

DID GEORGE MAKE IT?

He did not. Whether the Braves' George Brewer, top picture, touched home plate before he was tagged by Tiger Catcher Ernest Moody is beside the point. He had come two bases on an overthrown ball and had to return to third to come home on another play. Richard Sims, right, was pitching with a badly swollen face from a fall on his pogo stick. Below, Ernest barely misses a ball as Randall Sims steals home. Batter Donnie Settles has his back to camera.

Board Sets Oil and Gas Tax Valuation

The Collingsworth County Commissioners Court sat as an oil and gas equalization board Monday, July 8, to set up the formula to be used for oil and gas taxation for 1968.

For several years the county has employed the services of Thomas Y. Pickett & Co., Inc., valuation engineers specializing in oil and gas properties, to advise it on the oil and gas valuations in the county.

Meeting with the equalization board were representatives of two producers in the north part of the county, El Paso Natural Gas Co., and E. R. Sidwell, along with several engineers.

Upon completing the tax equalization, the Commissioners then convened for the regular session of commissioners court, during which routine business was taken care of.

New Patrolman to Take Over Duties July 18

Highway Patrolman Doug Wright of Pampa has been assigned to Wellington and will take over his duties here on Thursday, July 18, Sheriff John Rainey said this week.

Patrolman Wright has been with the Texas Department of Public Safety for more than a year.

He will work alone in his new assignment, co-operating with county and city law enforcement officers.

He is married and has a small son.

Man Escapes as Car Flips

A Wellington man, due to leave later this week for Vietnam with the Navy, escaped with apparent minor injuries when his car overturned about 2:45 a.m. Monday, July 8.

He is J. R. Nelson, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Barnett, according to Deputy Sheriff George Hooten.

The accident occurred when Nelson lost control of his car on a curve eight miles southeast of Wellington on FM 338, according to Deputy Hooten.

He said Nelson reported that a car pulled in front of him from a side road.

Assisting in the investigation was Highway Patrolman Richard Pate of Childress.

Nelson, who attended high school here, has been in the Navy about six and a half years and was home on leave prior to going to Vietnam.

Lite-A-Bike Program

VFW Plans Bicycle Safety Drive July 12

Every bicycle a safe bicycle is the aim of the Lite-A-Bike program to be sponsored by Elgin Moore Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Wellington Saturday, July 13.

Plans were announced by the co-chairmen, Commander A. J. Fires and Quartermaster Louis Berg.

All boys and girls who have bicycles are asked to bring them to the north side of Elgin Park Saturday at 1:00 p.m., where strips of red and silver Scotchlite tape will be applied at no cost to the bike owner.

"Two short silver strips will be wrapped around the handlebars of the bicycles, two long silver strips will be placed on the front forks, and three red strips will be placed horizontally on the rear fender so the bicycle can be seen from the front, sides or rear at night," said Mr. Berg.

The tape can be seen from as far as 1,500 feet by motorists.

The chairmen are asking members of Post 6439 to be present to help with the taping.

The VFW is including motorcycles and motorbikes in the safety program also, Berg announced.

Parents of small children are asked to come along to help handle the bicycles.

"This is strictly a donation by the VFW in an effort to promote safety among bicycle riders in Wellington," Mr. Berg emphasized.

Bank Assets Set Mid-Season Record of Near $10 Million

For the fifth consecutive year, assets of Collingsworth's three banks have broken the mid-season high and set new records in county financial history.

Fort the third year, assets are above the nine million dollar mark, and for the first time ever they approach the ten million dollar figure.

At the close of business June 29, assets totaled $9,991,667.52 reported in the call to the Federal Reserve Bank and the State Banking Commissioner. Reporting were the City State Bank and Wellington State Bank in Wellington, and the First State Bank in Dodson.

1967 record of $9,418,646.44, just as it in turn surpassed the 1966 total of $9,125,210.71.

The mid-year asset total in 1965 was eight and one-half million and it in turn surpassed the 1964 assets by more than a quarter-million dollars.

1965 mid-year assets were $8,590,261.17; in 1964 they were $8,249,107.45; in 1963, the figure was $7,408,796.59.

Deposits on June 29 were $9,137,905.40, the first time in county history they have passed the nine million mark.

A year ago deposits were $8,591,005.56; at mid-year 1966, they were $8,348,768.26. Three years ago they were $7,838,606.69; four years ago they were $7,515,367.60; and five years ago deposits totaled $6,776,334.11. All these are mid-year figures.

Demand deposits June 29 were $5,188,789.96, down a little from the figure a year ago, due to heavy loss of wheat in the May 31 rain and hailstorm.

Time deposits—those interest-bearing deposits that represent money Collingsworth County people have invested in their banks—totals $3,120,211.07. The remainder of the deposit figure represents deposits of the United States government, state and political subdivisions, and certified and officers' checks, etc.

Loans and discounts on June 29 were $6,066,626.38, up from last year's figure of $5,223,042.40.

Undivided profits represent another high, $339,406.88. Other mid-season figures in this category were:

1967—$318,763.77
1965—$235,473.59

The growth of Collingsworth County's financial structure has been steady and continuous over the past decade. The June report to the Federal Reserve Bank and the State Banking Commissioner always reflects the low point of the year financially for this part of the state, oriented as it is to a cotton-wheat-livestock economy.

Curtis Wayne Gray, 35, was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Joseph's Hospital at 4:45 a.m. Sunday, July 7, after becoming critically ill at his home north of Wellington.

His death followed a long period of ill health, but formerly he was a valued employee of Lone Star Gas Company and active in the Wellington Volunteer Fire Department.

Mr. Gray was born at Quail Nov. 28, 1933, the son of Mrs. Vona Gray and the late Homer Gray. He received his education in the county schools.

He was married to Miss Sally Langley on July 14, 1951, in Wellington.

"We are going ahead, trying to get things back in shape, but we don't know how far to go," Judge Thomas said. One bridge has been replaced already so families living beyond it can get out, he said.

C-C Praises Weed Cutting

Weeds, both those that have been cut and those that should be cut, were discussed at the meeting of Chamber of Commerce directors Monday evening, July 8.

The cooperation of city residents in cutting weeds since the Chamber requested that this be done was commended by the directors. The difference is most noticeable, President Jeff Wilson pointed out.

Mayor John Coleman, who is the West Texas Chamber of Commerce director from this county, told the board that the new mowing machine the city purchased has been received and plans are being made for further mowing of weeds.

Mr. Wilson also told the board that the carnival sought for the County Fair Sept. 6 and 7 will not be able to appear.

County Receives Disaster Aid OK

Collingsworth County has been declared a major disaster area as a result of damage from heavy rains May 31, County Judge Zook Thomas was notified Tuesday, July 9.

Gov. John Connally said Monday that President Johnson had declared four counties in Texas as major disaster areas. The other three are in South Texas—Aransas, Refugio, and San Patricio.

The declaration qualifies the counties for federal aid to repair public works and buildings. In the case of Collingsworth County, this will be road and road structure rebuilding and repair.

President Johnson allocated $300,000 for the Texas counties, but the specific amount that will come to Collingsworth County has not been announced.

