City Council approves lower tax and water rates

Grants, Planning & Zoning Commission among other approvals

After completing several special sessions on the proposed 1994-1995 budget for the City of Winters, the City Council has formally adopted a budget that will result in a 3 cents per hundred dollars of valuation reduction in taxes and 3 cents per thousand gallons reduction in the cost of water. The vote was held during the regular meeting of the Mayor and City Council held on Monday, September 12.

The budget includes a 5% raise for city employees and the same or better level of services, according to Mayor Joe Gerhart. There was a delay in the allocation of funds from the City for a new firetruck, causing a delay in acquisition of the truck until late 1995. The budget was planned during three special budget workshops held over the last few weeks.

A public hearing soliciting comments from the public was held prior to the vote, but there were no comments or questions presented.

In other business, the Council held a public hearing for a Community Development Grant that will be used to fund a new water tower to replace the old south tower near the intersection of Wood and Grant streets. David Todd, consulting engineer from Hibbs & Todd, presented the requirements and justification for applying. The council approved a resolution authorizing and supporting the application for the grant. If approved in the full amount of $250,000, the City's share would be $39,500, which is approximately the cost of repairing the old tower.

The Council also approved a resolution supporting the application for a Central Business District Area (CBDA) grant from the Texas Department of Transportation. Proceeds would be utilized to complement the Main Street Program.

A Planning and Zoning Commission was appointed and approved by the Council. Members will be Celeste Bahlman, Randall Connor, Linda Dry, Mary Ellen Moore, Jerry Sartor, and Larry Suit.

The Council also approved a re-activation of the Texas Department of Transportation airport grant application. City Administrator Aref Hassan reported that

WTU also to lower rates

West Texas Utilities has requested a rate decrease of 3.25%, and the City Council was asked to formally approve the rate request at the September 12th meeting. The approval is a formality, with a final approval resting with the Texas Public Utility Commission.

the Boll Weevil Eradication program could not utilize the Winters Airport in its present condition.

An earlier airport grant to the City was not utilized because of a lack of matching funds. Currently, the amount of matching funds has been reduced to 5 percent (for the City) because of state funds that are now available that were not available at the time of the previous grant approval.

Bond election called for new county jail

To be combined with Nov. 8th General Election

The Runnels County Commissioners' Court has called for a $2.9 million bond election to build a new state-of-the-art county jail. The commissioners also approved combining it with the November 8th general election in an effort to reduce costs of the called bond election. Final approvals were granted at the regular meeting of the county commissioners on Tuesday, September 13.

The bond election was originally considered in a special called meeting on September 6 in Ballinger. The Commissioners' Court's approval comes after public hearings held in Ballinger, Miles, Rowena, and Winters. The hearings were well-attended by law enforcement personnel, county officials, and the proposed contractors, but the general public did not attend in great numbers.

Sheriff Bill Baird has been

BOY WAS THIS MAN'S ARMS TIRED as the Blizzards scored another touchdown on their way to 40 points against Cisco last Friday night. Jerry Esquivel is in the foreground with (L-R) Zane Guy, Presiliano Sanchez, and Cody Whittenburg behind him, as they prepare to celebrate. The Blizzards face another tough test against Coleman this week at 8:00 pm on Blizzard Field.

Blizzards dispose of second state-ranked opponent in a row; beat Cisco 40-0

Playing a tough early schedule was worrisome for the Winters Blizzard football team and fans, but, as it turns out, it may be the best thing that could have happened.

In a 40-to-zip drubbing, the Blizzards completely dominated a Cisco team that was listed as a favorite to win the 8-AA football crown. An overpowering Blizzard running game complimented by an accurate passing game was just too much for the Lobos of Cisco to handle Friday night.

Cisco brought size and experience to the game, averaging 231 pounds across their all-Senior offensive line. Winters countered with speed and execution, and, by the time the halftime shows began, Winters was leading by 21-0. Enroute to 40 points, the Blizzard offense racked up 329 total yards and 20 first downs with only one turnover.

Cisco got no closer to paydirt than the Winters 14-yard line right before the first half ended.

Winters was paced by John Belew's two rushing touchdowns and two touchdown passes. Belew also intercepted a Lobo pass.

Winters opened the scoring with a Belew pass to John Biddix for a 14-yard touchdown. Robert Reed kicked the first of four extra points to make it 7-0 early in the first quarter.

Robert Silva scored from 36 yards out on a fourth and one play in the second quarter to notch Winters' second TD. Belew added another first-half touchdown for the Blizzards with a run over right guard from the 3-yard line. Reed added his second and third extra points after each score.

Cisco threatened right before the half, but Jason Carrillo picked-off a Kevin Hearne (Cisco quarterback) pass at the Winters three to send the teams to the locker room.

On the Blizzards' second series of the second half, Belew threw his second TD pass to Zane Guy from the 25-yard line. The point-after attempt failed. Later in the third quarter, Belew ran 57 yards for his second rushing TD of the ballgame. Reed's fourth extra point made it a 34-point Winters lead.

