A LONG LINE AT SAGEBRUSH FEEDLOT

This pen full of calves is fattening in Sagebrush Feedlot, owned by John R. Henard and Herbert Bearden, and located six miles east of Wellington. On any morning, approximately 3,000 steers and heifers like these stand at the feed troughs. Sagebrush is a major buyer of Collingsworth produced feed grain and cottonseed.

Wellington School trustees, meeting Monday night, March 10, set the opening date for the 1969-70 term of school as Monday, Sept. 1.

They then re-elected class room teachers for the three schools, high school, junior high and elementary.

One faculty member is retiring at the end of this term, Mrs. Les White, of elementary school, according to Supt. J. L. Harper.

The superintendent, principals, coaches, band director and counselor were elected earlier.

These teachers were elected Monday night, Mr. Harper said:

Moisture Conditions Called Best in Years

Rain and snow during the first two weeks of March have given Collingsworth its best moisture conditions for late winter that it has had in several years, reports from most parts of the county indicate.

Wheat prospects are excellent and even without additional rain, there is enough moisture to carry it well into the spring, growers believe.

"What we need now is some warm weather," County Agent

Don Reeves said of the small-grain crop.

Up to an inch of snow fell in the county early Monday, March 10, and this, along with last week's snow and rain, have given from an inch to two inches of moisture since the first of the month.

All roads in the county are passable, but they are still rutted and muddy in the tight-land areas, road supervisor Chester White reported, and considerable work will have to be done in the immediate future.

Many roads in these sections of the county are reported softer and harder to get over than they have been for years.

County Judge Zook Thomas expressed the belief that this will not delay progress on the county's roads being repaired under the federal emergency road program, although all those concerned with the program are keeping an eye on the completion deadline which is about two months away.

City Council to Act March 17

County Votes to Pay Half on Right of Way on First Street

The Commissioners Court voted Monday to go 50-50 with the City of Wellington in the purchase of a 100-foot right-of-way on the mile stretch that is 1st Street, according to Judge Zook Thomas. The move was made in an effort to have things in readiness before asking the Texas Highway Department to include the hard surfaced road in its future construction.

Monday night the Commissioners Court met with the City Council and explained their willingness to pay half on the right of way on this mile stretch as well as half on easements for water ways that would be required when Highway 83 is widened north of Wellington, which is expected to be done within the next year and a half. County Commissioner W. R. Breeding told the members of the Council that it was a golden opportunity for both the city and the county on work that must be done. "If we mess up the opportunity now of securing aid from the Highway Department, eventually we will have to pay for all of it," Mr. Breeding said.

The Council took no action at that time due to the fact that all of the councilmen were not present and that the called meeting was being held for the purpose of considering the sewerage and sanitation problem in Wellington. Mayor John Coleman said it would be taken up at the regular meeting of the City Council March 17.

Paving along the mile stretch has been sought for a number of years by various organizations and many people. It would take the heavy cotton and cottonseed traffic to and from the Farmers Co-Op Gin off of 15th Street where it goes by two school buildings. It would also be part of the solution of the water problem which causes inundation of the northeastern part of town in times of flood, Judge Thomas told members of

First Methodist Sets Revival Mar. 16-20

Revival services will open at First United Methodist Church Sunday, March 16, and continue through Thursday, March 20, the Rev. R. T. Dyess, pastor, has announced.

The guest preacher will be the Rev. Eldon Wyatt of Hale Center, while the guest singer will be one of Wellington's own young church music leaders, Ted James, now of Abilene.

As at past revivals, early morning services will be held at 7 a.m., so that business people and their employees can attend. Coffee and doughnuts will be served, Rev. Dyess said.

The evening services will be at 7:30 and the public is cordially invited to attend, according to the pastor.

The Rev. Mr. Wyatt was pastor of First United Methodist Church at McLean before going to Hale Center. Prior to that he was pastor at Amherst and Petersburg, and he is a graduate of McMurry College, Abilene.

Born and reared in Wellington, Mr. James was graduated from Wellington High School in 1948, and from McMurry College in 1952. He now is employed by an Abilene music company and works in the music department of St. Paul's Methodist Church there.

He is married to the former Dorothy Gray and they have two children, Dana Kay, 8, and Jeffrey, 5.

Federal Offense

Burglars Take Treflan From Local Feed Store

Three cases of individual containers plus a five gallon can of Treflan were taken by burglars who entered Warrick's, Inc. Feed Store Thursday night, March 6, Sheriff John Rainey reported.

Velman Warrick, the owner, told the Wellington Leader the loss would amount to around $500. Theft of Treflan and other weed killers of this type is a federal offense, Sheriff Rainey pointed out. This is due to their content and to their coming under the regulations of the Federal Pure Food and Drug Act, he said.

Entry was gained by forcing open the north door of the feed company office, where the Treflan was stored, the sheriff said. The burglary was discovered by Mr. Warrick about 7 a.m. when he opened the office.

Nothing else was touched, as far as could be determined, Sheriff Rainey said. He was assisted in the investigation by Deputy Alvin Minatrea and Police Chief Donald Nunneley.

Sam R. Scott Dies After Lengthy Illness

Sam R. Scott, 64-year-old retired farmer living in the north part of the county, died in an Amarillo hospital at 7 a.m. on Wednesday, March 5. He had been in ill health about three years and more recently suffered a heart attack.

Collingsworth County had been his home most of the time for 57 years.

Prior to moving to his present home, Mr. Scott farmed in the Quail community many years and later at Hollis.

Born in Tarrant County April 15, 1904, Samuel Robert Scott was a small boy when he moved to Vernon with his parents, Mrs. Clara Scott and the late Carr Scott. About 1912, they came to Dodson, their home for a number of years.

Later they lived at Floydada seven years before returning to Wellington.

He was married to Miss Lucy Thomas Nov. 4, 1926 in Wellington.

Mr. Scott was a member of the Church of Christ.

Funeral services were conducted at the Church of Christ in Wellington Saturday, March 8 at 2 p.m. with Gaylord Cook, minister of the church, and Bill Freeze of Amarillo officiating. Burial was in the Fairview Cemetery under the direction of Kelso Funeral Home.

Pallbearers were J. W. Seitz, Clifford Pritchard, Jerry Pritchard, Vernon Tarbet, Bill James and Jones Singley. Honorary pallbearers were L. D. Holman, Jeff Wilson, Billy Moseley, Joe Terry, Zook Thomas, and Sandy Parsons.

Surviving Mr. Scott are his wife, Mrs. Lucy Scott; two sons and seven daughters: J. T. Scott of Borger; S. R. Scott of Shamrock; Mrs. Ed Voss, Mrs. W. T. Skaggs, Miss Barbara Scott, Mrs. Robert Eakles and Mrs. Pete White of Amarillo; Mrs. Terry Mock of Falmouth, Mass., and Miss Clara Lee Scott of Shamrock.