Col. Christian of the Department of Public Safety, Division of Defense and Disaster Relief, told Judge Thomas by phone that a team from his office will be here to make a detailed survey of the damage.

A date for the team's arrival was not given, but it is expected to be within a short time.

The team will determine how much money will be allocated for each of more than 30 projects destroyed or damaged by Mrs. J. W. (Chub) White is in critical condition in the intensive care unit of Northwest Texas Hospital, Amarillo, from injuries received in a two-car collision Sunday, July 7.

The accident occurred three-fourths mile west of Wellington on FM 338 about 8 p.m., Sheriff John Rainey said.

Kiwanis vs Jaycees

Donkey Baseball Game Slated in Local Park

Baseball will take on a new dimension at Marian Airpark Diamond Saturday, July 13, when the Jaycees meet the Kiwanians—on donkeys.

This Donkey ball game will start at 8 p.m. and is the first baseball of this type to be played here.

The Donkey Baseball game will start at 8 p.m.

All players and officials will be mounted, but whether the men and animals will play by the same rules remains to be seen.

Any stubbornness on the part of either will only add to the fun.

This is a benefit event, and proceeds will be divided between the two clubs to help finance their projects.

Admission will be $1.00 for adults and 75¢ for students. As far as practice is concerned, neither team will be at an advantage, for none of the players will have made the acquaintance of his mount until game time.

The stock is being furnished by Ralph E. Godfrey of Crescent, Okla., and are known to be stubborn and ornery.

Both Kiwanians and Jaycees are in the process of recruiting their teams.

Patriotic Sing-Out Gets Enthusiastic Response

The deep and abiding patriotism of this area found voice Tuesday evening, July 2, in Wellington's first Sing-Out for America.

Approximately 300 persons, who represented all parts of the county, sang familiar songs that have bolstered faith in the nation throughout its history.

Then the crowd listened while its teenagers, children and adult groups gave other songs, some composed within the lifetime of the performers.

Dr. Chas. B. Jones, who proposed the Sing-Out, was master of ceremonies, and enthusiastic response to the patriotic event could be summarized in the hope that it will be presented on an even larger scale next year.

Paul Guthrie sang "The Star-Spangled Banner" to open the program, then the audience paid tribute to four services with "The Caissons Go Rolling Along," "Anchors Aweigh," "Air Force Song," and "Marines Hymn."

After the Community Youth Choir sang "This Is My Country," King Bowen gave two favorites as piano solos, "Under the Double Eagle" and "The Stars and Stripes Forever."

A group of girls sang "American Heritage." These were Adelle Burquist, Elaine Karnes, Mickey Ann Kendrick, Carey Lewis, Debbie Lewis and Cathy Singley.

Then Billy Lemmons gave as a vocal solo "How Great Thou Art."

A brass ensemble from the Wellington High School Band included David Groves, Barry Johnson, Dickie Johnson, Chris Hubbard and Billy McAlister.

"This Land Is Your Land" was sung by college students home for the summer, Regina Ferguson, Johnny Ford, Gail Nichols of Dallas, Jerry Rainey, Karen Richardson, Linda Richardson, Bob Sanford, Nancy Sanford, and Bill Spillman, to the guitar accompaniment of Ronnie Hurst and Bill Tyler.

Three vocalists, Mickey Ann Kendrick, Debbie Lewis and Elaine Karnes sang "Let There Be Peace," then four young girls, The Sunshine Group, gave "God Is Able." They were Maggie Lemmons, Tina Powell, Felicia Lemmons and Rita Shrubs.

Directed by Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Isbell, the Trinity Methodist Church Choir sang "America the Beautiful," and Mrs. Ernest Harwell led the B&PW Choraleers in "God Bless Our Land."

Again Wellington's youth appeared, the Skyrocket Youth Council in "Once to Every Man and Nation." These were Susan Coffee, Carol Burba, Sidney Duncan, David Groves,

Marella Trio Home from California

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Farmer and their daughter, Mrs. Johnny Carson of Marella returned recently from a visit in California.

Mrs. Farmer's father, O. P. Bucher, and her seven brothers and sisters live in that state. Mr. Bucher celebrated his 88th birthday while they were there.

They visited her brothers and sisters at Anaheim, Long Beach, Tustin, and at Turlock, which is 300 miles north of the Los Angeles area.

They also visited Mr. Farmer's sister, Mrs. A. A. Parkinson, near San Jacinto.

Mrs. Winters Has Reunion

Mrs. Bessie Winters spent last week in Fort Worth visiting with relatives, and last Sunday, June 28, attended the Winters' Reunion in Kennedale. The first reunion for this family in approximately six years was held at the Lions Club in that town.

Sunday morning, Mrs. Winters, six of her seven children, all her grandchildren except two, and her two great grandchildren, attended church together.

Those attending the reunion were Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Tramel and sons, Donald and Kenneth and family of Eufala, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Winters, Pam and Myra, and Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Winters, Larry, Freddy and Kelly of Kennedale; Mr. and Mrs. John Winters, Ricky and Trezza of Pine-ville, La.; Mr. and Mrs. Gene Letha, Stephen, Russell, James, of Harrold, and Mrs. O. C. Rock Springs; and Seale of Wellington.

Pam Guthrie, Truitt Holton, Tanya Horton, Chris Hubbard, Barry Johnson, Kathy Tyler, Elaine Karnes, Mickey Ann Kendrick, Patti Lacy, Garry Guiley, Debbie Lewis, Billy McAlister, Judy Porter, Kathy Scott, accompanied by Beth Smith.

The Community Choir was directed by Mrs. Jack Davis in "God of Our Fathers" and "This Is My Song."

The audience came out clear and strong in such favorites as "Yankee Doodle," "Dixie," "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean," "Tenting Tonight," "America," and "God Bless America."

The celebration closed on a serious note as Postmaster L. B. Bratten sang "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Paul Guthrie and Truman Estes directed many of the songs, and Mrs. Estes and Mrs. Don Van Pelt were accompanists.

Wildcat Staked in East Donley

The Roden Oil Co. No. 1 Dwyer, located 2640 feet from the south and 2,540 feet from the west lines of section 20, block 22, has been plugged and abandoned at a total depth of 4,000 feet, according to information filed with the Pampa office of the Railroad Commission.

The same company, however, has scheduled a second Palo Duro Basin wildcat within three weeks. It started its No. 1 E. L. Sitter on the eastern edge of Donley County and was drilling at 2,525 feet toward a proposed depth of 4,000 feet at the last report. The test was spudded June 30.

Reports of drilling and production for oil and gas in the Panhandle during the first half of the year reflected a lower level than for the first half of 1967. The trend followed the pattern of the past several years.

Collingsworth County showed four locations, one wildcat and two dry holes, with footage of 4,308.

Last year the county also had four locations with one wildcat.

AT PATRIOTIC SING-OUT

This is part of the crowd of several hundred that joined in the singing of patriotic songs and listening to others sing at the Sing Out for America July 2, accompanied by a pianist and three trumpeters. The empty chairs at front were for singers.

