THIRD PARTY URGED IN CALIFORNIA

Farm Relief Opponents Win Unexpected Victory In House

FEE PROVISION VOTED OUT OF FARM MEASURE

Vote Taken in Committee Of Whole House Session

ACTION IS UPSET

Supporters are Confident On Final Ballot Thursday

WASHINGTON, May 2. (UP)—Supporters of the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill were taken by surprise today when opponents in the house voted out of the bill the equalization fee provision, the keystone of the measure.

The vote was 141 to 120 to strike it out. Only 261 out of the 443 members voted. This vote was taken in what is technically known as the committee of the whole house and another vote is necessary when the house proper considers the bill. Supporters of the equalization fee are confident of restoring it then.

Bill Supplanted.

In the vote the house technically supplanted the McNary-Haugen bill with the bill of Representative Aswell, Louisiana Democrat, which is similar except that it eliminates the equalization fee. Applause and cheering by opponents of the McNary-Haugen bill greeted the announcement of the vote.

A final vote may be reached Thursday. The senate has passed the bill. President Coolidge is opposed to the equalization fee and vetoed the measure a year ago because of it.

Result Uncertain.

Elimination of the equalization fee so upsets all expectations that house leaders were uncertain what the final result would be. The fact that the vote, while not representing the full membership of the house, was as close as 141 to 120 cheered opponents of the equalization fee and led many of them to hope that in the final vote when this action will be reviewed they can repeat.

If this relatively close division is any indication, the equalization fee provision could not pass the house with the two thirds necessary to pass over a presidential veto as is the case in the senate. On the other hand, the equalization fee has been passed by the house before and it has up to now been regarded as certain to pass again, especially with the senate firmly behind it.

Situation Confused.

Oponents of the equalization fee plan won their first victory when Representative Mapes, Michigan, Republican, in the chair, overruled the point that the Aswell substitute was out of order. They immediately pressed for a vote. Following their victory they began a series of parliamentary maneuvers to confuse the situation.

The bill as it now stands provides for a revolving fund of $400,000,000 to be used by farm cooperatives in buying, storing and marketing crops to stabilize prices. The equalization fee plan would authorize the proposed federal farm loan board to declare surpluses in crops in time of overproduction, buy up and export the surplus at a loss if necessary, and charge back the loss to the growers on a pro-rata basis in the form of an equalization fee.

Archer County Candidate Hurt By Mule's Kick

B. F. Burnett of Archer City, candidate for public office in Archer county, sustained a fractured leg when kicked by a horse while electioneering Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Burnett was brought to Wichita Falls General hospital in an automobile. Physicians failed to find injuries other than the fractured leg. Details of the accident were not given to hospital attendants.

WICHITAN LAND BANK OFFICER

Values Here Going Up, Say Experts

The district convention of the secretary-treasurers of the National Farm Loan association held in Wichita Falls Wednesday closed with J. M. Hendrick of this city being elected vice president, and the temporary offices of Henry Grindstaff of Aspermont, president, and Frank Bunting of Henrietta, secretary, being made permanent.

About 50 secretary-treasurers and 10 officials of the federal land banks at Houston attended the meeting.

The secretaries formally adopted a resolution approving the action of the directors of the federal land bank in the establishment of a new department of conservation and terracing.

A discussion on the trend of land values was led by E. F. Shropshire, chief appraiser of the Houston bank. The discussion indicated that the trend of land values in the Wichita Falls territory to be upward, with a tendency to a stabilization of price, due to farmers of the territory learning what to raise and how to raise it.

A. K. Short, conservation and terracing agent of the bank at Houston, led a discussion on land terracing and conservation. Other subjects of discussion were: "Twenty-Year Amortized Loans," "Liability of Associations in Endorsing Loans," "More Efficient Accounting System," and "Fire Insurance and Legal Problems."

Judge M. H. Gossett, president of the Federal Land Bank of Houston, spoke on the necessary requirements to make a loan safe, placing character first, substantial equity second and unquestionable security third.

Following the close of the convention at 5 o'clock, a tour of the industrial centers of the city was made. The Kraft Cheese factory, the Johnson Poultry ranch, Lake Wichita and nearby irrigated tracts were visited.

Dirigible Italia Leaves On Flight Over Norway

STOLP, Germany, May 3. (Thursday) (UP)—General Nobile in his dirigible "Italia," in which he will attempt a flight to the North Pole, left here at 3:10 a. m., today for Vadsoe, Norway.

It had first been announced the "Italia" would stop at Oslo for refueling and supplies. General Nobile early this morning announced however, that the flight would be made direct to Vadsoe at nearly the extreme tip of Norway, some 1160 miles from here. The distance from Vadsoe to Spitzbergen, where the base for the North Pole flight will be established, is approximately 600 miles.

Following Nobile's change of plans a score of men were rushed to Vadsoe to assist in the refueling.

Stable Worker Shot In Quarrel With Jockey

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 2. (UP) Charles Grundy, 42, worker at the fairgrounds stables here, was shot to death today following a quarrel with S. O. Shelby, 75, who claims to be the oldest riding jockey in the world. The quarrel originated about their horses grazing in the same place. Shelby was taken to jail.

M E. AGAINST COMPANIONATE MARRIAGE IDEA

Episcopal Address Scores "Tolerant" Views Of Wedlock

IMMORALITY CHARGE

Pittsburgh Bishop Faces Conference On Two Accusals

KANSAS CITY, May 2. (UP)—Fundamentalist attempts to attack modernism, the scoring of companionate marriage and obscene shows in the episcopal address, and a plea for a progressive program in religion by William M. Jardine, secretary of agriculture, stood out in today's program of the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church.

Addressing the rural work department of the general conference this afternoon, Secretary Jardine pointed out that "if religion is to play a vital part in our rural civilization, it must adopt a progressive program for the countryside.

"The country is traditionally the seat of religious life. Religion has the opportunity today to make a vital contribution to a virile American rural culture."

Outlook Good.

Commenting upon the depression in agriculture, Jardine said "the outlook for agriculture today is better on the whole than at any other time in the past seven years."

A petition asking an investigation of church schools and colleges for their alleged modernistic teachings was introduced by Dr. Harold, P. Sloan of Haddonfield, N. Y., chairman of the New Jersey Methodist conference. The petition, aimed against tolerant views on the divinity of Christ, was referred to a standing committee, thus frustrating the fundamentalists' attempt to place the issue before the conference.

Companionate Marriage.

The episcopal address contained condemnation of companionate marriage, a denunciation of debasing literature and the alleged obscene tendency of the theater, a firm stand for prohibition, a definite charge to pastors to bring their indifferent church members back into the church or drop them from membership, and a plea for greater Chrisian unity.

The address, which is to the general conference what the president's message is to congress, was read by Bishop Luther B. Wilson of New York, who was forced to retire because of fatigue. Bishop Ernest G. Richardson, Atlanta, Ga., secretary of the board of bishops, continued the reading.

Bishop Francis J. McConnell of Pittsburgh, Pa., has been charged with maladministration and immorality by the Rev. George A. Cooke, Wilmington, Del., it was learned today. The charges were filed with the general secretary of the Methodist Episcopal conference April 18, 1927.

Immorality Charge.

An immorality charge was made, based on the alleged indorsement of the theory of evolution, by Bishop McConnell in a pamphlet of the American Civil Liberties union in January, 1927.

The maladministration charges consisted of alleged arbitrary dismissal of cases filed against the Rev. P. P. Truitt, charged with marrying another woman after divorcing his wife, and the Rev. R. W. Janes charged with marrying a divorcee. The cases were started against the two ministers by the Rev. Cooke.

Bishop Anton Bast, Danish divine who is seeking reinstatement either as a bishop or minister, was in a secluded hotel here today, preparing his case which will be brought before a court of justice, composed of bishops. He was alleged to have appropriated funds intended for charity and missionary purposes for his personal use.

Bishop Bast said today that statements made in this country about him either has been colored or were untruthful.

FLYING MEDALS AWARDED TRIO

Bremen Crew Honored At Washington

WASHINGTON, May 2. (US)—The doughty crew of the good plane Bremen returned to Washington to receive the official homage of a friendly nation for their daring westward conquest of the broad and jealous Atlantic.

From early morning until late at night, these monarchs of the air—the trim baron with his monocle, the square-set and good-natured Captain Koehl and the smiling Fitzmaurice—were feted and dined and lionized with all the pageantry and formality that Uncle Sam accords to visiting royalty.

Crowning the day's program of official entertainment was the presentation to each of them by President Coolidge of the distinguished flying cross, the official American decoration for outstanding achievements in the air.

It was a typical governmental reception, dignified and reserved, with a touch of martial splendor to give it color. There was none of the wild acclaim and noisy tumult that marked their reception on Monday by the teeming millions of New Ybrk.

The award of the flying crosses took place on the south lawn of the White House with only President Coolidge and his staff, the German ambassador, Baron Von Pritowitz, and the Irish minister, Timothy Smiddy, and a host of reporters and photographers in attendance. The presentation was brief but impressive. True to his tradition, President Coolidge maintained complete silence during the ceremony, failing to utter a single word.

Wichitan Named On Merchant Ass'n Board

LAREDO, May 2. (AP)—A. M. Goldstein of Waco was elected president of the Texas Retail Dry Goods Merchants association at the closing session of their two-day convention here Wednesday.

New members of the board named included Jack C. Bernard of Wichita Falls and R. D. Kirk of Amarillo.

Diver Aids in Search For Ranger Lake Victims

GALVESTON, May 2. (AP)—Captain R. L. Hurley, Galveston diver, left last night for Ranger, Texas, with full diving equipment. He will attempt to recover the bodies of J. L. Thompson and Luke Lawton, who were drowned in a lake near Eastland while fishing yesterday.

Aviator Dies of Burns When Plane Blazes

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, May 2. (INS)—Cadet Irwin Best, whose home is in Fremont, N. C., was fatally burned at Brooks field here today when the De Haviland plane in which he was making a solo flight, burst into flames.

STRAW VOTERS PILE UP LEAD FOR AL SMITH

Democratic Candidates Increases Lead In Local Vote

VOTERS MIXED

Wets and Drys Add Force to Race Of New Yorker

More people, and a greater percentage of the whole, Wednesday flocked to the standard of Al Smith in The Record News presidential straw vote. Governor Smith appeared to be drawing his support equally from "wets" and voters with long standing prohibition records who see in the New York governor the democratic party's best chance to win.

A total of 857 votes have been cast for democrats and republicans combined, and Smith has 362 of these. He was just 61 short of having half of the combined total.

Walsh Poor Second.

Senator Walsh was a rank second place candidate with only 51 votes while Reed was third with 40. Dan Moody, who had been in second place Tuesday night, dropped to fourth place in the standing with a total of 32.

Governor Vic Donahey of Ohio, not in the running the first day, drew 16 votes to jump into fifth place.

R. E. Shepherd, former mayor of Wichita Falls, drew a single vote as did Jim Watson and Will Rogers.

Herbert Hoover continued to lead the republican votes by a big margin. His total jumped from 114 to 266. Dawes continued to hold second place, his total being 32. Governor Lowden is still third with 12.

The vote to date follows:

DEMOCRATS.	Tuesday	Wed.	Total
Al Smith	136	226	382
Senator Walsh	20	31	51
Senator Reed	12	28	40
Dan Moody	24	8	32
Governor Donahey	0	16	16
Governor George	0	8	8
Governor Ritchie	4	3	7
Jesse Jones	4	1	5
McAdoo	2	2	4
Cordell Hull	1	1	2

Norris	0	2	2
Hughes	0	2	2
Total	128	197	325
Grand total	333	324	857

If you have not voted, do so at once. Just clip out the coupon, put an x after the name of your favored candidate, and send it to The Record News. If you don't see the name of the man you want for president, write in the name of your favorite.

Dark horses sometimes win when they are not expected to do so. Many have written in the names of Moody and McAdoo.

One of the features of the day was the coming to life of friends of Governor Vic Donahey of Ohio. One man said of him: "He is a democrat who has thrice been governor of the republican state of Ohio, and he can be governor there just as long as he wishes. He is a protestant. He is a dry. He is a conservative, and he is one of the best business men you ever met."

Charles Evans Hughes, bewhiskered republican, who talked himself out of the presidency in California when running against Wilson, received two votes. These were his first.

Nagie Sleeps Soundly in Jail Cell Awaiting Outcome of Slaying Probe

Jack Nagie, debonair East Texan accused of the murder of Theodore Zimmerman, Lee street storekeeper, slept soundly, unconcernedly in the county jail Wednesday night, indifferently awaiting the disposition of his case by a special grand jury Friday.

If Nagie is worrying over the outcome of the jury investigation and the subsequent trial for murder, he does not show it. He calmly bides the result of the investigation and the verdict of a jury.

What hope for leniency he may have is based on the frankness which he has shown since his arrest at his home in Corrigan Tuesday morning.

Nagie is not confined to a solitary cell, but with a number of other prisoners roams about the jail, talking freely to his fellows. Like those others he reads and talks and tells jokes. He has not been seen writing letters, jailers said.

The grand jury which Friday will investigate the evidence against Nagie was called Wednesday morning by Judge W. W. Cook, judge of the 78th district court. Members of the district attorney's office said Wednesday that they would seek as early a trial setting as is possible.

Nagie has declared that he will enter a plea of guilty. Thursday or Friday, he said, he expects relatives here from Polk county, who will arrange for his defense counsel.

Nagie was arrested at Corrigan by Sheriff Bralley, Mr. Allred, Sam Spence, assistant district attorney, and Warren Belcher, deputy sheriff.