Other survivors are his mother.

It will be held in the county courtroom at 10 a.m. and the public is invited, according to Don VanPelt, director.

There will be cash prizes for the first, second and third place winners in both the junior and senior divisions, Mr. VanPelt said. Money totaling $37.50 was donated by the three banks in the county, City State, Wellington State and First State of Dodson.

Ideal Feeding Area

Sagebrush Feedlot Has Big Impact on Area Agriculture

Cattle opened Collingsworth to settlement more than 80 years ago and today, dollarwise, they remain the biggest industry in the county.

Likewise, the cattle industry has developed many forms, and Sagebrush Feedlot, owned by John Robert Henard, Jr. and Herbert Bearden, represents the newest and fastest growing segment, custom feedlot operation. The Sagebrush operation is typical of some ten feeding operations now being conducted in the Wellington area.

With a capacity of around 10,000 head per year, or 3,000 heifers and big steers at any one time, Sagebrush is uniquely Collingsworth — the owners and their manager, John Barton, along with the ideas and knowledge that go into its operation—are products of this county.

Besides the cattle they own individually, Henard and Bearden buy many head and custom feed for a number of other ranchers both here and in other counties. They stay in the feedlot 90 to 120 days, depending on the stock and the wishes of the owners.

"As the public demands, we will increase the capacity," Mr. Bearden said.

Some of the calves are raised on Collingsworth ranges, but most come from East Texas, Arkansas and Louisiana.

The market for Sagebrush-fed cattle is expanding.

A few weeks ago Henard and Bearden contracted with Zumbo Packing Company of Beaumont to keep between 1,200 and 1,500 heifers in the lot all the time. One load of calves weighing from 350 to 445 pounds comes in each week and another of 650 to 700 pounds is taken out.

"Zumbo likes the type of cattle we are feeding," said Mr. Henard. "Our cost is cheaper than cattle feeding in the lower altitudes."

"That is one reason the Plains and Rolling Plains are real good feeding areas. From 2,000

Coyote Triggered Wreck

Three Seriously Hurt In Collision Sunday

Three Wellington residents remain in serious condition in Shamrock General Hospital from injuries received in a two-car collision Saturday, March 8, about 9:10 p.m.—an accident attributed to a coyote. It occurred at the top of Elm Creek Hill three miles south of Shamrock.

They are: Mrs. S. B. Jackson, 1208 El Paso Street, who is being treated for a broken collar bone, cuts and other injuries; Mrs. Boyd Derryberry of 1307 17th St., Mrs. Jackson's daughter, who has a broken pelvis, broken shoulder and deep cuts;

Boyd Derryberry, who has broken ribs and internal injuries. The latter were not discovered until Monday night according to his brother, Milburn Derryberry. His condition late Tuesday was considered a little improved. Lynn Derryberry, 19, driver of the car, was bruised but not hospitalized.

The occupants of the other vehicle, Mr. and Mrs. N. D. Ware, Jr., of Wheeler, were not hospitalized. Mr. Ware, a car dealer, was driving a wrecker and towing a car.

Highway Patrolman Doug

Wright, who led the investigation, said Lynn Derryberry told him that a coyote ran across the road immediately in front of him and he put on his brakes.

The car went out of control, according to Patrolman Wright, and slid broadside into the oncoming vehicle.

Damage to both the Derryberry car and Ware wrecker was heavy, according to Patrolman Wright, but there was only slight damage to the car that was being towed.

The Wellington family was returning home from Pampa, where they had visited another of Mrs. Jackson's daughters, Miss Edyth Jackson, who teaches in Pampa High School.

Banquet Saturday

Wilkerson Named as Jaycee President

Wellington Jaycees installed Billy Wilkerson president at their annual banquet Saturday evening, March 8. Morris Wilson of Pampa, State Jaycee Director, was the installing officer.

Other officers installed for 1969-70 were Carl Daves, interclub director; Larry Oswalt, vice president; Dewayne Poteet, secretary; and Jim Forrester, treasurer.

The board of directors will include these five and Joe John Henard, Douglas Seale and Glen Warrick.

Prior to the installation, Donald Settle, the retiring president, presented the Key Award for outstanding service to Mr. Wilkerson.

The Rev. Ronald Crosley was guest speaker and praised the Jaycees for their work in the community.

"Those in need in Wellington are looking to you as leaders," he told them. "If you will roll up your sleeves and do what you can do, Wellington will be the best town in the country."

The strength of the country depends on a strong faith in God and character to match, he told the young men and their guests.

"If we are to survive, we will have to be strong. If we perish, it will be as individuals, not the nation, that is weak."

These strengths he compared to a Giant Sequoyah, and the characteristics he named as (1) it grows straight, (2) it has a good foundation of supporting roots, (3) it has inner soundness, (4) its wounds are self-healing, (5) it has power to overcome, and (6) it uses the strengthening help of mutual aid, for the roots of one tree intertwine with the roots of all others around it.

Community Invited

Youth Center to Hold Open House Sunday

Open House at the Wellington Youth Center will be held Sunday, March 16 from 3 to 5 p.m. and all adults of the community are invited to visit the new recreation center.

It is located in the Paul Spillman Building at 910 West Ave.

The teen-age boys and girls, all students in either high school or junior college, are eager for adults of the community to see their new center. Money for its establishment was raised by the members themselves, with the cooperation of a number of interested adults in some way.

Motor Vehicle Inspection Lags in Collingsworth

Only 32 percent of the motor vehicles registered in Collingsworth County had been inspected for the motor vehicle inspection sticker on March 1, it was revealed by Chester Fant, information officer of the Department of Public Safety this week.

Of the 3,599 vehicles registered, only 1,151 had the 1969 inspection sticker, he said. "This leaves 68 percent, or about 2,440, of all registered vehicles to be inspected between now and April 15," he declared.

"This throws a hardship on the garages and it may cause vehicle owners to have to wait days to have their car inspected if they wait until close to the deadline."

After April 15, anyone caught driving a car without a safety inspection sticker is liable to a fine of from $100 to $200, Patrolman Fant said.

Brewer Has Knee Surgery

Gary Brewer, 18, was in Oklahoma City Wednesday, March 5 to have his right leg placed in a cast, which will keep him on crutches six weeks.

Brewer, who was injured during the football season, underwent surgery of his right knee two weeks earlier for repair of ligaments. His leg was placed in splints at the time.

His mother, Mrs. Yvonne Brewer, accompanied him to Oklahoma City.

Texas Travel Trails Take Visitors Off Super Highways Into Scenic Areas

A program on Texas Travel Trails was presented by Mrs. Bob Hightower for members of the Belles Lettres Club Tuesday evening, March 4, in the home of Mrs. L. M. Bartlett.