SALT SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

EFFECT OF GRASSLAND RESTORATION ON WATER

By James R. Bell
Soil Conservation Service

Water has always been one of Texas' most valuable and least abundant resources, particularly in the western part of the state. As population and industries grow, it will be even more valuable. Many organizations are studying and developing plans for conserving water resources, usually involving immense and costly projects. One very important possible source of saving water is often overlooked. The amount of water wasted by non-economic plants, weeds and woody invaders is tremendous. These plants consume more water every year in Texas than is consumed by all the towns, all the factories, and all the agricultural plants—crops, orchards, and commercial timber trees. Approximately 38% of the average annual precipitation is lost to these worthless plants.

These facts show the definite value of a grassland restoration program. An acre of grass takes less water than an acre of brush or weeds. With grassland restoration more water would be available for recharging the water table and also for the return flow to streams.

Landowners are presently treating about two million acres of brush annually, often with financial assistance thru the Agriculture Conservation Program or the Great Plains Conservation Program. However, this amount is hardly keeping up with the rapid increase in density of brush on Texas grasslands.

The importance of water conservation is so widespread that a concentrated effort and support of all interests are needed to accomplish the job. Every Texan would benefit from such a program.

Dr. G.M. Terry Dies Monday

Dr. Graydon Mason Terry, 89, a former Wellington dentist, died at his home near Mineral Wells Monday afternoon, July 8. He was retired.

Funeral services were scheduled for Wednesday afternoon in Mineral Wells, and burial will be there.

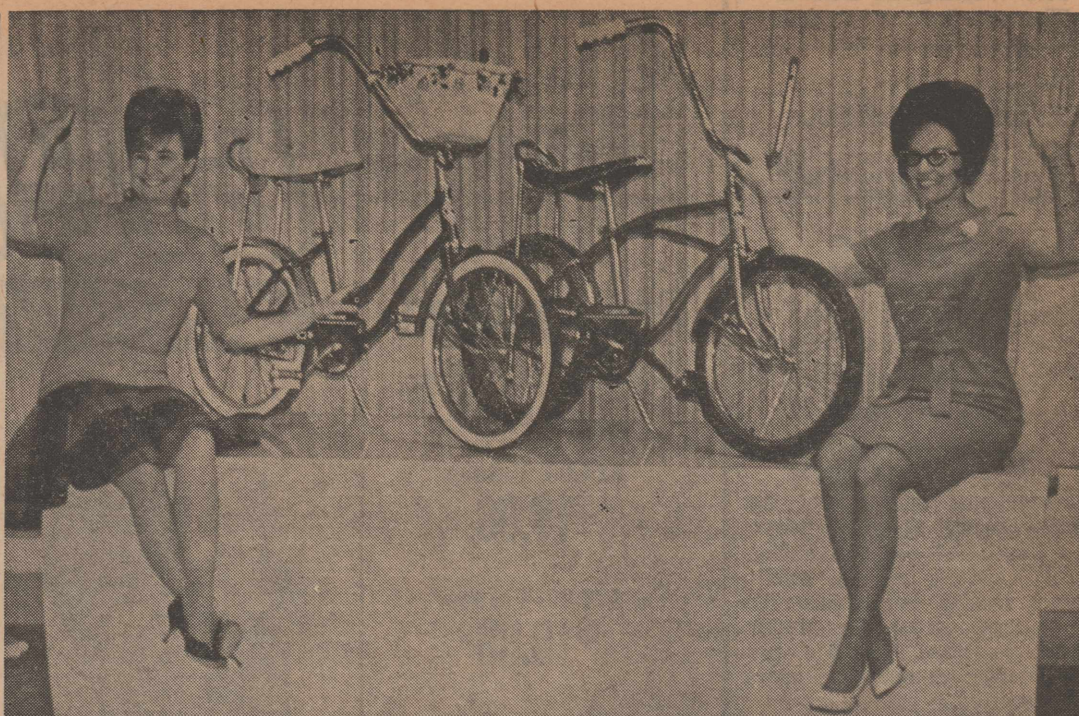

Dr. Terry practiced dentistry here twice for a total of about 10 years. He and his family moved to Lubbock about 1927, later went to East Texas, then moved to Mineral Wells early in World War II. He had also practiced in Dallas.

He was married to Miss Kate Cocke here about 1920.

Survivors are his wife and three children: Mrs. John Fuhr III of California, Mrs. Glendon McCune, who lives in East Texas, and Graydon Terry of Mineral Wells.

Relatives in this area include Frank Cocke of Wheeler and Mrs. Clyde Drake of Wellington, a brother and sister-in-law.

Mrs. Bly Walsh, 72, 617 W. Maple, Rogers, Ark., prominent resident and business woman, died Friday, June 28, at Rogers Memorial Hospital.

She was a sister of Mrs. R. H. Templeton of Wellington.

National Knitting Contest Will Be Part of Women's Division at Fair

The National wool knitting and crocheting contest, on the local level, will again be a part of the Collingsworth County Free Fair Friday and Saturday, Sept. 6 and 7, Mrs. Zook Thomas, chairman, has announced.

Because of the time required to complete garments in this category, she is announcing the contest at this time.

Assisting her in the arrangements are Mrs. Dudley Phipps and Mrs. S. K. Parsons Jr.

This is part of a national contest to publicize the use of wool, and winners in the Collingsworth County Fair will be judged in the national contest.

"All entries must be crocheted or knitted of 100 percent wool or mohair yarn in any ply purchased in the United States," Mrs. Thomas said. The label of the yarn used must be attached to the entry and synthetic yarns or blends are not eligible.

All garments entered must have been completed since Jan. 1, 1968, and as many pieces may be entered as the contestants desire. All work must be done by the one entering the garments, however.

Only amateurs may enter. First, second and third places will be awarded. "Best of Fair" will be chosen from the first place winners and the owner will receive an engraved trophy.

There are two divisions, knitting and crocheting, and there are three classes in each: afghans, sweaters, and three-piece baby sets: jacket, cap and booties. Those wishing additional information may contact Mrs. Thomas or one of her assistants.

National Hot Dog Month

July is National Hot Dog Month. Here are some tips on buying franks: One pound serves 4 to 6 persons. When you buy a pound of franks, you serve a pound—there is no waste. Be sure to remember this when comparing the cost per pound of franks with that of other meats.

Read the label for a clue regarding the difference in price of various frankfurters or wieners. The list of ingredients may indicate the reason for the price range.

Ingredients are listed in order and according to amounts included, such as ground beef, pork, cereal, dry non-fat milk and soy flour. These ingredients, except for meat, absorb and hold water, therefore increase weight.

Since these ingredients are cheaper than meat, the lower priced product will have larger amounts in relation to the meat content with few exceptions. When pork is predominant in frankfurters, they are usually of finer texture, more tender and lighter in color. When beef is predominant, the frankfurter is usually firmer and darker in color.

The federal meat inspection mark guarantees that the product is wholesome, suitable for human consumption and honestly labeled. The mark is a round purple stamp with the words "U.S. Inspected & Passed" printed inside the circle stamp.

Franks are pre-cooked during processing; they need only heating. Do not boil—just simmer them. When broiling, keep the franks about 3 to 4 inches below the heat if using a range broiler or above the heat if on an outdoor unit. Frankfurters are so versatile, you can invent your own recipes.

Freezing Prepared Foods

During hot summer months, it is easier to open the freezer for baked goodies or casseroles than to spend hours in the kitchen. Freezing is the only method to preserve many of these baked or cooked goods.