End in Sight For Oil Bond Investigation

WASHINGTON, May 2. (AP)—The end of the trail of the liberty bond profits of the Continental Trading company of Canada was brought appreciably nearer today with the conclusion of the questioning of Harry F. Sinclair by the senate Teapot Dome committee.

Before he was excused after a day and a half on the stand, the much-prosecuted lessee of the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve in Wyoming was directed to furnish the committee a copy of his letter transmitting to the Sinclair Crude Purchasing company the $757,000 of profits he took out of the Continental transaction.

Billion Dollar Decrease In Nation's Debt Shown

WASHINGTON, May 2. (AP)—A decrease of $1,094,000,000 in the debt of the United States during the last year was shown today by treasury figures as of April 30.

SMITH FACES FAVORITE SONS

Nomination Conceded By All But Reed

WASHINGTON, May 2. (UP)—It is a long hard grade from the sidewalks of New York to the Golden Gate but Gov. Alfred E. Smith has made it with such success that politicians here, except those intimately identified with some of the other democratic candidates, expect him to be nominated at the Houston convention.

It is not conceded, however, that he will be nominated by acclamation as some of his supporters here predict. Favorite son candidates from states in which anti-Smith sentiment is strong, are expected for the most part to remain formally in the race although they have definitely shifted their hopes from the presidential nomination to that for vice-president. Most of these expect their delegations to give them a complimentary vote on the first ballot at least.

Reed Still Fights.

Headquarters of Senator James A. Reed of Missouri refused however, to concede Smith's nomination. They said the fight will go on to the end. Some of Reed's friends thought many wet republicans voted in the Democratic primary in California and that this accounted for Smiths' majority over both Reed and Senator Walsh of Montana.

Hoover Unopposed.

There was less significance in the vote for Secretary Hoover as he had no opposition. But politicians regarded it as a demonstration of strength that he should get more than 500,000 votes out of a registration of about a million and a half with no contest to stir up interest.

The California primary result brings the delegate totals up to the following:

Republicans—545 necessary to nominate.

Herbert Hooer, 297; Frank O. Lowden, 191; Charles Curtis, 47; George Norris, 27; William E. Borah, 11.

Democrats — 734 necessary to nominate.

Alfred E. Smith, 504; James A. Reed, 36; Gilbert N. Hitchcock, 16; Atlee Pomerene, 48; Walter F. George, 28; W. A. Ayres, 20.

These figures include only delegates undisputed. Claims on behalf of various candidates would run them higher.

REED MANAGER ASKS DANIELS FOR OPINION

Legette Declares "Best Element "Not For Smith

DANIELS NEGATIVE

"Solid Party" Only Hope, North Carolina Demo Answers

LOS ANGELES, May 2. (AP)—Wilbur Legette, state campaign manager for Senator James A. Reed, today made the suggestion of placing an independent ticket in the field in the event Governor Alfred E. Smith is nominated at the democratic national convention in June.

He telegraphed Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy under President Wilson, asking the former cabinet member if he would make the race for the vice president on a ticket headed by Senator Reed or Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, republican, should either of the latter agree.

"Majority vote in southern California against Smith shows that best element of democratic party is not for Smith," Legette telegraphed Mr. Daniels. "We do not believe southern democracy will swallow Tammany hall, do you?"

California will send 30 delegates with 26 votes to Houston bound to vote for Smith. The fact that Reed was second choice was an additional blow to the McAdoo forces as those advocating the nomination of Walsh were known. William G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, and a candidate for the presidential nomination of his party four years ago, was known to be the "power" behind the Walsh organization and headed the Walsh list of delegates.

The result means that if Mr. McAdoo goes to the Houston convention he must go as an observer and not as a delegate.

DANIELS DECLINES "NOMINATION."

RALEIGH, N. C., May 2. (AP)—Declaring that the only hope of wresting the government from the hands of "privilege and corruption," lies in a victory for the democratic party, Josephus Daniels, late today telegraphed Wilbur Legette, California manager for Senator James A. Reed, that he would not accept a nomination on a third party ticket if Governor Smith is nominated at Houston.

JONES REITERATES FOR UNINSTRUCTION.

WASHINGTON, May 2. (AP)—Jesse H. Jones, of Houston, Texas, tonight reiterated his desire that the Texas delegation at the democratic national convention be "uninstructed as to candidates," but "pledged to strict enforcement of all prohibition laws."

There has been a persistent movement among the Texas forces opposed to the candidacy of Governor Smith of New York, to have the state's forty votes pledged to Jones.

DAN SEES TEXAS AGAINST SMITH

HOUSTON, May 2. (AP)—Governor Dan Moody was accorded a demonstration by an audience or about 4000 here Wednesday night when he said: "If Al Smith is nominated for president, the state of Texas is not going to be responsible for his nomination, in my judgmeant."

Texans Charged With Kidnaping

LOS ANGELES, Calif., May 2. (AP) George Henry Celey and Ruby Celey, said to be his wife, both of Amarillo, Texas, were indicted by the grand jury here today on a charge of child stealing in connection with the theft of his 4-year-old daughter, Lois, from the home of Celey's divorced wife, Mrs. Edna Celey Townsend of Los Angeles. Bond was set at $1000 each.

The district attorney said today that the couple would be extradited to California. He declared Celey coaxed the child from in front of its home on March 20 to take an automobile ride, which ended in Amarillo five days later.

Short Sprint With Dripping Jug Ruled "Legal" Transportation By Court

Nick Schenck's Archer County Case Is Included In Five Liquor Charge Reversals

AUSTIN, May 2. (AP)—Liquor is not being transported in the legal sense if it is being poured from a fruit jar while a man is running from officers, the court of criminal appeals held Wednesday in one of five liquor cases reversed and remanded for new trials.

Lee Murphey, Crosby county, was the man doing the running, testimony showed in his appeal from a one-year liquor transportation sentence. He and a friend named Thedford were out in a maize patch on the Lemly farm near Crosbyton, partaking of some fruit jar liquor cached in a shock of maize. Officers bore down upon them and they both sprinted, Murphey pouring out his portion as he ran 25 or 30 steps. This was not actual transporting and Murphey is entitled to a new trial under that form of indictment, the appeals court ruled.

The court reversed the one and one-half year liquor transporting conviction of William (Bill) Patterson, Hopkins county, because the trial judge defined transporting in his charge to the jury as "taking liquor from one place to another regardless of the distance." The court held the proper definition to be "from one place, locality, or country to another." Patterson testified to having found some liquor a short distance up a branch from where three boys were hunting jack rabbits. They took a drink with him and one of them testified that he rode off horseback with the liquor. He testified he dropped it in the water nearby out of their sight.

The case in which James Jackson of Hall county was sentenced to one year for possession of liquor for sale was reversed and remanded because the state did not prove the liquor was either "spirituous, maltous or vinous," or was "potable," that is drinkable. It was referred to in the trial as "home brew."

Failure of the trial judge to charge the jury on circumstantial evidence, cause reversal of the one-year transporting sentence of J. D. Scarbrough, Camp county. Officers testified Scarbrough threw some bottles away as they followed him up the Cotton Belt railroad track, that the odor of whiskey was on his clothes when they arrested him later, and that they later found three bottles of whiskey by the tracks. This evidence was purely circumstantial and the defendant was entitled to a charge on circumstantial evidence to the jury, the court held.

The court reversed the Nick Schenck liquor case from Archer county on finding that officers searched a hen house near his residence on a warrant based only on "information and belief," which the court has held previously to be insufficient. Schenck was sentenced to one year on a charge of possessing liquor for sale. Some half-gallon fruit jars of liquor were found, officers testified.

The sentence of Nick Schenk, which the court of appeals reversed Wednesday, was one of a year given him in Archer county about 10 months ago, according to E. F. Fruechte, assistant district attorney.

In a trial here last week Schenk was given a similar sentence on liquor charges following his arrest by Sheriff W. G. Bralley. During the trial here Schenk's wife testified that officers searched the premises without exhibiting a warrant or other authority to do so. A verdict of guilty was returned, however.

Schenk's attorneys immediately made motion for a new trial on the grounds that evidence used by the state in the conviction had been obtained without proper search warrants. The motion was denied. Attorneys for Schenk signified that they would appeal the case.

'READY TO GO,' SAYS REEVES

Jail Break Costs Man Right To New Trial

"I'm ready to go," declared Claude Reeves Wednesday night. "Me too," chimed in Manuel Bridges.

Reeves' cryptic statement was made after he learned Wednesday afternoon that the court of appeals had dismissed his appeal for a new trial. The court previously had granted him a new trial, but reversed its action after Reeves had taken part in a jail break here on March 28.

Reeves will leave the county jail for the state penitentiary to begin serving a sentence of seven and one half years as soon as the state mandate ordering transfer reaches here, officers said.

Reeves was convicted on a burglary charge here several months ago and give a 5-year suspended sentence. He later was tried and convicted of conspiracy to commit a felony and given a sentence of two and one half years. Upon his second conviction the suspension was set aside.

He appealed from the second decision and the court of appeals ruled that he was due a new trial on the grounds that evidence to convict had been insufficient.

Meanwhile, Reeves, together with seven other prisoners, broke from the county jail. Ben Allred, district attorney, asked that the court set aside its order for a new trial. Mr. Allred's motion was granted Wednesday.

Manuel Bridges is in the county jail awaiting transfer to the state penitentiary, where he is sentenced to serve six years.

Conoco Boosts Yield In Coleman County Wells

COLEMAN, May 2.—Fifty barrels new production from old wells have been started into storage tanks within Coleman county during the past week.

From the Continental Oil company-M. G. Cheney No. 1 Gardner, three miles south of Coleman in the B. Ferguson survey, No. 748, which has been producing naturally for two months, 15 barrels new production has been produced since placing the well on the pump. Gauges now show the well to be making around 55 barrels daily.

In another Continental Oil company-M. G. Cheney well, the No. C-1 Overall, eight miles southwest of Coleman, tubing has been run after coring the sand at 1610 feet further and the well is said to be flowing through the tubing at the rate of 50 barrels daily.

Bralley Leaves for Memphis

Sheriff W. G. Bralley left Wednesday afternoon for Memphis, Tenn., to return Joe Wilkins here to face a charge of murder in connection with the slaying of Everett Horn at a local rooming house last June. Wilkins, arrested on information furnished Memphis officers by Sheriff Bralley, failed to answer a trial last fall and his bond of $5000 was declared forfeited. Search for him began immediately after the trial was called.

New Water Mains.

The city water department has started work laying 500 feet of new water lines to serve new homes in the block west of Holliday street on Miller, according to announcements made Wednesday by Dr. A. H. Douglass, manager of the water department. This work is in accordance with a recent order of the council.

Father and Son Hike.

Boy Scouts of Wichita Falls will hold their Father and Son hike Sunday afternoon, according to Frank B. Creighton, scout executive. The boys with their fathers will meet at Weeks park at 2:30 o'clock. Games will be played, sons versus fathers, after which supper will be served.

NEW TENNIS COURTS.

As tennis season nears, C. C. Bunnenberg, parks superintendent, is ready for the fans with a new kind of a tennis court floor.

This floor is the development of Dr. A. D. Browne of the George Peabody college for teachers at Nashville, Tenn., and is said to have all the necessary qualities of being wear and water proof in addition to costing about one-fifth as much as a concrete court. It is made of crushed rock, asphalt, oil and sawdust.

Railroad Visitors

J. G. Hatcher, traveling freight and passenger agent for the Chicago, Milwaukee and Pacific Railway company, was in Wichita Falls Wednesday on business. Mr. Hatcher's headquarters are at Dallas.

J. V. Kennedy of Kansas City, Mo., was in Wichita Falls Wednesday on business. Mr. Kennedy is traveling freight agent for the Pere Marquette lines.

Sorey to Oklahoma City.

T. L. Sorey, architect, who has been manager of the local office of the firm of Sorey and Vahlberg, has announced that he is moving to Oklahoma City to join his partner there. The main office of the firm is in Oklahoma City.

Poor Record.

A record which is expected to stand for a long time was established in Wichita Falls Tuesday and Wednesday when not a single permit for new construction or repair work was asked or granted at the office of W. E. McBroom, city clerk. While the permit business has been light for several weeks, it is breaking records when it comes to an absolute standstill, office attaches declare.

Girl to Have Part in Daring Human Fly Stunt Atop Local Hotel

Dare Devil Rowland of Cleveland, Ohio, known as the "Human Fly," will climb the Holt hotel Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock and again at 7:30 Thursday evening.

Mr. Rowland is brought to Wichita Falls under the auspices of the Pat Carrigan post of the American Legion, which is now conducting a membership campaign and is hoped will stimulate the securing of new members.

The "human fly," who has been defying death in a similar manner for 13 years, will first appear on top of the Holt hotel and will feature Miss Billie Parrish, the only woman stunt performer in the work today, who will ride on the shoulders of the daredevil while he walks on the ledge of the building blindfolded. Numerous other death-defying and daring stunts will be done by Mr. Rowland at the time, including one in which he balances on two swaying chairs, one on the other, and then stands on his head on the top chair.

Lions and Optimists Crowd Program With Entertainment at Joint Meet

Lions and Optimists joined in their weekly luncheon Wednesday, abandoned business for a fellowship meeting, and enjoyed an entertainment program. President James V. Allred of the Optimist club presided.

George D. Fairtrace, city manager, was introduced by Roy Carter, city councilman, as his guest. It was Mr. Fairtrace's first time with the two organizations.

Bert King and Bill Davenport made political speeches after President Allred had announced the taking in the meeting of a presidential straw vote for The Record News.

