AUTOMOBILE RETURNS TO THE COUNTRY—Pictured is a car which followed a crazy-quilt pattern, from State Hwy. 70, through a barbed-wire fence, into a wheat field. The car, driven by Carroll Switzer Moore, 61, of 2501 Sixth Ave., Ft. Worth, blew its right front tire and went its three-wheel way for 337 feet before it finally came to rest in a wheat field seven-tenths of a mile south of Pampa. (News Photo)

The Court of Civil Appeals for the 7th Supreme Judicial District ordered the E. E. Cockerell vs. Lawrence Blasberg damage suit to be retried in 31st District Court.

The reversal was received here Wednesday afternoon.

Cockerell was awarded a judgment of $50,000 from Blasberg by a 31st District Court jury last year as a result of an accident on Oct. 30, 1949 on U.S. Hwy. 66, one and one-half miles east of McLean in which Don Rives, a Wheeler County commissioner, was killed.

FALSE TEETH
That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

Body Armor Said A Big Help For U. S. Soldiers In Korea

CHICAGO — (AP) — Body armor looks good for helping American fighting men in Korea, the American Medical Association (AMA) was told today by an Army doctor.

Lieut. Col. Robert Holmes said a chest and belly vest, made of compressed fiberglass and nylon, has been under test by the Marines and the Army as possible protection against small-arms and shell fragment fire.

"Results of the present trials are restricted (secret) data, but it can be said that thus far indications are encouraging," Col. Holmes, of the Army Medical Corps, declared in a report to the AMA's annual meeting.

"It appears," he added, "that body armor will provide another means of preventive medicine for the armed forces and will contribute to the total medical effort to conserve the fighting strength."

Col. Holmes made this report while declaring that enemy losses in Korea, in killed and wounded, "have been estimated at from 10 to 40 to our one."

He said that "this wide difference existed largely because of superior artillery fire and effective air coverage" but he added that "such circumstances have the potential of sudden change."

He said that "progress in combat medicine and surgery" had accounted for reducing the death rate among Korean wounded as compared to those of World War II.

Declaring that use of helicopters in removing wounded fast from forward areas — had helped reduce death rates, the doctor said:

"The remaining possibility for further reduction lies in the use of body armor for combat personnel."

"Much progress has already been made, in its design, production, and use in Korea under combat conditions."

It is subversive inactivity (for citizens not to be) actively concerned when any issue of freedom of speech, of the press, of assembly, or of religion is raised. — Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (R., Mass.)

Our heartiest congratulations to the 46 Amarillo service stations who this last week announced their discontinuance of patronage stamps. For your convenience we are having their announcement reprinted. Read it carefully --- much can be learned from their experience.

(Reprinted from The Amarillo Sunday News - Globe, Sunday, June 1, 1952)

The

UNYIELDING CROP

The wise farmer, when he has discovered that his crop is not profitable, sets his hand to the plow and turns it under. Then he starts immediately to planting a new and better crop. Likewise, if a merchant finds that certain products are not selling, he closes them out at the price he can get out of them, and restocks his shelves with better merchandise.

We are not farmers, nor do we have unsealable merchandise, but we do have an unyielding crop that must be plowed under! For several years, premium stamps have been making their appearances in the various business places in Amarillo. Service Stations have been forced to give stamps, along with the many other free services that only service stations give, in order to meet competition.

In addition to this, service stations maintain clean restrooms, give free air (although this even costs money to produce), use their employees' time to wipe windshields, check batteries and radiators, sweep out the floorboard of your car, and many other "free" services that you, as our customer, expect. And you are justified to anticipate such services. The continued rise in the cost of labor and supplies, with the retail prices remaining the same, are forcing us to forego one of these---either STAMPS or ALL OF OUR FREE SERVICES. We think that you prefer us to do away with stamps!

IN PLOWING UNDER STAMPS, WE ARE CULTIVATING A BETTER CROP—MORE AND BETTER SERVICE!

As the farmer replaces his unyielding crop by sowing new seed, we are replacing these premium stamps with more and better service. Efficient labor costs more than it has in the past few years. We are pledging to you that we will not spare the cost to bring in the skilled labor needed to give you the service you desire. By saving the 2% to 3% on the dollar that stamps have been costing us, we can pay more for this more efficient labor. Most service stations are open 7 days per week. Some are open all night or until late hours. This is because you demand it. We are asking you to consider this move on our part to eliminate stamps from our "free" services, and pledge our wholehearted support to give you the best service we know how to give.

We wish to express our gratitude to you for your past patronage. We were sincere in giving you premium stamps. But to STAMPS JUST DO NOT PAY! Especially now, with the vast number of trade stamps on the market. As one customer so aptly put it, "My wife has so many stamps saved up, that it practically takes a full-time bookkeeper to keep them posted in the right book."