Cook most breads, cakes and pies before freezing. Cool them and wrap in moisture-vapor-proof material.

Use standard recipes for breads and cakes. For quick breads, use double-action baking powder. Biscuits and muffins are better frozen uncooked.

You may freeze bread and rolls baked or unbaked. Use a recipe with a fairly large amount of fat and sugar. Baked products may be stored as long as 9-12 months.

If you want to freeze dough, allow it to rise until double in bulk. Doughs shaped before freezing may be inferior, even when stored only two weeks.

Pre-baked cakes containing fat may dry out slightly after two months, and after four months, flavor changes may be expected.

Use pure extracts as imitations may produce off-flavors. Angel food, yellow sponge, chiffon and fruit cakes baked before freezing will keep up to a year.

Uncooked confectioner's sugar frostings freeze best. Boiled and other soft frostings containing egg whites and cream fillings are not suitable for freezing.

Fruit, vegetable and chiffon pies freeze successfully. Fruit pies may be frozen either before or after baking. Crust is more tender and flaky and the flavor fresher when the pies are frozen before baking.

It is best not to freeze lattice top pies. Do not cut steam vents in top crusts of frozen unbaked pies until they have been removed from the freezer.

Here are some pointers for freezing main dishes: Do not overcook foods that are to be frozen. Foods that are to be heated before serving are best if only partially cooked; meat should be tender but still firm, vegetables slightly underdone. Fried foods are apt to become rancid after one or two months of storage.

Use seasonings sparingly as some of them change during storage. Pepper gets stronger. Cloves may become stronger and discolor frozen fillings.

Garlic becomes stronger during storage and onions gradually increase in strength.

It is important to cool cooked foods promptly to prevent continued cooking. Foods lose flavor rapidly when held at high temperatures. And warm foods invite bacteria growth.

Try submerging the cooking pan in ice water to hasten cooling.

After cooling, package in moisture-vapor-resistant material immediately. Pack all types of cooked foods as solidly as possible to avoid air spaces in the containers.

Packaged prepared foods in amounts suitable for serving. You may safely refreeze frozen foods that have been thawed if they still contain ice crystals. Thawed foods spoil faster than fresh foods.

Hatches Host Rehearsal Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. F. Hatch were hosts Friday evening, July 11, at the rehearsal dinner for the wedding members of the wedding party of Miss Linda Amburn and their son, Dan Hatch.

The event was held in their home. An arrangement of daisies was used with candles to form the centerpiece of the serving table. Orange and yellow cloths were used on the tables for four.

Approximately 30 members of the wedding party and their immediate families attended.

Friends Visit Mrs. Norman

Guests of Mrs. Lyndal Norman and children recently were three families of friends who worked with the late Mr. Norman for Halliburton, Inc.

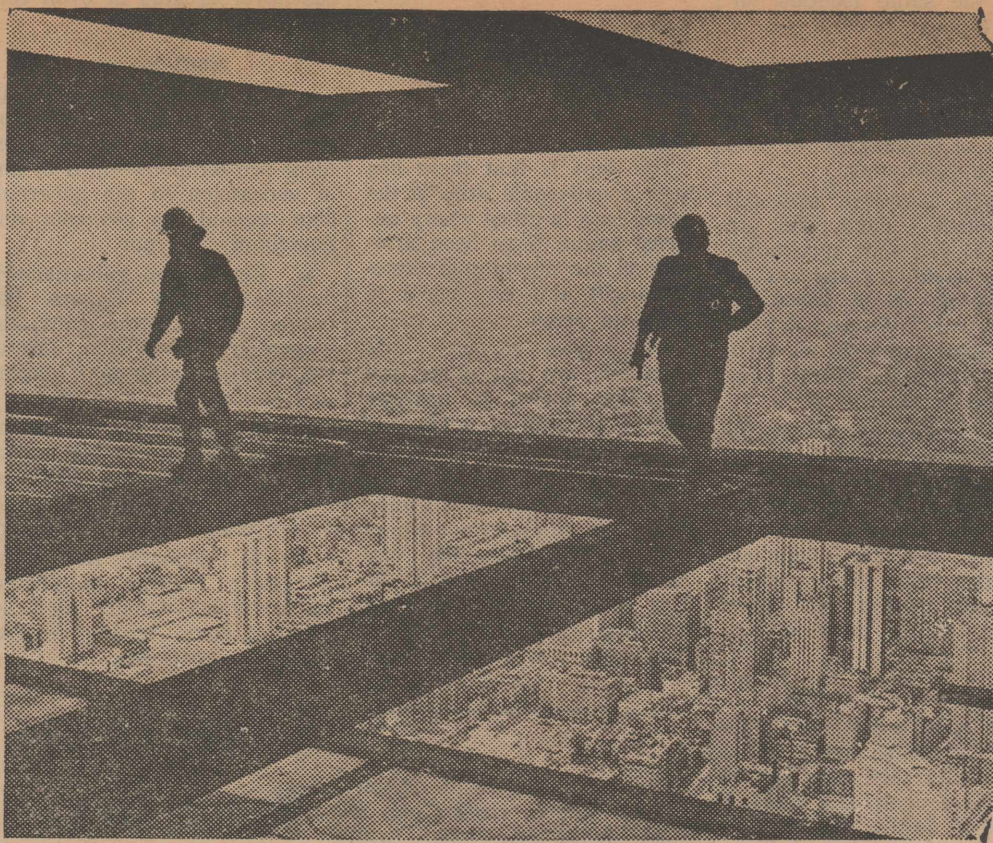

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Bowles and two children were en route to Egypt. The family was evacuated a year ago at the outbreak of the Arab-Israeli 6-Day War and have been living in Greece. Recently they were home on leave.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Rohm and children were en route from his last assignment at Santa Cruz, Bolivia, to his new work at Gillette, Wyo.

