Just Between Us

Anytime a company gets so large it can ram an ordinance down a city's throat, we firmly believe something is wrong with our court system.

But's that the situation. If you don't believe it, just listen to the company's representatives boast.

The name of the company? Uh, you'll have to forgive us for not mentioning it. For, you see, we're just plain afraid to.

If this sprawling outfit can bankrupt a city, The McLean News could be gobbled up the first round in court.

—jbu—

McLean's city commission adopted an ordinance last August to keep down the number of door-to-door salesmen pestering our people.

We're not against salesmen, mind you; we're in that kind of business, too.

As written, the ordinance requires a fee of all out-of-town salesmen who want to solicit business in McLean.

Right off, however, here come two representatives of this unmentionable nationwide company to take issue with the city commission.

And they in no uncertain terms declared a loophole had better be found or they would proceed to dunk McLean in the red as the company had other cities which dared to show a little authority in regulating the activities of their peddlers.

Convincing examples were cited . . . and the way around the law was found.

—jbu—

One of the company's salesmen arrived in town this week. He was a pretty sure-footed lad, too.

For he had been instructed beforehand that if city officials gave him any sass about needing a license, he was to knock on doors until a sale was made, then turn himself in to the local authorities with the declaration:

"I've been selling without a license; now throw me in jail."

—jbu—

They say that any publicity is good publicity. But we're wondering if this concern, as big as it is, won't someday go a little too far.

After all, the government is by the people and for the people . . .

Mrs. N. E. Simmons did something the other day she hadn't done before in her almost 87 years. She took an airplane ride.

She was a little nervous about it all before climbing aboard her grandson's Ted Simmons' plane last Saturday afternoon. After

Lions to Help Pay Phyllis' Expenses

McLean Lions will pay $50 of the fund to send Phyllis Flowers, local high school junior, to the national Future Business Leaders of America spelling contest in Washington, D. C.

Club directors voted Tuesday morning to give that amount when it was disclosed that $150 is needed to pay Miss Flowers' transportation and lodging while in the nation's capital.

Miss Flowers will represent Texas in the competition. She recently won the state FBIA spelling contest to qualify for the national event.

Appointment of a McLean industrial committee was delayed by Lions President Sammy Haynes at the directors breakfast Tuesday.

Don Blair, club liontamer, resigned as an active member at the breakfast and was named a member at large. Blair submitted his resignation because he said his work would not permit him to be active in the club.

Prominent Local Rancher

Rites Held Monday For Charles Hall Jr.

Funeral services for Charles H. Hall Jr., well-known rancher and a member of the McLean board of education, were held Monday in the Church of Christ.

David Fultz of Quanah, former minister of the local church, and Cecil Kelley, present minister, officiated at the services.

Interment was in Hillcrest Cemetery under the direction of Lamb Funeral Home.

Mr. Hall died at his home six miles south of McLean Friday morning of self-inflicted gunshot wounds. He was 43.

Born in Pilot Point, Texas, on Sept. 15, 1917, he was married to Lettiah Louella Saunders on Jan. 28, 1939, in Hollis, Okla.

He moved to this area in May, 1960, from Hale Center.

Mr. Hall was an elder in the McLean Church of Christ and a

FUND DRIVE IS MONDAY

Next week will see the beginning and quick ending of the American Red Cross fund drive in McLean, according to city Chairman Lee Welch.

Mrs. Guy Beasley will be in charge of a residential campaign to be conducted through the residential areas beginning at 6 p. m. Monday.

Welch will contact downtown businesses to give them an opportunity to contribute.

Volunteer women assisting in the house-to-house effort will meet at 5:45 p. m. Monday in the grade school cafeteria.

Contributions Urged
Welch urged McLean residents to give as much as they can to the Red Cross.

He pointed out that the organization provides many services with money collected through fund drives. The Red Cross spends about $18,000 each day to provide food, shelter, clothing and rebuilding help for disaster victims unable to recover on their own.

It also provides services to members of the armed forces, veterans and their families. An average of $1,500 servicemen and their families were aided each month last year.

Commission Against Firemen's Fund Bill Now in Legislature

The McLean city commission has gone on record as being opposed to a bill now before the Texas Legislature's House revenue and taxation committee for financing a firemen's relief and retirement fund.

Aldermen took the action in a special meeting the past week because of the high yearly payments the city would be required to make to the fund.

According to the provisions of the measure, the city would pay $46,199 into the fund in the next 25 years. Annual payments in the beginning would be $2,209.

Members of the city commission voted unanimously against the bill, and instructed City Manager B. J. McCartney to state the board's position in a telegram and letter to Sen. Grady Hazlewood.

Currently, the state firemen's fund has a deficit of $48 million.

