BANK CHIEFS PROMISE FOR COOPERATION

READY AND ANXIOUS TO LEND MONEY, SAY
OFFICIALS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—A pledge of full cooperation in the recovery campaign was made personally to President Roosevelt today by the officers of the American Bankers' association.

Rudolph S. Hecht, new president of the association, told the president, the bankers were prepared and anxious to lend money to business.

"The banks want to lend," said Hecht.

"We are going through with the program of cooperation," Hecht called attention to notices have been sent to clearing houses by Francis M. Law, the retiring president, advertising the willingness of bankers to extend credit.

Hecht was accompanied to the White House by Law and Robert V. Fleming, vice president of the association and Tom K. Smith, of St. Louis, chairman of the bankers' study committee which will draft legislative proposals.

"We told the president that we were four bill players for the All-American team he proposed of banking, business, industry, labor, agriculture, and capital," Hecht said. "He accepted our proffer."

Hecht said that Jackson Reynolds, president of the First National bank of New York, expressed the opinion of the "overwhelming majority" of the bankers in stating that they were anxious to cooperate with the government.

No Marriage

Racial barriers that threatened the marriage of Ellen Wilson McAdoo, top daughter of U. S. Senator William Gibbs McAdoo of California and granddaughter of Woodrow Wilson, and Rafael Lopez de Onate, have been razed, with submission of proof by the five brides known as Ralph N. McAdoo, that he is of Spanish blood and a U. S. citizen. De Onate produced documents showing that he was not a Filipino, after the county clerk in Riverside, Calif., had red the question of nationality. But relatives of the girl objected and the wedding has been postponed indefinitely.

DRIVE CLOSES 35 REFINERIES IN EAST TEXAS

SHIPMENTS OF ILLEGAL CRUDE
ON DECREASE

DROP FROM 801 CARS
TO FOURTEEN ON THURSDAY

KILGORE, Oct. 26 (AP)—The federal tender board's campaign to eliminate interstate shipments of illegal crude oil and its products showed results today as reports revealed that rail shipments dropped from 801 cars Wednesday to 14 yesterday.

The figures were taken from a record of the state railroad commission, oil governing body in Texas.

Oil men also attributed the closing of 35 refineries to the activity of the federal government. Commission officials said the report counts today might show an even greater number shut down.

Entering its second day of hearings, the federal board began consideration of 68 applications for interstate movement of crude oil and 15 for such transportation of refined products. Expiration of regulations at yesterday's session resulted in complete data being supplied to the board today and a greater number of applications were approved. Norman L. Meyers, chairman of the board, said a number of applications have been held out but will be approved when the proper information is presented.

Meyers asked the forecast tenders on products be kept to a minimum until the first of next month in order that the board might have time to set up proper records.

"We want to facilitate movement and will not hold up transactions but we don't want to facilitate the movement of hot oil," he said.

He told applicants for products tenders to indicate on their applications the amount going interstate and that portion designed for intrastate transportation, "so that a plant will not be shipping legal oil interstate and then using illegal oil for intrastate transactions."

McAdoo Nuptials Are 'Indefinite'

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 26 (AP)—Filmmaker McAdoo isn't married, doesn't intend to obtain a license today, and doesn't know when she will marry.

The 19-year-old granddaughter of the late President Woodrow Wilson turned home early today to deny she had eloped with Rafael Lopez de Onate, Philippine-born film actor.

She came back after leaving home at 11 a. m. yesterday without saying a word to anyone. She explained her absence by saying she and De Onate had been calling on friends.

"I have no statement to make other than I made before," said Miss McAdoo. "Our marriage plans are indefinite."

She has been threatened with disinheritance by both her mother and her father, Senator William Gibbs McAdoo, if she goes through with the wedding to the 35-year-old actor. Her parents are divorced. They threatened to cut off her $10,000 annual allowance. De Onate reportedly earns only $1,000 a year.

Football Wire Is Leased

Free Play-by-Play Report
Will Be Given Here Over Loud Speakers.

A Western Union leased wire from El Paso will bring the play-by-play account of the Pampa-Bowie football game to this city tomorrow afternoon.

El Paso is in Mountain time, hence the game will start at 3:30 p. m. Pampa time.

Pampa fans and The NEWS have made the leased wire possible. Loud speakers will be placed on the Combs-Worley office building, so that everyone may hear free of cost.

Harry E. Hoare, sports editor of The NEWS, left yesterday afternoon for El Paso to complete arrangements, and his account from the sidelines will begin at about 3:15 p. m. tomorrow. Telegraph operators will send and receive the dictated account within a few seconds of actual play.

The special wire was obtained through the efforts of Charlie Duenkel, The NEWS, and Western Union. The report here will be received in the office of Securities Service corporation in the Combs-Worley building, where leased wire facilities are installed.

The special report was made possible by the following:

Pampa Daily NEWS, Pampa High School Athletic association, A. J. Johnson, Malone Funeral Home, Diamond Shop, Siler Faulkner, Charlie Thut, Judge Ivy E. Duncan, S. D. Stennis, Harvesters Drug, City shoe shop, Courthouse Barber shop, John B. Hesse, R. G. Hughes, Ewing Leach.

The telegraphic report will be read into the public address system, furnished by Kopper Radio shop by Mr. Hughes and Mr. Hesse.

Principals I. L. Stone and Creighton Mitchell and Ayres M. Fox left this morning with the full Harvard squad for El Paso. Fans furnished cars to transport the big squad. The Pampans will be quartered at the Hilton hotel in El Paso. Telephone or telephone calls will reach them there.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—A banker borrowed a quarter from a reporter today and was accused by President Roosevelt of being from the White House steps.

AUSTIN, Oct. 26 (AP)—Both houses of the Texas legislature adjourned today until Monday without taking further action on any of the legislation submitted to it by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson. The senate deferred until Monday a vote on a conference committee report on a bill to extend relief to hard pressed delinquent taxpayers by releasing part due penalties and interest.

BREWTON, Ala., Oct. 26 (AP)—An armed mob of about 100 men stormed the Escambia county jail here today between 2 and 3 a. m. and freed Claude Neal, 23-year-old negro, who allegedly confessed yesterday to the attack and murder of Miss Lola Cannady, 23, at Greenwood, Fla., a week ago. Sheriff G. S. Byrne said the men came to the jail in 30 automobiles bearing Florida license plates.

AUSTIN, Oct. 26 (AP)—Texas senators by formal resolution today requested Rice institute to permit a radio broadcast of its team's football game with the University of Texas. Senators Joe Moore of Greenville and John W. Hornsby of Austin stated in the resolution many persons could not obtain tickets. A broadcast would benefit not only Texans but those of other states interested in the two teams because of international victories, they noted.

HARTFORD, Conn., Oct. 26 (AP)—Two men snatched 19-year-old Patricia Henry from the yard of St. Joeph's parochial school this afternoon and drove off with her in an automobile bearing New Jersey license plates. Police of three states were notified.

PERTH AMBOY, N. J., Oct. 26 (AP)—Commenting today on published reports that New Jersey is no longer sure Bruno Richard Hauptmann was the actual kidnaper of the Lindbergh baby, Attorney General David I. 'TOO BAD' SAY JAPANESE TO TWO NATIONS

TOLD IN GIST TO
'JUMP IN CREEK'

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 26 (AP)—Senate Democratic Leader Joe T. Robinson today expressed "fear" that war in Europe "is almost sure to come at no very remote date."

Senator Robinson, who as a member of the senate foreign relations committee, spent several weeks in Europe this summer and who expressed "amazement" at the feeling of "surprise" abroad when he landed in New York a week ago, elaborated on that thought on reaching his home this morning.

"I do not look for war in the near future," he said, "but fear it is almost certain to come at no very remote date."

"Europe probably would have already been at war in the Balkans but for the fact that there is neither money nor credit with which to carry on a conflict."

TOKYO, Oct. 26 (AP)—Japan disclosed today it has told the United States and Great Britain. It is unable to ask Manchoukuo to modify a proposed oil monopoly program and advised them to approach the Manchoukuo government directly.

(Neither Washington nor London recognized Manchoukuo Japanese-sponsored "independent" state.)

Representations had been made to Tokyo by the two countries, along with the Netherlands, alleging the monopoly would violate the nine-power treaty and the "open door" policy and work serious hardships on foreign oil companies.

The foreign office, in the summary made public today, said Japan's position was outlined in informal notes handed the Anglo-American embassies nearly three months ago.

Japan asserted the measures would not violate the "open door." Earlier a spokesman for the foreign office said the nine-power treaty, guaranteeing the "open door" in China, is "inapplicable to Manchoukuo," Japan pledged, made by Japanese and Manchoukuo leaders to maintain the open door in Manchuria were unilateral declarations lacking the binding force of treaties, he continued, "and hence may be withdrawn at any time."

The United States and Great Britain argued a Manchoukuo oil monopoly would do them little good. Both claimed violations of the nine-power treaty.

In the first place, the spokesman said, Japan is unable to "receive representations which should properly have been made to Manchoukuo."

However, since foreign powers do not recognize the independence of Manchoukuo, insisting it is still a part of China, their representations logically should have been made to Nanking.

The Japanese press has been forbidden to mention the oil monopoly.

Red Cross Helps Buy Clothes for Needy Children

Another $100 appropriation for the benefit of Pampa school children was made by the executive committee of the Red Cross yesterday.