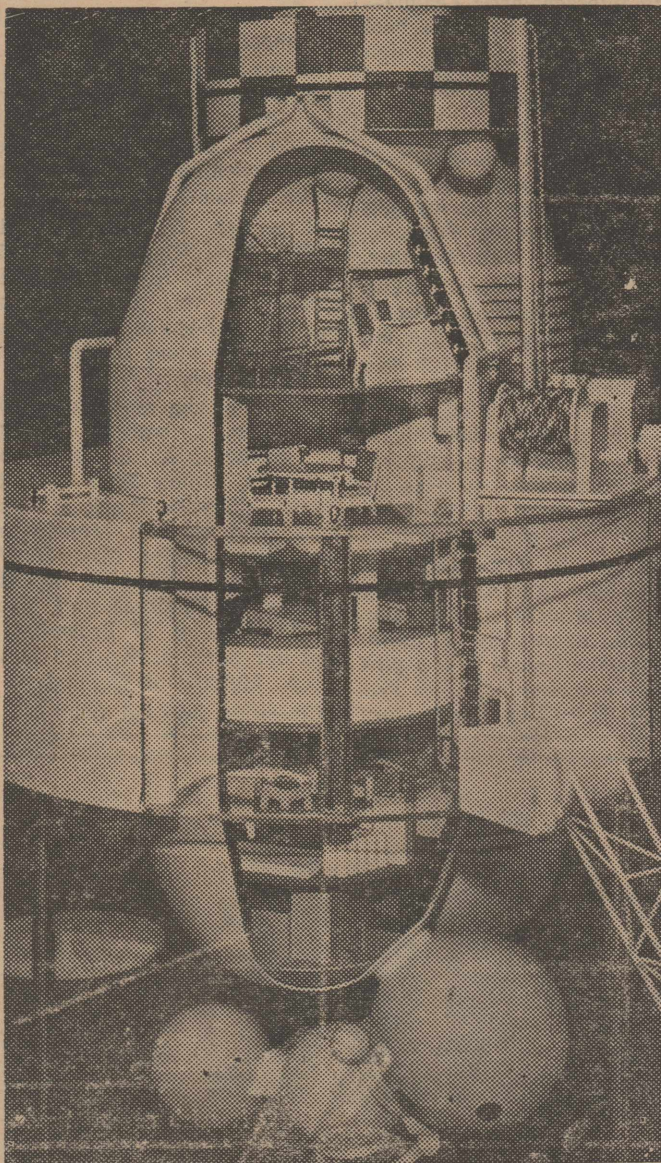

The third family were Mr. and Mrs. George Wood and children from Baton Rouge, La.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Wilkerson were in San Antonio last week to attend HemisFair and visit his sister, uncle, and grandmother: Mr. and Mrs. K. V. Willard, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Rogers and boys, and T/Sgt. and Mrs. A. E. Keary. His nephew, Vance Willard, returned home with them after visiting here and in Amarillo.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Carson of Marella are his mother, Mrs. Myrtle Ameron of Hollis, and their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Carson, Jr., of Weatherford, Okla. Both are attending the summer session of Southwestern State College.

Irradiation Preserves Food

the cave man dried his food for future use, many different processes have been developed for preserving food.

Research on preserving food by irradiation has progressed faster than most thought a few years ago, says Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist.

Why irradiation? As a preservation technique, it's almost a perfect package! Irradiated foods apparently hold all their original nutrients but lose all harmful bacteria and other parasites ... resist spoilage, according to Mrs. Clyatt, who is with Texas A&M University.

Meats, for example, can be kept at room temperatures for many months—even years—and still be juicy and flavorful.

The Food and Drug Administration has not yet approved the irradiation of foods, reports Mrs. Clyatt, except for a few items such as canned bacon. Use of irradiated canned bacon is, at present, limited to the armed forces. They have approved irradiation for disinfecting wheat flour and inhibiting sprouts on potatoes.

The irradiation processes used are high speed electrons, gamma rays, and x-rays. Tests show irradiated foods are safe to use and nutritionally adequate, she reports.

The results of a consumer attitude study toward irradiated foods, carried out in 1966 for the Atomic Energy Commission revealed the following:

• Knowledge about irradiated foods is at a relatively low level. About 6% of consumer un-

New Amendments Extend Flammable Fabric Legislation

COLLEGE STATION.—While most textile products present no flammability hazard under normal circumstances, a few serious accidents have focused attention on the subject.

New amendments passed in December 1967 expanded the Federal Flammable Fabrics Act. The act's scope was extended to include all wearing apparel and interior furnishings fabrics, reports Rheba Boyles, Extension clothing specialist.

The new amendments provide for investigations by the secretary of Health, Education and Welfare into deaths, injuries and economic losses resulting from accidental burning of fabrics and fabric products, says the Texas A&M University specialist.

It also authorizes flammability research under the auspices of the Secretary of Commerce. The Secretary of Commerce may issue flammability standards or other regulations whenever such action is deemed necessary, she reported.

derstand what the process is and can do; an additional 18% are familiar with the term but are either uninformed about its meaning or plainly misinformed.

• The label phrase "pasteurized with ionizing energy" appears to be an optimum approach, being both descriptive and reassuring. "Pasteurized" and "energy" are words with positive connotations. "Irradiated" and "radiation" stimulates latent fears and concern among consumers.

• Consumers' initial response to the concept of irradiated foods without further information or explanation showed a surprising degree of acceptance—11% flatly stated that they would not buy; 36% said they did not know how they would react; and 53% declared that they would buy foods preserved by irradiation.

Visiting over the week end with their mother, Mrs. P. M. Shields, were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Shields of Amarillo and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Helbert ofampa. They also visited with their sister, Mrs. Yvonne Brewer.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Ben Farmer at Marella were two of her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Markham and Mr. and Mrs. Evan Weaver of Denison. They formerly lived in this county.

Water Development Project Considered on Area-Wide Basis

Water development in Collingsworth now appears to be not too far off, under a somewhat different form than our earlier attempts.

The first project, it now appears, will be the development of the Elm Creek Watershed, through a series of dams or water holding structures at locations to be determined when the planning stage is reached.

Both Collingsworth and Wheeler counties are concerned in this, with Salt Fork Soil Conservation District assuming the leadership. But certainly the cooperation of all other organizations and our people will be needed if this is carried out.

Development of water or any other resources of the future will likely depend on several counties working together. We will see more projects based on the needs of an area, rather than a single county.

The sponsors of the Elm Creek project warn that work will be slow, slower than all of us would like. The development of this project takes nothing away from any other projects that have been sought for this county. It is one step in the over-all development of the water resources of Collingsworth County, which is now considered jointly with our neighbors.

HOGLUND'S HAPPENINGS

MAY 10, 1869—A golden spike was driven at Promontory, Utah, marking the linking of the Union Pacific and the Central Pacific (now the Southern Pacific) and signaling the completion of the first transcontinental railroad.

AUSTIN.—When the special session of the 60th Legislature called it quits and went home, its accomplishments seemed scant — from a cold statistical point of view.

During the 30 days of the session called by Gov. John Connally, the 150 House members introduced 32 bills, and the 31 Senators kicked in 30. When all was said and done, only five House bills and no Senate bills were passed.

However, two of those House bills were the reasons Connally called the session in the first place. So their passage within the allotted 30 days gave an appearance of success to the session.

One, of course, was the bill making state appropriations for the fiscal year beginning Sept. 1, and the other was the tax bill to raise the money to pay for all those appropriations.

Texas taxpayers will start feeling the bite Oct. 1 when the one-cent increase in the state sales tax, the one-cent increase in the motor-vehicle sales tax and the 50-cents-per-$1000 increase in the franchise tax go into effect.

Rep. Frank Lombardino of San Antonio sponsored the only other new law of interest to the average citizen. It prohibits the carrying of pistols or other concealable weapons into alcoholic beverage establishments.

The two remaining pieces of legislation were concerned with the internal affairs of state government — transferring $3,000,000 from the Operators' and Chauffeurs' License Fund to the General Revenue Fund, and authorizing the Comptroller to transfer funds between items of his appropriation made by the 1967 Legislature.

Only other thing of substance that the two houses agreed on was creation of the Governor's Advisory Committee on Physical Fitness. This was done by resolution.

Each house did create interim committees to study certain problems and report back to the next Legislature.

Senate set up a committee to study the problem of locating and securing more land which could be set aside for parks and recreational purposes, the better utilization of existing parks and development of existing parks to accommodate more visitors.