Effective June 1, 1952, we are plowing under this unyielding crop and planting a better and more yielding crop---better service to you. And it is our desire that you will understand the foregoing reasons and let us continue to service you as in the past, with a much better service program.

THE FOLLOWING SERVICE STATIONS & AUTO SUPPLY COMPANIES WILL DISCONTINUE STAMPS EFFECTIVE JUNE 1, 1952

If the above 46 service institutions have found it unprofitable and costly to handle such stamps, it cannot help but affect other business establishments in the same manner --- as it costs ALL businesses who handle stamps approximately 2% of each sales dollar. How can grocery stores, regardless of size or whoever they may be, handle such stamps FREE, when the nationwide average for grocery chain profits in 1951 were about 1 1/4 cents on each dollar of sales? There can be only one answer. If they handle stamps, the costs must be recovered through higher prices or less services or a combination of both. Do not compare prices for ONE or a few selected items --- as these are loss leaders to get YOU in the store. Compare the total for one week or one month, and you will then see the difference. The word FREE STAMPS is very much a farce. You, the customer, are the victim. You get less for what you pay and at the same time have the trouble of saving and redeeming stamps received, you are in essence being forced into buying some appliance, which in many cases you really do not need. Think it over! Are you really better off with or without stamps? If you do not redeem the stamps, who profits then? The place of business who issued them of course, and consider also the fact that this issuer has already made money on your purchase --- in other words, the issuer doubled his profits when you do not redeem your stamps. In any analysis, the stamps are not free --- you pay for them in one way or another.

LONDON — (AP) — The British government has today denied a Newsmagazine report that all sorts of papers have been going in and out of the jail cell of imprisoned atom spy Klaus Fuchs—including Fuchs himself.

Fuchs, 40-year-old German-born physicist, has served 27 months of a 30-year sentence for passing atom secrets to Russia.

The Daily Express reported today that he had been transferred to a prison at Pentonville, northwest of Birmingham, to London's Pentonville Prison.

It said official at Stafford found in Fuchs cell:

1. Scientific writings—hidden in a hollow leg of his bed.
2. A diary giving details of papers he had smuggled out of prison.
3. Three letters smuggled in from the scientist's father, Dr. Emil Fuchs, of Leipzig University in the Soviet zone of Germany.

The home office issued this official statement:

"The statements that Fuchs has been transferred from Stafford Prison to Pentonville are completely untrue."

He is not at Pentonville. He has been transferred from Stafford to Pentonville.

A British citizen since 1942, Fuchs was Britain's top atomic research scientist until his arrest in February 1950. He knew the chief secrets of United States work at Los Alamos, N.M., where the first atomic bomb was assembled, as well as those of Britain's atomic research center at Harwell, where he became chief theoretical physicist.

In April, 1951, the U.S. Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee in a report described Fuchs as the deadliest spy in history, one who "alone has influenced the safety of more people and accomplished greater damage than any other spy, not only in the history of the United States but in the history of nations."

supplied Russia by Fuchs and three other atomic spies—Bruno Pontecorvo, Dr. Alan Nunn May and David Greenglass—had advanced the Soviet atomic weapons program at least 18 months.

Some British newspapers last June published rumors that Fuchs and May were doing research work for the government in their cells, but this was denied in the House of Commons by the then Home Secretary, Chuter Ede.

He said "no approaches to them had been made to them, nor have they been in contact with other scientists engaged in research on behalf of the government."

"No, I can't swim, but I'm not going in the water just because you passed your life-saving test and haven't rescued anybody yet!"

New Opportunity
Proponents of "direct selling," the direct distribution of merchandise from factory to home, profess to be a new opportunity for the home-tete, door-to-door pushing technique in the current swing toward a buyers' market.

Times was when a certain segment of retail opinion believed the door-to-door salesman was on the wane. According to this theory, televised demonstrations of consumer products and televised sales talks which could be viewed by the housewife in her home would make the home visits of the door-to-door vendor unnecessary.

Today, however, TV is being used to promote direct selling. Direct selling is big business.

men and women.

The Electrolux Co., one of the nation's biggest manufacturers of vacuum cleaners, employs 10,000 door-to-door salesmen.

Avon Products Inc., cosmetics manufacturers, had sales last year of more than $300 million. Its products are distributed in American homes by 16,000 independent sales representatives. "We haven't deviated from the system in 66 years," says E. Graves Jr., Avon vice president.

As of now the Associated Press tabulation shows Senator Taft has 464 delegates, Eisenhower 390. Other candidates have 179. And 208 delegates are uncommitted or in dispute.

