RYSCO Trawler Christened In Ceremonies at Aransas Pass

The freezer-trawler "Cape Ann" was christened in ceremonies Aug. 29 at the municipal dock in Aransas Pass. The vessel was built by Rockport

Yacht and Supply Co., Inc. of Ocean Bloom, Inc., of Aransas Pass. The boat was christened by Mrs. Gene Englehart, wife of

The ceremony was attended by representatives of financial institutions of this area, employees and owners of Ocean Bloom, Inc., members of the press, and persons in the shrimp, fishing and related industries.

The "Cape Ann" is equipped for quick freezing of her catch at sea. The boat is 75 feet by 20 feet, and in addition to the freezing equipment for shrimp, features air conditioned living quarters for the crew.

The freezing equipment is an electrically driven hatch mounted blast freezer furnished by Sea Food Technology Corp. of Palmetto, Fla., and maintains temperatures of 20 degrees below zero in the fish hold.

Among the out of town guests were George Davidson, fishery consultant, and Bob Newberg, engineer, representing The Gorton Corporation of Gloucester, Mass., and their affiliated foreign companies.

They were here to inspect the three 76 foot by 21 1/2 foot freezer-trawlers they are having built by Rockport Yacht and Supply for Crevettes du Cameroun in South Africa.

County Delays Budget Hearing

A hearing on Aransas County's proposed 1974 budget was postponed August 31 because only three of the five members of the commissioners court were present.

"We're not legal this morning," commented County Judge John D. Wendell. He pointed out that all members of the court have to be present for setting the tax rate.

Postponement of the budget hearing until the next meeting on September 10 also prompted several elected officials to delay formal appearances before the court to request pay raises for their employees.

The budget in its present form provides raises of $25 a month for only three members of the sheriff's department in accordance with promises made last year, Wendell said.

But, for the record, both Sheriff Bob Hewes and County Clerk Ruby Hart, informally have asked that their deputies be given a 10 per cent pay hike, and County Atty. Ellis Clark has requested the court to increase county payment toward his secretary's salary.

Commissioner Erle Eller also said that he was concerned about road and bridge work pay. "I've got one boy out there making $2.22 an hour who has worked for the county 13 years," Eller said.

Wendell said as far as he was concerned, "everybody is entitled to a raise . . . but we don't have the money."

Wendell cited the loss in taxable values as the principal reason for holding salaries at the present level.

Deputies in various offices now draw salaries ranging from $3,600 a year to $5,232 for chief deputies. Sheriff's deputies make $6,600 annually while the chief sheriff's deputy draws $7,200.

The lowest hourly rate in the county of $1.60 is paid general county labor, while road and bridge personnel draw hourly rates from $2 to $3.54.

Salaries of elected officials are $8,151 for commissioners, the treasurer, the district clerk, and the tax assessor and county auditor, while other officials including the sheriff, county judge, county clerk and county attorney make $10,000 a year.

The salary for the commissioners includes their annual $900 allotment for car expense.

Wendell said the assessed tax roll for the county this year is estimated at something over $42 million, down approximately

Breath of Life Campaign to Start

Six million American children suffer from lung-damaging diseases. Pediatricians spend over 50% of their time treating children with respiratory disease. It is a health problem of frightening proportions, and the most serious lung-damaging disease is cystic fibrosis. It involves not only the lungs, but often the gastrointestinal system.

What is the outlook for C/F patients? Little more than a decade ago, most C/F babies died before reaching school age. Through research and therapy increasing numbers of individuals with C/F are surviving into adolescence and adulthood.

"Volunteers are desperately needed," according to Mrs. Jean Connery, Chairman for the local C/F campaign. Mrs. Connery would like to have teenagers help and work with the campaign in Rockport. There was a meeting of teenage volunteers at Mrs. Connery's home, #2 Aloha, Key Allegro, at 7 p.m. Tuesday, September 4th, to plan and coordinate the business portion of the C/F Campaign.

The teenagers will be split in groups of two and will actively solicit contributions from the local businesses on Friday and Saturday, September 7 and 8. Mr. Pat Daly is business director for this portion of the campaign. Then, during the week of September 17th, Mrs. Linda Patterson will be the director for the door-to-door campaign.

High School students wishing to participate in the drive, either business or door-to-door, should contact Mrs. Jean Connery, 729-0313; Mrs. Linda Patterson, 729-7696; or Mr. Pat Daly, 729-0270.

PIRATE FOOTBALL '73

By BOB CRAWFORD

Only one week from tomorrow night the Rockport-Fulton Pirates open their quest of capturing the District 15AAA title as the team opens against Mathis, a Class AA State Playoff team last year. The game will be at Pirate Stadium.

This past week the Pirates scrimmaged a tough crew from Bloomington and came out on the short end of the score, one to zero. A fine group of fans were there to watch.

The Bobcats connected on a 60 yard pass play for their only completion of the evening for the touchdown.

The Pirates, who played well on defense, were unable to generate any offense in the first period, and fell only inches short at the 10 yard line of going in for the tying score.

Coach Bobby Flanagan pointed out that the defense played well, especially the linebackers Melvin Morgan and Bobby Mundine. Also included as having a good defensive game was Bob Gillis.

This Friday night the Pirates have an open date, while many other South Texas teams open their schedules.

The Junior Varsity squad from Rockport-Fulton fought to a 1-1 deadlock with Bloomington. The Bobcats scored on a 19 yard pass play, and the Pirates came back and scored on a five yard run by Ricky Herron.

Coach Sonny Watkins said that the team played well as a unit on offense in spots. Coach Danny Brodbeck listed Jay Watkins, Bobby George, and Bill Smith as having good games blocking in the line, especially Smith who was blocking on a man out-weighting him by a considerable amount.

Bloomington's freshmen took the Pirate freshmen 2-1, although the Pirates had a 50 yard run called back by a penalty. Mike Garcia broke loose for that long run. The Pirates' score came on a 60 yard play on a pass from Dickie Ballou to Rey Guerrero.

Coach Mike Fowler pointed out linemen Jeff Crosby, Jesse Marshall, and George Miller as having fine games.

Ranger Jim Peters Accidentally Shot

Texas Ranger Jim Peters is reported in "good condition" at Memorial Medical Center in Corpus Christi after being shot in the right eye last Saturday in a freak accident.

Peters was loading gear into his car at his Corpus Christi apartment to go fishing when his .38 derringer fell from his pocket and accidentally discharged as he was bending over to pick up some fishing equipment.

Doctors said the bullet went through his right eye and emerged from above his eyebrow. According to a physician attending Peters, the Ranger will lose the sight of his right eye.

Peters is active in criminal investigative work in Aransas County and has many friends in the Rockport area.

Three-Car Crash Brings Charges

A three-car crash Aug. 30 on Highway 35 just south of Market Street resulted in police charges against one of the drivers.

City police said Clifton Calder was charged with driving on the wrong side of the road not in passing and failure to control speed to avoid an accident.

Police said Calder was driving south on Highway 35 on the wrong side of the road and ran head-on into a car driven by Robert Brand and heading north.

Following this crash, according to police, a car driven by James Behee struck the rear of the Brand auto.

The top photo shows the car of Clifton Calder on Highway 35, a short distance south of Market Street, after it ran head-on into an auto which was proceeding north. Constable Buddy McLester is shown directing traffic.

In the bottom photo, the first car is the one which was struck by Calder. It was driven by Robert Brand. The second car, which hit the rear of Brand's auto following the impact, was driven by James Behee. Police Sgt. Joe Hinojosa is shown investigating the accident.

Multiple Sclerosis Drive In Progress

Mrs. William Sutton has announced that the mailing appeal for funds for multiple sclerosis has begun reaching homes in the Rockport area.

Mrs. Sutton wishes to express her thanks to the many volunteers who addressed and stuffed the envelopes for the appeal. She was assisted in the effort by Mrs. W.B. Alderman, president of the Copanokers Club, and members of the A.A.R.P. Many volunteers worked in their homes, and the public library donated the use of their building.

Mrs. Sutton said, "Each donation will mean more hope and more help to patients here in our area. The M. S. Society offers patient services and aids research into the cause and cure of the dread disease. Help fight the great crippler of young adults."

The Coastal Bend Chapter with headquarters in Corpus Christi at 335 Wilson Bldg. aids patients in 18 counties in south Texas. Interested parties are urged to contact the office for information on assistance.

Air Force Band to Perform Sept. 19

Under sponsorship of the Chamber of Commerce, the Air Force "Band of the West" from Lackland AFB will present a band concert at Rockport-Fulton High School Auditorium at 8 p.m., Wednesday, Sept. 19.

There will be no admission charge to hear this outstanding 50-piece concert band. The people in the Rockport area are fortunate to have the opportunity to hear this great band and it is expected that the auditorium will be filled with men, women and children.

Lackland Military Training Center's "Air Force Band of the West" was one of the first musical organizations formed when the United States Air Force became a separate branch of the Armed Forces September 1947.