The exclamation point was added with a one yard plunge by Blizzard Kelly Thompson in the fourth quarter.

The defense slammed the door on any scoring threats Cisco was able to muster, stopping the Lobos three times on fourth down plays in the first half. All of the crucial fourth down plays were in the Winters end of the field, and the shut-out ball played by Winters in the early part of the game prevented the Lobos from using their size advantage to get a lead and grind down the clock.

Penalties and turnovers hurt the ranked Cisco team, but Winters caused many of the mistakes by playing aggressively and executing on offense.

Winters plays its third consecutive home game this Friday at 8:00 pm against a tough Coleman team. The Blizzards will be out of town for three games through the first week in October, so this Friday will be the last chance to enjoy a good Winters team at home for a while. Advance tickets are available at the WISD Administration Office.

OIL BUSINESS

By Reg Boles ©1994

Oil patch scouting is an occupation that has just about disappeared from the landscape.

It could be argued that scouting still goes on via computers and microchips, but in the traditional old-timey oil patch sense, we will never again see the crazy days of sneaky, sly, sometimes renegade oil patch scouting as it was in the early days.

I had the occasion to hear the reminiscing of an old scout the other day over chicken-fried steak and 'taters. In between moments laughing so hard my banana pudding ran down my chin, I learned a few things about how vintage oil scouting worked.

My friend started out as an apprentice to a master scout. This meant he followed him around and watched and learned. He also learned to keep his mouth shut, because there was always the possibility that a rival scout was listening for a clue.

In those days, information on a tight hole was hard to come by honestly, because there were few reporting services (like there are today) and companies were just more secretive. You see, there was more oil left to find than had been discovered, and any tidbit of information could cause a competitor to beat a company to the punch.

There are still secrets today, but there is so much information available that more is found out by mining old records for leads than asking a competitor.

Anyway, a scout's job was to find out everything and anything about a competitor's operation, and management didn't necessarily want to know the methods employed.

My friend tells of the time he and a fellow scout and two hired actors drove up on a major company's secret drilling location (complete with fence and security guards) in west Texas and demanded entry as an "executive from the home office in Houston". The ruse (utilizing a rented limousine, a new suit, and a "high falutin" accent) worked because there was no way to contact the home office in Houston until someone could drive into town (50 miles) and call. The security guard and company man on location were so flabbergasted by this "big executive" that they didn't resist.

The scout and his helpers were able to discern the depth of the well, the target, the latest tests, and the amount of money spent on the well in 25 minutes. By the time the location crew realized they had been had, the scout was in town toasting his victory.

The scouts had almost unlimited spending authority and could get whatever they needed to go after information. The scout I was having lunch with had personally been involved in one-day operations that spent as much as $100,000 for helicopters, aerial photography, and 25 actors and costumes to stage a parade. Yes, a parade.

The parade was marched right through a location to allow a couple of scouts to sneak into a location and count drill pipe (to determine depth) and look at the drilling time record.

Ironically, there was a camaraderie among the rival scouts that allowed for certain exchanges of information. It was a this-for-that type of exchange that required "sufficiently important" information in exchange for the same. If a scout was unhappy with what they heard (as being too unimportant), fisticuffs could ensue.

It was a different time when adventure and risk were real in the oil patch.

Canterbury Villa News by Margie Clough

We are all deeply saddened by the loss of Lola Eubanks, who passed on to her heavenly home Sunday morning, September 11. The staff and residents of Canterbury Villa extend their deepest sympathy to her family. May God bless you all in your hour of need.

We would like to thank Mrs. Willard Renfro for bringing us clothes to be used as needed by our residents. Thank you so much for thinking of us.

Also, we would like to thank Mr. and Mrs. Dick Ayers for donating the beautiful hanging plant for our facility. It is a lovely addition to our living room. We thank you both for being so thoughtful.

September is National Ice Cream Month, and to celebrate an ice cream social was held on Tuesday, Sept. 13. We would like to thank IGA Shoppin' Basket for donating the ice cream and toppings, and Tommy Parks and Patrick Duarte for helping. There was an activity meeting in Abilene that day, and Patrick was good enough to fill in for me at work. The residents really enjoy working with Patrick, and he is such a big help to me. When I need him, he is always there to give of his time and talent.

Our birthday party will be held on Sept. 15 at 3 p.m. Family and friends are encouraged to attend. We have several residents with September birthdays. They are Emma Anderle (8th), Sarilda Boggess (15th), Maria Vasquez (25th), and Allie Gilbreth (26th). Allie will be 102 this year. We wish all of them a very "Happy Birthday".

Kay Russell, our arts and crafts volunteer, will be here toward the end of the month. She is also volunteering at Senior Citizens Nursing Home in Winters. We know their residents will enjoy her as much as we do. Kay is very special to us, and we thank her for being such a giving person.

As always, volunteers are needed and appreciated. Anyone who is interested in volunteering may contact Margie Clough, Activity Director, at 365-2538.

Council, con't

The Council asked the City Administrator to re-activate the application based on the possibility of securing future contracts with the Boll Weevil eradication program as well as other long-term considerations.