On this basis no man is close to the 604 votes that would give him the nomination on the first ballot. There'll be switching around on subsequent ballots if there's no nomination on

The switching will result from (A) pre-convention deals and (B) decisions made on the floor at the time by the delegations, particularly if they want to jump on the bandwagon of the man

Certainly Eisenhower and Taft will go into the convention, which opens July 7 in Chicago, with more delegates than now, but only temporarily. This dispute is still unsettled, of course, since the national committee simply made a decision to get the convention started. Where it opens, a Credentials com-

GALVESTON—Research by two University of Texas Medical Branch scientists indicates there is no significant correlation yet between the amount of tobacco consumed and the death rate from lung cancer in this country.

"Statistical data presented by some investigators relative to cigarette smoking are impressive," R. H. Rigdon and Helen Kirchoff, pathology department researchers, claim.

However, there is such a wide variation in conditions on which the investigations were based that additional samplings are needed to warrant their conclusions, the scientists added.

Rigdon and Kibbrough reviewed more than 40 research projects in the report entitled "Theories Relative to Lung Cancer." They attributed the rapid rise in reported lung cancer cases to be improved and more consistent medical practices and better record keeping.

Better diagnoses, decrease in the number of infectious diseases through both prevention and therapy, and the population's lengthening life span seem to be more significant factors in the increase, they asserted.

By HAL BOYLE | Men know that fishing is an

NEW YORK (AP) — Millions of American husbands are going forth now to play the nation's streams with rod and reel. And guess who's going along, too? Mama!

The lady fisherman is a rising figure in the fishing industry, which is the greater appeal it has for many men.

Just why is beyond me. I have become reconciled to the fact that baseball no longer could get by without the financial benefit of lady ropers. Lady wrestlers I can understand as they get paid for their hair-pulling mayhem.

Fishing is a perfect escape from reality for them, a chance to daydream under a summer sun away from the cares of husbandhood and parenthood. And a fishing party made up of the right kind of fellows never even bothers to drop a hook into the water or at all. They get out the bug and the cards and settle

But the why and the wherefore of the enormous increase in the number of lady anglers escape me altogether. Women are highly practical creatures, and if there is anything more impractical than dangleing a line in a stream and waiting around for a fish to bite on it, please name it. I can't.

Who really wants to catch a fish anyway? If you do, you have to carry it home, clean it — a messy job — and stow it in the refrigerator, where it smells up the rest of the food. If you hook a record size fish, the taxidermist charged you $50 to make it hang on the wall then, where it catches dust until the day it falls off and conks one of your children on the head.

The entrance of women into fishing has changed it from an individual manly sport into a family industry. Papa may not care a hang whether he catches what is called a plentiful price, but he knows that his wife and children didn't go to all that distance for nothing. She wants to be, in something, home.

A Grim Approach
She goes about the task as grimly as if her husband was a bachelor again, hidden beneath the surface and trying to evade her lure.

"That is why I believe more and more wives like to go fishing," one veteran told me. "Every time they haul up a wet, dripping fish it gives the same thrill they get when they first spared their man. It's eerie, I tell you."

This same old rascal has a

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two men have been fined $50 each for disrupting an Agriculture Department research experiment by picking a few innocent-looking but very important strawberries. The men, who were on a control patch at the department's experimental farm at Beltsville, Md. They were part of a test to determine what type plant yielded the biggest and best berries.

"Now we don't know where we are," said a department official, "our experiment is a loss because of the damage done to the States to grow the wrong kind of strawberries."

The berry pickers, William G. Gaff and Charles N. Mahoney, were fined on petty larceny charges by a judge in Prince Georges County, Md., after they were caught by a guard at the farm.

A black and white photograph of a sign. The sign is rectangular with rounded corners and a decorative border. It is mounted on a dark, ornate metal stand. The text on the sign reads: "YOUR MONEY BACK IF YOU CAN BUY IT ELSEWHERE FOR LESS!". The text is in a bold, sans-serif font, arranged in four lines. The sign is slightly tilted to the right.

High standard darkroom work is a precious commodity to a free lance photographer. Bernie Hoffman found that out when he left Life magazine, after 17 years as a staff photographer, to take pictures on his own. He soon realized that he'd need his own darkroom man to be assured of expert processing and high quality printing of the standard to which he'd become accustomed.

He also discovered that many other free lance photographers faced the same predicament. So did many first rate amateurs with little spare time, some smaller publications, public relations outfits and advertising agencies.

As a result, you'll now find Bernard Hoffman Laboratories, Inc., listed among the new photo enterprises in New York City. It features many innovations which came only after talking to darkroom printers, listing their pet peeves, then finding a way to overcome them. Most of the ideas can be adapted to home darkrooms for more efficient and better work.