Currently one of the largest of the Air Force's musical units, the band is an official Air Training Command unit. The band furnishes music for military ceremonies, appropriate official and civilian functions and recreational and entertainment events.

In December 1968, the "Band of the West" received the Air Force Outstanding Unit Award for exceptionally meritorious service in community relations and military performances.

The "Band of the West" has gained national and international recognition through appearances and engagements in the western United States and the Republic of Mexico. The band is an annual attraction at the Texas State Fair at Dallas.

It has been the featured band at "Old Milwaukee Days," Milwaukee, Wis., and is annually featured at the "Fiesta de Amistad" celebration of the cities of Del Rio, Texas, and Ciudad Acuna, Mexico; and the "George Washington Celebration" observed by Laredo, Texas, and neighboring Nuevo Laredo, Mexico.

Throughout the year, the "Band of the West" appears before San Antonio-area audiences at a myriad of local observances, including the week-long San Antonio Fiesta in April.

The Dallas Cowboys, Houston Astros and Houston Oilers have also included the band in their pre-game shows. The band also presents concerts and conducts instructional clinics for high schools in support of local recruiting offices.

Budget Hearing—

ly $2.5 million from last year. The county lost oil and gas values, but picked up some growth in utilities and residential development to offset some of the loss.

The proposed budget is based on a tax rate of $1.10, the same as this year, and expenditures in all funds for 1974 total $690,993, while revenue resources are anticipated at $627,205. Beginning balances will make up the difference. The county judge remarked that there was no way to produce additional revenue at this time.

He said the tax rate was as high as the law allows, and that it is too late in the year to change the assessment ratio, which now stands at 25 per cent.

During the August 31 session the court approved monthly bills, and accepted Hewes' offer to survey traffic sign needs in Peninsula Oaks, a subdivision west of Rockport.

John Leslie, a resident of the subdivision, told the court that additional yield signs are needed in the area.

Leslie also informed the court that a chapter of the American Association of Retired Persons has been organized and that as chairman of the group's legislative committee, "I may be appearing before you" from time to time.

Aransas Pass Nursing Home Taking Applications

Construction on a $375,000 nursing home and convalescent center, the first in Aransas Pass, is approximately 70% complete. Anticipated opening of the 100-bed facility is October 15.

The home will be known as the Aransas Pass Nursing and Convalescent Center Inc. and is located on Yoakum Street immediately behind Lyman-Roberts Hospital on SH 35 and only a short distance from Aransas Hospital at 160 S. 13th Street.

The brick structure is designed with six wings and one central nursing station.

The president of the Aransas Pass Nursing and Convalescent Center Inc. is Albert R. Long who is also owner of the nursing home in Goliad. Secretary of the Aransas Pass home is Tim Von Dohlen who is an attorney -- pharmacist from Goliad.

Long said that the $375,000 figure does not include the cost of equipment and furnishings for the nursing home. He said there would be some 35 full-time employees and about 10 parttime employees with an annual payroll in excess of $200,000.

Phillip Howard who holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Health Administration from Southwestern State College in Weatherford, Oklahoma will be a member of the administrative staff. Howard and his wife, Anita, now reside in Aransas Pass at 422 N. Houston St. Howard is available to take applications for residents and employees of the home. Anyone interested should go to his home, or call (512) 758-2097, or write P.O. Box 1256, Aransas Pass, Von Dohlen said that not only would the nursing home be well constructed, as Contractor Walter Elvins of Fort Worth specializes in the construction of nursing homes, but, in addition, "we plan to have the best possible staff in order to provide the highest quality nursing and convalescent care to the residents of the home."

Both private and semi-private rooms will be available, and there will be a large recreation room with colored television and containing luxurious furnishings where a resident may entertain guests if they so desire.

Each resident will have the freedom of choice of their own physician. The proximity of the home to the hospitals will be an advantage to the physicians and the residents.

Howard said that "we hope to be able to serve people throughout Aransas and San Patricio Counties, and we look forward to meeting the people throughout the area."

School Lunch Workshop Held

In preparation for the 1973-74 school year, a workshop was held for the school lunch personnel on August 22 and 23. People from Sinton, Aransas Pass, Gregory-Portland, and Ingleside attended the two-day event along with all the employees of the Aransas County School Lunchrooms.

A part of the program was given by Mr. Kenneth Rhude, Food and Drug Inspector, Public Health Region 10. He showed films and led a discussion on proper care and handling of foods.

Mrs. Kitty McLaughlin, area supervisor with Texas Education Agency held a discussion on recipe conversion, and also gave a very interesting and in-

Shrimp Landings Show Decrease

Shrimp landings at Texas ports amounted to 9.0 million pounds in July. This was only 300,000 pounds below landings in July 1972. However, current landings show Brownsville-Port Isabel up 47 percent; Aransas Pass-Rockport, down 11 percent; Freeport, down 48 percent; and Galveston, down 44 percent.

The following table represents landings of headless shrimp for specified areas and periods:

Area	July 1973	Jan.-July 1972	Jan.-July 1973
	Pounds	Pounds	Pounds
Port Arthur-Sabine	165,300	789,000	701,300
Galveston-Seabrook	428,900	2,991,400	1,993,100
Freeport	1,198,600	4,131,700	2,580,500
Matagorda-Palacios	136,400	380,000	516,500
Port Lavaca-Port O'Connor-Seadrift	460,000	1,160,200	1,438,200
Aransas Pass-Rockport	2,178,400	6,032,800	6,165,100
Brownsville-Port Isabel-Port Mansfield	4,398,300	11,346,100	11,809,200
TOTAL	8,965,900	26,831,200	25,203,900

Shrimp trawlers working brown shrimp from northeast of Aransas Pass to 60 miles south of Port Isabel made fair to good catches of small brown shrimp with spotted heavy catches reported from small areas off the south Texas coast. Brown shrimp catches off Galveston and Freeport were the poorest in many years and had not improved at the close of July, nor were they expected to. White shrimp catches were poor and restricted to areas adjacent to major passes.

The 1973 shrimp crop in Texas is the poorest in recent years considering the number of new vessels that must share in the commercial harvest from the Gulf, and the number of outboard rigs working in major bays. The problem of a short crop of brown shrimp has been magnified by a shortage of fuel and a 30 plus percent increase in fuel costs for some vessels.

The high producing areas adjacent to the Galveston-Matagorda nursery systems are down over 60 percent compared with the harvest of recent years. The fresh-water kill of brown shrimp in the Galveston system in May and June reduced the catch by small bay boats about 65 percent below the 1972 level, consequently, both the inshore and offshore fleets are having financial difficulty.

Blue crab landings of 1.0 million pounds were up about 36 percent compared with July 1972. All producing areas reflected an increase over previous months. Fishermen received 12 - 15 cents per pound for live crabs.

Nine new large vessels made maiden voyages in July. One vessel was lost at sea.

formative demonstration on bread making.

Earlier in the summer five of the employees of the local school lunchrooms attended a 5-day workshop sponsored by the Texas Education Agency at San Marcos. At this meeting Mrs. Esther Lockhart, headcook at Rockport-Fulton Junior High School lunchroom, attended a class in which she made a study of nutrition. She gave a brief resume of this study to the group meeting here in the in-service workshop.

In view of the rising costs of foods and the difficulty of obtaining foods, Mrs. Crusier, school dietitian and her staff felt that it was very important to attend these workshops to receive all the information they could to help with planning, purchasing and preparing foods for the school lunchrooms.

That's Devotion
John Chapman, known as Johnny Appleseed, devoted his life to planting apple seeds and pruning apple trees. He began his task in the Ohio Valley in 1800 and for 50 years he sold or gave away apple seeds to families moving West.

Insurance Man Addresses Rotary

Some of the changes made at the last session of the state legislature with reference to insurance were discussed by Baxter Jackson, manager of the Corpus Christi Association of Independent Insurance Agents, at a luncheon meeting of Rotary Club August 29 at Corky's Restaurant. Jackson was introduced by Jack McDavid, local insurance executive.

With reference to workmen's compensation, weekly benefits were increased from 60 per cent of weekly wages to 66 per cent with a maximum of $63 a week. Death benefits to the widow of a worker who died as a result of his employment was increased from payment for 401 weeks to lifetime compensation except in the event of her remarriage when she is granted a final compensation of two years' payments, according to Jackson.

Another important change was to eliminate the automobile guest statute provision which provided that a guest in an automobile accident could not sue the owner except in instances of "gross neglect," which always has been difficult to prove, he said.

The new law provides that a guest now may sue the automobile owner for negligence in an accident to the extent that the owner contributed to the negligence. Previously, if the passenger contributed in any way to the accident he was barred from any action to recover damages, Jackson explained.

Finally, Jackson discussed personal injury protection which he described as Texas' contribution to "no fault" insurance. If this provision is included in your automobile insurance policy, you or anyone riding with you can collect for injuries up to the limit of the policy. It provides not only for medical payments but also for loss of income if totally disabled.