These trails were selected by a special committee and came out of the Third Annual Governor's Tourist Development Conference, Mrs. Hightower said. This was good news for many small towns, as it is hoped tourists will travel these trails and bring new economic hope.

Leaving the super highways, these trails wind through the by-ways of Texas. Ten have been designated and they offer a tremendous diversity of scenery across the state, Mrs. Hightower explained. They are marked or will be marked by the Texas Highway Department.

The 10 Trails are:
—Texas Forts Trail, which former Governor John Connally inaugurated July 29-30, 1968. It touches eight frontier forts and covers 608 miles.

—Texas Brazos Trail, runs through Central Texas and across the Old Chisholm Trail. It is 588 miles long.

—The Independence Trail in Southeast Texas rambles through the land of the Texas War for Independence.

—The Pecos Trail travels through the Texas "badlands", a country of rugged beauty. This 625-mile trail takes the traveler by Guadalupe Mountain National Park and El Capitan, highest mountain in the state.

—The Forest Trail in East Texas is 780 miles in length and winds through the Piney Woods country. Near Livingston, it takes the traveler to the Big Thicket and the Alabama Coshatta Indian Reservation.

—The Lakes Trail touches at least six of the major inland bodies of water—lakes and reservoirs.

—The Texas Plains Trail rambles across the Texas Panhandle where irrigation farming and cattle feeding are the major businesses. Palo Duro Canyon and lakes are some of the attractions.

—Texas Tropical Trails go across South Texas and along the Gulf Coast, taking one to Padre Island and the King Ranch.

—The Hill Country Trail passes through some of the most beautiful country in the state, going by Austin and the State Capitol, then it winds its way to Johnson City, home of the former president, Lyndon Johnson. Here the visitors enjoy a country abounding with wild life, Mrs. Hightower said, in concluding her talk.

During the business session, Mrs. Joe Thompson reported on the City Federation meeting on March 1, and plans were made for an Easter party to be given to the students of Mrs. Lynn Carter in Elementary School.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. A. B. Clark, Mrs. Howard Riggs, Mrs. F. A. Hatch, Mrs. Coy Vaughan, Mrs. J. M. Stowell, Mrs. Henry Vaughan, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Hightower and the hostess, Mrs. Bartlett.

Mrs. Norman Is 1924 Speaker

Mrs. Lindell Norman described her travels in Africa, Europe and Australia and accompanied this with slides when she presented the program for the 1924 Study Club Thursday, March 6.

During the years the late Mr. Norman was employed by Haliburton, the family accompanied him to Libya and later to Australia.

Their visits took them through much of western Europe, beyond the Berlin Wall, and through Northern Africa.

Among her high points were a description of the Miniature City, a reproduction on a tiny scale of The Hague, Holland, complete with cars, trains, planes and buildings.

Crossing Check-Point Charlie into East Berlin brought one face to face with World War II ruins still not rebuilt, empty stores, and a general drabness in contrast to the lively people and full stores and new buildings in West Berlin, the speaker said.

Mrs. Norman told of the Koochotoo, a large bird native to Australia, that became a yard pet of the family.

She told also of life among the Moslems of Africa, as well as the life in the American colony.

Attending were Mrs. George Henry, Mrs. J. F. Michael, Mrs. B. M. Sims, Mrs. Lowell Wells, Mrs. J. B. King, Mrs. Norman and a guest, Mrs. James Sullivan.

Richard McClaskey of Richardson was here during the week end to visit his mother, Mrs. W. W. McClaskey, who has been a patient in St. Joseph's Hospital several weeks.

Friends, Relatives from Many Towns Help W.B. Wilson Observe Birthday

W. R. (Uncle Bill) Wilson, celebrated his 92nd birthday on Sunday, March 9, with all of his seven children present.

The anniversary open house was held in the Community Building with 85 relatives and friends to extend congratulations.

The seven children who helped with the observance are Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Wilson of Borger, Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Wilson, Wade Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson of Wellington, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Bledsoe of Ft. Sumner, N.M.; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Mercer and Oleta of Littlefield, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Oldham, Lonnie, Larry and Don of Lutie.

A native Texan, Mr. Wilson, along with his wife and their older children, came to Collingsworth in 1906 from Ellis County.

The Wilson family and his brother-in-law, Freeman Gilbreth, shipped all their household goods and farming equipment together in a car on the Fort Worth and Denver as far as they could. Mr. Wilson sent his wife and children on to Quail on the mail hack, while he and several other men remained to put the wagons together and load them for the trip.

Mr. Wilson had been to Collingsworth County earlier to buy a farm in the Salt Fork community that was to remain his home until he retired from farming in 1944.

This was one of the new and growing communities of the county, and in the early months he was here, Mr. Wilson broke the sod that were to become fertile fields, and built the comfortable three-room house where the family lived.

Part of his time he gave to the community. He helped to build the school and served as a trustee a number of years.

He was the road overseer. One of those who organized the Salt Fork Methodist Church, he helped to construct two of the buildings, the first in 1916. In the mid-1930's, this one was torn down and the church was rebuilt.

After he retired, Mr. Wilson worked four years in Borger, then returned to make his home in Wellington.

Mrs. Wilson passed away in 1940.

Mr. Wilson remains active and alert, although he is unable to walk as much as he formerly did.

Among the out of town relatives and friends attending were Mrs. Gene Sweat and Becky of Amarillo; Gano Wilson of Brownfield; Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Mitchell of Memphis; Raymond Horton, Jr. and Tanya Horton of Canyon; Mr. and Mrs. John King of Dumas; Leroy Brown of Amarillo;

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Savage and Mishelle of Borger; Mr. and Mrs. Dan Bledsoe and girls of Saugus, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wilson, Mrs. Maggie Cox and I. B. Cox of Maypearl; Mr. and Mrs. Preston Gilbreth of Hedley; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gilbreth and children of Lakeview; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Miller of Memphis; and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Claunch of Bula.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gattis over the week end were their son, Donald Gattis, and Miss Donna Clawson of Georgetown.

Domestic Science Annual Birthday Luncheon Features Book Review

The fifty-fourth anniversary of the Domestic Science Club was observed at the traditional birthday luncheon Thursday, March 6, with Mrs. John Coleman as hostess.

Members of the luncheon committee were Mrs. A. L. Elliott, Mrs. Sandy Parsons, Mrs. Hiram Cudd, Mrs. Clyde Drake and Mrs. Deskins Wells.

The centerpiece was the white birthday cake, holding a large yellow candle. A garland of yellow flowers surrounded it, and each place was marked with a yellow corsage.

After the luncheon, Mrs. B. M. Sims, president of the Top of Texas District, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, was presented in a review of Richard Armour's "Through Darkest Adolescence."