This will be used to buy much needed clothing for children of destitute families. Teachers will make recommendations to the P-T-A groups, which jointly are undertaking to clothe the needy children.

Brevitorials

IF THE FOUNDERS of Texas could look upon and listen to some of their worthy successors today in the lawmaking halls of this state, their remarks would doubtless shame those who are thinking of the Centennial only or principally as an economic venture. It is somewhat unfortunate that the Century of Progress has colored the Centennial plans and tended to put the latter on a basis of attracting dollars, not interest in Texas' founders. Are we going to stage a second world's fair or are we going to glorify the history of this state?

WE CAN BUILD at Dallas a carnival de luxe and attract hundreds of thousands of persons to Dallas. Visitors may see an exhibit hall of Texas products and manufactures. This would be worthwhile. But it wouldn't be the Alamo. And we already have a state fair. Dallas can put up buildings, fill them with exhibits, permit salivandry and streetparading, but that will be merely an introduction to Texas, a pleasant stop in a pleasant city, en route to the real shrines of Texas.

IT SEEMS INCOMPREHENSIBLE to assume that we properly can observe the Centennial away from the historically sacred sites in this state. By this we mean that, regardless of what is done in Dallas, the Centennial will mean little to us unless we can go to Houston, San Antonio, and Austin, among other places, and see the things that will carry us back to the beginning of the Texas republic. Perhaps a majority of north and West Texas citizens have never seen San Jacinto, Alamo, or the state capitol. They must see these things in all their glorious magnificence, if they are to be able to say that they have observed the Centennial period. It is time and proper to re-enact local history, to erect monuments, to assemble exhibits but there can be no sectionalism in a Texas Centennial.

THAT SECTIONALISM has arisen communities are competing for millions to erect hastily conceived monuments and the real purpose of the Centennial has been smothered in the scramble for appropriations. It is proof that enough serious thought has been given that out-of-state guests have not been considered from their viewpoint, and that not Texas history, but how to profit from it is a main consideration at the moment. To solicit the Centennial interest from twenty-two will confuse and disgust visitors and take the significance from the proper shrines. Texas' glory is not for sale; the legislature should never have considered anything but the proper place and way to attract Texans and tourists. We intend this as no reflection on Dallas, which responded magnificently to the proposition made and will illustrate Texas progress in business and social development.

HISTORICAL themes have been used in some great events in this country. The Sequi-Centennial would be a far better pattern for Texas than the concepts now held by many of these clamoring for fu is and recognition. Pampa demonstrated last year that a sincere, interesting, and non-profit making program can be built by any community motivated by patriotism and energized by pride in Texas history. Why then, this unidentified and ill-advised raid on the state treasury—a scramble in which many communities with previously no idea of asking funds have rushed spokesmen to Austin to make sure that they get as much as their rival cities?

THE ANSWER IS EASY to give but hard to justify. A Centennial commission which was doing

CRONIN SOLD TO BOSTON SOX FOR HIGHEST PRICE EVER PAID FOR PLAYER

WILL SUCCEED BUCKY HARRIS AS SOX CHIEF

BABE RUTH MAY TAKE CRONIN'S PLACE IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—Joe Cronin, young manager of the Washington American league baseball team, was sold today to the Boston Red Sox and reports here said he was given a 5-year contract as player-manager.

One of the biggest major league deals of recent years, Boston bought the 26-year-old shortstop for a price reported to be the highest ever paid for a player, considerably more than the $125,000 the Yankees paid for Babe Ruth in 1919. The Red Sox also sent Shortstop Lynford Lary to the Senators.

Cronin will succeed Stanley "Bucky" Harris as the Red Sox manager. It was understood here, Harris, who lives here was on a hunting trip today and Mrs. Harris said the deal was "news" to her.

The sudden sale of Cronin brought speculation here as to whom President Clark Griffith would select as manager for the Senators' next season. It is known Griffith highly regards Harris, and it also has been rumored that Griffith would like to have George Herman (Babe) Ruth at the local helm.

Cronin, born in San Francisco in 1906, was purchased by the Nationals in 1928 from Kansas City of the American association, after being unconditionally released by Pittsburgh following trials in 1925 and 1927.

Playing 65 games for the Senators in 1928, Cronin batted only .243 but he won the regular shortstop job in 1929 with an average of .282. Not until 1930, however, did Cronin hit a stride in baseball history. In that year he batted .346 and was voted the most valuable player in the league.

In 1931, 1932 and 1933, he batted .306, .318 and .309, respectively, for a lifetime major league mark of .306 but he dropped below .300 this season, which was curtailed for him when he broke his wrist on Labor day in a collision at first base with Pitcher Wes Ferrell of the Red Sox.

Cronin succeeded Walter Johnson as manager of the Nationals in 1933 and piloted the third place club to the pennant. He lost in the world series to the New York Giants.

Harris in his first year as manager of the Senators in 1934 won not only the American league pennant but also the world series. Cronin's injury-riddled Senators finished in seventh place this year.

Babe Ruth's Next Job Worries Hot Stove Statesmen

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP)—Babe Ruth's uncertain status with the New York Yankees apparently is going to furnish the "hot stove" league with its principal item of conversation this winter.

Since the Babe made his famous pronouncement at Detroit during the world series that he would not remain with the Yankees simply as a pinch-hitter, rumors have come thick and fast, none using his name with various managerial berths.

The latest one, widely circulated yesterday, said Ruth would succeed Connie Mack as manager of the Philadelphia Athletics next season. Just what has in fact, if any, this year might have still was to be learned today for the story came when the two principals, Mack and Ruth, were on shipboard halfway out on the Pacific on their way to Japan for a baseball barnstorming tour.

Even so there were plenty of denials. Ed Barrow, business manager of the Yankees said that so far as he knew there was no truth to the story.

Dr. H. S. Cockerill left this morning for his home in Moreland, Okla., after a visit in the home of his son, C. C. Cockerill. His little granddaughter, Colleen Cockerill, accompanied him home.

Crowd of 20,000 Expected To See Matadors and Loyola Play This Evening.

LOS ANGELES, Sat., Oct. 26 (AP)—Texas Tech's Red Raiders were prepared for their intersectional football clash tonight with Loyola University at Gilmore stadium.

The Texans with a 55-piece band and 125 rosters arrived here late yesterday and took an anything but quiet workout under the lights of the stadium as a motion picture company on location was grinding out films under the shadow of the goal posts.

The invaders took the field with blood-curdling yells and shouted loudly as they rushed through their workout.

Coach Pete Cawthon of Texas.

Tech and Coach Tom Lieb of the Loyola Lions both threatened to start their second string elevens.

The Red Raiders were slight favorites on the basis of their impressive record this season, although Loyola has lost only to the unbeaten Santa Clara eleven.

Liquors Found At Campus Shop

AUSTIN, Oct. 26 (AP)—Investigation by the grand jury charges that hard liquor is being sold to University of Texas students was a k.d. by Sheriff Lee O. Allen after a raid on a confectionery across from the campus.

The raid was conducted yesterday following a complaint by Dean V. L. Moore of the university. A large stock of liquors, including some imported French and Spanish brands, was seized.

Sheriff Allen said no arrests would be made pending action of the grand jury.

Representative H. C. Kyle of San Marcos has said he would introduce in the legislature a resolution calling for enforcement of the prohibition law with rangers, if necessary.

CRONIN 'SORRY'

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26 (AP)—Joe Cronin today confirmed reports he would be player-manager of the Boston Red Sox in 1935.

"I am sorry to be leaving Washington," Cronin said in commenting upon his sale to Washington, "but Boston is a progressive, developing team."

Cronin said that he would go east in December.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Shaw, J., have returned from a three-month tour of western states. They drove more than 7,000 miles on the trip. Mr. Shaw is owner of the Richard drug store here. They also visited relatives in California.

BARKER PICKS RICE TO BEAT TEXAS ELEVEN

PREDICTS S. M. U. WILL LOSE TO FORDHAM TOMORROW

BY HERBERT W. BARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP)—The burned child may fear the fire but football guessers are a harder, or a less wise, brood.

Notwithstanding the scars already incurred in the line of duty this season, they were at it again today, hoping Old Man Upset would keep his meddling fingers out of the pie for once. From this corner, week-end prospects seemed about as follows:

Yale-Army: Army, unbeaten, untied, unscored upon and untested. Yale, beaten once but coming along fast as witness the 37-0 rout of Brown last week. The Cadets, led by Jack Buckler, seem to have far the better running attack but must beware of that demon passer, Jerry Roscoe. A not-too-certain ballot for Army.

Minnesota-Iowa: There no choice but Minnesota here but the Gophers will have to keep Oze Simmons and Dick Grayne well covered and keep their own game at the same high level that overcame Pitt.

Stanford-Southern California: Here's the logical spot for one of the season's outstanding upsets but it's a sheer impossibility to pick anyone but Stanford.

Alabama-Georgia: Close action almost certain but Alabama's Crimson Tide, leading Southeastern conference contender, gets the call.

Rice-Texas: The Southwest conference title may hang on this one with Rice a narrow favorite.

Penn-Navy: Penn has shown encouraging progress the last two weeks but hardly enough to overturn Navy's unbeaten array, featuring Buzz Borries and Bill Clark.

Michigan-Illinois: Michigan finally broke its touchdown famine against Georgia Tech last week but seems rated for another beating by the Illini and their tricky offense.

Washington-California: Both are regarded now as possible Pacific Coast power-house attack of the future. The Huskies are probably will take a "break" or two to decide this tussle. A vote for Washington.