Leo Underwood played his cornet in accompanying the community singing which was led by Joel MacGregor. Mrs. J. S. Pitman sang "My Man." She was accompanied on the piano by her husband. Louis Bond, district champion in senior boys' declamation contests of the Texas Interscholastic league, recited the piece which won honors. E. O. Albert was in charge of the entertainment part of the meeting.

Dr. R. H. Graham made a short talk of friendship in which he expressed the friendship of the Lions club for the Optimists. Sam McCarty, state worker of the American Legion, asked the support of business men in the legion's membership drive.

B. D. Sartin, M. E. Wolff and A. F. White were named by President Allred of the Optimists to select delegates to the national convention of Optimists in Asheville in June. E. K. Barber was named major at the same time.

William Fitch, organizer for Optimist International, is due in town next week, and announcement was made he would like all local Optimists who have friends in towns west of here which are likely prospects for an Optimist club be at the meeting.

T. R. Glass was named on the program committee to assist E. O. Albert.

Watland Sees Heavy Trade From Tourists

"A close study of general conditions throughout the country shows that the summer of this year is going to see a tremendous movement of people all across the country on vacations, or on trips which will decide where new homes will be located, says A. R. Watland, manager of the J. C. Penney company store.

"There are more than 22,000,000 motor cars in use. The sales of the early months of this year have witnessed new records. It is safe to say that the total number of miles which will be covered by motorists every week, from the opening up of spring touring, will be 2,200,000. This is a stupendous figure which gives some idea of what store keepers in every city and town throughout the country may expect in the way of casual customers.

"There are good roads leading everywhere. Automobile licenses from the most distant states will be seen in this city and in every other city in the country during the next few months.

"The owners of the cars will be stopping at local hotels or in local camp grounds. They will want supplies, clothing, food stuffs, amusements. Two dollars per day per car will mean $44,000,000 a day which these motorists will spend for things other than oil and gasoline.

"The money which the local merchant will get out of this enormous amount will be dependent upon the appearance he makes through his store. The amount which will come to each town and city depends upon how attractive that town makes itself to the motorist."

KERR SETTLEMENT TODAY

Final disposition of the accounts of A. F. Kerr, for many years district clerk, is expected Thursday at a special meeting of the county commissioners court. Although all papers in the settlement were presented to the commissioners Monday at the regular meeting, the matter was deferred until Thursday morning when it was found that L. L. Kuntz of Iowa Park would be unable to attend the afternoon session.

RITES TODAY FOR L. W. ALLEN

Death Claims Wichitan At Denison

Funeral services for Louis W. Allen, 43, a resident of Wichita Falls for the past 20 years, who died in the Katy hospital at Denison Wednesday morning, will be held at 3:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon from the First Christian church with the Rev. Floyd A. Bash officiating. Burial will be in Riverside.

Masonic services will be held at the grave. All Master Masons are requested to meet at the Masonic temple, Tenth street and Scott avenue, at 2:30 o'clock, from where they will go in a body to the church.

Mr. Allen, who has been ill for some time and had been in the hospital since early March, was a member of the Knights Templar, the Knights of Pythias and the First Christian church. He was a machinist for the M. K. & T. railroad.

He is survived by his wife, one son, Walter Allen; a daughter, Miss Fern Young; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Allen; a sister, Mrs. C. V. Derden, and two brothers, James A. Allen of Childress and J. W. Allen of Denver, Colo.

Music Festival Reset for May 18

Legionaires moved back the date of the Spring Music Festival from May 11 to May 18 at a meeting of the Pat Carrigan post Wednesday night in the American Legion room in the new memorial auditorium. W. E. George, post commander, presided.

The change in date was made to allow more time for a better presentation and a bigger celebration, it was announced.

C. F. Elliott, division freight and passenger agent of the Southern Pacific railway, made a speech on the railroads' part in the coming national convention of the legion in San Antonio. He said a cut railroad rate probably will be in effect.

The dedication of the memorial auditorium, May 27, and of the statues given by the United Spanish War Veterans and the American Legion, was discussed.

Officer Captures Man After Chase in Auto

J. C. Crenshaw Wednesday night was lodged in in the county jail to await return to Big Spring, where he is wanted on a felony warrant. Crenshaw, who slipped out of the back door of a house here when Dick Morris, deputy sheriff, appeared at the front door, was pursued by Mr. Morris in an automobile and captured after a short chase.

The arrest was made after the sheriff's department Wednesday recelevd a telegram from Frank House, Big Spring sheriff, asking them to search for the boy here. Nature of the charges against Crenshaw were not revealed in Sheriff House's telegram.

Which of These Men Do You Feel Like After Eating

Gordon's will put your stomach in condition so that the digestive organs will function naturally. It will quickly tone up your appetite and you can enjoyingly satisfy that appetite. You can eat anything you like, and all you want, without any distressing after-effects.

ARE you one of those fortunate people who can partake of a hearty or even moderate meal without some after-feeling of distress?

Can you eat what you like or do you have to avoid certain foods because they disagree with you?

Do you have that hard, uncomfortable feeling in your stomach, or that miserable tired or sleepy feeling after eating?

Do Not Suffer Needlessly

Thousands have found relief through this remedy called Gordon's, the remarkable discovery of G. M. Gordon, for whom it is named. So effective has it proven in hundreds of seemingly hopeless cases, that he received $80,000 for the rights to the secret process of compounding.

Why Gordon's Stops Stomach Trouble Quickly

Gordon's stops fermentation (souring of food matter) in the stomach and bowels. It exercises an antiseptic effect, dissolves the excess acid, absorbs the gas that is present, and prevents more forming. It drives the poisons out. It soothes and heals the irritated or inflamed condition of the stomach—the delicate membrane lining—made raw by excess acid.

Indigestion Ended

A spoonful of Gordon's after meals will bring quick relief in cases of indigestion, dyspepsia, gas, bloating, heartburn, excess acid, bad breath, sick headache, bowel-troubles (constipation and diarrhea), and nervousness, when caused by faulty digestion.

Make This Test Today

Go to or phone your druggist for a bottle of Gordon's. Take a dose after each meal and before retiring. See how much better you will sleep and how refreshed and vigorous you are when you get up in the morning.

If, after taking one bottle of Gordon's, you do not feel that the benefits you have received are worth many times its cost, your druggist will cheerfully refund your money.

If you prefer, cut out this ad and mail with 15 cents, in coin or stamps, to G. M. Gordon Drug Co., Dallas, Texas, and receive in return a two days' trial treatment.

100 ASSEMBLE IN CLUB MEET

Wichitans On Program At Iowa Park

Special to The Record News.

IOWA PARK, Texas, May 2.—Nearly 100 women attended the meeting of the Federated society, an organization composed of the societies of the various churches of the town, which was held at the First Baptist church Monday afternoon.

The president, Mrs. Noel Troutman, presided over the meeting, and Mrs. J. E. Keller led the devotional service.

Reports from the treasurer and from the various societies were given. Then Mrs. S. A. Baxter, chairman of the program committee, took charge and an excellent program was rendered.

Juanita and Ferron Kildow played a clarinet and trombone solo, "Whispering Hope," with Mrs. R. L. Redin at the piano.

Miss Loraine Mathis of Wichita Falls played a violin solo, with her mother, Mrs. J. C. Mathis, as accompanist.

A. C. Golden, Miss Dosia Smith, Mrs. Glen N. Neafus and Dr. Neafus made up a quartet that sang "Come Unto Me."

The most important number on the program was a playlet entitled, "The Clinic of the Missionary Special," which was a clever take-off of a number of prominent women in the various societies. Those taking part in the play were Mesdames M. B. Cain, Carter, J. W. Penn, Hattie Christopher, R. R. Brubaker, C. M. Dodson, Williams, Taylor George and C. W. Kemper.

Iowa Park Delegates Attend Wichita Meet

IOWA PARK, Texas, May 2.—A number from the Methodist church attended the district conference at Floral Heights Methodist church Tuesday. Those who went as delegates from the local church were: John Maier, J. C. Murphree and Mesdames J. A. Bevill, C. W. Coppick, A. B. Bishop and A. S. Morris. Mrs. M. L. Hines, district secretary of the Woman's Missionary society, also attended the conference as an ex-officio member of the conference. She made an address, reviewing the work for the past year in the society, and looking forward for 1928.

Mrs. Hines and T. J. Pace were elected as delegates to the annual conference, which meets next fall.

Dorothy Dix Advice To Women—A Daily Feature

Middle-Aged Boredom Often Due To Youthful Lack of 'Chumminess'

What Is the Solution for Bored Middle-Aged Couples?—How Can a Young Man Escape From a Girl Who Is Out to Get Him?—Cure for a Nagging Mother.

Dear Miss Dix—I am a prosperous business man with four grown children, all well settled in the world. My wife and I seem to be drifting apart, not that there is any tangible feature on either side, but now that the first fires of youth have subsided it seems that we have nothing in common. She does not like the things I like. She does not like to go out an evening or to dance, and when we do go she sits up stiff and self-conscious and will not go halfway to meet people. As a girl she was a good musician, but she has never touched the piano since we have been married. I used to sing and look forward to music in my home, but we never have any.

I love my home but we spend our evenings engrossed in books and papers and the radio. My wife and I talk but little to each other, because talk seems to lead to contentious arguments. I find my pleasure in business and suppose there is nothing for it but just to let matters drift, waiting for time to release one or the other.

—MIDWAY.

Answer: Once upon a time a fortune-teller told me cynically that when middle-aged men and women came to him to divine the future for them, he always told them that they would soon be left widows or widowers and that this prophecy almost invariably cheered them up.

I hope this is not true, for nothing can be more horrible than to think of husbands and wives living together in boredom so complete that they would welcome even death to put an end to it. Marriage that started out so filled with rosy hopes of joy and companionship, reduced to nothing but an endurance contest in which the only hope of happiness for either one consists in outliving the other! Terrible!

Yet how often this happens we can judge by the number of widows and widowers we see who are miraculously rejuvenated by the loss of the partners of their bosoms. Under the domestic tyranny under which they languished, perhaps unknown even to their dearest friend, they were drab, dull, dejected, shabby. Freed from marital oppression, they blossomed forth in glad raiment, gay, jolly and full of pep.

The picture that you paint of your life, Mr. Man, is a very common one in many homes, and it is the great American tragedy. If you could roll up the shades on many a living-room window, you would see a middle-aged man and woman reading or listening to the radio in a silence dull and cold and depressing. Not five feet away from each other in body, but millions of miles away in soul. Each afraid to speak for fear of starting something.

Yet these two people once loved. They were once companionable. They have worked together and suffered together. They have all their experiences and memories in common. How does it happen that they lose touch, that they part and go their different ways?

Perhaps the answer is that when they were young they did not realize the importance of cultivating companionship, of being chums as well as husband and wife.

Sometimes this is the wife's fault. She won't play with her husband. She won't take the trouble to dress up and go out with him. She won't make an effort to be friends with his friends and to enter into amusements. She won't play for him or sing for him if he loves music. She won't play cards with him if he likes games. She won't listen to him when he talks about his business.

Sometimes it is the man's fault. He is too tired to take his wife to any place of amusement in the evenings. He won't go to parties with her. He never talks at home, and when his wife tries to tell him he is as unresponsive as a graven image.

But however it is, the husband and wife drift apart. Their evenings at home are dull and silent, and they only brighten up and get chatty when an outsider drops in. They miss all of the joyous companionship that husbands and wives have who are pals, and that is the best thing that marriage can bring to any couple.

Perhaps when husbands and wives have ceased to appeal to each other, they cannot revive a dead interest, but their example should be a terrible warning to all young married couples and make them cultivate each other's companionship, so that they may not be bored when they are middle-aged.

—DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Dorothy Dix—I am a young man, 21 years of age. I have been going with a girl for nearly two years and she worships me. I like her, but am not in any shape to marry now and wouldn't marry the king's daughter because I am too young, and because I have seen too much of this young married life among my associates, most of whom are sorry they did it.

But this girl has given me several hints of late about our future and has told a friend that she was going to get me, so what can I do? It doesn't do any good to talk against it, for she just won't listen.

—A PERPLEXED YOUTH.

Answer—Your only hope is in flight. Beat it while the going is good. Take it from me that if this girl has made up her mind to get you, she will do it if you are anywhere within reach.

It will be in vain for you to plead your youth. She will tell you that youth is the time of love and romance, and that, anyway, that is an objection which time will remove. Nor will it do any good for you to represent to her that you are poor and have not money enough to support a family. She will argue with you that two can live cheaper than one, and that she is willing to live upon bread and cheese and kisses, and the first thing you know you will be buying a wedding ring on the installment plan. And you will be paying for it the balance of your life.

Nor will it avail you to try to freeze her out and refuse to go to see her, or to call her up on the telephone. The will hunt you up and persecute you over the phone, trying to make dates and wanting to know why you didn't come to see her last week, and when will you come, until finally you will give in through sheer exhaustion. And if you tell her firmly and emphatically that you can never be hers, she will weep on your breast and by the time you get through drying her tears it will be over with you except sending out the wedding invitations.

Believe me, son, no man is foxy enough to outwit a girl who has made up her mind to have him. If he keeps around in her vicinity, she will snare him sure, no matter how much he watches out. His only salvation is flight.

It is a case where absence of a body is better than presence of mind. He may be able to outsprint her, but he can never outgeneral her.—DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Miss Dix—I have the best husband in the world and one darling child, and I would be perfectly happy except for my mother. She lives with us and spends her time abusing my husband to me. She nags about our paying rent instead of having a home of our own and calls my husband a sap for carrying heavy life insurance. She says that I have no right to have a child, as otherwise I could go out and work and earn money. She keeps me upset all the time. Would you break loose and tell your mother to "cut it out," or would you let her rave on, as she seems to get so much enjoyment out of abusing my poor absent hubby, who is so good to her?