The book, Mrs. Sims remarked, was written with tongue in cheek and pen in checkbook. The author, a noted satirist, is also a parent and a college professor, she noted. This is his twenty-fourth book, and in them he makes a shamble of such things as literature, golf and medicine. He has written light verse and even lighter prose for well over 100 magazines in the United States and England. In "Through Darkest Adolescence" he wrote with shrewd madness of the teenagers in his family.

Luncheon guests were Mrs. John Sherman, Mrs. Sims, and Mrs. J. D. Wilson. Members attending were Mrs. L. C. Hill, Mrs. J. B. Stevenson, Mrs. Farris Wood, Mrs. J. Frank Johnson, Mrs. Elliott, Mrs. Parsons, Mrs. Cudd, Mrs. Drake, Mrs. Wells and Mrs. Coleman.

It is hoped that a number of Dodson patrons will attend the presentation, said Supt. Lloyd Patterson.

Table-Soccer Tourney Ends

The Table Soccer tournament in progress at the home of Father Pat Burke for the past several weeks came to an exciting climax with the final game last week end.

The surprise winner in a very close game was Ray Jeffrey of 1608 Graham, who beat Glenn McAdams of 1207 E. I.

Paso. Glenn had been heavily favored to win the trophy, but narrowly failed by a score of 2 goals to 1.

Ray received a small silver trophy, while Glenn was awarded a cash prize both for runner-up and for being high scorer in the tournament, having scored a total of 19 goals in all.

Third place went to Joe Porter, while Randy McKinney took the fourth place slot. Another championship will be held early in the summer.

Lagging Vehicle Inspections Cause for Concern in County

The Department of Public Safety is concerned about large number of motor vehicles that remain to be inspected in Collingsworth County before the April 15 deadline.

On March 1, two thirds of the approximately 3,600 vehicles in the county had not been inspected.

There are only three approved inspection stations in the county, all of them in Wellington. The inspection is detailed and more extensive than many realize, and these garages can check only a limited number of cars in a day. This also is in addition to their regular work load.

The inspection is mandatory, and the driver who waits is doing an injustice to both the garages who must inspect the cars and to himself. And if he tries to drive after April 15 without a safety inspection sticker, he is also liable to a heavy fine.

Snow Bound Blessing

With the hectic life most of us lead, a snowfall such as we experienced this week can be a blessing in disguise, especially for families with school age children.

With school cancelled, traffic halted, social and business activities at a temporary standstill, what can be good about it?

Plenty. It can create a delightful lull in a daily round of hustle and bustle: no chauffeuring, no schedules, no meetings.

Play it by ear! If the children are too excited and anxious to get out and play to eat breakfast, let them. They won't faint from hunger or die of starvation. Make this a special day — away with the rules! Have you ever noticed the hearty appetites of those who have spent a stimulating day in the "Winter Wonderland?"

Forget all those chores. Wouldn't you like to get outside too? Well, then how about that book you have been wanting to read, or that hobby you never have time for, or maybe a new recipe that you have wanted to try. This is the time for those who enjoy cooking to come up with some special favorite of the family (yeast breads, cinnamon rolls, or maybe a party cake.)

It is wonderful to come indoors on a cold, snowy day and smell the delicious aroma of food being prepared.

Evening can be even better, especially if the TV is out of order. Gather around the dining table and do something together. Play a game, work on hobbies (whether a common one or individual it doesn't matter—but work together), or plan some family fun—perhaps next summer's vacation. Talk and listen . . . you can hear the heartbeat of a family.

If you aren't a person who enjoys cooking but are lucky enough to have a fireplace, have a snowbound picnic. Roast hot dogs in the fireplace, serve steaming cups of cocoa (or coffee), cup of hot soup and some special desert or popcorn and crisp apples. Any number of foods can be used depending upon your family's preference.

Try it! You'll find yourself going to bed counting your blessings with a wonderful feeling of closeness to your family, and thinking, "I hope there will be another traffic-stopping snow soon."

Here's a Switch

AUSTIN.—Thwarted in one effort to keep down the size of the 1970-71 tax bill by school fund diversion, Gov. Preston Smith took a new approach.

He called on Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin to rush an opinion as to whether income from the state owned submerged lands (bays, river banks, etc.) can be used for current school spending.

Martin earlier held unconstitutional the governor's plan to get $71.6 million in state land revenue bound for the sacred permanent school fund for educational financing during the next two years. Only investment income from the permanent fund can now be spent.

Smith accepted Martin's original opinion, but noted that revenue from submerged lands was not dedicated to the school fund by constitution but by statute in 1939 and 1941. So, if the Legislature can dedicate money from these oil-rich lands Smith feels it can "undecimate" as well.

"If 72 and a half percent of the royalties involved were utilized it would mean approximately $52 million which the taxpayers would not have to produce to meet anticipated revenue needs to finance state government during the coming two years," Smith maintained.

He asked Martin for an early ruling in preparation for a supplemental message the governor will deliver to the Legislature, in which he will spell out alternative sources for the $71.6 million item invalidated by the attorney general's March 3 opinion.

Smith first said he has two alternatives: budget-cutting or a reinforced revenue plan. He decided he didn't have much fat left to trim in his budget and settled on alternative money raisers.

CROSSROADS REPORT

It looks like the social improvers have just about succeeded in getting capital punishment abolished.

Back in the darker ages, when one citizen killed another for gain or grudge, it was customary for society to hang him. Which, in a measure, discouraged the practice of habitual homicide.

But under enlightenment, brought on by the great civil and criminal Rights Explosion, we have now got practically open season on people, with only tut-tut type punishment for killing off same. Which should help some to offset the effects of the Population Explosion.

Legislature Acts

Legislature finally reached its full complement, with the election of Rep. John H. Poerner of Hondo, a Republican, to fill the vacancy created by the death of Rep. D. C. Howard of Uvalde. And the lawmaking process continues.

Legislators have completed action on the workmen's compensation reform bill which raises benefits to injured workers from $35 a week to $49. Measure went to the governor for his signature following passage 146 to 1 by the House. (Senate acted earlier.)

One of the session's most important measures, a proposed constitutional amendment raising the water bond ceiling to $3.5 billion to finance the state's share of the $10 billion Texas water plan, passed the House 131-15 and went to the Senate.

In their liveliest action, both houses voted out a bill to provide maximum fines of $200 and jail sentences up to six months for disruptive activities on school and college campuses. Bill went to conference committee for adjustments of differences.

Another bill cleared by both houses would permit Texans to buy rifles, shotguns and ammunition in adjoining states despite the federal gun law. Similar legislation is being considered in other states.

Senate passed a variety of bills including a Texas Meat Inspection Law (which is necessary to prevent federal regulation of meat), a trailer house uniform standards act, a 45-minute daily planning break for school teachers and extension of time for homecoming Vietnam servicemen (90 days after return) to renew their drivers' licenses.