A request to swap land on the City Sewer Farm was denied by the Council during the meeting. Ralph Whittenburg had asked the Council to consider a trade for part of his property bordering the City property, but the Aldermen voted to drop the matter amid questions of the equality of the value of the two pieces of property.

Henry Davis was hired as a new city employee after an executive session. He will be employed in the Street Department.

A request by Guys Dirt Contracting for closure of Charles Street (from South Rogers to South Farrar) was withdrawn by the applicant. The Council took no action on the matter.

After routine report approvals and paying of bills, the meeting was adjourned. Council members present included, Manuel Esquivel, Garry Goff, Shirley Hall, David Evans, and Mayor Joe Gerhart.

Bond Election, con't

stressing to everyone that will listen that the current jail is extremely over-crowded and there is very little choice but to build a bigger jail. Sheriff Baird expects that the costs of the jail can at least partially be offset by revenue from housing out-of-county prisoners for a fee.

The facility will house approximately 100 inmates with roughly the same manpower required to monitor 30-40 inmates in the current facility. The existing jail was built in 1925 to hold 22 beds. It is now housing as many as 45 inmates. It is located adjacent to the Runnels County courthouse.

The new facility is proposed to be on a site away from the courthouse to allow expansion if required in the future.

There was some discussion about using an existing building, but the Commissioners decided that would be more costly than constructing a new jail.

Details concerning the bond election and the type of bonds being considered for financing were not available at press time.

Down Memory Lane

Alex Orr Jr., a native, finished Winters High School in 1943. After receiving his degree from Texas University he never returned here to live, but his roots grow deep and his memories remain vivid of his childhood years. Orr was blessed with two sets of grandparents living in Winters. His paternal grandparents came in 1910. His grandfather, Alex Orr, was a cotton and grain broker. His grandmother, Harriette, taught piano.

His maternal grandfather, Wash Nance, was a carpenter. He married Lela Pumphrey, daughter of Lewis Pumphrey who came to this area in 1899 with his brother, William. William bought a section of land west of Winters in a community later named Pumphrey.

Although Orr, father and grandfather, is retired as a senior field manager for Southwestern Life Insurance Company and living in Tyler, he often visits Winters for school reunions. He walks the childhood trails through the sunshine of his memories.

"First, I'll go by Mr. Sims' filling station and pump gasoline up in the globe with the old hand pump, then fill Grandfather Nance's Model T 'convertible' he used as a work truck. I'll stop by the office, if I can get over the tires piled there, stand on tip toe to look at the candy and pick out three cents worth of caramels and a one cent package of Polly Pop.

"I was introduced to this glorious forerunner of Kool-Aid, when eating with the A.T. Jobses, who lived across the street from us. I was there often to visit their sons, B.D. and Benny Ray.

"The next stop will be at the Queen Theatre to see a Buck Jones cowboy movie and Fu Manch'u's serial, two or three times. After the show, I'll visit Main Drug and let cousins Raymon or Ralph fix me a cherry phosphate.

"After that I'll go around the corner and get Uncle Frank Pumphrey to put some new heels on my boots. Then back around the corner for Joe Baker to give me a hair cut. So they don't feel slighted, I'll go to Owen's Drug for an ice cream soda.

"Another pleasant memory of mine is the homemade ice cream at Smith Drug. As you can tell, the eating places were among my favorites."

Orr did not stop with Winters' history but wrote to Dr. Rupert N. Richardson, who during World War I was the adjutant of the army unit at Simmons College. He was inquiring about his Great Uncle Dennis Pumphrey who died in the 1918 flu epidemic while a member of that unit.

Dr. Richardson, a captain at the time, said he was at the sanitarium. "When Dennis was ill, many students came by to visit him." He sent Orr copies of the invoice for the uniform purchase, but Dennis, age 18, died before a uniform was issued to him.