—WORRIED WIFE.

Answer—I would certainly tell her that I considered that she was lacking in even elemental decency to be disloyal to the bread she ate, and that as long as she lived under my husband's roof I should expect her to treat him with respect. You are not giving your husband a fair deal when you permit your mother to abuse your husband to you, and you are certainly foolish to let a disgruntled old woman ruin your home life.

Of course, it seems disrespectful for you to call your mother down, but when old people act as if they were spoiled children they have to be treated like spoiled children.

—DOROTHY DIX.

Henry Helgerson, popular sophomore president, won the J. Wilkie Talbert extemporaneous speaking contest Wednesday morning.

Six contestants participated in the finals held Wednesday morning before the student body. They had won the semi-finals from a field of 41 contestants. Lawrence Bash took second place and Howard Martin third. Others who took part in the contest were Vernon Jones, W. A. Johnson, James E. Prothro and Homer Lee.

Judges were Raymond Myers, Ralph Pittman and Shields Heyser. The J. Wilkie Talbert medal will be presented to Helgerson as a part of the commencement exercises.

WRITERS CLUB

Writers club members will hold a picnic Thursday afternoon starting from the Junior college building at 5:30 p. m.

ANNUALS READY SOON

Delivery will be made in five or six days of the 1928 Coyote, according to an anouncement by John Emmett Lyle, editor-in-chief. The books are at present off the press and lack only the backs. Each person may take his annual on showing his receipt for a complete payment.

SENATE PROGRAM

"America's Best Friend in Europe" was the subject of the opening talk at the meeting of the "senate" Tuesday night and was made by Alexander Cameron. Ralph King spoke on "The Most Pressing Need in the United States." "How We Can Improve Our Senate" was told by John Warmuth. William Warren expressed "My Choice for President." "My Favorite Senator" was the subject of a speech by Raymond Strong.

WAI-KUN BENEFIT

Two more events will assure the success of the 1928 Wai-Kun if properly put over, says R. O. Jonas, faculty business sponsor, and Paul Hill, business manager. One of these will be held Saturday as a rummage sale. The other will be Tuesday morning in assembly, the annual "Mock Majestic." Estal Parham is directing the vaudeville acts which are well under way for the performance. Curtis (Lefty) Watson, a well known athlete and entertainer, will play the stellar role in the "Majestic" line-up.

MODISH MITZI — PLOTTING TO SAVE THE SITUATION — By Jay V. Jay

Marie notices that Mitzi responds to the Goofer's telephoned invitation to luncheon very enthusiastically. Perhaps Mitzi is really going to be kind to the Goofer. We want to explain here that the thoughtful expression on Mitzi's face is due to the fact that this polka dotted dress belongs to an ensemble and—

Mitzi decides to change into another costume—a separate coat and dress. The Goofer, over the hors d'oeuvres, tells Mitzi that something must be done about Marie to divert her attention. Can't they find another outlet for her sentimental nature than that which they provide. It's getting embarrassing.

The Goofer showed Mitzi the letter (Anonymous) that he traced to Marie, and Mitzi showed the Goofer the Anonymous letter she had received. "Wouldn't it have been funny if we'd taken them seriously?" said Mitzi. The Goofer, not knowing how to reply remarks that he loves bows on the shoulder.

They formed a plan—nearly a plot. The Goofer is to ask his young nephew to visit him from a military academy. They throw them together—and the rest is simple.

Now that's settled—notice the jig jag satin finishing on the cuffs and around the collar of Mitzi's coat. The simpler the collar the better—this season.

Tom Connally To Give Address At Olney Saturday

Special to The Record News.

OLNEY, Texas, May 2.—Congressman Tom Connally of Marlin, Texas, will speak in the Municipal auditorium here Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Tom Connally has been congressman from the Waco district for the past 12 years and is now a candidate for the United States senate.

Connally will speak in Throckmorton at the home coming celebration on Friday, May 4, coming to Olney from there for his engagement here the following day. He will speak in Graham Saturday evening at 8 o'clock.

Robbery Trial Witness Charged With Perjury

FORT WORTH, Texas, May 2. (INS)—Court was interrupted here today in the trial of Elmer Watkins on a charge of perjury, while the state filed a charge of perjury against Mrs. Nina Mae Dixon, 16. Mrs. Dixon is the wife of Ora Lee Dixon, also charged with robbery in the same case.

The state charged the woman committed perjury in testifying today in connection with events surrounding the robbery. She was an unwilling state witness and testified under protest.

Nicaraguan Occupation Defended by Kellogg

NEW YORK, May 2. (UP)—Secretary of State Kellogg has filed an affidavit in federal court defending the occupation of Nicaragua by United States marines.

His statement is part of the government's defense in a suit brought by the All-American Anti-Imperialist league to restrain the postmaster general and postmaster of New York from prohibiting the use of the league's protests stamps on letters.

TYLER TAX LEVY REFUTED BY STATE SUPREME COURT

AUSTIN, May 2. (AP)—Legality of the bulk of the 1926 tax levies of the city of Tyler is clouded in an opinion Wednesday by the supreme court. The court upheld Miss Meta Rowland's contention—and the decision of the district court—that the method used by the Tyler equalization board was incorrect and placed too high a valuation on her property.

Indian Band to Appear in Historic Annual Pageant at Vernon Saturday

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, May 2.—Many new attractions are to be featured this year at the 45th annual Doans picnic, which will be held in the Watts grove, 20 miles north of Vernon, Saturday. In addition to the candidates' speeches which are always a feature of the occasion on election years, the pageant "The Empire of Eccapasahonicutt" (Red river), will be staged shortly after noon, with old-timers taking the principal roles.

The pageant depicts the march of civilization for the past 50 years in Wilbarger county. Beginning with the appearance of Chief Baldwin Parker and his band of warriors of the Comanche tribe with tribal dances, the various periods in the history of the county are to be depicted. The coming of the buffalo hunters, headed by H. C. Justin of Vernon, once a buffalo hunter on the prairies of West Texas, will be one feature. A chuck wagon and a number of cowboys will be presented. Men and women in costumes of the eighties will go to a ball on horseback and in covered wagons, and will dance the old-time square dance. The pioneer minister of the gospel and the doctor in horse and buggy will pass by. Ex-service men of the Spanish and world wars will have a prominent place in the pageant.

Candidates will speak in the forenoon and afternoon.

TINTEX tints the silk- lace remains WHITE

. . . of course you use Tintex in the Gray Box for tinting and dyeing all materials. But have you tried Tintex in the Blue Box, made especially for your lace-trimmed silks? The results are almost magical.

. . . just imagine!—it tints the silk beautifully but has no effect on the lace. This means that your faded lace-trimmed silk "undies," negligees, etc., can be restored to the same color and daintiness they had the very day you bought them.

. . . and another thing you'll like about Tintex in the Blue Box—its wonderful simplicity. "Tint as you rinse" tells the whole story of its use. Comes in the loveliest pastel shades, too. See them on the Tintex Color Card at your dealer's. It shows them on actual samples of silk.

HOUSE-WORK TIRED HER

Finds Aid in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Plymouth, Wis.—"I am one of the women taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and am proud to say it is good. I was so run-down that I didn't feel like doing anything and my mother told me to try the Vegetable Compound and I did. It did me good. I do my housework and also do all my garden work and I have a three-year-old girl to look after. I have told quite a few others to try the Vegetable Compound and I am willing to answer letters about it."—Mrs. Ed. Behr, R. 4, Plymouth, Wisconsin.

How Expectant Mothers Prepare for Baby's Coming

Instructive Book FREE

Mother's Friend is a comfort to expectant mothers. Externally applied, it relieves prenatal distress by relaxing tight tissues and muscles. And it is so soothing. Its daily use makes the skin soft and pliable.

Three generations of mothers have praised Mother's Friend. "I think it is worth its weight in gold," writes Mrs. Lelah Mabe, Lawsonville, N. C. "My baby was born without hardly any pain and it was all due to Mother's Friend."

CITY VOTES ON GAS FRANCHISE

Grandfield Election To Be Held May 29

Special to The Record News.

GRANDFIELD, Okla., May 2.—The voters of this city will be asked to grant to C. O. Moore of Stamford, Texas, on the 29th of May, a gas franchise. Acting upon Mr. Moore's proposition, the city commissioners have outlined a copy of a franchise that meets with the city's approval.

City Attorney Miles Hamilton appeared Wednesday before the state corporation commission and procured a permit for Moore to do business in this state in the event the voters are favorable.

The city commissioners asked that Mr. Moore place $1250 as a guarantee that he will be ready to distribute gas here by September 1. The money was forthcoming immediately and the next move is up to the city.

Mr. Moore is connected with the Stamford and Western company at Stamford, Texas, and has arranged to tap one of the Upham gas mains on the south side of Red river.

The city officials and Mr. Moore have been in contact for several weeks, and when Mr. Moore accepted the proposition made by local officials, an election was called, together with the necessary franchise proposition.

Too Much ACID

Many people, two hours after eating, suffer indigestion as they call it. It is usually excess acid. Correct it with an alkali. The best way, the quick, harmless and efficient way, is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained for 50 years the standard with physicians. One spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in stomach acids, and at once. The symptoms disappear in five minutes.

You will never use crude methods when you know this better method. And you will never suffer from excess acid when you prove out this easy relief. Please do that—for your own sake—now.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.—Adv.

Houston Visitor Honor Guest At Lovely Spring Luncheon Wednesday

Complimenting Mrs. Robert F. Campbell of Houston, who is the guest of her mother, Mrs. E. B. Carver and her sister, Mrs. Merrill Blair, Mesdames C E McCutchen and Horrace Robbins entertained a group of the intimate friends of the honoree at a lovely spring luncheon at the home of Mrs. McCutchen on Tenth street Wednesday.

Table decorations were carried out in orchid and pink, the spring flowers placed in low silver bowls, with the spring idea carried out by silver birds placed among the flowers.

Mrs. Campbell was presented with a bottle of imported perfume, the gift of the hostess.

Guests were Mesdames Campbell, R. O. Harvey, W. N. Maer, Tariton Morrow, Walter Robbins, Carter McGregor, Fred Weeks, W. E. Maxson, Harry Weeks, Claire Gannon, Buford Long, Bobby Burns, Everett Jones, Earl Clayton, Monty Staniforth, Fay Woodruff, Harry Baum, A. H. Carrigan, Billy Staniforth, Merrill Blair, Carver, G. B. Smedley and the hostesses.

ANOTHER Wichita Falls musician has achieved a distinction or rather, I should say she has achieved a new distinction. She is Mrs. J. S. Pitman, well known in the city, who has been asked to broadcast each week-end from station WFAA, Dallas. Mrs. Pitman sang from that station last week making a decided hit with her voice as well as with her clever reading.

Bob Pool who is in charge of the station, has offered Mrs. Pitman a contract for each week-end, but the latter has not yet made a decision concerning the offer. She was accompanied by Mr. Pitman in her selections.

On the same program, Dr. Bob Graham spoke on "Lionism" and a quartet made up of H. W. Gray, Joel MacGregor, E. F. Bohmfalk and F. M. Hansen, accompanied on the piano by Mr. Pitman, also gave selections.

DO YOU do the Black Bottom? Have you learned the Varsity Drag? If you haven't, then don't for a Paris physician says those two dances as well as the less recent Charleston, are ruinous and has begun to criticise the strenuous steps not from a moral standpoint, but from the physical.

This physician maintains that they have added another ill to the human family—the "Charleston knee."

He writes that examination of several cases has proved that the violent strain these dances imposed upon certain ligaments might almost cause them to be tabulated as "dangerous sports." The knee, he says is especially liable to injury in these strenuous performances, principally because they make demands on the knee for which it was intended from a mechanical standpoint. Certain modern dances demand attempts to bend it sideways and thus create serious risks of dislocations and sprains.

That for the strenuous dances from the viewpoint of the Paris physician, but we still cast a vote as to their worth in keeping limbered and reduced to the correct amount of avoirdupois.

HOW many of you know that a bluebonnet is not a bluebonnet? The botanical name for the bluebonnet is really centaurea cyanus, while the lupine (which is really the state flower for Texas, is known to science as trifolium reflexum.)

Here is the case as stated by Mrs. J. S. Dunlap of Dallas who has long been interested in the lupine as the state flower. She maintains that the state is using the correct flower for emblem, but is using the incorrect name. In other words, the flower generally known as bluebonnet is not a bluebonnet, but a lupine.

By the way, how would you pronounce "lupine"?

FUMIGATION is still used, we are told, not because health and health officers think it necessary at all, but because the public insists upon it.

The newest word in cleanliness and sanitation, is soap and water, for while a disease germ may dislike formaldehyde, he positively detests soap, water, fresh air and sunlight, too.

THIS divorce of Dolores del Rio from her literary husband has an aspect of familiarity. Dolores says they are seeking separation because each may pursue his career better untrammeled. That's that, but when one paper states that the trouble started only when Dolores moved over the border from Mexico and gained fame as an actress almost over night, it is getting pretty near the seat of the trouble.

Jaime del Rio having been the head of his household in Mexico could hardly come to America and be known merely as the husband of Dolores del Rio, without resenting that fact to the extent of giving up his job.

Study Clubs Have Lovely Luncheon Events Wednesday

Two of the study clubs held luncheons Wednesday, the Pieria club celebrating with its annual luncheon at the Wichita club while the Coterie club honored a departing member, Mrs. A. R. Bleakley at the Womans Forum with a pretty springtime luncheon.

