The dictionary defines extortion as "the act or practice of extorting money or other property by force or illegal power or ingenuity". It's illegal. Isn't it?

It doesn't seem so in the case of insurance companies! What they do sure bears a close resemblance, and they have lots of tricks to boot.

I begin this by saying I mean nothing against the friendly insurance agent, who is pretty much at the mercy of the big insurance companies just as we are.

But the insurance companies...now that's another matter. While extortion may be a harsh word, I know no other that fits the situation as well.

Very few of us are unfamiliar with the practice insurance companies are currently using of cancelling insurance policies unless the amount of the policy is raised. Of course, that means that the premiums are raised too! Yet, when something happens they are very prone to say "oh, sorry, that's not worth what you have it insured for...we're only going to pay half of that".

Another wonderful practice is to take insurance premiums for many, many years, then, when they have to pay off, cancel the policy. Of course, at a higher rate, (much higher) insurance CAN be had!

Here's an example. For twenty years Mr. & Mrs. Premium have kept full coverage on their vehicles. They had no tickets...no accidents, no claims.

Then, within the space of one and a half years they two broken windshields and a damaged fender when a limb fell on it. Insurance paid out $350 in claims.

At the end of the premium year the couple is notified that they were not going to have their policy renewed because of too many claims!

Furious they call around to other companies, and are told "If you've had three claims in that length of time you better be glad they kept you...I wouldn't try to switch".

They are told by one agent that if he got a windshield broken there was no way he would file on his insurance...it just wasn't worth it!

After paying in almost $19,000 in premiums they are cancelled because of $350 in claims!

We all know that this problem extends into health care...into home owners policies, into liability and so on.

We know of another case where a church was told if they didn't double the amount of their insurance they wouldn't get insurance.

I'm sure everyone out there could write a story or two of their own.

I know that there are those people who cheat insurance companies. Burning one's house down for money is pathetic. It also results in higher premiums for us all. It's disgusting.

But big companies blame all the high rates on that type of thing. They whine that they make no money. (They also manipulate those figures, leaving off things like the amount they earn on premium money by investments). They have very, very powerful lobbies at both state and nationwide levels.

We all say "there is nothing we can do about it".

I disagree. We need to write, protest, complain...to Austin, to Washington, to insurance companies, to anyone we can.

It's for certain that nothing's going to change if we DON'T do something!

Come on, let's make a difference. Let's do a little fighting back!

Wayne McLaren Dedicates Last Days To Helping Others

Wayne McLaren of Costa Mesa, California is dead. He was better known as the rugged, handsome "Marlboro Man" in cigarette ads. He was the father of Missy Merritt of Pattonville, and he died as an anti-smoking crusader after developing lung cancer.

McLaren was a rodeo rider, actor, Hollywood stuntman, and one of several dozen models hired in 1975 to appear in Marlboro magazine and billboard ads, evoking a taut and handsome smoker's image for the brand.

He was diagnosed with lung cancer about two years ago, and died in Newport Beach, California on July 22.

He fought a hard battle, and daughter Missy says that some of his last words were "take care of the children. Tobacco will kill you, and I am proof of it".

Last spring he appeared before a meeting of stockholders of Phillip Morris, Inc., maker of Marlboro and asked them to limit their advertising. He made other public appearances to warn about the dangers of smoking.

He testified before the combined Senate and House of Representatives Committee on Health for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, "I know that all of you can act pretty quickly when there's a need to...just as in the serious situation of silicone breast implants; and, I know that I'm here to answer some of your questions, which I'll do the best I can to do, but I'd like to close with a question of my own for your consideration: "If it's true, as our Federal Government tells us, that 460,000 people die every year from tobacco-caused diseases, isn't that serious enough to do the same kinds of things you would for any other product with lethal consequences?"

On Wayne's last trip to Pattonville he met with a few people and explained the risk he felt they were taking when they decided to smoke. He was also able to visit with an old rodeo buddy from Deport, Frank Rhoades.

He told his six year old grandson

Jake to "always remember to say no to smoking. Jake said "I say no to drugs and now no to smoking"

Now, when young Jake is asked what smoking will do to you he says "It will kill you like it did to Pa Wayne".

Missy Merritt wants to help carry on her father's work, urging family members to truly try hard to quit the habit, reminding them that it could add years to their life.

"In the case of my father, he didn't stop soon enough and smoking ended his life at an early age. It is hard to lose a loved one who is addicted to such a habit...smoking. I realize that it would make my father's passing a whole lot easier if our government would really act to help his kind, our young adults, and even our older citizens to never think about or experiment with or use tobacco again," she says.

The rugged cowboy image that was Wayne McLaren is gone, but his daughter hopes that he will have helped others in his final days.

Talco-Bogata Trustees Takes Bids, Hires

The Talco-Bogata CISD Board of Trustees met on July 23, first dealing with general business, taking bids for food supplies. The milk and juice bid went to Oak Farms Dairies; ice cream went to Blue Bell; bread went to Wonder, Redearn Bakeries, Mt. Pleasant.