The bill, HB 73, would amortize payments to discharge the present unfunded accrued liability of each fireman's relief and retirement fund in existence and make a current cost contribution for future payments to the fund by participating cities.

36 Students On Honor Roll For Fourth 6 Weeks

More than one-third of the 35 students listed on the fourth six-weeks honor roll at McLean High School are in the freshman class, according to Principal Bob Green.

Green this week announced the names of the top high school students in the first grading period of the second semester.

Twelve are members of the freshman class; three are sophomores; 11 are juniors, and nine seniors.

Green also disclosed that the name of Cheryl Grimsley was inadvertently omitted from the last honor roll released in January.

Honor students the past six weeks include:

Drag Races Will Be Held Here Sunday

The McLean Road Angels Club will sponsor drag races Sunday afternoon on a portion of the old U. S. Highway 66 west of town, according to Jim McDonald, president.

McDonald said club members should meet at the organization's garage at 1:30 p. m. to prepare for the races, which are to begin at 2 p. m.

Admission will be 25 cents, and children under 12 years of age will be admitted free.

Ted Simmons, owner of the old highway, has given permission to use the pavement for the drag strip, McDonald said.

Races will be conducted on a quarter-mile strip of the highway.

March of Dimes Total Hits $1,126

The New March of Dimes, though completed in January, received another shot in the arm Wednesday. B. J. McCartney, who served as chairman of the drive in McLean, said $11.07 was turned in to him Wednesday by residents of Alanreed.

The amount was raised in a benefit basketball game.

The Alanreed contribution pushed to $1,126.47 the total raised for the March of Dimes this year. This compares with $1,131.16 contributed in 1960.

DOG PROBLEM DISCUSSED BY COMMISSION

In response to numerous complaints, the city commission has advised McLean residents to take whatever measures necessary to protect themselves and their property from stray dogs in town.

At the same time, the governing board urged persons owning any of the animals to keep them on their own property.

Taking note of the increasingly large number of dogs roaming the streets, aldermen during their regular meeting Tuesday night discussed the possibility of adopting an ordinance requiring the licensing and penning of the animals owned by local people.

In the event such an ordinance is passed, all dogs found on the streets or property of other residents would be placed in a city pound and destroyed if unclaimed after a few days.

Lease Renewed

In other action at Tuesday's session, the commission voted to renew until Sept. 1 of this year the board of education's lease on the municipal building-gymnasium.

The school board agreed to pay off the bonded indebtedness on the building and take possession as soon as financial arrangements can be made.

A resolution deeding city-owned property to the east of the McLean Hospital and Clinic to the Masonic Lodge was signed.

Aldermen agreed at their February meeting to sell the land to the Masons for $1, provided a new Masonic Lodge Hall is constructed on the site.

Interest Relinquished

The commission relinquished any interest in the bleachers at the old rodeo grounds west of Duncan

Lions Pancake Supper Tonight at Cafeteria

Aunt Jemima herself will be on hand this evening for the McLean Lions Club Pancake Supper in the grade school cafeteria.

Oba Kunkel, chairman of arrangements for the affair, announced this week that Aunt Jemima had agreed to attend the supper, which will be served from 5:30 to 7:30 p. m. today.

Lions Club members have been conducting a sale of tickets since early last week. Tickets—75 cents for adults and 35 cents for children—also will be available at the cafeteria door.

Aunt Jemima pancake mix is being furnished free for the supper.

The Lions will use the proceeds to pay the expenses of the club queen, Ruth Paken, at the district Lions convention in Pampa next month.

IT'S OFFICIAL: Mayor John C. Haynes is watched closely as he signs a proclamation officially designating March 12-18 "Girl Scout Week" in McLean. On hand for the proclamation signing were three members of Brownie Troop 110 (left to right): Ginger Fuller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Fuller; Cynthia Brooks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Brooks; and Judy Watson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Watson. (McLean News Photo.)

NEW CHURCH IS DEDICATED

First Baptist Church members Sunday were cautioned to use their newly constructed sanctuary only "for the message of Christ."

Rev. Jeff Moore, pastor of Berger's Calvary Baptist Church, declared at dedication services that the $77,000 structure was erected for "one message and one alone—to the preaching for the cause of Christ."

Rev. Moore was guest speaker at special ceremonies observing the completion of the building. Several hundred persons attended.

Rev. Dan Beltz, pastor of the church, presided at the program and led the congregation in the service of dedication.

Dedicatory Prayer

The dedicatory prayer was led by Rev. W. R. Lawrence, pastor of the Clarendon First Baptist Church and a former pastor here.

Rev. S. T. Greenwood of Alanreed led the invocation.