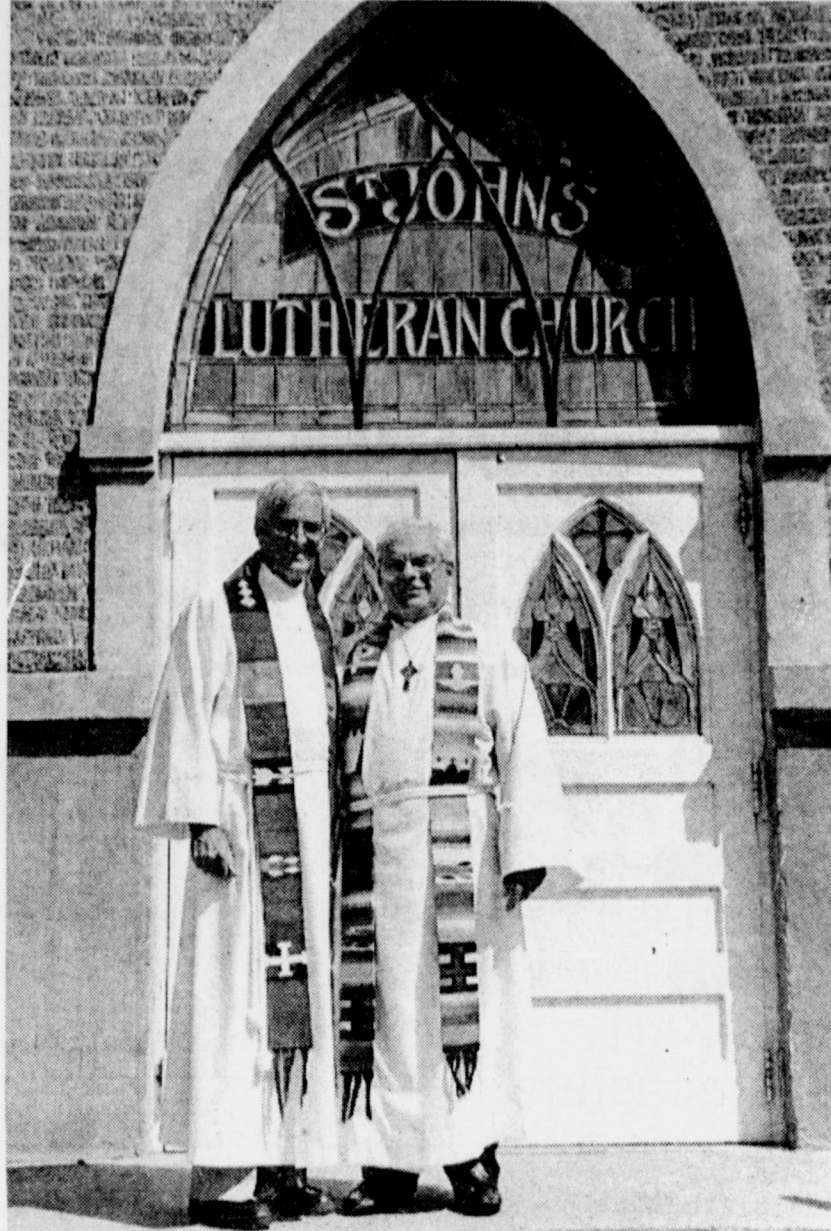

Shortly before Dr. Richardson's death, Orr visited him and asked if he remembered his mother, Jewell Nance, when she was a student there in 1921-22. "He described my mother as if she were standing before him. What an amazing memory! What a great man."

Due to Dr. Richardson's interest in the Comanche Indian, Orr also developed an interest. As a result he took a creative writing course and has written the poem "Comanche" in honor of his mentor.

Orr sends a copy of his poem and gives permission for it to be used in my column.

COMANCHE

The band of Comanches,
The mighty, feared Comanches.
Greatest horsemen in history,
Rode South through Buffalo Gap,
Across the wide valley and
Up to the ridge
Of Moro Mountain.
Their silhouettes moved on
In the soft, before dawn glow
Of the soon rising sun.
In the valley below
Was a ranch house, silent.
Close by the full, horse corral.
Many horses were their goal.
The soul of the Comanche,
The mighty, feared Comanche,
Was shared by brave and horse.
Down the brushy hill they came,
Wild, fierce war cries
Shattered the early day.
At full gallop
They reached the corral.
Thunder met them,
Fired from many guns.
Comanches fell,
Others circled 'round.
Back came the Comanches,
The mighty, feared Comanches.
Again, rifles roared and
Brave warriors died.
This day was lost,
For the Comanches.
The mighty, feared Comanches;
Now, headed North
From whence they came.
Defiant war cries went up;
Giving warning,
They would return.
One night soon,
In the full moon's light
Came the Comanches,
The mighty, feared Comanches.
They did not fail.
Vengeance was theirs.
Taking many horses,
In victory they recaptured souls
Of brave warriors
Who died before.

PASTOR LAWRENCE KEENE (right) was welcomed in celebration of St. John's Lutheran Church's 90th anniversary as a return guest pastor for Sunday Services on September 11 by Pastor James Hanson. Pastor Keene was the fifteenth regular pastor of St. John's and served in Winters from 1979 to 1983. He is presently pastor of Messiah Lutheran Church in Cypress, Texas. His ministry of the day included topics that unite one in Christ. "Returning to Winters is peaceful and I appreciate the warmth of the folks," says Pastor Keene. "A small town allows more time and a one-on-one basis ministry. A larger town is more of an executive style ministry and one must reach individuals through programs and not on a personal level."

Rain really makes a difference.

There we were, the Ladies Aid Circle of St. John's and me, sitting around the table - just starting to fill our faces with food. We had said our table prayer and filled our plates. I heard it first. The sweet, sweet sound of raindrops falling on the steel roof of our education building. I poked one of our members in the ribs and said, "Do you hear that?" She replied, "No. What is it that you hear?" I said, "Rain." She broke into a beautiful smile, immediately, and said, "I'm sure glad."

To make sure that I wasn't hearing things, I looked out the glass doors and sure enough, it was raining. A good rain. Swirls and sheets of rain, filling the streets, cascading off the roof - an answer to prayer. It wasn't long before everybody was smiling - from ear to ear. Big smiles. Happy faces. Our dry and thirsty land was being soaked with rain from heaven.