House approved bills allowing persons between 19 and 21 to be licensed as cab drivers, protecting the rights of developers of new varieties of cotton, and requiring the labeling of eggs as to their state or country of origin.

Bills Introduced

Legislators kept dropping more and more bills into both the House and Senate hoppers, including:

—A bill to require telephone companies to maintain a business office in every county seat where it provides telephone service.

—Creation of a 50-member Governor's Committee on Human Relations "to recommend programs of action designed and intended to promote and obtain a better understanding and relationship between the various groups."

—Establishing a Texas Board of Examiners in the Fitting and Dispensing of Hearing Aids to license and regulate all persons in that business.

—Allowing haulers of agricultural products to get a permit to operate without having to prove their service would fit the "public convenience and necessity," which other truckers must show.

—Creating the Legislative Modernization Committee to study and improve the legislative process.

—Closely regulating when and how for what purpose state law-enforcement agencies can use electronic eavesdropping or "bugging".

—Requiring all elections in Texas to be with the use of voting machines, which the state would furnish but which would be stored and maintained by the counties.

—Allowing school districts to increase the length of their school terms from nine to 10 months.

—Increasing the penalty for the crimes of rape, armed robbery and murder.

—Providing state support for kindergarten programs voluntarily operated by local school districts for 5-year-old children.

—Requiring door-to-door salesmen to return a customer's money, if the customer demands it within three days after buying something which he did not solicit.

—Establishing a Texas presidential primary to replace the existing system of a series of conventions and prorating the state's national-convention delegate votes according to the returns in the primary.

Brucellosis Challenge

A McMullen County rancher is challenging the constitutionality of the Texas Animal Health Commission brucellosis program, which requires that cattle owners must sell any stock with brucellosis to the slaughterhouse.

R. J. Nunley got a temporary restraining order to stop the Commission from quarantining his cattle, which apparently have the disease. A Sinton court was to hear arguments on the issue.

Animal Health Commission is concerned because, if the brucellosis-control program is ruled unconstitutional, then other states likely will prohibit the importation of Texas cattle.

Marsh Attends Industrial Security Officers School

COLLEGE STATION. — Troy C. Marsh, an investigator for Gibson's Discount Security, Dallas, is one of 15 policemen and industrial security officers enrolled in Texas A&M's Polygraph Examiner's School.

The school is sponsored by the university's Texas Engineering Extension Service. The six-weeks program continues through April 11.

A&M Police Training Chief Ira E. Scott said the men are studying to become certified polygraph examiners in a "highly specialized field".

The six-week, 222-hour course includes studies in the mechanical aspects of the machine as well as medical factors of the subject being examined, Scott pointed out.

"For example," he said, "it is not sufficient for an examiner to merely be acquainted with the equipment he is operating. Many factors affect its operation."

Scott stressed the importance of the examiner receiving studies in anatomy, physiology and psychology.

Scott added that potential examiners will receive 54 hours of instruction in medical aspects from A&M medical faculty members.

In addition, he said participants are tutored in legal problems of administering a polygraph examination, and must become acquainted with personal problems of subjects which affect the operation of the machine.

"These would include emotionally upset persons, or malingering subjects," Scott added.

Students also will receive practical tips on examining room construction, test forms, clerical needs and commercial application.

Scott disclosed that the school is not all lecture.

"Prior to completion of the program, every man will receive 45 hours of practice before returning to the field," he said.

Coordinator for the program is A&M police instructor Arthur O. Butler. Other faculty members include guest lecturers and A&M veterinary faculty staffers.

Three Colleen Nominees Picked

Three Collingsworth County girls have been named to represent their communities in the annual Miss Irish Rose Contest of Shamrock's 1969 St. Patrick's Day Celebration.

Karen Waters of Samnorwood High School was the first entry in this year's contest. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Waters of the Aberdeen community.

Mickye Ann Kendrick, daughter of Mrs. Louise Kendrick and Mickey Kendrick, will represent Wellington.

The Dodson Colleen is Cynthia Hightower, daughter of Mrs. Clinton Norman.

All three girls are seniors in high school.

St. Pat's Fiddle Contest Planned

Mr. and Mrs. Bill King of Dozier have announced the Fiddlers Contest as part of the St. Patrick's Day Celebration in Shamrock Saturday, March 15.

"All friends and neighbors are invited to join us in Clark Auditorium for the country and western way of celebrating St. Patrick's Day," said Mrs. King.

The group will meet just after lunch with western music featuring the unique style of Elvis Sain of Clarendon Junior College and Dodson. Other singers and dancers will perform while 25 to 35 fiddlers are signed up.

The Fiddlers Contest itself will get underway about 2:30 p.m. with $200 in prize money offered. There is no admission charge, Mrs. King reported.

SAGEBRUSH OPERATION

This is a cross section of just a few of the many lots at Wellington's Sagebrush Feedlot, owned by John Robert Henard and Herbert Bearden.

Sagebrush is the buyer of large quantities of Collingsworth produced feed grain and cottonseed.

Ideal Feeding Area

Sagebrush Feedlot Has Big Impact on Area Agriculture

feet altitude on up is better than lower altitude. We talk to people with feed lots in East Texas and they have real problems on higher humidity."

Sagebrush already goes deep into the farming economy of the area with purchases of feed and cottonseed.

"This operation touches quite a few people besides those of us at Sagebrush," Mr. Bearden said.

"We feed 700,000 to 800,000 pounds of grain a month and when the pens are full it will exceed that, and all of it is Collingsworth grown," Mr. Henard added.

Last year they contracted 6,000 tons of ensilage from local farmers, paid for the harvesting and moving it into the pits.

"We also used 250 tons of cottonseed over several months, and the way it looks we may try to utilize twice that much this year. It is local, too," according to Mr. Henard. About 7% of the rations feed is made up of cottonseed.

It may well be that Sagebrush Feedlot is opening the door to another money crop for farmers in this area. They buy half a million pounds of corn a month, and this comes from the Dumas area.

"This whole-corn feeding is new," said Henard. "We have fed about five pens of whole corn and pellet supplement and have had the best conversion and gain on it of any ration we have ever had. It looks real promising."

"There has been quite a bit of research in other places and it looks like it is the coming thing. We have had some cattle gain over 4 pounds per day. One pen of steers we are feeding now has consistently gained over three pounds for 90 days. That's why we are considering this whole-corn as having possibilities."

Mr. Bearden was field manager for Rolling Plains Production Credit Association a number of years and knows the agricultural scene as well as any man in the county.

Both he and his partner believe that corn again can be a big money crop here, using the new hybrid varieties that are resistant to the diseases that eliminated corn here many years ago.

Irrigated and fertilized, corn will produce up to 140 bushels per acre around Dumas and it sells for $1.15 per bushel. The Sagebrush owners believe it would produce over 100 bushels here. Irrigated corn requires less water than either cotton or milo, they point out.