Bringing special music for the program was Bob Callahan, educational director of the Central Baptist Church in Pampa, a trio from that church and the local church choir.

The large new sanctuary is part of a $100,000 expansion and remodeling program started last year by the First Baptist Church.

Other Work Delayed

Improvements in the former sanctuary, constructed in 1927, will not be undertaken at this time. The structure will serve in the future as an educational building.

Members of the church building committee include Joe Suderman, chairman, W. C. (Flea) Simpson, Doyle Brown, Glen Curry and

Salary Increases Voted by Board

The McLean board of education Monday night voted to offer new higher-paying contracts to the business manager and every classroom teacher in the local school system for 1961-62, and also gave raises to the superintendent and two principals.

Felton Webb, rancher north of McLean, was appointed by the board to fill the unexpired term of Charles Hall Jr., who died last Friday.

School board members early in their monthly session this week decided unanimously to offer new contracts to all teachers.

Supt. Lee Welch, High School Principal Bob Green, Grade School Principal Jack Riley, Head Coach Derral Davis and Grade School Coach R. L. Cline had been re-hired for next term at earlier meetings of the board.

Later in the meeting, the board approved a motion giving classroom teachers—with the exception of the coaches—and Business Manager Charles Cousins an increase of $100 per year for 1961-62 and the superintendent and principals a raise of $200 each.

$300 Above Schedule

The $100 will boost local teachers to $300 above the state salary

Association to Meet

The McLean Roundup and Rodeo Association will meet again Saturday to make additional plans for the 66 Rodeo and Horse Show this spring.

John C. Haynes, association president, urged all members to attend the session at 7 p. m. in city hall.

GRASS FIRE DAMAGE HEAVY

McLean volunteer firemen battled their biggest grass fire of the year Sunday eight miles east of the city.

Between two and three sections of pastureland on the Dee McDowell and Bryan Close Ranches were burned by the blaze.

Fanned by a stiff north wind, the fire started along the south edge of Highway 66 and spread swiftly southward.

Firemen from McLean and Shamrock fought for more than two hours before subduing the stubborn fire.

Home Threatened

The McDowell home and out-buildings were threatened by the flames for a time. But firemen were able to bring the fire under control before any of the buildings were damaged.

Three other grass fire alarms were answered by McLean firemen in the past week.

Some 15 acres were burned over north of the city in one, while Tuesday flames were extinguished in a pasture near the Cecil Back residence nine miles north before firemen reached the scene.

Local firemen were summoned west of McLean Wednesday morning to prevent a fire along the Rock Island Railroad right-of-way from spreading into nearby pastureland.

Lamb Buys Partner's Half in Business

Creed Lamb Jr., partner in the Richerson-Lamb Funeral Home here the past five years, has acquired sole ownership of the establishment.

Lamb disclosed that he has purchased the half-interest in the funeral home formerly owned by Glenn Richerson of Shamrock.

The name of the firm has been changed to Lamb Funeral Home.

Associated with funeral homes the past 13 years, Lamb came to McLean in 1956 from Littlefield when he and Richerson purchased the local establishment from J. C. Claborn.

The funeral home has been in operation for more than 20 years.

Lamb and his wife, Wanda, have three children—Regina, 5; Denise, 3; and Creed III, 2½ months. Mrs. Lamb is also a licensed funeral director.

April 15 Deadline For Vehicle Checks

"Motorists who wish to avoid the long lines to obtain annual motor vehicle inspection stickers should take advantage of empty stalls at inspection stations," Capt. Alan Johnson, motor vehicle inspection supervisor of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said this week.

"With the April 15 deadline for obtaining inspection stickers, only 8,870 of the 20,270 vehicles in Gray County have been inspected," Johnson pointed out.

"All drivers operating vehicles registered in Texas on public roads after April 15 without the 1961 inspection sticker will be subject to arrest and a fine of up to $200, plus court cost," Johnson added.

The captain explained that trailers with a gross weight exceeding 4,000 pounds also must be inspected.

The safety inspection sticker which must be on all registered vehicles operated on public streets, roads and highways by midnight, April 15, may be obtained at any of the 20 approved vehicle inspection stations in this county.

16 Persons Hurt In 14 February Mishaps

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated 14 rural accidents in Gray County during February.

Sgt. E. G. Albers, patrol supervisor for this area, reported that no one was killed in the wrecks, but 16 persons were injured and property damage was placed at $5,470.

For the year 1961, one person has been killed, 25 injured and damage to property is estimated at $10,086.

Sgt. Albers urged motorists to practice "defensive driving" in an attempt to reduce the number of accidents.

"If all motorists were alert when driving and knew the tricks used by a professional driver, the number of monthly traffic accidents would drop sharply," he added.