House created interim committees to study the Texas Election Code, the financial relationship between permittees and licensees under the Liquor Control Act and the need for laws on organ transplantation.

Also, the lower chamber set up a Natural Fiber Study Committee and a Family Law Study Committee and asked the University of Texas Graduate School of Business to study the possible creation of a Texas Stock Exchange.

Courts Speak

Texas Supreme Court ruled that a water district — failed to be created by the voters in its original district — could not change its boundaries to include only those areas which approved it in that election. Court also said that the district's directors could not force the counties within its proposed area to pay its organizational costs.

In another case, High Court agreed that St. Louis Southwestern Railway Company of Texas should not be required to maintain its Texas general office and machine shops in Tyler.

Court agreed to hear Oct. 2 appeals of two Dallas savings and loan associations which are seeking the same location for branch offices.

Auto Insurance Rates Rising
State Insurance Board experts have recommended an increase of about 2.8% in auto insurance premiums.

Although statewide averages are misleading since rates are set by 40 different territories, liability coverage appears to be going up on 33 zones for most drivers. Young drivers have higher rates in 22 territories, lower in seven, and the same in 11.

Biggest increase will be for comprehensive and collision policies where the insurance board staff has recommended a hike of 7.7% and 7.1% respectively. Insurance company spokesmen claim rising cost of parts and repairs has offset a better traffic accident record.

City Sales Tax Up

Cities are finding the new local option sales tax a better money-maker than they figured when more than 270 voted it into effect during the last few months.

Collections for the first quarter of 1968, generally the worst business period every year, ran about twice what was expected. Here's the way it turned out for the 14 cities which pioneered the sales tax:

Aransas Pass $15,746; Austin $641,003; Bracketville, $994; Corpus Christi $544,763; Elgin $4,867; El Paso $709,686; Henrietta $4,756; Ingleside $2,688; Nacogdoches $58,835; Orange Grove $1,318; Port Aransas $2,107; Taylor $17,116; Texarkana $101,765; and Wichita Falls $236,235.

Ship Channel Change

A $21,000,000 program for altering ship channels in the Corpus Christi Bay area has been placed before Gov. Connally for approval by the Texas Water Rights Commission.

Federal funds would pay for all but $1,600,000.

Engineers propose to deepen the 40-foot channels another 5 feet and widen them from 300 to 400 feet. Project would get its name changed from the Aransas-Corpus Christi Waterways to Corpus Christi Ship Chan-

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

The dope is that there has been a noticeable drop in the crime rate in cities where citizens' homes have been armed and the inhabitants thereof taught how and when to use said arms.

Which goes to show that criminals are not idiots and therefore prefer to practice their profession on folks who are armless.

Naturally this proves to the horse sense oriented mind that high officials and others hysterically demanding that all citizens be disarmed is the best break the criminal class has had since the Supreme Court got over on their side.

New channels would accommodate loaded vessels up to 59,000 deadweight tons, with annual benefits estimated at $4,600,000.

UIL Investigation

A proposed study of the University Interscholastic League—which organizes inter-school competition among Texas high schools—failed to be approved by the Legislature.

Reps. James Cole of Greenville and Burke Musgrove of Breckenridge asked for the study to determine the league's organization, control, financing and relationship with the state.

Question arose when the UIL declared "professional athletes" any boy who had signed a letter of intent to accept a college athletic scholarship. This ruling would prohibit other boys still in high school sports from participating in summer baseball programs—such as the American Legion program—with these "professionals".

Although the Legislature did not act this time the question could be brought up in January. UIL apparently is quasi-governmental, since it is a part of the University of Texas system. However, the Legislature has never created or even recognized it.

Short Snorts

• Just prior to adjournment, the Senate elected Sen. D. Roy Harrington of Port Arthur president pro tempore—third in line of succession to the governorship, behind the governor and lieutenant governor.

• Republican gubernatorial candidate Paul Eggers has named as his state campaign chairman Will Wilson, former Democratic attorney general and Supreme Court justice.

• Revenue from smoking dropped off sharply last month from June 1967—$11,200,000 to $10,500,000, according to State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert.

• Gov. Connally has asked President Johnson to declare Collingsworth County and Refugio County major disaster areas due to floods.

Austin on Staff of College at Houston

Twenty-five years ago Tommy Austin made sparks fly at Powell Field, one of a family of Skyrocket greats.

A long-time Baptist minister, he is now on the staff of one of his denomination's newer colleges in Texas, Houston Baptist College.

In renewing his subscription to The Wellington Leader, the Rev. Mr. Austin reviewed the many activities of his immediate family.

He wrote: "I'm sorry we allowed our subscription to The Wellington Leader to expire. We've never missed anything so much as we miss the paper, which is always a letter from the old home town."

Our daughter, Sandra, who is now Mrs. Gerald D. Hendon, lives with her Baptist pastor husband in California where she teaches school and he pastors a church. They are in Brownwood, Texas, this summer, where Sandra is doing some work on her M.A. degree in elementary education at Howard Payne College.

Our oldest son, Tim, received his B.A. degree from Houston Baptist College in May of 1968 with double majors in political science and history. He is now in the Army at Ft. Bliss, in basic, where he has met all the requirements for O.C.S.

So we have one child left at home. He is Steve, age 16, and will be a junior in high school this fall.

Now that we have two out of college, Mama (the former Arlene Young of Lutie) has decided to finish her college degree. She is a full time student at Houston Baptist College and is doing pretty well, even though it is pretty rough after having been out of school for 23 years. However, she is determined to finish that B.A. degree and get back to teaching, her first love.

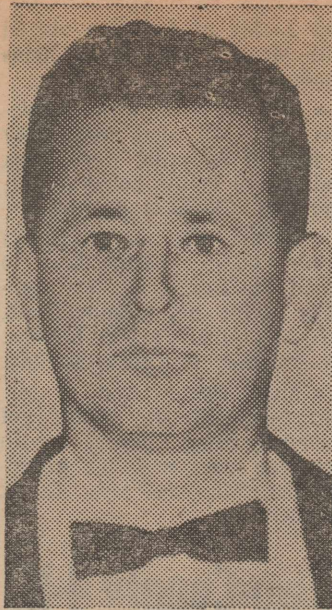

I serve as admissions counselor here at Houston Baptist College and I enjoy the work so much. Actually I recruit students through the churches. I preach or speak three or four times per week. We have four others who work in my department who recruit students through the public schools.

Our college has just completed its fifth year (graduated our second class). We had 877 students enrolled last semester and hope to have 1,000 this fall. We have a 196-acre campus in Southwest (Sharpstown) Houston. Come to see us!

Firemen Attend Memphis Meet

Six members of the Wellington Volunteer Fire Department formed the pumper team which participated in events sponsored by the Memphis Fire Department Monday evening, July 8.

These were Fire Chief J. B. Oney, Jim Sikes, Glen Norman, Earl Parker, David Peters and Buster Hughs. Water polo and pumper races were featured. Later Memphis was host at a supper for the guests from Wellington and Childress departments.

THE ACCUSED SLAYER of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., James Earl Ray, was apprehended in London by Scotland Yard detectives as he waited to board a plane to Brussels, Belgium. Ray has been the object of a worldwide manhunt since King's assassination April 4 in Memphis, Tenn.