Nobody was in a hurry. We just sat around the table and ate and talked. The food fed our bodies. The conversation fed our hearts. But, and get this, the rain fed our souls. It truly did. It changed our attitudes on the inside, and our faces on the outside. Nobody said, "I hope it stops soon." We just turned off our clocks and let it rain. And enjoyed every minute of it.

What is it about rain that makes such a difference to us? Most city folks don't feel that way. For them the only weather that is perfect is a sunny day. So that they can get sun tans, or watch the Rangers. There are many times when we were in near drought conditions that some weatherman or weatherwoman would say on T.V. "We have nearly perfect weather conditions for the week end. Clear skies. Sunny and warm." At that point I have often seriously considered throwing a solid lead baseball right at the tube. It angers me that they should be so insensitive to the needs of the earth and the people who live on the land and depend on the land for their living.

I'm not sure, but I think the difference is asphalt. Or concrete. Six inches of the stuff on roadways, and four inches on the sidewalk - are insulation from the earth. That hard stuff on top separates us from the soil. And insulates our soul from the soil. We lose the connection.

And, there is a real connection between our souls and the soil. In Genesis 2 we read an account of the creation of man. "In the day that the Lord God made the earth and the heavens, when no plant of the field was yet in the earth and no herb of the field had yet sprung up - for the Lord God had not caused it to rain upon the earth, and there was no one to till the ground; but a stream would rise from the earth and water the whole face of the ground - then the Lord God formed man from the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and the man became a living being." Bingo. It took water and dust and the breath of God to make man. God so chose.

So, when the land is dry and thirsty, and we live on it - we become dry and thirsty, too. In our souls. When the rains come and give life to the land, the grass and the grain, we are given life too. And, joy enters our soul. And we smile. From within. From deep in the well-spring of our soul.

And, as the mountains celebrate the rain, so do we. As the desert pastures blossom, we blossom too. As the valleys echo with joyful songs, our spirits sing. (Psalm 65). Rain does make a difference. Praise God for the rain!

Directions to Coleman Field

Football fans traveling to Coleman for the first time may find the following information useful.

From Highway 153, you may turn right onto Fifth Avenue. You go approximately 8 blocks (counted from the left), then turn left onto Sixth Street. The football field sets directly in front of you.

As a final reminder, of course, if all else fails: Look for the high stadium lights.

Attention Football Fans

Again, the Winters football schedule has been changed!

Thursday, September 15, the junior varsity will play in Coleman AT 6:00 P.M. The 7th and 8th grade teams play here beginning at 5:30 p.m.

All three teams play at home Thursday, September 22. The 7th and 8th grade and junior varsity teams will play IN WINTERS against Stamford starting at 5:00p.m.

J.V. Blizzards show true blue spirit

Winters Junior Varsity Blizzards fell one point shy of a victory last Thursday against the Cisco Lobos. The final score of the game was 19-20.

"Our kids battled back from an 18-6 halftime deficit and showed a lot of character," said Coach Chris Wilde.

Winters scored touchdown passes from Eric Bernal to Ricky Luz, Shane Lewallen, and Dennis Conner. The point after attempt was made by Jonathan Cobb.

Coach Wilde says, "We keep getting better. Hopefully this week, we can put an entire game together."

The J.V. Blizzards face Coleman in Coleman at 6:00 p.m. Thursday, September 15.

Parent's Night scheduled for September 16

The Winters Athletic Boosters met September 6 in the Blizzard field house.

Parent's Night will be Friday, September 16, at 6:30. Pictures will be taken of each varsity football player, the cheerleaders, and their parents or guardians ONLY. Time is limited so there will be no time for "extra" pictures.

Signs with varsity player's names and numbers have been painted for display in the downtown area.

Blizzard cap sales are doing great. The new tee shirts, bumper stickers, cups, and pompons are available at the home games.

Pizza Hut is the new "Most Spirited Blizzard Booster Business".

A discussion and film of the Blizzard's opening victory over Roscoe followed the business meeting. Coach Byrd was very happy.

Breezes play scrimmages instead of official games; both teams do well

"Where are the helmets?" That was the question asked last Thursday when Cisco came, but couldn't play. They said their helmets came in on Thursday but weren't ready to play. So instead of a ballgame, the opposing teams got to have an intersquad scrimmage.

For the seventh grade Breezes, Winters' own Kirk Byrd got the ball rolling on the first play when he rumbled 68 yards to the 2 yard line. On the next play, Wesley Calcote carried the ball over for the touchdown.

The Green (scrimmage vest) team offense couldn't get on track, but sometimes it wasn't their fault. The Blue defense was a little too eager with 12 men on the field.

On the next possession, Winters ran sweep right and Wesley Calcote carried for a 55-yard touchdown. Felix Portillo caught the 2-point conversion pass from Chris Lujano.