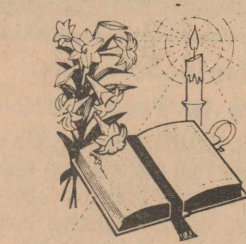

Later McDavid explained that personal injury protection is mandatory under Texas law unless the insured rejects in writing this provision of automobile insurance. Payment is made regardless of who is at fault, McDavid explained.

Texas Prison Rodeo To Be Held Each Sunday In October

HUNTSVILLE - Tickets to the Texas Prison Rodeo - an annual affair held each Sunday in October at the main prison unit in East Texas went on sale to the public, on September 1, announces Ron Taylor, Texas Department of Corrections public affairs officer.

Ticket information may be received by writing to the Rodeo Ticket Office, Box 99, Huntsville, 77340.

This, the 42nd annual rodeo, will feature an all inmate lineup, cowboys, cowgirls, and red-shirts.

Harry Southerland, Fort Worth, will lead a group of 40 convict cowboys in the saddle bronc, bull riding and bareback riding events. Southerland is the current champ with back-to-back titles and will try to become only the second cowboy to put together three consecutive individual rodeo titles.

The cowboys will also compete in a mad scramble featuring 10 riders on 10 bulls all coming out of the chute gates at one time. A wild horse race where three man teams must catch, saddle, mount and ride to a designated finish line rounds out the cowboys participation in the two-hour spectacular.

For the second year (they stole the show last year), the Goree Cowgirls will perform and will take part in the calf tussle, greased pig-sacking contest and a donkey barrel race.

The red-shirts, a group of 40 inmates divided into two-man teams, will vie in the wild cow milking contest and the hard money event. Hard money involves the grabbing of a Bull Durham sack from between a non-cooperative bull's horns. Cash prizes of $50 and $25 go to winners in this extremely popular event.

Country western music will add to the rodeo when inmate recording stars and bands swing out for the midway show beginning at 9 a.m. and at the pre rodeo area show at 12:30.

The rodeo gets underway at 2 p.m. with the traditional grand entry parade. After that it's guaranteed fun and excitement at the Texas Prison Rodeo -- billed as the wildest and roughest of its kind.

FDA Panel Finds Most Antacids Claims Pass Test

A panel of scientific experts convened by the Food and Drug Administration has reviewed all antacid ingredients on the market. Among other things, the panel found that most antacid ingredients are safe and potentially effective. But the panel recommended a uniform testing procedure with which all ingredients must conform.

Because many consumers may be unwittingly taking antacid products which contain ingredients unneeded for simple stomach acidity, the panel also concluded that some combination products shouldn't be permitted.

For example, ingredients which promote digestion have been added to some antacid products. But increasing stomach secretions is the last thing anyone with indigestion needs.

The panel also concluded that combinations of a pain-killer with an antacid should be allowed only if the label states that the product is useful for someone with both acid indigestion and a headache.

by

Last week we discussed "channel improvement" or "channelization" of rivers by the Soil Conservation Service and the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers in the name of flood control and the damage this does to wildlife habitat. This destruction goes on.

Since 1954 the SCS has "improved" over 3,000 miles of streams and now has about 8,000 miles of channelization under way. Projects planned for the future affect another 12,000 miles of our waterways.

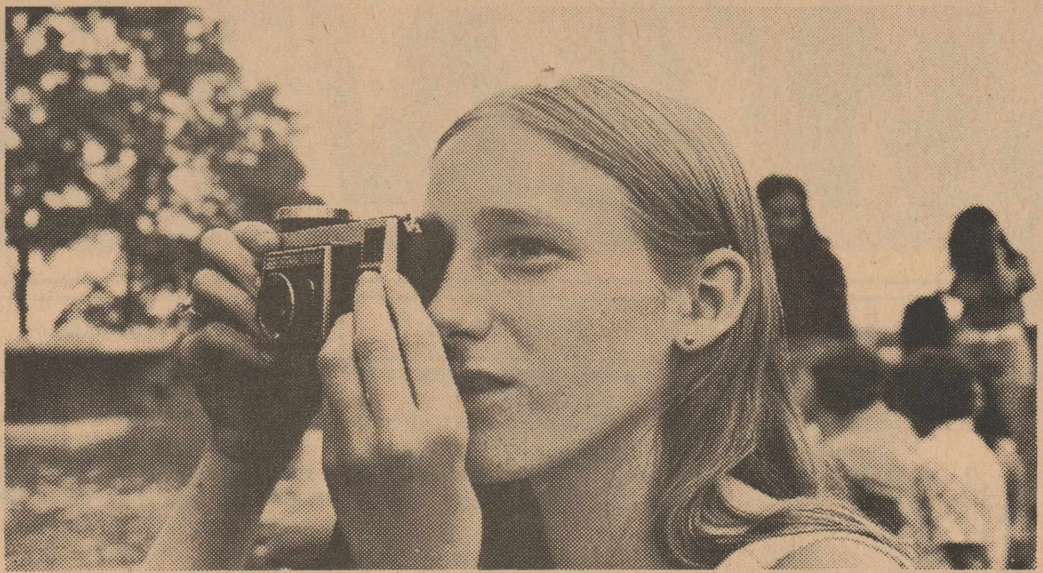

A Corps of Engineers project is eating the heart out of 1,300 square miles of the Atchafalaya Basin of southern Louisiana - a southern wilderness surpassed only by the Florida Everglades. The Cache River Basin of northeastern Arkansas is considered the only part of eastern Arkansas with any remaining game cover of any importance. Now the Corps of Engineers proposes a channelization project that would cause an estimated loss of 75 percent of all the small game in the basin, 79 percent of all the big game, and 60 percent of all the furbearers. North Carolina, and other states, have found that game fish may decline as much as 90 percent in a channelized stream.

This really all started in 1944 when the federal Flood Control Act of 1936 was amended to involve the Corps of Engineers in major drainage projects. Until then, most of the flood control work of the Corps had been limited to dams and levees.

In 1954 the really heavy blow fell when the Watershed Protection and Flood Prevention Act (Public Law 566) let the Soil Conservation Service get its sticky fingers into the pork barrel. This Act authorized the SCS to help local groups plan and carry out flood control and drainage projects. On the surface PL 566 looked like a good thing because provisions were made for improving many watersheds for fish and wildlife.

4 - H Photographers Say It Thru Pictures

"Communicate the sure way—with photographs," advise 102,000 4-H boys and girls in the national 4-H photography program. And they follow their own advice with a double assist from the Cooperative Extension Service and Eastman Kodak Company.

Armed with a camera, these young people are ready to share their thoughts, ideas and creativity with others. They also share their photographic skills with younger 4-H members in meetings and field trips.

Some youths, like Fred Gurley of Jefferson, Ga., are using their photo know-how to help people in their communities learn about 4-H and its activities.

Recognizing that his local newspaper didn't carry much information about 4-H events, he landed a job as a part-time photographer for the paper. With young Gurley taking pictures of local 4-H activities and his editor running them in the paper, both have become active 4-H communicators.

And young Gurley's efforts in promoting 4-H through photography paid off another way with a $1,000 scholarship as one of six national winners, last year, in the 4-H photography program.

Another 1972 national winner and scholarship recipient was Vicki Lynn Bain, of Lawton, Okla. Using her skills she learned through the 4-H photography program, she expressed herself by creating visual demonstrations and exhibits showing, not only her 4-H story, but the story of her club as well.

Currently teaching photography to 4-H'ers in a four county area, Miss Bain has also created a short course on photography, using slides, that proved so successful it was presented at both the county and state fairs.

Along with awarding six $1,000 scholarships to national winners in the program, Eastman Kodak Company also provides recognition to outstanding 4-H photographers at the county and state levels.

Up to four county winners receive medals of honor, while one winner in each state receives an expense-paid trip to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago, Nov. 25-29, courtesy of Kodak.

For more information on 4-H photography, contact the county extension office.

Just below the surface, however, were hidden many needle-pointed thorns. The cost of such things as channelization were to be paid in full by rich old Uncle Sam, but only half of any improvement for fish and wildlife habitat could be paid for with federal funds. Landowners were whole-hearted in their acceptance of the federally subsidized part of the plans but wanted no part of the habitat improvement for which they would have to pay half.

During the "tight federal money" days of the 1950s the SCS laid low and made plans, but as money became available in the 1960s they roared into action. Before sportsmen woke up to what was going on a great deal of mortal damage had been done to natural drainages they could least afford to lose. Even today, a great many people don't realize what is going on right under their noses.

Public pressure, however, has begun to make the channelization agencies pull in their horns a little bit and show signs of modifying their programs. Some states have enacted laws to protect their natural streams and the federal Environmental Protection Act of 1969 is showing its long, sharp teeth. It is forcing the river-wreckers to prove that their programs are absolutely necessary, and that any gains they make are enough to justify the loss of a natural stream.

It must be admitted that not all channelization is bad. When urban streams, such as the San Antonio River, flow through residential and industrial areas, channelization of that area is probably justified. In any case, channelization should be the final alternative. No plans concerning "stream improvement" should be made unless biologists, as well as engineers and economists, are included in their preparation. It may be better and cheaper to let the river run free in its flood plain than try to make the plain safe for soy beans, used car lots, and Little League ball parks. Even when some channelization is necessary, there are ways to ease the pain and reduce the damage done to a river system.