County in Parks, Wildlife Survey

Collingsworth is one of 39 counties to be surveyed by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department pollsters to determine the type of outdoor recreation preferred by Texans.

The survey began June 24 and will include 113 cities and 39 counties chosen at random.

Information obtained during this survey will be used in updating the State of Texas Comprehensive Outdoor Recreation Plan which is required for participation in Federal funds available under the Land and Water Conservation Fund Act of 1965.

The data collected will also be made available to the various governmental and private suppliers of outdoor recreation areas for their use in formulating or confirming decisions related to providing outdoor recreation facilities for the public.

"This method is used by businesses and industries to eliminate costly errors," W. M. Gosdin, Director of Park Services said. "Before any product hits the market, similar user surveys are completed to determine what degree of success can be anticipated. This is exactly what we are trying to do—determine what facilities are needed in the various parks within the State in order to fulfill the needs of the outdoor recreation minded public."

"Information from this survey will tell us what facilities are needed in our State parks," Gosdin said. "We can determine what facilities in our parks need the greatest attention and this will help direct future developments in our State park system."

The Department is following the recommendations contained in the design conducted by Texas A&M University which selected representative residential blocks in 113 cities in the State where the interview will be conducted. These addresses were selected on a random block basis to encompass the wide range of income, age, and education levels as well as a wide range of occupational fields.

The random block survey will be taken in six different type population areas: large metropolitan areas which includes Dallas, Fort Worth, San Antonio, and Houston; cities of 100,000 persons and more; cities with 10,000 to 99,999 population; rural or small towns whose populations range from 2,500 to 9,999; small towns with populations ranging from 200 to 2,499; and 39 other counties selected at random.

The survey will sample approximately 15,000 Texas families in two different phases.

Pretesting of the questionnaire in the Dallas and Houston areas indicates that the questionnaire can be completed in approximately one hour and a half by personal interview. Persons contacted during the pre-testing were very enthusiastic about the study. All information obtained during the interview will be strictly confidential and analysis will be made only on a group basis. Each pollster has been provided with an identification card that will be presented on request.

Dodgers Defeat Cardinals, Braves Win Over Tigers

The Dodgers defeated the Cardinals 4 to 2 in baseball play for 11-13-year-olds Monday evening, July 3, in the second game of a double header.

Opening the evening's play, the Braves defeated the Tigers 13 to 8. These boys play in the 8-10-year age group.

Brent Wade pitched for the Cardinals and was relieved in the last inning of the five-inning game by Gabriel Aguirre. Paul Guthrie is the coach.

Trinidad Cantu, Jr., pitched for the Dodgers, coached by Raymond Hodges.

The teams will meet again Thursday night, July 11, with the game starting immediately after the younger boys finish play.

Both teams combine when they meet outside teams in the same age group.

Gary Wischkaemper and Randall Sims pitched for the Braves and Bill Havens and Richard Sims were on the mound for the Tigers.

Coaching the Braves is Cal Hurst, while the Tiger coach is Doyle Brown.

These teams also will play again Thursday, starting at 7 p.m.

LOFTY PERCH was achieved by Luna Deloney, 25, a physical education teacher who won 5,000 trading stamps offered by an Ozark, Ala., oil firm to the first woman who climbed its 140-foot radio tower.

Nutria Causing Float Damage

WACO.—Persons using styrofoam floats to float their houseboats or marinas had better do some checking, says Johnnie Springman, caretaker at the Ridgewood Yacht Club at Lake Waco.

Springman reported that nutria are making holes in the plastic foam floats at the club's service building preparatory to making nests for their young. The building now lists in one corner.

It is suggested that if nutria are causing problems on a lake, floats should be covered with galvanized hail screen before being placed in the water.

Hickey Teaches Radio Production in Brazil

Dr. Glenn E. Hickey, Southern Baptist missionary, teaches New Testament in the North Brazil Baptist Theological Seminary in Recife, Pernambuco, where approximately 175 students are currently enrolled in theological, religious education, and music curricula.

"Of course, my most thrilling, difficult, disappointing and gratifying classroom encounter—and believe me, at times it's all of them at once—is the daily classroom encounter with students," says Dr. Hickey, after nearly three years on the faculty. "Some of them are brilliant and promising. Others, because of very humble backgrounds, are slow, backward and plodding. All are called of God to serve and thus are called of God to prepare. Who would want any bigger job than this?"

In addition to teaching, Dr. Hickey trains students in radio production and oversees preparation of eight programs a week for broadcast over the most powerful station in northeastern Brazil. "I have no credentials as a radio engineer, but often this does not matter in the mission field," he says. "A college course in radio production and a strong avocational interest in electronics and ham radio were sufficient recommendations."

With soldering gun and "miles of wire," he installed the recorder, the final and most important component of his studio, in a few days after its delivery. "It actually works!" he marvels.

During a typical week, Dr. Hickey also preaches in the two churches for which he is interim pastor and in Friendship House, a Baptist good will center in Recife.

Appointed by the Foreign Mission Board in 1964, he and Mrs. Hickey moved to Recife after a year of Portuguese language study in Campinas, 2,000 miles southwest. Mrs. Hickey teaches music in the seminary. They have a son, Danny.

Born in Oden, Ark., Dr. Hickey lived on a farm and in the county seat town of Mt. Ida during childhood. He began considering a missionary career as a teenager, when his church was pastored by a missionary on leave from Brazil.

Dr. Hickey received the bachelor of arts degree from Ouachita Baptist College (now University), Arkadelphia, Ark., and the bachelor of divinity and doctor of theology degrees from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth.

Pastor of the First Baptist Church, Wellington, for nearly five years before going to Brazil, he had previously served churches in Fort Worth and Decatur, Texas, and Ashdown and Ozark, Ark.

Mrs. Hickey is the former Dorothy Thomerson of Malvern, Ark. Now on furlough after their first term in Brazil, they expect to spend next winter at Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, Ky. Dr. Hickey's furlough projects include preparing a New Testament syllabus and other New Testament publications in Portuguese, employing materials he collected before leaving Brazil in early July.

FAA Seeks to Reduce Aircraft Accidents in Southwest Region

A test program is being initiated by the Federal Aviation Administration to reduce aircraft accidents in the Southwest and Central Regions. This general aviation accident prevention program went into effect in these two FAA regions July 1.

The approach includes improvement of attitudes toward safety, a betterment of knowledge proficiency and judgment of airmen, and a reduction of hazards in the general aviation environment.

Participants are to be the aviation public, aviation industry and the governmental agencies, who will cooperate and combine their talents. State aviation directors in both regions have endorsed the program.

The Southwest Region is composed of the States of Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana, and the Central Region includes Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota and Wisconsin.

To implement the program, each general aviation district office (GADO) in the two test regions is devoting extra time to the project. If the effort to reduce the aircraft accident rate is successful, the program is to be adopted on a national basis.

A review of accident types and cause factors indicates that a great number of accidents should not have happened. Many accidents are the results of unfavorable attitudes toward safety, unnecessary flight hazards at the operating location, and the lack of sound judgment, basic skills and knowledge.

General aviation district offices will provide time to be spent exclusively in aircraft accident prevention. Their goal is to find what the underlying accident problems are within their respective districts and to help solve or minimize them.