GRASS WATERWAYS TAKE CARE OF RUNOFF WITHOUT EROSION

By DOUGLAS E. BARTOSH
Soil Conservation Service

The purpose of a grassed waterway is to take care of surface water runoff without permitting erosion from terraces, diversions, contour rows or in natural depressions where gullying is evident.

The location and size of the waterway will depend upon many factors. If the field has a depression or draw which is part of a natural drain, the waterway will require a minimum of shaping.

Felton Webb apparently is getting a head start on the rest of us in the beard-growing contest planned in conjunction with the 66 Rodeo and Horse Show.

He had a couple of days' growth when the association decided to hold the contest. So he just set his razor aside.

Mrs. W. didn't particularly go for the idea, declaring that she would pay the $2 for the "Chicken" button. She yielded quickly, though.

Felton informed the wife he had no objections to her buying the button. But she couldn't write a check to pay for it. He'd agree to shaving only if she would earn the money by doing some hard labor—like chopping cotton, etc.

Words of praise for McLean's fine citizens came this week from up Pampa way.

Clyde L. Carruth, superintendent of the Junior Livestock Show held there earlier this month, expressed his gratitude in a letter to the News "to you people for helping make this year's show and sale one of the best in the history of the event."

"The people of your community are to be commended for the interest you take in your young people," he continued. "You have every reason to be proud of your boys and girls, and they in turn have every reason to be grateful to you for the support you gave them in the sale."

More good news came out way Wednesday, when it was announced that Wayland College's Flying Queens won't be disbanded after all.

College officials disclosed that 21 scholarships of $500 each had been pledged to the school, making it possible to keep the Queens flying.

McLean should be especially pleased with the announcement, since it means our own Laura Switzer, one of the Queen's dependable point-masters, can continue bringing fine publicity our way.

Cooper Collaborates On Scientific Paper

A technical paper on which Joe H. Cooper, formerly of McLean, and another writer collaborated will be read at the 13th annual Southwestern Institute of Radio Engineers conference and electronics show in Dallas April 19-21.

Cooper is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Cooper, former McLean residents who now live in Tucuman, N. M., and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. George Colebank, McLean.

He collaborated with Herbert D. Schweitzer in preparing the technical paper, entitled "A Simple Electro-Mechanical Harmonic Analyzer." The paper will soon be published in the Journal of Scientific Instrument Notes.

Cooper, who recently completed work on his master's degree at Baylor University, Waco, is a physics instructor at Baylor.

The size of the waterway is determined by the type of soil, slope, land cover, land use and how much land drains into it.

The type of waterway will depend on the individual farm. Most of the waterways in the Gray County Soil Conservation District are the flat-bottom type, which is the easiest to construct.

The parabolic or ditched type waterway can be easily constructed where a natural depression already occurs. Either of these types can be constructed to allow ease in crossing with modern farm machinery.

Before construction can begin, the width of the waterway should be marked by stakes or plowed strips. All the trees and brush should be cleared from inside the marked area.

Before grass can be seeded into a newly constructed waterway, it is best to establish a dead litter cover. The crops used for this cover may be sudan grass or a forage sorghum.

The cover helps to prevent erosion, improves soil infiltration and provides a stubble in which to seed the permanent grass.

In establishing grassed waterways, choose sod-forming grasses with deep, dense root systems well adapted to your soil and site. Usually a mixture of native grasses is best. The grasses can be either broadcast or drilled into a firm seedbed.

Drilling is usually preferred over broadcast because it gives a uniform depth and distribution of seed.

The waterway should be inspected after each rain and the necessary fills made. Livestock should be kept out until the grass is well established.

The waterway should not be used for a road. In some instances, the grasses in the waterway may be used for seed harvest.

The most common causes of failure of waterways are abuse and neglect. The waterways are often crossed with farm implements which tear up the grass. They are also used as field roads which destroy the grass.

Recent construction of a flat-bottom waterway has been completed on C. L. Weilberg's farm north of Groom. G. W. Schaffer is planning to have two waterways constructed on his farm east of Groom. M. Maness is planning to construct a waterway on his farm west of Pampa.

All of these waterways will be used to carry the water diverted into them by diversion terraces or contour rows.

TELEPHONE TALK
by Joe McDonald, Manager

IMPROVING TELEPHONE SERVICE IN McLEAN
Today, you can reach almost anyone in town or around the country in a matter of seconds . . . by telephone.
If you're curious and want to see what's behind the telephone calls you make and receive, plan to visit our telephone central office real soon. We'll be glad to show you or your club or civic group many of the technical changes in equipment and methods that continue to improve your service. Just call us and let us know when you're coming.
These "behind the scenes" improvements come about in two ways. A great many result from the full-time research carried on by telephone scientists. Other improvements come from ideas of telephone people working right here.
This teamwork between telephone people on the job and scientists in laboratories makes an unbeatable combination. Our goal is simply this: To give you service this year that's better than last year's.