Edge For Baylor.

Baylor-Texas A. & M.: The results to date are not too encouraging for Baylor, but there's little to choose between them. Carnegie Tech-Purdue: The Boilermakers look too strong for Carnegie.

Fordham-Southern Methodist: One of the Southwest best pitted against the team that was roundly outplayed by St. Mary's last week. A perhaps too-trusting vote of confidence in Fordham's ability to solve the Mustangs' passing.

Notre Dame-Wisconsin: Notre Dame beat Purdue by two touchdowns; Purdue beat Wisconsin by two touchdowns. Two and two makes four. That won't be the margin in this game, but a vote for Notre Dame just the same.

Tulane-Georgia Tech: Tech returns from its midwest invasion just in time, probably, to take a beating.

Vanderbilt-Louisiana State: Two Southeastern conference contenders collide here and one's title hopes will crash. The coin says Louisiana State to win.

Washington State-Oregon State: A close one. Washington State.

Harvard-Dartmouth: Stringing along with another unbeaten but untested outfit, Dartmouth, narrowly.

Holy Cross-Colgate: Holy Cross' perfect record will be seriously threatened here but the crusaders get the nod.

Northwestern-Ohio State: This Ohio State team is good.

Centenary Gets Call.

Centenary-Texas Christian: Centenary usually spells trouble for most Southwest conference teams; last week's defeat of Texas indicates this year is no exception.

Utah-Oregon: Utah never has luck against Pacific Coast conference teams. A ballot for Oregon.

Tennessee-Duke: No touchier one on the list than this one. Duke slightly favored.

Princeton-Cornell: In spite of the close call with Washington & Lee, Princeton.

Brown-Syracuse: Syracuse to remain unbeaten.

Chicago-Missouri: No reason apparent why Chicago should stumble on this one.

Nebraska-Iowa State: Dynamite concealed in this vital Big Six conference game but Nebraska none-the-less.

Auburn-Kentucky: Auburn has won only one game in five but the Plainsmen have played well enough to indicate this may be victory No. two.

Maryland-Florida: Two air-minded teams with the issue apparently resting on completed passes. Tossing the coin.

North Carolina-North Carolina State: On the records, North Carolina.

Columbia-Penn State: Two branches of the "cat" family, with Columbia's Lions favored over the Nittany Lions.

Georgetown-New York University: Georgetown.

Kansas-Oklahoma: Oklahoma, mainly because Kansas hasn't scored a point on a major rival so far.

Tulsa-Kansas State: Kansas State in a hard-fought one.

Arkansas-Missouri Mines: The Razorbacks of Arkansas in a breath-er.

Washington and Lee-Virginia Poly: Apparently the spot for the

YOU can bank on the double economy of every gallon of Phillips 66... the greater gasoline.

ECONOMY NUMBER 1. It is honest, high test—with effective volatility so high that it is rarely equalled by any other gasoline even at a higher price.

Such high test used to cost a premium. Now without paying a penny extra, you get the extra mileage resulting from far less choking. You enjoy more power, quicker warm-up, flashier acceleration, new speed and ease of starting.

ECONOMY NUMBER 2. Phillips 66 is genuinely high anti-knock, without the faintest ping on hard pulls or hills. That used to cost a premium, too. Now you pay nothing extra for the extra anti-knock quality added by Lead Tetraethyl.

And changeable weather can't affect this all-round improved performance, because CONTROLLED VOLATILITY matches Phillips 66 to your location and climate in advance. Remember, Phillips pioneered "tailored" gasoline.

Just stop for a trial tankful at the Orange and Black 66 Shield, and you will have some extra coins to put in baby's bank—because both your car and your money will go farther!

FORMER TEXAN'S TEAMS WIN NEVADA TITLES IN DEBATING, GRID, TRACK, BASKETBALL

Doug Dashiell Is Grandson Of A. W. Terrell; Record Is Nation's Most Unusual.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—This story will be about the young Texan who drifted into Nevada a few years ago and remained to become probably the outstanding high school coach in football, basketball, track and mind you, debating, in the state.

His name is Doug Dashiell and he is the vice principal of the Las Vegas high school. He is the grandson of A. W. Terrell, United States ambassador to Turkey under Grover Cleveland and the son of L. T. Dashiell, prominent in Texas political affairs over a period of years.

Young Dashiell was born in Austin and graduated from Southern University in Georgetown, Texas. He studied law at the University of Texas and took a master of arts degree at the University of Southern California.

He wasn't an all American football player but he has proved himself to be an all-Nevada high school coach. These things happen fairly often. Slip Madigan did not set the world afire as a player at Notre Dame but as coach at St. Mary's colleges he will do until a better one comes along. The same goes for Orin Hollingsbery who only played high school and club football but is doing a whale of a job teaching Washington State college elevens what the game is all about.

Dashiell-coached football teams have won 56 games, lost 3 and tied 3. His elevens have won the state high school championships of Nevada for three years, scoring 873 points to 88 for the opposition.

His basketball teams have won 83 games and lost 38 and in the Nevada state track and field championships his 1931 squad took third place, his 1932 team won the event and this year his boys finished second.

Now jump over to another field. For six years this young man has been coaching debate. During that time his teams have not been defeated. For the last four years his teams have won the Nevada state title.

Offhand the writer cannot recall veracity in high school circles greater than that shown by Dashiell. For many years, as vice principal, E. E. Perkins taught a class at Stadium high school, Tacoma, Wash., and turned out winning football teams. Clipper Smith was a professor in law as well as football coach during his first two years at Santa Clara university. But down Las Vegas way they have a triple-threatener in athletics who waxes up for the job by out-performing opponents in academic competition.

It was Texas' loss and Nevada's gain when young Dashiell hit the northwest trail.

Miami to Play LeFors Tonight On Shaw Field

The LeFors Pirates and the Miami Warriors will clash at 8 o'clock tonight on Shaw field in the first conference game of the season for LeFors, and the third for the Warriors, who have won one game and lost one in their conference schedule.

Miami will enter the contest out-weighted but will have the advantage of experience, especially in the backfield where Morrison, Althart, Carr, and Bennett lug the mail. The four are light but fast and tricky. The heaviest player on the Miami team tips the scale at 164 pounds with the next heaviest player weighing 150 pounds.

The LeFors line is husky. There is a fleet backfield. Cumberland does the line plunging for the Pirates. The LeFors goal line has been crossed only once this season and the team is undefeated although tied once.

Five hundred reserve seat tickets were placed on sale Monday and this morning only a few remained to be sold. Many tickets were sold in Pampa, McLean, and other cities.

The probable starting lineups: LeFORS Pos. MIAMI LeFORS LE. Yates Mathis LT. Southard Mathis LG. Locke Moore C. Laird Howell RG. Wilson Godwin RT. Maddox Flynn RE. Lyons Still RB. Morrison Morgan LB. Althart Combs RH. Carr Cumberland FB. Bennett

HUNGER STRIKE THREATENED AT STATE CAPITOL

STARVING HORDE ASKS TO DIE IN HALLS OF BUILDING

AUSTIN, Oct. 26, (AP)—The starving horde of Travis county, a little band of hungry men and women who, threatened to starve themselves to death in the very halls of the state capitol, stayed at home today and awaited promised visits of relief officials.

Case workers of the local relief agency agreed to investigate the condition after the group had marched on the capitol with the avowed intention of "peacefully starving in the corridors of the state house."

They loitered about the galleries of the senate and house until night-fall and then wandered to the front steps of the building. They studied the statues of General Sam Houston and Stephen F. Austin—heroes of this state.

Shortly before midnight J. H. Lucas, representative-elect of Henderson county, mounted the steps and addressed the little band, huddled at his feet. If they would go to their homes, Lucas told them, he would personally see that each case would be investigated. They dispersed.

Previously, the band had sent a petition to Governor Miriam A. Ferguson.

"In desperation we come to you," the petition said. "All we ask is to be allowed to peacefully starve to death in the corridors of the state house."

Their complaints were registered against the relief administration of Travis county and indirectly, against the Texas legislature, now in special session, and the state relief administration. They claimed they were among 1700 persons recently sliced off the relief rolls. Many were entirely destitute, they asserted.

Charges of having been "heartlessly refused aid" and "ruthlessly ignored" by the Texas relief administration and the state board of control were contained in the petition to Governor Ferguson. She gave them no answer.

One of the purposes of the special session called for relief for the needy.

ENDS BODY ODOR Leaves No After-Smell

It isn't the smell of a soap that gets you clean—it's the lather. Ordinary toilet soap doesn't lather freely enough in this hard water. Often they yield only a sticky soap curd that clings up stale perspiration instead of removing it. Kirk's Castile, a 100% pure vegetable oil soap, gives oceans of lather even in hard, cold water—goes deep into pores and sets free the stale perspiration curd. Instantly your body is fresh and odorless! Try Kirk's today. A 50% larger cake at a record low price!

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

301 North First Street.

"Practical after Death" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon, which will be read in all Churches of Christ. Scientist, on Sunday, October 28.

The Golden Text is: "The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death" (I Cor. 15:26).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And in hell he lift up his eyes, being in torments, and saw Abraham afar off, and Lazarus in his bosom" (Luke 16:23).

The Lesson-Sermon includes also the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The sin and error which possesses us at the instant of death do not cease at that moment, but endure until the death of these errors. To be wholly spiritual, man must be cleansed, and he becomes thus only when he reaches perfection. We know that all will be changed 'in the twinkling of an eye' when the last trump shall sound; but this call of wisdom cannot come till mortals have already yielded to each lesser call in the growth of Christian character" (page 290).