Lunch prices were set at K-8 $1.20; 9-12 $1.40.

The board accepted gasoline and oil bid from Clarksville Oil and Gas of Clarksville.

Kip Stansell submitted his resignation, and the board accepted with regret.

Kelly Stansell was hired as a science teacher to replace Johnny Gable, who left to become principal on the Talco campus.

The remainder of the meeting was spent in budget study.

They adjourned at 10:15 and the next meeting will be August 13 at 7:30 p.m.

LOOKING BACK-Missy Merritt looks over some of the ads, mementoes and pictures of her father. Wayne McLaren was an actor, rodeo rider and stunt man. He was also one of the well-known "Marlboro Men". After being diagnosed with lung cancer he began an active anti-smoking campaign. He died July 22.

DEBBIE AND STEPHANIE Eppler are pictured cooking dinner in the kitchen of their

Country Cooking

By Judy Screws

Debbie and Davis (Booger) Eppler live west or southwest of Pattonville at the end of a road, or in that general vicinity. We had written directions to their home, but I guess we zigged when we should have zagged, because we had to start over before we finally found the right road. Anyway, they live in the Prairiland School District and their son Spencer, who is 14, attends Prairiland High School and Stephanie, age 11, goes to school at Blossom.

Debbie is a department manager at Wal-Mart in Paris, and Booger works at Jackson's Dairy. Stephanie plays softball for the YWCA Angels and enjoys cooking desserts. Spencer plays the baritone horn in the school band. The family enjoys swimming, camping and going out to eat together.

Since we arrived later than intended, Debbie and Stephanie had started preparing dinner. She prefers to cook casseroles or quickly put together recipes because of their busy schedules.

In the last two years, Debbie has lost 85 pounds by cutting down on the fat in her diet. After she had been dieting only a few months, she lost enough weight to start buying Rocky Mountain jeans and Justin ropers that she had wanted so badly, but wouldn't buy them until she lost some weight. During that period, tragedy struck the family when they had a housefire. When Booger arrived, everything was burning fast. He got their van and boat away from the house and then pulled the air conditioner out of the window of his and Debbie's room. He looked in the window and saw the closet holding Debbie's clothes and crawled through the window and threw all her clothing outside. Later when she asked him why he was so determined to get her clothes out, he told her that all he could think of were those jeans and boots and how much they would cost to replace. Debbie managed a smile, even though she was very emotional. As she showed us Spencer's black and white room and Stephanie's pink and blue room that they decorated themselves, she emphasized how much love she feels for friends and family who helped them through this devastating period and pointed out all the work and gifts which represent so much love to her.

All of the recipes in the column this week can be used in a reduced fat diet. Stephanie's peanut butter cookies would be the exception. Debbie's mother gave her the Stuffed Green Pepper recipe and the Fruit Cocktail Salad was one of Booger's Granny Eppler's.

Don't forget to write or call recipes and suggestions and have a special week!

Barbeque Turkey Burgers

By Debbie Eppler

2 lbs. ground turkey
1 onion, chopped
1 tsp. garlic powder
salt and pepper to taste
1 T. beef bouillon, granulated
1-8 oz. barbeque sauce
Brown meat about halfway done, add onion, garlic, salt, pepper and bouillon. Mix well and cook 10 minutes more. Add barbeque sauce and let simmer for 15 minutes. Place a spoonful on a hamburger bun. You have a great low-fat burger.

Fruit Cocktail Salad

16 oz. fruit cocktail
11 oz. mandarin oranges
8 oz. cool whip
8 oz. sour cream
10 1/2 oz. small marshmallows
3 oz. strawberry jello
In large bowl, mix sour cream and cool whip together. Drain juice from fruit cocktail and mandarin oranges. Add to above mixture. Pour in marshmallows. Mix well. If you use light cool whip and no fat sour cream, this can be low fat and taste great!

Stuffed Green Peppers

6 large green peppers
1 lb. ground beef or 2 lbs. ground turkey
1 clove garlic, peeled and chopped
salt and pepper
10 oz. tomatoes, crushed
3 tsp. mixed herbs, oregano and basil
1/2 cup cooked rice
1 tsp. worcestershire sauce
Boil green peppers in salted water for 10 minutes. Cut a hole from stem end of each pepper, let drain. Remove seeds. Brown meat and garlic for 10 minutes. Season with salt and pepper. Add rice, mix well. Fill peppers with meat mixture. Place upright in baking dish. Simmer crushed tomatoes for 5 minutes. Add herbs to taste. Pour tomatoes over peppers. Bake 25 minutes at 350. Makes 6 servings.