Under the ASCS program, farmers can raise corn on feed grain acres and draw price support, or they can plant as much as they wish on free acres without penalty and sell on the open market.

Richard Fourmentin, a neighbor of Sagebrush, successfully raised ensilage type corn on a small acreage last year. Among the hybrids, there are distinct varieties for ensilage and for grain.

Working at Sagebrush regularly is another local man, Kyle Lindley. Part-time employees are hired frequently.

Custom feedlots offer an opportunity to men who already have cattle on grass.

"All the people in the steer business in this county are preconditioning cattle for the feedlots and just don't know it," said Mr. Henard. "If you will go on and feed them out, you will double your income. Herbert and I have done this with some of our own steers and we know it to be a fact." This could be especially attractive for the operator with 100 to 300 head of steers a year, they believe.

"We think the future of the cow-calf operation here is to raise a heavier calf and put him in the feedlot instead of selling him right off the grass. This way, you can sell him at 900 pounds in a 12-months period. That size animal utilizes feed better than an older one," said Henard, member of a family that pioneered the livestock industry here.

"As long as people in the east sell 300-pound steers, we're in business. They can't wean him and grow him off like we can, but they have the advantage of running a mother cow per acre. It takes 25 acres for us. They have about 10 months of green pasture. We have less."

Unlike the big feedlots, Sagebrush encourages the smaller operator. It takes anywhere from 80 to 200 head to fill a pen and some of the smaller owners partner up to fill one.

Anyone can be a farmer, but it takes a special breed to make a living at it. You could just wait for warm weather, plant the seed and let it grow. When you see the neighbor's machines in the field you know it's harvest time. What could be easier? Nothing.

But to make a living, you have to get the biggest, best yield for the lowest cost and show a profit. That's why each year more farmers are depending on Nitromite as their most efficient source of usable nitrogen. When your land is ready, call us for quick delivery of the Nitromite and equipment you'll need for a pre-plant application. Nitromite is Shamrock's fine brand of anhydrous ammonia.

Food Poisoning Take Lives of Former Residents

Two members of a former Samnorwood and Dodson family have died and two more are hospitalized in Denver, Colo., believed to be victims of food poisoning.

Dead are Earl Isaac Vick, 57, and his wife, Lottie Barbara Vick, 54. Two of their children, Laurene Vick, 20, and Richard Vick, 18, are in Colorado General Hospital, Denver. Their conditions late Sunday were serious and good, respectively.

Mr. and Mrs. Vick had bought a ranch at Paonia, Colo., near Stewart Mesa, and arrived there Thursday afternoon, March 6. They lived at Samnorwood after leaving Dodson about 1962.

The former ranch owner, Dominick Giacoletti, found Mr. Vick dead about 7 p.m. that day and his wife seriously ill. Mrs. Vick died en route to a Delta, Colo., hospital. The Vick children were flown to a Denver hospital in an Army helicopter.

Dr. John Ott, a physician from the hospital in Denver, arrived in the helicopter to treat the two young people with botulism serum and an anti-toxin.

When it was found that no food had been bought en route, all home-canned food in the camper was ordered flown to the Physicians Poison Consultation Service at the University of Colorado Medical School in Denver for toxicological testing.

Mr. Vick was school custodian and bus driver at Dodson several years prior to 1962 and County Supt. T. E. Lennon said he also did much work to help the science museum which the school maintained. He was talented in this field, Mr. Lennon said, and made authentic copies of Indian weapons for the museum and helped it to acquire artifacts.

The entire family had worked hard to save money for the ranch, he reported.

Mr. Vick was born in Lone Grove, Okla., and Mrs. Vick in Lindsey.

Survivors in addition to the son and daughter hospitalized at Denver were these children: Robert Joe, Clayton and Thomas Earl of Olivehurst, Calif.; Ronnie and Burl of Mannsville, Okla.; Sgt. Jerry Vick of Fort Bragg, N.C.; Sgt. Russell Vick of Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio; Mrs. Sam Ballard of

Needhams Visit in California

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Needham returned home Tuesday, March 4, from a three-weeks visit with relatives in California.

Their trip took them first to Chula Vista, to visit Mr. Needham's sister and brother-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Sam Gibson. Mr. Gibson has been hospitalized for more than a year.

At Burbank they were guests of their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Ray and Kent, and another grandson, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Ray, who recently returned from three years in Germany, where he was stationed with the armed forces.

They visited two nieces at Long Beach, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bolton and Mr. and Mrs. Alford Gollighugh, who formerly lived here.

In Picoima they visited friends, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ray, and at Bakersfield a niece, Mr. and Mrs. Don Isbell and boys, who saw them off on their return trip home. They spent Monday night with their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Audrey Needham and family in Amarillo.

Mrs. Needham reported it rained every day except three that they were in California.

More About Coin Designers

One of the truly great coin "sculptors" is Adolph Weinman. He designed our Mercury dime and the walking Liberty half dollar. His signature is the letter "W" resting atop an "A". They appear on the obverse side of the dime and the reverse of the half dollar.

James Earle Fraser designed our Buffalo nickel. His signature, a prominent "F", appears below the date on the obverse side. It is cut into the field though the date is raised.