The Wichita club was prettily decorated in a color scheme of pink and white, which colors were also carried out in the table decorations. Large baskets of pink roses and tall lighted candles of pink and white formed the motif. Place cards were also in pink and white.

Numbers on the program included a piano solo by Mrs. Edwin Bebb; a toast to the club by Mrs. Bebb, retiring president with a response given by Mrs. A. C. Dulaney, incoming president; the presentation of a gift from the club to Mrs. Bebb, by Mrs. J. E. H. Railey; a violin solo by Mrs. J. E. Hall, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Bebb. Mrs. J. G. Oakley had charge of the program. The program was concluded with installation of officers with Mrs. James C. Berney, life member, in charge.

Those present included the following members: Mesdames Bebb, Timothy N. Colligan, Ralph De-Shong, Dulaney, Allan B. Duncan, Otho Gorsline, J. E. Hall, Joseph D. Hall, Charles Moore, Oakley, Berney, Jones, J. M. Elliott, W. D. Bratton, W. G. Windsor Jr., Railey, Clayton M. Richardson, Lowell A. DeLee, and Miss Clara Schulz.

Mrs. A. R. Bleakley who is leaving soon to make her home in Dallas was honor guest at a luncheon given at the Womans Forum by the Coterie club. The tables were attractively decorated with spring flowers to follow a color scheme of green and gold, club colors.

Mrs. C. D. Shamburger presented the honor guest with a lovely gift from the club to which Mrs. Bleakley responded graciously. All members of the club gave informal toasts to the departing member.

Members present were: Mesdames E. B. Bailey, E. P. Bass, Bleakley, C. W. Boller, C. P. Burton, Arch Collins, Hubert M. Harrison, J. H. Martin, J. H. Massle, J. C. Mytinger and Shamburger.

Besides fishing and his dog, Ray likes to be assistant to Daddy in his insurance business. He undergoes all the efforts of an assistant and has more interest than is usually displayed by a helper in business for he goes about it seriously.

W. Ray Irwin Jr., is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Irwin, 1202 Holliday street. He is five years old and has one brother, considerably older. Though he doesn't look it, W. Ray is a blond young man. How do you like his tie?

Mrs. Davis Gives Report of Trip At Camp Fire Meet

The Camp Fire Guardians association met at local headquarters Tuesday evening. Mrs. R. E. Davis, president, gave a report of the trip to Fort Worth and Dallas made by Miss Mary McIlheran, Mrs. A. A. Brackett, and Mrs. Davis. Miss McIlheran attended sessions of the district recreation conference which which met Thursday, Friday and Saturday, in company with Edith Crump and Lucile Godwin, executive and president of guardians' association at Monroe, La.

Reports from various towns and cities showed co-operation between Camp Fire Girls and playground work.

Mrs. A. A. Brackett was appointed as chairman of the arrangements committee to take care of the monthly luncheons of the executive board of the local council, which meets at the local headquarters the second Tuesday of each month. A set of dishes has been added to headquarters equipment.

Plans were made for the preparation of box lunches to be prepared by the Camp Fire Girls for the Kiwanis zero jubilee, June 18. The boxes will be beautifully decorated by members. Perkins-Timberlake and J. C. Penney company are donating the boxes for the occasion. The money realized from the project will be applied to the debt on the cases for the local headquarters.

Plans were discussed for summer park work as begun last year. Camp Fire Girls' day in the parks will be observed in different parks and a special summer honor will be outlined as last year. Guardians who will be away for the summer are urged to see that their groups are provided with a guardian in their absence.

A special library honor will be worked out with Miss Lucrezia Powell, librarian, which will stimulate reading of books along helpful lines during the summer. Guardians may plan to take their groups to the library where they will receive instruction as to the use of the card index system and make a survey as to books which they may use in Camp Fire.

Girls council will hold a Gypsy hike Saturday. Every group should be represented. Details may be learned from Edith McClure, president of the council.

The date of summer camp has been definitely set for May 30 to June 13.

Those attending the meeting were Mrs. R. E. Davis, A. A. Brackett, J. C. Mathis, Miss Ethel Parker, Miss Anna Barnhill, A. W. Ayers, and Miss Mary McIlheran.

Pot Shots at Politics by Col. Hugh Nugent Fitzgerald

HIS CUSTOM

Senator Archie Parr, the king of Duval, slipped into the capital city and then slipped out. Senator Parr is not a political boss. He scorns the imputation. He declares himself a regular Democrat. He is willing to take all the pledges of party loyalty, harmony and all other brands of Democrats may be able to invent and then stand hitched without taking a pledge. He has a presidential choice, but the nominee of the Houston convention will be his choice. He let his friends know this on his recent visit to the capital city. He has a great admiration for the New York governor; he admires the Missouri senator; he thinks highly of the governor of Maryland. He will head a delegation from the lower country to the Beaumont convention. It is his custom to head a delegation from the lower country to the state convention of his party. He promises not to overlook the date this year.

MOLE-WORKING

A postal card to the writer asks this question, "Where is Tom Love? He isn't making speeches. He isn't writing communications to the Dallas News. What's he doing?" It is no trouble to answer questions. Tom Love is working. Tom Love is in the land of the living. Tom Love was trained in the land of gumshoe politicians. His teacher was William J. Stone of Missouri, who in his life time was a governor, a senator, a chairman of the national committee of his party and one of the most adroit politicians the West or the Southwest has known. It was said of Stone by a political critic that he could suck eggs, hide the shells and get away with it. Love has his typewriters clicking; he has his typists busy. He is sending out instructions to the faithful in all the precincts of Texas to marshal their forces for active work on May 5. Love talks when it is time to talk. He mole-works when the tactics of the mole worker in politics are necessary. Just now the mole workers are on guard. This for the talkative side of the democracy of Texas who appear to be of the opinion that talk is all that is necessary to win victory. It isn't. The practical politician who brings the precinct delegates to the county convention is the gentleman who has the last laugh.

DARK DAYS

When days are dark and stormy,
And Old Man Gloom's about;
When silver lining in the clouds
Refuses to come out,
Just hit the ball, and buckle down;
It doesn't pay to shirk.
You'll find that joy is just a part
Of good, hard work.

Try smiling; it won't hurt you.
Just grin a great big grin.
Think of the luck that's goin' to be,
Not of the luck that's been.
You're not the only one that's down.
Some other's fate is worse.
So just laugh off the funeral face,
And come down off that hearse!

One-Minute Sermon

Arise O Lord; O God, lift up thine hand: forget not the humble.
Wherefore doth the wicked contemn God? he hath said in his heart, Thou wilt not require it.

Thou has seen it; for thou beholdest mischief and spite, to requite it with thy hand: the poor committeth himself unto thee; thou are the helper of the fatherless.—Psalms, x, 12-14.

Double Victory for Cities

TEXAS' municipalities won a double victory in the supreme court when that tribunal sustained the statute giving preference to paving liens and also held that paving liens are superior to existing or mortgaged liens. The decision applies to non-homestead property, and the question arose as to whether a lien for paving assessment fixed in accordance with statute was superior to an existing vendor's or mortgage lien on non-homestead property.

Trial and appellate court held the paving lien inferior to existing or mortgage liens. The supreme court reverses it. Article 1090, which provides for the superior lien for paving, was attacked as not providing for notice to other lien holders. This contention was overruled and the law upheld.

Machine Loses In Cleveland

CLEVELAND is a very progressive American city. It adopted the city management plan of municipal government several years ago. This plan never did appeal to the practical politicians or their henchmen. They fought its adoption in the first place and they have been planning to overthrow the system or discard it ever since. Their last attempt was made at the polls this month. They were defeated.

It is said the national league of women voters played an important part in the campaign that led to the disastrous defeat of the champions of the spoils system in municipal government. Where did the women throw their influence and their ballot? For the retention of the plan.

According to Ohio newspapers the women voters of Cleveland are thoroughly organized. They never shirk responsibility. They do not fear the old time boss. They have no love for the practical politicians who look upon politics as a profit making game. This is as it should be.

Dr. Mark Does Bit of Prophecy

DR. MARK SULLIVAN, political writer and political prophet lets it be known that the political oppenents of Herbert Hoover in the state of Indiana, headed by Foxy Jim Watson, are going to do their utmost "to prevent Indiana from registering the same kind of result as Ohio."

Now the doctor is strong for Hoover. He is a Hoover partisan first, last and all the time. This is the verdict of the prophet in advance: "If they can hold Indiana away from Hoover, they will have a chance to stop him. Hoover has in so near to enough delegates to make a majority that the question of whether he will have an actual majority might readily hang on the 33 delegates from Indiana."

Indiana has a queer primary election law. It's entire 33 delegates are elected as a unit, and must vote as a unit. If Watson carries Indiana, then the Hoover stoppers may be in a position to block the nomination of the Californian.

If Hoover carries Indiana then the Californian may have votes enough in sight to give him the nomination at Kansas City on the second ballot. This is the verdict of the doctor and there are many practical politicians the country over in harmony with the viewpoint of the doctor "if" Indiana should land its 33 delegates on the Hoover side of the presidential nominating fence.

Cleaning Up the Fields

ARTHUR BRISBANE is said to be the highest salaried newspaper writer in the world. He is of and for the Hearst organization. This is his latest, "Secretary Hoover and Governor Smith are cleaning up the political field."

There is a difference, however. All that Hoover will require to bring about his nomination, that is if he is to be nominated, will be a majority vote of the delegates to the Kansas City convention.

As for Smith, if he is to win the nomination, he must get two-thirds of all the delegates elected to attend the convention.

More than 30 years ago Democrats of Texas discarded the two-thirds nominating rule and substituted for it the majority rule, and then they nominated Charles A. Culberson as their standard bearer for governor.

John H. Reagan and S. W. T. Lanham were rival contenders. Culberson had a majority of the delegates. He did not have two-thirds. His lieutenants forced the adoption of the majority rule. They nominated Culberson and he was elected.

He served two terms and then he served four terms in the senate of the United States and became one of the most powerful leaders of the democracy at the capital.

Yes, there is a vast difference between a majority nomination and the two-thirds nominating rule which was invented 96 years ago and this, too, for a purpose.

The fact that Paris divorces are becoming more difficult to obtain ought not to discourage Americans. The home made article is still cheap and plentiful.

SLAVERY IN MODERN WORLD

It is almost incredible that in this year of 1928 there should still be 5,000,000 or more human beings existing in abject slavery in various parts of the world. Yet such is the case, according to a report of a slavery commission organized under the auspices of the League of Nations.

Slavery is found, it is said, in nearly a score of countries, and is especially prevalent in Abyssinia, China, Hedjaz, Liberia and other African states.

—Temple (Okla.) Tribune.

IF WILSON HAD BEEN A REPUBLICAN

In the Kellogg treaties against war, as in President Harding's proposal to organize an "association of nations," we have another proposition for this country to do independently virtually what already has been done, or is being done, more effectively by the league of nations, which came into being at a call from a president of the Uinted States, and which was joined by 56 nations—all of any consequence except Turkey, Soviet Russia and the United States, the last named being kept out by partisan politics at home. If Woodrow Wilson had happened to be a Republican president, in all probability the United States would now be an honored leader in and be contributing greater strength to the League of Nations whose altruistic aim is the preservation of world peace.

HEALTH and DIET ADVICE

By DR. FRANK McCOY
Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

Questions in regard to health and diet will be answered by Mr. McCoy who can be addressed in care of this paper.

URGE DIET INSTRUCTION IN SCHOOLS.

The public school system of today is undoubtedly improving its effectiveness in educating the child to be more proficient in making a living. Manual training is available in every well organized school, and students are carefully trained to be more efficient in business, or in the professions.

It is deplorable that more time and effort are not spent in teaching these students the fine art of healthful living. In only a small percentage of schools is the study of physiology made compulsory, and the books on hygiene are so primary as not to be taken seriously. Pages are given over to a description of the evils of tobacco and alcohol, but almost no information is given on the important subject of food science!

It is hard to find a good reason to account for this neglect of so vital a subject for study. Even though every educator will tell you that such study is needed, nevertheless, year follows year and more subjects are added to the school curriculum, but never the subject of diet and food science. While doing everything in your power to force our educational institutions to add these studies, you should not neglect to give your children the benefit of what has been discovered by food scientists and those whose lives have been devoted to the study of the science of health.

Thousands of books have been written by earnest investigators whose knowledge has been gleaned from laboratory experiments and from a practical study of health problems. Your duty does not end when your child is sent to the public schools, but if your health conscience has been sufficiently aroused you will realize that it is not only your duty but your God given privilege and opportunity to see that your child is given the very best chance to learn the habits which make for a healthful life.

As your child learns in school that two and two make four, you can likewise teach him that this food and that food added together make healthy blood. Your child should be taught what food to use out of which he can build a strong and beautiful body.

Children's diets should not differ materially from those of adults, so you can multiply your advice by the priceless example of practicing good diet habits yourself. If sausage is not good for your child, it will not be good for you. Do not say, "This is not good for little boys," and then eat some unwholesome food yourself. No teaching you can give your child about the bad effects of certain foods will be worth anything if you yourself continue to use such food.

If you will honestly learn to use the right kind of food in the proper combinations and quantities, you will be helping yourself to better health and, at the same time, the influence upon your child will be such that he will learn to practice only good habits for health. These habits will become so fixed that there will be no desire for less healthful ones.

Questions and Answers.

Question: K. N. G. asks: "Will you kindly tell me what should be the reason that very often I have a burning pain at the back of my neck when I touch it or move my neck much? Also the reason for cold clammy hands, when my body is warm."