To start with, Bernie decided the lab should look cheerful, not merely black. As long as there is no light in the place for these operations which required darkness, it would be black. So the negative and print rooms were done in oyster white with a five foot red tile border. The enlarging-booths were paneled in highly polished natural wood. These surfaces reflect the color of the prevalent light source and help keep a highlight level in the rooms. Since they reflect only the type of light safe to use for processing, there is no danger of fogging film or paper.

Light colored floors were the answer to the straying negative which manages to drop despite normal precautions. Usually, it stands a good chance of being stepped on before a white light has to be turned on. In the Hoffman lab, even a 35 mm negative can be spotted on the light floor by the available light.

A simple thing like building a lip on the edge of the film loading table in the negative developing room prevents reels and roll film from rolling off the edge. A portable safelight on a long extension wire probes a safe, searching eye in any corner of the room for any object. It has a green filter for panchromatic film and a red filter for orthochromatic film. This light is also used to inspect film during development.

To eliminate dust on negatives for speck - less print, two things are done. All enlargers are grounded to the electrical circuit. This eliminates static electricity in the machine, says Hoffman. Secondly, a chemical static - eliminator is sprayed on all negatives.

Mixing chemicals is a time - consuming, dusty chore. It usually requires a separate room which is hard to keep clean. Hoffman arranged for premixed chemicals in measured packages to fit his tanks. Just dump in and stir, is the procedure now. Furthermore he eliminated the acetic acid in the premixed hypo formula. Now his fresh hypo doesn't attack the nose and throat as it does in most darkrooms.

For anyone who spends any amount of time in a darkroom, a telephone extension there is a timesaver, says Hoffman. Not only waiting time, but eye adaptation to the darkroom light level, which is lost when you leave it. His darkroom and printing room have telephones. And radios, too, for mental relaxation.

Many of his work tables are supported by legs that slope back to the wall. Gives plenty of foot space below.

The light - trap partitions that form the approach to the darkroom are not solid walls. They're all hinged and can fold out of the way if you have to move a large piece of equipment in or out of the darkroom.

Developing film packs in quantity has always been a nuisance. Hoffman developed and patented a new type of tank and method for simpler handling which is now in successful operation in his lab. The tank is long, rectangular, stainless steel. A long, thin rod is dropped into, or lifted from grooves at the sides near the upper edge of the tank. A number of clips slide along the rod.

Each film pack negative is held, black paper and all, by a clip. When negatives are clipped, the whole rod is put in to the tank. Any negative can be individually inspected during development as the clip can rotate around the rod. If all the negatives are uniform the whole rod can be picked up and dropped into a stop bath then another tank of hypo. If necessary, a negative can be handled individually by releasing it from the clip.

All the fussing, removing the black paper and drying is done in white light after fixing. For a guy who circled the globe three times on Life assignments; who spent three months during World War II inside Japanese lines where he was dropped by mistake but marched out with the trapped battalion of Marauders; who covered the first B-29 raid on Japan; who made the trip up the Ledo Road

You Can't Be Lax At Bridge Tourney

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

When the New England Regional Tournament opens tomorrow in Schuette, Mass., many players will be reminded of a hand played in this tournament last year. The hand, shown today, indicates that the objectives of a tournament player are not the same as those of a rubber bridge player.

South had no chance to make his contract of four clubs, but struggled only to hold the loss to 200 points. The defenders had given up a sure game to double South at four clubs.

They would get a good score if they could collect a penalty of 500 points; but they would score a bottom if they collected only 200 points.

West could have taken declarer to the cleaners if he had opened a diamond. East would ruff and would return a heart to get another ruff. Three rounds of spades would then give the defenders a total of six defensive tricks, for a score of 800 points. West actually opened his top spade, and East continued with three rounds of that suit. On the third spade, South discarded the queen of hearts.

West discarded the deuce of hearts after careful thought. East should have led a fourth round of spades to let West make his queen of clubs. By this time, of course, West knew the diamond

Expense Slowing Down Farm Land Boom Over The Country

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The farm land boom is slowing down, the Agriculture Department said today, because it takes more money to buy and equip a farm than most young men and tenants can scrape together.

The average United States farm is worth between $17,000 and $18,000, and that doesn't include machinery, equipment and livestock, the department said. Prices rose an average of 2 percent during the four months ending March 1, compared with 8 percent during the corresponding period a year ago. Even so, farm prices on March 1 were 9 percent higher than a year ago and 23 percent higher than on July 1, 1950, when war in Korea erupted.

The department said other factors weakening the demand for farms include rising farm production costs and lower farm product prices.

Fewer sales were reported during the year ending March 1 than in the previous 12 months in all regions except New England, West - South - Central and Pacific. The drop was especially large in North Dakota, Minnesota, South Dakota, Iowa and Idaho, each of which showed declines of at least 18 percent.