MORE TIME FOR FAMILY FUN
"How do you find time to get everything done and still have time for your family?" I seem to hear that question come up in conversation more and more lately. Here's how one Kansas family found more time to do the things they enjoyed together:
Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Padgett of Dodge City have full-time jobs and two active school age children. They find time for bowling, golf, American Legion, PTA and church work in addition to scout and school activities for the children.
How do they manage to keep up with everything? The Padgetts help . . . two telephones, which they use to save time, tips and energy. Mrs. Padgett says, "I believe we save as much as a day a week in needless trips just by telephoning."
Quite a saving. How about you? Could you use your phones to save time for the family? Why not try them and see.

NEW COMMUNICATIONS SATELLITE ON WAY

Soil Temperature Is Important on Farms Where Cotton Grows

COLLEGE STATION—(Special)—In this age of mechanized cotton production, a uniform stand with desirable plant spacing is a must. Since such a stand requires precise planting operations, both equipment improvements and planting practices are important.

It is also important to take full advantage of the growing season by obtaining a satisfactory stand the first planting.

One guide to use in aiming for maximum germination of the first planting is soil temperature. Temperature is a major factor in seed germination and cottonseed germinates poorly at temperatures lower than 70 degrees Fahrenheit. It has also been proven that seedlings grow more slowly and less vigorously at the lower temperatures.

In order to determine the accuracy of soil temperature as a guide to planting dates, the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station conducted a series of tests at the Lubbock substation. One of the findings was that minimum soil temperatures at an eight-inch depth for the 10-day period preceding planting were useful as planting guides.

It was also found that cotton seedlings emerged in five to nine days when the pre-planting soil temperatures at eight-inch depths averaged 60 degrees or above for 10 days.

But up to 15 days were required for seedling emergence when the average soil temperature was lower.

Another advantage of using soil temperatures instead of currently recommended dates as a planting guide is that it allows earlier or later planting, depending on current weather conditions.

Anyone desiring more information on the tests conducted by the Experiment Station should write the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas, and request a copy of MP-465, "Soil Temperature—A Guide to Timely Cotton Planting."

Social Security Fund At Over $22 Billion

"Your old-age, survivors and disability insurance system is self-supporting through Social Security taxes and interest on its trust funds," according to Harold Geldon, manager of the Amarillo Social Security office.

Contributions from employees, employers and self-employed persons make up the trust funds, Geldon said. Monies not being used to pay for benefits to retired workers, survivors and disabled people are placed in the trust funds and invested in U. S. government securities.

The interest from the investment is added to the reserve fund. Interest now being received is much greater than the total administrative expenses of operating old-age and survivors insurance.

At present the trust fund has a balance of about 22 billion dollars, with interest on securities being over one-half billion a year. This, along with future income from covered workers, is expected to be sufficient to meet all expenditures.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Steed of Beaver, Okla., visited Buel and Miss Dora Watt Saturday afternoon.

NEWS from YOUR COUNTY AGRICULTURAL AGENT TEXAS A. & M. COLLEGE EXTENSION SERVICE

By FOSTER WHALEY

Green Bugs

Numerous fields in the vicinity of Pampa have heavy infestations of green bugs.

The Sailor brothers recently sprayed 110 acres of wheat just south of the Agricultural Building. They used one-half pound of Parathion. The cost was $2.25 per acre for aerial application.

I have checked this once since it was treated and it appeared the chemical was affecting the bugs since most of them were off the wheat and appeared sick.

However, there were plenty of live green bugs three days after treatment.

One thing to remember if you have them and decide to treat: All livestock should be removed from the sprayed area.

The Amarillo Experiment Station reported a nine-bushel increase in yield in 1959 on green bug infested wheat where spraying was carried out.

Junior Livestock Show and Sale

I was reading last week's news story in The McLean News regarding the above and noted the very long list of buyers from McLean. The merchants and other buyers from this area are to be commended for their fine support of the FFA and 4-H youngsters of the McLean area.

Wheat Yield

Quite often this time of the year I have calls from the employment office, railway companies and many others to make an estimate of wheat yield. In this country speculating on wheat yield is as wild as trying to guess the weather.

Recently I ran into a publication of the USDA that had what looked like a good guideline based on depth of moisture at sowing time and with favorable and unfavorable condition after sowing.

The guess 1938-39 was taken as unfavorable and 1945-47 taken as favorable. Here is their observation.

When you have less than 12 inches of moisture at sowing time you can expect 1.4 bushels of wheat if conditions are unfavorable after planting and 9.2 if favorable.