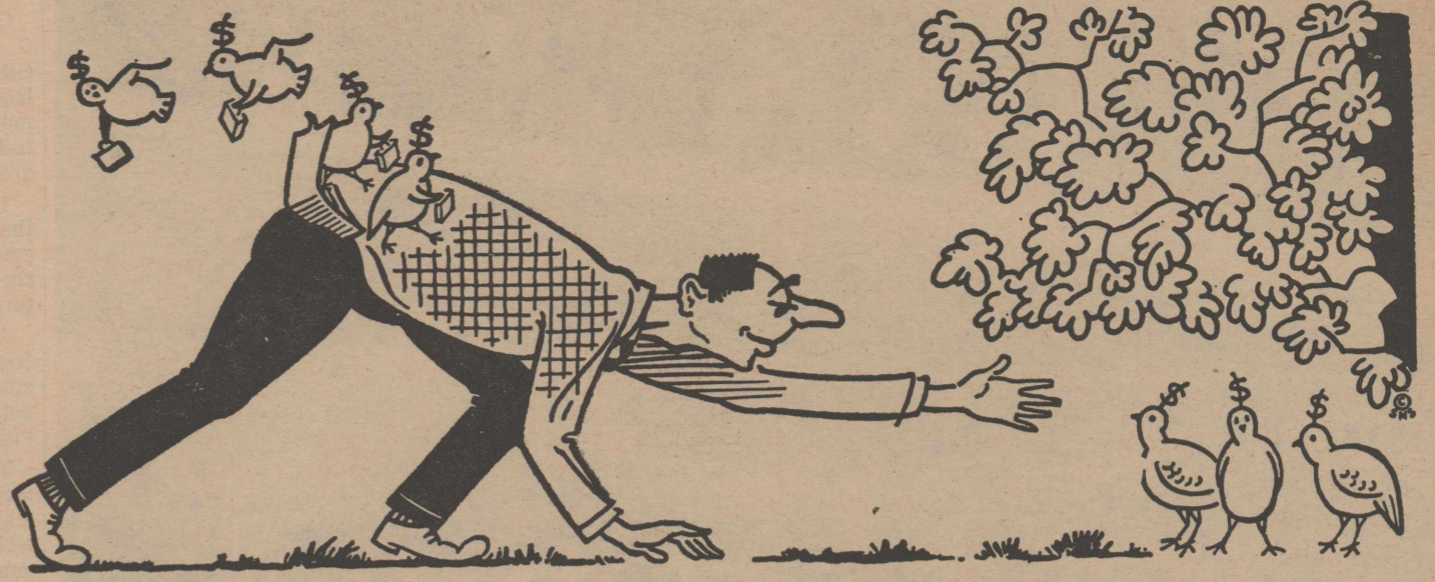

Laura Fraser, his wife, designed the Grant Commemorative and the Oregon Trail half dollar.

John Sinnock created the Sesquicentennial of American Independence half dollar in 1925. His signature is a plain "J.S."

Later he designed the Roosevelt dime and the Franklin half dollar.

Let's keep one eye on the Birds in Hand while we're stalking the Birds in the Bush

NEARLY every American community... with more or less diligence... is on the prowl for new industry and new payrolls. It's the way we keep our communities growing... and keep them from un-growing.

It's very nice, of course, to have new dollars coming into our economic area, but old dollars staying at home are just as potent growth-stimulators as new dollars.

While we're beating the bushes for NEW sources of the great Growth Vitamin $, let's not cancel out all we gain... by spending a lot of our dollars-in-hand where they become NEW dollars in the economy where somebody else gets the growth benefits.

For a better understanding of the Youth Conference

The Skyrocket Youth Conference is a group of Young Adults—of High School age—who maintain a high standard of conduct—looking for an opportunity to do something worth while as a community service for their school, Church and family.

The Skyrocket Youth Conference conducts educational programs on the following subjects; Shoplifting—Crime Prevention—Law Enforcement—Drugs and Narcotics—Venereal Disease—Alcoholism—Awareness.

The Skyrocket Youth Conference members offer their services through a Tutoring program to help students make passing grades in school. The Tutoring program is carried on through cooperation with the Community Action Program.

One of the goals of the Youth Conference Program is to develop responsible Leadership and good citizenship.

The only requirement for membership is Good Character and enthusiasm for the program.

A great deal of thought is given to the Conference Theme "SELF AND OTHERS". We believe "PEOPLE WILL SUPPORT WHAT THEY HELP CREATE".

Our Leadership technique uses small groups of five students in discussion groups in order to encourage each individual to participate.

Our organization encourages Youth to be a "part of the solution to crime prevention instead of being the problem". If any member of the Skyrocket Youth Conference has to be handled by local law or court then it is our policy to automatically dismiss the individual from the Conference. We believe good Character is the best recommendation a person can have.

Yes, the members are "YOUTH WITH A WILL, LOOKING FOR A WAY". It is left to them, the leaders of tomorrow, to find that way TODAY!

Breathalyzer Effective in DPS Work in Northwest Texas

The Breathalyzer, a portable instrument used for determining the alcohol content of the blood by a simple "breath test", which was put into operation November, 1968, over the state of Texas is proving to be quite useful in the Northwest Texas area, announced Major C. W. Bell, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety for this region.

The Breathalyzer for this district is located at Childress and is one of 90 in the state.

During the months of November and December of 1968, there were 1164 suspected drinking drivers who took various types of tests to determine the amount of alcohol in their blood. Of this number, 957 or 82% took the Breathalyzer test as compared to 207 or 18% who took other types of tests.

Major Bell said that the Breathalyzer not only will help in convicting a drunken driver but assists in absolving a person who appears intoxicated, but may actually be suffering from epilepsy, a heart attack, an overdose of insulin, or many other pathological conditions.

The magnitude of the problem is reflected in studies conducted by the Texas Department of Public Safety. Based on a 10-year traffic death toll of 27,000 in Texas, the use of alcohol may have accounted for about 50% of these fatalities.

Bell said "It is hoped that the use of the Breathalyzer will hit hard at the problem and help reduce the traffic deaths in Texas."

Group Attends ACC Lectures

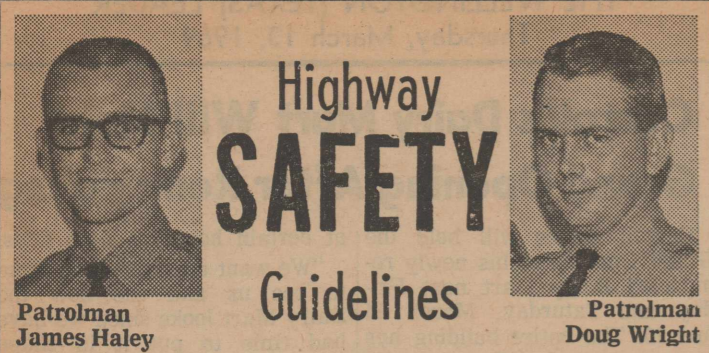

A group from the Wellington Church of Christ attended the recent annual lectureship at Abilene Christian College.

They included Gaylord Cook, the minister of the church, Mrs. Cook, Mr. and Mrs. John Jackson and Mr. and Mrs. Troy Gene Thomason.

Four Wellington girls, accompanied by Mrs. John Coleman, attended the one-day Youth Forum. They were Judy Porter, Kathy Tyler, Susan Oney and Barbara Wilbur, and prior to the forum, they were luncheon guests of Susan Coffee, an ACC student.

Keynote speaker at the youth meeting was Dr. Wm. S. Branowsky, executive vice president of Pepperdine College, Los Angeles, who spoke on "Right Thinking About Morality."

ALL-WOMEN JURY

Highway SAFETY Guidelines

Q. What is the fine and/or penalties for driving without a drivers license?

A. The first conviction is a fine from $1.00 to $200.00. The second conviction, if within one year of the first conviction is a fine of not less than $25.00 nor more than $300.00. DPS Weight Station Will Be Dedicated At Childress Sunday

Weigh Station No. 51, only the third in the state of Texas, will be opened formally with official ceremonies on Saturday, March 15, near Childress, Major C. W. Bell, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety announced today.

Formal dedication ceremonies will be held at 2 p.m. with State Senator Jack Hightower of Vernon, Rep. W. S. Heatley of Paducah, and Col. Wilson E. Speir, State Director of the DPS, as principal speakers.