John Madson, Assistant Director of Olin Corporation's Conservation Department, has said, "Natural streams do more than support wildlife; they are wildlife. They are alive and active, changing the land and giving it the features that make country worth living in - for us as well as the wild creatures that we prize." Who could say it better?

The name century plant for the agave came from the mistaken idea that the American century plant blooms only once in 100 years. Some kinds flower every year and others at longer periods, but none blooms so rarely as once a century.

Why Do People Drink?

(This is another in a series of articles on alcohol, its use and abuse, and alcoholism, prepared by the Coastal Bend Council on Alcoholism, 310 Jones Building, Corpus Christi, Tex.)

Approximately 68% of Americans adults drink alcoholic beverages, at least once per year. Seventy-seven per cent of the men and 60% of the women drink. Among teenagers 15 to 20 years old, 57% of the boys and 43% of the girls use alcohol. This is according to surveys made in the late 1960's and recently released by the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism. There are many indications that alcohol use is increasing among the teenage population as they are turning away from the hard narcotics and LSD.

People usually drink in order to feel better, but it is not as simple as that. Alcohol, if taken sparingly, relieves tension and shyness and may facilitate social interaction. In larger quantities, it relieves inhibitions and fears and may trigger suppressed hostilities. Taken lightly, it may increase communications within social groups, but used more liberally it is a form of withdrawal for those who find social interaction painful. Used heavily, it is an anesthetic, and before the discovery of ether it was used in surgery.

Since alcohol is a narcotic drug, there is some risk which enters into all drinking, but some types of drinking entail much more risk than others. This we can see from those around us; most people drink and enjoy it, and it causes them little if any trouble; but for some, alcohol means sheer stark tragedy for themselves, their families, and those around them, for years on end.

The risk factor in drinking varies with the basic purposes in drinking, which is not always apparent, even to the drinker. For most people, alcohol use begins in a social setting; wedding receptions, parties, after-work rituals with the gang, or with the wife or husband. For many, the social function is the important thing, while the drinking adds a little enjoyment. For others, the social setting is an excuse, because the drinking is the primary purpose. When the chemical action of alcohol on the brain is the primary purpose in drinking, then alcohol use becomes very risky. The explanation for this is a little factor called increased tolerance.

Alcohol is a sedative drug, and like most sedative drugs, the more often it is used to achieve a desired effect, the more it takes to achieve that effect. This is increased tolerance. A person may start out drinking like everybody else, in the same way, in the same amount, and for the same reason. But if he enjoys that pleasant glow he gets from alcohol and usually drinks until he gets that glow, over a period of months or years, he may gradually increase his drinking until he reaches the point of physical dependence or addiction.

Some rules one can use to avoid developing a drinking problem is to drink beverages of low alcohol content such as beer, natural wines, or tall mixed drinks, and drink immediately before eating or with meals. This slows down the effect of the alcohol. Drink no more than two drinks the first hour, and no more than one per hour thereafter, for a maximum of four drinks. Do not run around with a heavy drinking crowd and do not exceed the norms of your social group. If you think it is smart to be able to handle your liquor in quantity, visit the alcoholism ward of the San Antonio State Hospital and see your future.

Q. I'm signed up for both parts of Medicare. After a car accident last month, I had some teeth broken and had to go to the hospital for jaw surgery. Will Medicare pay any of this?

A. Yes. Medicare covers this type of surgery, but not ordinary dental care.

Q. I was hospitalized for two weeks last month. Because of my condition, my doctor requested a private room for me. Will my Medicare coverage pay for my private room?

A. Yes. Medicare can pay for a private room when it is medically necessary. Of course, the hospital will bill you for the first $68 of covered hospital services--which is the hospital insurance deductible at the present time.

Q. When I recently became 62, I was told by the people at the social security office that I needed one more quarter of work to be eligible for monthly payments. I now have an opportunity to work in a friend's store, but the work will only last for 4 weeks. Do I have to work a full 3-month calendar quarter to get the credit I need?

A. No. As long as you are paid at least $50 in wages in any part of a calendar quarter, you get credit for the whole quarter under social security.

Hunting Dates Are Announced

AUSTIN - In their Aug. 17 meeting, the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission approved a second year of split seasons for ducks, coots, geese and brant and also set hunting dates for sandhill (little brown) cranes, announced Clayton Garrison, executive director for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

In addition, the commission restored the daily bag limit of five geese and brant. Last year the limit was four birds. Seasons and bag limits include the maximum number of days and waterfowl allowable within frameworks established by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

--Ducks and coots: in the High Plains Mallard Management Unit, Oct. 25 - Nov. 25, 1973, and Dec. 8, 1973 - Jan. 20, 1974.

The High Plains Unit is defined as that part of Texas west of a line which runs from the International Bridge at Del Rio, northward on U. S. Highway 277 through San Angelo to Abilene, along State Highway 351 from Abilene to Albany, U. S. 283 from Albany to Vernon and easterly along U. S. 183 to the state line in Wilbarger County.

In other portions of the state, ducks and coots may be hunted Nov. 10-25, 1973, and Dec. 8, 1973 - Jan. 20, 1974.

Hunting hours are one-half hour before sunrise to sunset in both portions of the state. The point system for determining bag and possession limits of ducks remains in effect this year, but with some important changes:

100 point ducks - canvasbacks and redhead ducks, except the season is closed on these two species in Aransas, Brazoria, Calhoun, Cameron, Chambers, Galveston, Harris, Jackson, Jefferson, Kennedy, Kleberg, Matagorda, Nueces, Refugio, San Patricio and Willacy Counties.

70 point ducks - mallard hens, wood ducks and hooded mergansers.

10 point ducks - blue-winged teal, cinnamon teal, widgeons, scaups and mergansers except hooded.

20 point ducks - all other legal species.

The season is closed on black-bellied, fulvous tree ducks and New Mexican ducks.

The daily bag limit will be reached when the point value of any bird taken reaches or exceeds 100 points. Possession limit is the maximum number of birds of species and sex which could legally have been taken in two days.

Bag and possession limit on coots is 15 and 30 respectively.

--Geese and brant: Oct. 29-Nov. 25, 1973, and Dec. 8, 1973 - Jan. 20, 1974. Hunting hours are one-half hour before sunrise to sunset.

The bag and possession limit of geese and brant is increased to five this year.

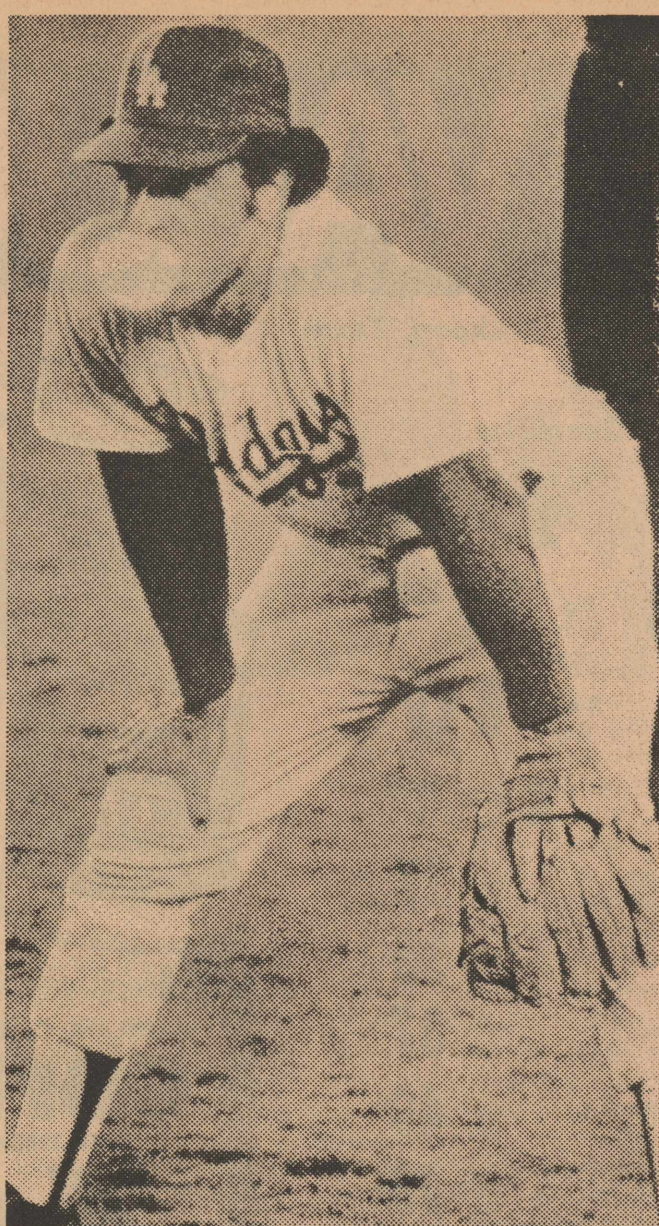

East of U. S. Highway 81, the daily bag may not include more than one Ross' goose, and in the alternative not more than one Canada goose or one white-fronted goose. Possession limit is not more than one Ross' goose and in the alternative, not more than two Canada geese or one Canada goose and one white-fronted goose.