From 12-24 inches of moisture you can expect 3.1 bushels per acre with unfavorable conditions and 10.8 with favorable conditions.

From 25-36 inches of moisture you should make 8.5 with unfavorable conditions and 19.7 with favorable conditions.

Funeral Held Tuesday For Robert L. Parker

Last rites for Robert Lee Parker, grandfather of R. C. Parker of McLean, were held Tuesday in the College Heights Baptist Church in Plainview.

Interment was in Hillcrest Cemetery in McLean.

A retired farmer, Mr. Parker died Monday morning while visiting a son, O. D. Parker, in Plainview. He was 94 and his home was in Amarillo.

J. B. Waltrip was dismissed from Highland General Hospital Monday.

favorable conditions. With 37 or more inches of moisture you should make 12.6 bushels with unfavorable conditions and 26.2 with favorable conditions.

Wheat Pasture Cattle

I was visiting with Bob Andis, prominent cattleman in the Pampa area who has taken delivery on thousands of cattle the last two to three weeks. He says most of the cattle are showing a 300 pound weight gain. That is, cattle that went on wheat in October weighing 350 to 450 pounds.

This has been a very profitable year for wheat pasture cattle. The 600 to 700-pound steers purchased in September seemed to have made the most profit.

Price increases have been as much as five cents per pound plus a tremendous gain on wheat pasture. Profits on this class of cattle have exceeded $75 per head in some cases.

Cull cows made some fast profits on wheat also. This class of cattle probably made the quickest profit of them all. I know of two bunches that made $50 per head owned less than one month. The 1960-61 period will be used for many years to come as a year to refer to.

Conditions change fast in this part of the country but 1961 has a good start. We have a good sub-soil moisture, plenty reserve grass. Cattle numbers are down to 97 million head, eight million less than what the experts had us a year earlier.

Human population increasing at a higher rate than cattle population and demand for small-carcass cattle mean the same number of cows as 10 years ago will result in less pounds of beef today.

A man who dislikes work was stretched out under the protecting shade of an elm tree when his wife came out of the house and awakened him.

Wife—Loafing, loafing, you're always loafing.

Husband—Well, it beats doing nothing, doesn't it?

There'll be no loafing at our station when you bring your car by for a check-up, a wash and grease job, or a tank of gasoline. Our employees are always eager to serve you.

WALTER ROGERS REPORTS

THE CONNALLY AMENDMENT

Just over a year ago, and on Feb. 1, 1961, I wrote you concerning the "Connally Amendment." In that newsletter I paid tribute to the greatness of Tom Connally, the former United States Senator from Texas. No tribute was more justly deserved.

Tom Connally deserves splendid tribute from all Americans for the outstanding contributions he made in public service. Surely there are those who did not like Tom Connally, as is the case with all human beings, but even those must admit that the mark he left by the "Connally Amendment" is an all-American mark and a mark of distinction.

His agile mind and quick tongue made him a much-feared foe in debate on the Senate floor. He is reputed to have told one vociferous opponent the following: "If the gentleman would approach these problems with an open mind instead of an open mouth, he would be much more effective."

When asked last year for his opinion on the move to repeal the "Connally Amendment," he branded the move as a propaganda device designed to "win an international popularity contest."

This rather effectively summed up the situation, in my opinion.

For the benefit of those who have heard of the "Connally Amendment" but who have not had the opportunity of studying it, may I say that it consists of six words, which are "as determined by the United States." These words are attached to a portion of the United States Declaration of Acceptance of the World Court jurisdiction, and I quote:

"This declaration shall not apply to

"(b) Disputes with regard to matters which are essentially within the domestic jurisdiction of the United States of America as determined by the United States."

That portion in bold face is the Connolly reservation, or amendment, whichever you prefer to call it. You can readily see the effect of this amendment. The particular paragraph above quoted, without the Connally Amendment, would have left jurisdiction to the World Court.

The World Court consists of 15 judges elected by the General Assembly and the Security Council of the United Nations for nine-year terms. Its headquarters are at The Hague.

On Jan. 27, 1960, the 15 members or judges of the World Court came from the following countries: One from the United States, one from Great Britain, and one from Australia. The others were citizens of the United Arab Republic, Nationalist China, Greece, Poland, France, Mexico, Panama, Argentina, Uruguay, Norway, Pakistan and Soviet Russia.

It is interesting to note that only three of the judges are from countries whose basis of law is the common law. Four are Latin-Americans, two are from Moslem countries, two from Communist countries, one Chinese and one each from Greece, Norway and France.