Administration To Fight Bonus Drive at Once

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26, (AP)—The Roosevelt administration will fight the new campaign for cashing the soldier's bonus immediately.

The struggle in the next congress will be a terrific few observations denied today. The movement for immediate payment of the adjusted service certificates gained new momentum when the American Legion advocated it yesterday at the annual convention in Miami.

Though the White House had nothing to say in position was unmistakable. President Roosevelt's speech in Roanoke, Va., last week was generally regarded as aimed at the bonus drive. He said veterans are "better off" than any other great group, and declared the case of "the disabled, the sick, the destitute and the starving" was "the first thing."

The Legion resolution held that paying the bonus now would "increase tremendously the purchasing power of the consuming public" and give relief to certificate holders "who are in dire need and distress."

The veterans administration estimated that it would take $2,500,000,000 to meet the veterans' demands. Of this, the veterans would get about $2,000,000,000. The rest would go to repay money advanced by the government for loans on the bonus certificates, which mature in 1945.

Australia Turns Coal to Oil
MELBOURNE (AP)—The Australian government, seeking a domestic source for oil and gasoline, has an offer from the Imperial Chemical Industries of England to build a $30,000,000 hydrogenation plant to handle 1,000 tons of coal daily and produce 300,000,000 gallons of oil yearly. Victoria, with 37,000,000,000 tons of lignite deposits, is the likely site of the plant.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, Oct. 26, (AP)—Little support was forthcoming for dropping stock market today and prices, generally, showed declines of fractions to 2 or more points. Although a few of the weaker issues of the preceding session were somewhat resistant, the majority pointed down from the opening. The close was heavy. Transfers approximated 900,000 shares.

CONDITION OF NATIONAL BANKS

ASKED IN CALL

Gain in Deposits Is Expected in New Report

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26, (AP)—The comptroller of currency issued a call today for the condition of all national banks at the close of business Wednesday, October 17.

The bank call issued today was the first since June 30. In some quarters it was estimated the call would show a gain in national bank deposits of between $500,000,000 and $1,000,000,000.

Deposits in June were $19,932,600,000, with 5,422 banks reporting, compared with $18,790,487,000 on March 5, when 5,293 reported. On October 25, 1933, deposits of 5,057 banks were $17,055,208.

The comptroller of the currency is required by law to call for condition statements of all national banks at least three times annually, but four are usually requested. He may select any date desired, and sometimes the call, such as today's is placed in the middle of a month to minimize the possibility of window dressing of bank assets.

The institutions are given 15 days in which to prepare sworn statements, but on request this time may be extended.

Under the banking act of 1933 the call also includes private banking firms not subject to state examination which elect to be examined by the comptroller. The law provides they must submit themselves to examination by the comptroller or the federal reserve board.

Autumn calls have been issued since 1914 with exception of 1918 and 1926. The spring calls were omitted in 1932 and 1933.

HIGH SCHOOL P-TA HAS FIRST EVENING MEETING YESTERDAY

SPEAKERS ARE OFFICIALS OF SCHOOLS HERE

BAND PRESENTS THE ENTERTAINMENT PROGRAM

Chairman of three committees in High School Parent-Teacher association appointed members to work with them this year at the meeting last evening. A program and social period were included in this first evening meeting of the group.

About 50 members were present. Short talks were given by Mrs. J. W. French, who discussed compulsory education law; and Joe Smith, school business manager, who explained the local school tax situation and budget methods.

High school band members directed by Roy Wallerstein entertained with a half-hour program including numbers by the entire band, drum-majoring stunts by Paul Schneider, a vocal solo by Dorothy Harris, and a humorous reading by Ella Faye O'Keefe.

In a report of the welfare committee the need of clothing and shoes in the school thrift room was stressed, and announcement was made that the Parent-Teacher association will cooperate with the Red Cross in its annual drive this fall.

The hospitality committee, with Mrs. R. W. Lane as chairman, was in charge of the social hour. After adjournment those present inspected the cafeteria.

Committees completed were the finance group, to which Mrs. Cyril Hamilton named Mmes. H. T. Hampton, T. C. Lively, C. E. Lancaster, and Ray Somerville; the membership committee, with Mrs. E. Bass Clay naming Mmes. C. A. Tigney, Frank McAfee, Frances, and G. D. Holmes; the welfare committee, to which Mrs. Roy Kilgore appointed Mmes. T. C. Lively, Camp, and Willis Price.

Hopkins Club to Give Community Hallowe'en Party

Spooks, scarecrows, and witches will appear at a community Hallowe'en party at Hopkins school building Wednesday evening, sponsored by Hopkins Home Demonstration club.

The entertainment was planned at a meeting Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. Grady Enoch was hostess. Everyone in the neighborhood is invited to be present at 8:30, wearing Hallowe'en costume and mask. A prize is offered the most ridiculously dressed couple.

Mrs. R. I. Davis, county council representative from Hopkins club, reported the last council meeting. The next show in March was discussed, and a brief period was given to study of the state constitutional amendments now pending.

Mrs. C. P. Couts was surprised with a shower of handkerchiefs celebrating her birthday, which fell on October 22. She expressed her thanks to the members.

Coffee and cookies were served to two guests, Mrs. Robert Brown and Mrs. Marion Husted, and the following members: Mmes. S. S. Flemming, Ott Campbell, Couts, Ernest Vinderberg, G. Pinnell, Davis, Miss Fee Davis, and the hostess.

Design Exhibit at Canyon Museum Is Interesting to All

CANYON, Oct. 25.—Where do the patterns that are found in crotches, wall paper, and women's costumes come from? This question is partially answered by an exhibit sent to Canyon by the American Federation of Arts of Washington, D. C., and now on display at the Pahrump-Plains Historical society museum.

This exhibit, its mounts chosen from hundreds that were submitted, is devoted entirely to the use of plant forms in ornament.

Each mount of this exhibit is made up of three drawings. The first shows the plant as it appears in nature; the second shows the developing design, and the third shows the completed design, suitable for use in dress materials, upholstery, draperies, or silver as the case may be.

This is an exhibit which can be enjoyed alike by children and grown-ups, artists and laymen, merchants and ultimate consumers, for the way the garden tulip or the window geranium is transformed through the artist's imagination into a suitable and beautiful design is of great importance.

ALL-DAY MEET IS PLANNED AT CHURCH SUNDAY

Church of Christ to Entertain Many Visitors

An old-fashioned all day meeting with dinner on the ground will be conducted Sunday at Francis Street Church of Christ, where a revival is in progress with Roy E. Cogdill as evangelist.

Numerous out-of-town visitors are expected, and the dinner was planned to welcome them. All residents of Pampa are invited to this and other revival services.

Regular morning meetings will be followed by the basket dinner, then a sing-song will start at 2 o'clock and a sermon at 3.

Large crowds continue to hear the evangelist, who last night had for his subject, Essentials in Conversion. Visitors were present from LeFors, White Deer, Miami, and Panhandle.

"Conversion means a complete turning, a complete change which results in a new life," the speaker said in part. "The old life ceases and a new manner of living takes its place."

"Conversion includes a threefold change: First, a change of heart by faith; second, a change of life by repentance; third, a change of relationship by baptism."

"There is only one safe course to pursue if man desires conversion and that is to study and follow the New Testament examples set forth in Acts of the Apostles. In every conversion recorded there are certain circumstances—merely incidental to the conversion itself, which vary. The law connected with every conversion is always identical."

"In New Testament times no one was ever saved from sin in the absence of the preaching of the Gospel of Christ. The same steps taken in conversion by those who lived 1900 years ago must be taken by us today. In those days people believed the simple story of Christ with all readiness of mind; they turned from their sins, openly confessed their faith in the resurrected Lord, and were baptized in water for the remission of their sins."

"When they did these things they were genuinely converted. Today when people are converted to Christ they automatically become members of God's family on earth. God does not have one plan for conversion and another for church membership. The same things that make a person Christian make him a member of the church."

"God made the provisions for man's conversion and salvation, but man must believe, accept, and appropriate these provisions by faith. God does not do all the converting and saving without man having a part in it."

The subject announced for this evening at 7:30 is, The Conversion of a Roman Soldier.

Party for Club And Husbands Is Set for Oct. 31

Mrs. Fred C. Fischer presided at a business session of the Home Demonstration club yesterday at the home of Mrs. H. B. Knapp.

The club will entertain husbands of members with an old-fashioned basket dinner and play at the school building on Hallowe'en, Oct. 31, at 7 o'clock. The program and recreation committee, with Mrs. Bridges as chairman, will be in charge.

Mrs. J. P. Meers will be next club hostess, and Miss Ruby Adams, county home demonstration agent, will demonstrate Christmas candy making.

Cake, fruit salad and punch were served to a guest, Mrs. C. H. Moorman, and Mmes. Bailey, Phillips, Taylor, Bridges, Fischer, Meers, Pickering, Haney, Ford, Browning, and the hostess.

In the cast are Verlon Twaddell, Clotilde McAllister, John Keller, Dorothy Harris, and LaCerne Courson. Ella Faye O'Keefe is stage manager and prompter.