The department said it has been

Low Wages Cited As Reason For Shortage Of Labor

AUSTIN — (AP) — An adequate wage scale for farm labor would prove there is no shortage of workers in Texas, Chairman Ed Idar Jr., of the American GI Forum of Texas has told State Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

Idar expressed his opinion in a letter taking issue with White's earlier statement that Texas farmers would need help from south of the border to prevent crops from rotting in the field.

The spokesman for the organization of veterans of Latin American descent said 100,000 men, women and children migrate from Texas to other states in search of the identical work which Texas farmers want Mexican nationals to do for cheaper wages.

Idar called on White to seek adequate wages for farm work in Texas. That, he said, would cause them to stay and work for the wages offered them in Texas. The use of wetback, or that is counted yearly at this illegal alien labor, has depressed time of year.

Idar said native Texas workers go to other states for work because they cannot afford to work for the wages offered them in Texas. The use of wetback, or that is counted yearly at this illegal alien labor, has depressed time of year.

LaMotta Wins Unanimous Decision Over Bob Murphy

DETROIT — (AP) — Jake LaMotta, the human sledge hammer who improves with age, will fight anyone "if there's enough cabbage in it." And anyone in the city of Detroit who is a fan of the sport of boxing, will be glad to see LaMotta fight anyone. LaMotta, 34, is a former world champion and has fought some of the best fighters in the world. He is now fighting Bob Murphy, a former world champion, in a fight that is expected to be the largest in the history of the city. The fight is scheduled for Saturday night at the Detroit Sports Club. LaMotta is expected to win the fight by a unanimous decision.

Hank Sauer Leads Cubs Near First Place With 3 Homers

By HANK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

No one will dare ask Hank Sauer to sit out the 1952 All-Star Game. The big fellow from Chicago stands out today as the leading slugger in all baseball. Barney Shotton, National League all-star manager in 1950, got himself in a jam when he suggested that big Hank give way to Duke Snider in the starting lineup. Shotton found himself without a centerfielder in his fan-picked outfield of Enos Slaughter, Ralph Kiner and Sauer. So he decided to bench Sauer.

The wires sizzled with fiery fans. They applied so much heat that Commissioner Happy Chandler, heeding the mounting pressure, ruled "Sauer must start."

From the trend of the early '42 balloting, Sauer may wind up with the most votes of any player in either league. At least he will if he has many more days like yesterday.

Sauer hammered three of "cousin" Curt Simmons' pitches into the left field bleacher area for a 3-2 Cub win over the Phillies. Back in 1950 he also hit three homers off Simmons in an Aug. 28 game at Wrigley Field. No other major league batter ever hit three homers off the same pitcher in two different games.

Poor Base Running

Sauer's homers were lead-off blows in the second, sixth and eighth innings. In the third inning he popped out.

Despite the bombing, Turk Lown needed some leashed Pinch-hitting and relief help from Dutch Leonard to beat Simmons. With the bases loaded in the sixth, Richie Ashburn singled to center but Tommy Brown dashed from first to third without touching second base. Two runs were nullified when the Cub infield called for the ball and Eddie Miksis stepped on second to retire Brown for the third out.

Leonard replaced Lown with men on second and third and only one out in the ninth. He struck out Johnny Wyrostek and made Forrest Burgess ground out. Sauer's slugging was the big news of the day, although there was much fussing and fuming last night at St. Louis were both Manager Chuck Dressen and Captain Pee Wee Reese of Brooklyn were tossed out of the game with the St. Louis Cardinals. Del Rice's single in the 10th gave the Cards a 3-2 win, slicing the Dodgers' National League lead to four games.

Jim Hearn pitched the New York Giants past Cincinnati, 3-2, with a four-hitter and a little Murry Dickson of Pittsburgh blanked Boston, 5-0.

The New York Yankees strengthened their American League lead with a 7-2 win over Detroit on Johnny Sain's pitching and home runs by Joe Collins and Yogi Berra.

Washington's Bob Porterfield shut out Cleveland's Bob Lemon, 1-0, to let the Boston Red Sox take over second place with a come-from-behind win over St. Louis, 11-9. The Red Sox blasted Satchel Paige for six in the ninth including a game-winning grand slam homer by Catcher Sammy White.

Red Sox Explode

The Philadelphia A's knocked off Chicago, 5-3, on a four-run rally in the sixth that included a two-run homer by Al Clark, filling in for injured Gux Zernial.

The Red Sox explosion was the most dramatic in the American as it came against Paige, who has been showing fine relief form. He hadn't allowed a run for 27 innings.

Coasting into the ninth with a comfortable 4-5 lead for Marty Marion's new charges, old Satch loaded the bases on two infield singles and a walk. Vern Stephens popped out but Paige walked Billy Goodman to force in a run. Ted Lepcio's single scored another run and White cleaned the bases the first homer off Paige this season.