Volumes could be written as to the built-in dangers of such a situation, but since that amount of space is not available in this newsletter, I think it is sufficient to observe that Americans acquainted with the issue would immediately recognize the inherent dangers of distortion, modification, misinterpretation and outright abuse of the Bill of Rights and the Constitution which are the protecting armor of the American citizen.

Without the Connally Amendment this armor would have been broken in many places. Its preservation is vital if the sovereignty of the United States is to be maintained.

CUBAN REPRESENTATIVE HAS TROUBLES

Eight Cuban women refugees and one District of Columbia resident invaded the Inter-American Defense Board and proceeded to tell Jose Meleon, Castro's delegate to the board, exactly what they thought of him in loud, fast and emotional Spanish.

The word was that even those who did not speak Spanish had no doubts as to how the women felt toward the Castro government. As a result of this action, the Defense Board did not have its meeting.

The women finally left the premises, but only after they were fully satisfied that they had opened the eyes of the Latin-American presidents and representatives as to their feelings of protest.

TERRITORIAL DEPUTY BILLS

Several bills have been introduced to provide certain territories of the United States with representation in the Congress of the United States. The territories are Guam, the Virgin Islands, and American Samoa.

The deputies would be elected by popular vote for a two-year term, would receive the same compensation and have the same privileges as representatives, but would not have the right to vote.

Proponents of these measures vigorously deny that this is a move toward statehood or commonwealth status on the part of any of these territories. The present maintenance of the governments of these territories requires supplemental payments from the taxpayers of the Continental United States.

Any additional costs would be further impositions on the Continental taxpayers. I fail to see the need for this legislation or any benefits that could flow from it. I can see the additional costs and the possibility of troubles.

VISITORS

We had the pleasure of visiting with several people from the Panhandle this week, including Bill Waldrep, C. Palmer Norton and Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Peeler, all from Hereford. A fine student delegation from Amarillo High School came by the office also: Gene Fowler, Danny Moreland, Bobby Simpson and Bob McDaniel, who were accompanied by J. F. Paschal and Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Simpson.

IT'S TIME TO LAY PLANS FOR WINDBREAK TO PROTECT FARM

Now is the time to lay plans for planting that farmstead windbreak the wife has been thinking about so long.

A well designed windbreak serves many purposes; protection to soil resources, control of snow deposition, prevention of wind damage to farmsteads, shelter for livestock and aesthetic value to the home.

According to the Soil Conservation Service, windbreaks should be arranged to give protection from north, west and southwest directions. Where possible, straight lines in a combination of east-west and north-south belts are most suitable, but rolling topography may require contour plantings.

Farmstead windbreaks should be located from 125 to 200 feet from the main building or area to be protected, and the majority of windbreaks should be planned for three or four rows.

Spacing between the rows may vary from a minimum of 10 to 16 feet, depending upon the soil moisture relations. Spacing between trees within the row will vary from 1 1/2 to 10 feet, depending upon species to be planted.

Low growing shrubs are normally planted at three and four feet intervals while trees are customarily set at eight to 10 feet.

Serious thought should be given to site preparation as improperly prepared sites frequently result in high mortality rates in the young seedlings. Not only does this decrease the effectiveness of the barrier, but replacement of seedlings also increases the cost.

Where wind erosion is a hazard, planting of sorghum, sudan, miller, or broomcorn in close spaced rows will provide excellent dead litter to plant in but may require mowing or shredding to a stubble height of six to 10 inches to prevent seed maturity.

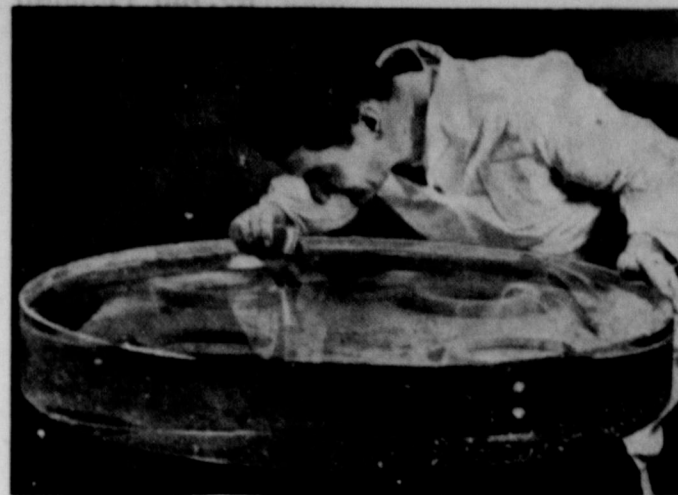

Only acclimated stock grown from seed sources satisfactory for west Texas should be purchased. Be sure you consider drought resistance, cold hardness, disease resistance, etc., when selecting your species.

You may desire to consult your local Soil Conservation Service technician for further information.