In Texas west of U. S. 81, the daily bag and possession limit may include not more than one Ross' goose, and in the alternative, one white-fronted goose and one Canada goose, or two Canada geese.

--Sandhill (little brown) cranes: Oct. 27, 1973 - Jan. 27, 1974, in that portion of Texas west of a line running from the International Bridge at Del Rio, northward along U. S. 277 to its junction with U. S. 87 at San Angelo, northwesterly along U. S. 87 and including all of Howard and Lynn Counties, to its junction with U. S. 287 at Dumas, northwesterly along U. S. 287 to the state line in Dallam County.

Sandhill cranes are also fair game Dec. 1, 1973-Jan. 27, 1974 in that portion of Texas west of a line from San Angelo along U. S. 277 to Abilene, then along State Highway 351 from Abilene to Albany and U. S. 283 from Albany to Vernon; easterly along U. S. 183 to the state line in Wilbarger County; and east of a line from San Angelo along U. S. 87 excluding all of Howard and Lynn Counties, to the junction of Highways 87 and 287 at Dumas, and along U. S. 287 from Dumas to the state line in Dallam County.

Hunting hours for sandhill cranes are one-half hour before sunrise to sunset in both portions of the state, daily bag limit of three and possession limit of six.

TIPS FOR OUTDOORSMEN

by Vern Sanford

Photographing Your Catch

If you like to photograph your fish, here are some tips for better pictures of your catch. These tips apply to fresh-water fish and to the small sizes of salt water varieties.

First, dip your stringer of fish up and down in the water a few times, to remove any dirt or grime that may be on them ... and, to give them that fresh-caught, glossy look.

Then arrange them on the stringer so that the larger fish are "up front" where possible. Also see that they are displayed with their backs or sides toward the camera. Needless to say, the all-white underbody doesn't make an impressive photo.

If you want to be different with your pictures, spread the fish out (still on the stringer) across the side of a boat, with you or your fishing buddy seated in the boat directly behind the stringers and holding the largest bass by its lower lip ... or better yet with one hand under its body to "display" it in a horizontal position.

Some anglers hold the fish far forward, with arms outstretched toward the camera. This makes the fish look larger than it actually is ... especially if the camera is focused on the angler rather than the fish.

We don't recommend such a photo. In the first place the catch is magnified beyond reason and it is not a true and honest picture. To hold the fish in front of you, depicting the angler admiring his catch is one thing, but to hold the fish at arms length directly in front of you solely to exaggerate its size is misrepresentation.

A direct give-away as to what was done is evident to any experienced photographer simply by observing the jumbo, unnatural size of the fingers and hands of the person holding the fish.

An easier way to photograph your catch is to spread them out before you on the dock, and either kneel down or be seated behind or beside the catch. It will improve interest if you lift the largest fish slightly to better display its size. That may be emphasizing but it's not exaggerating.

Another method, if you have a sizeable number of fish on the stringer, is to take a back-view-shot of the angler with the stringer tossed over his shoulder and the entire catch dangling behind him. Emphasis here is that the successful angler has a heavy load--or is seen trudging homeward bringing in food for the family.

This of course means getting the back of the shirt or coat wet and giving it a "fishy" smell, but that problem can be solved by wearing a raincoat or other rainy-weather gear for the picture session.

There are other ways to be different too. For instance, show the successful fisherman hanging the stringer of fish on a nail, or tying it to a tree limb.

Steps always make good "props" for fish photos ... with the angler shown admiring them. Ditto for gang-planks. In fact, there are all kinds of appropriate backgrounds if you'll just look around.

And it adds much to your photography--to be different.

Major Coastal and Beach Achievements Of 63rd Legislature

REMOVAL OF SAND

The 1969 law authorizes commissioners courts to regulate the removal of sand from unincorporated areas on barrier islands and peninsulas, and prohibits the removal of sand from any public beach under the jurisdiction of the county. The purpose of the law is to prevent large excavations which could leave an island or peninsula vulnerable to being cut in two by a severe storm.

Sand removals from Galveston's east beach in recent years threatened to destroy the recreational attractiveness of the area, so in Senate Bill 269 the 63rd Legislature prohibited cities as well as counties from removing or authorizing the removal of sand from beaches within their jurisdiction.

DEFINING THE PUBLIC BEACH

Each of the beach laws enacted by the 63rd Legislature includes a revised definition of what constitutes a public beach. The Open Beaches Act declares the public policy of Texas to a public easement; but in defining the term "line of vegetation," the Act states that where the vegetation line is more than 200 feet inland from the line of mean low tide, the 200 foot line is the landward boundary of the area presumed to be subject to public rights until a court adjudication fixes the location of the public easement.

The 200 foot line has been a subject of continuing controversy between landowners and developers on the one hand, and representatives of the public interest on the other. The central issue is burden of proof; does the public have to prove its right to use the area between the 200 foot line and the line of vegetation, as landowners claim, or does the long history of continued public use of Texas beaches require that the landowner prove his right to exclude the public from any beach area seaward of the line of vegetation? Supporters of public rights contend that the 200 foot line merely denotes the minimum beach area subject to public rights, while landowners and developers maintain that the 200 foot line is the maximum extent of the public easement.

The 63rd Legislature revised the definition of "public beach" in the three beach bills by eliminating all references to the 200 foot line, so that for the purpose of state and local regulation of public beaches in the public interest, public rights are presumed to extend over the entire beach landward to the line of vegetation. The new definition is consistent with the only appellate court decision concerning public rights on Texas beaches (Seaway Co. v. Attorney General, where the Court of Civil Appeals found that on west Galveston Island, the public had established its right to use the entire beach), and indicates a continuing legislative commitment to preserve the beaches of Texas for the use and enjoyment of the public.

V. COASTAL ZONE MANAGEMENT

The state-owned submerged lands and islands in the Texas coastal zone constitute one of the state's most valuable resources. These coastal public lands can support a wide variety of uses ranging from public recreation to industrial development. Yet, as the Coastal Resources Management Program pointed out, Texas had little or no plan for managing these resources, and about all the state could do with these lands prior to 1969 was turn them over to private interests. A moratorium on the sale or lease of coastal public lands was enacted that year by the Legislature for the duration of the CRMP coastal zone study, which resulted in a strong recommendation that the Legislature develop a management program to take effect upon expiration of the moratorium.

The 63rd Legislature met this challenge by enacting two laws which define state policy concerning coastal public lands. The navigation district law was revised to require that any industrial use of coastal public lands be restricted to activities associated with marine commerce and navigation. Only navigation districts may acquire coastal public lands for industrial purposes. Other permissible uses of coastal public lands were set forth in the Coastal Public Lands Management Act of 1973, and all proposed activities on state-owned lands will be closely checked for possible adverse effect on the estuarine environment. These two laws unquestionably make Texas a national leader in protecting and preserving the resources of its coastal zone.

NAVIGATION DISTRICTS

Before the 63rd Legislature revised the law concerning use of state-owned land by navigation districts, these districts could purchase submerged lands and islands for $1 per acre. The Land Commissioner had no power to refuse such sales, or even to place restrictions upon the use of the land. One district acquired 47,760 acres of Matagorda Bay; another purchased the entire eastern shoreline of Galveston Bay. In all, almost 150,000 such acres were sold or given away to navigation districts. Once a district acquired state-owned land, it could use it in any manner it wished, and could resell the land to private interests without asking state approval. This loophole left coastal public lands vulnerable to filling and development for industrial, commercial or residential purposes.

Following the recommendations of the Coastal Resources Management Program the 63rd Legislature completely revised those portions of the Texas

Capturing the romantic mood and the continental flavor of old Heidelberg, Sigmund Romberg's Student Prince will be State Fair's family entertainment feature during the 1973 World Gateways Exposition in Dallas, Oct. 6-21. The well-loved operetta with a superlative cast of singers and actors, spectacular scenery and brilliant costumes will open Oct. 5 for 20 performances in the luxurious Music Hall in Fair Park.

Water Code dealing with acquisition of state-owned land by navigation districts. Under the new procedure, navigation districts may lease (rather than purchase) state-owned submerged lands and islands. These leases may be given only for purposes associated with marine commerce and navigation, and only then after the proposed use of the land is checked for its impact upon the environment. Districts may sublease the land, but each sublease is subject to approval of the School Land Board. Once again, environmental impact will be closely scrutinized.

The public interest is further protected by a provision for a public hearing in the county where the land is to be leased, and by a procedure providing an opportunity for review and comment by other state agencies.

The Legislature also improved a prohibition against the resale of any lands previously acquired from the state (although such lands may be resold to the State of Texas for the original purchase price of $1 per acre). Districts may lease lands previously purchased under the $1 per acre statute, but such leases are subject to the approval of the School Land Board.