Rep. Heatley will cut the ribbon that officially opens the station and the first truck will be weighed by either the assistant DPS Director or the Chief of Traffic Law Enforcement.

District Judge Charles Reynolds of Childress will serve as master of ceremonies for the occasion.

The public is invited to attend the ceremonies and will be given a tour of the weigh station.

An informal coffee for guests and visitors will be staged at Gay's Cafe, sponsored by the Childress Chamber of Commerce at 3 p.m. After the formal ceremonies the weigh station will remain open for public inspection until 5 p.m.

Leading officials of Childress and the county will be honored guests at the formal dedication and ribbon cutting.

According to the Department of Public Safety the weigh station has been built because of the high volume of traffic on US 287 between Dallas and Denver. Surveys have shown that this highway carries the highest volume of truck traffic in the 60-county area to be served.

This will be the latest type of platform scales. Normally trucks are weighed by portable scales carried in DPS patrol cars. The new station will weigh trucks for compliance with gross weight, axle weight and registration statutes.

The weigh station for northwest Texas will be located nine tenths of a mile northwest of Childress on US 287. Other DPS weigh stations are located only at Riviera and outside of Houston.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

Constructive planning now underway may bring a paved road connecting the Mangum road (203) with Haskell Street (1035) and at the same time bring a solution or at least a vast improvement to the drainage problems that beset the county and city in the area in and around Wellington. It is hoped that the hard surfacing of the road which is 1st Street in Wellington could be linked with the widening of Highway 83 which it is believed will be started within the next year and a half.

Paving this one mile stretch would do much to relieve the cotton traffic problem on 15th street on which the high school and the elementary school are located. Another objective would be to relieve the flooding of the northeast part of town during heavy rains.

The problem is complex and it will take time to work out all the details. Officials of the City of Wellington are concerned over the possible effect on the water wells east of town and the sanitation facilities of southwest of the city. The county has already voted to pay one-half of the expense of obtaining right of way for the road and water easements.

T. E. Lennon reports that a flock of Sandhill Cranes were wayfaring on the Grover Graham farm between here and Dodson last week end. He estimates the number of birds in the flight as being over a thousand. They were blue-gray in color and stood about three feet high. Sunday they were feeding on the wheat and Monday they were in the maize stubble. When I drove out about an hour later after Mr. Lennon had mentioned the cranes all of them were gone except seven that were in the air headed north.

It is time for geese and ducks and other birds to be going north and it is fascinating to watch any of the flights. But the most distinctive and best known to people everywhere is the V formation of the migrating geese which with their plaintive honking heard coming from the heights brings contrasting emotions and each is a double emotion. When they arrive in the fall there is the thought that the cold winter and the time of leafless trees and hardship is not far ahead. It is tempered by the warm autumn sunshine, the lush fields, the fat animals and the feeling of welcome for the flying visitors from the far north. In the spring the emotion at the sight of the flying geese is reversed. There is the sadness of parting even for a time; but there is also bursting forth of spring when the daffodils thrust through the ground crust, the fruit trees bloom, calves and colts jump and race and everything seems young.

The Weather Bureau map for March shows our entire area as well as all of West Texas and eastern New Mexico of being in a region of below average precipitation for the month. There is something wrong about that. We have had far more moisture during the first ten days than we receive during the entire month on the average. Any number of people have been by the newspaper office and mentioned how wet the ground is, how well the wheat is do-

Development Body Names New Officers

A special called meeting of stockholders of the Collingsworth County Development Corporation was held Friday night March 7, Billy Moseley, president, was in charge.

Before the opening of the meeting, stockholders were taken to Orbit Travelers, Inc., where manager Kenneth Maxwell and Leroy Wallace showed the 35 persons present through the newly established trailer plant.

During the business session, stockholders discussed the progress of events concerning the Hydro-Torq Pump Company, which the development corporation has worked with in the past.

They next discussed the investment and promotion of Orbit Travelers.

Officers and directors were re-elected for one-year terms, and include Mr. Moseley, president; George Shadid, secretary; and how tough have been the dirt roads.

The sun rises a little after 6 o'clock and a person has a brief time to enjoy the sunrise and look at the budding trees and listen to the songs of the birds before having to go to work. But this small luxury is not for long. The time will get by and they will set up the clocks and you will be getting up in the dark again. Two legislators have introduced a bill to exempt Texas from daylight saving time and it will not pass. What they should have done was to introduce a bill to exempt the state from daylight saving time with the exception of June, July and August.

The front page of The Perryton Herald carried a story saying "Heart Disease Toll Is Higher Here" which said that heart disease was the cause of 54.2 percent of the deaths in Ochiltree County. On the back page of the same paper was this headline: "Life Span Longer for Residents Here." It said: "For the 60 men in Ochiltree County who have arrived at the age of 22, the statistics show that 89 percent of them will be on hand to witness the marriage of their youngest children." It might seem that Editor Hudson has the location of his stories reversed; but the count shows more people read the full story on the inside than read the story in its entirety that starts on the front page.

H. M. Baggerly in The Tulsa Herald:

According to a survey conducted recently by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, one's chance of developing lung cancer if he is a non-smoker is one in 300.

If he is a light smoker, smoking less than a pack of cigarettes a day, his chance is one in 35. If he is a heavy smoker, consuming more than a pack a day, his chance is one in 10. Yet we note numerous junior high and high school boys and girls trying to develop the smoking habit when they can't even inhale without choking!

We have a lot of sympathy for the smoker who developed the habit long before it was considered really harmful. Many of these people would give their right arm if they could break the habit. Many are suffering agony in trying to quit! But when a person armed with the facts ignores them and deliberately takes up smoking of his own will and choice, we couldn't care less if and when he begins to harvest his wild oats.

and these directors: Mr. Moseley, Mr. Shadid, Bill Hatch, Zook Thomas, Jones Singley, Henry Sullivan, Alvin Horton, John Brown and Velman Warwick.

The development corporation has 109 stockholders and was created for the sole purpose of promoting and creating new industry for Collingsworth County. Mr. Moseley explained. Besides new industry, it also promotes existing industry that needs financial and technical assistance.

Mrs. Roberts Now With Gibson's in Wellington

Mrs. Leon Roberts has accepted a position with Gibson's Discount Center according to an announcement made this week by Steve Owens, owner.

She will be in charge of the beauty and home aids department of the store, Mr. Owens said. Mrs. Roberts has had 15 years experience in selling beauty aids and drug sundries and since this will be one of the larger departments of the store, Mr. Owens says he feels very fortunate in securing the services of Mrs. Roberts.

He also said that the formal opening of Gibson's in Wellington would be held within the next three to four weeks. By that time, Mr. Owens said, "we feel that we will be operating as a full Gibson store."