They will be available to talk to aviation groups, to furnish or show aviation films, to assist in developing safety programs for aviation organizations and fixed base operators. Also, they will give courtesy standardization flights to individuals who request them.

Fair Packaging Rules Available

Legislation affects you. The Federal Trade Commission (the FTC) has published detailed regulations for the labeling of consumer goods under the Fair Packaging and Labeling Act.

The FTC has set Jan. 1, 1969 as the effective date for applying the new regulations. These regulations are very similar to those of the Food and Drug Administration.

Concentration is principally on reduction of fatal accidents. The most common cause of fatal accidents and recommended ways to avoid them will be the subject of meetings with aviation groups.

Emphasis will also be placed on minimizing or eliminating certain kinds of hazards at general aviation airports. Inspectors will coordinate their efforts with state and federal airport personnel, fixed base operators and airport managers to resolve problems in this area.

The FAA is soliciting ideas for program improvement and is asking the aviation public to report any kind of hazard to aviation operations. The active support of each operator, pilot, instructor, mechanic, servicing attendant and airport manager is earnestly solicited to insure success of the test program.

Pony League Meets Paducah Here Friday

Wellington Pony League will meet a team from Paducah Friday, July 12, at 7:30 p.m., according to Stephen Qualls, coach.

The older Wellington boys, those 16 and 17 years old, will be playing. The game will be at Marian Airpark Diamond at 8 p.m.

Dallas Holland is the probable starting pitcher.

"Some of our boys have been out of baseball three years and it's taking a little time to get started, but with a little practice we'll be all right," Qualls said.

The team lost one game to Childress and another, scheduled for Friday, July 5, was rained out.

The Wellington team will return the Paducah game later in the season.

Wayne Martin is assisting Qualls with the team.

like it is in the United States. Sanford describes the procedure:

"The Spanish University system is quite different from our educational system. There is no bachelor's degree, but rather the Spanish students go to college 5 straight years and receive what is equivalent to the American master's degree.

"If all my hours transfer and I get credit for all my American courses, I will enroll at the University of Madrid in the fall. No person can begin classes until he applies in person before the registrar of the particular school he wishes to attend. At that time, all available loans and scholarships are applied for and given final approval."

Also in Tech he was a member of the student chapter of the American Institute of Architects, and his social fraternity was Kappa Alpha Order.

balance for emergency treatment and were transferred immediately to Amarillo.

Jenkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Jenkins, received a cut on the face and abrasions and bruises about the knee. He was treated at St. Joseph's and released.

Sheriff Rainey said that Mr. and Mrs. White had been parked visiting with Sam Adams and Leon Hartman, and the accident occurred moments after they pulled back on the pavement.

Adams and Hartman, although they did not see the collision as it occurred, were the first to reach the scene. Sheriff Rainey said the left front of Jenkins' 1964 Chevrolet and the front of the White pickup collided. Both vehicles were reported a total loss.

With the injured in Amarillo are Mrs. White's daughters, Miss Peggie Crawford of Canyon and Mrs. Dennis Cudd of Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., and his son, Mr. and Mrs. Tim White.

An investigation of the accident is continuing under the direction of Highway Patrolman Bob Richardson of Childress, Sheriff Rainey said.

STREET'S NAME

Wall Street, New York City, owes its name to Peter Stuyvesant who, as governor of New Amsterdam in 1652, ordered a palisade built on the site to protect the town from an English invasion.

New Patrolmen Needed In Texas DPS School

A training school for 120 new patrolmen with the Texas Department of Public Safety will start July 30, Major Luther Moore, Regional Commander, announced today.

"We have several new benefits to offer qualified young men," Moore said. "For instance, the pay during training is $500 per month and upon graduation, this is increased to $571 and will be $590 after Sept. 1.

"Also, our selection methods are more liberal in that an applicant is not required to live in Texas for one year prior to employment, and the entrance examination is given every day at our larger offices."

To qualify for employment in the uniformed services of the DPS, a man must be between the ages of 20 and 35, not less than 5 feet 3 inches tall, have a high school education or its equivalent, be in sound physical condition with good vision and must be a citizen of the United States.

"Among the many benefits that patrolmen enjoy," Moore pointed out, "are two weeks annual vacation, all holidays provided for by the Legislature, modern liberal retirement systems and group hospitalization and life insurance plans, traveling expenses and longevity pay, and uniforms and all the necessary equipment to perform their duties."

For complete information concerning the position of patrolman, training and benefits, Moore asked that those who are interested contact the nearest DPS patrolman or DPS office. "In return," he said, "they will receive complete information in regard to the application and examination."

Applications can be obtained from any DPS patrolman. Examinations are given daily in Amarillo, except Saturday and Sundays.

The applicant should have his application filled out prior to going in for the examination, and he should arrive by 9 a.m.

Guard Against Food Poisoning

Food poisoning can dampen a picnic spirit quickly — and the only safeguard against it is caution.

Poisoning can be caused by handling food too much, improper cooking, and leaving food exposed for several hours. Foods prepared in advance and left outside can be infected with organisms which multiply quickly and do not affect food taste, smell or appearance, according to Francis Reasonover, Extension foods and nutrition specialist at Texas A&M University.

Since you can't tell if a food is safe to eat, extra precautions are necessary. Foods most vulnerable to poisoning are potato salad, egg products, fish, ground beef, poultry, pork products, sauces, dairy products and pastries, especially custard and cream pies.

Miss Reasonover said that food definitely should not be kept at room temperatures more than 3 or 4 hours. It may be cooler or warmer, she advised, but room temperature is critical.

Principal cause of food poisoning, staphylococcus bacteria, can be spread by unclean hands and utensils. The cook can spread the bacteria by a sneeze or cough.

Flies, which spread salmonella infection, are another major source of contamination. But when spraying for insects, be sure to cover all food and dishes, cautioned the specialist.

When the German zeppelin Hindenburg burned at Lakehurst, N.J. May 6, 1937, people were killed.

Rains Fail to Stop Visitors to 1968 "Texas" Production

There is a saying in the Texas Panhandle that anyone who stays long enough to wear out a pair of shoes will stay here always. If this is true, the dancers in the "Texas" show which plays in the Texas Panhandle near Amarillo and Canyon will live here forever, because their shoes have already had to be resoled after seven performances.

Six thousand people have made their way to the Canyon to enjoy the magnificent colors, which are much more vivid than usual after the unseasonable rains which have come up most afternoons, since the show opened its third season on June 28 of this year.

The triangles which honor the guest from the greatest distance each evening have gone to representatives of England, Germany, Switzerland, Australia and Nepal.

The first survey of the season taken on Saturday evening, July 6, revealed that the composition of the audience was similar to that of previous years. Fifty-five percent of the audience drove more than 100 miles to see the production and half of these came from outside of the state. Texas. All of these figures show that the stunning musical drama by Paul Green, which has attracted national attention since its opening in 1966 is proving equally interesting to third season audiences.

About half of the cast has returned and new figures include several of the principal actors. As before, a warm welcome and delicious barbecue dinner await the visitors. The dinner is $1.75 and the chud's plate is $1.1700 people have already been served this season.