Up for Grabs

This child—your child—will live under Communism. Mr. Khrushchev said so. He and Communists around the world are determined to destroy freedom and the free enterprise system for all Americans—as soon as possible. It can happen without guns. The method is a continuous, systematic program of propaganda, infiltration and sabotage. You have watched it happen in Cuba. Communist brain troopers are always on the move to capture hearts and minds. Your defense is a steadfast belief in freedom and justice—the American Way of Life. You must maintain it, teach it, pass it on to succeeding generations.

Speak Up for Freedom!

You can speak up for freedom right now...

Your dollars are needed to help build the American Freedom Center at Valley Forge. You can speak up for freedom by contributing Freedom Bricks.

The Freedom Center will provide research and library facilities for all individuals, groups and organizations seeking to defend and interpret the free American system. It will house the award-winning materials of over one million entries in Freedoms Foundation's eleven annual National Awards Programs.

Freedoms Foundation was founded in 1949 to help maintain the American Way and pass it on intact to each generation. You can strike an effective blow against communism by joining Freedoms Foundation's FOR AMERICANISM program. The Foundation is non-profit, nonpartisan, nonsectarian. Membership is open to all patriots. Dwight D. Eisenhower is Honorary Chairman.

Baptist Church Holds Annual Banquet To Honor Lefors Seniors

"Sea of Life," senior banquet given by the Lefors Baptist Church
March 11 in the church dining room, congratulated the 1961 graduating class.

The annual banquet is given for the purpose of encouraging the seniors to attend Christian schools, and offers literature from all Christian colleges for the young people. Place favors are furnished by the various colleges.

Mrs. R. N. Cypert, WMU president, welcomed the guests with Winford Nowlin, president of the senior class, responding. Rev. L.
M. Berry gave the invocation for the meal.

Philip Earhart was master of ceremonies.

A group of students from Oklahoma Baptist University presented the program. "The Sea of Life" was the topic of the guest speaker,
Ronald Lewis, a student preacher.

Wendell Crittenden presented a trombone solo, Judy Holmsten sang several selected numbers, and Pat
Berry, daughter of Rev. and Mrs.
L. M. Berry, gave a medley of numbers at the piano.

The lights were covered in blue paper with blue streamers covering the ceiling, giving an undersea effect. The tables were draped with white cloths and were center with white candles in crystal holders and sea shell arrangements, glittered starfish, etc.

A painted picture of a boat sailing across blue waters formed the background for the head table, which was centered with an arrangement of sea shell flowers on pink net with pink glittered star-fish. The scene paralleled the human life to the literal sea with the calm and troubled waters.

Wall murals of seashores afloat underwater scene, the doors being draped with fish nets covered in aquamarine figures.

Politicians often get in office by making a lot of promises which they never intend to keep. Then stay in by keeping off of everyone's toes.

One politician said that his two happiest days in office were his first day and the last.

When one party is sworn in, the other goes out swearing, promising that all manner of evil will come to pass before they can get back in position to save us.

Sometimes the more we think we know, the better we express our ignorance.

A taxpayer is a person that has the government on his payroll.

This and that:
If we want a short winter we should make a note that is due in the spring.

The rising generation retires about the same time as the retiring generation rises.
A woman's promise carries a lot of weight.

If absence makes the heart grow fonder, there must be a lot of folks desperately in love with their church.

Some folks are like an open book. The only trouble is that we can't shut them up.

An old dog can't alter his barking.

A threadbare coat is armor against a beggar.

Better to wear out shoes than sheets.

A wager is a fool's argument.

105 Arrested For Headlighting Game

AUSTIN—(Special)—Game wardens took 105 Texans into court during the month of January for headlighting game, according to the monthly arrest report of Capt. E. M. Sprott, director of law enforcement of the Game and Fish Commission.

Also during the month there were 85 arrests for failure to have hunting and fishing licenses. The wardens made a total of 418 arrests for the month. Courts assessed fines and cost at $18,518.20.

Night hunting has been the bane for failure to pay fines.

There were 16 persons arrested for killing deer in closed season; 23 for having untaxed deer; 30 for shooting from automobiles, and two for "telephoning" fish.

Night hunting has been the bane of game wardens. They are called upon nightly by persons who hear shooting on known deer range. The wardens then must get the violators with evidence that will stand up in court.

Usually they are able to bring in the carcass of the dead animal.

Some night shooters just pot the game from the road side and drive on, leaving the animal for vultures.

Mrs. Birdie Golightly, Buel and Miss Dora Watt visited in Pampa Sunday. They visited their brother, Carson Watt, in the hospital. Accompanying them was Cary Lee, who had been visiting his grandmother, Mrs. Golightly, for a few days.