THREE TABLES OF GUESTS AT LOVELY PARTY

QUEEN OF CLUBS HAS MEETING AT MRS. GRAHAM'S

Mrs. Mack Graham entertained the Queen of Clubs at her home yesterday afternoon. Dahlias, asters, chrysanthemums, roses, and nasturtiums, brought autumn beauty into the rooms where bridge was enjoyed at three tables.

Brown and orange table appointments were used. Tiny brown squirrels decorated orange colored tallies. The same colors were used in wrappings for prize packages.

Vases of galliadas which centered the tables were given as cut prizes to Mmes. H. D. Keys, Howard Buckingham, and Hampton Waddell. Mrs. A. M. Martini scored high for club members and Mrs. Carl Smith for guests.

Mmes. B. O. Lilly, Waddell, and Smith were the special guests. Other members playing were Mmes. H. C. Wilson, I. B. Hughey, Charles C. Cook, Carl Boston, Neil McCullough, and R. S. Lawrence.

Members lived meetings days on first and third Thursdays of each month, instead of on alternate Thursdays. Mrs. Hughey will be hostess next Thursday.

Laketon Club's Record of Work Reports Perfect

Laketon Home Demonstration club members are 100 per cent in turning in annual reports says the secretary, Mrs. C. V. Talley. To reach this goal, all reports must be in the hands of the club secretary not later than October 26. All Laketon reports were received by October 24.

The club's aim is to "be first in everything" next year, and all members are showing interest and determination in their work. All committees are functioning well, with full cooperation from members.

Believing that "all work and no play makes a dull community," the program and recreational committees, with Mrs. Lawton Hoffer and Mrs. Edgar Gray as leaders, are planning a series of entertainments.

Their next effort is a club Hallowe'en party to be conducted this evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Roberts. Clever invitations have been sent to club members and their families, and all ghosts and goblins of the community to frolic together.

SECOND BILL NEARLY READY FOR GOVERNOR

CONFERENCE REPORT IS AWAITED ON TAX MEASURE

AUSTIN, Oct. 26 (P)—One bill to effect one phase of the governor's five-point program was at the half-way mark of its 30-day special session.

Final touches may be placed immediately on another, however. Senate adoption of a conference report on an emergency bill to release penalties and interest on property taxes delinquent last August 1 would send the second piece of major legislation to the governor.

A bill to make permanent alterations in the state's tax collection laws to ease the burden of payments was in advanced stage. It was through both houses and ready for a conference committee to adjust differences. The house asked for the conference and the senate likely will grant the request promptly. Proposals of the two houses were similar in principal but at variance in details. The intent was to offer a small discount for prompt payment of taxes during the last three months of each year and reduce penalties and interest accruing on delinquencies during the first half of the following year.

Application of the act would be optional with municipalities and school districts.

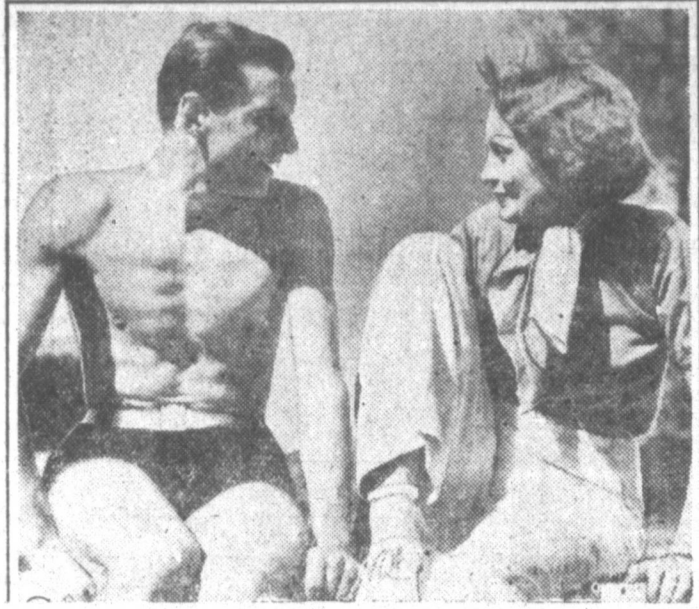

The house resumed debate on a senate bill to form the lower Colorado river authority, a public agency to develop and operate with a 4,500,000 FWA loan and grant the Buchanan dam 60 miles northwest of Austin.

One amendment which provoked controversy was disposed of but 32 others remained for discussion. One of those remaining dealt with the much debated question of West Texas water rights.

Most of yesterday was devoted to debate on an amendment to prohibit the payment by the authority of any fee or commission for obtaining a loan, selling bonds or procuring land or appurtenances for the project. It was adopted 71 to 39.

Legislation to provide state aid for a Texas centennial exposition in 1936 drifted in preliminary stages. Neither an appropriation bill nor special revenue measures had emerged from committees. Developments on both angles of the matter were generally slated for next week.

Has Perry 'Gone Hollywood'?

First it was the University of Southern California's football squad that was reported to have "gone Hollywood," as "toys of some henna-haired beauty." Now it's Fred Perry, world's foremost amateur tennis player, who's linked with movie city news. Fred, it is reported, is considering accepting movie offers and denouncing his ranking as an amateur. Here he is shown, not with "some henna-haired beauty," but with that classy gal, Mariene Twitich.

FARLEY'S OKAY GIVEN SINCLAIR, FRIENDS CLAIM

Backers Say Letter
Was Written by Farley

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26 (P)—An "endorsed by James A. Farley" label was pinned to Upton Sinclair today by supporters of the democratic candidate for governor of California.

As the gubernatorial campaign reached a new pitch, filling the air with rumors of withdrawals and plots, Sinclair backers in Los Angeles displayed a photostatic copy of a letter purportedly written by the postmaster general and chairman of the democratic national committee endorsing the candidacies of the former socialist author and Senator Hiram Johnson, seeking reelection.

"California democrats, republicans and progressive alike," the letter said, "are to be congratulated for their wise judgment in selecting Hon. Hiram Johnson as the nominee of all parties for United States senator. By electing the Hon. Upton Sinclair, your popular democratic candidate for governor, California will have a combination of leaders in Washington and in Sacramento who can cooperate in the interests of the people of the state and of the nation."

The letter bore the letterhead of the democratic committee and was addressed to "president of the associated democratic club of Whittier, Calif."

Meanwhile, Sinclair who is running against acting Governor Frank F. Merriam, carried his "end poverty in California" into the north part of the state warning voters to "be prepared for anything in the last days."

Republican headquarters denied a charge by Sinclair that supporters of Governor Merriam were about to broadcast circulars falsely proclaiming the withdrawal of Raymond L. Haight, commonwealth and progressive candidate in favor of Merriam.

"Merriam already is overwhelmingly in, so why worry about Haight?" was the essence of the republican reply.

Far's Seeks Bee Catcher

PARIS (P)—The police department wants to sign up a good bee catcher as Sergeant Daniel, who has held the job for many years, is about to retire. The official bee catcher is called upon to capture swarms which alight in unexpected places. He must safely transfer them to the government beekeeping school in the suburbs.

DEATH SENTENCE GIVEN ICE PICK SLAYER OF WIFE AT BIG SPRING

BIG SPRING, Oct. 26 (P)—The death sentence hung over W. R. Hildreth, 46-year-old automobile salesman, today, after his conviction by a district court jury for the ice-pick slaying of his wife, Docie.

The defense did not immediately announce its future plans after the jury, guided by Hildreth's sudden plea of guilty returned a death penalty two hours after given the case.

Hildreth sobbed for mercy and told the court he was sorry as he changed his plea from not guilty to guilty when the indictment was read. The state vigorously countered with a demand for the death sentence.

Hildreth's daughter, Mrs. Carlton Coburn, gave a vivid account of the slaying.

"I heard three horrible screams," she said. "I jumped up and ran to where my mother lived (next door). I met my father coming out of the back door. 'She's in there—she needs you,' he said."

Twenty-one wounds, two of which penetrated the woman's heart, were found on the body, Mrs. Charles Eberly, undertaker, and Dr. T. B. Hoover, testified.

BLACK-DRAUGHT

"Such a Good Laxative," Says Nurse
Writing from her home in Festus, Mo., Mrs. Anna LaPlante says: "I am a practical nurse and I recommend to some of my patients that they take Black-Draught, for it is such a good laxative. I took it for constipation, headache and a dull feeling that I had so much. A few doses of Black-Draught—and I felt just fine."

Because so many people know how having used it that Theodore's Black-Draught is a good, purely vegetable laxative, millions of packages of it are sold every year.

THIS BUREAUCRACY IS ONE WORTH WHILE

This word "bureaucracy" is a very horrid word, indeed, and we do well to fear it. But the particular bureaucracy represented by the Tennessee Valley Authority seems to be an outfit that moves fast and keeps its eyes on the ball every minute.

Within recent weeks there was completed a deal by which the city of Knoxville, Tenn., with its environs, receives electric current from the TVA. Terms of this deal are well worth examining.

Knoxville originally planned to build its own distribution system to handle the current, and a PWA loan was lined up for the purpose. Had this been done, the Tennessee Public Service Company, which was supplying Knoxville with electric power, would have faced ruin.

So it was arranged that Knoxville should buy out this company's distribution system, instead.

Knoxville, of course, had to go into debt to make this purchase, and a 10 per cent surcharge had to be placed on the new electricity rates to retire the debt. Even including that surcharge, however, Knoxville consumers will now get their current at rate reductions which—in the case of people who use as much as 240 kilowatt hours a month—will run as high as 34 per cent.