Collins hit two homers and Berra one off 21-year-old Bill Hoelt for the Yanks' ninth victory in their last 10 starts as they surged from fifth to first place in less than two weeks.

Porterfield beat Lemon with a run in the eighth when Pete Runnels tricked a double past Second Baseman Bobby Avila and Ken Wood, recently acquired from the Red Sox, singled to center.

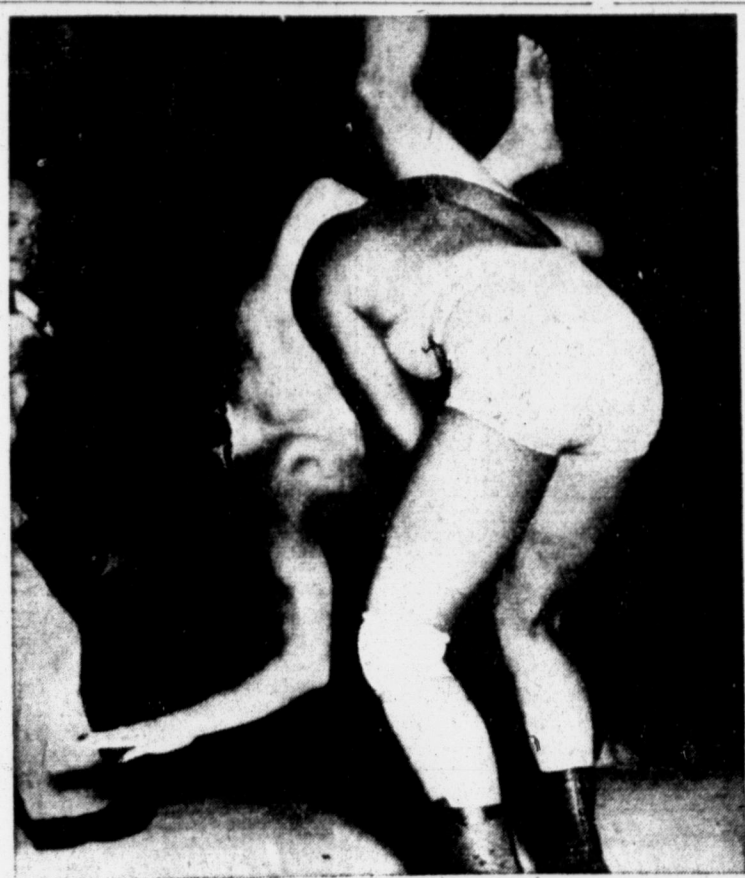

The Cards' extra-inning win came when Peanut Lowrey opened the 10th with a double off loser Billy Loes. After Dick Sisler was passed intentionally, Tommy Glaviano forced Lowrey at third on an attempted sacrifice. Rice then hit Loes' first pitch into short left to score Sisler.

Hearn turned in a fine effort for the Giants at Cincinnati. During one stretch, the right-hander retired 15 consecutive Reds. Successive doubles by Bob Elliott and Don Mueller scored the decisive run in the fifth after Bobby Thomson's eighth homer, with Whitley Lockman on base, tied the score.

Gus Bell hit a homer with two on and Ralph Kiner smashed No. 10 for the Pirates while Dickson set down the Braves with five singles.

Frank Secory, new umpire in the National League, holds a B.S. degree from Western Michigan College.

Freeman, Bitter Take Wins In First Outdoor Mat Card

In the finest display of the "old style" of wrestling, Ace Freeman, great Jewish star from the Bronx, took two out of three falls from popular Tommy Martindale last night to win the main event of the first outdoor wrestling show in Pampa. In the special event, Lillian Bitter grabbed the third fall from June Byers to capture the ladies' event.

In a one-fall preliminary, the transplanted Iowa, Bob Giegel, took a 12-minute fall from Ace Abbott of Abilene.

The girls really showed the fans how wrestling can get rough. They slammed, kicked and pushed each other from corner to corner from bell to bell. Byers, the husky Houstonite, took the first fall in 11 minutes with a body smother after slamming Lillian around the ring. Bitter, from Newark, N. J.,

Payte Pitches Borger By Clovis

BORGER — (AP) — George Payte, making his first start in Gasser flannels, snapped the Clovis Pioneers' eight game winning streak here last night. Payte struck out 14 men, allowed but four hits and blanked the Pioneers after a shaky three innings.

Mel Kramer, the third of four Clovis hurlers, was charged with the loss.

Payte walked the first two Havenstite in the third. The hits and an error to tie the men he faced and after he got triple plated Richardson who had score. Kramer came on at that Never let him know. Beauty details that should be a secret between you and the operator at the beauty salon. The minor irritations of your day. Big troubles are to be shared in marriage, but sharing minor annoyances robs a marriage of peace and contentment.