Navigation districts cooperated with the School Land Board and the Legislature in the actual drafting of the legislation. Their involvement helped produce a law which protects the state's interest in protecting its coastal resources need what you use.

Electricity is a convenient, efficient, economical form of energy. Use what you need, but use it wisely, and you'll save money. The magic word is "OFF." Turn off lights, TV and room air conditioners when not actually in use. Plan careful use of other appliances.

To help you save, here are a few tips. Some will save you quite a lot of money. Others, just a little. But if you make every kilowatt count, you'll enjoy electric living at a bargain price. How much you save is really up to you.

AIR CONDITIONING

Turn your thermostat UP to 76 or 78 degrees.

Clean or replace filters every two weeks. A dirty filter eats up electric energy, cuts cooling.

Weatherstrip windows and doors, then keep them closed. Air leaks make your air conditioning units work harder.

Check your insulation. 6 inches in the ceiling, 3 1/2 in the walls can save you some real money.

Close blinds and drapes to the sun.

Turn off TV, lights, radios when not actually in use. Turn air conditioners off when you're away from home several days.

KITCHEN TIPS

Use your oven wisely. Plan oven meals to save time and energy. And no peeking. Every time you open your oven, you lose up to 20 percent of your heat. That heat makes your air conditioner work harder, too.

Use small appliances — toaster, electric skillet and sauce pans — whenever possible. They're often more economical to use than your range.

Match pan size to heating unit. A small pan on a large unit lets heat escape into the kitchen.

Use your exhaust fan while cooking to remove excess moisture and heat.

Keep a closed door policy on your refrigerator and freezer. Plan your trips to the refrigerator while cooking, and teach children to open only when necessary.

Clean external coils, fins and motor to keep your refrigerator operating efficiently.

Do full loads in your dishwasher. Load according to directions for most efficient, economical use.

LAUNDRY SAVERS

Wash and dry full loads, but no overloads. Your washer and dryer both operate more efficiently this way.

Clean lint filters after each load.

Dry but don't overdry. Over-drying wastes energy, increases fabric wear and requires more ironing.

Hang permanent press immediately. This prevents wrinkling and cuts ironing time.

WATER HEATING

Fix that drip! A drippy hot water faucet uses gallons of water and wastes energy.

Use cold water whenever possible. Cold water works best in your disposer. Cold water works well with cold water detergent for most laundry.

Showers take less water than tub baths. So encourage showering.

Watch that waste and you'll cut your electric bill. For more money- and energy-saving ideas, ask for CPL's new "Electric Diet" booklet and colorful wall poster. Both are free at your CPL office. If you have other questions, call us. We want to help.

The Lieutenant Governor's Report

By BILL HOBBY

AUSTIN - Next year, you will be witness to and, hopefully, participate in what may well be a crucial chapter in Texas history.

On January 8, 1974, the 181 members of the Texas Legislature will convene in Austin to consider revising or rewriting our state's antiquated Constitution.

Eleven months after that you may be asked to pass judgment at the polls on their efforts to bring Texas government into the 20th century.

At the last general election most Texans agreed that our Constitution was in need of overhaul.

The present Constitution was written in 1875 in reaction to the unjust rule of a Reconstruction government. At that time Texans were rightly suspicious of government, and sought to constrain its activities.

The office of governor was not given the authority with which to oversee properly the functions of the state.

The governor should truly be a chief executive with the power to regulate directly the activities of state agencies. Only in this way can the voters of the state hold him responsible.

Constitutional restraints on the legislature have almost guaranteed a part time, amateur body of lawmakers. Annual sessions are vital, I believe, to the efficient functioning of state government, which spends almost $5 billion of your tax money each year.

Many things are wrong with our present Constitution. It is too long, containing many provisions which should be statutory law.

It hamstring city and county governments, making it difficult if not impossible to deal with contemporary problems.

The fact that our present Constitution has been amended 212 times should be ample proof of its inadequacies.

There are some provisions, however, which I believe should be retained. Chief among these is the requirement that state government stay on a pay-as-you-go basis, providing that Texans get all the state services they can without going into debt.

In recent weeks, a 37-member Constitutional Revision Commission held public hearings throughout the state to get citizen views of what should be included in a new constitution.

If you missed the hearing in your area, you can still have your say by writing the commission at 800 Brazos, Austin 78701.

It is equally important that you make your views known to your state senator and representative.

Theirs will be the formidable and vital task of examining the recommendations of the Constitutional Revision Commission and correlating them with the views of their constituents.

I hope you will take advantage of this opportunity to participate in modernizing our state government.

Rockport Firemen's Auxiliary Meets

The Rockport Firemen's Auxiliary met August 28 for their regular social meeting. President Ivalea Hlnze called the meeting to order. The secretary, Joan Truelove, called the roll. Eighteen members and two guests, Lela Joe Midgett and Michelle Swearingen were present.

It was voted to present the five and ten year pins at the next social meeting on September 25.

There being no other business, the president turned the meeting over to the program chairman, Kathy Ratliff. Kathy had planned a game party. Bingo and "42" were played, while others worked on a jigsaw puzzle. Prizes were won by Terry Roberts, Bettye Boddie, Gwyne Howland, Katherine McLester, Mary Lee Frizzell and Sadie Smith.

The treasure chest was furnished by Evalon Redden and won by Ivalea Hlnze.

The refreshment chairman, Evalon Redden, and her committee, served chips, dips, cookies, nuts, punch and coffee.

Members present were Cricket Swearingen, Frances Redden, Mary Lee Frizzell, Sadie Smith, Mona McNutt, Kathy Ratliff, Gwyne Howland, Terry Roberts, Evalon Redden, Joan Truelove, Peggy Hunt, Lois Gurley, Julia Gray, Katherine McLester, Bettye Boddie, Sarah Belle Smith, Ivalea Hlnze and Teet Mullinax.

Bee County Western Week

Western lore has always been of nostalgic interest to the American people and to many present-day Texans, it is a way of life. Cattlemen still patrol the range on horses, rope and brand calves, and break broncos; and western records tell of the lone cowboys at his campfire looking over the herd. To this saddle-weary, trail dust-caked figure a chance to get into town and have a whopping good time comes all too seldom. And when this chance finally comes to the cowboy, his night-on-the-town takes on celebration proportions.

The Bee County Western Week Celebration Incorporated has provided nine days, enough time to satisfy nine cowboys, to "bust that town wide open." That town of course is Beeville, Texas, 60 miles north of Corpus Christi on George West Highway 181 and 90 miles south of San Antonio.

Western Week is nine days of bronc riding, bull dogging, parades, pageants, beard contests, beauty contests, herford shows, horse shows, square dances, teen dances, turtle derbys, flea markets, kangaroo courts, and historical tours. If that isn't enough to satisfy nine cowboys, there's more to occupy his fancy.

Commencing October 19 and running through October 27, Bee County Western Week will provide many more shows and exhibits; a rodeo and a wildcat show. Opening ceremonies start at 4:30 Friday afternoon with the Navy Pageant of Flags followed by the Miss Western Week Beauty Contest held at the A.C. Jones High School Auditorium in Beeville, Texas. At 8:30 that evening, after the coronation of Miss Western Week, the Rodeo Cowboys Association will put on one of their famous rodeos featuring seven events at the Bee County Coliseum.

Bee County Horse Shows Incorporated will sponsor the three R.C.A. shows during the celebration. One thousand and fifty dollars has been added to the prize money for the events which include calf roping, bull riding, saddle bronc, bareback bronc, team roping, bull dogging, and a barrel race for women.

The recently completed Bee County Coliseum features over 90,000 square feet under one roof. A large arena for rodeos and exhibits and two enclosed rooms are the main areas that highlight the upcoming Western Week. One of the rooms is a beautiful 80 x 100' paneled, air-conditioned assembly hall suitable for dancing. The other room is an asphalt area for wildcat shows.

Western Week, once only a parade and rodeo, promises to be a big success hosting thousands of people from miles around. This year's historical celebration promises to be second to no other. So come to Beeville and shake loose some of that trail dust. Get away from your roaming herds on the lonesome prairie and join the fun-seeking crowd milling around the festivities.

Miss Ema Rosa Zuzuarregui and Rodolfo Enrique Nava were married Aug. 3 in a doubling ceremony in the Senora Del Carmen Catholic Church in Guadalajara, Mexico.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ramiro Zuzuarregui of Guadalajara. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Nava of Rockport.

Rt. Rev. Enrique Aguilar Gallardo officiated at the ceremony. The altar was decorated with baskets of white gladioli and the wedding march was played by marachios in the background.

Given in marriage by her father the bride chose a floor length princess style gown of sata peau trimmed with Venice lace on the long fitted sleeves and the front panel of the gown. Her floor length illusion veil was held by a crown of pastel orange blossoms. The bride carried a bouquet of pastel orange blossoms.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Isabel Valdez of Rockport. Bridesmaids were Eva Bacerra, Christina Zuzuar-regui and Teresa Becerra of Guadalajara. The flower girls were Patricia Cruz, Eva Del Refugio and Soledad Zuzuarregui of Guadalajara. Rudy Nava was best man and groomsmen was Joe Valdez, Jr. of Rockport.