"As short as it was it still did us good and the boys played well for the first time," said Coach Biff White. "I would like to thank the fans for their support and hope to see them at our next game."

Cisco's eighth grade team also decided they were not ready for a true game situation and chose to scrimmage instead. The Breezes managed to get "game action" for only one quarter.

The Blue team got off to a good start. The defense kept Cisco out of the end zone. Fumbles were recovered by Michael Prewit, Eric Tekell, Joe Ortiz, and Barrett Brown.

Three interceptions were crabbled by Winters. Lee Woffenden set up a touchdown with a 50 yard return on his interception while Avel Hicks rounded up 2 interceptions of his own.

"The Breezes executed fairly well and did a good job of controlling the line. We only managed to score once, but with the scrimmage action several opportunities were taken away from us," stated Coach Jim Bob Jacobs.

The Breezes face Coleman in Winters at 5:30 p.m. Thursday.

Winters students will "See You at the Pole" September 21

Winters students will conduct "See You at the Pole" at 7:30 a.m. on September 21.

More than 100,000 Texas high school and junior high school students statewide will pray around their schools' flagpoles Sept. 21 during the fifth annual "See You at the Pole," said Chuck Flowers, youth associate in the Texas Baptist Evangelism Division.

"See You at the Pole" is the world's largest simultaneous prayer meeting launched by Texas Baptists in 1990 to pioneer a way for students to present a visible, bold witness of their faith on their school campuses within the boundaries of the nation's legal system, Flowers said.

Last year more than 2 million students participated in the event in the U.S. and in foreign nations including Russia, Mexico, Canada, England, Germany, Australia and Brazil.

Adults also participated, praying around the flagpoles at city halls and other public locations. "Students will pray Sept. 21 for their fellow students and teachers, asking for God's power over the violence, depression, hopelessness and other problems faced by their classmates," said Flowers.

He said churches should encourage students to participate as a public witness of their belief in God's power and the importance of prayer.

Flowers also noted that under the U.S. Constitution, students are guaranteed the right to pray on campus, alone or with others, so long as it does not disrupt school activities or is not forced on others.

"See You at the Pole" must be student-led, before school hours and outside of any school building, he added.

GED classes to start Oct. 4

GED preparation classes will begin on October 4, 1994, in the Industrial Arts Building on the Winters High School campus. These classes are free for anyone interested in preparing for the GED examination. Charles Wilson, High School Counselor, will teach the classes each Tuesday and Thursday night from 6:30-9:00 p.m. For the program to continue, eight (8) students must be in attendance for each hour of instruction.

If you are interested, please contact Charles Wilson at 754-5516 to register for the class.

THE KISSING GAME added a new twist at the Pep Rally Friday as James Andrae, John Belew, and Kelly Thompson rated individual kisses from the cheerleaders while blindfolded. The last three "cheerleaders" were their mothers.

Homecoming dance Oct. 15 to feature band "Firecreek"

The Winters High School Student Council met Wednesday evening, Sept. 7, at 6:45 to discuss Homecoming plans.

It was reported that Firecreek, a band from Coleman, has been booked for the dance. The dance will be October 15 from 8:00 p.m. to 11:00 p.m. Pictures will be made by Hennington Studio from 7:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. The price for the dance will be $3.00 per single and $5.00 per boy/girl couple. The place for the dance has not yet been decided.

Other plans for Homecoming week include dress theme days, a legs contest, and decorating the cafeteria.

Fandannas and football programs have been selling well at the home football games. The WHS Student Council would like to express their appreciation for your support.

The next Student Council meeting will be September 21.

Winters area gets badly needed rain

Church congregations prayed for it, farmers begged for it, and some work crews didn't want it, but it came.

Substantial rains fell on the area late last week and the previous week causing the area to "green-up" considerably. Official totals inside the city limits were 1.27 inches for two days, but individual reports ranged from 1-1/2 to 2-1/2 inches in Winters. As much as 5-1/2 inches were reported over a two-day period north of town, while a little over 2 inches was reported east of Winters.

Totals were lower west of town with a few farms and ranches reporting no precipitation at all. However, most area communities and farms reported rain in quantities sufficient to encourage even the most pessimistic observers.

Farmers and ranchers are hoping that one more good rain might help the area hay crop get another cutting or get winter wheat a good boost. Homeowners are just glad to be able to go without watering their grass for a while.

In any case, area merchants say a good rain is always good for business. The cooling effect has also helped make the days a little more pleasant.

More rains are possible late this week.

Crews News by Hilda Kurtz

I've been on a diet for a month and the only thing I've lost is 30 days.

The Crews Community Supper held last Saturday night was a success. There were several in attendance and the meeting went very well. Nila and Therin Osborne and Hilda Kurtz were the hosts.

Bill Mathis, president, called the brief business meeting to order. Marqué Mathis, secretary/treasurer, read the minutes from the previous meeting. The gym roof is in need of more repair. The next meeting will be Saturday, October 14, at which time new officers will be elected.

We welcome three new families to our community: Melinda and Scott Amidon; Katherine and Luke Thomas; and Dennis and Audine McBeth and son, Roy.