Answer: There may be some trouble with a cervical vertebra. If the burning pain is around the seventh cervical vertebra, it shows a malposition of one or more vertebrae in that section and this could also cause a poor circulation in your hands.

Question: J. O. asks: "What is an 'Alligator' pear?"

Answer: "Alligator pear" is a name which has been given to the avocado, but this name should not be used as it does not describe the avocado. It is not a sweet fruit as the name "pear" suggests, but a salad fruit of a nut-like buttery flesh, rich in vegetable oil with also some protein and carbohydrates. This fruit may be used at almost any meal, and combines well with any other kind of food.

Question: S. O. H. writes: "I am a sufferer from what doctors diagnose as urticaria." It affects me with welts breaking out all over my body ranging from the size of a pea to that of a half dollar, and they produce almost intolerable itching. What would you advise as a cure?"

Answer: Eat good food combinations and drink plenty of water between meals, using from one to two quarts before luncheon, and the same amount during the afternoon. Send for my special articles on the cause and cure of acidosis.

The Day Book of a New Yorker

By BURTON RASCOE

FLATIRON BUILDING

NEW YORK, May 1.—I got to thinking about taxi drivers when I heard about Arthur Sutton.

Six weeks' searching for a job driving a taxi gave Arthur the idea that he'd never find one. When, after automatically and spiritlessly going through the motions of asking one from E. D. Losti, operator of a fleet, he was offered a job, Arthur got excited.

"Right away," said Losti, motioning to a cab.

Sutton walked toward it, then toppled over, dead of heart failure.

Sun-tanned visitors from points west (to a New Yorker, any place beyond Hudson river is west), are in style here. Sunburn is fashionable, because every one wants to give the impression of having spent the winter in Florida or California. Many of the tans one sees in the Fifth avenue parade doubtlessly were acquired in violet-ray parlors that provide a sunburn at $5 a treatment.

One Broadwayite, whose name is synonymous with virility and that sort of thing, takes a violet-ray treatment daily to conceal the pallor he acquires through regular attendance at night clubs.

With four musical comedy hits running in New York, and another collecting dividends on the road, the natural conclusion is that Flo Ziegfeld is piling up a fortune rivaling Henry Ford's. But Ziegfeld doesn't finance his own productions, upon which an average of $200,000 is spent before the first curtain goes up, and only receives a salary and a share of the profits. A. L. Erlanger, theater owner, used to be the "angel" of the Ziegfeld productions. Now W. R. Hearst, the publisher, is.

Harry Bruno and Richard Blythe, press agents de luxe to Lindbergh and concerns with an aggregate capital of $100,000,000, are two small-town boys who have made good in New York in a big way. Bruno, 35, is from Montclair, N. J. Blythe, about the same age, is from Edmonton, Ala. Both were newspapermen and war flyers. Previously Blythe followed Pancho Villa in Mexico. After the war they teamed and opened for business as public relations counsel with a rented typewriter and $1.38.

Blythe and Bruno are joint authors of a book, "The Modern Torchbearers," which gives the lie to the common assertion that newspapers give predominating space to crime and scandal news. An analysis they made of what constitutes the daily news diet of most Americans, as reflected by the columns of 60 representative newspapers, shows that only two per cent of newspaper space is devoted to what is classified as police, crime and scandal news. Sports news and pictures get six per cent of space, political and government, two per cent; comic strips, three per cent; editorial comment, exactly one-half of the space given comics; advertising, 48 per cent; syndicated text features, 11½ per cent. Other straight news classifications fill the rest of the space.

THE STORY THUS FAR

The jewel case was most baffling to Vance. It had been opened with a steel chisel after unsuccessfully being pried with a poker, and it was found in the room with the murdered Margaret Odell. Spotswoode had gone out with her the evening of the murder. When he left her he told Jessup, at the switchboard, to call a cab. They heard a scream from her room, but when they reached the door were told everything was all right. The next morning she had been found strangled. Vance believes another man was in the apartment beside the murderer and that he hid in the clothes closet. Investigation discloses that Cleaver had been seen with her a lot and he is brought in for questioning.

CHAPTER XVII

"I can eliminate myself easily enough," Cleaver proclaimed, with easy confidence. "There's a speeding summons from Boonton, New Jersey. Note the date and the time: September the 10th—last night—at half past eleven. Was driving down to Hopacong, and was ticketed by a motorcycle cop just as I had passed Boonton and was heading for Mountain Lakes. Got to appear in court there tomorrow morning. Damn nuisance, these country constables."

He gave Markham a long, calculating look. "You couldn't square it for me, could you? It's a rotten ride to Jersey, and I've got a lot to do tomorrow."

Markham, who has inspected the summons casually, put it in his pocket.

"I'll attend to it for you," he promised smiling amiably. "Now tell me what you know.

Cleaver puffed meditatively on his cigar. Then, leaning back and crossing his knees, he spoke with apparent candor.

"I doubt if I know much that'll help you. I liked the Canary, as she was called—in fact, was pretty much attached to her at one time. Did a number of foolish things; wrote her a lot of damn fool letters when I went to Cuba last year. Even had my picture taken with her down at Atlantic City."

He made a self-condemnatory grimace. "Then she began to get cool and distant; broke several appointments with me. I raised the devil with her, but the only answer I got was a demand for money. . . ."

He stopped and looked down at his cigar ash. A venomous hatred gleamed from his narrowed eyes, and the muscles of his jowls hardened.

"No use lying about it. She had those letters and things, and she touched me for a neat little sum before I got 'em back. . . ."

"When was this?"

There was a momentary hesitation. "Last June," Cleaver replied. Then he hurried on: "Mr. Markham"—his voice was bitter—"I don't want to throw mud on a dead person; but that woman was the shrewdest, coldest-blooded blackmailer it's ever been my misfortune to meet. And I'll say this, too; I wasn't the only easy mark she squeezed. She had others on her string. . . . I happen to know she once dug into old Louey Mannix for a plenty—he told me about it."

"Could you give me the names of any of these other men?" asked Markham, attempting to dissemble his eagerness. "I've already heard of the Mannix episode."

"No I couldn't." Cleaver spoke regretfully. "I've seen the Canary here and there with different men; and there's one in particular I've noticed lately. But they were all strangers to me."

"I suppose the Mannix affair is dead and buried by this time?"

"Yes—ancient history. You won't get any line on the situation from that angle. But there are others—more recent than Mannix—who might bear looking into, if you could find them. I'm easy-going myself; take things as they come. But there's a lot of men who'd go red-headed if she did the things to them that she did to me."

Cleaver, despite his confession did not strike me as easy-going, but rather as a cold, self-contained, nerveless person whose immobility was at all times dictated by policy and expediency.

Markham studied him closely.

"You think, then, her death may have been due to vengeance on the part of some disillusioned admirer?"

Cleaver carefully considered his answer.

"Seems reasonable," he said finally. "She was riding for a fall."

There was a short silence; then Markham asked:

"Do you happen to know a young man she was interested in—good-looking, small, blond mustache, light blue eyes—named Skeel?"

Cleaver snorted derisively.

"That wasn't the Canary's specialty—she let the young ones alone, as far as I know."

At this moment a page-boy approached Cleaver and bowed.

"Sorry to disturb you, sir, but there's a phone call for your brother. Party said it was important and, as your brother isn't in the club now, the operator thought you might know where he'd gone."

"How would I know?" fumed Cleaver. "Don't ever bother me with his calls."

"Your brother is in the city?" asked Markham casually. "I met him years ago. He's a San Franciscian, isn't he?"

"Yes—rabid Californian. He's visiting New York for a couple of weeks so he'll appreciate Frisco more when he gets back."

It seemed to me that this information was given reluctantly; and I got the impression that Cleaver, for some reason, was annoyed. But Markham, apparently, was too absorbed in the problem before him to take notice of the other's disgruntled air, for he reverted at once to the subject of the murder.

"I happen to know one man who has been interested in the Odell woman recently; he may be the same one you've seen her with—tall, about 45 and wears a gray close-cropped mustache." (He was, I knew, describing Spotswoode.)

"That's the man," averred Cleaver. "Saw them together only last week at Mouquin's."

Markham was disappointed.

"Unfortunately, he's checked off the list . . . But there must be somebody who was in the girl's confidence. You're sure you couldn't cudgel your brains to any advantage?"

Cleaver appeared to think.

"If it's merely a question of some one who had her confidence," he said, "I might suggest Doctor Lindquist—first name's Ambroise, I think; and he lives somewhere in the Forties near Lexington avenue. But I don't know that he'd be of any value to you. Still, he was pretty close to her at one time."

"You mean that this Doctor Lindquist might have been interested in her otherwise than professionally?"

"I wouldn't like to say," Cleaver smoked for a while as if inwardly debating the situation. "Anyway, here are the facts: Lindquist is one of these exclusive society specialists—a neurologist he calls himself—and I believe he's the head of a private sanitarium of some kind for nervous women. He must have money, and, of course, his social standing is a vital asset to him—just the sort of a man the Canary might have selected as a source of income. And I know this: he came to see her a good deal oftener than a doctor of his type would be apt to. I ran into him one night at her apartment, and when she introduced us, he wasn't even civil."

"It will at least bear looking into," replied Markham unenthusiastically. "You've no one else in mind who might know something helpful?"

Cleaver shook his head.

"No—no one."

"And she never mentioned anything to you that indicated she was in fear of any one, or anticipated trouble?"

"Not a word. Fact is, I was bowled over by the news. I never read any paper but the morning Herald — except, of course, The Daily Racing Form at night. And as there was no account of the murder in this morning's paper, I didn't hear about it until just before dinner. The boys in the billiard-room were talking about it, and I went out and looked at an afternoon paper. If it hadn't been for that, I might not have known of it till tomorrow morning."

Markham discussed the case with him until half past eight, but could elicit no further suggestions. Finally Cleaver rose to go.

"Sorry I couldn't give you more help," he said. His rubicund face was beaming now and he shook hands with Markham in the friendliest fashion.

"You wangled that viscid old sport rather cleverly don't y' know," remarked Vance, when Cleaver had gone. "But there's something deuced queer about him. The transition from his gambler's glassy stare to his garrulous confidences was too sudden—suspiciously sudden, in fact. I may be evil-minded, but he didn't impress me as a luminous pillar of truth. Maybe it's because I don't like those cold, boiled eyes of his—somehow they didn't harmonize with his gushing imitation of open-hearted frankness."

"We can allow him something for his embarrassing position," suggested Markham charitably. "It isn't exactly pleasant to admit having been taken in and blackmailed by a charmer."

"Still, if he got his letters back in June, why did he continue paying court to the lady? Heath reported he was active in that sector right up to the end."

"He may be the complete amorist," smiled Markham. "At any rate, he gave us, in Doctor Lindquist, a possible source of information."

"Quite so," agreed Vance. "And that's about the only point of his whole passionate unfoldment that I particularly put any stock in, because it was the only point he indicated with any decent reticence. . . . My advice is that you interview this doctor without further delay."

"I'm dog-tired," objected Markham. "Let it wait till tomorrow."

Vance glanced at the great clock over the stone mantel.

"It's latish, I'll admit, but why not as Pittacus advised, seize time by the forelock?

'Who lets slip fortune, her shall never find:
Occasion once past by, is bald behind.'

But the elder Cato anticipated Cowley. In his 'Disticha de Moribus' he wrote—

"Come!" pleaded Markham, rising. "Anything to dam this flow of erudition."

DANDRUFF

Not until the last vestige of dandruff is gone, can you be considered a fastidious person, acceptable socially

Checks dandruff . . . soothes the scalp

Don't put up with a humiliating case of dandruff, and the itching burning sensation of the scalp that usually accompanies it.

At the first sign of dandruff, douse Listerine on the hair full strength and massage the scalp thoroughly. Keep this treatment up systematically for several days.

You will be delighted to find your dandruff disappearing rapidly. And you will welcome that cool refreshing feeling that Listerine imparts to the scalp. For those few whose hair does not contain the normal amount of oil, the use of a little olive or castor oil after shampoo may prove an advantage.

It is a curious fact that in many cases this simple pleasant treatment has succeeded after complicated and costly ones had failed. Lambert Pharmacal Co., St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A.

Favorite Jokes of Famous People

As Told by Them to
FRANK ERNEST NICHOLSON

By ELSIE FERGUSON

Have you ever wondered how Elsie Ferguson developed such a marvelous speaking voice? Well, she didn't. Elsie's beautiful enunciation was not cultivated, but brought about unexpectedly through a throat operation.

Miss Ferguson's first idea of a career was that of a school teacher, but at the age of 15 she changed her mind and landed a job in the chorus of "The Belles of New York." However, it was not until eight years later—when she was given the leading role in "Such a Little Queen"—that Miss Ferguson became a hit.

There followed a glamorous career on the stage and then in moving pictures. She retired from the stage for a time, but returned last fall in "The House of Women," a dramatization of Bromfield's "Under the Green Bay Tree."

Miss Ferguson told me that she gets a real chuckle out of a joke concerning a man who was arraigned before a magistrate on the charge of having broken a window with a rock.

"Wishing to know the exact size of the stone, the judge questioned him:

"'Was it is big as my fist?' he asked.

"'Much bigger,' replied the man.

"'As big as my two fists?'

"'Oh, still bigger, Your Honor.'

"'Was it as big as my head?'

"'Yes,' replied the man, thoughtfully, 'it was as long and as wide, but not as thick.'"

ESTILL'S TRIPLE IN NINTH WINS OPENER FROM WACO, 5 TO 4

FITZ BANISHED IN SLOW GAME

Spudders Lose Chance To Win in Seventh

By LARRY DAILEY.
Record News Sports Editor.