The pettiness of other women. In telling it, some of the pettiness will cling to you.

The boredom of your life, if it is boring. That is something only you can change. Complaining of it and doing nothing about it will only make you seem boring to him.

That you hate growing older. If you aren't dismayed by it, your age won't make you less attractive to him.

That the gift he brought you wasn't exactly what you wanted. That you know him better than he knows himself. That is carrying "understanding" too far.

That you expect anything but the best from him. That you warned him against doing a certain thing, after time has proved you right. Always control that impulse to use those four annoying words, "I told you so."

That you would like to change him. Wives do sometimes succeed in changing husbands for the better, but not if the husbands know that they are being improved.

That he is not as young as he once was. No woman, but a wife ever makes THAT mistake.

That you are perfectly capable of taking care of yourself in any situation.

B&PW Club Holds 'Packing Party' In City Club Room

Business and Professional Women's Club met in the city club rooms this week for a packing party at which members packed clothing to be sent overseas. Special guests were Mrs. Josephine F. Anderson of Rochester, N.Y., who is a sister to Mrs. Bill Pinkbinder, and Mrs. Martha Jarvis of Tampa, Fla. Mrs. Jarvis is past president of the Tampa Business and Professional Women's club which has 140 members. In a short talk she said Florida has 84 clubs with a total membership of 4060. The Florida clubs' state project is helping girls that are in the Correctional Institutions, and this year Mrs. Jarvis served as state president of this project. She said the purpose was to lend a "helping hand with the personal touch" rather than just donations of money. The Kiwanis Club of Florida work with the boys along these same lines.

In the business session, a lake sale was planned for Saturday morning in the lobby of the

by Wanda Campbell

Sometimes projects of the 60 or more women's organizations in our town are far apart. But one project that gained popularity among many of our clubs the past year was "Girlstown". It seemed that the dream Miss Amelia Anthony had in a home for homeless girls was shared by many. Mrs. Frank Lard and Mrs. Ethel Anderson were frequent visitors to the ranch near Lubbock. They took colored motion pictures of the town and during the Spring the film was shown at numerous club meetings. The movies show the girls in their life at the ranch which covers some 1425 acres. They show the coral, dining room, the private rooms with modern furnishings and most impressive of all, the living room divided by an immense two-way fireplace. (This picture was carried in "Good Housekeeping" a year or two ago). Local women have been interested in Girlstown not only because several Pampa girls live there, but also because they've seen what home living has done for the girls. They've watched eager three-year-olds opening birthday packages from unknown friends. They've seen a laughing nine-year-old popping corn over an open fire. And they've watched a 15-year-old girl's eyes shine as she helps with the younger children. They've seen all the girls become happy in the knowledge they are wanted and loved. The Entre Nous, B&PW and Beta Sigma Phi were among the local organizations who gave support to the project. But the support is not left to organized groups. It's an individual partnership whereby anyone in the United States can contribute. By March, 1959, Miss Anthony hopes to have 800 girls in the home. At present, there are that many applications for homes, but housing is limited. There are big plans for Girlstown, including seven dormitories, a gymnasium, swimming pool, tennis courts and theater. And underneath all physical plans is one great aim for the ranch: teaching the girls to become good housewives and mothers, to get along with people and appreciate cultural achievement. The girls learn with the hand, the head and the heart. Fair play is their government, and religious freedom their rule of life. The possibilities for Girlstown, now only three years old, are unlimited and Pampa women have a share in its growth.

Cake Decorating Taught At Meeting

Mrs. Ed Barnes demonstrated cake decorating at the Entre Nous club meeting held recently in the home of Mrs. Doyle Osborne. She stressed that a cool room was necessary for making floral decorations on cakes. "A warm room causes icing to melt before it has time to set," Mrs. Barnes said. During the demonstration, Mrs. Barnes decorated a three-tiered cake which was later served to guests. Following the demonstration, Mrs. C. A. Tignor gave highlights of the Democratic convention which was held in San Antonio, and which she attended. Also present were Betty Barnes, Wyeth and Janet Osborne.

Officer Sees No Build-Up Of Red Forces

SEOUL, Korea — (AP) — The top United Nations air commander in Korea says his air spotters have found no sign of a buildup for a Communist offensive in Korea but "if we did we'd go after it."

Maj. Gen. Glen Barcus, new commander of the U. S. Fifth Air Force, told a news conference the Air Force knows the Reds have "a lot" of men in North Korea.

Rough Terrain
"In that type of rough terrain, it's easy to conceal people. They're masters at camouflage and concealment."