Our deepest sympathy to the Bill Mathis family due to the death of Marqué's Aunt Koleta Hunt of Denton, formerly of Winters. Memorial services will be held Thursday in Denton. The Mathis family was in Denton for several days.

Carolyn Kraatz carried Harvey Mae Faubion to church services on Sunday and prepared lunch for Noble and Harvey Mae afterwards. Saturday and Sunday visitors were Brian Faubion of Lubbock, Sharon Craft of Abilene, Gladys Cotton of Ballinger, Brad Pape of Ballinger, and Walter Pape of Santa Anna.

Dodie Drake, Brenda and Nickalos Chambliss spent Saturday with Pat and Earl Cooper.

Visiting with Georgia and Connie Gibbs Saturday were Anna Lee and Cowboy Smith of Odessa, Connie and Johnny Happer of Brownwood.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor,

My family and I always look forward to each issue of The Enterprise. Here in Levelland we are busy with school and the current football season. As a coach I watch dedicated young men (and some old men like me) work and sweat while others in town cruise the drag or pursue other interests. These same young men who spend extra hours and lots of extra energy provide the "entertainment" each and every Friday night as the football season progresses.

My point is that these young men give up a lot to play for the local high school and town. Is it too much to ask that we show them we are confident of their abilities by "picking" them to win each week in the football poll? I know my dad, Bill Robinson, would never have picked our team to lose. I know I'd want someone like him on my team.

GO BLIZZARDS! I believe you will beat ROSCOE. There will always be people more interested in winning a football poll than in why the game is played. As a coach to a player, we know why we play!

Sincerely,
Rick Robinson

Judge Michael Murchison proclaims Sept. 17-24 Runnels County Farm and Ranch Safety and Health Week

It's official, Sunday through September 24 has been declared Farm and Ranch Safety and Health Week in Runnels County.

County Judge Michael B. Murchison set forth the annual observance during a ceremony Friday morning at Porter Henderson Implement Company in Ballinger. The week, with the theme "Safety and Health: A Way of Life," was designated at the request of LeRoy Pelzel, Runnels County Farm Bureau president.

This year marks the 51st observance of farm and ranch safety and health week. The observance is co-sponsored by the National Safety Council and the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

According to official proclamation, emphasis this year is on better technology, safe work practices and education as promoted by the governor of Texas.

The theme, "Safety and Health: A Way of Life," has been selected to take special note of issues involving age-appropriate tasks, according to information sent out by the Farm Bureau. Farm and ranch youth are at risk for incidents involving farm equipment, livestock and chemicals and the elderly are at risk for many of the same hazards and represent an increasingly higher proportion of the agricultural population.

In his proclamation, Judge Murchison urged everyone to take the necessary precautions for their own safety as well as the safety of others on and off the job.

"I urge our leaders in agriculture to improve areas of safety and health efforts by example," he stated.

Power of Prayer
by Helen Murchison and Janet Aleman

We want to express our appreciation to Nolan Key for coming to Pioneer Church of God on Sunday, September 11. He spoke to us about the Power of Prayer.

Nolan had a heart attack on July 12. He stayed one hour at North Runnels Hospital and then the Medivac flew him to San Angelo. He had died the first time on the helicopter and two more times when they landed in San Angelo. One of the Medivac attendants prayed with Nolan and Connie.

Word got around Winters and the local churches prayed for Nolan to recover.

Nolan had triple by-pass surgery on July 20. July 21 was his birthday. After the surgery he looked at his wife, Connie, and said, "Do you realize God gave me the greatest gift!" Connie replied, "And God gave me the greatest gift; he gave you back to me!"

Nolan expressed to our congregation that God hears, listens, and answers prayers.

He also expressed to us to tell our loved ones everyday that we love them because we will never know when tragedy or death will happen to someone we love.

We now realize in a deeper sense that there is a time to be born, a time to die, a time to cry, a time to laugh, a time to search, and a time to go give up at last. There is an appointed time for everything that happens in a person's life.

We really enjoyed Nolan speaking to us about the Power of Prayer. Everyone is welcome to come to Pioneer Church of God. Please feel welcome.

Senator Sims challenges opponent on franchise tax revisions

State Senator Bill Sims, D-Paint Rock, challenged his Republican opponent, who wants to repeal the state franchise tax, to devise an alternative method to raise state funds.

Sen. Sims said he supported the franchise tax revisions in 1992 as an alternative to a state income tax and to avoid increases in sales and property taxes. The West Texas senator is running for reelection in District 24 against Hugh Shine of Temple.

Revisions made to the state's franchise tax generated more revenue and spread the tax load more evenly, said Sen. Sims. According to State Comptroller John Sharp, the revised tax collected approximately $1.94 billion in 1992 before refunds. Before the revisions in fiscal 1991, the tax collected less than $900 million before refunds.

More than 70 percent of businesses in the state paid less taxes under the revised franchise tax law, Sen. Sims said. The new franchise tax law reduces the tax rate from $5.25 per $1,000 of taxable capital to $2.50, a substantial reduction that will aid start-up businesses and industries, according to Sen. Sims.

