Work

Completion of the Burkburnett highway project, east of that community where the Potts & Prentice construction company's north mixer is working, was brought temporarily to a halt yesterday afternoon when material ran out.

Much trouble on this particular part of the work has been encountered by the company on receiving material, which setbacks are ascribed mainly to the effects of the rail strike.

It is thought the mixer will possibly get under way soon and that material will be placed on the ground sufficient to complete the short trip hurriedly.

BOY ARRESTED WHEN AUTO DISAPPEARS

Following receipt of information here Wednesday to the effect that Mobile officers are holding a small boy under arrest, R. L. Yates, probation officer for Wichita county, telegraphed the Mobile authorities yesterday telling them the lad has just been released by the Gatesville training school for boys, and warning them to keep watch for a "pardner" who is usually in company with the lad under arrest.

Officer Yates warned them also to keep watch for a stolen automobile, which it is believed the lads have in their possession.

The boy, according to Mr. Yates, was recently released on parole from the state juvenile school.

ANOTHER FORD GONE

Have you seen a 1920 model Ford that looks as if it were not in the hands of its owner?

F. W. Mindenhill notified the local police department yesterday that such a car had been stolen from him and that he has been unable to locate the car.

The Ford was stolen sometime Wednesday night or early Thursday morning.

Freak Advertising Stunt Pulled By Uncle Si for Tex.-Okla. Fair

"Uncle Si, the horse thief" stormed the streets of Wichita Falls yesterday afternoon, dragging behind a well-groomed horse a sorry-looking mule.

We are certain that "Uncle Si" is a horse thief, because he said so himself.

He attempted to sell the mule to numerous pedestrians on the streets, and always told them that he "stole the mule down on Red river."

Once during the afternoon, "Uncle Si" jumped from his horse, grabbed a man, tied a rope around his neck and rushed toward the mule shouting back to a crowd who had gathered:

"I'm going to tie them both together, they look so much alike."

And on the sides of the mule appeared two large placards announcing the Texas-Oklahoma fair, which starts here Sept. 30 to Oct. 4. That explains it all. "Uncle Si" is just a novel character the chamber of commerce has trumped up to advertise the fair, and "Uncle Si" was certainly busy yesterday, especially when it was necessary for him to get off his horse and crank the mule's tail to insure a safe start again.

CHEERFUL VIEW OF RAIL SERVICE

Valley Expects It'll Get Better

Regular freight service on the Wichita valley will be restored 100 per cent normal at an early date, according to an announcement made at railroad headquarters here yesterday.

Reports to the effect that the road will soon put sleepers back on the Valley between Fort Worth and Abilene were not verified here yesterday, although it was asserted that such steps will be taken as soon as conditions justify the action.

Fence Causes Stir In Corporate Court

When the defendant and the complaining witness had explained yesterday morning to Judge John Marrs in corporate court that the whole trouble had arisen over domestic differences, the latter dismissed the case for the time being and informed all parties that the city engineer would be dispatched to the scene to ascertain whether a fence, alleged to be built of barbed wire and to be an obstruction to public passage, was just as the prosecuting witness claimed.

The defendant, an aged man, claimed that he was "being persecuted" because of differences of a personal nature between himself and a man who appeared against him.

Judge Marrs read from the city ordinance, which explains that to construct a barbed wire fence within the city limits, and which crosses a public passage, is a violation of the law.

The aged man claimed his fence is barbed wire, three strans high, but not across a public passage.

Romance Fails When Tried Out in Hotel

It don't pay to seek adventure in any local hotel any more.

A stranger in the city, who claimed that he lives in Belleview and who asserts that he is a physician, got "nailed" by the management of a local hostelry yesterday afternoon, and was soon placed behind steel bars by Officer Bob Miller of the city police department on a charge of disturbing the peace.

Later he gave cash bond of $100 and was realized for an early appearance.

The man, according to the hotel management, came in and made insulting remarks to a lady who was working at the desk. The lady called the manager, who cornered the "physician" until the officer could arrive.

Service Station Robbed Here

While the owners of the place rested in sleep, thieves broke into and robbed the Wichita Service station Wednesday night, at the corner of Third and Ohio, escaping with their loot unmolested.

Four casings and tubes and four automobile coils were taken off of a Ford, according to information given the police department yesterday morning when the robbery was discovered.

The managers of the place have not learned how entrance was effected by the thieves, nor how they left the place with their stolen property.

Convicts Believed to Be Operating

Harrold, Texas, was visited by a band of robbers Wednesday night, according to information received here yesterday by the police department five thieves escaping from the city after they had broken into a number of places.

The postoffice, a garage and store were looted by the men, the report announced, a total of $75 being carried away in money.

Officials in Harrold express the opinion in their communication here that the wholesale robbery was conducted by five escaped convicts, who gained freedom from the penitentiary at Granite late Wednesday afternoon.