Tom Estill, one of those rare birds, a pitcher who can hit, played the hero role yesterday. Thomas smote a three-base knock to right field in the ninth inning to score a comrade from first base and win his own ball game in the opener of the series with the Waco Cubs. The score of a pastime out at the orchard that dragged two hours and 10 minutes to its listless conclusion was 5 to 4.

Estill and Oscar Tuero were hit hard, each yielding 11 blows. But they kept the knocks fairly well scattered and both went the route.

It was a see-saw, uncertain contest. Trailing 4 to 2 the Cubs tied in the sixth by scoring a brace of tallies.

The Spudders had a chance to win in the seventh but stupid base running prevented scoring. Estill doubled to left but was out at third on Benton's tap to Pratt. Benton was picked off first by Tuero. Turgeon hit to left for two bases and soon was picked off second by Wolgamot.

Fitzgerald Banished.

Umpire Donahue maintained his record of chasing-an-athlete-every-game when he banished Howard Fitzgerald from the park in the first inning. Howard had objected to a called third strike when Donahue told him to go away from there. The ejection of Fitzgerald from the game followed the banishment the previous day of Bubber Jonnard of the Buffs.

J. Doak Roberts' arbiters are going to make pink teas of ball games yet if an athlete can't say a word without being thrown out of the game. But the dignity of the bluecoats must be preserved, I suppose. Mr. Donahue might concentrate some of his time on running a game faster, though. Calling time out frequently, as in yesterday's pastime, isn't conducive to fast baseball and the customers showed their displeasure over the slow affair.

Score in Second.

Both clubs scored in the second inning. Pratt, first up in the Cub half, walked. Brown fanned. Shires singled to center, Pratt stopping at second. Hooten struck out. Wolgamot's hit to left tallied Pratt.

Lamb started the Spud half with a double to left and went to third on Jenkins' infield out. Swenson struck out. Williams doubled to left, scoring Lamb.

Waco tallied in the third. Windle and Malonee singled. Blackerby sacrificed, Williams to Turgeon, the runners advancing. Pratt lifted to Jenkins, Windle scoring.

Spuds Count 3 In Third.

The Spudders counted three in the third. Estill singled to right. Benton singled to center. Turgeon popped to Tuero. Luciano forced Estill at third, Hock unassisted. Lamb walked. Jenkins singled to right, Benton and Luciano scoring. Swenson's hit to left scored Lamb.

Waco tied in the sixth. Pratt singled to short. Brown fouled to Williams. Shires singled to right, Pratt going to third. Pratt scored on Hooten's fly to Jenkins.

We won in the ninth. Swenson, first up, strolled. Blackerby took Williams' lift. Cobb struck out. Estill hit to right, the ball going past Blackerby and Swenson raced home with the winning tally.

Notes of the Game

Joe Kiefer or Milt Steengrafe will hurl the second of the series today.

The Spudders offered a patched-up and crippled line-up yesterday. Boss Williams was at first in place of Stanton, out with an injured ankle. Swenson played, though suffering from a hurt nose, and Jenkins was in there despite a strained ankle, injuries sustained the previous day.

Then Fitzgerald was tossed out of the game in the first inning and the rookie Luciano assigned to center field.

Three of four games in the Texas league yesterday were decided by one run.

Malonee robbed Turgeon of a hit with a corking snatch of a drive in the first inning.

The rival pitchers are the last of their kind—they are empowered to employ the spitball.

Blackerby came in fast to make an expert grab of Luciano's drive in the ninth but he misjudged Estill's hit that won the game, letting the ball roll by him when he might have prevented Swenson from scoring.

Tom chucked a fair game, just fair, but was the batting leader with three hits, including a double and the winning triple.

Coyotes to Compete Saturday at Austin

Captain Filmore Meredith and Estill Sharp, Wichita Falls high school track men, left for Austin Wednesday morning to compete in the University of Texas Interscholastic league track and field meet Friday and Saturday.

Both of these men are 440-yard dashers and won first and second places, respectively, in this event in the district meet here two weeks ago.

Due to the fact that J. N. Hall, Coyote track mentor, was unable to make the trip to Austin Bud McCallum, Coyote football and basketball coach, accompanied Meredith and Sharp.

Landis Is Luncheon Guest at Montreal

MONTREAL, May 1. (UP)—Although the Montreal Royals, the new International league club headed by Walter Hapgood and George Stallings, will not be able to hold their scheduled opening tomorrow, Judge Landis and other prominent baseball men and 600 citizens of this city will be guests of the club at luncheon.

The $1,000,000 stadium which will seat 25,000 for the opening game was completed in time, but the playing field, because of inclement weather, remained a morass and postponement until Saturday was found necessary.

Miss Wills Encounters Leading Players In French Stars

PARIS, May 2. (AP)—Helen Helen Wills will be faced by as strong a field of women tennis players as Europe can muster at present when she seeks the French hard court title, at St. Cloud, starting May 21.

Announcement of the entry list today revealed that the American champion's opposition will include Senorita Lili De Alvarez, who met Miss Wills in the finals at Wimbledon last year, as well as a big contingent of British players, including Betty Nuthall, Mrs. Kitty McKane Godfree, Gwynneth Sterry and Eileen Bennett.

Elizabeth Ryan, who defeated Miss Wills in America several years ago, also is in the lists. Miss Ryan is said to have recovered completely from the finger injury suffered last winter on the Riviera.

N. Y. COMMISH PROBES FIGHT

Sharkey-Delaney Rumors Cause Investigation

By ED FRAYNE

NEW YORK, May 2. (US)—Admitting he had been warned before the fight that the Jack Sharkey-Jack Delaney match was not "on the level," Chairman James A. Farley, of the state athletic commission, today announced a thorough investigation has been ordered.

Sharkey's one-round knockout of Delaney at Madison Square Garden Monday night was preceded by well circulated reports that Delaney would lose within four rounds.

So much credence was placed in the stories that Sharkey was quoted an 8 to 5 favorite to win by a knockout. His backers were offering as high as 3½ to 1 to win at the ringside.

Johnston Alleges

Farley's statement was precipitated by a series of astounding revelations made during the afternoon by James J. Johnston, widely known handler of fighters, who has a 10 per cent interest in Sharkey. Johnston brought to light the following developments:

1—That he had warned Jess McMahon, garden matchmaker, a week before the fight, of stories that had reached him concerning Delaney. He told McMahon he had been informed Delaney was making no effort to train and advised McMahon to make a personal investigation. McMahon tried to see Delaney in action the following day, Johnston said, but was informed that Delaney would not work that day.

2—That Promoter Tex Rickard had called him into his office at 8:30 o'clock Monday night and questioned him. Rickard told Johnston he had heard Delaney was supposed to lose, and asked if Johnston knew anything concerning such an arrangement.

3—That Referee Magnolia, acting under instructions from Commissioner Farley, had warned both fighters in the ring that they would not be paid if in his opinion there was anything "wrong."

Apprised of Johnston's assertions, Farley dictated the following statement:

Farley Hears Rumors

"All I know is that I heard the same rumors others heard, and I instructed Magnolia when he went in the ring to tell both Delaney and Sharkey what I had heard and had transmitted to him.

"I told him to tell them that if he thought there was anything wrong he would throw both of them out of the ring."

Farley was asked what action will be taken if an investigation by the commission proves Delanay did not train and that he was not in condition to give the public his best efforts. He replied:

"I do not care to make any definite statement until I have conferred with the commissioners, Muldoon and Brower. I can say for myself that I will be in favor of taking the same action we have taken in similar cases."

Johnston, who gave reporters the first real information on the affair, made it very plain he believed Sharkey would have won in any event.

DAILY DOPE

By Larry Dailey

GIPSY SMITH, the grappler from Birmingham, England, who made a pleasant mat debut here last Monday, is an interesting character. Watching the agile, clever Smith wrestling, his swarthy skin glistening and his dark eyes expressive of pain, triumph of whatever his emotion may be, one thinks of sylvan dells, campfires, covered wagons enclosing a circle in which two gipsies are grappling, mayhap for the hand of the gipsy belle. His appearance out of the ring is different. For Smith in civilian clothes, is English, not gipsy.

◇ ◇ ◇

He is nattily attired in a well-fitting, expensive English tweed. And handing from a coatsleeve, in the most approved Beau Brummel style, is a gilded kerchief. And his speech! "Fawncy that," said Gipsy, when informed of the free-for-all mat style prevailing here. "That is bloomin' funny, don't you know. But it is not wrestling, my dear sir, and really, I cawn't do that." So Gipsy insisted that he wrestle Billy Hallas straight wrestling, and though he lost, it was a thrilling, gruelling match.

◇ ◇ ◇

SMITH IS TO wrestle here again next Monday night in the semi-windup of Alex Ross' weekly card at The Gym, his foe being Pete Pallas, who the reader may know is a Greek. This is to be wrestling match only, with gouging, biting, kicking and other dirty work at the crossroads barred.

◇ ◇ ◇

HERE'S A WORD for Hallas: Of all the wrestlers none is more conscientious than Billy in his training. Hallas takes roadwork daily, something shunned by most grapplers. His superb endurance, begotten by marvelous condition has enabled Hallas to be unbeaten here this year. He is to meet Ali Hassan, another of those "Terrible Turks," in the feature Monday night. Hassan is remembered as the fellow who defeated Jack Gorman and Yaqui Joe here some months ago. This match is to be a free-for-all melee.

◇ ◇ ◇

EDUCATION is a wonderful thing. If properly applied. But it apparently means nothing in the hemped square. Tiny Roebuck, the former Haskell institute football star, was knocked out Monday night by Von Porat in the first round at Chicago. Roebuck says he miscalculated the count.

◇ ◇ ◇

All those years in school and he didn't learn to count ten.

◇ ◇ ◇

Tiny, however, must be given credit for inventing a novel alibi.

◇ ◇ ◇

Gene Tunney is self-educated. He can discourse on Shakespeare. And stretch a 10 count to 14.

◇ ◇ ◇

Jack Dempsey can do neither. ALL he can do is sock.

Babe Ruth never read Tolstoy. All HE can do is sock.

◇ ◇ ◇

Sisler got his A. B. He belongs to the Sigma somethings.

◇ ◇ ◇

Hornsby got his H. K.: Hard knocks. He is a Smoka Cig.

◇ ◇ ◇

Sisler had theories. Hornsby had a championship of the world.

◇ ◇ ◇

What do you make of that, Watson?

◇ ◇ ◇

MIGHT IS RIGHT!

INDIANS ENGAGE IN STATE MEET

Junior College Competes Monday at Fort Worth

Coach J. N. Hall is spending this week putting the finishing touches on his Wichita Falls Junior college track team and will have the Indians in excellent condition for the state junior college track and field meet next Monday. The meet will be held at Fort Worth under the direction of the athletic department of Texas Christian university.

One Casualty appears in the Indian camp, that of Dempse Moore's injured knee. Moore injured his knee in a fotball game last season and has suffered considerably with it all winter and spring. He dislocated it again at the Olympic boxing tryouts last week in Boston and may be kept out of the meet at Fort Worth next week. This will be a serious handicap to the team as Moore is one of its stellar performers.

In spite of the fact that the Indian squad is small Coach Hall is grooming his team to bring home the state championship. This is no little task that the Indian mentor has set out to accmplish, for all of the leading junior colleges in the state will enter the meet.

Coach Hall said Wednesday that he expects the hardest opposition from John Tarleton college. This college has an enrollment of about 1500 students and has a reputation as one of the foremost junior colleges in the state in athletics. The Tarleton team has always figured largely in the state meet and from the showing that it has made this season indications are that this year will be no exception.

The Indian hopes are centered around the "Big Five," Captain Melvin McKinney, Jot Hodges, Bill McMillan, Dempse Moore and Jesse Allen.

McKenney and Allen are distance men and probably will have harder opposition than the rest of the team.

Hodges and McMillan are the best Indian bets in the dashes. Hodges has already taken first place this year in the 100-yard dash at the Fort Worth Fat Stock show meet and the Oklahoma relays. Besides being the star man in the dashes Jot also does the high hurdles in as good or better time than the present junior record, hurls the discus and broad jumps.

Moore is the leader in field sports for the Indians as well as being a member of the fast relay team, with McKinney, Hodges and McMillan.

John Wieler and Olan Dickey, field men, and Gabbert Stephens, high hurdler, will also make the trip. Captain Filmore Meredith of the high school team, who is now in Austin at the state high school meet, will join the Indians in Fort Worth Sunday and compete in the meet Monday.

Coach Hall and his team will leave for Fort Worth early Sunday and return to Wichita Falls Monday night after the meet.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, May 2. (AP)—An opening decline in the cotton market today was followed by rallies on bullish features in the weekly report of the weather bureau, but prices weakened again on the favorable weather outlook. After selling up from 21.30 to 21.54, July broke to 21.20 in late trading and closed at 21.23. The general market closed steady, at net declines of 31 to 37 points.

The opening was steady at a decline of 4 to 25 points, active months selling about 14 to 25 points net lower under realizing of liquidation promoted by relatively early Liverpool cables and reports of improving weather in the south. These losses were just about recovered after publication of the weekly report of the weather bureau, which was evidently in line with recent bullish daily weather and crop advices.

Demand tapered off before midday, however, and the market later weakened under a renewal of liquidation and selling for a reaction. There was another little bulge in prices following a private report which pointed to an increase of only 3.5 per cent in acreage, but it soon subsided, and the lowest prices of the day were reached in late trading. May, which had sold up from 21.55 to 21.77 in early trading, broke to 21.42, while October sold off from 21.52 to 21.12. Closing prices were at just about the lowest on the new crop deliveries.