It has been clear gain, obviously, for the people of Knoxville. How about the people who held securities in the Tennessee Public Service company?

The bond-holders get back the price at which the bonds were issued, 96 1-2. Preferred stockholders retain $3,300,000 in cash and liquid assets; furthermore, the company still owns the Knoxville street railway, which is carried on the books at a value of slightly more than $4,000,000.

Four years ago the company issued common stock on a "write-up" of $4,500,000. This stock represented no investment—although dividends of $846,000 were paid on it during the depression—and so it did not share in the pay-off.

This TVA bureaucracy, then, seems to have shaken something very much like a Christmas tree for the people of Knoxville—while, at the same time, doing full justice to the utility security-holders.

Bureaucracy is a horrid word. But it depends on which bureaucracy you mean.

A Washington Daybook

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Down at the NRA, industrialists are now meeting economists face to face.

The news censorship imposed by Chairman Clay Williams of the National Industrial Recovery Board doesn't quite suppress the fact that the NIRA is out to break down artificial price and production controls a lot faster than anyone is officially willing to admit.

Industries which came here in the heyday of code-making and wrote their own tickets are now being told, on the basis of experience with the codes, what will work and what won't.

Licenses to soak the consumer are being canceled as fast as the board can get to them. Care is being taken not to demoralize industries by removal of price controls—especially in those exploiting natural resources—but the more fact that freer competition means destruction for minorities of high cost plants isn't bothering NIRA.

The economists on NIRA—Hamilton, Marshall, and Henderson—are loaded with figures, facts, and charts supplied by the Research and Planning Division, as well as opinion from the economists on the Advisory code authorities.

Businessmen with codes not yet approved or with codes about to be amended find a virtually united front of the seven NIRA members when they protest.

They are told that neither public opinion nor the courts will stand for some of the things they wrote into the codes. Nor Congress, for that matter. So why be silly?

In the face of NRA's new factual approach, there are fewer explosions than you might suppose. Most businessmen apparently want to retain the codes—for there are other advantages besides the price-fixing privileges.

Precedents are being set in minor industries now which are likely to govern larger industrial codes later. A recent example was that in the cast-iron pipe industry, which petitioned for extension of an "emergency" price-fixing privilege and was turned down.

Big cases to watch—if you can see behind the censor-codes. In November, after the elections, there will be hot behind-the-scenes fights on the issues involved.

Price fixing is the issue in lumber and NIRA must decide whether to let the present provisions continue, take a chance on upsetting the industry by drastic excision, or merely to start whittling away while trying to work out a long-range program for the industry.

NIRA isn't been grappling with serious labor issues, but there's a fight on both the celebrated "merit clause" and the "averaging" provision of the automobile code. The latter calls for a maximum working week which doesn't mean anything, because hours may be "averaged" over a given period.

A labor victory is rather likely here, but the automobile industry is so hard-boiled in these matters that there'll be some sensational headlines before you hear the last of it.

A wealthy woman, who has been appearing in shorts around Reno, couldn't get her divorce until she dressed as a woman. But it would have been too much to ask her to act like one.

The New Deal, it is reported, has lost only $1,000,000,000 since July 1, but there's so much yelling about it you'd think those zeros meant something.

At least the government could make the women feel they're getting the New Deal cheap, if it reduced the figure to $999,999,999.98.

A unique apparatus permit speeches to be heard in four different languages at the same time, at the League of Nations assemblies, with four different meanings as usual.

Sinclair opponents report a rush of unemployed to California, and not the kind California has welcomed for years, either.

TEXAS HISTORY Brushing Up on Facts You Ought to Recall

That August day in 1537 at the port of Lisbon, Spain, must have been a happy event in the lives of the citizens, and especially for the relatives of Dorantes, Castillo, and Cabeza de Vaca. For ten long years they waited for word of those hardy adventurers who had set out to explore the new land of Florida, and now, the silence and anxiety was broken, for the lost had returned.

True, there was sadness mingled with the joy, for only three were returning, out of the 300 that had landed with Narvaez on the Florida coast. True, Narvaez' bones were lying in the bottom of the ocean, but the three who returned made the expedition a success. The Arab Moor, Estevanico, the other survivor, remained in Mexico, and later had a part in Coronado's expedition.

The sun-tanned, wiry-muscled trio had many tales of exciting adventures to tell their people. It is likely they told over and over again the story of their meeting with their rescuers. A small belt buckle led to the discovery of the Spanish. When Cabeza and the others saw an Indian with an European buckle, they knew that their countrymen must be somewhere. It was not long before they met four Spaniards on horseback, and were taken to civilization.

The Indians did not like the newly-found Christians who carried long shining lances, rode fine horses and tried to make slaves of them. Cabeza and his companions had been kind to them, and had given up things for them, had cured them of disease, but the new Christians were rough with them. Before Cabeza left them, however, he blessed them; baptized their children, and gave them encouragement to continue to worship and love the God he had told them about.

After resting in Mexico, Cabeza, Dorantes, and Castillo parted with the Moor, and set sail on a Spanish ship from Vera Cruz. From Cuba a French vessel took them to Lisbon, and they arrived in port August 9, 1537, after an adventure unequalled in hardships, dangers, and excitement.

WITH THE NEW BOOKS BY MAY STEVENS ISAACS

Canadian, Texas
Temple Bailey's new book is a collection of short stories which have been published in the leading magazines, Cosmopolitan, Saturday Evening Post, Good Housekeeping, Woman's Home Companion, and McCall's. It takes its title from the first of the eight, RADIANT TREE, in which Virginia finds herself in straightened circumstances after the death of her husband following a brief illness. The difficulties she and her three children find in adjusting themselves to changed conditions; the influence the Derby family who are poor but striving for college and profession; their ultimate triumph over pride and circumstances; all told with the author's insight into character and deep sympathy for humanity makes an interesting story.

Another is Timberline which gives us a picture of two young people with love and high ideals who march to success and happiness without the fortune they might have claimed. Each of the eight is written in Miss Bailey's best form.

Upton Sinclair's complete plan for California, amended after conference with other Democratic candidates, upon his nomination, will be called THE EPIC PLAN FOR CALIFORNIA. The book is dated for October 18th publication and includes his famous, I, GOVERNOR OF CALIFORNIA.

Another book with October 18th for publication date is THE TRUMPETING CRANE by Helene Margat.

Apparently, one of the greatest mystery stories that has been launched in years is Rex Stout's FIVE-DE-LANCE, coming out October 24th. This is Mr. Stout's first attempt at a mystery and the publisher believes that it will establish Nero Wolfe as a new and popular detective character.

The publishers report that they may be out of stock for a few days on Meade Minnerode's THE SON OF MARIE ANTOINETTE, until the new edition is off the press. This book has had an excellent reception and it looks as though it is headed for the non-fiction best-seller lists.

Miss Suckow (pronounced long u and long o) is planning to live in Washington during the winter. Her book, THE FOLKS, has gone into the fourth large printing.
When an author gives a party for his publishers—that's the new! Mark Hellinger, the well-known columnist, gave a party the other night for Farrar & Rinehart at the Casino de Paris. His book, THE TEN MILLION, is to be published October 24th. THE TEN MILLION is a volume of sixty short stories that might have been written by O. Henry. The stories are woven together by a series of introductions. In these introductions, the author comments on the stories, explains how they came to be written, gives their sources, and reveals much that the stories themselves leave unsaid. Not since O. Henry wrote of the Four Million has anyone reported so brilliantly the thoughts, the actions and the emotions of THE TEN MILLION who compose the greatest Metropolis in the world.

Hamilton Sought After Kidnaping Missouri Carrier

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 26. (AP)—Raymond Hamilton, youthful Texas desperado, was hunted today as one of two men who kidnaped William Lane, Missouri rural mail carrier, in a mad dash to escape officers with whom they engaged in a gun fight.

Capt. William J. Baxter, of the Missouri highway patrol, said two of his patrolmen who participated in the encounter near Buffalo, Mo., Wednesday, had identified the escaped Texas convict as one of the men.

Hamilton and his companion abandoned their car and commandeered that of Lane, taking him along as a hostage, after the high-

End of Lurid Trail for No. 1 Bad Man Is Slab

Marian Gordon by JEANNE ROWMAN

SYNOPSIS: Cliff Hondon attempted suicide the day Silver Hondon divorced him, and Marian Gordon, reporter for the Morning Dispatch, and Bowen's managing editor, have given Cliff a reason for fighting back to life. They have told him him Silver "understands" and is returning to Oaklands and is returning to Oaklands to see him, because they suspect that something important lies under the surface. Silver is returning, but Marian suspects it is more to take Marian's fiancé, Lon Casad, away from her than to see Cliff.

Chapter 18
THE RETURN
Marian continued her laughing. "But Silver is so accustomed to having every man who sees her fall in love with her that she thought you were no exception."
"What a kid!" Lon murmured. "How old do you think she is?"
"About your age, I guess; well a little younger, she went to school with you, but if she was married when she was sixteen—"
"She wasn't," Marian reassured him, "and just to relieve your fear of having given a child the wrong impression, she's six years older than I am, which makes her thirty."
"Thirty? Listen, Ian, you have to go off on some fool errand. I do, but she's the only girl I have to meet here, and she's the only girl I want to meet. No, you can't leave along with her. No, you can't leave the news of our engagement until she's through with her interview with Hondon. Your presence will keep her straight, if nothing else will," she concluded enigmatically. "Come on."