British Prime Minister Winston Churchill and United Nations headquarters in Tokyo said recently that the Reds have built up their forces in North Korea. Churchill called the increase in men, artillery, tanks and jet planes "very grave."

Barcus was asked if air sightings show signs of an all-out Communist ground offensive. He answered: "We haven't been able to see enough from the air to indicate any such thing. We haven't been able to detect any great massing of strength."

Make It Costly
If the Reds take the offensive and use their MIG-15 jet fighters for air support, Barcus said, the Fifth Air Force couldn't build an air-tight umbrella over Allied ground forces. "But we'd make it costly for them."

Barcus said he does not know any noticeable increase in airfield construction in North Korea. Allied planes usually bomb any airfields they find under construction in the north. The MIGs would need air fields closer to the battlefield than Manchuria, their present base, to do maximum damage in a Communist offensive.

Barcus said the Reds are getting some supplies through the Allied air screen, but "supplying a static army and supplying an offensive are two different things."

General And Pace Disagree On Red Threat In Korea

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Secretary of the Army Frank Pace Jr. thoroughly disagrees with Maj. Gen. Daniel H. Hulsdon that United Nations forces in Korea lack the manpower to face the Communist hordes and win the war.

"Any opinion to the effect that United Nations forces in Korea would be defeated if the Communists should attack," Pace declared, "is contrary to everything that our highest military leaders in the field — the men who know most about the situation — have to report."

"For my part, I'll put my trust in the ability of the armed forces of our nation and those of our Allies to meet a new challenge which the Communists may make," Pace said in a statement.

The secretary was commenting on an interview in Los Angeles by Hulsdon, a reserve officer who is returning to civilian life after 21 months active duty, including service as commander of the 40th Division in Korea.

Hulsdon, who said in his original interview, "I'm not sure why we're even fighting," told reporters later: "Secretary Pace is a fine gentleman, and as secretary undoubtedly has access to information not available to a poor old broken down commander just back from Korea. I was speaking only from personal experience."

An oil company executive until his recall to duty, Hulsdon said he expects to be out of the Army within two or three days. Brig. Gen. Joseph P. Cleland, a regular Army officer, is replacing him as commander of the 40th.

Sixth Army headquarters in San Francisco was asked to investigate the circumstances of Hulsdon's statement and to provide full details of what he said.

The Army specifically wants to determine whether Hulsdon was separated from service at the time of his interview. However, Army officials here expressed doubt that any disciplinary action would be taken against the general even if he was still technically on active duty at the time of his statement.

Swimming Pool At Miami Is Opened

MIAMI — (Special) — Miami's swimming pool was opened the past week, again under the sponsorship of the local, American Legion Post.

Charles Gill, Miami college student who attended North Texas State College, Denton, the past winter, has accepted the position as manager of the pool.

The Legion's swimming pool committee has announced that the pool will be open on week days from 1 until 6 p.m., and on Sundays from 1 until 6.

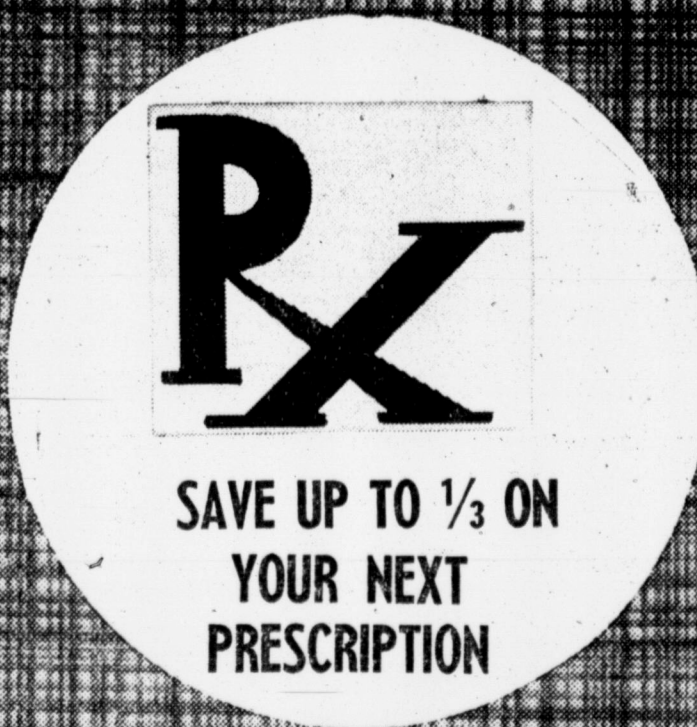

The Legion is not sponsoring the pool with the idea of making money, but rather for the benefit of children, many of whom have no other form of recreation during the summer months. As additional improvements will be made on the pool as funds permit, all adults, whether they swim or not, are asked to buy at least one season ticket, as a community project.