A reception was held at the Centro Social where an authentic Fiesta Mexicano was held with dancing to the music of Los Mariachis. The three-tier heart shape wedding cake was decorated with a bouquet of sugar pastel orange blossoms.

More than two hundred guests attended. Among the out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Munoz and Yvette, Miss Norma Munoz of Houston; Sgt. and Mrs. Ed Rose of Corpus Christi; Mr. and Mrs. Paquin Molina; Mr. and Mrs. Rubard Rinche; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Valdez, Jr.; and the parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Nava of Rockport. After a wedding trip to Guanajuato, Mexico, the couple will be living in Houston.

Tax Payers Ask IRS

Q - In June, my home was damaged by flood. I would have gotten a better tax advantage by deducting my casualty loss on the return I filed in April. Do I have to wait to claim this loss on my 1973 return?

A - If, in 1973, your area was declared a disaster area by the President, and, as a result of that disaster, you suffered a casualty loss, you have the option of deducting the loss on your 1972 Federal income tax return or waiting until next year. If you have already filed your return for the prior year, file Form 1040X, which is specially designed to expedite your refund. For details on how to do it, see IRS Publication 547, "Tax Information on Disasters, Casualty Losses, and Thefts." Contact your local IRS office for a free copy.

Q - I've earned more than $10,000 so far this year. Shouldn't my employer stop withholding Social Security tax from my pay?

A - The maximum wage base for Social Security tax withholding in 1973 is $10,800. This equals $631.80 in Social Security tax. After this point, your employer should not be withholding Social Security tax. If he is still withholding this tax, see him to adjust this overcollection.

Any taxpayer who holds more than one job during the year and has more than $10,800 of his wages subject to Social Security tax can claim the excess tax withheld as a credit against his tax.

Q - I increased the value of my home by installing central air conditioning. Can I get a deduction for what I spent?

A - No. This expense cannot be deducted, but it can be added to the cost basis of your home. This way, the cost of the air conditioning unit will be taken into account in the event you sell your home.

Q: My state has a lottery. If I should win one of the cash prizes, do I have to pay federal income tax on it?

A: Yes, proceeds from lotteries are gambling winnings and must be included in your income. However, if you itemize your deductions, you can deduct your gambling losses, such as the cost of losing lottery tickets, from your total gambling winnings up to the extent of your winnings. If you have no winnings, you can't deduct your gambling losses.

If you should win a valuable prize in a lottery, it might be to your advantage to "income average." This permits an unusually large amount of income obtained in one year to be taxed in the lower brackets of your previous tax years. More details are available in IRS Publication 406, "Computing Your Tax Under the Income Averaging Method." Contact your nearest IRS office for a free copy.

Q: The local police boys club is sponsoring a benefit howling of a movie. Tickets are $10. Can I deduct the ticket price as a charitable contribution?

A: A portion of the ticket price is deductible, namely, that portion that exceeds the fair market value of the showing. For example, if the regular price of the movie is $3, your deduction would be $7.

Q: I understand that the IRS winds up with thousands of undelivered refunds each year. How can this happen?

A: The great majority of refund checks go astray because taxpayers moved and left no forwarding address with the Postal Service. Still other taxpayers neglected to correct the label attached to their tax refund. This includes, for example, changing a label to show a new address or name resulting from marriage.

Errors or omissions in tax returns have delayed refunds to some taxpayers. They should follow the instructions provided with the notification they received from the IRS to help speed their refund.

Taxpayers contacting the IRS about their refund should be able to give the name and address as it appeared on the return, the present name and address, social security number and the type of form filed.

Often, IRS employees can find out almost immediately what happened to a refund check through a computer system available in many IRS offices. The system indicates, for example, when the Postal Service has returned a check.

Undelivered refund checks can be remailed almost immediately to the new address. After October 1, however, all undelivered refund checks are cancelled. Issuing checks in response to inquiries received after that date takes considerably more time because special processing is required.

As for refund checks lost or stolen in transit, those who have information on these checks should contact their nearest Internal Revenue Office immediately.

Q - My garage was damaged during a windstorm. I spent $20 taking photographs of the damage in order to determine the amount of my casualty loss. Can I deduct the $20.

A - Yes. If you itemize deductions, the cost of photographs, including the purchase of film and developing charges, for the purpose of establishing or computing your casualty loss deduction are deductible as a miscellaneous deduction. Do not include the $20 as part of your casualty loss.

Q - I was just promoted and, as a result, I'm getting a substantial pay increase. I want to make estimated tax payments to avoid one big tax bill next year, but I've already missed the April and June deadlines for paying the first two installments of 1973 estimated income tax. What can I do?

A - You can still file a declaration of estimated income tax - Form 1040-ES -, but you must do so by September 17, 1973. Your estimated tax should be paid in equal installments on September 17, 1973, and January 15, 1974. If you file your return and pay the balance due by January 31, 1974, you need not make your final estimated tax payment. The same rules apply to filing amended declarations of estimated tax.

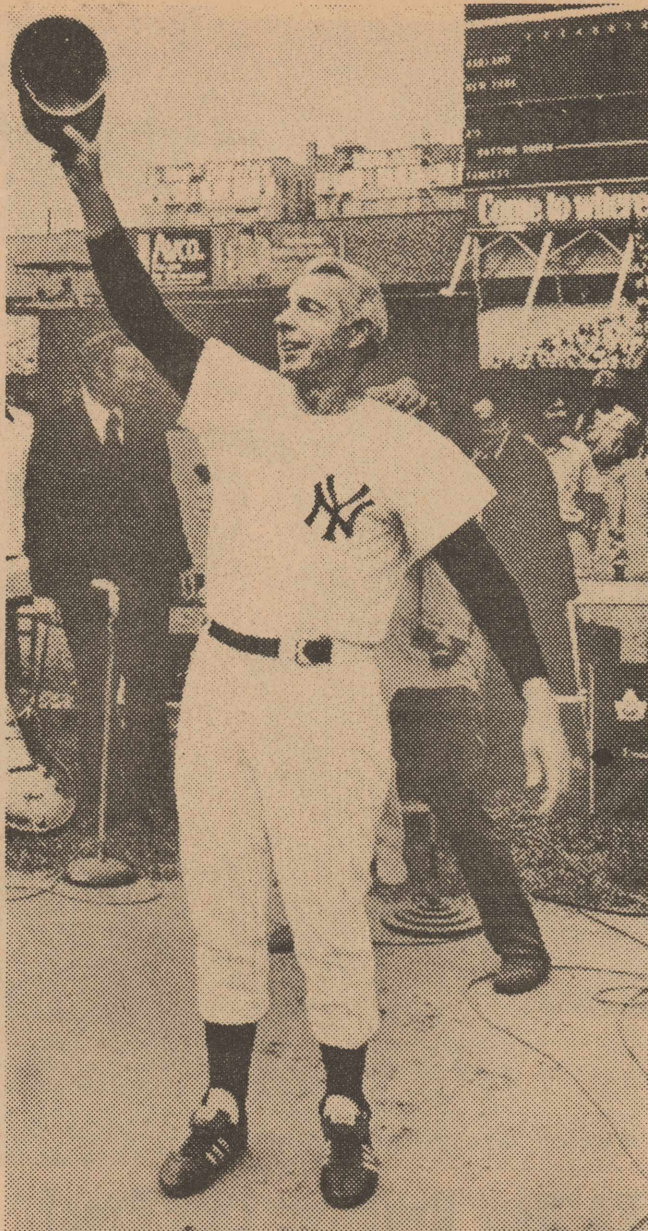

Forms 1040-ES and instructions are available at any IRS office.

Q - Who can represent a taxpayer at an IRS audit?

A - Generally, attorneys, certified public accountants, and individuals enrolled to practice before the Internal Revenue Service may represent a taxpayer at any stage of the IRS examination/appeals process. These three stages are the audit examination, district conference and appellate hearing. The person who prepared your return (and signed it as the preparer), if he is not otherwise eligible to practice before the IRS, may represent you only at the audit examination level. In addition, the representation may encompass only matters concerning the tax liability for the year covered by the return he prepared.

Q - Is it true that a student can be exempt from income tax withholding?

A - Yes. Students and other individuals are exempt from withholding if they did not owe tax last year, expect to owe none in 1973 and have filed a Withholding Exemption Certificate (Form W-4E) with their employers.

LOOKING AS trim as ever, Joe DiMaggio returns to his Yankee uniform to greet an Old-Timers Day crowd.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Women Bartenders?

Do women have a constitutional right to be bartenders? Until the last few years, courts have steadfastly said no. Laws against women bartenders, when challenged as discriminatory, were upheld on two main grounds:

1) that their presence would encourage immorality in a place "where the worst passions are aroused;" and

2) that they could not keep the peace as effectively as men bartenders.