"But wait, Ian, look! He drew a small box from his pocket—that woman has caused me more trouble. I'd planned on waiting for the moon and everything, and... but here it is. I bought it after we got in and I couldn't sleep for waiting to put it on your finger so the whole world would know you were spoken for."

He slipped a ring with a single bluing stone on her finger, then with Anne merrily singing in the dressing room to prove she wasn't listening, tried to make up for the lack of the moon.
He succeeded so well that Marian didn't think of Silver, nor of the letter she had placed on the dressing table, intending to slip it into her pocket, until they were near the airport.

They had talked on many things, principally of their honeymoon. "I hope we'll be able to make that without little Cheerio popping up some place. Honeymoons, you know, are supposed to be spent all alone."

"With Hero."
"You mean you want the pup too?" he asked in delighted surprise.

"I do. You know I saw him before I saw you. He was sitting in your car outside the Emergency Hospital. I had the queerest feeling about him, as if, somehow, he should belong to me."
By the time they reached the air terminal, the ship had landed and Silver was busily engaged in post-way battle. The mail carrier was released unharmed near Yahola, late yesterday. His car, laden with seven unopened sacks of mail, was found earlier near Columbus, Kan. The gun fight took place when two Missouri patrolmen attempted to stop the two men for questioning.

Sport Slants by ALAN J. GOULD

Fleeting Fame

Just to give you a brief idea of how swiftly the sporting scene can be shifted, take the current case of Harry Kipke, head coach of the University of Michigan's football Wolverines.

Barely six months ago Kipke was riding high on the crest of one of the finest coaching records of any youthful mentor in the big leagues of college football. Yale's alumni were insisting loudly and with some truculence that Kipke be lured from Ann Arbor and installed in complete charge of the tottering situation at New Haven. Conferences were held, terms were discussed, but Kipke resisted inducements and remained with his alma mater.

So what? Michigan dropped its first two games this fall by lop-sided scores, losing to Michigan State 16-0 and to Chicago by 27-0. Instead of demands from Yale for Kipke's services, there may soon be demands for Kipke's scalp at Ann Arbor!

By-products of the situation, consistent with the dizzy life of the college football coach, are the immediate endorsements for Charley Bachman at Michigan State and Clark Daniel Shaughnessy at Chicago. Bachman and Shaughnessy are second-year men, in their present jobs. The former replaced Jimmy Crowley, now at Fordham. The latter succeeded to the chair occupied for so long by Amos Alonzo Stagg. Both were "on the spot" this season, their efforts subject to close scrutiny, but such is the rapid effect of just one outstanding victory that they can have just about anything they want from enthusiastic alumni from now on.

Remember the Gate
The scramble for that Rose bowl invitation this year is likely to be one of the most entertaining in some time. The roar of the Columbia Lions can still be heard along the gridiron battle-front. Lou Little's survivors of the Battle of Pasadena are moving along at a fast pace and they would like nothing better than another chance to journey to the Far West, especially if Stanford turns up as the coast choice of the Tournament of Roses committee.

There's also Pittsburgh and Princeton to consider. The Panthers and Tigers possess juggernaut power. Pitt plays the toughest schedule and with Southern Cal's scalp already in hand would like the opportunity to erase the impression of ineptitude previously given to coast football followers in the Rose bowl.

Princeton's case is a bit more complicated. The Tigers, barring the biggest kind of a form reversal, figure to ride through Cornell, Dartmouth, Harvard and Yale but it's a question whether even a clean slate and a receptive frame of mind would result in Princeton getting an invitation. Stanford and Rose bowl authorities got a cold and somewhat abrupt response from the Tigers when the subject of playing Stanford was broached last winter. Such was the feeling on the coast at the time that notice was served Princeton would not again be asked.

Still Princeton might easily remove its high back under favorable circumstances, and convince the folks out west that the Tigers would welcome another invitation. A lot of things can be over-looked and many a hatchet can be buried for the sake of the gate receipts.

In justice to the greatest and I have ever seen, please remember the name of Todd Goodwin, of West Virginia, writes Bill Hart from his conning tower in Morgantown.

"Pitt, a truly great team, couldn't get him out of the way; never turned his end and he repeatedly made tackles on the other side of the field. I think Jack Sutherland or any of the Pitt coaches will testify to his all-American qualifications. I have been watching teams—good ones, too—since 1914 but this lad is the greatest and I've ever seen. I hope you can see him perform against Fordham."

They're off, it would seem, in another all-American derby!

PWA MAY SEEK MORE BILLIONS FOR PROJECTS TO CREATE JOBS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. (AP)—The FWA quietly is paying the way for another huge appropriation for projects designed to create jobs in every corner of the nation.

The administration is certain, well informed persons said, to ask for more millions perhaps billions. How much congress will provide is a question that can be answered only with a guess.

The exact amount to be asked has not been decided. The question of how much will be spent is linked, apparently, with future trends in private business activity. President Roosevelt, though not mentioning PWA specifically, has said government spending and lending will taper off as soon as private initiatives take over the job.

His industrial recovery chief, Donald Richberg, said in New York yesterday that a "clearly emerging" issue is whether private enterprise shall re-employ "four or five million willing workers" or whether government must try to do it. He said he preferred to have private resources do it.

The FWA is preparing to lay before congress a list of operations which might be launched quickly if $3,700,000,000 are replenished. A number of government agencies, accordingly, have been asked to speed up public works projects for which they have received funds already and to determine what future developments might stimulate employment.

VIENNA (AP)—The Vienna "fundant," which receives articles found in public places, has been asked to watch for 45 canaries, a live fox, and 60 pounds of beef.

CRUDE PRICES HOLD IN EAST TEXAS FIELD

INDEPENDENTS CLAIM THEY'RE MAINTAIN- ING STRUCTURE

KILGORE, Oct. 26. (AP)—East Texas crude oil prices remained aloft today as federal forces worked at the task of plugging a hole through which countless barrels of illegally produced petroleum had escaped from the rich field—endangering the nation's price structure.

Three price cuts reported in the mid-continent industry failed to shake the vast East Texas field and a general price of $1 a barrel still prevailed.

Even as the new federal tender board moved in and officially started to function in a drive against the interstate shipment of hot oil, East Texas refiners agreed 100 per cent for renewal with major companies of a plan for purchasing "distress" gasoline in the field.

F. W. Fischer, attorney for a group of independent refiners handling approximately 85 per cent of the field's gasoline, said "there is no justification for implications that the independent refiners want a price cut." He added that "it is the independents who are maintaining the price and if a break comes, it will be by some major company."

The companies which he represents, 24 of them, have offered to take connections, up to 150,000 barrels daily, of any pipe line which cuts the price below the $1 per barrel figure, Fischer said.

To reports that an East Texas pipe line company was planning an attack on the entire federal enforcement set-up in the field, Ralph Horw, executive secretary to oil Administrator Harold L. Ickes, and a member of the federal tender board, said "we will meet these problems as they come up."

Prices held despite general nervousness on the part of East Texas oil men, who feared the possibility of a general cut in crude oil prices after cuts had been announced by Oklahoma refiners.

E. N. Stanley, chief of the Texas railroad commission's East Texas enforcement office, said an order would be issued shortly revoking truck permits for refiners of commissioned agents of refiners. The order would prevent the "dumping" of gasoline manufactured from illegal oil, he said.

Refinery agents must show to the commission permit that they were hauling legal gasoline before the commission would grant them licenses to operate, Stanley said.

Thirty-three refineries in the field were operating and 89 were shut down, the commission's refinery department figures showed. The shut downs were attributed by supporters of the enforcement program to fear of threatened federal action against those shipping hot oil without tender permits in interstate commerce.

Meanwhile, at Tyler, L. R. Martineau, Jr., assistant to the United States attorney general, prepared to press prosecution against offenders in old cases involving allocation and promotion regulations. R. C. Hill, another special assistant attorney-general from Washington, was on hand to aid in the cases.

Diagrams of Danger—No. 9

No one is more active in the campaign to persuade the automobile driver to exercise the care, courtesy and common sense which will reduce the appalling number of accidents than Motor Vehicle Administrators. They know the facts. Ten of them, officers of National and Regional Associations, have described the most common driving and pedestrian faults.

By FRANK FINNEY

Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, Indiana, President, Region No. 3 of American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators.

"CROSSING between intersections," in other words "jaywalking," continues to be one of the prolific causes of death, injury and accident in motor vehicle records. According to figures supplied by the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters for 1933, 67,390 pedestrians were involved in accidents while jaywalking or crossing not at intersections; 3,320 persons were killed and 63,970 injured out of a total of 13,440 pedestrians killed and 262,270 injured from all causes. We can put down those 3,320 persons killed and 63,970 injured to the fact that men, women or children sought to save the fraction of a minute's time by taking a short cut across the street. The regular crossing seemed so far away, perhaps 100 feet or more.

The modern automobile has increased the hazards of daily life not alone for the motorist but doubly for the pedestrian. Your authorities, the motor vehicle departments, state and local police, municipal governments generally, have worked out certain reasonable regulations for the guidance of pedestrians. These are not the arbitrary or fanciful laws that many suppose them to be, but are the result of long experience. One of these regulations is that pedestrians of cities and towns should cross at crossings. The motorist is warned to look out for them there, to regulate his speed accordingly. Many cities and towns have installed lights to govern the man about; still others have an officer stationed to issue the necessary directions; there are definite crosswalks marked out. However, all that is without avail if the pedestrian will saunter across the thoroughfare in the middle of a block.