Cajun Corn

2 1/2 qt. popped corn
1/4 cup melted butter
1 tsp. paprika
1/2 cup garlic powder
1/4 tsp. cayenne pepper
1 tsp. lemon pepper

Pour butter over warm popcorn. Combine remaining seasoning and sprinkle over popcorn. Toss to mix. Bake in 300 oven for crispy popcorn if desired. Makes 2 1/2 quarts.

Peanut Butter Cookies

2 1/2 cups flour
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. baking soda
1 cup margarine or butter
1 cup peanut butter
1 cup white sugar
1 cup brown sugar, packed
2 eggs

Mix flour, salt and baking soda. Set aside, mix butter and peanut butter. Add both kinds of sugar, mix well, add eggs and beat well. Stir flour mixture into peanut butter mixture. Drop dough from a spoon on cookie sheet. Flatten with a fork. Bake at 375 for 10-15 minutes until lightly browned. This makes 4 to 5 dozen cookies.

Marble Squares

by Emily Spencer

1-8 oz. package cream cheese
2 1/3 cups sugar
3 eggs
3/4 cup water

1/2 teaspoon salt
1-6oz. pkg. semi-sweet chocolate pieces
Combine softened cream cheese and 1/3 cup sugar, mixing well until well blended. Blend in one egg. In saucepan, combine water, margarine and chocolate, bring to a boil. Remove from heat, add combined remaining sugar and flour, mix well. Blend in remaining eggs, sour cream, baking soda and salt. Pour in greased and floured 15 1/2x10 1/2" jelly roll pan. Spoon cream cheese mixture over chocolate batter. Cut through batter several times for marble effect; sprinkle with chocolate pieces. Bake at 375 for 25-30 minutes. Cool, cut into squares.

Wilcox-Hoffman Exchange Wedding Vows

The tranquil beauty of Tankersly Gardens was the setting for the candlelight ceremony uniting the Hoffman family on July 18.

Parents of the couple are Bobby Edge of Talco and Prof. and Mrs. John Hoffman, Sr. of Stillwater, OK. The honorable Vanoy Boozier officiated the double-ring ceremony. The entry of the chapel was decorated with the registry table which held a portrait of the new family, a basket of pink wedding scrolls and the bride's throw-away bouquet.

Piano music was provided by Helen Boozier, with contemporary love songs being played throughout the ceremony. Love songs chosen by the couple to signify their love for one another and their commitment as a family.

The bride, escorted and given in marriage by her mother, Bobby Edge, was radiant in an ivory Lillie Rubin design embellished with iridescent sequins, beading and pearls. The gown featured an open diamond back. She carried a huge bouquet of teal and ivory roses, pink hyacinths, English ivy and stephanotis. Her headpiece was an ivory cap adorned with teal and pink mini-roses and a tulle puff bow in back. Cassee Wilcox accompanied her mother in pink taffeta with a full balloon skirt, lace trim and matching shoes. She carried a nosegay of teal and pink mini-roses.

The groom and his attendant, Calan Wilcox, were attired in ivory Pierre Cardin full dress tuxedos with teal cummerbunds.

The ceremony began with the lighting of the candles by Cassee and Calan.

After playing "All I Have" by Beth Nielsen Chapman, the couple exchanged their vows, which they wrote themselves, together with the children. "If You Asked Me To" by Celine Dion was played, followed by the lighting of the unity candle. The final love song "I Do It For You" by Bryan Adams closed the ceremony.

Entertainment for the evening was provided by Callie Joyce Carrell, age 1, flower girl, daughter of Wally and Leah Carrell of Grand Saline and Jake Gathright, age 3, ringbearer, son of Johnny and Karen Gathright of Foreman, AR. Callie was attired in a pink taffeta dress similar to the bridal attendant and she carried a heart shaped basket of rose petals. Jake was in full dress ivory tuxedo identical to the groom's and carried an ivory lace rin pillow.

A reception followed in the gazebo of the Gardens. The sumptuous 3-tiered wedding cake was topped with three full bloom roses and had profuse spirals of roses. The bride's bouquet served as centerpiece for the table. Serving cake and punch to all the guests were Billie Neal and Deanna Edge, sisters of the bride. Many strolled the Gardens and enjoyed the lush greenery and flowers.

After a 2 1/2 week honeymoon in Paris, France a touring the French Riviera, the couple will return to their new home in Bedford.

HEAT or ICE?

How To Treat Those Aches & Pains

(Second In A Series)

A question I encounter often as a physical therapist is whether it is more effective to use ice or heat in the home treatment of everyday aches and pains. The answer is that both are effective if used at the proper time. The application of mild heat to the injured area 2 to 3 days after the injury is an effective method of assisting the healing process. By effectively increasing local blood flow, mild heat facilitates the removal of waste products and the deliverance of needed nutrients. Similar to ice, heat is effective in decreasing pain without medication. To summarize, ice is most effective if used early in the treatment process, with heat being the treatment of choice 2 to 3 days after the injury. Remember, if symptoms of pain, swelling and loss of function persist, contact your physician promptly.