The new law has eliminated the need for 125,000 small corporations to pay or even file a franchise tax return when their tax liability would be less than $100, said Sen. Sims.

"This is a far better system than the old $68 a year minimum that was previously enforced on all corporations," Sen. Sims said.

Shawn Ankrom new editor at Ballinger Ledger

Mr. Shawn Ankrom of Abilene has been named editor of The Ballinger Ledger, according to Jean Boles, general manager.

Ankrom recently separated from the Air Force where he served as a journalist stationed at the Dyess Air Force Base. He was trained as a journalist at the Defense Information School in Indianapolis, Ind., and holds an associate's degree in public relations from the Community College of the Air Force. He spent five years in the military, working as editor and staff writer for three Air Force newspapers in New Mexico, Texas and Germany.

Originally from Uvalde, Ankrom is a graduate of Denton High School in Denton. He has lived in towns of all sizes, but said he and his wife, Sara, are looking forward to life in Ballinger.

"Having served in the military, we lived in cities that claimed they were 'big towns with small town atmosphere,'" Ankrom said. "Well, you can't bottle that small town atmosphere — you have to live it. We are very excited to be a part of the family values and lifestyles of the people in Ballinger and Runnels County."

The Ballinger Ledger is owned by Boles Publishing, Inc., of Winters.

Winters Square Dance Club travels to Colorado

Recently sixteen members of the Winters Square Dance Club attended a week of activities in South Fork, Colorado, at the Fun Valley Resort.

Activities included a scavenger hunt, stickhorse races, a horse-shoe contest (first place trophy won by "Sully" Sullivan), a fishing contest, a miniature golf tournament (first place trophy won by Pat Fenter), a bridge card tournament (first place trophy won by Lee Harrison), and lots of skits. Fun, fellowship, and food were enjoyed by all.

On Wednesday, the group toured a coal mine museum and square danced in the Creede Underground Fire Station. Tim Tyl of Whiteoak and Pat and Jerry Mitchell of Waxahachie called.

Attending were Ed and Frances Bredemeyer, Pybum and Virginia Brown, Jack and Margaret Burton, Pat Fenter, Marvin and Melvena Gerhart, Lee and "Tooter" Harrison, Bill and Ruth Stovall, "Sully" Sullivan, Paul and Lavera Tharp.

Square dance lessons for beginners started September 12 at the Winters Community Center. Free lessons will continue for the next two Mondays. Tracy Dowell calls. Come and join a fun group.

Winters Area Business & Industrial Corporation notes airport runway needs improvement, discusses grant

The Winters Area Business and Industrial Corporation met in regular session September 7, 1994. Members present were Aref Hassan, Nelan Bahlman, Charles Bahlman, Mac Sayles, Larry Suit, Jim Hanson, Tommy Russell, Archie Jobe, Randall Conner, Jim Lincycomb, and Gary Moore.

It was stated that the old Moore Plumbing building and the east Sneed Tractor building have been decided to the City of Winters and are to be torn down. It was questioned if, at a later date, a new industry might be established on this property and the deed obtained by the Industrial Corporation.

The Main Street grant application has been submitted and will take two to three months for notice of (dis)approval.

The Boll Weevil Eradication Program wanted to use the Winters Airport as a base for their planes, but Winters missed the opportunity due to the poor condition of the runway. Ballinger was the next chosen location. Up to one million dollars in federal grants are available for small airports in assisting with the re-building of their runways. Winters would have to match this grant with 5 percent of the monies.

The Chamber of Commerce is discussing entrance signs to Winters and may need help financially.

The hospital is opening a Home Health Care facility in the old KRUN building and there will also be a Lee Medical Supply outlet located in the building.

WAIBC agreed to purchase a ticket from the fire department for a chance to win a bass boat or $15,000 cash in support of the WVFD's fund raising event.

In final business, discussion was heard concerning the placement of billboards at each end of town. This will be discussed at a later date after more information is obtained.

Museum and Rock Hotel Restoration receive monies

A donation to the Z.I. Hale Museum and Rock Hotel Restoration was made by Mary Hope in honor of Harris Miller Hope of Plaistow, N.H.

Memorials were received in honor of L.C. Fuller and Hazel Deitz, contributed by Mr. and Mrs. Ray Alderman.

A gift to the museum was accepted in honor of Jewel Kraatz.

Dispose of waste pesticides while opportunity exists

Pesticide applicators are encouraged to bring old, obsolete, cancelled, banned, suspended, or otherwise unwanted pesticides to a FREE OF CHARGE disposal on Tuesday, September 20, at the Ballinger Municipal Airport. The disposal is sponsored by the Texas Natural Resources Conservation Commission, the Texas Department of Agriculture and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Waste pesticides and any properly rinsed empty pesticide containers will be accepted from 8:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.

The following will be accepted: insecticides; fungicides; rodenticides; nematocides; bactericides; growth regulators; harvest aid chemicals; pesticides used on livestock; all formulations of herbicides, excluding