This bids fair to be a most disastrous year in the history of motor driving so far as human safety is concerned.

Mr. Pedestrian, jaywalking is up to you; it is your responsibility.

International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

General Topic:
The Christian Standard of Life
(International Temperance Sunday).
Scripture Lesson:—

Eph. 4:17-27; 5:15-21.

17. This I say therefore, and testify in the Lord, that ye no longer walk as the Gentiles also walk, in the vanity of their mind.

18. Being darkened in their understanding, alienated from the life of God, because of the ignorance that is in them, because of the hardening of their heart.

19. Who being past feeling, gave themselves up to lasciviousness, to work all uncleanness with greediness.

20. But ye did not so learn Christ;

21. If so be that ye heard him, and were taught in him, even as truth is in Jesus:

22. That ye put away, as concerning your former manner of life, the old man, that waxeth corrupt after the lusts of deceit;

23. And that ye be renewed in the spirit of your mind;

24. And put on the new man, in righteousness and holiness of that after God hath been created truth.

25. Wherefore, putting away falsehood, speak ye truth each one with his neighbor; for we are members one of another.

26. Be ye angry, and sin not; let not the sun go down upon your wrath;

27. Neither give place to the devil.

Eph. 5:15. Look therefore carefully how ye walk, not as unwise, but as wise;

16. Redeeming the time, because the days are evil.

17. Wherefore be ye not foolish, but understand what the will of the Lord is.

18. And be not drunken with wine, wherein is riot, but be filled with the Spirit;

19. Speaking one to another in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing and making melody with your heart to the Lord;

20. Giving thanks always for all things in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ to God, even the Father;

21. Subjecting yourselves one to another in the fear of Christ.

Golden Text:—And be not drunken with wine, wherein is riot, but be filled with the Spirit.—Eph. 5:18.

Introduction

The poet Coleridge wrote in his Table Talk: "The Epistle to the Ephesians is one of the divinest compositions of man. It embraces every doctrine of Christianity;—first, those doctrines peculiar to Christianity, and then those precepts common to it with natural religion." Says Bishop H. C. G. Moule: "The Epistle is both sublime and practically Christian. It is the work of a writer whose intellect and affections were of the highest order. His words have provided an inexhaustible mine of spiritual truth and light for eighteen centuries in every branch of the Christian church."

The City of Ephesus.

A modern city in the ancient world was Ephesus where Paul spent three years of his life. It was an emporium of western Asia. It was a metropolis of magic arts. It was the seat of Diana worship whose splendid temple was reckoned one of the wonders of the world. Ephesus had much in common with our twentieth century city and civilization, so-called. An ancient lesson for the modern world is embodied in the message of Paul to the Ephesian Christians. It is admirably adapted to conditions and needs throughout the earth today. In the passage before us there is the sharpest contrast between the worldly and the Christian standard of life. There is also the most insistent urge to embrace the Christian ideal and way of living. So we have a good lesson for international temperance Sunday. The Apostle indicates some of the great evils which we have yet to avoid and overcome.

The Standard of Christ, vs. 20-24

The greatest contrast in the world is that between the self-indulgent slave of the world and the conscientious servant of the Lord. A radical change in the soul marks the essential difference. Hence there is a different ethical code. The standard of Christ must be earnestly desired. Listen to the Lord. It is he who sets up the standard before us. He himself reached it. Hear him as an authority upon the subject. Hearken to him always and everywhere. Follow him as sheep hearing the shepherd's voice are led into the pleasant pastures during the day and into the safe fold at eventide.

"You must lay aside with your former habits, your old self which is going to ruin through its deception passions" (Goodspeed).

Cast off the old nature which deludes and corrupts. Paul does not say improve it, for that cannot be done. The old man is "the wicked, corrupt and fleshy self" (Clark) which disintegrates, deceives and destroys.

Put Away Falsehood: Speak the Truth, v. 25.

To lay aside falsehood is to lay aside falseness in every aspect of it. Lying was a common heathen vice. It is a sin which is found widely in the world to this day. Satan is the father of lies and he was never more active than he is in our modern world. Every atom of falsity in every form of it is due directly to his influence. Let every man be entirely veracious in all relations with his neighbors. His every word ought to be a word of truth. In no other way can he be entirely dependable. Therefore speak the truth as opposed to falsehood. But also proclaim the truth as incarnate in Christ, which includes the truth he was as well as the truth he taught.

Christianize Conversation vs. 19, 20

Speak to one another or talk in the better conversation. Let holy thoughts be expressed in psalms out of the Old Testament and hymns by consecrated composers and other songs which stimulate and inspire the spiritual life.

Sing sincerely with all your hearts. The Bible reading may or may not be responsive, and the singing may or may not be antiphonal, but our words should be reverent and our music should be unto the Lord.

"At all times for all things give thanks to God the Father in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ" (Montgomery), v. 10. God is our Father and the Giver of all good. Be grateful to him at all times. Be thankful to him for all things even for his permissive providences which are sometimes painful. But be sure to give thanks in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ.

"Redeeming the time," vs. 16

"Redeeming the time," because the days are evil. The margin has, "buying up the opportunity." "No life is too busy, nor can be too busy, to be good. The right employment of minutes may give character to all the remainder of one's time." "A study hour is opportunity. If you make good use of the hour, you have purchased it. The price was hard work. If you have an hour for recitation, you pay attention for the hour. An hour for play is purchased by exercise, and you get health. You buy every opportunity by using it."

"Let us try to work for God each day, and trust him for tomorrow. If tomorrow comes, it will be today, and will bring its work; but let us not put off any plain duty to a time which may never come for us."

Suggestive.

It is suggested that this lesson be used as the regular temperance lesson. Do you know anything more stupid than a maudlin, sobbing man? It would seem to hold that whatever makes an ordinarily intelligent man so stupid is a stupid thing to do. We don't know anything that requires less brains or produces less intelligent results than drinking intoxicating liquor. Desperate efforts are being made to make beer drinking smart. Well, it's surprising how little sense one has to have to drink beer. Let us illustrate. Visualize an attractive blue grass pasture in which are representatives of the various kinds of domestic animals familiar to the average farm. Place a tub of beer under the shade of a spreading tree. What animal will touch it? This is an easy way to determine what kind of an animal one has to make of himself in order to drink beer. We know no greater insult to one's intelligence than to be invited to take a drink of alcoholic beverage. The fight against liquor will be won when human intelligence triumphs over stupidity.

UNJUDICIOUS JANITOR

PARIS (AP)—Lucien Delforge enjoyed his radio programs so much he killed his janitor.

For a year Delforge played his radio day and night in his apartment. Neighbors objected, went to court and Delforge was restrained from using the radio except during the day.

One day Delforge stood in the hallway of his apartment house and shouted for the tenants to come forth. Only the janitor appeared, and Delforge shot him through the heart.

CAPITOL CHATTER

BY CHARLES E. SIMONS.

AUSTIN, Oct. 23 (AP)—Completion of a hydro-electric project in the Colorado river above Austin and its operation as a public enterprise would afford an accurate "yardstick" by which rates of privately-owned utilities can be measured, Congressman J. P. Buchanan of Brenham believes.

Buchanan, chairman of the appropriations committee in the house of the national congress, was instrumental in obtaining a PWA loan of $450,000 to complete the dam, started as an insult project. It was 40 per cent complete when the gigantic utilities empire collapsed.

The dam was renamed "Buchanan dam" in honor of the Brenham congressman's efforts.

"I am strong for private enterprise when it will serve the people adequately and economically," Mr. Buchanan told a house committee considering a bill to establish the Colorado valley authority. "I am for government action, however, when it is necessary to give the public service to which it is entitled economically."

Buchanan revealed that five additional dam sites have been surveyed between Austin and the Buchanan dam, which is about 60 miles upstream. The supplemental dams are primarily hydro-electric projects. Each would use the water released by the mother dam. Government aid will be sought to complete the system of dams when the Buchanan dam has been placed in operation.

Hungary Gets Cheap Iron.

MISKOLC, Hungary (AP)—Hopes of reducing iron imports into Hungary have been raised by a blast furnace invented by two local engineers, Janos Golibi and Emil Just. They claim the furnace can extract iron from low-grade iron ore without, using brown coal, which also is plentiful.

YOUR GROCER WILL HELP YOU KEEP HEALTHY AND HAPPY

Delicious Cereal Promotes Regular Habits

The right kinds of foods form the very basis of health. You need nourishment for strength and energy. And you need "bulk" to prevent common constipation.

Otherwise, this ailment may cause headaches, loss of appetite and energy. You can correct it, usually, by eating a delicious cereal.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN adds generous "bulk" to your daily menu. Tests show this "bulk" is similar to that found in leafy vegetables.

Inside the body, the fiber of ALL-BRAN absorbs moisture, and forms a soft mass. Gently, this clears out the intestinal wastes.

ALL-BRAN is also a good source of vitamin B and iron.

Isn't it safer—and pleasanter—to enjoy this food in place of taking patent medicines?

Two tablespoonsfuls of ALL-BRAN daily will overcome most types of common constipation. Chronic cases, with each meal. If seriously ill, see your doctor. ALL-BRAN makes no claim to be a "cure-all."

Serve ALL-BRAN as a cereal with milk or cream, or cook into fluffy muffins and breads.

Remember, Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is all bran with only a tiny bit of flavoring added. It contains much more needed "bulk" than part-bran products. Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.