But in several recent cases, courts have taken a fresh look at the question and come up with the opposite answer. Immorality is no more encouraged, said one court, by a woman behind the bar than by waitresses out front serving cocktails.

As for keeping the peace, another court had this comment: "The saloon days of the Wild West are long gone. Nowadays the typical bar does not provide a setting for violence and danger, if in fact it ever did."

For good measure, the court added:

"Women are as capable of mixing drinks as men."

Less innocuous activities, however, may still be subject to restraint. Another case involved a city ordinance forbidding the use of "B girls"—women hired by the management to solicit drinks from male customers. A tavern owner claimed that his women employees were being deprived of their freedom of speech and assembly.

"Their freedom of speech," he reasoned, "includes the right to talk to customers and their freedom of assembly includes the right to mingle with customers."

But a court said the rights of speech and assembly, while guaranteed in general by the Constitution, may be limited in specific situations for specific reasons. Noting the city's power to discourage drinking, the court said:

"If the regulation curtails freedom in some slight degree, the limitation is not unconstitutional. These rights are not absolute."

Hurricane Would Catch Many Texas Property Owners Without Flood Insurance

AUSTIN - Property owners on the coast of Texas breathed a sigh of relief when Hurricane Brenda turned away from the state recently, but an insurance industry spokesman took the opportunity to point out that many people without flood insurance would have been wiped out if it had struck.

"Around 17 - 18,000 property owners on the coast of Texas have purchased flood insurance, but this is a small percentage of those eligible," said Tom Lee, Austin, general manager of the Texas Insurance Advisory Association (TIAA).

"Many others have neglected to purchase the coverage and could be wiped out by a Hurricane Brenda and the floods that often accompany a hurricane or other natural disaster."

Flood insurance now is available in over 100 Texas towns and cities under a relatively new program operated jointly by the federal government and private insurance companies. Essentially, the program provides insurance protection against losses caused by the overflow of inland or tidal water or the unusual and rapid accumulation or runoff of surface water from any source.

"Hurricanes pack a punch including 75 to 100 mile-per-hour winds, six to 12 inches of rain and tides 10 to 20 feet above normal. They cause severe wind damage and the flood damage that accompanies or follows can be worse."

"Thus, it's difficult to over-emphasize the importance of purchasing insurance to cover both wind and water damage," said Lee.

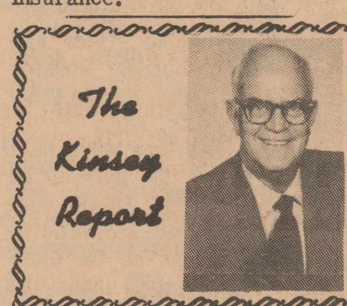

Lee said that while most property insurance policies do cover wind damage, the usual property insurance policies -- except under limited circumstances -- do not provide protection to homes or household possessions for damage caused by tidal waves, high water or overflow whether wind-driven or not.

"Flood insurance now can provide this badly needed protection," he said.

Lee warned Texas property owners not to expect the 1973 hurricane season to duplicate last year's calmness. Changing weather conditions made 1972 the quietest year for hurricanes in 42 years.

He urged property owners to contact their insurance agent or company representative for further information on flood insurance.

Everyone likes to be thanked. Everybody likes to receive an occasional pat on the back.

The Chamber of Commerce and the people who live in the Rockport area were highly praised in a letter recently received by the C of C from Barbara Gutensohn, 345 West Dickson, San Antonio, Texas 78214. The letter follows:

I can't decide whether you simply have an exceptionally active Chamber of Commerce --or--if a multitude of very nice people just happen to make Rockport their home. I choose to believe both theories.

I recently spent the better part of two weeks in your city --and feel compelled to send a note of Thanks to everyone--for your friendliness, hospitality--for your help and courtesy--and for all the little extra niceties that make a visitor truly feel welcome.

Rockport makes me very proud to be a Texan, and you can bet I plan to return as often as possible. Thanks again.

NOTICE is hereby given that a Joint Public Hearing will be held by the City Council and the City Planning and Zoning Commission of the City of Rockport, Texas, on September 24, 1973 at 7:30 p.m. at the City Hall. There will be heard at the Public Hearing the following:

1. Application of J.F. Cantrell for rezoning of Lot 8, Block 1, Stewart Subdivision, D&M, from R-1 Residential to B-2 Business for purpose of selling cars.

2. Application of Juanita Wagley for rezoning of Lots 1 thru 6 & Lots 19 thru 24, Outlot 29, D&M Division, from B-1 Business to B-2 Business for purpose of erecting a storage warehouse.

VA Now Requires Less Proof

Lost papers can mean lost time for both a veteran and the Veterans Administration, but a veteran should not hesitate to apply for a benefit because a birth certificate or marriage license has been lost, A. A. Hunter, VA regional Director, said today.

Mr. Hunter reminded veterans today that less formal proof of marriage and birth to establish claims for higher veterans benefits are acceptable under a regulation in effect since October 1971.

For example, a veteran's or widow's certified statement of marriage is sufficient on applications for compensation and education benefits for veterans, widows and orphan children, provided neither he nor his wife has been married before, and VA has no contradictory information on file.

This contrasts with previous regulations under which VA required all statements of marriages and births to be supported by formalized documentary evidence.

Officials noted that a certified statement is acceptable regarding birth of a child of a veteran's marriage, and as proof of age and relationship in disability cases.

The same type of proof also is acceptable in death cases where a claimant's statements corroborate those made by a veteran in connection with a claim for any VA benefit, Mr. Hunter added.

History of Methodism

In the spring of 1838, the first Methodist Church within the bounds of this conference was organized in Bastrop under the direction of Lay Preacher James Gilliland. Ten white people (among them a Mrs. Christian, the great-grandmother of Bishops A. Frank and W. Angie Smith) and one Negro woman became the charter members.

In 1844, the Rev. John Wesley DeVilbiss was assigned elder of the Ruthersville District which included Victoria, Gonzales, and the Rockport area. Working out of Seguin, he preached the first Protestant sermon in San Antonio and organized the first Methodist Church there. This church is now our present Travis Park congregation. Serving under Rev. DeVilbiss was a young preacher from Georgia who transferred into this conference in 1858. His name was H. G. Horton. Rev. Horton was appointed as pastor of the Methodist Church in Rockport in 1872.

Rev. Horton, writing in the Texas Methodist Historical Quarterly, tells of Bishop Marvin who organized the Methodist Mexican work in Texas in 1872. The following year, Bishop Keener, planning his first trip to Mexico City, wrote Horton to send for Alejo Hernandez and care for him until a steamer arrived in Rockport by which he could travel to New Orleans to meet the Bishop and confer with him on this work.

Rev. Horton wrote: "Hernandez spent a week with me in my home and preached every night to crowds of Mexicans. After he left, the Mexicans all around Rockport kept coming to me for Bibles, William Headen sent one hundred Bibles from Corpus Christi, printed by the American Bible Society in Spanish. I scattered them all over Aransas County among the Mexicans." (From a letter by Mrs. G. L. Tubbs, granddaughter of H. G. Horton, to Ernest Harist.)

The original Methodist Church in Rockport was located on the corner of Live Oak and Bay Streets. This deed was recorded in Refugio County and was dated November 4, 1870. On May 6, 1914, the church building was moved to its present site. Until 1930, the building consisted of about one-half of the present structure.

For many years, the need for a larger and more adequate sanctuary has been recognized by our people. Tentative plans for building were begun in 1951 while the Rev. Calvin Peterson served as pastor. In 1954, Mr. Joseph Hans, AIA, Corpus Christi architect, was contracted to draw plans. Groundbreaking ceremonies were held November 14, 1954, and Mr. C. C. Fowler was hired as supervisor of the project.

The present structure is of Modified Gothic architecture with a touch of local and contemporary lines. Simplicity was one of the guiding standards. Complete with lifetime, Apalacian oak furniture, the building has been designed to seat 250 people to point. (Compiled and written by Rev. Dana S. Green, pastor in 1955, presently serving the First United Methodist Church in Ingleside.)

Those who have served the Methodist Church in Rockport, and the dates of their tenure, are as follows: Rev. H. G. Horton, 1872-1873; Rev. J. W. Groves, 1873-1874; Rev. J. W. Sims, 1874-1875; Rev. A. Saccharin Safety Studies Continuing

The National Academy of Sciences (NAS) is currently reviewing several studies on the safety of saccharin--the only artificial sweetener presently available.

Saccharin has been used for 80 years without evidence of harm to humans. However, adverse findings have occurred when the sweetener was given over the lifespan of test animals in doses equivalent to what a human would receive from 375 bottles of diet soda each day.

Because of these preliminary findings, a full-scale review comprised of 15 animal studies is now underway in this country and abroad. These studies will be evaluated by NAS.

If the NAS review demonstrates conclusively that the artificial sweetener involves a health risk to humans, or is otherwise in conflict with Federal law, FDA will discontinue its use as a food additive.