Houses with Liverpool and continental connections were reported among the earlier sellers, but the bulk of the pressure was attributed to realizing on liquidation following the recent extended advance. The expected boll weevil report did not make its appearance, and so far as could be learned no date has been set for its publication.

Private cables reported heavy general realizing in Liverpool owing to the better weather outlook in the south, but said there was a broadening demand for cotton cloths from India.

Exports today 7,489 making 6,471,847 so far this season. Port receipts 17,942. U. S. port stocks, 1,478,713.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, May 2. (AP)—Reactionary influences took possession of the cotton market here today and although there was a rally after an opening dip of 17 points, the supporting influences gave way before the assault of favorable weather news, realizing and lower cables than due.

July opened 17 points down at 21.15, rallying shortly afterward to 21.38, six points above the previous close, but eased off again, this time to 20.95 and closing at that figure, 37 points net lower for the day. The general market closed barely steady at net declines of 33 to 40 points.

Grain

By THOMAS TEMPLE HOYNE.
Universal Service.

CHICAGO, May 2.—A great spring cleaning operation went on today in the grain markets. Wheat and corn both tumbled out of bed and at the close it was a question in the speculative mind whether they had yet hit the floor.

At the finish of a wild and nerve-racking day wheat was down 3⅜c to 5⅛c; corn was down 2⅝c to 3⅛c; oats were ⅝c to 1⅛c off; rye was 2⅞c to 5⅞c lower.

The market was the hardest kind of one for the former bull, uncertain whether he had overstayed the market. Prices went down slowly during the fore-part of the session, like a convalescent, who feels strong, going down stairs. Late in the day they slipped and fell.

During the last half hour there was rally of less than a cent in wheat and a little more than a cent in corn. But the markets did not look strong at the close. The late upturn probably was caused by buying in against bids and other short covering.

In spite of the upturn in corn toward the close, that market may not have been as strong as its late rally suggested. Fine, warm weather is apt to weaken, temporarily, at least, bull enthusiasm with prices at the present level.

The heavier the abandonment of winter wheat acreage has been, the heavier the increase in the corn acreage is likely to be. This seems to be so obvious a conclusion that it may curb buyers until they know more about what the next crop promises.

Tractions and Rails are Sole Climbers On Easy Stock Market; Speculators Worried Over Loan Reports

—BY BROADEN WALL—
Universal Service Financial Expert

NEW YORK, May 2. (US)—Local tractions, with a few rails and specialties moved higher while the market as a whole practically stood still in more active trading today. The entire list remained firm throughout, but the new buying influenced by easing of the call rate from 5½ to 5 per cent was offset by offerings induced by uncertainties as to developments tomorrow. Buying of the tractions was particularly aggressive in the early hours, but they eased when no decision on the 7-cent fare was forthcoming by noon. Toward the close they picked up again and then the district court's decision permitting the increase was announced.

New Haven and Southern Pacific scored the best gains in the railroad list while most others held within a fraction of Tuesday's last price despite the more favorable car loading report. General Motors added to its recovery and was followed closely by Can, while Shattuck scored the best individual gain as it soared to new high record. Cotton met realizing while profit-taking wave in wheat put grain options lower.

Although no change is expected in the rediscount rate at the meeting of local reserve governors tomorrow afternoon there was some worry about loan reports. The stock exchange is expected to issue its report showing borrowings as of April 30. As of Wednesday, April 25, the reserve bank showed loans of $4,144,286,000, representing an increase of more than $300,000,000 for the month. Heretofore the stock exchange figure usually showed larger than the reserve as it includes borrowings of brokers from individuals and institutions other than banks. As the exchange reported $4,640,174,000 loans as of March 31, it looks as though the $5,000,000,000 level was reached as of the close of April. Evidently such increase does not disturb the bulls, however, as all selling was absorbed in good manner today. Another factor to influence offerings was expectation that the exchange would suspend trading Saturday.

STOCK-A-DAY

VACUUM OIL CO.

The Vacuum Oil company is one of the original Standard Oil subsidiaries which was split off from the parent company in 1911 on orders of the supreme court. The Vacuum company specializes in the manufacture of high grade lubricants for all kinds of machinery. These are marketed under the trademark "Gargoyle."

It also produces crude petroleum in Louisiana and Texas. It operates refineries at Olean, N. Y., and Paulsboro, N. J., with a combined capacity of approximately 22,000 barrels of crude a day. It has compounding and finishing plants at Bayonne, N. J., and Rochester, N. Y., and owns a large fleet of tankers. The concern does a big export business, marketing its products through its own branches or affiliated companies.

For the ten year period ended in 1926, average net income was equal to about $5.19 a share. Earnings for 1927 were estimated at $12.60 a share.

There is no funded debt and capital outstanding consists of $62,470,800 in shares of $25 par value.

The present dividend rate is $2 a share per year, payable quarterly. The company also distributes extra dividends of 50c a share.

The latest annual statement showed current assets of $97,378,317; current liabilities of $7,849,382, and net working capital of $89,528,935. Surplus amounted to $86,699,884. Book value amounted $53.49 a share.

Curb

Leading Issues on New York Market

NEW YORK, May 2. (AP)—The curb market was rather irregular today, although trading was in heavy volume and most of the list moved to higher ground, profit-taking reduced gains. Utilities and industrial specialties made the widest advances.

The motor accessory shares came to the forefront of the industrial group, Bendix, Bord & Beck, Marvel Carburetor and others showing good gains. Auburn Auto Marmon and other motor stocks, however, were rather weak. New Jersey Zinc was in demand, gaining nearly 3 points, while New Mont Mines rose to a new top at 175¼. Shattuck Denn slumped under profit-taking. Piggly Wiggly reached a new top at 32½ on buying inspired by efforts to place the issue again on the "big board." Bancitaly, Columbia Graphophone and a few others were under pressure.

State Weddings

BARRON-STEPHENS
Special to The Record News.
HASKELL, Texas, May 2.—The marriage ceremony of Mrs. Mamie Barron and Mr. J. A. Stephens was solemnized in the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. W. F. Draper, last Friday morning with Rev. G. R. Forrester, pastor of the First Christian church officiating. The bride's family is among the oldest pioneer families in this section. Mrs. Courtney Hunt played the wedding march, using Lohrengrin's for the processional and recessional. Only immediate relatives were present. Mr. and Mrs. Stephens left at once for Dallas and Fort Worth to visit relatives and friends before going to their home in Longview, Texas.

VAUGHN-HARDING
IOWA PARK, Texas, May 2.—Sunday afternoon at five o'clock in the parlors of the First Methodist church Miss Ida Harding and T. C. Vaughn were united in marriage by Rev. J. P. Luton, pastor.
Mrs. Vaughn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Harding and has lived here for a number of years, and has gained many friends.
The groom is a nephew of Judge Kay of Wichita Falls, and is engaged in farming southwest of Iowa Park, where he and his bride will make their home.
Judge Kay and family and other friends from Wichita Falls, and Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Harris were among those present at the ceremony.

TRADE TRIP SET FRIDAY

Throckmorton Reservations Close Today

Thursday is the last day to make reservations at the chamber of commerce for the Throckmorton trade trip for the celebration of the opening of the Cisco and Northeastern railroad, Friday.

As the busses will leave the chamber headquarters at 7 o'clock Friday morning, all who are going are urged to get their tickets at once at the chamber headquarters.

Tom Blanton, Alvin Owsley, O. B. Colquitt, Tom Connally, Cone Johnson, R. S. Sterling, C. V. Terrell, Lon Smith, Clarence Gilmore, Lieutenant Governor Barry Miller, Robert Penick, Mrs. Minnie F. Cunningham and Homer D. Wade have been announced as speakers for the day.

An Indian war dance, a buffalo hunt, a wolf chase, a barbecue, a polo game and other features have been announced.

The Wichita Falls party will leave Throckmorton at 4 o'clock to reach home by 7 o'clock.

FIRE LOWERS CLUB HOUSE

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, May 2. (AP)—The main part of the Youngstown Country club, chosen recently as the site of the Ohio amateur golf tournament in June, was destroyed by fire today with a loss estimated at $300,000. The cause of the blaze was undetermined.

While British army estimates for 1928 show a decrease of $2,575,000 from those of last year, the amount required for salaries and similar expenses will jump from $44,140,000 to $45,115,000.

Today { At the Theaters

MAJESTIC: Five acts Interstate vaudeville. On the screen, Mary Astor in "Sailor Wives." Paramount news. Comedy.

OLYMPIC: Rod La Rocque in "Stand and Deliver." Comedy. Pathe news.

MISSION: Bert Southern's Vanities. On the screen, all-star cast in "The Wizard." Comedy.

GARDEN: George Bancroft in "Old Ironsides." Comedy.

GEM: Jackie Coogan in "The Bugle Calls." Western. Comedy.

The season's last vaudeville program at the Majestic theater is being given Thursday and Friday. It is sad news for the folks who like a little variety and who like to see and hear real live human beings on the stage, but it probably helps makes next fall's bills seem that much better.

◇ ◇ ◇

Jack Richards and Billy Church, for the past 10 years members of Al G. Field's ministrels, and Toto, the famed clown, are the features of the current Majestic bill. Richards and Church are singing ministrels, and will feature their old favorite "When You and I Were Young Maggie."

Eugene Costello and his "Footlight Frolics" are billed for some ear and eye entertainment. Edna Wood is the dancing songster seen in support of Mr. Costello. Martha Ellwell, Ednar Sisters and Luda Mills complete the cast. Highlights of song and dance are included in the act.

Artie Mehlinger, recording artist and composer, has a little music he wants to get out of his system. Ervel and Del, tap dancers and harmony singers, are two girls who do a variety of things including playing the saxophone and ukulele. Mary Astor is billed for the screen attraction in "Sailor's Wievs."

CYCLONE RAGES

WELLINGTON, N. Z., May 2. (UP)—The worst cyclone in 30 years has swept the dominion, causing considerable damage to shipping.

Fairtrace Inspects City Water System

A tour of inspection of the city water plant and Lake Kemp was made Wednesday by George D. Fairtrace, city manager, and Dr. A. H. Douglass, manager of the water department. It was Mr. Fairtrace's first inspection of the properties.

No comment or suggestion as to what recommendations he will make was given by the new city manager, although he said "the plant seemed small." The general condition of the plant and the way in which it is kept was said by Mr. Fairtrace to be good.

Visitors continued to stream in Wednesday, thus delaying the progress of city affairs.

The friendly spirit of Wichita Falls people was commented on by Mr. Fairtrace, who said he is experiencing the most helpful spirit here he has ever known on going on a new job.

"I like Wichita Falls and the people in it already," he said. "I feel at home here."

PERMIT GRANTED

WASHINGTON, May 2. (AP)—President Coolidge today signed a bill granting the B. & P. Bridge company the right of constructing a bridge across the Rio Grande, at or near Weslaco, Texas.

GIRLS GIVEN DRESS PRIZES

Iowa Park Contestants Win Honors

IOWA PARK, Texas, May 2.—The domestic science girls returned home Monday morning from San Antonio, where they won honors in the state clothing contest.

Katherine George won second place in the wool tailored dresses, and Ruby White won fourth with a play suit.

Miss Hill, the domestic science instructor, accompanied the girls, Katherine George, Ruby White, Ozelle Cambron, Carol Thurber and Leta Wigley, who were winners in the local clothing contest. They also made a sight-seeing trip to Austin while away.

C-C Directors to Name City Plan Delegates

The directors of the Wichita Falls chamber of commerce are expecting to name delegates Thursday to the national conference on city planning to be held in Dallas, May 8, 9 and 10, according to announcements made at the chamber.

Walter S. Curlee, chairman of the city plan committee of the chamber, and Mrs. P. A. Welty, member of the committee, were named by the local real estate board several weeks ago to represent the board at the convention.

J. B. Marlow, who several times lately has made talks outlining a plan for a $1,000,000 revolving fund to encourage new industries to Wichita Falls, has been invited to explain it to the directors at the Thursday meeting.

Deaths

MRS. W. R. WALKER.

Mrs. W. R. Walker, 47, died in a Wichita Falls hospital at 5:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. The body is being held at the Hines mortuary pending the arrival of her husband from Chillicothe.

RUDOLPH GERHARDT.

Rudolph Gerhardt, 55, died in a Wichita Falls hospital at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. The body is being held by the Hines mortuary pending the arrival of his mother, Mrs. Minnie Korth of Yorktown, Texas.

Time Extended For Rendition of Taxes

An extension of time for city property ad valorem and school taxes of several days has been granted by W. R. Hyer, city tax collector, that those who have not made rendition may have the opportunity to do so while the books are being closed. The time of the extension is not announced as it is only during the period of the closing of the books. When this ends, the extension ends automatically, and no more renditions may be made.

BODY RECOVERED

GALVESTON, May 2. (AP)—The body of Archie McQuarie, 70-year-old fisherman, was recovered from the harbor here today by coast guards.

BOY'S DAY AT ROTARY CLUB

Youngsters to Give Program Today

The third day of the Wichita Falls Rotary club's observance of "Boys' Week" will be Thursday, Boys' Day in Citizenship, when boys of the city will be guests of Rotarians at their weekly meeting and luncheon at the Kemp hotel, according to Walter Bean, chairman for the day.

The program at the meeting will consist solely of numbers given by boys. William Cason, Junior college student who won the district oratorical contest and who will represent the Wichita Falls Junior college at the state meet at Jacksonville this week, will deliver his 11-minute oration on "The Constitution." Frank Hunter, high school student, will give a humorous reading and William Donnell will play a violin solo.

Each Rotarian is to bring a boy as his guest to the luncheon.
